NEWS WATCH

Be sure to set your clocks back one hour at 2 a.m. Sunday, Oct. 25

Time slips back

WASHINGTON — Still miss that hour of sleep you lost in the spring? Well, you finally get it back this weekend. Most of the nation slips back to standard time at 2 a.m. Sunday, making the night one hour longer. The easiest way to cope is to set clocks back one hour before retiring tonight. Daylight time returns the first Sunday in April.

Early voting hours

For Midlanders who plan to vote early, the Elections Administrator Office will be open today and Sunday. Voters can cast their ballot between 7 a.m. and 7 p.m. today, and on Sunday, from noon to 5 p.m. All early voting takes place at the Elections Administration Office, 709 W. Washington Ave. From Monday until Friday, the last day to vote early, ballots will be available from 7 a.m.-7 p.m. People should bring their blue voter registration certificate to prevent delays, although a voter card isn't necessary as long as the voter is registered.

Jesse Jackson

ODESSA — The Rev. Jesse Jackson, shadow senator of Washington, D.C., will be in Odessa Monday for a get-out-the-vote rally at the Ector County Courthouse Annex, 1010 E. Eighth St. Jackson is on a statewide tour promoting early voting. His Permian Basin visit is in support of U.S. Rep. Albert Bustamante, who faces former San Antonio newscaster Henry Bonilla in his bid for re-election from the 23rd District. The rally is set to begin at 5 p.m., with Jackson expected to arrive at 5:30 p.m.

Owner must shut down restaurant, judge says

By Michael Kashgarian
Staff writer

A judge ordered a popular east-side restaurant closed Friday for presenting a public nuisance because of drug activity. Similar action against other establishments is expected to be forthcoming.

"I can't help believe, from the testimony, that Red's is a good place to eat ... (but) it is unfortunate that the conditions of the restaurant are conducive to drug trafficking," said 238th District Court Judge John Hyde during his ruling.

The injunction against the signless restaurant at 1807 E. Front St. — referred to by patrons and officials as Red's, Red's Drive-In and Red's Bar-B-Que, and as the Hickory Pit by the owner — went into effect immediately.

French sentence former health official to prison

PARIS (AP) — A former high-ranking health official was sentenced Friday to four years in prison for allowing 1,200 hemophiliacs to receive AIDS-tainted blood. Outraged victims and their relatives denounced the judgment as a cover-up.

Michel Garretta also was fined $100,000 for his part in France's worst health scandal, which has led to the deaths of more than 250 people from AIDS.

He and a co-defendant, Jean-Pierre Allain, were ordered to pay $1.8 million in compensation to victims and their families, who will separately receive $80,000 to $120,000 compensation each from an independent commission.

Garretta was the key defendant among four former health officials tried last summer in a

Vietnam OKs release of all MIA evidence

■ Pentagon officials are cautiously optimistic that they have reached a turning point in nearly 20 years of investigations.

By Barbara Crossette
N.Y. Times News Service

WASHINGTON — President Bush said Friday that Hanoi had agreed to turn over to the United States all documents, pictures and personal effects relating to American servicemen during the Vietnam War. Administration officials said the pledge was likely to lead to a review of American policy toward Vietnam.

The move is the most decisive and far-reaching Vietnam has made in nearly two decades to meet American demands for the fullest possible accounting of the missing.

For years, Vietnam denied that there was any more to show or tell, and Washington refused to establish diplomatic relations with the Hanoi government and blocked international aid to one of Asia's poorest countries.

"Today, finally, I am convinced that we can begin writing the last chapter of the Vietnam War," Bush said in an appearance in the White House Rose Garden. "It was a bitter conflict, but Hanoi knows today that we seek only answers without the threat of retribution for the past."

He said the United States would increase assistance to Vietnam — initially about $25,000 more for flood relief, according to reports from Hanoi — and would begin helping the Vietnamese find and identify their own combatants missing in action.

Vietnamese leaders are no longer asking for the $4.2 billion in reparations they long insisted President Nixon promised in 1973, an administration official said Friday.

Bush did not mention the possibility of diplomatic recognition of Vietnam or a lifting of an American-led international embargo, but there is strong speculation that he might move to normalize relations with Vietnam before his term ends in January.

Bush's announcement was welcomed by humanitarian organizations, scholars and business leaders who have advocated an end to the isolation of Hanoi.

Presidential largess taps into voter cynicism vein

By Ron Hutcheson
N.Y Times News Service

RIDLEY TOWNSHIP, Pa. — Aerospace worker James Conroy, who voted for President Bush four years ago, applauded enthusiastically Friday when Vice President Dan Quayle announced the administration's support for the V-22 Osprey.

But the announcement did not change his plans to vote for Bush's Democratic challenger, Arkansas Gov. Bill Clinton.

Conroy, who joined more than 2,000 other workers for Quayle's announcement at Boeing Helicopters near Philadelphia, dismissed the administration's new V-22 contract as a transparent, election-year ploy.

Bush, Clinton campaigns shift into high-gear race

MIAMI (AP) — President Bush mixed politics and official business Friday as he scrambled for votes in three states he won handily in 1988. Bill Clinton reveled in the front-runner's role, looking to put Nevada and Missouri in the Democratic column and slam shut the door on any Bush comeback.

Kentucky, Florida and finally Alabama were Bush's targets as he looked to reverse his sagging political fortunes with just 11 days left and fresh polls showing the president stalled in second place, well behind Clinton, and facing a possible electoral landslide loss.

Part of Bush's prescription: popular White House work — from a morning Rose Garden announcement that Vietnam was releasing information on American war prisoners to an

Modern witches have office under their spell

By Michelle Locke
Associated Press writer

WALNUT CREEK, Calif. — Think your boss expects you to work magic on the job? Not to worry, say office witches Zsuzsanna Budapest and Laurel Olson. They've got what you need to lead a charmed work life.

Whether it's a talisman to keep that cranky copier running or tips on the best day to schedule the big meeting, Budapest and Olson say if you believe, you can wish yourself a spell of good luck.

OK, it's not the "One-Minute Manager" or other office organizing classics, but with Halloween approaching, the time Olson jokes that "we become street-legal," they've been sharing their business wizardry.

"The craft is founded on respect for all life and all things. It's very practical," said Olson, who works at an office equipment company in the San Francisco Bay area. "It may sound strange but it makes a lot of sense if you think about it."

"Magic is common sense," concurred Budapest, who has written a book on using witchcraft at work called "The Goddess in the Office," set for March publication by Harper San Francisco.

Olson, who has practiced witchcraft for some years, said her career as a working witch started as a joke when a copier "was just totally obnoxious."

One day, when the copier broke down again, she decided maybe the grimy surroundings had something to do with it.

"So I cleaned the whole room and put a plant in it and then I blessed the copier," she said. "I looked at it and tried to see the places where it had been overworked and misused and mistreated."

That seemed to improve things, so Olson went a step further. "I found some black construction paper and cut it up and drew a counterclockwise circle with a glue stick as a target for the negative empty space."

With that talisman, "we did have breakdowns, but we had fewer and less of them caused by human error," she said.

Olson, who noted that the best of spells can't replace regular maintenance, has another spell for recalcitrant copiers. Cut four strips of black construction paper and put it behind the machine for better operation.

"On some weird level it works," she said, although "if you believe it's a load of hokum, it's not going to work for you."

Budapest, meanwhile, has identified the special qualities of the days of the week.

Classical music station to hold open house this weekend

By Georgia Todd Temple
Staff writer

Classical music lovers be alerted.

Radio station KRIL, 1410 A.M., 1410 Crane Highway, is holding an open house this weekend beginning at 1 p.m. today.

"We, for almost five years, have played nothing but classical on weekends," said Clyde Butter, owner and general manager.

"In order to continue that, we do need a show of support from listeners and those who enjoy classical music. All listeners are invited to come and speak on the air and say whatever they would like to say about classical music and about the station."

Listeners also will be informed of changes occurring in the classical format, Butter said, including the change to 95 percent compact disc "in order to improve the quality of music."

Butter is quick to point out that this change to compact disc does not affect the re-broadcast of concerts by the Midland-Odessa Symphony and its performing ensembles such as the Thouvenel String Quartet and the West Texas Winds.

These re-broadcasts begin at 1 p.m. Sundays.

The station also is announcing its plans to print a program that includes a monthly schedule of the classical works being performed each weekend. Cost of a yearly subscription is $25.

"Any listeners who would like to provide an additional $25 to help us obtain a complete compac disc library of classical music are also urged to do so," Butter said. "These subscriptions can even be spread over a time period if necessary in order to allow everyone to support our classical music."

Stations playing classical music in West Texas are rare.

"We are the only source on the air of classical music except for occasional programs from public radio," Butter said.

The weekend classical music format is not the only one undergoing changes at KRIL.

"We are making some changes in other programming," Butter said. "We will make an announcement on that in seven to 10 days."

For now, the radio station's main emphasis is hearing from its classical music supporters.

"All of the cultural activities at one time or other end up having to ask for help from supporters," Butter said. "We haven't changed our programming in the five years I've been here. We've always tried to improve what we're doing. The survival and continuation of our classical music depends on how much listener support we can get."

DPS alerts public to scam of 'troopers' soliciting cash

Staff report

The Texas Department of Public Safety is alerting the public to a scam that is circulating and is asking for help in stopping it.

"There have been several cases recently — four in Midland that we know of — in which a caller identified himself as a DPS trooper," said Lt. Jimmie Rhoads, safety education officer for the DPS in Midland. The caller says that a family member of the person he has called has been seriously hurt in a traffic accident and that the hospital can't treat the injured person until receiving a cash deposit, Rhoads explained.

In other instances, the caller posing as a trooper has called businesses and said one of its employees has been injured.

In both cases, the con artist instructs the victim to wire an amount of cash — usually less than $500 — to a Western Union office, Rhoads said.

"Under no circumstance would a DPS trooper ever call the relative or employer of an accident victim and ask for money," Rhoads said.

"If you do get a call from someone who says he's a trooper and that a relative or employee has been in an accident, we ask that you verify that fact by calling the DPS or the hospital where the injured person has supposedly been taken. Please, do not send anyone cash," he said.

He advised anyone receiving such a call to contact the DPS criminal intelligence service at 697-2211 or the Midland County Sheriff's Office, 688-1277.

No arrests have been made in connection with the con game, which Rhoads said is operating nationwide.

Postal workers start food drive

Staff report

Midland and Odessa mail carriers will link up today in their mail-delivery rounds to collect food for the Permian Basin Food Bank, according to Stan Sartain, manager of customer service for the United States Postal Service in Midland.

Postal customers who wish to give canned, dried and other nonperishable food goods to the Permian Basin Food Bank may place donated foods by their mail boxes or cluster boxes in Midland and Odessa, Sartain said.

USPS employees will collect the food and haul it to the Odessa-based Food Bank, which is a "very worthwhile cause," Sartain said.

The Food Bank supplies food to poor and hungry people throughout much of West Texas through 194 non-profit agencies and churches.

The food drive is being conducted by the U.S. Postal Service, the National Association of Letter Carriers, the American Postal Workers Union, the National Rural Letter Carriers Association, and the National Association of Mail Handlers.

Those who wish to donate money and perishable food goods should make direct contributions to the Food Bank, Sartain said. The Food Basin is located at 1008 E. 2nd St. in Odessa, and its mailing address is P.O. Box 4242, Odessa, 79760.

"It is absolutely fantastic," Dolly Neff, the Food Bank's executive director, said of the postal workers' food drive. "They have really worked hard at it. We need the food right now. We are getting ready for the holidays."

WEATHER SUMMARY

Skies cloud for tomorrow

Staff report

Today's forecast calls for mostly cloudy skies with a 20 percent chance of showers or thunderstorms, a high in the mid-70s and winds south to southeast 5-15 mph, according to the National Weather Service at Midland International Airport.

Tonight is predicted to be mostly cloudy with a low in the mid 50s, and a 20 percent chance of showers or thunderstorms.

Sunday's forecast is partly cloudy with a high in the upper 70s, the NWS said.

Friday's high was 76, compared to the record high of 92, set on Oct. 23, 1933. The record low for today's date was set in 1980, when the mercury dipped to 33.

STATE

A mild cool front approaching Texas from the north will increase chances of rain over the weekend, the National Weather Service says.

Skies were most fair to partly cloudy on Friday across Texas.

Temperatures were above normal with temperatures ranging from 75 at Galveston to 86 at Kingsville, Corpus Christi and San Antonio.

The Associated Press contributed to this report.

MIA: Hanoi agrees to release documents

(From 1A)

U.S.-Indochina Reconciliation Project and coordinator of private and religious efforts to assist Vietnam, said Friday that it was the hope of many that the next administration would take steps "as dramatic as the unprecedented willingness of the Vietnamese to open their military archives and their countryside to foreign investigators."

Some members of the families of the missing were skeptical of Hanoi's intentions or said they suspected political motives on the part of Bush.

"If the Vietnamese have given us 5,000 photographs, what else have they been keeping from us?" said Dolores Apodaca Alfond, head of the National Alliance of Families and sister of a missing pilot.

She was referring to a trove of photographs now being analyzed by the Defense Intelligence Agency. Pentagon officials said Friday that the photos had been collected by the government over the last several months and were not a direct result of Hanoi's new pledge.

As he spoke Friday morning, Bush was flanked by his special envoy to Hanoi, John W. Vessey Jr., a retired Army general and former chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and by Democratic and Republican senators who have been active in investigating the cases of Americans through a Senate committee.

At the Pentagon on Friday, officials were cautiously optimistic that they had reached a turning point in nearly 20 years of investigations. The United States still lists 2,265 Americans unaccounted for in Indochina. More than half are known to be dead, but their bodies have not been recovered. The others are listed as missing, but officials assume that virtually all are dead.

Pentagon officials said that material turned over to Washington so far was just the beginning. The United States and Vietnam have agreed that, at the end of October, American archivists and Pentagon experts will begin research on the missing in Hanoi.

Pentagon officials said Friday that some of the 4,800 photographs were given to the Pentagon by individual Vietnamese, but most were funneled through an American researcher working in Hanoi, ostensibly on a book about the Vietnamese Army.

Officials said that the researcher, Theodore Schweitzer, had come to them offering to share information that he could not get published elsewhere. The Pentagon agreed to pay his expenses and provide him with a computer and other assistance.

Schweitzer began work in February or March. But it was not until summer that the Pentagon became aware of the importance of the material being collected, and the role of Vietnamese officials who were apparently placing pictures, documents and artifacts at the American's disposal.

Pentagon officials said that they believed Vietnamese leaders were aware of Schweitzer's links to the U.S. government.

Pentagon officials stress that the photograph cache poses countless new questions and suggests many new leads for further research. They are eager to test Vietnamese promises of more archival material. Among the pictures are hundreds of copied identification cards and newspaper clippings, demonstrating how meticulously Hanoi kept files on the Americans.

So far, officials said, there have been no indications in the new material that living Americans remained in captivity after prisoner exchanges in 1973.

Of 135 "discrepancy cases" presented to Vietnam over the last several years as the easiest to resolve, two have been effectively closed through photographic evidence, and the families of a fighter crew shot down in 1968 — Maj. Joseph C. Morrison and Capt. San D. Francisco — have been notified. A third family has also been shown pictures, but officials would not identify the case.

Morrison's daughter, Cindy, said Friday night in an interview with ABC News that the Pentagon showed her family the pictures last month.

"We know for sure that he is dead, and that is a relief," she said.

American officials say that Hanoi's decision to give up archival material was motivated by economic and strategic concerns. Sen. John McCain, R-Ariz., a former prisoner of war who accompanied General Vessey to Hanoi, told reporters that the Vietnamese "are desperate for economic assistance."

RULING: Judge closes restaurant, sets precedent

(From 1A)

(subject to approval by the judge), the all-night restaurant will close for a year. If a bond is allowed to be posted and subsequent illegal activity takes place, the bond can be forfeited and the business closed by court order.

Bond had not been posted with the District Clerk's Office by closing time Friday.

As for whether Bunton will post a bond, he said following the order: "I don't know. We don't know what we are going to do right now."

Defense attorney Ed Shelby said the decision will be appealed because of a misapplication of the law to the facts.

The 1987 state law permits the action if an establishment is habitually or regularly used for drug activity.

"They did not prove any use of drugs on Bunton's property," said Shelby, who argued that the drug activity occurred on an adjacent lot.

Shelby further maintained that Bunton, 63, took measures to deter drugs from his restaurant, including erecting outdoor lights and fences, putting up no loitering/no drugs signs, calling police and putting locks on the restroom doors.

"What more can you do? You can't go out on the street and accost individuals and search them," Shelby said.

County Attorney Mark Dettman argued on behalf of the state that Bunton "actively permits" drug sales, use and possession.

During closing arguments, Dettman commented that the hours of Red's — from 7 p.m. to 4 a.m. — are suspect in light of the illegal activity.

"That's just a front, a cover, so people can come and engage in illegal activity" specifically drugs, Dettman told the judge.

Red's is busiest between 2 a.m. and 4 a.m., testimony from both sides indicated.

During that time, food is sold and consumed — as so are drugs, testimony showed.

Testimony from police officers and a Drug Enforcement Administration agent indicated that two major crack rings previously operated heavily at the restaurant and that about 4 percent of 300 drug cases since 1989 came from Red's.

Law enforcement officers testified that the drug dealing is blatant and that Red's was the place to buy drugs after 2 a.m.

One officer testified that Bunton has been seen signaling people outside Red's when police were coming. Bunton denied that.

Another officer testified that he witnessed drug transactions inside the restaurant. All the drug arrests documented in court stemmed from incidents outside the restaurant building.

In addition to the drug activity, Red's has a history of illegal alcohol sales. Dettman produced court documents that indicated several violations for illegally selling beer and liquor on the premises.

The violation of the liquor laws is not a basis for supporting the public nuisance law.

Police have said numerous calls for an assortment of offenses — including gambling — have been made at Red's.

The civil lawsuit was filed in August 1991 as an alternative way to enforce the law, officials said.

When asked if the ruling will slow the flow of drugs, Dettman responded: "Every little bit helps, and we'll try to shut down some other places."

The county attorney said he would confer with police to see about where future action might be aimed.

Shelby criticized the ruling and the precedent it set.

"I don't think it's going to stop the drug problem," he said.

"I think there will be a flood of litigation directed primarily at minority businesses," Shelby said. Bunton is black and so are most of his patrons.

The judge said, while announcing his decision, that he believes Red's does have legitimate customers but Bunton has a responsibility to protect these customers and citizens from the crimes of drug dealers and users.

Collision rattles teen-agers

By Myra Lee Salcedo
Staff writer

The typical Friday night scene of laughing and bantering teen-agers along Midkiff Road was shattered when a collision sent a car flipping into the air.

"It scared the life out of me," said one trembling teen-ager as he sat near the scene with his head between his knees. "I can't believe they pulled the people out alive," he said. "I can't stop seeing that car fly over the telephone wires. It was horrifying. I feel sick."

About 9:30 p.m. police officers were notified of a major accident with injuries — and a need for crowd control — near the Sonic Drive-In, 1109 N. Midkiff Road.

Upon arrival, officers found a red two-door GMC Jimmy upside down with its cab flattened in the driveway at Checker Auto Parts, facing south in a sea of shattered glass and scattered belongings.

A blue Mazda pickup with front-end damage was parked in the street facing north.

Witnesses said the driver of one car changed lanes and the driver of the other didn't see it until too late, but they did not agree on which vehicle changed lanes.

"There were five people in the GMC. Everyone made it out OK," Carlisa Carlson said. "I was amazed a little girl was all right since she wasn't wearing a seatbelt."

Both cars were headed south on Midkiff, according to witness Rusty Scott. "I saw the little red car spin up in the air. It went flying up over the telephone wires, flipped twice in the air and landed top down," he said. "They had to cut the seatbelt to get the driver, a woman, out. Some of the people (in the GMC) crawled out through there (the glassless hatchback window). The driver of the Mazda was fine."

Another teen-ager, following questioning by police officers, said, "I can't help them. My mind's a blank. I was behind the Mazda, about to turn into here," he said, indicating the Checker Auto parking lot, "when I heard a roar and next thing I know, I'm in the parking lot.

"I can't remember anything else. Other people said I narrowly missed getting out of the way before the GMC landed. But I really can't remember seeing the accident or anything else. The last thing I remember is starting to turn into the parking lot. That's it."

The teen-ager said he was too "shook" to drive home. "I'm waiting for my parents," he said.

A couple of teen-age girls sat in the back of a Ford pickup crying as a wrecker arrived. "I'm not going home until I quit shaking," one said. "It was the most terrifying thing I ever saw. I was so scared for the people in the red car. They were screaming. People watching were screaming. I don't believe I'll ever forget this."

The number of passengers transported to Midland Memorial Hospital, and their condition, was unknown at press time.

BLOOD: Victims, families call judgment cover-up criminal case that scandalized France. Two received lighter sentences Friday, and one was acquitted.

(From 1A)

The six-week trial was a sordid saga of doctors-turned-bureaucrats who put their annual budgets above patient care.

The case was brought on behalf of 1,200 hemophiliacs — about half the French hemophiliac population — given transfusions by the National Center for Blood Transfusions in 1985 from blood stocks officials knew were contaminated with the HIV virus, which causes AIDS.

More than 250 have since died and most of the others are HIV positive. They are dying at a rate of about one a week.

Transfusions from the center also infected 6,000 to 8,000 non-hemophiliacs. This group was not involved in the case and its death rate wasn't available. About 200,000 people in France have been infected with HIV.

Prosecutors said Garretta and other health officials delayed buying U.S. equipment to test blood for HIV and decontaminate infected blood in order to give French researchers more time to develop their own methods. Garretta maintained that he was acting on orders from Cabinet ministers.

The affair shook confidence in France's cradle-to-grave health system and further tarnished President Francois Mitterrand's scandal-plagued government.

Following the verdicts, relatives of hemophiliacs who got AIDS from the tainted blood shouted "Killer state!" and demanded that former Premier Laurent Fabius and other ministers responsible for health policy in 1985 be put on trial.

"Garretta gets the maximum, but this whole outcome is a minimum," said Jean-Francois Chambon, director of an anti-AIDS association.

Joelle Bouchet, whose son was contaminated, said she was appalled by the court's decision to place all blame on Garretta, rather than declare that political officials shared responsibility.

"It's disgusting," she said. "It's an insult to the sick."

The radical AIDS activist group Act-Up staged a protest outside the courthouse. Several dozen activists lay on the ground clutching posters streaked with red paint that denounced Fabius, now Socialist Party leader.

"There has been a vast cover-up," Act-Up said in a statement. "The politicians who clearly were shown to be responsible have yet to be charged."

Some of the victims testified in emotional courtroom appearances how they and their families were coping with imminent death.

Garretta, whose lawyers said he would appeal the verdict, has been working in the United States. The court issued a warrant for his arrest, and French TV quoted his wife in Brookline, Mass., as saying he would surrender promptly.

Garretta had been on the board of directors of Haemonetics, a company based in the Boston suburb, which makes blood processing equipment. He resigned several months ago, said a company official who would not give his name.

Garretta's attorney, Xavier Charvet, quoted him as saying it was "out of the question" that he would not return. Charvet described Friday's judgment as "justice at the service of a media lynch mob."

A woman at Garretta's Brookline home, who identified herself as Garretta's wife but refused to give her first name, told The Associated Press the verdict was the result of "politics and the media."

"We did the best we could at the time," said Mrs. Garretta, sounding close to tears. "This kind of thing happened all over the world."

It was unclear what work Garretta was now doing in the United States. The U.S. Embassy said Garretta was working under the terms of a non-resident visa.

LOCAL/AREA REPORTS

Woman dies in collision

Staff report

ODESSA — A 24-year-old Odessa woman died Friday morning after her Honda Civic collided head-on with a fuel transport truck.

Christy Lynn Blackstock died shortly after her Honda was struck by a 1990 Mack truck driven by Hector Grimaldo Covos of Odessa.

Ms. Blackstock was driving south on State Highway 302, just west of the Odessa city limits, when she drifted into the left turn lane and continued into the northbound lane of traffic, according to reports from the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Covos, traveling north on 302, struck the Honda head-on. Dr. Sparks Veasey of the Ector County Medical Examiner's Office pronounced Ms. Blackstock dead at the scene at 7:45 a.m. Friday and transported her to Martin Funeral Home.

She was not wearing a seatbelt, DPS said.

Covos was not injured.

Four bars violate laws

ODESSA — "Look, but don't touch," is the message four Odessa bar owners received when they were cited for violating public lewdness laws Friday.

The annual Permian Basin Oil Show means a bevy of topless dancers are in town to draw oil show patrons to the bars, according to a spokesperson with the Odessa Police Department.

This year, it also means police officers, with the assistance of the Texas Alcohol and Beverage Commission, will be sweeping bars to check for violations of public lewdness laws, he said.

Four topless bars received citations and 18 people were arrested for various types of contact with dancers Wednesday and Thursday nights, according to reports, which were sketchy at press time.

POLITICS: Bush, Clinton shift to high gear

evening ceremony to sign legislation popular with Florida's Cuban-American population.

And late in the day, Bush issued an executive order Friday that seeks to throw open more federal construction contracts to non-union labor. It bans project agreements reached between a construction company and a labor organization that "discriminate against open shop contractors and their employees."

Though a slap at organized labor — virtually solid against Bush — the move is designed to open more opportunities for the non-union companies which comprise an estimated 70 percent of the construction industry.

Earlier, as he signed legislation that tightens the U.S. economic embargo against Cuba, Bush said "Our policies and principles rest on a single belief: for freedom to rise in Cuba, Fidel Castro must fall." Clinton applauded that move, but noted Bush once opposed the toughest restrictions in the measure.

An ironic twist: both Bush and Clinton predicted he would be the first president to visit a free Cuba.

The signing was no staid official ceremony. The bill's Democratic sponsors weren't invited and Bush supporters filled the room with placards and chants of "Viva Bush" and "Four More Years." Bush spoke just in time for live local evening newscasts, and after the ceremony held a hour-long town hall televised across Florida, where he is in a dead heat with Clinton.

Bush defended himself against tough voter questions about the economy and his commitment to universal health care and AIDS research, and he criticized Ross Perot's proposal to tax some Social Security benefits and raise the gas tax.

The Arkansas governor stumped in Nevada and Missouri — he leads both four years after Bush wins — and also attended a homestate rally at the University of Arkansas, where he said the United States was not only being hurt by the global economic slowdown but was part of the cause.

"I think we just need some leadership and some vigor in America," Clinton said. "We've got to be able to demonstrate that in America, we're going to lower the deficit and increase investment."

As Clinton and Bush campaigned at a frenzied pace, Perot sent word he would soon join them, at least for a day. Ater waging a TV-only campaign for weeks, Perot aides said the Texas businessman would stage rallies Sunday in New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

He also bought an hour for a commercial preceding ABC's highly rated "Monday Night Football."

Meanwhile Friday, an ABC News survey found Clinton with a prohibitive lead in the race for Electoral College votes. It said Clinton was "clearly ahead" in 18 states with 261 electoral votes — just 9 shy of the 270 needed to win the presidency — and is leading in an additional eight states with 47 electoral votes.

The poll of nearly 18,000 Americans, including 13,635 currently registered voters, found Bush leading in only 3 states, with a mere 18 electoral votes combined. And Bush was not "clearly ahead" in any state, the survey found. Perot was not leading in any state.

The campaign understudies were busy, too, as Nov. 3 loomed ever closer.

Democratic vice presidential nominee Al Gore campaigned in Florida and Alabama in advance of Bush's visits, focusing on space and aerospace industries that provide thousands of jobs there. Both states are competitive four years after big Bush wins.

Quayle was in Pennsylvania, like Bush hoping official business translated into political gain in a state where the president is trailing badly. Quayle brought Boeing Helicopter workers news of a $1.4 billion contract to develop the V-22 Osprey tilt-rotor aircraft, taking credit for a weapons program the Bush administration vehemently opposed for years.

Toastmasters International director encourages local members

By Darren J. Waggoner
Staff writer

More people would rather die than speak in public, according to a recent survey by "The Book of Lists." But Toastmasters International is out to ease that fear.

Jo Anna McWilliams, international director for the 170,000-member organization, encouraged Midland Toastmasters Friday, stressing the importance of sound personal communication skills.

"We help people confront that fear and bring their skills back to their jobs with them," Mrs. McWilliams said.

There are 8,000 Toastmasters Clubs worldwide, including six in Midland. Club meetings consist of three segments; impromptu speaking, prepared speeches and evaluation.

"Impromptu speaking is table talk," said John Slyker, past international director of Toastmasters. "An unprepared speech about anything out of the blue."

But the prepared speech segment involves a longer five- to seven-minute talk on a subject of one's choice followed by an evaluation — written and oral — from other club members.

During the meetings, members are assigned different duties designed to help them practice public speaking techniques.

Mrs. McWilliams, vice president and manager of customer service for Lomas Information Systems in Dallas, said joining the group 11 years ago strengthened her leadership skills.

"And bringing those abilities back to the work environment was very beneficial," she said.

Toastmasters International attracts people from a variety of fields, and according to Mrs. McWilliams, skills learned at club meetings can be applied to nearly all of them.

Anyone over 18 years old can become a member. Annual fees are $70.

V-22: Voters' cynicism confronts Bush largess

(From 1A)

"It's politics," he said. "What are they going to do after the election? Are they going to pull out?"

Judging from the reaction on the plant floor, Bush's efforts to use presidential largess in his re-election campaign appeared to be tapping far more voter cynicism than support. While everyone in the audience seemed to welcome Quayle's announcement, even Bush supporters described it as a grab for votes.

"Nine out of 10 of us are cynical to the max," said Alan O'Brien, who commutes to the Boeing plant from his home in nearby Delaware.

The contract award for the V-22, which follows similar election-year boosts for three other defense programs, was timed to improve Bush's prospects in Pennsylvania and Texas, two key states in the Nov. 3 election. The Marine Corps troop transport, which the administration had tried to cancel three years in a row, is being jointly developed by Boeing and Bell Helicopter Textron of Fort Worth.

Quayle, who assured Pennsylvania workers that he supported the V-22 as a senator, committed the administration to the initial phase of a new development contract that is expected to total $2.4 billion by 1998. The vice president's trip to the Boeing plant came the day after the Navy officially awarded the first $550 million installment.

"It's a good deal. It's going to bring work and jobs to this area, which is in bad shape. But if the election weren't being held, he wouldn't be here with the check," said Boeing worker Bill Smith.

Smith, who, like other Boeing employees, got two hours off to see Quayle, came to the rally wearing a button for independent candidate Ross Perot.

Not suprisingly, the Clinton campaign also questioned the administration's motives. Clinton and his vice presidential nominee, Sen. Al Gore of Tennessee, have endorsed the V-22, and Clinton praised the aircraft in his first prsidential debate with Bush.

"It's hard to trust Bush's conversion less than two weeks before Election Day," the Clinton campaign said in a prepared statement. "If he can so easily reverse course, what prevents him from doubling back if re-elected?"

Ralph Carter, chairman of the political science department at Texas Christian University in Fort Worth, said Bush is following a long tradition in trying to use the power of his office for political advantage. But Carter said Bush has been spectacularly unsuccessful because he is asking voters to overlook his previous positions.

On Sept. 2, Bush ended a decade-long ban on F-16 sales to Taiwan with an announcement at General Dynamics' Fort Worth plant, where the fighter is built. The weapons ban had been an integral part of Bush's longstanding effort to improve relations with Taiwan's rival, the People's Republic of China.

In another election-year reversal, the administration dropped its opposition to plans to upgrade the M-1 tank at GD plants in Lima, Ohio, and Warren, Mich. Bush also wooed defense workers at McDonnell Douglas in St. Louis by approving a controversial sale of F-15 fighters to Saudi Arabia.

"These announcements, two or three months ago, might have made a difference," Carter said. "But coming as they have in the last month to six weeks prior to the election, everybody looks at this and says he's desperate."

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE TAXPAYERS OF MIDLAND COUNTY

HEY, WHAT'S THE DEAL? OR BETTER YET, WHAT'S THE "PLAN"??

Carol Baker, the appointed incumbent candidate for County Treasurer, states she has been "active treasurer since May, 1989". Yet, the voters of Midland County re-elected Dee Thompson to that office in November, 1990. WHAT'S THE DEAL?

Why did taxpayers of Midland County have to pay an elected AND an "active" county treasurer for over three years? Where's the efficiency in that arrangement? If Mrs. Baker was the "active treasurer", shouldn't she be held accountable for the decision to have taxpayer's pay TWO county treasurers? Or was that just part of the "PLAN"?

Carol Baker was hand picked in January, 1989, as the "Chief Deputy Treasurer". Mrs. Baker was given that position over three existing employees in that office. That increased the number of employees in that office from four to five. Now Mrs. Baker claims she has "streamlined" her office expenses by 20%. Did she accomplish this "streamlining" by simply not replacing an employee that was never needed in the first place? Is that an honest, efficient way to run our county government. Or is it simply the result of a "PLAN" between Mrs. Baker, Mrs. Thompson and our County Commissioner's Court to "HAND SELECT" our County Treasurer, rather than let the voters of Midland County decide?

Mrs. Baker says we can't trust this job to "untried, untested, unproven hands." Boy, if that's not typical incumbent rhetoric. Mary Wilson is a professional. Mary has 20 years of solid accounting, bookkeeping and financial experience. Armed with your vote, Mary will be accountable only to the taxpayers of Midland County, not those who formulate the "PLANS".

LET'S STOP THIS NONSENSE. WE'VE HAD ENOUGH UNDER THE TABLE "PLANS".

VOTE FOR A HIGHLY TRAINED AND COMPETENT ALTERNATIVE TO THE "PLAN".

ELECT MARY WILSON -- MIDLAND COUNTY TREASURER

Marine group: Feeding tours expose dolphins to disease

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP) — A federal judge's decision allowing dolphin-feeding tours to continue hurts dolphins by exposing them to disease, according to the Center for Marine Conservation.

"The public is being unwittingly duped into contributing to the deaths of dolphins by participating in this activity," Nina Young, a marine mammalogist with the center for conservation, said in a written statement. "Contrary to the bench's ruling, evidence (of the harm of feeding dolphins) is not merely anecdotal."

Young also said U.S. District Judge Hayden Head's Sept. 30 ruling could change the feeding behavior of wild dolphins.

The ruling said Erv and Sonja Strong may continue operating the Dolphin Express, which takes people into the bay to feed wild dolphins.

In a written statement Tuesday, Tim Eichenberg, legal counsel for the marine conservation center, said, "Judge Head's ruling ignores scientific evidence demonstrating the negative effects of commercial feeding cruises on dolphins and prevents effective implementation of the Marine Mammal Protection Act."

The National Marine Fisheries Service, charged with protecting marine mammals, issued a new rule in April expanding the Marine Mammal Protection Act of 1972 to prohibit feeding of wild marine mammals, including dolphins.

The service argued that feeding the dolphins was a form of harassment, which is banned under the act.

Bonilla outpaces Bustamante in fund-raising

Hearst News Service

WASHINGTON — Republican Henry Bonilla of San Antonio raised nearly three times more in campaign contributions between July 1 and Sept. 30 than did Rep. Albert Bustamante, the Democratic incumbent, Federal Election Commission records showed Friday.

During that fund-raising period, Bonilla, a San Antonio television producer in his first try for public office, collected $128,821, compared with $45,629 for Bustamante, who's seeking a fifth consecutive term representing Texas' 23rd district.

Bonilla has also far outpaced Bustamante in raising money for the entire year, toting up $317,337 to Bustamante's total of $134,332.

But Bustamante, relying on leftover cash from 1991, began the final lap of the hard-fought campaign with $123,524 in the bank, while Bonilla reported a campaign kitty of just $28,097.

In another closely contested race pitting Rep. Charles Wilson, D-Lufkin, against Republican Donna Peterson of Orange, Wilson has raised more than $569,000 so far this year, more than twice the $246,021 raised by Peterson, according to FEC records.

Democratic officials discounted Bonilla's recent fund-raising success, saying it's too little, too late.

"This just suggests that Bustamante has devoted more of the last three months to campaigning, which is what he should be doing," said Laura Nichols, a spokeswoman for the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee. "At this stage of the game, the candidate shouldn't be focusing on raising money."

But Bonilla said he is attracting attention and cash because voters have lost faith in Bustamante.

"A lot of people believe he's on his last legs, and they're not going to invest any more money in him," Bonilla said by phone Friday.

Sylvia Arriola, campaign coordinator for Bustamante, said the congressman "has now hit full stride" in campaigning since Congress adjourned on Oct. 6.

"It's all our show now," she said. "Mr. Bonilla has peaked, and it's over, there's nothing more he can talk about, he's never addressed the issues, he's just attacked us."

Bustamante has outspent Bonilla this year, disbursing $295,126, compared with the Republican's campaign expenditures of $286,116 in 1992, FEC records show.

But Bonilla outspent Bustamante during between July and October, spending $133,889 during the three-month period, compared with Bustamante's campaign outlays of $123,524.

Both candidates have devoted most of that campaign spending to advertising, political consultants and printing.

Part of Bustamante's war chest has gone toward paying the Washington law firm of Brand & Lowell to represent him in his low-intensity war with the Justice Department, which has been probing the San Antonio Democrat for over three years about alleged influence-peddling.

Expert: Prison system is 'blowing up'

AUSTIN (AP) — A leading state criminal justice expert said Friday that the Texas prison system is "blowing up" because of overcrowding.

Tony Fabelo, executive director of the Criminal Justice Policy Council, said longstanding problems plaguing the state prison system are not getting better despite an unprecedented prison buildup.

"The system is totally blowing up in terms of overcrowding," Fabelo told prison and parole officials.

There are currently about 53,100 inmates in Texas prisons, and about 20,000 in county jails awaiting transfer to the state system.

By 1996, the state will have prisons for about 92,163 inmates under a plan to build some 38,000 prison beds at a cost of $1.1 billion, he said.

New prisons coming on line in the next two years, combined with payments to counties for holding state inmates, will cost an additional $800 million, he said. This expense comes at a time when lawmakers have warned of a projected $5 billion budget shortfall in the coming two-year budget period.

'It's just an extremely difficult situation. It's a very depressing thing. If you don't have public safety, you can't even have a society.'

—Carol Vance
chairman of Criminal Justice Board

But even with the new prisons, there will not be enough room to hold the expected number of inmates, Fabelo said.

The prison population continues to skyrocket, driven by poverty and increased drug enforcement, he said.

Drug related offenses have jumped 324 percent between 1985 and 1991, he said.

As more inmates are shuttled into the system, then others must be released because of federal court controlled population limits.

In 1985, for example, the average inmate served 33 percent of his sentence before being released. In 1991, that fell to 13 percent.

He said one way to alleviate overcrowded prisons is to provide more drug treatment and community-based rehabilitation programs.

"It's just an extremely difficult situation," said Carol Vance of Houston, chairman of the Texas Criminal Justice Board.

"It's a very depressing thing. If you don't have public safety, you can't even have a society," he said.

EC says talks on track with U.S.

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — A world trade agreement that rests in the hands of European Community and U.S. negotiators is still alive, EC sources said Friday. But whether it could boost the sagging global economy soon is questioned.

Panic ensued after U.S. officials said Wednesday night the talks had collapsed. On Friday, British Prime Minister John Major and German Chancellor Helmut Kohl told EC Agriculture Commissioner Ray MacSharry to get back to bargaining with the Americans.

MacSharry and U.S. Agriculture Secretary Edward Madigan spoke by phone late Friday about international trade negotiations and a troublesome dispute on cereal substitutes for animal feed.

"It is clear from these contacts that both sides want to maintain contact and continue negotiations to achieve a rapid and successful conclusion on both issues," MacSharry said in a statement.

The trade fight concerns dozens of issues. Washington wants the 12-nation trade bloc to cut its subsidies to farmers and agricultural exporters. The community wants the giant American services sector, notably telecommunications, to be opened up to non-U.S. bidders.

Agricultural topics seem to create the most dangerous logjams.

"If agriculture can be got out of the way, the rest will fall into place," MacSharry spokesman Gerry Kiely said.

A settlement would pave the way for an accord in the Uruguay Round of world trade talks sponsored by the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade, the Geneva-based organization that oversees world trade.

Those talks, involving 108 nations, have dragged on for six years.

The United States argues that European farm payments distort world trade and take away overseas sales from more efficient American farmers. Many agriculture-exporting countries and Third World nations support the U.S. position.

For France, two major issues are export subsidy cuts and tariffs on oilseeds — issues that sources say are not close to being settled.

Foreign-grown oilseeds are attractive to farmers as an inexpensive substitute for grain as animal feed. The community has already slashed the price of its cereals to make them more competitive. But France and Germany want levies on U.S. cereal substitutes because their small cereal farmers fear a flood of oilseeds from North or South America.

FAA says passenger 747s may be at risk

AMSTERDAM, Netherlands (AP) — Boeing 747 passenger planes are also at risk from the structural failings that may have caused the crash of an El Al cargo plane here this month, U.S. authorities believe.

"The problem is not expected to be unique to freighter airplanes," the Federal Aviation Administration said in a letter to Dutch crash investigators released Friday by the Transport Ministry.

It said its investigation would "focus on all versions of the Boeing 747."

At least 43 people are believed to have died Oct. 4 when the Israeli jet slammed into a low-income suburban apartment building after losing its two right-wing engines soon after takeoff.

The Dutch aviation inspectorate believes the engine supports gave way, possibly because of metal fatigue or corrosion in the four fuse pin assemblies which hold each engine to the wing.

In its Oct. 19 letter, the FAA said initial post-crash checks on 26 Boeing 747s showed 74 fuse pins displayed corrosion and four others appeared cracked.

"I want to assure you that the FAA ... will mandate any corrective action we find to be appropriate for the Boeing 747 fleet," wrote Thomas McSweeny, the FAA's deputy director of aircraft certification.

The fuse pins are meant to snap in event of drastic engine malfunction, allowing the plane to continue flying on its remaining engines.

But crash investigators reported no sign of serious damage in either of the El Al jet's right-wing engines. It warned the FAA the airworthiness of 747 freighters powered by Pratt & Whitney engines could not be guaranteed beyond 6,000 flights.

Boeing Co. announced this week it was asking airlines to test 747s to assess the strains borne by engine supports.

Gunmen fire shots at cruise boat

ASSIUT, Egypt (AP) — Gunmen opened fire on a cruise boat carrying foreign tourists Friday as it sailed along the Nile in southern Egypt, two days after a British tourist was killed in an ambush, police officials said.

No casualties were reported in Friday's incident, which took place as the boat sailed by Nagaa Hammadi, 280 miles south of Cairo, police officials said. They suspect Muslim extremists, who want to impose Islamic rule in Egypt, for the attack.

The officials, who spoke on condition of anonymity, said five gunmen wearing Arab scarves over their faces shot at the boat and then disappeared in the fields along the river's banks.

In Assiut, 240 miles south of Cairo, a Muslim preacher attacked the government Friday for arresting two lawyers connected with a Muslim extremist group that claimed to have launched the ambush in which the British woman died.

The preacher, who identified himself only as Sheik Hassan, said the lawyers were arrested Thursday after distributing a claim by al-Gamaa al-Islamiya, or Islamic Group, that it was responsible for shooting a tour bus the day before. Two British men suffered minor wounds in the ambush.

Al-Gamaa al-Islamiya is an umbrella for Muslim extremist factions that have stepped up violence this year in southern Egypt against officials, police, Coptic Christians and, recently, foreign tourists.

Officials believe the extremists began targeting tourists to increase pressure on the government.

Peacekeepers, rebels fight near Liberian capital

■ More world news/1C

MONROVIA, Liberia (AP) — West African peacekeepers appeared to have rebel leader Charles Taylor's fighters on the run Friday after launching a ground offensive and an air raid deep into Taylor-held territory.

The seven-nation force seized a Taylor base eight miles from the capital, and another force was trying to retake the city's water plant, military sources said.

Taylor, who frequently calls journalists to denounce the peacekeepers, was conspicuously silent. His minister of works, John Richardson, told the British Broadcasting Corp. that the air raid on Gbargna, Taylor's headquarters, killed five civilians, including three children.

Richardson also said some damage was reported at Taylor's executive mansion in the town 91 miles northeast of the capital Monrovia.

The West African offensive appeared to signal all-out war between Taylor and the peacekeepers, who said they had endured numerous attacks by the rebel leaders' fighters before going on the offensive.

The 7,000-man force clearly outgunned Taylor, but it was unclear whether it could defeat him if he returns to guerrilla war tactics. Taylor is believed to have more than 10,000 fighters, but many are young and untrained.

The stepped-up fighting was bound to strain the alliance of West African nations that sent the task force into Monrovia in August 1990 to stop a bloody civil war that had turned into tribal violence. More than 15,000 people were killed before the force imposed a cease-fire in November 1990.

The fighting is the worst since peacekeepers imposed the cease-fire. It erupted a week ago when several attacks were launched on Monrovia and the peacekeeping force headquarters.

There were conflicting reports on who started the fighting, but it was later learned that Taylor had attacked and overrun the camp of rival rebel leader Prince Johnson at Caldwell. Johnson, who had signed an agreement with Taylor a few weeks earlier, escaped and surrendered to peacekeepers.

Little gunfire could be heard in the city Friday, and the main problem was finding water for a population swollen by the arrival of an estimated 100,000 refugees fleeing fighting in the suburbs.

Quake kills two, injures 15 in remote Morocco

RABAT, Morocco (AP) — An earthquake shook southeastern Morocco early Friday, killing a woman and her young daughter who had taken shelter in a covered market in Tafilalet, the official MAP news agency reported.

Fifteen people were injured, the agency said.

The quake registered 5.3 on the Richter Scale and occurred just after 5 a.m. EDT, the U.S. Geological Survey reported.

The quake was strongest in the Erfoud region, the North African country's main date-producing region, but it was felt throughout much of Morocco.

Brief power outages were reported in the southeast. Few details were immediately available about the extent of damage.

The quake occurred about 300 miles northwest of the area struck by the Agadir Earthquake of 1960. That quake killed at least 12,000 people and caused extensive damage to the coastal city of Agadir.

Playoff string ends

Mojo's 21-14 win over Lee erases Rebs' playoff hopes

Brian Adamcik/Reporter-Telegram

By Terry Williamson
Sports editor

The obituary: Odessa Permian 21, Midland Lee 14.

Midland Lee's gallant nine-year playoff heart quit pumping at 10:15 p.m. at Memorial Stadium Friday, Oct. 23, 1992, ending District 4-5A's longest consecutive playoff run.

But this heart went down fighting with honor, a last stand, so to speak, much like the Alamo of old in another Permian-Lee matchup that defined football in West Texas.

But Lee did die in the end as an era comes to a close. Lee is now 2-3 in district play and eliminated from a 10th consecutive playoff push. That leaves 4-0 Odessa Permian, 3-1 San Angelo and 4-0 Abilene Cooper with automatic playoff berths. San Angelo will go to the Big School division while Permian and Cooper will go to the Small School division. It will be Cooper's first trip to the state playoffs since 1979.

It didn't take Permian coach Tam Hollingshead long to figure out the mathematics of the victory.

"The first thing I told the kids was that we were back in the playoffs," Hollingshead said. "This is a heated rivalry and we made a lot of mistakes, but kept fighting back. I'm extremely proud of our kids."

Trailing 21-14 with 4:58 left in the game, Lee did have one more crack at saving its playoff string, but Permian defensive back Gerrod Bergen intercepted a Courtney Turner pass to seal Lee's fate.

Ironically, Turner had the best passing game for Lee in over 10 years, completing 11 of 15 passes for 214 yards and a touchdown. Fate sometimes weaves a weird fabric and this was the ghastly ending.

"Courtney had just a great night throwing the football with over 200 yards," said Lee coach Earl Miller. "I'm just numb after this loss. We out-gained Permian (378-334), but we just gave them too many cheap scores. We had two chances inside the 10-yard line and didn't get the job done.

"Our kids gave everything they had, and if there were any inadequacies, it came from me."

Hollingshead said, "Bergen's interception was big there at the end. We really needed that one."

Lee had a chance to tie the score at 21 by moving to the Permian five-yard line. But it was there that Turner was sacked by Scott Cherry for a four-yard loss and again by Michael Comer for six more yards and Brian Gibson missed a 32-yard field goal try.

Both teams started the game by missing 23-yard field goal tries by Permian's Shane Wells and Lee's Gibson, but Permian struck like lightning, scoring from 78 yards out on a sprint by Tyree Ephriam.

"I had confidence that I could score from anywhere on the field because our offensive line has carried us all year long," Ephriam said. "Lee played a great game, but our offensive line controlled the game."

Lee answered, driving 77 yards in 11 plays to knot the score at 7-7. Turner hit Undra Graves for a big 39-yard pass to get the drive rolling and halfback Phillip Sims scored from four yards out.

Graves caught five passes for 152 yards for Lee, but Turner also found five other receivers on the night.

"Permian played a good game, but we had the passes open," Graves said. "I wish it could have turned out a little more."

Permian came back in the second quarter to take the lead for good at 14-7 as quarterback Dennis Graham found Kendrick Parrett working open behind Jeff Pursley for a 36-yard touchdown.

Lee then felt the huge pressure when Permian's Travis Jenson blocked a Kevin Jordan punt at the Lee 37-yard line and Mojo moved in for the score in four plays with Bergen getting the final seven.

Turner answered with an 86-yard drive, hitting Graves for 46 yards and scoring on a neat 14-yard misdirection pass play to Sims. Then luck ran out as a field goal miss and the interception by Bergen ended Lee's playoff string.

"We knew going into this year that it was going to be a real challenge because we are playing with so many juniors," Miller said. "You just can't play in this

Bronchos go batty on offense

By Bill Price
Staff writer

ODESSA — When a bat had to be shooed out of the press box before the game, it was a reminder that Halloween was only eight days away.

For Odessa High, though, it was no omen of spooks to come, as the Bronchos rode roughshod over winless Midland High 47-21 Friday night in front of an estimated crowd of 4,000 at Ratliff Stadium. And if anybody thought OHS was ripe for an upset after being eliminated from the playoffs last week, they were misguided.

The Bronchos ran for 307 yards and 19 first downs — in the first half. They finished the game with a gaudy 543-yard rushing total and 617 total yards with 32 first downs, sucking the lifeblood right from the Bulldog defense.

Fullback Roe Hubbard was the top Broncho runner with 122 yards and two touchdowns on eight carries, while Bobby Thomas ran for 118 on six tries, one an 80-yard score. OHS had a third 100-yard runner, as big fullback Thomas Henderson, generously listed in the program at 250 pounds, rumbled, bumbled and stumbled his way to 101 yards.

Quarterback Erik Hartman, the team's leading rusher entering the game with 586 yards, almost gave OHS a fourth century-yard man, but ended the game with 80 on 14 carries.

The numbers could leave a fan wondering how OHS (4-5 overall, 2-3 in district) lost five games.

Chaps best Longhorns at UNT tourney

Staff report

DENTON, Texas — The Midland College Chaparral golf team outlasted the University of Texas Friday in the final round of the University of North Texas Invitational.

MC shot a 54-hole total of 871 following its impressive final round score of 285.

The Chaps were led by co-medalist Stephen Dundas, who finished the two day event with a 214. Adam Rivera, of McLennan Community College, also finished at 214.

The Longhorns finished at 890, 19 strokes off MC's winning pace. UT played without its top player, Justin Leonard, the 1992 U.S. Amateur Champion and one of the top golfers in the entire Southwest Conference.

"We'd like to play them at full strength, but a win is still a win," MC golf coach Delnor Poss said. "It always means a lot to beat a university with a great program.

"We played outstanding. That 871 is really an outstanding score.

Dundas' individual co-medalist honors makred the third time in four tournaments this season the Scotland native has either won or shared top honors.

Lance McCullough, who shot a 219 for the tournament, was also named to the all-tournament team, the third time he has received all-tourney honors this year.

The University of Oklahoma and SMU were both scheduled to play in the tournament, but withdrew prior to the start of play.

Final team results from the University of North Texas Invitational:

1. Midland College, 297-289-285—871; 2. University of Texas, 295-294-301—890; 3. McLennan Community College, 301-299-296—896; 4. University of North Texas, 299-298-306—902; 5. Lon Morris, 309-298-296—903; 6. Western Texas, 301-308-294—903; 7. Weatherford College, 306-303-299—908.

Blocked field goal beats Tors

By Joe Wyatt
Staff writer

LAMESA — With the pass-happy Levelland Lobos here for Friday's key District 2-4A match-up, fans at Tornado Field figured to see the visitors use their quick-strike aerial attack to counter Lamesa's vaunted running game.

That never materialized, but none among the large home crowd are likely to recall the means by which the ball was moved during the Lobos' astonishing 29-21 victory over the Tornadoes.

Just one play will pop to the forefront.

Brandon Gray blocked Lamesa's 40-yard field-goal try with just 39 seconds left in a 21-21 deadlock, and Chester James scooped it up and rambled 68 yards for the go-ahead touchdown as the Lobos turned a likely tie -- and a potential three-point loss into a

BULLDOGS: Odessa High has three 100-yard rushers in 26-point victory against Midland High

(From 1B)

"You just go out there and have fun (when the playoffs are no longer possible). We knew we'd have more speed, but we also have a great line that opened up some big holes," Hartman said.

"We certainly hoped we would be able to run against them. Because they have so many people playing both ways, there were times when they didn't have their big linemen in there," said Broncho head coach Bill Barron.

For MHS, now 0-8 and in a 17-game losing streak, it was the most productive offensive outing of the year. The Bulldogs' 21 points were the most they've scored in a game in 1992, as they amassed 245 total offensive yards. Quarterback Johnny Parades passed for 168 of those, as running back Michael Gilbert caught four for 73 yards and receiver Roy Ratliff hauled in four for 57.

The Bulldog defense, coming off what many deemed its best game of the year in last week's 28-7 loss to Abilene Cooper, was simply outmanned, though.

"It was just the opposite from last week. We had a good offense and no defense this week," said MHS head coach Ronnie Reeger.

"We played a good scheme defensively, we just couldn't execute. Speed was the deal. I know they lost a lot of speed from last year's team, but they still have a lot of weapons."

MHS troubles began from the outset, as Keith Givens returned game's opening kickoff 50 yards to set OHS up at the Bulldog 40-yard line. Six plays later, the Bronchos were ahead 6-0 on Hubbard's four-yard run. The point after kick failed.

The next time OHS had the ball an eight-play, 67-yard drive was the result. Seven of those plays were runs and netted 12, 12, 13, seven, five, seven yards and a one-yard Henderson TD. Hartman ran for the point after to make the score 14-0.

MHS was forced to punt on its next possession, but got a break when Lorenzo Bersoza muffed the kick and Chad Burrell recover for the 'Dogs at the OHS 17. Parades hit Ratliff for a 14-yard completion, then Corey Emerson ran the last three yards, cutting the score to 14-7.

But that was the end of the MHS rally, as Thomas ran the Bronchos' next snap 80 yards on a pitch left for the last TD of the first quarter. In the second quarter, Hartman snuck in from a yard out and connected with Nicky Canava on a 26-yard scoring pass.

MHS scored again in the first half as Parades ran in for a 10-yarder, cutting the margin to 34-14 at halftime, but Hubbard's 21-yard TD run in the third quarter put the game away for OHS. The Bronchos' final score came on a seven-yard Anthony Magana run, while MHS closed out the scoreboard on a 22-yard Parades to Ratliff pass.

San Angelo nails down playoff spot

SAN ANGELO — The San Angelo Bobcats clinched District 4-5A's Big School playoff berth here Friday night with a 54-0 romping over the Abilene High Eagles.

Abilene High is 0-4 in league play while San Angelo climbed to 3-1, winning the playoff berth with help from Odessa Permian's 21-14 win over Midland Lee.

San Angelo quarterback Ben Montgomery completed 10 of 20 passes for 268 yards and three touchdowns. He also rushed nine times for 102 yards and another score. Ryan King caught six passes for 146 yards and a touchdown.

The Bobcats travel to Midland High Friday without even needing a win to get into the state playoffs for the second consecutive year.

Cooper now 7-1; Permian is next

ABILENE — Abilene Cooper defeated Austin High by a 28-10 margin here Friday night in a non-conference football game, but despite the fact that the Cougars weren't playing a league foe, they find themselves in the Class 5A Small School playoffs.

Cooper climbed to 7-1 for the year, but they are 4-0 in District 4-5A play. Cooper clinched a playoff berth by virtue of Odessa Permian's 21-14 win over Midland Lee.

Cooper got three touchdown passes in the game, two from quarterback Deric Neal and another from running back Tony Tate.

Cooper will travel to Permian next Friday in a game that could decide the district championship.

Steers hold Chiefs to -29 total yards

By Pete Herndon
MRT Correspondent

BIG SPRING — Homecoming night is supposed to be a night for remembering. But with the Big Spring Steers marching steadily up and down the field Friday en route to a 50-0 shellacking of San Angelo Lake View in a District 3-4A football game, it might have been hard for some of their fans to remember the fate of the Steers less than a decade ago.

Before 1986, Big Spring, then a member of District 4-5A, was everybody's homecoming game. Permian would roll up 40 or 50 points by the half, then play the junior varsity and the cheerleaders. Lee and San Angelo would do the same.

Big Spring coach Dwight Butler, who was an assistant coach for Dick Winder at Monahans and Abilene Cooper during the early '80s, didn't forget.

The Steers didn't play the cheerleaders, but they came close.

Big Spring had 12 backs carry the ball at least once. Two quarterbacks played, and there wasn't a lineman who walked away with a clean jersey.

Lonnie Jackson ran for three touchdowns, atoning for three lost fumbles, and finished the night with 65 yards. Tim Pearson was the game's leading rusher with 78 yards.

Lake View, by comparison, finished the night with minus-29 yards in total offense. The Chiefs only first down of the game came with nine minutes, 42 seconds remaining in the game when Big Spring was penalized for roughing the passer.

Butler, whose team raised its record to 3-4-1 (1-2-1 in District 3-4A), said there was no reason to rub salt in the Chiefs' collective wounds.

"Their kids work hard," Butler said of Lake View. "They deserve the respect of their opponents. People that go out and try to score 60 or 70 points on 16 year-old kids ... I don't believe in that."

Not that it wouldn't have been easy to take out some frustration on Lake View (1-6,0-3). Big Spring suffered losses to Andrews and Sweetwater while managing a tie with Monahans to open district play. Wins by Andrews and Sweetwater Friday left both unbeaten in league play, effectively eliminating the Steers from the playoff picture.

"It's been an emotional month," Butler said. "Not only has it been physically brutal, but emotionally draining as well.

"Our kids don't have a lot to play for except for pride. I thought they did an outstanding job. What we've got to try to do now is go out and win our next two games and send our seniors out on a winning note."

Early on, the Steers showed why they had been eliminated from the postseason picture. Big Spring lost four fumbles, and twice missed passes to receivers open for touchdowns.

It made little difference.

The Steers opened the game with a no-huddle offense, needing four plays to drive 60 yards for their first touchdown. Quarterback Wes Hughes hit Pearson for 49 yards, setting up Jackson's first score from three yards out.

Big Spring scored the first of three second quarter touchdowns on third and 19, when Hughes threw to Oscar Cervantes for 27 yards on a tight end screen.

The Steers shuffled players freely in the second half, scoring two of their touchdowns on drives of 22 and 38 yards. The final points came when the snap from center was botched on a fourth-quarter extra-point attempt and Pat Martinez picked up the ball and ran it in.

Brandon Stevens, the Lake View punter, got most of the playing time for the Chiefs. He kicked the ball away 10 times, averaging 28.7 yards per punt.

district with the number of young kids we have. But they will be back."

Coupled with Odessa High's win over Midland High Friday, it was the seventh time since 1961 that Odessa teams have swept Midland teams in a single season. Midland has never swept Odessa.

Lee still has two games left to play, hosting Dallas Jesuit in a non-conference game next Saturday at 2 p.m. and then traveling to Cooper the following week in hopes of beating a team that is playoff bound.

Rankin defeats Cowboys, 33-0

By Jeff Wilson
MRT Correspondent

RANKIN — About midway through the third quarter of Friday night's Rankin-Grandfalls-Royalty Class 8-A clash, the lone Grandfalls coach in the pressbox threw up his hands in disgust and declared, "It's not fair. It's like they have our playbook. They know exactly what we're going to do and when we're going to do it."

No, Rankin coach Raul Sanchez didn't have one of the Cowboy's playbook but he had the better team as the Red Devils moved to 6-1 overall and 2-0 in league play with an impressive 33-0 win over Grandfalls. The Cowboys, all 17 of them, dropped to 3-3 and 1-1.

"Our scouts do a good job for us," Sanchez said. "We made a few adjustments at halftime but our kids played hard. You have to give Coach (Pat) Ward a lot of credit. We just wore them down in the second half."

Ward, who took Rotan to the Class A semifinals last year, has just 17 kids on his team. But those 17 stayed with the Red Devils until halftime, where Rankin used its numbers and a slick running back named Roy Abalos.

Abalos led a Rankin offense that grounded out 436 yards with 195 yards of his own and scored two touchdowns. The Red Devils rushed for 316 yards on 59 carries while holding the Cowboys to just 74 yards of offense, 60 of that coming on the ground. At halftime, Grandfalls had rushed 12 times for 2 yards and completed 2 passes for another 14.

"We don't have a 190-pound line like we had last year so we have to rely on big plays because of our quickness," Sanchez said.

If it was big plays Sanchez wanted, then he got exactly what he needed.

Abalos broke a scoreless tie in the second quarter with a 63-yard TD run. The Red Devils got a 58-yard pass play from quarterback Jo Jo Guerra to Jeff Jones and finished off the evening with an 18-yard scoring run from Juan Bautista.

"We don't have the big fullback or the big quarterback like we did last year (those being all-staters Kevin Braden and Kirk Kennedy)," Sanchez said. "We took what they gave us."

At first, Rankin didn't get much. The first four Rankin drives ended with turnovers, the third on an intercepted pass by Cowboy cornerback Rigo Olivas. Olivas returned the ball 80 yards for a touchdown but the play was called back because of a clipping penalty.

"We self-destructed in the first quarter," Sanchez said. "We shot ourselves in the foot with turnovers. If they do get that interception, for sure, it would have stalled our comeback. We just wanted to go out and put some points on the board."

The Red Devils finally got on track midway through the second quarter, mounting a 9-play, 78-yard drive climaxed by Abalos' 63-yard touchdown run. After holding the Cowboys on three plays, the Red Devils needed just five plays to cover 34 yards and took a 14-0 lead on Abalos' 8-yard run.

"Our line did kind of struggle a little bit but we improved from there," Abalos said. "It was a hard game for us. Grandfalls played us pretty tough."

Rankin wasted little time putting the game out of reach, scoring on it's first three possessions of the second half.

Guerra picked off the first of his two interceptions early in the second half and then scored the Red Devils third TD of the game from a yard out. Rankin needed just two plays on its next drive as Guerra found Jeff Jones for a 58-yard bomb that made the score 27-0.

Guerra stopped the Cowboys' next drive with an interception and then moved the Red Devils 79 yards in 13 plays to cap the game. Bautista's run closed out the scoring for Rankin.

"Roy has been a good running back for us the whole season (Abalos rushed for 235 yards against Water Valley earlier in the season)," Sanchez said. "Our linemen came off the ball and we put some points on the board."

Braden led the defense with numerous tackles and a pair of sacks.

"Keith has really come through for us at middle linebacker," Sanchez said. "He's always been a defensive linemen but he has really filled the spot for us."

Rankin, which is alone in first place in the district race, heads to Sanderson Friday night while Grandfalls is at Fort Davis.

Garden City beats up on Sanderson, 48-27

SANDERSON — The Garden City Bearkats remained undefeated in District 8-A play Friday night after a 48-27 win over Sanderson (1-6, 0-2).

Jody Bradford scored on three touchdown runs, including a 74 yarder in the first quarter.

The Bearkats amassed 512 yards of total offense, more than twice the 224 yards posted by Sanderson.

After Garden City could only muster a 14-13 lead following one period of play, the Bearkats scored a pair of second quarter strikes to jump out to a 27-13 lead at the half.

The 'Kats closed out the game with three touchdowns in the final eight minutes of play.

The win was Garden City's fifth in seven games this season.

Next Friday, Garden City plays host to former coach Sam Scott, who brings his Wink team to town for a District 8-A game.

Greenwood, Sonora end in 17-17 tie

SONORA — The Greenwood Rangers fought District 6-3A leading Sonora to a 17-17 tie Friday night to move to 0-2-1 in league play. The Rangers' overall record moved to 2-5-1 with the outcome.

The two teams combined for unusually low offensive totals, including first downs (11) and total offense (287 yards). Greenwood had five first downs and just 136 total yards on offense.

Greenwood's Johnny Strickland scored in the fourth quarter to bring on the 17-all tie.

The Rangers play their final home game of the '92 season next Friday when Colorado City comes to town.

Mustangs remain undefeated at 8-0

FORT STOCKTON — Undefeated Andrews continued to roll in District 3-4A play with a 42-12 romp over Fort Stockton here Friday night.

Andrews is now 8-0 on the year and 4-0 in league play while the Panthers fell to 3-4 and 0-3.

Andrews will host Monahans in a key district game next Friday. The victor will win a playoff berth.

Andrews got four rushing touchdowns from Xavy Emiliano with one coming from 60 yards out. Emiliano had 120 yards rushing. Keven Lawrence, who had a 17-yard TD run, rushed for 99 yards.

In all, Andrews' high scoring machine had 447 yards of offense. Fort Stockton did gain 246 ground yards and 128 passing, but only 12 first half points.

TORS: Lamesa falls to 5-3 on season with tough loss

(From 1B)

2-4A triumph.

"We weren't trying to go for the tie," Lamesa head coach Gary Yoder said after the Tors dropped to 1-2 in league play. "We've got to try and teach these kids how to win. It backfired, but we had to do it."

When their final drive stalled at the Levelland 24 and with just 39 seconds showing on the game clock, Yoder sent Cole Adams in to try the 40-yarder. But the Lobos called a timeout and talked block.

"We figured we had to leave two guys back in case of a fake and send the rest after the ball," Levelland coach Tom Ramsey said. "We didn't feel like we had any other choice.

"That's the second time we've blocked a field goal and returned it for a touchdown this year."

And it's the second time the Lobos have won a game. Levelland is just 2-6 on the year, but the Lobos are all of 2-1 and in second place in league play.

And they did it primarily on the ground.

Josh Malouf carted the ball a season-high 33 times for 195 yards and a pair of touchdowns as the Lobos plowed for 302 ground yards while passing just eight times for 44 yards. That's the same Lobos' unit that amassed 1,127 passing yards in its first seven games.

Meanwhile, the ground-oriented Tors – who came into the fray with just 166 passing yards all year – aired it out for 132 yards and a pair of long TDs.

"We knew they were giving us some things we could take advantage of by throwing the ball," Yoder said. "And except for four or five plays, we played a real good game."

After Malouf capped Levelland's first possession with an 18-yard TD run, Lamesa responded like a team out of run-and-shoot lore.

The Tors grabbed a swift 14-7 lead on Adams' 49-yard TD pass to Chris Webb and when Corey Kelly slipped down the sideline for 76 of his team-best 153 yards and another TD.

Then, with just moments gone in the second quarter, Kelly launched a halfback pass some 61 yards to Eric Ybanez and Lamesa was up 21-7. That lead stood up at halftime.

But the Lobos dashed off nine plays to open the second half, the ninth coming in the form of Kelly Ramsey's one-yard quarterback sneak for a TD.

When Lamesa fumbled away the ensuing kickoff, the Lobos drove another nine plays and used Malouf's one-yarder to knot the score at 21-21 with 28 seconds left in the third quarter.

Each team fumbled once and threw one interception as all the drives stalled in the fourth quarter. Then, with Lamesa on its 24-yard line and facing a fourth-and-three, the Lobos tried their ill-fated field goal.

Ramsey's two-point run capped the scoring.

"The snap from center was a little high and we were a little slow getting it back," Yoder said.

"Sure one play turned it around, but we had our chances. We've just got to get our heads up and keep playing."

The Tors are now 5-3 for the season.

Maltbie settles in with second-round Texas Open lead

Associated Press

SAN ANTONIO — Roger Maltbie retreated to the comfort of a television cliche after a second consecutive round of 64.

"Boys," he said Friday, "it don't get any better than this.

"The sun is shining, the wind isn't blowing, I'm shooting 64's and there's a man waiting for me at 18 with a cold beer."

Maltbie took a one-stroke lead in the Texas Open with a two-round total of 128 on the Oak Hills Country Club course.

No one has played better over two rounds this year on the PGA Tour. Maltbie matched the low 36-hole score of the season, set by Jay Haas in Memphis.

PGA champion Nick Price shot a 9-under-par 62, the best score of the tournament.

Elliott thought to be in best position for AC Delco win

ROCKINGHAM, N.C. (AP) — Six drivers with a chance at a Winston Cup championship and as many opinions, with one thing in common — they all believe Bill Elliott is in the best position to win going into Sunday's AC Delco 500 at North Carolina Motor Speedway.

Elliott, the 1988 series champion, leads the season standings with three races remaining, but is only 39 points ahead of Davey Allison and 114 in front of sixth-place Kyle Petty, with Alan Kulwicki, Mark Martin and Harry Gant bunched in between.

"What gives Bill the edge is that he's leading right now," Allison said. "But any of these teams could go out and win two of the next three races, or finish in the top five in all three, or not finish any of them. It's wide open."

Martin, who has come from 352 points back to only 91 in one month, says the fact that Elliott is the only one of the half-dozen contenders to have won a championship doesn't matter.

"The main thing is it's hard to see what circumstances are going to come up," said Martin, who finished second to Dale Earnahrdt in a great championship battle in 1990. "Things can turn around so quick that you can't plan on anything — good or bad.

Petty, the most consistent finisher and the biggest point-getter since midseason, agreed that Elliott remains the driver to beat despite having three bad finishes (ranging from 26th to 31st) in a row.

"That team he's with has been there before and knows what it takes to win, and Bill has been there and knows what it takes," said Petty, who won his fourth straight pole on the 1.017-mile Rockingham oval.

Thompson leads Sr. event after one round

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Rocky Thompson birdied the 18th hole for an opening round 6-under 65 that gave him a one-shot lead over three players in the $600,000 Senior Classic on Friday.

Tommy Aycock, Al Kelley and Rives McBee each shot 66 over the par-71, 6,307-yard Rancho Park course.

Lee Trevino, J.C. Snead, Mike Hill, Gary Player, Isao Aoki and Gay Brewer were at 4-under and two shots behind the leader.

Thompson had six birdies in a bogey-free round, the last an 8-foot birdie putt on the 393-yard 18th that gave him the lead alone.

"I didn't know I was putting for the lead at the last hole," Thompson said. "I wasn't looking at the leader board. I assumed someone else was doing better."

Thompson, 53, got both of his senior victories last season. This year, he ranks 16th in earnings with $336,914.

"I've had some shots at winning this year," Thompson said. "But ever since Trevino showed up, scores have gotten lower and guys have had to work harder."

A&M hopes for a step forward

SWC Roundup

By Michael A. Lutz
AP Sports Writer

The Texas Aggies must be wondering what it takes to grab the SWC race by the throat.

The Aggies have a 6-0 overall record, 2-0 in SWC play and a No. 5 national ranking and yet they could face a dogfight for the title against the Baylor Bears on Saturday.

The Bears started the season meekly with a 1-3 record that included losses to Louisiana Tech and Colorado. They also lost to Texas Tech before starting a three-game winning streak that gives them a 3-1 SWC record.

Three of the last six games have come down to three or less points.

"That to me is what makes the conference race fun," A&M coach R.C. Slocum said. "Each week you step to the line and one takes a step forward and the other a step back."

The Aggies (6-0, 2-0) are 14-point favorites over the Bears (4-3, 3-1). Texas (3-2, 1-0) is a 4½-point favorite over Houston; Rice (2-4, 1-2) rates a 5½-point advantage over Texas Christian (1-4-1, 0-2) and Texas Tech (2-4, 1-1) gets a 19-point nod over Southern Methodist (3-3, 1-2).

Baylor tied the A&M in College Station in 1990 for the only blot on the Aggies' Kyle Field record since a loss to Arkansas in 1989. A&M's home record of 41-3-1 over the past five years ranks No. 3 nationally.

"We've just sort of stayed the course and tried to get better and do what we can do," Baylor coach Grant Teaff said. "Right now, we're a pretty solid team.

"A&M's record there is intimidating, the way they've been so successful," Teaff said. "The thing we have to realize is it's an intimidating place to play but it's a good place to play.

"We usually go over there and play well."

Baylor has the nation's No. 5 ranked rushing attack, averaging 236.9 yards per game and A&M's "Wrecking Crew" defense is allowing 284.9 total yards per game, No. 17 nationally.

"They'll try to run the ball straight at us," Aggie linebacker Marcus Buckley said. "You won't see much blitzing in this one. It's going to be pretty much straight up and down hard-nosed football on both sides. That should be exciting to see."

Texas and Houston have had explosive games in recent series history, although the Cougars have won four of the last five.

Houston is noted for its run-and-shoot offense but Texas coach John Mackovic wanted to talk about the Cougar defense.

"They've improved tremendously on defense this year," Mackovic said. "Last year, their defense ranked 100-plus in the nation. This week they are 56th and we're 66th."

Houston has used its' running game effectively this season with its top three super backs averaging a composite 8.3 yards per carry. The Longhorns' passing game has improved under senior Peter Gardere, who leads the SWC with 250.2 yards per game in total offense.

"Here's a guy (Gardere) who's been through a lot and despite that he's been able to perform," Houston coach John Jenkins said. "As you acknowledge seniors and what you'd like them to be like, Peter is what you'd look for."

Jenkins will start Donald Douglas at quarterback, continuing his dual quarterback rotation with Jimmy Klingler.

Rice is trying to regain the spark that could lead them to a winning season for the first time since 1963 and they'd like to begin their surge against TCU, which has a five-game winning streak in the series.

"We're approaching this one like it was our Super Bowl," TCU coach Pat Sullivan said. "We're just a young football team but what we've got to do is win around here."

Rice's Trevor Cobb, already the SWC's all-purpose yardage record holder with 5,741 yards, needs 138 yards to move into the No. 2 rushing spot behind Texas A&M's Darren Lewis.

"This is a key game for us," Rice coach Fred Goldsmith said. "If we could win and get back to 3-4, it would help us get through the rest of the season."

Blockbuster officials get antsy

A Penn State win would give Nittany Lions early bid

College Roundup

Associated Press

It's not that the folks at the Blockbuster Bowl are getting nervous. It's just that they would like Penn State to win a sixth game and confirm the earliest bowl invitation in history.

The Nittany Lions accepted a Blockbuster bid before the season, with the only contingency being that they win six games. They got to five in a hurry, but have been stuck there for two weeks, losing home games to co-No. 1 Miami and No. 11 Boston College.

Next for Penn State, down to No. 14 in The Associated Press poll, is West Virginia on Saturday, and the Mountaineers aren't likely to be in a chummy mood after a controversial loss to Syracuse last week.

Most of the ranked teams get a breather Saturday, with only two games matching top 25 opponents. In those, No. 13 Washington State plays at No. 15 Southern California and No. 18 Clemson is at No. 23 North Carolina State.

Miami and Washington, sharing the top spot in the poll with 6-0 records and 1,517 points, both go against sub-.500 teams, the Hurricanes at Virginia Tech (2-3-1) and the Huskies at home against Pacific (2-5).

In other games involving Top 25 teams, it's Minnesota at No. 3 Michigan, Mississippi at No. 4 Alabama, Baylor at No. 5 Texas A&M, No. 7 Georgia at Kentucky, No. 8 Nebraska at Missouri, Kansas State at No. 9 Colorado, Brigham Young at No. 10 Notre Dame, No. 11 Boston College at Tulane, No. 12 Syracuse at Temple, No. 16 Stanford at Oregon State, No. 19 Georgia Tech at North Carolina, Louisville at No. 20 Florida, No. 21 Arizona at California, Oklahoma at No. 22 Kansas, William & Mary at No. 24 Virginia, and Arkansas State at No. 25 Mississippi State.

Penn State's consecutive losses at Happy Valley left coach Joe Paterno unhappy, especially after his defense was strafed for three touchdowns in four minutes by Boston College last Saturday.

"I'm still a little perplexed, that something like that could happen to us," Paterno said. "That does not mean that I'm disappointed. I'm very anxious to see us play this week. I'm anxious to see if we can come up with some of the reasons why we didn't play well and go from there."

Also anxious to play is West Virginia, still steamed over its loss to Syracuse last week when three players were ejected in a brawl and a controversial interference call cost the Mountaineers the deciding touchdown in the final minute.

Coach Don Nehlen insists his players have put all that behind them. "We buried that Syracuse game," Nehlen said. "That's the most important thing. It would be a tremendous mistake for us if we let that game linger. If we did, it would be lights out against Penn State."

The last time Penn State lost two straight was the start of the 1990 season and the Lions haven't lost three in a row since 1988, when the third setback came against Saturday's opponent, West Virginia.

With Penn State joining the Big Ten next season, this will be its final game against West Virginia in a series that began in 1904.

The two No. 1 teams — Miami and Washington — are sitting on impressive winning streaks. The Hurricanes have won 24 in a row and the Huskies 20 straight. And even though the schedule suggests a breather for both, they're still concerned about Saturday's games.

"They're a team that's very capable of beating Miami," Hurricanes coach Dennis Erickson said of Virginia Tech. "They've got talent, and they play very well at home. They're going to be at a real emotional high. They're going to be charged up for us."

And they're also going to be 19-point underdogs.

Washington must contain two of the country's top offensive players — Ryan Benjamin, the nation's leading all-purpose runner, and Aaron Turner, the NCAA's career leader in TD catches.

"We can't take this week off and relax," inside linebacker Dave Hoffmann said. "It's not a bye week."

Speaking of streaks, No. 21 Arizona has a proud one. The Wildcats' "Desert Swarm" defense hasn't given up a touchdown in nine quarters and the last one it allowed was the only one Miami scored in an 8-7 victory.

"I think we feel good about what we've done," coach Bill Tomey said. "Our offense hasn't turned the ball over and our punting game has been outstanding. Those things have contributed to our defense's success."

Guarantee offered

WICHITA, Kan. — (AP) — Wichita State will offer a money-back guarantee to basketball season-ticket holders.

"We're getting a number of people who have expressed tremendous disappointment in the quality of play the last three years," athletic director Gary Hunter said. "They've indicated they don't want to sit through another season like last year."

That's why Hunter will offer the money-back guarantee in letters next week to alumni in Sedgwick, Butler and Harvey counties.

League moves back kickoff time of Nov. 15 Dallas-L.A. Ram game

DALLAS (AP) — The starting time for the Dallas Cowboys game against the Los Angeles Rams has been moved back to allow for a greater national television audience.

The Nov. 15 game, which had been scheduled for noon, will begin at 3 p.m. CDT.

"When we were approached by the league about making the change, we were very agreeable," said Cowboys owner and general manager Jerry Jones. "The later start provides greater convenience for the fans.

"Being moved into the late afternoon game is a barometer of the success of our team. It's a sign of the times, and something we're certainly pleased with."

The game falls on week No. 11, a CBS-TV national doubleheader weekend.

N.M. State hoop recruit expected to be arrested

Associated Press

EL PASO, Texas — A highly-recruited New Mexico State basketball player is charged with aggravated assault in a police warrant that accuses him of pointing a gun at a security guard during a post-football game party.

The warrant issued Oct. 6 accuses Loren "Teeter" Marshall of threatening Sun City security guard Michael Stevens with a small-caliber weapon at the fraternity party attended by New Mexico State and Texas-El Paso basketball players.

Coach Neil McCarthy declined comment and Marshall's attorney was not in his office Friday. Athletic officials were out of town for New Mexico State's football game against Reno.

Marshall, 22, was wounded early Oct. 4, when a fight broke out at a fraternity party.

"I wasn't in a fight. They started the fight," Marshall said in an interview from his hospital room. "I never pointed a gun at the security guard. Why would I point a gun at the security guard if he hasn't done anything to me?

"He wasn't trying to jump me, it was 10 other guys."

He is in stable condition at Memorial Medical Center in Las Cruces, N.M., and is likely to be arrested when he is released.

Stevens has told police he asked a man with a gun to leave the party, according to the affidavit filed with the warrant.

Jays relaxed in face of defeat

Associated Press

ATLANTA — Dave Winfield joked with photographers, warning them of hip-splitting line drives headed their way if they got too close to the batting cage.

Devon White tried some goggles in the batting cage, then grabbed a handful of Pat Borders' shoulder and gave it a playful and painful pinch.

■ World Series, Game 6, Toronto Blue Jays at Atlanta Braves, 7 p .m., CBS (KOSA-Cable Ch. 8).

Winfield borrowed the goggles for a pretend swim. Joe Carter, meanwhile, looked relaxed in an off-day T-shirt.

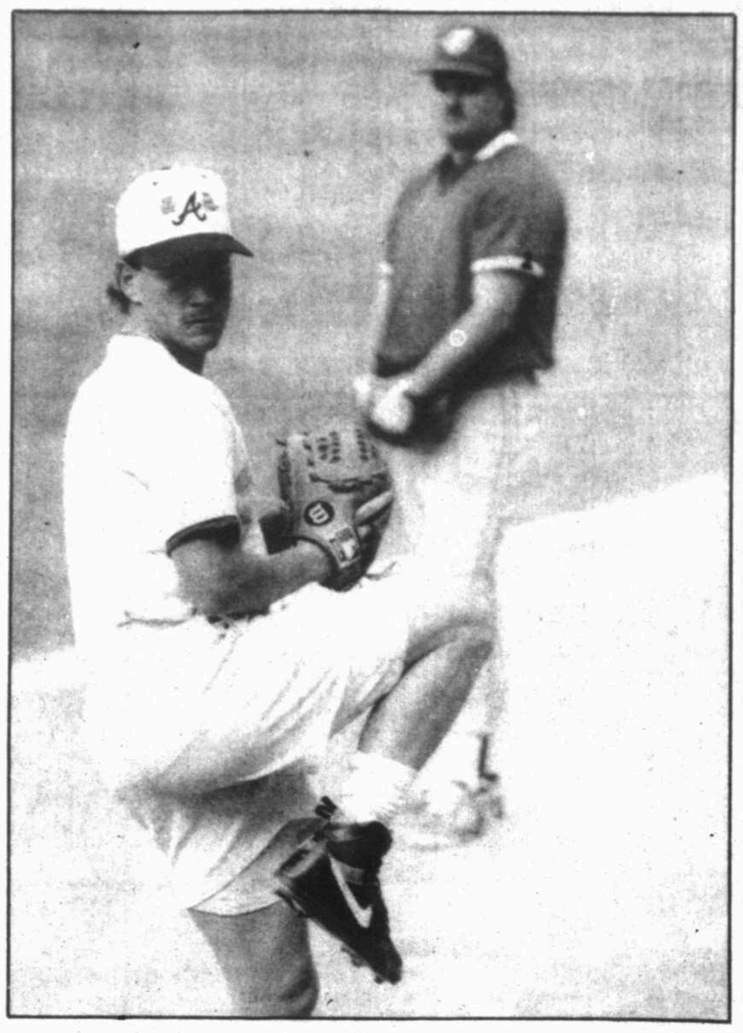

The Toronto Blue Jays worried? They didn't appear so Friday, one day after the Atlanta Braves had trimmed their World Series lead to 3-2 and forced a sixth game.

"Obviously we're still in the driver's seat. Hopefully we can finish it off tomorrow night," Blue Jays manager Cito Gaston said before his team's off-day workout Friday. It was a day the Jays might have been riding in a victory parade.

"You have to win before you get a parade," Gaston said. "We'd love to be riding in one right now, but the job is not done."

The Blue Jays don't want a Game 7, where they would face the possibility of becoming only the seventh team in history to lead 3-1 and lose the Series.

"We're mad that we have to come back here," third baseman Kelly Gruber said. "We were hoping to wrap it up in Toronto in front of our fans, but that didn't work out. ... We're not looking at this as we have have to win one of two. We're trying to win tomorrow."

Atlanta's Tom Glavine throws some practice pitches Wednesday under the watchful eye of Toronto pitcher David Wells. Should the Braves win tonight, Glavine would likely get the start for Atlanta in Game 7 of the World Series.

Reminder to the Toronto Blue Jays: the last five teams holding 3-2 World Series leads lost when they went on the road for the final two games.

"We don't want to go 3-3," said David Cone, who will start Saturday night. Cone walked five in Game 2 and lasted only 4 1-3 innings.

"Atlanta is thinking we can get Game 6, we've had success against Cone in Game 2," Cone said. "I'm sure Atlanta is feeling good about itself right now, thinking if it can get back even, then anything can happen in Game 7. The advantages are out of the window."

Toronto led the 1985 American League championship series 3-1, then lost to Kansas City. But that was a Blue Jays team without the likes of Winfield, Carter, White and Roberto Alomar.

"This club has a lot of veteran players and we know exactly what our jobs are and what our tasks are," Carter said. "It's been that way all season. We've only had about one or two meetings all year where guys have come forward and said things. This team is very focused. We know what we have to do."

What Cone has to do is keep Otis Nixon and Deion Sanders off base and not get behind early in the count. What Toronto's hitters have to do is find a way to get to left-hander Steve Avery, and if a seventh game is necessary, Tom Glavine.

White and Alomar, the 1-2 hitters, have struggled. Alomar is hitting .111 and White .190. Of the starters, only Borders (.438) and John Olerud (.308) are hitting above .235.

Now the Blue Jays must bench either Candy Maldonado or Olerud because there is no designated hitter.

"The Braves have not seen the Toronto Blue Jays when they are swinging the bats well," Gaston said. "We're certainly not hitting the way we are capable of."

Atlanta tensions may be harmful to Toronto

Associated Press

ATLANTA — There's some grumbling going on among the Atlanta Braves. That could mean trouble for the Toronto Blue Jays.

Toronto leads the World Series 3 games to 2, but after Atlanta first baseman Sid Bream said the club may have been "lacking intensity" after a 2-1 loss in Game 4 Wednesday night, the Braves bounced back.

David Justice also said the team lacked enthusiasm during that game, and Ron Gant, who had been benched, missed batting practice Thursday.

The outbursts worked.

Lonnie Smith led a 13-hit attack with a grand slam Thursday night and the Braves won 7-2, bringing the best-of-7 series back to Atlanta for Game 6 Saturday night.

Steve Avery pitches for the Braves against David Cone.

"Our bench was dead," Justice told an Atlanta radio station. "It looked like guys just showed up for a game, a spring training game.

"I'm just going off the one game (Game 4), and that one game was last night. ... It doesn't feel like the team is together."

Manager Bobby Cox reacted angrily.

"It's a crock," he said. "That's a bunch of bull. We never were more fired up. In my estimation, these guys do these things, and they don't know what they are saying."

"I don't think it's a major issue," Atlanta general manager John Schuerholz said during Friday's off-day.

"When guys have played together for so long, there will be a day or two when everybody is not on the same wave length — dissension if you will — those things happen."

Gant, hitting .167 (1 for 6) in the Series after batting .182 in the National League playoffs against Pittsburgh, has played in only two of the five games against Toronto. His replacement, Deion Sanders, is hitting .500 (6 for 12).

"He told me he wasn't taking batting practice, and if it was for that reason (upset at not playing) then I would tell you it was," hitting coach Clarence Jones said. "His knee has been bothering him."

"He's sick, he has the flu or something," Cox said.

Tom Glavine, who won Game 1 and was the loser in Game 4, said Friday, "If there's a problem, I don't see it."

Ex-Mets boss Johnson interviews with Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP) — Former New York Mets manager Davey Johnson on Friday became the fifth candidate interviewed for the Cincinnati Reds managing job.

Johnson was interviewed by general manager Jim Bowden and other Reds officials holding an organizational meeting at their spring training complex in Plant City, Fla.

The Reds have interviewed three candidates in the past two days and five overall since Bowden was named general manager a week ago. They are Johnson, former Texas manager Bobby Valentine, minor-league manager Dave Miley, minor-league instructor Ron Oester and batting coach Tony Perez.

Two other candidates are expected to get interviews — former Pittsburgh minor-league manager Marc Bombard and former Reds player Ken Griffey Sr.

Bowden originally said he had a list of six candidates for interviews, but that evidently has expanded. Bowden wasn't available for comment at the Reds' headquarters Friday.

Johnson has lobbied the Reds for an interview since Lou Piniella decided not to return as manager. Johnson hasn't managed since the Mets fired him May 29, 1990 at Riverfront Stadium. He compiled a 595-417 record managing the Mets from 1984-90, including a World Series championship in 1986.

Johnson and Valentine, who was fired last season by the Texas Rangers, are the only two candidates among the seven with major-league managing experience.

Reds chief executive Marge Schott has said she'd prefer promoting someone from within the organization to replace Piniella, who became upset with Schott and left when his contract expired after the season.

There are three current in-house candidates: Perez, Oester and Miley. But none has much experience.

Perez has never managed a game, spending the last six years as first-base coach and hitting instructor.

Turkey sends troops to face Kurdish rebels

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Some 5,000 Turkish troops reportedly drove deep into the mountains of northern Iraq on Friday, tightening the vise around Turkish Kurd rebels who are also under fire from their ethnic brethren to the south.

The soldiers advanced as far as five miles inside Iraq on the second day of their drive, according to sources in the area, who spoke on condition of anonymity.

Turkish jet fighters have bombed the camps for the past two weeks. But it was the first time such a large concentration of ground troops had penetrated into Iraq.

The Turkish troops are targeting rebel camps in Haftanin and Hakurk, about six miles from the Turkish border.

Rebels of the outlawed Kurdistan Workers Party, or PKK, have fought a guerrilla war for self-rule in southeastern Turkey since 1984, and are now operating mainly from bases in northern Iraq.

They have escalated attacks over the past year, taking advantage of Baghdad's loss of control over northern Iraq after Saddam Hussein's Gulf War defeat. Iran and Syria have limited the rebels' activity on their soil.

Of the more than 5,000 people killed in PKK-related violence in eight years, nearly half have died this year — 800 in October alone.

The Iraqi Kurds launched a military offensive against the Turkish Kurdss earlier this month with Turkish air and artillery support. They acted under pressure from Ankara.

Israel's Peres invites pope to visit nation

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Foreign Minister Shimon Peres of Israel said Friday that Pope John Paul II had accepted an invitation to come to Israel.

During a 40-minute meeting in the pope's private library, Peres said the two agreed on the exchange of "personal representatives at a later date." That apparently would be a step short of formal diplomatic ties.

The Vatican has formal ties with more than 120 countries but has never established full relations with Israel.

The Vatican has cited as obstacles the lack of an international statute to protect holy places in Jerusalem and questions about the Palestinians and Israel's unsettled borders.

Peres, at a news conference at the Italian Foreign Ministry, said John Paul was "very much moved" by his invitation to come to Israel. No date was yet.

"We are on a voyage that clearly leads us into the domain of full relations," Peres said, adding "Israel is ready."

The Vatican appeared more restrained.

Spokesman Monsignor Piero Pennacchini declined to elaborate on the official Vatican statement, which spoke of the pope's "fervent desire, many times expressed, to one day be able to be a pilgrim in that region, and, above all, in the Holy Land and in Jerusalem, holy city for all the Jewish, Christian and Muslim believers and crossroads of peace for all the peoples of the Middle East."

Man learns he doesn't have AIDS — 6 years later

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — For six years, John Kuivenhoven lived in the nether world of AIDS. He stopped working, suffered the painful side effects of experimental drugs and waited to die.

Now his doctors say he never had the disease.

"It was as if I had been in prison for six years and the warden came up to me and said, 'Well, buddy, we made a mistake — go and live your life,' " Kuivenhoven said. "I was more angry than happy."

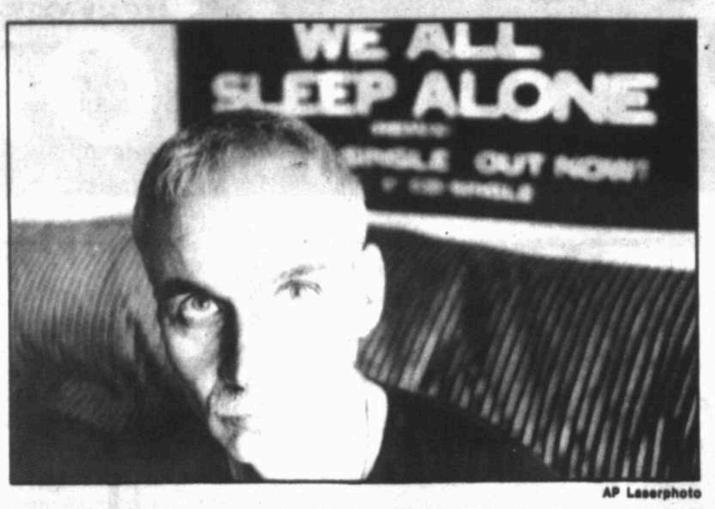

His health shattered by AIDS treatment, his livelihood lost, Kuivenhoven this week filed a $2 million claim against Kaiser Permanente health maintenance organization. He claims he underwent sustained treatment for full-blown AIDS without receiving an HIV test.

"For six years he thought that the most he had was six months to live. So everyday he'd wake up and think 'Is this the last day of my life?'" Kuivenhoven's attorney, Paul Wotman, said on Friday.

Kuivenhoven, 53, filed a claim on Wednesday to take Kaiser to binding arbitration, his only recourse under his contract with the organization.

The claim seeks recovery of lost wages, past and future medical costs, plus damages for pain and suffering, Wotman said.

Spokeswoman Kirsten Cherry confirmed Kaiser had received the claim, but said she could not comment until an investigation was completed.

John Kuivenhoven was mis-diagnosed by his doctors and told he had AIDS six years ago. Kuivenhoven, shown in his San Francisco apartment earlier this week, talks about his ordeals with taking painful drugs, clinging to hospital care and wanting to die before he found out this summer that it was all a mistake.

Kuivenhoven says he checked into a San Jose hospital affiliated with Kaiser in 1986 with respiratory problems and doctors told him he had pneumocystis pneumonia, considered a sure sign of AIDS at the time.

He underwent tests but was not given one to determine the presence of HIV, the virus associated with AIDS, Wotman said. As a homosexual male, Kuivenhoven was in a high-risk group for the disease.

Under doctors' orders, Kuivenhoven quit his job as a skin-care technician and lives on government welfare and disability benefits of $600 a month, Wotman said.

In 1986, he began taking the drug AZT in high doses, which gave him a chronic headache, high blood pressure and peripheral neuropathy — permanent pins and needles pains from his calves to his feet. He is battling an addiction to Darvon and other prescription drugs, Wotman said.

Meanwhile, Kuivenhoven's longtime partner was diagnosed as HIV-positive and died two months ago.

Kuivenhoven first learned something was amiss in a June 12 letter from Kaiser asking him to come in for tests because his T-cell count was unusually high for an AIDS patient. Wotman said a doctor phoned Kuivenhoven to tell him he had tested negative for HIV.

Kaiser is involved in arbitration with two other patients who claimed they had been improperly diagnosed as having AIDS, Cherry said.

Last year, a man who was told he had an AIDS-related condition because his test results were switched with another patient's was awarded $228,000 by a San Francisco Superior Court jury. That case did not involve Kaiser.

Tests for HIV were widely used in the United States by mid-1986, said George Lemp of the AIDS office of the San Francisco Health Department.

"Unfortunately, there's a tendency on the part of the medical establishment to assume that if a gay man is sick he must have AIDS," said Ben Schatz, executive director of the American Association of Physicians for Human Rights.

Bush order encourages open contract bidding

MIAMI (AP) — President Bush late Friday signed an executive order covering federal construction projects that forbids the government and its contractors from requiring project workers to join unions.

The order, distributed by the White House press office as Bush campaigned in Florida, appeared to be a snub to organized labor just 11 days before the election.

Bush aides were not immediately available to discuss the order.

The order issued by Bush said its goal was to encourage open bidding and reduce costs on federally funded construction projects and uphold the rights of workers not to join unions against their will "thereby promoting the economical and efficient administration and completion of federal and federally funded construction projects.

The order says that "to the extent permitted by law," government agencies preparing to issue contruction contracts or funds shall make sure that neither the government nor its contractors:

—Require bidders, contractors or subcontractors to enter into or adhere to agreements with labor organizations.

—Discriminate against bidders, contractors and subcontractors that refuse to sign or othwerwise agree to labor agreements.

—Require bidders or contractors to force their employees to join a union as a condition of employment or pay dues to a union in excess of costs related to collective bargaining and other administrative costs.

A federal law known as the Davis-Bacon Act prohibits the government from offering below prevailing wages on federal construction contracts.

Regulators rebut study predicting bank failures

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two senior bank regulators held a rare news conference Friday to rebut a privately published study that contends the banking system is poised on the brink of a new and stunning wave of failures.

John LaWare, a member of the Federal Reserve Board, and Andrew C. Hove Jr., acting Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. chairman, criticized the study's authors for shaking the public's confidence in the banking system.

LaWare ticked off a list of positive news in banking, including $15.7 billion in record profits during the first half of this year, rising capital levels and the stabilization of most commercial real estate markets.

"I don't think these facts in any way suggest an industry on the brink of disaster," he said at a news conference packed with reporters and television cameras.

Roger J. Vaughan, a Santa Fe, N.M., consultant, and Edward W. Hill, a Cleveland State University professor, warn in a study published earlier this month that 1,150 of the nation's 12,000 banks are solvent on paper only and should be shuttered or merged with stronger institutions.

Ridding the system of weak banks could cost as much as $95 billion, making a taxpayer bailout of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. virtually certain, they said in "Banking on the Brink: The Troubled Future of American Finance."

The authors' central contention is that lax bank accounting methods are hiding billions of dollars of unrecognized losses.

But Hove said their study "lacks credibility." The two used "sloppy computational methods" and demonstrated "an unfamiliarity with basic banking concepts," he said.

"The end of the world syndrome sells a lot of books," he said. The study, published by The Washington Post Company, is being sold for $225 per copy.

After the news conference, Hill issued a statement saying the regulators critique was "sophomoric and riddled with embarrassing errors."

"This is a simple but sloppy hatchet job that tries to deflect attention from the real story — the FDIC's unwillingness to be straight with the American people about the true conditions of the American banking industry," he said.

The regulators' news conference was held just four days after the banking system's problems were raised by the presidential candidates in their final debate. President Bush and Democrat Bill Clinton said the banking system was fundamentally sound.

Hove denied there would be any "December surprise" wave of bank failures after the election when new financial standards take effect. Only about 45 banks will be affected, he said.

Hove is projecting 100 bank failures this year and 100 to 125 next year.

"Clearly we have not delayed closing banks for any reason in 1992," he said.

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

WELCOME, STRANGER!

THE WORD "HOSPITALITY" STEMS FROM THE GREEK, MEANING LOVE OF STRANGERS! TO BIBLICAL PEOPLES THE OBLIGATION TO ENTERTAIN WAS A SACRED TRUST (LEV. 19:34) AND WAYFARERS WERE OFFERED FAR MORE THAN MERE BED AND BOARD....

...EVERY KINDNESS WAS LAVISHED UPON THEM—THE BEST FOODS AND WINES, FELLOWSHIP, GIFTS, PROTECTION—THE LATTER SOMETIMES CARRIED TO EXTREMES—WITNESS LOT! TO SAVE HIS GUESTS FROM HARM, HE OFFERED HIS UNMARRIED DAUGHTERS TO THE SODOMITE RABBLE CLAMORING AT HIS DOOR! (GENESIS 19:6-9)

PAUL'S LETTER TO THE HEBREWS (13:2) ACCURATELY DESCRIBES THE OLD AND NEW TESTAMENT BELIEFS REGARDING HOSPITALITY:

"BE NOT FORGETFUL TO ENTERTAIN STRANGERS FOR THEREBY SOME HAVE ENTERTAINED ANGELS UNAWARES."

RELIGION IN BRIEF

■ Guest sermon planned

Current efforts to help the destitute poor of the Third World will be among the subjects featured in a guest sermon planned for St. Nicholas Episcopal Church, 2900 Princeton Ave., Nov. 1.

Guest speaker will be the Rev. Richard L. Southworth of Food for the Poor, an international, interdenominational ministry currently serving in the Caribbean. Food for the Poor ships food, building and medical supplies, school furniture, equipment for self-help projects and other direct assistance to more than 20 countries, including Haiti and Guyana.

Southworth will speak at the 8 and 10:30 a.m. services Nov. 1.

For more information about Food for the Poor, write the organization at 550 S.W. 12th Ave., Building 4, Department 2754, Deerfield Beach, Fla. 33442.

■ Church to host festival

As an alternative to traditional Halloween celebrations, Crestview Baptist Church is hosting a Fall Festival from 5 to 8 p.m. Oct. 31 in the Student Center on the southside of Dellwood Mall.

"We felt there was a need in our community to have a safe, family-oriented, fun alternative to Halloween activities so began this festival last year," said Annette Montgomery, Fall Festival coordinator.

More than 1,000 attended the first year of the festival.

There will be 20 booths including rollerball, a lollipop tree, ring toss, fishing hole, prize walk, treasure dig, football toss, shuffle board, hoola hoop toss, candle shoot-out, sponge throw and floating ducks.

The event also features a country store bake sale and special entertainment. Food will be available. Tickets for the booths will be 10 for $1 or two cans of food. Food will be donated to the Baptist CRISIS Center.

Costumes are welcome as long as they are not scary. For more information call 694-7701 or 694-7722.

■ Music director comes

David McReynolds is the new director of music at Ranchland Heights Baptist Church.

He and his wife, Melinda, also will coordinate youth activities. The McReynolds have two daughters, Kambri and Kylee.

In addition, Ranchland Heights Baptist Church will observe Sunday as High Attendance Sunday. Sunday School is at 9:45 a.m. Services are at 11 a.m. and lunch will be served Sunday following the service. Food will be provided by the church.

For more information call 697-4471 or 684-6544.

■ Friend Day planned

Bellview Baptist Church, 1710 N. Big Spring St., has planned "Friend Day" for Sunday.

Friend day begins with Sunday School at 9:30 a.m. and continues during the 10:50 a.m. worship service. the service will feature the recognition of some special friends of the church staff including Sheriff Gary Painter and J. Gordon Lunn of KMID-TV, Channel 2.

The music for the worship service will be provided by the Adult Choir. A feature duet by Bill Smith and J. Gordon Lunn is planned.

The church's pastor, the Rev. G.A. Magee, invites the public to attend.

■ Open house planned

An open house is planned by local members of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints at 7 p.m. Sunday at 4805 Gateway.

One of the highlights of the event will be the world premiere of "On the Way Home," a new half-hour film that focuses on one family's decision to join the Latter-day Saint Church. The film will be telecast via satellite to hundreds of similar gatherings across the United States and Canada.

RELIGION IN BRIEF

The open house also will include tours of the chapel building, short video presentations explaining LDS teachings about Christ, the purpose of life, families and "The Book of Mormon: Another Witness of Jesus Christ."

Guest to speak Sunday

The Rev. Sam Broughton will be the guest speaker for the morning and evening services at Wilshire Park Baptist Church Oct. 25.

Broughton is the minister of youth and family life at First Baptist Church, Friendswood. A "high attendance" emphasis has been planned by the church for Sunday.

Bible study begins at 9:45 a.m. with worship services at 10:55 a.m. and 6:30 p.m.

New building completed

The Midland Seventh-Day Adventist Church has announced the completion of the seventh-Day Adventist Church Community services Building, 3114 Travis St.

A special dedication service has been scheduled for 11:30 a.m. Oct. 31.

The SDA Community Service Building will serve as a facility in which to conduct Bible seminars, nutrition classes, Five-Day Stop Smoking Clinics, health education courses and other topics of interest to the Midland community.

The facility also will be made available for use by the American Red Cross and Midlanders in the event of an emergency or natural disaster and will serve as a temporary shelter or feeding facility for the community.

Eddie Card, building project coordinator and pastor of the church, will give the opening remarks at the dedication service. Dr. Robert Mattos, medical director for the Texico Conference of Seventh-Day Adventists and practicing physician here, will detail specific uses of the facility. Sarah Boering, emergency services coordinator for the Midland Chapter of the American Red Cross, will discuss plans for up-coming seminars to be held in the facility to train citizens to assist in disaster and emergency relief efforts.

The public is invited to attend the dedication service and tour the building.

Church to celebrate

Midland's First Assembly of God will celebrate its 61st anniversary at 10:30 a.m. Sunday.

A real brush arbor, old fashioned dress and dinner-on-the-grounds will be part of the annual event. A special "mystery" guest who has played a major role in the church's development will be the featured speaker. Music will be provided by Don and faith Dunlap from Grand Prairie.

At 1:30 p.m. a historic overview of the church's 61 years will be presented.

The church's pastor, the Rev. Sammy Hayes, invites the public to attend.

KMID-TV to air lecture

The Christian Science churches in Midland and Odessa invite the public to watch "A Democracy of Prayer," a new Christian Science television lecture set to air at 1:30 p.m. Sunday on KMID-TV, Channel 2.

The lecture in the 30-minute program will be presented by Mario Tosto, a member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship, Boston, Mass. Tosto will examine U.S. democracy and the importance of a belief in God in the governing of the United States. He points out that separation of church and state does not mean separation from God.

The Midland Christian Science Church, 1001 W. Tennessee Ave., has services at 10:30 a.m. Sundays and 7:30 p.m. Wednesdays.

Variety night planned

Christian Church of Midland will hold its annual Variety Night at 6 p.m. Sunday.

All ages are encouraged to participate. A dessert fellowship will follow. A nursery is provided. For more information call 684-7982.

Old school to form

LAMESA — The congregation of believers which has been meeting regularly each first and third Sunday for the past seven years at 700 S. Bryan St. here will assemble Oct. 31 to be constituted as the Old School Predestinarian Primitive Baptist Church.

This will be the only Old School Baptist Church in West Texas. Elder James F. Poole, pastor of the Welsh Tract Old School baptist Church of Newark, Del., will officiate in the constitution service. The congregation considers Welsh Tract Old School baptist Church as its mother church.

Unlike other Baptist orders and modern Primitive Baptists, Old School Predestinarian Primitive Baptists adhere to the London Confession of Faith of 1644.

Video class starts

Holy Cross Lutheran Church, 5023 W. Princeton Ave. No. 2, has started a 10-week video and Bible class called "Renewing the Family Spirit at 7:30 p.m. Sundays.

This course is based on the book by the same name written by Christian counselor Dr. David Ludwig. The course is designed to lead people into more Christian-centered relationships.

For more information call 694-9594 or 1-366-9311.

Bible study to meet

Community Bible Study, a multi-denominational Bible study, meets at Midland Bible Church, 2800 N. A St., from 7 to 9 p.m. Tuesdays.

The Bible study is for men and women, singles and married couples. This year, the Bible study is covering Galatians and Hebrews. For more information call Bob Houser, 563-0465, between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m.

Daniel seminar planned

Spencer and Cyndy Nordyke will present their "Do the Daniel Thing" seminar at Cornerstone Christian Fellowship Oct. 31.

In this seminar, which the Nordykes present across the country, teen-agers and parents come together to learn about Daniel 1:8. It is a specialized program with backdrops, original music, lights and sound.

Registration begins at 9:30 a.m. Oct. 31. The morning session runs from 10 a.m. to noon and the afternoon session will be from 1 to 3 p.m. Cost is $5 in advance and $8 at the door. The cost covers the workbook and tape that go with the session. Parents are free.

An evening rally is planned for 6 p.m. Oct. 31. A free pizza party will follow the rally.

For more information call 697-9918.

Church to relocate

Holy Cross Lutheran Church is changing the time and location of its Sunday worship effective Nov. 1.

Beginning that Sunday, worship services will be held at 6:30 p.m. at Hope Lutheran Church, 2003 A. St. Sunday School and adult Bible classes follow the 6:30 p.m. service. A nursery will be provided.

Holy Cross is a member of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod.

Bible assembly planned

The Spanish Circuit Assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses will meet Nov. 7 and 8 at Midland Center, Wall Avenue at Main Street.

The Assembly is entitled "Accept, Apply and Benefit from Bible Counsel." One of the speakers will be one of Watchtower's traveling district overseers.

The entire program will be in Spanish.

Annual tea planned

Delores Chapter No. 127, Order of the Eastern Star, will have its annual tea and musical at 4 p.m. Sunday at Hollowell United Methodist Church, 400 S. Marshall St.

Special selections will be performed by various religious groups and choirs. The annual tea and musical will be held from 4 to 6 p.m. Hollowell UMC's pastor, the Rev. Hadley Edwards, invites the public to attend.

Political forum planned

The Unitarian-Universalist Church of Midland will present a forum entitled "National Politics and You" at 9:45 a.m. Sunday.

The discussion will center on the presidential race and the three new Congressional District seat races for the U.S. House of Representatives for Midland.

Doege

The public is invited to attend. Sunday School for children meets at the same time as the forum, from 9:45 to 11 a.m.

In addition, the church is hosting a guest minister this Sunday.

The Rev. Lisa Doege was raised in Unity Church Unitarian, St. Paul, Minn. She attended college at Hamline University, St Paul, where she secured a double major in religion and English with a concentration in American literature.

She received her masters of divinity degree from Harvard Divinity School in June and is intern minister at the First Unitarian Church, Dallas.

Church to host festival

Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church, 3000 W. Golf Course Road, will celebrate the 475th anniversary of the Reformation with a festival service at 10:30 a.m. Sunday.

The service will begin with a recital by the Lone Star Brass Quintet. The message, delivered by the Rev. Ray Johansen, is entitled "Freedom from Slavery" and is based on John 8:31-36. Special worship music will be provided by the Adult Choir, directed by Cathy Johnston; the Junior Choir, directed by Pat Lufholm and Kathy Martin; and Joyful Noise, directed by Linda Miller and Barbara Osterwisch.

Mary Ann Johnston will play the pipe organ.

Grace Lutheran is a member of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod.

Church to hold lecture

The Greenwood Church of Christ will be holding a lecture entitled "Answers for Today's Family Problems" this month on Tuesdays beginning at 7 p.m.

The speaker will be Eli Borden who will talk on "Family Strength Through Communication."

Babysitting will be provided.

Annual night planned

Odessa Christian Faith Center, 8860 N. Andrews Highway, is holding its annual Hallelujah Night Celebration at 7 p.m. Wednesday.

The event is designed for all ages and will include a showing of the new video from Willie George Ministries entitled "Bill Gunter, U.S. Marshall," games, prizes and an Old West costume contest.

The church's pastors are Don and Paulette Caywood.

Women to host bazaar

The St. Nicholas Episcopal Church Women will host its eighth annual Heavenly Holidays Christmas Bazaar from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Nov. 7 in the parish hall of the church, 2900 Princeton Ave.

The bazaar will include arts and crafts, a bake sale, frozen casseroles, the church women's cookbook called "Breaking Bread" and a silent auction.

Hand-crafted items for sale will be jewelry, decorated clothing, needlework, angels, bunnies, dolls, wreaths, wood crafts, Christmas ornaments, gift baskets, Southwestern clay sculpture, gift wrap and tole painting.

Admission is $1 at the door with children under 12 being admitted free. All proceeds from this annual fund-raiser go to the outreach projects of the Episcopal Church Women which have included Dress-A-Live-Doll, the Soup Kitchen, St. Jude's Children's Home, Free Will Foster Home, Casa de Amigos and the Children's Clinic.

For more information call 686-8497.

Youth to host 'Karnival'

The Youth of Westside Church of Christ will host its first annual Kids' Karnival Oct. 31 at the Midland Christian School gym, 2001 Carver St.

Hours will be 6 to 9 p.m. The Kids' Karnival is for all children through fifth grade.

No admission will be charged. There will be no charge for game tickets.

For more information call Charley Taylor, 694-3614.

Author to speak today

Area residents will have a chance to meet nationally-known author Joyce Landorf Heatherley at a reception after her 1:30 p.m. talk today at St. Mark's United Methodist Church, 1701 N. Main St.

Finger sandwiches, fudge brownies, praline cookies, lemon bars, homemade candies, tea, coffee and punch will be served.

Tickets, priced at $10, include the reception.

Ms. Heatherley has written 22 books, a film series and four albums of inspirational music.

For more information or reservations call St. Mark's United Methodist Church, 915 683-3339.

Convention plans theme

"The Stewardship of Creation," the theme for this year's convention of the Episcopal Diocese of Northwest Texas, will emphasize and introduce the diocesan program on the environment when the delegation convenes Friday through Nov. 1.

The Rev. James C. Fenhagen, recently retired president and dean of General Theological Seminary in New York and current program coordinator of the Cornerstone Project for Excellence in Ministry, will speak on the connection between evangelization and Christ and His Creation.

Other speakers, workshop leaders, and guests include the Rev. C. Scott May of St. James Episcopal Church in Marietta, Ga.; Barbara Braver, the presidig bishop's press officer and liaison between the Doicese of Northwest Texas and the Episcopal Church Center in New York; Kathy Wurster Holy Trinity in Midland; and Dawson Orr from St. Matthew's in Pampa.

The Episcopal Church of the Holy Trinity in Midland is hosting the event. Services and meetings will be held in Trinity Presbyterian Church and at the Hilton Hotel.

■ BRK Electronics recalls smoke detectors

WASHINGTON — Some smoke detectors that were wired into new homes, apartments and mobile homes from 1988 through 1990 are being recalled, because they may not sound in case of fire.

BRK Electronics Inc., of Aurora, Ill., is voluntarily recalling 10 models. The brand names and model numbers, which can be found on a label on the back of the smoke detector are:

—BRK-1839I, 2839I, 1839WI-12, 2839WI, 1839WI-M; 2839TH, 1839I12R.

—Family Gard-FG1839I, FG1839IHD.

—First Alert-SA1839WI.

The manufacturer says the 1839 or 2839 series detectors which have a yellow or orange label and an "N" after the model number are not affected by this recall.

Battery operated detectors also are not affected.

If you have a listed detector call: BRK Electronics Recall, 1-800-228-2250.

■ Steamy Madonna snaps are $1 a peek

ORINDA, Calif. — Madonna's "Sex" book may be totally torrid, but at $49.95 a copy, many are destined to miss out. Now to the rescue comes a bookseller offering quick peeks for $1.

A dollar at Orinda Books this week buys a few moments alone with the 128-page book, which features startling poses by Madonna and friends. The proceeds will be donated to the Fire Department in Orinda, a San Francisco suburb.

"It's a hot book ... so it seemed appropriate," bookstore owner Janet Boreta said Friday.

■ Judge refuses to order search of Perot files

WASHINGTON — A federal judge on Friday refused to order an expedited State Department search of files on Ross Perot in the wake of the department's accelerated check of Bill Clinton's records.

U.S. District Judge Joyce Hens Green said she was influenced by the State Department's admission that the Clinton search was a mistake, and by the agency's assertion that no files actually were released.

Rejecting a request by The Nation magazine, Green cited an appellate court precedent that said an "isolated error" should not be turned into "a uniform misapplication of the law."

■ Mortgage interest rates hit four month high

WASHINGTON — Average interest rates on 30-year, fixed-rate mortgages shot up to 8.23 percent this week, the highest level in nearly four months, the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corp. said Friday.

The rate, up from 8.06 a week earlier, was the highest since such mortgages averaged 8.29 percent in the week ended July 2. It was the sharpest weekly increase since mid-January.

Before rising five times in the last six weeks, mortgage rates had fallen consistently from 9.03 percent in mid-March to a 19-year low of 7.84 percent in mid-September.

Economist David Lereah of the Mortgage Bankers Association of America said he expected rates to edge down again after the Nov. 3 election. He said recent increases reflect bond market nervousness over the possibility that Democrat Bill Clinton will win the presidential election. Movements in mortgage rates are closely tied to bond market fluctuations.

■ Man receives jail time for cheating on test

ROCKVILLE, Md. — A 19-year-old man who admitted paying a friend $200 to take his college entrance examination was sentenced Friday to six months in jail.

Lawrence H. Adler, of Potomac, wept and begged for mercy from Montgomery County Circuit Court Judge Paul Weinstein, saying he was truly sorry.

But Weinstein rejected the plea.

"Quite frankly, Mr. Adler, you've been conning people all your life. The con ends here today."

The Educational Testing Service, which conducts the Scholastic Aptitude Test, said it's the first time someone has been criminally prosecuted for cheating on an exam.

■ Energizer checks candidate's bunny ad

DAYTON, Ohio — Sen. John Glenn's rival is running a TV commercial that spoofs the Energizer bunny, and it has drawn attention from more than just Ohio voters.

The Eveready Battery Co., a subsidiary of St. Louis-based Ralston Purina Co., is concerned Senate candidate Mike DeWine's ad may violate its rights to the rabbit, said company spokesman Keith Schopp.

DeWine campaign officials said they believe no trademark rights have been violated in the commercial, which features a drum-playing mechanical astronaut. DeWine, Ohio's Republican lieutenant governor, is trying to unseat Glenn, a former astronaut, in the Nov. 3 election.

Bush set to sign energy bill today

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Bush will sign into law the most sweeping energy package approved by Congress in more than a decade, administration officials said Friday.

They said Bush will sign the energy bill during a campaign stop today in Lafayette, La., in the heart of the country's petroleum producing region.

He also planned a trip to an offshore oil drilling rig.

Ironically, the massive bill, which focuses on conservation and energy sources other than fossil fuels and cleared Congress on Oct. 8, does little to promote the increased domestic production of oil.

Oil industry attempts to open new drilling in a wildlife refuge in Alaska were not pursued amid strong opposition from environmentalists.

The legislation cleared Congress after nearly two years of dealmaking that merged the interests of the many factions that make up America's energy industry from those promoting solar power to those trying to revive the nuclear option or expand markets for natural gas.

The White House has made clear from the moment the bill passed the Senate on the last day of the 102nd Congress that Bush would sign it. During lengthy negotiations in September, a few sections of the bill that the White House had object to were removed or changed to ease the administration's concerns.

One of the provisions jettisoned would have put new restrictions on offshore oil drilling along most of the U.S. coastline, although even those provisions would not have affected the hundreds of drilling rigs in the Gulf of Mexico off Louisiana not far from where Bush will make the bill law.

The energy package hopes to spur energy conservation with new efficiency standards on light and other equipment as well as with modest tax breaks. It gives a boost to the nuclear power industry by making it easier to build reactors and attempts to provide more competition in the production of electricity.

There also are tax incentives for the development of renewable energy sources such as wind and solar power and a $1 billion tax break for the independent oil industry, which has been struggling to stay afloat. To help promote the use of motor fuels other than gasoline, it calls for fleet operators to begin using more alternative fuel vehicles toward the end of the decade.

Some Democrats on Friday criticized Bush using a campaign trip to sign the legislation, which they said could never have been passed without wide support from both parties.

"It's sad that President Bush chose to sign the bill on a re-election campaign trip," said Rep. Phil Sharp, D-Ind., one of the key architects of the bill. But he added even that "cannot detract from the significance of what we've achieved."

The bill will be signed in the home state of Sen. Bennett Johnston, D-La., who guided the bill through the Senate. But on Friday, aides to Johnston indicated that the senator may not attend the signing ceremony.

Other Democratic lawmakers said the bill is far from what Bush originally proposed as an energy blueprint in February 1991 as U.S. troops were fighting the Persian Gulf War.

"The final bill ... is far different," said Rep. Mike Synar, D-Okla. He said the original Bush energy plan "ignored the importance of energy conservation" and had no tax breaks for either renewable energy sources or the oil and gas industry.

The final legislation has such provisions.

Judge refuses to withdraw from Iraqi loan case

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government's troubled case against an Atlanta bank manager accused of authorizing $5.5 billion in illegal loans to Iraq suffered another blow Friday when the judge refused to bow out of the case.

U.S. District Judge Marvin Shoob, who earlier this month withdrew from the trial of bank manager Christopher Drogoul, said in his decision that he would remain on the case for the sentencing of Drogoul's six co-defendants.

The government had demanded Shoob's removal from the case, saying he was biased in favor of the defense.

Shoob has incurred the government's ire by his stinging criticism of the prosecution in the politically charged case. On Oct. 1, he threw out Drogoul's plea agreement in response to the prosecution's request, saying he had agreed to do so because he considered the case seriously flawed.

The government's case is based on the contention that Drogoul acted alone. He denies it, saying he had approval from headquarters of Banca Nazionale del Lavoro in Rome.

Shoob's criticism of the government, which resulted in revelations that the CIA and Justice Department had provided him with a misleading report, led Attorney General William Barr to appoint a special investigator last week to probe the administration's handling of the case.

In other complications for the government's case, one co-defendant told Shoob on Thursday that he planned to withdraw his guilty plea. And two other defendants filed motions demanding to see classified CIA documents cited by Shoob as evidence that BNL headquarters knew of the Atlanta bank's loans to Iraq and approved them.

In an informal session with the judge Thursday, the government indicated it would fight the motions. And four of the defense lawyers requested their clients' sentencings, scheduled for Monday, be postponed.

Shoob agreed to postpone all but one sentencing. Entrade, a Turkish-owned trading firm accused of bribing Drogoul to get business with Iraq, will be sentenced Monday and will pay a $1 million fine.

Meanwhile, CIA Director Robert Gates, whose agency is under fire for withholding documents in the BNL case, has offered full access to the special investigator probing the government's handling of the case, an agency spokesman said Friday.

Gates called retired federal Judge Frederick Lacey when he returned from Europe earlier this week and "assured him of the CIA's fullest cooperation," said spokesman Mark Mansfield. Lacey plans to visit agency headquarters in suburban Washington to look at files and interview employees.

Lacey is investigating whether political pressure skewed the prosecution's case, whether the CIA withheld relevant information from the Justice Department, whether the Justice Department withheld information from the prosecutors and whether the FBI withheld information from Justice.

Lacey, whose appointment was assailed by Democrats demanding the appointment of an independent prosecutor, has already held more than a dozen meetings.

He met with prosecutors in Atlanta and with FBI and Justice Department officials in Washington, and reviewed dozens of documents.

Tropical storm threatens Bermuda

MIAMI (AP) — Tropical Storm Frances formed suddenly in the mid-Atlantic on Friday with top winds of 65 mph, and Bermuda issued a hurricane watch after forecasters predicted the storm would grow.

The storm was centered about 300 miles southeast of Bermuda, moving north at 7 mph, said National Hurricane Center forecaster Ed Rappaport.

"Frances is still forecast to pass to the east of Bermuda but will come close enough that a hurricane watch and tropical storm warning are being issued by the government of Bermuda," Rappaport said.

Frances may reach the 74 mph threshold that would make it a hurricane before Saturday evening, Rappaport said.

At 5 p.m. EDT, the storm's center was located at 28.9 degrees north latitude and 61.5 degrees west longitude.

Frances is the sixth named storm of the 1992 Atlantic hurricane season, which ends Nov. 30.

The most destructive was Hurricane Andrew, which tore through the Bahamas, Florida and Louisiana, leaving at least 55 dead and more than $20 billion in damages.

Hurricane specialist Miles Lawrence said the storm was not yet a threat to land. "Our track forecast keeps it well away from the United States, but it's very slow moving, so there is some uncertainty," he said.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

By Jeane Dixon

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 24, 1992

HAPPY BIRTHDAY! IN THE NEXT YEAR OF YOUR LIFE: Although your sensitivity to other people's needs is admirable, you must stand your ground in business. Make certain your voice is heard in the board room this December. You play the role of peacemaker better than anyone else! An older person lends a helping hand early in 1993. Wider public recognition and greater financial freedom will lift a longtime burden in the spring. By late summer you are ready to launch a profitable creative venture.

CELEBRITIES BORN ON THIS DATE: actors F. Murray Abraham and Kevin Kline, Rolling Stone Bill Wyman, playwright Moss Hart.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): A new approach will help you solve a dilemma. Make contact with someone who has been in seclusion. Be sure to participate in a special campaign or fund drive.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): A neighbor may do something that you cannot understand. Keep your distance for a while. Be more sensitive to your female friends and relatives. Be supportive of the choices they make.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Pooling funds or resources with an influential friend could make the two of you a powerful team. Keep a secret pact under wraps. An award or gift boasts your self-confidence.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): A good day for getting out and socializing. Attending a sports event holds great appeal for many. Spend more time with a teen-ager, but remember to listen not lecture.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): A check or package finally arrives. Late afternoon is the best time to see a potential romantic partner. A cozy conversation uncovers mutual interests and friends.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Emotions could run high today. Keep a low profile until you know how things stand. Performing household chores gives you time to think. Play host to a small group of friends.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): A love relationship has a special magic today. Kind words will bring about a joyful reconciliation. At-home entertainment will probably hold more appeal than an expensive night on the town.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Sharing confidences with that special person will help relieve tension. An inner conflict can be resolved. Taking on another person's financial burdens would be a big mistake.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): A conversation with a stranger proves enlightening. You gain a new handle on an old problem. Expect welcome financial news in the form of a letter or telephone call.

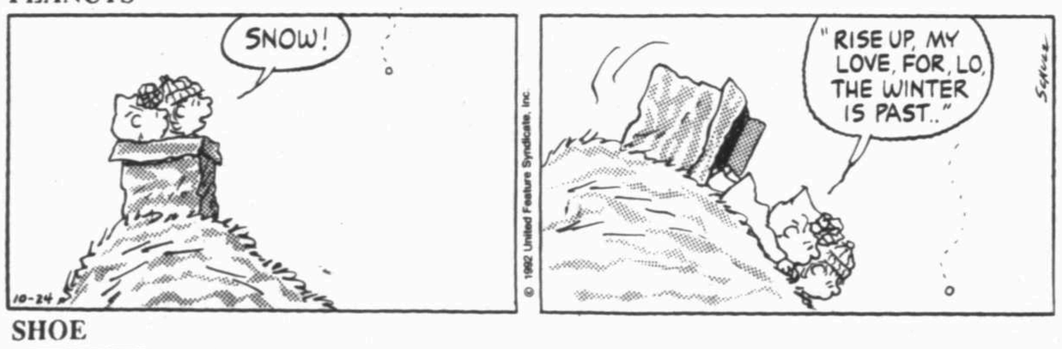

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Visiting a new place is likely to be a disappointment. Stay at home where you feel more comfortable. A good book proves educational as well as entertaining.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): The domestic atmosphere is unusually harmonious. Welcome an opportunity to talk with teen-agers regarding their college plans. A family budget revision helps everyone view the future more realistically.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Enjoy today's easy pace. A trip to a nearby park or the countryside gives you a new perspective. Devote more time and attention to adult siblings.

TODAY'S CHILDREN have a special love for nature and will enjoy searching for wild flowers or berries, fishing, camping and hiking. Spending time outdoors alone lets Scorpios of all ages recharge their batteries. These children like to keep their own counsel and will rarely seek advice. Wise parents will respect their offspring's privacy but offer constructive suggestions when necessary.

Jonathan Demme starts on new film in Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA — Academy Award-winning director Jonathan Demme rejects the notion that his latest project is a response to protests about his film "Silence of the Lambs," which some criticized as homophobic.

Demme

"I agree very much with the critics of 'Silence of the Lambs' on one thing, which is that there is a terrible void of positive gay characters in American movies," he said.

His new movie, tentatively titled "Philadelphia," will invite concern about AIDS but also will entertain, Demme said.

"It's not a political movie," he said. "It's a family movie. It's about characters. It's entertainment. We've got a lot of laughs in it. We understand that since AIDS is such a serious subject that it's imperative that we help the audience get through it by providing kind of a varietal experience."

The movie, starring Tom Hanks, Denzel Washington, Jason Robards and Mary Steenburgen, is about an lawyer (Hanks) who's fired from a law firm because he has been diagnosed with AIDS. Joanne Woodward plays Hanks' mother.

Filming started Wednesday in Philadelphia and will continue for about four months. The movie is expected to reach theaters by the end of 1993.

LOS ANGELES — Twenty-five percent of the profits from a new Dr. John and Odetta album will go toward helping street people.

The album, "Strike a Deep Chord: Blues Guitars for the Homeless," is highlighted by their interpretation of the Depression-era classic "Brother, Can You Spare a Dime?" and Odetta's rendition of "America The Beautiful."

The new album was released on Justice Records, which opened its doors in 1990 with a commitment to help various causes. The money from this album will be donated to the National Coalition for the Homeless, said publicist Ronnie Lippin.

Besides Dr. John and Odetta, Johnny "Clyde" Copeland, Clarence "Gatemouth" Brown, Sue Foley, "Smokin'" Joe Bonamassa, Tab Benoit and Ronnie Earl participated in the recording.

CHARLESTON, W.Va. — Actor David Selby wasn't sure he was cut out for show business after graduating from West Virginia University.

When he asked his drama professor for advice, the professor said, "Think about insurance."

Selby, best known for his television roles as Quentin the werewolf in "Dark Shadows" and as Richard Channing in "Falcon Crest," said he was devastated to think he had earned bachelor's and master's degrees in vain.

"I cried because I wondered what in hell I was doing all those years," said Selby, 49.

Discouraged, Selby moved from his native Morgantown to Charleston and interviewed for a management job with a grocery store chain. But the interviewer told him, "You don't belong here."

Selby went to Southern Illinois University, earned a doctorate in theater and eventually found steady work as an actor. Besides his television work, Selby has appeared in "The Heiress" and "The Unseen Hand" on Broadway. Among his movies: "Dying Young," starring Julia Roberts.

Selby, who lives in Los Angeles with his wife and three children, returned to his hometown Wednesday to give a reading.

MIAMI — Carl Bernstein, one of the reporters who exposed the Watergate affair, accuses the U.S. media of creating "a true idiot culture."

On Thursday, he complained about the state of journalism to an audience of about 150 people at the 12th annual Jewish Book Fair.

"The condition of American media is not a pretty picture," he said. "We're in the process of creating a true idiot culture. And not just a bubbling subculture that every society has, but a true dominant idiot culture."

Sensationalism and celebrity watching have become "the monster that ate the press," Bernstein said.

"But you can't blame it all on the media," he added. "The people of this country, for the most part, have been getting what they want."

LOS ANGELES — Lisa Marie Presley, the 24-year-old daughter of the late rock 'n' roll king Elvis Presley, gave birth Wednesday to her second child — a son who weighed in at 7 pounds, 8 ounces, spokesman Paul Bloch said Friday.

The boy was born at an undisclosed Florida hospital, and Presley's husband, Danny Keough, a 27-year-old musician, was present, Bloch said.

"The baby was delivered naturally and in complete silence in a calm and supportive environment" under guidelines set out by the Church of Scientology's founder, L. Ron Hubbard, in his book "Dianetics," Bloch said.

"The book states that whatever is said at birth can affect the child's mental health in later life," the spokesman said.

How to make money in three easy steps.

Step 2.

Aim for an audience.
After you've selected a solution for another to seize, bring that person to life. Think about your product or service and its original value to you, then detail its features and benefits to another individual.
When you put those benefits into words, others like you will find value too. And that's of value to you!

WHAT!
NEWSPAPER ROUTES?

That's right...one of the best part-time income supplements around. Doesn't conflict with your 'day job.' Doesn't require day care. And it's dependable income.

Fact: 95% of our Distributors NOW are ADULTS supplementing their income with Route Distributorships!

Fact: Our Distributors make from $400-$800 monthly AFTER expenses, some even more!

The catch? You've gotta be able to handle early mornings and weekends! And when you take a few days off, you'll need to find a substitute for yourself.

So...are you serious about MOONLIGHTING, or what? If you are, and you have dependable transportation and can put up a $100 deposit...

Call Tonya 687-8807 and start making that extra car payment today!
