Wildcat Tests Will Quit In Area Counties

Wildcat failures in Nolan, Garza and Stonewall Counties have been ordered plugged and abandoned.

West Central Drilling Co. of Abilene and Dan Auld of Kerrville No. 1 J. F. Ensminger, East Nolan County wildcat, was quit on total depth of 6,641 feet in black Cambrian sand. It had found no shows of production in any zone drilled.

Earl M. Craig, Jr., of Midland drilled the No. 1 V. B. Sims, Garza prospector, to 2,915 feet in San Andres Permian lime and quit it there after finding only sulphur water. Location was 330 feet from south and east lines of section 975-97-H&TC, seven miles west of Justiceburg.

One-half mile west of the Bissett Ranch - Bend Conglomerate field of North Stonewall County, J. G. Brown and others abandoned the No. 1-B Calloway at 6,095 feet. A final one-hour drillstem test from 6,043-068 feet recovered 5,460 feet of sulphur water.

Drillsite was 660 feet from north and 667 feet from east lines of the southeast quarter of section 62-F-H&TC.

El Paso Flood Is Subsiding

By The Associated Press

El Paso struggled out of a cloudburst-caused flood Tuesday while the Weather Bureau was predicting possible new cloudbursts in the Franklin Mountains area which brewed El Paso's current high water troubles.

The downpours measured up to 13 inches during the weekend in drouht-hit Eastern New Mexico.

The runoff from the rains near El Paso poured down the Franklin Mountains and was trapped on the wrong side of levees along the Rio Grande. About 25 families were evacuated.

National Guardsmen stood by to stop any possible looting and to help with sandbagging where needed.

Heavy rains in Mexico caused a rise in the Rio Grande that forced closing of the international bridge between Presidio, Tex., and Ojinaga, Mexico.

In other parts of Texas, scattered showers and rain Monday brought local relief from dry weather.

The forecast called for scattered thundershowers through Tuesday.

Dulles Pledges Island Defense

By JOHN A. SCALI

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today American forces would be justified in defending some Nationalist-held islands between Formosa and the Chinese mainland from any Communist attack.

Dulles told a news conference it would be up to American military leaders to decide which islands in addition to Formosa they want to defend as part of their overall strategy for aiding the Chinese Nationalist stronghold.

Dulles spoke in the face of talk by Peiping of "liberating" the island of Formosa, now held by Chiang Kai-shek and the Chinese Nationalists. U. S. leaders have been inclined to discount the Peiping talk.

President Eisenhower already is on record as saying the U. S. 7th Fleet would protect Formosa from a Red attack. Dulles appeared to be extending this line of reasoning by including some of the smaller Chiang-held islands near Formosa.

In talking about Europe, Dulles told newsmen he deeply regrets France's unwillingness to agree with five other Western European countries on the European army plan. But he said he has not given up hope France will ratify the European army agreement when "it confronts the ultimate decision."

In answering questions, Dulles also made these other points:

1. He tentatively plans to leave next Tuesday for Manila to represent the United States at the Southeast Asia Alliance Conference and to confer with Filipino leaders about defense problems in the area. He may stop off briefly in Japan and Formosa on his way home.

2. He refused to say whether Britain and the United States definitely plan to go ahead with a program to restore West German sovereignty should France fail to approve the European defense project.

3. He deeply regrets the death of Brazilian President Getulio Vargas.

4. Plans for dealing with possible subversion and arrangements to better economic conditions in the region will be considered at the Southeast Asia Defense Conference opening in Manila Sept. 6.

He declined to spell out any precise ideas on this point but said two treaties—one dealing with military problems and the other with economic arrangements—might be possible to bring in nations which would not join a military alliance.

In discussing the reports from Peiping about a possible invasion of Formosa, Pentagon sources said no serious evidence has shown up in intelligence reports that would indicate an imminent attack on the Chinese mainland.

Absentee Vote Total Here Rises To 129

Only two persons have voted by absentee ballot in the county library election set for a week from Saturday.

President Has Warm Praise For Congress

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower told the nation's voters last night the Republican 83rd Congress chalked up a fine record toward assuring a stronger, better America. He urged them to remember that when they go to the polls in the November congressional elections.

In a nationwide radio and television address, the President sounded an optimistic note about the security of Western Europe in the face of collapse of European defense army talks at Brussels.

"Don't be too discouraged," he said.

The great statesmen of Europe are his friends, he said, and "they want peace as much as you and I do."

"They are not licked yet," he said. "And we are certainly not licked. Let us not lose faith in them. There is still something to be done in that region, and we are going to do it."

The rest of the half-hour address was exclusively a plug for the administration and the record of the GOP-run Congress which wound up last Friday.

The President, vacationing here, spoke from a Denver TV studio. He talked from notes on cue cards in front of the cameras, stood in front of a desk on which he leaned part of the time, and occasionally he drove his left fist into his right hand to emphasize points. He was flanked by the American flag and the presidential banner.

First Lady Of Aviation Dies

DALLAS (AP)—Mrs. Tom Braniff, known as the first lady of aviation, died today of cancer, a disease she and her late husband had fought with time and money for research.

Mrs. Braniff, 67, had been an influential partner in Braniff International Airways, the airline founded by her husband.

Braniff was killed in a private plane crash near Shreveport, La., last January. Their only son also was killed in a plane crash, and their daughter died in childbirth.

Following Braniff's death, the airline's board of directors elected Mrs. Braniff to the vice presidency in recognition of her contributions to the company.

Funeral arrangements for Mrs. Braniff are incomplete.

WINNIL GREETS GUEST

Cigar-smoking Winston Churchill, premier of Britain, has a hearty handshake for his French counterpart, Pierre Mendes-France, as the latter arrives at Biggin Hill, a RAF airfield outside London. Mendes-France, arriving from the fruitless EDC parley in Brussels, reportedly carried to Churchill the outline of some alternate plan of European defense in which Britain would play a major role.

Bullet In Heart Fatal To Vargas

By STANFORD BRADSHAW

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—Brazil's old iron man, Getulio Vargas, sent a bullet through his heart and died in his palace today after 58 generals forced him to quit as president.

"To the wrath of my enemies I leave the legacy of my death," said a note left by the 71-year-old chief of the world's fourth largest country in area.

"I take the sorrow of not being able to give to the humble all that I wished."

Vargas stepped down from the presidency at dawn and shot himself in his quarters at Catete Palace, the Brazilian White House. Gen. Caido da Castro, chief of his military staff, was with him. Police said Vargas suddenly whipped a pistol from his pocket and shot, dying almost immediately.

He thus fulfilled a promise he had made Sunday night—that he would leave office only under arrest or dead. That was after 26 general officers of the air force asked him to resign to calm a tense political and military situation. Today 32 general officers of the army joined in the demand for Vargas' ouster.

The army officers' petition was presented to Vargas this morning at Catete Palace. It was announced the president, who came to power in 1930 and ruled all but five years since then, had agreed to ask congress for a leave of absence. Four hours later he was dead.

Joao Cafe Filho, vice president since 1951, was in line to succeed Vargas.

The crisis that brought Vargas' ouster and death began Aug. 5 with the slaying of an air force major, Ruben Vaz, during an attempt to assassinate Carlos LaCerda, an anti-Vargas editor. The slaying aroused widespread indignation in both the military and the press. This grew when it was discovered that members of Vargas' personal body guard were involved. Vargas dissolved the guard.

The crisis broke into rioting Aug. 11 following a mass for Maj. Vaz. Two persons were injured and campaign posters for Vargas' Brazilian Labor Party (PTB) were torn down.

"Vargas out!" shouted the mob.

The military acted quickly to prevent further disturbances. The army, navy and air force issued a joint declaration pledging their support of the constitution.

Meantime the air force and police arrested Climerio Eurides de Almeida, member of the guard, and Jose Antonio Soares, a palace employe as involved in the LaCerda plot. They also seized Joao Alcino de Nascimento, as the alleged trigger man.

This situation arose at a time Brazil was undergoing severe economic stress. Last week the price of coffee was forced down, in terms of American dollars, and there have been predictions of further blows against Brazilian currency.

The air force, with Vargas' permission, obtained the personal papers of Gregorio Fortunato, husky former head of the disbanded presidential guard, and these papers may have provided material for the final push against Vargas.

The papers, widely published, purported to show influence peddling by Fortunato. This increased the troubles for the government already under attack for alleged corruption.

New demands for Vargas' resignation were made at an Aeronautical Club meeting Saturday. Air force general officers conferred 10 hours Sunday and prepared a note saying Vargas' resignation was the only solution for the crisis.

The army officers' memorial calling for Vargas to quit was presented to him shortly after midnight by Gen. Mascarenhas de Moraes, chief of the armed forces general staff, and War Minister Zenobio De Costa. Then came frantic hours of conferences between Vargas and these army officers and members of his Cabinet, as well as members of his family.

Finance Minister Oswaldo Aranha, an old friend of Vargas well known in the United States, spoke briefly.

Gen. Armando Mendes de Morais meanwhile was talking with Vice President Cafe. War Minister Costa left Catete Palace shortly after 3 a.m., and conferred with military leaders at the War Ministry. He returned to the presidential palace for a second conference starting at 4:20 a.m.

Finally came the announcement that Vargas had agreed to take a leave of absence:

"The president of the republic met today with his Cabinet to examine the political and military situation created in the country. His ministers were heard one by one and various aspects of the crisis and their serious consequences were debated. Vargas decided, with the entire solidarity of his ministers, to take a leave of absence, passing the government to his legal substitute (Cafe) in view of promises solemnly undertaken before the nation by officials of the armed forces."

Eisenhower Signs New Anti-Red Bill

DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower today signed legislation outlawing the Communist party.

The history-making measure the President approved at his vacation headquarters here also is designed to crack down on Red-infiltrated labor unions.

Eisenhower signed the bill in his tiny second-floor office at the Lowry Air Force Base administration building.

The President's decision to approve the bill with its outlawing provisions, for which the administration did not ask, was announced by Press Secretary James C. Hagerty at Eisenhower's vacation headquarters here.

Administration doubts about the bill—revised before it passed to overcome a principal objection—were based on concern as to whether it would make "propaganda martys" of Reds in this country and drive them further underground.

In his radio-television address last night on the record of the Republican 83rd Congress, Eisenhower did not disclose whether he would sign the bill. He did say the administration has had to forge "new weapons in order to defeat internal communism."

"The great thing we wanted to do was to find effective means of eliminating the Communist or the subversive from any point where he could possibly damage us, but to do it by constitutional process . . .," he said.

The goal, he said, has been to make certain that anyone questioned about communism "would be protected also."

The bill outlawing the Communist party overshot the administration's mark on anti-Red legislation when an election-bound Congress enthusiastically passed it on the last day before adjournment.

The vote: Senate, 79-0; House, 265-2.

It was an unexpected offshoot of a bill, requested by the administration, to strip Communist-infiltrated unions of rights before the National Labor Relations Board.

Republican congressional leaders succeeded only in the closing hours in removing a Democratic-sponsored provision which would have made individual Communist party membership a crime punishable by imprisonment for five years and a $10,000 fine.

Blame Crash On High Wind

MASON CITY, Iowa (AP)—Government and airline investigators of a Braniff Airways DC3 plane crash which claimed 11 lives here Sunday have decided a raging wind and rain storm was a "contributory cause," Coroner Ralph E. Smiley says.

The investigators, who examined the wreckage of the plane yesterday, said they were not immediately ready to discuss their preliminary findings.

But Smiley, who received their preliminary report, said it indicated that the weather was a "contributing factor" in the crash.

The coroner said the report declared the twin-engine plane was in a "mild to extreme turbulence" just before it smashed to earth in a pasture on a farm near here.

One of the eight survivors, Lyle D. Lyons of Lacrosse, Wis., an airman first class stationed at Bergstrom Air Force Base, Austin, Tex., gave this account of the moments just before the crash:

"We were going through what seemed like a solid black cloud and were coming down. Then, all of a sudden, the cloud turned yellow and we felt a terrific, awful bump."

After that, he said, he lost consciousness and when he came to he was in the plane wreckage. He said he knew of no explanation for the "yellow cloud" and could not say if it actually was a lightning bolt.

Dulles Holds Hope For EDC

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today he still has hope that France "will follow her great tradition" of idealism and approve the European Army proposal.

But he added this hope is not the same as expectation.

Dulles' comments were made at a news conference in response to questions concerning the failure of the recent Brussels conference to reach agreement on changes proposed by France in the European Defense Community Treaty.

The proposal, which would bring together the military forces of six countries including West Germany, goes unchanged to the French National Assembly next Saturday.

Dulles, in a prepared statement, said "I deeply regret that at the Brussels meeting France did not decide to agree with the other five continental countries which signed the EDC treaty."

Asked if this meant he put responsibility for the failure on France, Dulles told newsmen his statement would have to speak for itself.

Monday Shower Here Produces .08 Inch

A mid-afternoon shower brought rain measured officially at .08 of an inch in Snyder yesterday. Heavier amounts of rain were believed to have fallen in an area south of Snyder although Ira reported only a trace.

Yesterday's moisture, added to the .18 of an inch which fell Saturday and the .35 of an inch on August 9, makes a total of .61 of an inch for August.

The maximum temperature recorded yesterday was 92 degrees, Mrs. D. P. Strayhorn, weather observer, said. The minimum was 69 degrees, with 74 degrees at 7:30 a.m. today.

Crash Involves Four Vehicles

Three of four vehicles involved in a highway accident one mile northwest of Hermleigh this morning were damaged, one of the three being almost demolished.

The only injury was a slight cut near the left eye of Shelby Morris, 46, Sudan, driver of a 1954 Ford pickup. With him was his wife, Mrs. Grace Morris.

Bruce Max Evans, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Evans, 2801 Avenue Y, was driver of a 1952 Nash sedan. His parents were with him.

Doy Elden Everage, 19, of 1208 Cypress, Abilene, was driver of a 1952 Ford panel truck of Gibson Products Co.

Mrs. H. C. Hooks, 25, Waco, was driver of a 1950 Plymouth sedan, which was not damaged. With her was Mrs. Martha Slater, Waco.

Bill Zimmerman, highway patrolman who investigated, Mrs. Hooks, the Morrisses, the Evanses, and flagmen working on the highway said the Plymouth was stopped by flagmen, then the Ford pickup, then the Nash. All three were stopped and waiting for oncoming traffic to clear the only lane of the highway then being used when the panel truck struck the rear of the Nash, forcing it into the pickup and the pickup into the rear of the Plymouth.

The pickup was slightly damaged, the panel heavily damaged, and the Nash was almost totally damaged.

All vehicles were headed northwest when the wreck occurred at about 11:15 o'clock.

Candidates Step Up Efforts As Voting Date Draws Near

SHIVERS VISITS ALAMO

By DAVE CHEAVENS

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Texans have a clearcut choice Saturday between strife, bitterness and agitation on one side and peace, prosperity and progress on the other, Gov. Allan Shivers told a friendly San Antonio crowd last night.

With his opponent Ralph Yarborough they'll get strife and bitterness, with Shivers they'll get peace and prosperity, the governor said.

He stood near the threashold of the Alamo and reminded a crowd that interrupted him for applause 26 times that he was fighting for the same kind of political and economic independence that sent the heroes of the old mission-fortress to their deaths.

"I believe Texans want to keep Texas in Texas hands," the governor shouted. "I believe Texans want a governor who will stand up and fight for his state."

From the crowd came cries, "Yes we do. Pour it on. Let 'em have it."

Mrs. Shivers and three of their four children sat on the platform, spent the night here and returned to Austin.

Shivers met with campaign workers from all parts of the state and then flew to Brownwood and nearby points for another hard day of speaking, organizing and handshaking before next Saturday's runoff primary.

The governor talked a great deal about what he called the effort of his opponent to "deliberately attempt to humiliate my family."

"He has been ashamed to stand before you alone and take the responsibility for his campaign of bigotry, hatred and lies," Shivers said. "His friends are ashamed to sign their names to the obscene letters and pamphlets they are sending through the mail."

Shivers said it would have been easier for him to retire from politics and go back to the life of a small town lawyer than to campaign for reelection, but he decided to "stand up and fight" for Texas independence.

"When the going was roughest, I took my stand as your governor in the front line of battle and fought for Texas," he said.

In the battles for the tidelands and equal recognition of Texas in Democratic party affairs, his opponents "walked out on the Democratic party of Texas," the governor said.

Shivers said he knew he had risked his political life "to keep my word to the people of Texas" and fight for the tidelands and schools.

"I risked it to do what I could to hasten the end to a war in Korea which Dean Acheson and Harry Truman were unwilling to stop and afraid to win," Shivers said.

YARBOROUGH ON RADIO

By WILBUR MARTIN

FORT WORTH (AP)—Ralph Yarborough headed toward the industrial Gulf coast today in his bid to become Texas' governor.

The former Austin district judge hammered at what he called the "do nothing" record of Gov. Allan Shivers and "Nazi and Communistic type propaganda" he said was aimed at him in three speeches here and at Dallas last night.

He said his opponent in Saturday's Democratic runoff election had used faked photographs and a "smear sheet lifted right out of Goebbels' notebook" to "scare farmers and ranchers out of voting for a Democratic candidate and a Democratic program."

Yarborough said the faked photographs were of pickets in a strike at Port Arthur carrying signs boosting his candidacy for governor.

He said the strike against business houses at Port Arthur had put "neighbor against neighbor" and said Shivers had not used his power as governor to do anything about it.

"I will go to Port Arthur and in 30 days settle the strike," Yarborough said.

"I will not play political football with a whole Texas city."

At Dallas, Yarborough had a statewide television skit-type program called "a day at the campaign office with Ralph Yarborough." He had a statewide radio speech and a rally attended by an estimated thousand persons here.

In his three speeches, Yarborough said:

1. He considered his election battle with Shivers "a straight-out Republican - Democrat fight." He said he was the Democrat.

2. Shivers had done nothing to enforce the state's anti-Communist laws or to provide a real drought relief program.

3. Texas farmers and ranchers "have an Ezra Benson-Allan Shivers six-bit parity that is wrecking the economy of the South Plains and West Texas."

Yarborough said as governor he would: Boost old age pensions; have a sound water conservation program; establish a department of commerce and industry with a division to work with small business men.

He said he "would give the government of Texas back to the people."

Yarborough, pushing his campaign at a speech-an-hour clip, said Shivers had a "do nothing" record and "he wanted the people of Texas to give him a third term" on the basis of it.

He repeatedly hit at what he said was Shivers' stand of trade with Red China. He said Shivers advocated this "with two brother Republican governors" after a visit to Korea.

Cross-Fire Faces Premier Of France

By CARL HARTMAN

PARIS (AP) — French Premier Pierre Mendes-France wrestled anew with the European army crisi today as a cross fire of demands mounted in his own country for acceptance or rejection of the controversial six-nation defense treaty.

Mendes-France flew back to meet his Cabinet today after a hurried conference in Britain yesterday with British Prime Minister Winston Churchill.

The Premier reported last night to French President Rene Coty at the Normandy resort of Bagnoles de L'Orne, filling the President in on his secret talk with Churchill and his failure at the six-nation Brussels conference to get approval of the sweeping revisions he demanded in the European Defense Community pact.

If Churchill and Mendes-France decided upon any alternative to EDC during their talk yesterday, it was a top diplomatic secret. After the four-hour meeting, they announced only that they had agreed to "early and practical steps" to maintain Western unity.

Official sources disclosed they reviewed all possible alternatives for rearming West Germany and restoring full sovereignty to the Bonn government if EDC fails.

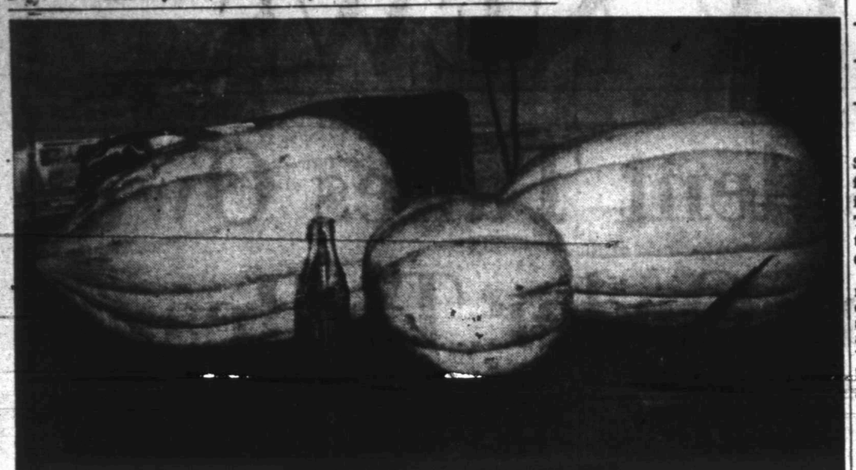

Facing Mendes-France was the grave decision on whether to try for another new set of modifications in the EDC treaty or let the French National Assembly begin a ratification debate, scheduled for Saturday, on the pact as it stands.

The Premier himself had insisted that the modifications he demanded at Brussels were necessary to win French ratification. Some members of his Cabinet favor the pact as it stands, but others oppose it unless it is drastically altered. Whichever way the Premier swings he is bound to lose support.

There was some doubt among politicians today whether his Cabinet could survive the treaty debate.

Former Premier Antoine Pinay, a supporter of EDC, suggested last night that the six West European allies go ahead with the scheme for an 18-month "trial marriage" period. They should put it into effect as originally drafted, he said, but agree that any of the members could call a conference for revision of impractical features for the first 18 months. This period could be extended if necessary.

"At least, let's get started," Pinay told a news conference. "Otherwise we may find the other five countries organizing without France."

Demos Say Foreign Affairs Top Issue

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three Democratic senators said today foreign affairs troubles may overshadow the Eisenhower-praised record of the Republican 83rd Congress as a top issue in the November election campaign.

President Eisenhower centered on the at-home record in his broadcast to the nation last night, heaping praise on Congress and hitting again at opposition "prophets of gloom and doom."

While dwelling only briefly on foreign relations, he did predict they "will be the thing on which we will have to emphasize our efforts during the coming months." And since the Republicans took office, he said, Korea, Iran, Suez and Guatemala are places "where great threats to our peace and security have already been removed."

While Republicans joined in praising the administration's legislative accomplishments, Democratic Senators Russell of Georgia, Mansfield of Montana and Jackson of Washington said that the apparent collapse of the European Defense Community and what they called an unfavorable settlement in Indochina may claim the chief attention of American voters. The senators spoke in separate interviews without directly referring to Eisenhower's speech.

Mansfield, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said the status of international relations this fall "may well be the deciding factor in the election."

Jackson said he thinks the Indochina settlement and indications that the EDC may never materialize "are creating skepticism in the minds of many voters about the administration's ability to hold the line against communism."

"The administration hasn't seized the initiative as it has claimed," he said. "It is the Soviet Union which has seized the initiative."

Russell, senior Democrat on the Senate Armed Services Committee, said the Republicans seemed to have changed their tune about Indochina.

He said Republicans were saying a few months ago that it might be necessary for the United States to send troops to Indochina. Now, he said, they are claiming that Eisenhower kept this country out of a shooting war there. Such a claim was made by Sen. Knowland of California, the Republican leader, in a statement inserted in the Congressional Record.

Eisenhower said of Indochina last night that the war "has ceased under circumstances that are certainly not satisfactory to all of us, and in some respects they are disappointing."

"But at least we have an opportunity," he said, "to again tackle that problem of getting a concert of nations that will make this whole region safer and more secure for freedom."

Eisenhower's review of Congress' record drew applause from Republican Senators Watkins of Utah and Dworshak of Idaho.

Watkins said he thinks Congress made "an excellent record—one of the best we have had in many, many years."

Dworshak said the President "has placed a spotlight on a record that Republican candidates can take with pride into the November election campaign."

Hearing Divisions Marked By Panel

WASHINGTON (AP) — A special Senate committee today announced five categories of charges on which it will start public hearings next Tuesday on the question of whether the Senate should censure Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis).

Sen. Watkins (R-Utah), chairman of the bipartisan six member committee, said the charges seemed to be "the most important" of 46 filed by three senators who have urged that McCarthy's conduct be officially condemned.

He emphasized, however, that these did not preclude the committee from considering all the charges during the course of the public hearings, which will start Aug. 31, one day later than previously scheduled.

The five categories include:

1. Alleged "incident of contempt of the Senate or a senatorial committee" by McCarthy, centering largely around his failure to testify before a Senate elections subcommittee investigating his finances in 1950.

2. "Incidents of encouragement of United States employes to violate the law and their oaths of office or executive orders" in McCarthy's appeal to federal employes to give him classified information about alleged Communists or subversives.

3. "Incidents involving receipt or use of confidential or classified documents or other confidential information, from executive files," in connection with his receipt of a purported summary of an FBI espionage report in the McCarthy-Army hearings.

4. Incidents involving alleged "abuses" of other senators. Under this heading, the committee referred to attacks McCarthy leveled at Sen. Hendrickson (R-NJ) and other members of the Senate subcommitte that investigated his financial affairs.

5. The charge that McCarthy abused Brig. Gen. Ralph Zwicker, commanding officer at Camp Kilmer, N. J.

McCarthy's questioning of Zwicker last February brought a vigorous protest from Army Secretary Stevens and was one of the incidents that touched off the televised McCarthy-Army hearings.

Hermleigh School's Faculty To Hold Meet On Sunday Afternoon

Faculty members of the Hermleigh school system will meet at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon in preparation for the opening of school there Monday, according to Orville Paty, superintendent.

Paty said buses will run at 9 o'clock Monday morning for the first day of school, which will last until about noon. On Tuesday, buses will begin their regular schedule, getting students to school by 8:35 o'clock in the morning.

One new school bus has been purchased by the system. Other improvements at the school include painting in some of the buildings and a new water well drilled. The well, now in use on the football field, will later be tied to the school water line.

Two vacancies remain on the staff, those for a homemaking teacher and a commercial teacher. Those already in the system are James Norwood, Mrs. Roxie Soules, Ray Isaacs, Jake Green, Jo May, A. L. Kerby, T. P. Henderson, Effie Farmer, Mrs. Waymond Sims, Miss Fannie Smith, Mrs. Mildred Simmons, Mrs. Ruth Boattenhamer, Mrs. Edna Clift, and Mrs. Sallie Gillum.

Another Stop Is Scheduled On Farm Tour

One more morning stop has been added by the Chamber of Commerce agriculture committee to the businessman-farmer general tour, which will be held here Friday.

The tour will start at 8:30 o'clock Friday morning from the livestock barn in the county park. Those touring will ride in school buses.

The new stop will be at a caged hen operation west of town. One such farm was already scheduled on the tour.

As now set up, the tour will include a dairy farm in the Fluvanna area, the added chicken farm west of Snyder, and a spray-type irrigation project northwest of town in the morning. In the afternoon, the group will go to the Hermleigh area to see naptha used in Johnson grass control, bench levelling to allow water into fields from roadside ditches, and plantings of guar as a soil builder. Coming back toward town, the group will stop by a second caged hen farm, then go on to another farm to see a patch of blue panic grass used in crop rotation. At the same farm the tourers will see another soil-building crop, blackeyed peas.

During the noon break, the group will eat a lunch which will include main dishes of barbecue and fish at the livestock barn. There, they will hear O. F. Armstrong, member of the state soil conservation board, make a talk.

Oscar Fowler, county agent, is chairman of the tour planning group and will be master of ceremonies during the tour. Other planners are Jake Hodges, Joel Hodges, and Audry Head. Max West heads the chamber committee.

Felony Charge Of DWI Is Filed Against Man

A felony compaint alleging driving while intoxicated as a repeated offense of the same nature was filed yesterday afternoon against Ernest Lee Shelly, about 34, of Stamford.

Shelly was arrested Saturday by E. W. Green, highway patrolman who signed the complaint, which was filed by the district attorney.

The complaint alleges a previous conviction in county court at Fort Worth.

The defendant was being held in the county jail here.

Port Arthur's Peril Helped Spark Anti-Red Bill In Texas

Editor's note: Texas in 1953 turned back a bold Communist bid to get a stranglehold on Gulf Coast industry. The state thwarted a plot of national scope for economic and political conquest. This is the second of three articles on the "Battle of Port Arthur."

By RAYMOND BROOKS

Port Arthur on the Texas Coast last year became the target of invasion by a Communist-led, discredited national organization. Infiltration there quickly proved part of a concerted Communist plan of violence and terrorism to throttle Gulf Coast ports and the defense-vital oil refining industry.

Texas government and the Legislature struck back. Port Arthur's peril helped decisively in making Texas the first state in the nation to outlaw Communists and the Communist Part. Texas leadership deserves credit for action just now taken by Congress making the Communist Part a criminal outlaw nationally.

Port Arthur stands the symbol of Texas victory over the Communists. It is a real part of the nation's defense against Red conquest.

Port Arthur still bears raw wounds, its people still suffer from the hatreds and bitterness with which the venom of Communist fangs infected it. But the Communists have been driven out of Texas, through aggressive action of the state's officials and lawmakers.

The Communist Party, in May this year, revealed how the Port Arthur infiltration was under its orders to its subversive agents, working through an illegitimate so-called labor organization, to capture patriotic Texas labor groups, to terrorize and dominate cities, and to reach out for the capture of public office, reaching into Congress this year and the Presidency itself in 1956.

Port Arthur in 1953 suddenly found itself the victim of as cruel an invasion as barbarians ever led. The oil center long has been heavily unionized in the CIO. The CIO had not attempted to unionize the retail employees of drive-ins, restaurants, stores, laundries, hotels, though it had a suitable affiliate.

The invasion was by the wildcat Distributive, Processing and Office Workers of America, which the late President Phil Murray had bodily kicked out of CIO because of its Communist domination. This outfit brought in its own organizers, started its own reign of terror.

The State, through its top officials moved in and joined battle. Victory was nailed down when Governor Allan Shivers in March called a special session of the Legislature and asked it to put the brand of felon on any Communist caught in Texas. This, the Legislature did.

Here is the swift time-table of action, after Port Arthur found scores of its little stores, cafes, laundries picketed, even its High School football team kept away from their annual football dinner.

In the concerted action of top state officials, Attorney General John Ben Shepperd investigated the DPOWA invasion. He found evidence of the Communist control of this "national" outfit. He exposed, in speeches to the Bay City Jaycees and the Galveston Rotary Club, Nov. 2, the design of the Communist invaders to grip the refining and port cities of Texas, then all along the Gulf Coast.

Governor Shivers appointed a Texas Industrial Commission to take testimony on the Port Arthur situation. C. E. Fulgham, new Secretary of State, was its chairman. Besides DPOWA, two other outlaw unions suspected of Communist leadership were trying to get a foot-hold in Texas, the Fur and Leather Workers at San Antonio, the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, at El Paso. The official state commission was charged with investigating them too.

Arthur Osman was spotted as president, and David Livington as seceretary - treasurer of DPOWA. Their reeking record of Communist association and activity was traced.

Evidence was brought to the Industrial Commission. This body started day and night hearings, Dec. 4, and by the night of Dec. 7, had massive proof upon which it wrote its official findings.

It officially declared all three of the outlaw organizations were Communist - dominated or Communist-led, and that their activities constituted a clear and present danger to Texas and to the patriotic labor people of Texas.

State government moved swiftly. Attorney General Shepperd had gone to court and stopped activity of the Fur and Leather Workers and its unlicensed organizer, Emmanuel Coutlakis.

Secretary of State Howard A. Carney, administrator of the labor registration laws, on Dec. 29 issued orders revoking all legal permit and license standing of the three organizations named by the Industrial Commission. He revoked all their organizers' cards.

The Industrial Commission recommended that state laws be strengthened to deal with the proven menace of Communist infiltration. It named a legal committee, including Attorney General Shepperd. This commission drafted four proposed anti-Communist laws. Governor Shivers, in calling the Legislature into special session for teacher pay increase and urgent hospital building needs, submitted the subject and asked action on the Communist bills.

The Legislature whipped the measures all into one bill, and passed it by nearly unanimous vote. This measure promptly was approved by Governor Shivers and put on the books. In this law, Texas became the first State to make membership in the Communist Party and its "fronts" a felony, to outlaw the party itself. The law also imposed drastic penalties on subversive activity, in or out of the Communist Party. It implemented the Department of Public Safety and law-enforcement authorities and prosecutors, in carrying the law into effect.

Texas' forward-looking anti-Communist law was a direct product of the violent, terroristic assault on Port Arthur.

And who can say but that the grim facts discolsed by Texas in meeting this meance, the massive response of public sentiment to Texas' defensive action, inspired Congress, this month, to apply the drastic Texas remedy to the Communist party throughout America?

Daily Crude Average Has Gain For Week

TULSA (AP)—Daily average crude oil and condensate production in the United States rose 16,200 barrels during the week ended Aug. 21, the Oil and Gas Journal's survey showed today.

Total daily average was listed as 6,164,050 barrels, making the Journal's figures on 1954 cumulative production 1,487,301,050 barrels compared to 1,521,724,844 a year ago.

More than half the week's net gain was registered by Kansas, up 8,900 barrels to 329,300 barrels. Oklahoma followed with an advance of 7,900 barrels to 500,100.

The greatest decline was Illinois' 4,700 barrels to 180,600 barrels.

A one hundred barrel gain was recorded for New Mexico, to 207,700.

Production was unchanged in Texas at 2,552,650.

Wishing Well Yields Tidy Sum Of Pennies

DETROIT (AP)—Workmen cleaned out a wishing well at the Detroit Institute of Arts yesterday and found $1,206.07 in small change.

The well was placed in the lobby several years ago when Institute officials sought to discourage visitors from tossing pennies in a fountain exhibit. The pennies clogged the fountain and resulted in high repair bills.

The money will be used to purchase new exhibits for the museum.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

(Letters from the readers of the Daily News are always welcome, provided they are signed by the writer and give his correct address. They will be printed subject to the publisher's discretion, based on whether the material contained is libelous or the language offensive. Letters should not exceed 300 words.)

To The Editor Of The Daily News:

This political situation has gone so far afield that it must be embarrassing to many people.

Because our skins are white, need we scorn the goodwill and cooperation of any human being—even though his skin be black? Our colored people are accepted by Christ and He in turn has been accepted by them. Has a special deal been made?

Because we of this vicinity are an unorganized group of individuals, need we be intolerant of those poeple who feel the desire or necessity of organizing?

Regardless of the strength of our convictions, shouldn't we try to help others and ourselves rather than to belittle, slander bemean them because of their color or creed?

Council Finds Judges Are Working Overtime

BOSTON (AP)—The City Council learned yesterday municipal judges have been "working overtime" to keep $30-a-day special justices off the bench so five courtrooms can be repainted.

The $6,000 they saved through the overtime now is in the Suffolk County payroll account, Chief Justice Elijah Adlow reported.

The Council approved his request to have the sum transferred to the account for contractual services to brighten up the courtrooms.

Open House Set By Sweetwater Library

SWEETWATER — Open house for the new County-City Library here will be held September 10 and 11, with library operations to begin September 13.

The library is housed on the second floor of the municipal building in the same quarters formerly occupied by a membership lending library. This library was a project of the Nolan County Woman's Forum, and the forum plans to continue giving voluntary workers and other aid to the new library.

Both Sweetwater and Nolan County are contributing to the support of the library. No charge will be made for the use of the library by Nolan County residents.

Fees for non-county residents will range from $1 for students to $5 per year for family groups. Much of the money for the purchase of new books must come from donations or from cash and new books placed on the memorial shelf.

New Project Will Boost Campaign For Clubhouse

The B&PW club has a project in full swing now that will give every woman in Snyder an opportunity to personally aid in raising funds for a Women's Clubhouse. The club members have found an outlet for used stockings that are usually thrown away. A business concern in Chicago has agreed to buy all the hosiery that they can collect. It does not matter how many runs or holes the stockings have in them.

The money received from the sale of the stockings will be donated to the clubhouse fund. The club will be paid fifteen cents a pound for the hosiery so it will require large quantities of them to amount to much money.

Containers for the discarded stockings will be placed down town for the convenience of anyone wishing to help in this project. If any donor wishes, she may call ZAIDA BROWN at 3-5779 or Mrs. NORMAN SPENCER at 3-6323 and they will send a club member out to collect the donation. Now is a good time to "kill two birds with one stone" — get rid of old stockings and aid in financing a clubhouse.

What Was This Call Worth?

"Mommy, can I stay at grandmother's tonight?" That was little Carol's very first telephone call — a real thrill that can hardly be measured in dollars and cents. Yet, Mrs. Caroline Niemeyer, Carol's grandmother, can tell you what that call cost. She is one of a group of customers who kept day-by-day records of calls made for a week — a total of 30 calls covering 133 miles. Then she broke her telephone bill down into the actual cost per call. President Hints At New Hope For European Defense Plans

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—Just as gloomy winds were blowing from Europe, bearing tidings that the European Defense Community looked all but dead, President Eisenhower spoke hopefully of peace there.

He didn't say what made him so optimistic. EDC was intended to be a major piece of insurance against Russian attack.

Eisenhower told his nationwide television audience last night not to be "too discouraged" about the prospects for peace in Europem He said some great statesmen were working on it.

But that's what they've been doing for years, particularly in a big conference last week to breathe life into EDC, and chances for the single European army never looked so bleak as now.

"There is still something to be done in that region," he said, "and we are going to do it."

If this country has any solution for the EDC dilemma, it hasn't been disclosed, although no one has been more interested in the creation of EDC than the United States.

And if the British Prime Minister, Sir Winston Churchill, and the French Premier and foreign minister, Pierre Mendes-France, found a solution they didn't indicate it after a five-hour meeting yesterday.

The Frenchman rushed to Churchill after the foreign ministers of the other EDC countries turned him down cold at Brussels last week on his ideas for the kind of EDC which the French might buy but the others wouldn't.

The single European army—made up of troops from France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg—would have been, if it became a reality, a first, solid defense against Russian attack in Europe.

It would mean the six no longer could have any national armies of their own but would pool their men in a single army, wearing the same uniforms, and under a unified command chosen from among themselves.

But it would also mean letting the Germans rearm. They'd have 12 divisions in EDC. Yet that was one of the main reasons for proposing the single army in the first place.

Since Germany was bound to rearm someday, she could be kept from becoming an international menace again if her troops were in a single army with her neighbors instead of in an all-German army.

The more the French thought of it the less they liked the idea although they were the ones who suggested EDC.

The thought of Germany's rearming at all worried the French. They envisioned a day when the Germans would dominate EDC. They didn't want to see France without a single national army of her own.

EDC couldn't come into existence without approval by the French Parliament. It hasn't approved yet. Mendes-France said he'd put the question to Parliament this month.

Mendes-France proposed a remedy for French opposition to EDC. He suggested to the other EDC ministers at Brussels last week 14 pages of changes in EDC. Unless the rest would accept them, reports quoted him as saying, the French Parliament would vote against the project.

But those same reports said his proposed changes were so drastic that they would, in effect, scuttle any hope for EDC, a real, single European army, for years to come. The others told him no.

That, it seemed, meant the death of EDC when Parliament voted, unless some way out could be found, equally satisfying to the French and the EDC members. None has been made known officially so far.

The French, with a fear of a rearmed Germany which may seem abnormal sometimes, might go along if the British would join EDC to give the French assurance the Germans could never run the single army.

Mendes-France may be playing a shrewd game here. He can tell the French Parliament now he made the best try he could to get changes pleasing to the French and then say without French approval EDC was dead. Faced with a choice between no EDC and Germany rearming on her own later, Parliament might say yes.

Black Market Ring Raided

TOKYO (AP) — Police arrested seven foreigners, including one American, on charges of operating a multimillion-dollar syndicate in black market dollars which were sent to Red China, Kyodo news service said today.

The men were seized in Kobe, Yokohama and Tokyo over the weekend and charged with illicit foreign currency transactions, Kyodo said.

The American was identified as Joseph Debella, 26, of Tokyo. Five Indians and one Englishman were arrested with him.

Police said the men bought American dollar checks in various Japanese cities at a much higher rate of exchange than authorized. They then deposited the checks in U.S. and Indian banks, Kyodo reported.

Checks drawn on these accounts reportedly were cashed by a Hong Kong company and the dollars sold to Red Chinese or traders smuggling strategic materials to Red China, Kyodo said.

Hepburn Hairstyle Is Causing Big Uproar

TOKYO (AP)—Hair styles a la actress Audrey Hepburn are causing something of an uproar in Japanese bathhouse circles.

It costs Japanese women 10 yen, about 3 cents, to wash their heavy tresses at public baths. But women sporting the straight, short Hepburn-type coiffure contend they should get a reduced rate.

Bathhouse operators are holding fast.

They fear Japanese with crew cuts—or even bald heads—might seek greater reductions.

Women Asking Church Work

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Men who outnumber women 15-1 at the World Church Assembly here today had a polite—but firm—female suggestion: If they want real Christian unity, let more women in on it.

The gentle plea came from a French woman, who said women's church work is usually restricted to sisterhoods and societies — a "shadow church" — with little to do with the actual conduct of church affairs.

To get all Christians pulling together, said Miss Madeleine Barot, requires not just theological harmony but a "more complete integration of both sexes into the life of the church."

Unfortunately, she said, "the full cooperation of men and women in the service of Christ has not yet been achieved." She proposed formation of a "department of cooperation of men and women in church and society."

Her appeal came as the World Council of Churches Assembly, including delegates from 163 denominations in 48 nations, worked to set down a joint Christian assessment of current problems of man and his society.

In six conference rooms, with some 100 delegates in each, separate discussions went on in an atmosphere of mixed accents and views as the groups look for conclusions on these subjects:

International relations, evangelism, the Christian role of laymen, economic and political justice, racial issues, and christian unity.

The sectional conferences will continue until late this week, before the first tentative reports are put before the assembly for action.

On the topic of Christian unity—the ideal which provides the council's basic motive power—it was Miss Barot who produced the newest slant on the problem, which usually swirls around theological questions.

In fact, she suggested it might be that if women had more to do with the unity movement, it would get along faster.

"Women seem to have an even more intense desire for unity, world Christian fellowship and mutual help than do men," she said. "This desire cannot be satisfied by the limited participation allowed them . . ."

She noted only 38 of the 600 delegates were women, a slight improvement over the council's founding assembly six years ago when there were 19.

She said she did not favor the "aggressive feminism" which denies "any differences between men and women," but she said ideas which keep women from using their full abilities for the church "are outmoded."

SCOUTS ESCAPE INJURY

Twenty-nine Girl Scouts escaped injury when their bus struck and crumbled this one-story cottage at Plymouth, Mass. Four occupants of the house also were unhurt, including 10-month-old Danny Holmes, who was hurled under his crib as the bus swerved off the road and plowed into the cottage. The impact tore one side of the bus, which was one of a convoy carrying scouts to an outing. The bus driver suffered minor head injuries.

'Bulls' In Control, But 'Bears' Bolder

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK. (AP)—Wall Street is beginning to ask how high a bull market can climb if business in general doesn't climb with it.

The bulls say it can go on climbing because (1) the future of business looks good for the long run; (2) Washington is in a mood to give business a break — to throw no stumbling blocks in its way, to nudge it if it dawdles; and (3) many stocks have had little or no part in the 11-month climb and are moving into position now to carry on the gains, even should the blue chips take a rest.

But on Friday the 13th the New York Stock Exchange counted noses of the bears and found that the short interest was the lustiest since April 1932.

The short interest is the total of shares which have been sold short by bears. That is, those who think stock prices are going down and borrow shares to sell at the current price level with the idea that later on they can buy shares at a lower price to replace the ones they've borrowed. If it turns out that way, they pocket the difference between the high price at which they sold and the lower price at which they bought. If they guess wrong, they have to pay more than the price at which they sold.

Bears currently have sold short a total of 3,079,590 shares. That doesn't make today's short interest as big percentagewise as the one in 1932, since there are a lot more corporate shares outstanding now. But the bears a larger part of the market now than a month ago, or for quite awhile back.

Bulls are still in the majority and in control. But bears are growing bolder. Part of their pessimistic view traces to the long rise of stock prices. To bears, stocks seem ripe now, by the law of averages, for a tumble.

Bulls have convincing arguments for their long-term optimism. But, without taking sides, let's look at the points the bears are making:

Prices of many stocks have risen while the earnings of the companies involved haven't at all, or at best by a much smaller percentage. In other words, these words, these stocks aren't as big a buy now as a year ago.

Dividend payments have tended higher this year, but their advance is far smaller than the climb in the price of stocks. In other words, the yield has dropped — you get a lower percentage of return now on the amount of money you must pay for the stocks that have gained greatly in price.

Earnings prospects, in general, aren't as brilliant now as in former years despite the healthy tone of the economy. Tax cuts help, but from now on — the bears argue — the chances of sales totals climbing are, at the best, doubtful because of the growing competition in most industries. And even when sales are pushed higher, in many cases profit margins are narrowing. Again, it's competition that squeezes margins, because prices must be held down although operating costs tend always to rise.

Turboprop To Receive Tests

BURBANK, Calif. (AP)—The Lockheed YC130, first turboprop power cargo plane built for the Air Force, is at Edwards Air Force Base for extensive flight tests.

The four-engine ship was test flown there yesterday, a distance of 60 air miles.

The craft has a wingspread of 132 feet, double wheels on the nose gear and double landing gear wheels in tandem which retract into the fuselage. It can be loaded from the rear of the fuselage.

Designed for logistics support, assault missions and air evacuation duties, it has T56 Allison engines capable of lifting it quickly. The plane was airborne yesterday after traveling one-third of the runway, engineers said.

TOKYO (AP)—The Emperor and Empress of Japan took their first airplane ride today in a four-engined transport piloted by an American.

Happy Children Are Answer To Problem

VALLEJO, Calif. (AP) — How do you raise a child in the 20th century, which many people are beginning to regard as the century of juvenile delinquency?

I asked that question of my friend, Wyman Riley, managing editor of the Gibson publications here. He and his wife, Marjorie, have the problem of raising six children. How do they go about it?

"We don't think of it as a problem," said Riley. "And we don't have many set theories about it. We like children, and try to make our home so attractive they would rather spend their time there than elsewhere."

The rollcall of the Riley offsprings (and the Lord only knows whether it is complete yet) is as follows: Margaret 15, Ellen 14, Brendan 9, Timothy 6, Michael 3, Sheila "going on one."

The Rileys live in a big, old-fashioned house, the kind that used to be built for large families, with plenty of yard space to play in. The house has four bathrooms, only one of which, Riley said, "is hung with my wife's clothing."

"Our home is big enough so that each kid has his own room," he said. "Each takes pride in his room and keeps it clean, and each kid has his own duties around the house.

"The older children help take care of the younger ones, and seem to like to. We are lucky in that we have two home-made baby sitters in our two older girls and we pay them the going rate—50 cents an hour."

They are a close-knit family. Wyman and Marge both believe their main duties as parents are to teach their children good manners, give them a religious upbringing, and keep them busy in a wholesome way. They say family prayers together each night, go on picnics or clam digging parties together on Sundays.

The Riley home has a television room, and eight school desks, painted a fire engine red, face the TV set—one for each child and two extra for their chums.

"We don't ration them on television," said Riley. "The only rule is that they must finish their home work before they can watch it.

"Comic books aren't a worry with us. We don't have them in the house. Our children are great readers, but we started them off with good books, and now they seem to prefer them.

"Our two oldest girls are becoming interested in social activities. If they want to go to a school dance, we take them there—and we bring them home.

"There is a wading pool in the yard, and space to build tree houses and play games. The children like to help Marge in her hobby—gardening. She has planted tomato vines and other vegetables around the lawn. That may sound crazy, but—well, it looks nice."

What about movies?

"Our kids aren't particularly interested in movies," said Riley. "They don't have to go out of the home to find entertainment. They have more fun at home. They like to bring their friends home, and we encourage them to do so."

Few crises arise in the Riley household that require punishment.

"Restricting a child to his room, or cutting down his social activity in some way is enough," Riley said. "The important thing is to explain fully to a child why he is being punished, and never to punish him until he does understand why. Then he will take it in good grace. Children have a pretty fair sense of justice.

"But exposition—explaining why one thing is right and another thing is wrong—works better than punishment. The mother sets them the example in most families and our kids have been lucky in having the right kind of mother.

"I guess I sound like a pretty haphazard father, but actually our six kids are too happy to be much of a problem. We all like each other, and enjoy doing things together, and I guess that's pretty much the story."

The Milwaukee Braves have eight days left to get back into the National League pennant fight. After that it will be too late.

The big tests start tonight when Philadelphia moves into County Stadium in Milwaukee for the first of three games. Then comes New York for two games and Brooklyn for four.

A sweep would make the Braves dangerous contenders. A misstep anywhere along the path could be the end.

Last week should be edged in black on Milwaukee calendars. Only seven days ago the Braves were a mere 3½ games out of the lead and owned a nine-game winning streak. Then came four losses in six games and now they're 7½ behind.

Although faced with a real battle to stay in first division, the Phillies have had a lot to say already about the positions of the first two teams in the pennant race. In the last week, for example, they personally added three games to the Giants' edge over Brooklyn by beating the Dodgers three games and losing three to the Giants.

Milwaukee holds a 9-8 edge over New York and a 10-6 bulge over the Dodgers so far. But against the Phillies the Braves only have been able to break even at 8-8.

The Giants and Dodgers both open 10-game swings through the West today. The Giants stop off first in Chicago. Brooklyn begins in Cincinnati. As soon as the two clubs come home they collide in a three-game series at the Polo Grounds, Sept. 3-4-5.

The forthcoming week in the American League includes an extended tour of the Eastern seaboard by the fast-moving Cleveland Indians, prior to their final three-game visit to New York.

The Yankees, meanwhile, will be nursing their wounds at home with two games against Baltimore, three against Detroit and a single date with Chicago.

Yesterday the Washington Senators whipped Philadelphia twice, 8-5 and 10-3. Eddie Yost and Jim Busby combined to drive in six runs in the double-header. Chuck Stobbs stayed all the way in the first game for his eighth victory. Gus Keriazakos pitched his first complete game in the majors in the nightcap.

Cincinnati's game in Milwaukee was rained out.

In Some Ways, Man O'War Is Outshined By Native Dancer

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—Millions of persons who never saw a race course first hand in their lives experienced a feeling of personal loss at the news from Saratoga that the great grey horse Native Dancer had run his last race because of a recurring sore foot and would be retired to the stud next spring.

Those same millions who were privileged to watch the first television hero on the equine world compile his string of 21 victories in 22 starts also will feel they have a personal stake when the first of the Dancer's sons and daughters try to emulate their famous sire in the spring of 1958.

Never before has an animal so captured the imagination of the public at large.

But the comparative few who were privileged to watch the immortal Man o'War rack up his 20 of 21 more than 30 years ago will never agree that the darling of TV could have outfooted their horse under a load of weight. No one will ever know for certain how the two would have come out in a match race. But there are at least some interesting figures to play around with now.

Man o'War in his day set three American time records. The Dancer didn't set even one, yet this doesn't necessarily prove anything. The fact is a comparison of the best times set by the two horses at the nine distances they both ran shows Native Dancer would have beaten Big Red 6 to 3. Man o'War would have scored the most decisive victory of the series, by a matter of 3.4 seconds at a mile and a quarter.

The Man o'War diehards will say today's tracks are faster, and many of them undoutedly are, especially several on the West Coast. But it happens that each horse set most of his fastest times on the same tracks, at Saratoga and Belmont, which still have the same footing and contours they had in Man o'War's day..

Where Man o'War proved himself a wondrous weight carrier in winning one big handicap under 138 pounds, the Dancer packed 137 as he ran away from a poor field in his final race last week at Saratoga. It would be fatuous to suggest the Grey Ghost couldn't have packed another pound on that occasion. And the Dancer proved he could win in any sort of going, including muddy, where we have always understood that Man o'War was kept off any track that was labeled worse than "slow."

GRID CHECKUPS SET TOMORROW

Football players from three classes in the high school will report to the gymnasium at 8:30 a.m. tomorrow for physical checkups.

Coach John Conley has called the squad in for the first time this season. Actual workouts will not start until Friday. Freshmen will not be checked until later. Conley urged all boys from the three upper classes interested in playing to show up at the gym tomorrow.

Half Of Longhorn Is Washed Out

By The Associated Press

Rain kept the Longhorn League race moving at half speed Monday night, washing out Artesia at Carlsbad and Big Spring at Roswell.

The showers left the spotlight pretty much on the second division, where Odessa beat fourth-place Midland 2-0 and San Angelo nipped Sweetwater 5-3.

Tuesday night's slate calls for doubleheaders at Carlsbad and Roswell. Otherwise the schedule is the same.

Ray Mink's 3-hitter gave the young righthander his fifth victory since joining Odessa. He struck out two, walked one and allowed no one past first base.

A 4-run surge by San Angelo in the last of the sixth broke up a Bob Vruck and Sweetwater's Don Stevens. Sweetwater was ahead 2-1 when the Colts batted around in the sixth.

Vruck got the decision with a 4-hitter. Stevens allowed nine hits.

J. P. Ward, Jr., is the new high school basketball coach recently named here to replace Gene Gibson, who resigned to become freshman coach at Tech. In Addition to coaching basketball, Ward will coach freshman football and high school tennis. He has been coaching six years, the last two of which he was head coach at Vega. During his four years as basketball coach at Anson, he took one district championship.

President Powel Crosley Jr., has been with the Cincinnati Redlegs for 20 years.

Casey Works To Get Out Of Loss Streak

NEW YORK (AP)—His team 5½ lengths off the phenomenal .721 pace of the Cleveland Indians, Casey Stengel today put himself on the spot with an "it's up to me" declaration as his New York Yankees opened a vital nine-game home stand.

"This is where the manager comes in," said Casey. "It's up to me to get them out of this streak."

The "streak" Casey referred to was the loss of three games in Boston last weekend, a body blow, most observers believe, to the club's chances of winning their sixth straight American League flag.

But Stengel sees the Yankees' plight as far from hopeless.

"Don't forget we still have five more games left with Cleveland," he observed. "The Yankees will get on their feet again and make a comeback."

The two top contenders are scheduled to get together in Yankee Stadium in a three-game set, Aug. 31-Sept. 2 and then wind up their season's series with a doubleheader in Cleveland on Sept. 12.

Although disappointed over his team's showing against the red-hot Red Sox, Stengel said it wasn't the lack of hustle that caused the Yankees' demise.

"I never saw a team try so hard as this one did in Boston. These guys have been putting out all season. When you lose two men like Slaughter and Woodling because they ran into walls chasing flies, you know the effort is there."

Stengel's morale received a much needed boost late yesterday when he learned that Woodling probably would return to action in two weeks. When he hurt his wrist at Fenway Park on Saturday, it was feared Gene would be lost for the rest of the campaign.

Three more of Casey's invalids will be available for tonight's game against Baltimore.

Jim McDonald has recovered from a groin injury, Hank Bauer from a pelvis ailment and Allie Reynolds' right knee is sound again.

"No, we're not helpless yet," Casey emphasized as he huddled with himself over tonight's batting order.

Sears Is President Of Red Raider Club

Ernest Sears, local insurance salesman, last night was elected president of the Red Raider Club in Snyder.

The club organized last night as a booster group for Texas Tech athletics. Officers other than Sears are Dr. Robert Hargrove and Renal B. Rosson, vice-presidents, and Bob Dawson, secretary-treasurer. The four officers will appoint directors.

Meeting with about 50 persons from this area who attended the meeting were DeWitt Weaver, head coach at Texas Tech; Dee Andros and Beattie Feathers, assistants recently replacing Wade Walker and Bob Kellogg, who resigned to go to Mississippi State; George O'Neal of Brownfield, president of the West Texas Red Raider clubs; Gene Gibson, former Snyder coach who is now freshman basketball coach and a program manager during the football season; and Bill Homes, sports publicity director.

O'Neal, after Weaver had shown a film of the Tech-Auburn game in the Gator Bowl, told the group that Texas Tech is not old enough to have a strong alumni, so it must depend on such organizations as the Red Raider clubs, which are made up of football fans who attended Tech and those who did not, for support. The clubs are formed to unify West Texas behind the Tech athletic teams, to get fans in West Texas to report prospective college athletes to Tech, and to get financial support for the food and travel athletes must have, he said.

Weaver gave a brief preview of the Red Raiders for this year, saying that he secured 90 per cent of the new players he attempted to get this year. He lost one player to the Southwest Conference after he had announced his intention to go to Tech, but he gained five or six who had intended previously to attend a Southwest school, he reported.

"We expect to have a tougher team this year, but for short yardage," Weaver said, explaining that such a back as Bobby Cavazos is hard to replace. Cavazos led Tech to the 35-13 Gator Bowl win over Auburn. Weaver reviewed his use of a "second team" early in the Gator Bowl game, explaining that that team had become an almost independent machine last year and had even developed pride in itself. He pointed out that through extensive use of the second team he came out of last season with a large group of experienced players left. In the Gator Bowl, Weaver played all 44 of the squad he took to Florida. At no time during the year did he use less than 27 players, he said.

Weaver talked of the enlarging athletic department at Tech, telling the group of the new cinder track, baseball fields, a 10,000-seat coliseum being built on the Tech campus, and two gymnasiums recently authorized by the school's governing board.

Tech has tried numerous times to gain admission to the Southwest Conference. Weaver urged Snyder fans to write the Southwest schools in support of Tech's desire to get into the conference. He said Tech has Texas A&M scheduled in games until 1958 and that it will meet almost all the Southwest schools in the next few years.

"We think we can compete with them," he said.

City Loop Game Is Rained Out, Reset

The City Baseball League had another rainout last night, the second of its final playoffs.

The league will resume play either Thursday or Friday night, depending on when the Pony League finishes play. The Pony League may end tonight, and if it does the city loop will play again Thursday.

Magnolia and Tri-Service are still battling for the league championship, and so far Tri-Service is ahead. That team has two wins in the four-out-of-seven series.

Mature Candidates

OXFORD, Ohio (AP)—Nine candidates for degrees at Miami University's graduation next Friday are 50 years of age or older. The eldest is Mrs. Stern Holcomb, 68, of Eaton, Ohio.

More Playoffs In Pony Loop

The second game of the finals in the Pony League championship playoffs is scheduled for 8 o'clock tonight on the baseball field in Towle Park.

Meeting in the game, which is a part of a two-out-of-three series, are the Scurry Butane Dodgers and the Von Roeder Red Sox.

The Dodgers took the first game of the playoff last week 2-1. Through the regular season, the Dodgers downed the Red Sox three times and lost to them that many times.

Hurlers for the Red Sox include J. T. Myers, Dick Hayes, Bud Morgan, and Kenneth Keyser. Those for the Dodgers are Ronnie Baker and Jimmy Griggs.

Top hitters for the Sox include A. L. Minita, Keyser, Mike Stipe, and Hollis Chandler. For the Dodgers are Baker, Neil Boyd, Roe Lashaway, and Mickey McGrew.

Little League World Series Starts Today

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—World Series time for the small fry arrived today with eight all star teams from every corner of the country seeking the 8th annual Little League baseball world championship.

Entries from Colton, Calif., and Hampton-Wythe, Va., were scheduled to play the first of four opening round games today in the four-day tournament.

All eight contenders, none ever before the titlist but including Schenectady, N. Y., 1953 runnerup, will see action on the first day.

Other games are: Melrose Park Ill., vs. Galveston, Tex.; Schenectady, N. Y., vs. Lakeland, Fla.; and Needham, Mass., vs. Masontown, Pa.

Albuquerque Finally Takes Win In WT-NM

By The Associated Press

The Albuquerque Dukes finally won a ball game in the West Texas-New Mexico League.

The Dukes clipped Lubbock 4-1 Monday night despite a 4-hit pitching performance by Charles Simmons of the Hubbers. One of those blows was a 3-run homer in the first inning by Duke Manager Tom Jordan.

Amarillo went eight innings in the first game of a scheduled doubleheader before beating Plainview 1-0 in the only other action. The second game, along with Pampa's scheduled twin bill at Clovis, was rained out.

It had rained before the game at Albuquerque and most of the Dukes played in their stocking feet. George Socha scattered nine hits in taking the victory for the Dukes. The win snapped an 11-game losing streak.

WARNING!
TEXAS FARMERS-RANCHERS WARNED OF CIO LABOR PLANS

AUSTIN, Tex., Farmers and ranchers of Texas were warned this week that the CIO plans to organize the farm workers of Texas if its candidate wins the Governor's race.

This warning came from Governor Allan Shivers who charged that the backers of his opponents "want to turn the state government over to the same bunch that is trying to wreck Port Arthur."

"One of the first things they would do is put one of their red-hot organizers from Port Arthur in as labor commissioner. Then every time a farmer or rancher wanted to hire someone he would have to go through the CIO."

Governor Shivers said there was no doubt in his mind that the aim of the CIO after the job of organizing industry in Port Arthur and along the Gulf Coast is finished is to begin organizing farm labor in all parts of Texas.

"You can imagine what will happen when the CIO starts dictating how many laborers are needed to plow ten acres of land, refusing to allow a man to work more than thirty-five hours a week during the harvesting season and telling how much a farmer can charge for his crop," he said.

The Shivers administration, the Governor said, has worked hard to help preserve and protect the rights of the working man.

"But as long as I am Governor, the professional labor bosses who have been sent to Texas from the East—specifically those in the CIO and its Political Action Committee—are not going to run our State Government," Shivers promised.

Shivers said the average working man in Texas appreciated good government and that they were not going to let CIO bosses and professional organizers from the East do their thinking—and voting—for them.

LOVE IN VAIN

A wild Mallard duck struts for his lady love, undiscouraged by the cold response. She and her ducklings are concrete ornaments on the lawn of a summer home at Helderberg Lake near Albany, N. Y. The owners, Mr. and Mrs. Al Sklar, say the Mallard snuggles up to his cold cutie to sleep at night.

Motorman Is Caught In Cab

NEW YORK (AP)—Motorman David Moclair, 52, spent seven agonized hours trapped in the wrecked cab of a subway train yesterday. Both legs were crushed and he was finally freed last night after one foot was amputated.

Moclair's empty train ran into a cement wall after a tripping device apparently failed and let it smash through a bumping block at the end of the track.

Rescue workers first used acetylene torches to cut through to Moclair, but the heat became unbearable for him and they turned to saws, which slowed progress. The motorman was comforted during his ordeal by his 16-year-old son and his wife, Mary.

Moclair could move only one hand, but this enabled him to reach for drinks of water and smoke an occasional cigarette. Doctors on the scene gave him drugs to ease his pain.

Moclair was taken to a hospital in critical condition.

Good Grooming Not Necessarily An Asset

BOSTON (AP)—Mrs. Constance Wilmer's assertion that she was voted the best dressed girl when she was in high school didn't impress Municipal Court Judge Jennie L. Berron yesterday.

The woman judge sentenced the 22-year-old Mrs. Wilmer to five days in jail on a charge of larceny of $27.54 by using another woman's charge account in a Boston department store.

"I think," said the judge, "they should stop turning the heads of young girls with beauty queen and best dressed contests."

Mississippi's Voters Mark Ballots Today

By SAM JOHNSON

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Mississippi's senior senator and lieutenant governor waited out the long day as voters began marking ballots at 7 a.m. in today's Democratic primary for U.S. senator.

Victory in the primary means election in staunchly Democratic Mississippi.

Republican James A. White is entered in the November general election but is expected to get only a token vote.

Sen. James Eastland last night predicted a 100,000-vote victory. Earlier in the campaign he described "segregation and communism" as the two major issues. His opponent, Lt. Gov. Carroll Gartin, basically agrees with him.

Both agree segregation is here to stay and both oppose communism.

Gartin, also predicting victory but by a smaller margin, went again on television and radio in his final bid for votes.

The 41-year-old lieutenant governor said his election would be "a great victory for the people over the professional politicians . . ."

The campaign's basic issue boils down to "seniority vs. devotion to duty."

The 49-year-old Eastland emphasized his 12 years Senate experience and his membership on the Senate Agriculture and Judiciary committees.

Gartin replied that his "devotion to duty" would be more valuable than Eastland's seniority, which Gartin claims is used mostly on the senator's 6,000-acre plantation.

A light turnout is expected because of a lack of local races to stir up interest. Most estimates are around 200,000, less than half the estimated registration.

Voters in the 6th Congressional District in southeast Mississippi decide whether U.S. Rep. William M. Colmer will represent the district for his 12th term.

Colmer, dean of Mississippi's delegation in Congress, is opposed by State Sen. Clem Britton and Walter Lowry of Hattiesburg, a farmer and carpenter.

Five other congressmen won Democratic nomination — which means election — without opposition.

Mitchell County To Open Rodeo Thursday

Mitchell County's nineteenth annual Frontier Rodeo will have its opening performance at 8 p.m. Thursday following the rodeo parade at 6 p.m.

Bob Estes Lone Star Rodeo Ranch will direct the show. Bud Townsend will be rodeo announcer. More than $1,650 in prizes will be offered to rodeo contestants, with $200 in prize money for parade entries. The rodeo is to continue through Saturday, with shows at 8 p.m. nightly.

Heather, which grows in Scotland on land too poor to support grass is called "poverty plant" by the British.

Carries Fad A Bit Too Far

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Connie James, television actress and model, thinks her husband carried the do-it-yourself fad too far.

When she asked $12.50 for a hair-do, he said he'd do the job himself—after he learned how, the 20-year-old actress charged yesterday in a complaint for separate maintenance.

She asked her husband, Steve Ellingson, 43, who writes a do-it-yourself column for 400 newspapers, to pay her $900 monthly from earnings which she estimated at $5,000 a month. His property holdings, the complaint said, are worth $100,000.

Ellingson accused her of "intolerable extravagance" when she brought home a 97-cent house plant, and paid only half the check after inviting her parents to dinner, she charged.

They separated last Friday — right after the dinner party.

Michigan has put hawks and owls on the protected list because they are valuable to farmers in killing rodents.

Officers Asked To Keep Feet On Ground

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—City Manager Robert E. Layton wants policemen here to keep their feet on the ground. He ordered officers in police cruisers to stop using the dashboards of the cars as foot rests.

Since becoming city manager, Layton has issued 83 new rules and regulations for the police department.

Among other things, he banned "mooching" of food and drink from stores and restaurants. Along with a "dress up" order he furnished police headquarters with a large mirror.

To forestall any headaches from all the new regulations, Layton directed the chief of police to keep aspirin available at all times.

Persimmon trees grow in New Haven, Conn., and the owners believe this is the most northern point in the United States in which they grow.
