Italy OKs Abortions

ROME (AP) — Italy's lower house of parliament has passed one of Western Europe's most liberal abortion laws to replace a Mussolini-era ban on abortions as a crime against the purity of the Italian race.

The measure, strongly opposed by the Roman Catholic church and the ruling Christian Democratic party, would give women the final say on abortions within the first three months of pregnancy.

Last Man Sips Prize

WALHALLA, S.C. (AP) — Harry Fayonsky, who outlived 12 fellow World War I veterans to win a bottle of 1937 California Tokay wine, has tasted his prize and pronounced it: "Not too bad."

Fayonsky, 70-year-old survivor of Walhalla's "Last Man's Club" sipped the wine from a shot glass Friday as friends and relatives of departed club members looked on and laughed a little.

Missing Just Gone?

PORT ARANSAS, Tex. (AP) — There is some evidence that missing North Texas grain dealer Robert Johnson's Jan. 3 disappearance "might have been planned," says a Port Aransas constable.

Ben Cash, who has led the investigation since it began, said Friday he has evidence indicating Johnson, 41, is "possibly in Central or South America."

Pardon Reaction Mixed

By The Associated Press

Qualified praise from antiwar and religious groups - along with strong opposition from conservative senators and veterans' organizations - greeted President Carter's full pardon for most Vietnam-era draft evaders.

Evaders themselves - at least five in prison and thousands in self-imposed exile - and their parents expressed relief that they could return to their former lives. But some criticized Carter for excluding deserters.

The SDN Column

There could be word any time now on the application for a Deep Creek Flood Control planning grant. The State Soil and Water Conservation Board told a local delegation last Sept. 16 that it would make decisions on planning grant applications "after the first of the year."

Erwin Pavlik of the Soil Conservation Service said that did not necessarily mean this month, but that it likely meant some time in the first quarter of the year. Pavlik also said that several applications are at the same stage as the Deep Creek application. However, hopes are high here that the Deep Creek project will get its planning funds this time. Members of the state board appeared to be much more impressed by the Deep Creek situation last fall than they were following their hearing here a year earlier which resulted in a rejection.

Local interest continues high, so far as we have been able to determine. The Chamber of Commerce reports that a number of its "Goals for Snyder" forms mention the Deep Creek project as a desirable project, although tabulations have not been completed in the survey.

When bankers are as optimistic as those in Snyder, the rest of us are bound to be encouraged over the outlook for our community.

Roger B. Mize, president of Snyder National Bank, and Martin Brooks, president of West Texas State Bank, both had enthusiastic reports for their stockholders at their annual meetings the past week. And they were just as enthusiastic and optimistic in off-the-cuff comments following the meetings. Both banks had great years in 1976 and they appear to have confidence that things will continue to look up in the community. The same was true at Snyder Savings and Loan Association, which Mize also serves as president.

Deposits were at high levels and profits were up. But possibly the most significant report was that the volume of loans was up and the numbver of "bad" loans was mostly regarded as insignificant.

Wives Of Three Pilots Get Their Own Licenses

By BUCK SITTON

"It's certainly the biggest thrill of my life," declared Evelyn Thomas.

"It's great, it's wonderful," said Delores Key.

"It was certainly the biggest challenge of our lives," said Ryhlene Stoker.

The three Snyder women were discussing what they thought of flying. They recently qualified for their pilots licenses, and their husbands are all pilots.

Delores is the wife of Jimmie Joe Key. Evelyn is the wife of John Thomas. And Rhylene is the wife of Richard Stoker. Their husbands held a party for them Thursday night and pinned their wings on them.

All three took their ground school and flight training at WesTex Aircraft in Lubbock. Delores and Rhylene began their instruction on Aug. 17, and Evelyn began training on Sept. 12. Delores got her license on Dec. 14. Evelyn got her license on Jan. 7. Rhylene got her license on Jan. 14.

"The reason they trained at WesTex was so they could learn the proper use of the radio and radio phraseology," pointed out Jimmie Joe Key, husband of Delores.

Now that the women have their pilots' licenses, they plan to get an instrument rating after they've completed 150 hours of flying.

All three of the women are checked out in a Cherokee 140 and a Cherokee Warrior. Evelyn said she will be flying a Bonanza. Delores will be flying a Comanche. Rhylene will fly a Cherokee Warrior.

Florida's Loss Is Texas' Gain

Edinburg, Tex. (AP) — Florida's loss has become Texas' gain.

The recent freeze that struck the Sunshine State has caused the price of oranges and grapefruit to jump 25 per cent, said a spokesman for the Texas citrus industry who added:

"If the damage in Florida has been as great as we've heard, the demand for our fruit should increase. But it's still too early to tell. The Florida freeze may have not done that much damage...they could have a lot of fruit in the packing houses already.

"The Florida freeze could keep our prices high to the next two or three years if they have experienced a killer freeze which kills the trees," said Mike Wallace, the general manager of Texas Citrus Mutual in Edinburg.

Excellent Crop Is Out Of Field

One of Scurry County's better cotton crops is out of the field, although some county gins still had cotton on their yards at the end of the week.

The ginning figures were approaching the 49,000-bale mark, with 45,455 already processed and some 3,535 bales waiting at the gins.

Both the yield and the price of cotton were somewhat surprising here this season. Pre-harvest estimates ranged mostly in the 35,000 to 40,000-bale area. Although there was a sharp downturn toward the end of the harvest season, prices were unusually strong at the outset, with some Scurry County cotton going for more than 70 cents per pound. And the bulk of the crop brought 60 cents or more. Prices since the first of the year dipped into the fifties, which in prior seasons would have been considered extremely high. Estimated value of the county's 1976 cotton crop ran as high as $15 million or more.

Ginning reports for the season follow:

Carter Hosts Party For US Military Brass

By RICHARD E. MEYER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jimmy Carter is celebrating his new presidency with a party for the military who Carter's critics say will find it harder to mobilize the nation because he pardoned draft dodgers.

Army, Air Force and Navy brass were invited to one of a string of receptions at the White House today. The others were for Congress and the diplomatic corps.

After an hour and a half set aside for a meeting of the National Security Council to discuss Vice President Walter F. Mondale's upcoming trip around the world, Carter planned more festivities.

The full and unconditional pardon for draft evaders not involved in violent acts was the major action of Carter's first full day in office, which otherwise was given over to continuing inaugural activities.

Carter's pardon was hailed by critics of the Vietnam war and draft evaders and their families, but drew fire from conservatives in Congress and such groups as the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

T. Cooper Holt, executive director of the VFW's Washington office, said, "President Carter will have to accept the responsibility of arming our military in case of another confrontation with a foreign power."

In other matters, the new president announced:

-That his top energy official, James R. Schlesinger, met with natural gas pipeline officials who proposed allocating gas a-among the firms and selling it at unregulated prices for six months.

-That the Secret Service would continue to protect former Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller and former Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger for 30 days, and former President Ford's daughter, Susan, for 60 days.

-That Greg Schneiders, cleared last week of illegally receiving unemployment pay while he was a restaurant consultant, will be White House projects adviser at a still-undetermined salary.

That Hugh Carter Jr., son of the President's first cousin, will be special assistant for administration at a salary of $42,000 a year.

Carter's pardon means draft dodgers in the United States can stop worrying about prosecution and those in exile can return home with impunity.

It also means those earning clemency in public service jobs can quit.

And it frees at least five men from federal prison who were convicted of draft law violations.

Snyder Man Found Slain

Clyde Dennis, 78, a retired rancher and oilfield worker and long-time Scurry County resident, was found shot to death Saturday morning on the back porch of his home at 2809 Avenue Q.

Justice of the Peace Bobby Goodwin, who was called to the scene in his capacity as coroner, said he was making a preliminary ruling of homicide.

Officers from the Snyder Police Department and the Scurry County Sheriff's office, along with District Attorney Pete Green were investigating.

Officers said that Mr. Dennis' body was found at about 11:07 a.m. Saturday by a daughter, Helen Bowlin.

Two .22 caliber shells were found near the body, officers said, but it was not determined immediately whether the weapon involved was a pistol or a rifle.

Goodwin ordered an autopsy following his preliminary ruling of homicide.

Goodwin said Mr. Dennis had been shot three times, twice in the chest and once in the head. He estimated that the body could have been on the porch 8 to 12 hours, and that rigor mortis had set in.

Goodwin said he could find no indication that there had been a struggle.

The body was to be taken to the Southwest Academy of Forensic Sciences in Dallas for an autopsy.

Five Campus Maps Installed At WTC

Visitors and students new to the Western Texas College campus now have assistance available at all times in locating buildings on the campus.

Five maps of the campus have been installed on red brick pedestals about three feet high at strategic spots for help in identifying buildings. The maps were placed (1) near the Museum Building north of the flag poles, (2) on the walk entering the campus from the West Parking lot, (3) on the walk entering the campus from the East Parking Lot, (4) at the southwest corner of the Central Courtyard near the Learning Resource Center and (5) at the southwest corner of the Central Courtyard north of the Fine Arts Building.

Each of the maps shows the complete campus and gives a "You Are Here" identification according to the location of a particular map. Paper copies of a campus map are available at the information desk in the Museum building and in the office of the registrar in the Administration Building. Visitors are always welcome to inquire for information in any office on campus.

MAPS INSTALLED—Dr. Ben Brock, WTC vice president, stands beside one of the new maps of the campus installed recently for the benefit of campus visitors.

Emblezzer Gave Gifts To Lover

DETROIT (AP)—Fashionable, high-living Mildred Charla Wattleworth once the assistant vice president of a bank has pleaded guilty to embezzling $760,000 and says she spent a bundle of it on a lover she no longer has.

"I always knew I would get caught," Mrs. Wattleworth told U.S. District court Judge Charles Joiner on Friday.

The 36-year-old divorcee from Birmingham said she had worked for the Michigan National-Metro West bank since she was 17. She said she first got involved helping her lover get money because she "knew he could not get a loan. He did not have any collateral or anything."

When Judge Joiner asked whether she were still involved with the man, who was not named in court, she answered "No" in a trembling voice.

Prosecutors said she had showers gifts on the man, including:

A WORD FROM THE PUBLISHER

The feller on Deep Creek says, "An optimist is a husband who goes to the courthouse every year to see if his marriage license has expired."

With the new Administration there's a rumor going around that we have a new trade agreement with the Soviet Union. We send them 3,000 cars from Detroit and they send us 20,000 parking spaces from Siberia.

We're delighted that Gov. Dolph Briscoe has consented to be the featured speaker at the annual chamber of commerce banquet in Snyder this spring.

Although Gov. Briscoe has taken a lot of flak about his so-called hibernation in Uvalde, we are personally delighted with the situation and status of our state government.

Just name some other public organization that is in a better economic condition than the state of Texas. The present legislative session started with an estimated $3 billion surplus.

Rather than legislators having to figure out where the money will come from, it seems that the main thrust in Austin is a dog-fight on who'll get how much.

We're pleased with Gov. Briscoe's "no new taxes" stance although it has resulted at times in additional taxes at the local level. Frankly, we believe that local folks can do it better and do it more economically.

Nevertheless, state government under Gov. Briscoe has made a successful attempt to have both an economical and efficient government.

Texas ranks 39th among the states in the number of state employees per capita. Of the 12 most populous states, Texas is 10th in state revenues per $1,000 of personal income; 10th in state tax revenues per capita; and 12th in per capita government spending.

Gov. Briscoe has outlined three major needs for the state: reduction of property taxes, reduction of crime, and relief to the state highway department's current fiscal pinch.

Gov. Briscoe also has indicated he will seek another term, and we look forward to more of his progressive, but conservative approach to state government leadership.

It'll be a pleasure to have him in Snyder.—ROY McQUEEN.

2nd Suspect Is Held In Forgery Here

Police Officers have arrested a second man in connection with a Jan. 18 attempt to pass a forged drug prescription at a local pharmacy.

The suspect, 18 years old, was arrested at 4 p.m. Friday on a warrant charging him with the forgery. He was released from city jail 2½ hours after his arrest when he posted a $500 bond.

The first suspect was arrested almost two weeks ago at Stinson's Drug Store as he was attempting to pass the allegedly forged prescription to obtain a supply of talwin. The suspect arrested by policemen Friday is the man who is alleged to have forged a local doctor's name to the prescription.

Two traffic accidents were also logged in police reports.

The first mishap occurred at 4:42 p.m. Friday at the intersection of the East Highway and Avenue E. Involved in the mishap were a 1963 Chevrolet driven by Elizia Ynguanzo and a 1971 Plymouth driven by Charles Allen. Only minor damages were reported to the two cars.

The second mishap occurred at 37th Street and College Avenue Saturday at 12:19 a.m. A 1974 Ford driven by Elodia Pinta of Big Spring was in collision with a 1977 Pontiac driven by C.F. Schuler of Snyder. The cars sustained only minor damages in the collision.

Ellison And Bunch Vows Spoken In Formal Double Ring Ceremony

A four o'clock afternoon ceremony on January 8 united in marriage Joan Elaine Ellison and Travis Alan Bunch at the First Presbyterian Church in Snyder. The Rev. Ben Warton of the First Baptist Church performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ellison and the groom's parents are Mr. Mrs. Olin Bunch of Snyder.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal white quiana wedding dress. The gown featured a scooped neck and fitted bodice. The upper bodice featured a white overlay of embroidery lace. This embroidery lace continued down in a strip on each fitted sleeve. The sleeves formed a wide cascading ruffle with small lace edging. The gown fell smoothly in front to the floor and drifted to form a chapel length train in the back. The bottom of the dress had the same small lace edging around the hem as the sleeves did. The finger-tip sheer veil was accented with small lace flower appliques.

The bride carried a bouquet of white gardenias with small burgundy carnations in cascade arrangement.

The altar was arrayed with a candelabrum in the center and candles on each end of the altar table. The unity candle was centered on the altar table which the couple lit from the end candles. Pink and burgundy carnations decorated the chapel.

The bride's attendants were three shades of pink formal scooped necked dresses. A long burgundy velvet ribbon formed the empire style on each dress. They carried bouquets of pink and burgundy nosegays.

Miss Amy Ellison of Austin, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Miss Linda Boenisch of Austin was a bridesmaid. Miss Beth Ellison, sister of the bride, was the next bridesmaid.

The groom's best man was his father, Olin F. Bunch. Kent Horsly of Snyder and Win Bunch of Austin, the groom's brother, were the groomsmen. Ushers were Sandy Land of Snyder and Mr. Mike Line of Lubbock, Texas.

The groom's nephew, Carley Clark of Austin was ringbearer carrying a satin white pillow.

Wedding music was provided by Mrs. Lanette Callaway. Mr. Dennis Williamson of Austin composed and sang "Dreams" at the beginning of the ceremony and when the couple lit the unity candle he sang the "Wedding Song".

The bride's mother wore a raspberry velvet dress with a pink jacket. The groom's mother wore a knit green dress with a pink and green jacket. The mother's corsages were white gardenias.

A reception followed the ceremony in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ellison. Serving at the bride's table were Mrs. Karen Ellison of Austin; Mrs. Jan Williamson of Austin, Miss Roxane Crossman of Amarillo and Miss Kathy Allen of Lubbock. The bride's table featured a three-tier wedding cake on a pink tablecloth with burgundy net. The centerpiece was the bridesmaid's bouquets.

Mrs. Debi Clark of Austin and Miss Pam Buchanan of Waco served at the groom's table which was laid with a brown and white dotted tablecloth with white serving dishes. The chocolate grooms cake had the UT symbol and the longhorn "Bevo". The bride's bouquet made the centerpiece for this table.

For the wedding trip to Ruidoso, New Mexico, the bride wore a rust color pant suit. Her corsage, fashioned from her bouquet, was a white gardenia. The couple plan to live in Snyder.

The bride is a 1973 graduate from Snyder High School. She attended college in Amarillo and Lubbock and is now employed in Snyder.

The groom is a 1972 graduate from Snyder High School. He graduated from University of Texas in 1976 and is employed in Snyder by the Western Company.

Out of town guests were from Austin, Lubbock, Amarillo, Midland and Brownwood.

Bakers Have Flour Power

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nearly 95 per cent of all bread eaten in America is made by 24,000 commercial bakeries which employ more than 400,000 persons.

Each year these bakers use more than 15 billion pounds of flour, ground from more than 345 million bushels of wheat. They also use 223 million pounds of dried milk; 1.3 million pounds of shortening; 2.4 million pounds of sugar; more than 300 million pounds of corn syrup and millions of pounds of fruits and nuts.

Certain organic pesticides, such as DDT and aldrin may disrupt the reproductive functions of humans, cautions Dr. W. B. Deichmann of U. of Miami School of Medicine. Experiments indicate these pesticides can create an imbalance in hormonel activity, with disturbances in reproduction. He expresses "grave concern for possible adverse effects on fertility, gestation and lactation when human blood and fat concentrations of certain pesticides reach high levels."

MR. AND MRS. DARYL DRAIN

Couple United In Candlelight Ceremony Here

Cindy Beaver and Daryl Drain were united in marriage on Dec. 30 at the East Side Church of Christ, officiated by Rev. Sam Kitching in an impressive candlelight ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Beaver of Fluvanna. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Van Drain of Farmersville, Texas.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was presented at the altar in an old fashioned victorian style gown of candlelight organza veiled over tatting. The princess silhouette featured a deep shield shape yoke of antique lace framed in Irish cluney lace ruffling. A high wedding band neckline accented the yoke of cluney lace ruffling. The full circular skirt fell in panels with pearl beaded venise lace medallions. A deep ruffled flounce of heirloom lace encircled entire hemline and brush to form a full chapel train. She wore a heirloom lace covered capulet from which drifted her bouffont mantilla of imported silk, English illusion, edged in a deep border of matching heirloom lace and swept beyond the chapel train of her wedding gown.

The bridal bouquet was a colonial cascade of burgundy sweetheart roses and baby's breath accented with candlelight ribbon tied in love knots. For something old, the bride wore a locket belonging to her aunt. She wore a blue garter and something borrowed was a pair of pearl earrings. The groom presented her with a diamond drop necklace for something new.

The couple repeated their solemn vows beneath a brass columned arch entwined with greenery and baskets of flowers in variegated pinks and burgundy. The arch was flanked with pyramid brass candlelabras. The couple chose to further solemnize their vows by lighting the unity candle while an Indian prayer was being read. The candlelighters were Becky and Tammy Miller. The flower girl was Candy Belew. They were dressed in gowns of mulberry velour with old fashioned heavy lace yokes and headbands of matching fabric covered with delicate pink flowers and baby's breath. The ring bearer was Wacey Parks, cousin of the bride, and wore a suit of deep mauve.

The bride's attendants complemented the victorian wedding theme, dressed in old fashioned jacket dresses of candy pink jersey. The semi-halter gowns were designed with high victorian neckline and softly draped bodices. The matching waist length jcakets, were accented with burgundy velvet collars and cuffs, outlined in the candy pink jersey ruffling. They wore matching pink hats with burgundy velvet bands and streamers accented with variegated shades in pink flowers. Maid of honor was Lisa Voss of Snyder. Bridesmaids were Deidre Tucker of Vealmoore and Darla Drain, sister of the groom.

The groom's attendants were all attired in deep rose tuxedos in burgundy velvet trim. The groom wore ivory. Best man was Ricky Bolin of Mesquite. Groomsmen were Steve Lisenby of Slaton and Joe Shinn of Farmersville. Ushers were: Jimmy Whitsell and Joe Spearman of Farmersville, and Jessie Rollins, Kenny Foreman, and Joe Beck of Snyder.

The Mother of the bride wore a jersey gown of blossom pink. Featuring oval shaped bodice with a high banded neckline and long tapered sleeves. The full skirt was complemented by a watteau panel back falling from the oval yoke.

Mother of the groom wore a pink gown of surah silk with long accordion pleated sleeves of chiffon with a matching sleeveless long tunic coat.

Providing wedding music was a trio, Carla Jones, Nelva Jones, and Gerry Daugherty of Fluvanna. Special selections were "My God and I" and "For Bobby."

The wedding reception was held in Snyder Coliseum following the ceremony. The bride's table was laid with an ecru linen and heavy lace cloth featuring the three tiered wedding cake decorated with tiny pink roses. The bride's bouquet and unity candle adorned the table as centerpiece with silver punch bowl and silver appointments. Ann Lisenby of Slaton and Sissy Beck of Snyder served the bride's table.

The groom's table was laid with burgundy cloth and all silver appointments. Chocolate cake topped with slivered almonds and coffee were served from his table by Tanya Boydston and Jamie Hattaway.

Registering guests for the wedding and reception was Sharon Strickland, cousin of the bride.

For her wedding trip, the bride chose a red and white pant suit ensemble with matching red goucho hat.

The bride was a 1976 graduate of Borden High School in Gail. The groom graduated from Farmersville High School and completed two years at Western Texas College. The couple will reside on the Eiland Ranch at Dermott where the groom is employed.

The groom's parents were host fo the rehearsal dinner for members of the wedding party held at "The Shack."

If skiing is on the agenda, try a Blue Cheese 'Burger for lunch or a snack: Beat one-half cup of softened butter with a like amoutn of blue cheese and one teaspoon of Worchestershire sauce. Spread on grilled or broiled, still warm hamburgers before serving.

Opening lead — J ♣

By Oswald & James Jacoby

We believe that it was the great poet Culbertson who wrote: "A little false card now and then is relished by the best of men."

In that case we must assume that today's North and South don't belong in that best of men category because when the smoke of battle had cleared away they weren't at all happy.

On the other hand good old West was ecstatic.

West didn't think much of his hand or his chance of doing any good with a heart or diamond lead so he put his jack of clubs on the table. Instead of playing quickly from the table, South thought a while before playing the king from dummy. This gave East time to see that the only possible tricks for the defense would be in trumps and that some desperate measures were necessary to keep South from taking the double trump finesse. The double finesse is the best percentage play when you hold nine trumps; it becomes a perfect safety play when you hold 10.

So East dropped the queen of clubs under dummy's king.

South won, led the jack of spades, watched East produce the deuce, thought a while, rose with his ace to guard against a possible club ruff and was one down when West showed out.

ASK the Jacobys

A Pennsylvanie reader wants to know the correct bid with ♠AKJxxx ♥AQJ10xx ♦A ♣— after the right hand opponent opens three clubs.

This one is easy for experts. They bid four clubs as a cue bid to force their partner to bid. After that things become more complicated, but the start is easy.

Snake Meat Said Good For Health

NEW YORK (AP) — Many Chinese living in Hong Kong consider snake meat essential for good health during the winter months.

"Snake venom mixed with Chinese wine is considered an aphrodisiac and rheumatism cure," reports an article in the travel magazine, Going Places.

"At the herbalist's, you'll find wine drawn from jars in which snakes are pickled," it says. "You'll also find such other standard potions as dried sea horses, deer fetuses and ground tiger bones."

Cows are nature's true ecologists. They feed upon corn cobs, citrus pulp, whey, newsprint, to mention but a few "waste products" and convert it into delicious, drinkable, nutritious milk! In addition, cows can graze on ground unsuitable for crops. In fact, 60 per cent of the grazing grasses are inedible to man. Ecology, anyone?

Hunter Defends the Right to Kill

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1976 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: May I say something in behalf of hunting? Hunters have been lied about, framed and given a bad name in recent years. I am an avid hunter, and I know that America's legal hunters are doing our wildlife a great favor. I am not referring to poachers or "sport" hunters, who kill the animal painfully, then leave it to die.

Our wildlife herds need to be thinned. Leave a deer herd of 40 alone, and it will multiply until there is not enough food for all. Many deer will die slowly and horribly, rather than quickly from the clean shot of a skilled hunter. The same goes for animals that are not eaten. They need to be thinned, too. And by the way, Abby, what are these animals there for in the first place?

MONTANA HUNTER

DEAR MONTANA: Considering the way people are decimated—by wars, overpopulation and disease—might one ask what people are "there for in the first place?" Any ideas?

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem that is worrying me terribly because I am a very sensitive person.

My boyfriend whom I love very much has just told me why he has avoided kissing me lately. (I noticed that he had, but I didn't want to ask him why.)

He said he hated to hurt my feelings, then he blurted out that he thinks my tongue is too big, and it feels "rough" to the touch. I was crushed, but didn't respond. I just held myself together, then I cried my heart out after he left.

Abby, is there any way to reduce the size of my tongue and make it smooth?

I am 25 and am dieting strenuously, hoping I will lose weight in my tongue, too. But what about the roughness?

UNKISSED

DEAR UNKISSED: Your boyfriend's reason for avoiding your kisses sounds pretty weird to me. It would be easier by far to find another boyfriend than to alter the size and surface of your tongue. If I were you, I'd lose this kook.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 66-year-old man who has been singing professionally since age 7. (My father was a famous singer.)

Over the years I have sung and lectured in just about every type of church you can name. This exposure has given me a fairly good education as to what kind of people attend church but why they attend still puzzles me.

During the '60s, I visited over 300 churches. On my own I conducted a survey containing one question that could be answered voluntarily (and would be kept confidential): "Why do you attend church?"

The response was both revealing and surprising. More than 50 per cent wrote: "Because it's the thing to do."

Less than 1 per cent mentioned anything about worshipping.

I am presently completing the second year of a three-year survey on the hospitality (or the lack of it) in churches.

To date, of the 195 churches I have visited, I was spoken to only once by someone other than an official "greeter"—and that was to ask me to please move my feet.

Sincerely,

JOHN CHARLES THOMAS, JR., Ph.D.

DEAR DR. THOMAS: I find your survey discouraging, but fascinating.

When you complete your three-year survey on hospitality (or the lack of it) in churches, please send it to me, and I'll share it with my readers.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212, for Abby's booklet "How to Write Letters for All Occasions." Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped (24¢) envelope.

Bright Paint, Plants Would Help Inmates

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Bright paint, skylights and plants could help prisoners endure a stay behind bars, a study by the Michigan Department of Corrections claims.

A fresh coat of the proper color of paint - perhaps "poppy," "nectarine" or "yew green" - could "stimulate rehabilitation," said Susan Sweitzer of the Jail Services.

THE PASTORAL COUNSELOR

By JOHN ZELL GASTON III

LIVING RULES II:
"Loving Your Neighbor"

We are seeking to discover some of the built-in natural laws of human behavior. Some things we do because we are told to, other things we do because that is the way we are made. We breathe because that is the way we are made. If someone orders us to breathe, we will continue to breathe, however obedient or rebellious we feel. If someone orders us not to breathe, we will still continue to breathe, for we cannot hold our breaths for more than three to five minutes. I can therefore state that you must breathe or die. It is possible that a rebellious type person will hear this as some kind of authoritarian demand from the Establishment. In that case he might try to defy what he sees as my orders. The result for him would be tragic.

The point here is that those of us who are rebellious type people need to be very careful to determine whether we are rebelling against someone's arbitrary orders, or a natural law. The tricky part of this is that not all natural laws have such quick and obvious effects as does "Breathe or die". One natural law which sounds like an order is known to us from Matthew 23:19: "You shall love your neighbor as yourself." It is possible to treat this statement as if it were an arbitrary order: I have heard it explained something like this: "You had better love your neighbor, because lack of love is a sin, and if you do not love your neighbor God will punish you." Quite frankly, this sort of explanation makes us rebellious types want to go out and do something nasty to our neighbors. A more careful reading shows something else: It is a description of a proportion.

A legislative law, or arbitrary order, is always stated in a "do this, or else.." form, while a natural or scientific law is always stated in the form of a proportion: Gravitational attraction is proportional to mass and distance.

If you choose to read this as a natural law, it will come out something like this: "Your love for yourself is proportionally related to your love for your neighbor." Read this way, its meaning is obvious to any observer of human nature. The child who hates his parents hates himself just as much. It is also difficult for him to receive love from anyone else. A man who hates his wife has difficulty in loving himself, and giving or receiving love from anyone else. The child who is able to love his parents is proportionally able to love himself, and he grows up to be the kind of man who can love his wife and children.

Self love is associated with and made up of such things as self-respect, self confidence, personal honor and self control. Self hatred is made up of and associated with such things as selfishness, arrogance, bitterness and bad temper. Both of these descriptions are sketchy and incomplete. Even so, it becomes obvious that this natural law has important applications to us all. Simply stated it means this: If I can somehow increase my ability to love my wife, that will increase my ability to love myself, and that will have a great effect on my personal strength and total ability to meet life's problems and pressures. Where I have been frightened and bad tempered, I can be calm and confident. On the other hand, if I permit myself to love my wife less, soon my ability to love myself will suffer. I will be less confident and more frightened when problems arise. If I can learn to love myself more, my ability to love others will increase, and if I can learn to love others more, my ability to love myself will grow.

Maybe I ought also to learn the difference between an arbitrary order and a natural law.

Dunbar shot 48 per cent for the game while the Tiges hit only 38 per cent Dunbar used a man to man defense most of the way while the Tigers employed a 2-3 zone defense, trying to keep the Panthers' big men outside.

The Tigers finally got their first basket on a shot by Lucious Jeffery with 4:20 remaining, but the Panthers finished the first quarter with a 19-8 advantage.

Dunbar took a 20-point lead, 74-54, on a basket by Hardaway early in the fourth quarter, and they were still ahead by 20, 78-58, on a bucket by Eugene Walker with 3:40 remaining in the game. The Panthers outscored Snyder 19-15 in the final period.

Want To Buy A Stadium?

AMES, Iowa (AP)—If you've always wanted to own a place where you could invite 36,000 of your friends to spend the afternoon, Iowa State University is selling just the item for you - its old football stadium.

You might be able to pick it up for as little as $1.

The catch is that picking it up is literally what you'll have to do - first dismantle the arena, then transport the parts, store them and reassemble them.

"It's like a jigsaw," said John Pace, ISU's director of space and scheduling. "We ran ads about six months ago in several national school journals and we had about 20 schools express some interest," he said.

"But their interest died fast," he added. "After they studied it, they found it would be cheaper to build a new stadium."

Iowa State vacated 60-year-old Clyde Williams Field in 1975 when its football team, the Cyclones, moved into a new $7.6 million stadium.

School authorities originally planned to tear down the old stadium on the southwest edge of the campus and turn it into a recreational park, keeping only the stadium's cinder track.

But that would have cost an estimated $200,000, and the school is trying to find a less expensive way to get rid of the stadium.

Right now it's being used only for storage and to house part of the music department.

"We can't just give it away," said Pace. "State law requires sealed bids on items worth $1,000 or more."

He said he hoped that if protential buyers knew they might be able to get the stadium for a dollar, a few might start bidding.

By BUCK SITTON

We get a few telephone calls at home mostly from drunks or drinking men who wish us to settle a bet for them. We're usually unable to help becaue we keep our record book down at the office. Speaking of phone calls, once a bookie called us and asked us what we thought about a particular high school playoff game. The team we said would win was soundly beaten. We haven't heard from the bookie since then.

We ran across Bryan Hargrove out at the golf course the other day. He is going to Lamar University on a golf scholarship. He said Western Texas College has a better golf program than Lamar. It was too cold that day (the temperature was in the 20's) for Bryan to be out playing golf. He said, "Four idiots are out on No one now."

Speaking of golf, we talked to Bill Keys, the local golf pro the other day. And, he said the first golf tournament of the year will be coming up about the middle of Febuary. We'll publish more on it as soon as we have the information.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) A surprising switch is in store for you today. You may start out being the giver but you will turn out to be the receiver. Go out of your way for pals.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Because you have time for others today, you'll enrich their lives and make your own sparkle. You get amazing mileage from a smile.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Your chances for success today look extremely promising. It's not so much your contribution, but the efforts of those who support you.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You can count on the backing of an influential associate who is separated from you by considerable distance. Call this person. Sound him out.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Others may look askance at the major ideas you're proud of today. Don't let them throw you off the track.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Small thoughts bring meager rewards. If you think in petty terms today you'll only harvest what you sow and do yourself a disservice in the process.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Go out of your way to be helpful today. The greater the incidence of self-sacrifice, the greater benefits you'll derive.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) People like you today and evoke a good response because you're aware of their needs. Diplomacy is a tool you use well.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) If you have a deep-down feeling you're lucky today, don't disregard it. Your aspects indicate Dame Fortune designated you a winner.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) It would be foolish to reject a social invitation today on the flimsy excuse you're not up to it. Once in the swing, you'll realize you needed the diversion.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Members of the family want to do things for you today, but stop the love feast if things appear to be getting out of hand.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) An optimistic attitude will accomplish things for you today you wouldn't have believed yesterday. Now's the time to look for the silver lining.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Don't waste your time with striving for insignificant goals today. You have all the necessary equipment. Go after the big ones.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Something you say today may not be as explicit as it should be. If your listeners look puzzled, clarify your message.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Don't split hairs in dealing with those who have always treated you fairly. The friendship is worth more than the fraction.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) In important projects involving partners, don't wait for the other guys to fire up the boilers. They'll be depending on you.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Stand your ground today if there's an issue you feel strongly about. The guy with the most tenacity will be the winner.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) You may have to prime the pump in business today, but the little bit you have to give will certainly assure you a greater return.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Initially you may think of ducking tough decisions. The sterner stuff of which you're made will prevail. You'll stand up to be counted.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) The easy way out holds small attraction for you today. Even if a task is mountainous, you'll tackle it.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Experience is an effective teacher. What you learn from a small mistake today could save you considerable trouble in the long run.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Basically you're a doer, but today you have a tendency to talk too much. Let your deeds speak for themselves.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Someone you know is very nosy about what you're up to. Parry his curiosity with small talk, but keep your secrets.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) This should be a day of achievement. You know what you are about. You may stray off-course, but you'll correct quickly.

Dr. Lamb

Arthritis of spine causes much pain

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — My husband who is 32 found out about eight months ago that he has rheumatoid arthritis of the spine. An arthritis specialist taught him exercises to do twice daily and started him on a medication, Tandearil. He seemed to be doing just fine.

After six months he had to go to his home doctor for a blood count, which he did. He told him the blood count was normal but the doctor was uneasy about the Tandearil. He said it affected the blood count.

Another friend told him it affected the bone marrow. She said her mother took it for arthritis and you can touch her arm and blood rises to the surface. All this is upsetting. So my husband discontinued the medication for a while. During this time he was in quite a bit of pain and could hardly bend and get around so yesterday he started back on the medication.

Could you please shed some light on the side effects of this medication and any alternatives?

DEAR READER — I'll have to say again that patients should never stop their medicines without asking their doctor about it. The doctor may want to change the medicine rather than just stop it. When a patient does otherwise he sometimes runs the risk of seriously endangering himself.

Rheumatoid arthritis of the spine, also called rheumatoid spondylitis, is particularly prone to affect young men, many younger than your husband. The disease is similar to ordinary rheumatoid arthritis but it differs in some important aspects. It usually progresses to cause fusion of the vertebrae, causing a "poker spine."

The main goal in treatment is to minimize the deformity of the spine and exercises are very helpful in this regard. Your husband should continue to follow the exercise routine designed for him.

The Tandearil (oxyphenbutazone) is to relieve pain and to decrease the inflammation involving the spine. It is not a real safe medicine and anyone taking it does need to have regular evaluations of the blood-forming process. A tendency to bleeding has occurred in some patients taking the medicine. It is very effective medicine if it doesn't cause any new problems. The situation here is an old one in medicine, the treatment is good for the disease but the medicine may not be good for the body.

For this reason most doctors prefer to try a patient such as your husband on aspirin first. If the pain can be controlled by aspirin, or by Motrin or other similar medicines it may not be necessary to use such a powerful medicine as Tandearil.

Another pain relieving medicine that also has some side effects, but perhaps not so many is Indocin (indomethacin).

Why don't you suggest that your husband talk it over with his doctor and if he has no objection try to control his pain with a different medicine since he is concerned about Tandearil. One of the nice things about aspirin, which is one reason I often recommend it, is that despite the fact that it sometimes causes problems, too, like other medicines, it is still one of the safest most effective pain relievers we have ever had.

And I am sending you The Health Letter number 4-11, Rheumatoid Arthritis to give you more information on the rheumatoid diseases. Others who want this information can send 50 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Write to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019. Tell your husband to keep up his exercises and good luck on the outcome.

DEAR DR. LAMB — If meat tenderizer tenderizes raw meat before it is eaten, wouldn't it also tenderize the lining of the stomach after it is eaten?

DEAR READER — No. Your stomach is protected from its own acid digestive juice and any such material by a thick mucus layer over its cells. That is why a person may get duodenal ulcers in the small intestine just outside the stomach but is far less likely to get ulcers inside the stomach (the common usage of the term "stomach ulcers" is usually incorrect as the ulcer is usually in the duodenum portion of the small intestine). The small intestine is not coated with a protective layer of mucus.

To give you more information on how the stomach works and the acid-digestive juice role in ulcers I am sending you The Health Letter number 1-5, Ulcers — Duodenal, Stomach. Others who want this information can send 50 cents for it with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for mailing. Send your letter to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I have a chalazion on my right eye which was cut twice but it still does not seem to go away. Now I am getting one on my left eye. I have been putting both hot and cold compresses on but nothing seems to helps. Can you please tell me what causes them? Is there anything else I can do to get rid of them? Is there any danger that this could turn into cancer?

DEAR READER — A chalazion is a small buckshot sized lump at the edge of the eyelid. It is caused by inflammation of the meibomian gland of the eyelid.

What are meibomian glands? They are specialized sebaceous glands in the thickened rim of the eyelid. They drain to the free edge of the eyelid and literally lubricate the edge. This prevents tears from flowing readily out of the eyes unless there is an overproduction of tears. In this way they are essential in keeping the eye properly moisturized.

The original inflammation may not be from any infection and the little lump may be a true tumor — somewhat like a cyst that develops from a plugged sebaceous gland of your skin from a black head formation that never drains. If the chalazion becomes infected it may form small amounts of pus. It usually points to the inner surface of the eyelid as opposed to a sty.

When the lump is large or points the doctor may incise the area just enough to expel the small mass of necrotic material.

Just as an undrained blocked sebaceous gland may rupture and spread to other glands there may be some extension to other glands and a person may develop multiple chalazions.

Hot compresses and incision when needed is the usual treatment. I do not wish to alarm you but your question about cancer is pertinent. Most chalazions never become cancer but if the same one keeps recurring, rather than simply spreading to another gland, then there is the possibility that it is a meibomian gland carcinoma. When the small tumor is removed a second time a tissue examination will define its true nature. Your doctor may have had the material examined. Obviously, the involvement of your other eye suggests that it is a basic problem with your specialized sebaceous glands (meibomian glands).

Diesel Directory

MAPLEWOOD, N.J. (AP) — With the growing number of diesel engine automobiles on the road, a publisher of maps and travel books has issued a motorists' guide which pinpoints the service stations that sell diesel fuel.

"Diesell Stop Directory and Road Atlas," by Hammond, offers 8,400 listings of diesel fuel dispensers in the United States and Cananda.

WASH DAY—A hand-powered wringer mounted on a folding stand for wash tubs made wash day easier for the lucky homemaker who used this equipment before the turn of the century. Ruth McClurg, secretary in the Scurry County Museum, holds a rub board which completed the set-up. This "washer" was donated by Hoyt Pylant of Fluvanna and is included in a special display which may be seen in the museum now.

'Attic' Items Featured In Exhibit At Museum

A collection of items from "The" Museum Attic" will be featured in a temporary exhibit opening Sunday in the Scurry County Museum at Western Texas College.

The museum doesn't really have an attic, of course, but the storage area on the lower level contains many relics which might have come from a family attic.

Included in the display will be such treasures as valentines from the 1930s, the 1916 edition of the White House Cookbook, cotton carders, clothing, a couple of photographs, a kerosene lantern, a calf weaner and a coiled rattlesnake encased in clear plastic.

The museum will be open from 1-5 each Sunday afternoon until further notice, Sharon Sutton, museum director, said. Week-day hours are 9 to 12 noon and 1-5 p.m. Monday through Thursday and from 1-4 p.m. on Friday.

Special displays planned in February are a safari exhibit including big game trophies, an Indian basketry exhibit made available by Exxon, and a pottery exhibit featuring works by potters at Texas Tech University.

There is no admission charge for visiting the museum. Membership in the Museum Association is open at all times to all interested area residents and persons who wish to join the Association may call the museum office at 573-6107 or pay memberships at the information desk in the museum lobby. Memorial gifts to the museum are also invited.

The pirate Captain Kidd was born in Greenock, Scotland in 1645.

COTTON HARVEST

Harvesting of the 1976 cotton crop is in the mopping up stages with most of remaining crop on the gin yard waiting to be processed.

This week there remained some 3535 bales on the gin yard yet to be ginned. These along with 45,455 bales already processed make this another good year with 48,990 bales ginned by the nine gins in Scurry County.

There is always a lot of discussion as to how many bales of cotton Scurry gins gain and loose. We always estimate half of those processed by China Grove Gin probably were produced in Mitchell County. So for a county production total we usually consider only half of those processed as being produced in Scurry County.

On the other hand we also know that this is also true of the Inadale, however we feel we probably loose as many Scurry County bales as we gain in this area. In east and southwest parts of the county there is probably more cotton ginned outside of the county than we have brought in.

After we do all this figuring and calculating we will probably check with the ASCS Office later and see how close the 48,990 bales compares to the production figures turned in by our local producers. To say the least 1976 was a good cotton producing year, much better than anticipated.

One other question I have is "How much of this 1976 production is a direct result of the Diapause Boll Weevil Control program?"

PLANTING BARE ROOT PLANTS

Texas Arbor Day was January 21. I'm sure some of you didn't get all your trees planted, so if you still plan to plant trees or shrubs here are some considerations.

It is just as important to plant correctly as it is to select the right plant. Many of us are guilty of planting a ten-dollar tree in a two-bit hole, when the opposite would be better.

When planting bare root trees and shrubs, dig the hole large enough for the roots to spread naturally. Little advantage is gained by digging the hole much larger. If you buy the plant locally or order it, have the hole dug before unwrapping the plant. This will keep the roots from drying out which is very important.

Before planting, cut off broken or damaged roots. It is a good idea to mound dirt in the bottom of the hole for plant to be set on, as it was in the nursery.

Place the plant on the mound of dirt and backfill the hole three-fourths full with soil. The soil should be worked firmly around the roots to eliminate air pockets, but not tamped.

Now fill the hole with water and let settle. This will eliminate the remaining air pockets. The remaining one-fourth should be filled with top soil and organic matter of some type on a one part organic matter to two parts soil.

By wrapping the tree trunk with burlap strips or aluminum foil you can prevent sun scalding. It will also prevent damage from rodents.

97 Enrolled For Graduate Work Here

Ninety-seven students have enrolled for graduate level courses offered at Western Texas College by Sul Ross State University during the current semester, Mrs. Mary Pinkston, Sul Ross coordinator, said.

Persons interested in enrolling for classes during the summer session are asked to contact Mrs. Pinkston by mid-February to discuss courses they would like to have offered.

The list of tentative courses must be drawn up and approved well in advance of the beginning of the first summer session, Mrs. Pinkston pointed out, and her list of suggested courses will include those requested by prospective students.

Mrs. Pinkston's office in the WTC Administration Building is open during regular office hours and she may be contacted by telephone by 573-0012.
