

TERRY DISCOVERY FLOWS
AT 268.72 BOPD RATE

Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware, No. 1 E. M. Hinson, North-east Terry County wildcat discovery from the Cisco lime section of the Pennsylvanian, flowed a total of 116 barrels of clean oil in 14 hours, from pay at 9,405-55 feet, natural, and was still flowing to clean out and test further.

This project is eight miles south-east of Meadow, 10 miles northeast of Brownfield, and 660 feet from north and west lines of section 91, block 4-X, pal. survey.

During the first 12 hours of the 14 hours of flowing the well was on a one-half inch tubing choke. The opening during the last two hours of that period was a three-eighth inch choke.

No water showed. Tubing pressure was 228 pounds. The flow during the 14 hours was at the average rate of 8.28 barrels per hour, or 268.72 barrels of oil per day.

The discovery is expected to yield larger amounts of oil when it is fully cleaned of drilling mud on, and possibly in, the producing formation.

ALBAUGH, ET AL, GETS OIL SIGNS IN NW STERLING

Ray A. Albaugh and Progress Petroleum Company No. 1 Parra-more, Northwest Sterling County wildcat, slated to dig to about 9,000 feet to explore into the Ellenburger, had some indications of possible production from the Permian lime in a drillstem test at 2,400-22 feet.

The tool was open 45 minutes. Recovery was 210 feet of oil and gas cut drilling mud. There were no signs of water. The prospector is making more hole.

Drilling samples from 2,410 feet to 2,420 feet showed some good porosity and oil stains.

This venture is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 203, block 29, W&NW survey, and 17 miles northwest of Sterling City.

It picked the top of the Yates at 1,310 feet, and the top of the Permian lime at 1,910 feet. Elevation is 2,604 feet.

CSOC HAS FLOWING OIL IN SE ECTOR PROSPECTOR

A new producing well from the Grayburg line of the upper Permian has been discovered in Southeast Ector County, at Cities Service Oil Company No. 1 Foster.

This prospector, eight miles southwest of Odessa, and four miles west of the south side of the South Cowden field, is 1,960 feet from west and 660 feet from north lines of section 9, block 43, TP survey, T-3-S.

It topped the Grayburg at 4,090 feet. A drillstem test was run at 4,065-4,205 feet. The tool was open for one hour and 40 minutes.

Gas showed at the surface in four minutes, mud in 19 minutes, and oil in 25 minutes. It flowed the "plus" for one hour and 15 minutes at the estimated rate of from 10 to 15 barrels of oil per hour.

Shakedown at the end of the test was eight-tenths of one per cent sediment, and nine-tenths of one per cent undisturbed water. Corrected gravity of the oil was 32.1 degrees.

Another drillstem test was run at 4,215-56 feet. The tool was open one hour. Recovery was 20 feet of drilling mud, with no shows of oil, gas or water.

The prospector was deepened to 4,290 feet and a one hour drillstem test was run, with the packer at 4,255 feet.

Recovery was five feet of drilling mud, with no shows of any sort of fluid.

The development is drilling ahead below 4,305 feet and is to dig on down to explore into the San Andres section of the Permian.

AMERADA TO DRILL VENTURE IN E-C GLASSCOCK REGION

Amerada Petroleum Corporation No. 1-E TXL is to be a 9,500-foot wildcat in East-Central Glasscock County, just inside the line from West Sterling County, to test into the Ellenburger.

The prospector will be 661 feet from south and west lines of section 37, block 32, TP survey, T-4-S.

Drilling with rotary tools is to start immediately. The venture is 12 3/4 miles east and a little south of Garden City, and 16 1/4 miles west of Sterling City.

MIDLAND OPERATORS ARE TO EXPLORE SCHLEICHER

Cole-Darden Oil Company and Westlund & Johnson, Inc., all of Midland, No. 1 C. C. McBurnett, is to be a 5,800-foot wildcat in Southeast Schleicher County to test into the Ellenburger.

It is to be the center of the northwest quarter of the southwest quarter of section 12, block L, GH&CA survey. That puts it two and one-half miles east and one-half mile north of the nearest producers on the south side of the Page-Strawn field.

The project is on a farm out from The Atlantic Refining Company. The venture was to be spud immediately with cable tools. It was to go to 400 feet and cement 9 5/8-inch casing, and then move in a rotary to dig the remainder of the contract.

GULF CONTINUES TO DIG IN CENTRAL MIDLAND

Gulf Oil Corporation No. 1-E Wilson Bryant, Central Midland County deep wildcat, 14 miles south of the city of Midland, had reached 12,325 feet in Devonian lime and chert, and was drilling ahead.

UPTON WILDCAT IS TO MAKE MORE HOLE; THEN TEST

Richardson & Bass No. 1 Neal, East-Central Upton County wildcat, seven miles northwest of the discovery well of the Benedict field, was still on a total depth of 10,000 feet in Pennsylvanian lime and shale, and was trying to restore proper circulation.

Operators have decided to drill 15 feet deeper, as soon as circulation is restored.

Western Envoys Deliver Reply To Molotov

Polio May Lurk in Stagnant Water

Dr. J. Earl Smith, of the St. Louis, Mo., Polio Organization, tells a group of youngsters that the polio virus—which causes infantile paralysis—may lurk in stagnant pools. Children are advised to steer clear of swimming in such water during the summer months.

Tennessee Guard Unit Is Alerted

NASHVILLE, TENN. —(P)— National guardsmen were mobilized Friday and ordered to move immediately into Polk County in Southeast Tennessee, where disorder was reported by the Polk County sheriff, the day following the state's primaries.

Two men were reported slain and a third wounded Thursday night. H. E. Brewer, Ducktown undertaker, said four other persons were wounded in election night gunplay.

The disorder was accompanied by reports of a dispute over absentee ballots in Copperhill and Ducktown.

Political leader E. H. Crump apparently was handed his first major ballot box defeat in 20 years in Thursday's voting. Candidates he backed for the U. S. Senate and for governor were behind in the voting on unofficial and nearly complete returns.

Senator Tom Stewart conceded the victory of Rep. Estes Kefauver in the race for the Democratic nomination for U. S. senator. Kefauver was in the lead over Crump-supported Judge John A. Mitchell for Stewart's seat.

Troops were ordered into Polk County by Adjutant General Hilton Butler. He acted after Governor Jim McCardall alerted troops at Cleveland, Tenn., 20 miles from Benton. Benton is the county seat of Polk County.

Guns were reported being issued in Benton when ballot boxes held in the nearby community of Copperhill and Ducktown were due here to be counted.

It was understood these boxes held absentee ballots in the dispute. (Continued On Page Ten)

State School Land Board Rejects Bids

AUSTIN —(P)— Forty-one high bids have been rejected as "inadequate" by the State School Land Board in the June 1 mineral lease sale.

The board accepted 19 other bids, Gilles said. Previously the board had accepted bids on 14,000 acres offered in the sale.

Awards on bids in the July 6 public land sale is expected to be made within the next two weeks, Gilles said.

Disorganization May Have Caused Peso's Fall

MEXICO CITY —(P)— Mexico's agricultural "disorganization" is given as the primary cause of the peso's fall by the confederations of industrial chambers of commerce and employers' organizations.

In a 12-point statement, the various business bodies criticized the past and offered collaboration for the future to President Aleman.

★ LATE NEWS FLASHES ★

TUCSON, ARIZ. —(AP)— "Round-the-world flights can now be classed as routine stuff for B-29's," Lt. Col. Richard W. Kline of Haskell, Texas, said as he stepped from the first Superfortress to circle the globe.

AUSTIN —(AP)— An opinion holding that the State Democratic Executive Committee has no authority to order a referendum dealing with presidential electors was made public Friday by Committee Secretary Vann M. Kennedy.

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The Communications Workers of America (independent) announced Friday that it will ask new wage boosts for 87,000 Bell telephone workers this month.

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Sen. Revercomb (R-WVa) Friday reported rejection by a Senate subcommittee of a personal plea by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey that Congress liberalize the displaced persons law at the special session.

Senators Drop Spy Inquiry

WASHINGTON —(P)— Senators investigating Communist spy ring charges Friday suspended public hearings because they said the Truman Administration refuses to give them necessary facts.

Chairman Ferguson (R-Mich) of the Senate Investigating Subcommittee announced the decision. He made public also a refusal by Attorney General Tom Clark to supply official FBI records on William W. Remington.

Meantime, the House Un-American Activities Committee went underground for a secret meeting with a mystery witness in its own similar investigation.

A subcommittee was sent out of town to interview this witness at an undisclosed place. Rep. Mundt (R-SD), acting chairman of the full committee, said this man's testimony, together with other testimony already gathered, "will prove the existence of a Communist spy ring which reached high into the government during the war."

In Line With Truman

Clark refused to turn over the FBI records on Remington was in line with an order from President Truman who denounced the congressional hearings as a "red herring" intended to divert public attention from what he called the refusal of the Republican-controlled Congress to enact adequate anti-Communist legislation.

Remington, 30-year-old suspended Commerce Department official, was identified by Elizabeth T. Bentley as one of several government workers she says passed wartime information to her for a Communist espionage ring.

Miss Bentley testified she was a courier, traveling between New York and Washington, for the ring.

Although public hearings are being suspended, Ferguson said the Senate group will continue to dig for facts on Remington and the alleged government loyalty program at closed hearings, and "by any legal means."

The House subcommittee went to unusual efforts to keep its activities from being known.

A heavy curtain of secrecy, almost akin to wartime censorship, was drawn around movements of the subcommittee. The names and number of members were a deep secret.

Sue Johnson Is Flown To Dallas For Medical Examination

Sue Johnson, 15, who suffered a fractured collar bone, concussion and shock in a highway accident which claimed the life of one Midland teenager and injured two others Wednesday night, was flown to Dallas Friday for special medical examination and treatment.

A plane was chartered to take her to Dallas.

Arlis Ann Klebold, 16, and Bill Little, 17, remained in Western Clinic-Hospital, where Miss Klebold's condition was reported unchanged Friday morning. She suffered a fractured skull, concussion and multiple bruises in the crash. Little continued to show satisfactory improvement, a hospital spokesman said.

John Roland Thawley, 18, was killed in the crash. He was the driver of a Ford convertible which collided with a truck on U. S. Highway 80 west of Midland. Richard C. Wilshusen, 23, driver of the truck, escaped serious injury.

Cole Is Appointed Midland Chairman Of Dewey-Warren Drive

Taylor Cole, independent oil operator and former president of the International Junior Chamber of Commerce, has been appointed by the Dewey-Warren Campaign Committee as assistant state campaign manager for Midland. Henry Zweifel of Fort Worth, state campaign manager, announced.

Zweifel said Cole has been requested to obtain quarters for carrying on and thoroughly organizing each voting precinct in Midland and surrounding area down to the last block.

Officials Consider New Texas Water Laws

AUSTIN —(P)— A new set of water laws for Texas was being considered here Friday by water conservation officials.

Two new water codes, one covering rivers and streams; the other underground water such as wells, were being considered.

The codes will be presented to the legislature in January. If passed, they would replace in its entirety the present water code.

Hiss On Witness Stand

(NEA Telephone)

Alger Hiss, former State Department official who helped organize the United Nations, denies at a House Un-American Activities Committee meeting in Washington, that he belonged to a prewar "elite" underground maintained in the U. S. by Communists. Elizabeth Bentley listens to the testimony.

Senate Passes Housing Bill

WASHINGTON —(P)— The Senate passed and sent to the House Friday a compromise housing bill aimed at speeding small home building.

The measure contains no low-rent or slum clearance subsidies.

Approval came on a voice vote after the chamber voted 48 to 36 to substitute the measure for the Taft-Hillender-Wagner Housing Bill.

The Senate thus overrode its banking committee which had approved the T-E-W measure.

The T-E-W bill would have provided for government aid in building public-owned low rent and slum clearance projects.

The housing action came after the Senate Banking Committee voted two major changes in the Republican Anti-Inflation Bill as passed by the House Thursday.

The committee struck out a House provision calling for a boost in Federal Reserve Bank gold reserves, which Secretary of the Treasury Snyder and federal reserve officials said would do nothing to stop inflation.

Requirements increased

It also raised the reserve requirements of banks which are members of the Federal Reserve System.

The House had approved reserve increases of one and three per cent respectively on time and demand deposits. The Senate committee raised the figures to two and five per cent. President Truman had asked for 10 and four per cent.

The committee also approved the reimposition of restrictions on installment buying which the House voted. It changed the effective date, however, from next March 15 to June 30.

A proposal by Senator Capehart (R-Ind) to freeze all prices as of Thursday midnight was lost on a five to five committee vote.

The special session has focused on Truman's desk the first completed piece of legislation mentioned in the President's message.

It was a $55,000,000 United Nations loan bill to finance the construction of UN headquarters in New York City. The Senate passed the measure during the regular session but it got stalled in the House. The vote on final passage was 164 to 27.

Navarro Sheriff Picks Up Suspect

CORSIKANA, TEXAS —(P)— Sheriff David Castles left Friday for San Antonio to return an 18-year-old woman indicted here for murder in the death of an ex-sailor.

The woman, Marie Michael, 18, of Richland, Navarro County, was arrested in San Antonio late Thursday night.

She was indicted June 26 by the Navarro County Grand Jury in the death of Johnny Leon Grimes, 24. Grimes died in a local hospital January 26, this year, the day after he was found on a highway near Angus injured critically. He had been beaten severely.

Businesses Violate Public Contract Laws

LAFAYETTE, TEXAS —(P)— Ernest Riley Thornton, 42, was killed and four other persons injured in an automobile-jeep collision at a street intersection here Thursday night.

Ambassador Smith Has 'No Comment' Following Meeting

MOSCOW —(P)— The United States, Britain and France gave their reply to the Soviet Union on the Berlin and other questions in a three-hour interview with Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov Friday night.

The three Western representatives went at once to the American embassy after the meeting.

"We met with Molotov," said U. S. Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith. "No comment."

He juggled his briefcase from one hand to the other, obviously anxious to get to work with his colleagues.

All three envoys—Smith, Frank Roberts of Britain and Ambassador Yves Chateignau of France—were non-committal as they left the Kremlin.

The Kremlin session was about an hour longer than the envoys' Monday night conference with Prime Minister Stalin.

Smith arrived at the Kremlin first, followed by Roberts, who is secretary to British Foreign Secretary Bevin, and Chateignau. The three had conferences with Stalin Monday night, seeking a basis for ending the Soviet blockade of Berlin and resolving other East-West differences.

Stalin was not believed present at the meeting Friday.

Connelly May Meet

Diplomats in London said they expect a big four communique to be issued this weekend, announcing plans for a new meeting of the Foreign Ministers Council. The council is the four-power agency whose last two meetings broke up in disagreement.

Informed quarters said it was hoped that the last small differences among the United States, Britain and France, over an agreement to present the Russians were ironed out.

Their embassies all have received the first reactions from their home governments on the Monday night conversations with Stalin, and are believed in position to plot their next moves.

Proceed With Plans

In London, a British Foreign Office spokesman reaffirmed Thursday night the West's intention to proceed with plans for a Western German government this fall.

There has been mounting speculation in the British capital that the Russians have demanded deferment of these plans in return for settlement of the Berlin deadlock.

The context of the replies from Washington, London and Paris to their envoys' reports of the Stalin talks were kept secret.

FCC Orders Clampdown On Give-Away Shows

WASHINGTON —(P)— Like a stern but not too hopeful parent, the Federal Communications Commission shook a warning finger Friday at the get-rich-quick radio programs popping out all over the dial.

The station-licensing agency said disapprovingly that "an almost infinite number" of these border on "illegal lotteries or gift enterprises."

So the commission announced a set of proposed new regulations aimed at curbing, if not eliminating, many of the programs currently offering fabulous cash, travel and merchandise gifts to lucky listeners.

In essence, the rules say there must be no more drastic effect on the sponsored product or (c) be or have been listening—or viewing—the program in question.

The commission didn't say when the new clampdown will become effective.

The reaction within the radio industry was that while the FCC's announcement is unlikely to have any immediately drastic effect on current programs, the trend to give-away shows will be reversed.

Congressman Says More Uranium Sent To Russia In 1945

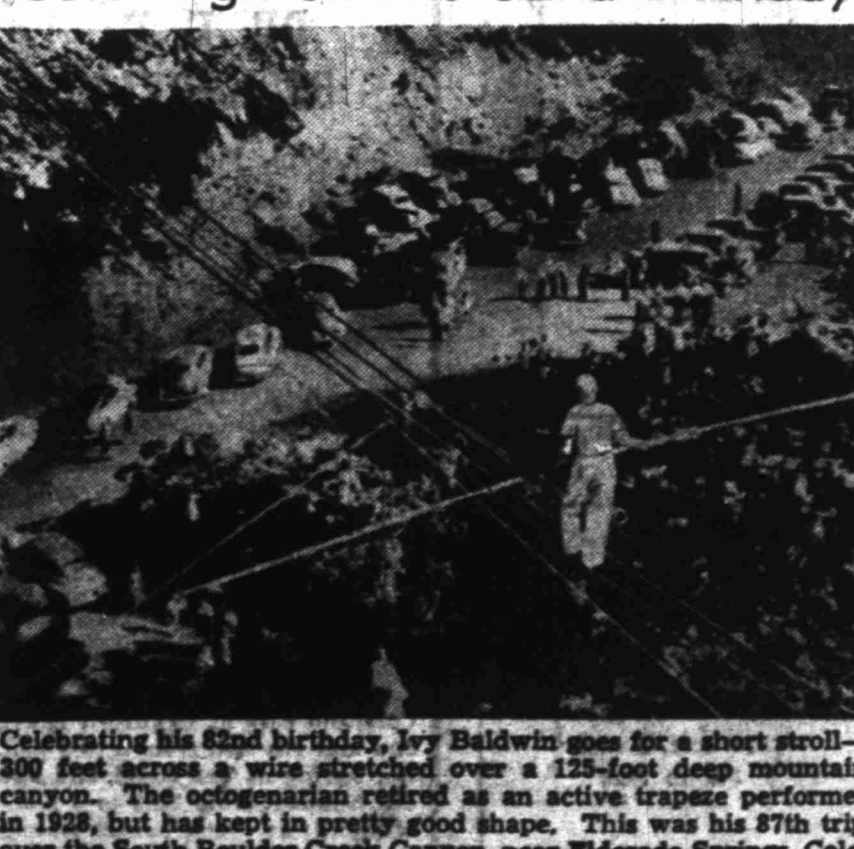

WASHINGTON —(P)— Rep. MacDowell (D-Penn.) said Friday a "significant" amount of uranium metal, a "vital component" of the atomic bomb was sent to Russia in 1945.

In a house speech, MacDowell said these shipments were in addition to those he told the House Un-American Activities Committee Thursday, were made during war years.

MacDowell, at the committee's hearings on Communist spying, had said 1,500 pounds went to Russia in 1945.

He said in his House speech that 1,200 pounds also were sent in 1945.

American Loop Snarled Up In First Place

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Dixie Walker, the old "Peepul's Cherche" of Flatbush, is hardly ever missed in Brooklyn these days—only because of the fine all-around play of his fill-in in right field, Gene Hermanski.

In his last 44 games, Gene has powered the pill for an average of 375, collecting 45 hits in 120 times at bat. He now is hitting a respectable .318. During the same span, the Brooks have won 23 and lost nine for a .719 percentage. They have picked up five and a half games on the Braves.

Hermanski enjoyed his greatest batting day of his brief big league career Thursday when he crashed three home runs to almost single-handedly pave the way for the Dodgers' 6-4 victory over the Chicago Cubs. Gene clubbed in five runs.

The Dodgers went past the St. Louis Cardinals into second place by a fraction of a percentage point. They now trail the Braves by four and a half games.

The Braves retained their four and a half game margin by coming from behind to defeat the Cincinnati Reds 6-4.

Although they trail the Philadelphia Athletics by half a game in the won and lost column, the Cleveland Indians retained possession of first place in the torrid American League race by .002 points when they defeated the Washington Senators 3-0.

The Athletics, who started the day 100 points behind the Indians, swept a doubleheader from the White Sox in Chicago 3-0 and 7-4 to advance a mere .0001 point in front of the New York Yankees.

The New Yorkers nipped the Tigers in Detroit 2-1 to retain third place a half game ahead of the Boston Red Sox who overcame the Browns in St. Louis 6-7.

Four scheduled games, all in the National League, were rained out. Postponed were the second game of scheduled doubleheader between the Cubs and Dodgers, a single game between the Cardinals and Giants at New York and a day-night twin bill between the Pittsburgh Pirates and Phillies at Philadelphia.

The tuna fish has been timed by scientists at a speed of 44 miles an hour.

DOWN SPORTS LANE

with TANNER LAINE

Whatever the cause, Jim Prince's suspension is untimely.

One corner contends Prince's absence won't hurt so much with the way he has been performing. Another corner says "We are ruined. Because Prince is the threat. Prince is the long ball knocker. Prince is our offensive weapon. Prince is the backbone of the Indians."

Whichever is right is not for this column to say. We merely are putting the pot on and the fans can bet it.

Prince was a great star last season. He shone brightly and he won the highest award for minor league batsmen. This season, Prince was on the spot. He carried the silver bat on his shoulder so to speak. He was the champ.

Prince says he has injuries enough to merit a convalescence. His doctor has advised it. In fairness to Jim, he has been hurt several times this season. He has lost eight to 10 pounds of weight in the last few days. He has lacked some of his snap.

If Prince needs this layoff he is entitled to it. We like you, Jim. Come back strong, boy.

If Prince just needs a personal rest and runs and plays in his layoff. Well, we believe Prince isn't that kind of champion.

Jim Prince has a terrific responsibility. Every kid in town worships him. He is our hero. He knocks the home runs. He is the cleanup hitter. The fans have heaped much honor on the broad shoulders of this lad. The way he carries it determines whether he is a real champion.

We are back to the point of our beginning. Prince's layoff is untimely. It is untimely because Midland is in the stretch drive for Longhorn League leadership. If ever hard-hitting Jim Prince was needed—he is needed now.

We are not passing judgment on Jim Prince or inviting you to do so. We trust he is acting in good faith. We wanted the fans to be in on the facts. That is only why we discussed it.

Hurry back, Jim.

ROUNDUP UP THE STRAYS... Popular Ralph Blair has been reinstated to playing status with the Midland Indians... Blair, winner of 10 games while losing nine, suffered a sore arm and was suspended while it healed... Some say his suspension was too long... Wouldn't be surprised to see Hank Webb angle for George Sturdivant, West Texas-New Mexico ex, who is a slugger... Ken Jones, a catcher, may be added to give the Indians a reserve backstop for the "playoff"...

There will be one man around for the "playoff" whom we wish could play... He is Ossie Kolwe, ex-Indian, who will be here to see... Sure wish he could pitch some for us... Tony Trapanese, Big Spring catcher, recently made 19 putouts in a game with Ballinger... San Angelo released Jodie Phillips... Odessa released Bob Cowser to Ballinger... They are starting a pennant fund at Big Spring... And they are starting a "playoff" fund at Sweetwater... We believe it was Fred Hogan, fan, who heckled the ump the other night and got Bob Huntley, innocent Vernon player, ejected... However, we hear that Hogan offered to pay Huntley's way back in the ball game... Last Wednesday was the first time Midland fans have left the park as early as the fifth inning... Did you know that Webb spends as much as $50 or $60 a month keeping the uniforms clean?... We don't believe you would find a Class D ball club or even a Class C one any neater in appearance than are the Midland Indians... The outfield of Big Spring's park is downright dangerous... Players say there is a ridge in it and that you go down in the "valley" on runs after base, making for danger... And it was in the Big Spring outfield where Atwood of Ballinger got conked with a ball in the eye after stepping in a hole, so we learn... Howard Green's evasive answer to Police Chief Jack Ellington's letter is typical of the replies of the padded footer loop leader... Green claims he meant this by inadequate police protection: the umpire requested the ump to escort Harold Webb out of the park to assure the safety of the ump... The cops protected the ump, who were most in need of protection; and they protected the ump from the aroused fans not Webb... The fans were in a dangerous mood... Webb was not, being pretty calm about the whole thing... Oh well, just another Longhorn League leadership "action," typical in its entire silliness... Next season will find Webb in the front office with a new manager on the diamond... So says the old skipper himself... Rip Collins is a popular man out in one neighborhood of the town because he has a Cub Scout Pack eating out of his hand when he teaches them baseball and other subjects... An Abilene concern was pretty horsey to Midlanders who wanted to see the All-Star football game... The company answered an inquiry about tickets saying "no advance money, no tickets"... And the price of tickets had been publicized... Don't be too surprised to see Pepper Martin show up in the Odessa outfield... The Pepper left San Angelo and Odessa is making room for him... He's a good man, and will help to bolster the Ollens... They call Dick Willenberg—"Pajama Pants"—down San Angelo way... 30 for strays, trade you our funny book for your funny book, if yours is a western one like ours.

PLAY THIRD GAME OF SERIES FRIDAY—

Tribe Takes Double Bill

The Midland Indians and the Ballinger Cats meet at 8:30 p. m. Friday in Indian Park for the third game of a three-tilt series. Visiting Ballinger will be hot for victory and a salvage of one game of the three, Midland having taken a twin-bill for the series edge. The Indians hope to keep on the win path.

The Midland Indians got back into the Longhorn League race Thursday night taking a doubleheader from the Ballinger Cats 2-1 and 6-0 by virtue of some good pitching and backing by the boys with M on their caps.

The old master, Ernie Nelson, toed the hill and pitched an Indian win in the opener, which went an extra inning. Nelson didn't walk a Cat.

He allowed the visitors four hits.

Leland Crissman, the side-arm crossfire artist, won his thirteenth victory of the season in the nightcap. He overshadowed Nelson's performance with a two-hit game and the Pelines. One of these hits was a fluke. Cris struck out seven and walked two in hurling a shutout.

The first game belonged to either until the end. It went scoreless for seven frame with good flinging of Fans were surprised to see Big Jim Prince at his regular first base spot Thursday night when it had been announced he was suspended.

The Indian management announced the suspension was effective Friday morning. Prince is expected to be out 10 days. His suspension is termed "medical."

Nelson and Martin of Ballinger. The Indians missed a golden chance to win it in the last of the seventh when the hawks were loaded with no outs.

Ballinger tabbed a run in the first of the eighth. After two were out, Path errored on Martin hit. Neundorff hit scoring Path. Wynns grounded out.

Midland came back and won in the last of the eighth. Nelson walked. Perry sacrificed him down and was safe at first. Collins filed out trying to bunt. Melillo hit scoring Nelson. Prince walked. Nipp filed out scoring Perry and that was a ball game.

The Cats couldn't click in the second game and Midland enjoyed two big three-run innings. The first three came in the second frame. Nipp grounded out. Jakes walked. Steele scored. Presley hit scoring Jakes. Specht struck out. Crissman tripled scoring Presley and came on in to score. Perry walked. Collins struck out. (This is where the fans really teed off on Umpire

Fort Worth stretched its lead to six full games by beating Tulsa 4-0.

Bright New Raincoats Make Dull Days Gay

By DOROTHY ROWE
Associated Press Fashion Editor

If life is more colorful on rainy days, you may give a large slice of thanks to a man named Aaron Gray.

The genial, well-tailored Mr. Gray doesn't look like a revolutionist. But the revolution he helped start in the rainwear field is still going strong—so strong that the first drop of rain nowadays brings forth a riot of garden colors on most any city street. When the weatherman says rain, women welcome the chance to blossom out in their bright-hued, "highly-styled" raincoats.

It seems that Mr. Gray grew tired of seeing women scurrying around in drab, cumbersome stormy weather coats, and decided to do something about it. He set out to prove that raincoats can be decorative, well-styled and gay, and still practical. In the last few years he has used practically every fabric from gingham to satin and from corduroy to tweed, to run up raincoats so well-styled that many women wear them even when the sun is shining.

The newest trends of fashion, whether in Paris, California or New York, are instantly translated into rainwear these days by Mr. Gray and other designers who have realized that it isn't necessary for women to look dowdy when skies are gray.

There are raincoats of pure silk treated for water repellency, elegant enough to wear over the most formal gown. There are sturdy tweeds that shed water and also look well on the sunny side of the street. There are vivid plaids and bright satins, gay gabardines and crisp taffetas.

This season the array is even more dazzling than usual, with the return of handsome pre-war fabrics to the fashion scene. So there no longer is any excuse for those rainy-day blues.

Dallas Kids Raise Gifts For Cripples

DALLAS —(AP)—A group of Dallas youngsters climbed the steps to the Scottish Rite Hospital for crippled children Thursday, clutching three table radios which were their gift to the small patients.

The children raised $45 for the gifts at a backyard carnival which they planned and conducted themselves last week. Their ages range from nine to 14.

The prizes, balloons and soft drinks were donated by Oak Cliff merchants after the youngsters had called up shops and stores and asked for the "donation department."

SAYS RETONGA GAVE HER GREATER RELIEF THAN ALL OTHER MEDICINES

Gas On Stomach, Muscular Aches and Pains, Sluggish Elimination, Weakened Feeling, All Promptly Relieved, Says Mrs. Era Manning.

MRS. ERA MANNING

"A good friend personally recommended Retonga to me and I can say that she did not praise this fine medicine half strong enough," gladly states Mrs. Era Manning, respected resident of 408 Barrera St., San Antonio, Texas, and the mother of seven children. Mrs. Manning gratefully continues:

"I had no appetite and soft foods were all I could force down to keep me going. Food seemed to sour in my stomach and burn inside me like acid. I suffered so much distress from gas on my stomach and bloating that sometimes I could hardly get my breath. I felt weakened and worn-out. My shoulder and arm muscles pained and ached something awful and I had to take strong purgatives to relieve my sluggish bowels. My whole body seemed full of toxic poisons.

"Retonga gave me greater relief than all other medicines I have tried. I have a grand appetite now, eat anything I want, and no longer suffer distress from sour stomach and acid indigestion or take those harsh purgatives. I sleep good, feel refreshed when I get up, and my housework is a pleasure instead of a drag. No one can be more thankful than I am for Retonga."

Retonga is intended to relieve distress due to insufficient flow of digestive juices in the stomach, loss of appetite, borderline Vitamin B-1 deficiency, and constipation. If the first bottle fails to give you gratifying relief, your money will be refunded. You can get Retonga at all good drug stores, including Midland Drug Store.—(adv.)

Political Dynamite

Congress is not going to enact any down-to-earth anti-inflation program at this session. The President is not going to recommend one. If any courageous or foolhardy legislator should introduce such a bill, both parties will flee at top speed with loud cries of anguish.

You can't make an omelette without breaking eggs. You can't cure inflation without stepping on a lot of toes. There is no general agreement as to just how much of what ingredients would be necessary to bring inflation under control. But every non-political economist knows the ingredients—and every one is chock full of political dynamite.

There are two obvious ways to get more production, at a time when every man and machine already is in use. One is to get more in the same working time. The other is to increase working hours, without boosting the unit cost by overtime premiums. No politician in election year is going to vote for speedup, for strike-prevention, for a longer basic work week before overtime begins. So those are out.

The only practicable approach, politically, is through an attempt to hold down the amount of spending money available. The President's rent controls aim at that in four of its eight points. But rent controls aim at the one consumer cost that has risen least. An excess profits tax takes money from corporations, which might use it for expanding capacity, without taking it from consumers, whose spending orgy causes inflation. Commodity speculation is far from a major cause for high prices. Which leaves increased control over "inflationary bank credits" as the only positive recommendation for an attack on the fundamental evil.

But again, inflationary bank credits are petty offenders. The real evils, it cannot be repeated too often, are too much money in bills and silver, too much money in savings accounts and savings bonds, too much easy credit at stores and through installment finance houses. Not one item in the President's program even hints at these things. Nor have the GOP leaders in Congress been a whit more forthright. Both are scared out of their election year wits at any notion of discussing such things.

If inflation is to be brought under control, the incomes of workers and of farmers must be brought under control. By all means try to limit undue corporate profits; but if these were eliminated completely, the resulting dent in the price level couldn't be seen with the naked eye.

What frightens both parties is the plain, unarguable fact that if inflation is to be controlled, wages must be held down, farm prices must be permitted to seek their own level without support in the clouds, loose money must be taxed away, credit to consumers must be cut to rock bottom.

Just when the American people, wealthy beyond their wildest dreams, have got their minds set on buying all the luxuries and new-discovered conveniences, they must be restrained until industry can produce more.

That is not a popular program. It is not one that any candidate for public office is going to want to face. It is not one that either party will dare admit in this political year.

So we shall have to content ourselves with jockeying in which each party tries to make the other responsible for our troubles, but both ignore the pressing need for doing something realistic about them.

Explanation Rejected

J. DeWitt Acker, New York real estate broker, explained his failure to answer court summonses by saying he had been out of the city most of the time, so he could not get to court. The judge fined him $120, nevertheless. Perhaps he felt that a man who collected 16 traffic tickets in seven months, though he was sick in a hospital part of that time, must have been in New York at least occasionally.

The Sixty-Four-Dollar Question

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Question Around Washington Is: Who Would Dewey Fire?

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON—Commonest subject of Washington gossip is who will get fired or whose resignation will be accepted if and when Governor Dewey comes to town as President. Here's a typical sample of the way these conversations go: "Will Governor Dewey fire Paul Hoffman as Economic Cooperation administrator?"

"Of course not. Hoffman was picked and okayed by Senator Vandenberg and the Republican leadership in Congress. Dewey wouldn't dare fire him."

"Would Dewey fire or accept the resignation of Averell Harriman as ECA roving ambassador in Europe?"

"That's conceivably. Harriman was pretty closely tied up with Roosevelt all through his years in the White House, and Harriman was Truman's secretary of commerce. He's a registered Democrat."

"Well, if Dewey fires Harriman and Wayne Chaffee—Taylor and the rest of the big wheels around ECA, then I'll bet you Hoffman would resign and go back to South Bend, because he's the man who picked all the others for the top ECA jobs."

Somebody's Wrong.
When one Washington lobby complains about all the "pressure groups" arrayed against it, that's news. The Washington Realtors' Committee, which is the front organization in the capital for all the real estate and building interests throughout the country, has sent out a trade letter complaining about all the forces arrayed against it on housing legislation before the last Congress.

Atomic Age Is Three Years Old

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK.—(P)—Happy birthday to the atom age!

Never did a new era in the story of man open more dramatically. It was like something out of the Old Testament of Greek mythology.

A big American firebird flew over Hiroshima and dropped a strange metal package. The package opened and it proved to be a deadly new Pandora's box for the Japanese.

Up bloomed a towering destructive mushroom of death, flame and smoke. And beneath it a city had disappeared.

Three days later American airpower confirmed the arrival of the atom age by dropping a second bomb over Nagasaki. Another mighty mushroom blossomed. Another city, except the area protected by hills, lay stricken.

The two bombs killed 120,000 people—80,000 at Hiroshima, 40,000 at Nagasaki—and injured 320,000 more.

President Truman justified the dropping of the atomic bombs by saying they had saved 250,000 American lives by avoiding the need of a full-scale land invasion. But he said another global war would mean the end of civilization.

Accept Golden Rule

"We are not going to do that," he promised. "We are going to accept the Golden Rule and we are going forward to meet our destiny, which I think almighty God intended us to have—and we are going to be the leaders."

The powerful baby, the most destructive prodigy yet conceived by man's inventive mind and the force of nature, was put into harness and dedicated to the paths of peace.

But the terrible infant also was given secret training to develop his muscles, like a fighter working out for his next battle. And he has grown stronger. Just how strong perhaps no one truly knows, because—like any baby—he is still growing.

His power for peacetime good, however, is growing more apparent. His radiant energy is helping medical men on a hundred fronts in their age-old quest for new methods of fighting disease. He has been put to work on the farm, helping to grow better food products.

And in a laboratory on Long Island by the end of this year, the atomic child will be producing enough electricity to serve the needs of a village of 3,000 people. In time he will supply power for people far removed from cheap sources of coal and oil.

Texas Registrations May Reach 561,331

AUSTIN.—(P)—Approximately 561,331 Texas cars are expected to register for the draft.

State Selective Service Director Maj. Gen. K. L. Berry reported that estimate Friday. It is the number of males between the ages of 18 and 28 estimated now to be living in Texas.

Estimates by individual counties ranged from a high of 50,400 registrants in Harris County to a low of 22 registrants in Loving County.

Various remains of prehistoric man found in Europe are estimated to date as far back as 250,000 years ago.

Man Finds Millstone After 40 Years

GALESBURG, ILL.—(P)—Forty years ago Glenn Glass began to look around for a pair of millstones. His great-grandfather had installed them, back in 1831, in the first water-powered mill in Knox County. The mill was abandoned during the Civil War and the stones vanished.

Glass picked up a few clues one of the stones had been buried in a well. He gave up on that one. But recently he unearthed the other stone. It was under a barn on the Willard Johnson farm.

Bees can distinguish between different degrees of brightness of a given color, but are blind to red.

The DOCTOR Says

History Of Illness Is First Step In Doctor's Accurate Diagnosis

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.

When a sick person fails to tell the doctor the full story of his or her illness, the job is made more difficult for the doctor. The patient may suffer, too, as he runs the risk of having a wrong diagnosis made, merely because the facts were not all given.

To make a difficult diagnosis, every doctor needs to know the story of the patient's life, not only so far as the immediate illness is concerned, but past illnesses, family history and other matters which might be necessary in order to form a complete picture. This is called the history of the case.

Of course, this story is only part of what is necessary to make a diagnosis. After the history has been taken, a physical examination is necessary.

Appearance Indicative
Much can be learned from the patient's appearance. The doctor also uses thumping or percussion over certain parts of the body, and

THE DOCTOR ANSWERS

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.
QUESTION: My little girl burned the palms of her hands a few months ago, and now cannot straighten two fingers on one hand.

ANSWER: There has evidently been a formation of scar tissue, which has caused the skin or ligaments underneath to contract. This condition will probably require expert surgery.

Listening through an instrument, called a stethoscope, to discover invaluable information.

Included in information which a doctor needs is the body temperature, taken by a clinical thermometer, the pulse rate, usually taken at the wrist, and the blood pressure, which is measured by an instrument wrapped about the arm.

There are a great many other instruments and methods used in diagnoses. There are special examinations of the blood and urine and a machine for examining the basal metabolic rate. The heart can be studied by an instrument called an electrocardiograph, and X-rays are useful in innumerable ways. Each of these has its place, but the history of the illness and the physical examination are always necessary first steps.

Cities Ahead Of Farms In Housing Repairs

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Several years of high income have given many farmers a chance to get themselves better housed than they've ever had. But most still have a good way to go to catch up with their city cousins.

The Commerce Department reports that last year American farmers spent about $1,000,000,000 for new houses, repairs and remodeling. Some Agriculture Department specialists say the actual figure may have been 25 per cent higher.

These same experts told a reporter that 1946 farm construction should be about the same as last year's. But despite this high level of activity, many farmers still live in inadequate houses and their prospects of getting better ones are not rated too bright.

The controversial Taft-Hartley-Wagner housing bill, passed by the Senate but sidetracked by the House this year, contains provisions designed to improve the outlook for farm housing.

Chief goal of farm housing features in the bill is to make credit for farm construction more liberal and more flexible. Opponents of the provisions say too little is known of farm housing needs.

Census figures afford the main evidence that farm housing is improving but still lagging behind urban dwellings in quality.

Needed Major Repairs — In a housing study, the census bureau shows that in 1940 one-third of the nation's farm houses needed major repairs and a sixth were overcrowded.

By last year, however, only about 19 per cent required major repairs and some 10 per cent of occupied farm dwellings were overcrowded.

Aided by the rural electrification program, farmers stepped up the proportion of farms with electric lights from 31 per cent in 1940 to 89 per cent last year.

These gains have been made despite wartime and early postwar material shortages.

Yet only 6.8 per cent of city housing needed major repairs in 1947, and overcrowding — generally supposed to be worst in cities — was 4.4 per cent in urban centers against 10 per cent on farms.

Two-thirds of U. S. farm houses in 1947 lacked running water and only 4.5 per cent of city houses were minus it. Only one-fifth of the farm dwellings had bathtubs and toilets, against 83.9 per cent in city homes.

This contrast existed even though farmers had nearly doubled the number of bathtubs on farms from 1940 to 1947 — from 810,000 to 1,307,000.

Lowering Corn Prices May Mean More Pork On Market By 1949

By ROBERT E. GEIGER

WASHINGTON — (AP) — There is a mathematical formula that seldom fails to produce more meat when it touches the "pork point." This formula is based on a set of figures known as the corn-hog ratio. It produces more pork when the ratio goes above 12 or 13 to 1.

This ratio got down to around eight to 1. Now it's back to about 11 to 1 and climbing higher toward that magic 13 to 1 level. Does this mean you can let your mouth water over the prospect of more bacon, more ham and more pork chops at reasonable price, tomorrow or next week or next month?

No, sir, says the experts of the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Nature just won't cooperate that fast. Here's why:

To figure the corn-hog ratio you take the price of 100 bushels of corn and divide it by the price of a bushel of corn. If it comes out less than 12 to 1 it is more profitable, usually, for the farmer to sell his corn instead of feeding it to hogs.

When it gets around 13 to 1 farmers generally start raising more hogs and feeding them the corn. They can get more out of corn that way.

Big Crop

Department of Agriculture experts expect corn prices to go down to around the government support price. Last year this averaged about $1.37 a bushel. A big corn crop is one reason for the price drop. If the ratio gets around 12 to 1 the farmer will breed more hogs this fall. They will produce a crop of pigs next spring. But then the pigs have to grow up and be fattened on the corn. This means that probably not until fall of 1949 will there be more pork on the market.

The big corn crop will permit farmers to put more fat on the animals they plan to market between now and next fall, but the agricultural experts say the extra meat this produces probably won't make pork much more plentiful. The corn also will be used to fatten cattle, but it takes longer to increase the supply of marketable beef than it does pork. So the corn isn't a big factor in producing an immediate increase in beef.

There probably will be a greater proportion of choice corn-fed beef this winter and next spring than there might have been if the corn crop was smaller and meat prices lower. But there will be fewer grass-fed cattle marketed, so the total supply of beef won't be increased substantially.

The number of cattle on farms is comparatively low, and if farmers slaughter an unusually large number this winter it means there will be less beef later on. Farmers can't sell their breeding stock and have their calves, too.

India To Enlarge Diplomatic Corps

NEW DELHI — (AP) — The government of India has decided to enlarge its diplomatic corps from its present strength of 180 to 240 by the end of the year. A foreign ministry official said by the end of 1949 the total strength would be 320.

India presently has exchanged diplomatic representatives with 21 countries.

Sand Preserves Wagon Lost 70 Years Ago

SYDNEY, AUSTRALIA — (AP) — More than 70 years ago a young Australian bullock driver called Charles Young unhitched his team and left his wagon to stand on the south coast of Western Australia near Manjimup.

He returned for his wagon some months later but was unable to find it. Shifting sands covered the wagon from sight during the ensuing years. Recently the sands began to reveal the wagon preserved in perfect condition.

Charles Young's son has salvaged complete parts of the wagon which he has presented to the Perth Museum. Perth is the capital of Western Australia. Charles Young, who lost his wagon in the sands, died 18 years ago at the age of 91.

Prosperity On The Increase In Britain

LONDON — (AP) — Increasing British prosperity, propped by United States financial crutches, heartens Britain's Socialists celebrating the end of their third year in full power.

The government, more confident of its probable fate before the voters is determined to carry on its slightly lagging schedule of public ownership projects, and already is planning its platform for elections tentatively set for May, 1950.

The Labor cabinet which took over the management of Britain's affairs on July 27, 1945, has had tough sledding.

Britain's trading accounts were tottering up in the red before the war. Lost markets, sold investments, and war's wear and tear on an already declining industrial machine left a legacy of myriad basic troubles.

There's improvement all along the line noticeable now, but problems are still present.

Production Up. The biggest is the trading deficit, still running on at the rate of more than one billion dollars a year. That's the hole that British workers, helped by American food and machinery, must plug in the next four years.

British production is now 11 per cent higher than it has ever been and 30 per cent above the 1946 level.

Despite rising production, Britain has been trapped by prices for food and raw materials that have climbed faster than the sales prices of British exports.

Britain's leaders know they must raise exports another 50 per cent in the face of increasing buyer resistance. The price of failure to modernize industry and raise its export output is hardship and perhaps economic collapse.

Both Sir Stafford Cripps, the nation's economic chief, and Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin have warned that American aid will not allow any sudden betterment of Britain's way of living.

One sobering thought to them is that congress will have to approve the money for American aid every year.

Deer Not A Believer

In Law Of Nature
DAISY, OKLA. — (AP) — There's one native, white-tail deer in this southeastern Oklahoma area that just doesn't believe in following the laws of nature.

According to wild life books, mama deer won't let anyone around her little dears—not even a friend.

But there's one modern type of mother doe here who isn't worrying too much about rearing her family.

The doe brings her three fawns, one at a time, to the back door of the ranch house owned by George Rowland. A bucket of warm milk is left out each day for the triplets. They drink their fill, then mama deer takes her family off into the woods.

DARE AND DOUBLE-DARE...

Little boys sometimes fall out with their playmates and they have a childish spat. These little tiffs seldom amount to anything more than a tongue stuck out, an ugly face, and maybe a threatening gesture. The causes of these juvenile clashes are usually soon forgotten.

If grown-ups could patch up their disagreements and quarrels as easily as children can, we would have better neighborhoods, better homes, and better human relations.

And if nations could be induced to seek a peaceful settlement of international differences, instead of resorting to war, it would put an end to untold human misery and years of heart-breaking desolation.

Religion is the only influence that can turn men's minds from war and strife to the ways of peace and goodwill. By attending the services of the Church regularly, and by supporting its local, foreign mission, and world relief programs, you will make a real contribution to world peace and goodwill among men.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Resilient Floorings Are Popular

Resilient flooring of various types is a featured line of merchandise at West Texas Brick and Tile Company, 304 North Weatherford Street, Midland.

Advantages of resilient flooring are numerous and well worth considering for home or commercial use. First among them, of course, is the springiness implied by the term "resilient." Such floors are easy on durability, economy of installation and ease of maintenance, and the variety offered by the colors and patterns available.

Asphalt tile, rubber tile, and cork flooring all are resilient. They are fire-retarding in that they seal a floor, tending to prevent spread of a blaze. A peculiar advantage of rubber tile flooring is that it is a non-skid surface. Though it may be polished to a high sheen, it remains good insurance against slips and dangerous falls in the home or office.

Big Flooring Jobs
Rubber or asphalt tile flooring is not permanently marked by cigarette or cigar stubs; marks of this type left on these floorings may easily be mopped away.

West Texas Brick and Tile has furnished asphalt tile flooring for the Midland Tower Building; five floors of rubber tile flooring for the Petroleum Building; and cork and asphalt tile flooring for the F. W. Woolworth building, to mention a few major installations in Midland.

LONDON —(AP)—The drapes will be taken off Britain's "New Look" aircraft, which is built of non-flammable magnesium and has its propeller in the tail, at the Society of British Aircraft Constructors' flying display at Farnborough, Hampshire, in September.

The plane, the Satellite, made by the Planet Aircraft Company has a top speed estimated at 268 with a cruising speed of 190. Its range is 1,000 miles with a full load, or 2,450 miles—equivalent to an Atlantic crossing with only the pilot.

Moscow Subway Fare Remains Unchanged

MOSCOW —(AP)—A ride on the Moscow subway no matter from where to where costs seven and one-half cents. The fare was set some years ago and has remained without change for a considerable period. It comes to forty kopecks which is to say forty one-hundredths of one ruble. The ruble is pegged at 5.30 rubles per one American dollar.

Some other forms of Moscow municipal transport are cheaper. The street car, for instance, costs less than four cents. To ride on a trolleybus one must pay according to distance. Taxis are now on the streets again after an absence during the war. They cost about 35 cents for six-tenths of a mile.

ROME —(AP)—There are over 27,000 peddlers in Rome, the peddlers union has announced. Of these, it said, 12,000 have regular licenses and sell vegetables, fruit and other food products in Rome's 27 markets. The rest tour the streets selling wares varying from antiques to brushes.

Bitter Reprieve

By Drexel Drake

Copyright, 1938, by Charles H. Drake
Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Ripley learns that the man betting the $100 bills at the roulette table is Joe Steppo, that he is from Chicago, Steppo gets away from Ripley, and he is found arrested.

XXXX

TALENT had a report from Chicago on Joe Steppo Thursday. He had held intermittent jobs, mostly in West Side poolrooms, which justified his social security number, but he was generally recognized as a smalltime gangster and racketeer tipster. There were no convictions in his record but he had been more or less known to the police for five years because of his associations. What interested Talent chiefly was the final item in the report. It had been learned that Steppo was around his usual Chicago haunts as recently as Tuesday night of the preceding week when he was talking about making a trip to New York. Gossip was that he expected to take a girl with him.

The same day was to bring a still more illuminating report from Chicago to Lieutenant Talent's desk. It was mid-afternoon when a detective brought in a teletype message.

"Something on those fingerprints, Lieut," the detective said. "Chicago dug them up. They belong to a ghost. The guy's been dead almost 12 years."

The message referred to the fingerprints found in the Sterling library... on the chair arms, a bottle, a glass and a radio dial.

Talent read:

Prints are those of George Bandello, supposedly deceased July 16, 1926, at age of 27. Height 5 feet 7 inches, weight 145, stocky build, black hair, black eyes, prominent nose, wide thin mouth, thick near across right temple from old bullet wound that scraped skull. Date of this record, April 10, 1928, when Bandello was held in connection with gun shooting but released, insufficient evidence. Three previous arrests, one conviction for assault in 1922, served fifteen months in jail. Bandello was West Side gangster and also identified with gambling racket in Chicago, in minor capacity. In July, 1928, Bandello was one of four men trailed to hideout on Northwest Side, where political kidnappers were being held. Place was abandoned but Bandello and two others escaped through police barrage and made way to power boat concealed at landing on North Branch. The boat exploded a few seconds after it passed through the mouth of the Chicago River into Lake Michigan. A police boat in close pursuit picked up one survivor and the body of another man was recovered the following day. Bandello's body was never recovered but survivor established that Bandello was the third man aboard the boat.

Talent read the report a second time... studied it thoughtfully. He sensed the slightest beginning of a pattern. Joe Steppo, from Chicago. Bandello, Chicago gangster and gambler counted off as dead in 1928, but still very much alive. Fingerprints don't change. And the night man at the Rendezvous diner noticed a scar on the stranger's right temple. Twenty-seven in 1928... Bandello would be thirty-nine now. The night man had made a guess of around 40... the man was chunky, with small dark eyes.

TALENT dropped a hint of his thoughts later in the afternoon, when Richard Trapgood had wandered into his office. He managed adroitly to skim over the fact that he had held back exclusively for himself the circumstance of the missing $10,000.

"Could be, Dick, that something is beginning to take shape," Talent said.

"You've hit on something, Chris?"

"Something to chew on, anyway. We learned that Mrs. Sterling drew out some hundred dollar bills last Thursday... new ones and her bank had the numbers. They've been showing up at the Belmont mutual windows. We tied them up to a young mobster named Joe Steppo who came here from Chicago some time after last Tuesday, but somebody decided to bump him off before we could get him in here."

"A crowd that plays rough, eh?" Talent grinned. "Might read this, Dick," he said. "That third set of prints we found in the Sterling library." He showed the teletype message across to Trapgood.

"I see," Trapgood said, when he had read the message. "So Bandello didn't go down with that power boat, unless... could there be a mixup on the prints?"

"The man who drank two cups of black coffee in that Broadway diner near Clifton around one o'clock last Thursday night was about 40 years old, the night man guessed, and he had a scar across his right temple."

"So it fits. That makes Bandello your man, doesn't it, Chris?" "I think we'd make some headway if we got him in here."

"If they didn't see any more of him around Chicago for 12 years, he must have pulled out and set up somewhere else, and still Steppo gives the job a Chicago angle. How do you add it up, Lieut?"

"My guess is, Dick, that Bandello, as already set up here, and Steppo was tied to look him up when he got here."

Trapgood hesitated over an observation... "Chris, you can't really tie up Marcus Sterling with this Bandello-Steppo angle, can you? Doesn't it look as if somebody put a finger on Mrs. Sterling for her necklace?"

Talent looked across at the younger man soberly. "I'll tell you something, Dick," he said. "Somebody had something on either Miriam Sterling or Marcus Sterling. Mrs. Sterling told us, and Sterling won't. The trouble is, we don't know enough to force anything out of him. We may never know any more than we do now until we haul in George Bandello."

"But that's something, isn't it, Chris, to know that Bandello's man you're looking for?"

"Yes, that's something. It would be interesting to have Bandello tell us how he happened to be sitting in the Sterling library last Thursday night, smoking a cigar. That doesn't fit into the rest of the picture."

McKenney on Bridge

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority
(Written for NEA Service)

Terre Haute, Ind., is a hot-bed of tournament bridge. They have several very fine players there, including Walter O'Laughlin, a chemist associated with the Dow Chemical Company.

O'Laughlin made a rather unusual bid on today's hand. He opened with one no trump. Players using the point count like this type of no trump opening. When West bid two diamonds, North had to pass. But as O'Laughlin had a maximum of one no trump, and the diamond suit well stopped, he bid two no trump. Then his partner correctly took him to three.

The opening lead of the six of spades was won by East with the ace. The eight of diamonds was returned, and O'Laughlin had a choice of plays, each of which would have worked. He put on the nine-spot and West won the trick with the ten of diamonds. West returned the four of spades, which was won in dummy with the king.

Now five rounds of clubs were cashed, then South cashed the queen of spades. West had discarded everything but the ace and eight of hearts, and the king-jack of diamonds. O'Laughlin could count eight tricks and needed the ninth. Reasoning that West must have the ace of hearts, declarer cashed the ace of diamonds and then led the queen of diamonds, forcing West to win. Now West had to cash the ace of hearts and lead the other heart. Of course O'Laughlin won this with the king for his ninth trick.

If O'Laughlin had gone in with the queen of diamonds on the first diamond trick, West could have won with the king and come right back with the jack. However, declarer would have gone up with the ace of diamonds and made the same play on the hand.

Pilots Spotted 'Fantastic' Aircraft

While flying near Montgomery, Ala., these two veteran Eastern Air Lines pilots reported seeing a huge, wingless aircraft, four times the circumference of a B-29 fuselage. Co-pilot J. B. Bears Scorn Meat Feast; Gobble Bread

BOISE, IDAHO —(P)—Lochinvar and Lovelace, the black bears at the Boise Zoo, were all set for a feast.

It was the first time in many months that meat had been on the menu. Because of the high price of meat, the two bears had been on a bread-and-water diet.

Then Mrs. Beatrice Burdick of Boise made arrangements for the feast. Five pounds of fresh horse-meat were readied for Lochinvar and Lovelace.

But Lochinvar and Lovelace merely sniffed at the meat, turned up their noses and eagerly gobbled the bread offered by Zookeeper Fred Knope.

Slick-Urchel Oil Company and Shell Oil Company, Inc., No. 1 Gordon, northwest outpost to the initial producer in the Benedum area, had set a string of 7-inch casing at 11,410 feet, with 800 sacks of cement. Total depth is at 11,460 feet. Top of the Ellenburger is at 11,170 feet, on an elevation of 2,698 feet.
The section already drilled flowed oil at the rate of from 15 to 25 barrels per hour and had gas of from 10 to 15 million cubic feet per day. No water has been developed. This is the first well in the Benedum area to show oil since the completion of the initial producer in that field.

The Yanks of Texas schoolboy cage circles Thursday night trimmed the South 36-31 as a crowd of 2,500 cheered them on approvingly in hot Rose Field House on the Hardin-Simmons Campus.
It wasn't much of a struggle for three quarters and even at the end when the South finally started banging the basket the North never was in any real danger.
Little Tom Hancock of Prairie Valley was chosen outstanding player of the game. The ball-handling, smooth-passing, wizard for the North has given the unanimous vote of the sports writers covering the game.

Two Texans Lose National Junior Tennis Matches
KALAMAZOO, MICH. — (AP) — California hopes in the national junior tennis championships rested on two underdogs Friday and the luck of the draw pitted them against each other in the quarter-finals.
Last California chance to put a successor on the throne vacated by Herbert (Buddy) Behrens of N. Y. in the other lower bracket, junior quarter-final while seeded partner matched paired second seed Tony Trabert of Cincinnati against Canadian Lorne Main from Vancouver, B. C., and national scholastic champion Gil Bogley of Chevy Chase, Md., against unseeded Charles Devore of Indianapolis. Mouldous, the 1947 runner-up, won his fourth straight match here with difficulty, edging Julian Oates of Waco, Texas, 9-7, 3-6, 6-1 Thursday.
Bogley breezed in with a 6-1, 6-2 verdict over Ray Deberry of San Angelo, Texas.

Odessa In Pikes Peak Golfing Semi-Finals
COLORADO SPRINGS, COLO. — (AP) — The battle for the Pikes Peak amateur golf crown headed into the home stretch Friday with single entries from Colorado, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas in the semi-final round.
Colorado's Dick O'Connor squeezed Dick Pringle, Tulsa, Okla., veteran Thursday with a narrow one-up win and was to tangle with Texan Bob French of Odessa, Friday. French, downed Doug Edwards of Colorado Springs 3 and 2 in the quarter finals.

The section already drilled flowed oil at the rate of from 15 to 25 barrels per hour and had gas of from 10 to 15 million cubic feet per day. No water has been developed. This is the first well in the Benedum area to show oil since the completion of the initial producer in that field.

The Yanks of Texas schoolboy cage circles Thursday night trimmed the South 36-31 as a crowd of 2,500 cheered them on approvingly in hot Rose Field House on the Hardin-Simmons Campus.
It wasn't much of a struggle for three quarters and even at the end when the South finally started banging the basket the North never was in any real danger.
Little Tom Hancock of Prairie Valley was chosen outstanding player of the game. The ball-handling, smooth-passing, wizard for the North has given the unanimous vote of the sports writers covering the game.

Two Texans Lose National Junior Tennis Matches
KALAMAZOO, MICH. — (AP) — California hopes in the national junior tennis championships rested on two underdogs Friday and the luck of the draw pitted them against each other in the quarter-finals.
Last California chance to put a successor on the throne vacated by Herbert (Buddy) Behrens of N. Y. in the other lower bracket, junior quarter-final while seeded partner matched paired second seed Tony Trabert of Cincinnati against Canadian Lorne Main from Vancouver, B. C., and national scholastic champion Gil Bogley of Chevy Chase, Md., against unseeded Charles Devore of Indianapolis. Mouldous, the 1947 runner-up, won his fourth straight match here with difficulty, edging Julian Oates of Waco, Texas, 9-7, 3-6, 6-1 Thursday.
Bogley breezed in with a 6-1, 6-2 verdict over Ray Deberry of San Angelo, Texas.

Woman Will Be Olympic Hero As No Men Win Two
WEMBLEY, ENGLAND — (AP) — Unlike Olympic games of the past, no single dominant hero is emerging in 1948—and a woman's name will lead all the rest.
When Mal Whitfield finished third in the 400-meter run, the last man with a chance to become a double winner in track lost out.
So it is a woman's olympics—Mrs. Fannie Blankers-Koen and Micheline Ostermeyer in track already have two gold medals and can win more, and Mrs. Victoria Draves and Karen Harup in swimming are on the way.
The only man who has come close to two single victories—excluding the relays—is Arthur Wint of Jamaica, who was a close second to Whitfield of the United States in the 800 and who won the 400 in 46.2, upsetting not only Whitfield but favored Herb McKenley of Jamaica as well.
Thursday's lack of American track winners were compensated for by smashing victories by five American athletes in the Thames rowing and Dr. Sammy Lee's championship in high diving.

Shipping Lines Accused Of Monopoly Conspiracy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Attorney General Clark said Friday 25 shipping lines have been accused of conspiracy to monopolize the cargo trade between Atlantic and Gulf ports and points in the Far East. Clark said a civil action against the lines was filed Friday in the federal district court at Newark, N. J.

He said 19 of the defendants are foreign lines and six are American flag lines.

The government's suit alleges the ship companies involved have required shippers to agree to patronize these lines exclusively in order to get the benefit of "contract rates substantially lower than regular traffic rates."

In Ducktown, Brewer listed the wounded as Wayne Kimsey, 33; Chester Goode, 28; Hardy (Cobby) Loudermilk and Loudermilk's wife. A man found shot in the back Friday was identified by a Ducktown hospital attendant as Earnest Loudermilk. It was not known whether he was related to the wounded couple.

Five persons were known to have been wounded during election day violence. It was not established, however, whether these shootings were a result of the election strife.

Polk is adjacent to McMinn County, where an ex-GI coalition overthrew an entrenched political machine in an August, 1946, election day gun battle at Athens, McMinn County seat.

Both the candidates Crump backed—for the U. S. Senate and for governor—were trailing far behind Friday on nearly complete unofficial returns. Republicans held their primary Thursday but voting was light.

Kefauver, veteran of 10 years in the lower house of Congress, was in the lead over Crump-supported Judge Mitchell for the U. S. Senate. Senator Stewart, the incumbent seeking reelection, was second man in this race. Mitchell was third.

Gordon Browning likewise was far ahead of Governor Jim McComd, seeking reelection to a third term, in the gubernatorial race.

Vicki Draves Wins Second Diving Medal

By The Associated Press
LONDON—A litha, brunette beauty from Pasadena, Calif., Mrs. Victoria Manalo Draves, made Olympic diving history Friday, while another Californian, young Bob Mathias of Tulare, took a lead in the decathlon.

Mrs. Draves won the high platform championship to become the first woman ever to monopolize Olympic diving honors. She had captured the springboard event earlier.

The victory by the 23-year-old Vicki gave America its seventh gold medal in water events—five by the men, two by the women. A triumph in the decathlon would give the Americans their ninth track and field championship.

America's patched-up 400 meter relay team won its opening qualifying heat in 41.1 seconds.

The quartet was composed of Barney Ewell of Lancaster, Pa.; Lorenzo Wright of Wayne University; Harrison Dillard of Baldwin-Wallace and Mel Patton of Southern California.

Light Vote Expected In Runoff Primary

By The Associated Press
A much lighter vote in the Texas Democratic Runoff Election than in the first primary is predicted by estimates of party officials and newspaper men in key counties.

A record vote of 1,195,906 was cast in the July 24 first primary. The second primary will be held August 28. Its only statewide race is that between former Gov. Coke Stevenson and U. S. Rep. Lyndon Johnson for the U. S. senatorial nomination.

There are runoffs in three congressional districts—the third, tenth and fifteenth. Many interest-citing local contests were settled in July. Where still fights on the county level remain they will have influence on the number of second primary votes in a county.

Thousands Reported Drowned In China

NANKING (AP)—Flood waters of the Yellow River drowned nearly 3,500 persons and left 400,000 homeless in the rich North Honan Province, official reports released here Friday said.

The Water Conservation Commission said reports from North Honan magistrates described the flood the worst in 100 years. More than 1,000,000 fertile acres were flooded.

(Frequently preliminary reports of this nature are exaggerated as to casualties.)

Nine districts north of Chenghsien were reportedly flooded when the dikes of the Tainho, a tributary of the Yellow River, collapsed. Reports here from magistrates gave 3,480 missing or drowned, 400,000 homeless and 42,499 homes destroyed.

The reports said more than 3,000 drowned when backwaters flooded Paimuchuen, a lake 25 miles northwest of Chenghsien.
