ONE WAY TO BEAT THE TRAILER SHORTAGE is demonstrated by P. A. Ware as he places his wheelbarrow in weighing position on the scales of the Paymaster Gin. Scurry County gins are all working at top speed to free trailers for use in the fields.

Gins, Farmers Busy On 'Old Year' Crop

Tomorrow starts a new year, but Scurry County cotton gins and farmers are still all wrapped up in the old year's crop.

Good weather for the last several days and a bumper cotton crop in many sections of Scurry County have kept farmers and ginners alike plenty busy. The biggest shortage that has appeared has been in trailers and in the number of hours in a day.

Ginners' estimates from around the county indicate that they feel they are from "a little better than half" to 75 per cent done.

As of Friday evening a total of 31,014 bales had been ginned by Scurry County Gins, and 2,811 bales were reported weighed in and waiting on the yards.

Paymaster Gin reported 6,081 bales ginned with 900 waiting on the yard. Planters Gin No. 1 reported 2,420 ginned with 217 waiting. Planters No. 2 in Fluvanna reported 1,845 ginned, 150 on the yard, and "1,000 in the field." Planters No. 3 in Dunn had ginned 1,080 and had 150 in the yard.

The China Grove Gin reported 3,190 bales ginned and 280 waiting. They estimated that another 1,500 bales were yet to come in, and also that the late summer hail storm in that area had cut the crop by about 1,500 bales. Layfield Gin in Ira reported 1,750 bales ginned and 200 waiting. In Hermleigh the count was 3,175 ginned and 167 on the yard. Inadale Gin had ginned 3,758 and had 393 waiting. The Co-op Gin in Snyder reported 7,755 bales ginned with 504 waiting on the yard.

When final figures are in it is expected that the year 1961 will be the best cotton year in the county's history.

NO PAPER TOMORROW

The Snyder Daily News, along with a majority of other Snyder firms, will take a full holiday Monday, New Year's Day.

Most retail business firms, along with banks, government agency offices, etc., will be closed for the holiday, which is one on the list recommended for observance by the Chamber of Commerce Merchant's Committee.

Regular business will be resumed Tuesday, Jan. 2, when the next issue of the Daily News will be published.

Boyce House Is Dead

FORT WORTH (AP) — Boyce House, known as the bragginest Texan of them all, was found dead in his bed at his hotel here Saturday.

The 65-year-old author and humorist, whose books of Texas tales have sold hundreds of thousands of copies, apparently died of a heart attack.

He had picked up his morning newspaper and gone back to bed to read it. A maid became concerned when he failed to rise and discovered him dead shortly before noon.

House suffered a heart attack last September and had been in ill health in recent months.

He was active as executive vice president of the Association of Consumer Finance Companies of Texas until his heart attack.

He had been with the Dallas-based firm eight years.

Although he had written on compilations of tall Texas tales that brought him renown. Most of the stories were familiar ones, but House maintained that people would rather hear stories they've heard than new ones.

"Texans at heart are really modest," he said. "But when we tell the plain, unadorned, unexaggerated truth about our incomparable state, we are accused of exaggerating."

House started writing in 1935. It was the publication of "I Give You Texas" in 1943 that gave him his first big boost. The book sold 130,000 copies, many of them to Texans overseas fighting the war.

Then came "Tall Talk From Texas" and "Texas Proud and Loud." Others followed.

His only books not devoted to Texas were "Cub Reporter," about his newspaper days on the Memphis Commercial Appeal, and "Laugh Parade of States," a collection of funny stories from all over the United States.

World Leaders View '62 With Mingled Emotions

Prospects Uncertain

By FRANCIS STILLEY
Associated Press Writer

When the world figuratively lifts a toast to the Christian New Year at midnight Sunday, what kind of a year will it be toasting?

Will mankind somehow find the key to settlement of its age-old differences during the next twelve months, and settle back to enjoy the long-sought fruits of peace and prosperity?

Or will 1962 be another dark year, full of foreboding, misunderstanding and chaos—or worse still, more strife and bloodshed?

Man, of course, can make of the world what he chooses.

But men, as well as the nations in which they live, do not find it any easier now than in centuries bygone to agree upon the kind of a world they would have, despite an eternal cry for peace.

World leaders look upon the prospects with mingled emotions.

"The dangers that confronted us have in no way diminished in the last 12 months," says the revered Sir Winston Churchill, "and from us all great and sustained efforts."

To this the 87-year-old former British prime minister added in a New Year's message:

"A far-sighted unity of plan and action of the countries of the free world should be our commanding purpose. I hope and trust that speedy progress may be made towards this aim in 1962."

Expressions of other leading world figures ranged from gloom to guarded hopefulness.

America's youthful President Kennedy, in Florida to be near the bedside of his stricken father, was described as somewhat encouraged though still gravely concerned by a lack of genuine progress toward easing world tensions.

He was said to find some hope for what he calls the "grand design" of the United States to achieve a world of free nations, but does not anticipate relief from immediate tensions while Russia continues to press forcefully toward enlarging its sphere of power.

British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan pledged that "none of the disappointments and setbacks of 1961" would weaken his government's determination to work toward world peace and disarmament.

In a message to his Conservative party, he said:

"In a sadly worsened international situation I find two most encouraging factors.

"The British people in this past dangerous year showed a notable absence of panic. Cool heads in any crisis are a great asset.

"There is, too, a general realization that there are no easy shortcuts to peace, and that it would be folly to cast away the nuclear shield which has thus far kept us safe."

President Tito of Yugoslavia, a fence-sitter in the East-West struggle, saw diminishing chances for peaceful settlement of world conflicts and problems.

Awards To First Baby Of '62 Set

An attractive array of awards to the first Snyder area baby of 1962 has been lined up by a group of Snyder business firms.

The awards will go to the first baby born in the Snyder area after the stroke of midnight tonight.

In order to qualify, the parents must be residents of the Snyder area, and the exact time of birth must be certified by the attending physician. In the event of a tie, the awards will be distributed at the discretion of the committee.

The awards are as follows: One dozen Birdseye diapers, by the C. R. Anthony Co.; a free chicken dinner to the parents, by the 66 Cafe; an infant's gown, by Dunnam Bros. Mattress Factory; an unbreakable Polyethylene Baby Bath by Whitfield's 5 and 10; a stuffed toy, by Lad and Lassie Shop; one dozen Birdseye diapers, by The Fair Store; a $5 gift certificate, by Holt Music Co.; Deluxe Mexican dinners to the parents, by Carlos' Little Mexico Cafe; an electric bottle warmer, by Hall Drug Co.; a free gift of a J&J Baby Gift Set, by Stinson Drug; a six - months subscription to the parents, by The Snyder Daily News.

Weather To Remain Ideal For Holiday

By The Associated Press

Ideal weather was general in Texas Saturday and forecasters said it should continue fine right through New Year's Day on Monday.

That would mean fly highways and also a dry Cotton Bowl for the 78,000 expected in Dallas for the Texas-Mississippi football game Monday.

The main flaw was patchy morning fog mainly in South Texas. Fog was blamed for a two-car crash near Austin in which John Gaston Walls, 32, died while en route to a deer hunt. Another highway crash near Rio Grande City during a heavy fog Saturday killed Melecio Longoria of Rio Grande City and Matias Zarrato of La Grulla.

Nearly all Texas skies were clear except for some spotty cloudiness in the south. Afternoon temperatures usually were in the 60s after a morning low of 19 degrees at Dalhart, high in the Panhandle.

The New Year Day forecast for Dallas and the Cotton Bowl dings called for partly cloudy weather with temperatures in the mid-50s by game time. Slightly cooler weather was expected to move south over the northern half of Texas starting Sunday.

Crash Survivors Are Flown To AF Hospital

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Five survivors of an auto-train crash at Abilene in which two children died were flown to Brooke General Hospital here today by the Air Force.

Flown here for treatment were Mrs. Libef Johnson and her son, David, and Mrs. Darlene Alfano and her two daughters, Rose Linda and Donna.

Killed when the car was struck by a Texas & Pacific passenger train were Patricia Ann Alfano and Monte Johnson Jr.

Mrs. Johnson is the wife of Sp. Monte Johnson. Mrs. Alfano is the wife of Sp. Fernando Alfano.

Johnson and Alfano are assigned to Dyess Air Force Base at Abilene.

Local Banks To Hike Interest On Deposits

A new banking regulation setting the maximum amount of interest that may be paid on bank deposits goes into effect Jan. 1.

Hubert Cargile and Roger Mize, presidents of the two Snyder banks, have announced changes in interest rates made possible by this new law. Regular savings accounts interest rates will be increased to 3½ per cent compounded semi-annually starting tomorrow. Money must be on deposit for at least six months before any interest becomes payable.

On time deposits in the form of "Certificates of Deposit" having a maturity of at least 12 months the new maximum allowable rate is 4 per cent. Both Snyder banks will pay the new maximum amount.

On shorter term Certificates of Deposit other maximum amounts have been set forth by law, and both banks will also pay these rates: Certificates with 30 to 90 days maturity dates will yield one per cent per annum interest; 90 days to six months, 2½ per cent; six months to one year, 3½ per cent, and twelve months or more will pay the 4 per cent maximum compounded semi-annually.

Both Snyder bankers agreed that there was little doubt that at least on the national average banks would have to increase rates on loans to some extent in order to be able to pay the new higher interest rates. Locally they said they hoped that enough revenues would be generated from various sources to permit the paying of those higher rates of interest on savings accounts.

When contacted, Max West, manager of Snyder Savings and Loan, stated that no plans were contemplated by them to raise rates. West had been in contact with several Savings and Loan Associations in the area including San Antonio, Lubbock, Midland and Dallas, and none of them plan to change their interest payments. All are operating at 4 per cent per annum compounded semi-annually.

Ex-Demo Chief Paul Butler Dies

WASHINGTON (AP) — A heart attack Saturday ended the life of Paul M. Butler who served as stormy 5½ years as national chairman of the Democratic party. He was 56.

Butler, who stepped down from the party chairmanship in the summer of 1960, was stricken at George Washington University Hospital and died within minutes after the attack.

He had been admitted to the hospital Dec. 5 for treatment of a cold and had seemed to be making satisfactory recovery from a respiratory infection complicated by diabetes from which he had suffered for many years.

Since his retirement from politics, Butler had been practicing law from offices here but accepted the cold while trying to ease up his old home town of South Bend, Ind.

A volatile and emotional man who was quick to anger, Butler was in public conflict with members of his own party about as often as with the Republicans. Yet his tenure as Democratic chairman was the longest of modern times except for the eight years served by James A. Farley in the Franklin D. Roosevelt era.

When he resigned after the 1960 national convention, Butler was succeeded by Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington. Jackson resigned after the presidential inauguration, then the present chairman, John M. Bailey of Connecticut, took over.

At Palm Beach, Fla., where he is spending the holidays, President Kennedy expressed his grief and called Butler "a courageous leader of the Democratic party during some of the party's most difficult hours." He added: "His wise counsel will be sorely missed."

The slender, prematurely gray Butler was an intense man for whom political leadership was a deadly serious, around-the-clock job. A dedicated liberal, he frequently was in conflict with the more conservative members of his party. Partly because of his ordination to the ministry, he was anathema to a great many Southern Democrats and other more conservative party leaders.

C-C Banquet Plans Made

Preliminary arrangements have been completed for the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet. The speaker this year will be Dr. Walter Kerr, prominent Methodist minister from Tyler.

Dr. Kerr has recently returned from a trip to Formosa. He also has traveled in Russia. Dr. Kerr is well known as an outstanding speaker and is constantly in demand throughout the Southwest.

The banquet will be held in the high school cafeteria and auditorium on Jan. 30 at 7 p.m. The Rev. Harry Vandervoot will act as master of ceremonies, and Chamber officers for the coming year will be installed.

Tuesday Is Dollar Day—In Snyder . . . Don't Miss It

FAITHFUL READER—Snyder Daily News Circulation Manager Kenneth Brotherton hands Mrs. Ada Henderson, 2801 Avenue M, her copy of the daily paper. She has been a constant subscriber to a Snyder newspaper since she and her husband arrived in January, 1901, in a covered wagon. They had moved here from Coleman County. Mrs. Henderson recalls that the first paper to which they subscribed was "The Coming West."

Jackie's Trip Is Postponed

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Mrs. John F. Kennedy put off Saturday her scheduled trip to India and Pakistan until early March because of the illness of the President's father.

The announcement by the White House marked the second postponement in the visit to the two nations. Originally scheduled for November, it first was delayed until late January.

Now the 32-year-old First Lady will make her tour of some of the cultural and historical areas of the neighboring Asian countries early in March.

"The delay in Mrs. Kennedy's trip is necessitated by the illness of the President's father," White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said in a brief announcement.

He said the change in date was made after consultation with the governments of India and Pakistan. It was fixed for early March instead of February to avoid conflict with the Indian elections in late February, a spokesman explained.

The President's father, 73-year-old Joseph P. Kennedy, suffered a stroke Dec. 19 and is in nearby St. Mary's Hospital. His right side is partly paralyzed and he still is unable to speak.

The President got gratifying reports of improvement in his father's condition Friday. Rehabilitation procedures have been started to try to overcome the paralysis.

It is expected that the elder Kennedy may have to remain in the hospital possibly until early March.

Members of the family, including the First Lady, have kept a constant watch at his bedside. Mrs. Kennedy has not missed a day in coming to his hospital bedside.

Both the President and Mrs. Kennedy made hospital visits at separate times this morning.

Later in the afternoon, Kennedy called in top White House aides for another round of discussions on his 1962 legislative program.

The chief executive plans a two-day New Year's holiday respite in his work schedule on Sunday and Monday.

The First Lady's India-Pakistan trip is expected to last about two weeks, but no time schedule or itinerary has been announced.

Party Is Thrown For Soviet Envoy

WASHINGTON (AP) —Soviet Ambassador Mikhail A. Menshikov has thrown a goodby party for official Washington. He also dropped a hint that he might retire when he gets back to Russia.

The Soviet Embassy had a mellow air Friday night as prominent Americans and foreign diplomats dropped in at the reception for the departing ambassador.

Menshikov, 59, who leaves for Russia Jan. 1, said he hasn't decided what he will do next. But he did suggest that since he has put in more than 30 years service, he might decide to retire.

Birdwell Plans To Enter Ministry

Harland B. "Steve" Birdwell, owner of Birdwell's Downtown 66 Service has announced he is leaving Snyder and the service station business.

He will become a candidate for the ministry of the Episcopal Church, Diocese of Northwest Texas. Birdwell was confirmed in Oct. 1954 in St. John's Church in Snyder. In 1957 he started inquiries into the possibility of becoming ordained. The final step was taken last week with the successful completion of a required psychiatric examination.

Before the final approval came it was necessary that Birdwell meet with, first, the local church and get their approval. Next there was a meeting with the board of examining chaplains of the Northwest Texas Diocese. Following that came the approval of the Bishop.

Last month Birdwell went to Lexington, Ky., to confer with and get the approval of Bishop Moody, president of the Episcopal Theological Siminary in Kentucky. At that time he also made arrangements to enter the University of Kentucky at this year's mid - term. At the University he will continue work toward a BA degree in History which was begun at Texas Tech several years ago, and also do preparatory work for the Seminary.

Birdwell plans to enter the Seminary in September, 1962, and to continue with the University work as well as seminary studies. If all goes as planned he will finish in May, 1965, and will return to the Northwest Texas Diocese.

Birdwell is a native of Snyder and is married to the former Miss Charlene Smith of Sweetwater. They have two children, Cindy, 11, and Scott, 9. He served with the United States Marine Corps during World War II. After the war he attended Texas Tech, and then returned to Snyder and entered the service station business in 1950.

Birdwell was president of the Snyder Junior Chamber of Commerce in 1955 - 56, and served two terms on the city council being elected first in 1955. He was selected as Snyder's Outstanding Young Man for 1958.

Birdwell has completed the sale of his home and business and plans to leave Snyder in about two weeks.

Young Fernstrom Studies In Tunis

Stig-Olaf Fernstrom, Finnish exchange student in the Snyder Schools two years ago, is now reported to be studying at the University of Tunis, Tunisia, North Africa.

Fernstrom was the first exchange student in Snyder. He is studying to become a missionary, and is attending the University of Tunis on a scholarship furnished by the World Council of Churches.

Ellie Howard led the Yankees in runs scored during the 1961 World Series. He tallied five times.

Sisters Tell Of Ordeal

AKRON, Ohio (AP) —"They knocked us to the floor. It was frightening. It was one of those situations that you can't believe is happening but really is. One had a hunting knife and the other a small gun."

That was how Miss Dorothy Frazier, 64, described the invasion of her home by two men who held Miss Frazier and her sister, Ruth, 67, captive for 18 hours. The men fled with $2,052 Friday after forcing Dorothy Frazier to go to the bank and draw out $2,000. The sisters are retired school teachers.

While Dorothy went to the bank, the robbers stayed in the house with Ruth Frazier, whom they had threatened to kill if police were called.

Memories Of Rayburn Still Linger In Nation's Capitol

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Memories of Speaker Sam Rayburn are stirred by many things around the Capitol.

A basement corridor, for instance, was piled the other day with crates of filing cabinets filled with documents from his 48 years in Congress. The address across each told the story: "Sam Rayburn Library, Bonham, Tex."

The office for the 4th Congressional District of Texas is still open and doing business. Rayburn's staff remains, awaiting the election of his successor.

But there but planning to retire is Rayburn's long time secretary, Miss Alla Clary. She came from Prosper, Tex., in 1917 to work for the War Department. In 1919 she went to work for Rayburn. She plans to continue the travels which have taken her around the world. She still keeps her home in nearby Falls Church, Va.

D. B. Hardeman, former Texas legislator and a member of the Rayburn staff, plans to retire himself for duties of his private enterprises business of [illegible] November. Hardeman has been gathering material for the book for years.

Mrs. Calvin Kimbrough, 15 years on Rayburn's secretarial staff, hopes to say on with his successor. She and her husband, an official Capitol guide, are from Sherman.

Plans of three other Texans on the Rayburn staff are uncertain. They are John Holton, a lawyer and top aide in the speaker's office; Bob Odle, who came a few months ago from McKinney; and Bernice Fazer, from Leonard and Bonham.

Among others long and closely associated with Rayburn and those presently remind one of the old Texan is the tall, distinguished looking gray-haired man who was his chauffeur. George Demetrios, has been chauffeur for the speaker since Rep. William Bradford of Alabama held that office. He chauffered Republican Speaker Joe Martin of Massachusetts during his tenure as the presiding officer of the House. He probably [illegible] the speaker who sat

VISITING THE SITE of some of the earliest history of Scurry County is Geral Greene, upper left. He is seen near the headwaters of the largest of several springs known as Greene Springs on property now owned by Preston Wilson east of Snyder.

THIS VIEW shows the sandstone rock around the spring and a view of the water from the spring. According to long-time residents of the area the spring is never known to have gone dry.

J. C. MASSINGILL, Commissioner of the precinct in which Greene Springs are located, inspects one of the "wells" formed in the rock by the swirling of gravel which cuts the circular holes.

HERE IS one of the "wells" which is about three feet across and six feet deep. Just below it and to the right is another which is just beginning to form. The "baby" is about four inches across and three inches deep.

Greene Spring Is Still Beauty Spot

BY DICK ROBERTS

The year was 1881 when Jim Greene, great - great uncle of Geral Greene, Scurry County's Tax Assessor - Collector, moved from the Buffalo Gap country to Scurry County. Constant, clear water was of major importance, and the family settled near a good, clear spring. In later years that spring was to be known as Greene Spring.

In the year 1890 the Greenes had built a house. Since they had first settled there they had lived in two dugouts. Traces of those old dugouts still remain in the side of a hill at Greene Springs.

When the Trevey family came to this country on Jan. 9 of that year they were offered the use of the dugouts until they too, could homestead that land.

Mr. Emmett Trevey, who now lives a mile north of the Snyder Cemetery, describes himself as "a barefoot kid of 10" at the time. Looking back some 72 years Mr. Trevey still recalls clearly the dugouts they called home that winter and the country around Greene Springs. The next summer they homesteaded the property in southwest Scurry County which is still in the family today.

Freighters stopped at Greene Spring, and Mr. Trevey recalls that the first money he ever had was given to him by one of the freighters . . . "a nice old man." But it appears that Mr. Trevey has yet to forgive his mother for taking his 50 cents and buying laying hens with it.

Mr. Trevey also recalls that the brands run by the Greenes were the GGG and JIG.

Greene Spring remains one of the most beautiful spots in Scurry County, and is still a watering spot for cattle. The spring is now owned by Preston Wilson.

Broiler Markets Firm In State

AUSTIN (AP)— Texas broiler markets were steady Thursday and Friday, closing firm, the State Agriculture Department reported.

Supplies were a little short to adequate for a fair demand. Movement was moderate.

Closing prices: South 15.50, East 14.9-15.9. A year ago: South 16, East 15.42.

See Decline In Surplus

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department now predicts surpluses of feed grains will be reduced about 150 million bushels as a result of this year's emergency feed grain program.

Under this program, farmers who retired at least 20 per cent of their corn and sorghum grain acreages received government payments and price supports.

A department report said Saturday that feed grain production this year totaled 141 million tons or about 5.22 billion bushels. On hand was a reserve and surplus of about 84 million tons or about 3.1 billion bushels.

It said use of feed grains this season will be a little larger than this year's production. Hence, the reserve and surplus supplies a year from now are expected to be down to about 79.8 million tons or 2.95 billion bushels.

Rebels Rule As Favorite By One TD

DALLAS, Dec. (AP)—Mississippi's Rebels, operating a touchdown factory behind a 217-pound line and using Doug Elmore and Glynn Griffing as the chief engineers, storm into the Cotton Bowl Monday favored to lash Texas for their sixth bowl triumph in a row.

Their ground attack hampered through loss of mighty fullback Billy Ray Adams but with the air arms as efficient as bank examiners, Mississippi cast an appraising eye at a Texas pass defense that leaked tragically just once.

The teams with 9-1 records, each angry over a narrow failure to attain the national championship, clash at 2:30 p.m., EST before a sellout crowd of 73,504 and a national television (CBS) audience in the bowl game rated tops in class of competing teams.

Texas, No. 3, and Mississippi, No. 5, are the highest ranking combination for New Year's day and its plethora of gridiron spectacles.

Texas, still humiliated by a 39-7 thrashing from Mississippi in the 1958 Sugar Bowl, was grimly confident of slowing down the massive Rebels. But the Longhorns were virtually alone in their thoughts—Mississippi was a three-point favorite and most critics thought that wasn't enough.

Mississippi will outweight the Texas line 18 pounds to the man, will boast a margin of 35.6 yards in a total offense that scored 35 more points and show 30.8 yards less in defense.

Texas also was uncertain whether its star fullback, Ray Poage, would be able to operate at efficiency. He was injured in midseason and is just now fully recovering.

Mississippi will boast what appears to be the finest aerial attack the Cotton Bowl has seen in its 26 years with Elmore and Griffing throwing for more than 1,500 yards and 16 touchdowns.

Mississippi scored 19 of its 47 touchdowns through the air and set up eight more by passing. Its 418.7 yards per game total offense was No. 1 in the nation.

The Rebels first appeared in the Cotton Bowl in 1956 when they beat TCU 14 - 13. Since then they have played in the Sugar Bowl three times and the Gator Bowl once and in four of their engagements beat Southwest Conference teams. In fact, Mississippi never has lost a bowl game to a Southwest Conference outfit.

Only the Texas players are saying that the Mississippi surge will be halted Monday.

Coach Johnny Vaught of Mississippi said upon his arrival with his squad Saturday that he expected this to be the No. 1 bowl game of the country and to be one of the closest of them all.

"I am still trying to figure out how Texas, No. 3 in the nation, could be a 3 - point underdog to Mississippi, which was rated No. 5," said Vaught.

He said he expected this to be his toughest bowl game yet although he has lost two in the eight in which he has competed.

The Texas squad, 58 strong compared to 38 for Mississippi, was delayed in its arrival because of equipment trouble on its plane but the Longhorns flew in in time for an afternoon workout.

Coach Darrell Royal echoed Vaught's sentiments that it would be a tough ball game. He said Texas was in top shape for the struggle with Poage, the injured fullback, fully recovered.

The Cotton Bowl got the good word — The weather is going to be ideal. The Weather Bureau said New Year's Day should be partly cloudy with temperatures in the mid - 50s and that there were no indications of rain.

Wichita Is Mauled By Cats, 17-9

By JIM IRWIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Villanova's bruising defense battered Wichita Saturday and helped the Wildcats to a 17-9 Sun Bowl football victory.

The alert Wildcat defense bottled up Wichita's running game and picked off four Wichita passes.

The mobile Villanova forward wall limited Wichita to 182 yards total offense and did not allow a Wichita touchdown until the last 45 seconds.

Fullback Billy Joe, a 230-pound junior who received the most valuable player award, was Villanova's leading ground gainer with 63 yards on eight carries. He rammed over the Wildcats' opening score.

Joe carried twice in the 43-yard drive and ran over four Wichita players on his 19-yard scoring run.

Villanova kept Wichita battled up inside its own 40 until late in the first half. With less than three minutes to play, the Shockers drove 41 yards to the Villanova 19. Bill Seigle then kicked a 36-yard field goal, longest in Sun Bowl history.

Villanova posed another serious threat midway in the second quarter, driving to the Wichita nine but Nick Russo fumbled and Wichita's center, Leroy Leep, recovered on the six.

The Wildcats put the game out of reach in the third period with a touchdown and a field goal. Fullback Lou Rettino battered his way over from the two, capping a 2-yard drive set up by a Wichita fumble on the kickoff.

Sam Grunelsen booted a 26-yard field goal for the Wildcats.

Alex Zyskowski scampered in from 7 yards away for Wichita's last minute touchdown.

Blanda Gets Player Of Year Award

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — George Blanda, the heart of Houston's offense that swirled to the championship, was named player of the year in the American Football League Saturday.

The league's head coaches picked Blanda, the AFL's record-smashing passing leader, for the honor by almost unanimous vote.

Since the coaches could not vote for their own players, seven votes were the maximum. Blanda got six, other votes going to Boston's Gino Cappelletti and Houston's Billy Cannon.

Blanda recently renewed his contract with the Oilers although for a while there were prospects that the 12-year veteran of pro football would call it quits after this season.

"I'm having too much fun," said Blanda. "I like to play and I like to win. Wally (Oiler's Coach Wally Lemm) lets me play and he doesn't let you even think of losing."

Blanda led Houston to 10 straight victories, including the championship game against San Diego.

The quarterback ended with all sorts of league passing records: Most yards 3340, most touchdown passes 36 and most yards per passing attempt 9.23. He hit 187 of 362 attempts for a 51.7 completion percentage.

"A great competitor, George always knows what has to be done and how to get it done," says Coach Lemm.

Say Dietzel Army Bound

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Louisiana State's football coach, Paul Dietzel, will sign as Army's head football coach Jan. 4 at West Point, the States-Item said Saturday.

The newspaper said it had learned of the signing date from a highly authoritative source.

In Miami, where the LSU Tigers are drilling for the Orange Bowl game, Dietzel said in an earlier report in the Times-Picayune that he had been offered the Army post.

"It's hard to make comment over some silly assumption. Right now I'm not thinking about anything but the Orange Bowl game Monday."

At West Point, a spokesman for the U.S. Military Academy said the athletic board had no comment on the matter beyond saying a statement on the coaching situation would be made in early January.

Dietzel went to LSU in 1955 after previously serving as an Army line coach under Red Blaik.

Bowls Are TV Bonanza

By WILL GRIMSLEY

Seven of the nation's top 10 college football teams and a postview of the season's brightest individual stars feature the New Year's Day bowl fare—a television viewer's bonanza.

The series of spectacles start as early as 12:45 p.m.—EST — and last until well into most people's dinnertime.

Here's the program expected to draw close to half a million-on-the-spot customers and entertain countless others on the magic screen.

Orange Bowl at Miami, Fla — Louisiana State, No. 3 ranked nationally vs Colorado, No. 6, 12:45 p.m. EST (ABC-TV radio).

Sugar Bowl at New Orleans — Alabama, No. 1 nationally, vs. Arkansas, No. 9, 1:45 p.m. EST (NBC-TV color, radio).

Cotton Bowl at Dallas — Texas, No. 3 nationally vs. Mississippi, No. 5, 2:15 p.m. EST (CBS-TV, radio).

Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif. — Minnesota, No. 7, vs. UCLA, unranked, 4:45 p.m. EST (NBC-TV color, radio).

On the record, the closest game should be that in the Cotton Bowl. Mississippi, a team of tremendous speed and depth, is rated a 3-point favorite over a lighter but quick Texas contingent, featuring All-America halfback Jimmy Saxton.

The game is a 75,000 sellout.

In the Rose Bowl at Pasadena, where 100,870 spectators form the day's largest crowd, ponderous but rugged Minnesota rules an 8-point choice to beat UCLA and thus avenge a 17-7 loss to Washington last year.

The Gophers feature straight-way power and ball control with All-America quarterback Sandy Stephens the central figure in the operations.

Alabama, which marched over 10 opponents to the national championship, is rated a 12½-point pick over Arkansas in the Sugar Bowl, geared for a capacity crowd of 81,585.

Louisiana State's Tigers are a whopping 13-point pick over Colorado, a Big Eight champions. LSU is so loaded with material that it operates three separate platoons.

CURSES! FOILED AGAIN!

'Experts' Miss Boat Again In Pre-Season Grid Poll

FORT WORTH (Special) — It's happened again.

With Texas and Arkansas—the 1961 Southwest Conference football co-champions only hours away from major Bowl appearances, it's time to note that the news media of the always-rugged Southwest Conference missed again on the outcome of the SWC gridchase in the 27th annual TCU Sports News poll.

In August, the 138 "experts" cast their ballots favoring the University of Texas for the crown. But with the final whistle in early December, Texas had to settle for a tie with Arkansas for the coveted title. Thus came the 22nd such miss by the "experts" since the TCU poll began in 1934.

The Arkansas Razorbacks were picked for the fourth spot in the final 1961 Conference rankings, but Coach Frank Broyles and his Hogs foiled the ballots to bounce into the throne room for a third-straight year. In 1959, SMU was a solid choice, but the Hogs—slated for fifth spot—finished strong to tie Texas and TCU for the crown. In 1960, Texas was the choice and Arkansas—a fourth place choice—captured the clear-cut crown.

Both Texas and Arkansas will wind up their seasons on New Year's Day. The Longhorns will host Mississippi in the Cotton Bowl, while the Hogs journey to New Orleans to test National Champion Alabama in the Sugar Bowl.

While the newsmen, radio-TV personnel have named the champion in the SWC only five times—TCU, 1938 and 1958; Texas, 1943, 1945 and 1950-several were close on their August predictions.

Dick Moore of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram was close as he forecast a three-way tie between Texas, Arkansas and Rice. The Owls finished one game back in third-spot behind the champions. Moore, incidentally, was the only one who called Rice correctly for the 1957 flag.

Eleven ballots just missed, as each had Texas as the probable champion with Arkansas in second-spot. They were by Mack Owens, Tyler Telegraph; Kenneth Tooley, Paducah Post; Ron Wheeler, Station KTAT, Frederick, Okla.; Jim Dawson, Shreveport Times; Bill Van Fleet and Jim Trinkle, Fort Worth Star-Telegram; Merv Dawson, Station KEBE, Jacksonville; Naaman E. Nickell, Del Rio News-Herald; John Longinetti, Hot Springs Sentinel-Record; Herbie Jasten, Brenham Banner-Press; and Chris Houston.

Ten there were three who liked Arkansas for the flag with the Longhorns just a notch back in second. Those were Bud Campbell, Station KARK, Little Rock, Ark.; Tony Slaughter, Fort Worth Star-Telegram; and Van Thomas, Henderson Daily News.

Bob Ford of the Associated Press and Dana Campbell of the Fort Worth Press foresaw a tie between Arkansas and Rice for the title with Texas in third-spot. And Bill Rives of the Dallas News marked his ballot like Mike Hill of NW Arkansas Times, Fayetteville: with Arkansas winning the flag; Rice, second; and Texas third.

Steers Most Popular

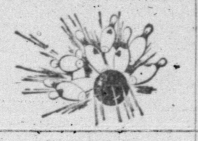

Of the 138 ballots, 47 saw Texas winning the championship while nine more had the Orange tied for the title. Rice had 45 first-place votes and 11 ties; Baylor picked up 25 championship nods; Arkansas received eight first-place votes and four ties; TCU got one first-place vote; while Texas A&M was picked to tie Arkansas for the crown.

In the final standings, the August poll actually forecast only ONE spot correctly. That was SMU for the cellar-spot, as 97 votes favored the Dallas club for the last position.

The predicted finish of the 1961 Southwest Conference race: 1-Texas; 2-Rice; 3-Baylor; 4-Arkansas; 5-Texas A&M; 6-TCU; 7-Texas Tech; 8-SMU.

The actual finish: 1-Texas and Arkansas, tie; 3-Rice; 4-Texas A&M; 5-TCU; 6-Baylor and Texas Tech, tie; 8-SMU.

It was another great race in 1961. It should be another hectic one in 1962.

Packers Set For Invasion By New York

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—Favored Green Bay puts the one-two punch of versatile Paul Hornung and powerful Jim Taylor against the long-ball passing of the New York Giants Sunday in the National Football League championship game at City Stadium.

This will be the first league title game played at Green Bay: About 41,000 fans will brave the northern Wisconsin winter to watch.

This is a Small Town—65,000—against Big Town—8 million. The stores here are plastered with signs reading "Title Town U.S.A." Hornung, Taylor and Co. are civic heroes.

The game, scheduled for 1 p.m. —CST—will be carried on network —NBC—television and radio. The $615,000 paid for TV-radio rights, plus the $400,000 gate receipts at $10 a ticket, add up to a million-dollar proposition. Each player on the winning team should get slightly over $5,000 and each loser more than $3,000.

Despite sub-zero temperatures during the week and the remnants of an earlier 14-inch snowfall, the field is expected to be green and firm, barring a storm during the game. It has been covered for almost a month by a bed of straw and a tarpaulin.

The Packers rule as 3½-point favorites because they already have beaten the Giants once in the regular season, Dec. 3 and once in a pre-season exhibition by identical 20-17 scores and because they will be playing at home.

Seniors To Begin Drills In Mobile

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—Fifty hand picked college seniors begin arriving in Mobile Sunday for a tight week of practice before the Jan. 6 Senior Bowl all-star game.

Most of the squadsmen will be in Mobile by Sunday night, but it will be Tuesday before the Cotton Bowlers can arrive.

Of the 50 scheduled to play in the 13th annual grid contest, 34 played in other games over the weekend — including the Blue-Gray, East-West, All-America and Gator Bowls.

Coach of the Northerners, Tom Landry of the Dallas Cowboys, and his assistants, Brad Ecklund and Boris Dimanchiff, will be bent on putting the Yanks in easy striking distance of the Rebs.

The Southern team holds a 7-5 edge in games played thus far, and a Yankee win would narrow the gap to only one.

But South assistant coaches Charley Winner and Don McCafferty will be just as anxious to help Weeb Ewbank of Baltimore get on the winning side of his Senior Bowl record. In two appearances, Ewbank has a 1-1 record.

Both coaches will have a trio of passing talent with a combined pass completion percentage above 50 per cent. But the Rebels used the airlines more often—and with a shade better success—during the season.

Mel Milin of Washington State, Eddie Wilson of Arizona, and Joe Zuger of Arizona State completed 50.4 per cent of their passes during the season, while Southerners Billy Canty of Furman, Mike Cotten of Texas and Don Fuell of Mississippi Southern tallied a 53.5 percentage.

The Senior Bowl is the debut for college gridders turning pro. Members of the winning squad receive $600 each and losing squadsmen get $500.

Forty-four of the 50 players have been drafted by pro teams and at least 20 already have signed. More are expected to ink pro contracts before leaving Mobile.

A sellout crowd is forecast for the encounter. It will be televised nationally by NBC, except for a 100-mile radius surrounding Mobile.

Tors Edge Tigers In Consolation Finals

LUBBOCK — Snyder High's Tigers picked themselves up from the depths and edged Levelland, 58 - 54, before bowing to the Lamesa Tornadoes, 66 - 56, in the consolation finals of the Caprock Basketball Tournament here Saturday.

The Tigers who absorbed a 63-23 walloping by Monterey in their tourney opener on Wednesday night, were able to improve on their scoring in Saturday action.

Freddie Miller roped 13 points to pace the Bengals in the Lamesa game, while Travis Hatter also was in double figures with 10.

Wallace Franklin poured 10 field goals and one free toss through the net for Lamesa to account for 21 points.

In the Levelland game the Tigers had four players in double figures. Steve Free topped the group with 15 points, while Eddie Phy had 12 and Miller and Hatter 10 each.

Monterey and Tom S. Lubbock met in the championship finals of the large school (Class AAA and AAAA) division Saturday night. Ironically, they had eliminated the consolation finalists in the opening round, Tom S. having decisioned Lamesa, 59 - 56 in double overtime, while Monterey administered the topheavy defeat for the Tigers.

Denver City and Lockney were the finalists in the small school division in another game played later Saturday night.

The Tigers will host the Stamford Bulldogs in Snyder on Tuesday night for their next activity on the court.

Georgia Tech Is Upset By Penn State

By VERNON BUTLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Galan Hall, a balding quarterback with defective vision, found his pass targets with the touch of a genius Saturday and hurled Penn State to a 30-15 triumph over favored Georgia Tech in the 17th annual Gator Bowl game.

Hall threw touchdown passes to halfbacks Al Gursky, Roger Kochman and Hal Powell for 13, 27 and 35 yards, respectively, after Tech had grabbed a 9-0 lead on an unusual safety and a 68-yard record-breaking touchdown run by halfback Joe Auer.

Hall, who wears spectacles except when he is playing, completed nine of 10 passes, including eight in a row in guiding Penn State to a 14-9 halftime lead.

He connected with Powell for Penn State's winning touchdown in the third quarter. The Nittany Lions took advantage of Tech's tardiness in emerging from its defensive huddle, and Powell was at least 10 yards from the nearest Tech defender when he caught the third-quarter scoring pass.

Tech's Auer returned the Southeastern Conference power to contention early in the fourth period when he recovered an errant pitchout from quarterback Billy Lothridge near the Penn State 25-yard line and raced for his second touchdown.

Georgia Tech scored first on an unusual safety.

With Penn State in possession on its 9-yard line, Hall faded to pass and retreated into his end zone. Chased hard by Tech tackle Ed Griffin, Hall passed wide to the sidelines and far over the marker as he was knocked to the turf.

The officials ruled it intentional grounding which from the end zone is an automatic safety and two points.

Blume's FG Sends South To Victory

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—An avenging Southern all-star squad broke a three-year losing streak today and rode to a 9-7 Blue-Gray football victory on the toe of Butch Blume of Rice.

The 170-pound Texan put the Rebels ahead with a last-quarter 37-yard field goal after a hard-charging Yankee team had held the lead for three periods.

It was the first Southern triumph in the 23-year history of the intersectional contest.

Blume's sixth field goal this year more than made up for the extra-point attempt he didn't get to make following the South's lone touchdown. A fumble by Don Fuell of Mississippi Southern kept the placekicking specialist from getting the ball away.

Dale Sarette of Syracuse scored the North touchdown and Ron Taylor of Missouri converted. Bobby Hunt of Auburn went over for the Grays.

A crowd of 18,000 overcoated fans watched the nationally televised game in Cramton Bowl—first under bright sunshine, then under a cold, overcast sky.

Richey Wins Junior Title

DALLAS (AP) — Cliff Richey of Dallas beat Butch Newman of San Antonio for the junior boys singles championship of the Cotton Bowl tennis tournament Saturday.

Richey upset the highly rated Royer of Dallas 6-2, 6-3.

In junior boys doubles, however, Newman teamed with Al Hill Jr. to beat Les Berkes and Mike Royer of Dallas 6p2, 6-3.

Lynn Haines of Dallas beat Jill Philbrick of Lubbock 3-6, 6-3, 6-2 for the junior girls championship.

Miss Philbrick and Ann Lowdon beat Dabby Phillips of Abilene and Sandy Davis of Dallas 6-3, 6-3 for the junior girls doubles title.

Richey became a double winner when he also took the 16-year-old boys singles with a 6-0, 6-3 victory over David Nelson of Austin.

In 16-year-old boys doubles Don Drummond and Jerry Koljat of Kansas City downed Barry Fox and Ed Thompson of Wichita Falls 6-4, 4-6, 6-2.

Ambulance Required For A Round Trip

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP)—The same ambulance that brought her husband home from the hospital went back to the hospital Thursday night with Hazel Coburn, 69.

Mrs. Coburn, rushing outside to greet her husband, Robert, 70, slipped, fell and broke her hip. She was taken to St. Anthony's Hospital where her husband had undergone treatment for an illness.

Taxes Denied On Race Track Winnings

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Charles Lehigh of El Dorado, Ark., can keep every bit of the $296,413 he won at a Caracas, Venezuela, race track in 1953.

U.S. Dist. Judge J. Smith Henley ruled Friday that the Internal Revenue Service didn't give Lehigh proper notice of a tax assessment on the winnings and therefore can't collect.

The IRS was prepared to hit Lehigh hard. It wanted tax, penalties and interest amounting to $304,226—more than the total winnings.

Lehigh bet $2.30, picked the winners in the last six races, and took home the biggest payoff in the track's history that March day in 1953.

Integrated Sports For SWC Urged

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—The student body presidents of seven Southwest Conference schools urged Saturday that "capable athletes of all races" be allowed to participate in the loop's sports events.

The resolution was signed by the student body presidents of all Texas schools—the University of Texas, Southern Methodist University, Rice University, Texas A&M, Baylor University, Texas Christian University, and Texas Tech. They said they were acting as individuals.

The student presidents were here for the Cotton Bowl game. The president of the student body at the University of Arkansas, the eighth member of the loop, is in New Orleans for the Sugar Bowl.

The resolution read:

"The presidents of the student bodies of the Texas schools of the Southwest Conference respectfully recommend that each of these schools allow capable athletes of all races to participate in its intercollegiate athletic program."

Maurice Olian, president of the student body at the University of Texas, said copies of the resolution will be sent to officials of the seven schools and to Southwest Conference officials.

Negroes do not play in Southwest Conference athletic events although several of the Texas schools are integrated.

Others signing the resolution were Gary N. Cadenhead, SMU; Reed Martin, Rice; Malcolm W. Hall, Texas A&M; Denny McGarity, TCU; Carlyle Smith Jr., Texas Tech; and Don Ferguson, Baylor.

Olian said the student body presidents met and adopted the resolution after attending today's session of the Southwest Conference Sportsmanship Committee, of which they are members.

Hadl Leads West To Win

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Kansas quarterback John Hadl threw two touchdown passes and sparked the underdog West to a 21-8 upset over the East Saturday as huge linemen checked All-Americas Ernie Davis and Bob Ferguson in the 37th annual East-West football game.

The 200-pound Hadl, effective as a runner, passer and punter, engineered the opening touchdown drive for the West and his passes of 14 yards to Buddy Iles of Texas Christian and 24-to Curt McClinton of Kansas brought the next two.

A near-capacity crowd of 59,000 in Kezar Stadium and a nationwide television audience saw the high-powered East bottled up in its own territory throughout the first half. The Easterners finally put their offensive in gear early in the third period and moved 80 yards for a touchdown with Roman Gabriel of North Carolina State passing the final 16 to Maryland's Jerry Collins.

After the West drew a penalty on a conversion, Syracuse's Heisman Trophy winner Davis ran the ball over for two points. The East threatened again early in the fourth period, but the threat fizzled after Collins dropped a Gabriel pass in the end zone.

Hadl ran the West out of trouble with a 34-yard dash to the East 24 and three plays later hit McClinton for the final touchdown.

The Kansas quarterback, already signed by the San Diego Chargers of the American Football League, was voted the game's outstanding player. Iles, who has agreed to terms with Dallas of the National Football League, was honored as the top lineman.

The West scored in the first quarter on a 7-yard lash by San Jose State's Mack Burton, who circled end, capping a 55-yard drive. Hadl's pass to Iles covered 14 yards on the first play after the West recovered an East fumble in the second period. Mel Melin of Washington State booted all three conversions.

Utah State's gigantic tackles—All-America Merlin Olsen, at 265 pounds, and Clark Miller at 250—with Ed Blaine, Missouri's 220-pound guard, led the line charge that stopped Davis and Ferguson cold in the first half and checked them most of the second.

Claim Guest Trespassing

HOUSTON (AP)—A woman who came for dinner and stayed three weeks has been charged with trespassing.

The charge against Marjorie Opsitos, 49, was filed by a housewife, Mrs. Ralph Snedeker.

Mrs. Snedeker said she and her husband were enjoying a quiet evening at home Dec. 3 when there was a knock at their door. She said she found Miss Opsitos, carrying a suitcase, and quoted her as saying she lived nearby and had left her husband.

"She seemed like she was in real trouble, so we put her up for the night," Mrs. Snedeker said. "But we couldn't get rid of her. She never went out. She just sat by the fire, content to read detective stories. Finally she told me her husband had been killed in the Army. I demanded she leave my house."

In jail, Miss Opsitos said she had moved into a house near the Snedekers after coming here from San Antonio.

"When Mrs. Snedeker asked me to leave, I thought she didn't mean it," she said.

Four Greats Inducted Into Hall Of Fame

DALLAS (AP) — Four more sports greats were inducted into the Texas Hall of Fame Saturday, bringing the number to 31.

Pete Cawthon, fabled coach; football great Clyde Turner; former big league baseball star Bibb Falk; and Monty Stratton, the ex-big league pitcher who returned to baseball despite the loss of a leg, were given plaques.

Matty Bell, athletic director of SMU, presented the award to Cawthon, former Austin College and Texas Tech and pro football coach.

Paul Richards, former big league manager now general manager of Houston of the National League, made the presentation to Stratton.

D. X. Bible, former coach at Texas A&M, Nebraska and Texas, awarded Falk, now baseball coach of Texas his plaque.

Turner got his plaque from Sammy Baugh, former pro football star. Ironically, Turner is replacing Baugh as coach of the New York Titans.

Bell, Richards, Bible and Baugh already are members of the Texas Sports Hall of Fame.

Dave Barrett, South Carolina basketball sophomore, was a cross country runner at Fort Wayne, Ind.

The Philadelphia Phillies have finished in last place in the National League for the past four years.

Success Is Big Surprise

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Penn State quarterback Galen Hall, at a loss to explain his passing accuracy despite nearsightedness, Saturday was voted the most valuable player in the Gator Bowl football game.

Hall, who wears glasses off the field but not while playing, led State to a 30-15 victory over Georgia Tech. He threw three touchdown passes, completing 12 of 22 aerials for 175 yards. In the first three State scoring drives he missed only one of 11 throws.

Asked after the game what his vision problem is, he replied: "I just can't see very far."

Reserve outfielder Hector Lopez led the Yankees in runs batted in during the World Series with six. He drove home four tallies in the final game.

South-paw Jim O'Toole led Cincinnati's pitchers during 1961 with 176 National League strikeouts in 252 innings. Joey Jay had 157 strikeouts in 247 innings.

Sullivan Is Like 'Old Man River'

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Ed Sullivan, host on a Sunday night television variety hour which has withstood the cumulative effects of time, attrition, tough competition and sponsors' whims, is now heading toward his 14th anniversary in the medium.

In TV terms, 14 years for one program and one performer is an eon. Most performers count themselves lucky if their show stays alive two seasons, and at the end of six are actively planning retirement at the side of their heated pools. Sullivan, however, shows no signs of waning enthusiasm, not even of slowing his busy pace. What's more, the show itself evidences no signs of age and fatigue.

Perhaps this happy circumstance is largely due to the attitude of Sullivan himself. He has been stage-struck for years, and dearly loves and admires theater people. He regards himself still as primarily a newspaperman, a non-professional privileged to introduce and appreciate performing talent.

As a one-time police reporter and sports writer, Sullivan keeps his eye on the newspapers as well as on "Variety." When singer Margaret Truman seemed ready for a public debut, Sullivan provided the audience. When Lucille Ball married a supper-club comedian, Sullivan immediately signed Gary Morton for his show. (The comedian's debut, incidentally, came off so well that Morton has been signed for another appearance.) This sort of thing gives his show immediacy and spark.

Another Sullivan method is his constant effort to improve the program. He has never been reluctant to abandon his format. Once he turned the whole hour, usually broken into short vaudeville-type turns, over to a Russian ballet troupe. On other occasions, he has converted the show into a 60-minute tributes to such composers as Rodgers and Hammerstein and Lerner and Loewe.

In earlier years, the program was produced with great simplicity—usually the singer sang, the dogs frisked and the comedians joked in front of a plain curtain. Nowadays, the show is going in for more elaborate production numbers.

Once upon a time, Sullivan would produce his various acts as entities. Today, with the competition for audiences becoming fiercer, he usually has his star performers come on two or even three times, carefully spaced between the first and second half hours. This is designed to keep the home audience from dialing to other networks for the second half. This year—when there are two rival shows starting at his half way point, he is bringing on and introducing all his performers at the beginning.

THIS IS A SCENE from "The Young Doctors," which is coming to the Canyon Drive In Theater here Sunday, Jan. 7.

8:30 CBS "Jack Benny" turns down an invitation from Don Wilson, Dennis Day and the boys in the band for an extravagant date with a new girl friend but an unexpected phone call simplifies an elaborately contrived evening. Featured, in addition to Eddie Anderson, are band members Sammy Weiss, Frank Remley, Charlie Bagby and Wayne Songer.

OTHER HIGHLIGHTS

12:45 NBC "National Football Championship Game". The Green Bay Packers and the New York Giants battle for the chips at Green Bay, Wisconsin.

2:00 CBS "Let Freedom Ring". Richard Boone, Laraine Day, Dan O'Herlihy and Howard Keel appear in a special hour-long program originating in the famed Mormon Tabernacle and in the nearby Wasatch Mountains.

5:30 ABC "Maverick." Homer, the ne'er-do-well nephew of wealthy General Eakins, gets Bret to take his place and name in the hope of gaining a share in the crusty old general's estate. Hans Conreid is featured.

6:30 NBC "Walt Disney". Goofy illustrates his athletic prowess when he delves into the history, theory and practice of various athletics. John McLeish serves as narrator for "The Goofy Cavalcade of Sports".

7:00 CBS "Ed Sullivan" spotlights, among others, vocalists Matt Monro and Sandy Stewart and the Estelle Alfonso Dancers.

7:30 NBC "Car 54." A woman refuses to move out of a condemned apartment building until her missing dog is returned and Toody and Muldoon are assigned to track him down. Molly Picon is guest.

8:00 ABC "Bus Stop." Fleeing New York City as a fugitive from the police, a woman wangles a ride to California and must hold her hosts at gunpoint. Madlyn Rhue and Pauline Gray are guests.

8:00 NBC "Bonanza". A range war threatens when settlers refuse to stop building on the vast Ponderosa. Lisette Lore makes her American television debut and McGiver is guest star in "Land Grab".

8:00 CBS "Electric Theatre". George Gobel stars in "A Friendly Tribe", the story of a man whose promise to repair the plumbing is nearly undone by an Indian ceremonial dance in his boss' office.

9:00 NBC "Highways of Melody" stars Gordon and Shelia MacRae in a melodious trip from New Orleans to Chicago. George Shakaris, Buddy Ebsen, Kathryn Grayson, Jack Jones, Paul LaValle and the band, Rita Moreno, Jane Morgan and the orchestra of Harry Zimmerman are featured.

9:00 CBS "Candid Camera". Mickey Rooney, whose current nightclub act includes a takeoff on this show, poses as a customer in a sporting goods store where Alan Funt appears as a salesman.

Junior Editors Quiz on MICE

QUESTION: Do mice ever sing?

ANSWER: Mice are found in almost every part of the world. There are many types of mice, ranging from the common house mouse to the exotic Japanese waltzing mouse, which appears to dance in a circle because of a defect in the balance system of its ear.

Mice have funny little squeaky voices which at times sound like the trills of a canary. If you listen closely to mouse sounds and let your imagination do the rest, it will sound as though the little mouse is singing a song to you.

While mice are funny to watch and may seem to be cute, they are among the most destructive animals. They break into pantries and grocery stores and eat the food. Field mice gnaw at trees and strip away the bark so that the trees die.

FOR YOU TO DO: When people have mice in their houses, they get rid of them by setting mousetraps. See if you can find out how a mousetrap works.

Junior Editors Quiz on THE HEART

QUESTION: What makes your heart beat?

ANSWER: Your heart is really a muscle which acts as a pump to keep the blood circulating throughout your body. What appears to be the heart beat is the expansion and contraction of the muscle as it pumps the blood through the circulatory system.

Medical men believe that the heart is one of those muscles that contracts and expands all by itself without any stimulus from outside. Animals hearts, placed in jars of warm liquid, have continued beating by themselves for several hours.

One small section of the heart, called the sino-auricular node, seems to set the beat for the other parts of the heart. It transmits its beat through a special system to the rest of the heart so that all parts will beat in unison.

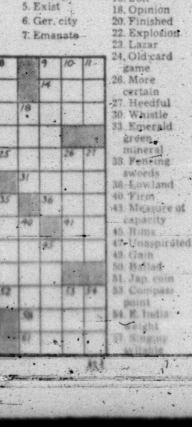

FOR YOU TO DO: Locate your heart by feeling for the beat in your chest. See how your heartbeat speeds up in moments of excitement or activity.

(William Ledger of Fitchburg, Mass., wins $10 for this question. Send your question on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper.) 1-1

Solution of Saturday's Puzzle

Singers To Converge On City Today

Convention president J. Lawrence Deavers has announced that the Great Plains Caprock Singers Association's annual New Year's Eve convention will be held at the Calvary Baptist Church today beginning at 2:30 p.m.

The afternoon session will last from 2:30 to 4 p.m., and the night program is to start immediately after the regular evening worship service.

The convention is one of the largest in West Texas, and encompasses all of the West Texas area. A large number of quartets, soloists, etc., will take part. One of the featured groups will be the Campbell Family Quartet of Levelland.

New song books, just released from the press, are to be used for the program.

Plans also call for broadcasting a portion of the program from 5:30-6 p.m. for the benefit of sick and shut-in friends.

The public is free to come and go as it chooses. Culminating the day's activities will be a devotional at the midnight hour.

Ex-Sheriff Starts Term

CANON CITY, Colo. (AP) — Handsome Robert Roberts began a 5 to 6-year term Saturday at the Colorado Penitentiary, where he himself delivered criminals while he was sheriff of Adams County near Denver.

Roberts, 40, was convicted of burglary and conspiracy. Pending against him are six other grand jury indictments charging burglary, conspiracy and accepting a bribe.

The former sheriff's bid for leniency was rejected by Judge Addison Gooding, who set the sentence expressing sympathy for Roberts' attractive wife, Mickey, and their seven children.

"It is a disaster of his own contrivance," the judge said. Mrs. Roberts cried.

Roberts, a former FBI agent, was handcuffed and led away by officers he formerly directed.

He will be eligible for parole in two years and eight months.

Bell Plans Expansion

DALLAS (AP) — Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. has set a construction budget of $136.5 million in Texas during 1962, the largest in the firm's history.

During 1962 gross construction in the state amounted to $123.8 million, R. A. Goodson, Texas vice president of the company, said.

"We expect to add more than 165,000 new telephones in the state during the year," he said, compared to a gain of about 120,000 in 1961. During the year we will install our 3,000,000th telephone in Texas."

The construction money will go for dozens of projects over the state. One major project is the big addition to the company's headquarters building in Dallas, where a 23-story enlargement that will nearly triple its size is in progress.

Watchnight Service Set At Green Hill

A watchnight service will be held at Green Hill Baptist Church tonight.

The program will begin immediately following the evening worship service, with each department assembling separately for a planned program.

A general assembly will begin at 10:30 p.m., with the program to include music and to end with a devotional and prayer.

Refreshments will be served and visitors will be welcome. A nursery will be provided.

Jail Term Levied In Theft Case

Guadalupe Alverez, Jr. pleaded guilty in County Court Friday to a charge of theft of four hubcaps. He was sentenced to 30 days in jail and costs of $26.50.

The arrest was made by the County Sheriff's department.

Posse Going To Parade In Odessa

The Scurry County Sheriff's Posse will participate in the annual New Year's Day parade in Odessa Monday.

Posse members will have a final parade drill this afternoon at 2:30 at the Posse Arena in preparation for tomorrow's parade. The regular meeting of the group will be held Tuesday night.

American Knows Little About His Car

By JOE BENHAM

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Mr. Average American Auto Driver might just as well throw his dollars out of the car windows, automotive research experts say, if he does these things:

Runs his low-priced, low-compression ratio auto on premium-grade gasoline.

Pays a service station attendant or mechanic to rotate his tires.

Buys a second-hand car "driven only by a little old lady on Sundays."

Fails to have his spark plugs and ignition points cleaned and adjusted regularly.

Drives at speeds much higher than the posted limits.

Tells the service station attendant "fill it up" unless the car is going to be driven some distance right away.

Allows the pressure in the tires to drop below the best figure.

These pointers come from the Southwest Research Institute, a non-profit group of laboratories and research facilities where an average of 160 people are at work on $3 million worth of automotive research programs.

Henry Korp, technical vice president, and John Clark Jr., director of automotive research, agree that what the average driver doesn't know about his car is frightening — and expensive.

They cite the buyer who is looking for the used car. With 10,000 miles on the speedometer, driven by the little old lady only on Sundays.

Her car is going to be in worse shape than one which the average salesman has put 100,000 miles on," Clark said.

The ideal speed, he said, is the top legal speed — 55 to 60 m.p.h., in most areas.

At slower speeds, he said, the auto will accumulate sludges and acids in the crankcase and carbon and lead salts deposits in the cylinders.

The salesman's car will have accumulated most of those 100,000 miles on cross - country trips on which the engine was driven at a steady rate that kept it hot and functioning at maximum efficiency.

The little old lady, Korp said, will have put the 10,000 miles on her auto on a series of short trips on which the engine barely had time to get warm before it was turning cold again and collecting those harmful deposits.

Certain gasoline additives improve the octane system without requiring more refining into more expensive grades of fuel, Korp said.

The additives are present in both regular and premium grades of gasoline, the scientists said, making it unnecessary for the motorist to buy the premium grade unless his auto has a higher-priced, high - compression engine which requires it.

They recommend running at highway speeds with an occasional tank of premium gas, even in low - priced autos with low-compression engines to knock some of the carbon loose.

"I'd like to help get rid of the fallacy in the belief of the average driver that the big oil companies have been buying up carbureters with wondrous devices which would provide 80 miles per gallon if installed on an ordinary car," Clark said.

"Actually, the average automotive engine runs about as efficiently as possible."

Mileage can be improved, he said, by having the sparkplugs cleaned and adjusted every 5,000-10,000 miles and the ignition points cleaned and adjusted every 15,000 miles.

The average driver also could obtain another 1-1½ miles per gallon by giving up his automatic transmission for a standard shift, the experts said — but he probably won't.

Dirty points and sparkplugs contribute to misfiring on the part of the engine, causing it to lose power.

The man who tells the attendant to "fill it up" and then drives his car home and parks it on a warm driveway also is in for needless expense. As the warmth reaches the gasoline tank, the fuel will expand and run out onto the driveway. He recommends leaving the level of fuel several inches from the top of the tank.

The money spend on rotation of tires would be better invested in a good front-end alignment, Clark said.

The key thing about tires, he said, is to remember that they should be kept fully inflated. A wheel which has an under-inflated tire may roll two-thirds of the way up on the casing while going around a corner, he said. Tires which aren't properly balanced will wear out an auto's shock-absorbers, he said.

The driver needs to know as much about stopping his car as starting and driving it, Clark said. He recommends a pumping motion on the pedal at half-second intervals to allow heat to escape from the brake drum on heavy brake applications. Otherwise, Clark said, heat will glaze the brake shoes and decrease braking efficiency.

Brakes should be applied prior to entering a turn — not in the turn, he said.

Mr. Bunt was the father of Joe Bunt of Snyder. Other survivors include his wife, two other sons, A. L. of Cleburne and V. E.; two daughters, Mrs. N. W. Woods of Hargill, Tex. and Mrs. Hershel Barclay of Rainbow, one sister, Mrs. Mattie Shackleford of Rainbow. Eight grandchildren and five great-grandchildren also survive.

Mr. Bunt had been in ill health for some time. Services will be under the direction of Glen Rose Funeral Home.

Huge Iceberg Is Observed

SALEM, Mass. (AP)—A 300-foot iceberg has been located in the Atlantic, 250 miles southeast of Salem and between the two major shipping lanes to Europe.

The iceberg was seen Thursday by Coast Guard Capt. Ross P. Bullard, a member of the International Ice Patrol, who was flown to the scene after the berg had been reported by a Navy plane.

The Coast Guard said it was the first time an iceberg has drifted so far south in December to menace navigation since 1912.

If it reaches the Gulf Stream it is believed it will melt rapidly.

The International Ice Patrol was set up after the liner Titanic struck an iceberg and sank off Newfoundland in 1912 with a loss of 1,500 lives.

Solon Has Trade Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., proposes that Congress give the President broader authority to reduce tariffs but retain the right to veto individual trade agreements.

"In these difficult and complex times, we must certainly give the President wide leeway in the development and implementation of trade policy," he said in a statement Thursday.

"At the same time, the Congress must have some opportunity in exceptional cases to express its disagreement with steps taken by the President."

Under Keating's proposal, Congress could reject major trade agreements negotiated by the administration by a two-thirds vote of both houses within 60 days after their submission. If either house did not act to disapprove an agreement within 30 days, it would go into effect automatically.

Oil Firm Bought

HOUSTON (AP) — Continental Oil Co. said Saturday it has bought the oil producing properties of the Poppy Oil Co. of Dallas. The price was not disclosed.

All of the property involved is in Kingfisher County, Okla. Included are 61 wells which produce about 2,100 barrels of oil daily.

Completions Down Slightly In 1961

AUSTIN (AP)— Texas drillers completed 9,467 oil and 3,158 gas wells during 1961, the Railroad Commission said Saturday.

Oil wells completed in 1960 totalled 9,666. Gas well completions in 1960 were 2,011.

During the week five wildcat oil wells were drilled, for a total of 438 this year, a gain over last year's 358. No new gas wildcats were brought in, but the year's total of 942 was more than 10 times last year's 93, due mainly to new means of defining wildcats.

Crews plugged 80 wells last week, including 60 dry holes, for a year total of 8,632 wells plugged. This annual figure includes 5,501 dry holes.

The average calendar day allowable was 2,879,316 barrels, an increase of 6,701.

From me to you, A DAILY VIEW

By Rev. R. Charles Spivey

"My heart overflows with a goodly theme; I address my verses to the king; my tongue is like the pen of a ready scribe.

You are the fairest of the sons of men; grace is poured upon your lips; therefore God has blessed you for ever."

Psalms 45:1 and 2 (read the whole Psalm.)

This Psalm at first glance tells of a great and well loved king. He is beautiful to behold; he is a strong and victorious in battle; he rules in truth and righteousness; he is a strong and victorious in battle; he rules in truth and righteousness; the people love him and desire to be near him.

But as we look deeper into its meaning we see here the Messiah, the Lords' anointed King of all creation. It is Jesus himself, who is described; and we of the church are the bride prepared to live with him.

In a way, this beautiful Psalm describes the Christian life in illustration as no other way can. It tells of the intimacy the Christian must have with Christ the Lord. It is when a person becomes the "bride of God", that he really comes to know the complete love that God has for him.

MR. AND MRS. LARRY PATTERSON

Kathie Crooks Becomes Bride Of Larry Patterson Of Big Spring

The First Methodist Church bedecked with baskets of white mums flocked with holly was the setting for the marriage of Kathie Lorene Crooks of Snyder and Larry Patterson of Big Spring on December 22, at 8 p.m.

The Rev. Harry Vanderpool officiated at the double ring service.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Crooks, Route 3, and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Patterson of Big Spring.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an ankle - length dress of white lace and tulle over white satin. Fashioned with a sweetheart neckline trimmed in tiny pearls and sequins, wrist length sleeves ended in points over the hands.

Her waist length white veil of silk illusion fell from a crown of pearls.

Mr. Gene Young of Plains, brother - in - law of the bride presented the traditional wedding music.

Following a short wedding trip the couple will make their home in Big Spring.

Mrs. Patterson is a graduate of Snyder High School and attended Commercial College of Midland. Her husband is a graduate of Thomas S. High School of Lubbock and presently a student at Howard County Junior College.

Out - of - town guests were from Salt Lake City, Utah, Plains, Post and Big Spring.

1962 All-America Mum Selections. Flameburst, most exciting flame colored decorative. Below, Knockout, rose pink and called the perfect cushion chrysanthemum.

All-America Mums--1962

'Flameburst' and 'Knockout' are what their names imply.

Go modern with these sensationally different and exciting new garden chrysanthemums. They stood out over all the other new creations, as well as older ones, in the twenty All - America Mum Selections trials last summer and fall. From southern Canada to Florida and west to Washington State, it was 'Knockout' and 'Flameburst' that led the scoring as well as praise of the judges and visitors to the trial grounds.

These two are very different in types. 'Knockout' is a low growing cushion mum, suddenly bursting into a blanket of small orchid or rose pink blooms to cupplefely cover the uniform plant spread, hardly a foot tall, in early October.

'Flamebrust' is exceptionally early blooming and continues from September through to hard freezing time in the north and central sections. Growing vigorously to over 2 feet and with bushy spread, flame or coral red decorative blooms are profuse on their long wiry stems and make for fine cut flowers as well as for garden display. It is of unique new coloring, rich and exciting.

Have the thrill of these appealing and so different pink and flame beauties in your garden beds and borders, or in pots, tubs and boxes for the terrace, porch or patio. Longest lasting for cutting or outdoor display, these introductions add immeasurably to the diversity and satisfaction of garden mums. Queen of all fall flowers.

The 19616 mum winners are now in great demand and wide supply. Order them from the mum specialists direct by mail or through any reliable plant dealer. Always look for the All - America plant tag with each plant. Only plants with that certification tag may be offered as 'All - America Mum Selections, grown from originators' stock plants and protected by U. S. plant patents against substitution.

'Her Majesty' is the beautiful double white decorative innovation of 1961. 'Bingo' is the rich crimson red cushion mum. 'Apricot Sheen' is the great double cactus-flowered cushion mum of apricot-peach coloring with a satiny sheen. Be sure to get these along with the 1962 winnig 'Flameburst' a 'Knockout' for a garden full of color this year.

Mints Star In Sweet Potato Dish

When cold, brisk weather puts a keener than usual edge on dinner appetites, how lucky you are if you have some canned sweet potatoes on a shelf to whip into an extra vegetable.

There are many quick ways to vary these potatoes, ranging from candying them to mashing them with butter and milk, or with butter and fruit juice.

One of the newer creations is a delicious combination of the two. The canned sweets are mashed with butter and seasonings, turned into a casserole, then covered with crushed after dinner mints. The mints form a crisp, sweet crust, when baked, that is most refreshing.

Though you can serve this potato dish with virtually any kind of meat, it's best with its usual meaty companions — ham, poultry or game.

Crusty Sweet Potatoes
(Four servings)

1 can sweet potatoes
2 tablespoons melted butter
½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup orange juice
½ cup after dinner mints, crushed coarsely
2 tablespoons unmelted butter

Mash the potatoes with any liquid in can. Whip in butter, orange juice and salt. Turn into a shallow baking dish. Dot with additional bits of butter. Sprinkle crushed mints evenly over the top. Bake at 350 degrees about 25 minutes.

HAPPY NEW YEAR from us and with it a welcome to four 1962 All - America flower selections. The newcomers to the exalted list of award winners include:

1 Bravo, an annual dianthus or "garden pink" in scarlet.

2 Old Mexico, a tall, bushy zinnia with slender stem for cutting.

3 Red Man, a rich, red giant cactus zinnia.

4 Dark Opal, an ornamental sweet basil, the first ornamental plant to merit All - America flower award.

• • •

Bravo is only 6 to 8 inches tall and wide and offers a brilliant display for edging, low beds, borders, pots and boxes.

Old Mexico has mahogany red double flowers with golden tips. This is the largest flower of the Mexican - type zinnia and a striking bicolor. It is about 3 inches across, surpassing the popular Persian carpet.

Red Man zinnia is reputedly the biggest among the cactus variety. It has a double flower up to 6 inches across on strong stems developed on semi - dwarf, bushy plants 2 feet tall. The plants are compact and the flowers are excellent for cutting.

Dark Opal, the ornamental sweet basil, has metallic purple color and is suggested for borders, foundation and herb garden and for aromatic foliage, fresh or dried. The bushy plant is 18 inches high and has many small purple flower spikes with white lips. It will add to your flower arrangements.

The All - America selections result from pre - introductory testing and rating of new flower and vegetable seed varieties in the United States and Canada. The selections are sponsored by the garden seed industry of both countries.

Perhaps you missed the 1961 selections. They included:

Rosie O'Day, a rose - colored alyssum only 2 inches tall with a 9 to 10 - inch spread and good staying power in hot weather.

Gloriosa Double Daisy, a hardy perennial with 4 to 5 inch golden blooms on long stems. The plants are 4 feet tall.

Coral Satin petunia, a salmon pink, 12 inches tall.

Some other recommended varieties of the past two years include the hybrid snapdragons such as the Rocket in red, gold, rose orchid, bronze and white. They grow up to 3 feet tall. Vanguard was the first double snap to win the All - America award. Vanguard is rose - pink with a golden throat.

Toreador Marigold in orange is of the carnation flowered Climax group. It is only 12 inches tall and has 3-inch blooms.

Glamour phlox is salmon pink with a white eye, 12 inches tall.

All of the above seeds will be available at your favorite garden store when you are ready to shop for spring.

ON THE HOUSE

By ANDY LANG

Many of the home building concepts as we know them today will be obsolete in the next 10 years or so. But changes in homes, as in people, rarely come over night. The changes are gradual, almost imperceptible from day to day or even year to year, but decidedly sharp over a period of time.

Some of the materials and building techniques and ideas that will be incorporated into homes in 1962 are not entirely new. They've been tried in test structures and a few houses and found to be workable. Others have been used in hundreds and thousands of homes but are still unknown in the large majority of residences. And still others may be getting their first airing during the year outside of a laboratory.

We've been talking to builders and manufacturers and looking over industry journals to see what's ahead for the buyers of new homes during the next 12 months. Here is how things shape up:

More maintenance - free materials will be used. ... kitchens will be slightly larger ... more colors will be used in bathroom fixtures ... there will be an increase in the number of patios with roofs ... some homes will have complete-intercom systems ... more retirement developments will be available ... and there will be a considerable increase in the number of prefabricated houses.

Some of the new products on the construction agenda are foamed plastic roof insulation, nonflammable vinyl building panels, prefabricated roof trusses expected to cut construction costs and different types of plastic plumbing. Families desiring to buy shell homes and complete them after their purchases will find a much wider variety on the market.

Because of land shortage in certain areas, more two - family houses will be built. There also will be more one - family, two-story houses, especially, it appears in the northeast and the midwest.

Builders seem to be a bit confused about fallout shelters. Many say they will wait until the last possible minute before deciding whether to include them in the homes they're planning. Those who will definitely include them are in city areas. Those who definitely will not build them are mostly in small towns.

One thing the builders are not confused about is the necessity for cutting costs. They can't do it on labor and only occasionally on materials, so they're trying to find new ways of doing things cheaper without diminishing quality. A builder, for instance, discovered that it was better to put in drives, walks and gradings before calling in the carpenters. He said this gave the workers an all - weather access to the house, speeding construction and thus saving money.

QUESTION: I will be building a series of shelves soon. This is my first do - it - yourself project. I note that shelves are held up in different ways. Which way should I use?

ANSWER: The purpose of the shelves and the amount of work you want to put into the job determines how the shelves should be supported. For a permanent installation, where the shelves always will stay in the same place, you can merely butt the joints and join them with nails or screws plus wood glue. Or you can place the shelves on cleats or blocks of wood. Or you can cut grooves or dadoes in the uprights and insert the ends of the shelves into them, reinforcing with screws or nails and glue if desired.

The first method, butting, is recommended only where the shelves will not be casked to carry too much weight.

When the shelves may be adjusted at some later date, there are a number of installations that can be used. Some persons prefer these methods even for permanent use. One procedure is to insert short dowels into drilled holes in the uprights and place the shelves on the dowels. Another is to use special metal pins in drilled holes.

Still another is to screw long lengths of metal adjustable supports into the uprights. These metal strips have openings in them every couple of inches into which insert supports are placed. The shelves rest on the inserts, which can easily be removed and placed into other openings any time you wish to change the position of the shelves.

MRS. RAYMOND WELDON WILEY

Nancy Wiman, Lt. Raymond W. Wiley Exchange Vows In Baptist Church

Nancy Lou Wiman of Waco, became the bride of Lt. Raymond Weldon Wiley of Scott AFB, Illinois in double ring services held December 17 in the Colonial Hill Baptist Church.

Dr. Jimmie Nelson, pastor, performed the services at 3:30 p.m.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white Peau de Scie gown fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, long pointed sleeves, bell skirt and short chapel train. Her fingertip veil of nylon tulle fell from a crown tiara of white seed pearls and sequins.

She carried a bouquet of white carnations backed with silver holly and berries.

Mrs. James Minor of Abilene attended her sister as matron of honor. She wore a costume of red Peau de Soie and carried a white muff topped with red sweetheart rosebuds.

James Sellers attended his brother - in - law as best man. Ushers were Jack A. Halpain of Lubbock and Jackie W. Womack, of Snyder, both brothers - in - law of the groom.

Ralph Wesson presided at the organ and Mrs. Joe Mabry of Tyler was solist.

A reception was held in fellowship hall. Those in the houseparty were: Misses Sandra Smith of Tyler, Joan Thornhill of Little Rock, Ark., Jane Shaw, Donna Neal and Shirley Sellers, all of Snyder.

For her wedding trip to Dallas the bride chose a teal blue wool suit with white furr pillbox hat and black accessories.

The couple are at home at Eglin AFB, Florida.

The bride is a graduate of Snyder High School and presently a junior at Baylor University. Mr. Wiley is a graduate of Snyder High School and attended Abilene Christian College. He is a First Lieutenant in the U. S. Air Force.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wiman, 2506 Twenty - seventh Street are parents of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene V. Wiley of Route 3 are parents of the groom.

Lloyds Have Holiday Gathering

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lloyd, Roby Highway had all nine of their children and 13 grandchildren home Saturday Dec. 23.

Highlight of the afternoon was the turkey dinner served with all the trimmings.

The families included: Mr. and Mrs. Chri Ray Lloyd, Betsy, Danny, Angela, Marty, Michael and Rebecca of Stanton; Mr. and Mrs. Horace Davis and sons, Randy, Terry, and Monty, Keith Lloyd of Big Spring; Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Cornett, Richard and Donna, Snyder; Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Bob Lloyd Greg and Tony of Farmington, N. M.; Pvt. Billye Joe Lloyd of Fort Carson Colo.; Weldon Lloyd, Don Lloyd and Dorothy Lloyd of the home.

Also enjoying the afternoon were Mrs. Lloyds parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gray, her sister, Mrs. Ray Brown of Hermleigh, and an aunt, Miss Ora Gray of Snyder. Mr. Lloyds father, G. A. Lloyd, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. H. Lloyd of Snyder; Mr. and Mrs. J. Hollis Lloyd Jr. of Ropesville.

Peter Piper Picked A Peck

If you're a stickler for accuracy, chili is not a pepper. It is a vegetable, say the experts.

Two pounds of pods from the Imported Mexican Anch Chili Peppers are required to obtain one pound of the powder, according to this Mexican - American food firm. Selected spices are blended with the pure powder to achieve choice flavor and color.

Bean Sprouts

If you are making soup with the remains of your holiday turkey, add some bean sprouts to it for an exotic change. A cup or two of well - drained bean sprouts added to the soup just before removing it from the heat gives it a subtle flavor and excitingly different texture.

Buy Cherries Whole - Chopped

If you are buying both red and green maraschino cherries this season, decide ahead of time some of the immediate uses you plan to make of them. It will be a time-saver.

For decorating purposes, no doubt you will want the whole, plump cherries. But when baking cakes and other desserts, the sliced cherries which come in 9½ ounce jars eliminate that cutting or chopping chore.

Three quarts of water and a tablespoon of salt is right for cooking a half pound of a pasta product.

Cake Topping

Whip one - half cup of cream until stiff. Chop one Clark - bar coarsely and fold into the cream. Add a drop or two of peppermint flavoring. Good on warm gingerbread or leftover spice cake.

KABOBS, BREAKFAST STYLE

How about a new look at the breakfast table with good ol' waffles and pork sausage, a la shish-kabob? This exotic dish needs almost no extra time preparing. Use frozen waffles, lots of syrup and enjoy watching the family devour a longtime favorite breakfast with a new look.

For each shish-kabob, you'll need 4 heat 'n eat pork sausages Processed cheese, cut into inch cubes, 2 cubes per skewer Pickled pears or crabapples, 2 per skewer

Brown pork sausage in skillet. Drain on paper towel.

While waffles are browning in toaster you're ready to stack the skewer. Alternate pickled pears, cheese - chunks, and pork sausage links on skewers.

Broil 4 inches from heat until cheese chunks begin to melt, and food is hot.

Meanwhile, prepare "star" apples for breakfast fruit quota. Slice apples thin through the center to retain the natural star of the apple. Sprinkle lightly with brown sugar, fry in butter. Arrange on plate with waffles and one kabob per customer.

A cup of steaming hot chocolate, and your family is ready to tackle anything the day has to offer.

Rough And Ready Story On Modern Centurions

THE CENTURIONS. By Jean Lartegui. Translated from the French by Xan Fielding.

In France this book was a best seller for two years, and because it says many things about France's modern colonial problems it had a special appeal in that country.

But it should have considerable attraction for American readers as well. For in addition to its swashbuckling, eye - opening and graphic attention to the wars in Indo-China and Algeria — which are a concern of the world as well as France — it is an adventure novel about a group of men who fight and make love with abandon, men of principle and hardened determination.

The story centers around a group of paratroop officers who were captured at Dien Bien Phu. It is said that for each new war, the French are prepared to fight the previous one, and this was one lesson these officers learned when they came up against the jungle warfare of the Communists.

They learned another lesson in the prison known as "Camp One" —that the Communists believe in using whatever methods will gain their desired end, regardless of traditional military concepts.

Gathered together again for the Algerian campaign, these officers whip together a rag - tag bunch of reservists and make real soldiers out of them. Ironically, one of their chief accomplishments is the destruction of a rebel band whose leader once had fought on the French side in Indo - China. Significantly, their military tactics are the ones they learned from the Reds.

There is a harsh brutality about the prison and battle scenes in this book, a hard - biting exposure of civil and military corruption, and a challenging theory that the Communists must be fought with their own brand of ruthlessness. All of this is wrapped up in a well-written, rough and ready story of modern warriors who were like the dedicated centurions of old Rome.

Carl Gray's Observe 50th Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gray of Route 1, Hermleigh, spent a quiet day in their home in observance of their 50th. wedding anniversary.

Their dining table was dressed with a cloth of white satin trimmed in gold sequins. A three tiered anniversary cake centered the table.

The couple, both members of pioneer West Texas families, married Dec. 24, 1911, near Vincent in Howard County. Mrs. Gray the former Nell Smoot was born in Indian territory of Oklahoma, having moved with her family to Seurry County at the age of 12 years.

Mr. Gray a well known registered herefofd cattle breeder was feared south of Gail in Borden County.

Children of the couple are Mrs. Raymond Lloyd of Snyder, and Mrs. Ray Brown of Hermleigh.

Save Pickle Juice

Save that spicy brine in which dill pickles are put up, advise home economists. Use it as a marinade for such relish vegetables as sliced cucumbers and onions. After the vegetables have soaked in the brine a couple of hours, you'll find they have absorbed some of that good dill flavor.

QUEEN MIDAS SALAD

Here's a taste - high luncheon entree designed to bring ohs of delight at the next ladies' gathering where calories do count.

3 hard-cooked eggs
2 tablespoons finely minced bologna
2 teaspoons finely minced chives
3 tablespoons mayonnaise
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon dry mustard
½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
Paprika
1 pound of bologna, sliced thin
¼ pound of butter
6 slices of whole wheat bread toasted
¼ pound minced ham (6 slices)
Grilled pineapple, 6 slices
1 cup cottage cheese
Creamy cole slaw

Peel eggs. Cut in half, zig-zag fashion. Remove yolks. Mix ingredients together, all but paprika, then fill each deviled egg. Sprinkle with paprika.

Heat butter in skillet, and then frizzle bologna slices, one at a time. The edges will curl when hot.

To make bologna "rose", arrange 3 slices of bologna, one inside the other.

Place slice of toast on plate. Spread with butter, top with minced ham slice.

Brown pineapple slice and lay on ham. Top with curled bologna and add 1 tablespoon of cottage cheese to bologna "rose". On top of this place deviled egg.

Surround salad with cole slaw and garnish with relishes. Serves 6.

Many Types And Why-Called Garden Mums

Chrysanthemums come in many types. Small button size, pompons, singles, semi - doubles, spiders, cactus - flowered, regular and incurved double decorative types. Plant types range from a few inches to over three feet in height, in compact mounds for the cushion mums or bushy plants with longer stems and usually larger flowers for the decorative mums.

Colors range from pure white through the rainbow, reds and yellows to lavender and purple except for true blue. Some are color blends and bicolors. They cover the field of fall colors, a most glorious garden display and for harmony or contrast indoors. They are the undisputed Queen of fall flowers.

Mums normally bloom when the days become shorter towards fall. Most florist varieties of the past have been very late bloomers, especially the large decoratives, Japanese or football-mums. Also needing special care to allow only one or a few blooms to develop for extra size. These late bloomers must be grown in a greenhouse or under such protection from frosts, rains and winds. They need weather protection even in the lower south. Now, there are newer varieties that permit us to have large flowered mums in our own gardens.

Five and six inches or more across, these orange to grapefruit sized football mums make beautiful specimens on long heavy stems. The big spiders are more airy specimens. Smaller mums also may be late bloomers although more in keeping for home arrangements. They may be flowered the year around in a greenhouse, governing the length of daylight by covering with black cloth at regular intervals.

Outdoor garden mums for everybody are now the most satisfactory: earliest to bloom, easiest to grow, hardiest, healthiest, vigorous, most colorful and useful of all. The newest and best varieties stand up and hold attractive coloring through all stages of bloom. They remain beautiful through rains and frosts until finally stopped for the year over much of the country by a deep freeze. When the soil warms up again in spring, new shoots or plants start another season of garden mums.

Garden mums are commonly classed as cushion and decorative types.

Cushion mums have rounded forms of a foot or less to a height of more than eighteen inches; and a wide range of flower forms in sprays with rather short stems. The sprays, rather than individual blooms, are used for cut flowers. Blooms may vary from one to three inches across. They may be little button - like, quilled or pompon in form, regular or cactus starred doubles of various petal shapes. Flowers practically cover all foliage when in bloom. These are ideal garden mums for solid color effect, easiest of all to grow.

The decorative mums are usually larger in size, from about three to over six inches, and over two feet tall. Plants are bushy and stems are longer. When plants reach 6 or 8 inch height, the tips are pinched off to induce base branching. This provides more and longer stems and flowers.

Branch tips may be clipped off when they are 6 inches long, for even more flowers, up to July in the upper north or into August in the south. This delays blooming somewhat and is desirable for the best flowers come when weather is cooler.

For fewer but larger blooms, plants may be disbudded. After first clipping off the tips to produce strong basal branches, when long the stems are pinched out completely. These plants are loosely tied to stakes for training straight stems and for support against rains and winds when they are in full bloom. This is the way to grow show or exhibition blooms, just as they would be handled in a greenhouse.

Decorative mums of 3 to 4 inches are most useful for cutting and for garden display. Sprays of cushion or smaller mums allow longer stems and more color for cutting and arranging indoors.

As the Old Year exits and the New Year comes in, we pause to review 1961 and preview 1962 — remembering your friendship and hoping we can serve you in the future, too.

Display Puts Civil War Into Focus

By J. W. DAVIS

WASHINGTON (AP)—A century later we can still see and read how it was in America's Civil War, how people felt, what they did—the small things:

Abraham Lincoln thought "Dixie," the stirring march tune of the Southern fighting men, was a fine song. The brass of the Confederacy never warmed to it, never completely accepted it.

Some crooked war contractors made an early killing by providing Union soldiers with shoddy uniforms that wore out in two weeks. The soldiers had to pay for them out of a $42-a-year clothing allowance.

Confederate Gen. Robert E. Lee, in 1862, was pained to learn that "the vice of gambling exists and is becoming common in this army."

Soldiers in a Vermont regiment, cheerfully voting as residents of Indiana, helped re-elect President Lincoln in 1864.

Down South, as the war pressed hard on the home front, a Richmond cookbook told how to make "a splendid cup of coffee" without coffee. You roasted acorns with a little bacon fat, and went on from there.

Such bits of information, spotted here and there among relics of great and moving events, have helped put across what poet-historian Carl Sandburg terms "the best exhibit I've seen" on the Civil War.

The show is the Library of Congress' display: "The American Civil War: a Centennial Exhibit." Its big entries are dramatic and historic documents, letters, diaries, maps, pictures, sketches and songs.

Sandburg helped open the exhibit to a standing room only audience Oct. 25 and the crowds have been coming ever since. It will run to the spring of 1965.

Near the beginning of the tour is Lincoln's self-edited first inaugural address. There also, in his own handwriting, is Lincoln's April 15, 1861, call for 75,000 state militia troops to put down "combinations too powerful to be suppressed by the ordinary course of judicial proceedings, or by powers vested in the marshals by law."

Close by is the actual letter Lee wrote April 20, 1861, to a kinsman explaining why he felt he had to resign his commission in the U.S. Army.

Exhibit No. 1 is a copy of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," the amazingly popular anti-slavery book which Harriett Beecher Stowe published in 1852.

Exhibit No. 239, the least in the catalog, contains Lincoln's second inaugural address, of March 4, 1865, in his own handwriting and in printed form. For a fitting close, the arrangers of the exhibit chose his famous words.

The exhibit begins with seeds of the conflict. It runs through the formation of the armies, the soldier's life, the war on land and sea, lithographic views, care of the sick and wounded, reporting the war, politics and government, the home front, the songs of the war and the steps that looked toward peace.

Courts-martial were frequent. One order on display in the exhibit deals with three Confederate deserters. Each of the three was sentenced "to receive fifty lashes well laid on his bare back with a rawhide; to have branded on his left hip the letter 'D'; to have his head shaved, and to be drummed out of the service."

Fierce enemiesas a rule, Johnny Reb and Billy Yank fraternized at times between battles. The diary of Lyman D. Holford of the 6th Wisconsin Regiment records one incident in a neatly penciled script.

"This moring (July 1, 1863) at 7 o'clock, as I was on post one of the Rebs saluted me with Halloa Yank! and notwithstanding orders to the contrary I answered with Halloa, Reb! and from that we got into conversation which ended in his sending three Richmond papers across the river on a board with a small sail attached, and some of our boys sent some papers back on the same craft—the day was fine as we could wish and taking everything into consideration we have had a good time so far."

It was common practice early in the war for the enlisted men to choose their officers by popular election, which hurt discipline.

It is chronicled that on one occasion a Georgia colonel was ridden on a rail by men of his regiment until "on promise to them of better behavior he was allowed to resume his command."

The famous letter Gen. U.S. Grant wrote after suffering staggering losses at Spotsylvania Court House, Va., in 1864 is on view saying: "I propose to fight it out on this line if it takes all summer."

One of the great days of military history comes alive in a colored lithograph of "The first battle between 'iron' ships of war. The 'Monitor' 2 guns and 'Merrimac' 10 guns."

The library casts some doubt on the legality of Lincoln's Emancipation Proclamation in 1862, while presenting it in Lincoln's own handwriting and calling it "the most powerful ad effective state paper of the war."

Another famous Lincoln paper, the Gettysburg Address, is on display in two drafts handwritten by Lincoln. There are minor differences but, as the library notes, it is generally conceded that Lincoln did not speak verbatim from any transcript anyhow.

In any event, the enduring words are still there, just as Lincoln penned them nearly 100 years ago:

"Government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth."

Reserve Bank Directors Named

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Max Mandel, Laredo banker, and Harold Herndon, San Antonio oilman, have been named among directors of the Federal Reserve Bank here.

Carl Moore, vice president in charge of the bank, which is a branch of the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas, disclosed the appointments.

Mandel, president of the Laredo National Bank, succeeds Barton Dunn, Corpus Christi banker.

Herndon replaces Dr. Harold Vagtborg.

Intergration Gains Support Of College Student Bodies

By The Associated Press

Integration drew support from student bodies of many of Texas' private and public colleges in 1961.

At SMU in Dallas, 21 student senators delayed their Christmas holidays to approve an integration resolution with only one dissenting vote.

A week earlier, 1,400 of Rice University's 1,900 students voted on a similar resolution and approved it by a 2-1 margin.

Reed Martin, 21, president of the Rice student government, said he planned to send a letter to all the other schools in the Southwest Conference asking student governments to call similar elections.

"This movement is not a fad," said Marvin Olian of Bryan, president of the University of Texas student body. "Too much thought and work goes into it.

"If it was a fad it wouldn't last. This movement will last long after present leaders are gone from the school."

Dr. John Silber, a professor of philosophy at Texas, said:

"Students are essentially idealistic and they feel free to do something about what they consider a moral dilemma."

The movement got its first big shove at Texas in 1957 when Barbara Smith of Pittsburg, Tex., was forced out of her lead role in a student opera.

The Smith girl was one of the first Negroes admitted to the university.

Students marched, demonstrated and called the school's admission unfair. The opera played to a half-empty house.

The university was the first state school in Texas to integrate.

This year the student assembly voted 3,200 to 3,200 to integrate varsity athletics. They also asked for dormitory integration.

In all cases, the school administration has taken no action on the student votes on integration resolutions. The elections are only opinion polls.

While students have gone to jail because they joined Negroes in integration demonstrations.

Students in Austin formed an organization called the Students for Direct Action. In Houston, students joined the Progressive Youth Association.

The students are not yet bothered with the practical implications of integration as are boards of trustees and regents," Silber said. "If this ground swell of student opinion keeps up long enough, the administrations must surely listen and act."

The student efforts reach into almost every college in Texas. Dr. Alvin Johnson, dean of students at the University of Houston, said:

"There are too many working kids on the campus who go to school and work too. They don't have the chance to join organizations. But they don't feel any different from the students at Rice."

Houston is faced with a transition from a private school to a state school. Student leaders say they have refrained from pro-integration action for that reason.

George Fix, a senior from Dallas, said Texas A&M students are trying to get a referendum on integration.

Texas Tech quietly accepted 20 Negroes among an enrollment of 10,200 last July. The school paper urged the administration to take such action with student approval.

The Baylor University's Baptist Student Union unanimously passed a resolution Dec. 14 in favor of integrating the school. Baylor students said some other Baptist colleges — Hardin-Simmons, the University of Corpus Christi and Wayland College — are integrated.

The TCU student government created a human relations commission to study, discuss and see what action may be taken on integration.

"Integration is inevitable," said Danny Megarity, 21, of Waco, president of TCU's student government.

W. T. Creager, dean of students at Sam Houston State Teacher's College in Huntsville, said:

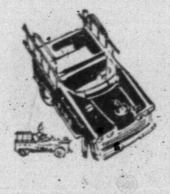

"Some students have expressed a desire for the school to integrate. But nothing has been done. The day is coming, though, when they will say something."

About 125 Negroes attend Lamar Tech in Beaumont. "The students accepted it well," David Bost, dean of student life, said. "The only protests came from some people in Beaumont."
