Bill Vestal, Snyder's new mayor, confessed the other day that he had not realized before his election that so many special months, weeks and days are observed. Many of these are noted locally, of course, and they call for a proclamation by the mayor. The past month, his first in office, has seen Mayor Vestal signing as many as three proclamations some days.

"If I could get a fee of about $5 per proclamation, this mayor's job would be profitable," Vestal observed. Of course the proclamation signing is merely one of those prestige duties that the mayor must fulfill for his salary of zero. And mayors, including Vestal, really don't mind it.

Anyway, it could be worse. There are many special events that are not observed locally. In fact, if all of the special months, weeks and days were given attention in any one community it would require one full-time dignitary to keep the proclamation-signing up to date.

For example, take this month. It started with four different observances on the very first day. May 1, depending on where you happened to be, was celebrated as Law Day USA, Lei Day, Loyalty Day and just plain May Day.

The entire month is set aside for a variety of observances. It is hearing and speech month, home improvement month, mental health month, national good car-keeping month, national tavern month, radio month, senior citizens month, steelmark month, touring theatre month and turtle watch month.

And last Friday you may not have realized it, but May 3 was Poland Constitution Day.

This coming Friday will be Confederate Memorial Day, and in case you are tired of special events by then, Saturday, May 11, is the beginning of let's go fishing week.

The Houston public hearing on the Port-To-Plains Highway proposal is all set for May 29, and indications are that the Houston people are going all out in their support of the U.S. 84 route from Lubbock through Snyder, Sweetwater, Abilene, Brownwood, Austin and on to Houston.

One of the major selling points now on the U.S. 84 route is the fact that it would be over 50 miles shorter (an hour's driving time at today's speed) from the Panhandle-Plains to Houston than the U.S. 87 proposal, which would take it through San Angelo and San Antonio. Also, it would serve one of the most heavily populated corridors in the state.

Road-building materials, like everything else, are going sky high, and if the trend continues, the longer a decision is delayed on the Port-To-Plains route, the more it will cost. Texas Highway Department personnel, here Monday to confer with the city council on the Federal Aid Urban System now being outlined, were asked if the city should submit cost estimates along with its proposals for projects under the urban system. They were told to forget the estimates, because they "would be obsolete before you could get them to us."—WACIL McNAIR

FOLLOWING TRUDEAU FALL

Canadians Preparing For General Election In July

OTTAWA (AP) — Canada's political parties began preparing today for a general election in July after the toppling of Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau's Liberal government. Inflation was certain to be the major campaign issue.

By a 137-123 vote, the House of Commons adopted a motion of no confidence in Trudeau's minority government. The 54-year-old prime minister said he would call on Gov.-Gen. Jules Leger today to ask him to dissolve the lower house and call an election.

Election day is expected to be July 8. Meanwhile, Trudeau and the Liberal cabinet continue in office as a caretaker government.

Trudeau said in a telecast after his defeat that he welcomed the electoral fight but considered the interruption of parliament while the country faced inflationary problems "unfortunate and unnecessary."

Trudeau was brought down by the New Democratic Party, Canada's third largest political faction, whose support had kept him in office since the Liberal majority in Commons was reduced to a minority by the 1972 election.

After siding with the government on 19 previous no-confidence motions, the 31 New Democrats joined the 106 Conservatives to bring down the government with a motion condemning the budget submitted on Monday. With one Liberal absent, Trudeau mustered 108 votes from his party and 15 from the Social Credit Party.

The decisive vote came on a New Democratic amendment to a Conservative motion of no confidence charging that the budget failed to provide effective remedies for the 10 per cent inflation Canada now suffers.

The New Democratic amendment charged that the budget failed to provide help for pensioners and others on fixed income, failed to deal with the housing crisis and did nothing about the "glaring inequalities of the tax system."

The government's overthrow had been a certainty since the introduction of the New Democratic amendment Tuesday night.

The Liberals have been in power since 1963.

FARM, FOOD PRICES DROP

Inflation Rate Slowed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sharp declines in farm and food prices slowed the rise in wholesale prices in April to its slowest rate in six months, the government reported today.

The Labor Department said wholesale prices increased seven-tenths of one per cent seasonally adjusted and five-tenths of one per cent unadjusted.

The increase was still high by normal standards but considerably below increases recorded since November.

April's rise compared with adjusted increases of 1.3 per cent in March, 1.2 per cent in February and 3.1 per cent in January.

Despite the slowdown in farm and food prices, there was no hint that the inflationary surge was abating.

Industrial prices, regarded as one of the surest barometers of inflation, jumped an adjusted 2.3 per cent in April. In March, industrial prices climbed 2.9 per cent.

Farm products, processed foods and feeds declined for the second consecutive month, dropping an adjusted 3 per cent and an unadjusted 3.7 per cent.

The Agriculture Department predicted Wednesday that food prices would begin to level off during the second half of the year and possibly even decline in the final quarter.

Wholesale prices ros. 18.8 per cent in the past 12 months. Changes in wholesale prices usually are reflected later at the retail level.

April's increase lifted the government's wholesale price index to 155.3. That means it cost $155.30 to buy the same volume of wholesale goods that $100 purchased in 1967.

The big rise in industrial prices reflected in part the dropping of price controls from various industries.

Metal products accounted for almost one-third of the total increase. Iron and steel scrap rose 14.7 per cent and steel mill products increased 2.7 per cent.

Price increases by industries freed from price controls appeared to be cracking the Cost of Living Council's heralded anti-inflation commitments for big business unless Congress votes to hold them together.

Ford Motor Co. announced price increases Wednesday averaging $163 for its 1974 autos, and the council said General Motors planned to follow suit.

Wholesale prices for April reflected other increases in a wide variety of materials.

Machinery and equipment rose 1.4 per cent. Lumber products jumped 4.7 per cent and furniture products 1.3 per cent.

Boy Arrested In Brothers' Murders

By JIM BARLOW
Associated Press Writer

HOUSTON (AP) — Sheriff Jack Heard said today a 15-year-old boy has been arrested in the mutilation slayings of two young Houston brothers.

"The same person is under confinement in both cases. He lives in the vicinity of the Elliott family but he is not related to them," Heard said.

Heard said he could not lawfully divulge details of the investigation except to say, "The subject was in our office last night when the arrest was made."

Heard held a news conference after Harris County deputies found the body of Kenneth Elliott, 11, in woods in the eastern part of the county.

Kenneth's brother, Ronald, 12, was found murdered last November in the same general area.

Heard said the youth in custody will be examined by sociologists and psychologists and a juvenile court referee will be asked to certify the youth as an adult.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Don Lambright said such certification will take several weeks.

Heard would not say if the youth had made a statement or if any weapons had been recovered. He said he was restrained from discussing the investigation because of provisions of the new Texas Family Code dealing with juveniles.

Young Kenneth had been missing since Tuesday.

GOP Solon Urges Nixon Resignation

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. John B. Anderson, a member of the House Republican leadership, said today it would be best for the country if President Nixon resigned and predicted Nixon will be impeached if he does not step down voluntarily.

The Illinois Republican, chairman of the House Republican Conference, said he and other House and Senate Republican leaders have considered going to Nixon and asking him to resign.

But, Anderson said, they have decided to wait until after a House vote for impeachment since Nixon has continued to express adamant opposition to resigning.

Earlier, House Republican Leader John Rhodes of Arizona said Nixon "ought to consider resignation as a possible option" if it becomes apparent that erosion of public confidence prevents him from effectively discharging his duties.

"I do not feel that we have yet reached that point," Rhodes added.

Anderson told newsmen he thinks the Watergate transcripts released by President Nixon last week have been devastating and that Nixon cannot survive the resulting negative view in the country of his White House leadership.

Again and again, Anderson said, Nixon missed chances to take the initiative to end the Watergate affair.

Anderson said that instead of appealing directly to Nixon to resign, he would ask the House Judiciary Committee to accelerate its impeachment proceedings.

Anderson was at a two-hour meeting with other Republican leaders this morning at the White House but he said there was no mention at that meeting of Watergate or of requests by some Republicans that Nixon resign.

Rhodes comments came in a prepared statement issued after a breakfast with a group of newsmen at which he first spelled out his views.

A participant in a breakfast session Rhodes held with a small group of newsmen quoted him as saying a reassessment of Nixon's position should be dictated by the impact of public release of some of his edited Watergate transcripts.

Rhodes said the transcripts are "devastating" and have drawn a heavily unfavorable public response.

Rhodes was quoted as saying he thinks Nixon can remain in office but declared when asked about a possible resignation:

"I don't know but in view of the developments of the last few days there has got to be some soul searching going on. When responsible people read the transcripts and change their position, the President ought to take that under consideration."

Earthquake Jolts Japan

TOKYO (AP) — A sharp earthquake jolted central Japan this morning, killing one woman and injuring 23 persons over a wide area of the Izu Peninsula, 70 to 100 miles southwest of Tokyo, officials said.

Twenty-nine persons, caught in a landslide, were still unaccounted for.

Police said the quake, which registered four on the Japanese sacle of seven in the hard hit areas, destroyed 54 houses, including five in a fire that followed the tremor, and damaged 231.

Scientists in Honolulu said the quake registered 6.2 on the Richter scale. The quake that hit San Francisco in 1906 registered 8.3.

The quake hit shortly after 8:30 a.m. and lasted for several seconds.

The Meteorological Agency said the center was in the Pacific, 22 miles off Cape Irozaki, where it registered five. Seismographs measured four in Shimoda, Mishima and Shizuoka, all on Izu Peninsula, officials said.

The quake also registered four in Yokohama, 20 miles south of Tokyo.

Baugh Rites Pending Here

Funeral arrangements were pending this morning at Bell-Seale Funeral Home for Max Champion Baugh, 55.

Mr. Baugh was found dead late Wednesday at his home at 800 Twenty-eighth Street.

Police said T.E. Shelburne, Justice of the Peace in Precinct No. 4, was called to the scene and in his capacity as coroner ordered an autopsy. However, the cause of death had not been determined this morning.

Rebozo Makes Surprise Appearance Before Panel

WASHINGTON (AP) — Charles G. "Bebe" Rebozo, President Nixon's close personal friend, made a surprise appearance today before the Senate Watergate committee.

The committee had been expected to consider only a rough draft of its final report. Rebozo's unexpected appearance was officially unexplained.

Sources close to the committee said, however, Rebozo probably would be questioned about conflicts between his previous sworn testimony and that of Herbert Kalmbach, formerly the President's personal attorney.

In at least two other appearances, Rebozo has told the committee he received $100,000 in $100 bills from a representative of billionaire Howard Hughes in 1969 and 1970.

He said the money was intended as a contribution to President Nixon's re-election campaign but was kept in a vault untouched and was returned intact to Hughes last year.

According to informed sources, Kalmbach has testified that Rebozo told him that he used part of the money to make gifts or loans to the President's two brothers; to Rose Mary Woods, Nixon's personal secretary; and to others.

A source close to the committee said members were considering a section of the draft report which deals specifically with Rebozo.

"It's the Rebozo file," he said. "And it contains a history of efforts to petition and subpoena plus a section on the law of contempt of Congress, which I gather deals with perjury."

The committee's 170-page staff report also contains a conclusion that evidence exists to support the view that former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell approved the plan that led to the Watergate break-in.

That and other conclusions plus a list of legislative recommendations are included in a 170-page draft prepared under the direction of Samuel Dash, the committee's chief counsel.

Jane makes three and that's unlucky!

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1974 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: My friend Jane and I work together. She and her husband and my husband and I had been close friends for 12 years. Two years ago, Jane's husband died suddenly, and we were all shocked and deeply grieved.

My husband and I tried to make life easier for Jane. We invited her over and took her places with us so she wouldn't be alone. Her other friends had her for dinner once and that was the end of it.

It's going on the third year now, and I think it's time Jane started to try to make a new life for herself. It's gotten so that she expects us to include her in everything. If we don't, she is hurt, and she lets us know.

She and my husband and I are a regular threesome. And who do you think gets all the attention? Jane does. My husband pulls out her chair and helps her with her coat and I have to look after myself.

I mentioned this to my husband once and he said: "Why, you're jealous!"

How can I remedy this situation without hurting anyone? I don't know how much longer I can hide my feelings.

THIRD WHEEL

DEAR WHEEL: Why hide them? Tell your husband: "You're darned tootin' I'm jealous!" Enough is enough. Discontinue the threesome. Dig up a single man for Jane, or ask her to find one, but let your husband know that three is an unlucky number.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 28-year-old male with an unusual problem. I've worked at the same company for six years and have a good relationship with my boss, who is the president and owner of this company. The problem is the boss's daughter who also works here. She is very friendly to me, and every chance she gets, she straightens my tie or gives me a little hug. This girl is very attractive and I find it difficult to get my work done when she's around.

Last week, while I was standing at the copy machine, she came up behind me and put her hand in my pocket to make change for a soft drink!

I don't want to offend the boss's daughter, but I can't reciprocate her friendly gestures, so what do I do?

BOTHERED IN LOUISVILLE

DEAR BOTHERED: You poor kid! Pretend she is just another girl in the steno pool. Why should she be penalized because she's the boss's daughter?

DEAR ABBY: For years I've been reading about women who use the excuse that they're "tired" to get out of having marital relations with their husbands.

My husband and I are both in our early 30s. We've always had enjoyable sex relations until the last five or six years. Now that I'm the mother of three small children, by the end of the day I am so exhausted, the last thing I want to think about is sex.

Husbands don't realize how tiring it is to keep house, do the laundry, cooking, and care for three children under six years old.

When my husband comes home, his day's work is finished, and he can relax. My work goes on 24 hours a day. Where does justice lie?

Is it hard to understand that a wife loses interest in being a sex partner when her children are small and demand so much of her time and energy?

My husband still thinks I'm making excuses when I'm too tired at night. This can't be an original complaint. What do other young wives do? IN LOVE WITH THE SANDMAN

DEAR IN: Your children will leave you one day, and unless you change, your husband may leave before they do! Why not get a woman, or a schoolgirl, to come in for a few hours to give you a lift? Don't let yourself get exhausted and out of sorts. If a wife stops being nice to come home to—her husband starts finding excuses not to come home. Think about it.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L. A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Progress Reported In Talks

RIYADH, Saudi Arabia (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger flew to Saudi Arabia today to talk to King Faisal about American technical aid for the economic development of the desert kingdom and to seek the monarch's support for a disengagement agreement between Syria and Israel.

In an unusually warm welcoming statement, Foreign Minister Omar Saquaf said the Saudi people "cherish nothing but amity and friendliness for the people of the United States." But he added that the American people should know that the Saudis are a religious Moslem people who "will not be swayed."

After seeing Faisal, Kissinger was flying to Cairo to brief President Anwar Sadat on the progress of his negotiations with Syria and Israel.

The secretary is counting on both Faisal and Sadat, as well as Algerian President Houari Boumedienne, to influence the Syrians to settle for only a partial Israeli withdrawal from the Golan Heights.

Meanwhile, both Americans and Israelis reported some progress in Kissinger's talks with the Syrians and Israelis.

PORTER KING

King Is Lions' Senior Citizen

The Snyder Lions Club is 50 years old and Porter King has been a part of it since it began.

The club will climax its 50th anniversary celebration this evening with a banquet in the Scurry County Coliseum.

King, 84, is the oldest active member of the Snyder Lions Club. He is a charter member, having joined the Lions here in 1922 and then again when the club was reorganized in 1924. During his 50 years, he has served the club in more capacities than anyone can recall.

A native of Tennessee, King lived in Dallas and Ellis Counties from the age three until he moved to Scurry County in 1908.

King worked for Guy Paxton in 1920 and 1921 and then he purchased the business, which is now known as King and Brown and which has been in continuous operation since then.

King's wife, Grace Moore King, was a teacher in Snyder Public Schools for some 40 years. They have a son, Bill, who is associated with his father in the business, and a daughter, Mrs. Catherine Sharp of Riverside, Calif.

Witnesses Set Seminar

Jack A. Bryant, presiding overseer for Jehovah's Witnesses, announced today that the local congregation is making plans to attend a two-day seminar in Abilene, May 11, 12, at the Abilene Civic Center.

"The purpose of this assembly," Bryant said, "is to train us to be better qualified ministers."

On May 12 at 2 p.m., H.A. Fetzik, District Supervisor for Jehovah's Witnesses, will highlight the program by his public discourse entitled, "Be Confident of Divine Victory." Fetzik will define and discuss 'Divine Victory' and it's impact upon Christians in the light of present day happenings. He will also show the attitude Jehovah's Witnesses take toward Divine Victory by saying, "Even with upheavals, strains and increasing world problems, these will not cause us to be thrown off balance. We will be like Hebrew prophet Habakkuk who was affected by a graphic report of God th the seventh century before Christ, but determinedly exulted in Jehovah God. Let that be our determination too."

All sessions will be free and open to the public.

Ford Ups Prices Of '74 Models

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. has raised prices on its 1974-model cars and trucks an average $163, becoming the second auto maker this month to draw the ire of the federal Cost of Living Council.

Council Director John T. Dunlop blasted Wednesday's increase as "unwarranted" and charged it was a violation of the firm's voluntary agreement last December to limit price boosts.

But Ford insisted the hike was needed because of "unprecedented cost increases."

"The company's price increase is totally cost-justified and is consistent with commitments made last December to the Cost of Living Council," said Ford Vice President John B. Naughton.

Car Impounded After Vandalism

Four youths who damaged the White Buffalo statue on the courthouse square last night escaped on foot but their car was impounded by City Police after a high speed chase.

Police said the youths were seen hitting the statue with a tire tool. They fled east on Twenty-fifth Street in their car with officers in pursuit. A tire on their car blew out on the Colorado City Highway south of Mal Donelson Chevrolet Company. They abandoned their car, and fled on foot. Police impounded the vehicle, a black and red 1969 Model Chevrolet.

Hit-Run Driver Is Sought Here

City Police are looking for an unidentified motorist who fled the scene after his blue pickup struck a mailbox at the Velma Permenter residence, 1612 Avenue G, at 7:22 p.m. yesterday.

Police also investigated one other mishap that occurred on the parking lot at Burgess Pharmacy on College Avenue at 3:21 p.m. Wednesday. Involved were a 1970 Model Pontiac driven by Diana Bishsel Gasaway, Route 1, Snyder, and a 1969 Model Mercury operated by Elvern Sharp Beasley, 308 Thirty-eighth Street.

Water Demands Are Up Sharply

Through the first four months of the year, the Colorado River Municipal Water District has been delivering one-third more water than in the same period a year ago.

Production records showed 6,174,768,402 gallons have been delivered through April, according to Paschall Odom, assistant general manager, up 35.14 per cent over a year ago.

Municipalities have taken 30.93 per cent more water during the initial four months due principally to heavy demands in March and April. For April they were up 38.03 per cent.

April deliveries of 1,868,615,114 were well above the previous record in 1972 when 1,685,99,000 gallons were delivered. The margin was represented largely in the water taken by Midland.

For the month Odessa took 439,924,000 gallons, up 50.35 per cent; Big Spring 271,956,000, up 38.48; Snyder 84,013,000, up 50.53 per cent; Stanton 10,680,000, up 70.20 per cent; Midland 308,600,000, up 73.59; San Angelo (which was out of action most of the month, due to a pipeline leak) 52,686,000, down 51.37 per cent. The 1,167,861,000-gallon total was, as mentioned, up 38 per cent.

During April, mining and industrial users took 700,754,114 gallons, representing a gain of 37.02 per cent. For the year to date they have taken 2,613,292,402 gallons, an increase of 31.33 per cent. Of the April deliveries to oil and industrial users, some 87,000,000 gallons was in brackish water. This figure usually is substantially higher, but for part of the period CRMWD was delivering Lake Spence water to Texas Electric Service at Colorado City, necessitating use of the line normally employed to transfer water from the diversion works side storage at Colorado City to oilfield users. The TESCO contract quantity to Lake Colorado City has been satisfied for the year.

New Music School

HOUSTON (AP) — Dr. Norman Hackerman, president of Rice University, announces that the Shepherd School of Music, which is projected to begin in September 1975, is beginning to assemble its faculty and plan its curriculum.

The Shepherd School of Music is made possible through an endowment given to Rice by Mrs. Sallie Shepherd Perkins as a memoriam to her grandfather, Benjamin A. Shepherd. After the first gift of $350,000 in 1950, Mrs. Perkins added to the endowment periodically through the years. At her death in 1968 she left $4.5 million. The present value of the endowment is more than $7.5 million.

Mrs. Perkins stipulated that the gift be used "for the establishment, support and maintenance of a school for training in music" at Rice. The first gift was used by Rice for sponsoring a concert series and the Shepherd Foundation Lectures, and to finance general instruction in music to nonmusic majors. Upon receipt of the major portion of the endowment, the university started to make Mrs. Perkins's vision a reality.

Funds Available On Summer Jobs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration is making available $91.4 million to help communities arrange summer jobs for 700,000 economically disadvantaged youths.

"We want to get this money out to prime sponsors right away so they can set up jobs for young people who'll soon be ready for work because of early school closings," Secretary of Labor Peter J. Brennan said Tuesday.

The money is part of $300 million earmarked by the administration for the job program, designed to subsidize jobs for teen-agers over a nine-week period this summer.

Expect Shortages At Lumber Yard

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

The Saturday morning wake-up-and-build-something set may be disappointed come good weather. They'll be motivated to brandish their saws. They may have the time and inclination for a do-it-yourself job, but the local lumber yard may be unable to accommodate their needs for materials.

They may be in the same bind as local builders and carpenters who are finding lumber yard cupboards are often bare any day of the week. In fact, materials are so scarce and prices fluctuating so rapidly that Connecticut workmen can give estimates that are good for only two days.

"An example of price change is a job I planned to do in my own house," said builder Bob Alling of Bethal. "I wanted some paneling and it went up from $9.75 a sheet to $14.75 while I was thinking about it over a weekend."

On order it may take a month or six weeks to get some materials, carpenters insist. But another time they can pick it up right away.

"Part of the trouble is that yards don't want to keep too much expensive stock on hand. They must keep it moving, so you get what they are making available," said Bob Bass of Georgetown.

Sometimes a supplier will tell builders something is ordered but the price he has quoted will hold for only two weeks. It holds up making estimates and even completing jobs.

If asphalt shingles are ordered it might take six weeks, one builder insists. Right now there is a scarcity of V-joint clear pine that is used in wainscoting and the like. Substituting, two builders "managed to get a few pieces of No. 2 pine" for one little job.

Select wood is just about out of the question right now in their area, they say, although cheaper woods — hem fir and the like — are available.

In commenting on the shortage of materials, one large lumber yard spokesman explained:

"It is no longer a buyer's market. Recently we couldn't get sheet rock or insulation of any kind. And during the winter months we couldn't get anything related to fireplaces — grates, andirons, free standing fireplaces.

"Select stock, clear pines and clear redwoods are hard to get. The uncertainty of the market is keeping us from stocking large quantities of materials. We'd rather let wholesalers stock it at their warehouses even though we must wait two or more weeks to get orders filled."

Another yard predicts that roofing materials will be in short supply because roofing is made from crude oil "and a lot of pitch is required." Prices have been climbing for some time, that spokesman pointed out, adding:

"I just got in a lot of asphalt shingles. I waited two days to place an order and meanwhile the price went up 10 and one-half per cent."

The supplier told them "the increase in goods is not a labor factor, that rise will come later."

As a long-time source for do-it-yourselfers, the yard spokesman predicts "there won't be much do-it-yourselfing" this season. Things can only get worse, he insists.

Another lumber yard has been having "serious troubles for more than a year."

"I've had lots of problems trying to get insulation, and I can't get polyethylenes which are used with concrete for moisture barriers.

"I can't pinpoint the reasons why I am not getting certain things. There seems to be a different excuse for the shortage of each thing," he explained.

Fortunately, people seem to understand the predicament, the builders point out. In addition to price increases in materials and the delays, however, a lot of gas is used making estimates on jobs, picking up lumber in different towns and so on. Such cost factors are reflected in job estimates and many men in the building trades are at leisure.

As for a do-it-yourselfer, "His best bet is to anticipate what he might want to do and order the materials now. He might even be lucky enough to find the thing he needs on hand. We can't predict the market from day to day," said a lumber yard man.

To clean synthetic sponges quickly, wash them with a regular load of laundry. Natural sponges, in contrast, are better suited to soaking in a solution of warm water and detergent, then rinsing, notes Lillian Cochran, home management specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Recipe Yields... City Chicken

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

We first became aware of the merits of that truly American dish, City Chicken, about a dozen years ago. Then a young man from Wabash, Ind., told us he had learned to cook it there, brought the recipe to New York and found Easterners as enthusiastic about it as people back home. We weren't sure how far back the recipe went until recently when "Better Homes and Gardens Golden Treasury of Cooking" (Meredith) came our way. There it is, nailed to the '30s, when — according to the cookbook — this skewered combination of pork and veal "was used by city dwellers as a substitute for chicken, which was very expensive."

When we asked Myrna Johnston, who was long-time food editor of Better Homes and Gardens and a consultant for "The Golden Treasury," what else she recalled about the recipe she said that it had been "a big winner in cooking schools during the Depression." Tried in our kitchen, we can understand its popularity.

If you are interested in 600 recipes used and enjoyed by millions of Americans during the 1930s to the '70s, "The Golden Treasury of Cooking" is the book to look into. Chosen from those that appeared in these five decades in Better Homes and Gardens, the recipes were retested in the magazine's kitchens so they could be adjusted to up-to-date ingredients and cooking equipment.

But The Treasury is more than a recipe collection. Before each decade's section there is an essay that recalls what life was like in that particular period and how it influenced our food styles.

In addition, each section has a photographic color pull-out that's a nostalgic montage of the events, personalities and fads of the time. Notes preceding the various categories of food and accompanying many of the recipes are both informative and interesting, and hand-some color photographs illustrating some of the recipes appear throughout the book.

CITY CHICKEN

1 pound pork, cut in 1½-inch cubes
1 pound veal, cut in 1½-inch cubes
2-3rds cup finely crushed saltine crackers (18)
1 teaspoon paprika
¾ teaspoon poultry seasoning
1 slightly beaten egg
2 tablespoons milk
3 tablespoons shortening
1 chicken bouillon cube
½ cup boiling water

Thread pork and veal cubes alternately onto 6 skewers. Mix crumbs, paprika, poultry seasoning and 1½ teaspoons salt. Combine egg and milk. Dip meat in egg mixture, then in crumbs. Brown in hot shortening. Dissolve bouillon cube in boiling water; add to meat. Bake, covered, at 350 degrees for 45 minutes. Uncover; bake 30 minutes more. Serves 6.

Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

★★★

Q. During my lunch hour at work, I drive to the nearest brokerage house to watch the ticker tape and keep tab on my stocks. Can I deduct my transportation expenses?

A. No. These transportation expenses are not deductible because they do not bear a reasonable and proximate relationship to the production of income.

Q. I worked part time last year and made only about $900. Do I have to file a Federal income tax return?

A. In general, no. But if you had any unearned income such as interest and dividends, your total income was $750 or more and you could be claimed as a dependent, you must file.

Of course, if tax was withheld from your pay, you must file a return to get your refund.

Q. I just found out that on last year's return I could have deducted finance charges from my revolving charge accounts and credit cards. Can I just add the amounts I could have deducted on my 1972 return to the finance charges I'm deducting on my 1973 return?

A. No. Each tax year stands on its own. You may deduct 1973 finance charges on your 1973 return. If you still want to deduct the 1972 finance charges, you must file an amended return, Form 1040X, which is available from your local IRS office.

Q. Is it true that if your are 65 or older and sell your home, you may not have to pay tax on the gain?

A. Yes. If you were 65 or older before the date of the sale or exchange of your principal residence, you may generally choose to exclude from income all or part of the gain, if you owned and used the property as your principal residence for at least five years out of eight years ending on the date of the sale or exchange. You can take advantage of this provision of the tax law only once in your lifetime.

If you meet these requirements, you can choose to exclude the entire gain if the adjusted sales price of your home is $20,000 or less. If the adjusted sales price is more than $20,000, you still may be able to exclude part of the profit. For more details, see IRS Publication 523, "Tax Information on Selling Your Home." It's available free from your IRS office.

Q. I took a new job out of state and had to move. What moving expenses can I deduct?

A. If you qualify, you can deduct as moving expenses: 1) travel expenses (including meals and lodging) from your old residence to your new one; 2) the cost of moving household goods; 3) the cost of premove househunting trips; 4) the cost of temporary quarters at the new location during any period of 30 consecutive days after obtaining work; and 5) certain expenses you incur in selling your old residence and purchasing a new one.

For details on the limitations and requirements for the moving expense deduction, see IRS Publication 521, "Tax Information on Moving Expenses." For a free copy, fill out and mail the order blank on the back of your tax forms package.

Citizens' Reaction Varied On Edited Transcripts

By ANN BLACKMAN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ray Sauers took up President Nixon's invitation to read the edited transcripts of his private Watergate conversations, which Nixon said "will tell it all."

Sauers, one of the first to buy the blue-bound volume, doesn't think it does. Other first day purchasers think it does.

"It's a survival effort," Sauers concluded Wednesday after reading the critical March 21 conversation when then-White House counsel, John W. Dean III told Nixon of the full proportions of the Watergate break-in, conspiracy and cover-up.

Sauers, 33, a research analyst from Birmingham, Mich., and his 8-year-old daughter, Laurie, were visiting Washington last week when the edited transcripts went on sale at the Government Printing Office bookstore. They were among the first in line when the doors opened at 8 a.m.

"The March 21 conversation convinces me ... hush money to (Watergate burglar E. Howard) Hunt was approved," Sauers said in a telephone interview from his home. "It does no more than re-enforce what I already believed ... These things (transcripts) hurt him."

A check with tourists, businessmen, housewives and lawyers who purchased the instant best-seller the first morning it was on the market indicates that many of them think the conversations raised more questions than they answered; most think the six-pound volume is worth the $12.25 it cost. All have read at least portions of the transcripts. None finished the entire volume.

"I've read some of the significant meetings," said Joshua Davidson, a customs lawyer from New York City who purchased the volume while in Washington on business. "I think I'm in apparent agreement with a good many legislators in Congress who feel it hasn't helped the President one bit. In fact, it's been the reverse."

Tom Gallian, owner of a McDonald's Hamburger franchise in Dunn, N.C., disagrees. He took time off from a Chamber of Commerce convention in Washington last week to pick up several copies of the edited transcripts.

After getting "about half through," he said, "I voted for him (Nixon), and probably would do so again. I think it's a comedy of errors the President got into. I have no conclusions yet whether he's guilty or innocent ... I think he should turn over the tapes ... So he swears a lot? What the hell? We all do."

Mrs. Marjorie Hooper, an English teacher in a Washington high school, said after reading about 400 pages of the transcripts, "I think he (Nixon) warrants impeachment. There was definitely a cover-up after March 21. After he was informed, the whole group entered into a conspiracy to obstruct justice.

"I've been floored by the depravity of the whole situation."

Kilgore Man Drowns Wednesday

WHITE OAK, Tex. (AP) — Billy Ray McCarta of Kilgore drowned Wednesday at Lake Meil about four miles south of here.

The Gregg County sheriff's office said it was notified at about 3:15 p.m. that a boat had overturned in the lake and the body was recovered four hours later.

It was not known if McCarta was fishing or checking on oil wells in the lake.

Small Business Report Points Out Injustice

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Earlier this year the National Small Business Association presented congressmen with its view that small and medium-size businesses must be permitted a bigger share in the American economy.

The big three of big business, big government and big labor, the association's spokesmen asserted, ruled the land, formulating a national economic policy that:

"... discourages, handicaps, squeezes, and often destroys small business. Their actions are counterproductive, incestuous, and self-serving in nature. As a result, only the 'scraps on the table' are left for everyone else."

The injustice is clear, they claimed, in the areas of taxes, access to market and money raising — "would any fair-minded person say that equality of treatment is given to the would-be entrepreneur versus the economic power of an ITT although both want to enter the same field?"

But the impact of the small-business report to Congress really lies in pointing out the de facto situation. Here are some excerpts:

—In 270 of 413 manufacturing industries — that is, in 65 per cent of the industries for which figures are available — the eight largest companies account for 40 per cent or more of the value of shipments from their industry.

—In 1960, small and medium manufacturers had 50 per cent of the assets and 41 per cent of profits. By 1972 these corporations had only 30 per cent of assets, and 28 per cent of profits.

Citing Census Bureau figures, the association listed the percentage of shipments accounted for by the eight largest concerns in selected industries, based again on 1967 or 1970 figures.

Here are a few:

Cereal preparations, 97 per cent, chocolate and cocoa products, 90; chewing gum, 97; cigarettes, 100; woven carpets and rugs; 90; tire cord and fabric, 97; carbon black, 100; flag glass, 98; primary aluminum, 100; typewriters 99.

"By what accident or plan did we come to the point where a handful of giant companies can determine what foods will come to our tables and what that food will contain, and what it will cost?" the association asked.

And that's the question—not whether small business provides more variety, competitiveness and innovation, or whether big business produces sameness, administered markets and the status quo.

Is the country drifting into an era of superbig business, evading a decision and dealing with the event after the fact rather than attempting to influence its course?

Rather than drifting, is it being taken along a prescribed course by existing businesses that seek their own preservation rather than the overall good of the country?

Junior Editors' Quiz on POLLUTION

QUESTION: Exactly what is pollution?

* * *

ANSWER: Pollution is the impurity or contamination of air, water, land and vegetation. It is a serious problem in many parts of the world. Ecologists consider overpopulation and industrialization important factors in creating this situation. Apparently humans are being ruined by their own waste material.

Air pollution is common today, particularly in large cities and industrial areas. Dust, combustion by-products, pesticides and insecticides, and radioactive fallout are contributing factors. Polluted air has been blamed for respiratory infections, cancer, heart disease and the common cold.

Many of the rivers and streams have become stagnant and foul due to pollution. Too much industrial waste and untreated sewage have turned many bodies of water into cesspools. Fish and surrounding wildlife have died. Land and vegetation have been affected by insecticides. Plants absorb the poisons and pass them on to animals. In recent years, there has been much progress in controlling pollution.

Vienna Planning For Show

By WERNER VOLLMANN

VIENNA (AP) — Some 250 acres in the south of Vienna that film pioneers once used for location shots have been turned into a giant garden to host the International Flower and Gardening Show (WIG) 1974, which runs through October 14.

Officials predict that about four million people will wander through the area of flower beds and small lakes during the six-month exhibition.

Other features are a hotel and a medical center, next to a fast-growing housing area which replaced the wooden sheds, dusty factory buildings and ponds of a long-vanished brick industry. The ponds and the unkempt shrubbery of the so-called Oberlaa area fascinated the filmmakers in the 1920s and 1930s.

Ten countries have their own exhibits and about 30 are exhibiting specialties of their regions in indoor shows.

It is the second Flower and Gardening Show here, the first one, in 1964, having been staged in the north of Vienna. It rehabilitated an area of city dumps and gravel yards and turned it into such a landscaping jewel box that it was decided to build Vienna's United Nations City there as headquarters for such international organizations as the International Atomic Energy Agency and the U.N. Industrial Development Organization.

Big things are also expected from the 1974 show on the opposite side of the city. The nearby housing project will eventually provide homes for 20,000 Viennese. Furthermore, a rich thermal sulphur spring is to be the center of a new health resort.

The medical center, called Kurmittelhaus, was opened earlier this year. Eventually it will provide thermal sulphur treatment for some 3,000 patients, mostly for rheumatism. A 520-bed hotel in the immediate vicinity will cater to people seeking treatment at the center, but also to tourists who just want to be away from the noise of the city.

West German gardening expert Erich Hanke won the competition to provide the overall design for the landscaping. He did not send bulldozers in to flatten the area as some of the other architects had suggested, but instead left the natural soft slope intact. He put the rose garden — the center of the show — around one of the low hills.

Besides the rose garden, there are the "gardens of the nations," the shrub garden, the water garden, paradise garden, concert garden and other attractions, including a display of herbs.

In addition to the indoor exhibits, officials predict the "gardens of the nations" will probably draw the most visitors. Belgium, West Germany, Czechoslovakia, Great Britain, Italy, Japan, the Netherlands, Switzerland; Spain and Hungary have their own gardens.

For the Japanese exhibit 30 tons of rocks were shipped from Japan to Oberlaa to make the garden as authentic as possible.

The planners did not forget the children. On the northwestern part of the area there are three playgrounds called "Earth," "Moon" and "Universe."

"Earth" is an everyday playground that offers children sand to play with. The "Moon" has a grayish ground and bizarrely-shaped objects. A series of modern playthings excites the imagination of children in the "Universe."

There are about 15 miles of sidewalks, paths and roads crisscrossing the area.

OUR MAN ON BROADWAY

Dick Maurice

JOHN WAYNE wanted his wife back so much that he promised to cut down on his work schedule and spend more time with her: "And," he said sadly, "at age 67, time is what I haven't got any more."

J. GLEASON crowing "How sweet it is" with the new NBC deal he has which, he claims, makes him the highest paid actor on TV...

ROBERT REDFORD who made seven films back to back now bellowing he wants out and wants to find peace and quiet in the mountain wilds of Utah with the wife and kids. I give him an hour and one more flop like "Gatsby" and he'll be back mixing with the flotsam and jetsam again.

DESI ARNAZ, who's writing his autobiography, found some photos of himself as a slim, handsome youth in his old Broadway cafe day. "Now," he says, "I can show Desi Jr. his good looks are no accident."

ENGELBERT HUMPERDINCK's fan club adopted the slogan "Think Humperdinck".

MARTHA MITCHELL phoned me that everybody wants her book, that it'll be out by Christmas, and that none of it's written yet.

"Next year will be my 20th in the business and San Francisco is going to declare me a national monument," said PHYLLIS DILLER who added that though she had her face lifted, it might have been cheaper to have had her brain lowered.

TV personality DAVID FROST has been jilted at least three times: first by actress JANETTE SCOTT who married singer MEL TORME, then by actress-singer DIAHANN CARROLL who married a Las Vegas clothier, and now by model KAREN GRAHAM who married Las Vegas operator Del Coleman. What's wrong with Frost? He must not be a smooth talker.

"So I'm going to be 40 next fall?" shrugged SOPHIA LOREN. "The years don't count if you're enjoying life and looking forward to what's ahead."

BOB HOPE wants to make one thing perfectly clear. He may be the richest actor in show business-estimated wealth $300 million-but he contributed only $50,000 to the NIXON campaign in 1972. He said he was tired of being labeled the largest show-biz contributor. Others in show business, not actors, contributed more. For example, JACK WARNER, last of the Warner Bros., contributed $100,000 to Nixon. TED ASHLEY, chairman of Warner Bros., contributed $137,056. Jules Stein, the eye-physician-turned-band-booker who founded MCA, contributed $117,822. Taft Schreiber, also of MCA, and once RONALD REAGAN's agent, contributed $66,102. Jack Wrather, owner of the "Lassie" TV series, contributed $84,059. Producer Hal Wallis contributed $75,000.

The BEATLES are holding meetings, not to get back together, but to complete their separation.

JACK BENNY, the world's oldest 39-year-old showman, was caught with his age showing during a visit to his hometown of Waukegan, Ill. "We lived in a house at 518 Clayton Street," Benny told a news conference. But Waukegan Mayor held up four fingers, correcting Benny and indicating the address was 418. "I was here before you were," Benny quipped to the 58-year-old mayor.

MIA FARROW turned down a big TV special, doesn't feel like working.

JOAN CRAWFORD is an ardent fan of TV, especially of "All in the Family", whose star, CARROLL O'CONNOR, she recently summoned for supper. He arrived seven minutes late with his wife, Nancy. "You're late!" Crawford pouted, "and I thought we were going to be alone." They all headed for a restaurant where Crawford insisted on being seated at the prize table at the top of the stairs so that everyone could see her date. She then ignored Nancy O'Connor, who later recalled, "I felt like an unwanted chaperone until someone came up to Joan and said, 'Hello Edith!' thinking she was Edith Bunker."

"I exercise very hard. When I get up in the morning I do dance movements, practicing like a ballet dancer at the barre. I stretch, bend, do calisthenics, push-ups, pull-up, I have to train for my parts like an athlete. I go to bed at eleven and rise at seven even when I'm not working. But there still isn't enough time for everything, and that's frustrating. I keep my social life to an absolute minimum," confessed RICHARD CHAMBERLAIN. Remember, Richard, all work and no play makes for a dull boy.

Television actor, GENE BARRY, is quite a talented song and dance man. Broadway audiences will catch his act at the La Maisonette room of the St. Regis hotel.

ALAN KING is so popular in England that he has opened production offices in London to produce his own TV specials. The English are known for their bland sense of humor.

WTC WINNER—Johnny Gass, a member of the WTC rodeo team, is pictured above at the NIRA rodeo hosted by Southeast State University in Durant, Okla., recently. Gass took top honors for saddle bronc riding in the region and will go on to national finals next month.

WTC Saddle Bronc Rider, Gass Is NIRA Finalist

Johnny Gass of Western Texas College will be among the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association (NIRA) finalists in Bozeman, Mont., June 22-29 as top saddle bronc rider in the NIRA's Southwest Region.

Gass received a total of 507 points for first place in the event. Second place went to Ken Welch of Tarleton State with 391 points and third to Ronnie Ray of Cisco Junior College with 384 points.

NIRA contestants may take their best five rodeos of the year in compiling season records. The two top individuals in each event and the two top teams from each region compete in the finals.

Gass has an excellent chance to qualify for the national title, Van Rigby, WTC rodeo coach, said. The national title would bring Gass a $500 NIRA scholarship among other awards.

The men's team from Tarleton was best in the Southwest Region with 2463.5 points. Eastern New Mexico University was second with 1954.5 points, Cisco Junior College was third with 1166 points, WTC was fourth with 1164 points and Texas Tech was fifth with 970 points.

Top women's team was ENMU with 1360 points, followed by Howard College with 890.5 points, NMSU with 831 points and Hardin-Simmons with 784.5 points.

Robert Blandford from Tarleton was named All-Around Cowboy and Bettye Cooper from ENMU was All-Around Cowgirl.

Johnny Trout and Scott Hudson from WTC placed in the top three in the region. Trout was third in bareback bronc riding with 294.5 points, trailing James Ward from ENMU with 462 points and Perry Lee from Tarleton with 324 points.

Life In Portugal Is Different Since Coup

By JOHN VINOCUR
Associated Press Writer

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — Manuel Fernandes Videira is a plasterer, a man on a scaffold, who still reaches, bends, coughs in a sea of white dust nine hours a day for the equivalent of $25 in a brown pay packet at the end of the week.

He still takes the same overcrowded trolley bus downtown to work and his wife still packs him the same lunch of fish sandwiches. But for the plasterer, life has changed since April 25, when a military coup overthrew the authoritarian regime that had ruled Portugal for 48 years.

"It has to do with the boss," says Videira. "He's gotten very quiet all of a sudden. He's not stepping on my toes any more. He's promising raises, but there's a bigger change. It's in the way he talks. Before it was always work more, work harder. Now it's just do your job properly and do it well."

More than just a regime, the military coup that the Portuguese call "our revolution" overthrew a relationship between people—one which involved a sullen acceptance of authority and an assurance that power at any level would always go unchallenged.

The plasterer's wife works at the Lisbon University canteen, and she and the other women there felt free enough after the coup to complain about working on Sundays. As a result they got weekends off.

"You could say that we are a bit of a revolutionary couple," said Videira jokingly.

Life has changed, too, though not materially, for some of the privileged class—like Maria Fernanda Portugal Ribeiro, an elegant woman with two grown sons and a husband who commands a navy training ship.

Her cleaning woman still comes to her town house, and her mother-in-law still worries that she is too outspoken. But Mrs. Ribeiro says she is no longer ashamed of her country.

"I used to live here in constant irritation," she explained. "I was always nervous. When I tell you I hated to live in this country the way it was I am telling you the truth. I always wanted to get out. Now I feel jubilant. I want to stay and see what happens."

She said that the biggest change was in her attitude toward Portuguese men.

"I used to feel a lot of contempt for them. I used to think they were worthless, incapable of attempting anything noble. I know many other women who felt this same way. A friend called me up the other day and said the biggest surprise of the whole thing was to find out there are some men in Portugal."

First Lady To Go With Nixon

VANCE AIR FORCE BASE, Okla. (AP) — The White House has confirmed Mrs. Pat Nixon will accompany President Nixon on his stop at Vance Air Force Base and his visit to Stillwater on Saturday.

A Vance spokesman said the confirmation was made Wednesday.

The President is to deliver the commencement address at Oklahoma State University in Stillwater Saturday night.

The President's party is to land in the Spirit of '76 at Vance, then transfer to a special presidential helicopter for the trip to Stillwater, the spokesman said.

But the coup also brought sadness and fear to some lives, and the victims of the excesses were not always the agents of the now dismembered political police.

The first days after the government's overthrow were anguish for Joao Martin Simoes who has a popular restaurant in Cascais, a fishing village turned tourist haven near Lisbon. One day a newspaper article identified him as an informer for the political police.

"It was the saddest day of my life," he recalls. "You think, 'What can you do about something like that?' How powerless you are to say, 'No, I am not an informer.' I could imagine being called any name but not that."

Ultimately Simoes was cleared and the newspaper published a retraction. He put advertisements in other papers showing his photograph and a statement that said he never had anything to do with politics or the police.

But the damage had been done, and amid the general jubilation over the new political climate, Simoes is deeply wounded.

"I hope it won't hurt my business," he said "I'm 42 years old but it seems like I've been working for 60. I'm going to sue the paper. If I shut up about this, some people would take it as an admission of guilt."

Baptists Dominant In Texas

DALLAS (AP) — The chances of passing a Southern Baptist on most Texas streets are better than two to one.

And, according to a national church membership study released today, if you don't pass a Southern Baptist you're next most likely to pass a Roman Catholic.

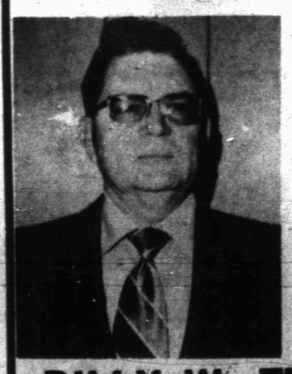

The study conducted by the National Council of Churches, the Glenmary Research Center and the Lutheran Church, is considered the most comprehensive work of its kind in 20 years.

The researchers said more than 50 per cent of the population in 137 of Texas' 254 counties are Southern Baptists. Baptists also predominate in another 44 counties with between 25 and 49 per cent of the population claiming membership in that church.

Methodists are not a majority in any county, but they are strong in one Central Texas county and in two Panhandle counties.

The study was conducted in 1971 but released by the researchers today.

Jim Lonborg Fires 2-Hitter At Padres

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer

The National League is the hitters' league, right?

Don't tell that to a couple of refugees from the American League.

Their names are John Curtis and Jim Lonborg—although a lot of hitters are probably using more picturesque names today.

Curtis silenced Cincinnati's potent bats with a three-hitter Wednesday night, hurling the St. Louis Cardinals to a 2-0 triumph over the Reds.

Lonborg went him even one better.

The former American League Cy Young Award winner manhandled San Diego, checking the Padres on two meaningless singles and pitching the Philadelphia Phillies to a 4-0 victory.

In Wednesday night's other NL games, the New York Mets beat San Francisco 4-2, Los Angeles defeated Montreal 6-3 and Houston belted Pittsburgh 8-6 in 12 innings. Atlanta at Chicago was rained out.

Cards 2, Reds 0

Curtis allowed only Andy Kosco's third-inning double and singles by Johnny Bench in the fourth and seventh. Reggie Smith, meanwhile, managed to get two hits of his own for St. Louis. And they were big ones—run-scoring doubles in the sixth and eighth innings.

Smith played for Boston in the American League last year—where both Curtis and Lonborg used to pitch.

Phils 4, Padres 0

Lonborg's shutout Wednesday was the first of the year by a Philadelphia pitcher and his first in the National League. He held the Padres to singles by John Grubb in the fourth inning and Willie McCovey in the seventh.

Mets 4, Giants 2

Jon Matlack pitched a four-hitter for the Mets—one of the hits a Bobby Bonds homer—and Jerry Grote and Felix Millan drove in two runs apiece to beat San Francisco.

Dodgers 6, Expos 3

Steve Garvey hit a two-run double in a four-run first inning that gave Andy Messersmith all the runs he needed to turn back Montreal.

Home runs by Ron Cey in the fifth and Jimmy Wynn in the seventh gave the Dodgers their other runs. Ron Fairly belted a two-run shot for the Expos.

Astros 8, Pirates 6

Dave Parker put Pittsburgh on top in the top of the 12th with a solo homer—but Doug Rader unloaded a three-run shot in the bottom of the inning to vault the Astros past the Pirates.

In the American League, Boston beat the New York Yankees 4-0, Kansas City defeated Texas 4-2, Oakland downed Baltimore 7-3 and Cleveland nipped California 3-2 in 11 innings. Chicago at Detroit and Minnesota at Milwaukee were rained out.

China Moves Closer To Olympics

By GEOFFREY MILLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

LONDON (AP)—The Peoples Republic of China is moving closer week by week to participation in the Olympic Games.

By the end of next week the Chinese could be fully fledged members of five international federations governing Olympic sports.

They have been edging towards this target for the last six months. It would officially entitle them to form a National Olympic Committee, the first positive step towards sending athletes to the Games.

The Chinese drive towards the Olympics could reach a vital turning point at the annual meeting of the International Fencing Federation at Montre Carlo May 16-17. China has applied for affiliation.

Thus, a vote taken in this playground of the capitalist rich could decide the future of the Communist country's 800 million people in international sport.

Until a few days ago the Chinese were affiliated with three Olympic sports federations—skating, ice hockey and rowing. In France last weekend the Chinese gained a fourth Olympic affiliation—with the International Weightlifting Federation.

But it won another important battle at the same time.

"We are the first federation to expel Taiwan Nationalist China to make way for China," said Oscar State, weightlifting federation secretary, on his return to London.

The Chinese reportedly want to include athletes from Taiwan in their international teams. State is among a growing group of world sports officials encouraging this.

Until now, officials from Peking always have refused to be on the same bodies as Taiwan, which has its own National Olympic Committee, recognized by the international Olympic Committee.

The Chinese, with five sports affiliations behind them, have time to form their own NOC and establish contact with the IOC before the annual meeting of the IOC in Vienna next October.

The way then could be clear for China to send athletes to the Montreal Olympics in 1976, possibly competing only in the sports with which they are affiliated and thus avoiding a direct confrontation with athletes from Taiwan.

Borg Wonder Boy Of Tennis

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — He's just 17, too young to shave. He has a mop of unruly blond hair that flies like a pony's tail. He looks like a kid who has been separated from his mother at the supermarket.

But don't let Bjorn Borg's callow youth fool you.

"If you don't take him seriously he will murder you," says the veteran Rod Laver. "He's mature and he's very good."

Laver should know. He lost to Bjorn 6-1, 6-1 in the semifinals of the WCT tournament this year in Barcelona.

"He could be the best 17-year-old tennis player who has ever lived," says Arthur Ashe. Ashe's career record against the youngster is 2-3, losing twice this year.

Ashe and Borg clash in one of the remaining opening matches of the World Championship of Tennis tonight at the Moody Coliseum. It is Borg's first appearance in the pros' $100,000 Wimbledon.

Bjorn Rune Borg of Sweden is the new wonder kid of tennis, acclaimed the greatest teenager to reach the big time since Ken Rosewall and Lew Hoad toured the world for Australia in 1952.

"I don't miss school much," says Bjorn, who dropped out after his first year in high school. "I don't know what I could learn in school to make more money than I make now."

The good-looking Swede earned $49,100 on the pro circuit last year. So far in the young 1974 season he has picked up $55,145. A victory in the WCT finals here—a long-shot but possible—would net him another $50,000.

"We have heads of companies in Stockholm who don't make that much money," Bjorn explains realistically.

Bjorn grew up Sodertalje, a community 10 miles on the outskirts of Stockholm, where his father ran a grocery store. His dad was an expert table tennis player.

In one table tennis tournament, the elder Borg won a cheap tennis racket. He brought it home to his son, 7, an only child. Bjorn began hitting sponge rubber balls against a barn.

"Everything came naturally," young Borg says. "At nine, I was playing in junior tournaments. At 13, I was playing against men and winning many matches. I was 15 when I made the Davis Cup team."

The world became aware of young Borg last year in the French Open when he beat Cliff Richey, Pierre Barthes and Dick Stockton in succession in the French Open.

At Wimbledon, he gained the quarter-finals before losing a hard five-setter to Britain's Roger Taylor. He became the hero of giggling, screeching teeny-boppers.

"They swarmed all over me, waited for me at the hotel and kept ringing my room," Bjorn says. "It was distracting. I like it better here where I can watch television in peace."

Bjorn drives a courtesy Cadillac here, as do all other competitors, but his coach, Lennart Bergelin, is always at his side, he's still too young to let out of sight.

Laver Eliminated From Net Tourney

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
AP Sports Writer

DALLAS (AP) — The World Championship of Tennis finals is becoming the same graveyard for Australia's Rod Laver that the U.S. Open became for golfing great Sam Snead.

Asked about the parallel in futility after he was ousted from the WCT finals Wednesday night for the fourth consecutive year, the drained millionaire replied "It does seem I'm destined not to win it."

The 35-year-old red-haired Laver who has won the grand slam twice and is considered one of the greatest ever to play the game added "I'll still have plenty of chances. After all the tournament is only four years old. I have a lot of my best tennis behind me, but I still have some ahead of me, too."

Laver, one of the favorites entering the quarterfinals, was soundly thrashed 6-7, 6-4, 6-4, 7-5 by defending champion Stan Smith.

In the other quarterfinal before a record crowd of 8 877 in Moody Coliseum, No. 1 seed John Newcombe of Australia defeated Tom Okker of the Netherlands 6-3, 6-3, 6-2 in straight sets highlighted by 17 Newcombe aces.

"I just don't seem to have much success in certain cities and Dallas is one of them," said Laver who has lost in the finals here twice to fellow countryman Ken Rosewall, Smith defeated Laver in the semi-finals last year.

Laver struggled with his serve from the outset. He came into the match primed for Smith, saying "I'm playing some of the best tennis of my life."

"I was so anixous I rushed most of my shots," Laver said.

Smith, who has played poorly since claiming the $50,000 first prize in Dallas last year, said "Rodney inspires me. I played better than I have all year."

There was some brief beefing over an electronic line calling device installed to help linesman. A crucial serve in the fifth game of the fourth set by Laver appeared on target but the light came on indicating a fault which eventually cost the lefthander the game.

"I though the serve was in." Laver said.

Smith agreed, saying "I thought the serve was in by at least two inches. That's whan I started questioning the 100 per cent accuracy of the machine."

The lower bracket of the quarterfinals tonight sends Ilie Nestase of Russia against Czechoslovakian Jan Kodes while America's Arthuer Ashe meets Swedish teen-age terror Bjora Borg.

Stars Beat New York

By JACK STEVENSON
AP Sports Writer

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — "We lucked out in the third game and made too many mistakes in the fourth," declared New York Nets' rookie Coach Kevin Loughery who now must rally his forces.

Injured Ron Boone proved the decisive factor Wednesday night in the Salt Palace as Utah's Stars escaped oblivion with a fourth-quarter rally and a 97-89 victory over the Nets in their American Basketball Association championship series.

Although New York leads the best-of-seven series, Loughery has problems.

On Monday night here, a last-second three-point shot by Brian Taylor knotted the count at the end of regulation play and the Nets went on to win 103-100 in overtime.

Boone suffered an unusual injury in the second game of the championship playoffs. His left hook caught Taylor in the teeth and severed a tendon in Boone's left hand.

He plays with the fingers taped and bandaged and on Monday scored only two points.

"I had a little less padding on my hand and the shots were just falling for me," the five-year pro veteran from Idaho State said. "We gained a lot of confidence."

The Stars also have an improved Zelmo Beaty and the 6-foot-9 pivotman kept Utah in the game with 14 points in the third quarter as New York outscored the home club 34-24 and took a 76-74 lead. He had 18 for the night.

In the final period, the New Yorkers scored only 13 points and ace Julius Erving had none although finishing as the Nets' leading scorer at 18.

"We were not nearly aggressive enough," Loughery said. "We'll have to pick up hustle for Friday. We are just fortunate to have the 3-1 lead."

No team in major professional basketball ever has lost three straight in a best-of-seven playoff start and rallied to win four in a row.

Beaty, who suffered a gland infection, missed the first two games in New York, but he's now back in action and appears to be gaining full strength.

"We expected him to start hitting sooner or later," said Loughery, "and sure enough, he did. We tried to double up on defending against him, but he hit a bunch in a row there in the third quarter."

Polly Riley Loses Match

CONROE, Tex. (AP) — Defending champion Beth Barry, Mobile, Ala., faces giant-killer Branda Goldsmith, San Antonio, Tex. today in the quarterfinals of the Women's Southern Amateur golf tournament at River Plantation Golf Club.

Miss Goldsmith defeated six-time Southern champion Polly Riley, Fort Worth, Tex., 5 and 4 in Wednesday's round.

Miss Barry, who has won three straight Southern titles, defeated Peggy Brass, Orlando, Fla. by the same score.

Tournament medalist Mary Ann Rathmell, Houston, defeated Mary Schmidt, Houston 6 and 5.

Mrs. Rathmell will meet Carol Templin, Sunrise, Fla. in today's quarter-finals match.

The tournament continues through Saturday.

Fight Slated

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Unbeaten Jimmy Heair of Los Angeles, the third-ranked lightweight contender, seeks his 34th victory tonight against Rudy Barro of the Philippines at the Olympic Auditorium.

Barro takes a 45-7 record, including 33 knockouts, into the scheduled 10-round bout.

Kansas City Ends Jenkins' Streak

By HOWARD SMITH
AP Sports Writer

Kansas City slugger John Mayberry didn't have to call his own shot Wednesday night against Texas ace Ferguson Jenkins. His manager did it for him.

"Just before John went up to the plate I cautioned him about trying to pull Jenkins' sliders and curves down the line," said Royals' skipper Jack McKeon. "I told him just to aim for the 370-foot sign ... and that is where the ball went."

Mayberry's fifth homer, a two-run shot in the eighth inning, carried over the 370-foot sign in right field and gave the Royals a 4-2 victory over the Rangers, snapping Jenkins' personal five-game win streak and extending the Rangers' losing streak to four.

Elsewhere in the American League, the Boston Red Sox blanked the New York Yankees 4-0; the Oakland Athletics whipped the Baltimore Orioles 7-3; the Cleveland Indians downed the California Angels 3-2 in 11 innings; and the Chicago-Detroit and Minnesota-Milwaukee games were rained out.

Despite the loss, the Rangers hung on to first place in the West by a half-game over California.

Red Sox 4, Yankees 0

Bill Lee shackled New York on five hits and Carl Yastrzemski contributed a two-run single for Boston. Lee, who evened his record at 3-3, was helped by four double plays. Dick McAuliffe and Dwight Evans drove in the other Red Sox runs with singles.

Athletics 7, Orioles 3

Lefty Vida Blue recorded his first victory after four losses as Oakland snapped a three-game losing streak. Reggie Jackson, Bert Campaneris and Gene Tenace drove in two runs apiece for the A's. Earl Williams clubbed a two-run homer for Baltimore.

Indians 3, Angels 2, 11 innings

Cleveland tied it in the ninth on John Lowenstein's sacrifice fly and won it two innings later when George Hendrick doubled and Ossie Blanco singled him home. The surging Indians have won 10 of their last 12 games and have beaten California six straight times this season. The Angels scored one run while Cleveland was completing a double play and the other on an error by Tribe catcher Dave Duncan.

Wednesday's National League results: Los Angeles 6, Montreal 3; New York 4, San Francisco 2; St. Louis 2, Cincinnati 0; Philadelphia 4, San Diego 0; Houston 8, Pittsburgh 6 in 12 innings; the Atlanta-Chicago game was rained out.

Mike Minster Hits Grand Slam

By The Associated Press

Mike Minster is starting a baseball habit that is sending Texas League pitchers into a cold sweat.

Minster slammed his second grand slam home run in four days Wednesday night in a seven-run Amarillo first inning, and the Giants went on to a 7-4 victory over El Paso.

San Antonio took a one-game lead in the West with a 6-2 triumph over Midland, Arkansas maintained its 2½ game East Division lead with a 3-2 decision over Alexandria and Victoria slammed Shreveport 8-0 in other TL games.

Amarillo scored its seven runs on a triple, five walks and Minster's homer in the first inning and Rob Dressler won his first game in four decisions for the Giants, although he allowed 11 El Paso hits. Only two of those were in the last four innings, however.

Will Aaron and Gary Ratliff both had three hits and a total of four RBIs for San Antonio in its victory over Midland, which gave the Brewers a single-game margin over Midland and El Paso and a two-game bulge on Amarillo. Ron Salyer won his fourth game against no losses for San Antonio.

Victoria stopped a six-game losing streak at home with its easy defeat of Shreveport. Nardi Contreras and Rick Baldwin combined for a six-hit shutout for Victoria, while Brock Pemberton's three RBIs and Randy Trapp's three hits led the Toros assault.

Arkansas continued to get clutch hitting as shortstop Danny Loomer brought the Travelers from a 2-2 tie to victory with a two-out single in the ninth inning against Alexandria. Joe Lindsey had two hits, two runs scored and an RBI for Arkansas.

Tonight's schedule has Amarillo at El Paso, Midland at San Antonio, Shreveport at Alexandria and Victoria at Arkansas.

Study Set On GlobalWeather

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A scientific armada is being readied to study one of the weakest links in science's understanding of how global weather and climate is produced.

More than 4,000 scientists and other personnel of 66 nations will undertake the study of the vast sun-drenched land, sea and atmospheric areas of the world's tropics this summer. The $53 million venture is led by the United States and the Soviet Union.

They will man or get data by radio from a task force of 38 ships, 13 aircraft, six kinds of space satellites and nearly 1,000 land-based weather observation stations deployed throughout or above a 20 million square mile land and sea area constituting one-third of the earth's tropics.

Their objectives are to:

—Help find means of forecasting the weather at any spot on earth a week or more in advance—compared with only a few days at best right now.

—Seek information to improve hurricane and typhoon forecasting.

—Explore theoretical possibilities for large-scale modification of the weather.

The venture also is expected to help explain the great drought still prevalent in parts of Africa and to help determine whether, and to what extent, man's pollution of the atmosphere affects global climate.

The project, outlined at a news conference Wednesday called by American government and private weather scientists, is called GATE.

That's short for "Global Atmospheric Research Program-Atlantic Tropical Experiment."

Dr. Robert M. White, administrator of the government's National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA), told newsmen GATE shapes up as "perhaps the largest and most complex international scientific experiment ever undertaken." NOAA is coordinating and directing U.S. participation.

White and other scientists said the task force will study the tropics because the tropics receive half the solar energy striking the whole planet. The atmosphere of this area therefore drives the general circulation of the global atmosphere, but, the scientists said, tropical weather-making processes still are inadequately understood.

GATE will be carried out from June 15 to September 23 in an area extending from the eastern Pacific Ocean—across Latin America, the Atlantic Ocean and Africa—to the western Indian Ocean.

SAYS CUSSING NECESSARY

Transcripts Language Doesn't Shock Expert

By TIMOTHY HARPER
Associated Press Writer

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Dr. Reinhold Aman takes a different view of the Watergate transcripts than the pastors and politicians who have criticized President Nixon for the salty language used in the White House.

"I just eat it up," said Aman, a professor of medieval German literature and an expert on swearing who can give 'em hell, damn and thousands of other expletives in 50 languages.

Aman, who teaches at the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee, sees swearing as a necesssary means of letting off steam in almost every language.

"I don't advocate swearing," he said. "I don't encourage my children or students or friends to swear. I personally swear because there are so many things that bug me. That's why everyone swears, and almost everyone does."

Far from being shocked at the language in the White House transcripts, Aman finds it lacking in the very words he's interested in.

"Most of the time they are omitted, although you can sometimes predict what should be there," he said. "I've been sort of trying to fill in what it can be.

"I wish I could get all the expletives. That would be like winning at a lottery or something."

Aman, 38, has plenty of experience in dealing with nondeleted expletives. He has published several scholarly works on profanity patterns throughout the world and compiled dictionaries of cusswords to help explain the background and meaning of curses.

"Swearing is a means of letting off steam, to keep from getting ulcers and from keeping frustrations bottled up inside," said Aman.

"It should be used properly," he cautioned, adding that most people don't appreciate the finer points of cursing.

He said the unsophisticated curser aims insults at a foe's physical characteristics rather than gauging his cultural and educational background before using the verbal rapier.

Only a low-brow swearer relies on ethnic slurs, he said.

Americans are among the least refined cussers, largely because their profane vocabulary is 25 or fewer words, Aman said.

Among his favorites curses are Yiddish's "May all your teeth but one fall out so you can get a toothache," the rhymed insults of the Turks and the singing exchanges between Eskimoes.

"Tell me what swear words you use and I will tell you who you are," he said.

Eight Charged In Abduction

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — Eight persons are under criminal charges today in connection with the abduction Wednesday of a man who the kidnapers said was the father of a man who stole marijuana from them.

Albert Arguijo Sr., 59, was rescued by police as his son, Albert Arguijo Jr., 22, met the abductors on the promise of a payoff. The victim was unharmed although he had been "slapped around some," police said.

Charged in the court of Peace Justice Mike Westergren were Maria Anna Rodriguez, 19; Luis Salinas Govea, 50; Faustino Urias Jr, 29; and Robert Lugo Ramirez, 27, all of Corpus Christi; Francisco Salazar Rangel, 32, Robert Jiminez Sr, 48, and Leo Bardo Gonzalez, 39, all of McAllen; and Luis Trujillo DeLuna, 25, of Mission, a Mexican national.

The charges were for aggravated kidnaping, Westergren said. Bond was set at $100,000 each except for Miss Rodriguez and Urias, whose bond was $50,000 each.

The district attorney's office said Ramirez already is on probation for possession of cocaine and papers would be filed to revoke that probation.

Corpus Christi officers told this story, in part quoting Arguijo Jr.:

The younger Arguijo said he received a phone call at 10 p.m. Monday saying his father had been kidnaped and demanding $54,000. Otherwise, they said, they would kill the elder Arguijo or take him to Mexico.

Arguijo Jr. said the callers told him that he had stolen their 800 pounds of marijuana and they wanted $54,000 for it. The son is free on bond on charges of transporting marijuana, officers said.

Police, Texas Rangers, FBI agents and state troopers arranged a trap whereby the son would meet the abductors on a street at 5 p.m. Tuesday. He met them but told the men the money was in another car on a parking lot in another part of town.

The men refused to be lured into the trap and when Arguijo admitted he possessed only $13,000, he was taken to a house and shown his father.

Variables Linked To Mental Health

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
AP Science Editor

DETROIT (AP) — Weather conditions, air pollution and news headlines all play a role in mental health but each has a different effect, a University of Pennsylvania research team reports.

The researchers said their findings were based on a study comparing such variables with fluctuations in numbers of persons seeking psychiatric help for different kinds of emotional crises.

The least linkage was between psychiatric emergencies and news headlines, Dr. John H. Valentine of Philadelphia told the American Psychiatric Association on Thursday.

However, headlines conveying bad or unfavorable news "may be implicated in the worsening of neurotic and family conflicts and a tendency to act out the conflict" in either self-destructive ways or behavior damaging to others, Valentine said.

"Favorable headlines may encourage bravado" and thus indirectly lead to fatal accidents, he said.

The study was conducted by a team in the department of psychiatry at the University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine.

Valentine said the group was seeking reasons for the marked variability noted in the types and frequencies of "psychiatric emergencies" bringing people into contact with psychiatrists, or sometimes leading to homicide.

The study covered 879 persons during the summer of 1973 in Philadelphia, he said.

Among weather effects, the researchers found high barometric pressure was associated with more people seeking help for depressions, while days of low pressure brought on more cases of intoxication.

Days with more sunshine witnessed fewer homicides, Valentine said.

He said higher levels of carbon monoxide brought more contacts from people suffering various types of organic brain damages.

He said that in this respect, "We may have demonstrated another indication for rigid control of auto exhaust emissions."

The study found rising levels of sulfur dioxide, oxidants, suspended dust and smoke and haze were associated with increased drug use, psychiatric emergencies among children, violence and violent deaths and neuroses.

His associates were Dr. John Ebert, Richard Oakey and Karl Ernst.

Cinema Arts Files Bankruptcy

DALLAS (AP) — A federal bankruptcy petition listing debts at nearly twice the amount of assets was filed here Wednesday by William O'Donnell on behalf of Cinema Arts Theatres Inc.

O'Donnell, president and chairman of the board of the movie house chain headquartered in Dallas, listed liabilities of $180,113.55 and assets of $92,925 in the petition.

Liabilities included $11,264.35 to the San Antonio Light; $17,022.30 to Twentieth Century Fox; $11,202.10 to Monarch Advertising & Associates of San Antonio; and $11,194.88 to United Artists Film Corp.

The largest debt was $20,201.81 owed to Modern Sales & Service Co. of Dallas. The smallest debt was $2 owed Lion Dog Advertising of Atlanta, Ga.

Among the five-theater chain's assets was $75 in popcorn.

Cinema Arts operates the Woodlawn, Laure, Texas and Josephine theaters in San Antonio and the Bowie theater in Fort Worth.

No date was set for hearing of the petition.

Butz Loses Favorite Line

WASHINGTON (AP) — Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz has lost, at least temporarily, one of his favorite lines: that the American people should count their blessings for having to spend less than 16 per cent of their take-home pay on food.

A report Wednesday on his department's Outlook and Situation Board showed that, in the first quarter of this year, after about two decades of annual decline or stability, the amount of disposable income allotted to food went up to 16.1 per cent.

On an annual basis, the percentage has been 15.7 for the last three years, even during last year's record 14.5 per cent boost in retail food prices.

The expenditures-income ratio fell from 20 per cent in 1960 to 18.1 per cent in 1965 to 16.2 per cent in 1970.

The board also reported that it still holds as "most likely" the previous estimate of a 12 per cent increase in retail food prices for all of 1974 over all of 1973.

Warning that its 12 per cent annual rate estimate could be pulled either way by demand and supply changes, the board gave a range of 8 to 15 per cent for the final over-all average jump in retail prices over last year.

Oduber Inaugurated

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP) — Daniel Oduber, who 26 years ago joined a revolution over an annulled election, has gained some fruits for his effort.

Oduber, 51, was inaugurated as president of Costa Rica on Wednesday, and promptly issued a warning to foreign investors. He said his government would issue a ruling to limit foreign investment to minority ownership of companies.

Oduber, a lawyer, was elected president over eight other candidates.

Henry Fonda Leaves Hospital

NEW YORK (AP) — Actor Henry Fonda has left Lenox Hill Hospital, where he had a pacemaker implanted five days ago to stabilize a heart rhythm disorder.

The 68-year-old actor walked briskly to a limousine and was driven off Tuesday. He declined to talk with reporters.
