Two May See With Eyes Of Murderer

(By The Associated Press)

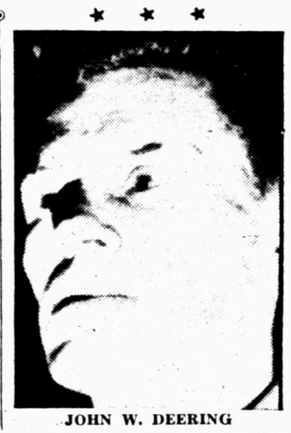

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—Two blind San Franciscans may see again through the eyes of a murdered who died Monday before a Salt Lake City firing squad.

The eyes of John W. Deering, who gave his body to science in atonement for a misspent life, were brought here Tuesday by air mail, packed in ice.

This morning the cornea of one eye was to be used in a delicate operation to restore sight to a young man of 25 who has been almost blind since childhood.

The cornea of Deering's other eye may be used in an operation to restore sight to a 65-year-old woman.

The San Francisco eye specialist, who shrouds himself in anonymity, said the eyes "arrived in excellent condition."

Overtime For Grave-Diggers In Prospect Over Texas As Highway Fatalities Predicted

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Nov. 2 — Violent death for 360 Texans!

Maiming and crippling of more than 500!

Injuries, hospital and doctors fees for more than 2,000!

That was the forecast state police statisticians posted today of the carnage of carelessness on Texas highways for the brief remaining period of 1938.

Hazards Threaten Motorists

They warned grave-diggers would work overtime through November and December with lowered visibility, week-end football trips, holiday traveling and cold weather hazards threatening motorists.

More than 1,280 already have died in vehicular crashes this year and the traffic experts estimate the toll will run more than 1,620.

Director Homer Garrison, jr., of the state police said high speeds were the most dangerous factor in accidents.

Forty Miles Too Fast

"It is a rare driver who has control of his car at 60 miles an hour," Garrison commented. "And on anything but a straight highway with but few cars in sight, 40 miles an hour is too fast."

Statisticians said an 18 per cent over-all decrease from last year in the number of deaths from highway accidents proved the toll could be reduced. Campaigns by cities, newspapers, civic organizations, schools and other units were credited by state police with the reduction.

They warned, however, that the decline should not be permitted to boomerang into relaxed vigilance by drivers.

Analysis of 1938 records showed more than 10,000 persons were injured from accidents.

Fried Kidnap Mystery Case Said Cleared

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—The mystery of Arthur Fried, young business man who vanished eleven months ago, was cleared today with the disclosure by J. Edgar Hoover that Fried was kidnaped, held prisoner four days, then shot to death and cremated.

Hoover, in a dramatic statement last night, laid the the death of Fried, 32, head of a Bronx sand and stone company, at the hands of a four-man "kidnap syndicate" which tried for weeks afterward to collect a $200,000 ransom.

Collected $14,900 Ransoms

The chief of the Federal Bureau of Investigation said "certain ones" of the quartet also had confessed they collected $14,900 in two hitherto unrevealed Brooklyn kidnapings and said they are under suspicion in two other kidnap cases and three holdups.

The men, Hoover said, shot Fried to death in a lower East Side apartment and burned his body in a furnace.

Suspects Are Named

He named the suspects as Demetrius Gula, 30, a pinball operator; William Jacknis, 27, a WPA playground instructor; John Virga, 34, a clothes presser, and Joseph S. Sacoda, 27, now in Sing Sing prison for parole violation.

Hoover said all four have police records and will be turned over to local authorities for prosecution. They were arrested over the week-end.

Victims in the two Brooklyn abductions were Benjamin Farber, 33,

Amarillo Tech Exes Are To Stage Rally

Amarillo ex-students of Texas Technological college will turn back the clock Thursday night.

They will conduct a pep rally "like we used to have at college."

At the meeting, in the Nat, plans will be discussed for a bus excursion to Lubbock on homecoming day, Nov. 11.

J. H. Smith, president of the Amarillo branch of the Alumni and Ex-Students association, has written to Calvin Hazlewood, administrative secretary, that, "From all indications, we will have a large delegation at homecoming from Amarillo." A five-member committee headed by Ward Garrison is making plans, he wrote.

The chapter hopes to charter at least two buses. Ex-students, whether or not they are members of the association, and other friends of the college have been invited to make the trip.

Hazlewood and possibly others from Tech will attend the meeting Thursday night.

Attendance Of 150 Seen For Parley

Attendance of approximately 150 persons representative of a large area is indicated for the district groundwater meeting to be held in Lubbock Monday, according to information to the chamber of commerce this morning.

The meeting is to be held at the call of a state-wide committee appointed in Austin last summer to draft a measure for submission to the January session of the legislature in an effort to enforce conservation of ground water resources.

The meeting is to be held in the main ballroom of Hilton hotel and will start at 2:30 p. m., according to newly completed plans. Expectation is that adjournment will be about 5 o'clock or soon after.

Invitations to attend have been sent to city officials, legislators, editors and chamber of commerce secretaries throughout the Panhandle and South Plains.

Information here said that members of the state committee also have been asked to call a meeting in Plainview Monday night. Word was lacking, however, as to whether that will be done.

The session there was urged, it was explained, because of extensive irrigation farming in that vicinity.

Appeal Is Made For Used Boy Scout Uniforms; Need Cited

Appeal for used Boy Scout uniforms for boys unable to equip themselves was voiced this morning by Dr. F. B. Malone, president of South Plains scout council.

The need for such equipment, he added, will continue to grow with the carrying out of an expansion program which is designed primarily to bring under-privileged boys into scouting.

His appeal was addressed particularly to parents of boys who have outgrown scout shirts, trousers, shoes, hats and the like which still are serviceable. If those who have any such garments will telephone council headquarters, 63, Dr. Malone said, someone will be sent for available materials.

Japan Plans To 'Adopt' China Into Empire

Announcement Is Made To World Today

Political And Economic Bloc Of Country To Be Moulded Under New Asiatic Policy

(By The Associated Press)

TOKYO, Nov. 2 — Japan bluntly announced to the world tonight that she intends to create a political and economic bloc consisting of the Japanese empire, Manchoukuo and China in carrying out her "immutable policy" for Asiatic reconstruction after the war with China.

A formal government declaration left a loophole for possible peace with the present government of China "if it were to come forward to join in the establishment of the new order."

Gratitude Is Expressed

The statement expressed gratitude to those nations "which are in sympathy with us" — presumably Germany and Italy, Japan's allies in an anti-communist pact. Other western powers were not mentioned.

The declaration was issued in commemoration of tomorrow's national holiday, birthday of the Em-

AGREEMENT IS REACHED

SHANGHAI, Nov. 2. (AP)—Domei (Japanese news agency) reported tonight that representatives of the Japanese-dominated regimes at Peiping and Nanking had reached an agreement for establishment of a Japanese-supported central government of China "based on the will of the people."

Purpose of the contemplated central government was declared to be the salvation of China "through stamping out communism and establishment of Chinese-Japanese cooperation."

It was indicated, however, separate local administrations under Japanese direction would be established at Canton and Hankow, newly conquered by the Japanese army, before a final amalgamation into one government.

Officers Seek Data In Case

The "missing Mexican" case took a turn this morning that sent members of the district attorney's office to Levelland early this afternoon for investigation "based on interesting possibilities."

What agents had upturned in their investigation into the whereabouts of James Lopez, charged under four counts with cultivation and possession of marijuana, was kept in the background.

"Something Hot" Likely

An unofficial source said "something hot may develop."

Burton S. Burks, district attorney, and Victor H. Lindsey, his assistant, could not be reached either at Levelland or at Morton, where the Mexican was to have appeared Monday morning for trial.

Bond forfeiture had been ordered by Judge Daniel A. Blair, but an undercurrent of speculation caused officials to begin a probe to determe whether there might have been foul play.

Lopez last was seen late Saturday at Levelland, directly after hasing his truck repaired, it earlier had been announced.

Had Been Seen Later

Indications this morning were he had been sighted since that time, in another town.

Adding complexity to the case was a telegram received at Morton Tuesday, and believed to have been "planted." It was sent from Juarez early Sunday morning and explained over the signature of J. L. Lopez the missing man was in a Mexican jail. Officials scouted possibility Lopez could have reached Juarez in time to have been placed in jail so early. No such name was on Juarez jail records.

Further, officials of the Morton sheriff's department and of the district attorney's office were sifting possibilities of motives to determine whether any one would have wished the Mexican done in, it was learned.

They said if the Mexican had

Germany's Film Queen Plans To Launch Picture In U. S.

BERLIN, Nov. 2. (AP)—Leni Riefenstahl, a plumber's daughter who became Germany's film queen and who has been considered one of Adolf Hitler's few woman friends, was said by friends today to have left last Saturday for New York to launch her film of the 1936 Olympics.

The friends said they tried to dissuade her on the grounds of unfavorable feeling in the United States against Germany, but she said she was convinced the film would speak for itself. She was said to have sailed aboard the liner Europa.

(By The Associated Press)

SAN ANGELO, Nov. 2—Two men and a woman, sought throughout the night by Rangers, state patrolmen and West Texas officers, surrendered nine miles from Eden today and were charged with robbery by firearms.

Officers began chasing the trio through hilly Concho county last night when they sped by a filling station near Eden. Officers said they had taken an automobile belonging to Will Tieman after abandoning another car.

The men and woman were cold and their clothes torn after a four-mile flight through the brush country around Eden. An abandoned car was found containing weapons, officers said.

Organizations Asked To Join In Parade

Invitation that Lubbock organizations enter the Armistice parade was offered this morning by Capt. Jack Walton, parade marshal.

The civic clubs, Red Cross, Salvation Army, and any other organizations are invited to join the military organizations, he said. The American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars posts, auxiliaries of those posts, Gold Star Mothers, Sons of American Legion drum and bugle corps, the two units of the National Guard artillery, the college Reserve Officers Training corps unit, and the college band are to participate.

Other groups wishing to enter may call Captain Walton, No. 1197. They were urged to call by Friday night, so that plans may be made for arrangement of the parade line. Organizations may or may not enter floats.

The parade will form at 10 o'clock that morning and will end in time for the program at 11 o'clock in the city hall park.

Arizona Youth Will Have To Do Some Explaining On His Return

Shades Of Dad's Day! Charge Of Fence-Cutting Is Filed In Justice Court Today

Back in the old days the charge might have caused a lot of excitement, perhaps burning of powder—but a fence-cutting complaint naming three negroes was placed this morning on the misdemeanor docket of Walter Davies, justice of peace.

A charge of malicious mischief named three persons, Cliff Hereford, 20, Henry Hereford, 26, and Mask Hereford, 24, brothers. It was set out they cut the fence of Clardell Wilburn, negro woman of 1700-block Avenue A.

The woman said she erected the fence to property she had leased several years, but that the brothers cut it in order to have a more direct entry to their own property.

Bond of $100 each probably will be made today, said officials.

Building Level Is Indicated

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Public Works officials estimated today that their $1,500,000,000 building program would bring public construction next year up to the average 1923-33 level.

The estimate was made in connection with a meeting of PWA field men, called here for instruction on actual construction phases of the new program.

All the projects authorized by congress this year must be under construction by Jan. 1 and substantially finished by June 30, 1940.

PWA has approved grants of $642,348,813 and loans of $44,491,150 for 6,215 non-federal projects to be built at an estimated cost of $1,428,842,811. An additional $195,949,704 has been allotted for 1,052 federal projects.

Officials said work has started on 912 federal projects and on 2,125 non-federal jobs. Fifteen small non-federal projects costing $872,972 have been completed.

Meanwhile, the administration was giving attention to another phase of the building industry in an effort to attract the capital of small investors into mass construction of small homes.

President Roosevelt disclosed yesterday that the administration was

Market Survey Shows Level Trend Today

Stocks Of Important Farm Commodities Are Piling Up But Quotations Steady

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Nov. 2 — Major farm commodity prices are in one of the longest periods of general "stabilization" on record, a market survey showed today.

With stocks of important commodities piling up in warehouses and on the farm, markets have been virtually deadlocked for weeks.

During the past three months wheat has stuck to a price range of 7 cents; corn has fluctuated only 9 cents, oats 5 cents, rye 5 cents and butter ½ cent.

Although grain prices are "stabilized" near the lowest levels in five to six years and butter is the lowest in three years, all prices are comfortably above the record lows reached in 1932. Livestock, particularly hog, has not been confined to the narrow range characterizing grains.

Grain trade experts attributed the steadiness of commodity markets, in part, at least, to the accumulation of supplies tending to depress prices on one hand and widespread government efforts to raise prices on the other. Helping to iron out the ups and downs of price fluctuations has been withdrawal of broad scale speculative activity in markets, although it was pointed out that speculation, itself, acts in anticipation of price moves and thus tends to flatten the curve.

Speculative Activities Chilled

Participation of the government in commodity markets has helped to chill speculative activities. Trading in grains is at an unusually low ebb. Government efforts to bolster values, observers declare, has discouraged private market action against such a trend.

The government has played a particularly prominent role in the butter, corn and wheat markets. Almost constant buying by federally financed agencies has practically galvanized butter prices. The government's export subsidy for wheat has helped make the domestic price the highest in the world, traders said.

Prices Show Little Change

Traders declared the sale abroad of wheat, encouraged by the govgrnment's export subsidy, has to some extent made the domestic market independent of world trade. Foreign wheat market prices have declined while domestic prices have shown little change.

Government corn loans have retarded the marketing of that grain and encouraged farmers to hold corn for better prices. Attempts to reduce production of both wheat and corn have been made.

The following table shows the range of important commodity prices since Aug. 1 contrasted with the highs and lows for the past eight years (December future contracts.

	Present	Range Since Aug. 1	1936 High	1932 Low
Wheat	63½	61-68	1.43	41
Corn	44¾	43-52	1.11	20
Oats	28	23-28	52	14
Rye	41⅝	40-45	1.32	30

Program For Rails Agreed

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2—Railroad management, labor and two government agencies were in substantial agreement today on three cardinal principles which may form the basis of a long-range rehabilitation program.

Although somewhat different in scope, the proposals are:

1. Authority for additional consolidations and mergers of railroads.
2. Greater flexibility in rate-fixing procedure.
3. Government loans for carriers on both short and long terms.

Listed In Programs

These suggestions are listed in legislative programs of the Association of American Railroads, the Railway Labor Executives' Association, the Interstate Commerce commission and the president's emergency board which recommended that the carriers abandon an announced 15 per cent wage cut.

President Roosevelt received assurances from the railroads and their employes' representatives Monday that they would cooperate in drafting definite proposals for him to lay before congress. He, in turn, was reported to have pledged his support to a general rail program.

There were indications that Mr. Roosevelt's informal committee of management and labor representa-

Body Is Found In Car Near San Antonio

Dr. David H. Carson Of Kerrville Believed Victim Of Kidnaping; Seek Patient

(By The Associated Press)

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 2—Shot through the head, the body of Dr. David H. Carson, 61-year-old Kerrville physician who was believed to have been kidnaped at Kerrville yesterday, was found three miles from here today in his car, parked 150 yards from the San Antonio-Kerrville highway.

Dr. Carson had been shot above his right eye. What appeared to be powder burns were found on his right hand and on his forehead. A .32-caliber pistol lay at his feet in the car and his glasses, unbroken, were on his eyes.

Justice of the Peace Raymond Gerhardt said the doctor, for whom Hill county and Bexar county officers had been searching for all night following his reported kidnaping, had been dead three or four hours. His body was seated upright in the driver's seat of his car.

Alfred A. Schubert, driver for a milk company, found the body and notified the sheriff's office.

Sheriff Will Wood said marks on the right side of the car indicated that a passenger in the car had become ill while the automobile was in motion. This passenger is believed to have been the former Legion hospital patient with whom the doctor was seen in Kerrville Wednesday. The patient was said to have been a paroled Kansas convict.

Officers said the doctor might have been murdered by a drug-crazed fiend.

Fingerprints Sought

Dr. Carson's automobile and bottles, gun and hypodermic syringe, found in the car, were being examined by identification experts for fingerprints. Justice Gerhardt said these, if any are found, would have an important bearing on his inquest verdict.

A driver's license in the car gave Dr. Carson's age as 61 and his address as the Secor hospital at Kerrville. Four dollars and thirty seven cents was found in his wallet.

Sheriff Frank Moore of Kerrville expressed the theory that Dr. Carson was kidnaped and slain.

Rugged Hill Country Had Been Searched By Officers

KERRVILLE, Nov. 2 (AP) — Federal, state and county officers had searched the rugged hill country today for a trace of Dr. D. H. Carson, 60, staff physician at the United States veterans hospital at Legion, believed the victim of a kidnap plot.

Sheriff Frank Moore expressed fear that Dr. Carson, last seen with a strange man to whom he gave some money he had borrowed from a local bank yesterday morning, had been kidnaped and slain.

The sheriff's department and

Peace And Humility Prevails Among Tahoka High Students

(Special To The Journal)

TAHOKA, Nov. 2.—Peace and humility prevailed among pupils of Tahoka High school this morning after a short-lived Hallowe'en "rebellion" which, in the words of City Supt. W. T. Haynes, "has persuaded a few malcontents that the teachers—not the pupils—are running the school."

School schedules were described as being completely back to normal, although a few still are paying penalty for their transgressions, the information said further.

The episode began, according to information Wednesday, when many of the students began clamoring Monday for a Hallowe'en holiday. Members of the school faculty met, and while they still were in session, a large number of the pupils left the building. Estimates of the number ranged from 80 to 140, reports being that the smaller figure is the more accurate.

Notification then came from Superintendent Haynes that the usual rule regarding pupils who

Japan Begins Second Phase Of Conquest Of China--Knitting Regime

Resistance To Be Problem

(By The Associated Press)

Japan has started the second phase of her conquest of China—the job of knitting conquered areas into the Rising Sun empire.

Japanese diplomats, merchants, builders, professional men, promoters and propagandists have followed close on the heels of her advancing armies, bent on drawing profit and power from the vanquished territory where 200,000,000 Chinese have been brought under Japanese sway.

Faced With Resistance

They are faced with passive resistance of China's millions, active resistance of night-riding guerrilla armies in the north, and pressure from neutral powers attempting to stop the closing of the open door to trade.

But the pace of political and economic penetration has quickened under the guidance of puppet governments directed from Tokyo.

Trade monopolies have been established in North China and Inner Mongolia. Neutral interests have been kept out of the Yangtze river valley because of "military necessity." A "greater Shanghai" building plan is under way which would make the once important international settlement of Shanghai a small, neutral island surrounded by a huge Japanese-dominated Chinese community.

Program Launched

At the same time, an educational and cultural program to paint a Japanese complexion on the face of conquered territories has been launched.

A new joint Chinese-Japanese motion picture company, expected to have a monopoly on importation of films, is being formed under sponsorship of the Japaneses, Manchoukuo, North China, "provisional" and Central China "reform" governments.

American and other foreign business men in Peiping and Tientsin report that once-profitable trade with Inner Mongolia now is impossible for their firms.

Oil Trade Taken Over

The Japanese-sponsored Mongol border government at Kalgan formed an oil monopoly, to which it turned over the marketing of all petroleum products. American and British firms formerly had this market.

All transportation except Inner Mongolia's sole railway is in the hands of a similar monopoly, and the railway is controlled by Japan's South Manchuria railway company.

Exports of wool, furs, hides and skins—Inner Mongolia's chief products—have been banned. They are to be used to supply the Japanese army.

Rebuilding Shanghai

The Central China Japanese-sponsored "reform" government's ministry of the interior has taken over the task of rebuilding that portion of Shanghai outside the International settlement and the French concession.

It has been indicated the Japanese plan to create a new commercial zone which would, in time, freeze out the foreign-dominated section of Shanghai.

An "East Asia Cultural and Educational association" has been set up to guide the intellectual destiny of China toward "cultural cooperation" with Japan.

Its guiding creed, as set forth in Hsin Min Pao, Japanese-controlled Chinese-language newspaper published at Peiping, is that Japan "does not suffer from the veils of European and American civilization," and that "the actions of Japan in the 20th century are inspired by the principles of benevolence and righteousness and of Wang Tao, or the kingly way."

The "reform" government has adopted an expanded educational program to increase the existing 48 primary schools to 200 to provide for Chinese school children returning with their families to Japanese-occupied areas about Shanghai.

Textbooks have been revised in an educational policy described as "friendly to Japan."

Ten new daily newspapers under auspices of the Japanese army special service section and the "reform" government have appeared in the Nanking-Shanghai area.

He has promised a return engagement to Amarillo, although the Bridge Congress by whom he is employed sends representatives to cities of 10,000 or more only once in five years.

It is not too late to join the school tonight. Steele announced, but after tonight the classes will be too far advanced for persons who did not hear the elementary lectures.

Secretary Hull Warns Against World Marching Toward New War

Rule By Force Is Attacked

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Cordell Hull, secretary of state, declared last night the world "is at a cross roads," but has not lost its "power of choice" between rule by armed force and rule by law.

He warned the nations that, if they place "increased reliance upon armed force as an instrument of national policy they will be marching toward the final catastrophe of a new world war, the horror and destructiveness of which pass human imagination."

Not To Abandon Agreements

Speaking at the world trade dinner of the twenty-fifth national foreign trade convention, Secretary Hull said nothing had happened in recent weeks—meaning the "peace of Munich"—to cause him to abandon his trade-agreements program. On the contrary, he declared he would "put redoubled vigor into our efforts to enlarge its scope and effectiveness."

He denied the contentions of some commentators that because the totalitarian states, with their drastic trade controls and attempts to become economically self-sufficient, have extended their geographical sway, other nations will have to fall back on a system of increasing economic isolation. This, Hull said, is a "counsel of despair."

Had Germany In Mind

He emphasized that an economy of self-sufficiency is bound to fail in the long run. In this connection, he did not mention Germany specifically, but officials said he had that country particularly in mind.

At another point in his speech, Hull said that in the present state of the world the United States must have armed forces "adequate" for her own security, but must continue her efforts for world peace.

Another speaker was Dr. Mario Pimentel Brandao, Brazilian ambassador, who pledged his country to support the Roosevelt "good neighbor" policy and indicated Brazil would try to expand its commerce with the United States by removing exchange difficulties.

He was hungry when he passed Edward Doyle's confectionary, and police said he forced the front door.

Stanhope was on his 15th apple when the Doyles returned. There was a scuffle and Mrs. Doyle struck Stanhope on the head with a rifle butt. He regained consciousness in a hospital.

Wealthy English Cotton Broker Sells New Mexico Ranch To Dr. M. C. Overton, Jr.

(By The Associated Press)

RATON, N. M., Nov. 2. — W. L. Horbury, wealthy English cotton broker, has brought to a conclusion his experiment in western "dude" ranching it became known today, turning over his palatial Vallejo ranch to Dr. M. C. Overton, jr., of Pampa, Texas, sanitorium operator.

At one time the ranch, a financial disappointment since Horbury took it over a year and a half ago, was prepared at great expense for a proposed visit by the Duke of Windsor and "Wally." The ranch, consisting of several thousand acres, is located near Cimarron.

Son To Complete Deal

Horbury turned his interests in the vast properties over to his son, W. L. Horbury, jr., who will complete negotiations for the sale to Dr. Overton.

The Horburys, it has been estimated, spent $300,000 on the ranch. Horbury also was sued for nearly $18,000 by three employes, who charged breach of contract, and for $225,000 for slander by a Santa Fe horse fancier in another action.

Attorneys said all the suits have been settled out of court, although amount of the settlement was not revealed.

Of Show-Place Proportions

Both Horbury and his son have returned to England.

Dr. Overton has not disclosed to what uses he intends to put the ranch, whose Spanish-pueblo buildings are of show-place proportions and richly furnished.

The property includes several thousand acres of land, tennis courts, polo fields, a swimming pool, some of the largest stables in New Mexico, guest cottages and an airport and hangar.

FATHER LIVES HERE

Dr. Overton is the son of Dr. M. C. Overton, sr., of Lubbock, and was born and reared in Lubbock. He formerly practiced at Slaton before going to Pampa several years ago.

Use Of Marihuana In Capital Increasing, Attorney Asserts

AUSTIN, Nov. 2. (AP) — District Attorney Edwin G. Moorhead asserts the use of Marihuana among capital youths had increased materially.

In an address Monday Moorhead said most "reefer" consumers were white and negro youths, adding he had investigated 30 cases in the past 60 days.

He noticed also the price of the drug had gone up in face of prosecution of peddlers, a pound of the narcotic weed bringing as much as $30 and cigarettes selling as high as 25 to 20 cents each.

"Boys purchase the cigarettes and use them on mixed parties," Moorhead said, "as the drug has the effect of lowering the moral standard on both boys and girls."

Five Univ. Of Texas Candidates For Rhodes Scholars Selected

AUSTIN, Nov. 2. (AP)—Five candidates have been selected from the University of Texas to compete for state nomination to the list from which the Rhodes scholar will be chosen.

The state committee will meet in December to select two candidates to compete in a six-state district elimination.

November Social Forecast Shows Promise Of Hurricane Of Events In City

Social Season In Full Sway

An early November forecast promises a veritable hurricane of social events for Lubbock as a varied social program is taking form. Remote as Thanksgiving and Christmas may appear, nevertheless town and college folk are giving serious thought to these holiday festivities and already clubs are booking reservations as far ahead as the new year.

Tonight Rev. and Mrs. John A. Winslow will be complimented when St. Paul's Episcopal auxiliary entertains from 8 until 10 o'clock at 2201 Broadway. Rev. Mr. Winslow is the new rector at the Episcopal church.

Two hundred persons, including church families and Lubbock pastors and their families, are expected to call at the reception.

Plan Historical Program

Highlight of Friday evening will be a historical program to be sponsored by the Nancy Anderson chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, in the lounge of the women's dormitory at Texas Technological college. Guests have been invited to call at 7:30 o'clock.

Featuring the program will be a talk by Judge James D. Hamlin of Farwell, an important figure in the growth of this area. Several pioneer Lubbock residents will be honored and there will be cowboy music.

The marriage of Miss Mary Ross Edwards and Porter Parris will take place Saturday at high noon at the First Christian church.

Plans Rehearsal Dinner

Miss Margery Clevenger of Hobbs, N. M., a member of the bridal party, is to entertain with a rehearsal dinner Friday night at the Hilton hotel.

Starring the church women's calendar for early November are two book reviews. On next Monday night Dr. C. J. Wagner, Lubbock physician, will review "The Fight for Life" by Paul DeKruif in a program to be sponsored in the First Presbyterian basement under the auspices of the woman's auxiliary.

Tuesday night Miss Evelyn Oppenheimer of Dallas will review ". . . and Tell of Time" by Laura Krey at 4 o'clock in the Hilton hotel ballroom. Members of the young matron's circle of the First Christian church are sponsoring the review and report a splendid sale of tickets.

On Armistice Day

There will be no more important day in the season for students and alumni of Texas Technological college than Nov. 11 which has been designated as homecoming day. Those planning to attend the game are invited to come early to see the demonstrations, said Wiley. The game will open at 2:30 o'clock.

Wiley said that two Loyola songs will be played during the game by the Tech band, according to plans. They are Loyola Fight Song and Carry On.

Republicans In Mountain States Blasting Away At The New Deal

Five Senators To Be Named

(By The Associated Press)

DENVER, Nov. 2.—Republicans in eight Rocky Mountain states are blasting at the Roosevelt administration's farm, foreign trade and relief policies and at "rubber stamp" adherence to the New Deal in an effort to shake off Democratic domination of the region.

The Mountain states—Colorado, Arizona, Idaho, Neveda, Utah, Montana, Wyoming and New Mexico—will choose five senators, 14 members of the house and six governors in the Nov. 8 election.

Borah Only Republican

Only one Republican, the veteran Senator William E. Borah of Idaho, now holds a major office in the eight states. His term will expire in 1942.

Some Democratic senators, criticised within their own party for opposing certain administration legislation, have in turn faced Republican accusations they went too far down the New Deal trail.

Rep. D. Worth Clark, self-styled "independent Democrat," who won the Idaho senatorial nomination over the New Deal agricultural spokesman, Senator James P. Pope, was the target of attacks similar to those he had used successfully in the primary.

Blames Price Of Wheat

"The price of wheat beat me," said Pope. Clark may have the same explanation if he losses to his Republican adversary, State Senator Donald A. Callahan. The Republican aimed his oratorical guns at Clark's vote for the 1937 farm bill and at reciprocal trade treaties.

Colorado's Senator Alva B. Adams, scored by some Democrats as "only a 50 per cent New Deal," because he failed to support the Roosevelt executive reorganization and court bills, has been challenged by Republicans for bowing to the administration's will.

Adams' opponent, Archibald A Lee, accused Adams of thwarting attempts to forbid political use of federal relief funds.

Didn't Get In 'Purge'

There was midsummer speculation on whether Adams and Senator Pat McCarran of Nevada would be marked for a Roosevelt "purge," because of their stand against the reorganization and court bills. But Mr. Roosevelt, speaking in the two states in July, refrained from mentioning either senator.

McCarran's standing with the administration has had little bearing on his contest for reelection over former Senator Tasker L. Oddie, Republican. Oddie is confronted with a two-to-one majority of Democratic registrations in Neveda.

If registered party affiliations are indicative, Burt L. Clingan, Republican senatorial nominee in Arizona, faces rough going against Senator Carl Hayden, Democrat. Of approximately 180,000 registered voters in Arizona, less than 25,000 are listed as Republicans.

Fraud Splits New Mexico

Hopes of New Mexico Republicans for gaining control of the state administration, held by Democrats for a decade, were pinned on a rift between rival Democratic factions and federal grand jury indictments of 73 persons for fraud and political manipulation in the WPA.

With neither a senator nor governor to be elected, Montana's campaign has centered around the selection of two congressmen.

Only two of the Mountain states' eight Democratic governors seek reelection and two others hold over until 1940. In Colorado, Gov. Teller Ammons is opposed by Ralph L Carr, Republican, former federal district attorney. Wyoming's Gov. Leslie A. Miller is matched against Nels H. Smith, Republican.

The hold-over governors are Henry H. Blood of Utah and Roy E. Ayres of Montana.

TOWERS OVER FLOWERS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 (AP)—The Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt chrysanthemum, a pale yellow bloom on a seven-foot stalk, towered over some 25,000 other blossoms today at the opening of the thirty-seventh annual chrysanthemum show at the department of agriculture greenhouses.

Wasn't Hard To Tell Which Two Of Three Appraisers Were Lawyers; Bull Isn't Cow

ELGIN, Ill., Nov. 2. (AP) — It was easy to tell which two of the three appraisers who came to the Morris Dolbey farm to appraise livestock were lawyers and which was not.

Joseph J. Widemann and Almore H. Teschke went into an enclosure to examine what they believed was a cow. But it wasn't. It was Dolbey's bull and he charged the appraisers, who escaped after a lively chase.

The third appraiser was Edward Meagher. He's a cattle dealer. He stayed outside the fence.

Influenza Leads In Reportable Diseases In State Past Week

AUSTIN, Nov. 2. (AP) — Influenza led the list of reportable diseases in Texas for the week ended Oct. 29, Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, said today.

A total of 189 cases was twice as many as noted in the previous week, he said. However, he explained the incidence of the malady this year has been approximately two-thirds less than for the corresponding period last year.

Other reportable diseases ranked last week as follows: malaria 168, scarlet fever 84, diphtheria 77, tuberculosis 73 and typhoid fever 50.

A careful inspection of the house for fire hazards now may have save a costly blaze some cold winter night.

Health Meet Here Sought

Next year's convention of the Texas Public Health association will be sought for Lubbock, according to information given at the chamber of commerce Tuesday.

The meeting this year will be conducted at San Antonio Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. The convention usually attracts approximately 300 persons. It never has been held here.

Dr. J. W. Rollo, city health officer, will send representatives to the San Antonio session, K. M. Renner, head of the dairy manufacturing department of Texas Technological college, will go.

Invitations Extended

Letters of invitation have gone to authorities of the association from the Lubbock City Health department, Carl E. Slaton, mayor, W. H Rodgers, city manager, and the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce.

The 1935, 1936, and 1937 conventions of the association have been conducted at Abilene, Waco, and Dallas, respectively.

The regional health meeting recently was conducted here and was attended by several hundred medical authorities. Dr. H. H. Puckett of Floydada, president of this district of the association, is expected to support Lubbock's bid for the convention next year.

Eradication Of Pink Boll Worm In Corpus Area Is Predicted

AUSTIN, Nov. 2. (AP) — Eradication of the destructive pink boll worm in the Corpus Christi area was forecast today by J. M. Delcurto, state entomologist.

He said planters had completed destruction of cotton stalks, winter habitat of the worm, and since the infestation this year was light it might not reappear.

A similar cleanup campaign was conducted in the lower Rio Grande valley and Delcurto said probably would result in better control of the pest. Complete eradication was hardly possible since the infestation there was much heavier, he said.

Postage Rate On Books Slashed By President Roosevelt's Order

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2. (AP) — A slash in the postage rates on books went into effect last night at the order of President Roosevelt. Postal officials estimated that it would cost the government $500,000 in revenue.

The president prescribed a flat domestic rate of one and one-half cents a pound in contrast to the present rate of seven cents a pound upward, depending upon the zone of delivery. The reduction, he said, should stimulate "cultural growth, education and development of the American people."

The new rate will be effective until July 1, 1939, the end of the fiscal year.

Annual Boy Scout Toy Pickup In City Set For Nov. 19

Hint that Christmas is nearing was given Tuesday by the announcement that Nov. 19 has been set as date for the annual Boy Scout toy pickup and that J. Ray Dickey has been named chairman of the committee.

The toys will be turned over to Lubbock Goodfellows, in keeping with annual custom, for distribution to children who otherwise would be forgotten.

Spread Christmas Cheer

For information of Lubbock newcomers, the Goodfellows are a volunteer and anonymous group who, through Avalanche-Journal Publications, make possible the spreading of Christmas cheer among the needy of Lubbock.

Two and one-half truck loads of toys were collected last year and a preliminary survey, according to Earl M. McClure, scout executive, hos disclosed that this year's needs will be greater.

Dickey is to name his own committee and the first meeting is tentatively planned later this week, the announcement said.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 (AP) — Robert Fechner, civilian conservation corps director, said today the CCC had spent $1,967,035,000 from April, 1933, when the program started, to June 30, 1938, employing an aggregate of 2,263,425 men.

HOW 25 WOMEN LOST UGLY FAT

In Special N. Y. Test

Ask Your Doctor If It Isn't Good Way. Read Every Word

NEW YORK, N. Y. — In a test by a prominent N Y Physician and nationally known newspaper woman—25 women lost a total of 286 lbs. in 40 days. YOU too, can follow this SAME, SENSIBLE plan right at home and here it is:

First of all go light on fatty meats and sweets. Eat plentifully of lean meats, fish, fowl, fresh fruits and vegetables. And for proper functioning — take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in hot water every morning. DON'T MISS A MORNING! And this is important!

Kruschen is NOT harmful. It is not just one salt as some people ignorantly believe. Rather it's a blend of 6 active mineral salts (formula right on box) which when dissolved in water make a healthful mineral drink similar to famous European Spa waters where wealthy fat women have gone for years. A jar of Kruschen costs only a few cents and makes 5 gallons of a most highly efficient mineral drink.

So fat ladies—get some gumption! MAKE UP YOUR MIND YOU'LL STICK to the above plan for 28 days — and just see if you don't lose fat and feel healthier and younger. (Note: You can get Kruschen at druggists everywhere.)—Adv.

A NEW CAR JOINS THE FORD QUALITY GROUP

THE MERCURY V-TYPE Eight

A PRODUCT OF THE FORD MOTOR COMPANY

For 1939 the Ford Motor Company presents an entirely new car—The Mercury Eight—designed to bring a new standard of value to its price field. Outstanding features are streamlined beauty—rich upholstery and appointments—95-hp. V-type engine—hydraulic brakes—remarkable quiet and comfort—116-inch wheelbase—wide bodies—exceptional room for passengers and luggage.

THOUSANDS of motorists, noting the extra value provided by the Ford in the low-price field and by the Lincoln-Zephyr in the higher medium-price field, have desired an equally outstanding value in the lower medium-price field.

The new Mercury 8 is the answer to that desire. It provides the added size and luxury that extra dollars buy, plus something this price class has never known before . . . Ford quality and dependability, with the performance and economy of a new V-type 8-cylinder engine.

It is made possible by the modern, progressive policies of the Ford Motor Company and its constant effort to give greater value to a widening circle of motorists.

The clean, flowing lines of the new Mercury reflect the distinction of the Lincoln-Zephyr — and, as every one knows, the Lincoln-Zephyr is now the accepted style leader and an example of Ford pioneering in original design.

The Mercury is a big car — long and unusually wide — with exceptional space for passengers and luggage. Three people can ride comfortably in both front and back seats. Head room and leg room are equal to that of many cars selling at considerably higher prices.

Because the Mercury is a big car, it is powered by a big 95-horsepower V-type 8-cylinder engine. Motorists who now own cars in this price field will be amazed at the brilliant, economical performance of the Mercury.

It is a remarkably quiet car. New sound-deadening materials have been developed in special Ford laboratories and thorough, scientific soundproofing by Ford engineers has reduced noise and vibration to a minimum.

Bodies are all-steel, welded into a single unit. It is equipped with hydraulic brakes built to strict Ford standards of safety and dependability.

We invite you to see the new Mercury 8.

Bowlers Getting Serious

By Collier Parris

SAILOR POPEYE WATKINS will have his lunch hooks full tonight when he meets Walter Stratton, the muscular man, in the main struggle at Sled Allen's. . . . And Sled says this guy in the semi-windup is pretty good, too . . .

Coach Pete Cawthon announces a communication from Duquesne authorities suggesting a new football contract for 1939 . . . But for one year only . . . The two-year home-and-home contract of 1937 and 1938 may not be renewed at this time, Duquesne officials say, because of previously arranged schedules, limiting Duquesne's traveling next year and precluding the addition of any game for 1940 . . . Cawthon will hold out for a home-and-home agreement—for a while, but if it isn't available, he'll take the 1939 game, to be played at Pittsburgh on Oct. 24, with the provision Duquesne comes here in 1941 . . . That's looking ahead, but Cawthon's doing a lot of that where schedules are concerned . . .

At the rate they're knocking them over at the new bowling alleys, Skipper Jake Hancock will be replacing a lot of crippled pins pretty soon . . . The pin-setters have to work in shifts, so heavy is the biz over at the Main street establishment . . . Tonight's ladies night, and men are barred from 7 to 10 o'clock . . . t's a nice place to bowl . . .

A new kegling record at the alleys was set — and 10 minutes later equalled—last night . . . Rev. Mr. Ted Graalman of Big Spring, who showed the way to a party of preacher bowlers yesterday, got very little exercise out of his games, needing only one ball to a frame in most instances . . . About 7 o'clock last night he finished with a new record score of 268 . . . Ten minutes later E. W. Settle racked up the same score . . . Previous record was held by Floyd Osenbaugh, with a 256 . . . At one time yesterday, seven ministers were limbering up on the alleys . . . One of the leading local preacher bowlers is W. G. Loesel, who has topped 200 quite a few times . . . To show that his 268 was not exactly a fluke, Rev. Graalman rested a while and bowled a 222 score, which ain't so amateurish . . .

Larry Moon Mullins, head coach of the Loyola Wolves, had coached his team, during the six years he has been coaching, to 40 wins, 10 losses and a couple of ties . . . His St. Benedict's team of 1936 was unbeat and untied . . . Dick Pfefferle, Notre Dame great from 1933 through 1935 and one year an All-American, is Mullins' line coach . . . Clay Calhoun, only Loyola player to score against Tech last year, is staying with the school as freshman coach . . .

Among other things that might have been said on Ross McAllister's sportcast yesterday, in rebuttal to the Ft. Worth commentator's suggestion that Texas Tech's calibre of football does not stack up to Southwest conference standards, was this: What Southwest conference school, at the age of 13 years, was of sufficient calibre to play Southwest conference football? . . . Records show, and Tech fans and opponents know, that the Red Raiders have been Southwest conference calibre football since 1932—and Tech was only 7 years old! . . . It is doubtful that Tech would have finished worse than fourth place any year since '32—and in three seasons, at least, the Raiders would have battled the big shots to a standstill . . .

Hack Miller, fiery, hard-hitting skipper of the 1938 pennant winning Hubbers, has been notified he probably would play ball for Shreveport in the Texas league next year . . . Miller, only member of the squad to remain here for the winter, was sold to Dallas at the conclusion of the season, but apparently has been traded to the Louisiana team . . . It will be Hack's fourth spring in the Texas league, and he hopes to stick this time . . . "But if I can't, I'd sure like to come back to Lubbock." . . .

Re-classification of Texas interscholastic football, or the addition of a Class AA division, seems about to happen . . . For several years regarded as inevitable by the brighter minds of high school football, the Class AA conference will concern itself primarily with metropolitan schools of 500 or more students . . . The Dallas Times-Herald "broke" the new story yesterday, quoting P. C. Cobb, director of Dallas high school athletics, as saying he had received the redistricting program from Rodney J. Kidd, secretary of the interscholastic league . . .

Mr. Kidd probably will get around to making public announcement of the plan soon, but while it's still a secret between him and Mr. Cobb and the Times-Herald we'd like to commend him for the rumor . . . and hope the idea comes to a definite head . . . It should help high school football, give it a better balance all around, remove the heavy handicaps under which many schools labor to put wining teams on the field . . .

Bout Is Called Off Tuesday

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—The Henry Armstrong-Ceferino Garcia welterweight scrap is off for a month-and maybe much longer, all depending upon how Armstrong recovers from a hurt he got while shadow-boxing yesterday.

The little negro fell twice in what was to have been his final training session for the first defense of his 147-pound title tonight, and he is trussed up worse than a Thanksgiving turkey. He can walk, but that's about all.

Promoter Mike Jacobs is gloomy, for it had looked like a sell-out of 120,000. Garcia feels even gloomier, for the Filipino had been absolutely confident of whipping Armstrong and finally cashing in on his long ring career. He is 29 and hasn't much longer to reach for the big money.

Dr. George Riley, the osteopath who is treating Henry's lame back, thinks the champion might be able to work out again in a week and be ready to fight within a month. But he makes no guarantees. Nov. 25 has been optimistically set as a tentative date.

Armstrong's injury is to a joint low in his back and has caused partial paralysis of his right leg. Apparently, it is about the same thing that happened to Mrs. Helen Wills Moody some years ago and kept her out of tennis for a season.

Bowl Privilege Is At Stake In Bear-Trojan Encounter

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 2 (AP)—The gridiron headlines of the Far West this week finds California's Golden Bears and Southern California battling for the driver's seat of the Pacific Coast conference and the dubious privilege of entertaining Pitt, Texas Christian, Notre Dame, Tennessee or the like in the Rose bowl New Year's day.

Up around Berkeley the feeling seems positive that California will knock the Trojan hopes clear into the Los Angeles river.

Down here, however, there is hope that California can be had, and that S. C., with a proven staunch defense and a combined running and passing attack that apparently has begun to click, will prove the point to the edification of some 70,000 patrons Saturday afternoon.

A report came from Berkeley today that the Bears would be sorely pressed because of "cripples," and a similar report blew out of the Trojan camp here. The two reports probably will kill each other off. These "cripples" have a way of throwing away crutches at game time.

Krieger Chops Al Hostak To Pieces

SEATTLE, Nov. 2. (AP) — Solly Krieger, a scowling bomber from Brooklyn, was the new middleweight champion of the world today after beating Al Hostak so savagely he sent the Seattle Slav to a hospital, temporarily blinded, paralyzed and without the use of one arm.

Krieger, the third man to win the middle title in a Seattle ring in the last 28 months, fought a cagey, crouching battle. He chopped Hostak to pieces with left and right crosses before 9,000 surprised spectators. Al had been a heavy local favorite.

Hostak was a dejected and broken battler when he left the ring for the hospital. He was game to the end—staying the full 15 rounds.

Twelve women from Amarillo opened play this morning against a dozen Lubbock fems. Nine holes were played then.

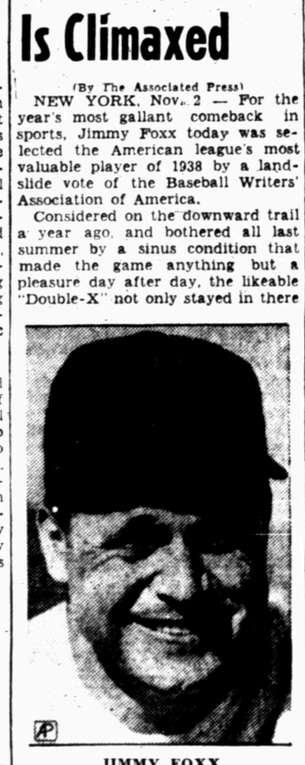

Mrs. Mabry Heilhecker was hostess at luncheon at noon in Lubbock hotel.

Comeback Of Red Sox Star Is Climaxed

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 2 — For the year's most gallant comeback in sports, Jimmy Foxx today was selected the American league's most valuable player of 1938 by a landslide vote of the Baseball Writers' Association of America.

Considered on the downward trail a year ago, and bothered all last summer by a sinus condition that made the game anything but a pleasure day after day, the likeable "Double-X" not only stayed in there for 149 games, but dynamited his way to the batting and runs-batted-in championships of the league.

His Bat Aids Club

It was his big bat, above all else, that enabled the Boston Red Sox to finish in second place in the junior circuit campaigning after their pitching staff fell apart.

Thus, Jarring Jimmy, who polled 305 points of a possible 336, becomes the first player to win the most valuable award three times during his career. This year, his 14th in the American league, the 31-year-old husky from Maryland's eastern shore hit for .349 and drove in a near-record total of 174 runs.

Others Receive Votes

The only others to receive first-place selections from the writers were the world champion New York Yankees' top battery mates, belting Bill Dickey and Big Charley The Red Ruffing. Dickey received three nominations, and Ruffing two.

Dickey's first place votes, together with 11 second place ballots, two each for third, fourth, fifth and seventh, and one for sixth, gave him second place with 196 points. Ruffing was fourth with 146.

In third place, the writers selected big Hank Greenberg, Detroit slugger who failed in his bid for a new all-time home run record after walloping 58 four-baggers.

Women Take Charge Of Bowling Alleys In Program Tonight

Women take charge of the alleys at 7 o'clock tonight at the Lubbock Bowling club as "ladies night" is initiated.

For approximately three hours feminine pin tdpplers will be welcomed to participate or witness.

It is hoped that sufficient interest among women bowlers will warrant organization of a league for the fair sex, Jake Hancock, manager of the club, said. More than a dozen women already are playing regularly.

FDR GOT A KICK

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 (AP) — President Roosevelt got a kick out of Seabiscuit's victory over War Admiral. A few minutes late for his press conference, he explained to reporters that he had been listening in on the race.

He said he had not, however, heard the Sunday night broadcast about the attack from Mars. He first knew about that and the excitement it caused the next morning.

Star Dartmouth Back Deserts Campus As His Religion And Football Clash Violently

AMHERST, N. H., Nov. 2 — Intercollegiate football, whose violence conflicts with his unorthodox religious convictions, appeared far behind Harrington Gates today as that great Dartmouth blocking back prepared for his humble tasks here on the lonely and hilly poultry farm headquarters of the colony of the Legion of God.

Authorities of the law and his college, when satisfied that Gates, the brilliant student and football super-star, had left Dartmouth voluntarily and without compulsion, reluctantly withdrew and left him to practice the passive tenets of his little known cult.

Wrote Out Resignation

Apparently remorseful over yielding to football's temptation last week, when he rejoined the squad and, despite only three days practice, starred against Yale, Gates wrote out a one-line resignation to Dean Lloyd K. Neidlinger and slipped out of Hanover Sunday.

A few hours earlier he had dined at the training table with his teammates, participating eagerly in their conversation, which centered about their next major game against Cornell.

When Dean Neidlinger, Fuller, Sheriff Richard M. O'Dowd of Hillsboro county, and others visited Gates here yesterday, he told them he intended to remain with his coreligionists because he was "uncertain that he could remain in college and resist the temptation of football."

Were Gathering Timber

Sheriff O'Dowd said the colony consisted of a weather-beaten one-story dwelling and two poultry barns. He estimated the number of residents at about 15 and said most of them were engaged in salvaging hurricane-felled timber about the premises.

Neidlinger and Fuller said Gates wore overalls, work shoes and a ragged jacket and they agreed he appeared "tired and under severe mental stress."

Schoolboy League Changes Proposed

(By The Associated Press)

Proposed realignment in Texas Interscholastic league football next season would leave only seven of the present districts in the top division with the same memberships and but five would retain the 1938 designation by number.

R. J. Kidd, athletic director of the league, announced yesterday that schools of 500 or more enrollment were to be placed in the AA division corresponding to Class A this year; those with 200 to 500 enrollment would be in class A, corresponding to class B this season, and that schools with less than 200 would be placed in class B, which corresponds to the present C division.

Would Cut Out 19

Only 90 teams are in the AA division, a reduction of 19 from the current list. This will be the only division playing to a state championship.

District 1 remains the same except for Lamesa which goes into district 3 with part of the Oil Belt teams and Odessa from the El Paso district. District 2 drops Olney, Quanah and Vernon. The El Paso district drops Fabens and Ysleta and the Oil Belt is minus Big Spring, San Angelo and Sweetwater, who remain in district 3 but with new companions, while Stephenville and Eastland are dropped. District 11, taking in Bryan, Cleburne, Corsicana, Temple, Waco, Waxahachie and Hillsboro, now becomes district 6, thus going into the upper bracket of the league race.

Masonic Home Is Out

Denison, Gainesville, Paris, Sherman and Bonham remain together but become district 7 in place of district 5. Denton, Greenville, Highland Park (Dallas), McKinney and Sulphur Springs also stay together but change from district 6 to district 8, and the Fort Worth teams, minus Masonic Home, make up district 9 in place of district 7. The Dallas district is unchanged in membership but has number 10 in place of 8, thus putting it into the lower bracket, along with the Fort Worth district, instead of the upper.

District 11 of Gladewater, Kilgore, Longview, Marshall, Texarkana, Tyler and Athens is at present district 9 and district 10 of Lufkin, Mexia, Palestine, Henderson, Jacksonville and Nacogdoches becomes district 12 with Livingston and Gaston dropped. The Houston district remains the same—No. 13—and so does district 14 of Beaumont, Galveston, Goose Creek, Orange, Port Arthur and South Park (Beaumont). District 15 of Austin and the San Antonio schools is at present district 12. Under the new set-up Kerrville is dropped.

Two Districts Joined

District 16 becomes a mixture of districts 15 and 16 of the present time with Kingsville, Edinburg, McAllen, Mission, Pharr-San Juan-Alamo, Donna, Weslaco and Mercedes eliminated.

While Masonic Home, Kerrville, Eastland, Olney, Quanah, Vernon, Stephenville, Fabers, Ysleta, Gaston, Livingston, Kingsville and the seven Rio Grande valley schools are not listed for AA, Kidd explained that some of them might be permitted to play in the new conference if they showed sufficient enrollment and were voted in by the district. Schools with 450 to 499 can enter AA by three-fourths vote of the district; those with 150 to 199 can get into the A division by a similar process.

"Border Line" Schools Listed

"Border line" schools have been listed in two conferences. If they are eligible for the next higher conference they should apply for admission at once to the chairmen of the districts for action by the committees, Kidd said.

Kidd said the re-districting was done solely on an enrollment basis. "It was brought about mainly by the schools themselves, many of which wanted a re-classification to place competition on a more even and fair basis," Kidd declared.

University Of Nevada's Grid Season Is At An End Today By Order Of Regents Board

(By The Associated Press)

RENO, Nev. Nov. 2 — University of Nevada's discordant and not-too-successful football season was at an end today, the squad disbanded by an order of the board of regents.

Outgrowth of a petition by the team members, asking the executive committee of the regents to oust Coach Doug Dashiell, Assistant Coach Duane Keller and Director of Athletics J. E. Martie, the board yesterday passed a resolution ordering the school to withdraw from further football competition this year.

Sports Roundup

BY SID FEDER
(Pinch-hitting for Eddie Brietz)

NEW YORK, Nov. 2. (AP)—Don't let anybody kid you that Henry Armstrong's injury isn't the real McCoy . . . The little walloper was really hurt, had to be half carried out of the Hippodrome, and then couldn't do any more than limp around . . . But, as George Parnassus, Ceferino Garcia's manager, hollored, "Why did he have to work out the day before a fight?" . . . Incidentally, Parnassus and Eddie Mead, Armstrong's manager, are having more trouble than you know about the whole thing . . . Both of them expected a big "pay day" this week, after the fight . . . Now they'll have to ride along without the "ready" some more . . . But it wasn't too bad for Mead . . . Big-hearted Eddie made himself a nice piece of change on Seabiscuit—at 2 to 1, no less . . .

Joe Louis, in town for the fight, is pleasanter to the boys than ever before . . . Maybe it's because of that new suit he won betting Hank Greenberg wouldn't hit 60 homers . . . Our scouts report the crying towel Elmer Layden was waving early in the fall was the biggest gag-eroo of 'em all . . . He told his staff as early as last spring that he was going to have his best Notre Dame team this year . . . Moral: when a coach sings the blues, always look for the swing music in back of it . . . From someone high up in the Cardinals' organization comes word that Ray Blades definitely has the inside track to manage the gasless Gas-Housers . . .

Connie Sparks is a crack ball-carrier for Texas Christian . . . But if you listen to those in the know, he has a cousin on the Frog freshman squad that has it all over him . . . Ray Flaherty, the Washington pro Redskins coach, says Whizzer White could be the greatest back in the game if he gave up the Rhodes scholarship and stayed in the play-by-play business for three years or so . . .

Winkey Autrey, Mississippi's junior center, figures he's seen everything now . . . He intercepted a pass in the Centenary game and ran for his first touchdown in nine years of playing football.

Locals Driving For Contest At Lamesa Friday

The Westerners got down to serious business Tuesday afternoon in preparation for their District 1 conflict at Lamesa Friday.

Coaches Weldon Chapman and Goober Keyes made it plain to their charges that, although the Tornadoes had lost two of three conference game played, they would not be an easy mark. Lubbock has dropped only one of six games played.

Another Hard Drive Today

A long session of dummy scrimmage and defensive work was the order Tuesday. Another hard drill is planned today.

Capt. Jumbo Webster is expected to get back into togs soon. He has suffered an infected heel due to a blister inflicted during the Plainview game last week.

Avon Sewalt is boasting a sore throat that has threatened to keep him abed, but he too is thought about ready to join the squad.

Seabiscuit Is King Of Turf

(By The Associated Press)

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 2.—Seabiscuit, the hard-hitting little equine warrior from the west, stands unchallenged today as the king of the American turf.

In as dramatic a battle ever decided over Pimlico's ancient turf, the 5-year-old star of Charles S. Howard's stable yesterday settled his argument with Samuel D. Riddle's War Admiral in a manner that left no doubt as to which is the better horse.

Not only did the Biscuit whip the mighty Admiral by three lengths but he created a new track record for a mile and three-sixteenths and left 40,000 fans singing the praises of the one-time selling plater, which Howard purchased two years ago from the fashionable Wheatley stable for 8,000. Under George Woolf's fine hand-ride the son of Hard Tack reeled off the distance in 1:56 3-5, one-fifth of a second faster than Pompoon's track mark and four-fifths of a second under the time the Biscuit himself ran the distance in establishing last fall what then was a new track standard.

WING DE-ICERS INSTALLED

LONDON (AP)—The Air Ministry proposed to make it compulsory for all British public transport flying machines to be fitted with approved de-icing equipment whenever the probability of ice-forming conditions are indicated.

Bands Will Be Here For Loyola Game

Win, lose or draw, there will be plenty of dulcet noise provided for the Texas Tech-Loyola game Saturday afternoon.

Bands from every high school in this section have been invited to attend the game. Class A, Class B, and Class C football teams have been mailed invitations to come to the contest, accompanied by school bands.

Number Not Known

Graduate Manager Bo Williams did not know this morning how many bands would be here, since he has not received acceptance from all those invited. He did, however, venture the prediction:

"There'll be a gang of them and they should be able to turn out plenty of music."

Raiders Paper Favorites

Tech will be fighting for its third victory in a stretch over the Wolfpack in the Saturday game. Coach Moon Mullins has a colorful array of talent and a well-coached squad. The Raiders rule favorites on paper, but will be the target of Loyolas best football.

Tickets for the combat are on sale at the Hilton hotel boxoffice, Sam Rosenthal's Hub Clothiers, Lubbock Hotel drug, and Mark Halsey's No. 2 drug of College Avenue.

Tickets Are $1.65

Reserved seats are priced at $1.65. Fans are asked to call early for ducats, since number is limited by out-of-town requests.

The Tech gridders worked chiefly on defense of Wolf plays Tuesday afternoon. Coach Dutchy Smith scouted the Mullinsmen in action last Saturday.

Bambino Applies For Job As Manager Of St. Louis Team

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 2. (AP) — Babe Ruth would like to manage the St. Louis Browns baseball team next year.

The former home-run king telephoned last week and asked for the job, President Don Barnes said today.

"We told him that we would be glad to give his consideration along with others," Barnes explained.

Ruth has been mentioned with others as a possible successor to Charles (Gabby) Street, who was dismissed during the last week of the season.

Watkins Vs. Stratton On Mat Tonight

Sailor Tex Watkins makes his third appearance in the main event in as many weeks tonight with Walter Stratton as an opponent at the Auditorium.

Preliminary matches start at 8 o'clock.

Watkins has put Jack Hagen and Joe Kopecky away in fine style since returning here for the winter season. He has shown good form and excellent condition.

Knows All The Tricks

The Post ex-cowboy and sailor knows all the tricks of the cauliflower calling, some of which he originated himself. He goes at wrestling in a workmanlike fashion.

Stratton is the strong man of local grappling and is in the middle of a good winning streak. Few of the local performers have been able to outdo him in manpower, for which he is noted.

Newcomer To Appear

It's interesting to see whether his strength or Watkins' cunning will prevail.

In the semi-final engagement, the stalking Swede, Gus Johnson meets Joe Banaski, a newcomer here. Banaski comes to the Auditorium highly recommended.

Blacksmith Pedigo returns here after an extended absence to face John Nemanic in the opener.

WACOAN LEADING OWNER

ABILENE, Nov. 2. (AP)—Roy Rutland of Waco, Tex., emerged today as the leading owner in the national coursing association's fall futurity stake here.

Three Rutland dogs, "Young Senator," "Tax Token," and "Jess McElyea," survived the third round of the stake at the association's semi-annual meet.

BLAMES WOMEN FOR FIRES

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — City fire chief Robert A. Bogan says fires have increased 60 per cent since women started smoking.

Razorbacks Had Better Look Out, Rice's Owls Are Crippled Again; Mustangs Face Aggies

(By The Associated Press)

The Arkansas Razorbacks had better look out.

The Rice Owls are crippled again. And if last week's game with Auburn is a good criterion, the fact that Rice is battered up just makes things harder for the Razorbacks.

Only Inspired Owls

Against the Plainsmen Rice had an injured list that looked like the first team roster, but this seemed only to inspire the replacements who came through in fine style as the owls showed about their best football of the season to beat Auburn by two touchdowns.

Among the casualties, Capt. Jess Hines, who in addition to being hurt has been called to California due to the death of a brother, and Ernie Lain, who is still nursing an injured ankle, will not make the trip to Fayetteville.

To Be In Good Shape

Arkansas had two of its injured players back for practice and will be in good shape, generally speaking, for the game Saturday.

Southern Methodist university officials were looking for a sell-out crowd of over 20,000 at Dallas when the Mustangs, who along with Rice and Texas Christian are undefeated in conference play, tangle with the Texas Aggies.

Coach Dutch Meyer of TCU indicated three new backfield starters would be in the line-up against Tulsa at Tulsa. Pat Clifford, Logan Ware and Ward Wilkinson will probably get the call to work with Davey O'Brien.

Longhorns Eve Upset

The University of Texas Longhorns, hoping to stage an upset and beat Baylor like they did last year, heard the news as a good omen that Park Myers, first-string tackle who has been out two weeks with an injury, probably would be ready to go against the Bears. Myers was an important cog in the Longhorn machine that tumbled the Bruins last fall.

Coach Morley Jennings predicted his Baylors would play a good game against the Longhorns and said he figured the Bear passes should go well against Texas.

Dinner Staged By Band Club

Plans for the year for high school bands were outlined at the annual banquet of the Band Booster's club which taxed the basement of the First Methodist church basement.

Approximately 350 persons, 150 more than were present last year, heard Mrs. C. C. Born, president of the club, declare, "our purpose is to make the Lubbock High school band the best dressed band in all Texas, and that's what we're going to do!"

The aim at present is to equip band members with new uniforms for the coming annual contest in this area. Toward that purpose they have the sum of $111, the proceeds of a rummage sale held last Saturday. Tuesday night's banquet was a non-profit venture, held solely for the purpose of getting parents and club members together.

Program Is Held

Following the banquet was a program presided over by Carroll Thompson, master of ceremonies, principal of the Junior High school. Following the invocation, by Capt Van Syckle of the Salvation Army, was an address of welcome by Supt. Irvin, in which he stated "no school is complete without music, and our aim is to begin training in this field in the elementary schools." Broad grins lit up the faces of the band members, resplendent in their blue and red coats and white trousers, when he commented on the fact that they now possessed uniforms for the first year.

After a short speech by R. W. Matthews of Senior high, "Goober" Keye,s assistant high school coach, expressed his views in regard to "What a Band Means to a Football Team." Helen Edgett sang two numbers, "Give Me a House on a Hilltop," and "I'll See You Again," and Mrs. Paul Laverty led the group in a sing-song of Texas numbers. As the final number, W. E. Lavender entertained the gathering with sleight-of-hand tricks.

Presented after the program were members of the Band Boosters club, Dr. Allen T. Stewart, of the school board, who promised the band his support, and Captain Van Syckle of the Salvation army, who also pledged full support for the high school band.

Tentative plans are being made by the organization to sponsor a dance Nov. 26.

Richard Roberts, Jr., Is Hurt Slightly As Home Is Burned

Richard Roberts, jr., former Texas Technological college student, received minor injuries when fire destroyed a home about three miles southwest of Lubbock Tuesday night.

It was believed the blaze which destroyed the six-room, one and one-half story house resulted from a kerosene lamp explosion.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Roberts, sr., had owned the place about five years, but said they had sold it to a Lubbock man about three weeks ago. It was insured, it was reported.

A garage also was razed.

Firemen were called, but were unable to control blazes.

The young man was not burned to the extent he required hospitalization.

Women of Tunisia spent nearly $100,000 for foreign perfumes and toilet articles in the last year.

Aviation Official To Visit Here Thursday

Efforts will be continued to gain a charter for the Lubbock chapter, when the state governor of National Aeronautical association visits Lubbock for a Thursday night meeting in Hilton hotel.

What is the NAA?

Largest Organization

Breedlove said it is the largest aeronautical organization in America, is non-political, non-commercial, and yet is accredited more than any other group with disseminating public information concerning aviation and in crystallizing an expression of aviation opinion and making the same available to the federal government without political pressure.

It sanctions the country's principal air races and model contests and is the authoritative body in establishing air records as the U. S. member of the Federation Aeronautique Internationale.

Not only are fliers admitted to membership, but the rank and file. Financial support is derived from membership fees, sanction fees, subscription to its magazine and advertising in that organ.

Charles A. Rowe, Texas governor, of Dallas hopes to find a large crowd interested in aviation when he arrives, said Breedlove.

SOME OF THE LADS and lassies who think you're pretty hot at poker should ought to have a session with W. F. (Rufus) Steele who is in Lubbock this week conducting a bridge school for American Legion charities. One thing is certain: A few minutes with Bro. Steele will convince even the cockiest poker player in town that he's a rank amateur.

Mr. Steele has been in the card-playing and teaching business for 35 years as an employe of the big playing card manufacturers and he can do more with a deck of cards than a monkey can do on 40 feet of grapevine. He can and will prove to the ordinary card player that a shark can take him more ways than a farmer can whip a mule.

The Plainsman, who does not play cards simply because he doesn't like to play cards, can't describe Mr. Steele's advice to ordinary players. But he can tell you this:

Whenever you take a chance by playing cards with strangers, you're setting yourself up for a nice slaughter.

There are more tricks in that racket than could be set down in a book.

Mr. Steele, for instance, can deal a bridge or poker hand in full view of everybody in the county and know exactly what is in each hand!

And he says when card sharps play with each other against suckers they have more and complete sets of signals than possibly can be detected.

He suggests cards for sociability—but not for profit, especially if there is a chance of ringer at the table!

HERE'S another of those "now it can be told" stories which will not only surprise the average reader but which also illustrates that, despite England's ambitions to drag the U. S. to her side in world matters, such a step is highly impracticable as far as this country is concerned.

The story comes to The Plainsman from New York and Washington correspondents and shows how very close we were to real international trouble when the Japanese bombed the U. S. S. Panay in Chinese waters last December.

Here it is:

"Exceptionally informed sources disclose the following significant inside story of Anglo-American-Japanese relations, which can now be told. At the time of the Panay sinking, the U. S. Navy quietly prepared for swift action in case the Japanese authorities got ugly. The Roosevelt administration had tacitly determined to back up our diplomatic position in the Far East by whatever use of force might be necessary rather than retreat under pressure of Japanese threats and hostile deeds.

"But no direct declaration of war nor overt act of warfare was contemplated. Instead the most ambitious blockade project in naval history was planned—a screen of warships flung in a curve across the Pacific from Singapore to the Hawaiian islands, and possibly a thinner line of ships from there to the Pacific coast of North America.

"The object would have been to stop all Japanese commercial-maritime traffic from getting through to Mexico, to South America or to Europe, West Asia and Africa via the Indian ocean. Naturally the plan involved the prospective closing of all American and Canadian ports (and other ports in the British empire) to Japanese shipping.

"SUCH A BLOCKADE, if effective, would have killed Japanese trade, prevented Japan from getting needed raw materials, and gradually strangled the island empire into submission. Our technique, at least at the outset, would not have been to sink or capture Japanese merchant ships, but simply to turn them back. It was recognized, of course, that sooner or later this would have led to casualties and war, but the idea was to make Japan fire the first shot.

"Our naval authorities were not afraid of the Japanese battle fleet. The blockade line would have been so far from Japan that effective fleet operations at such a distance from a base were rated impossible. Moreover, our fleet would have been so disposed as to facilitate quick concentration in the event of a major attack. No defense of the Philippines would have been attempted.

"It is worth noting that the American general staff felt we had adequate ships, personnel and equipment to do the job. Probably news of the plan leaked through to Japan and may have contributed to the nation's respectful eagerness to settle the Panay controversy amicably.

"The British attitude merits comment also. London was delighted with the prospective setup, pledged cooperation and offered our navy full use of the Singapore naval base (which was essential to the success of the plan). But no offer was made to send British warships to participate in the blockade.

"So American authorities, figuring that we would have been serving British interests as much as our own, privately stipulated that Britain should detach four battleships and eight cruisers from European service and send them to Singapore to take part in the operation—as a guarantee of good faith that she would not later renege on the Singapore arrangement.

"The British government rejected this condition on the plea of European uncertainties. A showdown on this point was averted by Japanese capitulation in the Panay matter. But the incident illustrates the practical difficulties in the way of Anglo-American naval cooperation. Britain was only too willing to let us carry her share of the load as well as our own."

THIS "now it can be told" story is interesting in itself but what is even more important is the fact that Great Britain coyly side-stepped any possibility of active participation in a movement of even more value to her—considering her heavy holdings in the Far East — than to us.

In other words, the incident proves — Britain's high-sounding words to the countrary notwithstanding — that John Bull wants that U. S.-British English-speaking compact for the purpose of having us pull his chestnuts out of the hot international fires, and for no other reason.

Both because we have been diplomatically dumb and because Old World diplomacy is so crooked it stinks, Britain has over the generations unfailingly played us for saps in every deal in which the two countries have teamed up.

Since England showed her hand in the Panay situation, the U. S. can, if it will, learn a great deal from the incident—chief of which should be that we'll do better to steer clear of England, along with all the rest of Europe, and remain in our own backyard in international matters

The Story So Far: Judith Goodloe marries self-made Reuben Oliver for his money, only to discover he is bankrupt. After their twins are born, red-headed Cissy Rogers, who loves Reuben, gets him a job in a lumber camp managed by Gary Brent—the man Judith loves. Always a fighter, living by Judith's codes has weakened Reuben. Now after a violent quarrel with Judith, he decides to make his own laws, and it is war to the knife with Gary. Cissy, on a visit, shocks Judith with the news that Gary may lose his job.

Chapter 36
Cissy Declares War

"Galbreath has been losing money and men during the two years Gary has managed things," Cissy continued. "Now he's looking for a real timberman. A picturesque Robin Hood looking wise, but acting dumb is all right—up to a point."

For an instant Judith was too outraged to speak. Then: "You don't like Gary as much as you used to?" sweetly.

"Equally as well," coolly, "I don't love him—there's a difference."

Judith had a desire to slap Cissy. "Does he know hes to be let down?"

Cissy shrugged: "He spends so little time on the work. I doubt if he does." Outlining her lips with geranium red she watched Judith's dark face in the mirror. When she had studied it a long moment she said: "It's an ill wind that blows no good. It means a chance for Rube."

"Rube?"

"To become superintendent. Why—what's the matter?" Cissy swung around and faced her hostess. "You look stricken instead of tickled to death."

"Should I look—tickled?"

"Shouldn't you? It's your husband's big chance."

"You think he should elevate himself at a friend's expense?"

"I wouldn't call Gary Rube's friend—exactly."

"Reuben owes Gary his job."

"I asked for it." Cissy reminded her.

It was not a pleasant remembrance. Judith hurried on: "He let us have this cabin—"

"Think he did that for Rube? He did that for you."

"Suppose he did? I've known Gary all my life. Do you think Reuben should repay a kindness—"

"Piffle! Is it a kindness to exact an exorbitant rent which Gary probably puts in his own pocket—"

"Cissy!" furiously.

"I can't swear to it of course," coolly.

"I can swear he doesn't. Gary is a gentleman."

"How you love to fool yourself with high sounding phrases, Judith! Why not come clean? You love Gary and you don't love Reuben!"

Cissy's statement crashed like cymbals against Judith's eardrums. The scant space between them vibrated to it.

"Cissy!"

"Maybe you can fool Rube, the blind bat. I'm not so sure—any more."

"I've never tried to fool him," proudly.

"You can even fool yourself—maybe, but you can't fool me. You'd sacrifice Reuben any day for Gary."

"Aren't you assuming a great deal," haughtily.

"I'm assuming nothing." Great waves of life swept over Cissy. She bit her newly painted lips to steady them. "I know because I love Rube myself. I've loved him all my life and I'll keep right on loving him until I die. I'm that kind of fool."

Stillness in the pine scented room. Neither woman moved. Neither seemed to breathe. Each watched the other, waiting for the next word, the next move.

With an effort Cissy said, defiantly, "Now you know."

"I knew before."

"I'm not very subtle."

Judith seemed not to hear. "If Gary went away—?" This whole lovely western forest suddenly lost its enchantment. Became just one more wilderness.

A New Deal

"Well," Cissy prodded, "what are you going to do about it?"

"Do?" She felt a vague pity for Cissy.

"Do!" emphatically. "The cards have been badly stacked, haven't they?"

"Maybe."

"I," Cissy strove for lightness, "am calling for a new deal."

Judith smiled whimsically: "Good luck!"

"I hope you mean it because I'm warning you I mean to play a hard game this time. I mean to win Rube if I can. You don't care! You're letting him down—"

"Be careful, Cissy!"

"You'd better be careful yourself!" Cissy lighted a cigarette with fingers that were not quite steady. "There's a wreck ahead for somebody and it might be you."

Gathering up a jeweled gold bag and emerald velvet wrap with its chinchilla collar, Cissy trailed from the room on tall gold heels, leaving a whiff of gray smoke in her wake.

Judith stood for a moment gazing after her.

"Why do I let her disturb me? Why?" But as on the evening of her first visit to Goodloe's Choice, Cissy had rocked Judith's world to its very foundation.

Immediately Reuben ceased to be a dim shadow in the background of his wife's life. He became very real—loomed very large. In a flash she realized that Reuben was the foundation of her present world—not the make believe world of laughter and whispered tenderness, but the real world that held the babies, spinach, carrots, clean laundry—without Reuben—

She dressed for the dance with utmost care in her one really fine remaining dress, a burnt orange chiffon alluring as sin. Fragile as a butterfly's wings.

"Silly to wear it through these woods," Judith told herself, sensibly, but did not take it off. Instead she smiled at her reflection in the mirrow with satisfaction. She was pretty again.

"I won't be frightened!" she went out on the porch to join Cissy. "Reuben will be late," she said easily, as though there had been no scene between them, "He always is."

"It wouldn't surprise me if he doesn't get here at all," Cissy replied with the too cheerful air of a woman who is trying to prepare herself for disappointment.

And then, almost as though her longing had brought him, Reuben's tall figure rounded the corner of the cabin.

"Hail fair maids!" He took the porch steps at a bound. Smiling at his wife and her guest with mock seriousness he said: "Your loveliness dazzles me."

"He didn't kiss her," Cissy noted with satisfaction. "A new deal is imminent—I hope I'll hold a trump or two."

The Queen Is Dead

That night brought startled realization to Judith that the breach between herself and Reuben had deepened and widened gradually, insidiously until each stood on opposite sides of a spanless chasm across which only the faintest echoes of their real selves were audible. If Reuben had become a shadow to her, she was only the most vaporish ghost to Reuben—a ghost to be tolerated and treated politely.

Being a ghost had its good points: One could stand on the side lines and view life impartially and unobserved. She saw Reuben more clearly from this distance than she ever had in the hectic, crowded days at Fordney's Gulch. The shadow was gaining substance. It gained vastly as she watched her husband dancing—with Cissy.

Judith's partner, a German professor, followed her gaze: "They dance well together."

"I was noticing that."

He laughed. "They have plenty of practice."

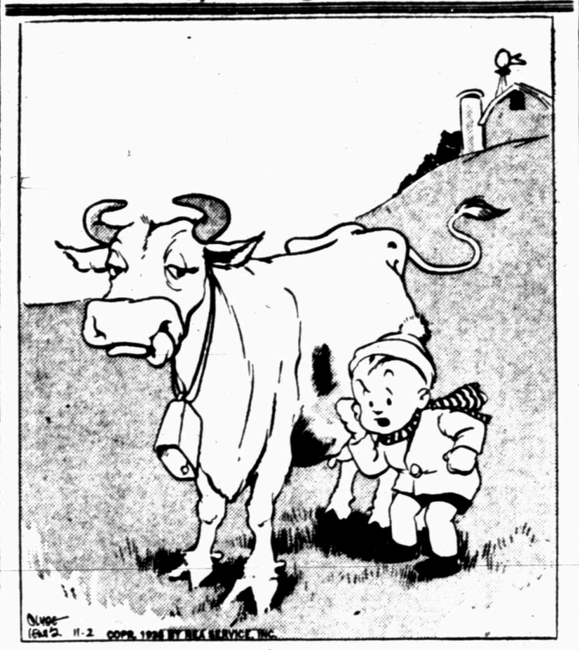

So! People were talking—

Judith tried not to watch Reuben, conscious in every part of her of the new indefinable quality

JOHN Q. PUBLIC WILL PAY THE FREIGHT

It appears that most of the dangers of a threatened railroad strike have subsided and, as any John Q. Citizen could have predicted, that the public is going to pay the freight.

The upshot of a conference in the White House Monday was the recommendation that railroad wages remain as they are, with the quiet though unofficial assurance to operators that long-time government loans will be made available to them to assist in meeting operating expenses.

Those loans, of course, will come from funds raised through taxation. The theory is that eventually those sums will be repaid. Few economists believe, however, that actually will be the case. Their expectation is that the railroads will use the money, and then be in a worse hole than before. When that time comes, if the future is to be judged by the present and past, the public once more will be expected to kick in so that the railroad worker and operator may continue to thrive.

The prospect isn't a pleasing one except for those who obtain wage or profit from railroad operation. But it is a situation which probably will continue until John Q. finally rebels.

Today's Thought

And she shall bring forth a son, and thou shalt call his name Jesus: for he shall save his people from their sins.—Matthew 1:21.

THINGS I Never Knew 'Til Now About The Navy: The U. S. Navy has the right to veto any actor cast by a movie studio in a flicker about the Navy. . . . Golf, tennis, and after-dinner speaking are required courses at the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis. . . . The Navy rejects applicants who have indecent or obscene pictures tattooed on their bodies. . . . Alcoholic liquors are taboo on the Navy's ships. Sailors used to be given a daily ration of watered rum, but Congress finally abolished it and substituted coffee. . . . The reason the silk kerchief the sailors wear around their necks is black is because it originally was a "sweat rag" and black hid the dirt. . . . Annapolis regulations forbid midshipmen to ride in taxicabs . . . The only automobile they are permitted to enter is the Naval ambulance.

IT DOESN'T pay to receive a promotion in the Navy. When a Rear-Admiral is promoted to the rank of Vice-Admiral, his income is reduced by about $300 and, besides, he must shell out $350 from his own pocket for new uniforms with more gold braid . . . When a man graduates from Annapolis, he must wait two years before he can get married . . . In the U. S. Navy, the word "gob" for sailor is taboo . . . The Navy doesn't permit studios to cast an actor in a film about the Navy if he has previously portrayed drunks, crooks or other unsavory characters on the screen. (The only exception ever made was when they permitted Warners to cast Frank McHugh in "Wings of the Navy," because he's a Navy favorite.) . . . There is a Society of Sponsors of the United States Navy, which holds regular meetings. It's composed entirely of women who have launched battleships.

WHEN THE Navy department gives its specifications for the construction of a ship, they are so detailed that they even state how many stitches to an inch are to be taken in sewing the canvas gun-cover . . . The goat which is the mascot of Annapolis inherits his job. (The same family has handed the job down from father to son.) . . . Annapolis midshipmen don't get a summer vacation like other college students. They spend the summer on a battleship, where they are taught all the angles, and they must get up at 5:30 every morning. (But they get a "leave" in September.) . . . The U. S. Navy uses more coffee per man than any other military or naval organization in the world.

The expression, "Son of a Gun," originated in the Navy. Sailors used to be permitted to keep their "wives" on board, and the term used to refer to children born alongside the guns . . . A midshipman is never called a "middy" except in the movies. They resent it . . . A pig tattooed on a sailor's foot is supposed to be a charm against drowning . . . The Secretary of State can't order an American fleet into a foreign port. Naval officers take their orders only from the Secretary of the Navy . . . Navy regulations now prohibit infliction of tatooing as a punishment. In the old days, they used to tattoo a "D" on the arms of deserters . . . The Navy is one of the largest employers of labor in the U. S. . . . The title "Admiral" comes from the Arabic "Amir-al-Bahr," meaning Commander of the Seas. The grade of admiral wasn't created in the U. S. until 1862. Secretaries of the Navy repeatedly tried to have it created, but the public opposed it on the grounds that the title had a royal flavor.

ONE OF THE Navy's present-day ships has more fighting power than Dewey's entire fleet at Manila . . . On carrier ships, the "Hot Papa," as he is called by the crews, is always on deck. He is a man dressed in an asbestos suit and wearing a large helmet of the same material. His job is to be ready to dash into a crash and remove the occupants of the plane in case of fire . . . Candidates of Annapolis must be not less than 16 years old nor more than 21. Congressmen are constantly urging the Academy to raise the age limits to 17-22, like West Point. The big reason advanced is that it would increase the power of the football team!

THE SALARY of the Admiral of the Navy is only a little more a year than the cost of firing one shell from a dreadnaught . . . Contrary to popular opinion, battleships during the World War weren't camoflaged to make them invisible, but to make it tough for the submarines to estimate their course and speed . . . Interest in the little wooden sub-chasers used in the World War has been revived with the Navy's offer of $15,000 for the best design for a 110-foot subchaser of wooden construction. Their exploits in the Otranto barrage and the Battle of Durrazzo will be memoralized for the first time in the flicker," "Submarine Patrol" . . . Perry's flag with "Don't Give Up the Ship' printed on it is pointed out to every midshipman on his first day at Annapolis as one of the qualities he is expected to show.

Speech On Democracy

New Deal Is On Defensive In Eastern Senate Elections; 'Purge Winners' Sure Of Victory

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2—Down the aisle next January to take oath for another term will march all or nearly all those senators for whose 1938 defeat Roosevelt and New Dealers hoped. They are the senators who participated in the fight against the court plans and in other anti-administration revolts.

But the New Deal loyalists won't be doing so well. Primary defeats of Senators Pope of Idaho, able, sincere New Dealer, and McAdoo of California, plus withdrawal of Dieterich of Illinois, a "rubber stamp," made that result fairly certain. Now the election outlook indicates somewhat heavier weather for pro-Roosevelt Democratic candidates than for insurgents.

Dutcher

Results of senatorial contests will indicate trends more accurately than others. Senators run on their records—and that of their party—in Washington. Governors run on their records of state administration.

Issues in congressional districts are likely to be localized. Senators must depend on votes from rural as well as urban districts.

Except in the South, where incumbents are being returned en masse, senatorial candidates are bound to feel any backwash against the New Deal this year.

Democrats think recent business upturn will save them Senate seats. Republicans believe low farm prices and other factors give them at least a fighting chance in 10 or a dozen campaigns against sitting Democrats.

A recent poll of political leaders and top-flight political writers averaged a guess that the G. O. P. would gain four seats.

Democrats Worry

Seats of Senators McGill of Kansas, Duffy of Wisconsin and Bulkley of Ohio are in danger. Republicans also hope to make gains by beating Senators Ferd Brown of New Hampshire and Elbert D. Thomas of Utah. The five are administration men.

G. O. P. leaders also claim at least a "fighting chance" to beat Democratic candidates in New Jersey, California, South Dakota, Oregon, Connecticut, Iowa and Colorado.

They expect to hold the Senate seats of Davis in Pennsylvania, Nye of North Dakota and Gibson of Vermont.

Democrats claim to be worried only about McGill, Duffy and Bulkley.

In New York Senator Robert F. Wagner, "father" of social security and labor legislation, and Congressman James M. Mead, running respectively for the long and short term against Republicans John Lord O'Brian and Edward F. Corsi, are believed sure to win unless Governor Lehman is defeated for re-election by District Attorney Dewey, who is expected to lead the G. O. P. ticket.

Wagner boasts of New Deal reforms and O'Brian challenges him to defend the record on federal spending, unemployment and Wagner's National Labor Relations act.

Both Democratic candidates are backed by the American Labor party, the A. F. of L. and Mayor LaGuardia.

O'Brian is a former federal assistant attorney general who recently defended TVA before the Supreme court.

Corsi is a former commissioner of immigration.

In Pennsylvania it's a question whether the social and labor legislation of Gov. George Earle's administration will outweigh recent scandals in voters' minds as they choose between Earle and Senator James J. "Puddler" Davis.

Earle's chances seem poorer than those of Charles A. Jones, Democratic candidate for governor.

Defeat of the ticket presumably wouldn't break the hearts of Boss-Senator Joe Guffey or John L. Lewis, since it would be fairly sure to give them control of the Pennsylvania party and its 1940 delegates.

Guffey has supported the ticket. Lewis has been silent.

Key Contest In Ohio

In New Jersey former Senator Warren W. Barbour, one-time boxing champ, seeks to beat William H. J. Ely, former WPA administrator blessed by the New Deal and Boss Hague.

Barbour, who stands well with labor, says Ely will be a "rubber stamp." Republicans cite rumors that Hague isn't really behind Ely.

Senator Bulkley, colorless supporter of most of the New Deal, drew a Roosevelt opponent in the Ohio primaries, Robert A. Taft, lawyer, son of ex-President Taft and already mentioned as presidential possibility.

This contest is a key test in Republicans as to whether a big enough measures he voted for, including out-campaigning Taft on the issue of "planned economy," the wages and hours law, the reorganization bill, the court bills and the anti-lynching bill.

Taft will open his campaign in Cleveland, where he is expected to draw a big enough crowd to fill the city auditorium.

about him. He looked like a man who has awakened after a long sleep to more abundant strength, power, happiness. He mingled with the dancers but was plainly not of them. He wore a detached look, a soaring look—

"The eagle," Cissy had called him that night at Goodloe's Choice. Had accused Judith of charming him. "Well, he has cast away his chains tonight."

Cissy was besieged with partners. Here was a new experience for Judith. She was not the undisputed belle, the queen of Camp number 2 tonight. She had been dethroned ruthlessly and quite as a matter of act. A brighter star had appeared on the horizon. Cissy Rogers was old Clem's sole heiress. If that were not enough to make any girl a sensation old Clem's daughter had beauty. She had charm. She had old Clem's ready friendliness.

Judith acknowledged the end of her reign. "The Queen is dead—long live the Queen!" Her lips quirked whimsically and then she saw Gary—blond, splendid, making his way toward her.

Who said the queen was dead?

Without the loss of a single step Gary took her from the professor. He said: "I thought I'd never get here."

She said: "I thought you'd never come."

"The buyers arrived today like a swarm of locusts."

"So Cissy said."

"Cissy here?" indifferently.

"Visiting me over the week end. Come up tomorrow and help to entertain her."

"Oliver is expert at that. I'll entertain you."

Cissy and Reuben again! Not that it mattered. Nothing mattered save that Gary was here and that no one could lure him from her!

Tomorrow: Gary has something to tell Judith.

porter of most New Deal bills who drew a Roosevelt endorsement in the Ohio primary, may be beaten by Robert A. Taft, a corporation lawyer, son of the late President Taft and already mentioned as a presidential possibility.

This contest is being taken by Republicans as a major New Deal test in a key state.

Bulkley defends the New Deal while pointing to some Roosevelt measures he voted against. Taft, out-campaigning him, attacks "planned economy," "regimentation," the wage-hour act, farm act, the reorganization, and Supreme court bills and "one-man government."

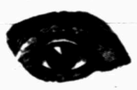

Taft will carry Ohio outside Cleveland, where Bulkley may get a big enough majority to save him.

WALL STREET REPORT
NEW YORK, Nov. 2. (AP)—The stock market settled deeper into a rut today and prices drifted unevenly in the quietest trading since late September.

Transactions, approximating 700,000 shares, were less than half the trading pace before the market recently entered a stalemate. In bonds and commodities, decisive developments were lacking as speculators withdrew from dealings.
Wall Street appeared to be following its traditional watchful waiting before important elections.

trying to work out a program to provide houses for families able to pay a monthly rental of $5 to $10 a room.
Those able to pay more have been provided for by the home owners loan corporation and the Federal Housing administration, the president said, while the government's slum clearance program has aided the lowest-income class.
The chief executive said previous programs had not reached persons who can afford to pay about $3,000 for a home built in the northern part of the United States.
He indicated he thought this might be achieved by a pool of funds for small investors who have $1,000 to $5,000 which they wish to place in a sound investment at 3 per cent interest or slightly more.

The Lubbock party is returning today. Displays are planned here for Friday.

Farm Session Closes Today

Closing session of a two-day school of instruction for county agents, assistants, administrative assistants and clerks on the AAA program was held this morning in the Lubbock hotel, closing just before noon.
Arrangements for a series of county meetings to continue the work here were made after the session.
Victor L. Cade of Union, district member of the state AAA committee, presided. Principal speakers were J. L. Mauk, field man for the district, Ralph Price, field man for the AAA and K. J. Edwards, district agent leader.
Miss Lida Cooper, district home demonstration agent, also spoke.
There were more than 100 men and women present, including district committeemen as well as employed forces of the county offices.

Three Group Meetings
K. J. Edwards, district agent leader, presided over the general sessions. There were three group meetings during the afternoon, at which problems of various kinds were presented for solution. George Slaughter, Wharton, state AAA committee chairman, met with committeemen; Edwards met with county agents and assistants; Miss Lida Cooper, district home demonstration agent met with her group and E. M. Holmgreen, administrative officer, met with assistant administrative officers and head clerks.
A general session followed, lasting from 3 o'clock until after 5:30. A. L. Smith, in charge of the AAA range program for the state, talked on that work.
W. L. Randolph of Washington, assistant director of the AAA for the southern region; Holmgreen, Fred Merrifield, Washington, a field man for the AAA, and E. R. Duke, Amarillo, in charge of the wheat insurance program, spoke at length.
Merrifield talked on the wheat acreage allotments, explaining how the allocations by states were made, as well as county allotments. Duke announced Nov. 19 as the final date for payment of premiums on wheat insurance. He said 5,944 applications were made in Texas. Washington officials secured the 10-year wheat acreage record, made an average and used as a basis 55-75ths of the average for the 1938 fall planting.
One of the interested visitors was Congressman George Mahon, who listened to explanations of how the AAA is being administered. He met the Washington AAA representatives later.

Borden Buys Dairy Here; Addition To Plant To Be Built

Jenkins Brothers Dairy has been purchased by the Borden Company, dealers in milk products, and will be merged with the local branch of the Borden concern as soon as facilities will permit, T. E. Crites, local manager for Borden's, announced this morning.
Entire personnel of the Jenkins organization will be retained, Crites said, with Ben Jenkins, one of the former owners, in charge.
Plans are now being drawn and construction will start as soon as possible on an addition to the building now occupied by Borden's at 519 Avenue J. In the new structure will be placed the most modern milk plant equipment obtainable, Crites said. Until the addition is completed, the newly purchased business will continue to be operated from the present location of the Jenkins Dairy, 3915 Twenty-third street.
The Borden company, a pioneer concern founded in 1857 by Gail Borden, was one of the signers of the Texas Declaration of Independence, has operated an ice cream plant in Lubbock for the past 14 years. With acquisition of the dairy, Crites becomes general manager of the combined businesses.
The transaction covering the Jenkins dairy has been contemplated by officers of the Borden concern for some time, Crites said, the additional investment being prompted after study of the growth and development of Lubbock and the surrounding territory.

play "hookey" would be enforced. Under that rule, the child must be accompanied by his parents before he may resume classwork.
Nearly all complied immediately with the rule, school officials said. A few were more reluctant, but all were back in classes Wednesday.
Among the other ineidents reported was the turning in by members of the football squad of their suits. They wanted them back again Tuesday, however, and practiced as usual for their game with Lubbock High school Cowhands Friday afternoon, the superintendent said. Bob Harlow is coach of the team.
Reports that the game has been cancelled, that some students turned in their books and that all have been removed from National Youth administration payrolls were declared to be wholly without foundation.

Japan's New Policy

his reign covering the period during which Japan emerged from isolation to become one of the great powers.

Similar To Manchoukuo
The statement appeared to indicate that Japan expected China's role in the future of Asia to be similar to that of Manchoukuo, formed out of China's Manchurian provinces conquered by the Japanese army between 1931 and 1933. (Although Japan formally maintains that Manchoukuo is an independent empire, that country actually is a Japanese protectorate entirely dominated by Japan and for all practical purposes part of the Mikado's empire).
"Japan," the statement continued, "is confident that other powers on their part will appreciate correctly her aims and policy and adapt their attitude to the new conditions prevailing in East Asia.
"For the cordiality hitherto manifested by the nations which are in sympathy with us, Japan wishes to express her profound gratitude.

Conforms With Spirit
"Establishment of a new order in East Asia is in complete conformity with the spirit in which Japanese empire was founded; to achieve such a task is an exalted responsibility with which our present generation is entrusted."
Previously the Japanese foreign office had declared that Asiatics "can hardly accept as fair treatment" the existence throughout Africa and Asia of colonies of western nations.
The statement was made following a question as to the probable tenor of Japan's reply to the United States note of Oct. 6 demanding an end of Japanese interference with American trade in China. The spokesman emphasized that he was not commenting on the note or a possible reply and was expressing only a personal opinion.

Fried Kidnaping

a coal dealer, and Norman Miller, 19, son of the head of a stevedore concern.
Hoover said the kidnapers seized Farber last April 18 in front of a Brooklyn branch of the National City Bank and released him unharmed shortly after his family paid $1,900 of a $25,000 ransom demand.
Young Miller, he said, was kidnaped last July 24 as he left a Brooklyn theater and freed within 24 hours when the father paid the gang $13,000. It was the youth's memory of his experience that enabled G-men to trace the gang.

Other Kidnapings Not Revealed
The F. B. I. head refused to name other kidnapings in which the men still were being questioned.
The chief case still confronting the G-men is the disappearance of Peter Levine, 12-year-old New Rochelle schoolboy whose headless wire-trussd body was found floating in Long Island sound three months after he vanished last Feb. 24 on his way home from school.

tives might start conferences at once if the railroads decide at Chicago Friday to cancel the proposed wage cut.
When the carriers announced the pay reduction plan last May, congress dropped consideration of emergency railroad legislation. Many suggestions for rail aid have been advanced since that time. Some of them are:

Physician Is Shot

state highway police were joined in the search by agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and San Antonio police and deputy sheriffs.
Dr. Carson came here three years ago from McAllen. He maintained an office in Kerrville in addition to his duties at the Legion hospital.
Sheriff Moore said he had a suspect in mind and that the man was a former patient at the hospital and was known to be a paroled convict from Kansas, where he was serving a term for murder.

Seen With Stranger
The sheriff said Mrs. Gladys Easley reported she saw a stranger enter the car with Dr. Carson at a filling station near Legion where the physician had stopped to make a telephone call. She said Dr. Carson drove toward Kerrville with the man still with him in the automobile.
Sheriff Moore was informed that Dr. Carson borrowed $100 at the bank, giving his car as security, and saying he would sign the note and give details later. The teller informed the sheriff he handed Dr. Carson the money and the physician gave it to the man who was with him and that they then left the bank.
Sheriff Moore said the man with Dr. Carson fitted the description of the ex-convict who also was reported missing.
Mrs. Carson told officers she did not know of any enemies the physician may have had.
Mrs. Carson, prostrated with grief, said she knew of no enemies the doctor might have had.

morning. A woman captured with the men was not named in the complaints. She is the wife of one of the suspects, who were identified positively by victims of five Dallas robberies.

Car Left Behind
The trio surrendered to officers near Eden after they abandoned a stolen car and wandered through the brush for four miles. The car they left behind, officers said, was stolen from W. Stufflebeam of Grand Prairie.
Robbery-by-firearms charges here named Joe Carson, 24; and Ollie Miner Smith, 23. Similar charges filed at San Angelo named the men and Marie Carson, 20.

Were Speedy Affairs
The Dallas robberies were speedy affairs. On Oct. 8 two men held up an ice house and escaped with $125. A few minutes later they visited a service station and took $22 cash, $30 in checks. Fifteen minutes later they held about 15 persons at bay in a drug store, fired a shot through the floor and escaped with $76.
On Oct. 22, records showed, the pair robbed a drug store of $300 and 10 minutes later took $100 from another pharmacy.
Dallas police said the pair was well known here and in West Texas and that one of the men had been seriously injured in a San Angelo fight four or five months ago.
State highway patrolmen agreed to bring them here immediately.

Turkeys Face 'Last Mile'

(By The Associated Press)

GONZALES, Nov. 2.—Thousands of sleek, fat Texas turkeys unconcernedly awaited their last mile trip to the nation's Thanksgiving chopping block. While buyers were not certain what effect if any the wage-hour law would have on the industry.

At Cuero, home of the far-famed "turkey trot" that annually sends tons of gobblers to the nation's poultry markets, processors generally believed a new mechanical quick-picking process had solved this problem. The leading plant there has a system of stripping the birds of feathers under which they are conveyed by machine through molten wax. All the picker has to do is peel the cooled wax from the birds. Pickers will receive a minimum of 25 cents per hour.

New Process Aids

Pickers at Cuero formerly received 5 cents per bird and dressed from five to seven per hour. The new process will bring an hourly wage minimum of 25 cents and a maximum depending upon the capability of the picker.

At Gonzales, G. W. McNabb, a manager of one of the leading produce houses, expressed the opinion the wage hour law would not affect the industry, adding:

We don't know yet.

"If it does, it will double the cost of picking and dressing." McNabb said not over 10 per cent of the pickers paid by the number of birds they could strip could make 25 cents per hour, but some make as high as 35 cents an hour. So many workers were available that no necessity was seen of having to pay overtime wages.

The buying season opens at Gonzales Nov. 7 and Cuero Nov. 2.

Death Of Man By Electrocution Is Declared To Be Suicide

SANTA MONICA, Calif., Nov. 2. (AP)—Police said the death by electrocution Tuesday of Joseph Brown Pike, 72, retired businessman of Palo Alto, was a suicide.

Pike was found dead in the bathroom of his apartment, a sign pinned on the door reading: "Danger—do not touch the water until the electric cord is removed from the socket."

Officers said Pike attached an ironing cord to a wall socket, removed his clothing, stepped into a tub full of water, then grasped the other end of the cord.

New Vaccine Which May Prevent Pneumonia Reported By Cox

AUSTIN, Nov. 2. (AP)—A new vaccine, reported by the U. S. Public Health service to be far more effective than the usual immunizing agent, may prevent many pneumonia deaths in Texas, Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, reported today.

He said more than 5,000 Texans die of the disease each year.

The new vaccine which the national health organization reported may give a resistance similar to natural immunity is as stable as a dry powder and can be standardized and sterilized readily, the health officer said.

Police Safety Signs In Gotham Grammatically 'Safer' Now

NEW YORK, Nov. 2. (AP)—Police safety signs will be "safer" now—thanks to the vigilance of Bronx Borough President James J. Lyons and the cooperation of Police Commissioner Lewis J. Valentine.

Lyons said police warning signs inscribed "You Only Live Once" were anything but safe from the standpoint of grammar. He suggested "You Live Only Once."

Valentine said they would be changed.

Industry And Government Unit Recommended By Trade Chief

NEW YORK, Nov. 2. (AP)—Creation by industry and government of a body similar to the World war industries board to "meet economic threats from abroad" is recommended by Eugene P. Thomas, president of the National Foreign Tarde council.

In an address before 3,000 business and financial leaders at the 25th national foreign trade convention yesterday, Thomas said:

"If we are to profit from the present handwriting on the wall, we cannot sit by impotently watching the progress of economic consolidation in Europe."

Fifty-nine per cent of Texas' residents live on farms.

MAN TO MAN . . . WITHOUT HEDGING . . . YOUR MILEAGE MERCHANT CAN STATE EXACTLY WHY YOUR CAR MUST START FAST AND SAVE OIL AFTER HE OIL-PLATES YOUR ENGINE . . .

MORE THAN AN OIL CHANGE!

YOU like a straight-shooter; listen for a moment to Your Mileage Merchant. Nothing vague about his Conoco Germ Processed oil giving your engine WINTER OIL-PLATING.

Note the plain clean-cut difference between the Germ Process and any mere refining process. Germ Processing includes refining that takes out causes of carbon, gum, sludge—and then Germ Processing alone ADDS IN the patented man-made substance that creates OIL-PLATING.

Also note the plain clean-cut difference between OIL-PLATING and any mere oil-film. OIL-PLATING is entirely additional to film. Due only to the Germ Process, OIL-PLATING fastens direct to working parts, close as any plating . . . non-detachable . . . proof against draining down after your engine stops. During a cold day at the curb—during a cold night in the garage—during a cold week or month standing still—your engine stays constantly, fully OIL-PLATED. Any time you touch the starter, there's no wait for oil from the crankcase—no grinding delay. Your OIL-PLATED engine is always ready to slide into easy action. Starter speeds. Battery rests. You drive right off under guard of OIL-PLATING. Warm-up wear is gone because OIL-PLATING is never gone. And 9 times in 10 your gauge-stick reports, "Still full of Germ Processed oil." Switch in Time!
