Spraberry Wildcat Staked in Midland

E. E. Fogelson and Edwin W. Pauley have staked location for a wildcat in an undeveloped area in Central-East Midland County. It is No. 1 Walton-Judkins and is located 680 feet from north and west lines of section 46, block 37, T-3-S, T&P survey and 22 miles southeast of Midland.

Eight Prospectors Set in C-W Reeves

Applications covering the drilling of eight wildcats in Central-West Reeves County have been filed with the Railroad Commission of Texas. Francis K. Campbell is to drill six of the prospectors about 20 miles northwest of Toyah.

They will be drilled with combination cable and rotary tools to 2,300 feet, beginning immediately.

Campbell No. 1-A Howard B. Cox is 330 feet from south and east lines of section 7, block 56, pal survey and No. 1-B Cox is 330 feet from south and west lines of north-west quarter of section 8, block 56, pal survey.

On Hickey Land

Location for No. 1-A J. M. Hickey is 330 feet from north and east lines of west half of northeast quarter of section 18, block 56, pal survey. Campbell No. 2-A Hickey is 330 feet from south and east lines of west half of northeast quarter of section 18, same block and survey.

Drillite for No. 1-B J. M. Hickey is 330 feet from north and east lines of east half of northeast quarter of section 17, block 56, pal survey.

Campbell No. 2-B J. M. Hickey is 330 feet from south and east lines of east half of northeast quarter of section 17, same block and survey.

Two More

Francis K. Campbell and J. M. Hickey are to drill the other two ventures.

Campbell & Hickey No. 1 J. M. Hickey & Sons is 330 feet from north and west lines of east half of northeast quarter of section 17, block 56, pal survey and No. 2 is 330 feet from south and east lines of east half of northwest quarter of section 17, same block and survey.

Combination cable and rotary tools will be moved in and drilling toward projected depth of 2,300 feet will begin at once.

Drillites are 20 miles northwest of Toyah.

Another Producer For Midland Field

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 C. B. Haley has been completed as the fourth flowing producer in the Parks-Pennsylvanian field of West-Central Midland County.

The new well is one location north of Magnolia No. 2 Parks, the discovery well of the field.

A 24-hour potential of 685 barrels of oil was reported. The flow was gauged through a 20/64-inch choke. Gravity of the oil is 47.7 degrees.

Gas-oil ratio on the test was 1,902-1.

Production is from perforations in casing opposite the Pennsylvanian at 10,440-90 feet. They had been washed with 2,000 gallons of acid.

Exact location of the producer is 900 feet from west and 680 feet from south lines of section 7, Matt Daugherty survey No. A-883, and 10 miles south of the City of Midland.

Total depth is 10,540 feet.

Extenders Given Tex-Harvey Pool

Joel Rosenthal No. 1-1 M. H. O'Daniel and Olsen Brothers, Inc., No. 1 Louis A. Wraga have each been completed as extenders to the Tex-Harvey field of Central-East Midland and Central-West Glasscock Counties.

No. 1-1 O'Daniel, one location north of production in the Midland side of the field, was finished for a daily flowing potential of 455.34 barrels of 38.3-gravity oil.

Pay is coming from open hole section at 7,130-7,230 feet. That section was hydraulically fractured. No water was made with the oil. Gas-oil ratio on the test was 735-1.

The 24-hour potential test was made through a one-half-inch tubing choke.

Tex-Harvey Oil Well Burns Friday

Fire Snuffed Out Shortly Before Noon

The first major oil well fire in the Tex-Harvey field blazed out of control for more than three hours Friday morning, but was snuffed out by fire fighters at 11:45 a.m. No one was injured when the well flamed up. The burning well was the Tex-Harvey Oil Company No. 4-10 Floyd Estate.

The fire started about 8:30 a.m., when Driller J. D.

40 Aboard Oil Tanker Feared Lost

NEW ORLEANS —(P)—

Two Standard Oil tankers collided in the Gulf of Mexico early Friday. Both remained afloat but one was blazing so fiercely the Coast Guard said it believed "no one aboard is alive."

The ship engulfed in fire was identified by the Coast Guard as the Esso Greensboro, a type T-2 ship which normally carries a crew of 40 men.

The other vessel, also reported afloat, was named the Esso Suez, a new super-tanker of 28,500 tons capable of carrying 9,000,000 gallons of oil.

Sea Of Flames

First reports said the first mate of the Esso Suez—a man named Brehm—was killed and several crewmen burned badly. She was said to be under way at about three knots speed.

The Esso Greensboro was sighted by a Coast Guard plane 15 miles north of the Esso Suez in a sea of flame which made it unapproachable. The Esso New York, which found the vessel five hours after the collision, radioed:

"No one believed alive on board."

A Coast Guard plane reported the Esso Suez still had its lifeboats in their davits and that crewmen could be seen on its deck.

The collision occurred about 5 a.m. some 200 miles south of Morgan City, La., a small fishing village about halfway between New Orleans and Lake Charles.

The Coast Guard said the first report came from the Esso Suez which radioed, "Struck tanker and apparently all hands were lost."

Hope Abandoned For Missing Sub's Crew

PORTSMOUTH, ENGLAND —(P)—The big armada which had searched since Tuesday for the missing British submarine Affray dwindled Friday to a patrol of 12 ships.

The Admiralty has abandoned hope of finding alive any of the crew of 75.

Saturday Last Day For Absentee Voting

Saturday will be the last day for casting absentee ballots in the $1,500,000 bond issue election April 25 in the Midland Independent School District.

County Clerk Lucille Johnson Friday said no absentee ballots had yet been recorded.

Big Street Parade Friday Is Feature Of Longhorn Opener

Play ball! Friday is the Golden Anniversary of minor league baseball and Midland will turn out to observe it.

At 4:30 p.m., a downtown parade with baseball officials and players, colorful riders and bands participating, was scheduled.

At 8 p.m. the Midland Indians will meet the Rowell Rockets in the Longhorn League opener at Indian Park.

Mayor Perry Pickett will throw the first ball, a golden horseshoe that will commemorate the occasion.

The parade was to form at Junior high school, move East on Texas Street to Lorraine, South on Lorraine to Missouri, then East on Missouri to Main and then turn North on Main to Ohio Street.

Many downtown stores are conducting the sale of opening-day souvenir tickets to the night game.

Midland Insurance Man Dies At Dallas

T. J. Powell, 31-year-old district manager in Midland for the Universal Life and Accident Insurance Company, died Thursday in Dallas of a heart ailment.

Well known in insurance circles here, Powell only last Saturday attended a meeting of the Permian Basin Life Underwriters Association and introduced the principal speaker.

Services were scheduled at 1 p.m. Friday at Brady with interment at Placid.

Associated with Universal approximately three years, he had lived in Midland for the last year. He was in Dallas on a business trip when he was stricken at his hotel.

The widow, two daughters and a son survive.

WASHINGTON —(P)— President Truman Friday chose Oren E. Long, secretary to the territory since 1946, as the new governor of Hawaii, to succeed Gov. Ingram Stainback.

DAMASCUS, SYRIA —(P)— A Syrian Army spokesman said Israeli troops, supported by two steamboats on Lake Tiberias (Sea of Galilee) opened fire Friday on the Arab village of Nugeib, but were driven off.

NEW YORK —(P)— Admiral William F. Hall, Jr., stricken with pneumonia during the arrival of Gen. Douglas MacArthur Thursday night —was reported in good condition Friday.

JOINVILLE, ILE D'YEU, FRANCE —(P)— A medical bulletin Friday said the condition of ex-Marshal Henri Philippe Petain, imprisoned former chief of the French State, remains critical. He will be 95 years old next Tuesday.

THE GENERAL IS SWAMPED—As General MacArthur, center, arrow, passed from his plane to his waiting car after arrival in Washington some of the 12,000 people on hand to greet him broke through military police lines and crowded so much that even the honor guard with fixed bayonets could not keep a path clear. The general plowed through on his own.

Fight To Finish On Far Eastern Policy Now Seems Certain

WASHINGTON —(P)—It looks like a fight to the finish between Gen. Douglas MacArthur and the Truman Administration over the best strategy for victory in the Far East.

A surprise Defense Department statement Thursday night putting President Truman's civilian and military advisers squarely behind his dismissal of the general was taken widely here Friday as a display of Administration solidarity in preparation for a showdown policy struggle.

On the other side of the argument, persons in position to know MacArthur's personal feelings described him as deeply convinced of the rightness of the ideas he expressed in his address to Congress Thursday and determined to see them through in the belief that majority opinion in Congress and throughout the country would support him.

Moreover, his attack in a talk to the Daughters of the American Revolution on "regimentation" in the United States indicated a willingness on his part to broaden the field of conflict to domestic as well as foreign policy issues.

Administration strategy in meeting MacArthur's head-on challenge—as it is now being developed under White House leadership—is under-

Truman Starts Job Of Rebuilding WSB

WASHINGTON —(P)— President Truman has begun the task of rebuilding a wage stabilization board to help check inflation and iron out defense disputes.

The White House announced Thursday Truman had named Dr. George W. Taylor of the University of Pennsylvania as chairman of a proposed 18-man board to supplant the one made inoperative when labor members walked out February 16.

Taylor, credited with being the author of the "Little Steel Formula" of World War II, agreed to head the new board for the period of organization only, the White House said.

U. S. Lifts Ban On Aluminum For Civilian Products

WASHINGTON —(P)— The government Friday lifted its May 1 ban on using aluminum in making more than 200 civilian products. It ordered instead a 50 per cent cut in use of the metal during May and June.

In another order, the National Production (NPA) put plastic type nylon under allocation, beginning June 1.

This does not apply to textile nylon from which nylon hose and other wearing apparel are manufactured, but does apply to the nylon used in making paint brushes, lenses and various industrial parts.

Rising Crude Flow Brightens Texas' Financial Outlook

AUSTIN —(P)—State Comptroller R. S. Calvert Friday cut his estimate of the state's new money needs from $110,000,000 to $65,000,000 for the next two years, based on current spending levels.

Booming oil production was the major factor contributing to the comptroller's revised calculation. On the basis of a record flow of crude, which yields the bulk of the state's revenue, Calvert boosted the probable income from this one source $22,000,000. That is for the remainder of the fiscal year and the next two years.

The new estimate brightens the state's financial picture by $45,000,000, compared with figures submitted to the governor and the 62nd Legislature on January 1.

Seminole Listens While Store Burns

SEMINOLE —(P)— While store employees and customers gathered in front of Kettner's Furniture Store here Thursday to listen to MacArthur's speech, the back of the store caught fire.

The entire rear of the store and $15,000 worth of furniture was destroyed before the fire was discovered.

Gotham Gives Wild Welcome To MacArthur

NEW YORK —(P)—An estimated 7,500,000 persons turned out in New York Friday to give Gen. Douglas MacArthur the nation's greatest welcome to a returning hero. The estimate of the astonishing and almost unbelievable size of the cheering, flag-waving throngs that lined the 15-mile route of his 50-car motorcade came from Police Commissioner Thomas F. Murphy.

From building to curbs, the sidewalks of New York were packed with a dense mass of hoarsely shouting humanity. Office building windows were jammed.

The crowd was one-half again as large as the mammoth throngs which turned out to greet Charles A. Lindbergh in 1927 after he made his non-stop flight to Paris.

And it topped by the same degree the crowd that cheered Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower when he came home in 1945 after the conquest of Europe.

An estimated 1,500,000 swarmed out Thursday night to give MacArthur an unofficial but tumultuous welcome. Crowd-wise New York police kept them in hand and there were no near-mob scenes like the riotous welcome in Honolulu and San Francisco.

Sentimental Journey

It was a sentimental journey for the general—his return to New York. It was 14 years ago MacArthur married pretty, dark-haired Jean Faircloth of Murfreesboro, Tenn., at the Municipal Building.

MacArthur told a greeting party: "When we reached the City of New York, we knew we had come home."

Excitement mounted steadily Friday until the start of a big three-hour parade (10 a.m., CST). It was the same strange excitement that seems to surround MacArthur wherever he goes—the same deep emotion that drew ovations from hundreds of thousands in Hawaii, San Francisco and Washington.

The climax came when the general—now the center of a raging political controversy over American policy in Asia—left the Waldorf-Astoria hotel to receive the city's homage.

The parade wound through Central Park downtown into the caverns of Lower Manhattan.

Then the motorcade swung back onto Broadway in a shower of confetti and ticker-tape to move up the famed street where other heroes have received their acclaim throughout the years.

MacArthur's Claim Of Pentagon Backing Calls For Showdown

WASHINGTON —(P)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur's claim that the joint chiefs of staff once shared his views on Korean war strategy fired demands in Congress Friday for a policy showdown with the military high command.

The 71-year-old general of the Army had gone on to New York, there to receive the nation's biggest welcome home, but he left behind him a capital town with the bitterest controversy of a decade.

From Democrat as well as Republican lawmakers came demands that the joint chiefs of staff answer quickly whether they agree—from a military standpoint—with a four-point, win-the-war program the deceased Pacific commander laid before a cheering Congress Thursday.

The Truman Administration replied immediately to MacArthur's statement that he believed his strategy views had been shared in the past by most military men, "including our own joint chiefs of staff."

The reply did not directly refute that declaration. Clayton Fritchey, chief public relations man of the Defense Department, said he had been authorized by the White House to say President Truman's action in firing MacArthur "was based upon the unanimous recommendations of the President's principal civilian and military advisers, including the joint chiefs of staff."

The statement also referred to the reasons for MacArthur's ouster—Truman's expressed belief that the five-star general was unable to give his "whole-hearted support" to Administration Far Eastern policy.

Reds Slow Allied Drive North Of 38

TOKYO —(P)—Stubborn rearguard Communists Friday hurled two counter-attacks against Allied units closing on Chonwon, presumed Red base.

An unestimated number of Reds attacked American troops eight miles southeast of Chonwon. The fight raged into late afternoon.

About 200 Reds hit Allied lines in the same area Friday morning but were dispersed by artillery within 15 minutes.

Allied patrols were reported fighting strong Red units Friday night at several other points north of the front.

Tanks Move Up

Doughboys wielding flamethrowers against Red outposts moved a path for tanks, which moved up within gun range of Chonwon.

A United Nations tank-infantry column captured a hill one mile north of Hwasong Reservoir's east tip after a four-hour fire fight with 300 Reds.

Midland Gets Needed Moisture, Prospects Are Good For More

Midland got its whistle wet Friday morning and was tooting away for more moisture. Large raindrops pelted down during the morning and there was a promise of more to come from overcast skies.

Citizens joked about the rain. "It has been so long," one said. There were smiles as the rain wet pavings and began to splash. The dry soil really soaked it up.

Officials of the Midland Indians baseball club cocked a wary eye at the skies and said Friday night's opener still was on provided there wasn't a great deal more rain.

Midland had some "Ripley" weather Thursday night—the "Believe It or Not" kind.

What appeared to be an April shower approaching from the west, blew in at 7:06 p.m. as a first-class sandstorm.

And yet, AAR instruments registered a trace of rain.

Also, it was warm as could be but "cold front" blew over—that's what the experts say.

The sandstorm blew 30 miles an hour and was stronger in gusts. "Aw, it was just a West Texas rain (plenty of sand)," commented a disappointed Midlander.

MacArthur's Retirement Recalls Remark Of 1946 About 'Old Men Who Won't Step Down'

By OLIN CLEMENTS

TOKYO —(P)— It was almost seven years ago, New York's Gov. Thomas E. Dewey had just won the Republican nomination for president.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur sat in his headquarters at Brisbane, Australia, mulling over the portents of the American political campaign.

Once he had hoped for the nomination Dewey got that day.

MacArthur was in a thinking-aloud mood with an audience of one person: this correspondent.

What MacArthur said would have to be off the record, and it has been kept so.

But as dramatically as he spoke in Congress Thursday, he delivered to me a speech he said he would give if he were in President Roosevelt's place.

The sense of it was that President Roosevelt would step down in favor of a younger man and wear the toga of senior United States political sashem the rest of his life.

MacArthur ended on a personal note: "You may think this is strange coming from me, an old man of 64. But if you will look back through history you will find much of the trouble of the world may be laid to old men who won't step down."

At 71, he stepped down Thursday, saying:

"Old soldiers never die; they just fade away. x x x"

Abbott And Costello Champ At Contract Bit-No TV Shows

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — Exclusive-ly Yours: Bud Abbott and Lou Costello, all set for another big NBC-TV show, were flagged down by TV and ordered to stay off video until September, when their contract officially says they can go on television. The red light cost them a $20,000 salary.

Bob Hope and Bing Crosby will make a gag appearance as a couple of popcorn eating circus fans watching the wire walker, in C. B. DeMille's "The Greatest Show on Earth."

Now it can be told: Donald O'Connor obtained his release from a UI contract only after agreeing to do one "Francis" picture a year.

There were two ironic twists to the Oscar results, and one was Katharine Hepburn gnashing her teeth.

Katie arranged for Judy to land a supporting role with her in "Adam's Rib." Now theater mar-quees are eliminating Katie's name and billing it as "Judy Holliday in 'Adam's Rib'."

Josephine Hull picked up her Oscar for "Harvey," then went to work the next day with a skunk in "Fine Day." The skunk's name is Oscar.

No Go, Ivy

MGM nixed Irving Berlin's offer to star Ann Miller in his stage musical, "There's No Business Like Show Business."

Preview reaction to Elizabeth Scott in Technicolor in "Quintrell's Raiders" has the studio reading another big color epic for her.

One final pow-wow is slated between the Jeff Chanderlers and their legal-eagles to try for a reconciliation. They were together at the Academy Awards.

Gorgeous Dorothy Dandridge and Phil Moore are no longer denying marriage plans.

Margaret Truman has nixed all Hollywood press interviews until after her radio performance with Jimmy Stewart in "Jackpot."

There's talk that she'll be talking about a film appearance soon.

If Fred Astaire can dance on ceilings, by heck, Esther Williams can swim around chandeliers and in and out of dresser drawers. For a dream sequence in "Texas Carnival" Esther will swim around Howard Keel's bedroom while he snoozes.

Tony Curtis is hopping with excitement over UI's plans to premiere "The Prince Who Was a Thief" in the Bronx, where Tony first saw the light of day. He told me:

"It ought to be sensational if the kids I grew up with just won't throw things at the screen."

K. T. Stevens' medics now agree that her recent surgery — very serious — will insure the stork delivery date. She's up and about with hubby Hugh Marlowe after weathering the crisis.

Typographical chuckle: Title of Rod Cameron's "The Hornet" appeared in a movie trade paper as "The Seat Hornet."

There's an RKO contract looming for Barbara Lawrence, with talk that she'll be built into a blonde Faith Domergue.

Doesn't Follow

A radio gabber who's on a soap-box about the "normal" lives of Hollywood stars should be blushing. After a big interview with Ronald Reagan on the subject, his first "news" item was about a Hollywood personality with a broken leg wrapped in a gold-cloth-covered, jewel-studded cast.

Margaret Whiting will sing with the St. Louis and Dallas light opera this summer. She's also headed for a big TV series in the Fall.

There's a story behind UI's decision to change the title of the Claudette Colbert starrer, "Bonaventure" to "Thunder On The Hill." The latter once was the label on the story of Libby Holman that Joan Fontaine planned to produce.

But the screenplay about the singer's marriage to a tobacco heir was scrapped to avoid lawsuits.

"My Girl Godfrey" is in the film production hopper. Remember "My Man Godfrey," the Carole Lombard-Bill Powell co-starrer?

Milton Hill says he asked a fellow he met at a party what he did for a living. The chap replied, "I manipulate strings on TV." "Do you hold up Cyndie Lauper or Howdy Doody?" asked Hill.

"Neither of them," was the answer, "I hold up Frank Sinatra."

Three Airmen Die In Lubbock Crashes

LUBBOCK.—(P)—Second Lt. James R. Bowers fell to his death near here Thursday as he tried to bail out of a crippled training plane.

Air Force rescue units found Bowers, a student pilot at Vance Air Force Base, Enid, Okla., near his crashed plane, about 20 miles north of here. His partially opened chute was still strapped to him. He died while being taken to a hospital in Plainview.

It was the second fatal air accident Thursday near Lubbock.

Bowers, a 1950 graduate of the U. S. Naval Academy, was transferred to the Air Force, was on a training flight from Enid to Reese Air Force Base here. Shortly after the two planes took off for the return trip, Bowers reported engine trouble. He was instructed to climb to 5,000 feet and bail out.

Reese officials said Bowers apparently jumped from about 300 feet altitude. His plane was headed back toward Lubbock.

Earlier Thursday First Lt. Donald O. Conklin of Lubbock and First Lt. Louis C. Gelbrich of Burns, Ore., died when their training plane crashed about 18 miles northwest of here. A farmer said he saw the plane crash after going into a spin at about 1,000 to 1,500 feet.

Texans In Capitol Praise MacArthur's Speech To Congress

WASHINGTON.—(P)—The majority of Texas senators and representatives had nothing but kind words for General MacArthur's speech Thursday to Congress.

Several suggested Congress would do well to consider the hero-general's advice in acting on Asiatic policy matters.

"A superb address," commented Senator Lyndon Johnson. He said all the MacArthur proposals were certain to get full congressional consideration.

"It was a comprehensive speech and quite interesting," said Senator Tom Connally. "It touched on a great many aspects of the Pacific situation."

One Texas congressman, Rep. George Mahon of Colorado City, disagreed with the general on one point.

"If the general said what I understood him to say, that the joint chiefs of staff agree with him, he is in error," said Mahon, chairman of a House Appropriations subcommittee for the armed forces. "They have repeatedly said before my committee that they do not agree that we should bomb Manchurian air bases and support Chiang Kai-Shek in an invasion of China."

District WMU Meets In Pecos Church

PECOS — The First Baptist Church of Pecos was host recently to District 7 of the Women's Missionary Union when it met for conferences on mission leadership training.

Highlighting the meeting was the address by Mrs. C. D. Creaman of Donelson, Tenn., Southern Union stewardship director. She spoke on "Glory."

"We must have a feeling of glory in all that we do," Mrs. Creaman said. "There is a sense of glory in many things: in the glowing moon, the splendor of a sunset, in fame such as Eisenhower's, in a mother's smile or her pride in a baby's new tooth."

"The King of Glory," she continued, "sent His Son to be crucified and Christ in us is our hope of attaining glory." She said there are two ways for people to get glory as they go through life: one, in proxy, through their gifts, and two, in person by causing another to be a Christian.

Mrs. Barney Hubbs, Pecos District WMU president, introduced the following conference leaders: Eula Mae Henderson, Dallas, executive secretary-treasurer of Texas WMU; Mrs. Lee Stephens, Corpus Christi, Stewardship chairman of Texas WMU, and Mrs. R. L. Brown, College Station, WMU approved worker.

Dr. John Dodge of Hot Springs, Ark., gave the opening speech on "Go Ye Therefore." A song and praise service was led by D. C. Payne.

School District Expansion Planned

McCAMEY — Expansion of the McCamey Independent School District by consolidation with the Girvin-Bakersfield district will probably be decided in the near future.

Officials said the project hinges on Crockett County granting a strip of land that separates the two districts. The Girvin-Bakersfield district now is dormant and unless it becomes active by September it will be required to be consolidated.

Trustees of both districts and Crockett County plan to meet soon to discuss acquisition of the strip of land.

Older People Must Seek New Friends, Or Lose All

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

"What do older people care about making new friends?" asks a woman who disagrees with a column advising a mother to let a married daughter live her own life and to fill her own with new interests and new friends.

They should care a great deal. For the person who doesn't continue to make new friends through the years is likely to end up with very few.

Things often happen to the friends we make when we are young. They move away from us, or we from them. Their interests change or ours do. They get too busy for us, or they drift away gradually.

A middle-aged man once told me that as he watched older men lose their friends one by one through death he made up his mind that it was important to keep "replacing" friends all through life. He has done that and though he has outlived many of the friends of his younger days, his life is still enriched by many friendships.

The middle-aged or older person who says, "What do older people care about making new friends?" and settles back to let his grown children become the only really important thing in life is making a grave mistake.

Children can't take the place of friends. It is wrong to try to make them do so. For it is limiting to the parent, and a burden to the son or daughter.

At every age people need friends. And the only way to be sure of having friends at every age is to keep old friendships alive and to keep on making new ones.

Any grown son or daughter whose parents have many good friends could tell this woman how important friendships are to the older person.

For it is the lonely older person who is a burden to his children—not the one whose life is filled with new interests and good friends. (All right reserved, NEA Service Inc.)

Lack Of True Leadership

Americans these days live on a diet of scandal and investigation, war scares, spy disclosures, warnings of ruinous inflation, and what not. In between these chewy morsels they are fed much blander stuff: business was never better, there won't be a war this year, Communists are under control, the nation's morals are no worse than in any other postwar era.

In a nation where free speech is the rule, conflicting and contradictory statements are to be expected—in high places and low. Men gauge events differently. They interpret facts differently. Some ignore facts, some reason from partial information, others insist on all the facts. The result is a hurly-burly of opinion.

The consequent confusion is magnified greatly in a complex age such as ours today, when events are popping all over the place.

Yet out of this confusion the nation's leaders—in business and government and other pursuits—must create some kind of order and establish some thread of continuity. They must lay down policies and programs which give direction to our national effort. Those policies must be rooted in public opinion, but the men who devise them must not fear to lead and guide as well as follow.

Many times in our history we have had that kind of leadership, and the nation has marched forward boldly or come through serious crises as a result.

Today we probably are in the gravest crisis of our whole national life. Yet it has to be faced that we do not have the sort of strong leadership we need to carry us through. And that goes far to explain why we almost are submerged in chaos.

We have a set of policies, to be sure. Some of them are clear and understandable to all. For example, we as a nation are thoroughly committed to resist communism as a threat to our freedom; there is no dissent from that among men who cherish America as the seat of liberty. But too many of our national policies are vague and indistinct, shifting with the tide of events, smacking of hasty improvisation.

The people can see no clear line in the battle against inflation. They don't know specifically what we hope to do in Korea. They don't know what to believe about the morals of their government as a whole. They are unsure on many counts.

As we can see, many factors account for this confusion. But a failure of leadership certainly is a prime element. It is a sad, tragic fact, but it can't be blinked: we don't have enough men in this country who can make sound policy and we don't have enough who can convey the meaning of policy to the people forcefully, effectively, and courageously.

The American people do not hold their freedom lightly. They have risen to every challenge that ever has confronted them. They will do so in this crisis. But they must have leaders with the talent to devise clear policy and the ability to put that policy across to them.

Lacking that kind of leadership, Americans hardly can be expected to sustain the long, grueling task that is ahead of them if they are to develop the strength to stand off the menace of Russian communism. This is a time for men of leadership caliber to come forward, to make themselves heard, to give our life the direction and drive it needs.

Unkindest Cut

A House Appropriations subcommittee has voted to slash away 90 per cent of the $97,500,000 sought by the Administration for the Voice of America. To enforce this cut would be to cripple the Voice almost hopelessly.

The group said it took the action because it did not like the way the Voice program had been run. Its decision amounts to saying that therefore there shall be no program left to run.

All our experts are agreed that if anything we need a vastly expanded and improved foreign propaganda program. How it should be set up and operated is properly the function of Congress to decide. But it can do this without first creating a vacuum. To reduce the Voice to a mere whisper, even temporarily, would be a grave mistake.

The Sixty-Four Dollar Question

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

(Copyright, 1961, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
Drew Pearson says: GOP strategists won't "sponsor" MacArthur; Republicans disapprove of Cain war resolution; Norfolk Shore Patrol kick and beat servicemen.

WASHINGTON — At an explosive Republican senatorial strategy meeting this week, the big GOP guns warned against tying the Republican Party too closely to MacArthur's fate.

One of those who led the warning was Senator Taft, whose friends have been worried that MacArthur might crowd him as the GOP presidential candidate in 1952.

"We don't know what MacArthur is going to say when he gets here," Taft told the strategy meeting. "As a political party we should keep out of this."

Senator Millikin of Colorado chimed in that occasionally past "conquering heroes" had come home and put their foot in their mouths. He recalled that Admiral Dewey, the conqueror of Manila, got a hero's reception and was presented with a free house, then transferred the house to his wife. Millikin also cited Charles Lindbergh, who came home to a hero's welcome and later made some remarks that offended religious groups.

However, the sharpest Republican fire was concentrated on Senator Cain of Washington for putting the Republican Party on the spot with his resolution declaring war on China. His colleagues agreed it was politically ill-advised, and ripped into him unmercifully.

Senator Wherry of Nebraska, who has been Secretary of State Acheson's bitter foe, actually snorted: "As far as the Cain resolution is concerned, I am on Acheson's side."

Senator Young of North Dakota warned that declaring war on China would do "more damage than anything that has happened to the Republican Party in five years."

Senator Aiken of Vermont pointed out a "slight technical" obstacle. He brought out that "we can't declare war against a government that we have refused to recognize."

However, Cain tried to defend his position by arguing that his real purpose was to "pin this war on Truman as Truman's war."

He pointed out that the President in his April 11 speech mentioned war 21 times. However, Cain's colleagues failed to follow his reasoning.

In the end, Cain insisted he had promised to introduce the resolution and intended to go through with it. However, he agreed to make a statement that his only purpose was to focus attention on the China issue, since Truman already had gotten the country into war.

The most explosive outburst of the closed-door meeting came from Indiana's wild Senator Jenner. He was spurred out of his seat by a remark from Senator Taft that "no responsible Republican senator would advocate impeachment."

To this Jenner shouted angrily: "I may not be part of the responsible Republican leadership, but I have my own opinion."

He demanded immediate impeachment of President Truman and used considerable profanity in demanding it.

Senator Ecton of Montana tried to soothe Jenner by explaining that it was up to the House to bring impeachment proceedings, and the Senate was supposed to act as a jury. Ecton cautioned that it would be improper for a senator who was supposed to sit on the jury to express advance opinions about impeachment.

In response to a suggestion that the Republicans appoint a welcoming committee, Millikin declared, "MacArthur must be left in the hands of the public. It shouldn't look like the Republicans are sponsoring him."

Q—Does the bobolink change its color in winter?

A—The bobolink known in the United States for its yellow, black and white feathers, has brown and buff feathers when it migrates to Southern Brazil in winter.

Q—What factors are considered in fixing the value of an old coin?

A—The two factors that govern its value are condition and scarcity. The more worn a coin is the less value it will have to a collector. Only coins that are scarce command worthwhile premiums, although some others may be worth a few cents over face. Even in extremely rare coins they are worth premiums if so worn that the lettering or figures cannot be read clearly.

Q—Who was the oldest heavyweight champion ever to win the title?

A—Bob Fitzsimmons holds the record. He was 35 when he won the crown by beating 31-year-old Jim Corbett.

Q—Where did the first railroad in the world go from and to?

A—The first public railroad in the world which began service in 1825 ran from Stockton to Darlington in Durham County, England.

Mild Cool Front Chases Heat Wave

By The Associated Press

A mild cool front brought temperatures down to near normal levels Thursday following Summer-like readings in both North and South Texas Wednesday.

The mercury soared up to 97 degrees at Del Rio on the Mexican border. And hundreds of miles to the north—at both Wichita Falls and Fort Worth—a high of 94 degrees was recorded.

Temperatures were chilly in the Panhandle early Thursday as the front moved in—dropping down to 37 degrees at Dalhart before dawn. The highest overnight reading was 69 at Brownsville.

At mid-morning, the cool front was nearing Waco and San Angelo, extending back northward into New Mexico.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

When Sam Fry, Jr., and Peter Leventritt won the Eastern States pair championship recently they showed that teaching orthodox bidding methods at the Card School hadn't made them forget how to hornswoggle their opponents with a change of pace.

Sam held the North cards of the hand shown today, and decided to make a psychic bid of one no-trump. Pete's response of two clubs was the Stayman Convention, asking the opening bidder to show a biddable major if he had one.

"Is that Stayman?" asked West. "Yep," said Pete. "Normal no-trumps?" continued West. "Uh-huh," nodded Pete.

Meanwhile, Fry tried not to break out in a cold sweat. Leventritt had no way of knowing that the opening bid was a psychic, so his answers to West's questions were perfectly unsuspecting and honest.

Eventually West passed, and Fry passed with a dead pan. East now realized that there was a strong smell of herring in the air, but he couldn't think of any safe action to take. So he passed also, and Leventritt found himself playing the hand with two little trumps in his own hand and seven solid trumps in the dummy.

The defender could have taken four tricks in the red suits if they had been quick about it, but they got off to a poor start with a trump lead. This gave Leventritt a chance to draw two rounds of trumps and take the spade finesse. When this finesse held, Leventritt won 10 tricks, for a top score.

I sometimes wonder whether the boys teach all these fancy tricks to their pupils.

Any congressman will hesitate to go against the religious leaders of his district. There seems to be the crux of the matter. If the church people are against a candidate, he'll have a hard time getting reelected.

The House has met this opposition with a variety of subterfuges. It is proposed to change the name. Instead of UMT—Universal Military Training—it would be called NSTC—National Security Training Corps. That is intended to take some of the curse off of the idea by getting the word "military" out of it.

Then the House Armed Services Committee attempted a colossal job of passing the buck. Instead of putting NSTC into effect itself, it abdicated its power and surrendered its much-vaunted constitutional law-making duties to a National Security Training Commission. It would consist of five members—three civilians, one retired regular and the other a member of the armed forces reserves. No active regulars could be named.

This commission would be given six months or more to draw up a set

Q—With both sides vulnerable your partner deals and bids one no-trump. The next player doubles. You hold: Spades J-3, Hearts 9-7-5, Diamonds A-Q-J-9-6-4-2, Club 8. What do you do?

A—Redouble. If your partner stays in no-trump, your diamonds should guarantee the contract. If opponents run to spades or clubs you will probably have to go on in no-trump (or possibly diamonds).

TODAY'S QUESTION

With both sides vulnerable your partner deals and bids one no-trump. The next player doubles. You hold: Spades J-3, Hearts 9-7-5, Diamonds 9-7-6-4-3-2, Clubs 8-2. What do you do?

KILLER'S PACE

BY JULIUS LONG

COPYRIGHT 1961 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: In order to save New Blauvelt from the electric chair, Star Williams, her lawyer and my (Jim Marshall's) boss, did some sleight of hand. He was exonerated. But we must prove he is innocent or he is dead. Investigations have taken me to the La Jolla club and I'm talking to Louise, girl friend of Al Nannabarro, who runs the place.

XIX
LOUISE's smile went well with her duffy brown hair and it wasn't spoiled by a ton of theatrical make-up. But it did hide fear. I guessed her age about 22. She finished her drink and climbed down from her stool.

"Please excuse me. I have to get ready for the show now." She vanished beyond the drapes concealing Nannabarro's office door. About a quarter till 11 the other girls left the bar and went to their dressing room. It was only five till 11 when Louise emerged from Nannabarro's office and crossed to the same door. She didn't look so good. She looked as if she might have been crying.

Then Madam Sonya Sarreta entered herself and left Sonya alone. At 11 sharp the show started. Larry Stone moved to a ring-side table and, as a master of ceremonies began a routine of corny jokes, I crossed over and sat down at the table with Stone.

He glared a split-second; then he put on a patronizing grin. "Hello, hello, Marshall. I didn't know the place was this crowded."

"It isn't," I wanted a ring-side view of the feature attraction, Madam Sarreta. She's quite a lady magician to get you to a dump like this."

Stone glared again but turned his attention to the floor show as the lovely ladies of the line appeared. The girl Louise was indeed lovely, and I envied Nannabarro in spite of myself.

The dance routine was followed by a skating act, then by a char-

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Widely-Supported UMT Stymied By Church Groups

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Trying to put a finger on House of Representatives opposition to Universal Military Training legislation is extremely difficult. Even the congressmen who are opposed to a peacetime UMT aren't very lucid, beyond saying that they "don't like it."

Practically every public opinion poll shows a majority of those questioned in favor of UMT. Most newspapers support it. American Legion, which operates one of the most potent lobbies in Washington is for UMT. So are other veterans' organizations. Department of Defense wants it. And the Senate has passed by an overwhelming majority its bill which would put UMT into effect.

Members of the lower house, however, are holding back. And since representatives are supposed to have their ears much closer to the ground than the senators, there must be some basis for sentiment from back home to support this opposition. Still, many congressmen queried on the point admit that their mail is divided about equally, for and against UMT.

Supporters of UMT who have been following its progress in Congress say that you have to dig deep to find the reasons for opposition. They say it is a religious issue. Center of organized opposition to UMT is in the church groups.

Rep. Dewey Short, Missouri Republican, pointed this out in House debate by quoting a letter from the Rev. Harry Emerson Fosdick of New York, in opposition to UMT.

Religious Opposition
Rep. Adam Powell, New York Democrat and formerly minister in the Abyssinian Baptist Church, backed him by declaring "every single religious leader in the nation, Catholic and Protestant, is on record . . . against UMT."

Then he cited the organizations that had testified against UMT: The Roman Catholic Council of Bishops, the Methodist Church, the Presbyterian Church, American Baptist Convention, National Conference of Methodist Youth, Church of the Brethren, Southern Baptist Church, Society of Friends (Quakers), Disciples of Christ, United Lutheran Church, Evangelical and Reformed Church—"right on down the line. They are all against UMT."

Any congressman will hesitate to go against the religious leaders of his district. There seems to be the crux of the matter. If the church people are against a candidate, he'll have a hard time getting reelected.

The House has met this opposition with a variety of subterfuges. It is proposed to change the name. Instead of UMT—Universal Military Training—it would be called NSTC—National Security Training Corps. That is intended to take some of the curse off of the idea by getting the word "military" out of it.

Then the House Armed Services Committee attempted a colossal job of passing the buck. Instead of putting NSTC into effect itself, it abdicated its power and surrendered its much-vaunted constitutional law-making duties to a National Security Training Commission. It would consist of five members—three civilians, one retired regular and the other a member of the armed forces reserves. No active regulars could be named.

This commission would be given six months or more to draw up a set of laws and regulations on how NSTC should be run.

All this ground has been covered before. In 1947 a nine-man commission under Dr. Earl T. Compton reported that unless the U. S. adopted universal military service it faced "extermination" within seven years. The Army in an experimental camp at Fort Knox, Ky., worked out all the details of how it should be run. The U. S. Senate as mentioned, already has drawn up and passed a bill which would put it into effect. All this experience was brushed aside.

Instead, the House substitute for this legislation would provide that its new NSTC Commission would do the job all over again and report back to the House Armed Services Committee. This committee would then have 45 days in which to consider it, amend it further, and finally report it to the House for approval within another 15 days. It could be disapproved and killed. Whatever happened, Congress could duck responsibility and blame the commission.

While all this is going on, much valuable time is being lost. Defense Secretary Marshall's comment largely has been ignored. It's going to take two years to put any UMT plan into effect, he says. You can't have nothing one day and a full-grown UMT the next. The system will have to be built up gradually. It will have to be phased into the draft. It will have to be started now to be operative by 1953. There's no time to lose.

So They Say

Democracy is a system of government in which must-perish if the people cannot rise politically above the "gimmie" stages of childhood. —John H. Crider, editor-in-chief, Boston Herald.

It is bad enough for us to have corruption in our midst, but worse if it is to be condoned and accepted as inevitable. —Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.).

To a very large degree our future freedom, our future strength, and the future peace of the world depends upon business statesmanship in America. —Harold Stassen, president U. of Pennsylvania.

To achieve the greatest results for all of us, we need the pioneering spirit of youth and the experience of age. —Brig. Gen. David Sarnoff, chairman of board, RCA.

Perhaps the most dangerous man of this age is the self-assured intellectual, absent-mindedly lost in his small research world, who never comes to realize his larger duties of teaching in the great domain of the humanities and human rights. —Maj. Frederick G. Hochwalt of National Catholic Education Association.

loaded with real live ammunition and passed it back to round-haircut.

He carried the revolver triumphantly back to Sonya, who apparently without a second's hesitation lifted it and started shooting.

Everybody started diving under tables. Everybody except Stone and me. I gathered that Stone had either heard about the act or Sonya had wised him up so that he wouldn't behave like the other customers. I think it was her fifth shot that she fired pointblank at me.

I may be forgiven for being just a little jumpy. I had had people shooting guns at me, it seemed, all day. Even when I knew it was a gag with blanks. I wanted no part of it. Though I didn't dive under the table when I saw the muzzle aimed at a spot between my eyes. I did duck and duck fast and low.

"THAT'S all that saved me. It wasn't a wad. I knew, that zipped over my head. It was the real thing. When I heard that I went clear down on the floor. Not until Sonya had fired her final shot did I come up again.

Stone was laughing fit to kill. "It's only a trick, you dope! Do you think she'd use real bullets?" I turned slowly and looked behind me, hoping nobody else had caught the slug intended for me. The next row of tables was elevated on a terrace; the tables were staggered, and apparently the slug had gone between the two tables behind me and buried itself in the terrace beyond. Nobody appeared to have been hit. I turned back in time to see Sonya retiring with a terrific roar of applause.

She was carefully avoiding my eyes, and she should have, for she had expected them to be glassy by now. She had hardly expected me to duck. She had counted on my behaving like a normal human being who wants to show everybody that he is in on a gag. By rights I should have sat rigidly in my chair and taken that slug between the eyes. It was Sonya's hard luck that I had a bad case of jitter from being dry-gulched twice in one day.

Brass Assigned To Menial Chores Of Enlisted Personnel

ALBANY, GA. —(P)—Officers regardless of rank were put to work cleaning up the grounds at the Turner Air Force Base here.

An order issued Sunday gave the brass the job assigned traditionally to enlisted men—picking up cigarette butts, scraps of paper and other debris and trimming the grass.

Amused enlisted men mixed amusement with amusement when they saw officers at the menial chore.

Col. Eugene H. Snively, base commander, was reported off the base and unavailable for comment, but it was learned that officers had been lax in carrying out previous orders to have the base policed.

Several officers seen policing the base wore combat medals for service in the last war.

Said one officer: "It was the most insulting experience I have ever had in the service."

The base's public information officer, Capt. Bud Adams, said he didn't want to talk about the affair until he had conferred with Colonel Snively.

Detachment Of 46 British Boy Soldiers Goes 'Over The Hill'

LONDON. —(P)—Forty-six British boy soldiers on an unscheduled "march" were hunted by military police in London Friday.

Their commanding officer said the whole detachment had gone "over the hill."

The boys, ranging in age from 14 to 17, are stationed at Aldershot as members of a special teen-age company of sons of career soldiers. When they reach 18, they are taken into the Regular Army.

The 46 boys disappeared from camp Thursday night. There were no orders sending them anywhere and the only thing their commanding officer could recall was that the boys had complained they were getting too few passes to London.

Military police said the boys were last seen marching off in full khaki uniform and carrying haversacks as if they were on an official trip.

The afternoon lecture was to be on horticulture and judging horticulture specimens.

The Thursday afternoon lecture, given by Dorothy Biddle of New York, attracted 120 women from Midland, McCamey, Stanton, Odessa, Snyder and Kermit. A smaller number was expected for the Friday lectures. Fifty-nine registered for the full course.

Thursday morning Miss Biddle lectured on "Principles of Flower Arranging." The afternoon session was given to judging arrangements and illustrations.

Miss Biddle is the author of several books. Her latest, "Flower Arrangements For Everyone," and "Table Setting For Everyone" are available at the Midland County Library.

Mrs. E. W. Cowden was general chairman of the school. Examinations for judging certificates were to be given Friday and on Saturday morning.

GI's At Warfront Back Up MacArthur

U. S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, KOREA. —(P)—A sampling of soldier sentiment in Korea tended to side with General MacArthur Friday.

Most of the soldiers commented "I think he was right" after they heard by Armed Forces Radio their former commander's defense before Congress of the views for which he was deposed as United Nations commander.

"He spoke the truth. I think he was right," said Sgt. Sam Hanson, Dubuque, Iowa. "Any good soldier doing a good job at all would have felt the same way. Less politics and more business is what we need."

Cpl. James Devin of San Francisco did not agree with all of MacArthur's address but he said: "I liked him for sticking to what he thought was right. I agree with him about not handing Formosa over to the Communists. I don't know about the rest."

"He told them what he thought, and I think he was right," commented Sgt. W. T. Burnett, Weimar, Texas. "I got a kick out of him standing up there and talking straight to Congress and the President."

Sgt. Jack B. Moore, Hot Sulphur Springs, Colo., said: "I don't know the big picture. There may be more back of it than I know, but MacArthur was doing a good job. So far as I know, I agree with what he said."

The county attorney and sheriff have been advised by the state official that none was listed in the county by the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

Parents Lose Try To Regain Custody Of Cheryl Lynn

CHICAGO. —(P)—The parents of Cheryl Lynn Labrenz, nine-day-old girl who is suffering an RH blood condition, lost an attempt Thursday to regain her custody.

Cheryl Lynn was placed in the custody of a family court guardian Wednesday after her parents refused on religious grounds to permit her to have a blood transfusion. Doctors had said the transfusion was necessary to save the child's life.

Cheryl Lynn was reported improved immediately after the first blood transfusion which had been approved by the court guardian.

A spokesman at Michael Reese Hospital, where Cheryl Lynn was reported in good condition, said tests taken Thursday indicated no further transfusions would be needed immediately. He added, however, this did not bar additional blood in the future.

The parents, Durrell, 25, and Rhoda, 20, members of Jehovah's Witnesses, maintain blood transfusions violate Biblical directives against "blood eating."

DADDY RINGTAIL

Daddy Ringtail And 1,000 Pounds

The Featherman lives in a nest. All he can think about is feathers, feathers, and more feathers. Why, he even tried to grab away a feather from a hat on an elephant's head. Of course the Featherman wasn't strong enough to do it.

He put on a suit of leopard clothes to look like a strong man in a picture, he hoped. Then he tried to lift a big black ball that had written on it these words, 1,000 LBS.

But the ball was as heavy as a thousand pounds, and so of course he couldn't lift it.

All the animal-people began to laugh, but Daddy Ringtail asked them not to do it. They didn't, and the Featherman sat down on the big black ball to do his thinking. He put his elbow on his knee; he put his hand underneath his chin. All to help him think better. At last he said: "You folks come over to my nest tomorrow. Come tomorrow morning. Then you will see a something."

And so everyone went away, but next morning—very early—even before the daylight came—everyone was waiting outside the Featherman's nest again.

Then came the sun. There was light. And look! There in front of the Featherman's nest was a big black ball. The ball had on it these words: 1,000 LBS. "He did it!" everyone one shouted. "Featherman did it!" And everyone thought that the Featherman had lifted the big black ball during the night.

Then out came the Featherman from his nest. He was wearing his leopard suit, of course. He pushed aside his long white whiskers, and over he bent to pick up the ball. He held it up above head and let it sit upon one of his fingers, all to show how strong he was.

Yes, and everyone would have thought he was very strong indeed, except a feather leaked out of the ball which was really very cleverly made of feathers to fool people. Yes, he had worked all night to make the ball look like the heavy one that he really couldn't lift at all. Poor fellow. Everyone knew now that he was really a trickster. Happy day!

Indian Manganese Production Is High

NEW DELHI—(AP)—The production of manganese ore in India during the past three years has kept pace with its increasing demand, especially in hard currency countries, the Indian minister of natural resources said here.

Manganese ore is found in several states in India and it is mined by the state governments. The Indian Government aids producers by supplying explosives, steel, cement, gasoline and railroad equipment. The government plans to set up plants for the manufacture of ferro-manganese in electric furnaces.

Speech Loss Offset By Brand New Voice

WEIRTON, W. VA. —Stanley Flak, a young steelworker, lost his voice Feb. 28, 1950, after a brass bar struck him across the throat. His vocal cords were permanently injured.

A Pittsburgh specialist suggested sending him to the Department of Psychology at the University of Pittsburgh. There, Dr. John Matthews, director of speech, said a course in voice training might help. He enrolled in a special speech clinic class for eight weeks.

There Stanley developed an entirely new voice. At first it had husky overtones but as time went on, the huskiness disappeared. He returned to work last month on a new job.

Bordeaux, France, and the surrounding wine country were under English rule between the twelfth and fifteenth centuries.

American Airlines Reports Highest Revenue In History

American Airlines Friday reported its highest total revenue in the company's history in the first quarter of this year.

A financial report from C. R. Smith, president of the company, was released here by Woody Campbell, Midland station manager for American Airlines.

The first-quarter net income was $214,610 after deduction of $4,350,000 for federal income taxes, the report said. This was in comparison with a loss reported for the first quarter of last year totaling $1,331,285.

Expenses, exclusive of federal income taxes, were 19.4 per cent above the 1950 quarter and amounted to $28,700,000. Smith said costs continue to rise and increased expenses for the balance of the year are anticipated.

In March, this year, passenger traffic set an all-time record, with 190,100,000 passenger miles flown, compared with 181,600,000 for the previous record month, June, 1950.

Total passenger miles for the 1951 quarter reached 515,800,000, mail ton miles were 3,400,000 and cargo transportation amounted to 11,900,000 ton-miles. All divisions showed substantial increases over 1950.

The report added that increases in service are planned for the year. The first increase is scheduled April 29. Four of the new Douglas DC-6B airplanes will be delivered during April and a total of 17 will be put into service during this year.

Blue and fin whales reach a length of 65 feet in two years.

★ THE DOCTOR ANSWERS ★

Some Symptoms Purely Imaginary—Not Easy For The Doctor To Deal With

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.

Written for NEA Service

It sometimes is difficult to tell whether a complaint is real or imaginary. The first two questions today fall in that group.

Q—For the last three months I have practically ceased sleeping. When I retire I close my eyes and as far as I know I do not sleep at all. The next morning I feel fairly rested. What do you advise?

A—There are many people who are awake a good part of the night and yet who actually sleep more than they think they do. The fact that you feel rested in the morning suggests that this may be true in this case.

Q—If you could arrange it, you might have another man watch you during the night to see if you do not sleep. Anyway, if you feel rested in the morning the apparent lack of sleep apparently is doing no serious harm.

Q—Name a few things which could be wrong with a person who stings all over when walking or doing anything.

A—In the absence of any breaking out on the skin or other obvious cause this is certainly a puzzler. It suggests a mental difficulty more than a physical one.

Q—Is auricular fibrillation serious? My friend who has it weighs more than 200 pounds. Would reducing the weight help?

A—Auricular fibrillation is a condition in which the heart beats irregularly. It must be classified as serious, though when properly treated it often goes on for years and years without causing heart failure.

Q—Too much fat obviously gives the heart more work to do than necessary so it usually is desirable to maintain a normal weight. Any reduction in the presence of heart disease, however, should be carried out under the doctor's direction.

Q—The same parents have three children two of whom have high I. Q. tests. The third has an I. Q. of 65. What could cause the difference? Is there anything that could be done to better the condition?

A—No one knows why differences of this sort should occur. There usually are differences between the intelligence of different children within the same family but seldom as much as this. It probably must be considered an accident.

Unfortunately there is nothing to do which would raise the I. Q. of this subnormal child. Some experiments with glutamic acid for this purpose are going on but it is too soon to know just what this will accomplish.

Q—We have a 15-year-old girl who has had brief spells of loss of memory since she was two years old. These leave her pale and weak. She has not outgrown them as we hoped. Could this be a form of epilepsy?

A—It is possible that these attacks are a form of epilepsy of a mild type known as petit mal. If this is the case the outlook is pretty good, especially with the improved drugs which now are available. It would be desirable to make sure, however, and this almost certainly could be done with the aid of the encephalograph. This instrument measures the electrical waves in the brain.

Imitation of a Fisherman

Tommy has borrowed Daddy's rod and reel, a can from the kitchen waste-basket, and a couple of worms from Mama's flower garden. Now Tommy's going fishing—just like Daddy and big brother Bill.

Children like to grow-up by imitation. Even though Tommy won't catch any fish, it's fun to pretend to be a real grown-up fisherman.

The counterpart of imitation is example. That is the blueprint that Daddy and Mama and big brother Bill provide for Tommy's adventure of growing-up.

But the Church has had a vital part in Tommy's growth. Before Tommy was even born, the Church was teaching his parents and his brother the Master Blueprint of Christian Living. And right now, while it's teaching Tommy the first lessons of faith, the Church is helping Daddy and Mama and big brother Bill set the best example.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Texans To Celebrate Anniversary Of San Jacinto On Saturday

Texans everywhere will observe the 155th Anniversary of the Battle of San Jacinto Saturday.

That was the day back in 1836 when Santa Anna became overconfident with his superior numbers and clashed with General Sam Houston's Army at the junction of the San Jacinto River and Buffalo Bayou.

General Santa Anna had been reinforced to bring his forces up to 1,600 men. Houston had between 600 and 700. But, according to reports, Santa Anna took a siesta. Houston attacked.

The Texans roared battle slogans—"Remember the Alamo!" "Remember Goliad!" They sang, "Won't You Come to the Bower?"

Santa Anna's army was routed, according to Houston's report, with a loss of 630 killed, 280 wounded and 730 captured. Texas lost two killed and 23 wounded. Santa Anna was among the captured.

This victory assured Texas of its independence from Mexico that had been declared a month earlier, and eventually changed the entire history of the western part of the United States.

stood to be designed to accomplish two purposes:

1. To convince a majority of Congress and public opinion that MacArthur's key proposals to seek an early victory in the Korean war by taking new military measures against Red China actually would create a serious danger of setting off World War III.

2. To demonstrate that in developing his own policy of fighting only a limited war in Korea, and in sticking to that policy, the President has acted on the advice of directly responsible military counselors—the joint chiefs of staff.

On both these points the opinions of military men are expected to carry great weight. The President therefore is due to rely heavily on the testimony before congressional committees of Secretary of Defense Marshall and Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff. Both, like MacArthur, are five-star generals. Earlier this week, Bradley entered the MacArthur controversy publicly with a defense of the limited war policy.

Showers Follow Unusual Heat In Many Texas Areas

By The Associated Press

Thundershowers skipped about Texas Friday following some of the highest mercury readings of the year Thursday.

The mercury skyrocketed to 102 degrees at Laredo, on the Mexican border. It was 101 at Cotulla and 100 at Del Rio and Alice.

The Weather Bureau said the showers would have some cooling effect.

attacks softened the Communists just before the column rushed the hill.

Chorwon, already heavily blasted by Long Tom 155-mm. artillery, is one of the main objectives of the Allies on the central front.

Allied authorities estimated some 600,000 Red troops were massed north of Chorwon for an expected all-out Spring assault. Chorwon is 18 miles inside North Korea.

Two Schools Of Thought
With Allied troops well north of the Red Korea border, the feeling was growing at the front that UN troops had pushed as far north as intended at present.

Any large scale advance north from the present 140-mile line would force the Allies to man a 240-mile line.

AP Correspondent Jim Becker reported from the front that there are two schools of thought in Korea on the next phase of the fighting. One holds that an undeclared truce is near, with the Chinese pulling out of the war informally because of heavy casualties. The other school expects a powerful new Red offensive with air and artillery support.

WHAT PART DOES ADVERTISING PLAY IN YOUR FUTURE?

Here's How Advertising Helps Make Your Income Safe and Sure; Helps Create Good Jobs for Your Daughter and Son

WHAT OTHERS SAY:

MINER—Practically every business uses what I mine. When their sales slack off, mines slow down. Some close. So when I see advertising—almost every kind—I know it's selling goods for firms that use what I mine—and so make my income steadier.

RAILROAD MAN—For freight to roll, goods must be sold. So when I read or hear advertising I know it's as vital to my job as steel rails.

HOUSEWIFE—Some folks seem to forget that there's no use of a firm's making goods unless it can sell them. I like all advertising because I can see that no sales at the plant where my husband works would mean no pay check for us.

TODAY producing goods is no longer America's big problem. In most fields selling the goods is the big job.

You know of dozens of businesses right in your neighborhood that could be twice as big as they now are if they could sell twice as much. And if they were twice as big, they'd employ twice as many people.

One of the lowest-cost methods of selling goods on a big scale is through advertising. Advertising sells goods. When more goods are sold, often prices come down—so more people buy those goods more often.

That means more jobs at the factory—and at all the firms that do business with that factory; the mines, mills, transportation companies, dealers, stores, banks, insurance companies, real estate firms, etc.

All along the line there are more and better jobs for everyone.

That's how advertising—by stimulating business—makes for a more secure present and brighter future for you and yours.

Other Ways Advertising Helps You:

1. Brings you better goods for less money.
2. Makes shopping more pleasant and easier.
3. Has given us the world's highest standard of living.

Indians, Rockets Open Longhorn League Baseball Season Here Friday Night

Baseball fans will be in their glory Friday night at Indian Park when the Roswell Rockets visit the Midland Indians in the opening game of the 1951 Longhorn League season.

Special pre-game ceremonies, beginning with a parade at 4:30 p.m. through the downtown section were slated to kickoff the current diamond campaign. Mayor Perry Pickett will toss in a gold-painted baseball—symbolic of the Golden Anniversary of Minor League baseball—to officially start the 1951 season. Members of the Indians will be introduced over the public address system at Indian Park prior to the start of the contest.

Roswell Manager Al Monchak has indicated that either Dean Franks or Bill Hees will hurl against the Midland team. Franks, a veteran, compiled a 15-7 record last year with Roswell. Hees is a rookie. Both are right handers.

Jacome For Midland

Harold Webb, bossman of the Midland club, will retaliate with Eddie Jacome, veteran right hander who had a 17-17 record with Longview in the East Texas League last season. Jacome already has hurled the Indians to an exhibition win over Odessa and Wednesday night struck out the only three Big Spring batters to face him in preserving a Midland triumph.

Roswell's starting lineup—excluding the pitcher—will have two rookies, three limited service players and three veterans performing. Midland's team will consist of five veterans and four rookies.

Manager and Co-Owner Harold Webb and his partner, H. W. Donohoo, Friday urged Midlanders to turn out for the contest.

"In attending this game," said Webb "the fans will be afforded a chance to get acquainted with the team and also may help in bringing the opening night attendance trophy to our city."

"We'll have a hustling ball club out there," he continued, "and I think we'll take the opening contest."

Lineups for the game as announced by the managers:

ROSSELL

Bob West, cf, rookie.
Ed Kenna, 1b, limited service.
Ray Hill, rf, limited service.
Bill Scopeton, rf, veteran.
Al Monchak, 2b, veteran.
Bob Souma, ss, veteran.
Ray Sanders, c, veteran.
John Masur, 3b, rookie.
Hees or Franks, pitcher.

MIDLAND

Eddie Melillo, 3b, veteran.
Spec Cox, 2b, rookie.
Hayden White, lf, rookie.
Jim Prince, 1b, veteran.
Bob Cowars, cf, veteran.
George Furbach, rf, veteran.
Tanner, c, rookie.
Dick Potak, ss, rookie.
Eddie Jacome, p, veteran.

Rookie Wiersig Goes To Class D League

Outfielder Elden Wiersig, rookie, has been released by the Midland Indians and sent to Chickasha, Oklahoma of the Class D Sooner State League.

"THE AMERICAN WAY"—BASEBALL TODAY.

That's the National Baseball Congress' motto for the 1951 season—and nothing could be more appropriate for Midland right now.

For at 8 p.m. Friday night the season opens here at home.

—KR—

We painted a pretty bleak picture of the Midland club during the first couple of exhibition games, but not because we wanted to give the kids a black eye or harass owners, H. W. Donohoo and Harold Webb. Honestly, at first we thought the Indians would be lucky to win 10 games in their 140-game schedule.

But some things have changed since then—and not because it's opening night Friday and we'd like to see a good crowd at the ball game. If we thought the Indians were doomed to be in the cellar now, we'd say so no matter what. That's the fair way.

—KR—

However, a couple of things have happened to make us up our estimation of the Midland ball club. First and foremost is the unexpected fine showing of rookies Charles (Buck) Wheat and Wayne McMillon on the mound. Add to that the return of Glenn Patton to the staff and the fine work of Eddie Jacome and the pitching situation doesn't seem quite as desperate as it did a week ago.

Then too, big Bob Cowars has signed with the Indians, and fans in this area know how he can clobber the ball. Jim Prince is coming through and hitting great. Ditto for Catcher Gordon Tanner and Outfielder Hayden White.

So right now, we think the Midland Indians have a pretty fair ball club—not a pennant winner yet, perhaps, but give Webb a vote more pitching help and the club could be as surprising as the Cinderella kids who won a flag here in 1948.

—KR—

All this isn't to sell tickets to the opening game—we don't fall in with such practices. But the grass looks greener and the sun shines brighter on the soil of Indian Park.

We're on the Indian's bandwagon for now—should they go sour, we'll be the first to fall off. That's not to be taken as a "fair weather" statement—we'll pull for the club all the way. But if the team is getting heat beat out of it and needs some help, brother, we'll say so.

We'll also give the devil his due. When the Indians score a run, we'll be the first to stand and cheer.

Heringer Asks For More Softball Teams

The Jaycee Softball League—both City Major and Church divisions—need additional teams before the season starts, said Loop Prexy Chuck Heringer Friday.

"We don't have enough teams to start play," he said, "and the season is due to open May 1."

Six teams are entered in the City Major loop and only three in the Church loop. At least eight teams are wanted in each league before play starts.

Interested parties may contact Heringer at telephone number 497 or call Hugh Reynolds at number 258.

Swatters Surprise Abilene Nine 8-4

ABILENE — Sweetwater of the Longhorn League surprised Abilene of the West Texas-New Mexico loop 8-4 here Thursday night in the final exhibition tilt for both teams.

Earl Harriman, Swatter manager and second baseman, and Warren Sitter, first baseman, led the batting attack with two hits each. One of Sitter's hits was a double.

Scout Items Exempt From Price Controls

WASHINGTON —(P)—The government Friday exempted from price control articles carrying the Boy Scout or Girl Scout insignia and retail sales by the Future Farmers of America.

The Office of Price Stabilization said these are sales by non-profit organizations. Since such sales generally are below the prevailing market for similar merchandise, regulatory ceilings would not add general price stabilization and would impose an unnecessary burden on sellers and on OPS, the order said. It is effective April 25.

Odessa, Amarillo Favored In Regional Meet; MHS Bulldogs Enter Five-Man Team

LUBBOCK—Amarillo and Odessa are favored to fight it out for the Regional track and field title here Saturday in the AA division, while Pecos rules as the top Class A team in the huge meet.

The Broncos of Odessa will be trying to settle a year-old score with Amarillo. Last year, at the same meet, the Sandies upset the eventual state champions, handing them their only defeat of the year.

Midland High School, coached by Thurman L. (Tugboat) Jones, will enter a five-man team. The Bulldogs last week surprised the 3-AA meet at Odessa by finishing second ahead of Lubbock, Big Spring and Lamesa.

Midland's mile relay team will consist of Robert Kelting, Roy Kimsey, Johnny and Jack Burris. Kimsey also will run the 100 and 220-yard dashes. Kelting will high jump and run the 120-yard high hurdles; Kennedy will compete in the 220-yard dash, and Burris will run the 440-yard dash. The other Midland performer is W. H. Black, who will pole vault and run the 120-yard high hurdles.

Pecos is favored in the A division because of its strength in the dashes and hurdle events. George Christian is expected to cop the 100 and 220-yard dashes, while Son Langham is favored in the two hurdle events. Phillips High School, with a well balanced squad, could give Pecos some trouble. Pecos is regional Class A defending champion.

Regional golf play started at 1 p.m. Friday. Midland High School's foursome of Johnny Ward, Marcelino Moreno, Roane Puett and Graham Mackey ruled as heavy tournament favorites.

MAJOR LEAGUES—

White Sox, Cubs Continue To Set Amazing Pattern

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Maybe it's only Al Zarilla, but the White Sox are hitting like Red Sox now.

Zarilla is making Frank Lane, the Chicago general manager, look like the American League's Branch Rickey. And all because of a deal that looked like a bum move last December.

They laughed when Lane traded Ray Scarborough and Willie Wright to Boston for Zarilla, Joe Dobson and Dick Littlefield. "Must be plenty of dough involved," the wise guys said. Lane said "No."

Lane kept insisting it was an "even trade" that would help both clubs. All Winter it seemed Boston's Red Sox would be the only club helped. Most experts thought the two regular pitchers assured them the pennant. It may yet, but the first-week evidence is against them.

Wright, knocked out by New York opening day, was Boston's first loser. Zarilla, bursting with power, is hitting .445 with two home runs, a double and two singles accounting for seven RBI's in two days.

The Zarilla fever is catching. Or maybe it's the St. Louis Browns pitching. Chicago has flailed the Browns staff for a total of 30 runs and 33 hits in two days for a club batting average just under the .400 mark. Naturally they won both games.

Look Quick, Brother

Zarilla and Eddie Robinson each spanked a three-run homer Thursday in the 13-5 rout of the Browns before only 1,079 fans. Both came off loser Al Widmar.

It's been years since you didn't have to turn the newspaper upside down to find both Chicago teams on top. But look quick, before something happens. Both the White Sox and Cubs are riding high, tied for first place.

Frankie Frisch, Cub manager, got a well-placed game from Paul Minner, the Dodger refugee, to shut out Cincinnati 3-0 on seven hits. Willie (The Knuck) Ramsdell was the victim as the Reds lost their third straight. Al Fakro drove in two of the Cub runs.

Diamond Marathon

The New York Giants and Boston concluded their opening series all even by splitting a Patriots Day doubleheader after a six-hour, 41-minute wrestle. The second game, a 10-inning affair, was played under lights from the third inning on and finished in a drizzle.

Jim Hearn won the opener 4-2 with steady, seven-hit ball. Earl Torgeson finally broke up the wild second game at 8:10 p.m. by singling off Dave Koso with the bases loaded for a 13-12 edge. The Giants had scored five in their eighth with the help of a bases-loaded homer by Monte Irvin.

Chet Nichols, a 20-year-old southpaw, won his first big league game. Rain and cold weather polished off the rest of Thursday's program.

ROCKETS Clobber Drillers 17-1; Get 30 Big Base Blows

ROSSELL, N. M.—The Roswell Rockets warmed up for their opening game with Midland Friday night by blasting Artesia 17-1 in an exhibition game here Wednesday night.

Dean Franks stopped Artesia with three hits and no runs in five innings. Lefty Grove finished and gave up three hits and the lone Driller tally.

Roswell blasted out an amazing total of 30 hits—Al Monchak showing the way with two home runs and Bill Scopeton getting another.

Author Of 'Living Without Liquor' Is Booked Again

LOS ANGELES —(P)—The author of the book, "Living Without Liquor," Dr. Vernon Bronson Twitchell, has been booked by police twice again on drunk charges.

His landlady complained that he came home Thursday and created considerable commotion by loud talk and slamming doors. He put up $20 bail and was released.

But two hours later the 42-year-old clinical psychologist was under arrest again after he had been found sleeping in an uncoupled apartment.

Dr. Twitchell was arrested on a drunk charge April 8. Police said he had passed out on a lawn.

WHY PITCHERS GO BATTY—Ted Williams, left, and Billy Goodman admire the grip and prodigious clutch of Red Sox teammate, Vern Stephens. Williams led the American League four times. Goodman showed the way last trip. Dropp tied Vern Stephens, another Boston American, for the runs-batted-in championship with 144. (NEA)

The shoot will be held at the Midland Gun Club and skeet grounds, north of the city near Midland Airport.

Sunday's action—also starting at 8 p.m.—will feature all-bore (150 targets), junior champion (150 targets), concurrently with all-bore, sub junior champion (first 100 targets of all-bore), parent and child (150 targets, concurrently with all-bore), and senior champion, 150 targets, concurrently with all-bore. Trophies also will go to the industry high over-all shooter and to the high over-all runner-up.

Practice rounds were to start at 3 p.m. Friday. Glass said the majority of the shooters entering would run through practice rounds at the skeet shooting grounds here.

Monahans JayCee Banquet Postponed

MONAHANS — A civic banquet featuring the presentation of the Junior Chamber of Commerce distinguished service award has been postponed until May 31.

R. J. (Dick) Ream, president of the JayCees, said Friday the banquet had been postponed from Thursday night because of the death of Charles Stuckey, owner and manager of radio station KVEM, who had been selected to receive the award.

Stuckey died last Friday. Ream said the award will be made posthumously and will be presented to Mrs. Stuckey.

Stuckey's daughter and son and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Ream of Monahans, will be among the honored guests.

Commons Rejects Motion By Churchill

LONDON —(AP)—An attempt by Winston Churchill to increase Britain's share in the Atlantic Pact's top naval command was voted down 291-280 Thursday night by Britain's House of Commons.

The conservative leader assailed the government for accepting appointment of an American admiral as supreme naval commander — and appealed to the United States to give up the post. He suggested that Britain and the U. S. share defense of the Atlantic on an equal footing.

Defense Minister Emanuel Shinwell replied the Atlantic commander might have to call for reinforcements from the strong American naval concentrations in the Pacific in the event of war and explained: "More Speedy Access"

"It might be well that an American supreme commander would have more direct and speedy access to the American president than a British admiral sitting in Whitehall."

Churchill tried to get the House to express lack of confidence in Shinwell by using a rare parliamentary procedure—a motion that Shinwell's salary of 5,000 pounds ($14,000) be reduced by 100 pounds ($280). It was this motion that the House rejected by an 11-vote margin.

Britain and the other 11 Atlantic Pact nations already have approved in principle the appointment of an American admiral, U. S. Adm. William M. Fechteler is generally regarded as the likely choice.

Quads Reported Born To Couple In Ukraine

LONDON —(AP)—The Soviet news agency Tass Friday reported the birth of quadruplets—three girls and a boy—to the wife of a factory porter in Kremenchug, near Kiev in the Ukraine.

Tass said Soviet social services immediately provided the family of the porter, Alexander Tyagunov, with a new, roomy flat, a sum of money, two wet nurses, two other nurses and two doctors.

In addition, Tass said, the Tyagunovs will receive 100 rubles (about $25 at the official government rate) a month for each child.

The news agency said all four were doing well and developing normally.

American military officers were mourning for Lafayette for six months.

Escape Try May Stymie Johnson's Motion For Appeal

DALLAS —(AP)—The escape attempt of Robert Johnson may lose him a chance at getting his death sentence changed.

Johnson was convicted of the fatal shooting of Dallas Policeman Johnny Sides and given the death sentence. He was being held in the Dallas County jail pending his appeal to higher courts.

Wednesday night, Johnson sawed through the bars over the window of his seventh floor cell and began lowering himself toward the ground on a rope made of bed ticking. The rope broke, just after officers discovered him, and Johnson fell 30 feet to the roof of a service station. He was injured seriously.

District Attorney Henry Wade said he was drawing a motion to the Court of Criminal Appeals asking that Johnson's motion for appeal be denied because of the escape attempt.

Wade said escape attempts by prisoners awaiting sentence automatically rule out an appeal where the penalty is less than death. In death sentence cases, the court rules on the right of appeal.

Johnson broke a hip, an arm and possibly his back in the fall. He is under heavy guard at Parkland Hospital.

Theft Of Steel Joists Reported

The theft of 15 steel joists, 25 feet long, was reported Thursday by the Ogborn Steel and Supply Company, 2111 West South Front Street.

The company reported the joists, each weighing 250 pounds, had been taken within the last few nights.

Midland Publisher Carries On For Gainesville Editor

GAINESVILLE —(AP)—A. Morton Smith, stricken editor of the Gainesville Daily Register, can rest assured his business and civic duties are in capable hands.

His many friends are taking care of them. Wednesday night they saw to it that the Gainesville Community Circus, of which Smith was the guiding hand, put on one of its best performances.

And carrying on at Smith's desk at the Daily Register Wednesday and Thursday was James N. Allison, publisher of The Midland Reporter-Telegram.

Allison came here for the circus, and when he heard of Smith's misfortune, offered his services to Publisher Clarence Leonard.

Smith suffered a stroke Monday night. His condition is reported somewhat improved.

Warden Says Prison Fired Deliberately

SAN QUENTIN, CALIF. —(AP)—Warden Clinton T. Duffy Friday said there is little doubt that San Quentin Prison's $3,000,000 fire was deliberately set.

The fire destroyed the prison's jute mill, electric plant and 30,000 sand bags destined for the Korean war. The prison had a war contract for several million dollars worth of bags.

Three convicts were placed in solitary confinement. Duffy said two were suspected of having set the fire Thursday.

A new jute mill at the prison is about two-thirds complete.

Dallas Man Killed In Airplane Crackup

CORSICANA —(AP)—Robert Eugene Tracey of Dallas was killed in a small plane crash about six miles southeast of here Thursday afternoon.

The pilot of the airplane, Ed Bralley of Palo Alto, Calif., was injured critically.

Tracey was an employee of a Fort Worth air conditioning company working on the new hospital building being built here.

Public Smooching Lands Pair In Jail

The highway is no place for courting, especially in broad daylight.

Police Officers Otis Davidson and Scott Clay were on routine patrol early Thursday afternoon when they spotted a couple on U. S. Highway 80 east of the city.

"They would stagger a while," the officers reported officially, "and then stop and kiss a while."

The couple was booked on charges of drunkenness.

Report Says Russia Building Atom Plant

TAIPEH, FORMOSA —(AP)—The China Union Press said Friday Russia is building an atom bomb plant at Kuldja in Sinkiang, far North-western Chinese province.

It was impossible to confirm the report.

The agency reported a rumor Dr. Bruno Pontecorvo, Italian physicist, arrived in Tihwa, capital of Sinkiang, early last month on business connected with the plant.
