Texas And Pacific Northern Entitled To Build Extension When Charter Granted, State's Brief Declares

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, March 5.—T. S. Christopher, assistant attorney general, today mailed to the interstate commerce commission the brief of the State of Texas in support of the application of the Texas and Pacific to build a new West Texas railroad from Big Spring to Lubbock, Amarillo and Vega.

Christopher, former Lamesa attorney, questioned the authority of the commission to deny the application, pointing out the proposed line was wholly within Texas.

Says Right Given

"The territory of the state requires development and such development can only be had through adequate transportation facilities. The law of the state permits any railway corporation to build a railroad between any points within this state. So far as the State of Texas is concerned the Texas and Pacific Northern Railway company became entitled to construct its line for use in commerce within this state at any time after August 25, 1930, the date its charter was approved."

The brief asserted the state felt confident the Panhandle-Plains area was so large, the soil so rich and productive, and its capacity for production so great, certain and dependable as to justify the construction of the new line.

Question of Size

"It is not a question of whether the traffic has grown to such volume that existing transportation facilities can not handle it, but purely a question of whether this area is sufficiently large and possesses traf-

Upholds Railway

T. S. Christopher (above), formerly of Lamesa, assistant attorney general, declared Thursday that the Texas and Pacific railroad does not need the permission of the Interstate Commerce Commission to build 333 miles of new railway on the plains of West Texas. Christopher mailed the brief to the commission yesterday and questioned authority of the body to deny the application.

And Lubbock's third automobile show swings into South Plains lime light for its 1931 program.

Doors Open 2 O'clock

The doors of the Uptown Dance palace will be thrown open at 2 o'clock this afternoon, and the first gladsome feature to meet the eye, conspicuous by its absence, is a doorman and ticket taker. It's all free, this exhibition of some of the finest, surely the most up to date and most serviceable passenger cars on the market.

Everyone of them a 1931 model, polished to the highest degree, serviced and ready for instant demonstration or delivering, the automobiles on display for the next two days represent the stock of six Lubbock dealers. In one respect the 1931 show falls below that of 1930 even before the doors open in that nine dealers offered their stock in display last year while the number is three less for the present exposition.

Beauty To Be Seen

But what the show may lack in number of participating distributors it promises to make up in the number and the beauty of automobile building. Each dealer this morning will move as many as four of six cars onto the huge dance floor, already decorated and chartered for the exposition, and every car, from a $625 Ford roadster to a $3,200 Chrysler Imperial "80" will be placed so and supervised in such a man-

Pauper's Bier Is Carried By Mates

(By The Associated Press)

NEW ORLEANS, March 5.—Through the graves of St. Mary's cemetery a strange funeral procession tramped today as six down-and-outers bore the casket of a 76-year-old mate who, after stumbling into a soup kitchen, died yesterday at a hospital.

The pallbearers volunteered from the welfare office. They carried to his grave Charles McMillan who was saved from potter's field by a message received from a brother, Daniel McMillan of Vancouver, British Columbia.

A nurse said his last words were: "This is the first time in my life I ever asked for help." Welfare workers said they believed he died from starvation. The death certficate read "heart trouble."

Woods Speaks Thursday To Legionnaires

Explains In Detail Loan Measure And Urges Vets Not To Borrow Without A Necessary Place To Spend

Urging ex-service men not to borrow money on their adjusted certificates until they had found a constructive place to spend the funds, H. D. Woods, Legionnaire and former Lubbock mayor, last night addressed a meeting of the Allen Brothers Post of the American Legion at the local Legion home.

Mr. Woods explained in detail the loan measure recently enacted by Congress over President Hoover's veto, allowing loans of 50 per cent of the amount of the certificate as compared to the 22 1-2 per cent previously allowed. He urged Legionnaires not to obtain loans, merely because they were available, if they did not need the money. He compared the opposition of Hoover to the loan measure with the favorable attitude of Owen D. Young.

Applications Handled

Dan Blair, service officer of the local post, reported that he had handled applications aggregating $70,000 for World war veterans of Lubbock county. He told of a move among Texas Legionnaires to eliminate the four and one-half per cent interest charge on the loans.

C. C. Crenshaw, Lubbock attorney, was the principal speaker of the meeting, talking of "States Rights." Following his address, the post voted to obtain copies of the Texas constitution and the Texas Declaration of Independence to be framed and hung in the Legion home.

Kirkland Will Testify Today

On Trial For Murder Of His Youthful Sweetheart; Youth Will Take The Stand Again On Friday

(By The Associated Press)

VALPARAISO, Ind., March 5.—Two weeks before Arlene Draves' death at Gary, Ind., she and Virgil Kirkland, on trial here for her murder, attended a party intended to celebrate their projected marriage, Evan Madera testified today at Kirkland's trial.

Madera, a 24-year-old steel mill employe, was a guest at the drinking party that ended in the 18-year-old Arlene's death.

Exhaust Witnesses

The state halted Madera's narration after he had declared "the party was for Virgil and Babe to get married."

The defense virtually exhausted its list of witnesses excepting young Kirkland who will be called tomorrow.

Dr. Joseph Springer, Chicago, the first of two defense medical experts, who yesterday examined Miss Draves' body, asserted there was no evidence of the girl having been attacked. Springer, formerly coroner's physician in Chicago, said he had performed more than 25,000 postmortems.

City Is Swept By Cold Wave Late Thursday

Vanguard Of Blizzard Hits Lubbock, Forcing Mercury From 59 Degrees To Freezing Point Within Few Hours

Snow Is Predicted

Gentle Spring Breezes Are Turned To Icy Blasts As Cold Weather Brought To Area On Wings Of 'Norther'

GENTLE spring breezes turned to icy winter blasts Thursday night when the thermometer tobogganed within a few hours from a maximum temperature of 59 degrees to freezing. The temperature reading was 32 degrees at 11 p. m. with a cold north wind blowing and every evidence that colder weather might be expected before morning.

The sharp break in moderate temperatures recalls last Saturday's "norther," when a pleasant spring day was within a few hours converted into a heavy snow storm.

Freeze Predicted

The United States Weather Bureau at Dallas predicted that most sections of Texas would experience freezing weather Thursday night and Friday and that the temperature may drop as low as 18 degrees with some snow in some portions of the state.

According to press dispatches, concern was expressed for blooming fruit trees, but it was thought that the freeze would not exend as far south as the citrus orchards of the Rio Grande valley. Stockmen in the Panhandle have been notified to protect their stock. The temperature in a radius of 300 miles of Dallas probably will go as low as 20 degrees, the bureau said.

Crest Hits Borger

At 9:30 Thursday night the crest of the expected March blizzard, sweeping southward from the Rocky Mountains, has struck Borger, dispatches reported.

Federal meteorologists in Oklahoma looked for a 40 mile wind, snow and subfreezing temperatures

Convictions Given Three

Carl Price, Cyrus Frost And Elton Boliver Get One Year Each On Charges Of Chicken Theft In Lubbock

One year in the penitentiary was the penalty assessed in three chicken theft cases tried Thursday in the 72nd district court before Judge Homer L. Pharr. Carl Price, Elton Boliver and Cyrus Frost were the men sentenced.

A hung jury resulted in the trial of C. C. Kenemore charged with theft by conversion.

Car Found Wrecked

Kenemore is alleged to have rented a car from Rampy's Rent Car station, 808 Main street, to be used several hours. The car was said to have been found a few days later wrecked near Wichita Falls.

This was the only case of the fourteen tried this week on the Seventy-second district court criminal docket in which no conviction was obtained.

Two years in the penitentiary was delt Walter High, tried on a forgery charge. County officers said that High is also under a Dickens county indictment for forgery and that he will be taken there immediately for trial.

Battle With Words At Demo Session

Chairman John J. Raskob (right) touched the spark in the Thursday meeting of the Democratic national committee which brought out a bitter repudiation of his platform from Senator Joseph T. Robinson (left) running mate of Al Smith in 1928. Chairman Raskob's platform called for state liquor control while Robinson was strong in his opposition to a controversy he charged would divide the party.

Relief Applications To Receive Quick Attention

Lubbock Men Confer With Chief Of New Office

FEDERAL farm drouth applications will now be given immediate attention by the newly established Fort Worth office, J. B. Shannon, chamber of commerce drouth relief representative, stated Thursday afternoon after returning from Crosbyton, where he conferred with John R. Edmonds of the Fort Worth branch.

Mr. Shannon was accompanied to Crosbyton by D. F. Eaton, county relief agent, W. O. Stevens and F. R. Friend.

Committees Organized

All farmers that cannot obtain loans from other sources are eligible to make application to the federal relief committee. These committees have been organized in all counties that have been granted farm relief by congress. Applications in Lubbock county must be addressed either to J. B. Shannon, county agent's office, courthouse, Lubbock, or to F. C. Rector, chamber of commerce, Slaton.

The maximum loan that any farmer can obtain from the federal crop loans is $600, which is expected to cover such farm expenses as feed, tractor fuel and planting seed.

Checks Are Received

"About 34 checks have been received in Lubbock county since inclusion of this county in the relief area," Mr. Shannon said. "Now with a state organization at Fort Worth and a more fixed governmental policy as to the eligibility of farmers applications will be given immediate notice."

The Lubbock Chamber of Commerce is mailing letters to all school teachers throughout the county, explaining the scope and purpose of federal farm relief, and urging that these provisions be explained to the children in the hope that they will carry these explanations to their homes.

In this manner it is expected that within a few days, farm relief measures will be understood throughout the county.

Officers Conduct All-Night Search For Kyle Bank Robber

AUSTIN, Mar. 5. (AP)—Travis and Hays county officers were without clues tonight to the identity of the lone man who held up and robbed the Kyle State bank of $3,124, yesterday. E. B. Miller, cashier of the bank came here today to look at police bureau pictures of suspects, but failed to definitely identify any man suspected as the one who looted the bank.

Officers returned here this morning after an all-night search on the Oldham Roberts ranch, 15 miles northwest of Kyle, where a car in which the robber was believed to have escaped was found. Officers thought for a time he was hiding in the brush, but concluded he changed to another car.

Muleshoe Men Badly Burned

Explosion From Gas Heater Is Cause; New Home Wrecked By Flames Which Belch Out To Envelop Room

MULESHOE, March 5. (Special).—Two men were seriously burned here about 3 o'clock today when a gas explosion wrecked the new house in which they were working.

Clarence Goins, manager, and Will Duncan, employe, of the Panhandle Lumber company here, were the ones injured. They were working on a gas heater in the bathroom of a house owned by A. Paul when the blast occurred. Both men were burned about their bodies by the flames which belched from the heater.

Trapped In Room

Although trapped in the blazing room and temporarily blinded by the explosion, Goins reached a window and broke out the glass with his hands. His hands, face and arms were cut by the broken glass. Both men climbed through the window to safety.

After reaching the yard, Duncan, still unable to see, stumbled and fell, breaking an arm.

The house was wrecked. Onlookers said the explosion lifted the roof about six inches.

Goins was taken to a hospital at Floydada.

Amarillo Show Is Closed Thursday

AMARILLO, March. 5. (AP)—Paying a dollar a pound for the 700-pound champion calf of the Amarillo fat stock show, a local packing company today set a new record for baby beef sales in this city. The calf was exhibited by Jack Kinzer of Channing.

The first 17 calves sold brought an average price of almost 18 cents a pound. The average for the sale of 151 head was $11.30.

Local civic clubs and business men bid with the cattlemen to boost the prices paid the youthful breeders. Several of the baby beeves were given to charity and welfare organizations.

The sale was the closing feature of the first exhibition sponsored by the recently organized Fat Stock show. Wilbur C. Hawk, president said the show had been a big success.

Al Takes Robinson To Task In Address For "Jumping Over Raskob" Because He Offered His Own Views

BY FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON

WASHINGTON, March 5. (AP) — The prohibition powder keg exploded today at the meeting of the democratic national committee.

It tore asunder the democratic standard bearers of 1928 and left the party workers groping for the road of harmony to which final pleas of the meeting beckoned.

Chairman Raskob touched off the spark with presentation of a platform for the committee's consideration which called for state liquor control, among other things.

Robinson On Floor

Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, the running mate of Alfred E. Smith in 1928, took the platform to roar his "repudiation" of the Raskob platform and his violent opposition to "bringing to the front a controversy that will divide the party."

Alfred E. Smith, smiling through most of the row, came to the front in response to a plea from the floor and took Robinson to task for "jumping all over Raskob" because he had presented his own views.

"Just All Bunk"

"All this talk about influencing the national convention is just bunk," snapped Smith.

Bennett Case Goes To Jury

First Degree Murder Verdict Barred By Court Instructions; Second Degree Murder Is Argued

(By The Associated Press)

KANSAS CITY, March 5.—A first degree murder verdict barred by court instructions, the jury in the trial of Mrs. Myrtle Bennett heard her describe today in final arguments as the bridge quarrel slayer of her husband, John G. Bennett, and as an unwitting figure in a tragic accident.

The case went to the jury at 6:50 p. m. tonight. A verdict of second degree murder with a minimum sentence of 10 years imprisonment remained as the most severe penalty possible in event of conviction.

Judge Ralph S. Latshaw held the prosecution had not proved "deliberation" on the part of the defendant.

Brandishing the revolver which ended the wealthy perfume salesman's life, John V. Hill, assistant prosecutor, strode before the jury box to declare Mrs. Bennett pursued her husband and shot him to death as he was escaping from their apartment.

Daughter Of Aimee Semple McPherson Marries Purser

LOS ANGELES, March 5. (AP)—In far off Singapore, near the land where she was born 19 years ago as the daughter of a struggling missionary, Roberta Semple McPherson was married to a ship purser, William Bradley Smyth, 23 years old.

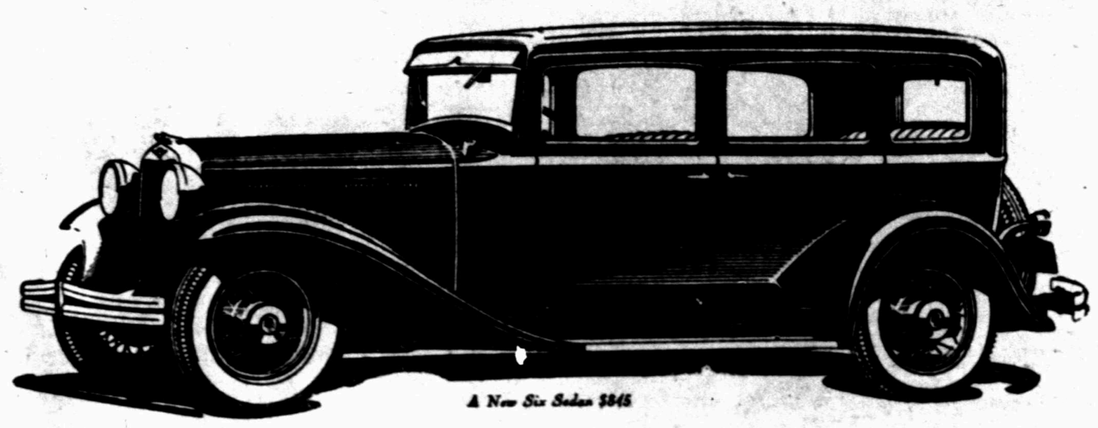

Word of the wedding came to Angelus Temple from the young woman's mother, Aimee Semple McPherson, the evangelist.

A cablegram from Mrs. McPherson, co-founder of the temple with her mother, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, told of the ceremony. It was a distinct surprise to Temple associates and Mrs. Kennedy, who had no knowledge of the romance, which began shortly after the departure some weeks ago of Mrs McPherson and her daughter for the Orient.

Why we spend $2,000,000 to put CAMEL cigarettes in the new HUMIDOR PACK

WE have been in the tobacco business a long time down here at Winston-Salem and we take a lot of pride in the quality of the cigarettes we make.

While we have spent a good many million dollars advertising Camels, we've always held to the old fashioned idea that the thing that really counts is what we put into our cigarette and not what we say about it.

If we know anything about tobacco, and we think we do, Camels contain the choicest Turkish and the mellowest, ripest domestic leaves that money can buy.

In fact we have every reason to be proud of the quality of Camels as they come from the factory, but the remark of an old friend of ours from Denver some time ago emphasized a point that has been the problem of the cigarette industry for years.

As he inhaled the smoke from a Camel we gave him in our offices one morning, he sighed with very evident enjoyment and then asked jokingly, "What is this, a special blend reserved for Camel executives?"

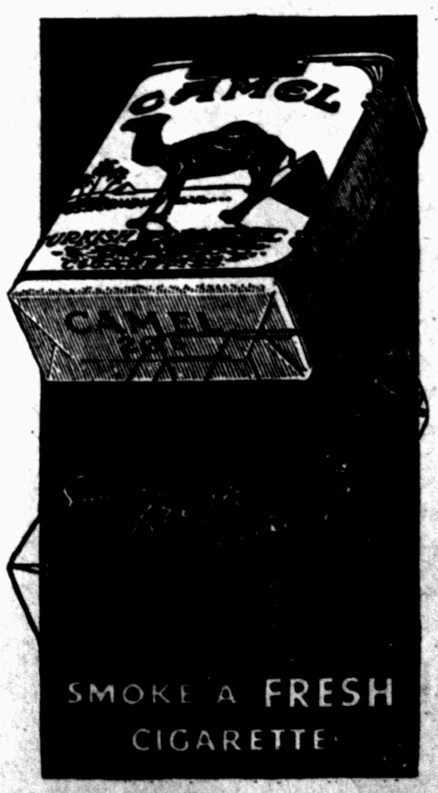

"Certainly not," we told him. "This package of Camels was bought at the corner store this morning."

"Well," he said, "I've been a dyed in the wool Camel smoker for a good many years, but upon my soul I never got a cigarette as good as this in Denver. If you would give the rest of the world the kind of Camels you sell here in Winston-Salem, you ought to have all the cigarette business there is."

THAT statement simply emphasized again the cigarette industry's most important problem. The more we thought about it, the surer we were that he was dead right, and that somehow, something must be done.

Denver wasn't getting a fair break. Neither in fact was any other town. The only people who really knew how good Camels could be, were the folks right here in Winston-Salem.

That was due to a factor no cigarette manufacturer had ever been able to control.

Naturally there is no difference whatever in the quality of the tobacco in Camels, whether you buy them in Winston-Salem, Denver or Timbuctoo. But up to now there has been a very real difference in the condition of the cigarettes by the time they reached the smoker.

The flavor and mildness of fine tobacco depend upon the retention of its natural, not added, moisture content which is prime at about ten per cent.

In spite of our great pains always to make sure Camels left the factory with just the right amount of natural moisture, no cigarette package had ever yet been designed that could prevent that precious moisture from drying out.

THERE are three things about a cigarette that can sting the tongue and unkindly burn the throat.

(1) Cheap tobaccos.

(2) Particles of peppery dust left in the tobacco because of inefficient cleaning methods.

(3) A parched dry condition of the tobacco due to loss of natural moisture by overheating or evaporation.

Always certain of the quality of our tobaccos we had already made Camel a "dustless" cigarette by the use of a specially designed vacuum cleaning apparatus exclusive with our factory.

Now, if we could perfect a package that would actually act as a humidor and retain the natural moisture content, then Yuma, Arizona, could enjoy Camels as much as we do here at Winston-Salem.

We knew what we wanted. We tried many things. We asked the Pittsburgh Testing Laboratory to help us.

After many experiments and humidity tests covering all methods of packing cigarettes came the detailed report of which this is the net:

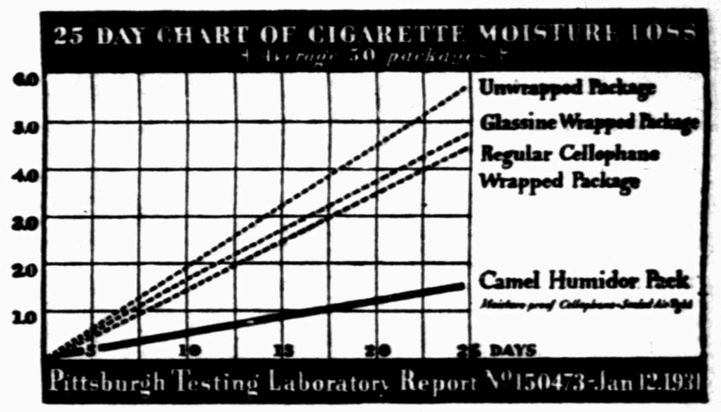

(A) No existing cigarette package, including those wrapped in glassine paper or ordinary cellophane, gives anything like adequate protection against evaporation.

(B) All cigarettes so packed tend to dry out rapidly from the day they are released from the factory.

(C) Only a waterproof material with a specially devised air-tight seal could give the desired protection.

(D) This measure, while costly, could be relied on to keep Camels in prime condition for at least three months in any climate.

If you have a technical bent, the graph below made by the Pittsburgh Testing Laboratory will show you the exact results of their exhaustive study.

Pittsburgh Testing Laboratory chart above graphically shows you that only the Camel Humidor Pack delivers cigarettes to you in prime condition

YOU may be sure we gave this report a lot of careful study. We checked it and re-checked it and then we went ahead. We tried this device and that. At last we met success. The air-tight wrapping involved the designing of special processes, special machines.

That costs a lot of money, more than $2,000,000 the first year, but after you have tried Camels packed this modern new way we are sure you will agree it is a fine investment.

For some time now every Camel that has left our factory has gone out in this new Humidor Pack.

We have said nothing about it until now, to make sure your dealer would be able to supply you when the good news came out.

Camel smokers of course have already discovered that their favorite cigarette is better and milder now than ever before.

If you aren't a Camel smoker, try them just to see what a difference there really is between harsh, dried out tobacco and a properly conditioned cigarette.

You can feel the difference, you can hear the difference and you certainly can taste the difference.

Of course we're prejudiced.

We always have believed that Camel is the world's best cigarette.

Now we know it.

Just treat yourself to Camels in the new Humidor Pack and see if you don't agree.

The Woman's Angle

BY BLANCHE E. BEAN
Avalanche Woman's Editor

HERE are some of those recipes using eggs that we have been looking for. They were sent in by Mrs. T. H. Cox, Route No. 3 who says she can send many more if we wish them. Mrs. Cox says, too, "I have a great many flowers and seed which I would like to exchange for others," and asks that I print her name in the Flower Exchange.

Anyone who is interested in Mrs. Cox's flowers may get in communication with her or may send in her name to the exchange telling what she has to give away. It might help if Mrs. Cox would send in a more complete listing of what she has in the way of flowers and seeds and tell what she needs.

Her first recipe is an old-time formula for egg butter and is as follows: Let one cup each of brown sugar and butter come to a boil. Thicken with one egg and a tablespoon of flour. Cook until thick, flavor with ground cinnamon.

She says it is fine with soda biscuits and it does sound good.

MORE EGG BUTTER

THE next recipe is "another old-time recipe for Egg Butter" and is as follows: Into a mixing bowl break two eggs and the yolks of four others. Add one-fourth teaspoonful of nutmeg and beat until light. In another vessel place three-fourths pint of dark molasses, boil two or three minutes and pour in the egg mixture to cook until thick, beating constantly. This is very good as a sandwich filling for the school lunch, Mrs. Cox states.

SANDWICH FILLER

SHE suggests as an egg sandwich filling this one: Boil six eggs and discard the whites of four. Mash fine with potato masher. Add scant one-half teaspoon salt, two tablespoons prepared mustard, hearts of two stalks of celery chopped fine. Mix the whole thoroughly.

EGG SOUFFLE

HER FOURTH recipe is for Egg Souffle and is: Two tablespoons butter, one and one-half tablespoon flour, one and one-half cups milk, five eggs, one-half cup cream, one teaspoon salt, pinch of cayenne.

Cream the butter, add flour, and gradually the scalded milk and cream. Cook in double boiler five minutes. Add the well-beaten yolks of eggs and seasoning and fold in the stiffly-beaten whites. Turn into a butter dish and set in a pan of hot water back in slow oven until firm.

Mrs. Cox's recipes were sent in response to a reqeust that was received the other day for some new recipes, since eggs are so cheap at this time. They sound good and we are glad to have them.

MAKE-OVER IDEAS

HERE'S some make-over hints for last year's dresses. They can be cut off and used as blouses for the new suits or they can some times be used in making these new tunic dresses.

OUR WEATHER

TODAY I went over and ate lunch with the musicians and listened to them talk about Lubbock. The bracing air came in for its share of compliments from the judges, some of whom are from other parts of the state, and there was some talk of wanting to see a real sand storm.

"This is unusual it it not?" one of the judges, Miss Elizabeth Leake of Denton, wanted to know. She suggested that the air out here might usually be full of sand and asked if everything didn't have a gray look, saying that she had never seen a real sand storm.

Of course, we did the usual thing and assured her that we don't have sand all of the time. This country does have a bad reputation with people who have never lived here. We do have sand storms, I won't deny that, but it isn't sandy all of the time and I hate for people to think it is. Lubbock's climate isn't perfect but it probably measures up with the climate in most other places.

* * *

The musicians to whom I was referring are to judges and music teachers who are here for the annual festival sponsored by the South Plains Music Teachers association.

Did you ever take music and memorize selections? Perhaps you remember that some pieces could be played perfectly if the music was open on the piano, even though you never looked at it. This thing happened at the Festival. The judges were telling one small girl who placed her music on the piano in front of her, played her piece through and discovered at the end that the music had been upside down all of the time.

FOR SPRING CURTAINS

HERE is another household hint: Dip your window curtains in pretty colored dye and if your lamp shades don't match up, line them with colored tissue paper that shows up the same shade as the curtains.

WHITE OF MANY COLORS

WE usually think of newly laundered sheets and linens as pure white. But the truth is that most of the time they are not white at all. Sometimes they are gray, sometimes they are yellow, and sometimes they are even blue. It all depends on the soap.

White things will emerge from washing absolutely white if they are washed with White King Granulated. White King is pure. No "filler" or foreign matter—nothing but the finest vegetable and nut oils, good enough to eat! White King needs no bleaching or bluing help.

It's economical too! Because White King Granulated is condensed, a little of it goes a long way. One teaspoonful in a wash basin, one cupful in the washing machine—plenty, even in hard or lukewarm water. Safe and swift for blankets, dishes, delicate colored fabrics. Your grocer has it.

At Least It's Reassuring

THE Abilene Morning News, taking its cue from the Federal Reserve bank at Dallas, makes a poignant and credable comment upon 1931 as it has held thus far. Reassuring to those who wished to be reassured, the editorial, headed "Looking Ahead", is, The Morning Avalanche believes, worthy of full reproduction here.

Says The News:

"The Federal Reserve bank at Dallas, with a finger on the pulse of the Southwest, gives the reassuring word that 'in no recent year has the opening period found the agricultural and livestock industries in better condition from a physical standpoint.'

"There is a good season in the ground, land preparation is more advanced than usual, planting operations are being started early, and growing crops are in excellent condition, the bank's monthly review asserts. Range conditions are called 'fair to good', throughout the area. The price situation, however, is adverse; and to offset this the bank finds that farmers are turning more and more to the task of producing a living at home.

"Business and industry display a "mixed trend," the survey finds, with nothing more than the usual seasonal recession. Wholesale distribution showed a gain over December, though merchants continue to restrict purchases to actual requirements.

"The stage is set for a demonstration of the old theory that agriculture is the backbone of the country. If the present good prospects continue throughout the planting and growing season, and the harvest is abundant, you'll see agriculture's influence at work on general economic conditions. A prosperous agriculture is immediately reflected in business and industry, and at this time agriculture never had a better outlook."

THE MODERN VILLAIN

The latest indictment of present-day modes and manners is that we take villians too lightly. If we do not pull up short, we shall soon be without them altogether.

Dickens and other early authors offered blackhearted villains in plenty. But writers today are not so generous, and some critics are readers are moved to ask for more. Writers should not be permitted to deprive the world of villains.

The fear that scoundrels are disappearing from literature seems well founded. Realism is the fashion of the day, yet a change has come over the realist. Once he was down on people; then he became sternly impartial; now he is infinitely tender with his unfortunates.

Things have come to such a pass that often it is hard to tell hero from villain. The poor fellow whom heredity, environment and author have pushed into a life of villainy and knavery gets all the sympathy.

There is danger of falling into soft ways if villains are to be explained, analyzed and denatured. There is a certain elevation about the villain; he does the thing handsomely. If this meat is to be stricken from our literary diet, there may soon be a generation of flabby, anaemic readers.

There is a strange similarity between the change of heart toward the villain of fiction and toward the criminal. Just as the city slicker who didn't do right by our Nell is no longer suffered to die a terrible death or worse, the social malefactor is no longer treated as an unregenerate renegade deserving of no consideration. Novels are but mirrors of their times; authors typical of their generation.

GESTURES

Among the strange and overworked terms in any well-appointed modern vocabulary there is one which has enjoyed a particular vogue. It is "gesture." A troublesome word, indeed, because it is made to stand for so much, for too much; because it has become something of a cant word. Yet in the post-war years any number of persons have been given to actions, utterances and positions which in lavish exaggeration of sentiment do rather suggest a "gesture."

A famous writer refuses a coveted literary prize. A president's son begins "from the ground up." An heiress weds a poor young man. A young man renounces his riches and title and starts out to live as he thinks, a "practical socialist." A president chooses not to run for reelection. A disappointed presidential aspirant bitterly turns down the vice-presidency. A great manufacturer threatens to shut down his factories if the prohibition laws are repealed or modified. Acclaimed on the grand opera stage, a young lady goes back to the farm. And Harry Lauder returns for his farewell tour of America.

Practical, but not necessarily cynical people, refer to all these acts as "gestures." Some of them are plainly that because they are for effect only. And others may prove to be simply gestures, although the gesturer was originally sincere in his purpose.

The gesture is a prolific provider of interesting news, but it has been so overworked of late in all estates that the public must be forgiven if it seems a little cynical and skeptical at times.

Practical Health Problems

CHEMICALS ESSENTIAL FOR LIFE

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN,
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

So far as the facts have been established, 10 inorganic chemical substances are known to be essential for life.

These elements are calcium, phosphorus, iodine, iron and copper, that are well known, and sodium, potassium, magnesium, chlorine, and sulphur, the five not so well known.

As has been emphasized again and again in these columns, calcium is required in large amounts for the body in the formation of the bones and the teeth, and for regulating certain of the chemical reactions that go on in the human system.

Considerable amounts of calcium are found in milk and in such vegetables as string beans, lettuce, spinach, cauliflower, asparagus and celery. It should be understood that very few cereals contain sufficient amounts of calcium to be of any special service for the supplying of this element in the diet.

Scientific studies of iodine have indicated that the amounts required for the human body are very small indeed, but that even these small amounts are not to be had in some sections of the country where the soil is poor in this element. Hence, methods have arisen for supplying small amounts of iodine in the form of tablets and in the form of iodized salt, particularly to growing children.

Iron is found in fairly large amounts in spinach, whole wheat, meat, prunes and egg yolk. It also is found in fairly small amounts in cereals. There was a time when the emphasis of iron was so great that food substances not otherwise particularly desirable were eaten in large amounts merely for the iron content. Nowadays it is considered preferable to secure the iron by a proper diet of ordinary foods, and, is necessary to have additional iron for the building of red coloring matter in the blood, this is easily supplied through any one of several dozens of medicinal iron preparations.

Obviously, a well balanced diet will contain milk to provide a number of the fundamental substances and associated with it each day at least two vegetables, particularly of the leafy vegetables, particularly of the leafy vegetable type. If a person eats a diet of this character, he need give little further attention to the question of supplying his body with proper amounts of the mineral substances.

Hull Will Be Real Threat

By CHARLES P. STEWART,
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 5. —Representative Cordell Hull of Tennessee issued a "statement" (as the nation's legislators are in the habit of calling their extra-official utterances on public questions) a few days ago of a sort worth much more serious attention than the average political "handout" from Capitol hill.

For one thing, it is an important statement because it relates to the tariff, which is a tremendously important, if not a very popularly interesting, subject.

Second, it is important because Representative Hull issues it. And Representative Hull not only is one of the country's foremost tariff experts, but the next session of congress will see him in the senate, where it is a foregone conclusion that he speedily will be recognized among the extremely few (a single pair of hands will furnish an ample number of fingers to count them on) lawmakers of tip-top ability in Washington.

IT WOULD not be correct to say that Senator-elect Hull has not been prominent, even as a member of the house of representatives. He has been as prominent a man as it is possible for a representative to be, under conditions which prevail today in that congressional chamber.

These conditions, however, have reduced all the representatives pretty well to a common level.

In fact, except by name, they do not all know one another. As for non-political folk, it is doubtful whether many people are familiar with the reputations of any of them below the rank of Speaker Longworth. Republican Floor Manager Tilson, Democratic Leader Garner, the mighty Chairman Snell of the legislatively almost omnipotent rules committee?—are they household words? I question it.

BUT A SENATOR? A senator is different. If for no other reason than that there are only 96 senators, to 435 representatives, the former stand out more noticeably than the latter.

Not but that there are senators of no particular consequence, for that matter.

Still, it is possible for a senator, of the right quality, to show well-nigh as conspicuously as the president. For instance, Senator Borah, Senator Norris, in his way Senator Heflin—"Who's he?" is a question altogether unlikely to be asked when any one of this group happens to be mentioned.

CORDELL HULL has been just as able a statesman (and he is fully entitled to credit for real statesmanship) in the house of representatives as he will be in the senate.

Taxation has been his specialty.

He was author of the income tax law of 1913; of its revision in 1916; of the federal inheritance tax act.

He can stand punishment, too— was chairman of the Democratic national committee during his party's dark days from 1921 to 1924, when he had to pledge his personal credit for its office rent.

IT SHOULD not be understood that the Tennesseean has been a nonentity hitherto, either.

He has been presidentially mentioned.

His state knows him, as was demonstrated by his run for the senate; he is pretty well known throughout the solid south; politicians everywhere know him.

Nevertheless, he is not known nationally, as his brains and his services entitle him to be; but he is due to be, mighty soon after the next congress convenes, for he will take his senate seat with all the acquired experience of 25 years at the other end of the Capitol building, and it is certain that there will not be any lost or wasted motion about him, in getting started. His recent statement proves it.

SENATOR-ELECT HULL'S statement is in reality a warning—to his own party.

It may be there is nothing but coincidence in the fact that passage of the present Hawley-Smoot tariff law was followed by approximately a 30 per cent slump in America's export trade and by a tightening up of the already tightening times into the worst economic pinch, some say, in the country's history.

The Tennessee senator-elect, however, lays the export slump and the hard times principally to the Hawley-Smoot tariff, and what especially irks him is the thought that its framers could not have squeaked it through congress (the representatives accepted it by a liberal margin but its prospects looked highly dubious in the senate for a while) if they had not had Democratic votes to help them.

HULL'S WARNING to Democracy's leaders is that he will let them cover up what he considers their error (to give it its mildest name) by hush, hushing the tariff issue in the seventy-second congress.

He wants reduction, and intends to demand it.

Having probably forgotten fully as much about taxation principles as his fellow senators are likely to know, including the whole 95 of them, he threatens to be an awkward customer in debate in their legislative branch—where debate is encouraged, instead of being smothered as in the house of representatives.

TWO OPPOSITE-BOUND AIRPLANES HAD EQUAL VELOCITY TAILWINDS.—Recently on the Seattle-San Diego Airway, near Eugene, Oregon, Grover Tyler, flying the northbound plane at an altitude of 10,000 feet, had a 40-mile tail wind, and Russell Cunningham, passing Tyler in the southbound ship at an elevation of 3,000 feet, was also being speeded on his way by a 40-mile wind on the tail of his ship. These facts are verified by the Boeing Air Transport Co., of Seattle.

For GINGER'S SAKE

BEGIN HERE TODAY

To keep life from growing too dull in Red Thrush, Iowa, GINGER ELLA TOLLIVER organized a Junior Country Club. It was to be something exclusively — just for the "younger set." Accordingly Ginger, whose father was a minister and whose stepmother, the former PHIL VAN DOORN, was both wealthy and indulgent, purchased an old farm house and remodeled it.

To Red Thrush came BARD HOLLOWAY, a young artist who was hoboing around the contry. Attracted by Ginger, he agreed to stay and paint portraits and decorate the new club house. Bard gave the name "Joie de Vivre" to the club. And he thought it would be splendid if they could import from Chicago one NICOLO CALLENO. For Nicolo was handsome and he could cook and sing and strum a guitar. He would make a picturesque addition to the club.

But in Nicolo's place there arrived three of his countrymen. Little ANGELO was a musician, and PIETRO could cook. And BENITO could sing. Nicolo, it seemed, could not come, and they had come in his place. Ginger took them on.

The opening of the club was a great success. Pietro, Angelo and Benito added just the right touch of color. Bard began to realize he was falling in love with Ginger and he suggested leaving Red Thrush, but Phil, knowing how Ginger felt about it, persuaded him to remain longer as the Tollivers' guest.

But she did write to SPEED RONEY, a former friend of Ginger's in the east, inviting him to visit them. She left Speed would give Bard some competition and enable Ginger to know her own mind. Ginger thereupon invited PATTY SEARS to take care of Speed. But Patty wouldn't come, pleading loyalty to EDDY JACKSON. Whereupon Ginger went to Eddy. Eddy persuaded Patty to come, and when Ginger received word that Speed was bringing his sister with him she got Eddy to came too. And Eddy decided to ball things up and make life miserable for Ginger.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXIII

"Once more, dear home.

I with rapture behold thee—"

The Pilgrim's Chorus, savoring strongly of the Italian, accompanied in an orchestral way by the hoarse honk of Iry Ford's taxi horn at the gates, enveloped Joie de Vivre in swelling surges of song.

It rocked through the woods, resounded from the high bluffs and was wafted far out over Rabbit River with its solitary boat riding the waves.

Benito had come back.

By the time his great voice released its hold upon the last syllable, all the occupants of the house were crowded joyously together on the front porch waiving a welcome, and Benito, staggering under as remarkable an assortment of luggage as had ever been assembled upon one person, advanced largely into their midst, bareheaded, flushed his face alight with the joy of reunion.

"My friends," he said simply, "I am returned."

Conspicuous for its size at least among his bundles was an enormous suitcase of strangely woven basket straw, loose and ungainly, and packed until its frail sides bulged dangerously so that it had to be reenforced with a half dozen folds of an old scarf.

Under one arm he carried an old, unwrapped violin which he had retrieved from pawn for Angelo, an umbrella and a raincoat, while hanging from it by a stout rope was an open-meshed shopping bag laden with small packages of every shape and color.

Protruding from him in every direction were Italian newspapers, and from a chain in his right hand was suspended a brass bowl containing goldfish. Every pocket was crammed, his hands were full, his arms akimbo with things beneath.

But when they ran down to relieve him of his burdens he waved them aside.

"Wait, wait!" he boomed. "Presents — such presents — I have brought for each and all. Don't touch anything—I must open them in secret. Such presents for all!"

It was only by turning sidewise and pushing the suitcase ahead of him that he managed to get through the door, and he joined merrily in their laughter at his predicament. With his foot upon the stairs that led to his attic room he turned to smile perspiringly back upon them.

"Wait!" he repeated impressively. "Wait until I unpack. Such presents!"

In a very few minutes he returned again, his arms laden with packages, each carefully wrapped in colored paper and tied with ribbon. From them he made careful selections and carried out the act of presentation with a great deal of formality, kissing the hands of each lady and whacking the men with resonant friendliness between the shoulderblades. As he distributed his gifts he kept up a running account of the reasons for his choice.

For Mr. Tolliver, he being a holy man, he had brought an illustrated copy of the Life of St. Francis, who was fond of birds, and a hand-carved ebony crucifix.

For Mrs. Tolliver, he brought a set of Italian table dollies, real lace, and a Chinese ivory pickle fork. These he gave to Ginger to be delivered to her parents with his ar-

Williams To Leave Tahoka

Tahoka Secretary Will Go To Seguin; Plans To Leave On April 1; Well Known Over West Texas

TAHOKA, March 5. (Special) — C. C. Williams, secretary of the Tahoka Chamber of Commerce for the last two years, has been elected to serve in a similar capacity at Seguin in South Texas. He plans to leave Tahoka for Seguin April 1.

Williams, who came here from Crosbyton in 1929, is well known over West Texas and has achieved remarkable success at Tahoka. While here Williams organized the Lynn County Fair association, sponsored a poultry show trades days, and also a Christmas celebration and assisted in promoting the Texas Cotton Cooperative Marketing association. He promoted the better cotton seed idea in Lynn county and did valuable work in routing and marking highways through this section. During Mr. Williams' term of office Tahoka entertained the largest district convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce ever held, the second annual West Texas County Judges' association, and several other conventions.

In 1930, Williams won the Texas Commercial Executive association scholarship to the National School for Commercial and Trade Organization Secretaries sponsored by the United States Chamber of Commerce and held each year at Evanston, Ill. He was also secretary-treasurer of the South Plains Commercial Executives association.

Spanish King's Power Is Menaced By Writers; Pens Are Opposing Swords

BY [illegible]UTON BRONNER
NEA Service Writer

LONDON, March 5.—If King Alfonso XIII of Spain ever topples from his throne, it will be one more proof that the pen is mightier than the sword.

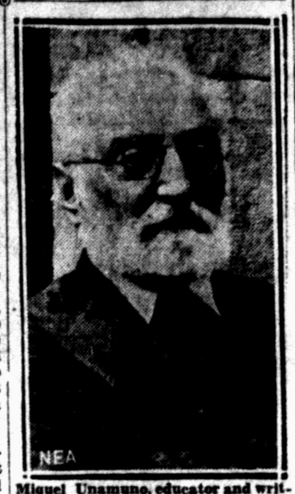

All the swords are apparently for him. Three of the keenest pens are against him—one at least two, for one of them is now silent forever. It may well be that in a hundred years from now some Spanish writer will speak of Blasco Ibanez, Miguel Unamuno and Ramon Perez de Ayala as "The Three Musketeers of the Ink-pot," or maybe as "The Three Penmen of the Republic."

So far, through thick and thin, Alfonso has held the friendship and the loyalty to the bulk of the regular army and of the wonderful Civic Guard whose members are to be seen all over Spain. He has not been so happy in his fortunes with Spain's great writers.

In Voluntary Exile

The late Ibanez went into voluntary exile so as to be freer to fight him. Unamuno was at first banished by the late dictator, Rivera, to a bleak little isle in the Atlantic ocean. When he escaped from there Unamuno remained in involuntary exile until Rivera fell and he could return in triumph to his old post as rector of the University of Salamanca. So far nothing has happened to Ayala. He has been able to continue to enjoy his dear delights in the cafes of the Puerto del Sol in Madrid.

From his home in France, Ibanez bombarded Alfonso and the regime with vigorous pamphlets published in Spanish, French and English. The censors clapped down on the books in Spain. The police of London frowned down on the sale of the English versions. But the books hit their mark just the same.

Miguel Unamuno, educator and writer, who is credited with having much to do with the present unrest in Spain

Then there is Unamuno. Taking up his residence on the French frontier of Spain, he viewed his native country as from a light house and over and over again raised his voice and lifted his pen to attack the regime.

Now suddenly Ayala has joined this band of fighting authors. He added his name to a pronouncimento signed by a number of prominent Spaniards, in which it was stated the monarchy and the monarch must go and republican institutions be substituted. Ayala's appearance is this role is of great significance for he is one of the finest writers Spain possesses. As poet, short story writer, novelist, critic, he is equally brilliant. His richly satirical and humorous novel "Bellermin and Apollonius" has been claimed to be one of the finest literary productions since "Don Quixote". In this book he showed himself to be a vigorous critic and satirist of all kinds of cranks and extremists—political, religious, scientific. Thus his gibe at a clergyman who specialized in entomology:

Son Of The Soil

"He has discovered many new species of insects. He would have done better by humanity if he had invented a new insecticide."

Ayala has just turned fifty. He is a native of that part of Spain known as the Asturias. His new role as champion of republicanism shows him to be a true son of the soil on which he was born, for one of the greatest of modern Spanish critics, Salvador Madariaga, says of Asturias:

"Her men always have been in the van of political progress in the peninsula. It was in Asturias that Charles III found his enlightened statesmen. It is from Asturias that contemporary Spain draws her pioneers in education, politics and social reform."

Ayala is no light-hearted swaggerer. He is animated by no personal hatred of the King. He has joined the republican movement because, in the light of his reason and his broad European culture—particularly English—he has come to the conclusion that monarchy as Spain knows it is fit only for the scrap heap. As an idol of the advanced young men of the universities, his action will have a very great influence upon a generation destined to play a big part in Spain's immediate present and very near future.

Air Line Will Be Considered

Representatives Will Gather In Lubbock Next Tuesday To Discuss Plans For New Line Through This City

Representatives of towns on the route of the proposed airmail line between Amarillo and Big Spring via Lubbock will attend a meeting of the South Plains Airways association here next Tuesday.

Lubbock's stand on the proposal and whether or not the city will make an effort to obtain airmail service probably will be determined at the meeting, John L. Vaughan, Lubbock postmaster, is temporary chairman of the association.

The session will begin with a noon luncheon at the Hilton hotel and will be followed by an executive meeting. Reports of airmail poundage from points on the proposed route will be presented and data compiled.

Potentialities Factor

Potentialities of airmail poundage as evidenced in the compilation of current figures will be the major criterion for determining whether the association will continue to work toward airmail service on the proposed route.

South Plains Airway association was organized February 11 at Big Spring. The proposed line would extend from Amarillo to Big Spring and would include Canyon, Tulia, Plainview, Lubbock, Tahoka and Lamesa. Representatives from all of those towns are expected to attend Tuesday's meeting.

From 17 to 24 hours would be saved in mail delivery to some points by effecting the line, which would bridge the northern and southern transcontinental routes, Mr. Vaughan said.

Gerald Wren of Lubbock is secretary of the association.

Lubbock Knights Of Pythias To Hold Meeting On Tuesday

Members of the Lubbock lodge of Knights of Pythias will hold a special meeting, Tuesday night at 7:30 in the Matador ballroom of the Hilton hotel, it was announced last evening by officials. The affairs is to be a ladies night and special entertainment and refreshments have been arranged.

Sunday afternoon at 5:30 in the regular Vesper services of the First Presbyterian church, Rev. Jack M. Lewis will preach a special Pythias sermon, it was announced. The public is invited.

Four Persons Die Liquor Poisoning

WHEELING, W. Va., March 5. (AP) —Four persons were dead today after a party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Schwanenberger at Bridgeport, Ohio, and county authorities said they were victims of alcholism.

Harry Church, 55, died early today. Mrs. Schwanenberger, her husband and Samuel Berghoff, 50, were the other victims. They became ill after the party Tuesday night. Coroner J. W. Neal of Belmont county, Ohio, said he had obtained a statement from Schwanenberger before his death which might result in the arrest of the person who sold the liquor.

Progress
In Individual Transportation

Aeons ago, long before the dawn of history, there lived a great inventor—the genius who gave us the wheel. A simple wheel it was, just a circular wooden disk, but it has evolved in our days into that marvel of modernity, the 1931 Automobile.

From such humble ancestors as the primitive ox-cart groaning over rutty cow-paths, and rickety careening Roman Chariots down through the London post-chaise of Fielding and Sterne and Boswell, through the "One-hoss shay" of Oliver Wendell Holmes, through the two-cylinder horseless carriages of the budding century, the motor car of today has evolved a marvel of speed, smoothless and luxury.

If only that nameless father of the wheel could come to the Auto Show—how his eyes would grow wide—how his jaw would drop! How he would gap at the wire-spoked decendants of his invention, encased in jolt-proof rubber; at the gleaming chromium plating; at the luxurious upholsteries! How he would tremble with awe if he saw this godlike thing flying down a concrete road a mile a minute!

You, dear friend, are not a savage of long ago. With blase familiarity you motor about the land. But even you thrill with the wonder of these new models—will revel in the grace of line, the luxury of interior, the velvety power of motors displayed in these modern marvels of motordom. All convened together, beneath the roof of the Uptown Dance Palace, are the models you have been waiting to see—all the leading cars of America in an unforgettable array.

Plainview Cagers Among Favorites In State Tourney

Bulldogs Play Today At Four In Austin Set

Thirteen Teams Enter Tenth Annual Interscholastic Go In Gregory Gym Today; To Start Matches Early

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, March 5.—Thirteen high school basketball teams will open play in the tenth annual interscholastic league two-day tournament at Gregory gymnasium here tomorrow morning.

The school boy cagers arrived today and most of them found time to acquaint themselves with the courts at the gymnasium in practice sessions during the afternoon. Plainview and Sidney Lanier, San Antonio, were the first to work out, several others going through their paces later.

Denton, 1930 state champions, will see first action at 9 o'clock in the morning when they encounter Sidney Lanier.

Guests At Banquet

The visiting basketball players were guests tonight at a banquet and at a university intramural "fite nite" athletic program. The banquet was the high light of the program arranged by Coach Fred Walker and his entertainment committee, several prominent speakers being on the program. An address by the University of Texas president, H. Y. Benedict, welcomed the boys.

Two other games will be played in the first round of the tournament tomorrow morning. At 10 o'clock Mathis will engage Bardwell and at 11 Big Spring will meet Yancey. Athens, Plainview and Nocona having drawn byes will escape the first round.

The second round will start at 2 o'clock with a contest between Gober and San Jacinto High of Houston, one of the tournament favorites. This will be followed by two other games, Austin High vs. Locker at 3 o'clock and Plainview vs. Nocona at 4.

Friday night's schedule will find the following teams on the court: Winner of the Denton-Sidney Lanier affair will play Athens; winner of the Bardwell-Mathis contest will oppose the survivors of the Big Spring-Yancey battle, and winner of the San Jacinto-Gober contest will be pitted against the winner of the Austin-Locker engagement. Semi-finals will be staged at the gymnasium Saturday morning at 9 o'clock and finals Saturday night at 8 o'clock. A consolation game for third place will precede the championship. Awards will be presented winners immediately following the final game.

Acreage Warning Given To Farmers

WASHINGTON, March 5. (AP) — Wheat and cotton farmers were warned today by Chairman Legge of the farm board that unless they reduce acreage the price of these commodities will continue to drop.

The farm board chairman said he expected some reduction this year but added he was "not optimistic," regarding the speed with which it was taking place.

When it comes to acreage reduction, he asserted, farmers are too willing to "let George do it."

Legge contended the cotton farmer "is still trying to put the price down to five cents." And the wheat farmer will "quit growing wheat when it gets down to 25 cents."

Asked if he thought, unless cotton acreage were sharply reduced, there was a chance for five cent cotton this year, Legge said "that may be a little extreme.

"But there is no question," he continued, "if they raise as much as they have been raising the price will be much lower than they have seen yet."

The Washington Senators are reported to have paid $201,400 for players last year.

Bob Martin, former heavyweight champion of the A. E. F., is now a state trooper in West Virginia.

The Nut Cracker

Seems strange to O'Goofty that a commission should hold an investigation when the Fargo Express steams in on time. According to his views, which of course don't mean anything, the time for the investigation might better have been after that recent derailment caused by King Tut.

In a deadlock at three wins apiece, the little world series between Tut and Petrolle apparently is set to go the full seven games.

The New York Giants' system of docking a player a full day's pay for every day he is late in getting to the training camp might be called a fine system.

In the case of Bill Terry, however, O'Goofty wonders whether McGraw will tax him on the basis of the $20,000 salary the Giants offer or on the $30,000 stipened Bill demands.

Uncle Robbie was asked to sit in the groundkeeper's wheelbarrow while a photographer snapped his picture. To which he snorted, "Hey, feller! This is no joke ball team. Besides, the wheelbarrow won't fit."

Power Replaces Speed On Cub Team; Hack Optimistic

Upsets Feature Florida Tourney; Fishwick Beat

Eliminated Again

DIANA FISHWICK

(By The Associated Press)

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., March 5.—Two great upsets today eliminated from the Florida East Coast golf championship the pair that had been counted as finalists, Diana Fishwick, British champion, and Virginia Van Wie, Chicago.

Mrs. Stewart Hanley, Detroit, Michi., brought deefat to Miss Van Wie when she laid the Chicagoan a dead stymie on the 18th hole, preventing her from squaring the match.

Sterritt Beats Fishwick

Mrs. H. D. Sterrett, Hutchinson, Kas., took the match from Miss Fishwick, 4 and 2. Mrs. Sterrett, playing great golf, was out in 38, to be one up at the turn. She piled up her added advantage when Miss Fishwick three-putted two holes and was short on another.

Marueen Orcutt, Englewood, N. J., had a tough battle with Kathleen Garnham, the other English quarter-finalist, winning one up. Frances Hadfield, who eliminated Helen Hicks, Hewlett, L. I., yesterday, won from Mrs. Melvin Jones, Chicago, 4 and 2.

Appropriation Being Used Up

Wickersham Commission Facing A Shortage Of Funds; Will Seek To Speed Up Work To Capacity Limit

BY JOHN F. CHESTER

WASHINGTON, March 5. (AP) — The Wickersham commission faces the possibility of being money-less before completing the gigantic crime survey task assigned it by President Hoover.

Members of the commission, and those close to it, said without hesitancy today that unless the work is speeded to the limit, the expiration on July 1 of the remainder of the $250,000 appropriated by congress may find unpublished several of the 10 criminal surveys planned.

"We should have six months after that date if a finished job is to be done," said Judge William S. Kenyon. "We should have completed our prohibition report six months sooner."

Whether or not the commission desks are clean, however, the end of the fiscal year will necessitate the abandonment of its extensive suite of offices and the release of a sizeable clerical staff. There will be no money to pay them unless it is obtained from private sources.

Spurred by this prospect, 10 of the 11 members plunged today into a consideration of reports upon "lawlessness among government officials," and "penal institutions, probation and parole."

Three New Members Received Into Kiwanis Club Thursday

Three members were received into the Lubbock Kiwanis club at the regular weekly luncheon yesterday at the Lubbock hotel. They were Fiske Miles, Gregg James and W. J. Garrett. Mr. Garret was a former Kiwanian but was reinstated at Thursday's meeting. They were received into the club by Durwood H. Bradley.

J. C. Anderson was in charge of the program, J. W. Day played a violin solo, accompanied at the piano by Miss Frances Margaret Turner, club musician.

Martin Hamilton, Lubbock High school student, spoke on "Vocational Guidance in High School."

HUSBAND AND SON LOST

EDINBURG, March 5. (AP)—Mrs. H. T. Dudley today asked Hidalgo county officers to assist in a search for her husband and their son, G. L. Dudley, who left home February 25 for Nacogdoches with a truck load of oranges, and had not been heard from since. She said she had wired friends in Nacogdoches and at points along the route without results. There are seven other children in the family.

Heavy Batters To Line Up In Hornsby Order

Kiki Cuyler Possibly Will Head Batting Order; "We Don't Need Fast Boys, We Hit In Our Runs"—Wilson

BY BRIAN BELL
Associated Press Writer

AVALON, Cal., Mar. 5. — If the race is to the swift in the National League, the Cubs probably will not win the pennant, for speed is one of the baseball ingredients missing from the Chicago equipment. But fortunately for Rogers Hornsby and his crew, power is placed ahead of speed and deception in the modern game.

With the pitchers left out of the calculations, the Cubs as a club have a batting average of over .300. The stalwart outfield shows the way, Riggs Stephenson, an "aged veteran" at 32, leading the trio with a mark of .367.

The Cubs have two speedsters, Kiki Cuyler and Elwood English. There are a few fair steppers in the lineup and some downright slow.

Hack Says "We'll Win"

The players think Hornsby will pick up his managerial triumph where he left it off in 1926 when the Cardinals, under his direction, made baseball history by winning the pennant.

"Sure we will win," said Wilson, the solid home run hitter. "We've got the pitchers and we can hit. That's the ticket."

It was somewhat timidly suggested the club has few speed merchants.

"Don't need 'em," was the reply "We hit in our runs."

Hornsby, himself, is a bit more conservative, but it is certain his satisfied smiles are not caused by the beautiful scenery surrounding his island training camp.

He likes his pitching prospects and takes the rest of the team for granted.

New Pitchers Strengthen Club

"We have been strengthened by the pitchers we got from other National League clubs," he said.

"Bob Smith not only is a good pitcher but he can hit—he's the ninth man on your ball club. And in a pinch he could play the infield or outfield. Jake May and Lester Sweetland have their points, too."

There are shadows cast across the well ventilated practice field at Avalon and not all of them come from the mountains retreating from the sea. Some of the dark spots on the diamond are the forms of officials of the Los Angeles club, child of the Cubs, standing by to pick up the players the mother club does not need.

Hornsby has at least one problem other than picking players. When that task is accomplished he must arrange them in a batting order, if he uses limited speed assets to the fullest, as he will try to do, his choice of a leadoff man may be limited to two men, Cuyler and English.

Ban Johnson Is Sinking Rapidly

ST. LOUIS, March 5. (AP) — Ban Johnson, former head of the American League, was sinking slowly and his condition was described as "low," tonight. Johnson was weaker this morning than he had been at any time previous.

Poole Harrison, Tahoka To Join Fort Worth Cats

TAHOKA, March 5. (Special) — Poole Harrison, Tahoka, has signed a contract to play with the Fort Worth Cats in the Texas League during the coming season. Harrison was a member of the Tahoka club which won the South Plains League championship last summer and which team held the Cats to a 2-to-1 score in a post season game two years ago.

Chuck Collins, football coach at North Carolina, playing end at Notre Dame never scored a touchdown during his college career.

Cats And Buffs Prepare For Texas League Fight

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, March 5.—Manager Art Phelan and a handful of other Cats jumped the gun on the spring baseball training this afternoon. None was to start work until Monday but six of them couldn't resist the temptation to begin. Besides the skipper, Eddie Moore, Ed Brown, Dick McCabe, Leon Chagnon and Parker Perry worked out.

All pitchers and catchers are due Monday but some of them are expected tomorrow and Saturday. The infielders and outfielders are not required to begin work for another ten days.

BUFFS TO MEET WHITE SOX

HOUSTON, March 5.—The Buff "Regulars" today were given excellent pitching by a brace of rookie chunkers, Dean of San Antonio, and Sanders of Mason, and whipped the "rookies" 10 to 3. A large number of rail birds saw the practice tilt, Indicating large crowds will turn out here Saturday and Sunday when Manager Donnie Bush brings his Chicago White Sox to town.

Dean and Sanders, likely right handers, looked good on the hill. Paul Dean is a young brother of "Dizzy" Dean, former Houston pitcher, now with the Cardinals. Dean and Sanders each went three rounds.

State Committee Named By Hyde

WASHINGTON, March 5. (AP) — Secretary Hyde today announced appointment of state advisory committees to pass on loans from the $20,000,000 supplemental drouth relief appropriation.

These committees are charged with investigation of the organization of new agricultural credit corporations or livestock loan associations and will perform a similar service when existing companies of that kind apply for funds to increase their capital stock.

The committees include:

Texas: Nathan Adams, First National Bank, Dallas; J. F. Lucey, Dallas; R. W. Harding, Fort Worth National Bank, Fort Worth.

Crowd Boos As Primo Carnera Wins Decision

Italian Man Mountain Forced To Win Close Decision Over Fighting Jimmy Malone In Final Miami Winter Go

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN STADIUM, Miami, Fla., March 5. (AP)—The battle of the cracked rib, much after the fashion of a musical comedy, came to a clamorous climax tonight as ponderous Primo Carnera won a disputed decision from Jimmy Maloney, the veteran Boston Irishman.

The big Italian's glove was lifted in token of victory by Referee Elmer (Slim) McClelland of Detroit after ten bristling rounds.

Crowd In Outburst

The decision which officially evened Carnera's score with Maloney in two bouts was greeted by a sustained outburst of booing from the crowd, estimated at 20,000 most of whom apparently believed the Boston Irishman had earned the verdict, even though spotting the Italian 73 1-2 pounds, two doctors and a cracked rib.

It was a close and frequently exciting battle between the game Irishman and the black-haired giant from Italy. There were no knockdowns, although Jimmy was wrestled to the floor once by his ponderous foe and Carnera himself went to his knees on another occasion on losing his balance, backing away from a punch.

No Mistaking Sympathy

Ringside critics were somewhat at variance in their conclusions, even though there was no mistaking the crowd's sympathy. Most of the experts, crediting Maloney with a stronger and more effective finish, apparently believed the worst Jimmy could have received was a draw.

The Associated Press score sheet gave Maloney five rounds, Carnera three and two even. Jimmy was credited with the fifth, sixth, seventh, ninth and tenth, Carnera with the first three. The fourth and eighth appeared even. From the same side of the ring, Ben Davis, veteran member of the Miami boxing commission's staff of judges, unofficially scored five rounds for Maloney, four for Carnera and one even.

Training Camp Gossip

VETERAN A'S PLAY CATCH
(By The Associated Press)

FORT MYERS, Fla., March 5.—After an early morning downpour Terry field was in fair condition this afternoon for two hours hard practice by the Philadelphia Athletics.

The veterans, Boley, Foxx and Dykes, kept the brakes on in a chilly breeze and played catch behind the screen, while Coach Gleason kept the youngsters stepping for his choppy grounders and sudden drives.

BROWNS IN SCRIMMAGE

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla.,—Bill Killefer surprised every one in the Brown's camp here today when he divided his squad for a five inning exhibition game. The score was 2-2. The players were eager for the game as the routine practice had become somewhat tiresome. Goose Goslin led one team while Jim Austin was in charge of the other.

CARDS LIKE NEW BALL

BRADENTON, Fla., Gabby Street and the Cardinals tested the new National League baseball for John A. Heydler, league executive today and informed him after experiments they considered it far superior to the old model.

Street batted the new ball half an hour and when he had finished he said the new ball carried as far as the old one and was in better condition after clouted about. Cardinals pitchers agreed the new ball was easier to curve and control.

VELTMAN LEAVES TEXAS

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.,—Arthur Veltman, recruit catcher and the last of the Boston Braves' holdouts, today notified Manager Bill McKechnie he had left his Texas home and was enroute to the training camp.

McKechnie drove his squad through two and a half hours of batting and field practice.

REDS ARE FLOPS AT BATTING

TAMPA, Fla.,—Far behind several other major league clubs in spring training advancement due to inclement weather, the Cincinnati Reds today had their first batting practice of the season on a damp and chilly field. The sluggers, if any are in camp, were a distinct flop on their initial appearance at the plate.

COMISKEY LOOKS SOX OVER

SAN ANTONIO. — Charles A. Comiskey, owner of the Chicago White Sox, had his first look today at the 1931 edition of the club. Whatever his opinions were, he kept them to himself, but asked lots of questions.

Smead Jolley, the big outfielder, arrived in camp and immediately started blasting the baseball, driving two out of the park in his first workout.

OWNER LECTURES RED SOX

PENSACOLA, Fla.—The Boston Red Sox practice session was cut short here today to give Owner Bob Quinn a chance to get acquainted with his hired hands. The usually genial prexy gave his players a stern lecture, which included a warning that all must obey Manager "Shano" Collins to the last letter. He advised the latter to draw up a list of strict training rules, the lack of which, he said, had kept his team in the American League cellar too many years.

PHILS ADD AND SUBTRACT

WINTER HAVEN, Fla.,—One man was added to the Phillies squad today and another was substracted. Pinky Whitney, star third sacker, is the new arrival. Chet Nichols is the player who left. Nichols, who has had trouble with his arm since last summer, became discouraged after workout here a few days and obtained permission from Manager Shotton to return home.

The first fielding drill of the training season was held today.

NEW BALL WINS COMMENT

BILOXI, Miss., — After having handled the new ball more than a week, a majority of veteran Washington pitchers think it will add materially to the effectiveness of a moundsman.

The raised seams, making for wider hooks, are believed responsible for the fact several of the young flinger were suspected of trying benders when they were supposed to use nothing but straight stuff in serving them up in batting practice.

Walter Johnson, on the other hand doesn't see much difference the ball.

PIRATES TRY SLIDING

PASO ROBLES, Calif.—The spring course in baseball offered at the camp of the Pittsburgh Pirates has advanced to base sliding. Manager Jewel Ens today sent his charges through a long workout in which the art of "hitting the dirt" was stressed.

Bill Regan, infielder, has joined the casualty ranks. He wrenched an ankle while walking outside the Pirate hotel last evening. Pitcher Steve Swetonic was on the way to Pittsburgh tonight for a possible operation on an injured elbow which may keep him inactive a long time.

Six Hurt As Tree Crashes

San Antonio Ceremonies Are Interrupted When A Huge Tree Falls Into Midst Of Worshiping Crowd

SAN ANTONIO, March 5. (AP)—While 15,000 worshipers knelt in silent reverence as Archbishop Albert T. Daeger conducted a military pontifical high mass on military plaza at the rear of San Fernando cathedral today, the topmost tuft of a swaying palm tree crashed forty feet to the ground in the midst of the dense throng, injuring six and nearly causing a panic.

Hundreds of worshipers near the tree rose to their feet frightened and confused as the heavy tuft struck two women and a babe in arms, knocking them to the pavement. Quiet was soon restored, however, as firemen hurried through the crowd to the aid of the victims.

Taken To Hospitals

Mrs. B. J. Kutac, 24, her 18 months old daughter and Mrs. Josephine Kolodziej, 57 were taken to the county hospitals.

The victims were discharged after an examination at the hospital revealed that they were suffering only from slight bruises and shock.

Patrick Cardinal Hayes of New York attended the services and took part.

The other three injured persons were Petra Garza, slight finger laceration and bruise on shoulder; Mrs. Alex Garza, neck and left shoulder bruised, and Mary Martinez, left shoulder bruised.

Pacific Fleet Is Off Panama Coast

U. S. S. ARKANSAS, March 5. (AP) Steaming through the tropical Pacific off the southern coast of Panama, the United States fleet continued its maneuvers today after a mock battle in the night.

Just before sunset yesterday a group of cruisers and destroyers broke formation and left the fleet behind. Late at night they came back at full speed to attack. The outer guards picked them up under a brilliant tropic moon and opened fire with searchlights.

The attackers came on, driving straight for the battleships which fired blank cartridges and pierced the targets with searchlights.

The enemy survived the fire, however, and when the umpire ended the battle all ships turned on their lights and swung into fleet formation.

Something To Remember Al By!

Scarface Al Capone, "Public Enemy No. 1", gave the Chicago police something to remember him by, when he was "mugged" like any other prisoner following his recent arrest and conviction on contempt of court charges. Rites Today For Amherst Woman

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the Amherst Methodist church for Mrs. L. B. Smallwood, wife of the Rev. L. B. Smallwood, pastor of that church. Mrs. Smallwood died in a Lubbock sanitarium Thursday morning following a long illness. She had been confined here for more than three months.

Burial will be in the Amherst cemetery with Rix-Sanders of Lubbock in charge of arrangements.

The husband and one daughter, Gabie May, nine months old, survive.

Rev. Smallwood has been a member of the Northwest Texas Methodist conference for a number of years and is widely known over the section. He has served as pastor at Lakeview, White Deer, Stratford, Rule, Matador and Claude.

TWO FATALLY BURNED

VICTORIA, March. 5 (AP)—Charles Mayhall, 22, of Port Lavaca, was burned fatally late yesterday and H. Greeson, 38, also of Port Lavaca, received burns expected to cause his death, in an explosion in a water tank at Port O'Connor. Both were brought here to a hospital, where Mayhall died last night. N. McLure, Port O'Connor water superintendent, was less seriously hurt.

Farmers Warned By F. P. Holland

AUSTIN, March 5. (AP)—Frank P. Holland, jr., of Dallas, vice president and general manager of Holland's Magazine, in addressing the senate today, sounded a warning note to cotton farmers.

Holland said there had been a heavy carry-over in bales from the 1930 crop into 1931 and if farmers did not reduce their cotton acreage in 1931 there would be two cotton crops on the market this fall.

Holland stressed diversification. He emphasized planting of much feed and raising of live stock.

Heavy Blow Is Dealt Family

Misfortune Follows Debusk Family At Sweetwater; One Accidentally Shot After A Series Of Holdups

SWEETWATER, March 5. (AP) — Misfortune is dealing heavy blows at the Debusk family of Sweetwater. Virgil Debusk, truck driver, 29, accidentally shot himself in the body last night while doing bodyguard duty for a brother, Roy, who has been assaulted and robbed three times within two months. Virgil was loading a 25-calibre automatic revolver when the weapon was discharged, one bullet piercing the stomach. Doctors pronounced his condition critical.

The brothers have made their home with their mother following the death of their father last fall. Roy Debusk operates a tourist camp on the Bankhead highway east of the city. Two months ago he was slugged and his place robbed by three men. A short time later three men again entered, rushing the camp office at night, binding Debusk in chains and tossing him out on the highway, and rifling his gasoline pump. Only one man was involved in the third attack, committed ten days ago. Debusk was surprised at work, attacked from behind, and hit over the head with a pistol.

The case has baffled officers here.

Dish Menu Shown At Acuff Meeting

Demonstration of a dish menu featured a meeting of the Acuff Women's Home Demonstration club Wednesday at the home of Mrs. E. P. Reeves. Miss Ruth Stockton, Lubbock county home demonstration agent, attended the meeting.

The main dish consisted of meat, potatoes, tomatoes, and onions. Two salads were prepared to show what could be done with the vegetables available. Carrot-raisin and carrot-turnip-onion salads were made and placed on lettuce leaves. Sandwiches of home-made cheese also were served.

"Acuff has many fresh vegetables in the garden now," Miss Stockton reported.

"Vegetables now growing in the gardens include carrots, turnips, lettuce, onions, Swiss chard, spinach, and mustard. All of these could be grown in a hotbed no matter what kind of winter we might have.

"In addition to these vegetables, which many club members have, Mrs. Moore has stored collards and cauliflower. These were turned upside down in a trench and earth thrown over them.

"These women report having fresh vegetables since early last spring. This is due partly to the unusual winter, but every one can have these vegetables in their hotbeds."

"I've circled the globe with the Fleet —says Chesterfield

© 1931, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Yet you'll find me at the crossroads store"

When Jack's ashore he's liable to be going several places at once! But there's one thing Navy men can get together on—whether in Hong Kong, Seattle, or Newtown Center: Taste is what they want in their cigarettes—the taste that comes from milder and better tobaccos, and from nothing else! They know their cigarettes, these men of the fleet. That's why Chesterfield is the Navy's choice!

They Satisfy —that's Why!

FOR NINETEEN years, our Research Department has kept intimate touch with every new development of Science that could be applied to the manufacture of cigarettes. During this period there has been no development of tested value or importance to the smoker which we have not incorporated into the making of Chesterfield cigarettes.

Storms Wreak Heavy Damage

Loss Estimated At $3,000,000; Major Scene Of Damage Centered Around Boston Though Other Areas Hit

BOSTON, March 5. (AP) — Twice within 12 hours extremely high tides have been churned into raging floods by a powerful onshore gale to wreak tremendous damage along the coast of Boston and vicinity.

Damage from yesterday morning's flood was estimated at $3,000,000. The loss was greatly increased by a second flood shortly before midnight.

Hundreds were driven from homes in various communities.

More than 200 were left homeless in Revere alone. The Red Cross supplied 200 cots and the city furnished food for the refugees many of whom had not been able to return to their homes from work or school.

Only an occasional building remained in many of the summer colonies along the north and south shores.

The affected places included the north shore communities of Winthrop, Revere, Lynn and Nahant and, on the south shore Hull, Nantasket and Permerton.

A full moon brought the tide to a record high shortly before midnight and water flowed through the streets with an increasing toll in damage.

The waterfront streets in Boston were heavily inundated. Water was two feet deep in stores.

Portland, Me., Lynn, Gloucester, Marblehead and scores of other communities felt the fury of the gale but the brunt of last night's damage was apparently centered in the vicinity of Boston.

Yesterday's tide, normally expected to reach a height of 11 feet, was swollen to 13 feet 8 inches.

INJURIES ARE FATAL

PORT ARTHUR, March 5. (AP)—J. H. Courville died this morning of burns received in an explosion at the Texas company here Wednesday. Morice J. Goulas died shortly after the explosion. Two others injured are expected to recover.

As Rescuers Sought Quake Dead

At least a dozen nurses died in the ruins of this building at Napier, New Zealand, recently destroyed by an earthquake. Sailors are seen digging in the debris for bodies. The tangled wreckage of this demolished nurses' home is typical of the ruin which killed scores and left many homeless.

Peace Terms Made Public

Text Reveals Incorporation Of The Give-And-Take Policy Which Ruled Negotiations; Promises Obtained

NEW DELHI, India, March 5. (AP) The terms on which John Bull and Mother India will resume a speaking acquaintance were made public today, but the way to the altar remained fraught with bypaths to dissension.

Mahatma Gandhi ordered the termination of the civil disobedience campaign and Lord Irwin moved to revoke the statutes against those who waged it, pending the next turn of the wheel of India's fate.

The results of tedious negotiations between Viceroy Irwin and Mahatma Gandhi formed a basis on which leaders of Britain and of India hope in the future to reach an accord, definitely ending the restlessness which has surged through India.

Terms Are Announced.

The text of the agreement, published simultaneously here and in London, revealed an incorporation of the "give-and-take" policy which ruled the negotiations. Gandhi obtained Britain's promise to release non-violent political prisoners; to permit the manufacture of salt in certain restricted areas; to repeal statutes applied to all who practiced civil disobedience and permitting non-violent picketing.

The concessions made by Gandhi included the lifting of the boycott against Britain; the cessation of civil disobedience and the withdrawal of demands for an investigation into police brutalities.

Other terms of the pact deal with disposition of property confiscated by reason of the owners' failure to pay taxes. These terms are subject to future arbitration.

The scene is thus set for a second round-table conference in which all castes and classes in India will seek to find a solution.

Despite the optimism shown on all sides at the signing of the text, the problem of reaching a united idea on India's needs from her widely separated peoples remains to be solved.

REDUCTION ANNOUNCED

NEODESHA, Kan., March 5. (AP) The Standard Oil company of Kansas announced today a reduction in the prices to be paid for crude oil ranging from 22 cent reduction on low gravity oils to 40 cents reduction on higher gravities.

THROWN IN DEADLOCK

AUSTIN, March 5. (AP)—The senate and house were thrown into their second deadlock within a week today over appropriations when the senate passed out a substitute for a house bill covering departmental, eleemosynary and educational institution deficiencies.

The differences in the two bills was approximately $550,000.

Drouth Relief Is Considered

Bill To Permit Commissioners Court To Appropriate Money For Relief Will Be Given Action Today

AUSTIN, March 5. (AP) — Drouth relief for Texas farmers occupied the legislative spotlight today as the house started consideration of the bill by Senator Cunningham to permit county commissioners' courts to appropriate money to buy stock and feed for destitute farmers. The bill was passed several days ago in the senate.

The bill struck a snag when Rep. Greathouse of Fort Worth raised the point of order that it violated the constitution. Greathouse contended the state was the only agency that could appropriate money for private purposes.

Discussion Stopped

The bill came up when Rep. Scott of Sweetwater asked unanimous consent that it be considered. Objection was made by Rep. Kennedy of Kosse and Rep. De Wolfe of Goldthwaite moved it be set for special order at 3:50 today. It then was 3:29 and the bill was taken up immediately but discussion was stopped by the point of order.

Speaker Fred Minor said he believed the bill constitutional under another provision of the constitution referring to action in public calamities.

After several minutes discussion, Scott withdrew the bill and moved it be set for special order at 3:50. The motion carried and the bill will be on the calendar for action in the morning.

Crowds Continue To Swarm Lindsey To See Local Talent Picture; To End Today

Crowds continued to swarm to the Lindsey theater Thursday afternoon and night to see "A Romance of Lubbock", home talent motion picture. The picture will be presented today and tonight for the last times.

Apparently anxious to catch a glimpse of themselves in the movies, hundreds of Lubbock moviegoers viewed the film the least two-days, boosting the usual attendance at both matinee and night performances. Management of the Lindsey theater is expecting a still larger attendance today.

Shows Local Scenes

Produced here in Lubbock, "A Romance of Lubbock" shows many scenes of local interest. Two thousand Lubbock persons are included in the cast, despite the fact that the film is brief.

Frances Gunn and Brooks Penney are co-stars of the production, with Mildred Price and Raymond Pfluger playing important roles.

The picture starts with a group of kiddies fishing at the country club. Two are in love and one of the juvenile lovers has to leave—heartbroken, of course. Years later he returns to Lubbock, a stranger. He goes to see A. B. Davis, manager of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, and asks for information about the town. Davis takes him over the city. They inspect the airport, take an air ride over the city, visit Technological college, and various local churches.

Street scenes, civic clubs, Mickey Mouse club members, principal buildings and churchgoers are included.

The stranger meets Mildred Price and Frances Gunn. With the latter it is love at first sight and their romance soon ripens when they were the childhood lovers of the first scenes. After-married life scenes are climaxed with the baby basket gag—the basket containing a cute little puppy.

Unemployment Is Pending In China

HONGKONG, March 5. (AP)—Repatriation of more than 400,000 Chinese laborers from the Straits settlements has created an unemployment situation in this city and Canton unparalleled in modern times. There is little between them and starvation.

Thrown out of work by slumps in tin and rubber on the Malay peninsula, those jobless Chinese were deported to their own country by the British authorities at Singapore.

The Cantonese government provided a few gunboats and a half dozen small merchant steamers.

About 90 per cent of the deported men on arrival here had only the few dollars given them when they left Singapore.

Woman Freed On Bond In Shooting

MOUNT PLEASANT, March 5. (AP)—Mrs. Henry Thompson, 16, was at liberty under $1,000 bond today in connection with the fatal shooting Tuesday of her 25-year-old husband, Thompson was killed at the home of his wife's brother-in-law, Ray Barto, Mrs. Thompson went there with her one-year-old baby last October after an estrangement from her husband. A man who relatives of Thompson claimed fired the fatal shot was held in the Titus county jail. Mrs. Thompson's statement to officers did not agree with that of those relatives.

PARIS, March 5. (AP)—The French senate today unanimously ratified the League of Nations general arbitration act.

The arbitration act is a general provision for peaceful settlement of all international disputes. It is one of the most far reaching instruments the league has evolved, providing the machinery for compulsory settlement of quarrels by conciliation.

SHOULD THE CHILDREN EAT IT?

PARENTS, particularly mothers, are paying a lot of attention to children's diet these days. For it is far more economical and pleasant to keep a child well by feeding him correctly than by nursing and doctoring him back to health.

Of course the doctor should be consulted regarding what a child should eat and what he should not eat. But do you realize that the leading manufacturers of food now seek the advice and approval of the leading nutritional authorities in the country, relative to the claims they make for their products in their advertising?

In other words, food advertisements are reliable sources of information regarding diet. They are based upon the results of the latest approved scientific discoveries about vitamins, minerals and roughage, in relation to vigorous bodies, clear complexions, sound teeth and properly regulated systems.

So read these advertisements carefully. Consult your doctor about them. Very often the advertiser invites you to do this because he has asked authorities, whom your doctor respects, about those advertisements first.

For Ginger's Sake

ent love and deep respect.

To Jenky, almost with tears in his yes, he presented a roll of black ilk sufficient for a new dress and aybe two, and a lace collar, imorted.

For Ben he had a new cane with solid silver top and his initials onogrammed on it in an elaborate esign. "For Sundays", Benito said esoundingly.

To Bard, who was partital to art, ad brought a large framed lithoraph of one of Rubens' most lamboyant court pictures and a set f water-color paints in a brunt ood box.

Ginger received a long strand of lue beads to match her eyes, a ilk handkerchief and a very brilent velvet rose "for her hat." Anlo and Pietro drew soft shirts ist like Mr. Baird's," but a great al more startling in color and ttern.

In addition, Angelo's mother had nt him a huge cake with his name rinted on the white frosting in k letters and three bottles of— Italian grape juice, which Anlo immediately served to the enre party as a thanksgiving for the afe return of their dear friend.

They laughed, they talked, they lapped one another's shoulders. enny brandished his silver headed ane with a rakish air, and Jenky ut the imported lace collar on over er house dress just to prove her estival spirit, and Bard, beside Ginger, cautioned her not to imbibe oo freely of the Italian grape juice hich was a bit different in effect rom regular American. The Italians licked their glasses, Angelo tried ut the redeemed violin and found t as good as new, Benito burst into repressible song.

"Who once has kissed it
This magic brink
Cannot resist it
Ever must drink."

And as the spontaneous applause of his friends elevated still higher both his pride and his blood-pressure, he swept grandly into the talian.

"Chi all'esca ha morso
Del ditti rambo
Spavaldo e strambo
Beva can te."

"Isn't it fun, Bard?" whispered Ginger happily. "Isn't everything nice?"

"Everything's nicer than just plain heaven."

And they smiled into each other's yes and believed it.

But Benito, for all his joy in his reunion with his friends, did ot forget that he had other interests around the place, and in a few inutes he wandered out alone.

The others, watching affectionately from the windows, saw him proceed slowly from bird-house to bird-house, shaking his head regretfully for those that continued empty, chirruping joyously to those that sheltered little feathered tenants. He had brought presents for them, too, a small glass water bowl for each house and a bag of Canada peas, with a small can of hemp seed as a special treat.

Presently, from far off in the woods they heard his great voice.

"Come, look!" he shouted. "Quick, come, look!"

Ginger and Bard, to please him, ran down the wood path, hand in hand, and presently came up to him, dancing immensely but noiselessly beside the hedge.

"Look, see!" he chortled. "See what I got in this nest in the hedge. Thrushes, two thrushes, a Mrs. and Mr. Look—two eggs! I like thrushes. You know what? I'm going to build me a big house down by the boat-landing. Maybe some river birds will fly there and raise little river birds, and we'll make it a bird reservation. I like water birds. They're sensible."

Ginger patted his hand affectionately.

"Oh, Benito," she said fondly, "my great big blessing! I'm awfully glad you came back. I don't see how we could ever get along without out you."

"A simple, sweet-hearted son of the soil, that's what he is," commented Bard, as they left him to continue his happy tour of the premises.

Benito himself was very fond of reiterating that he was a son of the soil, and so he was indeed. He loved the rich scent of loamy earth, loved the very sight of tender green things shooting tiny tendrills above the soft sod, loved all the throaty, heart-full sounds of out-of-doors, the flutter of wings, the patter of scampering wild feet, the chirp, or peep, or carol of little woodland voices.

A son of the soil, but not so simple and sweet-hearted as would seem.

"IT has the true, old-time, sugar-house flavor. I learned this blend in the Old South nearly fifty years ago," says Bill Heer. It's flavored with the finest vanilla and cane sugar syrups. But the real knack is blending at just the right times and temperatures. It's surprisingly inexpensive too!

Cotton — Prices Develop Easy Tendency; Livestock — Reaction Seen On Fat Lambs; Grain — Wheat Selling Easy Thursday

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Mar. 5. (AP)—A rather quiet tone prevailed in the cotton market during most of today's session and prices developed an easier tendency. Cables from Liverpool were rather lower than due but the market here opened irregular 1 point down to 1 up. There was a slight rally of 4 points after the start on shorts covering, but as the stock market showed no rallying power and ring traders showed a disposition to sell prices gradually eased off to levels 9 to 12 points below the early highs and 4 to 8 points under the previous close. The market ruled rather easy most of the afternoon owing to a report that the chairman of the farm loan board believed that the reduction in acreage would be small, and made new lows 16 to 17 points below the highs. The market rallied 3 to 4 points at the end closing steady at net declines for the day of 6 to 9 points.

Liverpool at the start was as due to 3 penny points worse than due. Private cables stated that the continent bought but that that there was weakness on the long side owing to lower Egyptian. Manchester cabled that there was fair buying of cloth by the home trade and South America but that the Indian boycott news was indefinite. First trades here were 1 point down to 2 up and prices rallied soon after the start about 4 points on covering. Prices then started downward and before the offerings were absorbed May traded down to 11.39 and October to 11.90 or 10 to 12 points below the early highs and 4 to 8 points under the previous close.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, March 5. (AP)—An early advance in cotton on relatively steady Liverpool cables today was followed by reactions under this realizing combined with some scattered selling which was accompanied by talk of an easier technical position and expressions of uncertainty as to the extent of the prospective reduction in acreage. May contracts after advancing to 11.49 sold off to 11.33 or 10 points net lower, but met trade buying at the decline and closed at 11.37. The general market closed steady at net declines of 6-9 points.

The opening was steady 1-3 points higher on the steadiness of Liverpool which stiffened up just before trading here started, and reports of comparatively light offerings. Trading was quiet, but the buying became a little more active after the call, and prices worked up to 11.38 for March and 12.03 for December later in the morning, or about 5-6 points net higher. The demand then tapered off and prices sagged during the middle of the day under realizing or liquidation combined with some southern and local selling.

March sold off to 11.11 and October to 11.87 under the offerings which were supposed to come partly from brokers operating for the cooperative interests, with the market showing net losses of about 9-12 points during the middle of the afternoon. This dip seemed to meet an increased trade demand, attributed partly to houses with Japanese and Indian connection, however, and the market stiffened up 3 or 4 points from the lowest in the late trading.

Dances A Feature

Four danc numbers were featured in an entertainment program which preceded the regular post meeting. Three girls, Doris Gore, Geneva Keen and Bessie Hargraves, presented a tap dance number, followed by Lewis Walker and Flora May Cook in a waltz. Walker presented the "Chicken Reel" as the next tap dance and all four dancers participated in the final number. Harold Gore was at the piano.

George Meiser gave a humorous account of his appearance before a Dallas police judge and followed with a "nasalphone" solo.

Louella Johnson sang a solo.

J. A. Raley, Jr., was in charge of the program.

Hung Jury Results In Trial Here On Thursday Afternoon

A hung jury resulted in the trial of J. B. Strong, charged with selling milk without a city permit, in the corporation court Thursday afternoon.

Strong, who lives just south of the city limits, testified that he was a farmer, not a dairyman, though he admitted having and milking 13 cows.

"I didn't know I had to have a permit to sell buttermilk," he said.

Strong was first reported to be selling milk without a city permit on February 5, 1931.

Stock Market Comes Back After A Week Of Decline; Vigorous Rally

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, March 5. (AP)—After a week of decline, the stock market felt entitled to a rally today and came back vigorously.

The new short interest created during the recent weakness of the rails and industrials was prodded into covering by bullish operations in the steels and utilities and with exception of the first hour or so the market was higher all day. Net gains of 1-4 points liberally were sprinkled through the prominent leaders. Trading, however, relatively was quiet, and the turnover of 2,700,000 shares was the smallest in a fortnight.

Industrials made a tardy response to yesterday's steel trade news, while utilities more emphatically expressed their relief at adjournment of congress.

fic, present and future, reasonably sufficient to justify the commerce of that territory in seeking the granting of the application of the T. and P. N.

"The construction of this proposed road would only, in a limited sense, create additional rail competition in the affected area, but such competition is destrable, and the maximum development of the territory will not come without competitive railroad influence. Except in cases where the traffic of existing railroads is left undisturbed, then there will never be any further railroad development in this country."

Favors Proposal

The brief concluded with a statement that "we thoroughly believe they (existing rail lines) would receive compensating benefits from the increased prosperity of the region which not only would offset any direct loss but would give the existing lines increased business and increased prosperity for themselves."

All briefs are supposed to be filed with the I. C. C. by March 9, Christopher said. Oral arguments likely will be heard a few weeks hence, and a decision should be made by early summer, he added.

Testimony on the application was taken in a long hearing at Lubbock in December.

even cleaner place in which to live.

Workmen are being paid $2 a day for eight hours work, and it has been estimated by those in charge of the campaign that this type of employment will last from two to four weeks. Checks are issued daily; however, workmen must work a full day to receive their checks. No part time labor will be considered, chamber of commerce officials stated.

Only Local Employment

Only workmen that have families or that are helping to support families have been listed by the United Charities. Men not living in Lubbock are not considered in this plan to relieve local unemployment.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, March 5. (AP) — New upswings of the corn market gave relative poise to other cereals today. Attention focused on the corn visible supply which so far this year showed but 2,500,000 bushels increase against 19,000,000 in 1930. With blizzard weather sweeping eastward, traders were uneasy about possible interruption of the movement of corn to distributing centers.

Corn closed firm, 1-4 to 1 1-8 higher, wheat at 3-8 decline to 1-8 advance, oats 1-8 off to a shade up, and provisions unchanged to 5 down.

In view of present available commercial supplies of corn totaling only 19,000,000 bushels compared with a five year average of 36,000,000 special significance was attached to primary arrivals, 721,000 bushels against 985,000 a week ago and 789,000 at this time last year. Moreover, Chicago receipts, 198 cars, were also smaller than a year back.

Wheat and oats rallied with corn, but gains were difficult to hold. Primary receipts of 1,435,000 bushels of wheat against 880,000 a year ago tended to chill buying enthusiasm. An opposite influence, however, was announced that the grain stabilization corporation had been making daily sales to European buyers, and that the corporation soon would move 500,000 bushels out of Chicago to provide storage room for future arrivals. Late reports told of sales of United States wheat to Havre and Marseilles, France.

Opening hog trade at several points was on a firm to 15 higher basis but a late market ruled steady to 10 lower with Wednesday's average. The top of 7.65 was paid early at St. Louis for one load of fine 190 lb. averages. Offerings were around 80,000.

Chicago reported a less active demand for killing cattle at steady-25 lower prices but at most other markets packers paid fully steady values. Chicago had a top of 10.35 on weighty steers and at Kansas City the same figure was realized on choice 1108 lb. Kansas fed steers. Medium quality Oklahoma meal and bull feds in Kansas brought 7.10@7.50. At most markets packers purchased vealers downward from 7.00 and only exceeded this price on a few selected kinds. Receipts were estimated at 23,300.

"Norther"

in that state Thursday night. Relief agencies in Oklahoma City were making ready for the cold snap, it was said, by preparing to house the needy in vacant buildings.

The "norther" which hit Texas, originated in the Rocky mountains where it covered Colorado, Wyoming and Montana with a heavy blanket of snow before it raced eastward and south into the middle western and southern states.

No snow had been reported in Texas at midnight Thursday.

Storm Races Eastward From Rocky Mountains

DENVER, March 5. (AP)—A Rocky mountain blizzard which covered Colorado, Wyoming and Montana with a blanket of snow, blocking highways and hampering air travel subsided somewhat tonight as the storm raced eastward into the central states.

Snow and below freezing temperatures were forecast tonight and tomorrow for parts of Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas, Missouri, Illinois, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Texas with a sharp drop predicted for Colorado and Wyoming. For Friday, the weather bureau forecast fair and colder for most of the Rocky mountain states.

Driven By Wind

Driven by a high wind, the storm lashed Wyoming today, swept into Colorado and continued on south and southwest, reaching the northern and eastern part of New Mexico this afternoon.

Only snow flurries remained with a moderate wind in the Rocky mountain sector tonight with a cold wave dogging the heels of the storm. Evanston, Wyoming reported zero, while Sheridan had 16 above. Temperatures in Colorado also were falling tonight.

Slippery pavements and snow covered wind shields were responsible for five accidents in Denver, in which eight persons were injured.

Strikers Seek Burcau's Aid

More Than 1,000 Strikers In New Orleans Are Fed By Use of Soup Kitchen Opened At Union Headquarters

NEW ORLEANS, March 5. (AP) — Aid of the American Federation of Labor was asked today by leaders of the striking longshoremen here as the walkout against reduced wages entered its eleventh day.

The first fatality of the strike occurred yesterday when a negro foreman was shot on a dock. The slayer escaped. Previously there have been several broken heads and some pistol wounds in clashes of strikers and workers.

More than 1,000 strikers were fed yesterday in a soup kitchen opened by the union headquarters on Felicity street. Meanwhile, the New Orleans Steamship association continued in its refusal to confer with union leaders and reiterated that all ships in port were being worked.

Edward F. McGrady, national legislative representative of the American Federation of Labor, is expected to arrive from Washington Friday to assist union leaders in an advisory capacity.

ian and police escorts while they make ready and engage in the business of parading.

A local band of musicians in uniform will head the procession as it treks down Broadway, over to 13th street and back to Main, winding up in front of the Palace theater.

Mickey Mouse, the idol, will appear in the ritualistic all-squeakie, "Pirates," supported by a cast of his sweetheart, Minnie Mouse, and their baryard compatriots. As an added comedy feature, Slim Summerville will appear an in a two-reeler, all-talkie, "On the Front," and a regular feature movie, "Captain Thunder," will follow.

It is announced by promoters that pictures will be made of the parade and all boys and girls who attended the first meeting of the club in its organization are invited and urged to be present. Copies of the theme song will be handed the members, who will gain admittance to the theater by presenting their membership cards and their weekly dues, 10 cents.

Officers To Investigate The Death Of Woman In Fire

STREETMAN, March 5. (AP) — A mysterious fire in which Mrs. J. Duff Hall, 61, described as a wealthy widow, lost her life drew the attention of Freestone county authorities tonight.

Mrs. Hall was burned to death when fire destroyed the home of Roy DeWolfe two and one-half miles south of Streetman this morning. A few charred remnants of her body were found near the back door to the kitchen, and beside them lay a can of oil, a shot gun and a hammer.

Blackmail Letter Is Received Thursday By Fort Worth Man

FORT WORTH, March 5. (AP)—A threat to "blow up the whole Baird bunch" unless D. C. Baird of Mrs. Baird's bakeries paid the writer $1,000 was contained in a letter addressed to Baird and turned over to the sheriff's office tonight. The letter was directed to Baird's former address and was delivered later to the bakery. An employee opened it and turned it over to the sheriff. Baird now is en route to Philadelphia.

The letter was written in pencil and signed "I mean business."

Iowa U. Critic

Verne Marshall, managing editor of the Cedar Rapids (Iowa) Gazette, is an important witness in the state legislature's investigation of financial affairs at Iowa University. The newspaperman made a long investigation of the university's handling of state funds, especially its "slush fund athletic scandal" in 1929, and President Walter A. Jessup's administration came in for severe criticism in his charges.

Demo Session

teeman.

"I have been brought up in the democratic party to believe that the platform comes from the people," he continued.

Turning again to Senator Robisn, but this time with a smile, Smith said:

"I am sorry to think that my old time traveling companion and political sparring partner, who traveled all over the state of New York in 1928 with a constitution in his hand explaining to the people that all this republican propaganda of what we would do couldn't happen, is going off here today without an understanding of what was said by our chairman. If there is anything that could give greater comfort to President Hoover and his cohorts than what has happened here today I don't know what it could be.

Nothing Against Repeal

"No one has said anything about repeal. In fact, something was said against repeal.

"As far as the principles enunciated by Mr. Raskob are concerned I want to say I never heard of them until today and I'm not sure that I'm for them all.

"But when the democratic party reaches the point where no one can express an opinion and its chairman is going to be dragged around the lot because he expressed his opinion we'd better stop talking and abandon free speech."

Robison was just as firm in his conviction that Raskob in bringing forward a platform at this time, including the liquor issue, had "paid back" to President Hoover "the aid rendered by him (Hoover) in his first two years of office to the democratic party."

Turning to Chairman Raskob, the Arkansas senator thundered:

"You can not write on the banner of the democratic party the skull and crossbones emblematical of an outlawed trade and expect the party to accept your recommendations without resistance.

Parties Are Divided

"If I had taken this platform either as a member of the committee or as a member of the party and suggested such a recommendation on the Eighteenth amendment it would have been taken by the chairman as needless interference. This is a subject on which both political parties are divided. The only way in which the republican party can hope for victory is to rely on the lack of wisdom of those who lead the democratic party.

"I repudiate insofar as I as a member of the party can repudiate the effort of the national chairman to submerge all other issues and to bring prominently to the front one about which he knows the 'democrats entertain conflicting opinion.'

"When the chairman talks about modifying the anti-trust law so as to give big business absolute immunity, let it be recalled that under such a present rule now our country has come to the worse situation in its history.

"Is the democratic convention to be urged to adopt a policy that cannot be distinguished from the policy of the party now in power? It may be done. I do not think it will be done by the members with proxies gathered from the wind-swept corners of the earth."

After Cox had spoken, Chairman Raskob declared the discussion at an end. He called for any other recommendations that might be submitted and none was offered.

But when he then brought up the plan for raising the committee's half-million dollar debt there was such an exodus from the room that it required almost 30 minutes to restore order and bring the committee back to the serious talk of money.

A plan for raising $1,500,000 prior to the next convention was submitted and approved.

When Arthur Mullen of Nebraska, offered a resolution of thanks to Mr. Raskob and Jouett Shouse, executive director of the committee, it was with Senator Morrison alone voicing an objection.

Goal Set For Next Campaign

WASHINGTON, March 5. (AP)—A $6,000,000 campaign chest will be sought by the democrats in their effort to return to power in 1932.

Plans for raising this sum were approved today by the national committee. It will be used in wiping out the present $600,000 deficit and for the presidential campaign next year.

The committee gave unanimous approval to a proposal for a commercial concern to raise the money. The plan calls for obtaining $1,500,000 within the next few months to cover the deficit and for initial outlays for the coming campaign. A preliminary goal of $1,000,000 was set.

Trade Expert Speaks Here

Representative Of Los Angeles Chamber Of Commerce Pleas For Support Of Texans In Behalf Of California

Urging Texans to buy the produce of one of their greatest customers, William L. Ware, trade commissioner of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, at a conference held Thursday with the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, said that last year the city of Los Angeles bought $2,500,000 worth of food stuff from Texas.

"Economic prosperity depends upon reciprocal trade between our respective communities," Mr. Ware said in asking the people of Texas to make the manufacturies of Los Angeles their preference.

Mr. Ware was most enthusiastic over Texas in general and West Texas in particular. He was impressed by what he termed "a combination of the spirit of the west and the courtesy of the south" as found in this section of the United States.

Praises Local C. Of C.

Mr. Ware said that information obtained from the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce within a few moments this morning was "the most complete and accurate survey of a city and its trade territory that I've been able to obtain in Texas." He had been in El Paso, Fort Worth, Dallas, Houston and other metropolitan centers before arriving here.

Lubbock is the thirty-sixth city on his Texas itinerary, which includes 38 cities. Mr. Ware expects to complete the work at San Angelo next Monday or Tuesday, he said. His surveys included the citrus groves and the Rio Grande valley generally, Texas' seaports, the newly opened oil fields in East Texas, and virtually every other aspect of the state's commercial, agricultural and civic life.

Finds Courtesies

In Texas, Mr. Ware found "capable business men who yet have time for little courtesies."

Californians are known for their state consciousness. The Los Angeles man, however, said that he "came from California with a perfectly good California speech which has been in the bottom of my trunk since my first meeting here" and "has been talking Texas ever since."

He has accepted an invitation from a San Antonio good-will delegation, Mexico City bound, for a seat in a tri-motored plane departing from Laredo Monday morning, and will leave for the border city Saturday.

The party will reach Mexico City Monday afternoon; and after two days in the Mexican capital Ely will be flown on to the Isthmus, passing over the length of Central America.

Unique Fire Station Ends Row

"You can't build a fire station in our exclusive residential district," irate property owners of Portland, Ore., said to underwriters. . . . "Why not?" the underwriters inquired. . . . "Because it would look unsightly and entirely out of place," was the reply. . . . "Leave that to me," interrupted the fire chief; "I'll build a fire station strictly according to your restricted building code and nobody will be able to tell it from a dwelling." . . . And he did, with the result shown above. . . . And, say, will you notice the false doors to the garage that, when closed, look just like the front wall of a bungalow?

Free From Worries For Nine Months, Congressmen Are Seeking Amusement

WASHINGTON, March 5. (AP) — Free from parliamentary worries for nine long months, most members of congress were homeward bound today, but an unusually large number were detained in Washington.

The meeting of the democratic national committee, the approaching progressive conference and investigations delayed most of these. Others remained by choice, because they find it easier to rest away from their constituencies.

The recess is signally marked by absence of the usual congressional "junkets." On these members of congress travel, at government expense, investigating subjects for future legislation.

Vice-president Curtis was one of the first to leave the capital. He departed for a 10-day vacation at Miami. Republican leader Watson of the senate is remaining here for the present with future plans indefinite.

Democratic leader Robinson also is staying for a couple of weeks playing golf, attending the democratic meeting and sitting in on an investigating committee. He plans to return to Arkansas soon, however, to do a little work and rest at Hot Springs. He may go to Europe later.

Senator Borah of Idaho will remain probably until the hot weather arrives. He spends more time in Washington between sessions than most of his colleagues.

Speaker Longworth plans to stay in the capital until May, playing golf and working.

Democratic leader Garner of the house has already left for his home in Uvalde, Texas, where he will seek diversion in hunting and fishing. Republican leader Tilson of the house, soon will return to Connecticut for frequent trips to an isolated backwoods camp in northern New England.

War Burden Is Considered

Commission Meets To Work In A Plan For "Equalizing The Burdens" Of Next War; Hurley Is Chairman

WASHINGTON, March 5. (AP)—A commission composed of members of the cabinet, the senate and the house, met today to work out a plan for "equallizing the burdens" of the next war.

Secretary Hurley, chairman of the commission created by congress, announced one of the purposes of the inquiry would be to "develop policies whereby the economic burdens of war will fall with equal weight on every element of our citizenship."

Seek Reasons Why

He said the commission would seek the "reason why in the government's efforts to supply its needs in all past wars, opportunity has been presented to some individuals to reach extraordinary financial profit, while others have been called upon to bear more than a proportionate share of the burdens."

Hurley announced the appointment of Robert H. Montgomery as executive secretary of the commission.

The chairman also announced that the testimony of former Secretary of War Baker has been postponed until next week.

Advocate Conscription

Thomas Kirbby, national legislative chairman of the disabled American veterans and Paul C. Wolman national commander of the veterans of foreign wars advocated universal conscription of capital and labor in the next war.

Senator Vandenberg, Republican, Michigan, suggested mobilization of all the nation's resources would avoid many of the "perplexing problems of post-war compensation."

Chairman Hurley said the commission was forbidden under its authorizing resolution from considering the conscription of labor.

Representative McSwain, Democrat, South Carolina, said that universal draft might make other nations wary of going to war with this country and prevent elements in this country which might profit from war from agitating for it.

The Oklahoma state health department has started an inoculation campaign toa eliminate diphtheri from the state by 1932.

NEW YORK, March 5. (AP)—The unsettled conditions in the oil industry were reflected today in the annual report of the Continental Oil Co., which showed 1930 per share earnings shrunk to five cents, compared with $1.90 a share in the previous year.

Pistol Toter Is Questioned

Officers State He Must Talk About Al Capone's Financial Affairs Or They May Dig Up Some Old Charges

CHICAGO, March 5. (AP)—A pistol toter of long ago, who retired to a dude ranch in Colorado rather than continue as a figure in Chicago gang activities, today was faced by the perplexing question of whether he should talk about the financial affairs of Alphonse Capone.

He is Leland Varian, better known as Louis Alterie, said by police to have been a member of the old Dion O'Banion-Torrio-Capone gang, who went west at the suggestion of Capone back in 1925 when members of the Combine came to a parting of the ways. The government wanted to know some things about Capone's finances and looked to Alterie for some information.

Alterie was brought to Chicago but investigators who questioned him said his answers were vague and he was jailed on a charge of perjury. Officers intimated that unless he could see his way clear to become talkative they might dig up an old prohibition law charge against him. Meanwhile Capone was free on bond on a vagrancy charge, with the hearing postponed until March. 20. Capone's attorney objected to the nickname "Scarface" in the complaint, protesting the name is Alphonse and nothing more. Harry Ditchburne, assistant state's attorney agreed.

Friday and Saturday

Through a special manufacturer's co-operative plan, we have been able to procure about one hundred coats for spring wear at prices never before heard of. We have arranged them in two quick selling price groups and we earnestly advise you to make an early selection.

Every coat a fashion success and the materials of the most wanted designs. Here you will find some tweeds, basket weaves and broadcloth tastefully trimmed with fur or wide wrap-around collars. The colors run the range of the rainbow showing some very attractive pastel shades with tams to match.

Again we advise you to come early as these prices will never be equaled.
