Contests, Parade Prizes

Shopping Events Increased

Two special contests -- to select Miss Merry Christmas and Little Merry Christmas -- are new features for Colorado City's pre-holiday shopping period.

The two contests, with coronation to be Dec. 20, and a holiday parade with decorated float contest were announced Wednesday by John Billings, chairman of Colorado Chamber of Commerce merchants committee.

It is the parade -- with prizes of $50 and $25 to be awarded for best decorated floats -- which will open the pre-holiday shopping season.

Simultaneously, voting will begin for the selection of Miss and Little Merry Christmases in a community-wide voting at a penny a vote.

Proceeds from the penny voting will be donated to Ministerial Alliance for its special projects, especially its Christmas basket fund for needy families, Billings said.

Plans for the pre-holiday season have been in the development stage since early in 1969 under the leadership of Billings' committee.

As a result of this effort, $3,000 in new waterproof Christmas street decorations have been purchased by merchants and are ready for installation in time for the Nov. 20 opening events.

"Colorado City merchants, appropriate with our community's new 'Go' attitude," Billings said, "are ready to provide citizens with the best and most exciting local holiday shopping they've ever enjoyed."

"That is why the activities and decor will be at an increased tempo to keep pace with this forward spirit and to be sure our retail areas are attractive and bulging with fine, economical shopping for all our citizens," he added.

Billings said the Little Merry Christmas contest will be for contestants in the first six grades of Colorado City public schools. Each home room in Kelley Elementary, Hutchinson Elementary and Wallace Elementary will be invited to select one contestant.

Miss Merry Christmas will be selected from the top six grades of Colorado City public schools and each class -- seventh through senior will be invited to name a nominee.

Each penny contributed in the name of a candidate will count as one vote for that specific candidate.

The merchants committee has suggested that sponsoring classes and grades prepare penny-a-vote containers for their candidates to be placed in strategic locations for public convenience.

Santa Claus will be here for the Nov. 20 parade opening the holiday shopping season and will be in Civic House after the parade to greet kiddies and hand them free candy.

It is this parade in which the decorated floats will vie for $50 and $25 prizes. High school classes are being invited to prepare floats and other organizations also can participate in the contest, Billings said.

One of the major features of the pre-Christmas season will be weekly drawings for $200 in cash for persons shopping the stores and businesses of participating Colorado City merchants.

These drawings will begin Saturday, Nov. 29, and continue four consecutive weekends through Dec. 20, the last Saturday before Christmas.

Drawings will be at City National Bank parking lot of numbered tickets given away free by participating Colorado City merchants. A $100 and two $50 awards will be drawn each Saturday. If a winner is not present at the drawing, his number will be posted in participating stores and he will have until Wednesday to claim his cash.

All unclaimed cash, after Wednesday deadline, will be added to the following Saturday's drawing.

New Christmas street decorations will be 40 large lighted English-type lanterns with red bows and garlands.

The lanterns are 5-feet tall, topped by 30-inch red bow, and the large garlands extend to within six feet of the sidewalk.

Billings said the decorations will be placed on light standards on Second Street from Oak to Hickory, on Walnut from First to Sixth, on Oak from First to Sixth, on Elm from First to City National Bank corner.

The attractive Christmas tree decorations made last year by a local group under leadership of Porter Richardson will be installed this season on Hickory with their green decor accented with shiny ornaments.

Juniors' Parade Attraction

Third place winner and one of the features of Colorado High homecoming parade Friday was this float by Junior Class. Depicting war, poverty and death, the float spelled out the question -- "Will the Moon Become the Earth's Twin?"

Vaccine Coming

School Shots For Rubella

A campaign to rub out rubella, often called German measles, begins here next week on a step-by-step basis in Kelley Elementary School.

Although the rub out effort is aimed primarily to protect mothers and unborn children from German measles, it begins here with first graders -- girls first.

One hundred first grade girls will have the initial immunization shots, followed by a hundred more students each month until all of the 430-plus Kelley students are immunized.

Mrs. Mike Hammans, public health nurse for Colorado Independent School District, said the shots will be free and will be administered by the school nurse under direction of city and county health doctors.

The vaccine, effect for life, is being furnished without cost by State Department of Health, Austin.

Pupils are being informed of the program now in Kelley and information is being made available to parents.

Signed consent by a parent or guardian must be given before a child can receive the free immunization.

Rubella or German measles are different from red measles. There has been no protection against rubella until development of this new vaccine, therefore, another measles immunization given children previously is not effective against rubella.

Prime danger of rubella is in defects it may cause to an unborn child if the mother catches rubella (German type) during early pregnancy. These defects include eye cataracts, heart disease, deafness, blindness, cerebral palsy and mental retardation.

"Last major epidemic was in 1964," Mrs. Hammans said, "and resulted in 30,000 miscarriages or stillbirths and 20,000 infants born with severe defects."

"It is estimated that the care and education of these 20,000 defects to age 18 will surpass three billion dollars at present-day cost."

The nurse said school-age children are most likely to catch and spread the disease. Unprotected, expectant mothers can acquire the disease from them.

That is why the immunization program is directed at school age children.

"Public health authorities recommend an immunization program from one to 10 years," she explained, "then these moths won't be exposed and the disease threat will be almost wiped out."

There is another reason why the vaccine is recommended for the children. The history or symptoms of rubella is not reliable enough to exclude children from immunization. In other words, health officials report, the symptoms often can be mistaken for some other illness and a family and mother exposed to rubella without being aware of exposure.

In fact, laboratory diagnosis is the only positive diagnosis of rubella from some other viruses.

Epidemics of rubella peak every six to nine years. Last major epidemic was in 1964 so another is expected between 1970 and 1973.

$60,000 Plan Asked For Kindergarten Plan

Colorado Independent School District's formal application for a bilingual education program, beginning with kindergarten, is in the hands of state and federal officials.

Supt. James McMath submitted application for federal funds, ranging from $55,000 to $64,000 annually through a five-year period, to Texas Education Agency in Austin and U. S. Office of Education in Washington, D. C.

The bilingual project is proposed to meet the needs of more than one-third of the school district's children who will be five years of age for the 1970-71 school year.

Specifically, the program will be for this third who come from homes in which Spanish is the dominant language and who school officials say are economically deprived.

At present, no pre-school programs are available for Spanish speaking youngsters in this Colorado City area.

Last year the district applied for funds to develop a pilot program here in bilingual education, one of the very first within the state.

Top Winner Misses 1 Grid Guess

Mrs. Frances Prescott, 812 East 8th St., won the $10 first prize in last week's Colorado City Record football guessing contest.

She missed only one of 33 chances and predicted a 42-7 win for the Wolves over Stanton.

Other winners last week were J. V. Bolin Jr., second, and Scott Hudson, third.

Previous week's winners were (Oct. 24 weekend) Randy Kemp, $10; Tex Blankenship, $8; and Orvel Griffith, $5; (Oct. 17 weekend) Orvel Griffith, $10; E. E. Nipper of Big Spring, $8; and Scott Hudson, $5.

However, limited federal appropriations for these first pilot programs were limited and the first programs for Texas were awarded to a handful of communities who had a higher population county of Spanish-speaking families than Colorado City.

This new application has been perfected to narrow or pin-point Colorado City's bilingual program into the kindergarten and early elementary levels. Again, it has the support of Region Educational Service Center in Abilene, which originally backed this district as the pilot program for this West Texas area.

The funds are sought under Title VII of the Elementary & Secondary Education Act of 1965 for approximately 50 to 56 children next year (1970-71) who would be entering the first grade the following school year (1971-72) whose dominant language is Spanish, not English.

For this initial first-year work, the school district has projected $55,000 as needed in federal money. This amounts to $97 per expected child kindergarten participant.

This budget figure is estimated at $62,000 for the second year, $64,000 for the third, $62,000 for fourth and $60,000 for the fifth.

The Colorado District already has initiated a limited remedial program through a Title I funding program utilizing the Spanish language for Mexican-American children in Grades 1 through 3. In this program, started this year, youngsters having difficulty with language may receive support from teacher aides who are bilingual.

Lack of contact with the English culture and the English language is evident from the classroom performance of present Spanish-speaking first graders here, the application emphasizes.

A recent survey indicates that 88 per cent of the Mexican-American children live in homes where only Spanish is spoken.

This survey is supported even more by a parent advisory group of Mexican-Americans who in a consensus opinion says that difficulty in English is a major detriment to the success of their children in school and, yet, they reported unanimously they spoke Spanish to their children at home.

3 Admit Felonies

Terms Probated For 2 Defendants

Three defendants plead guilty Tuesday in 31st District Court to felony offenses.

One went to jail and the other two received probation from confinement sentence.

Sentenced to not less than 10 days nor more than six months was Shelby Chester Shannon, 52, of Colorado City, who admitted a subsequent offense of driving while intoxicated here last Aug. 23.

Judge Austin McCloud said the jail term would run from Sept. 26, thus allowing Shannon time for previous jail confinement.

Dorothy Mae McGuire Green, 27, of Colorado City, plead guilty to assault with a deadly weapon on Barbara Green and Geneva Mayes here last Aug. 19.

She received a two-year confinement term which was probated for two years subject to good behavior, which includes not drinking or possessing intoxicating liquor. She also was instructed to pay $45 in court costs within six months.

The defendant shot the two women with a pistol, but their injuries were not serious.

A three-year term was assessed Charles Edward Boone, 18, of Colorado City, who admitted burglary Sept. 23 of Shurtleff Pump Co.

Judge McCloud granted him probation for the three-year period subject to good behavior.

Trio Re-Elected

Soil District Officers

All three officers of Mitchell County Soil Conservation District were re-elected to new terms Tuesday.

They were Travis Turner, chairman; Warren Anderson, vice chairman; and Jimmy Harrison, secretary-treasurer.

Both Turner and Anderson are serving their second terms as members of the board of super-including no use of intoxicants. Boone was also instructed to pay $45 in court costs and $40 to Shurtleff within six months.

Bond of Eldon Wayne Veal, 22, of Sweetwater, was reduced from $10,000 to $5,000 to facilitate returning the man to Sweetwater to face burglary charge there.

Other members on the board are D. M. Smith and Morgan Wright.

Flag Display For Viet War Victims

Mitchell County's latest Vietnam War victims were returned home this week for funeral.

Flags waved at half mast throughout the city in memorial to the two dead soldiers and in honor of three other local service men who died in Vietnam warfare. Mayor John Chinn proclaimed the flags to be displayed until funeral rites were completed.

Funeral for Pfc. Manuel C. Martinez were conducted Tuesday afternoon in St. Ann's Catholic Church followed by military burial in Colorado City Cemetery.

Funeral for Pfc. Ralph M. Smith will be today (Thursday) at 2 p.m. in First Methodist Church with military rites at See FUNERAL Page 8

Busy Citizens

You'll just have to nominate those Black Knights of Precision, our Colorado High Wolf Band, as about the busiest citizens in our community right now.

They just finished with the homecoming parade and halftime show last week.

This week, they pile into buses Saturday morning and hurry to Odessa for Texas University Interscholastic League marching contest.

From there, they saddle up their buses again for a rush trip to Lubbock for that important district football game Saturday night with Dunbar.

And, in between when they aren't practicing or in class or doing their homework, they are helping their Band Boosters with their annual holiday cake sale.

Can you keep up with that pace?

CONVERSATION CORNER

NOVEMBER has to be a favorite month. Now in November the season is sprinkling gold dust over the trees here and there, about town.

Midas touch usually turns Chestnut and Hickory Streets to gold first, every early November. Trees in Katie Buchanan's yard rush the season every year. They were solid gold days and days ago so their leaves are on the wing now.

Texas Historical Medallion home of Lois (Mrs. Douglas) Burns is surrounded right now by an enchanted forest of golden trees.

Out at Root Memorial Hospital the still thick leaves are more like polished copper, but are still beautiful to see.

LAST LOOK quickened the pulse over a gold-plated tree standing in the yard of the Powells, Elna and Jinks, over on Cedar St.

On Hickory, Viola Powell Erwin's trees are gold filigree. There's one beauty just behind the home of Isabel Ratliff... another west of the home of Joe and Martha Earnest... Winnifred Van de Venter trees have been touched by magic... and the stately trees across the street at the home of Mrs. W. W. Rhode will take your breath.

But you'll have to hurry. November is no dawdler. And when she whistles for the wind, gold leaves will be gone with the wind, before you can say que sera, sera.

NOBODY has ever admired trees with words quite so beautifully as did the American poet Joyce Kilmer. And nobody ever will.

Most of us know Kilmer's "Trees" best as music, but the words were pure music before they were given the familiar melody by a composer.

After Kilmer met death at the ripe old age of 28, killed in World War I, his widow received $50 for the rights to the deathless poem which later became a deathless song. So sometimes it makes me sad to hear it sung.

But if poets wrote for money instead of joy or sorrow, there would be no poetry, would there?

AT ANY RATE, whenever November brings a lyrical feeling for trees it is time to remember the young soldier-poet, Joyce Kilmer, and his "I think that I shall never see a poem lovely as a tree. . . Poems are made by fools like me, but only God can make a tree."

Kilmer's next best-known poem is probably "The House With Nobody In It."

Personal favorite, next to "Trees" is his "Old Poets," in which he laments "There is no peace to be taken with poets who are young, For they worry about the wars to be fought And the songs that must be sung."

WITH apologies to the memory of Joyce Kilmer, each November I remember. . . "I think that eyes can not behold a jewel like a tree of gold."

HAVE, during the fall season of many years, been many a homecoming celebration. . . at Baylor University. . . One at Texas Tech the time Baylor beat Tech in the last second. . . and many, many at Colorado High School.

Tell you what. That Halloween night homecoming at CHS was one of the most colorful, enthusiastic, and most beautiful ever staged anywhere.

Congratulations to the Student Council who planned it and to the student body who put it over!

SEEN LATELYS included college students home for the occasion. Cute Susan Kirschbaum of Stephen F. Austin State University in Nacogdoches, was perched on a stool at Colorado Drug with her brother Joe Kirschbaum, Wolf center.

Glenn Hunter of West Texas State University in Canyon was visiting his parents, Dorthea and Paul B.

Mary Lou Wilkerson, daughter of Lenorah and J. C., was home from Midwestern U. in Wichita Falls.

FAMILIAR FACES here and there places belonged to Mrs. Ather Ellis, mother of lovely queen candidate Marilyn. . . Frank and Carol Prewitt and Truman and Margaret Bodine. . . the Pat McKinneys.

Saw Frank Deregbus delivering a tray of coffee "upstairs." James Gordon McMath, top-coated, was declaring that he was cold. . . Frances Prescott and Ralph Hines were a twosome.

Encountered several familiar faces during a short visit to Valley Fair Lodge—Ruth Pritchett, Nettie Doss, Mable Cooper, and Mrs. L. S. Garvin Sr., for instance.

LETTER to Annie Dixon from Ross Dixon Jr. of Tustin, California, enclosed a clipping from the Los Angeles Times.

Did you know that Ross Jr.'s son Rocky is a star on the Newport Harbor High football squad? Los Angeles Times says "Rocky Dixon scored the decisive touchdown and made a scoresaving interception at the gun as Newport defeated Marina 18-15 at Westminster."

Rocky, 18 last month, is a senior playing his second year with the varsity. He's offensive team fullback, defensive corner back, and weighs 165 pounds:

His mother is the former Virginia (Ginni) Caffey.

HEAR TELL that Lisa Garner, 19-month-old, said "Hi, Daddy," to Sgt. Mike Garner, now stationed at Fort Devens, Mass., via long distance.

Lisa's mother is Charlotte Rowland Garner. Proud grandparents are Willie and Marcelle Garner, Dorothy and Bryan Rowland, all C-Citians.

Sgt. Garner is member of the Trojan Parachute club at Fort Devens.

SATURDAY was a big day for Lucille (Mrs. Oren) Trulock.

It was the day her son Major C. A. Wilkins, Jr. officially became LT. COLONEL Wilkins. He's stationed in Austin.

Lt. Colonel Wilkins is nominated for the November LBMG (local boy makes good) trophy.

BRIEF ENCOUNTERS brought chats with Emmabeth (Mrs. Charlie) Thompson. . . Selma Landau, happy because she, Willie, and son Jerry, are being visited this week by Sandy Landau Ringer (Mrs. Herman) and the beautiful Ringle daughter Rhonda of Denison.

Saw always pleasant Mrs. B. B. Lee on the shopping scene. . . Drue Ballard, Dink Rees, and Shep Compton all at their lunch hour break. . . Isabel Robertson. . . Laverne Britton, pretty wife of J. C. . . Don Richard over our way from Loraine.

Spied Maurice Kirschbaum. . . J. J. Taylor. . . Mary (Mrs. George) Fugate. . . Attractive Mary Graham (Mrs. Matt) busy at grocery gathering. . . Lela Price and Ruth Dozier at the library.

TREADAWAY daughter Kaye, daughter of Kelly and Margie, her husband Carl Blonkvist, and their baby son Brad have bought a new home in New Jersey. They've been living in New York.

And did you know that our Elsie Ann (Ramsdell) Scaife, her husband Fred, their children Joyce, Jim, and Janet are moving to Belgium?

Elsie's mother Hattie (Mrs. Frank) Ramsdell is going with them for their two-year stay. The family has been living in Minnesota.

Elsie and Fred met, fell in love, and were married in Germany when she was teaching in an American school and he was stationed with the Army, you may remember. So now, once again, they're a family of "foreign affairs."

Our national history affirms this truth: From humble beginnings, greatness can grow, for with faith, all things are possible. In our daily lives, the wonder of faith gives us the guidance and inspiration to make each day, each deed greater. The church of your choice is your fountain of faith, your source of comfort and strength. Attend, support your church.

how can Lone Star Gas help you get rid of wrinkles?

We know all wrinkles are not due to aging. Some are due to drying. And dryers. Some dryers affect clothes the way sun affects skin. They not only dry out moisture. They bake in wrinkles. Even in permanent press. But gas dryers are more sensitive to your family's clothing. And more sympathetic to your work load. Most new gas dryers have a special cool-down cycle that turns off the heat before your clothes become overheated. That means your clothes have fewer wrinkles. And you have less ironing. You also have less expensive utility bills. Because gas dries for about a penny a load. See your gas appliance dealer or Lone Star Gas Company. Find out how to take it a little easier. And avoid wrinkles.

Dunbar Next Crucial Tilt Saturday

Colorado High Wolves might as well stay in bed.

No reason, whatsoever, to journey to Lubbock Saturday for their 7:30 p.m. District
3-AAA encounter with Lubbock
Dunbar Panthers.

It is all over in 3-AAA football circles for 1969, the Lubbock sports pages have been telling their readers for a couple of weeks.

Lubbock Estacado is "in" as champion, unless fellow townsman Dunbar changes the picture at the last minute.

Coach Truman Nix's Wolves and the other eight 3-AAA Clubs are all in the same rowboat without an oar - out of the title picture entirely.

But when you look at the statistics - not the Lubbock reports - you find the Wolves aren't nearly so dead. Their 6-2 full season record is second only to Estacado and at 1-1 in North Zone they can be champs by whipping the favored Panthers Saturday, then beating Estacado the following week.

The Wolves are fresh from a lopsided 54-12 triumph over AA Stanton. They are second only to Estacado in offense and defense for the full season with 252 points against their opponents 122. They lack only two points, also, of scoring as much as the favored leaders in two zone games.

It will be just about the toughest task for the Wolves this season Saturday against Dunbar.

While the Wolves were toying with Stanton last Friday, Dunbar was scoring 34 to 13 over Lake View, a club the Wolves beat one week earlier by one touchdown.

Nix's club will have to stop an all-around attack that gained 252 yards running and 168 passing against the Chiefs. Ronald Kinner ran 20 times for 110 yards in that one, but Edwin Toines and Ernie Davis did most of the touchdown work.

The Wolves were cheered temporarily this week when it looked like Larry Holder, the fine split end and defensive standout, might be able to play on defense with his caved-in knee.

But by Wednesday it appeared that little short of a miracle would get him into the lineup even for a little work.
