Two residential developments, a commercial development and an industrial project are included in activity that has kept the city planning and zoning commission and city council busy recently. It is regarded as an unusual sign of growth and the remaining months of this year promise to be active ones in several areas of town.

Murry Bowden, who said he planned to begin immediately to develop a 48-unit apartment complex south of Cogdell Center, hopes to have apartments ready for occupancy by the latter part of August. He envisions other development in that area in the future, but will concentrate on the apartments during the next three to four months.

The extension of Houston Avenue southward from Forty-fifth Street is a project that fits perfectly in the city's master plan. Houston now will be the west boundary of new residential development planned by Rodney Smith. The property involved in immediate plans is between Garwood and Houston.

Meanwhile, back toward downtown, the Varisty Square development is envisioned as one of the largest commercial ventures ever to materialize here. It will be on property southeast of the College Avenue and Thirtieth Street intersection.

A facility for a light, oilfield-related industry is planned on part of the Boothe Homesite in North Snyder which was rezoned during this flurry of activity.

Before we leave the confusion associated with last Saturday's primary elections, we must pass along an experience related by one precinct chairman in the Democratic primary. He said a woman voted in his precinct and then returned later in the day and demanded that he return her ballot. In the interim she had decided she wanted to vote in the Republican primary. She was unhappy when she was informed that officials at the polling place could not retrieve her ballot.

There was the usual big crowd Tuesday at the annual recognition luncheon held by the Retired Senior Volunteer Program. It was held at the coliseum this year, and in expressing appreciation to the various volunteer stations where RSVP people have had opportunities to serve during the past year, Betsy Duncan, the RSVP director, slowed the tempo somewhat as she came to the Scurry County Retired Teachers Association on the list. She said she wanted to make certain that this organization was identified correctly.

"Last year it came out 'Scurry County Retarded Teachers Association,' " she confessed.—WACIL McNAIR.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Wednesday, May 5, the 126th day of 1976. There are 240 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1961, astronaut Alan Shepard was rocketed 115 miles into space from Cape Canaveral, Fla. He was the first U.S. space explorer.

On this date:

In 1570, Turkey declared war on Venice for refusing to surrender the island of Cyprus.

In 1821, Napoleon Bonaparte died in exile on the island of St. Helena. In 1824, British troops occupied Rangoon, Burma.

In 1864, Union troops were routed by confederates in the Civil War Battle of the Wilderness, west of Fredericksburg, Va.

In 1936, war ended in Ethiopia as the capital, Addis Ababa, fell to Italian troops.

In 1955, West Germany became a sovereign state as the terms of the Paris agreements of 1954 went into effect.

Ten years ago: Prices tumbled on Wall Street after General Motors announced it would cut back production because of a decline in car sales.

Five years ago: There was a monetary crisis in Europe because of a sell-off of U.S. dollars, and several government banks suspended foreign exchange trading.

One year ago: President Ford asked Congress for more than $500 million to aid the resettlement of South Vietnamese refugees in the U.S.

Bicentennial footnote: Two hundred years ago today, General George Washington reported to the Continental Congress in Philadelphia that he had moved his army to New York on the premise that the British would attack the city but said he was willing to move to any other location the Congress indicated.

Reagan Seizes Star Billing In GOP Race

By WALTER R. MEARS
AP Special Correspondent

Ronald Reagan has seized star billing in the Republican presidential contest, and President Ford, suddenly second, may have to rewrite his campaign script.

But there are likely to be new twists in the GOP plot before it is played out this summer. There are, after all, 16 Republican presidential primaries to go. And there could be new faces in the campaign cast before convention time.

Nonetheless, Reagan has for the first time established himself as a challenger who can convince the Republican hierarchy that he has a real chance of denying nomination to an incumbent president.

Even Ford's campaign manager had to acknowledge that Reagan had the advantage after making the President a three-time loser on a single primary election day.

It was evident in the numbers that made Reagan for the first time the leader in committed Republican nominating delegates and, perhaps as important, in the momentum and credibility the conservative challenger gained with two Southern victories and an unexpected triumph in Indiana.

Jimmy Carter, the dominant Democrat, won overwhelmingly in Indiana and in his Georgia home. He led in partial returns in the District of Columbia.

Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace won his home-state primary, too. Wallace offered testament to Carter's claim that as the likely nominee he can rally Democrats around him. "I could support him," Wallace said.

While Carter was speeding his bandwagon among Democrats, Reagan was cementing a remarkable comeback by gaining 51 per cent of the Indiana vote to defeat Ford by about 15,000 ballots.

The former California governor once was on the verge of elimination as a presidential candidate, with money running short after a succession of early primary election defeats by Ford. He held on and turned it around — for a second time.

Ford's allies thought they had finished Reagan in the early primaries, but he upset the President in the North Carolina primary on March 23, gained strength in Southern and Southwestern GOP state conventions, and scored a remarkable, 96-delegate sweep over Ford in Texas on Saturday.

Now it is the President who is skidding, although a spokesman said Ford remains determined and convinced he will win the Republican nomination.

But an outcome that had seemed inevitable to many Republican leaders no longer looks like a sure thing. And unless Ford can quickly repair the damage by dealing setbacks to Reagan the coming primaries, the race could begin to look inviting to some men now on the sidelines.

Should Reagan build on his current advantage, Republicans like John B. Connally and Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller may see openings that didn't exist before. And that could draw more after the primary election season, which ends nine weeks before the GOP convention begins.

For the moment, the arithmetic reads Reagan. He emerged from the Tuesday primaries with 380 committed GOP delegates in his column. Ford has 292. That has not happened to an incumbent President seeking election in modern times.

Rogers C.B. Morton, Ford's campaign manager, said events had given Reagan "a sudden, and I hope temporary, advantage."

He said a major factor in that turn was the crossover vote of conservative Democrats who cast ballots in Republican primaries because of Wallace's virtual elimination from their party's competition. Reagan said crossover Democratic support was a virtue, proving he would have broad appeal as the GOP nominee.

There was evidence of a substantial crossover vote in the crucial Indiana race, although it did not approach that in Texas.

PLANS TO JOIN OPEC

Mexico Reveals New Oil Fields

By KERNAN TURNER
Associated Press Writer

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexico revealed Tuesday its new oil fields in the southern states of Tabasco and Chiapas had boosted estimated crude reserves to 30 billion to 60 billion barrels, three to six times those of Alaska's North Slope.

Francisco Javier Alejo, secretary of natural resources, told reporters that Mexico's proved reserves have reached seven billion barrels, an increase of one billion since March.

Alejo also announced a reversal of government oil policy by stating Mexico planned to join the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) as soon as possible.

"We have just begun to explore," he said. "We believe 90 to 95 per cent of the national territory is capable of producing hydrocarbons of one type or another."

He said the Gulf of Mexico also promises to be a source of offshore oil.

Just one year ago, Alejo said speculation by international observers that the new fields contained 20 billion barrels in reserves were "irresponsible." He also said then that Mexico was not interested in being an exporter of crude oil.

A basic rule of OPEC membership is that a country be a major exporter of crude.

The reserve figures, the first ever revealed by the Mexican government, and the indication Mexico was about to become a major world exporter caught observers by surprise.

Some suggested the policy change resulted from Mexico's need to increase its foreign currency reserves and to reduce its heavy $18 billion foreign debt and $3.6 billion foreign trade deficit.

Mexico began drilling in the two southern states four years ago. Since last year Mexico has been exporting 113,000 barrels of crude oil and other petroleum items daily, making it the third largest Latin American oil exporter after Venezuela and Ecuador.

Alejo said the figure should double later this year.

Mexico has refused repeatedly to join OPEC, spurning invitations from such leaders as Venezuelan President Carlos Andres Perez and the Shah of Iran.

President Luis Echeverria has maintained a conservative oil policy, keeping reserves secret and critizing OPEC members for not spending more of their oil earnings in underdeveloped nations.

"Mexico will join OPEC as soon as it is invited," Alejo said Tuesday. Membership in OPEC is by invitation.

The United States buys most of Mexico's crude oil, which is selling at $12.30 to $12.40 a barrel. There was no indication the price would change if Mexico joined OPEC.

The secretary said Mexico would attempt to sell more gasoline, since it brings between $18 and $19 a barrel. He said by the end of this year Mexico should be earning $2.4 million from the export of 200,000 barrels of petroleum daily.

Pemex, the government oil monopoly, began drilling 47 wells in the two southeastern states four years ago. By March of 1975, Alejo could report that exploration was taking place in 23 of the country's 31 states.

Antonio Dovali Jaime, director of Pemex, said then that three refineries were being constructed. The first one to open is at Tula, 30 miles north of Mexico City. That occurred March 18 of this year, the 38 anniversary of the nationalization of the petroleum industry.

Echeverria said then that Pemex invested $692 million on refineries and other construction in 1975.

Showers Return To Area

Thundershowers dampened the Snyder and Scurry County area this morning, as turbulent weather boiled up across much of the state.

Unofficial measurements ranging from half an inch to three-quarters of an inch were reported in an around Snyder during thundershowers which moved in shortly before 6 a.m. The showers apparently were general over Scurry County. Half an inch or more was reported at Ira and at Fluvanna, while .60 to .80 fell in and around Hermleigh. Rainfall up to.80 also was reported at Lake J.B. Thomas.

Turbulent storms broke out during the night from the south part of the Central Texas Hill Country southwestward to the Rio Grande, and fresh storms later rumbled into West Texas from New Mexico.

By early morning the thunderstorms had advanced well into Central and South Texas and were sweeping on toward the east part of the state. Houston was one of the few points under clear skies near dawn. Fog hung low around Lufkin in East Texas and drizzle was mixed with fog at Del Rio on the Mexican border.

Thanks to the unrelenting south winds, overnight temperatures stayed relatively high. The range around daybreak was from 71 degrees at Corpus Christi and 73 at Brownsville on the coast down to 54 at Amarillo and Dalhart in the Panhandle and 51 at El Paso in extreme West Texas.

Ford To Study Bill Few Days

WASHINGTON (AP) — Presidential candidates hungering for federal campaign funds apparently will have to wait a few days to learn whether President Ford will sign or veto the Federal Election Commission bill that would start the money flowing again.

White House spokesman Ron Nessen said Tuesday that Ford will spend a couple of days studying the measure before he decides what to do.

The Senate passed the compromise bill Tuesday by a 62 to 29 vote. The margin in the House was 291 to 81. Both votes were more than the two-thirds margin necessary to override a presidential veto.

Ford has received mixed advice about the bill from Republican leaders in Congress.

Senate Minority Leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania and Sen. Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon, the senior Republican on the conference committee that came up with the compromise bill, said Ford should sign it.

But House Republican Leader John Rhodes of Arizona and Senate Republican Whip Robert Griffin of Michigan voted against the bill.

Ford had urged Congress to enact a bill making the six FEC members presidential appointees to conform with a Supreme Court ruling that said it was unconstitutional for Congress to appoint some members.

Under the court decison, the commission lost its power to disburse campaign funds in March when Congress failed to restructure it.

Meanwhile, presidential candidates have continued filing applications with the FEC for federal matching campaign funds. The latest figures announced by the FEC on Tuesday showed candidates have applied for $3.77 million in matching funds. Before the cutoff of funds, the FEC disbursed $12.6 million to the candidates.

The biggest request for FEC money, $1.41 million, is from Ford.

The delay in passage of the bill stemmed from a bitter partisan fight between the Democratic majority and the minority Republicans.

The Democrats used the opportunity given them by the Supreme Court decison to rewrite election laws to change earlier FEC rulings.

They also gave Congress a veto power over commission rulings, a provision Republicans contend gives the Democratic majority and all incumbents a chance to reject commission opinions they don't like.

The FEC opinion that touched off the greatest furor among the Democrats was its authorization of the use of corporate funds to set up committees to solicit campaign contributions from workers to be donated to candidates considered favorable to corporate interests.

Democrats included a provision in the new bill to bar corporate committees from soliciting funds from anyone other than stockholders, company executives and administrative personnel and their families. Labor committees would be limited to soliciting from union members.

But the compromise bill added a provision that allowed the committees to solicit contributions from all employes by mail.

Mr. Lee, a native of Johnson County, had lived in Scurry County for the past 50 years.

UN Trade Conference Opened

By ANDREW TORCHIA
Associated Press Writer

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — President Jomo Kenyatta called on the fourth United Nations Conference on Trade and Development today to write a "Nairobi Charter for some new and truly international economic order" inspired by a "breath of political good will" among rich and poor nations.

Kenya's president boycotted the opening of the conference, and his welcome to the nearly 3,000 delegates was read by an aide. Western diplomats said Kenyatta, who is in his 80s, was angry because another chief of state, President Ferdinand E. Marcos of The Philippines, was attending the meeting.

Other controversies simmered around the meeting, although none so far seemed likely to disrupt the proceedings. The Arabs were talking about trying to oust Israel and seat the Palestine Liberation Organization as an observer. Some black African nations wanted to expel South Africa. Soviet-bloc nations were reported pressing in private discussions for the exclusion of Chile.

Kenyatta's message said the world was suffering from a "crisis of rising expectations and diminishing fulfillment" in which billions of persons in developing countries had only a remote chance of improving their living conditions. He said the conference has a unique opportunity to chart a world economic breakthrough.

Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger also called for a new international economic order at a conference preliminary Tuesday night.

Council Shaping Maritime Strategy

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Security Council is shaping a long-range "Maritime Strategy" that could employ land-based Air Force bombers to bottle up Soviet warships in their home bases.

Planners are also thinking of drawing on land-based U.S. tactical fighters operating from friendly ocean-area bases to block Russia's new missile-firing Backfire Bombers from reaching American fleet units at sea.

Adm. James L. Holloway, chief of naval operations, gave glimmerings of this from a still secret, still incomplete strategy study during a Tuesday briefing.

The briefing was arranged to explain the Ford administration's request for a $1.2-billion increase in next year's shipbuilding budget to provide an additional five warships, including four missile-armed frigates and a down-payment on a new $2-billion super aircraft carrier.

This is but the first installment of an expected five-year shipbuilding program planned by the NSC as part of a strategy to counter increasingly sophisticated Soviet naval power and naval-related air and missile forces in the latter part of this century.

Holloway indicated the Navy feels the present fleet of 477 ships, smallest since before Pearl Harbor, should be built up to about 600 ships. But he said the ultimate level will be determined by the NSC strategy study and President Ford's subsequent decisions.

"To develop a long range, comprehensive plan ... undoubtedly requires a great deal more than just shipbuilding," Holloway said. "It has to look at the contributions of the Air Force, it has to look at the contributions of our allies."

Holloway suggested that land-based Air Force tactical fighters might play a major role in intercepting Backfire bombers hundreds of miles before the Soviet missile-firing bombers come within range of American naval task force, convoys or amphibious groups.

"We are also looking at land-based bombardment aircraft to be employed, both in delivery of mines to block exits in Soviet main-base sortie areas as well as to make strikes on their naval bases," Holloway said.

Snyder Players Seek 5th Title

Jerry Worsham, Snyder High School speech and drama instructor, will be seeking his fifth state title in one-act play competition this weekend at the annual State University Interscholastic League meet in Austin.

The SHS play, "Blood Wedding," advance to the state contest after placing first, along with Sweetwater, at the regional meet in Odessa two weeks ago.

Performance time for the Snyder play has been set for 9:30 p.m. Friday in the Hogg Auditorium at the University of Texas. Other schools who have plays in the state finals in Class AAA are Saginaw-Boswell, Sinton, West Orange, Spring, Daingerfield, Gregory-Portland and Sweetwater.

The judge for the contest will be Dr. Jack Wright of the University of Oklahoma.

In winning top honors at both the district and regional level, several members of the Snyder cast have been singled out for individual awards. Sarah Coleman was named best actress and Dane Witherspoon was named best actor in the regional contest, and Junanne Brock received honorable mention for the regional all-star casts. At the district contest, Felecia Huddleston was named best actress, while Miss Coleman, Miss Brock and Witherspoon were named to the all-star cast.

Snyder High one-act plays have won four state titles under Worsham's direction and the SHS play last year placed third at Austin.

The Snyder players will be at the Howard Johnson Motel on Interstate 35 at U.S. 183, while in Austin for the state contest.

New Truce Is Taking Hold

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — A new cease-fire began to take hold in Beirut today as regular Palestine Liberation Army troops moved into the suburbs and outlying areas to quell sporadic shooting.

A bearded Christian gunman threw his arm around a rough-looking Moslem streetfighter in the middle of the debris of war in the port area.

"God willing, one day we will sit together and eat together and drink together," he said. "If only the big shots will leave us alone."

The slackening of fighting in Beirut improved the chances of parliament being able to meet Saturday to elect a new president to succeed Christian Suleiman Franjieh.

In the port area, scene of the heaviest fighting in recent days, Christian and Moslem streetfighters, under the gaze of Palestinian soldiers, exchanged cold drinks, cigarettes, crosses and Korans in a 100-yard-wide buffer zone.

Police reported two persons killed and six wounded during the night. Before the cease-fire, on Tuesday 120 persons were killed and 160 wounded in fighting in the port area.

Sporadic bursts of machine-gun fire were heard in Beirut but some of it was gunmen firing into the air.

Moslems halted their drive to take Beirut's port after both sides agreed to a disengagement worked out by the Syrian-Lebanese-Palestine truce committee.

Steel-helmeted troops of the Palestine Liberation Army, PLA, the regular military arm of the Palestine Liberation Organization, PLO, set up scores of sandbagged positions during the night to form a buffer zone along the two-mile front line between Christian and Moslem neighborhoods.

For a brief moment at least the Christian and Moslem warriors took their fingers off the trigger today and tried to do what their leaders failed to do politically.

The spirit of getting along extended to shock troops of the Christian Phalange party militia and suicide commandoes of the most extreme Moslem guerrilla group, the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine — General Command.

Postal Cost Cut Actions Considered

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Postal Service is considering cost-cutting actions that would irreparably damage many small towns, 14 members of Congress say.

One senator and 13 House members appeared at a hearing of a House Post Office subcommittee Tuesday to criticize the Postal Service's decision to consider shutting down some rural post offices that operate at a deficit.

Sixteen other House members are scheduled to present their criticisms of the Postal Service today.

"Closing the post office in a small town is close to issuing a death warrant for the town," said Rep. Tom Harkin, D-Iowa.

"Instead of reducing the federal presence in small town America, we should be taking steps to better these communities and the quality of life there."

Rep. Don Fuqua, D-Fla., said, "The Postal Service must consider factors other than the dollar."

The Postal Service is considering closing more than 1,300 small post offices. Some Congress members expressed the fear that figure represents only the beginning. About 18,000 of the nation's 30,000 post offices are located in rural communities.

Postmaster General Benjamin F. Bailar has said the Postal Service needs to cut costs wherever possible because of its financial crisis. The mail agency's deficit is expected to amount to about $4 million per day during the fiscal year that ends next month.

A suit has been filed by 51 Congress members to try to stop the post office closings. Several members suggested legislative action to achieve the same result.

British Workers, Healey OK Plan

LONDON (AP) — Trade union officials and Chancellor of the Exchequer Denis Healey agreed today on a plan to limit British workers to pay hikes of $7.24 a week for the year beginning in August in effort to halt Britain's rapid economic decline.

Within hours after the all-night talks wound up, the general council of the powerful Trades Union Congress — TUC — voted 25 to 5 to accept it. The deal goes before the full conference of TUC, which represents 111 trade unions, on June 16. Ratification is regarded as a virtual certainty.

The new deal, which means pay increases of up to 5 per cent for workers on Britain's average weekly wage of $108.60, is linked to tax cuts promised by Healey in his budget message last month.

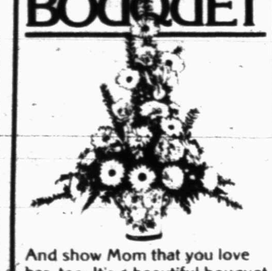

AIM Leader Shot Today

WAGNER, S.D. (AP) — American Indian Movement leader Russell Means and another AIM member were shot early today at a housing area near here, Atty. Gen. William Janklow said.

Janklow said he was told that Means was shot in the chest and that there was no word on his condition, and that John Thomas was hospitalized at Yankton in critical condition.

Wagner is on the Yankton Sioux Reservation near the Nebraska border in southeastern South Dakota.

The superintendent of the Yankton Indian Reservation, Don Loudner, said a statement would be made later in the day. Local police also refused to comment, and no other details were immediately available.

Suit Planned On New Food Stamp Rules

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Ford administration's plan to cut $1.2 billion in food stamp costs will force more than five million persons in "working poor" families out of the program, the Agriculture Department says.

Shortly after the department announced on Tuesday the new eligibility rules that take effect on or after June 1, a New York-based group representing food stamp recipients said it would seek a federal court injunction against the rules.

Ronald Pollack, director of the Food Research and Action Center, said more than 20 states, 60 labor unions, 100 families and an array of church and community action groups would file the suit jointly.

Pollack said the new rules discriminate against the working poor and thwart attempts to provide incentives for welfare recipients to work.

The new rules will cover current recipients starting Sept. 1. They will also require most recipients to pay more for the stamps. All will have to spend 30 per cent of their income for stamps; the average now is 24 per cent. They buy the stamps at less than face value and the government pays the difference.

President Ford ordered the Agriculture Department on Feb. 19 to cut the program, which cost $2.2 billion when started in fiscal 1972.

The program now costs an estimated $5.57 billion a year in benefits and another $400 million in federal administrative costs.

Individuals and families living only on welfare, who comprise nearly 8.7 million of the total 18.8 million persons receiving stamps, would not be forced out of the program. The law bars the department from changing their eligibility by departmental regulation.

Some 5.3 million of the other 10.1 million recipients, who derive some income from work, would be severed. The department said the vast majority of the 5.3 million, who come from 1.7 million families, have annual incomes averaging $6,000 to $9,000. Another 570,000 recipients who earn more than $9,000 also would be denied stamps.

But department officials contend some of the neediest recipients, including the elderly, will pay less under the new system.

To cut eligibility, officials will scrap a complex deduction system that lets families with income over the poverty line use stamps.

In its place, the department will limit stamps to families with income no more than $100 a month above the official nonfarm poverty level.

For a nonfarm family of four, the poverty level is $5,500 a year, or $458 a month. This family would remain eligible only if its income stays below $558 a month. If the family includes someone over age 65, the government will allow a $125 deduction instead of $100.

The poverty line for one person is $233 a month; for two $308; for three $383; for four $458; for five $533; for six $608; for seven $683; and for eight $758.

Two Thefts, Burglary Are Reported Here

Two thefts, a car burglary and a minor traffic accident were reported by city police.

Two bucket seats were reportedly taken from a van parked at Shot Allen's Wrecking Yard on the East Highway. Total value of the bucket seats is estimated at $200. The theft is believed to have occurred sometime Monday.

The burglary of an automobile resulting in the theft of a citizen's band radio was reported at 12:30 a.m. today by Will Gober. Gober had parked his car at the 250 Club on the East Highway. When he returned to his car, he discovered his CB radio had been stolen. Value of the CB radio is estimated at $100.

Mrs. Sue Gilbert reported that someone had taken the wheels, tubes, and tires off a bicycle at her residence in the 2700 block of Avenue G. Total value of the items taken is placed at $52. The theft is thought to have occurred Monday or Tuesday.

A minor traffic accident occurred at 2105 Twenty-ninth Street at 8:27 p.m. yesterday. A 1971 Dodge driven by Larry A. Harding was involved in a collision with a parked 1965 Ford owned by John Roemisch.

Grain Firm Pays Fine

By JAMES R. HOOD
Associated Press Writer

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Continental Grain Co. paid a $500,000 fine Tuesday after pleading no contest to 50 separate counts of manipulating the scales at its Westwego, La., export elevator.

This was the latest development in a two-year federal crackdown on shortweighing, misgrading and other corrupt activities in the grain export trade. More corporate indictments are expected in the near future, officials close to the investigation said.

Sen. Dick Clark, D-Iowa, said the huge firm's indictment "underscores the seriousness and extent of the current grain inspection scandals."

Lawyers for the company, one of the two largest grain exporters in the world, entered the plea a few hours after a federal grand jury handed down the 50-count indictment.

Continental was accused of tampering with its scales from March 1971 through June 1975 so that each of 50 shipments of grain was one-twentieth of one per cent lighter than the company claimed on its U.S. customs declarations.

The company said in a release handed to newsmen outside the courtroom that the difference would amount to about 100,000 bushels per year. U.S. customs spokesman Richard Wright called the estimate "about right."

Agriculture Department records released recently by the Senate Agriculture Committee indicated that Continental accumulated excess inventories worth $16.9 million at its elevators over a five-year period.

The Continental lawyers asked U.S. Dist. Court Judge Frederick Heebe to levy a sentence at once. Heebe imposed the maximum possible fine — $10,000 for each of the 50 counts — and company representatives said they were prepared to pay up immediately.

Leisure Lodge To Have Open House Sunday

Residents of local nursing homes will be honored during Nursing Home Week, May 9-15. The observance is sponsored by Texas Nursing Home Association whose official Hostess this year is the famous newspaper columnist "Heloise" who lives at San Antonio.

In joining the program Wanda Stroder, Administrator of the Leisure Lodge announced an Open House on Mother's Day, May 9. This year's theme is "Texas Nursing Homes — nicer than you think!"

"This is an all-out effort by our profession to get the community to take time for a personal visit and a close look into the operation of today's nursing homes," said Wanda Stroder. "We can and do provide for every need of our residents except one — we can't show them that the community cares about them. Their feelings of remoteness from the mainstream of community life can be relieved only by new, outside visitors and this special week gives everyone a chance to show that the people in the community care about their neighbors in nursing homes."

"America is experiencing dramatic rise in need for more and better health care facilities, and nursing homes are meeting that need with continuing expansion of services and facilities," she continued. "We want everyone to learn what our nursing home is really like, and the total care which is administered to our residents."

Opening lead — Q ♠

By Oswald & James Jacoby

When the Life Master category was established in 1936 David Bruce was made number one and Oswald Jacoby number two.

David retired from serious tournament play around 1940, but before doing so he had established himself as one of the game's most knowledgeable players.

Playing with Oswald Jacoby in the 1934 Men's pairs which they won, Dave found himself in six notrump after simple 1934 bidding.

After studying the dummy carefully Dave decided on that very rare thing in match points — a safety play to guard against a 4-0 suit break. Therefore, after winning the first spade lead in dummy, Dave led a low club and inserted his nine spot after East played low. The result proved Dave right. He made six notrump for a top score. Furthermore, a later check of the other results showed that there was just one other pair in six notrump. If clubs had broken the trick Dave would have given away would have cost him just half a match point.

Ask the Jacobys

A Wisconsin reader wants to know what she should bid in response to a three-spade opening bid by her partner when she holds:

♠ — ♥ A K x x ♦ A K 10 x ♣ A K x x x.

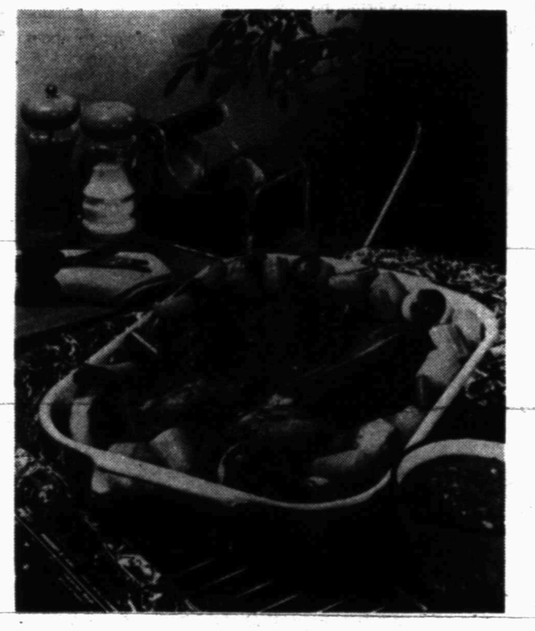

There is no way to answer this question because we don't know what sort of opening three bids her partner uses. If they are of the trash type we would just bid four spades. If they are likely to be good we would recommend some sort of Blackwood route.

Grill Pot Roast For Flavor

By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor

One of the pleasures of cooking outdoors with a barbecue grill is that it gets Mom out of the kitchen. Another pleasure is the added flavor such cooking brings that you do not get while preparing meat and other foods in oven or on the range. For example, turkeys, whole chicken, marinated legs of lamb or beef are easy to prepare. A hooded grill or smoker makes the cooking simpler but those with an uncovered unit also may have success with something like a pot roast on the grill by making a cover with aluminum foil.

ADDED FLAVOR—Marinated pot roast and vegetables turn out deliciously on grill.

POT ROAST ON THE GRILL

1 Beef chuck roast, boneless rolled about 4 pounds or bone-in chuck roast, about 5 pounds
Salt and pepper
1 clove garlic, mashed
1 teaspoon sweet basil
1 teaspoon thyme
2 large onions, chopped
1 can (1 pound) tomatoes, chopped, plus juice
2 envelopes dehydrated beef broth
½ cup dry red wine (or 1-3 cup cider, tarragon vinegar or lemon juice)
2 cups celery, cut into 1-inch pieces
12 new potatoes, partially peeled

Sprinkle beef on all sides with salt and pepper. In large bowl combine garlic, basil, thyme, onions, tomatoes, beef broth and red wine. Add beef and turn to coat well. Let stand at room temperature for 2 hours or in refrigerator overnight. Drain beef, reserving marinade. Place beef directly on grill rack 6 inches above hot coals. Sear quickly on all sides until beef is brown and crusty. Remove beef.

Place beef in a foil roasting pan and baste beef with onehalf cup of the marinade. Place pan on grill rack 6 inches above medium hot coals. Cook in covered grill with cover closed. Adjust vents for proper circulation. Or, cover pan with tent of foil and cook on open grill for one and one-half hours, basting beef from time to time with pan liquid and turning beef occasionally. Add vegetables and remaining marinade. Cover again and continue cooking 1 more hour or until beef is tender. Cut beef into thick slices and spoon pan juices over meat. Add vegetables. Makes 6 to 8 servings. Add briquets to grill as needed.

Woman Enters 500 Race

By JERRY GARRETT
AP Motorsports Writer

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — "Gentlemen, start your engines." That command, Tony Hulman's most famous, oft-repeated and purportedly shortest speech, is in danger.

For the first time in its 60 runnings, the Indianapolis 500 has a woman entered. What's more, she's been accepted to take the mandatory rookie test.

And that should be little more than a routine exercise for 38-year-old Janet Guthrie, who will be buzzing around Hulman's prestigious 2½-mile Indianapolis Motor Speedway oval with the likes of A.J. Foyt, Bobby and Al Unser, and Johnny Rutherford when the gates open Saturday.

The hard part for the slender, bespectacled Miss Guthrie, a 13-year veteran of sports car racing, will be qualifying for one of the coveted 33 starting positions in the $1 million classic, the world's richest auto race.

A surprising 71 entries, many more than in recent years, have been received, and the list comprises a considerable amount of top-flight equipment. Unfortunately, Miss Guthrie's Offenhauser-powered Vollstedt is considered to be near the bottom of the competitive pile.

"Even a pretty fair shoe couldn't get that car in the field here last year," said one official. "Janet might be a pretty good bet to qualify in front line equipment. But she'll have her work cut out in this car."

Veteran observers predict a four-lap qualifying average of at least 180 miles per hour will be needed to make the lineup for the May 30 race.

Foyt, who incidental to all the Guthrie hoopla will be trying for a record fourth Indy triumph, won the pole position last year with a 10-mile qualification run of 193.976 m.p.h. But speeds should be down one or two miles per hour this time because of newly enacted power restrictions.

It took 181.754 m.p.h. to make the 1975 grid, but increased competition should keep the average close to that — maybe a little above.

Journeyman driver Tom Bigelow fought with the car the entire month last year, and finally qualified an older Vollstedt backup car.

"I couldn't get it up to 180 no matter how hard I tried," said Bigelow, who now is with another team.

Dick Simon, Miss Guthrie's current teammate, was helping test the Vollstedt lastyear and said he thought it was capable of 180 m.p.h. "with a few adjustments."

If Miss Guthrie has any complaints or concerns about the quality of her machinery, she has kept them to herself.

"I can't say enough about my crew and all the help and support they've given me," she said after an impressive debut in Indy cars last week at Trenton, N.J.

That effort earned Miss Guthrie compliments from many of her fellow competitors, and silenced — at least temporarily — her most vocal critics.

Griffin Spurns $290,000 Offer

CINCINNATI (AP) — Archie Griffin, turning his back on a better offer from Canada, Tuesday signed a long-term contract with the Cincinnati Bengals that reportedly makes the two-time Heisman Trophy winner the highest-paid member of the National Football League club.

"The dream is to play in the NFL," said the 5-foot-9 tailback who has been hailed by Coach Woody Hayes as the greatest player in Ohio State's rich football history.

"I'm not a millionaire, but I'm happy. I'm anxious to get started. I didn't want this contract thing hanging over my head," said Griffin, disclosing that he spurned a two-year, $290,000 contract from Montreal of the Canadian Football League.

Griffin, one of Cincinnati's two first-round draft choices, signed after a heated negotiating session that "got pretty tense," according to his brother, Jim, who assisted in the contract talks.

Mike Brown, assistant general manager of the Bengals, declined to specify the terms, but called the contract "a good one." It is believed Griffin signed for at least three years at an estimated $100,000 a year.

Quarterback Ken Anderson, the NFL's first passing champion repeater in 15 years, is reportedly the top-paid Bengal with a salaryin the $100,000-a-year range.

Five other backs were drafted ahead of Griffin, who was the 24th player taken in the first round.

Asked about the "too small" rap, Griffin replied: "I welcome the challenge. My high school team was considered too small, too, and we won the championship two years in a row."

Bill Johnson, the Bengals, new head coach who replaced veteran Paul Brown, said the Cincinnati staff scouted Griffin thoroughly over four years.

"We know some people questioned his size," said Johnson. "But more and more the little man has made an impact in pro football. That's not a detriment at all. How far Archie goes is strictly up to him."

Solomon Upsets Ashe!

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
AP Sports Writer

DALLAS (AP) — It won't rank up there with Babe Ruth's famed home run shot or Joe Namath's Super Bowl prediction but stubby Harold Solomon told you so.

"I'm playing the tennis of my life and I'm going to beat Ashe," the 5-foot-6, 130-pound Solomon proclaimed 24 hours before he met World Championship of Tennis defending champ Arthur Ashe.

Solomon's prediction drew a lot of laughs because he had beaten Ashe only once in eight previous tries and barely made it into this tournament in the last week of the season.

The 23-year-old Solomon, a baseline bulldog who chases down every ball like it was match point, dazed Ashe 7-5, 3-6, 6-1, and 6-3 in the quarterfinals Tuesday night as the chase for the $50,000 first prize began.

"I was confident but I still got so nervous I had cramps in my legs at one point," said Solomon, a former All-American at Rice University. "I told you I could win. Bring your lunch for the next match because you're going to see ground shots, ground shots, and more ground shots."

Ashe, 32, and the current Wimbledon champion, will be seeing ground shots in his sleep.

"I missed balls a 14-year-old could hit," said the shaken Ashe, head in hands. "After a while it got embarrassing. I even missed a forehand volley of all things."

Ashe said "My game was flat but you have to give credit to Harold. He passed me well."

The usual power-hitting Ashe even resorted to dink shots to try to throw the hustling Solomon off his game. Solomon retrieved every ball and returned the favor time after time to the frustrated Ashe.

Iron Man Wood Shines For ChiSox

By FRED ROTHENBERG
AP Sports Writer

Wilbur Wood, who has won 109 games for the Chicago White Sox since 1971, is their stopper. There's no doubt he's also their starter.

Wood once started both halves of a doubleheader. In 1972, he tied a Chicago White Sox record by starting 49 games. Last year, he led the American League in starts with 43.

This year, he's starting right where he left off. The rubber-armed lefthander started his sixth game of the season Tuesday night, baffling the Baltimore Orioles 3-1 with a tantalizing four-hitter.

Elsewhere in the American League, the Kansas City Royals tripped the Boston Red Sox 7-5; the Minnesota Twins edged the Detroit Tigers 5-4 in 10 innings; the Texas Rangers dropped the Milwaukee Brewers 7-4; the New York Yankees shaded the California Angels 2-1, and the Oakland A's stopped the Cleveland Indians 8-4.

The White Sox gave Wood enough support to allow him to post his third victory in six decisions. They scratched out two runs in the second inning without pushing the ball past the infield.

The subtle attack was built on a walk, an infield single, loser Ken Holtzman's throwing error for one run and catcher Dave Duncan's throw into centerfield on an attempted steal for the second run.

Holtzman, 2-1, didn't get much offensive help from his new Oriole teammates, particularly ex-Oakland star Reggie Jackson, who was playing in his second game for Baltimore since ending a four-week holdout. Jackson flied out and hit two infield grounders — all with runners in scoring position — and struck out.

Yankees 2, Angels 1

Yankee newcomer Dock Ellis raised his record to 3-0 with last-inning relief help from Sparky Lyle, who induced Rusty Torres to ground into a game-ending double play.

Ellis, who has given up a total of two runs in his three victories, was backed by sixth-inning homers from Roy White and Chris Chambliss, who has now hit in 13 straight games.

Royals 7, Red Sox 5

The Red Sox, last year's American League champions, are mired in last place in the AL East with a 6-10 record. Lefthander Bill Lee hasn't won in three decisions.

Lee was victimized by a five-run Kansas City second inning, including Amos Otis' three-run homer. Otis also belted a solo shot for his second homer of the year, in the fifth.

Rangers 7, Brewers 4

Hank Aaron finally hit his first homer of the season, the 746th of his career, but it was in a losing cause. Toby Harrah cracked a pair of homers and Mike Hargrove stroked a two-run single to cap a four-run sixth inning that led the Rangers to their fifth straight victory.

Twins 5, Tigers 4, 10

Butch Wynegar and Dan Ford slammed consecutive homers in the 10th off reliever Bill Laxton to lift Minnesota past Detroit. The wtigers had tied the game 3-3 in the ninth on RBI hits by Ron LeFlore and Alex Johnson.

A's 8, Indians 4

Joe Rudi, the major league RBI leader with 26, drove in three runs with a pair of doubles and a single to power Oakland past Cleveland.

Winning pitcher Mike Torrez, 4-3, gave up six hits before giving way to Paul Lindblad and Rollie Fingers in the ninth.

Nuggets Defeat Nets, 127-121

By JOHN MOSSMAN
AP Sports Writer

DENVER (AP) — Denver Nuggets Coach Larry Brown insisted his team "learned a lot of things" after dropping the opening game of its American Basketball Association championship series with the New York Nets.

One of the lessons, obviously, was how to beat the Nets. Denver got its fast-break offense rolling in the second half and got better inside penetration with the ball to post a 127-121 victory Tuesday night and square the best-of-seven series at 1-1. Game Three will be played Thursday night in New York.

Some remedial work, however, will be necessary on how to stop New York forward Julius "Dr. J." Erving.

Erving, who scored 45 points in the opener, tossed in 48 points Tuesday night. As in the first game, Erving did pretty much what he wanted.

His 25 points in the fourth quarter set a pro basketball playoff-game record for scoring in a period, and his 37 points in the second half likewise set a pro playoff mark.

"The way he's playing now it's incredible," said Denver forward Bobby Jones, who has the unenviable task of defending Erving.

"We've tried to keep him outside, away from the basket," said Jones. "And we have to deny him the ball as much as possible. But it's tough, and he's really shooting well besides."

Erving connected on 15 of 23 two-point field goal attempts, a pair of three-pointers, and 12 of 16 foul shots. He added 14 rebounds, eight assists, three steals and a blocked shot.

But Erving's efforts were in vain as Denver's balanced scoring attack prevailed before an ABA-record crowd of 19,107.

Guard Ralph Simpson, forced to play all but two minutes of the game because of a shortage of backcourt performers, had 25 points. Forwards Jones and David Thompson and center Dan Issel each scored 24.

Jones and Thompson both scored 12 points in the third period as the Nuggets surged to a 12-point lead.

After the Nets pulled within two points early in the fourth quarter, Issel hit five quick baskets, helping Denver take a 101-92 edge with 7:27 remaining.

But the Nuggets still had Erving to contend with. A flurry of steals that produced baskets and Erving's three-point goal pulled the Nets within four points with 1:26 left.

The Nets were to get no closer, as Simpson promptly scored on a three-point play and Jones added a field goal for a 126-117 lead.

During the final quarter, the Nuggets hit 67 per cent from the floor and the Nets 61 per cent. Their combined 82 points in the quarter set a pro record for points in a playoff period.

Game Four of the series is scheduled for Saturday night, also in New York. A fifth game will be played in Denver next Tuesday night.

Handball Match Set

NEW YORK (AP) — Don Shinnick, linebacker coach of the Oakland Raiders and placekicker Jim Bakken of the St. Louis Cardinals, will oppose Lou Russo, a top-ranking pro handball player, in a four-wall handball match at the New York Athletic Club Tues., May 11.

Cards Stop Braves 8-7 In 12 Frames

By ALEX SACHARE
AP Sports Writer

Dave Bristol, in his third stint as a major league manager, this time with the Atlanta Braves, is learning once again that the life of a big-league skipper is not an easy one.

"You die a little bit in games like this," said Bristol after his Braves blew a three-run lead and dropped their eighth consecutive decision, an 8-7 loss to the St. Louis Cardinals in 12 innings Tuesday night. The Braves' current losing streak is the longest the club has gone through since the franchise was moved from Milwaukee to Atlanta a decade ago.

The Braves erupted for six runs in the second inning and led 7-4 after three, but couldn't hold on. they came within one out of victory, but St. Louis tied the score with two out in the ninth and then won it in the 12th on a run-scoring double by Ted Simmons, his fourth hit of the game.

In other National League games, the Los Angeles Dodgers beat the Chicago Cubs 9-6, the Philadelphia Phillies blanked the Houston Astros 5-0, the Pittsburgh Pirates edged the San Francisco Giants 6-5 and the New York Mets defeated the Cincinnati Reds 5-3. San Diego at Montreal was postponed because of cold weather.

St. Louis reached Atlanta starter Phil Niekro for a pair of runs in each of the first two innings. But the Braves erupted for their biggest inning of the season, scoring six runs in the third, the final three on a homer by off-season acquisition Jim Wynn.

Atlanta added another run in the third on an RBI triple by Darrel Chaney.

Niekro hit Bake McBride with a pitch in the fifth inning and balked him to second. He scored on Simmons' single. A solo homer by Simmons in the eighth made it 7-6, then with two out in the ninth pinch-hitter Mike Anderson doubled and Lou Brock followed with a run-scoring single to tie the score.

McBride, who had homered in the first inning, singled in the 12th and came home with the winning run on Simmons' double.

Dodgers 9, Cubs 6

Los Angeles posted its 10th consecutive victory and took a one-game lead in the NL West by beating the Cubs behind home runs by Henry Cruz and Ron Cey. Burt Hooton got the victory, with relief help from Mike Marshall.

Mets 5, Reds 3

The Reds dropped one game back of the Dodgers by bowing to the Mets. Dave Kingman hit his 10th homer of the season and Tom Seaver raised his record to 4-0.

Reliever Skip Lockwood, who entered the game in the seventh inning with the Mets leading 5-2, struck out Johnny Bench with the bases loaded. Lockwood then struck out Mike Lum to end the inning, and went on to post his third save of the season.

Phils 5, Astros 0

Jim Lonborg, 3-0, stopped the Astros on seven hits. Bobby Tolan homered and Greg Luzinski belted a bases-clearing double to highlight the Phils' attack.

Pirates 6, Giants 5

Willie Stargell hit a two-run homer in a four-run sixth inning that helped Pittsburgh hand the Giants their eighth loss in the last nine games.

Suns Face Problem

OAKLAND (AP) — The Phoenix Suns must assert some strength under the boards if they are to give the Golden State Warriors a serious test in their National Basketball Association playoff series.

And the way Rick Barry was shooting in the series opener, a 128-103 Warriors' victory Sunday, presents the Suns with a dilemma.

"He shoots from far outside, and that means Garfield Heard or I have to stay close to him and can't help out much under the boards," said Curtis Perry, the 6-foot-7 forward, analyzing a problem the Suns face again tonight in the second game of the best-of-seven semifinal series.

The Warriors had 21 offensive rebounds in the opening game, compared to 11 for Phoenix, and outrebounded the Suns over-all by a decisive 55-45 margin. Golden State centers Clifford Ray and George Johnson combined for nine offensive rebounds, converting several into points.

Barry didn't give his big teammates too many opportunities, however. He made 17 of 31 field goal attemps while scoring 38 points.

Texas Wins 5th Straight

MILWAUKEE (AP) — So much for what had been Jim Colborn's American League leading 0.41 earned run average.

The Texas Rangers, sparked by Toby Harrah's two solo home runs and aided by shaky Milwaukee defense, chased Colborn during a four-run sixth inning capped by Mike Hargrove's two run single Tuesday night. Nelson Briles (3-1), with relief help from Steve Foucault, held off the Brewers 7-4, the Rangers' fifth consecutive victory.

"I've said all year this is the best ball club the Rangers have ever had," said Harrah, whose club leads the AL West by 2½ games. "It shows the way our pitchers have been going, and now that we're starting to swing the bat a little, the Rangers will be a team to be reckoned with this year.'

"Colborn is a good pitcher, always tough for me to hit," said Harrah, a rarity in that he is a shortstop who bats in the cleanup position. "The first home run I hit was off a good pitch. He jammed me, but I was just happened to hit it right down the line and it carried out. I just got a little lucky."

Colborn (2-2), whose ERA climbed to 1.65, concurred.

"It was an interesting pitch," he said. "I jammed him, and I heard him yell as his bat hit the ball, like he was unhappy I jammed him. But then 2½ seconds later, I yelled. He who yells last, yells loudest."

"I hate to make excuses, but eight days of inactivity had something to do with it," he said. "I had pretty good stuff, but I just wasn't sharp with my fast ball. I usually can put it where I want, but I couldn't do that tonight, and I made a whole lot of bad pitches."

Harrah's first homer, with one out in the fourth inning, erased a 1-0 Brewers' lead achieved on Don Money's third homer of the year in the first inning.

Jeff Burroughs walked after Harrah's homer and raced all the way home when center fielder Sixto Lezcano misjudged Tom Grieve's two out fly ball and dropped it for an error.

"The wind was tough tonight, but I misjudged the ball and it was completely my fault," Lezcano said. "I thought it was going to carry farther, and I went back too far and slipped on the warning track. Then I tried to come in and make a basket catch, but I just couldn't handle it."

The Brewers tied the score at 2-2 in their half on Hank Aaron's first homer of the year and 746th of his career. It was the first of his three hits, which raised his average to .292.

"It was just a number," Aaron said of having increased his major league record career home run total. "The power is just not there like it used to. I don't think warmer weather will help much, either—although 10 years off 42 would. I just hit that ball right down the line."

Tiger Game Postponed

The baseball game scheduled between Snyder High School's Tigers and the Lamesa Golden Tornadoes yesterday, was postponed until 5 p.m. Thursday in Lamesa.

Coach Speedy Moffett said the officials failed to show up for the game yesterday, and it was postponed.

The Tigers also have a Saturday game this week when the Brownfield Cubs invade Moffett Field for a 1 p.m. contest.

Michael Put On Waivers

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Red Sox have placed veteran utility infielder Gene Michael on waivers for the purpose of granting him an unconditional release and have activated infielder Bob Heise.

Michael, 37, who played nine of his major league seasons with the New York Yankees and one year with the Detroit Tigers, was signed this spring as a free agent by the Red Sox. Heise had been on the team's disabled list with a bad wrist since the club finished spring training.

Arkansas, the leading state in the country in the production of bauxite, bromine and vanadium, had a mineral output in 1975 valued at $414.4 million, a record high, according to the Bureau of Mines.

7th Grade Girls Play

In girls 7th grade basketball action yesterday, the Cats defeated the Kittens, 11-8, and the Cubs bested the Tigers, 19-17.

Kayla Weems led the Cubs with 10 points, and Sherry Warren led the Tigers with seven points.

Theobald Advises New Styles Of Leadership

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — In Robert Theobald's view, civilization is like a group of tipplers in the club car who feel secure despite the train's high speed because, of course, the engineer is stone sober. Except that he isn't.

It's part of our upbringing, he said the other day. "Everyone feels someone else is making the decisions."

So long as we are unprepared to accept the certainty of disaster, given our present directions, we shall fail to alter our priorities until it is too late, he said, adding this advice;

"We must abandon our polyanna optimism and encourage new styles of leadership which will have the imagination to lead us in new directions."

What is needed, he said, is sapiential leadership, or that based on competence, wisdom and knowledge, rather than on the ability to coerce or impress. Leadership that admits it isn't omnipotent, but which is willing to join in a search for answers.

Theobald believes that if civilization can avoid the crash, the United States is the one to show the way. Therefore the title of his 14th book, just published by The New Republic Book Co., Washington, D.C.: "Beyond Despair."

Who is Theobald? He is a socio-economist, a futurist who derives some of his notions from the U.S. Constitution, a British subject born in India who lives in Wickenburg, Ariz., and commutes to work in Spokane, Wash.

He is a seminal thinker whose books, lectures and consultations with congressmen, and with community, labor and business leaders, and in fact, any group that will listen, have spread his ideas far and wide, although often the origin is forgotten.

He says he doesn't mind that people don't always associate his name with the concept, such as the guaranteed income, or that some consider him a liberal when he feels he is a fundamental conservative, because his payoff is acceptance of his ideas. He offers no program, only concepts and a sense of direction.

Theobald believes the train can be saved, not just by sobering up the engineer but by sobering up the passengers, too, by giving them realistic information, encouraging them to think and discuss ideas, thus providing the wherewithal to act.

In a democracy, which Theobald believes is the hope of mankind, free men need this information, and they themselves must act on it. They must communicate. They must accommodate differences. They must seek new directions.

We must, he insists, rethink our fundamental assumptions about health, education, justice and work-income distribution as we move from the industrial to the communications era. Among other things endangered is free enterprise, he says.

We must, he believes, recognize the beauty of diversity and pluralism rather than insisting that everyone is the same.

And, he continues, we must accept the idea of enoughness instead of that which makes us seek unending growth. We must accept widespread participation in decision-making — that's democracy, he notes — rather than autocratic dictates.

"The leaders we have at the moment have so much power they are cut off from the people they should be leading," he said. "There's a great deal of alienation. Leaders don't know what citizens want."

Leadership is so involved with doing and acting that it doesn't stop to listen and learn, he said. Like the engineer, it doesn't consult or inform the passengers. It is fed information by specialist groups; it has lost touch with the people.

"I believe people are capable of learning from each other and making the right decisions," he said, but he added that he wonders if often we don't operate in an unreal atmosphere, ignoring our problems, leaving them unresolved.

Americans can face the issues, he believes, issues that some leaders consider unspeakable. The level of debate among the founding fathers was much higher, "a great deal more astute than ours are today," he said.

"In this time of confused transition," he states in the book, "a determined individual or group can have an impact far greater than would normally be expected."

ARIES (March 21-April 19) You're reasonably lucky today but you shouldn't push your luck. It's not one of those times when you'll get something for nothing.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) You'll have to look out for your own interests today. No one else is likely to do it for you. Be completely self-reliant.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Someone may tell you something confidential today about a mutual friend. The information could be distorted. Check the facts.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) To avoid a problem with a friend over money today, clarify the share of expenses each is to pay. Don't grab the entire tab.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Usually you're good at mixing business with pleasure, but today that formula won't jell. Don't try for a big deal over dinner and drinks.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) You have a tendency today to talk a little too much about matters that should be confidential. Confiding in the wrong person might spoil something for you.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Be careful in doing business with a friend today, or both of you may feel you've been taken advantage of. Be fair, but also be practical.

SCORPIO (Oct 24-Nov. 22) Today, appraise your opposition realistically. Don't get involved in something where the odds are stacked against you.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) To get the most out of people who are working for or with you today, let them function with a minimum amount of direction.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Don't gamble today on someone whom you know from experience has a very poor record of success. Backing this person could prove costly.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Today it may be easier for you to make promises than to keep them. Think twice before committing.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Trying shortcuts with your work could backfire today. Don't experiment with new twists if an old one is working fine.

Boy Scouts Probe Hughes Link

NORTH BRUNSWICK, N.J. (AP) — The Boy Scouts of America are hot on the trail of the latest Howard Hughes mystery. Was he a Boy Scout?

The question has been asked in scouting circles since the discovery of a purported will in which one-sixteenth of the reclusive billionaire's estate was left to the Boy Scouts.

The amount has been estimated at up to $150 million.

Based on the organization's national budget of about $14 million for last year, that would be enough for the Boy Scouts to operate for 10 years.

"We want to find out if he was ever a Boy Scout himself," said Barclay Bollas, a spokesman at scout headquarters here. "The Hughes interests have given to scouting before, but we don't know if he was a member."

Bollas said Tuesday the search started in Houston, where Hughes spent his childhood, but failed to come up with any evidence. If Hughes had been a Boy Scout as a youth, it would have been around 1920, and the only records dating to that time are lists of those who attained the rank of Eagle Scout, he said. Hughes isn't on any of those lists.

"The only other way we'll find out is to try to locate people who may have been active with him in scouting, but that's going to be very difficult," Bollas said.

The Boy Scouts want to find out about Hughes' possible scouting past to satisfy their own curiosity.

Whether Hughes was a scout or not, they'll take the money.

Dr. Lamb

Lose fat, not water

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB—I am a 64-year-old woman, 5 feet 4 inches and weigh 125 pounds. In the last year I lost 35 pounds as my doctor wanted. I feel wonderful. Now what I want to know is can I take one water pill every day or every other day for there is no end to my worrying about putting the weight back on that I have already lost? Please tell me what to do.

DEAR READER— The weight you have lost was not water, it was fat. There seems to be a widespread lack of understanding that what doctors usually want you to lose is fat not just pounds on the scales. Pounds can be anything from an over-distended digestive tract to an accumulation of water. Your body is normally half water and dehydrating yourself to get a favorable reading on the scales is useless.

Those water pills don't eliminate fat. They help to flush out the water that accumulates as the fat is used. That means taking water pills won't prevent you from putting your fat back on. There are only two things that will help you prevent regaining your fat; maintaining a suitable level of physical activity to use all of the calories you eat and restricting your calories in a well-balanced diet.

Remember, the amount of fat you accumulate is like the balance in your checking account. If you take in more calories than you spend the balance is going to increase and that balance is your fat deposit. Those who want more information on obesity can send 50 cents for The Health Letter, number 2-8, Obesity, General Principles of Prevention. Send a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for mailing. Address your letter to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB—I am 58 years old and have high blood pressure. I have been going to the doctor for four or five years but my blood pressure is always too high. I am on a no salt, low-fat diet, plus Lasix and Inderal. I also drink several beers a day plus some liquor. Do you think that is what is causing it? I feel fine and work every day except I am awfully high strung. I seem to get mad easily. Please let me know.

DEAR READER—The truth is we do not know the cause of high blood pressure in most cases. Limiting salt intake does seem to help some individuals. If there is any evidence of excess fat underneath your skin around the middle portion of your body, elimination of such fat deposits often helps lower blood pressure.

Alcoholic beverages in themselves do not cause high blood pressure. However, to the extent that they contribute to obesity or excess body fat, they then become part of the problem.

Every person who has high blood pressure should have a complete medical examination, including study of the functions of the kidneys to ascertain insofar as possible the causes of high blood pressure. Then treatment usually consists of using various medicines that help to lower the pressure by relaxing the small arteries in the body. The amount of these medicines, if any, that a person needs often depends on how successful they are in eliminating excess body fat.

Because you note that you are highstrung, I would recommend eliminating all stimulants. Specifically coffee, tea and cola drinks.

TIA Asks To Stop Flights

TEMPLE, Tex. (AP) — Texas International Airlines says it wants to stop its twice-daily flights to Temple in Central Texas while the Temple mayor says he doubts the city will fight to keep the service.

The airlines announced Tuesday that it had asked the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) in Washington for permission to stop the flights.

Temple Mayor William Courtney said Tuesday the city commission had not been formally notified of the request to federal authorities but he added, "I doubt if we will object to it."

Jerry Gitner, a TIA vice president, said the airline had asked the CAB for an order to show cause why the airline should not stop the service in view of the decline in number of TIA passengers.

Gitner said the cost of each TIA passenger boarded at Temple in Central Texas was $17.98 in government subsidy money.

TIA received permanent authority to fly into Temple, a city of 33,000, in 1963.

Another TIA executive, James Cassady, said his company boarded 290 passengers in Temple last month while Rio Airways of nearby Killeen boarded about 1,000.

Gitner said TIA felt it was also wasting its resources by flying 40-passenger Convair 600's into Temple when air service was already available at Temple and Waco, about 35 miles away.

The City of Temple has seven working days to respond to the TIA request. If the reply is negative, the CAB will set up a hearing. If Temple agrees to the TIA request, the airlines can stop service within 120 days.

Courtney said city officials were not surprised by TIA's request.

Stomach Cancer Patients Respond To Treatment

By WARREN E. LEARY
AP Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Powerful anticancer drugs used together significantly prolong survival of some patients with advanced stomach cancer — a fatal condition virtually untreatable in the past, Georgetown University scientists announced today.

The scientists said about half of 21 advanced stomach cancer patients in a study responded to the treatment, with some of the patients so far living more than three times longer than with conventional therapy.

"The big thing to emphasize is that with gastric (stomach) cancer, there really haven't been other treatment results indicating this prolonged survival," Dr. John Macdonald said in an interview.

"This indicates there is now a 50 per cent chance that gastric cancer cases can respond to the program and for those who do, there could be a relatively long survival with improved quality of life compared to present statistics," he said.

Macdonald and Drs. Philip S. Schein, Winston Ueno and Paul Woolley presented the results of their study in Toronto, Canada, at a meeting of the American Society of Clinical Oncology.

With the best previous drug treatment for stomach cancer, "the average survival time was only five and one half months for 50 per cent of the patients," Macdonald said. "There was almost no difference between this and the average survival time of similar cases if untreated — for 50 per cent of those the average survival was 3-4 months."

In the study, 10 of 21 patients responded to the new treatment. Two of the 10 died after surviving more than 10 months after treatment.

The remaining eight have survived from five to 15 months after beginning therapy, with six of the patients so far surviving past nine months, Macdonald said.

The therapy involves using three anticancer agents — adriamycin, 5-fluorouracil and mitomycin — together and singularly over an eight-week treatment cycle which is continually repeated, the said.

Mother Rips Up NudityMagazines

By ROBERT HEARD
Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — A mother of three small children has torn up 29 copies of nudity magazines at a convenience store.

Leah Helen Womack destroyed copies of Gallery, Penthouse, Hustler and Deborah's Dreams Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Womack told police she lives near the site where a rock concert was held Sunday, and all she saw at the concert were "naked people, naked people."

When she went to the store Monday, she saw more nakedness on the covers of the magazines, she said. "The last straw" was a headline on one of the magazines, "How to Have Sex With Your Horse."

Mrs. Womack, who cannot afford a telephone and could not be reached for comment, reportedly told the store manager, "The magazines are filth. My children see them when they come in."

A policeman happened to be using a telephone at the store when she started ripping up the magazines. He arrested her, and she was charged with criminal mischief before Municipal Court Judge Sarah Denton. Mrs. Womack was released on her own recognizance after another judge signed a $500 bond for her.

Criminal mischief is punishable by up to a year in jail and a $2,000 fine.

Tuesday, Sgt. Henry Tomlin, who accompanied Mrs. Womack to the court, said: "She did what a lot of mothers would like to do. I hope you can help her. She's been stepped on the last couple of years."

Tomlin said she was divorced two years ago and is trying to support her children, aged 4, 5 and 6, on $390 a month she earns at an insurance firm.

Michael L. Smith, the store manager who filed the complaint against Mrs. Womack, said he had been told by his bosses to make no comment about the case. Then he added, "I personally agree with her, but that's not the way to go about it."

On the other hand, he said, "Whatever they want to sell is all right with me."

Smith's bosses could not be reached for comment.

Judge Halts Election Challenge

(AP) — A district court judge may have put an end Tuesday to Garry Weber's efforts to challenge the results of the April 24 election for mayor of Dallas which he lost to Robert Folsom in a close race.

Judge Dee Brown Walker and County Judge John Whittington refused to order tests for malfunctions of 14 more voting machines used in the election.

Weber asked Whittington and Walker to order 14 more machines checked after 15 of 20 machines checked Monday in South Dallas precincts failed to work properly.

"A total of 1,590 votes were unaccounted for on these malfunctioning machines of which seven malfunctioned over Garry Weber's name, seven over Bob Folsom's name and one under both candidates' names," Weber said in his request.

Walker said because the check Monday revealed malfunctions, the matter would best be resolved in a formal contest of the election filed in another court.

"This is an avoidance decision on our part," Whittington said, "but there are a number of steps to be made, and the election contest statute is what will be necessary for the resolution."

State Sen. Oscar Mauzy, Weber's attorney, said he was disappointed by the ruling, but that he will recommend Weber not contest the election.

He cited the expense of such a lawsuit, the difficulty in proving valid grounds for a new election and the possible length of litigation as reasons to avoid a direct challenge.

GEORGE MOTT — MANAGER

She Does Her Filing Under 'Marvin'

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1976 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I am the bookkeeper for a business that maintains a small office staff.

Our office manager (let's call him "Marvin") is a middle-aged family man. The boss's secretary (let's call her "Sissy") is a shapely young single woman.

Since Sissy came to work here, she and Marvin have been spending a lot of time together in the file room—with the door locked!

What they do is their business, but I'm tired of covering up for them when the boss comes looking for Sissy.

I think it's unfair of my co-workers to put me in this awkward position, but I am too embarrassed to even discuss it with them. What do you suggest?

NERVOUS IN ALBANY

DEAR NERVOUS: Get over your embarrassment long enough to tell Sissy that the next time the boss comes looking for her, you will tell him to look in the file room under "Marvin."

DEAR ABBY: My husband says, "Ask Abby," so here goes.

When we go the parties where there is dancing and I am asked to dance, I always accept because I love to dance. However, my husband, who is a wonderful dancer and a very handsome man, just sits there.

I am embarrassed to see the wife of the man who has asked me to dance sitting while my husband sits. He says he doesn't enjoy dancing with anyone but me.

What do you think, Abby? As a matter of etiquette, should I refuse dances with other men if my husband doesn't dance with their wives? Or should my husband dance even if he doesn't enjoy it?

LIKES TO DANCE

DEAR LIKES: Your husband should dance with the wife of the man who has asked you to dance. He's being rude to sit.

DEAR ABBY: This is for that woman who was "going crazy" because her house was always a mess no matter how hard she worked to keep it tidy.

I have a husband, three children and two grandchildren. I always believed that a house should be lived in. My husband and sons work on motors and they get pretty greasy, but I don't care. My daughter loves to paint with oils and you can't tell the color of any towel I have between the grease and oil paint.

When my grandchildren are here, I give them the run of the place. My sister-in-law said I was crazy because last winter I put the sandbox right in the middle of my kitchen. It made sort of a mess, but the baby was quiet, and I didn't mind sweeping up the sand.

We like pets and treat them like members of the family. They can roam around the house and sleep anywhere they want to. We keep the door to the parakeet cage open and if the place gets to smelling like a barnyard, I spray a little pine around.

Some days I don't get my beds made, and I'm not bothered with dishes because we use paper plates. I'll never take a prize for my housekeeping, but we're sure a happy family.

If you print this, don't use my name because my mother would die.

Dallas Tot Feared Kidnaped

DALLAS (AP) — Federal agents joined Dallas police today in an intensive search for 4-year-old Nicole Moore, missing from her Oak Cliff home and feared kidnaped.

The child disappeared Monday evening after playing outside the apartment where she lived with her mother, Linda Moore, and a 4-month-old brother.

FBI agents entered the case Tuesday under a legal presumption that a person who has not been found after 24 hours has been taken across state lines.

Police assigned 25 officers to the search and detailed a tactical squad to wade a creek that runs through Kidd Springs Park about six blocks north of the Moore home.

Patrolman G.S. Shivers said the little girl, an Indian, was last seen about 6:45 p.m.

"The child was playing with other children," he said, "and the others went inside, leaving her alone outside."

After her mother notified police about 9 p.m., officers made a fruitless door-to-door search of the quiet, tree-lined neighborhood, surveying it also from a helicopter and paying special attention to swimming pools and wooded areas.

Shivers reported a neighbor told of seeing Nicole talking to a white man, about 30, who sported a mustache and wore blue jeans and a brown print shirt. He quoted a boy, 11, as saying the child entered a station wagon occupied by a black man.

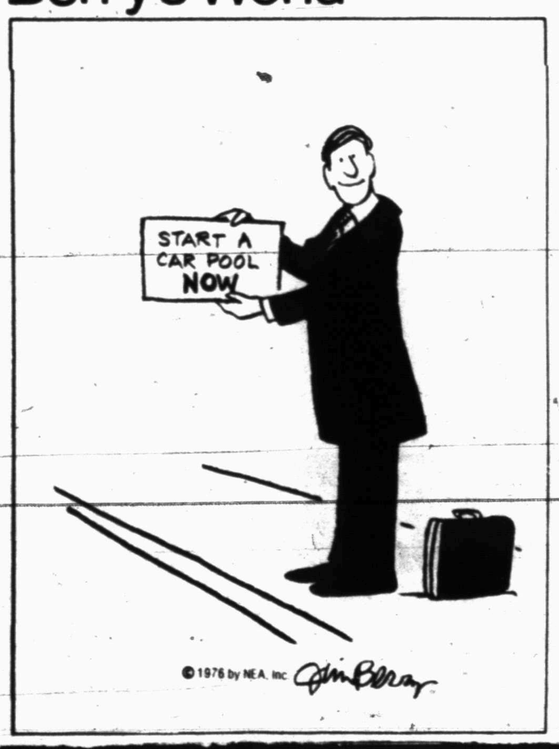

She has brown eyes and dark brown hair in braids, stands about three feet tall and weighs 34 pounds. She was wearing a blue dress adorned with white flowers, white knee-high socks and no shoes.

Investigators said they had no reason to think relatives or friends might have taken the little girl away.

The distraught mother is a beautician.

"I can't believe it," the mother said.

MRS. LEWIS HONORED

Awards Presented At Annual RSVP Banquet

Members of the Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP) were honored at the third annual Awards Banquet Tuesday in the Scurry County coliseum.

A highlight of the banquet was the presentation of the Outstanding Senior Texan Award for Scurry County to Mrs. Mildred Lewis. Don Stacy, president of the Sunrisers Kiwanis Club, made the presentation and cited Mrs. Lewis' contributions to the community.

In addition to her membership in RSVP, Mrs. Lewis serves on the board of directors for the Child Day Care Center, Stacy pointed out, and she gives volunteer hours there as a kitchen worker. She is a volunteer worker at the Retarded Citizens thrift sale and at Leisure Lodge where she does reality orientation work. Also through RSVP, Mrs. Lewis has assisted with several community fund drives.

Mrs. Lewis is a member of the Retired Teachers Association and the American Association of Retired Persons.

Mrs. Ruby Anderson, master of ceremonies, introduced Mayor Bill Vestal. He extended the formal welcome to the approximately 200 persons present and commended the senior citizens for the part they play in the community's activities.

Dr. Ben Brock, vice president of Western Texas College, recognized members of the RSVP Advisory Council and read the names of first-year RSVP members who were eligible for membership certificats. Western Texas College sponsors the RSVP program in Scurry County.

RSVP work stations were presented plaques of appreciation by Mrs. Betsy Duncan, RSVP Director. She was assisted by Mrs. Marilyn Foster, RSVP secretary. Plaques were also presented the Snyder Daily News, KSNY, Mrs. Aline Parks, WTC publicity director, and Mrs. Xan Harris for her assistance with RSVP office duties.

Mrs. Duncan also expressed appreciation to the Sunrisers Kiwanis Club for assisting with the banquet and for carrying out the selection of the Outstanding Senior Texan award for the third year.

Kiwanians who assisted at the banquet were Bill Forbes, Dale Keith, Billy Roach, Mike Graves, Gaylord Price, Ken Foster, Ed Vernon, Henry Hartman and Stacy.

Entertainment for the banquet included a humorous reading given by Mrs. Sam Tibbets and several numbers by the RSVP Kitchen Band under the direction of Mrs. Lewis.

Study Finds Damage From Oil Spills Not Permanent

HOUSTON (AP) — A technical paper presented at the Eighth Annual Offshore Technology Conference says a six-year study indicates there is little long-term harm to marine life from offshore oil spills.

Albert Lasday, coordinator of environmental protection for Texaco Inc., said that an oil spill must have three factors to cause heavy damage. He said it must have some refined products, such as fuel oils, a confined body of water or a location near shore, and storm or heavy surf.

A paper presented by Lasday said Tuesday that the three factors are seldom present on offshore production or drilling operations.

He said recent studies sponsored by the American Petroleum Institute show that "once an oil spill episode has passsed, organisma cleanse themselves quickly of essentially all the oil contamination they may have incurred."

He said the belief that marine life retains oil contamination was based on studies involving only a small number of oysters. The recent investigations have involved thousands of organisms, he stated.

He said there is a widely held misconception that once a marine organism becomes contaminated with oil, the damage is permanent. He said many persons also erroneously believe that oil contamination might concentrate and pass up the food chain to become a threat to man's health.

The experiments with thousands of organisms not only indicate organisms cleanse themselves quickly, but that offshore spills usually cause little damgage to life along the shoreline, Lasday said.

Clarence Tuck, undersecretary in the British Department of Energy, said the attitude of major oil companies toward demands by the British government for 51 per cent participation in producing fields in its North Sea waters, might well affect the outlook of those companies in the upcoming fifth leasing round.

Tuck said the British expect to arrive at the 51 per cent participation goal through negotiations with the companies. Two major companies already have agreed to the 51 per cent.

Others are expected to follow.

Continental Oil Co., Gulf Oil Corp. and the British National Oil Corp. each had one third interest in the leases in question.

Botulism Probed In Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—The Oklahoma Health Department and federal officials are investigating four cases of botulism in Oklahoma, health officials said Tuesday.

Dr. Armond Start, director of the communicable disease control division of the state health department, said the disease has been identified by "reasonable epidemiological evidence" as commercially processed sweet peppers.

He said two persons who ate the peppers remained hospitalized in Oklahoma City, one in serious condition. Another probable case is in Ogden, Utah and a fourth is in Brownwood, Tex., Start said.

He said the peppers are not sold through retail stores, and are available only to commercial establishments.

Start said the Dreher Pickle Co. Denver has indicated it will recall the peppers.

He said the Oklahoma patients ingested the peppers at a restaurant in Elk City in southwestern Oklahoma April 13, 14 and 15.

Texas Drilling Pace Up

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The railroad commission reported Tuesday that 4,083 oil wells have been completed in Texas so far this year, compared with 3,340 at this time in 1975.

The commission said 1,441 gas wells have been drilled, compared with 1,067 for the same period last year.

To date, 2,997 wells have been plugged, including 1,363 dry holes.

Between April 16 and May 1, 20 wildcat oil wells were drilled—5 in the Houston District, 3 each in the Corpus Christi, Abilene, San Angelo and Lubbock districts and 1 each in the San Antonio No. 2 District, the Midland District and the Wichita Falls District.

Nineteen wildcat gas wells have been drilled—4 in the San Angelo District, 3 each in the San Antonio No. 1 District and the Houston and Kilgore districts, 2 in the Pampa District and 1 each in the Corpus Christi, Kilgore, Midland and Wichita Falls districts.
