Proponents of a bill to establish a National Recreation Area at Amistad Reservoir near Del Rio, estimated that at least a million people per year would visit the area during the first five years of its existence.

In its presentation to the Senate Interior and Insular Affairs Committee in support of the bill, the West Texas Chamber of Commerce noted that the recreation area would be within a day's drive of 11 million people.

The bill to establish the Amistad National Recreation Area was introduced by Sen. Lloyd Bentsen of Texas on March 22, 1971. A similar bill was introduced in the House of Representatives by Rep. O.C. Fisher of San Angelo.

May 3 will be a big day for the Permian Basin Petroleum Museum, Library and Hall of Fame.

Formal ground-breaking for the museum's building will take place at 3:30 p.m. that day at a site near Midland. Then, at 7 p.m., the museum's annual Hall of Fame Dinner will be held at the Midland Country Club.

Several years of work already have gone into the Permian Basin Petroleum Museum, as the following note in the organization's newsletter indicates:

"For some reason the museum office has been getting a lot of calls intended for Planned Parenthood. Considering our labor pains with the museum, maybe the mistake really isn't."

Look for the really serious and sincere antipollution crusaders to gradually expand their targets to include pollution of the human body as well as pollution of the atmosphere and the landscape. Some are beginning to see the hypocrisy of drug-addicted demonstrators demanding cleaner air, water and general environment. And some have even gone so far as to complain that alcohol is the most widely used dope on the market.

Moreover, there is an economic consideration. If pollution of the human body could be eliminated, insurance rates would go into a nose dive.

Few definite conclusions have been reached, or else they have not been made public, but so far, the public reports on research hint rather strongly that marijuana may do the human body less harm than alcohol, or at least no more.

MAKING THE MOST OF VACATION—These two fourth graders at West Elementary School were making the most of their Easter vacation from the classroom by getting in some fishing at the Towle Park Pond. Yesterday's 98-degree temperature also contributed to the fishing fever. The two youngsters are Jeffrey Pylant, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Pylant, and John Donaldson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Donaldson. Both are 10 years old.

Area Gets Taste Of Summer

The Snyder area got a taste of summer Thursday, just a week following a late freeze, as the thermometer soared to a reading of 98 degrees.

The hot spell was scheduled to abate today as a mild Pacific front began moving across the state. But for a time Thursday, records were toppled at several points in Texas. The 98 in Snyder was not an April record, but was close enough to bring air conditioning into widespread use.

The cool front passed through Snyder early this morning and was meandering southeastward.

Clouds overhung most of the eastern half of the state and prospects were seen for showers along and ahead of the frontal system. Skies were clear over the rest of Texas.

The new cool spell came none too soon for residents of San Angelo and Wink, where the mercury soared to 100 degrees Thursday afternoon.

N. Vietnamese Open 4th Front

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese troops captured a district town 75 miles north of Saigon today and opened a fourth front in their nine-day-old offensive with more than a dozen attacks on towns and bases in the Mekong Delta to the south.

U.S. warplanes meanwhile hammered North Vietnamese forces in North and South Vietnam and neighboring stretches of Laos with more than 600 strikes. Two Navy fighter-bombers and a big rescue helicopter were shot down, the U.S. Command said, and six Americans were missing.

The district town of Loc Ninh fell after fighting so close that an air spotter overhead reported the defending South Vietnamese were calling artillery fire in on their own positions.

The spotter reported eight to ten North Vietnamese tanks attacking the town, and later the South Vietnamese command announced that Loc Ninh was abandoned during the morning after four days of heavy attack.

The Viet Cong radio claimed that the South Vietnamese garrison surrendered after Communist forces killed, wounded or captured 400 of the defenders. But Lt. Col. Le Trung Hien, the chief spokesman for the Saigon command, said the government troops "moved out to an area outside the city."

Casualties on both sides were reported heavy.

Government forces also abandoned Fire Base Hung Tam, five miles southwest of Loc Ninh and 10 miles below the Cambodian border, to the enemy.

Field reports said elements of four North Vietnamese divisions had crossed the Cambodian border in force and penetrated at least 20 miles into South Vietnamese territory.

Small enemy units slipped to within 20 miles of Saigon and damaged a bridge on Highway 13, the north-south road from the border. A bypass was being used.

Enemy forces were reported to have cut the highway temporarily in nine places south of An Loc.

Crazy Joe Gallo Shot To Death

NEW YORK (AP) — Joey Gallo, a member of Brooklyn's Gallo Brothers gang whose underworld exploits were parodied in the movie "The Gang That Couldn't Shoot Straight," was shot to death early today in a restaurant in the Little Italy section of lower Manhattan.

Crazy Joe, or Joey the Blond as he was more familiarly known, was in Umberto's Clam House with his new bride, 10-year-old stepdaughter, a sister, a friend and his bodyguard when he was gunned down by a single gunman at 5:30 a.m.

He was taken to Beekman Downtown Hospital in a police car and pronounced dead on arrival.

Gallo, 42, was released from Sing Sing Prison at Ossining last March after serving eight years for extortion.

Three weeks ago, he married Sina Essary, a 29-year-old divorcee from Akron, Ohio. The wedding took place in the apartment of actor Jerry Orbach, who played a character based on Gallo in the film, "The Gang That Couldn't Shoot Straight."

The death was the second gangland-style slaying in the metropolitan area in the past 24 hours. A reputed underworld figure, Bruno Carnevale, 29, was shot down in Queens Thursday, but police said the incidents were unrelated.

The shooting early today was apparently the work of a single assailant, police said. The gunman entered the restaurant by a side door and started shooting, hitting Gallo three times.

Gallo, staggered from the restaurant and fell in the street.

The dining room of the restaurant showed signs of a struggle, with two tables overturned, when newsmen viewed the scene an hour later. Police said Gallo had been eating with his wife and daughter.

His assailant was described as a stocky man, wearing a dark suit, in his early 40's. Police said Gallo had been shot several times, apparently with a pistol.

Gallo was the surviving leader of the notorious gang that was run by three brothers who police described as mob enforcers in South Brooklyn.

Their revolt against the leadership of Joseph Profaci in the early 1960s led to an underworld war that left 12 dead, another dozen wounded and four missing.

E. L. Bentley Dies Today

Earl L. Bentley, 76, a resident of Snyder for the past 74 years, died at 6 a.m. today in the Veterans Administration Hospital in Big Spring.

Mr. Bentley, a native of Knox County, was a veteran of World War I.

Funeral service has been set for 4 p.m. Saturday at the Bell-Seale Funeral Home Chapel, with the Rev. Cone Merritt officiating. Burial will be in the Snyder Cemetery, under direction of Bell-Seale Funeral Home.

Mr. Bentley is survived by his wife; four sons, Orrin E. Bentley of Odessa, Donald H. Bentley of Andrews, Travis W. Bentley of Rotan and Aubrey O. Bentley of Kermit; three sisters, Mrs. J.B. Biggs of Grand Prairie, Mrs. Ivey Rollins of Plainview and Mrs. Frances Kind of Arlington; and 14 grandchildren.

March Water Deliveries Set Record

An unseasonably warm March produced a new record for the month in water deliveries by the Colorado River Municipal Water District.

The total for the month was 1,613,563,822 gallons, an increase of 41.70 per cent over March 1971. This brought to 4,044,450,226 gallons the first quarter total, up 41.22 per cent over the same month a year ago.

Municipal deliveries amounted to 1,091,168,000 gallons, a gain of 13.85 per cent over March 1971, but the whopping percentage increase came in mining and industrial deliveries of 522,395,822 gallons. This was 189.72 per cent more than a year ago when these deliveries were sharply curtailed by critically short lake supplies at that time. Last summer's rains changed all that.

During March, the district made these deliveries to cities: Odessa 399,524,000 gallons, up 5.48 per cent over March last year; Big Spring 237,425,000 gallons, up 10.64 per cent; Snyder 67,994,000 gallons, up 3.96 per cent; Stanton 6,445,000 gallons, up 648.55 per cent; Midland 346,125,000, up 15.84 per cent; San Angelo 33,655,000 (San Angelo did not pump in March 1971).

The system has been put through a round of preventive maintenance and is in position to meet any demands upon it during the approaching season of peak demand, said Paschal Odom, assistant general manager.

Job Rate Up, WPI Rise Slows

WASHINGTON (AP) — The total number of Americans with jobs posted the largest gain in March in nearly five years and the rise in wholesale prices slowed sharply, the government reported today.

Wholesale prices are generally indicators of later developments in retail consumer costs.

The report that total employment rose 620,000 to 81.2 million and that wholesale prices of food and industrial raw materials increased a modest one-tenth of one per cent indicated more favorable developments for President Nixon to defend his economic policies.

The reports by the Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics also said that the nation's unemployment rate edged up from 5.7 to 5.9 per cent last month, but this was due to seasonal factors and the actual number of jobless edged down some 200,000 to 5.2 million.

The report on wholesale prices included the news that farm products and processed foods declined four-tenths of one per cent in March after several months of sharp increases.

The over-all one-tenth of one per cent increase in the wholesale price index was the smallest in five months and followed three consecutive sharp increases of eight-tenths each in December and January and nine-tenths in February.

The report on jobs said half the employment [illegible] was among men and was their largest monthly gain in more than five years. Another one-third of the gain in jobs went to teenagers and the rest to women.

The report also said average hourly earnings of some 45 million rank-and-file workers, more than half the nation's total work force, rose two cents in March to $3.57. This was 21 cents or 6.3 per cent above a year earlier.

The rise in hourly earnings plus a small increase in the length of the average work week boosted average rank-and-file pay by $1.09 per week to $131.73, the report said.

The gain in the average weekly paycheck was placed at $8.08 or 6.5 per cent above a year earlier. But rising living costs of 3.7 per cent over the year reduced the gain in purchasing power to $3.21 or 2.8 per cent.

Increases in employment, earnings and hours of work are generally viewed as signs of economic growth.

Johnson Rushed To Hospital

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP) — Former President Lyndon B. Johnson was admitted to the University of Virginia Hospital's cardiac unit early today suffering from chest pains.

Dr. Richard S. Crampton, associate professor of internal medicine at the hospital here and Johnson's physician, said the former president is comfortable, his condition stable, and he is undergoing tests.

Dr. Crampton declined to say specifically that the 63-year-old ex-president had suffered a heart attack.

Johnson had been visiting his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Robb, in this university city and apparently began suffering chest pains shortly before 4 a.m.

A rescue squad was summoned and, about 4 a.m., a mobile coronary care unit from the University of Virginia Hospital was sent to the Robb home in the fashionable Farmington section outside Charlottesville.

Johnson was brought to the hospital about 5:30 a.m., members of the family said.

Johnson had planned to go from here to Washington Saturday to attend a wedding. He had arrived at the Robb home Thursday.

Robb, married to the former Lynda Bird Johnson, is a student at the University of Virginia School of Law.

Laird: US To Continue Attacks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird today condemned the North Vietnamese attack as a "massive invasion of South Vietnam." And he warned that the United States will continue its bombing until the enemy withdraws.

Laird told a news conference the heavy American air attacks against North Vietnam will go on until the Communists pull their troops back across the demilitarized zone and show a willingness to negotiate peace.

He also implied that the United States will not return to the Paris peace talks until these conditions were met.

"The enemy has scornfully rejected the American people's patience, restraint and desire for peace," he said. "Our patience has been met with propaganda and with provocation. Our restraint has been answered by invasion."

Using the strongest language of any senior administration official since the North Vietnamese offensive opened a week ago, Laird said the enemy "has dared us to abandon our allies and we will not."

"The enemy has escalated this threat and we are responding," the Defense secretary said.

The United States, he said, "has made a conscious decision in the face of this invasion to use American naval and air power" to protect withdrawing U.S. forces and to support the South Vietnamese.

He declined to disclose what other measures are being taken to beef up the American forces in Southeast Asia, but made clear that U.S. ground troops would not be involved.

The troop withdrawals will continue and President Nixon's plan to reduce American troop strength to 69,000 by May 1 in South Vietnam, will be accomplished, he said.

Meanwhile, it was learned that a number of air units from several states have been alerted for possible deployment to the war zone.

One squadron of F105 all-weather jet attack planes from McConnell Air Force Base, Kan., was ordered across the Pacific Thursday, and it is believed that a fifth aircraft carrier, possibly the Midway will be sent to the battle zone within the next few days, joining four others now on station.

ON NATURAL GAS HIKES

Consumer Group Says FPC Proposal Premature

WASHINGTON (AP) — A consumer spokesman says a proposal by the Federal Power Commission to allow higher natural gas prices to stimulate production is premature and a giveaway to the industry.

The commission proposed Thursday a new rule which would permit higher rates on the interstate sale of natural gas if the higher prices spur the industry to bring more gas into the market.

The FPC said its proposal was intended to stimulate exploration and development of new natural gas sources pare a growing gap between gas reserves and demand.

The American Gas Associated called the proposal "a constructive step forward to provide greater economic incentives toward relieving the natural gas shortage."

But Ed Berlin, a lawyer for the Consumer Federation of America, said the FPC already had allowed gas producers to increase prices, plus forgiven $400 million in refund obligations, in accepting a settlement last July of natural gas rates for the Southern Louisiana area, one of the seven areas the FPC has divided the country into for price regulation. The Consumer Federation of America has filed a lawsuit challenging that settlement.

There has not been enough time, Berlin said, to determine whether the financial incentives allowed in the Southern Louisiana case would stimulate greater production.

"I consider it shocking," he said, "that the commission would even suggest the necessity of further incentives in view of their acceptance of the industry's tendered settlement offer less than a year ago.

Her cat and dog are too friendly

By Abigail Van Buren

(c 1972 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: I have news for "one of the finest vets in the profession, Dr. Salk of Palm Springs, California," who states there are no homosexual cats.

We have a male dog [name withheld] and a male cat [name also withheld] who have no sex lives other than their gay lives together. We, and our family, and what friends we have left can attest to this after many years of embarrassed observation.

I would make a film of these two consenting adult animals for you and Dr. Salk, but the Georgia pornography laws are too stiff. ASHAMED IN ATLANTA

DEAR ASHAMED: No need to be ashamed. Don't apply human behavior codes to animals. They haven't read the Bible and know nothing about incest taboos and homosexuality. Given a choice, your male pets would choose partners of the opposite sex.

DEAR ABBY: I am 74 years old and have been a widower for four years. I live alone and am able to look after myself nicely, so don't get the idea that I need a cook and housekeeper.

I have been keeping company with a very nice widow of 65. She is an intelligent woman, gets along well with people, and would make an ideal companion. But there is one problem. I am a college graduate and she has had only a sixth grade education. You would never know it by her conversation, but she has written me a few letters, and, Abby, her spelling is terrible.

How can I get her to improve her spelling without losing her? ON THE FENCE

DEAR ON: If the lady's poor spelling is a problem to you [and apparently it is], gently suggest that she try to improve it. And if you lose her because of it, you really didn't want her much in the first place.

DEAR ABBY: I am guilty of being one of those people who will say, "Why don't you come over some time?" Only, I am very careful who I say it to.

I have a husband I can never pin down. If I try to plan something, he says, "Maybe I'll be tied up late at work," or, "I don't like to make any commitments too far ahead." But just let someone drop in, and my husband is the grandest host you could imagine, and he really enjoys himself.

I admit, there are some people you can't ask to "drop in" without having them move in with you like the man who came to dinner. But when I say, "Why don't you come over some time," I really mean it. LIKES COMPANY

DEAR LIKES: I'm sure you do. But most people appreciate a little advance notice.

DEAR ABBY: It will not help "Practically Untouched in Tulsa" to "see" a lawyer or a judge. [Lawyers are generally too busy, and judges are usually too old.]

What she needs is to "see" a young construction worker. I SAW A JUDGE

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069.

30 Injured In Train Accident

CHICAGO (AP) — Two cars of an elevated rapid transit train plunged 30 feet to the ground during a blinding rainstorm Thursday night, injuring about 30 persons.

One of the four cars of the southbound Chicago Transit Authority train landed in a vacant lot and narrowly missed a two-story brick apartment building.

A second car was left dangling from the tracks.

No cause was determined immediately for the accident on the city's South Side.

"It sounded like an earthquake with an explosion in the middle of it," said 36-year-old Otto Markham, a resident of the neighborhood who was inside his house.

A wind-whipped rainstorm was pounding the city at the time.

The Chicago fire department called in three of its towering snorkel units to evacuate an estimated 30 to 40 persons trapped in the two cars atop the platform. Passengers in a second train, which was halted when power to the electric rails was cut off, had to be rescued, too.

More than 50 firemen as well as police and CTA workmen fought through crowds of spectators to free those trapped inside the fallen cars.

The accident interrupted service on the city's north-south rapid-transit line for about an hour and a half, according to a CTA spokesman.

Nitro Truck Overturns Near Fluvanna

A well casing service truck unit carrying nitroglycerin and owned by Midland Casing Pullers, Inc., of Midland overturned on the hill north of Fluvanna about 200 yards inside the Scurry County line about 5:45 p.m. Thursday.

The driver of the unit was taken to Post Hospital by a passing motorist. His injuries were not believed to be serious. Another man with him escaped injury.

Highway Patrolmen from Post, Deputy Sheriffs R.D. Lewis and Andy Anderson of Scurry County, and Highway Patrolmen Wendell Rehm and Harold Kornegay of Snyder all went to the scene to help clear the roadway of debris.

Lewis said the truck unit was pulling two trailers. The driver apparently lost control on the hill and the truck overturned. There was heavy damage to the cab and to the crane.

An employe of Reneau Casing Service volunteered to remove the nitroglycerin from the area. It was scattered all around the scene in tubes. Lewis said that if any of the tubes had been mashed they would have exploded.

Musslewhite Trucking Company dispatched a truck and crew to the scene this morning to help clear away the wrecked vehicle.

Mail Boxes Are Ripped Off Posts

Vandals tore two mail boxes off their posts yesterday.

Someone ripped the mailbox off a post at the Herman Doak residence, 2802 Thirty-second Street. It was discovered in some weeds across the street.

A mailbox at the Hoyt Dillard residence, 1912 Towle Park Road, also was wrenched from a post. It has not been found.

Reports Boy Is Hit By Auto

City Police said Judy Wickstrom, 1905½ Thirty-first Street, told them her car hit a small boy on a bicycle at Thirty-first Street and College Avenue about 1:50 p.m. Thursday. The boy apparently was not hurt for he got back on his bicycle and drove off before she could get his name.

Trio Posts Bond

Three youths were arrested in Towle Park late Thursday night and charged with illegal possession of intoxicating beverages. They posted bonds of $25 and were released.

Winter Drought Drys Southwest

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A winter drought is drying the air and ground in the Southwest, browning crops and rangelands and posing serious fire threats to forests and brush land.

Since a heavy rain in late December, only a barely measureable amount of rain has fallen on Southern California and Nevada and none in Arizona during the normal winter rainy season.

Only .13 inches of rain was recorded in Los Angeles in February and none in January or March. "By this time of year we should have had nine inches," said Joseph Vederman, the Weather Service's chief meteorologist for Southern California. "I think the average person would say we're in a drought."

Winter storms that normally hit Southern California have been diverted into Northern California, Oregon and Washington, he said.

In the high mountains, where thick snowpacks are needed to replenish the rivers and reservoirs in the spring, snowfall is below normal. Some irrigation districts have already cut back water deliveries.

Nevada Agriculture Director Thomas W. Ballow said the brushland has suffered from the dryness but it is not yet a drought. He said if rain does not come soon farmers will have to supply other feed to cattle and sheep, driving up the cost of meat.

"It all adds up to a total crop failure for our dry land grain," said Bob Howie, agriculture commissioner of California's Riverside County. "Possibly 20 per cent of the barley, wheat and oats was saved through irrigation, but all the money was spent on water."

Howie said the irrigation had substantially drained the county's water reserves. Grain crops and pasture grass also were reported destroyed in San Benito, Monterey and San Luis Obispo counties in California.

In California's Central Valley, the driest March since record keeping began in 1888 was made worse by a two-day freeze late in the month, severely damaging raisin grapes, plums, peaches, nectarines, walnuts and almonds. Wine grapes in the Napa Valley north of San Francisco also were hard hit by the freeze.

Realtors Of Area To Hear State Chief

Men and women in real estate in Snyder, Lamesa and Big Spring will hear the president of the Texas Association of Realtors Monday evening at a special meeting in Big Spring.

Lester C. Weatherby of Fort Worth, the TAR president, is due to address the area group at 8 p.m. Monday at Coker's Restaurant in Big Spring. He will be introduced by Jeff Brown, president of the Big Spring Real Estate Board. Heading other delegations at the meeting will be Malven K. Stevenson, president of the Snyder board, and Jacob Darl Williams, president of the Lamesa board. Also expected to attend the meeting is Harold Chapman of Lubbock, TAR regional vice president.

Weatherby, who was twice president of his board, was named Fort Worth Realtor of the Year in 1961. He has served on several civic posts in his city and has worked in a variety of committee assignments for the Texas and National Associations of Real Estate Boards. He served TAR, an organization of over 20,000 members, as treasurer in 1971.

More Kin On Payroll Found

AUSTIN (AP) — Heatly, McKissack and Moore are among legislator names that have been added to the list of representatives whose relatives have worked on the Senate payroll.

Research on the Senate payroll revealed the names Thursday.

Margaret M. Moore, daughter of Rep. Tom Moore of Waco, worked as a Capitol guide in 1969-70 and as a part-time clerk for Sen. Glenn Kothmann of San Antonio in 1971.

Moore is a member of the "Dirty 30," a self-proclaimed reform coalition of liberal Democrats and Republicans. He makes the sixth member of that group to have been mentioned in connection a long standing practice of legislators getting their relatives on the payroll of another legislator or the payroll of the house in which they are not a member.

Other names that surfaced Thursday are:

Linda Heatly, daughter-in-law of Rep. Heatly of Paducah, who worked as a clerk for Sen. William Moore of Bryan from September 1971 through February 1972 at $250 a month.

—Allen Birmingham Jr., son-in-law of Rep. Dick McKissack of Dallas, who works part-time as an assistant to the Senate sergeant at arms for $192 a month; he worked in the same job during 1971, except for the months of June through August; his payroll card lists Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes as his sponsor, but Barnes' aide Robert Spellings says he hired him.

Patricia M. Bass, daughter of Rep. Tom Bass of Houston, who previously has been reported to have worked for Rep. Frances Farenthold of Corpus Christi in 1971, now works part-time on the Senate payroll as a Capitol tour guide. She has averaged $139 a month since last September. No sponsor is listed on her payroll card.

Bass and Mrs. Farenthold also are members of the "Dirty 30." All four of Mrs. Farenthold's children have worked as Senate employes or for senators. "It was custom, I was told, and I wanted my children to have the experience," she said.

The other three members of the "Dirty 30" previously mentioned in connection with the practice are Reps. John Hannah of Lufkin, whose wife worked for Sen. Charles Wilson of Lufkin in 1967, and Edmund "Sonny" Jones of Houston, who hired the father of Bill Blythe of Houston last November. Jones and Blythe are Republicans.

Mrs. Martha Miller, wife of Banks Miller, whose public relations firm is working in Barnes' gubernatorial campaign, is carried on Senate payroll records as a full-time employe at the same time she works half a day in the Barnes campaign headquarters.

"So far as I know, she's full-time," says Mrs. Conneen Lindgren, Senate payroll clerk.

But Mrs. Miller says she works only half-time for the state "and every state holiday but three—be sure and put that in there."

Her original payroll card in 1967 lists her employment time as three-quarters. She works today with the Capitol tour guides at $428 a month.

Other legislators whose relatives have been on the state payroll on the opposite side of the Capitol are Reps. John Allen of Longview, Don Cavness of Austin and Leroy Wieting of Portland; and Sens. David Ratliff of Stamford, Charles Wilson of Lufkin, Don Kennard of Fort Worth and former Sen. Criss Cole of Houston.

Dist. Atty. Bob Smith said Thursday he probably would ask for an attorney general's opinion on whether legislators violate the nepotism law by hiring each other's relatives.

Smith previously indicated he would talk with Speaker Rayford Price and Barnes after the primary elections about the practice.

Peeper Almost Nabbed Here

City Police almost nabbed a "peeping Tom" at the Snyder Nursing Home early this morning.

Officers received a call at 2:54 a.m. that a man was peeking through a window. Officer Jim Hudson answered the call and parked his patrol car at Twenty-eighth Street and Avenue F. Walking towards the nursing home, he saw a man on Twenty-seventh Street between Avenue F and Avenue G. He ran west on Twenty-seventh Street to Avenue G, then turned south on G to Twenty-ninth Street and went east.

The police report indicates Hudson cut through the alley between Twenty-eighth Street and Twenty-ninth Street to head him off, but lost him on Twenty-ninth Street.

The peeper was described as being 6 feet in height with long black hair and wearing dark trousers and a white smock or Nehru jacket.

Here's the Answer

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Q.—We just bought a mobile home. Most of it is aluminum, painted white. What should we use to keep it clean on the outside?

A.—The idea is to use a cleaner strong enough to remove the grime, but not so strong as to injure the finish. Therefore, treat it as you would the outside of an automobile. Hose or wash it down frequently with plain water and a little mild soap; clean it once in a while with an auto cleaner; and use an auto wax on it a couple of times a year.

Q.—Every time I put a "clear" finish on wood, it turns out not to be clear. Isn't there any kind of finishing material that doesn't darken the wood? I heard there is a special kind of varnish that keeps the wood its natural color, but since I don't know what kind it is, I don't know what to look for.

A.—Any finish will darken the wood to some extent, some more than others. Professionals have their own favorites, one of which is called water-white lacquer, but it isn't always easy to obtain in stores that sell mostly to householders. You are probably referring to varnish that contains urethane. It is a little costlier than the others, but generally is a little clearer.

Q.—I bought an old desk for my son. It has a large ink stain on it. How can I remove it? I don't want to refinish the entire desk.

A.—You can't. But you can save some work by refinishing only the top of the desk. The rest probably can be perked up by cleaning it with water and a very mild soap, being sure to dry it immediately.

Q.—There's a stretch of concrete in front of our garage about 18 inches by 12 feet. It's in two pieces, with a joint between them. One of these pieces has cracked in several places and is higher on one end than the other. How can I repair it and get it even with the other piece?

A.—If leveling the concrete were the only problem, it could be solved by prying it up with a long board, repacking the base and setting it in place. But because of the cracks, you most likely will find it coming apart as you attempt to pry it up. It seems, from this long-range view, that you would be better off to put down new concrete. While you can make your own mix, the job is small enough to make the use of a ready-mixed concrete both convenient and economical. However, if you wish to make a mix, use one part of cement to two parts of sand and three parts of gravel. Add just enough water so that the mixture is workable. Too much water weakens the mixture. A wooden float will level the concrete and give it a rough finish. If a smoother finish is desired, complete the leveling with a steel trowel.

BUSINESS DRIVE—Mrs. Kenneth Wood, chairman of the Business Division of the Cancer Crusade, is pictured with volunteer workers from Beta Sigma Phi Sorority who are working in the Business Drive which began last Monday. Beta Sigma Phi Elects Officers

Lambda Kappa Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met Tuesday evening at the Martha Ann Woman's Club. The programs presented were "Action Has Served Mankind" by Mrs. Truett Bryan and "Thought" by Mrs. Carson Clayton.

Mrs. Bryan told the group that action has served mankind through inventors and told unusual stories behind inventions. Mrs. Bryan explained to the group the interesting backgrounds of some of the lesser known inventors. Included were Herman Hallerith who invented the forerunner of data processing. In 1911 Mr. Hallerith sold his interest and the company later became known as IBM. Another invention with an interesting background was the Slinky toy. She said that the man who invented this toy could not convince any toy company that it was worthwhile, so he finally manufactured and marketed it himself. The Slinky toys now sell more than 100,000 a year.

In closing Mrs. Bryan said, "Should any of you come upon a good idea to patent, it might be the right course to take. But if that seems too involved, you can reach many people by just sharing it with Heloise."

Mrs. Clayton's program on "Thought" explained the many ways of thinking. She told the group that good thinking is not only a rich personal satisfaction, but more than ever today it is the best basis of success in whatever work you do. She said that crystal-clear thinking can be done, first by taking the right attitude and second, eliminating distraction.

Mrs. Clayton told the group, "Real thinking is an organized operation with a proper beginning and ending, and it must be expressed in words." In closing she quoted Henry Ford who said, "Thinking is the hardest work there is, which is the probable reason why so few people engage in it."

During the business meeting conducted by President Mrs. Bill Early, officers for the 1972-73 year were elected. Newly elected officers were: President, Mrs. Blake Forehand; First Vice President, Mrs. Howard Limmer; Second Vice President, Mrs. James Heffernan; Recording Secretary, Mrs. James Barnes; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Albert Mack Taylor; Treasurer, Mrs. Lanier Campbell; and Extension Officer, Mrs. Jerry Baird.

Mrs. Carson Clayton was presented with a farewell gift from the chapter. Mrs. Clayton will be moving to Denton, Texas.

Refreshments of coffee, tea and pie were served from the refreshment table by Mrs. David Palmer and Mrs. James Barnes.

The Pill Could Be Replaced By Injections

DETROIT (AP) — Women who dislike oral contraceptives or who have difficulty remembering to take the pill can look to the prospect of injectable contraceptives to provide long-term protection against pregnancy, according to family planning authority Edris Rice-Wray.

Dr. Rice-Wray, director general of the Training and Research Center of Family Planning for Mexico City's Mental Health Association, reported the results today of experimental tests begun in 1963 with 907 Mexican women.

She said the pregnancy rate was zero when injections were given at proper intervals and fertility returned rapidly when treatment was discontinued.

The injectable contraceptives, however, are still in the experimental stage, she said.

"The major problem with injectables is the occasional episode of severe bleeding," Dr. Rice-Wray told more than 300 doctors at a meeting of the American Association of Planned Parenthood Physicians in Detroit.

"On the other hand," she said, "one must compare this incidence with that of hemorrhage or other complications in repeated pregnancies."

Other side effects, such as headaches, dizziness or nevousness, were minor and varied with different contraceptive compounds, Dr. Wright-Wray reported. She said five injectable contraceptives, in different dosages and combinations, with or without estrogen, were studied during the 14,958 cycles of use.

"The patients were pleased not to have to remember to take a daily pill and, in the longer-acting injections, not to have to return to the clinic at monthly intervals," Dr. Rice-Wray said.

The test groups of the 907 low-income Mexican women, the majority from Mexico City, included 68 who lived in a remote mountainous region.

New Labeling Required On Frozen Dinners

COLLEGE STATION—Provisions are being established to provide nutrition information on precooked frozen convenience heat-and-serve dinners.

The Food and Drug Administration will ask manufacturers to follow guidelines voluntarily, but it won't require compliance.

Sally Springer, foods and nutrition specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said that the proposal would include minimum levels of protein, vitamin A, thiamine, ribolfavin, niacin, iron and proposal, frozen dinners will contain meat, poultry, fish or cheese protein; potatoes, rice or other cereal-based product; and vegetables other than potatoes, rice or other cereal-based product.

"In addition," Miss Springer said, "dinners may contain other components."

Another aspect of the proposal is that frozen dinners will contain a minimum of 340 calories and state on the label the actual number of calories.

"These proposals are being evaluated," Miss Springer said. "Indeed this will help standardize frozen convenience heat-and-serve dinners."

Burton No Puppet

BUDAPEST (AP) — Actor Richard Burton says he does not like to be considered a puppet by any director.

"The Italians Fellini and Antonioni, the Swede Bergman and the British Hitchcock regarded their actors as puppets. They would not be able to do this to me," Burton said.

The Welsh actor, spending three months in Hungary for the filming of "Bluebeard," made the remarks during a question and answer session with more than 500 Budapest University students.

Burton discussed a variety of subjects and said his personal philosophy was to "acquire wisdom."

ACS Business Drive Draws To An End

"We want to wipe out cancer in your lifetime, is the motivating theme," of the April American Cancer Crusade," explained Mrs. Kenneth Wood, Business Division Chairman of the Scurry County Unit of the American Cancer Society. "We will be asking everyone to back up this goal with an annual health checkup and a generous check when our volunteer comes around."

Pointing out that there is more concern about cancer than ever before among Americans, Mrs. Wood said the 1972 Crusade will seek to involve the many Americans who are careless or forgetful of the need for regular health checkups.

"Although a nationwide Gallup study showed a gradual increase in the percentage of people who do get checkups from 57 percent in 1963 to 62 percent in 1970 - there was a slowing down in the rate of increase of those who went for specific cancer tests," Mrs. Wood said.

The fact that many cancers can be cured if detected early enough and treated promptly is the urgent message the Crusade will bring to the American people.

"Today we are saving one out of three cancer patients, Mrs. Wood declared, "but with our present knowledge we could save one out of two if only people were alert to the warning signals, the safeguards against cancer and the need for the regular checkup." The safeguards, such as avoiding excessive sun, stopping cigarette smoking and others, will be stressed during the Crusade for year-round vigilance.

"We will use the Crusade this year to remind the public that there are 1,500,000 Americans today who are cured of cancer and that the number could be increased if everyone would try to protect themselves from cancer."

Cancer is most curable when it's caught early and treated promptly. The American Cancer Society urges you to have a health checkup once a year even if you feel great.

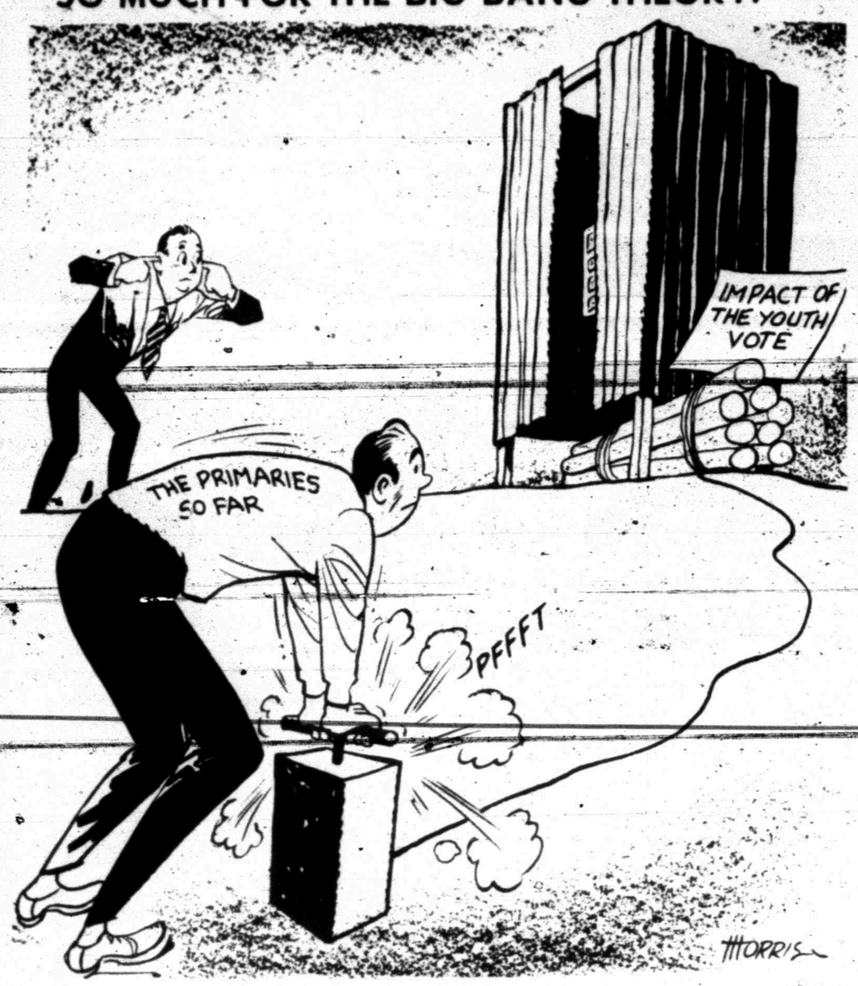
SO MUCH FOR THE BIG BANG THEORY!



Yesterdays' Rejected Ideas Welcomed Today

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Can a good idea born into a hostile or indifferent society succeed?

Since environments change, the rejected ideas of yesterday often are welcomed today. Any fashion designer or marketing man can attest to it.

To illustrate, in the late 1950s Ford Motor Co. sought to interest the public in safety, but by most measures the attempt failed.

Now safety is "in." Every one of the big automakers is attempting to produce a safer car, although with considerable prompting from federal officials.

Another example: Early in the boom that followed World War II and which continues today people bought what they had long postponed buying. Included were foods and drinks that weren't available during the war and which they couldn't afford before it.

The results were measured on more than scales. Whereas malnutrition was a common health problem that turned up in insurance company files before the war, obesity replaced it after the war.

This was still before this battle of the bulge made millions of Americans so calorie and nutrition conscious. To put vitamin contents on packages would have been disdained as too medicinal; and the calories count as just malicious.

Now the Food and Drug Administration intends to see that just such information is included on packaged food labels, and quite likely the proposal will be welcomed in this calorie conscious, vitamin minded age.

The FDA chose five supermarket chains to test various labels containing such information and soon found itself, in the words of a spokesman, "bombarded" with requests from other retailers to get in on the action.

There are reasons for the interest shown by the retailers. Shoppers are sharper today.

Trip Depressing

NEW YORK (AP) — Roy Wilkins, executive director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, says a week-long visit to South Africa left him both encouraged and depressed.

Wilkins told newsmen at Kennedy Airport Wednesday that he was encouraged "by the determination and dedication of the so-called nonwhite Africans" in South Africa and by "a noticeable expanding mood of doubt" by many youngsters and some other South African whites about the wisdom of the government's apartheid policy.

Wilkins said he was depressed by the continued official policy of racial separation. They aren't as impressed by the beauty of the package as by the writing thereon. They suspect that the dazzle of the marketing effort is meant to blind the buyer.

And so, even men who never examined the package except to read stories of sports heroes on the back of the cereal box when they were youths now hold the package close to their girth and squint down through their spectacles at the fine print.

Another old idea has blown around on cold, barren ground for many years—certainly for a century. It was restated this week by Carl Kamp Jr., a Federal Home Loan Board member, in a St. Louis speech.

"The area of property taxes has come into the spotlight lately," he said. "It might be worthwhile to consider looking at land and its taxation in a more practical and realistic way.

"For instance, isn't it counterproductive to levy higher taxes on improved property? Doesn't such a tax policy discourage rehabilitation of deteriorating properties? Why should a landlord keep his properties looking good and make necessary repairs if his taxes will increase?

"Possibly a more realistic approach would be a land value tax which taxes the land and not the structure. Such a tax might well encourage improvements on many existing structures . . . in most metropolitan areas."

The same suggestion has been ignored for decades while cities blithely tax the citizen who erects a building and, in effect, rewards with low taxes the fellow who leaves his lot empty so as to park cars drawn by the building.

Tax restructuring now receives an audience, but for years it didn't. It took the crumble of core cities to provide the rich mulch for the seed.

Junior Editors Quiz on FALSE TEETH

QUESTION: Who invented false teeth?

ANSWER: The art of replacing lost teeth with artificial teeth is attributed to the Etruscans, a civilization in Italy which dates to about 800 B.C. The Etruscans were dominant in Italy before the Romans came into power. They had a highly developed civilization and were famous as metal workers. In Etruscan ruins, gold dental bridges were found. They showed a high degree of technical skill.

Dentistry developed slowly. In the Middle Ages, barbers served as doctors and dentists. Jewelers and other craftsmen made dentures. Some early dentures were made of wood, animal teeth or even human teeth. Dentistry became a profession in 1840 when the first College for the education of dentists was established in Baltimore, Maryland. In the nineteenth century, porcelain was introduced in the making of artificial teeth. Today, false teeth are made from porcelain and plastic, and resemble the natural teeth in shape and color.

Lion Park Is Hit In Brazil

By DAVID VIDAL
Associated Press Writer

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP) — The king of the African jungle is footloose in Brazil, entertaining hundreds who pay $5 to mingle with His Majesty in a natural habitat.

Cars lined up for miles on a recent opening Sunday to get a chance to drive through 120,000 square yards of open forest housing 23 free-roaming lions.

The "Simba Safari," lion park, first on this continent, was an instant hit in Latin America's largest city.

The lions are confined only by two 20-foot-high wire fences which encircle the park, but otherwise are free to walk along the 1.8 miles of paved road used by the visitors, or to simply sic in the forest.

"I visited many parks throughout the world," said Francisco "Chico" Galvao, originator of the $180,000 project here.

"This is the eighth. And from what I could gather, ours is the prettiest both in terms of vegetation and geography. The park in the United States is situated in a desert. In the others vegetation is scarce, relying mostly on eucalyptus trees. And there's another thing: This park is the first one in which the lions are put together. In the others they are kept apart."

Galvao and three other Brazilian outdoorsmen and hunters brought the lions to their new home on a 3,400-foot inland plateau on the Tropic of Capricorn. Eventually, 50 lions will occupy the park situated on land purchased from the nearby Sao Paulo Zoo. Most will have been brought from other zoos in Africa or Latin America.

Visitors to the park must ride in cars. They pay the equivalent of just under $1 per person to see the lions from one of the park's zebra-striped Jeeps or almost $5 to ride through in their own cars. There is no limit on how many persons may be inside.

Car windows must be closed at all times, although the lions appear generally tame and have been trained to become accustomed to cars. Hornblowing is prohibited.

All along the road, park security rangers remain on alert, armed with rifles that shoot anaesthetic pellets in the case of attacks. The pellets can put an attacking lion to sleep without hurting him.

In spite of the obvious need for safety precautions, some visitors were somewhat let down upon learning a little-known fact: Lions cry.

Samson, Leonard and Simon, the first beasts set free in the park, cuddled up to the closed gates and began crying on their first night of freedom in Brazil.

The reason?

"They got scared," Chico Galvao said. "They began to miss people."

Police Trained For Convention

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The city is paying a sociologist and a psychologist to train San Diego police for the "unusual stresses and demands" they may face during the Republican National Convention.

"If there is an understanding of the socio-economic factors that motivate people to dissent, the officers confronted by a demonstration will be much less likely to react in an aggressive manner," said John Lockwood, an assistant to the city manager.

Tigers are incredibly strong.

Owners Ask Kuhn To Halt Strike

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball players continued their strike today as two owners called on Commissioner Bowie Kuhn to take action to end the week-long walkout.

"The commissioner is going to have to intervene," says owner Bob Short of the Texas Rangers, who recommends that Kuhn take an iron-fisted stand and order the players back to work. "I know that he has been reluctant to take sides, but he's the only person left who can solve this."

"He may not think he has the power, but I believe he does. He had the power to keep me in Washington, D.C., although he told me that he chose not to use it," Short added, referring to his franchise switch from Washington to Texas this past winter.

Calvin Griffith, president of the Minnesota Twins, is on Short's side. He, too, thinks the commissioner should make his pitch.

"If Kuhn doesn't step into it, the only solution I can see is for players to call off the strike," said Griffith.

That doesn't seem too likely immediately, based on recent developments.

Chief negotiators met Thursday in a long, but fruitless discussion in an attempt to end the first general strike in baseball history, now in its seventh day.

"We are not close to any settlement," declared Marvin Miller, the executive director of the Major League Players' Association.

Another meeting is scheduled for today in the dispute over pension benefits between Miller and John Gaherin, the owners' chief negotiator. But even if they settle, chances are the season won't start before Monday because teams have postponed weekend games.

The situation became more involved with a report that the presidents of the two major leagues would order players locked out from practicing in stadiums. Neither American League President Joe Cronin, nor National League President Chub Feeney were immediately available for comment, however.

Some baseball parks have been made available by owners to the strike-bound players.

"I didn't know that was an area of conflict," said Miller, referring to the reported lockout.

Miller said he is willing to submit the painful dispute to binding arbitration.

The strike, which forced postponement of the scheduled Wednesday opening of the regular season, was triggered by the owners' refusal to meet players' demands for a 17 per cent increase in pension benefits. The boost is way above the $490,000 the owners offered.

"The owners have clearly refused to bargain in good faith," said Miller Thursday. "We've said 'we'll go your way on two of the most important things—we'll accept a one-year contract and we'll reduce the amount of the pension contribution'."

But, Miller said, the owners' answer was: "We won't discuss pensions with you. Renew the contract with no change!"

The owners, in a related development late Thursday, turned down a request by Cincinnati Reds player representative Jim Merritt for eight players to negotiate directly with the eight-member owners Player Relations Committee.

Merritt made the proposal to Cincinnati President Francis L. Dale, a member of the owners negotiating committee, during a session between the Reds' players and the club management.

"Basically, the committee felt that eight could not speak for 24 just as one could not," said Dale.

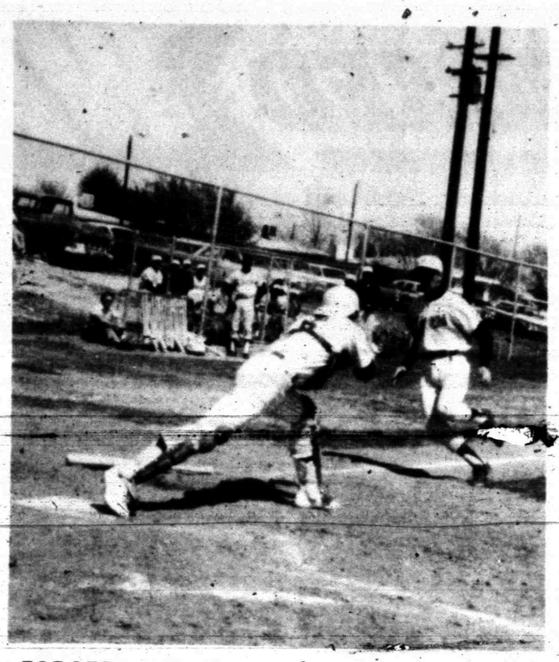
Although the chief negotiators spent a long day in "frank discussion" Thursday, Miller said the session didn't provide any break in the situation.

Sparks exploded between Miller and Cincinnati General Manager Bob Howsam Thursday as the two issued statements in a verbal cross-fire.

"There would be no strike if it were not for Marvin Miller," said Howsam in Cincinnati. "He has not played one inning as a professional player. He has never worked for a baseball club. I challenge his knowledge of baseball to represent to the players the need for a strike. (Miller's) background is in the field of labor relations, not baseball. Money seems to be his only concern. Baseball is not the steel industry and he can't use the tactics of a steel negotiator."

Miller countered: "Mr. Howsam's thinking still is 30 years behind the time."

In a related development, vice president Frank Cashen of the Baltimore Orioles said that if the strike continues another week, the 1972 schedule will have to be shortened. He said it "wouldn't be practical to make up that many lost games."



FORCED OUT—Snyder High School's Marvin McClanahan was forced out at home plate during the 3rd inning of the first game of a double-header here last Saturday between the Tigers and Eunice, N.M. Here, catcher Magee takes the throw from shortstop Parker as McClanahan charges down the third base line. The Tigers won 14-3 and 14-2. With a 15-2 record, their next outing is in Towle Park next Friday when they host the Levelland Lobos at 4 p.m. The next day, they begin district play in Brownfield at 2 p.m.

Seminole Relays Attracts Thinlies

The Snyder High School track team will compete in the Seminole Relays Saturday without one of their top men.

Johnny Spears, who runs on both the sprint and mile relays as well as competes in the long jump, is out with a kidney infection and hasn't been able to work out all week.

Coach Bill Hartsfield said the sprint relay unit probably would include Hubert Crayton, John Miller, Don Dyess and Bill Giles. If Giles doesn't run, then Hartsfield probably will use either Mike Hinton or Gary Wittie.

The distance relay will be comprised of Jackie Hartsfield, Gary Patterson, Freddy Murphy and Billy Giles.

Prelims begin at 9:30 a.m. Saturday with the finals slated to get underway at 2 p.m. Coach Hartsfield said he doesn't know which teams will be entered. There are meets the same day in Monahans and Lubbock, which could keep the field down.

Hartsfield listed tentative entries, as follows:

100 yard dash—Hubert Crayton, David West, Billy Giles.

220 yard dash—Gary Wittie, [illegible]

440 yard dash—John Boren, Wilbert Thompson.

880 yard run—Freddy Murphy, Mike Hintoh and Douglas Scott.

mile run—Julian Suarez, Roy Wilson and David Scott.

high hurdles—Gary Patterson, Richard Gorman, Don Dyess.

intermediate hurdles—Gary Patterson, Layne Collins and Oscar Vargas.

pole vault—Troy Hall, Regis Harper and John Miller.

high jump—Don Dyess, Gary Wittie.

long jump—Don Dyess, David West, Wilbert Thompson.

shot put—Mike Line, Mickey Gonzales and Willie Smith.

discus—Mike Line, Jal Dennis and Grant Knipe.

sprint relay—Hubert Crayton, John Miller, Don Dyess and Billy Giles.

mile relay—Jackie Hartsfield, Gary Patterson, Freddy Murphy and Billy Giles.

Jr. Girls Run At Big Spring

The Snyder High School and junior high girls track teams will compete in the Permian Basin Belle Relays at Big Spring Saturday. Field events begin at 10 a.m. Prelims in the running events begin at 1 p.m. and finals get underway at 6 p.m. There are 12 teams from the area entered.

Coach Pam Hess will head the high school squad while Coaches Melvia Jones and Joyce Elrod will be in charge of the junior high team.

This will be the first meet of the year for the high school girls, and they have only been working out together for about a week.

Probable entries:

Squires Sweep East Division

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Julius Erving tried different areas of attack until he found a failing in the Floridians.

"I had trouble getting inside, but we finally hit them in their weak spot—the hoop," said Erving, who wound up with 39 points as the Virginia Squires beat the Floridians 115-106 in the American Basketball Association playoffs Thursday night.

The victory gave the Squires a four-game sweep in their best-of-7 East Division semifinal series.

"I missed a couple of easy shots in the first part," said Erving. "The Floridians came out to play a physical game. I got knocked around pretty good."

But they couldn't knock back Erving's whistling shots from the outside later.

The triumph put Virginia into the East finals against the winner of the Kentucky-New York series. Those two meet tonight with New York holding a 2-1 edge in that best-of-7 series.

The Denver Rockets defeated the Indiana Pacers 112-96 to even their West Division semifinal set at two games apiece.

In the other ABA playoff game tonight, Utah plays Dallas in a West Division series. Utah holds a 3-0 edge there.

The New York Knicks beat the Baltimore Bullets 104-98 Thursday and squared their National Basketball Association East series at two games each. The Milwaukee Bucks won their West series 4-1 by defeating Golden State Warriors 108-100.

In NBA action tonight, it's Atlanta vs. Boston in a best-of-7 semifinal series in the East. They're tied 2-2.

Neither Virginia nor the Floridians was able to build a commanding lead in a tense first half that ended with the Squires ahead 57-52. The Squires, behind Erving's great shooting, broke it open in the third period by pulling away to an 86-73 advantage.

"I'm happy we won it in four so we don't have to play Friday night," said Virginia Coach Al Bianchi.

Bianchi said he was hoping that New York would beat Kentucky in the other East semifinal.

"It's no secret I'd rather play New York," he said. "We beat them in the regular season series and I'm sure we can do it again."

Byron Beck, Julius Keye and Dave Robisch combined for 60 points as Denver defeated Indiana.

Beck had 28 points and 16 rebounds in a powerhouse all-around effort. Robisch had 18 points and 19 rebounds and Keye scored 14 and had 20 rebounds.

Milwaukee was fired by a third quarter fight between Lucius Allen and Fritz Williams. The Bucks had rallied from their third quarter deficit to within 79-78 when the battle broke out late in the period.

Golden State was bringing the ball up in their backcourt with the Warriors' Williams and Allen manuevering for position. Suddenly, Allen decked Williams with a right and jumped on him as both benches cleared.

Officials had nearly restored order at center court when Williams struck Allen as the two stood near the sidelines. Williams was ejected from the game and Allen left for stitching above his left eye, although he returned midway of the fourth quarter.

"Williams pushed me and I saw him swing from the corner of my eye," said Allen. "He threw the first punch, but I got in the first punch."

"Something happened," said Williams. "Maybe Allen lost his cool. He pushed me, I pushed him back and he hit me. I thought it was only fair for me to hit him. It's no personal thing."

Bob Dandrige scored 29 points and Kareem Abdul-Jabbar had 23 for the Bucks who open the Western Conference playoff finals against the Lakers in Los Angeles on Sunday.

The New York Knicks rode clutch baskets by Walt Frazier and Bill Bradley to victory over Baltimore to even their torrid series.

"For a while there it really looked bad," said Frazier. "Nobody could hit—and we had the open shots. Another problem was that we weren't playing together.

Pilic, Rosewall Tangle Today

HOUSTON (AP)—Nikola Pilic has never defeated Ken Rosewall but he likes his chances today in the quarterfinals of the $50,000 River Oaks Tennis Tournament.

In addition to Pilic's match with the second seeded Rosewall, one of three Australians still in the running for the $10,000 first prize money, another quarterfinal match sent ninth seeded John Newcombe of Australia against 12th seeded Roger Taylor of England.

Today's winners join first seeded Rod Laver of Australia and Tom Okker of the Netherlands in the semifinals.

Pilic, a lanky Yugoslavian who was a River Oaks finalist in 1964 and 1966, said if there was anywhere he had a chance to beat Rosewall it would be here.

"I like to play here because I always play well," he said.

Atwood Becomes Double Winner

DALLAS (AP) — Susie Atwood's best mode of transportation in the water seems to be her backstroke.

She's used it to establish a world record in the 200-meter backstroke and it worked to perfection Thursday night as she set one American record and shared another in the National AAU Short Course Swimming Championships.

Miss Atwood became the meet's first double winner by lowering the women's 400-yard individual medley American record to 4:28.85 and swimming the backstroke leg on the Lakewood Aquatic Club 400-yard medley relay team that set an American record of 3:57.43.

In Wednesday's finals, Miss Atwood set a new standard in the 200-yard backstroke.

But she's most satisfied with her Thursday night record in the individual medley.

"It was my most satisfying race because you have to be half-way good in all the strokes to win it," Miss Atwood said.

Still, it was Miss Atwood's backstroke that pulled her into the lead in the individual medley race. She took the lead at 200 yard from Jennifer Bartz of Santa Clara, who set a meet record in the preliminaries.

Gary Hall of Indiana shared top billing with Miss Atwood by lowering his American record in the men's 400-yard individual medley to 3:58.09.

Hall, whose old record was 3:58.25, overcame Rick Colella during the freestyle leg of the race and had a good lead at the start of the final one-half lap. Colella, of Cascade Swim Club, had taken the lead during the breaststroke leg, his best stroke.

Hall's record breaking splits were 52.6 for the butterfly, 59.9 for the backstroke, 1:12.0 in the breaststroke and 53.59 in the freestyle.

Steve Genter of Lakewood lowered the meet record in the 200-yard freestyle twice Thursday. Genter set a record of 1:39.84 in the morning preliminaries and came back to win the finals in 1:39.23.

In the finals, Genter beat former American record holder Mark Spitz, who was second, and the defending champion, Frank Heckl of Southern Cal. who was third.

Kim Peyton of David Douglas, Portland, Ore., won the women's 200-yard freestyle and the Indiana A won the men's 400-yard medley relay in other finals held Thursday night.

Finals in eight events were scheduled today including men's and women's 200-yard butterfly, 200-yard breaststroke, 100-yard backstroke, and 800-yard freestyle relay. The meet ends Sunday.

Records set here are not counted as world records because of the length of the Loos Fieldhouse pool—25 yards. World records can only be established on 50-meter pools.

Sneed Is 1 Off Pace

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — At 59, an age when many men are dreaming of Social Security checks and a rocking chair in the shade, Sam Snead is trying to win another Masters Golf Championship.

"The guy is incredible—he thinks he's 20 years old," commented Bill Campbell, the former Walker Cup captain from Huntington, West Va., after his neighbor shook up the game's new breed with a three-under-par 69 Thursday for an opening salvo over the Augusta National Course.

The score put the old bald eagle from the Virginia Hills just one shot back of the pace-setting tournament favorite, Jack Nicklaus, who had to pick up six shots on a stretch of six finishing holes for a 68, and one ahead of the revitalized Arnold Palmer, who peered through new contact lenses for a 70.

It's been a long time since this sports spectacle produced such a glamorous package at the head of the pack, and the famed course that the late Bob Jones built is quivering with excitement.

No one electrified the imagination like the honey-swinging hillbilly of another age, Slammin' Sammy, his bald head hidden by a familiar cocoanut straw, his once paunchy frame trimmed to a tough 185 pounds and his thinking geared to modern times.

"I play softer shots now," Snead said, in explaining his renewed lease on golfing life. "I never try to overpower the ball any more. When you try to swing too hard, something always goes wrong."

Snead, winner of three Masters and more than 140 tournaments in a career dating back 35 years, is not being taken lightly by the two younger men who flank him going into Friday's second round.

"Surprised at Snead?" Nicklaus, 32, repeated a question. "I'm never surprised to see Sam anywhere. He is capable of winning a tournament every time he tees up the ball."

Palmer was asked how he viewed the super star structure at the head of the 84-man field.

"It's not a bad idea," the 42-year-old Palmer, who built his legend largely by winning four Masters titles with dramatic finishes, replied. "I kinda like it, but I'd like to reverse the lead."

Palmer said he was satisfied with his 70 but added: "I drove only fair and my irons weren't sharp."

Behind the three leaders, the only other players to break par over the 6,980-yard, par 72 course, came gray-thatched, 42-year-old Paul Harney and amateur Jim Simons, with 71.

There were many disasters. Defending champion Charles Coody sank a five-iron shot at the 190-yard sixth for a hole-in-one and apparently became too-flustered as he took a triple bogey seven on the next hole. He was in a cluster that included South African Gary Player and former champions Bob Goalby and George Archer at 73.

Anti-Establishment Vote Is Story Of Wisconsin

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic National Chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien says the Wisconsin primary produced a massive anti-establishment vote that could shock President Nixon when he hits the campaign trail later this year.

"That is the story of Wisconsin," O'Brien said in an interview as he surveyed the 52 per cent of the state's vote that went to Sen. George S. McGovern, the winner, and to Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace.

"It is anti-establishment and that's across the board," O'Brien added. "I've been talking for some time about the challenge to the system itself, and here it is."

The other thing Wisconsin shows, the Democratic chairman said, is "the broad base of McGovern support" across the state. "You can't put that down as some sort of aberration."

O'Brien, pledging strict neutrality as he concentrates on arrangements for the Democratic National Convention, said the presidential race is "a totally open situation" at this point.

"This is so open at this time," he added, "that it could well remain this way right up to the opening of the convention."

O'Brien sees developments in the Democratic race so far as a justification of the party's decision to reform its procedures and open up the nominating process, despite the perils this poses to party unity.

Noting Wallace's campaign plea to "send them a message," O'Brien said: "They're sending us a message and thank God there was some anticipation of this message.

"There has been a growing disenchantment with the political process for some time," he went on. "All you have to do is look at the registration figures" showing an increase in the number of voters who consider themselves independents, rather than Democrats or Republicans.

This is also reflected in the complaint of many Americans that the two parties don't offer a choice, O'Brien said.

He added this makes it imperative for the Democrats to wage a positive, constructive campaign this year instead of merely relying on criticism of President Nixon.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, meanwhile, spent Thursday in Philadelphia where he courted labor leaders for their support in the Keystone State's April 25 primary. He talked with labor leaders in a downtown hotel, telling them he admired the tenacity of Gov. Milton J. Shapp's backing of Muskie.

Gov. Shapp's stand," the Minnesota Democrat said, "is strong and continuous and I respect that." Humphrey has called Pennsylvania "my keystone state."

Only a few blocks away, Shapp, a maverick Democrat who has a history of bucking state party leaders, told newsmen not to count Muskie out.

"If you look at the six states that have had primaries, you'll find that Muskie has won four. Even Jack Nicklaus doesn't win every golf tournament he enters."

Muskie will visit Pittsburgh today where he will meet with Shapp. The Maine senator also is scheduled to visit the state capital, Harrisburg.

Another Democratic presidential contender, Washington Sen. Henry "Scoop" Jackson brings his campaign to Cleveland and Columbus, Ohio, today in an attempt to win support in that state's May 2 primary.

Ohio's chairman for McGovern, however, predicted that Jackson is out of the race and it has narrowed down to McGovern, Muskie and Humphrey.

Keith Thompson said the South Dakotan would "win a substantial portion of the Ohio delegation" of 122 in the Buckeye primary.

Nixon Keeps Eye On War

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — President Nixon kept watch on developments in the Vietnam war from the Florida White House today, but maintained silence on the buildup of American air power in Southeast Asia.

The chief executive came here Thursday for a weekend stay, announced at the last minute.

His national security adviser, Henry A. Kissinger, was on temporary Florida duty, too. But Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Kissinger would return to Washington later today. Nixon planned to be in telephone contact with "major advisers," Ziegler said.

Shortly after Nixon arrived, it was learned that a squadron of F105 fighter-bombers from McConnell Air Force Base, Kan., had been ordered to Southeast Asia.

Nixon aides had no comment on this or the reports of increasing fighting in Vietnam.

Ziegler said Nixon came to Florida to work, not rest.

However, the President had no announced appointments or meetings.

Greeted by his Florida friend and neighbor C. G. "Bebe" Rebozo on his arrival, Nixon went out for a half-hour sightseeing drive around Cape Florida State Park at the end of Key Biscayne.

Rebozo went along and Secret Service agents trailed in two station wagons. Later, the two friends had dinner at Nixon's bayside home.

Vets To Get Info On Benefits

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Veterans Administration announced today it will start sending a letter to each Vietnam-era veteran six months after he gets out of the service pointing out the GI benefits he is entitled to.

The plan, according to VA Administrator Donald E. Johnson, is a followup to the Outreach program of personal interviews while servicemen still are on active duty and letters sent to them immediately after they get out. More than three million letters have been mailed since 1968.

Playboy Seized

JOHANNESBURG (AP) — Authorities seized illicit imports of Playboy magazine this week, but were puzzled over what course to take with a braille version of the banned magazine.

The last Playboy legally brought into South Africa was the September 1963 issue, but this doesn't stop local fans from smuggling copies in their luggage when returning from other countries.

Police mounted a roadblock to check motorists returning from Easter vacations in Swaziland, where Playboy is legal, and more than 20 motorists handed over copies. The culprits were mostly middle-aged, middle-class whites.

One turned in four copies. He said he was a commissioner of oaths at a magistrate's court and expressed concern about the effect of the confiscations on his job.

"But the worst thing is that the damn things weren't for me at all," he protested. "They were for the public prosecutors I work with."

Jose Feliciano, a blind American musician, posed a different problem when he arrived with a braille Playboy. The publication carries the text but not the pin-ups from the regular edition.

Feliciano still has his magazine and the censors declined to comment on whether it was legal or not.

ELDON DAVIS

REV. H.D. HALE

"That at evening time it shall be light." Zechariah 14:7.

Autumn leaves drop in the fall each year when grasses shrivel and die,
And sundown comes at end of day as darkness leadens a sky.
And even the hearty evergreens: the live oak, cedar, and pine
Eventually deteriorate, for they finally all decline.
But every nightfall has a dawn
—Every fall a May;
As we journey into darkness,
God shall light the way.

Youth Office Created

AUSTIN (AP)—A young "troubleshooter" to handle the questions and problems of the young regarding state government has been set up in a new office by Gov. Preston Smith.

Smith told a conference of college student body presidents and college newspaper editors Thursday night that Bill Wright, former student president at Southwest Texas State University, will be the first ombudsman for youth affairs.

Wright is now an intern at the Lyndon B. Johnson School of Public Affairs on the University of Texas campus.

Smith said to his knowledge he is the first governor in the nation to create such an office, and he promised it would have the "full backing and authority of the governor's office."

Smith said if the office is successful he may expand it to serve all Texans, not just the young.

The governor also said he will appoint more students as college regents.

Wheeler New Dean At WTSU

CANYON, Tex. (AP) — Dr. David L. Wheeler, 37, will assume his new duties as dean of the graduate school at West Texas State University in the fall semester.

Wheeler, associate dean at Illinois State University, was selected for the West Texas post over 156 applicants.

Company Taken Over By State

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The state has taken over supervision of Empire Life Insurance Co. on orders of insurance commissioner Clay Cotten, whose action freezes the company's assets and makes it ask Cotten's approval before doing any business.

Cotton acted Thursday because, he said, an examination by insurance investigators in Alabama, Texas and South Dakota showed that Empire life had a $7.4 million deficit as of Dec. 31, 1970.

The commissioner said the Dallas-based company, whose stock is controlled by Shearn Moody Jr. of Galveston, also has failed to honor its obligations to policyholders of American Trust Life Insurance Co. of Wichita Falls under a reinsurance agreement with that company.

Cotton set a June 7 hearing at which time Empire Life may challenge his action.

Although Empire Life was chartered in Alabama, Cotten said 50 per cent of the company's policyholders are Texans.

BY FLEEING CAR

Bourbon Street Stroller Killed

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A stolen car pursued by police roared onto a crowded pedestrian mall in the French Quarter's nightclub sector Thursday night, killing one tourist and leaving 18 others injured.

It happened on a stretch of Bourbon Street which is closed to traffic at night so crowds can overflow into the narrow street.

The dead man was identified as Benjamin Parrish, 33, of Lufkin, Tex. Police said his wife was one of two other persons in critical condition at a hospital.

Strollers along the mall had no warning.

Police said the fleeing car smashed through metal barricades blocking auto entry onto Bourbon and plowed through the crowds, leaving pursuing officers aghast.

"He's going into Bourbon Street!" one of them shouted on police radio. "He's going into Bourbon Street!"

"He was flat moving!" said Bob Dunlap, a hot dog vendor. "All of a sudden here he come, bam, bam, and they're scattered all over."

"The car, its speed estimated variously at 40 to 70 miles per hour, turned off Bourbon after five blocks. It smashed into an iron pole when the driver tried to make another quick turn, a block later. The two occupants leaped out and fled on foot.

Police said Bruce Michael Smith, 16, of New Orleans was arrested a few minutes later and booked on suspicion of murder, negligent injury, auto theft, possession of a stolen car and reckless driving.

Listed in critical condition at a hospital were Jean Parrish, 23, of Lufkin, Tex., and Betty Ferry, 45, of Okemos, Mich.

Mrs. Evelyn Decker, 23, of Nacogdoches, Tex., was another who suffered injuries.

Among the injured also were three members of a family strolling down Bourbon hand in hand when the car struck from behind. John Bessler of Charlotte, N.C., said the car hit his wife and two daughters but missed him.

Detectives Calvin MacCracken and Walter Gallinghouse started the chase a few blocks from the French Quarter. They had to break off pursuit on Bourbon because of the injured left crumpled on the pavement.

MacCracken said the chase started when he and his partner spotted the auto, decided that it and the two occupants looked suspicious and tried to stop them for a check.

GAO QUESTIONS LIST

Nonprofit Mailers Cost Postal Service Millions

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Postal Service is losing millions of dollars each year by allowing ineligible groups to mail at reduced rates authorized for nonprofit organizations, says the General Accounting Office.

The GAO, the investigating arm of Congress, said that in fiscal 1970 the costs of nonprofit mail exceeded revenues by $53 million. It said the Postal Service "has not collected substantial revenues to which it is entitled."

An official GAO report said a check of five post offices disclosed 115 organizations, whose eligibility seemed questionable. It said these groups mailed 71.6 million pieces of mail in that period and were undercharged at least $1.5 million.

"In view of the estimated 6.1 billion pieces of second-and third-class mail handled annually nationwide, and in view of the lack of adequate criteria for determining an organization's eligibility for reduced postage rates, GAO believes that the amount of lost revenue could be significant nationwide," the report said.

Despite Postal Service promises, the report said, last month 27 organizations which GAO had questioned were still authorized to mail at reduced rates at one postal-services center. At another, the privilege had been cancelled for 24 of the organizations.

In language far stronger than is usual for such reports, the GAO said the Postal Service should act now to review its list of nonprofit groups and revoke the reduced-rate privileges of those not entitled to them.

The GAO cited the case of one unnamed educational institution—actually a non-eligible business league—which was denied nonprofit status in 1952, granted it in 1955, and in 1966 had it revoked and then reinstated.

Since July of 1966, the GAO said, this organization has been allowed to mail 18.1 million pieces at reduced third-class rates.

"The postage collected at the reduced third-class rates amounted to about $261,000," the GAO said. "Postage at the regular third-class rates would have been $660,000 a difference of $399,000."

The GAO investigation included probes at postal-service centers in Chicago, New York, Indianapolis and St. Louis, and at a post office listed by GAO only as Bloomington.

It said the 115 groups found to be ineligible among 1,135 nonprofit organizations checked included 84 business leagues, 21 civic-improvement associations, and 10 social clubs.

Turkey Crop Is Increased

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's turkey farmers produced 120.1 million birds last year, second only to the 126.6 million raised in 1967, and may boost production against this season, says the Agriculture Department.

The 1971 turkey crop grossed producers a record $501 million, compared with $497.2 million in 1970. Prices at the farm level averaged 22.1 cents a pound for live birds, down from 22.6 in 1970, according to the Crop Reporting Board.

In 1967, when the record turkey crop was produced, the average was 19.7 cents a pound, according to USDA records.

Officials say turkey growers in the 20 major producing states indicated earlier this year they plan to increase production one per cent from 1971. Those states account for about 95 per cent of the nation's turkeys.

However, a marketing expert related recently that growers at the beginning of 1972 said they planned to reduce production one per cent from 1970. Instead, he said, they wound up with a four per cent increase.

Last year, according to the department, California led in turkey output with 16.8 million turkeys worth about $70.3 million.

Other leaders included: Minnesota 18.4 million and $66.4 million; North Carolina 10.5 million and $41.8 million; Texas 8.4 million and $36.0 million; Missouri 8.7 million and $35.7 million; and Arkansas 7.8 million and $35.7 million

Port Isabel Ranked 2nd

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Port Isabel-Brownsville area at the southern tip of Texas is the nation's second leading fishing port in terms of value of catch during 1971, according to U. S. Department of Commerce Statistics.

Commercial fishermen brought in $22.8 million worth of fish during the year. The number one port was San Pedro, Calif., with a catch of $58.4 million.

The Aransas Pass-Rockport area of the Texas Gulf Coast ranked fifth, with a catch of $16.1 million, while Freeport came in eighth with $12.8 million.

Greenbrier School To Close

LEWISBURG, W. Va. (AP) — The 160-year-old Greenbrier Military School has announced it will close at the end of this school term.

"We can no longer operate on tuition alone, and without an endowment expenses far exceed the income," Col. W. A. Rawl, the school's treasurer, said.

The school will graduate 34 seniors May 25. The student body of 145 is down from a high of 340.

"Enrollment has declined steadily for the past three years," he said. "We had hoped to build it back up, but it just couldn't be done. This is an age of permissiveness. Parents let their boys do just about what they please. Military schools aren't as popular as they were some years ago."

Honeymooners and tourists from Japan have turned the largest and most populous of the Mariana Islands into a booming vacation resort.

WHERE FROM HERE

When man first set foot on the moon, it was very easy to gloat . . . 'Look what Mankind has done.' But God created the moon, a far greater accomplishment indeed. All man's great inventions were made possible by Him. All man's noble discoveries involved finding something that God had put there for us before we ever got the intelligence to look for them.

What will we be allowed to find next? A new miracle drug? A new planet or solar system? Better uses of our natural resources? Better ways to help our fellow man? We cannot know for sure. But one thing is certain— God will make it possible because He has already made it.

Knowing this makes it hard for us to be patient. We want everything now. But as the preacher said in Ecc. 3:1, there is a time for everything and everything comes in its own time.

Instead of fussing about what we haven't been able to do, we should be thankful for all that God has allowed us to do. We should give God the glory, for it is He who has truly done great things.
