Odd Bits Salvaged At Random

We had one Saturday that took the fur-lined bath tub!

• • • •

A request for a contribution, we mean. It seems there's a never-ending cycle that hits the man in business for a contribution to this or that.

Most of them are worthy causes, too, and are deserving of our support. In such cases, we've not only made some contribution of our material means, but have boosted them through the columns of this paper.

• • • •

But we'll review a few of them, in case you haven't already been made acquainted with them.

• • • •

Along last fall, we had our combined Boy Scout, Girl Scout and youth drive which resulted in about $1,500 being contributed by people of this area. This was one of the worthy drives, and, we think, no one regrets his contribution.

• • • •

A little later came the drive for funds for the upkeep of our Johnson Memorial Cemetery—a most worthy cause if there ever was one.

• • • •

Lots of people got in on this drive; but if you haven't we understand there's still a place for your contribution to be used.

• • • •

Along about Christmas came the drive for the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation for crippled children, and we were called upon to use our mailing list to send our literature to all points in the county.

• • • •

After the turn of the new year, came those annual drives which we've always boosted and contributed to.

• • • •

There was the "March of Dimes" for the fight against infantile paralysis, or polio. Containers were placed at many business places in Munday, together with a picture of the "Poster Girl".

• • • •

Those in charge of this drive had hoped it would be strictly on a voluntary basis—that voluntary contributions would meet the area's quota. But they didn't.

• • • •

So they had to call on business houses to contribute in order to reach the quota. It was a worthy cause, too, and we're not fussing, just pointing out the things we're supposed to contribute to as time goes on.

• • • •

Next we saw large, red plastic hearts on the counters of local stores. This was the National Heart Drive, to furnish funds for research on methods of combating heart disease.

• • • •

This, too, was a worthy cause. In the opinion of some, it was the most worthy of all.

• • • •

Then came the time for the annual Red Cross Roll Call, and we all know that the Red Cross comes to the aid of people of all races and colors, especially to people of the U. S. when disaster strikes.

• • • •

So we got out our check book and contributed to this worthy cause, just as we've done ever since we can remember. We'll contribute again next year, too.

• • • •

Then disaster came to a rural family southwest of town. A fire destroyed the home and all belongings, and Munday merchants were given an opportunity to "give out of the goodness of their hearts," which we did.

• • • •

And speaking of fires, we mustn't forget that a fire destroyed the home of one of the town's colored men, Simon Williams, who didn't ask that someone take up a collection for him. He circulated the petition himself, asking for help, almost before the embers had died down.

• • • •

We want to, and try to, make our meagre contributions to all worthy causes—the road southeast toward Throckmorton, for instance, which we consider one of the best contributions of the year.

• • • •

But the boy who took the fur-lined bath tub is a local negro

Over 300 Attend First Banquet Of Community Development Association

"Thought, planning, work and cooperation builds the community." this is the slogan, or motto, of the Community Development Association of Munday which held its first annual banquet in the school auditorium on Thursday evening, April 21.

Approximately 300 persons attended to enjoy the feed and program and to see the one phase of that slogan carried out in the announcement of the election of the hardest working community leader of the town as the association's president for another year.

He is J. L. Stodghill, local Ford Tractor dealer, who served out the unexpired term of the late Joe Bob Stevens. Other new officers are Winston Blacklock, vice president, and Paul B. Pendleton, treasurer. Mrs. Nedra McCauley, secretary, had announced her resignation prior to the banquet.

New officers were introduced by Don L. Ratliff. Aaron Edgar introduced the new directors, who are Paul Pendleton and Winston Blacklock, who were re-elected, and Wallace Reid, who was named to succeed John Odell.

Clay F. Grove gave recognition to the retiring directors, who are Pendleton, Blacklock and C. P. Baker. Carry-over directors are Don L. Ratliff, W. R. Moore, Moody Johnson, Clay F. Grove, Aaron Edgar, and Stodghill.

Boyce House of Fort Worth, noted Texas humorist and author, was the principal speaker. He was introduced by M. F. Billingsley, local attorney.

House kept the crowd roaring with laughter during his humor our talk, but in the serious moments he said:

"We are inclined to place too much emphasis on mere bigness. But does the community have good schools, churches, up-to-

"King" Of Pacific Isle Is Slain; To Be Buried In Dallas

William Doniphan Robinson, who left a law practice in Dallas thirty-five years ago and became "king" of a little island in the Pacific, was fatally shot by a discharged Moro plantation foreman on Basilan Island, off the coast of Zamboanga in the Philippines recently.

His wife, Anne, who recently established a home in Dallas, where she placed many prized possessions gleaned in her travels with her husband in the Orient, is a cousin of Misses Maud and Fannie Isbell of Munday. She visited her a few years ago, at which time she spoke to a group of local people at the Munday Study clubhouse, telling them of their trials of three years in the hills after the Japanese invaded the Philippines.

In 1913, Robinson purchased cocoanut land on Zamboanga, and he became master of a 100,000-tree plantation on Basilan, where he made his fortune and where he and Mrs. Robinson lived. He visited Mrs. Robinson in Dallas last Christmas and had planned to sell his holdings and return to Dallas.

His body was cremated, and the ashes brought back to the Dallas he left thirty-five years ago. Memorial services were held in Dallas on Wednesday of this week.

The Hefner Home Demonstration Club are sponsoring a show to be put on by Rusty Gabbard and The Valley Boys on Monday night, May 2nd, at the Goree high school.

The public is cordially invited to come out and attend this evening of entertainment.

Dr. Croley Moves Dental Offices To Bank Building

Dr. Joseph Croley, local dentist, announces this week that he has moved his dental offices to the First National Bank building, occupying the upstairs rooms formerly occupied by Dr. R. L. Newsom.

Work of moving was started last week and was completed the first of this week. Carpenters and workers have remodeled the rooms into a reception room, two treatment rooms, a laboratory, etc., and the arrangement presents a very blessing effect.

This will affort Dr. Croley much more room than he had in his former location, and he believes he will be in better position to serve the people of this area. He invites the public to call and inspect his new location.

Legion Grounds Being Made Into Summer Playplace

The grounds adjacent to the American Legion hall in Munday are to be transformed into a summer playground for kiddies of Munday, if present plans of members of Lowry Post No. 44 are carried into maturity.

The aid of Commissioner George Nix was secured, and the precinct grader was brought into action in blading the grounds off and levelling them up. It is planned to have various outdoor games and activities for the youth of the town during the summer vacation months.

Some of the pastors of the town are cooperating in this move, it was stated, and with the cooperation of others quite a bit of activity is expected to take place on the Legion grounds during the summer.

Contracts On Rhineland-Sunset Paving Projects On May Letting

Word was received here last week that Knox county will receive nine miles of paving in the May letting of the Texas Highway Department.

One of these projects is the long-sought road north through Rhineland to the Brazos river bridge. This will be for a total of seven miles.

The other is the loop from the Knox City highway to Sunset school, then back east to connect with the highway again, a distance of two miles.

H. C. Cunningham, local highway engineer, received a copy of the letter which the Highway Department sent to J. B. Nabers, district engineer of Childress, stating these projects would be included in the May letting.

Construction is expected to be started in June, according to Mr. Cunningham, who stated that the contractor who is awarded this contract will have approximately 30 days to begin construction.

The jobs are expected to be completed before opening of the school terms next fall.

Rabid Dog Killed Here On Tuesday

D. E. Whitworth, local chief of police, stated Wednesday that he had killed a dog in Munday Tuesday right that had all symptoms of rabies. After the dog was killed, it was examined by a veterinarian, who said the symptoms were there.

A warning has been issued for local people to watch their dogs. If one becomes sick, see a veterinarian and keep the animal tied.

All dogs should be vaccinated against rabies, Whitworth said, unless this has been done within the past year.

LOCAL NEEDS FOR 1949

We're pulling for these needs in 1949. What will the year bring?

1. A modern street sweeper. Our paving cost us money, let's protect it!
2. Paving of road through Rhineland, and definite progress on Throckmorton road.
3. Completion of our drainage system. It's gonna rain one of these days.
4. An adequate waterworks system. This is a must for the continued growth of Munday.
5. Building of more housing projects. There continues to be a housing shortage.
6. Recreational facilities for our youth of today—our citizens of tomorrow.

A NEW TAX WRINKLE

Robert A. Taft turned new light on the proposal for compulsory Federal health insurance. He said it is a tax and not insurance and that, "The very term compulsory insurance is a contradiction, for insurance is a free act by which a man pays certain definite sums in order to receive protection or benefits worth, according to actuarial computations, approximately what he pays. If he is compelled to pay something to the government, that is a tax, and he has to accept in return exactly what the government gives him, or fails to give him.

"Furthermore, the proposed payroll deduction is a tax because the benefit promised has no relation, or a very remote relation, to the amount of the payments made.

"Thus, a man with a salary of $1,000 and a family of five will pay perhaps $40 a year for services to his entire family, and a man with $3,000 a year, but unmarried, pays perhaps $120 for services to himself only. This is a principle of taxation, and not of insurance."

A compulsory government health tax leaves the individual no choice. He is compelled by law to accept government medicine because he cannot afford to also subscribe to existing systems for voluntary prepayment for medical care.

Mr. Dubb: "This party is horribly dull. I think I'll go home." Miss Sweet: "That would remove some of the dullness, I'm sure."—Snap Shots.

RED LIGHT WARNING

The decline in state revenues, which has caused Comptroller Calvert to reduce his department's estimate of the next two years' income by $22,000,000, is a red light warning that the peak of post-war flush business probably has passed and that the leveling-off and setting down process is likely to continue. Other signs and omens tend to bear out this indication. Certainly it all provides sufficient warning to impel the Legislature to stop, look and listen.

Since the war we have been riding the swelling crest of inflation. In 1947 the Legislature doubled the general fund appropriations of the preceding biennium, and already they had vastly increased over the preceding seven years. The budget recently submitted by Governor Jester would redouble them—pyramiding the spending several times since 1941. Appropriations, like everything else, have been inflated, and if there is to be deflation or "disinflation" as the federal administration economist delicately puts it, outgo should be disinflated along with income.

True, Texas is growing rapidly, and necessary expenses of state government are increasing proportionately. The Fifty-first Legislature faces the real need of various extraordinary expenditures, for such things as building, salary increaes for underpaid state employees, education and rural roads. But it should consider seriously whether enough non-essentials cannot be omitted to keep appropriations within prospective revenues. Taxes already are oppressive enough even during the boom; a heavier burden in slack times would be dangerous. It is not sound business to expand when the economy shows signs of contracting.

Lieutenant Governor Allan Shivers has suggested that it might be a good idea for the legislators to take a two weeks' recess to find out what the taxpayers at home think about it. It is doubtless that his suggestion will be adopted, but they should know pretty well already the taxpayers' sentiments on the question of increasing taxes. To make sure, the taxpayers should make it a point to inform them.—The Houston Post.

A Times Want Ad Pays

Washington News Letter

By Cougressman Ed Gossett

WASHINGTON, D. C. April 23, 1949—This is Saturday afternoon. I have just returned from making a speech to the Washington Chapter of The American Association of University Women. At their invitation, I discussed the Displaced Persons problem. I am getting letters from numerous organizations all over the country urging me to support the so-called DP bill. This is a classic example of how people fall for propaganda and respond to organized pressure campaigns.

I am very much opposed to the bill to bring in 40,000 more displaced persons from the DP camps of Europe. This bill would reward the least deserving, the least desirable and the most dangerous of millions of people who would like to come to this country. There are 14,000,000 expellees in our military zones of Europe. These fourteen million people are those who were driven out from behind the iron curtain because they were supposedly of German blood. They are not classified as Dps and are wholly ignored and overlooked in this program. Most of them are in greater distress, in greater need, and are of better stock than those who have stayed in our camps under our care and custody for the last several years.

Each year, many bills are introduced in Congress to authorize special stamp issues. Commemorative stamps were first issued to commemorate the 400th anniversary of the discovery of America. This was the beginning of the issuance of these commemorative stamps which are only supposed to commemorate some historical event of national importance—not sectional—and should be issued on appropriate anniversaries. The Philatelic Agency in the Post Office Department was set up in 1921 for the purpose of serving the stamp collectors who collect commemorative stamps. When the number of these stamps are kept down to 8 or 12 issues per annum, this Agency is equipped to handle the issues without additional employees or equipment. Under the present setup of the Philatelic Agency, maximum issuance of these stamps should be kept down to 12.

At the beginning of each calendar year, the Post Office Department considers its program for the ensuing year for the commemorative stamps. In 1948, the Department planned for the issuance of 10 of these stamps, but Congress passed resolutions for 19 additional stamps, making a total of 29 for the calendar year of 1948. Up to last week, 59 resolutions have been introduced in the House of Representatives for commemorative stamps, the purposes of a few of them are as follows; 100th anniversary of the birth of Hambletonian, (famous sire of American trotting horse); Commemoration of the centennial of the Angora goat; Dedication of Theodore Roosevelt National Park; Stamp in furtherance of national safety against accident hazards; Booth Tarkington commemoration; stamp in honor of soil conservation districts; Booker T. Washington birth; Lake Washington Floating Bridge; First Cotton mill in the United States; Commemorative of Old Home Week; 100th anniversary of the Michigan Annual State Fair; Commemoration of 100th anniuri; Special stamp for volunteer workers and contributions to the community chests; The cutting of Cass River Cork pine at Vassar, Michigan, in 1849; 100th anniversary of the Cranberry Industry; Commemorating Eleventh Tennessee Walking horse celebration;—and many others of a more significant or more serious nature.

There are approximately ten to twelve million stamp collectors in the United States, many of whom are school children. The filling of mail orders for these collectors is approximately 90 days in arrears, with over 33,000 unfilled mail orders for stamps valued at $850,000.

Because of the numerous stamps authorized, the Philatelic Agency receives many complaints from collectors all over the country, criticising the number of commemorative stamps issued, the designs, the color, subject matter, at cetera. The Post Office Department says if they are required by law to issue all the commemorative stamps proposed in bills and resolutions now pending before the Congress, it would be impossible for them to get this job done in a three year period.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Mitchell returned last Sunday night from a two weeks' vacation in East and South Texas. While in Baytown, Texas City, San Antonio and Lampasas, they visited with former Munday residents.

Mrs. W. A. Harris and Mr. and Mr. R. E. White and daughter of Iowa Park spent last Sunday in Fort Worth visiting with Mrs. Harris' daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Daniell.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Barr, Jr. of Kauffman spent last week end in the home of Rev. and Mrs. Wm. G. Barr and Barbara. Mrs. Barr returned to Kauffman with them for an extended visit.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Gets Alarmed Over Lawsuit Filed Against Another Farmer Not Farming Right

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek seems a little alarmed this week, although probably unnecessarily.

Dear editar:

J. A.

On account of my neighbor being a non-progressive stuffed-shirt and threatenin to report me to the post office department for takin his newspaper out of his mail box, which goes to show it don't pay to tell the truth, I didn't have to admit I took it last week, and besides he wouldn't get far in court accusin me of stealin a copy of The Herald, wouldn't no judge believe it was enough to call a theft, I been leavin his mail box alone this week and am happy to report newspapers have been turnin up just the same, providin you skip a point and call yours a newspaper, but there was one paper that turned up which I had just as soon it hadn't. Ruined my day.

In this paper I discovered where one farmer out in West Texas was suin another farmer for lettin sand blow on his farm, claimin if he had farmed right it never would have happened.

We got to put a stop to that sort of thing right now. Ordinarily I don't get disturbed over what other people do or what they think about me, but if we have reached the point where I'm gonna be held responsible for what blows off my farm, the end of freedom ain't far off. If we have reached the point where a man can be sued for not farmin right, you see where this leaves freedom and me both. What if some neighbor decides Johnson grass seed from my farm is blowin over on his farm? What if he decides I ought to get the weeds out of my cotton?

However, don't think I'm the only one who is squirmin. Don't think this thing applies just to what you like to call a lazy farmer. This thing has a lot of possibilities. What if you're in the grocery business and a neighboring groceryman claims you ain't runnin your grocery store right and as a consequence it's drivin customers out of that end of town? This thing could apply to all kinds of enterprises. I ain't callin no names, but I know of lots of people, business men, lawyers, doctors, teachers, maybe one or two preachers, who ain't runnin their business as efficiently as they could, who ain't as energetic as they might be, and if they're gonna be subject to lawsuits, you can see where the thing will lead. Why I know lots of editors .... you got a good lawyer to defend you?

This thing ought to be carried to the supreme court if necessary. I ain't never seen one, but judgin from the lawyers I know, I got a idea even some of the supreme court judges themselves don't always work as hard as some neighbor might think they should.

Yours faithfully,
J. A

How We Licked The Parking Problem

For a while it looked like we'd have to put up parking meters. Folks working in town—including some of the store owners—were taking up all of the space along Main Street.

Farmers coming in to shop never found a place to park, and sometimes had to lug stuff a half mile or so. Some started to do their buying in other towns. Finally, store owners and farmers had a get-together—with the result that the empty field near the depot was fixed up for all-day parkers.

Now farmers get their shopping done comfortably, and the merchants have a better place to park than they had before. Just took a little friendly co-operation to make everybody happy.

From where I sit, most differences can be ironed out by just talking things over—maybe with a cup of coffee or glass of beer—and seeing the other person's side of it. Next time you have a problem or a little difference to settle, why not try just that?

Samuel Snelson Is Selected As An Outstanding Soldier

The following is a letter recently received by Mrs. L. B. Snelson of Munday from C. E. Byers, Major General, USA, Commanding, of the 82d Airborne Division at Fort Bragg, North Carolina:

Dear Mrs. Snelson:

It affords me extreme pleasure to tell you that your son, Samuel, has been chosen as one of the outstanding soldiers of the 82d Airborne Division for the month of March 1949.

Each month the 82d Airborne Division selects approximately twenty-five troopers who are designated "Outstanding Soldiers". In recognition of their character, neatness of appearance, soldierly conduct, and leadership abilities or potentialities, this Division sends the group on a week's education-recreational tour of Washington, D. C.

Not only do these tours provide a much deserved period of recreation but, at the same time, they afford first-hand knowledge of our Nation's Capitol. Our Motive behind these tours is: "Good citizens as well as good soldiers".

I heartily congratulate you upon your son's recent achievement and assure you of our pride in having him stand as a symbol of the 82d Airborne Division for the month of March 1949.

Sincerely,
C. E. Byers
Major General, USA
Commanding.

May is the month when hens usually are at their peak of production and when, because of big supplies, egg prices are lowest for the year.

Many Attend Open House At Lindsey Home

A wonderful reception was given the beautiful new home of Mr. and Mrs. Troy Lindsey in the west part of town last Sunday afternoon, as around 600 people attended the open house. Although the open house hours were set from 3 to 5 p. m., quite a number came later and received a cordial welcome by the host and hostess.

More than usual interest in the new home was shown by those who attended and marveled at the beauty and arrangement of the spacious rooms.

Mrs. Lindsey greated the guests at the door, and Troy greeted them just wherever he found them. After we had gone from bedroom to bedroom, seen the closets, bathrooms, lounging room, spacious living room, the den, dining room and kitchen, we went out through the large double garage, and there was Troy shaking hands with all guests.

Some of the rooms had wall-to-wall carpets, while others had beautiful rugs on the lovely, highly-polished floors, while new furniture and a large assortment of beautiful flowers added to the beauty of the scenes.

This is one of the most attractive homes in Munday. Construction was started last fall, but the interior was not completed until just a short while before the open house date.

BOYCE HOUSE "Gives You Texas"

I have never been a petition-signer. For one thing, I don't think anybody pays much attention to them—not even the people who sign them.

Just to prove the point, a fellow circulated a petition and when folks asked what it was about, he replied, "Oh, just a move for public improvement." So they signed without reading it, 308 of them—and it was a petition that the district attorney be hanged.

And one of the signers was the district attorney.

There was one petition I did sign. The circumstances were these:

The town bully, when the influence of several drinks, entered a cafe, flourished a six-shooter and made a waiter jump back and forth over the counter, and threatened to kill him. The waiter went out, got a gun and came back.

Meanwhile the bad man, seating himself at the counter, remarked to the customer next to him, "Take your time about eating that soup because, when you get through, I'm going to shoot you." This threat took away the customer's appetite but the gunman commanded, "Eat!" and motioned with his pistol.

It was at this point that the waiter re-entered and shot the tough guy to death.

Instead of the authorities giving the slayer a gold medal for rendering a public service, they had him arrested and indicted, tried him and convicted him. And this was in Texas, too!

I signed a petition for his pardon and the petition worked, in a way. For he did not serve any time. The accused was granted a new trial and, when his case was called again, he just didn't show up.

FARM PROGRAM NEWS
from the County Agricultural Conservation Committee

What Crops When Bins Are Full?

When farmers are in trouble with excess production of one crop the tendency is to shift to another cash crop which results in trouble for that crop, too, says Emmett Partridge, Chairman of the Knox County Agricultural Conservation Committee.

Mr. Partridge called attention to recent crop reports on prospective plantings for 1949. This survey shows practically no increase in soil conserving crops such as hay and pasture. Rather in a number of corn-producing states the acreages to be taken out of corn appears to be going into wheat and oats. Even though the carryover of corn October 1, 1949 may exceed 700 million bushels, there is little indication that the total acreage in corn will be reduced in 1949. And, though wheat bins are filling up with an expected carryover of 300 million bushels July 1, 1949, the expected acreage of wheat has increased from 71,850,000 acres in 1948 to 81,670,000 acres for 1949. This clearly indicates, the chairman said, the necessity of a national program so that the adjustments made in one area do not nullify the adjustments made in another.

To protect the soil and the farmer's income too, Mr. Partridge states, it may soon be necessary to set up allotments and vote on marketing quotas on a number of crops.

Price Support And Food.

Price supports on agricultural commodities serve two vital purposes, according to Emmett Partridge, Chairman of the Knox County Agricultural Conservation Association.

First, they help to assure the consumer plenty of food.

Second, they help prevent ruinous prices to farmers for what they raise. This is the way the chairman explains it: Farmers are not a privileged class entitled to any special protection and price supports are not intended to give them any special privilege. But farming has many hazards and to make sure there is enough food, farmers take the risk of producing more than the market will absorb. When this happens, without price supports, the prices of the commodity go down until the farmer is crippled financially and is eventually forced out of business.

This in turn makes it impossible to carry on farming operations that safeguard the future production of the land. To obtain the income needed to meet operating costs and taxes, the farmer is forced to mine the soil with cash crops. When enough farmers are forced out of business, production finally goes down below consumer needs. This means higher prices for the consumer. It is only good business, Mr. Partridge explains, that price supports on farm production should only apply to the amounts needed to meet consumer demand plus a safe reserve. This, says the chairman, is the purpose of acreage allotments and marketing quotas. When they are in effect, production is brought in line with needs and soil waste is prevented.

RESERVE CHAMPION—This is Danny Ponder's reserve champion calf which showed at the 4-H and F. F. A. project show in Munday recently. Others in the picture, besides Danny, at far right are W. W. Martin, judge and Haskell county agent; E. R. Ponder, F. F. A. supervisor; K. O. Lewis, Knox county agent. The show was sponsored by the Community Development Association.

County Council Meets April 22 At Benjamin

The Knox County Home Demonstration Council met in regular session April 22, at 2:30 p. m. in the assembly room of the courthouse, with a total of 15 present, representing seven of the eight clubs in the county. Five of the fifteen present included Mrs. O. R. Miller, Chairman, Mrs. R. M. Almanrode, Secretary, Mrs. E. D. Richards, Reporter, Mrs. Omar Cure, THD A Chairman and Miss Butler, Knox County Home Demonstration Agent. In the absence of the treasurer, Mrs. Joe Patterson acted as treasurer.

Council was opened with our district and state songs. Immediately following the reading of the minutes reports were given by the chairmen of the special committees. Mrs. Sams, of Benjamin, gave a report on better listening habits as practiced by Lubbock County and District 2. 91 percent of the farm families listened to farm programs.

The Mobile X-ray Unit will be in West Texas in the later part of this year. Children under fifteen will not be admitted for X-ray. The charge for this service will be twenty-five cents for each person.

Permission has been granted for the study of the sanatorium at Wichita on June 23. Seventeen women from this District will be permitted to go. Mrs. Omar Cure, of Gilliland, will be the delegate from Knox County.

The County Judge has been asked to report to Council next time on the county budget, how it is made up and spent. He has consented to do so May 27.

National Home Demonstration Week beginning May 2 will be climaxed on May 7 with an all-day affair at the Knox City American Legion Hall. In the program outlined there will be a dress review by the 4-H Club Girls, at 11:15. All the former Home Demonstration Agents and Charter members of the Home Demonstration Clubs of Knox County are invited to attend.

Oil Mill To Have Exhibit In Ft. Worth Show

Western Cottonoil Company, with a plant in Munday, will be one of the exhibitors at the Southwestern Industrial Exposition in Fort Worth May 8-15.

The company will exhibit dairy, poultry, rabbit, range livestock and dog feeds and cottonseed meal and pellets at the Exposition, which will be staged by 11 regional chambers of commerce and manufacturers associations to emphasize the industrial might of the Southwest.

This display will be one of hundreds from industries over Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Arkansas and Louisiana, to be featured at the event, which is restricted to products made, processed or assembled in the Southwestern region.

In discussing his firm's participation in the event, L. L. Adams, assistant manager of the formula feed department of the West Texas division, declared: "We believe this type of Exposition will help to bring the people of this particular section closely in contact with manufacturers and acquaint them with products produced in their locality. This acquaintance will hely them realize the possibilities that now lie in this area and will give them some idea as to where they may obtain the various types of materials and equipment. We think such an Exposition at this will promote better relations between industry, labor and the consuming public. By displaying the products produced here in the Southwest, we think it will tend to give people visiting the Exposition and the area an idea what the Southwest is capable of doing and show them the extensive development being made in this area."

Hundreds of interesting exhibits which will include the newest products for farm, ranch, home and industry will be spotlighted at the event, which is expected to attract manufacturers, purchasing agents, consumers and business writers from over the nation.

Time To Control Pecan Casebearer

Now is the time to look for the pecan nut casebearer. This is a small caterpillar or worm, olive green in color. The overwintered generation of worms tunnel new pecan shoots while two later generations bore into the nut at the base, beginning as soon as they set and building a little tube of silk and frass between the damaged nuts. A small gray moth with crest across each wing is the adult stage of this insect.

In this part of Texas, the nut casebearer can be controlled by spraying once with lead arsenate, 6 pounds per 100 gallons of water applied just after the eggs on the nuts begin to hatch, or about the middle of May. Examine with a small hand lens and see if there is enough eggs to justify spraying, and second, whether they have begun to hatch. Spray about the time pollination is complete.

Weekly Health LETTER of Texas

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D., State Health Officer

AUSTIN — Emphasizing the importance of proper sanitation standards in public eating establishments, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer urges the patrons of such establishments to insist upon cleanliness in the preparation and dispensing of foods.

The health authorities cannot maintain daily inspection of cafes and other food handling places, and if the public is careless in accepting insanitary conditions, dozens of infectious diseases can be transmitted to the public from insanitary food and utensils.

"Food handlers schools are being taught constantly throughout the State," Dr. Cox said, "and every cafe owner should take advantage of these schools to see that his personal is trained in the sanitary methods of preparing, storing and dispensing food to the public. If that is their profession, they should qualify themselves to do the work safely. This is the restaurant owner's responsibility to his patrons".

The public should insist upon a cafe being free from roaches, flies, and other insects; cracked dishes should never be used; tables and linens, as well as dishes and silverware should be scrupulously clean, and milk should be served in the original container, with the cap intact. They should note whether or not a cafe displays a placard stating that its standards of sanitation have been approved by local or State health officials.

"Obviously the best in sanitation can be had only through close cooperation between the public, and health officials. As long as the public approves and accepts insanitary conditions in eating establishments, they will continue to exist", Dr. Cox warned.

date stores, a progressive newspaper and an alert chamber of commerce? Is it a healthy, pretty, friendly, clean, and happy place? If so, it is a town in which one can really live."

"Fort Worth was founded in 1849," he continued "by a troop of cavalry. At almost the same time troops founded Fort Graham in Hill county. One has long since disappeared; the other is a greater center of business and industry. Why this difference in the two districts? Fort Worth has a citizenship which works together with enthusiasm and vision."

The speaker complimented the large attendance at the banquet as evidence of a splendid civic spirit. He also paid tribute to the association's report of activities during its first year.

Ralph DeShong of Wichita Falls entertained the group for some time with his acts of magic. These baffled the crowd, and in conclusion DeShong said: "You're the nicest bunch of suckers I've ever performed for!"

W. R. Moore was master of ceremonies, and Rev. Huron A. Polnac, pastor of the Baptist church, gave the invocation. The delicious feed was prepared and served by Miss Robertson and members of her homemaking class.

Piano music during the banquet was furnished by Miss Shirley Yost, Miss Bernadine Suggs and Miss Patsy Matthews.

Newsom Clinic Has Open House

About 500 people of this area visited the new nine-room clinic of Dr. R. L. Newsom last Sunday afternoon during the "open house" hours, from 2 to 5 p. m., and many were the compliments which visitors paid the new structure and its equipment and arrangement.

Constructed by Dr. Newsom as an office and a clinic, the building houses a completed X-ray department, emergency room, a laboratory and modern facilities for the treatment of diseases.

It is equipped with an inter-telephone system, outside phones in each room, and with an all-weather air conditioning system, made of white brick, the clinic has a modern glass front and the latest of interior decorations. It is situated in the downtown district.

Visitors were greeted at the door by Dr. Newsom and were taken on a tour of the building by Mrs. Robert Green and Miss Leona Keel, who with Mrs. W. P. Farrington, served as hostesses. Mrs. Farrington, widow of one of Munday's most prominent physicians, registered the guests.

Miss Keel will work with Dr. Newsom in the clinic as nurse and office assistant.

A graduate of the Munday High School in the 1922 class, Dr. Newsom received his pre-medical education at the University of Texas and graduated from the university's medical school at Galveston in 1934. He intered at the Wichita Falls Clinic-Hospital and returned to Munday in 1935 to set up his practice. He has been here since that time.

whose given name is Jimmie Lee. Last Saturday he asked us to "fix up a paper" so he could take up a collection to send his wife to her father's funeral.

• • • •

Upon questioning him, we learned that not only the wife needed to go, but one of their mothers and a niece, as well, and he hoped to raise enough to send them all.

• • • •

We fixed up the paper for him, told him we thought he had his nerve to ask people for donations for that purpose. When asked how much we want to give, we says, "Nothing!"

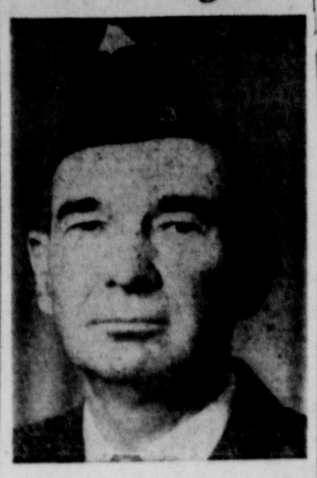

• • • •

These are some of the things Munday merchants are asked to donate to during the course of several months, not to mention the various "chances" they take on automobiles, refrigerators, fat hens, etc.

• • • •

Somewhere in our Bible, it we knew where to find it is a statement to the effect that it is more blessed to give than to receive. Munday people ought to be richly blessed. Maybe we are being.
