

Counts Pays Cash For Road Maintainer

Commissioner Hugh Counts of Precinct 2, Floyd County, set some sort of a record last week when he paid cash for a big road maintainer for his precinct. It was the first time in the history of the county that such a transaction had been made in a cash deal.

The Caterpillar Motorgrader cost $14,700 cash. The usual practice is for the Commissioner to issue road bonds to pay for the machine. Had Mr. Counts followed this practice the interest on the bonds would have amounted to around $8,000 making the machine cost more than half again as much. In addition by making a cash deal, the precinct received a discount and a cheaper price.

Mr. Counts is now on his fifth year as Commissioner of this precinct.

The big maintainer was delivered Wednesday of last week. It was purchased from West Texas Equipment Company at Lubbock.

Other Commissioners in the county are planning to make similar purchases, Mr. Counts said.

Short Summer For Local Farmers

"It was a short summer," was the stock comment here Wednesday as the thermometer fell to a low of 38 degrees Tuesday night and cotton farmers were wondering about seed in the ground.

The skies continued cloudy and rain fell at intervals during the day Wednesday but not in large enough quantities to do any good.

Most cotton farmers of the area had planted part or all of their crop for this year and the cold weather is expected to set the crop back some if not cause some replanting.

Farmers who planted in April are having to re-water their beds in some cases and will replant as soon as possible.

Lloyd Widener, living north of town, has a good stand of cotton on 200 acres but he is the only farmer to have a stand as yet, as far as the Beacon could ascertain.

The weather Wednesday and Thursday is expected to be misty with cloudy and warmer due Thursday, Mr. Holt said. The low Wednesday night is expected to be 42 degrees.

In January Mrs. Grantham won sixth prize in a Telechron Electric Clock contest which was two beautiful Telechron electric clocks. In November she won a fine football in a Wheaties contest and last August she was awarded a Dulane Fryette by Snowdrift.

Sam Miller Dies Suddenly Thurs.

Sam G. Miller, Lockney druggist since 1927, collapsed and died suddenly last Thursday evening as he left his car in the drive way at his home. Mr. Miller had been ill with a heart ailment for a year and had suffered a light attack just a few days previous to his death.

He had been confined to his home several days by the ailment but was feeling much better Thursday and went with Mrs. Miller to visit her mother, Mrs. Gilbert Huls, in North Lockney late Thursday afternoon. As they returned home he complained of difficulty in breathing. Mrs. Miller said, and she stopped in the drive way to allow him to get out of the car. As he opened the door and stepped out the attack came. Mrs. Miller, seeing that he was stricken, asked him to get back into the car if he could and he apparently tried to do so but collapsed beside the car. He died almost immediately.

Funeral services were held at the First Methodist Church, of which he was a member, Saturday afternoon at 2:30. Conducting the services were Rev. N. S. Daniel, pastor, and Rev. E. J. Cobb of Tucson, Arizona, former Baptist pastor here. Carrier Funeral Home of Lockney was in charge of arrangements. Burial was in the Lockney Cemetery.

Palbearers were Claude Hammond, George Webster, Buck Sams, R. E. Patterson, Bill Hodel, Tom Chatham, Jimmy Hodel and Bill Smith.

Samuel Goodson Miller was born at Alma, Arkansas, on January 3, 1895. He was a veteran of World War I and served in France with a medical detachment. He graduated from Atlanta College of Pharmacy at Atlanta, Ga., in 1917 and had worked at that profession since.

He was married to Miss Bernice Huls at Hanna, Okla., on January 3, 1921. The couple moved later to Boyton, Oklahoma and Altus, Arkansas. They came to Lockney in 1927 where Mr. Miller and his father-in-law, the late Gilbert Huls, bought the late Lockney Drug Company which they had operated since.

Mr. Miller was a member of the Masonic Lodge and had been active in civic and community affairs here for many years. Despite the long hours required by his profession he still found time to serve his community.

Survivors include his wife, one son, Bob Miller, two grandchildren, Bobby and Debra Miller, all of Lockney; one brother, Richard Miller of Riverside, Calif.; two sisters, Mrs. Ross Ray and Miss Frances Miller, both of Alma, Arkansas.

Farmers Called To Meeting On Hail Prevention

"Whether we do or don't have hail prevention in this area will be determined in the meeting Friday night," M. W. Wiley, secretary-treasurer of the High Plains Hail Prevention Association said Wednesday. At this same time he and other members of the association issued a call for farmers of the area to attend a meeting at the Mesa Theatre in Lockney, next door to The Beacon office, Friday evening of this week starting at 8 o'clock.

Members of the board of directors of the association from this area include Kenneth Wofford, Oscar Golden, Chester Mitchell, Ted Boedeker, Horton Howell, J. P. Senter of Plainview is president.

"We are urging farmers from the communities of Lockney, Lone Star, Sterley, South Plains, Providence, Aiken, Prairie Chapel, Barwise, Pleasant Valley, Irick, Muncy and other surrounding communities to attend the meeting," Mr. Wiley said.

He said that quite a number of Farmers of the Lockney area had already signed up for the hail prevention service but that co-operation from other farmers is needed if the service is to be made available.

"This is the third year of the hail prevention program, and we have had less hail the past two years than ever before in the area," Wiley said. "If the farmers want this service again this year they should be sure to be at the meeting Friday night."

Telephone Workman Electrocuted Mon.

James E. Mason of Lubbock, was electrocuted Monday morning about 10:30 while helping to set up a telephone pole near the D. D. Tate place just north of Sand Hill. The pole came in contact with a KUA power line and the current traveled down a small ground wire. Mason had both arms around the pole trying to help straighten it when the current struck.

Respiration efforts by fellow workmen failed to revive him. He is survived by his wife, one son, three brothers and two sisters.

GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY.

Hail cut a wide swath through Floyd County's wheat crop last Saturday night, damaging the yield from 30 percent to 100 percent in the area which it covered. Although the dry land wheat generally was not expected to yield a big crop, what had managed to survive the dry weather was just about ruined and all the irrigated wheat in the strip hit by hail was badly damaged. One-half inch of rain was measured here by Joe Holt, local weather observer.

The storm apparently started about Sand Hill and moved in a northeasterly direction. Hail Ferguson had damage amounting to probably 60 to 70 percent on about 150 acres of irrigated wheat, Raymond Rucker took some loss as did Clark Harris, Johns Cox, Alton Noland, and H. C. Hückaby, all amounting to about 75 percent.

Shirley Race in the Muncy area had 30 acres that was damaged 75 percent and 60 acres that was a total loss, he reported.

Bob Muncy had about 90 percent loss on 280 acres in the Muncy area, Clay Muncy took a total loss on his wheat in that area, and Glen White, south of Muncy, had some wheat that was totally destroyed. Others in the area took from 30 percent loss up. About 1/2 inch of rain fell in that area.

The storm did not extend very far south of Muncy and only a short distance north and west of Lockney. There was no rain or hail at Aiken and very little north of town. The Lone Star area escaped damage.

Hail and rain both were light in the Sterley area. Wm. Sorrell, 2 miles northeast of Sterley, had about 20 percent damage on 100 acres of wheat. About one-tenth of inch of rain fell there, B. A. Howell reported.

East of Lockney the damage was heavier with the area around the intersection of the farm highway east of Lockney and the Floydada Silverton road receiving heavy damage. Frank Brown lost 590 acres of dry land wheat and the Colvin Brothers lost quite a bit of wheat in the same area. The McCormick place on the Silverton highway was a total loss with only the stalks standing in the field. L. M. Honea, W. A. Gilbreath and others in that area lost their wheat almost 100%. The hailed-out area widened out apparently as it traveled east and extended from South Plains almost to Floydada along Highway 70. Over in the Cedar area the damage continued with the hail apparently heavier still. Rain was also heavier amounting to an inch and upward.

Dick Ford and Alvin Nichols lost some irrigated wheat as did other farmers in the area. Rene Yearly in the Cedar community had some dry land wheat that would have made 7 to 8 bushels that was a total loss. He also lost some summer-fallowed wheat with a potential of 10 to 12 bushels.

Hail Heavy Here

Rain and hail fell here at intervals for an hour and a half Saturday night. The heaviest hail fell about 10:30 and covered the ground with ice. No roof damage has been reported here although some damage was found on the new home of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Mitchell in the Pleasant Valley community.

Elma D. Webb Dies At Denver City

Funeral services for Elma D. Webb were held at the First Baptist Church at Denver City May 12. Mr. Webb passed away in his sleep at his home in Denver City on the morning of May 10.

Mr. Webb was the eldest son of Jim Webb and his wife, the former Minta Farnsworth. He was born July 12, 1893 in Limestone County and the family moved to a farm just north of the Meteor School House, now Aiken, a few years later. They owned four sections of land there, now owned by Lockney Farm.

About 1908 they sold their land and moved to Dilley, in Frio County, later to Haskell and then to Brownfield.

Mr. Webb was a veteran of World War I and was wounded twice and gassed in that war.

He is survived by his wife, and one son, Billie Rex Webb. His oldest son, Woodrow, was killed in an auto accident in 1947. He was buried in the Terry County Memorial Cemetery where military services were conducted.

Mrs. Henry Bollman of Lockney, a cousin of the deceased, and her husband attended the funeral services.

In the days before bait casting reel making was stabilized, a number of "trick" reels were launched on the market and in their day had a considerable sale. Many of these have now been eliminated and most reels sold today are the typical quadruple multi-plying reel (four turns of the spool to one of the handle), same having the level-wind device and standard fittings. While the old time free spool reels are still to be had, they are not found too frequently and can be recommended only to a select few, never to the rank and file. Jeweled reels, self-thumbers, anti-back lashers, and other flashy numbers of the past have given way to a modern reel that is a safe bet and certainly does not provoke the mystery that glamorized the reel of years ago.

Some have questioned the value of the level-winding device, but the fact remains that it is one of the most notable inventions ever incorporated in a bait casting reel. Guiding the line back and forth with mechanical precision, it does away with the need of the thumb and forefinger in laying the line on the spool. The objection to the device is that it limits the amount of line one can put out in a cast, since the level-winder, traveling back and forth, positively slows up the momentum of the spool. Obviously, for long distance casting the reel with the level-winding device has a definite short coming, thus for long distance casting, only the reel without the level-winding mechanism is recommended.

In spite of the above, one can make casts up to 75 feet with the level-wind reel, which is surely a generous distance. Furthermore, most fish are taken within 50 feet of your casting position, and many of them as close as 30 and 40 feet from position. Since this is the case, the objection to the inclusion of the level-winding device on the reel becomes a matter of personal preference, except when you want to cast for distances of

MRS. RHEA MITCHELL is the owner of this farm, mystery farm No. 3, which appeared in The Beacon last week. But if you expected to win the two tickets to the Plains Theatre or the Seale Drive-In for being the first to identify it, you should have gotten up early because E. M. Pyle, R. W. Landrum and R. A. (Nellie) Gray came in The Beacon office at 7 a. m. Thursday morning to claim the prize. Quite a number of other people correctly identified the farm and a few called in some other place.

Mrs. Mitchell, called Beth by those who know her, with her two children, Wesley Rhea, age 8 and Sandra Kay, age 5, are carrying on the operation of the farm with some help from relatives and expect to have some 160 acres in cotton this year. Her husband, Rhea, died in a plane crash last Feb. 9 which also claimed the lives of his brother, Glenn, Rev. J. R. Naylor and George Turner Jr.

The Mitchells moved to the farm in 1947 after Rhea quit a job as commercial pilot for Braniff Airways. Last Spring the couple remodeled the house, adding three rooms making it seven rooms and two baths. The oval topped barn was built in 1949 and is equipped with a blower to facilitate storing of cotton in the barn when necessary. It is a modern, well equipped irrigated farm and is arranged for efficient farming operations.

APOSTACY (No. 3)

As we continue this study on the possibility of man falling away from the grace of God, let us remember one thing that is necessary in studying the Word of God on any subject. We must reach a harmony of the scriptures. We can not reach a conclusion that will set one scripture against another. To do this, we must study more than just the scriptures that we want to study. There are several different thoughts taken by those who are advocates of the doctrine of the impossibility of apostacy. The one that we are noticing now is that we are so "kept" that we cannot sin. (The other teaching is that no matter what man does (any sin) he will not be condemned for it.)

Peter wrote in his first Epistle the 1st chapter verse 5, "Who are kept by the power of God through faith unto salvation ready to be revealed in the last time." Question: Does this passage teach that we are so "kept" that we CANNOT sin? Notice how it says we are kept. "By the power of God through faith. . . . What is the power of God? Rom. 1:16 "I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ; for it is the POWER OF GOD unto SALVATION." Now let us notice what Paul said to the Corinthians. I Cor. 15:1-2, "Moreover, brethren, I declare unto you the gospel which I preached unto you, which also ye have received and wherein ye stand: By which also ye are saved, IF YE KEEP IN MEMORY what I preached unto you, unless ye have believed in VAIN." The being kept then depends upon the AMOUNT OF FAITH that we have (It must be a live, working faith.)

Another passage that is a favorite with those who believe that a child of God cannot sin is I Jno. 3:9, "Whosoever is born of God doth not commit sin; for his seed remaineth in him; and he cannot sin, because he is born of God." Friends we cannot take this passage out of its original meaning and apply it in such a way that it contradicts other plain passages of scriptures. Let us consider this. Sometimes we tell our children that they CANNOT do certain things. Does this CANNOT mean that our children have lost the power to do that thing or does it mean that they cannot do it and still be obedient and consistent to our desires? Another Question: If a child of God sins is it because he is born of God, or because he has reverted to satan? I think that we can clearly understand that sin does not come from God. If the seed (the word of God) remains in a person he cannot sin of that seed. Sin comes from satan and not from the seed of which we become children of God. Notice the writing of I Jno. 2:1. (This is the same writer, in the same book.) My little children, these things write I unto you that ye sin not. And if any man sin, WE have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous." Again in the same book, the same writer, I Jno. 1:8 "If we say that we have NO sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us." Verse 9, "If we confess our sins he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness." (Question: what if we don't confess our sins?) Verse 10, "If we say that we have not sinned we make him a liar, and His word is not in us." Friends, do these passages teach that we CANNOT SIN once a child of God?

Will you continue this study with us next week? We would like to have YOU attend the services at the Main St. Church of Christ.

PTA Ends Year With Excellent Reports

A large crowd attended the last P. T. A. meeting of the school year which was held in the Methodist Church, Tuesday evening, May 12.

The first grade rooms under the leadership of their teachers, Mrs. J. M. Lantrip, Mrs. Nellie Brown and Mrs. Clay Muncy presented a most enjoyable program. Mrs. Gerald Johnson assisted at the piano. This program was recorded by Mrs. Ed Holmes of station KFLD and will be broadcast at 9:10 Friday, May 15.

Yearly reports were given by the committee chairmen and officers. Mrs. Revis Harris reported a balance of $312.15 with which to begin next year's work. H. B. Machen, auditor, declared this to be correct and stated that the treasurer's books were in fine order.

Mrs. Evelyn Terry, chairman of the library committee gave an outstanding report. To date $963 has been collected, $377.63 of which has been spent for books and supplies. There are now 564 books which have been properly classified. The goal of this committee is to have a fully accredited library for the school.

All reports were splendid and gave evidence of accomplishments in all areas of work. This has been an enjoyable year for the Parent-Teacher Association due to the fine cooperation of all officers, committee chairmen and the 340 members of the organization.

Mrs. Joe Foster, retiring president, installed the officers for next year.

Mothers of the first grade pupils served refreshments after the meeting.

HOME HINTS

Time for hot cross buns. To your recipe for rolls, add 2 table-spoons more sugar, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1 cup seedless raisins and a little allspice. Bake as directed in the oven of your gas range. And do they taste good!

Beef producers can put extra pounds on their calves—faster and more efficiently—by creep feeding. Creep feeding also lessens the drain on the mother cows and gives them a chance to more fully utilize the good range growth for getting back into top condition.

Cut bananas in halves lengthwise. Sprinkle with lemon, roll them in crushed corn flakes and fry in butter directly over the flexible flame of your automatic gas range. Serve with main meat dish.

Wherefore, if meat maketh my brother to offend, I will eat no flesh while the world standeth, lest I make my brother to offend. — 1 Cor. 8:13.

The death of Sam Miller is a distinct loss to the business life of Lockney. That Mr. Miller knew how to run a business is attested by the fine business he has built here. He was conscientious, honest and thorough in his business dealings and took care of the needs of those in the community who depended upon him although the task probably impaired his health. Especially during the war years when it was impossible to get help did the task become heavy but he carried on and found time to help with bond drives, a drive for a new Legion home and other civic campaigns. He was Interested in the town and community and did his part in helping to build it. The entire community will miss him.

Sometimes newspapers are asked to run advertisements which may or may not be scrupulously honest and on which the newspaper is unable to check definitely. Last week The Beacon carried a classified advertisement headed "business opportunity, guaranteed income" which company, in the final analysis, offers to sell vending machines and merchandise to go into them. However we have since been informed that there is some doubt as to the value of the company's offer and we therefore would advise any person answering the advertisement to investigate it thoroughly and compare similar propositions with other companies before going into it. The address of the company was a post office box in Dallas.

The Beacon has turned down advertisements from various out-of-town concerns on propositions that sounded a little off to us in an effort to protect people of the community from grafters and crooks. The Texas Press Association, of which we are a member, usually keeps us informed as to the reputation of various companies or would-be advertisers and we have thereby managed to avoid running most advertisements that are not altogether honest but sometimes one will slip by us.

The Beacon is in receipt of a "news release" from a brewery in which the opening sentence says, "Seventeen years of repeal have been profitable to Texas." The article goes on to say that taxes during the time on distilled spirits have amounted to $122,026,000. The statement that these years have been profitable to Texas is the blackest lie that any company ever told! What has been the cost to Texas in broken homes and ruined lives in the 17 years of repeal as a direct result of the liquor traffic? What has been the cost to Texas in crimes resulting directly from the drinking of intoxicating beverages during the 17 years of repeal? What has been the cost in lives and property damage as a result of intoxicated drivers being involved in auto accidents during the 17 years of repeal? The traffic problem alone resulting from the consumption of intoxicants by drivers costs the state much more than all the taxes collected off the sale of such drinks. It is a poor bargain to license a crime-breeding business in order to collect a few measly tax dollars when the cost to the state will outweigh the taxes by several times over. It is also a too costly luxury.

KEEPING PEOPLE INFORMED!

The newspapers of Texas, along with the school teachers, county judges, commissioners, oil companies, banks, insurance companies, power companies, farmers and others, are doing the biggest bit of lobbying in history at Austin.

A bill was passed four years ago by the Legislature that made it mandatory upon counties, cities, water districts and others to publish a financial statement of monies received and disbursed.

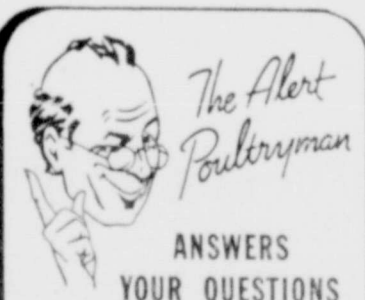

School districts were not included in the mandatory provision of the publication law. A law has now been introduced to include school districts. The newspaper men of Texas believe that any political subdivision should be compelled to publish a financial report and tell the taxpayers what the money was spent for.

They believe that such publication will make for better management and better all-around government. We think the people are entitled to know where their tax dollar went and what it went for.

They do not believe that school trustees or school superintendents are dishonest or that school funds are being mis-managed or mis-appropriated. They feel that it is in the interest of good government for everyone that handles public funds to give an accounting. — Hamlin Herald.

ANSWERS YOUR QUESTIONS
Q. Should chicks be vaccinated against Newcastle disease?

A. Yes, to protect your investment, vaccinate with Dr. Salisbury's Newcastle Intranasal Vaccine. Live virus provides good immunity, yet it's so mild it can be used on day-old chicks and laying birds. Dr. Salisbury's Intranasal Vaccine is "Vaculized" to help preserve maximum potency. Vaccinate early, at 5-10 days, with Intranasal Vaccine. It pays!

ROAD MENACE

New York, roughly has six times as many automobiles to the square mile as has Texas. And Texas' traffic and enforcement problems are bad enough.

New York has its share of drunk drivers, too, but unlike Texas, is attacking them more strenuously in the Legislature. The New York Legislature has a bill which gives legal force to chemical tests for drunk drivers.

The constitution says you cannot make a man give evidence against himself. If you made him take a chemical test, perhaps he would be doing that.

To get around it, New York's proposed law states that you don't have to take the test when picked up for drunk driving; but if you do take the test and are found to be drunk your license will be suspended. Without that license, you cannot drive.

These tests are becoming essential as evidence in court. New York's law legally paves the way for such evidence; in turn, it paves the way for better enforcement against a leading menace on the roads. — The Dallas Morning News.

STOP SIGNS

"Almost to a stop" is a phrase that can almost stop a clock if you hear it in a lawsuit. In the middle of the fifty thousand dollar damage suit a signed statement of the plaintiff was read like this: "I came to the intersection and came almost to a stop..." Things had looked favorable for the plaintiff, who was asking for payment for what had been diagnosed as injuries that might render him permanently disabled. But from that point his claim deteriorated and the case was finally settled for a fractional part of the sum asked. Whether justice was done is not known, but "Almost to a stop" recurs to me whenever I see a stop sign. I stop at more stop signs. — You Be The Judge in Ralls Banner.

FRUITS OF LABOR

Roberto De La Rosa, of the Mexican State Department, was speaking recently to a gathering of West Texas business and professional men. In his dissertation, he counseled his listeners to be less tense, to drive themselves less, to "take it easy" once in a while, for the good of the body and the good of the soul. "After all," he cracked, "why not enjoy some of the fruits of your labor? Everybody else in the world is." — The Plainsman in Lubbock Avalanche.

No doubt about it...

Chevrolet trucks must be the best buy!

This year—for the 12th straight production year—truck users are buying more Chevrolet trucks than any other make. That couldn't be true unless Chevrolet trucks offered more of what you want.

Already, 1953's official sales figures tell a remarkable story of clear-cut and decisive preference for Chevrolet trucks. But, this is not surprising, for truck users everywhere are discovering how far ahead of all others Chevrolet trucks really are.

They are discovering things like the tremendous new power in advanced Loadmaster engines in heavy-duty models... the remarkable gasoline economy... the extra ruggedness and strength of heavier, more rigid frame construction. And, in addition to all these advantages, the Chevrolet line lists for less than any other trucks of comparable size and capacity. So, before you buy any truck, stop in and see us.

Seniors Defeat Futures 13-0

Both teams lacked a little polish but the Seniors versus Futures football game Friday night was closer than most thought it would be with the Seniors winning 13-0. The Futures showed some definite possibilities and with a little more coordination on offensive plays, they could have made the game very close indeed.

The All-Senior team, made up of at least eight starters from last fall's Longhorn team, were fired up for the game and hit the Futures hard and often in the first quarter but cooled off a little afterward. They were coached by Curtis Kelley. However the Seniors didn't make much of a show offensively against the inexperienced Futures despite their two touchdowns. C. B. Smart made both scores on runs of 23

GIVE TO FIGHT CANCER — President Dwight D. Eisenhower points out one of the ways to control cancer is to give to the American Cancer Society. During April, which the President proclaims as Cancer Control Month, volunteers raise funds for a program to help save 70,000 lives from cancer in 1953.

The Futures were shaky to start the ball game and gave the ball away twice via the fumble route in the first quarter. But after that they held on to it pretty good and settled down to show some promise.

Of course the outstanding defensive player for the Futures was Benny Quisenberry. Last year's first string tackle, and his old team mates didn't get a round Denny. But they did run the ends for quite a bit of yardage. Phillip Daniel, halfback, played a swell defensive game also until he was injured in the third quarter. Phil got in on most of the tackles behind the line of scrimmage. Roy Johnson, Marion Cross, Lere Foster and Clifton Williams showed some defensive ability along with several other boys.

Offensively Allen Ray Finner did most of the ground gaining for the Futures and Eddie Joe Foster also showed promise as did Phil Daniel and Mickey Jones. Jimmy Williams, who finished the season last fall at the quarterback post for the Longhorns, did a good job of running the game for the Futures and of keeping them plugging away at the Seniors line. Jimmy didn't do much passing in this game but he has lots of passing ability.

First downs, according to The Beacon man's count, was 11 to 6 in favor of the Seniors. The Futures lost the ball three times by fumbles and once by pass interception while the Seniors lost it one time by a fumble.

The Futures held the Seniors one time on the 15 yard line and another time stopped them on the 5.

Coaches Johnny Truelove and Elvin Lyon said the boys had come a long way during the Spring practice period but they still had a lot to learn football-wise. Several of the boys playing for the Futures were playing their first game of regulation football.

State Accepts Five National 4-H Awards Programs For 1953

4-H Club members in this State will be eligible to participate in five 1953 national awards programs offering medals of honor, all-expense trips to the Chicago 4-H Club Congress next November, and $300 college scholarships, the State Club of 4-H has announced.

The programs and donors are: Farm and Home electric, Westinghouse Educational Foundation; Field Crops, International Harvester; Girls' Record, Montgomery Ward; Poultry, Dearborn Motors, and Tractor Maintenance, Stanolind Oil and Gas Co. All five programs are conducted under the direction of the Cooperative Extension Service. County Extension / Club Agents will furnish complete information.

An educational program on wheat improvement — carried on by county agents of the state — has practically wiped out smutty wheat. E. A. Miller, extension agronomist for 30 years, was leader on a statewide basis for the program.

Early Spring Time To Stop Flies

Austin. — Early spring is the best time for a community to start a fly control program, declared Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer. That is before the fly population has a chance to multiply. It is estimated that one pair of flies, under favorable conditions, could have countless ancestors before winter.

Every time you kill a fly early in the season, and destroy breeding places, you stop whole colonies of flies before they can start. The most effective way of preventing swarms of flies is to destroy or make inaccessible to flies the organic material which attract flies by their odors and which are essential to them as food and breeding places.

Individual householders should make it their responsibility to clean up their own back yards. Garbage cans should have a tight fitting lid and they should be leak-proof. Inadequate facilities for storage of garbage and refuse usually result in widespread fly breeding. Uncovered or partially covered garbage containers produce odors that attract a large number of flies. Good window screens will do a lot to keep flies out of buildings, thereby protecting food from contamination by flyborne disease organisms.

There is no substitute for good sanitation in fly control. Every spot in town must be cleaned of garbage and trash. If a few dirty places are left, swarms of flies will breed. A neglected stable on the edge of town will furnish a plague of flies for the entire neighborhood. After garbage and trash have been removed, insecticides will help to reduce the fly population in local spots. It is a temporary protection, however, and should be regarded only as a supplemental or emergency means of control. Insecticide spraying will be effective only if sanitary conditions are maintained throughout the summer.

Austin, Texas. — The Legislature worked this week on compromise plans to give public school teachers more pay.

Those who wanted more money for teachers seemed ready to accept something less than the $600 per year they had originally demanded.

The House lagged behind in committee action on new tax bills to provide the money for teachers.

It would take about $33 million per year to give the school people an additional $600 annually.

At the same time, the administration kept up its pressure against new taxation.

The governor asked the legislature to wait and see what would become of a natural gas tax, passed during the last session and being tested in the courts.

Meanwhile, the State supreme court declared the tax valid. But the issue was not finally settled. The gas companies could appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Representative Douglas E. Bergman of Dallas suggested that teacher pay be hiked $306 per year, starting next September, if the state wins its fight for the natural gas tax.

Representative D. H. Buchanan of Longview wanted to pass a new tax on natural gas, to bring in $15 million per year for teachers. This tax would become invalid if the present tax is found to be constitutional.

And Representative Lamar Zivley of Temple recommended financing a $360 per year raise for teachers with a tax on natural gas.

There was strength behind movements to adjourn the session — without any new tax. That would mean no pay increase for teachers.

Although both houses have voted $600 per year pay raises for schoolmarms, Comptroller Robert S. Calvert has said that the money is not in sight to pay the cost.

That means no more money for teachers, unless a tax bill is passed.

Even so, the Senate has signified that it is ready to quit and go home.

And in the House, at week's end, it seemed likely that the sine die adjournment would come during the week of May 25.

The session passed its 120th day Tuesday, and the pay of legislators automatically dropped from $10 per day to $5 per day.

—tpa—

The House passed on second reading a bill to change the Gilmer Aiken minimum foundation fund by revising the economic index annually, instead of every four years.

Under the bill, no district's dues can be changed more than 10 per cent in any one year.

The annual $45 million contribution of all districts would remain the same.

—tpa—

After a 26-hour filibuster, the Senate finally passed a bill to create a statewide toll road authority.

As originally passed in the House, the bill created a Dallas-Fort Worth turnpike authority. The bill went back to the House for approval of Senate amendments.

—tpa—

Dead or dying was a bill to tighten regulation over the practice of optometry.

A motion in the Senate to suspend rules and bring the bill up for debate failed of the necessary two-thirds majority.

Other measures also became lostcauses, unless the Legislature should hang on for a long session.

The Senate passed, 17 to 13, a proposed constitutional amendment that would boost the salaries of legislators from $10 to $25 per day.

But the vote was insufficient to give the resolution, already passed by the House, final approval.

Senator George Parkhouse of Dallas lacked two votes to bring up the Ford bill—one that would prohibit payment of unemployment benefits to union members off the job in one plant of a corporation because of a strike in another plant of the same corporation.

This one is called the Ford bill because the Ford plant at Dallas closed because of a strike at another Ford plant.

In a practical farm test, hogs fed RED CHAIN WA-MO showed gains on less total feed, and at less cost per pound of gain than for hogs fed either of two other commercial supplements. The test hogs were all fed identical grain rations, free choice.

WHY RED CHAIN WA-MO CUTS COSTS

RED CHAIN WA-MO contains wide variety of vegetable and animal proteins, vital minerals and needed vitamins... all at proper levels to supply the nutritional factors lacking in grain. This means your hogs get greater nutrient value from every pound of grain when you feed WA-MO. That means feeding costs and boosts profits.
