'Grande Is Down 8 Inches

PRESIDIO, Tex. (UPI)—Rio Grande floodwaters dropped eight inches today and remained stationary at 19 feet — more than twice flood stage — before the river began rising again.

A three-foot drop in the Rio Grande's Mexican tributary, the Rio Conchos, was expected to ease the Presidio flood situation later in the day.

However, officials said new heavy rains in Mexico will send new flood crests pouring down the Rio Conchos into the Rio Grande. A 10 a.m. river bulletin said there likely will be little change in the Rio Grande flood situation around Presidio before Saturday.

Reports from the Palomir gauging station 80 miles upstream in Mexico indicated the Conchos was 30 inches below Wednesday's peak flow.

But torrential rains in Cinaruga, Chihuahua 300 miles southwest of Ojinaga, Mexico, posed threats of a fresh outbreak of flooding for the border already hard-hit by a week of damaging flood flows.

The normally sluggish Rio Grande, dry at the time a flood crest from the Conchos swept in a week ago, took three lives and did an estimated $5 million of damage to farmlands in the U.S. and Mexico.

River Isolates 20,000

About 20,000 residents on both sides of the border remained isolated by high waters today.

The river was 19 feet deep at Presidio this morning, about 1.37 feet below its peak depth when the Conchos crest hit Wednesday.

The Red Cross at Presidio fed about 300 flood victims in the past three days and was taking applications for food, clothing, and medical supplies from persons in the stricken area today.

Mayor Jesus Rohana of Ojinaga said 100 homes were destroyed by floods in the Mexican city of 8,500 across from Presidio. The isolated city has enough food for five or six days and more supplies will be flown in by federal and state agencies in Chihuahua City, he said.

The floods destroyed an anticipated 5,000 bale cotton crop in Presidio and washed away about 60 per cent of the farm equipment in the county.

Homes Destroyed

The Rio Conchos flood crest Wednesday isolated the village of Jaljoma, Mexico, 60 miles southwest of Ojinaga, washing away 25 of the village's 30 homes. Fifteen homes on the northern edge of Ojinaga were also destroyed by the crest.

The 600 residents of Santa Elena were also isolated by the flood as was San Vicente, a small village on the Mexican side. At Lajita on the U.S. side, flood-isolated residents were reported living in tents on high ground.

U.S. Border Patrol planes were scheduled to fly supplies into these areas today.

The floods submerged almost 10,000 acres of farmlands in the 45-mile-long Presidio Valley with from 4 to 20 feet of water.

There were no reports of epidemics or major illness on either side of the river.

Princess In Life Saving Death Brush

BRUGES, Belgium (UPI)—Britain's Princess Margaret swept a small boy from the path of an on-rushing automobile and then leaped to safety herself today in a narrow brush with death.

The princess, on a third day of a visit to Belgium, was walking with her party through the market square of this ancient city when a small European car drove straight at them.

Margaret swept up a youngster directly in the auto's path. She then jumped aside herself as the car braked sharply and came to a stop after grazing her skirt.

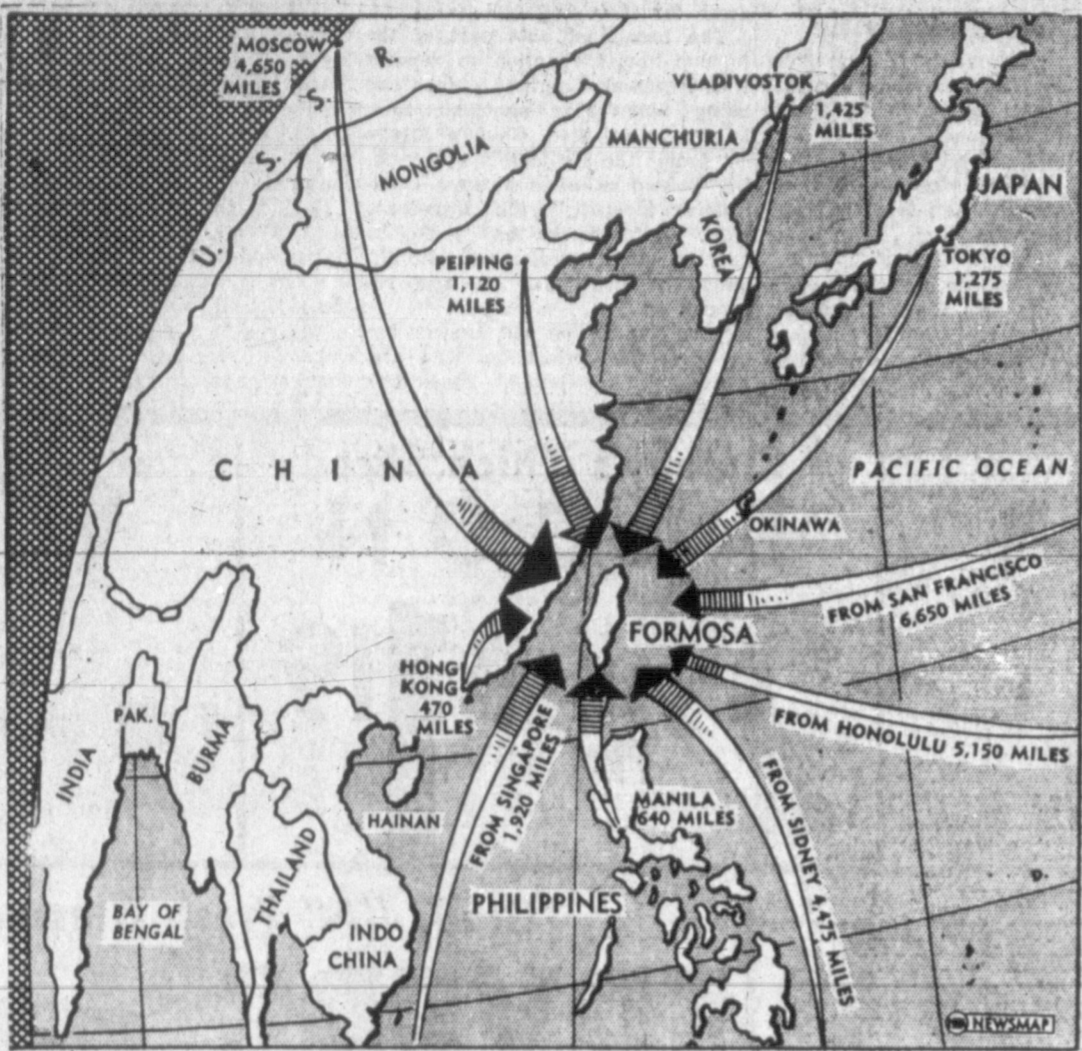

A British detective accompanying Margaret, Chief Inspector Frederick Crocker, sprang forward to make sure the princess was all right.

She smiled her thanks to Crocker, assured Belgian police at the scene that she was unharmed and then walked on, continuing her sightseeing tour of this medieval city.

The fact that tragedy came so close to striking down the pretty young princess dampened the spirits of everyone in the party — with the apparent exception of Margaret herself.

The rescued Belgian youngster wandered off.

FAR EAST FOCAL POINT

With the world spotlight on Formosa and the Chinese offshore islands and supersonic jets and ballistic missiles poised in both East and West, air age geography is of primary importance should war erupt at this point on the globe. Newspaper above shows approximate airline distances to the Formosa area from major world cities.

B-57 Bombers Arrive In Formosa; Firm Truce Wanted By Administration

US May Concede Points

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The administration today hoped to rally new world support behind its Formosa policy following disclosure it is willing to make some concessions to the Chinese Communists in exchange for a firm truce in the Formosa Strait.

Officials expect more backing from other nations now that Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles have made it clear they are not committed to support Chiang Kai-shek's aspirations to return to the mainland and would urge him to make heavy cuts in his offshore island garrisons if the Reds stop shooting.

They acknowledged the United States now faces two new tactical problems as a result of developments of the past two days:

—To make it abundantly clear to the Communists that American "flexibility" and reasonableness do not mean "appeasement" and there will be absolutely no retreat in the face of force or threat of force. Some officials fear the Communists may mistake American willingness to negotiate after a cease-fire as a sign of weakness and take the step forward which could plunge the whole area into war.

—To convince Chiang the peace of the world cannot be indefinitely imperilled by keeping large Nationalist forces on the Quemoy and Matsu islands within sight of the Red mainland if Peiping is willing to accept an enforceable cease-fire and take its complaints to the conference table.

Dulles received one of the first dividends of his more "flexible" policy Wednesday night when Foreign Minister Richard G. Casey of Australia and Prime Minister Walter Nash of New Zealand joined him in a statement calling on the Chinese Communists to end their attacks on the Quemoy and Matsu islands "as a first step to a peaceful settlement" of the Formosa crisis.

Committee Slates Economic Study

The fifth economic study course of the year will get underway this month, according to Cameron Marsh, chairman of the Legislative and National Affairs Committee, Pampa Chamber of Commerce.

Anyone interested in taking this basic study of economics should contact the Chamber of Commerce office. Five dollars for textbooks will be the only charge.

Marsh said there was still room for seven or eight in the course.

US Strengthens Its Striking Power

By AL KAFF
United Press International

TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI)—High altitude B-57 American jet bombers have arrived in Formosa to bolster U.S. striking power in the war-threatened Formosa Strait, it was disclosed today.

United Press International Correspondent Charles Smith reported the arrival of the bombers from an air base somewhere in Formosa.

The B-57s, able to strike at almost any important military target in China, greatly strengthen the U.S. air arm in the Formosa area, now dependent largely on the U.S. 7th Fleet and its 400 or more planes.

The United States also was flying in 10 or more C-119 Flying Boxcar cargo planes from Japan to help break the Communist stranglehold on the Quemoy islands.

Fear Another Munich

The first three planes of a 16-plane squadron arrived today. An Air Force spokesman estimated the C-119s would be able to land 900 tons of supplies on the Quemoy daily by parachute dropping — more than enough to meet Quemoy's needs.

The twin-engine, light tactical bombers known also as Canberras are being prepared for flight at the air base already bristling with the fastest jet fighter planes in the world, Smith reported.

It was not known immediately if they would be turned over to the Nationalist air force which lacks bombers capable of hitting the Red artillery used against Quemoy Island.

But the arrival of additional American aid failed to dispel Nationalist fears of "another Munich" involving the evacuation of

4 US MILITARY MEN MISSING

TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI)—A Nationalist Chinese PBV seaplane with four U.S. military men aboard has been missing over the Formosa Strait since Wednesday afternoon, the Defense Ministry announced today.

An American spokesman said the plane carried seven passengers and four crew members. The passengers included two U.S. Army officers, an American soldier and an American sailor.

Their names were being withheld until their families are notified.

Boy's Body Recovered By 'Copter

IRON MOUNTAIN, Mich. (UPI)—The body of 4-year-old Kenneth Scott, who disappeared Sunday in the bear-infested wilderness north of here, was found today by an Air Force helicopter.

The body was sighted by a 'copter pilot from the K.I. Sawyer Air Force Base at Marquette. The pilot landed to recover the body from a spot about 1 1/2 miles southeast of the hunting camp from which Kenneth wandered away.

It was not immediately known how long the boy had been dead or what caused his death.

Discovery of the body came shortly after two of the nation's best bloodhounds were flown here from Dallas, Ore., to join in the last-ditch search for the child.

One of the bloodhounds is a national champion and has picked up trails two weeks old.

de-militarization of the Quemoy and Matsu islands.

The authoritative China Daily News, organ of the ruling Kuomintang (Nationalist Party), reflected hardening opposition to reducing the size of the Nationalist garrison as suggested in Washington.

"Some countries without asking who is right or who is wrong suggested that we should withdraw some of our forces on Quemoy as a condition for a Communist cease fire instead of punishing the aggressors," it said.

"If such a thing really happened, is it not a repetition of Munich?"

The commentary obviously referred to Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' remarks that a Formosa Strait cease-fire should include a reduction of the 85,000-man Nationalist garrison on the offshore islands.

President Chiang Kai-shek was quoted Wednesday as saying Dulles must know that asking the Communists for a cease-fire was only wishful thinking and that Dulles' latest views appeared to contradict his earlier stand.

"Any attempt by a third party as a good officer to prejudice the rights of the government of the Republic of China will absolutely not be accepted or tolerated," the China Daily News said.

CAPTURED SIDEWINDER?—Red China has claimed Nationalist Chinese on Formosa and Quemoy are using U. S. Sidewinder guided missiles to shoot down its fighting planes. The Communist Chinese photo purportedly shows a partly-wrecked small missile which Reds say is a "Sidewinder missile." It is shown on a rectangle box, or desk, with tail of the missile resting on the back of a chair, right. It is said to be the captured wreck of a "Sidewinder" and is on display in Peiping. 275,000 Workers Walkout On Plants

FOR PRIVATE CLASSES

Money, Offers At Little Rock Heavy

By BRYCE MILLER
United Press International

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI)—Little Rock's private school corporation reported today offers of money and emergency classrooms are pouring in for its new, last-ditch plan to keep the schools white.

The plan for privately supported and privately housed schools apparently would leave Negroes with no high schools and would be staffed by retired teachers.

But Justice Department officials said the plan was another "scheme" that simply won't work. The officials told United Press International in Washington it would be the people of Little Rock rather than the courts that would reject the plan because it would mean the end of free public education which has become the foundation of the American way of life.

Church Buildings Offered

The prohibitive cost also would be a major stumbling block, the Justice Department spokesmen said.

Dr. T. J. Raney, president of the corporation, said in Little Rock he had picked up one contribution of $5,000 for the plan but he declined to estimate the total.

His secretary reported at least three Baptist churches had been volunteered for classrooms, as well as a carpenter's union hall, suites in a life insurance building, "quite a few" rumpus rooms and "a large living room."

Raney announced Wednesday the corporation, which has been stymied by the Eighth U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals in a plan to lease the four closed high schools and operate them as private institutions with state money, had hit upon the new plan.

The plan is to operate private, segregated schools — he doubted there will be any for Negroes — in private buildings with funds raised by popular subscription.

He said the corporation is ready to begin next week, if the appeals court on Monday makes permanent its temporary order to the school board not to turn over to the corporation the four high school buildings.

The private school corporation dedicated to keeping the high schools of Little Rock, Ark., rigidly segregated worked desperately today on a last-ditch plan to evade federal integration orders.

Officials of the corporation said offers of money and emergency school board not to turn over to the corporation the four high school buildings.

Justice Department officials said in Washington, however, that the plan was just another "scheme" and wouldn't work any better than previous ones. The officials told United Press International the plan would not be of prohibitive cost but would, in the end, be rejected by Little Rock citizens themselves because it would mean the end of free public education.

In Wheelwright, Ky., there was trouble at an integrated school. A fight between a white girl and a Negro girl touched off a noisy, stone-throwing demonstration Wednesday at Wheelwright High School where Negroes were admitted in 1955. Authorities were forced to suspend classes.

Virginia Gov. J. Lindsay Almond remained silent on any plans for educating 12,700 children locked out of schools because of integration orders. Private groups continued efforts to provide at least temporary relief.

A military institute at Salem, N.C., announced that it was recruiting students from nearby Norfolk to attend night classes there. The program is scheduled to begin next week.

Registration for makeshift classes began today for the 1,000 students displaced from the high school at Front Royal, Va., and the program is to get under way next week. A spokesman for a private group said classes for all 1,700 idle pupils at Charlottesville have been arranged.

It has been reported unofficially that the Virginia governor has in mind a plan which would reopen schools closed by state law, but eliminate grades in which Negroes are entitled to enroll under court order.

Justice Department officials were of the opinion that such a plan would fall in the category of "evasive schemes" forbidden by the Supreme Court.

Company, Strikers Will Lose Five Million Daily

By JACK VANDENBERG
UPI Automotive Editor

DETROIT (UPI)—General Motors and the United Auto Workers union failed to reach an agreement before a 10 a.m. strike deadline today and more than 275,000 GM employees left their jobs in plants across the nation.

GM Vice President Louis G. Seaton estimated the strike would cost the workers five million dollars a day in wages, and that the company also would lose about five million dollars.

Seaton said the company was standing by its offer to give the UAW the same terms as were in the Ford settlement "which the union praised when it reached a settlement with Ford."

The union insisted there were issues peculiar to GM which must be settled, including short work-week schedules, and differences in wage scales for the same work.

The striking GM employees included 25,000 members of the International Union of Electrical Workers, which also failed to reach an agreement before the deadline.

GM and UAW negotiators spent a total of 19 1/2 hours over the bargaining table during the past 24 hours in an unsuccessful attempt to reach an agreement on a national contract before the deadline.

Some of the strikers left their jobs early, failing to report for work when their shift began. The UAW ordered all preparations for a nationwide strike made well in advance and said the local unions were permitted to strike at their local times, although this put some of them on strike before the deadline was reached in Detroit, where negotiations were conducted.

The union laid elaborate preparations for the nationwide strike, third in GM's history.

Union negotiators had given up hope of avoiding at least widespread local strikes hours before the deadline.

UAW Vice-President Leonard Woodcock, director of the union's GM department, officially acknowledged that hope of avoiding the local strikes was lost in a statement issued four hours before the deadline.

"There has been no work on the local demands during the six months we have been negotiating," Woodcock said. "GM has refused to allow its plant officials to bargain on local issues while talks on the national contract were in progress."

GM Minimizes Effect

"Our hands are tied. There is no chance of moving enough before the deadline to prevent widespread local strikes."

Seaton said the company was not impressed by the strike deadline and presumably not by the strikes. He said that in view of repeated local-level strikes during the past several weeks, a national strike became a "rather empty thing."

GM was faced with the prospect of being closed by strikes while its two biggest competitors, Ford Motor Co. and Chrysler, were turning out 1959 model cars.

Chrysler avoided the possibility it might be shut down along with (See WORKERS on Page 5)

Britain Wants Nuclear Test Suspension

By K. C. THALER
United Press International

LONDON (UPI)—Britain plans early consultations with the United States on Russia's demand for a foreign ministers' conference on arrangements to suspend nuclear tests, it was reported today.

No official reaction to Wednesday's Soviet note was available immediately in the United States or Britain, but early indications were that Washington will oppose the idea while Britain favors it.

The Russians proposed the foreign ministers of the United States, Britain and Russia attend the already-scheduled nuclear suspension talks in Geneva, which are to open Oct. 31.

The United States and Britain jointly proposed the Oct. 31 meeting in Geneva without saying who they planned to send to the conference. It had been expected, however, the U. S. chief delegate would be James J. Wadsworth, President Eisenhower's disarmament adviser.

Informed sources in Washington predicted Wednesday night the United States will reject the idea of a foreign ministers' conference. The British, however, appeared unlikely to object to the idea of sending Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd to the Geneva meeting.

$6,000 BUGGY, BUT NO PLACE TO PARK IT!

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—City auto parks warned 1959 Cadillacs to stay away today in newspaper advertisements here.

The notice read:

"Due to the current trend toward ever longer and wider automobiles and the adornment of bumpers with glass, we regret to announce that we will not be able to accept for parking certain of the 1959 model automobiles. The first of these will be: All of the 1959 Cadillacs.

Pink Chases Away Halo

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI)—Sister Fides lost her halo when she donned a "shocking pink" habit. But her new look was an instant hit with Dominican Sisters at Siena College.

The halo showed up on monitors at the city's educational television station while Sister Fides was rehearsing for a televised algebra course. It was caused by lights reflecting from her black habit.

Sister Fides dyed her habit pink and draped her head with a white veil. The halo disappeared.

Explorer Post 122 In Aviation Meet

The members and advisors of Air Explorer Post 122 invite any boys interested in aviation to a 7:30 p.m. meeting tonight.

The meeting will be held in the Air Reserve building, 208 W. Browning. This year the 9913th Air Reserve Squadron took on the sponsorship of an Explorer Post in which all areas of aviation will be covered.

7 Cubs Get Advancements

Seven cubs received their advancements in the recent meeting of Cub Pack 80 of the Pampa Methodist Church. Committees were appointed to contact prospective Cubs for the expansion meeting to be held tonight.

Todd Atkins, Dickie Welt and Roy Crouse received their Lion badges and gold and silver arrow points under Lion. Steve Oler received his one year pin, John Curry, his Lion award; David Fennel, Webedo badge and three year pin; and Scott Baldwin, his Lion badge with one gold and two silver arrow points under Lion. Watkins, Welt, Crouse and Curry also received the Webedo badge.

Cub Master Bill Oler conducted the meeting while Dewey Palmittier presented the awards. Bob Curry opened and closed the meeting with a prayer.

The expansion meeting will be held 7:30 p.m. today in the basement of the Pampa First Methodist Church.

Workers

GM when it signed three agreements covering the bulk of its 55,000 employees.

Negotiators were still working out details of a fourth contract which would cover an estimated 8,500 salaried office workers and engineers at Chrysler. But the danger of a strike was avoided when the company settled with the union on contracts covering 75,000 production and maintenance workers, 1,500 employees of the Chrysler parts depots and a separate pact for workers in Chrysler's cafeterias.

Similar To Ford's

UAW president Walter P. Reuther said the Chrysler agreements were modeled after a settlement the union reached with Ford in Sept. 17, six hours after Ford workers left their jobs throughout the nation.

The Chrysler agreement, like the Ford pact, provided for wage increases of 10 cents an hour during the first three years the contract will run, seven cents as an annual improvement factor and three cents in cost of living allowances.

Skilled workers will get an added eight cents an hour increase, just as Ford's skilled workers did.

The major additions to the Chrysler contract as compared to the Ford pact were in non-economic areas.

A new system for applying seniority on a division and plant-wide basis was included in the Chrysler agreement, which combined separate contracts Chrysler formerly had with its regular employees and those working in plants purchased from Briggs Manufacturing Co. in 1955.

Wins Concessions

The Chrysler contract also contained concessions to the company in strengthening no-strike provisions and reducing the ratio of union stewards to workers in the old Briggs plants.

GM, which has not had a nationwide strike since its workers were idled for 113 days in 1945-46, offered to settle with the union on Ford contract terms but Reuther insisted there were some matters "peculiar to GM which demand a GM settlement."

He said these problems included short work weeks and wage differentials among various plants. It was these demands which concerned negotiators in a marathon session which began at 10 a. m. Wednesday.

Hoffa Faces Showdown With Monitors

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Battle lines were drawn today for an early courtroom showdown between Teamsters' boss James R. Hoffa and the monitors named to clean out corruption in his big union.

Federal Judge F. Dickinson Letts was expected to set a hearing date soon for arguments on whether Hoffa legally holds his $50,000-a-year job.

Hoffa's representative on the "watchdog" panel—monitor L. N. D. Wells Jr.—Wednesday attacked the monitors' majority for suggesting a compromise decree allowing Hoffa to take office may be invalid.

The union seemed sure to follow the line laid down by Wells in urging Letts to rule his court decree, which also established the three-man board of monitors to check on Hoffa's regime, was lawful.

Monitor chairman Martin F. O'Donoghue and member Godfrey P. Schmidt questioned whether the agreement last winter which resulted in creation of the monitors and the end of a suit challenging Hoffa's election was valid since the general membership of the 1,500,000-member union was not consulted.

Letts was expected to hold a hearing on the majority request in about two weeks.

Wells' dissent said the formal agreement which ended the suit of 13 rank-and-file Teamsters against Hoffa's taking office had wide press, radio and television coverage. In addition, he said, a summary of Letts' decree in the case was printed in the union magazine.

He said not a single Teamsters member has come forward since the decree to ask that it be changed.

Women Take Over Lefors Lions Club

(Special to The News)

LEFORS—"The Ladies' Touch," in handling affairs, prevailed at the Ladies night banquet of the Lefors Lions Club, held in the high school cafeteria Monday night, as all business was taken over by the fairer sex with Mrs. Fred Blackwell acting as Boss Lion.

Acting Tail-twister, Mrs. Boyd Beck, became quite frustrated when her "fine collection container" was stolen, and unable to locate the culprit, took vengeance on her husband, Boss Lion Beck, by snipping off his tie, much to the amusement of those present.

Other acting officers were Mrs. Earl Atkinson, Sec.; Bill Watson, Lion; Tamer; Ray Chastain, Treas.; and W. C. Breining, program chairman and song leader.

The musical program consisted of "Buttons and Bows," and "All the Way," being sung by Misses Margie Nichols, Sandie Call, Jan Atkinson, and Mary Watson; "Mocking Bird Hill," by Mrs. Jerry Jacobs and Earl Atkinson; and a piano solo by Mrs. Wesley Daniel.

Two Drivers Convicted On DWI Charge

Arrested by the Highway Patrol, two White Deer men pled guilty in Gray County Court Wednesday to charges of driving while intoxicated. Stanley Joe Clark Miller received a fine of $125 and costs. His companion, James Albert Culbertson, was fined $150 and costs. Both will spend three days in jail and be without their license for six months. The men were in the hands of the Highway Patrol after hitting a car driven by a man from Lefors.

Elmer Ammons was rounding a curve on 273, on his way to Lefors, when Miller came barreling toward him. As Ammons hit the shoulder, Miller rounded the curve and came straight across the road, hitting him.

Although Miller stopped the car further on, Culbertson took his place at the wheel and blazed out. Patrolman Royce Logan arrested them four miles south on 273 at 7:15 p.m. Tuesday. He said that Culbertson was driving all over the road.

Damage to Ammons' 1954 Oldsmobile was set at $155. The 1955 Mercury, belonging to Culbertson, suffered $75 damage.

Rotarians Hear Reeve

Pampa Rotarians yesterday heard a classification talk by Jack Reeve who spoke to the club on the Franks operation at Cabot Shops.

Explaining that Franks has 11 sales and service outlets, including one in Canada and one in South America, Reeve explained that the division's operation comes under three general classifications: production servicing equipment, which accounts for about 60 per cent of the total production and 40 per cent of the sales dollar; work-over units, about 25 per cent of the total production and 30 per cent of the sales dollar; and drilling rigs, which make-up 15 per cent of the production and equal about 30 per cent of total sales.

To give some indication of the complexity of the equipment Franks builds, Reeve pointed out that a typical unit has over 2,000 separately inventoried items.

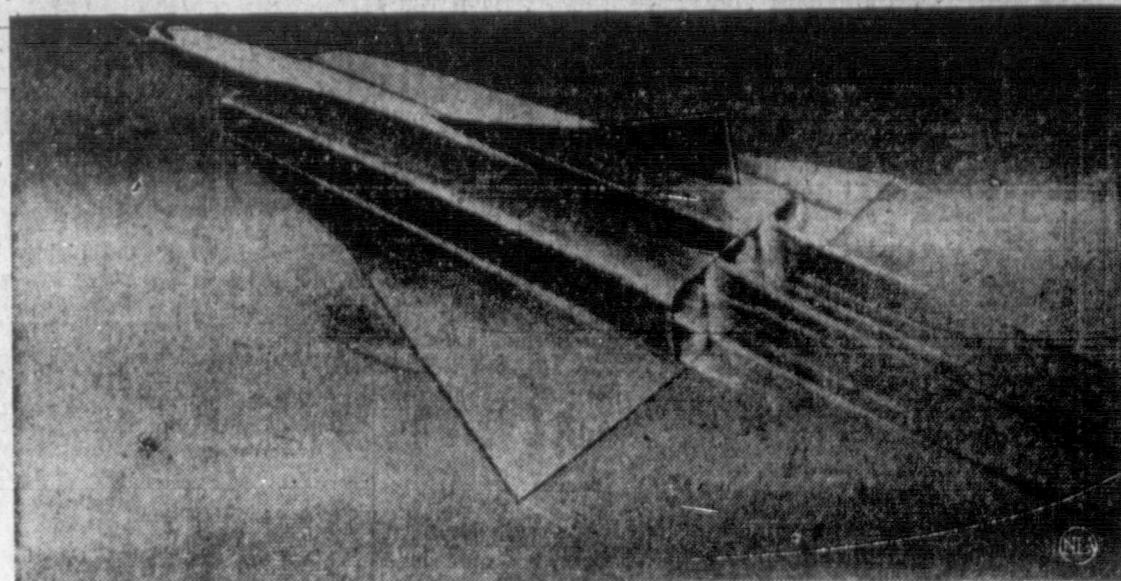

Club visitors and guests were Wilbur White, Jim Foster, Charles Riley, Carl Studer, Bob Denman and M. K. Brown, honorary member.

Local Theatre Group Meets At 8

Pampa Community Theatre meets tonight to make a few more plans for the future, according to local theatre people. The production will occupy the Gray County Courtroom at 8 p.m.

"This community and other communities will definitely be in on this meeting," leaders say, "as membership is open to all interested men and women in the area—regardless of experience." Plans now are to open the season with "Traveling Lady." The production dates and time of try outs will depend on the outcome of tonight's meeting.

LONDON-NEW YORK: TWO HOURS—This is an artist's conception of a turbo-ramjet-powered supersonic airliner which could travel 2,000 miles per hour and carry 150 passengers nonstop from London to New York in two hours. The airliner, being developed by Britain's Aero-Engines, Ltd., could use the same runways as today's jet planes. Eight minutes after takeoff, it would be at an altitude of 16 miles.

Color Bank Help's Grapefruit Canners

HOUSTON (UPI)—A government researcher said that a new "color bank" method had been developed to preserve the original color while canning red grapefruit produced in the Rio Grande Valley.

The red grapefruit is fast becoming one of the chief citrus products of the valley and the new method was expected to have far-reaching effects on marketing the product.

The new "color bank" method was developed in the United States Department of Agriculture fruit and vegetable laboratory at Weslaco, headed by Dr. Francis Griffiths. It was revealed in a report given today by Horace Etchison of McAllen, a member of the USDA research advisory board, before the 16th annual convention of the Texas Citrus and Vegetable Growers and Shippers.

Etchison said researchers had been able to take the juice of early-season red grapefruit and apply it to late-season fruit used in canning purposes and preserve the original red color in the juice. "Producers of red grapefruit, as you know, have had trouble canning their product in the past, because it always turned out murky and not too slightly when canned," Etchison said.

Under the newly-developed method, he said producers will be able to set up a "color bank" or juices taken from early-season red grapefruit, which are not suitable for canning purposes, and add it to the later crop when canned, thus keeping the original red color.

Some 1,000 members and guests at the convention also heard a report from Sam Taylor of Monte Alto, manager of the Rio Farms, on breeding vegetable varieties suitable to valley conditions.

R. V. Dublin of Laredo was elected president by a mail ballot, succeeding George Sherriff of Donna. Other officers announced Monday were Dale Mayes of Edinburg, vice president, and Wallace Mahoney of La Feria, secretary-treasurer.

Ten Major Oil Companies In Big Settlement

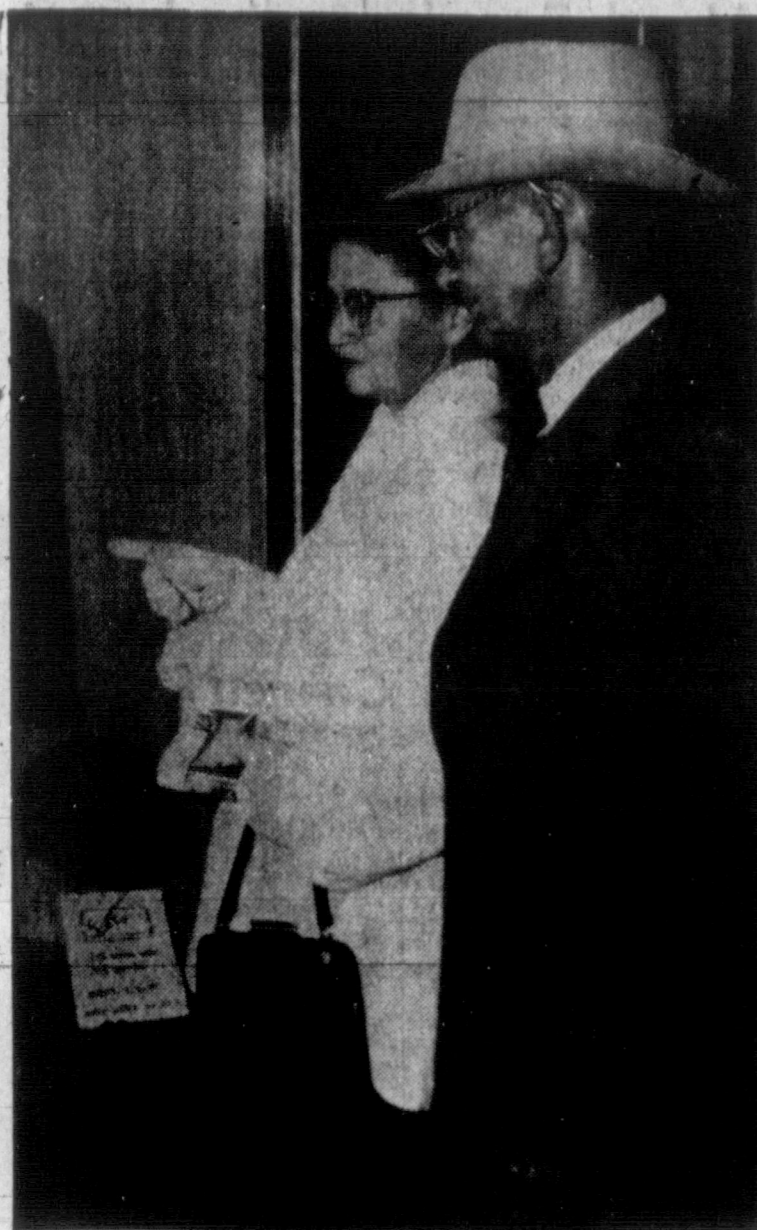

EL PASO (UPI)—Ten major oil companies have settled a $124,000 price-war lawsuit out of court.

R. B. Baker, Midland, Tex., operator, claimed in his complaint that the companies ran him out of business by dropping prices as low as 14.9 cents for regular and 16.9 cents for premium gasoline in 1954.

Baker did not reveal the amount of the settlement.

The defendants were Gulf Oil, Humble Oil and Refining, Standard Oil of Texas, Shell Oil, Sinclair Refining, Phillips Petroleum, Continental Oil, Cosden Petroleum and the Texas Company.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

"Constitution Week" Significant The week of September 17-23 has been designated as "Constitution Week". Each year an observance is scheduled throughout the nation in recognition of the importance of the federal constitution, which forms the basis of our national government. It insures a stable balance of powers between the legislative, executive and judicial branches of government by providing curbs upon the authority of each.

For instance, mighty as our Congress is, the Constitution does not give it certain powers:

1. Neither Congress nor anybody else can suspend the writ of habeas corpus (unless the public safety demands it during rebellion or invasion.) All officers or officials must obey a court and bring anyone in their custody to see whether he is held lawfully.

2. Congress cannot pass "bills of attainder," special acts to punish someone. Congress cannot bypass the courts.

3. Congress cannot pass an ex post facto law — a law which makes an act a crime which was not one when done, or which punishes the offender more than called for when done.

4. Congress cannot tax exports from any state nor by regulation favor one state's ports over another's, nor make one state's vessels clear or pay duties to another state in order to enter.

Besides these details from within the constitution curbs Congress and the executive and judiciary in the amendments, especially the first ten.

Among other things, Congress cannot make a law respecting establishment of religion or prohibiting its free exercise, or abridging the freedom of speech, of the press or the right of the people peaceable to assemble and to petition the government for a redress of grievances.

The constitution also curbs the courts (for example, they cannot deny a person a fair hearing duly represented by counsel.) It curbs the executive (he cannot, for example, take private property for public use without just compensation.)

The constitution, which divides the work of the three branches of government, winds up by telling where the rest of the power rests—just in case anybody gets any fancy ideas of dictatorship. There are things no state can do, for instance, "make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States."

If there are any powers not given to the United States government or reserved to the states, they belong to the people. The constitution does not seem to limit the people.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

NO PINK ELEPHANTS?—Imagine coming home after hoisting a few to a house like this. The five-story high rattlesnake and the yowling cats would scare anybody into signing the pledge. The bizarre decorations are in Stuttgart, Germany.

"These Britons are very primitive, Caesar, They never heard of ROMAN MEAL BREAD."

MORAL: Do as the Romans did! Include whole grain energy in your daily diet. Modern ROMAN MEAL (wheat-rye-bran mix), when made into bread, makes delicious toast, superb sandwiches. Vitamin-fortified. Good protein eating. Look for the ROMAN GLADIATOR on the wrap.

Observatories use the stars to tell correct time. A star-timed day extends from the time a given star crosses a given meridian until the instant it crosses again. Its length is 23 hours, 56 minutes and four seconds of mean solar time. There are 365 days, six hours, nine minutes and nine seconds in a star-timed year. The extra time is compensated for in the calendar year by the addition of leap-year day.

Sauerbraten With Gingerbread Gravy Classifies As Marinated Masterpiece

MEALTIME MAGIC—Here's a prescription to change mealtime madness into menu magic. Keep this "old German" recipe handy. It's a natural for the fall. In addition, the recipe will give you a chance to become more familiar with the meat cut called beef heel of round.

If you are looking for a recipe, one just a little different, turn to some typical foreign dishes. One in particular which might interest you is the famed Bavarian or German specialty . . . Sauerbraten. This dish doesn't boast of being quick and easy, because it does take quite a bit of time, but the end results can be classified as a masterpiece.

The beef heel of round, which is the honored cut for this recipe, is considered a less-tender cut of meat. It comes from the lower part of the round and is a boneless, wedge-type cut. Best method of preparation is by moist heat, usually braising.

As in most Sauerbraten recipes, the meat is allowed to marinate from 2 to 4 days. This marinade is composed of vinegar, spices, salt, pepper and sugar.

Certainly one of the highlights of this meal is the gravy accompaniment which escorts the Sauerbraten to the table. The marinade and drippings from the roast help to add the flavorful note to this gravy attraction but the crumbled gingersnaps give this gravy its name . . . Gingersnap Gravy.

SAUERBRATEN

- 3 to 4-lb. beef heel of round
- 1 1/2 cups vinegar
- 1 1/2 cups water
- 2 bay leaves
- 12 whole cloves
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1/4 teaspoon mace
- 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 2 large onions, sliced
- 1/4 cup salad oil
- 1/4 cup enriched flour
- 3 tablespoons lard or drippings
- Heat vinegar, water, spices, salt and sugar to boiling point. Pour over sliced onions and allow to stand until cool. Stir in oil. Pour marinade over pot-roast and allow to stand in refrigerator 2 to 4 days, turning meat once a day so it will marinate evenly. Remove meat from marinade and drain. Dredge with flour and brown on all sides in lard or drippings. Place rack under meat and add 1 cup of strained marinade. Cover meat tightly and simmer 3 to 4 hours or until meat is tender. Remove to hot platter and make gravy. 6 to 8 servings.

Potatoes, Cheese Ham Blended With Potatoes, Cheese, Ham Blended With

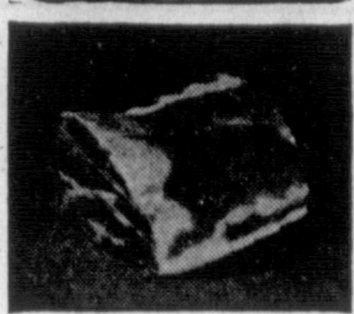

Combine autumn's abundance—plentiful potatoes, cheese, ham and instant nonfat dry milk—in a flavorful and hearty dinner casserole. It's an economy special too. To serve six generously the cost is only about 16 cents per serving.

Economical instant nonfat dry milk is used in the "no-lump" sauce in this casserole dish. Use instant nonfat dry milk as milk is used—for drinking and in cooking and baking. It mixes immediately, even in ice water.

HAM, CHEESE AND POTATO CASSEROLE

- (Makes 6 to 8 servings)
- 1 tablespoon butter
- 1/4 cup finely chopped onion
- 2 cups ham strips, julienne style
- 2 cups liquefied instant Starlac nonfat dry milk

- 1/4 cup flour
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- teaspoon pepper
- 2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
- 1 (6-oz.) package chapp processed American cheddar cheese slices, shredded
- 2 medium size potatoes, boiled and sliced
- Melt butter in small skillet; add onions; saute until tender. Add ham strips; brown lightly. Pour liquefied instant Starlac nonfat dry milk into top of double boiler. Sprinkle flour, salt and pepper over surface of Starlac; beat with rotary beater until blended. Cook over boiling water, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens. Add Worcestershire sauce and cheese; stir until cheese melts and sauce is well blended. Combine ham, onions, potatoes and cheese sauce in 1 1/2 quart casserole. Sprinkle with paprika. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) until sauce bubbles and top is golden brown, about 20 minutes.

Q. What is the name of this cut of meat?
A. Pork Blade Loin Roast.

Q. Where does it come from and how is it identified?
A. It comes from the loin section of the carcass and contains the blade, ribs and backbone. Outer surface of fat has some lean contained in it.

Q. How is it prepared?
A. Being fresh pork, it is roasted in a 350° F. oven, allowing 45 to 50 minutes per pound. However, the center-cut pork loin roast requires only 35 to 40 minutes per pound.

Spoon-Fork Soup Full O' Fall Flavor

An old French proverb says "The spoon makes the soldier and this Spoon and Fork Soup would certainly keep him in fighting trim. Hearty beef stock, generously laced with favorite fall vegetables, and served with full-flavored crisp Premium Saltines is a supper to make you sing.

SPOON AND FORK SOUP

- 2 cans condensed beef bouillon
- 2 cloves garlic, minced
- 4 pared carrots, cut into small pieces
- 4 zucchini, sliced
- 2 onions, cut into chunks
- 3 ripe tomatoes, quartered or 2 cups frozen canned tomatoes
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 2 or 3 frankfurters, cut crosswise
- Simmer the bouillon, minced garlic and carrots for 15 minutes. Add remaining ingredients and simmer another 15 minutes. Serve with plenty of premium saltine crackers to enhance the soup's good

Cereal Goodies Need Few Ingredients For After-Game Or TV Time Snacks

No matter how large or small the party, the guests who seem to have the most fun are those who find their way into the kitchen and stay there for invent-it-yourself refreshments. The high school crowd knows this, and perhaps that explains the popularity of pizza-making and sandwich raids on the refrigerator.

When your youngsters bring friends home for a snack after a football game or sock hop, suggest they try their hands at cereal confections. Quick to make, each requires just a few ingredients. Cereal candies are fine with such fall drinks as hot chocolate or tangy cider.

Butterscotch bits and peanut butter flavor Peanut Butter Clusters; corn flakes give the confection crunch. Drop the mixture from a teaspoon to form the clusters. Chocolate Delights are a nut, dates and ready-to-eat high protein cereal.

Krispy Peanut Balls and Honey Bars, both made with oven-toasted rice cereal and honey, are tempting choices for National Honey Week, October 27 - November 2—for Halloween festivities, too.

PEANUT BUTTER CLUSTERS

- 1 cup (6 oz.) butterscotch bits
- 1/2 cup peanut butter
- 3 cups corn flakes
- Melt butterscotch bits over hot but not boiling water; stir in peanut butter. Remove from heat. Add corn flakes, mixing until well-coated. Drop by teaspoonfuls onto waxed paper or buttered baking sheet to set.
- Yield: 35 confections, 1 1/2 inches in diameter

CHOCOLATE DELIGHTS

- 1 cup (6 oz.) semi-sweet chocolate pieces
- 1 tablespoon butter or margarine
- 1/4 cup chopped nutmeats
- 1/4 cup cut dates
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 2 cups ready-to-eat high protein cereal
- Melt chocolate and butter together over hot but not boiling water. Combine nutmeats, dates, salt and ready-to-eat high protein cereal. Add to chocolate and stir until well mixed. Drop by teaspoonfuls onto waxed paper or buttered baking sheet. Set in cool place to harden.

KRISPY PEANUT BALLS

- 1-3 cup honey or light corn syrup
- 1/2 cup peanut butter
- 2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar
- 1 1/2 cups oven-toasted rice cereal
- Blend honey, peanut butter and sugar. Shape into balls about 1 inch in diameter. Roll balls in oven-roasted rice cereal.
- Yield: about 2 dozen balls, 1 inch in diameter.

HONEY BARS

- 1 cup honey
- 1/2 cup heavy cream
- 1 tablespoon cocoa
- 1 teaspoon vanilla flavoring
- 8 cups oven-toasted rice cereal

Tuna Roll-Ups For Lunch Casserole

Here's a good spur-of-the-moment lunch. Fluffy pancakes surround a hot tuna filling to tempt the most discriminating of tastes. The pudding can be of the quick instant variety.

- Tuna Roll-ups
- Fruit Salad
- Crab Apples
- Butterscotch Pudding with Nuts
- Milk

TUNA ROLL-UPS

- One small can tuna fish, drained
- 2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
- 1/4 cup chopped celery
- 1 tablespoon minced onion
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 3/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1/4 cup mayonnaise
- Pancakes: 1 cup milk, 1 egg, 1 tablespoon liquid or melted shortening, 1 cup Aunt Jemima Pancake Mix

Combine honey, cream and cocoa. Cook over moderate heat to a temperature of 254 degrees F. (third ball in cold water). Remove from heat and stir in vanilla. Measure oven-toasted rice cereal into buttered large bowl. Add cocoa & syrup, stirring briskly until oven-toasted rice cereal is well-coated. Press mixture into buttered 9 x 9 inch pan. When cool, cut into bars. Yield: 32 bars, 2 1/4 x 1 inches

Heat-and-Eat Canned Ravioli

RAVIOLI IN CANS, like many popular Italian dishes, is an economical pantry shelf standby. The recipe of a renowned Italian chef, both the cheese and beef versions come in a special sauce of juicy red tomatoes and beef, delicately spiced. Serve custard filled sponge cake for a delicious Italian-style final touch.

CUSTARD FILLING

- 1/2 cup sugar
- 2 tbs. flour
- 1 egg, slightly beaten
- 1/4 tsp. salt
- 1/2 cup scalded milk
- 1 tsp. vanilla extract
- 1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped
- Mix sugar, flour, salt in top of double-boiler. Stir in egg, then milk; blend thoroughly. Cook over boiling water, stir constantly, 5 minutes. Cook 5 minutes more, stir occasionally. Refrigerate until cold. Add vanilla; fold in whipped cream. Slice sponge cake. Spoon filling between pieces. Garnish with candied fruit

An Array Of Tempting Rice Recipes That Have Attitudes Atuned To Fall

Surely no sort of main dish is as many things to so many people as is the ever-popular casserole. It means economy to the homemaker on a cautious food budget; convenience to the woman employed outside her home; glamor to a new cook alert to an entrée which is tantalizingly different.

In the following casseroles featuring rice, you'll find a festival of good eating, for each has an attitude attuned to autumn.

Veal acquires distinctive flavor joined by rice, eggs, cream of mushroom soup, basil and buttered corn flakes. For fun, bake this entrée in individual casseroles. Oven-toasted rice cereal crowns quick liver and Rice Creole. As the casserole bakes, toss a green salad or prepare a hot vegetable. You'll favor savory Shrimp and Rice Casserole for Friday fare.

VEAL AND RICE CASSEROLES
4 cups cooked rice
2 cups diced, cooked veal
2 eggs, well-beaten
1 1/4 cups (10 1/2-oz. can) condensed cream of mushroom soup
1 1/4 cups milk
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon basil
2 cups corn flakes
1/4 cup melted butter or margarine

Combine rice, veal eggs, soup, milk and seasonings; mix well. Divide into 6 greased individual casseroles. Crush corn flakes slightly; mix with melted butter. Sprinkle over veal mixture. Bake in moderate oven (375 degree F.) about 30 minutes.
Yields: 6 servings, about 1 cup each

LIVER AND RICE CREOLE
1 pound beef liver, cut in 1/2-inch cubes
2 tablespoons flour
2 tablespoons shortening
1/2 cup chopped onions
2 1/2 teaspoons salt
2 1/2 cups tomato puree
1/4 cup chopped green pepper
2 cups cooked rice
1 cup oven-toasted rice cereal

1 tablespoon butter or margarine, melted
Dredge cubes of liver with flour; brown in heated shortening together with onions. Add salt, tomato puree, green pepper and rice; simmer about 5 minutes, stirring occasionally. Pour into greased 1 1/2 quart casserole. Combine oven-toasted rice cereal with melted butter; sprinkle over liver mixture. Bake in slow oven (325 degree F.) about 15 minutes or until piping hot. Serve at once accompanied by a green vegetable or salad.

SHRIMP AND RICE CASSEROLE

- 3 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 3 tablespoons flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1 1/4 cups milk
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1 tablespoon chopped parsley
- 2 tablespoons chopped pimiento
- 3 cups cooked cleaned shrimp
- 1 1/2 cups cooked rice
- 1 cup corn flakes
- 1 tablespoon butter or margarine, melted
- Melt butter over low heat; stir in flour, salt and pepper. Add milk gradually, stirring constantly. Cook until thickened, stirring occasionally. Remove from heat. Fold in Worcestershire sauce, lemon juice, parsley, pimiento and shrimp. Arrange creamed shrimp and cooked rice in layers in greased 1 1/2 quart casserole. Crush corn flakes into fine crumbs; mix with melted butter. Sprinkle over shrimp mixture. Bake in moderate oven (375 degree F.) about 25 minutes or until thoroughly heated.
- Yield: 6 servings, about 3/4 cup each

Red Cross Has 10 Service Programs

(This is the first of a series outlining work being done by member agents of the Pampa United Fund drive. This year's United Fund drive opens on Oct. 15. Today's installment deals with the American Red Cross.)

The American Red Cross is a nation-wide voluntary organization through which all people may serve in the American tradition of neighbor helping neighbor. The Red Cross carries on ten service programs.

The Pampa Chapter last year served 1289 active service families and veteran families in Pampa and Lefors. RC sent 89 verifications of emergency leave requests to the military for servicemen's families. When a parent cannot hear from his son or daughter who is in the service of his country, the Red Cross sends a health and welfare wire to find out why the serviceman has not written his family. RC sent 210 such reports to the military or the VA for servicemen and veteran families last year.

The office made applications to the military and to the VA for 190 servicemen and their families or for veterans and their families for pensions or allotments. The Red Cross has a field director on every base in the United States and on every Military Post overseas. The field director is the liaison between the military and the Local Red Cross. The Pampa Office counseled with 680 families on personal problems during the past year. We loaned $1874.81 to active servicemen and veterans during the past year. All of these loans were for emergencies and were greatly appreciated by the ones who had the need.

The total goal for the United Fund for this coming drive is $84,000 and Red Cross will receive 24 per cent of this amount to help carry on our work. Pampa chapter's goal for national, international and local needs for this year of 1958-59 has been set for the amount of $13,233.

There are 18 trained first aid instructors in Pampa chapter who taught 112 persons in first aid last year. There are 32 instructors carrying mobile units in their cars so that they may give emergency treatment on the highways. These units are purchased by Red Cross and given to the first aid instructors to carry as a community safety measure.

During last year over 2,348 adults, boys and girls were given some training in life saving and swimming, in Pampa and Lefors. Classes were taught at the City Pool, the Country Club Pool, Lefors Pool, Marcus Saunders Pool and the boy scouts at Camp Ki-O-Wa. Two lives were saved this summer in this area by young people who had been trained in swimming and life saving through the Red Cross Water Safety Program of Pampa.

Red Cross gathered 82 pints of blood for emergency purposes for local hospitals this past year at no expense to the patient except that required for administration purposes by the hospitals.

Pampa chapter has 42 active Gray Ladies working through the Red Cross in the local hospitals visiting the sick and injured. These Gray Ladies work as volunteers and gave 5,080 hours of service last year.

Ten staff aides work in the Red Cross office as volunteers, and last year they gave 491 hours of service to the Red Cross. The

Rockin' Chair Was Loaded

CHORLTON - ON - MEDLOCK, England (UPI) — Granny Byrne didn't know it but the ole rockin' chair could have got her at any moment. It was full of dynamite, hidden there by a burglar who had rented a room from Mrs. O'Leary.

The rocking chair was bought by Mrs. Cathleen Clarke from a neighbor, Mrs. Ann O'Leary, who was moving to the United States. Then along came Granny—Mrs. Mary Byrne of Dublin — on a visit. It was such a comfortable chair she adopted it and sat for long hours happily rocking by the fire.

One day a letter arrived from Mrs. O'Leary saying she had learned one of the three upholstered chairs she sold the Byrnes was "full of explosives."

A search disclosed the rocking chair was full of dynamite, hidden there by a burglar who had rented a room from Mrs. O'Leary. The burglar, since jailed, told police and they told her.

Rogers Will Speak At C-C Luncheon

The Legislative and National Affairs Committee of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a luncheon meeting Monday October 13 as "A Salute to Good Government," according to Cameron Marsh, chairman.

A special tribute to officials of good government by E. L. Henderson, president of the Pampa Chamber, Congressman Walter Rogers will speak on "The State of Affairs in Our Nation's Capitol." Reservations are now being taken in the Chamber of Commerce office for the $1.25 per plate luncheon. The Palm Room, which will accommodate 150 persons, is expected to be filled to capacity. In commenting on the meeting, Marsh pointed out that in most instances officials are not recognized for their work until something goes wrong and faults are found. "That is not the case in this instance as people in this area are fortunate in being served by high calibre public officials," commented Marsh.

World War 1 Vets Set Amarillo Meet

Veterans of World War I will meet in Amarillo, Sunday to organize District I, which includes the 18th Congressional District.

The meeting will be held at the North Amarillo Kiwanis Club Hall, located at 900 North Pierce Street, at 2:30 p.m. R. Lee Davis of Orange, Department of Texas Commander, and Junior Vice-Commander, Art Kahn of Wichita Falls will be here to attend the meeting and assist in organizing the District.

E. R. Bruce of Amarillo is the District Commander of the District and urges all World War I Veterans to attend this important meeting. Much information of interest to World War I Veterans will be available.

Sub Sets New Underwater Mark Says Ike

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower disclosed Wednesday that the atom-powered submarine Seawolf has set a new world record of 35 days for submerged operation at sea.

The President said at his news conference that the Seawolf—second nuclear propelled submarine ever built—completed its 34th day submerged at 10:45 a.m. c.d.t. Tuesday. He said it is still going strong—completely independent on the earth's atmosphere.

The old record, set last May by the world's third atomic submarine, the Skate, was 31 days, 5 1/2 hours.

The President, obviously pleased, volunteered his disclosure at the start of his news conference. He said it looked to him as though the Seawolf's crew was building up a record that other nations would find mighty hard to beat.

The Navy said the Seawolf is operating in the north Atlantic Ocean. Neither the Navy nor the President said how many miles the Seawolf had travelled. The Navy said it would return to New London, Conn., Oct. 6.

Absence Of Red Suggestions On Far East Crisis Puzzling

By K. C. THALER
United Press International
LONDON (UPI)—One of the startling features in the current Far Eastern crisis has been the total absence of Soviet suggestions for a high level conference. It has been the Kremlin's strategy since 1954 to call for a conference, preferably a foreign ministers meeting, at the slightest provocation.

Since the advent to power of Nikita Khrushchev the demand for a "summit" conference which had been raised at almost any opportunity.

The last time it happened was a little over six weeks ago when the Soviet premier and party boss demanded a summit parley to debate the Mideastern crisis.

Nothing has been heard since. The Soviet has recoiled and does not even react to any Western prodding for a high level East-West meeting.

Past Performance
Diplomats with a long record of East-West negotiations recall that it was Russia which prompted the conference in Geneva in 1954 at the height of the Indochina crisis.

Then the Soviets urged a summit conference which finally came to pass in Geneva in 1955.

Since then the summit theme was almost constantly on Khrushchev's lips, until they were sealed after his secret meeting with Red Chinese leader Mao Tse-tung at Peiping last month.

The U.S. and Britain, reversing the roles, have recently formally prodded Russia for a resumption of pre-summit negotiations in Moscow which were adjourned in July, but no reply has been received. Khrushchev promised one, but has remained silent.

The "normal" practice would have been for Khrushchev to ask for a high level or preferably a summit meeting on the current Far Eastern crisis. However, the indications from the Soviets were that they are anything but keen on such a course now.

Picture Clear
This emerged clearly during a meeting last week in New York between British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

This development has given rise to considerable speculation in diplomatic quarters and among Soviet affairs experts.

Linking it with the Khrushchev-Mao meeting and the subsequent Soviet withdrawal from a previously agreed Security Council summit on the Middle East, the first suggestion was that Red China had something to do with it.

But there is reason to believe that there is more to it than meets the eye.

Khrushchev appears to be bid-ing his time for a variety of reasons of his own. Some are believed to be internal. There are considerable developments underway which involve important changes in Soviet economy and agriculture that may keep him preoccupied.

But these may cover up bigger issues still involving the Kremlin hierarchy.

A Party congress has been called unexpectedly by the Kremlin for January next year — some two years ahead of schedule. It may produce some fireworks.

Olds Introduces SportSedan for 1959

Oldsmobile's distinctively styled and attractively different Dynamic "88" Holiday SportSedan for 1959 represents "family-sized" transportation styling for 1959. Recessed in the smart grille, luxury in sports car design. The thin roofline and rakish wrap-around rear window serve to accentuate the mobile appearance of Oldsmobile's "Linear Look" for 1959. Sweeping full-length along the body, the sculptured twin booms give the car a look of mobility even when parked. They also highlight Oldsmobile's unique two-tone styling for 1959. Recessed in the smart grille, the four-beam headlamps are located closer-to-the-road for improved nighttime visibility. The SportSedan body style also is available in the "98" and Super "88" series. Increased interior roominess is a feature of all 1959 Oldsmobiles.

Moore Rates Over Fisher In Long Run; Guests Make 'Em

Television in Review
By WILLIAM EWALD

United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI)—Eddie Fisher, looking as nervous as a turkey in mid-November, skittered in for his first NBC-TV show Tuesday night.

Young Fisher had his troubles on stage last season and seems to be having a few offstage this season, but it must be said that despite his obvious jitters, his opener was polished and big league.

It moved. It contained some fun. It used color effectively. It had professional gloss.

I'm not so sure, however, that Fisher can be credited with the success of the show. He remains a rather dolorous host — a stiff singer, a bad reader of lines, a performer coated with nauseating phony boyishness.

What gave the show click was its slick production plus its power guest line-up of Ernie Kovacs and Jerry Lewis. Kovacs was in fine form, wacky and loose.

And although Lewis is not my idea of what civilization has been laboring to produce, he was bouncy in his own bumptious way Tuesday night. It's a show that'll rise or fall on its guests.

Variety Show

Garry Moore also unpackaged a variety show on CBS-TV Tuesday night. It was an uneven hour, loose and in some spots, a trifle sodden. But it did have Moore, a gentleman with charm and taste. If I were asked to compare the Fisher and Moore shows, I would say that over the long haul, it'll be Moore's that will wear best. The best moments of Fisher's show Tuesday night were imported—Kovacs' spoof of a beat generation poet, for example.

The best moments of the Moore show, on the other hand, were those in which Moore had a direct hand — a wonderful skit with Janis Paige called "I Hate the Country Life" and a wacky bit in which Moore was tossed in a blanket by a group of Eskimos.

The difference is this: Moore adds plus to his show; Fisher must hire his plus.

ABC-TV unveiled a couple of back-to-back shows Tuesday night that struck me as respectable additions to the schedule: "The Rifleman" and "Naked City."

Neat Western

"The Rifleman" stars Chuck Connors, a lanky gent who once dabbled at first base for the Brooklyn Dodgers. Connors plays a widower with a young son in this Western and he's simply fine: Leathery and convincing.

I liked particularly the relationship between the widower and his son—it was affectionate without mawkish clutter.

Dennis Hopper in a feature role turned in a neat job.

"Naked City" is an adventure series set and shot in New York. The opener had a good feeling for the dingy disorder of some of the city. And it also packed an excellent chase scene, full of push and immediacy. It's a series worth peeking at.

The Channel Swim: Dean Martin's surprise walk-on during a Jerry Lewis routine on the Eddie Fisher show Tuesday night would seem to give some substance to the rumors that NBC-TV may bring Martin and Lewis together for a show this season... ABC-TV will shove reruns of "Colt '45" into a Sunday evening spot starting Oct. 5.

CBS-TV's "Du Pont Show of the Month" has ditched its November spec, Joseph Conrad's "Victory," in favor of Terence Rattigan's "The Winslow Boy"... NBC-TV's "Arthur Murray Party" comfortably out-Trendexed its CBS-TV and ABC-TV opposition in its debut Monday night.

Junior Class Play Will Open Thursday Night

(Special to The News)

WHEELER — The junior class of Wheeler High School will present its annual play "That Girl Patsy" in the School auditorium Thursday and Friday at 8 p.m.

This heart-warming comedy will make you fall in love with Patsy, a girl who is taken from the "gutter" by a wealthy family and given a chance to go straight. In her eagerness to make good her one chance, Patsy, played by Katherine Underwood, nearly ruins everything by trying to shield her sister from a blackmailer.

Others appearing in the cast are: Mr. Warren — Patsy's foster father — Kenneth Farris

Mrs. Warren — Patsy's foster mother — Elaine McCasland

Julia Warren — their daughter — Phyllis Callan

Bob Warren — their son — Gilbert Schaffer

Susan — their housekeeper — Nancy Whitener

Denny — their gardener — Marvin Cox

Professor Orlando — a friend — W. A. Tacker

Bus-Loving Lady Banks On The Lord

By MARGUERITE DAVIS
United Press International

GENOA, Ill. (UPI)—Mrs. Mary Holtman said today that God has watched over her for more than 60 years or more, and she's pretty sure he won't let anything happen to her bus.

But if the bus company should decide that not enough passengers use the big silvery vehicles which stop morning and evening at her front gate, she said, "I'm just going to be thankful for those 12 years I had my bus."

The Greyhound Bus Corp. petitioned the Illinois Commerce Commission for permission to abandon the routes which have stopped at the Holtman farm since she and her late husband moved there 12 years ago. Company officials said the route made no money.

Mrs. Holtman has offered to pay Greyhound $4,000, and will her prosperous farm to the company, if the buses are kept on their present schedules. She already has given thousands of dollars in gifts to the drivers.

"All the nice things the drivers have done for me, I could never repay them," she said.

When her husband was stricken with leukemia, she said, the bus drivers showered him with presents.

"They brought cheese from Wisconsin, and fresh fish and sweet butter," she recalled.

Ben Holtman had to go regularly to a Chicago hospital for treatment, and always traveled the 50 miles by bus. The drivers always helped him climb aboard, and at the end of the route would hail a taxi for him, she said.

"One day when he left, he told our dog, 'Take good care of her while I'm gone,'" she said. "He didn't live to come back."

Since her husband's death six years ago, Mrs. Holtman has lived alone on the farm. She raises hogs, which come running to her call of "ooo-eee," turkeys, a cross between chickens and turkeys, and pigeons. Her front yard is filled with a profusion of white and purple petunias, and copper-colored dahlias as big as a saucer.

The bus drivers continue to keep an eye on the 60-year-old widow.

"When I was sick last winter, they brought my medicines," she said, "and they and their families would come see me."

The Illinois Commerce Commission has scheduled a hearing on the bus route Oct. 14, and Mrs. Holtman plans to attend.

"God has never failed me yet," she said. "I need my bus."

PLAYFUL—A handbag with a split personality made its appearance at the International Leather Fair in Offenbach, Germany. A tiny chessboard is mounted on its cover. And it really works. The chess pieces are plugged into slots.

Voters Favor Bond Issue On Generator

(Special to The News)

CANADIAN — A special election held last week for a $175,000 City bond issue was overwhelmingly approved. In a tight vote, 146 favored the bond to 16 opposed.

The contract with the White Diesel Motor Company calls for installation of the 1,250 kilowatt generator within 150 days, according to Mayor L. B. Owens. This will mean that the generator will be in service by next spring, well ahead of the anticipated peak loads which will come with warm weather.

Matter of FACT

The father of the modern magazine was probably Richard Steele. Appointed official writer of news to the English government in 1707, he got the idea of writing and publishing a magazine which would give more than news and the gossip of London. In April 1709 he started the Tatler, which came out three times a week. Steele was knighted by George I in 1715.

Pampa News Women's Editor

October will slip in quietly in the middle of the week, but whatever comes in like a lamb usually goes like a lion, according to an old adage we learned at our mother's knee.

Fire Prevention Week occupies the first full week in October; then on Sunday the 12th, Columbus day is noted with the next week high-lighted with United Nations Day on the 24th... all of which brings us up to the final week, which has Hallowed Eve, Halloween will usher the month out in lionish glee.

We came across a fun idea from Aluminum Co. of America, which suggests a costume - making party for Halloween.

They have a delightful idea that will keep children occupied for most of a party (a major achievement) and, at the same time, provide each with regalia for Halloween night.

The trick that makes all this so logical is a new, easy-to-make costume idea by Conny Hula, well-known design consultant for ACA. Conny has devised a way to make full head masks of sparkling aluminum household foil by simply shaping it over a balloon. Results are imaginative and amusing. In less than an hour, children can conceive all sorts of exciting creatures from ghosts, animals, fairy-tale characters, or creatures from outer space.

The party is an excellent idea, too, for telling children how they can help children in other lands through "The Trick Is To Treat" campaign of UNICEF (The United Nations Children's Fund), which will be the next worth while project undertaken by the United Council of Church women locally. Through this program, youngsters collect donations for UNICEF, along with the usual candy and popcorn for themselves.

To make the masks you need large balloons, (the kind that sell for about 10 cents in the Five and Dime Stores, a box of Alcoa Wrap, cellophane tape and some incidental props to give each mask character.

The first step involved is inflating a balloon to provide the size mask you need. For medium and small children, this should be 10 to 12 inches in diameter. For adults, the size can grow from 12 to 16 in. diameter. For 14 and 16 in. sizes, it is suggested that a roll of 18-in. heavy-duty Alcoa Wrap be used.

Tear the roll of Alcoa Wrap into sheets three feet in length (by the 12 in. width). This will give you 8 sheets of foil. Take one of them and ball it up for a nose.

Now the mask begins. Place the balloon, with blowing about up on the center of the first sheet of foil, and shape the foil up around the balloon. Place it again on the next sheet so that it will shape around the uncovered portion of the balloon. After the third sheet, hold the wad of foil for the nose in position with cellophane tape, and wrap the next length of foil around the center of the balloon and over the nose, forming into the nose shape. Remaining sheets can then be formed up around the balloon to complete the shape.

Next tuck in the ends smoothly around the spout of the balloon, making a large enough opening to get the wearer's head through (7 to 9 in. diameter). When this is done, the air can bet-let out of the balloon and it can be removed from the mask.

Probably most fun comes in decorating the masks. Eyes and mouth are cut out in the desired shape with ordinary scissors. Edges are reinforced with plastic tape. Ears are made by shaping them from foil and gluing or taping them to the mask. Use cellophane tape to hold them in place while glue is drying. (Use white glue, such as Elmer's Glue-All)

Odd shapes can be added to the mask to create horns, tusks, or odd contours. Simply build the mask up by taping wads of foil, as in making a nose. Here are several delightful foil masks for you to copy or to inspire your own ideas.

LIONS - Cut the rounded ears from several thicknesses of foil, and glue or tape them to the head. The mane is made from raffia, ribbon or rug yarn, and is hung on each side of the mask by attaching the raffia or yarn to tape or string, and is held in place with cellophane tape.

GHOST - One of the most versatile and easiest costumes to make is the ghost. All that is needed is a foil "skull" mask and sheet. The mask can be worn as such, or carried to create a headless ghost. The headless effect can be achieved by wearing the sheet over the head and cutting holes for the eyes. The skull mask is a simple one, with eyes, nose and mouth cutout and outline with black plastic tape. A touch of humor can be added by inserting a light bulb for the nose, fastening it on with cellophane tape.

THREE LITTLE KITTENS - Cut the eyes slanted and make whiskers from pipe cleaner wires or broom straws. Head markings can be created from black plastic tape. Paws are made by simply shaping foil around the hands. The tails are foil, crushed into a rope which is taped on or tucked into the belt in back.

Other suggestions are clowns, rabbits, Pinocchio, and bears.

Lush Carpet Piles This Fall Will Have Colorfully New And Bright Variations

By KAY SHERWOOD
Whether your taste in interior furnishings lean toward the casual or the formal, the most dramatic foundations for room decoration this autumn will be plucked from the lush piles of new carpets.

Methodist Guilds At District Meet

Wesleyan Service Guild members from Pampa attended the district Wesleyan Service Guild meeting in Canadian First Methodist Church on Sept. 28.

A salad luncheon was served by the hostess guild to approximately 50 guests.

Mrs. Bill Day of Perryton, district secretary, presided. Meditation was given by Mrs. Wade Gillespie, Borger.

Mrs. Ethel Terrell, Lubbock, conference secretary, outlined the duties of each officer and committee chairman and explained that money sent through regular channels this year is given to 1) Magazine and Picture fund; 2) cash supplies for Mother Jewel Home in York, Neb.; 3) Foreign Missions in Korea; 4) Special Adult Life Memberships; 5) Conference Daughters; 6) places designated locally from money given as action from studies.

Two movies were highly recommended, both of which will be shown in Pampa, "The Mark of the Hawk" and "Albert Schweitzer."

Four studies for the current year were outlined by different speakers. The first, "Christian Concern For Our North American Neighbors" was given by Mrs. W. C. Hutchinson of Pampa. "Understanding Other Cultures" was presented by Mrs. A. S. Jackson, Canadian. Mrs. Aubrey Jones, Pampa, who is the district chairman of missionary education, had an attractive display of foreign dolls around a huge revolving world globe and which added interest to her review of "The Middle East."

Mrs. Ruth Magee, McLean, gave highlights of the study, "Isaiah." Members attending from Pampa were Mmes. Ira B. Carlton, Bill Hood and Burgin Watkins from St. Paul Methodist Guild; Mmes. Ben Ogden, W. B. Foutain, Aubrey Jones, W. C. Hutchinson, J. M. Turner, Malcolm Denson, Misses Minnie Allen and Alma Wilson from the First Methodist Guild.

Those would seem to please the woman who wants some surface effect, but not too much and without the definite quality of an all-over pattern.

For those casually inclined, knitted carpets present a tweedy-looking texture often worked up in several compatible colors.

The Carpet Institute explains that knitting resembles weaving but, because the process is faster, the chances are that knitted carpets may bring more interesting textures to the moderate-price field.

Tweeds in the woven carpet construction abound, of course, but this fall you'll see even better color combinations and gradations within a color range. Small scaled floral patterns are

DEAR ABBY...

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a soldier and I would like to know why most parents and some girls think a man in uniform is poison? There are a few heels in every outfit but why do we all have to suffer for it? I had to borrow civies and lie to the father of one girl before I could take the girl out because if he knew I was a GI he wouldn't have allowed his daughter to associate with me. My buddy and I met two very nice girls at the beach and the minute we told them we were GIs they said goodbye. Why, Abby?

NINE YEARS OLD
DEAR "NINE": Nine-year-olds should go to bed at nine and wake up at seven. Form this habit and you will wake up well rested.

DEAR ABBY: My husband has a workshop in our basement, but he got tired of hammers, screw drivers and pliers getting lost or borrowed, so he locked up that room with a padlock and takes the key to work with him. When I need a hammer I have to use the heel of my shoe. I can't even find a nail when I need one. I think it's terrible that he doesn't trust me and treats me like one of the children. Don't you think he should let me have the key?

LILLIAN
DEAR LILLIAN: Hubby should give you one more chance to prove that you are as respectful of his tools as he is. But don't complain if, when things start getting "lost," he tells YOU to get lost.

DEAR GI: Men in uniform are usually at a temporary base and parents are suspicious of men who might be here today and gone tomorrow. However, it is my opinion that a GI (like any other human being) should be given a chance to prove himself to be respectable and reliable - even in his temporary location. Some of the finest boys in the nation are wearing uniforms, and parents who refuse to allow their daughters to associate with them are missing the boat!

DEAR ABBY: I am getting married in two weeks at a chapel wedding and my problem is this: I am 3 months pregnant and I want to wear a white ballerina-length lace dress. It is NOT a regular wedding dress, but a dressy cocktail dress. My mother knows I am pregnant but nobody else does as it is not obvious. She does not think it is proper for me to wear white, but I bought the dress already and I can't take it back. Please help me make up my mind.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been married over a year and have a problem with his parents and their inquisitive nature. They ask to know the price of everything from the Sunday roast to the clothes we wear. They usually criticize the purchases and say we overpay for everything. We both work and have never asked them for financial help so I don't think it is any of their business. But how can we get this across to them without insulting them?

DEAR WAITING: Wear another dress or have the white one tinted.

DEAR INDEPENDENT: Your husband's parents may mean well, but they are over-stepping their bounds. Young marrieds who manage their financial affairs well enough to be self-supporting, deserve privacy and can achieve it with a good-natured, "Sorry, the cost is confidential."

DEAR ABBY: My problem is if I go to bed early I can't sleep, but if I go to bed late I am sleepy and can sleep but I wake up sleepy. Please tell me if I should go to bed early and force myself to sleep so I will wake up not sleepy or should I go to bed late?

CONFIDENTIAL TO CRYED OUT ALREADY: Tears never solved anything. Ditch the tissue.

and face the issue. For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope. If you want a collection of Abby's best letters and answers "In one book, ask your bookstore to get "DEAR ABBY" for you.

Ed Murrow will introduce Abby and her family on PERSON TO PERSON network CBS show on Friday, Oct. 3 at 8:30 CST.

Harvesters Prepare For Loop Opener Friday

Pass Defense Is Pampa's Big Problem

By RED GRIGGS
Daily News Sports Editor

Wars have been won or lost in the air, and so have football games.

And unless the Pampa Harvesters sharpen up on their pass defense, they may be in Friday night for the worst aerial blitz since the battle of Britain.

The Harvesters have been concentrating on defense in drills this week — and have done a pretty good job of stopping rushing plays. However, they have been very weak against aerial thrusts.

Coach Babe Curfman attributes the weak pass defense to inexperience. He explains that his men, being inexperienced, are afraid to "go for the football," afraid the potential receivers may get behind them.

In last week's game against El Paso Bowie, 21 of 21 passes were completed against the Pampa gridgers, and the percentage would have been high except for slippery-fingered receivers.

The Pampa coaches have reason to worry because Tascosa of Amarillo, Friday night's opponent, uses the same kind of quick, short passes which proved so effective for Bowie.

Tascosa, a new school in Amarillo, will be the Harvesters' first District 3 4-A opponent, in Harvesters Park Friday night. The Rebels despite having only one former Amarillo starter, and six letterman on their squad, have won two games while losing only one.

Tascosa won 27-12 over Arlington Heights, lost to Sunset of Dallas, 19-7, and whipped Austin of El Paso 14-6. Both wins were impressive.

The Harvesters, gunning for their second win against two defeats, have quite a bit going for them despite their weak pass defense. Their offense, which sputtered badly during the first two games, seems to have jelled, and their rushing defense is fairly good.

Pampa had a good measure of success last week with the belly series, as Duane Urbanczyk gained about a hundred yards. The Harvesters also showed that they are capable of going to the air, as they completed five of seven tosses.

Curfman feels that the small number of passing attempts is due to the same cause as Pampa's anemic pass defense — lack of experience and confidence. He is encouraging his backs to throw the ball.

The Pampa mentor singled out two boys, 130-pound junior fullback Matt Cooper and 170-pound senior guard Gary Matlock as being outstanding on both offense and defense in this week's practice sessions. Both are offensive starters, and Matlock also starts on defense.

Defensive starters for Pampa are ends Glover and Harold Stokes, tackle Simmons and Benny Stout, middle guard Clements, linebacker Matlock and Shipp, halfbacks Bobby Stephens and Jerry Daniels, and safety man Rawls.

Brave Hurler Tells How He Did It

(EDITORS NOTE: Veteran Warren Spahn pitched the Braves to a 10-inning 4-3 victory over the Yankees in the World Series opener Wednesday. He tells his impressions of the game in the following dispatch.)

By Warren Spahn
Written for UPI

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — That's one down, and I'm counting on my routine, Lew Burdette, to make it two today.

The Yankees were just as tough for me this time as they were last year, although I felt a little better about the whole thing because I knew more about them.

By the same token, though, they knew more about me, so maybe that made it a standoff.

I don't know if they were looking for a lot of breaking stuff from me — it makes sense that they should — but I threw mostly fast balls.

TASCOSA'S TOP REBELS—Pampa High must muzzle the talents of these four foes, aces of Tascosa High's football squad, in the two clubs' District 3 4-A opener here Friday night. The rugged Rebels are: No. 44, fullback Don Broom, 175-pounder who was a sophomore starter at linebacker with last year's conference championship Amarillo Sandie eleven. Broom, who handles the punting for Tascosa is the lone regular the Rebels picked up off the 1957 Amarillo outfit when new Tascosa High opened this fall. No. 66, guard Durwood Epps, 195-pound younger brother of West Texas State's top-flight guard, and former Sandie lineman, Jerry Epps. No. 65, guard Gene Gifford, 170-pound letterman at Amarillo High last year and Tascosa's first and only grid captain this season. No. 22, quarterback Bill Brooks, 155-pounder who lettered at halfback with Amarillo High last autumn. He was switched to the man-under slot last spring and has been doing an outstanding job for Coach Bill Ellington thus far this year.

Burdette, Turley Picked To Start Today's Game

Billy Bruton Makes Up For Lost Time

By GREG FOSSELMAN
UPI Sports Editor

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — Billy Bruton figured today that he made up for lost time.

The centerfielder of the Milwaukee Braves missed last year's World Series because of a knee injury which threatened to end his baseball career.

In spring training, it didn't look like he would have it. But he came back—and he climaxed that comeback Wednesday when he poked the game-winning hit.

"It was worth waiting for," said Bruton of his line smash that fell between the New York Yankees' center and right fielders, scoring Joe Adcock from second with the decisive marker.

Knee Still Bad
Bruton's left knee is still in bad shape more than a year after the injury suffered in a collision with a teammate. That's the reason he didn't start Wednesday's game, but he came in as a pinch batter in the ninth.

In his first time at bat, he became one of three strikeout victims of Ryne Duren in that frame. The big blow came with two out in the 10th.

"I hit a fastball about waist high," the 28-year-old outfielder said. "Duren was real fast, about the same as (Dick) Farrell of the Phillies. I was keeping loose up there because I didn't want to get in the way if one of his pitches got away."

Fast On Bases
Bruton's performance climaxed a long, rugged comeback that started July 11, 1957. That night in Pittsburgh he suffered the injury that kept him out the rest of the year.

After spending two months with the knee in a cast he had to undergo surgery during the 1957 World Series and additional time with a cast. Then came a slow reconditioning period that saw him ready for limited duty this year.

"The knee still gives me trouble," Bruton said, "and I have to give it a rest when it acts up. I still can't pivot or get off to a fast start."

Despite his handicap Bruton still manages bursts of speed reminiscent of his former fleetness. He was regarded one of the fastest men in baseball before his injury. This year he stole 11 bases in 79 games.

Heavy rain in the Texas city caused postponement of the game Wednesday night. The Braves and Giants have two wins each in the best-of-seven series.

The series is held annually between winners of the final playoffs in the two leagues.

Braves Win First Contest, Favored To Take Series

By LEO H. PETERSEN
UPI Sports Editor

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — Two strong-armed right-handers, Lew Burdette, the hero of last year's Milwaukee victory, and Bob Turley, who fires bullets from his no-windup delivery, square off today with the underdog Yankees trying to even the World Series at one game each.

The weatherman promised the temperature would rise into the 60's but cautioned against possible showers during the afternoon. In the event of rain, Charles Segar, secretary-treasurer of baseball who is acting for ailing Commissioner Ford Frick, has sole authority to order a postponement.

The odds-makers, backing Burdette, who beat the Yankees three times in 1957, made the Braves 11-10 favorites to win today's game and 6-5 to take the Series. Before Warren Spahn whipped the American Leaguers, 4-3, in 10 innings Wednesday, the Yankees had been favored for the Series, 13-10.

Laugh At Odds
Manager Fred Haney of the Braves had laughed at those pre-

Series odds. Today, Casey Stengel, the skipper of the Yankees, was laughing at them.

"I'm going with the guy who won the pennant for me," explained Stengel. "He'll get us even. I don't worry about odds."

Burdette has a string of 24 1-3 scoreless innings going for him in Series competition — 5 1-3 short of the record 29 2-3 scoreless innings which the late Babe Ruth set as a southpaw pitcher for the Boston Red Sox before he was sold to the Yankees and transformed into an outfielder and the greatest home run hitter of all time. Also ahead of Burdette is Christy Mathewson's string of 28

1-3 shutout innings in 1905 and 1911.

Battle of Pitchers
Off to a slow start in the spring, Burdette wound up winning 20 games for the Braves while losing 10.

Turley, who discarded a windup because "it gives me better control," won 21 games for the Yankees while losing but 7.

So the second game of the Series promised to be a duel of right-handers, just as Wednesday's first game was a battle of southpaws.

Burdette beat the Yankees, 4-2, in the second game last year, then hurled two shutouts at them — 1-0 over Whitey Ford in the fifth game and 5-0 over Don Larsen in the seventh and deciding game. Turley won the sixth game for the Yankees to even the Series—his only victory in Series competition.

Their pitching styles are in sharp contrast. Burdette, whom many National League clubs accuse of throwing a "spitter," uses sliders and sinkers to baffie the hitters. Turley relies, for the most part, on a fast ball.

After today's game the clubs will go to New York, where the third game is scheduled for Saturday. Friday is an off day for travel.

Rick Pezdirtz
purely paydirt

It was just at dusk on Wednesday afternoon when a quavering wretch in a belted-back burlap suit and battered homrims reached for a quill and foolscap and his notes of the eight member-teams who make up what you and the fool know as Texas schoolboy football district, 3 4-A.

The deadline was nigh upon him. The opening of another conference season coiled in the corner like an angry bushman and the accursed soul had not yet made his forecast. Over the desk hung the sacred oath of office, avowed by all who have access to typewriter, printing press and ulcer.

"Thou Shall Predict," sayeth the sign.

Outside, a breathless populace, consisting of the milkman and a wizened urchin selling spudnuts, banged at the portals. The wretch paused for a moment, thinking over glorious deeds of yore. What of the day he chose Joe Louis to beat Johnny Paycheck? Masterful. And that stupendous stroke: picking Lou Thesz to retain his heavyweight wrestling or acting title against Mudturtle Mike O'Toole?

And how about picking the Allies over Japan? That stunned 'em all righty.

Bolstered by those vivid memories, the wretch squared his tiny shoulders, grabbed his piggy-back quill and wrote: Amarillo Sandies. And so doing, he sighed, adjourned to the next room where he quietly hung himself with a strand of thin piano wire.

The Limb: 1958 Model

1. AMARILLO — Homer Simmons' Sandies to repeat. The third time is too a charm, for the Amarillo High eleven. The schedule smiles favorably on the Golden Sandstrom. After an Oct. 10 trip to Plainview, a club that hasn't been overly impressive against a trio of so-so 3A squads, Amarillo huffs up steam for the stretch run with four straight home games, Pampa, Monterey, Tascosa of course, and Borger. Then two tough ones, at Lubbock and home again with cross-city rival, Palo Duro, the latter given the best chance to trouble the doc sheet.

2. PALO DURO — The only current undefeated conference club could get their come-uppance this week at Borger.

3. BORGER — Pick a soft spot to faint. Twice we have predicted Bulldog losses in the past two weeks, and twice the Gene Mayfields have sent us scurrying for cover, winning 56-6 and 58-6. How wrong can one fool be in two short weeks?

4. MONTEREY — This is the only winless outfit in the district

you must realize. It is to be used to wrap yesterday's mackeral and to stuff in bands of oversize hats and to line shelves. If anything weird happens, like the Sandies shaking bi-district hands with current No. 1 4-A Wichita Falls, we'll let you know. With trumpets and drums and glockenspiels and a deafening amount of good ole musical chest-thumping.

Lufors Halfback Leads Tech Attack

LUBBOCK — Halfbacks Floyd Dellinger of LaVega and Ronnie Rice of Lufors lead the attack Texas Tech will send against University of Texas in Austin Saturday night.

After two games Dellinger leads the Raiders in rushing with 85 yards and total offense with 109. Rice, best yardage maker in the Raiders' 32-7 win over West Texas, now has 61 ground yards and 39 through the air for an even 100 total.

Both sport 100 per cent accuracy marks in passing, Dellinger connecting on all four efforts this year, two for touchdowns, and Rice on his only three tries.

Dellinger also is the top receiver, snagging three for 49 yards. End Gerald Seemann of Fort Worth has two catches, both good for touchdowns from Dellinger.

RAIN CANCELS TRYOUTS
WESTPORT, Conn. (UPI) — A steady rain Wednesday forced cancellation of the U. S. equestrian team preliminary tryouts for the 1959 Pan-American Games. The trials will resume today at the Fairfield County Hunt Club.

BOUND FOR COAST
CHAPEL HILLS, N.C. (UPI) — The University of North Carolina football team left here by plane Wednesday night for Los Angeles and Friday night's game with Southern California.

Scribe Picks SWC Teams To Lose

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press International

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — Fraley's pick for the weekend football "winners" — along with a few reflections on the World Series:

Game Of The Week
Michigan State over Michigan — This is one of those backyard brawls which can go two days from the jack but the odds bookmakers are quoting look a bit too much from here.

The East
Army over Penn State — Like Rynge Duren's fast ball.
Princeton over Columbia — Gene Conley's flannels remind me of the sack dress.

The Midwest
Ohio State over Washington — Spain says publicly he didn't call Stengel a "clown."
Pitt over Minnesota — It was an "off the record" talk.
Indiana over West Virginia — He didn't want to hurt Emmett Kelly's feelings.

The West
California over Washington State — The blueplate special.
Oregon State over UCLA — The Yanks are baseball's biggest tipper.

The South
Illinois over Duke — The Yanks still think Burdette uses a saliva speedball.

Shockers, JH's In Action Today

If it's football you're looking for, you'll find plenty of it in Pampa today.

Three teams — two junior highs and the high school B team — will be in action at two local gridirons.

Robert E. Lee Junior High seeks its third straight win against Dumas at 3:45 p.m. in Harvester Park; Pampa Junior High eighth graders open their season on the high school practice field at 4 p.m. against Berger, and the Shockers meet Berger B at 7:30 p.m. in Harvester Park, in today's feature game.

In addition to all this activity, two local junior high grid crews will go on the road. Pampa Junior High will be looking for its first win in three tries, at Berger, and Robert E. Lee's eighth graders will be gunning for their second straight victory at Dumas.

COURTNEY WHITE
WT Fresh Star

White Stars For WT Fresh

(Special To The News)
CANYON — Courtney White, former football player, is among the outstanding performers on the best freshman football team in West Texas history.

White and teammates will open the freshmen's 1958 schedule Thursday, Oct. 9, against Abilene Christian's B team at Buffalo Stadium. Kickoff time is 8 o'clock.

The West Texas Fresh also have games scheduled later with Texas Tech and Hardin-Simmons.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. S. White of White Deer, Courtney was on the first team in All-District and All-Regional. He was chosen outstanding player in regional meet and received honorable mention in All-State. He also played in the Panhandle Grid Classic.

Meredith, Walker Mentioned Now In Almost Same Breath

By ED FITE
DALLAS (UPI) — A year ago Don Meredith was a brash, smart-aleck sophomore with nothing more than his high school press clippings to bolster his effervescent ego.

Today, he's a poised and polished pigskin performer on the football field and a picture of composed equilibrium off the field — a lad being mentioned in the almost sacreligious breath with Southern Methodist's "all-American boy," Doak Walker.

Walker was the boy who could do no wrong and an idol of parents and students alike as he was named to the all-America football team three years in a row back in the late 1940s.

Meredith, like Walker, has a deep religious imprint on go along with that indefinable inner something that makes a rare few boys great all-around athletes.

Meredith doesn't have a chance to match Walker's all-America trophies, but he's off to a running start on perhaps earning the honor twice.

In fact, SMU coach Bill Meek is so impressed with his young quarterback that he flatly predicts Meredith is "bound to be all-America—if he doesn't get hurt or fall in love."

On the strength of a 1957 season that saw him set a new national collegiate completion percentage high of .696 by hitting 71 of 102 passes for 912 yards, Meredith was definitely a marked man in last Saturday's game against Ohio State, then ranked No. 1 nationally.

The statistics indicate it was a good thing for Ohio State that they had advance warning about dazzling Don. For, even with the defenses geared to stop him, Meredith hit 19 of 28 passes for 213 yards, scored once rushing and passed for another as Ohio State out-converted the Methodists 23-20.

Meredith didn't even play the first three games last season for one reason or another, but the inactivity and the later responsibility of leadership that fell his lot as he took command of the team had a sobering effect on his cockiness.

The six foot, three inch, 190-pounder still believes in himself—Coach Meek put it.

Milwaukee Bucks Jinx

NEW YORK (UPI) — Series facts and stats:

If you believe in jinxes, the Braves don't have a chance to win this series. No team that won the first game has taken the series since 1954—when the Giants won in four straight... champion Dodgers lost first two in 1955, champion Yankees did same in 1956 and champion Braves lost opener in '57.

Best way to beat the Yankees in a World Series game is to get them into extra innings... They have lost four straight and haven't won an extra-inning affair since 1950 when Allie Reynolds beat Robin Roberts, 2-1, on a 10th inning homer by Joe DiMaggio... Overall, Yankee extra-inning record dating back to 1921, is 2-5.

Wednesday's victory was the best-pitched Series game Warren Spahn ever won. His previous wins were by 11-5 in 1948 and 7-5 last season... Vet lefty is over .500 in Series competition for first time, though, with 3-2 won-lost for 37 1-3 innings.

And now Burdette: He goes in today with 24 1-3 consecutive scoreless Series innings, 5-1-3 short of record set by Babe Ruth with Red Sox in 1916 and 1918. Ruth pitched 13 1-3 against Dodgers and 16 2-3 against Cubs... There's also a little matter of 27 consecutive shutout innings by Christy Mathewson, who pitched three shutouts against the Athletics in 1905... Other games in that five-game series were also shutouts, by New York's Joe McGinnity and Philadelphia's Chief Bender.

United Press International
 Seasonally adjusted installment credit outstanding rose 30 million dollars during August but was far behind the 248 million dollar spurt in August, 1957. Federal Reserve figures showed. Auto paper continued on the decline as motorists kept on paying back old loans faster than they took on new obligations. But the drop was more than offset by increases in all other types of installment debt.

The Agriculture Department reported farm prices reversed a three-month decline in the month ended Sept. 15. Prices received by farmers climbed to 258 per cent of the 1909-14 average from 251 per cent on Aug. 15, according to the department. The department said the upturn strengthens prospects that farmers' 1958 income may run two billion dollars ahead of last year's $10,800,000,000.

Stock transactions on the New York Stock Exchange during September totaled 71,971,820 shares or the highest monthly volume since the 74,645,958 in January, 1955, and the best September turnover since 1929. Bond volume was the largest for any month since December, 1956.

 Steel prices for extras may go up early next year, according to Steel magazine. Steel companies raised extras during January, 1956 and 1957. They already have said this year's base increases in August were not enough to offset higher costs.

The United Auto Workers Union sought to end wildcat strikes that have killed 45,000 General Motors workers. UAW President Walter P. Reuther also put off until Thursday morning the deadline for a formal strike previously set against GM for Tuesday.

Led by housing and public works, August construction contracts in the U.S. totaled $3,466,576,000 or an increase of 26 per cent from August, 1957. F. W. Dodge Corp. reported. The firm noted the past four months have been the highest ever reported for construction contracts, accounting "in very positive terms" the resumption of the nation's postwar growth trend.

POWER PLANT — A tomato that apparently didn't know its own strength is admired by young Charles Accera in the garden of his Hicksville, N.Y., home. The tough tomato grew right through the loop atop the metal stake which was used to support the plant.

Quotes In The News

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower, in marking the beginning today of National News paper Week:
 "A strong society of free men must be kept fully informed. Liberty can flourish only in the climate of truth."

AURORA, Ill. — Mayor Paul Egan, on his unsuccessful attempts to climax a feud with his police department and city council by calling President Eisenhower and asking for federal troops:
 "I was shuffled from secretary to secretary in my telephone attempts to reach the President."

MILWAUKEE — Yankee pitcher Whitey Ford, on the eve of the opening game of the World Series:
 "I wish that wind was blowing toward the plate—because right now this is a hitters' ball park."

MILWAUKEE — Warren Spahn, Braves' opening pitcher, on the same topic:
 "We're all a little numb until this thing gets going."

WAVE OF THE FUTURE — Not to be outdone by the fair sex, London businessman Anthony Moss has his hair waved at a local beauty salon for men. Hair net keeps his tresses in place while beautician Mr. Charles wields an electric dryer that looks like a Martian's space gun. The salon provides men with permanent waves, mud packs and other beauty aids.

Nixon's GOP Speeches Should Make Clear Party's Stature

By LYLE C. WILSON
 United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Along about the end of this week interested voters should know whether the Republican Party has any socko issues in this congressional campaign or will be shooting blanks.

The evidence should be obvious one way or another in the series week by Vice President Richard M. Nixon in Indiana, California and Oregon. He took off Monday for Indiana and is now in California. The vice president will complete this swing Friday in Portland, Ore.

This is largely a fund-raising journey although Nixon will have strategy huddles with party leaders as opportunity offers. Nixon is unusual among the top men around President Eisenhower in that he understands and likes politics. If there is a Republican campaigner anywhere competent to define and to arouse popular interest in campaign issues which might help the Republicans in this year of their great need, Nixon could be that man.

He is a good enough politician to know that successful fund raising most likely can be achieved in the presence of two conditions, preferably of both. One condition is that of enthusiasm, the wild, rampaging kind of enthusiasm in which party members identify themselves with their party leaders and with the aims of the party leadership. When no such enthusiasm is present, the successful political fund raiser must try to bring it about.

The second condition is that of the anticipation of victory in which the generosity of the contributor, large or small, is warmed by the human instinct to get his money down on a winner. This second condition is not likely to be working for Nixon on this fund raising venture. As a political realist, the vice president will recognize that unpleasant fact and, so, turn his best efforts toward bringing about condition No. 1.

That is why Nixon's speeches on this swing must have special significance as a preview of the best Republicans are likely to come up with this year toward arousing enthusiasm for the party's candidates. There will be much interest in what Nixon says in California on the labor issue, not merely on the right-to-work issue, which has split California Republicans, but on the issue, also, of Big Labor and the influence of its very large wealth on American politics.

Evidence of Anxiety
 There is some evidence of grass roots republican anxiety that there is not longer an adequate balance in the nation against Big Labor's political power. If this anxiety extends to the high command of the Eisenhower administration it is not reflected much, if any, in what the party leadership does or says.
