Is Building Use Compatible?

Loraine Building Source Of Friction

By PEGGY WILLIAMS
A touch of controversy has apparently sparked in Loraine regarding the use of the Loraine Agricultural Building.

Built in 1963 with county funds, the building was constructed, according to Mitchell County Judge Bill Carter, for "community activities in Loraine."

Stock shows hosted by Loraine throughout the year are held in the ag barn, and until July, the building was not used extensively.

However, in July a nutritional program for senior citizens was born in Loraine and the ag barn became the location of the meals and other senior citizen activities.

Now that the senior citizen nutritional program is being housed in the ag barn, the building is being used regularly.

"It's serving every segment of the community," noted Willie Taylor, chairman of the Loraine Senior Citizens Incorporated, adding that since the building was constructed with the taxpayer's money, it was appropriate that it be used by all.

As the nutritional program began to grow--from 62 meals a week to 450 meals per week--renovations to the building became necessary.

Funds were granted by the Mitchell County Commissioners to renovate part of the building.

At Monday's meeting of the Mitchell County Commissioners, a delegation of 18 Loraine citizens were on hand to discuss the use of the building.

"We're seeking to create better harmony in the community," said James Clifton, spokesman for the group. "We're looking for this court to make some adjustment."

Since the nutritional program's birth, the ag barn has been heated and insulated.

Clifton explained that since the ag building has been renovated to accommodate a kitchen, there is inadequate space for a livestock show. Also, the aroma from the livestock shows is retained in the insulation, lingering for as long as six months, he said.

According to a spokesman for the Loraine senior citizens group, a thorough cleaning job following the stock shows alleviates much of the aroma and is not the cause of much controversy. "We understand the senior citizens using the building would not interest-

Rates To Increase At Civic Center

The City Council of Colorado City at their regular meeting Tuesday night, approved the first rate increase for the use of the civic center in three years.

The increase will go into effect on Jan. 1, 1979.

City Manager James Campbell stated before the motion was passed that the question is not to make money with the civic center, it is simply to break even. He went on to say that even with the increase in rates the center will still lose money because the income off the use of the building will barely cover the cost of the electric bill.

Some of the new rates for use of the center as compared with the old rates are as follows: cost of meal per person--new rate, $3.25, old rate, $2.75; cost of use of building for club meeting during day--new rate, $10, old rate, $7.50; club meeting in evening--new rate, $12.50, old rate, $10; family reunions per day--new rate, $50, old rate, $40; day rate for banquets--new rate, $50, old rate, $30; evening rate for banquets--new rate, $75, old rate, $50.

Rayford Gardner, president of the Mitchell County Cart Association appeared before the board to request the use of city property for building a go-cart track. Gardner stated that there are at least 15 young people in Colorado City who own go-carts and have no place to drive them except on the streets, alleyways or to trespass on private property.

He stated that a good place for the track might be just south of the girls softball park on the east side of Colorado City. The council agreed it was a good idea but suggested that a better area might be just north of the little league baseball park in the same area since it would be somewhat farther away from the parks during the summer when games are being played. Gardner stated that a fence would be put around the track and it would have lights, thus confining its use to the daylight hours.

The question was raised as to whether motorists could use the track. Gardner said that he thought it would be suitable for small motorcycles.

The council agreed to try to get some citizen input on the project and look into it further.

Finally, the board accepted the resignation of Campbell as city manager and Mayor Marion Bassham stated that there had been a committee of three people--himself, Rick Perkin and J. O. Dockrey appointed as a screening committee to interview city manager applicants before they were brought before the full council.

The council also passed a motion approving the purchase of $2,660.90 worth of equipment for improving the airport. This equipment included: 48 runway lights, 12 threshold lights, two automatic photo cells, 10,000 ft. of electric cable and 2,000 ft. of power cable.

SOON TO BE MADE available to the public is a history of Mitchell County contained in a book entitled Lore and Legend, A Compilation of Documents Depicting the History of Colorado City and Mitchell County. The book will cost $10 plus 50¢ tax and it will be available by mail for $10 plus 50¢ tax, plus $3 postage and handling. A limited number of the hard bound books are being printed and will be sold on a first come, first serve basis at the Colorado City Record office. The book was published in memory of Mary C. and J. Lee Jones.

Group Reviews Road Routes

Some 18 area residents were present at a public meeting Tuesday night to voice opinions about the proposed construction of Farm to Market Road 2836 from Lake Colorado City to Lake Champion.

Five representatives from Abilene and three representatives from Big Spring attended the meeting to explain proposed plans.

Reily Walker, an engineer from Abilene, informed the group that if "everything is cleared up tonight (Tuesday), we will not have to hold a public hearing."

Routes for the proposed road were explained by an engineer, who noted that the southern route was the preferred route over the northern route.

Although no cost of the project has been established, estimations are about $700,000.

Construction of the farm to market road will be funded by the state, but Mitchell County must purchase the right-of-way and the utilities.

Commissioners Approve Revenue Sharing Budget

Mitchell County Commissioner's met in a marathon session to discuss the November agenda Monday, a session which had to be carried over to Tuesday.

Several items were slated on the agenda, along with several visitors present.

The final stamp of approval was placed on the 1978-79 revenue sharing budget.

On behalf of the Colorado City Jaycees, Woody Anderson proposed to the commissioners that $3,500 be allocated to the Jaycees to build restroom facilities for the southside softball fields.

Originally, the commissioners allocated $2,000 to the parks and recreation category of the revenue sharing budget. Those funds will be used by the Jaycees for the construction of the facilities, but the additional $1,500 which was requested was denied. Estimated cost of the project is $5,183.44.

Although the request for additional funds was not granted, Anderson said, "I can assure you that the facility will be built." He explained that the Jaycees would attempt to raise the money.

Concerning use of the Loraine Agricultural Building, a group of 18 Loraine citizens met with the commissioners to discuss problems involving the building. (See accompanying story.)

Bids were accepted for the purchase of two new cars for the Mitchell County Sheriff's Department. Frank Motor Company, Hutchins Ford and Jay Adams Chevrolet submitted bids to the commissioners.

A bid from Jay Adams Chevrolet for two cars with one trade-in was accepted at the figure of $10,626.78. The cars will be delivered within six weeks.

Bids were also accepted for the sale of six county dump trucks.

W. C. King, Charles Ray Dirt Construction of Big Spring, Hudson & Sparks Construction Company of Colorado City, Partner Drilling of Colorado City, Averitt Auto Sales of Coahoma, Robert Durst of Snyder, Floyd Brock of Big Spring, C. L. Brock of Big Spring, Nathan Brock of Big Spring, James Stewart of Loraine, Leonard Durst of Snyder and Hutchins Ford of Colorado City submitted bids.

High bidder--Hutchins Ford--was awarded the sale at $14,100 for all six trucks. Hutchins outbid the next highest offer by $72.

Donny Phillips, representing the Loraine Volunteer Fire Department, appeared before the commissioners to request $1,500 for an emergency rescue vehicle.

Phillips noted that the firemen had purchased $5,500 worth of emergency rescue equipment. The equipment was paid for by the firemen, who donate $1 from each fire fought to the purchase of new equipment.

"The men are very good about giving the money back to purchase this equipment," said Phillips.

A van has been purchased by the firemen to carry the equipment. Previously, a station wagon has been used, but it is no longer adequate, said Phillips.

The commissioners approved $1,500 to be used by the Loraine Fire Department.

Two highway patrolmen--James Burson and Frank Costabile--confronted the commissioners to request that two new radar units be purchased for the county.

Burson explained that presently, the highway patrolmen have three radar units, but one is broken and one is wearing out.

At a cost of $4,800, the commissioners approved the purchase of two new radar units and voted to trade in two of the currently used units.

Rev. Roy Byrd, chairman of the Mitchell County Library Board, met with the commissioners to request that two new radar units be purchased for the county.

TWELVE COLORADO CITY YOUTHS from six grades were honored at a reception given for them at the Charles C. Thompson Room Saturday night. The event was the highlight of youth appreciation week, sponsored by the Optimists International.

Board Approves Campus Projects

In a lengthy session Monday night, the Colorado Independent School District Board of Trustees approved several major campus construction projects.

In addition, they also heard an audit report for the 1977-78 school year from School Auditor Joe Morren, gave Superintendent Charlie Useton approval to apply for funds for a Title VII nutrition Program for the Wallace Community Center and discussed a number of other items.

The construction projects for the school district involved a new track around Wolf Stadium, the paving of the parking lot at Colorado High School and the construction of four new tennis courts with the financial assistance of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission.

The track at Wolf Stadium is a matter which has been under consideration for some time. At the board's October meeting it was stated that a Uniroyal track suitable for the purpose could be constructed for around $25,000, however Useton informed the board Monday night that the cost had been revised downward and that he now believed it would be possible to construct the track for around $11,000.

Useton stated that this reduction in cost was possible mainly because the track would be only 22' 6" in width instead of about 28' as was thought earlier. He stated that there wasn't enough room in Wolf Stadium to build a track 28' wide. He also emphasized the need to get the project started as quickly as possible since several days of good weather would be necessary for the track to harden properly.

While the board was approving a motion for the letting of bids for the track they also approved a motion for the paving of the parking lot at Colorado High School. In this project, an area would be paved allowing 14 more cars to be parked on the south side of the parking lot and an area on the north side would be paved allowing 76 more cars. Also, a street would be paved beginning at the north end of the lot around the high school.

Useton estimated the cost of this project to be around $44,000.

The other project involved the construction of the tennis courts. Useton informed the board that the courts would cost from $12,000 to $15,000 per See PROJECTS, Page 9

COLORADO MIDDLE SCHOOL CHATTER

November has been an active month for the CMS student. The students will be taking quarter exams this week and next, making some schedule changes and starting basketball.

Thursday, the ninth, CMS was really bright and cheery. The reason for this was Sock Day. Sock Day is where you roll up your pants and show off your crazy socks. There were socks of all kinds and CMS was like a sock store full of live models.

Some students had on as many as five different kinds of socks rolled up and down so you could see all the colors. We played Coahoma last Thursday so we called the day "Sock it to the Bulldogs." Sock Day was sponsored by the Student Council.

Next Monday the different classes of all three grades will display some of the work of this past trimester. Mr. Welch and Science II worked this project up for the CMS students.

November 20th will be for the students to tour and the 21st will be open for all guests to come up and enjoy looking through the displays. The Art classes are going to put some of their pottery and macrame projects on display.

They will also show some of their drawings and printing. The history classes will have the projects that they made for a test grade. One of them is a Jamestown Fort and the others are about the colonies.

Science II will have a stream table that several students have made. They will also have rockets they made in class. Organizations like Jamborees and FCA will also display some things. CMS invites you to come up on Tuesday and visit the different displays.

Good day people of C-City. Last week's weather forecast started with a tornado striking in the Middle School Choir room. The disastrous even happened around 9:40 last Tuesday when the UIL girls choir gave a surprise party for Mrs. Holder.

Mrs. Holder was called out of the room for a moment and the choir began to make the equipment that was needed; such as cookies, punch, cupcakes and candy. After everything was set up we heard a small noise. Slowly the door opened and in walked Mrs. Holder and the Big Texas Wipe Out started.

For some strange reason the tornado struck only on the table it was all wiped out in only minutes. After the storm we cleaned up the area. A special thanks goes to Mr. Lowrance for directing the storm. Your weather reporter.

Patricia Holguin

Last week Colorado Middle School Student Council sold chances for the students to throw pies at the teachers during the last pep rally.

Carl Clark for the sixth grade threw a pie at Mr. Hargrove. He missed and got it all over the stage.

Raymond Bassinger from the seventh grade threw at Coach Robinson and he really did a good job.

Anthony Anderson for the eighth grade hit Mrs. Denison and she looked cute in her hospital gown and cap.

David Britton was the lucky one to present Mr. Lowrance with his pie. Everyone had a good time and the people receiving the pies were good sports.

Robyn Turner

The beginning choir has started practicing some new Christmas music. In Bethlehem One Christmas Night and The March of the Three Kings are two of our new numbers.

The choir is planning to perform the play Small One for our Christmas program which is to be presented the last week of school before the December holidays. We are all working hard to make our Christmas program an enjoyable time for all.

Roas Gonzales

The Middle School Jamborees went to the Coahoma football game in Coahoma last Thursday. The football game was full of cheering and spirit.

Each girl had to make a poster in order to get a ticket to board the bus. Some of the girls took sack lunches and others ate at the ballgame.

Everyone had a good time and we would like to thank Mrs. Mathis for going with us.

Teresa Gorham

Mrs. Louise Johnston is the new librarian here in Middle School. Mrs. Johnston is from El Paso and graduated from the University of Texas in El Paso.

She has four children, two boys and two girls and five grandchildren. In her spare time Mrs. Johnston likes to read, walk, fish, sew and refinish antiques.

Mrs. Johnston is enjoying Colorado City and is looking forward to making lots of new friends.

Barbara Heredia

Mr. Hargrove's sixth grade History classes have been working in the library this past week.

Each student selected a country and drew a map and the flag of that country. Some of the countries were Japan, New Zealand, East Germany, Sweden, Spain, Mexico and the Philippine Islands.

Karen Joiner

The Colorado Middle

School band played its last pep rally last Thursday. We had worked up a new number called Get Up and Boogie. The band has been playing at the home football game and all of us have enjoyed these games. The band will be working on some songs for the Christmas program.

Kerry Wright

This past Sunday the FCA girls attended church at the Calvary Baptist Church. The girls were "surprised" to discover that the FCA boys were also visiting this church. The girls enjoyed the service and especially the solo sung by Gary Fuller. The next church to be visited in January will be the Episcopal Church.

Kerry Spivey "Short Person"

The last pep rally was full of cheers and change. The cheerleaders and twirlers traded places for the starting of the pep rally. The cheerleaders did a routine to Night Train and the twirlers did the yell Watch Out.

Thursday was the pie throwing contest and sock day. Before the pep rally the band went around the school and the students formed a victory line and walked to the pep rally together.

The seventh grade won the spirit stick for the first time. Spirit was high all day with all the grades doing yells between the classes and everyone backing the Wolves.

Coach Gierhart was the guest speaker, and the cheerleaders ended the yelling with a Goody yell. All students sang the school song and we headed to the ballgame.

Loretta Morris

The CMS girl athletics

are practicing basketball. They started with the basic things; chest pass, baseball pass, dribbling and shooting.

The girls have learned to do the star drill. The girls go to the gym in the mornings before school and practice shooting.

November 27th will be the first basketball game.

Colorado City _____ Winters _____

Coach's Corner

By MIKE FARDA

This week the 1978 District 6-AA Champion Colorado City Wolves play host to the Winters Blizzards. This will be the last regular season game and the last home game of the season.

This will be Dads Night, an event in which we honor all the parents of all the varsity football players.

Winters is in the process of a rebuilding program in which new coach Les Fisher is doing a tremendous job with the talent at hand.

We have to do a good job Friday night to maintain our momentum going into the play-offs. We have two extra added incentives this game because we could be the first team to go through the entire district schedule unscathed.

At the present time we have the longest consecutive shut-out string in the state of Texas at 27 quarters. Fort Stockton had the longest string, (32), going until last week when Andrews scored on them in the first quarter of play.

The other incentive is we have a chance to end our regular season with a 9-1 record which is the second best in the school's history. Hopefully we will think about some of these things when we tee it up on Friday night.

Our injury situation this week is very poor. We had a tremendously physical football game with Coahoma. We have five or six players pretty well beat up. Jay Feaster has a badly sprained ankle, Gary Hulme has a hyperextension of his knee and Martin Molina has a slightly separated shoulder. In addition, Johnny Garcia has a very severely bruised knee, Sammy Gomez has a stomach injury and most of all our players have many bumps and bruises. Many of our players showed a tremendous amount of courage playing with many hurts Friday night against Coahoma.

We would like to say thank you to all of our many supporters who have been with us all year and especially to the ones who went to Coahoma last Friday. Our crowd may have been the difference in the ball game last week. Our kids caught fire with the enthusiasm and electricity and the Coahoma kids might have reacted a little differently. This was the best football game I have ever been associated with in 11 years of coaching.

We need all the support we can gather for the game Friday night against Winters. This is not a give-me, we still must play.

GATA WOLVES

Blizzards To Blow In For District Wrap-Up

Five of Colorado City's Wolves are doubtful for the final game of the regular season when the team faces Winters' Blizzards Friday night in Wolf Stadium.

Kick-off is set for 7:30 p.m.

The game has several important meanings. One is that it is dad's night with fathers of players wearing a jersey bearing the number worn by their son.

A win would give the Wolves undisputed ownership of the District 6-AA crown rather than just a share of it. The Wolves won the right to represent the district in the play-offs by defeating both Stamford and Coahoma.

Also the Wolves will be seeking to extend their shutout string which now stands at 27 quarters. No one has scored on the Wolves in district competition.

Wolves Coach Mike Farda says this will also be an extra incentive for Winters as they will be trying to become the first in the district to score on the Wolves.

Tourney Set For Sunday

The Mitchell County Tennis Association will sponsor a pot luck doubles tournament from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday at the Middle School Tennis courts.

According to Tournament director Dave Redwine, there will be no entry fee, only membership in the association is required.

Players will be divided up into classes "A" and "B" and a class "A" player will be paired with a Class "B" player.

Redwine said that the purpose of the tournament was to encourage players to take advantage of the remaining days of good weather and that all that was really necessary for a member to take part in the tourney was to show up Sunday afternoon and play.

Winters has won one game and lost eight this year. They are in a rebuilding program, Farda noted.

About the Blizzards, Farda said they are big in size and run the Houston veer on offense and on defense run the same formations as Coahoma and Stamford.

About the Wolves, Farda said there have been good workouts and he is trying to get everyone back into condition after the bruising game with Coahoma.

Five players are injured and doubtful for the Winters game unless absolutely needed. Tackle Martin Molina has a dislocated shoulder; Fullback and Linebacker Gary Hulme has a knee injury; Tight End and Defensive End Jay Feaster has a sprained ankle suffered in warming up Friday night for the game; Tackle Sam Gomez has a chest injury and Linebacker and Running Back Johnny Garcia, has a number of severe bruises.

The win over Coahoma gave Colorado City its first back to back district championships, and is only the fifth time in local history that the local team will go into the play-offs. The other times were 1940, 1949, 1954 and 1977.

A win over Winters would give the Wolves a 9-1 record, the second best ever recorded by a local team, the best being 10-0 in 1954.

Hulme needs slightly less than 90 yards rushing to go over the 1,000 yard mark this year, Farda pointed out.

About the Coahoma game, Farda said it was an excellent effort by everyone concerned and the most exciting "game I've ever been associated with."

The 81-yard drive by the Wolves in the fourth quarter to score the field goal to win the contest was the "finest drive I've ever seen," Farda added.

Earning helmet awards in the Coahoma contest on

fers with the stock shows," Judge Bill Carter told the delegation present at Monday's commissioners meeting.

It was noted that although the nutritional program meals are served on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, when another event is planned in the community—such as stock shows—which requires the use of the building, the meal days are changed.

"We've got to face the total issue," said Clifton, adding that the senior citizen group is "trying to support and work with us."

"We're all 100 per cent behind the senior citizen program," Clifton informed the commissioners. But he noted that agriculture programs are also important, since Loraine is an agricultural community.

"We're at a point where the use of the building is not compatible," Clifton said.

Charles Finley, a member of the Loraine delegation, noted that "there is no way the ag barn can be used for the purpose it was built for—there's no way you can have an ag barn and an eating place."

Clifton said that the group he represented did not want to do away with either program, but "we recommend that another facility be built or the court find a compatible median."

The commissioners expressed that it was infeasible to construct another building, but other avenues were considered.

"I want to challenge the county commissioners to go over and look at the building and tell us where we can put an arena for a livestock show," said Billy Cornutt, a member of the delegation.

Commissioner Paul Hunter noted that he had not expected the nutritional program to grow the way it has. "There is much more space taken up than we ever anticipated."

According to a spokesman for the senior citizen group, there are four reasons as to why the nutritional program should continue in the ag barn.

First, the program is a county nutritional program and should be permitted to use county facilities.

Secondly, the Loraine Senior Citizens Incorporated was allowed to act as a county agent to contract with the state to operate the county nutritional program.

Thirdly, when the nutritional program outgrew the facilities being used, they appealed to the county and received revenue sharing funds for renovations.

Finally, no one has denied the school the use of the building for agriculture activities or any other events.

One problem which has arisen regarding the use of the building is the locks on the doors.

It was suggested that the keys be put in the hand of a disinterested party—someone who is not affiliated with the agricultural group or the senior citizens.

It was also suggested that the responsibility of scheduling events to be held in the building be delegated to one person.

"By all working together, we'll straighten it out," said Carter. "Let's see what can be done by co-operating."

Taylor said, "We stand willing and ready to work together."

Carter assured the delegation on hand at Monday's meeting that "we're going to do anything we can do to remedy the problem."

The commissioners agreed that the formation of such a committee would be beneficial to take steps toward reaching an understanding concerning the use of the building.

Letter To The Editor

To the citizens of Colorado City:

We've all heard the sad song which sings the woes of "These" being the "Trying Times." It's so easy to ignore the lyric, but a valuable lesson is to be learned. We all know that the national economy has been singing off-key for some time; but, we are all aware that the people, not the government, are the only ones who hold the pitch-pipe? This is surely true. When the voice of the economy finally cracks, it will be the small communities and towns of America that will first hear the sour notes.

Right now, Colorado City's local merchants' inventories are high and sales are far too low. You may think, "So is everyone else." True; yet there is one thing we can do to protect our home town: SHOP AT HOME.

Christmas season is upon us. It is traditionally one of the heaviest spending times during the year. If we spend our money in the bigger towns of Abilene, Sweetwater, Snyder, Big Spring, Lubbock, Dallas, and elsewhere; our local merchants just may not be able to cope. If they fail—if we fail them—our home, Colorado City, will fail.

A town is its people. But a town's welfare depends upon the success of its local merchants. If you have to pay slightly higher prices locally, be aware that in addition you are helping to keep YOUR money in YOUR town where YOU will eventually benefit from the profits. These benefits will come in the form of community improvement. There are bargains here, too; local prices are still competitive with the larger towns.

Do YOURSELF a favor and shop at home. If we all get behind our town, we will find the right pitch to a happier song. If we continue to help the bigger towns get bigger, you may soon find yourself having to live in one of them. Think about it.

Earnestly yours,
Carl Beery Moore

Wow! What A Win!

Our Wolves certainly know how to thrill large crowds, don't they?

The win over Coahoma Friday required a maximum effort by every member of the Wolf Pack. They should all be congratulated.

Now, Colorado City has two district champions already in this school year, in football and volleyball. We wish both of them well in bi-district competition.

However, before the football Wolves get to bi-district, they have one more regular season game to play, that one against Winters this week here at Wolf Stadium.

The Wolves must win this game to have undisputed ownership of the District 6AA football championship. Not only that, but the one other thing our team has going for it that we and they are proud of is a string of 27 consecutive scoreless quarters for the opponents.

Let's get this win Wolves and another shut-out. We're proud of you. Let's all go out and back our team this week. They are the district champions - again.

He went on to say that it would be necessary for the school to go through the county to apply for the funds to the Parks and Wildlife Department. The Superintendent also said that it would be possible to get about half or around $30,000 of the cost of the courts funded.

Though discussion of the projects consumed a large part of the meeting, there were other matters presented, including the audit report for the 1977-78 school year by School Auditor Joe Morren.

Morren stated that as of Aug. 31, the school district had a total cash inventory of $499,544.35, total current assets of $585,477.21, total fixed assets of $5,644,969.64 and total assets of $9,731,246.85. The school also had liabilities of $3,511,322.18 as of the end of the fiscal year.

The financial report for the school for the month of October showed that $171,000 in taxes had been received. This was compared with $184,000 for October 1977.

For the first 10 days of November the report stated that $110,000 in taxes had been collected. Added to this was $259,000 collected from Texas Electric Service Company. This was a semi-annual collection.

The board also approved a request by Uselton that the school apply for funds through the West Central Texas Council of Governments for a Title VII Nutrition Project for the Wallace Community Center. This would concern the center's program for providing two meals a week for the elderly which is already in effect.

Uselton said that based on the number of meals being served at the center now, it would be possible to get a funding of $12,000 through the period ending July 31, 1979.

The superintendent said if the funds were received it would require more bookkeeping by the school but that it would keep the people involved in the program from having to depend so much on other sources such as trying to raise the money themselves.

The money would be used to improve the kitchen facilities, to hire a part time cook and to hire an outreach director to help expand the program.

Uselton said that the center is currently serving between 55 and 85 people per meal and that anyone over 55 is eligible.

The board gave the superintendent the approval to proceed with the school's application for the funds.

Concerning a renovation project which has been in the works for the school system, the board accepted a bid of $7,100 from the All-Cover Paint & Construction Company of Midland to sandblast the administration building and to remove all paint, leaving the exposed concrete in as near its original state as possible. The job would also involve applying sili-quest that the application of Louise Moore be accepted to fill the position of deputy clerk at the Mitchell County library.

Rev. Byrd noted that there had been 22 applications for the position, which became open when Geneva Davila was hired as head librarian when Ruth Dozier announced retirement plans.

Rev. Byrd informed the commissioners that Sunday from 3-5 p.m., a reception will be held to honor Mrs. Dozier and Miss Davila.

In other business, the commissioners accepted the resignation of Jim Hestand, veteran's administration service officer in Mitchell County for more than 20 years. His resignation is effective today (Thursday).

After discussing the open position of VA officer, the commissioners voted that Carter would assume the duties. Salary will be $3,840 annually, which includes $50 per month travel expenses and $270 salary per month.

Carter stipulated that in accepting the duties of VA officer, he did not want the 10 per cent salary hike county employees will receive in January to be applied to his newly acquired duties.

"I haven't earned that," said Carter.

County Attorney Pat Barber appeared before the commissioners to request that the court consider permitting him to use the facilities of his courthouse office in the furtherance of his private concerns. This would be as an additional consideration for his services as county attorney.

The commissioners approved the request.

Also approved by the commissioners was a rental agreement contract for use of the Mitchell County Agricultural building. A deposit of $100 is required for groups wishing to use the facility and a $100 deposit is required for groups wishing to use the kitchen facilities. The deposit will be returned if the area is properly cleaned up and no damage is done.

Commissioners also discussed the possibility of abolishing Precinct 5 for economical reasons.

Carter noted that he would request permission for the secretary of state to combine the Precinct 5 with another precinct.

Also during the six hour meeting, held Monday afternoon and reconvening Tuesday morning, commissioners canvassed the results of the Nov. 7 general election.

Food Service Meets

The Mitchell County Food Service Association met Monday afternoon at 2:30 p.m. in Loraine in the homemaking department.

Mrs. Curtis Latimer began the program with a film entitled, All About Garnishes—How to Make A Meal More Tempting and Appetizing.

Barbara Clifton, president, opened the business meeting and thanked Mrs. Latimer for showing the film.

Minutes were read and approved and there was no new business.

The next meeting will be at Hutchinson School January 9 at 2:30 p.m.

Refreshments of coffee, punch and cookies were served by the hostesses, 22 members and one visitor.

cone sealer to all exposed exterior surfaces and repainting all doors and window frames.

The board approved the bid on the condition that a small area at the back of the building be sandblasted first to see what it would do to its appearance.

In addition to the bid on the administration building, the board also approved a bid of $5,647.45 for the purchase of a new GMC pickup from Frank Motor Company in Colorado City. The vehicle will have a 350 horsepower, V-8 engine and an automatic transmission.

The bid by Frank Motor Company was the lowest of three bids presented by local dealers to the board.

J. S. Craddock Jr., tax assessor-collector, reported to the board that about the middle of October an error had been discovered in the 1978 tax roll. This had caused 27 parties who owned nine leases of land in Scurry County to pay $38,030.60 too much in tax money to the district.

Craddock stated that it had been corrected. This correction had caused a reduction of $2,198,300 in the assessed value of the 1978 tax roll.

Craddock also advised the board of a recommendation he had received from McCreary & Huey, tax attorneys, of the need to begin preparations for filing delinquent tax suits against three local citizens.

Finally, the board heard a review of the school's Phase II Accreditation Project from Colorado High School principal, Jerry Reynolds.

Uselton reported to the board the results of an appeal to the State Tax Assessment Practices Board concerning the valuations assigned the school district.

Uselton also reported to the board on the State Convention on Community Education in Waco which he attended in October and Gene Blassingame reported to the board on the Permian Basin School Board Association Meeting in Kermit which he attended on Nov. 6.

Gunsmith Shop Hit By Burglars

A Colorado City gunsmith shop, The Arclight Emporium, 140 E. 3rd Street, was burglarized over the weekend and 28 firearms of various types were taken.

Police Chief Fred McWhorter stated that the owner of the shop, Buddy Crabtree, called the police about 6 p.m. Sunday after discovering the break-in.

McWhorter said that the burglary occurred sometime after 2 a.m. Sunday because an entry had been made on the police log stating that the building had been checked at that time.

The burglar entered the building by breaking the window on the front door and then reaching through and opening it.

A list of the items missing included nine shotguns, all of which were either 410 or 12 gauge; 13 rifles, the calibers of which were 30-30, 22, 44 magnum and 54 and six pistols, including two 22 caliber, two 38 caliber and two 36 caliber. The value of the missing firearms has been placed at around $3,000.

Assistant Chief Jerry Cowin stated that several of the weapons were black powder type firearms. There was also about $50 worth of damage done to the building.

The incident is still under investigation.

Baptist Women Meet

Loraine Baptist Women met at the church at 2:30 p.m. Monday for a mission program titled "Argentine Baptist Reach Out."

Mrs. T. L. Holman presided over the meeting and Mrs. L. E. Crutcher brought the Prayer calendar and gave the prayer for missionaries.

Mrs. Lynne Compton led in presenting the program and gave the introduction. Others discussing this subject were Mmes. Clara Butler, Bernice Hallmark, Clifton Henderson, Frances Porter, Harvey Leach and Pauline Smiley. Mrs. Henderson closed the program with prayer.

In the discussion it was shown what Argentine Baptists are doing to give out the gospel to their people. Witnesses told of their conversions and call to give their lives for mission work. They work with prisoners, women tell how they have organized circles, one would care for children of others while mothers could attend and next meeting another would take her turn with the children. Many times husbands would attend. The pastors there have radio programs, along with their pastoral work. Though there is much to be done, work there has grown in the last few years.

Mrs. Holman directed the business and announced the Mission book would be reviewed on November 16, at 9:30 at the church with a covered dish luncheon served at noon.

Final plans were made for the Thanksgiving party they will sponsor for the Loraine Nursing Home residents at 2:30 p.m. Friday (tomorrow).

The next meeting will be at 9 a.m. Wednesday at Mrs. Bernice Hallmark's home.

Mrs. Holman led the closing prayer.

"For every way to use electricity in the kitchen, there's a way to use it more efficiently."

"Keeping your heating and cooling costs down are the biggest ways to save electricity, but there are lots of little ways, too.

Part of my job is finding the most economical way to use your kitchen appliances. Here are some ideas I've found useful:

Use flat-bottomed pans. The flatter the pan the better its contact with the cooking unit. A tight-fitting lid on your pan will reduce cooking time.

Use less water. By cooking vegetables with the least amount of water possible, you'll improve their appearance, nutritive value, and save electricity.

Reduce cooking time. Thaw meats before cooking them. This will save cooking time and energy.

Use your oven timer. Opening your oven door unnecessarily causes heat loss and extended cooking time.

Get our free booklet, Tips To Help You Use Electricity More Efficiently Throughout Your Home. Copies are available in our office or you can request one on the comment portion of your electric service bill."

HE Club Has Meeting

The Looney Homemakers Extension Club had their regular meeting recently in the Lone Wolf Medallion Room. Mrs. Lou Ella Byrne hostess served cookies and soft drinks.

The program subject was about "Citizenship." The guest speaker was Mrs. Charles Williams. Members attending were Myrtle Biggs, Lou Ella Byrne, Belle Compton, Etta Lea Gibson, Bea McGuire, Artie Hardin, Angie Harris, Catherine Shurtleff, Maggie Hamrick, Dollie Jarman, Iva Prescott and Linnie Williams.

The next meeting will be December 11. This will be the Christmas party and luncheon in the home of Mrs. Bea McGuire who lives at 2133 Vine.

stant source of mystery for the larvae was what happens to them when, on reaching the stage of chrysalis, they pass through the surface of the pond, never to return.

Each larva, as it feels impelled to rise to the surface and depart, according to the parable, promises to return and tell those that remain behind what really happens, and to confirm or deny a rumor attributed to a frog that when a larva emerges on the other side of their world it becomes a marvelous creature with a long slender body and iridescent wings.

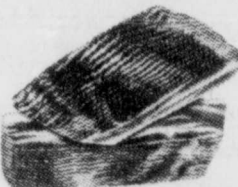

Of course, upon emerging from the surface of the pond as a fully formed dragonfly, it is unable to penetrate the surface no matter how much it tries and how much it hovers over the water, longing to fulfill its promise and return to tell those left behind the answer to the great mystery.

The parable ends with the sad and hopeless cry of the larvae: "Will none of you in pity, to those you left behind, return and disclose the secret?"
