The parade will be made up of ex-service men, the Lamesa High School Band, the Pep Squad and other. The parade will march to the west side of the courthouse, where the main program will be given. Taps will be sounded for all Dawson County men now missing in action.

American Legion and Auxiliary members have planned to have a special dinner for their group, served at the municipal building at the city park on that day, and urges all local members to please be present. Legion members from Midland have been invited to attend as special guests.

At 2:30 in the afternoon Lamesa Golden Tornadoes will play the Midland Bulldogs at McCollum Field. Farmers To Vote Friday For 1943 AAA Committeemen

Committeemen who will lead Dawson County's farmers in next year's AAA and Food for Freedom programs will be elected Friday, November 13. The voting will take place Friday night at 8 o'clock.

According to Charles E. Tarter, secretary of Dawson County ACA community committee elections will be held at the following places: Lamesa—District Court Room Five Mile—School House Shumake—School House Key—School House Harmony—School House Hancock—School House O. K.—School House Welch—School House Bartlett—School House Union School House Higginbotham—Church Klondike—School House

Delegates to the county convention and alternate community committeemen also will be elected at these meetings, the secretary said. After the community elections, delegates to the county convention will meet at the AAA office Saturday morning at which time members of the 1943 county committee will be elected.

"We have a tough battle to fight on our farms next year and we need our best leaders on AAA committees to help out," the secretary explained.

Although county USDA war boards have done an excellent job of charting the county's wartime agricultural course, they need assistance from other county leaders, he explained and added that in all probability some of the increasing responsibility would be shifted to community AAA committeemen.

Snakes have a protective "storm-window" over their eyes, a transparent membrane which saves the organ from scratches and injuries.

Booths will be located on each side of the square, where stamps may be bought. Bonds can be purchased on Saturday at the Lamesa Federal Building & Loan Association.

Dawson County citizens are urged to purchase more bonds and stamps as the county is away behind on the years quota.

There was an increase in the number of students making purchases this week. Class activity is increasing that the three other classes may begin to overhaul the Juniors whose airplane is a way along over the Pacific with the others rather far behind.

Glenn White, president of the Sophomore Class, called a class meeting that, class might do something to close the gap between their ship and that of the Juniors. Other classes are also taking steps to increase their sales.

Farmers Filling Out Certificates At Courthouse

Farmers may now get their Certificates of War Necessity filled out for trucks and pick-ups by calling at the courthouse where a number of ladies are stationed in the main hall and will be glad to assist every farmer or trucker.

Up to Wednesday this week only 275 certificates had been filled out in this county. With over 700 trucks and pickups registered here, there are still a great number, that will have to get this done before November 15, the deadline.

Charles E. Tarter, of the ACA office states that the slowness in filling the certificates out, is due to the farmers not receiving the blanks from Detroit. He further states that all who have not received them to please call at the main hall desk in the courthouse and get a blank that can be mailed to the Office of Defense Transportation at Lubbock and a Certificate of War Necessity will be sent them. All farmers should take special note of this, as these certificates must be in by November 15.

Business Men Must File List Service Prices

Dixie Kilgore, Chairman of the Dawson County War Price and Rationing Board warned service trade establishments such as laundries, dry cleaners, garages, shoe repair shops and photographers today that the Office of Price Administration has called for a report on the names of all such tradesmen who have not filed their statements of prices on services.

"These reports on the ceiling prices for services were supposed to have been filed with our Board by last September 10," Mr. Kilgore, chairman, pointed out. "The OPA in Washington now is requiring us to report by November 5 the list of those who have filed their ceiling prices reports and to compile a list of all trade service establishments in this county which do not yet have reports on file with our Board."

Each service trade establishment also is required to keep this list of service prices available for inspection by the public during regular business hours Mr. Kilgore pointed out.

Failure to comply with these requirements may be considered a violation of Maximum Price Regulation No. 18, which governs the prices of services, and the OPA has the power to invoke severe penalties against willful violators of this regulation, Mr. Kilgore said.

Frank Locke, 49, of Seminole, formerly a resident of Ackery was accidentally killed Tuesday, by a discharge from a double-barreled shotgun. Locke was shot while riding on a truck with two other men.

After the truck had sustained a flat tire, Locke is said to have reached behind the seat for a jack, and accidentally to have tripped the trigger of the gun. He was shot just above the heart.

Burial services were held in Big Spring.

Locke is survived by his widow and six children, and by his brothers, Willard Locke, Lamesa, and five brothers and sisters not residing here.

Lamesa Tornadoes Play Midland Here Armistice

The Armistice Day football game will be played between the Lamesa High Golden Tornadoes and Midland High School Bulldogs on McCollum Field, Lamesa. The game will begin at 2:30 p. m.

The game on alternate years with Midland was established on Lamesa's entrance into District 3. Their rivalry has become quite spirited. Of the three games played as members of District 3AA, Midland has won two and Lamesa one.

The two teams have made about the same record up to this stage of the season. Midland, however, made a much better showing against Abilene than did the Golden Tornadoes. The Tornadoes were unable to score against Abilene and the Eagles scored five times while the Midland Bulldogs played the Eagles and lost by a margin of only two points, each team making two touchdowns. Abilene kicked where Midland failed for the two extra points which was the difference of score. It is true that Lamesa tied with Big Spring while Midland suffered defeat by the Steers. The showing against San Angelo of the two teams was about the same.

Midland started two years ago with a team of beginners who are now seniors. They compare favorably in weights with the Lamesa team members and may have more speed than our boys possess. They feature a forward passing game and the use of laterals for a wide open attack.

The football fans of this community will have the opportunity of seeing a good game at home on Armistice Day. Coach Cloyd's proteges have come through the season in excellent physical condition. Unless they incur injuries in practice this week they will be in fine physical trim for the Midland team. They are expecting to even the score in District competition in changing the present score of two wins for Midland and one for Lamesa to two each.

Area's Ginnings Total 84,514

Fifteen South Plains counties with Dawson, Lynn and Lubbock leading, respectively, had ginned 84,514 bales of 1942 cotton up to Sunday, Oct. 18, government ginning figures reveal.

This is a little more than six times the number of bales that had been turned out by these same 15 counties to the same date last year, when ginning figures for the group stood at 13,913 bales of 1941 cotton. Dawson county, with 20,387 bales, had nearly four times the cotton it had at the same date last year; Lynn county, with 13,551 bales, had nearly seven times as many bales; and Lubbock county, with 12,160 bales, had more than 20 times as much.

For State As A Whole

Ginning figures for the state as a whole totaled 1,803,434 bales, as compared with 1,211,778 bales. It is estimated that more than one-half of the 1942 Texas cotton crop has been ginned up to Oct. 18. In the group listed as producing cotton were 179 counties. Nueces with 75,417 bales, San Patricio, with 55,371 bales, and Williamson with 49,014 bales, led, respectively, among the 179 counties for which ginning reports were given.

FAME OF GREAT ARTISTS IS RATHER PETTY

LOS ANGELES (AP) — George Petty, the man who draws those lightly clad girls for magazines and advertisers, has a joke on his alma mater, the Chicago Art Institute.

In a $30,000 survey of art in high school, he says, the Rockefeller Foundation asked among other things, "Who is your favorite artist?" The winner was not one of the old masters but George Petty.

As a result, one of the Petty girls had to be hung in the institute in an exhibition giving results of the survey.

when the sow is running on green sudan pasture. In all cases where green feed is not available be sure to add 10 pounds of alfalfa leafmeal.

A mineral mixture also should always be available for hogs. This mineral may be placed in a box attached to a self-feeder. The following is a very good mineral mixture:

2 pounds limestone flour.
2 pounds bone meal.
1 pound salt.

One pound of ground charcoal may be added to the mineral mixture.

History repeats itself. Not only in the political world but in the livestock world also. During the past winter and spring many farmers took heavy losses from hog cholera that broke out in truckloads of hogs trucked into the county and sold.

These losses can be prevented by the vaccination of such hogs with the "double shot" as it is generally referred to of Hog Cholera virus and serum.

Vaccination of hogs is not expensive, and is always cheaper than any death losses.

S. C. Middleton, Route C, Lamesa, Texas, has several mixed-bred cattle on feed at the present time. These cattle were run on sudan during the summer, moved to stalk fields for a few days and then pushed into the feed lot. Home grown feeds, cottonseed meal, a little alfalfa to furnish Vitamin A, and limestone flour will be used to finish out steers.

Nine Dawson County 4-H Club Boys will show their registered Duroc gilts and boar in Lamesa at 10 o'clock, Monday morning, November 16. The 4-H Club Boy that has done the best job of growing out his pig will receive a registered Jersey heifer. Others will win baby chicks. All will receive ribbons.

Gold Medals presented by the Kraft Phenix Corporation have arrived and will be presented to Earl Hatfield and Thomas Craddock, Dawson County 4-H Dairy Club Boys. Earl and Thomas represented Dawson County at the Regional Contest in Dairy Production, and were winners of fourth place. In addition to these medals they also won cash prizes, which will be awarded along with the Gold Medals on Monday, November 16.

D. L. Adcock, Jr., 4-H Club Boy of the Woody Community, will be awarded the County Achievement Award on Monday, November 16. This award is made annually by the State 4-H Club to the outstanding 4-H Club boy in each county.

During D. L.'s 4-H Club work he has sold over $6,000.00 worth of livestock and crops such as cotton and maize. At the present time he is harvesting 34 acres of cotton; has four registered Duroc gilts and is feeding out 20 pigs.

Bill Carpenter, 4-H Pig Club Boy, and owner of a fine registered Duroc sow and Duroc Boar, is the proud owner of ten registered Duroc pigs that were farrowed during the past week. This sow brought eight pigs in her first litter, and Bill sold them for $155.00. This time he has 2 more pigs than in the first litter, and business is looking up out Bill's way.

Feed this year's feed crop to hogs, says B. J. Baskin, County Agent of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service. There is plenty of money to be made feeding hogs when feed is $1.00 per 100 and hogs are selling for 9c. Now that your home grown feeds are less than $1.00 per 100, and hogs are selling at high prices farmers can not only make good money, but can also contribute to the War Effort and the Food for Victory Program.

4-H Boys Boost War Effort

National 4-H Achievement Week, to be observed in this and other states from November 7 to 14, will mark a record of high achievement by members of Texas 4-H boys' clubs.

A survey by J. W. Potts, assistant state boys' club agent for the A. and M. College Extension Service, shows that the boys increased their productive demonstrations in 1942. They were active in many special war programs. Outstanding is their contribution to the collection of scrap.

Through September, the 31,185 club members in 240 counties gathered an estimated 11,490,480 pounds of metal; 663,840 pounds of paper, bur-lap and rags, and 1,728,960 pounds of rubber.

Regardless of this impressive record, collecting scrap was something of a side issue with Texas club boys. As older brothers were drawn into the nation's armed forces and de-fense work they moved into the gaps left in the man power on the farms. A total of 26,640 performed extra labor in production of needed food supplies in addition to conducting their several club demonstrations. With their earnings from extra services, profits from demonstrations and income from other sources Texas 4-H Club boys bought approximately $223,788 worth of War Bonds and Stamps in the first nine months of the year, and sold more than $45,000 worth.

Among other activities and achievements are: 11,040 boys cooperated with local defense agencies; 13,200 cared for or repaired farm machinery; 3,600 took first aid or home nursing courses; 1,400 acted as air raid wardens, spotters, etc., and 7,440 took part in fire prevention activities.

Potts says that while figures on all livestock sales this year are not available, a group of calves from Young and Baylor counties sold in late September brought $17 a hundred weight on the Fort Worth market. This was the highest price paid on that market since 1926.

From Mattresses To Raising Pigs

The government's cotton mattress demonstration program of 1940 is paying dividends in its 1942 Food for Freedom campaign.

When the mattress program was launched in the spring of 1940, community chairmen were asked to serve without pay, and in addition used their cars at their own expense to "get the program going." One of these volunteer leaders was Mrs. Hugh Vaughn of the Sand Grove community in Milam county.

In 1941, provision was made in the program to pay each local chairman a small sum for each mattress made under her supervision. Mrs. Vaughn continued to serve her community, and eventually she received $11.85 for her months of work.

"I put 15 cents with my $11.85 and bought two gilts," Mrs. Vaughn recently told Dorothy Pote, Milam County home demonstration agent.

"They now have 13 pigs and my husband says they are easily worth $100."

Mrs. Vaughn says she'd like another mattress program.

UNUSUAL PLANE CRASH ENDS IN DAMAGE SUIT
LOS ANGELES (AP) The unusual aviation incident of two planes interlocking in midair and landing piggyback has resulted in a $103,875 damage suit. It was filed by Robert P. Cabeen, III, who was in the lower plane as instructor, while both craft were piloted by students. Cabeen states he took over the controls and brought the two planes safely to earth but suffered severe injuries in the landing.

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY TEXAS COCA-COLA BOTTLING COMPANY

Outdoor action calls for a refreshing indoor reaction. It calls for ice-cold Coca-Cola. It's only a little thing, but the big things it does to please people make it the best-liked soft drink on Earth.

War-time limits the supply of Coca-Cola. Those times when you cannot get it, remember: Coke, being first choice, sells out first. Ask for it each time. No matter how short the supply, the quality of Coca-Cola carries on.

If you're running on leather tires... here's a tip

These days, bald tires say "Walk!" You're outdoors more in nipping winds. So it's just good sense to change from Summer underwears to HANES WINTER SETS.

These popular middleweight garments keep you warm outdoors without being uncomfortable indoors. You'll appreciate them if you're conserving fuel with a cooler house this winter.

You also have the gentle, athletic support of the HANESKIN Crotch-Guard. Conveniently placed opening. Flexible waistband.

CHOOSE FROM THESE HANES WINTER SETS

Wear a short-sleeve or sleeveless shirt with ankle-length Drawers (shown above) or with mid-thigh Shorts (Figure A). Ask for HANES WINTER SETS for boys, too.

HANES UNION-SUITS

(See Figure B.) For men who need even warmer underwear. Tailored to exact chest width and trunk length—they won't pinch or pull. Ankle-length legs. Long or short sleeves.

The HANES Label assures you quality garments of moderate price. We are making every effort to supply you, but if you cannot obtain your favorite style of HANES underwear, remember that much of our production is going to our Armed Forces. P. M. Hanes Knitting Company, Winston-Salem, N. C.

Everything isn't as bad as it seems. Your stocking situation, for example. If you have several odd ones cluttering up your drawers, get them out and match them in pairs by giving them a dye-bath. You can add longer life to faded hosiery the same way. It's as simple as laundering them since tinting requires no boiling.

Recent inventions are replacing leather and rubber shoe soles with glass-corded soles, crystal soles and plastic soles. One of the new type solings is made of various corded material, hardened, water-proofed and strengthened for wear.

Another, made from wood yet without the appearance of wood, has all the pliability and resiliency of a leather sole.

BEHIND THE WAR NEWS

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Wide World War Analyst

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 3
Under shelter of the valor of a million or more fighting men it has already sent to far fronts afloat, ashore and in the air, the American electro goes to the polls today to keep faith anew with the pledge that government of the people, by the people and for the people shall not perish from the earth.

Millions of Americans will elect a new Congress. They will pick and choose among candidates for governor and the legislatures in many states and name a host of lesser officeholders in cities, counties, villages and townships.

Regardless of how they say it or whom they elect or defeat, sovereign American voters are set to make just one demand of those they place in office, high or low. It is Victory. Get on with the war "we've elected the cost."

One Modern Parallel
The only modern parallel for an American by-election in war time came during the World War in 1918. That first Tuesday after the first Monday in November saw control of the House of Representatives pass from the ruling Democratic party to the Republicans. That could again happen although there is little to suggest it.

On that 1918 election day, however, the war scene abroad was far different from that forming the background of this national polling. Allied - American victory then was assured. The armistice would end hostilities before the election results were fully canvassed. The Central Powers were crumbling internally. Voters were more of peace than war as they went to the polls.

The election day comes with hopeful indications for the United Nations on many fronts; but nothing yet to warrant belief that victory is just around the corner.

Japan has been dealt a hard but not decisive blow in the Solomons. The attrition score at sea and in the air against her is mounting; but she still holds firm sway over all the China Sea, over Burma and much of China and fravely threatens both Russia and Australia. Her defeat in the Solomons is obviously only to be regarded as a first round victory, heartening but inconclusive.

In Africa, British power with ever widening American help is again on the march. There is only the first bloody round is yet being fought. Axis forces still are seriously close to the British stronghold, Alexandria, and yet to be crushed.

Russia's gallant stand at Stalin-grad and in the Caucasus is bleeding Nazi reserve power as is the Anglo - American air attack from the west. There is at least a hint that both in Africa and in Russia lack of oil is beginning to cramp the Axis war machine; but it is no more than a hint.

There are no clearer portents of early victory anywhere this war time election day to react on the home political front; nor anything to suggest that American voters think so. But there is every indication of public preparedness for a war of any duration and of grim insistence that no effort be spared to push on to victory.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 4
Allied and Axis accounts alike indicate that the crucial phase of the British offensive in Egypt is at hand.

The main tank fleets of the rival commanders are now engaged. General Montgomery, the British commander, and his wily Nazi opponent, Marshal Rommel, both have staked everything on reaching that moment in a position to deliver a knockout blow. Both have carefully husbanded armored strength during the bloody preliminaries, realizing that defeat in the tank battle-royal could spell disaster.

The British problem was to force a way through Axis mine fields and other defenses without heavy tank expenditure. They have done it with guns. Indications are that they have advanced 20 miles or more on the coastal flank, where a substantial enemy force is reported still trapped against the sea in an eight-mile pocket.

The break-through apparently has been paralleled by another British forward lunge farther south some 16 miles in depth through the Axis defense zone. And it is there, midway of the narrows between the coast and the Quattara Depression which hems in the contestants on the south against flanking operations, that Berlin reports General Montgomery has moved to bring the battle to a decision. Nazi accounts say 500 British tanks are in action.

The 40-mile span of the desert corridor between the Mediterranean and the Quattara Depression has conditioned strategy and tactics on both sides. Tank warfare in the desert has gained its most effective results heretofore where there was elbow room for maneuver. It is in that type of desert warfare that Rommel proved himself a master. It is for a renewal of it he has withheld his main tank units and possibly some of his air force.

General Sewell, authorized commentator of the British information service in Washington, agrees that "the outcome of the whole North African campaign will depend on which side is strongest in fighting man power and tanks" in this new phase of the fight. He estimated, however, that even a 25-mile British advance from the El Alamein line would traverse only one quarter of the distance to the open desert where tank maneuvering would be possible on a major scale.

The corridor widens slowly westward of the El Alamein narrows. It reaches a width of 80 miles, double the length of the front on which Rommel's drive at Alexandria was halted, only in the Matruh area, 100 miles west of El Alamein.

A dozen days of British artillery barrage blasting and air bombing by day and infantry forward surges by night have torn gaps in the Axis defense system. And by every indication it is behind the southern gap, somewhere near the center of the corridor and where a new and important Allied advance was reported, that Rommel posted his tank reserves to meet an expected

Farmers Receive Benefits From Food Purchases

Texas farmers who produce roughly one-fourth of the nation's cotton and around 5.5 per cent of the eggs are realizing substantial benefits from huge Government purchases of these and over 200 other farm commodities for Lend-Lease and related needs, Emmett A. McBryde, AMA member of the Texas USDA War Board, said today.

In September alone, the Agricultural Marketing Administration purchased over $16,000,000 worth of cotton on the open market and $10,900,000 worth of eggs. McBryde pointed out. Purchases of all food and fibre during the month amounted to $115,000,000.

During the 18 months since the Lend-Lease program began, AMA has purchased more than $1,750,000,000 worth of farm commodities.

British armored thrust.

Once joined, the duration of that crucial fight can not be great. Men and machines could not long endure the strain of continued head-on battle. Hours, days at most, should reveal results in Egypt that could vastly influence the whole war picture.

OLD TESTAMENTS KINGS FOLLOWED GOLD STANDARD

MARION, Ind. (AP) Kings of Old Testament times never went off the gold standard, reports Dr. J. T. Chappell of Marion College.

Solomon received 32 tons in one year; the Queen of Sheba left 7-1-2 ton to her successor; David left 250 tons of gold as well as 500 tons of silver, 300 tons of bronze, 2,400 tons of iron.

Dr. Chappell also reports that iron is mentioned 95 times in the Bible; tin 5 times; bronze 152 times; lead 9 times; brimstone 15 times; and copper once.

When you hear that bombing planes cost $335,000, tanks $75,000, anti-aircraft guns $50,000—And when you hear, too, that America needs 60,000 planes, 45,000 tanks, and 20,000 anti-aircraft guns at once—

It doesn't take much figuring to see that winning this war calls for every dollar all of us can scrape together. With our freedom at stake—with our farms, families, even our very lives depending upon the outcome, we'd gladly give this money.

But we aren't asked to do that. Our Government asks us only to lend the money—to put our increased earnings into War Bonds—month after month—until this war is won. In doing so, we save for our own security as well. For we get back $4 for every $3 we invest, when the Bonds are held 10 years. And if we need the money, we can get it all back any time after 60 days from issue date.

This is the American way—the volunteer way—to raise the billions needed for Victory. And the money can : : will : : must be raised.

So let's show them that the farmers of America are helping to win this war in two vitally important ways—by producing more Food for Freedom and by saving more in War Bonds.

Tire Dealers May Increase Stocks

Under the new regulations which are part of the Government's rubber conservation program dealers may now increase their stocks of passenger car tires so as to be ready to make consumer sales when the new mileage rationing program becomes effective November 22. Dixie Kilgore, Chairman of the Dawson County War Price and Rationing Board announced today.

Dealers may acquire stocks of new tires made of reclaimed rubber as well as scrapped and used tires for sale to motorists who receive rationing certificates from the local War Price and Rationing Board.

"Rationing of these tires is a part of the Government's plan to keep the nation's passenger cars rolling for essential mileage," Mr. Kilgore said.

Forms on which dealers may apply for their allotments are now available at the local War Price and Rationing Board office, Lamesa.

Many dealers, Mr. Kilgore explained, do not now have adequate stocks of tires of this kind which are defined as Grade III tires in the rationing regulations. Before this change in the regulations, there was no way for them to increase the size of their inventory by purchases from regular suppliers because for every tire they bought they had to turn over the replacement portion of a rationing certificate which had been taken in from a purchaser.

Miss Earlene Davis a student at Hardin-Simmons, Abilene spent the week end here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Davis.

Tips on How to— Improve Your Lighting

Use One Large Bulb

There is one time when $2 + 2$ doesn't equal 4, and that's when you add lamp bulbs. One 150-watt bulb gives more light than three 50-watt bulbs, so where practical, use one or two large bulbs instead of three or five smaller bulbs.

Keep Spare Fuses On Hand

Buy a few extra fuses the next time you are in a drug store, electric shop or other place where fuses are sold. Then you'll be prepared to put in a new fuse should one burn out.

Elk Hunters Fly To Sawtooth Mountain

By FRED E. OSBORNE

Wide World Features

HOOVER'S RANCH, SAWTOOTH MOUNTAIN, IDAHO — Out here in the wild grandeur of Idaho's back country it's open season on a quarter of a million big game animals and at least an equal number of armchair experts who said the war would put an end to all outdoor sport.

It takes time, gasoline, ammunition and time away from highpaid jobs to go a-hunting the way deer and the wily elk, the wise guys said, and the way things looked up to even a few weeks ago the antlered denizens of the Middle Fork country could indeed have looked forward to a quiet autumn.

But prognosticators to the contrary, there are more red-hatted hunters slipping through the trees about this tiny ranch settlement than ever before, and the fish and game department at Boise thinks that by the end of the hunting season this year it will have issued more permits of all kinds than last year's all-time high of 175,000.

Airplane Or Horseback
The seasoned guides who annually shepherd the incoming hordes into rifle-shot of deer, elk, bear and mountain goat hereabouts explain it this way:

The world has gone out, they say, that you can't wear the tread off your tires on Idaho roads into the big game country because there aren't any roads — you fly in in an hour or two or you pack in with horses and a guide in a day or two. You go out the same way, and while you're here you travel on horseback or on foot, whichever you prefer.

So, with thousands of square miles of California closed to hunters by war restrictions, and all of Oregon closed this year because of the forest fire hazard, a lot of folks are forgetting about inflation and next year's income taxes during a quick junket into the fastnesses of the Sawtooth mountains of Idaho, hoping to come out with enough game to let them laugh all winter at threats of meatless days and food rationing.

Next year, the old-timers admit freely, everyone may stay home because of a real shortage of ammunition.

To further confound the sure-thing boys, it should be pointed out that the fancy expeditions carrying cases of Scotch, hand-engraved rifles and elder-down sleeping bags are being made by pack train, while the ordinary fellow who takes a dozen bottles of beer, his uncle's 30-30 and Junior's Boy Scout blanket is going in by plane, because air travel is cheaper in both time and dollars.

Latest estimates of the state game department show there are 166,000 deer, 38,000 elk, 14,000 antelope, 4,500 mountain goat and 12,500 bear in the state. In addition, there are 1,110 more moose and 2,025 mountain sheep which may not be legally hunted.

Cheaper To Fly
Flying in, the cost of bagging two deer and an elk may run as low as $50 a person, including the aerial freight service on animals killed to the nearest town. The cost for a pack trip probably would be a minimum of $85 per person, plus the expense and trouble involved in protecting the meat on the more leisurely way out. Both estimates are exclusive of licenses and ammunition.

Each hunter may bag two deer, an elk, an antelope, a mountain goat and a bear in Idaho each year. Most of the visitors are after deer — one or two apiece — and elk.

Until 1880 there were 50 different standard times in use in the United States.

Gushing 'Oil Wells' Boom On U. S. Farms

Wide World Features

WASHINGTON — American farmers have struck oil!

The boom is now at its height as farmers in the Midwest harvest their soybeans and get their flaxseed to market, and farmers in Eastern and Southern States move their peanuts to processing plants.

This oil doesn't come out of a well. It comes from pods, but it's as valuable to America now as "black gold" itself. And America is getting far more of it this year than ever before.

Including cottonseed oil, the take will be more than 530 million gallons — 54 per cent more than 1941.

These veritable farm geysers will help drown the Axis. Vegetable oil is the source of glycerine used in explosives; is used in protective paints for battleships, planes and other war machines; and has a thousand vital industrial uses — to say nothing of its use in foods and cooking.

Normally, this country imports annually about 260 million gallons of vegetable oils. That flow has dwindled to a quarter of its usual size. Moreover, our allies have asked for five times as much vegetable oil as we ordinarily export to all nations.

Department of Agriculture officials foresaw this situation last winter. AAA farmers-committeemen asked farmers to grow 14 per cent more flaxseed, 43 per cent more soy beans and 155 per cent more peanuts in 1942 than in 1941.

Behind such figures lay the difficulties of shifting vast acreages from less vital crops to oil crops, of growing oil crops on farms where they had never before been grown, of machinery, supply and labor shortages.

But the difficulties were surmounted. Farmers will exceed their flaxseed goals by 18 per cent, their soybean goal by 38 per cent. These increases more than make up for lagging peanut production which, although ahead of any previous year, will be about 22 per cent short of the 153 per cent increase requested.

Inside On Why Nazis Being Held From Stalingrad

By ALEXANDER R. GEORGE

Wide World Features

WASHINGTON — The battle of Stalingrad is the biggest battle ever fought in a large city — a multiple series of terrific struggles from street to street, from house to house, from roof to cellar to sewer.

American soldiers probably will have to do some fighting of this kind when the drive against the Nazis gets going on the continent.

Apart from the courage of the Russian defenders, there are two main reasons given by military men for the prolonged Stalingrad resistance against wave after wave of Hitler's best legions:

The Red's knowledge of guerilla tactics and the advantage possessed by defenders in a city battle.

Bert "Yank" Levy, former Cleveland boy and soldier of fortune who is teaching the British Home Guard how to defend towns, says that in a city prepared against attack the advantage in street fighting is invariably with the defenders, who are familiar with the battlefield.

Levy, who fought with the International Brigade against Franco in Spain points out that the man who knows a neighborhood can always keep the enemy guessing. If you know your sewer system thoroughly you may be able to transport troops behind the enemy lines and surprise him.

In his book on guerilla warfare (published by Penguin Books, Inc., and the Infantry Journal), Levy writes that Nazi tanks and dive bombers are of little value in street fighting. A tank might smash through flimsy cottages but cannot plow over or under rows of houses.

In street fighting, bombs from invading aircraft are likely to harm invading troops as much as defenders. A tank has to keep to comparatively narrow streets, where an overturned streetcar or a couple of earth-filled trucks may stop it. Furthermore, says Levy, tanks can be fought effectively by anti-tank grenades flung from roofs or windows.

Levy gives these tips on the strategy of tough street fighting and house to house combat:

"While you stay in buildings you are protected but as soon as you go out on the open street you are at the mercy of machine gun fire. Get your men across the street in the night time if you can. If you can't provide them with a smoke screen.

Do not rush the door of an enemy occupied building. And be sure to spring any booby trap before you enter. Two Tommy machine gunners and one grenadier should approach under the cover of fire of their comrades. Then, from a prone position alongside the door the grenadier flings in a grenade and, just to make sure, pitches in another.

"Then one Tommy gunner fires from just outside the door across and up into the far corner of the ceiling, covering about one-quarter of the ceiling with his shots. The second machine gunner dashes for the corner of the room under the peppered part of the ceiling and sweeps the rest of the ceiling while the other Tommy gunner is reloading. By that time any Nazi upstairs is either dead or dancing hard.

"One man makes for the stairway covered by bullets of the others shooting ahead of him. At the same time two or three men can enter the house and begin to 'mouse hole' into the next room from the secured ground floor while the others are securing the upper floors. Then they 'mouse hole' through the upper rooms."

Mouse holing, says Levy, is simple work with a pick or a crowbar. You first make a small hole, toss a grenade through it, enlarge the hole and toss a second through it from inside one room or building to the next, thus making reasonably sure of disposing of everybody in the adjoining rooms.

FIREFIGHTING'S JUST LIKE CHARITY

SALISBURY, Md. (AP) — Firemen on the eastern shore of Maryland have been kept busy—right at home.

Lightning struck the Salisbury fire department building, tearing out a portion of the brick front and damaging the interior of the building. Then Centerville, Mr. volunteer firemen, scurrying to answer a call, found a blaze in their own building. Damage was estimated at $1,000.

NAVY DIGS POTATOES TO SPEED CAMP SITE

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP) — There was one big obstacle to speedy acquisition by the Navy of the location for its new Seabee camp here.

Willing farmers explained that it would take several weeks to dig their sweet potato crops, labor being scarce and what not. Result: the Navy set what is probably a record in digging six bumper crops of sweet potatoes.

INSTRUCTORS

The Instructors Unit of the U. S. Citizens Defense Corps, has been established in an administrative order issued by James M. Landis, Director of the U. S. Office of Civilian Defense.

The insignia for instructors consists of an inverted equilateral triangle, centered above which is a falling bomb, to the left of which is a chemical retort, and to the right of which is a flame in a circular field of blue. The insignia may be used generally but not on arm bands or brassards.

Duties of the instructors in the U. S. Citizens Defense Corps shall consist of giving courses of training and instruction to units of the Defense Corps, as prescribed from time to time by orders or instructions of the Director. Appointment as instructors shall be restricted to eligible persons who have registered for training and have satisfactorily completed prescribed and approved courses of training or instructions, by the Local Defense Council, on the basis of ability to perform prescribed duties, by the legally authorized appointive authority of any State or community subject to any further rules, regulations, or orders, issued by the Director.

Instructors who are graduates of War Department Civilian Protection Schools may wear the prescribed insignia encircled by a wreath of laurel.

Livestock Share Leases, New Plan Growing In Texas

The livestock share lease has not been in general use in Texas, but it is growing in popularity among the various types of rental agreements between landlords and tenants.

This system of leasing is well adapted to the livestock farming areas of the state, including the dairy sections, and warrants consideration by more landlords and tenants in the opinion of T. R. Timm, economist in farm management for the A. and M. College Extension Service. He explains that livestock share agreements differ markedly from cash or crop share leases because returns are shared according to net income instead of gross income or total production.

Under this agreement, the landlord receives a specified share of the receipts from the sale of livestock and livestock products, as well as a share of receipts from crop sales.

The livestock partnership agreement which provides that proceeds be divided half and half probably is being used more widely than any other modification of the livestock share lease. But whatever form is agreed upon by landlord and tenant should divide benefits in accordance with the contributions of each. These contributions may include the initial investment and operating costs as well as labor.

Written leases and agreements generally prove more satisfactory than oral agreements if they are prepared for better understanding and fairer benefits, and not wholly for legal purposes. Timm explains that a written lease usually is considered more carefully by the parties entering into the agreement, there is less likelihood of misunderstandings, and written leases aid in lengthening tenures.

Forestry Course for Schools

Paul W. Schoen of Texas A. and M. (left) and E. C. Dodd of the Texas department of education check over the final draft of a forestry course to be introduced in Texas public schools. The course first will be tried in 100 schools, but next year it is planned to make it a required course in all state schools.

Plant Small Grain Pastures For Dairy Cows

Small grain pasture produces more milk than silage and hay do, according to E. R. Eudaly, dairyman for the A. and M. College Extension Service.

Given good weather and good soil one acre should furnish one cow with ample grazing, but with less favorable weather or land not very good as much as two acres might be needed.

At current prices for milk for manufacturing, one cow producing two gallons or more daily will pay the dairyman at least $5 a month on the basis of one cow to an acre. Eudaly says. With the grazing period varying from two to four months according to locality, he believes this return justifies dairymen in providing small grain pastures, regardless of the hazard of killing frost in December or January.

In addition to the pasture, an average Jersey needs about 20 pounds of dry matter in roughage daily. She obtains about 15 pounds from pasture and the remainder must be supplied by hay or other dry roughage. Along with pasture and hay cows will need some concentrates or grain mixture. A mixture of 450 pounds of ground ear corn or grain sorghum heads and 100 pounds of 43 per cent protein cottonseed, or peanut, meal would analyze 14 per cent protein content, which is sufficient. One half of the ground ear corn or grain sorghum heads could be replaced with ground barley if the latter is available and cheaper than the corn or sorghum heads.

Cows should be given three pounds of mixture daily for each gallon of milk produced. Eudaly cautions that dairy cows not on pasture will need four pounds of the mixture daily for each gallon of milk. The mixture would have to be higher in protein, meaning that more cottonseed, or peanut, meal would have to be used.

Lt. Col. Sydney D. Grubbs, 30-year-old flier, recently named commanding officer of Kelly Field, the army's oldest flight training school and from which the colonel graduated in 1934 as a fighter pilot. After winning his wings, Col. Grubbs served in Hawaii.

Head Man

Earl B. Smyth of Dallas heads the Cotton Bowl Athletic Association for the next year. He succeeds Dan D. Rogers, named chairman of the board of directors. Smyth, as a director, represented Baylor on the board.

Know Your Syrup For Best Results In Home Uses

Families not fortunate enough to have their own good home-made syrup can do themselves a good turn by studying and understanding the labels on the sorghum or ribbon cane they buy. These syrups are rich in iron phosphorus, and other minerals, so it is important to get a high quality product, according to Myrtle Murray, specialist in home industries for the A. and M. College Extension Service.

She adds that studying different brands of syrup on the market in order to distinguish between adulterated and pure products is one of the objectives of the 46,000 members of the Texas Home Demonstration Association.

Here are some provisions of the Texas Pure Food and Drug Law which are worth remembering: Syrup when packed for sale must bear a label consisting of the name of the product, the net volume of the contents, the name of the maker, and the place of manufacture. When the product is not a pure cane syrup, other ingredients must be listed. If there is any added preservative, flavor, or acid, that must be given on the label, too.

Descriptive phrases in the brand name such as "country," "open kettle," and "home made," can be used only on a pure cane syrup, Miss Murray explains. In addition, a product made in imitation of a natural or manufactured product must be labeled "imitation."

The Pure Food Law is designed to protect the consumer, Miss Murray says, and homemakers should take advantage of this protection by safely reading the labels on containers to know what they are buying.

HOW TO WALK WITH A WAAC

Wide World Features

FORT DES MOINES, Ia. — It could be a $64 question. An Army officer wrote his WAAC wife: "Please find out which side of you I walk on?" She is an officer too.

The War Department's answer: As long as he is the senior officer, his wife walks on his left. The field manual, Military Courtesy and Discipline, says that when accompanying a senior officer a junior walks or rides on his left. That's right even if it puts his wife next to the curb on the side walk.

If his wife has higher comparable WAAC rank, then the Army officer walks on her left. In case they have exactly comparable rank, then a matter of minutes can mean one is senior in case they got their commissions the same day.

in a position to take the initiative at any moment he considers necessary. The German announcer quoted "military quarters" as saying the British had lost between 450 and 500 tanks in the action thus far.

The British drive westward climaxed days of artillery and aerial preparation which softened the Axis line, touched off an elaborate four-mile-deep mine field, and knocked out other fixed Nazi positions.

Imperial infantry did a heavy preliminary job before General Montgomery hurled his huge tank forces through a gap torn in the Axis coastal flank west of El Alamein. The same procedure was followed 40 miles to the south at the edge of the Qattara salt sink in an effort to roll up the Nazi positions from both flanks.

Near the coast Australian troops cracked the Axis line and minefields, turned north and anchored themselves on the Mediterranean rim. Behind them several thousands of Germans and Italians were pocketed for several days.

By now however this Axis pocket has been "completely overrun," dispatches from the front said tonight. After the Australians punched this hole Gen. Montgomery sent a powerful tank and motorized infantry group through it to meet a challenging 21st Nazi Panzer division. The enemy division was smashed and routed, and the British pushed on past Sidi Abd El Rahman.

Hundreds of Allied planes pounded the Axis supply lines as far back as the Libyan port of Tobruk which was one of the main intake points for much-needed Axis supplies hauled across the Mediterranean from Italy and Greece.

So superior was the advantage enjoyed by the Allies this time in the air, the communique said that 300 Axis planes were shot down in combat and a "like number" destroyed or put out of action on the ground.

U. S. fighters Active

U. S. airmen played a major part in this sky artillery war and some of the 50,000 tons of shipping sunk along the Mediterranean coast behind the Axis forward lines.

Tonight these American and RAF fighters still were hacking at the tattered Axis infantry and the remnants of their armored forces streaking westward along the coast toward El Daba, 35 miles behind the punctured Alamein line.

Under the protection of this Allied sky artillery the British Eighth

Army was continuing its advance. Although the extent of imperial ground gains was not stated in the communique, front dispatches said the Imperials were beyond Sidi Abd El Rahman, a coastal railway point 18 miles west of Alamein.

Thus the Nazi threat to the big British naval base at Alexandria had been removed by a distance of about 100 miles. British tanks henceforth will enjoy greater maneuverability in the desert now that the Alamein line has been shattered, but full advantage in this respect will not come until the Germans have been pushed as far west as Matruh, which is 75 miles beyond El Daba. The Qattara depression in the desert to the south ends on a line drawn south from Matruh.

Strewn With Dead

The area through which the Imperial Army now is pouring was reported strewn with the bodies of Axis dead and the burned out hulks of hundreds of enemy tanks knocked out in the big armored battle of Sunday night and Monday.

But far to the rear there also were similar scenes where the Allied airmen had done their punishing.

"I never saw such destruction," said Brig.-Gen. A. C. Strickland, chief of the bomber command of the USAAF Middle East unit, in telling of yesterday's attacks on Axis columns to the rear. General Strickland personally led the attacking U. S. bomber forces.

The Allied air offensive which accompanied the big smash broke all records in intensity.

For 24 hours, said today's British communique, "the full force of the Allied striking power has been concentrated on enemy units withdrawing along the coastal road."

The crawling Axis transport columns were subjected to incessant attack by light bombers and fighter-bombers. Other aircraft skimmed the desert to attack the enemy's armored vehicles in all sectors.

Only twice, said the RAP, did the enemy attempt retaliation bombings. One formation had to jettison bombs and flee. The other fighters, and suffered damage to a dozen other aircraft, when engaged by the Allied fighters.

So fierce was the blasting of enemy tanks that some Axis units were reported to have surrendered rather than take more punishment from the air.

Over the desert U. S. fighters got three Messerschmitts and damaged many others. American medium bombers were very active against Axis tanks, motor vehicles and troop concentrations. At one point

Bob Crawley Played Outstanding Football In Navy Notre Dame Game Saturday

Bob Crawley, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Crawley, a former Golden Tornado team captain and honor pupil of Lamesa High School, was prominent in football news last Saturday.

Bob is a member of the United States Naval Academy team and played with his mates against Notre Dame last week. Bob plays wing back position and was the principal ground gainer for the Navy team against the Irish. He shared the honors of the day on a wet field in a heavy rain — with Bertelli, the Notre Dame candidate for All-American.

Radio fans here heard his name many times during the first half of the game and before the South-west Conference games came on the air. Bob made the Sports columns in Eastern Metropolitan papers after his spectacular gains and in the first Lamesa boy to play in "big time" Eastern Football.

The following account of the game was taken from the Cleveland News of Saturday, October 31:

Navy Stopped Near Goal

Studer circled Notre Dame's end for another first down, but Navy had to kick and there the Midwesterners broke, recovering Cowling's fumble on the Notre Dame 40. Crawley began to rip the Irish line apart. An offside helped the Midwesterners to a first down, but Crawley himself drove for two more first downs to Notre Dame's 14-yard line.

Still going strong, Crawley made three yards through the middle on the first play, was held to one yard on the ball to the 7-yard line. Again Crawley drove straight into Notre Dame's right side, but he failed to make the distance and Notre Dame took the ball on the 5-yard line.

Bertelli punted out from behind his goal line and Hamburg returned 18 yards to Notre Dame's 23. On the first play, Tom Miller threw Hamburg for a four-yard gain. Miller then threw a goal-line pass to Johnston, who was unable to hold the slippery ball. Another pass was incomplete on the fourth down. Hamburg completed a "pat" pass to Hume which failed to gain, and Notre Dame took over on its own 27.

THE GIRLS BEHIND THE TYPEWRITERS ARE UNSUNG HEROINES OF THE WAR

Do you wish to help your country win this war? The Government needs many thousands typists and stenographers, and needs them right now—for the speed-up depends on stenographers as much as upon any production line or battle line.

Lamesa High School offers courses in commercial subjects enabling one to qualify for one or more of the positions open.

Beginners courses in shorthand and typewriting will be given. Refresher courses for stenographers with special training for Civil Service employment will be offered. All persons interested are asked to inquire at room 207, High School Building, Monday, November 9 at 4:00 p. m.

LOCAL MEN GRADUATE AT SHEPPARD FIELD

Pvt. Howard V. Barton, son of J. L. Barton and Pvt. Loyd Buckalew, whose wife, Mrs. Lorna Buckalew resides here, have both graduated from an intensive course in aviation mechanics at Sheppard Field and now are ready to blast the Axis.

A United States air forces communique also reported that reconnaissance showed the following damage was dealt out at Tobruk Monday night by heavy American bombers.

"Where Your Money Buys More"

PAINE FIELD WASHINGTON

Hello Joe—

Are you still keeping everything under control there in Lamesa?

I am assigned to the Air Corps as you will see by my return address. I like it just fine, only I am at present, laying out my 12th day in the Army Hospital. Yes, pneumonia is a hell-of-a-thing for a soldier to have. They will let me out of bed tomorrow to "graze around" here in the hospital. I must say they have some of the very best doctors in the army and a soldier gets the best of care.

When I am allowed to leave the hospital, I expect to begin studying guns, rifles, aircraft, tanks, bombs and other explosives. I'm looking forward to the day when I become more useful to the army and can GO ACROSS and REALLY DO some good. You see Joe, I'm no longer a rejected draftee. Yes, I wrote the piece that was put under the door of your office. "I was rejected" is left behind.

Will you please begin with the last issue of your paper and consider me as a subscriber for 1 year. Tell me the price and I'll send you a check.

Thank you.

Yours truly,

J. D.

An Old Institution —The Lace Corset Makes Its Debut

By DOROTHY ROE

Wide World Fashion Editor

Along with handkerchiefs and fascinators, bundling styles and sensible shoes, another style of grandmother's day is on the way back to wartime America—the laced corset.

Now don't have any attack of the vapors, my pets. It isn't as bad as it seems. Front-lace, back-lace and side-lace corsets already have found their way into leading stores throughout the country, and have found ready customers, although standard girdles are still available in limited quantity, complete with zippers, elastic panels and pre-war frills.

The new laced corset isn't the clumsy, iron-bound instrument of torture of grandmother's day. It's made in the same feather-light fabrics, with the same loving attention to fine finishing details to which we pampered moderns have become accustomed. It comes styled to the young, slender figure as well as to the more mature shape. It has all the sleek streamlining of yore, is made by manufacturers supreme in fine corseting.

The new laced corsets have another jump on the Gibson Girl models—the laces are used only for adjustability, and the girdles hook up the side in the same old way. When you buy a corset, the fitter adjust the laces to your figure, and you leave them alone, unless you go in for an orgy of hot-fudge sundaes, in which case you can loosen the laces to accommodate the added pounds.

You might as well get used to the idea, because by this time next year, say manufacturers, laced corsets will be practically the only available styles. It's the most practical way found to achieve adjustability with a minimum of elastic. So prepare to lace 'em up and like it!

A Woman's A Two Face—So Say The Beauty Experts

By BETTY CLARKE

Wide World Beauty Editor

Are you a two-faced woman? If not, you ought to be. I'm speaking of makeup — not how you treat your friends.

One face is for daytime, the other for evening. The naturalness of daytime makeup doesn't carry over into the dark hours. Electric lights have a way of killing color, so unless you use more vivid makeup, evening is the time for glamor, so put your right face forward.

This doesn't mean you should have a drawer brimming over with different shades of makeup. All you really need are two sets, one to harmonize with your natural coloring for daytime, the other to give an added glow that will take the lights at night.

If you're a blonde, select a light foundation for day and a deeper rosy shade for night. Your lipstick and rouge should be fairly bright pure reds, the darker hue for evening. Your eyes will look brighter if you wear eye shadow at night, even though you can dispense with it for daytime.

If you're a girl with light brown hair you need makeup that will give it life instead of making it look drab. Carefully chosen powder and foundation can achieve this.

Too rosy a tone in the daytime will dull your ash blonde or light brown hair. Golden rosy foundation and powder at night are right for your type.

If you're a brunette, before you select your makeup gamut be sure of the tone of your skin. It is ivory or tawny? The lighter-skinned brunette should emphasize the natural tone of her skin with a creamy foundation and rouge and lipstick with a slight tinge of orange. For evening a shade darker rouge and lipstick will be more effective. Most brunettes can use blue

Rationing Has No Favorites

MINERAL WELLS, Nov. 4 (AP)—

Mileage rationing regulations will make no provisions for preferential treatment of motorists in another state compared to motorists in another state. Max McCullough, regional OPA director, said today.

Speaking to the county judges and commissioners association opening a convention here, he added: "All of us are going to follow the same rules and regulations and as long as there is any rubber for civilian use all of us will have access to it on equal terms with our neighbors."

"Certainly the people of Texas and of the southwest are not seeking favoritism in this way."

Essential traveling needs out here and in other sections where distances are similar will be taken care of under the rationing program.

The association discussed a curtailment of finances they said would result due to a reduction in auto registrations and lack of revenues from the state gasoline tax.

Other problems receiving attention were limited participation by the Texas Highway department in road maintenance and the inability of counties to buy road machinery.

Association officers said serious problems have also arisen in welfare programs. Here to discuss the welfare programs, state WPA director from San Antonio, L. J. Cappelman, agricultural marketing division, and John S. Murchison, state public welfare director.

A committee of judges and commissioners is due to present plans for county reorganization before the convention adjourns to adopt a program the group hopes will meet various curtailment due to the emergency.

Civilians At SPAFS Buying War Bonds

Civilian employees at South Plains Army Flying School are buying war bonds through the payroll allotment plan 100 per cent.

All employees at SPAFS, "Home of the Winged Commandos," are setting aside more than 10 per cent of their pay each month for war bonds, and they were doing this even before the Eighth Service Command began its campaign for 100 per cent participation.

SPAFS is believed to be the first station in the Command to reach its goal.

A little something extra was contributed by Arlo Farmer of Lubbock, an employee of the post engineer's office. He bought $1000 worth of bonds with money realized from the sale of some property. He also gave two daughters $500 each to buy war bonds.

Local Boys On College Team

Allen Barnard and Billie Vaughn of Lamesa are members of the champion North-and-East Barracks touchball team of the intramural division of the Schreiner athletic program.

After winning their first game against Schreiner Hall, North-and-East Barracks dropped the second game to Dickey Hall, but finished the season with three straight wins—defeating Hoon Hall, West Barracks, and South Barracks.

Throughout the school year, in addition to touch football, there is competition among the six dormitories in tennis, volleyball, table tennis, basketball, boxing, track, volleyball, table tennis, basketball, boxing, bowling, softball, swimming, and golfing. The dormitory or barracks group which amasses the largest number of points in competition during the year is awarded a plaque at the end of the year. Individual winners in singles events are awarded sterling silver medals.

News From The Glider School

Captain G. R. Holsclaw of the Training Command visited Lamesa Field unexpectedly recently on an inspection tour. Part of his inspection dealt with seeing the Commando Run that is so much talked about at this post.

During the inspection tour the Commanding Officer, Lieutenant James V. Mesita, was demonstrating some of the obstacles to Captain Holsclaw and one was just a bit too tuff. The Commanding Officer ended the run with a sprained ankle and will be grounded for a few days.

or green eyeshadow (but just a touch) for daytime and combine brown and colored eye-shadow at night.

If you're a "nut brown maid," whose dark glowing skin is an asset, you'll wear no rouge at night. Brown eyeshadow will give a daytime deepening to your eyes without looking too dramatic. At night, you can choose blue eyeshadow to make your brown eyes luminous. A dark foundation and powder of a golden rose shade are best for you both night and day.

Church Of Nazarene Shows Progress Under Leadership Of Rev. Leo L. Lawrence

Church of the Nazarene is closing three years of marked progress under the leadership of Rev. Leo L. Lawrence as Pastor. Rev. Lawrence came to the Lamesa charge November 8th, 1939 following very inadequate Sunday School Room as Church had only main auditorium, no Sunday School rooms at all. Every department very crowded, and very much handicapped in trying to carry on; but the first year with the beautiful spirit of co-operation from the town was enabled to build an addition on to the main auditorium, adding six Sunday School rooms, and redecorated the interior of the Church with all bills paid. Accomplished this without any hired labor and on a salary of $10.00 per week.

We entered the second year with all departments of the Church showing marked increase, financially, numerically, and spiritually. Launched a building program converted a small dilapidated four room parsonage with about $1500.00 improvement on it into a nice six room parsonage modern throughout with all bills paid; all accomplished with local congregation and pastor doing the work, also built nice garage and other buildings on the ground.

This past year has been one of the best the local church has ever experienced, has been a year of progress in every department. Finances have increased about 400 per cent over the Assembly year of 38-39. We truly want to thank God for the achievements of the past three years.

Brother Lawrence has accepted a call to the Gainesville Church, will close his services with the local congregation in Lamesa, Sunday the 8th, we, the Church and friends of the church regret very much that he is leaving us, and wish him a great success in his work at Gainesville.

MRS. C. R. STANLEY.

Brablin Independence was proclaimed September 7, 1822.

Football Game Nov. 11 Between SPAFS-LAFS

The only football game in West Texas this year between two army air forces service teams will be the Armistice Day clash between Lubbock Army Flying School and South Plains Army Flying School.

The game will be played at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 11, in Texas Tech stadium in Lubbock. Servicemen will be admitted free. Tickets for civilians will be 55 cents.

SPAFS, "Home of the Winged Commandos," is the only glider school in the nation with a football team, and plays its first game Nov. 11. LAFS has won two and lost two and is ranked second behind only Corpus Christi Naval Station among Texas service teams.

Support Price On SxP Cotton Raised

An extra three and one-half cents per pound is in store for growers of SxP cotton in Texas who are paying as much as four cents per pound for picking.

Announced through the Commodity Credit Corporation, the support price for 1 1/2 inch staple, Grade 2, now is 43.25 cents per pound net weight with other grade and staple lengths reflecting the same proportionate increases.

The cotton, now ready for harvest, is needed for parachutes and other vital war needs and the price support will assure prompt harvesting, according to P. C. Colgin, commodity loan specialist of the AAA in Texas.
