Mihai Claims Reds Forced Abdication

LONDON—(P)—Former King Mihai of Romania said Thursday his abdication was forced upon him and he does not consider himself bound by it.

Mihai sails Friday for the United States. He had lunch Thursday with the British royal family at Buckingham Palace, and then issued a statement saying:

"At the present moment it is no longer necessary to insist on the circumstances and causes of certain political events."

"The motives of the profound political changes imposed on the small states of Eastern Europe already are too well known."

"As far as Romania is concerned, I want to avail myself of the first possibility personally to confirm the facts as they happened."

"On the morning of December 30, 1947, Petru Groza and Gheorghiu-Dej, members of the Romanian cabinet, presented to me the text of the act of abdication, urging me to sign it at once. Both of them came to the royal palace after it had been surrounded by armed detachments, informing me that they would hold me responsible for the bloodshed which will follow as a consequence of the instructions already issued by them in case I shall not sign within the time limit."

"This act was imposed to me by force, by a government installed and maintained in power by a foreign country xxxxx."

After issuing the statement, Mihai declined to answer reporters' questions on any subject. Princess Anne of Bourbon-Parma was left unmentioned by Mihai, but a secretary said the couple will marry in the Spring. The princess is in Paris.

Immediately after his news conference, Mihai and his mother, Queen Helen, caught a train for Southampton, where they will board the Queen Elizabeth for New York.

Sleet, Rain Snow Buffet West Texas

By The Associated Press

Sleet, light freezing rain and snow buffeted the Panhandle Thursday as cloudy weather returned to all of the state except the El Paso area.

Blowing snow, although not heavy or of blizzard proportions, closed some roads in the North Plains and west of Amarillo on U. S. Highway 66. Driving was dangerous on other roads in the Panhandle.

The freezing rain extended to the South Plains, and drizzling rain fell along the South Gulf coastal area as far inland as Laredo.

Temperatures far below freezing hung on in the Panhandle. Amarillo had a low of 20 degrees. Pampa had an overnight low of 22. Minimums elsewhere ranged as high as 33 degrees at Brownsville in the far South.

Trinity River overflows. Carriers for the Amarillo News turned back at Borger during the night because of snow drifts to the North. A carrier to Tucuman, N. M., turned back at Adrian. A low temperature of 10 degrees was registered at Clayton, N. M., just west of the Panhandle.

Floodwaters from rains earlier in the week continued to plague sections of Northeast Texas. An overflow from the Trinity River closed Highway 237 in Preston County between Corsicana and Palestine Thursday morning.

Cloudy conditions were forecast to continue through much of the state Friday. Colder weather was promised the north part of East Texas Friday night, a warm day after.

Murray Favors Oil Recovery, Not Synthesis

ODESSA—(P)—William J. Murray, Jr., Texas railroad commissioner, believes the government should concentrate on research for oil recovery "instead of embarking on a $9,000,000,000 synthetic program."

Speaking to Permian Basin operators and a radio audience over station KOGA here Wednesday night, Murray said:

"The fact that we are still leaving more oil trapped in our underground reservoirs, never to be recovered by present production methods, than we are recovering, certainly is a challenge to the ingenuity of our industry to develop and to put into practice technological means for increasing our recoveries."

The railroad commissioner stated that Texas today is producing approximately as much oil as the rest of the world outside the United States.

"This is an amazing and splendid record," he said, "but we can't rest on our laurels."

Commenting that national demand for crude oil is about 700,000 barrels per day more than domestic production, Murray said "in Texas we are producing all of the oil that we can produce without physical waste."

John S. Wright, retired farmer, dies in Midland.

John S. Wright, 79, retired farmer, died at 10 p. m. Wednesday at his residence here, 500 South Marshall Street. He had been ill two weeks.

Services tentatively are set Friday afternoon at Ellis Funeral Chapel with the Rev. Clyde Lindley, pastor of the First Christian Church, officiating. Interment will be in Fairview Cemetery.

Wright came to Midland in 1903. He was born at Boone, Texas. He was a member of the First Christian Church.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. J. S. Wright of Midland; five sons, G. W., Delbert and Thomas of Midland, Jim of Los Angeles and Jasper, address unknown; four daughters, Edna Wright of Los Angeles, Mrs. A. T. Davis of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Eldred Jones and Mrs. Margaret Donaldson of Midland.

Layoffs, Prices Indicate Nation Back To Normal

NEW YORK—(P)—A few more shortages join the ranks of has-beens. A few more pipe lines appear to be filled and back to pre-war normal.

Price reductions, seasonal layoffs and production cutbacks dot the business news Thursday, along with lots of cheerful items.

Westinghouse Electric Corporation cut refrigerator prices four to seven per cent, effective March 15.

Leather prices at the Tanners Council's leather show are 15 to 25 per cent lower than recent peaks. Dealers say this might reach retail shoe prices by Fall.

Popular priced dresses, however, may hold to the present price level because of continuing high quotations on textiles. Dress makers say output hit a seasonal peak at Christmas and then decline in the first part of the year.

In spite of the bumper crop of babies, diaper production is being reduced. For the first time in years, they've caught up with demand.

Crackpot Bomb Plot Sends FBI, Police On Wild Goose Chase

NEW YORK—(P)—A fantastic "plot" to blow up two railroad terminals and other city key points sent police and federal agents out Wednesday night on one of their biggest bomb hunts in years. But the threatened zero hour passed without even one small explosion.

The bizarre "plan," which police dubbed the lurid work of a crank, was unfolded in a rambling 15-page letter, unaddressed and intercepted by police inspectors at a postal station.

Labeled "Plan Vodka," it assigned 25 men, all carrying suitcases filled with high explosive bombs, to Pennsylvania Station, 25 to Grand Central Terminal and 25 to the General Post Office.

Mostly cloudy and colder Thursday night. Occasional snow or freezing rain in Panhandle and South Plains and occasional rain from Pecos Valley eastward Thursday night. Market Drops Cut Farmers' Incomes

CHICAGO—(P)—The farmer sending produce to market today finds he is getting a lower income from several important items than he did a year ago.

How the farmer's income took a wallop in the recent slash of market values was revealed in a comparison of prices Wednesday with March 3, 1947. Such important items as wheat, hogs and cotton were lower.

The hog top at Chicago a year ago was $29.50 a hundred pounds. Wednesday's best price was $24.25. This decline has developed despite a smaller number of hogs.

Farmers are doing a little better with cattle. As an example, good steers and yearlings which brought $24 to $24 at South St. Paul, Minn., a year ago now are bringing $23.50 to $26.30.

But sheep prices are under a year ago. Good and choice native and fed woolled Western lambs were worth $24 to $24.40 at East St. Louis a year ago. Wednesday they brought around $22.

These prices are typical. The same variations with 1947 apply in all livestock markets.

In the big Kansas City cash market, wheat which sold no lower than $2.54 1/2 a bushel on March 3, 1947, was down to as low as $2.44 1/2.

But the feed grains—corn and oats—are much higher than last March. A grade of corn brought $1.62 a bushel a year ago at Chicago was worth $2.36 1/2 Wednesday. In Minneapolis, oats which sold for 86 to 89 cents March 3, 1947, brought $1.26 1/4 to $1.29 1/4.

Southern cotton producers are about where they were a year ago. Average price of cash cotton at Southern markets Wednesday was 33.64 cents a pound against 34.06 cents a year ago.

Word Of Government

Buying Boosts Wheat

CHICAGO—(P)—Wheat prices jumped on the Board of Trade Thursday. The market was influenced by news the government was reentering the flour market in volume.

Prices were up as much as 10 cents, the daily permitted limit advance, at the start. Later, gains ranged from three to five cents a bushel as compared with Wednesday's close. Corn and oats were firm.

Agriculture Secretary Anderson announced late Wednesday he had asked millers to submit offers to him to sell flour in an amount equal to 9,000,000 bushels of wheat.

The "Mighty F," as the Navy called her, recovered from the Pearl Harbor attack to strike at the Japanese February 16, the Navy announced Thursday.

"Damage received at Okinawa was mainly responsible for the Pennsylvania's unseaworthiness and not damage inflicted during the atomic bomb tests" at Bikini in July, 1946, the Navy said.

The Navy said the Pennsylvania could not have remained afloat much longer in Kwajalein Lagoon. She was towed there after the Bikini atom tests. She was considered a possible menace to shipping if she sank in the lagoon, as did the

Agreement Among Nations Revealed

By The Associated Press

Five nations began talks in Brussels Thursday on a British-proposed union of Western Europe to brace themselves against the westward tide of Communism.

The Communist coup in Czechoslovakia and Soviet pressure on Finland provided overtones for the opening sessions of delegates from Britain, France and the Benelux nations—Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg.

A draft agreement was submitted by the Benelux nations. A communique from the closed meeting said the draft showed "great similarity of views on the principles discussed by the five powers."

The talks were then recessed until Friday afternoon to permit French and British delegates to study the draft.

Finland marked time. President Juho E. Paasikivi still is awaiting the views of parliamentary bloc toward Prime Minister Stalin's request for a treaty of friendship and mutual assistance similar to those which bind Eastern European nations to the Soviet Union.

The Communist-dominated bloc continued to beat the drums for quick negotiations and acceptance of Stalin's proposals.

Czechs Flee Country

Czechoslovakia's Communist press admitted for the first time that Czechs are fleeing the country. The press indicated Health Minister Adolf Prachazka, his wife, and an anti-Communist student leader fled across the border into the U. S. Occupation Zone of Germany.

The Ministry of Information announced that President Eduard Benes, who reluctantly accepted the new Communist regime last week, will not return to Prague this week as scheduled. The announcement said the 64-year-old president is convalescing at his country home in Southern Bohemia.

A new Czechoslovak ambassador to Washington already is en route to the United States to replace Ambassador Jursi Slavik, who resigned Wednesday to "fight for Czechoslovak Democracy."

WEDMEYER ASKS MILITARY AID TO CHINA

WASHINGTON—(P)—Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer told Congress Thursday that the United States must back up economic aid abroad with military support if Communism is to be stopped in China and elsewhere.

Wedemeyer, who is director of plans and operations for the Army, testified before the House Foreign Affairs Committee. The committee is considering a proposed $570,000,000 economic aid program for China.

Wedemeyer said $200,000,000 "would have helped China immeasurably" two years ago.

"But today," he added, "I don't think I would recommend $500,000,000 in aid to China unless there were military aid to protect that $500,000,000."

"This vast movement that has been so successful in Czechoslovakia, and probably in Finland, is sweeping down from the North. If we in America intend to put a stop to it, we can't do it by purely economic aid."

The committee asked the general's views because of his long experience in China. During the war he commanded the China theater for a time and was chief of staff to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek.

Wedemeyer went to China last Summer as President Truman's special representative. But the findings he submitted upon his return have never been made public.

The State Department ruled that to do so might be "actually harmful" to both this country and China.

Two Men Killed In Plane Crash

BROWNSVILLE—(P)—Two men were killed in the crash of a light plane Thursday morning near Brownsville's International Airport.

The men were identified tentatively as Robert D. Peetz of Corpus Christi and Elmer Claude Carlisle, Des Moines, Iowa.

The plane was discovered about 7:30 a. m. in a plowed field about two miles from the airport. Parts of the plane were widely scattered.

Deputy Sheriff Pat Smith said he was told the plane took off from the airport in murky weather at 12:01 a. m., bound for Corpus Christi.

J. M. Nye of Brownsville, one of the first to visit the scene, said the bodies were submerged in the earth.

Justice of the Peace J. N. Acevedo returned a coroner's verdict of accidental death.

AIR FORCE GENERAL DIES

SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH—(P)—Brig. Gen. Marlowe M. Merrick, soldier of fortune and assistant chief of staff to Air Force General H. H. Arnold in the last war, died Thursday aboard a train en route here from his home in Reno.

Justice of the Peace J. N. Acevedo returned a coroner's verdict of accidental death.

The federal government, opposing legislation to surrender federal claim to the coastal lands, finished its case Wednesday with an assertion by Secretary of Interior Krug that "the tidelands are by far the most valuable and the most strategic of all our natural resources."

Krug said it has been estimated that 100,000,000 barrels of oil are in the lands of the continental shelf surrounding the coastal borders of the United States and Alaska.

It was Krug who first asserted federal claim to off-shore lands and requested the suit against California which the Supreme Court decided last June.

Lesnevich Puts Title On Line In Friday Melee

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP)—Is Blackjack Billy Fox as good a fighter as his record indicates?

For a fee of about $20,000, Prof. Gus Lesnevich is going to try and answer the question in Madison Square Garden Friday night.

Gus is putting his lightweight title on the line against Fox in a bout scheduled for 15 rounds. It probably won't go more than ten.

Ten was all Lesnevich needed last year when he flattened the 22-year-old negro kyo artist in their first title bout.

Since his meeting with Fox February 28, 1947, the 32-year-old Lesnevich has fought only heavyweights. He knocked out Mello Betina in 59 seconds, outpointed Tami Mauriello in ten, and then stopped Tami in seven, his fourth successive victory over the Bronx barkeep.

While Gus was busy with the big boys, Fox was hustling to build up his kyo string. He added seven more knockout victims to his imposing list, including Artie Levine, George Kochan and Jake Lamotta.

Thank goodness, college baseball will soon come back into its own. The comeback within the past few years has been gratifying.

College baseball began to falter in the 1920s. Many reasons have been advanced for this, chief of them being the rapid-fire rise of college football as the major sport. There was a lack of pageantry for baseball with football on the throne.

Some of the inferior college baseball play in yesteryear was the direct result of the dubious practice of hiring part-time coaches or assigning a coach to baseball when his skill and knowledge was with another sport.

Of course the decline during the war could not be helped and was the fault of no one.

The college game has been boosted by speeding the game through team hustle, avoidance of long conferences between players or between coaches and players, by not protesting umpire's decisions, promotion of a "College World Series" and intensified publicity of the right kind.

A new problem has presented itself in the signing of college stars by professional teams before graduation. This is being worked out and college baseball has hurdled another barrier on the run to a better program.

The first college baseball game was played in America July 1, 1859, and Amherst defeated Williams 53-32. The game took place on an oblong field with home plate in the middle of one side and 13 men on a team. The principal way of putting out people was by "stinging" them with the ball. The players were not selected for skill but by ballot from the students at large. Each side used its own ball exclusively. That of Amherst was eight inches in circumference. The ball had to be caught on the fly and 60 runs was to be the limit of the game.

Bill Wooster of Odessa is AAU representative for this area. 'Tis talk that Dave Cole, KORA, will not be around for this Summer's mike talk on baseball.

Tulsa University is fielding its first baseball team in 14 years. Vernon reportedly has hired a couple of Cuban ballplayers. And incidentally we predict Vernon to be in the thick of the 1948 pennant fight.

The Dusters are a revived outfit with money behind them. It's Professor Magliolo now. The University of Oklahoma has become a teaching fellow in the mathematics department. Goodfellow Field of San Angelo lost in the first round of the Central Area Air Force basketball tourney.

The Southern Conference baseball campaign opens April 1. Five Odessa Oilers are holdouts out of six veterans offered contracts. The Bluebonnet Belle Relays at San Angelo (girls track) are slated April 30-May 1. The St. Louis Cardinals holdout situation may be cleared Thursday with a conference. Musial-Hannagan, booked and Harry (The Cat) Breenen en route to St. Pete. Scoring 900 points in a season ought to entitle a man and his team a trip to Austin for the state meet.

Arp High didn't make the grade but Bunky Bradford, who scored the 900 points, and his teammates are going anyway. For the trip. Businessmen are footing the bill. The Cincinnati Reds will televise all weekday games and four of the seven Sunday tilts. 30 for strays.

Cardinals Pin Hopes On Texas League Freshmen

By JOE REICHLER

ST. PETERSBURG, FLA.—(AP)—It is not often a manager goes out on the limb and predicts major league stardom for one of his rookies, not to mention two.

But in freshmen pitchers Clarence Beers and Al Papai, Pilot Eddie Dyer of the St. Louis Cardinals thinks he has two sure-fire big winners in the making.

In fact, Dyer is depending on a great deal upon these two Texas League graduates. Openly concerned over his hurling crew, Dyer is banking heavily on these two righthanders to make good.

Eddie feels that the collapse of his chukkers was the chief reason for the Cards' failure to overtake the Brooklyn Dodgers last year. With Harry Brecheen still balking at terms, and Howie Pollet and George Munger not yet fully recovered from operations they underwent during the winter, Dyer plans to give Beers and Papai lots of attention.

Not Callow Youths
"Beers and Papai are wonderful prospects," Dyer said. "I intend to give them every chance in the world. If I make the right decision on them, they might hurt us to the pennant. On the other hand, if I act too hastily, we could be hurt beyond repair."

Neither is a callow youth, as far as freshmen are concerned. Beers is 20 and has been in professional baseball since 1936.

This is his first big league trial. Papai is one year younger and has been in baseball since 1940.

Each had a sensational season with Houston last year. Beers, who started out as a second baseman and also played in the outfield, won 25 games during the regular season. He added four more in the playoffs and Dixie Series.

Papai was the work horse of the Houston team last year. He won 21 games during the regular campaign and added four more in the playoffs. He led the league in innings pitched.

Fashions Whirl To Soft Music As 'Spring Prevue '48' Staged Here

By BEVERLY LITTLEJOHN
Society Editor

Spring became a reality for the more than 1,100 Midlanders who Wednesday night viewed wide-brimmed Milan sailor hats and black straw bonnets, cotton skirts with swing graceful enough for a pirouette, pure silk sun-back casuals and marquisette evening clothes with fragile femininity. These fresh and alluring styles were modeled on the Yucca Theater stage before a capacity audience for "Spring Prevue '48", annual style show sponsored by the Woman's Auxiliary of Trinity Episcopal Church.

Twenty-six attractive women, representing 26 Midland merchants, whirled fashions to the soft music of Jack Free and his orchestra. Art Cole, director of Midland Community Theater, was master of ceremonies.

The first scene of the show revealed "surprise" packages — hat box girls modeling the latest lacy, straw-brimmed sailors and serene Gibson Girl sailors trimmed in lacy. Manequins "came to life" to model dressmaker suits with graceful swing skirts, the cotton suit worn by "Miss Queen Cotton" this year, and the cocoa and black combination fashioned with pepum.

The newest fashions introduced were cool emerald green and the flashing tomato red.

A feature of the '48 fashions are the hair styles—the soft brush waves and the swirl, or the forward sweep over the earline, and the cameo type which accents the profile with a middle part falling into a back roll. Coiffures were modeled by Lorena Overby, Alleen Reynolds, Elizabeth Aytes and Norma Jean Hubbard.

Male Quartet
An added musical feature was a male quartet including four members of the Midland Men's Chorus, Everett Miles, W. W. Williams, Duke Jernison and Sam Swanson. During their special numbers, the men were dressed in sports ensembles, dress suits or evening dress.

The show, considered one of the finest since the Episcopal church introduced them in 1938, consisted of five scenes—"Surprise" Package, Casually Yours, Crowning Glory, Tea Time Interlude and Evening Fantasy.

Models were Frances Puett, Patricia Pryor, Peggy Bissell, Sarah Lew Link, Marylee Cowden, Norma Jean Hubbard, Betty McCain, Betty Joyce Gerald, Shirley Cooper, Jean McMillan, Susan Hemphill, Mrs. James T. Smith, Mrs. Thornton Hardie, Jr., Mrs. R. C. Schmidt, Mrs. Duval McClure, Mrs. Robert LeBlond, Mrs. Sally Hull Fitzgerald, Mrs. William Byrd, Mrs. Mary Ellen Midkiff Connor, Mrs. John Ratliff, Mrs. William W. Walmsley, Mrs. Lewis Ayres, Mrs. L. G. Mackey, Mrs. R. E. Roark, Mrs. R. E. McKnight and Mrs. Gilbert Thompson.

Merchants represented included: Grammer-Murphy Women's Wear, Everybody's Store, Wilson Dry Goods Company, Charles A. Haynes Company, Franklin's, The Midland Company, S&Q Clothing, The United, Inc., Virtue's Fashion Salon, J. C. Penney Company, The Little Yarn House, Hattie's Hat Shop, Hughes Jewelry Company, Vosat's Jewelry, City Floral Company, Buddy's Flowers, Midland Floral Company, Tallorine, Barrow Furniture Company, Foster's Beauty Shop, American Beauty Shop, Mozele's Beauty Shop, Schaeffer Beauty Shop and Charm Hat Shop.

The show was headed by Mrs. Payton Anderson, assisted by Mrs. M. F. Turner, with Mrs. William L. Kerr, president of the Auxiliary, as advisor. Other committee members included: Mrs. Paxton Howard and Mrs. William P. Pennabaker, script; Mrs. J. C. McMillan and Mrs. W. A. Yeager, entrance fees; Mrs. W. T. Hoey and Mrs. Lloyd Edwards, models; Mrs. R. L. Gates, Mrs. Ralph Keen and Mrs. William Fottis, stage; Mrs. J. P. Ruckman, Mrs. Harvey Herd, Mrs. J. E. Vernon, Yearby, Mrs. Joe Mims, Mrs. T. S. Henderson, Mrs. Harry Rhodes, Mrs. Clint Dunagan, Mrs. W. M. Howard, Mrs. W. C. Kimball, Mrs. J. M. Ratcliff, Mrs. Bill Collins, Mrs. Ray Howard, Mrs. Frank Monroe, Mrs. Tom Inman, Mrs. No-Jand, Mrs. Duke Jernison and Mrs. J. P. Carson, Jr.

Teen-Age Skin Looks Its Best When It Is Kept Well-Scrubbed

Teen-age skin care should include lots of soap and water.

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer
Teen-age skin beauty is its most alluring when it looks as pink, scrubbed as a baby's.

Besides the personal radiance you can achieve with a twice-a-day scrubbing, a thorough cleansing morning and night is your best guarantee of a healthy skin.

As important as the soaps used to put your complexion in the pink are the rinsings needed to rid your skin of any soapy residue. So be sure to use your rinses. Start with warm water, using lots of that, and taper off to cold. That way you will not be subjecting your skin to any sudden change in the temperature of the rinsing water, which beauty counselors say is an unwise procedure.

If soap-and-water cleansings make your skin taut or rough, you can counteract this effect by using after your scrub a lubricating cream or lotion. There are greaseless lubricants which the girl whose skin is oily can use safely, because these aids soften without adding more oil to a skin which already is amply endowed.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep

Slansky's Internal Double-Cross Is Graphic Inside Story Of Way Warm Red Promises Win A Cold War

"Be Calm—Nothing Is Going to happen:" So says this poster in the window of Social Democratic Party headquarters in Prague. Although the picture was taken shortly after Red-controlled police occupied and searched the building, the poster still echoes the promises that lulled Czechs into internal betrayal.

By HAL LEHRMAN
Written for NEA Service

An internal double-cross as flagrant as Stalin's international betrayal of his pledge to Czech President Eduard Benes is laid bare in the witch-hunt now raging in Kremlin-dominated Czechoslovakia.

Rudolf Slansky, the Communist strong-man now presiding over Czechoslovakia's new Star Chamber for the purge of "reactionaries," is the same soft-spoken Communist leader who lulled Czechs into believing that in their nation, as nowhere else, civil liberties could exist simultaneously with Soviet domination.

Slansky once certified all the opposition parties and their chiefs as "reliable democrats with whom we Communists will faithfully cooperate."

In his heavily-guarded Prague headquarters, this same strong-man told me solemnly that the Communists of Czechoslovakia stood wholly dedicated to the "preservation of democracy."

He defined "democracy," not according to the Moscow dictionary, but as "the democracy of President Eduard Benes and of Thomas G. Masaryk, founders of Czechoslovak freedom."

FDR's Cottage In Georgia Will Be Opened To Public

WARM SPRINGS, GA.—(AP)—In the homely, unadorned kitchen of the "little White House" in Warm Springs, a negro cook scrawled her testimonial to history.

"Daisy Bonner cook the first meal and the last one in this cottage for the President Roosevelt."

It was April 12, 1945. Franklin Delano Roosevelt had been stricken suddenly and fatally at his rustic "second home" on a rural Georgia hilltop.

The door with the ship's anchor knocker seldom has been opened since. This Spring—possibly on April 12—a state commission will open the pine-paneled home to the public.

Thousands of visitors will find the "little White House" preserved just as it was left three years ago. The cook's proud farewell remains inscribed on the wall above her old-fashioned stove.

Simple Cottage. The wideboard cottage, low and graceful among the pines, has much of the President's personal touch about it.

The chain he used for Fala, his pet dog, is hanging in an entrance hall closet where he left it, along with a battered hat he wore on fishing expeditions.

A set of pie pans is fastened outside the bedroom window where he used to feed birds.

It is a simple cottage which cost only $8,700. The bed where the President died is plain maple with a chenille spread and a hard, hair mattress. It is the type known locally as a "hired man's bed."

There is no mechanical refrigeration—an old icebox sits on the back porch. The kitchen has a faded linoleum, beaten utensils, cane-bottom chairs and an oil-cloth-covered table.

Roosevelt insisted on paneled walls and rough beams. He placed ship models, pictures and engravings everywhere. His favorite model is on the living room mantel.

Plain Leather Chair. The living room also has the plain, worn leather chair where he was sitting when fatally stricken.

Besides the Georgia rock fireplace are his books—murder mysteries, French novels, modern poetry, and books on politics. A long wooden fork rests where he kept it for roasting frankfurters.

In the President's bedroom is the desk where he transacted much of the world's business. There is a hand-carved, homemade chair sent by an admirer from Butler, Ga.

The two guest bedrooms have few trademarks of the President—except a Democratic donkey framed on the wall of one.

A glass-wall garage exhibits the President's tired 1938 Ford in which he toured the countryside.

The Warm Springs Franklin D. Roosevelt Memorial Commission has been strengthening the structure before opening it to the public. Commission Chairman Ivan Allen says already thousands come every week just to gaze at the cottage from a distance.

The cottolito is a desert plant.

West Texas Has Plenty Of Shocks

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff

Whatever else El Paso has, it can claim more than its share of static electricity.

The whole, high, dry area is charged with it and anyone going there quickly attains a personal if not a scientific interest in the subject.

Thirty minutes after we registered at an El Paso hotel, we were on the telephone, complaining to the management that the building was short-circuited and that electricity was flying out of the radiators, light switches and elevator buttons.

The management just laughed. It was an old complaint.

"It isn't the hotel," the man said, "it's you. You've been scuffing your feet on the rugs and building up static electricity in side you. The spark is jumping from you to the elevator button, not from the button to you. Just pick up your feet."

'Supercharged' West.

In Dallas, a couple of electrical engineers told us that El Paso and, indeed, all of West Texas, is supercharged with static electricity.

Friction causes it—the friction, for instance, of dry air against an automobile.

"The friction of a sandstorm on a West Texas fence frequently builds up a high charge," L. H. Cardwell, one of the engineers, said. "Many a lonesome cowboy riding alone a fence after a sandstorm has gotten a bad jolt."

Cardwell explained that automobiles in dry areas build up charges because the insulation of the rubber tires prevents the charge from running off to the pavement. So when you walk up and grasp the door handle, the shock you get is just the static electricity finding its way to the ground, through you.

"When a spark jumps at you," Cardwell said, "you are getting a lot of voltage. A half-inch spark means 15,000 to 20,000 volts."

Not Deadly.

Such voltage is uncomfortable, not deadly. Only an electrical current is deadly, and there is no such current in static electricity.

But static electricity can be terribly dangerous in another way, 57-year-old, brown-eyed Paul G. Bentley, the other electrical engineer stated.

"It can set off explosions," he stated. "Refineries guard against static electricity exploding vapors.

Flour mills take precautions against dust explosions. Machinery in such industries is grounded with great care to prevent the building up of charges. Those chains you see dangling from gasoline trucks carry potentially dangerous charges to the pavement."

The moist-aired Gulf Coast is singularly free of static electricity, Bentley stated. He added:

"During my lifetime, I've run into several people who were always full of electricity. I don't know why and neither did they. Every time you'd shake hands with them, you'd get a shock."

April Is The Time To Fill Up Those Butane Tanks

April is a month whose balmy weather, bursting blossoms and trilling birds have inspired many a poet to ecstatic rhyme. All of which is okay with Felix Cox, but he has a prosaic suggestion for Midlanders: if you had trouble keeping a supply of butane gas in your tank last Winter, put in a larger storage tank and have it filled in April.

Good Neighbor Group To Meet March 25-26

AUSTIN —(AP)—The teaching of Spanish in Texas public schools has been abandoned "to an alarming degree" in the past three years. Reporting this conclusion after a survey of schools by the State Department of Education and the Good Neighbor Commission, Tom S. Sutherland said the problem will be discussed when the commission meets March 25 and 26.

Sutherland is the commission's executive secretary.

Other subjects to be discussed by the Good Neighbor group are adult education on the problems of strengthening relations between Anglo-Americans and Latin Americans, collaboration of local authorities with the commission, and a fact-finding survey of practices that "endanger the good relations between Anglo and Mexican-American people."

Suit For 'Miracle' Film Profits Lost In Battle

BOSTON —(AP)—A Boston clothier has lost his suit for a share in profits of 20th Century-Fox Film Corporation's motion picture "Miracle" on 34th Street.

Federal Judge Charles E. Wyman, Jr., ruled that the movie was not copied from Ralph J. Burns' book "An Angel On Horseback," written in 1946.

Burns charged the film corporation with infringement of copyright. Judge Wyman said there was no credible evidence the defendant had actual access to or had ever heard of the book.

He ruled the substance of the picture was derived from a manuscript prepared by Valentine Davies in July, 1945.

HOSPITAL BEDS INCREASE

WASHINGTON —(AP)—Twenty years ago there were seven hospital beds per 1,000 population in the United States. Today there are more than 10.

It seems that production of butane is higher during April than during any other month of the year. Some months are too hot for high production; others are too cold. April is perfect.

Propane Gas
When installing that larger storage tank, it would be an excellent idea to put in one adaptable to butane or propane, Cox advises. Propane gas is even better as a home heating and cooking fuel than butane, but it requires a heavier tank. It usually is available, whereas heavy industrial demands on butane production makes the latter hard to get much of the time. Cox plans to install equipment here to handle propane in time for the rush next Winter.

By the way, the Cox-Cubit service station in the 2600 block of West Wall is expected to be open about the middle of this month. Phillips petroleum products, gas, electric and butane appliances, and other items will be featured. Also, a cafe adjacent to station will be opened soon. Both cafe and service station are new, nice, and will be open day and night. Plenty of parking space will make it more convenient to patronize the new establishments.

Income Tax Pains May Be Less Painful Worry

WASHINGTON —(AP)—The March 15 income tax deadline may be less painful for you than it seems.

The Treasury expects to refund more than $40 on the average to over half of the 55,000,000 taxpayers. It already has shelled out $237,000,000 to $5,400,000 early birds who sent in their final 1947 returns in a hurry, officials said.

Toward the end of February refunds checks were going out at a 1,600,000-a-week clip.

The Treasury hopes to clean up the refund job, except for some complicated cases, by July 1, turning back $1,400,000,000 to over 30,000,000 persons who overpaid their taxes.

The island of Yap, now controlled by the United States, was formerly ruled successfully by Spanish, Germans and Japanese.

Color And Comfort Keynote Men's Wear

NEA Service
Bright color is invading the male wardrobe on an ever growing scale. Even functional sportswear, long confined to the duller end of the spectrum, is surrendering to the influence of sunny colors. A pioneer in this trend is the noted sports apparel house of Berkay, now introducing a poplin casual jacket in pastel tones. When it comes to leisure wear, men are likely to outdo women in the gaiety of their ensembles.

A trend toward more comfort is another keynote of the Spring style picture, dramatically illustrated by the ingenious Daks trouser. Tailored by Britain's famous S. Simpson Ltd., Daks completely do away with the need for a belt. The secret is in the snug elastic waistband which conceals five sponge rubber pads. Result: slacks stay up and shirt stays

C. H. Cook Purchases Paint Store Here

C. H. (Carl) Cook Thursday announced he has purchased Poe's Paints at 121 East Wall Street and has changed the name of the firm to Westex Glidden Paint Store. The change in ownership is effective immediately.

The store has in stock a full line of Glidden's Time-Tested house and industrial paints and painters' supplies. Wallpaper and linoleum in hundreds of designs and patterns, and venetian blinds also are stocked.

Cook, who came here recently from Big Spring, has been in the paint business since 1942 with the exception of three and a half years spent in the Army. He formerly resided in San Angelo. He said he looked over several Texas cities before selecting a business location and chose Midland because it is the liveliest and most progressive city he found.

Dancehall Fire Trial Reset In Venue Change

FREDERICKSBURG —(AP)— The state is scheduled to make a second attempt April 26 at San Saba to try a Lampasas sailor charged in the fatal dancehall fire here last Christmas night.

The sailor is William Doyle Biddy, 22, charged with tampering with a butane gas stove at the dancehall shortly before the place became engulfed in flames.

Four persons died in the tragedy. They were Mrs. Otto Seipp, 52, wife of the dancehall proprietor, and Mrs. Benno Eckhardt, 53, both of Fredericksburg, and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Petri, both of San Antonio. The first trial opened here Monday, but Judge Thomas Ferguson ordered the transfer after difficulty was experienced in trying to obtain a jury.

Kleberg Urges More Foot-Mouth Spending

SAN ANTONIO —(AP)— Cattleman Richard M. Kleberg says he believes the foot and mouth disease in Mexico should be stamped out "even if it costs the American people a billion dollars."

He told 200 members of the Lions Club here that the joint U. S.-Mexico campaign was "wholly ineffective."

"The only solution is for the United States government to go into Mexico, buy up all infected cattle, replace them with clean stock, and destroy all diseased beasts—even if this plan should cost the American people a billion dollars."

Kmetz Predicts Reds Will Overrun Europe

SAN FRANCISCO —(AP)— John T. Kmetz, assistant secretary of labor, predicted Thursday that all of Western Europe would be under Communism within a year.

Here for an observance of the 35th anniversary of the Department of Labor, Kmetz said in an interview:

"If the Marshall Plan is not put into quick operation, it is bound to be this way if the Russians maintain their momentum."

"A few days ago it was Czechoslovakia. A few days from now it will be Finland. The preliminary operation is already under way in Norway. Then what happens to Sweden? How long would she be able to stand that kind of pressure?"

Texas Church Women's Council Endorses Six Civil Rights Proposals

DALLAS —(AP)— The Texas Council of Church Women Thursday was on record as favoring six of President Truman's ten civil rights points.

Mrs. C. G. Eldson of Waco said, however, that no political significance is attached to the council's action, taken here Wednesday at a conference.

Mrs. Eldson said the women endorsed these points:

1. To strengthen the machinery for protecting civil rights of all people and for states to set up permanent commissions on civil rights to complement a federal commission on civil rights.
2. The right to safety and security against lynching, police brutality, involuntary servitude and injustice in courts.
3. The right of everyone to citizenship and its privileges of voting.

Russians Return Two More Lend-Lease Ships

YOKOHAMA —(AP)— Two more lend-lease tankers have been returned to the United States by Russia, at a time of critical world shortage of such vessels.

The tankers are the former Swaneau and the Paul Dunbar. They were brought to Yokohama by Russian crews. American crews will be flown here to sail the ships to the Persian Gulf for oil to relieve the shortage along the U. S. East coast.

The first lend-lease ship to be returned by the Russians was delivered to an American crew last week in Hong Kong.

Four other tankers are to be brought here, and a fifth is slated for delivery at Trieste.

United States Faces Peril, Jones Thinks

HOUSTON —(AP)—The United States today faces its greatest peril since the time of the formation of the Bill of Rights, Jesse H. Jones, former secretary of commerce and wartime head of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, believes. Jones made his remarks to a group of 150 Oklahoma City businessmen who stopped here while en route home from a five-day visit to Mexico City.

"I have never been known as a pessimist," the Houston financier and newspaper publisher said. "In fact I have always bent over backward to be an optimist. But it looks to me like there is trouble in the future for us. World conditions now are as discouraging as they possibly can be."

'Eyes Of Hope' Rest On Christians In America

VIRGINIA, MINN. —(AP)—The back page of the Virginia Methodist Church bulletin for November 23, 1947, carried a picture of a little girl, eyes lifted to heaven. The caption read, "Eyes of Hope."

Somewhere, a copy reached Bremen, Germany. It was found by Emil Rex, a Bremen resident with a wife and 18-month-old son to be fed and clothed.

Rex, using the picture caption as his theme, wrote the church, asking aid. Perhaps, he said, it is to American Christians to whom people such as he can look with eyes of hope. He enclosed the bulletin. Recently, 44 pounds of food and clothing left the church in two boxes consigned to Rex.

Collegiate Goats Live in Artistic Barn

The 40-foot mural on this barn was painted by students at Marietta (Ohio) College from a medieval design by artist Franc Epping, of Lenox, Mass. It shows the Archangel Gabriel ousting Satan, represented by a dragon, from heaven. The barn houses a herd of 20 goats on the farm near Lower Salem, Ohio, owned by Swiss-born Prof. Fritz Marti, who teaches philosophy and medieval art at Marietta. In photo, his daughter, Judith, 13, holds one of the goats while calling in the herd.

Rugged Dallas Rooster Is Granted Reprieve

DALLAS —(AP)—Jim, a tough West Dallas rooster with a bad record, received a stay of sentence just five minutes before his neck was to go on the chopping block.

Justice of the Peace W. E. Richburg granted the last minute reprieve after a plea from one of Jim's victims, Miss Carolyn Sue Manes, aged two.

Jim's criminal record includes assault on three children and theft from neighborhood chicken troughs. He also is a vagrant.

The law stepped in after his attack on Carolyn Sue.

Richburg decreed death, then Carolyn Sue made a plea for mercy.

The judge, jury and executioner—Richburg—delayed sentence until at least March 8. Then Jim goes on the auction block. The West Dallas social center will benefit from his disposal.

Choose your kitchen as you would your wardrobe! Your kitchen, as well as the other rooms of your home should be designed not only for comfort and efficiency, but should also be decorated for the charm of personal living.

In selecting a wardrobe, you usually start with a few good basic items and choose accessories for variety and color. Kitchen planning works on the same principle. Basically, your kitchen is a work-room and should be planned to simplify kitchen duties and shorten kitchen hours.

An efficient kitchen is designed around work centers. The refrigerator or food storage center provides storage space for fresh and frozen foods. Lighted cabinets store staples and canned goods, and also provide storage for utensils and work surfaces for food preparation and the use of small appliances. The range center should be near the simplify kitchen duties and shorten serving distances.

Your work centers can be arranged in any one of four basic designs—U-shaped, L-shaped, two-wall, or one-wall—depending on the size and shape of your room.

The U-shaped kitchen is an ideal arrangement, offering good spacing

Stamps From Three Nations Honor 'Confusion' Land

Rival claims in the Antarctic by Argentina, Chile and the British Empire's Falkland Islands Dependencies are portrayed on these three postage stamps issued last year. The claims of the three nations all overlap one another. To add to the confusion, the U.S. does not recognize the land claims. The U.S. Board of Geographical Names calls the disputed area "Palmer Peninsula," in honor of Capt. Nathaniel B. Palmer, who explored the mainland south of Deception Island in 1820.

Bergen Without Charlie McCarthy Compared To Man Without Life

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff

No wonder you think of Charlie McCarthy as a real person. So does Edgar Bergen.

On their recent tour of Texas, the two held a news conference at a Dallas hotel. McCarthy didn't make his entrance at first. Bergen was there, greeting guests and looking a bit grim.

The whole Bergen troupe was present, including Ray Noble, mous-tached, British-born orchestra leader; Anita Gordon, the attractive singer from Corsicana, Texas, and Pat Patrick, who plays the effeminate Errol Ewing. Patrick is a long way from effeminate—he's a rugged six-foot-two with poundage to match. There were press agents at the conference and advance agents and various managers.

One guest commented: "It's really something when you stop to think all these people depend on the freak voice of one man."

"How did you like Houston?" he asked Bergen.

Charlie Livens Party "They treated me fine there," he said. "It's a wide-awake, up-and-coming place. If you go to sleep in Houston, you're likely to lose your pants."

Then Bergen began talking about what Charlie had said in Houston, Galveston and New Orleans. Charlie had been an imp in all three places and Bergen had been nervous the whole time. "I never knew what he would say next."

Photographers arrived. One of the managers went out and got Charlie, carrying him gently. Once in the arms of Bergen, Charlie threw wisecracks and whistled at the girls.

Bergen brightened considerably. While the photographers took pictures, Charlie sang "Jesus Was My For A Sunbeam" and each time a flash bulb went off he jumped with mock fright.

"Worst Thing Yet" "Make me up a dozen glossy prints, boys!" He leered at a middle-aged picture taker.

Then Charlie was taken away by the manager and one of the guests got into a conversation with Bergen. He told the ventriloquist he had seen the Bergen-McCarthy act at a dinner on the West Coast last year.

"That was the dinner," said the guest, "that someone who wasn't supposed to bring Charlie in at all grabbed him by one leg and came tralling him into the banquet room."

Bergen remembered. A look of deep pain that crossed his face. "That was the worst thing that ever happened," he said. "That was really terrible."

You could see him suffering the event all over again, wincing at the humiliation Charlie had endured. This was Bergen without a stage mask, the fellow who thinks his dummy is alive.

Newlywed Deer Couple Have 2,500 Offspring

SACRAMENTO, CALIF.—(P)—Those two newlywed deer who were taken to Catalina Island for their honeymoon in 1928 now have 2,500 descendants—who are so hungry they're eating poison oak leaves. They've even climbed two flights of steps to eat potted plants on the porch of the William Wrigley home. That's the story told the State Fish and Game Commission. The island, deerless until 1928, now has too many for the available food supply. Yet tourists would be endangered if hunting were permitted. It was suggested the deer be rounded up and placed in a pen. The commission decided to study the situation.

Czech's Plight

There is something weird and nightmarish about the news from Czechoslovakia. It brings a feeling that all this has happened before. And it finds the world looking on helplessly.

It is nearly 10 years since Hitler moved into Czechoslovakia, with the blindly hopeful connivance of Chamberlain and Daladier at Munich. It is within a few days of nine years since Hitler dissolved the Czechoslovakian republic. Now history is repeating itself in that unhappy country.

The present Communist uprising shows minor variations in the Nazi pattern, but the essentials are the same.
 The Communists had a legitimate majority in the Czech government, just as Hitler had a more-or-less legitimate position in the Sudetenland. But partial power would not satisfy either.

In 1933 the Nazis fired the Reichstag building and blamed the Communists as an excuse to start a reign of purge and terror. In 1948 the Communists charged President Benes' party with a plot to overthrow the government. And until there is proof to the contrary, it is safe to believe that their excuse was as phony, their motives the same, as the Nazis'.

The Russian Communists have been aided by native adherents in Czechoslovakia and the Balkans, just as the Nazis were in Czechoslovakia and Austria. But in each case officials have been on hand from headquarters to direct the show. In the present instance it is Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Zorin.

There are other parallels, but there is also one big difference. The Communists are having a much easier time of it. Europe was literally up in arms over Hitler's demands in 1938. War was postponed because Chamberlain and Daladier believed, or professed to believe, that the Sudetenland would satisfy Hitler's hunger for territory and power.

Today scarcely a voice is raised. There seem to be two main reasons. This seizure of power in Czechoslovakia is ostensibly a domestic matter, though neither the UN nor any of its members can be so naive as to think this is actually the case. Further, nobody wants to go to war to save Czechoslovakia's independence. And even if anyone did, no country except the U.S. could undertake the job.

Perhaps the fate of Czechoslovakia is no sadder than the fate of Finland, Poland, Hungary, and the Baltic and Balkan countries. Yet there is a difference. The Czech government was a good neighbor to Russia, less through fear than through choice. The honest, courageous Dr.
 Benes treated the Communists fairly. But he also preserved some elements of democracy in spite of heavy pressure.

Now that is gone. Freedom has been snuffed out in another country. The iron curtain is drawn halfway across Europe. It will be drawn farther wherever Russia finds a country where the government is so weak or the Communists so strong that it can repeat its familiar tactics.
 In the face of this, prolonged debate over whether Europe needs, and we can afford, a Marshall Plan seems dangerously academic.

Let's Do The Whole Job

Russia's Andrei Gromyko has told the UN Atomic Energy Commission again that his government will not accept any international control agency until America's stockpile of atomic bombs has been destroyed.

It is almost 30 months since the world learned about the atomic bomb. Other governments have certainly sought to duplicate it. Some may have succeeded. Will Gromyko's government agree to international inspection, just in case America's stockpile isn't the only one to be destroyed?

When Will Dudley's missus finally gave in to the new-style longer skirts, Will was mighty critical at first. Allowed as how women were a slave to fashion... ought to dress to please their husbands and not style designers.
 Sue finally reminded Will of his habit of sitting by the radio Saturday afternoons in shirt sleeves and old slippers, listening to the sportscasts with a mellow glass of beer. Suggested that maybe Will was a slave to comfort.
 And Will admitted she was right.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

The Strange Dream-World Of Candidate Henry Wallace

By PETER EDSON
 NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Henry Wallace left out a whole lot of paragraphs when he appeared before the House Foreign Affairs Committee to read his 12,000 word statement against the European Recovery Program. Perhaps the most important lines omitted were:

"While the Russians felt that they had reasons to doubt the sincerity of the invitation to them, I think they made a mistake by withdrawing from the Paris meeting."

This sentence is notable because it is almost the only comment Wallace made that was at all critical of Soviet Russia. Aside from that one thing—withdrawal from the Paris Conference at which the 16 European nations drew up their requirements for a four-year recovery plan—everything the Russians do is apparently Jake with Henry. The fault is all with the U.S.—the American imperialists who want to intervene in Europe.

This most recent Washington appearance of Wallace's was one of the strangest performances within memory. All the 25 congressmen on the committee gave the man credit for being sincere. Not one accused him of demagoguery, of playing to the grandstand or making a political speech. They wanted to understand him. Yet what he had to say was completely baffling. He seemed to be living in a dream world in which the only realities were what he wanted to believe. He was a good bit like Walter Mitty in the movie.

"What is the difference between your plan and the Communist plan?" Sol Bloom (D-NY) asked Wallace.
 He said he wasn't familiar with the Communist plan. All he knew was that the countries of Eastern Europe were being shut out from Western Europe.

The fact that Moscow had compelled Poland and Czechoslovakia to stay out of the Marshall Plan, Wallace seemed to ignore. ERP, Wallace told Congressmen Karl Mundt (R-SD), was American intervention in the affairs of countries overseas.
 "Don't you feel the Communists are intervening in Eastern Europe?"
 Mundt asked. Wallace said he didn't know the extent to which they were intervening. "It is impossible to know what the truth is, based on the American press," he said.

Wallace's own plan is for a UN Recovery Program run like UNRRA.
 Every country should contribute.
 Wallace puts the cost at $5,000,000-000 a year for 10 years. The U.S. gave 75 per cent of the UNRRA total. Wallace hopes it would have to pay only 50 per cent of the UN

How to Put Up with Women's Styles

Perhaps the way somebody dresses isn't always to our taste—just as Will's glass of beer may be another person's cider.
 But from where I sit, those little differences aren't important—unless we go out of our way to make them so, by being hypocritical.
 As Will says now: "Well, anyway, those long skirts hide a multitude of shins"—and lets it go at that!

Try A Plateful Of Nourishment

Men like an attractively served vegetable plate.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

A variety of plentiful vegetables assembled into "a vegetable dinner" can solve the meat problem. Arrange them attractively, contrasting color and consistency. Using bright and dark colors, such as greens, yellows, red, brown and white, and fibrous vegetables and more tender ones. Cook them all freshly and serve with a sauce. These vegetable dinners are protein rich, remember, and have lots of nutrition and taste appeal. Parsley, Turnips (3-6 servings)

One bunch white turnips, 1/4 cup fortified margarine, 2 tablespoons finely chopped parsley. Remove tops from turnips; scrub; pare and cut in cubes. Cook in boiling salted water 20-35 minutes or until tender. Drain. Melt margarine, add parsley and pour over diced turnips.

Broccoli With Easy Hollandaise (3-6 servings) One large bunch broccoli, 3/4 cup real mayonnaise, 1/3 cup milk, dash of salt and pepper, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, dash grated lemon rind.

Remove tough outer leaves and ends of stalks of broccoli. Let stand in cold water 15-20 minutes. Rinse thoroughly in cold running water. Peel and split stalks. Cook in boiling salted water 15-20 minutes or until tender. Drain. Combine mayonnaise, milk and season with salt and pepper. Cook over low heat until thickened. Add lemon juice and rind and serve over cooked broccoli.

Sliced Carrots With Mushrooms (3-6 servings) Six to eight large carrots, 1/4 cup fortified margarine, 1/2 cup canned button mushrooms. Scrape carrots and slice the long way. Cook in boiling salted water until tender. Melt margarine, add mushrooms and heat thoroughly. Serve over carrots.

Texas Dams Future May Hinge On Jug

AUSTIN —(AP)—The future of contemplated Texas dams may hinge on a jug of water.

Twenty-seven Texas "sampling" stations are being maintained through state, federal and local funds to analyze the quality of water caught in jugs at regular intervals from flowing streams.

The work, directed through the Geological Survey and the Texas Board of Water Engineers, is done by the State Ground Water Division.

In a report on aims and purposes of the division, directors E. E. Irelan and W. W. Hastings point out that such studies are essential in determining to what uses the water in question may be put and whether contemplated water project would be worthwhile.

Now in operation, according to the report, are sampling stations on Red River at Denison Dam, Sulphur River at Darden, Elm Creek near Shamrock, Sabine River at Ruliff, Neches River at Evadale, Trinity River at Romayer, Oakwood and below Liberty; San Jacinto River at Huffman; Brazos River at South Bend, Possum Kingdom Dam, near Whitney and Richmond; Colorado River at Colorado City, Robert Lee, San Saba, Austin and Wharton; Guadalupe River near Victoria; Nueces River near Mathis; Rio Grande at Mission pumping plant; Pecos River at Orla and Grandfalls; Toyah Creek below Toyah Lake; and at drains in the Rio Grande Valley.

Story Of 'The Bell' That Did Not Toll Has Dramatic End

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD

This story beats anything Poe had to say about the bells. The Bell in this story tolled clear from Gibraltar, courtesy U. S. Navy.

Bob McCracken, husky, amiable managing editor of the Corpus Christi Caller-Times, told me about the bells in a Juarez, Mexico, night club, just before the floor show started. McCracken polished off a steak, lighted a cigarette, settled back in his chair and began talking. Here's the story.

So many Corpus Christi boys signed on the cruiser Houston during the war that someone decided the ship should carry the old bell of the city's former volunteer fire department. The bell long had been in "kitchens" after all, Corpus Christi has had paid firemen for decades.

The Navy accepted and the bell was installed on the cruiser. Had An Idea Last year, Roy Miller died. Roy Miller, you'll remember, was one of the most capable lobbyists the Southwest ever sent to Washington. Before he took to the national scene, he had been mayor and outstanding citizen of Corpus Christi. His orations will be long-remembered along the Gulf Coast. And he was for years a sponsor and supporter of Corpus Christi's old volunteer fire department.

The day Miller died, Tom Cahill appeared in front of McCracken's desk. Cahill was a town character, an elderly plumber with the map of Ireland on his face. He was also a former member of the old volunteer fire department.

"I have an idea," said the colorful Cahill. "You remember the bell we gave to the cruiser Houston?"

"I remember," McCracken replied. "Wanted Bell Told"

"I want the Navy to make a recording of the bell and fly it to Corpus Christi. I want it tolled at Mr. Miller's funeral."

"We don't know where the cruiser is and the funeral is two days away."

"The Navy will do it," said Cahill. "If Congressman John Lyle asks them. All I want you to do is to ask Mr. Lyle."

"I'll see what can be done," McCracken said eagerly.

"You'll do it now," said Cahill. "The funeral of Roy Miller was held. Weeks passed. Then one day a big box arrived at the Caller-Times for Bob McCracken."

The box was from the U. S. Navy, a recording of the bell of the cruiser Houston. The Navy had found the cruiser at Gibraltar. McCracken took the records home and played them on his phonograph. It was just bong, bong, bong, for 45 minutes.

McCracken gave the records to Cahill who was delighted.

"We'll play them at all public occasions," he said.

Several months ago Cahill died. By this time, the recording had been forgotten. For him, the bell did not toll.

Prague Theater Denied American Film Show

PRAGUE, CZECHOSLOVAKIA—An American film dealing with underground resistance to German occupation and starring Charles Laughton was withdrawn recently after a 1-day run at a Prague theater.

The film, Czech title of which meant "Crushed Country," was shown at Kino Svoboda (Cinema Freedom). Another American film, "Love Letters," starring Joseph Cotton, was substituted.

In Los Angeles, Laughton said the United States title of the picture was "This Land Is Mine" and was directed by Jean Renoir. Laughton said he was "not exactly surprised" that it had been withdrawn in Prague, since it was "a strong picture against occupation of any kind."

Salmon Souffle Is Delicious, Protein-Rich Dish

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Looking for a sure-fire meatless main dish? Then serve salmon souffle. Everyone likes it and the meatless protein in it will keep your menus up to nutritional standards.

Here are two tested versions.

Salmon Souffle
(8 servings)

Two cans (7 3/4 ounce size) salmon, flaked, 2 cups salmon liquid and milk, 5 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon celery salt, 1/8 teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon minced onion, 1 tablespoon parsley, 3 egg yolks, beaten until thick and lemon-colored, 3 egg whites, stiffly beaten.

Drain salmon and add enough milk to liquid to make 2 cups.

For a Lenten treat, try salmon souffle in individual servings.

Combine tapioca, salt, celery salt, pepper, onion and salmon liquid in saucepan. Bring mixture to a full boil over direct heat, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and add salmon and parsley. Cool slightly while beating eggs. Add egg yolks and mix well. Fold into egg whites. Turn into greased baking dish. Place in pan of hot water and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 1 hour, or until souffle is firm.

Salmon Souffle.
Two and one half cups salmon, lemon juice, 1 1/2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine, 1 1/2 tablespoons flour, 1 cup milk, 4 egg yolks, slightly beaten, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 cup bread crumbs, 4 egg whites, beaten stiff, lemon slices, parsley.

Flake salmon and sprinkle with lemon juice. Blend flour with melted butter and add milk, beaten egg yolks and salt. Stir in salmon and bread crumbs. Fold in egg whites. Pour in greased baking dish and set in a pan of hot water. Bake 30 minutes in a moderate oven. Garnish with lemon slices and parsley.

Berlin Newspaper Is Banned By Russians

BERLIN —(AP)—The Soviet military administration has ordered the Russian-licensed newspaper Berlin Am Mittag to cease publication.

The Soviet order, first of its kind in postwar Berlin, was to punish the paper for repeated violation of Allied press directives prohibiting malicious criticism of the occupying powers. It has attacked the United States, Britain and France. The paper previously had sustained fines and several minor suspensions.

Man Who Killed 75 With No Regrets Goes To See What Happens

MCALISTER, OKLA. —(AP)—Rich Owens has gone to find out what happens.

He was the official executioner of Oklahoma, and one of the toughest men in this not-so-tender state — wiry, weatherbeaten, and hard. "I'm not afraid to die," he said defiantly all his life, and he wasn't afraid when cancer of the liver took him recently.

In his 67 years Rich killed 75 men himself — with no regrets. Owens executed 66 men in the electric chair, and hanged another. The others were killed in personal fights, prison riots or escape attempts.

Four times he was tried for murder, and four times acquitted. "Time to go," he said. "When it comes, he goes. I never give it a thought."

He had a fabulous reputation for hardness.

In 1937 two life-termers attacked him with hatchet and knife. They bound his hands behind him with barbed wire, put the knife to his back, and started to march out of prison here with Rich as hostage.

"Start shooting Pat!" he yelled, and turned himself backwards to the ground.

Pat shot, the convicts attacked Rich. Rich worked his hands free, grabbed the knife blade with his bare fingers and hurled himself into the savage struggle. He killed one of the convicts by ripping the knife through his neck bones. Then he chased the other and smashed his head with the shovel.

Agricultural leaders estimate that electrically operated equipment has enabled farmers to grow a third more crop in 10 per cent less time.

Kindness Of Landlord Is Repaid Through Will

PHILADELPHIA —(AP)—The will of a lonely, 71-year-old bachelor disclosed he left everything he had — $1,300 — to the landlord who was "wonderfully kind to me."

William Wiseman Chormann who died February 5, explained in the will that hard times hit him after the firm for which he worked in 1942 went out of business.

My clothing has worn out and I am sure a mess," he wrote. "Living costs were up and his funds were 'going fast.'"

But his landlord, Max Hess, let him stay on in the five-room house which he rented for $16 a month — less than half the standard charge for the area.

Even when Hess had a chance to sell the house, Chormann wrote, he turned down the offer so that his tenant could stay.

Texas Gets 40 New Industries In January

AUSTIN —(AP)—Forty new industries began operations in 21 Texas cities during January.

The Texas Employment Commission said this reflected "natural advantages of power, climate, raw materials and markets."

The largest of the new industries were a garment factory at Vernon and an air-conditioning factory at Corsicana, each employing 200 persons.

Other new industries included a sportswear factory at Dublin with 41 workers; an electric generator factory at Lubbock, 20; a ladies' coat factory at Dallas, 26; metal bottle cap concern, Dallas, 23; work gloves manufacturing plant, Jefferson, 68; juke goods factory at Galveston, 30.

The new industries will give employment to 787 persons.

Pioneer Records Net Earnings Of $54,224

HOUSTON — The stockholders and directors of Pioneer Air Lines were told by President Robert J. Smith that net earnings of $54,224 were recorded in 1947 while 2,217,870 miles of scheduled flights were completed.

Smith, who pointed out that Pioneer recently had been granted 770 miles of new routes in New Mexico, outlined the company's progress to the group.

"Financially, we have progressed, but our greatest progress is in the number of passengers safely flown, the amount of air mail, air freight and air express carried to Texas destinations," he declared. The 1947 earnings of $54,224 in contrast to a deficit of $62,384.08 in 1946 and $17,380.39 in 1945, Smith said.

The stockholders elected Charles B. White of Houston as a new director and re-elected Maj. W. E. Long, Smith, Lang Wharton and Wes Hickman, all of Dallas; Harold B. Seifert and Raymond Pearson, both of Houston, and Gene Howe of Amarillo.

The Long Arch Of Coincidence

An architectural controversy is raging over the $40,000-prize-winning design, left, for the Jefferson National Expansion Monument in St. Louis, Mo. In a letter to the jury which selected the winning design, Gilmore D. Clarke, New York landscape architect, declared that the dominating feature of the design, the arch, bears a striking resemblance to one approved by Mussolini for a Fascist exhibition in Rome in 1942, shown on poster at right. Clarke asked whether "it is appropriate to perpetuate the memory of Thomas Jefferson . . . by constructing a monument similar to one created to glorify 20 years of fascism in Italy."
