Peace Hopes Rekindled By Pope's Visit

Pope Vows To Continue Peace Quest

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI came home today from the papacy's first transatlantic pilgrimage, a day-long quest for world brotherhood, and vowed he would "continue to work as much as possible" for peace.

He returned to a red carpet welcome in his see of Rome and said that his striving for world peace was "a fundamental point of our program—that is, of our ministry."

". . . We bless all we meet on this difficult but luminous way."

The mission that cast the papacy in a new international role seemed to have refreshed the Pope. He did not show fatigue after the lightning 30-hour journey. Instead he had the appearance of being satisfied with a mission accomplished.

He was also thankful. He said in his arrival remarks that "a sentiment of gratitude rises in our heart to the Lord for the good inspiration He gave us to undertake this voyage."

The Roman Catholic pontiff issued a separate "message to the peoples of the world" thanking them for following his trip and promising to seek peace "with all our force."

Forty-five minutes after his American jet airliner landed at Rome's Leonardo da Vinci airport, he was back in the Vatican. His limousine drove through St. Peter's Square where several thousand persons lined the route and cheered.

Prelates of the Vatican Ecumenical Council greeted him on the steps of St. Peter's Basilica, and he immediately entered to report to them on his mission.

Speaking in Latin, the pontiff said:

"Now more than ever before we must be workers for peace. The Catholic Church has put upon itself a greater obligation to serve the cause of peace, owing to the fact that, through our voyage, it has solemnly defended the cause."

He said it is not the duty nor the intention of the church to enter the political and economic fields of the temporal world. But he added that it is the duty of the church to help build civil peace by constantly supporting it both morally and on certain occasions materially.

Pope Paul noted that the Vatican council is debating a schema on modern world problems, designed to improve contacts between the Roman Catholic Church and the contemporary world.

He said therefore the church's work for peace already is under way.

He returned to his apartment just 38 hours and 20 minutes after he left there Monday.

Unlike his quiet departure before dawn Monday, he returned to a ceremonious welcome and to cheers of several thousand Romans along his route.

ON UNION SHOP

It's Demos' Turn At Filibustering

WASHINGTON (AP) — Southern Democrats take over from Republicans today a filibuster aimed at killing repeal of a ban on union shops.

A veteran of several civil rights filibusters, Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., will captain the Dixie forces for the day as they try to block with words Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield's motion to bring the repeal bill to the floor.

The filibuster began Monday under the leadership of Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, and Wednesday GOP senators will hold the fort again. For this newly forged coalition of 25 Southern and Republican senators has decided to alternate daily efforts to frustrate the White House-backed drive for passage.

Administration forces have decided to leave most of the talking to opponents for the time being. Mansfield, their leader, skipped Monday's session to be in New York for the visit of Pope Paul VI.

The bill to repeal Section 14B of the Taft-Hartley law was passed by the House July 28 and is on President Johnson's list of "must" legislation.

[illegible] are anxious to have the Taft-Hartley law provision repealed, for under it 19 states have made the union shop illegal. A union shop agreement is one in which employes covered by the union contract are required to join a union.

To crack a filibuster requires two-thirds of the senators present and voting, and supporters of the bill confess they haven't got the votes to accomplish this.

Dirksen said time is on his side. "Members of Congress are fatigued and battle-weary," he said. "They want to go home."

He said his staff has compiled 3,000 editorials on the subject and commented: "I may be compelled to read all 3,000 and more."

81 Killed In African Rail Disaster

DURBAN, South Africa (AP) — Enraged Negroes beat a white railwayman to death Monday night after South Africa's worst train disaster.

The headquarters of the South African Railways said the casualty count so far stood at 81 dead and 130 injured. First reports after the derailment of a commuter train had said the death toll might reach 150 with nearly 200 injured.

Negro survivors turned on W. Hartslief, 20, a signalman, and another white railwayman when they rushed to the scene. Hartslief was battered to death with stones and pieces of wreckage, and the other railwayman was injured badly.

The last three coaches of the crowded rush-hour train left the tracks as the train was entering a suburban station, a preliminary inspection showed.

Screaming passengers spilled out for nearly a quarter mile along the track as the coaches overturned and broke apart.

Under glaring searchlights, doctors and rescuers combed the tangled mass of wood and metal for survivors. The cries of the injured and dying filled the air. Police vehicles took the bodies to a makeshift mortuary.

Negroes Try Again To Board Buses

CRAWFORDVILLE, Ga. (AP) —Negro pupils made another attempt today to board school buses with white children but the 28 demonstrators were hemmed in by state police. The buses pulled away and the Negroes left.

Hosea Williams, political education director for the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, said Negro leaders planned a teach-in at Alexander Stephens High School. The school was closed because all white pupils transferred after the school was desegregated this fall.

Reds Claim Plane Downed

TOKYO (AP) — Communist Chinese air force planes shot down a U.S. fighter plane over the China mainland today, Peking Radio claimed.

The Chinese language broadcast said the plane was one of four American aircraft that intruded over the mainland. It said the intrusion was into Kwangsi Province in southeast China at 12:28 p.m.

Chinese planes intercepted the aircraft and downed the one, the broadcast said.

Germans To Train At Fort Bliss

WASHINGTON (AP)—A West German Air Force anti-aircraft school, with about 1200 students, will be established at the U. S. Army Air Defense Center at Ft. Bliss, El Paso, Tex., beginning next spring.

The Pentagon said today the U. S. and German governments have concluded an agreement to establish the training facility.

The German surface-to-air missle school, with a staff of 280, now is located at Aachen, Germany.

Training costs of about $17 million a year will be paid by Germany.

The announcement said the transfer of the school to this country was proposed by the West German government and is an extension of cooperation in training other personnel in the United States.

A German staff and faculty will administer German personnel affairs, operate the school and conduct instruction in accord with German air force regulations but in consonance with regulations governing foreign nations at American installations.

Rebel Resistance Collapses In Java

By JOHN CANTWELL

SINGAPORE (AP) — Reports from Jakarta today said organized rebel resistance in central Java appears to have collapsed.

The reports, sent through diplomatic channels, said small pockets of rebel forces were still scattered throughout the central part of Indonesia's main island but these were believed to be ill armed and poorly led.

The diplomatic reports said an American businessman, who was not identified, drove the length of Java in the past two days and found very little fighting.

The American reportedly encountered rebel forces but found them quite friendly. He reported that many people he had spoken to in central Java were supporters of Lt. Col. Untung, the leader of the attempt last week to overthrow President Sukarno.

Radio Malaysia reported today that the army forces in control of Jakarta had begun a crackdown on Communists in the capital, arresting 200 Red supporters. Without giving the source of its report, it added that 5,000 people at a rally in Jakarta had demanded that the Indonesian Communist party be banned.

Jakarta Radio announced that Sukarno had called a meeting of his political and military high command Wednesday at his summer palace in Bogor, 40 miles south of the Indonesian capital. The meeting was expected to shed some light on the murky political situation in Indonesia.

Earlier the Malaysian government radio reported that fighting between government forces and pro-Communist rebels had broken out in sections of central Java. The broadcast did not give the source of the information.

The Radio Malaysia report said the rebels controlled several districts, including the Jogjakarta region 250 miles southeast of Jakarta. An earlier Malaysian report said army troops had retaken Jogjakarta after Communist elements captured it.

The army high command reportedly ordered the crack Siliwangi Division into central Java to clear out the rebels. The latter's main strength seemed to come from units of the region's Diponegoro Division.

Another Malaysian radio report said armed Communist units were using guerrilla tactics to harass government troops along the main roads between Jakarta, Bogor and the mountain resort of Bandung, 75 miles southeast of Jakarta.

First Use Of New Law Due

Chances are good that a new law, which went into effect Aug. 30, will be used here for the first time this week when first time offenders in criminal misdemeanor cases are given a chance for a probated sentence on a guilty plea.

The new law, called the Misdemeanor Probation Law, has caused considerable comment among officials of the police and legal agencies of the state.

County attorney George Killam said the law was designed to give first-time offenders another chance. Young offenders who get into trouble for the first time and are sent off to prison often find themselves in an environment where they might be influenced adversely by "hardened" criminals.

Thus the new law affords young offenders an opportunity for re-habilitation. Under terms of the law, County Judges may grant probated sentences to a person guilty of a misdemeanor wherein the maximum permissible punishment is by confinement in jail or by a fine in excess of $200 if:

(1) He applies in writing to the court for probation before trial;

(2) He has never before been convicted in this or another jurisdiction of a felony or of a misdemeanor for which the maximum permissible punishment is by confinement in jail or exceeds a $200 fine;

(3) He has not been granted probation nor been under probation under this Act or any other Act in the preceding five years;

(4) He has paid all costs of his [illegible] so much of any fine imposed as the court directs; and

(5) the court believes that the ends of justice and the best interests of society and of the defendant will be served by granting him probation.

If a defendant meets the first four requirements [illegible] and [illegible] jury recommends probation, the court must grant the defendant probation.

The court sets the terms of probation, but cannot extend the probationary period to any length of time exceeding the maximum time of confinement allowed by law.

[illegible] guilty plea under a probated sentence does not become final unless the probation is revoked due to violation of the terms of the probation. If the probation is served with good behaviour, the court's records may not reflect a final conviction.

Killam said a recent opinion given by the state attorney general's office holds that offenses of driving while intoxicated, first offense, come under the Misdemeanor Probation Law and such defendants are eligible for probation if they meet the provisions of the law.

The opinion also states that since the probated sentence is [illegible] the driver's license of such an offender is not automatically suspended unless he violates the terms of the probation, causing it to be revoked.

The County Attorney stated that, in his opinion, the effect of the new legislation would be to speed up the judicial process. Heretofore County Courts have been cluttered with cases, particularly of defendants who plead innocent to charges of driving while intoxicated.

"Rather than lose his driving privilege for six months, the average defendant will ask for a jury trial and plead innocent," explained Killam. In many instances the defense attorneys go into court and point out that a conviction also means the loss of a job by the only breadwinner of a family, he said. Employers testify they will discharge an employe who loses his driver's license and jurys consequently are reluctant to return a verdict of guilty. The defense at [illegible]

LBJ Sees New Move

By MALCOLM STEPHENSON

NEW YORK (AP) — President Johnson says Pope Paul VI's visit to New York "may be just what the world needs to get us thinking of how to achieve peace and getting us to make progress in that area."

The Pope said he was very happy that his 50-minute private conference with Johnson Monday "revolved about a mutual desire to work for peace."

After the first meeting of a President and Pope in this country, the two world leaders invited five newsmen to the living room of the presidential suite at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel to view a formal picture-taking session.

The two men spoke without notes. The Pope had an interpreter.

Johnson said he and Pope Paul discussed possible routes to peace and talked "in some detail" about current trouble spots in the world — India and Pakistan, Viet Nam, the Dominican Republic and others.

The President said "we discussed...the great progress made by the United Nations in trying to provide help in these trouble spots."

The two men, who conferred prior to the Pope's address to the United Nations, also discussed efforts to fight illiteracy and disease throughout the world the President said.

Johnson, speaking with obvious pride, said: "His Holiness expressed his pleasure at our not only talking about education and health but our acting on it in this country."

Pope Paul's interpreter relayed this statement to newsmen:

"His Holiness says he has come here to pay his respects to the President of the United States...and also to thank the President for having made this trip from Washington to New York to meet His Holiness. He is very happy that this discussion has revolved about a mutual desire to work for peace."

The Pope and Johnson sat on chairs for photographers, and Johnson invited the five reporters to approach the chairs.

Mrs. Johnson, dressed in black, joined the President and the Pope just before the Pope left the hotel to resume his fast-paced itinerary. The Johnsons' younger daughter, Luci Baines Johnson, who was baptized a Roman Catholic on her 18th birthday July 2, also was present.

The President is a member of the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ). His wife, Lady Bird is an Episcopalian.

Bill D. Moyers, White House press secretary, said at a news briefing later that during the conference Johnson addressed the Pope in the traditional form, "Your Holiness."

After the meeting with the Pope, Johnson introduced Vice President and Mrs. Hubert H. Humphrey, Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Arthur J. Goldberg, ambassador to the United Nations, and his wife.

At the news briefing, Moyers quoted Johnson as saying he was "stimulated and inspired" by the Pope's visit.

VFW Contributes To Minton Fund

Donations to the Minton Fund continue to come in with the latest donation — a $50 gift from the Veterans of Foreign Wars — boosting the total on hand in both banks to $186.50.

The fund is in honor of Jesse M. Minton, Scurry County Deputy Sheriff who was killed Tuesday, Sept. 21 in the line of duty while helping Colorado City authorities track down a fugitive. The money will be given to the officer's widow and family as an expression of appreciation for his services.

Contributions may be made to either the West Texas State or the Snyder National Bank.

India Reports Troop Penetration

NEW DELHI (AP) — India charged today that Pakistani troops had crossed the international frontier and penetrated 100 yards into Indian territory in Southwest Kashmir.

Pakistani troops "intruded into one of our positions" the Defense Ministry said in a communique.

Indian-Pakistani skirmishing in this area in August resulted in open conflict between the two nations that lasted 22 days.

Pakistani charged Monday that India ignored a cease-fire declared under United Nations auspices on Sept. 23 and was attacking in the Chhamb sector.

The Rev. John Duke, pastor of Northside Baptist Church, will officiate at the funeral service. Burial will be in the Snyder Cemetery, under direction of Bell-Seale Funeral Home.

Mrs. Peikert is survived by her husband; three daughters, Mrs. Dan Teague and Mrs. R. C. Holland, both of Snyder, and Mrs. Vernon Lilly of Irving; two sons, Lyndell of Oxnard, Calif., and Harold of Cortez, Colo.; three sisters, Mrs. Lilly Smith of Mendota Calif., Mrs. Allie Lowe of Lowake and Mrs. Ida Taylor of Houston.

City Seeks Bids On Fence Project

Snyder city councilmen decided last night to ask for bids on construction of a fence around the city's sewage disposal plant south of town.

George Lee, the city's general superintendent, told the council that he believed the property should be fenced because the plant is not manned 24 hours a day under the present system of operation.

The council also cleared the way for preparation of an ordinance which would close and abandon [illegible] way on Thirtieth Street extending from Austin Avenue westward to El Paso Avenue. That portion of Thirtieth Street recently was widened and curbed. The pavement width is 50 feet and City Manager George Patterson said the city has no need for more than 15 additional feet on each side of the paved portion. Such dimension leaves an unused strip ranging in width from about 74 feet to 24 feet. The ordinance will be presented for first reading at the next regular [illegible]

The council discussed the city's ordinance covering house-moving permits and then instructed the city manager and city attorney to make a study to determine whether a new ordinance should be prepared.

The Ira Water Supply Corp. was authorized to sell water to H. F. Clark at a farm south of town. Although outside the city limits, city approval was necessary under terms of the contract with the Ira organization because the site of potential service is within [illegible] miles of the city.

Text of an inscription to appear on a historical marker which the city had authorized several months ago was approved. Councilmen also noted that they favored the city hall lawn as location for the marker.

Date for the next regular council meeting was set for Nov. 8. The regular date would have fallen on Nov. 1, but members of the council and top staff members will be in San Antonio on that date attending the annual meeting of the Texas Municipal League.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Melvin and I have been married for three years and this is the first time we have ever had a really violent argument. Well, Melvin loves to shoot, so last year he went deer hunting with three other guys. They drove 600 miles and were gone a week. I stayed home with the baby. This year Melvin says he wants to go again. I told him if he went, I would take a vacation with a girl friend of mine who is single. He didn't like that, so now he's sulking like a little boy. Is this fair? If he wants to hunt deer he can hunt 30 miles from here and get home the same night. And besides, neither Melvin nor I like venison, so what's the point?

MELVIN'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: No man ever went deer hunting because he liked venison. It's the change of routine, and the fun of being with the "other guys" he enjoys. What's good for the deer isn't always good for the doe. So for my dough, let him go hunting. P.S. And I'd never argue with a man who loves to shoot.

DEAR ABBY: I am a young mother with two children, ages 3 and 4. They repeat everything they hear, whether they understand what it means or not. We live in a respectable neighborhood except for this one couple who fight a lot and use very vulgar language. Our children play outside and can hear this couple shouting at each other. Some of the words they use are just terrible, Abby. My husband spent three years in the Navy, and it takes a lot to shock him, but when the three-year-old asked him what a certain gutter word meant this morning, he almost fainted. How do we answer these questions?

PUZZLED

DEAR PUZZLED: For every vulgar word, there is a more refined way of expressing it. Don't get flustered, and don't put off the explanation. Answer the children in the most nonchalant and truthful way you know how. (It doesn't matter whether they understand or not). P.S. And you might tell this couple to pipe down because your children are getting post-graduate courses in "life" before entering kindergarten.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: Apropos the use of the title "Doctor" for those who have earned a doctor's degree in fields other than medicine. I have an "R.P.D." — Doctor of Political Science, and, to be perfectly candid, I enjoy being addressed as "Doctor." It sets me just a bit above the crowd and having earned this distinction, I feel I am entitled to it. He who assumes that everyone with a doctor's title is a physician is an ignoramus. If I am mistaken for a medical doctor, which happens frequently, it's all right with me.

CALL ME DOCTOR

DEAR DOCTOR: It's all right with me, too, Doctor. But if you happen to be in a crowded restaurant and someone yells, "Is there a doctor in the house," you'd better head for the nearest exit.

Blaze Hits House Here

Fire of undetermined origin caused about $200 damage to a bedroom in a four-room frame house at 808 Thirty-Fourth Street about 9:15 a.m. this morning.

Firemen answered the alarm with two trucks and prevented the flames from spreading. Smoke damage was heavy throughout the house.

Buster Ward, who lives across the street from the damaged house, said he was asked to call the fire department by occupants of the house. The resident of the structure was identified as Country Reed.

"I saw smoke coming from the top of the house," said Ward, who believes the fire may have started through faulty wiring in the roof. Firemen said the blaze began in the bedroom, but were unable to pinpoint a cause.

No one was injured.

Pupils Have Seed Exhibit

HERMLEIGH — The third grade School has completed an extensive seed collection under the direction of Mrs. Mildred Simmons.

The largest collection was made by Andy Bollinger with 152 seeds identified and labeled. Others included Jan Glass, 111 seeds; Joel Roemisch, 108 seeds; Stephen Mason, 84 seeds; Debbie Kruger and Joan Peterson over 60 seeds each, and all other collections had from 20 to 50 each.

Joel Roemisch, Stephen Mason, Ronnie Roemisch and Bertha Conda were cited for having the nearest and best-labeled exhibits. The club plans to have some of the collection in a booth at the Scurry County Fair.

NEW LAW

torneys contend that the families of such defendants are the ones who are punished most.

There are those who believe the new law is a step in the wrong direction. Many prosecuting attorneys contend the law is a "license to steal."

Chester Simons, Snyder Police Chief, says the law, in effect, causes law enforcement authorities to make two arrests of a person for driving while intoxicated before they can secure one conviction. Similarly, three arrests would be necessary before officers could secure a conviction of DWI, second offense.

The police chief particularly criticized the opinion that a driver's license is not automatically suspended if a defendant is granted probation under the new law.

Whatever conflicting opinions may rise, the law is in effect and it probably will be used here for the first time this week.

Gillam said defendants eligible for probation under the law may make an application for probation and enter their pleas at 10 a.m. Friday, Oct. 8, in the County Courtroom at the Scurry County Courthouse.

The attorney stated the following persons are not eligible for probation: a person who has been convicted in this or any other jurisdiction of a felony or of a misdemeanor for which the maximum permissible punishment is by confinement in jail or exceeds a $200 fine; or one who has been granted probation under the Misdemeanor Probation Act or any other probation act in the preceding five years.

Those defendants who are not eligible for probation, and those defendants who wish a trial rather than a probation, will have their cases tried on the dates which have been set by the court.

Few apples are exported from the United States.

Milk Is Lure To Prowlers

Thirsty prowlers broke into the Lamar Junior High School cafeteria in the 3500 block of El Paso Monday night and consumed 12 cartons of milk. They also ate several ice cream bars.

City Police said they apparently entered the cafeteria from the west hall. It has not been discovered how they got into the building. School authorities found the empty milk cartons this morning.

In another part of town, someone forced entry into Key Brothers Implement Co. on the East Highway Monday night and removed $8.10 from a cash drawer. Police said entry was gained through a back window.

The theft of a coin box from a soft drink machine located at a Conoco Station, Twenty-Seventh and Avenue S, was reported at 9:44 a.m. Monday.

Sheriff's Authorities reported the theft of $30 from the Higginbotham Lumber Co. in Hermleigh over the weekend.

Suspect Arrested In South Carolina

Federal authorities Monday arrested B. J. Griffin in Charleston, S.C. He is wanted in Snyder on charges of passing checks and theft. He was indicted April 14 by a Scurry County Grand Jury.

Officers here said they would return Griffin to Snyder to face charges if he waives extradition.

In county court, Jerry McClain and Billy Cobb were released after each posted $500 bond on charges of transporting and possession respectively. They were arrested Sunday by Sheriff's Authorities.

Two Killed In Funeral Procession

TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP) — A motorist's act of courtesy led to two deaths and five injuries Monday when a tractor-trailer skidded into a funeral procession 11 miles south of here.

The crash killed Marsha Otwell, 12, who was attending the funeral of her grandfather, Wallace Gulledge, 63; and Clint Otwell, 31, an uncle of Marsha. Both were from Texarkana.

State patrolman Paul Boone said it happened this way:

The car, headed north, stopped on U.S. 59 for the southbound funeral procession.

Truck driver Billie Robbins of Hoxie, Ark., saw the car halted ahead of him and hit his brakes. The rig jackknifed into the fourth and fifth cars in the line.

WMU Has Salad Supper

The Womens Missionary Union of Colonial Hill Baptist Church met recently for a salad supper. The occasion was for the recognition of the officers for the coming year. Members came dressed as hillbilly's and brought their city cousins and their country cousins.

Carla Clark, who came as "The Parson" was general chairman. Fellowship hall, which was the scene of the supper, was decorated with many things that brought remembrances of yesteryear. Supper was eaten by the glow of camplight from gingham covered tables.

Carolyn Cox served as mistress of ceremonies. The officers for the new year are: Verna Lee Roe, president; Bertha Terry, vice president; Gall Wittie, secretary - treasurer; Carolyn Cox, program chairman; Shirley Fritz, mission study chairman; Wanda Myers, prayer chairman; Bess Callaway, community missions; Mittie Tankersley, stewardship; Clara Carey, publicity; and circle chairmen, Janella Burgess, Mattie Crook and Evelyn McCommon.

After the introductions were made, Carla Clark introduced Barbara Bigham, who brought a wonderful and challenging review of some of Peter Marshalls works from the book "Mr. Jones Meets the Public".

Following the program a fun time was held. Over 30 members and guests were present for the occasion.

Use All Assets, Ranchers Advised

FLUVANNA — Dominant theme of a Ranch Management Conference [illegible] last Friday was the importance of ranchers making the best use of all parts and phases of their operations and ranch facilities, said Bill Jones, reporter for the Fluvanna Young Farmers, who attended and compiled a report as a service to ranchers in this area.

One of the speakers, Rob Brown, told the group of many practices that ranchers have read and heard about but dismissed them with the idea that "they are good theories but they won't work on an operational ranch." Brown has made them work on his 2,400 acre ranch near Throckmorton. He is using a combination of the four-pasture deferred grazing program in conjunction with dry-lot feeding in his basic cow-calf operation.

Brown also told of paying for construction of an 18-acre lake with money from leasing of fishing rights to a fishing club from Lubbock. He used this to illustrate his point that a rancher must not overlook any method of providmg additional income.

L. E. (Sonny) Nance of Haslett told of the effective use of total performance testing and records system in effect on his ranch, but pointed out that this program by itself, like many others if used alone, may be useless, but if used in conjunction with other programs and good ranching practices, it is an effective tool for advancing total efficiency and net income.

Leo Merrill of the Ranch Experiment Station at Sonora gave a detailed account of how the four-pasture deferred rotation grazing plan is used on a working ranch. In this program, the rancher simply cuts his grass land into four pastures and rotates [illegible] so that one of the pastures is resting continuously. If adhered to, it can increase the overall stocking rate of a given ranch by about 25 to 30 per cent, he said.

Tom Copeland of Levelland and Edwin Forrest of Lubbock were given special recognition for outstanding ranch management practices.

Copeland opened the conference with a brief welcome and presented aims of the conference which brought ranchers, technicians and other interested persons together for the event.

Texas, Mexico Study Control Of Pests

BROWNSVILLE (AP) — A two-day meeting of officials of the Texas, United States and Mexican Departments of Agriculture over pest controls started today.

John White, Texas agriculture commissioner, had threatened to close the Texas border to late Mexican cotton.

The Texas official said that Mexican violatiions of planting and plow-up agreements have "caused serious problems in insect control."

Gemini Capsule Represents A Triumph For Its Builders

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — Early one morning this week an Air Force plane will leave St. Louis with a precious cargo — Gemini 7, the capsule that will take two U.S. astronauts on a record-breaking 14-day space jaunt.

It will be an important milestone for the 35,000 dedicated members of McDonnell Aircraft Corp.'s close-knit team. Their part in America's key Gemini space program will have passed the halfway point.

Only five of the original 12 cone-shaped Gemini monsters will remain in the cavernous "clean room" at McDonnell, this nation's checking out point to space.

Astronauts Frank Borman and James A. Lovell will ride Gemini 7 about the first of the year. By the middle of 1966, McDonnell will finish building the last of the 12 Gemini capsules.

Then the men in the surgically clean white coats and caps will begin an even bigger job — Gemini B, the ship that will take men to and from a manned orbital laboratory in space.

Gemini 6, which will take Walter M. Schirra Jr. and Thomas P. Stafford on a two-day trip late this month, already is at Cape Kennedy. It is to rendezvous with an Agena rocket, a key test in both the manned orbital laboratory and moon shot programs.

All these space heroics begin with miles of wire and sheets of titanium metal in McDonnell's St. Louis plant. It takes these men two years to build a spaceship, but from the air of excitement around the sprawling plant, you'd think they started on it this morning and expect to finish by quitting time.

"It's been a team operation from the beginning," says Walter F. Burke, McDonnell vice-president in charge of space activities. "Everybody feels like he is part of whatever is going on. I've never seen morale any better. We haven't lost a minute from strikes since we've been in business."

This may be because building spaceships is just plain fun.

"I'm working seven days a week, sometimes 10 hours a day," said Winnie Staton, the only woman regularly assigned to the "clean room", where finishing touches are put on the Geminis. "But I love it. I wouldn't do anything else."

When time comes for a space shot, the 35,000 McDonnel employes gather around television sets in the plant. After the lift-off, the voice of James Smith McDonnell, founder and president of the company, crackles over a district loudspeaker system from the cape, reporting progress to his employes.

Shriver Speaks On Unrest Around World

DALLAS (AP)— Peace Corps director Sargent Shriver told more than 1,000 Southern Methodist University students Monday that the wars and riots that have erupted around the world are related.

"They are related," he declared, "not because there are Communists ready to exploit every disturbance but because of hunger, ignorance, disease and because many people have been denied political freedom and political rights."

The students and a scattering of faculty members gave Shriver a standing ovation after his address. He spoke at a golden anniversary convocation in McFarlin Memorial Auditorium.

Woman's Body Found

McALLEN, Tex. (AP) — Mrs. T. M. McClure, 50, of Weslaco, whose body was found floating in Delta Lake, strangled or suffocated, Dr. H. E. Whigham said Monday.

He said laboratory tests yielded no evidence of poison.

Lawmakers File Redistrict Brief

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Legislature made an "honest good faith effort" to comply with court-set House redistricting requirements, 32 House [illegible] Barnes, have told a federal court.

The lawmakers submitted a "friend of the court" brief Monday asking the court in Houston to uphold the House redistricting bill passed by the 59th Legislature in its closing days.

Several other legislators, mostly from urban districts, have asked the court to strike down the plan because of population variances among districts and the way districts are aligned.

Three Harris County men also allege the plan discriminates against minority groups.

The brief filed by Barnes and the 31 other House members contends "population was the controlling criterion in distribution of House seats and population disparities are less than in other states whose plans have received court approval."

Representatives joining in the brief include Nelson Cowles of Hallsville, Dewitt Hale of Corpus Christi, Mack Edwards of Pattonville, George Richards of Huntsville, Paul Floyd of Houston, Jack Hawkins of Groesbeck, LeRoy Wieting of Portland, Tony Bonilla of Corpus Christi, Menton Murray of Harlingen, Maurice Pipkin of Brownsville, Bill Rapp of Raymondville, Milton Schiller of Cameron, Charlie Jungmichel of La Grange, J. T. Newman of Cuero, John Field of Dallas, J. E. Ward of Glen Rose, Henry Fletcher of Luling, Wayne Connally of Floresville, Joe Shannon Jr. of Fort Worth, Skeet Richardson of Fort Worth, Jack Crain of Nocona, Honore Ligarde of Laredo, Roger Thurmond Jr. of Del Rio, John Blaine of El Paso, Forrest Harding of San Angelo, Temple Dickson of Sweetwater, Vernon Stewart of Wichita Falls, W. S. Heatly of Paducah, Grant Jones of Abilene, Bill Parsley of Lubbock and A. C. Hallmark of Dalhart.

Really Died In Wool!

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Employes at Denver Union Stockyards were startled to see 200 blue sheep. Officials said the animals apparently had been dyed by pranksters Monday.

Prefers Planes To Dragstrip Racers

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The Aero Country Club was closed down by court order two months ago after residents complained it was too noisy and dangerous.

Now, says Mrs. Juanita Moore, youngsters have discovered what a fine drag-racing strip an abandoned runway makes.

"We had more peace and quiet when it was an airport," she said.

Last Saturday, she said, a car screeched off the air strip onto the road in front of her house, flipped over and skidded to a halt on her lawn.

"Airplanes were never this dangerous," she said.

"B" Team Sets Top Scoring Pace

The Lamar Cowboys and Colts continue to sport the best football record from among teams in the Snyder School System. Both teams are 2-0. The 7th grade teams do not play against outside opposition. Their games are held at 4:10 p.m. each Tuesday on the Lamar campus.

The "B" team continues to look good. Sweetwater was their latest victim, by a 6-33 count. Lamar's 8th and 9th grade teams both won before local fans last week, but the 9th grade unit from Travis came out second best against a strong San Angelo team there Saturday. The varsity still is looking for that first victory of the year. They will begin district play Friday night at Sweetwater.

Only one local game is on tap this week with the Travis 8th graders hosting Sweetwater at 7 p.m. in a Thursday encounter. On the same night, the Travis 9th grade will be at Sweetwater for a 7:30 p.m. clash. Saturday night, the "B" team journeys to Lamesa for a 7:30 p.m. affray.

Six Starters On Bear Injury List

By The Associated Press

Darrell Royal doesn't think too much of his Texas football team—about all it can do right is win.

Royal was quite critical of the Longhorns as he started preparing them to meet winless Oklahoma Saturday. He complained of the defense, said it played only in spots, although he added in sotto voce that those spots came in the bad situations. Texas managed to beat Indiana 27-12.

He had other things to say about Texas, which was again voted No. 1 in the nation at the time he was doing his criticizing.

Royal seemed to be worried because his team might be embarrassed by Oklahoma. He did not say what the embarrassment might be, whether it meant giving Oklahoma a touchdown or field goal or something.

Anyway, it ought to build up the big intersectional clash at Dallas Saturday, if it needs any building up. You can't get a ticket so there's no way to build it up much.

Royal had four injuries, including All-America linebacker Tommy Nobis, and said it was questionable whether any of them would play against Oklahoma. Texas usually has a flock of injured for this game but has won the last seven.

Elsewhere, Baylor also was worried about its injured, with six starters definitely out of action for the Southwest Conference game with Arkansas at Waco Saturday. Ace passer Terry Southall is out and the fellow who catches most of his throws—Harlan Lane—also won't make it.

Coach Frank Broyles of Arkansas wasn't ready to express confidence over his team's chances of winning though. He said Southall's replacement, Mike Marshall, was a good passer and he expected the ball to be thrown plentifully against his Razorbacks.

Texas Tech was in good shape from its 20-16 victory over Texas A&M and Coach J. T. King thought he might get some of his injured, who were out of action against the Aggies, back for the battle with Texas Christian at Lubbock Saturday. These include end Terry Scarborough, tackle Bill Adams and guard Mickey Merritt.

Abe Martin of Texas Christian violated an unwritten coaching rule when he admitted he thought his team would be on fairly even terms with Texas Tech. But Abe always was an optimist.

Texas A&M, which plays its first home game of the season Saturday hosting Houston, did not have any injuries but could not work outside Monday. Rain and wet grounds forced the Aggies indoors.

Southern Methodist and Rice, who don't play this week, took the day off. Rice though looked over films of the Duke game—in which it lost 41-21—to see what might be done about the defense.

Southern Methodist had only a minor injury here and there and wasn't worried since it has two weeks to get ready for Rice.

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas News ratings of Texas schoolboy football teams is maintaining the status quo.

Texarkana still tops Class AAAA, Dumas Class AAA, Alpine Class AA and Three Rivers Class A.

There were scattered changes in each class from last week's games, the principal one being to dump Palestine, the AAA defending state champion, out of the ratings.

Palestine lost to a three-time loser, Ennis, 18-14.

Amarillo was the only casualty in Class AAAA when the Golden Sandies took a 7-0 licking from Lubbock Monterey. Hurst Bell and Marshall tied for 10th place in moving in to replace Amarillo.

The eight football teams in the Boys Club grid program play their games at 4:45 p.m. Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays at Central Elementary School with Saturday games slated at 9 and 10:30 a.m.

Herb Barnett, director of the Boys Club, said the program could not be carried out without the help of the sponsors and volunteer workers who referee the games and operate the concession stands.

Recently, the sponsors of the teams provided 200 helmets and 100 new uniforms for the boys. Last year, they purchased 100 uniforms.

Sponsors of the various teams are Universal Oil Well Service, Inc. (Bears), Von Roeder Seed Farms (Mustangs), The Steak House (Kittens), McAlister Transfer & Storage (Toads), C. E. Knight & Co. (Cubs), Price Construction Co. (Colts), Snyder Well Servicing Inc. (Lions), and Enco Dealers (Frogs).

Kittens Keep Skein Intact

The Kittens kept intact a perfect record with a 12-6 decision over the Toads while the Lions socked the Bears, 24-6, in Pee-Wee football games Saturday.

Danny Martin returned the opening kickoff 60 yards for a touchdown and the Kittens got their other touchdown on a four-yard blast by Kevin Jones. Larry Beard scored the only Toad tally on a sweep of left end.

Other standouts for the Kittens included Robbie Hicks on offense and Doug Arnold on defense while David Cotton was outstanding for the Toads, along with Larry Crosson, Johnny Wilson and Hubert Crayton on defense.

The Lions fashioned their victory behind the pinpoint passing of Jackie Murray and the receiving and running of Jim Waters, Clifton McIntyre and Jerry Hardin. Jim scored twice and Clifton and Jerry once each for the victors. Other outstanding Lions included Joe Bullard, Mark Broce and Mike Dennis.

Kenneth Cumbie pulled over from the three in the fourth quarter for the only Bear touchdown. Other outstanding Bears were Melvin Cobb, Michael Session and Kerry and Terry Clay.

Dodgers Favored, 7-5, To Take Series

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

MINNEAPOLIS - ST. PAUL [illegible] Twins [illegible] here implore, but the feeling is Minnesota may not take a single game from the Los Angeles Dodgers, whose matchless pitching may perpetrate a four-game sweep by the National League champions.

In 1963, the same Dodgers, behind the dazzling pitching of Sandy Koufax, Don Drysdale and John Podres, stunned the New York Yankees in four straight. Koufax and Drysdale are still around, more menacing than ever. Podres has been replaced on the Big Three by another southpaw, Claude Osteen.

Osteen's 15-15 record for the campaign is a modest one compared to Koufax' 26-8 and Drysdale's 23-12, but Dodger Manager Walter Alston is mindful that when Osteen pitched for Washington in the American League, he defeated the Twins six times without a loss.

Minnesota's Jim (Mudcat) Grant, Jim Kaat and Camilo Pascual do not exactly comprise a sickly trio but not even the most avid American League rooter would put them in the same class with K, D and O.

Pitching, as everybody concedes, is 75 per cent of the game. In the Dodgers' case, it is 90 per cent. Since good pitching usually stops good hitting, it would not cause too much of a stir if the Dodgers won in the shortest time possible.

The Series, 62nd between the rival league champions, opens Wednesday, with Drysdale opposing Grant.

The 30-year-old ace of the Twins's staff posted a 21-7 record during the regular season.

Professional odds-makers have put up the right-handed Drysdale an 11 to 10 favorite despite the Twins' home advantage. The same betting gentry rule the Dodgers a 7 to 5 favorite to win the Series and will give 15 to 1 against a Dodger sweep. The odds against a Dodgers sweep in 1963 were 27 to 1.

Power must win it for the Twins. Manager Sam Mele will rely on the heavy hands of Harmon Killebrew, Tony Oliva, Jimmie Hall, Don Mincher, Bob Allison and Earl Battey to offset the Dodgers' superiority in speed, defense and pitching.

The Twins own the most powerful attack in the American League. They are remindful of the Milwaukee Braves. Yet Dodger pitching held the Braves' power in check. In the final series between the two teams, Drysdale, Koufax and Osteen held the Braves to three runs in as many games.

The Twins hammered 150 home runs in 1965. The Dodgers hit only 78 to rank 20th in the majors. The Twins outhit the Dodgers 254 to 245. But the Dodgers were matchless at chiseling out occasional runs and making them stand up.

"I keep hearing that we don't score any runs," observed Alsten, "but we usually manage to score more than the opposition. We use what you might call a scratch, slide and steal type of attack.

"We may surprise somebody in the World Series," Alston added. "We might change tactics and even hit a home run or two."

Grant has never pitched against the Dodgers. Neither has Drysdale against the Twins but Don has the advantage of World Series experience. The 29-year-old Drysdale defeated the Chicago White Sox in 1959 and shut out the Yankees in '63. This will mark Grant's World Series baptismal.

Drysdale last pitched Thursday. He would have worked in Sunday's finale had the pennant not been clinched the previous day. Grant tuned up for the big one with two innings of relief Saturday.

The majority of the experts pick the Dodgers because of their pitching.

Legislators Begin To Balk; Resent 'Rubber Stamp' Tag

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three recent legislative setbacks for President Johnson — one of them a major defeat — have started administration congressional leaders wondering if it isn't time to adjourn while they're still ahead of the game.

After nine months of docility during which key parts of the President's program were enacted with votes to spare, the legislators are showing signs of balkiness. They already want to go home to sound out sentiment at the grass roots level.

Many of them are chafing at repeated Republican taunts that Johnson's first Congress since his election last year has been famous for its willingness to rubber-stamp White House legislation.

There are indications that Republicans, outnumbered more than 2 to 1 in the House and better than 3 to 1 in the Senate, plan to stress the "rubber-stamp" charge in their bid to regain seats in the 1966 congressional elections.

Disclosing plans for a slowdown of the legislative machinery in the next few weeks, a high Democratic leader summed up what apparently is the thinking of many of his colleagues.

"The animals are getting restless," he said. "They want to go home and find out first-hand what their constituents are thinking. A few more setbacks like we've had in the past few days might persuade the President to suggest that we call it quits while we are way ahead in the win column."

Several major decisions to be made by Congress early this month may determine the adjournment date.

The House will vote soon on a Senate-passed highway beautification bill. This is on the President's "must" list and is a pet project of his wife.

The bill barely cleared the Rules Committee last week. The vote that sent it to the floor was 7 to 6, with two opponents absent.

"Right now we don't have the votes to pass it," a Democratic leader confided. "We may not have them later, but the President wants action."

Behind the highway bill on the House calendar is a Johnson-backed measure to broaden coverage of the minimum wage law. In the face of threatened defeat, its sponsors already have agreed to scale down a proposed wage boost in an effort to attract more support.

Another labor-backed bill is in deep trouble in the Senate. It is a House-passed measure to negate state laws that prohibit union shop clauses in labor contracts. Senate leaders may not be able to break a filibuster aimed at blocking a vote on the bill. The measure is being pushed hard by the administration.

The first sign of an incipient rebellion on Capitol Hill came last week when the House defeated the President's proposal for home rule for the District of Columbia. A plan opposed by the administration was substituted 227 to 174 despite compromise offers by the administration.

The defeat was more galling for the President because it took a lot of White House arm-twisting to persuade 218 House members to sign a petition that forced the vote. Many members privately voiced resentment at the pressure tactics.

The House followed that slap at the President with another jolt. Over White House opposition it sent to the Senate by a vote of 370 to 7 a bill to give federal employes a pay raise that would cost $1.5 billion over a two-year period. The President, favoring a more modest increase, described the bill as "disastrous."

While the Senate may try to pick up some of the legislative pieces, the mood of the House is not good. Many members feel that they have done enough for one session and it's time to go home.

If they keep feeling that way, the session may end soon with some major legislation shunted aside as unfinished business for next year.

Old Fogies Are Missing Lots Of Fun

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Are you an old fogy?

Sometimes you can become one without knowing it. Even your [illegible] you, particularly if they are old fogies themselves.

Nobody is born a fogy. Fogyism is acquired. It just grows—something like moss.

But fogyism isn't altogether a matter of age. By no means. You can see incipient signs of it even in kindergarten, and many a college senior is a full-fledged fogy even before he gets his sheepskin.

Fogyism is characterized by an inelasticity to change. It is indicated more by what one thinks and does than by the number of his years.

Like to try a little test? Here we go. It is a reasonable assumption that you are an old fogy—or in imminent danger of becoming one—if:

You've never fallen in love with a movie star since Mary Pickford was in curls.

At night the only thing you dream about is the problem of your job.

You cannot name at least two of the Beatles and tell what instruments they play.

At the office none of the girls would dare to surprise you with a kiss on your cheek on your birthday.

You never read a new novel or a new poem because you believe all modern writing is trash.

You feel the younger generation is going to hell in a handwagon. Whenever a teen-ager passes, you wonder whether he carries a switch-blade knife and is on his way to get a shot of narcotics.

It makes you cranky if birds sing outside your window early in the morning. Don't they realize a man needs his sleep?

It annoys you to see a bunch of kids playing a game of stickball in the streets.

You are convinced that all doctors and dentists are robbers, and all politicians are crooks.

Does all this sound like you? If so, have no doubt about it—you're an old fogy. And you're missing a lot of fun in life.

Halls Of UN Resound With Pope's Appeal For Peace

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The corridors of the world's forum for peace echo today with the message of a gentle, fragile-looking man in glistening white who, in his own words, came before it to "deliver an appeal to the moral conscience of man."

Pope Paul VI described himself to the 20th anniversary session of the United Nations General Assembly as "the bearer of a message for all mankind." The impact was powerful, many delegates said.

The message was "no more war, war never again." It threw the weight of the Roman Catholic Church, with its half-billion members, behind the search for a formula for disarmament, for relieving the world of the incredible terror of nuclear war.

Delegates of 116 nations — only Communist Albania, European voice of Red China, stayed away — listened with hushed, rapt attention.

The representatives of the two greatest powers on earth, the United States and the Soviet Union, heard the pontiff make an eloquent appeal on behalf of the weak and the poor, the defenseless and the hungry. The Soviet delegates, representing a government whose official policy is atheism, seemed no less warm in their applause than any of the others.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko wore a thin smile as he rose with the others to applaud the entrance of the Pope into the assembly. As the pontiff concluded his half-hour address, Gromyko and the Russians — like Secretary of State Dean Rusk and the Americans and virtually all the other delegates — seemed solemn and thoughtful.

The pontiff, concluding his message, raised his arms in a gesture seeming to embrace all those present. To the echo of a standing ovation, he slowly walked from the podium. No sooner had he disappeared than the delegates buzzed excitedly. The impact of the address seemed obvious.

To some it meant that the United Nations — its prestige often sagging in recent times — had been given an important lift in morale. Some expressed surprise that the Pope was so direct and so specific in his remarks, clearly and eloquently calling for disarmament efforts, for a battle against hunger in the world, for universality of the United Nations itself, and even touching on the delicate subject of birth control. He seemed to speak out clearly against any U.N. declaration which would favor "artificial" birth control.

To a Chilean delegate, the Pope's very presence in the United Nations will have "tremendous effect in strengthening the U.N. and the cause of world peace." To a Central African Republic representative, the Pope's mission of peace was a boon to the world organization. To an Ethiopian, the speech "will probe very beneficial," and the appeal for peace will be helpful to a frightened world.

Even the Communists seemed impressed. A Romanian representative expressed regret that the Pope did not make any mention of the Socialist (Communist) countries."

There were differing interpretations of the pontiff's words on the universality of the United Nations when he urged it to "strive to bring back among you any who have separated themselves." Some said this sounded like an appeal for Red China's entry, others that it meant that the United Nations should open its doors to those who support ideals of peace and brotherhood.

None doubted, however, that the pontiff's appeal was to all nations, to men of all religions and men with none. His frequent gestures of supplication, when he raised his thin, pale hands to his audience, seemed intended for all: Christians, Jews, Moslems, Hindus, Buddhists, the men of many faiths and even the atheists in his audience.

Cardinals of the Pope's entourage, in their scarlet skullcaps and black cassocks with scarlet sashes, sat on either side of the assembly hall flanking the podium.

GULPING AIR IN BREATHING IT OUT

QUESTION: What's the best way to learn to swim?

• • •

ANSWER: Don't try to learn all by yourself. The best way is to have a good swimmer teach you, so that you will establish good habits from the start. There are many methods used. Our picture illustrates one highly recommended by experts: You must learn confidence in the water, and it helps to start in water only waist deep, with your instructor close by to help (A). Take a breath (B). Close your mouth and, holding your breath, put your [illegible] your ankles, you'll float. Straighten your legs to stand up again, (D). Now learn how a swimmer breathes. Gulp air in through the mouth, blow it out slowly through mouth and nose. Stand in shallow water and practice gulping air in above surface and breathing it out below until you can do this easily. Then take a deep breath and shove off with your feet, arms ahead, head down in the water. This will give you the feeling of being at home in the water, like a fish. The instructor will show you how to kick and work your arms, and soon you'll be swimming! The crawl stroke is regarded by many as being the best foundation stroke to begin with. Learn this and the others will be easy.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: Memorize these safety rules: Never swim alone. Have a buddy with you. Don't swim until an hour after eating. Don't swim if tired or over-heated. Come out when you begin to feel cold.

Airmen Begin Simulated Space Voyage

BROOKS AIR FORCE BASE, Tex. (AP) —Four young Air Force officers busied themselves today at getting accustomed to their home for the next 67 days, a 30-tono steel pressure chamber.

They entered the 30-by-9-foot chamber Monday night to start a simulated space voyage the primary purpose is to see how their bodies react to 60 days of breating an exotic atmosphere—helium and oxygen.

The experiment at the School of Aerospace Medicine is the longest and most searching ever conducted by U.S. scientists on the helium-oxygen mixture, which someday may be what astronauts breathe on extended space flights.

Researchers are studying the idea of possibly using the mixture aboard the air force's 30-day orbiting laboratory, due to be launched during this decade.

Cheerful and enthusiastic, the four stepped into the chamber at 8 p.m. They are Capts. Roger Gaal, 27, of San Francisco, Lawrence Smulczenski, 29, of Pittsburgh, Pa. and Robert Till Jr. 27, of Bangor, Maine, and Lt. Richard Sessler, 28, of Syracuse, N. Y.

Gaal and Sessler are navigators and Smulczenski and Till are jet pilots assigned to the Strategic Air Command.

The first eight days of the experiment will be spent in ground level conditions—normal pressure with an atmosphere of 20 per cent oxygen and 80 per cent nitrogen.

The final 60 days will be at a cabin pressure similar to 27,000 feet aloft with 30 per cent helium and 70 per cent oxygen. Current U.S. manned space flights are made with 100 per cent oxygen as an atmosphere.

The men are allowed to watch television, read and write. Their diet, ranging from 2,600 to 3,200 calories daily per man, consists of bite-size dehydrated foods and a milkshake type drink.

Civil Rights Leaders Set Congressional Goal For '66

By SEYMOUR M. HERSH

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's civil rights leadership has set a new congressional goal for 1966: Passage of a personal security act to take civil rights' criminal cases out of state courts.

"We had the Public Accommodations Act in 1964, the voting rights bill in 1965 and we look forward to the personal security act in 1966," Joseph L. Rauh, counsel for the National Leadership Conference on Civil Rights, said in an interview today.

The conference, an amalgamation of more than 100 church, union and civil rights groups, met privately last week.

The meeting came shortly after a Hayneville, Ala., jury acquitted [illegible] Coleman, a special deputy sheriff of Lowndes County, of manslaughter in connection with the slaying of Jonathan M. Daniels, 27, civil rights worker for the Episcopal Society for Cultural and Racial Unity. The church group said Daniels was the 26th civil rights worker in the South to die violently since 1961.

The leadership conference asked itself, Rauh said, "Is this thing going to continue? Have we seen the last of the judicial farce we saw in Hayneville?"

The conferees agreed, he said, that "every assault with a racial purpose or effect should be made a federal crime."

And congressional passage of such an act, he added, should be the major legislative goal of the leadership drive in 1966."

Rauh said the legislation he has in mind would, in effect, take civil rights-connected criminal cases out of the state's hands and into a federal courtroom.

"In a federal court we just don't get judicial farces like we saw in Hayneville," he said. "Not all federal courts are perfect, but they certainly don't act like this."

The leadership conference unsuccessfully attempted to write similar provisions into the 1965 Voting Rights Act, Rauh said, and plans no legislative drive until next year.

"There's no bill ready yet," he said. "We know that this Congress is ready to go home and it won't be very well received. I think a bill will be ready when Congress comes back in January."

A spokesman for the National Council of Churches' Commission on Religion and Race, which earlier had denounced the Hayneville decision as "an obscene caricature of justice," endorsed the proposed personal security act.

LIGHTEST MEXICO

BY JOHN ABNEY

MEXICO CITY — Everybody drifting into town these days seems to be terribly interested in Mexico's hallucinatory mushrooms and they all ask "Where can we get some, huh?"

And visitors ask about mushroom history and do they really work if you eat some and is it against the law to get caught with any. So in the interests of higher science we will now examine some of the more outstanding points of these vegetables (aren't they?).

Apparently some fellows are under the impression that special buses make regular runs to Mushroomville so people can relax with a quiet hallucination. Stay at the Mushroom Motel — 175 Rooms, 175 Baths, 175 Personal Witchdoctors, rates $2.75 a day with meals.

According to what I have been able to gather, the mushrooms have always been around. They grow in southern Mexico's backwoods mountain regions.

The Indians use them in religious rites and outsiders are not invited although a few scientific observers have managed to get friendly with villagers and witness some of the ceremonies.

So we imagine it all started something like this: an Indian named Ferguson came floating into his village one day and a friend called to him and said, "Hey Fergy, what you doin' up there anyhow?"

Ferguson looked down and said, "Well if it ain't my friend the Plumed Serpent. I just ate a batch of those mushrooms growing on the mountainside and gee, the thing a person sees in technicolor."

Of course the friend went over to sample a few and pretty soon the whole village was getting into the icebox and writing novels about their experiences.

Undoubtedly the village elders realized it would be bad if people were too happy so they began passing laws until mushrooms became a religious proposition.

And later on you would have Ferguson going around from hut to hut shouting, "All right fellows, the medicine man is ready so let's all run over to the mushroom patch and hold services."

Now and then some of our U. S. bohemians come down and make scientific studies of the situation.

The Mexican government begins getting complaints of people cutting up (each other with machetes, sometimes) in a remote region and they start checking around.

When the law arrives there are all the scientists lying on the ceiling saying things like "Watch out for that dragon lying in the doorway" and "Come on up here where the weather's fine."

And like everything you eat, drink or smoke, mushrooms are said by some doctors to be (1) dangerous, habit-forming drugs and by others (2) positively harmless.

There was this fellow who wanted to try some so he bought a basket full from a horrible old Indian lady with no teeth. After the fourth or fifth mushroom he looked at her and said, "Gee, Doris Day! You never looked so gorgeous, so how about let's get married?"

They did and lived happily ever after, account of she kept him well supplied with mushrooms and sweet dreams. Might be a good market there for some men who come down on a vacation and have to go home again.

Dear Allison,

"How can I keep people from mooching my Half and Halfs? They can't resist that rich aroma."

Dear Smoker,

"Who can? May I have one?"

Texas Plant To Expand

LONGVIEW, Tex. (AP) — R. G. LeTourneau, whose company has received two defense contracts totaling $12,699,753, announced a $1.5 million expansion program for his local plant Monday.

This was shortly after he received word of the award to his firm of a $6.1 million facilities contract by the Ammunition Procurement and Supply Agency of Joliet, Ill.

LeTourneau was notified Aug. 4 of a $6,599,753 contract to manufacture 750-pound M117 demolition bomb casings for the Army.

The expansion program will include two new dome-shaped steel buildings, each containing 72,000 square feet, a new office building and putting a concrete floor in another dome.

The west coast of Greenland between Disko and Melville Bays is the spawning ground for most of the icebergs of the North Atlantic.

Astronauts To Give Flag To U Thant

SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP) — A small United Nations flag, carried into space by astronaut Edward H. White II during his historic space walk will be presented to U.N. Secretary-General U Thant Thursday at the United Nations.

White and his space partner on Gemini 4, Air Force Lt. Col. James A. McDivitt, will make the presentation.

White carried the flag in a pocket of his space suit. He stayed outside the capsule for 30 minutes June 3. White, also an Air Force lieutenant colonel, was the first American to take a stroll in space.

Cool Air Delays Harvesting

AUSTIN (AP) — Wet fields and cool weather delayed the Texas cotton harvest last week, the U.S. Department of Agriculture reported Monday.

Unseasonally cool weather on the Low and High Plains slowed cotton plant maturity. The statewide harvest has reached 34 per cent of complete, however, compared to 32 per cent a year ago.

"Hot open weather is needed to mature remaining cotton," the department's weekly crop report said.

Wheat planting has reached the 60 per cent mark, compared with 45 per cent a year ago. Sorghum harvest is 66 per cent finished, about even with last year.

Most areas saw improvement in range conditions because of last week's rains.

"With ample moisture, fall grasses will begin growth as cooler weather sets in," the report said.

Harvest of tomatoes, peppers, pumpkings, carrots and lettuce continued on the High Plains.

Heavy rains halted planting of Rio Grande Valley crops. Replanting of a few recently seeded fields will be necessary but the rains will aid sizing of citrus, the department said. Oranges are expected to move in volume next month.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A citation will be presented Dr. Jarrell McCracken, president of Word Records at Waco, Tex., here Wednesday night by Religious Heritage of America, Inc. It is one of a number of awards to be given by the organization.

Burial Rites Held For Zachary Scott

AUSTIN (AP) — Stage and screen star Zachary Scott was buried Monday after a brief private funeral service attended by a small group of family and close friends.

The 51-year-old actor died Sunday at his mother's home after an illness of several months. His death was attributed to a malignant brain tumor.

Scott was buried near his surgeon-father in the family plot as soft rain fell. A spray of magnolia leaves and buds was the only greenery on the simple wooden coffin.
