Wichita Senator Demands That Jim Ferguson's Manhood Asse rt Itself

When Bandit Held Up Drug Store

Photographic reproduction of hold up at Lamar street drug store late Thursday night, when E. R. White, proprietor, and one of his assistants were surprised at a game of checkers by a masked bandit. The bandit, with a white handkerchief over his eyes, made them get up from a table where they were playing and, forcing them face backward toward a case as shown in the above, himself backed to the cash register at the front of the store from which he took $50 and fled to a waiting automobile. Clarence Chancellor, right; and Earl Keith, left, with their hands up, are showing position of those involved.

TRAFFIC VIOLATIONS MOUNT IN WICHITA FALLS BECAUSE POLICE FORCE IS INADEQUATE, IS CHARGE

"Hundreds of our citizens violate traffic regulations, and they are not apprehended because the police are inadequate as far as numbers go, not as to personnel, to watch the offenders. Some of the violators take pride in violating traffic rules when the see no officer to hinder them," J. D. Bright, president of the Wichita Falls Safety council, said last night in talking to the members of the organization at a banquet in the garage of the Wichita Falls Electric company.

To Report Violations.

Request has been made by the police that the Safety Council co-operate with them in lessening the number of accidents by keeping an eye on traffic violations, Bright said. The idea was conceived of turning the council into a welfare committee to make reports of traffic violators. Cards were passed out to the members of the council on which they are to report to the council the violators of traffic regulations, the reports to be limited to Wichita Falls automobiles. A polite letter will be sent to the violator by the council it was stated.

Mr. Bright reported on the number of accidents caused as a direct or indirect result of parking cars in place of ranking in the towntown section, where cars have to back out into the traffic.

Tells of Safety Council.

C. J. Rutland of the Texas Power and Light company reported on his trip to Cleveland, Ohio, where he attended the meeting of the National Safety Council. "There were 6,000 representatives from industries there, and the meetings have grown so large that the representatives meet in sections."

He told of the address of a railroad president who said that in constructing new highways and recon-

Says Men Are Now Wearing The Corsets

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—(AP).—Men are now taking up corsets and waist line reducers to keep themselves in shape to make an impression upon the fair sex, says Robert C. Stirton, president of a leading corset firm who returned today, after making a fashion tour of Europe. From Constantinople to London, everywhere he has gone he has found women of fashion discarding surplus garments. To wear only two articles of apparel is the vogue today, he said.

"Women are returning," he said, "to garments that give a fuller expression to the natural body lines."

CITY OF ROME CAPTAIN'S ACT AT CRASH TOLD

Naval Board of Inquiry Hears Details of Fatal Collision at Sea

SURVIVORS TESTIFY

"Don't Give Damn for Ship But Feel Sorry for Boys Captain Said

BOSTON, Oct. 16.—(AP) "I don't give a damn for the ship, but I am sorry for the boys," Captain John H. Diehl, commander of the City of Rome, said to Michael Lira, the first of the three S-51 survivors to be taken aboard the steamer, the latter testified today before the naval board of inquiry when questioned about his conversations with the Rome's officers.

Lira said that the crew of the City of Rome's life boat almost swamped the craft when they picked him out of the water after the submarine sank. The witness said that the life boat's search for survivors lasted only 20 minutes.

Only three of the 36 members of the crew of the submarine who were asleep when she was rammed by the City of Rome got out before she sank, Dewey G. Kile, another survivor, testified today bofer the naval inquiry board investigating the disaster.

Waked By Bit of Cork

Kle said he was asleep when the steamer struck the submarine. He said that a piece of cork, part of a bulkhead lining, woke him and he leaped from his bunk into water up to his knees. His first move was to attempt to lock the water tight door leading from the battery room where he slept, to the forward torpedo room.

Before he could release the "dogs" which locked it open, he said, the water poured in. Then he ran to the other end of the battery room and tried to lock the door leading nto the central operating control compartment without succeeding.

Swept Over Board

He said he then climbed to the bridge through the conning tower hatch and was swept over the port side in 15 seconds. He was the last to leave the submarine, he said, and only two other preceded him.

When thrown into the water, which he said was not cold, Helmsman Wiseman, on duty on the submarine's bridge when she was rammed, was swimming beside him. They were then about 30 yards from the steamer.

Within a few seconds Wiseman disappeared and he later heard him call for help. The sound seemed to come from a point 100 yards away, Kile said.

He testified that he was partly clothed and that he remained swimming and floating for 45 minutes before a life boat from the City of Roam peked him up.

While he was in the water, he said, he saw no life preservers or searchlight playing from the steamer. The submarine's lights, he said, were burning when he left the battery room to mount the bridge.

CHICAGO "BOSS" ARRESTED.

Others Reported Implicated in Big New Orleans Swindling Deal.

CHICAGO, Oct. 16 — (AP) — Arthur C. McClaughry, a Chicago politician, was arraigned today as one of five men wanted in New Orleans where it is alleged they defrauded investors of more than 5,000,000 in land deals. Another Chicagoan, whose name was withheld pending arrest, and three now awaiting trial in New Orleans, are involved.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Oct. 16.—(AP)—Former Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty today told for the first time how the death of President Harding and of John H. Patterson, Dayton manufacturer, frustrated plans for the organization of a volunteer committee for the rehabitation of young men serving first terms in prisons.

Parnell Says Ferg on's Manhood Should Assert Itself Before The Texans Who Forgave Him For "1917"

THE faith of a great state which elected his wife governor in face of the fact that her husband had once been impeached from that same state's highest office, should now be repaid with an exercise of manhood on the part of James E. Ferguson to the end that he advise his wife to call for a thorough investigation of Texas' administrative affairs.

This is the gist of a statement issued last night by State Senator J. D. Parnell of the Wichita district which sets for that "never since the perilous period of 1916-17 has the statehood of Texas rested under a cloud of ugly suspicion and rumor as it does today."

State Senator J. D. PARNELL.

Calling Ferguson's attention to the fact that he, Parnell, not only "voted to rehabilitate your family in official life by voting for your wife for governor. but likewise on the floor of the senate voted to pardon you of the stigma which impeachment placed upon you," Senator Parnell added that "I believe I have every right in asking you to advise your wife to inform Texans of the state of affairs of our commonwealth.

"Nor do I care in what form the investigation be conducted," said the senator's statement. "That is for James E. Ferguson to decide and advise. For my own part, and I grant it is but a little voice in comparison to the state as a whole, I suggest and have publicly stated, that a round table investigation conducted by the best minds of Texas, would be better, rather than an extraordinary session of the legislature, but if in the wisdom of his choice James Ferguson shall advise such extraordinary call, I certainly would abide such wisdom."

"I doubt not," continued the senator's statement, "in fact, I know, that the political enemies of James E. Ferguson are rampant by day and night at this time with attacks on his family's official conduct. I care not to align myself with them, nor join in defense of the Fergusons. Rather would I demand that the people of this commonwealth immediately be reassured that right in Texas still prevails, or know the bitter truth that graft, corruption and waste of public funds is a constant factor in our public life.

"Right never deserts one who is right.

DARROW AIDS 11 NEGROES IN HOMICIDE

DETROIT, Oct. 16.—(AP)—Clarence Darrow, who defended Loeb and Leopold in Chicago and Scopes at Dayton, Tenn., appeared in recorder's court today as chief counsel for Dr. Ossian H. Sweet and ten other negroes including Dr. Sweet's wife, all charged with homicide. He asked a continuance until October 30 which was granted.

All 11 defendants are charged with killing Leon F. Breiner, September 9, in front of a house into which Dr. Sweet had recently moved. No other negro families reside in the section in which hte killing took place.

Mr. Darrow said he had been retained by the American Civil Liberties Union and would be paid $5,000.

"I am going to get $5,000 for this," he said. "I would do it for nothing if I could afford it, because there is a prinicple involved. These colored folks are entitled to a fair shake.'

Garner Proposes Cut in Income of $450,000,000 To $50,000,000

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—(AP) A tax revision plan, under which 3,000,000 persons would be relieved of all federal income taxes, was discussed informally today with Secretary Mellon by Representative Garner of Texas, the ranking democrat on the house committee which drafts tax legislatin.

After the conference, Representative Garner said the treasury's secretary's plan provided only for the one reduction of sur taxes and inheritance taxes. He made no statement, however, as to how his counter-proposal was received at the treasury.

The Garner plan which he said had been drafted without consultation with his democratic colleagues, contemplates a tax reduction of from $450,000,000 to $500,000,000 or approximately twice the total which the treasury is expected to recommend Monday when the tax hearings get under way before the ways and means committee.

The whole Garner program is predicated upon retirement of the national debt in sixty years instead of twenty-five, as proposed by Secretary Mellon. Mr. Garner said he favored the longer period because debtor nations would be given that length of time in which to pay off their obligations to the United States, which represent more than half of the total of this nation's indebtedness.

The relieving of 3,000,000 tax payers from all taxes would be brought about under the Garner proposal by increasing the exemption to $5,009 in the case of married persons and $3,500 in the case of single persons. The cut would not stop there however, Mr. Garner advocating a reduction of the maximum surtax rate to 25 per cent, instead of 20 per cent as the treasury is expected to propose.

Name It In Honor of The Lawyer, "Bald Knob" Is Jest of Barrister Here

"Gentlemen of the jury, when Mr. Nelson was arguing this case before you a little while ago he paid me a compliment by saying I was a distinguished attorney.

"Now then gentlemen, that was a pretty cheap trick to pull, especially when I'm not nearly as distinguished as he is,. Down here in Baylor county they named a school district after him once and no school district ever was named for me. But gentlemen, when they named that district they didn't call it the Otis Nelson district—they called it the Bald Knob district."

Nelson's shining conk reddened somewhat when Finley Weldon pulled that one on him in the trial of a criminal case in the Thirtieth district court yesterday. He reddened and then grinned while even the court had difficulty in restraining an expansive smile.

Judges Want Special Call Says Sartin

That the actual sentiment with regard to an investigation of state affairs was never put into published reports of the recent meeting of county judges at Amarillo, was the statement yesterday of County Judge B. D. Sartin.

"They not only want a special session, but they were violent in their demands for one," he said. "It seemed as if everybody demanded an investigation."

Judge Sartin, without commenting on whether such session should be called gave it as his opinion yesterday that it was inevitable.

Late Austin News

Assistant attorney general rules Ma can issue deficiency warrants to unlimited number for hoof-mouth disease expense, instead of borrowing money.

Ma Ferguson awaits Fort Wofth legislative conference before acting on special call.

Austin awaits Moody's return to hear more of highway contract cancellations.

Moody before leaving for home tonight denied Ferguson's charge he was "hampering" the administration by his hoof-mouth disease money ruling.

Moody is understood to be in favor of an "amicable" settlement of the highway mess, instead of calling thelegislature.

Call Seems Certain

FORT WORTH, Oct. 16.—A special session of the Texas legislature to meet in the middle of November or about December, may be called by Speaker Lee Satterwhite of the house of representatives before he departs Saturday afternoon from Fort Worth for Washington, where he will appear as a witness before the federal house ways and means committee in favor of the abandonment of the federal inheritance tax. Speaker Satterwhite said that he anticipated that, before that time, Governor Ferguson will call a special session.

33 Contracts Void

AUSTIN, Oct. 16.—(AP)—Cancellation of maintenance contracts in 33 counties is required for the public interest, Attorney General Dan Moody, informed Frank V. Lanham, chairman of the highway commission, in a letter made public today.

The attorney general told the chairman that the commission had failed to accept the lowest bids for these 33 contracts, which totalled $872,976.25, while those accepted of higher bids totalled $1,034,112.60. The difference in the totals amounts to $161,136.35.

Mody Is Silent

DALLAS, Oct. 16.—(AP)—Attorney General Dan Moody, who is in Dallas today, refused to divulge whether his presence here was in connection with highway maintenace questions. He said that he was working on a matter which, if made public at this time, would seriously jeopardize the success of his plans.

CARFT CATCHES FIRE

Aviator and Two Newspaper Men Are Fatally Burned

NEW SALEM, Pa., Oct. 16.—(AP)—Three men met death here late today when an army airplane exploded and crashed, catching fire before it struck the ground.

DAYTON, Ohio, Oct. 16.—(AP) — The three flyers killed in the accident at New Salem, Pa., this afternoon were partially identified by Wilbur Wright field officers as Lieut. George H. Burgess of that field and Maurice Hutton and Verne Timmerman of the Dayton Herald staff.

The three had piloted the "Honeymoon Express" to the air races at New York and were returning to Dayton.

The "Honeymoon Express" was built by the Dayton Wright company during the world war and was said to have been condemned several times by nspectors. It was one of the obsolete types hit by Colonel William Mitchell in his testimony before the aircraft investigating board.

A card, partly burned and recovered from one of the bodies, contained the name of Maurice Hutton, Dayton, Ohio. A camera of the kind used by newspaper men was found in the wreckage.

LYRICS OF LIFE
By Douglas Malloch.
Always a Few.

Always in life there are always a few
People like—well, there were people I knew
Who said very little, who never said much
Concerning affection and friendship and such.
Others might flatter and others might say
The regular things in the regular way,
But always in life there were always a few
Who said very little—who knew that I knew.

Yes, I thank heaven it sometimes will send
Someone like—well, who is more than a friend.
Someone who seldom will speak of the bond
That holds us together, but someone so fond
No slander can alter, nor even the truth,
No moment of weakness, no folly of youth;
Someone to trust me, and trust to the end.
Someone like—well, who is more than a friend.

Always in life there are always a few
People like—well I have known one or two
Who always were handy with things at the worst,
And they were the ones that I turned to the first.
Though there were friends that I fondly recall,
Yet there were some that were dearer than all:
Always in life there are always a few
People like—well, there are people like you!

SONS AND DAUGHTERS OF PREACHERS NOT SCAPEGOATS, WICHITA FALLS JUDGE SAYS

P. A. Martin Denies Charge of Kansas Jurist Average Minister Spends His Time in Church Work to the Neglect of Juveniles

Contrary to general belief, sons of ministers of the gospel are not scapegoats of deeper dye than turbulent offspring of the butcher, baker and candlestick maker.

This, at least, is the belief of a Wichita Falls jurist who differs with the views of a federal judge in Kansas who opined recently that ministers are inclined to spend too much time with their church, too little with their families, thus bringing on juvenile disregard for law and propriety among members of their own household.

Has Better Chance.

Judge P. A. Martin of the 89th judicial district rallies to the defense of the minister's son with the belief that such a youngster, because of parentage and home teaching, has a better than average opportunity to develop into a worth while citizen.

Commenting yesterday on Federal Judge Pollack's (Wichita, Kan.) views, Judge Martin had the following to say:

"In regard to his statement that the average minister spends his time on his church and forgets his children I think Judge Pollock is entirely wrong. There is a popular saying that the minister's children are worse than others but the court records will not bear the statement out by any means. In fact I believe that the son of a minister, by reason of his parentage and his home teaching really has a better chance to make good in the world than anybody else and I think fewer of them fall into sin and crime than any other class of boys. It is a 'news' item when the son of a preacher transports a stolen car; that is why this item found publication in the press of the country. If this unfortunate young fellow had been the son of a merchant, a banker, a blacksmith or a farmer nothing would have been said of it. This fact alone proves that it is something rather rare for a minister's son to get into such trouble."

Scores Love of Pleasure.

Going still further, Judge Martin excepted to Judge Pollack's remarks that "nine-tenths of the parents today take more interest in their horses, birds, dogs and farms than they do their children." Said he:

"I think the learned judge placed his percentage entirely too high and allowed himself to indulge rather too freely in what we call 'loose talk' from the bench. My opinion is that the prevalence of crime among young men and women is due more largely to the love of pleasure and the desire to get 'easy money' than anything else. I think the average parent does the best he can to raise his boy right. The boy has many temptations in this day that were not in existence when Judge Pollock and I were boys and among them the foremost are the call of pleasure and the call to get something without having to work for it. Of course many parents are too careless in bringing up their children and turn them out free from home influences too young, but he has his percentage too high entirely."

NEGRO CHURCH BOMBED SECOND TIME IN YEAR

Community Center In Chicago Wrecked With Loss of $100,000

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—(AP)—The Bethseda Baptist church, large community center in the South Side negro district, was damaged in an explosion of a dynamite bomb early today. The loss is estimated at $100,000.

A witness told the police that shortly before the explosion he saw a man leave an automobile containing three men and approach the building. A moment later, he ran back to the car which was driven away.

The church, purchased by its negro congregation after it was abandoned as a synagogue, was bombed a year ago. At that time the police attributed the attack to racial prejudice.

PARNELL SAYS

Truth never forsawes anyone who is four square in his dealings with his fellow men," continued Senator Parnell, "although protracted silence often breeds the increment of suspicion to a length that becomes condemnation where proof of fact would sustain innocence.

"Texans have proved themselves forgiving. They have gone so far as to wipe out the stigma which they themselves once placed upon James Ferguson. It is within political possibility that they even re-elect himself or his wife to the trust of governorship as a reward for ability and proven virtue. But James E. Ferguson, without vindictiveness, James E. Ferguson with a consciousness that he owes these same Texans everything, must now do something for Texas. As he thus acts, Texans will act with him. As he publicly proves to them, in manner of his own choice, that he is not attorney for the American Road company (a Delaware corporation with headquarters in Dallas) so will they aid him in defending his family against the political attacks of his enemies. As his investigation proves this same corporation is entitled to the more than one thousand miles of highway construction work in this state by reason of its low bids and superior workmanship so will the people of Texas, whose money buys these contracts and highway construction, demand that such contracts be continued.

"There are rumors and rumors of rumors in Austin, which, by the manhood of James Ferguson, can be stultified in the eyes of Texans. It is within James Ferguson's power to tell his people that the agents of the Ferguson forum have not solicited and received thousands of dollars for advertising from contractors who are receiving contracts from the highway commission. Likewise, can manly statesmanship on the part of James E. Ferguson at this time give official denial and official proof of the fact that members of his immediate family have solicited and assisted parties representing bonding companies in Austin in making bonds of contractors who have received contracts from the state highway commission and for which large premiums are collected.

"Ferguson's enemies, among them men who would go any length to condemn and abuse him, are charging that he, as the husband of the governor, has made it convenient to sit with the highway commission at each of its meetings and does attempt to dominate and control acts of the commission. This can James E. Ferguson, once and forever, publicly prove to be untrue; publicly prove that by no such conduct is he repaying the people of Texas for the trust they have reaffirmed in him and his.

"James E. Ferguson, repaying Texans for their trust, I am sure, would never permit his wife, as governor, to in turn allow he rhighway commission appointees, with her knowledge, to let road contracts far in excess of sums reasonable for the work at hand.

"And so I say to James E. Ferguson—'Act now for the people of Texas, the people who have forgiven you. Loan your manhood to them in a battle for righteousness, and cause your wife to bring about an investigation that once and for all will bare the facts of state affairs. If graft and corruption are uncovered, help Texans rid their statehouse of its stench.'"

NEED 4,000 PICKERS

El Paso County Sends In Plea to State Bureau of Farm Labor.

AUSTIN, Oct. 16.—Four thousand cotton pickers are needed in El Paso county, E. J. Crocker, state labor commissioner, said today. He said every effort was being made by federal and state authorities to supply the demand.

Assurance Comes After Train Bearing American Is Held Up

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—(AP) Interference with the train which Silas H. Strawn, American delegate to the customs conference at Peking, was traveling yesterday from Shanghai to Peking, is believed to have been the work of spies employed by Sun Chuan Fang, military governor of Chekiang province.

Consul Joseph E. Jacobs at Shanghai, advised the state department today that the train proceeded with assurance of Chinese officials that there would be no further molestation.

Mr. Strawn's train, the Shanghai-Peking express, was stopped about 30 miles out of Shanghai because the rails had been removed.

TEMPERATURE IS LOWER.

Rains and Cloudy Skies Bring Mercury Down to 54 Thursday.

More than a quarter inch of rain fell Thursday night on the already saturated earth, and yesterday's minimum temperature was brought down to 54. A wind averaging 15 miles per hour, which at times reached 22 miles at its maximum, blew during the day, giving the feeling of almost winter weather. The cloudiness that has prevailed for several days was broken by sunshine yesterday.

The barometer continues below normal as it has for several days, still indicating damp weather.

DRY AGENT ACQUITTED.

Killed Ponca City Cafe Owner While Making Booze Raid.

NEWKIRK, Okla., Oct. 16—(AP)—Joe Alvarado, prohibition agent and former official executioner for the Mexican army, was acquitted of murder by a jury in district court here today.

Alvarado shot H. B. Houser last December while conducting a raid on Houser's cafe in Ponca City.

GRANT GAS PETITION.

Permit Given Alamo Gas Company to Supply San Antonio Field.

AUSTIN, Oct. 16.—(AP)—Petition of the Alamo Gas company et al. of San Antonio for permission to supply a portion of the gas for the city of San Antonio was granted following a hearing before the Texas railroad commission today. The petition asked for an order allowing it to produce and sell its just share of gas produced from the Gas Ridge field, near San Antonio.

Famed Texas Battle Flag In Confederate Museum

AUSTIN, Oct. 16.—Battle flag of the Fifth Texas regiment, which was carried through some of the bloodiest engagements of the Civil war, has been presented by survivors of the "Bloody Fifth" to the Confederate Museum here. Formal presentation will be made next week by Lon A. Smith, state railroad commissioner, and president of the Texas chapter of Sons of Confederate Veterans. The flag was borne in 17 pitched battles and 16 men were killed while serving as standard bearer. The flag was made by Mrs. M. J. Young Houston.

Texhoma-Waggoner

Texhoma's No. 6, John & Jeff Waggoner, swabbed dry with but a show of oil in section 11, B. S. & F. survey, Wichita county, from sand at 1,763-65 feet and is being drilled deeper.

Petroleum Producers-Mills

Petroleum Producers are drilling below 750 feet on their No. 3 on the Mills land, located 300 feet to the east of their No. 2 producer, which is good for 100 barrels, in section 2,410 T. E. & L. survey .

Hammond-Burnett

On the Burnett land in section 6, Geo. Meade survey, Wichita county, Pink Hammond is completing his No. 2, as a 300-barrel flowing well from sand at 1,881-1,892 feet. The well, which is located to the south of Fowlkes Station, although an inside location, is by far the best recent completion in the pool and is accordingly of more than passing interest.

Schimmel-Stacey

In the south part of Throckmorton county on the Stacey land, in section 1,614 of the Premium surveys, Schimmel and associates have a well with the hole full of oil, which it is reported made one flow from lime at 4,100 feet. The well, by far the deepest in this part of the country, may mark a new deep pay horizon for this new producing district.

Perkins-Chilson

To the north of Holliday townsite about three miles and in the Margaret Ramsey survey, abstract 471, Perkins and associates are drilling at 563 feet on their No. 1 Chilson wildcat. To the northeast several hundred feet, Jimmy Gardner has spudded and is drilling on his shallow test on the same land and survey and should have sand the first of the week.

Maer-Staniforth-Mankins

To the east of Mankins townsite in S. P. survey, section 2, abstract 944, Maer & Staniforth are abandoning their No. 1 Mankins farm well as a dry at approximately 1,840 feet. The test which has been watched rather closely, failed to pick up the expected 1,790 foot sand. Its completion is but another stone to mark the passing of another driller's ambitions for oil in the east Dundee area.

Texas Co.-Blewett

To the north of the Sun company's production in the Bell county school lands about two miles, the Texas company are drilling below 1,500 feet on their No. 1 Blewett, south Archer county. The well which is a 1,300 foot location in the southeast corner of section 2, S. P. survey, abstract 1,253, is a rank wildcat and according to sands and sand depths as picked up by wells to the south, should be on sand within the next 25 feet. Its completion within the next day or so will be well worth watching.

Camp-Cambell

On the Campbell land, located in section 1483, T. E. & L. survey, north Young county and to the southeast of Olney the Camp Oil & Gas company are setting casing to test a sand drilled into at a reported depth of 888 feet, which is showing lots of oil and all the earmarks of a nice producer. The well, a rank wildcat, is accordingly being watched with a good deal of interest as it is checking high for the area and in the event of production, will mean a new shallow pool for the south Olney district. The test should be bailed some time today.

Wolfe-Daume

On the Daume land in section 1 S. P. survey, abstract 429, Wichita county, and to the north of Holliday, Wolfe and associates have set casing on a sand in their semi-wildcat test and the well is now showing up as a possible 25-barrel producer. A Star machine is now being moved in to further shut off water encountered when the test was drilled too deep. Sand was from 1,822-27 feet and now has been plugged back to 1,825 feet. The test, although not a wildcat, is in a district surrounded by drys and is therefore the opener of a new area.

NAVY AIR PLAN WOULD FAIL IN WAR, HE STATES

Commander Says Whole Trouble Is Within The Department

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—(AP)—A warning that the existing system within the navy department for handling aviation would be unable to stand the stress of war was sounded today before the president's air board by Commander John H. Towers, who arranged for and had personal command of the trans-Aatlantic flight of naval seaplanes in 1921.

Opposing both a unified air service and a separate air corps within the navy, Commander Towers, who was assistant director of naval aviation during the war, said he was firmly convinced "that aviation must remain an integral part of the main fighting organization of the navy and that is the line."

Commander Towers said the present difficulty in navy aviation is "almost entirely in the department, although its effects extend out into the fleets and the air stations."

"Further, I believe that regardless of the merits of the case, the personnel in aviation put almost the entire blame for their grievances, real and imaginary, upon the bureau of navigation," he continued.

ACQUIT DAPPER DAN

TRENTON, N. J., Oct. 15.—(AP) Dapper Dan Collins, on trial in the United States court for conspiracy in connection with the running of rum cargoes between the West Indies and this country, was acquitted today by a jury which deliberated only 15 minutes.

CITY WOULD FORCE PAVING IN HALF YEAR

Council Seeks to Make Citizens Fill in Unpaved Strips

A plan whereby unpaved gaps in city streets, some 44 in number, may be closed is being considered by the chamber of commerce with a possibility of some definite action coming in a short time. The city council, it has been announced, will be asked in the near future to at least make an effort to enforce a paving of these skips; and if this fails some other course of procedure may be adopted.

These breaks in the paving have been made possible through the state paving law that will not compel a homestead to submit to a lein against the property. Thus, unless the owner of abutting property on a proposed paving stretch, is willing to shoulder the paving financing, he cannot be compelled to pave in front of his place. Forty-four such gaps can now be found in Wichita Falls, it is said.

In many instances, however, property in front of these gaps has changed hands since the paving was put down and the present property owners may have other holdings other than a homestead, thus allowing the levying of a paving assessment. The city will be asked to investigate these possibilities and, where it can be done, order the paving put in.

If this is not found feasible, a suggestion of a local banker may be followed out and some sort of community financing plan adopted.

PINCHOT IS ANGRY.

Governor Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania is very angry. He is on the road again. He says it is his duty and pleasure to assist in every possible way to preserve the purity of the ballot in Pennsylvania. He says that the prison is the only place for men who are guilty of the meanest of all crimes, those which strike at the root of free government and put the will of the gang in the place of the will of the people.

Governor Pinchot says that the political gang in Pennsylvania, which is a part of the republican organization, has disgraced the communities of which they are a part, and his verdict is that a political organization which is willing to protect ballot box criminals ought to be driven out of power by a general uprising of the people "whoses laws it has broken and whose rights it has taken away."

This free lance republican governor, who won over the opposition of the machine and who has been worsted by the machine in every contest that he has waged since his election, has drawn the following pen picture, or rather word picture, of conditions as he sees them in his native state:

"The long reign of the boss in Pennsylvania has ingrained in our people some of the worst habits that can afflict any free community. What gang rule does is by no means limited to the individual fraud or crime. Its worst offense against the community is that it impresses low standards of political morality and low standards of public service on the mind of the voter. Gang rule in Pennsylvania has always meant political corruption. It means political corruption today. Wherever the gang rules, there you can be sure of finding the worse things in public life. In Philadelphia we have just seen the most barefaced corruption of the ballot, and what is more we have seen the republican city committee fighting to prevent the opening of the boxes in order that the stealing of the ballots might be corrected. That is the perfect flower of the gang rule."

Gifford Pinchot calls himself a republican. He was the close friend and political alley of Theodore Roosevelt. He is an avowed candidate for the republican senatorial nomination as the successor of George Wharton Pepper. He has backed with his full authority as chief executive General Smedley M. Butler, who, as police commissioner, has been crusading against rum and vice conditions in the great city of Philadelphia.

General Butler is nearing his finish, he is going back to the marines. Is Gifford Pinchot nearing his finish, or will he be an independent candidate for the senate next year against the nominee of the republican organization in the banner republican state of the union?

Politics is a queer game. Pinchot is a progressive of the ultra type. He is a very rich man, a very courageous man and even his enemies say he is as honest as Paul.

COTTON PICKERS BUSY.

Charles W. Woodman of Fort Worth is an assistant director of the farm labor division of the United States employment service. On the first day of October since the season began, he has directed 80,000 or more cotton pickers to employment in Texas and the southwest.

From the San Antonio office of the service, 25,000 Mexicans were directed to Louisiana, Mississippi and West Texas. This service is rendered by the federal agency without charge to either employe or employer. Thousands of Mexicans and negroes have been shipped from South Central Texas to Oklahoma and West Texas, and thousands have been sent to Arkansas.

Indeed it is said that the drouth sections of Texas have furnished a small army of cotton pickers for those sections which escaped the ravages of the sun on account of the lack of moisture in the earth, during the crop season just closed. There are wise men who say that thousands of Mexicans and negroes who have been taken to West Texas will never return to their former homes. Secretary of Labor James J. Davis and the labor leaders of America are going to petition congress to apply the quota law to Mexico and all Spanish-American countries and the Canadian countries as well.

Should their recommendations be accepted by the national lawmakers, the wage schedule of farm labor in Texas is certain to be advanced and the planters of the state east of the river will be compelled to hustle for cotton pickers in the years to come.

Uncommon Sense

By JOHN BLAKE.

Picking the Wrong Leader.

"I was in a boat race last summer," said the amateur yachtman," that I ought to have won.

"I had the fastest boat in the fleet. I had run her every day for a week, and I knew how to handle her.

"I was so sure of winning that I would have bet all I had on the race.

"Yet I was left crippled and helpless at the start, and all because you have to use your head as well as your boat in that kind of a contest, and I did not have sense enough to use my head.

"Just ahead of me when we got under way was a boat that was about the size of mine, but not nearly as fast.

"When we got out of the harbor where the starting line was, this boat, instead of going outside the buoy that marked the channel went inside.

"The man who was steering her lived near the harbor, had sailed in it often, and I was sure he knew the channel, and that he was going inside the buoy to save about a mile and beat me that way.

"So I decided I would follow him through, figuring that if he could get past the rocks I could.

"Well, he got past the rocks all right, but I didn't. And I found out later that his boat drew two feet less water than mine. I was left with a broken propeller while he went on and won the race.

"Since that time I always knew something about the man I followed before I followed him."

Most people at some stage of their careers find it necessary to follow leaders.

And few of them take the trouble to find out before they begin to follow the leaders if the leaders are the right sort to follow.

Which is the reason that a good many ships go on the rocks.

In this particular case a little investigation before the race would have assured the victory.

The same thing is true in most cases where men blindly follow individuals, or even crowds.

The capacities of no two men are quite alike.

In selecting, in business or in politics, an example, it is wiser to find out first if that example can or ought to be followed.

Aesop's frog came to grief when he sought to model himself on the ox.

A great many human beings wreck their prospects by seeking to do things which are beyond them, merely because others can do them.

Yet a fair knowledge of one's own capabilities will enable one to make one's way, and to make a little more progress each day as one develops.

The unwise thing is to attempt a job before one is ready for it, or to try to do something that somebody else is doing before one knows just what the other fellow can do, or why he can do it.

LETTERS OF WASHINGTON.

A New York treasure hunter paid $65,000 for 200 letters written by George Washington, the father of this country, the first in peace and war and the soldier statesman who warned his countrymen to beware of entangling alliances with foreign nations. These letters were discovered some where in Virginia. They had been handed down from sire to son for more than 125 years.

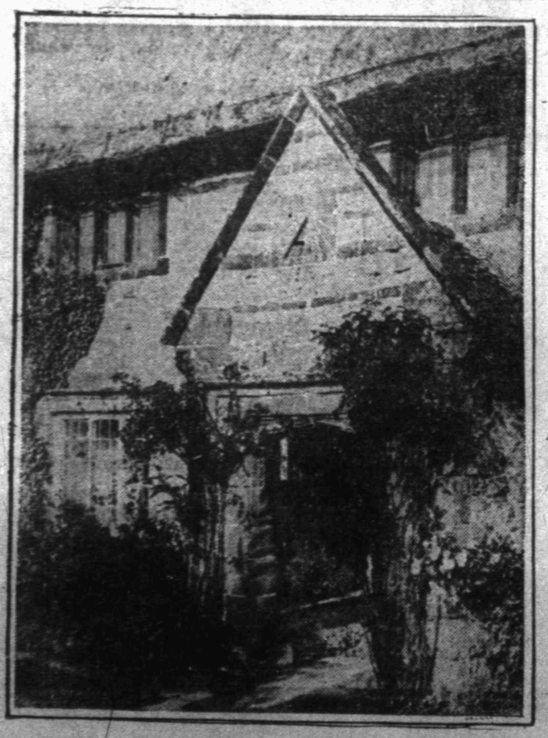

It appears that the father of this country owned and operated a distillery, and a letter dated 26th June, 1798, and addressed to Col. W. A. Washington, relates to the purchase of 500 barrels of corn for distilling purposes. It appears from the letter that the father of his country kept a watchful eye on the distillery as an excerpt will disclose:

"When the enclosed was written, I thought the whiskey had been sent, but Captain Bonecock postponed taking it aboard it seems, until he made his second trip. Now he has two barrels more to your desire and if you should want more, or any of your neighbors want any, it would be convenient and always in my power to supply you, and for grain, wheat, rye or Indian corn in exchange."

If the 18th amendment to the constitution had been in evidence, 26th June, 1798, the father of his country would not have been in the distilling business, nor would he have been able to have exchanged a prime article of whiskey for Indian corn or rye or wheat.

Gone are the days of the father of his country, and gone are some of the institutions and industries of 1798.

WHAT TODAY MEANS TO YOU

By MARY BLAKE

Libra—October 17.

Today's planetary aspects are favorable until shortly after noon. They then become adverse and presage influences that will engender an acrimonious atmosphere, combined with a feeling of pessimism, doubt and possibility. The task that was commenced yesterday under such auspicious conditions can well be continued today, and provided that no attempt is made to force "willy nilly" any issue that may arise, failure can be eliminated and success assured. In the afternoon it will be politic, at least temporarily, "rest on your laurels," and seek some other occupation or recreation of a light character, in order to counteract the depressing impressions that will assail you.

Children born today, will by their numerous ailments, cause much worry and anxiety during the early years. No serious consequences need be anticipated if they are given the right sort of alimentation and good, whole some environment. Too much emphasis cannot be stressed on nutrition, as this is the secret of rearing healthy children. In character, they will prove to be rather wilful and stubborn. Forceful discipline will only render them more so. The only way to reach these children's hearts will be through affections. Spiritual, and not physical discipline will be needed. They will be ambitions but rather inclined to think that their desires will be gratified by a wave of a magician's wand, than by plodding and work.

If today is your birthday, you are well satisfied with yourself, although those who know you best may not have as exalted an opinion of your virtues as you think they merit. None, however, can gainsay that you are reliable and competent. You are not, however, a genius nor a paragon of all the known virtues.

You are very extreme in your likes and dislikes and frequently are led by prejudice which you call intuition to assume an attitude that does little credit to your intelligence, and even less to your heart.

You are bright, witty, good natured and affable and if you could only eliminate the "holier-than-thou" atmosphere which so often characterizes your actions and utterances, you would be extremely popular.

DRUG MAN SENTENCED

Head of Three Texas Stores Gets Six Months In Prison.

FORT WORTH, Oct. 16.—Forest B. Smith, charged with concealing assets from a trustee in bankruptcy entered a plea of guilty in federal court at Abilene and was sentenced to six months in jail by Judge Wilson, court attaches reported in Fort Worth Friday upon their return from that city.

Smith was a co-partner in the Ranger Drug company, The Smith Drug company, Breckenridge, and the Smith-Maroney Drug company, South Bend, each of these stores being involved in bankruptcy proceedings.

Latest Decree Calls For Lunettes To Match Milady's Gown.

PARIS, Oct. 16.—(AP)—Dame fashion's last vagary in this, Europe's "city of fashions," has been to set all the women to wearing spectacles. The pretty eyes of the 1925 Parisienne are now weaker than those of 1924, but the celluloid frames of the eye glasses, made in many varieties of colors, are novel and chic when they match her dress.

2 PAY DEATH PENALTY

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—(AP)—Two men, one here and the other in Michigan City, Indiana, today paid the supreme penalty for murder. A woman was the victim in both cases.

John Koval, who slashed the throat of Martha Egelsk, his landlady, in Gary a year ago, died in the electric chair at the Indiana state prison shortly after midnight.

In the Cook county (Chicago) jail Frank Lanciano, slayer of Mrs. Rose Attilo, his common-law wife, was hanged at 7 o'clock.

HOW IT STARTED

"Insult to Injury."

Little do we realize when we use this expression that we are indulging in a bit of wisdom. Unknowingly we are alluding to the classic of the classic, an old Latin fable quoted by Phaedrus from the more ancient version of Aesop.

It is a fable about a bald headed man and as usual, the bald-headed man is at a disadvantage. In this case it is a mere fly that takes advantage of him.

Well, the bald-headed man was bitten on the head by a fly and when he attempted in retaliation to smite the insect he succeeded only in giving himself a vigorous slap on his bald place. Whereupon, according to Aesop the fly said jeeringly: "You want to kill me for a touch—what will you do to yourself now that you have added insult to injury?"

Saenz Declares Country Entitled to Pass Foreign Property Law.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 16.—(AP).—Mexico's right to adopt legislation forbidding foreigners to hold property along her frontiers was upheld by Foreign Minister Saenz today in a statement to The Associated Press.

The enactment of the Volstead act in the United States, he said, was an example of the right of a nation to make effective a restrictive law.

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 16.—(AP)—Establishment of a government export corporation for agricultural products with an estimated capitalization of $150,000,000 will be the legislative program of a "bigger and stronger" agricultural bloc at the next session of congress, Senator Smith W. Brookhart of Iowa said here today.

SUB ROSA BY MIMI

How Can I Be Sure?

"Mimi I am so anxious not to make a botch of love and marriage that I worry myself sick over the fact that I am engaged—just when I ought to be happiest. The man I am engaged to is suitable in every way and we are in love with each other, at least as far as I know anything of love.

"But how can I be sure? I read everywhere that girls are tricked into marriage by good looks and money—and though it doesn't seem to me that my love for my fiance has anything material as its foundation, still it seems impossible for me to be certain on this point.

"Is there any set rule for testing yourself as to whether you really care? Can I do something that will make me quite secure and confident in my love for this man?"

ENGAGED.

It isn't at all possible to give you a definite rule by which you may determine the state of your feelings for the man who is to be your husband.

Because you are no doubt different in some ways from all other girls, it would be quite hopeless to try to use a general rule handed out to every one.

You must search your mind for those things which you hold most valuable and desirable in life.

And then you must ask yourself whether it would be possible for you to give up all those things for the sake of your husband.

Nowadays, with the craze for popularity at its height, the modern girl very often asks herself: "Am I willing to give up all the admiration and flattery from scores of admirers, just for the pleasure of settling down to one man who will grow more or less used to me and will gradually get out of the habit of making pretty speeches?

"Will I be contented to spend quiet evenings at home while my unmarried friends are enjoying parties and dances?

"Will I grin and bear it when my best friend rushes over to show me her lovely new frock and I suddenly realize that I'm still wearing my trousseau things, now quite shabby?"

If you are a business girl, ask yourself whether your love is strong enough to counterbalance the rather unpleasant business of becoming dependent on some one else for your very pocket money—when you have before been so independent and free?

If none of these questions are important to you, then suppose you write and tell me just what sort of a girl you are—your likes and dislikes—your aims and ambitions.

Then I shall be better able to set a test for you.

The best general rule any one seems to have thought of yet is to ask yourself what particular hardship would seem to you most difficult to endure and then to determine in your own mind whether your love is powerful enough to carry you through just that hardship.

SYNOPSIS

Connemara Moore promised that if she appeared at Aunt Celimena's party tonight with her hair bobbed, she would become engaged to Bingham Carrington. Otherwise she would accept Saltonstall Cabot Adams. The guests—including the two suitors—are assembled, but Connie aggravates them by wearing a headdress that conceals her auburn head. The decision must be made known before midnight or her aunt will disinherit her. And the minutes are flying by—rapidly.

CHAPTER II—Continued

"Oh, my dear Mr. Brewster, you've never known any woman except Miss Celimena, which misleads you frightfully. Of course, it's because she has decided that Connemara is so frightened now. Busily pushed from behind by her aunt and her aunt's lawyer, she has shut her eyes, jumped over the precipice—and then—well, behold her hanging by a slender branch."

Mr. Brewster seemed unaffected by the picture. "She will have to drop before twelve o'clock," he said.

"But that's nearly three hours away," mused Miss Glenn. "And so many things can happen in three hours."

"As for instance?"

"Well, the world might come to an end at 11:30. Or Miss Celimena might weaken."

"I agree with you," said Mr. Brewster, "that those two events are likely to occur at about the same time."

"Or a beautiful young ruffian might step out of the syringa bushes and carry her off in his arms."

"I should think," said Mr. Brewster, "that she would rather prefer crashing on the rocks below."

"I would like to know what is under that headdress of yours."

"I told you," retorted Miss Glenn, "that you had never known any woman except Miss Celimena."

Meanwhile, this good lady, along whose path in life the syringa bushes had given forth nothing but a refined fragrance, was restlessly on the prowl. The dances at Moorelands had begun at 8:30 in her youth, and they still began at 8:30 even if she alone was ready at that hour.

Usually she drifted on the fringe of the dance floor, indicating with a skillful shoulder blade and an expert eyebrow that the daughters of her old neighbors were disporting themselves in an unseemly manner. But this evening she was alive to nothing but the discomfort caused by the fact that, partly through her own unacknowledged fault, the peace of Moorelands was disturbed by the rowdy commotions of melodrama.

The heroine of this gaudy play was dancing with simple earnestness. As the orchestra paused for breath and just as the two suitors were starting to waste theirs on the hidden ears of Connemara, her aunt advanced upon her formidably, detached her from some limber but socially negligible partner, and led her out on to the veranda. A young and affectionate couple, who had retreated to its shadows in response to some primeval instincts, scented the approach of a family scene and scuttled obligingly into the house.

Connemara, outwardly serene in the mild garb of the nun, sat on the rail of the veranda, leaned her secretive head against its weather-beaten pillar and looked out across the acres that could be hers at the drop of a hat—or at least of a bandeau, cap, and veil. The local fireflies were doing their best to make Moorelands seem festive. A mile or so away there was a faint glow in the sky. That was Stamford.

Nearer by there was an ocacsional twinkle in the darkness—one of the several battered farmhouses where tenants had once toiled for old Daniel Moore, but which had been taken over of late years by refugees from the pueblo cliffs of New York.

The once orthodox countryside, dotted with something like peasantry that had doffed respectful hats to young Miss Celimena as she drove smartly along the roads in her shining phaeton, was now infested with a strange riffraff of column conductors, feminist agitators, comediennes, and music critics. These not only did doff their hats; they didn't wear any. And even Miss Celimena knew that the pretentious names which adorned their reclaimed cottages were affixed in derision of that delusion of grandeur which had possessed her revered father when, after accumulating his fortune, he turned ducal on a surprised neighborhood and named his estate Moorelands—for all the world as though it were a shooting box in Devonshire.

Thus one of these new neighbors had named his tottering cottage "The Ricketts" and another—a brilliant young Jew from Harvard—had sardonically hung out a sign which announced to the offended Miss Moore that the name of his house was "The Hebrewst."

"My dear Constance," her aunt began in a tone which suggested that by "dear" she meant "expensive."

"Yes, aunt."

"You are so like your dear mother tonight. She could never merely come into a room. She always had to make what that actor friend of yours calls an entrance."

"Yes, aunt."

There was a pause. Miss Celimena broke it. "I would like to know what is under that headdress of yours."

"Thoughts, Aunt Celimena."

"What a change!" observed her aunt gloomily. "I think a penny would be an exorbitant charge for them."

Connemara chuckled. "You're quite right," she admitted cheerfully. "I was thinking as it happens about that Mrs. Buxton who got into one of your luncheons by mistake. That Mrs. Malaprop. You remember. She was the one who said her daughter had gone to a masquerade in the garbage of a nun."

There was another pause—an acrid pause. This time it was the old grandfather's clock in the hall which broke it. Both of them counted as its sweet bell rang ten times.

"Well," said Miss Celimena, gathering her shawl about her, "you have two hours in which to indulge yourself in this fiddle-faddle. I suppose it would be asking a good deal to expect any one of your generation to repay a lifetime of affection by a little courtesy, but it would add to my somewhat impaired enjoyment of this party if you would assure me that you intend to take off that contraption before you hear that clock strike twelve."

"I promise, aunt," she said, and added speculatively, "before I hear that clock strike twelve."

Miss Celimena's resentful skirts swished against the French window, and Connemara was alone on the veranda. The orchestra had subsided with a final snort and the only sound came from the lawn, where a sprinkler whirred in the darkness or from across the hedge where a streak of light told of some automobile heading for Stamford and New York. The night air was sweet with syringa.

And at that moment one of those cars slowed down and stopped—stopped alongside the road as if its driver had begun to have suspicions about its internals and was minded to peer under its hood. That, as a matter of fact, was just what had happened, and when young David Lacy finally straightened up he was aware that someone had stepped out of the darkness and was standing in the dusk that lay beside the path of light his lamps were making. It was a woman in white and, in a voice which he later decided was the loveliest sound he had ever heard, she spoke to him thus simply and to the point:

"If that car will run now, I think I'll go with you. Where are you going?"

"To Paris," he replied happily.

SCHOOL BOARD UNEASY ABOUT COLLEGE LOTS

Financial Burden Is Too Great to Permit Beautification

Weighted down to the utmost limit with financail liability already, the Wichita Falls independent school district board is facing a perplexing and pressing problem in the development of grounds around the new Junior college building.

This was made clear Friday to members of the chamber of commerce business council when Dr. J. W. Cantwell, superintendent of schools, told of something of the overhead the board is now carrying and what it would have to do in the near future to carry out plans it has cherished for some time. He asked the aid of the chamber in offering suggestions as to what the board could do and this resulted in appointment of a committee composed of A. M. Miller, J. N. Prothro and R. E. Penick to study the situation and perhaps recommend some course of action.

Briefly, the board has on its hands some eight or more choice lots abutting the Junior college site—lots that were contracted for some time ago but notes on which have never been paid. The land was purchased at the suggestion of the commerce committee with the view of eventually landscaping, boulevarding and otherwise beautifying an attractive approach up to the college.

To do this a large amount of paving will be necessary and other expenses would be incurred; and the school board simply does not have funds with which to do the thing properly. Dr. Cantwell went into some detail on the expenses being incurred this year and made it plain that the schools were carrying about as steep a financial burden as it was possible to assume.

SNAPPING OF COTTON, INSTEAD OF PICKING IT WILL COST WICHITA FARMERS UNTOLD WEALTH, CLAIM

Careless Harvesting Makes Staple Much Less Valuable

Snapping of cotton instead of picking it has cost or will cost farmers in Wichita county and in the Wichita valley untold wealth this year, agricultural and cotton experts here declare.

That a situation regarded at least as dubious prevails in this section this fall was brought out yesterday at the chamber of commerce business council when the matter was brought up. And while the agricultural committee of the chamber was instructed to give consideration to the situation, there is little likelihood of any remedy being found.

"Snapping" Cotton, it should be explained, is a method sometimes employed in gathering the crop. It consists of simply pulling bolls, burrs, lint and all from the stalk instead of picking the cottony fiber from the bolls.

Buyers Complain.

Cotton buyers complain, and it is a substantiated fact, that snapping cotton reduces its quality. The bolls and other impurities are removed at the gin, but cotton thus, cleaned never brings a price equal to that picked clean in the field. Snapped cotton sells for between 25 and $35 less per bale than picked cotton, it is said. Farmers, too, pay less for snapping. Locally this year, $1.50 per hundred pounds is paid for picking while $1 per 100 prevails for snapping.

County Farm Agent Guy R. Jones explained yesterday that there is some justification for snapping here because of adverse weather conditions which have made the crop difficult to pick. Drouth in the summer and drenching showers now have caused the bolls to rot so that, at a mere touch of the hand, many of them snap off from the stalk.

Pickers Prefer It.

This, of course, slows up operations for if a picker then stops to strip away the bolls his production drops off rapidly.

Many working now in the cotton fields prefer to snap at $1 a hundred pounds than to pick at $1.50. More money can be made at the lower price, they say, because of the greater speed possible. And with pickers or snappers either none too plentiful in this region, farmers are disposed to accede to their demands in order to get any cotton out at all.

MARSHALL TO FILE FOR NEW TRIAL TODAY

Was Convicted Recently And Given 25-Year Sentence

A motion for a new trial will be filed today for J. L. Marshall, convicted in the 30th district court Thursday of the murder last July of J. E. Swayzee and sentenced to 25 years in the penitentiary. The law allows a convicted man two days in which to file formal motion for a new trial, and it was stated at the district clerk's office that none had been docketed there yesterday. It was learned, however, that the motion was being prepared by John Davenport and Robert K. Crain, attorneys for Marshall.

In event the motion is overruled it is presumed an appeal will be taken.

Varicose Veins Reduced or Money Back, Says--A--

Simple Home Treatment That Is Giving Amazing Results

The world progresses. Today ailments that took weeks to cure can now be ended in a few days. If you have varicose veins or bunches you can start today to bring them back to normal size, and if you are wise you will do so.

Just get an original bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil at any dispensing pharmacist and apply it night and morning to the enlarged veins. It is very powerful and penetrating and only a little is required.

After a few days' treatment the veins will begin to grow smaller and by regular use will soon reduce to normal.

Moone's Emerald Oil is also a marvelous healing agent. One application for instance stops the itching of eczema, and a few applications causes the eruptions to dry up, scale off and completely disappear. It is equally as effective in barber's itch, salt rheum, redness and inflammatory skin trouble.

People who want to reduce varicose veins, or get rid of eczema, ulcers, or piles in a few days should not hesitate to get a bottle at once. It is so powerful that a small bottle lasts a long time. Any pharmacy can supply you. All druggists sell subject to its Adv.

WHAT'S DOING HERE AND THERE IN WEST TEXAS

Seymour

LYNN HOLMAN, HONOREE.

Master Lynn Holman was the happy honoree on Saturday afternoon at a delightful birthday party, celebrating his ninth birthday, when his mother, Mrs. D. A. Holman, invited a number of his boy friends and class mates in to make it a red letter day for him. Games were played on the lawn, games as only boys can fully enjoy. At the end of the afternoon's fun, the pretty birthday cake with its burning candles was brought out. Pop corn balls, hot chocolate and the cake with hop frogs as favors was served to the honoree and his guests, who were Masters Joe Rollins, John McClure, Jack Knox, Henry Houser, Jack Coy, Shubert Breedlove, Stanley Cooper, Leighton St. Clair, Bobby Baskin, Mac St. Clair, W. V. Montgomery, Sonnyman Hinds, Billie McNeill, Dean Bradshaw, Pat Murray, William Thomas McWilliams, Glen Gorman and J. B. St. Clair.

BAPTIST W. M. U.

Mrs. Geo. Cook was hostess to Circle five of the Baptist Woman's Missionary union at her pretty new home on Monday afternoon in a study and business meeting.

Mrs. W. E. England led the devotional which was followed by the business session over which Mrs. England presided as chairman. The following officers were elected for their new church year: Mrs. W. E. England, chairman; Mrs. Mont Lankford, Jr., sub-chairman; Mrs. Geo. Cook, secretary and treasurer; Mrs. L. B. Donohue, teacher; Mrs. Geo. Andruss, personal service chairman. Mrs. Donohue then led the study of Bible lesson, which was the first and second chapters of Titus. Members who attended were Mesdames W. E. England, J. M. Edwards, W. T. McWilliams, Geo. Andruss, Oscar Deaton, L. B. Donohue, W. E. Stephens and Geo. Cook.

DELPHAIN CLUB.

The Delphain chapter met on Friday afternoon at the home of the president, Mrs. J. M. Roach, in their study of art. Mrs. Mattie E. Taylor was leader of the lesson, studying arcuated architecture and early Christian art. Roman architecture was discussed by Mrs. J. M. Roach; "Relation of Pagan and Christian Art," Mrs. W. E. England; "Byzantine Architecture and Art," Mrs. Whit Whiteside; "Influence of the Church Upon Art," Mrs. S. W. Pistole. The following members were present: Mesdames S. W. Pistole, W. E. England, Mattie E. Taylor, O. McDaniel, J. H. Milam, J. M. Roach, Whit Whiteside, J. O. Word, Jr., Margaret McCracken, C. C. McDonald and Miss Lucille Rupe.

LYCEUM COURSE.

The lyceum committee of the Parent-Teachers' association are busy this week selling season tickets for the lyceum course, which will open Wednesday evening with the first number given in auditorium of city hall by the New York Players, playing "The Storm." This is a splendid play of the northwest and outdoors, having had a good run in New York. All interested in the school and work of the Parent-Teachers' association are asked to help, that this number and the course for the season may be put over in the best possible way.

PERSONALS.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Owens and little daughter, Margaret, of Dallas have returned to their home after visiting the parents of Mrs. Owen, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Dickson.

PANI SCANDAL TALE PROBED BY MEXICANS

Chamber of Deputies Debates Charges on Finance Minister

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 16.—(AP)—The Mexican chamber of deputies yesterday debated reports linking the name of Alberto J. Pani, secretary of finance, with Gloria Faure, Mexican actress, alleged to have accompanied him into the United States in violation of American law.

Several deputies voiced severe criticism of Secretary Pani and later a committee from the chamber waited upon President Calles and urged that he request Senor Pani's resignation.

The president replied noncommittally, saying he had not been informed regarding the reports. Furthermore, he pointed out, Secretary Pani is not engaged in an official mission to the United States, but is conferring with private citizens there.

Assistant Secretary of Labor Husband on Thursday instructed the immigration authorities at New York to take no action on a complaint seeking the deportation of Senorita Faure. The department officials said that political enemies of Senor Pani were responsible for the complaint and that no evidence in substantiation had been submitted.

WHERE BUTTER MAKES ALL THE DIFFERENCE IN THE WORLD

Ice Box Cookies

1 cup butter, (Mistletoe, of course)
2 cups sugar (1 white, 1 brown)
2 eggs
1 cup nut meats
1 teaspoon soda
½ teaspoon salt
3½ cups flour
1 teaspoon cinnamon.

Cream butter and sugar, add eggs and beat well. Add nut meats.

Sift soda, salt and flour three times and add to other mixtures.

Add cinnamon and mix well into stiff dough.

Pack into bread pan or similar mold and place in ice-box until next day. Slice into thin slices and bake. The dough will keep for weeks in the ice-box and may be baked as needed.

Here's a modern recipe. Old-fashioned in its goodness—new-fashioned in the way it saves time and trouble.

You make up the cookie dough in advance. You slice off what you need and bake them along with the rest of your meal.

Butter is the important part of the recipe. It makes possible the unique keeping feature and insures crisp, tender goodness.

Of course you must use good butter. Mistletoe Butter has the flavor, aroma, purity and freshness that makes it just right.

3 HELD IN LOVE TRYST WHICH COST 2 LIVES

Jealousy Blamed by Police For Death of Girl And Fiance

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 16.—(AP)—The first arrest in the hunt for the slayer of Madelynne Latimer, 19-year-old Milwaukee girl, and her fiance, James Sears of Kenosha, whose bodies were found yesterday in a field near Kenosha, was made early today when officers took Howard J. Pratt of Milfaukee into custody. The deputies said they thought he could throw some light on the case. Later two young men also were taken into custody by Sheriff Willems, who refused to divulge their names. He said both had been paying attentions to Miss Latimer within a year and that one of them is married.

Search for the "love tryst slayer" who shot the couple centered in Milwaukee when police received information that a Milwaukee man had threatened the life of the girl and man.

Threat Revealed.

While the bodies of the victims lay in the county morgue, the slain girl's twin sister, Evelyn, revealed that her sister had been in terror of the Milwaukee man for several days.

"If you don't lay off Jimmy, I'll get you both," the man threatened recently, according to Evelyn.

Possibility that a jealous woman may have played a part in the tragedy was also revealed to officials by the girl's friends who said she had spoken of receiving frequent threats from a girl who had been disputing her claim on the affections of Sears.

Bodies Were Buried.

Belief that the shooting might possibly have been a murder and suicide was dispelled by Sheriff Frank Willems of Kenosha, who declared that the two met their deaths from a revolver in the hands of a third person who escaped after burying the bodies in a pile of cabbage leaves and debris.

The crime was discovered after a search which was started when Sear's abandoned and blood-spattered automobile was found on a road near Kenosha.

PTOMAINE IS A MYTH.

There Is no Such Thing, Say University Profs. in Convention.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 16.—(AP)—Ptomaine poison is now declared only a myth. There is no such thing.

Numerous authorities were quoted to prove this contention by Dr. Milton J. Rosenau, Harvard university, before the Interstate Post-Graduate assembly of America which closed its annual sessions here today.

Ptomaine was thought to be a degenerate product of protein foods, but five years' experimentation has proved proteins can not yield anything which gives the ptomaine symptoms, Dr. Rosenau stated.

Dancing Frocks, Not Hats, Now Use Flower Trim

The winter hats use very few flowers for trimming, preferring ribbons, self materials, feathers and braids. The large shape (upper right) is a black velvet from Paris trimmed with black satin ribbon and gold braid. Posies are used lavishly, however, on the charming dancing frock (left), festoons of gold and white daisies being draped over a full skirt. The frock is fashioned of shell pink georgette trimmed with rose colored ribbon. Hosiery may be nude, gold or copper, but always light in color. Delicately tinted hosiery and black satin pumps are pictured below at the right.

Shamlain Asks for $3,000 On Fire Protection Policy

Damages of $3,000 are sought from the Royal Insurance company, Ltd., of which Greever Wynne and Maer are local agents, in a suit filed Friday in district court by N. K. Shamlain.

The plaintiff alleges that in January of this year a business enterprise owned and conducted by him at 916 Scott avenue under the name of Shamlain Studio and Art shop was destroyed by fire while under protection of a fire insurance policy held by the defendant company.

He alleges that although due demand has been made for payment of the policy, the defendant fails and refuses to do so and he accordingly prays for damages in the amount of the face of the policy.

CITY SPENDS BUT $326,768 IN LAST HALF

Budget Appropriations For Year Amounts To $872,739

With budget appropriations of $872,739.41 made for the 12-month period, only $326,768.36 was expended operating and improvement expense in the first six months of the fiscal year ending March 31, 1926. A report completed yesterday by City Clerk W. E. McBroom and covering the six months from April to September, inclusive, shows this financial standing.

In the period of time covered by the report, only two funds were overdrawn, and neither of these were in the general fund. Street improvements for which no appropriation was made in the first place have cost $25,811.91; while sewer construction, for which an appropriation of $3,600 was made, has cost $17,988.86, leaving an overdraft of $14,386.86.

The general fund from which the operating expenses of all the larger departments—police, fire, administrative, tax, engineering, etc., are paid has unexpended balance of $147,425.85 out of an original appropriation of $270,207.70. This means that $122,781.87 has been spent to date.

On the basis of the first six months expenditures, the police department will run through its budget allowance by several thousands of dollars; the fire department may run a little in the red and some of the smaller departments may pile up small overdrafts.

FLOG VICTIM GETS AWARD FOR $7,000

Damages Given Burleson By Jury in Georgetown Klan Case

GEORGETOWN, Texas, Oct. 16.—(AP)—Damages aggregating $7,000 were awarded R. W. Burleson by a jury here today in the case against R. E. H. Bledsoe and 26 other alleged members of the ku klux klan. Burleson asked $100,000 damages for injury and humiliation suffered when beaten by a band of men near Taylor in 1923.

Exemplary damages of $4,000 and actual damages of $3,000 were awarded.

Records and proceedings of the famous flogging cases in which five men were sentenced to the penitentiary were reviwed during the trial of the civil case. Attorney General Dan Moody, who lead the prosecution of the criminal cases, was a principal witness. He related facts developed in the previous trials. The jury deliberated all night.

The verdict was against the following defendants: Olin Gossett, Murray Jackson, Dewey Ball, M. S. West, Frank Hobbins, K. C. Baker, Henry Wilson, Frank Pyle, G. W. Loftus, A. A. Davis, and J. R. McDaniel.

DAVIDSON IN DALLAS PLEA FOR PRISONS

He Urges Centralization Of Pen System In Texas

DALLAS, Texas, Oct. 16.—A plea for centralization of the state' penal institutions; use of convict labor in building state highways; re-establishment of an honor system on the penal farms and securing of more liberal legislative appropriations to carry on needed reforms in the penitentiary were advocated here today by Lynch Davidson of Houston, when he addressed the Texas welfare association on the subject of how the association might improve the Texas penitentiary.

Asserting that rehabilitation and reorganization of the prison system had always been one of his major objectives, Mr. Davidson pointed out that the 84,000 acres of land now devoted to 14 different prison farms of the state were scattered from Red river to the gulf, were not co-ordinated, were losing money constantly and were therefore distinct liabilities. The very fact that they did lose so much, he said, discouraged legislators from pouring money into them. He nevertheless asserted that the Teer-Chitwood bill providing for sale of present farms and centralization of the system, which was defeated by the Thirty-ninth legislature, should be put into effect.

Pointing to the success of Virginia in building a vast chain of paved highways with convict labor at nominal expense, the speaker went vigorously on record as favoring this state's utilization of its convicts in the building of its highways. He proposed that they be paid something for their work.

Rains

WACO, Oct. 16—Rainfall in Waco for the 24 hours ending at 7 a. m. today totaled 1.24, the total for the month amounting to 2.24. Telephone reports give good rains at Riesel, Mart, Marlin, Moody, Hillsboro, Clifton, Crawford, Valley Mailis McGregor, Mc Calm, Chilton, Belton, Temple, Gatesville, Hubbard and Lorena.

AUSTIN.—Exactly 1.55 inches of precipitation was recorded here during the past 12 hours. Showers fell intermittently Thursday.

SAN ANTONIO.—With the Colorado and Guadlupe rivers falling there is little prospect for loss of cattle in the territory affected by these streams, according to J. H. Jarboe of the San Antonio weather bureau.

HOUSTON.—In less than two hours this morning a rainfall of 1.16 inches was recorded in Houston, making the total rainfall for the 24 hours slightly more than two inches.

FORT WORTH.—Two inches of rain fell here this morning between 1 and 3 o'clock. No damage was done.

DEL RIO.—Waters of the Rio Grande were flowing a foot over the international bridge here this morning following an eight-foot rise. A storm here Thursday night caused slight damage. A half-inch of rain fell.

struction of old highways, more grade crossings were being put in than were being eliminated, increasing a danger source.

Mr. Rutland talked at length on the Workmen's Compensation Act, how it had come into being, the basis of compensation, and how it was related to the safety of the employees of industrial concerns. He told of the value of accident prevention to employer and to employee, giving illustrations and examples of how accidents had been caused and how they might have been prevented. He urged co-operation between executives, the foreman and the workmen in carrying out methods of safety in preventing accidents.

Dismiss Compensation Act.

Horrace Robbins of the Robbins Insurance company brought out another angle of the compensation act. He cited an example of a man, an employee in an oil company, who had an injury to an eye, and how, after drawing money on his claim, continued working at another place, still drawing money on his accident policy. He showed letters in the case from doctors and lawyers, and how five different places the man had secured employment, worked a few days, had "trouble" with his eyes, and continued his claim for insurance through disabilities.

He cited the case of another man who drew a claim because of injury, and how under an assumed name continued to work, drawing a salary and at the same time drawing money from the insurance company. He dealt a hard blow to "kite" doctors and lawyers who assisted such men to adjust their claims on pretended injuries.

Against Fake Claims.

"The State Bar and the American Bar Association are trying to oust the lawyers who take care of fake claims. Such lawyers should be ostracized from society," declared Judge J. S. Dickey, in speaking of the "kite" lawyers Mr. Robbins described in his talk. "When a man has a policy in a reputable insurance company and needs to adjust his claim before the board, he does not need a lawyer. There is plenty of legitimate business without having to stoop this low," he said.

The second point he brought out was the Safety Council is not only to prevent accidents, and "not in the last analysis to save money, but to save human beings."

Round table talks followed the addresses of the evening. Among the speakers were W. C. Duncan and Mr. Beddow of the American Refining company; G. T. Ashmore, R. R. Rhine, Mr. Bassett of the Wichita Falls and Southern; A. E. Kelley of the Wichita Falls Electric company; Mr. Fox of the Window Glass company; A. E. Keuhn of the Petrolia Supply; Mr. Jenkins of the Miller Petroleum; Pat Sullivan, Charlee Pogenpohl of the Western Union; Grover Monroe, L. L. Albrittton, Leon Horn, Wichita Falls Electric Co.

Theatres

Eugene O'Brien is known to millions of screen fans as a "perfect lover." Winning new laurels as the handsome young American in Norma Talmadge's triumphant photoplay, "Graustark," O'Brien again proves his versatility.

Garb the dashing Eugene in chaps or evening clothes, old-time abiliment or the last word in 1925 sartorial creations, and he's at his ease. "Graustark" provides an ideal atmosphere for the actor. His love-making and romantic adventures in the modernized version of the famous George Barr McCutcheon novel add new luster to a distinguished career that has been marked by many appearances in Norma Talmade successes.

"Graustark" was produced by Joseph M. Schenck for First National. Directed by Dimitri Buchowetzki, the noted Russian movie-maker, the story of a mythical kingdom and absorbing adventures of the beautiful princess and her American lover places lovely Norma and her leading man in an ideal element.

In the role of Princess Yetive, Miss Talmadge wears gowns and jewels that perfectly blend into the invigorating romance. Love and intribue permeate the story that has delighted millions of fiction readers and now comes to the screen on a sumptuous scale.

The big supporting cast includes such well known players as Marc McDermott, Roy D'Arcy, Albert Gran, Lillian Lawrence, Michael Vavitch, Frank Currier, Winter Hall and Wanda Hawley.

Frowning castles and quaint old-world streets were constructed and full-strength regiments of soldiers were recruited to faithfully carry out the development of the plot in McCutcheon's gripping tale. "Graustark" opens at the Olympic today.

NEWS OF ACCIDENT TO SHIP ON ARCTIC VOYAGE SUPPRESSED, COMMANDER ADMITS ON RETURN

Steamer Struck Reef And Officer Dumper In Sea, Is Report

BOSTON, Oct. 16.—(AP).—The Boston Transcript in a copyrighted story today says that the grounding of the steamer Peary on a reef near Hopedale, Labrador, while northbound, nearly resulted in the loss of the ship and the disruption of the MacMillan Arctic expedition. It quotes Lieutenant Commander E. F. McDonald, Jr., commander of the ship, as saying that he suppressed information of the disaster on his own authority.

The first disclosure of the accident came today when the ship was dry docked at the navy yard here to permit the insurance underwriters to make an examination.

The story quotes Commander McDonald as saying:

"I took it upon myself to 'kill' the official radiogram sent by Commander Byrd (who commanded the navy personnel) to the secretary of the navy. I assume full responsibility for withholding details of the accident and feel that I was justified in so doing."

McDonald said the Peary was following the Bowdoin when it suddenly struck an uncharted reef with a force which threw the men from their feet. It then listed alarmingly. The crew was ordered into life belts, but as the ship did not list further a life boat was lowered to a rig a ledge anchor and a line was carried to the Bowdoin.

The Peary was pulled clear, but in so doing the life boat was fouled. Commander McDonald in attempting to free it was thrown into the icy waters and rescued by his crew.

THE PROBLEM: The problem is to find the sum total of the figures shown on the Elephant in the picture. There are no marks, lines or characters on the body of the Elephant except figures. These figures range from 2 to 9, each one standing alone. There are no "ones" or "ciphers" in the groups. If you find a "2" and "3" are written so closely together that they look like "23," it means that the "2" and "3" are to be added just as you would if they were an inch apart. The tops of the SIXES are distinctly curved, and the bottoms of the NINES are straight, or nearly so. There is no trick or illusion in the chart.

The Sum Total of Figures Is Not Known to Anyone

The drawer and maker of the cut knew the total as he drew it, and no one else. When the cut was received by The Record News several figures were clipped out. No Record News employe knows the drawer's solution and the drawer does not know what numbers were cut out by The Record News, and will not know until after the closing date, November 14th, 1925. No one knows any more about what the correct answer is than the contestants themselves.

General Rules of the Contest

This competition is open to all residents of the states of Texas and Oklahoma, except employes of The Record News and members of their families.

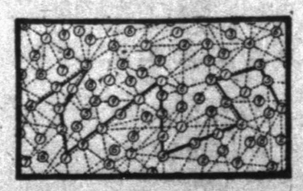

Contestants may submit as many different solutions as they desire provided a payment of one of the amounts designated in the prize list shall accompany each solution. NO SOLUTION UNACCOMPANIED BY A SUBSCRIPTION PAYMENT WILL BE REGISTERED.

The Record News offers these prizes for individual effort. While it is proper for members of one household to work together or several friends, it is not permissible for more than one of those working in unison to send a solution of the puzzle. When in the judgment of the contest manager more than one member of the same family, or more than one of any number of persons he believes have worked together send in a solution of the puzzle, he reserves the right to refund subscriptions and return the solutions he believes have been submitted contrary to the foregoing rule. The Record News reserves the right to reject any solutions it believes have not been submitted under proper conditions. The Record News also reserves the right to finally decide any other questions or points which may arise and those entering the contest agree to abide by such decisions.

In the event of ties on this puzzle, as many prizes will be reserved as there are contestants tied, before any prizes are awarded for a less correct solution. For instance, if five people were tied on the best solution, the first five prizes will be reserved for them, and they would be awarded the prizes in accordance with the standing of their solutions of the second puzzle. That is, the one submitting the best solution of the second puzzle would receive the first prize; the one submitting the next best, the second, and so on.

Subscriptions may be NEW or RENEWALS. Both count the same.

DECIDING TIES

In case of ties those tied for any prize will be presented with a second puzzle, which will consist of drawing a line across the face of a chart of figures, like the accompanying chart, only larger, so that the figures thus connected when added together will total the greatest sum. If necessary this chart will be used four times, after which, should any ties remain, each contestant will receive full value of any prize tied for.

In case there are no ties on counting the Elephant no other puzzle, of course, will be presented.

More Truth Than Poetry

A TIMELY WARNING

"The automobile and the motion picture play are driving the young to crime."—Police Commissioner Enright of New York

What made Mr. Bluebeard, with daggers and knives
Destroy, seriatum, his multiple wives?
What made, of a kindly and dutiful lad
A man with a character notably bad?
What turned his young instinct for sweetness and light
To deeds that can scarce be considered quite right?
The answer is easy. Most every one knows
It was automobiles and the cinema shows.

"Now Bluebeard, keep out of that car," said his mother
"It is sure to corrupt you in one way or other.
By breaknig the speed laws a boy may begin
A life that will end in all manner of sin—
Moreover I warn you; do not spend your days
At those awful, sensational cinema plays."
But Bluebeard was heedless, and thus he became Possessed of his evil and sinister fame.

When Signor Iago was only a child
His ways were not wicked nor craft nor wild.
He would not have dreamed, in that innocent time,
Of plotting, much less of committing, a crime.
But the speedster he drove and the movies he saw
Destroyed the respect that he had for the law.
Till at last he reduced to a terrible plight
His captain, who always had treated him right.

Remember dear children, no man ever steals
Till his soul has been soured by automobiles.
No man rob his friends of their salm and repose
Unless he's addicted to cinema shows.
No man slays his wives—though they're all of them true
Unless they have both made him bad through and through.
To be good and quite happy, you must keep away
From the automobile and the cinema play.

Farmer Plunges and Passing Attack Sends Mustangs to Defeat

PONIES DROP TOUGH GAME BY 7-0 SCORE

Aggies Buck to 15-Yard Line, Then Over Via Air Route

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 16.—Texas Aggies and S. M. U. Mustangs battled to a 7 to 0 verdict in favor of the Aggies in a spectacular game on Kyle field, the revered home of the Texas Aggies, here today. It was an offensive battle from start to finish with running plays handicapped by the muddy condition of the field. The powerful toe of Captain Wilson of the Farmers kept the Mustangs at bay throughout the first half. The ball was in SMU territory most of the first half. The half saw the score 0 to 0, with the offensive work of the two teams about even.

Score in Third.

In the third quarter the Farmers tallied. Berry returned one of Cortemeglia's punts 15 yards, putting the ball on the Mustangs' 45-yard line. Captain Wilson rammed the line twice for a first down.

Joel Hunt wormed his way through center for 15 yards and the ball rested on the Mustang 15-yard line. A pass, Hunt to Wilson, gained eight yards and another pass, Berry to Wilson gave the Aggies their score. Hunt kicked goal.

Facing a seven-point lead the Mustangs unloosed one of the most sensational forward pass attacks ever seen in the southwest. Time and again Ingram and Bishop hurled the oval to Dawson for loong gains. Twice in that last quarter the Mustangs rushed the ball through the air to within the Aggies own five-yard line. Once the ball went over on the Farmers one-yard line. The w histle found the Aggies in possession of the ball on their own 20-yard line.

Wilson Flashes.

Both elevens made eight first downs The fray was remarkably free from penalties with the Mustangs drawing the only two, and they were for offside. The powerful Cortemeglia was stopped in his tracks by the Aggie line and often thrown for losses. He went out in the third quarter.

Captain Wilson played a remarkable game for the Aggies and his punting kept the Mustangs in their own territory throughout the first half, a pretty duel was staged between Bishop of SMU and Berry of A. & M., in returning punts. Both made several thrilling gains. Following the Aggie touchdown Wilson returned the Mustang kickoff 60 yards and was only stopped by the safety man.

Disch Says Bucs Should Win Next Two Nat'l Flags

AUSTIN, Oct. 16.—(AP)—Pittsburgh boasts a brilliant team of youth, one that should win without great trouble the National league flags for at least two more years, Billy Disch, veteran Texas university baseball coach, said today upon his return from the east, where he witnessed the first five world series games.

Coach Disch's trip was made possible by student admirers, who subscribed several hundred dollars.

That Glenn Wright and "Pie" Traynor, shortstop and third baseman of the world champion Pirates, are the most brilliant infielders he ever saw, and that there is not a weak hitter on the Pirate team, were statements of the coach, who has won 13 southwest conference diamond titles in the 14 years he has coached at Texas university.

Commenting on Peckinpaugh's poor showing, Disch said the shortstop was badly handicapped by ailing legs. "I believe his layoff of several weeks just before the big series also hurt his play badly," Disch said.

Coach Disch met President Coolidge while in Washington.

86 or More Miles An Hour Speed Of Cop's New Cycle

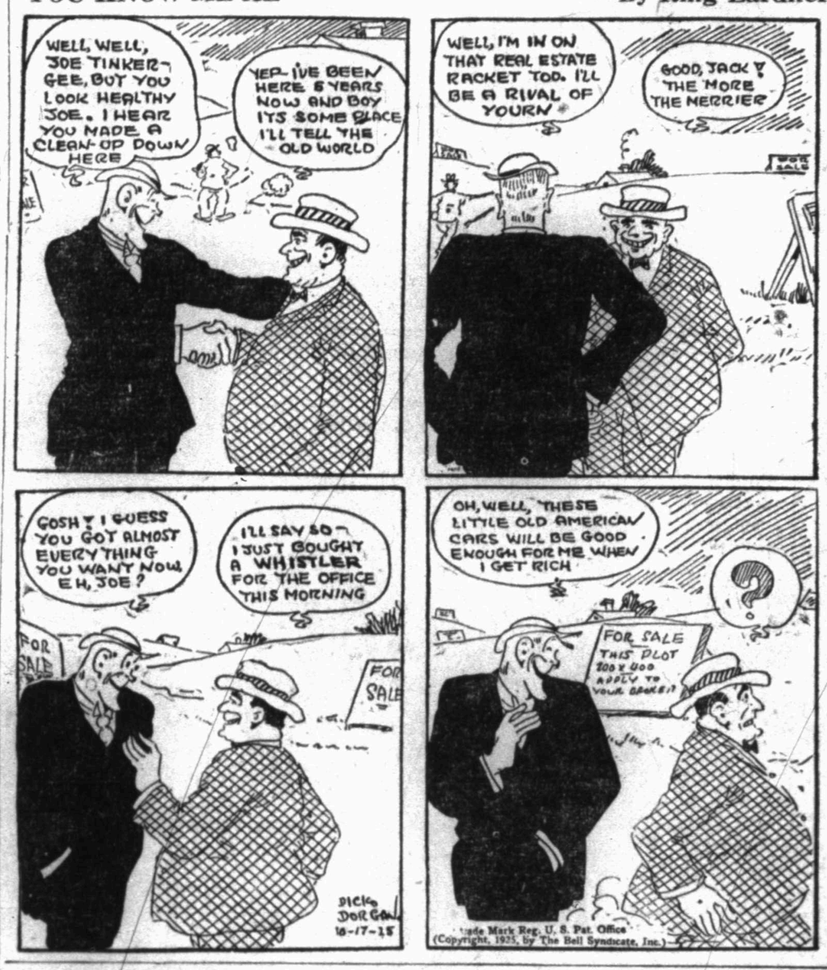

"How fast will it run? Pretty bloomin' fast."

Pretty bloomin' fast being interpreted in miles per hour as 86 or more, which was the speed attained yesterday in a tryout of a new, specially built motorcycle put in commission here by C. E. Griffin, county motorcycle officer and deputy constable.

The machine is a work of mechanical art as well as mechanical perfection. It has a wealth of nickle plating even to the rims of the wheels and is equipped with a number of new and novel headlights.

Griffin purchased the wheel from George Hicker, Tarrant county motor cop who rebuilt it.

DARMOUTH GRID COACH SEEKS STONEWALL LINE TO AID BACKS

By FRANCIS DONOVAN
Special Central Press Correspondent.

HANOVER, N. H., Oct. 16.—At Dartmouth this fall Coach Hawley is confronted with the problem of developing a backfield which can take advantage of the openings made for it by a powerful line. At present the offensive power of the team resembles an old one-lung motor. This despite the 59 to 0 victory over Norwich.

Oberlander at right half, stars of many games last year, alone remains from the backfield quartet which brought Dartmouth through the 1924 season undefeated.

The discovery and development of a quarterback is the coach's greatest worry. Eddie Dooley, peerless pilot of 1924 team, resigned from college last winter. While regretting his loss, nobody in Hanover worried greatly, inasmuch as "Flash" Fallon, his chief understudy, was expected to be on hand. Fallon, however, ran afoul of the surgeon's knife this summer and is taking his football from the side lines this season.

Help! Help! at Quarter.

Several men have been shifted from other positions to the field general's berth in early practice. At present McPhail, who captained and played fullback on the 1924 team, seems to have the call. Bob Loomis of Oak Park, Ill., who has been a halfback candidate for two years, may yet develop into a real pilot, but at present he seems stiff and awkward.

Heinie Sage, smashing end on last year's team, has also been given a trial at quarterback, but it was found that it would require the entire output of several cough drop factories to keep his voice in shape during the season.

To pair up with Oberlander, Robinson, substitute a year ago; McAvoy, a flashy back on the 1924 team; Myles Lane, another sophomore; Dan Drury, of Willoughby, O., and Johnny Fuqua are being closely watched.

At fullback, Horton, who made his letter as substitute last year, is the leading prospect. He is getting competition, however, from Starrett, a senior; Buffington, a sophomore, and McPhail, if the latter does not play quarter.

The line has eight veterans available, center being the only position for which an experienced man is not on hand. At ends, Tully and Sage, who alternated last year as Captain Bjorkman's running mate, are both in uniform. Four tackles are back, Captain Nate Parker and Jack Holleran, first string, and Cykes Hardy and George Allen, lettered substitutes.

Diehl and Smith, last year's regular guards, have both reported and are in excellent condition. The pivot position will be filled, in all probability, by Josh Davis, a junior who starred at Exeter before coming to Hanover. Many substitutes are available for all the line positions.

Dartmouth is facing a hard schedule, the feature of which is a trip to Chicago, November 14, to play the University of Chicago.

Buck Irked By Ban's Criticism

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—(AP)—Denying that he had pitched Walter Johnson in the final world series game at Pittsburgh yesterday for "sentimental reasons," Bucky Harris, manager of the Washington Senators, declared on his return here today that he considered the criticism of his pitching selection by President Ban Johnson of the American league as a "reflection" on the Washington pitcher.

Harris' statement was made in reply to a telegram sent him by Johnson from Chicago in which the league president tempered his congratulations for a "game fight" with the assertion that Washington lost the series "because of sentimental reasons" in pitching Johnson.

Slugging Records Broken in Series

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 16.—(AP)—Records were broken thick and fast in the Pirates' world's series battle with Washington.

The most notable were in home run hitting where individual as well as team marks went into the discard before the slugging led by Goose Goslin and Joe Harris of the Senators, each of whom slammed out three circuit blows to tie the individual record for a single series.

Goslin set an all-series mark for himself by increasing his total to six for two years, displacing the previous mark of four held by Babe Ruth.

Peckinpaugh's homer yesterday increased the two-club total to 12, eclipsing the former record of 10 set by the Yankees and Giants in 1923, while Washington's eight round trippers also set up a new one-club standard for a single series.

Peckinpaugh's startling total of eight errors was the most tragic new record, his string of misplays removing the names of Hans Wagner and Joe Sewell from the record books in this respect. The latter pair each had registered six errors in a series.

Other new marks follow:

Twelve one-base hits by Sam Rice, breaking the mark of nine set by J. Sebring of Pittsburgh in 1903 and equalled later by four others.

Max Carey hit three times by pitcher, setting new record, also tying record of four hits in single game set by Tommy Leach in 1903 and equalled later by dozen others.

Stan Harris accepting 13 chances in field in fourth game, equalling record made by Claude Ritchey of Pittsburgh in 1903.

LOSER'S END $3,736

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16—(AP)—Checks for $3,736, the loser's end of the world's series packpot, will be distributed to the 24 regulars of the Washington ball club. The money was apportioned today at the players' last meeting before going about their winter pursuits.

The regulars included Coaches Schacht and Altrock and Trainer Martin. Eight other players and club attendants were voted partial shares in the series money.

MATTY MEETS BOWN TUESDAY

The on-again-off-again Matsuda-Brown wrestling match scheduled for next Tuesday night is on again, so announced Matchmaker Ross.

The Jap and Greek who wrestled here this week with Brown obtaining a fall and the match being halted at midnight with neither gaining any other advantage, have agreed to go on at catchweights without Matsuda's welter championship belt at stake, said Ross.

The match is to be staged in the Majestic theatre and will be to a finish if the principals have to wrestle until 5 a. m., declared the promoter.

The second preliminary of the lightweight belt tourney inaugurated this week by the Wichita Falls Wrestling association, will be held Tuesday, said Ross. Private Ray Williams, official lightweight champion of the United States army, and Sailor Sylvio Checco, claimant of the navy title, are matched in a finish affair.

Monday's Fight Card

Final arrangement for the staging of the American Legion boxing card Monday night in the Majestic theatre was made and the program announced Friday by Promoter Don Wofford.

The card:

Duke Trammel, Fort Worth, versus Jack Ercanbrack, Houston, welterweights, ten rounds.

Wildcat Monte, Wichita Falls, versus Johnny Sherrod, Fort Worth, featherweights, ten rounds.

Joe Turner, Katy Shops, versus Johnny Walker, Memphis, Tenn., welterweights, four rounds.

Buckshot Peoples, the battling painter, versus Clarence Walker, Pure Milk Products company, welterweights, four rounds.

The PASSING HOUR

THE PLAYER EXPLAINS A VERSE

"Until one opal day misunderstanding Came like a bolt of lightning, swift and strong."
—Marcia A. Taylor.

I well recall exactly when the moment—
That southpaw crooked one 'at I didn't like,
Then swift and strong, the said misunderstanding,
When you, you dirty bum, called it a strike!

"The storm was wild and vented all its fury"—
I'll say I used some words you'll still recall—
"Then came deep calm"—'cause I was in the clubhouse,
Where you had parked me from 'at game of ball.

"Now each glad day flies by on wings of beauty—
My sky is clear"—you are not on the game
But wherever you blind lamps are still umpiring,
I'll bet you miss them strikes and balls the same!

You Can't Tell.

ED BROWN, the outfielder sent to Boston by Brooklyn last week, and mentioned in this column yesterday, came to the Texas league with San Antonio heralded as a sensational outfielder who could not throw. He could do everything else. His tremendous height did not slow up his speed and he could pound the apple and run bases. But he could not throw well.

He belonged to the Giants and was recalled by them in the fall. The next spring John J. McGraw in Dallas was conversing on the subject of rookies.

"I recalled Brown," he said, "because while I knew he had a weak arm, he led your league in outfield assists. It must have improved."

Even so good a baseball mind as McGraw's overlooked the fact that a weak armed centerfielder will probably get more assists than other players—because he has far more trials of his skill. And there is no tab on the times he throws and misses.

One of big Brown's fellow gardeners that year asked him: "What is the matter with your arm anyway?"

"Nothing," said Brown, "I never had one."

Commissioner Enright who says that the worst criminals are young men of 21, must have been betting on his alma mater if a bad year.

Eddie Rickenbacker predicts that aeroplanes will soon be sold for $1,500 each. Colonel Mitchell doesn't seem to think Uncle Sam's are worth that much.

Other Reasons.

DR. E. J. STEWART, the Texas coach, in a talk before a Kiwanis club, advises his hearers not to bet on football games, basing his argument on common sense. For that matter, all of the advice not to bet from the days of the Patriarchs to the present should have been based on the same thing.

Gambling may be inherently wicked. That is for the parsons to argue. It is inherently foolish, and that is an axiom. But it is also inherently human—and you can't get away from it.

Stewart has been around a good many places coaching football teams and the like. Recollection does not point out that he said this to the Kiwanis club, but doubtless he could:

From the coach's viewpoint, gambling is a decided deterrent. The college alumnus who sees his team lose when he has no kopecks on the outcome is not usually a biased man. He may be disappointed but he is reasonable. The alumnus who has just lost a healthy wad is usually biased and vengeful.

It is the latter gentleman who goes gunning for coaches. He thinks they are hired to protect his prophetic investments.

The old world in its happiest orbit spins—
When the dope runs true and Alma Mater wins.

Fading.

HERE and there around the Conference map, writers are prone to figure that this college and that prefers to win a certain game if it has to lose all others. It is a doubtful estimate. Fading even is such a traditional rivalry as the Aggie-Texas game, formed when the two were the only football playing institutions and carried on in the years up to 1922 when barring very occasional upsets they were the only ones that could win.

With a conference composed of seven teams, six of which in any given year are likely to be good and a seventh promising for the future, the old grudge fight with one college dies out. There are six to beat—and you are derned lucky if you beat any of them.

Surrounding circumstances may carry over from one year to another a particular antipathy but the serious business of winning conference championships requires concentration on defeating a variety of pretty good elevens.

It is a good situation.

BUBBER.

Will Bubber Jonnard, dashing Spudder catcher drafted by the Philadelphia Nationals, make the grade? Will he stick in the big show? Spudder Prexy R. O. Harvey thinks so.

"Why, he's been far and away the best catcher in the Texas league the past two seasons," avers R. O. "He can catch with the best of them, and as for his hitting, he's always been up around the .275 mark. They've got to carry three catchers, and Jonnard's good enough to be one of them."

* * *

Can He Be Replaced?

So the Spudders will be on the market this winter for another backstop to team with Wray Query, the Denison peanut merchant. Unless Spudder powers step out and grab off an athlete from a league of higher classification than the Texas, it's almost a surety they won't have as classy a pair of receivers in 1926 as they boasted in the '25 season. It's doubtful that there's another backstop in class A ball or lower who possesses general all-around ability and fighting spirit of the happy-go-lucky Bubber. If there is, it's possible, of course, the skull hunters overlooked him, but—

* * *

If Bubber can hit at a .250 clip he's sure to stay, declares Harvey. The final release of Texas league batting averages this year gives him an average of .283.

* * *

RIGHT AGAIN.

MENTAL ATTITUDE GIVES SENATORS SLIGHT MARGIN, SAID ED HUGHES SEVERAL DAYS AGO. THERE'S MANY A WAGERING LAD WHO TEARFULLY AGREES THE MARGIN WAS SLIGHT ALL RIGHT, ALL RIGHT.

Doc Stewart advises not to risk coin on football games, basing his argument on common sense reasons, not moral ethics. And 50 per cent of the boys who bet on the final game of the world series will tell you the same holds true in baseball where sentiment placed the wager and then sentiment took it away. Meaning, of course, as the second guessers would say, that Bucky Harris lost the game and series purely through sentimental interest in the veteran Walter Johnson.

* * *

NOT BROWN RACE.

"I yellow? Yeah! Sure, I'm Japanese."

Thus did Matty Matsuda laughingly answer over telephone from Amarillo to the declaration by Joe Brown, Chicago wrestler, that the Nipponese is yellow and afraid to wrestle him with the Jap's welter championship belt at stake.

* * *

But Matsuda still refuses to put the belt up unless Brown makes 145 pounds at ringside or seven o'clock on the night of such a match. Matty declared willingness, however, to meet Brown winner-take-all at catchweights.

* * *

Brown declared again, just as he did the day before, that he wouldn't step onto the mat with the Jap unless the belt was at stake and he was allowed to weigh in at 3 o'clock the afternoon of the match.

* * *

After a long argument with his fellow Greek, Charley Veros, local sports enthusiast, talked Brown into going on at catchweights without the belt being up.

Coyotes Meet Tigers In Annual Clash Here This Afternoon

REESE'S MACHINE PRIMED TO UPSET DOPE WITH POWERFUL DEFENSE AND SURPRISE ATTACK

Both Clubs in Great Shape—McCallum to Start Francis At Full—Horton Works At End

Wichita Falls and Electra high grid mentors declared their teams in good condition on the eve of the annual clash between the two elevens this afternoon at Spudder Park, with exception of one or two players who are slightly injured. The game is scheduled to begin at 3:30 o'clock.

Both teams went through light workouts yesterday with signal drills getting the call.

Up until the past several days the Coyotes were rated the favorites over their Tiger rivals, but in the final few hours of practice, Jim Reese has managed to brush off many of the rough edges from his team, and the Electrans are expected to wage a great defensive game, holding under cover until the time may prove right what has been termed at Electra as a surprise offense.

Wichita Falls' coach, McCallum, probably will start Sisk and Horton at ends, Dobson and Wainscott at tackles, Flippin and Gillem at guards, Bell at center, Powell at quarter, Curtin and Mitchell at halves and Francis at fullback. Steed and Moore will see service in the backfield. Downing, Edmondson and Z. Taylor are almost sure to be called on for line duty.

Electra will start either Sanderlin or Brown and Kent at ends, Turner and Aven at tackles, Gilger or Buzz Smith and Brewer Smith at guards, Carnahan at center. Lebus at quarter, Tramill, Moore or Kent at halves and Coolidge at fullback.

Weir of A. and M. will referee.

ELECTRA, Oct. 16.—The Electra Tigers are all set for their invasion of Wichita Falls today for their clash with the Coyotes which marks the opening of the title race for both clubs.

Coaches Reese and Coke have sent their men through a week of strenuous work and nightfall has found the local athletes still toiling. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday found the charges ploughing through a hard scrimmage session with the regular backfield men hitting a line composed of very few first string men. Coaches Jim Reese, J. N. Coke, and Clyde "Big Pug" Sanderlin have been playing in the substitute line.

Tigers Improved.

A great improvement has been shown in these workouts over the last Saturday when the Burkburnett Bulldogs held them to a 6 to 6 tie. The entire squad is in the best of physical condition with the exception of Captain Sanderlin who is still suffering with a bad shoulder sustained earlier in the season. Louis Kent, end and halfback, received a slightly sprained ankle, early in the week, but is almost sure to start the game today in Wichita Falls. Reese spent the larger part of Thursday afternoon in drilling his men on breaking up passes. The remainder of the afternoon was spent in signal practice which lasted until well after dark.

No changes were made in the lineup of the regular men. Coolidge was at full, Trammill, Moore, and Kent at halves, Lebus at quarterback, Sanderlin, Brown and Kent at ends, Turner and Avens at tackle, Gilger, Buzz Smith and Brewer Smith at guards, and Carnahan at center probably will be the starting lineup for the Coyote game.

Squad Confident.

The squad is confident of victory, but none are over confident as they all respect the strength of the Wichita Falls aggregation and are expecting and will offer the battle of their lives. When the Tiger machine step out on the field at Spudder Park Saturday they will be a smoother running and stronger machine that the one that was held to a pair of ties by Nocona and Burkburnett in the locals only practice tilts of the year.

While Reese and Coke have been working overtime with the Tigers, Joe Hardy Miller, and H. U. Maness, school yell leaders have been training the pep squad at ever opportune moment in order to have a lot of new songs, yells, and drills to present at the Coyote game. A final pep rally was held in the high school auditorium Friday night.

All of Electra is backing the Tigers, and the school will be well represented when they step out on the field this afternoon to meet their ancient arrivals, the Coyotes.

PIRATE FANS IN JUBILATION OF LONG STANDING

Pittsburgh Enthusiasm Takes a Long Time to Reach Low Ebb

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 16.—(AP)—It has rained in Pittsburgh almost continuously since the Pirates won the world championship from the Washington Senators, but the spirit of thousands of home town supporters has not been dampened. Reluctantly, though, the ebb of enthusiasm shows signs of subsiding, following last night's frenzied demonstration in honor of the new baseball masters. But the spirit is not dead—Pirate fans have only talked and shouted until they can talk and show no more and being human, they must rest.

Today the subject of conversation among the great portion of Pittsburgh's population was "the Pirates." The downtown section of the city and the business districts of the many suburbs were bedecked with the national emblem and Pirate pennants, and in nearly every window could be found a picture of the title bolding Buccaneers.

This morning, after the monster celebration, the street cleaning department, augmented by an additional force of men, worked hard for several hours cleaning up the tons of paper, with which the streets were littered. Today souvenir hunters were telling of their successes in having secured mementoes of the great victory and that enthusiasts who wanted something substantial as a remembrance, did not stop at mere bats and ball was attested by attendants at Forbes Field. Home plate, the rubber in the pitcher's box and all the other bases are missing, as well as over 50 chairs from the temporary boxes built to accommodate the overflow series crowd.

Hazen Cuyler, whose bit permitted the winning runs to cross the plate for the Pirates, autographed 25 bats after the contest, and today all were being displayed by proud possessors as the bat "that did the trick."

No Doubt About Rogers and Hal Being the Best

Rogers Hornsby of St. Louis and Harry Heilmann of Detroit seem to have crowned themselves with the batting laurels of their respective leagues, writes Thomas Holmes in the Brooklyn Eagle. As both gentlemen mentioned are extremely right handed in their hitting habits, it seems fairly certain that they are far and away the best clouters in their respective companies. When a right-handed hitter leads his league in batting it's a cinch that he's the best hitter in said league. The reasons why an athlete who swings from the port side of the plate has the advantage over a right-handed batter are all too obvious.

Back eight or ten seasons ago, when Cobb, Speaker and Joe Jackson in the American league and Daubert, Roush, Doyle and others in the National loop represented the cream of big league hitters, the only good batters, in the popular imagination, were left-handed batters. But times have changed. In addition to Heilmann and Hornsby, Hazen Cuyler and Al Simmons are other right-handed swatters up in the select circle of leading hitters.

Middle of Line Veteran Stagg's Real Problem

By ALONZO STAGG, JR.

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—The chief problem of Coach Stagg, in his thirty-fourth season as grid coach at the University of Chicago, is to develop a satisfactory center and guard. The los sof Goodman, 230-pound center, and Joe Pondelik, all-American guard, has been keenly felt. With nothing but sophomore material, Coach Stagg has been trying out a number of men at the pivot position, seemingly without unusual success up to the present time. Chicago's failure to beat Ohio State indicated that the team must be bolstered up generally.

Moore, who weighs 190 pounds; Rouse, captain of last year's freshman team, and Baker, a fine passer, with much high school experience, are the leading center candidates. Moore is an unusually fine fighter, very aggressive and a fine defensive player, and at the present time is favored for the job. For the guard positions, a number of candidates are trying out. Martin Pokrass, a veteran for two years, is nearly sure to get one position, while Sam Hibben, a senior, but a substitute last year, is a strong candidate for the other. Hibben weighs 185 pounds.

The tackle positions are being filled by Captain Fred Henderson, weighing 208, and Hobscheid, weight 206. Henderson has been a regular for three years. Hobscheid was a substitute until the Illinois game last year when he stepped into Henderson's place when the latter was injured.

One end position is filled of course by Lampe, left end on the 1923 team, who weighs 190 pounds and should be one of the strongest ends in the conference this year. For the other end position, a fight is being staged by a number of candidates. Donald Yeisley of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, weighing 190 pounds, at present seems the most eligible candidate. Yeisley is a powerful man on both offense and defense and is a beautiful forward pass receiver.

Coach Stagg has three senior quarterbacks who have won their letters, William Abbott, weighing 180 pounds; Curley and Drain. Curley, who weighs only 145 pounds, is an extremely heady quarterback. He is a fine punter and an excellent drop kicker. Last season he scored drop kicks in the Ohio game and against Northwestern, which gave the championship to Chicago. At left halfback, Graham Kernwein, senior; Charles Duval, sophomore; Stanley Rouse, junior, and Kyle Anderson, sophomore, are candidates of note, while at right halfback are Wallie Marks, Jr., and Bert McKinney, Jr. The best halves seem to be Kernwein, left half, and Marks at right half. Kernwein weighs 164 pounds, is extremely fast and is capable of both circling ends and driving through the line. Wallie Marks, who has shifted from fullback to half this year, is an off tackle smasher, wonderful interferer and superior tackler.

Powerful Offensive.

With Austin McCarty, Jene Francis and Raymor Timme, three men of national fame, available at fullback, Chicago should have one of the most powerful offenses that has ever been developed. McCarty is a superb plunger, being fast and clever, shifty, a beautiful dodger, seemingly capable of taking the least opening. He is of Scotch-Irish descent and is full of fight and has the ability to shake off most any tackler. Timme, 196-pound fullback, is built very much like a tractor, and is a very hard man to stop without gain.

Strong in Passes.

Maroon sideline fans are expecting a great deal in the way of forward passing from the Maroons. Charles Duval, a sophomore, is a passer of most unusual ability. He is capable of throwing as far as 40 to 50 yards, and is extremely accurate. Marks and Kernwein are also fair passers, but lack the finish which Duval has. The punting this year probably will be done by Kernwein, Curley and Duval. Abbott, Curley and Drain are the place kickers of note.

Chicago, in the last four years, has had one of the most striking records in the country, in football. During that time, against Big Ten foes, Chicago has played 32 consecutive games and lost but two, in each case being only by a score of 7 to 0, a most unusual record. In 1922 and 1924 Chicago went through the season without defeat.

JUNIOR COLLEGE AND CAMERON AGGIES FAIL TO SETTLE SCORE TIEING UP 6 TO 6 HERE FRIDAY

Wichita Falls Junior college Indians and the Cameron Aggies of Lawton, Okla., scraped it out to a 6-6 tie Friday on the Spudder gridiron.

A surprisingly clever aerial attack supplemented by accurate and long punts on the part of Topetchy, Cameron fullback, came near to upsetting the Tribe.

The Oklahomans scored shortly before the close of the first half, taking the ball from Wichita Falls' 40-yard line across the goal on three plays. A buck by Lynch netted two yards. Topetchy then skirted the Indian right wing for ten yards and first down. On the next play, Melka, quarterback, uncorked a 20-yard forward pass to Havens, left end, who ran the remainder of the way for the touchdown. Attempt to placekick for point was blocked.

Wichita Falls, although menacing on several occasions, did not score until the final period. The Indians were on their own 45-yard line when Thurman heaved a 15-yard pass to Rawls who raced through a broken field until pulled down five yards from the goal.

Beatty brushed left tackle for two yards, and then bucked through on the next play. Pass was attempted for the extra point, but was knocked down by Ward of the Aggies.

HUNGER STRIKE ENDS

Roy Gardner Concludes 30-day Fast In Federal Penitentiary.

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 16.—(AP) Roy Gardner, mail bandit, stick-up man and train robber, broke a 30-day hunger strike soon after he arrived at the federal penitentiary here from Fort Leavenworth, Kan., where he has been confined since June, 1923.

Officials at the local institution said Gardner had been fasting at Fort Leavenworth as a protest against certain disciplinary measures taken there and that he had been removed to the Atlanta penitentiary as a means of inducing him to eat.

BULLDOGS BATTLE SEYMOUR THROUGH HARD-FOUGHT TILT AT BURK TO SCORELESS TIE

The Burkburnett Bulldogs battled the Seymour high school to a 0 to 0 tie on the Burkburnett gridiron Friday afternoon. The game was a punting contest. Both clubs played on the defense, and only straight football tactics were used.

The defensive playing of both clubs was more or less spectacular and the game was full of thrills. Warren, Wolfe, Jarrell, Barker and Buckner, all of Burkburnett played a great game on the defense, but could do little on the offense.

Sidden, Watson, McClure and Durham played a great game for the Seymour club on the defense. Watson and Sidden were the only members of the Seymour eleven who could do any consistant gaining, and the only two who could get off with any long gains. Both crashed the Burkburnett tackles for 30-yard advances.

Jarrell rattled off the only long gain for Burkburnett with a 40-yard run through the Seymour right tackle.

Seymour threatened twice in the second quarter, but both times Blackie Warren and Mitchell Wolfe broke up the threat, Warren broke up an attack alone.

McClure grounded a pass in the final quarter to block the only real threat made by the Bulldogs. Great tackles by Hall, James, Warren and Wolfe featured the Burkburnett play, with the two last named starring several times.

Steers May Bank On Aerial Attack

AUSTIN, Oct. 16.—(AP)—The same eleven that started against Vanderbilt will start Saturday against the Auburn Plainsmen, indications were as the Texas Longhorns left today at noon for Dallas. This lineup follows, ends, Newell and Baldwin; tackles, T. Thompson and Higgins; guards, Sewell and Penney; center, Pfannkuche; quarterback, Captain Wright; halfbacks, Stallter and Saxon; fullback, Rufus King.

Shortly before boarding the train, the 28 squad members went through a spirited signal drill.

Dissatisfied with inability of his men to use the overhead game to advantage against Vanderebilt, Coach Stewart this week has been working hard on this phase of the attack. If King and Saxon fail to gain through the Auburn line, the Longhorns are prepared to turn loose a barrage of passes.

Wycoff, One Of Greatest Backs, Bosses Tornado

Captained by Doug Wycoff the South's "Golden Tornado" team, Georgia Tech, hopes to cause more havoc this year than it did last year.

Wycoff has been one of the outstanding stars of the team thelast two seasons. His selection as captain was a just reward for his work. He is one o fthe greatest backfield men, from the point of general versatility, that the south has ever produced. "Red" Grange's rival in a broken field, having that sixth sense necessary to map out his field and then outmassing the field, tear his way through it.

He is a triple threat man, his punting and passing figuring as largely in the success of the Tech team as his running.

This is Wycoff's last year at Tech. His loss will be felt, despite the apparent wealth of material at hand now, which can be developed over a season of play. Men like Wycoff, Grange, "Sleepy" Crowley of Notre Dame and their kind, come to a football teame once in many years.

ARCHER CITY BEATS JUNIORS

The Archer City Wildcats took the long end of a 12 to 0 score from the Wichita Falls Junior high school Friday afternoon on the Archer City grid. The Coyote Pups were smothered under the long end runs by the Wildcats, backed by the unbeatable interference awarded the runner.

Morrison and Dolly Black were the outstanding sars of he Archer City club, and showed up nicely on the end runs. Pete Powell, Coyote Pup star linesman, played a great game at guard. Dale Carter, Wichita Falls end, was in the game for the first time this year, and shone up nicely with several nice tackles.

The punting of Clyde Fly was the feature of the game. This youngster surprised the Archer City players with his booting. Hunky Farris, Coyote Pup Captain, and Roy Brackett, Wichita Falls halfback, were the biggest ground gainers for the Coyotes. "Shoestring" Dulaney again starred on the defense with several of his tackles that are becoming famous about this district.

WHY DOES ATS WIN PENNANTS?

Billy Mullen Will Tell You It's Because Players Like to Work for Him.

Two of the players the Fort Worth Cats have sold to the Detroit Tigers, Billy Mullen and Gus Johns, have asked Jake Atz to arrange with Ty Cobb for their return to the Cats next year, writes Fred Digby in the New Orleans Item. Mullen made his request of Atz while en route to Atlanta.

"I would rather play for you than go to the big league," little Billy told Jake, but the skipper told Mullen that he should go up, as he was ready for another trial.

"You're a big league ball player, Billy, and you're going to make good. We can't keep you home," explained Atz.

Every player on the club would rather stay with and play for Atz than go to the big show. This is the real secret of Jake's success. He is not only a smart baseball manager, but has the confidence of his players; is one of them, and there isn't one who wouldn't fight for Atz.

Notre Dame Will Attack U. S. Army On East Seaboard

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—(AP)—Once again the Army has been called out to defend the eastern seaboard against the invasion of Notre Dame.

For far reaching interest the meeting of these intersectional football foes with 65,000 looking on at the Yankee stadium, is expected to overshadow the clash between Yale and Pennsylvania at the gigantic bowl in New Haven after 32 years of separation. In 1893 Yale won 14 to 6. That contest was the eleventh battle between the two and Pennsylvania tomorrow seeks revenge for what Yale accomplished in those years. The very peaceful Quakers succumbed 11 times in succession.

Into Baltimore at break of day, a much improved Navy will pursue the uncertain Tiger from Princeton. Last year the men of old Nashua won by only 17 to 14. There are several intersectional games of calibre, a tussle of great importance being that between Columbia and Ohio State at Columbus. Syracuse university faces Indiana at Indianapolis. Penn State and Marietta lock at State College, Pennsylvania, and Georgetown meets Detroit university at Detroit.

NOW YOU TELL ONE.

Playing baseball in the bushes often means more than merely filling out a uniform and going through the actions of the national pastime. Ball players in the tall uncut are often called upon to fill strange roles, and Matty Mathews, manager of the Mexia entry of the Texas association, believes he can cite one for the records.

This last season his club was making the jump from Mexia to Palestine by auto and on one stretch of road was forced to take a detour. The road was narrow and "bush league" stuck out all over it. Cows in the road were so numerous that it became serious and something had to be done if the schedule was to be followed. Accordingly, one of the players in the first car was assigned to a seat on the front fender with the duties of clearing the road of cattle as fast as they appeared. He got away with the job in good style and Mexia landed in Palestine in time for the first game.

If you can't see that one or beat it, Matty is ready to buy the milk chocolates.

Western Race To Narrow Down To Only 6 Teams

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—(AP)—With three championship battles up for decision, the field of undefeated teams in the race for the western conference gridiron championship will be reduced from nine to six and the favorite title contenders from seven to four after tomorrow's football games.

In addition to the contest involving the big ten title, two attractive intersectional games also will be played, Ohio State, which a week ago fought Chicago to a 3 to 3 tie, meets Columbia at Columbus while Indiana seems to have taken on too much in Syracuse for opening the new Hoosier stadium at Bloomington.

The battle between Wisconsin and Michigan at Madison will attract the major interest with the Iowa-Illinois clash at Iowa City holding second place in the spot light.

The Chicago-Northwestern game at Stagg field seems to be a renewal of civil war between these rival institutions. The three conference tilts will be witnessed by more than 105,000 spectators.

Observers figure that the 1925 big ten championship lies between Michigan and Wisconsin and tomorrow's battle may go a long way in deciding this question.

When Champions Fall They Fall Hard

Persimmon Juice of Defeat Unusually Bitter, So Buck and Peck Aver

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—(AP)—Having tasted the nectar of victory, the Washington American League baseball team tonight is finding the green persimmon juice of defeat unusually bitter.

As the players who had been hailed 24 hours ago as the world's champions, strolled about the town today there were no admiring throngs to cheer them as a year ago. There were no hurrahs, and few pats on the back; no flora showers from a historical populace; no triumphant processions.

Rather, a few friends gave them sorrowful words of sympathy, while the rest of the national capital turned to other pursuits the least of which were thoughts of baseball, the uncertainties of life on a throne, and the bumps encountered in a fall down stairs.

Whereas a year ago Bucky Harris was hailed as the king of master minders, today found many putting him into the class of John Anderson, the first man to steal second with the bases full. This was because he allowed Walter Johnson to stay in the box at Pittsburgh yesterday until the bitter end.

Roger Peckinpaugh, wearing the fresh garlands betokening the most valuable player in the American League was running Harris a close second among the more disgruntled, because he set up a world's series record for making world's series errors.

As is the way with all champions, when the Washington team fell, it fell very hard.

Lots of Mail.

Before meeting today to divide the loser's end of the world's series booty, the players were handed stacks of mail written in most part while the club was on the crest and figured as an easy winner. These were mainly congratulory but Nick Altrock, the Washington coach, comedian, exhibited a telegram from a friend

"I took your advice," the telegram read, "and bet $50 on Washington. Please lend me $50 on my 7 jewel watch." Manager Harris was reported not only hurt but downright peeved because President Ban Johnson of the American League took him to task for letting Johnson remain in the box.

Not all of the uncomplimentary remarks from the Washington public were directed at the loss of the series. There were thousands who, unable to buy tickets except from scalpers at unreasonable prices, carried over from the baseball year bore unkind feelings for world's championship baseball games in general and for the methods of distributing seat coupons in particular.

Most of the players were leaving town tonight, carrying with them checks for $3,736, for their share of the gate receipts. They took various trails, some leading to business offices, the haunts of big game and to the altar.

Goose May Wed.

"Goose" Goslin, Earl McNeely and Oswald Bluege are suspected of matrimanial intentions. McNeely has gone to Sacramento, Calif., his home and Bluege will spend a few days in Chicago before returning here. Goslin will spend the winter at his home in Salem, N. J.

Walter Johnson and Joe Judge may take a flier in Florida real estate, with a little exhibition baseball on the side. Roger Peckinaugh may join them after a Canadian trip.

Muddy Ruel and Curly Ogden will stalk big game, the former in Canada and the latter in Nevada, while Fred Marberry and Tex Jeanes will carry their heavy guns over the Texas plains.

Hank Severeid will watch the snow fly in Story City, Ia., and Alec Ferguson will winter at his home in Bloomfield, N. J.

Bucky Harris and Sam Rice, residents of Washington, plan to stay here until baseball calls again, and Dutch Ruether, Win Ballou and Buddy Myer will go to their homes in San Francisco, the mountains of Kentucky and Ellisville, Miss., respectively.

Spencer Adams and Tom Zachary will do a little farming, the former near Layton, Utah, and the big pitcher at Graham, N. C., Everett Scott plans to go into business at Fort Wayne, Ind., and he may quit baseball if the venture is successful. Nemo Leibold plans a business trial in Detroit. Bob Veach also will go to Detroit.

Pennsylvania homes will draw two members of the club, Stanley Coveleskie going to Shamokin and Joe Harris to Franklin.

Benny Tate is hurrying to West Frankfort, Ills., to see his baby son, and Allan Russell, another who may quit the diamond this year, will spend a few days at his Baltimore home before resuming business connections in Boston.

FOOTBALL INSIDE OUT

THE WHY AND HOW OF THE RULES

The linesman in a football game does not draw the attention accorded the referee and umpires, but he plays a vital part in the conduct of the game. Upon his measurements may depend the outcome of the contest. An inch one way or the other in his measurements may deprive the team of the ball with the goal line near and but one play needed to put over the last great "punch" and a touchdown.

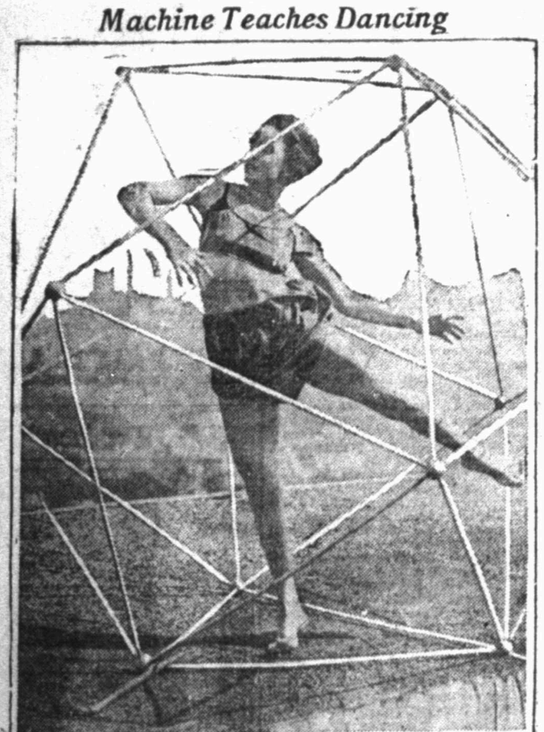

The linesman operates under the supervision of the referee. Aided by two assistants he marks the distances gained and lost in play. These measurements are kept with the aid of a 10-foot chain or rope, to which are fastened poles to assist the aides in their work and indicate to the other officials and players the exact distance gained or lost and to be gained.

The linesman, in addition to the duty named, must mark the spot where the ball goes out of bounds—indicating that spot on the side of the field occupied by him and his aides.

The linesman is given jurisdiction over and ordered to report to the referee any off-side play in the line, any violations of the neutral zone rules. The referee must enforce the penalty.

The linesman also acts in the capacity of an assistant to the referee and umpires in enforcing other rules, reporting infractions of such to them.

Elephant Contest Brings On Another Rush To $1000 Record News Gold Field

There may have been only two great "rushes" across the American continent, the gold rush of the Forty-Niners and the rush into the buffalo fields of Montana and Wyoming, but there's another great rush on now and that's to the gold fields of The Record News office.

The Record News has planted an elephant, carrying $1,000 in its own back yard and now its looking for gold diggers. Will you don your working clothes and join the gang? The foreman is the manager of the great elephant contest and every one in Texas and Oklahoma is invited to join in the party.

The entry requirements are simple. All you have to do is turn now to the ad showing the much figured elephant and read the instructions. By the way that elephant has some figure or figur— Add all of them up and you'll have the first rule observed.

Now study the others. They have to do with subscription. We have a regular gold mine here alone for The Record News has already established itself as an authority in the southwest for the quality of its news and editorials. You should be having it sent to your home any way, for it is worth much in dollars and sense to you.

The fact that we are going to give away that $1,000 without putting any strings on the orders should be something worth your notice. Your neighbor is sending in his puzzle and you should not allow him to best you in this matter. Take an hour or so and add up the figures. You'll get a lot of fun out of it.

Prince of Wales Is Given Rousing Welcome Home

Royalty and Commoners Accord Him Affectionate Greeting

LONDON, Oct. 16.—(AP):—The Prince of Wales rejoined his family around the heavy-laden dinner table at Buckingham Palace tonight and partook with them of a feast for a wandering son home from his voyage.

Earlier toda yhe had returned to his native land from a 30 weeks' ambassadorial trip to West and South Africa and three South American countries. Never before had his father's subjects given the prince such a welcome as they did when he drove this afternoon through the misty, dreary streets of the capital from Victoria station to Buckingham Palace.

Big Boys There.

From early in the day until 3 o'clock in the afternoon when the heir to the throne reached London, a light rain fell upon crowds which lined the route to the palace waiting to shout their welcome.

The king and queen and the prince's sister and aunts arrived at Victoria station shortly before the appearance of the special train bringing the prince from Portsmouth where he landed from the battle cruiser Repulse at noon.

The royal party was joined at the station by Premier Baldwin and his ministers, high officers of the army and navy and members of the diplomatic corps.

Kisses the Ladies.

The first glimpse of their homecoming son for the king and queen was his smiling face at a carriage window as he waved to them. The prince sprang lightly to the platform before the train came to a standstill and grasped his father's hand. The formality which demanded that the king precede the queen in greeting their children was cut short by King George as he pushed the Prince of Wales into the open arms of his mother. The queen was given a mighty hug, a kiss on each cheek and several pats o nthe back before the prince turned to kiss his sister, Princess Mary, Viscountess Lascelles and to repeat the action in greeting his sister-in-law, the Duchess of York.

Throngs Cheer.

The royal family surrounded the prince as he appeared on a balcony a few minutes later, after reaching the palace. He attempted to shout a few words to the crowd, but was drowned out by the constant cheering, and he and his party had to retire out of the rain after five minutes.

Later the prince drove to his residence at St. James Palace and retired from the sight of the eager crowds.

HI-JACKING, HOLD-UP AT DRUG STORE

E. R. White Thinks He Has Had Sufficient Trouble

It never rains but it pours, was the verdict yesterday of E. R. White, proprietor of the Lamar Avenue Pharmacy who was held up at the point of a gun and robbed of $50 late Thursday night when a masked bandit entered his store. Friday morning when he opened up for work, White found that burglars had entered the place following the hold-up and man an unsuccessful hunt for cash. Nothing of value was stolen.

White and a clerk were just closing the place late Thursday night when the masked highwayman came in, leveled a gun at the pair and ordered them to stand by. The thug then rifled the cash drawer of about $50 and made his escape in an automobile he had left standing at the curb.

City police worked on the case throughout the day Friday, but announced last night that they had made little progress. One man was arrested and questioned at some length as a suspect, but it was believed at the conclusion of this that he had nothing to do with the robbery.

Physicians Plan Medical Building

With 45 Wichita Falls physicians and dentists behind the project, plans were completed and announced Friday morning for construction of a million-dollar medical arts building with the probable location at the northwest corner of the Eighth and Lamar intersection on lot owned by J. W. Culbertson.

The structure is to be 11 stories. The three upper floors, it is understood, probably will be leased to the Wichita club. The ground floor is to be divided into office spaces, the building containing more than 160 sections for offices.

Construction is to begin about Dec. 1, it is planned with intentions of completion being reached by Sept. 1, 1926. Financing for the construction has been completed.

The structure is to be called the Medical Arts building.

Chinese Sailors May Bombard Shantung; Soldiers Will Oppose Them

TSING TAO, China, Oct. 16.—(AP)—With Chinese sailors threatening to bombard Tsing Tao and with Chinese soldiers bringing up artillery to oppose this threat, American and British residents of this Shantiung port last night took refuge in their consulates, missing compounds and other places far from the water front.

Today with three Chinese warships on the way here from northern port of Chinawantao possibly to join the mutinous sailors, the outcome of the situation was awaited with great misgivings.

Wichita Falls Record News:

Dear Sirs: I just received the check for twenty dollars and your letter, I sure do thank you very much.

On the 8th of September I was on my way from Duke to Marlow a distance of 100 miles, about 2 miles of Marlow I came to a bridge on Hell Creek about ten o'clock at night. I was by my self driving a Ford car. The bridge sets slaunch ways across the creek, and has no banisters. I drove on the bridge all right and I looked at a car coming meeting me, then I was gone to the bottom of the creek, the car sure had me fast. I began to wiggle and the sand under me gave way so I could get out.

I had one rib broken and my hips were badly bruised.

I had to stay at Marlow several days before they could bring me home.

I am getting alright now yet I have some soreness. I always did like the Record News. I think it is far ahead of any other paper in Texas or Oklahoma.

Sometimes we get news a whole day earlier than any other paper has it.

I think the insurance you are giving your readers is wonderful. You are my friend, and I shall always be yours.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 15.—(AP)—The cotton market developed fairly active trading today and prices fluctuated in rather a broader range. After an early gain of 30 to 31 points mainly on favorable cables and on the numerous reports of damage from excessive rains in many portions of the belt. The market turned easier later on the large movement of the crop into sight despite the bad weather of the week and on prospects of clearing weather particularly in the western belt. Prices eased off until all of the early gain was lost. A fair rally in the final trading enabled the market to close at a net gain fo rthe day of 12 to 18 points.

At the start, in sympathy with favorable cables and the bad weather shown by the map to have prevailed in all parts of the belt first trades showed gains of 22 to 25 points. The market continued to advance after the opening call until finally December traded up to 21.03, January to 21.00 and March to 20.99, or 30 to 31 points above the close of yesterday. These levels proved to be the highs of the day.

About the middle of the morning prices started to east off on prospects of clearing weather in the western belt. The downward tendency was later increased by the weekly statistics showing much larger movement of the crop into sight than was expected considering the bad weather which prevailed.

The decline persisted until all the early gain was lost and prices were back again to the same levels as at the close yesterday.

In the last quarter of an hour of trading the market rallied fairly on short covering and on reports of a cloud burst in the Matchese, Miss., district. A firmer stock market also helped the rally.

Experts for the day totalled 89,241, and for the week 258,327 bales.

NEW YORK COTTON.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—(AP)—Reports of continued heavy rains in the southwest were followed by further advances in the cotton market early today, but after selling up to $21.68, December reacted to $21.40 on realizing and prospects for clearing weather. December closed at $21.49, the general market closing steady at net advances of 8 to 18 points.

The opening was firm at an advance of 20 to 24 points on relatively firm Liverpool cables and unfavorable weather news.

Many reports were received that the rains were hurting the crop and delaying the movement from the interior and the early market showed considerable strength. Trade buying and covering by recent sellers and possibly some fresh buying developed on apprehensions that the present rains would be followed by a drop in temperatures with a possible frost threat over the week end. Around $21.00 for October and $20.90 for January the market ran into increased offerings, however, and early afternoon reactions followed reselling by recent buyers, a renewal of southern hedging and local pressure promoted by reports of clearingy weather in the southwest.

October broke to $21.36 and January to $20.70 about 24 to 28 points from the high levels of the morning, but trade buying became a factor below the 21½ cent level for December and the close showed rallies of several points from the lowest.

The week end figures showed a record breaking movement of cotton into sight, but also very heavy spinners' takings, about a stand-off. A report issued by a prominent eastern belt firm before the opening estimated the crop at 14,887,000 bales and came in for considerable comment, but it had little effect on the market.

Private cables said hedge selling in Liverpool had been absorbed by Manchester or local buying, on the uncertainty of southern weather conditions and noted an increased inquiry for cotton goods in Lancashire.

Exports today 92,241 bales making 1,696,468 so far this season.

Port receipts 87,899. U. S. port stocks 1,116,529.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—(AP)—A frenzied outburst in the motor shares several of which were run up five to 11 points to the highest prices ever recorded, infused new strength today's stock market and sent it skyrocketing again after it had shown signs of wobbling under an avalanche of selling orders around mid-day, total stock sales, which fell just short of two and three-quarter million shares, broke all records since the famous "three million" share day in December, 1916.

The sensational advance in the motor shares was accompanied by unconfirmed rumors of open market buying for control, special dividend distributions and capital stock split-ups. In point of activity, General Motors is the leader, running up, nearly six points to a new peak at 132½ on total sales exceeding 135,000 shares. Hudson, however, scored the most spectacular gain by soaring 11 points to a net top at 104, the major part of the advance being registered in the last 30 minutes of trading. Yellow Truck, now a General Motors subsidiary, was run up seven points to 35 and Fisher Body climbed nearly six pointst to a new top at 118¾. Studebaker, Dodge Brothers, common and preferred and Continental Motors also exceeded their previous 1925 maximum quotations.

The market opened fairly strong with numerous one to two point gains registered in the initial transactions. Although sporadic profit taking and bear selling was apparent from the start, the market moved steadily forward until around mid day. The marking up of the renewal rate on call money to 5 ½per cent was followed by a wave of short selling by professional traders, which reached its maximum intensity in the early afternoon when a few specialties had been hammered down four to nine points below their earlier highs and scores of others had yielded a point or more.

The subsequent lowering of the call money rate to 4½ per cent and the revival of activity and strength in U. S. Steel common and General Motors steadied the list, and eventually turned the course of prices upward again. The late advance was by no means uniform several issues, notably Kinner and company, United Cigar stores, American Agricultural Chemical preferred, New York Canners and International Paper showing signs of a-cute weakness. Steel continued to gain strength, moving up nearly three points to 127⅛, the highest price since last spring on total transactions exceeding 280,000 shares.

Among the many issues to break through to new top prices were Cerro de Pasco, Dupont, Allis Chalmers, American Brake Shoe, National Cloak and Suit, Howe Sound, United Drug, Loew's inc., Fox Film and Mathieson Alkali.

Call money renewed at 5½ per cent, dropped to 5 and then to 4½ in reflection of the return flow of funds sent to the interior to meet October 15 requirements. Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged.

Foreign exchanges failed to make any appreciable response to the signing of the Locarno security pact. Demand sterling yielded slightly to $4.83 11-16 and French francs dropped to 4.42½ cents and then rallied to 4.47⅛ cents on reported French buying. Italian lire held firm above 4.00 cents, with indications that Italian government support had temporarily "pegged" the rate that figure. Danish and Norwegian kroner ruled around 20.35 and 25.05 cents, overnight gains of 10 and 25 points, respectively.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—(AP)—Drouth in Australia and rain in Canada sent the wheat market soaring today as much as 4½ cents a bushel but the flight became more rapid than a majority of traders were ready for, and a sudden reaction developed near the finish. Wheat prices closed nervous at ⅝ to 1⅝c net gain, new style, December $1.44⅝ to $1.44⅞ and May $1.43, with corn ½ to ½c up, oats at a shade to ⅛c advance and provisions varying from 15c decline to a rise of 25c.

Corn and oats paralleled the action of wheat. Upturns in corn values were partly due to wet weather, unfavorable for conditioning the new crop.

In line with hogs and grain, the provisions market was firmer.

Livestock

FORT WORTH, Oct. 16.—Cattle trading was delayed somewhat Friday by the late arrival of stock trains. When sales were made they carried a fully steady appearance. Receipts were moderate, and the showing of cattle was rather poor, mixed shipments making up a large percentage of the run. Quality of calves was more interesting, one car of good vealers and several loads of desirable weighty calves being on offer. The supply was estimated to reach the proportions of 3,000 head of cattle and 700 calves.

High priced beef steers were not available, and only a few cars of any description were around. Some grassers went at $6.00. The market was called steady, but there was little here with which to afford a test of conditions.

Not many cows were good enough to beat $4.00. A large number of sales were around $3.25 to $3.75. Strong cutters made $3 to $3.25 and good canners brought $2.40 to $2.50. Heifer deals were mostly within a spread of $4.00 to $5.50, quality being ordinary. Most bull sales were from $3.25 to $3.60.

Light calves sold as high as $8.00. Desirable weighty grades made $7.00 to $7.50. Common to medium calves went at $3.00 to $4.50.

Stocker receipts were small and sold readily at fully steady prices. Good feeder steers are now making $7 to $7.25, and good stock cows are reaching $3.00.

Another spirited hog market developed, with receipts showingg only 600 head. The big packers purchased most of the run, and three loads were good enough to go at the top of the market —$12.25. Prices were fully steady, with the best end of the Thursday advance. A few sales ranged around $12.00 to $12.15. Pigs were scarce, the best here being of a weighty type and making $12.00. A few sows of good quality brought $11.00.

Sheep traders again spent a day of idleness. Nothing was on the market. More liberal receipts are badly needed. Salesmen are of the opinion that recent rains have rendered shipping inconvenient, and are expecting a fair increase in receipts next week.

Cattle 3,700 including 700 calves; market steady; beeves $3.50@8.00; stockers $3.25@7.25; fat cows $3.25@5.50; cutters $2.50@3.00; canners $2.25@2.50; heifers $325@7.00; yearlings $3.50@8.50; bulls $2.50@4.25; calves $3.00@8.00.

DUN'S REVIEW.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—(AP)—Dun's tomorrow will say:

"Gains in business thus far during the fall season have in most cases fulfilled and in some instances surpassed expectations. It does not now require close examination of reports to detect evidence of progress, for there is a steadily widening circle of improvement that is embracing nearly all lines. Because of the prominent position of the steel industry, the substantial increase in the unfilled tonnage of the principal producer has occasioned much favorable comment, and it has been supplemented by a further rise in output and by more definite signs of stronger markets. The metal trades generally have been doing better, with fine prices at the highest level of the year; New England shoe factories are booking more contracts; colder weather has given a new stimulus to retain sals of dry goods and clothing; and in various commercial channels frequent purchases by dealers are necessitated by the enlarging demands from customers.

"Weekly bank clearings $8,102,913."

HAY MARKETS.

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 16.—Hay markets are on the whole about steady with receipts equal to trade needs, but opening trade in light supply.

TEXAS VEGETABLES.

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 16.—(AP)—Entering markets wit han unusual commodity Texas showed first indications of the approaching fruit and vegetable season yesterday. The movement was two cars of peppers for which the only competition was the rolling of 12 cars from New Jersey. The state was also the origin of one of 189 cars of sweet potatoes which included 14 Louisiana shipments and one car from Mississippi. White potatoes rollings fo rthe day were brisk, 1,371 cars and the apple movement from the 28 shipping states of the day was also generous, consisting of 1,364 cars, one of which was from Texas. Total rollings of other commodities follow: Cantaloupes 2, grape fruit 12, cucumbers 4, celery 97, cauliflower 17, cabbage 327, peaches 10, pears 86, string beans nine, spinach 5, mixed vegetables 63, mixed deciduous 10, onions 164, oranges 30, grapes 608, lettuce 15, lemons 7, watermelons 1, tomatoes 36.

In the shipping point markets yesterday weather was generally cool and at Colorado points wet fields restricted harvesting to some extent. White potatoes at Grand Junction and vicinity were strong on account of the light offerings at $1.60@1.65 for sacked round whites and $1.60@1.70 for Peoples Russets on a wagon load basis. Idaho Falls reported a stronger tone for Rurals at $1.65@1.75 on a sacked basis, carlots usual terms. Apples in the western slope of Colorado area were weak under a light inquiry with boxes of extra fancy winesaps, two inches minimum bringing $1.70@1.75, usual terms. Cabbage at Rochester was steady for medium sized domestic usual terms at $9.00@10.00 and for Danish at $1300@14.00 with a few sales upward of $15.00 ton. Kenosha, Wisconsin listed the former variety at $7.00@8.000 and the latter at $11.00@12.00 ton. Grapes at Fresno are unchanged.

BOSTON WOOL.

BOSTON, Oct. 16.—(AP)—The Commercial Bulletin tomorrow will say:

While the volume of business transacted in the wool market this week probably has been smaller than a week ago, there has been a fair business and prices show a rising tendency.

Manufacturers are evidently in need of wool and there has been evidence to show that the mills are running very close to the wind in a number of instances at least, on supplies.

Some offerings of fall Texas wools are expected to be made late this month in San Angelo. Early samples indicate rather short wool.

Mohair is firm. Texas is cleared practically of the fall clip at big prices. Quotations:

Scoured basis, Texas fine 12 months $1.25@1.28; fine 8-months $1.10@1.15.

Mohair, best combing 75@80c; best carding 65@70c.

COTTON SEED.

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 16.—Wagon loads cotton seed at $32 and carloads at $35 to $36 represented reporting markets of Texas today on basis of delivered the mill. Receipts moderate, demand not overly active.

Market Gossip

R. E. Flowerree and Co., brokers, today received the following market comment from Fenner and Beane of New York, New Orleans and Chicago.

COTTON.

Cotton advanced thirty points during the early session on further general rains, a flood of damage reports and good spot demand but lost most of its gains in the afternoon.

The heavy general rains overnight came largely as a surprise and resulted from a disturbance moving from Mexico into and over Eastern Texas, Eastern Oklahoma and Arkansas. These sections had the most rains and sent in the greatest volume of damage reports from rain.

Spots were reported in good demand, especially for export.

The official forecast of fair weather for northwest and belief that tomorrow's map is likely to indicate return of fair weather offset the effect of damage reports.

Sentiment is bearish and good weather, if it materializes, is likely to bring with it further pressure and lower prices.

STOCKS.

Heavy buying of U. S. Steel, which attracted considerable attention yesterday, and followed by greater demand this morning. The advance is said to be in response to placing big rail orders.

Motors continued under leadership of General Motors but during early trading lower priced motor shares failed to follow advance to any great degree.

In last trading sudden spurt took place in Hudson Motors which carried that issue to a price well over the previous close

Equipments stocks were among strong issues.

Around noon considerable profit taking created an easier tone among industrials. A considerable advance took place in Yellow Cab, inspired by a strong movement in General Motors and the company is developing plans to make it one of the leading factors in motor bus industry.

Forward movement was given considerable impetus when call money eased off to 4½ compared with renewal rate of 5½.

It is reported that large offerings of funds are being made by local bankers and out of town financers.

Heavy profit taking was absorbed with outmost ease.

GRAINS.

Wheat was higher at the opening on good Liverpool, and lack of northwestern hedges, and continued to rise for the first hour, making new highs for the move, but soon became a two-sided affair, trading in a 1¼ cent range for two hours.

Good export demand stopped decline until late in day, when it seemed to be filled up, and prices sagged quickly shortly before the close, and closed at the lowest of the day.

Modern Miller report that rain was holding seeding in some parts, but greatly benefitting grains already planted.

Corn and oats were narrow affairs, corn closing slightly higher and oats about unchanged.

Legal Notice 91

ORDINANCE NO. 582

Ordinance providing for inspection of meats offered for sale within the City of Wichita Falls and the plans and specifications of an approved abattoir and the regulation regarding same and the slaughtering of animals, declaring fees to be charged and providing penalty; declaring an emergency.

Be it ordained by the Board of Aldermen of the City of Wichita Falls, Texas:

Section 1. Abattoirs: Every abattoir, slaughter house or other building designed, constructed or used as a place at or in which to slaughter animals, intended for use as food or to be sold or offered for sale as such in the City of Wichita Falls, shall be constructed in accordance with the following provisions:

The building shall be substantially constructed of material chosen because of its easy adaptation to perfect cleanliness in actual operation as an abattoir. Each and every such plant must provide in an adequate and approved way for each of the following departments: Stock pens, killing rooms, chill room, cold storage and refrigerating rooms and reduction department.

Each of these departments shall be equipped with concrete floors at least three inches thick, trowel finished with bell traps, water seals and connected with the city sewers; such other equipment as hand hoists, overhead tracking and troweling trolleys, insulation, etc., where directed by the building inspector and of such thickness and such quality and kind of material as is prescribed and approved by the Building Inspector.

Section 2. Application to Build: Any person, firm, corporation, association, butcher or other person desiring to erect, construct or maintain any abattoir or slaughter house for the purpose of slaughtering animals to be used as, food, exhibited for sale, or sold for food within the limits of the City of Wichita Falls shall, prior to beginning the erection or construction of same, file with the City Clerk of the City of Wichita Falls a written request addressed to the Board of Aldermen stating that he or they desire to erect, establish and maintain an abattoir or slaughter house for the purpose of slaughtering animals to be used or sold as food in whole or in part within the City of Wichita Falls, the proposed location and probable cost of same, which said application shall be accompanied by complete plans and specifications showing in detail the proposed arrangement, materials, equipment and operation of said building, stock pens, chutes, and etc. Said application, plans and specifications shall be thoroughly examined by the Building Inspector and the Board of Aldermen or a committee thereof and if the proposed abattoir complies in all material respects with the provisions of section one hereof, and the proposed location of same is satisfactory to said Board of Aldermen, it shall instruct the Building Inspector and the Mayor to issue a written permit for the erection, establishment and maintenance of said abattoir or slaughter house. If said application is for any reason refused by the Board of Aldermen, the Mayor shall notify the applicant to that effect in writing.

Section 3. Sanitary Regulations: All abattoirs or slaughter houses in which animals are slaughtered, to be used as food, exhibited for sale or sold for food, in the City of Wichita Falls, shall be operated in accordance with the following provisions;

(a) No animals intended for slaughter shall remain on the premises or premises immediately adjoining or adjacent thereto longer than is necessary for the inspection on foot and the immediate slaughter thereof.

(b) All animals intended to be slaughtered shall be inspected while alive and on foot by the City Inspector in pens specially constructed for that purpose and which shall be well lighted, and all animals so inspected shall be slaughtered promptly thereafter; and no animal shall be slaughtered that is not "passed" by the City Health Inspector.

(c) Every animal slaughtered shall be inspected during the process of slaughtering by the City Health Inspector, who shall use such methods of inspection as may be approved or adopted by the Board of Aldermen.

(d) Every carcass of any animal slaughtered or intended for food or food products shall be inspected by the City Health Inspector and tagged, marked or stamped and a record of said inspection with the name of owner, kind of animal and condition, shall be made by said City Health Inspector, which record of each inspection shall be entered upon the Inspector's daily report, which shall be filed with the City Clerk.

(e) The offal, blood and refuse from slaughtered animals, or portions thereof, condemned upon dead inspection by the City Health Officer, shall be immediately placed in the reduction plant or otherwise destroyed under the direction of said inspector.

(f) All trucks, traps and other receptacles, all chutes, platforms, racks, tables, etc., and all knives, saws cleavers and other tools and all utensils, machinery and articles used in moving, handling, cutting, chopping or other process shall be thoroughly cleaned before using.

(g) All employes shall be examined by the City Physician of Wichita Falls, and no person affected with tuberculosis or any other communicable disease shall be employed in any of the departments where carcasses are dressed, meat is handled; or meat food products are prepared, and all employes shall be examined once a month or as directed by the City Physician, who shall report their condition to the City Health Inspector and manager of abattoir of slaughter house.

(h) All employes must be cleanly dressed; street clothes, shoes and boots worn by employes must be changed and other clothes worn while doing their work, and all such clothes, shoes, boots, aprons or other outer clothing worn by employes who handle meat or meat food products, shall be of a material that is readily cleaned and made sanitary and only clean garments shall be worn. Persons who handle meat or meat products shall be required to keep their hands, including finger nails, clean and pay particular attention to cleanliness of their boots and shoes. The City health inspector shall see that the clothing and hands of such employes are cleaned and sanitary and they shall be required to change or clean same at any time he may so request.

(i) No employe or other person shall be permitted to expectorate on the floor, but cuspidors of such shape and not readily upset, shall be provided for employes in each room, and shall be kept thoroughly clean and sanitary.

(j) Water closets, toilet rooms and dressing rooms shall be required for employes and such rooms shall be entirely separated from compartments in which carcasses are dressed or meat or meat food products are stored, placed, handled or prepared. Where same opens into such compartments they must, when it is considered necessary, be provided with properly ventilated vestibules with automatically closing doors. Such closets, etc., shall be conveniently located, sufficient in number, ample in size and fitted with modern lavatory accommodations, including toilet paper, soap, running water (hot and cold), towels and so forth and shall be properly lighted, ventilated and kept in sanitary condition. Convenient and sanitary urinals and wash stands shall be provided.

(k) The room in which meat or meat food products are prepared, stored, packed or otherwise handled shall be free of odors from toilet rooms, catch basins, tank rooms, etc., and shall be kept free from flies and other vermin by screening or other methods.

(l) Butchers who dress or handle diseased carcasses or parts shall cleanse their hands of all grease and then immerse them in a prescribed disfer before dressing or handling healthy carcasses. All butchers' implements used in dressing diseased carcasses shall be sterilized either in boiling water or by immersion in a prescribed disinfectant, followed by rinsing in clear water, and facilities for same shall be provided. Diseased carcasses shall be handled by separate sanitary trucks as instructed by City Health Inspector.

(m) Meat and food products must not be permitted to fall on floors and event of their having so fallen, they must be condemned or soiled portion removed.

(n) Carcasses shall not be inflated with air from the mouth, and no inflatation except by mechanical means shall be allowed. Carcasses shall not be dressed with skewers, knives, etc., that have been held in the mouth; spitting on whetstones or steels when sharpening knives is prohibited.

(o) Only good clean and wholesome filtered water shall be used in preparation of carcasses, parts of meat or meat food products, etc.

(p) Where an animal is condemned by the City Health Inspector after being slaughtered the same shall be immediately rendered in the reduction plant, and notice to that effect given to the owner, who shall be paid by the abattoir or those conducting same, the value of the tankage and tallow less expense for rendering.

(q) Each animal that is slaughtered shall be required to remain in the chill and refrigerating room at least twelve hours, before same is delivered to owner, or used for food, or offered for sale as food.

(r) Wagons in which meat or meat food products are delivered shall be so constructed, closed or covered, that the contents shall be kept clean.

(s) The manager of all abattoirs and slaughter houses shall notify the City Health Inspector in ample time to enable him to prepare for and make one inspection.

(t) It shall be the duty of the City Health Inspector to see that all the provisions of this section are duly observed.

Section 4. Inspection of Meat Brought or Shipped in: All meat or meat food products used for food or sold for food in the City of Wichita Falls, except canned or cured goods, from packing houses, abattoirs, or slaughter houses, slaughtered under regulations similar to those contained in this ordinance and not within Wichita County, shall be inspected and stamped by the City Health Inspector and in addition to the regular inspection shall be inspected for chemicals and preservatives when in the judgment of the City Health Inspector it is necessary.

Section 5. All Slaughtering Must Be at Abattoirs: The provisions of this ordinance in reference to the equipment, management and operation of abattoirs or slaughter houses, shall apply to the City Abattoir and all other abattoirs or slaughter houses now constructed or in operation and from and after the passage of this ordinance, it shall be unlawful for any persons, firm, corporation, association, butcher, vendor of meat or any other person to have any animal slaughtered to be used as food, or exhibited for sale as food, or sold for food within the limits of the City of Wichita Falls at any abattoir or slaughter house other than the City Abattoir, or an abattoir or slaughter house equipped, managed and operated in accordance with the provisions of this ordinance, and any such person, firm corporation, association, butcher, vendor of meat or any other person slaughtering any animal contrary to this provision shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction of same in the corporation court shall be fined any sum not to exceed $200.00.

From and after the passage of this ordinance it shall be unlawful for any person, firm, corporation, association, butcher or any other person to erect, establish, reform, maintain and operate any abattoir or slaughter house where animals are slaughtered to be used as food, or offered for sale or sold for food within the limits of the City of Wichita Falls, which abattoir or slaughter house is not constructed, maintained and operated in accordance with all the provisions of this ordinance, and any violation of this provision shall be deemed a misdemeanor, and on conviction of same in the corporation court shall be punishable by a fine of not to exceed $200.00, and each day's violation shall be deemed a separate offense and punishable as such. From and after the passage of this ordinance, it shall be unlawful for any person, firm, corporation, association, vendor of meats or any other person to offer for sale or sell for use as food within the limits of the City of Wichita Falls any animal or any portion of same which has not been slaughtered at the City Abattoir or at some other abattoir or slaughter house maintained and operated under the provisions of this ordinance or some similar law or ordinance, and any violation of this provision shall be deemed a misdemeanor and on conviction of same in the corporation court shall be punishable by a fine not to exceed $200.00 and each day's violation shall be deemed a separate offense and punishable as such.

From and after the passage of this ordinance it shall be unlawful for any hotel keeper, restaurant keeper, boarding house keeper or other person to use as food or offer or sell to others as food any animal or portion of same not inspected by the City Health Inspector and slaughtered at some other abattoir or slaughter house maintained and operated under the provisions of this ordinance or some similar law or ordinance and any violation of this provision shall be deemed a misdemeanor and on conviction of same in the corporation court punished by a fine not to exceed $200.00. From and after the passage of this ordinance any manager, owner or operator of any abattoir or slaughter house or any employe of same or any inspector who shall violate any of the provisions set out in this ordinance as regulating the management and operation of same shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction of same in the corporation court shall be punished by a fine in any sum not to exceed $200.00.

Section 6. Slaughter Fees. The following shall be the schedule of fees for slaughtering (including 36 hours cold storage) and delivering all animals slaughtered at the City Abattoir, (this includes inspection).

For slaughtering each beef at the City Abattoir, the sum not to exceed of Two and 50-100 dollars ($2.50).

For each hog, goat, sheep or calf weighing 350 pounds, live weight, or less, the sum not to exceed One and 50-100 dollars ($1.50.)

For each hog, goat, sheep or calf weighing in excess of 350 pounds, live weight, the sum not to exceed Two and 50-100 dollars ($2.50).

Said charge for slaughtering shall include 36 hours refrigeration.

For cold storage (after 36 hours), ten (10c) cents for each carcass or portion thereof per day.

The offal and refuse and all products therefrom is to be the property of the city, and the above charges are in addition thereto.

The deliver to include delivery of hides which are the property of the owner. The fees shall be due and payable as soon as the service is performed.

Section 7. That on account of and by reason of the danger to the inhabitants and persons within the city because of the unwholesome fresh meats which are being sold within the City of Wichita Falls, creates an emergency, by reason of which it is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public health that this ordinance shall be in effect from and

WICHITA FALLS SCHOOL CHILDREN TO TAKE PART IN A NATION-WIDE MOVE TO SAVE OLD CONSTITUTION

Essay Contests to Be Arranged Here With Prizes As Stakes

In the si xdays commencing October 19, boys and girls in every school in the United States are to participate in the raising of $500,000 necessary to save the famous old frigate, Constitution. From Maine to Florida, from Alaska to the Gulf, and even in far off Guam, Hiwaii, the Philippines and Porto Rico, American boys and girls of all ages will observe "Old Ironsides Week."

Sartin Active.

In Wichita Falls, Judge B. D. Sartin has been appointed to make arrangements with Dr. J. W. Cantrell, superintendent of schools, for "Old Ironsides Week" here. Dr. Cantwell has requested that the matter be taken up in a specia lmeeting of the teachers of the city next week when he will call them together, and instructions will be given on how to handle the work in the public schools.

The local lodge, No. 1135, B. P. O. E., has offered a prize to the boy or girl of the the grade and high schools in the Wichita Falls district who writes the best essays on "Old Ironsides," the essay not to have over 1,00 words.

For the first prize $25 is offered; for the second, $15; for the third, $10. The Wichita Falls territory includes the counties of Wichita, Archer, Clay, Montague and Jack, and any high or ward school student in these counties may compete in the contest.

To Make Choice.

If more than one essay is submitted for each school it is asked that the principal of the school choose the best one and send it to Dr. J. W. Cantwell. He will turn the essays over to a committee who will judge the manuscripts. Further information concerning the contest may be secured from H. C. English, secretary of the B. P. O. E.

The Constitution—"Old Ironsides"—is rotting at her dock. Since 1797, when she slid off the ways, the frigate, the most famous of all the fighting ships that have made the American navy, has been the symbol of our country's heroic tradition afloat. Navies of practicnlly every nation in the world have failed to whip her. Not once has her flag come down.
