Cuban Exiles Divided On 'Invasion' Anniversary

Council Chief Controversial

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Two years ago Fidel Castro's army routed the US-endorsed Bay of Pigs invasion. Today, Cuban exiles commemorate the event amid developments that threaten to split and possibly shatter the Cuban Revolutionary Council—the body through which the luckless raid was sponsored.

While exiles hung black crepe on their doors, six of 12 revolutionary groups comprising the council reportedly were ready to accept the resignation of Jose Miró Cardona, council president. The others planned to reject it.

Miró remained silent and apparently bent on submitting his controversial resignation letter Thursday. The letter reportedly lambasts U.S. policy toward Communist Cuba and charges the Kennedy administration engaged on an anti-Castro action force.

The State Department, which has a copy of the document called it "inaccurate and sharply rebuked Miró."

The Miami News, in a report attributed to close associates of the council president said Miró in a Washington visit requested:

1. Collective action against the Castro regime.
2. The same type of military and financial assistance for the Cuban exiles as the Soviet Union provides for Castro.
3. A $50-million loan for the purpose of arming an anti-Castro force.

THE SITE FOR A HISTORICAL MARKER on the Scurry County courthouse square was selected yesterday by members of the county's Historical Survey Committee. The marker, to commemorate General Scurry's contribution to the Confederacy, will be placed on the north side of the square. Those who selected the site are Pat Moore, Mrs. John Stavelly, Mrs. Ed Taylor, County Judge Sterling Taylor, and committee chairman Hugh Taylor.

National Joins Eight Others In Steel Hike

PITTSBURGH (AP)—National Steel Corp., the nation's fifth leading steel producer, joined eight other steelmakers today in a selective price rise parade. The hike ranges from $4 a ton to $7 a ton.

The increase is effective Thursday.

Board Chairman Thomas E. Milner said the higher prices will compensate National Steel only partially for increases in labor and other costs since the last price increase in August 1958.

The spreading wave of boosts picked up momentum Tuesday when the giant of the industry, U.S. Steel Corp., joined.

Also raising prices were Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp., Armco Steel Corp. and Inland Steel Corp. A year ago Inland refused to go along with an attempted increase which collapsed.

Increases also have been ordered by Wheeling Steel Corp., Lukens Steel Co., Republic Steel Corp. and Pittsburgh Steel Co.

Still to be heard from was Bethlehem Steel Corp., ranked No. 2 among the producers.

Some industry sources gave the raises a good chance of sticking, in contrast to the effort a year ago which fell apart under pressure from President Kennedy and failure of a solid front to develop.

As company after company announced boosts, Kennedy remained silent although he was reported keeping a close watch on the situation.

After Wheeling broke the price line the President indicated that selective increases would be acceptable but cautioned the industry and the Steelworkers Union against action which would lead to a general increase.

U.S. Steel's price raises were the lowest of those announced so far, averaging $4.55 a ton.

"An improvement in prices is obligatory and we have concluded that an attempt to secure some price adjustment is warranted at this time in light of all the competitive factors," said U.S. Steel President Leslie B. Worthington.

"Steel costs less than almost anything you buy," he added.

Worthington said that with his company's changes, finished steel prices would stand at about the same level as at the end of 1958.

"Big Steel" and the other companies cited five times in labor costs since 1958, when the last general steel price increase came.

"Earnings have dropped substantially, dividends have been reduced and employment has declined," Worthington said.

Sixth-ranking Armco, which a year ago failed to fall in line with price-raising companies, boosted its prices $4.25 to $7 a ton on plates, sheets and galvanized products. It was the only firm to cut prices, knocking $5 a ton from quotations on assorted wire items, which have been getting tough competition from imports.

Inland, the eighth-ranked producer, raised its prices $4 to $7 a ton.

Companies raising prices have said that the increase applied to less than half of sales. U.S. Steel put its figure at 29 per cent.

Items affected were mainly those in strong demand as steel buying bogged.

Users are buying heavily not only to meet current needs but to build up inventories as a hedge against a possible strike this summer.

The Steelworkers Union will be free to reopen its wage contract May 1 and could strike 90 days later if agreement is not reached.

Weather Still Warm, Windy

By The Associated Press

Texas weather stayed warm and windy Wednesday while tantalizing traces of needed moisture tapered off.

Thunderstorms flicked the northeast quarter of the state Tuesday as a Pacific cool front encountered moist air wafted inland from the Gulf of Mexico. There was no report, however, of any developed rainfall.

Turbulence hung up as the showers developed caused the Weather Bureau to issue a special tornado alert Tuesday afternoon for a big chunk of North Central Texas. It was cancelled after a few hours as the threat died down.

Tuesday afternoon's maximum temperatures ranged from 70 to 100 degrees at Laredo and Priddy down to 59 at Galveston.

Murray Tells Of Gas Lease Profit

DALLAS (AP)—The Dallas Times Herald quoted former Texas Railroad Commissioner William J. Murray Jr. today as saying he made a profit "in the neighborhood of $300,000" on a gas lease in Wharton County.

The Times Herald said in a copyright story that Murray declared "it was a perfectly open and above-board deal. We found out there, others said there was none."

"But the numbers aren't me," he added.

Murray resigned a week ago from the railroad commission, which regulates the oil and gas industry, after reports which he confirmed that he at one time owned a profitable oil lease in Wharton County.

He said he resigned the post because the revelations would reduce his effectiveness as a commissioner.

A search in Wharton County deed records show a conveyance by Murray and his wife in April 1958 of production payments on an undivided 25.7 per cent interest in the Hudgins lease in Wharton County.

The documents on file indicated payment for the conveyance of $100,000.

Murray said the total dollars are increasing. He said he made a profit in excess of $200,000.

The total profit, he said, is still to be determined by future production.

Murray said, "They won't listen to the talk you took, the dr-holes you drilled. They just condemned you for making a profit."

Murray in an interview with Margaret Mayors, Austin correspondent of the Times Herald, discussed the BHM Drilling Co. from which he withdrew as a shareholder two years ago and said:

"I made a million-dollar profit from oil production on an abandoned lease in the Old Ocean Field on the Gulf Coast."

Of 100,000 shares $4 million and received $3.4 million on various oil leases.

"I just about broke even in the lease on the West Texas field," he said.

"I received 100,000 shares of BHM Drilling Co. stock in other West Texas fields."

Three Arab Nations Plan Impact Ruled Legal Town

CAIRO (AP)—Egypt, Syria and Iraq have pledged to form a new United Arab Republic based essentially on Arab socialism and politically on Western parliamentary institutions.

Announced aims are to wipe out feudalism, capitalism, reaction and imperialism, and to liberate Palestine, where the Jewish state in Israel has been established.

A communique signed early today by President Gamal Abdel Nasser and 20 other Arab leaders indicated the new federal union of 18 million people will be at least two years taking shape.

A plebiscite will be held by Sept. 17 to approve a still-unwritten constitution and elect a president, expected to be Nasser. Then a 20-month transitional period is planned during which the president will rule with the help of the three revolutionary councils now in power.

The communique, issued after 10 days of negotiations, said the union will have a two-house legislature. One will be chosen by the existing population by the other three states will have equal representation.

Neutralist Troops Driven From Last Outpost On Road

Pathet Lao 1700 troops trapped neutralist Tuesday from Dong Damb and Ban Koo, their last outposts on the road linking the provincial capital of Xiang Khouang and the Plain of Jares.

About 100 of the 3000 troops were neutralist and the rest were Pathet Lao.

The Pathet Lao forces, reported Sunday, left the bulk of their force on the road to Xiang Khouang. They had about 3000 troops, including 1000 neutralist, and three tanks.

Several trips were made with tours personally conducted by Randall, with whom Mrs. Ison is personally acquainted.

Way Of Peacemaker Is Hard, And It's Not Getting Easier

By INEZ ROBB

Irony achieved its classic height on the day Pope John XXIII awarded his noble encyclical on world peace and it was simultaneously announced in Washington, D. C. that U. S. scientists have made "significant strides" toward perfection of a pure fusion or neutron bomb.

The irony was compounded or even confounded by the fact that the announcement of the near breakthrough on the neutron bomb was made by a U. S. disarmament agency official. One who sometimes goes berserk?

Whether I am trapped by an atomic, a hydrogen or a neutron bomb is probably of no great moment, since in any case I shall be equally dead. But, there is something unspeakably monstrous about the pure fusion or neutron bomb which, when "perfected," will annihilate people but preserve real estate.

This future weapon will have a minimum blast and heat effect, thus doing the least damage to the landscape and all contained therein. Its charming advantage over the old-fashioned atom and hydrogen bombs is that it "would emit enormous radiation of deadly neutrons that would kill people while preserving structures."

To the victor in such a war would indeed belong the spoils.

Once his burial squads had done their job he could walk into a city or countryside to find it undisturbed — its factories ready to go, its farms waiting for the new white-tiled buildings eager for plow, its oil-field operators.

Men, women and children would be dead. But the Empire State Building or Moscow University would still stand. Long live real estate! Finally, in the last half century of the 20th century in the age-old battle between man vs. property, we know which is the high or good — it is property.

Those who have thought that humanity was ultimate good, and that man represented God's highest creation can now see the error of their reasoning. In this great and civilized age, it is man that is expendable, not property.

For what consolation there is in it, when the last man crawls out of his underground shelter, he will not have to take refuge in a cave, as has been predicted in case of nuclear war. He will have his choice of Versailles or Buckingham Palace or the Kremlin.

If my government believes that a neutron bomb is necessary to preserve liberty — since it certainly will not preserve life — then I must agree to its wisdom, even if there is no one left for whom to preserve liberty. But the world has reached the ultimate in cynicism when its genius and its treasure are devoted to the destruction of man and the preservation of property.

"Universal peace is a good that interests all men without distinction," said the Pope when he signed the encyclical, in which he expressed the hope that the "light of Christ will illuminate the minds of those who lead peoples so that, together with just prosperity, they preserve for all citizens the magnificent present of peace."

Speaking of "the rewards of peace," John XXIII added, "Let us say it with apostolic fervor: 'Bring peace, spread it and its benefits.'"

If the Pope can once more make peace respectable, he will have conferred a great blessing on the world.

A generation that can lay bare the mystery of the atom surely has the genius to control it for man's good, to work for peace with honor and to secure both life and liberty for mankind. Life without liberty is intolerable, but liberty without life is futile.

The way of the peacemaker is hard, as we Americans have discovered at the capitol's disarmament parleys in Geneva. It isn't going to be any easier in the future. But we dare not quit trying.

No Change In Interest Policy Seen

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Higher stock prices and weakness in bonds — greater industrial production and rising consumer business and government spending — those factors and an "uncertain future for U.S. exports to Western Europe — all revive talk of how long interest rates can continue their long spell of stability.

That is, can you go on borrowing at present rates or getting the same return on your savings?

The money managers say that the present official policy isn't about to change. Neither the prospect of increased economic activity, nor a growing federal deficit, nor the stubborn shortfall in U.S. international financial dealings foreshadows a shift in policy — they say.

Doubtless note that fiscal affairs can change quickly. Money managers don't telegraph their punches.

And today with all the talk of the possibility of rising prices and business expansion, and of business and government need for more borrowing, money management may be even more difficult an art than it has been in the last year or so.

The argument for continuing stability is that the amount of funds available for investment is large and grows steadily as pension funds and various forms of saving are swelled. This acts as a brake on rising interest rates on long-term debt.

The government policy on short-term interest rates to keep them high enough to prevent the cashing in of foreign-owned short-term assets and the flight of those funds overseas where yields would be higher. The rise in imports and threats to exports make the money managers all the more anxious to maintain these interest rates.

Advocates of easier credit and lower interest rates to speed economic growth so far have come up against this stone wall.

With the federal deficit large and promising to increase, the outflow of dollars and gold could increase if the money managers let interest rates here fall, the proponents of continuing the present policy argue.

Increasing business activity, and the inflationary psychology that has gripped the stock market during the first uncertain days of the steel price rise attempt, could bring a demand for borrowed long-term funds in the future that would strengthen rates. At the moment stocks look more attractive and government bond prices are weakening — meaning their yield is rising.

But the money managers are expected to try to hold the line on that. They presumably want long-term credit to remain available and relatively easy to encourage further growth in an economy that is still far from taking off on another boom. If they let government bond interest rates rise, money would flow rather into mortgages and corporate bonds and other securities and thus brake the hoped-for growth.

These, the bankers say, are the reasons why money managers will keep credit rates about where they can. A change in public psychology could make this policy hard to maintain — or a change in political thinking in Washington.

Junior Editors Quiz on HERALDRY

QUESTION: Why did families have coats-of-arms in the early days?

ANSWER: In ancient days, few people could write their names, but most belonged to a tribe or clan which had an identifying mark or symbol. In the days of the knights individual marks became important. Since a suit of armor concealed a man's face, it was very difficult to tell friend from foe in a battle field. Picture (1) shows how a knight used a certain symbol to tell everyone who he was. From this the practice of heraldry developed. The heralds were king's agents and they became experts at keeping track of all the various markings used by the knights. Special words were invented for the different markings, a few of which we show (2). As guns came in, knights no longer used suits of armor and heraldry ceased to be important as identification. But the proud noble families went on using the marks of their ancestors and from this came the "coat of arms." These are still employed in England today. Since we don't have nobility in America, family coats of arms mean little to us. But we still use heraldry as in the design for the Great Seal of the United States and the seals of the individual states.

FOR YOU TO DO! Make a heraldic shield of your own, just for the fun of it. You could take one of the shield designs we show and put a head of your favorite dog or cat in the middle. Bright blue, green, yellow and red were usually used in coloring these shields.

JERUSALEM, Israel Sector (AP) — Chief Rabbi Izhak Nissim said Tuesday Pope John's encyclical appeal for a ban on nuclear weapons and an end of the arms race "will have the sympathetic and active support of the Jewish people."

Tigers Latch Onto League Lead; Spank Lamesa, 5-4

By JACK JACKSON
News Sports Editor

Snyder's Tigers, with steady pitching from Raymond Matthews and timely hitting to supplement his effort, propelled themselves to the top of the District 3-AAA standings here Tuesday with a spine-tingling 5-4 triumph over the Lamesa Tornados.

Right fielder Jay N. Wall experienced his finest, third and fifth frames to drive in three of the needed runs at the day.

The victory earned for Coach Speedy Moffett's Tigers a 4-0 record at the halfway point in the district scramble and dropped Lamesa to 3-1 and second place. For the season the Bengals stand 6-15 to 5-8 for the Tors.

The Tigers trailed twice during the contest—in the first and fifth innings—but each time gained the incentive to leap ahead in the hotly half of the frame, as a three-run first and two-run fifth frame to the mound and was cut down at first on the second out, runners holding. Wall followed by lining one right back to Jerry Corbin, who could only flick it with a glove finger. That hit brought home both Bullard and Walton to put the Tigers into a 2-1 advantage.

Brown popped out to second to end the inning.

After being pinched in order in the second, the Tors fought back with a single run in the third. With one out Wyatt and John Martin each collected singles to set the stage. James Woods shifted for the second out, after which cleanup hitter Woody Scott singled to left to pater Wyatt. Robert Hollmann lined out to Matthews to end the inning.

One man was out in the fifth when Lamesa came alive again. Wyatt singled through the left side of the infield to start things, then moved on to third as Martin doubled to left. Woods went down swinging again for the second out, then one run scored on a muffed grounder by Brown and the other consecutive walks to Robert Hollmann and David Clark.

Wellborn paced to second on the throw to the plate and scored on Wall's single into short right.

Lamesa's final bid to tie up the contest was foiled in the seventh when Woods, who had led off the inning with a scratch single toward second, was doubled off first on a pop fly by Hollmann for a game-ending double play.

Mathews' control was near-perfect throughout the game. He issued free tickets to only two batters, and one of those was intentional. On the way to the win he also set nine men down on strikes, and in the fourth succeeded in striking out the side.

The Tigers will have a full week to rest on their laurels before leaving back into the middle of the face Tuesday at Colorado City, Lamesa and Colorado City (angle Friday). In the meantime, to launch the second half of the double round robin slate.

Pesky Balks Cropping Up

By MIKE RATHEF
Associated Press Sports Writer

Can you visualize a stopwatch hanging in Baseball's Hall of Fame?

It could happen. National League umpires are following "folk" with such startling rapidity, they're advancing base runners quicker than the batters.

Seven balks were called in the National League Tuesday, bringing the over-all total for 1963 to 169 and 229-yard relays; broad jump; high jump; speedball throw; and football throw.

Competition will be on an individual basis with the winners of each division in each group receiving ribbons for first, second and third places in each event. There will be no team award and no competition based on school affiliation.

Jack, Gary Share Role Of Favorite

HOUSTON (AP)—Final practice rounds for the $50,000 Houston Golf Classic took the form of a $2,000 pro-am event today.

Players paired with local businessmen for the 18-hole preliminary included Jack Nicklaus, a 5-1 co-favorite to win $9,000 top money in the 17th classic.

Gary Player shared the 5-1 odds with Nicklaus but passed up the pro-am in favor of a late afternoon practice round at the Memorial Park course.

Also in the pro-am were an 8-1 favorite, Billy Casper, and five previous winners of the classic—Jack Burke Jr., Bill Collins, Jay Hebert, Mike Souchak and Bobby Nichols, the defending champion.

Thursday's starting field of 149 pros and 10 amateurs was completed Tuesday as 66 non-exempt professionals competed for 56 qualifying spots.

Johnny Macan, an assistant pro at Hopston's Golfcrest Country Club, shot a 34-35-69 for the only sub-par round. Right behind with identical 70s were Bob Duden of Portland, Ore., and Jerry Edwards of Fort Worth.

Nicklaus is playing in his second classic. He posted rounds of 68, 69, 71, and 70 a year ago to finish in a three-way tie with Nichols and Dan Sikes.

Nichols, a former Texas A&M star, won a playoff.

Annual Little Olympics In Opening Stages Here Today

Events offered the girls include the 50-yard dash, 100- and 220-yard relays, standing broad jump, and softball throw. Two age limits will be adhered to, also—group "B" being girls 12 years of age and older and group "A" 11 years and under.

Celtics Win Another One

By BOB SALMON
Associated Press Sports Writer

BOSTON (AP)—The apprehensive Boston Celtics took a commanding two-game lead mixed with foreign court doubts to Los Angeles today after beating the Lakers for the second straight time in the National Basketball Association's championship playoff series.

The third game of the best-of-seven series was set for tonight at the Los Angeles Sports Arena. Game No. 4 also will be played there, Friday night, before the series returns to Boston Sunday night.

But both opposing coaches—Freddie Schaus of the Lakers and Red Auerbach of the Celtics—felt sure the series would never be a four-game affair. Schaus says the Lakers can tie it at home and Auerbach is afraid of that possibility.

"We can tie it up back home—I honestly feel that," said Schaus after the Celtics posted a 113-106 victory at Boston Garden Tuesday night. "We weren't bad out there in the first two games but I know we can play better. It was just a case of the Celtics playing a little better thus far in the series."

The Celtics overcame an early Los Angeles lead and had the advantage up to a dozen points before having to hold off a late Lakers rally. But though the visitors whittled it down to four points, the Celtics won going away.

Sam Jones and Tom Heinsohn paced Boston in the scoring department in the second game, setting 27 and 26 points, respectively. Elgin Baylor of the Lakers was the game's big scorer with 30 points, while teammate Jerry West had 28 and Dick Barnett scored 20.

Ford Makes New Grants

NEW YORK (AP)—The Ford Foundation announced Tuesday assistance grants of $5,296,200—more than half of this sum going to help less developed countries solve problems of overpopulation.

The foundation said $2,836,200 of the grant will be used for training and research programs in family planning and reproduction biology.

The largest single birth-control grant was $975,000 to Population Control, Inc., which will expand its research program in Pakistan at the request of that government.

Another grant went to India—$480,000 to the All-India Institute of Medical Sciences at New Delhi and $125,000 to Topiwala National Medical College in Bombay for expanded research in reproductive biology.

Looking Back

10 Years Ago

From The Snyder Daily News April 17, 1953

In a meeting with the school board, the commissioners court virtually agreed it would help the school system in building a new road from the Big Spring highway to the new high school.

The problem of the school is that at present there is only one street; available Thirtieth Street, which is narrow for several blocks, is the only open street from the highway to the school.

About 50 high school boys were to report at 3:30 this afternoon to the practice grid field for the beginning of spring football training.

Speedy Moffett, head coach, and more than 40 uniformed boys arrived yesterday, and that several new boys will be out later.

In a meeting with the school board, the commissioners court virtually agreed it would help the school system in building a new road from the Big Spring highway to the new high school.

The problem of the school is that at present there is only one street; available Thirtieth Street, which is narrow for several blocks, is the only open street from the highway to the school.

About 50 high school boys were to report at 3:30 this afternoon to the practice grid field for the beginning of spring football training.

Speedy Moffett, head coach, and more than 40 uniformed boys arrived yesterday, and that several new boys will be out later.

Grieving Father Takes Own Life

CHICAGO (AP)—James Lee, a grieving father who gave away nearly all his possessions to charitable institutions in memory of his 9-year-old daughter, is dead by his own hand.

Two police officers found Lee, 46, Tuesday night moments before they said he fatally shot himself near a tavern telephone booth.

In his pockets they found a child's crayon drawing, much folded and worn.

On it was written: "Please leave in my coat pocket. I want it to be buried with me."

The drawing was signed in childish print by his blonde daughter, Shirley Lee, who perished March 4 in a flash fire in their apartment. Her mother had died when she was 2.

Lee was so grief stricken then that he asked total strangers to attend the services so Shirley would have "a nice funeral."

He had no family to attend. Shortly after Shirley's funeral, Lee gave his 10-apartment building, where the fire occurred, and a two-flat building to the Lutheran Church of St. Philip, which Shirley attended. Several plaques in her memory were placed in the church and her school.

Before Lee died in a North Side tavern he called the Chicago Daily News and told William F. Rooney, assistant city editor, he had sent the newspaper a Manila envelope. Rooney said he stalled Lee while a reporter asked police to trace the call.

As Rooney listened the envelope arrived. Its contents included a note Lee said he wrote while visiting Shirley's grave late Monday night.

"Strange," it said, "but I am very calm here on the edge of eternity. I want only to get it over and done with."

"If I don't finish this up I'll be a bum," Rooney said. Lee told him shortly before the shot was fired.

Rooney said he heard a scuffling sound, the police trying to get into the telephone booth and then he heard a shot.

Rooney said Lee, in instructions included in the package, asked to be buried next to Shirley in St. Lucas Cemetery.

Lee built his modest wealth first in a trucking business he started with a single truck. After his wife died he shifted to building investment and management so he could be close to his daughter.

Goldwater Advises Party To Avoid Appeal Based On Race

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., advised Republicans today to avoid "any sort of special appeal based on race or creed" in seeking votes in support of next year's elections.

Goldwater, a spokesman for party conservatives, said the GOP should in leave "emotional gimmicks and fantastic promises" to the Democrats.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, regarded as a front runner for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination, and Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., have been looked as speakers for a Young Republican National Federation rally opening in New York City Friday.

Invited to speak on the program, Goldwater said in a letter to Leonard J. Nadassy, federation president, that he couldn't attend. But he offered some advice.

"It seems to me," he said, "that the whole subject of ethnic and minority groups and their relationships within our society have been talked to death."

"Political politicians are continually harping on the problems of minorities and offering glib solutions to them. The words they use refer to ending the divisions between our people. But I'm convinced that the net effect of this talk is to divide the American people and to inflame, rather than solve, the very real problems of our racial and religious groups."

The Republican party must seek the minority group vote in the only sensible and honorable way—knowing groups. We must appeal to all racial and religious groups with well-reasoned arguments that do not insult them or their intelligence. We should avoid making any sort of special appeal based upon race or creed."

Goldwater, who once said that Republicans couldn't enlist the support of Negroes and other minority blocs and ought to give up trying to get them, got an indirect

Murray Case Under Probe

AUSTIN (AP)—The Travis County grand jury heard six witnesses Tuesday in its opening session of an investigation into dealings of former Railroad Commissioner William J. Murray Jr.

The grand jury called Asst. Atty. Gen. Alfred Jones; Jimmy Banks, a Dallas News reporter; George Singletary, a commission oil and gas engineer; and three employees of the Department of Public Safety, Bill Kavanaugh; an administrative assistant; H. A. Albert, director of the polygraph section; and George Read, an intelligence agent from Houston.

Murray resigned last Wednesday, two days after the News published a report of a 1956-60 West Texas oil venture by Murray. He said he made a "nice profit" in the venture.

Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr committed to gather Murray's personal records. Carr asked Tuesday for oil production and bank records and records of the RBM Drilling Co. of Houston. Murray formerly owned an interest in RBM.

Murray's income tax records are under study by state auditor C. H. Cavness.

WTCC Backs I-Price Plan

In a resolution adopted Tuesday the directors asked Congress "to make it possible for the efficient American cotton farmer to meet both foreign cotton producers and domestic and foreign manufacturers of man-made fiber at domestic and world mills under a one-price system, with competitive prices and freedom from acreage controls which degraded efficiency."

Another resolution urged the wool associates of the New York Cotton Exchange to establish a delivery point for the wool futures market in San Antonio. Boston was the nation's only such point.

The directors endorsed two proposals before the legislature. One is house bill 106, which asks revision and clarification of the state sales tax and extension for one year of the temporary 50-cent surcharge on franchise taxes. The other is the "Texas 65 plan," under which insurance companies would be authorized to form private associations to insure elderly persons not now covered under other medical care programs.

Hawaii Faces Big Cleanup

HONOLULU (AP)—The job of cleaning up after Hawaii's worst storm in 12 years got under way today. The state asked President Kennedy to help.

Gov. John A. Burns declared the hardest hit islands of Oahu and Kauai State disaster areas Tuesday night and appealed to the President to make available federal emergency assistance to aid in restoring public property.

Skies cleared over the mid-Pacific islands Tuesday. Residents forced from their homes by rising water began trudging back to survey damage.

Two veteran soldiers drowned when a fast-rising stream forced their jeeps into flood waters. The bodies of Lt. Col. Chester F. Smith, 43, of Seattle, Wash., and Sgt. Max Oliver, 45, of Anderson, S.C., were recovered Tuesday.

8 Inches Of Snow Falls In Anchorage

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—Snowfall totaling nearly eight inches in 24 hours was recorded Tuesday, raising the total for April to a record 21.5 inches.

The heaviest previous April snowfall was 18.7 inches in 1955.

Street crews kept main thoroughfares clear. Anchorage International Airport reported normal traffic except for a few brief delays while snow was cleared from plane wings.
