HAGLER LINKED IN PLOT

Bandits Killed In Gunfight

FORT WORTH (AP)—The name of David Fred Hagler was drawn today into the inquiry of the thwarted half-million dollar robbery of Carswell Air Force Base that took the life of Texas' top triggerman, Gene Paul Norris.

Hagler, released from prison in February, was named in a search warrant issued late last night. The warrant said officers had reason to check his office for evidence in the proposed robbery of the base.

He has an office in the same suburban area building used by James Edward Papworth, 32, who was arrested a short time after Norris and [illegible] William Humphrey were cut down by police bullets yesterday afternoon on the muddy banks of Walnut Creek near Springtown.

Police Chief Cato Hightower told the Star-Telegram he was marking the books closed on nine murd[illegible] he believes the notorious Norris committed for pay.

Some officers believed Norris was responsible for at least 40 murders, but the nine Hightower listed were:

Tincy Eggleston, Cecil Green, Frank Cates and Olen Ray Tyler, all killed in gangland slayings in this area; a Negro man whose body was found in a cave before he could testify against Norris in a Wichita Falls oil well swindle; Johnnie Brannan, Houston gambler, and his semi-invalid wife who were found beaten to death in their Houston home April 16; and Edward Townley and his wife, Betty Jo Mkee, 20, dope traffickers missing for months and supposed death.

Detective Capt. R. E. Pinckard said Papworth had served time with Hagler at Seagoville. Papworth pleaded guilty to mail fraud charges here last June and was sentenced to one year. Hagler, after being acquitted of murder in the 1954 case of the charred Oklahoma corpse, served five months in Seagoville after admitting he lied to get FHA loans.

Officers knew Norris got into town Saturday from Oklahoma with Humphrey, 32, who had been handled for forgery, and had been conferring with Papworth.

City, county, state and federal officers had been trailing the trio ever since hearing three weeks ago the $500,000 payroll robbery was to be attempted.

They declined to name the tipster, and also withheld the name of the woman employe of the Fort Worth National Bank whom Norris and Humphrey planned to kidnap in order to get into the base.

"Norris," said Hightower, "was a mad man who killed for money and didn't mind seeing a person die. We knew he was going to kidnap this woman and her daughter, 11, hold them hostages and drive her car—which had a pass on its windshield—into the little payroll office at the base.

"Knowing how many he had killed—and knowing he planned to shoot his way back out of the payroll office—we had every reason to believe he'd kill the woman and her little girl. Therefore, we couldn't let it come off. We had to take him when we saw him."

The vigil began Monday morning, 24 hours before the robbery was set to go off. Cars were patrolling the Lake Worth area where the victim lived.

The woman had been told of what was supposed to happen. Riflemen were reported ready to be placed about the payroll office.

Norris and Humphrey were to be tipped by telephone by a third man when the armored truck left the downtown bank. [illegible] was making a dry-run over the route Monday afternoon.

Texas Ranger Jay Banks said Norris and Humphrey planned today to kidnap a Carswell Air Force Base employe and a child of the employe and hold them as hostages. They then planned, Banks said, to use the employe's car during the holdup. The payroll at the base would run about $255,000.

The two men were being sought yesterday when they were spotted by Banks, Police Chief Cato Hightower, Sheriff Harlon Wright, Ranger Capt. Johnny Klevenhagen and Detective Capt. O. R. Brown near Lake Worth.

SWEPT TO DEATH IN FLOOD—A man, identified as Burris Lee Goodwin, 22, is shown in the left photo just before he was swept to death in the flood-swollen waters of the Trinity River at Dallas, Texas. At right, rescue workers remove the body from the river. Spectators who saw Goodwin drown said he was wading in the river with his dog when he was suddenly swept into the raging current. The photo of Goodwin going under was made by John McLaren, 13-year-old Dallas boy who witnessed the scene from the bridge.

Union Deal Investigated By Senators

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate rackets investigators prodded the Navy today for its explanation of testimony that tax money was used — with the Navy's knowledge — for "extortionate payments or bribes" to a labor leader.

Earl P. Bettendorf, who manufactures warehouse pallets at Ashdown, Ark., and Sandston, Va., told of the payments yesterday at an open hearing before the special Senate committee looking into rackets in the labor-management field.

He said the Navy supplied the money — $18,591.30 — "so the union could be paid off."

Bettendorf said he had to make the payments to Joseph McHugh, business agent of the Scranton, Pa., Teamsters Union local, to get his delivery trucks into the government's Signal Corps depot at Tobyhanna, Pa.

Variously, he called the payments "bribes" and denied they were bribes.

Today Sen. Kennedy (D-Mass), a committee member, released a statement saying he thinks the Navy should be given a chance to present testimony and "clear the record of the serious implications raised yesterday concerning its role in the alleged bribery or extortion case."

The senator's brother, Robert F. Kennedy, chief counsel to the committee, said staff investigators have been assigned to make a preliminary check with the Navy.

Counsel Kennedy said this would involve examination of the contract, and a search for the facts about conferences between Bettendorf and naval officials which led to its revision of the contract with Bettendorf and, Kennedy said, "why they agreed that more money should be paid."

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) already had ordered a swift inquiry.

Seven-County Safety Film May Be Made

Sheriff's departments and highway patrol units in seven counties of this area are joining in an attempt to have a sound film produced on traffic safety with special emphasis on teen-age driving.

Sheriff Earl Abercrombie said this morning that he should know before the end of the week whether the film will actually be produced. Abercrombie and other officers have been discussing possibilities of the film with Roy Sims, representative of Public Safety Pictures of Dallas.

In connection with this, Sims has been showing similar films produced in the Waco area and in Idaho.

Abercrombie was contacting several local persons this week concerning sponsorship of the color film. He asked that any interested could call him at his office or see similar films there.

Other counties which have officers working with Abercrombie in the attempt are Garza, Borden, Kent, Mitchell, Fisher, and Howard.

[illegible] the picture is produced, local youths, officers, court officials, and others will be used in production of the film, with some coming from each county represented.

Safety Pictures would produce the film, and most of the filming would be done in Scurry County.

After its production, 16 prints of the film would be made, and sheriff's offices and highway patrol units in the seven counties would be responsible for distribution of the films for showing in schools, civic clubs, and at other gatherings.

Otto Nathan Is Convicted Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. Otto Nathan, executor of the estate of Albert Einstein, was convicted today of contempt of Congress.

Federal District Judge Edward M. Curran deferred sentence and allowed Dr. Nathan to remain at liberty under $1,000 bond. The maximum penalty for contempt of Congress is a year in jail and a $1,000 fine.

Judge Curran conducted the trial without a jury.

He rejected all defense contentions, including one that the House Committee on Un-American Activities which questioned Nathan lacked jurisdiction to legislate in the field of passports.

Nathan appeared before the committee last June during hearings which Chairman Walter (D-Pa) said were to investigate fraudulent procurement and museuse of American passports.

Among questions which Nathan, German-born associate professor of economics at New York University, refused to answer, was whether he then was or ever had been a member of the Communist party. He challenged the committee's jurisdiction and said the First Amendment to the Constitution protected him against being compelled to answer questions about his political beliefs and associations.

He also refused to say whether an affidavit filed with the State Department in 1953 in connection with a passport application was true or false. In it, Nathan said he had never been a Communist.

More Rain Soaks Into State Today

Light showers Monday brought moisture to the Snyder area for the fifth day in sucession.

And like previous rainfall here since Thursday morning, it fell under ideal conditions, with a minimum of runoff.

A total of .23 of an inch was measured Monday on the official gauge by David Strayhorn. This brought the total official measurement for Snyder during April to 3.61 inches, with 3.25 falling in the five preceding days.

Scurry County and area farms and ranches had received a thorough soaking, with quantities of water being held by terraces and in furrows of plowed fields.

Although forecasts indicate that the wet spell is tapering off, the Weather Bureau indicated there was a chance for a few more showers today and tonight in West Texas.

By The Associated Press

Farmers in many Texas river lowlands who hadn't made a good crop in seven years of drought saw this year's plantings succumb to floods Tuesday.

Some cities along Texas' major streams began sandbagging and throwing up levees in a desperate effort to prevent flood damage.

The highest flood in the history of the Sabine River was being predicted for the upper Sabine, and major floods were expected on other streams.

In the Cuero area, thousands of acres of bottomlands were being flooded by the Guadalupe. Crop damage was reported heavy around Navasota on the Brazos, with an estimated 30,000 acres of land in Washington and adjoining counties under water.

Some crops can be replanted when water subsides.

At Freeport, workers were throwing up sandbags around a Dow Chemical Co. plant, where the crest of the Brazos flood was expected by Wednesday.

The Liberty City Council voted to have levees thrown up around the Oak Forest section, into which water from the Trinity already was creeping.

At Bay City, a danger spot, R. L. Clayton of the Chamber of Commerce said it appeared levees would protect the city. Some flooding was caused below Bay City at the coastal town of Matagorda. Flood gates into the Intercoastal Canal were opened Tuesday and the river dropped slightly at Matagorda.

At Three Rivers, on the Nueces, water was past 36 feet but will have to go to 40 or 41 feet to flood. Lowlands near Tilden, west of Three Rivers, were flooded. Flood stage at Three Rivers is 35 feet, but there was little danger unless the river level goes to 40 feet.

The Guadalupe crested at Cuero at 30.5 feet, less than expected. A crest of 29 feet is expected at Victoria Wednesday.

On the upper Brazos, flood waters started subsiding in tributaries. Dennis, 12 miles southwest of Weatherford, asked the Red Cross for 276 units of typhoid serum. The little town was evacuated yesterday. The river is receding there and the town no longer was isolated.

On the Sabine, in East Texas, the river was at 39.15 feet at Gladewater and rising slowly. New rains occurred in the Sabine watershed.

Deweyville, about 10 miles from the Sabine's mouth, prepared for another major flood. It was inundated in May, 1953. The river was at flood stage there and rising.

Residents of the Indian Lake area south of Deweyville were reported leaving.

At Orange, just above the Sabine's mouth, a 3.04-inch rain overnight caused some city street flooding.

At Wharton on the Colorado, about 100 families were forced to flee their low homes overnight, with the crest not yet there. Some merchants sandbagged their stores. The greatest danger appeared from Caney Creek which parallels the Colorado and cuts through the heart of the city. It normally is dry and now is developed with homes and businesses.

The Weather Bureau offered some hope of lessening rains. For South Central Texas, where the main floodwaters now are passing, there was no mention of rain in the forecast through Wednesday.

A heavy downpour overnight at Beaumont freed about 8,000 students from school in the South Park School District. Overnight rains totaled 2.43 inches, and most streets were flooded, as much as 2½ feet in some places. Rain in Beaumont since Sunday totaled 4.88 inches, and intermittent showers fell today.

LAKE RISES TWO INCHES

Lake J. B. Thomas had gained two inches of rise since yesterday by noon today, according to Jack Dunn, pumper at the Snyder pump station.

Dunn said more water rolled into the lake yesterday afternoon and last night from Bull Creek and the Colorado River, mostly from Bull Creek. Water was still moving into the lake today, but at a much slower pace.

In all since the rains started, the lake has caught nine and one-half inches, taking the elevation up to 2,250.60, less than eight feet below spillway level. Full elevation is 2,258 feet.

EMERGENCY REQUEST

Daniel Seeks Disaster Aid

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Price Daniel asked the Legislature today to appropriate $20,000 emergency funds for the National Guard to assist flood and tornado disaster areas.

His emergency request probably will get quick action.

"The present flood disaster in many parts of Texas and recent storms and tornadoes have made it necessary to activate units of the National Guard in the stricken areas to assist in relief and evacuation work and to help maintain order", he said.

The $20,000 appropriation would supplement appropriation for martial law and emergency use of troops.

"The necessity for calling out troops in areas of flood and other disaster may arise at any time," Daniel said. "It is of utmost importance that funds be available to permit the use of the National Guard whenever necessary."

The Senate approved a joint conference report on a bill setting up an adult probation and parole system.

The House is expected to approve finally the measure.

Under the bill, the state would pay for parole officers which would be appointed by the state Pardons Board. Originally the measure called for the governor to make the appointments. Counties would be allowed to hire probation officers, if they want them.

Another top problem in mental health would be alleviated with a bill Daniel now has for his consideration. Both Houses approved the conference committee report on a measure which would set up a new Texas mental health code.

Nightmare For Police

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A routine call over the police radio, "investigate disturbance at 3337 W. Carson St.—man reported beating wife" turned into a nightmare for officers last night.

For 30 minutes they tried to capture a man they said had gone berserk after threatening to kill his wife. And, with the help of tear gas, they finally seized Frank Kirsch, 36.

Kirsch, wielding a club, chased his 40-year-old wife Alice, from their second-floor apartment into a tavern below. Some 15 patrons of the tavern scattered and Kirsch began grappling with the proprietor. Kirsch's wife fled through a rear door. Kirsch ran upstairs when police arrived.

JERUSALEM (AP)—Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion returned to his desk today from a three-week vacation at a pioneer settlement in the Negeb Desert.

Scouts Make Camp Plans

Summer camp plans are now being made for Boy Scout troops and Explorer posts in the Snyder area.

Ray Devers, local camping and activities chairman, said the annual work camp at the Buffalo Trail Scout Ranch has been scheduled for May 18.

Scoutmasters and other scouters who would like to help scouting have been urged to attend the weekend work camp.

Those who attend are urged to reach the ranch, near Balmorrhea, May 17, in time for lunch. The work camp will close with evening meal May 18 at 6 p.m.

Contingents have been asked to take sleeping gear, hand tools, and work clothes. Devers said transportation will be pooled.

Bohlen Nomination Given Green Light

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee was reported to have approved today the nomination of Charles E. (Chip) Bohlen as ambassador to the Philippines and to have put off until tomorrow action on the nomination of Scott McLeod.

McLeod, now the State Department security chief, was questioned at some length about his qualifications to be ambassador to Ireland.

In advance of the session, Sen. Mundt (R-SD) had predicted that the committee would approve President Eisenhower's nominations of both McLeod and Bohlen.

Hussein Rejects Red Charge Of Interference By America

AMMAN, Jordan (AP)—King Hussein today rejected Soviet allegations that the United States is interfering in Jordan's affairs.

"Everything that took place in Jordan was of our own doing, and it was what we believe and still believe was right for the interests of this country," he declared.

The 21-year-old King told a crowded news conference in the royal palace "I can assure you the crisis in Jordan is ended."

Yesterday the United States disclosed that it had offered 10 million dollars in economic aid to Jordan, and Hussein's new government indicated it would be accepted, provided that it did not commit the country to the Eisenhower Doctrine.

Talks on the American offer to bolster the country's shaky economy—previously dependent on the bounty of Saudi Arabia, Egypt and Syria—already were under way.

The Soviet Union, meanwhile, accused the United States of heading a plot to deprive the Arab countries of their freedom. Moscow charged that the past three weeks of crisis in Jordan and other Middle East tensions resulted from the desire of "American billionaires" to become rulers of the area.

The U. S. Embassy announced the 10-million-dollar aid offer in recognition of the "brave steps taken by His Majesty King Hussein and the government and people of Jordan to maintain the integrity and independence of their nation."

In Washington, State Department spokesman Lincoln White said the Jordan government had requested the aid last weekend. White emphasized that it would come out of regular foreign aid funds, not from the 200 million dollars authorized to combat communism under the Eisenhower Doctrine.

Hussein's Adviser To Confer In Iraq

BAGHDAD (AP) — Sherif Nasser, uncle and adviser to King Hussein of Jordan, flew into Baghdad today and went into conference immediately with King Faisal, cousin of Hussein.

This raised speculation that Jordan may be seeking Iraqi financial aid in addition to that already offered by the United States.

Ike Winds Up His Georgia Vacation

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower made ready to head back to Washington today and his doctor reported the chief executive's Georgia vacation has been "very beneficial" to his health.

The White House physician, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, sent word to newsmen that the President gained two pounds in 13 days and the nagging cough he developed in January has been "virtually eliminated."

James C. Hagerty, presidential press secretary, said Eisenhower still coughs "occasionally," and added:

"The doctors expect that he will for some time."

Asked why the doctors look for remnants of the cough to hang on,

"You ask anybody that has a cough. I am not a doctor and I am just relaying what the doctors tell me."

Facing tough international problems and the job of trying to push his legislative program through Congress, Eisenhower arranged to leave by plane for Washington in the early afternoon. The trip takes a bit less than two hours.

During the morning Eisenhower got in a last round of golf at the Augusta National Club. That kept intact his record of 18 holes a day during the vacation.

As for Snyder's report on the state of the President's health, Hagerty said:

"The doctor tells me that in his opinion these days down here have been very beneficial to the President. The warm sun and the exercise the President has been able to get here have virtually eliminated the cough that he had when he first came down, although he does cough occasionally. And the doctors expect he will for some time.

"The President has gained two pounds since he has been here. He is back up to 172 pounds."

Eisenhower weighed 178 pounds when he suffered a heart attack in September 1955. After that the doctors recommended a weight ranging between 168 and 172 pounds.

The President weighed 168 pounds when he was stricken with ileitis last June.

In advance of the new report from Snyder, Hagerty had pictured Eisenhower as feeling "fine." The press secretary also envisioned "very difficult days ahead" for Eisenhower in the field of international affairs.

Grain Planting Prospects Are Good

With the moisture prospects as they now are in this area, Oscar Fowler, county agent, said that all available land not in other crops or soil bank would probably be planted to grain sorghums this year.

For the first time, hybrid sorghums seeds will probably be available in sufficient quantities to meet the demand for planting seed, he said.

Fowler estimated a sorghum planting of 100,000 acres in Scurry County this year.

"Farmers who wish to grow grain sorghums can probably obtain all the hybrid seed they will need from local seed dealers, although it is understood that the seed supply is short now, but more will be available before planting time," he said.

Several qualities of the different varieties of hybrid sorghums should be considered in planting to utilize the different types of land to its best advantage, and to make maximum use of the moisture.

One quality of all hybrid grain sorghums is that they are sensitive to the length of days and nights, and do not begin to mature until the days begin to get shorter in the summer.

But some of the varieties take fewer days to reach maturity — require a shorter growing period — and therefore could be planted much later in the year and still be expected to give good yields under favorable conditions.

There have been two different strains of grain sorghums developed which are adaptable to this area the DeKalb strain and the Texas strain.

The Texas strain has seven varieties, but only two or three varieties are available here, or adaptable to this area.

The Texas strains are Texas 590, Texas 601, Texas 610, Texas 611, Texas 620, Texas 650, and Texas 660.

Developed by Texas Agricultural Experiment Stations, some of the Texas varieties which have been found adaptable to adjacent areas of other states, have been renamed using RS, then the nmuber, such as RS 590, RS 610, and RS 650.

In all cases the number of the variety indicates the expected yield and also indicates the length of the growing period neeessary to reach maturity. The RS 590 would require the shortest growing period, and would be expected to give the lightest yield of the Texas varieties, with the Texas 660 requiring the longest growing period and giv-

Red Chinese Boost Price On Foodstuff

HONG KONG (AP) — Red China announced today it is boosting prices of food and other consumer goods to recoup economic losses resulting from plunging too heavily in capital construction.

In an exceptionally candid broadcast, Peiping radio said the price hike was vital "to secure a balance in the budget and in the relation of the purchasing power to supplies."

The announcement said the rise on such items as pork, edible oils and woolen textiles would amount to "no more than 2 per cent spread over all consumer goods."

"Too heavy instruements in capital constructions last year led to a shortage of raw materials and consequently to a rise in prices of handicraft produc which went also to make up the price rise," the broadcast said.

As a result of the economic muddle, the Politbour fireod Commerce Minister Tseng Shan. Vice Premier Chen Yun, a tough former union organizer, replaced him.

Last year Peiping allocated 52 per cent of its 12-billion-dollar budget to industry. Only 12 per cent of that went for production of consumer goods.

Soon after, workers got heavy wage boosts. As a result they mobbed state-owned stores to buy goods, but few were available. By boosting the price of basic consumer goods, Red authorities reason the people will spend less on nonessentials.

ing the biggest yield. But the Texas 660 is not available.

Yields of from 0 to 40 per cent above yields of standard grain sorghums were recorded over Texas last year, with the average increased yield from hybrids being about 20 per cent above standard varieties.

With more favorable growing conditions, the increased yields could be expected to be much higher.

Characteristics of some of the Texas var-

Texas or RS 590 is an early hybrid which is of about the same maturity as Combine 7078 or Redbine-60. It is of combine height, is dry-headed and has excellent exsertion of the head above the flag leaf. The grain color is light red. Texas or RS 590 has shown good yield increases over Combine 7078 and Redbine-60.

Texas 601 is an early hybrid which is about the same maturity as Redbine-60. It is dry-headed and is of combine height. The exsertion of the head above the flag leaf is excellent, and the grain color is light red. Texas 601 has shown yield increases over Redbine-60 and earlier varieties, in some areas in the state, but may not be adapted to all areas.

Texas 610 is a medium-early hybrid which is usually between Redbine-60 and Martin in maturity. It is of combine height and is semi-dry-headed. Grain color is light red, and the exsertion of the head above the flag leaf is good. Texas 610 has shown good increases in yield over varieties such as Redbine-60, Combine Kafir-60 and Martin.

Texas 611 is a meduim-early hybrid of about the same maturity as Texas 610. It is of combine height and is dry-headed. The exsertion of the head above the flag leaf is good to excellent, and the grain color is light red. Texas 611 has shown good increases in yield over varieties such as Redbine-60, Combine Kafir-60 and Martin in some aresa of the state, but it may not be adapted to all areas. Texas 611 probably has better standing ability than any of the other six hybrids.

Texas 620 is a medium-maturing hybrid of about the same maturity as Martin. It is dry-headed and is of combine height. The grain color is light red, and the exsertion of head above flag leaf is excellent. Texas 620 has given good increases in yield over Martin and earlier varieties.

Texas 660 (not available) is medium-maturing hybrid of about the same maturity as Martin, and is of combine height and semi-dry-headed. The exsertion of head above flag leaf is fair to good, and grain color is light red. Texas 660 has given good increases in yield over Martin and earlier varieties.

Texas 590, 601, 611, and 620 are adaptable to dry land farming.

Newsmen To Observe Atomic Test Shots

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nine "open" shots—with newsmen as observers—will be fired in the atomic test series to be run off in Nevada from mid-May to September.

The Atomic Energy Commission announced the plan today.

It said all of the nine tests to which observers will be admitted will be "low-yield detonations of fission devices."

In addition to reporters and photographers, the AEC said a limited number of Civil Defense representatives will be invited.

School Vandalized

DENVER (AP)—Principal Lindsey Keeler said vandals entered Fairmont Elementary School Sunday and broke at least 100 windows, smashed every clock in the two-story building, demolished telephones and typewriters, hurled chairs through windows, broke a piano, shredded office records, ruined an athletic trophy and threw desk drawers to the floor in 12 classrooms.

3 Billion Budget Cut Is Predicted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) predicted today that Congress will carve more than three billion dollars from President Eisenhower's budget but defer tax cuts until next year.

In addition to parting company with the administration on the general issue of how much to spend, the Senate Republican leader described as "unwise" the Eisenhower-backed proposal for federal school aid. He said that if the government gets into the school field he does not believe it will get out in four years as planned.

Knowland addressed the "Congressional Action Breakfast" held in connection with the 45th annual meeting of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce here.

Knowland stuck close to the economy theme and his businessman audience followed the same line in a question-and-answer session.

Knowland said the Senate will "make no blanket restorations" of the sums the House is now whittling from Eisenhower's $71,800,000,000 spending request.

Some changes may be made in the appropriation bills received from the House, said Knowland, a member of the Senate Appropriations Committee.

But he declared: "I believe Congress should and will make substantial reductions. In my personal belief they will total over three billion dollars."

In the question-and-answer exchange, Knowland gave these answers:

1. There is "about a 50-50 chance" that postal rates will be boosted to bring the post office closer to a self-supporting basis.
2. There is "a very good chance" that a number of the economy and federal reorganization recommendations of the second Hoover Commission will be enacted before Congress goes home.
3. Knowland "doubts very much" that a federal right-to-work law will be enacted in 1957.
4. Legislation probably will be approved to regulate union and other pension and welfare funds, and to provide workers with assurance their union dues "will be properly spent and properly accounted for."

Newsman Is Fined Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Seymour Peck, 39, a New York newspaperman, today was fined $500 and given a 30-day suspended jail sentence for contempt of Congress.

The contempt case grew out of Peck's appearance before the Senate Internal Security subcommittee in January 1956 during an investigation of communism in mass communications.

Peck readily acknowledged past Communist affiliations, but refused to name persons he had known as Communists.

Peck testified that he belonged to the Communist party when he worked on the New York Star, now defunct, but said he left the party several years before he went to work for the New York Times in 1952. He is a copy editor on the Sunday magazine of the Times.

Peck was convicted by a jury March 26 of contempt for unlawfully refusing to answer a series of questions concerning his one-time fellow Communists.

Senator McCarthy Responding Well

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) was reported "responding well" to treatment at Bethesda Naval Hospital for acute hepatitis — inflammation of the liver.

That was the report issued last night by a hospital spokesman who said the senator's condition "is considered serious but not critical." He said McCarthy was slightly improved since yesterday morning.

McCarthy was admitted to the hospital at 5 p. m. Sunday. He has been in an oxygen tent.

The senator's office said he had not complained of being ill last week. He has been treated at Bethesda twice in the last two years for an old knee injury.

Daily Average Oil Production During Week Is Decreased

TULSA (AP)—Daily average oil production dropped 35,600 barrels to 7,541,475 during the week ended April 27, the Oil and Gas Journal said today.

The Journal estimated 1957 production at 887,210,700 barrels compared to 850,941,104 a year ago.

Louisiana was down 200 to 952,400; and Arkansas, 25 to 83,600.

Production was unchanged in Texas at 3,205,250 barrels and in New Mexico at 274,400.

Armed Forces Might Be Fed Banquet Style

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The armed forces apparently are toying with the idea of feeding combat troops in any future war banquet style.

On display here at a materials handling exposition is a packaged dinner that will serve 25. The Navy says proposed menus include filet mignon, tasty chops and succulent fowl.

The package also includes table settings for 25. But observers noted that the sample main course on display is that old standby—chile and beans.

Greek Military Show

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—The Greek armed forces put on a military show at bases near Athens today for Gen. Lauris Norstad, supreme commander of Allied powers in Europe. Norstad said the displays were most impressive.

GATES OPENED

Flooded River Continues Rise

AUSTIN (AP)—The Lower Colorado River Authority began opening flood gates on Mansfield Dam (Lake Travis) today.

Gates were opened also on Tom Miller Dam (Lake Austin) in an effort to keep the reservoir within the Austin city limits from flooding.

The LCRA hopes to send just enough water downstream today to relieve flooded conditions on Lake Travis, and at the same time not cause further major overflow downstream.

The Colorado was above flood stage at Columbus at 28 feet and rising. It is expected to subside there and at other points before the new high water from Lake Travis reaches that far downstream.

The flood-gorged river was also rising at Wharton where a crest of 33-34 feet was predicted for today. A crest of 44-45 feet further downstream at Bay City was expected late today. Water goes over the levees at Bay City at 44 feet.

The LCRA and Army Engineers decided to open the Lake Travis gates, hoping to send a controlled flood downstream where the present rises were caused by torrential rains beyond the reach of flood control reservoirs.

The LCRA has been able to hold back the unprecedented runoff from a serious of upland rains since last week in its principal flood control reservoir, Lake Travis, hoping for the downstream rains to stop. Today it appeared that they have.

Austin went rainless yesterday for the first time in 20 days and no rain was in the forecast for South Central Texas.

Salad Days Are Here Again

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

A man we know startled us recently by saying flatly, "Men go for salads."

According to legend, men think salad is rabbit fodder and they don't like it.

When we asked our man whether he could back up his subversive statement with any Madison Avenue-type depth-interviews, he told us he had made his own survey. At a recent Chicago convention of hustlers in his trade (manufacturing kitchen equipment), the criterion of a good noontime restaurant was whether it served a good salad.

What did the fellows order with the salad? Lamb chops, steak, lobster, shrimp, roast beef.

No rabbit ever had it so good.

Urged on, our informant named the wide variety of salads popular with his buddies. Hearts of lettuce with Gorgonzola dressing, hearts of lettuce with Parmesan dressing.

Every leaf was blessed with cheese.

A salad, like Gual, is divided into three parts. First, the main ingredient. Then the dressing, usually of oil and vinegar and seasonings. Third, such titillating extra additions as cheese.

For the main ingredient of this salad use that man-favorite, iceberg lettuce. Hold the whole head under cold running water, then stand it with the leafy top down to drain. Wrap in a clean kitchen towel to drain some more and chill in this shroud in the refrigerator.

Now for the dressing. The classic proportion of oil and vinegar is three to one. So put ¾ cup of olive oil and ¼ cup of white wine vinegar in a mixing bowl. Add ½ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon white pepper and ½ teaspoon paprika. Beat with a fork until the ingredients amalgamate.

Now crumble a large (3-ounce) wedge of Roquefort cheese into the dressing and mash with a spoon so that some of the cheese blends with the oil and vinegar mixture and the rest of it is in little lumps.

If you like garlic, put a clove of it in your garlic press and crush it into the dressing. If you haven't a press, chop the garlic fine and mash it with the wide blade of a heavy knife until you achieve a pulp.

Empty the dressing into a jar with a screwtop lid and refrigerate.

When your eaters are ready and willing, cut off the end of the lettuce core with a small sharp knife. Then slice the lettuce into wedges and place on individual salad plates. Shake the Roquefort dressing (brought to room temperature) with gusto, spoon some of it over the lettuce and serve up your salad.

Any dressing you do not use should be put back in the refrigerator in its tightly covered jar. You can always add it to a fossed green salad. That's the salad for which you tear up as many varieties of greens as you can afford and find, and lower them into a wooden salad bowl. Then at the moment of serving, you add the dressing, and with wooden spoon and fork toss everything into the air and make like a chef.

Dear Miss Brandow:

What makes a boy so afraid of going steady? They seem friendly until you try to get them committed. Girls want to go steady; why not boys?

Glenda

T'aint their nature, I 'spose. All men, I've been told are confirmed batchelors until they meet a woman clever enought to convince them they aren't.

Men value their freedom highly and they fear being brow-beaten, hen-pecked or led around by the nose. The younger they are (under twenty that is) the more apt they are to think that liking a girl enough to make her their steady is sissified.

The best solution to a girl who is eager to get one trapped is to play it sly. Go light on the domestic stuff and heavy on the pal routine. Be a good sport and "fun to be with." Let him gradually realize he has lots of fun when he is with you—in fact he enjoys himself more when he is with you than when he is with anyone else.

You must grow to be important to him and he must want to have you around a lot before he will ask you, of his own volition, to go steady.

Settle for being his number one chum; you'll find it is a short cut to being his number one girl.

Dear Miss Brandow:

When a boy is walking with two girls on a side walk, does he walk in the center or on the outside?

He walks streetside with the girls walking together on the inside.

(Your letters are most welcome. You may write your questions at any time to Miss Brandow in care of this newspaper. If you wish a personal answer, enclosing a 3 cent stamp will be appreciated.)

Wainscot Paneling

A popular way of paneling dining rooms or corridors with hardwood plywood is the wainscot method. This refers to paneling part way up the wall — usually to a height o' three feet. Four by six foot panels can be cut in half to achieve the desired height. Top the paneling with a chair rail.

Hussein Ruins Nasser's Dream

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Youthful King Hussein of Jordan has badly jolted Egyptian President Nasser's dream of a solid Arab world, with Nasser as leader. But Nasser had some strikes on him before that, and it's no wonder.

The Arab countries have a long history of jealousies and conflicts although, going back to the 19th century, when the Turks still bossed them. Arabs talked of the possibility of an independent Arab state some day.

The closest they could come to it was in 1945 when seven Arab nations — Egypt, Iraq, Saudi Arabia, Syria, Lebanon, Jordan and Yemen — formed the Arab League for joint action in all matter of common concern.

The motivating force for the league was the imminent creation of the new state of Israel. Now these Arab countries have in common religion, language, and hostility to the Jews. There also are strong feelings of nationalism and anticolonialism, both a direct result of the long hold on them by Turks, British and French.

After the war against Israel, the Arab League members even signed a collective defense pact. That was in 1950. It was the high-water mark of their unity.

Their defense agreement was virtually canceled out five years later. First Iraq joined the Baghdad defense pact against Russia along with Iran, Turkey, Pakistan and Great Britain, with American backing. Then Egypt and Syria the same year made a defense agreement between themselves.

By that time — 1955 — Nasser was in the saddle in Egypt, preaching pan-Arabism, playing on the Arab's' anticolonial distrust of the West, their hatred of the Jews. By sheer talk and drive he pushed himself into a leadership position.

And he made himself a rallying point for all Arab nationalists in 1956 when, angered because this country refused him money to build a dam, he seized the Suez Canal. After that to make concessions was to lose face and leadership.

He needed big support to help him weather the storm of his opposition to the West. Naturally, he turned to anti-Western Russia. It became convenient then for the pro-Communists and the extreme Arab nationalists in the Middle East to work together, or at least toward some of the same ends.

But four of the seven Arab League members are kingdoms — Iraq, Jordan, Saudi Arabia and Yemen, which is too small to have significance. Two, Syria and Lebanon, are republics. Egypt calls itself a republic.

The longer Nasser defied the West and the closer he tried to pull the Arab world toward reliance on Russia, the more unhealthy it became for the kings of Iraq, Jordan and Saudi Arabia. There is no future for them with communism.

Therefore, it would be convenient for Nasser — particularly with his dreams of dominating the Arab world — if the kings were gone. It's no accident King Hussein blamed Egypt and communism for the riots in Jordan against his government this month.

Television Producer Files Big Lawsuit

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Television producer Jack Denove has filed suit for $2,215,000 damages against Sol Lesser, Norman Freeman and Sol Lesser Productions, Inc., in a dispute over production of "Tarzan" TV films.

Denove's Superior Court complaint alleged that he was hired May 12, 1955, to produce 39 Tarzan films and other pictures based on literary properties owned by the Lesser interests. He claims that after giving all his time to the project he was told on May 1, 1956, that the agreement was at an end.

SAILOR'S DILEMMA

Duck Eggs Are Found In Bunk

PORT WASHINGTON, N. Y. (AP)—What do you do when a mallard lays a dozen duck eggs in your forward bunk?

That problem demands a practical solution from Robert McAll, master of the good sloop Merrimac. Any day now the eggs may start hatching. And McAll hasn't the slightest idea how a duckling is going to manage to scramble up two feet to the porthole that Mama Mallard has been using as a private door.

It started last year when a mama mallard built a feather-lined nest in a coil of rope on the sloop's deck. McAll solved that one by tossing the whole thing overboard and painting the deck.

This spring the mallard started operations by laying an egg in another rope coil on deck of the anchored yacht. Again McAll thought he had settled the matter by disposing of the egg and the rope coil.

But he reckoned without Mama Mallard. Last weekend he discovered all those eggs in his forward bunk. Being a kindhearted sailor, and lacking the excuse that he has to paint the bunk, he is in a dilemma.

Airplane Instrument Proves Too Expensive

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Instrument systems designed to prevent airplane collisions in flight are feasible but too costly, a flight expert told the annual National Flight Instrumentation Symposium.

"One recent project for a warning system was given up by a major concern because of excessive cost and research even though the company had a 10-million-dollar backlog of orders," Bernard Oldfield, Hughes Aircraft flight operations chief, said.

Warning On Test Given

HOUSTON (AP)—Francis B. Sayre, a former assistant secretary of state under Franklin D. Roosevelt, said yesterday Americans should demand that the federal government press for an international agreement to discontinue atomic bomb testing.

The former commissioner of the Philippines said Americans "can not afford to sit still a day until international agreements have been reached" on the matter.

"The moment will soon be reached . . . when the radioactive fallout from the atomic bomb testing constitutes a more deadly physical peril than any which has ever in all history threatened mankind," he said.

Sayre was in Houston to speak before two Episcopal groups.

SAYS CADDY:

President Is A Fine Fellow

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—"The President, he's a fine fellow. He keep you laughing all the way 'round that golf course. No sir, you never get lonesome going 'round with him."

That's the way Sam Little feels about President Eisenhower, the man for whom he has been caddying daily since April 18.

Sam, 37-year-old Negro, took over as Eisenhower's new caddy at that time. Not entirely new, at that. He used to carry Eisenhower's bag once in a while at the Augusta National Golf Club before Eisenhower was elected president.

But until this visit ending today, Sam never had caddied for the President of the United States. He got the job after the club fired Willie (Cemetery) Perteet as the presidential caddy.

The 51-year-old Perteet had to go because he was "getting a bit too decrepit," Ed Dudley, the club pro, explained early this month.

Sam said in a telephone interview he certainly has enjoyed caddying for Eisenhower. These days the President rides an electric golf cart a good part of the way around the course.

That means Sam doesn't have to carry the golf bag very much, but he's right there beside Eisenhower every shot he makes.

"He takes his golf mighty serious, the President does," Sam reported. "But he has a good time too, I mean."

"The President, he'll say to me when he is getting ready for a shot: 'Well, Sam, pray we have a good one this time.'

"And I do and most the time we comes out all right."

Eisenhower's game, Sam said, has been mighty good.

"He been shootin' in the 80s for 18 holes all the time. He never did get in the 90s all the time he been here."

(White House press secretary James C. Hagerty reported the President had an 80—eight over par—twice during his stay of almost two weeks, and that he had an 81 "two or three times.")

Eisenhower spends about 40 minutes practicing every day before playing a round, Sam said.

"You know, the thing I like about him is that every day when I come up to his presence he says to me something like 'Hello there, Sam. How are you today and how is your family?'"

Sam has a wife and four children.

Drought In U. S. Still Not Broken

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Weather Bureau says much of the nation will have less rainfall in the next 30 days, but forecasters do not expect drought conditions to return to the Southwest this year.

In its regular 30-day forecast, the Bureau said below normal rain is expected in most of the country, except in the far Southwest and the Northeast.

Rain in Central and East Texas, unusually heavy in the past two weeks, is expected to be normal or below.

A Bureau spokesman said, however, forecasters are standing by their prediction the drought in the Southwest likely won't return this year.

"You can't break a drought with one month of heavy rain," he said. "In some places it's going to take two or three years to restore the moisture content of the soil."

"But, with the rainfall we've had and with what we expect, things are looking up."

The 30-day weather outlook also calls for temperatures to average below seasonal normals over the eastern third of the nation, except above normal in states bordering the Gulf of Mexico. The western part of the nation will get above normal averages, except for the far Southwest which will get below normal readings.

President Eisenhower has designated parts of Texas as major disaster areas, qualifying them for federal funds to relieve damage from redent tornadoes and floods.

In announcing the action in Augusta, Ga., yesterday, Eisenhower did not list specific areas included in the disaster designation. Shortly afterward, the Civil Defense Administration said it had assembled a task force at Austin Tex., to work out with state authorities the application of federal aid.

Spring rains, meanwhile, were reported to have improved crops in some sections of the West, but also caused some damage and planting delay in several states.

The drought continues in parts of New Mexico, but moisture conditions were somewhat improved in western Kansas and Oklahoma. The water shortages on individual Missouri farms have been eliminated.

Cecile Dionne Plans To Get Married Soon

MONTREAL (AP)—Cecile Dionne plans to get married in the fall and hopes to go to Europe on her honeymoon.

The first of the Dionne quintuplets to become engaged, Cecile said in a Montreal Herald interview that she and radio technician Philippe Langlois, 26, probably will marry some time after she graduates from a nursing course here in August.

She reported her plans are approved by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oliva Dionne of Callander, Ont.

"My father likes Philippe very much and Philippe likes my father," she said. "My mother is very pleased, very happy."

The four remaining Dionne quints will be 23 on May 28. Cecile and Yvonne, in the same class of a nursing course at Notre Dame de L'Esperance hospital in suburban St.Laurent, are currently taking an obstetrics course at St.Justine Hospital.

"I like my obstetrics course very much," Cecile said. "I like babies."

Annette Dionne is studying music in Quebec City. Marie, after giving up a small flower shop named for Emilie, who died in 1954, is acting as housekeeper for Yvonne and Cecile.

Cecile said she wants to go to Europe for a honeymoon "because I have never been there."

"It would be very nice, very lovely," she said.

Body Of Singer To Be Buried In New York

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The body of Belle Baker, renowned torch singer of the jazz and vaudeville era, will be sent to New York City, where she was born, for burial.

Miss Baker died in a hospital Sunday night, two days after she was stricken with a heart attack at her home in Beverly Hills. She was 58.

The 1920s and 30s—the era of Florenz Ziegfeld, Sophie Tucker, the Palace Theater in New York, prohibition, night clubs and radio—saw Miss Baker in her heyday. She had a vaudeville following virtually equal that of Sophie Tucker. She was tops on radio.

Airways Is Still In Business Minus Plane

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Quaker City Airways is still in business, its owner insisted today, even though it's temporarily without an airplane.

Owner-President Herbert Sussman was in Washington yesterday to make sure the Civil Aeronautics Board didn't take the little company off its books.

"We had to sell our lone DC3 transport to buy a larger plane," Sussman explained. "Because our replacement wasn't immediately available, we didn't turn in any operating reports and the CAB thought we were out of business. But we're going to resume operations with our new equipment."

Hugo Editor Speaks At Rotan

ROTAN — Every small town must gear its human, financial and physical resources to best advantage to make progress, and an industrial foundation is an ideal way to do it, Jack Stamper of Hugo, Okla., said at the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet here Monday night.

Stamper, who is editor of the Hugo Daily News, told "The Hugo Story" at the banquet—a story of progress and miraculous economic development in a town that had literally withered on the vine before it organized an industrial foundation.

People should be dissatisfied with things as they are in their town, Stamper suggested. Dissatisfaction usually means that a change will develop, and if the change is motivated by positive, rather than negative, thinking, progress is inevitable. He told of industries which had moved into Hugo, employing from 50 to 300 workers each, since the town had organized its industrial foundation a few years ago.

Prior to that, he said the area had lost heavily in population, and economic health of the community was definitely on the downgrade.

Stamper was introduced by Dr. Lawrence Hayes, pastor of the First Baptist Church. Dr. Hayes also introduced Hooper Shelton, retiring chamber president and Floyd Clifton, incoming president. Clifton presented the board of directors composed of C. J. Thornton, R. L. Springer, Mac Weatherbee, Mrs. Robert Gray, secretary-treasurer, Ray Brown, Dr. Barry Allen, J. D. Moore, Justin Morrow, Lloyd Hurst, A. B. Parker and Roy Kingsfield.

The Rev. J. E. Perryman, pastor of the Rotan Church of the Nazarene, gave the invocation, and entertainment was furnished by a girls quartet from Roby.

Out-of-town guests were present from Snyder, Abilene, Roby and Sweetwater.

Attending from Snyder were R. E. Patterson, Dr. Robert Hargrove and Wacil McNair.

Emily Back With Circus

OMAHA (AP)—Cheers rang in the ears of Emily Greenweld last night in the same arena where gasps of horror had sounded a year ago when she plummeted 40 feet to the hardwood floor.

Emily came back before a crowd that included many who had seen her near-fatal fall. The cheers sent a spirited smile flashing cross her face.

A broken wrist strap was the cause of her fall in the Shrine circus last year. She was spread-eagled on a spinning ring suspended from her husband Albert's teeth. The fall resulted in multiple fractures of the pelvis, a crushed left hip and a smashed wrist.

Doctors believed she would never walk again but 32-year-old Emily told them that more than anything else she wanted to return to the circus and she would. She was 13 weeks in a hospital and then returned to her Cedar Rapids home, where after weeks of practice she reached peak form and was ready for her comeback in the same circus in the same arena where she fell.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

IT'S A BIT OUT OF season but Tiger basketball coach J. P. Ward has just about completed his field for the annual Canyon Reef cage tournament next winter.

Seven of the eight teams that will make up the field are already in the fold. The other berth probably will be filled within the next few days.

The school who have already accepted invitations are Abilene, Brownwood, Tom S. Lubbock, Weatherford, Colorado City, Lake View and the host Tigers.

Three of these teams competed in last year's tournament, Tom S., Weatherford and the Tigers.

Ward's Tigers are the defending champions but the Bengals lost all five starters off the 1956-57 team. The Tigers edged Tom S., 67-66, in last year's tournament finals.

Ward, incidentally, has announced that spring basketball drills will begin the latter part of this week.

J. P. will certainly be faced with a rebuilding job for next season. Only four of the top 10 boys last season are returning. John Ward, Bill Phillips, Gary Vice and Israel Hinojos are the returnees.

The picture is brightened somewhat over the fact that the Tiger "B" team had a very successful season last winter, winning 15 of 21 games.

Three Tournaments Slated

The Tigers will play in three tournaments next season, their own Canyon Reef tourney and the Abilene and Odessa tournaments. In addition to district games, the Tigers will play non-conference series with San Angelo, Abilene, Borger, Midland and Seminole.

The complete Tiger cage schedule for next winter hasn't been completed yet but Ward hopes to have it filled before the end of the school year.

You'll note that Big Spring isn't on the Tiger slate. To this scribe Tommy Hart at Big Spring claims that the Tigers are afraid to meet the Steers.

However, coaches Johnny Johnson of the Steers and Ward were unable to get together on dates for games next winter.

That'll be the day when the Tigers refuse to play Big Spring in anything because of being "afraid."

If the Tigers are looking for a soft schedule, they certainly would not have picked on Borger for a two-game series. Borger has three starters returning from last years outfit that battled state finalist Pampa to a deadlock in the district race.

Pampa subdued Borger in a one-game "suden death" play-off to enter the state playoffs. Borger was the only team that had beaten Pampa before Port Arthur did it in the state finals.

No, Tommy, I don't believe Ward purposely passed up a chance to meet your Steers.

Winning 'Em The Hard Way

Abilene's track team dood it again last Saturday. The Eagle thinlies won their second straight track meet without the benefit of any first place finishes when they annexed the Red Raider Relays.

The Eagles, actually, didn't win the meet but they won the Class AA division. Stamford won the overall title.

A week before the Eagles had won the Dallas Invitational without finishing first in any event.

Abilene, however, wasn't awarded the Class AA title until after a heated argument following the Red Raider Relays. Monterey of Lubbock finished with 30 points but six of her points were ruled out.

It seems that Monterey used a member of her sprint relay team, Blair Cherry, Jr., in another event besides the relay. Cherry entered and placed third in the 220-yard dash.

Abilene coach Bob Groseclose contended that he thought the Red Raider Relays was being run the "same as the state meet." That being the case, an athelete who qualifies for the state only in a relay event cannot participate in any other events. Cherry, under this ruling, would have been ineligible to enter the 220.

But the entry blank sent out by Texas Tech backed up Monterey's using Cherry in the 220. The entry blanks sent out stated that anyone who qualifies for the state meet "may enter as many events as he desires" in the Red Raider Relays.

Well, Monterey coach Ted Simon agreed to let Abilene have the AA title and so Everett "Pinky" Peel awarded the first place trophy to the Eagles.

Simon said he didn't originally intend to use any of his relayers but after conferring with some other coaches before the meet who said they planned to use their relay members in other events he decided to do so too. Cherry, however, was the only relayer who placed in another event, thus the controversey.

Peel said that Monterey would either be awarded a duplicate first place trophy or a sportsmanship trophy. The latter, perhaps bears more honors.

Sports Win Lone TL Tilt

By The Associated Press

Shreveport made hay while the moon didn't shine in other Texas League cities Monday night to beat Austin 4-3 and pull into third place in the standings.

Houston at San Antonio, Oklahoma City at Fort Worth and Tulsa at Dallas were postponed because of rain, bringing to 25 the games that have been washed out. This is more than a third of the total number scheduled—64.

Shreveport was pushing within a half game of leading Dallas and second place Oklahoma City, who are separated by only 31 percentage points.

Johnny Pfeiffer singled with two out in the ninth to drive in Billy Parsons with the winning run.

Shreveport got two runs in the first inning on doubles by Nellie Daehn and Dale Coogan and two Austin errors and scored again in the third.

Austin came back for two tallies in the third on Don Leppert's two-run homer and tied it up in the sixth when Bill Queen sacrificed Leppert home.

Jim Grimm, who worked the en rist, hip, and nose and lip last inning, was the winning pitcher.

Texas League Prexy Injured In Wreck

DALLAS (AP)—Texas League President Dick Butler was injured early today when the car he was driving skidded and hit a utility pole.

Butler suffered a possible broken rist, hip, and nose and lip cuts. It had been raining in Dallas and the streets were slippery.

CATCHER APPLIES BRAKES—It came up rain during most of the Detroit Tigers-Kansas City A's game in Detroit and catching Red Wilson of the Tigers found the turf more suitable for skating as he chased a foul ball hit by A's Billy Hunter in the sixth inning. Wilson banged into the backboard and missed the ball. He was uninjured.

OUT OF THE GAME—New York Yankees' Mickey Mantle stalks off the field after he was ejected from a game against Boston at Yankee Stadium, New York. It was the second time in his major league career that Mantle has been thrown out. Umpire Ed Runge, the same one who dismissed the Yankee slugger previously, argues with manager Casey Stengel in the background. Mickey protested a third called strike in the third inning.

TIGERS-BOBCATS WEATHERED OUT

Today's Tiger-San Angelo game carded for Towle Memorial Park was postponed because of wet grounds.

The two teams were also weathered out yesterday in a game slated at San Angelo.

No makeup dates have been arranged.

Next on tap for the Tigers will be against Midland here Friday afternoon.

Pioneer Takes In Cameron

ARLINGTON (AP)—The Pioneer Junior College Conference will have six members starting Dec. 1. Cameron A&M of Lawton, Okla., was admitted to the league at a meeting of the faculty committee here yesterday.

Cameron was unanimously voted into the conference but can't begin competition until the basketball season. Too many of the present members have already arranged their football schedules and the Oklahomans couldn't be worked into it.

Cisco also applied but action was deferred until a committee visits the campus and prepares a report for the winter meeting of the conference in Dallas next December. Cisco now is in the Texas Junior College Conference.

Cameron will join Arlington State, Tarleton State, Schreiner, Ranger and San Angelo.

The conference also elected officers for the coming year, with Cecil Ballew of Tarleton State being named president; W. L. Hughes of Arlington State, vice president, and George Rushton of Ranger secretary-treasurer.

Southwestern Slate Washed Out Again

By The Associated Press

Rain and cold are playing havoc with the Southwestern League.

They'll try again Tuesday night.

Carlsbad leads the race with a 3-1 record. Plainview and Ballinger are tied for second with 2-1.

Only one game has been played in the last two days, Beaumont beating Corpus Christi 5-2 Sunday.

Corpus Christi, Victoria and Abilene are tied for first with 7-4 records. Beaumont is fourth with 6-5.

Sooner State Opens Tonight

By The Associated Press

Hopeful that most of their financial troubles were solved during the winter, eight teams go to the starting gate Wednesday night to open the eleventh Sooner State League baseball season.

Six Oklahoma and two Texas teams comprise the only Class D League west of the Mississippi River and one of the four remaining in action in the nation this summer.

Financial difficulties proved too great for McAlester, Okla., one of the charter members of the circuit, so the franchise was given to Greenville, Tex.

The New York Yankees switched their farm club affiliation along with the franchise, and all teams start with full working agreements.

These are: Paris, Tex., with Baltimore; Ponca City, with the Chicago Cubs; Shawnee, with Brooklyn; Muskogee, with the New York Giants; Seminole, with Kansas City; Lawton, with Milwaukee, and Ardmore, with St. Louis.

Four of the managers will be new to the league, although all have had some playing or managing experience in the past.

They include Lee Anthony at Seminole, Tom Gott at Greenville, Ed Serrano at Shawnee and Andy Gilbert, who returns to Muskogee after having piloted the Giants in 1952 in the Class C Western Association, which is now defunct.

Holdover managers include Don Biebel at Ponca City, Barney Lutz at Paris, J. C. Dunn at Ardmore and Travis Jackson at Lawton.

Last year's pennant winner was Ardmore, which returns five players and is the most experienced team in the league.

League champion, however, is Seminole.

Suspended Golfers To Lodge Protest

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Four tournament golfers, in the PGA doghouse for poor exhibitions in protest against not being permitted to withdraw from the Kentucky Derby Open, plan to appeal a 30-day suspension today.

The four — George Bayer of Cincinnati and Texans Ernie Vossler, Don January and Doug Higgins — were awaiting arrival of the players tournament committee. The latter comes here for the $25,000 Colonial National Invitation which opens Thursday.

There will be 48 top golfers in this tournament with Bayer, Vossler, January and Higgins included, because the suspension does not apply to Colonial, a non-PGA co-sponsored event. But, if they can't get it removed, the four won't be able to play at Hot Springs, Ark., next week.

Aggie Cagers To Play 21-Game Schedule

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—A 21 game schedule plus one tournament has been mapped for Texas A&M College's basketball team next season.

The Aggies will make a Southern and Eastern tour, playing Memphis State, Wake Forest, Richmond, Ohio State and Temple on a swing that will carry them over eight days. They will play in only one tournament—the Southwest Conference Tournament at Houston Dec. 26-28.

Kansas Eyes Another 7-Foot Star

CONROE, Tex. (AP)—Two Wilt the Stilts on one team? Could be since Kansas, where Wilt Chamberlain is the star of the basketball team, is after Warnell Jones, 17. This Negro boy may be taller than Wilt before he stops growing.

Jones, a senior at the all-Negro Booker T. Washington High School in Conroe, stands 6 feet 11 and is being sought by no less than 14 colleges and universities. The reason is obvious: He scored 628 points in 20 games for an average of 31.4 last season.

He's been doing that all through high school, however, and the interest in him was not recently born. Some of his games as a high school sophomore attracted college scouts.

"I think he has tremendous possibilities," says his coach, James Barnhill.

Chamberlain, the All-America sensation at Kansas as a sophomore last season, is seven feet tall. Jones, from all indications, will be as tall or taller by the time he gets to college, which will be next fall.

Kansas is after him but so are such other schools as Kansas State College of the Pacific, Idaho State Lamar Tech, North Texas State, Duquesne, New Mexico and Illinois.

Jones and his family recently visited the Kansas campus on an invitation from the school. Barnhill said the big center was offered a scholarship.

Where the giant youngster plans to go to college isn't known, probably not even by himself. Right now he's working over his studies in the final months of his high school career. And it's not just to pass them, which is a foregone conclusion, but to be valedictorian of his class. As a student, he is going staging a down-to-the-wire battle with a girl for the honor.

Determined Braves Open Eastern Trip

By JOE REICHLER
The Associated Press

The whirlwind getaway by Milwaukee in the National League pennant race (9-1) stamps the Braves as the team to beat but it by no means establishes them as a sure thing. In fact, precedent is against Fred Haney's crew.

Since the start of the modern era (1901), seven clubs, prior to the 1957 Braves, lost only one game during the first two weeks of the season. Of these, only two—the 1915 Philadelphia Phillies (15-1) and the 1955 Brooklyn Dodgers (11-1)—went on to win the pennant. One club, the 1919 Dodgers (9-1), wound up fifth.

The red-hot Braves, leading the Dodgers by two games, open a 12-game Eastern swing tonight at the Polo Grounds against the Giants. Bob Buhl (1-0) is scheduled to pitch against Johnny Antonelli (1-2).

Haney, confident his team will dethrone the Dodgers, credits the Braves' fast start to his ability to get his pitching staff razor sharp for the takeoff.

Almost to the exclusion of his other starters, Haney concentrated on getting four men ready. They were Warren Spahn, Lew Burdette, Bob Buhl and Ray Crone.

With the schedule becoming more concentrated following yesterday's off-day, Haney is prepared to swing to his other starters, such as Gene Conley, Bob Trowbridge and rookie Juan Pizzaro.

The Braves' big test will come when they face the Dodgers at Ebbets Field next Sunday and Monday.

Tonight's National League schedule also has the Chicago Cubs at Brooklyn, Cincinnati at Philadelphia and St. Louis at Pittsburgh.

While the NL goes East—American League teams go West. Most of the attention will be focused on Chiago and Detroit. The White Sox, leading the American League by one game, take on Baltimore in an afternoon affair. The Yankees, predominant preseason favorites to capture their third consecutive flag, are guests of the Tigers, also in a daylight contest.

The runner-up Boston Red Sox, who pulled a surprise by knocking off the Yankees two out of three at Yankee Stadium to dump Casey Stengel's champions into third place, will be in Kansas City tonight. Cleveland, batling to get into the .500 class, takes on Washington in another are-light tussle.

La Bua Scores 3rd Straight Win

NEW YORK (AP)—A change in fighting style has put middleweight Jackie La Bua back on the winning path.

The handsome, 155-pounder from East Meadow, N. Y., racked up his third straight victory last night with a decisive 10-round verdict over welterweight Joe Miceli, 147, at St. Nicholas Arena.

570 Million In Military Goods Shipped By U. S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today the United States delivered 570 million dollars worth of military goods to free world nations in the last half of 1956.

In a semiannual report to Congress on the mutual security program, Eisenhower said those shipments brought to nearly $14,800,000,000 the value of military aid to friendly nations since the program was started in 1950.

"Under present world conditions," Eisenhower added, "I am convinced that this (mutual security) program is, more than ever, essential to the security of the United States.

Most of the military deliveries during July-December 1956 went to Europe and the Far East—over 40 per cent to Europe and 33 per cent to the Far East, the report said.

More than half the deliveries consisted of aircraft and related equipment, slightly less than a third was ground forces equipment, and the remainder comprised naval goods.

Deliveries in the last half of the year were considerably less than the $1,900,000,000 shipped in the first six months of 1956. The main reason, the report said, was a decline "in the quantity of off-the-shelf items available for ready delivery."

Of the two billion dollars earmarked for military assistance appropriated for the current fiscal year, the report said, "programs totaling 1½ billion are under implementation by the end of December 1956."

The report reviews all activities of the International Cooperation Administration, the agency which administers the foreign aid program. However, the document does not give a country-by-country breakdown of aid received.

In the field of technical aid, the report said about 4,400 U. S. technicians, including those under private contract, were working in more than 50 "less developed" nations.

Eisenhower said that during the current fiscal year, "there has been much greater emphasis on concentrating available resources on programs most directly related to the achievement of basic policy objectives of the United States, with a consequent elimination of projects of marginal significance."

Eisenhower said the six-month period was marked by "encouraging progress."

He said "increased military effectiveness" in the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization was due to U. S. assistance to Pakistan, Thailand and the Philippines.

More than 626 million dollars programed for defense support in the six-month period was designated for three Asian countries, Korea, Formosa and free Vietnam.

The report said ICA has sought to encourage domestic private enterprise in the less developed countries, and to improve understanding of private industry.

The report mentioned that delivery of military equipment to Yugoslavia at the end of 1956 was "minimal."

AIRPLANE LANDS ON LARGE TRUCK

CABOOL, Mo. (AP) — Trying to land on U. S. 60 because of a heavy fog, two Wichita, Kan., men set their light plane down atop a big truck that was rolling along the road yesterday.

William Keaton, 21, the pilot, and Ray Lee Strickland were not hurt, although their plane bounced off the truck and was demolished in a ditch.

The unusual landing did little damage to the truck.

HOME FROM ISRAEL AND PRISON—Mary Frances Hagan, Huntington, W. Miss Hagan, 29, arrested during a bus tour of Israel, said she was not bitter over her imprisonment on charges of spying for Syria.

He seized $2,000 in bills from a cash drawer, put the money in a paper bag and fed with another man who had been waiting near the front door.

Minnie Will Get No Steak Dinner

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP)—Mournful Minnie the Bloodhound won't get her steak dinner, but she had three grateful friends.

Minnie tracked down an alleged peeping tom in nearby Johnston County recently. Three witnesses, paid $1.60 each for appearing at the subsequent trial, forwarded their checks to State Prison officials. They thought Minnie should be rewarded with some steak for her detective work.

Robert A. Allen, director of prison field operations, said the checks — already returned once —will go back again to the senders. Meanwhile Minnie is doing well on plain dog food.

Busy Air Center

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dallas was the nation's eighth busiest air center in 1956, the Civil Aeronautics Administration reported yesterday with total operations of 258,972.

In airline and itinerant operations, Dallas had 24,689. Chicago led both categories as it has for many years, the CAA said.

Floods Causing Threat

By The Associated Press

The worst flood in years threatened areas in eastern and southern Texas today with nearly every major river near or above flood stage and more rain the immediate outlook.

Although precipitation tapered off a little during the night the Weather Bureau's five-day forecast called for heavy rainfall, adding to the downpours which have hit the state for nearly two weeks.

With lowlands flooded and thousands of persons forced from their homes, eight counties have been designated as disaster areas by the Small Business Administration. The worst flood threat appeared to be on the Sabine River, which runs along the eastern boundary with Louisiana.

The rain belt extended across most of Oklahoma and most of Kansas and eastward into nearby areas of Louisiana and Missouri. Heaviest rainfall in Texas during the night was in the northern sections. Thunderstorms hit the extreme southeast area.

Scattered showers brought moderate rainfall in parts of the Carolinas and southern Virginia and light rain fell in Alabama and western Florida.

Judge Signs Water Orde

EDINBURG (AP)—The judge of the Valley's complicated water suit said yesterday he had signed an order that water pumped from the lower Rio Grande during a period of emergency won't be charged against the diverter's water allotment.

Dist. Judge W. R. Blalock made the announcement yesterday while meeting with attorneys involved in the water suit to clarify some points.

Special water master K. M. Smith declared an emergency on the lower Rio Grande yesterday to keep water from wasting into the Gulf after rains swelled the lower river.

Under the old order, diverters would have been charged with 80 per cent of the water they pumped during an emergency.

New Hope For Palsy

House Considers Daniel Program

By GARTH JONES

AUSTIN (AP)- Just how far Gov. Price Daniel can go with his plans for reorganizing the Insurance Commission was in the hands of the House today.

The influential State Affairs Committee disregarded Daniel's oft-expressed wishes—plus considerable administration pressure—and slapped down last night a clean sweep reorganization of the board.

The crucial vote was 10-10, with Chairman W. S. Heatly causing the tie vote on a plan allowing Daniel to appoint three new commissioners to replace the present three-man board. Tie votes are losers in parliamentary procedure.

Sent to the House floor was a substitute bill carrying the number of a Senate-passed bill but otherwise resembling little that Daniel has asked.

It calls for a six-member board of commissioners, including the three present commissioners and three to be named by Daniel. All six would serve two years, then on Feb. 10, 1959 the commission automatically would drop to three members. The board would hire a salaried commissioner to insurance to actually administer board policy.

The committee action was a distinct defeat for administration forces but not necessarily an indication of how the reorganization plan would be received by the House as a whole.

Heatly and Rep. Obie Bristow, chairman of a subcommittee which bottled up two reorganization plans for almost six weeks, have consistently opposed Daniel's aims on the Insurance Commission.

"I believe a majority of the members of the House will vote as the Senate has already voted for a new three-member state board of insurance," Daniel said later.

"The committee has followed my recommendations except on the vital necessity of a complete new board of insurance. I do not favor the six-member proposal, which is obviously aimed at retaining the two-thirds of the present membership which was associated personally and politically with the past administration of this department.

"This would be sewing new cloth into an old garment," the governor said, apparently referring to commissioners John Osorio and Mark Wentz who were appointed by former Gov. Allan Shivers.

Rep. R. H. Cory, carrying the torch for Daniel in the committee, said he would try to amend the substitute bill when it comes up for debate on the House floor.

"We've given the governor most of the things he has asked for and we are not concerned with personalities," Bristow said. "This is a bunch of to do about nothing."

The substitute bill sets up strict eligibility rules for future commissioners. No one with any direct or indirect interest in an insurance company could be a board member. No member of the board could run for public office without resigning. No member of the board nor any employe of the board could accept gifts or money from anyone in the insurance business, with conviction carrying a penalty of one to five years in prison.

Telephones that "remember"... telephones powered by the sun... voiceways 2,000 fathoms underseas...

These are just a few of the amazing new developments you can look forward to in tomorrow's telephone world.

C. G. Tarbell

As told by C. G. Tarbell, Southwestern Bell chief engineer, to telephone news reporter Don Davis

Someday you'll hear the sweet tones of a clarinet when your telephone rings

Musical telephone tones are just one of the many new features of telephone service which may be made possible with electronic switching.

"Electronic switching is not just around the corner, but it is past the 'dream' stage," says C. G. Tarbell, chief engineer for the telephone company in Texas. "There's an experimental switching center like this under construction right now. And it may help make some of your dreams of tomorrow's telephone world come true."

LIKE THE HUMAN HEART

What's a switching center? Tarbell compares it to the human heart.

Miles and miles of telephone cables channel thousands of telephone calls into the heart—or switching center. Here the "switches" quickly route the calls along cable arteries to the called telephones.

The new all-electronic system will be much like an electric brain, too, because it's able to "remember" things, Tarbell says. "Suppose you went out of town. Its 'memory' could answer your phone and take any messages your callers wished to leave. You could get the playback just by calling in."

And with electronic switching there'd be no more wasting time trying to get "busy" numbers.

You would make only one call. If the line was busy, the "memory" would take over and keep trying. When the line was free it would call you back—while it was ringing the number you wanted.

MUSICAL TELEPHONE: This pretty miss is holding an experimental phone that sounds more like a clarinet than a ringing bell. Pleasant, easier-to-hear sound comes from musical-tone device built into phone's base.

Another "memory" service: Telephone numbers you call frequently, including out-of-town numbers, could be assigned simple codes such as "88" or "99." To place a call to one of them from your own telephone, all you'd have to do is dial the special code. The "memory" would do the rest of the dialing for you.

Because the new electronic center can switch calls so much faster than its present-day "mechanical" cousins, less equipment is needed, and the entire unit can be housed in a much smaller building. Maintenance may cost less, too.

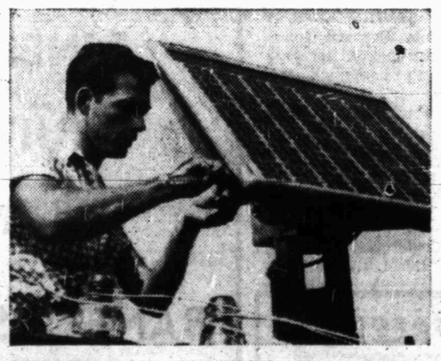

"Creative engineering like that really pays off in dollars and cents," Tarbell points out. "When the new system is ready for general use, the telephone user will win in two ways ... better service, at the lowest possible cost."

POWER FROM THE SUN

Like most people with scientific leanings, Tarbell is excited about the possibilities of still another telephone development—the Bell Solar Battery.

The device absorbs energy from the sun's rays and turns it into usable electricity.

"Man has been working on this idea for a long time," Tarbell says. "Now it's here. For us, the Solar Battery may be the key to more economical ways of giving service, especially in sparsely settled areas far from town.

Small silicon wafers in the Bell Solar Battery pluck energy from the sun. This energy may be used to bring telephone service to people far from town.

Although he enjoys talking about Solar Batteries and electronic switching, Tarbell is just as enthused about new developments which have already passed from the experimental stage into day-to-day use.

One example is Direct Distance Dialing. With this new service, customers in more and more cities are dialing their calls from coast to coast as easily as they dial across town.

Another engineering feat is the first transatlantic telephone cable linking the U. S. and Canada with the British Isles. Since the new cable was placed in service last year, calls to England have more than doubled. A product of 25 years of active research and planning, the submarine cable extends along the ocean floor 2,000 fathoms deep at some points.

PLANNING FOR PROGRESS

All of these developments, some experimental and some already in use, furnish a clear picture of the telephone world of tomorrow: Better service, more convenient service, at low cost.

As Chief Engineer Tarbell puts it, "The time, effort, and money we're investing in research and development now will more than pay its own way in years to come. Planning ahead like this guarantees you a future telephone service that's not only constantly improving but growing in value as well."

Roof Almost Fell In On Jobhunter From Youngsville

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP)—Eighteen-year-old Judith Gay of Youngsville came here to be interviewed for a state job—and the roof almost fell in on her.

As she hurried along a midtown street during a sudden thunderstorm, lightning hit a building and dislodged its cornice. A stone block weighing hundreds of pounds fell on the sidewalk near her.

Frightened, she ran back to the building where she had been interviewed. She was given aspirin and a sniff of ammonia before someone noticed that the shattered stone had scratched her big toe.

After medical aid, state employes found her a ride home, away from city hazards.

Texas Mental Health Code Is On Daniel's Desk For Signing

By FRANK MANITZAS

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Price Daniel today had the proposed Texas Mental Health Code in his hands for approval or disapproval.

The House yesterday voted to concur with the Senate's amendments, which clarified the code's reading. The bill (HB 6) is the enabling legislation for the constitutional amendment approved at the polls last November. It sets a standard to be followed in dealing with mental health cases and cures.

The Senate State Affairs Committee approved the House-passed slum clearance bill (HB 70) which would allow cities to use federal funds in redeveloping blighted areas.

But the same committee killed a bill (HB 93) which has been voiced as a necessity for Fort Worth to carry out its much publicized Gruen Plan.

The bill would allow cities to issue bonds for the construction of city-owned and operated garages. Fort Worth said it would need the bill in order to put the Gruen Plan into effect. The Gruen Plan would eliminate all downtown motor vehicles. The garages would be needed for storage.

Workmen's compensation took up 2 hours, 40 minutes of debate in the House before a strong voice vote sent the bill (HB 433) to the Senate. The bill by Rep. Wade Spilman of McAllen would increase the maximum $25 a week compensation to $30 a week. It also would provide for unlimited medical coverage.

The Senate has approved a similar measure, but increased the maximum wage to only $30. Efforts failed by Rep. H. J. (Doc) Blanchard of Lubbock to up the maximum to $40 a week and the minimum from $9 to $15 a week. Spilman's bill would not change the minimum.

Spilman estimated the bill as amended would cost industries about 16 to 20 million dollars more annually than it does not. He said the bill was a compromise between labor and management.

Rep. John Lee of Kermit attached an amendment which caused the greatest amount of debate. It would leave in the law use of the State Supreme Court's decision on the Holmes case. Spilman's version would reverse it.

"The representatives of management have always offered the moon if a bill was offered to take out the Holmes decision," Lee said.

The Holmes decision was that on a partial disbility, the percentage of the disability payment would be computed on the average weekly wage. Under Spilman's version, the percentage of disability payment would be computed on the average weekly wage or the maximum weekly payment (now $25) which ever is smallest.

Rep. Joe Ed Winfree of Houston called Spilman's version "a sugar-coated pill of cobra poison as big as a basketball."

Spilman said there were many inequities in workmen's compensation, but that the Holmes case decision affected a small number of the 225,000 cases handled by the Industrial Accident Board.

He said Texas has been among the top five states in the nation on cost to the employed in its compensation program. He said it offered more overall coverage than most other states' programs.

The House also sent to the Senate a bill which its author said would save 100 million dollars annually in accident costs. Passed on voice vote, the bill would set up safety standards to be followed by industries.

Rep. Charles Hughes of Sherman, the author, said similar mesures in other states have cut accidents more than 30 per cent.

"We estimated from reported accidents that his code will save more than 75,000 persons from injury next year," Hughes said. "It is expected to save 100 million dollars in accident costs."

The House also approved a bill which would allow the State Board of Insurance Commissioners to charge out-of-state companies the same fees and impose the same restrictions as are imposed by their home state on Texas companies doing business there.

The bill by Rep. Joe Pool of Dallas goes to the Senate.

Reds Sound Mid East Warning

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

Moscow has served notice that the chips are down for a grim political contest over the Middle East.

The Soviet Foreign Office statement on the situation in Jordan has a ring of desperation. Something was needed to counter the American show of strength, the dispatch of the U. S. 6th Fleet to the eastern Mediterranean. The Soviet Foreign Office statement is that something.

The statement indicates the Kremlin scents the possibility of a sharp setback in the Arab world, and that it has no intention of permitting an apparent victory for the United States to go unchallenged.

Thus the statement contains a threat that American policy in the area will make it a "permanent scene of provocation and military conflict." Moscow is ready to contribute to a permanent state of chaos there.

Moscow accuses the United States of being the main culprit in events of the past several weeks, in which young King Hussein heaved Communist and leftist elements out of places of power in Jordan.

If Hussein emerges the ultimate winner from the Jordan crisis, Egypt and Syria, upon which Moscow staked its Middle East fortunes, will have suffered a serious setback—and so will the Soviet Union. Thus the Russians warn they are ready to enter a sharp political contest to mend their fortunes. They warn, as usual, of "grave consequences."

The statement is a plain warning that the U.S.S.R. not only continues its interest in Jordan, but will take vigorous steps to recoup badly shaken position in the Arab world.

The Russians will not take unnecessary chances of provoking world war. The campaign will be patient. The goals are long range. If eventually Moscow can rise enough chaos, it can yet achieve its principal goal—seriously interfering with or shutting off the flow of all Middle East oil to Europe.

That might take a long time, but eventually it would make the Middle East Russia's playground and place Europe's economy at the mercy of the Kremlin.

The statement likely is intended to shore up the supporters of Soviet policy in Syria, Egypt and elsewhere in the Arab world. If it succeeds in its purpose, it will bring about more political eruptions.

Oil Industry Role In Mid East Shown

BILOXI, Miss. (AP) — Robert L. Wood of Midland, Tex., president of the Independent Petroleum Assn. of America, said yesterday the U.S. oil industry had the capacity and flexibility to step into the breach when the critical problem of supp. ing oil to Western Europe "became a factor in reserving peace in the world."

Wood spoke at a meeting where a committee said demand for crude oil and refined products would decline 473,000 barrels daily during the second half of 1957 compared with the first half.

The association's supply and demand committee told the midyear meeting the second half demand is expected to total 9,472,000 barrels daily, compared to 29,945,000 barrels in the first half. The committee said the decline would be caused by the expected discontinuance of the emergency export program in the second half of 1957.

However, the committee said revised estimates indicated the total 1957 demand would average 9,707,000 barrels a day, or 5.7 per cent more than the 1956 demand.

Rising costs to oil producers and inadequate revenues from production resulted in a drilling decline the first three months of this year, a committee reported.

IPAA's cost study committee said drilling activity from January through March this year declined by 671 well completions, or nearly 5 per cent below the first quarter of 1956.
