Methodists Change 3 County Pastors

Rev. J. H. Sharp New Methodist Pastor In City

Rev. J. H. Sharp is moving to Tahoka today from Dumas as the new pastor of the Methodist Church. He will be in the local pulpit for the first time Sunday morning.

Draw and Grassland also have new pastors moving in.

Rev. C. A. Holcomb, Jr., pastor here the past three years, moved to Quanah. Tahoka Methodists and other citizens have expressed regret that he and his family are leaving, but are glad to see him get an advancement. Quanah Church has about 800 members; the Tahoka Church about 600. The Holcombs moved Thursday.

Pastoral appointments were announced Sunday at the close of the 42nd annual Northwest Texas Conference which met in Abilene, with Bishop Wm. C. Martin reading the list.

The new Tahoka pastor is well known over this area as a fine man with an excellent record. He was with the Dumas Church two years. He has also served such pastorate at Muleshoe, Littlefield, Colorado City, and Amarillo. San Jacinto.

Rev. and Mrs. Sharp are said to have five children, all grown, one of whom is a daughter of college age. Two of their sons are Methodist pastors. One son, Rev. J. B. Sharp, is pastor at the St. Marks Church in Midland; and another, Velborn Sharp is pastor of the Whitharral-Pettit churches in Hockley county.

Rev. Neely Motes comes from O'Brien as the new pastor at Grassland, succeeding Rev. J. E. Peters, who goes to Jayton.

Rev. Silas Dixon, who has been at Lazbuddy, is the new Draw pastor. He succeeds Rev. J. W. Hawkins, who is moving to Tuscola. Rev. Hawkins had asked to be moved to that area, since he will retire in about four years and wants to fix up a home he owns in Clyde.

All other Lynn county pastors were returned. They are: Rev. William McReynolds, Wilson; Rev. H. A. Longino, O'Donnell; Rev. L. B. Taylor, New Home-Lakeview.

Rev. James Price, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Price of Tahoka, who grew up here, has just completed his work in the Perkins (Cont'd. On Back Page)

Church Prospers Under Holcomb

"We are sorry we didn't have time to get around to tell all our friends goodbye," Rev. C. A. Holcomb, Jr., has asked The News to state. "We have greatly enjoyed our stay in Tahoka, and deeply appreciate the kind treatment you have given us, and the many friends we have made."

Rev. Holcomb, on Sunday, was transferred to Quanah Methodist Church as pastor.

During his pastorate here, Tahoka Church has received a total of about 200 members, young people's work has been strengthened, and organization of the Methodist Men was completed.

The church building was completely remodeled at a cost of about $11,000, and much new equipment has been added to the plant, including air-conditioning and heating equipment.

Just recently, the Church voted to buy the new brick John Ford home for a parsonage. The old parsonage will be sold. New furnishings will possibly be bought for the new residence.

Sheriff's Posse In New Uniforms At Midland Rodeo

Lynn County Sheriff's Posse rode in the Midland Rodeo parade Wednesday, wearing for the first time their colorful new shirts and hats.

The new green shirts and new Panama straw hats arrived early this week. Heretofore, the Posse had been wearing substitute hats and shirts.

With their yellow and green chaps, the new green shirts, and white hats, the local Posse is one of the most colorful riding groups in West Texas.

Last week they added another beautiful trophy to the Posse collection for second place in the Post Stampede parade, first place having gone to Graham, one of the most famous posses in the nation.

Summer Band School Planned

A six weeks' summer band school for members of the Tahoka High School band will open next Monday, June 4, according to Wm. Tregoe, director.

Instruction will be given in sections for each instrument class. Each section will meet in two two-hour sessions weekly. On each Thursday night, the full band will have a practice session.

Mr. Tregoe says the band is losing only two students this spring by graduation. Though new students will be coming in to the organization gradually, he expects the playing group to remain at about 65.

Lt. Boyce Evans Visits In City

1st Lt. Boyce Evans, wife and two children arrived in Tahoka Sunday from Savannah, Georgia, where he has been stationed with the Army Air Force.

Lt. Evans left Lubbock by plane Sunday to return to Savannah, from which place he expects to fly to Europe for duty.

Mrs. Evans and children will remain here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Hargett, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Evans.

Social Security Man Is Coming

Gerald Schantz, Field Representative from the Lubbock Social Security Office will be at the Post Office in Tahoka at 4:30 p. m. on Tuesday, June 5th to assist persons who wish to file claims for survivors or retirement benefits and to assist in furnishing information about the new Social Security law.

Van Brookshire, who is in the Navy and stationed at Memphis, Tenn., was home over the week end to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Brookshire, at Grassland. He will complete a 28-week training course on July 1 from the Naval Air Technicians' School at Memphis.

Congratulations:

Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Crawford on the birth of a son weighing 8 pounds and 1/4 ounce in a Brownfield hospital on Thursday, May 24. They have named the young fellow Michael Loyd. Mrs. Crawford is the former Miss Barbara Wells.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Fillingim of Route 4, Tahoka, on the birth of a son weighing 6 pounds 3 1/2 ounces, at 2:02 a. m. Wednesday, May 30, in Tahoka Hospital.

Go to Church Sunday!

Frank Bryan Owns Watch Once Property of Stephen F. Austin

Frank Bryan of Tahoka is possessor of a historic watch, once owned by his ancestors, Moses Austin and Stephen F. Austin.

Moses Austin, original owner of the watch, came to Texas as from his Missouri home in 1820 and gained permission of Mexico to establish a colony in this land. He became ill from hardships of the trip to Texas, and went to the home of his daughter, Mrs. Mary Bryan, where he died of pneumonia.

Stephen Fuller Austin, son of Moses, in 1821 took over his father's colonization project. He brought many colonists here, was active in formation of the Republic of Texas, as, and became known as the Father of Texas.

On the death of Stephen F. Austin on Dec. 27, 1836, the watch went to the eldest son of his sister, Mary Bryan. The great early-day Texan had never married and therefore had no children of his own.

Since that time, the watch has been handed down through the succeeding generations to the oldest living son of the Bryan family.

The watch has been displayed to children in several schools of Texas by the Bryan families who have had it, and it has been handled by hundreds of school children.

The old timepiece has been displayed several times at the State Fair of Texas and was on exhibit at the Texas Centennial in Dallas in 1936.

Incidentally, the late Ira J. Bryan, father of Frank, had in his possession a block of wood taken from the large oak tree which stood above the grave of Stephen F. Austin at Peach Point.

When Austin's remains were removed to the State Cemetery, a relative bought the tree, had it cut down and sawed into small blocks 3 by 6 by 1 1/4 inches, highly polished and inscribed as to its origin. Each relative living at that time was given one of these blocks.

New Head Officers For Local Legion, Auxiliary

Sudden death last week of Calvin Edwards, commander of Marion G. Bradley Post 250, American Legion, and Mrs. Calvin Edwards, president of the local Legion Auxiliary, was cause for advancement of officials in the two organizations.

C. W. Conway automatically became commander of the Legion post, and Charles Townes becomes first vice commander. Other officers of the Post are: Floyd Tubb, adjutant; Jess Gurley, custodian; and Charles Stewart, historian.

In the Auxiliary, Mrs. Jess Gurley is the new president. Other officers of the body are: Mrs. H. L. Roddy, first vice president; Mrs. R. L. Richardson, second vice president; Mrs. Perry Walker, secretary; Mrs. Clint Walker, treasurer; Mrs. F. W. Chapman, sergeant at arms; Mrs. Eldon Carroll, historian; and Mrs. Odell King, chaplain.

These officials will hold office until the close of the current Legion year on October 20.

New officials for the coming year will be elected during the second week in August.

Ross Smith Kills Rattler In Town

While cleaning up his garage last Saturday, Ross Smith discovered a rattlesnake coiled up on a sack on the garage floor. Ross wasn't long in putting the 18-inch reptile out of business.

Mr. Smith lives out in the Roberts Addition at the edge of town, and he hopes the snake was just a stray from the T-Bar pasture. However, he is keeping his eyes open for any more that may be around.

Mmes. Applewhite and Stewart Attend Houston, Mexico Meets

Mrs. J. K. Applewhite, Sr., and Mrs. G. M. Stewart returned Monday from a trip to Houston, where they were delegates from the Phebe K. Warner Club to the General Federation of Women's Clubs, and to Mexico, where they saw the sights of that interesting land.

The Federated Clubs meeting was an international convention and included delegates from many foreign countries. Meetings were in the Shamrock Hotel.

Theme of the convention was "A New Birth of Freedom," and some of the outstanding speakers were General Taylor, Governor Caldwell of Florida, Nelson Rockefeller, Kathleen Norris, Dr. Kenneth McFarland of Topeka, Kansas, Mrs. Henry Roe Cloud, the American Mother for 1950, and Perle Mesta.

Highlights in entertainment included the Melody Maids of Beaumont, the Singing Cadets of A. & M., movie stars, and the Texas Christian University Opera Group.

A most impressive and colorful sight was the Pan American Revue. Twenty-one delegates paraded around the beautiful pool of the Shamrock. Some of these were young girls who are living in American homes—as foster daughters of club women. During the parade, Mexican children from San Antonio danced their native dances; and Miss Carol Finesilver, a lyric soprano sang the native songs.

The many club women were urged to promote good will among all nations, to build world peace, to build freedom for youth, and to be informed on both national and local affairs. There are 15,000 Federated clubs and five and a half million members in America.

At San Antonio, Mrs. Applewhite and Mrs. Stewart joined a group of 52 members of the Ladies Arriental Shrine of North America and went by train to Mexico City.

From there, they made trips to Taxco, location of the silver mines; Puebla; Cuernavaca, the resort of Cortez; Xochimilco and the floating gardens; Cholula, where there are 365 Catholic churches; the towering Pyramids of the Sun and the Moon at San Juan Teotihuacan; and the castle of Maximilian and Carlotta.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Nordyke left Wednesday morning to visit their son-in-law and daughter, Rev. and Mrs. Charles Kennedy, at the Baptist Seminary in Fort Worth.

Driver of Death Car Faces Charge Here

Reese Is Named As Deputy Sheriff For O'Donnell

W. D. (Blackie) Reese is the new deputy sheriff at O'Donnell, according to Sheriff R. W. "Slick" Clem. He succeeds Cleve Bairington, who resigned the position last week.

Mr. Reese has lived in O'Donnell for some time, and has been associated with the Lone Star Grain company of that city.

Mr. Bairington has resigned as deputy to accept a position as manager of the Wells Co-op Gin.

Sheriff Clem commended Bairington for the excellent job he has done as his deputy at O'Donnell, and expressed regret in losing him. He feels Mr. Reese will make an excellent officer.

Maurice Cowan Killed Instantly

Maurice F. Cowan, 36, who was reared near Tahoka, was electrocuted at 3:10 p. m. Thursday of last week as he and a friend attempted to close a 7,200 volt switch on Cowan's farm near New Deal, Lubbock county.

Funeral services were held at Asbury Methodist Church in Lubbock at 3 p. m. Saturday with Dr. C. A. Bickley, pastor, and Rev. J. W. Watson, retired Methodist minister, officiating. Burial followed in Tech memorial cemetery.

A. A. Cox, 39, who rents the Cowan farm, was burned in the same accident and required hospital attention, but will recover. Cowan and Cox were standing on the hood of a tractor attempting to close a switch atop a REA pole with a long half-inch pipe with a hook on the end when the accident occurred. Cowan was grasping the pipe ahead of Cox, the latter told the Lubbock Avalanche.

They were attempting to turn on power to operate a grain loader. Both were knocked to the ground. Cox crawled to the tractor, and drove it a quarter mile to a pickup which he then crawled in and drove nearly three miles to New Deal for help.

Ambulance attendants gave artificial respiration while en route to Lubbock with Maurice, but this was in vain. The shock had possibly killed him instantly.

Maurice Cowan was born in Lynn county, and lived southeast of town with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Cowan, until the family moved to Lubbock about 18

Wendell Moore Gets New Honor

Wendell Moore, valedictorian of the Tahoka graduating class, has been given the Annual Award of The Readers' Digest Association for students who by their successful school work give promise of attaining leadership in the community. It was announced this week by Principal J. E. Foust.

Wendell will receive an honorary subscription to The Readers Digest for one year and an engraved certificate from the editors "in recognition of past accomplishment and in anticipation of unusual achievement to come."

Leslie and Donald Paris, brothers, ran down to Waco last Friday to spend the week-end with their grandmother, Mrs. L. R. Paris, who is seriously sick. They were back home Monday. Donald works in The News office.

NEGRO IS FINED

A Tahoka Negro man was assessed a fine of $50.00 and costs in county court Monday morning on charges of aggravated assault. The man pled guilty to "beating up his wife."

Maxey Alleged Carrying Liquor Through County

Charges of transporting whiskey and beer in a dry area were filed in County Court here last Friday against Roy Monroe Maxey, 37, of Ropesville.

Maxey is the alleged driver of the Lincoln car, loaded with liquor, which figured in the wreck Monday night of last week at West Point resulting in the death of five people.

Investigation of the case is being continued by local officers.

Maxey is still in a Lubbock hospital, but will recover from injuries sustained in the wreck. The wreck occurred when the Lincoln car drove onto the highway from a side road in front of the Calvin Edwards car.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Edwards and Mrs. Edwards' mother, Mrs. D. T. Rogers, all of Tahoka, and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel E. Riley of Sand, near Lamesa, were killed in the wreck. The two Edwards children, Calva Ann, nearly four, and Elva Jo, nearly two, were released from the hospital last week end, and will make their home here with Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Edwards, parents of Calvin.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Edwards and Robert Edwards, Calvin's brother, are moving here from Brownfield and Denver City, respectively, to operate the Edwards and Rogers farms. All formerly lived at Three Lakes.

Monday of this week, friends of the families sent eight or nine tractors to the Rogers farm southeast of town to plant crops. About 350 acres of cotton were planted by tractors furnished by Sam Price, W. T. Kidwell, Buel Draper (two), D. R. Adamson, Tommy Lishman, and two or three more, the names of whom The News did not secure.

New Team In Junior League

The Junior Baseball League leaders, Wayside, defeated Wilson by a 13 to 8 score Sunday afternoon at Wilson.

James Foster went all the way on the mound for Wayside for his first win of the season. Thomas Mason was the losing pitcher. Wayside had only seven men on the field.

Thursday night at 8 o'clock, representatives of all teams were called for a meeting by Coach Jake Jacobs to make rules and work out the remaining schedule.

Tahoka South Side, managed by Ernest Drager, has withdrawn from the League. A Southland team, managed by a Mr. Norman, is taking South Side's place.

Next Sunday at 2:30 p. m., Wilson will meet Tahoka North Side at the Wilson park. Doug McNeely will likely hurl for Tahoka, and Thomas Mason for Wilson. Also, there will probably be a game between the newly organized Southland team and Wayside at the local field. James Foster will pitch for Wayside. Southland's hurler is not known here.

The League had gotten off to a shaky start, and it seemed it might fall apart when first New Home and later South Side withdrew. But Wilson and Southland have entered, and play will continue. It was hoped rules and other difficulties could be settled Thursday night.

Mrs. G. W. Williams of Tahoka, a recent patient in the Tahoka Hospital, re-entered the institution Wednesday morning.

Mrs. F. R. Gass entered the Tahoka Hospital Wednesday as a patient.

LEANING OVER BACKWARD

Many Lynn county folks have been expressing amazement that nothing was said in any of the daily papers at any time last week to indicate that the Lincoln car which figured in the terrific and tragical crash at West Point on Monday night was loaded with liquor, although a pick-up and two passenger cars were used in hauling the approximately 150 bottles of whiskey and gin and fifteen or twenty cases of beer, minus quite a number of bottles destroyed by the crash, from the scene of the wreck into Tahoka. Besides, the wrecked Lincoln, its floor soaked with whiskey and covered with broken glass, was viewed by hundreds of people.

While officers were perhaps a little hesitant to talk much about the tragedy before completing a thorough investigation, yet they surely did not suppress any information that was obviously available to any newspaper representative or other citizen who might wish to take a look.

"WE LEAD, OTHERS TRY TO FOLLOW"

sion and possible implications in that publication argued. The excerpt follows:

"Here is a MASTERFUL account of the gruesome affair—a veritable tear-jerker. This bootlegger was just going along in a peaceful frame of mind—just going home—from where?"

"Edwards, ROGERS, representative of the finest people ever to live in what used to be the finest county in Texas—innocent children maimed. Has ANYBODY heard on the radio, or read a word about the nefarious load of whiskey? In such cases, to whom do the big papers phone for information? What sort of 'special' writers are dispatched to the scene?"

Here we skip a paragraph praising the editor of this paper for previous editorials he had written advocating enforcement of our liquor laws, and then pick up another paragraph from the writer of the letter:

"All evil is afraid of the good church women. Maybe the latter will take up here and begin to demand why no mention of booze in this case has been mentioned. A conscientious Christian news man, County judge, county attorney, coupled with the church can put to flight the hordes of drunken maniacs. Bootleggers are GENTLEMEN compared to their PROTECTORS, who may have had confidence of many good folks to begin with."

We should like to call to the attention of our publisher friends that the omission of pertinent facts under some circumstances may be just as objectionable, culpable, injurious, and offensive as the publication of erroneous and injurious statements.

It seems to us that there is no further point to continuing the investigation of the MacArthur dismissal. The Republicans themselves seem to have abandoned the attempt to prove that MacArthur's plan for prosecuting the war was better than the Truman-Acheson-Marshall-Bradley-Collins, et al, plan. They are only attempting to show that Truman went about firing MacArthur in the wrong way. Personally, we have believed this from the start and said so, although we think he had the legal and moral right to do so. We think that he could have been more diplomatic about the matter. If MacArthur did not specifically disobey orders—and we believe he did, though he denies it—yet he was entirely out of sympathy with the Truman plan and openly criticized it. He felt that he knew more about how to conduct the Korean War than did the entire chief of staff and accordingly he was not taking into consideration the possibility of drawing Russia fully and openly into the fight which the promiscuous and unrestrained bombing of Manchuria probably would have done. Furthermore, in addition to the mistakes MacArthur made last fall and winter, recent developments have shown that he was wrong in insisting this spring that we could not win

ODDS AND ENDS

(By E. I. The Elder)

Recently this wandering scribbler decided that some time soon he would give a little publicity to some of the unnoticed beauty spots that lie within the confines of our own county. Having decided that our brave efforts to bring the Trumanites and the MacArthurites together on the matter as to how the war should be conducted were not proving to be highly successful, we thought this would be a good time to talk about the scenery along the caprock and to tell about the head of the Brazos River out there at Grassland—well, near Grassland.

So, on Friday two weeks ago, I invited that reputable citizen, D. C. Davis to accept a seat in my car for a ride out to the oldest town in Lynn county. Davis didn't much want to be caught out with me, but I promised to avoid the main highways as much as possible and thus protect him to some extent against the unfavorable publicity which he feared.

Having been raised down at Hogtown, Dave said that he had once gone in swimming in the upper reaches of the Leon River and had heard of the Brazos but he had never seen the head of the thing and didn't know whether it had a head or not. So, I told him I would show him. I had been out there twice some 12 or 15 years ago and with my own eyes I had seen its head stuck away out there in a deep gorge.

At least that is where one of its heads may be found. The Brazos, you know, has several forks, or arms, and each arm has a head. It is the head of the Double Mountain Fork that may be found out there near Grassland; that is, unless Lubbock has stolen the Double Mountain Fork from us. When the State Highway Department built that bridge across that broad sand-bottomed stream that flows down by Justiceburg, it labeled the thing as the Double Mountain Fork of the Brazos River, and we thought our title to it was secure.

But a couple of weeks ago when that little ravine that comes down through Mackenzie State Park got on a temporary rampage and gave the grass a good soaking, the Avalanche undertook to give the low-down on the two gullies that form the ravine. One of them, called the Yellowhouse, heads up in Hockley county, the Avalanche said, and the other, the Double Mountain Fork, heads up in Lamb county. We had noticed that some of the recent map-makers had moved the Double Mountain Fork up to Lubbock, possibly upon the suggestion of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, but it didn't dawn on us then that Lubbock was trying to hog the stream. We give A. B. Davis and Charley Guy notice right now that they are going to have a fight on their hands if and when they undertake to move our river up to Lubbock. By the way, my friend Dave Davis doesn't claim to be any a-kin to A. B.

Well, when Dave and I got out to Grassland that day, we got specific directions as to how to get out to the Double Mountain Spring and then went the other way. But we got there just the same. It doesn't make much difference which way you go. From Grassland you go south one mile to the cemetery and thence east one mile to a little house in one corner of the R. M. Thomas place.

Or, you go one mile east from Grassland and thence one mile south to said Thomas place. Better get permission from Mr. Thomas, however, to enter the premises, for he doesn't allow the war in Korea without throwing our full military strength into the fighting and without bombing Manchuria. We have been getting along far better in winning that fight since MacArthur came home than we had been before. And since Senator Taft, for political reasons and in order to save his face, claimed a couple of weeks ago that we were winning because Truman had reversed his policy—which was not true,—it would appear that he is satisfied with the policy now being pursued and hence a change in policy is no longer needed. So we think that Taft, Wherry, McCarty, et al, should call off their dogs and join in with our military forces to win the European and Middle Eastern end of the conflict if Russia should instigate the beginning of war in Europe or in Iran. We will need our full strength there if Russia should come crashing into the conflict one of these days with all her might.

any shooting in the farm or pasture on account of livestock. It is less than a half mile from that house down to an artificial lake in the canyon. The scenery at that point is neither grand nor attractive. But not far below the dam you will encounter a spring, the water trickling out from under the over hanging rocks and forming quite a pool. But that pool was covered with old green moss and didn't look to be sanitary. Just a tiny stream of water trickles out of that pool and has been doing so since the memory of man runneth not to the contrary. Old timers at Grassland and the McCords who formerly lived at Grassland told us that the little stream never failed in the driest years this country has ever experienced, the years of 1917 and 1918.

Just a little further down the gorge and coming out from under another rocky ledge, is another spring, just tiny trickles of water, but they fill a basin several feet in circumference and several feet deep, and a little stream of water winds its way down to the bed of the draw, or shallow canyon, to join the other little stream. As one goes on down the canyon, one encounters numerous seepy places, where the water is slowly making its way through sand or gravel to join the still small stream in the bed, and he will find several other springs forming deep pools of water, in which he may see small fishes feeding and into whose waters some bull-frog will leap as a person approaches.

In the meantime, the pedestrian will have encountered several waterfalls, ranging in height from three or four feet to nine or ten feet, over which the still small but growing stream of water leaps or tumbles straight down. The depth and the width of the canyon increases rapidly as one goes on down stream, and as one must cross boggy sands, leap across numerous little side streams, climb steep banks of loose rock and brushy, knotty knolls here and there, he soon becomes leg weary and ready to call it quits. I almost walked the socks off of Dave Davis out there that day (Continued) but I will admit that I was plenty tired when we got back to the car. I certainly hated to turn back, though, without having explored the canyon much further down. I could see much water further on, and if I had had my airplane down there I certainly would have followed that stream down to the last jumping-off place.

By the way, the drifts of trash showed that the canyon carries quite a volume of water when heavy rains come, and we can imagine that the splash and the glamor and the roar of those water-falls are something to write home about when a real gully-washer comes.

And so that is the head of the Double Mountain Fork of the Brazos River, folks. It is probably not a foot more than two miles as the crow flies from Grassland southeast to that moss-covered spring. The entire portion of the canyon which we explored lies well within Lynn county, but we doubt if one-tenth of the people of Lynn county know that such a place exists. If it could be made into a state park, what a park it would be! Or could be! With all those springs cleaned out and kept clean, with a good highway built down into and through the canyon, with well-built trails laid out and maintained, and with such other improvements, cabins, and public meeting places provided as might be practicable, we feel sure that virtually all of the people of Lynn county and many other counties of the Plains and sub-caprock sections of Texas would soon make it one of the favorite recreation points in all West Texas. Especially, if the park could be extended on through the Slaughter Ranch, by the old Jay Slaughter home place and up to the edge of the plains again somewhere southeast of Graham community.

Dave Davis and I did not go on to the Slaughter Ranch that day but Ben Moore of O'Donnell and I did make the round on the following Monday. We visited other places first but they are going to have to wait until I can tell about this scenery in Lynn county.

First, a word about Ben Moore. He is a pioneer of Lynn county, but that is not the most interesting thing about him by any means. He is an incurable traveler, ready to go anywhere at the drop of a hat. He has explored more places than any other man in Lynn County. He is not only a traveler and an explorer, he is a naturalist, an archeologist, a geologist, a zoologist, an ornithologist, a botanist, and in fact you can't hardly name anything that he ain't. Just the other day a Tech professor of archeology or something and his class came down to O'Donnell, tied on to Ben Moore, and he took them down into Tobacco Draw in Dawson county, where the Professor and his class proceeded to examine the rocks, unearth bones, and dig up a lot of scientific dope, and the Professor a few days later wrote Ben a note thanking him profusely for the wonderful help he had been to them. Yes, and Ben can tell you all about the Indians too, but all that must come in another story. I wanted Ben to go with me on a little trip, and he readily consented to do so, but I am going to tell about the Lynn county end of the trip first, for that connects up with the head of the Double Mountain Fork and the Slaughter Ranch headquarters, and the rest of the story will have to wait another week.

As much as Ben Moore had traveled and as many places as he had explored, even he had never seen the head of the Double Mountain Fork. So, that was the last spot we visited on our rounds that Monday. Ben was surprised and thrilled at what he saw, at the possibilities of the place as much as the present realities. Well, we started at the head of the thing and walked down—walked, walked, walked until he had just about walked me down. Again we had to turn back and go before we had explored half as much of the canyon as we wanted to explore. Ben will probably go back for another visit some day.

But Ben had visited the Slaughter Ranch headquarters before, and he insisted that we visit it again, and that is where I got my big thrill on that day's meanderings. Honestly I saw scenery that I never expected to see in Texas outside of the Palo Duro Canyon, the Big Bend Park, and the Davis Mountain region. Many Lynn county people doubtless have visited—some of them many times—that really scenic area. It's worth going to see often.

And who would suspect that there are elk in Garza county, for the Slaughter Ranch home place is in Garza?

Well, there are. Mr. Lott, the manager out there, threw a few bundles of maize over into their pasture and they came in a hurry to get it, not at all afraid of the strangers who had unexpectedly showed up on the ranch. Those animals ranged from a big elk bull to a yearling calf, if that is the right name for a baby elk. The elk is not noted for his beauty, but he is a distinct novelty in the fauna of this area. We were told that they had 40 or 50 deer in that pasture also, but I didn't understand whether they have any there at this time or not. We didn't see any.

I am going to take you with Ben and myself next week on the first lap of our journey last Monday, which took us into Dawson, Borden, and Scurry counties. Both of us took some pictures on this trip, but I do not know yet whether they were a success or not. Any way to me, it was a very revealing and interesting swing around the circle. And I saw and heard some things that I bet most of you never saw nor ever heard about.

In fact, the way people travel now, they never see anything by the side of the road. They might even face a gorgeous sun-set and never see it. Some folks go through the Carlsbad Cavern without seeing it. They are thinking all the time about the big white face bulls, the million dollar rain they have just had, or maybe the shelves of dry goods and breeches that remain in their stores un-sold. Some folks never see the beauty all about them. Ben Moore saw a lot of Tahoka daisies in the valleys and on the hillsides of Dawson, Borden, Garza, and Lynn counties, the other day, and he declared they were among the prettiest wild flowers he ever saw. And Ben is a florist too. Will see you again, folks. Goodnight.

O. B. McElroy of Lubbock, formerly of Tahoka, was here Monday on business.

"Loads near 7 tons ... 3 1/4¢ a mile!"

Honor Miss Smith At Bridal Shower

Miss Jeannine Smith, bride-elect, was honored with a coffee and bridal shower Tuesday morning in the home of Mrs. Lenore M. Tunnell, with Mrs. Tunnell, Mrs. Charles Stewart, and Miss Savannah Tunnell serving as hostesses.

About 125 called during the morning, and others sent gifts. Miss Smith will be married to Geno Jones Sunday morning at 9:00 in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. (Happy) Smith.

Mrs. J. A. South underwent surgery in a Lubbock hospital early this week.

A chorine complained that the draft is taking so many of her boy friends, she's willing to play post office with second-class males.

John T. VanMeter of this city is a patient in Tahoka Hospital.

"I got the story on 50,000 Miles-No Wear and changed to New Conoco Super Motor Oil"

says Marshall Rousseau
Police Sergeant
Hurlington, Texas

"Driving at all kinds of speeds, I've piled up 30,000 miles. I've used Conoco Super in my personal cars, and have had absolutely no engine trouble of any kind."

TRAVELING SALESMAN

"55,000 hard, fast miles have been put on my Pontiac, with new Conoco Super," says David Brown, Salesman, Salt Lake City. "That car is still like new—excellent gasoline mileage, oil consumption slight, and no engine repairs."

PIKE'S PEAK TOURS

"Our car makes 2 or 3 trips to the top of Pike's Peak every day during the summer," reports R. P. Finney, Sight-Seeing Service, Colorado Springs. "We use Conoco Super and never have to add oil between 1,000-mile drains."

"50,000 Miles-No Wear!" Proved Here:

After a punishing 50,000-mile road test, with proper drains and regular care, engines lubricated with new Conoco Super Motor Oil showed no wear of any consequence: in fact, an average of less than one one-thousandth inch on cylinders and crankshafts. AND gasoline mileage for the last 5,000 miles was actually 99.77% as good as for the first 5,000!

CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Yandell and daughter visited last week end with Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Parris and son of Hereford, the occasion being the Parris' ninth wedding anniversary. Mrs. Parris and Mrs. Yandell, sisters, are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Parker of Wayside.

Mrs. Pearl Elam of Tulsa, Okla., has been visiting for several days here with her sister, Mrs. C. E. Woodworth. Tuesday, Mmes. Elam, Woodworth, and Ira Carter left for Central Texas, where Mmes. Elam and Woodworth are visiting another sister at Hillsboro, and Mrs. Carter is visiting her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Carter and baby, at West.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Edler of Crosbyton, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Cawthron of Tahoka.

The bride wore a white linen suit with navy accessories. Mariam Hargrove, sister of the bride, attended the bride as matron of honor, and wore a pink suit with white accessories.

Bob Chezem served as best man, and Forrest Hargrove as usher.

After a short wedding trip in parts of New Mexico, the couple will be at home in Lubbock, where the groom is employed for Golden Light Coffee Co., and the bride is employed in the office of Western Cotton Oil Co.

Mrs. Cawthron is a graduate of Crosbyton High School and attended Draughon Business College, and Mr. Cawthron is a graduate of Tahoka High School.

TWO BUCYS GRADUATE

Mrs. Fred Bucy and daughter, Mrs. Robert Baumgardner, of Brownfield, were in Tahoka Tuesday visiting old friends.

She recently competed in the area music contests held at West Texas State College in Canyon, and out of 65 students entered in voice Ethelene won the second highest rating. She will enter Texas Tech next fall.

HOW FREEDOM RINGS

America's 42 million telephones present overpowering evidence of our freedom of speech. Here, too, is stirring evidence of what private enterprise, dedicated to public service can do.

History has shown that no other system can meet its challenge while sacrificing human liberty. Surely, then, freedom and free enterprise go hand in hand.

Baptists Start Summer School

Attendance at the Vacation Bible School at the Baptist Church, which opened Monday morning, had reached a high of 184 Wednesday. Adult workers numbered 45.

The school will continue through Thursday of next week with closing exercises Thursday night, at which time the general public is invited to come and inspect the work done by the children.

This is believed to be the best and most largely attended V. B. S. ever held in this church.

Mrs. L. E. Linder underwent surgery in the Tahoka Hospital Tuesday evening. She is reported to be doing well.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Miles left early this week for Fort Worth and Dallas with their infant baby. They were informed by physicians one day last week that the baby has a serious heart ailment. Mr. Miles is a teacher in the local high school.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Haney have been in Austin several days this week visiting their daughter, Miss Frances Marion, who returned home with them to visit a few days before returning to Austin for summer school at the University of Texas.

Methodists Open School Monday

The annual Methodist Vacation Bible School will open at the local church next Monday, June 4, with sessions each week-day from 9:00 to 11:00 a. m., according to Mrs. C. Skiles Thomas, the director this year.

A two-weeks school is being held this year, and an effort will be made to make this the best the local Methodist Church has ever conducted.

All children of the community will find a cordial welcome at any and all sessions.
