

Fire Totally Destroys Rosalie Grocery Store

Fire totally destroyed the Rosalie Grocery Store Friday, April 25, with the cause attributed to faulty wiring in the ceiling of the structure. The fire was called in between 6:00 and 6:30 p.m. and the Bogata Volunteer Fire-Department responded with both trucks.

The fire was controlled until the larger truck, unit number one, ran out of water and had to return to Bogata. The smaller truck could not produce enough pressure for firemen to reach the fire with the stream of water. Volunteers kept watch on the burning structure until the danger of spreading was over.

The owners of the store's merchandise and fixtures, Mr. and Mrs. Dale House, had enough insurance to cover the merchandise, but not the fixtures and the butcher department saws and equipment, according to Mrs. House. Mrs. Ollie Gibson, owner of the building, said that her insurance would cover only part of the loss.

The cash box, cash register and accounts receivable were removed from the store by the fire department and the owner, Dale House, and were not damaged.

Mr. and Mrs. House and Mrs. Gibson had not made a decision by Monday on whether or not to rebuild the grocery store.

After the larger truck ran out of water and the fire could no longer be contained, observers kept a safe distance to avoid injury from the explosion of ammunition, the gas pumps and a butane tank that supplies the store. There were no injuries to firemen or observers.

Two Suspended For Marijuana Possession

Two Rivercrest High School students were suspended from school for the remainder of the school year in a special hearing by the Talco-Bogata School Board Tuesday night for possession of marijuana on school property. One of the students is a juvenile and the other is an adult.

Arrest papers on the juvenile, who was already on probation for possession of marijuana, have been filed by Red River County juvenile officer Gary Clayton. No action had been taken by Red River County Sheriff's officers against the adult by Tuesday night.

All members of the school board were present for the special meeting, and the board was represented by Austin Guest, an attorney from Clarksville, Texas.

C. R. Williams, president of the school board, said that the action was "not a pleasant thing, but the board must go according to policy." Williams expressed a feeling of the board that encouraged the senior student to get his

Police Report

Deputy sheriff Jon Latimer arrested and released two juveniles in the custody of their grandparents Sunday afternoon in Bogata. The juveniles were observed entering a shed in the rear of the abandoned Arco service station in Bogata at the corner of Main Street and Highway 271. Investigation by Latimer revealed that one of the brothers had in his possession a small cellophane wrapped package of marijuana seeds. The boy broke and ran when Latimer asked him to remove his boots.

Both boys appeared before the Red River County juvenile officer Monday morning and were released in the custody of their mother.

Raviah Howison of Bogata was placed in the Red River County Hospital for observation following a pickup-pedestrian accident in Bogata Saturday. Mrs. Howison was crossing Main Street at Highway 271 when she was struck by a pickup truck driven by Edna Mitchell. Mrs. Mitchell said she was stopped and waiting for traffic to get by before entering the highway, and traveled about six inches before hitting Mrs. Howison. There was no damage to the truck.

In other activity, Latimer arrested one man for public drunk April 23, confiscated beer from a juvenile and released the juvenile to his parents on April 25 and issued one traffic ticket. April 28, one white male was arrested for public drunk and one black male was arrested on a warrant from Franklin County. Tuesday morning, Latimer investigated the vandalism of Bill Long's Used Car Lot operated by Gus Swaim. Eight tires were slashed in the incident.

Pleas Turner Is President Of Red River Haven

Pleas Turner was re-elected president of the Red River Nursing Home Corporation at the monthly director's meeting at the home April 24, 1975. Other officers elected were Dr. E. E. Brooks, vice president; Bobbie Cawley, secretary-treasurer; Bill Buckman, pharmacy consultant; Dr. Jack Troutt, dental consultant; and Virginia Kirkland, assistant secretary-treasurer.

The board policy concerning drugs was adopted March 6, 1973, and states, "Any Student known to have a dangerous drug or narcotic drug in his possession, or known to be under the influence thereof, while in school or while participating in a school-sponsored function, after due notice to the violator and after a hearing before the board of trustees and if found guilty, the student shall be expelled for the balance of the current

Latimer's Salary Increased By County

The Red River County Commissioner's Court made provisions Monday to provide a full time salary for a deputy to be designated by Red River County Sheriff Mac McGuire. McGuire designated Jon Latimer. The salary was set at $4700 a year.

According to a statement in a letter from Gavin Watson, Red River County Judge, "The (Commissioner) Court's only function is to set a deputy's salary, usually on recommendation of the official, and then the elected official places anyone in the position he desires. That is, any setting of salary would be simply for a Deputy Sheriff and would not under any circumstances suggest to whom it would be paid."

According to observers, the vote by the commissioners was unanimously in favor of the setting of the salary, with the abstention of the commissioner from the Bagwell area.

April 25, 1975
Mr. Robert W. Wright
Deport, Texas 75435
Dear Mr. Wright,
I would like to express my appreciation for the clarification of the child care law concerning a Commercial Boarding Home in the April 17, 1975, issue of your Newspaper.

Our child care laws have been written because many thousands of Texas children are being cared for outside of their own homes and parents, caregivers, government and other concerned citizens are vitally interested in seeing that these children are assured of basic protection.

Another primary objective of Licensed Child Care is to provide a service for families. This objective negates the idea that these programs replace the rights and responsibilities that are inherently those of the parent. The Welfare Department does not force a parent to place their child in a home chosen by the state. We are trying to administer the child care laws that state that persons offering child care to unrelated children should be licensed.

I would like to urge any person who is interested in offering Child Care to contact your local Licensing Representative, Mr. Dave Wright, either by writing to P. O. Box 839, Paris, Texas, or by calling 785-5557 in Paris, so that he can answer any questions you might have about obtaining a license.

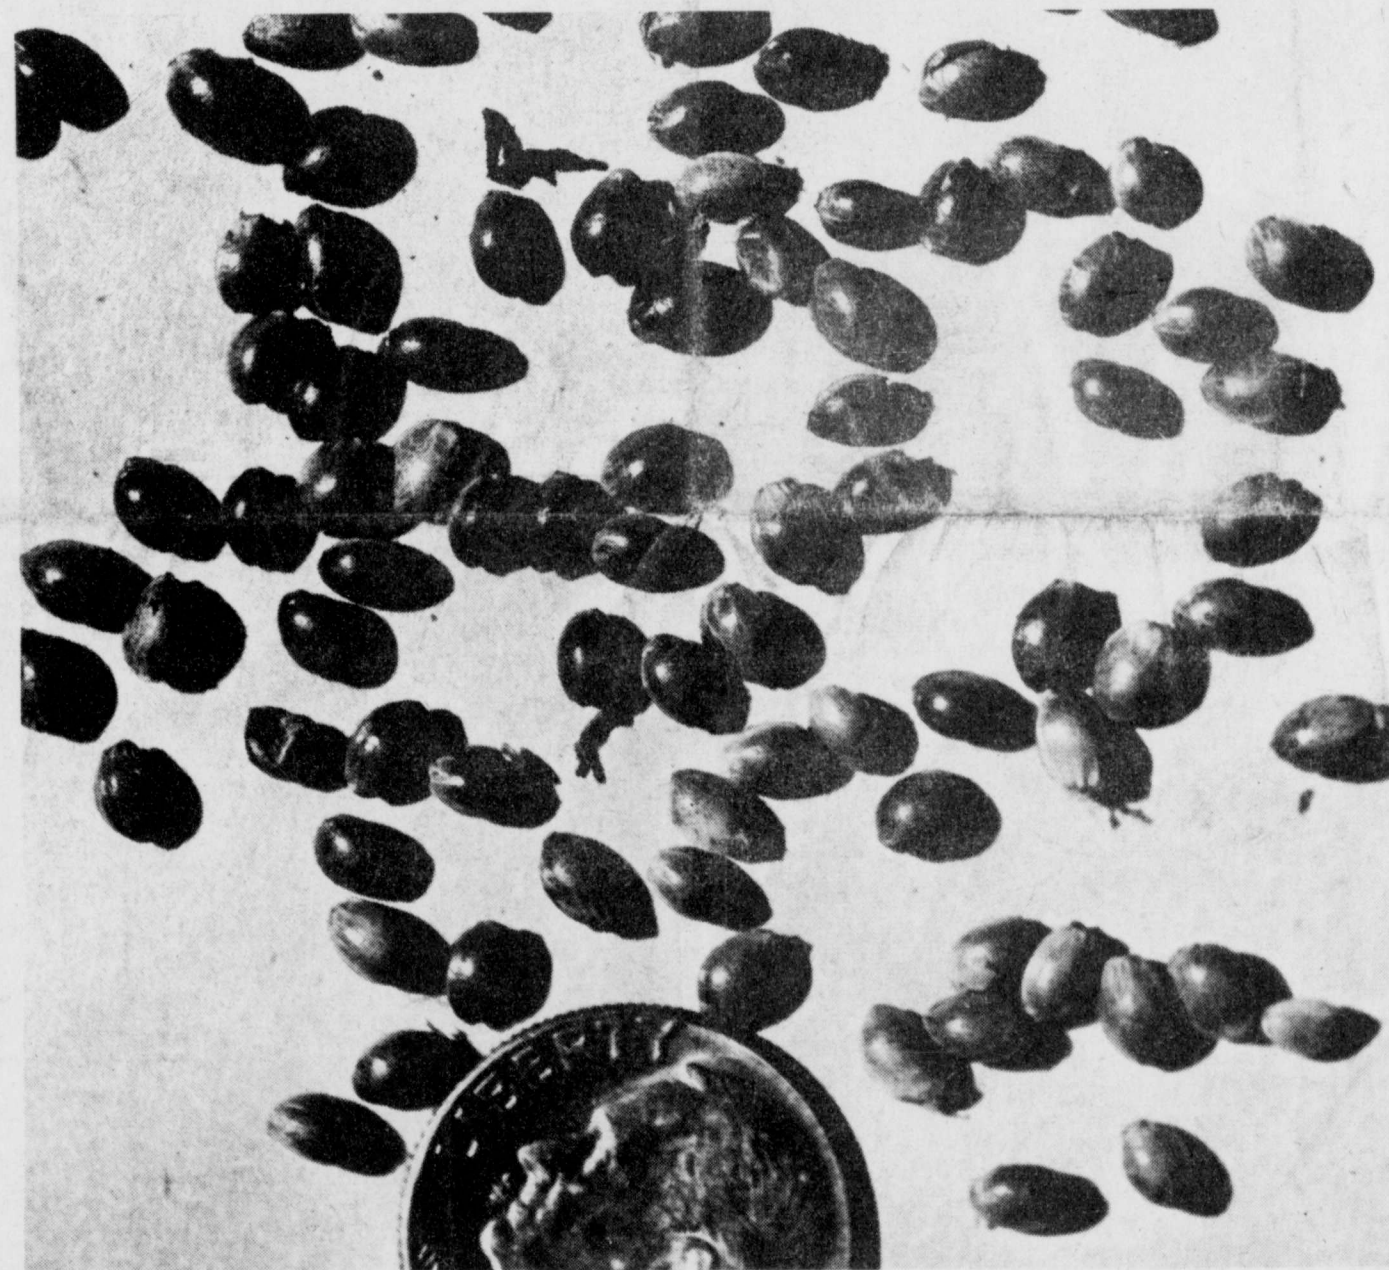

Thank you again for clarifying the fact that relatives giving care to children are exempt from licensing.

semester and no credits will be given to the student for this semester."

"Any student who shall have been convicted of a misdemeanor or felony for the possession, use, or sale of a dangerous drug or narcotic drug while outside the school, will be expelled by the board of trustees for the current semester, and no credit be given to the student for the semester."

Only one of the students appeared before the board to make a statement. The incident was the second of the week involving juveniles and marijuana in Bogata and in the school district.

Brook Sloan To Attend Camp

Junior College Basketball Camp June 15-20. This camp is directed by Ron Butler, Coach of the Ranger Junior College Rangerettes, the 1971 National Junior College Champions.

This is the sixth annual camp, and this year there are three sessions. The camp is for boys of high school, junior varsity, and junior high.

The primary purpose of the camp is to teach new skills in the fundamentals of sound basketball and to improve the skills and individual abilities of each boy. Along with these ideas, the camp will also stress the ideas of good sportsmanship, leadership, and good citizenship.

This year's camp instructors include Larry Tucker, Rivercrest High School, George Scott, Miami High School, Charlotte Mason, Eastland High School, and Dan Durham of Carroll High School.

Home Residents To Be Honored

Patients and residents of local nursing homes will be honored during Nursing Home Week, May 11-17. The observance is sponsored by Texas Nursing Home Association which is affiliated with American Health Care Association.

In joining the program, Bobbie Cawley, Administrator of the Red River Haven Nursing Home announced an Open House on Mother's Day, May 11. This year's theme is "VISITORS WELCOME!"

"This is an all-out effort by our profession to get the community to take time for a personal visit and a close look into the operation of today's nursing homes," said Mrs. Cawley.

"We can and do provide for every need of our residents except one — we can't show them that the community cares about them. Their feelings of remoteness from the mainstream of community life can be relieved only by new, outside visitors and this special week gives everyone a chance to show that the people in the community care about their neighbors in nursing homes."

"America is experiencing a dramatic rise in need for more and better health care facilities, and nursing homes are meeting that need with continuing expansion of services and facilities," she continued. "We want everyone to learn what our nursing home is really like, and the total care which is administered to our residents."

Country Newspaperin'

With continually rising gasoline prices and concern over possible fuel shortages, many people may be considering alternate, more economical forms of transportation. If economy is the aim, however, it may not be wise to choose a horse.

Traveling 15 miles each way to work and back every day would total 675 miles commuting per month. Considering current rates of depreciation, interest and insurance, the automobile commuter could expect to average an expenditure of 15 cents per mile in a standard size car. Astute a horse, the commuter's expenses would increase to 19 cents a mile.

Costs of maintaining horse transportation, including monthly charges of $100 in stable fees, $20 blacksmith bill, $10 for veterinary care, in addition to paying for supplemental feed and pasture rental, would bring the price of maintaining "horsepower" to nearly $200 per month.

Talco Cancer Crusade Underway

American Cancer Society volunteers are canvassing Talco homes this month with a message as well as an appeal for funds. The message is this: Early detection is the best hope for a cure for the disease.

Material encourages regular physical checkups and includes the seven warning signs of cancer.

Dollars donated to the drive are used to support a range of activities. Twenty-five cents of each $1 are used in research; 22 cents go for public education; 29 cents provide service for cancer patients; 11 cents keep physicians informed on new developments in cancer treatment, and eight cents are used to provide materials for the Crusade. Only five cents go to administration and program development.

Crusade volunteers should be welcomed. The message they bring could be a life saver, and the cause merits generous support.

The Big Ones Bite Bait From Smith

Only the big fish are reputed to bite the bait bought from Smith's Mobil Station and Bait Shop in Bogata, which has become the first stop on almost every fisherman's list since the new bait business opened just over a year ago.

Smith has operated the Mobil service station at the corner of Main Street and Highway 271 in Bogata for several years, and just last year moved his bait shop from his home to a small building next to the service station. Smith did most of the building himself, and now has a full stock of complete line of fishing supplies.

Smith built minnow vats in the back room of the bait shop, and with the advent of warm weather, has barely been able to keep up with the demand of eager East Texas fishermen who like to fish with minnows. The bait shop features a full line of supplies for the live bait fisherman, including hooks, line, sinkers, corks, crappie rigs, minnow buckets, soft drinks and ice. There are tackle boxes and rods and reels and plastic worms and a big stock of lures.

Recently Smith has added camping equipment to his stock, including Coleman lanterns and accessories, and also has hunting and fishing licenses for sale. He also has a big stock of cane poles, in case you break yours bringing in that big one, and gas cans for outboard motors or other uses.

Along with the hunting licenses, Smith has all sizes and classes of ammunition for the hunter.

For the convenience of the fisherman and the gasoline and service customer, Smith is open early and closes at 6:00 p.m. So, stop at Smith's before you fish. It's the one place to get gas and minnows and everything you need at one stop.

Rainbow Trout Survive East Texas Winter

OVERTON—If two demonstrations conducted in East Texas this past winter are indications, rainbow trout production could be successful during these cold months.

The demonstrations, one on the K.D. Atwood farm near Laneville and the other at the Texas Agricultural Extension Service Aquaculture facility near Overton, were under the supervision of Dr. Joe Lock, Extension area fisheries specialist. Trout were grown in catfish cages on the Atwood farm and in fiberglass tanks at the Aquaculture facility. "Trout in both cages and tanks had excellent gain and survival," according to Lock. "The caged trout averaged about eleven ounces each and the tank reared trout averaged thirteen ounces. Eight ounce trout are marketable size."

The demonstrations were the result of the need for a commercially valuable fish which could grow during the East Texas winter. Most of the native warm water fishes, such as catfish, grow best at temperatures around 80 degrees and grow very little when water temperatures drop below 60 degrees. In contrast, trout live at temperatures from 33 to 75 degrees but grow best at 55 to 60 degrees. "Water temperatures this past winter in East Texas were ideal for growth of trout," Lock pointed out.

The fingerling rainbow trout used in the demonstrations were acquired from the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service hatchery in Mesalero, New Mexico. They were stocked in three fiberglass tanks at the facility on the J.T. Montgomery property near Overton and 900 fingerlings were stocked in three cages on the Atwood farm.

The trout were fed a commercially prepared trout food from early December to early April. The tank reared fish were fed twice per day and required 2.7 pounds of feed per pound of gain. The caged fish were fed one time daily and required 2.0 pounds of feed per pound of gain.

Over-feeding obviously reduced feed conversion in the tank reared fish.

"Local markets need to be established before a catfish producer stocks his facilities with trout in the winter," Lock cautions. "Most commercial trout are currently produced in Idaho and sold to restaurants as a gourmet food. Local markets are being tested to determine acceptability of trout in East Texas."

Robert Woofert Elected President

Robert D. Woofert has been elected president and chief executive officer of Community Public Service Company, it has been announced by Board Chairman R.L. Bowen. Woofert, an electrical engineer who started with the power company in 1950 and has been serving as executive vice president since last year, also was elected to the board of directors.

Other additions to the board were Cass O. Edwards II and Ted A. Bonnell. Edwards, a fourth generation Tarrant County land owner, is president of Cassco Land Company, and a managing partner of family interests in farming and ranching. Bonnell, an Alamogordo banker, is president and chief executive officer of Bank Securities, Inc., a registered bank holding company in New Mexico.

C. Leslie Cooke, who started with the utility company in 1927 as a stockroom clerk and has been president since 1966, has retired, but will continue to serve on the board of directors.

The Decisions of Paris will appear at the Gilmer Singing Convention to be held at the Bartons Tabernacle near Gilmer on Saturday, May 3, at 8:00 p.m. The program will be broadcast over radio station KHYM.

Take Test For HS Diploma

High School equivalency diplomas may be earned by successfully completing the General Educational Development (GED) test battery, to be given at 8 a.m. Saturday May 10, in Room 205 of the McLemore Student Center at Paris Junior College. Max Mabry, vocational counselor, will administer the test battery to persons unable to come during regular Wednesday testing sessions or those who prefer taking the test on Saturday. This will be the last Saturday testing for this school year.

Successful completion of the GED leads to issuance of high school equivalency diploma from the State Department of Education. Testing fee is $7.50 and may be paid on the testing date.

No appointment is necessary for the test, but students 17 or 18 must submit an official letter from their high school principal or superintendent stating their last date of attendance. Minimum age in Texas for taking the test is 17. Any Oklahoma resident interested in the test should contact Mabry before reporting to take the GED.

Further information on the test, required letters, or Oklahoma requirements may be obtained by calling or writing Mabry, 784-6601, extension 64, Paris Junior College. Mabry also will administer the ACT (American College Testing) test battery on May 10 to those who have registered for the national testing. The ACT will be given in the Student Center Ballroom.

Would You Know What To Do If A Tornado Struck?

They aren't given names like hurricanes. But damage to people and property can be just as disastrous when a tornado strikes.

The Texas Medical Association suggests you and your family know the warning signs of an approaching tornado and take the proper steps to assure personal safety.

Tornadoes appear most often as funnel-shaped clouds spinning rapidly and extending toward the earth from the base of a thundercloud. These usually occur in hot, sticky weather with southerly winds and a threatening, ominous sky. In most cases the tornado moves from the west or southwest. An hour or two before a tornado, greenish-black clouds appear in the thunderstorm clouds, bulging down instead of up. Rain and hail usually precede the tornado.

There are four main steps to take in the event a tornado visits your community:

1. Keep as calm as possible. It doesn't help to get excited. 2. Be certain to take special medicines or foods required by members of your family with you to your place of shelter. For example, insulin, heart medication, asthma medication, dietetic food, baby food. And don't forget the water.

3. Learn your community's warning signals. You should find out now, before an emergency occurs, exactly what warning signals are being used in your community — what they sound like and what each set of signals means.

4. Keep a battery-powered radio and a flashlight.

According to the U.S. Weather Service, three types of weather bulletins are issued: A) The severe weather watch bulletin: This indicates where and when probabilities are highest. B) The severe thunderstorm or tornado warning bulletin: This means a severe thunderstorm or tornado has actually been sighted in the area or indicated by radar. It's advisable to take cover immediately if the warning is issued in your area. C) The all clear bulletin: This indicates the storm or the threat of a storm has ended in the area previously included in a severe thunderstorm or tornado bulletin.

When a tornado warning is issued, the Texas Medical Association urges you to get inside as quickly as possible. Open windows on the side of the house away from the storm's approach. If you have a basement, take refuge there near the wall in the most sheltered and deepest part. Stay under a sturdy table or workbench. If you do not have a basement or cellar, take cover in the smallest room with stout walls. The first floor is safer than higher floors. Lie under a heavy table, desk, bed, or tipped-over upholstered chair or sofa against inside walls near the center of your house. Stay away from windows. Keep listening to a battery-powered radio for emergency bulletins.

Lockjaw Can Be Prevented

With the spring season making way for summer, most Texans are spending a great deal of time outdoors. Our gardens and lawns need work and outdoor chores have accumulated during the winter.

Returning to outdoor activities usually means a greater frequency of minor accidents, cuts and scratches, and insect bites. Most often, these aren't serious and will heal quickly if properly cleaned and protected.

The Texas Medical Association reminds, however, that sometimes these little scratches can be serious. They might become the channel through which you could get tetanus (lockjaw). Tetanus-producing spores lie dormant in the soil in your yard, the dirt in your garage, and the dust inside your home. These spores can infect you through the tiniest wound—a pin scratch, a bee sting, or a small cut.

When infected, these tetanus spores can remain in your body for long periods of time without producing any signs of disease. Or, they may produce poison effects in five to fourteen days, even though the wound has healed.

First signs of tetanus are irritability and restlessness. Muscles rapidly become rigid, eventually causing a clenched-jaw look that gives tetanus its nickname — lockjaw.

When symptoms appear, the outlook is grim, even with the best treatment. To avoid the deadly consequences, make certain you are immunized with tetanus toxoid. When you are immunized, your body manufactures antibodies that will fight tetanus toxin. A booster is needed every ten years and whenever you are injured.

If you aren't protected, in an emergency there is no time for immunization. If you have no built-in immunity, your physician may inject tetanus antitoxin. An emergency shot, however, is not always effective.

Your only long-range guarantee against tetanus is immunization with tetanus toxoid. Although treatment is seldom effective, prevention is easy. Have you had your booster shot?

Detroit To Receive $1,506

Congressman Wright Patman announced today that the Department of Health, Education and Welfare has approved a tentative entitlement of $2,081 to the Detroit Independent School District with a certified immediate payment of $1,506. This Federal assistance is granted under Title I of Public Law 874, as amended, and will help offset the cost of educating children of Federal employees in the area.

Multi-Ethnic Conference On Aging Scheduled

A Multi-Ethnic Conference on Aging is scheduled at Paris Junior College for Tuesday, May 6, from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. in the Theater for the Performing Arts, Administration Building, said Jesse Jackson, PJC outreach counselor for elderly Texans. Invitations have been sent throughout the Northeast Texas area within an 100-mile radius of Paris, but other interested persons are invited to attend any of all of the program, Jackson said.

The conference is designed to take a closer look at the older Americans in Northeast Texas and to provide meaningful ways, ideas and alternatives in arranging services and programs for them. This will be accomplished in part by having agencies, groups and churches in the area provide, in a workshop setting, programs that are advantageous in meeting the needs of the elderly. The workshops are scheduled from 1:30 to 3 p.m.

Guest speakers for the event will be Claude Andrews of Kilgore, who is with the Area Agency on Aging and the East Texas Council of Governments, and Dr. James Semple, pastor of First Baptist Church in Paris. Dr. Semple will speak at 9:45 a.m., and Andrews will give his address at 11:25 a.m. Registration for the conference will begin at 9 a.m., and opening remarks will be given at 9:30 a.m. Luncheon facilities will be provided for those interested. A morning panel discussion on activities and programs for older Texans is planned.

Agency representatives and panelists will present workshops in the afternoon. Among those from area agencies will be representatives from Northeast Texas Opportunities (NETO), headquartered in Mt. Vernon; Dave Buford, Jr., who is with the Community Council of Cass, Marion and Morris Counties; and E. E. Collins of the Community Action Resource Service Inc. in Texarkana. The agency representatives will explain what their agencies are doing to meet elderly needs.

The panel will include Paris area ministers and others who work with the elderly at area churches. They will tell about existing programs their churches have to provide services to the elderly. Audience questions will be answered during the informal workshops.

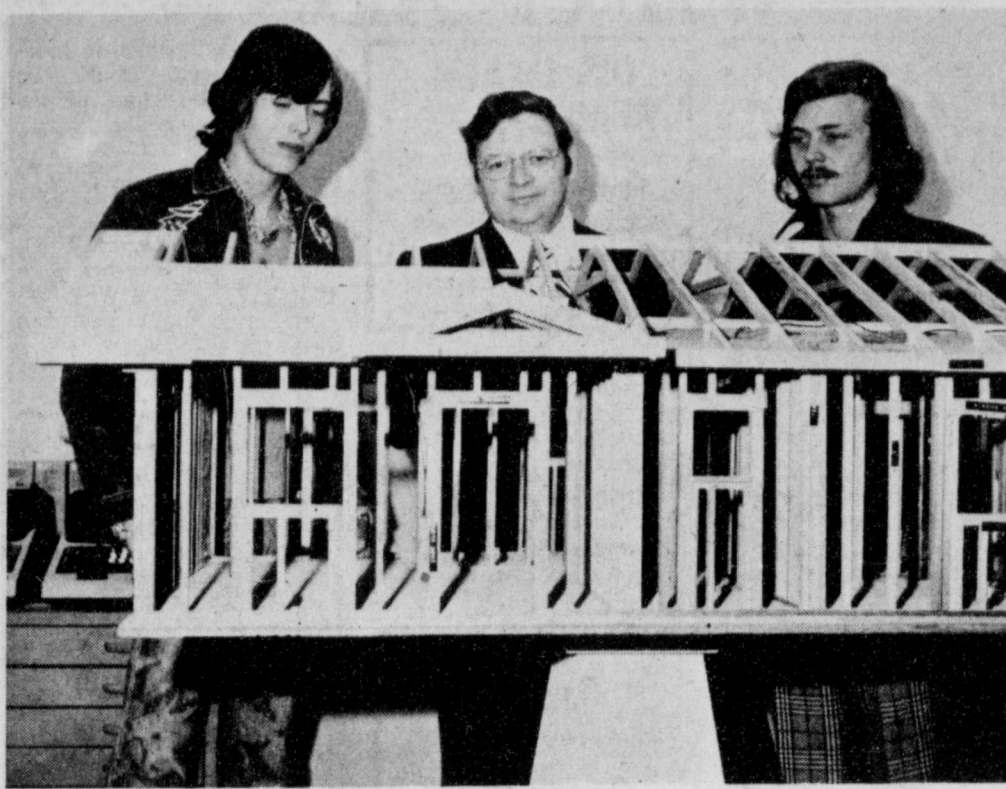

Transactional Analysis Workshop Planned

A workshop on Transactional Analysis is planned for Tuesday, May 6, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Fellowship Hall of First Christian Church, announced Mrs. Bill Jones, coordinator of Continuing Education Division and the fee is $10. Reservations should be made by calling the college, 784-6601, extension 58.

Transactional Analysis, a new method for thinking about human behavior, was developed by Dr. Erick Berne in the late 1950's. TA is the answer for business, industry and government, which have long looked for a human relations tool to help solve the people problems that occur in every organization. Transactional Analysis is a learned tool which participants can take away with them and apply at their own decision and speed.

The workshop instructor has studied TA applications in business and government under Dr. Thomas Clary who is with the National Training and Development Service in Washington and who has done extensive work with Dorothy Jongeward, one of the authors of "Born to Win." Cutsinger, who presently is assistant training coordinator for the City of Dallas, also has attended seminars by Dorothy Jongeward and by Dr. Tom Harris, author of "I'm OK, You're OK." Cutsinger's interest in TA is focused on the "OK" individual within organizations. His approach is focused on how to communicate more effectively when confronted with problems in interpersonal relations. The instructor, who has a master's degree in education, has been involved in more than 45 TA programs. In 1967, he was honored by the National Junior Chamber of Commerce as one of the "Outstanding Young Men in America." Prior to joining the City of Dallas, he served in public relations and educational positions for the Southern Baptist Convention.

Talco Student Receives Scholarship

Bob McCarley, owner of Paris Lumber Co., has presented two more scholarships for students in the Construction Technology program at Paris Junior College, said Dr. Ross Alsup, dean of applied sciences instruction at PJC. The scholarships presented this spring make a total of eight scholarships McCarley has given since the Construction Technology program was begun in the Fall of 1972.

Recipients of the latest scholarships, which will be officially presented at Awards Night this spring, are Eddy Carmon of Arthur City and Frank McGee of Talco, freshmen in the Construction Technology program. The scholarships, which will be for the 1975-76 school year, provide tuition and fees for one year to sophomores who excel in the carpentry trades program at PJC.

The scholarships are based upon the student's progress, need, citizenship, and interest in entering the construction field. Purpose of the scholarships is to provide the residential construction industry of Paris and surrounding areas with qualified persons, McCarley explained. Scholarship recipients are chosen as they qualify.

Robert L. White was the first recipient, and David Sain and Billy Mitchell, graduating sophomores, were this year's recipients of the scholarships, said Joe Crigler, instructor of Construction Technology. The program includes classroom lecture and practical work with local contractors. Available to students are a one-year technology program and two 2-year degree programs in residential construction technology and residential construction management, Crigler explained. Upon successful completion of the two-year programs, an associate in applied science degree is given.

Financial Assistance Available At College

Financial assistance for college is available to students who meet the requirements, said Jerry deBin, director of admission services at Paris Junior College. "Anyone who feels he needs assistance in meeting educational costs should apply to see if he is eligible for one of the many types of financial aid," deBin noted.

Those planning to enroll at PJC should make application now for financial assistance, he emphasized, and students interested in summer school must apply immediately as from four to six weeks is required for an application to be processed after it is mailed to determine eligibility. Applications may be obtained in the Admissions and Financial Aid Office of the PJC Administration Building, or high school students may be the forms from counselors, principals or senior class sponsors.

PJC evening students also are encouraged to apply for aid, and students at the Cypress Basin Center at Mount Pleasant and the Fannin County Center at Honey Grove and Bonham may obtain the applications from the center directors there or from the PJC office in Paris. Students unable to come to the PJC office may call the college, 784-6601, extension 69, and have the application mailed to them.

About 34 percent of the PJC student body receives some type of financial assistance, deBin said, but it is estimated that other students are eligible but that they fail to apply. Approximately $250,000 in student financial aid was given in the 1974-75 school year at PJC.

A student applying for aid completes the ACT (American College Testing) Need Analysis to determine (1) whether he is eligible, (2) the amount for which he is eligible, and (3) the type of assistance he will receive. Paris Junior College offers grants, jobs and loans through its Financial Aid Office, deBin said. The BEOG (Basic Educational Opportunity Grant), a federal grant, requires the applicant to fill out a separate application, but all other types of aid are based on the ACT Needs Analysis.

"By using these two applications, we can determine a student's eligibility for all types of grants, jobs and loans available," the director explained. The assistance may be offered to students in single form or in various combinations of loans, part-time employment and grants. Financial aid is awarded to eligible students without regard to sex, national origin, race or religion.

The BEOG or basic grant is a federal aid program which does not require repayment by the student. Students applying are approved by the federal government for the grant, deBin stated. The work-study program, which provides part-time campus employment, pays the student the current minimum wage for his work. Students in this program work 40 to 60 hours monthly in various campus jobs. Funds for the program are provided by the federal government and Paris Junior College.

Loans, which are provided with federal funds, must be repaid beginning nine months after a student ceases to be enrolled for at least one-half the normal course load. Payments are a minimum of $30 a month plus interest.

Among grants available, in addition to the BEOG, is a Law Enforcement Education Program (LEEP) grant, which helps full-time employees of public law enforcement and criminal justice agencies. The grants cover the cost of tuition, books and fees for eligible officers. Separate applications are required to establish the eligibility of those applying for the LEEP grant.

The various loans available to PJC students include the National Direct Student Loan, which provides those eligible with a maximum of $2,500 during the first two years of college. The Nursing Student Loan Program offers aid for

Student Grants Approved

Congressman Wright Patman announced today that the U.S. Office of Education has approved funds in the amount of $536,205 to eight colleges in the First Congressional District of Texas to assist an estimated 770 students under the Supplemental Education Opportunity Grants, authorized under Title IV, Part A of the Higher Education Act of 1965. These grants range from $200 to $1,500 for each academic year of postsecondary education to students of exceptional financial need who are eligible for this program.

Colleges receiving funds are as follows: East Texas Baptist College in Marshall ($166,618 for an estimated 240 student awards); Henderson County Junior College in Athens ($19,924 to assist 28 students); Jacksonville College ($10,565 for 15 students); Jarvis Christian College in Hawkins ($149,404 to assist 215 students); Lon Morris College in Jacksonville ($11,271 for 16 students); Panola Junior College in Carthage ($11,294 to assist 16 students); Paris Junior College ($18,588 for 26 students); and Wiley College in Marshall ($148,541 for 214 students).

Walleye Stocked In East Texas Lakes

TYLER—Pilots from the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department landed at Tyler Pounds airport Thursday with nearly five million newly hatched walleye fish for release into local area lakes.

A P&W plane flew to Kansas earlier in the day to pick the fish up from the Cedar Bluff federal fish hatchery.

Local P&W fishery biologists met the plane Thursday afternoon and rushed the walleye fry to Lake Palestine and Cedar Creek Lake.

Lake Palestine received 2,500,000 of the fry while 1,650,000 went to Cedar Creek Lake in Henderson County.

Department biologists say the near microscopic fry will suffer high mortality, hence the reason for stocking such large numbers of the fish. A survival of only 10 percent would provide the lakes with a large population of walleye.

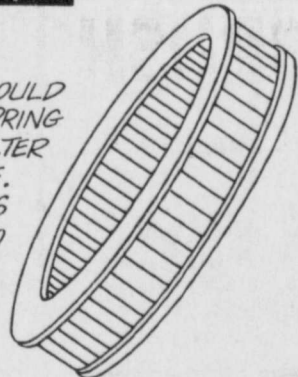

Walleye, previously introduced into several Texas lakes, are scheduled for stocking in 19 lakes during 1975. Many of these lakes, Grapevine, Texoma, Arlington, Sam Rayburn and Texarkana are in East Texas.

The walleye commonly attains a weight of 12 to 15 pounds. However, the world's record is 25 pounds. The record walleye for Texas was caught in 1972 at Lake Meredith, near the panhandle town of Borger and weighed eight pounds 14 ounces.
