THE JUNCTION EAGLE

Volume 44 | Junction, Kimble County, Texas, Thursday, March 29, 1928 | Number 50

BUILDING PROGRAM IS PROGRESSING

With one of the largest wool and mohair storage plants in West Texas nearing completion, the Junction State Bank building assuming shape, the Lockley Theatre nearing completion, together with the Hankins and Kindrick buildings, Junction is presenting an appearance of progressiveness unequaled in its history.

Our tourist visitors who have been our guests for the past few seasons are beginning to arrive and each one of them expresses himself favorably for the future of Junction, and many of whom are looking for investments.

In talking to one business man the past week, who has a building that will be for rent in the near future, it was disclosed that more than a dozen applicants from out of town have endeavored to obtain rental space in the new structure. This is conclusive that people outside our own boundaries believe in the future of this place and are willing to back their judgment with their money. Compliments are always welcome and appreciated, but investment is what finally counts and we are glad to see this attitude on almost every hand.

There is no good reason why Junction should not double its population within the next few months.

IVY ECHOES

On last Friday night the Ivy school was hostess to a large delegation of people. A short program was rendered by the pupils, the chief feature of which was a play entitled, "Who's the Boss." After the program was over the young people amused themselves by playing games. All seemed to enjoy this "get together rally" of our community and we believe that the school should be made a social center for the neighborhood and that more frequent gatherings of patrons and pupils would prove beneficial.

Judge Randolph, accompanied by the State Inspector of Rural Schools, paid the Ivy school a visit last Friday. We were glad to have these men as our visitors. The inspector, after making some recommendations for the improvment of the school house and grounds, said that he was glad to recommend that we receive State aid this year to the amount of $500. We surely appreciate this from the State, and trust that we shall be able to maintain a school at Ivy that will prove that we are worthy recipients.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Pearl visited Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Grobe Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Amberson, Mrs. Thurber, Dr. France and Mrs. W. T. Chandler were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Amberson Sunday.

Examination day is with us again and we are "hard at it" just now.

Miss Alberta Wooten, who is teaching the Whitworth school, attended the program at the Ivy school last Friday night. Alberta says her school will close in five more weeks.

John Paul Jones and family were among those who came out from London to attend our program.

We previously announced that the Ivy school would present a play at London community Hall. We stated that the play would probably be: "An Arizona Cowboy," but we have decided upon a better play and will use it instead. The name of it is: "A Poor Married Man." This is a three-act play, full of action and we feel sure that the public will thoroughly enjoy it. We plan to present this play either on the night of the 13th or 20th of April. We shall announce definitely next week.

School slogan: "Habit is a cabel. We weave a thread of it each day and at last we cannot break it."

HARPER ROAD BOND FAILS TO CARRY

We are informed that the road bond issue in the Harper district failed to carry the past Saturday by a few votes. A large majority was cast in favor of the road bonds, but as the law required two-thirds, it failed by a few votes.

We of course regret that this issue was not made available in order that a contract could be let in the near future for the construction of the entire road between Highway No. 27 in Kimble County and the city of Fredericksburg, but the electors have spoken their wishes and the less than a majority rule in this matter.

The Harper community is one of the best located towns in West Texas and will fast develop when they obtain good roads for their own use and a proper outlet for their production. In time this will come.

We understand that a County wide bond issue will be presented in the near future and it is the hope of the proponents of the bond issue in the Harper community, that at that time they can realize on their ambition to have a good road system. We do not know what it would mean to that community, but we can say without fear that had Junction been without good roads during the hard years of 1921 and 1922, many of our business interests and ranchmen would have gone broke that otherwise have sustained the period of deflation and loss during those trying times in Southwest Texas.

SOUTH LLANO NEWS

And still no rain here. Some of the farmers have plowed up their oats and planted corn, and the stockmen are still feeding their stock in this neighborhood.

Miss Gussie Burris spent the week-end at the Joe Gardner ranch home.

Mrs. F. M. Hodges was a guest at the J. Schuhardt home Sunday.

Mrs. Lane Hodges visited at the Alsup home Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Roberts of Telegraph left last Tuesday for Pennington Gag, Virginia, in response to a telegram to come to their daughter who is critically ill there.

Everett Smith has been wrestling with the measles the past week. He is able to be up again.

Lacy Fleming and Joe Felps were shearing goats for Everett Smith Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Alsup, Edith and Boone Alsup, were visitors at the Matt Burt home Monday.

Mr. Bill Roe and grandson the past week have been taking down the Evergreen church which Sanford Roe purchased in March. It is sad to see the old church go down after it has graced the grounds so many years and so many pleasant memories connected with it.

Singing at Mr. E. Scarborough's Sunday night was a success and enjoyed by all who attended.

Miss Allie Davis is visiting her brother, Alton, and wife this week at the Huffman ranch.

PROGRAM AT HIGH SCHOOL

Mrs. Conde Hardeman's school of the speech arts will present a dramatic program at the Schreiner High School auditorium Friday evening, April 6. The entertainment will include a group of one act plays by well known writers, plays that have been successfully produced by various Little Theater organizations. Variety will be supplied by a bright little Music Revue of pianologues and dances and a burlesque pantomine. Voice selections are to be given by Mrs. Guy E. Wynne and Kittrell Durst. The Junction band will play the accompaniment to Mrs. Wynne's solo.

The young ladies of the High School senior class will act as ushers for the entertainment. The program will begin at 8:00 p. m. The public is cordially invited.

Participating will be Mrs. Coke Stevenson, Misses Tyler Wilkinson, Mary Ellis Blackburn, Myrtis Merrill, Audrey Blackburn, Pairalee Linn, Virginia Strong, Harry Ethel Hubbell, Christine Schraub and Herbert Newman, M. C. Blackburn, Marvin Blackburn, Carleton Wright, Brogan Guthrie, John Riley Gardner and Verlan Skaggs.

Wednesday afternoon of Easter week Mrs. Hardeman will give a porch recital at her home, Edgewater Ranch, when she will introduce the small members of her "Little Girl Class" to an audience of mothers and interested friends. Following the program the youthful performers will be entertained with an egg hunt and tea party.

PIERCE HOGGETT OPERATED ON THURSDAY

Wednesday of this week Pierce Hoggett had the misfortune to strain himself while lifting. Thursday he underwent an operation. He is resting easy and hopes to be back on the job before long.

Monday morning at 10 o'clock Watt Turner's barn burned. The fire was caused by the carelessness of a Mexican who was smoking. A ton of cake and a quantity of hay, salt and lumber was destroyed by the fire.

Mr. and Mrs. Watt Turner spent Saturday in Rocksprings.

SET FLY TRAPS AND SAVE THOUSANDS DOLLARS

Warm weather is setting in and the blow flies are on the job. In the early spring, warm days induce the few surviving blow flies to become active. It is a known fact that these flies are really the cause of all types of flesh worms and that only a small per cent of the fall flies pass the winter.

There is no doubt that the flesh flies can be exterminated. A few years ago Texas ranchmen laughed at the idea when scientists first claimed that the Texas fever tick could be eradicated. A little later stockmen were required to dip their cattle, and many rebelled against the idea of being required by law to dip their live stock. But after the law was enforced for about three years the Texas fever tick was really eradicated. Texas cattle became free from Texas fever. This fever was a terrible dread to northern cattlemen, because northern cattle were not resistant to the disease. The extermination of the Texas fever tick has saved Texas and the United States thousands and thousands of cattle.

Now we must rid another pest which is doing almost as much harm to the stockman as the fever tick has done. This pest includes the various blow flies. Most people think of the screw worm fly only, but we must not forget that the gray bottle fly, the blue bottle fly and the green bottle fly are also flesh flies. However the larva does not bore through the sound skin of the animal as the screw worm does. Then there is another very harmful blow fly known as the wool fly. This fly generally deposits its larvae on sheep and sometimes on goats where there is a moist place on the animal. This fly does not necessarily seek bloody places on the sheep, as most of the other blow flies do, but simply finds a damp place in the wool. When a sheep has a case of wool maggots, the sheep does not feed much, but seems irritated and soon becomes very thin. The ranchman well knows when a sheep has a bad case of worms by the action of the animal. He also knows that such a case is hard to cure, and the end may come rapidly.

The total loss caused by worms every year is enormous. Wet summers are very favorable to the increase of most insects; this is especially true for the blow flies. The blow fly is not very resistant to extreme cold or heat. For this reason only a small per cent pass the winter, and are reduced in the fall.

If advantage is taken of this fact then the ranchmen can protect their stock from these flies by early trapping in the spring. A circular trap made of screen wire is the best type of trap. The trap should be about two feet in height and about sixteen inches in diameter with an inverted cone rising from the base of the trap to about two-thirds of the height of the trap, leaving a small opening of half an inch in the upper end of the

MEETING BEING HELD AT CHRISTIAN CHURCH

The Fannie Dupuy Memorial Christian Church is engaging in an Evangelical meeting, March 27 to April 5, under the leadership of their pastor, Rev. Lawrence R. Doak.

The services of Rev. Doak have recently been secured by this congregation, in conjunction with some other nearby churches. Prior to his coming to Texas a few months ago Rev. Doak has been engaged in the active ministry for a number of years in Ohio and West Virginia. He is a graduate of Bethany College, and has held some imporatnt pastorates in the above named states.

The local Christian church is pleased to announce these special services and cordially invites the public to attend.

LEGION DRIVE ENDS WITH 56 NEW MEMBERS

The American Legion drive for memberships closed at six o'clock Monday evening, and after a count between the teams commanded by Capt. Guy Wynne and Capt. Eddie Lowgren, the result was declared in favor of the latter and his team, with the result that on Wednesday night, April 11th, 1928, there will be in the park in Junction, a banquet with Capt. Guy Wynne's team acting as host to the winners.

The drive resulted in a membership of 56 paid in and many more promised.

The banquet will be open to all ex-service men and their wives.

A musical program will be rendered by the Chamber of Commerce band and an interesting program arranged by the boys.

The Peace Time work of the American Legion is having a profound influence in every community where they are active and we believe this move on the part of our ex-service men will be one of the most commendable of recent occurrences.

ATTENTION, RANCHMEN

As we should all be vitally interested in the extermination of blow flies, I will say that it is time to begin to stamp them out. As an illustration of what our losses are, I will make this statement. There are now in Kimble County about 300,000 sheep and goats, and an estimate of four per cent loss by worms would be very conservative. Four per cent of 300,000 sheep and goats would be 12,000 at a value of five dollars per head, or the total of $60,000 to the ranchmen of Kimble County. Now gentlemen, this loss is too great, when we could, with very little effort, reduce this loss possibly fifty per cent by the use of fly traps. These traps will cost around three dollars each which would be very little cost to us.

My idea would be to place these traps at all watering places on the ranches, and I think one trap at each watering place would be sufficient. It would not require very much time to attend to these traps. It would take only one-half the time to attend to these traps that we usually spend hunting wormy sheep and goats, and the results would be far better.

We should all be very careful to burn every dead carcass that we find, for each carcass produces millions of blow flies. It seems that our ranchmen are trying to be progressive, for they buy the best stock obtainable, and yet when we neglect to stamp out the flies, we neglect the greatest source of loss to our industry. I have had submitted to me figures on a certain amount of acreage where fly traps were used, compared with one-half the acreage on which fly traps were not used. In other words, an area of 25,000 acres where about 15,000 sheep and goats were run, and where fly traps were used, compared with 10,000 acres where 5,000 sheep and goats were run, and fly traps were not used, the loss from worms was ten per cent less in the acreage that fly traps were used in. There, you will see from this comparison, that if a concentrated effort be put forth to stamp out flies, it would be very profitable to the ranchmen.

Now, as the time of year has arrived to begin this work, I earnestly urge every ranchman to buy traps and put on a campaign to stamp out blow flies in Kimble County. Our wolf club has been very successful so far, and we should not be satisfied at stopping the loss of predatory animals, when blow flies are a greater menace to us than wolves and cats.

Now let's co-operate in doing this good work.

H. W. Bierschwale,
Secretary.

SCHOOL LETTERS FROM FOREIGN COUNTRIES

A short while after Christmas the students of the sixth grade were assigned, as an English lesson in letter writing, the task of writing to some foreign country in which they had become most interested when studying Geography. The result was that there were letters written to many places from which we have never heard, but the places from which we have heard are: England, Germany and Ireland. From England two letters were received, from Ireland four, Germany one, and Italy three cards and a letter. Among these letters and cards received is a fashion book from Ireland and a school annual from London, England. Each letter and card were written very neatly in our own language, excepting the three cards and the letter from Italy.

The letters follow:

34, Stranmillis Park
Stranmillis Road, Belfast

Dear Opal:

I was fortunate enough to have your letter given to me, and I was greatly interested to hear of your many pastimes.

I had several letters to write from our school to girls abroad. I passed into the 7th Standard in school, and then I left to go to a commercial school. I am at present at this school, and I learn Shorthand, Typewriting, Bookkeeping and English. This school prepares you for business, but I shall not be going to business for sometime yet. There are only 20 students altogether just at prsent, but we have a fairly good time among ourselves, and our teacher is very nice.

What kind of business are you intending to take up after you leave school? I suppose you have not many business places in Texas.

I often go to Picture Houses here and see the Wild West pictures, and I think it must be great fun if your life there is anything like the pictures.

You seem to have a great lot of pastime, and I think it must be great fun horse-riding. I have not very much time with my lessons, but I play badminton in the winter and tennis in the summer. Badminton is a game like tennis but is played indoors.

I have aunties and uncles out in Australia, and it seems to be a nice dry country, far different to Ireland as our climate is very damp.

Your fashions seem to be very much like our own.

I am very fond of reading but I never do much drawing. As regards my photograph, I haven't a decent one and I am always talking about going to get one taken, but it never comes off.

I am enclosing a specimen of one of my roughly typed letters.

I am a bit curious to know how you came to write to Ireland, perhaps, some of your friends come from here.

I shall be pleased to hear from you any time you like to write.

I am sending you a fashion book which might interest you or your teacher.

Hoping this finds you well.

Yours sincerely,
Winnie Henry.

My Dear Friend:

I have often wished to correspond with some little girl far away, but I did not know any little girl's address. One of my school friends received your welcome letter, and she was kind enough to give me the address. I am in the 7th grade. My teacher's name is Miss Duffy. She is rather nice.

Our school is very large; there are three schools combined—the infants, boys and girls. We study the same subjects as you do including geometry and algebra. One of our greatest studies is the Irish language. A lot of our citizens speak it fluently. We carry on a lot of industry in our city. Guunesse's brewery and Jacob's biscuit factory employ a lot of our citizens. We have just been studying about the cotton fields in your part of the world.

I remain, my dear friend,
Yours truly,
Annie Ennis.

P. S. Please write to me, and tell me all about your state.

My Dear Miss Burt:

I have just got your address from my teacher and I thought I would like to correspond with you, hoping you will not mind.

I go to school every day. I am in 7th standard. My teacher's name is Miss Duffy. I like her very much; she is very good to us. I have one sister and one brother younger than myself. I was born in Australia and came to Ireland when quite young. My mother is a Tasmanian and my father is Irish.

Dear Miss Burt I hope to have the pleasure of receiving a letter from you soon.

Yours sincerely,
Mollie Reilly.

Berlin, 27, F, 1928

Dear Lucille:

I have got your letter from the post master of Berlin. I am very glad to have a correspondent. I am fourteen years old and I go to a high school for girls. I am in the third grade. In Germany children do not study English when they are only eleven years old, but I should like to correspond with you. I have fair hair and blue eyes. My height is one metre

This Week

By Arthur Brisbane

R. J. Wensley, inventor of a mechanical man that unveiled a statute of George Washington, believes that men made of metal will liberate us from industrial slavery, as Washington liberated us from European tyranny.

Workers need not fear that metallic "robots" will ruin the labor market. Long ago the mechanical men and women made their appearance in machinery of all kinds, driven by steam and electricity. One machine does the knitting for ten thousand women, one locomotive pulls the load of a thousand stage coaches, replacing 1,000 drivers.

The perfected machine will not be an imitation man standing upright on two legs. That position man achieved to look out over high grass for enemies and prey, in the beginning, and to look up at the start later. Mechanical men can be only an interesting curiosity, not an industrial success. Science improves on nature and does not imitate it, the ultimate flying machine without bird wings or methods will prove that.

From a big orange tree in Southern California the Riverside Chamber of Commerce sends 126 oranges to as many newspaper editors. The tree is one of two imported from Brazil by the United States Department of Agriculture. Those two trees are the father and mother of all the "Washington navel trees" that make up great groves in Southern California.

Similarly, a few cherry trees, brought by Lucullus from his wars in Asia, are the ancestors of millions of cherry trees that small American boys climb every year. Such are the wealth and generosity of Nature.

Mr. Rogers at Muscle Shoals inspects with his mournful cowboy eye a $150,000,000 plant built by the people to produce nitrogen to supply cheap fertilizer for farmers, and explosives in case of war.

Mr. Rogers remarks that such a plant lying idle is enlightening. It means that the Government isn't quite ready to deliver the plant over to the power trust.

And until the power trust gets it, that trust won't let anybody else use the Muscle Shoals plant.

Thanks to Mussolini's common sense, a new law compels merchants in Italy to mark prices plainly and stick to the prices. That will increase foreign buying, especially by Americans, who do not like to pay double or devote half an hour bargaining over a trifle.

Merchants in Italy won't like it but their business and prosperity will increase.

Machinery will be devised eventually to do the so-called back breaking farm work that proud United States citizens, accustomed to their automobiles, no longer will do.

But nothing should be done too suddenly, unless the Government is willing to precipitate hard times over a wide area.

Newspapers tell of a baby "dead ten times." Ten times in its short five weeks of life the baby's heart stopped beating in a struggle against pleuro-pneumonia. Ten times it was revived and it probably will live. The doctors did wonders.

There is just a line about the mother. Still weak, following the baby's birth, she gave her blood in transfusion to save her baby's life. Her name is Mrs. G. E. Olmstead, and what she did ten million mothers would do, gladly.

CHILDREN SHOULD KNOW

Clean stockings every morning make your feet feel more comfortable.

Dresses, coats and trousers should be brushed and hung up neatly when not worn. They will last longer and look well until worn out.

Colds are believed to be caused by germs coming into the nose and throat. A clean nose, mouth and throat is the first step to prevent colds. A clean skin, used to fresh air and cold water, is the second step to prevent colds. In modern times we find that the most wide-awake and vigorous nations, the ones that are advancing most rapidly, are those whose people keep themselves in good health. One of the most important health habits is that of daily bathing.

Drinking cups used by a number of people are very likely to transfer the germs of "bad colds" and certain kinds of "sore throats." There is no doubt about the statement made by doctors that many common diseases of school children are spread by their drinking from the same cup or dipper.

A set of dirty nails is a sign that its owner is slovenly. All that is necessary to have good nails is to scrub them whenever you wash your hands, with a nail brush, warm water and soap, and then clean them with an orangewood stick or small toothpick. The nails should be trimmed often, for they look better and are much more easily cleaned.

The skin contains sweat glands. These gather much water and some waste from the blood and pour it out on the surface of our skin as perspiration. When the perspiration dries or evaporates, it takes heat from the body, which becomes cooler. Baths with warm water and soap are necessary to wash away that part of perspiration that does not evaporate.

Liver that has been fried with bacon and a little onion may be scalloped with rice in a baking dish. Salt pork may be used instead of bacon and raw potatoes, thinly sliced, instead of rice.

There are four state and one Federal fish hatcheries in Texas.

ONE VALUE FOR TAXATION

With another city election on April 3rd at which time officials for the city of Junction will be elected, the county school trustees election for April 7th and the local school trustee election for the same date, the first primary July 28th, the second primary in August and the general election in November, there is little doubt but what the electors of this county will get value received for their poll tax receipt for this year.

We doubt whether there are voters in any community that take more interest in their own government than in Kimble County. We see reports from other districts, especially the urban centers complaining of a lack of interest on the part of voters, in many instances less than 20 per cent going to the polls. When we come to consider that it is not an uncommon thing to have between 80 and 90 per cent of our people vote in every elction, we feel that w have little cause to complain on that score.

FIDELIS CLASS IS ENTERTAINED

(Unavoidedly Omitted Last Week)

A happy occasion was the party given Friday evening by Mrs. Pearl Chadwell, assisted by Mrs. J. A. Heyman, in honor of the Fidelis Sunday School class, at the residence of Mrs. Heyman. In the receiving line were Mrs. Heyman, Mrs. Chadwell and Rev. and Mrs. G. W. Crabb.

Mr. Heyman and Mrs. Cabb were elected captains for the evening and much amusement was afforded by the many contests and games, which included among others, peanut races, a paper sack race and a town contest. At a late hour the guests matched for partners and were invited into the dining room which was most attractive. The spring season was proclaimed by the use of fragrant lilac and dainty white iris placed in bowls and vases about the living room and dining room. An exquisite filet luncheon set, laid over pink, adorned the table, while a colorful bowl held a miniature statue surrounded by lilac and white iris, on either side of the bowl were brass candlesticks holding pink tapers.

Misses Cecelia Merchant and Myrtis Merrill, costumed in pink, presided at the table. Miss Merchant served coffee, while Miss Merrill poured tea, from a quaint elephant tea-pot. Miss Bernice Chenault and Mrs. Van Martin served the plates of chicken salad on lettuce leaf, potato chips, wafers, gherkins and angel food cake.

How about that new spring hat. We have the Mallory line.

MRS. SECREST HONORED

Tuesday afternoon Mesdames H. O. Patterson, Homer Livingston, Lester Hodges and Dorothy Westmoreland entertained a number of friends with a bridge party, in honor of their sister, Mrs. Clay Secrest, recently of Gatesville, at the home of their father, Mr. J. N. Hodges.

After a series of games Mrs. Watt Turner was found to have high score and received a pretty piece of lingerie. The attractive table prizes were awarded to Mesdames Joe Watson, C. T. Orth, W. P. Riley, Carl Wolf, H. E. Luehrs, John Martin, U. D. Kindrick, Henry Taylor and Miss Flora Mae Spiller. Mrs. W. W. Buck was consoled with a box of dainty handkerchiefs.

Mrs. Secrest, the honoree, was presented with a set of pink lingerie.

A brass bowl filled with sweet peas and a wicker floor basket holding tulips and carnations were suggestive of spring. The tallies were adorned with Easter maids and carried out the color scheme of yellow, pink, blue and orchid, while the napkins were decorated with bunnies and Easter eggs.

Chickn salad, potato chips, wafers, stuffed olives and iced tea were served. The favors were Easter cups that matched the tallies and were filled with miniature Easter eggs. For the second course, the plates were decorated in one of the pastel shades above mentioned and held white cake, iced in matching color, and ambrosia.

LUNCHEON PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Little entertained with a dinner party Sunday in honor of their son, Lofton.

After a chicken luncheon was served, the afternoon was spent in horse back riding and other out door sports.

Sandwiches were served at the close of the day.

The guests were Misses Tempa Boone, Ruby Johnson, Inez Ragland, Lucille Motley, Flossie Boone, Mr. Lawson Johnson, Bob Motley, Lemuel Jones, Warren Braley and the honoree, Lofton Little.

LONDON LOCALS

Mrs. Ellis Brown will present her piano pupils in recital Friday night, April 6th at the Community Hall in London. There will be present her London class, and representatives of her Junction and Teacup classes. Admission free, Everyone invited. Let's all attend and show Mrs. Brown we appreciate her labors and the children that we appreciate their progress.

Mr. G. M. Houston has made quite an extension to his store building lately which adds to the convenience and appearance of his place of business. He informs us that he makes an average purchase of nine cases of eggs per week and from $20 to $25 worth of poultry.

Mrs. Deckert of Teacup was shopping in town Monday of this week.

Mr. R. B. Furr now owns a new Chevrolet car. Bob may have an idea——. You can't always tell.

Dr. Fred Burt and lady of Junction was among our visitors Monday.

Mrs. Claude Harrell and babe of Cross Plains returned home Tuesday after several days visit with homefolks and friends.

Mr. J. F. Thurber and H. B. Black are now enjoying a much needed rest after several weeks hard work clipping the fleece from goats. Only for a few days will they be idle, when they will again be in demand to take the clip from sheep.

Mr. R. L. McKinney and M. C. Reese left Monday for South Texas with a truck load of Herefords for sale. When last heard of, they were at Bracketville. Haven't heard whether their folks have sent anyone to bring them back or not.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Otte and Mrs. Alfred Thiers of Camp Allison are visiting homefolks at London this week.

Our school gave a rehearsal Monday night at the Community Hall which was well attended and appreciated by all. This exercise was for the purpose of choosing representatives from London school to represent us at the County Meet which will be held at Junction March 30. The following were chosen: Declamation, junior girl, Eunice Brewer; junior boy, Wilbur Gentry; senior girl, Selma Adams; senior boy, Dorman Gibbs. Debates: girls, Hazel Herbst, Sonora Ann Ellis; boys, Russell Lovelle and Frank Price. All those who appeared before the public Monday night did well, real well.

It is encouraging to see young girls and boys reach out and grasp good ideas, really advanced thought on such subjects as the McNary-Haugen bill. The hope of our country depends upon the manner in which our young men and women are trained to think.

P. T. A. NOTES

The P. T. A. held their regular meeting Monday.

After disposing of unfinished business, four delegates were elected to attend the National P. T. A. meeting to be held in Menard April 17, 18, 19 and 20.

Let us not forget the Interscholastic League meeting Friday, March 30. Be sure and have your school represented. Also, let us buy our hamburgers, lemonade, etc., from the ladies on the school campus. Support your P. T. A.

Here are some suggestions for tasty sandwiches for winter afternoon gatherings, either at home or elsewhere: Finely ground watercress, creamed with butter, and spread on graham bread; parsley, with a few drops of lemon juice, minced and mixed with creamy butter in the same way; club cheese of sharp flavor, with chopped English walnuts, a few drops of onion juice, salt, and tomato catsup; orange rind, grated, and mixed with butter. Cut the sandwiches with fancy cooky cutters.

SHERIFF'S NOTICE OF BOND ELECTION
In Common School District

THE STATE OF TEXAS.
County of Kimble:

Notice is hereby given that an election will be held on the 7th day of April, A. D. 1928, at the School House in Roosevelt Common School District No. 17, of this County, as established by order of the County Board of School Trustees of Kimble County, Texas, as passed on the 2nd day of January, 1926, which order is of record in Book one, pages 101-102 of the School Minutes of said County, to determine whether or not a majority of the legally qualified resident property taxpaying voters of said District desire the issuance of Bonds to the amount of Five Thousand ($5,000.00) Dollars, to become due and payable serially as follows: One Hundred Twenty-five ($125.00) Dollars on Jan. 15th, of each of the following years 1929 to 1968, both inclusive and bearing interest at the rate of 5 per centum per annum, interest payable annually, on the faith and credit of said Common School District, for the purpose of constructing and equipping a public school building of material other than wood within said District, and to determine whether the Commissioner's court of said County shall be authorized to levy, assess and collect annually while said bonds, or any of them, are outstanding, a tax upon all taxable property within said District sufficient to pay the current interest on said bonds and provide a sinking fund sufficient to pay the principal thereof as the same becomes due, provided the bond tax together with the maintenance tax shall never exceed 75c on the One Hundred Dollars valuation of taxable property in said District.

Philip Luthringer has been appointed Presiding Officer for said election and he shall select two Judges and two Clerks to assist him in holding the same, and he shall, within five days after said election has been held, make due return thereof to the Commissioners' Court of this County as is required by law for holding a General Election.

All persons who are legally qualified voters of this State and of this County and who are resident property taxpayers in said District shall be entitled to vote at said election, and all voters desiring to support the proposition to issue the said bonds shall have written or printed on their ballots the words:

FOR THE ISSUANCE OF BONDS AND THE LEVYING OF THE TAX IN PAYMENT THEREOF.

And those opposed to the proposition to issue the said bonds shall have written or printed on their ballots, the words:

AGAINST THE ISSUANCE OF THE BONDS AND THE LEVYING OF THE TAX IN PAYMENT THEREOF.

Said election was ordered by the County Judge of this County by order made on the 12th day of March, A. D. 1928, and this notice is given in pursuance of said order.

Dated this 12th day of March, A. D. 1928.

DEE GIBBS,
Sheriff, Kimble County, Texas.

ATTENTION, PLEASE!

Notice is hereby given to all parties who are interested in the public schools of Kimble County, that the taking of the scholastic census of the school children of said county begins on March 1st and ends on the last day of said month, and it becomes the duty of us all to see to it that no child is omitted from the census rolls of this county, as it is of vital importance that all children in said county be enumerated.

Parents or guardians of children who permit them to be omitted or left off the census rolls are guilty of criminal neglect and can blame no one but themselves.

There are people who raise children as an asset and not as a liability and they refuse to render them for fear of the compulsory school law. They do not want them to attend school, but prefer that they remain at home and make a support for the family. I hope there are no such people in Kimble County, but if there are such persons here, you are warned that if you refuse to render your children, you will be punished as the law directs.

Please don't howl about your schools and then refuse to do the duty every citizen owes to his school.

All blanks necessary for this work is in my office and I would urge the trustees of every school district in this county to furnish my office with the information as to who will serve as census numerator in the respective school districts as I am powerless to appoint, without knowing who will serve. Please attend to this now.

Census enumerators should not return the rolls to my office until after March 31st, and should properly and intelligently fill out all blanks according to the instruction card furnished. This is required by law, as these completed rolls will be a record in my office, and can not be entered in my consolidated report to the State unless said requirements are strictly complied with.

Bearing in mind that an earnest effort on the part of the citizenship of this county to the ends that no child that should be enumerated will be omitted, will aid and assist towards the success of our schools for the next year, I insist and plead with you for your help, hoping to see the largest enumeration in the history of Kimble County.

Yours for better schools.

J. B. Randolph.
County Judge.

LOVER'S LEAP

(By Emmett T. Hensley)

"Did you ever hear the legend about Lover's Leap?" the Old Timer inquired as we sat upon his porch one evening.

I leaned my chair back against the wall and made myself comfortable in anticipation of the tale which I knew was coming. Now, there are several reasons why I like to visit the Old Timer: one is to hear the tales that he spins; another is that the Old Timer's wife can fry a black bass better than most any woman in Kimble County; then there is the granddaughter—but that is another story.

The Old Timer tamped the tobacco down in his pipe, lit a match, then as the smoke came he gazed across the river as if unaware of my presence. However, I knew the Old Timer well; that is only a way of his before spinning a yarn—waiting for inspiration to begin, maybe. The Old Timer just sat and looked absently from beneath his shaggy, grizzled brows, and as I looked at his furrowed face I wondered how old he was. There is something about him, the eyes and all, that suggests centuries. The Old Timer is old, but just how old he will not tell.

"Course you've heard legends about the cliff," the Old Timer came back to the story. "There's lots of 'em. Every school boy in the county has told at least one. Now, take for instance my granddaughter, every time I hear her typewriter clicking I wonder if it's goin' to be another legend about Lover's Leap, or a 'Confession' story.

"Yes, there's lots of tales about that cliff. Some of them pretty near right, but never exactly right. What I am goin' to give you is the low down (as my granddaughter says). Needn't look surprised, son, or wonder where I got it. Just remember I've been here a long time—maybe longer than anybody would believe."

Then thhe Old Timer plunged into the tale, and I'll give it to you much as it was told to me.

"Fleecy Cloud sat upon the cliff and looked sadly at the valley. There seemed to be little reason for Fleecy Cloud being sad, for the day was beautiful and spring was in the air. Bluebonnets wre in full bloom in the valley, and a jay darted among the cedars screaming at a squirrel, which in turn chattered and scolded. Fleecy Cloud heard and saw all this, but it meant little to her. She had seen sixteen summers, and had blossomed like the Bluebonnet into a full-blown beauty. Every brave in the tribe wooed her, but she cared for none but Leaping Water of the Comanches. Her father did not like Leaping Water. When his name was mentioned he spat upon the ground and swore that Fleecy Cloud should never go to his wigwam. Now, there was Little Beaver of the tribe; Brown Bear did not feel that way about him. In fact, he had promised her to Little Beaver in exchange for ten mustang ponies. The ponies Little Beaver did not have, so he rode away toward the west to cltch them on the prairies. Several moons had passed, and Little Beaver had returned with the ponies.

"So that's why Fleecy Cloud sat upon the edge of the cliff and was sad. Soon she must go to the wigwam of Little Beaver, to cook his meat, and till his corn for him in the river bottom. There was no way of escaping her father's desires. She tried to reconcile herself to the marriage, but her heart was with Leaping Water. If she could only see him once more; just once, before she passed forever into the wigwam of Little Beaver.

"She looked away toward the river, as she thought of the last time they had met. She had slipped away from the camp and journeyed to this very cliff, where Leaping Water was waiting. It had all been so beautiful, just the two alone upon the cliff, and the soft night breezes around them. They had stood and sworn their betrothal, while the night winds sighed through the cedars, and the soft sounds of the river denizens had been wafted to them. For a moment Leaping Water's strong arms held her firmly, his lips crushed to hers, then he vanished. She buried her face in her hands as if to shut out the vision. It was all over now, but how she wished for him.

"So cautious was Leaping Water's approach that she did not know that he was near until she heard a slight tread of moccasined feet behind her. She seemed to sense who it was even before she turned and saw him.

"Slowly, between his cupped hands he raised her face until she gazed into his eyes. 'Your heart is sad. Why is it so? Aren't you a daughter of a Chief, and the most beautiful in the tribe? Why are you sad?' he repeated.

"'Oh, Leaping Water, you know not what has happened since you journeyed away. My father has offered me to Little Beaver for ten mustangs. I saw him ride away toward the west several moons ago, and I prayed the Great Spirit that he would find no ponies, but this morning I saw him return driving the horses before him. I shall have to go to the wigwam of Little Beaver. Almost any moment he will come and claim me.'

"Leaping Water folded his arms while he stood meditating, and there was a threatening scowl upon hs face. 'Fleecy Cloud, on this cliff we swore our betrothal. Was it an oath to be taken lightly?'

"'No, no, but you little know the strength of my father. He sends me to Little Beaver. Can I oppose him?'

"'Does the pecan bough break when the north wind blows?' asked Leaping Water. 'No, it may seem to yield, to bend before the wind, but break it does not. So is our promise. You have seemingly yielded to your father, but now that I am here it is over. Down the river is a canoe waiting to carry us away, and water leaves no trail.'

"'But the tribe? They would never give up until Little Beaver was revenged for his loss. They would hunt the hills, canyons, and valleys until they found us.'

"'Then let them find us. Is a Comanche's blood so weak that he cannot fight an Apache?'

"'Fight you would, Leaping Water, but why should I be the cause of bloodshed between your tribe and mine?'

"'Will Leaping Water argue with a squaw,' he said fiercely, as he swept her up in his arms and turned to go.

"So they were when Brown Bear and Little Beaver found them. Little Beaver's face grew dark with madness as he saw the maiden in Leaping Water's arms. Unsheathing his knife he approached, followed by Brown Bear who held his knife likewise. Then Leaping Water placed his hand upon his knife and stood waiting.

"'No, no, my love, not this!' Fleecy Clond pleaded. 'Let not me cause blood to be shed between your tribe and mine. Better the cliff—'

"'Then the cliff it shall be! We die together, our betrothal unbroken!' So saying he leaped with the maiden held firmly in his arms, and as they fell there was a cry, but rather a cry of triumph than terror."

The Old Timer swears that is the "low down" about Lover's Leap. And he swears just as firmly that sometimes in the night he hears their cry. It maybe he hears only the cry of a screech owl. The Old Timer is old—no one knows how old. Then his wife is the best cook in Kimble County, and there's his granddaughter to consider—I don't think I could doubt his story.

Important Announcement

to every owner of a

Model T Ford

ON MAY 25, 1927, when Henry Ford first announced his plans for making a new car, he announced also that he would continue to make parts for the Model T Ford. He said:

"The Model T Ford car was a pioneer. It blazed the way for the motor industry and started the movement for good roads everywhere. It broke down the barriers of distance in rural sections, brought people in these sections closer together, and placed education within the reach of everyone. We are still proud of the Model T Ford. If we were not, we would not have continued to make it so long."

For twenty years, the Model T Ford led the automobile industry and it still serves more people than any other automobile. Over one-third of all the automobiles in use today are Model T Fords — an indication of the sturdy worth of the car and its value to people in all walks of life the world over.

The Ford Motor Company will continue to make replacement parts for these cars "until the last Model T is off the road." That is a part of Ford service. That is what Henry Ford meant when he said: "We believe that when a man buys one of our cars we should keep it running for him as long as we can and at the lowest up-keep cost."

Because of this policy a considerable part of the Ford manufacturing plants is given over to the making of parts for the Model T Ford. These replacement parts are made of the same material and in the same way as those from which your car was originally assembled.

Make it a point, therefore, to see the nearest Ford dealer and have him look over your Model T Ford. You may find that a very small expenditure will enable you to get thousands of miles of additional service, and at the same time protect the money you have invested in your car.

THINGS WORTH KNOWING

Wonder Windows

In the "grand parade" every nice afternoon along Washington's fashionable F Street, there is a bloom of lads and lassies. One sees lots of things along this great city street. When you get tired of looking at the exhibits of humanity there are Wonder Windows filled with displays of goods and wares of America's leading manufacturers and industries.

In one of the windows there is a great display of pyralin—an exhibit that is a knock-out. As you look at it you comprehend the statement that $100,000,000 is annually expended in the United States on the dressing of windows in mercantile establishments.

It has been observed that a new and profoundly interesting aspect in the art of window dressing has resulted in the modern vogue for color, which places at the disposal of those responsible for the public prerentation of goods for window displays, or through arrangements in stores, an element which is recognized immediately by everybody.

In the pyralin window one finds beautiful displays in brushes, cuticle knives, scissors, puff boxes, military sets, jewel boxes, perfume bottles and literally bushels of beautiful articles, resplendent in blue, green and rose, and the boxes in which they were contained are of the same kind of material used in the background for the drape of the F Street Wonder Window where handsomely figured green cloth is used. The floor is an orchid color. Still another dash of color was added by the umbrellas with pyralin handles umbrellas with pyralin handles and fittings, in hues to match the rest of the picture.

A noted "syndicate writer" recently told how he got rich every morning by walking down F Street and stopping in front of the Wonder Windows. He made many thousands of dollars of imaginary purchases. Then he went along and picked out a million dollars of treasures in the windows which he told himself he did not want, and which he "refused" to buy.

Maybe Russia would find it easier to get recognition for her government if so many of her leaders didn't wear beards.

DR. FRANK CRANE SAYS:—

Singing

People spend a vast deal of money every year in listening to singing.

But the trouble is they simply listen to it. They are auditors and not singers.

We like to crowd the bleachers, watch baseball and football and tennis games, and we like to go to grand opera and concerts and vaudeville and hear them sing.

But the best part of singing is the reaction upon the singer himself.

We are notoriously bad singers.

We hire choirs in churches to sing for us when we ought to be singing ourselves.

Do it yourself, is the best advice in physical culture.

Let us not have so many things done for us, but do them ourselves, and we will be better off. It may be pleasant to have a masseur or a masseuse work at you, but the best form of exercise is automotive.

Get out and take a walk or play a game or do something that starts the sweat and thus improve the sewage system of the body, something that circulates the blood rapidly.

Exercise should be taken judiciously, of course, but the best form of exercise is mild exercise which you do regularly. Irregular exercise or exercise once in a while is about as good as none at all.

Many people are constantly making spurts toward physical culture, but spurts are not what we need. We require regularity.

Take any form of physical exercise, any system, for they all embrace about the same points, only adopt some system that will bring the unused muscles of the body into play.

There is no better healthful exercise than singing, provided we do the singing ourselves.

Public school teachers tell us that almost any number of youths can be taught to sing, and it is an art that we should all cultivate.

There is no better music than congregational singing.

The Germans, all of them, can sing their national hymn, and the British non-conformist congregations are vocal.

We alone are too much inclined to be mere auditors and not doers.

"INSIDE" INFORMATION

Cabbage can always be used for salad if lettuce is not available.

Don't forget the salt in the breakfast cerial. Very often a lasting dislike for cerials is due to lack of proper salting. A teaspoonful to a quart of water is the usual amount needed.

Jam or jelly tarts, made of left-over pie dough and left-over preserves, will solve the question what to have for dessert, with very little trouble. Pie trimmings can also be cut into cookie shapes, brushed with egg-yolk, sugar and cinnamon and used for cookies.

When you want to make a meat loaf, have the butcher cut off a fresh piece of meat and grind it while you look on, or take the meat home and grind it yourself. Use the ground meat the day it was bought if possible.

Early spring is the time to get ahead with hot weather clothing. Stores are full of attractive cotton fabrics. Invest in a few dress lengths and make them up at odd moments so you will be prepared when the warm days arrive.

What to look for in buying a REFRIGERATOR

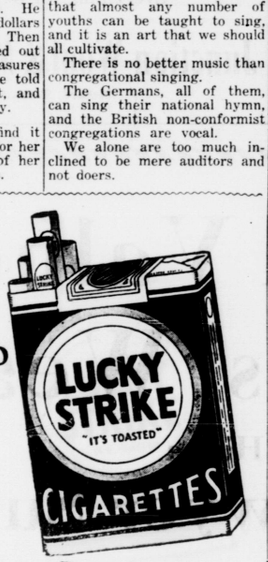

DON'T buy a refrigerator on its looks alone. Make sure that it is soundly constructed, well insulated and scientifically designed for proper air circulation. See that it has the proper food chamber and ice chamber capacity for the size of your family.

Have a good refrigerator, keep the ice chamber well filled with ice, and you will get the full benefit of all the ways in which ice saves.

We will gladly advise you in regard to the selection of a refrigerator.

A DUTCHMAN'S LETTER

(Published by request)

Hearne, Texas, Oct. 5, 1915

As I haf nodding to do, and vish to pen and bottle of ink in mine handt and typewrite you a ladders please oxcuse dis lead pencil.

Ve are all vell at present except my brudder, he vas kicked in the suburbans last night by a mule—de mule is not expected to liff.

Your rich aunty who died from palpitation of the heart ven you vas here is still deadt and doing nicely. Hope dis vill find you de same. After she diet dey fount fifteen tousand dollars sewed up in a old bussel vat she left behindt so you are derefore no longer a poor man but a rich Dutchman.

Biziness has been dull since you lefted—especially de saloon biziness. Your vife was took to insanity asylum yesterday—she crazy to see you.

I saw your little poy dis morning for de first time. I tink he looks yust like you but he is all right odervise, so I would nodt vorry aboudt dot if I vas you.

I am sending you by Adams express your overcoat, and as dey charge so much a poundt to sedt it, I cut off de buttons. Hoping dis vill prove satisfaction. You vill find de buttons in de inside pocket.

I almost forgot to tell you I got married last veek. I got a purty good vife. She is from Milo, but I tink I could got a better one at Vaterville, as dey haf got a much bigger stock to select from.

As dis is all I got to say, I vill klose my face and expect you to do de same. Hoping dis vill reach you before you vill get it, and dot you will answer before dot, I remain, your confectionary secont to de last kousin. Bob.

P. S. In case you don't get dis letter, write me and let me know and I vill send it to you at vonce.

The above communication was found on the streets of Hearne, having evidently been lost by the writer before mailing. We are publishing it in the hope the writer will call for it, pay for this notice, and send it on its journey.—Hearne Democrat.

ABOUT YOUR HEALTH

Chewing Tobacco

Strange as it may seem, the disgusting habit of masticating "the weed," is more seductive, more tenacious in its hold on the chewer, and, in some ways, less harmful to him, than the more elegant custom of smoking, to which society is much more tolerant. In this article, I shall try to illustrate, not the effects of the nicotine, but the perversion of human saliva from its normal function—more deleterious than the tobacco alkaloid involved. This is the chief trouble from chewing tobacco.

The saliva is a natural fluid, secreted by the glands, for a definite purpose—to balance the acid gastric juice. The chewer wastes it by his successive expectoration. If he chews before breakfast, so much the worse—he is sure of excess of acid for the digestion of this highly important meal. Prolonged state of this normally alkaline saliva being thrown away, the victim discovers himself to be a dyspeptic with chronic acid stomach. Sourness, gas eructations, inability to digest fatty foods, and even burning pain are evidences of the trouble. It is not the nicotine, but the lost saliva that produces the condition; chewing any other thing, and spitting out the saliva, would doubtless cause as much trouble.

The victim seldom lays his trouble to the tobacco. Excess of acids will in time corrode the wall of the stomach and produce ulcer. A patient of mine once relieved all his stomach distress by stopping short on the chew within the hour before and after meals. I once saw a chap of 101 years, who had chewed "ever since he could recollect," but never chewed before breakfast, nor to excess any other time.

Of course the better way is, to never chew tobacco, or anything else but good, wholesome food in moderation; but the aged brother who chews, must be borne with in charity.

Now I will give you picture over Berlin. It is a city, worthy of its great position, with many stately buildings, wide parks and grand monuments. The streets in centre of Berlin are lined with offices and warehouses, crowded closely together. They are filled with lines of wagons, motorbusses, carts. Its pavements are thronged with busy people, all intent upon the work of the day. There are a great many of gigantic signboards, advertising the best articles of commerce, etc. If you are entering into Berlin now you will see a great many of flags and grand garlands, that is because Amanullah, the king of Afghanistan, now is dwelling into Berlin. He says, that he has a great pleasure on Berlin. At one a day, he was being present at a great military review, which was following a great banquet. Yesterday I saw the king entering into his castle. The soldiers presented the muskets and beat the drums and people cried, "Hurrah, hurrah!"

In Geography we are studying about Amerika. Now I must finish my letter.

I hope to become your friend.

With love.

Yours,

Hildegard Wrembek.

My address is: Miss Hildegard Wrembek, Germany, Berlin N 113, Carmen, Sylva Str. 22.

My friend would be very glad to have a correspondent. She goes in my school. Can you her not procure a America girl? Her address is: Miss Gerda Pusch, Berlin, N. O. Choriner Str. 5 F. In my next letter I will sent you some picture postcards over Berlin, and a picture of myself.

38 Brian Avenue,

8th Jan. 1928

My Dear Friend:

With pleasure I am answering your letter. It was sent to the Central model school and I was the lucky one to be allowed to correspond with you.

I am in the fifth class and I learn a great amount of Irish; it is a very easy language to learn. My teacher's name is Miss Heavey. She is nice and quiet.

Dublin is a lovely city; it has lovely buildings and has a lovely bay. Dublin city was a mass of ruins after the 1922 troubles. I guess you know about it. It is nicer than before the trouble because the builders are rebuilding them and are putting nicer stonework. I must describe myself to you. I am four feet, five inches high and I am fifty-nine pounds in weight. I will be thirteen years old on the seventeenth of March. The photo I am enclosing is of the Camogie team. I have put a mark over my head so that you will know me. I have grown since I got it taken. I will send you a copy of myself taken alone soon. I would like very much if you would send me a photo of yourself.

Dear Marshal]:

Your letter has reached London, and has been placed in our hands. We are pleased that you are anxious to correspond with us.

The school that we attend is Russell House, London, a commercial school under the supervision of the London County Council.

Your home surroundings are a great contrast to ours; there are no mountains within a 300 mile radius, but we are situated just under a mile from the famous River Thames.

Being in an enormously populated town, (10,000,000), we are compelled to travel to school by means of an electric tramcar or motor-omnibus. Living in London we think little what a famous town it is, but we find it very interesting, reading travel books dealing with your part of the world.

We will be very pleased to receive a further description of farm life in Texas. Most people in this country seem to think that it consists of cattle and horse stealing and gunmen.

Will you please send your photograph and your age in your next letter.. If you can persuade your friends to correspond we shall be extremely glad to reply.

Our school is divided into seven "Houses," each having respective names and captains. We are both House captains and Head Prefects ourselves. We would like to know if the same system is employed at your school.

Our sports consist of a form of Rugby, and cricket together with gymnastics.

Hoping this letter will be of interest to you and will find you safely, we remain,

Your distant friends,

Lawrence Davenport,
Vyvian Bell.

It's up to a man to sit down and contemplate a standnig offer.

WAHL BROS. & SCHRAUB

Party of Government engineers inspecting Boulder Canyon dam site on the Colorado River where it is proposed to erect the world's largest flood control dam. The project is unique in that it is to be financed entirely from the water and hydro-electric power it will make available.

With the Colorado River threatening to break over its banks and permanently destroy a dozen towns, the homes of a hundred thousand people and a million acres of fertile farm land in Arizona and Southern California, the Department of the Interior is preparing to push forward the construction of Boulder Canyon flood control dam immediately upon the adoption of legislation now pending in both houses of Congress.

Boulder Canyon is situated 125 miles below the Grand Canyon and is in that section of the river that forms the boundary line between Arizona and Nevada. According to plans already prepared by Department of the Interior engineers, Boulder Dam will be 550 feet high and will create a reservoir 80 miles long and 30 miles wide, capable of holding 26,000,000 acre feet of water. It will be the world's largest dam and will be twice as high as the largest dam now in existence.

Acting on the recommendation of Dr. Hubert Work, Secretary of the Interior, authors of pending Boulder Dam legislation have written into the bill a provision which specifics that the government is not to expend a single dollar on the project until the Interior Department has received from private and public agencies in the Southwest sufficient contracts for the sale of water and hydro-electric power rights to guarantee the return of all money expended on the dam plus interest.

Construction of Boulder Dam will provide a site for the development of a million horsepower of hydro-electric energy, according to government engineers.

Legislation providing for Boulder Dam has been favorably passed upon by the house committee on reclamation and is scheduled to come on the floor of the House for action the latter part of March, it has been announced by Congressman Addison T. Smith, chairman of the committee.

SEARCHES FOR ORIGIN OF MASONIC LODGE

Amarillo, Texas.—A trail, which has led him through Mexico, Central America and most of the South American countries for over a period of twenty-two years, has been diligently followed by Dr. John Winthrop Sargent in the hope of finding proof of the existence of an ancient race to which he believes the foundation of the modern Masonic lodge may be traced. His quest has led him to this state and after finishing here he expects to continue his search in Nicaragua

It is said that the two cultural motifs which he especially seeks portray a man standing with arms upraised, one arm at right angle with the other; and a deer with three arrows piercing its breast. "These two motifs," he declares, "have a decided bearing on an ancient society which has come down to the present and which is found in the Masonic Lodge."

FORMER RESIDENTS RETURN TO JUNCTION

Mr. and Mrs. Clay Secrest and children, Rose Mary and Barbara, have returned to Junction with the intention of making this their home. Mr. and Mrs. Secrest left Junction several years ago and since that time they have lived both in Richland Springs and Gatesville. Mr. Secrest will be the manager of the Handy Andy store which will soon be open to the public.

The citizens of Junction are glad to welcome this family back to Junction.

NOTICE

To the people of Junction, greetings:

I have recently assumed the position as manager of the Baker Dairy, and have completely changed the sanitary conditions, until now we have as much of a sanitary dairy as will be found in this part of the State.

May I take this method of thanking you for past patronage and assure you that we shall continue to improve the service and quality of the Baker Dairy.

Yours truly,

lives. Satan will not witness for Him because his every desire is to thwart the cause of Christ. The unconverted man will not witness for Christ because he is on the other side. Thus we see that Christians are the only witnesses Christ has. The question has been asked as to how we may best witness for Him. There are numerous ways but three outstanding methods are: First, by our daily lives; second by our means and, third by our assembling to honor and worship Him. Our daily lives should be such that "they took knowledge of them that they had been with Jesus." If our lives do not show that we have been with Jesus they should be remedied. If we do not honor God with our substance it is an evidence of failure to completely surrender our all to Him. If we fail to attend worship on the Lord's day and spend the day catering to our own desires we proclaim, by our acts, that His blood is of no effect and hold Him up to open shame. Let us honor God by our lives, our means and by keeeping His day holy. .

SET FLY TRAPS AND SAVE THOUSANDS

inverted cone.. At the base of the trap fresh meat should be placed to attract the flies. When they have deposited their eggs or larvae, the fly rises and the cone leads the fly up through th small opening and then imprisons it.

The bait should be changed and when changed the old bait should be destroyed in order to destroy any young larvae that might be in the meat. If traps are properly spaced about the pastures, barns and watering places and if every ranchman joins in the fight it will not be long till the fly will be exterminated.

Also all dead carcasses should be destroyed of all animals found dead. Then prompt attention should be given to any animal with worms. None of the larvae should be permitted to pupate. The fight against the blow fly will be a success only if every ranchman joins in fighting the flies on his place. Thousand of live stock can be saved every year at low cost.

Grasp Your Opportunity

Opportunity is knocking loudly at your door!

It wants to get into your thoughts and sing the virtues of the thrift-habit!

The goddess of Contentment, Happiness and Prosperity smiles upon those who have acquired the systematic, methodic, intelligent saving-habit.

Worry, poverty, and debt are the children of extravagance.

Saving is a greater art than earning.

Grasp your opportunity today to be happy, prosperous, and content—start a saving account—all you need is $1.
