Average Age Older?

A communication from the Bureau of Old Age Survivors Insurance, just released, shows that more and more residents of Ochiltree county are getting one of the blue government checks each month in the form of Social Security pension payments.

In fact, total payments to local residents has risen 62 per cent in the past three years.

The government bureau says recipients in Ochiltree county are getting checks amounting to $724 a year, as compared with $678 a year elsewhere in the West South Central States. In the state of Texas, the average is $690.00.

As of January 1, 1962, the total payments in Ochiltree county under the Social Security plan were at the rate of $302,040 a year. On the receiving end are some 417 retired workers, disabled workers, their spouses, widows and widowers, children and parents.

Just three years ago there were only 295 county residents getting Social Security checks and the total was $186,720 a year as compared with $302,040 now. This information may come as a surprise to some people. It may indicate that the average age of Ochiltree county residents has climbed during the past three years.

The "senior citizen" is making up more and more of the population as the life span increases due to better medical care and health of the people.

Whether the Social Security structure is strong enough to withstand the demands that will be made upon it in the very near future is a matter of much speculation in the halls of Congress right now.

Watch the Warrants

Some of the best advice ever given a university graduating class came from Dr. Wallace Sterling, president of Stanford, at this year's ceremony:

"Any invasion that government legally makes upon our purse, property or person, it does with the warrant we have given it."

"If you are indeed genuinely concerned with the enjoyment and expression of your individualism, I hope you will examine with care any warrant you may give to government. Once given, it is difficult to recover."

The whole history of our time is scarred and darkened by these warrants—which result, of course, in the steady erosion of liberties of every kind. We've been luckier if not wiser than most peoples, but that doesn't mean we'll necessarily continue to be. The price of liberty is still eternal vigilance.

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

Some people around here think the Administration's foreign-trade proposition is just a scheme to beat folks out of what they save when buying cheap foreign goods.

Like, say, you save a dollar by buying a Japanese-made worry meter, and the plan is for the government to take the dollar away from you and give it to U.S. worry meter makers to go fishing.

But maybe under freer trade we could import ourselves a set of those foreign-type statesmen who know how to mooch running money off the taxpayers in some other country.

I see where the Senate took the President's charitable medicare plan and wrestled it into a campaign issue.

It seems fair to say this is not proof that our Senators hate old people, but is just a political decision based on the suspicion that the vote yield would be low on any new government hold-out on pay checks.

Anyhow, the government help that is most needed by senior citizens these days is some protection against their kids borrowing their social security money to make down payments on boats.

I see where a couple of Congressmen are wanting to put it in the law to call off all foreign aid in any year when the government has to borrow the money to make said friendly gestures with.

But, of course, hardly any newspapers, and none of our more sophisticated lawmakers are paying any attention to this hinterlandish idea.

After all, when we're on a compulsive-giving binge there is a lot to be said in favor of giving away our grandchildren's money instead of our own.

I see where the President recommends the people quit hollering about the Supreme Court decision against school prayers and do their praying in church and at home.

This seems like good advice, and generally in line with the thinking of our nation's founders, who apparently figured that mixing religion

My semi-Christian says anyhow he fines his religion to church, because his would think there catch to it if they're using any religion in

I see where President said in a speech that and businessmen have learn to understand modern type economics

My sophisticated says anybody can see laws of economics ne ernizing, as they are cratic and work in people with money.

He thinks all laws o be examined regularly preme Courts change, instance by now the Gravity may be unconstitutional.

I see where the Supreme Court decided some shoe ste can not merge, on account, this might create a monopoly and kill off competition in shoe business.

Could be a fine thing for country if more of this merg ing was outlawed.

Like, you take, since the R publicans and the Democrats merged with the Socialists, customers shopping around for better bargains in government haven't got much of a choice any more in the politics market.

Wellington EX-STUDENTS NEWS

REUNION DATES
AUG. 3 and 4

It is never hard to remember our champions or the members of our championship teams and we find every opportunity to honor them. They bring us much recognition and make us swell with pride. This is as it should be. That is one of the reasons we are numbering among our honor guests at the ex-student reunion this year the basketball teams who have won district championships for our school.

Many times though we overlook other individuals and teams who were equally as good or even better than the champions but who for one reason or another were not so named. I have five such teams in mind now that I would like to write a few lines about.

They were the girls teams of WHS who played in the years 1914, 1915, 1916, 1917 and 1918. The best, and I think the only reason they won no championships was that there was no interscholastic league, consequently no champion to be named. There were not many teams then but these girls played every one they could match a game with and they played them often. Believe it or not they never lost a game for all those years.

I think I hear a faint snort of "I do not believe it." Well, I didn't either until I did some extensive research. I searched the old newspaper files and never did I read a word about these teams being beaten. I have talked with everyone I could find who went to school back then who thought I would be interested. The same result from them.

I would like the privilege and honor to list the names of the girls who played on those teams now. I know the one who played in 1914 and 1915 as I have three pictures of the '14 team and one of the '15 team. The rest I will have to go on what people have told me. I know I will leave out some; for this I apologize.

FARM SAFETY WEEK SHOWS YEAR-ROUND SAFETY NEED

A special week to alert rural residents to the hazards of farm life has been set by the President and the Governor, and an intensive campaign is being conducted in Texas to call public attention to this serious problem, according to Sherman Clark of Houston, president of the Texas Farm & Ranch Safety Council.

The week of July 22-28 has been designated "National Farm Safety Week" by President Kennedy, and "Texas Farm Safety Week" by Governor Daniel. Many county judges over the state have issued proclamations calling for county-wide observance of the week.

You Will Need 1962 License Through August

AUSTIN.—It's nearing the time when fishermen and hunters will need to purchase new 1962 licenses. August is the last month in which the 1962 license can be used. Many people still haven't used up their vacation time, but probably expect to do so before Sept. 1. When they finally take off on this long anticipated period of rest and relaxation, much of their time will be spent attempting to fill their ice chests with fish. J. B. Phillips, law enforcement coordinator for the Game and Fish Commission, reminds these people that even though the 1962 license will be good just through August, they will have to have one.

Last month, 211 fishermen failed to buy the proper license and were arrested by game wardens. "Don't be one of those who will be apprehended by our officers in July or August," advises Phillips. "If you plan to fish during these two months, get that license now while you are thinking about it. The reason why most fishermen fail to have a license is simply because they wait until the last minute, and then forget or decide to take a chance." In June, a total of 289 persons were charged with violating the game and fish laws of this state. Of these, 68 cases were dismissed, 3 persons had their fines suspended and one was found not guilty. The fines and court costs amounted to $5,987.27.

Theme of this year's observance is "Family Safety — At Work and Play."

Clark said the observance is coordinated on the national level by the National Safety Council, and the U.S. Department of Agriculture and on the state level by the Texas Farm & Ranch Safety Council, the Texas Farm Bureau, and the Extension Service.

Kennedy, in his proclamation, calls for all persons and organizations allied with agriculture to "join together in a strong effort to reduce the number of farm, home and highway accidents."

In proclaiming the state observance, Daniel said, "Texas cannot afford the loss in human life, the misery of human injury, nor the economic cost resulting from farm accidents, and others involving farm families."

Daniel noted that traffic crashes involving Texas farm families in 1961 resulted in more than 170 deaths, more than 600 injuries and more than 1,600 non-injury mishaps. He urged all Texas farm families to "acquaint themselves with the hazards of their special occupation, and encourage all interested Texans and Texas organizations to take an active part in this campaign for greater farm safety."

Each day of the special week has a different theme emphasized, Clark said. Beginning Sunday, July 22, they are: Reference for Life; Safety at Home; Agricultural Chemicals; Prevent Falls; High Safety; Farm Machinery; Recreation Safety.

Clark pointed out that in year, accidents of all types about 11,300 rural residents injure about a million. Nearly half of the deaths are caused by traffic mishaps.

USDA Developed Insect Repellent Safe, Effective

COLLEGE STATION.—You don't have to spend the time fighting off insects this summer while you are out-of-doors. Such pests as mosquitoes, ticks, fleas, chiggers and biting flies can be made to keep their distance by applying a repellent developed by the U.S. Department of Agriculture scientists on exposed skin areas.

The repellent is commonly called deet. Diethyl-toluamide is the chemical designation. It was synthesized and tested by chemists and entomologists of USDA's agricultural research service. It is now available in ready-to-use containers under several trade names, and has been approved as the standard military repellent.

Deet is effective and safe for general use on the skin or on certain kinds of clothing materials. However, instructions covering the use of the repellent should be followed closely, because the chemical may affect certain paints, varnishes, and some of the plastic materials. The repellent is safe for use on cotton or wool fabrics if they contain no synthetic fibers.

Smeared evenly on exposed skin areas, deet is effective for several hours. It has little or no odor, and it does not cause a greasy feeling on the skin.

For homeowners who are no longer finding DDT an effective chemical against houseflies, USDA scientists suggest the use of one of the commercial sprays containing pyrethrins. Many products containing pyrethrins are available in aerosol containers. The scientists suggest that one be purchased which specifies on the label that it will control flying insects. They recommend the continued use of DDT in areas where houseflies have not developed a resistance to the insecticide.

Enforce the rule of no extra riders on farm machinery. Small children are often injured by machinery in driveways and work areas. Keep them out of these areas unless closely supervised.

Rainer Family Meets Here

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Rainer and Miss Besse Rainer this past week were their sons and brothers, Tom and Bill of Los Angeles, Calif. Mrs. Tom Rainer and daughter, Holly, accompanied them here.

Joining them here were a sister, Mrs. Dan Massey and Mr. Massey and Patty, of Hugoton, Kan., and the daughter of Tom Rainer, Mrs. Royce Murdock of Memphis, with her husband and children.

They also visited in the homes of their sisters, Mrs. Dick Richards and Mrs. Cliff Campbell.

This is the first time since 1939 that the six children of Mr. and Mrs. Rainer were all at home at the same time.

Others visiting these homes were the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Richards, Mr. and Mrs. Ed H. Harrison and children, Danny, Karen and Skipper, of Denver, Colo., and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lowe, Andy and Susan, of Shamrock.

Any Leaguers Top 3-1 Game Memphis

Wellington Pony Leaguers topped a game to Memphis 3-1 Tuesday night, July 10.

Memphis' winning play came home run by the pitcher, who drove in one run and scored himself.

Spillman was credited as the winning pitcher. He went four and a half innings, with the first 9 batters going down in succession. He struck out one more Memphis man before he was relieved by Wayne Barton, who pitched the remaining two and a half innings. He gave up two runs and no hits.

Carroll was the starting pitcher for Memphis and struck 7 men in three innings. Carroll came on in the top half of the fourth and gave up two runs and one run. He struck 10 batters in four innings. Neal Roberts got the first out for Wellington, a single in the fourth. Then Mike Wolf singled in the fifth. Spillman pitched a double in the bottom of the sixth.

Wellington's only run was scored when Wayne Barton walked, then went to third on a wild throw to the catcher. He came in home when Carter grounded from shortstop to first.

Four From Here Attend Farm Bureau Meeting

Four members of the Collingsworth County Farm Bureau are attending the 14th annual Texas Farm Bureau Institute, a training school for county Farm Bureau leaders, which is being held July 24-27 in Corpus Christi. Representatives of Collingsworth county are Mr. and Mrs. Ross Taylor, Monty Mitchell and Frank Kennedy.

"Purpose of the Institute is to provide basic information and training to county leaders so that they can better fulfill their responsibilities in their leadership positions," according to Texas Farm Bureau president, J. H. West. "Specific training will be provided for leaders in the county organization, with additional courses designed to provide better understanding of citizenship responsibilities, agricultural problems, and economic forces," he added.

Special general assembly programs will be conducted by Dr. Harry M. Love, Department of Economics, Virginia Polytechnic Institute; and Dr. C. L. Kay, vice president for Public Services, Lubbock Christian College. Dr. Love will lead a discussion on "opportunity versus security," dealing with economics. Dr. Kay will speak on "Challenge of the Sixties," pertaining to citizenship. Dr. Kay has spoken in Wellington and is known in the county.

will be taught on citizenship acquisition, motivation, people, policy development, execution, Farm Bureau history and philosophy, and public relations. Economics, safety, service, members, and Farm Bureau structure.

Get Together in Amarillo

The annual Collingsworth county get-together in Amarillo is slated for Saturday, July 28 on the north side of Ellwood Park, Amarillo. The get-together begins at 5 p.m.

Those attending are asked to bring sandwiches, potato chips and cookies. No dishes are needed and drinks and cups will be furnished.

Those who cannot come at 5 p.m. may come at any time during the evening, according to the announcements mailed out.

Everyone who has lived in Collingsworth county at any time or who lives here now is invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivy Moody and daughter, Karen, of Southgate, Calif., were here recently to visit her father, Ace Rainey, and her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Rainey and sons.

Prayer Groups Prepare for Baptist Revival

Cottage prayer meeting groups have been planned for Sunday school departments in preparation for the summer revival meeting at First Baptist Church, Glenn Hickey, pastor, announced.

Members will meet together in homes, hear a devotional given by one of the members, and then pray together for the revival meeting.

The meetings are planned for Tuesday, Thursday and Friday evenings of next week at 8:00 p.m.

The youth departments of the Sunday school will meet in the following homes: Tuesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cason Jr.; Thursday evening, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. McQueary; Friday evening, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Jenkins.

Adult I Sunday school members will meet in the following places: Tuesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Wood; Thursday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Belew; Friday evening the Rev. and Mrs. Glenn E. Hickey.

The Adult II members will meet together in these homes: Tuesday evening, Mrs. J. L. Burt; Thursday evening, to be announced; Friday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Silas Crawford.

News of Men in Service

FORT ORD, Calif. — U.S. Army Private Randall K. Scott is presently undergoing basic Infantry training at this Monterey Peninsula training center.

The eight week program consists of such vital military subjects as rifle marksmanship, Infantry tactics, first aid, military justice and the conservation and maximum utilization of military supplies. Upon completion of his basic training, the soldier will go on either to advanced Infantry training or to one of the many Army specialist schools.

Pvt. Scott is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ocie L. Scott, and is a 1962 graduate of Wellington high school.

Joyce Alexander to Represent Co. in District 4-H Club Dress Revue

Joyce Alexander, Samnorwood 4-H Club girl, was chosen winner of the 4-H Dress Revue for the third consecutive year and will represent the county in the district Revue in Amarillo Aug. 1.

Winners in six divisions were named in the county dress revue Friday, July 20, but only the winner of the senior division goes above the county level.

Joyce is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Alexander of Lutie. Her winning entry this year was a dark cotton dress.

Other winners, announced by Kathryn Potter Barjenbruch, were Nancy Alexander, a younger sister of Joyce, second in the senior division; and third, Alona Sain of Dodson.

For the first time in the history of the 4-H Dress Revue in this county, a boy modeled his sewing entry, a shirt. The youngster was 10-year-old Oran Sain of Dodson, younger brother of Alona. The entry was his own idea, as was the use of printed feed sacks as the material.

Placing first in the simple-to-make dresses for 12 and 13 year old girls was Glenda Lancaster of Quail; second, Virginia Patterson of Dodson; and third, Sherry Kendrick of Samnorwood.

In the same category, but with younger girls competing, Susan Coffee placed first, LaJuanda Peters second, and Deborah Peters third.

Younger girls also competed in the division of elastic-waist skirts and simple-to-make blouses. Rita Lackey of Samnorwood 4-H was first; Karen Waters of Samnorwood second; and Laura Whitson of Samnorwood third. Other girls competing were Jenny Powell and Kathy Kiker of Wellington and Debora Talley of Dodson.

In another division, younger girls made and modeled skirts with the waist band sewed on and blouses with a pattern. June Popwell was first; Joye Hudspeth second and Judy Powell third.

As a special feature, Susan

Coffee and her youngest sister, three-year-old Kay, modeled dresses which Susan had made for the two of them.

Altogether, fifteen 4-H Club members participated in the contest. Each participant modeled the garment he or she had made. Approximately 75 attended.

The dress revue is the result of clothing workshops conducted during the year by the adult leaders and the county home demonstration agent, it was explained by Kathryn Potter Barjenbruch, agent.

The Home Demonstration Council gave all participants an entry prize, as did the 1924 Study Club.

Judging the event was Miss Lou Ella Patterson, Gray county county home demonstration agent. She was assisted by Mrs. J. L. Burt. Both garments and record books were scored.

Gibbs Family Hold Reunion

The Gibbs reunion, an annual event for members of that family, was held Saturday and Sunday, July 21 and 22, in the home of a daughter, Mrs. Rodell Byers.

As in the past, the time was spent visiting and reminiscing. A majority of the family members were able to attend.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. Jerrol Peters, Faricha, Jennifer and Dana, of Irving; Mrs. Lavelle Bain and Ronald, and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Beechem, of Dallas;

Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Peters of Lubbock; H. M. Alexander, Miss Sherri Gibbs and Clinton Gibbs of Amarillo;

Mrs. Leona Fales and Patricia and Richard Emerson of Bethany; Herbert Gibbs of San Jon, N.M.; Arthur Coffman of New Mexico;

Earl Gibbs of Quail; Mr. and Mrs. Milburn Gibbs, Nancy Gibbs, Charlotte Gibbs, Loyd Langford, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Caldwell, and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Rodell Byers.

GO-TOGETHERS

Great for sunning and active sports is this two piece suit with matching pullover. The fabric is fashion news—it's non-elasticized cotton knit. Soft and comfortable, it allows free and relaxed movement.

Announcement Made of Wedding of Miss Sherrye Farris and W. L. Couch

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Sherrye Farris, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Olan Farris of Dodson, to W. L. Couch of Borger, the son of Mrs. Lorraine Couch of Gruver.

The ceremony took place on May 29 at the parsonage of First Baptist Church in Clovis, N.M., with the Rev. Mr. Morris officiating.

The bride wore a blue suit with bone accessories.

The couple's attendants were Miss Ann Nita Cox and Harvey Williams, both of Amarillo.

Mrs. Couch was graduated from high school at Arnett in 1958 and attended West Texas State College and Baylor University. She completed her work as a registered medical technician at St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo and is employed in that capacity at St. Anthony's.

The bridegroom was graduated from Turkey high school in 1958 and is manager of the meat department of Safeway store in Borger.

The couple plans a home in Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Savage were in Naples Friday to attend the funeral of an uncle, James Tidwell. On their return trip they stopped in Bowie to attend a high school reunion held Saturday.

Alan and Doralyn Morris, the children of Mr. and Mrs. Ray L. Morris of Grand Prairie, have returned to their home after several weeks visit with their grandmother, Mrs. Dora Ryan.

Inspect Your Fields For Insects Regularly

Insect infestation does not simply grow — it Explodes. A field that is comparatively free of harmful insects can become dangerously infected in a single week's time. That is the reason regular inspections should be made every few days by the cotton grower.

FREE FIELD INSPECTION

We offer a Free inspection service by an entomologist, Bill Young who will be glad to go over your field with you any time you call him.

AERIAL SPRAYING SERVICE

Our aerial spraying service will put down the type of insecticide you desire with satisfaction assured to the grower. We have three Ag Airplanes and we are ready to do any type of spraying you may desire.

THAT RESULT

This is the time of year most farm accidents occur. We may hurry a little more to make up for delays. We may be so busy we become careless. Farm Safety Week is your reminder that a few minutes of your time now may be worth your arm — or your life.

Power farming is more dangerous than making dynamite. Every day 11 farmers die and 89 are seriously injured in farm accidents.

We in this business firm know you and know your family, you are our friends. For your own sake, we hope you will check your equipment . . . check your attitudes and check your actions in FARM SAFETY WEEK.

Electrical Safety

business, too

You cannot afford to be careless with electricity. Don't try to repair outside lines. It can be highly dangerous. Instead, phone us (2536 day or 2308 night) and we will be out immediately to fix the trouble.

Make These Electrical Checks:

- Are all electric circuits equipped with proper fuses?
- Do you cut off current when working on electrical equipment?
- Are you using approved commercial electric fence controller?
- Is the pathway to the main switch box free of all obstructions?
- Do you use moisture proof cords for outside conditions and heavy rubber cords for motors and motor driven appliances?
- Are all electrical appliances in proper condition? Are they properly operated?

If you have one or more of these hazards on your farm, we urge you to correct them now!

Mrs. Eugene Vernon

Home Ceremony Unites Miss Peggy Golliugh, Eugene Vernon Sunday

Miss Peggy Alvalene Golliugh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Golliugh of Quail, was married to Thomas Eugene Vernon in a double ring ceremony performed at three o'clock Sunday, July 22, in the home of the bride's parents. Mrs. Bessie Vernon of Wellington is the bridegroom's mother.

The Rev. John Ward officiated. Arrangements of white gladioli and roses decorated the house.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride's dress was made with a lace bodice, having a low rounded neckline and cap sleeves. A cummerbund marked the waistline, and gathers gave fullness to her dora skirt. A headpiece designed by the bride's sister, Mrs. W. F. Howard, held her shoulder length veil and she carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations.

The couples attendants were Miss Neva Sue Ward, who wore a white taffeta dress with lace trim, and Charles Floyd.

A reception followed the ceremony. Members of the house party were Mrs. Howard, Mrs. Evon Golliugh of Midland, Miss Helen Gibson and Miss Jerri Stephens. Guests were served from a reception table covered with a lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of white roses.

After a wedding trip to points in Oklahoma, the couple will be at home at 1212 West Avenue, Wellington.

The bride attended Quail school, where she was chosen "Most Beautiful" last year.

The bridegroom was graduated from Wellington high school in 1960 and is employed by Warrick Feed Store.

TAKE ME OUT TO THE BALL GAME

It was a beautiful day for baseball. Harriett's fiancé Dick, was taking her to her first big league baseball game. They arrived just before the opening pitch and found their seats along the first base line in the fifth row.

Harriet was enjoying all of the color and excitement of the ball park, the baseball fans, the hotdog vendors, and, of course, the game itself. Suddenly a hard hit foul ball flew into the stands and struck Harriet, severely injuring her.

Harriet brought a lawsuit against the baseball club. She alleged that spectators should be protected from such injuries, and that additional screens should have been put up to prevent fouls from coming into the stands.

But the court said "No" to Harriet. She had chosen to sit in the unsecured bleachers in preference to sitting behind a screen where the tickets cost more. Therefore, she had "assumed the risk" of being hit by a batted or thrown ball during the playing of the game. No recovery was allowed.

In such cases, the courts say that the spectator is an invitee to whom the invitor (the ball club) owes the duty to exercise ordinary care to render the premises reasonably safe for him.

"But," say the courts, "the invitor is not an insurer of the safety of the invitee; neither is the invitee protected against all hazard, nor relieved of all duty to himself for his own safety. And to the extent that the duty of self-protection rests upon the invitee, the duty of the invitor to protect is reduced."

The same rules as to "assumption of risk" are applied to most places of amusement and amusement devices. A swimmer must anticipate that a diving board will be wet and slippery. A person who rides on an amusement device and sees flying sparks takes the chance that a flying spark may strike his eye.

And one who goes upon a revolving floor device for the purpose of being thrown from it, accepts the dangers inherent in the sport so far as they are obvious.

On the other hand, if the danger is not apparent or obvious, the operator of the device had a duty to warn the rider or spectator. It is the ordinary risk that is assumed, not the unusual. Where, for example, a device was operated on a particular occasion at an especially fast speed so that it jerked and jolted violently, a rider who was injured by these unusual conditions was permitted to recover.

A patron of a place of amusement is entitled to be protected from hidden dangers, but he cannot go into a place of danger which he appreciates and understands and then recover damages if he is injured.

Inca Culture Lives Again

Andre Melraux, an official of the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization, believes that signs of a "great renaissance" are becoming visible among the Inca Indians, whose empire was destroyed in 1532. Their language—Quechua—is today more widely spoken than it was 500 years ago, he notes, being used by more than 5,000,000 persons. Spanish missionaries, to advance Christianity, taught the tongue to remote Indian tribes who had never known the Incas, and it has been preserved, as have patterns of behavior and beliefs which the white man has been unable to "tamper with and spoil."

TEXTBOOKS PUBLICIZED

AUSTIN—State Commission of Education J. W. Edgar sent a list of 203 textbooks, offered for adoption by Texas schools, to all county and independent school district superintendents, and recommended that the list be publicized so the public will know it's available.

Textbooks are those which the State Textbook Commission is studying for the 1963-64 school year. Number must be sifted down to 82 by October. This approved list then will be turned to the State Board of Education.

Between Sept. 1 and 15, the committee will hear any objections private citizens may have to the books. Last fall, there were plenty of protests. Major complaint was that the objectors didn't know which books were being considered in examining them fully.

Public Safety Dept. Needs Young Men

An invitation has been issued state-wide by the Texas Department of Public Safety to any and all high calibre young men in the state who wish to compete for one of the 150 positions now available in State law enforcement. "The challenge of the rigid qualifications for patrolmen in the four field services: highway patrol, license and weight, driver's license and motor vehicle inspection is expected to attract many outstanding young men," Major Harry Hutchison, commander of Region 5 of the Department of Public Safety said.

Assignment to one of the above services will be made on the basis of aptitude, interest and ability at the conclusion of a period of basic training, then specialized training in the assigned service will be given in the field and in the classroom after which a home station will be designated.

Applicants must be between 21 and 35 years old, between 68 and 76 inches tall, weigh not less than 2 pounds or more than 3 pounds per inch of height, and be in sound physical condition. They must have a high school education or the equivalent and their record must be able to stand rigid examination as pertains to character and citizenship. Selection procedures will include written and oral examinations.

"Any young man who wants to measure himself against these high standards is urged to pick up or write for the necessary forms from any DPS field office throughout the state," Major Hutchison said.

Formerly examinations were given only three times per year but they are now being administered monthly, the second Saturday of each month, at each of 17 centrally located examination centers throughout the state.

"In addition to offering a challenge which separates the men from the boys," Major Hutchison said, "the Department of Public Safety offers a rewarding career to men who want to follow law enforcement as a profession. There is always an opening and room for advancement for this type of men in the Department," he concluded.

SAFETY HAS TO BE CULTIVATED, TOO!

Outlook for Eggs Explained

COLLEGE STATION. — The South Central States, including Texas, produced 7% more eggs in March 1962 than in the same month of 1961. During the period January through March, these states produced 5% more eggs than in the same period last year.

In reporting these figures, Marshall Miller, associate extension poultry marketing specialist, points out that while production in this area showed an increase, the national average production remained virtually the same.

Although Texas is included in the South Central production area, Texas producers showed a March 1962 production increase of 2% over March 1961. But for the first three months of 1962, they produced about the same as in 1961.

Considering the larger proportion of pullets in the current laying flock as well as the continuing advances in technology, egg production per layer may recover to 1961 levels, says Miller. Over the next several months, the seasonal decline in the number of layers is not expected to be as sharp as last year. Egg production has reached its seasonal high and should begin to decline in a few weeks. It will likely continue above a year earlier until the latter part of 1962, however.

Egg prices are lower now than a year earlier, Miller continues. Texas producers received an average of 31¢ a dozen in March 1962, as compared to 34¢ a dozen a year earlier. Prices in the United States were down 3.7¢ compared with last year's price.

A higher egg production and a weaker storage demand in the second quarter of this year are likely to keep egg prices below those of the same quarter in 1961. Due to the reduced numbers of egg-type chicks hatched during January-March 1962 as compared to 1961, we may have an upward trend in prices during the third and fourth quarters of this year, especially if this downward trend continues in the second quarter. This price improvement could develop if producers could heavier than usual during the summer and early fall months primarily because of the present low prices, Miller explains.

Five unsuccessful drilling attempts were made at Spindletop before a gusher was hit in 1901.

Aged Former County Woman Dies Recently

Mrs. W. T. Hughes, who came to Collingsworth county in 1900, died in Amarillo recently at the age of 91. She had 104 living descendants, including 31 grandchildren, 61 great grandchildren, 5 great great grandchildren.

Before moving to Amarillo recently, Mrs. Hughes lived at Morris.

From 1900 to 1920, when the family left here, Mrs. Hughes lived in the Salt Fork community.

Attending the funeral at Morris were a niece and nephew, Mrs. G. L. Jones of Wellington, and John Aaron of Vinson, and a great-niece, Mrs. J. D. Aaron.

The Memorial Student Center, the "living room" of Texas A&M College, was completed in 1951.

Henry to LCA National Meet

Pasadena, California's Huntington-Sheraton Hotel will be headquarters for the colorful international convention of the Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity, according to executive director Cyril F. Flad of Indianapolis. Over 750 members and guests are expected to attend the 4-day meeting Aug. 26-29, representing the fraternity's 151 chapters in 44 states and 4 Canadian provinces.

Attending the convention from Wellington will be M. Ray Henry, representing his Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity chapter at West Texas State College.

Many notable Lambda Chi Alpha personalities will be honored at this 28th biennial convention, among them being William E. Warne, director of water resources for California; Louis R. Menagh, president of Prudential Life Insurance Company of America; Dr. John O. Gross, general secretary of the division of higher education of the Methodist Church; Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle, World War II flying hero and head of the Space Technology Laboratory, and Basil L. Walters, former editor Chicago Daily News and executive editor of Knight Newspapers, all of whom will receive the Lambda Chi Alpha Order of Achievement Award.

The convention will open on Sunday, Aug. 26, with an interdenominational church service conducted by Dr. Lee F. Tuttle, American secretary of World Methodist Council. Dr. Ralph W. Sockman, minister emeritus of Christ Church Methodist in New York, will address the delegates on Aug. 28.

Successful Farming

MUST BE

Safe Farming

Each year, 12,000 persons are killed in accidents on American farms.

That's more than live in all of Collingsworth county.

Accidents are most costly in human life, but they are also costly in suffering and expense. We urge you — don't take chances. Clean up and fix up your premises and machinery. Be careful with livestock and use extra care with electricity. Keep your farm accident free.

And remember, this bank is your friend. We have worked with farmers for more than 50 years and we are always ready to advise you on farm financing or other farm problems. Most of our staff are dirt farmers themselves. We talk your language. We know what you are up against.

Reddy Ideas

by REDDY KILOWATT

"The kitchen is a country in which there are always discoveries to be made," said a famous French chef. And, bride or matron, you've probably found that out!

Want to dress up that whipped cream pie? Run your potato parer over a chocolate bar (almonds and all!) and make fancy chocolate curls over the whipped cream topping.

Freezing? Line casserole dishes first with aluminum foil. Be sure there's enough to fold over the top. Once frozen, the wrapped food can be lifted out of casserole, freeing it for other dishes. Put foil-wrapped food back in casserole for reheating. (Just a nickel a day keeps a freezer-full of food!)

Stews freeze very well. Freeze roast poultry unstuffed because of the danger of bacteria. Freeze pastries or meat or chicken pies unbaked. Under-cook vegetables when adding to stews and casseroles so when reheated they won't have that warmed-over taste.

To press dark garments, put a black cloth over your ironing board. This prevents dark materials from picking up white lint, saves brushing later.

Just count the ways you use electric service every day. On the job around the clock, around the calendar — can you think of anything else that does so much yet costs so little?

Here's another use for the spray attachment on your vacuum cleaner: use it to apply liquid wax to linoleum or asphalt tile.

Your sewing machine needle won't stick when sewing plastic materials if you sew a strip of waxed paper into the seam. When finished, tear off paper; seam will be perfect.

Something to think about! It has been estimated that in the course of his lifetime an individual eats 64,000 meals, more or less. And somebody had to plan, buy and cook 'em!

In the average American home electricity does in one day what it would take 228 hours to do by hand. Nothing else does so much for so little! And you'll never run out of electricity, because your electric company plans and builds to keep the supply years ahead of the need. Do you wonder why we say electric service is the biggest bargain in your family budget?

Family Health Record Always Comes in Handy

Sooner or later, everyone needs a family health record. Dr. J. E. Peavy, state health commissioner, suggests that you start yours now if you aren't already keeping one.

Kept accurate and current, it can be of permanent value for the children's school records, for insurance data, and for your family doctor's use, the health official says.

A school note pad makes a good record book, but don't use it for anything else. And remember it has to be carefully kept if it is to be of full value.

You can start by jotting down the basic information you already have at hand concerning the injury and illness history of each member of your family.

Start it off with a brief listing of family history. Enter the date and place of birth of each person, and place and date and cause of death of any deceased. Also enter pertinent information and the medical facts about each family member, such as the presence of chronic illness or physical handicap.

Next, start a section for the dates of immunizations, being sure to provide space for each member of the family. Allow room for entering dates of immunizations against whooping cough, polio, smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus, and typhoid fever. Don't forget to include the dates of booster shots.

In a section of general information, list such things as the type of blood each member of the family has, and the drug sensitivities or special allergies of each. If the Rh blood factor is known to be present in anyone, be sure to record it prominently.

The health record ought to include a check list of who in the family has had the more common diseases of childhood—chicken pox, measles, mumps, whooping cough, scarlet fever, diphtheria. Most of these are diseases of childhood, but sometimes an adult is exposed. German measles is a serious threat to expectant mothers, and mumps is a dangerous disease in any adult.

Dates of physical examinations, with a line or two for notes of special advice or instructions that followed the check-up should be noted in the health record. So also should illnesses requiring hospitalization, listing the nature of illness or injury, name of physician and hospital, dates of entry and discharge, length of illness, and type of surgery, if any.

Finally, list the family's health and accident insurance information for quick and easy reference when needed.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Dee Coleman recently were her sister, Miss Mary Sue Brock, of Tulsa, Okla., and a niece, Marye Ann Stark, of St. Louis. Joining them were their son, Capt. John D. Coleman of Ft. Rucker, Ala., who flew with a friend to Cordell, Okla., where the family met him. Their other son and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Mario Coleman and Terri, came from Amarillo.

Mrs. Mary Bledsoe of Olton and her son, James Bledsoe of Odessa, visited in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Bledsoe and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Miller over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bailey and sons, Ted and Tim, have returned home after being called to Oklahoma City and Hatfield, Ark., by the death of her father, S. T. Moore. They also visited relatives in Malvern, Ark., and returned by Arlington to see their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Dunnahoo. Ted Bailey remained there, then he and Mrs. Dunnahoo, the former Judi Bailey, came here Wednesday, July 25.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben F. Lowry of Lubbock, former residents of Wellington, were here over the week end visiting friends and relatives.

Roland Roberts of Amarillo spent the week end visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Roberts and family. Roland is employed by Graybar Electric Co., of Amarillo. He returned home Sunday accompanied by his sister, Alvina, who plans to spend a week with Mrs. C. B. Clark of Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. William Payne and children, Mike and Nancy, of Vienna, Va., have returned home after visiting Mrs. Payne's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Wilkins.

LOOKING AHEAD

by Dr. George S. Benson

POLITICS AND MORALS

The tangled affairs of Billie Sol Estes face news readers daily these days, and no one knows what fresh and sensational revelations will be uncovered during the summer.

At this writing it is not clear whether fraud, larceny, or even homicide belong in the picture, and to what extent.

The misdeeds of Mr. Estes and associates, however, are known in broad outline. They suggest to us some sober reflections upon the state of political morality in America. It will be good for the country if these developments lead to a widespread reassessment of some of our values.

Are we actually getting hardened to scandals related to local or national government? Is our reaction at most the raised eyebrow, when we read of gift deep freezes, vicuna coats, TV licenses, stockpiling contracts, cotton allotments or grain storage favors? Do we simply rationalize that where so many are handling so much, some are bound to take money and some naturally will get caught? Do we not see that big government makes possible bigger and bigger loot? That big government allows big favors and big patronage? Isn't that why many "public servants" want to keep getting re-elected?

The Spoils System

To the victor belong the spoils, indeed! Must we look upon the affairs of our government, the people's business, as a prize to be awarded to the most "promising" elected official who offers the most for the vote? Shall we get on the bandwagon, regardless of any principles, to be with the winner and get in position for the handout? Mr. Estes was apparently doing just this, while himself dispensing favors (or clubbing opposition) all along the way.

Have we forgotten about the Hoover Commission? Is there no way we can cut down on the proliferation of government of which each new bureau seems to create new opportunities for despoiling? Instead, if the government wants more to spend, we just raise the ceiling on the national debt and leave future generations to worry over our profligacy!

Inflation, sometimes purposefully sought by government officials, is in reality a form of stealing from the people who have fixed dollar investments and fixed dollar incomes. It isn't morally right.

Old-Fashioned Morality

What is wrong with Mr. Estes is to some extent what is wrong with America and much of the rest of the world. In a measure, we have been guilty of teaching our neighbor nations that they too can get something for nothing. Some people will work harder for the doubtful dollar or the fast buck than they will for the honest wages of an eight-hour day. This we ought not export. It is a delusion that there are other ways to get ahead than by hard work, that we can beat the laws of economics or even the game of life itself. Worst of all, we act as if integrity is outdated and much too old-fashioned for us. The president recently remarked that our thinking about public problems and especially our "dialog" about the nation's economy, is plagued by "myths" that have little relation to reality. No doubt this is true, for the myth that old-fashioned morality does not apply any more, only expediency, is one of the foremost. This myth is wrong, but it has gotten hold of us. When workers get paid for not working and farmers for not farming, it is hardly surprising when some smart entrepreneur decides to mortgage non-existent fertilizer tanks.

A Sickness

It is all a part of the sickness that we have been weakened with for 30 years: The decay of moral fiber that can wreck this nation. If all morality is merely relative, what is wrong with stuffing ballot boxes, miscounting votes, and buying votes? After all, it's only a step from selling the vote (or buying it) to the peddling of influence and favors, without regard to principle. When the White House plays at this game itself, by maintaining a staff to cajole, threaten and pressure Congressional support for its measures, what is wrong with the rest of the nation doing the same sort of thing?

George Washington emphasized in his famed Farewell Address that virtue or morality is a necessary base for popular government. This is no myth. We need to wake up to the fearsome fact that we cannot build securely on a materialistic foundation. The monstrous mistake of the age, Communism, says we can do so. But, Communism is showing with every passing day the impossibility of building a public morality upon a foundation of materialism. Are we, even while repulsing Godless Communism, going to fall victim to our own cupidity and blindness to principle.

SEPARATING THE S.O.B.s

AUSTIN.—In an effort to "prevent confusion to occupants mailmen and the public" when the second of two sleek, pink marble State Office Buildings on the Capitol grounds is completed soon, the State Building Commission re-named them after famous Texas patriots.

First State Office Building—generally referred to as "S.O.B. No. 1"—now is designated as Sam Houston State Office Building; the second, called "S.O.B. No. 2" was named after John H. Reagan, first chairman of the Texas Railroad Commission and Postmaster General of the Confederacy.

City Group to Youth Rally

A group from the Assembly of God attended the youth rally of that church in Amarillo Monday night, July 23, meeting with other young people from throughout the North Plains.

Representing this church were Billy Wilkerson, Dwayne Pooteet, Max Phipps, Buster Howard, Gary Branch and the Rev. and Mrs. A. D. Stewart.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Millard Brown during the latter part of last week and early this week are her sister and brother, Mrs. Katherine Taylor and daughter, Treasa, and Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Newman and granddaughter, Kim, of Houston.

Mr. and Mrs. Millard Brown and grandsons, Keith, Kenny, and Ricky, returned recently from a ten-day tour through Oklahoma, north and east Texas, Missouri and Arkansas.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Hatch was their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gribble. The Gribbles also visited Mrs. Gribble's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hatch.

Leon Bawcom, a student of the school of X-ray technology at Parkland Memorial Hospital in Dallas visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Bawcom over the week end.

Try Pickle Sandwich Loaf for a Party

A handsome sandwich loaf for a party is made with bologna, braunschweiger and salami with sweet pickle relish.

Pickle Sandwich Loaf

BY DOROTHY MADDOX
PICKLE SANDWICH LOAF
(Makes 8 to 10 servings)

- | | |
|---|---|
| 2 1/2 cup finely chopped bologna | 1/2 cup sweet pickle relish |
| 3 tablespoons sweet pickle relish | 1/2 cup finely chopped salami |
| 2 cup mashed braunschweiger | 1 loaf unsliced day-old white bread |
| 1 teaspoon finely cut chives | 1 package (8-ounces) cream cheese, softened |
| 2 tablespoons mayonnaise | 2 tablespoons milk |
| 1 package (8-ounces) cream cheese, softened | 1/2 cup grated cucumber |

Combine the different fillings:

1. Bologna, 3 tablespoons sweet pickle relish and 3 tablespoons mayonnaise.
2. Braunschweiger, chives and 2 tablespoons mayonnaise.
3. One 3-ounce package cream cheese, 1/2 cup sweet pickle relish and 1/2 cup finely chopped salami.

Remove crusts from bread. Cut loaf of bread lengthwise into 4 equal slices. Spread 3 slices with 3 fillings and place on top of each other in order given. Cover with remaining slice to form loaf. Wrap tightly in waxed paper, then in damp cloth. Chill. To serve, blend one 8-ounce package cream cheese with milk and cucumber. Frost top and sides of loaf with cucumber mixture. Garnish with pickle fans.

"Safety at Work, Play"

National Farm Safety Week July 22 to 28

COLLEGE STATION.— The capped. America's cost: $100 billion. But no dollar total can hope to appraise the priceless value of human life, nor can it comprehend grief, loneliness and pain. No purpose is served by accident losses. And most can be prevented, emphasizes the Council.

Safety is no accident and the accomplishments of rural leaders and cooperating farm families and organizations in their work to reduce accidents was cited by the Council. During the past decade, an 11% decrease in the farm resident death rate has resulted from this cooperative effort.

But, warns the Council, we still have a long way to go to give farming and ranching a safety record equal to other national industries. Until every rural resident makes safety his business, our cooperative efforts must be continued, they add.

Myrett Henry of Plainview was here on business last Saturday. Mr. Henry formerly lived here and operated the OK Rubber Welders. He visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Y. Martin.

Accidents, the Council continues, are the leading killers of young people from ages 1 to 36 and rank fourth in total deaths. From 1950-60, nearly a million persons died in accidents, 95 million suffered disabling injuries, and 3.5 million were permanently handicapped.

Raburn's Remodled Grocery

Thursday — Friday — Saturday

A New Look for an Old Firm

Through the years, Raburn Grocery has been a leader in handling fine foods for the discriminating taste of Wellington families.

When remodeling work began this year, we were pleased that we were chosen to do the sheet metal work. This is vital in the operation of a modern store — especially a grocery store — today.

We can offer you the same high type of workmanship and quality equipment which you find in the remodeled Raburn Grocery.

Leeper Sheet Metal

Verrell Leeper, Owner

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

What a wonderful timely rain. All of the Wellington area is sopping wet and for that matter so is most of the Panhandle and western Oklahoma. This time we have escaped the cloudbursts that hit Childress, Clarendon and other places, but the series of rains brought 3 inches or more to every farm and ranch. Some maize buried before the rains came, but 90 per cent is in excellent shape and it looks like we are on our way to making another whopper.

Judge L. E. Gribble has had occasion to travel over several West Texas counties besides his own five county district, and he says cotton is farther advanced and looks better here than any place he has visited. We have been extremely fortunate in many ways this season.

Good things have their risks as well as their obvious benefits. Up to now the insect damage has been negligible. Jake Lawrence, John Sherman, Dick Sweat and several others have been talking about how well the cotton has been fruiting at the bottom. Evidently we escaped thrips, flea hoppers, etc., that often cause heavy damage to the early cotton. Neither has there been any appreciable damage from leaf worms, boll worms and boll weevils except in spots, but they are there and this wet ground and these leaden skies provide a perfect condition to bring them out in countless millions. Twice a week inspection of all cotton fields is the order of the day.

Now they are using a cotton ground harvester in some cotton growing regions. It follows the mechanical pickers. The ground harvester can cover 30 acres a day and in bale to the acre cotton that would mean 3 bales picked up off the ground. Doane's Agricultural Report estimates that at a conservative 28¢ a pound that means $400 per day that would have been lost otherwise.

Most of the cotton will be gathered mechanically this fall. This reminds me of a scene on the Dodson road two years ago that was filled with paths for me but when I related it to some people they thought it was funny. I was driving back to Wellington and traffic caused me to fall behind a mechanical picker. A pickup filled with cute little Mexican children passed and the youngsters shook their fists at the mechanical monster that was taking the bread from their mouths. It filled me with sadness.

If you can remember when the square was filled on Saturday from 9 in the morning till 10 or 11 at night, then you are not as young as you used to be.

In those days the older people started gathering between 9 and 10 and held what was actually a convention of country people until the shadows began to lengthen in the waning afternoon. Between 5 and 6 o'clock the young people took over and the girls paraded around the square sometimes stopping to shop and sometimes to chat with the boys. It was a carnival every Saturday except it was held on the square and not at the fair grounds. Collingsworth county girls were just as beautiful then as they are today except there were about twice as many of them. The week days were very quiet. Now the merchants do as much business on Monday, Wednesday and Friday as they do on Saturday. Clerks started working at 6 or 7 in the morning and worked straight through till 9 or 10 on Saturdays. Being the young owner of a business I put in the same hours except that my long hours were on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. On Saturday I did what the other unmarried country boys did—I looked at the girls. Those were the good old days all right, but who wants to return to them?

Mr. Moore

Surviving Mr. Moore are four sons and two daughters: Selfie Moore and Lester Moore of Malvern, Ark.; Carl Moore of Salem, Ore.; Bill Moore of Ceres, Calif.; Mrs. J. B. Floyd of Oklahoma City; and Mrs. Bailey. There are 18 grandchildren and 16 great grandchildren.

IN RABURN'S REMODELED STORE

The remodeled interior of Raburn Grocery is seen in part here, with the view extending the length of the store and into the meat department. Mrs. O. B. Raburn, who with her husband operates the grocery, works at right, Raburn Grocery is one of the older business institutions of Wellington to remain under one ownership.

The Rev. Jack Durham, who arrived recently at pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, is in charge of preaching at the revival which opened at the church Wednesday, July 25. The services will continue through August 5.

Texas Cattle, Sheep Producers Lead Nation

COLLEGE STATION.—Texas leads all other states in the liveweight production of cattle, calves and sheep, but ranks 15th in hog production. Iowa is the top hog producing state by a wide margin.

The total number of pounds of cattle and calves produced on Texas farms during 1961 reached 2.8 billion pounds, reports Ed Uvacek, extension livestock marketing specialist. During the same period, sheep and lamb production amounted to 195 million pounds while 288 million pounds of hogs were produced, he says.

Thus, Uvacek points out, Texas production last year of cattle and calves represented almost 10% of the nation's total output. Though the number of sheep and lambs produced in Texas far exceeds the next ranking state, the percentage of liveweight production amounted to only about 12% of the nation's total. This, Uvacek says, is due to the fact that Texans are not as heavily in the lamb feeding business as operators in California and Colorado.

Liveweight production for the nation last year was 29,688 million pounds of cattle and calves; 20,216 million pounds of hogs, and 1,688 million pounds of sheep and lambs. Uvacek explains liveweight production as the total number of pounds produced on farms. This includes the weight gained by animals on hand, bought or born during the year.

Mrs. Dale Pedigo and two children, Machel and George Vincent, of Amarillo, are here through this week visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Scott.

Mickie Ann Kendrick had as house guests this week her niece and nephew, Vicki Jo and Warren Kendrick, of Perryton, the children of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kendrick.

Milk Has Played a Major Role in History

COLLEGE STATION.—The story of milk goes back to the beginning of civilization. Prehistoric drawings, unearthed in the Sahara Desert and dating back 8,000 or more years, feature picture-stories of cattle. A 5,000 year old mosaic frieze, found in an ancient temple near Babylon, depicts a dairy scene showing milk containers and strainers.

Down through the years, emphasizes A. M. Meekma, extension dairy specialist, milk has continued to be a food of primary importance in the diet. The Bible makes references to milk and even describes the promised land as one of "milk and honey." Marco Polo noted in his early travels that the Tartars credited much of their strength and endurance to milk.

The history of dairying in America pre-dates that of the United States as a nation. Meekma points out that the first dairy cows landed at Jamestown in 1611 and helped bring to an end a terrifying period of starvation. Still later, as the pioneers moved westward, nearly every covered wagon was accompanied by a cow, literally, the family's food factory on the move.

Presently, Meekma adds that the milk industry is as modern and highly technical as any American industry. Modern dairy herds barely resemble the cattle of the pioneers. They are much more productive and more scientifically cared for than the herds of only a few decades ago.

There have also been great changes in the processing and distribution of the product. Milk today is pasteurized, often homogenized, often fortified with vitamin D, sealed in sanitary containers and, in general, improved beyond the fondest dreams of pioneer American dairy farmers. It is a food, concludes Meekma, which provides about 28% of our daily nutritional needs for approximately 19% of our food dollar.

Visitors in the First Methodist Church Sunday, July 22, were: Mr. and Mrs. Glen Crawley of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Masten of Canyon, and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hamilton.

Raburn Grocery Has Opening This Week End

Formal opening of the remodeled Raburn Grocery will be held this week end, spot-lighting changes which were completed recently.

Owned by Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Raburn, it is the grocery store here that is longest under one ownership.

The remodeling program included lowering of the ceiling and installation of completely new lighting fixtures and air conditioning. New shelving was installed and new refrigerated counters added. The arrangement of the meat department was changed, and by rearranging other departments, more aisle space has been obtained for customers.

A new glass front was installed in the building, which is owned by Zook Thomas. This, too, has an unusual feature, in that the building has been owned by one family only since it was constructed 48 years ago by the late W. D. Bailey, Thomas' grandfather.

Mr. Raburn came to Wellington in 1920 from Hamilton county and worked for Howell Brothers Grocery located where Otis Grill is now.

In 1925 he bought into the partnership of the Johnson Grocery, with R. C. Johnson and Henry Tice. In 1930, Tice and Raburn bought Johnson's interest, and in 1935 Raburn acquired full ownership.

The store has been in the same location 22 years, and for 17 years prior to that it was in the building where the City State Bank is located.

Through the years, Raburn has been associated with her husband in the store. They have a daughter and six sons, and each of the boys has grown up helping in the store. Two have remained in that line of work.

Their oldest son, O. B. Raburn Jr., is vice president of the First State Bank of Andrews, but prior to that he was manager of a super market eight years, and in the business prior to that. Sam Raburn is manager of Safeway at Longview and Joe Raburn is manager of Thriftway at Dumas. Their next son, Don, is in the Army, stationed at Fort Hood; Randall Raburn, graduated from college this spring, is working in the store during the summer, and the youngest, Douglas, attends school in Plainview and returns to work in Raburn Grocery during the week end.

Their only daughter is Mrs. William D. Taylor Jr. of San Francisco, Calif. Her husband is an Air Force major.

Active in the town, Mr. Raburn is a deacon of First Baptist Church.

He was a charter member of the Rotary Club and had a 13-year perfect attendance record.

Many Wellington people have been associated with the store through the years. At present, Mr. and Mrs. Raburn are assisted by Mrs. Jo Alex Coleman, in addition to their sons, and this summer a grandson, Tony Raburn of Longview, is working for them.

This compares with the first six months of 1961's total of 11 rural crashes, killing seven persons, injuring 13 persons, and causing property damage of $10,660.

In a statewide comparison the total number of traffic fatalities are practically the same as they were this time last year.
