DRIZZLE

Area Catches Half An Inch

The drizzle of Monday and Monday night had accounted for up to half an inch of badly needed moisture on pastures and fields in the area at 8 a.m. today.

The U.S. Experiment Station gauge showed .38 inch, but there were other reports of more than that from many sections. There was one report of a gauge southwest of town where .7 inch was measured.

The mist continued Wednesday as the day began with heavily overcast skies.

There was only a four-degree differential in temperatures Monday, between the high for the day and the low for last night. The high Monday at the Experiment Station was 47 degrees; the low scored early today was 43.

The drizzles are to pass today, according to the forecast. Tomorrow is expected to be slightly warmer.

Reducing Fatalities

DALLAS (AP)—The chief of inspection and planning for the Texas Department of Public Safety foresees the addition of new elements to the state vehicle inspection program.

He is George Busby, who told the Texas Independent Automobile Dealers Association Monday that the percentage of fatal accidents in Texas involving vehicles having a defect contributing to the accident has been reduced from 13 to 3 per cent in the program's 16 years.

"We are positive that we can reduce the 3 per cent figure with the new ammunition given us by the last session of the Texas Legislature," the lawmakers added seat belts, wheels and steering to the program.

Proposed Division

UVALDE, Tex. (AP)—While a state legislator, John Nance Garner introduced a bill which would have divided Texas into five states.

The idea was called "crazy," but Garner always believed it sound. As he reasoned, the South was entitled to more political power and such a splitup in Texas would raise its representation in the Senate by eight votes and add 20 electoral votes.

IF FUNDS CUT Plans To Quit

WASHINGTON (AP)—Federal anti-poverty chief Sargent Shriver threatens to quit his post if Congress slashes the budget of his Office of Economic Opportunity too sharply.

Shriver set no figure but appeared to reject as inadequate the $1.2 billion figure some Republicans have proposed for OEO this fiscal year. The administration has asked $2 billion for anti-poverty projects and last year Congress authorized nearly $1.7 billion.

Jobless Rate Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's jobless rate rose to 4.3 per cent last month, the highest point in two years, the Labor Department said today.

The unemployment rate was up two-tenths of one percent from September and up five-tenths of one percent from August for the biggest two-month rise in seven years.

Surveyor Lunar Landing

This is an artist's conception showing how Surveyor 6, according to its builder, Hughes Aircraft Co., is aimed to come down in the moon's Central Bay (X) in relation to positions of previously successful Surveyors 1, 2 and 5. Surveyor 6 is slated for a planned 65-hour flight to the moon.

Moonship To Test Soil, Take Photos

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—The Surveyor 6 spacecraft raced today toward an intended soft-landing in a rugged area almost smack in the middle of the moon's visible face.

TOUCHDOWN
Its planned touchdown is in the Sinus Medii (Central Bay), considered a prime astronaut landing site despite its roughness. Surveyor 6 carried a television camera and a small automatic chemistry set to analyze the lunar soil.

The 2,223-pound mechanical marvel soared into space from Cape Kennedy at 2:39 a.m. (EST) today aboard an Atlas-Centaur rocket. The National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported early phases of the flight were near-perfect as Surveyor 6 started its 65-hour, 231,416-mile journey, its sensors locked on the sun for guidance.

ACCURATE
Launch officials reported tracking data showed the rocket had been very accurate in sending the spider-shaped craft into space and that only a minor firing of its midcourse motor later today would be required to place it on target.

If all goes well, the Surveyor will reach the moon about 7 p.m. Thursday.

The launching was the second in a busy space week for the United States. On Sunday, the third applications technology satellite was fired from the cape into a stationary orbit over Brazil where it is to conduct experiments in communications, navigation and weather study.

An East Coast-West Coast doubleheader is scheduled Thursday. The first Saturn 5 super-rocket, being groomed to boost astronauts to the moon, is set for liftoff from the cape at 7 a.m., and the Essa 6 weather satellite is to rocket into space at 12:37 p.m. from Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif.

The lengthy countdown on the 363-foot-tall Saturn 5 started Monday night.

In another launching, the Air Force Monday night fired a Minuteman 2 intercontinental range military missile from Cape Kennedy to test a new Mark 12 warhead system.

Two Offensives May Be Started

SAIGON (AP)—Heavy fighting was reported today in South Vietnam's jungled central highlands and along the coastal lowlands. It could signal the start of new dry season offensives by the Communists in the two areas.

Boost Reported For United Fund

Webb AFB and employe divisions gave the United Fund drive a big boost today and raised the percentage from 73 to 77 with $89,846.68 reported.

The Social Security administration office reported 100 per cent participation in the employe division.

The report by divisions include: out of town $9,581; big gifts $33,568; special gifts $5,046; employe $27,386.85; Webb AFB $12,509.83; metropolitan $1,745; and area $10.

Horse Division reported killing 113 North Vietnamese in fighting Monday and today near the division base headquarters in the lowlands 205 miles northeast of Saigon. Korean casualties were reported light.

In a series of sharp clashes in the central highlands 300 miles north of Saigon, 20 American paratroopers and 18 North Vietnamese troops were killed. The units of the U.S. 173rd Airborne Brigade also reported 27 men wounded.

Two companies of the U.S. 4th Infantry Division clashed with a well-armed and entrenched force eight miles southwest of Dak To in midafternoon and fighting raged until just before dark.

The U.S. Command said 10 Americans were killed and 35 wounded. A spokesman said 102 Communists had been killed in scattered fighting around Dak To, 270 miles north of Saigon, in the past two days. Most were identified as North Vietnamese regulars.

JOHN NANCE GARNER

Cactus Jack Dies Today

JOHN NANCE GARNER

UVALDE, Tex. (AP)—John Nance Garner, the United States' oldest living former vice president at 98, died in his bedroom here today. "It was just old age," a companion said.

SPLIT
"Cactus Jack" Garner, President Franklin D. Roosevelt's vice president from 1932 until 1940 when the two men split over the third term issue, had been gradually failing for several hours, the companion, Don Large, 24, said.

"I was holding his hand when he went. He didn't have no (sic) last words. His eyes were open to the last—he wasn't sleeping," said Large.

With Large at the side of the hospital-type bed in Garner's bedroom at the last were a doctor, Garner's son Tully and a granddaughter.

Death came at 8:35 a.m., Large said.

Dr. Sterling Fry, the physician, who had cared for Garner for several years, said his patient had undergone a coronary occlusion just after 1 a.m., followed by hard breathing and a coma-like state.

Garner's last years were quiet ones, while away in the tending of his pecan trees and the feeding of his turkeys around his house.

HIGHLIGHTS
His birthdays were annual highlights, attracting the press and friends from distant points. Last Nov. 22, on his 88th birthday, "Cactus Jack" told well-wishers: "When you're 98, you've got to be feeling either real good or real bad. I'm feeling real good. I've just got two years to go to make 100—it should be easy."

Garner openly enjoyed, in his later years, the occasional visits by the public on such occasions as his birthdays.

"People come by here to see me," he once said. "They want to see what a former vice president looks like. They expect to see some big imposing man."

"And it's me. I'm just a little old Democrat."

46 YEARS
Garner spent 46 years in public life: in the Texas Legislature, in Congress where he was speaker of the House, and when he was nominated to be Roosevelt's first vice president in 1932.

Twice he sought the presidential nomination. The first time was in 1932 when he finally threw his support to Roosevelt. The latter was in 1940 when he unsuccessfully opposed the third term bid of Roosevelt, whom he was then calling "Boss."

After swearing in his successor, Henry Agard Wallace, Garner left Washington. He said he was through with politics.

Tully Garner, 71, Garner's only child, who was in the modest white frame cottage at the moment of death, said "He had a wonderful life. This was the best way to go. No pain, no nothing."

Garner's stay in Austin was brief—but to the point.

TWO THINGS
He came as a representative from 1898 to 1902. In those four years he acquired two things to be identified with him all his life: a district which sent him again and again to Congress, and a type of hat that became an integral part of his personality.

The district was admittedly his own idea. The hat was his wife's idea. Noticing one day the unbecoming effect of a derby rocking on his ears, she went out and bought the young new legislator a new hat.

"This will look better than the other," she said quietly.

Garner discarded the derby and stuck to the soft felt variety ever after.

Early in Garner's life, the ambition to be a statesman was "burning upon him like the Texas sun on a prairie dog village."

He knew there was only one quick stepladder to big time politics in the nation's Capitol—that was a congressional district including his own county.

ELECTED
Cactus Jack knew what to do. He got himself elected to the legislature. For two years he laid low; then in 1900 he began to blossom out with his plan. The newly taken census helped him. He proceeded to carve out of the state a new district including Uvalde County.

His redistricting report was adopted.

Egypt Calls For Urgent U.N. Meet

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Egypt asked today for an urgent meeting of the U.N. Security Council "to consider the dangerous situation in the Middle East" which it said stemmed from Israel's refusal to withdraw from captured Arab territories.

TIME
Ambassador Mamadou B. Kante of Mali, council president this month, immediately began consultations on the time of the meeting.

The request was taken as a sign of Arab opposition to a new draft resolution circulated by the United States in an attempt to break the deadlock over a Middle East settlement. The Soviet Union had said Monday it could not support the proposal.

Soviet sources said the American plan, which calls for positive action by both Israel and the Arabs, was unacceptable because it gives the Arabs less support than an earlier draft proposed by six African, Asian and Latin American members of the Security Council.

FAIR BET
It could not be learned whether the United States would modify the wording of its draft to meet Communist objections or withdraw it. A British spokesman predicted that in any case it was a "fair bet" that the 15-nation council would meet on the Arab-Israeli conflict before the week is over.

Gentle Rain Patters Over Most Of State

By The Associated Press

A massive but gentle rain system spread across more than half of Texas today and temperatures began a statewide return to normal pre-winter levels.

DALHART
Dalhart, the perennial Panhandle coldspot, had an overnight low of 26 degrees but readings never got below the 60s at many South Texas points. Brownsville, which got 17 inches of rain during the night, never got cooler than 65 degrees. The rain area spread from the western portion of the state, moving along at an 18-mile-an-hour clip toward the east.

Clouds began to gather before dawn in deep East Texas. The Panhandle-Plains area was generally clear.

The rainfall system was formed from several spotty showers that developed early Monday evening.

The rain was steady but un-spectacular. There was no lightning associated with the system and no prospects that any turbulence would develop.

PATTERN
The frontal pattern developed out of a low-hanging area of light rain, drizzle and fog that spotted the Rio Grande area Monday afternoon.

Forecast called for continued drizzle for most sections through taking a slight turn for the warmer in most regions.

CROW ELECTED TCMA VEEP
City Manager Larry Crow was elected vice president of the Texas City Manager's Association Monday, according to word received here this morning. He and other city officials are attending the fall session of the Texas Municipal League at Houston.

INVASION OF PRIVACY BEING CHARGED IN TWO STATES

Some States Sell Lists Of Names To 'Junk Mailers'

NEW YORK (AP)—If you've been wondering how your name got on the latest "junk mail" list, you might ask your state motor vehicle department.

MOST SELL
An Associated Press survey shows that most states sell their motor vehicle registration lists—at prices ranging from $70,000 in New York to $8 in West Virginia. Some apparently give them away.

One firm, R. L. Polk & Co. of Detroit, appears to be practically the only customer for the lists and uses them as what must be one of the largest reservoirs in the country for direct mail advertisers.

Polk won't say how much it pays for them—or how much it makes on them—but the survey showed it gets the bulk for a total of not much more than $500,000.

Disclosures of the sale of official public records for commercial use has stirred invasion of privacy controversies in some parts of the country. At least two citizens have gone into court about it.

Most motor vehicle department officials interviewed in the survey considered the sale routine. Typical was the reaction in North Carolina, which sold Polk 2 million names and addresses for $36,000 this year.

"By law our records are open to the public unless they are specifically declared confidential and I guess that's the statute under which we've been proceeding," said Miss Foy Ingram, the North Carolina registration director.

PUBLISHER
Polk is a 97-year-old firm which also publishes 1,400 city directories. "We do not invade anyone's privacy," said Alvin Kropf, Polk's senior vice president. "As business statisticians and publishers, we gathered public information and refine and publish such facts and figures which are set out in open public records."

Sometimes Polk trades for the lists. In New Jersey, for instance, Polk is the super sleuth who tracks down 400,000 parking scofflaws a year. In return, it gets the state's registration list free.

In Nebraska, Polk pays the salary of a clerk in the motor vehicles department. She sends the lists to Detroit, where the slips are alphabetized and returned to Lincoln.

Besides the auto registration list Minnesota sells to Polk, the state sells 50 to 100 lists of various types to various interests. They range from lists of dentists, doctors and restaurants to a computer printout of $10,000 boat owners—the latter for $500.

Polk sells direct mail lists to a wide range of firms, from bankers to fertilizer manufacturers.

Recently two suits were brought in connection with the state sale of the lists, one in federal court in Manhattan and the other in Superior Court in Hartford, Conn.

Both were filed on the invasion of privacy issue and both are still in litigation. They are apparently the only two court challenges of the practice of selling official records for commercial uses.

In Connecticut, clerical worker Norman S. Chapin of Warehouse Point got angry at the volume of junk mail in his mailbox and decided to do something about it. He moved and refused to furnish his new address to the department of motor vehicles. Chapin was threatened with loss of his license and re-elected. But on the day he furnished his new address he also filed suit charging the state was invading his privacy by selling his name to Polk.

INJUNCTION
Judge Joseph W. Bogdanski issued a temporary injunction last May stopping Connecticut's motor vehicle department from selling its list to Polk for an estimated $20,000 a year. But he did it on grounds the state furnished Polk more than a 1965 law allowed.

Judge Bogdanski refused to rule on the constitutionality of selling the lists, leaving that for later full trial. In New York, writer Corliss Lamont is appealing a federal district court ruling against his contention that the state's sale of its six-million-name list for $70,000 a year is an invasion of privacy.

Trial Judge Marvin E. Frankel ruled out the constitutional question. "The short, though regular journey from mailbox to trash can... is an acceptable burden, at least so far as the Constitution is concerned," he said.

NO INVASION
It is no invasion of privacy at all, he said—merely another battle in the state's effort "to tap a small source of revenue."

FOUR RESCUE REBECCA

Black Bear Mauls Girl

CENTREVILLE, Md. (AP) — According to his owner, Yogi, a black bear, is "not vicious" and "won't even eat raw meat."

Rebecca was mauled by Yogi's claws and molars Monday but escaped serious injury when four men came to her rescue and beat the bear with an iron fence post.

She was treated and released at a hospital for bruises and skin punctures on her legs and then left by car with her uncle for their Farmington, N.J. home.

Rebecca and Harrahan were standing near the bear's cage which is outside a restaurant on US 301 near Centreville. Harrahan said they were feeding the bear from food in a coin operated machine when the food ran out and the bear grabbed Rebecca.

She was pulled into the cage up to her waist and her slacks were ripped off. Her screams brought her rescuers who battled with the bear for several minutes before they were able to free the hysterical child.

Yogi's owner, David Wharton, said the bear has molars, but no fangs. He said that even though the girl was bitten, no blood was drawn. Wharton said he bought Yogi from the Baltimore zoo four years ago.

Soviet Union Parades Six Mighty Missile Weapons

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union showed off six new weapons today, including a huge intercontinental ballistic missile, and also hauled an orbital missile through Red Square on the 50th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution.

The red-nosed new intercontinental missile, about 100 feet long, came just before a missile shown on May Day, 1965, that has been claimed capable of striking from orbit.

highly efficient type of propellant. The Tass account said these rockets "need little time to be rocketed for firing and can be launched both from silos and other launching ramps."

Official accounts of the parade today repeated the boast that the mammoth Soviet rocket—the biggest is about 115 feet long—"can deliver nuclear warheads of tremendous power." It was also claimed that "no other army in the world has such warheads."

UNDERWATER SHOT

Another new missile, with two stages hooked together, appeared to have a range between 100 and 1,000 miles, and a new tactical missile was shown with a probable striking distance of 100-200 miles.

The Soviet navy showed a smooth, solid-looking missile with a blunt nose that probably is designed for launching underwater.

Long silver anti-aircraft missiles appeared on a tracked carrier as a new weapon. Official commentaries, apparently referring to a nuclear-headed missile shown in earlier parades, claimed for it ability to knock down clusters of enemy planes.

The sixth new item in the rattle of weapons through Red Square was an armored reconnaissance vehicle with a gun and a small antitank missile mounted on it.

ROCKETS

Soviet commentators used the word "new" only once, saying a three-stage intercontinental rocket was powered by a "new

Shivers Says Firms Can Do Better Job

AUSTIN (AP) — Business should do more to train and hire the "unemployables" of America's slums, U.S. Chamber of Commerce President Allan Shivers says.

Shivers, who was governor of Texas from 1949 to 1957, told a luncheon news conference that business can do a better job of training the unemployed than the government can.

NO JOBS

"Job training is going to have to be more localized — not send people from Brooklyn to be trained in Texas. There is no point in training them if there are no jobs waiting for them," he said.

Shivers said he will be in Mexico City Wednesday to address the 50th annual meeting of the American Chamber of Commerce in Mexico and will lead the U. S. delegation to the fifth Japan - United States Businessmen's Conference in Tokyo Nov. 13-17. He said he will stop in the Philippines on his return trip.

At any minute' Soviet and foreign Communist leaders on Lenin's tomb wore hats and coats but did not have to bundle up since the temperature on the crisp, clear day was in the 40s.

Grechko warned the Soviet people to "increase their vigilance, to be always ready to defend the Socialist fatherland."

Crime, Pollution, Riots Pose Problems In Cities

HOUSTON (AP) — Delegates to the 53th annual Texas Municipal League have been told that growing urban crime, unabated pollution, exploding populations and civil disorders are the priority problems facing cities.

Adult Classes Get Started

Registration will be held from 7-10 p.m. tonight at Bauer Elementary for new students interested in the adult basic education program set to begin Thursday night.

Keith Swim, program director, said classes will meet twice a week for three hours each night over a 20-week period. Anyone over 18 years of age with no more than an eighth grade education is eligible for the program.

Training will be under the direction of Don Hale, San Angelo public schools; Donna Church, Fort Stockton; L. T. Johnston, Texas Education Agency in Denton; S. M. Anderson, school superintendent.

In coordination with the local program, one at the Big Spring State Hospital under the supervision of Bob von Rosenberg, head of the hospital's improvement program, is being conducted for approximately 65 students.

opening session of the league's meeting Monday. Gov. John Connally was to address the 1,600 city officials attending the convention today.

FAILURES

Opening session speakers included Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, Speaker of the House Ben Barnes, Nola White, special Texas assistant attorney general, and El Paso Mayor Judson F. Williams, who also is president of the league.

Smith noted that in the state crime increased 10 per cent in the first six months of this year, compared with the same period last year.

"These are astonishing figures," he said. "They are facts that we can no longer continue to ignore. And they represent failure which we must face head-on unless we choose to destroy this nation from within."

Barnes also called on city officials to solve urban problems which he said contributed to civil disorder.

RACIAL TENSION

"Who wants to see more racial tension and riots, more school dropouts, more economic and social ghettos, more unemployed, more illegitimate children on relief roles," he asked.

White took a stronger stand on civil disorders urging prompt police action when riots seem imminent.

"I think one of the immediate causes of racial riots are black power advocates like Stokely Carmichael and Rap Brown," White said. "Certainly, Martin Luther King's efforts and the organization he heads have been a contributing factor."

POLICE ACTION

His solution called for "firm and immediate police action" to quell disturbances before they spread.

Williams said the one per cent city sales tax is an example of cities and state cooperating to ease cities' financial burdens.

Williams notes that 18 Texas cities, including his own El Paso, have already approved the local option tax and another 75 cities will consider the measure in the next few months.

He called state-city cooperation "one of the most effective partnerships" for aiding problem-beleagued cities.

Dear Abby 'Preacher's Kids'

DEAR ABBY: I read a letter in your column signed "P.K." which means "Preacher's Kid," and it sure made me mad. She said she didn't want to tell people that she was a preacher's kid because she didn't want to be treated any different. As a matter of fact, she sounded like she was ashamed.

Well, I have news for her, Abby, whether she likes it or not she is "branded" so to speak. But she has the wrong idea. If she knew what a privilege it is to be a preacher's kid, she would be telling every one about it, instead of hiding it.

Abby, I know what it's like to be a preacher's kid because I am one, and I never felt that people treated me any different because of it, and I've always had plenty of friends.

Maybe this girl's problem is not with her daddy, but with herself. I've got the best daddy in the world, and I thank God that he's a preacher. I wouldn't want him to be anything else.

DEAR ABBY: This is for the "P.K." who said that as soon as kids found out she was a preacher's kid, they didn't want her for a friend.

I am not a preacher's kid, but I know a few, and I think you know their problem. They are so worried that people will think they are "goody goodies" that they go to extremes to act just the opposite, and turn out to be the wildest, pushiest kids around. (Especially the girls.)

Preacher's kids should just act normal. Most kids don't care what another kid's father does anyway. KNOWS SOME

DEAR ABBY: I have a very serious problem and you are the only person I can ask for help.

I think I have a venereal disease, and don't know what to do about it. I noticed it about three months ago, but wasn't sure what it was. I'm still not sure, but I know that something is wrong.

I can't go to my family doctor because I am too ashamed and embarrassed. Besides, I'm afraid he will tell my parents. I don't know where to turn, Abby, but I know I have to do something about this for "my own good."

Any help you can give me in your column will be very much appreciated. Thank you.

DEAR WORRIED: You can go to your family doctor and be sure that he will treat you and not betray your confidence. If you doubt it, then telephone your local health department. (Look in the yellow pages under "government offices, city and county.") Tell them you want to see a doctor, and why. I urge you to act at once! Your health, and the health of those around you, is at stake.

DEAR ABBY: Will you please inform your readers that when a woman becomes a widow she does not suddenly become "Mrs. Jane Anybody." She remains "Mrs. John Somebody."

I lost my husband a few months ago, and so many of my well-meaning (but ignorant) friends have started to address their letters to "Mrs. Jane Doe."

It's bad enough to lose one's husband without being stripped of his name. Please print this, and sign it please.

GOP Pros Take Aim At Demo Soft Spots

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans are gearing up extensive surveys to target soft spots in Democratic ranks for a $1 million GOP assault in next year's battle for control of the House. The aim, as explained by GOP strategists, is to pinpoint lackluster Democratic congressmen who get low personality—or recognition—ratings from the voters back home and thus may be vulnerable to an attack by a well-known Republican.

SEEK-AND-DESTROY
The strategy, said Rep. Bob Wilson, chairman of the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee, involves a shift of emphasis from a political seek-and-destroy strategy based on statistics to one zeroing in on personalities. The GOP group previously channeled its funds and efforts at "target districts" where Democrats had won their House seats by no more than five percent of the vote. To plot the 1968 Republican assault on Democratic House control, "We're getting set up to conduct surveys in depth far beyond what we've ever done," said Wilson, a California Republican.

Allies To Discuss Nonmilitary Issues

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—Representatives of the 15 North Atlantic Treaty Organization members gathered at NATO's new Brussels headquarters today to discuss closer nonmilitary cooperation, but France was expected to cool toward more togetherness. U.S. officials at the conference, led by Undersecretary of State Eugene V. Rostow, were expected to press the allies to keep NATO as tight as possible for a unified approach toward improving relations with the Soviet Union and Communist bloc countries. The United States would also like NATO members to mesh on disarmament, arms control and ways to achieve German reunification.

COMPLAINTS
State Department sources in Washington said the U.S. delegates hope to persuade their allies to consult more closely on major international issues affecting the Atlantic Community. These sources complained that since the alliance was hampered together in 1949, NATO ambassadors have usually met to inform one another of decisions already reached by their governments. Any such complaints expressed at the Brussels meeting undoubtedly will be met with raised eyebrows from the European members. They have long complained that the United States rarely consults them in advance on anything unless it

Horoscope Forecast FOR TOMORROW —CARROL RICHTER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A very adverse day and evening for doing anything of a drastic or dramatic nature as quick trouble with lasting effect could follow over indulgence or a kind of action that is unmeditated or that even requires decisions of a vital nature at this time. Use your self-control and use only proven methods.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) You do not know whether to listen to a friend of long-standing regarding some vital issue or an advisor, so wait for tomorrow before coming to a decision. Your intuition is not working properly. Don't confide in others.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Do not bring an associate and a higher-up together now or there will be trouble in the office. Be very careful in dealing with all others. A woman you know is in a rather hot mood.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Schedule your time so that you can get your work done and also look into new and more lucrative outlets as well. Consider your own interests. Some out-of-town note could pose quite a problem to keep calm.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Be more practical and spend very little before coming to a decision as extravagant as you have been in the past. Strive for more cordial relations with all. Be more gentle, understanding.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 to Sept. 22) Find a more efficient system to get your work done. Don't overwork and thereby ruin your nervous system. Plan to have shorter shifts with others, whether you go to them or vice versa.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) It would be wise to spend an entertainment and use what you save to take care of small obligations you have. Show that you have good sense. Look into fascinating new outlets as well. Don't invest more than you can afford.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) A family tie could try to seal some plans for expansion that you have, if you permit. Do so quietly, however, and get ahead. Get rid of whatever stands in the way of your progress. Be smart.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) If you schedule your time wisely, you are able to handle both outside matters and detailed work inside very nicely. Act with wisdom, otherwise you start thinking in a confused manner. Take it easy in P.M.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Avoid going off on some tangent with others and concentrate on how to increase your income. Use will power. Be practical. A good day to turn your back on persons who are most unreliable.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Making sure to follow orders of higher-ups and laws that pertain to you is imperative right now. You require their support right now, and some infraction of the law could lead to real trouble. Be calm, orderly.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) First complete that very detailed work before you go off to some new and interesting place, although this is very much on your mind now. Then study into some new phase of your endeavors. Be thorough in all that you do.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN tomorrow He or she will be one of those people who are born troubleshooters, provided he, or she, learns early to be very objective and not become emotionally involved. There is also much ability in taking and weaving threads and businesses and making them pay off handsomely through modernization. Send to college.

INTERSCHOOL ACTION

League Nixes Membership

AUSTIN (AP)—A move to open membership in the Texas Interscholastic League to private and church-related schools has been rejected by the league's legislative council. The proposal was turned down at a meeting Sunday, the results of which were announced Monday. In other action, the council instructed its athletic committee to consider the addition of swimming to the list of league contests and to report its findings next year.

CHAIRMAN ELECTED
W. C. Andrews, superintendent of schools at Gregory, was elected chairman of the council for the coming year, and C. C. Miller, Dallas assistant superintendent, was selected as vice chairman. The council voted to establish standards for athletics in grades 7, 8, and 9. Approved for a referendum vote by member schools were the following proposals: —"A pupil who has represented a high school (other than his present school) or academy in either football or basketball is ineligible only in the sport or sports (football or basketball) in which he participated, for one calendar year in a school to which he changes."

Texan Helps Destroy Two MIGs In Viet Dogfights

SAIGON (AP)—Air Force Capt. Darrell D. Simmonds, 33 of Vernon, Tex., and 1st Lt. George H. McKinney Jr., 24 of Bessemer, Ala., destroyed two MIGs in aerial dogfights Monday—and accomplished the feat with less than 500 rounds of 20-MM cannon ammunition.

GUNS USED
Explaining why he didn't use the missiles on his F17 Thunderchief, Simmonds, the aircraft commander, said, "I learned with guns, so I figured I might as well use them." Simmonds and McKinney, his pilot, were flying air cover for a Thunderchief strike force hitting the Kep Airfield, 38 miles northeast of Hanoi. "We ran into the MIGs who were following our F105 force out of the target area," Simmonds said. "A MIG pilot was firing on a 'tail-end Charlie' (the last F105 out of the target area), when we rolled in on him. "He saw us and started evading. I fired once, but he turned inside of me. I came back over the top and dropped in and hit him with my 20MM just as he was going into afterburner. "Then as I came back around and started out of the target area, Lt. McKinney yelled, Fourteen charges were filed for traffic violations and drunkenness. Fines for traffic violations totaled $160 and drunkenness $355. Four were charged with minors in possession of alcoholic beverages and fines totaled $200. A fine of $25 was assessed for disturbance of the peace.

Baptist Fellowship Dinner Scheduled

The First Baptist Church will have its Fellowship dinner at 7 p.m. Wednesday in the Big Spring High School cafeteria, and indications are that at least 425 members will be on hand. Arrangements are being handled by a committee headed by Billy T. Smith. The affair will take the place of the mid-week service and will include a report on the church program and the annual stewardship emphasis. There will be a party at the church for young children, and the nursery will be open there, also.

Two Guilty Pleas

Two guilty pleas were accepted by Lee Porter, county judge, Monday afternoon. Tim J. Bishop, charged with defrauding an innkeeper, was sentenced to 15 days in jail. He must also pay costs in the case. J. C. Crump Jr., charged with DWI, was fined $50, costs in the case and placed on three months probation.

Guides To Meet

The Longhouse of the Y Indian Guides will have an important meeting at 7:30 p.m. today in the YMCA building. All tribal chiefs, together with representatives from those tribes, are urged to attend, said Curtis Mullins, general secretary for the Y. One of the items of business will be the election of Longhouse officers.

Doctors quit smoking

CHICAGO — According to a recent survey, 52% of American doctors do not smoke. Many quit recently due, according to the Anti-Tobacco Center of America, to the conclusive evidence linking cigarettes and lung cancer.

Many doctors gave up smoking without straining their will power thanks to a new tablet which helps to progressively eliminate the need for nicotine and, as a result, the desire to smoke. Less than 2% of the 154,000 people who tried this tablet reported they still smoke!

Smokers interested in receiving information (free) about this new tablet are invited to contact directly the Anti-Tobacco Center of America, Dept. 101-N, 366 Fifth Avenue, New York 1, New York.

GOP Governors May Have A Voice

For the first time since 1952, Republican governors seem to be prepared to fight for a presidential nominee at the party's national convention next year in Miami. It's an intriguing prospect—especially if they come up with a winner as they did in 1952, Dwight D. Eisenhower.

There are 25 Republican governors this year, as compared with only 16 in 1964. They had many private conferences aboard ship en route to the Virgin Islands during the recent governors' conference. They continued to have daily, intimate contact ashore, too.

One salient fact emerged from those discussions: There is nothing approaching agreement on the party nominee for 1968. Nelson Rockefeller, Richard M. Nixon, George Romney and Ronald Reagan were the most prominent names discussed.

But the lack of consensus on a candidate has not prevented agreement in principle on asserting themselves at the national convention. The governors made it plain that they expect to be consulted and wish to have a major role in the selection of a platform for the nominee. They have given up hope of ousting Sen. Everett M. Dirksen as chairman of the platform committee, but they intend to try to have one of their members chosen as co-chairman. They hope thereby to balance the overly-conservative—some say old-fashioned—image of Dirksen.

The debacle of 1964, when moderate Republicans discovered too late that Barry Goldwater's workers had sewed up delegates, will not be repeated in 1968. It is a healthy sign. There are many young, vigorous and promising Republican governors now in office. Their voices should be heard plainly in the councils of their party.

Another Argument For Revision

The ludicrous spectacle of high state officials ranging as far as $100 million apart on how much new tax money the state government must get for the next fiscal year again emphasizes the crying need for a sensible, simplified fiscal system.

The zany fiscal nonsystem of the Texas state government grew like Topsy by statutes and constitutional amendments over the decades since the 1876 state constitution was adopted. It would take a large volume to discuss its anachronisms and complications, but the following may give some idea.

No single agency administers state fiscal affairs. An elected comptroller is tax collector and bookkeeper. An elected treasurer is custodian of funds. A state auditor, appointed by the Legislature, audits the books of over a hundred independent state agencies. A board of control, appointed by the governor, is purchasing agent. The Legislative Budget Board and the governor's budget office submit separate, usually conflicting, budgets to each legislative session.

The Legislature's general appropriations are from the general fund, really only a fraction of the state's income and outgo. The bulk of revenue is earmarked to go automatically into more than a hundred special funds, where surpluses may pile up in relatively unimportant funds while vital funds are threatened with deficits. The state constitution requires pay-as-you-go government, even for permanent improvements, so bonds are issued by constitutional amendment.

No wonder that now, within months of when the Legislature must provide financing for the next fiscal year, official and semi-official estimates of new tax needs vary by tens of millions of dollars. All of this, unfortunately, has become a cherished tradition of absurdity—apparently based on the Alice-in-Wonderland theory that the best way to protect the state's money is to prevent any central responsibility for its management.

Among the many reasons why the Texas constitution should be rewritten or replaced, none is weightier, than the need to remodel completely the state's fiscal operations. For how can we know how well our state tax dollar is being used when we can't even guess closely how much more tax money will be called for less than a year from now?

War Is Hell-On The Campus, Too

WASHINGTON — The operations room of the 24th U.S. Army Recruiting Corps was tense with excitement. Gen. Rubicom, the commanding officer, came in with his staff and stared at the map on the wall.

"Any news from the front, colonel?"

"Yes, sir. We've heard from the Dartmouth patrol. They managed to get on campus unseen and got their card table set up in the administration building. They report they signed up four students for Officers Candidate School before they were discovered and had to retreat."

"Good show. Any word from Princeton?"

"NO, SIR. Not for two days. The last report we had was that Capt. Reilly and his men were surrounded by students who wouldn't let their car move. They're running short on water and food, and I don't know how much longer they'll be able to hold out."

"Call the Air Force and ask them if they'll make a drop."

"I did, sir, but the weather's been bad and all planes are grounded."

"Dammit, colonel, we've got to get relief to them somehow."

"I KNOW, SIR. We were thinking of sending in a relief force, but we've used up all our reserves at Harvard."

"What's the situation at Harvard?"

"Lt. Shivers is trapped with three recruits in the office of the Harvard Crimson."

"Lt. Shivers?" a major cried.

"That's my brother. How can you send a kid up to a place like that?"

"EASY DOES IT, major." Gen. Rubicom said grimly.

"Lt. Shivers knew what he was doing when he volunteered for the 24th U.S. Army Recruiting Corps."

"Sure, you can say that standing here in this nice comfortable office seven stories underneath the Pentagon. But what about the kids you send out day after day to Ohio State and the Universities of Michigan, Wisconsin and Berkeley? What are you running, a suicide mission?"

"MAJOR, I will overlook your insubordination because I know how you feel about your brother. But I would just like to assure you that I'm not heartless. How do you think I feel every time I send a patrol out to Yale or Columbia or Oberlin? Sure, I know they may never come back. But we've got a job to do, and I can't let emotion stand in the way of the Army's recruiting plans. Somebody's got to do the dirty work. War is hell, son."

At this juncture, the colonel says, "Sir, we've just got word from Reilly at Princeton."

"What does he say?"

"His message reads: 'Send us more students.'"

THE GENERAL smiles. "Isn't that typical of Reilly, Colonel? I want to recommend him for the distinguished recruiting cross, and send out that quote to the press. We need a hero at a time like this."

"Sir, the 1st Provisional Recruiters Brigade has just got back from Stamford, a staff officer says."

"How many missing?"

"FIVE, Schwartz, Weatherill, Puchinski, Kelly and Ascereil were last seen going into the student union to rescue a Dow Chemical Co. recruiter and they never came out."

The general looks off into space and says, "Why do the good ones always go first?"

Will Kremlin Cozy Up To U.S.?

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's been like watching a Russian bear eat an electric light bulb.

Surprise, convulsions, indigestion, internal bleeding, thrashing around half out of mind and digestion restored have all been part of the process since the Bolsheviks took over the Russian revolution 50 years ago today.

Surprise — The Bolsheviks were caught flatfooted, unprepared for the takeover when the revolution began. They got themselves together, grabbed their chance, and communism has been in charge since.

CONVULSION—The beginning was dreadful. The struggle with the other factions which were split and indecisive; civil war, and economic collapse.

Indigestion—Lenin and his Bolsheviks started out as the apostles of Karl Marx. But they twisted Marxism to suit their needs. And Lenin even partly restored capitalism for a while.

INTERNAL BLEEDING — From the beginning there was a blood bath. It became a hemorrhage in the 1930s with Stalin's purges and executions, his device for eliminating rivals, real or imaginary.

Half out of mind—Stalin was a mental case, one of the most vicious in history, who reigned through terror for 29 years from the time Lenin died in 1924 until his own death in 1953.

BUT WHILE terror was his weapon, power was his language. Under him a primitive nation became a world power, with all that meant. For only a brief moment the United States had a nuclear monopoly. Stalin quickly broke it.

Digestion restored—With Stalin's death, some sanity was restored. Restrictions were eased, and the Soviet Union began to look a little more like a civilized society, starting with Nikita Khrushchev, later dumped, in the 1950s.

AFTER ALL this agony the most obvious question, one which must fill every other nation with apprehension, is: What will happen inside the Soviet Union and what will it do in these next 50 years?

In time the Soviet Union may surpass the United States as the world's No. 1 industrial power—it's No. 2 now—with increasing prosperity for its people. But the Soviet Union has also suffered a shattering defeat. For most of the past 50 years it not only dominated world communism but the world's thinking about it.

THAT'S GONE. Gigantic Red

China is its rival and apparently its enemy and is fast on its way to becoming a great nuclear power. When that happens the future of the Soviet Union and of mankind may depend on the answer to this question:

Will it manage to team up with the Red Chinese against the rest of the world or, out of fear of China, will it cozy up to the United States and the West in search of allies against Red China?

Stars Guide Star

NEW YORK (AP) — Tom Krause is an opera star who looks to the heavenly stars for career guidance.

The brilliant young Finnish baritone, who received an ovation at his Metropolitan Opera debut this season, is a firm believer in the occult sciences, particularly astrology.

"BOTH MY WIFE and I have studied it for years," he said. "It may be psychological, it may be hogwash, but I have found that for me it works. It works positively, and it works negatively."

Krause, who said astrology had helped him to give up smoking, tries to arrange his concerts and recordings — he's recognized as possibly the world's finest interpreter of the songs of Sibelius, the Finnish composer — when his horoscope is most favorable.

"IF THAT can't be done"—he shrugged — "I go ahead, and make the engagement anyhow, but it's likely to be much harder to do it at all."

Tom, 33, brown-haired and green-eyed, studied to be a psychiatrist, but gave up a medical career, after spending a year taking voice lessons in Vienna.

"To find a road to my own essential being, I found I had to become a singer," he said. "It is a good life, but a demanding one. You can't let your voice go to seed, and in the end you become a servant of it."

"It is a capricious instrument, affected by humidity, the psyche, an upset stomach, the people around you. It is affected by everything. You have to do vocal pushups every day to keep it in condition."

AN INTENSE, mobile-featured handsome man with an easy sense of humor, Tom speaks six languages, and his expressive hands, busy in gesture as he talks, make up a seventh one. Krause believes his interest in the occult is only an expression of a preoccupation with fantasy and the mystic which is typical among Finns because of their closeness to the wilderness of nature in their uncrowded homeland.

NO IVORY tower classicist, Tom can play a good jazz guitar and accordion and is interested in ballet and choreography. He is an expert skier, ice skater and fencer.

His home base isn't Helsinki but Hamburg, Germany, where he usually sings for six months of the year. He has a concert scheduled in Washington for Nov. 18 and one in San Antonio, Tex., Dec. 12, and next year hopes to tour the United States.

Around The Rim

Good Samaritan Gets Cautious

In big cities, if a fellow walking ahead of you stumbles and falls, you do not stop and help him. You do like the other pedestrians — walk wide around him and leave him on the sidewalk. A cop may come along or maybe someone will call for help.

I USED to be amazed at these things and appalled at what appeared to be the utter lack of humanity on the part of people who so callously ignored the distress of a fellow man. I am no longer amazed. I still regret hearing of such incidents, but at least I understand how it is they occur.

If you want to know the reason—it's because of the way laws are written, interpreted and enforced.

IT IS ALSO because there are people who are so unscrupulous in this world that they are eager to twist any act of kindness into a ruse to provide them with profit.

Let's suppose you are walking along and see a man or a woman suddenly waver and topple to the sidewalk. You are a kindly person and rush forward to try and help the victim. You kneel and perhaps try to raise him.

Your intentions are the best in the world. After a time, perhaps, a police officer or an ambulance comes. The victim is hauled away. The authorities take your name and address.

THE VICTIM when he reaches the hospital comes to himself. He begins a wild search of his pockets and announces that he has been robbed. Someone has taken his billfold, he claims.

Who bent over him as he sprawled on the sidewalk? Who had the opportunity to get the alleged missing billfold? Who will the police come to interview and against whom will the lawsuit be filed by the alleged victim?

Suppose you see a hoodlum beating another person and you rush in and try to intervene and have to use force to quell the hoodlum.

WHAT HAPPENS? He has you arrested for aggravated assault and files a damage suit against you.

Unfortunately, these are anything but far-fetched. They happen daily in this land of ours. You try to do someone a good turn and wind up in court or maybe in jail.

THE NEWSPAPERS made a great play of a case in one of our larger cities where a hoodlum beat a young woman into unconsciousness and raped her while a dozen or more men and women stood by. No one stepped forward to help the girl; no one attempted to halt the attacker.

The reason for this apparent cowardice on the part of the spectators? Were they insensitive, or were they conditioned to a deplorable situation which exists in our society?

You do not meddle in such matters. The least that can happen to you is that you are perhaps involved in the courts. It is possible you could be ruled by officials as a material witness and locked in jail without recourse to bail.

IN COURT, if you happen to be a witness of a crime and are called to testify, you may rest assured the defense attorney will do all in his power to discredit your testimony and make you seem stupid.

So in bigger cities, who can blame you if you stumble on to something and just let it happen without intervening?

The Battle Over Poverty

WASHINGTON — For the Office of Economic Opportunity Halloween is coming late this year, and the rule is all tricks and no treats. As the House in a shambles of disorder and leaderless confusion prepares to take up the poverty program anything can happen, not excluding the possibility that EOE will be tossed out.

IT IS NOT HARD to find reasons why this should be so. A voting coalition of Republicans and Southern Democrats shattered the Johnson consensus, and EOE is a principal victim because of the deep discontents of white middle-class America. The riots, crime in the streets, the threat of even more radical and violent change—all this hardens resistance to any change at all. And the voting coalition represents, insofar as it is representative, the stubborn stand of the white suburbs and the Deep South.

THE TRICKS BEGAN even before Halloween. In the snarl in the House over economy versus a tax cut funds for EOE were shut off along with money for several other agencies. Oct. 31 was EOE's last payday. Across the country projects such as Head Start are being suspended unless workers stay on as volunteers without pay. Unless Senate and House agree on a resolution to continue the agency's funds at current levels, and no one is sure this will happen, the headquarters staff will be payless.

BY A SPECIAL amendment to the Federal pay raise bill Congressional hostility to the anti-poverty workers was demonstrated when they were specifically excluded from the general salary increase. In the battle of budget cuts as against new taxes the house cut the rate of EOE spending $400,000,000 below that of 1967.

THE CONTRADICTION of this deeply embedded hostility is the fact that unlike another program in serious trouble — foreign aid — EOE has a wide and articulate following in the country. Few voters will fight, bleed and die to give tractors to farmers in Brazil or Thailand. But in the slums there is evidence of a growing understanding of what the poverty program can mean.

And not only in the slums, since at the state and city level those struggling with the rising tide of disaffection and violence look on the Federal poverty program as shoring up their efforts. In this number are many Republican Mayors and Governors.

REPUBLICANS in the House have not all favored dumping the poverty programs. Early in the session Reps. Charles Goodell of New York and Albert Quie of Minnesota put forward a substitute Opportunity Crusade which would have turned most of the anti-poverty war over to Health, Education and Welfare. Goodell and Quie are now sponsoring an amendment to "restore true involvement of the poor in the Community Action Program."

They mean this to counteract the move of Rep. Edith Green (D-Ore.) who succeeded with a proposal in committee which would give authority to Mayors and county officials. That, in Goodell's words, means that a so-called Community Action Board would be completely subservient to local political machines. In the South it would spell the end of programs intended to breach the wall of the white oligarchs.

AT TIMES the struggle over EOE seems to be a battle among the bureaucrats, with the poor, the jobless, the hungry, the dispossessed merely pawns in a political chess game. They have little reality in the rhetoric of friend or foe. At the paradox of paradoxes is that almost everyone will concede that unless action is taken on a far larger scale than now contemplated the urban explosion of next summer threatens to make Newark and Detroit hardly more than a Fourth of July salute.

The Peace With Freedom Committee

WASHINGTON — No doubt because my last name begins with "A" and has some alphabetic priority on any list (just below Acheson), a number of persons noticed me as one of the founding members of the Citizens Committee for Peace With Freedom in Vietnam — and they have asked me why.

Why, in particular, the association of an arch-conservative, as I am rated, with the arch-liberal, former Sen. Paul H. Douglas, who is prime mover and organizing chairman of the Peace With Freedom Committee?

WELL, THERE is no anomaly in such a combination of "citizens," a word that is part of the committee title. I am always amazed to find people who believe that conservatives and liberals form inbred societies, and speak only to their own kind. Sen. Douglas invited me to be among the founders of Peace With Freedom. I accepted, in the main, because Paul Douglas is a man I would follow into any field where the honor and life of America are at stake. I think he is salient among the liberal intellectuals in that his love of country is heartfelt and constant.

CIRCUMSTANCES AT home and abroad have brought us to a crisis in which that over-used word is not a misnomer, not a hyperbole. Honor and life of the nation are at stake on the battlefield, the campus, the city street, the avenues and even the citadels of American government. Heartfelt and unshakable love of country is the need. But the less public emoting about it the better. Let patriots arm themselves with information about Vietnam, and let them march forth as educators on this front, and let them conquer by the ultimate weapon, which is Truth.

IF I UNDERSTAND the Peace With Freedom committee, these are its purposes: Douglas has said that this group speaks for the hitherto "silent center" which needs to make itself heard above the raucous din of public demonstrators and polemic debaters.

This committee is formed to save souls and skins, but not to snatch any political chestnuts out of the fire. The committee intends to pick up a much-mended end of a dialogue, and will make the American cause heard through its speakers bureau, its publication of pamphlets and the issue of policy statements. No mystique is attached to its operations. An open-door headquarters stands at 1028 Connecticut Avenue, N.W., Washington, telephone 659-1145. I can do no better here than to delineate the four objectives:

1. — AN UNDERSTANDING of the Vietnamese people, country, culture and historical background.
2. — An explanation of why we are in Vietnam in such force.
3. — A running report on what, why and how our forces, and our allies, are doing there.
4. — An examination of our future in that country.

THE COMMITTEE'S title is chosen to be self-evident. It is a group of citizens, neither politicians nor special-pleaders for any particular tactic or strategy. The central words, Peace With Freedom, clearly rule out any abandonment of Vietnam to the Reds or to any other dictatorship.

There is nothing obscure about such terms, peace and freedom. They are long-lived American aspirations, not ever realized, God knows but sincerely desired, and never more so than now.

Voters To Elect Scores Of Mayors, 2 Governors

WHAT TO LOOK FOR

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two states choose governors and scores of cities elect mayors today, deciding some contests in which Vietnam, race and the church-state relationship are issues.

Negro candidates face white candidates in Gary, Ind., and Cleveland while Boston's mayor's race features a woman candidate best known for opposing busing of Negro students to white schools.

VIET ISSUE Election-eve court decisions were necessary to clear the way for the Gary election and for the use of National Guardsmen if necessary to insure peaceful balloting.

Legislatures are being chosen in New Jersey, Virginia and Mississippi.

Gov. Roger D. Branigan of Indiana ordered National Guardsmen to the Gary area and the state's Supreme Court later threw out Monday a lower court injunction that would have banned use of the troops to insure a peaceful election.

A three-judge federal panel excluded its consideration of election-rigging charges brought by Hatcher by ordering court officials to guarantee a fair election.

Hatcher and the Justice Department had filed separate suits charging the county's Democratic chairman conspired to remove Negroes from voting lists while adding ineligible whites.

TOSS-UP Observers rated as a toss-up the race between Hatcher, a lawyer and city councilman, and businessman Radigan.

In Cleveland's race for mayor, Democrat Carl B. Stokes, Negro lawyer and state legislator, is slightly favored over Republican Seth Taft, member of the distinguished family that has produced a president and other notable political figures.

Boston's nonpartisan mayoral election also is tinged with the racial issue. Louise Day Hicks, who as a school committee member opposed busing of Negroes to white schools, opposed Kevin H. White, Massachusetts secretary of state. Mrs. Hicks sought to become the first woman mayor in the city's 337 years.

UPSET CHANCE In Philadelphia, Republican Dist. Atty. Arlen Specter is given a good chance to upset Democratic Mayor James H. Tate.

Republicans also are highly hopeful of taking the Kentucky governorship for the first time in 20 years. The GOP now has

Bank Burglary Suspect Nabbed At Court House

Doyle Sanders, under indictment here for worthless check, reported to the court house on Monday afternoon to ask that an attorney be named to represent him.

While he was on this errand federal authorities out of Abilene arrested him for a charge of bank burglary.

He was removed to Abilene by a deputy marshal shortly after his arrest.

Wayne Burns, district attorney, said he knew nothing about the federal charge against the defendant. He is wanted here, the district attorney said, for writing a worthless check for $140.

Sanders has been at liberty on bond pending hearing of his local case.

Express Reporter Killed In Smash

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Richard Trevino, 30, a reporter for the San Antonio Express, was killed when his car struck a parked truck south of San Antonio Monday night.

Attorney Says Nashville Rioters Included Ex-Cons

WASHINGTON (AP) — An attorney testified today that rioters, including a number of ex-convicts, were present in a crowd which began the April rioting in Nashville, Tenn.

James F. Neal, a private attorney who represented Mayor Beverly Briley and other Nashville city officials in a case resulting from the April 8-10 disorders, made his comments before the Senate investigations subcommittee.

"I DON'T KNOW" Neal, the former U.S. attorney for the middle Tennessee district who successfully prosecuted former Teamster boss James R. Hoffa, summarized the events of the Nashville rioting as determined by a three-judge court.

Neal described how the crowd grew in front of the University Inn, which he said was a beer joint, after the police arrested a man in the place.

Committee chairman John D. McClellan, D-Miss., asked Neal if the ex-convicts in the crowd were natives of Nashville or outsiders.

"I don't know," came the reply. "But their names are on the record."

Only 270 are needed to win the presidency and a GOP victory in Kentucky would raise the party's figures to 26 states with 304 electoral votes.

WELFARE The Republican candidate in Kentucky is Louie B. Nunn, a conservative lawyer from Glasgow in Southern Kentucky. Henry Ward, former highway commissioner, is the Democratic nominee.

In Mississippi, veteran U.S. Rep. John Bell Williams, a Democrat and staunch segregationist, is expected to have no trouble rolling up a substantial margin over Republican Rubel Phillips in their race for governor.

From Phillips, Mississippians got a new sort of campaign argument—that the economic welfare of whites and Negroes is linked and one race cannot advance unless the other does too.

Phillips is a Jackson lawyer and one-time Democrat. Williams is a 20-year veteran in Congress.

Pork Barrel Items May Cost Billions

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate this week begins considering $52 million worth of pork barrel projects that could carry an ultimate price tag of $4.1 billion.

The $52 million—included in a $4.7 billion package of public works bills—is the first-year cost of construction starts, new planning starts and the extension of planning projects begun in previous years.

The ultimate cost of those is $4.1 billion—and it will swell the total commitment for pork barrel projects planned or under construction to $15.2 billion.

PATRONAGE

The dictionary defines pork barrel as a government project yielding rich patronage benefits. Included are the dams, power projects, levee work and harbor construction so dear to a congressman's vote-getting heart.

For a Congress that has talked economy, the final bill is a huge escalation of comparatively modest administration proposals.

President Johnson recommended nine new construction starts that would have cost $7.4 million in the fiscal year that began July 1. Their cost on completion years hence would have totaled nearly $153 million.

C-C President Calls For More Member Support

If the Chamber of Commerce is to maintain its area of services and coordinate civic-leadership programs in the community it will have to have more membership and financial support. President Lee O. Rogers told directors at a board meeting Monday.

The organization ended October with a $3,259 deficit, and this can be overcome and a program of work continued only through increased membership help, Rogers said. He said a special membership campaign must be undertaken immediately.

The organization is looking toward another year-end change-over, and the annual membership banquet is tentatively set for either January 13 or 20, said Don Womack, chairman of a special committee. He said a speaker likely will be lined up before the week is out.

Rogers named a committee of former presidents as a nominating committee, to select 10 director prospects. From this list to be submitted to the membership five new directors will be elected, under a rotation system on the 15-member board. The directors subsequently will elect officers.

On the nominating committee are Adolph Swartz, John Currie, Marvin Miller and Dr. Carl Marcum.

Directors were urged to participate in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce industrial conference to be held here Wednesday.

There was some discussion of the city's study of a possible referendum on a one-cent city sales tax, and board members were invited to a commission meeting at which all phases of the topic may be discussed and clarified. Many Texas cities this month are voting on the sales tax—and scores of others already have adopted it—under special permissive statute adopted at the last session of the Legislature. The purpose is to permit cities to find other sources of revenue to meet their needs other than the ad valorem property tax.

Tennis Bum Proves Professor Wrong

PROVO, Utah (AP) — Professor Joseph Wood of Brigham Young University has an unusual way of settling student grievances.

The history instructor challenges the dissenter to a tennis game. The winner also wins the argument.

Wood recently came out loser in a disagreement with freshman Roy Prescott of Jerome, Idaho, who felt there were too many exams.

Prescott beat the sporty professor two out of three games so there will be fewer examinations in Wood's classes from now on.

Aardvark Public Debut Scheduled

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The only Aardvark ever known to survive birth in captivity will make her public debut this weekend at Crandon Park Zoo—with neither a name nor a fur coat.

The seven-week-old, 10-pound star of the park will have a cage of her own, but it will have to go in the reptile house. Crandon doesn't have an Aardvark house, officials explained.

She'll have to remain little wrinkled "what's-her-name" until Thanksgiving when zoo officials will pick a monicker from more than 600 that have been submitted by Aardvark admirers around America.

Knights Set Roll Call Here

Frontier Lodge 43 of the Knights of Pythias will hold its annual roll call Wednesday evening at 7:30 p.m. This will be timed to coincide with the visit of William C. Meason, grand chancellor.

The grand chancellor will be the speaker for this annual event in which all members of the lodge are expected to be present, unless providentially hindered, to answer the roll call. This also is a time for support of the KP children's home.

Meason, who resides in Longview, is a retired railroad man, an elder in the First Christian Church of his city, past commander of the Longview commandery, a Shriner, member of his city's planning and zoning board.

Jim Corbell, chancellor commander of the local lodge, reminded that the statutes of the order hold that any member who finds himself unable to attend may be declared present by proxy, provided he sends his donation to the lodge or sends it by another member.

Arrangements for the affair are in charge of the roll committee comprised of David Hopper, chairman, Jim Corbell and L. B. Conway.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Do Cleaning Chores By Mood Method

Dear Friends:

Here we are in the middle of Fall, and already I am flooded with letters wanting to know what HAS to be done for fall housecleaning!

NOTHING!

As far as I am concerned, Rome wasn't built in a day and neither do you have to clean house that way.

Take your time when it comes to cleaning. Just do it when you are in the mood (and no one but you will know when that cleaning mood hits). Quit worrying about what other people think. You don't owe it to your neighbor, mother-in-law, or the boss' wife to keep a SPOTLESSLY clean house.

I have yet (and I am 48) to have any guest look under my beds to see if there was dust.

So, don't knock yourself into a tizzy, or have a nervous breakdown trying to keep it perfect. If you were perfect, you probably wouldn't be here. Think that over!

Now, if you want an EXCUSE to relieve your guilt complex, say, "Heloise said so!" You know, some days I think that Scarlett O'Hara was much smarter than we are when she said, "I'll think of it all tomorrow..." After all, tomorrow is another day.

I suggest that if you HAVE to do fall cleaning, try cleaning only one room at a time.

Don't allow yourself to do more than one room in any one week. Even if you are still in the mood, QUIT and just look back-over what you have accomplished and enjoy it.

Here's why:

We often use up too much energy at one time. This lends for over-exertion and getting into a run-down condition (and, gals, I have heard many a doctor use THAT very phrase when he diagnosed pneumonia, nerves, and has put wives on tranquilizers, etc., etc., etc.).

I say to you again, that when you start cleaning out closets, drawers and cupboards, if you haven't used a certain article in a year, you probably won't use it for the next 10 years — get rid of it.

When it comes to really culling out, there can be a method to your madness. Call your local charity organization; they can put those items to good use.

Each time you walk through a room and find something out of place, put it in your pocket. As you pass through the room where it belongs, deposit it in its proper place.

The weekends are the best time to do heavy cleaning, where lots of hard labor is involved. Your family is there to help you and if they join in the work and the fun, they appreciate the cleanliness so much more. And it's a proven fact, if they help clean up, they will help keep it cleaner thereafter, which will prevent more backaches for YOU.

All the electrical gadgets you can buy and all the ammonia, kerosene, net, bleach, soap, and other cleansers in this entire world won't put that shine in your husband's eyes. Nor in the eyes of your children or your mother-in-law.

Budget your energy doing only what you can. Life is priceless, so learn to enjoy it. Learn to do things the easy way. Take every short cut you can find.

As long as your family has good food to eat and an UNTIRED MOTHER who is jolly and understanding, there will be fewer doctor bills and fewer tranquilizers (which cost a heck of a lot of money and don't really SOLVE our problems anyway).

Just be yourself, and do what you can. The world still goes on whether you mop under your bed or not. It's been that way for thousands of years, and will continue for ages to come.

In the meantime, you can be sure of one thing. I understand your problems because I have the same ones, too! Love, Heloise

Dear Heloise: If your children have trouble taking pills or capsules because they stick to the tongue, just coat the pill with oleo or butter.

They'll slide down quick as a wink! H. K.

Plans were completed to serve luncheon at the Hereford show on Dec. 2 at the Monday meeting of the Howard County Home Demonstration Council at the HD agent's office. Members of the Knott HD club served as hostesses.

Mrs. W. C. Fryar gave the devotion, "Is Your Christianity Worth Sharing with the World?" Cancer films will be shown at 10 a.m., Nov. 30, at the Ritz Theatre, and Mrs. Joe Mac Gaskins announced that an open house will be held at her home in Knott from 2 to 5 p.m., Nov. 19.

Guests included Mrs. Fryar, Mrs. Robert Brown, Mrs. Conrad Miller, Mrs. A. W. Page, Mrs. Ralph Grantham and Mrs. J. C. Williams.

New Hippie Movement Discussed

The Rev. Harland Birdwell of Colorado City was guest speaker Monday at the salad luncheon and meeting of the Women of St. Mary's Episcopal Church in the parish hall. Rev. Birdwell spoke on "Youth And The Hippie Movement."

Mrs. Jeff Hanna was in charge of arrangements. The tables were covered with white cloths and decorated with green foliage runners interspersed with miniature white churches. The head table featured a larger white church as the center setting.

A question and answer period followed the program. Mrs. Dee Jon Davis presided, and a new officers' slate was elected. Officers are Mrs. R. B. G. Cowper, president; Mrs. Thomas O. Huckabee, vice president; Mrs. Joe Smoot, secretary; Mrs. William Eysen, treasurer; and Mrs. Ralph Caton, United Thank Offering chairman.

Mrs. Ode Green, 2105 Johnson, was hostess for a salad supper Saturday evening for members of the Past Matrons Club of the Laura B. Hart Chapter, Order of Eastern Star. Husbands were guests, and the evening's entertainment consisted of "42" games.

Mrs. John Puckett presided as Dec. 9 was chosen as the date for a Christmas party in the home of Mrs. E. A. Fiveash, 803 E. 14th, with Mrs. J. E. Felts as cohostess. Secret pals will exchange gifts, and guests will be members' husbands and past patrons and their wives.

Mrs. Ollie McDaniel was named card chairman.

The American Association of University Women study group probing "Values in a Changing Society" heard a talk by the Rev. Jarrell Sharp at the Monday meeting at Howard County Junior College.

Rev. Sharp, pastor at Wesley Methodist Church, traced the changes in society and its customs through history and noted that many things must be accepted since perhaps it is "God's way." He stressed that people must be flexible and bend with the changes which are often necessary for progress.

The AAUW will hold a spaghetti supper Friday from 5 to 8 p.m. prior to the homecoming football game. Serving will be at the Downtown Tea Room and tickets will be $1.25 per plate.

Mrs. John Smith was hostess, and Mrs. W. H. Hallmark was cohostess. Introduced as new members were Mrs. Pat Parks and Mrs. Don Turner.

The next meeting will be Dec. 4.

An ivy covered brick home is attractive, but what happens when a home owner decides he no longer wants the climbing ivy?

The first step is to trim down the ivy as much as possible. For complete removal of the plants, dig down at least a foot below the surface and cut away as much of the plant as possible to prevent regrowth. Then treat the remaining roots with a strong solution of weed killer, available at garden supply dealers, and cover well with earth.

To clean the brick of small twigs and spots, use a stiff wire brush. If this isn't successful, the only solution is to have the brick sandblasted by a building cleaning contractor.

Attending as sponsors were Mrs. C. O. Trantham, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Shaver and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dawes.

Members of the Forsan Study Club will host a tasting buffet tonight at 7 p.m. in the Forsan School cafeteria. Admission will be $1 for adults, and 50 cents for children under 12. Proceeds will be used for club projects. The public is invited to attend.

PLAYERS OF WEEK

Coates, Bearkat Backfield Named

Following is a list of athletes in the Big Spring area nominated as Players of the Week for the respective teams, judged on their performances in last week's games:

BIG SPRING

Senior tailback BILL SMITH, a big factor in the Steers' touchdown drive against Permian, emerges as Back-of-the-Week. He graded very well in the film and his faking enabled other Longhorns to go for substantial gains. He barely edged out quarterback Bill Burchett, who was outstanding on offense, and Lonnie Clanton, a thunderous blocker all evening.

LUVEN FLORES, a 160-pound junior who plays linebacker, caught two fine passes on offense and was outstanding on defense against Permian. He has been clocking more and more playing time in recent games. A close runnerup for the honor was center Steve Rindan, who gave it his all from start to finish.

R. L. COATES performed brilliantly on defense for Coahoma against Seagraves to gain the nod as Lineman-of-the-Week. He scored 28 points on Coach Bernie Hagins' scoring system. R. L. is a senior guard who tips the scales at about 170 pounds. Back-of-the-Week is DEAN RICHTERS, who was the lead blocker when Rickey Evans scored two of his touchdowns against Seagraves. As a cornerback on defense, the 155-pound sophomore rang up 12 points under Hagins' system. He also counted two extra points for the fired-up Bulldogs, who almost upset No. One ranked Seagraves.

All three members of the backfield were selected as Back-of-the-Week for Garden City. Against Gail TONY CHANDLER carried 12 times for 73 yards, a 6-yard average; took a pass for a TD, made an extra point; intercepted a pass. DAVID HILLGER carried eight times for 80 yards, 10-yard average; made two TDs, one a 45-yarder; RONNIE HIRT carried 16 times for 104 yards a 6.5 average; passed

Turkey Shoot Set

STANTON (SC) — The Stanton Optimist Club has planned a "Turkey Shoot" for the public Nov. 17-18 at the Yater caliche pit.

Abilene Cooper, Ector Head Divisional Polls

DALLAS (AP) — One of the biggest shake-ups in the Dallas News' weekly high school football poll this season took place Monday.

There was a new leader in Class AAA—Odessa Ector—and five teams making their first appearances in the top 10 of the four classes playing to state championships. Abilene Cooper, Jackboro and Seagraves remained on top in AAAA, AA and A, respectively. Class AAA was the most violently hit, Nacogdoches and Ennis, the two top teams a week ago, dropped from the ratings after being upset last Friday.

Ector advanced from third to first place and Galveston Central and Athens, winner over Ennis, were admitted to the Class AAA top 10. Palestine, which upset Nacogdoches, just failed to make the select list.

Jerry Levias, Southern Methodist's big play man now devoting full time to catching passes; Phil Tucker, Texas Tech's mighty offensive tackle, and Bill Bradley of Texas, called "the first genuine triple-threat since Don Walker."

Walker was Southern Methodist's three-time All-America of the late forties. Gilbert, who had been noted for his durability, having not had a time out in his college career because of injury, crossed them up Saturday when he went out in the second period of the Southern Methodist game with a shoulder separation. But he already had scored two touchdowns and gained 49 yards on 13 carries.

"Bradley in the last two games has completed 24 of 32 passes with only one interception and is directing the team in great style," commented Bill Van Fleet of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram. "I also think Levias has become a strong candidate with his fine pass-receiving."

Lou Maysel of the Austin American thought so much of Levias that he moved him up next to Gilbert as top All-America possibility. "He is a tremendous pass-receiver and has great moves," said Maysel after watching Levias take 10 passes for three touchdowns against Texas.

Mickey Herskowitz of the Houston Post also put Levias back into the picture and spoke of Bradley for his triple-threat ability. Bradley ranks sixth in the conference in rushing, fourth in passing, second in total offense, has scored six touchdowns and passed for four and has punted for a 41.6 yards average.

Another star given a boost was Mike Leinert, the tough runner from Texas Tech. Burie Pettit of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal picked Gilbert and Pipes as the top candidates but thought Tucker was the best offensive lineman in the league and that Leinert was deserving of much consideration.

The passing combination of Edd Hargett to Bob Long of Texas A&M also is attracting much attention and along the defensive front, Roy Edwards of the Dallas News and Van Fleet figured Bill Hobbs, the Texas A&M linebacker, was a good candidate for honors.

Corby Robertson, the Texas defensive end, also was cited for his sterling play and Hartford Hamilton of Arkansas was placed in the same category.

Buck Drakes Win At Country Club. Mr. and Mrs. Buck Drake are the new Mr. and Mrs. Golf champions at the Big Spring Country Club.

The two had a low gross score of 159 over 18 holes in a tournament which wound up Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Jordan were runners-up in low gross. Winning low net honors were Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Atkins, who had a 144. Mr. and Mrs. John Taylor captured low net runner-up honors.

Bearkats Visit Dragons' Lair. GARDEN CITY — Fresh from a 49-22 rout of the Gail Coyotes, the Garden City Bearkats will be favored when they go to Flower Grove for a 7:30 p.m. tussle Friday. However, Flower Grove showed some punch in dropping one to Sterling City 44-20, and Coach Jack Woodley is wary of the game.

His lads are now 6-1-1 for the season and 1-0-1 in conference play.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Sports dialogue: MIKE CAMPBELL, assistant coach at the University of Texas.

"Gambling on a fourth-down play in midfield is like putting up a chocolate cake to win a cracker."

SONNY JACKSON, after conferring with front office boss Paul Richards following his trade by the Houston Astros to Atlanta:

"Richards wants me to shorten up a little, play in a little closer (at shortstop). Playing in the Astro dome, I got in the habit of playing too far back because of the speed the ball comes off the Astro turf. Coming in closer, I can cut down on my throw some, making it more accurate. The infield is a little slower in Atlanta, and anything they want, I'll do. It will be easier for me to get loose quicker on hot days outside rather than in the air-conditioned dome."

Coach DARRELL ROYAL of the University of Texas, when asked to compare USC's O. J. Simpson with Mike Garrett, former UCLA star:

"O. J. is not a rural runner. He doesn't mind running where the traffic is heaviest."

JAMES J. KILPATRICK, Santa Barbara, Calif., writer: "Perhaps the enduring appeal of baseball is that each game holds a mirror to mortal man's few innings here on earth. We, all of us, now and then, hit a clean single or score a run or steal a base in a cloud of dust; and mostly it is a matter of whiffs, pop flies, infield rollers and fielder's choices."

CHUCK FAIRBANKS, football coach at the University of Oklahoma: "If I have to lose, I'd rather lose to a friend than to an enemy. Remember, I said 'Hi.' Of course, if you have too many friends, you're not doing a good job."

BULLY GILSTRAP, former Texas coaching aide: "A few hours before the kickoff of the 1962 game between Rice and Texas, two of our players were arrested for scalping tickets. When we got to the field the players were there and the whole Houston police force was sitting on the sideline benches. We all stood up during the game."

EDDIE STANKY, manager of the Chicago White Sox: "I'm never misquoted, just misunderstood."

MERRILL GREEN, coach at Abilene Cooper: "I've never worked with a team like this before and probably never will have the privilege again. They work out things in practice that amaze me. Jack Mildren is all football all the time. We have others who never think about it until they get onto the field and then they don't think about anything else. Mildren knows if any lineman is a couple of inches out of his normal set. I have one boy who comes from a very poor family. He has to do all the chores around the house before he comes to school. He almost quit last year, not because he didn't like the game but because he felt he was needed at home. He's one of our finest players."

FURMAN BISHOP, Atlanta scribe: "When is Norb Hecker, (coach of the Atlanta Falcons) going to learn that the way to open a press conference isn't to say, 'All right, make it snappy. I'm in a hurry?' It's all right to be in a hurry, because everybody is, too, but it's about like announcing you're going to burp."

Nicklaus: Money Report Doesn't Measure Player

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Professional golfer's leading money winner, Jack Nicklaus, said Monday a financial report is not an accurate measure of a golfer's ability.

Nicklaus said, "There should be a point system. Give a tournament winner 50 points and so on down the line to the last playoff slot, the 57th."

Nicklaus said a player who finished in the top ten three out of four tournaments is a better golfer than one who wins a couple and fails to do much in between.

"In baseball, a .300 hitter is a better player than a fellow with a .200 average who hits a home run now and then," Nicklaus said.

He said even the method of figuring golfers' winnings is faulty.

The PGA lists Nicklaus as having won $188,968 in "official" tournaments—those sponsored by the PGA—and $22,568 in "unofficial" prizes from unsanctioned tournaments.

The PGA figures do not include $50,000 he won in the World Series of Golf. "If you win it playing golf, it's all money," Nicklaus contended.

Woes Looming For Belters

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Arnold Palmer, the kings of pro ball hitters won't have much of an advantage Thursday when play opens in the 72-hole World Cup Golf Tournament at the Club de Golf Mexico.

"This is a very narrow course," said Gary Player of South Africa. "Accuracy will be more important than distance."

Martin Roessink of Holland, one of professional golf's longest hitters, was inclined to agree.

"The fairways are very narrow and it'll be easy to get in trouble," he said. "The ball carries farther at this altitude so even people who normally aren't long off the tee will be getting more distance than they would at sea level. But accuracy will be the most important thing."

Eighty golfers from 40 countries tee off Thursday morning in two-man teams to play for national prestige and personal honor in the 15th running of what used to be called the Canada Cup. Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer, the kings of pro ball hitters won't have much of an advantage Thursday when play opens in the 72-hole World Cup Golf Tournament at the Club de Golf Mexico.

The park-like Club de Golf Mexico, site of the 1958 tournament, has been stretched to 7,250 yards to make the longest course ever used in the tournament.

Player, 1965 winner of the International Trophy signifying the individual championship, was pleased with the layout after 27 practice holes.

"It's a beautiful course, perhaps the most beautiful the tournament has ever been played on," he said. "But it is difficult. There are a lot of traps and I doubt that the long hitters will open up because the fairways are so narrow."

About half the 40 teams got in practice rounds Monday. The rest were due in Mexico City tonight in time for a dinner at the club. Palmer and Nicklaus, flying in private planes, were expected to be the last to arrive.

Condon, no doubt, would have added to her aggregate had she not been banished to the penalty box with 2:45 remaining in the game.

Lois Heuvel, a former Forsan resident, led Robert Lee with 38 points while Judy Gartman had 26.

In the B game, Robert Lee won, 51-35. Connie Dunagan paced Forsan in that one with 19 points while Jackie Conley bucketed 36 for Robert Lee.

The defeat left Forsan with a 3-2 record. The Queens return to play next Tuesday, at which time they host Loop.

Those planning to attend will note the new time. The organization has been meeting at 8 o'clock.

A scouting report on Big Spring's Friday night opponent, Odessa High, will be given. Action films of the Steer-Permian game will be screened for the benefit of those who didn't get to see the game.

Cookies and coffee will be offered as refreshments. The convalescence will be in charge of Don Newsom and Jess Slaughter.

Mayor Proclaims Saturday As 'Veterans Day' Here

Mayor Arnold Marshall has proclaimed Saturday as Veterans Day in Big Spring and has urged citizens to take time out to attend ceremonies at the VA Hospital in tribute to all veterans.

The program at the hospital, in which the veterans organizations, the hospital staff, and Webb AFB are cooperating, is set for 10 a.m.

Maj. Glen E. Jones, a returned veteran from the Vietnam War, will be the speaker.

In his proclamation, Mayor Marshall noted that President Johnson's proclamation pointed out that "Our freedom was won in the agony of conflict . . . we enjoy its blessings only because we have been willing to risk their lives to preserve it . . . We can never repay in full the debt we owe to the veterans of this nation's wars . . . I urge all citizens and especially students and young people, to take part in these ceremonies. Let us demonstrate to all the world our devotion to the principles of freedom for which so many have served in the past, and pledge our full support of those who today carry on the battle to insure that freedom shall survive."

To which the mayor added: "Surely it is not too much to ask that we — you and I — turn aside for only a moment Saturday to give our thanks for those who have given their lives, their limbs and their years to this nation that she may endure in liberty and honor, and dignity.

"By the authority vested in me as Mayor of the City of Big Spring, I do call upon all of our people to pause Saturday to show our gratitude to those who today stand — as their comrades in arms have stood for nearly two centuries before them — firmly in the defense of our nation wherever and whenever they are called upon to serve her."

Name Worth $78 In Traffic Fines

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Robert Bailey Wafford's name was worth $78—all in traffic fines.

One Robert Bailey Wafford of Dallas, 19, was arrested last month on charges of non-payment of five traffic citations. He was jailed until he paid $78. Police refused to believe there was another Robert Bailey Wafford.

There was, however, this one a 26-year-old man. A move is under way to refund the $78 to the younger Wafford.

MR. AND MRS. PAUL SHEEDY

Paul F. Sheedy Retires As Gauger With Cosden

Cosden Oil & Chemical Company pipeline personnel recently presented a money tree to their retiring coworker, Paul F. Sheedy. What he bought with the gift gives a clue to some of his plans. For exercise and adventure he purchased a bicycle. He also bought a typewriter, and that has many possibilities.

Days are not long enough for Sheedy to do all he wants to do, he declares. As a multi-interest man, he has commenced a few of the activities that will engross him now that he has officially retired, as of Oct. 31, as a district gauger out of Otis Chalk.

Born in Montpelier, Ind., he moved as a child with his family to Oklahoma when it was still Indian Territory. His father was an independent oil operator, so young Paul grew up in the oil fields, following one oil boom after another. He and a brother were in on the Ranger boom as drillers. Although he went back to Oklahoma for a time, he returned to Texas in 1924 to drill a well at Comanche.

FORSLIN IN 1930 It was there that he met Aurelia Gressette. Their friendship blossomed into courtship, and the couple was married July 4, 1925, in Breckenridge. Mr. and Mrs. Sheedy began housekeeping at Stamford where he was employed by Moody Oil Co., which later was acquired by Superior Oil Co. He was moved to Forsan in 1930 as a pumper. There he met M. M. (Blackie) Hines, Cosden's pipeline superintendent, who hired him as a daylight gauger Sept. 1, 1942. Sheedy still falls qualified for membership in the Cosden 25-Year Club, a prospect which gives him considerable pride.

Since September, 1942, Mr. and Mrs. Sheedy have resided in Coahoma. Their home at 501 N. Main is a center for gatherings of their three children and seven grandchildren. Their daughter, Frances, is married to Donald B. McKinney, a live seven miles northeast of Big Spring on the Snyder Highway and have two children — Larry, a freshman at Texas A&M University, and Molly, a Coahoma High sophomore.

The Sheedys' older son, Paul Van, is an employee of Sinclair Oil & Gas Co. He and his wife, Charlotte, who is a 15-year Cosden senior, are the parents of Mark, 11, and Keith, 5, and they make their home in Big Spring. The younger son, Jackie, and his wife, Sue, have Triangle Construction Co. and live just west of the Big Spring refinery with their children, Mike, 8, Steve, 7, and Mitzl, 3½.

"NIGHT LIFE" For the past 10 years Sheedy has been gauging at night for Cosden, a schedule that suited him well.

"I'm going to miss that night life, now that I'm retired," he confided. He learned to identify the sounds and movements of the creatures that know their way along the terrain without benefit of sunlight. Many a deer, wild turkey and bobcat he has crossed his path while he was driving his circuit, sometimes 100 miles a day.

Recently he renewed his taxidermy license, a long dormant hobby which he plans to pursue. He also is constructing a hothouse at his home; this will be an extension of the gardening he has always enjoyed and in which he is gifted. He is an able cook, an avid reader, especially of history, and his interest in Indian lore, which is shared by his daughter, leads them on occasional arrowhead hunts.

PLAN TRAVEL Mrs. Sheedy retired three years ago after 15 consecutive years of selling hats at C. R. Anthony Co.; she likes people and the job brought her into contact with many. She is a choir member at First Methodist Church in Coahoma and is in Wesleyan Service Guild. Her husband is a member of Immaculate Heart of Mary Church.

She is looking forward to travel with her husband, now that they have the time. These jaunts will probably lead to additions to her collection of antiques which come from many varied places such as India, Egypt and Oklahoma. One heirloom is a 170-year-old Methodist hymnal. A favorite vacation destination is New Mexico, and they expect to go to Utah and Colorado.

And when the fishing is good, chances are they can be found at Lake J. B. Thomas where their cabin will have more use than it has had in years.

How many years younger do you think your face should look to make you really happy?

When a woman uses 2nd Debut to make her face look too young, it would be said that she used it not too wisely. And if she uses it to shed only one or two birthdays, this too would be a waste of her time, energy and money. Any woman about to depart on a course of facial rehabilitation with 2nd Debut should first decide just how youthful her face should be made to look to best serve her present purposes. Once this decision is made, there remains little to do beyond applying 2nd Debut nightly according to directions and discontinuing its use when the desired state of more youthful looking linelessness is reached.

WHAT 2nd DEBUT IS:

2nd Debut is a radical departure from the oily creams and lotions that have been the basis of skin care during the past century. It is a scientific development based in the demonstrable fact that skin's appearance ages through dryness, and that the oiliest skin can also be the driest. 2nd Debut demonstrates to women of all ages that dryness can be relieved continuously and varying degrees of youthful appearance re-established by maintaining the water balance of skin at normally required levels. 2nd Debut, therefore, contains neither oil nor grease. Instead, it is an aqueous emulsion of the ingredient known to be the one employed by nature to keep human skin adequately moist to prevent dryness and premature aging.

As contained in the emulsion 2nd Debut, this ingredient (known as CEF) need only be applied to the surface of facial skin. The water-moisture level of the skin automatically rises. Progressively, the skin's surface appears smoother and more youthful as lines become less evident and some completely disappear. Those around the eyes, the nose and mouth are usually among those that respond earliest to regular nightly applications of 2nd Debut. The tone of the entire face and neck is at once lifted and given the appearance of fresher form as you near the end of your first 2nd Debut course in youth renewal. From that point on, occasional applications of 2nd Debut with its rich CEF 600 content help facial freshness to remain and facial smoothness to continue to replace those insidious premature age lines that plagued you before your friendship with 2nd Debut began. And, at some later indefinite time, you may begin another course of nightly 2nd Debut applications, with assurance it will be fully as effective as the routine just completed.

The CEF principle of skin moisturizing and maintaining water availability to otherwise thirsting skin is the subject of numerous technical papers that have been read before scientific bodies both here and abroad. In fact, the discovery of the ingredient we call CEF is regarded as being of most unusual importance to the advanced study of normal human skin.

2nd Debut is made in two potencies. The first contains CEF 600 and is designed for the woman with early wrinkles; that is, the younger woman who has started to line before her time. Its price is $3 for the four ounce size.

The double-potency CEF 1200 was formulated for the face over forty; or for the impatient lady who wants visible results without delay — or for you if your facial lines are deep. It smooths age lines faster. In only a few days you see a marked change. The four ounce bottle is but $5.

Now, to prepare your skin to receive these treatments, 2nd Debut Liquid Cleanser was developed. Its results are dynamic. Its application is different, for it is to be applied in a thin layer over your face and throat. Then rinse off with cool water. Now your skin is clear, and clean. Really clean! Price is $3 for two ounces. Four ounce size, $5. For a perfect complexion instantly, make-up finish 2nd Debut Liquid Makeup with CEF 600. Covers blemishes and imperfections so completely and with such a natural look no one suspects it of being make-up. Helps overcome skin dryness, too. Six shades, each a natural skin tone. From Pale to Golden Tan. Each $3. Pressed Powder in seven shades and with CEF 600. In compact with mirror and puff, $3. Finally, 2nd Debut Body & Hand Lotion (with CEF 600) is a most welcome sensation in body and hand grooming. Imparts a feeling of luxury to the body that makes you regard yourself with extra importance. And its CEF 600 richness quickly defeats the cause of chapping and roughness with its deep moisturizing of your hands. This is a dual-purpose balm with an immediate and pleasurable effect. $3 is the price of the 6 ounce bottle.

Holiday Adoption Plan Sponsored At Webb AFB

Webb AFB families are being asked to help make Christmas a bit brighter for some of the young men in the West Texas Boys Ranch, near San Angelo.

"Our goal is to find 10 to 15 families at Webb who would take one of these boys into their homes for the Christmas holidays," explained Chaplain (lieutenant Colonel) Robert T. Deming.

"For those who have no children or no real plans for the holidays, this is a chance for gratifying service to the boys, the community, one's self and to Webb," he added. Every year those with parents are allowed to go home for Christmas. However, for the boys without a mother or father the festive time is often spent at the ranch.

Last year, civic programs in San Angelo and at Goodfellow AFB, Tex., provided Christmas homes for all but eight of the boys without families. This year, with help from Webb, the directors of the ranch hope to find homes for all the boys.

Families at Webb who may be interested in adopting one of these young men for the Christmas holidays can contact the Chaplain Division for further information.

Bridge Test

—CHARLES H. GOREN

BY CHARLES H. GOREN (1947 BY THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE) North-South vulnerable.

East deals. NORTH: ♠ K1063, ♥ 92, ♦ K96, ♣ AJ95. WEST: ♠ Q72, ♥ K1087, ♦ 5, ♣ 108764. SOUTH: ♠ 8, ♥ AJ53, ♦ AJ742, ♣ K32.

The bidding: East South West North Pass 1♦ Pass 1♠ Pass 2♦ Pass 3♣ Pass 3NT Pass Pass.

Alvin Roth of New York City earned a substantial swing for the North American team during the qualifying rounds of this year's World Championship matches, in the deal presented today.

Roth was seated West and his partner, Bill Roth also from New York, was East against Venezuela, which held the North-South cards. South opened the bidding with one diamond, and over his partner's response of one spade, he rebid two diamonds. North took a slightly aggressive course by bidding three clubs which is another round force. The alternative call of three diamonds altho forward going, leaves partner the option of passing.

South went on to three no trump and the auction subsided.

Altho a heart, the unbid suit, would be the orthodox lead, Roth made the inspired choice of the queen of spades for his opening. Declarer, reasoning that his opponent also held the jack, played the three from the dummy.

On the spade continuation, North covered West's seven with the ten and East won the trick with the jack as South discarded a heart. East shifted to a heart and declarer, who was still apparently in the dark regarding West's spade holding, played the five from his hand, permitting West to win a cheap trick with the ten.

A spade return thru the king-six, enabled East to mop up three more tricks in the suit. When the declarer subsequently refused to take the diamond finesse, the defense netted an additional trick to produce a 300-point profit for North America on the deal.

When the deal was replayed, at the other table with the Americans holding the North-South cards, North became the declarer at three no trump after East, as the dealer, made a standard opening bid of one spade. East led his fourth best spade and West's queen was won by North's king. Declarer was in a comfortable position to develop nine tricks, and the vulnerable game was worth an additional 600 points to North America.
