TWO NABBED AT ROADBLOCK

U.S. Embassy Employes Kidnaped

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Two American employes of the U.S. Embassy in Beirut were kidnaped today in one of the battle zones of Lebanon's Christian-Moslem war, the Embassy announced.

The Americans were kidnaped about 7 a.m. as they were driving to work at the Regional Service Center, a printing plant for the U.S. Information Agency, an Embassy spokesman said.

He refused to reveal their names until their families were notified.

The two were stopped by unidentified armed men at a roadblock on the Corniche al-Mazraa, a broad avenue that leads from a high-class seaside neighborhood through Moslem districts. Two major Palestinian guerrilla groups have headquarters on the avenue.

A Lebanese employe who was with the Americans was released and brought word of the kidnaping to the Embassy.

The spokesman said there was no word from the kidnapers, but Embassy security officers were in touch with the Lebanese police.

Premier Rashid Karami received U.S. Ambassador G. McMurtrie Godley after getting word of the abduction.

It was the first known case of Americans residents in Beirut being kidnaped or killed during the 7-month-old street war between Lebanon's private Moslem and Christian militias.

Col. Edward R. Morgan of the U.S. military aid mission in Turkey was kidnaped last June 29 by radical Palestinian guerrillas during earlier fighting in Beirut. He was released unharmed on July 12 after the Lebanese government distributed food supplies in a poor district of the city.

Sniping delayed enforcement of an agreement to demilitarize three battle fronts in the street war today, but the government radio reported a "marked improvement" in security conditions.

"There are fewer unsafe roads in the city and the outskirts today than yesterday," said an announcer. "Police forces are dismantling roadblocks at a quicker pace."

Snipers kept the city's northern approaches closed, but the eastern approaches were declared open to traffic for the first time in three days.

Bursts of machine-gun fire were heard in various parts of the city during the morning following frequent explosions during the night. Newspapers reported two persons killed, including a pregnant woman.

The American, British and West German embassies took ads in the newspapers asking their nationals in Lebanon to register with them "to insure awareness of their continuing residence."

Thousands of Western businessmen and their families have fled from Beirut, once the largest financial center in the Middle East.

A coordination committee made up of army officers, Palestinian guerrillas and representatives of Christian and Moslem factions agreed late Tuesday night on measures intended to defuse the latest violence.

Turkish Diplomat Killed In Vienna

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Three men walked into the Turkish Embassy at noon today, asked to see the ambassador, then pulled out submachine guns and shot him to death, Austrian officials said. The three escaped in a white Mercedes-Benz.

Turkish diplomats told Austrian police the killers of Danis Tunaligil, 60, were "Englishspeaking Greeks." But police said they had no independent information to confirm that they were Greek.

In New York, a man claiming to represent the "Armenian Liberation Organization" telephoned The Associated Press and said, "I wish to inform you that we take credit for the Vienna action." The connection was then broken.

The Armenian region formed a large part of the old Ottoman Empire and is now divided among Turkey, Iran and the Soviet Union. The Armenian minority in Turkey was subject to widespread persecution early in this century.

Austrian police began a search for the getaway car and said they would not know the men's nationality until they had been caught.

Greece and Turkey have a long rivalry over Cyprus, which was worsened when Turkish forces invaded the Mediterranean island in July 1974. Turkish troops still occupy part of the island, which has a Turkish minority and Greek majority population. Vienna was the site of talks earlier this year between the two Cypriot communities.

Police said a member of the embassy staff said the three men were taken to see the ambassador after they asked to see him, speaking in English with a Greek accent.

"When they were face to face with him, they asked him if he was the ambassador of Turkey to Austria," the diplomat told police. "When he replied in the affirmatiive, they grabbed submachine guns, which they had hidden, and fired a series of shots at the ambassador. He collapsed bleeding, and they fled."

The dead man was one of Turkey's leading diplomats. He had been ambassador to Vienna since November 1973.

Police and ambulances converged on the embassy, but an ambulance physician said Tunaligil was already dead.

A member of the embassy staff earlier told The Associated Press he had no idea whether the assault was a political crime, or directed against the ambassador personally.

"We still have differing reports on what actually occurred before the ambassador was shot and killed."

DIFFERING VIEWS — Two men got into a fist-fight outside the Trousdale County courthouse Tuesday and are shown in this copyrighted photograph by Tennessean photographer Kit Luce. The fight was the only incident of violence during a day-long hearing on a request by the Tennessee Valley Authority for a construction permit to build the world's largest nuclear power plant at Hartsville.

TO GIN FIRST BALE?

Rain Bad News For Farmers

Today's rain was bad news for Howard County farmers whose cotton is just opening for the harvest.

Fern Cox, who farms in Glasscock County, had picked cotton Tuesday, and brought it to the Co-Op Gin where it is expected to be the first bale ginned in the county, although grown in Glasscock.

The rancher's are always happy to see the rain, knowing that their pastures will continue to improve as they have done all year as the rain passed the yearly average months ago and now totals 26.72 inches.

The rain came down much harder as the day progressed, starting with a sprinkle early this morning, increasing to cats and dogs by 9:30 a.m.

The Big Spring Experimental Station reported .55 inches of rainfall bringing the monthly total to .85 inches. Boyce Hale, who lives south of town, four miles from downtown Big Spring, reported .8 inches of rainfall by his calculations.

Rain was also heavy in other parts of the county. Forsan reported .7 inches of rainfall at 9:30 this morning. Elbow had one inch shortly before noon. Ackerly reported .5 inches, and the Luther Community reported .6 inches of rainfall. Coahoma gauges trapped more than half an inch.

This has already been the wettest year in Howard County since 1941, when 31.62 inches fell during the 12-month period.

Only five years in the 20th Century have been wetter than this one. In order they were:

1932-34.25 inches; 1919-34.01; 1941—31.62; 1905—30.73; and 1902—27.28. Normal rainfall in Howard County for the months of November and December are less than one inch each month.

GUNS GALORE

No Arrests In Shooting Death

No arrests have been made in the shooting death of Raymond Grenon, 50, gunned down in the street near his home at 1407 E. 18th Monday night.

Grenon, 50, was alleged to have poked a shotgun in the window of a car occupied by Earl Reed Burnett, Allen Young and Mike Barton, 16, who resided at 1404 E. 18th.

Burnett opened fire with a .32 automatic pistol which was in the front seat of his car. In the confusion, Robert D. Barton, 44, stepped out the front door of his home at 1404 E. 18th and opened fire with a .22 pistol. He told law officers that he "thought Grenon was shooting at his kids."

The shots fired by Barton did not strike Grenon, but instead struck Burnett in two fingers on his right hand.

Guns involved included a shotgun, a .32 automatic and the .22 pistol as well as a BB gun that was in the car, according to Capt. Jack Jones, police detective captain.

"All shots in the dead man's body apparently are from the .32," Jones added. A local physician is conducting an autopsy and it is now indicated "that all shots that entered Grenon were from the front, although some exited in his back," Jones added. "There is apparently one bullet that entered the chest and lodged in his spine," the captain stated.

Ray Zellars, still another neighbor at 1400 E. 18th, called the police.

Grenon had a reputation and a record of calling in complaints on his neighbors and their children to the police.

The number of bullet holes in Grenon have been quoted by various sources as six, seven, eight and 11. This is expected to be cleared up following the autopsy and at an inquest to be set by Justice of the Peace Gus Ochotorena Jr. Ochotorena was not available in his office this morning for comment on a date for the hearing.

SPEAKS AT WEBB — Gen. Russell E. Dougherty, commander in chief of the Strategic Air Command and Director of the Joint Strategic Target Planning Staff at Offutt AFB, Nebraska, will address graduates of Undergraduate Pilot Training Class 76-04 in Webb AFB's Chapel at 6 o'clock this evening. The class is the largest to graduate at Webb in many months.

Master Plan To Beautify HC Campus Gains Okay

A master landscape plan to beautify the Howard College campus over a period of years was tentatively approved by the board at their regular meeting Tuesday, with the board voting to ask the landscape architect to complete the preliminary plans.

Purpose of the plan is to both improve the appearance of the campus by adding trees, shrubs, walkways, and plazas, but also to bring the campus together and overcome the present "haphazard and scattered appearance of the college buildings."

Since the over-all plan would be a large expense, plans at the present are to tackle one area at a time. The first concentration will probably be on the main entrance to the campus.

ENTRANCE PLAN

In that area, plans are to include a large new sign which is to be donated by Dr. P. W. Malone, add trees and shrubs, a covered walkway, and change the design of the entrance way. Parking in that area would then be changed to visitors only and a parking lot placed in the grassy area to the front of the gym and the side of the administration building for faculty and staff.

A long, low fence, plus shrubs, is suggested across the front of the campus on Birdwell Lane. Eventual plans are for a plaza in the central area of the campus with walkways toward other buildings.

All board members present voted to complete the preliminary plan with Harold Davis voting "No." Davis explained that he would like to see more than one plan offered.

The plans and drawings were presented by Masters and Uzzle, landscape architects from Lubbock.

GIFT FUND

Dr. Charles Hays also requested the board's permission to set up a permanent endowment fund for the college so that donations may be made by citizens to various projects at the college. This permission was granted.

Mrs. Annette Miller was placed on a fulltime basis in the title VI program as an instructor in the student nursing program, retroactive to Oct. 1.

The board also approved a written policy on duties of the board in relation to duties of the administration. In the financial report, Dr. Hays commended the large number of scholarships made available by local citizens and organizations.

In a closed session, the board heard a student request in connection with being listed as an out-of-state student. At the conclusion of the hearing, the board decided to leave the decision to the state auditor. Out of state students pay higher tuition than in-state students.

The board granted the college president permission to ask for bids for a steam cleaner for the auto mechanics laboratory.

Dr. Charles Warren presided at the meeting with Dr. P. W. Malone, Harold Davis, Jimmy Taylor, Don McKinney and James Barr present. K. H. McGibbon was out of town.

Reds Land Spacecraft On Venus

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union landed a space capsule on the hot and cloudy surface of Venus today and "obtained a unique picture" of the landing site, Tass announced.

The capsule was soft-landed on the planet by the unmanned spacecraft, Venus 9, which went into orbit Monday as Venus' first artificial satellite, the news agency said. Venus is a quarter of a million miles from earth and is its nearest planetary neighbor.

Ford Must Submit Tape

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — President Ford has been ordered to give a video tape deposition as a defense witness for Lynette Fromme, who is accused of attempting to assassinate him.

U.S. District Court Judge Thomas MacBride issued the order Tuesday. He said Ford's deposition could be taken "at the White House or any other place convenient for the President."

The jury at Miss Fromme's trial then could view the taped deposition. The trial is scheduled to begin Nov. 4.

But MacBride refused to order Ford to appear personally at the trial to testify about what he saw Sept. 5 when Miss Fromme allegedly pointed a loaded pistol at him as he walked to the state Capitol.

The World At-A-Glance

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the House panel reviewing the FBI's investigation of President John F. Kennedy's assassination says questions remain unanswered about the relationship between Jack Ruby and the FBI. Rep. Don Edwards, D-Calif., said he wanted more information about Ruby's role as an FBI informer than was disclosed in a hearing Edwards conducted Tuesday. Ruby, who died Jan. 3, 1967, of a blood clot and cancer, was the night club owner who fatally shot Lee Harvey Oswald two days after Kennedy was murdered Nov. 22, 1963.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A plan being studied by a Senate panel would give New York City $6 billion in federal loan guarantees, but the measure appears doomed because it would require reluctant officials to pass a special state tax. The proposal would grant the federal loan guarantees for one year and require that private investors purchase bonds in which up to 20 per cent of value was unguaranteed.

MONASTEREVIN, Ireland (AP) — Heavily armed troops and police laid siege through the night to the house in which Irish terrorists were holding Dutch industrialist Tiede Herrema captive on the second floor. Police marksmen kept their weapons trained on upstairs windows of the house in this rural market town 40 miles from Dublin, but there was no break in the deadlock between police and the kidnapers.

CONSUMER PRICES INCREASE AGAIN SAYS UNCLE SAM

WASHINGTON (AP) — Consumer prices increased five-tenths of 1 per cent in September, largely because of higher prices for transportation, education, medical services, utilities and clothing, the government said today.

But for the first time since early this year, there was a decline in food prices at supermarkets — a drop of two-tenths of 1 per cent since August. The Labor Department said prices were down sharply for fresh fruits, vegetables and beef.

The September figures mean consumer prices are increasing at an annual rate of 6 per cent, which is below the 8 per cent annual inflation rate forecast by the government. For the first nine months of 1975 consumer prices have increased 5.1 per cent, and for the 12-month period ending in September they increased 7.8 per cent.

The Labor Department said its consumer price index in September stood at 163.6 of the 1967 average of 100, meaning it cost $163.60 last month to buy the same goods that cost $100 in 1967.

The September price report showed that the rate of inflation, while still high, is continuing to decline from the double-digit levels of a year ago.

Consumer prices had increased two-tenths of 1 per cent in August, which was considered unusually low.

SUSPENDED TAX APPRAISER SAYS:

'All Charges Of Misconduct Against Me Are False'

By JOHN EDWARDS

"All charges of misconduct against me are false," Richard Fleener, suspended senior tax appraiser for local governments, said today.

Fleener released a prepared statement today responding to action by the tax appraisal board Tuesday.

"I have never been charged with any illegal acts and have not been terminated by the tax appraisal board as so stated by the Big Spring Herald," Fleener continued.

"I have been suspended from office for a period of 15 days pending a hearing against the 'so-called misconduct charges,' " Fleener said.

"It is my understanding that I will be terminated at the end of this 15-day period if I have not answered the 'so-called charges,' " Fleener said.

While Dr. Charles Hays, president of the tax appraisal board and of Howard College, did invite him to attend the meeting Tuesday, Fleener said he was not told the district attorney and private investigator would be present.

District Attorney Robert H. (Bob) Moore III and Bob Dennison, a private investigator from Dallas, did attend. Fleener said, Fleener did not.

The Big Spring Herald Tuesday ran a story about the personnel action under the headline: "Fleener's Services Are Terminated By Agencies".

"The services of Richard Fleener as tax appraiser for the governmental agencies in Howard County have been terminated, and he is suspended subject to notification, effective this date," Don Crockett said in a motion.

"It is also stipulated that the suspension be final 15 days from this date unless otherwise requested of this board for a hearing by Fleener," Crockett added in the motion.

Crockett, assistant superintendent for Big Spring schools and vice president of the tax board, saw no error in the Herald's quote of his successful motion.

And Fleener also was right in saying he has been suspended not fired yet, Crockett said.

"This is correct," Crockett said. "Dr. Hays has sent him a written notice of this action."

"What we're doing is allowing him due process," Crockett explained.

Dr. Hays was out of town this morning, his secretary said.

Who Benefits? Who Else But Solon?

Someday some ex-Congressman will author a book entitled "Your Land and Mine" — maybe. The story will be a confessional, in which it is told how a segment within Congress does little but dream up ways how to better its own lot — and the country be damned.

To hear most congressmen tell it, nothing is more distasteful than a "tax loophole." The solons are continually pointing fingers at the wealthy, suggesting that the means they go to to evade paying taxes is a crime. Congressional committees are forever meeting to close those loopholes — although they rarely do.

There is an exception to the rule, however. Tax relief for the congressmen is something else again.

The House Ways and Means Committee made that point quite clear recently by giving all legislators a special tax break — a deduction of $44 for every day they attend a session. The rule applies to state legislators as well as Congress ("you scratch my back and I'll scratch yours").

The effect will be to raise the flat $3,000-a-year deduction now allowed congressmen for living in Washington to more than double that figure.

If the committee recommendation becomes law, and there's little doubt but that it will, it will mark the third effective pay raise for Congress in this session, following on the heels of increased fringe benefits (all non-taxable) and a five per cent boost in salary with a cost-of-living clause guaranteeing more next year.

Sponsors of the measure defended it as a matter of equity corresponding to a business expense account, but the voters may see it differently. (You know who's getting the business, don't you?)

At the very least, the measure will hamstring additional efforts at closing tax loopholes, for if Congress can fabricate such a cushie loophole for itself, shouldn't everyone have one?

Easy To Figure Out

There's method and money in Dallas' madness.

Big D is willing to endure the pain and problems the Texas and Oklahoma football delegations give it each October because the visitors are willing to pay for their weaknesses for the game.

The Dallas Times Herald says it is a bonanza worth at least $3.2 million to the city's economy. When Oklahoma wins, as it has done in the last five games, the take is slightly greater. Concessionaires at the State Fair of Texas say the Oklahomans stick around longer and spend more after a victory on the gridiron.

About 40,000 of the 75,000 persons who attend the UofT-OU game come from out of town. They spend $40 to $50 a day for the two or three days they are in Dallas.

So if Dallasites are riled by traffic jams and crowded bars on the big football weekend, there is consolation in all that loot left behind by supporters of the Longhorns and the Sooners.

He's Alive, Well

Rowland Evans

MONTGOMERY, Ala. — From the original capital of the Confederacy, there is bad news for national Democratic leaders: Gov. George C. Wallace is alive, well and committed to announcing on Nov. 10 his fourth campaign for President.

THAT HARD reality spikes the Democratic rumor mill of recent months. Whisperings of a semi-invalid Wallace who may not enter Democratic presidential primaries are untrue. Rather, he seems physically stronger than at any time since the May 1972 shooting, and his presidential campaign plans are laid with far greater precision than in 1964, 1968 and 1972.

Even Wallace's advisers wonder how confinement to a wheelchair will affect his voter appeal. But ironically, Democratic reforms so assist Wallace that he seems certain to be a dangerously disruptive force in presidential primaries. If he runs well, he could not only confound the national convention but will carry over into November as a third-party candidate with far-reaching implications for American politics.

The latest premature burial of Wallace by liberal Democrats stemmed from his long absence from the public scene after he broke his leg. In fact, Wallace made a calculated decision to lie low nationally after the leg mended, partly to avoid criticism he was neglecting the Alabama legislature's biennial session now ending. Moreover, intimates say the broken leg helped his morale by showing things can get worse even for a paraplegic.

SPENDING AN afternoon and evening with Wallace, we found his spirits, physical appearance and involvement with daily problems back at pre-1972 levels. At his state capitol office, Wallace conferred with aides and floor leaders about legislative strategy, interviewed an applicant for a state judgeship, shook hands with a black official from Tuskegee University, arranged to get somebody tickets for the Auburn-Tennessee football game and posed for photographs of simulated bill signings.

Surprisingly showing little of the deafness habitual to his news conferences, Wallace was animated and engrossed in political discussions with associates. His old irreverent, profane and ungrammatical Southern rural style has returned behind the scenes. Topping off an exchange with aides about a troublesome adversary, Wallace declared: "He ain't so smart anyhow. He's just a lecherous, crooked, no-account bastard."

Although Wallace lacks the control over the legislature he enjoyed in the mid-1960s, he is not the invalid who ignored the last regular legislative session in 1973. Even enemies in the legislature feel Wallace, never much interested in the daily workings of government, is more involved in and aware of state issues than ever before.

TO DISPLAY involvement, Wallace permits national reporters to observe him working at close range. Similarly, the major political purpose of his 17-day European tour beginning Oct. 11 is to demonstrate his physical capacity.

Soon after his return will come the formal announcement for President which Wallace's political aides wanted months ago. Wallace will appear on NBC's "Meet the Press" Nov. 9, announce his candidacy at the Washington Hilton Hotel the next day and then take off for rallies in three urban centers of presumed Wallaceite strength: Boston, Detroit and Pittsburgh. That he will appear in busing-plagued Boston in his first appearance as an announced candidate emphasizes his hope for early delegate gains in the Massachusetts primary March 2 while skipping the New Hampshire primary a week earlier.

Such advance planning bears no resemblance to the happy-go-lucky improvisations of 1972. This time the campaign organization in downtown Montgomery, headed by Charles Snider, has spent years planning fund-raising, regional and state organizations, primary election tactics and contingencies for a third-party bid.

"Why, you rat! You've been illegally opening the phony letters that I've been illegally writing."

Public Interest?

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — Is the New York Stock Exchange fighting solely for its own survival or, as its defenders maintain, is it fighting also in the public interest?

There is little question the exchange is fighting for its life. Its chairman, James J. Needham, says so. "This is all or nothing," he said in an interview. He equates survival with the national good.

The battleground is Washington, at hearings this week before the Securities and Exchange Commission, which must decide if it is best to retain, abolish or amend New York Stock Exchange Rule 394.

Could one rule be that important? "It's the cornerstone of the system," Needham has been quoted as saying.

The rule, with some exceptions, requires member firms to funnel most transactions in listed stocks to the floor of the exchange, where orders are matched and prices set.

"Most economists agree the most efficient pricing mechanism is one where buy-sell orders converge at one place," said Needham. The bigger the market the more efficient the pricing, and the "Big Board" is the biggest of all.

"Americans can raise capital better than any other people," he continued. It's the envy of other nations, said the man who has just become the first non-European to head the International Federation of Stock Exchanges.

But Rule 394 is related to another stock exchange institution, the specialist, a man who so to speak stands at the intersection of orders and directs traffic for the stocks in which he specializes.

"Most people don't quarrel about transactions coming to one place," said Needham. "They quarrel about them coming to one person." There are 66 specialist units on the NYSE and each unit is assigned an average of 28 stocks.

When traffic gets disrupted — when there is an imbalance of buy and sell orders — they must act. That is when a gap exists between the best price bid and the best price asked, they are committed to buying or selling from their own inventory.

Critics call this a monopoly; the exchange prefers to call it a franchise. The specialists must live up to a strict discipline, agree to an examination of conduct, and maintain an orderly market, the exchange says.

Neck Cause Of Pains

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Would you please write something about thoracic syndrome, what causes it, what are the symptoms, and what can be done to relieve the pain? — Mrs. N.H.

These are chest area pains caused by abnormal pressure on certain spinal nerves as they pass from the lower spine through the neck. The particular nerves involved are those entering the upper chest (thoracic) space. Pressure may result, for example, from what is called a "cervical rib," an abnormal protrusion from one of the lower neck vertebrae. The nerve pressure can also result from a tightening of a muscle running from the back of the skull to the collar bone (scalenus muscle).

Because of the complexity of nerve and muscle systems located in the cervical (neck) portion of the spine, an abnormality in any of the structures can produce a variety of complications. Certain positions or movements can exert pressures on nerve trunks or arteries, producing pain and numbness as far distant as the fingers.

An X-ray of the lower neck spine would disclose the cervical rib, which, if present, can be corrected surgically. Likewise, the taut muscle problem can be relieved with surgery.

Short of this there is little else to be done. The person must learn to avoid the positions or movements that provoke pressure and the pain. A neurologist can often determine the precise sources of pressure and pain from the patient's symptoms.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Can you answer some questions about trichomoniasis? How is it contracted? How is it eradicated without a doctor's care, if at all? What happens if it is left untreated? — Mrs. M. A.

This form of vaginitis is usually due to infection from a sexual partner. I don't know how one would treat the problem without the supervision of a physician. The trichomonas parasite must first be identified from appropriate tests before a specific medication can be prescribed to combat it. Also, it is important for the sexual partner to be treated at the same time to avoid cyclic infection and reinfection.

If left untreated, the progress would be the same as in any infection, with increased discomfort and vaginal discharge. Tip: women who become chronic victims of this infection should look to their toilet habits.

Keep Can Opener

Around The Rim

Kathy Crawford

In today's world, with more and more women entering the work force as fulltime employes, the traditional role of the housewife is changing.

It seems now that housewifery must be treated as a career by those who choose to stay at home. They must do creative cooking, macrame, needlepoint and maintain "meaningful relationships" with their children and husbands.

THEN THERE are the rest of us, those who work eight hours a day away from home, and then who must return home to work an additional eight hours, to do all those things a fulltime housewife feels constrained to do.

It seems we do all this to prove that we, as women, can function as employes and as housewives too. I sincerely hope that we are rearing our female children, not to become housewives, but to regard themselves as persons, and not necessarily to maintain home and themselves as well as fulfill the role of employe.

After four years of working at home and away, I have a few hints for the schizophrenic woman who works and also housewifes.

For the most part, frozen dinners, pot pies and multiple vitamins maintain necessary nutrition. For those husbands and children who simply refuse, homemade soup can last for a week if you open two cans of vegetables after every meal and add to the remainder. After a week of soup, even the most recalcitrant husband will relish the taste of "Super Supper" on a tray.

IF AT all possible, do the vacuuming during everyone's favorite television program. It just may be that another person in the household would rather do it earlier for you, than try to decipher all those little lines across the screen.

After a week with no clean socks and underwear, even the little ones can learn how to operate the laundry room.

Accidentally lose the iron and ironing board. In these days of miracle fabrics, no one will even miss it.....most of all you.

Keep the electric can opener in running order. That is the single most important appliance in any career woman's house.

If at all possible, convince the husband in your house that it really is cheaper to eat out. With two in the family it really is. Of course, you can only eat steak once a month. The rest of the time you make do with instant fish, fried chicken, hamburgers and tacos. This has other benefits, too. After three or four months, the weight gain is apparent and you put everyone on a diet. With cottage cheese and crackers, you won't even have to cook at all.

If you are one of those fanatics who feels she must do everything, these little ideas won't work. In fact, they will draw raised eyebrows and lowered noses.

But if you are in the great majority, you have probably figured these out already, and more.

Here's to you.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir:

You say that our trash should be put in a saek; then set it out front, no more in the back. You think this would save time, money and men; but when the bags are torn open who'll pick it up again?

When the kids on the block decide you're the one; they'll dump out the trash if only in fun. And the dogs have a picnic at what they have found; and the trash it gets scattered all over the town.

Will the men on the truck walk the streets every day to pick up the trash the wind carried away? Right now in the alley they won't pick up a thing, unless it's placed in a box and tied with a string.

In a town I'll call Cleburne the city found out it cost too much to stop at every house; so the trash it was set in the center of the block. That way the city made only one stop.

Then a car came along, dogs in the way. If you had been there, you'd remember the day. The car hit the trash that was piled up so high, and the trash it went flying into the sky.

It took two weeks to clean up the street, the trash truck stood still, the men walked on their feet. The flies had a picnic along with the dogs. Please leave our trash in the alley where it belongs.

CHARMAINE McCARTY

Dear Sir:

I have been calmly ignoring the trash pickup squabble because in my neighborhood we have no alley. Once I finally found some reinforced lightweight metal barrels that the trashmen could bang around without destroying in a month. I have contentedly carried out my trash to the street (in paper sacks inside the barrels even!). I weigh a tremendous 125 pounds and I can pick the barrels up without collapsing my backbone.

Well, I was calm until it finally soaked in that in addition to curbside pickup being made mandatory, it would also be mandatory that the trash be contained in those dumb plastic bags! Have the oil companies gotten to someone down there? What, for crying out loud, is wrong with putting my trash in cheap, non-polluting, bio-degradable paper sacks kept securely inside my hard-won trash barrels which are held neatly in a nice metal rack? Please don't tell me you are going to obligate part of my earnings to a long-term investment in some oil company's plastic bags. I, for one, don't care to purchase plastic for my city to promptly bury, knowing that by doing so I'm forcing incompressible, non-degradable, costly, non-recyclable, hard-won petroleum energy back on Howard County's already much abused land resources.

How long do you think we can run around Howard County burying our garbage, especially when an increasing proportion of it will not compress and will not rot? Seems like it was pretty hard to secure the last landfill sites. How about figuring out a way to make it mandatory that all metal, glass, and paper trash be separated for recycling while organic wastes are either composed or turned into fuel? I would willingly agree to that burden. While you're figuring out a sensible way to handle our city's trash, please consider maintaining my freedom to economically handle my own trash without allowing some monster corporation to profit wastefully thereby.

Thank you for your consideration.

My Answer

Billy Graham

I'm writing you in regard to artificial insemination. We have one child and want another, but the adoption lists are so long. Our natural child is in her teens. Does the Scripture shed any light on the subject of artificial insemination? Please reply. I read your column daily M.C.L.

The procreative process was devised by an infinite, wise God, and is treated as most sacred in the Scriptures. "Male and female created he them . . . and God said unto them, Be fruitful and multiply" (Genesis 1:27, 28).

The Scriptures mention no other method of reproduction of the human spieces and, from the beginning to the end, any deviation from the normal method which God ordained has no Scriptural basis.

Of course, artificial insemination was unknown in the days when the Bible was written, but even so, there is a shadow of doubt present when the Scriptures are silent.

It seems to me that adoption, which occurs with God's blessing in the Scriptures, is the answer to your problem. True, the wait may be long. But a good conscience is most important to both of you at this stage of life.

Or perhaps, during the waiting process, you might consider opening your home to the Foster Child Program which is ministering to so many needy children today. May the Lord direct you in this important decision.

A Devotion For Today

"I press on toward the goal for the prize of the upward call of God in Christ Jesus."

PRAYER: Thank You, God, for the past. Thank You for today. Thank You for the future. Amen.

Mu Zeta Slates Tea

Mrs. Darlene Boehmer, president, reminded members of Mu Zeta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi of the preferential tea scheduled from 2-3 p.m. Nov. 2 in the First Federal Community Room at the Monday evening meeting of the sorority. The members met in the home of Mrs. Suzanne Haney.

A Ritual of Jewels was held for Mrs. JoAnne Little.

Members attending "Anne of A Thousand Days" in Midland this weekend reported on the trip.

Plans were approved to assist with a Christmas Party for the adolescent unit of the Big Spring State Hospital on Dec. 16.

After the business meeting, members and the guest, Mrs. Cindi Gentry, went to the Big Spring Nursing Inn where they participated in a sing-along with many of the residents of the Inn. Fresh fruits were shared with the residents.

The next meeting will be at 6:45 p.m. Nov. 10 in the home of Mrs. Georga Runyan, 1425 E. Sixth. A salad supper will preceed the meeting.

Violet Club Has Meeting

The Texas Bouquet African Violet Club met on Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. H. J. Agee.

Mrs. H. V. Crocker attended the meeting as a guest.

During the business session members approved the rescheduling of meetings to 3:30 p.m.

The club approved plans to plant two bicentennial or liberty trees in cooperation with the Texas Garden Clubs. The Texas Bouquet African Violet Club is a member of the Texas Garden Clubs and the National African Violet Society.

Dr. Paul Koshi presented the program on Gesneraids, explaining the origins of the Gesneraids and the many types.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Charles Sweeney, 6 Highland Heather at 3:30 p.m. Nov. 19.

APPETIZING BREADS AND SWEETS — Mrs. Janet Cave (left) and Mrs. Lynne Solak will be selling breads and sweets to guests celebrating the Oktoberfest Saturday sponsored by the Officers' Wives Club. The festivities will begin at 6:30 p.m. at the Officers club at Webb Air Force Base with booths, arts and crafts and the refreshment room opening. A German dinner will be held at 8:30 p.m., followed by a dance. Tickets may be purchased at the Officers' Club at Webb Air Force Base.

B&PW Club To Select Outstanding Businesswoman

Miss Edith Gay was appointed as chairman of the Outstanding Big Spring Businesswoman committee sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's Club. She was appointed at the Tuesday evening meeting of the B & PW Club held in the Pioneer Natural Gas Flame Room.

The monthly selection and recognition of an outstanding businesswoman will be continued through December. Serving on the committee headed by Miss Gay will be Mrs. Oneita Hardy, Mrs. Mamie Roberts and Miss Movelda Rhine.

Mrs. Marie Affleck announced that Oct. 19-25 is National Business Women's Week.

Members approved plans to provide the refreshments for a Christmas party for the patients of the Big Spring State Hospital.

The next meeting will be at 7 p.m. Oct. 28 at Coker's Restaurant.

Should Gays Change Name To Lose Homosexual Label?

DEAR ABBY: My family name is "Gay." My ancestors have been traced back to France in the early 1600s.

I am writing this in hopes that the Gay Liberation Society will see it and realize how unfair they are being in using our name for their organization.

The gay liberation group holds that they have a right to live and let live — a philosophy with which I am in complete agreement. But in so doing, they have infringed upon the rights of others.

Since the homosexuals have organized and officially adopted our name for their group, we have been harassed with crank telephone calls at all hours, and subjected to insults and ridicule.

Our name was "Gay" long before they took that name, so I think in all fairness to us Gays, they should change the name of their society to one more befitting to their crusade.

The last straw came when my father called me long distance after he saw a TV series on homosexuality, and he seriously suggested that WE change OUR name!

A PROUD GAY

DEAR PROUD: I understand your plight and am most sympathetic, but I doubt if the Gay Liberation Society will consider changing its name. Although you were Gay first, I believe there are more of THEM than there are of YOU.

DEAR ABBY: I was recently married. The wedding was beautiful and quite costly. My parents paid for everything.

They hired the finest photographer in town, who took nearly 100 pictures in color. He took about 25 group pictures in which the mother of the groom appeared.

Later, we learned that she went to the photographer's studio and asked to see the pictures of the wedding. Then she BOUGHT the negatives of all the pictures in which she thought she looked "terrible," and she destroyed them!

Those pictures can never be replaced, Abby. What do you think of such a vain woman? And what can be done about it?

HURT BRIDE

DEAR HURT: If your parents hired the photographer, he had no business selling the negatives to anyone. The groom's mother was clearly out of line.

There is nothing you can do about it now. (P.S. One word of advice, dear. Don't taunt your husband about this. He's not responsible for his mother's deeds.)

CONFIDENTIAL TO GEORGA B. AND KARIL: Your parents love you and understand. All is forgiven. The door is open if you want to come home. Call them collect. They'll sleep better tonight, and so will you.

DAV Auxiliary Receives Award

The Ladies Auxiliary to the Disabled American Veterans met Monday evening at the VFW Hall in Silver Heels. Mrs. Jack Spivey presided at the meeting.

Mrs. Spivey showed the members a certificate award the unit had received from the DAV national headquarters for exceeding the quota for new members assigned to the chapter this year.

The Auxiliary welcomed three new members at the Monday meeting, Mrs. Patti J. Shepard, Mrs. Patsy R. Rowe and Mrs. Fannie V. Clark.

Mrs. Gladys Miller reported on the luncheon recently served to patients at the Big Spring State Hospital.

Mrs. Miller also took orders for the Nuts and Bolts record. The singing group has designated that all the proceeds from the record sales would go to the building fund at the State Hospital.

Members completed plans for the Thanksgiving dinner that is to be held jointly with the men's chapter on Nov. 17.

The Auxiliary ordered the candy they are planning to sell as a fund raising project from Nov. 1 through the Christmas season.

A report was given on the refreshment project for the patients of the Veterans Administration Hospital on Oct. 11. Those serving were Mrs. Joe Caldwell, Mrs. R. W. Miller, Mrs. C. B. O'Neal and Mrs. Nellie Bunch.

Refreshments were served at the meeting by Mrs. Connie Manuel and Mrs. Bob Bowen.

The next meeting will be at 6:30 p.m. Nov. 17 at the VFW Hall in Silver Heels. The Thanksgiving dinner will be served at the meeting.

Goliad Choirs Entertain

Choir boosters were entertained by the Goliad Junior High choirs under the direction of Ms. Joyce Hull at the meeting held Monday evening in the BSHS choir room. The boys' choir and the advanced girls' choir rendered a varied program. Parents of the groups furnished refreshments for the boosters and students.

Mrs. W. B. Grant presided. She announced that the Meistersingers' sweaters have arrived.

Jack Bowers, BSHS choir director, announced that a select group of boys from the Runnels and Goliad choirs will attend an Odessa choir clinic along with the combined high school boys' choir on Nov. 1. He stated that some 32 choir members are preparing to participate in all-regional tryouts in Midland this weekend.

The first Big Spring Choral Department concert of this school year will be held in the BSHS auditorium at 8 p.m. Nov. 3, admission is $1.

The next meeting of the Choir Boosters will be at 7:30 p.m. Nov. 17 in the BSHS choir room.

Guests Honored During Weekend

Mrs. Carl Strom and Mrs. Gloria Strom Ezell of 501 Westover Road hosted guests in their home this weekend. The purpose of the gathering was to introduce their friends to Mrs. Herschell F. Ezell III, recently married to the son of Mrs. Gloria Ezell, and her parents, Dr. and Mrs. James R. Hill of Dallas. Mr. and Mrs. Ezell III are from San Antonio.

Special out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ross Brunner, Mr. and Mrs. Rufe Bynum, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Callaway, Earle Craig, Douglas Scharbauer, Joel Jackson and Miss Andria Avery, all of Midland; and Mrs. R. Dixie Kilgore of Lamesa.

The honorees and guests were entertained with an Indian Summer Pow-wow on Saturday evening. Multi-colored decorations, hanging vegetable arrangements and a large campfire enhanced the outdoor setting.

The honorees were presented corsages of corn shucks and chicken feathers during the Saturday party.

Woman's Forum Hears Historical Book Review

The Woman's Forum met Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Lonnie Coker with Mrs. Merrill Creighton as cohostess.

Mrs. Mary Crawford, guest speaker, reviewed the book, "And Long Remember," by Dorothy Canfield Fisher. It is a collection of historical short stories.

Mrs. James Werrell was welcomed to the meeting as a guest.

Mrs. C. R. Wiley presided at the business meeting.

The members decided that as a tribute to the memory of Mrs. Joe Pickle, her place in the Forum would not be filled this year.

The next meeting will be at 2 p.m. Nov. 21 in the home of Mrs. Paul Kionka, 1610 Pennsylvania.

Meets Monday

The Coahoma Bridge Club met Monday evening for a pot-luck supper and bridge competition in the home of Mrs. Wendell Walker. Mrs. Cindy Branson was the hostess.

Placing in the bridge competition were Mrs. Billy Spears, high; Mrs. Billy Jack Darden, low; Mrs. A. V. Lewis, bridge-o; and Mrs. Charles Parrish, traveling prize.

12 TENSION-PACKED INNINGS

Fisk's Dramatic Homer Sets Up Seventh Game

BOSTON (AP) — After three days of rain, they finally played baseball at Fenway Park. And, boy, was it worth waiting for.

With all the drama of Broadway and the wallop of a Hollywood ending, the Boston Red Sox defeated the Cincinnati Reds 7-6 in 12 tension-packed innings Tuesday night and set the stage for tonight's seventh World Series game.

"They will be talking about that game for years to come," said Cincinnati's Pete Rose after the Red Sox tied this incredible World Series at three games apiece. "This game was the best advertisement for baseball you could have."

Rose, who never enjoys losing a game, nevertheless enjoyed playing in the "Green Monster" thriller.

"When he came up to bat in the 10th, Rose leaned over and said to me, 'Wow, this is some kind of game,'" said Boston catcher Carlton Fisk. "I agreed with him. You couldn't ask for a better game."

Fisk ended the wild affair as it should have been ended — with a leadoff home run in the 12th. The ball jumped off Fisk's bat and sailed into the left-field foul pole, bringing the roaring crowd at Fenway to its feet and the Red Sox players streaming onto the soggy field.

"It was a sinker down and in," said Fisk of the home run pitch from Cincinnati reliever Pat Darcy, the eighth Reds' pitcher of the game. "I knew the ball was either going to go foul or be a home run. Since the wind was blowing out, I was afraid the ball might hook around the pole. In fact, I bet the wind took the thing about 15 feet closer to the line than it should have been and it wound up hitting the pole just before going around it."

Fisk's blow was the most dramatic of the night because it was the final shot fired at Fenway. But there were many other moments of gorgeous high tension that kept everyone stuck to their seats and television sets.

Washed out of three straight starts by a long-winded storm, the Reds at last were poised for a knockout punch of the Red Sox in game No. 6. But it was Boston that got in the first punches, scoring three quick runs on Fred Lynn's homer into the right-center field seats in the first inning.

It seemed that it would be enough for Luis Tiant, the way Boston's ace was pitching for the first four innings. He gave up no runs and only two hits and appeared to be well on his way toward a third victory in the crazy, mixed-up series.

It wasn't to be, however. Tiant showed he was only human in the fifth when he gave up three runs, two on a triple by Ken Griffey. His imperfection became more obvious when George Foster unloaded a two-run double in the Cincinnati seventh and Cesar Geronimo laced a home run into the rightfield seats in the eighth.

Geronimo's wallop finished Tiant and gave the Reds a 6-3 lead. With Pedro Borbon pitching overpowering baseball in relief, the Big Red Machine seemed to be driving toward its first World Series title since 1940.

BOSTON (AP) — The National Weather Service predicted mostly fair skies with light variable winds and temperatures near 60 for tonight's seventh and final World Series game between the Cincinnati Reds and the Boston Red Sox at Fenway Park.

Goliad Honored At QB

The seventh and eighth grade football teams from Goliad were the focal point of the Big Spring Quarterback Club Tuesday night at the high school cafeteria.

Rudy Montez, eighth grade head coach, introduced his staff, Corkey Smith and Harlan Smith, followed by the presentation of Don Hise and Bob DeWeese, seventh grade directors. Players from both teams were saluted.

Goliad's eighth grade team stands at 6-1 with its only loss to Coahoma, while the seventh eleven shows 4-2.

A film on the Big Spring vs. Permian game was shown along with a report on Midland Lee, the Steers' opponent Friday.

Bob Burris, Steer head coach, rates Lee in the same class with Midland High and Abilene High and one notch below Permian. But Burris pointed out as he has said before, "Any one district team can beat the other on a given night."

Don Reynolds, club tri-captain, said Steer support was outstanding last Friday night at Memorial Stadium.

Juniors Win Out

FORSAN — One of three games played by the Forsan girls' basketball teams was won against Klondike here Tuesday night.

The juniors, paced by Julie Pointer's 14 points, won, 33-29. Klondike's Paige Echols tallied 17.

Jeane Bradford ripped the nets for 41 points in leading Klondike by the Forsan varsity 58-40. Beverly Strickland sacked 20 for the home team.

Klondike also won the JV test, 52-27. Klondike's Tanya Airhart flipped in 21 points with Melissa Frank of Frosan sacking 11.

Forsan's next game is at Bronte next Tuesday.

Steers Smack Eagles Twice

ABILENE — Big Spring High opened up second half District 5-4A volleyball play with both Steer teams winning, requiring separate three matches to complete.

The visiting varsity smacked the Eagles, 6-15, 16-14, 14-12. Abilene had Big Spring down 11-4 in the second with the Steers overcoming the deficit.

Tammy Newsom scored 11 points for the Steer varsity with Denise Burchell recording 10. Big Spring is now 1-0 in the second half and 14-5 overall.

The Steer JV finally came out on top, 15-12, 13-15, 15-6, with Susan Johnson netting eight points and Shanna Farmer and Nora Valles, seven each. The visitors are now 1-0 in second-round play and 8-7 for the season.

Big Spring now faces an all-important clash with Midland, first-round champs, there Thursday. Two games are scheduled at 6:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. The Steers finished second to Midland with a 6-1 record compared to the Bulldogs' unblemished 7-0 showing.

Out To Regain Pan Am Morale

MEXICO CITY (AP) — "We're definitely here to win the gold medal and to regain our morale. Therefore beating Cuba is a question of honor," said United States men's basketball assistant coach Jud Heathcote.

The question of honor was to be decided tonight in one of the feature attractions of the VII Pan American Games: the Americans vs. the Cubans in basketball. A victory would all but automatically give the U.S. a gold medal in the sport at these quadrennial Western Hemisphere games — a certain morale booster.

The U.S. prestige in basketball has dropped in recent years with defeats in the 1971 Pan Am Games, the 1972 Olympics, and last year's world championships.

A handful of important finals were scheduled today in other sports here, including swimming where the U.S. teams continue to rewrite the Pan Am record books. But the pivotal basketball game had the spotlight.

"We still have a chance to win the gold medal if we lose to the Cubans," Heathcote said. "They've lost to Puerto Rico and may still lose to Brazil."

Heathcote expressed hope there would be no violence, as in some Cuba-U.S. encounters here, notably in water polo where three Americans were injured.

Shearer Praised By SWC

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas Coach Darrell Royal wasn't surprised that Arkansas pounded at Texas' right defensive side last Saturday.

"What would you do if Brad Shearer was on the other side?" asked Royal.

Although Shearer, a 6-foot-4, 245-pound sophomore tackle, insisted that Arkansas' offensive line was a "lot better" than Oklahoma's, he intercepted a pass, recovered a fumble, caused a fumble and made 13 tackles.

His performance earned him recognition as The Associated Press' Southwest Conference defensive player of the week.

"He should be," said Royal. "He's played defense about as well as anybody we've had in a long time. How many games have we played this year? Six? He's been outstanding in every one of them."

Shearer's pass interception at the Arkansas 37-yard line "turned it around" for Texas, said Royal. Leading only 10-3, Texas scored two plays later on Gralyn Wyatt's 31-yard run for a 17-3 bulge in the third quarter.

In that same period, Shearer won a "little tug-of-war" with Arkansas quarterback Scott Bull for Bull's fumble at the Texas 12.

"Shearer was fantastic," said Royal. "He's very agile and quick."

Even in the OU game, with the Sooners' touted Terry Webb blocking on Shearer, the Texas sophomore made 17 tackles, and Royal said, "It would be hard to pick between Shearer and Dewey Selmon (of OU) as the outstanding defensive lineman, but I think I might go with him (Shearer)."

With Midland Lee losing ground week by week, Big Spring has a good chance of pushing the Rebels back a little farther Friday night.

The Rebels, defending champs, have had the tables turned on them twice in the last two games with San Angelo and Abilene Cooper. Five turnovers helped spur the Cougars on.

Big Spring proved it can play with the best as they allowed only seven points in the first half against Mojo. If a few breaks can go Big Spring's way, not seen too often, the Steers should floor the Rebels for the full count. I sure hope so.

Defense was the name of the game in 5-4A last Friday with the winners scoring 112 points and the losers 49, compared to 152-77 two weeks ago.

New Big Spring High Head Basketball Coach James Griffin has started practice in earnest. The first regular game is three days following the school's final football game of the season, Nov. 18, hosting Andrews.

Grif (as he is called) returns five lettermen, three seniors, James Zapp, James Ray and Robert Aldridge and two juniors, Bubba Stripling and Elroy Green.

"The team's attitude is great and we will be in top running shape come the opening whistle," said Grif.

Total participation, counting all three groups, sophomore, junior varsity and varsity, is 52, up noticeably from last year's 35 head count.

Dr. Cary Middlecoff, two-time U. S. Open champion and winner of the Masters, will direct the second Golf Academy at Waterwood National Country Club Saturday through next Monday.

The academy is open to all golfers from beginners to low handicap and club pros.

Classes will be held at the new teaching range recently completed. The 10 acres includes a three-tier driving range, three putting greens and a variety of traps and bunkers.

Academy size is limited to 50 players. For information, call collect to (713) 891-5211 or write Waterwood National Country Club, Box 1, Huntsville, 77340.

Big Spring's distance ace Ricky McCormick, now a freshman at Texas Tech, had to forego last Saturday's cross-country race at West Texas because of an injury.

With the Rackets winning the three-week round-robin Big Spring Tennis Association Tournament, the team received for its prize, "Steak For All" at a local restaurant.

WHAT'S IT WORTH DEPARTMENT — Tickets to Lee game at Midland Friday night are on sale at the Big Spring School District office until 2 p.m., Friday. Advance reserve tickets are $2.50 per person.

Dorsett Is Tops

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Collecting records and honors is nothing new to University of Pittsburgh running back Tony Dorsett.

Two years ago he was named an All-American, and his 1,568 yards rushing that year set a National Collegiate Athletic Association record for freshmen. It also gave him the Pitt single-season mark by more than 600 yards.

In one of his early games, he set another NCAA freshman record and another Pitt standard by going 265 yards against Northwestern. That performance earned him Back of the Week honors from The Associated Press.

Now he's improving on his own records. Last Saturday against Army, he ran for 268 yards and four touchdowns, a performance that once again earned AP Back of the Week honors.

"The last two weeks Tony has run better, I believe, than he's ever run before," Pitt Coach Johnny Majors said Tuesday.

"I think he will continue to do this because he's got a heart to go with his talent and the legs to go with his heart."

Dorsett, who gained 1,004 yards in his sophomore campaign, may be hitting the holes a little harder this season. He's gained 20 to 25 pounds since his freshman year.

And since he's piled up 729 yards with five games to go this year, the extra weight doesn't seem to be slowing him down too much.

His 268 yards against Army came on 21 carries, and Dorsett left a lasting impression on Cadet Coach Homer Smith.

SCHOOLBOY POLL

Permian Keeps Climbing

By The Associated Press

The Bryan Vikings remain firmly entrenched as the No. 1 Class 4A team in The Associated Press Schoolboy Football Poll but one word in defense of No. 2 Longview would be—defense.

Longview won its seventh straight game of the season last week with a 23-0 victory over a good John Tyler team that had been scoring an average of 31 points per game.

The victory marked Longview's fifth shutout this season in four of their seven games the Lobos have held the opposition to minus rushing yardage.

While Bryan and Longview continue to duel for 4A supremacy, Cuero in 3A, Cameron in 2A, Seagraves in A and Big Sandy in B, retained their No. 1 rankings in this week's voting.

Class 3A had the biggest shakeup in the ranks last week precipitated by the losses of No. 2 Silsbee and No. 3 Monahans. Monahans and DeSoto dropped out of the top 10 and Silsbee fell to a tie for 10th this week with newcomers Gainesville, 6-1.

Desoto dropped from fifth to a tie for 10th after losing a Dist. 8-3A game to Ennis two weeks ago. DeSoto rallied with a 42-0 victory over Marlin last Friday night but still dropped out of the top 10.

Fifth-ranked Irving MacArthur and No. 10 Houston Kashmere dropped from the 4A list after losses last week and were replaced by No. 9 San Antonio Lee and No. 10 Brazoswood, the defending state champion and former member of the top 10 earlier this year.

Tulia fell out of the 2A list and was replaced by No. 10 West Rusk, which fought No. 9 White Oak to a 7-7 deadlock in a district showdown last week.

Tenth-ranked Muenster lost to Archer City 50-30 last week and fell from the top 10 after only one week in the ratings. Wellington, 5-0-1, moved into the vacated No. 10 position.

Charlotte upset No. 5 Runge last week and captured the No. 10 ranking in B this week while Runge dropped out of the top 10.

Other 4A team contending for top 10 positions included San Antonio Churchill, Lufkin, Conroe and Irving MacArthur.

DeSoto finished out of the top 10 with 27 points in 3A followed by other contenders Seminole, Mumble, Jasper and Monahans.

Sudan, Runge and Jayton also received consideration in Class B.

A&M Listed 10 Point Favorite Over Bears

NEW YORK (AP) — "At times we look like we're just getting acquainted with each other," says John McKay, coach of 6-0, third-ranked Southern California.

"We're a crippled young ballclub with virtually no experience," says Dan Devine, coach of 5-1, 14th-ranked Notre Dame.

Despite all the negativism, ABC-TV plans to go ahead and televise Saturday's 47th meeting between the two ancient and bitter rivals anyway. And if it's anything like last year's show, the network will have another smash hit on its hands.

If Notre Dame thinks it has run out of miracles following successive 21-point rallies that enabled the Irish to beat North Carolina and Air Force the last two weeks, all they have to do is recall the miracle Southern Cal pulled against them last Nov. 30.

Trailing 24-0, USC scored late in the first half to make it 24-6 and then, ignited by Anthony Davis' 100-yard return of the second-half kickoff, went on to blitz the Irish 55-24. All the Trojans' scoring came in one fantastic stretch of 16 minutes, 54 seconds.

The mathematics in this corner say Saturday's game will be a battle of field goals ... Notre Dame 16-13.

Last week's record was 53 right, 16 wrong, one tie for a .768 percentage, lifting the season score to 288-118-10—.709.

Colorado at Nebraska: 'Husker Coach Tom Osborne calls Colorado "the best physical squad we've faced yet." We call the winner ... Nebraska 24-14.

Ohio State at Purdue: This week's crying towel is shared by Ohio State assistants Chuck Clausen and George Chaump, who both say the other team will give them problems. But still ... Ohio State 35-7.

Iowa State at Oklahoma: How'd you like to have Iowa State's remaining schedule? After Saturday come Colorado, Missouri, Nebraska and Oklahoma State. First, however, comes ... Oklahoma 42-14.

Baylor at Texas A&M: Baylor's defending Southwest Conference champs have run out of miracles ... Texas A&M 20-10.

Texas Christian at Alabama: The Crimson Tide can win this one with or without the Bear ... Alabama 49-0.

Indiana at Michigan: Michigan beat Northwestern 69-0, Northwestern beat Indiana 30-0. Ergo, Michigan ... 99-0. Awwww, make it 45-0.

Rice at Texas: Texas' Marty Akins and Earl Campbell both got banged up against Arkansas last week and this game could be closer than you think ... Texas 27-13.

Duke at Florida: Gator aid to a higher ranking ... Florida 35-7.

New Mexico at Arizona: With Steve Myer throwing, Lobos can make trouble for anyone ... Arizona 21-10.

Kansas State at Missouri: Wildcats hope to catch Mizzou between Colorado and Nebraska. More likely, it'll be K-State between Scylla and Charibdis ... Missouri 24-7.

Illinois at Michigan State: Last year's 21-21 tie cost State a share of the Big Ten title but that won't happen again since the Spartans are out of the running ... Michigan State 21-14.

Navy at Pitt: Middies' bubble burst against Boston College and now come Pitt and Notre Dame ... Pitt 23-6.

California at UCLA: Winner emerges as chief threat to Southern Cal's Pac-8 domination ... UCLA 38-27.

South Carolina at Louisiana State: Gamecocks' stay in the Top Twenty is short-lived ... LSU 24-17.

Cowboys Outrun Oilers

The College Heights Cowboys defeated the Lakeview Oilers, 39-13, in the final PeeWee regular season football game Tuesday night at Blankenship Field.

Kip McLaughlin passed for Cowboy aerial touchdowns to Terry Spears, Bill Baum and Craig Stump. Two fumbles also contributed to Cowboy scores, one by Stump and the other by Matt Burris. Stump was credited with a two-point safety.

Oiler scores came as result of a run and a Cowboy fumble.

The Vikings, whose only regular loss was to the Cowboys, will meet the Dolphins at 2 p.m., Saturday at Blankenship Field for the city championship.

A&I Keeps Third Spot

By The Associated Press

Grambling, unbeaten in six games this season, has strengthened its hold on the No. 1 spot in the weekly Associated Press college division football poll.

The Tigers, who beat Mississippi Valley 38-22 last Saturday and visit Jackson State in their next game, received 34 of 45 first place votes from a nationwide poll of sports writers and sportscasters released Tuesday.

While Grambling drew 431 points out of a possible 450, second-place Western Kentucky landed two first place ballots and 353 points. Texas A&I, which polled three No. 1 votes and 339 points, was ranked third.

Two Contests Set Thursday

Only two Big Spring school contests are on the docket for Thursday, one at home and one away from home.

The Steer junior varsity will entertain Lee at 4:30 p.m., at Blankenship Field while the A & B teams from Goliad are at Andrews.

Last Thursday, Eugene Boadle exploded for four touchdowns to pace Goliad to a 30-0 verdict over Snyder-Lamar and the junior varsity was defeated by Permian, 30-10.

The Big Spring Toros will be at home Saturday, playing Midland Edison at 10 a.m. at Blankenship Field. Runnels has an open slate this week.

Red Cross Helps Citizens In Need

Thanks to you it works... FOR ALL OF US
United Way

The Howard County Chapter Red Cross is another agency that relies on the United Way in its efforts to help citizens in need.

The Red Cross offers training in first aid at all levels in the community. All businesses are now required to have first-aid-trained employes, and the Red Cross is active in bringing instruction to all types of companies.

The chapter also offers a complete program of water safety training to children in all parts of the community. Te Red Cross assists schools, Scout groups, and civic organizations, in all phases of water safety, including junior and senior lifesaving.

The Red Cross is the official source of information between servicemen and their families. If a serviceman needs financial assistance or needs to return home on emergency leave, the Red Cross is there.

In the event of a natural disaster, Red Cross volunteers are the first on the scene.

The Red Cross also offers a variety of programs involving mother-baby care, as well as a Mother's Helper program for teenagers and babysitters.

The agency has also been instrumental in helping refugees to find sponsors and in aiding their adjustment to society.

The Red Cross offers a wide area of family counseling services including those dealing with communication problems and financial worries.

The Red Cross needs your help. For more information contact Red Cross offices at the Howard County Court House, 267-5031.

SEC Charges CBN Misled Investors

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The president of Christian Broadcasting Network Inc., which owns Channel 39 in Dallas, says a Securities and Exchange Commission charge that the network misled investors "is no big deal."

A federal judge in Alexandria, Va., ordered CBN to stop the practice of misleading investors after the SEC filed the charges saying that the network had misled investors. The SEC said that at least $7.4 million from 1,436 persons in at least 27 states, was involved in the transactions between September 1968 and October 1974.

U.S. District Judge Albert W. Bryant Jr. said Friday that CBN had consented to the order "without admitting or denying the allegation."

Pat Robertson, CBN president, was quoted here by the Times Herald as saying that "the word fraud was not used in any of the negotiations with the SEC nor in any of the papers filed in connection with the injunction nor in the press release sent out by the SEC."

He added that, "at best, what was alleged was a simple negligence in a civil matter which is to be corrected by offering a brochure which CBN has had on file with the SEC for the past five months and is now going to distribute under the consent decree."

He added the CBN consented to the decree because "a defense of any claim would have taken months and would have cost many thousands of dollars in legal fees."

SEC said CBN made use of selling brochures saying the CBN securities were safe and secure, but omitted to state what was described as the deteriorating financial condition of the network during the 1970-74 period.

Bryant ordered the network to file with the court by Nov. 17 and "disseminate to all persons who presently own securities issued by CBN and to all persons to whom CBN offers to sell its securities in the future a disclosure document relating to such securities."

SEC said that CBN lost $86,911 in 1970, $498,000 in 1971, $222,431 in 1972, $884,000 in 1973 and $1.17 million in 1974.

Must Prove Farm Income For Credit

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Supreme Court today ruled that a landowner must prove that 51 per cent of his total income is earned from farming or ranching in order to claim the agricultural tax exemption provided by the present state constitution.

Under the proposed new constitutuion, up for election Nov. 4, the 51 per cent requirement has been removed.

The constitution now requires that farm and ranch land be assessed for taxation not on its resale value but on its agricultural value, but only if farming or ranching is "the primary occupation and source of income of the owner."

The case before the high court was filed against oilman O.L. Gragg by the Cayuga Independent School District, which claimed he owed $30,686 in delinquent taxes for 1971, 1972 and 1973. A district judge at Palestine ruled in favor of the school district, the Tyler Court of Civil Appeals agreed, and the Supreme Court said—without writing a new opinion— that it could find "no reversible error" in the lower court decisions.

Both the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association and the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association filed special briefs with the high court, indicating the importance of the case to many landowners.

They urged the court to hold that "primary occupation and source of income" did not mean 51 per cent but largest among several sources.

Briefs for both organizations contended that the decision would result in a shift of ranch land into other uses.

The Tyler court, whose decision was upheld, found that Gragg's gross income in the three years that related to his Cayuga school taxes ranged from $703,003 to $980,856. In none of those years was income from his farming and ranching operations even half of the total, it said. When net income was considered, the percentage was even less.

Constitution Reviewed By Ezzell

State Representative Mike Ezzell spoke to the Morning Optimist Club concerning the constitution which has been offered as a simpler and easier document to read than the present Texas constitution.

He discussed some areas in which he is concerned, including the education article (Article VII) containing new language which states that the system must furnish each individual an equal educational opportunity.

He said that he approved of this concept, but the proposed terminology is open to broad legal interpretation that could tie up the Texas public school system in the courts for many years to come.

He also has some questions about the section which will allow annual sessions of the legislature, but has no limitation on the session.

Rep. Ezzell spoke at the weekly meeting of the club held each Wednesday morning at Coker's Restaurant.

Dandy Don, Dab Place In Donkey, Mule Show

For the first time in many years, the State Fair of Texas included a Donkey and Mule Show and Big Spring and Howard County were well represented.

While there, officials from the Southwestern Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth came over and visited the event and indicated that they plan to include this division by 1977 in their show.

The raising of mules and donkeys, which is a family event in many cases, is becoming an increasingly popular hobby.

The Donkey and Mule Show was sponsored by the Southwest Donkey and Mule Breeders Society and American Donkey and Mule Society.

E. Garrett Patton and A. G. Mitchell entered seven head in the show. Dandy Don, a senior jack, and Dab, a four-month old colt, will have their pictures in a national magazine.

Dandy Don won second in his class and prevailed in a race for riding donkeys. Dab won third in his class. Ethyl, Dab's mother, copped fourth in her class for senior jennies.

Roll Call, a mammoth jack that is 19 months old, won fifth in junior jack division and third in mammoth stock.

Penny, a bay mule, won fourth in conformation class of 48 or under. Judy, a grulla dun mule, won third in the class of 48 to 54.

A driving pair of mules, Red and Judy placed fourth in show for appearance and handling in the show ring. They also took part in the moonlight parade Saturday night through the Fair ground.

The pair of mules did not like the roller coaster and other attractions. Both Mitchell and Patton say they will not be placed in that precarious position again, Mitchell and Mr. and Mrs. Patton returned home Sunday and plan to enter another year. They met people from eight different states.

Judges included Carl (Bud) Wilson, Carmel, Ind.; Leon Clark, Martinsville, Ind.; Johnny Jones, Coarse Gold, Calif. Jones owns Rabbit, champion mule of the world for the past five years.

Eunice Council Hires Doctor

EUNICE, N.M. — This Southeastern New Mexico city finally has another doctor.

He is Dr. Leroy Alcox, formerly of Coffeyville, Kan., who was hired by the city council at a salary of $30,000 annually to operate the Eunice Municipal Clinic.

Alcox will also receive all the money taken in at the clinic in excess of operating expenses.

A registered nurse, Margaret Baggett, and a receptionist-bookkeeper, Sharon Baucom, were also hired by the council.

Dr. Alcox has been practicing medicine for 14 years.

Schools Will Not Sponsor Parties

Local Schools will not sponsor Halloween parties, according to an announcement by Dr. Emmett McKenzie, superintendent.

He pointed out that some of the elementary schools do have Parent Teacher Associations that sponsor carnivals as a PTA and this will be done again this year.

Some of the schools held their fall events early and held suppers or carnivals last weekend and several will be staged this weekend and during the following week.

NEWEST MEMBERS — Latest inductees into the Texas Electric Service Company's Quarter-Century Club are pictured here with W. G. Marquardt (second from right), president of the company. All have worked for the company 25 years or longer and were formally recognized at a banquet held Tuesday night at the Big Spring Country Club. From the left, they are W. W. Sledge Jr., Mrs. B. M. Long and J. D. Thomas. The three were recipients of watches.

Fuel Supply, Low Rates Cited By TESCO Chief

W. G. Marquardt, president of Texas Electric Service Company, praised TESCO employes Tuesday for their part in making TESCO one of the best electric utilities in the nation.

Speaking at the annual Quarter Century Club banquet at the Big Spring Country Club, Marquardt said TESCO is in a very solid position with a good fuel supply and low rates. "The gap is widening between TESCO rates and the national average", he said. "All electric rates are going up, but we are going up much slower."

Citing numerous power firms across the nation who have held up critical power plant construction due to lack of income, he said, "The impact for the customers of such a company will come three to five years from now when the demand for electric power in their area surpasses the capacity to generate. They could have brown outs, rationing, industrial curtailment and loss of jobs.

"New plants will still take years to build and then will cost much more. We have a lot to be thankful for. We are in a good position today. We are not taking it easy. We're planning and building for the future of our area and asking for adequate rates.

"Our company is seeking a rate increase at this time. We need it so we can keep our good credit rating, so we can borrow large sums of money at the lowest possible interest rates and build new power plants which burn cheaper fuels."

TESCO is currently engaged in a construction program with Texas Power & Light and Dallas Power & Light to build power plants that will use lignite and nuclear fuel, both of which are much cheaper than new supplies of natural gas, the company's main fuel today.

Theme of the event centered around the Bicentennial. Marquardt concluded with an expression of thanks to TESCO employes for their contributions to the TESCO "heritage."

He then presented award watches to three employes for completing 25 years of service with the company during the year and becoming members of the Quarter Century Club.

The new members, all from Big Spring, are Mrs. Bonnie M. Long of the distribution service center and J. D. Thomas and W. W. Sledge Jr. of transmission.

Airlift Raises $500 To Fight Birth Defects

The fight against birth defects is more than $500 richer due to last Sunday's March of Dimes Airlift.

Eight planes took up about 350 persons for 15-minute sight-seeing circuits of Big Spring from Howard County Airport in the third annual March of Dimes Airlift.

"Special thanks are due to R. E. McClure of Trans Regional Airlines," said MOD executive secretary Rose Teems. "When Mr. McClure saw we had a line waiting to fly, he brought out one of Trans Regional's nine-passenger planes to help with the flights."

Piloting the other seven planes with Airlift chairman Vaughn Martin were Jack Wagner, Jack Lewis, Buster Weaver, Bob Dugan, Ken Johnson, Jean Sadler, Art Burer and Gary Davis.

Civil Air Patrol volunteers led by Lt. and Mrs. David Bates safety checked aircraft and supervised loading and unloading of passengers. Engines and propellers were shut down during loading as a safety measure.

March of Dimes workers at the Airlift were Sandy Silbilsky, Tito and Wanda Arencibia, Mattie Watson, Margie Martinez, Edith Gay, Steve Hughes, Mike Evans, Terry Howell, Craig Fischer, Ed Ramey and Clyde and Brenda Teems.

Officials of the MOD Caprock chapter said they were also grateful to Bill Wilson Oil Co., which donated one plane and all gas for the airlift; Curtis Witte of th 5-Watters Club for setting up the snack truck; Contemporary Designs Inc., for its donation of ice; and Big Spring Aircraft for help in flying, maintenance and refueling.

Professor Kidnaped In Buenos Aires

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — A visiting literature professor from France was kidnaped in Mendoza early today, the official Telam news agency said.

There was no immediate police confirmation of the report which said a number of men abducted the professor from a home and took him away in a car.

The agency cited "sources" for its kidnap report and identified the victim as Noel Salomon. It said he is a "well-known" professor of Spanish literature at the University of Bordeaux now teaching at the National University of Cuyo at Mendoza.

Mendoza is 660 miles west of Buenos Aires on the Chilean border.

The agency said Salomon is current president of the Hispanic Society of France and vice president of the International Hispanic Society.

It said Salomon began lecturing on Latin-American authors at the Cuyo University at the beginning of the month as part of an international cultural agreement.

Ten gunmen presumed to be leftist terrorists shot and killed an Italian businessman, Rinaldo dal Bosco, near Buenos Aires last Thursday in a kidnaping attempt.

Hospital In Red At Sweetwater

SWEETWATER — Sweetwater Memorial Hospital lost $109,888 during the first nine months of 1975, according to a report turned in by comptroller Tom Tyler.

Tyler added that a steady drop in the number of patients reported by the hospital could be attributed to the deficit. He foresaw another loss in October.

Work is progressing on schedule on the new hospital, with excavation and dirt work all but complete.

Operates His Own Business

Contrary to a report issued in Tuesday's edition of The Herald, included in a story about the Howard County Commissioners Court meeting, O. D. Landrum is not employed in any capacity with Big Spring Aircraft Company.

Mr. Landrum instead operates his own business, identified as Big Spring Aero Repair.

Patty's Attorneys Focus On Competence Ruling

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Patricia Hearst's attorneys have been too immersed in questions that will influence a ruling on her mental competence even to begin plotting her legal defense, says one of her lawyers.

"The major thrust of all our efforts has been to get her psychiatric aid," says Albert Johnson. "Because of that, questions of defense, of admission to bail, have all taken a back seat."

U. S. District Court Judge Oliver J. Carter, who must rule whether Miss Hearst is competent to stand trial, is awaiting final reports today from a psychiatric panel he appointed to examine the jailed heiress.

He has twice delayed the competence hearing because the psychiatric reports were not ready. As of Tuesday, the judge had received two final reports and postponed for at least one day a hearing date until remaining reports are delivered.

Three psychiatrists and one psychologist have been examining Miss Hearst for more than one month, seeking to determine whether her attorneys are right when they say she was brainwashed and driven mad by the Symbionese Liberation Army.

"It has never been my intention or that of any member of the defense to have her declared incompetent," said Johnson. "We have simply indicated as lawyers that she is presently not in a mental condition to aid in her own defense adequately."

Carter's ruling, which will be based on but not necessarily governed by the psychiatric reports, will solve one legal problem but is sure to inspire others.

If Miss Hearst is ruled competent, her attorneys may ask to have their own psychiatrists examine her. If the judge finds her incompetent, the method and location of her psychiatric treatment may be a subject of argument.

Miss Hearst is being held on federal charges of bank robbery in San Francisco and state counts of kidnaping, assault and robbery in Los Angeles. Johnson says he has no doubt she will one day go to trial.

Meanwhile, Steven Soliah, 27, a house painter charged with harboring Miss Hearst, asked in legal motions for access to "the reports of all physical and mental examinations which have or may be filed in the case of U.S. vs. Patricia Campbell Hearst." Soliah's trial is scheduled for Dec. 1.

In Harrisburg, Pa., the government planned new efforts to gain the testimony of two reluctant witnesses in another harboring case. Micki McGee Scott, 27, and Martin Miller, 28, have refused to testify before a federal grand jury

Community College Discussed

Dr. Charles Hays and Theron Lee were in Lamesa this morning discussing details of the new Community College there.

Over 125 students are registered there for courses from Howard College in a building donated by the citizens of Lamesa.

Dr. Hays told the college board here Tuesday that no state funds or local taxes are used in the project there, except that state funds may be used in instruction. Lamesa is furnishing other items needed.

At the Chamber of Commerce banquet Monday night, the Community College was one of the projects praised by the outgoing president of the organization.

BACK TOGETHER AFTER 18 YEARS

'I Always Thought I'd See My Mother Some Day'

A thousand-mile journey to Talladega, Ala., ended an 18-year separation last week between mother and daughter.

"Oh, I prayed year in and year out and it's finally happened," said Mrs. Enrique Parras after greeting her daughter, Diane Blanks of Talladega.

Mrs. Parras, who lives in Abilene, is the wife of a former Big Spring resident. His mother, Victoriana Parras, died two years ago and his two sisters, Ester and Petra Parras still reside here.

Diane and her mother had not seen each other since 1957 when the parents separated. Mrs. Parras had received word from relatives that Diane had been killed in an automobile accident.

"I refused to believe it," she said.

Diane said following the reunion, "I always thought I'd see my mother some day."

Mrs. Parras said she remembers her daughter as being a "chubby 12-year-old with natural blonde hair." Diane described her mother as being "small, always smiling and with dark hair."

Mrs. Parras took a whole suitcase full of old pictures to show her daughter.

Diane made contact with her mother after going to Clanton and talking with relatives there. The Parras family drove non-stop from Abilene to Alabama in 20 hours, arriving in late afternoon.

Diane then was reunited with her mother, met her stepfather, her 23-year-old sister, Gloria, and her brother, Ollie Mac Parras.

Diane said, "Right now I'm so happy I don't know what to say. I just thank God we're finally back together."

RETURN FOR GRAND JURY APPEARANCE — Jack Scott and his wife Micki arrive at the federal building in Harrisburg today to appear before a federal grand jury. The grand jury is expected to question the Scotts on what part they played in harboring Patricia Hearst, in a northeast Pennsylvania house.

Sailor Admits He Killed Officers

MIAMI (AP) — An Indonesian sailor says he stabbed and clubbed his ship's four officers to death and sank the ship after he was cut on the eye in a shipboard accident involving one of his superiors.

"The last one was the captain," Gun Supardi, 23, said in a statement filed Tuesday in U.S. District Court. "I stabbed him with the knife in the hand, stomach and face."

The statement was introduced at a hearing on Indonesian efforts to return Supardi and three other Indonesian seamen from the ill-fated freighter Mimi to Indonesia.

Judge Peter Fay denied Indonesia's request and ordered Supardi, the other three seamen, and the Mimi's cook held for another hearing.

West Germany and Panama also have sought jurisdiction over the crew of the Mimi, a Panama-registered vessel operated by a crew hired in West Germany.

Supardi told U.S. Immigration officials he was injured in Miami when Chief Engineer Bernd Hesse cut a wire from a container.

"I didn't want to go back to the ship because my eyes were not good and I could not see," Supardi said. He said he was persuaded to return to the Mimi, which sailed that night, Oct. 9, with a load of fertilizer for Georgetown, Guyana.

"After the ship sailed that night I went to the captain and he told me to go to my cabin and sleep," Supardi said, adding that he stayed there about 25 hours.

Supardi said in his statement he found Hesse in the crew's mess, hit him on the head with an iron and stabbed him in the stomach.

He said he killed Second Engineer Horst Hershe and Chief Mate Manfred Schmidt before encountering Capt. Lothar Eckard on the bridge, where Hesse had managed to go for help.

Supardi said he stabbed Eckard and clubbed him and Hesse with a hammer before awakening the rest of the crew and ordering them into a lifeboat. He said he sunk the Mimi by smashing her seacocks.

The next day, the five crewmen were found adrift in the Caribbean Sea amid debris from the sunken freighter. They were taken to Palm Beach, Fla., by another freighter.

The Mimi sank in international waters about 220 miles southeast of Miami.

Will Lecture At VA Hospital

Dr. Jose R. Beceiro, part-time physician on the VA Hospital staff and assistant professor with the Department of Medicine, Division of Endocrinology at the Texas Tech University School of Medicine, Lubbock, will lecture at the VA Hospital today at 2:00 p.m. in Room 219. He will discuss "Hyperlipidemias." All area physicians and medical personnel are welcome to attend.

Enrollment Dip Recorded

Enrollment dropped by 21 this week at schools in the Big Spring Independent School District. Total enrollment was 6,357, down 104 from the same week last year.

A drop off of seven in enrollment at the elementary level and 16 at the secondary school level accounted for the loss.

Enrollment dropped by 15 at Big Spring High School, and by one at Goliad Junior High.

Marcy Elementary School had the highest loss at the lower levels with a drop of seven. Kentwood Elementary School dropped by four, and Boydstun and Cedar Crest each lost two.

Rodeo's Rookie Of Year Award Roped By Sooner

DENVER, Colo. — Two rookies in the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association have first-year titles cinched as the sport's regular 1975 season begins its finale this week.

Don W. Smith of Kiowa, Okla., is rodeo's Rookie of the Year with winnings of $17,605, all of which came from calf roping, an event in which he is rated 11th. As the Rookie, he'll receive a $3,000 bonus from the United Bank of Denver.

The Association also names a rookie saddle bronc rider each year, and the man who virtually has that award nailed down is West Hertzog of Maybell, Colo., with $4,551 in earnings. He'll receive a saddle from Denver-based Frontier Airlines.

The pro rodeo season winds up with the Grand National rodeo in San Francisco, Calif. The contest gets underway Friday and continues through Nov. 2. Nearly 500 contestants will compete for more than $84,000 at the rodeo, and for many it will be a last-ditch effort at strengthening championship leads or simply qualifying for the National Finals Rodeo Dec. 6-14.

Among the cowboys who already have Finals berths cinched are the Fergusons, Tom and Larry of Miami, Okla. Tom is in strong contention for his second straight all around championship with $43,742 in winnings. He's second this week to Leo Camarillo of Oakdale, Calif., who has $45,580.

The brothers each had first-place wins over the weekend at the Fresno, Calif., rodeo, in which Tom took the calf roping for $729 and Larry the steer wrestling for $663.

Other Fresno winners included Hertzog in saddle bronc riding for $523, Les Mason of Chandler, Ariz., $559 in bareback riding; Mike Crowder of Quesneh, B.C., $1,123 in bull riding; Frank Santos of Portola Valley, Calif., and Junior Muzio of Fresno, $742 each in team roping.

Another major contest that ended over the weekend was the Portland, Ore., rodeo. First-place winners there included Butch Bray of Brentwood, Calif., $797 in saddle bronc; Scotty Platts of Lyman, Wyo., $916 in bareback; Denny Flynn of Springdale, Ark., $1,132 in bull riding; Jeff Copenhaver of Spokane, Wash., $1,743 in calf roping; and Buz Peth of Bow, Wash., $1,287 in steer wrestling.

ALL AROUND COWBOY — Leo Camarillo, Oakdale, Cal., $45,580.
SADDLE BRONC RIDING — Monty Henson, Mesquite, Tex., $28,485.
BAREBACK BRONC RIDING — Joe Alexander, Cora, Wyo., $36,605.
BULL RIDING — Don Gay, Mesquite, Tex., $27,370.
CALF ROPING — Jeff Copenhaver, Spokane, Wash., $32,729.
STEER WRESTLING — Frank Shepperson, Midwest, Wyo., $30,945.
TEAM ROPING — Leo Camarillo, Oakdale, Cal., $25,322.
GRA BARREL RACING — Jimmie Gibbs, Valley Mills, Tex., $19,081.

Clarification

Kent Cearley, owner of O & A Tex-Pack Express, said the alleged embezzlement of the firm involved incidents before he purchased the firm.

Cearley said he purchased the firm May 5.

The alleged thefts were dated in March and April, a spokesman for the district attorney said.

The grand jury heard evidence earlier this month about the alleged embezzlement.

(AP WIREPHOTO)

Priests Testify, Advised Quinlans To Let Karen Die

MORRISTOWN, N.J. (AP) — Two Roman Catholic priests testified today that they assured Karen Ann Quinlan's adoptive parents the couple was morally right in desiring to turn off her respirator and "let her die with dignity."

"My understanding of the Catholic position is that extraordinary measures are not morally required to prolong life," said the Rev. Thomas Trapasso, the family's parish priest.

Father Trapasso said Karen's father came to him last summer and told him of Karen's failure to recover from a coma.

"He was still seeking hope and praying for a miracle, and the information I had gotten was that it was more hopeless than hopeful," Father Trapasso said. "I was afraid Joe wasn't facing reality."

The priest said when he suggested to the father that maintaining a respirator was not morally required, Quinlan responded by saying, "This is playing God."

"I said, 'No, we can make decisions and are expected to. We would not be playing God,'" Father Trapasso recalled.

The Rev. Pascale Caccavalle, chaplain at the hospital where the 21-year-old Miss Quinlan has been lying comatose for six months, said he advised the family: "When a patient has reached an irreversible state, then the obligation to use extraordinary means ceases."

Both clergymen said they felt that Miss Quinlan's respirator is an extraordinary means of keeping her alive.

Julia Quinlan was scheduled to testify today on how she decided that her daughter should be allowed to die.

Briefs filed before the trial indicated Mrs. Quinlan will testify that her daughter said weeks before she became ill that if she ever became terminally ill, she wouldn't want to be kept alive by artificial means. The comments were made during a family discussion about two friends who were dying of cancer, according to the Quinlan's attorney, Paul W. Armstrong.

It has not been determined what caused Miss Quinlan's illness, but doctors who first treated her in April suspected she had used tranquilizers and liquor together at a party.

Her father, Joseph, testified before Superior Court Judge Robert Muir Jr. on Tuesday that he believes it is God's will that Karen should be removed from the respirator at St. Clare's Hospital so "nature can take its course. It's the Lord's will; for some reason he wants to take her."

"We had done everything possible to help her and now we had no hope," Quinlan said, recalling his feeling when doctors told him three months ago that his daughter's coma was irreversible.

Quinlan said that if the court grants his request, he will have a doctor remove the respirator as his family and parish priests watch at Miss Quinlan's bedside.

"If the court doesn't agree with me I don't know what I'll do," he said.

Two doctors who have cared for Miss Quinlan testified Monday that they would not disconnect the respirator, even if ordered to do so by the court. They said she is alive by all medical criteria.

The state has argued that it could be considered homicide to disconnect the respirator.

Dr. Julius Korein, a neurologist testifying for the Quinlans, said, "I and many of my colleagues do not believe in saving a life that will lie as a vegetable for 10 years."

And Korein said he believed the purpose of the Quinlan's case was to bring into the open and make legal what he termed "an unwritten practice among doctors," to withhold treatment from patients who have no hope of survival as normal human beings.

Korein said doctors treating terminally ill patients sometimes tell nurses such things as: "If this man stops breathing don't resuscicate him."

The Quinlan's action has been endorsed by priests at their local Roman Catholic church. On Tuesday, the chancellor of the Paterson Diocese endorsed the Quinlans' position.

Quinlan said he probably wouldn't have made the move had the church not told him it was morally correct.

Brownwood Escapees Recaptured After Chase

BROWNWOOD, Tex. (AP) — Brown County Sheriff Danny Neal says three escapees from the county jail here have been captured in Louisiana following an armed robbery and a chase involving state and local law enforcement officers.

Neal said the men, who escaped Sunday, surrendered to authorities late Tuesday night about 20 to 25 miles from Gonzales, La., a small town on Interstate 10 southeast of Baton Rouge towards New Orleans.

Authorities in Gonzales said they chased the trio after an eyewitness provided a description of a vehicle allegedly used in the armed robbery of a convenience store at Gonzales earlier in the evening.

The three Texas escapees were being held for questioning in the robbery, Louisiana authorities said. No charges were filed immediately.

Sheriff Neal, in Brownwood, identified the escapees as Donald Leonard, 28, of Dallas; Gary Don Beasen, 17, of Rising Star, and Dale Reynolds, 18, of Brownwood. The two teenagers were trusties.

Neal said they escaped Sunday by sawing through their cell bars on the third floor of the jail and then lowering themselves to the ground with a rope made from tied-together blankets.

An intensive search had been made in Texas for the trio.

Neal said Leonard was being held at the Brown County jail on charges of theft by check, and had threatened earlier to escape and kill his wife in Dallas. Beasen was held on theft charges from Midland, and Reynolds on burglary charges and revocation of probation.

Trash Due To Steal Spotlight

The discussion of the first ordinance reading concerning garbage and trash is expected to steal the spotlight at the city council meeting at 9 a.m. Friday in City Hall.

Other items on the agenda include two final readings on ordinances for annexation, a consideration of a proposed budget for Big Spring Industrial Growth and Development, consideration of an emergency reading of a resolution adopting a minute order as approved by the highway commission and consideration of the second reading of an ordinance adopting the national electrical code as a minimum standard for Big Spring.

The council will also consider approval of additional revenue sharing funds for sewage plant improvements and consider approval of the minutes of the tourism development council and the electrical board minutes.

They also will consider adoption of an Affirmative Action Program, to be discussed at the meeting.

Court Has Authority Over Beatles Suit

NEW YORK (AP) — A state judge has ruled his court has jurisdiction in a suit seeking $24 million from the disbanded Beatles rock group.

State Supreme Court Justice Jacob Markowitz based his decision on Tuesday in the complicated case on a report from a special referee.

ABKO Inc., the Beatles' former manager, claims the money is due for back services, commissions and expenses.

DEPRESSION ART "FOUND"

Public Offered U.S. Surplus 1937 Art Prints

WASHINGTON, D.C. (Special) - A series of rare coincidences has led to the historic discovery of several thousand sets of full color antique art prints that were "lost since 1937." They are now being offered to the American public.

ELEANOR ROOSEVELT

Back in 1937, immediately following the depression years, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and a select group of a dozen nationally prominent people formed a voluntary national committee for art appreciation to create an art program that would give the public a well-needed moral lift. It was the committee's decision to select the world's most famous paintings from the 16th, 17th, 18th, 19th and 20th centuries - the best paintings of Matisse, Van Gogh, Gainsborough, Picasso, Gauguin, Titian, etc., and to reproduce them in full color as perfectly as humanly possible and make them available to the public at a price within the reach of nearly everyone.

ABANDONED IN 1937

For some unknown reason, after a quantity of these beautiful reproductions were made, the entire project was abandoned and this collection of perfect reproductions was stored in a Brooklyn warehouse, where they remained undisturbed since 1937.

The lost collection was "rediscovered" and leading lithographers and art critics agree that the subject matter and quality of detail and color reproduction is incredibly accurate. Over $100,000.00 had been spent to make finely engraved glass printing plates.

These authentic original 1937 prints are literally collector's items and have been appraised by a member of The Antique Appraisal Assoc. of America, Inc. at $7.00 each print. Once they have been sold, there will be no more available. A truly excellent art "investment" that makes a fabulous gift.

AVAILABLE TO PUBLIC

Now, after 38 years these full color 11"x14" (ave. size) prints are finally available to the public at $12.95 for a collection of 12 prints. Send cash, check or money order to: U.S. Art Surplus, Dept. D11, 4816 MacArthur Blvd. N.W., Washington, D.C. 20007. Fully GUARANTEED. Certificate of authenticity given with each set. Mastercharge and BankAmericard OK (give card number and expiration date).

NEW CONSTITUTION

Simplified Judiciary, Consolidated Courts Draw Praise, Criticism

Editor: This is another in a series of nine stories prepared by The Associated Press on the proposed state constitution that will be voted on Nov. 4. This article disucsses the provisions concerning the Judiciary.

By ROBERT HEARD
Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas needs judicial reform so desperately that many top officials support the new constitution principally because of its simplified judiciary article.

But included among the critics of the article are a few heavyweights, including the presiding judge of the state's highest criminal court, John F. Onion Jr.

Reform is needed, says Onion, but this article fails to provide it.

Texas Supreme Court Chief Justice Joe Greenhill, however, says it does.

How can a voter make up his mind when the state's top two judges differ? Especially when they use the same language to justify their positions?

Here is Onion: "It's not necessarily the punishment but the swiftness and certainty of punishment, I believe, that deters crime. What good are speedy trials if we don't have speedy appeals?"

Here is Greenhill: "Swiftness of trial and punishment is the most effective deterrent we have to crime."

Onion's detractors say his real opposition is to the loss of his title as presiding judge.

The main features of the judiciary article are the merger of the Supreme Court and the Court of Criminal Appeals, and the creation of a unified judicial system under the administrative control of the Supreme Court.

The five criminal appeals judges, and the court's two special commissioners, would become Supreme Court judges, raising the total from nine to 16. Death and retirement will drop it back to nine.

So Onion wouldn't be out of a job, just a title.

"I'm not sure there's that much difference between being an associate justice on the Supreme Court and being presiding judge on the Court of Criminal Appeals," he said.

Onion argues that criminal appeals will be prolonged, not speeded up, by giving the 14 courts of civil appeals criminal jurisdiction and allowing the Supreme Court to hear appeals from those intermediate courts.

The time it will take for the top court to decide whether or not to take a case, added to the time needed to write opinions on those it accepts, will clog up the criminal docket worse than it is now, Onion says.

Onion finds opposition to his position on his own court. Judge Truman Roberts predicted two years ago the court's huge caseload would lead to a scandal. Onion said recently that problem has been solved. Roberts disagrees.

"We have heard arguments in 120 cases, which we have not decided, another 543 have been filed for arguments, and there are approximately 2,000 cases around the state in which notice of appeal has been given. This court simply cannot handle 2,600 cases," says Roberts.

The courts of civil appeals, with a total of 42 judges, have a caseload one-fourth the size of the caseload of Onion's and Robert's court.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe told a news conference Oct. 14 he failed to see how the merger of the top two courts "can do anything but slow the process of justice."

Among others opposed to the new judiciary article is Dallas Democratic state Sen. Oscar Mauzy, who says the other 48 states that have one top appellate court are the ones that are out of step, not Texas.

"The State Bar of Texas and the Supreme Court of Texas have recognized the specialization in law, as we've seen in medicine during the last decade, by providing for specialized law licenses," says Mauzy. "To practice certain kinds of law now, you have to have a certain kind of license issued by the Supreme Court, on certification.

"Those special areas are domestic relations law, labor law and criminal law.

"Now, if it makes sense to require the lawyer who practices criminal law—and I'm not one of them—to take a specialized examination and to be given that specialized license, then it makes sense to me that the judges who try those criminal cases should also be specialists."

The AFL-CIO opposes the judiciary article because it allows the state to appeal criminal cases where a trial judge declares a law unconstitutional and where the Supreme Court feels it needs to clear up conflicting views of the new courts of appeal.

Some county judges who never went to law school oppose the article because it would give the legislature the power to take away their jurisdiction to try cases and put it in new circuit courts whose judges must be lawyers.

Some district and county clerks oppose it because local voters would be allowed to merge the two offices.

There are many top public figures who support the article, including former Texas Chief Justice Robert W. Calvert, Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, and Atty. Gen. John Hill.

A major selling point the supporters use is the granting of centralized administrative powers in the Supreme Court. Texas is the only state whose judiciary lacks this power.

The high court would have authority to transfer cases between courts at the same level or assign judges within or between levels. Supporters say this will change an inefficient system to an efficient one.

Claims Phones Tapped

HOUSTON (AP) — J. L. Patterson, an electronics expert, has filed a $6 million damage suit against Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., alleging the telephone company wiretapped his home telephone.

Southwestern Bell denied the allegations and called the suit "ridiculous."

The federal suit, filed Monday, claimed that on various occasions the telephone company has used "electronic and other wiretapping devices" to illegally eavesdrop on Patterson's private conversations.

It said that on April 11 Patterson's telephone was tapped in order to learn about his appearance before the House Subcommittee on Courts, Civil Liberties and Administration of Justice.

"We vigorously deny the allegations," a statement issued by Southwestern Bell said in response to the suit.

"The suit is absolutely ridiculous. We have never, nor will we ever, tap Mr. Patterson's telephone. It is against the law and if we find any of the employes engaged in wiretapping and they are proved to be involved, we will fire them."

Patterson was convicted in July of charges of possessing a blue box with intent to defraud the telephone company and was assessed five-year sentences on three counts to run concurrently.

He also has been indicted by a Harris County grand jury on a charge of possession of morphine.

'FELL STRAIGHT IN'

Tavern Traffic Doesn't Have To Cross Street

LINEVILLE, Iowa (AP) — Folks in Lineville don't have to cross the street to Missouri to have a drink anymore. A tavern finally opened on the Iowa side.

"We did get tired of seeing our money go to the other side of the street," says Ruth Owens, a member of the Lineville City Council.

The community sits on the Iowa-Missouri state line with Lineville in Iowa and South Lineville in Missouri.

For years, the 385 people on the Iowa side had been running to the 52 people on the Missouri side to buy such illegal things as whisky and fireworks.

The tavern business was built on the south side of the state line in Missouri because that state had more liberal liquor laws. But in the summer of 1974, things began to change.

First, the lone tavern collapsed.

"It just fell flat down, all of her," said Harold Craig. "The way it was leaning, everybody thought it was going to fall to the south, but instead it just fell straight in."

Craig, 50, and Jim Perkins, 43, a retired Air Force veteran, opened the Little Road Side Tavern on the Iowa side.

Then the Iowa Legislature lowered the legal drinking age to 18. Now the traffic on U.S. Highway 65 is coming from the Missouri side, where 18-to 20-year-olds cannot buy beer or liquor legally.

"They're coming over to our side of the street for the first time," says Councilwoman Owens, who hopes Lineville can do something about its potholed streets with the tax revenue it gets from the new tavern.
