First National Bank

In Business For 32,950 Days And Still Growing

"Serving Aransas County for 32,950 days" — that's the number of days in 90 years — which is how long Rockport's First National Bank has been on the scene.

The bank, which opened its doors around October 8, 1890, will launch a week-long 90th anniversary celebration starting Monday, October 6, and all of Aransas County is invited to join the party.

Events during the week will include a display of old photos and artifacts in the lobby, a daily drawing for the bank's Savings Bond giveaway and a special ceremony at 4 p.m. Friday, October 10, honoring all those persons born in the 1890s.

"These first 90 years in business have been great," says Bank President James Sorenson, adding, "We're looking forward to the next 90 years with tremendous pride."

Much of that pride comes from the bank's growth since it opened its doors 90 years ago. Deposits as of closing on Friday, September 26, totalled $33,799,993.

Sorenson extended an invitation to Aransas County residents to come by during the week of October 6-10 to enjoy refreshments, see the photos and artifacts and register for the Savings Bonds that will be given away each day.

The bank is giving away five $50 bonds and one $200 bond, Sorenson said.

Women from Rockport's First United Methodist Church are in charge of refreshments and Joyce Brown is hostess for the week-long celebration.

Gladys Gibson is in charge of the photo display and Lynwood Eller of the artifacts. Other activities will include organ interludes and choral music by [See BANK, Page 8]

United Fund Drive Starts Today

With a goal of $1,500 over last year's — and the larger percentage of funds earmarked for local agencies — Aransas County's United Fund campaign officially gets underway today, Wednesday, October 1.

Goal of the local campaign is to raise $20,103, of which approximately 44 percent will go to local agencies.

"This is unusual in any of the United Fund efforts," said Budget Committee Chairman Cam Leonard, but, he continued, "Since the funds are raised locally, we (the budget committee) felt as much money as possible should remain in the county."

Other members of the budget committee are Eddie Ratliff and Johnette Brown.

Local agencies that receive funds from the United Fund drive include the Aransas County Emergency Corps (the volunteer fire departments), the Aransas County Youth Council and local Boy Scouts and the Council on Aging.

Other agencies include the Girl Scout organization (local and Paisano), the Aransas County Medical Services Inc. and the Family Counseling Service which is located in Corpus Christi but assists some Aransas County families.

Other organizations that receive money from the Aransas County United Fund Drive include the American Red Cross, Salvation Army, [See FUND, Page 8]

Ducks Unlimited Banquet Nets $52,000

The Saturday evening banquet, auction and dance, sponsored by the Rockport-Fulton Chapter of Ducks Unlimited was attended by 450 person, brought in $52,000 and was termed a "huge success" by chairman James Fox.

One of the big fund raisers was a fully-trained Labrador retriever bought by Mark Connell of Killeen and Rockport, for $4,600.

An original Herb Boothe painting, "Dawn Set," went to Best Chemical Company for $4,100.

Also bringing in big money was the 1980 commemorative shotgun which was bought by George Miller of Rockport for $4,000.

Two more fund catchers included an Al Barnes original, "Bay Flyers," bought by Southwest Petrochemical of Houston for $2,900, and the 1979 Commemorative shotgun that went to Bob Martin of Rockport for $2,900.

The fully-equipped 16-foot boat was won by Terry

Cox of Fulton and Bob Martin took the grand door prize — a Remington .12 gauge shotgun.

Southwest Petrochemical purchased the first bronze belt buckle designed by sculptor Robert Logan, for $850.

Fox said, "Thanks to the local merchants, individual contributors and those who attended the banquet Saturday night. Without their generosity and assistance we couldn't have done it."

Two Dead Following Collision

Two Holiday Beach residents were declared dead at the scene following a head-on auto collision on the Copano Causeway Friday afternoon.

Charles Burton Hanson and his wife, Mary Adams Hanson, were killed. A Corpus Christi man, Gregory Lloyd Goff, was taken to Memorial Hospital where he was reported still in critical condition Monday afternoon.

Highway Patrolman Steve Miller said the collision occurred about 4:51 p.m. Friday when Gregory's car and the vehicle driven by Hanson struck head-on on the south end of the bridge.

Miller said Goff, northbound on Highway 35, had just passed another car and had not yet gotten back into the northbound lane. The Hansons were traveling south on 35.

Both of Aransas County's ambulances responded to the call. Chief Paramedic Bill Aston said the Hansons "must have been killed instantly. It was a violent head-on collision."

DPS Officer Richard Zuniga joined Miller in investigating the accident.

Pirates Tie On Cottonpickers

By Bob Crawford

With a new lease on life following their 19-7 win over Flour Bluff last Friday, the Rockport-Fulton Pirates will have added incentive Friday night at Pirate Stadium when they host the tough Robstown Cottonpickers.

Rockport played well enough last week to stay on the field with anyone, including Gregory-Portland.

The Pirates controlled the football against the Hornets of Flour Bluff, and came away with the victory. If the Pirates could be faulted in any one area, it would be in the fact that they had the ball given to them inside the opponents' 35 yard line, and never put points on the board. On other occasions, the Pirates had the ball down close, and scored on three of five chances. A "KILLER INSTINCT" to take advantage of what the other team gives them is still missing.

Backs Dwayne Walls, Micheal Simmons, and Ernest Gonzales picked up tough yardage when the Pirates had to have it. Every team which plays the Pirates must defense all three, because each can break for the long score at any time. Walls opened the eyes of the scouts last week when he broke 86 yards from a standing start before he was caught at the four yard line.

Rockport's line blocking was much improved, and Bubba Scott was wreaking havoc on defenders when the Pirates ran the sweep just as people thought he would do before an early SAME DAY OF THE WEEK, SAME NEWSPAPER, same page. Two nationally published columnists handed down the worst indictments of Jimmy Carter I've encountered. They are liberal James Reston of the New York Times and conservative Patrick J. Buchanan.

Said Reston, and only in part: "Even members of his own administration are deeply disappointed by the mean and cunning antics of his campaign..." And Buchanan: "To review Mr. Carter's record on manipulating the race issue - alongside his waffles on civil rights and his slur against Reagan - is to see hypocrisy stripped naked."

Weren't Mr. Reston and Mr. Buchanan saying the same thing? Jimmy Carter is a man not to be trusted. Can anyone say of a man not to be trusted that he is still an honest man? Does such naivete exist?

THEN IN THE SAME NEWSPAPER, THE NEXT day, Joseph Kraft, another syndicated columnist: "Mr. Carter may have hurt himself recently by the show of a mean, petty streak in implying that Reagan is a racist."

"Reagan a racist? Show me. True, 16 years ago Reagan and other conservatives had reservations about the equal rights bill, but does that make a man a racist? Earlier on, in 1948, Reagan turned in his membership to an exclusive club when it refused to admit a Jewish friend."

"And Carter, as late as 1976: 'I don't get over 4 percent of the Jewish vote, Jackson has all the Jews anyway, so forget it. We get the Christians.'"

"And earlier in 1970 when he was seeking election as governor of Georgia he clung to the coat-tails of the axe-wielding Southern Progressive George Maddox: 'I'm proud to be on the ticket with him.' (Maddox running for lieutenant governor.) Had the black members of a cheering crowd at the Ebenezer Baptist Church forgotten when a few days ago Carter sought to whip up racial hatred when he addressed them?"

THE READER MAY FAIRLY ASK, WHY DO I BOTHER to waste so many words on Carter and Reagan? Am I not the chap who a few weeks ago said, forget them both, concentrate your attention upon the vice presidential candidates, one of whom is the most likely man to become our next president? I am indeed.

The words you have read were written because above all other things I cannot stand posing piety or hypocrisy. And those things exemplify Jimmy Carter. By contrast I would not attempt to convince you that Ronnie Reagan is a saint. I don't think he is, but I am one who is and ever has been one to cock the cynical eyebrow at the insinuation that anyone is that, ever has been.

On the other hand, countless boobos notwithstanding, but looking at his record, Reagan comes pretty close to being the sort of all-American boy stepping from the pages of Horatio Alger. Naivete he has aplenty, but meanness, downright nastiness, no. Those things are welded to the Carter coat of arms.

AH HYPOCRISY! PROPOSITION NO. 4 ON THE November 4 ballot asks that the Texas Legislature be allowed to authorize the conduct of bingo games by certain specified groups for charitable purposes...

Straightaway let it be made clear that as an individual I have no moralistic sentiments with regard to gambling, be it bingo, slot machines, horse racing, roulette, poker or what have you. It does so happen that I don't gamble; not forgetting that every move all of us make is a gamble, like the risk of slipping and breaking a leg when I step into the shower.

No, I don't gamble in the usual sense because games of chance simply bore me. I respect the rights of those who find it fun.

But to separate bingo from other forms of gambling is hypocrisy. To say that gambling is right and legal in certain places, under certain auspices and for certain purposes, charitable or otherwise is hypocrisy amplified to the Nth degree. A child can see this.

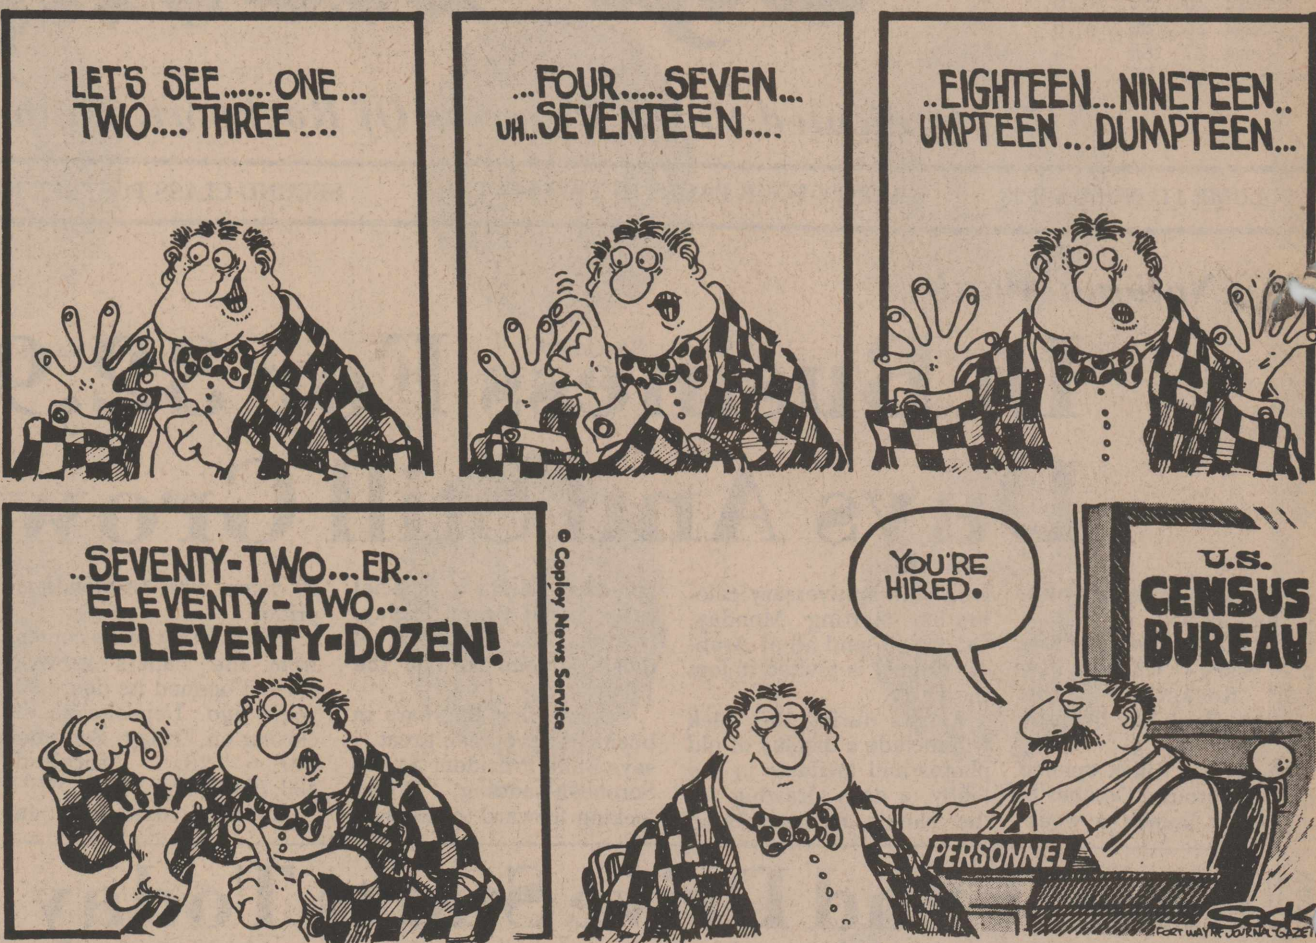

When adults prevail upon a legislature to offer such a proposition must we longer wonder that the younger generation is said to have so little respect for the older?

Yes, I've heard the plea that such and such an institution or charity could not exist without gambling. I laugh. The charity does not deserve support unless its supporters are willing to contribute out of sincere good will and conviction in its worth.

On the other hand, let's legalize gambling, and not confine it to separating bingo as being different from other games of chance. And, if you or I choose to invite friends in for barbecue and stud poker (played for money) let it be just as legal and moral or immoral as bingo, played under certain auspices for certain specified reasons.

A FEW DAYS AGO I HAD AN INTERESTING conversation with a man who late last year made a rather dramatic exit, or escape from Isfahan in Iran. At the moment space does not permit reciting the story and I mention it only because it confirms contentions of the past made in this column - that Iran and the world would be better today were the late shah alive and ruling the country.

Needless to say, when I say Iran would be better off I mean the mass of its people. After all what matters a country if the people are not the best criteria for well being?—cmhenkeljr

Capitol Inquiry

From State Senator Walter Mengden

THE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS

In addition to the elections for federal, state and county offices that will be decided in the November general election, the ballot will also contain binding referendums on nine proposed amendments to the Texas Constitution.

In order to amend our state constitution, a proposal must be passed by a two-thirds majority of the memberships of the Senate and the House of Representatives and then approved by a majority vote of the people.

Unfortunately, there are no procedures in Texas for the people to petition for either statutory laws or constitutional amendments through initiative and referendum. As you may know, I have been very active in working for legislation to give the people of Texas the right of initiative and referendum that the citizens of 23 other states currently have.

While many politicians do not trust the people to vote on issues, it is clear that this right has always been used responsibly and effectively in those states that have initiative and referendum and in Texas in voting on proposed constitutional amendments.

Since adoption of the present State Constitution in 1876, 378 amendments have been passed by the Legislature with 235 of them (62.2 percent approved by a vote of the people. Summaries are listed below of each of the nine proposals that will appear on the upcoming ballot.

Proposition 1: "The constitutional amendment permitting the Legislature to authorize banks to use unmanned teller machines within the county or the city of their domicile on a shared basis to serve the public convenience."

The Texas Constitution prohibits state and national banks from participating in branch banking, which in engaging in the business of banking at more than one location. That prohibition, which dates from 1904, is based on a desire to control the influence of large banking interests and fear of a banking monopoly.

The federal courts have ruled that an electronic device that performs banking functions and that is installed away from the primary location of a bank is a branch bank.

An opinion of the state attorney general indicates that the use of machines to perform banking functions is branch banking and is therefore unconstitutional. This constitutional amendment would lift the ban on the use of unmanned teller machines.

Proposition 2: "The constitutional amendment authorizing appeal of certain pretrial rulings of a trial court in a criminal case by either the state or the accused."

I was the sponsor in the Senate of this very important anti-crime measure. Currently, Texas is the only state in the nation that totally prohibits our prosecutors from ever being able to appeal in criminal cases!

This has resulted in a big advantage for the criminals over the lawabiding citizens in Texas. But this constitutional amendment will, for the first time, allow the state to appeal pretrial procedural and technical rulings of judges regarding the constitutionality of a particular statute, rulings of judges to quash, dismiss, or set aside an indictment, or rulings of judges to suppress evidence. (Verdicts of juries would, of course, still not be able to be appealed by the state.)

I strongly recommend a "yes" vote on it.

Proposition 3: "The constitutional amendment requiring a single appraisal and a single board of equalization within each county for ad valorem tax purposes."

The State Constitution now requires the county commissioners court to sit as a board of equalization for the state and county and for other political subdivisions that tax on the basis of the county tax roll.

Currently, cities, school districts, and many special districts are permitted to have their own tax offices to appraise property for taxation and many of them do so. Thus, most properties in the state are appraised at least twice and some are appraised by as many as five separate offices.

In 1979, the Legislature enacted a new Property Tax Code to take effect in 1982 and eliminate most of the duplication. It establishes an appraisal district for each county, which will provide for appraisal of property for all political subdivisions and with a single board to hear taxpayer challenges to the appraisals.

However, counties cannot now be required to participate. They are authorized to participate voluntarily and approximately 215 of the 254 counties have already joined the appraisal districts.

This proposal would constitutionally require unified appraisal systems in each county and eliminate the exemption that county governments now have from participating in them.

Proposition 4: "The constitutional amendment to authorize bingo games on a local option election basis if the games are conducted by a church, synagogue, religious society, volunteer fire department, non-profit veterans organization, fraternal organization, or non-profit organization supporting medical research or treatment programs and if the proceeds are to be spent in Texas for charitable purposes of the organizations."

The Texas Constitution prohibits the establishments of lotteries. The courts have ruled that a bingo game, even if operated by a church or other non-profit organization, is a lottery. This constitutional amendment would allow religious and charitable organizations to have bingo games.

Proposition 5: "The constitutional amendment to grant the governor power to exercise fiscal control over the expenditure of appropriated funds as provided by law."

This constitutional amendment will give the governor a greater authority to oversee and execute the state budget. While he will have to share this management tool with a legislative committee, it is at least a good move in the right direction.

Proposition 6: "The constitutional amendment to authorize the governor to remove appointed officers with the advice and consent of the senate."

I was the sponsor of this measure to help bring the state bureaucracy under more control. Currently, appointed members of state boards and commissions serve six-year terms and cannot be removed from office.

As a result, state agencies function autonomously and are not responsible to the governor, the Legislature, or anyone else.

This constitutional amendment will allow the governor to remove his own appointees on state boards and commissions, with the consent of the Senate.

This will make appointed state agencies much more accountable for their actions, since they will — for the first time — have to answer to an elected official.

Proposition 7: "The constitutional amendment authorizing counties with a population of 5,000 or less to perform private road work."

Several provisions of the Texas Constitution prevent the state or local governments from using public funds for other than public purposes. However, counties are occasionally asked to provide their equipment and personnel for private road work, particularly in remote areas where there are few, if any, private contractors able or willing to perform the work.

This proposal would permit very small counties to build and maintain private roads if the county imposes a reasonable charge for the work.

Proposition 8: "The constitutional amendment to change the name of the Courts of Civil Appeals and the names and qualifications of the justices of the Supreme Court and to prescribe the jurisdiction and authority of the appellate courts."

Currently, Texas has a dual system of separate civil and criminal appeal courts with the state Supreme Court the final appeal in civil cases and the state Court of Criminal Appeals the final appeal in criminal cases.

But while there are 14 intermediate courts for civil appeals, there currently are no intermediate courts for criminal appeals. This constitutional amendment is designed to improve the judicial system by allowing the 14 intermediate courts to have jurisdiction in both civil and criminal cases.

Proposition 9: "The constitutional amendment allowing spouses to agree that income or property arising from separate property is to be separate property."

Texas currently utilizes the "community property" system in which all possessions acquired during a marriage become the shared property of both spouses. This constitutional amendment would permit specific contracts between spouses to deviate from this system if they desired to do so.

"Low Down"

FROM THE Congressional Record

By JOE CRUMP

(A Column for Readers Who Haven't Time to Review the Congressional Record Daily)

TRUTH ABOUT WELFARE

Representative William D. Ford (Mich.) "...One of the most common complaints in America today is that too many lazy, shiftless people are taking advantage of the welfare system to enjoy comfortable lives at the expense of those Americans who work for a living."

"The falsity of this all-too-common belief is effectively exposed in an excellent editorial by the Detroit News, entitled 'The Welfare Myth.' (Excerpts follow):

A growing group of Michiganders are, unfortunately, finding out that easy access to the welfare system is indeed mythical. They are the laid-off workers whose union and state unemployment benefits have run out and who now are applying for public assistance for the first time in their lives.

According to Mr. Dempsey (State Social Services Director) and district welfare offices, a lot of these first-time applicants are angry and confused when they find that getting money out of the government isn't as simple as they had assumed.

First of all, anyone applying for aid to families with dependent children (ADC) general assistance, food stamps, or other programs will have to fill out a new 22-page form that, like any piece of government paperwork is a test of determination in itself.

Many will be told they have too many assets. Public assistance allows clients one home or apartment, household goods and one car.

The second car, the snowmobile, the motor home, the boat, the cottage up North — all painfully purchased in more prosperous times — will be considered unnecessary assets. Those who sell assets to be eligible for assistance must also show proof of how they used the proceeds.

Reinvesting in new household items isn't allowed; the money from the sale of the snowmobile must have been used up by rent, food, health care or other necessities.

Once the new applicant is eligible for welfare, the checks don't begin arriving immediately. It takes 30-45 days to be processed. It's better not to wait until creditors are banging at the door (welfare won't help with your department-store charge or auto loans).

You can own a car, but ADC will not cover car payments or car insurance.

Welfare, for all its faults, is not an easy-money program for the high-living chiselers. And a lot of first-time applicants are discovering the truth about such misconceptions the hard way.

CRUMP'S GRASS ROOTS COMMENT

The American College Dictionary defines "welfare: State of faring well, well-being, success, happiness." No one on welfare will buy this definition. To too many, welfare is bad news.

NOT SAME OLD MANURE

Representative Albert Gore Jr. (Tenn.) "...The 'Energy Security Act of 1980'...provided financial incentives for biomass conversion projects. The Washington Post reporting on this process...revealed that (the) manure-to-energy technology is ignored by officials of the Departments of Agriculture and Energy (USDA-DOE).

"I commend the article to my colleagues." (Excerpts from the article): Not The Same Old Manure: USDA Doesn't Know Energy From Shinola

A growing number of American farmers think that Agriculture Secretary Bob Bergland's bureaucracy is full of it.

They're mad because the bureaucracy won't practice what is preached and help farms, which are also full of "it", turn a lot of "it" into cost-effective energy.

The "it" is manure. By a relatively simple process, which involves no serious environmental hazards such as meltdowns, manure can be converted to a burnable gas.

Dick Waybright, co-owner of the Mason-Dixon dairy farm, raises up a sign that shows a Holstein with a bolt of energy coming from the vicinity of its tail.

The Mason-Dixon system is not exactly a Rube Goldberg contraption. It is simple.

Manure from about 700 cows is flushed to a pit where the solids are separated out and sent to a basin tightly covered by a big black plastic cover that keeps oxygen out.

In the oxygen-free atmosphere under the bag, bacteria and other microbes devour the solids and then die, their decay producing a gas that expands the bag like a giant balloon.

The gas is 60 percent methane and 40 percent carbon dioxide. The gas is used as a fuel to run a generator which produces electricity.

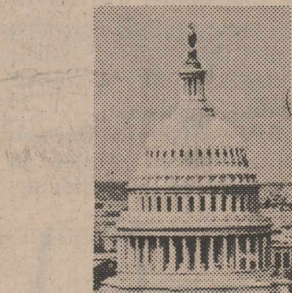

One of the byproducts of converting manure to methane is a fluffy, odor-free material that cows prefer as bedding over sawdust(?).

Since Waybright started putting this material in the barns, cases of mastitis (an old disease) among his Holsteins have dropped dramatically, raising the cows' annual milk production.

The main attraction of cow power is that, coupled with alcohol production, it can help turn farms into energy producers instead of consumers.

As Waybright says, "Food production all depends on the next boatload of oil coming in."

The Farmers' Home

Administration (FmHA) has jurisdiction for distribution of the funds we have available for loans to start innovative, onfarm energy programs. Help will be coming, says the Agriculture Department.

But down on the farm, whether it's Pennsylvania or Illinois, no one believes that will happen.

CRUMP'S GRASS ROOTS COMMENT

The American taxpayer would like to see a check list of the Energy accomplishments of USDA and DOE. The results to date are a mystery.

A recent article in "Health Foods Business" drew our attention to your newspaper column, "Healthful Hints."

We think that your column is an unusual, and undoubtedly effective, way of conveying information about nutrition to the public. Would it be possible for you to send us some old columns so that we can see what kind of topics you write about?

Rockport-Fulton High School Principal C.R. Barre, left, offers his congratulations to Ruth Lane, center, and Dianna Fake after the two RFHS students received commendation for outstanding performance in the 1981 National Merit Scholarship Program. RFHS Students Commended

Two students of Rockport-Fulton High School have received commendation for outstanding performance in the 26th annual (1981) National Merit Scholarship Program.

The students, Dianna Fake and Ruth Lane, have received letters of commendation from the school and from the National Merit Scholarship Corporation which conducts the competition.

C.R. Barre, RFHS principal, said these commended students have shown "exceptional academic promise by scoring among the top five percent of Merit Program participants."

More than one million students entered the 1981 Merit Program by taking the PSAT/NMSQT test in 1979. Some 33,000 of these students throughout the U.S. will receive a commendation for outstanding test performance.

Commended students rank below the level required for Merit Program Semifinalists — the only participants who will continue in 1981 competition for Merit Scholarships.

However, says an officer of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, "to be designated a Commended Student in the Merit Program is an attainment deserving of public recognition. The continued educational and personal development of such students will benefit the entire nation."

Students Taking PSAT/NMSQT To Benefit From Additional Services

Grover C. Watkins Jr., director of guidance at Rockport-Fulton High School announced students taking the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT/NMSQT) on October 21 will benefit from additional services in 1980.

These services are designed to provide students with more information about the content and uses of the test.

Students who plan to take the 1980 PSAT/NMSQT will receive a complete sample test for practice, along with an answer key and scoring instructions.

When scores are reported in December, each student will receive a Report of Student Answers, including the correct answers as well as the answers the student gave.

To allow students to refer to the original questions, schools will return test booklets with scores. Students will continue to receive "ABOUT YOUR PSAT/NMSQT SCORES", a booklet of general information on college planning.

The PSAT/NMSQT is co-sponsored by the College Board and National Merit Scholarship Corporation. It is administered annually to more than one million students and measures verbal and mathematical abilities that are important in college work.

The PSAT/NMSQT gives students a chance to find out what the College Board's Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) is like, and helps them in planning for college.

In addition, students who opt to participate in the College Board Student Search Service have an opportunity to hear from colleges that they might not otherwise learn about.

The PSAT/NMSQT is also the qualifying test for students who wish to participate in the nationwide scholarship competitions administered by National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

Computers Snare Welfare Cheats

It's not only elephants who never forget.

Computers don't either, and that's why investigators of the Texas Department of Human Resources have received a giant boost in their efforts to detect and prevent welfare fraud.

It used to be that investigators in the 16 DHR field offices had to rely on a manual system to keep track of case files. It was extremely difficult and unwieldy to find out if an individual had been investigated in more than one part of the state.

But that was before Case Management System, a program perched alertly inside the investigations division's computers waiting to snare individuals attempting to defraud DHR programs.

CMS gives each field office and the state office statistical information and data on every individual referred for investigation.

According to Ed Richards, director of the investigations division, there now are 51,455 cases on CMS.

Included on the system are theft of services cases in such areas as food stamps, food stamp trafficking, Aid to Families with Dependent Children, medical vendors, day care providers and day care recipients.

Also included on CMS is information about investigated cases involving physical and sexual abuse of children and adults, runaway children and missing parents, licensing, abuse, internal affairs, and forgery of AFDC warrants, state warrants and food stamp credentials.

The information on duck-out parents—usually the father—assists in parent locator cases for child support purposes.

Investigators now can readily determine if an individual has been investigated in another part of the state.

CMS gives each field office a repeat referral list, on which appears the names of individuals with two or more referrals for investigation.

Each field office receives monthly computer printouts on referrals received, cases assigned, cases turned over to a prosecutor, cases adjudicated and cases disposed of by the courts.

Richards said he knows of no other system similar to CMS used by any state agencies investigating welfare fraud.

CMS was designed and programmed by DHR staff.

Sacred Heart Holds Classes

Religious education classes at Sacred Heart Catholic Church began last week with all classes being held in the school building.

First and second graders are meeting Tuesdays from 2:45 until 4 p.m. and grades three, four and five meet Wednesdays from 3:45 until 5 p.m.

Junior high — sixth, seventh and eighth graders — hold classes Wednesdays from 7:30 until 8:30 p.m.

A special program for high school students is being conducted in the Youth Center (formerly the convent) on Wednesday evenings from 7:30 until 8:30 p.m. Registrations will be accepted during class periods this week.

Beginning Sunday, October 4, during the 10:30 mass, a pre-school program will be held in the school for four- and five-year-olds. Children may be registered before Mass in this group.

AARP News

By Lucille E. Skrobarcek
Thursday, September 25, was game afternoon and the lucky winners at bridge were Frank Skrobarcek and Mrs. Hazel Dailey.

Mrs. Grace Hayes won the finale and the "Pouch of Coins" went to Mrs. Mary Huffman.

The hostesses were Mrs. Margaret Gill and Mrs. Pat Works. Refreshments were served during the afternoon.

The next game afternoon is Thursday, October 2, at 1 p.m. at the Paws and Taws Building.

Wednesday, October 1, (tonight) at 7 p.m. is the date for the next AARP-sponsored dance. Join the festivities and enjoy the beautiful and varied musical numbers offered by Gene Rickles. Refreshments are served at intermission.

The first business meeting in October is Wednesday, October 8 at 10 a.m. Coffee and cookies are served at 9:30 a.m. The members who have birthdays and anniversaries in October are asked to bring the cookies for the coffee.

The birthday and anniversary persons are asked to sit at a special table decorated in their honor.

There is very little time remaining for assembling items for the "New and Old" booth at the Seafair. These items should be taken to Mrs. Genevieve Ohrling, John Ashbaugh, and the Concern Center.

Please remember that these individuals have to price and mark the items after receiving them.

"The Cake Walk" will be operated by Paul Riddle and George McCague. Each member of AARP is asked to bake two cakes and take them to The Town Hall — the small white building trimmed in blue — next to First National Bank.

The Tom Skrobarceks and Vincent Skrobarceks are in charge of receiving cakes at The Town Hall. There will be someone there on Friday afternoon, Saturday, October 10, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. and on Sunday, October 12, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.

For your convenience, Paul Riddle has placed cake boxes at the Concern Center and you can pick them up there.

DO YOU KNOW?

Fast Food Outlets Are Concentrating On Nutrition

Americans have taken up jogging in record numbers during the last several years. Accompanying this increase in exercise is also an increased interest in health and good nutrition.

Fast food restaurants are becoming more conscious of the nutritional value of their food. Many include nutrition information with the meals they serve.

Did you know a typical fast food quarter-pound hamburger contains 50 percent of the U.S. recommended daily allowance (RDA) of niacin? It also contains 40 percent of the RDA of protein and 30 percent of the RDA of iron.

Fast food outlets also are expanding their menus to include such things as soups and salads.

But just as important as what you serve is how you serve it. To keep food service costs down and cleanliness up, restaurants are using disposable containers to accommodate these new food items.

According to the Society of the Plastics Industry's Foam Cup and Container Division, many fast food outlets are turning to foam containers because of their strength. The foam resists moisture, so containers don't lose their shape or become soggy.

Foam cups and containers are also popular because of their ability to hold food at its proper temperature longer than other disposables. Soups stay hot, salads stay crisp and cool, and iced tea stays icy.

FOOD PRICE TRENDS

Food prices are expected to rise as we move into 1981 because of reduced food supply, according to government spokesmen.

Three factors influence food prices: handling costs, the relation of supply to demand and consumer buying habits.

Handling costs—transportation, processing, storing and retailing—are rising despite massive cost-fighting programs in the supermarket industry. These costs are directly linked to the general inflation rate.

During the first half of the year, the supply of food has been relatively plentiful, according to Food Marketing Institute. The Consumer Price Index reports grocery prices rose only 6.8 percent from July '79 to July '80 while prices on all items rose by 13.2 percent.

Drought, extensive grain trading with other countries, crop failures, fluctuations in the supply of meat and the high interest rates of last spring may have the effect of reducing the food supply in the future, says the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

The third factor that affects the cost of food is consumer buying habits. If demand remains the same during a period of lower supply, prices will rise rapidly. If, however, consumers shift to less expensive items as other prices rise, overall price increases could be slowed down.

It is likely that consumers will change buying habits if prices rise dramatically. The Consumer Price Index is based on a fixed selection of food items and does not register changes in consumer buying habits. Therefore, the Consumer Price Index will be exaggerating the severity of the situation.

Healthful Hints

Most Often-Asked Questions On Nutrition

By Jean Glowka

Q. I'm starting to get a cold. I have some 1,000 mg. tablets of vitamin C, and I'm taking 2 of these a day. Should I take more, and if so, how much? Will it really help?

A. Experts in the nutritional field have long felt that vitamin C was very helpful in preventing and curing colds and flu — in fact, any infection. They relate that C can be used as a general natural antibiotic.

Also, it seems to be equally helpful whether an illness is caused by virus or bacteria or is non-infectious, such as gout or arthritis.

At the onset of a cold (or any infection or illness) nutritionists recommend taking as much as 1,000 mg. of vitamin C every hour. Fortunately, vitamin C is completely non-toxic, even in massive doses. Any excess not needed by the body is quickly lost in the urine.

Q. I recently read that centenarians in Bulgaria use a lot of honey in their diets. That's very impressive. What are some of the benefits of this apparently high-powered food?

A. Nutritionists feel that honey, if it is natural, raw, unfiltered, unheated and unprocessed, possesses miraculous nutritional and medicinal properties. It has been used for healing purposes since early history. One or two tablespoons daily is recommended.

Studies have shown that honey increases calcium retention in the body, prevents nutritional anemia, is helpful in kidney and liver disorders, colds, poor circulation and complexion problems.

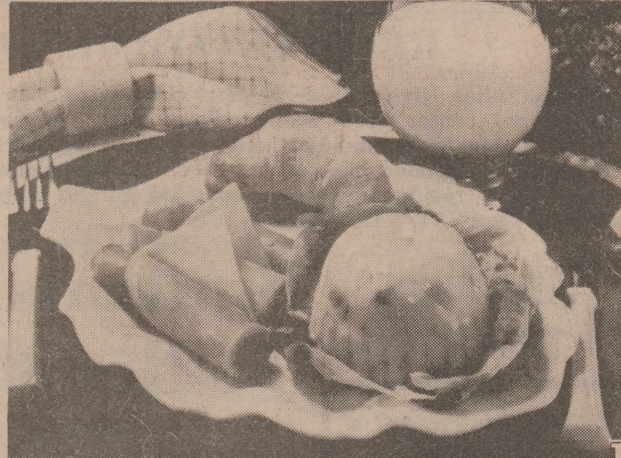

Until next week, folks, stay happy and healthy! It's a beautiful world!

SIDE SALAD ADDS VARIETY

If you're looking for variety in meals, and at the same time trying to please the family, introduce yourself to the concept of side salads. Pear Yogurt Salad, for example, is a refreshing salad that adds color, flavor and texture to the simplest meal. Give eating excitement to a plate of rolled ham slices and cheese triangles with a salad that combines apricot flavor gelatin, plain yogurt, diced fresh or canned pears and chopped celery. It turns out to be a satisfying meal with the addition of a crisp hot roll and glass of cold milk. Whether chilled in a three-cup mold or individual molds, this side salad promises to complement a variety of yogurt meat entrees.

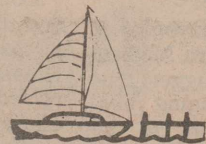

PEAR YOGURT SALAD

- 1 package (3 oz.) Jell-O apricot flavor gelatin
- 1 cup boiling water
- 1 container (8 oz.) plain yogurt
- 1-1/3 cups diced fresh pears*
- 1/4 cup chopped celery

*Or use 1 can (16 oz.) sliced pears, drained and diced.

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Blend in yogurt and chill until thickened. Fold in pears and celery. Pour into individual molds or a 3-cup mold. Chill until firm, about 3 hours. Unmold. Serve with crisp salad greens, if desired. Makes 2-2/3 cups or 5 servings.

Deadline For First Week's Pet Pix Contest Today

If you haven't submitted your entry for the Rockport Pilot's first Pet Pix Contest, there's still time.

The first week's contest ends at 5 p.m. today.

But if you miss the deadline, don't worry — just submit your entry for next week's contest. There are still four more weeks to go.

As of Monday morning, the Pilot had received entries from Maxine Snowden of Rockport, Mary Coudy of Fulton and Bill Daws of Fulton — and the judges already have their hands full.

Photos will be judged on quality of the photograph and originality and the winning photograph will be published in the October 5 Pilot Weekender.

The winning photographer will receive $15. At the end of the five-week contest, all winning photographs will be judged against each other and the Grand Prize winner will receive $50.

Deadline for submission of photos for next week's contest will be 5 p.m. Tuesday, October 7.

The contest is being sponsored in conjunction with a five-week series by our "Pet Talks" columnist Dr. Hap Lutz on "How to Photograph Your Pet."

The first article in the series will be published in the "Pet Talks" column in the October 5 Weekender. Watch for it.

And be sure and get your photograph into the contest. You just could be a winner

County Sales In Good Shape

State Comptroller Bob Bullock's office reports gross sales in Aransas County during the first quarter of 1980 as $26,020,081 from 345 reporting outlets — or businesses.

This compares favorably with surrounding counties. The neighboring county of Refugio, with 218 outlets shows gross sales of $13,314,671.

The larger county of San Patricio showed gross sales of $96,245,308 from 865 reporting businesses.

1.5 Miles Of Highway To Be Resurfaced In Aransas

Some 1.5 miles of highway in Aransas County are scheduled for resurfacing, according to officials with the State Highway and Public Transportation Commission.

Work includes resurfacing of eight-tenths of a mile of State Highway 35 in Rockport, from FM 2165 southward. Plans also call for widening of this highway from two to four lanes.

Also scheduled for resurfacing will be Loop 70 from Church Street to Highway 35, a distance of seven-tenths of a mile.

James B. Opiela of Corpus Christi will be in charge of the resurfacing which was approved along with several other projects in the 10-county Corpus Christi District.

Approval was given during a meeting of the State Highway and Public Transportation Commission in Austin recently.

Resurfacing projects in Robstown and Driscoll were also approved in the meeting as was construction of a 1.8 mile extension of FM Road 3377 in San Patricio County.

Several proposed statewide projects were dropped from the September highway letting due to a recent reapportionment of highway funds by the federal government.

The cutback made the September letting the smallest to date in 1980.

TWO KILLED

Two persons were killed and a third critically injured when this vehicle was in a head-on collision with a pickup truck on Copano Causeway Friday afternoon, September 26. Texas Highway Patrol officers said the driver of one vehicle, Gregory Lloyd Goff of Corpus Christi, was northbound on the Causeway and had passed another vehicle but had not yet returned to his lane. His vehicle was in collision with a vehicle driven by Charles Burton Hanson of Holiday Beach. Hanson and his wife, Mary, a passenger in the vehicle, were both pronounced dead at the scene. Constitutional Amendments

AMENDMENT NO. 6
Senate Joint Resolution 8, proposing a constitutional amendment to authorize the governor to remove appointed officers with the advice and consent of the senate; and allowing the governor to call a special session of the senate for this purpose.

This proposed constitutional amendment would add Section 9 to Article XV of the Texas Constitution. The new section would authorize the governor who appoints an officer to remove that person from office with the approval of two-thirds of the senators present. It also would authorize the governor to call a special session of the senate to act on a proposed removal. The removal session could not last more than two days.

BACKGROUND

A public officer differs from a public employee in that an officer is either elected to a position by the public or appointed to it, holds the position for a fixed time (e.g., two years or six years), and cannot be discharged by a superior during the term of his office. The constitution now provides that an officer may not be removed unless charges specifying cause for removal are brought and the officer is given the opportunity to defend against the charges in a trial or a trial-type hearing. (A charge that an individual does not legally hold an office differs from removal. That issue, too, requires a trial, however.)

In the case of state officers, including appellate judges, and of district judges, removal requires impeachment proceedings, address proceedings, or either. District judges may also be removed by the supreme court after a hearing on the charges brought as grounds for the removal. (A statute authorizes the governor to remove officers appointed by the governor or elected by the legislature "for good and sufficient cause." Most legal authorities believe the statute is invalid because it omits the constitutionally required trial, however, and consequently, removal under that statute apparently has never been attempted.)

Both impeachment and address are legislative proceedings. Impeachment requires trial in the senate of charges brought by the house and conviction by vote of two-thirds of the senators present. Address requires a determination by vote of two-thirds of the members of each house, after a hearing, that the charges brought as grounds for removal are true and constitute sufficient reason to remove the officer. A statute prescribes a procedure for convening the house to consider impeachment and for convening the senate to try impeachment charges, but address proceedings may be instituted and completed only if the legislature is meeting in regular or special session.

The proposed amendment would provide an additional method of removal that eliminates the requirements that cause for the removal be specified and a trial or other opportunity for the officer subject to removal to answer charges be held. Unlike present removal procedures, the proposed procedure would permit the governor, rather than the legislature, to initiate the removal. It is narrow in scope, however. A governor may remove only officers appointed by him, not those appointed by his predecessors, and only gubernatorial appointees, including appointees to fill vacancies in elective offices, may be removed. Officers appointed by an official other than the governor and officers elected to office are not subject to removal under the proposed new section.

ARGUMENTS

FOR:

1. Current methods for removing officers are time-consuming, expensive, and difficult. Consequently, they are rarely used. The governor appoints hundreds of officials each year, and a simpler, quicker method for removing those who are incompetent, neglectful, or otherwise inadequate for their tasks should be available.

2. Although the governor is the head of the executive branch of state government and is held accountable by the public for its actions, he has little formal control over actions of executive agencies. The executive branch is composed of more than 200 agencies headed by appointed or elected officials who are independent and not subject to direct control by the governor. This proposed amendment would give the governor some power to control the actions of his many subordinates, and it avoids abuses by requiring two-thirds of the senate to agree to a proposed removal.

AGAINST:

1. Assuming the governor needs more control of the executive branch of government, this amendment does little to give him that control. A governor will be able to remove only his own appointees, although most offices will be filled by appointees of his predecessors or other officials or by elected officers, and the requirement that two-thirds of the senate concur in a proposed removal effectively eliminates control over his own appointees. 2. The governor already can control the general direction of a state agency by careful selection of appointees. This proposed amendment would give the governor too much control over an agency's day-to-day activities, subjecting all agencies to the threat of increased political influence.

EARLY REFERRAL

Dear Dr. Pettey: Help me understand why my optometrist for thirty years sent me to an ophthalmologist after discovering my early cataracts when I had not yet developed any blur in vision. The ophthalmologist just looked inside my eyes at length and simply sent me back to my optometrist. They both told me why, but I didn't quite understand.

Your dilemma is quite common; maybe this will help.

As a cataract develops, the clouding of the eye lens increases. That means that it becomes increasingly difficult for the doctor to see through the lens to the inside of the eye, like looking through cloudy water. Seeing the inside of the eye is most important to the eye surgeon who may eventually need to extract the cataract. He needs to be able to tell a patient before surgery whether good vision will be the result. He must know if the eye is free of disease. He knows the optometrist can determine such things, but he must have his own firsthand information if he is to be responsible for successful surgery.

He re-referred you to your optometrist because he knew him to be handling your vision problems properly, both practitioners being a part of the team dedicated to your visual welfare.

BANK

[Continued From Page 1] children from Aransas County schools and there will be a clown in the lobby each day to entertain youngsters of all ages.

Located in its modern building — complete with drive-through service — at Austin Street and Highway 35, First National has come a long way from the day it was founded by seven area pioneers.

Founders of First National included Col. George Ware Fulton of Fulton Mansion fame, R.N. Wood, James C. Fulton, Virogo Kochler, John Elgin, L.B. Randall and J.M. Hopes. These seven men held their first meeting in the Del Mar Hotel to set down the rules and organize a charter for the bank-to-be.

Six months after that initial meeting, the First National Bank opened for business. In 1902, when the charter was renewed, the bank was officially registered as the "First National Bank of Rockport."

The bank's original home was a one-story building. In 1901, it moved from there to a three-story building next door to the Gulf Coast Immigration Company, on South Water Street.

The bank was still on Water Street in 1945 when James H. Sorenson joined the then three-member staff of A.C. Glass, Margaret Schuster and Leona Critcher.

Though there were no savings accounts at that time, the bank's assets in 1945 were figured at $1 million.

In 1948, Sorenson was named to his present post as Chief Executive Officer. A decade later, in 1958, the bank moved across the street to a more modern structure — the present location of Rockport Yacht and Supply Company.

Groundbreaking at the bank's present site was held in April, 1973, with President Sorenson and Rockport Mayor Walter S. Falk Jr. on hand to officiate in the ceremonies.

Since its opening, First National has continued expansion with the addition of its "Town Hall" meeting and conference rooms, available at no charge to civic and non-profit organizations. This facility can be scheduled by calling the bank number, 729-5411.

Another recent service of the bank has been the "Time and Temperature" number, 729-3131. This has proved to be a popular service, says Major Don Meek, the bank's customer relations officer, with some 10,000 calls per month being made.

At present the bank employs more than 30 people. It's a member of the Federal Reserve System, the American Bankers Association and the Texas Bankers Association.

FOR YOUNG LIFE

season injury.

Robstown boasts one of the best quarterbacks in South Texas in DeJuan Oakes. Oakes runs, throws, and kicks extra points for the Cottonpickers. In the 12-6 loss to West Oso suffered by the Pickers last week, Oakes went to the air on 27 tries, completing ten for 136 yards. He also logged the ball 21 times on runs. Joining Oakes in the backfield are Horace Epps and Rudy Perez. Oakes' chief touchdown receiver has been Luis Pena who has caught three scoring passes.

Defensively, the Pirates hit harder last week than in any previous game. The secondary picked off three passes, the defensive team picked up three loose footballs, and the line kept pressure on the quarterback, especially early in the game.

Robstown supposedly has some real big people up front. Rockport will be hard pressed to get to the passer on defense and through the middle on offense. The Pickers will come into the game with a record of 3-1 with wins over Kingsville, Calallen, and Laredo Martin.

The game will probably be decided in the line where everything hinges; Oakes must have time to pass, and the Pirates need to get their ground game on track.

Game time is 8 p.m.

"The Men In Pirate Green Are For Real"

Pirates Take Sting Out Of Hornets

By Bob Crawford
Rockport-Fulton went into Hornet Stadium in Flour Bluff picked to lose, but the proud Pirates turned into a mighty football team Friday night and soundly beat the Hornets 13-7. The victory makes the Pirates 1-1 in district play.

The Pirates started out with a boom, shaking the ball loose on the opening kickoff, but could not get control. The Pirate defense held off the Hornets and forced them to punt.

After the punt, the Pirates put together a drive which ended in a score. Quarterback Jim Eaton drilled a pass to Dennis Hull to keep the drive alive, and some tough running by Dwayne Walls and Micheal Simmons got the ball close enough to give the Pirates a chance to score. Along the way, Eaton left the game shaken up, and Adam Harden took over the controls and led the Pirates down the field. Harden himself pushed the ball into the end zone to give the Pirates the lead. David Williams nailed the extra point, and the Pirates gave notice that they came to play 7-0.

In the second quarter the Pirates struck again, this time set up by a 53-yard pass from Eaton, who had returned to the game, to Ernest Gonzales who was pulled down from behind by a gallant Willie Wiggins who saved a score. The series ended with a five-yard run by Walls around his left side. The snap was awry, and the point after kick was mistimed, and the ball sailed to the side of the goal post, but the Pirates had mounted a 13-0 lead.

When the Hornets tried to come back, a strange collection of turnovers began. Linebacker Eddie Naro stepped in front of a Hornet pass to give the Pirates great field position at the Hornet 33. Walls dropped a pass which could have gone the distance, a reverse was crushed by the Hornets for a big loss, and the Pirates had to give up the ball.

Then the Hornets tried another pass, and the ball was tipped by the receiver, and Rockport's George Solis hauled the ball in. Rockport then fumbled the ball away, again not taking advantage of the Hornet mistake.

Rockport's defenders made a tremendous hit on Wiggins and the ball squirted loose, and Alvin Miller recovered the fumble. On and on the strange series went, but the Pirates could never get the ball in despite a 16-yard run by Gonzales.

Frustration hit the Pirates in the second half as they were flagged for three straight 15-yard penalties which moved them out of scoring range and seemed to turn the Hornets into stingers.

Later in the period, Walls made the longest run of the night as he took the ball from Eaton, bumped into some blockers and defenders, and then blurred down the sideline, looking to be on his way to a 90-yard TD, but Wiggins again gutted out, and pulled Walls to the ground on the four of Flour Bluff.

The Pirates never got the ball in; in fact, they finished the series near mid-field, result of the penalties. That set of plays ended when Solis came in to spell the tired Walls, caught a pass for 13 yards, and then gave up the ball on a good hit by the Hornets.

The Bluff moved down the field, and looked as if they were sure to score, but Bubba Scott separated Wiggins from the ball, and Solis came up with the recovery for the Pirates at their own eight yard line. Just when things seemed to be letting up for the Pirates, Walls coughed up the ball, and the Hornets had a first and goal.

Steve Ritter, who opened the game at running back for the Hornets, played quarterback in the second half, and he found his receiver, John Starnes in the corner of the end zone for a touchdown. Starnes kicked the extra point to narrow the margin to 13-7.

Things went sour for the Pirates again. Mishandling the kickoff put them in deep trouble. With things going bad, again it was Naro who made the big play, recovering a loose pitch to give the Pirates possession.

Rockport failed to take advantage. On the next series, Naro again made the big play as he nailed the passer for a big loss. Rockport took over and began to march. The ball was moved all the way down to the Hornet 26, and with a fourth and four, the Pirates went all out, and Gonzales made a tough run to get the big first down.

Time was running down. Rockport continued to move the ball, and then put the frosting on the cake as Simmons took the ball around his right end for a TD. The Pirates did not get the extra point, but the scoreboard told the story with only 38 seconds remaining. The Bluff tried in desperation, but Harden picked off the ball. The Pirates had a big game offensively, gaining 305 yards behind the 138-yard performance by Walls, and 79-yard collection by Simmons. Eaton also hit three passes for 78 yards.

Defense was a team effort by the Pirates, and it paid off with six turnovers being gathered in.

PIRATE'S POWER SWEEP

This is the way the sweep should work. The entire defensive line of the F-B Hornets has been sealed off from the running back, Micheal Simmons [40]. Pirates shown making this play work are Bubba Scott [75], Alvin Miller [65], Ernest Gonzales [30] and Dennis Hull [85]. [Pilot Photo by Perry Carter]

PIRATE FANS DIDN'T MIND THE RAIN

A small but vocal band of Pirate fans braved the wet weather to help propel the local Greenmen past a fine Flour Bluff team 19-7 last Friday night. The final touchdown set the group cheering.

GONZALES DECORATED

The something new this year, in the way of a decoration, is a small skull and crossbones to the player who is the first one down the field on kickoff and punt returns. As you can see, the fine Pirate halfback Ernest Gonzales has already started his collection. [Pilot Photo by Perry Carter]

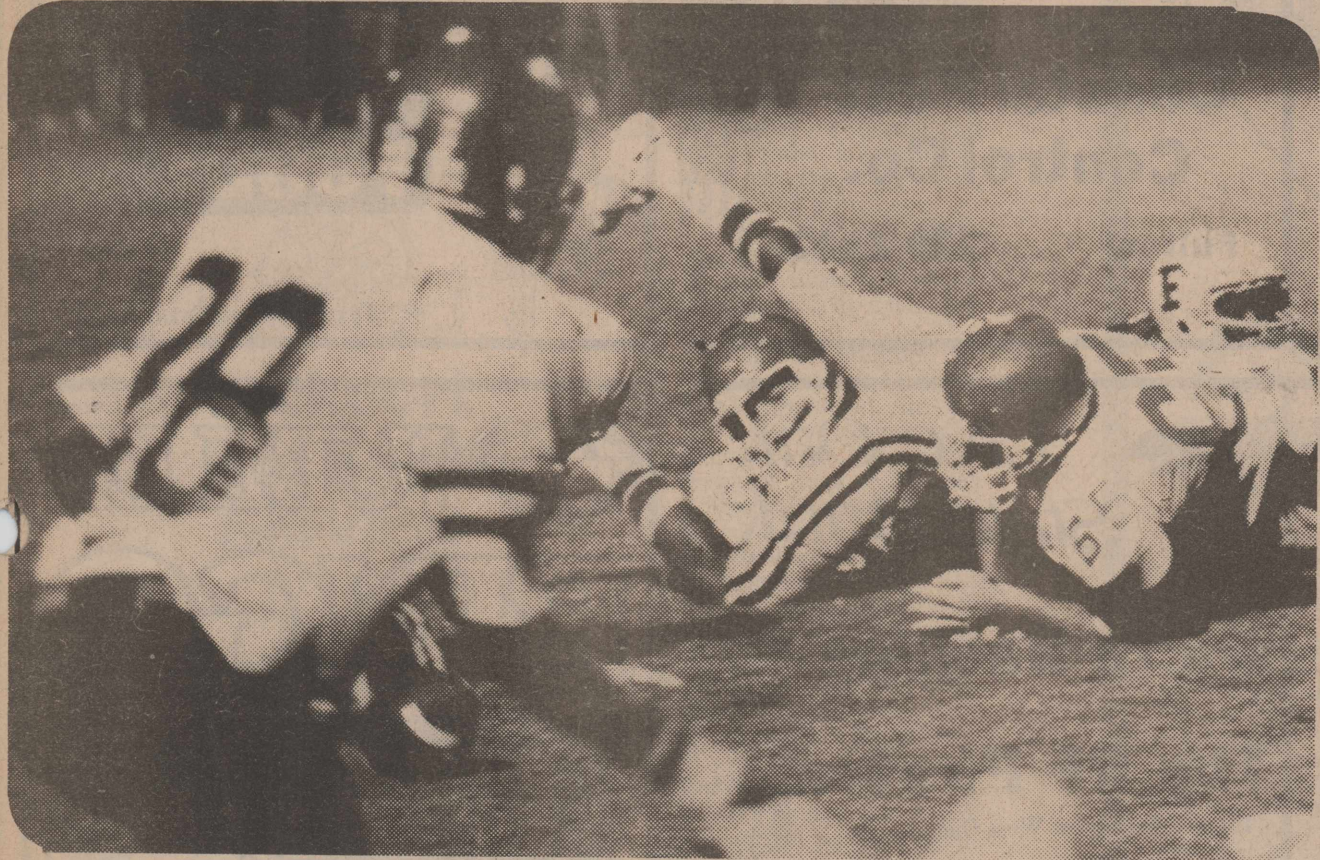

PIRATES RECOVER

It doesn't take too smart a person to see which team got the fumbled football. Adam Harden [9] is shown moving toward a couple of dancing Pirates as the referee indicates the change in direction of play.

HORNET FUMBLE

This lost football is the center of attention for several Pirate players. George Solis [28], Bubba Scott [75] and Alvin Miller [65] have all located the loose pigskin. Solis

Frosh Take Hornets 12-8

By Bob Crawford
Behind for the first three periods of the game, the Pirate Freshmen of Rockport-Fulton scored two last quarter touchdowns to win over the Flour Bluff Hornets in Rockport Thursday.

Flour Bluff was off and running from the opening kickoff. The Hornets literally ate up the first quarter with a long drive for a score. The Hornet quarterback took the ball over from two yards out, and the fullback scored the two-pointer to put the Bluff ahead 8-0.

After that opening drive, the Pirates' defense led by Tommy Barnard, Chris Hill, Robert Davis, Tim Smyrson, and Armando Naranjo tightened the grips on the Hornets and pretty well clipped their wings for the remainder of the game.

The Pirates picked up some tough yards running by Ramond Romero in the first half, and in the second half, Romero got a little help with some key runs by Steve Arkell who punched the ball up the middle.

Romero scored the first Pirate TD in the fourth quarter on a three-yard run. On that play, quarterback Bobby Dingenary did a great job getting the ball to Romero just as a crashing linebacker grabbed hold of the quarterback. The try for two points was no good, leaving the Pirates behind 8-6.

Rockport got a big break on a short punt of 10 yards that was blown dead on the Hornets' 29 yard line.

Romero lugged the ball close to the goal line. With a fourth-and-goal at the six yard line, Dingenary faked the handoff, rolled to his left, and after escaping a desperate lunge by a defender, ran into the end zone. Although the try for two was again not good, the Pirates had gone into the lead 12-8.

Flour Bluff lost their main offensive weapon, a running back, with an injury earlier in the game, and it seemed to take the power out of their wings. Their offensive surge was never the same again.

Romero ended the day as the top ground gainer with 118 yards in 20 carries.

On defense, Barnard led all tacklers with six individuals and 17 assists.

The Frosh will next travel to Robstown Thursday to play the Cottonpickers.

Flour Bluff Stings JVs 28-6

By Bob Crawford
A powerful Flour Bluff JV rolled over Rockport-Fulton Thursday night by a 28-6 margin at Pirate Stadium.

The Bluff had rolled up big scores over Skidmore Varsity and West Oso's JV before coming to Pirate land.

Rockport squared off with the Bluff and played them scoreless through the first period.

Penalties were called fast and furious on both teams in the first half, and it cost both teams dearly.

Rockport missed a golden opportunity early in the game when Pirate safety Kenny Moore made a big hit on the Hornet runner who shook the ball loose. The Pirates were just not quick enough to come to Moore's aid, and Flour Bluff recovered.

Midway through the second period, the Hornets struck for a score coming on a pass of 16 yards. A try for two was successful, and they led 8-0.

A Pirate fumble after the Pirates had stopped another Hornet drive led to a second TD for the Bluff before the half, this time on a six-yard run with 0:32 in the half.

Rockport tried an onside kick to start off the second half, but it was unsuccessful.

Flour Bluff marched the ball toward the goal line. The Pirates made a tremendous stand, stopping a fourth and goal try for the score.

With a chance to come back, the Pirates let any chance of coming back slip away on a fumble deep in their own end of the field. The Bluff waltzed the ball in from there.

The Hornets added another score in the fourth period on a 14-yard pass. Two additional points made the score 28-0.

Rockport's greatest thrill of the night came on the kickoff following the TD. Mike Riddle took the hand-off on the starburst kickoff return and blazed 53 yards before being hauled down.

That gave the Pirates one last try to get on the board.

A drive was put together which nearly fizzled close to the Hornet goal. However, quarterback Mark Cory finally got his passing on target and hit end Joe Lara with a bullet in the end zone for a seven-yard touchdown.

Defensively, Michael Sanchez led all hitters with 14 total tackles.

This week, the Pirates will go to try to pick some cotton in Robstown.

Pirates Run To Cross Country Victory

By Bob Crawford
After coming in as the runner-up in Beeville last week, the Rockport-Fulton Cross Country Team ignored the weather conditions and placed first at the Gregory-Portland Meet over the weekend.

With twelve varsity teams competing, the Pirates put together the lowest total for their five top finishers (56 points) to barely nip Robstown by two points. Corpus Christi Ray came in a distant third on the 3 1/2-mile course.

Raul Castro was the top Pirate runner with a sixth place finish, closely followed by David Ramirez in seventh, Peter Booth in ninth and Damaso Galvan in eleventh. Clyde Barre and Ernie Lara finished a bit further back in the pack.

In the JV Division, Mike Zlock ran for third place, and Robert Garcia crossed the finish line in the second half of the runners. Only four girls ran in their division, and Jana Brown took seventh place, followed further down the line by Tammy Walker, Tammy Barlass and Amy Barlass. Those who finished in the top ten of each division received trophies.

The Pirates will next run on Saturday, October 4, in Flour Bluff.

THE COMPOST PILE—THE ORIGINAL RECYCLING CENTER-AG

Gardeners can get-back-to-basics and save money too by developing an old stand-by — the compost pile. And with fall approaching, plenty of leaves will soon be available for composting.

With transportation costs pushing the price of peat moss and other bulky types of organic matter higher, the backyard compost pile or compost bin is becoming more and more important.

With most Texas soils lacking in organic matter, composting is an excellent way to add humus to the soil while at the same time disposing of unwanted plant material from the yard and garden.

Leaves, straw, lawn clippings, sawdust, garden debris and even shredded newspapers can be converted into usable humus through the decomposing process.

These composted materials will make both clay and sandy soils more suitable for growing vegetables and ornamentals.

It is usually best to have three compost bins — one being filled, one in the process of decomposing and another ready for use. The most workable size for most gardeners is a 4 feet by 6 feet bin, with one side hinged or removable for easy access.

Gardeners should select a convenient site near a source of water, yet out of sight of the outdoor living area.

Start the compost pile by spreading a six- to eight-inch layer of debris. Top this with a one- to two-inch layer of soil or finished compost. Sprinkle about two cups of a complete fertilizer over each layer of soil and organic matter to encourage bacterial action and hasten decomposition.

Manure or blood meal may be used instead of fertilizer.

Water thoroughly; then add the next layer as material becomes available.

Repeat the layering process until the pile is four to five feet high. Keep the center slightly lower than the sides to aid in retaining water.

Keep the pile moist for rapid decomposition; however, avoid saturation or bad odors may develop.

To speed up decomposition and insure that wastes on the outer edge of the bin have a chance to break down, turn or mix and restack the pile every 60 to 90 days. Do not add new material once the pile is turned; rather start a new pile in a nearby location.

For better aeration and faster decomposition, spread fresh lawn clippings and shredded green materials into thin layers. When adding dry leaves to the compost pile, wet them thoroughly before adding soil.

A shredder will convert twigs and small branches into smaller particles for faster decomposition.

1980 Political Platforms: A Comparison

A political party platform is the official statement, written by a committee of party leaders and approved by the delegates to its convention, of the party's principles and the policies it will follow if elected.

This chart provides you with a comparison of where the Republicans and the Democrats stand on some but not all key issues. All statements are direct quotations from the actual party platforms.

Democratic

We applaud the leadership taken by a Democratic President and a Democratic Congress in strengthening federal programs in education.

Our primary purpose in assisting elementary and secondary education must be to assure a quality public school system for all students.

The Party accepts its commitment to the support of a constitutionally acceptable method of providing tax aid for the education of all pupils in schools which do not racially discriminate, and excluding so-called segregation academies.

Republican

...the Republican Party supports deregulation by the federal government of public education, and encourages the elimination of the federal Department of Education.

Federal education policy must be based on the primacy of parental rights and responsibility. Toward that end, we reaffirm our support for a system of educational assistance based on tax credits that will in part compensate parents for their financial sacrifices in paying tuition at the elementary, secondary, and post-secondary level.

Next year, a Republican White House will assist, not sabotage, Congressional efforts to enact tuition tax relief into law.

We will halt the unconstitutional regulatory vendetta launched by Mr. Carter's IRS Commissioner against independent schools.

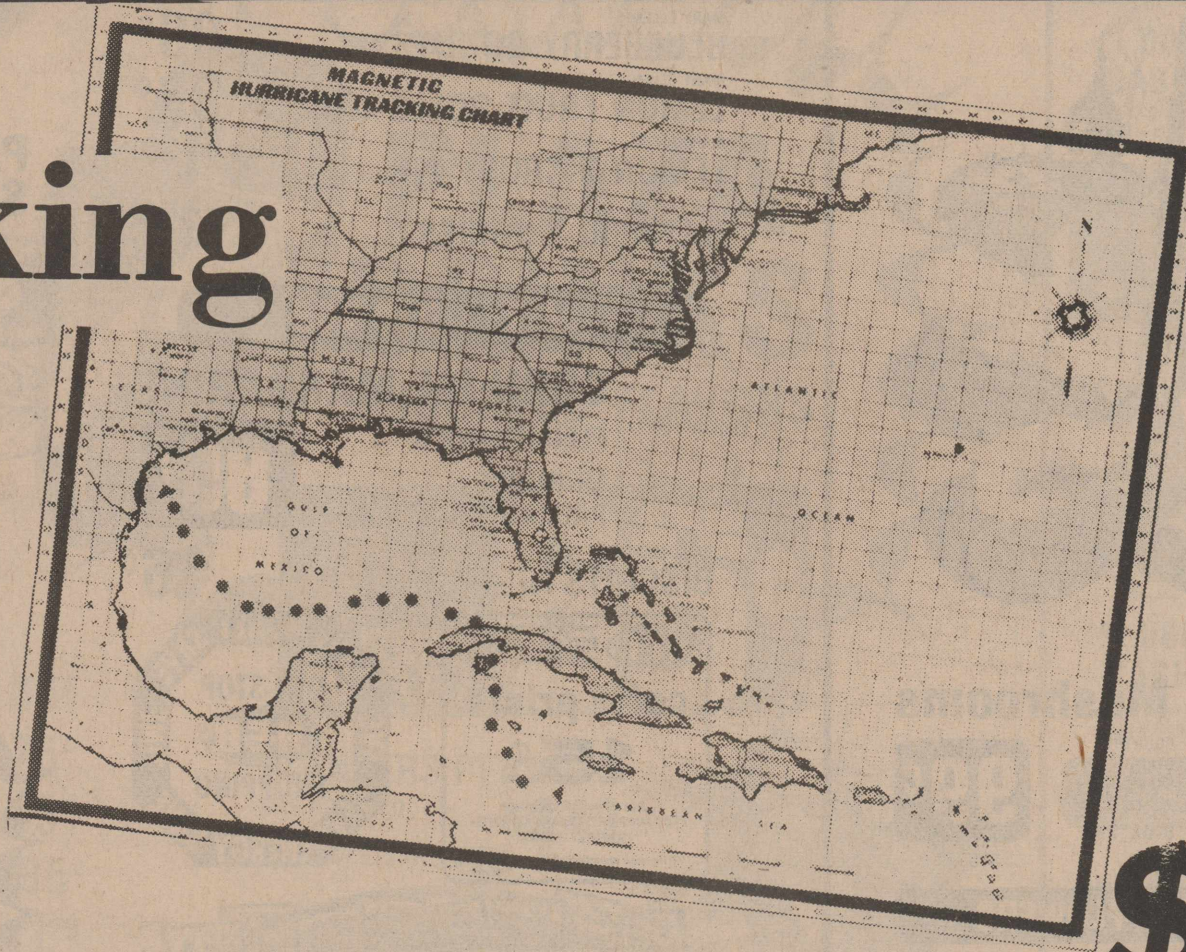

Education

School Prayer

No statement.

We support Republican initiatives in the Congress to restore the right of individuals to participate in voluntary, non-denominational prayer in schools and other public facilities.

Vegetarian Cooking

By CLARE BARRETT
Copley News Service

If ethical or health considerations prohibited you from using four-and-twenty blackbirds, what else could you bake in a pie to set before the king? Vegetables, of course!

A wide variety of savory herbed main-dish pies can be included in the repertoire of the court's cook. Some custardy quiches and others layered with saucy vegetables, these pies are sure to please. Served with a soup or salad and a light fruit dessert, they will be the basis of a nutritious and satisfying meal.

Vegetable pies

Every good pie begins with a flaky crust, and so I'll share with you my recipe for a nutty, buttery-flavored whole-wheat version of this pastry basic.

The use of whole-wheat pastry flour is important here. This whole grain flour is ground from soft spring wheat — a light and silky sister to the heartier winter (bread) wheat flour. It has a lower gluten content, which makes it most suitable for piecrusts, cakes and cookies.

Another potentially unfamiliar ingredient called for is non-instant or spray-dried milk. This, like whole-wheat pastry flour, must be purchased in a health or natural foods store (or a very rare supermarket). Spray-dried milk is a highly concentrated powdered milk, less processed than commercial varieties. Used to enrich regular milk, it takes the place of cream in quiche recipes, and saves both money and calories. If you are not concerned about either and prefer a very rich tasting quiche, cream may be used in place of enriched milk.

Pies that do not call for a custard usually require the use of a white sauce. Reconstituted milk is appropriate here, too, as is whole-wheat flour. Depending again on how rich (and caloric) you like your sauce, use two to six tablespoons of butter or unrefined oil and one-half cup whole-wheat flour for the roux, and whisk in four cups of milk and a teaspoon of salt for the basic white sauce, to be seasoned appropriately. (Consult a cookbook if you are unfamiliar with the technique of making a roux-based sauce.)

Endless variations on the basic quiche and vegetable pie theme are possible. This kind of cooking is uniquely well-suited to using what you have on hand, as you'll see from the recipes to follow. Use your imagination in combining vegetables and cheeses, and be bold in seasoning them.

I like to keep a frozen piecrust or two on hand (always make a full recipe and freeze the other half if you only use one) for use when a quick but festive dinner is desired. Bake the pies in a 350 degree oven for about 40 to 50 minutes, or until the custard is set in the case of quiches or the filling is slightly browned and bubbly in the case of vegetable pies.

ture, using a pastry blender, or two forks, until the largest pieces of butter are the size of small peas. Sprinkle the smaller amount of ice water over the mixture and toss it lightly with a fork. Stir the mixture with firm strokes of a fork until the dough forms a ball. (If the mixture is too crumbly to hold together, mix in a bit more ice water.) Chill the dough, divided into two balls, for about an hour before rolling it out on a pastry cloth or between two sheets of waxed paper, till it is large enough to amply cover a 9-inch pie plate. BEAUTIFUL DAY

Rain may have been falling, but Friday, September 26, was a beautiful day to Mr. and Mrs. R.L. McDonald of Palm Harbor Trailer Park. That was the day they won $1,000 in the H.E.B. Food Store Diamond Jubilee Bingo game. Here Bob Harrison, left, acting store director, presents the $1,000 check to McDonald while Mrs. McDonald and their daughter, Denise, 3, look on. It was the second $1,000 check given away during the week by the local H.E.B. Store.

dough on the rolling pin and put it in place. Trim and flute the edges. Chill again before filling and baking. Yields two 9-inch crusts.

BASIC QUICHE CUSTARD

3 eggs
1 1/4 cups milk, with 2 tbsps. non-instant dried milk added
1/2 tsp. salt

Spinach and Onion Quiche — saute one-half cup of minced onion in a tablespoon butter or oil till tender. Add one-half pound fresh spinach, washed and stemmed, cover and steam till wilted. Spread one cup Gruyere or Swiss cheese, grated, on crust. Top with spinach-onion mix, and pour custard seasoned with white pepper and nutmeg over all.

Mushroom Quiche — Cover crust with one to one and one-half cups grated Swiss or Gruyere. Top with one-half pound mushrooms and one medium onion, sauteed in butter with salt, pepper, and a dash of thyme. Pour the custard, seasoned with one-half teaspoon dry mustard, over all and bake.

Broccoli Quiche — Steam one-half pound fresh broccoli, chopped coarsely, until bright green and crisp-tender. Spread crust with one to one and one-half cups grated sharp Cheddar cheese. Top with broccoli, then custard, flavored with a pinch of crushed rosemary.

VEGETABLE PIE FILLINGS

Ricotta-Spinach Pie — Sauté one-half pound chopped fresh spinach with one small minced onion. Mix it with a pound of ricotta cheese, three eggs, and season with nutmeg and salt and pepper. Pour into pie crust. Cover with freshly grated parmesan cheese and bake.

Russian Peasant Pie — Cover the crust with eight ounces of softened cream cheese, then four to five sliced hard-cooked eggs, sprinkled with salt, pepper, and dill weed. Top with a vegetable layer of sauteed onions, mushrooms, carrots, and sliced cabbage, seasoned with dill weed and basil. Cover with white sauce, dust with paprika, and bake.

State Of The Region

By Juliet K. Wenger
Coastal Bend Council of Governments

"Dying old young" is a possibility that is held out to us by Dr. C.M.G. Buttery, new to the Coastal Bend but experienced as a public health physician and a professor of community health.

Dr. Buttery says it is now possible to live to our potential of 85 or 90 years feeling as healthy as we do in our 40s.

To do this requires informed planning on the part of parents and then on the part of individuals from the time they are young. The physician says the years 19 to 25 are the best for a mother to give birth to an infant. Before 19, she is not physically or mentally prepared to rear the child. The child must be educated in the ways of good health and then must see role models living healthy lives.

The public health official advocates a return to the family physician who sees you as a whole person and also as a part of your family. He opposes the treating of a person from the forehead up, or in any isolated parts.

And he opposes categorical government programs which he sees as an effort for a "quick fix" for alcoholism, drug abuse, mental illness, when these problems cannot be isolated from the whole person.

Attitudes within the natural family and the work family can be as important as what is eaten and what injuries to the body are avoided in accidents or sports.

Dr. Buttery distinguishes between health care, which means maintaining good health, and medical care, which means the diagnosing and treatment of diseases. Doctors treated infectious diseases which historically killed most people by the time they were 45.

Today, infectious diseases have been controlled and doctors can turn attention to chronic disease which are more in evidence because more people are living long enough to be stricken by them.

Dr. Buttery sees the role of public health as educating the people in the art of staying well and that of the private physician as providing medical services, with good integration of the two.

If you pay for insurance, you feel cheated if you stay well and don't use it. He says the old Chinese system may be the best, when the doctor was only paid when you stayed well, and received nothing while you were sick.

He foresees more birthing centers and hospices, instead of the more expensive hospital care with its advanced technology to perform miracles of healing.

And he hopes that fewer people will depend on self medication, and instead follow the advice of a family doctor on living in a way that will promote good mental and physical health.

ARIES: (March 21 to April 19) — Also Aries Ascendant) — You could turn a hobby into a second income now. Domestic problems might best be solved by going along with your partner's point of view. Share your ideas with youngsters — especially in regard to their education.

TAURUS: (April 20 to May 20) — Also Taurus Ascendant) — At work direct your efforts to routine matters and taking care of details — keep a low profile. Handle co-workers and superiors with kid gloves, waiting for a better time to present your new ideas. You have support at home.

GEMINI: (May 21 to June 20) — Also Gemini Ascendant) — Go over your plans and new ideas carefully before presenting them to superiors toward the end of the week. Past study and efforts could pay off for you now and the break you have been waiting for could finally come your way.

CANCER: (June 21 to July 22) — Also Cancer Ascendant) — Those involved in buying or selling real estate could get an attractive offer early in the week. Don't let domestic concerns interfere with your job performance. Finances improve and your income could exceed your expectations.

LEO: (July 23 to Aug. 22) — Also Leo Ascendant) — Clear up the details of past projects before starting new ones. Guard against being over-sensitive to others' remarks — use your sense of humor. Use your common sense in business matters and deal with things over which you have control.

VIRGO: (Aug. 23 to Sept. 22) — Also Virgo Ascendant) — Good news in the mails is possible and an old project could turn out successfully. Curb tendency to be careless — drive "heads up." Give your attention to routine matters and clearing up details on the job. Take care of any health problem.

LIBRA: (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) — Also Libra Ascendant) — Get the advice of a professional in legal matters — it could save you money in the long run. Catch up on correspondence, pay bills and balance accounts. Be compromising with loved ones — let them have their own way for now.

SCORPIO: (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) — Also Scorpio Ascendant) — Concentrate on business and how you can increase your savings. Give touchy co-workers a wide berth and work completely on your own. Later in the week you can approach superiors with new plans and ideas.

SAGITTARIUS: (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — Also Sagittarius Ascendant) — Dig in and get lots accomplished early in the week. A relationship could be dissolving and a new one forming. The advice of an older, wiser person could be helpful. Curb tendency to spend impulsively and extravagantly.

CAPRICORN: (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19) — Also Capricorn Ascendant) — Good time to approach superiors for a promotion or a raise. Changes occurring in your love life may make you moody, so try to avoid confrontation with loved ones. Resist making tactless remarks you'll later regret.

AQUARIUS: (Jan. 20 to Feb. 18) — Also Aquarius Ascendant) — Direct your creative talents toward increasing your income. Guard against depressive moods brought on by frustration. Matters that appear blocked or bogged down will open up soon — be optimistic.

PISCES: (Feb. 19 to March 20) — Also Pisces Ascendant) — Be sensitive to the needs of children and young people around you — encourage communication. Get help from family members in home beautification projects. New ideas could appeal to those who could give financial backing.
