GOVERNOR SPILLS—Governor David L. Lawrence, of Pennsylvania, topples backwards off a stool while attempting to sit down to milk a cow during his tour of the Pennsylvania Farm Show at Harrisburg. By GERRY BURTON Daily News Staff The Scurry County Commissioners Court Monday afternoon approved salary raises for a large majority of county employees and elective officers.

At the same time commissioners postponed the calling of $900,000 bond election until such time as the Commissioners Court and the architects can get together and agree as to how that amount of money could best be spent for "court house and jail improvements."

"I personally believe that we owe it to the taxpayers to do this thing right, if we are going to ask them to spend $900,000 or any amount, we ought to give them the best we can for their money," Moore declared.

He continued that the county had already spent $300,000 on the present structure and that was to do all over again. He also said that if the county renovates the old building, it might look very good for the length of time it will take to do a new building.

He estimated that the county had to pay for it, and then will have to do it done again, and still the jail could not be improved.

want to renovate and add onto it for renovating and adding onto it's their money." Moore added.

At this point Commissioner J. C. Massingill inquired of the judge why he had pushed so hard for a bond election until the $1.5 million figure suggested by Judge Martin was withdrawn in favor of a smaller $900,000.

Report Will Wilson To Seek Third Term

AUSTIN (AP)—A source close to Atty. Gen. Will Wilson said today he definitely knows Wilson will run for re-election to a third term.

The source, who declined to be named, said the attorney general definitely has made up his mind to run again and not to take Gov. Price Daniel's offer to resign.

Wilson made a radio address to this effect at 7 p.m. House Speaker Waggoner Carr has announced as a candidate for attorney general.

Chances are that Carr will be his chief and perhaps only opponent. Wilson won his second term as attorney general without a contest.

Castro Rejects Protests; Land Reform Speedup Seen

By RICHARD VALERIANI HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro's regime has rejected a U.S. protest against tactics used in seizing American property in Cuba and said it would speed up enforcement of its land reform program against both Cubans and foreigners.

Property owners were told to take their complaints to the Cuban courts. U.S. Ambassador Philip Bonsal delivered a State Department note Monday complaining that lands and buildings of U.S. citizens in Cuba had been seized without court orders and frequently without written authorization.

Nation's No. 1 Bootlegger Pleads Guilty

NEW YORK (AP)—The man federal agents call the nation's No. 1 bootlegger has pleaded guilty to charges of conspiracy and operation of illicit stills.

John Livigno, 37, of Brooklyn, who has five past convictions, made his plea Monday in U.S. District Court. Eight other men pleaded guilty with him to similar charges.

S. Atty. Cornelius W. Wick, charged that Livigno, who evaded arrest for a long time by skillfully camouflaging his stills, operated liquor-making apparatus in such spots as an old coal-barge in New York harbor, an abandoned Navy prison, and abandoned coal storage bins.

He was continued free in $5,000 bail awaiting sentence Jan. 28. He could get up to 15 years in prison and a $30,000 fine. His brother, Maurice, 34, also of Brooklyn, who sells his stills, was sentenced to 10 years in prison.

The forecast called for partly cloudy to cloudy skies, scattered rains and thunderstorms through Wednesday. With the exception of the western portion, weather in the western part of the state, no major temperature changes were predicted.

Public Service Failure?

By G. K. HODENFIELD AP Education Writer BOSTON (AP)—American college graduates are thinking the test of public service, and their intellectual failure is even more shocking, according to Dr. Perry Epler Gresham, president of Bryn Mawr College.

Although many have done well financially, he said, they have not provided public leadership in the crucial areas of politics, economics, and public philosophy.

The 300 members of the association represent 96 per cent of all accredited liberal arts colleges. The association is expected to ask Congress to continue the long-term low-interest loan program for college housing. There also may be a request for a similar government program to finance the construction of class rooms, laboratories and libraries.

Rate Plan Hit Again

DALLAS (AP)—Sen. Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo renewed today his blistering attack on Texas' new so-called merit rating plan for auto insurance, calling it "monstrous and a fake, and totally unrealistic."

The new rating plan, Sen. Hazlewood said, would accomplish just the opposite of what it is designed to do. Instead of paying fines for traffic violations, he said, motorists will contest them in court.

He said the plan would be a lot more realistic. The new rating plan, Sen. Hazlewood said, would accomplish just the opposite of what it is designed to do.

'Political Payoff' Charged In Civil Rights Bill Delay

VICTORY NEWS DELIGHTS DAVIS—Jimmie Davis has a big smile as he views the headline telling of his decisive victory for governor of Louisiana in the Democratic runoff election. The 53-year-old wartime governor, from Shreveport, defeated delegates S. Morrison, Mayor of New Orleans. (AP Wirephoto.)

By WILLIAM F. ARROGAST
WASHINGTON (AP)—Two House Democrats said today that a "political payoff" by Republicans to Democrats is delaying action on civil rights legislation.
They gave that as a reason in noting that, few Republicans have signed a petition which would force a House vote on the measure next month.
"The political payoff," said Reps. Emmagull Celler (D-N.Y.) and James Roosevelt (D-Calif.), is the Republicans' compensation to Southern Democrats for their help last year in enacting a new labor law.
"Although Republican House Leader Charles A. Halleck has denied existence of a coal-

Tasks Resume On Test Ban

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH
GENEVA (AP)—The United States, the Soviet Union and Britain resume negotiations here today for a ban on nuclear weapon tests, spurred by new urgency following a U.S. threat to resume test explosions at any time.
The talks have been going on intermittently since Oct. 31, 1958. Except for a Soviet test series in early November 1958, none of the three powers has set off any test blast since the talks opened.

Testimony Continues In Suit Here

The plaintiff was to continue putting on witnesses this afternoon in a civil suit being heard in 132nd District Court.
The suit, styled J. T. Mayfield vs. Jesse Hampton et al., asks $4,500 of the defendants, alleging that a permanent wave at the Modern Beauty Salon resulted in loss of hair by Mrs. Retna Mayfield, the plaintiff.
Witnesses who has testified prior to a noon recess today included Billie Mattson, a beauty operator at the Modern Beauty Salon, Mrs. Jessie Hampton, Mrs. Mayfield, Mrs. Dan Holt, Mrs. Bonnie Butler and Mrs. Jean Welborn.
The law firm of Huff and Spaw is representing the plaintiff, while the firm of Park and Hemphill represents the defendants.
Judge Sterling Williams is presiding.
Members of the jury hearing the case are Fred M. D. or, Edward Scull, Harry Clarkson, Nathan White, Jack Sparks, R. L. Cox, Mrs. W. E. Chandler, Mrs. Nina R. Hayes, Arthur Huff Jr., W. G. Traft, Howard Stirling and M. A. Davis.

scientists reported almost complete agreement to agree on new terms to police a ban on tests held underground.
The American scientists headed the talks, followed by Dr. James R. Fisk, executive director of U.S. Atomic Energy Commission. Soviet scientists submitted detailed scientific data to show that a technical control plan the scientists had agreed on previously no longer adequate to detect underground tests.
The Soviet scientists, headed by Prof. Evgeniy Fedorov, indicated an earlier test series in 1955 and said the President Eisenhower announced two days earlier the United States felt free to resume nuclear weapon testing at any time but would not do so without giving advance notice.
Eisenhower said the United States would resume negotiations in a "continuing spirit of seeking to reach a safeguarded agreement." Many West European officials considered the Americans were trying to prod the Soviets into an agreement, a tactic which Soviet propaganda organs said would prove futile.
The talks suspended for a three-week Christmas recess on Dec. 18, after an East-West group of

Two Lawyers Are Accused

HOUSTON (AP)—Two Chicago lawyers were accused Monday in federal court by a government witness of providing bogus registration papers for stolen cars.
The lawyers on trial on charges of conspiring to ship stolen automobiles to Latin America are Seymour Kurtz, 29, and Harold Turner, 27.
The witness was Gerald Covelli, who was arrested here last February with Max Dubovnik and Michael Slepcevic when FBI and customs agents found five stolen autos on Houston docks ready for shipment to Guatemala.
Olshon previously pleaded innocent but later made a written statement Covelli and Slepcevic entered guilty pleas.
Olshon and Covelli were committed to the federal penitentiary at Tarrant county to await sentencing and Slepcevic was released under $5,000 bond. All are from Chicago.

Hard Labor For Rioters

CARACAS (AP)—President Romulo Betancourt today ordered hard labor in a remote jungle penal colony for nearly 200 rioters blamed for widespread violence in Caracas.
Betancourt hurried to the capital from a tour of the interior after roving gangs of young men and others Monday set fire to several business houses and churches, looted food shops and attacked police stations and telephone company installations.
Twenty-one persons were reported wounded in clashes with the police, before officials announced the situation was under control.
"Minor disturbances continued in the suburbs Monday night."
The rioting was hatched off when police broke up a demonstration by about 1,200 unemployed workers demanding jobs. Presidential secretary Ramon Valquez said others moved off to carry out a well organized plan to create internal problems.

Simple Test For Fertility

MIAMI Fla. (AP)—A physical fertility claim is a five-minute simple test can be used for natural birth control—or to increase the chances of a woman's having a baby.
Dr. Joseph Doyle of Boston described the method Monday at a Pan-American conference of the International Fertility Assn., an organization of experts on human fertility.
Doyle explained one simple fact is the key to the method. When a female ovule—the egg—is at the stage where it can be fertilized, it is surrounded by a sugary fluid.
Using a simple glass device, he said, a strip of "fertility tape" is held in contact with the cervix for three minutes. A woman can tell if the egg is fertile by the tape's color. If it changes from pink to blue, the egg is ready to be fertilized.
Glucose, a form of sugar, causes the change in color.
The glucose is there only when the egg is ready to be fertilized, Doyle said. A woman wanting to increase pregnancy should wait 48 hours before intercourse, he said.
The method costs about four cents, said Doyle.

Parr For Governor Backers Are Sought

EDINBURG, Tex. (AP)—Two South Texans say they expect to get 1,000 signatures to a petition to have Duval County political boss George B. Parr run for governor.
Parr at present is under a 10-year federal sentence for mail fraud.
The petitioners, Asher Neill, Rio Grande City rancher, and A. C. Mierster Jr., independent oil operator of Elida, said Monday Parr had not been contacted regarding their movement.
Forster, who was a candidate for the U.S. Senate in the special election won by Ralph Yarborough, said the petition would be circulated all over the state.

TEC Request For Braceros Is Trimmed

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas Employment Commission has asked the U.S. Labor Department to reconsider its latest request for 24,000 workers from Mexico.
The TEC said Monday the federal agency had trimmed a request to 20,600 braceros.
The TEC request was sent to the Labor Department's Bureau of Employment Security in Dallas.
In the San Angelo reaching district, the commission asked for 4,023 braceros last month and the department agreed to permit 2,750 farm workers to come across the border.
Henry Letellane, chief of the Farm Placement Division of the TEC, said the original request for 4,023 workers had been sent back to the Dallas office. He said the reassessment came after the TEC's branch offices in the area rechecked the supply and demand situation and produced more evidence to back up earlier claims of the shortage of workers for harvest.
The San Angelo area includes Lambessa, Ablettes, Big Spring, Sonora and Ozona.
Tracy Murrell, deputy regional director of the bureau, said the request will be studied and if the department agrees with the TEC the workers will be authorized.

Young Set Speaks Out On Beatniks

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP, Newsfeatures-Writer
"What does the other half think of the beatnik crowd?"
"There are a variety of opinions on the spirit that leads young people to be non-conformists," says Judy Lewis, 19, of the University of Missouri, says:
"At first one is curious about them, investigating their hangout poetry sessions, music, perhaps even looking down your nose at them all the while. You might find some you like, just as you might find long-hair artists that appeal to you, even if you don't like classical music. The average young person takes a tolerant attitude toward beatniks, who usually are off-beat types or those who in drama. Certain beatnik spots can be very interesting, and much of their art is good, if there is a standard of good in what they create."
Marlene Van Horne, 18, of San Jose, Calif., says:

"Some beatniks have a right to rebel. They're tired of living in the world the way it is. All we have to look forward to is another war, and they have a right to voice their opinions. But others are just phonies, who would-be 'beat' no matter what happened. And they have made the whole movement seem unimportant and faded. They haven't found any other way to make a niche in the world than to make a spectacle of themselves."
Andrea Wise, 20, of White Plains, N. Y., believes that "many beatniks have something important to say. Non-conformity is a healthy expression, but you must observe the natural moral law. If they can achieve this without overstepping it is good. The Beatnik way of dressing is just getting back at a society that they feel won't accept them. They're trying not to conform, but are defeating their purpose by conforming with each other."
"Both Andrea and Marlene consider themselves non-conformists. They like the individuality of making their own clothes."
"Many girls wear daytime dresses practically at the knee. I always wear longer skirts" says Andrea. "The too-short skirts seem all wrong, and I'm sentimental enough to love long ball gowns, even though other girls may prefer skirt formalities. I've made six formal, the first when I was in high school."

Joan Youmans, 16, of Atlanta, Ga., feels that it is up to each new generation to stimulate the necessary changes in the world.
"The world needs to be different," she says. "We don't have to go to extremes to express how we feel, but we shouldn't stay in a rut."
Miki Kuzuhara, 15, of Chicago, says:
"The beatniks are pretty physically and also mentally. If you want to be heard you should do it in a way that is acceptable to the public."
Olga Papaha, 17, of New York City, who won a national teenage sewing contest, says:
"Teenagers are too spoiled that's their problem. They're allowed to have too many things, too

Fashions For 1960 Spring Alluring

By DOROTHY ROE
NEW YORK (AP)—Width at the top of the silhouette is the theme of Edward Abbott's fashion collection for spring. It might be the title of the whole range of 1960. Clothes now being previewed by more than 200 visiting fashion editors.
The new fashions blossom with frills and furrows above the waist, taper to stonklike slimmess below. There are floating tiered cape collars, puffed, puffed or shirred sleeves—every possible device for achieving width at the top.
Wilson Folmar, designer for Abbott, believes women should look alluring at any hour of the day, and proceeds to show them how in his collection of romantic, feminine dresses, highlighting a full range of cowbeebly sheer fabrics used most dramatically in black and white.
He achieves a strictly siren look in the use of black organza and chiffon in deceptively demure, covered-up cocktail and dinner dresses, sometimes with high collars that manage to look more daring than the most revealing bare top styles.
The team of Harvey Berin and Karen Stark show the "coquette" silhouette—a flaring overskirt over a slim sheath—in a variety of delicate fabrics, such as lace, organza and tulle, designed for festive wear. There is a crisp, frothy look to the Bern dresses, which make the wearer look and feel like a Dresden china figurine.

Brnell shows the indispensable little black dress in many versions, usually slender, sweet and ladylike. Sleeves are wide and short, shoulders are subtly extended and the total effect is new, feminine and appealing.
The accent of the new spring fashions is ease, wearability and a woman-of-the-world look. These are clothes that will be worn by Americans in every country of the world this year, looking as correct in Cairo, Egypt, as in Cairo, Ill.

How these telephone girls helped sergeant in Iceland send flowers to his wife... an example of the Spirit of Service in action

MRS. BOB VAN SYCLE

A letter from Iceland addressed to Southwestern Bell ended up in the office of Miss Clara Balzen, telephone service order supervisor.

It was from Staff Sgt. Bob Van Sycle, stationed with the Air Force in Iceland. He said his wife's birthday was coming up soon and he wanted to send her flowers. He had an idea he could ask the telephone company to send the flowers and charge his phone bill for the amount.

GIRLS HELP OUT

It turned out the sergeant had the wrong information, but the girls decided to help anyway. They wrote, they were sorry, the telephone company was unable to bill a florist charge to his telephone account, but added: "However, we feel such thoughtfulness deserves some special attention."

So they picked out a birthday card and had a florist deliver a dozen red roses to Sergeant Van Sycle's wife. She was delighted and so was her husband. He wrote to the telephone girls who helped play Cupid:

LETTER FROM SERGEANT

"Thanks to the gracious efforts of you girls, my wife's birthday was made very, very happy. The flowers arrived just at the right moment and were beautiful and the card you selected was very pretty and most fitting. My wife was very happy and as a result, I was happy, too. I owe this all to you. A light shone where, but for your generosity there would have been none."

STAFF SGT. BOB VAN SYCLE

Not every telephone employee has a chance to help someone like the sergeant and his wife. Even so, the initiative displayed by the seven telephone girls and their willingness to do something extra are very much a part of their daily efforts on the job. This is a special sense of responsibility that goes with telephone work: the Spirit of Service.

Hole In Dress Is Cited In Finch Trial

LOS ANGELES (AP)—People's exhibit 81 lay on the table before the witness stand. There was a bullet hole in it.

The exhibit was the white cocktail dress Barbara Jean Finch was wearing July 18—the night the state says her husband, Dr. R. H. Finch, his face unlined and young at 42, fired an almost blind shot on police Capt. William M. Ryan as the officer testified Monday in a precise, professional voice.

There is a hole in the dress, Ryan said, and there was a round wound in the victim's back. It appeared to be a bullet impact wound. A round hole in the dress corresponded in position.

Ryan testified to the search his officers made of the Finch home and the hills surrounding it in suburban West Covina. He said his officers were seeking two things: a pistol—and Dr. Finch. The pistol was never found. Dr. Finch was arrested the next day in Las Vegas, Nev., at the apartment of his mistress, Carol T. Goff, 23.

Miss Tregoff, a titan-haired ex-model, also is on trial, charged like Finch with murder and conspiracy.

Arrests Mount In Anti-Jewish Acts

By The Associated Press
Arrests mounted today in a growing "campaign against the worldwide wave of anti-Jewish incidents."

But in the wake of more racist displays, a world Jewish leader urged a U. N. investigation to seek out the reasons for the outburst of hate-mongering now in its 20th day.

In West Germany, where the Christmas Eve desecration of a Cologne synagogue started the wave, Chancellor Konrad Adenauer warned of the consequences of continued anti-Semitic activity.

Obviously referring to the Communist bloc nations, Adenauer said in a West Berlin "teletext" message.

One must "clearly understand that such incidents will be utilized by the enemies of our people—and as you know, Germany still has very many enemies—who will say that the Germans are the same as they used to be."

West German Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano urged the country to be on the lookout for the "criminals and fools" responsible for painting swastikas and anti-Semitic slogans. He said they should be put away in a lunatic asylum.

West Berlin police found cartoon posters linking Adenauer and various of his ministers with the anti-Semitic demonstrations and anti-Hitlerism. There was suspicion that the posters originated in Communist East Germany. Police arrested two men for putting up the cartoons.

Three incidents were reported in Britain. Schoolboys admitted being the guilty parties in one case, describing it as a prank. Police in Florence, Italy, caught three youths painting swastikas in Foggia, in southeastern Italy. Three students were arrested for plastering anti-Semitic slogans on public buildings.

The U. N. investigation was recommended by Dr. Maurice L. Perlmutter, a representative of the World Jewish Congress.

He told the opening meeting of the U. N. subcommittee on prevention of discrimination and protection of minorities that the issue involved represented a matter of "life or death" for many of the world's minorities. He said a thorough study would give governments an idea of how to deal with the problem.

COLUMBO, Pa. (AP)—One of seven persons accused of plotting the murder last Sept. 25 of Prime Minister Solomon Bandaranaike was granted a conditional pardon today after agreeing to turn state's evidence. C. Argument Heard In Rights Appeal

WASHINGTON (AP)—Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers told the Supreme Court today that a Georgia federal judge "fell into gross and manifest error" by ruling parts of the 1957 Civil Rights Act unconstitutional.

The case is the first to be filed under the act to protect voting rights of Negroes. As a measure of the importance he places on it, Rogers arranged to argue the appeal personally in his first formal argument before the high tribunal as attorney general.

In an advance brief, Rogers said Judge T. Hoyt Davis of the Macon, Ga., U. S. District Court went beyond the facts of the case in dismissing a government complaint.

The complaint charged that voting registrars of Terrell County, Ga., discriminated against qualified Negro voters who wanted to get on the voting rolls.

Davis ruled that parts of the act were unconstitutional because they gave the attorney general the right to file injunction suits against individual citizens as well as state officials. He said Congress exceeded its constitutional powers.

Appearing directly to the Supreme Court, Rogers contended the Georgia suit sought to enjoin state officials—the voting registrars of Terrell County—and not private individuals.

In his brief, Rogers said "It is a primary obligation of the courts to determine the constitutionality of a statute within the actual context of the facts involved. It is not the function of the courts to conjure up remote, hypothetical situations to which the statute conceivably might be applied—and if so applied might be unconstitutional."

Charles J. Bloch of Macon, counsel for the registrars, argued in support of Judge Davis' action.

"If the statute is so broad in its scope as to be unconstitutional," he said in his preliminary brief, "the attempt of the Justice Department to narrow it to amend it, and to save it by alleging 'under the color of office doesn't save it."

No Time For Coffee

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York metropolitan area's electrical construction workers have increased the cost of their time so much that management says it can't afford to pay them to drink coffee any more.

Electrical contractors and union leaders Monday announced a new two-year pact that will run the labor cost of wages and fringe benefits to $6.18 an hour by 1961.

Industry Board Chairman Harold A. Webster said all time-wasters must go, and he listed the traditional coffee break as one of the first to be eliminated. Trimming paid lunch periods and time lost waiting for tools or elevators also will be necessary, he said.

The new pact between electrical contractors and Local 3 Electrical Workers increases wages from $3.90 an hour to $4.15 this year and to $4.40 next year for six-hour days.

Antitrust Indictments Returned

HOUSTON (AP)—Seven electrical contracting firms, three individuals and the Southeast Texas Chapter of the National Electrical Contractors Assn. were indicted by a federal grand jury Monday on charges of antitrust law violations.

The indictment alleged conspiracy to suppress and eliminate competition and to monopolize the sale and installation of electrical equipment in the Houston area.

Defendants were J. S. Copeland Electric Co. of Houston, Electrical Contractors of Houston, Fischbach and Moore of Dallas, Fisk Electric Co. of Houston, Hirsch Electric Co. of Houston, Pfeiffer Electric Co. of La Porte and Howard Foley Co. of Washington.

Individuals named are Danie Hirsch, Harold Pfeiffer and Charles Scholbo of San Francisco, former secretary-manager of the national group chapter here.

The indictment contended that more than 75 per cent of electrical equipment sold and installed in the Houston area is manufactured outside Texas and shipped in interstate commerce.

It asserted that the contractors order the equipment either from the manufacturers or wholesale distributors and that the electrical contractors generally make profits on both the equipment and labor involved in installations.

Named as co-conspirators but not as defendants were Local 75 of the Electrical Workers Union, two former business managers of the union, Buford Morgan and Lawrence Evans; and unnamed assistants, union members and contractors.

Won't Blame Sec. Benson

LOGAN, Utah (AP)—Sen. Hubert Humphrey says Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson cannot be blamed for the Republican administration's farm policies, but those policies must be changed.

"You don't change the policies by changing the hired man," Humphrey said Monday night during a talk in Benson's home territory.

"You must change the man who hired the hired man," said the Minnesota Democrat who seeks the presidency.

Humphrey said Benson, who was reelected on a farm on the Idaho side of the surrounding Cache Valley of northern Utah, could not be blamed because he was carrying out the policies of the administration.

Humphrey said price supports and production controls are essential to farm prosperity and always have been.

About 400 persons, mostly farmers, heard Humphrey speak in a nearby school.

Vote Privilege For Negroes Restored

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A U.S. District Court decree today ordered voting privileges returned to 1,377 Negroes purged from the Washington Parish rolls by small technicalities.

Judge J. Kelly Wright issued the decree Monday in a suit filed last June 29 through the government's civil rights division under the 1957 Civil Rights Act.

The defendants were the White Citizens Council of Washington Parish, four council members who had challenged the Negroes' rights to vote, and Curtis M. Thomas, registrar of voters in the southeastern Louisiana parish.

The suit noted that while 1,377 Negroes had been challenged, only 16 white voters were removed. The government claimed the Citizens Council had challenged Negro registrars for minor technicalities such as exact ages and misspelled words while nothing was done about white registrars who made the same mistakes.

Judge Wright's decree also ordered the four individual members of the Citizens Council from "causing or initiating challenges or filing any affidavits of challenge which have as their purpose or effect discrimination based on race or color against any registrants."

The individuals were Diaz D. McElyeen, E. Ray McElyeen.

More Taken From Floe

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP)—The Air Force planned two flights to Station Charley today to remove more equipment from the slowly crumbling ice floe which has housed a scientific expedition.

Five men were flown out Monday, making a total of 17 who have been evacuated since the ice pack began to break up 400 miles northwest of Barrow, Alaska, last Wednesday.

Maj. Philip Peacock, public information officer at Ladd Air Force Base here, said two flights a day would be scheduled until the remaining men and equipment have been withdrawn.

The island, initially two miles wide and four miles long, has been reduced to one-fifth its original size.

The five men flown out Monday night were Airman Franklin O. Yates, Ypsilanti, Mich.; Sgt. Jerry A. Bailey, Salisbury, N.C.; Airman Hilton H. Carter, Fort Smith, Ark.; Sgt. Thomas A. Boger, Greensboro, N.C.; and Sgt. E. K. Fernald, Honolulu, Hawaii.

Truckers Get IRS Letters

Four thousand letters are being mailed to North Texas truck owners, according to A. E. Fogle Jr., administrative officer of the Alabama office of the Internal Revenue Service.

A comparison of state registration records and the IRS records revealed that most of these taxpayers are delinquent in filing and paying the Federal highway use tax. Fogle explained that it appears that many truck owners did not seem to understand that they were subject to the Federal highway use tax.

He said letters to the truck owners contain full instructions on how to prepare a return and pay the tax. He invited truck owners who have questions or who do not understand the letter of instructions to visit the IRS office for further help.

Capt. Bynum is liaison officer of the 2nd Missile Battalion in the command's 79th Artillery, an Honest John Rocket.

Bandits Get Dues From Honest John

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Bandits finally got their just dues at the Honest John Market Monday. Two gunmen sacked $4,500 from the market's cash register and ordered owner Oran Clayton and several customers into a frozen food locker.

Clayton played it cool. Inside the locker he pressed a button. A buzzer sounded, in a nearby police station.

The bandits never had a chance. They walked out of the market and met police officers with pistols drawn.

Clayton installed the locker room burglar alarm after sweating out two earlier holdups.

The largest county in the United States is San Bernardino, Calif., with an area of more than 20,000 square miles. It is larger than eight states.

Saxon Farmer and Eugene Farmer of the council was engaged in causing or participating in the filing of such challenges.

Judge Wright enjoined Thomas from giving any legal effect to the 1,377 challenges filed against Negroes between Feb. 1, 1959, and June 16, 1959, or from giving effect to any challenges which might be filed for the purpose of discriminating against a voter, because of race.

In Washington, Asst. Atty. Gen. M. F. Ryan Jr. head of the civil rights division, said "while the government does not seek the retention on the voting rolls of people who are not qualified under state law, the decision of the court makes it clear that the state may not apply one set of rules as to qualifications to one race which it does not apply to the other."

"This effective and versatile tool which the Civil Rights Act provides will continue to be used in other cases in Louisiana and elsewhere to prevent racial voting discrimination in any form."

The act also has been invoked in suits in Alabama, Georgia and Tennessee.

New Projects Are Planned For Airways

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Aviation Administration announced plans today for 750 projects, costing $118,200,000, to improve the nation's air navigation and air traffic control systems.

The work is planned for the current fiscal year on the basis of funds available. The FAA said there may be some changes in scope and projects later due to realignment of airways or to changing local conditions.

Major emphasis is on the application of various types of radar for air traffic control duties. Appropriations for radar facilities amount to more than $26,700,000.

More than 10 million dollars will be spent for various radio aids, 17 million for buildings to house 10 air route traffic control centers, and $3,360,000 for new traffic control towers at airports.

Almost four million will be spent on new lighting for runways and taxiways. New weather teletypewriter services will cost more than 6½ million, and more than $4,800,000 will be spent to install new instruments in 14 planes used by the FAA to flight-check the accuracy of air navigation and traffic control facilities.

The new air route traffic control centers, costing about $1,700,000 each, will be built at Chicago, Minneapolis, Kansas City, Salt Lake City, Denver, Seattle, Albuquerque, Fort Worth, Memphis and Balboa Naval Zone.

Airport traffic control towers costing an average of $168,400 each will be built at cities including San Antonio.

New instrument landing systems costing $185,000 each will be installed at 18 cities including Longview, Tex.

Sequenced flashing lights which are operated in conjunction with high intensity approach lights will be installed at 53 airports. Costing $36,200 each, they will give pilots greater visual information in landings in adverse weather.

The sequenced flashing lights will be installed at Abilene, Amarillo, Austin, San Antonio and Waco, Tex., at Albuquerque and Shreveport.

Threshold lights costing $44,500 each will be installed at 22 airports including Albuquerque and Houston.

Some 32 new direct air-ground radio communication channels will be installed at 19 locations, at an average cost of $108,700. At Brownsville, Tex., one communication channel will be installed in the existing facility.

Nixon Invited To Sit In On Party Parleys

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon has an invitation to sit in on weekly closed sessions at which Senate Republicans talk party policy on legislation.

Senate Minority Leader Everett Dirksen of Illinois said today Nixon will be asked to lunch with the GOP Policy Committee regularly to air his views on measures before Congress.

The vice president has always been welcome at these meetings, but as the situation stands, I think he ought to have a special invitation to attend all of them," Dirksen said in an interview.

The situation he has in mind, Dirksen made it clear, that Nixon now appears almost certain to be the Republican presidential nominee.

If Nixon agrees to attend, he apparently will have two shots at shaping the kind of legislative policies and actions he might find helpful in the general election campaign.

In the past he always has attended such conferences as today's White House meeting of the party legislative leaders with President Eisenhower. The vice president often speaks up there.

But he has rarely joined the policy group, where individual Republicans who don't always go along with White House proposals have their chance to make their objections known. The criticisms of White House actions and policies are not unknown at such sessions.

The GOP policy group of 18 members is appointed by Dirksen as leader. Usually membership has been rotated to include senators with imminent re-election campaigns. However, all 35 Republican senators are invited to attend, and all their views on current issues.

Yankus Happy In Australian Home

BENTON HARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Stanley Yankus is convinced his future happiness lies in Australia.

The former Michigan farmer attracted international attention with his long, losing fight against efforts of the United States government to tell him how much wheat he could grow on his farm near Dowagiac, Mich.

Yankus pulled up stakes in Michigan last May 15 and headed for a new life in Adelaide, Australia.

In a recent letter to the Benton Harbor News Palladium, Yankus indicated he still feels bitter about his treatment by U.S. officials.

His troubles began in 1953 when a U.S. government employe went to Yankus' 10-acre farm and told him that under federal wheat contract laws, Yankus could plant only 13 acres. Yankus lost of his 35-acre crop.

Yankus kept on planting his full acreage, feeding the surplus to his chickens. He fought through the years, appearing before Congress and the Michigan Legislature, and in federal court. Then he gave up and went to Australia.

Yankus' farm days apparently are behind him. He works for Pope Products Ltd., a home appliances firm, and makes $30 a week.

In his eight months Down Under, Yankus has built a house and bought an Australian auto. Although his salary is little more than Australia's minimum wage, Yankus has been able to build a $12,500 three-bedroom home.

He wrote that he, his wife, Mildred, and children, Russell, 13, Dennis, 12, and Karen, 4, are acquiring new food tastes.

Speaking of his new job, Yankus wrote: "Pope Products has not had a strike in 30 years. I am not a union member nor have I been requested to join. The type of union violence that exists in America does not exist in Australia. The man who owns a factory has the right to fire an employe while in America this right has been stolen by the unions."

Yankus concluded, "I am planning to live in Australia permanently. I will never forget all the wonderful American people I knew."

Mute Protest Still Endures

FREDERICK, Md. (AP)—A half dozen men and women stood silently outside Ft. Detrick today. They might have been waiting for a bus except for their signs. "An appeal to stop preparation for germ warfare."

The 6-month-old vigil at Ft. Detrick is one of the longest demonstrations of its type ever held in this country. It started last July and the vigilantes, as some townspeople call them, have numbered about 700 since that time.

The mute protest against germ warfare experiments at the Army base is carried out daily from dawn to dusk through sun, rain, wind and cold. The protesters come from many walks of life—teachers, physicians, scientists, ministers, students, laborers and housewives.

The movement was started by the Middle Atlantic Region of the Fellowship of Reconciliation, an international group. It is supported by voluntary contribution.

The number standing vigil ranges from two to 20. Lawrence Scott, a Philadelphia Quaker who directs the project, says the group wants to raise the question of germ warfare as a public issue.

Inside the post, which has a staff of 1700 civilians and 400 military personnel, Army spokesmen say the vigilantes are "no bother to us."

Better Service To Tourists Is Urged

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The Mexican Hotel Assn. of the federal district has asked the government to approve and aid a plan to give better service to tourists along major highways.

The association asked the Tourism Department to install supervisors in service stations, hotels, restaurants and pharmacies to improve service.

It also urged more free information booths along the highways to advise tourists on spots of interest and other matters.

Harvard's Drive Is Oversubscribed

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Harvard University's 3-year drive to raise $2 million dollars was oversubscribed by $107,000.

Harvard President Nathan M. Pusey said Monday night that among the substantial donations were $2,000,000 by David Rockefeller, brother of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller; 2½ million by Harold S. Vanderbilt; and 2 million by Walter W. Naumberg of the class of 1899.

UH, NO --- NOT THAT!

Nobody Has Interest In Veep's Post

By SAUL PETT
NEW YORK (AP) — This is the time of year when no one wants to be vice-president of the United States.

Surely, somebody must want to be vice president.

Of course, even if a man wants the job, he must, by tradition, act like he isn't interested. The ambition of the job is easy to understand. Don't you ever hear of an unmarried woman campaigning to become a bridesmaid?

You'll probably want to be vice president, you have to start by denying you're a candidate or active candidate for president. Then, after a decent interval, you have to be persuaded to become an active candidate for president. Almost any amount of persuasion will go—a nudge from your mother or a letter from your old scoutmaster is enough.

You make your big announcement and insist you're in this fight for the top nomination, and only the top nomination, to the bitter end. And you start fighting and just before the bitter end, just before those close that last door at the convention, you succumb to an unselfish glow of party harmony and national duty. You rush up to the speaker's platform and, in a burst of sweaty rhetoric, ask your delegates to vote for the other guy, who then will agree that you're the best man for the vice presidential nomination.

The timing has to be perfect. If you jump too soon, you indicate weakness. If you wait a moment too long, you won't even be able to get a traffic ticket fixed in the next four years.

That's just practical politics. A man who begins with a modest ambition has nothing to trade. If he starts out publicly wanting only to be vice president, he may end up secretary of interior or utility infielder for the Washington Senators.

That's practical politics and I'm against it. After all, being vice president is still a pretty fair job. It pays $35,000 a year and $10,000 in expenses and you make your own hours.

Solid American Books Help Battle Soviet Propaganda

By INEZ ROBB
Never a day passes that I don't receive a spate of letters from anxious fellow citizens who ask how they can help bolster or defend liberty and freedom in the modern world.

We all seem to be up the same tree—wanting to help but not quite certain how to go about it. But I have just discovered a clear-cut project that could do with the support of eager beavers: a new program designed by Freedom House to counter the Communist propaganda now flooding the world.

Freedom House, deeply convinced that "the struggle of our times is the struggle for men's minds," has selected for free distribution abroad 10 books, the majority by the Founding Fathers, dealing with the fundamentals of the American political system and our continuing dedication to liberty.

It doesn't require a very long memory to recall the good, old days when the Bible was the most widely translated and disseminated book in the world with Shakespeare, and particularly "Hamlet," as runner-up.

But in recent years the most widely translated and distributed author in the world is Nikolai Lenin, the modern fountainhead of communism. The Communist gospels according to Lenin have backed the good book into second place. And does that mean that Will Shakespeare is in third place? Emphatically, not! Stalin and a number of other Communist writers have nosed out Will.

Faced with the hard fact that Communist propaganda is dozens of languages is flooding the world, with Asia, Africa and Latin America as particular targets, Freedom House set to work 10 months ago to devise a program to counter the Red torrent. It first rounded up a distinguished committee, headed by poet Archibald MacLeish, to select the books to be sent abroad. The 10 volumes include the writings of President John Adams, Benjamin Franklin, Alexander Hamilton, Thomas Jefferson, Thomas Paine, James Madison, John Jay, Henry D. Thoreau, and Woodrow Wilson.

"America has within its arsenal of ideas the precise weapons to combat the Communist campaign," the committee points out. "These weapons are the classic statements of liberty and human dignity which echoed around the world during our own struggle for independence and more recently developed by other great Americans."

Since September 1, 600 sets of books have been sent to more than 20 nations in Asia and Africa. Freedom House has distributed many sets in cooperation with the American Association of University Women, the Lions International, the American Library Association, the Y.M.C.A., the American Bar Association, the U.S. Information Agency and the International Confederation of Free Trade Unions.

So far, the Freedom House effort is but a drop in the bucket, as Communist nations are now distributing more than 30,000,000 books annually in non-Communist lands. The Red literature is either distributed free or sold for a fraction of its actual cost.

But this is where you and I come into the picture. It costs Freedom House $8 to buy and ship its 10 book shelf. It can only dream of a time when it can afford to translate the American classics into many languages.

In this campaign for freedom

Russia, U. S. To Talk About Debt

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP) — For the third time in 13 years the United States and the Soviet Union are trying to settle the Soviet "lend-lease debt for American help during the war. But don't read too much into an agreement, if there is one.

The two sides talked about it in 1947-48 and again in 1951-52, without success. They started talking again Monday, but this time under different circumstances.

Premier Nikita Khrushchev, when he was here last September, made a pitch for trade as part of better relations in a number of fields between the U.S.S.R. and the United States. He was told a lend-lease settlement might move a major obstacle, and the new lend-lease talks are a result of his urging.

So there may be a settlement. If there is, trade between the two countries should increase a bit, but probably not on a large scale for a good while.

It has been past Soviet practice to haggle on each issue individually, as if none was related to any other.

During the war this country provided the Soviet Union with $10,800,000,000 worth of military and civilian equipment. After the war the United States wrote off the military equipment and concentrated on getting paid for the civilian goods still in Soviet hands.

The value of the civilian goods was pegged at $2,600,000,000 by this country. After the two previous talks the United States had scaled down its claim to 800 million dollars. The Soviets offered 300 million.

There are various legal restrictions on trade with the U.S.S.R. Some go back to before World War I, because the Communists have never paid on loans made to the Russian government before the Soviets took over.

Junior Editors Quiz on WEATHER

QUESTIONS: What do sunspots have to do with our weather?

ANSWER: Through telescopes, astronomers can see black spots moving across the face of the sun. These are sunspots. Sometimes it is possible to see them through sun glasses. Sunspots are storms on the sun. They are electrical in nature and when a lot of them occur, they cause interference with radio transmission on earth. They also cause the northern lights. Meteorologists do not agree on what effect sunspots have on the weather. They do not seem to have any immediate effect. But some weather forecasters believe that they cause gradual changes in the earth's atmosphere which result in changes in the weather. Other forecasters argue that there isn't enough evidence to prove the theory.

FOR YOU TO DO: Using smoked glass, look at the sun. See if you can find any sunspots. Don't look at the sun without a smoked glass or you will hurt your eyes.

(Peg Shaffer of Solola, Ill., wins $10 for this question. Mail your question on a postcard to Violet Moore Higgins, AP Newsfeatures, in care of this newspaper. If duplicate questions are received, the winner will be chosen by Mrs. Higgins.) 1-15

Lopez-Mateos To Embark On Tour

By CHARLES H. GUPILL, AP
MEXICO CITY (AP)—New concepts in inter-American relations will be the key points of Lopez Mateos' tour of the Americas and the rest of the world as he develops from the visit of Mexico, President to South America, start of the Caribbean and Central America. Adolfo Lopez Mateos, 49, just completing his first year in office, will be the first Mexican president while in office in his tour of six countries, he will be armed with a traditional Mexican approach to foreign policy.

Basically it embraces the principles of nonintervention in the affairs of other nations, respect for one another's sovereignty and mutual cooperation in the preservation of peace. These are certain concepts in inter-American relations which Lopez Mateos talks about his tour areas.

Recent crises, especially in the Caribbean and Central America, and invasions and threats of invasion, make them a timely topic.

As a Latin-American country with an exceptional record in recent times for political stability and economic safety, Mexico senses the leading role it may play.

But Mexico's geographical position has made it generally remote and unfamiliar to the southern continent. Trade has flowed mainly between Mexico and the United States.

Lack of physical communication, among other things, has kept commercial ties between Mexico and South America at a minimum. The possibility of increasing them will be foremost in Lopez Mateos' talks.

Always in the background will be Mexico's intermediary position between the United States and the other countries of Latin America. The position is as political as it is geographical. Mexico favors good neighborliness in its ties with the United States but it avoids letting them become unduly intimate.

Lopez Mateos and his government are convinced that among the Latin-American nations there are spiritual and economic resources, active and latent, which can be harnessed for the common good. The search for ways to exploit them is the goal of his unprecedented tour.

MOTHER SAVES DAUGHTER—Nearly hysterical, Mrs. Margaret Chinn flees a fire in Boston's Chinatown with her daughter, Cynthia, two, in her arms. Mrs. Chinn's sister, Natalie Yee, 15, follows. Left, firemen struggle to get hose lines in action in the bitter cold. Thirty persons fled to safety from the fire in the five-story tenement. Small Profit In Salvage Of Vessel

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Four men who gambled their lives to raise the sunken tanker African Queen made a small profit on their venture Monday by taking one more desperate chance.

The battered hull of the salvaged Queen was auctioned off for $124,000 but the price would have been far lower if one of the salvagers hadn't kept on bidding on the pretense he wanted the ship for his own.

"My belly had butterflies in it," said A. E. Sadler. "If I had finished as the top bidder, I'd have had to hock everything I had in the world."

The bid that finally gave the salvagers a $22,000 profit was by Samuel Kahn of New York, representing the Ocean Shipping and Trading Corp.

It had cost Sadler and his three venturesome partners—Paul Brady, Lloyd Deir and Belden Little—about $112,000 to raise the 420-foot steamer—the tanker from the Atlantic last year.

They had hoped to make millions for the Queen had cost 6 million to build in Germany three years ago.

Kahn said the Ocean Shipping and Trading Corp. plans to spend 1½ million dollars to place a bow on the African Queen and put her back in business transporting oil.

The tanker split apart and sank in the Atlantic off the Maryland coast in December 1958.

Freighter Collides With Ferry Boat

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP)—A 700-ton freighter received a gaping, 40-foot long slash amidships when it collided with a ferry boat at the port harbor entrance in Vancouver harbor Monday night.

None of the 46 passengers and 64 crewmen aboard the two vessels was injured. The holed ship, the Alaska Prince, was grounded to prevent her sinking.

The 2,100-ton ferry, Princess Elaine, received only a few buckled plates.

Eight passengers aboard the Alaska Prince were taken off by tug. Thirty-eight passengers were aboard the Princess Elaine.

Reds Realize Some Gains From Ship Attack Charge

By EUGENE KRAMER, TOKYO (AP)—The Communists have realized some gains from the puzzling Soviet charge that a survey ship was attacked by South Korea last Dec. 28.

South Korea denied the accusation, but in doing so, it started the record where its small navy operates. That took the teeth out of its threats of force against the movement of Koreans from Japan to Communist North Korea in Soviet ships. The issue also clarified U.S. responsibility for South Korean naval operations.

If that is what the Soviets were fishing for with their Dec. 31 charge, it worked. They have not bothered to pursue the issue or to reply to South Korea's countercharge that the attacker was a North Korean gunboat, probably firing by mistake.

It would be logical now for Moscow to use the alleged attack as an excuse for stepping up its Pacific fleet operations and perhaps for arming and escorting Soviet ships carrying Koreans from Niigata, Japan, to North Korea.

Moscow charged the hydrographic ship Linga was attacked by a South Korean gunboat 35 miles northeast of the 1953 armistice line between North and South Korea, causing serious damage and killing one and wounding three crewmen.

South Korea's navy then told the world its warships never operate so far north, even though the waters are international. Navy headquarters said that for safety's sake it keeps its patrols south of the eastward extension of the land boundary.

Had this been public knowledge earlier, there would have been less anxiety over possible attack when the first shipments of Koreans left Japan for North Korea last month. The ships' course lies far to the north of the line mentioned by the South Korean navy.

Another result of the accusation was to clarify the relationship between the South Korean navy and the U.N. Command. For the sake of Korean prestige, U.S. officials generally soft-pedal the fact that South Korea's navy is under U.S. control. The Soviet charge, however, produced U.S. military backing of Seoul's denial and widespread reporting of U.S. responsibility for the South Korean navy.

Say Padded Claims Are Boosting Rates

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—An insurance official says padded claims are forcing up premium rates.

J. Dewey Dorsett, general manager of the Assn. of Casualty and Surety Companies, told a group of insurance men Monday that "the damage suit has become a national pastime."

He said increases in auto liability insurance rates would be necessary as long as a claim-conscious public schemes with some unethical lawyers and doctors to "forget about morals and fairness" and inflate injury claims.

Savings Institutions Are Engaged In Growing Rivalry

By SAM DAWSON, AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Americans are saving less today. And many have turned away from the traditional pattern of savings. This is sparking growing rivalry among competing forms of savings institutions. The lure is to offer you more for the dollar you don't want to or don't have to spend.

Tight money is playing a dual role in this.

It makes fewer dollars available for borrowers at a time when the demand for loans is rising. Hence, the race among money-short lenders to garner more dollars to hire out at increased interest rates.

Fatter returns make the saver more choosy. He can shop around for the highest yield on his money. He can switch from his old form of saving to another when the second pays him more.

Lures for savers have risen sharply of late.

The U.S. Treasury has offered 5 per cent on a new issue aimed at the individual. Its old marketable issues can be bought at discounted prices to yield about as much. And it has hiked the payments on U.S. Savings Bonds.

Many savings & loan associations have raised their dividend rates. The pattern varies across the country. But the range now is from 3½ per cent to 4½ per cent. Some associations and some mutual banks feature premiums, also—gadgets for new accounts.

Mutual savings banks are advertising increased payments, too, range varies, with some in New York as high as 3½ per cent. Many feature extra dividends, and offer more to those who leave their money in longer than two years.

To keep in the running, commercial banks have raised the interest they pay on deposits.

The show-up continues is shown in the Securities & Exchange Commission report that in the first nine months of 1959 individuals saved 12½ billion dollars, or 2 per cent less than in the same period of 1958, and 10 per cent less than in 1957. The 1959 drop contrasts with a steady rise in total personal incomes to be spent or saved.

The 1959 reports of the traditional recipients of the nation's savings show how saving habits have changed.

Mutual savings banks added 1½ billion dollars to their deposits but this was a billion dollars less than in 1958. Commercial bank deposits gained three billion dollars last year, but that was only half of the increase in 1958.

Doing better, reserves of life insurance companies advanced by more than 4½ billion dollars last year, up 200 million from the previous year. And savings & loan associations added 6½ billion dollars, half a billion more than in 1958, but less than had been predicted at the start of the year.

In many cases the gains tended to be concentrated in the first part of 1958 with a slump following the issuance of the Treasury's magic lives.

Board To Sell Surplus Land

AUSTIN (AP)—The State Hospital Board has agreed to sell surplus acreage at the Kerrville State Hospital and San Antonio State Hospital.

The board agreed Monday it will receive in May bids for 306 acres at Kerrville and 80 to 90 acres at San Antonio.

Wanted Man Feels As If He's Hunted

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—"I've felt hunted all the time. I didn't want to even spit on the sidewalk."

That's Robert Garfield Brown Jr. speaking Monday night after FBI agents arrested him in a Salvation Army home where he worked.

Brown, 41, one of the FBI's ten most-sought fugitives, surrendered peacefully.

Brown is charged with fleeing Maine to avoid prosecution in a holdup shooting last July 9 that left a Montreal tourist paralyzed.

He also is charged with interstate transport of a stolen truck believed used to flee the scene of the shooting at Old Orchard Beach, Maine.

Brown, a native of Brookline, Mass., said he had drifted since last summer.

Approval was granted to preliminary plans for an outlay of $1,875,000 for several buildings, housing facilities to include 400 beds, a warehouse, laundry and shop at Denton State School.

Preliminary plans also were approved for air conditioning for a hospital building at Rusk State Hospital and renovating of a hospital building at Wichita Falls State Hospital.

The board set up a special committee to evaluate the recent drop in the number of patients at the tuberculosis hospitals. Despite an increase in the number of reported cases last year, the number of patients has been declining, said Raymond Vowell, executive director.

The board agreed to ask for bids for air conditioning at Harlingen State TB Hospital and for boiler plant improvements at Abilene State School. Vowell said the board had about $50,000 to spend at Harlingen and $35,000 at Abilene.

Strong Medicine Affects Driver

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Joseph Suber, 57, pleaded guilty to drunken driving. He said it was medicine that made him tipsy.

"I guess the medicine had a lot of alcohol in it because it smelled like whiskey and tasted like whiskey," said Suber. "But it wasn't whiskey, it was medicine. The judge let him off with court costs."
