COLLINGSWORTH DEMOCRATS AND THEIR NATIONAL CHAIRMAN

Collingsworth Democratic Sunday discussed party problems and prospects with national and Southwestern Democratic leaders at the Sawyer Ranch at Cross Roads, New Mexico. Talking with Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler, who is second from right, were Pat O'Hair of Quail, F. O. Masten of Wellington and Sudan, Paul Spillman and Zook Thomas. At right is Mr. Watkins of Sudan. The local group, which also included Lewis Morris, visited with Masten at his ranch before returning home.

Group Leaves This Week to Study Montana FFA Project, Program

A group representing Collingsworth county farming and vocational agriculture interests leaves this week end for Kalispell, Montana, to inspect the Future Farmers of America projects that have brought the Flathead Valley national recognition.

Sponsoring the trip are the Wellington Chamber of Commerce and the Salt Fork Soil Conservation District, the latter through contributions made to it by individuals.

On the tour will be the three vocational agriculture teachers and the presidents of the three Future Farmer chapters: M. L. Burks and Mike Glenn of Wellington; Frank Claborn and Rudy Tate of Samnorwood; and Frank Kennedy and Neal White of Quail. Fred Squyres, work unit conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service, will accompany them.

The work of this group is under the C-C sponsored Collingsworth County Vocational Agriculture Board, which has as its aim to help county Future Farmers get started farming for themselves, and to set up a demonstration farm with which to work.

The proposed local program is patterned after that inaugurated at Kalispell by Henry E. Robinson, vocational agriculture teacher in that high school.

The Collingsworth group will leave here Saturday and arrive in Kalispell Sunday evening. They will confer with Robinson and visit the Flathead Future Farmer project farm Monday and start on the return trip Tuesday.

Robinson's program with his Future Farmers has received national publicity, through July issues of the Rotarian Magazine and Readers Digest.

His program is two-fold. He helps boys get started in farming for themselves, usually beginning with a small project such as a cow or hog, and building into a full-fledged farming program, usually by the time they graduate from high school. Use of credit gets major emphasis in his work with the boys.

Another important part of his program is the Demonstration

Retired Norwood Farmer, R. L. Young, Dies Saturday

Robert Lee Young, retired farmer and resident of the Samnorwood community for 13 years, died at the home of his son, Robert H. Young at 11:15 Saturday night, October 13. Mr. Young had been in ill health several months, but his condition had been serious only a few days.

Funeral services were held at the Church of Christ at Samnorwood Tuesday, at 11 a. m. with Minister Claude Walkup of Gould, Oklahoma, officiating. Graveside services were held at Quana, the family's former home at 2:30 Tuesday afternoon, and burial was in the Quana cemetery. Kelso Funeral Home directed arrangements.

Pall bearers were Odis Bradley,

Halowe'en Tricks or Treats

Children of Grades 4,5,6 Picked for UNICEF Drive

Fourth, fifth and sixth grade youngsters have been chosen for a special Halowe'en "ghosts" this year, picked by the Rotary Club for an unusual project.

These boys and girls will participate in the UNICEF Trick or Treat campaign, covering the town and asking for small coins, which will go into the United Nations Children's Fund, to help unfortunate boys and girls of the world, Dr. Chas. B. Jones of the club has announced.

All the colorful masks and costumes that are traditional with Halowe'en will be on parade, but each small wearer also will have an identifying badge and head band signifying the cause for which he is asking coins.

How much each person contributes is his decision, but it is small coins the youngsters are seeking, pennies, nickels and dimes, Dr. Jones pointed out.

The project is being carried out in co-operation with the teachers in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades. Following the Trick or Treat drive, the boys and girls will be entertained with a party at the community building, given by the Rotary Club.

"The coins you drop in the UNICEF cartons Halowe'en night will supply needed milk; essential drugs like penicillin to cure yaws; sulfones to treat leprosy; and DDT to control malaria in parts of the world bearing the exotic names like Bechuanaland, Ruanda-Urundi, Burma, Afghanistan, Ecuador, Surinam, and the more familiar Greece, Italy, India, Mexico, Haiti and Peru", Dr. Jones pointed out. "Countries like these, lacking the resources and skills to solve the basic health and welfare problems of their children, found it impossible to progress until organizations like UNICEF provided the necessary help. By sparking self-help with its matching principle, UNICEF has started many of these countries on the road to a happier future for their children."

Rockets Face Tough Bobcats Here Friday

Wellington Skyrockets will meet the Childress Bobcats here Friday night, October 19, in one of their hardest fought games of this season—a game where this year's records so far will count for nothing.

"As near as we can tell, the game's a tossup," Coach John Hurley remarked. "We have a chance to win if we come through and play the type of game that we can play. But we've got to give everything we've got for 48 minutes.

This year the Bobcats have lost four games and won only one.

But that is no indication of weakness, Coach Hurley pointed out. Their losses have been to Phillips and Seymour, strong AA teams, and Vernon and Burkburnett, AAA teams. Their victory was over Paducah early in the season. The Rockets record, on the other hand, has been established against Class A teams.

The Bobcats, coached by Frank Pulattie, run from the T formation. The backfield this year is unusually strong, with fullback Lowe good at running; Howard, who plays both quarterback and right half, a fast runner and good ball carrier; Coffin, an excellent quarterback and Mitchell regarded as an exceptional halfback.

The Bobcats rested last week, and they and the coaching staff were at McLean to watch the Rockets perform.

The Rockets have no major injuries, but they are still hampered with old injuries that won't get well, Coach Hurley reported. They are enough to cut down the power and effectiveness of the team.

Six Rockets of the varsity squad will leave after practice Wednesday night to exhibit stock in the

MYF Newspaper Drive Saturday

Boys and girls of the MYF of First Methodist Church will conduct a paper drive Saturday, October 20, and are asking Wellington residents for their old newspapers, Maxey McKnight, a sponsor, has announced.

The entire town will be covered during the day, and the boys and girls will appreciate it if papers are bundled and left on front porches, McKnight said.

The papers will be sold to the Certainated Plant at Acme, which uses old papers in its manufacturing process. Magazines cannot be used.

Proceeds will go into the MYF treasury.

C-C Names Two New Directors

Two new directors have been named to fill vacancies on the board of the Wellington Chamber of Commerce, N. M. Higdon, manager, said.

Appointments were made by Duard Scott, president, with the consent of the board.

Dr. Chas. B. Jones was named to fill the vacancy created when Dr. Curtis Thaxton moved to Tomhall, and Cal Sugg was appointed to succeed Mr. Higdon, who resigned from the board of directors when he was named Chamber of Commerce manager.

Other members of the board are Lewis Morris, Buster Hughes, Fred Squyres, Durant McInnis, Sandy Parsons Jr., Henry Sullivan, Billy Hatch, Luther Sullivan, George Henry and O. C. McMinn.

Emergency Feed Program Extended

Walter T. McKay, State Director, Farmers Home Administration, has advised I. G. Vaden, County Supervisor of the extension of the Emergency Feed Grain Program in Collingsworth County. Under this extension, farmers and ranchers may now file applications through December 3, 1956, for the supply of feed grain necessary to carry basic livestock herds through December 31, 1956.

This extension of the Emergency Feed Grain program now coincides with the assistance available under the Roughage Program for Texas, and enables county FHA committees to consider total feed requirements, both roughage and grain, through December 31, 1956.

Rain, Hail Damage Open Cotton In Areas Scattered Over County

Rain that measured as much as one-half inch in parts of the county and up to an inch in a few spots Sunday night, October 14, brought with it damaging hail and wind to cotton that had survived the summer-long drouth.

Damage was spotted over the county and several farmers in widely scattered communities feel they have lost up to 20 per cent of their crop.

Over the county as a whole, the loss may go up to 1,000 bales, one source close to the county's cotton economy reported.

On top of this is the loss that will result in damage to the grade of cotton opened in the bolls and splashed with dirt during the rain and hail. This may amount to around $10 a bale on the average, ginners believe, and could mean an additional $100,000 loss to the county.

The first rain fell around 5 p. m., accompanied by hail, while the moisture and hail in the eastern part of the county did not come until about 10 a. m.

Areas where hail damage have been reported include west of Wellington in the Buck Creek area, east of town in the Fresno and Kelley sections, south of Quail, around Dozier, Shinnery, and west of Cottonwood.

In Wellington, approximately .55 inch of rain fell and hail did no damage. West of town, however, Mrs. G. L. Jones reported cotton damage, as did Pete Hartman three miles west and C. B. Wade five miles west at Buck Creek. Owen Scroggins estimated 20 percent loss.

Damage was reported to dry-land cotton in the Fresno area, although irrigated cotton stayed in the burs.

At Kelley, damage was reported to the Daro Camp and Cliff Camp fields, and Orville Vaughan, who has irrigated cotton in the east edge of that community reported damage from dirt blowing in his open cotton. E. F. Jones reported 3/4 inch of rain. Cotton damage was reported by Peck White.

Louis Patterson, two and a half miles north of Dodson, reported 1.3 inches of rain with quite a bit of hail, but only slight damage to his cotton. Northwest of there, however, Art Kane had heavier damage to open cotton.

Still farther north, in the Shinnery section, Earl Yarbrough was reported to have lost cotton and Hunter Peters, who has cotton in that area, and had gathered none of it, said the hail gathered his crop for him.

A. J. Fires said that not enough rain fell to lay the dust at the Fires Ranch in the Needwood community, but four miles south, where he and his father, Chester Fires, operate a farm, a good rain fell. One and one-fourth inch was reported on the Watts farm in that area, and approximately a half inch fell between Needwood community and Lutie.

At Lutie, only showers with little hail and no damage were reported by Mrs. Selba Rainey and Jack Lowry.

Heavy damage was reported in the vicinity of the James Murry farm at Dozier.

Community Building Benefit Show

New Talent Appears on Opry Program Thurs.

Both home-town talent, some of it new to the listening public, and visiting musicians will take part on the program of the Collingsworth County Opry Thursday night, October 18, Dr. Chas. B. Jones, director, has announced.

The program, at the community building, begins at 8 p. m.

Among the visitors will be Mrs. Alaf Hosack of Mart, sister-in-law of Dr. Jones, whose piano numbers will delight and entertain. The Hadley string band will appear with a variety of instrumental selections.

This program will also present Mrs. Olga Roberts of Wellington at the organ, her first time to play in an entertainment program of this type.

There will be a return engagement by students of the Quail music department under the direction Mrs. Lowell Wells, along with a group of tap dancers.

There'll be fiddle music a-plenty. Featured will be Mr. and Mrs. Bill King of Dozier, two of the area's best known entertainers and former directors of the Opry here. Appearing again will be Hugh Roden with Odis Killingsworth as accompanist.

There will be a small charge, and all proceeds go into the fund to help buy a curtain, public address system and other equipment for the community building.

Water Engineer To Meet Greenbelt Group

R.M. Dixon, member of the State Board of Water Engineers, will meet with those interested in creating the Greenbelt Municipal and Industrial Water Authority. The City Commission and City Attorney for each city will be the spokesmen for their communities at the meeting to be held in the District Court Room in the Childress County Courthouse on Tuesday, October 23rd at 7:30 p. m.

A member of the Fort Worth engineering firm of Freese and Nichols, engineers to the authority, will accompany Dixon to the meeting. "While the public is invited to attend the meeting and learn of the progress in this important area wide water project, the floor will not be opened to general discussion because of the full agenda of business which must be taken care of by the various City Commissions at that time," Dr. S. H. Townsend, Authority president stated.

"We feel that this is an outstanding opportunity in our efforts to retain the water rights on the Salt Fork of the Red River," Townsend said. "Mr. Dixon will be able to carry back to the State Board of Water Engineers a first hand report on the interest of the various communities in this water area and the efforts being made to make the water available to the communities of this area," he concluded.

G. N. Tucker Succumbs to Long Illness

Rocket B Team Goes to Memphis

The Skyrocket B team will play the Memphis B Cyclone Thursday night, October 18, at 7:30 p. m. Coach Harvey Millsap has reported.

This is the second time the teams have met this season, and the first one was a 6-6 tie.

On that basis, the Rockets feel they have a score to settle, and they are guessing Memphis has the same thing in mind and that should make it one of the best games this season.

Heart Attack Fatal to W. P. Johnson Saturday

W. P. Johnson, 76, who farmed many years in the Quail area before moving north of Wellington about two months ago, died about 9:30 Saturday morning, October 13, a few minutes after suffering a heart attack at the home of his brother, D. T. Johnson, who also lives north of town.

Mr. Johnson had driven a tractor to the D. T. Johnson home and was stricken as he stopped the machine in the yard.

He had come to this county 44 years ago, and most of the time he had lived in the Quail area, where he was active in community life, and in behalf of education advancement of the area. He had served three terms as a member of the old Pleasant Hill school board.

He was an active member of the Church of Christ for 50 years.

Wylie Price Johnson was born February 16, 1880, at Iron City, Tenn., and lived at Tuscola, near Abilene before coming here.

Chevrolets for '57 on Display Friday

Fuel injection and a new triple turbine automatic transmission will make their debut on the 1957 Chevrolets.

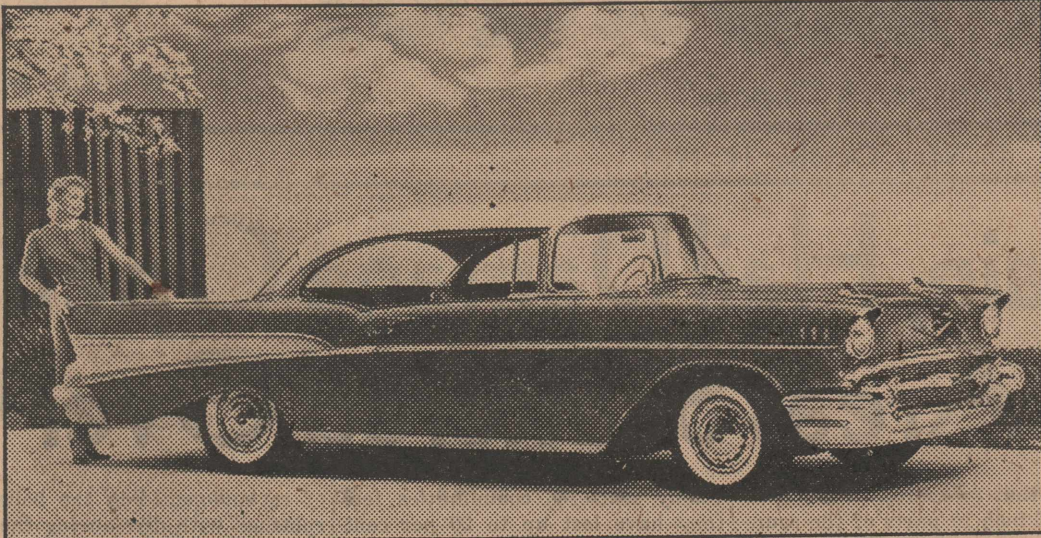

The Chevrolet Motor Division announced today that fuel injection will be introduced on the Corvette engine, a lively new V8 of 283 horsepower that is to be available as an option throughout the line of Chevrolet passenger cars. Also unveiled for the first time is the new transmission, to be known as the Turboglide.

The 1957 Chevrolets go on display at dealer showrooms Friday, October 19. In addition to the trail-blazing Ramjet fuel injection and the new transmission, the latest models present a multitude of other styling and performance features that promise greater owner satisfaction than ever before.

Fuel injection, a long-time objective of American automotive engineers in their quest for ideal flexibility in performance, replaces the customary carburetor. Because of quicker power response and faster warmup, it is expected to gain almost universal adoption within a few years. Chevrolet pioneers the device in its field and will be one of the few makes, regardless of price, to offer the advance on engines this year.

The Turboglide transmission is a Chevrolet exclusive. It carries the principle of torque conversion—first introduced in Chevrolet's Powerglide in 1950—to a new peak in efficiency. The triple-turbine—with infinitely variable ratio characteristics—produces an uninterrupted driving force at

Bel Air Coupe Mirrors New Styling

Longer, lower "in motion" emphasis on design of Chevrolet's three series of passenger cars for 1957 is evident in this view of the new Bel Air all speeds. There is no feeling of "shift".

Turboglide incorporates an unusual hill retarder, one of many new safe-driving improvements on the latest Chevrolets. The retarder aids braking on steep downgrades. With larger glass area, surer traction, stronger frames and a re-design of steering wheel and instrument panel to reduce possible injuries on abrupt stops, the cars set new standards of safety.

In eye-appeal, the 1957 Chevrolets differ strikingly from the 1956 models. While two and one-half inches have been added to overall lengths, the horizontal sweep of new styling motif gives the impression that the car is even longer than its 200 inches. All bodies are lower, with a reduction of an inch and a half in height of the cowl and substantially increased windshield areas.

Common to the design of all the passenger cars is a rugged front end that combines a massive guard and bumper ensemble with an aluminum grille screen and inset parking lamps. Lance-shaped windsplits on the hood add a nice touch of modernity. However, most of the duplication in the appearance between the three series ends here. Chevrolet again offers exclusive exteriors and interiors in each of its series.

On the seven bodies in the Bel Air series, for instance, a lean chromium spear extends rearward from the headlamp, spreading gracefully downward to the bumper and also branching upward as a rear quarter molding. The area encompassed by the diverging line of the spear may be two-toned to conform with the body roof color or fitted with an optional panel of rolled aluminum. Two-Ten models, eight in number, have a single downswept lance molding from front to rear. One-Fifty side moldings on four body models extend downward from the sash and then horizontally across the rear fenders.

A variety of sparkling new colors in combination with the body selections furnishes the customer with 460 choices in the appearance of the Chevrolet he buys. Interiors, marked by rich upholstery in nylon cloth and plastics, have been completely re-fashioned. Seats have added comfort and are of an attractive slender Gothic form. Easily read instruments are sheltered under a voce, with all control knobs recessed as a safety measure. Other body highspots include a new ventilation system that has inlets under the headlamp hoods and supplies up to 22 per cent more air.

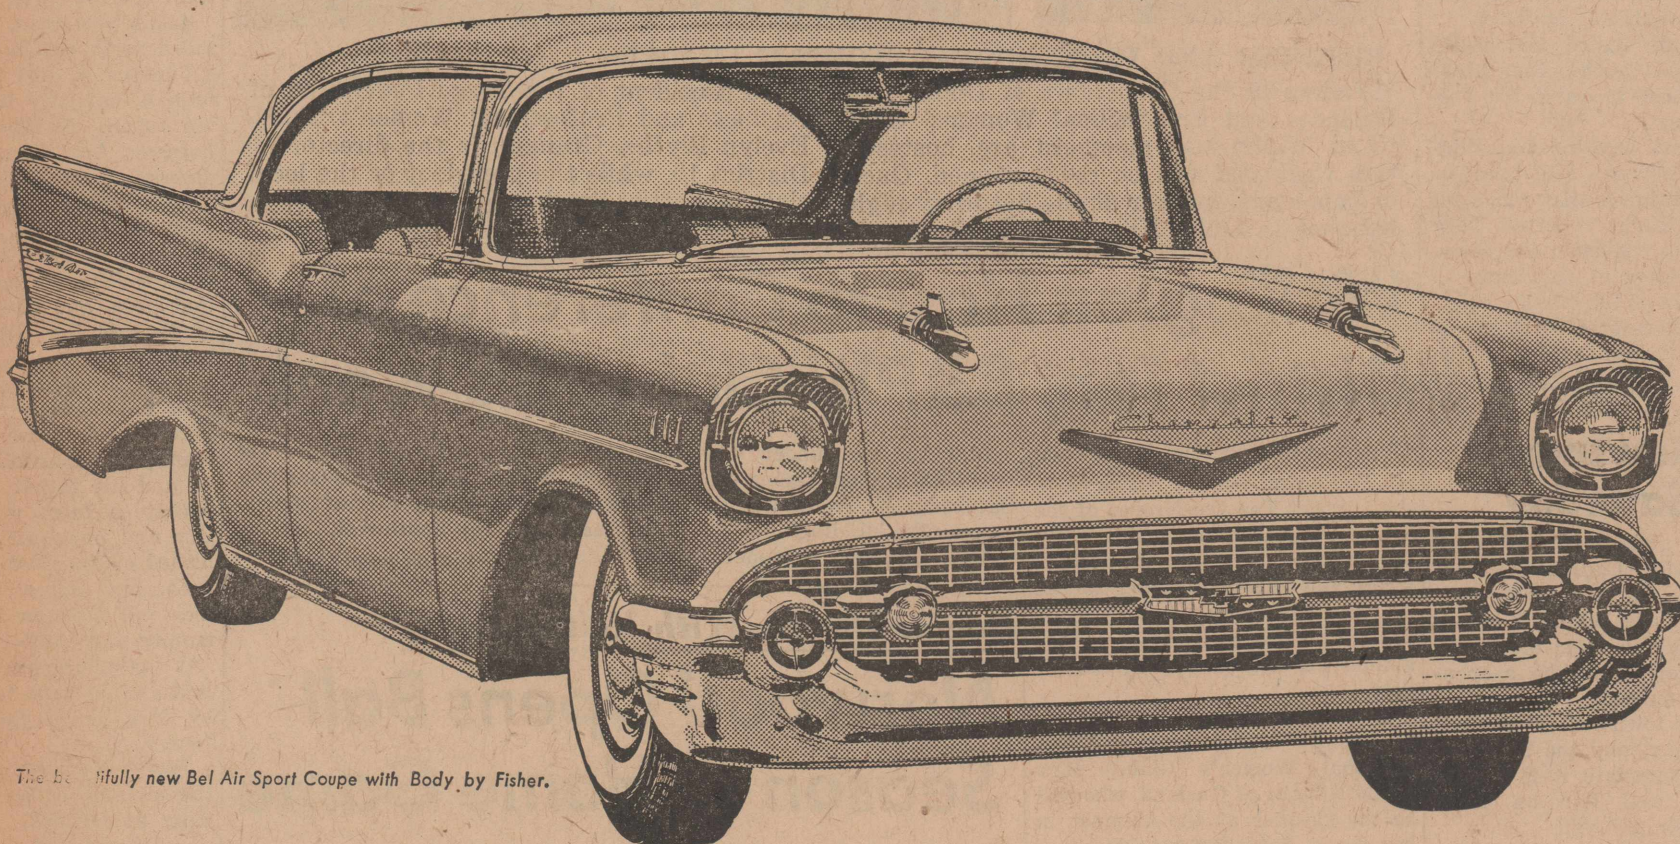

To power its 1957 line, Chevrolet will build one six and four new V8s ranging in output from 140 horsepower for the six to a sensational one horsepower per cubic inch of displacement for the Corvette V8. The Corvette engine develops 283 horsepower with the Ramjet fuel injection system.

Several instances of engineering progress are evident in the new chassis. Ram's horn exhaust manifolds aid engine breathing. Fourteen inch wheels and lower pressure tires (22 pounds) further riding comfort and safety through greater traction. Crankshaft bearings are wider, longer wearing. Front suspensions and shock absorbers benefit from modifications.

Vehicle braking improves with a finer facing material that is Without these community facilities around it, a home would be a pretty bleak and lonely sort of place, no matter how fine a house it might be.

Without facilities for the education and enlightenment of our children; without the stores and service establishments upon which we rely for many of our daily needs . . . and for all of our emergency needs; and without the jobs that are created by trade in the community . . . without these, not many of us could, or would want to live here, even in the finest of homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Johnson, Married On October 6, Establish Fort Worth Home

Miss Shirley Marie West was married to Lowell Wayne Johnson Saturday, October 6, at eight o'clock in the evening, in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Weldon W. West, 1025 West Beddell, Fort Worth. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Johnson of Samnorwood.

Dr. Arthur E. Travis performed the ceremony as the couple stood beneath an arch entwined with greenery and lilies. Bouquets of white gladiolas on either side completed the decorative arrangement.

Recorded music was played softly during the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street length dress of white lace over satin. Her wait length veil of illusion was held by a pearl tiara, and she carried a bouquet of white gladiolas.

The bride's sister was matron of honor, and wore a dusty pink lace dress over satin. Her bouquet was of matching gladiolas. The best man was Jack Pegram of Fort Worth, uncle of the groom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. West chose a blue lace dress over taffeta, with a blue feather toque. Mrs. Johnson chose a black faille two piece dress with a hat and gloves of mauve. Both had corsages of orchids.

The reception was held on the patio, where the bride's table was covered with a lace cloth over pink, centered with the bride's bouquet. Mrs. E. L. Misenhimer Jr. served the wedding cake and Mrs. A. C.

Decker was at the punch service. Mrs. J. J. Chadwick registered the guests.

As the couple left on their wedding trip to Turner Falls, Oklahoma, the bride was wearing a brown jersey dress with matching accessories. Since returning, they have established their home at 409 West Bowie, Fort Worth.

Mrs. Johnson is a graduate of Paschal High School, Fort Worth, and is employed by Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

The groom was graduated from high school at Samnorwood in 1952 and from Clarendon Junior College. He studied last year at West Texas State College, Canyon.

Out of town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Johnson and Miss Alice Johnson of Samnorwood; Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Decker and son of Shreveport, La.; Mrs. L. L. Gaddis of Marshall, grandmother of the bride.

The children played games, and were given favors of masks, hats, and whistles.

HD Council Hears of 1957 Programs

Money-making projects and their 1957 yearbook were discussed by members of the Home Demonstration Club Council in a meeting October 8 in the office of Miss Kathryn Potter, county home demonstration agent.

Mrs. Jess Deger of the Samnorwood Club told the representatives that the clubs will select six programs this year from a list recommended by the State Home Demonstration Association, including citizenship, a continued study of the problems of teenage delinquency, a study of House Bill No. 23 pertaining to parent liability for delinquent children, a study of the constitutional amendments, civil defense workshop, fire prevention in the home, ways to strengthen community life, and health and safety.

Mrs. Bob Stephenson, council vice-president, was in charge of the meeting, which opened with a parody song, "Pack Up Your Dishes," led by Mrs. W. A. Morrow.

WMU Studies "Japan Advances"

The WMU circles of the First Baptist Church met Monday, October 15, for mission study from the book "Japan Advances."

The Betty Tension circle met with Mrs. Claude Groves, with Mrs. H. B. Lowrie giving the opening prayer. Mrs. Charles Cason taught the mission lesson. Ten members were present, and next meeting of the circle will be with Mrs. Lester Harwell October 22nd.

Mrs. Lucy B. Wells Observes her 89th Birthday at Family Dinner October 10

Mrs. Lucy B. Wells, a pioneer of Collingsworth County, observed her 89th birthday Wednesday, October 10, with members of her family living in Wellington joining in honoring her. Fifty-five of these 89 years have been spent here.

The climax to the day was the surprise birthday dinner in the home of grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. James Sullivan.

The dinner was served buffet style, and ended when the honor guest was presented her birthday cake, decorated with pink roses, and with "89" written across the top. Later she opened the gifts from her family.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Deskins Wells and Henry, Mr. and Mrs. Cameron Beam, Miss Hattie D. Wells, Henry Sullivan and Susan, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Wells, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Horn, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wells and Jennings, and Mr. and Mrs. James Sullivan and Phyllis.

Mrs. Wells was born Lucy Barclay Duke, the daughter of Charles Carroll and Hattie Miller Duke, in Tunica County, Mississippi, on October 10, 1867. She lived there until she was 16 years of age, when she went to Virginia to stay with relatives at Morea, their home on the edge of the campus of the University of Virginia. She attended Oak Lawn School near Charlottesville.

She came to Texas with her parents in the fall of 1884, settling in Jack County. Later they moved to Wise County. As a young woman, Mrs. Wells taught for several years in the schools at Bowie and Cundiff.

She was married to H. C. Wells on April 3, 1893, in Crafton, and they lived there a year before moving to Chico, where they made their home for seven years.

Mr. Wells, a man of vision and enterprise, saw great agricultural and business opportunities in an area then 90 per cent in grass, the southeast Panhandle. He came to Collingsworth county in 1901 and bought land four miles from Wellington.

The following year he brought Mrs. Wells and their oldest daughter to the place to make their home. A year later they moved to Wellington, where she has lived since. In 1907, Mr. and Mrs. Wells built the large and comfortable home at the east edge of Wellington and in June 1957, she will have lived in that house 50 years.

Her husband became one of the early-day merchants and livestock raisers of the Wellington area, and a few years after coming he became one of the founders of the Wellington State Bank, established to serve the needs of the growing area. A grandson now serves on the board of directors. Mr. Wells served as an officer of the bank until his death in 1918.

At that time, Mrs. Wells took over the management of their land and business interests, and continued actively in this capacity until only a few years ago.

Mrs. Wells is not a woman who looks to the past, but on occasion she delights the younger members of her family with stories of Wellington when she came, with only ten business houses and two of these operated in half-dugouts. Lumber for residences, she recalls, had to be hauled from Quanah, as did the groceries and coal. Later freight wagons made regular hauls from Memphis.

The Wellington Leader

Amendment 7 Important . . . an Editorial

Some of the constitutional amendments have been well publicized due to the activities of certain well organized and worthwhile groups. But there is one most important one which seems to have been lost in the fine print as far as adequate publicity is concerned.

The Leader would like to call the attention of its readers to amendment No. 7. This is the amendment that would revise our system of dealing with the mentally ill.

Here is a startling fact. Texas is the only state in the nation which still retains the mandatory jury trial in commitment trials of the mentally ill. Mississippi was the last state to change its laws and that was as far back as 1948.

The amendment will pave the way for a New Mental Health Code in Texas, which will be submitted to the Legislature if it passes.

It will provide new safeguards against the "railroading" of a sane person into a mental hospital. The diagnosis of mental illness is a medical problem; but under our antiquated and barbarous law a person can be committed to a mental institution by a jury of laymen without the benefit of medical testimony.

Amendment Seven will not deprive any citizens of any rights he now has. Instead it will add immeasurably to his protection.

The new code will also make it a crime to attempt to have another person wrongfully committed. Apparently that is not a crime in Texas — yet how more criminal could any crime be.

Remember Amendment Seven on November 6.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

The Wellington Skyrockets will play their first conference game here Friday night. This is the first time in years that conference play has started so late in the season. However, every game from now on will be a conference game. Wellington fans will consider the season a success if the Rockets can just beat the Bobcats.

The Paducah Post published a story last week about sorghum grass that was released by their county agent. It seemed misleading to this writer after what he has observed about the grass. In one place it said the grass would not go through the winter. There are patches here that have gone through three winters and others two. The story also said that cattle did not like it. Too many people here have seen cattle, horses and hogs eating it in preference to other proven feeds to believe that; but the story is harmful when read by people who have never seen the grass growing. John Coleman says that evidently the county agent had it mixed up with a grass from Argentina, and has invited both the county agent and the editor up to Wellington to see the grass in the fields. The fact that the grass has been recognized both for the soil bank and for conservation purposes is evidence that it is a desirable grass.

Anytime that something new and desirable is introduced and advertised, you expect some counter propaganda from growers of other seed; but you do not expect it form a county agent unless he is sure of his facts. Obviously the Cottle County agent has not made a very intensive study of the grass that is being grown here. He should accept John's invitation to come up and see it.

Crossroads Report

Dear Editor:

I note that you newspapers publish letters to the editor every once in a while with a line down at the bottom which say "name withheld by request".

My outspoken neighbor says he don't believe in unsigned letters or secret ballots, on account of if he was ashamed of what he writes or how he votes, he wouldn't do it.

But these publicity fugitives may be pretty smart after all. Lots of trouble can be got into by just being reckless with your name, and getting it on things like petitions, committees, and installment notes.

I see where it is being pointed out again this year that if a citizen don't vote, he hasn't got any right to complain about the kind of government he gets.

I guess this is right, and lots of people set great store by this right to find fault with the Powers.

But my promise-weary neighbor says it's an over-rated privilege. Most of the government features that he don't like are getting worse all the time, in spite of he has always been careful to renew his bellyacher's license at every election.

I note that people are still at work thinking up bright new safety slogans to put on windshield stickers.

If these clever little quips do away with reckless driving, and wisecracks turn out to be the key to the Presidency, maybe we ought to turn our sloganers loose on some other problems.

Lennon Attends Science Study

AUSTIN — Methods of enriching science and mathematics instruction are being studied by more than 600 Texas teachers at a University of Texas conference this week (Oct. 4-6).

Small groups are considering the conference theme, "Improving Laboratory Instruction," as applied to science and mathematics classes from kindergarten through college.

Acting as consultants to the discussion groups are outstanding teachers and businessmen interested in furthering science education. The consultants include T. E. Lennon of Dodson. A former Wellington teacher also is included, Mrs. Evelyn Lowrie, now high school algebra teacher at Crosbyton.

over the walls in the U.S. Foreign Aid Department, saying "the dollar you're giving away may be your own".

I see where the Republicans are rejoicing over the news that the average U.S. family income is now over $5500 a year.

It was a tough fight, but the bureaucrats finally got it fixed so millions of wives had to quit playing bridge and chit-chat and go to work on this national project to raise family incomes.

But if they want to get the average much higher, there is going to have to be a drive to eliminate pregnancy so all wives can devote their full time to bringing home paychecks.

It looks like the noted Republican-vote getter, Mr. Harry Truman, is fixing to campaign some for Candidate Stevenson whether invited or not.

My tender-hearted neighbor says he knows just how embarrassing this may be to Mr. Stevenson, and offers the Presidential candidate his sympathy.

He once got in a predicament sort of like that, when he was trying to negotiate a little line of credit down at the grocery store and the biggest deadbeat in town happened to come along and insisted on putting in a good word for him.

My preaching neighbor is kind of worried about the tough competition which he is now running up against in his line of business.

His troubles, though, ain't with other preachers offering, say, a fancier Heaven-for-less repentance. It's the politicians who are causing people to lose interest in his proposition.

GATE- CLOSERS

Dear Friends

A farmer friend of ours paid Humble's field men a fine compliment recently.

He said, "There's one thing about you Humble people, you close gates."

Well, of course we do.

All of us at Humble want the good will of the folks with whom we do business. And among those folks, the farmers and ranchers who lease their land to us for exploration and production are right at the top of the list.

In fact, you farmers are partners with us in the development of a vital natural resource. If our efforts are successful then everyone involved benefits.

Keeping the gates closed and the fences mended—things like that are the least we can do.

We know. A lot of us grew up on farms and ranches.

A CITIZEN'S GREAT POWER

A candidate for Governor in a Southern state recently won the nomination of his party — and virtually certain election — with a vote total that was considerably less than half of the total of legal voters in the state. And the number of legal voters was less than half of the total eligible voters. So the Governor will serve as the choice of a comparatively small percentage of the state's citizenry.

If his political principles and acts do not please the non-voting 75 per cent of the citizenry, they will not be entitled to complain. By not voting they forfeited (1) the right of the ballot, (2) the right to self-government, and (3) the right to complain about government they don't like. This situation is typical of the apathy of a big percentage of the American citizenry. In the nation as a whole and counting all political elections — local, state and national — an average of only about 20 per cent of the voters vote regularly.

FOUR OUT OF TEN

The Presidential election of 1952 set an all-time record when not quite 60 per cent of the adult population voted. However, in the average city block of ten homes this would mean that four homes, or four families, didn't appreciate their freedom and their prosperity sufficiently to study the candidates and the issues and then vote. Lack of voting means just that — for our freedom and our economic progress in America depends on the kind of government we have.

What causes this apathy of our American citizens toward politics and voting? There are many causes. The most prevalent basic cause is a lack of understanding of the principles of the American system, what makes it tick, its incomparable advantages and the indispensable role of the citizen in the unique American system of government. Another cause, of course, is the failure of so many citizens to assess the true value of individual freedom. They have never lived under the regimentation of a Socialist government or in a dictatorship or police state. And they have not bothered to investigate what life is like under such conditions.

VOTE DOESN'T COUNT

Millions of citizens do not vote because they feel that their individual vote would be insignificant in the total, would not change the outcome — so why bother? This attitude continues to be widespread in spite of the dramatic instances of close votes in recent years. For instance the 1952 presidential vote in Kentucky was 495,729 for Stevenson, 495,029 for Eisenhower. Just 700 votes decided Kentucky's choice for President of the United States. Seven hundred people who felt their vote would be insignificant and didn't vote could have

Every Norwood High School Boy A Future Farmer

Every boy in the Samnorwood high school this year is a paid member of the Future Farmers chapter, Advisor Frank Claiborn said this week, as the chapter year got well under way.

This means, he pointed out, that each of these 51 members is enrolled in the school's vocational agriculture courses, or has been enrolled in them and is eligible to participate in the FFA program of work.

One member, Rudy Tate, is area reporter, and another, Harvey Pat Bradley, is district treasurer. Chapter officers include Bradley, president; Tate, vice-president; Billy Conner, secretary; David Lindley, reporter; Lonnie Ferrell, treasurer; and Alva Clark, sentinel. Claiborn is advisor.

Initiation of green hands into the chapter was held recently. Receiving this degree were Paul Benton, Billy Colson, Jack Seymour, Guy Newkirk, Kenneth Martindale, Aubrey Loftis, Arthur Taylor, Jerry Webb, Butch Reynolds, Don Hill, and Jackie Boyd.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Bishop and Mr. and Mrs. Oran Starkey and Gary were in Amarillo Sunday evening to attend the closing services of an evangelistic meeting at the Summit Ave. Baptist Church, in which Rev. Howard Jones, former Wellington pastor, did the preaching.

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Hubbard were in Canyon Friday, to get Kay, and from there they went to Lubbock to visit in the home of Mr. Hubbard's brother, Mr. and Mrs. Loy Hubbard, and they also attended the West Texas State and Lubbock Tech football game.

James Glascock of Abilene was a visitor here during the week-end.

Duncan Top Rusher For Red Raiders

LUBBOCK.—On the doubtful list at the season's start, quarterback Buddy Hill of Lubbock leads Texas Tech in three statistical departments prior to the Red Raiders' fourth game, with West Texas State last week.

Top rusher is fullback Doug Duncan of Wellington, who has netted 72 yards on 17 tries for a 4.5 average. Next best runner is quarterback Don Williams of Graham, with 24 carries good for 62 yards.

Hill, slowed earlier by a knee operation last spring, has accounted for more than a third of the Red Raiders' 457 yards netted to date in three losses. He has gained 143 yards on 9 completions of 25 passes, and added 14 more running to produce a total offense mark of 157 yards.

What put the magic
in the new kind of FORD?

The new Ford Fairlane 500 (118-inch wheelbase). Longer, lower, larger than many medium-priced cars, yet lower in price than most of them!

The roof got lower. And it's designed to let you make the easy entries and graceful exits you've always known.

The body got quieter. It's the strongest body built for a low-priced car. No car in Ford's field has such generous sound-proofing.

The room got bigger. There's head room to spare for a tycoon-type hat. There's real stretch-out leg room, too.

The lines got sweeter. They have the Touch of Tomorrow. Each graceful contour says, "Let's go!"

The style got smarter. With this new-look Ford you have a car that belongs anywhere! All Fairlane models look like hardtops.

The value got greater... the price is still Ford-low.

FHA Expands Credit Service to Farmers

Recent changes in the laws governing Farmers Home Administration will enable the agency to serve the credit needs of a larger number of farm families, Walter T. McKay, state director, said recently.

The expanded credit services are the best yet devised to help farmers and ranchers through the worst drought in Texas history, McKay said.

The new law provides broader authority to assist family-type farmers with loans to improve and operate their farms. It also authorizes, as a part of the Rural Development program, loans for operating and developing farms where the farmer has part time employment off the farm. Included in the broader authority are loans for refinancing existing debts and an increase in the maximum amount that can be advanced for operating loans.

All county office staffs of the agency have been brought up to date on these changes at meetings held throughout the state, and began operating under the new authorities and policies Sept. 4.

Types of loans which can now be made include:

1. Operating loans to full-time farmers.

The amount of each operating loan made by the Farmers Home Administration is based on the needs of the applicant and his ability to pay. In addition there is a ceiling on the total indebtedness of each operating loan.

In the past the maximum amount that a borrower could be indebted was $10,000. Normally, the credit needs of a borrower can be met within such a ceiling. However under the new law when a borrower needs additional credit because of the type of farming operations which he proposes to carry out, loan may be made up to a total debt ceiling of $20,000. This new law also increased from 7 to 10 years the period during which additional credit can be extended in hardship cases when the inability of the borrower to repay his indebtedness within 7 years was due to causes beyond his control.

Operating loans are used for the purchase of equipment, livestock, or to refinance debts owed on equipment and livestock, and for fertilizer, seed and other farm and home operating expenses needed to carry out efficient farming operations on family type farms. Interest is at the rate of five per cent, and these loans are repayable over periods of up to 7 years.

2. Farm ownership loans. These loans are made for the purchase, enlargement, or development of family type farms, and to refinance existing debts for farmers who have adequate real estate security but who are unable to meet present credit obligations and need credit on more favorable terms.

Payments are scheduled according to the ability of the borrower to repay, up to 40 years. Insured loans are made from funds provided by private lenders. The loans bear 3 1/2 per cent interest, plus a one per cent insurance charge. In the past, the agency has only refinanced existing real estate debt, and then only when the refinancing was incidental to the making of a real estate loan for purchase or improvement of family type farms.

3. Farm Housing Loans. These are made for the construction and repair of farm houses and other farm buildings, including farmstead water supplies. Interest is 4 per cent on the outstanding principal, and repayments may be scheduled up to 33 years with the loan secured by a deed of trust on the borrower's farm. This loan program was reactivated in May of this year.

4. Soil and Water Conservation Loans. Made to carry out measures for soil conservation, water development, conservation and use and farm drainage. Individuals can borrow up to $25,000 for these purposes. Interest and insurance charges are 4 1/2 per cent with repayments scheduled according to the borrowers ability to repay, up to 20 years.

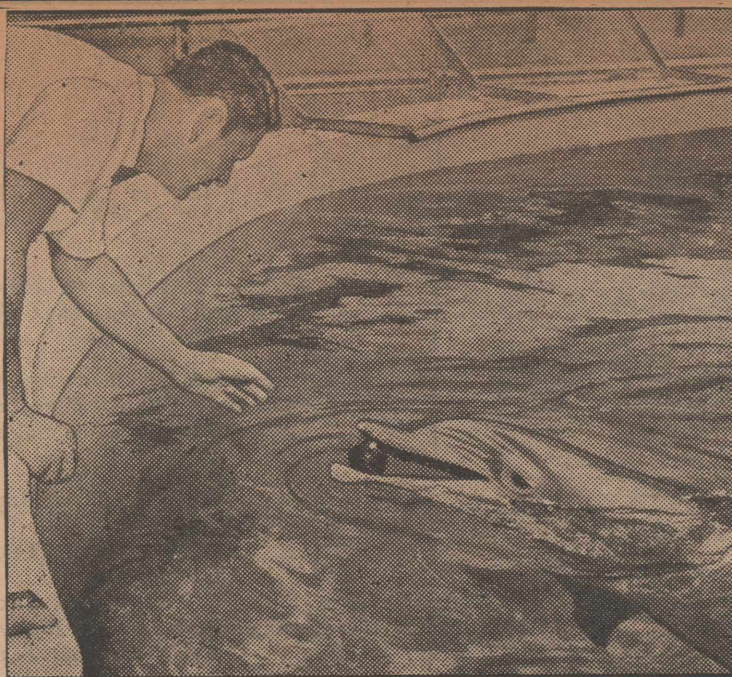

5. Loans to part-time farmers. These are designed to help farmers in areas designated for the Rural Development program, who are unable to obtain enough land resources to develop full time farms. Loans may be made for operating and developing less than family type farms, if the applicants are established bona-fide farmers who have historically resided on farms and depend on farm income for their livelihood, and who are conducting substantial farming operations and spending a major portion of their time farming. Such operators must have dependable sources of outside income. When such loans are made for operating expense, they bear interest at five per cent and are repayable over periods up to 7 years. Loans for real estate development bear interest of 4 1/2 per cent and are repayable over periods of up to 40 years.

6. Special livestock loans. Initial loans of this type will be available until July 14, 1957, and loans to indebted borrowers can be made until July 14, 1959. Such loans are made to help established producers of cattle, sheep and goats to maintain their normal operations. Loans are made for replacement livestock and for purchase and production of feed and for other operating expense. Interest is five per cent and loans are repayable in one to three years. They are not made to pay existing debts.

7. Emergency loans. These are made to enable farmers to continue normal operations but not to refinance existing indebtedness. They bear interest at the rate of 3 per cent. Ordinarily loans secured by liens on chattel property are scheduled for repayment within one to five years. Loans for crop production are due when the crop is harvested.

8. Great Plains loans. These loans are available only in the 57 West Texas designate counties under the Great Plains special credit program. They are made in the same manner and for all purposes authorized for the making of operating loans, except that under these loans the operator may

Norwood FFA Wins $75 In Prizes At Tri-State Fair

Samnorwood Future Farmers brought home $75 in prize money on dairy stock from the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo recently, Frank Claiborn, vocational ag instructor reported.

The animals were shown in both the open breeders division and the junior division.

Butch Reynolds placed second in the open breeders division with his three-year-old cow; David Lindley was third with his yearling heifer; John Alexander was fourth and Rudy Tate fifth on their junior heifers.

In the junior show, Lindley placed first in the yearling heifer division; Alexander first and Tate second on junior heifers. There is no division for cows in the junior show, Claiborn said.

Collingsworth county is one of the 57 counties in the Great Plains special credit area.

Eligibility for all types of loan assistance available is determined by a three-man county Farmers Home Administration committee. Farmers Home Administration credit supplements but does not replace other sources of credit. Loans are made only when the applicant is unable to obtain credit from private or cooperative sources of credit. While Farmers Home Administration requires less security than is usually required by other lenders, no loan is made unless it appears that the loan can be repaid.

The animals were shown in both the open breeders division and the junior division.

LACE-EZ FAIR—Striking sheath of imported black lace was designed by Luis Estevez, one of the American designers to receive the coveted Coty American Fashion Critics' Award for 1956. Neckline, high in front, plunges to the waist in back, pauses for a bow, then flares out in graceful floating panel of lace. A lace mask completes the costume.

Texans Find Ike Stands For Same Things We Do

A fellow was in our town the other day selling men's suits. He was from St. Louis, and he said he was a manufacturer's representative. Grandpa would have called him a dry goods drummer, and Papa would have referred to him as a traveling salesman. This shows you how things change with time. But actually that fellow from St. Louis was doing just about what the earlier visitors did—trying to sell suits.

You might say that he stayed in the same place but the names went off and left him. Reminded me some of the political situation in Texas.

I was reading a letter in the daily newspaper last week, from a man who said he was going to vote for Eisenhower. "I am a Democrat," he wrote to the editor of the paper, "but I feel like the party has run off and left me."

They grew up believing that a man could live down nearly anything except voting for a Republican. They always voted "er straight, until a good many of them jumped over the traces in '52 and went for Ike.

"I can't figure out what's happened," one of them told me. "Seems like Eisenhower talks like a Democrat and Stevenson talks like a college professor."

The other day this same fellow said: "I think I've got it figured out. Ike stands for the things us Texas Democrats have always stood for. Adlai is too thick with Walter Reuther and that crowd to suit me. I'm going for Ike again."

That's the way with most folks in our town. They decided to give Ike a try at it in '52, and they like the way he has gone about the job. There are some things they wished he'd done a little different, but by and large they think he has made us a fine President. At least all the hometown boys are back from Korea, and as far as we can tell the government is being run honestly.

Sombody asked that Missouri suit salesman how Mr. Truman was getting along, and he said he didn't know. "He isn't in the clothing business any more," he explained. "In fact, as far as I can tell, he is clear out of all kinds of business."

Yours Truly,
Tex

LET'S MEASURE AN OIL WELL

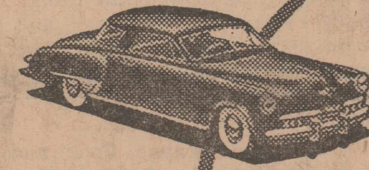

... in West Texas

You can measure an oil well by its depth, by its production, or in any of a number of ways. But the real "measure" of an oil well is to be found in the jobs it creates, in the schools and highways it provides, in the stores, shops and industries it supports... in short, the real measure of an oil well is in the benefits it brings to all the people of an area. The West Texas Utilities Company, too, can be measured in the record it has made in helping the West Texas Oil Industry serve the people of West Texas.

B Rockets Rake In 19-7 Score in Victory Column

Traditional football rivalry begins young, and the Rocket B team victory over the Shamrock Irish B team was sweeter than any 19 to 7 score would indicate.

Richard Tigert, end, scored the first touchdown for Wellington on a pass from Crosby, but it was called back because the Rockets were offside.

Crosby scored the first touchdown to count on a quarterback sneak after a series of gains from the 50 yard line. The try for the extra point was no good.

Once again, Crosby hit Tigert with a spot pass and the Rocket end made a nice run of about 35 yards for pay dirt. Peoples took a handoff for the extra point.

Late in the game, Lockhart caught a pass from Crosby and galloped over the goal line. The extra point try was no good.

Shamrock scored on a long end run. The crowd saw the Rocket Bs finally get to clicking and offensive play was the best yet this season. Defensive play was also good.

The game was hard fought and both sides showed good sportsmanship, Coach Harvey Millsap reported.

Rocket Captains are Billy Lockhart and Clinton Gibbs.

Members of the B team playing against Shamrock were Lonnie Boark, Stanton Trimble, Clinton Gibbs, Benton Wauer, Ray Henry, Denny Harris, Richard Tigert, Cager Wilkins, Kent Peoples, Bruce Crosby, Ernest Peach, Ronnie O'Rear, Benson Long, Danny Ammons, Donny Moore, Dickey Elbert, Mike Rainey, Robert Carter, John Duncan, Bart Younger, Billy Lockhart and James Ammons.

Since this report was made, 20 additional memberships have been sent to state headquarters, giving a total of 107 Curry said.

Rockets Roar To 41-0 Win Over Meek Tigers

By Lyndon Crelia

Wellington's Skyrockets again showed their strength by roaring past the McLean Tigers 41-0 on the Tigers home field last Friday night. Coach Hap Rogers' boys played a fine offensive game, but were just out-gunned by the Rockets in every aspect.

The Rockets jumped out front in the first quarter with a 20-0 lead, and then eased along the rest of the game, but still racking up 21 more points. The Rocket squad all saw plenty of action, with the starting lineup bowing out a considerable amount of the time to let the lesser experienced boys come in to see some action.

First score in the ball game came with fullback Jerry Elbert carrying over for the TD. The drive to pay dirt materialized back on the Tigers own 35 when a fourth down punt play was smothered by the Rockets before it could be gotten off. The Rockets took command of the ball, and after only four short plays the ball landed on the 1 yard line, where Elbert romped through the line and over for the touchdown. Carrol Nunnelley ran the extra point over.

The next score of the game was set up for the Rockets when the hike back to the quarterback missed its mark, and the Tigers finally fell on the ball back on their own 10 yard line. The next play they punted the ball out to the 41 where the Rockets took over. After two first downs were made, the ball had been moved down to the 6 yard line, with quarterback Pat Wilkins, Carroll Nunnelley, and Maxie Tarver all coming through for some fine plays in moving the ball. Elbert, on a handoff from Wilkins, carried over from the 6 for a touchdown. Wilkins ran the extra point across.

Last score in the first quarter came after Jerry Elbert intercepted a pass on the 30 yard line, and the Rockets moved the ball down to the 8 yard line after only two plays. Farris Woods was the carrier this time, going over from the 8 with only 20 seconds left in the quarter. The attempt to run the extra point over failed, and at the end of the first quarter, the score stood 20-0 for the Rockets.

After Tank Forrester's kick was taken on the 30, and the ball went in play in the second quarter, on the first play Hoot Gibson smashed across the McLean line and downed the Tiger quarterback on the Tigers own 10 yard line. This forced the Tigers to punt the ball out, and the ball landed down on the 50 yard line. The Rockets took over and after two plays, Wellington's Charlie Welch got loose, and galloped all the way in to the end-zone with a 46 yard romp. Pat Wilkins ran the extra point over.

The only score in the third quarter came from a drive started on the McLean 40 yard line after a punt return. Aided by a successful pass play and a McLean 15 yard penalty, the Rockets marched down to the 10 yard line where Jerry Elbert took a handoff from Pat Wilkins and went over for th touchdown. Wilkins ran the extra point over.

McLean's Tigers, in a desperate effort to score, were down to the Rockets' 1 yard line in the fourth quarter, only to be stopped short of pay dirt, and forced to yield the ball for failure to make a first down. On the fourth down play a penalty set the ball back to the 10, where the Rockets took over. The Rockets then started another scoring drive that moved the ball 90 yards, and racked up a TD. The scoring play was on the Tigers 20. Tarver took a pitchout from Wilkins, then fired a quick pass to Elbert who romped all the way for the touchdown. Wilkins made the conversion for another point. The final score stood 41-0 for Wellington.

An interesting sidelight to the game Friday night was some of the spectators, a chartered bus loaded with Childress Bobcats who came to see the game, and supposedly to watch the Rockets in action and get ready for this week's Rocket-Bobcat tilt. This will be the first conference game of the season, and promises to be a thriller.

Rev. and Mrs. Cecil Guthrie spent Sunday night with Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Isbell. They left Monday morning for Wichita Falls where they will make their future home.
