Nation Faces Showdown In Labor Crisis

(By The Associated Press)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 9. — This is a week of decision in the nation's strike-troubled steel and coal industries.

There is at least a chance for peace in coal however dim it may be. But there is nothing to indicate such hopes for steel.

More definite is the prospect of walkouts swelling the strike idle to 2,000,000. Aluminum and steel fabricating plants may join the strike parade.

The cost to strikers and industry in the country's first double-header steel-coal walkout in history passes the $400,000,000 mark regardless.

To Resume Negotiations

1. United Mine Worker Chief John L. Wewis and the coal operators go back to the bargaining table Wednesday with orders from the federal government to hurrry up and settle the 21-day-old strike idling 380,000 bituminous diggers.

2. The eight-day-old basic steel strike of 454,000 CIO United Steelworkers threatens to spread to the fabricating companies which employ 500,000 of the union's members. The fabricating contracts start running out Saturday. The fabricators, who make everything from refrigerators to hairpins, but their raw materials from the basic steel companies.

Aluminum Strike Looms

3. A strike at midnight Oct. 17 faces the giant Aluminum Company of America unless it reaches a contract with the steelworkers for its 20,000 workers.

The steelworker demands against steel, the fabricators and aluminum are more or less the same. They want company paid pensions and insurance.

The steelworkers also want a wage increase from Alcoa. The union dropped wage demands against steel after the President's fact finding board vetoed an increase in favor of free insurance and pensions.

Steelworker and CIO President Philip Murray will take a leaf from industry lead U. S. Steel corporation and present his case to the public.

U. S. Steel took full page advertisements in newspapers to explain its stand against a wholly company financed insurance and

Amarillo And Borger Hit By Hard Blows

(By The Associated Press)

LASHING wind, rain and hail storms hit the Panhandle, South Plains and extreme West Texas Sunday night as a cold front sped through the state.

A 60-mile-an-hour gale tore through Borger, in the Panhandle. Police reported it destroyed two houses and outbuildings and disrupted power in the north end of town.

A hard wind, hail and thunderstorm pounded Amarillo, causing much minor property damage.

Twisters Seen Near Pampa

Near Brownfield, about 45 miles southwest of Lubbock, a small twister broke a power pole and line. This left Tahoka and Post in darkness for about half an hour.

Three small twisters were reported squirming through the air near Pampa. No damage was reported from any of them.

Some of the most violent thunderstorms since spring hammered the South Plains with rain and hail and snapped tree limbs over a wide area.

The wind blew so hard at El Paso a circus couldn't raise its big top.

Snow Hits New Mexico

The cold front, advancing eastward from New Mexico, extended from the middle of West Texas into Oklahoma and southern Kansas. A tornado struck the small farm community of Slapout in the Oklahoma Panhandle. One person was reported injured.

By midnight the front had reached the Big Spring area in central West Texas and had passed Lubbock in the South Plains.

It dropped the temperature at Lubbock from 74 degrees to 59 in an hour and a half. On its way to Lubbock, the front knocked Dalhart's reading from a maximum of 83 degrees to 56. Snow pellets and a temperature of 44 degrees were reported in Clayton, N. M., just across the Texas line.

The Weather Bureau said the front would reach the Dallas area by Monday afternoon.

The cold front's temperatures were not severe. The Weather Bureau said the cold air had been hanging over Arizona and New Mexico the past couple of days and drawing its bite from the Pacific.

The front and its accompanying storms spoiled what had started

LIGHTNING OVER LUBBOCK — Violent thunderstorm activity returned to Lubbock and the South Plains Sunday night with brilliant electrical displays lighting up the skies. The thunderstorms swept over the city and surrounding area to the accompaniment of rumbling thunder and almost constant flashes of lightning. Shown above is a spectacular shot taken as one of the brilliant displays flashed in towering thunderheads just to the north of the city about 7 o'clock Sunday night. Twister Snaps Power Line; Mercury Skids

BRILLIANT electrical displays, heavy rains and some hail, a small twister and a cold front joined forces late Sunday afternoon and night to lash the South Plains with some of its most violent thunderstorm activity since last spring.

Rains ranging from hard, brief downpours to 1.50 inches were reported in an arc extending from Lamesa around southwest, west, northwest and north and northeast of Lubbock. Hail was reported at several points and additional damage to cotton crops was feared.

High winds, which pummeled the area throughout the day, accompanied battering rains which struck late in the afternoon. Boiling thunderclouds rode a southwest to northeast path across the area.

Power Line Is Knocked Out

Most violent activity reported in the immediate area was a small twister which struck about one mile east of Brownfield about 5 p. m. The twister, fourth reported in Texas in as many days, snapped an REA power line pole and left Tahoka and Post and smaller communities in the area without electrical service for about 20 minutes. No other damage was reported from the storm which apparently lifted seconds after striking the ground.

Hail damage was reported in the Lockney area last night. And reports of a heavy hailstorm in the Matador vicinity Saturday night revealed that a two-mile wide swath of rich cotton acreage near Matador had been damaged. Estimates of the damage to open cotton ran from 2,000 to 3,000 acres, with losses running up to 90 per cent.

Mercury Takes Sharp Dip

The storm activity was touched off as a cold front moved into West Texas, the Panhandle and South Plains from New Mexico after another cold front coming down from the Rocky Mountain area became stalled.

Temperatures soared to a warm 82 degrees at 3:30 p.m. Sunday and stood at 74 degrees at 6:30 p. m. shortly before the front headed into the area. At 9 p.m., an hour after the front's arrival, the mercury had dropped 15 degrees to 59 and by 12:30 a.m. today had plunged to 53, a drop of 21 degrees from the 6:30 reading.

A low of 45 degrees was forecast for this morning, with high 70s the prospect for this afternoon and the low 40's Tuesday morning.

New Cold Front Forecast

Meanwhile, another cold blast was headed toward the Texas Panhandle and was expected to arrive late Wednesday or Thursday with additional unsettled conditions, the Weather Bureau station at Lubbock Municipal airport said.

The rains Sunday were somewhat spotted, heavy in some areas, light in others nearby.

Halfway, west of Plainview, reported an unofficial measurement of 1.50 inches in rainfall there Sunday, and several other communities north of Lubbock reported heavy rainfall.

Lubbock had two showers Sunday night totaling .43 inhes. Wind during the day was strong, with a considerable amount of dust in the air. The Weather bureau station at Municipal airport said the strongest gusts were measured at 38 miles an hour Sunday afternoon. The first measurable rainfall

Market Will Close Today

RETAILERS from all parts of West Texas and eastern New Mexico were expected to continue pouring into Lubbock today for the final day of the Western Wholesale Clothing Markets in the Hilton and Lubbock hotels.

Threatening skies over most of the area cut down the crowd expected Sunday to about 400, still a high average for the market. More distributors and manufacturers than have ever before demonstrated their goods for the market are taking part in this fall's show. Registration figures showed 87 here.

Many Items Shown

As many of the retailers as could find room accommodations were staying over in Lubbock Sunday night in order to be on hand for today's demonstrations, which end at 6 p. m., according to Jim Crook of the Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the market.

No estimates were available on the amount of buying being done by the area store owners, but premarket guesses were that the figure might reach $1,000,000. Some jobbers reported buying a little slower than hoped because wet weather has delayed the cotton harvest and retailers thus have more goods stocked than was thought.

Congress Prepares To Adjourn Session

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9. — The first session of the Democratic 81st Congress headed today toward early adjournment with less than half of President Truman's program written into law.

With leaders seeking a windup this week, the President could count 15 major accomplishments.

Left as unfinished business for the 1950 congressional campaign year were a number of highly controversial proposals among the 22 requests he laid before the present session without getting final action.

Chief of these, of course, is Taft-Hartley repeal. The President got a turn down in both houses on that.

He undoubtedly will revive his request next January. Whether congress does anything about it may depend on how some special elections to fill Senate and House vacancies turn out.

The House has passed a bill increasing the benefits and broadening the base of social security payments. The Senate has approved an aid to education bill. The drive will be on in January to complete action on both measures.

Senate leaders have agreed to take up then as the first order of new business, the House-approved bill repealing the oleo margarine tax.

Mr. Truman undoubtedly will ask Congress again to set up a system of compulsory health insurance. That may provide the biggest fight. The request didn't get to first base this year.

His repeated demand for action on civil rights legislation will get attention of the Senate as soon as it acts next January on the oleo tax.

The civil rights proposals, along with the health insurance plan, are certain to be prime issues in the 1950 campaign for control of Congress.

Anti-Red Parties Lead In Austria

By C. K. HODENFIELD
Associated Press Staff Writer

VIENNA, Monday, Oct. 10.—Two rightwing parties held a majority of the popular vote in Austria's national elections on the basis of unofficial tabulations today. The count covered about half of the country's 4,500,000 registered voters.

Yesterday's election was the first nationwide balloting since 1945.

Chancellor Leopold Figl's People's party had 47 per cent of the more than 2,000,000 votes counted. The strongly anti-Communist Socialists were next with 35.5 per cent and the extreme right wing League of Independents — supported by former Nazis — were third with 11 per cent.

Communists Run Fourth

The Communists trailed in fourth place with 5.5 per cent.

Thus in returns so far the anti-Communist parties on both the left and the right held a large majority.

In the districts where counting has been completed, the People's party won 30 seats in the lower

Trade Barriers Cut By Western Nations

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9. — The United States today proclaimed a sweeping western world agreement for the elimination of trade barriers in the interest of a united economic front against the Communist east.

On Monday, at Lake Success, specific agreements and schedules for mutual tariff concessions involving 33 countries will be deposited with the United Nations and made public.

10 New Countries Join

The United States, under the complex agreement which involved over 130 separate negotiations between representatives of pairs of countries, gains some $250,000,000 in trade concessions on a variety of commodities.

These concessions come from 10 new countries acceding to the western world trade pattern. They are Denmark, the Dominican republic, Finland, Greece, Haiti, Italy, Liberia, Nicaragua, Sweden and Uruguay.

The commodities involved include grains, fruits, meat, tobacco, cotton, automotive vehicles, petroleum products, motion pictures, agricultural machinery, wood and paper products, dairy products and other items.

Nine Killed In Texas Accidents

(By The Associated Press)

Nine persons died violent deaths in Texas during the weekend—eight in traffic accidents.

Bell county alone counted four traffic fatalities.

John M. Clary, 38, of Freeport, was killed early Sunday when his car and a truck collided near Rogers in Bell county. The truck driver was not injured.

Odessa Negro Killed

Late Saturday, Clarence Haynes, 35, a negro from Odessa, was killed when struck by a car while walking along the highway near Salado, nine miles south of Belton. No charges were filed by investigating officers.

The other two Bell county fatalities were Mrs. Clay House, 39, of Austin and Orlando Donald Stevlingson, 48, a civilian employe of Camp Hood. They were killed early Saturday in a headon auto collision near Salado. Mrs. House's husband was critically injured and Lt. John M. Battle of Camp Hood less seriously hurt.

The ninth person killed in the state, Texas & Pacific railroad engineer O. W. Cooper of Golden, was scalded to death when his engine and an empty passenger car overturned. The wreck occurred Saturday in South Dallas.

WANTED ON WEST COAST

Two Sought As Robbery Suspects Are Caught Here

TWO men wanted by West Coast officials in connection with robbery charges there were arrested by city patrolmen in northwest Lubbock early Sunday, less than six hours after Los Angeles authorities had broadcast a pickup order for them.

The pair, twin-brothers Edward Lee and Earl Leo Rader, 25, had been sought throughout this general area for several days. Attention shifted to Lubbock when it was reported they had been seen in Hobbs, N. M., late Saturday.

Complete details of the crime charged to the men in California were not known here, but the broadcast order received by city police said the men should have in their possession a quantity of money and several money bags.

Strong Box Is Found

Sheriff's officers said last night, however, only a strong-box, as yet unopened, had been found in the car driven by the brothers. They reportedly had $323 in cash on their persons when taken into custody.

Earl Leo Rader was arrested in company with a young woman, at College Ave. and North Third about 5:30 a. m. by Patrolmen Hugh Hayes and Jeff Earthman, who recognized the car as that driven by the suspects.

When Rader refused to answer questions concerning his brother, the officers "shook down" the car and found a wallet containing a Lubbock address.

Officers Bruce A. Dorman and Luke Avery were then dispatched

Auto, Boat Collide To Snarl Sunday Traffic In Town

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—A hit-and-run motorist collided with a boat on a suburban Alexandria, Va., street today, leading to a helter-skelter chase that tied Sunday traffic into knots.

The boat — a speedster — was being towed on wheels by autoist Chester Crotts, of Silver Springs, Md., at the time it was bumped by the hit-and-run driver.

Crotts gave chase, aided by his brother, James, who followed in another auto hauling a trailer.

The chase at times got up to 70-miles-an-hour before the fugitive crashed into a hardware store window, scattered dolls and toys into the street.

Police said the driver scrambled out, and fled on foot to a swamp three blocks away, where he dived into a shallow pool. He was arrested.

The charge was reckless driving.

Four Twisters Strike Midwest, Southwest

(By International News Service)

At least four twisters struck in the Midwest and Southwest Sunday, reportedly injuring one person in Oklahoma and drenching Kansas City, Mo., with a sudden deluge.

The tornadoes added to the nation's freakish weather scene where hundreds were reported marooned by western mountain snow and thousands sweltered in a Midwestern heat wave.

None of the four twisters did extensive damage. All reportedly were localized and died out soon after their first dip to the ground. One of the twisters struck Kansas City shortly after dusk. Police said it limited its destruction to about two blocks in the southeast part of the city where a home was unroofed, a porch ripped off another residence and shade trees uprooted.

Several power lines were snapped and low lying sections of the city flooded. Another twister ripped across the Rucker farm west of Hutchinson, Kan., levelling farm buildings and killing chickens. A third snapped a power line near Brownfield, Texas.

A fourth tornado struck the small farm community of Slapout, 50 miles northwest of Woodward, in the Oklahoma Panhandle about 7 p. m. Sunday. One person was reported taken to a Woodward hospital.

Chicago had a record high of 85.4 while hundreds of persons remained marooned in Idaho in a sudden snow storm. Rescue parties were sent out into the area.

Mahon Sees No Air Force Cut

By JAMES LEE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9. — The House was expected Monday to insist on funds for a 58-group Air Force despite Navy charges that USAF's major weapon, the B-36 bomber, is overrated.

Rep. Mahon (D-Tex) who heads House conferees on the defense appropriations bill for the current fiscal year, contended that Navy protests that its own air arm is being scuttled by defense planners would not affect House sentiment for the 58 groups.

He predicted that the House would vote down a Senate proposal that funds for only 48 groups be provided. Senate and House conferees are deadlocked over the issue.

Radar Development Claimed

The vote on the House floor was expected to come shortly after Navy spokesmen resume their bitter protests in testimony before the House Armed Services committee against the role delegated them by Defense Secretary Johnson and other Pentagon planners.

Lt. Comdr. Edward W. Harrison, an electronics specialist, was scheduled to tell the House group that radar developments since the

CIO Takes Stand In Support Of Olds

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9. (AP)—The CIO accused the oil industry today of trying to oust Leland Olds from the Federal Power commission in an effort to raise natural gas prices.

Philip Murray, president of the labor organization, lined up with the Truman administration in its desperate drive to obtain Olds' Senate confirmation for a third term.

"The issue is oil," Murray said in a letter to senators who will vote this week on the presidential appointment.

"If the oil industry succeeds in removing Olds from the power commission, it will have gained a major victory in its campaign to escape federal regulation of the price it charges for natural gas.

"The stakes are enormous. Through increased prices of gas at least $8,000,000,000 will be added to the value of oil companies' known gas reserves. Consumers will pay hundreds of millions of dollars a year in higher gas bills."

Four Persons Burn To Death In Plane Crash At Cheyenne

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Oct. 9. (AP)—Striking a knoll, a Slick Airways cargo plane crashed tonight in an attempted landing at the Cheyenne airport. Searchers said there were four bodies in the burned wreckage.

The plane was attempting a landing at Cheyenne after weather conditions were reported too bad at Denver for airport operations. The weather here was misting but visibility was reported satisfactory at the time of the crash (6:45 p.m. MST).

Only one section of the plane was burned.

Democratic Nations Urged To Pressure Reds For Atom Curbs

By JOHN BOOTH
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9. — Congress top spokesman on atomic energy called today upon Democratic nations for a "supreme effort" to convince Russia by moral pressure that A-bomb war spells world disaster.

Sen. McMahon (D-Conn), chairman of the congressional atomic energy committee, forecast that the Soviets will make a fresh plea for world disarmament. He said:

"They would like nothing better than to fog up the opinions of the people of the world on this question and divert (attention) from the facts.

"They do not intend—or so far they have not intended—to meet the problem created by atomic energy."

Meanwhile, Senate majority leader Lucas, Ill., told a county-wide Democratic rally in Illinois that the administration is aware "of the awful possibilities" that the nation may be "in the final stage before the colossal war and the disintegration of society . . ."

Lucas accused some Republicans of playing "gutter politics" by interpreting President Truman's announcement that Russia has the atomic bomb as a partisan move.

Senator Connally Denounces Navy And Air Force Squabble

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9. (AP)—Senator Connally (D-Tex) said tonight the squabble between the Navy and the Air Force over their roles in the defense setup "is not a healthy thing, either here or abroad."

Connally, who is chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations committee, told a reporter that the public bickering has "the effect somewhat" of weakening this nation's prestige in international affairs.

The Texan took no sides in the dispute, currently the subject of hearings before the house armed services committee. But he said he hopes it will be settled quickly.

SENSATIONAL HEARINGS CONTINUE

Top Defense Officials To Take Stand As Navy Presses Charges

BY BARNEY LIVINGSTONE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9. — The Navy brings its biggest guns to bear this week against Pentagon defense doctrines in a now-or-never battle to preserve its full sea and air power.

It marshalled before the House Armed Services committee such old sea dogs as Fleet Admirals W. F. (Bull) Halsey, Ernest J. King and Chester Nimitz to nail down grave contentions that the nation is being put on the wrong security track.

The committee is investigating explosive unification troubles within the armed services, and charges by Navy men that it is not getting a square deal from a "landlocked" Pentagon high command.

It was certain that Secretary of Defense Johnson and other top service chiefs will have some explaining to do before the sensation-packed hearings are over.

Crusty Chairman Carl Vinson (D-Ga.), confirmed today earlier predictions that Johnson will be called before the committee. Vinson already has proposed curbs on his powers.

And with Johnson probably will be called Air Force chiefs. They will be given a chance to answer

Arizona Endurance Fliers Plan To Halt Flight Today

YUMA, Ariz., Oct. 9. (INS)—Endurance fliers Bob Woodhouse and Woody Jongeward radioed tonight that they would try to stay in the air until 3 p. m. tomorrow and then would land.

At that time they will have been in the air for 1123 hours and 45 minutes, a new record for light planes by 115 hours and 45 minutes.

They had hoped to stay up until Wednesday, but their left magneto went out at noon today and they decided it would be best to land.

To keep the load light the plane is being refueled every three hours in the hope that the engine will last until 3 p. m. tomorrow.

Refugee Says School Fun In America Is Wonderful

By VIVIAN BROWN
Associated Press Staff Writer

IN many, many schools throughout the land there are refugee students. Some of them have never seen a basketball game, never have chewed bubble gum and know very little English.

What every boy and girl should ask is: "What am I doing to make this newcomer feel at home?" They should not ostracize their foreign classmates because they do not react to ideas in the American manner.

Annette Kohn, 15 years old, of Kansas City, Mo. who came to this country three years ago after roaming Europe, offers this advice:

"Make them try to forget what they have been through by getting their minds on other things. It is hard to make them forget, because no one who hasn't seen it knows how terrible a concentration camp can be. But after they have been here for awhile, it will not be so difficult for them to talk about their experiences."

At first, Annette said, it was difficult for her to tell of the things she had seen, even though her new friends were interested. Now, however, she doesn't mind.

When Annette arrived here in 1946 she didn't know a word of English, although she spoke German, Dutch and some French. Now, however, her English is perfect. She had attended eleven schools prior to her entry in Paseo High School, Kansas City, Mo. where she now is a freshman.

One thing that has impressed Annette is the prospect of so many girl friends. She says:

"In Europe a girl usually has one or two close friends. But here everyone is friendly and you all do things together." She loves her new life and it is difficult for her to decide what she likes best about it though it is "just about everything. The people, the food, the clothes, the movies . . ."

She loves school fun and thinks that in Europe students are more serious whereas here "there are the dances, football games, plays and other things."

Annette was born in Nuernberg, Germany, but while she was still a baby her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kohn, moved to Amsterdam, Holland. Annette was eight when Holland was invaded and her family had to flee to Belgium using false papers . . The underground worker who accompanied them was held and sent to a concentration camp.

The family, including her little brother, parents and grandmother, went to Brussels under assumed names. Her father went underground, her mother worked at her profession — nursing. Her grandfather had been taken to a concentration camp, and was not seen again.

After the liberation of Belgium the family returned to Holland and in 1946 sailed to America. Annette says:

"When we sailed to New York it wasn't anything like I thought it would be. I just imagined tall buildings, nothing else."

They stayed in New York about two weeks and it was on a subway train that Annette saw her first bubble gum. She says:

"A little boy was chewing it, and it looked so funny we just laughed and laughed until people must have thought we were crazy. But I chew it all the time, now."

The family went to Kansas City because they had friends there. Annette plans to finish high school and then take about two years of college before she goes into either nurses training or a school of commercial art.

Student To Be Honored

Glenda Tally, a student at Roosevelt school, will be among the 50 outstanding Four-H club girls and boys, Future Farmers and Future Homemakers to be honored by the State Fair of Texas with a banquet in the Texas room of Baker hotel Friday, Oct. 14, at 7 p. m.

The 1949 State Fair will present honor awards to the group for outstanding achievements during the year. They will be introduced to Texas business leaders attending the Fair banquet in the Crystal ballroom.

Approximately 75,000 farm girls and boys from all over the state will attend the fair Saturday, Oct. 15, Rural Youth day. The purpose of the day is to help rural youth to become better citizens. Fair officials feel that this can be achieved by increasing their knowledge of the latest trends in agriculture and by encouraging them to profit through the experiences of others.

Music Credit Rules Listed

A plan for awarding credit in applied music in Lubbock Senior High school has been formulated and examination dates have been set. Theory exams are scheduled for Jan. 28, 1950, and performance exams are to be April 29, 1950.

Two credits in applied music may be awarded in accordance with the following rules:

One unit to be awarded in the tenth grade upon satisfactory completion of the tenth grade theory and performance examinations. One unit to be awarded in the twelfth grade upon satisfactory completion of the twelfth grade theory and performance examinations. Twelfth grade students who have passed Music Theory 21-22 in the high school or who are satisfactorily pursuing the course need not take the twelfth grade theory examination.

A student may earn either or both of these credits. A student may take the twelfth grade credit without having had tenth grade credit. The tenth grade credit will be accepted without the necessity of completing the twelfth grade credit.

Students are to be enrolled in the principal's office before Nov. 1 as to grade in school and the particular exams they are to take.

Teachers enrolling students for the first time must present their Applied Music Certificates from the Music Division of the State Department of Education.

The chairman of examinations shall be the coordinator of music of the Lubbock Public schools.

Selznick Seeks To Purchase Film Rights On 'Streetcar Named Desire' For Vivien Leigh

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
INS Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 9. — Just when you think David Selznick is yesterday's news, up he pops with a hot news story. He went to Manchester, England, to see "Streetcar Named Desire." In less time than it takes to write this, he was in touch with his former wife, Irene Selznick, with an offer for the film rights for Vivien Leigh.

Vivien, a hit in England on the stage in "Streetcar," assured David that if he could get the rights she would like to make it for him. Her greatest picture, "Gone With The Wind," was made in Hollywood with Selznick.

Death Cancels Plans

Buddy Clark, whose gorgeous voice was always heard on the screen from the lips of some movie star, was to have made his debut in "Disc Jockey," as a star on his own, when death cancelled his plans.

Now, Maurice Duke, who is producing "Disc Jockey," which was to have started at RKO in two weeks, will have to make the picture with some other well known singer, and will turn a percentage of the profits over to Buddy's widow.

There's talk that if Frank Sinatra's commitments will permit he may accept the Clark role.

Plunger's Son Plunges

Back from Paris Eugene Frenke brings greetings from Joan Bennett and Walter Wanger. The Wangers are renting a house in Paris. Joan will make "Ballad and the Souree" there for Walter.

Last week I told you that Paul Livermore, son of the Wall Street plunger, Jesse Livermore, is here to make "The Vicious Years" for Anson Bond.

Now young Livermore telephones to say that he is taking a plunge on his own—a matrimonial plunge when he marries Peggy Murray next Thursday.

The bride-to-be has just stepped out of the cast of "Finian's Rainbow" on Broadway and flies to the coast with her mother tomorrow.

Eythe Quits Job

Too bad that "Lend an Ear," which was such a success in New York and did so well in Hollywood, is losing William Eythe all because of a battle. Bill wants more money. Being a co-producer, you might think that Bill could give himself a raise, but his partner, William Katzell and Franklin Gilbert, have outvoted him.

John Beal will take over Bill's role unless he changes his mind about leaving. I shouldn't think with Carol Channing, who stole most of the New York notices, and Yvonne Adair both going into Anita Loos' "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes," this would be a good time for Bill to quit.

The last person Stewart Granger saw before he took off for New York was Arlene Dahl with whom he had dinner at the Beverly Tropics. Stewart took a test for "Quo Vadis" before he planed east. The jury is still out whether or not he will play the lead, but it is 85 per cent set.

Stewart attended the World Series game Saturday, and then left for London to spend a week with his children before he takes off for Nairobi, Africa, to join Deborah Kerr in "King Solomon's Mines."

Brown Hit In London

Mrs. Joe E. Brown sails to join Joe E. in London on October 18, and to spend Christmas with him. He is a terrific hit in "Harvey," and has had to stay longer than the original four weeks, because Sidney Fields is still too ill, following a heart attack, to return to the stage.

The rumor that Clark Gable slipped into Mexico just to see Paulette Goddard wasn't denied by Paulette, but it was by Clark.

Kirk Douglas' latest heartthrob is Frances Raeburn, Kathryn Grayson's sister.

Speaking of Kathryn, MGM has lined up some wonderful musicals for her—as well they might. She has a gorgeous singing voice.

Phil Baker's new television show is another vote in favor of video.

Sir Alexander Korda sent his brother, Zoltan, to escort Merle Oberon to London a few weeks ago. He's been so concerned about her, and she seems so to cling to him, that their friends believe they will remarry.

Czech Reds Claim 'Plot' Discovered

PRAGUE, Oct. 9 (INS)—Communist sources said tonight that discovery of an extensive underground plot against the Czech government touched off the current wave of mass arrests in which thousands of persons have been seized.

The arrests, which are continuing, were said to have started with discovery of what was described as the "biggest, most serious" plot yet unearthed in Communist-controlled Czechoslovakia.

Although officials remained silent on results and progress of the roundups, it was reported middle class suspects were singled out for seizure over the weekend.

These were mainly bakers, butchers, lawyers and others in similar categories, who were described as "remnants of capitalism."

Additional Communists were seized, chiefly persons who had held posts in nationalized industry and some State departments, but no outstanding national communist leaders were reported among the new batch rounded up.

Board To Meet

The Childress Garden club will be the hostess group for the executive board meeting of District 1, Texas Garden clubs, Inc., Friday at the Woman's Department club building at Childress, according to an announcement by Mrs. Albert Morrow of Morton, district councilor. Registration for all club presidents and delegates will start at 9 a. m., and will be followed by a coffee. General assembly is to be at 10 o'clock.

A highlight of the program will be the demonstration of making Christmas wreaths by Mrs. Claud Keeton of the Lubbock Garden club. Special music is to be presented by the Girls Trio of Childress.

Mrs. Leroy Gaines, president of the host club, is general chairman for the board meeting. Member clubs are being reminded that their delegates will not be permitted to vote unless the district dues of $2.50 have been paid before the meeting.

During the morning session, Mrs. James A. Allen of Childress, Seventh district president, Texas Federation of Women's clubs, will bring greetings. Luncheon will be served from 12 noon until 1:30 p. m. at First Methodist church.

Reports are to be made by the district councilor, district officers and chairmen, and club presidents. Mrs. B. L. Brannon, information chairman, is to answer queries made by the delegates and Mrs. W. R. Lacey of Phillips will report the summer Audubon Nature camp.

Informal Reception Will Be Given By St. Paul's Church

An informal fall reception will be given tonight at 7:30 o'clock at Seaman hall by St. Paul's-on-the-Plains Episcopal church.

CORRECTION

The regular monthly meeting of the Fellowship club will be held Friday at 3 p. m. at the home of Mrs. F. W. Groce, 1210 Avenue R, instead as previously announced. Mrs. Groce and Mrs. J. C. Hardgrove will be in charge.

TEXAS BAKED BEANS . . . Hotter than usual.

Serve Baked Beans As They Do In Texas

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Here's a new recipe for one of the good old standbys for fall appetites—baked beans. It's a little "hotter" than the usual rule, and the beans are soaked for only three hours, rather than overnight as usual.

TEXAS BAKED BEANS

Ingredients: 4 cups dry navy beans ½ pound salt pork, 1 cup dark molasses, 2 small onions (chopped), 1 teaspoon dry mustard, 1 tablespoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 2 tablespoons chili powder, 3 cups boiling water (from simmered beans).

Method: Wash beans, pick over and soak for 3 hours in boiling water to cover. Cover, bring to boil in same water (to preserve minerals and vitamins), adding extra water if needed to cover well; skim; cook slowly until tender—about 50 minutes. Drain beans, reserving cooking water. Turn beans into bean pot or 3-quart casserole. Scrape rind of pork until white, score top by cutting down about 1 inch, and bury in beans with rind exposed. Mix onions, mustard, salt, pepper, chili powder and boiling water and pour over. Cover; bake in slow (325°F.) oven for 3½ hours or until tender, uncovering during last hour of baking. If necessary, add more water during baking. If desired, place bacon strips on beans last half hour of baking. Makes 12 servings.

If you want more Texan touches in your food you'll be fascinated by "The Texas Cookbook," by Arthur and Bobbie Coleman, recently published by A. A. Wyn. Arthur Coleman is on the staff of the San Antonio Express and Mrs. Coleman is a teacher. They have combined their writing and cooking skills to make a really unique compiliation of food folklore and recipes. There's no other cookbook like it, and it's so full of interesting material that it's going to be hard for other writers of regional recipe books to come up to it.

Another delightful regional effort is the "Key West Cook Book" by the Members of the Key West Woman's Club of Florida (published by Farrar, Straus and Company, New York, $3.00). The book has an attractive blue spiral binding and the recipes are printed from handwritten ones. I think you will enjoy this cook book because the contributors have good taste in food, and as the introduction says, "It is more than just another cook book; the very names of ingredients will evoke the perfumes and flavors of the Florida Keys for you."

Without leaving Texas you can go to Holland, India, China, Ireland, Italy, Scotland and Egypt. They are all Texas towns.

Aged Jingle Aimed At Girls Who Wear Glasses Is Scored

CHICAGO, Oct. 9. (AP)— The Academy of Orhthalmology and Otolaryngology leveled its ire today at a nine word jingle made 23 years ago by Dorothy Parker, an author.

"Men seldom make passes at girls who wear glasses," she said in one of her books.

Said the academy today:

"Instead of being promptly forgotten, the idea has passed into current folklore and, directly or indirectly, affected the attitude of many women toward glasses.

"The fact that many women will wear sunglasses containing the correction necessary to bring their vision to normal levels indicates that the refusal to wear standard glasses is based on false pride or fear of lowering their charm potential.

"If a physician, after careful examination, prescribes glasses, the patient needs them and should wear them."

IDEA OF SHORT WAR IS DROPPED BY MANY OFFICIALS

Use Of Smaller Atom Bombs For More Destruction Studied By U. S. Military And Scientific Leaders

(EDITOR'S NOTE: What is the United States doing in the spheres of atomic energy and military planning to counter Russian development of the A-bomb?

The answer to this question, of vital interest to the Democratic world, is given herewith in a series of three authoritative articles, framed within the limits of security, based on interviews granted International News Service by official sources in the Atomic Energy commission and the Department of Defense.

The following opening article tells how American military leaders have rejected the "decisive weapon" theory while holding to the regard that the A-bomb is so nearly all-important as to require absolute priority.)

By DARRELL GARWOOD
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9—Scientific and military calculations now show that a greater destructive potential can be built up by making the atomic bomb smaller than those dropped on Japan.

This is one conclusion to become known in the sharp review of atomic and related military policies which has been in progress in Washington since Soviet Russia achieved its first atomic explosion.

Another belief is that it will be easier for the U. S. to build up its A-bomb stockpile in the next few years than at a later time when other nations and industrial and power uses will be competing strongly for uranium.

Smaller Bomb Effective

The military leaders have firmly rejected all "short war" and "decisive weapon" theories, but still regard the atom bomb as so nearly all-important as to require an absolute priority.

They point out that high-grade uranium ore is now plentiful for atomic facilities available to treat it, but say this situation can scarcely continue with all major countries pressing for expansion of its military and peacetime uses.

That a smaller A-bomb is in the aggregate more effective and is desired by the military was confirmed in an interview with International News Service today by Atomic Energy commissioner Sumner T. Pike.

Pike said that the non-specific aspects of the trend can be discussed.

The original estimates were that an atomic explosion could be caused with anywhere from five to 240 pounds of fissionable material.

It was expected that their efficiency would be low, about 10 per cent—the bomb flies apart before most of the possible fissions can take place.

The first bombs are believed to have been made with about 25 pounds of material, leaving a wide range for increasing or reducing the size. Pike said it is not certain there is any upper limit to the size of the explosion.

Efficiency, however, dictates an increase in the percentage of fissions and reduction in the size of the bomb. This is suggested in AEC phrases such as "improved weapons," "improved designs," and "gain in energy release."

Pike, without discussing the scientific problems, said there are many military reasons for preferring the smaller bomb. These range from the number and size of the planes that could carry it —its delivery—to its effect when it breaks over the target.

The commissioner said, for example, that an atomic explosion at its center might inflict enough damage on a factory to "destroy the plant a dozen times," whereas it would be more desirable to destroy a dozen factories once each.

Must Use With Caution

The same over-concentration at the center would apply if the bomb were used against enemy personnel. The same material in smaller bombs would have a greater spread in its effect.

Certain risks would be cut down. The Air Force has an extensive program for training its best pilots specifically to drop the A-bomb, but anticipates a large percentage of losses and misses if it ever uses this weapon.

The risk for a given amount of explosive would be reduced if the bomb could be figuratively divided in half and entrusted to two separate bombing missions.

The smaller bomb, permitting more conservative use, is also better suited to the view of top military leaders that these weapons must be preserved for a day of dire necessity, and then used only with caution.

They do not believe that in any foreseeable major war the bombs could be "squandered" in an effort to get a quick decision.

Full Effects Not Known

Estimates of the "blitz" possibilities of the bomb envision that against a well-defended country, with advance knowledge of atomic energy, it may not average nearly as effective as those released over Japan.

It is thought that if Russia were bombarded with 200 atomic bombs—about the number the U. S. is believed to have—these might not do any more military damage than was done by the German army in the first months after Hitler's invasion. It follows that the Soviets would not necessarily be knocked out.

Consequently, if war should break out, America's plans would call for use of the bomb at about the rate it could be produced, with only judicious dips into the stockpile when the need was great or the advantage sure.

As for future manufacture of the A-bomb, the leaders believe that competition for the materials from which it is made will steadily increase.

There is at present only one atomic weapon—the bomb. Experts say there will never be anything like an atomic bazooka, because the explosions do not come in that small a category.

But in a few years there may be atomic powered ships and submarines, and possibly even atomic planes. Large-scale industrial uses for the energy may develop. And nations still in the experimental stage will certainly expand their facilities for consuming the basic atomic ore, uranium.

This prospect already is being felt in the worldwide efforts of the major governments to find new sources of uranium and to secure the known sources against future needs.

(Tomorrow: The search for uranium and competition for the known supply.)

Area Residents Are Named To Offices

Two South Plains persons were elected to offices of the District One Texas Library association for the forthcoming year at an annual meeting in Amarillo Saturday.

R. C. Janeway, Texas Tech librarian, was named president of the 44-county group and Mrs. A. F. Rasor, Frenship, secretary. Miss Albessa Stevenson, documents librarian at West Texas State college, was named vice-president.

Present needs and future programs for libraries was the theme of the annual meeting, held in Amarillo's Herring hotel. The meeting next year will be in Lubbock.

Leading librarians in the state were among those taking part in the Panhandle-South Plains conference. Miss Irene Mason, executive secretary and librarian of the Arkansas Library commission, also attended the meeting. Mrs. Robert H. Wilson, Texas State library was moderator for a morning panel discussion, in which Miss Mattie Ruth Moore of the Texas department of education took part.

Twelve Lubbockites were among the delegates attending the convention. These included besides Janeway and Mrs. Rasor, Mrs. R. T. Groves, Lubbock high school librarian; Miss Marian Turner, Hutchinson junior high school; and Miss Pansye Harris, O. L. Slaton junior high.

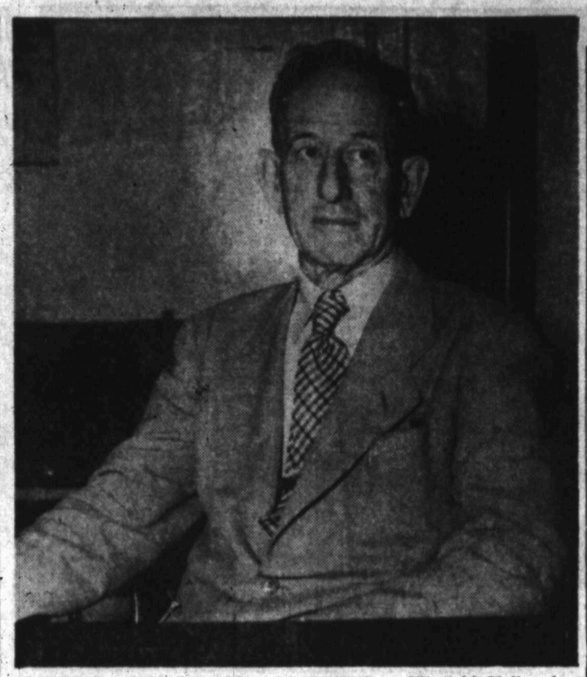

Second Trial Of Alger Hiss Scheduled To Start Today

NEW YORK, Oct. 9. (INS)— The second trial of Alger Hiss on charges he twice perjured himself before a special New York federal grand jury investigating espionage will begin in federal court tomorrow.

The former State department official has announced he will file a motion seeking to have the trial shifted to a Vermont court. He claims newspaper publicity surrounding the first trial makes an unbiased proceeding impossible.

Hiss also indicated he may ask an adjournment of several weeks because of a change in defense attorneys.

The first trial ended in a deadlock with a jury vote of 8 to 4 for conviction, according to jurors' reports.

Liquor Control Board Blockade Of Oklahoma Border Reported

MARSHALL, Oct. 9 (AP)—The Marshall News Messenger says federal alcohol tax unit agents have been given authority to back a Texas Liquor Control board blockade of the Texas-Louisiana border against liquors destined for dry Oklahoma.

The paper says federal agents at Marshall were told by H. B. Taylor, supervisor of federal liquor agents in Texas, Louisiana, and Mississippi, that the Department of Justice had held liquor importation into Oklahoma without a state permit was a violation of the federal liquor enforcement law.

Texas agents clamped down on Oklahoma-bound liquor through dry East Texas counties last December. They seized a large number of trucks and liquor cargoes valued at thousands of dollars.

Oklahoma voted Sept. 27 to retain statewide prohibition. The new permit law, on which the U. S. ruling was made, became effective May 13.

Argentina May Press For U. S., Soviet Atomic Armistice In UN

LAKE SUCCESS, Oct. 9. (AP)—Argentina was reported today spearheading a campaign in the United Nations Assembly for an immediate atomic armistice between the United States and the Soviet Union.

One diplomat at the UN Assembly said Argentina and several other small or medium-sized powers wanted the General assembly to call for an armistice to run for a period of years.

This plan is expected to come before the UN in the 59-nation political committee as soon as the committee takes up the Soviet Union peace pact proposal early next week. It is one of several knocking about the UN to break the U. S. - Soviet impasse.

Pierre The Seal Makes Quick Trip Across English Channel

DOVER, Eng., Oct. 9. (INS) — Pierre the seal, a late starter in the English channel derby, wobbled ashore near Dover today, gave a throaty victory bark and feasted on a handful of herrings supplied by his proud trainer.

Pierre had just swum the channel in five hours and four minutes, and wasn't even winded.

Not only was Pierre's time the fastest recorded for seals, but it also was less than half of the fastest human time of ten hours, 45 minutes set by Venceslas Spacek of Czechoslovakia in 1926.

Pierre is owned by William Ross McBride of Marine Enterprises, Inc., near Hollywood, Cal. His swim was a publicity stunt resulting from the "forfeit" required of Burt Kennedy, Hollywood journalist and writer, for failing to answer a question on an NBC radio quiz program.

Kennedy was assigned the task of accompanying the seal across the channel.

MEDICAL SCIENTIST CLAIMED

NEW YORK, Oct. 9. (AP) — Dr. Leonor Michaels, 74, for years a leading medical scientist and physical chemist, died in Rockefeller hospital today after a series of heart attacks. A onetime assistant to Dr. Paul Ehlich, Nobel prize winter, Dr. Michaels made many, contributions to chemistry and biology.

The name "crow's nest" for the little platform on the mast of a ship is believed to derive from the fact that Vikings actually carried crows in that position. When they wer lost they would release a crow and follow it when it flew toward the nearest land.

LABOR FORCES STUDY SITUATION

British Political Circles Claim November Election Call Possible

By CHARLES A. SMITH
INS Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Oct. 9.—Even money was being offered freely in responsible London political circles today on the chances of a national election being held in Britain in November.

Long odds were being offered on the "certainty" of an election well before next June, when the Labor government's five-year term of office is due to end.

Ultimate responsibility for the choice of November or next spring as the electoral date rests in the hands of Laborite Prime Minister Clement Attlee.

Fear Early Election

All signs are that the force of economic events in Britain may compel him to choose the earlier date as a matter of political expediency.

The Labor party is not ready for an early election and does not want it.

Labor would prefer to wait until the spring, when its machine and its propaganda can be properly geared for the bitter, all-out campaign which will determine whether or not socialism will be given a further five-year term of power.

The Conservative party is sitting warily on the sidelines, secure in the knowledge that its war chest is full and its party machinery is almost ready for immediate battle, but nevertheless hoping that the Laborites will not send the country to the polls before the spring.

Aware of the fact that Laborites still hold a great many trump political cards, the Conservatives nevertheless believe that by spring the full economic consequences of "Labor's riotous first five years" will be plainly felt in Britain and that it will seriously affect the way the electorate swings.

Atlee Undecided

Right now Attlee remains unconvinced that it would be better to woo the voters now than in the spring, as many of his supporters claim.

Publicly he adopts a tongue-in-cheek attitude and says the election will be "between now and next June."

But privately he is on edge, cannot make up his mind and badly needs a crystal ball to tell him what Britain will be like economically after this winter.

In the absence of that, his reading of the economic portents will seriously influence him in the next few weeks.

As a purely temporary expedient, to allay public and business anxiety and to fox the Conservatives, he may publicly announce there is no "immediate intention" of staging national elections, and at the same time exhort the workers to go all out to implement the "benefits" of the recent devaluation decision.

The element of electoral surprise, normally in the hands of the party in power in Britain, has to some extent been lost by Attlee because of the devaluation decision and the political hubbub which has resulted.

The Conservatives smartly have used devaluation and the alleged shortcomings of the Laborites in economic and financial administration as a plank on which to hang demands for immediate national elections.

In fact, the atmosphere of an approaching election broods heavily over the nation, with party lines and issues already sharply defined, and party leaders slanging one another as though in the midst of an election campaign.

Demands are loud that something be done to take the country out of its "misery" and restore business confidence by some clear statement of intent on the part of Attlee.

Devaluation Brings Crisis

The Conservatives almost as a body, and a great number of influential Laborites, seriously believe that the logic of events as the result of devaluation will force the government to stage national elections well before next spring.

Devaluation, in their view, makes it expedient for the Laborites to have an election in the first flush of stimulus which devaluation should bring to British economy, before any consequential increases in the cost of living and other internal prices set the voters worrying.

The main Conservative case is the charge that, as the result of devaluation unaccompanied by adequate economies in government expenditure, the cost of living is bound to rise far beyond all government predictions.

Close Battle Seen

The Laborite reply is that any measure adopted by the Conservatives would be more painful to the masses than those adopted by Labor, that Labor remains the friend of the little man, Conservatism his enemy.

This clearly ideological line is likely to be the major issue of the coming electoral battle.

Whatever the date of the election, the Conservative hierarchy feels and admits it will be close, perhaps so close as to compel the party obtaining the most seats to seek a coalition with the other.

Laborites, who earlier this year were willing to give odds on Labor again being returned with a reduced but still handsome parliamentary majority are now hedging and admitted it will be a close thing.

There is definite reason for saying the Conservatives under Winston Churchill and Anthony Eden would probably coalesce with Labor, or a section of Labor, if the need arose.

There is a well-founded belief that certain Laborites in the center or right of center, including Premier Attlee, Chancellor Sir Stafford Cripps, and perhaps Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin, might be willing to join such a coalition "for the good of the nation."

Serious doubt exists, however, whether the Labor party as a whole would agree to coalition with the Conservatives under Winston Churchill, particularly if the Conservatives held the edge.

Expert diagnosticians of the British political scene foresee a possible split in the Labor party if the issue arose, with left of center leaders such as Health Minister Aneurin Bevan perhaps taking a percentage of the party into the wilderness under his leadership.

In the main, however, the Laborites still believe they will have the edge, however small, and that they will be able to call the coalition tune.

Paradoxically, Labor's chance of survival at this writing depends on Labor itself.

A top U. S. official in London with excellent knowledge of the British political and economic scene, said today there is as yet scant evidence that labor as such is helping the Labor party by answering to call for harder work, longer hours, more production.

In his words, British labor still has to lear.. that you cannot cure an economic disease merely by fiddling with the country's money.

Dr. Wiggins Speaks At H-SU Dedication

ABILENE, Oct. 9 (Special)—Denominational schools must continue to receive voluntary and independent financial support in order to serve the nation, Dr. John L. Hill, editor of the Broadman Press said Saturday at the dedicatory exercises of the Sandefer Memorial building at Hardin-Simmons University. The Sandefer structure is a $430,000 administration and library building constructed in memory of J. D. Sandefer, for 31 years president at H-SU.

President D. M. Wiggins at Texas Tech, speaking at the cornerstone laying of the building, said that the building was a symbol for those who believe that freedom is more important than security.

"The struggle for freedom, as contrasted with security, is a continuous one," President Wiggins stated.

"Denominational schools must equal state education in subject matter, faculty, building, endowment, activities, and scientific investigation, but they also must put Christ in the center of that education," Dr. Hill stated. "No Baptist boy must apologize for the training he receives in a denominational school," he told his audience.

"Some students in state supported institutions never heard of Christ," the editor said. "The only life that counts is one that is Christ centered."

Dr. Hill recalled how President Sandefer had increased the Hardin-Simmons endowment to more than $1,000,000, how the university had been established and became recognized under his leadership, how the students had increased in number, and how the physical plant had grown from four buildings to more than a dozen.

Chicago Painter Killed When Scaffolding, Shelves Collapse

CHICAGO, Oct. 9. (INS) — A Chicago house painter was killed today and another injured when shelves and scaffolding in a store they were decorating collapsed.

Killed was Harry Girshbaum, 37. He was buried under a pile of plaster and gallon paint cans that covered him when scaffolding in the rear of the store gave way.

Girshbaum's co-worker, Philip Mamett, 42, was slightly injured and hysterically reported at first that the building had collapsed.

Orders Issued On Labor Pact

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 9. (AP)—Lower Rio Grande farmers were given today until Oct. 14 to comply with a government directive to process their wetback laborers under the Mexico-U.S. braceros agreement.

An announcement said explicit instructions were issued to U. S. immigration officers in South Texas to start Oct. 14 arresting all illegal resident aliens found in their area.

The deadline was set six days away. Farmers and ranchers will have a few more days in which to process their "wetbacks" at one of the labor recruiting and contracting centers now in operation at Harlingen and Crystal City.

Delay Is Possible

Employers who file acceptable requests, post bond, and demonstrate they are making an effort to process laborers will be given a reasonable time after Oct. 14 to complete the procedure, the announcement said.

William A. Whalen, district director of the Immigration and Naturalization Service in San Antonio, issued the order after having been instructed to do so by the central office in Washington.

Whalen says there is still a great demand for farm laborers in the cotton fields of North Texas and Arkansas. Farmers in those areas are encountering difficulty in obtaining sufficient laborers.

It is possible, Whalen predicted, they will have to obtain laborers at Monterry, Mexico, if a processing station is opened there. However, such a station can not be opened, Whalen said, as long as there are large numbers of illegal resident alien farm laborers in this country.

Many South Texas and valley farmers and ranchers have rebelled against the provisions of a recent treaty between the U. S. and Mexico which says U. S. employers must pay 40 cents per hour for bracero labor. The prevailing wage prior to the treaty was around 25 cents.

Record Attendance Reported At Fair

DALLAS, Oct. 9. (AP)— The sun smiled brightly today and 101,256 men, women and children said heigh, ho! and came to the fair.

It was a record second-day crowd for the State Fair of Texas. The record was set by 5 p.m. Only 72,692 showed up last year, when the old record was set. The weatherman willing, fair officials thought some 2,000,00 would see the fair before it closes Oct. 23.

It was the fair's special day for Tyler rose growers, East Texas, the Elks, the Texas Poultry Improvement association, Woodmen of the World and the Dallas health museum.

Tomorrow will be negro crippled children's day, Dallas negro school children's day, Texas corn growers day; Texas oats and barley growers day and Texas Polled Hereford association day.

Crowds poured into the atomic energy exhibit. A weary guide said the crowds were "nothing short of phenominal." He added: "They come in with a blank expression and they leave the same way."

But there's plenty to see inside the four-room exhibit.

In one room, Walter Clossey, shows how to split an atom. Each splitting is accompanied by a tiny popping sound and a tiny cloud of what looked like smoke, seen through an instrument that resembles a big camera lens.

A sign explains that visitors cannot really see an atom-it's too tiny. You can see the paths of atomic fragments "just as you see a car's headlight on foggy nights and judge its speed and direction."

The atom "pile" is well shielded by a covering of lead bricks.

Three Fugitive Warrants Hold Alleged Chicago Confidence Man

CHICAGO, Oct. 9. (INS)— Sigmund Z. (Sam) Engel, the fast talking lady's man and alleged swindler, couldn't talk his way out of three fugutive warrants, so he will appear in felony court tomorrow to see if he can make bond.

Engel walked out of Cook county jail a free man yesterday on a $10,000 bond supplied by his attorney. But before he took 15 steps he was rearrested on the fugutive warrants, that charge him with swindling Mrs. Irene Grimes of San Francisco, Mrs. Corinne Perry of Los Angeles and Mrs. Annette Kubiak of South Bend, Ind.

Even if Engel gets past the fugitive warrants by making bond tomorrow, he will still go back to jail on a federal warrant, also charging him with swindling Mrs. Kubiak.

Furthermore, the love 'em and leave 'em Romeo, has to face trial for swindling Mrs. Reseda Corrigan and Mrs. Florence Barrette, both of Chicago.

Taxi Drivers To Work Without Pay To Save Bankrupt Firm

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 9. (AP)—Nearly 200 taxi drivers are working without pay this week to save their bankrupt company.

The People Cab company drivers voted to end a five-day strike and accept nothing but tips until October 17.

All fares are to be turned over to a receiver who has to shell out $14,000 for an insurance premium in an effort to keep the company in operation.

The drivers, who struck when the company refused to reinstate an old contract, say they will try and form a co-operative to take over the company if their "tip only" plan succeeds.

The cab company, formed by a group of GI's after the war, has been in dire financial straits. A receiver was appointed last week when the men went on strike.

WHY A STEEL STRIKE?

United States Steel wants to do what is right by its employees. We have always sought the loyal cooperation and friendship of our employees.

United States Steel favors proper programs of insurance, welfare, and pensions for its employees. We have had insurance and pension plans in effect for many years. We are ready and willing to try to work out with the Union through collective bargaining any changes in our existing programs for insurance and pensions which are now necessary or desirable.

We made an offer to the Union to pay as our share of the cost of programs of insurance and pensions to be negotiated with the Union up to an average of 4 cents an hour for insurance and 6 cents an hour for pensions. That was a very substantial offer on our part. It would provide at our expense insurance and welfare benefits which our employees do not presently enjoy. The adoption of such programs would add more than $50,000,000 annually to our costs of operation.

The Union flatly rejected this liberal proposal and called a strike against us. Why? Simply because United States Steel is not willing to agree in advance that it will pay the entire cost of insurance and pensions for its employees.

Because of the Union's adamant stand that we must pay the entire cost of insurance and pensions for employees, the Union has deprived our employees of an opportunity immediately to obtain, without additional cost to them, insurance protection far superior to that which the employees now possess.

United States Steel proposed to pay as its share of the cost of an insurance program about $5.70 a month for each participating employee. A single employee would pay as his share about $2 a month and an employee with dependents about $3 a month. Our employees on the average are now paying under existing welfare arrangements more than these amounts each month for lesser benefits. The payments by our employees under the proposed insurance program would not reduce their present take-home pay.

A proper and financially sound pension plan calls for most careful consideration. United States Steel has offered to join with the Union in making a joint study on pensions, and, upon the completion of this study, to negotiate with the Union for a pension plan to be included in a new labor contract, effective on May 1, 1950. As an indication of its good faith, United States Steel has offered to pay up to 6 cents an hour as its share of the cost of a mutually satisfactory contributory pension plan. Here again, the Union flatly rejected our proposal.

The only issue in the present steel strike is this:

Shall United States Steel be forced now to agree that it must pay the entire cost of insurance, welfare benefits and pensions for its employees? An assumption by the employer of complete financial responsibility would amount to the adoption of a major and highly costly principle, probably for all time. Moreover, such action by a large steel company would probably set a pattern for all American business. There is grave doubt as to the financial ability of American industry alone to pay the cost of adequate insurance and pension programs for employees. Furthermore, is it not in the best interests of the employee that he participate in the creation of a savings account for his future welfare?

Social security in which both employer and employee share the cost has been the established order in this country for many years, as evidenced by the Federal Social Security Act.

Why should our employees and the whole nation suffer the disastrous consequences of a steel strike, from which the employees have so little to gain?

Yanks Overpower Dodgers 10-6 To Win 1949 World Series

Joe Page Preserves Victory For Vic Raschi In Relief Role

BY GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer

BROOKLYN, Oct. 9. — New York's "Invalids of Destiny" reaped their final glory today when they loosed an assault reminiscent of past great Yankee teams to crush the Brooklyn Dodgers, 10 to 6, and wrap up the 1949 World Series in five games.

A howling crowd of 33,711, packed into Ebbets Field, watched the new champions unload 11 solid hits, including a home run by the great Joe DiMaggio, a triple and three doubles off six Brooklyn curvers, pile up a 10 to 2 lead in the first six innings and win the clincher going away.

Lights Turned On

Everything was normal at the end of the three-hour and four minute donnybrook. Joe Page, the top relief pitcher of the generation, was in there for the 63rd time since the campaign began, bearing down and striking out Dodgers under the arc lights, which had been switched on for the first time in a World Series.

He was protecting, as he had so often done during the year, a lead which had threatened to evaporate when his Yankee predecessor Vic Raschi, came unbuckled in the Brooklyn seventh and was pounded for four runs, including a home run by Gil Hodges, the Dodger first baseman, with two mates aboard.

In the ninth inning Lefty Joe rose to the heights by striking out Duke Snider, Jackie Robinson and fearsome Hodges, the last with two aboard, to throttle the final gesture of the stricken Flatbushers. It was Joe's third appearance in the play-off, and he made it his masterpiece.

Yanks Better Team

In crushing their National League rivals, four games to one, the American League Bombers scored their 12th World Series victory out of the 16 playoffs in which they have participated. In losing only the second game at the Stadium to Preacher Roe's brilliant pitching, the Yanks conclusively proved that they were a better team than the Brooks as long as Page was on call in their bullpen.

The Yanks ripped into Rex Barney for two runs in today's first inning, knocked him out with a three-run assault in the third, and continued to rake Jack Banta Carl Erskine and Joe Hatten until they had run up their apparently safe 10-2 margin going into the seventh inning.

Bobby Brown, the hitting hero of yesterday's fourth game, slammed his second triple in two days. No player has belted more in a five-game series. DiMaggio, weak and wan from his recent bout with a virus infection, finally got the range in the fourth. He was given a fine ovation by the Brooklyn fans.

Raschi Tires Suddenly

Raschi, who had pitched a fine second day game but was victimized by Roe's shutout, looked safe going into the seventh. The Dodgers had pecked away at him for seven hits and a pair of scattered runs, but nothing spectacular.

But he suddenly found himself tired. He got Pee Wee Reese, the first Brook to face him, on a line drive, then walked Spider Jorgensen. Duke Snider, who tied an unenviable series mark by striking out for the eighth time later on, banged a single, sending Jorgensen to third.

Jackie Robinson lofted a long, high one to Gene Woodling in left, on which Jorgensen trotted home. When Hermanski worked Raschi for a walk, Page began warming up, but he wasn't quite soon enough. Hodges laid a hot smash into the seats in left centerfield to score Snider and Hermanski ahead of him and make the count too close for comfort.

Bums Are Stifled

Thus there were two Dodgers down when Page took over and faced Luis Olmo, a righthanded pinchhitter. Joe fanned him on three fast balls.

The Dodgers got a runner aboard in the eighth when Bruce Edwards, another pinchhitter, laced a single to left with one out, but Reese hit back to the mound and Page started a swift double play to Phil Rizzuto.

Eddie Miksis, pinchhitting for Jorgensen, led off the ninth with a long double, and Joe began spinning more magic. Snider went down swinging. Jackie Robinson missed a hard swipe at a third one. Hermanski drew his second straight walk, but then Hodges found the Page fire too hot to handle.

When the last strike thudded into his mitt, Catcher Yogi Berra dashed out to lead the happy assault on Page by the Yankee players.

Brown Hitting Star

The final game abounded in brilliant fielding. Snider, luckless with his bat, made two wondrous catches in centerfield. He came in to make a shoetop catch of what looked a certain hit by DiMaggio in the third and in the eighth made a similar robbery on a belt by Tommy Henrich, somersaulting with the ball in his glove.

Brown, the Tulane student who played third base only off and on during the Yanks flag drive, proved the hitting hero of the final two games. His three-run triple broke yesterday's game wide open, and he drove two more mates across with his triple and two singles today. He wound up with a lofty .500 average for the series, six hits in 12 tries.

Tommy Henrich, whose ninth Newcombe in the first game, and Jerry Coleman, the rookie second baseman, each collected five hits in the series.

It was heart-warming to watch the Yankee bench when Dimaggio, the greatest invalid of them all, finally caught hold of one in the fourth inning.

It was only DiMaggio's second hit in his 18 official trips to the plate.

The Brooks had a convenient al-

Hubbers Slip By Denver City, 9-7

DENVER CITY, Oct. 9. (Spl.)—A team composed of Lubbock Hubbers, past and present, today outscored the Denver City Gassers, 9-7, in an exhibition game played before some 200 wind-blown spectators at Flare field.

The visitors, wearing "Hubber" uniforms, blasted across four runs in the last inning to turn back the Oil Belt semi-pro league champions.

Home runs by Nelson Davis, Don Moore and Jackie Sullivan sparked the victors' 10-hit attack on Marshall (Hook) Epperson, ace Gasser lefthander.

Share Gate Receipts

Denver City collected 10 safeties off Bob Clodfelter and Royce Mills, and held a 7-5 lead going into the last frame.

Other members of the winning squad included Charley Willis, Mike Dooley, Floyd Walker and Mackie Lawrence, recently-signed Lubbock infielder.

Like Mail Carriers, Rain Doesn't Stop Dayton High's Football Team

HOUSTON, Oct. 9. (AP)— Waist-deep water didn't stop the Dayton High school football team Saturday night.

The team won 13 to 0 from Humble after wading two miles through waist-deep water to reach the football field.

The club left Dayton at 4 p.m. in a school bus. When they arrived at Peach Creek they found Highway 59 stomach-deep in water from Friday's rain.

Some 30 players along with Coach Jim Cooper disembarked and waded two miles to dry land where a Humble school bus met them and took them to the game.

Dressing Rooms Are Noisy, Quiet

By JOHN BARRINGTON
INS Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 9. — There was ease in Casey's manner as it says in the famous poem, but this Casey hadn't struck out.

And grizzled, bandy - legged Casey Stengel savored every moment of his first World Series triumph to the full as he stood knee-deep in well-wishers in the bedlam of the New York Yankee dressing room.

Casey had played the Series to the hilt and picked up the marbles from the Brooklyn Dodgers, four games to one.

Chandler Comes In

He accepted the congratulations of Commissioner A. B. Chandler graciously. "You had a great ball team," said Happy.

"So did Burt Shotton," Old Case replied. "I just lasted five days longer than he did, that was all."

American League President Will Harridge was there to give Stengel a quiet, sincere:

"Very nice job."

Stengel's Yankee bosses, Del Webb and Dan Topping, grinned their tributes, too, and husky Joe Page, the Series pitching star, came up, his uniform sodden, his face dripping perspiration.

Casey hugged the big guy who topped off 60 regular season relief jobs by stopping the Dodgers twice in the clutch.

Stengel Gets Ball

"Here's the ball, Casey, I want you to have it," murmured Page. He handed the 59-year-old jokesmith turned master strategist the ball on which Gil Hodges fanned for the last out.

Finally, Shotton — 64-year-old pilot of the Dodgers—made his way slowly through the mob.

"You have a splendid club and did a splendid job," said Burt, a trifle wistfully. It was the second time in three years he had led the Dodgers to a pennant in their own league only to lose to the Yanks in the Series.

Stengel had his answer ready: "You were great, too, or you wouldn't have been playing against us here.

Page Also Injured

Page revealed that he pitched with a bruised thumb that made it almost impossible to throw a curve. The injury came while Joe was batting in Friday's game and fouled off a pitch.

Today he just poured his fast one through. He said:

"I only threw one curve—the one that fanned Jackie Robinson in the ninth."

Joe DiMaggio, who hit the ball solidly today for the first time in the Series, was talking to his little son, Joey, in a corner.

"I felt stronger than I did before," said Joe, "but I was hitting behind the ball all along."

Joe denied that he had been playing with a temperature or that he was taking medicine to fight off the after-effects of his virus pneumonia attack.

Di Mag Expects Rest

What did DiMag intend to do now?

"I'm going right home to California and take a long rest," sighed Joe. "That's the only definite plan I have."

The same recipe — with a dash of hunting — seemed to be in store for all the Yanks.

After a long, tough season, the "Team of Destiny" had bought some leisure time.

BROOKLYN USED TO LOSING TO YANKEES, BUT UNHAPPY

EBBETS FIELD, New York, Oct. 9 (INS)—The sign on the Dodger club-house bulletin board was strictly out of place.

It said:

"Report at 12 tomorrow in uniform."

There will be no need for the Brooks to do that. The New York Yankees took care of that by winning the fifth game today and taking the 1949 World Series along with it.

Gloom Is Pronounced

And in the Dodger clubhouse, one was made to understand that these Dodgers are used to losing to the Bronx Bombers.

The gloom was pronounced and unanimous, almost as if it were rehearsed. One had to know that twice before in this decade, the same thing had happened to these same two teams.

Players dressed quietly. Some chatted with teammates occupying

Payoff Tilt Is Set In District 3-B

Dimmitt Will Be Host To Olton

The week of the "big showdown" — Dimmitt's Bobcats vs. Olton's Mustangs — has arrived in District 3-B.

These two Class B powerhouses collide Friday night at Dimmitt in the game that possibly will determine the circuit's champion.

Of course, the season is far from finished, but folks around the loop generally are of the opinion that this one will "tell the story."

To date, Coach J. W. Blaine's Bobcats and T. M. Cox's Mustangs are breezing along atop the 3-B standings with identical 4-0 records in conference play.

Little To Choose

Comparative scores indicate that there's little from which to choose between the two clubs. Olton trounced Amherst by 39-0, one point more than Dimmitt's margin. However, the Bobcats ran up a 22-7 score on Springlake, which held Olton to 19-13. Dimmitt thumped Whitharral by 41-0, while Olton ran up a 56-0 count against the same team.

Dimmitt is undefeated and untied over the season route, with the strong Class A Sudan eleven listed among its victims. Olton has dropped one game, falling before powerful Class A Andrews by 44-6 in the season opener.

Owls Expect Trouble

Hale Center, making a determined bid to defend the district title it won last year, still is in the thick of the scrap. The Owls turned back Spade, 12-0, last week for their third straight conference win without a setback. Hale Center, however, has not turned in the high-scoring performances registered by Olton and Dimmitt.

Coach Ralph Huntington's Owls are expected to have little trouble this week against Amherst, a team still seeking its first win of the campaign.

Anton, rudely dumped by Springlake last week, goes against feeble Whitharral this week, while Farwell entertains Spade. Springlake and Friona, now tied for fifth place, clash at Springlake in the remaining game on the conference card.

THE STANDINGS

Teams	W	L	P	OP
Dimmitt	4	0	121	19
Olton	4	0	142	13
Hale Center	3	0	45	12
Anton	2	1	88	33

Springlake	2	2	77	48
Friona	2	2	72	78
Amherst	0	4	28	124
Spade	0	4	6	128
Whitharral	0	4	3	171

Last Week's Results

Olton 56, Whitharral 0 (c).
Hale Center 12, Spade 0 (c).
Springlake 26, Anton 7 (c).
Dimmitt 20, Farwell 13 (c).
Friona 28, Amherst 21 (c).

This Week's Games

Spade at Farwell (c).

Olton at Dimmitt (c).
Whitharral at Anton (c).

Easy Week Slated In District 3-B Battles

Judging from past performances, the leading teams should enjoy an "easy" week in District 4-B football play.

Four of the five top teams engage second-division opponents, while the fifth, Whiteface, has an open date.

Ropesville's Eagles, maintaining their unscored-on district record with a 28-0 verdict over Cooper, continue atop the standings, closely followed by the oncoming Meadow Bronchos. Ropesville has won three games, while Coach Lloyd Hunt's perfect-record Broncs have won twice in district play

Meadow won the "big game" in the conference last week by blanking highly-regarded Whiteface, 19-0. This week the Bronchos take on Petersburg, and while the Buffs may provide trouble, Meadow is a solid favorite to win.

Defending champion Idalou, which downed Plains by 27-0 last week, meets hapless Frenship, while Ropesville plays Plains.

New Deal, after dropping a 26-0 decision to Hermleigh in a non-conference go last week, returns to district competition against Cooper.

H-SU, Texas Western And Tech On Top

West Texas Teams Lead Border Loop

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

The cream of the Border Conference already has risen to the top.

With the season still young, three clubs from the western part of Texas stand as the class of the loop, and from all indications Texas Tech will have a tough time defending its title against the other two—Hardin-Simmons and Texas Western.

Arizona, considered a darkhorse title threat after tying a highly favored University of Utah crew from the Skyline Six, ran headon into the H-SU Cowboys Saturday at Abilene and came out on the short end of a 35-0 count.

Eyebrows that arched when Texas Western defeated the University of Hawaii by only one touchdown a week ago were back to normal today. The Miners yesterday ran through a tough West Texas State college team 34-7 for their first conference victory and fourth win of the season.

Texas Western remains among the nation's undefeated and untied ranks and lives up to the prediction of Coach Jack Curtice. He declared before the season started that even without Fred Wendt, the nation's leading rusher last season, the Miners of '49 would be a better team than last year when they placed second in the loop.

While Hardin - Simmons and Texas Western were playing conference foes, the Red Raiders of Tech were downing Tulsa, 15-0, in a non-conference fray.

Scores of other games involving Border teams saw Arizona State at Tempe rout Arizona State of Flagstaff 62-6, the University of New Mexico completely outclassed 55-0 by Rice of the Southwest loop, and New Mexico's Aggies win a Thursday game from New Mexico Military academy, 48-25.

Week's Schedule Set

This week the Red Raiders again try to win against a Southwest Conference foe. They've failed against two and will be in the underdog role at Lubbock against Baylor, Hardin-Simmons and Texas Western both meet Border opposition. The Cowboys are highly favored to knock down the Lobos from the University of New Mexico in a game at Odessa, while the Miners are expected to whip the University of Arizona at Tucson.

Arizona State at Tempe renews a rivalry with Brigham Young university at Tempe while Arizona State at Flagstaff plays host to Whittier of California. The New Mexico Aggies travel to meet San Diego State. West Texas plays Houston at Houston.

Quarterback Club Meets At Chapman Fieldhouse Tonight

Don't go to either the Hilton or Lubbock hotels tonight if you plan to attend the Quarterback club meeting.

Bill Collins, club president, said that the meeting this week would be held at Chapman Fieldhouse beginning at 8 p. m. Due to prior scheduling of both hotels, the Quarterback club had to find another place to meet and Lubbock High school officials graciously extended use of the Fieldhouse.

Coaches expected to speak on the program will include C. R. Pattison, whose Westerners rolled over Vernon for their fourth victory of the year; Dell Morgan, whose Red Raiders smothered Tulsa 15-0; and Damon Hill, whose Panthers dropped a heartbreaker to Wichita Falls for their first defeat of the year.

Announcement of the players of the week honors will be made and there will be a special surprise on the program.

Pictures of a Texas Tech game, probably the Texas A & M. game, will be shown.

STARS WIN CUP

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 9. (AP)— The Hollywood Stars packed away the Governors Cup alongside their Pacific Coast League pennant today by drubbing San Diego 8 to 4 for the fourth straight time in the final playoff series.

Women's Texas Open Golf Meet Begins Today In Fort Worth

FORT WORTH, Oct. 9. (AP) — Qualifying rounds for the Women's Texas Open Golf tournament begin here tomorrow. Match play begins Tuesday.

Champion Polly Riley will be challenged by Professionals Patty Berg, Betty Jameson and Bettye Mims White.

Helen Detweiler, Marjorie Lindsey and Beverly Hansen will be among the amateurs seeking the title.

Coronation Easily Wins Arch Of Triumph Classic In Paris Race

PARIS, Oct. 9. (AP)—Coronation galloped to an easy four length victory today in the rich Arch of Triumph racing classic and won $80,000 first prize for his French owner, Marcel Boussac.

A throng of more than 130,000 jammed the Longchamps course to see the 4.7 to one shot score his triumph over 27 other horses.

Kermit Is Marked In District 5-A

Kermit is now the "marked team" in District 5-A.

The Yellow Jackets, with five straight conference triumphs to their credit, now hold undisputed first place in the 5-A standings, but there's widespread feeling that the Jackets will "get theirs" this weekend.

Andrews Favored

Kermit travels to Andrews to face the rapidly-improving Mustangs in a Friday night tussle which features this week's docket. Despite Kermit's perfect record, many observers foresee an Andrews triumph, which would throw the entire 5-A race into complete turmoil.

At present, the Yellow Jackets are comfortably out front with their 5-0 record. Andrews and Wink are deadlocked for second, each with a 3-1 mark.

Monahans, the defending state Class A champion, fell before Wink by 14-0 in a mild surprise last week, and now faces an uphill climb to retain so much as the district title.

Indians Meet Wink

Seminole's battered Indians, held to a 7-7 tie by weak Fort Stockton last week, face the tough task of playing Wink at Wink Friday night. The Indians, who have tied two games in district play, need this one to stay in the race.

Monahans is expected to get back on the victory trail in its game at Denver City, and Crane goes against Alpine in a non-conference clash.

The other 5-A members, Fort Stockton, Pecos and McCamey, take a rest this week.

Abernathy Holds District 3-A Lead

Coach Boyce Box's Abernathy Antelopes, thanks to their photo-finish decision over Floydada last Friday night, today are anchored atop the District 3-A grid standings.

The 19-18 Antelope win over Floydada left Abernathy with a perfect 3-0 recard in district play, and in undisputed possession of first place.

Spur Loss Surprise

Spur's Bulldogs, who were tied with Abernathy a week ago, skidded into a three-way tie for second — with Lockney and Crosbyton — as a result of surprise 19-12 loss to the Paducah Dragons.

Defeat of Floydada removed the last District 3-A representative from the unbeaten, untied list over the full season route. Abernathy, while boasting an unblemished conference record, lost its season opener to Class B New Deal, 7-6.

Lockney Still In It

The Antelopes face another tough test this week in Crosbyton, which has lost only to Lockney. The Chiefs pounded Tahoka 41-6, last week in serving notice that they still command respect in the District 3-A scramble.

Lockney, still in the thick of the running despite its 18-7 loss to Abernathy two weeks ago, takes on Spur in another crucial game this week. The loser of this one will be virtually eliminated from championship contention.

Matador Meets Ralls

Paducah and Floydada, currently tied for fifth place with 1-1 records, clash at Floydada in another feature attraction.

In the remaining game on this week's slate, cellar-dwelling Matador is at Tulia. The Matadors still are seeking their first win in conference play.

Ralls, which thumped Matador by 27-0 to climb out of a last-place deadlock last week, has an open date this week.

Westerners Among Diminishing List Of Unbeaten Gridiron Teams

Only 12 Elevens Have Clean Slate

BY WILBUR MARTIN
Associated Press Staff Writer

Only a few of the dozen undefeated, untied teams in Texas schoolboy football's big two divisions face any great risk this week.

Lubbock, a West Texas power, meets Pampa and Port Arthur, South Texas toughie, takes on Corpus Christi.

Austin Has Tough One

But Grand Prairie, Highland Park, Corsicana, Wichita Falls, and Ysleta shouldn't be bothered too much with weekend opponents.

It's a somewhat different story for Henderson, Marshall, and Galveston. These teams face foes that are capable of pulling an upset — especially Austin, which meets Galevston.

The list of clubs with perfect records in City Conference and Class AA was cut to twelve last week. Lamar and Baytown dropped into the unbeaten, but tied, classification when they battled to a scoreless draw.

Edinburg, Amarillo, and Pampa were beaten.

Galena Park and Lamesa round out the list of undefeated, untied elevens.

Odessa Beat Amarillo

Wichita Falls, the team that may be the toughest in the state, whipped Pampa, 14-6. Port Arthur had an easy time with Pasadena, 21-0. Galveston, which has yet to yield a point to an opponent, blanked South Park of Beaumont, 19-0.

Alice beat Edinburg, 12-7, and Odessa blasted Amarillo, 34-21.

Henderson this week runs into a district foe, Longview, a team that last week upset highly regarded Texarkana, 13-6. Marshall is also playing for keeps against Gladewater.

Grand Prairie meets Crozier Tech; Highland Park takes on North Dallas; Electra faces Wichita Falls; Ysleta meets El Paso; Corsicana plays Hillsboro.

Other Games Listed

Other feature games include: Arlington Heights-Amon Carter-Riverside; Poly-Northside; Paschal-Fort Worth Tech, three Fort Worth City Conference games; Lamar-San Jacinto (both of Houston); Stephen F. Javelinas Lead Texas Circuit Grid Race

(By The Associated Press)

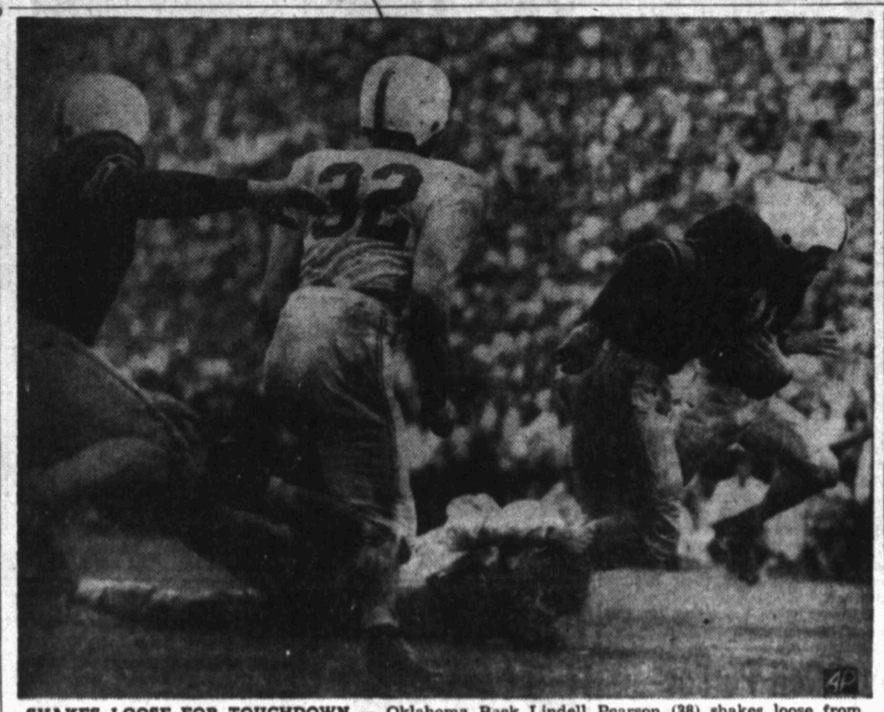

Texas A & I rolled along undefeated and untied in the Texas Conference last week, but the Javelinas meet a real toughie this week in McMurry.

The game will be the first conference tilt for McMurry, which dropped a wild, 32-55, decision to Mississippi Southern last week.

One other conference game is scheduled — Austin vs. Howard Payne. Southwestern meets Daniel Baker and Abilene Christian takes on the University of Tampa in non-league tilts.

ACC dumped Southwestern, 13-10, to win its opening conference game, while A & I beat Sam Houston State, 16-12, and Howard Payne nudged Southwest Texas State, 6-3.

Brad Rowland, McMurry's great back, cut loose with two 50-yard plus scoring jaunts and Eugene Green of A&I took a kickoff on his own goal line and ran it back the length of the field.

SHAKES LOOSE FOR TOUCHDOWN — Oklahoma Back Lindell Pearson (38) shakes loose from Texas Back Billy Pyle (10) and goes on to score Oklahoma's third touchdown in the game against Texas Saturday. Yanks Beat Bums In Series Finale ibi in that one of their best hitters, Carl Furillo, was able to play in only two games and to appear once as a pinchhitter. He strained a muscle in his groin just before the Dodgers clinched their pennant.

The National Leaguers were extremely short on hitting power. Only Reese made six hits while Campanella, their negro catcher, Hermanski and Hodges got four,

But in the long run, the Yankees won the big prize on the great pitching of Page and Allie Reynolds. Allie stunned the Brooks with his shutout in the opener, and came on in relief to stop the Dodgers and sew up yesterday's victory. Page saved the third and the fifth games, and that was all the men of Stengel needed.

World Series Notes

BROOKLYN, Oct. 9. (AP)— The Brooklyn Dodgers, still to win a World Series, must be tired of facing the New York Yankees. The Brooks now have lost five World Series engagements, the last three to the Yankees. The Broux Bombers whipped them in 1941 and 1947.

It looked like 1947 all over again, with Joe Page finishing off the Brooks with another one of his splendid relief jobs. Two years ago, Page stifled the Dodgers with only one hit in a brilliant five and a third inning relief job. He didn't have to work so hard today. The ace fireman came to Vic Raschi's rescue in the seventh and held the Brooks scoreless in two and one third innings. He allowed two hits and fanned four, including the side in the ninth.

In addition to Page, the outstanding 1949 World Series heroes were Pitcher Allie Reynolds and Infielders Bobby Brown and Gerald Coleman. Brown, who wasn't even in the starting lineup in the first two games, led his team with six hits, including a double and two triples. He batted in five runs. Coleman collected five hits, of which three were doubles. Reynolds won a 1-0 game and saved another with a fine relief chore. He fanned fourteen in 12 1-3 scoreless innings.

The beaten Dodgers filed into their dressing room late — like the mourners driving away from a cemetery after the corpse had been lowered away.

There was no great note of sadness, rather a display of relief that all was over. The tension of a World Series coming on top of a red hot pennant drive was gone at last. There were no tears and no joy. Also no excuses.

"They (the Yankees) have got a little bit more what you need in a World Series," said Burt Shotton quietly as a crowd gathered around.

Those interesting invalids, the Yankees, were feeling no pain.

Jammed into a noisy, steaming hot clubhouse, they forgot about the aches and pains that had made their American League and World Series conquests difficult.

And it wasn't until the last out had been made that Page revealed he too had joined the list of injured.

When they turned on the lights in a precedent-shattering move to start the ninth inning, the sun still was shining. Apparently the umpires and the commissioner figured it might get dark before the last of the ninth was over. Page took care of that.

If Page ran into serious trouble in the ninth, Casey Stengel would have pulled a reverse play by relieving Fireman Joe with Reynolds. "Old Wahoo" was throwing in the bullpen through the last of the ninth.

This was the tenth straight million dollar World Series. The net receipts were $1,129,627.96. This doesn't include the radio and television returns which still are subject to revision because of movie rights.

Teams Get Into Thick Of Play This Week

Baylor And SMU Are Present SWC Leaders

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

The Southwest Conference football campaign was a Baptist-Methodist affair today. Baylor's Baptist Bears and Southern Methodist's Mustangs were the only undefeated teams.

That may not last long. Nothing ever lasts long in this league. Arkansas can give you a most recent example. The Razorbacks were rated pretty high last week. They had beaten Texas Christian and were being considered potent factors in the conference race.

Then wham! Baylor swipes them 35-13.

More Throats To Cut

There will be more throat-cutting this week. For the first time in the season there will be a full slate of conference games with the spotlight on Rice and Southern Methodist at Dallas.

Southern Methodist didn't play last week. Rice might just as well have taken the day off, too. The Owls beat New Mexico 55-0 while frantically trying to hold down the score.

Bruised and bleeding Texas A. and M.—not physically but pridefully—jumps into the conference race against Texas Christian. The Aggies were walloped 34-0 by Louisiana State Saturday night. They looked even worse than in their opener when Villanova blasted them.

Texas Christian, pretty flat after losing so unexpectedly to Arkansas, had just enough to beat Indiana 13-6.

Texas Plays Arkansas

Texas goes to Little Rock to take on disheartened Arkansas. The Longhorns lost to Oklahoma 20-14 Saturday but felt pretty good about it. Texas showed enough against the powerful Sooners that they are being figured high in the conference race.

Baylor doesn't appear to stand much of a chance of being knocked from its lofty perch. The Baptists traipse to Lubbock to play a rather impotent Tech outfit. Tech beat a below-average Tulsa team 15-0 last week. But the Baylors may not take this game seriously enough.

The conference did as expected last week in intersectional play, winning two and losing two. The big surprise was the margin with which Baylor licked big, tough Arkansas. Flatness after the T. C. U. conquest may have had something to do with it. Loss of Star Fullback Leon Campbell through an injury certainly lowered Arkansas effectiveness.

Burk Is Bear Star

Texas could have won its game with Oklahoma although outplayed by the Sooners. A missed pass in the end zone and some other blunders when scoring opportunities were presented damaged the Longhorns. Oklahoma, on the other hand, didn't foozle when the time came and didn't let breaks dishearten it.

Adrian Burk's passing and quarterbacking sent Baylor to 241 yards on the ground and 94 in the air. Burk also pitched in with a couple of touchdowns himself.

Louisiana State ripped to an awesome 299 yards rushing and 120 yards passing while A. and M. got only 56 on the ground and 73 in the air. That tells the story of the Aggie licking better than anything else that might be said.

Rice Toys With NM

Texas Christian played on a rain-soaked field and didn't have to put out much to beat one of Indiana's weakest teams. It was a good thing. The Horned Frogs apparently didn't feel up to putting out much. Indiana was held to a minus 12 yards running with the ball.

Rice had no trouble whatever with New Mexico although Coach Jess Neely cleared the bench trying to put a team in that the visitors could come close to matching.

Randy Clay of Texas made a touchdown and kicked two extra points against Oklahoma to maintain his long scoring lead in the conference. He now has 51 points. Second is Don Logue, Arkansas quarterback with 30.

adjacent lockers. Rex Barney, today's starting and losing pitcher, sat in front of his locker with his head lowered and arms folded across his thighs. "I didn't have it and I lost," he said.

Manager Burt Shotton, a mournful look on his face praised his boys for trying.

Dodgers Never Quit

Burt said grimly:

"I have a pretty good ball club. They had their ups and downs but never quit. They (the Yankees) have a little more in World Series competition.

"But I'm proud of my club and we'll be better next year."

A reporter asked Burt if he'd be back as manager next season.

"I'm not signing myself," he answered. "You'll have to get that from the front office.

Larry Doby of the Cleveland Indians came in to pay his condolences to Jackie Robinson, Roy Campanella and Don Newcombe.

Doby Kids Robinson

Larry good-naturedly quipped: "Didn't I tell you the Yanks would take it?"

Robinson looked up and smiled. "You American Leaguers are all alike. You think you're the greatest. But we'll get you next time."

Campanella, whose brilliant catching was one of the few bright spots in Brooklyn's series showing, also looked into the future.

Roy, brushing a spot of water from his forehead with a towel, looked straight ahead and declared emphatically:

"We'll be back."

District 4-A Has Showdown Tilts

Two "make or break" battles involving the circuit's four strongest teams are on this week's District 4-A North football calendar

Levelland, currently leading the pack with a 2-0 conference record, runs smack into improving Sudan, while Littlefield's juggernaut goes against once-beaten Muleshoe.

Lobos Face Trouble

The winners of these two tilts automatically will become co-favorites for the title in the six-team conference.

Coach Truett Rattan's Levelland team has won both its district starts handily, beating Sundown by 38-7 and Morton by 33-0, but the Lobos can expect real competition when they square off against Francis Smith's Sudan club Friday night at Sudan. The Hornets, after a slow getaway, have picked up steam all along. They trounced dangerous Muleshoe, 15-0, two weeks ago, then continued their journey along the comeback trail by beating Canyon, 12-0.

Upset Is Possible

Coach J. S. Fikes' Littlefield team, one of the state's highest-scoring Class A aggregations, rates the favorite's role over Muleshoe, but an upset here definitely is a possibility — particularly in view of the fact that Muleshoe will enjoy the home field advantage.

Sundown is at Dalhart and Morton is at Slaton this week in a pair of non-conference clashes.

Post Antelopes Forge To South 4-A Lead

Coach Francis Bingham's Post Antelopes, gained momentum after a poor start this season, have forged to the front in the District 4-A South football race.

The Antelopes, defending district titlists, romped over O'Donnell, 56-7, last week for their second straight conference triumph to take over the lead.

Slaton, the circuit's other unbeaten team, turned in an impressive 28-0 non-conference win over Sundown last week, however, to retain its role as co-favorite with Post. The Tigers, who have won their lone conference start, go outside the loop again this week to meet Morton.

O'Donnell, which dented the scoring column for the first time this year in last week's game with Post, meets Seagraves this week. Both teams will be trying for their first conference triumph.

Tahoka, winless in district play, is expected to take it on the chin again when it plays host to Post this week.

FORMER COACH DIES

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 9 (AP)— William J. Juneau, 70, one-time University of Texas football coach, died in his sleep early today. During his 20 year career, Juneau also was grid tutor at Colorado college, South Dakota State, Marquette university, the University of Wisconsin and the University of Kentucky.

In medieval times, warring armies agreed not to campaign against each other during winter.

Instead, it was taken after Joe Page, left, walks into the New York Yankee dressing room with Casey Stengel, right, following the third game. Blair Cherry Moves Lee From Quarter To Fullback This Week

AUSTIN, Oct. 9. (AP) — Coach Blair Cherry of the University of Texas said today that Bobby Coy Lee would be moved from quarterback to fullback when the Longhorns start preparations tomorrow for their Southwest Conference opener with Arkansas.

The change will be made, the Longhorn coach said, for two reasons, "(1) we need more breakaway running strength at fullback, and (2) we need to utilize Lee more on offense."

Lee understudied Paul Campbell at quarterback against Oklahoma. That chore will now fall to Sophomore Ben Tompkins.

"We came out of the Oklahoma game in good physical condition," Cherry said, "Oklahoma has a fine team and it was no discredit to lose to them."

Browns Smashed By 49ers, 56-28

NEW YORK, Oct. 9. (AP)—San Francisco's rugged 49ers smashed the defending champion Cleveland Browns today, 56-28, to assume command of the All-America Football Conference.

Playing before 59,770 wild fans, the 49ers' juggernaut scored in every period to hand the Browns their first defeat in 30 starts.

Frisco's record now reads 5-1-0 while the second place Browns are 4-1-1.

Albert Paces Winners

Frankie Albert, Frisco's southpaw slinger, highlighted the thrill-a-minute contest by firing five touchdown passes.

The 49ers bolted to a lightning 21-0 edge on two Albert fireballs and a one-foot buck by Big John Strzkalski.

Led by its automatic quarterback, Otto Graham, who pitched three touchdowns in the first half, Cleveland cut the deficit slightly but trailed at halftime, 35-21.

Dons Best Bills

But when the second half started, Albert took control again, pitching 24 yards to Eddie Carr, doubling the Browns' total, 42-21. Joe Perry and Carr added two additional tallies in the final quarter to complete the route.

Cleveland's last defeat, nearly two years ago in November 1947 was inflicted by the Los Angeles Dons, 13-10.

The other AAC contest saw the Dons upend the Buffalo Bills, 42-28.

The game, played before a Los Angeles crowd of 16,757, was a passing duel between the Dons' Glenn Dobbs and the Bills' George Ratterman.

Bears Are Licked

In the National League, the Los Angeles Rams cracked the Chicago Bears, 31-16, to take over sole leadership in the Western division.

Bob Waterfield combined with a bruising line to deal the Bears their first setback in three outings. It was the Rams' third straight triumph.

The New York Giants exploded for three touchdowns in the third quarter to sink Washington, 45-35.

Conerly Leads Attack

Leading by three points at halftime, the New Yorkers, behind the brilliant Charley Conerly, scored three rapid-fire T.D.'s.

Conerly passed for the first two and Gene (Choo-Choo) Roberts scooted 64 yards for the other.

COLTS BLAST CLIPPERS

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Oct. 9. (INS) The Baltimore Colts mauled the Charlotte Clippers today, 31-0, before 8,000 fans. The Colts romped on the ground and in the air to four touchdowns, four points after, and a field goal.

Army Celebrating Michigan Defeat

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 9 — The cannon still roared today as Army celebrated its greatest victory since the fall of Japan and Notre Dame.

The acclaim was for an inspired, determined West Point team which invaded Michigan and crumbled mighty Wolverines' defenses to win 21-7 Saturday in football's biggest shocker of the season.

A capacity crowd of 97,239 in Ann Arbor watched in silent disbelief as the Black Knights of the Hudson, underdogs by 10 points, inflicted the first defeat on a Michigan eleven in three years.

Army Underrated

The Wolverines, No. 1 team of last season and rated first in the nation last week, had marched to 25 straight victories since losing to Illinois in 1946.

It was the 14th straight unbeaten contest for underrated Army, rated seventh nationally a week ago. A revision is in order.

Meanwhile Notre Dame, another gridiron Goliath, rolled over Purdue, 35-12, to run its unbeaten string to 31 games. Two ties are included in the run. The Irish, led once again by that broth of a lad, Emil (Six Yard) Sitko, ran up a 35-0 bulge for three quarters before Purdue broke into the scoring against third and fourth stringers.

Dallas' Largest Crowd

Oklahoma, rated No. 3, squeezed by Texas' fine team, 20-14, before 75,347, the Southwest's largest football crowd in history, at Dallas. Oklahoma has an easy one in Kansas Saturday. Texas faces Arkansas which fell before unbeaten Baylor, 35-13.

But trouble is directly ahead of Notre Dame. This Saturday they entertain a powerful Tulane eleven which has been pointing all season for the country's No. 2 team. Tulane, rated No. 4, coasted against little Southeastern Louisiana to win its third of the season and 11th in a row, 40-0.

Army shouldn't have much trouble against a Harvard squad which fell before Cornell's Ivy League champions, 33-14. Michigan hopes to rebound against Northwestern's Rose Bowlers who were dropped once more by powerful Minnesota, 21-7.

Minnesota Takes Ohio State

Minnesota, gunning for the Big Ten title and a shot at the Rose Bowl, takes on Ohio State in a clash that rates right up there with the Notre Dame-Tulane affair. Ohio State fought Southern California to a 13-13 tie. Minnesota is ranked fifth and Ohio State eleventh.

The West Coast's outstanding tilt matches Southern Cal with California in a contest that may decide the Pacific Coast Conference's Rose Bowl team. UCLA, another strong aggregation which may have a say in the Pasadena pick, plays Santa Clara.

California, tenth ranked nationally, kept on the unbeaten path by trounsing Wisconsin, 35-0. UCLA dumped Stanford 14-7.

North Carolina, No. 6 nationally, was given a battle by South Carolina before winning 28-13. N. C. meets Wake Forest next.

Southern Methodist's Cotton Bowlers, No. 9, were idle. They meet Rice, 55-0 winners over New Mexico.

Texas Tech Mentioned

The East's No. 1 game sends Cornell against Yale's smooth operators at New Haven. Yale bowled over Columbia 33-7.

Other topnotch games of next weekend include Brown-Princeton; Colgate-Darthmouth; Columbia-Pennsylvania; Nebraska-Penn State; Missouri-Illinois; William and Mary-Michigan State; Navy-Wisconsin; the Citadel-Kentucky (Kentucky trounced Georgia 25-0); Tennessee-Alabama; Auburn-Georgia Tech; N. C. State-Duke; Vanderbilt-Florida; Baylor-Texas Tech; Stanford-Washington; and Colorado-Oregon.

There were only five or so upsets last week in addition to the Army surprise.

Navy upended Duke, 28-14, Davidson topped N. C. State 20-14, Illinois tripped Iowa 20-14, Oregon State edged Washington 7-3, and Georgetown halted Wake Forest, 12-6.

Charles Risks Heavy Crown Friday Night

NEW YORK, Oct. 9 (AP)—Ezzard Charles risks his NBA heavyweight crown for the second time Friday night when he meets Pat Valentino in a 15-round title clash in San Francisco.

Charles, who stopped Gus Lesnevich in seven rounds in his first defense last August, is a prohibitive favorite to whip the California state champion.

The longhaired Valentino hasn't fought since he captured his state's championship by whipping Turkey Thompson in a 15-rounder last December.

In another outstanding Friday bout, Kid Gavilan, the Cuban welterweight flash, faces Beau Jack, the former lightweight titleholder, in a ten rounder at the Chicago Stadium.

Joe Louis, meanwhile, continues his exhibition tour. The retired heavyweight king is down for four rounds with Curtis Sheppard at Baltimore Monday.

BURK DRAWS PRAISE

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Oct. 9 (AP)—Arkansas Football Coach John Barnhill tonight said that Adrian Burk, Baylor's quarterback, "is the greatest forward passer I have ever seen." Burk completed his first seven tosses Saturday to spark Baylor's 35-13 victory over Arkansas.

Navy Hearings

Vinson's charges of plotting to scuttle the Navy's air arm and its carrier fleet.

Admiral Arthur W. Radford, the Navy's No. 1 airman, electrified the committee last Friday by denouncing a "cheap and easy" concept of future warefare through an "atomic blitz." He also called the Air Force's top-priority B-36 bomber a gamble with national security.

B-36 Program Hit

The first of a score of technical and expert witnesses — including the retired fleet admirals — comes up tomorrow to support Radford's claims in detail.

Captain F. M. Trapnell, the Navy's chief test pilot and commander of its Patuxent river test center, got the ball rolling Saturday.

The Navy's jet-powered "Banshee" carrier fighter plane, he said, can do everything to the B-36 that the Air Force says can't be done.

Any duel to test the comparative merits of Navy and Air Force claims, he declared, "will result in cancellation of any further B-36 production."

Committee Is Angered

Ready to follow him tomorrow are:

Lt. Cmdr. E. W. Harrison, radar expert; Cmdr. W. N. Leonard, jet power authority; Cmdr. W. I. Martin, night fighter expert; Cmdr. A. B. Metsger, to detail naval fighter plane capabilities; Cmdr. E. Tatom on bombing accuracy; and Captain J. H. Sides, naval authority in the hush-hush realm of guided missiles.

In the face of Navy contentions, the House Armed Services committee found itself at sea in a storm on conflicting opinion over the best way to fight a future war.

But while it might be uncertain of high military strategy, there was no doubt the committee's dander was up over Vinson's contention that Pentagon chiefs were circumventing through "secret orders" the constitutional duty of Congress to allocate military appropriations.

Vinson on Saturday angrily called the Navy's budget officer and the comptroller of the defense establishment.

They confirmed that Secretary Johnson had ordered an $800,000,000 economy cut in current (1950) defense appropriations, and had assessed the heaviest part against the Navy and its fleet and Marine air arm.

What's more, Vinson announced, he had learned that plans were afoot to cut $100,000,000 from naval aviation in the still-pending 1951 budget and give it to the Air Force — all in spite of recommenations of the joint chiefs of staff.

Amarillo Lashed out as nearly a perfect day, with only a few scattered showers to mar it.

No more rain was reported in the Houston area, and flooding bayous retreated to their channels. A cold front which had started for Texas Saturday night had stalled and weakened out as it blew down from the Rocky mountains.

At Borger, some thought the town had been hit by a tornado, but Weather Observer Bill Morgan said he thought the storm was a straight gale.

A garage was flipped into an adjoining yard. At least one house was unroofed. Plate glass windows were blown in at a new food store. A board archway around new construction was blown down and hurled 100 feet.

Amarillo's brief, violent windstorm swept into the south section of the city and whipped northward. Scores of windows were broken. There were many broken and twisted trees. Roofs, signs, cars and power lines also were damaged. Driving rain and hail dropped visibility almost to zero.

Fourth Storm Over Weekend

At El Paso, Ringling Brothers circus had to cancel its opening performance Sunday after the wind kept the big top from going up. The circus hoped to be able to go ahead with performances it had scheduled for Monday.

The twister near Brownfield was the fourth in Texas since Friday. A small twister unroofed three houses and broke several windows at Claude Saturday night.

A freak tornado skipped through the east edge of Houston Friday just ahead of the 10-inch rain which sent the city's bayous on the flood. Another small tornado struck near Angleton and caused minor damage Friday night.

Many Houston families moved back into their homes Sunday to clean up after the flood, which took one life. County health officials said health hazards were the worst problem left by the flood and warned people to boil all drinking water.

Man Is Drowned

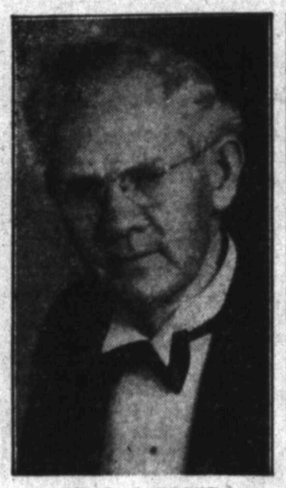

Some parts of Houston were still under water Sunday night, but all bayous and streams were receding. Water had stood five feet deep in places Saturday. Tony Lock, 43, drowned in the San Jacinto river 15 miles northeast of Houston Friday night.

The Houston area's wild weather had started Monday night with a hurricane which swept out of the Gulf of Mexico. The hurricane was accompanied by heavy rain which filled the bayous to the point they had to overflow when Friday's downpour began.

During the day Sunday, readings were generally in the eighties over Texas. Early morning showers fell at Amarillo, Dallas, Austin, San Antonio, Waco, Beaumont, Palestine and Galveston.

Dr. O. C. Boone Is Death Victim

Dr. O. C. Boone, former Lubbock chiropractor, who lived at 1520 Broadway, died at 8:30 a. m. Sunday in Lubbock Memorial hospital after an extended illness. He was 64 years old.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Tuesday at the Broadway Church of Christ with Rev. Norvell Young officiating. Burial will be in Lockney cemetery under direction of Sanders Funeral home.

Dr. Boone had lived in Lubbock for 22 years and had been one of the leading chiropractors in the city until illness forced him to give up his practice three years ago. He had formerly lived in Fort Worth, Austin, San Antonio and Stephenville.

Also Served As Magician

An amateur magician, Dr. Boone at one time had his own show and traveled widely with it. He had also been a preacher for about 10 years, giving up that profession around 1935.

He was married in 1904 to Lillian Cowart in Silverton. His educational record includes graduation from the since disbanded Christian college in Lockney and studies at the National chiropractic college in Chicago and the Texas chiropractic school in San Antonio.

Born in Seymour, Dr. Boone had been a member of the Church of Christ for the past 35 years. He had his offices in Lubbock in the Myrick building for about 10 years and later at 1218 Avenue N before moving to his Broadway address.

Survivors include his wife; two sons, Jack Boone of Houston, and Dr. Alton Boone of Los Angeles, Calif.; one daughter, Mrs. Chrystelle Bennett of Littlefield; one sister, Mrs. Vera Madley, Arlington; one brother, P. W. Boone, Spring Dale, Ark.

NEWS BRIEFS

Two-year-old Candy Showalter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Showalter of 215 East Wabash, was taken to Lubbock Memorial hospital for examination about 8 p. m. Sunday, shortly after she had accidentally swallowed a quantity of clothes-bleach preparation at her home. A stomach pump was used in treatment and the girl suffered no ill effects, attendants at the hospital said.

A Lubbock negro, A. H. Hopson and his wife Cora Belle, of 1605 East Twenty-ninth, were treated at Lubbock Memorial hospital about 9:45 p. m. Sunday for injuries suffered when the car in which they were riding ran off the road about one mile east of Lubbock near an intersection of the Slaton highway and a side road. Hopson was released after treatment for lacerations. His wife, attendants said was admitted to the hospital with a possible fracture of the right knee. A third person riding in the car was not hurt.

The CIO plans to make use of radio and personal pep talks by President Murray. He nas speeches scheduled in major steel cities.

So far eight steel companies, employing 11,500, have agreed to Murray's terms. His price for peace is complete acceptance of the presidential fact finding board recommendation that companies give six cents for pensions and four cents for insurance.

There is no indication whether the government will try its hand again at settling the strike which it succeeded in delaying three times.

The status quo also prevailed in the soft coal fields as the strike went into the fourth week. The miners walked out to protest suspension of their pension and welfare fund benefits. Actually it's just part of Lewis' fight for a new contract with more pay and benefits.

The mine contract ran out June 30. Since then Lewis and the operators have been trying to get together.

The bushy-browed UMW leader will meet Wednesday with southern operators in Charleston, W. Va., and Northern, Western and Steel company representatives in White Sulphur Spring, W. Va.

SANTIAGO, Chile, Oct. 9. (AP) — A slight earth shock was felt here today.

Man Found Shot To Death Here

A former Wichita Falls man who had been living with relatives here for the past two and a half months was found dead in the bathtub of a northwest Lubbock residence Sunday afternoon, two bullet wounds in his head.

The man, identified as A. E. Wallace, 49, had been making his home with a brother, W. M. Wallace, at 2902 North Third. His body was found shortly before 2 p. m. by a nephew, Lester Wallace.

Inquest To Be Conducted

Justice of the Peace C. E. Lynn, who is conducting an inquest in to the death, announced last night that his investigation was nearly completed, and indicated he would probably render a verdict in the case today.

Police were called to the Wallace home by the nephew, who had found the body at 1:50 p. m. when he returned from a visit to a neighboring residence. Officers said a gun, a .44 calibre pistol was found lying on top of the dead man's fully clad body in the tub.

Assistant District Attorney A. W. Salyars said two shots had been fired from the gun, one merely entering the skin behind the man's right ear, the other entering the skull in the same general area, causing instant death.

The fatal bullet "split," an unusual occurrence, Salyars said, half of it remaining in the head and the other half passing from the body. A part of the bullet was found in the bathtub. Officers said the back of Wallace's head and the sides of the tub were badly powderburned.

The body was taken to Rix Funeral home, where it was announced that funeral arrangements are still pending.

a radio address that Russian possession of the atomic bomb demands that the United States reexamine its whole foreign program and its defense strategy.

World Union Urged

Kefauver, who recently visited western Europe, termed Germany and Yugoslavia the chief danger spots in any possible East-West conflict. He declared:

"Let us not forget that in any conflict between the East and West, even within Germany, the United States would be involved. Every step, therefore, must be carefully considered."

Reps. Judd (R-Minn) and Hays (D-Ark urged their colleagues in a joint statement to support a bipartisan drive to put the United States "on the diplomatic offensive."

Judd and Hays appealed for the so-called world federation resolution to be taken up by the House Foreign Affairs committee Wednesday.

The resolution — calling for a convention of Atlantic pact power to explore the possibilities of establishing a federal union—is already endorsed by 103 House members and 22 senators.

McMahon declared in a Gannett News service radio interview that attempts to blame the Atomic Energy commission for spy work done by Russia "just won't nold wash."

He expressed belief that the United States is still "away out front" in the field of atomic energy development.

The senator stated that the American people will reject the only strategic defense against A-weapons yet suggested—dispersal of industry and building of deep, underground shelters. He added:

"I believe that we are going to have to make the supreme effort of history to rally behind us the moral pressures of the people of the world to bring to bear on the Kremlin the combined weight of the people of the world that there should not be this disastrous conflict."

Tech Student Still In Serious Condition

Condition of Billy Cagle Perkins, 17-year-old Tech student who has failed to regain consciousness since he was injured in a traffic accident Saturday afternoon, remains "unchanged," and still serious, attendants at Lubbock Memorial hospital reported early today.

The youth, son of Dan Perkins, of 1608 Ave. Q, suffered a fractured skull, concussion and a broken left arm about 2:50 p.m. Saturday when his small-sized motorcycle was in collision with a car driven by Efford Parrish, 58, of Floydada route 1 at Ninth and Ave. A.

Furgol fired a three-over par 219 on the $2,000 54-hole play.

He edged out Babe Lind, Denver, Colo., who came in with 220.

Spec Stewart, Roswell, N. M., was top amateur with 225 strokes.

Other professional scores included: Wally Harden, El Paso, and R. Connell, Roswell, N. M., with 237's.

Homer Peel Fired As Business Manager Of Temple Eagles

TEMPLE, Oct. 9. (AP)—A campaign opens here tomorrow to finance the purchase of 49 per cent interest in the Temple Eagles of the Big state baseball league.

Yesterday the Temple baseball committee, owners of 51 per cent stock, announced the release of Homer Peel as business manager, effective Nov. 1.

Peel has offered his 49 per cent interest in the team for sale.

Seminole Couple Is Injured In Mishap

LEVELLAND, Oct. 9. (Special) A Seminole couple were injured near here in one of two auto accidents reported today.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Duncan were slightly inured about 8 a.m. when the 1940 Ford pickup in which they were riding turned over on the Brownfield highway four miles south of here.

Mrs. Duncan suffered lacerations on the forehead and possible broken ribs, and Duncan suffered deep abrasions on the face and a cut near the eye, according to officials at Phillips-Dupre hospital, where they were admitted.

Cause of the accident was not known, but it was believed that the front wheels locked. Duncan said something went wrong with the steering mechanism.

The couple reportedly were on their way to Hereford. The pickup had to be towed in to Levelland.

Another accident was reported by L. B. Gray, who said that about 8:30 p.m., he ran into a truck stopped in the middle of the road on the Brownfield highway, approximately a mile south of here. Gray was not injured, but his 1949 Pontiac was badly damaged.

Gray told sheriff's officers that the occupants of the truck, who were not in it at the time of the accident jumped in and drave away before he could get their license number.

Officers were searching for the truck late tonight.

chamber of parliament, the Socialists 17 and the League of Independents five. In the 165-member chamber, the 1945 elections gave 85 seats to the People's party, 76 to the Socialists and four to the Communists.

Figl expressed complete confidence his party will emerge as the strongest in the new parliament. However, there was still a possibility it might lose its slim majority.

League Power Surprise

Especially surprising was the standing of the League of Independents among the first three parties. The league frankly appeals for support to amnestied former Nazis.

The league assured itself of representation in the next parliament by winning votes in Volarlberg province and in Salzburg.

On the other hand the Communists with 16 per cent of the vote counted had failed to insure election of a single deputy.

In the 1945 balloting, the People's party had 49 per cent of the votes, the Socialists 46 and the Communists five. League of Independents candidates were not permitted to run.

Little Pressure On Voters

It appeared there had been little if any pressure on the voters by any of the four occupying powers. One of the first districts to report from the Russian occupation zone showed the anti-Communist People's party and Socialists leading, with 656 and 183 votes, respectively. The League of Independents was third, with 36, and the Communist party fourth with only four votes.

There were some pre-election clashes.

The ministry of interior said a free-for-all between Communists and Socialists in Vienna sent two persons to the hospital before the polls opened.

At Braunau, Adolf Hitler's birthplace, a Communist slightly injured a People's party official with a knife.

Heavy Vote Foreseen

Despite cold and cloudy weather the vote apparently was heavy. Government and political party leaders voted early. Federal President Karl Renner, whose term of office does not expire until 1951, issued a proclamation calling upon all the 4,500,000 eligible voters to go to the polls.

The consensus of competent observers was that the People's party would maintain its slim majority in the 165-seat parliament. But the Socialists, second strongest party in 1945, may gain a few seats.

Both parties, however, had pledged to follow the same anti-Communist line adopted after the election four years ago.

Communists were expected, at best, to do no better than they did in 1945 when they elected only four members of parliament.

Boston Girl, 20, To Attempt Crossing Of Catalina Channel

SANTA MONICA, Calif., Oct. 9 (INS)—Yvonne Wood, 20-year-old Boston girl, said today that she would attempt next week to become the first woman to swim the Catalina channel.

The channel, 21 miles wide at its narrowest point, has been conquered only three times—by men. The first of the men, George Young of Toronto, won a $25,000 prize for negotiating the stretch in 1929 in a contest in which 101 others, including two women, failed.

Miss Wood, a tiny person only five feet tall, came to the West coast six weeks ago to study ballet dancing, but instead began training for the swim at the urging of eastern friends.

She said she once swam 15 miles in the Atlantic ocean.

Winds, Rain And Hail Lash Area

fell between 4 and 4:40 p. m., and was measured at .24 inch. A second shower followed a drop in the temperature between 7:30 and 8:30 p. m., from 74 to 59, and brought the total rainfall up to .43 inch.

Motley Cotton Damaged

Matador reported no rain Sunday, although the sky looked threatening Sunday night. Observers in that area who have checked damage to cotton crops from a hail Saturday night estimated about half the cotton damaged by the storm was ready to be pulled. No estimate of the loss in terms of dollars had been made. A two-inch downpour accompanied the hailstorm.

Tutt Garnett, farmer in the area, said of his crop, "Twelve bales were open. I might get four now." Farmer Nelson McMahan made the 90 per cent destroyed estimate on his crop. Cotton bolls which were not ripe for pulling were bruised and lint probably will be stained when they do open.

Southwestern Public Service company crews from Tahoka reported the twister near Brownfield snapped a telephone pole and twisted lines but did no other visible damage. It was not reported seen by anyone, but the manner in which the pole was broken was characteristic of a twister, utility company workmen said.

Sheriff Ocie H. Murry of Brownfield, said the pole was sheared completely in two about ten feet from its top, the lower portion remaining in the ground.

Heavy To North

Rainfall was most heavy in areas north of Lubbock. Abernathy had almost an inch, and Hale Center received .80 inches in showers that started about 6 p. m. Lockney had about 1.30 inches after a "gullywasher" which flooded downtown streets about 5 p. m., was followed at 8:30 p. m. by a heavy shower.

Some hail fell in the area, but damage to crops probably will not run over five per cent. Sterley, six miles northeast of Lockney, also reported some hail. Light hail also was reported at Anton and one-fourth inch stones fell briefly, at the weather station in Lubbock.

Silverton had about an inch in two hours of steady rainfall from 7 to 9 p. m. Plainview and Shallowater were the only other places to report at least an inch.

Winds Are Strong

Brownfield had a small amount of hail accompanying a shower early in the evening. Other areas reporting rainfall were Lamesa, .15; Tahoka, .23; O'Donnell, .50; Post, .25; Spur, .50; Dickens, .15; Wilson, .12; Crosbyton, .10; Ralls, .25; Idalou, .05; Seminole, .25; Seagraves, .50; Sundown, trace; Meadow, .25; Muleshoe, trace; Littlefield, .65; Olton, .75, Levelland, .15; and Anton, .25.

High winds preceded the rains in most places of the area. The wind was so strong in Abernathy that it blew a washing machine off a resident's porch. Hobbs recorded gusts of 45 miles per hour. Dalhart had winds as strong as 56 miles per hour.

Six Persons Killed In Traffic Accident

WOODLAND, Calif., Oct. 9. (INS)—Six persons were burned to death in an accident on the Yolo causeway a short distance west of Sacramento today.

Highway Patrolman Kenneth Kolb said a truck crowded a passenger car against the railing, setting it afire and forcing it to plunge 20 feet to the bottom of the dry overflow channel of the Sacramento river. The truck also went into the channel.

The six persons, all unidentified, were in the automobile. They are believed to be from Oakland, Calif.

Morris Watts, 23, of Roseville, Calif., driver of the truck, was taken to Sacramento general hospital critically injured. A passenger in the truck, Roy Watts, 12, the driver's brother, was hospitalized with serious injuries.

The bodies in the car were burned beyond recognition.

RANCHER IS CLAIMED

FRANKFORT, Ky., Oct 9. (AP)—Andrew Jennings Cauldwell, 78, retired Texas rancher, died of a heart attack here today. Cauldwell and his wife, who were returning to their home at Edinburg, Texas, from a vacation in the east, had to the address found in the wallet, and after questioning the tenant of the house there, traced the other suspect to an address on North Sixth. No resistance was offered by either man, officers said, and no weapons were found either on the men or in the car. Eight rounds of .32 calibre ammunition were found in the car, however, it was related.

Police, meanwhile, were continuing investigation of the man whose wallet supplied the tip which led to the second arrest after the man admitted he had been with the brothers and several other people Saturday night. It was believed the billfold had fallen from his pocket to the floor of the car. The woman riding with Earl Leo Rader at the time of his arrest was identified as a sister-in-law of the wallet's owner.

Men Waive Extradition

Sheriff's officers, who have accepted custody of the two suspects, said a combination lock on the small strong-box had balked attempts to open it. The box measures about 12 by 14 by six inches. The men refused to open the box for the officers.

Both men have waived extradition, officials said, and officers here are awaiting instructions from Los Angeles authorities concerning the pair.

City Policeman Hurt

On the purely local scene, a tangle with a man later charged with disturbance sent one city patrolman to Lubbock Memorial hospital for treatment of an injured knee about 11 a. m. Sunday.

The officer, George Hall, was injured when he and his patrolcar partner, Pete Hubbard, attempted to arrest three men for fighting in front of their residence in the 1400 block Ave. E.

As they were getting into the police car, the officers said, one of the men grappled with Hall and both of them fell to the ground, the patrolman twisting his leg beneath him. He was taken by Rix ambulance to the hospital where he was released after treatment for bruises and lacerations.

A 26-year-old Lubbock negro was held in jail pending charges of assault with intent to murder after he allegedly stabbed another negro, Johnny Gordon, early Sunday in a cafe in the 600 block East Ave. G.

Gordon was treated at Porter clinic for a knife wound in the back and released. Attendants there said the knife had severed a small artery in the back, causing internal bleeding. It was not known what caused the altercation.

Teribio Arrendondo, 30, of 105 Ave. M, was charged by police early Sunday with discharging firearms in the city. Residents of the 200 block Ave. K had complained to officers that several shots had been fired in front of a house in the block about 2:31 a. m. The house was reportedly owned by relatives of the suspect.

When police arrived at the scene, the man had disappeared. Arrendondo, who police said had 'blood all over his clothes" from a minor wound on his upper body, was arrested in his car about three blocks from his house.

Four young men were taken into custody at the Tech cafe in 1200 block Boradway about an hour later after the manager of the place had complained of them destroying about $35 worth of merchandise. All pleaded guilty of disturbance charges, and were released after payment of $15 fines each.

war would render the giant B-36 intercontinental bomber susceptible to disastrous attacks by jet planes long before it could reach its target.

Harrison has played a key role in developing radar devices which the Navy claims can detect even a single bomber approaching well in advance of its target zone. He also has led other development which enable jet pilots to fire "blind" with accuracy as soon as they come within range of an enemy plane.

The naval officer is expected to offer such testimony to bolster Navy claims that its Banshee jet fighter in a test could blast the B-36 out of the sky and cancel further production of the huge bomber.

NORWAY SET TO VOTE

OSLO, Norway, Oct. 9. (AP) — Norway faces one of its tightest national elections tomorrow, with the ruling labor party's scant parliamentary majority threatened by growing rightist sentiment.

Clothing Market

hold cloth furnishings are included in the merchandise the wholesale, manufacturing, and jobbing interests are offering the retailers.

The exhibits occupy four floors of both the Hilton and Lubbock hotels, with every room piled high with different brands of goods.

Started 20 years ago, the market association, now headed by Luther Godwin, was discontinued during the war years. The first postwar sales day was held last October and another this spring. The semi-annual affair was started in an effort to give retailers of this region a better opportunity to select from varied brands of merchandise handled by manufacturers all over the nation.

Market officials, hoping for clear weather and an even larger turnout today than Sunday, said this fall's offerings include the widest variety of goods ever before displayed. This is due in a large measure, they said, to wartime developments which are just now becoming available to the general consumer.

One advantage offered to a greater degree this fall than for many years is the ability of the wholesalers to make quick—sometimes spot—deliveries to the store owners and managers making purchases. This will allow the retailers to make full advantage of their purchases in the fall harvest season, officials declared.

Area Buyers Attend

Store owners from all over the Plains area, New Mexico and a few from Oklahoma were among those attending the Sunday market. Some who usually make their purchases in Dallas and other points were included in the group.

Of interest to the younger set, perhaps, were one or two prevues of what Santa Claus will have to pick from in the way of toys in towns throughout the area. Latest fashions in suits and dresses as well as hats which might decorate many Christmas trees on the Plains were also among the exhibits.

The fact that immediate deliveries of goods can be made prompted estimates that buying will be heavier in this market than in any previous ones. During the war-lean years merchants, and consumers in turn, took what they could get when they could get it, but the wholesalers agree that the times have definitely changed now. People know what they want and can usually find it somewhere when they want it, they said.

Congress Prepares

dent Truman made to Congress last January and since have gone down the drain along with changing economic conditions.

Almost forgotten—and likely to remain so — are his January requests for standby price-wage controls, new restrictions on consumer credits, authority to regulate the commodity exchanges, priorities on materials in short supply and authority for the government to build industrial plants.

Economic Plan Ignored

Mr. Truman got from the present session certain authority over transportation, export controls and a continuance of rent ceilings.

Congress paid little more attention to his mid-year economic program than it did to his January anti-inflation proposals.

He asked for and didn't get an increase in some taxes and repeal of the transportation levy, extension of the time limit on RFC loans to business, authority for an investment study, strengthening of the unemployment compensation system, and authority to guarantee investments abroad — the "point four" of his inaugural address.

Point four legislation is in the works and probably will get approval next year.

Congress voted the 75-cent minimum wage (which awaits final agreement on other points) authority to make loans to states for public works planning and the continuance of the reciprocal trade agreements program.

The lawmakers seem likely before they quit to write into law a new system of farm price supports. But whatever it is, Mr. Truman probably will be found plugging next year for the Brannan plan of subsidy payments to farmers Congress turned down.

Other issues on which the President didn't get action include St. Lawrence seaway and Columbia river proposals and settlement of the tidelands squabble.

He may get before adjournment a bill broadening the base for admission and increasing the number of displaced persons who can be admitted to this country.

On the credit side of the ledger, Mr. Truman fared best on international issues. Congress voted to continue the European Recovery program, approved a foreign arms proposal, provided economic assistance for Korea and extended reciprocal trade. The Senate ratified the Atlantic pact.

The President got government reorganization authority, although Congress killed his plan to create a Welfare department with cabinet status. Congress also passed a long-range housing bill.

COLOR, DURABILITY STRESSED

'New Look' Bathroom Shown By Architectural Tile, Terrazzo Co.

There's a "New Look" in bathrooms too!

According to the trained staff at Architectural Tile and Terrazzo Co., 708 Ave. Q, the keynote of decoration of the bathroom, as in decoration of all other rooms of the home, is color.

Gone are the days of the all-white bathrooms that had all the cheer and warmth of an Eskimo igloo!

But home owners, whether they're building or remodeling, naturally do not want to sacrifice the utility and durability of old-style bathrooms, even for color.

And, fortunately, they need not, for what other material has proved, time and again, its superiority as to wear and to expense-free upkeep in bathrooms as well as tile?

In the model "New Look" bathroom on display at the Architectural Tile and Terrazzo Co., soft green tiled walls blend perfectly with the green bathroom fixtures, and soft red and green wallpaper is used for pleasant contrast.

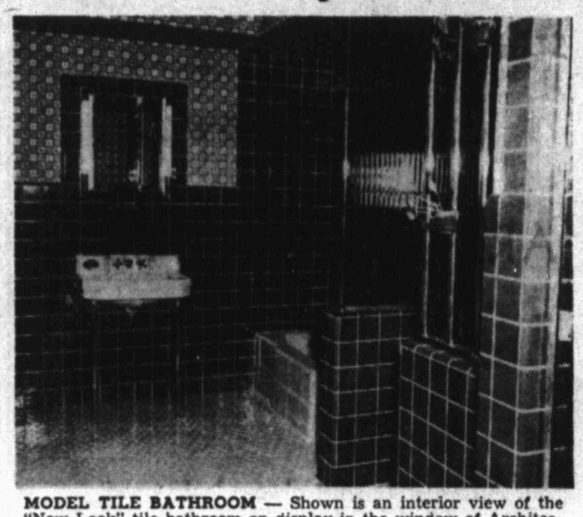

Possibly even more important, however, is the all-round durability and service incorporated in the materials used in the model bathroom. The tiled walls retain their true color year after year and never need repainting. The tile floor retains its luster without waxing. No amount of steam or moisture from the bathtub or shower will warp the walls or dull the finish.

Spilled shoe polish, nail enamel, or medicines can be wiped right up without permanent discoloration or damage to floors or walls.

Architectural Tile and Terrazzo Co. features clay tile and terrazzo as its principal products.

The company offers skilled installation of terrazzo floors or whatever terrazzo might be desired, in addition to furnishing and installing clay tile cabinets, walls, floors, mantle hearths, or wherever tile may be specified or desired.

The firm, which was established in February, 1946, is owned by J. Hershel Maxey. Further information about the company's products and services may be obtained by visiting the firm or by calling No. 4081.

MODEL TILE BATHROOM — Shown is an interior view of the "New Look" tile bathroom on display in the window of Architectural Tile and Terrazzo Co., 708 Ave. Q., which has created much favorable comment. The room is a blending of soft green walls and floor with green fixtures. Muted red and green wallpaper provides a note of contrast. A tiled shower is at extreme right foreground.

U. S. Freighter Runs Chinese Blockade

PUSAN, Korea, Oct. 9.(INS)—The U. S. freighter Flying Independent, detained for nine days by Chinese Nationalist blockaders, arrived in Pusan today with a million - dollar cargo of ECA goods for South Korea.

Aboard the Isbrandsten line vessel were 123 Korean refugees from China and two Americans who boarded the ship at Shanghai to return to the United States. She also carried 1,800 tons of Shanghai merchandise for American buyers.

The Korean agent for the Isbrandsten line confidently announced further schedules for running the Nationalist blockade of the Communist-held China coast.

Capt. Henry Starr, master of the Flying Independent, declared:

"I don't believe the blockade is effective. Otherwise we wouldn't have gone in."

He said the Nationalist destroyer escort which halted the Flying Independent in the Yangtze river was later sunk at Nanking by Nationalist bombers. Starr said a Nationalist officer claimed the destroyer's engine crew mutinied and killed the captain and deck officers.

The American skipper said he saw the destroyer's crewmen throwing blood-stained mattresses and clothing overboard.

E. V. Olsson, manager of the A. P. Patison company in Pusan, said the Isbrandsten line's Flying Trader is still in Shanghai and will stop at the Communist port of Tientsin before proceeding to Pusan with another cargo of ECA goods.

The Flying Cloud, also operated by Isbrandsten, is en route to Shanghai and is scheduled to call at Pusan Oct. 29.

Farrington Geron, of Mobile, Ala., purser of the Flying Independent identified the ships two American passengers as Peter Hopkins, 27, and Howard Roda, 47. He could not give their addresses.

SANTA FE, N. M., Oct. 9 (AP)— Organizational meeting of the Pecos River Compact commission probably will be held sometime this week.

President Truman signed the Pecos river compact, dividing waters of the Pecos river between Texas and New Mexico, June 9. The organizational meeting was to have been held four months after the signing. Bliss said the commission probably will meet this week. No date or place has been set.

The Appalachian Trail, a public hiking and riding track, extends 2,050 miles from Maine to Georgia.

It's a wonderful age! And the marvel of learning how to express himself comes first as a great adventure, and then as a challenge to accomplish new things. With a company, it is not too different. Its manpower is devoted to two objectives . . . one, to become a part of the community in which it is located and two, tell the story of how it can best serve the public it finds there.
We have tried earnestly to do these two tasks and have been rewarded generously in these two short years. For the recognition given our company we thank not only our policy holders but the community and area we seek to serve.

Garza And Terry Wells Are Completed

Scurry Tests Again Hold Oil Spotlight

Oil activity in Scurry county continued to dominate the area's drilling news over the weekend with completions of tests in Garza and Terry county also sharing the spotlight.

Standard Oil Company of Texas No. 1 Dunn, Canyon reef lime discovery in northwest Mitchell county, about eight and one-half miles southwest of the Sharon Ridge-Canyon field of southwest Scurry county flowed steadily for 22 hours from perforated section at 7,565-83 feet and averaged about 30 barrels of oil per hour and showed a very small shakeout of basic sediment and water.

It is understood that operator probably will complete new field opener and out it on production in the near future.

Drills To 8,000 Feet

The well kicked off and started flowing oil at the surface in 25 minutes after the drillstem testing tool was opened. The flow was through a one-half inch tubing choke.

In the first hour the flow was 41 barrels of oil. In the second hour 33 barrels of oil was put in the tanks and in the third hour the reservoir was 29 barrels of oil.

The section flowed steadily through 22 hours. The hourly gauges for the fourth through the 21st hour have not been officially reported.

However, during the 22nd hour the flow was 25 barrels of oil. Shakeout during the first three hours was less than three per cent sediment and water. Shakeout in the 22nd hour was practically nothing.

This well is five miles east of Vincent and 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 64, block 20, Lavaca Navigation survey.

It drilled to a total depth of 8,325 feet in the Ellenburger. That zone made only sulphur water with a slight show of gas.

The project is now plugged back to 7,585 feet in the Canyon reef horizon.

Sunray Oil corporation No. 1 Sentell, discovery for some sort of oil and gas production from the Strawn lime in North-Central Scurry county, two miles east of the nearest completed oil wells from the Canyon reef lime, is preparing to make production test on the open hole between 7,487 feet and the total depth at 7,508 feet.

Operator has cemented a string of 5½-inch casing at 7,487 feet.

The sections between 7,382 feet and 7,508 feet have shown flowing oil, or have flowed oil out of the drill pipe, after drillstem tests.

Operator is to try to make a well from the lower section and leave the upper pay cased off.

This exploration was low on the Canyon reef, and it failed to find any oil, gas or water in that horizon.

It is seven miles northeast of the town of Snyder and 467 feet from north and west lines of tract 2, Dallas Trust & Savings Bank subdivision of the Grimes Ranch in block 1, J. P. Smith survey.

Progress Petroleum company and associates No. 1 Carden, Central-North Scurry county wildcat, two miles north of the North Snyder Canyon field, and 12 miles north of the town of Snyder is credited in unofficial and unverified reports with having entered the Canyon reef at approximately 7,000 feet.

The venture is said to have drill-

Little Theater Play Set Tonight

The Lubbock Little Theater will open its second season tonight with the presentation of "Ah, Wilderness!", at 8 p.m., in the O. L. Slaton Junior High school auditorium.

Gene Looper will play the leading role, that of Nat Miller, blunt, family-loving publisher of a small town newspaper in Connecticut. Weldon George, who appeared in principal roles last year, is directing the show.

The play will be presented Tuesday as well as tonight, and will be dedicated to the personnel of Lubbock Air Force base and their families.

Tickets Still Available

Proceeds from the play and four others to be presented this season will be used to pay royalties and to provide more costumes and equipment for future plays.

Season tickets still can be purchased at the Charles William Aydelotte agency at 1313 College ave., for $6.50. Tickets also will be sold at the door. Reserved seats will be $1.80, general admission $1.20, and students, 60 cents, tax included.

Fifteen In Cast

The play, written by Eugene O'Neill, opens with a typical family situation on the Fourth of July around the turn of the century. From there, it works its way through difficulties encountered by son Richard, who revolts against the conventions of the day.

Cast of characters for the play totals 15. Charles Taylor will act as stage manager. Bert McGinnis, jr., will direct the lighting, with Mrs. McGinnis handling properties. Costume design is under the direction of Mrs. Marshall Harvey and Mallory Byrd. J. Glenn Garner is make-up supervisor.

Next production by the Lubbock Little Theater group will be "The Male Animal," early in December.

Abernathy, Plainview End Feud Over Use Of Slogan

By TOM DAVIS
Avalanche Staff Writer

The fuss between Abernathy and Plainview over the use of the slogan, "Where King Cotton Meets King Wheat," is all but over, and Hale Center can have the slogan if it wants it.

The Plainview Chamber of Commerce, along with The Plainview Herald, says Abernathy is welcome to it—that Plainview hasn't used it for years.

Meanwhile, The Abernathy Weekly Review, edited by Buford Davenport, is asking readers to submit new community slogans. "Community of Opportunity" has already been suggested.

Davenport explained that "what threw us into a state of excitement was the cotton-wheat slogan on a billboard on U. S. 87," south of Plainview.

One suggestion that came out of the friendly controversy called for two slogans, reading thusly:

"Plainview, Best Town North of Hale Center".

"Abernathy, Best Town South of Hale Center."

Big Yam At Levelland

The Hockley County Herald published at Levelland tells about a yam what am. The sweet potato, weighing 2½ pounds, was grown on the D. H. Carpenter farm, but its beginning was more unusual. The yam started in a jar at the Methodist church by Miss Ann Casner, church secretary, who gave the growing plant to Mrs. Carpenter. She divided it into 33 slips and from that number 26 lived.

Autograph Party Is Slated Today

Lewis Nordyke, prominent Amarillo newspaperman and author, will be at the Hemphill-Wells Co. bookstore today from 2 to 5 p.m., to autograph copies of his latest book "Cattle Empire."

The book, only recently published, has been selling rapidly in the past few days, according to Mrs. Mildred Hill, bookstore manager, who said that all who have bought copies are invited to bring them to be autographed by the author.

Story Of XIT Ranch

"Cattle Empire" tells the story of the famous XIT ranch which covered 3,000,000 acres of land along the Panhandle-South Plains-New Mexico border, and the cattle empire into which it developed.

The land was given to a group of Chicago financiers and businessmen as payment for the construction of the state capitol at Austin. Many thought that the Chicago men had received the worst end of the deal but later developments showed the shrewd and eccentric owners to have bought themselves a "gold mine."

Based On Much Research

Nordyke, who now writes a column for The Amarillo News-Globe, was inspired to write the book by tales he heard while working on a ranch during his youth. As a background for writing the book Nordyke did much research into the many tales he had heard, and found much authentic material in 60,000 letters and documents about the ranch which are on file in the Panhandle-Plains museum at Canyon.

Since graduation from the University of Missouri School of Journalism in 1933, Nordyke has worked on several Texas newspapers. He has worked for The Amarillo Globe-News since 1937.

Levelling-Off Seen On Texas Farmland

High Plains Cotton Land Holds Price

(By The Associated Press)

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 9. — Have a hankering to buy a Texas farm? Here's good news:

After climbing steadily for ten years the average price of Texas farmland is levelling off.

The levelling-off showed up for the first time in 1948, a Texas A. and M. news release showed today. But the drop from 1947 wasn't much — just one per cent.

Significant, however, was a much sharper drop in volume of farmland sales — 15 per cent. Total acreage sold dropped 20 per cent.

Some Areas Show Boosts

The A. and M. experts are John H. Southern, agricultural economist of the USDA Bureau of Agricultural economics, and Wayne C. Rohrer of A. and M.'s department of Agricultural Economics and Sociology.

Average land prices increased in seven type-of-farming areas during 1948. The areas, together with the 1947 and 1948 average prices and percentage of increase, are:

High Plains cotton, 1947 average price $64.70, 1948 average price $75.00, up 15.9 per cent.

Low rolling plains, $65.41, $75.50, 15.4 per cent.

Edwards Plateau and central basin, $35.98, $40.32, 12.1 per cent.

Piney woods lumbering, $30.99, $35.42, 11.2 per cent.

Northeast sandy lands, $27.78, $30.15, 8.5 per cent.

Panhandle wheat, $30.50, $32.01, 5 per cent.

Grand prairie, $34.00, $35.67, 4.9 per cent.

Average sales price of land in the remaining areas of the state fell. The areas, with the 1947 and 1948 average prices and percentage of decrease, are:

Blackland prairie, 1947 average price $65.84, 1948 average price $63.37, down 4.2 per cent.

Coastal prairie, $55.08, $51.37, down 6.7 per cent.

West cross timbers farming, $32.72, $30.54, 6.7 per cent.

Rio Grande plains, $50.17, $42.58, 15.1 per cent.

Post-oak, $30.99, $24.33, 21.5 per cent.

Upper Rio Grande valley irrigated, $891.89, $624.00, 31.9 per cent.

1950 Cotton Control

THE virtual certainty of cotton acreage controls next year is causing considerable uneasiness. Many of the so-called experts, as well as farmers, business men and taxpayers generally are wondering: What will cotton controls do to other crops?

Millions of fertile acres now devoted to cotton will be planted in other crops. Farmers could not afford, even is so disposed, to allow this land to lie fallow. They will attempt to produce something. Will the result be large surpluses of other types?

The new crops planted on present cotton land naturally will vary with localities. Many of the products of several kinds will be used for feeding on the farm, to produce more meat. In many localities, including our own, farmers are being advised to stock with more dairy cattle. The reductions in cotton acreage are likely to lead to increases in the plantings of nearly all other major crops.

If such surpluses do occur, they unquestionably will stimulate the demand for increased government support for more crops. Even the most vigorous advocates of the support system acknowledge there are limits as to how much money can be squeezed out of taxpayers for this purpose.

This does not criticise the prospect of cotton controls. Perhaps they are necessary. Certainly the leaders in the cotton industry appear to agree that something must be done to curb mounting surpluses.

But little will be gained if the prevention of one surplus should create a great many others.

It is a possibility which clearly justifies uneasiness and the efforts which, happily, are being made to anticipate and solve the problem before it actually is upon us.

One For The Book!

ONE of the most astonishing documents we have seen in some time is a booklet titled, "Tanstaafl—A Plan for a New Economic World Order."

The authorship is credited to one "Pierre Dos Utt," identified vaguely as having taught in many universities, none of which is named.

"Professor Dos Utt," if there is such a person, proposes to scrap the "folderol" of democratic government completely. He would replace it with an "absolute triumvirate — three men of equal authority" whose power over everyone and everything would be complete.

He does not say who these dictators should be, nor how they should be chosen. But he backs up his argument with quotations taken from such eminent authorities as Karl Marx, Bob Nathan (the CIO's propagandist on economics), Rousseau, Rabelais and others.

At the conclusion of the whole matter, "Professor Dos Utt" winds up with a parable and then explains the source of the title of his plan, "Tanstaafl."

It comes from the phrase "There Ain't No Such Thing As A Free Lunch!"

Come to think about it, "Professor Dos Utt's" treatise on our economic ills and how to cure them is just about as intelligent as those advanced in all seriousness by real, live economic experts."

Not Too Ridiculous

U. S. Senator Robert Taft declares "the theory that the government should become the dispenser of everything a person needs during a lifetime is ridiculous."

It is, senator. Certainly is.

That is, it is ridiculous in the eyes of everyone except politicians willing to promise anything to get elected and those voters who have not yet learned that it is impossible to get something for nothing.

There are many of the former — and 'way too many of the latter!

Cheer up. You now belong to the generation who 25 years ago they said were going to the dogs.

An investigating committee is usually equipped with white-wash or a smear brush.

The overage life span in the United States is 66.8 years. But you can help reduce the average by careless driving.

Someone To Love

BY IRENE LONNEN ERNHART

THE STORY: When Tod Duncan's fiance, Liz Conover, elopes with another man, Tod turns to his old friend Jenny Peiseka for comfort. Jenny has always had a crush on Tod but when Tod proposes she is afraid it is "on the rebound." Tod says it is not and Jenny accepts. What Jenny does not know is that Tod has seen a picture of Liz on her return from her honeymoon. Tod plans to get married quickly, and forget Liz, but he finds that Liz's father is calling his home, trying to get Tod to accept a job in his firm. Tod tells his mother he has "other plans," but he does not tell her that he intends to marry Jenny.)

VI

THE three days passed in an excited whirl for Jenny. The girls at the shop gave her a shower; wonderful accessories to go with the cloud pink suit in which she would be married.

Max gave her a hat, a dream, cloud pink to match the suit. She had protested, knowing the exclusive label and the price. But Max insisted.

"Just promise me one thing, Jenny darling," he said. "Don't quit the shop. You're the best model I've got."

"I'm not quitting. You needn't worry about that," Jenny said, tucking the hat into its crisp tissue paper nest in the new hatbox. "Tod's planning to finish college next winter, and he won't have a scholarship this time. I'll have to keep working."

"Fine!" Max gave her a quick hug. "I hope your Tod goes on and on with his schooling, if it means you'll stay that much longer."

"I'm not that good," Jenny protested, laughing. Everything was wonderful and so exciting.

Tod was to be out on his sales territory in the southern part of the state Tuesday and Wednesday but Thursday morning he would get their license and go to a justice of the peace. They hadn't had time to talk about the details, but Jenny had expected that Tod would bring his mother with him. She was rather surprised on Thursday morning when Tod turned up alone. He hadn't even told his family.

"But darling," Jenny said, as they drove off. "It's bound to upset your mother this way."

Tod frowned. He did feel guilty for not having told his mother. And the guilt gave rise to irritation as he said, "They'd have raised a fuss."

"A fuss?"

"YOU know how they are."

"You mean they wouldn't want you to marry me?"

"It isn't that they don't like you, Jenny." Tod's hands tightened on the wheel.

"Then why should they raise a fuss? Don't they want you to get married?"

"No, it's not that exactly." Real impatience was in his voice now. "It's just—well you know how they felt about my marrying Liz. And Mr. Conover phoned wanting my answer about that job, and I wasn't there, and you know how Ma is; she got all excited, naturally. They all did."

"About what."

"About the job. Ma got all worked up about Liz again, and got some crazy idea in her head about—" He broke off and glanced at Jenny anxiously. "This is no time to be talking about Liz, or any silly notions Ma has. In a few minutes we'll be married."

"Are you sure, Tod," Jenny faltered.

"Sure I want to marry you?" He grinned at her, blue eyes quizzical.

She nodded, a funny lump coming into her throat.

"You silly kid." He brought the car to a stop in front of the faded red brick building with its dingy "Justice of the Peace" sign hanging above the doorway. "I wouldn't have asked you if I hadn't wanted you, would I?"

"No." She went into his arms for a moment, felt the urgency of his mouth on hers, his hand pressed against her throat. Suddenly all her doubts were dissolved.

THE ceremony in the shabby garish parlor had neither dignity nor reality. Jenny always remembered the threadbare red carpet, the framed mottoes on the walls, the bouquet of dusty paper roses on the battered upright piano, the limp soiled lace curtains at the windows.

Tod felt a lack too, and when they were back in the car he said, "I'm sorry it wasn't something better, Jenny. We should have gone to a church and done it right."

"It doesn't matter really, Tod," Jenny whispered. "It isn't the ceremony—but the years that come after it that matter anyway. I hope they'll be good years for us both and last the rest of our lives."

"I hope so too," Tod said slowly. He felt a little shaky, wishing all at once that he had never known anyone but Jenny, that he had never been in love with anyone else. "Well," he said rather grimly, "from now on we'll do it right, at least. Bridal suites and champagne and stuff."

But whatever Tod meant by "champagne and stuff," there was very little luxury on the honeymoon trip.

They had meant to reach Chicago by evening, but something went wrong with the car, and they were stranded in northern Indiana.

Of their honeymoon Jenny remembered more clearly than anything else the cramped little tourist cottage where they spent that night together; the sleezy blue spread on the chipped white enameled iron bed, the old insurance calendar on the wall, the fly-specked light bulb, the smoky cracked mirror on the dresser; and the smell of frying hamburgers from the all-night truck stop restaurant nearby mingled with the country smells of hay and clover and honeysuckle and dust; the roar of traffic pounding by on the state highway, plus the sound of music from the jukebox in the roadside tavern.

A Texan In Washington

BY SARAH McCLENDON
Avalanche Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9. — Specific plans for war industrial mobilization include a number of Texas plants.

While industrial mobilization may be considered to be far ahead of civilian preparedness in the various communities, that, too, is expected to consume American attention in the months to come.

Defense Secretary Louis Johnson told the American Ordnance Association recently that "We are ahead in this one respect at least. He referred to a plan for industrial mobilization which had been drawn up before Pearl Harbor but which was not working because of attack from certain quarters. Today, there is one, and as Johnson pointed out, no longer are industrialists who are preparing labeled war mongers. Johnson termed them actually peace mongers. He said the American public can be assured that every effort is being made to rush industrial mobilization.

Have Standby Plants

"Already we have selected some 700 items representing approximately 50 percent of the dollar value of wartime procurement for special allocation to industry and their wartime requirements will be available before the first of the year. These are all items of the highest essential importance in the waging of war.

"We are working on a plan for priorities and allocations that will be the management tools to direct industrial production and distribution and the construction or expansion of facilities.

"We have lined up stand-by plants for use in emergency. During World War II, the government built 1595 plants at a cost of approximately 12 ½ billion dollars. About two-thirds of them are currently held in our reserves.

"WE are allocating production to private industrial plants so that our suppliers will know in advance what we expect them to produce in an emergency.

"We are working on a reserve of 182,000 items of tools and other equipment. One hundred eight thousand pieces already have been placed in such reserve by the armed services. An additional 7,000 have been placed in the National Industrial Equipment Reserve. We have estimated our M-day needs and tentative orders for new equipment have been placed with machine tools manufacturers, who can start building the tools on a moment's notice.

"In the manpower field, we are working closely with the National Security Resources Board on such matters as training workers, using skills to the best advantage, placing production orders in areas where the labor supply is relatively abundant, and assisting in-

ON SOCIAL PROGRAM

HST Given Warning

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, — Although no high Administration Official will admit it, President Truman's less politically minded aides have warned him that the collision of his demands for expansion of Social Security coverage and his labor allies' insistence on pensions and welfare benefits from industry have messed up the program for guaranteeing safeguards against want to millions of Americans.

TUCKER

The conclusion of President Truman's fact-finding committee in the steel dispute was generally praised for its seeming restraint. It barred any wage increase, but it recommended industry's establishment of penisons and welfare benefits without any contribution by Philip Murray's union members.

Thus it set a pattern which Henry Ford II has followed to settle his differences with Walter P. Reuther's CIO followers. As John L. Lewis has shifted the pension costs to the consumers through a tax of 20 cents on each ton of coal, and Mr. Ford's benefits must come out of the selling price of his cars.

STRIKES: Although it is not generally known, Mr. Truman was not as satisfied with his fact-finding committee's report as he is supposed to be.

Any settlement in steel and other industries based on the Daugherty-Cole-Rosenman verdict will jeopardize the White House demand for larger Security benefits.

It will also precipitate strikes among workers who do not now share in benefits financed wholly by their employers.

PREFERENTIAL: The Truman proposal for expanding Social Security requires that most of the beneficiaries contribute to the unemployed or old-age insurance fund. The federal system also requires almost 3,000,000 employees to kick in about 6 per cent of their pay.

Many private pension schemes now in effect require contributions by employees, which they make willingly in return for assurance of some support in the twilight of life.

But now comes Mr. Murray — and there will be many more demands if he wins with an insistence that his steel workers be given preferential treatment on the basis of President Truman's seeming sponsorship of free pensions through the fact-finding committee.

"FREE": The question which the steel strike, the coal walkout and other stoppages imminent in key industries places on the White House doorstep is this:

Shall a few powerful unions, which attained their present stature and bargaining power only because of their unswerving support of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt and Mr. Truman in the last five presidential campaigns, get FREE—that is the word—pensions and protection while many other millions of unorganized employees, federal workers and Social Security beneficiaries turn over a certain percentage of their weekly wages to finance unemployment and old-age grants?

Mr. Truman's less politically interested assistants also point out that, as against a total labor force of approximately 60 million, only about 15 million are employed in industry as members of the three great unions — the A F of L, the CIOL and the United Mine Workers.

DILEMMA: Thus any pension pattern based on the Murray-Lewis demand and program would benefit only a small proportion of the nation's workers. Either the rest must suffer in silence, or they must organize so that they, too, may wrest free pensions and medical care and burial services from their employers.

This is the politico-economic dilemma into which President Truman has been tossed by the work of his fact-finding committee, which he named only in a desperate effort to escape resort to Taft-Hartley provisions for settling or preventing major strikes.

DISCRIMINATION: The steel strike, the coal walkout and other labor disputes may kill any chance of passing the White House proposal for an improved Social Security program at this session of Congress.

If that should be the result of Mr. Murray's defiance of his presidential pal, millions of unorganized Americans will suffer discrimination.

Congress will not—in fact, cannot—impose a heavier Social Security tax on employees and employers, in order to increase monthly payments from an average of $25 to $50, if President Truman's political friends in the C.I.O., the U.M.W. and the A.F. of L. are to win even larger benefit payments without putting a nickel into the general kitty.

The result will be that millions will suffer from the political squeeze organized labor is applying to the White House.

LETDOWN: Herbert Hoover recently described the worst letdown of his life, next to his 1932 defeat, in a conversation with an old newspaper friend, James L. Wright, Washington correspondent of the Buffalo News.

"I was leaving the Waldorf-Astoria one morning," said the former President, "Then a street urchin accosted me, and asked me for my autograph. I gave it to him, and was quite happy that I should have been remembered. Then he asked me for a second autograph. When I inquired why he wanted two of the same kind, he replied in all seriousness:—

"'You see, I can get one of Babe Ruth for two of yours!'"

The name of the immortal Babe dates the ancedote. Perhaps the exchange might not be so anti-Hooverish now.

This is a strong nation, otherwise Abbott and Costello couldn't have made 25 pictures together and both the nation and the actors survive.

No wonder there's a profound respect for the medical profession. The doctor writes a prescription so the patient can't read it.

The faster life a person leads usually the quicker death overtakes him.

Some people have the wrong view. Many think education makes the man when after all, character is the essential thing.

CHANGES IN ATTITUDES SEEN

Security Program Is Example

BY THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Overwhelming approval by the House this week of the expanded social security program offers a significant case history of our times.

With all the attendant circumstances it reveals the slowly changing attitude of our nation.

STOKES

This was plain enough in the last election — for those who would see. Since then, however, it has become somewhat obscured by the noisy wolf cry from some quarters about "the welfare state."

Many who have joined in this hue and cry were talking about this bill in their broadsides, among other measures, though they did not specify it. Why they did not identify it by name is explained by what happened in the House.

Vote Was Overwhelming

For, when the representatives of the people were counted, only a baker's dozen —13 — voted against the bill that extends coverage to eleven million more persons, increases old-age pensions, and provides compensation for those incapacitated to work through no fault of their own. That included only two Democrats, showing the solidarity of President Truman's party on this issue.

The Senate is sure to complete action in the next session of this Congress, beginning in January, on this keystone in President Truman's welfare program, and thus make it the law of the land.

THE overwhelming vote caused surprise in some quarters. It should not have. A current factor in hurrying up House action, it is true, was the issue in the steel strike — the union's demand for the companies to pay the whole cost of a pension plan in that industry. It was believed that assurance of a federal law providing bigger old-age benefits and with employes also contributing, as the federal system requires, would minimize drives in other industries for higher benefits paid for by the companies alone which, like that in the steel industry, might precipitate more strikes.

But, aside from this current and minor factor, the real story in the House's overwhelming vote is the general acceptance now of social security among our people, including industrial leaders. The House vote dramatized that.

For, as was pointed out in the debate by Rep. John Carroll (D.-Colo.), not only the U. S. Chamber of Commerce by the insurance industry advocated an extension program, though the insurance companies were against the increase from $3,000 to $3,600 in the wage base to be used in estimating benefits.

Insurance companies were against the original law in 1935. Why has their position changed?

"Well," explained Rep. Carroll, "they have changed because they discovered that as these millions of Americans were given this limited type of insurance, the people became insurance conscious, and therefore it stimulated private insurance business."

Has Lowered Rates

This is exactly what has happened in the case of another reform of recent years which is embraced in the federal government's "yardstick" public power program, as President Roosevelt termed it, and in more effective regulation of private utilities.

The former induced private utilities to expand their own services, which enlarged their own market both for electricity and for accessories. More effective regulation has lowered rates and thus enlarged the volume of electricity sold, all of which has increased revenues of private utilities.

FOR this reason it is hard to understand why the utilities still are fighting the "yardstick" public power program and trying to weaken federal regulation, the latter manifest at present in the attempt to defeat confirmation of Leland Olds, a champion of effective and fair regulation, for a third term on the Federal Power commission where he has served already for 10 years.

In this latter case, as in his election campaign for social security expansion, President Truman has gone to the public to try to save Mr. Olds from the vengeance of the electric and natural gas utilities and oil interests. This he did in his letter to the Senate and by his orders to Chairman William Boyle of the Democratic National committee to build up a backfire on the Senate from the public on behalf of Mr. Olds.

The Persie, a big new twin-screw refrigerated liner 561 feet long, with capacity of 514,000 cubic feet for refrigerated cargo alone, soon will enter the United Kingdom-Australia-New Zealand service.

IN DEVELOPING NEW LAND

Specialists Urge Generous Use Of Nitrogen Fertilizer On Soil

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (INS)—Soils specialists said today that new irrigated lands being opened in the west need generous applications of nitrogen fertilizer even before the first crop is in.

They said it takes about 240 pounds of nitrogen, the equivalent of half a ton of commercial fertilizer, per acre to do the job properly when the land is to be sown to corn. If the crop is to be potatoes, it takes about half that much.

The specialists claimed that nitrogen is equally important with water in bringing these new lands into production—that supplying one without an equivalent amount of the other is wasteful of time, labor and material.

Must Pay Certain Price

Experiments show that after the first few harvests there may be a need for changes in fertilizer usage. Most of the new lands have a good supply of potassium in the soil and most of them have enough phosphorous for a few crops.

The Agriculture Department announces that it will continue to support egg prices in the Midwest surplus producing area during November and December at the present level.

Under the current program, egg buyers must certify that they have paid farmers at least 35 cents a dozen for shell eggs. The government then buys the eggs in dried form from commercial buyers.

Stocks Are Larger

At latest report, government-owned egg stocks were very large with no immediate prospect that a suitable market will be found.

The Senate Agriculture committee a few weeks ago laid aside a proposal to cut off egg supports immediately. Agriculture officials told them such a step would be interpreted by farmers as the government going back on a pledge.

The beginning of National Fire Prevention week on Sunday called to mind that about two-thirds of all the property insured by farmers is protected by farm mutual insurance companies.

Most of these companies have headquarters and do business in the northern half of the country. Four out of five of them operate in the Middle Atlantic and north central states.

Mutual insurance costs vary widely with the section of the country—the national average being a little more than 24 cents per hundred dollars of protection.

Four New Trustees Named To Trinity University Board

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 9. (AP)—Election of four new members to the board of trustees of Trinity university was announced Sunday by Dr. Monroe G. Everett, president of the university.

New members are Henry Cofield of Marfa, cattleman, who succeeds W. D. Anderson of Waxahachie, resigned after 30 years service; Frank Danley Newton, vice-president of the First National bank of Jacksonville, who will take the position left vacant by the death of C. H. Coleman of Athens; the Rev. Kenneth Mauldin, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Port Arthur, who succeeds Dr. Matthew H. Arnold of Corsicana and the Rev. J. Hoytt Boles of Denton, who succeeds Dr. Harry Sarles, pastor of City Temple Presbyterian church of Dallas, resigned.

Los Alamos Assured Of Gas Supply For Heat And Power

LOS ALAMOS, N. M., Oct. 9. (INS)— The manager of Los Alamos, New Mexico's atomic city, today declared that the bustling atom community can now feel assured of uninterrupted supplies of gas for heat and power for the forseeable future.

Manager Carroll L. Tyler based his statement on the completion of a new 95-mile 12-inch natural gas pipeline from wells in the San Juan field in northern New Mexico to Los Alamos. He also reported the negotiation of a 25-year contract with Southern Union Gas company.

The new pipeline will supplant an existing system that also serves Albuquerque, Bernalillo and Santa Fe. Using the old pipeline, Tyler said, the operation of the Las Alamos scientific laboratory had to be curtailed on several occasions.

The new pipeline is described as following the "most scenic route of any in the world."

Total government investment in the new gas system project will be $4,400,000.

Talks To End Rail Dispute Set Today

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 9 (AP)—Direct negotiations, designed to end the Missouri Pacific railroad walkout, are scheduled to begin Monday morning (9 a. m., CST).

Guy A. Thompson, trustee for the railroad, and heads of the four striking brotherhoods will discuss the 282 issues which caused the walkout, now in its fifth week.

The meeting is part of an agreement between the two sides formulated at a two-days conference of governors from states affected by the strike. The conference was called by Missouri's chief executive Forrest Smith, who said he believed Missouri Pacific trains would be running by the end of the week.

Previous meetings between company and union heads got nowhere. The company insisted the 282 claims be arbitrated. The unions demanded direct negotiations.

Scurry Oil Activity Continues To Hold Spotlight Over Area

ed a short distance into that zone, and it was understood to be slated to run a drillstem test.

Operators have been withholding all information on this prospector and it was not possible to get a more accurate report.

Interested observers think the venture would probably be just on top of the Canyon water table at 7,000 feet. The elevation is about 2,500 feet, and the Canyon water in the North Snyder field is at about minus 4,500 feet.

This wildcat is 660 feet from east and 467 feet from south lines of section 503, block 97, H&TC survey.

Garza Well Completed

Herman & George R. Brown of Houston have completed their No. 1 G. W. Basinger, wildcat 11 miles northwest of Post in Northwest Garza county.

The new pumper made 86 barrels of 36.8-gravity oil in a 24-hour period, plus 40 per cent water.

The production from the Permian lime was from perforations between 3,526-3,536 feet. That section was treated with 2,000 gallons of acid.

The venture drilled to a total depth of 3,581 feet and cemented a string of 7-inch casing at that point. It plugged back to 3,547 feet for the completion.

Location is 330 feet from northeast and 972.2 feet from north lines of the lease in section 726, B. Hall survey 893.

Terry Well Flows

Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware No. 2 E. M. Hinson, second producer from the Canyon lime of the Pennsylvanian in the Mound Lake field of Northeast Terry county about eight miles northeast of Brownfield, flowed 234 barrels of oil through a three-eights inch tubing choke in a 24-hour period.

The flow was from the Canyon lime at 9,400-35 feet. No water was reported.

Pressure in the formation was extremely low and operator will probably install a pump to lift the oil out if necessary.

It is one-quarter of a mile south of the discovery well of the Mound Lake field, and 660 feet from south and west lines of the northwest quarter of section 91, block 4-X, EL&RR survey.

Garza Test Slated

E. F. Cesinger of Dallas is to drill a 3,600-foot exploration in Central Garza county, two miles south of Post to test in the San Andres lime of the Permain, which is the pay zone in the nearby Garza field.

Operator classes No. 2 Montgomery-Davies as a wildcat which is to be located 330 feet from south and east lines of section 10, K. Aycock survey.

Drilling will be with rotary tools.

Spartan Drilling Company, Gene Goff, and associates No. 1-A Hardy, stepout from the Goff and others No. 1 Ohlenbusch, recently completed north extender to the Kelly-Canyon field in Central Scurry county, topped the Canyon reef at 6,769 feet to give it a datum of minus 4,363 feet and make it 30 feet high to the No. 1 Ohlenbusch.

It topped the porous zone at 6,773 feet. A core is being cut from 6,775 feet to 6,787 feet. If it showed for production operators will set pipe and complete.

Location is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 207, block 97, H&TC survey.

Wheelock and Burdell No. 1 Cook, 660 feet from south and west lines of the southeast quarter of section 249, block 97, H&TC survey, one quarter of a mile north of the Livermore, et al, No. 1 Woodson, on the northwest side of the Kelly field, topped the reef at 6,703 feet to make it 34 feet high to the Livermore producer. It is drilling deeper.

Livermore, et al, No. 2 Woodson, 660 feet from north and east lines of section 209, block 97, H&TC survey, and one location east of the same operators No. 1 Woodson, reached the top of the Canyon reef at 6,670 feet, to make it 40 feet high to the producer to the west, and was boring deeper.

Standard Oil Company of Texas has staked locations for three new explorations in the North Snyder field of North Central Scurry county, all of which are to drill to 7,000 feet to explore to Canyon reef lime, using rotary tools.

The company's No. 11-6 J. W. Brown will be located 680 feet from north and east lines of the north half of section 450, block 97, H&TC survey. That makes it 11 miles north of Snyder.

Standard No. 8-2 Brown is to be located 680 feet from south and 1,980 feet from west lines of the north half section 449, block 97, H&TC survey, and 11 miles north of Snyder.

Standard No. 6 Jap Beck is 660 feet from south an 1,980 feet from east lines of section 393, block 97, H&TC survey. It is nine miles north of Snyder.

dustry with respect to manpower priorities."

Johnson outlined other plans — over $900,000,000 of strategic materials already purchased and stockpiled. Complete purchasing responsibility assigned to a single department. New uniform procurement regulations 75 percent complete. A single catalog system detailing the millions of items used by Army, Navy and Air Force in progress to be completed in 1952. Progress is being made on standardization of equipment.

Johnson knows something about planning such a program. In 1937, this was his job as assistant secretary of War. He estimates that plans undertaken then put this country a year ahead of what it would have been when war came. He is determined to make it possible for the country to mobilize in much less time.

Texas Industries Named

Congress has helped greatly in this mobilization. Following reports from Donald M. Nelson in 1947, Congress passed a law authorizing certain plants to be put in the National Industrial Reserve. According to the Munitions board report, dated April 1, 1949, these include: Consolidated Steel corporation, Orange; Globe Aircraft Corporation, Fort Worth; Tin Processing Corporation, Texas City; Todd Houston Shipbuilding corporation, Houston; Dow Chemical company, Freeport; Dow Magnesium, Velasco; American Zinc company, Dumas, Texas, and Bluebonnnet Ordnance, McGregor.

The report mentions that privately owned shipyards in peacetime carry on preparedness work when they continue to operate as they develop know-how and keep manpower abreast of techniques.

THE importance of the General American Transportation company which transported oil from the Gulf to the east Florida coast is mentioned.

So are Pantex Ordnance company, Amarillo, American Rolling Mills, Houston, the alumina plant at Baton Rough La., and the Mathieson Alkali works at Lake Charles.

The huge oil refineries, the gas fields, shipping facilities, rubber plants, long staple cotton, and thousands of other plants and products of Texas which would be immediately mobilized but which carry on normal productive operations in peacetime are all part of the giant plan for quick industrial conversion should America need it.

These and the fact that Texas will be the center of training for the military largely because of her inland position and excellent weather and terrain conditions mean that the state will be kept extremely busy working for the defense of the nation and to take care of expected increases in population.

USDA Reports Outlook Good For Texas Winter Vegetables

AUSTIN, Oct. 9 (AP)—The outlook is good for fall and early winter commercial vegetables in Texas, the U. S. Department of Agriculture said today.

Fall crop plantings are well advanced and planting of hardy type vegetables for early winter harvest had made good headway by the latter part of September. Most sections had favorable weather for harvesting their large acreages of summer field crops, mainly cotton, and with few exceptions, fields for planting winter crops are in very good condition.

The lower Rio Grande valley has had ample water supply for irrigation. Heavy rains were received the week ending September 26. Field work was stopped but all growing crops were helped.

Tender crops in the Laredo-winter garden-Eagle Pass districts are well advanced. Planting of beets, carrots, spinach, and transplanting of cabbage, cauliflower, and broccoli was being made in a little heavier volume than usual. The non-irrigated coastal bend section had favorable moisture conditions in scattered sections.

Temperatures the latter part of September were favorable for fall crops.

CHICAGO, Oct. 9 (INS)—The Cook county coroner's office will hold an inquest tomorrow into the death of a 72-year-old man whose body was found in a Humboldt park lily pond.

The body was discovered early this morning by a patrolman making his regular rounds. It was identified by a son as that of Ole Sorensen.

The son, Earl, said he knew of no reason why his father should want to take his own life. The body was found face down indicating the elderly man may have tripped and fallen into the pond. There were no marks of violence.

Russia Prepares To Take East Germany Into Cominform Bloc

By DANIEL DE LUCE
Associated Press Staff Writer

BERLIN, Oct. 9. — Russia prepared a place in the Cominform today for the new East German republic. It will take its place with the new Communist regime for China in the world jigsaw now being fitted together by the Kremlin.

Communist leaders of the new German state expressed certainty that its "sovereignty and independence" would be recognized formally by the Soviet government.

The Soviet declaration is to be made Tuesday at the same time Wilhelm Pieck, 73, former Moscow expatriate, is elected president of the republic.

Foreign Policy Outlined

A carefully edited article outlining East German foreign policy appeared in the official newspapper, Taegliche Rundschau. It scornfully denounced the Allied-sponsored West German republic as a puppet without any voice in Germany's foreign affairs.

Contrasting such helplessness with the foreign minister whom the eastern republic will have from the outset, the article forecast his actions:

He will "seek the conclusion of a peace treaty and withdrawal of all occupation troops."

He will participate in a "peace front against imperialistic warmongers in the whole world." This is the Cominform's description of itself.

He will negotiate trade treaties with the Soviet Union and eastern European satellites "which are the natural commercial partners of Germany."

He will establish friendly diplomatic and trade relations with Communist China.

He will refuse to accept any loans from "foreign capitalistic monopolies." There was no mention, in this connection, of yesterday's $150,000,000 trade deal between East and West Germany.

Russian military government units throughout Eastern Germany are ready to dissolve after the Soviet award of sovereignty" to the new state on Tuesday.

If all goes well with the Communistic eastern republic, Red party spokesmen hint, it may win a peace treaty from Moscow next year and bring the occupation to a speedy end.

TRUMAN RETURNS HOME

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9. (AP)—President Truman returned to Blair House tonight after a quiet weekend in Virginia. Former Democratic Leader Urges Election Of Dulles

NEW YORK, Oct. 9. (INS)— John W. Davis, Democratic candidate for president in 1924, today urged the election of Republican Senator John Foster Dulles to the Senate to "strengthen our national nonpartisan policy in foreign relations."

In a letter of endorsement, Davis declared: "No man of my acquaintance has made a deeper study of the questions confronting us or has had more personal contact with the conduct of international affairs. He should be drafted for continued service."

Dulles is opposed by former New York Governor Herbert H. Lehman.

building rent property these days is somewhat of a gamble, but no more so than at any other time.

"No one is able to predict with certainty that an oil field will ever be developed here, but we do know that quite a number of people will be engaged in the business of trying to find it for the next few years.

"No one can say that crops will be good over a period of years, but we do know that there will be more and more irrigation wells and that prices will remain at a fair price because of government support.

"No one can be assured that Crosbyton will continue to grow, but every 10 year census has shown a substantial increase in population."

Curry points out that Crosbyton is losing business because of the housing shortage and will continue to lose business until something is done about it.

O'Donnell Plans New Jail

O'Donnell will start construction on a new jail this week, according to The O'Donnell Index-Press. The new jail, to be located north of the telephone office, will cost an estimated $1,500 and will include offices for Judge Bill Brown and Deputy Bairrington. Cells capable of holding eight to 10 men will be in the rear of the building and fireproof construction will be used.

Contest Is Suggested

Elmer McKinney, distributive education teacher at the Littlefield High school, is toying with the idea of interesting some organization in sponsoring a Best Salesman (or Saleslady) of the Month contest, the competition to be centered in Littlefield stores.

Allen Hodges, publisher of The County Wide News, says in his column "Hodge-Podge," that he thinks it's an excellent idea.

"Such a contest would certainly serve to put the sales clerks on their respective toes, not to mention the store owers themselves."

Lawyers that come and go were the subject of an article in The Yoakum County Review, published at Plains.

"It was a great time 10 years ago for all classes of professional men to come to Yoakum county. Some came thinking they would be rich in just a few days while others knowing what oil excitement means were not so sure of success," the newspaper said.

"At times, in those early days of the oil industry, going was hard and it took a sticker to stay. This was the case with lawyers as well as with others.

"At one time, seven attorneys lived in Denver City. All have gone to greener fields with the exception of J. P. Williams, who is the present county attorney, who weathered the storm by the help of his wife. They operated a news stand and a real estate office and kept body and soul together, and they are not planning on leaving the county.

"In these 10 years, they have by careful planning, accumulated property, while Mr. Williams has a good private law practice."

McCloy Says German Guarantees Necessary To Halt Dismantling

FRANKFURT, Germany, Oct. 9. (AP) — U. S. High Commissioner John J. McCloy said tonight he does not favor an end of Allied dismantling "unless and until guarantees as to security and reparation can be given by Germany sufficiently strong to justify it."

In a prepared statement, McCloy said the question of dismantling is not in the hands of the Allied high commissioners and is a governmental matter. He added that the governments involved have already stated their position with reference to dismantling.

McCloy said his statement was made in reply to inquiries on the dismantling question.

He declared it a highly technical subject in which a detailed study is required.

"My colleagues views are their own and I would not attempt naturally to express them or to imply them. Certainly I have had no intimations from either of them that their views towards dismantling differ in the slightest degree from those of their governments."

The British and French are going ahead with their dismantling, and British officials said they expected to be finished by the end of 1950.

"I have frequently been asked my personal view," McCloy said, "my personal view does not favor a cessation of dismantling unless and until guarantees as to security and reparation can be given by Germany sufficiently strong to justify it."

McCloy's statement followed publication in German newspapers today of an interview attributed to him. In it, McCloy was quoted as having recommended creation of international military control over Ruhr industry in place of dismantling. Such a control he was quoted as having said, would prevent reestablishment of war industries.

McCloy also was represented in the story as having described dismantling as a "lost cause."

McCloy's offices said he had made no statements for publication, but later said he had talked off the record to an International News Service representative.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, addressing a Hamburg meeting, quoted a "recent interview" by McCloy on dismantling, and said Germans could well ascribe themselves to these views. He did not syecify the interview, but his party officials said he referred to the dismantling story carried by German newspapers today.

London Paper Claims Bevan Favored Over Attlee As Leader

LONDON, Oct. 9 (INS)—The London Sunday Pictorial said tonight that in a straw vote Aneurin Bevin, sharp-tongued British health minister, is a "landslide favorite" over Clement Attlee as next Laborite prime minister if the Socialists win a new election.

The results of the unofficial poll of 10,609 persons, the newspaper said, "will shock party heads." It gave this tabulation in quizzing persons on whom they wanted as next prime minister:

Bevan, 5,386 votes; Attlee, the present prime minister, 1,828; Sir Stafford Cripps, 1,265; Herbert Morrison, 507. A total of 1,632 ballots were listed as "spoiled papers."

Rail Union Turns Down Board Report

CHICAGO, Oct. 9. (AP)— The Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen tonight rejected a presidential emergency board report, but made no recommendation for a strike or a strike vote.

Instead, David B. Robertson president of the union, said that a new parley has been arranged with the nation's railroad representatives in Chicago next Tuesday.

Another union spokesman, who declined use of his name, said that "an agreement may be reached then to avert a nationwide strike."

The union's request for an extra fireman on diesels was turned down by the presidential board Sept. 19. Rail workers are barred by law from walking off their jobs for 30 days after such a report is issued.

The union contended a second fireman is needed on diesel engines for safety reasons, and that more efficient diesels are knocking firemen out of jobs by cutting down the number of trains needed.

The Brotherhood of Firemen and Enginemen claims a membership of 110,000.

The city of Dubuque, Ia., was named after the French-Canadian trader Julien Dubuque.
