ONE KILLED, DOZEN INJURED IN SUBWAY BLASTS GIANT AIR DREADNAUGHTS BUILT TO DEFEND U. S. IN FUTURE

THIRD OF HUGE ARMORED SHIPS IS COMPLETED

EACH BRISTLES WITH MACHINE GUNS AND CARRIES BOMBS
HAS TWO-TON LOAD
KEYSTONE CRAFT HAS VAST DESTRUCTIVE ABILITY

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—The most formidable air dreadnaught to be constructed in the United States, and possibly in the world, has been secretly completed for the U. S. Army by the Keystone aircraft corporation of Bristol, Pa. It was announced today. The craft is said to weigh 16,000 pounds when fully loaded.

The giant warrior of the air is equipped that it could rock an island square with the diameter of a single one-ton bomb. Richard Hythe, press representative of the corporation, announced that the battle plane is scheduled to take the air for the first time Wednesday after a half year devoted to its development.

The third huge bomber to be actually completed for the army this summer, the Keystone craft, called "super-cyclone" differs from its predecessors in that its wings are entirely of metal and that it is equipped to carry a considerably greater load of explosives and more machine guns.

The bomber is tested at the Fokker bombing school, located at the Fokker plant at Hawthorne Heights, N. J., Mitchell field New York, on its maiden flight today. It mounts six machine guns, one in a turret on the nose and one amidships in fuselage, and carries a ton of bombs.

The first of the great air warriors to be completed for the government this summer was the Curtiss Condor, a biplane, as is the super-cyclone, which recently was tested at Mitchell field and has been built by the Fokker plant.

MODESTO, Calif., Aug. 5.—The built air sedan biplane en route from San Diego to San Francisco was forced to land shortly after 3:30 o'clock this afternoon, according to a statement tonight by the Modesto firm, the naval air wing member of Flint, Mich., who registered at a Modesto hotel.

As Clarence Chamberlin Made More Aviation History Intrepid Flier Takes Off From Runway On Leviathan

For the first time in history an airplane took off from the deck of an ocean liner at sea when Clarence Chamberlin, trans-Atlantic flier, guided a biplane into the air from a special runway on the top deck of the Navy Leviathan and flew 100 miles to Roosevelt field, L. I. This picture shows the plane circling over the Leviathan after taking off in a fog; the arrow points to the runway from which the start was made.

DOLE PLANES ARE BUSY UPON TESTS

FORCED LANDINGS, FRESH ENTRANTS AND OTHER EVENTS MARKED

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 5.—Tent flights, forced landings and the approach of one eastern plane to San Francisco were today's developments in the activities preliminary to the starting of the $25,000 James D. Dole air race from the mainland to Hawaii, starting at noon August 15.

The single eastern plane reported circling its way from San Francisco this afternoon was piloted by John Augie Peck, of Flint, Mich., piloted by Manley Leitch, San Diego naval aviator and carrying Miss Mildred Dorean of Flint, Mich., as passenger. The plane took off from San Diego, Calif., at 1:52 p. m. and was expected to arrive here tonight.

Oklahoma Enroute
The monoplane Oklahoma, piloted by Lieutenant V. H. Griffin, and captained by Al Hendry of Oklahoma landed at Carter Field, Santa Monica, Calif., late afternoon after being forced down on the Marine desert yesterday by the blowing off of the exhaust stack, which threatened to set the plane afire.

The aviators said they would finish their Oklahoma-San Francisco flight tomorrow night. The special low winged monoplane built in Los Angeles and entered in the Dole flight by Fred W. Burch of Los Angeles, was forced down at Santa Ana, Calif., today while on a test flight from Los Angeles to San Diego. The trouble was said to be in the oil line.

The Dole race pilot of this plane was named as Lieutenant George See DOLE RACE Page 8

FURTHER STEPS TO HALT DEATH OF SACCO MADE

APPEAL TO HIGH COURT ON NEW EVIDENCE CONTEMPLATED
PLANS ARE SECRET

BOSTON, Aug. 5.—The legal procedure by which counsel for Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti hope to stay their execution now set for some time after next Wednesday night, was being formulated today, but the exact steps remain a secret in the absence of a definite statement from Arthur D. Hill, who has been engaged to continue the fight for freedom for the two internationally known radicals.

Hill was closeted in his office most of the day with a number of attorneys who have been identified with the case. These included Professor Felix Frankfurter of Harvard; Herbert Sherman, associate of William G. Thompson, who resigned yesterday as counsel for the condemned men; and M. K. Henderson, Pittsburgh attorney, who now is working with the Sacco-Vanzetti defense committee.

Confers With Sayre
During the day Attorney Hill called in Francis H. Sayre of the Harvard law school, who remained with him the greater part of the day. Mr. Sayre, who is the late President Wilson, told newspapermen he believed legal action would be taken in the United States district court in Boston.

COOLIDGE NOT TO CALL NEW PARLEY

WHILE FRIENDLY ATTITUDE IS MAINTAINED TIME IS NOT PROPER, HE SAYS

RAPID CITY, S. D., Aug. 5.—President Coolidge knows of no foundation for the rumor that he will call another conference on the limitation of naval armaments.

The question of naval armaments is one which must be left open, he believes, since no one can forecast at this time what suddenly might develop to make another conference advisable but regarding his present intentions he includes no desire to re-open the Geneva discussions.

Mr. Coolidge considers that the present situation is one which will be called by him in 1928. It was recalled that the President leaves office March 4 of that year, and he believes there could not possibly be time in three months to call a meeting, reach an agreement and frame a treaty upon which the senate could act.

The contention is held by Mr. Coolidge that in spite of the failure of the Geneva conference the most friendly feeling and cordial understanding continues to exist between the United States, Great Britain and Japan and he does not expect the break-up to have any serious effect upon the peace of the world.

The three nations went into the conference with an open mind, he believes, and although their differences of opinion were too great to permit an agreement, he sees no reason why serious consequences need be expected.

The first demonstration of this country's good will to the Great Britain will take place Sunday when Secretary Kellogg speaks at the dedication of the International peace bridge between Buffalo and Canada. His message will reflect the sentiments of the Washington conference and accordingly, President Coolidge will send no special communication.

SERIES OF EXPLOSIONS LEAVE STATIONS A MASS OF WRECKAGE AS CROWDS FLEE FROM DANGER

HEAVY DAMAGE IS OCCASIONED BY MYSTERIOUS BOMBINGS WHICH WRECK ENTRANCES AND LEAVE HUGE CRATERS IN PAVEMENT

NEW YORK, Aug. 4 (AP)—At least one person was killed and more than a dozen injured in a series of explosions in two New York's main subway arteries tonight.

At the Fourth avenue and 28th street station of the Interborough Rapid Transit company one person was killed and at least six were injured.

An unidentified man standing on the platform of the Brooklyn-Manhattan transit subway at 21st street was blown to the tracks by the force of the blast. He was injured, he was picked up and taken to the New York hospital.

Had Plenty Says Aimee Of Past

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 5.—(AP)—Aimee Semple McPherson today exploded a choice phrase which has been used by writers in describing the evangelist's entrance into Los Angeles to begin her meteoric religious career.

The Angelus Temple pastor, whose stormy experiences of the last year have made her name familiar wherever newspapers and magazines are read, always has been pictured as arriving here in a "battered old automobile, without money, and later building a religious plant worth half a million or more."

"It isn't so," she said indignantly today. "As a matter of fact, we arrived in a brand new 35-cylinder, 7 passenger car and we had plenty of money."

First reports said another explosion had occurred at the 28th street station of the same line, but it was learned that this report was started when windows in the vicinity were blown out by the force of the blast at 24th street.

A crater was blown through the pavement at 28th street and the sidewalks shattering entrances to the subway were reduced to shattered glass and a mass of twisted metal.

There is no reason to expect that the close of the auxiliary-warship conference without an agreement will cause a building race involving Great Britain, Japan and the United States.

President Coolidge evidently considers the cruiser issue the principal obstacle to an arrangement. He opposes the British scheme on the ground that it would compel this country to construct and maintain a much larger naval establishment than the Government thinks necessary.

The British Admiralty treats the cruiser question from a strictly professional viewpoint. It contends that the Empire must have 12 to 15 of this class, displacing 10,000 tons each, and 50 to 60 vessels averaging 6,000 tons each, to protect its most important trade routes.

Washington desires that the aggregate tonnage be fixed at 300,000 each for the United States and the British Empire, and that Japan be satisfied in maintaining 180,000 tons in cruisers. That would accord with the 5-5-3 ratio which the three Powers accepted in the Washington Conference five years ago, and would entail no additional building program for any.

Japan, whose foreign trade is largely with the United States and lands under the British flag, apparently is convinced that it has nothing to fear from either nation. Its delegates in Geneva repeatedly have endeavored to bring about an agreement between American and British proposals.

Japan is concerned over principally with developments in the Far East and again is guarding against a Russian advance into Manchuria. It does not require more cruisers or other warships to protect its short communication lines with Korea and South Manchuria, but it must strengthen its hard-hit financial institutions and industrial enterprises. Japan's present building program will give it 25 new cruisers by 1931, as against 54 for Britain and 18 for the United States.

President Coolidge opposes any plan which would lead the British Empire to believe that the United States seeks a race for supremacy on the seas. It is equally clear that to Britain and its self-governing dominions, war with this country is unthinkable. Nevertheless, the Admiralty's views—influenced principally by a few small German cruisers' exploits early in the Great War—have prevailed over those of statesmen who look for permanent peace between the Empire and the United States as the keystone of British foreign policy.

The Geneva conference might be saved at the last moment by compromises, of course. The United States has offered to accept 400,000 tons each for itself and the British Empire, in cruiser-displacement, provided either nation is at liberty to distribute individual-vessel tonnage and armament as it sees fit. With the cruiser issue adjusted, there would be little difficulty in regard to destroyers and submarines.

MORE RIGHTS The National Woman's Party, which recently convened at Colorado Springs, wants all the women in the country to fight for equal rights. So Miss Ruth Huddell explained when she stopped off here en route from Washington, D. C. But are women willing to make the sacrifice this involves? For acceptance of sheer equality with man would surely be a sacrifice on woman's part. Not only does she today enjoy just about all the rights that man enjoys, but she retains most of the exclusive feminine privileges and protections that were hers in pre-suffrage times. Woman can make her own living at nearly every occupation open to man—and at many that open to man—she can make her husband support her if he is tired port her anyway, or else the court records are as full of fiction as "Grimm's Fairy Tales." Woman is going where she pleases and when she pleases and doing as she pleases, and it doesn't seem to be anybody else's business. Woman has more rights than man and fewer responsibilities. The situation is now such that any achievement of complete equality, any general leveling, as advocated by the National Woman's Party, would necessarily mean reducing woman's privileges and perquisites while at the same time increasing man's. Better beware of Miss Huddell, girls.

TAX-REVISION BUILT AROUND THE CORPORATION LEVY

"A Coolidge plan" for tax-reduction has been formulated in main outlines during the President's vacation, a correspondent has learned. It will be submitted to the House Ways and Means Committee—though not by that name—in lieu of a new Mellon program.

As announced, the scheme is likely to meet general approval in principle. Mr. Coolidge reputedly proposes to build the tax-revision structure around the levy on corporations and would reduce this rate from 13 1/2 to not more than 11 per cent—but even that is at least 3 per cent higher than it should be.

The latest Revenue Act, which reduced most schedules, raised that tax and it now stands at virtually the wartime level. Fair play alone demands that the next cut begin at this point.

The time-worn political slogan, "Make the corporation pay" and its corollary, "Soak the rich!" are by no means so popular as they were once. Even the demagogues are abandoning those cries; they are not such good campaign material since millions of people became shareholders in "Big Business."

After that change, it is stated, the President would abolish the amusement and club-dues taxes and would reduce that on automobiles from 3 1/2 to 2 per cent. As all these proposals track the Democratic schemes of 1925 and 1926—save that Representative Garner advocated cutting the corporation tax to 10 per cent on minority support for part of his program; but it is not likely the Democrats would be willing to stop there.

Already one man has told us that he was going to run for one of the important county offices next year. He says he is not yet ready to make known the fact in the nature of an announcement but he is going to run just the same. It's pretty early and if he is not careful he may run down before his opponent starts, and then he might not have an opponent if he would throw his hat in the ring.

The Texas Legislature will in all probability know from now on out what faith the people back home have in them, from the way the proposed amendments were knocked out in the election last Monday. When the Legislature asked them to authorize the legislature to give them the power to place their salary and the salary of a lot of other state officers at any figure that they might see fit, the voters said no, and they did not stutter when they said it either.

We read where the old family album is coming back in style. We guess the styles in it will not be the same however.

We do not think that the men folks can say much about the changing-styles of the women. Just compare photographs of today with those of fifty years ago, and you will be able to detect quite a change in the styles of the men too. But we believe the men have improved their styles. And since we come to think of it the women have too in many cases.

Lubbock is in the minds of people everywhere. Go where you may and you will find people who have friends or relatives in Lubbock, and they are always wanting to know about them and Lubbock, and the pleasant thing about it is that in most every case they say that their friends out here seem to think a great deal of Lubbock. They write of the wonders of the town and the community, and send them papers and literature about this section.

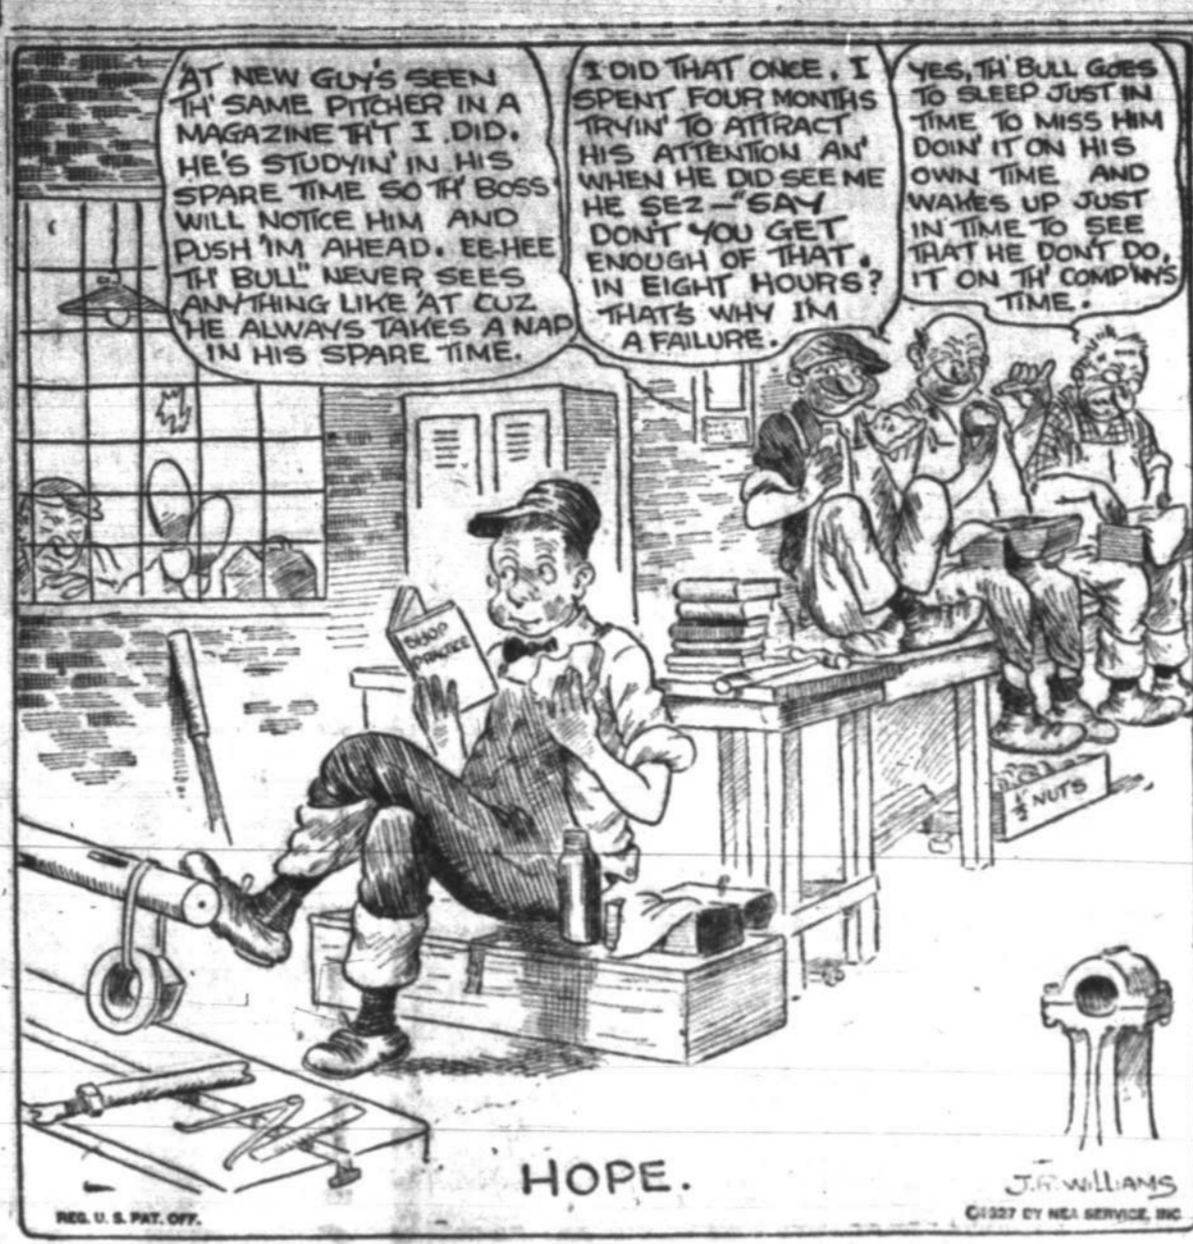

A weed cutting campaign would not be a bad thing just at this time. There are acres of weeds, in Lubbock, on vacant lots that should be cut. This is true especially where the property is adjoining other property. The looks of the weeds mar the appearance of the pretty yards that adjoin some of the weed patches. Lets cut weeds. We suggest a weed cutting tournament.

An editor writes that even with all of the patents that have been granted in this country no one seems to have invented any way to keep a fellow from falling over the rocking chair when he comes home late and enters the house in the dark.

There is no question in our mind that Lubbock is in great need of a municipal auditorium, and the sooner we can begin to get it under construction the better and the sooner possible date will not be too early.

Amarillo is said to be having a bit of trouble with people stealing their stop signs. The main trouble in Lubbock is that a lot of folks pass them up entirely with-

SO THINK WE

We think that a genuine dry is always dry, but a genuine wet has mornings when he has his doubts.

We think that the old time tramp has quit walking from city to city but is now bumming rides along the highways.

We think that our national administration leaders proudly proclaim this a democratic country but seem wholly satisfied that it is run by republicans.

We think that crop conditions on the South Plains are excellent and a good production is expected.

We think that if Lubbock expects to become an air port she must get to work on the project and have everything in readiness in case the break should come this way. Let's not be half hooded for the occasion.

We think that good roads means more profit to the farmer on his crop production in the Lubbock county will vote someday for the issuance of paved highway bonds and the vote should carry by a larger majority.

We think that the Panhandle oil and gas field is supplying many cities. A new project is now being proposed for a pipe line into Kansas City.

We think that a book is the lonely man's best companion and the Book of books his friend.

We think that the summer used to be regarded as the time when it was easy to fit in a vacation, but now it is hard to utilize the summer season for any other thing than work.

We think that sometimes it looks like these days people will starve for a bad cause rather than a good one.

We think that we are rather fortunate in that we possibly will not have to read the list of 900,000 Chinese in Lubbock of the recent earthquake disaster.

We think that cattle trading in West Texas is becoming more active each month. Recently many large cattle deals have been made and the day of the cattlemen is getting better.

We think that as soon as people get a little leisure they start wearing clothes that require all their time.

We think more money is spent for automobiles in the United States each year than is paid for all farm crops produced.

We think that service is a key-word in all lines of human endeavor.

We think that business is too frequently more concerned with youth's wants than his needs.

OPINIONS

THE PRICE WE PAID: The National crime commission makes the rather astounding statement that our annual payment to lawbreakers is larger than the combined total of farm products, and even greater than the Total European debt to this country, and there has been no one, so far, to come forward with figures to show that the thing is not substantially correct. It is an appalling condition, and we may stop and wonder what we are doing about it.

Coupon clippers provided in the sum of $2,854,624.64, and holders of $18,900,000 worth of securities had the tax-exempt varieties upon which the United States treasury has no claim. It is true, of course, that state, municipal, and federal bond issues make up much of the tax-exempt portfolio. The United States is very prosperous. Only Delaware failed in 1925 to show more income than in 1924, when things were on the upward trend. It is a peculiar situation, arising partly from undervalued resources, that from the United States a land of economic opportunity.

For example, the Panhandle is doubling the value of property held through improved site values and related cash profits, but Government resources that from the United States are going to make Panhandle people wealthy in the next few decades. This fact is making Eastern financiers especially friendly to West Texas investments. Their security could hardly be more stable—and those public improvement bond issues which are far superior are regarded as particularly appealing. All of this is not evil.

BLOCKING THE WHEELS

As far back as history begins, there have been persons who, have stood in the way of progress, some for reasons necessary, others because of a real lack of vision or natural narrow tendencies. It is a matter of record that the builders of the ancient cities and public monuments, some of which still exist, were slain by hundreds of obstacles placed in their way by visionless men who did not have the future-interests of their communities and the world at heart. This same condition may be applied to our own community today. We see opposition to things which would expedite business or cause an economic improvement or would in humanity's sake afford protection against sickness or the killing of hundreds of motorists or pedestrians. The parasite, who does no good for the obstructionist. Every one is building pages of history and there should be nothing at this time to hamper progress. The truly great men of all time is the builder, the one who produces or helps to produce. They care not for nothing for himself or fellow man is a cheat and the one who interferes with progress is little better.

"Build and let build" should be our motto and the future will comfortably arrange itself. There are many things to be constructed in the building up of a community. Ten men can do more than one and when these 10 men are arranged in team formation, their work can not only count much more than 10 times, but a fact, 25 times as much.—Lorenzo Enterprises.

There are some folks who will do nothing but stand around on the sidewalks and talk about something they claim to know everything about and they know nothing about. They are know-nothings and knockers. They are blockers as well. They block the streets and they block progress from making the progress that they might if they were not pulling back in the rear.

When everybody pulls together and starts the load it is easy for them to keep it going. There is not a thing in the way, but when somebody is always throwing rocks in front of the wheels it is hard to keep the load going. Do not be a blocker. But join the gang and all go forward with a steady stride and things will move.

Your Health

BY DR. MORRIS FISHER, Editor Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine.

In order to find the cause of convulsions or fits in children, Dr. H. H. Cockton, British hospital specialist in children's diseases, examined 35 cases occurring in children from six weeks to eleven and a half years old. Most of the cases occurred during the first year of life and the number gradually diminished as the children grew older. Fifty cases were boys and forty-five were girls. In 28 per cent of the instances no one in the family was known to be epileptic. In eighteen cases there was a record that the child's birth had been difficult, and in twenty-six cases there were present not only convulsions but also mental deficiency. In four cases the fits occurred only at night whereas in the remainder they occurred both day and night.

The parents were questioned closely to determine whether there were any special conditions associated with the mind of the parent with occurrence of the fits. It was found that constipation was apparently considered of major importance by the parents, but that unusual excitement was an important factor. Furthermore, the meals were unusually large or rich.

It is true, of course, that state, municipal, and federal bond issues make up much of the tax-exempt portfolio. The United States is very prosperous. Only Delaware failed in 1925 to show more income than in 1924, when things were on the upward trend. It is a peculiar situation, arising partly from undervalued resources, that from the United States a land of economic opportunity.

For example, the Panhandle is doubling the value of property held through improved site values and related cash profits, but Government resources that from the United States are going to make Panhandle people wealthy in the next few decades. This fact is making Eastern financiers especially friendly to West Texas investments. Their security could hardly be more stable—and those public improvement bond issues which are far superior are regarded as particularly appealing. All of this is not evil.

Income from business, most of which perhaps should be classed with personal effort, totals $4,638,464.42 in 1925. Another interesting fact is that the incomes from stocks and bonds are not limited to the wealthy, but include the thousands of employees who profit through the wide sale of stocks in corporations. Coupon clippers provided in the sum of $2,854,624.64, and holders of $18,900,000 worth of securities had the tax-exempt varieties upon which the United States treasury has no claim. national capital from which he had just returned, besides making him a profit of $2,977.95, and giving him a good stand as a practical and progressive farmer in future years.

Young Thornton was selected a one of the two representatives from Texas to attend the national conference of club boys at Washington, D. C., which was held June 15, 1927.

Thornton started his club work in Hall county in 1921, when he was eleven years old, and in the beginning he confined his work to poultry. He has gradually extended his list of projects until this year he had eight, all of which proved profitable, though his greatest profits were made from the fifteen acres devoted to grain.

The secret of Thornton's success lies in pure seed production. In 1925 he made a net profit of $131.32 on three acres of milk and bean trip to the International Livestock Exposition at Chicago. He produced 5,250 pounds per acre and sold one ton as pure seed, selling the balance at the regular market price. This year his entire output was sold as pure seed at a price of five cents per pound.

Six thousand pounds of milk maize was sold in eight days from his three acres planted in the grain, orders having come in from four nations. These orders ranged from ten to five hundred pounds. Two orders from Hawaii were filled, and several from Canada and Mexico.

Thornton did not allow his business to interfere with his schooling the past season, and is intending to continue his studies next fall and winter. During the summer he will represent Lubbock County in the judging contests for club boys at Texas A. & M. College at College Station.

Besides his profit from pure seed, Thornton made $102.11 from poultry, $212.06 from baby hens, $241.75 from Jersey cow, and $127.50 from his hog project.

The best is always in demand. There is always a market for good articles. Good automobiles, good cows, good sheep and good men, good business men, good accountants, good preachers and good teachers are always in demand.

His best are preferred and come first in the market. The demand that takes in all of these things is the demand for the best. The farmer that raises purebred or registered animals is the man that is going to make money out of the farm and is the article above others.

There seemed to be an increase of the fits. Usually, when a child under one year of age has a fit the fits are in character, the parent is likely to blame the fit on constipation or anything.

On the other hand, Dr. Cockton found that the cause is likely to be of a much more serious nature. In many instances the early convulsions are manifestations of epilepsy. In other instances, the fits are definitely associated with disturbance of the nervous system that indicates a high degree of nervous instability. Certainly the occurrence of convulsions in a child is a matter for prompt and careful attention.

In the emergency, the best thing for the parent to do is to quiet the child, preferably by nothing more serious than a warm bath. A physician should be called immediately. Care should be taken that the child does not harm itself during the fits. The disturbance of the physician and his arrival.

HAPPINESS If happiness had not her seat And enter in the breast, We may be wise, or rich, or great, But never can be blest; No treasure nor pleasure Could make us happy long; That makes us right or wrong.—Robert Burns

LIFE Let me but live my life—From With forward face and unrelenting soul; Not hurrying to our turning time the goal; Not mourning for the things that have been; In the dim past, not holding back the hand; From what the future veils, but with a whole heart that pays its debt to God, and to the world, and to the man.

God grant us wisdom in these coming days, And eyes unclouded, that we clear visions see Of that new world that He would have us build, To His ennoblement and his high ministry.

God give us sense, God-given of His new needs, And souls aflame with new-born chivalries, To cope with these black growths that foul the way, To cleanse our poisoned founts with God-born energies.

To pledge our souls to nobler, loftier life, To win the world to his fair name— Bless the nations in a Pact of Peace, And free the Soul of Life for finer loyalties.

Not since Christ died upon his lonely cross Has life such prospect held of Life's new birth, and our new dawn, Not since the world of chaos first was born, Has man so clearly visioned hope of a new dawn.

Sunday-School Lesson

General Topic: David Spares Saul.

Scripture Lesson: 1 Sam. 26: 1-21.

So David and Abishai came to the people by night; and behold, they lay sleeping within the place of the spears; with his spear stuck in the earth at his head; and Abishai and the people lay round about him.

Then said Abishai to David, both delivered up this enemy thy hand this day; now there-fore let me smite him, I pray thee, upon the spear to the earth at one end, and I will not smite him the second time.

And David said to Abishai, Do not slay him; for who can put his hand against Jehovah's anointed, and say, I have done so?
