SPANISH PILOT SUCCESSFUL IN TRANS-ATLANTIC FLIGHT

RAMON FRANCO COMPLETES 6,328 MILE FLIGHT OVER LAND AND WATER; GIVEN HEARTY WELCOME BY SOUTH AMERICANS

BY NELSON J. RILEY
United News Staff Correspondent
BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 10.—A tired, sun blackened pilot brought his hydroplane to water off this deliciously enthusiastic city Wednesday and Spain's ambitious dream to link her shores with South America by airplane was realized. Ramon Franco, pilot of the Ne-plus-Ultra, stepped aboard the official launch and finally touched foot to Argentine soil immediately to be overwhelmed by an avalanche of welcoming men and women. The women fought for the airman's embraces and kisses.

In Franco's train were Captain Luis D'Aida, and Ensign Duran who accompanied him on the flight.
Hundreds of thousands of persons crowded the streets and pressed toward the water front where newspaper bulletins announced that Franco had taken off from Montevideo, Uruguay, for Buenos Aires.
The welcome began with a bedlam of harbor whistles and other noises as the Ne-plus-Ultra, hurtled into view flying low up river.
After one false start in Montevideo, Franco took off at 12:17 and arrived here 12:20, owing to an hour's difference in time between the two capitals. Franco's flying time was not the three minutes it would seem to have been. Since January 22, when he took off shortly after dawn from Huelva, Spain, for Las Palmas, Canary Islands, Franco has flown 6,329 miles over land and water on a diagonally laid Fernando De Noronha, off the southern coast of Brazil, took him next to Porto Praya, Cape Verde Island, east of Brazil; Pernambuco, Brazil; Rio de Janeiro and Montevideo where he arrived Tuesday night after a 12 hour flight from the Brazilian capital.
Barring a three day wait at Las Palmas while unfavorable weather conditions ameliorated Franco has flown to schedule. In every case he has forecast within 15 minutes the time he would require to fly from point to point as he progressed southward.

RELATIVES OF DEAD WOMAN TESTIFY IN BEHALF OF DEFENDANT

By United News
DALLAS, Texas, Feb. 10.—Tears, laughter, angry words, applause and general confusion filled Judge Felix D. Robertson's court room today during procedure in the trial of L. E. Arnold, charged with the murder of his wife.
During testimony of witnesses who described the condition of Arnold the night of the shooting, tears were shed by many of the spectators in the crowded court room. A few seconds later they were convulsed with laughter over a squabble between the state's and defense attorneys and it was at the height of one of these exciting moments that one of them broke into applause.
They received a severe warning from the judge who threatened to expel them from the court room if another such demonstration occurred.
Relatives of the dead woman testified in behalf of Arnold today, picturing him as a tender and loving husband and father and telling of his near collapse the evening of the tragedy.
Arnold took the stand after several neighbors had testified in his behalf. He declared that his wife had not been well since their child was born and that she was constantly urging him to buy her a pistol for protection.
Indications are that the case will go to the jury Thursday afternoon.

MODIFICATION PRO LAW IS UP TO THE PUBLIC, HE DECLARES

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—George Cardinal Mundelein of Chicago has stepped into the nationwide prohibition discussion with a carefully worded statement in which he says that the subject is strictly political and that the people can change the Volstead act if they so desire.
The cardinal has been besieged with requests for his views. In response to these he sent the following statement to his office from Dayton, Fla., where he is vacationing:
"As the people of Chicago well know, during my ten years in that city I have consistently declined to bring the church or religion into political discussions where the interests of the church were not directly concerned. From the very beginning I have regarded prohibition as a purely political issue not affecting the church nor the faith of its membership, which question has now reached an acute stage.
"Under the circumstances I would naturally hesitate to impose my own opinion concerning prohibition on others, which opinion has about the same value as that of any other American citizen. I have always found that when the American people wanted something hard enough they were usually successful in getting it in the end.
"If the American people do not want prohibition, or want it in a modified form, there is a congress at their service, and if this congress will not do their bidding, let them get another congress that will."

COOKING NOT LOST ART IN THIS COUNTRY

By HAROLD ANDREWS
KANSAS CITY, Feb. 10.—The old fashioned girl who chives into a kitchen and come up with a dinner delectable enough to flatter the palate of old epicurus himself may be edging towards the exit but she hasn't made it yet.
She still knows the cook book from stews to salads and it will be a few more years yet before she opens a charge account with the delicatessen shop around the corner, rolls down her stockings, bobs her hair and joins the parade of cuties along the flapperian highway.
The culinary art still flourishes even in this age of the flapper and the stomach of the world is safe for a while longer. Hundreds of women whose ages range from 18 to 60 have been seen at the National Food Show in Kansas City and curiously enough there is much evidence that they are as deeply interested in mastering the intricacies of cherry pie, as they are in discovering a new facial cream or getting a henna rinse.
It may be that men are staging a quiet revolt. This on the authority of the dimpled demonstrator at the cake booth who says the interest women this year are taking in preparing a decent meal is something she never saw the like of.
"A few years ago a food show was something of a bust. The women would come in for a few minutes and then trudge off to the movies. Now they come early and stay late and ask more questions than are dropped at an information bureau."
Joseph Krans of Duluth had his 3-foot beard burned off when it caught fire from his upset pipe, but he will recover.

The expedition will leave New York in June if present plans are not changed.

WAR SECRETARY TO OPPOSE CHANGE AIR SERVICE

By United News
WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—A sweeping attack on the proposal of Major General Mason M. Patrick, chief of the army air service, for a semi-independent "aviation corps" was made Wednesday by Secretary of War Davis in the form of an unfavorable report on the Wainwright bill embodying it.
Davis' letter, addressed to Chairman Morin of the house committee on military affairs, said:

TIA JUANA JAIL 'PALACE OF SIN' OFFICERS CLAIM

MEXICAN POLICE CHIEF HELD IN CONNECTION WITH SUICIDE

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Feb. 10.—A conspiracy by Tia Juana officials to lure young American girls into the Mexican city jail on false arrests and then attack them, was sensationally disclosed here by the arrest of Chief of Police Llanos Wednesday.
Llanos according to San Diego officials preyed on pretty American girls and was directly responsible for the "shame suicide" pact which last Saturday blotted out the lives of Audrey and Clyde Petet and their mother and father.
The girls, it is claimed had been compelled to accompany a Mexican police officer to the jail on manufactured charges and then were subjected to indignities by Llanos.
The Tia Juana jail, according to government and San Diego city officials is a "palace of sin" to which drugged American women are taken to be outraged and later thrown to the meries of Mexican gamblers and vultures.
Three others were arrested beside Llanos. They are Luis Amador, proprietor of the Oakland Cafe, a bartender in the saloon and the Chinese proprietor of the National Hotel, where one of the asserted attacks was alleged to have been committed.

Mrs. DeBolt, of Ralls, to Head Crosby County Federation. Mrs. Price Spoke to Meeting of Club Women Tuesday

Mrs. J. M. DeBolt of Ralls, was elected president of the Crosby County Federation of Women's Clubs at the meeting of the federation which was held in Lorenzo, Tuesday, February 9, at the First Baptist church. About seventy-five women of the county were present at the meeting, and unusual interest was shown in the regular proceedings of the organization. The other officers chosen were: Mrs. Clayton Carter, of Crosbyton, first vice president; Mrs. J. T. Howell, of Lorenzo, second vice president; Mrs. E. E. Westerman, of Robertson, third vice president; Mrs. R. L. Bowman, of Lorenzo, recording secretary; Mrs. Ed McLaughlin, of Ralls, corresponding secretary; Mrs. E. W. Suggs, of Crosbyton, treasurer; and Mrs. W. M. Blakemore, of Crosbyton, parliamentarian.

Mrs. W. P. Fullingim, of Lorenzo, retiring president of the federation, presided over the meeting and excellent reports were given from nine clubs of the county, showing work that is being done by these clubs. About fifteen clubs make up the federation. These activities include beautification of parks, buying playground equipment for schools, loving cup offered for best short story written by high school pupil, purchasing a piano for a church, giving framed prints to public schools, and securing a county health nurse.

Miss Emma Barth, county health nurse for Crosby County, gave a report covering her work for the three months she has been in the county, November, December, and January. A total of 1532 school children had been given examinations, 843 in the cities of Crosbyton, Ralls, and Lorenzo, and 689 in the rural schools. Of this number 1392 were found with defects. Health rules are being taught each day in the schools. Fifteen schools of the county have been visited, and the nurse has been assisted in clinics by the doctors and dentists of the county, and by the mothers, teachers, and club women. As a result of her work forty-four children induced to employ a county health nurse. The club paying a certain amount of her support.

One of the principal features of the program was the address given by Mrs. W. B. Watkins, of Ralls, who had as his subject "The American Home" which has been chosen and had their births registered. Hygiene classes and child health are being started and a clean up campaign will be begun in a short time.

The federation was especially pleased with the report given by Mrs. Barth since it was through the efforts of the club women of the county that the commissions were as the center of activities of club women of the state and nation. Mr. Watkins congratulated the clubs on choosing this as the principal objective and pointed out some of the more important things which toward establishing and maintaining the home. He stressed conveniences in the home which enable the mother to give more time to the training of her children, and urged thrift, economy, and beauty. He also spoke of the importance of religious training, and urged parental control of the child. Mr. Watkins cleverly pointed to some of the foibles of club women, and stated that "women have their own way of doing things, but they get them done."

Mrs. W. B. Price of Lubbock, president of the Seventh District, T. F. W. C., was present at the meeting and addressed the women, complimenting them on having such a competent health nurse, and praising the work being done. She urged the appointment of a publicity chairman for the county who would through the press give news of the work club women were doing. Mrs. Price's favorite form of club work is county federations, which she considers offer the greatest opportunity for the development of individual club women. She placed before the women of Crosby county the problem of bridging the gap between the rural school, which takes the child only through the seventh grade, and the high school of the larger towns. This important work may be done by scholarships, and the pupils who are ambitious and unable to attend the high school may be found by the co-operation of the county health nurse. Mrs. Price also spoke of developing the talents of the individual child by giving him the pictures, flowers and books so necessary to character building.

Miss May Parzock gave a charming piano solo, and Miss Mary Wylie read "George's Soliloquy," both giving much pleasure to the women assembled. Delightful refreshments were served.

The next meeting of the Federation will be held in Crosbyton, in May.

WHY SHOULD A CHRISTIAN STUDY PROPHECY?

This is the subject to be used in the Goodfellows' Bible Class at the First Baptist church next Sunday morning at 9:45 o'clock. Many people do not seem to know that one can not understand the Bible without understanding prophecy. In fact, about two-thirds of the Bible is made up of prophecy. We usually think of the books from Isaiah to Malachi, with the Revelation in the New Testament as being the only prophetic books in the Bible, but the Bible student will readily recall that much of the Pentateuch is prophetic, the Psalms are largely prophetic, Matthew is full of prophecy, and the Gospels are full of prophecy. Acts has much prophecy, so has First and Second Thessalonians, First and Second Timothy, and the Jewish Epistles of James, and First and Second Peter. If we were to leave out these books, we would leave out much of the best of the Bible. Peter says that prophecy is a light in a dark place and most people will agree that there was never a time when the world needed such a light more than today. When everything is in state of uncertainty, when there is confusion in the spiritual world, in social affairs, in education, and in industry, the Christian wants to know and he may know if he will but honestly turn to God's Book and read it with a will to know.

The class is growing and the interest is increasing. We are planning to make next Sunday the biggest and best day of all. If you are attending Sunday school classes, come with your Bible and the book and join us.

NO path of roses stretched forth its welcome to Lincoln—the boy. No marble halls sheltered him. No private tutors or learned professors to guide his path to education and fame.

TWAS but a lowly log cabin that he called home. All but comfortable, it was the scene where he oft studied far into the night to gain the knowledge of which poverty had threatened to cheat him. And in his youthful determination and perseverance, he overcame all obstacles and succeeded in laying the foundation for the master mind that was his when our nation needed it most.

What a worthy example and inspiration to American boyhood—

TECH-NICAL TOPICS

Tech to Enter Interscholastic Debates
Several neighboring schools have made challenges to the Tech for debates. The authorities have been planning to meet all comers if terms can be agreed upon. The first debate will be held with Clarendon College, the last week in April. One with McCurry will follow soon after. Dates have not been set with A. C. C. and West Texas Teachers, but it is hoped that they can be arranged real soon. Several young men in the college have favored the interscholastic contests and want to enter them.

A drawing of sides for the question will be held today in room 202 under the direction of Miss Pirtle. Teams will be selected and the preliminary tryouts will be held before the end of this term. All students of the college who are interested in this work are requested to see Miss Pirtle today.

Athletic Field Laid Off Permanently
Students of the school of engineering have completed the surveying and staking off of the permanent athletic field of the college. The permanent site has been selected as the northeastern part of the campus. The football field was located there at the opening of school.

The track is 440 yards around with a 220 yard straight of way. This will be sufficient for all contests of the college. More work will be started on the field soon. The track men are already taking daily workouts and are planning to be ready for the first meet in top form. An invitation has been sent to the college for a team at the Southwestern Fat Stock Show which will be held in Fort Worth, the second week in March. It is not known just yet whether a team will be sent or not.

College to Receive Many Gifts
According to reports given out from the meeting of the local affairs committee of the college which was held here yesterday, the college will be the recipient of many gifts in the future. Individuals of the plains and surrounding country have expressed their desire of donating the college with fine livestock. Fine Hereford cattle will be given to the college in the near future. Specimens of good feed stuff and fruits are always being received by the school of agriculture. The committee announced that several large machine companies, makers of farm implements and tractors will donate to the college. These will be used on the college farm. A considerable number of these machines and implements will be given to the college, according to the committee. These gifts will be very beneficial to the college and all tend to show the nature of feeling toward the state's newest institution.

Ex-Aggies to Banquet at College Cafeteria
All the ex-aggies of Texas A. and M. College will hold a banquet Friday evening at 7 o'clock in the college cafeteria. All the students of the South Plains will attend. R. A. Mowery of Lubbock high school has charge of the affair. This is considered one of the great events of a year, when a bunch of old A. and M. men get together once more. Many members of the Tech student body and faculty will take party in the celebration.

Local Affairs Committee Attend to Business Here Yesterday
The local affairs committee of the college composed of Clifford Jones of Spur, R. A. Underwood of Plainview and H. T. Kimbro of this city were visitors on the campus yesterday attending to business matters. They ratified the purchasing of 14 head of dairy cattle for the farm. These cattle will be delivered to the college in a few days. They also announced the gifts of machinery, implements and cattle to the college. Other routine business matters were attended to. After inspection of the buildings and improvements of the college, the committee was served refreshment in the home economics dining room by the faculty and the girls of the school.

Freeland Planning for District Game Meet
Plan are now going forward for the district basketball meet which will be staged here the last of this week. The officials of the college will have charge of the meet and plan to put it over in fine style. The games will be played on the high school court and the college gym, with the exception of all final games which will be played on the college court.

Two large loving cups will be presented to the champions and the runners-up, by the college. Over twenty counties will be represented.

in the meet with fourteen teams competing. The following teams will play in the tournament: Lubbock, Lamesa, Plainview, Roaring Springs, Lorenzo, Brownfield, Littlefield, Dickens, Stanton, Muleshoe, Dunn, Floydada and Tahoka.

"Y" Workers Leave for State Convention
Henry Van Dusen and Harry Bone, workers of the YMCA who have been in the Tech for the past three days left last night for Austin where they will attend the state "Y" convention. The men brought many things to the students in their conferences and daily open discussion forums. Both men are good workers and have had a great deal of experience along this line. They will visit other colleges of the state after the convention.

Jordan Leaves for State Convention to Represent Tech
E. E. Jordan, president of the college YMCA left last night for Austin where he will help represent the Tech in the convention which is to be held there the last of this week. He was accompanied by his wife, who is also a student in the college.

Wuddy Nicklaus, the other Tech delegate left Tuesday. He went by Amarillo. Both men are capable of their positions and will give the school a good representation.

MOTION PICTURE FANS SEE FORTY REELS

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 8.—"Big times for thin dime" is the slogan of the movie houses in Buenos Aires. For forty centavos, the movie fan sees some forty reels, more or less, of a program ranging from cowboys and Indians to Sheiks and Butter and Egg Men.

American films control the market, and American stars are as well known here as in the United States. News reels from "the States" are popular. Most of the houses show the local news reel, which always includes several close ups of want ads or notices in the Buenos Aires press, in which the authors, the printer, or the proof reader has made a laugh producing error.

The section system in vogue in the Argentine legitimate theater also holds forth in the movies. The movie sections last from two to three hours, and each section is made up of at least four full length pictures. In the cheaper houses, dividing reels by centavos, the movie patrons pays about one centavo for each reel of his entertainment.

The more expensive houses give their audiences fewer reels for more money, but the releases are more up to date. Pictures are usually shown in Buenos Aires from two to three months after their premier presentations in New York or Hollywood.

A very successful picture which opened on Broadway last summer was brought to Buenos Aires shortly after the premier, and booked in one of the leading local houses for a six months run. The picture is presented in the last section, and the preceding sections, each containing two or three recent pictures are changed daily.

CONGRESSMAN LANGLEY HEADS STOCKROOM AT ATLANTA PRISON

ATLANTA, Feb. 8.—Once a powerful political leader in his home state, John W. Langley, former congressman of Kentucky, today is just one of 3,000 inmates of Atlanta federal penitentiary, serving time for transgression of the nation's laws.

On his arrival here to start a two-year term for violation of the prohibition law, Langley appeared broken in health and discouraged over his long futile fight to evade sentence. He was sent to the prison hospital for two weeks for observation and then appointed foreman of the prison stockroom.

Langley is making a model prisoner, according to Warden John W. Snook, and if he maintains his perfect record he will be eligible for parole in seven months. As foreman of the stock room, Langley succeeds Howard Montgomery, former head of the Community Finance Corporation of New York who has been made editor of "Good Words," the penitentiary's monthly magazine. Montgomery was convicted of fraud and embezzlement.

The former editor of "Good Words" was Warren T. McCray, once governor of Indiana, whose health has broken down recently and who now is undergoing special treatment in the prison hospital for high blood pressure. It is reported that McCray will be granted a parol term before the end of his term, which was for ten years, of which he has served two.

M. W. A. LODGE TO HAVE MEETING TONIGHT

Members of the local M. W. A. lodge are requested to meet in the county court room this evening at 7:30 o'clock at which time a state deputy from Dallas will be present and deliver an address. According to Clerk H. D. Phillips a number of visitors from nearby towns will be present at the meeting this evening and for that reason he is very anxious that the local membership be on hand.

HISTORIC SOCIETY PLANNING FOR BANQUET

CANYON, Feb. 10.—During the past week the Panhandle-Plains Historic Society has received two interesting collections. One of unusual variety and interest was given by Floyd Studor of Amarillo. This collection contains articles from the North Plains buried city, kodak pictures, arrow heads, fossils, Indian tools including hammers and a metal all belonging to the southwest; and four Roman lamps almost two thousand years old that came from the island of Cyprus. Mr. Studor makes the study of geology and archeology his avocation.

The second collection consists of world war relics; a German signal gun, shells containing flares and a cartoon in which they came, and a hand grenade, all taken from a German trench captured at the Meuse-Argonne section. These were donated by C. P. Atwood of Amarillo, who was a sergeant in the U. S. infantry service at the time he came into possession of these articles.

Both the new collections together with the many older ones may be seen Friday by all who come to the meeting of the Historical Society. 130 tickets have already been sold for the annual banquet which will be held at Cousins Hall February 12. No reservations can be made after Wednesday afternoon, February 10. For reservations phone or write Mrs. T. V. Reeves, secretary of the society.

Canyon Teacher to Begin Law Practice

CANYON, Feb. 10.—A. D. Payne, superintendent of the Canyon public schools has handed in his resignation to come effective June 1, as he is planning to enter the profession of law. During the six years Superintendent Payne has been at Canyon he has more than doubled the number of affiliated units of the school and a new building has been completed and equipped at a cost of nearly $15,000. He has used every organization in the town to further the interests of the school children and through his membership in the commercial club has had the active support of the business men.

An unusually successful football and basket ball team has been put out under the supervision of Mr. Payne. The football record was excellent and so far the basket ball has not been defeated this season. Mr. Payne will move to Amarillo soon.

FAMOUS MUSICIANS ARE TO APPEAR IN CANYON

CANYON, Feb. 10.—Panhandle music lovers will have a rare opportunity Saturday, February 13, to hear one of the best chamber music societies in the world when the San Francisco Chamber Music Society comes to the college auditorium at Canyon. This Chamber Music Society has been in existence since 1916. The organization includes three violins, cello, and flute. It is under the musical management of Louis Persinger, violinist. The flutist is Leo Hecht, the organizer of the Society.

Wallace R. Clark, head of the music department of the West Texas State Teachers College, recently received a letter from E. W. Grabill of Los Angeles congratulating the community upon its success in securing this group of musicians. Many visitors are expected from neighboring towns for this important musical event. The program will begin at 8:15 Saturday evening.

MEMBERS OF BIBLE CLASS HAVE MEETING

Two dozen members of Dr. Horn's Bible class met last evening at the Tech college cafeteria for supper and discussed the attendance program, now in effect.

Mr. Bone, Y. M. C. A. representative, was present and gave some good suggestions on building up the membership of a bible class. Mr. Musgrove, a visitor from Dallas, told about the bible class he attended in that city and the features they put on to bring out members. A plan was suggested by Dr. Horn to have special Sundays for different business lines and this will be worked up in the immediate future and special committees formed to handle this phase of the program.

Several team captains who were present reported much progress in getting after the members of their respective teams and great interest is being shown in building up the attendance to the required quota of 150.

AVIATION SCHOOL

Plans to establish a school of aviation here will be announced soon by Dr. E. O. Hendricks, according to statements made by him yesterday. Capt. Jimmy Cole, who has been flying since 1916 when he joined the British Aviation Corps where he remained throughout the World War, and who with his practical knowledge of flying has technical knowledge of aviation, will conduct the school for Dr. Hendricks, if plans materialize.

HUBBARD CHOSEN PRESIDENT OF C. I. A.

FT. WORTH, Texas, Feb. 10.—L. H. Hubbard, dean of men at Texas State University, was today elected president of the college of Industrial Arts of Denton, at a special meeting of the board of regents that met here Wednesday. The decision for Dr. Hubbard came on the second ballot.

On the first ballot, R. L. Marquis, president of the North Texas State Teachers College, received two votes, J. F. McConnell, of Clarksville, one vote, W. F. Doughty, Hillsboro, one and Dean Hubbard two. On the second ballot it was moved to make the election of Hubbard to the position unanimous.

Hubbard came to the university of Texas in 1923 and took up the duties there as dean of men. Previous to that time he was superintendent of the public schools of Belton, Texas.

Mrs. Lee Joseph, of San Antonio, read a letter of recommendation from President W. M. Splawn of the State University and nominating Dean Hubbard for the position. Previous to the election a telegram was read to the members of the board from Governor Miriam A. Ferguson, requesting delay in the election of the president until Dallas, Ft. Worth and Houston people could voice an opinion in the matter. The communication was ignored.

LOCAL LABORITES WIN IN LABEL TEST CASE

Although Judge Clark M. Mullican did not hand down a decision in the case of Cooks and Waiters vs. John Puckett, the controversy has been settled and the union card will no longer be seen in the Puckett cafe.

The case was put into court some time ago, but after all evidence had been given the Court asked that the contending parties make an effort to settle the matter out of court. This they did.

Member of the American Legion, has issued a timely warning against "parlor Bolsheviks" and misguided internationalists who rail against and decry America's form of government in an effort to break down the century-old loyalty and honor for our Constitution and Declaration of Independence. This timely and necessary warning is particularly apropos in view of the fact that addresses, books, literature, and even sermons with this object in view are passed unheeded by the publications who devote columns of space to frenzied protest against the possible visitation of some lone female assid to have been tainted with socialistic ideas.

Handsome Silk Prints Never More Popular

By JULIA BOTTOMLEY

MODERNISTIC! The newest and most popular word in our current fashion vocabulary. In this one word is the explanation of the why and the whereof of all this riotous coloring and unique designing which just now dominates the mode. If the silk print of one's dress be unusual both as to coloring and design, which it should be according to the latest style mandates, account for it in that all-important word "modernistic."

One item among a legion in favor of the handsome gray-colored modern silk prints, is their adaptability to clever styling. Especially do the bordered silks lend themselves smartly to the demand for novel effects in the now-so-modish two-piece frocks. Note the interesting manipulation of the bordered silk print as interpreted in the two-piece dress here pictured. This silk is a "made in America" product, which should appeal to our spirit of patriotism. It is designed by Rene Curie, one of a group of artists who are making every effort to create the American woman, truly American silk prints, thus encouraging the development of creative textile art within the limits of our country.

Many of the new silks in the very nature of their designing suggest being made up along jumper-suit lines. Such is a silk print whose top portion is traversed with graduated black horizontal stripes. Red and green add a more elaborate note to the decorative patterning which features the lower section. A pretty way of manipulating this particular silk is to use the heavily bordered portion for a plaited skirt, making the blouse of the black striped part, using also some of the bordering for the full-below-the-elbow sleeves.

Fifty-four-inch bordered silks are also exploited in very lovely floral patterns. All the larger flowers are accented and wisteria presents a charming new theme both as to coloring and patterning.

There are also a galaxy of entrancing crepe chiffon with quaint old-fashioned posies. In fact, it is a silk-print season, so make the most of it and indulge in color and design to heart's content.

THE NEW TRADE ROUTE

Though Canada has many miles of unprofitable railway within its national system the government pledges itself to complete to Hudson Bay the line which was begun some years ago, but stopped ninety miles short of its goal. Completion of the project is to be undertaken at the instance of the Western farmers who seek a shorter rail haul for their grain and cheaper freight rates to Europe. In fact, it is designed to be the answer to the prairies provinces on a demand somewhat similar to that which is voiced by our Western farmers. That the line runs for hundreds of miles through a well-nigh barren land to a port that is ice-bound for eight to ten months in the year is not a deterrent to the wheat growers who think they see in such a road a saving of 15 cents a bushel on wheat laid down in Liverpool.

Naturally the cities of Eastern Canada—Toronto, Montreal and Quebec—see no good in the project. Were the proposed route to prove successful it would divert the grain from the Great Lakes and St. Lawrence River routes and that of course, would hurt. The effect of the completion of the road is compared in importance to the first trans-continental railway or the digging of the Panama Canal in that it would establish a new and important trade route. While there is doubt expressed whether the road would have the effect hoped by its advocates because of the difficulties connected with the navigation of Hudson Bay. The Canadian government seems disposed to take the chance as the price of harmony with the Western provinces.

HEROES ALL

An almost unprecedented succession of gales which recently swept the northern and western Atlantic developed a new and lengthy list of sailor heroes.

Stories of daring rescues under the most trying conditions have filled the columns of the daily press, demonstrating that the chivalry of the sea still lives with undiminished vigor in the breasts of present-day seamen.

A total of 27 lives were lost when more than a score of vessels, some of large size, were sunk or disabled and tossed helplessly at the mercy of the waves for days on end, while other staunch craft battled to tow them to port or rescue their crews, as circumstances required.

Outstanding among these deeds of supreme heroism was the rescue of the crew of the British freighter Antiope by the United States liner President Roosevelt, after lifeboats had been repeatedly smashed and two lives lost. The last of the crew of 25 men were finally brought to safety in the sixth life boat launched from the Roosevelt.

Throughout all the trying ordeals which beset these men of the sea, not a single instance of flinching from stern duty was recorded, while examples of superb courage were everywhere in evidence. Living or dead, they have proved themselves heroes all.

WHEN TWENTY THOUSAND PEOPLE ARE KILLED

A writer in one of the newspapers of this state made a statement recently that if the news should be sent out over the telegraph and telephone wires, broadcasted by radio and published in the newspapers of the land that in a city of twenty thousand people, every man, woman and child in it had been killed, great would be the excitement, not only in our own country, but throughout the entire civilized world.

Then if every year as time rolls on a similar calamity should befall another city of twenty thousand; and if we had no means of knowing where the destroying hand might fall, how great would be the terror of the inhabitants of this country. If no effort were made by those in authority to check this destruction although it were possible for them to do so, how severe would be the censure heaped upon them.

Yet these are killed every year in this country of ours more than that number of men, women, and children by automobiles—most of these accidents being preventable. And the number is increasing every year, while little is being done to prevent them, or even check them.

Only a very small proportion of this number of people lost their lives in the great Galveston flood, yet the horror of it remains fresh in the minds of the people even though more than a quarter of a century has passed since that great disaster. The federal government spent many millions of dollars to prevent its recurrence and the city of Galveston assisted in the good work by voting immense bond issues. They raised that part of the island on which the city is builded so that such a disaster might be impossible in the future. But the reckless automobile continue in his destructive work without hindrance in his joy riding.

When the Lusitania was sunk by the Germans and a number of our citizens sent to a watery grave a cry of indignation and horror went up from every quarter of our country. To prevent such disasters and such outrages, our country entered the great war and offered up the flower of the youth of the land on the altar of liberty. Money was poured out like water in order that the people might be safe in every walk of life and in every part of the world.

But drunken men and giddy youths are permitted to endanger the lives of men, women and children and little if anything is done to stop them. Surely the time has come for calling a halt in our mad career of destruction and steps should be taken to place in confinement those who endanger the lives of their fellow men.

We are sure that with the proper restrictions thrown about the operation of automobiles that there would be prevented the loss of many lives in Texas every year. The driving of automobiles is not taken seriously enough we are sure. Cars are driven by people who are color blind, near-sighted, crippled and every other handicap that could be thought of, yet a car is loaded full of people and entrusted to the care of the simple minded, and maimed, which could not be tolerated by transportation companies, and chauffeurs would not be given a license to drive without they pass an approved examination.

SAFE FARMING FOR 1926

We hope the time has arrived when the farmers will settle down to safe and sane farm methods. It seems that during the past years the fellows who grow the stuff that the world lives on has never been able to get down to a point equalizing the production of crops. They either have too much or not enough of certain crops, and then make a run for the other side and rock the boat till there is no way of saving themselves and all aboard go down and have to call for help, that some time does not come.

The Southland farmer says that a number of meetings of the business interests and farmers have been held with reference to farming plans for 1926. The Chamber of Commerce at Austin has been stressing farming for the year as well as other organizations throughout the state, and we believe that the farmers have at last decided that the business men are their friends rather than their enemies, and are not going to hurt them if they will take them into their confidence will be of help to them.

The effect of the drouth in the trade area of Austin the past year made apparent how businesses suffer if small crops are made. The slogan of the chamber for 1926 is "bust the barns for 1926."

The soundness of this policy is apparent, and the reasoning set forth in the following statement of aims of the Dallas meeting is equally sound. Good results can be had only along such lines. On the page of Colonel Ousley for this issue is also a presentation of facts and figures that must make any farmers pause and think over his business and how it can really be made to pay him well and be safe from him and his family at all times.

"With no intent to dictate or to coerce, but with the sole purpose of serving the agricultural interest directly and through them, indirectly, all the commerce of Texas, we express the firm conviction that in the present crisis, due to the production of rather more cotton than the world needs it is imperative that all concerned in the material welfare of the state lend their best efforts to an intelligent and persistent program of more profitable agricultural production. We submit the slogan: "Better Cotton on Fewer Acres and More Feed on More Acres" * * *

"The situation in which we now find ourselves is only a repetition of many previous experiences and the time has come for us to realize as producers and as creditors that we can not build an enduring prosperity by depending on cotton alone. Not even 30-cent cotton will pay for feed and food if we take into consideration the deterioration of soil that necessarily ensues and which is now manifest in every part of the state. But no thoughtful man will for a moment entertain the notion that 30 cents is to be expected with unlimited production. The only safe farming * * * is farming that provides all the feed and food that the soil and climate will permit. * * *

"We venture to raise the warning based upon past unhappy experiences, that no mere reduction of acreage program will be effective. * * * We submit the more business-like, the more economic, the safer proposal of a self-sustaining agriculture, and then whether the price of cotton be high or low it at least will involve no serious loss. Any program which promises prosperity from cotton alone is doomed to bring disaster oftener than abundance. * * *

"We know, as every intelligent man knows that agriculture is the chief source of wealth in Texas; that all local business, all local commerce depends upon agriculture, and there can be no enduring prosperity unless the farmers prosper; and we insist that it is the duty of men of commerce in their own interest as well as in the interest of the common welfare of the state to exercise their influence to the end that farmer not only may produce economically and produce abundantly, but may produce with a profit, in order that he may have the greater buying power * * * in order that his family may share the blessings of the prosperity which is now enjoyed in all other industries. * * *

"The energy we use in getting even might be used in getting ahead. * * *

The energy we use in getting even might be used in getting ahead.

That Uncontrollable Element

SO THINK WE

We think we should be happy today, for something might come up tomorrow that would prevent it.

We think one man can buy a terrible lot of experience provided he has enough money.

We think that California and Florida are having a hot time trying to convince the people that the other fellows country is the best. Between the two there is some of the most wonderful country to be found in the United States—The South Plains for instance.

We think this is a very perilous age in which to raise children but we do not think that is reason there are so many childless homes.

We think it may be all right to teach classes in parachute jumping, but we are just wondering when there will be a correspondence course offered.

We think possibly the reason the navy wants a dirigible three times as large as the Shenandoah is because they would like to have something that would eclipse the gas bags in congress.

We think that possibly it was in the mind of the writer of the bestitudes when they wrote that the meek would inherit the earth, and would remain meek ever after, especially if the inheritance tax gets a whack at them.

We think that taxes were not near so high in Lubbock when we came here twenty years ago, but we did not have telephones or electric lights, or city water or sewer connections, or paved streets, or any of the conveniences of today. Which would you prefer?

We think that most of the people who knock Jack Demsey do so on paper. Very few have ever knocked him in the ring.

We think a lot of fellows who went "over the top" out of the trenches, would hesitate to judge a baby show.

We think that even prisoners enjoy some kinds of music, and anxiously await the "opening bars."

We think that Mr. Coolidge opened up a great avenue of thought the other day when he stated that some of the political speeches made in congress were made merely for "political

We think the muck-rakers will have a hard time adjusting himself to the conditions in heaven, if he should happen to get there.

We think that young folks (think that we older ones are just simply old foggy about the things they do, and we are envious of the good times they want to have. We thought that too when our parents were telling us some things that we needed to know, but we have found out that they were dead right about it, and we are of the opinion that the youngsters of today would do well to heed the words of parents today.

IT IS REPORTED

That Lubbock will likely see some railroad building activities very soon. * * *

That the fellows who are howling about property sales being dull will probably have something to cheer them up soon. * * *

That South Plains farmers are still picking cotton. * * *

That one man traveled thru Oklahoma, Arkansas and Eastern and Central Texas and found more real activity in Lubbock than in any other town over this territory. * * *

That California is becoming jealous over Florida's boom. * * *

That the churches of the city are anxious that you stay at home Sunday afternoon until three o'clock. They want to visit you and find out what church you belong to and other valuable information. * * *

That some of the officials in the state of Texas are sore at some of the newspapers. They say some of them have not the nerve to express their conviction, while others do not have sense enough to keep from saying what they think, and the Truth sure does hurt. * * *

That a number of good rent houses—we mean good ones—would be greatly appreciated by some of the fellows who rent homes. * * *

That some of the Lubbock people are fixing up their yards already, and now is the time to do it. * * *

That Paris is leasing lamp posts to bill posters. In this city they use them to stop automobiles when they start out on the sidewalk. * * *

That some of the people of Lubbock did not pay their poll tax, and will have to content themselves with telling how it should be done from the street corner. They can't talk at the ballot box. * * *

That a jack has been invented whereby the car is jacked up by the mere touch of the starter on the car. It looks like all the fun of getting out down and under has just about been taken away from the car driver. * * *

That West Texas has secured 1000 square feet of space to display the products of West Texas, in the Sequicentennial Exposition at Philadelphia. * * *

It is reported that Songraves is to have a poultry show, Feb. 20. It's a good thing to have and we are surprised that Lubbock does not have one every winter.

Farm Bureau Meeting At Lubbock

By J. J. ROSS

Ben F. Smith, editor of the Slaton Times and J. J. Ross Secretary of Slaton's Commercial Club represented the First State Bank and the City of Slaton at this the closing program of the more feed campaign that was featured in Lubbock county in 1926.

There was a splendid representation from all parts of the county and a splendid meal served by the farm bureau members and their wives which was greatly enjoyed by all present. It was indeed in every respect a great meeting as the true value and the possibilities of our county was exhibited and given in concrete facts. We were not able to get all the winners in this more feed contest.

But we do remember our little neighbor of the Posey community, I. J. Thornton, who is at the present time attending the high school at Slaton. This young man not only won in local affairs and in the essay but won the trip to Chicago and we can truthfully say that Master Thornton made one of the most interesting talks about his trip that was made during this splendid meeting. It would have done good for every man in the county to have been present and heard the talks of those boys that joined in the more feed contest of Lubbock county.

Messrs. Eaton, Overstreet and Miss Dubois are to be congratulated over their far-reaching service that covered every phase of farming interest home and community life. Each department of their work stood out as a valuable asset to both the agricultural and commercial development of Lubbock county.

Miss Dubois, County Demonstration agent work was well received and was outstanding in its character, as we were introduced to a number of the ladies that were members of her different club in that modern scientific canning and cooking. Her work was exemplified by having the husbands of these different club ladies while the audience viewed their physical condition. It was clearly shown that the husbands whose wives belonged to the various clubs that has been organized by Miss Dubois was the finest best looking biggest men of the audience.

Colonel French representing the packing companies of Fort Worth made a most interesting and worthwhile talk noting the fact that more than two hundred thousand farms in Texas had no hogs and about $75,000.00 of meat products were shipped into Texas. It was pointed out that Lubbock county had only about four thousand hogs. It was further pointed out by Mr. French that the place our county on economic would be to have one hog for each person in the county. If that were true there would be in Lubbock county something more than 30,000 hogs.

There is a move on foot sponsored by the packing companies and directed by the county agent together with the business organizations of the county to make arrangements at once for supplying the county with more hogs. This part of interest will be directed both by the commercial and banking interests of the county. Plans are given elsewhere in the paper.

A Little Talk on Thrift

By S. W. STRAUS, President American Society for Thrift

"Is there any rule to be followed in budgeting one's personal and household expenses?"

This excerpt from a letter recently received reflects the attitude of many persons on the same subject.

What percentage of one's income should be saved? What is a fair proportion to be paid for rent, food, fuel, education, recreation and other items of outgo?

No general rule can apply to all classes. The standards of thrift necessarily must vary with circumstances. In fact one of the elements of thrift practice is to study one's problems and gain added wisdom and resourcefulness therefrom.

Some time ago the United States Government Savings System issued a statement that a thrifty man should spend 50 per cent of his income for living expenses; 10 per cent for education; 10 per cent for giving; 10 per cent for recreation and save 20 per cent. The Treasury Department has stated that a family of three with $3,000 income should save $200; a family of four with $5,000 income should save $300; a family of four with $4,000 income should save $400; a family of four with $6,500 income should save $1,400 and a family of five with $10,000 income should save $2,400.

While it may be true that the average man in America should save 20 percent of his personal income, it does not follow that a man who under certain circumstances only saves 10 percent or even 5 percent of his income is not just as thrifty as some other man who might save 50 percent of his income.

There are rightful duties and obligations that must be met, and their fulfillment might preclude the saving of any considerable sums of money. On the other hand, a man might be so situated that even if he did lay aside 20 percent of his income he would be wasteful. Thrift is self-discipline, strength of character, efficiency and a common-sense administration of one's affairs.

One who never do her wrong,
Never shame the name she's taken
One who though the years be long,
Still will keep his faith unshaken.
This is what a woman seeks:
One who will not turn away
For another's painted cheeks,
But forever hers will stay.
One whose temper or despair
Never to his duty blinds him,
But a man who'll stand firm
And no woman ever finds him.

MATADORS GO DOWN IN DEFEAT AT CANYON—FINAL SCORE 43 AND 19

CANYON, Feb. 16.—The West Texas Teachers Buffaloes gave the Texas Tech Matadors a stinging defeat here tonight with a score of 43 to 19. The game was the first of a two game series and was witnessed by a crowd that packed Buffalo gym to its utmost capacity. Burton was using a new combination composed of Lowe, Hale, Pearson, Hill and Herm. Crump will not be able to play any more basketball this season. He is suffering with a muscular strain in his side. His absence was not particularly noticeable with the exception of the scoring power of the team. Lowe shifted from center to forward proved his worth as a running mate for Hale, both of them playing brilliant basketball.

One of the features of the evening was the playing of Pearson who was shifted from the scrub team to take Lowe's place at center. Pearson played a stellar game scoring 13 of Buffalo's points. Hale, Buffalo captain, played the most brilliant game he has played this year. He was high point man with 22 points in addition to covering the floor like a flash. Hill and Herm, Burton's ace conference guards, played the best defense game that has been seen on the local court this season.

Alford, Matador forward, played a flashy game but was eclipsed in brilliance by White, playing a guard whose work was excelled only by Hill and Herm.

Lineup: Tech—Alford and Hinder, guards; Hemphill, center; Walker and White, guards. West Texas Teachers—Hale and Lowe, forwards; Pearson, center; Hill and Herm, guards.

Field goals: Tech—Alford 1, Vinzant 1, Hunter 2, Walker 3. Buffaloes—Hale 11, Lowe 3, Pearson 5 and Herm 1.

Substitutions: Tech—Reeves for Alford, Vinzant for Reeves, Alford for Vinzant, Dean for Hemphill, Hemphill for Dean, Bucy for Walker. Buffaloes used no substitutes.

The victory places the Buffaloes near the top in Texas basketball. The operations of the Buffs take in the championship of the Texas Intercollegiate Athletic Association.

Woodward of Fordham refereed and excellently well called game. The Buffaloes meet the New Mexico Military Institute cadets here in a two game series next week, February 15 and 16, followed by the A. C. C. Wildcats on the 19th and 20th.

FANNING WITH FARRELL

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)
NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—General opinion seems to be favoring the Pittsburgh Pirates, the New York Giants and the Cincinnati Reds for the National League pennant and the Washington Senators, the Philadelphia Athletics and the New York Yankees as the ranking American League prospects.

The strength of the Pirates and the Giants is a known quantity, but the power of the Cincinnati club is not a certainty, depending as it does largely upon the recovery of Adolfo Luque from a recent operation and a return to form by Wally Pipp, the former Yankee first baseman.

Washington's chances for another American League pennant are figured good, simply because the club will be represented largely by the same players who have won two consecutive championships.

The Senators, however, are an aging ball club and they may go to pieces with a sudden collapse as the Yankees did last year. The Senators probably will not be as strong as they were last year and the Athletics and the Yankees are almost certain to be much stronger.

There is a growing hunch that the St. Louis clubs should not be denied a chance and, perhaps, a very good chance. The Cards same to life last year under the management of Rogers Hornsby and they are sure to be stronger this year. The Browns also are an improved club and they probably will not have the competition in their league that the Cards will in the National League.

Ben Johnson, president of the American League, was asked for his opinion about the chances of the Browns and he replied to a St. Louis sports editor:

"If the Browns start the season with the determination to get to the front that they showed in the latter part of last season they should have an equal chance with any club in the league. The Browns as they were at the finish of the 1925 season are stronger than they have been for many years. The outlook is good for them because of the prospect of better pitching."

Johnson also said that he had heard good reports about the Cards. Some of the major league club owners resent the facious way in which they are handled at times by the baseball writers.

But when they make ridiculous statements they should not be spared. Loud laughs not only from the baseball writers, arose recently when Clarke Griffith, president of the Washington Senators, announced solemnly that Muddy Ruel, perhaps the best catcher in the American League was to be benched next year in favor of Ben Tate.

When the report was heard along

Broadway, a wise old baseball sage, remarked—"Muddy must be holding out."

A few days later Griffith mentioned Ruel's name among twenty or more of his players who were holding out for more money and he threatened to start the season with a managerless team of bush leaguers if they didn't accept his terms.

"It's easy to get a manager," Griffith said.

Perhaps it was easy to get a manager like Bucky Harris but we'll dare Griffith to go out and get another like him for any money.

When club owners let it become public that their club was well off enough to crack a 0 per cent dividend, financial arguments with the employees are sure to result.

HASKELL

LAWRENCE, Kans., Feb. 9.—The coaching problem at the Haskell Indian School here has been definitely settled for another year. R. E. "Dick" Hanley, head football coach, has signed up for another year, his contract to expire March 31, 1927.

WHITE SOX PROSPECTS

CHICAGO, Feb. 8.—Sixteen comparative youngsters who will be on the pitching staff of the Chicago White Sox when they go into spring training are going to find plenty of competition from Urban "Ace" Faber, according to word received at White Sox headquarters from California where Red is wintering.

"Faber is great," "arm in better condition than it's been for three years," "lots of stuff left in me"—those were some of the phrases Red tossed into a letter to his bosses.

Faber has been playing professional baseball for 18 years, most of that time being in the big leagues. He is 37 years old and had to undergo a operation recently to remove a chip bone out of his elbow—something from which few pitchers fully recover. But Faber showed in the closing weeks of the 1925 campaign that he survived the operation and probably his present cheerfulness is not exaggerated.

Another precedent which Faber apparently has upset is the belief that spital pitchers can't last as long as those who depend on fast ones. When he was going at top gear last summer he said it was due largely to the fact he was depending on his spitter.

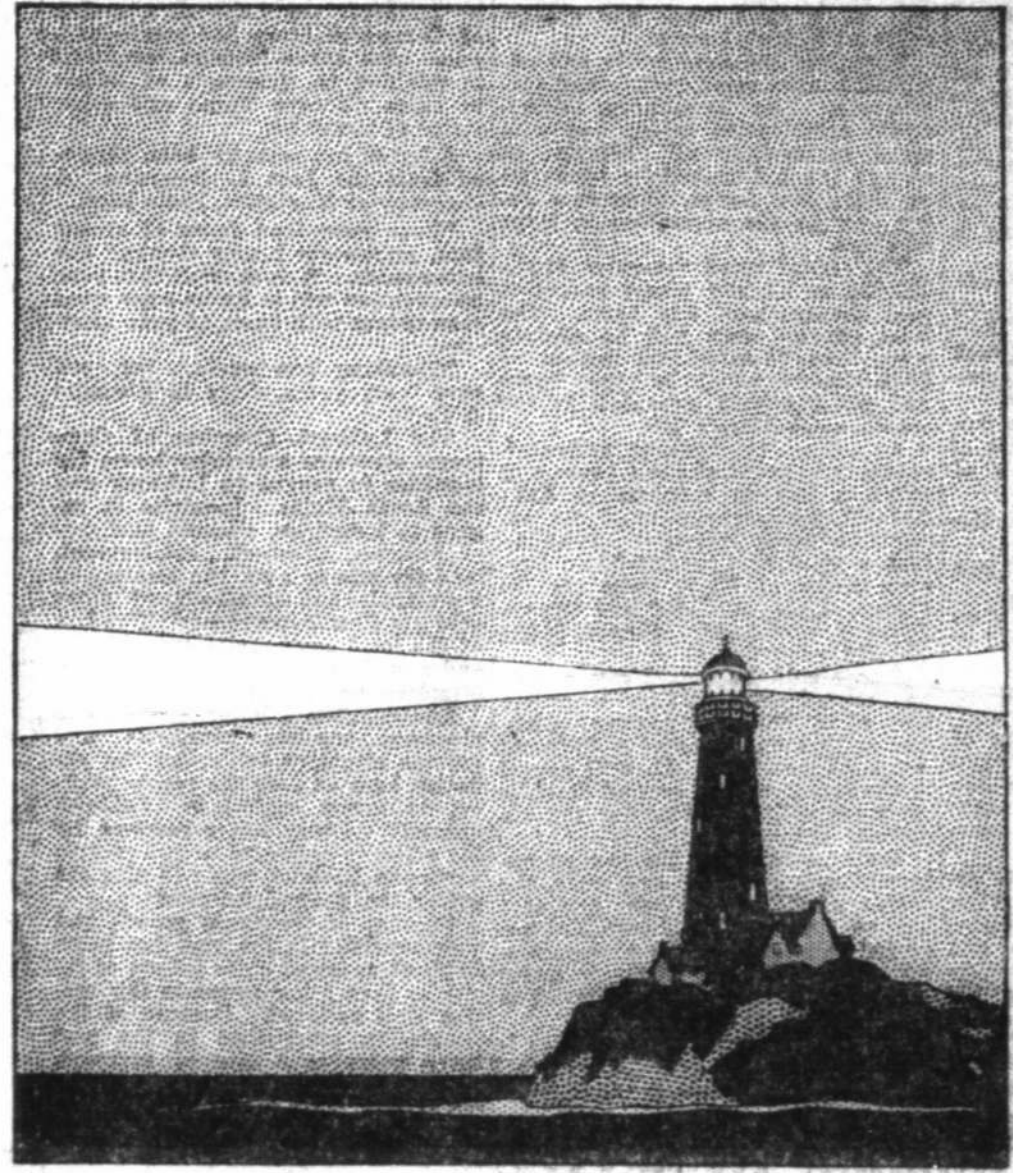

"Contrary to all supposed theories," he said, "I find that my arm gets more tired from throwing fast ones than when I'm using the spitter. Guess I'll stick to my favorite more and more from now on."

Manager Eddie Collins plans to use Faber only every fifth day during the 1926 season but is counting on his to turn in at least 15 victories on that schedule. If Red comes through that well, the Sox should have a pretty fair season.

SENATE ELIMINATES INHERITANCE TAX, OTHER REDUCTIONS BE MADE

BY THOMAS L. STOKES

United News Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—In an orgy of tax cutting, the senate in quick succession late Wednesday wiped out completely taxes on inheritance, admissions and automobiles, sales and $100,000,000 tax cut from the tax bill which the administration leaders had expected to get through.

The senate bill, as it now stands, would raise $129,000,000 less taxes than the house measure which Secretary Mellon said was the bed rock minimum that would insure meeting all government obligations.

Repeal of the inheritance tax was

by a vote of 49 to 36. Repeal of the admission tax was by a vote of 36 to 34.

Repeal of the automobile sales

tax was by a vote of 42 to 21.

When house leaders heard that senate had repealed the inheritance taxes, they announced that they would fight this in conference and endeavor to restore it.

When the elimination of three big classes of taxes the senate practically has completed its revision of the house revenue bill. An attempt will be made to reverse the action of repealing the admission taxes which was accomplished by a margin of only two votes.

Final action by the senate is expected Thursday or Friday. Then the bill goes into conference where a delegation from the house and one from the senate will meet in secret session to compose the differences in the two bills. After trading and compromising having resulted in an agreement the bill will be brought back for speedy approval in both houses.

Repeal of the automobile and admissions taxes came swiftly and surprisingly. The republican, democratic combination which had with stood successfully all efforts to change the bill materially broke up on these two issues, democrats going over to the opposition in large numbers.

The senate voted the extra $100,-

000,000 or slightly larger reduction with the space of two hours. The total tax cut now will be slightly more than $450,000,000 instead of $332,000,000 voted by the house and $35,200,000 provided in the senate committee's bill.

According to treasury estimates, repeal of the admissions taxes will cause a loss in revenue of $33,-

000,000, while abolition of the automobile taxes will cost $69,000,- 000, a total of $102,000,000. Senator Smoot of Utah, who is in charge of the bill, said that the reductions would total nearer $110,- 000,000.

Smoot said he would ask a vote on both of these reductions when the senate resumes its regular order, adding that he expected a different result at that time. He will appear to the senate on the ground that the revenues will not stand for the additional cuts.

Before rescinding the tax on automobiles, accessories and parts, the senate abolished the two per cent tax on trucks. The house had repealed this tax, but the senate committee restored it. The rate under the present law is 3 per cent. The vote was 54 to 12.

The present tax on automobiles is five per cent.

Repeal of the inheritance tax was

by a vote of 49 to 36. Repeal of the admission tax was by a vote of 36 to 34.

Repeal of the automobile sales

tax was by a vote of 42 to 21.

UNDER THE CAPITOL DOME

By PAUL R. MALLON (United Press Staff Correspondent) WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 (United Press)—Here's the latest political story buzzing around the senate corridors:

A certain senator up for reelection in November was recently being hard pressed by a leading opponent within his party ranks. The opponent thought it would be good political strategy to write an open letter to one of the party leaders asking his opinion about whether he (the leading opponent) should run. He of course expected the prompt reply that he should run and with that gun he would open his campaign.

Friends of the senator holding office, however, thought of a way to muzzle his guns. They openly misinterpreted the opponent's public letter as an indication that he would not run and got several hundred people to send him telegrams and letters congratulating him on withdrawing from the race.

Now the opponent doesn't know whether he will run or not. Senator Fred Hale, chairman of the naval affairs committee is one of the smallest men in stature in the senate while his friend Senator George Wharton Pepper, Republican, Pennsylvania, is one of the largest.

Not long ago Hale invited Pepper up to his lodge in the Maine woods. A large group started out early for a hunting and fishing expedition one morning on a long tramp. Hale was the smallest in the group and Pepper the largest so Pepper figured that he would have to walk slowly to enable Hale to keep up with him. They moved along the first mile and Pepper began to notice that Hale appeared to be quickening the pace of his short legs.

Several hours later Pepper tramped haggardly up to the spot designated as the goal of their hike to find Hale coolly propped against a tree fishing.

A senator opposed to the administration upon many important issues has been often invited to the White House by President Coolidge and until recently the White House always sent a special car for him. One day a newspaperman said to the senator:

"The administration senators say the outcome of this issue is going to rest upon the strength of your opposition and since you have been seen riding around a lot in the White House car recently, they think their measure is going to pass."

"If they leave it to me, it will never pass," the senator replied. After that he wasn't seen riding around in the White House cars and when the issue came before the senate he fought it viciously.

Trinity Chemists - Make Interesting Experiments

WAXAHACHIE, Tex., Feb. 10.—Chemistry classes of Trinity University have been conducting interesting experiments the past few weeks with specimens taken from what may prove to be a lignite strata, in Ellis County near Ovilla. The strata is the discovery of H. L. Williamson, business manager of Trinity University. Exact location of the strata is not known as Mr. Williamson is out of the city. First tests made by student chemists showed unmistakable evidences of lignite but it will not be known just how pure the specimens from the strata are until the heat and acid tests have been completed.

British Women Invade Masculine Occupations

By CHARLES M. McCANN (United News Staff Correspondent) LONDON, Feb. 10.—British women have successfully invaded every masculine occupation but that of fatherhood.

There are women manufacturers, women weather experts, women lawyers, women explorers, women mayors, women members of parliament, women cabinet officials, women anthropologists; there is a woman aerial taxicab driver and a woman deep sea diver.

Many of them are pretty. All are capable. Some are titled, some are self-made. Some are married. Some are "surplus women"—the men who might have been their husbands are buried on European battlefields.

One British village—Lawford, in Essex—is entirely run by women. From Miss Emily Spooner, tax collector and town everseer, down thru the school mistress, post mistress and post women, every municipal job is held by women.

The Duchess of Atholl is Undersecretary of Agriculture in the Cabinet, Miss Vivian George is an assistant at the Royal College of Surgeons, where she works daily surrounded by rows of grinning skulls. There are many women surgeons and doctors.

Mrs. Elliott Lynn resigned the secretaryship of the Ladies' Athenaeum Club when she obtained her license as a commercial air pilot, preparatory to taking up passenger-carrying work.

Miss Margaret Naylor, Britain's first woman deep sea diver, is at present angling off the coast of Ireland for treasure that sank with a Spanish galleon in 1588.

Lady Henrywood has just taken over the eighth of her string of large hotels.

Lady Warwick is preparing to donate her huge country seat as the site for a workers' university, plans for which she is now completing.

Lady Richmond Brown is at home for a while preparatory to leaving for another exploring expedition in one of the few uncivilized parts of the world she has not visited.

Miss Margaret Partridge is running the electric power supply of Bampton, Devonshire, after drawing plans for and supervising the erection of the power house, the capital for which she furnished.

Miss W. E. Pilkington is patiently taking the knocks that go to any weather forecaster as she carries on with her job as meteorologist of Buxton.

Many women are running factories at some of which all the employees—mechanics as well as others—are women.

But perhaps the chief of all British working women is the Begum of Bhopal, now here on a visit from the Indian state of which she is sovereign. Her territory extends over 7,000 miles, an dher dominion over 700,000 people. The state revenues are $2,000,000 a year.

AUSTIN, Texas, Feb. 9.—Photostatic copies of pictures showing positions used in fencing are being made at the University of Texas for use in classes there, according to Melvin Williamson, instructor for men. These copies will be fifteen by twenty-two feet in size and will be placed on the walls of the gymnasium. When an incorrect position is taken, attention can quickly be called to the chart portraying the right one, Williamson explained. This will greatly facilitate the learning of correct form, it is believed.

PUBLIC SCHOOL SHOULD BE PURELY A DEMOCRATIC INSTITUTION, IS CLAIM

Years ago, before the public high school had won "its place in the sun," students who entered college depended for their preparation upon the academy or preparatory school of a tutorial system. As the public high school became more popular and the American taxpayer accepted the idea that in a democracy there must be equality of educational opportunity, the public high school supplanted the private academy but at a sacrifice in its adaptability to local needs. When the public high school accepted the duty and the responsibility of preparing students to enter college it subjected its curriculum to college domination which has in some places, in times past, been detrimental to the best interest of the patrons. A public high school should be a thoroughly democratic institution; it should be "the people's college"; its curriculum should meet the requirement of a college entrance board. True it is that since colleges of a vocational type have won popular favor, high school courses have been liberated, and graduates of secondary schools, if not prepared for entrance to the institutions emphasizing classical courses, can complete their education in colleges of the first class which are essentially vocational.

From 1885 to 1917, the University of Texas rendered service of untold value in the standardization of the public high schools, but as vocational courses became more popular, the University was somewhat tardy in giving them recognition. This finally resulted in the transfer of the work of accrediting high schools from the University to the State Department of Education. The work of the high school division of the State Department of Education embraces a wider scope than did that of the University for the reason that smaller high schools—one year, two year and three year—are visited, standardized and classified.

By far the larger number of students now entering our Texas colleges are graduates of four year accredited schools. By accident or residence, a student may have free tuition in an excellent high school and be promoted to the freshman class of any college without further examination. But the student who may live in the rural district or in a larger district with an unclassified school must take an entrance examination. For many years, the University of Texas has been sending out entrance examination questions in May to the accredited schools, but very few students ever availed themselves of the opportunity to take the examinations. The writer had the honor of supervising the high school work in the State Department for two and one-half years beginning January, 1919. In May of that year the questions were offered as formerly, but only 260 students took the entrance examination. Steps were taken to popularize these examinations. The State committee at the writer's suggestion adopted the following policies:

- (1) In addition to the accredited schools, questions should be mailed to all county superintendents and to any principal who would be endorsed by his county superintendent.
  - (2) Rules governing the examinations should be the same as those prescribed for teachers' examinations.
  - (3) Students were given five years in which to secure their fifteen entrance credits and they could take examinations each year on as few or as many subjects as they desired.
  - (4) If sixteen units were obtained in the State examinations including three in English, two in history, and three in mathematics, a Texas high school diploma would be issued by the State Superintendent and the Chief Supervisor of High Schools.
- The growth of popularity of these examinations has been phenomenal. As stated above, the number of students who took the examination in 1919 was 260; in 1925 it was 3552! The following students are eligible:
- (1) Those who have studied the subjects without a teacher.
  - (2) Those who are enrolled in unaccredited schools.
  - (3) Those who are students of accredited schools but have taken subjects which are not accredited in the same schools.

The state college entrance examinations have been of untold benefit to the students who are in the rural districts. They have been used by the teacher to test his students; teachers have been able to test their own efficiency; students have used the units secured to enter accredited high schools; they have gone direct to the college and completed their examinations in the fall just prior to the opening of the institution. By common consent, the State Department of Education gives all Spring college entrance examinations; the colleges give all of those held in the Fall.

In 1924, seven students had completed sixteen college entrance units by examination and therefore received Texas high school diplomas, Henry Elkins, Spur; Virginia Gussman, Galveston; Velma Hill, Annie Louise Cox, Center Point; Karline Kight, San Angelo; Caroline Atkinson League City; Onesimo Elizondo, San Antonio. The class of 1925: Mrs. S. P. Conn, oody; Rue Eubank, Seminole; Blanche Hall, League City; Elma Hinton, Encinal.

Examinations will be held this year on May 4, 5, 6, and 7 and a large number of students are expected to enter. Their value will depend upon the integrity of the students and teachers; the rules must be adhered to rigidly and all examinations conducted honestly. These examinations are said to be one of the most helpful and constructive functions of the State Department; they open the doors of the best high schools and the first class colleges to hundreds of worthy boys and girls in the rural districts and in the unaffiliated schools.

INTERNATIONAL PRESS CONFERENCE SOON

By HENRY WOOD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
GENEVA, Feb. 8.—With the meeting of the League of Nations council, in March, final decision will be taken on the proposal of Chile to hold an international press conference at Geneva under the auspices of the League.

It is already certain, however, that this decision will now be favorable as responses received by the Secretariat of the League of Nations from all portions of the world have been unanimously favorable.

The League has been especially impressed by the favorable response from the American press, as at the time the project was launched, it was not expected that the United States would be especially interested.

As soon as the League council in March gives its final sanction to the project, preparations will be gotten ### under way along the lines that have now been definitely adopted by the League for the preparation and holding of all international conferences.

There will first be summoned a commission of journalistic experts whose duty it will be to study carefully all the possibilities of such a conference, prepare an agenda and work out any and all ideas and projects which it thinks ought to be submitted to the conference.

When this work has been done the League will then convene the conference either for later in the year, or possibly not till 1927 if it seems that additional time is necessary for its preparation.

The preparatory commission of experts that will first be summoned presumably for some time during the coming summer will consist of somewhere between twenty and forty representatives of all the leading national press groups of all the leading nations of the world.

BABIES GETS SUNLIGHT ON DARKEST DAYS IN CHICAGO U.

CHICAGO, Feb. 9.—If you would raise the "perfect child" you should see that your child has adequate sleep, a wholesome diet, and plenty of out-of-door exercises. Miss Lydia Roberts, assistant professor of home economics at the University of Chicago says.

Miss Roberts has charge of the co-operative nursery at the University which has been established for use by the mothers of the University community.

Children are brought to the nursery in the morning and during the day go through a carefully supervised routine consisting of a balanced lunch, adequate hours of sleep and time for play.

A novelty that has been introduced in the nursery is a new violet ray lamp that gives the children the benefit of sun's rays during the winter months.

"The nursery," Miss Roberts says, "has a three-fold purpose. It houses children who otherwise might not have the benefit of scientific care. It serves as an educational institution for mothers who attend fortnightly lectures to learn how to care for children. It is a laboratory for University students who contemplate having a home."

The nursery takes care of about forty children daily whose ages range from two to six.

Bay Rum Peddlers Will Be Indicted

HONOLULU, Feb. 9.—Steps to prosecute a large mainland wholesale firm which is alleged to have sold bay rum with a deadly wood alcohol content may be taken by authorities here.

The city board Tuesday placed a report with the attorney general and requested an opinion regarding possible action against a concern which has supplied army and navy posts with hair tonic supplies. While details of the report were withheld, it was announced that an investigation of circumstances surrounding the death of six soldiers at Schofield Barracks last week resulted in the discovery that bay rum drunk at anniversary celebrations contained 67 per cent wood alcohol, with no poison labels appearing on the bottles.

At an inquest over W. E. Edwards at Shrewsbury, Eng., a doctor testified that Edwards had been "picked alive" by liquor.

COTTON LETTER

Furnished by Fenner & Beane

WEATHER

Brownwood, clear, somewhat cooler. Waco, clear and soother. Corsicana, clear and colder. Austin, clear and colder. Cuero, clear and warm. McKinney, clear, warm. Stanley Forecast Memphis—Slightly colder over belt. Light rainfall scattered Georgia and along Carolina coast. Forecast Wednesday entire belt generally fair. Slightly colder eastern belt and slightly warmer western belt.

Weekly—Past week abnormally warm and generally fair over entire belt. Very favorable for final picking and some progress was made in plowing and new crop work.

Reduction in cotton acreage is being more seriously considered here before by planters who more fully realize the seriousness of continued excessive acreage.

COTTON

Cotton Opinions Hicks & Williams—When demand revives the value of cotton will probably be demonstrated and it will be well to buy some in anticipation of better prices.

S. M. Weld & Co.—Without incentive continued fluctuations within a limited range appear likely. We adhere to our opinion that purchases made on easy market will offer opportunity for securing at least modest profits.

Orvis Bros.—Prices appear very sound but most probably will continue within a narrow trading range. Hubbard Bros.—We have no new outside information, we do not expect a great deal of change in prices but expect a rather local market as a consequence.

New Orleans Cotton—Contracts were scarce and yesterday's sellers were inclined to cover giving the market a better tone and moderate advance. Best prices of the day were made just before the close. The weather bureau reported favorable weather over most of the belt the past week and excellent progress in preparation for the new crop west of the Mississippi river. Progress in the east was interfered with somewhat by wet soils. Spot kind and dry goods markets appear to have quieted down somewhat. The small certificated stocks in the contract markets are the chief support to the market as they intimate sellers and induce covering whenever the resistance is encountered. The trade continues to look for a bullish demonstration in March.

Early Cotton Letter—NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 10.—Liverpool is due 4 up on March, 5 on May and July, 5 up on May and 2 on October by New York.

There was some long liquidation in March yesterday but shorts took it and this had little or no effect. There was much bearish talk of one kind or another yesterday but no pressure in preparation and may affect the market temporarily. Spot sales 11,745 vs. 12,232 day before. Western markets unchanged except 15 lower at Dallas. Eastern markets 7 to 45 lower.

Cotton Seed Oil—NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 10.—Market was strong during forenoon on reports of increasing inquiry for oil and fact that contracts are bringing in new futures. Some of the gain was lost after lard broke 30 points but closing bids were four to six higher for nears and unchanged on July. Spots quoted dull unchanged at 10.65.

NEW YORK FINANCE—By TODD W. WRIGHT—United News Financial Editor NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—In the face of further sharp breaks in the stocks at the food producing companies as a result of the federal investigation into recent pending mergers, the behavior of the rest of the market Wednesday was a source of great satisfaction for the constructive element.

However, there is no possible reason why the unreasoning over the situation in the food crops group should have any influence on other groups and the action of the market in ignoring the sharp breaks of these stocks is only natural.

1926 J. 9441. reason should shed light on governmental opposition to consolidations of food producing companies envisaged similar action in other fields of endeavor. It has been a matter for great apprehension in view of the many impending mergers in various industries. However, the administration is outspokenly in favor of mergers which will bring about beneficial results such as lower operating costs and consequently lower prices to the consumer without destroying competition. It has been proven too often that healthy competition is the only means to prevent such situations as the anti-trust law guards against, and such as the government contends will exist in the food products industry if proposed consolidations are permitted.

It was knowledge of this situation that prevented the rest of the market from reacting along with the food products stocks Wednesday, vigorous operations on the side of rising prices went ahead in other sections of the list particularly in stocks of the high priced industrial category.

The decrease in forward business of the United States Steel Corporation for the month of January revealed in the report issued Wednesday, caused some disappointment in the street, but not in the steel industry where had been expected.

It was no reflection on the expected prosperity of the nation, for January always has been a dull month among buyers of steel and business so far this month indicates that the next report will again show an increase in forward orders.

Kansas City Livestock—KANSAS CITY, Feb. 10.—Cattle receipts were heavier and trade was slow with values steady to 15 cents lower.

T. & P. TRAIN AND ENGINE MEN MAY WALK OUT

FORT WORTH, Feb. 9.—Until representatives of the three Brotherhoods involved in the railway threatened strike against the Texas & Pacific confer with the United States labor board in Chicago, no action will be taken toward carrying the strike into effect, it was announced late today after a conference of the officials of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, the Brotherhood of Engineers and the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen.

Although he confirmed the report that the strike vote had carried, E. E. Edrington, of Cleveland, assistant grand chief engineer of the B. of L. E. would not predict the outcome of the conference. The national authorities, he said, have full authority to make a settlement with the employing carriers.

All the Texas & Pacific tracks between Alexandria and New Orleans is involved in the controversy that is the subject of the case. The grievance arose over pooling of tonnage by the two lines with result that practically all the hauling was done by the Missouri Pacific trains and crews.

The tracks involved covers a distance of 194 miles. Representatives of the three labor board in Chicago Friday at the request of the board.

While the present controversy involves only a portion of the men and mileage of the Texas & Pacific Railway the strike will affect the entire system if it is carried out.

It is expected that the result of this one instance on the Texas & Pacific will set a national precedent in other trackage arrangement between two lines or more.

TRUTH IS A BLESSING

FLATTERY A CURSE

Flattery is a curse to the human race. Truth is the greatest blessing bestowed on man kind. This will apply to every day life and every man and woman. Flattery tells us what we want to be told while truth tells us what we should be told. You ask a friend to tell you what they think of a certain trait you possess and they tell you something good about it that they themselves do not believe. They have committed a sin against you. They should, on the other hand, tell you their candid opinion concerning the subject of discussion, but not too harshly, however. We ask others for their criticism of our work, expecting a long line of compliments, but become angry if the person criticizes the work justly without praising it. It is simply a streak of human nature.

It would probably be alright if flattery should remain under the old circumstances. One may flatter you to your face, but when another asks the same question concerning you, he would have a different story to tell, and if told just what he thought there would be no doubt be hard feelings. Flattery makes many proud vain souls that are in a way unfavorable to their continued happiness. Truth cuts the heart like a knife, even when it robs you of your handicap and pushes you on to success.

Unemployment In Germany Increases

BERLIN, Feb. 10.—Unemployment in Germany has increased in dimensions unprecedented in this country's history.

According to official figures, more than one million workless men and women were living on government doles at the end of December. Probably more than two million Germans living in enforced idleness, exist on government charity, if one includes the wives, mothers, children or other dependents of the unemployed.

To these hordes of unemployed must be added the short-time workers, who are engaged in factories for three or four hours daily—often only half the week. The number of short-time workers is also estimated at a million, so that if one reckons the host of unemployed not on the official lists, at least three million men and women are today deprived of the means to earn their livelihood.

Within the last two months, unemployment had doubled, trebled and, in some districts even quadrupled.

The rise of unemployment in Germany is indicated in the following tabulation, which includes only those receiving government "handouts."

July 1, 1925	195,000
August 1, 1925	197,000
Sept. 1, 1925	231,000
Oct. 1, 1925	286,000
Nov. 1, 1925	364,000
Dec. 1, 1925	666,000

Hero medals are being proposed for Capt. George Fried of U. S. liner Roosevelt, who managed thrilling rescue of the crew of crippled English freighter Antioch, after the Roosevelt had been buffeted for three days by crushing waves raging around the freighter and sacrificed two of its crew in rescue attempts. The captain and his ship are shown. Mrs. Fried was photographed while proudly waiting in New York for her husband to come home and tell the story. George V. of England is preparing to decorate Fried.

Moochers Usally Have More Money Than Benefactors

DALLAS, Tex., Feb. 10.—A healthy looking lad wearing overalls approached a Dallas man, who prefers to remain anonymous, recently and asked to be staked to the price of a cup of coffee and a roll.

"I am sorry my boy, I have only six cents change," said the Dallas man.

"Where are you from?" "Eastland," the moocher replied, taking the nickel and penny.

"I'm more than sorry, I have only six cents change," if you're from Eastland," the Dallasite told the boy jokingly.

"I'm more than willing to help anyone away from that town," muttering something about Dallas' six cent sports, the boy took exception to the remark and offered to return the change. The Dallasite reminded the bum that apparently Eastland sports had less than six cents to boast of.

"Huh, is that so?" sneered the healthy mendicant, exhibiting a sizeable roll of bills.

The one who had played the part of benefactor to the extent of six cents laughed. "I've learned for six cents what I've spent dollars to learn," he said.

"What's that," asked the Eastlander roughly.

"That moochers usually have more money than their benefactors," the Dallasite replied.

THE U. S. ON BRITISH SOIL TO BE DEDICATED ON JULY FOURTH NEXT

By MINOTT SAUNDERS (United Press Staff Correspondent) LONDON, (United Press)—The anniversary of the Declaration of Independence has been chosen for the opening and dedication of the "first little bit of the United States on British soil." On July 4 Ambassador Houghton will occupy and receive in the new home, the property of the American Government, of the American Ambassador to the Court of St. James.

The residence, at 13 and 14 Prince's Gate, will then appear as a beautiful mansion in one of the most fashionable districts of London. When the property was given to the Government for an ambassadorial home by J. Pierpont Morgan there were two buildings, but these have been joined together into one palatial whole, and renovations now in progress should be completed for the July opening.

In the old "Morgan House" extensive changes have been made. Many large rooms have been divided while small ones have been opened and joined. The winding staircases have been removed and a grand sweeping central staircase installed.

The sumptuous dining room and the ambassador's study look out on a beautiful terrace, with a landscape beyond. The drawing rooms of both houses have been joined, and look out across Hyde Park.

Morgan gave the property to the Government shortly after the war, but many delays followed. Harvey, when ambassador, hoped to occupy the building, but Congress was slow in voting the necessary funds for its renovation and both he, and later Kellogg, were disappointed. Morgan spent over $200,000 on the property and the Government is now spending $150,000 to renovate it for the requirements of the American ambassador. The rich decorations, with gold and scarlet cornices and hand-pointed walls, have been retained, giving an atmosphere of quiet, artistic luxury inside.

The new mansion will have fifty-two rooms. Mrs. Houghton will have a delightful suite of bedroom, boudoir and sewing room, while the ambassador will have a special suite with a visitors' receiving room.

Access to the building will be through an imposing ground hall with a marble floor leading to the grand staircase. The Embassy proper will remain in Grosvenor Gardens where the Government's lease still has ten years to run.

Miss Katherine Nuckolls, chosen the most beautiful girl at the University of Alabama, is captain of the basketball team, champion target shot and holds several swimming records.

TUNE-IN on this little talk about one grand and glorious cigarette tobacco—Prince Albert, and nobody else! Here's the makin's tobacco that has satisfaction woven right in the selvage. You'll check with that when the first fragrant puff percolates through your smoke-system.

P. A. is crimp-cut and stays put. Doesn't float away on the first breeze. A home-rolled P. A. cigarette smokes cool and sweet, no matter how hard you pull on it. Burns better too. Just never was a cigarette tobacco like good old P. A., and that's a fact.

Hot-diggity-dog, how you'll go to it with P. A.! You'll make one right after another. Not a nip or a scorch in a ton . . . the Prince Albert process settled that years ago. Get you a tidy red tin or a tippy red bag of Prince Albert today. Get the joy that's due you.

While you're about it, tuck a wad of P. A. into the muzzle of that old jimmy-pipe. The tobacco that makes such wonderful cigarettes goes equally well in a pipe. Don't say you "can't smoke a pipe." Give P. A. a workout. Sure—you'll like a pipe!
