Forrestal Resigns; Johnson To Get Post

Reds Retaliate By Ousting U.S. Missions

RUSSIAN MISSION UNDER SIEGE—U. S. military policemen talk outside Russian repatriation mission in Frankfurt, Germany, which has been blockaded following the Russian refusal to comply with American orders to leave the U. S. zone of Germany. Four Russian officers and four soldiers finally gave up and moved out early today. Water, gas and electricity had been cut off and the telephones disconnected in the bloodless siege, and food was shut off by orders of M. P.'s to arrest anyone trying to enter or leave the building. Soviets 'Quit' At Frankfurt

By TOM AGOSTON
INS Staff Correspondent

FRANKFURT, March 4 (Friday) —The Russians expelled a four-man U. S. Graves Registration team from the Soviet zone last night in retaliation for the ouster of a blockaded Soviet Repatriation mission from the U. S. zone.

(Members of the Russian repatriation mission hauled down the Red flag early today and left Frankfurt, headed for the Soviet zone, The Associated Press said.

(Their departure from the mission's American-blockaded headquarters took place a few hours after Soviets ordered their return.)

The eight Russians had been blockaded for two days in their Frankfurt headquarters by American MP's because of their defiance of an American order to get out of the zone.

Americans Leave Soviet Zone

The Soviet military government ordered the ouster of the Americans and withdrawal of the Russians in joint notes to Russian and American officials concerned. The ouster order was directed against American "search" groups in the Soviet zone.

A four-man graves registration team which had been stationed at Parchim in the Mecklenburg area returned to Berlin with Soviet escort last night.

Sgt. Robert Koch, of Leavenworth, Kan., head of the group, said he had received the ouster order by telephone yesterday morning.

Capt. J. P. Wilson, chief of graves registration in Berlin, said a second U. S. registration team of two members completed its work in the Sondershausen area of the Soviet zone and voluntarily returned to Berlin last night.

Reds Begin Packing

The Russians, in barring U. S. graves registration personnel from their zone, declared that the move was due to the "shocking" treatment of the Soviet Repatriation mission in Frankfurt, The Russians charged the Americans with carrying out a "hunger blockade" against the Russians.

A bustle of activity was produced in the blockaded Soviet headquarters building when the Russians received their orders to

U. S. Denounces Molotov Charge

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 3—The United States accused Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov today of using "misrepresentation and distortion of fact" in an effort to keep a Soviet repatriation mission in the American zone of Germany.

General Lucius D. Clay, American commander, has ordered the mission to leave and in a note delivered to Molotov at Moscow today, Washington backed up Clay 100 per cent.

The American note, released here by the State department, was sent to Molotov in reply to a protest against Clay's order which the Soviet foreign office had handed to the American embassy in Moscow on February 24.

Claims Are Rejected

"This government," the U. S. note said, "considers the minister's note replete with misrepresentation and distortion of fact.

"There is no basis for the Soviet government's statement that large numbers of Soviet citizens desirous of returning to the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics remain in the American area of occupation as a result of hindrances caused to the Soviet Repatriation mission by American authorities or for any reason other than their own volition."

That opening sally in the American statement got to the heart of the argument as it exists formally

Red Army Paper Says Russians Will Crush U.S. If War Starts

By RICHARD WEIL
INS Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, March 3—The official Red Army newspaper in Berlin declared today Soviet troops will crush the United States if war comes.

The comment of the Taeglische Rundschau clearly was aimed at accelerating worldwide declarations by Communist leaders in western lands that the people owe allegiance to Moscow if another East-West war occurs. It said:

"The Soviet army once before demonstrated to the world how it could deal with aggressors.

"If the United States has not learned a lesson, if the United States continues policies of force, it must someday experience the same fate as its predecessor, Hitler."

The Soviet army newspaper added:

"There is only one way out of the chaos in Europe—an active fight by peaceful powers under the leadership, of

CREDIT CONTROLS ARE EASED

HST Gives Proposal To Halt Drastic Changes In Prices

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON, March 3 — President Truman said today his administration is trying to keep a floor on prices as well as a ceiling on them.

The Chief Executive told his news conference that the Federal Reserve board has relaxed consumer credit controls effective Monday as an aid to the nation's economy.

At the same time, the President said that the purpose of the full employment act was to deal with both upward and downward spirals in the U. S. economy.

He made his remarks shortly after the Federal board further eased credit controls by canceling a requirement that installment purchasers pay at least $70 a month where the balance is more than $1,000.

The National Automobile Dealers association said the board's action will make possible monthly payment reductions. It said that in Washington, for example, monthly payment reductions would range from $6.80 on a car costing about $1,550 to $11.15 a month on an automobile priced at about $2,400.

Mr. Truman said that federal surveys show that certain commodities are still hitting new peaks, while other commodities have gone down in price.

Move Is "Experiment"

In view of this, he explained, the administration is trying to keep a ceiling on prices as well as a floor on them.

The new relaxation of controls is effective Monday, along with the regulations easing restrictions on installment purchases of automobiles and 12 durable household commodities already announced.

A government economist explained that the relaxation of credit controls is an "experiment." He declared the controls will be restored promptly if installment buying gets out of hand.

A board spokesman said that lifting of the $70-a-month payment requirement will give retail dealers discretion to determine the time a purchaser will be allowed to pay the balance of the purchase price.

Although the board kept the Wife Faints After Reunion With Man She Believed Dead

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, March 3.—Mrs. Juanita Christensen collapsed tonight shortly after she was reunited with her husband who she thought had been dead the past year.

Chris Jepsen Christensen, former San Francisco city supervisor, had been missing since January 13, 1948, until he turned up here last night as a Bible salesman.

Mrs. Christensen, travelling incognito and declining to talk with reporters, arrived at the municipal airport on schedule from San Francisco but her husband had changed his mind and waited downtown.

Refuses To Talk

She was accompanied here by Richard Pollard, a San Francisco newspaper reporter.

As she stepped from the plane, a reporter asked if she was Mrs. Christensen. She kept walking. "Sorry," she said.

A large group of photographers and reporters kept pace.

Pollard was asked if she were Mrs. Christensen.

"Yes," he said, "but she's not talking. You boys know why. We've put up a lot of money into this story."

Another reporter asked Mrs. Christensen if she was glad her husband was alive and not dead, as she had thought.

"I am very glad," she said. "Beyond that I have no comment."

The reporters and photographers followed Mrs. Christensen and Pollard from the airport to the Lamar hotel. Then a cab stopped and she and Pollard ducked into it.

The cab drove off through a park but circled back to the Rice hotel, about four blocks away.

The Houston reporters were waiting at the Rice.

But Pollard and Mrs. Christensen came in a side door and a few minutes later the reporters saw Christensen embracing his wife in a hall off the hotel lobby.

The couple rushed toward the elevator, and a reporter asked Christensen: "Are you going back with your wife?"

"Of course," he said, "don't

Truman Gives Plan To Halt Filibusters

By ROGER D. GREENE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 3, — President Truman today said he favors breaking up Senate filibusters by a simple majority vote —a step which southerners denounced as meaning "the end of free debate."

An immediate storm of protest rolled up on Capitol Hill in the wake of Mr. Truman's remark at his news conference. It came in the midst of a bitter four-day-old Senate filibuster against a proposed rules change curbing filibusters.

Under this proposal, backed by a number of northern Democrats and Republicans, debate could be cut short anytime two thirds of the senators present so voted.

Georgian Denounces HST

The CIO and some other organizations would go farther—limiting talk by a simlpe majority—and today the President disclosed that he personally favors that course, too.

Even some administration lieutenants on Capitol Hill bucked at going along. Senate majority leader Lucas (D-Ill) told newsmen:

"I regret that I am compelled to disagree with my chief."

And on the Senate floor, Senator Russell (D-Ga) shouted that the President's statement makes it clear Mr. Truman wants to "control the Senate.

South "More Determined"

Similarly, Senator Byrd (D-Va) decried Mr. Truman's suggestion. The Virginian said it only makes "those of us who are fighting this thing more determined than ever."

Senator Holland (D-Fla), leading the day's filibuster attack, told the Senate that the passage of a majority cloture (debate limit) rule, as favored by Mr. Truman, would "destroy the prestige of the Senate."

President Opposed

Mr. Truman told his news conference he believes the Senate battle over the filibuster will run its course soon and permit passage of his legislative program.

Describing himself as a veteran of many a filibuster during his Senate days — but always on the side trying to break it — Mr. Truman said if he had anything to do with the present fight, he would personally favor a simple majority

LOUIS A. JOHNSON
(See Story in Col. 8)

New Defense Chief Former Aide To FDR

By JOHN B. OWEN
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 3—President Truman today accepted the resignation of Secretary of Defense James V. Forrestal and chose for the post Louis A. Johnson, who was Army mobilizer on the eve of World War II.

If confirmed by the Senate, as is expected, Johnson will take over from Forrestal on March 31.

The 58-year-old Johnson, a West Virginia and Washington lawyer, becomes head man in the Pentagon in the midst of America's most gigantic peacetime military preparations.

Decision Long Rumored

As assistant secretary of war under Franklin D. Roosevelt he directed the planning for Army mobilization a decade ago. Last fall, he was fund raiser for the Truman campaign for the presidency.

Forrestal, 57, the first man to head up the Army, Navy and Air Force under the unification act, was the last remaining member of the Roosevelt cabinet.

President Truman's decision to put a new man in Forrestal's place had long been rumored. However, as is customary in such cases, the White House today made public correspondence in which Forrestal urged acceptance of his resignation for "urgent personal considerations" and the President "reluctantly" acquiesced.

HST Praises Forrestal

Forrestal's letter reviewed his government career of eight and one half years, first as undersecretary and secretary of the Navy under Roosevelt, and for the past 18 months as secretary of defense.

He paid "profound tribute" to the armed services for their work during the war and since. He also expressed appreciation for the President's support "in the difficult initial period of the process of unification of the armed forces."

Praising Forrestal highly, Mr. Truman wrote him:

"Your entire service has been characterized by vision, foresight, and a broad appreciation of the vital importance of relating our military potential to the requirements of our national policy."

The reports that Forrestal would be replaced grew insistent

Clothing Market Opens Saturday

First arrivals are expected today for the pre-Easter style exhibits Saturday through Monday in the Lubbock hotel sponsored by the Western Wholesale Clothing Market association of the chamber of commerce, according to Luther Godwin, association president.

With favorable weather, indications point to one of the most successful markets since the association was organized more than 20 years ago, Godwin said.

Purpose Explained

Purpose of the market, he explained, is to provide a place where retailers within a 300 to 500-mile radius of Lubbock can meet and deal with wholesale, manufacturing and distributing representatives from all parts of the nation.

Jim Crook, assistant manager of the chamber of commerce and secretary of the market association, said first arrivals will be the representatives of some of the 70 wholesale and manufacturing firms which have reserved exhibit space in the market. They will begin setting up their displays as soon as they arrive.

Displays To Be Arranged

Most of the exhibitors, however, are not expected to be here until Saturday morning. All displays probably will not be arranged until late Saturday.

The exhibits will include men's, women's and children's clothing of all kinds, accessories and furnishings for homes. Many of the exhibitors will be prepared to

Six Complaints Face Idalou Man

Raymond Lee Tate, 21, who lives on an Idalou route near Lubbock, was charged Thursday with burglary Jan. 28 of Parks Printing company at 402 Ave. M, bringing to six the number of felony complaints filed against him within recent weeks.

The complaint, charged under oath of A. B. Parks of the printing company, was filed in the justice court of C. E. Lynn who set bond of $1,000 in binding Tate over to grand jury investigation. The bond was posted, the sheriff's department said.

Named In Others

Earlier charges naming Tate were passing a forged instrument, and two burglaries, both filed here; and two passing forged instruments cases filed in Brownfield, officials said.

Millie Tate, 21, wife of Raymond Lee Tate, was released from jail Feb. 21 after posting bond of a charge of forgery.

A 16-year-old boy, a juvenile relative of her husband, is charged with passing a forged instrument in a juvenile petition, it further was related.

Swindling Charged

A charge of felony swindling was filed in the court of D. W. Robertson, justice of peace, against Willard Gordon Barnett, 45. Coleman man accused of having written a worthless $90 check Wednesday in purchasing two pairs of boots from Aubrey Woodfin.

Investigators were told the man, who allegedly had been drinking, presented a taxicab driver with one pair of the boots and kept the other for himself. Police and cab

Red Request For Pact Reported Rejected

Norway Will Join In Atlantic Pact Talks

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 3—Norway has accepted an invitation to join in negotiations for a North Atlantic defense pact, Ambassador Wilhelm Munthe De Morgenstierne announced today.

The ambassador told a news conference that he will represent his country at a meeting with the negotiators in the State department.

Almost simultaneously with the ambassador's anouncement here, there were dispatches from Oslo saying Norway has delivered to the Soviet embassy her reply to Russia's Feb. 5 proposal for a Norwegian - Russian non - agression pact.

The reply was reported to reject the Russian proposal, but the contents of the note will not be made public until tomorrow.

In Copenhagen, diplomatic sources said Denmark also had decided to line up with the western powers and take part in the discussions of a North Atlantic defense alliance.

Morgenstierne said the Norwegian Storting (parliament) had approved the Norwegian governments decision to join the pact discussions in a closed meeting in Oslo today.

The only opposition to this step, he said, came from the 11 Communists in the Storting.

On getting this word, he said, he promptly went to the State department and informed John D. Hickerson, director of the State department's European division.

Street Naming Discussion Set

By ROGER SOUTHALL
Avalanche Staff Writer

Lubbock's proposed new system of naming streets, which to all intents and purposes has been in a dormant stage for the past several weeks, may get a shot in the arm next Wednesday, when members of the City Planning commission will meet with members of the City Commission to discuss the matter, as well as a number of others.

At the regular monthly meeting of the City Planning commission last night in City hall, it was decided that members of the City Commission be guests of the Planning commission at a luncheon meeting at Hilton hotel next Wednesday noon.

Joint Meeting Postponed

The planning commission has for some time been planning a joint meeting with City commissioners, but earlier was postponed until after Steve Matthews, new city manager, had assumed his duties here.

The street naming system is the outgrowth of a special meeting held here Jan. 11, at which representatives of the Planning commission met with a number of civic leaders to work out a standard system of naming streets in

Lubbock Man Injured In Fall At Elevator

C. F. Allison, 61, a carpenter who lives on East Broadway, was in West Texas hospital last night, victim of a fall about 3:20 p. m. yesterday at the construction site of the new grain elevator being built on Slaton highway.

Allison said he was working about 30 feet above the concrete floor of a grain pit when a support gave way, dropping him to the floor below.

Rushed to the hospital by Plains ambulance, his injuries were found to include a compound, comminuted fracture of the right arm near the wrist, a compound fracture of both bones of the right leg below the knee and a bad laceration of the scalp.

"I guess I should consider myself lucky," he told newsmen. "If I'd fallen head first, I wouldn't be talking now."

Two San Antonio Residents Are Killed In Plane Mishap

JOHNSON CITY, March 3. (AP) —An airplane crashed into LCRA power lines near here this afternoon ,killing two San Antonio residents.

The crash severed the power lines and plunged south Blanco county into darkness.

The dead were Robert Hamilton and Marie Hill. They had been visiting Johnny Watkins of the Round Mountain community, 12 miles north of Johnson City. Their plane crashed about 5:25 p. m. after taking off and circling an improvised airport, near Round Mountain.

WHEN order was restored, after the near fisticuffs between Alger Hiss and Whittaker Chambers, in their remarkable confrontation in a New York hotel suite, I got the questioning back on the identification by Hiss of Chambers as a "George Crosley."

"You are fully aware," I said to Hiss, "that the public was led to believe you had never seen, heard, or laid eyes upon an individual who is this individual, and now you do know him."

"Absolutely!" Hiss returned.

"You are willing to waive the dentures?" I asked, perhaps sarcastically.

"I am," he replied.

"You never knew this man under the name of Carl?" Nixon asked, remembering the earlier testimony of Chambers.

"I did not," Hiss answered.

"You never paid this man any money for Communist Party

New Orleans Suspect Admits Killing Under 'Truth Serum'

NEW ORLEANS, March 3 (AP)— Police said a young Kentuckian admitted under "truth serum" tonight that he beat and strangled millionaire James Mahoney in his French Quarter hotel room the night of Feb. 21.

Acting Police Superintendent Joseph Scheuering said Louis Eugene Hoover told him and other witnesses:

"I pasted him and pasted him several times. The only thing I used was my fist. I gave him a rabbit punch with my hand on the back of the head. That might have broken his neck."

Mahoney's nude and bloody body was found in a French Quarter hotel (the Monteleone) the morning of Feb. 22. The head was battered and the neck broken with a towel wrapped around it.

Eleven Persons Die In Michigan Blaze

MUSKEGON, Mich., March 3 (AP) — Eleven persons lost their lives today when an explosion and fire trapped them in their crowded, flimsy home north of here.

The victims included a poverty-stricken mother, nine of her 13 children and a roomer.

They were among the 23 persons who perished today in fires around the nation and in Canada. Eight of the victims died in a flash fire in Halifax, Novia Scotia. In a farmhouse blaze in New York State, four lost their lives.

The latest victim was 21-year-old Ward Clover, who died in Muskegon's Hackley hospital after a valiant attempt to save his mother from their blazing home.

The Michigan mother and her children were burned to death in the little resort community of Lakewood, 12 miles north of Muskegon.

The victims were identified as: Mrs. Maude Clover, 46, August Taskey, the roomer, about 65; Joan Clover, 15; Roger, age unknown; David, 9; Harold, 10; James, 7; Sandy, 6; Nancy, 5; and Ardis aged 3, and Ward Clover, 21.

Hot Amendment Delays Rent Bill

WASHINGTON, March 3. (INS)— The House Banking committee voted 23 to 2 today to continue some form of rent control for 15 months beyond the March 31 "deadline" on existing law.

Rep. Spence (D-Ky), committee chairman, indicated, meanwhile, that the group is nearing approval of a watered-down rent control bill that will deny President Truman much of what he asks for.

A fight over a civil rights amendment to the bill developed late in the afternoon and the committee concluded its closed-door session without voting approval on a control measure.

Tighter Curbs Sought

The amendment, offered by Rep. O'Hara (D-Ill), would have continued veterans' priorities on new housing "regardless of race, color or creed."

The administration measure already makes mandatory priorities for veterans on the sale, rental or resale of new housing.

In the Senate, Housing Expediter Tighe Woods took up cudgels for the tighter rent control sought by the President as a substitute for existing law, which was passed last year by the Republican 80th Congress.

Woods Opposes Proposal

Woods opposed before a Senate Banking subcommittee a proposal that rent ceilings be determined according to return on capital. He said the plan is "impractical."

The Federal Reserve board, meanwhile, further eased consumer credit controls by lifting ef-

"Spring fever" promoting weather will continue over the South Plains today and Saturday, the Weather station at Municipal airport, predicted last night.

Temperatures today and tomorrow will climb to the lower 70's, the forecaster said, and the lows will range in the upper 30's. A light fog is expected to give way to sunshine by midmorning.

Reading Thursday ranged from a low of 41 degrees to a high of 70 degrees.

Two weak cold fronts, one over California and the other over Minnesota, last night failed to show any signs of moving into the Southwest.

HST Blasts U.S. Communist Leaders

Reds Called Traitors

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 3—President Truman today branded as "traitors" American Communist leaders who have indicated they would side with Russia in event of war between the Soviet Union and the United States.

At a news conference Mr. Truman was asked for comment on a statement issued earlier yesterday by the Communist leaders in New York, and he authorized this quotation:

"I have no comment to make on such a statement by traitors."

He was then asked whether he thought the Communist declaration would bring on any new prosecution moves against Communist leaders already on trial in New York and said he knew of no plan to that effect.

Solon Plans Move

To another inquiry on whether the Communists might prejudice their present trial by yesterday's statement, Mr. Truman replied he did not know — he was not on the jury.

The statement of the American Communist leaders provided "another reason why legislation of this type should be passed by Congress." The Communists said

Dr. J. B. Jackson Rites Saturday

Funeral services for Dr. Joseph Brown Jackson, sr., 65, of 2611 Twenty-first, well-known local dentist who has practiced here 23 years are to be conducted at 10 a.m. Saturday in First Presbyterian church, with Dr. J. M. Lewis, pastor, officiating.

Services had been planned today, but were reset when a son's plane trip here was delayed.

Prior to the services the body will lie in state at Rix Funeral home. At the services, members of the Lubbock Lions club, with whom Dr. Jackson was affiliated, will sit in a body.

Burial will be in Tech Memorial park under direction of Rix Funeral home.

Dr. Jackson died at 1:30 a. m. Thursday in Lubbock Memorial hospital following a heart attack Sunday. He had been hospitalized since Tuesday.

Dr. Jackson was born in Fort Worth, Jan. 10, 1884. He was married May 17, 1924, to Miss Alene Schuchert of Victoria. He was a 32d degree Mason, Khiva Temple, and a member of the Lions club, First Presbyterian church, and of county, state and national dental societies.

A veteran of World War I, Dr. Jackson had served as a major in the dental corps.

He was a graduate of the University of Tennessee School of Dentistry, and had practiced for many years in Fort Worth before coming to Lubbock.

Survivors include the widow; a son, J. B., jr., of Washington, D. C.; a daughter, Mrs. W. D. Brandon of Grand Prairie, Tex.; three brothers, Charles and Harry of Fort Worth and Fred of New York City; and three sisters, Mrs. A. J. Baskins, Mrs. Ray Fuller and Mrs. A. R. Perry all of Fort Worth.

DRY STRONGHOLD TO GO WET

Kansans May Be Able To Drink Liquor Legally After Saturday

TOPEKA, Kans., March 3. (AP)—Kansans may be able to drink liquor legally in their homes and private clubs Saturday night for the first time in 68 years.

A bill legalizing the sale, possession and consumption of liquor needed only to be signed by Gov. Frank Carlson and to be published in the official state paper.

It was passed by both the Senate and House of Representatives late yesterday after almost two months of legislative wrangling.

Two Hurdles Remain

Carlson's administration was behind the bill all the way and he was expected to sign it late tomorrow. Publication of the new statute, a mere routine, probably will take place Saturday or Monday.

With those hurdles cleared, Kansans immediately will be able to purchase up to one case of liquor outside the state and bring it home.

That means that Kansas—the birthplace of such fanatic prohibitionists as Carrie Nation and Frances Willard—might enjoy its first wet weekend in decades.

Administration spokesmen believe it will take until May or June to set up the necessary licensing and taxing machinery to permit package sales of liquor as legalized under the new law.

Bootlegging Common

Actually, Kansas has not been as dry as it might have been during the long years of prohibition. State research workers estimated recently that about $60,000,000 worth of liquor was drunk each year in the state.

Bootlegging was so common that it led to the familiar comment that "Kansans vote dry but drink wet."

Last November, however, the state's citizens voted wet and repealed the state constitutional amendment that had made the state dry since 1880.

As result, the legislature found an administration - authorized liquor control bill waiting when it convened in January. The Senate okayed it but the House tacked on several amendments that the upper house rejected. As result, the bill went into a joint conference committee which reported yesterday.

The House passed the revamped bill 75 to 48 and the Senate approved it 28 to 12.

Carlson who does not drink, said he was "greatly gratified" by the legislature's action.

Under the bill, communities may remain dry by local option. The bill makes Kansas the 46th wet state. Only Oklahoma and Mississippi remain with state prohibition.

Oklahoma City Oil Worker, Wife Killed In Plane Crash

SAYRE, Okla., March 3. (U.P.)—Bad weather was blamed today for the deaths of an Oklahoma City oil company employe and his wife when their light plane crashed about seven miles northeast of here yesterday.

Instantly killed in the crash were Ellsworth W. Duncan, 36, and his wife, Thelma Jane, 27. Duncan worked for Cities Service Oil Co.

The couple was en route from Amarillo to Oklahoma City

PIG RAISERS BEWARE!—These two boys, sons of M. M. Styles, route 1, Lubbock, have a pen of Duroc Jersey pigs which may give the boys plenty of competition in the South Plains Junior Fat Stock show, March 21-23. Bobby, left, 9, has two of the Durocs he is feeding for the show and Richard, 13, right, has three. Both boys are students of Geo. M. Hunt school. Their father is a director in the Duroc Breeders association in this area. (Staff Photo.)

Cuero Citizens Hunt Missing Church Bell In Junkyards

CUERO, March 3 (INS) — The mystery of the missing bell has Cuero citizens sending out an SOS to all the junkyards in the area.

A church recently was destroyed by fire in Cuero. A 400-pound bell was in the church steeple, which collasped during the fire. It was left on the ground, until the insurance loss could be adjusted.

One day the bell was gone. Officers are searching South Texas junk yards.

A recent tornado in northern Transvaal, South Africa, flattened two miles of telegraph poles, severing connection between South Africa and Rhodesia.

Albuquerque To Let Sewage Unit Contract

Contract for a new sewage disposal plant for Albuquerque, N. Mex., will be awarded at a meeting of the city council there Tuesday night, it has been announced by Hasie & Green, consulting engineers of Lubbock.

The engineering firm will recommend that the contract be awarded to Allison & Haney company of Albuquerque, who submitted the low bid of $172,099.50, it was reported. Other bids submitted included one of $181,222.50 by Lippert brothers, Oklahoma City; of $207,279.75 by Frank Schusselbarger, Albuquerque; of $216,296.80 by E. N. Silver, Albuquerque; and of $239,360.60 by Miller & Smith, Albuquerque.

Work on the plant is to start within the next 30 days and is to be completed in 195 calendar days, it was announced.

"WHAT THIS COUNTRY AMOUNTS TO DEPENDS ON WHAT HAPPENS TO ITS HOMES."... This message appeared first in March, 1948. Because so many people have asked to see it again, the life insurance companies and their agents bring it to you a second time.

"I pray the Lord my soul to keep"

Whatever our creed or language, we have all felt the impulse to pray. We may worship in various forms . . . we may call our God by various names . . . but, somehow, most of us express our faith in a Higher Power. When our loved ones are spared, we give thanks. At times of confusion or danger we call for guidance. When confronted by a mighty mountain, or the perfection of a tiny snowflake, we are awed by the wonder of life. We teach our children our faith, so that they will not be alone as they face the world.

FAITH is a family affair!

Faith is not just for holy days. Faith is for every day . . . at work, at play, in the quiet times the family has together.

We need faith—and never so desperately as today. The world is filled with voices of confusion. It is easy to feel helpless and alone. But faith in a Power outside ourselves can be a bedrock of family unity, a shield for family happiness.

A return to faith can give men and women a broader view of life—a sense of perspective. Then they are better prepared for the give-and-take of family living. Small disputes have less chance of growing into serious quarrels which may tear marriage apart. The family united in faith has a strong and lasting bond.

Children naturally turn to faith when it is a daily part of the family life. And when they know the real meaning of faith, they will be tolerant of those who express their faith in other ways.

The home atmosphere is far different when a family stops trying to walk alone, when it sees its place in the bigger scheme of things. It works together for the things it can control—and trusts its God for guidance in problems beyond its control. Such a family can't help feeling closer together, more sure of itself, happier!

To keep alive the family's faith calls for a positive plan—just as you plan for your family's material welfare. How your family expresses its faith is a matter of choice. What is important to you is that you do express it!

Faith unites families for greater happiness

This time it's the kind I want—that "SPOIL-PROOF" CORN MEAL!

Special Process Protects Flavor of Quaker Corn Meal!

Once you've discovered the difference, you'll never be satisfied with less than the "Spoil-Proof" purity of Quaker Corn Meal! Sparkling-clean! Every kernel water-washed, then "Spoil-Proofed" to remove most of the perishable oils that so often steal flavor from ordinary corn meal.

Satisfaction—or DOUBLE Your Money Back!

Try a package of "Spoil-Proof" Quaker Corn Meal. Unless you agree it's as good as we say, send the trade-mark, with your name and address, stating price you paid, to The Quaker Oats Co., 141 W. Jackson Blvd., Chicago, Ill. You will receive DOUBLE the purchase price!

"SPOIL-PROOF" GRITS, TOO!

Now you can buy grits milled "Spoil-Proof" just like Quaker Corn Meal. Ask for Quaker Grits, always pure and fluffy-white, packed in "Stay-Fresh" packages.

MAKE "WHITE-PAPER" TEST... Sprinkle a little Quaker Corn Meal on a piece of white paper. Then ask yourself if you've ever seen corn meal so fresh, so clean, so sugar-white!

1½, 2½ and 5-lb. packages

QUAKER ENRICHED, DEGERMINATED CORN MEAL

The Woman's Angle
By Margaret Turner

WE have been thinking about an advertisement which appeared in a Wyoming newspaper warning readers not to feed the storm-harassed deer in Nugget canyon. "Scattering hay will concentrate large number of deer in one location," the local game and fish association explained, "and the deer will suffer more than if they are left to their own devises. Once a feeding ground has been established, the deer will not scatter to forage for themselves."

Question for debate: Is any resemblance to human beings, living or dead, purely coincidental?

VALUABLE DIME

WE have news for the reader who wrote about the 1916 dime. It may be worth $17.50. Our information comes from Mrs. Morley Jennings, 2304 Seventeenth, who is interested in numismatics (coin collecting to us).

If the 1916 coin was minted in Denver and is the winged head liberty type, it is worth the amount mentioned above, Mrs. Jennings tells us. But if it was minted in either Philadelphia or San Francisco it is worth only fifty cents.

Incidentally Jefferson nickels of the 1939 vintage are valuable, we learned in an interesting chat with Mrs. Jennings. She became interested in the subject of coin collection last summer and says it is a lot of fun and also an informative hobby.

WANTS HIGH CHAIR

SEVERAL women who are interested in an infant spastic at Mrs. Milam's home are attempting to find a high chair and wondered if a reader might note this and perhaps come to their rescue.

The chair must be of the type that can be cut down low enough that the baby would not fall out. She cannot sit alone and doctors have said the chair is necessary. Within a few months there will be the problem of finding a baby walker.

If you have a chair stored in the attic or garage that you would like to give to this cause, you are invited to telephone 2-1769.

BAT BOY

THIRTEEN-YEAR-OLD Dave Allen, who lives, sleeps and breathes baseball, is hopeful he may yet win his mother, Mrs. Ed Allen, jr., over to an idea he thought was perfectly wonderful, but which she received with no show of enthusiasm.

Dave's one great dream is to be bat boy for the Lubbock Hubbers. Telling his mother about it, with eyes shining, he said, "I'm supposed to wash out their socks but I'd want you to do that. It would certainly be an honor and just think, you could tell your bridge friends all about it."

After Mrs. Allen explained that family socks presented enough washing problems Dave thought for a minute, brightened and explained, "Yes, but Mother, it wouldn't be much trouble. The socks wouldn't be dirty because they change them every day!"

Alathean Class At Book Review Party

Mrs. Ivy Savage reviewed "Cheaper By The Dozen" at a social given in the home of Mrs. A. L. Harris, 1724 Thirteenth, Wednesday afternoon for the First Baptist Alathean class.

Mrs. Ben Morris, vice president, presided for a business session. The devotion was led by Mrs. J. F. Reid.

P-TA At Meeting

Second grade pupils of Mrs. George Duval and Mrs. Joel Bray of K. Carter school presented a program on "Neighbors" for the Parent-Teacher association Thursday afternoon. The guest speaker, John Wilson, juvenile officer, was introduced by Mrs. L. C. Pevsto. His discussion topic was "The Home — A Place to Develop Citizenship and Responsibility."

Mrs. Gordon Sanders presided and Mrs. Raymond Dunn offered the opening prayer.

Announcement was made that the P-TA has bought a record player for the school. Also, during the business session, Gordon Sanders was selected to represent K. Carter school on the safety citizenship committee sponsored by the Jaycees. The executive committee of the unit, one K. Carter teacher and a mother from each room of the school will meet early next week to plan a P-TA entertainment for this month.

Sixty-five persons attended the meeting.

Dahlias Discussed By Mrs. M. F. Swart

Mrs. Millard F. Swart, a guest of Arnett-Benson Home Demonstration club Thursday afternoon, spoke on "Dahlias, Their Care and Culture." A round table discussion followed.

Sewing machine attachments were demonstrated by Mrs. R. M. Henderson and Mrs. Lee Heatley.

Mrs. E. A. Box, 2619 Walnut, was hostess and others present were Mesdames W. L. Armstrong, Paul Bolin, Ray Clark, Earl Dixon, W. D. Hale, C. C. Heatley, L. W. Parker, W. H. Moore, W. H. Padgett, E. L. Wallace, C. G. Williams, D. W. Woolfe, M. C. Sharp and Elmer Waltermire. A new member was Mrs. Mary Gentry.

March 7 at 2:30 p.m., the club is to meet with Mrs. Armstrong, 2711 North Third.

Officers Elected By Needle Club

When Mend 'n Mind club attended a luncheon at the home of Mrs. B. H. Bird Thursday afternoon the following officers were elected:

Mesdames D. W. Hackney, president; John Cocanougher, secretary-reporter; O. Gowen, program chairman; Odie Parks, calling chairman; Elmer Terry, historian.

Secret club sisters' names were revealed through a gift exchange.

Guests were Mesdames Eugene Guyer, D. A. Wellborn, R. A. Berrier, W. T. Holder, Agnew Wyatt, D. D. Moore, Weldon George, L. J. Abbott, R. L. Edwards, R. B. Hunt, Robert Maeker, Charles Drake and George Hay, a new member.

Pot Holders Made By Smyer Needlers

Members of Smyer Sew-Sew club who met with Mrs. Howard Spence Tuesday made pot holders for their hostess.

Present were Mesdames Ruby Burleson, Hugh Belew, D. A. Clark, Virgil Dyess, Wallace Floyd, Woodrow Altman, Dee Whitley, John Westbrook, and a guest, Mrs. Pat Murphy of Lubbock.

The club will meet with Mrs. Whitley March 15.

Today's Town Talk

AN ORCHID AND GREEN decorative motif will be carried out tonight for a semi-formal dance to be given in the Hilton hotel at 9:30 o'clock by the Century Dance club.

Hosts will be Messrs. and Mesdames Bill Linn, R. L. Snyder, Bill Coker, Bob Pirtle, Dan Young, Harold Humphries, David Weaver, H. T. Wilkins, jr., Bedford Raley and Mr. George N. Atkinson, jr.

Peter Lubbock of London, when he visited in his "namesake" city Thursday certainly had nothing of the somber Englishman atmosphere about him.

A gay, clever young man with a bantering line of repartee, Mr. Lubbock's brown-toned suit was brightened by melon colored socks, a royal blue tie with matching handkerchief, and a sky blue shirt, which accented the brightness of his English blue eyes.

"I'm so thrilled with Lubbock," he repeatedly exclaimed, adding excitedly, "To think that I have a new home deep in the heart of Texas!" The Londoner thinks someday he would like to buy an acre or two in the city with which he shares a name.

After explaining that he has been interviewed by Denver, Colo., and California papers, without being particularly elated about it, he adds that "being interviewed in Lubbock is something really very special."

"It's been such an exciting day," Mr. Lubbock assured his new Texas friends before leaving town Thursday afternoon.

Young Sammy Hodges will be one of the singing mascots dressed as a dude cowboy, in the frolic variety program to be given at Carroll Thompson Junior High school for pupils and members of the Parent-Teacher association tonight at 7:30 p.m.

Guitar strumming will be no new experience for this lad, since he won second place in a national steel guitar contest in Buffalo, N.Y., last summer.

Mrs. D. B. Hiatt of 1705 Sixteenth, is visiting in Fort Worth in the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Hiatt.

Before the next meeting of the Mend 'N Mind club, which will be on March 17, at 3 p.m., in the home of Mrs. D. W. Hackney, members are to exercise their designing ingenuity by fashioning new spring hats.

The creations are to be worn to the meeting, where the homemade styles will be paraded.

The Lubbock Country club will observe family night this evening. Members and their families only may attend.

OES Deputy Matron Pays Official Visit

Mrs. Blanche Dodgen of Littlefield, deputy grand matron of District 2, section 4, of the Order of the Eastern Star, paid Truth chapter an official visit Tuesday night at First Presbyterian Fellowship hall. Other grand officers present were Pat H. Boone, junior past worthy grand patron, and Mrs. Boone, associate grand conductress, both of Littlefield, and Mrs. Carl O. Stewart, secretary of the board of directors of grand chapter benevolence.

Following instructions, Mrs. Dodgen was presented a gift.

Fifty members and guests were present. Other guests were Mrs. John Portwood and Mrs. Florence Parker of Brownfield OES chapter 785. Miss Ruby Stewart and Mrs. Lilla Lewis were co-chairmen of arrangements and Mesdames R. M. Henderson, R. B. Torrance and Add Gearhart were on the refreshment committee.

It's Calendar Day!

Reporters are reminded that Sunday's Social calendar is compiled today and if announcements of next week's club meetings are to appear in it, the Society desk must be notified by 12 noon. The meetings will be on the first Monday and the second Tuesday through Saturday or March 7-12.

Deadline for Sunday Society pictures is 6 p.m. Thursday and deadline for Sunday Society stories is 12 noon Saturday.

Guest Tea, Luncheon Are Society Events

The S. W. Brunson home on Lubbock Junior Garden club's Levelland highway was scene of guest day tea Thursday from 3:30 until 5 o'clock. Hostesses with Mrs. Brunson were Mrs. George W. Soash and Mrs. J. H. Brock.

A sheer white embroidered organdy cloth covered the tea table which featured St. Patrick's Day decor. Jonquils and acacia were arranged in a green hat which centered the table.

Mrs. J. M. Elliott, jr., provided background piano music during the afternoon. Club officers were in the houseparty.

MRS. JIM ROBERTS LUNCHEON HOSTESS

Guests of Mrs. Jim Roberts, 2203 Twenty-first, Thursday were members of Bud to Blossom Garden club who met for a covered dish luncheon. Co-hostess was Miss Zera Dopson.

During a brief business session, Mrs. Roy Wheeler, Miss Dopson and Mrs. Voris Myatt were named to serve on a nominating committee.

Guests were Mrs. J. B. Marion and Mrs. B. E. Watts. Other members at the party were Mesdames A. R. Naylor, Perry Adams, Alva Smith, G. W. Tate, J. W. Harrison, C. G. Sutton, O. B. Ratliff, Foy Johnson, Larry Kennedy, Sam Hitch and C. N. McGhee.

TO PRESENT RECITAL

Janet Webster will be presented in a speech recital tonight at 8 o'clock at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. H. E. Singley, 2012 Ave. R. Her teacher is Mrs. Frances Lee Tolbert.

Pupils, Teachers To Appear Tonight In School Frolic

Variety numbers will feature the frolic program planned for Carroll Thompson Junior High school pupils and Parent-Teacher association tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the school auditorium.

One hundred twenty-five pupils of the school will be presented in musical skits, dances, recitations, duets, triple trios, double sextets and one-act plays, "Uncle Bob's Bride" and "The White Phantom." The Melody and Harmony choirs of the school, which are composed of 105 voices, will be presented in numbers directed by Mrs. Elois Elliott and accompanied by Belva Jean Blake, pianist. Robert J. Pipkin, string instrument teacher in junior high schools of Lubbock, is to play for the audience, also.

Tickets are to be 25 and 50 cents. Members of the Thompson P-TA who are in charge of the event are Mrs. Joe Mellhaney, Mrs. S. C. Arnett, Mrs. Sam Allred, Jeff Justice, Mrs. Gladys Sims and Mrs. Elois Elliott.

ON PIANO TEACHING

A demonstration of modern piano teaching material will be presented by John Thompson, jr., composer and lecturer of Kansas City, Mo., at South Plains Music company this morning at 10 o'clock.

Prayer Observance Will Be Conducted Over World Today

At 10 o'clock this morning at the Community center, Sixth and Ave. B, the Lubbock observance of the World Day of Prayer will be conducted under sponsorship of Lubbock Church Women's Federation. The public is invited to attend.

Rev. Claude E. Canterbury will direct the worship service on the general theme, "The Lord Is Thy Keeper." A history of the World Day of Prayer is to be given by Mrs. O. L. Byrd. Music will be provided by Mrs. Travis White, Mrs. Chester Gleason, and Mrs. Asher Thompson and meditations are to be directed by Dr. Jack M. Lewis and Rev. Paul Mason. The dedication will be in charge of Rabbi Julius Kerman and the benediction is to be offered by Dr. C. A. Bickley. Program chairman is Mrs. J. L. Barstow.

Home and foreign missions will receive the offering which is to be taken at the service.

The police said they had recovered a car reported stolen Wednesday from R. C. Bolton, of the county courthouse.

WOMEN'S GOLF ACTIVITIES STARTED—Ladies of the Lubbock Country club began a full year's round of golf activities this week which will be climaxed by the Women's West Texas Golf association tournament here June 14-19. In the picture above, the women directing local arrangements for the tournament are discussing with Cliff Dean, club president, a design for trophies to be awarded at the tournament. Dean is holding the trophy and others in the picture are: Mrs. T. E. Patterson and Mrs. Fenner Tubbs, tournament arrangements co-chairmen; and Mrs. W. F. Eisenberg, vice president in charge of golf activities for the association. A schedule of 28 weeks of golf activities for ladies days each Wednesday has been mapped for the summer. Blind bogey, flag tournaments, high-low match play, handicap tournament, driving, approaching and putting contests. Scotch foursomes and the annual women's club championship are included in the activities. (Staff Photo.)

DFD Social Club, Alumnae Celebrate Nineteenth Birthday

Alice Hix, junior student from Abernathy, was selected "best member of the year" by DFD social club of Tech at an anniversary celebration held Wednesday night at Hilton hotel ballroom. Dinner was served to approximately 70 members, pledges, alumnae and sponsors.

Miss Hix and Janet Moore who was chosen "best pledge of the year" were presented heart shaped compacts by the club. Mary Jane Hinchey, club president, welcomed the group and introduced outstanding members. Response to the welcome was by Mrs. Dale Buckner, president of DFD Alumnae pledges.

A white two-tiered cake, embossed in blue and yellow, club colors, and lighted by 19 candles, was the decorative feature of the speakers' table. On either side of the cake ware arrangements of iris and jonquils.

Miss Ina Bacon and Miss Kate Rogers are sponsors of the club.

BORDERLINE ANEMIA*
CAN FADE YOUR COLOR, SAP YOUR STRENGTH!

People with sallow, colorless faces—people who often feel "stale" and "spent"—may find their red blood cells are too puny and faded. They may have a Borderline Anemia due to a ferro-nutritional blood deficiency.

Medical studies show that up to 60% of women—many men and children—are victims of this tiring Borderline Anemia.

If you have this Borderline Anemia, you need Ironized Yeast Tablets! They are specially formulated to help build up faded, puny red blood cells to healthy redness and size, and thus permit your color and energy to come surging back. Of course, continuing tiredness and pallor may come from other causes—see your doctor regularly. But in this Borderline Anemia, take Ironized Yeast Tablets. Take them to reclaim your vitality, your healthy color, your enjoyment of life!

*Due to a ferro-nutritional blood deficiency, a condition for which Ironized Yeast is specially formulated.

On display beginning Saturday March 5th

Let us show you all the new features of this great car

Here is what thoughtful people everywhere have been looking for and hoping for!

Here, at last, is a car that gives you all the best features of modern design without demanding sacrifices of your family's comfort, safety or convenience. It was designed to fit YOU... instead of you having to fit into it.

You don't have to wriggle into the new De Soto. You walk in... and you keep your hat on. The steering wheel doesn't hit your knees. There's more leg room for all passengers, front and back. And not only are the windows and windshields bigger. You can see out of them... because you're sitting on luxurious chair-high seats.

Yes, it's a thrill to look at. But you won't have to rebuild your garage to get it in. A dented fender doesn't mean an expensive body job. And you can still change a tire, if you have to.

Ride? The smoothest you ever had. Drive? De Soto lets you drive without shifting. New features? Come in and see them all. No matter what car you thought you were going to buy, compare it with this brilliant new De Soto. Then decide.

Ford Questions Pension Plan In Asking Union For Contract Talk

DETROIT, March 3 (AP) — The Ford Motor Co., commenting on economic conditions, asked the CIO United Auto Workers today for early informal contract talks.

Ford, in a letter to the union, indicated it questioned the advisibility of the UAW's proposal for $100 monthly pensions for 106,000 Ford workers.

Pensions, Ford said, either must be paid for through a wage reduction or higher car prices.

Shortages Near End

Ford said the nation was now "well into" an economic period "unlike any we have experienced since the war" and added:

"Most of the postwar consumer demand for things in short supply has been mopped up. Most American producers are no longer in a seller's market."

Today's "primary problem," Ford said, is "one of sales and steady jobs."

Pensions are the No. 1 goal of the auto workers union in 1949 although a pay increase also will be sought.

Ford raised a question whether its workers would be willing to take a wage cut in order to finance pensions and said there was "only one other way"—higher car prices to customers.

"But we are convinced that too many of them would not stand for this," the company said.

The letter to the union was signed by John S. Bugas, Ford vice president in charge of industrial relations, and copies were sent to all employes represented by the law.

A union reply was not immediately available.

Ford asked the union for a meeting "to explore informally some of the basic factors that will affect the negotiations."

The Ford UAW contract expires July 15. Under its 60-day reopening, negotiations could be expected to be instituted in mid-May.

Bugas, in his letter, also mentioned what he called the "declining" cost of living's affect on "real wages" and pointed to General Motors' current two cents an hour contractual wage cut.

Without going into detail, he said GM's cut has placed Ford at a $5,000,000 annual wage "handicap."

Marijuana cigarettes now sell at $1 each in London clubs and one shipment recently found sewed into a lifeboat aboard a ship was valued at $6,400.

Boston Holdup Man Stumped As Store Owner Walks Out

BOSTON, March 3 (LH) — George Niccolopulos, a storekeeper, has his own effective antidote for holdup men.

He just walks out on them.

When a bandit confronted him in his liquor store, Niccolopulos strolled past the gunman and into the street.

But Niccolopulos kept walking. The bandit finally left, empty-handed.

Strutting Peacock Taken Into Protective Custody By Officer

PHILADELPHIA, March 3 (AP) —A policeman must get accustomed to a lot of strange things—such as spotting a peacock crossing the street.

That's what happened to Patrolman William Hipple yesterday.

Hipple was walking along, minding his own and the public's business, when he sighted the gayly-feathered bird strutting across a busy intersection.

Hipple placed the peacock in protective custody .Unable to find its owner in the neighborhood, he finally turned the bird over to the Philadelphia zoo.

Then the policeman settled down to write his official report: "Found one peacock, Craig and Rhawn streets, 11 a. m. . . ."

Denominational Lines Fail To Restrict Nebraska Pastor, Wife

HASTINGS, March 3 (LH) — Denominational lines do not limit the services given to Hastings churches by the Rev. and Mrs. Frederick Udlock.

During the week, Udlock teaches religious courses to interdenominational classes at Hastings College. On Sunday morning he and his wife conduct a new parents' course in the First Presbyterian Church. Then Mrs. Udlock hurries to the First Congregational Church to direct a choir, while her husband fills the pulpit of the pastorless First Baptist Church.

Beware Coughs Following Flu

After the flu is over and gone, the cough that follows may develop into chronic bronchitis if neglected. Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and to aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

Two Convicted Of Auto Theft

A 72nd district petit jury returned a verdict of guilty Thursday afternoon against Rufus Doyle Eady, 23, of San Angelo and Shirley Roy Belt, 23, of Sweetwater, and recommended that five years in the penitentiary be served by each for car theft.

The jury was out approximately 15 minutes before asking a bailiff it was ready to report.

Earlier in the day, J. A. Jones, 31, of route 2 Spur, pleaded guilty of car theft, after waiving a jury, and Judge Blair assessed a punishment of five years in the penitentiary.

A jury which had sought to reach a verdict since Wednesday afternoon in the embezzlement case of Richard A. Woodring, 26, reported to Judge Blair at 1:45 p. m. that it was hopelessly deadlocked, and could not reach a decision. Without stating how it stood as to guilt or innocence, the 12 men said they voted nine to three in their stalemate.

Mistrial Declared

Judge Blair declared a mistrial and ordered that the jury be dismissed.

Eady and Belt were charged with theft Jan. 15 of a car from Leon Jones of 1608½ Broadway. Jones told the police he had heard his car being driven away and informed them that "if you will listen for a faulty muffler" sound, the car might be recovered quickly.

Robert Brasher and R. A. Thompson of the police did. They said in their report at the time that they heard a car with a loud muffler sound and followed it closely enough to read a license number that, in the meantime, had been broadcast by KGZW, the police shortwave radio station.

Defendants Represented

The defendants are represented by Roy Carpenter and Byron Chappell, who also were counsel for Woodring. Carpenter said a new trial motion probably will be filed today or Saturday for Eady and Belt.

The Eady and Belt cases were consolidated. The jury was composed of J. W. Starks, H. K. Hicks, Raymond Anthis, M. J. Meador, H. E. Ewing, Harry Hodges, Ben R. Eskridge, M. L. Murray, F. F. Revier, jr., H. C. O'Neil, W. L. McDaniel, and L. W. McMasters. Anthis was foreman.

The Woodring jury was composed of Carl McCarty, Alvin Stevenson, Clifford Manning, J. L. Allred, Carl Stephenson, F. W. Covey, Freeman Joplin, Paul Cates, Robert P. McGee, J. C. Leech, J. B. Calhoun, and Elzey Simmons.

Judge Blair dismissed the remainder of his jury panel at the morning session.

No other jury trials will be heard this week, but it was expected that several pleas of guilty will be made before the court, perhaps Saturday, the district attorney's office said.

Londoner Visits American 'Namesake'

Peter Lubbock Praises City On Brief Sightseeing Tour

Peter Lubbock of London Thursday carried out a promise he made himself months ago.

He visited Lubbock, Texas, named he believes, after a distant relative.

The Englishman apparently was well pleased with what he found, as he highly complimented the newness and cleanliness of the city bearing his name.

Lubbock was as busy as a cranberry merchant on Thanksgiving eve. He arrived from Santa Fe, N.M., Wednesday night, but started out bright and early Thursday on a brief sightseeing tour — following which he made a number of calls on Lubbock airlines and other businessmen.

He's After Tourists

Lubbock operates an English travel agency called Peter Lubbock Travel, Ltd. He is engaged in getting what the English call "invisible exports" — American tourists who bring badly needed dollars to England.

He came to the United States last November, and on a stop in Denver, where he has an office, he announced his intention to see Lubbock, Texas.

"I don't expect any bugles to blow when I arrive," he said at the time. "I'm just going there for the hell of it."

He arrived Wednesday night—without fanfare—and stayed at the Hilton.

He has most recently been in California, where his agency operates. He is now en route to Austin, for a brief visit before he goes on to Charleston, S. C., Washington and New York, and thence home.

Thursday, looking over Lubbock, Lubbock expressed satisfaction at what he saw. He especially liked the architecture of some of the newer Lubbock homes. Shown an English-type cottage at 3024 Twenty-first, he pronounced it authentic and very similar to Anne Hathaway's cottage.

He has a rather colorful past. During the war he served as secretary to his brother-in-law, Lord Wakehurst, who was governor of New South Wales in Australia.

Has Large Family

He made frequent references to sisters, brothers and brothers-in-law, which brought forth the question, "How large a family do you have?" His answer: "A large one."

His business gives him a chance to get acquainted with many wealthy and famous people, and a listing of his clients reads like a sort of international social register and motion picture guide combined.

Lubbock's travel agency gives highly personalized treatment to clients, providing them with just what services they want.

He comes over here in the winter, books people for spring and summer cruises, then returns to England and is at the boat to greet them when they arrive.

He handles, through his Beverly Hills and Los Angeles offices, many motion picture stars, orchestra leaders and the like.

Client Leases Castle

One of his wealthy matron clients recently made arrangements to lease a castle in Scotland for the summer.

Everything will be much easier for tourists in England this year since they won't have to compete with Olympics contenders for accommodations, as they did last year.

"Tourists are allowed extra gas, and they can buy anything made for export without coupons or a purchase tax."

Among those for whom the Lubbock agency has planned trips are the Ronald Colmans, the Nigel Bruces, the Walter Pidgeons, Lady Mendl, Katherine Cornell, and the Duke and Duchess of Marlborough.

Thursday afternoon Lubbock was already talking about another visit to Lubbock when he returns to the States next year.

Action Postponed On Wallgren Nomination

WASHINGTON, March 3 (INS)—The Senate Armed Services committee postponed action today until next Tuesday on President Truman's nomination of Mon C. Wallgren as National Security Resources board chairman.

Sen. Tydings (D-Md) committee chairman, said the only significance was that the group wanted more time to study the former Washington governor's reply to charges against him by Sen. Cain (R-Wash). The committee received Wallgren's reply last night.

The committee rejected a proposal that a subcommittee be appointed to investigate Cain's charges and Wallgren's reply.

Cain, meanwhile, made public a letter he has written to the President expressing a desire to sit down with him and discuss his objections to Wallgren, a close friend of the chief executive.

St. Bonaventure College Gets Personal Effects Of Archbishop

ST. BONAVENTURE, N. Y., March 3 (LB — Treasured items from the personal effects of the late Archbishop Paschal Robinson, OFM, a distinguished journalist who became one of the highest ranking prelates in the Franciscan Order, has been received from abroad by the Friedsam Memorial Library at St. Bonaventure college.

The archbishop at the time of his death last August, was the first apostolic nuncio to Ireland since the time of Cromwell more than 300 years ago. Before receiving the Franciscan habit at St. Bonaventure in 1896, he gave up a promising career as associate editor of the North American Review.

Among the items received from Dublin are the late archbishop's pectoral cross, his episcopal ring, the papal bull nominating him archbishop of Tyana, documents announcing his appointment as consultor to various sacred congregations, diplomas, decorations and insignia.

Westerners Favored Over Highland Park Quint Today

Lubbock Team Works Out After Arriving In Austin

By AL WILLIAMS
Avalanche Sports Writer

AUSTIN, March 3—Lubbock's Westerners, lower bracket favorites of Class AA in the state basketball tournament, arrived here late today and went directly to their hotel rooms for rest and food. Tonight they went to Gregory gym for a light workout.

The Westerners were met in the lobby of their hotel by a downhearted group of Shallowater High school players, who had been dropped from the Class B division on a 32-26 defeat by Slidell this morning. Mustang players were unanimous in denouncing the officiating, which they declared had been one-sided.

Spirit Is High

Lubbock cagers had an easy trip to Austin, making only two stops on the way. The first Hub City high school team to reach the state tournament since 1928 made a lunch stop at Abilene and another one at Lampasas.

Spirits on the team were high and the trip was accompanied by considerable horseplay. Players painted both sides of the bus in Lampasas to let everyone know that the Westerners are in town—and after their first state basketball championship.

The drill at Gregory gym on the Texas university campus tonight primarily was to let the players become acquainted with the court and the glass backboards. It also was designed to limber up muscles that may have been cramped by the long ride.

The Westerners were to get a good night's sleep before their first appearance tomorrow night against Highland Park.

LAMPASAS FIVE SWAMPS NOCONA IN CLASS A TILT

AUSTIN, March 3 (AP)—The Lampasas Badgers, a goal-happy crew swamped Nocona 43-24 tonight to become top favorites for the Class A championship of the Texas school boy basketball tournament.

The game ended the big meet's first round for two divisions—classes A and B—and paved the way for semi-finals in these classes and the start of play in Class AA tomorrow.

Some 8,000 fans saw the day and night card that got the Interscholastic league's twenty-ninth state tournament under way. It compared with last year's record-breaking attendance.

In Class AA's first round tomorrow afternoon and night, favored Lubbock will meet Highland Park of Dallas in the feature game. In other class AA tilts Bowie (El Paso) plays Port Arthur, Waco takes on Texas City and Brownwood engages Austin.

French of Beaumont defeated Uvalde 45-27 in the first game of the night in the class A division.

French joined Memphis and Gaston of Joinerville in the Class A semi-finals scheduled tomorrow morning.

Memphis edged Coleman 25-23 in the opening game of the Class A division today but had a tough time doing it.

Coleman was moving up and in a position to get a tie until Memphis resorted to stalling tactics the last 30 seconds.

Leroy Green, Memphis forward, was the game's high point man with 13.

Martin's Mill from East Texas was the general choice today to win the Class B state basketball championship.

Winding up the first round of this division in the Texas schoolboy tournament, Martin's Mill, guided by that scoring machine, O'Neal Weaver, whammed Marfa 38-24 and will clash with mighty Waelder in tomorrow's semi-finals. Waelder beat Gustine 48-21.

In other first round games Big Sandy licked Woodsboro 47-34 and Slidell upset Shallowater, 32-26. Big Sandy will play Slidell in the penultimate round.

Waelder was liked by the critics almost as much as Martin's Mill and if the two teams were in opposite brackets would be favored to meet in the finals.

Gustine never had a chance before the crack shots of the Wildcats, Waelder rolling up 22 points before their opponents could scratch. At the half Waelder led 29-5. Leroy Miksch of Waelder was the game's leading scorer with 20 points.

The All-American football conference drew 1,828,480 fans during its second season. Approximately 1,630,000 were paid admissions.

Slidell Upsets Shallowater Five

(Special To The Avalanche)

AUSTIN, March 3.—First upset of the Class B division of the state basketball tournament came in the second game, when Slidell staged a late drive to oust the Shallowater Mustangs 32-26.

Darrell Murphy, great Mustang center, fouled out of the game with his team leading 24-23 and only minutes remaining. The lanky pivot man had been a tower of strength defensively and had poured 16 points through the hoops.

But with Murphy out of the lineup, Coach Charlie Booz' quintet stumbled, faltered and fell in their only appearance in a state tournament.

Benny Weber sank a field goal to boost Muntang hopes after Murphy departed, but Franklin Lang, Charley Lynch, Walt Ashley and Dewey Whiteside found the range and it was all over. Slidell won going away and earned the right to face Big Sandy in the semi-finals Friday.

Big Sandy beat Woodsboro 47-34 in the opening game of the state meet.

Shallowater had come to the state tournament a strong favorite to reach the final round. The Mustangs had piled up 42 victories over the course of the season and had lost only four games. Slidell had a less impressive record, despite the fact that they had won the Class B title in 1942 and 1943.

Committee To Pass On Michigan State's Big Ten Eligibility

CHICAGO, March 3 (INS)—Western Conference headquarters announced today that a three-man investigating committee will travel to Michigan State college early next month to pass on the Spartans' qualifications for membership.

The Conference has approved Michigan State's application for membership, pending the committee's satisfaction that the East Lansing school meets Big Ten standards.

The committee—Prof. Kenneth Little of Wisconsin, Dean Paul J. Blommers of Iowa and Conference Commissioner K. L. Wilson—is to visit Michigan State the second week in April.

Fred W. Hooper's Olympia Wins Rich Flamingo Stakes

MIAMI, Fla., March 3 (AP)—Fred W. Hooper's Olympia won the $50,000 added Flamigo Stakes at Hialeah today by a length and a half.

Marlet Stable's Sneak was second and George D. Widener's Reveille was a half a length behind for third. Commodore Lea was fourth.

A closing day crowd estimated at 27,000 saw Hooper's chestnut flyer pick up $48,500 added first money in the half mile and a furlong classic fixutre for three year olds.

Law Would Ban Throwing Things At Sports Events

AUSTIN, March 3 (AP)—A law forbidding spectators at sports contests from throwing things at the officials ought to work both ways, a legislative committee decided today.

In other words, if the fans can't hurl bottles, cushions or rocks the referee and his colleagues and the players should be denied that privilege, too.

First action on a bill that would subject any person violating the proposed law to a fine of $5 to $25 was taken as a Senate committee, in approving the bill, tacked on the amendment that the ban on throwing bottles should also apply to players and officials.

The bill now goes to the legislative calendar for action by the Senate. If it is passed there it will go to the House of Representatives.

Author of the proposal is Senator Keith Kelly of Fort Worth. He presented it at the request of the Texas Interscholastic League, which operates a sports program embracing hundreds of schools.

Kelly called it "'An imperative public necessity" because game officials, contestants and spectators at athletic contests frequently are endangered by missiles.

There was talk of such legislation two years ago after fans at the Texas - Oklahoma football game in Dallas showered the field with bottles in protest against decisions of Referee Jack Sisco. After the game Sisco and the other officials were escorted from the field and away from threatening fans by police.

Tyler Quint Wins Junior Tourney

COLLEGE STATION, March 3 (AP)—Tyler Junior college won the second annual State Junior College Basketball Tournament here tonight by outshooting Lamar's Cardinals 78-41.

Earlier Lon Morris of Jacksonville had squeezed by Allen Academy of Bryan 62-61 to win third place, and Amarillo had defeated Paris 64-54 for the consolation championship.

Tyler's fast-breaking aggregation took the championship without having any team closer than 25 points to beating them.

Lon Morris gave the Apaches their only trouble, leading the champions for 13 minutes before weakening in second half and bowing, 95-70 in the semi-finals.

Palafox, Champion and Rodriguez each hit from the field in the first minute of play as Tyler took a 6-0 lead.

Lamar made only one field goal in the first seven minutes of play while falling behind, 20-6.

Charles Shoptaw meshed two fielders and cashed in a gift toss as Lamar cut the Apaches' lead to 23-14 with eight minutes left in the first half. Then the Apaches got hot and rolled to a fat 39-22 halftime advantage.

Injuries to a pair of their key performers prevented Lamar from giving the Apaches much competition in the second half.

Jose Palafox of Tyler led scorers with 25 points.

Grove's 21 Points Pace Raiders

By JOE KELLY
Avalanche Sports Editor

Texas Tech's Red Raiders waltzed into the final round of the National Association of Intercollegiate Basketball's playoff tournament with a ridiculously easy 71-51 victory over a strong Abilene Christian quintet in Tech gym last night.

For 35 minutes Tech could do little—if anything—wrong. They rushed the Wildcats off the court early in the game with an amazing display of shooting. They passed the ball beautifully, worked in for crip shots and completely dominated play.

The Wildcats took a 1-0 lead after 15 seconds of play when Charles Morris snagged a free throw. For the next 19 minutes and 42 seconds, the Raiders were in control. At 19:58, Austin Webb hit a crip shot to end the scoring.

Take Early Lead

It wasn't much of a game once Coach Polk Robison's cagers went into high gear. They grabbed the lead away from the Wildcats on Wimpy Hill's short set shot at 30 seconds, Ardis Barton dumped a charity heave to make it 3-2. Whistel Banks caged a short set shot, Barton converted another free toss and Hill pumped a one-hand push shot to make it 8-1. Wayne Bowles snared a free throw after Dee Nutt had hit a side push and Bowles followed his first shot with another long set netter that ran the score up to 11-3.

The Wildcats called time out and came back to carry the fight to Tech, narrowing the margin to 13-11. It was the Raiders' turn and they called for time. After that they took charge of the game completely and it was never close again.

The Raiders left the court at the intermission with a 45-23 ead and never were threatened thereafter. Raider and Wildcat traded points evenly for the first seven minutes of the final heat, only to have the home team find the range with deadly accuracy.

Reserves Score Four Points

When the score finally reached the astronomical figure of 67-37, Coach Robison pulled his varsity and sent in the reserves. They were able to score only four points in the final six minutes, while ACC hit 14.

Don Grove took scoring honors with 21 points and had fine assistance from Banks, who garnered 18. Sam Stovall had 14 points to lead the losing Wildcats.

Barton did a great job for the Raiders defensively, holding Nutt to five points. It was the lowest offensive mark the star ACC player had been held to all season.

Big Jim Wilson Snags 'Em Off The Backboard To Pace Lubbock

By AL WILLIAMS
Avalanche Sports Writer

A defensive and offensive standout in most Westerner basketball games this year has been Jim Wilson, 6 foot, 3 inch center, who has a habit of getting most of the rebounds that come his way.

Probably the best night he had all year at snagging shots off the backboard was in the first bi-district game with Childress. In that game he scored 14 points in the first quarter, and he looked like a jumping-jack going after rebounds.

"Big Jim," as he is called by many, is a four-letterman in high school, and has been participating in athletics all his life. He has one letter in baseball, two in football, one in track, and one in basketball.

He would rather knock a home run in baseball than eat, and last year he knocked four. Two near misses by a foot were batted out in the regional play-off and the state meet. Baseball is his favorite sport, and he hopes to play basketball and baseball in college. He should have no trouble making any team in either sport.

Over the full season, Wilson scored 270 points. In district play he accumulated 105 of these markers, and in the district playoff, got 14 points against Pampa.

A Deceptive Player

His biggest night on the court came against Childress in the second bi-district game. His teammates kept feeding him the ball, and he made good for 27 points. A deceptive player, Wilson is a natural under the basket and has a jump-whirl shot from close in that is hard to guard.

Track has always been a favorite sport, and at Central Junior High school he set four records—shot-put, discus, 440-yard run, and 120-yard high hurdles. He would like to go out for track this year, but baseball season and track overlap, and he prefers baseball.

Most people who know him like him for his lack of conceit, and friends say he is full of mischief. Last summer he was life guard at Mackenzie Park. Swimming is another of his favorite summer pastimes.

In high school Wilson says he has "fair" grades, but that he doesn't have too much time to study because by the time he gets home from practice and eats supper he is sleepy and tired.

Only a junior now, Jim has another year of school before going to college, and he is in no hurry to decide where he is going. If he follows in his sister's footsteps, he will go to the University of Texas, but Wilson has taken a wise wait-and-see stand on the situation.

He went to school in Austin during his fifth and sixth year of grade school, but then his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn E. Wilson, 1920 17th Street, moved back to Lubbock.

He has been coached by Roy Morris for the past three years, and Coach Morris has already been planning next year's basketball team around the center post, Jim Wilson.

SEXTON IS EXPECTED TO BE MAINSTAY IN 1949-50

One of the mainstays on next year's Westerner basketball team is expected to be Jimmy Sexton, present forward in the Lubbock lineup.

As a junior this year, Sexton has turned in a fine performance in scoring as well as in ball handling as pivot man on the double post offensive attack. His 6 foot, 1 inch, height has enabled him to do effective backboard work also, and by next year he hopes to be a little taller.

Though only 16 years old, Jimmy has been playing basketball for six years, starting with the Boys Club team here in 1943. Last year he lettered on the Westerner B team as a sophomore.

Over the full season he scored

Browns To Sue Cards For Eviction April 1

ST. LOUIS, March 3 (AP)—A sizzling dispute between the St. Louis Browns and the Cardinals burned hot and strong today. The Browns announced they are going to court with an eviction suit April 1—"and it won't be April fool."

It will be a suit to throw the Cardinals out of the Sportsman's Park, which the Browns own, and which the American and National league clubs have shared for 28 years.

A. B. Chandler, commissioner of baseball, has stepped in and called a hearing in the matter, after first saying it was none of his business, but hasn't announced the time and place.

ETSTC Gets Past Baptist, 55-47

GLADEWATER, March 3 (AP)—East Texas State Teachers college rammed its way into the finals of the National Association of Intercollegiate Basketball's playoff tournament with a 55-47 victory over East Texas Baptist here tonight.

East Texas Baptist, representing the independent colleges of Texas, fought off a nine-point deficit late in the game to narrow the lead to 51-47 with two minutes to go. But the Lions collected a pair of free throws and Truitt Ingram pitched in a field goal to ice away the game.

The first half was a bitterly fought contest, with seldom more than two points separating the two teams. The lead changed hands three times and was tied four times during the initial 20 minutes.

Both teams left the court at halftime with visions of a nip and tuck finish, but the Lions came back to jump into a lead that they built up to nine points. They never were able to coast after that, but they did take the pressure off and East Texas Baptist never was able to overcome the margin.

The Lions tonight were led by Charles Whitten, their high-scoring forward, who pitched 19 points through the hoops. He had close company in Ingram, normally the top scorer, who rung up 18 points.

Weaver and Simmons led the losing Baptists, the former collecting 16 points and the latter 14.

Hogan Expected To Recover From Clot Operation

EL PASO, March 3. (AP)—Dr Alton Ochsner said tonight golfer Ben Hogan would "completely recover" from a blood clot operation.

The surgeon said Hogan should be over the effects of the operation "within" a week and added that he should be "up and around within a few months."

Hogan was badly injured in an automobile-bus accident near Van Horn, Tex., Feb. 2.

He had been confined to Hotel Dieu hospital here since then with a fractured pelvis, collar bone and ankle bone.

The condition of the nation's foremost professional golfer became serious yesterday and Dr. Ochsner flew here today from New Orleans to advise whether an operation would be necessary on a blood clot.

The professor of surgery at Tulane university decided to operate almost immediately.

He said Hogan was given a "large transfusion" just before the operation, which lasted approximately two hours.

He said the operation was an abdominal one and that he had to tie off the vena cava vein to reach the clot.

"Hogan apparently was in severy critical condition last night," he said, "and in a serious one this afternoon."

Formation of blood clots had worried Hogan's regular physicians for several days.

Dr. Ochsner said the clot which had caused the serious turn in Hogan's condition apparently had broken off a larger one.

Baseball Rules To Be Rewritten

Simplicity Will Be Objective

SARASOTA, Fla., March 3 (AP)—Baseball's high brass today decided to rewrite the rule book completely.

At a meeting of the special rules committee, it was decided to appoint a three-man sub committee which will rewrite the rules with the idea of making them as simple as possible.

This subcommittee, to be appointed by April 15, will work for a full season on the problem and then bring its product to the winter baseball meetings for adoption.

The trio will be composed of one man appointed by the American league, one by the National league and one from the minors.

Troutman On Committee

Attending today's session were Frank Shaughnessey of the International league, minor leagues head George Trautman, minor league umpire supervisors George Johnson and Joe Carpenter, Joe D. Cronin of the Boston Red Sox, Branch Rickey of the Brooklyn Dodgers, Jim Gallagher of the Chicago Cubs, National league umpire Bill Stewart, American league umpire Bill Summers, and American league umpire-in-chief Tom Connolly..

Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler was represented by his assistant, Walter Mulbry.

The committee today did adopt several technical changes in the interpretation of the balk.

It marked the first time in more than nine years that an attempt has been made to end the snarls and clarify the phrasing of the rules governing the game. The last general revision was made in February, 1940, when the late K. M. Landis was commissioner.

The rules committee, headed by Chandler, is made up of four representatives from each of the major leagues with president George M. Trautman, of the National Association sitting in as the representative of the minors.

First objective of the meeting was to resolve the differences in the present rules governing major league play.

Under the present code, each league has separate regulations governing certain matters. The differences included:

American league players are fined if they talk to spectators during a game; National league players are not.

The National does not permit a pitcher to blow on hands before delivery of the ball; the American does.

The American gives the batter a triple on a foul ball struck by a fielder's glove while there is no penalty in the National.

SOX 100 PER CENT SIGNED

CHICAGO, March 3 (INS)—Chicago's White Sox became 100 per cent signed up for 1949 today when second baseman Don Kolloway ended his holdout and signed his contract at what club officials called "our original offer"—a cut in pay.

TWO MORE POINTS FOR TECH—Don Grove, Raider center, is shown hooking a lefthanded shot in the 71-51 rout of Abilene Christian college in Tech gym last night. Grove went on to score 21 points for scoring honors. Other Raiders in the picture include Ardis Barton (54) and Wimpy Hill (50). Wildcat players are Bill Teel (facing Grove), Dee Nutt (4) and Sam Stovall (14). The victory came in the semi-finals of the NAIB tourney. Wilson Is Called Deceptive Player

172 points in 24 games. Of this number, 97 came in nine district contests. Two district games were missed due to illness. In the two bi-district tilts with Childress, Sexton didn't shoot much and only scored seven points. His best shot is a whirl-jump shot from close in.

The biggest scoring night in regular district play was the last game with Plainview. That night Sexton hit the basket for 13 points. The night before, against Brownfield, he scored 17 markers. But probably the game when the scores meant the most was against Pampa in the district playoff when he made 14 tallies to share team scoring honors.

Hobby Is Golf

Basketball is only one of his interests in high school, and he plays baseball also. These two sports are favorites, but golf is a recently developed hobby with him. Last summer he started playing at the country club, and has already turned in a score of 79 on the 18-hole course. Some people have been trying for years to break 80.

The slim, easy-going youngster was vice-president of the golf club in high school, and last year was elected vice-president of the sophomore class. In his younger days he was a Boy Scout and attained the rank of life scout before sports took up his interest.

The choice of a college will probably not be decided until next year, but at present Sexton thinks he may major in petroleum engineering. In high school he has maintained a "C" average, but when he missed a lot of school before mid-term he was worried about making the grades to stay eligible for basketball.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Sexton, 2018 Avenue M, have encouraged him in athletics, and his father gave him a set of golf clubs when he became interested in that sport. They follow the team on out-of-town trips, and even make regular practice sessions some days.

The game that Sexton enjoyed the most in basketball was the recent Pampa victory. In explaining this he said that he liked to play a hard, close game, and that he especially liked to win a close one.

Mike Says Charles Belongs To Him

Jacobs, Louis May Start Fight Feud

NEW YORK, March 3 (INS)—Hardy, cantankerous old Mike Jacobs got up off the floor today, threw his best "hefty" at rival entrepreneur Joe Louis — and wound up claiming foul.

The claim was filed via Sol Strauss, legal gimmick-man, who said Louis would not promote an Ezzard Charles-Jersey Joe Walcott "title" fight in June, as announced, for the best of all possible reasons:

That Charles is and has been under exclusive contract to Mike; and will so remain until November, a period embracing the entire season of open-air extravaganzas. He added, querulously, that the 20th Century-Jacobs management regarded Charles as an important asset and would "take what steps seemed necessary" to protect its equity in the fighter.

This, it seemed, could be considered an "insurmountable barrier" to Louis' announced plan to retire as heavyweight champion and, at the same time, take the title with him—in promotional custody.

Louis' first step in this direction, after a formal announcement Tuesday of his withdrawal from the championship, was the signing of Charles and Walcott to two-year contracts under the aegis of Louis and his millionaire partners Jim Norris, jr., and Arthur M. Wirtz.

Promoter Louis' next step was the announcement that this pair had been matched for June in Chicago, with the winner getting Louis' benediction as his rightful successor to the title. But Strauss says that all comes down to breach-of-contract—and he's just the guy who ought to know about that.

Sol is the acute little corkscrew who in 1937 "got around" James J. Braddock's "exclusive" contract with Madison Square Garden to such purpose that Mike was able to promote a Braddock-Louis fight in Chicago. Thus was the multi-million dollar title passed into Louis' custody. And Mike's.

In other words, Sol proved on that occasion that a man can't be held to a blank space in a carry-over contract.

Forrestal Quits Defense Post

right after the election in which he made no stumping tour for Mr. Truman as some of his cabinet colleagues did. Associates said later, however, that the President had asked the secretaries of Defense and State to stay out of the campaign.

Johnson, on the other hand, was chairman of the Democratic finance commitee in the campaign. As such he drew credit for most of the financial aid scraped together for the Truman cause when many another Democrat was without hope of victory.

Johnson inherits a $15,000,000,000 defense program, a vast arming of America stemming from difficulties with Russia. He takes over from a man foremost in advocating a "tough" policy in dealing with Communist expansion.

Gets Difficult Job

The new secretary is handed the difficult job of achieving harmony under the unification program, which has been one of Forrestal's headaches. The latter has advocated greater power over the three armed services. He referred to "many arguments and disagreements."

Johnson will have the backing of a Hoover commission report on government reorganization to support him if he chooses to pursue Forrestal's course. The commission has urged Congress to make the secretaries of Army, Navy and Air Force exclusively responsible to the Defense secretary, cutting off their right of appeal to the President.

Johnson served as assistant secretary under Secretary of War Harry H. Woodring. He was named by President Roosevelt in 1937, and resigned in 1940 when Henry L. Stimson became war secretary.

Believed War Inevitable

Johnson had a big hand in lining up expansion of the Army and getting plans in shape for industry to swing onto a war footing. Friends said Johnson believed war inevitable.

During his assignment, Johnson was said to be at sword's points with Woodring.

Forrestal left the presidency of the banking firm of Dillon, Read and company to become administrative assistant to Mr. Roosevelt in 1940. A few months later he was named undersecretary of the Navy.

When Navy Secretary Frank Knox died in 1944, Forrestal succeeded him.

Johnson Army Veteran

His advancement to head of the national military establishment in 1947 was said to have been due in part to a compromise in the bitter struggle over the unification issue. Forrestal's choice was viewed as a concession to Navy supporters in the congressional battle over the bill.

Forrestal is an advocate of helping Europe to re-arm, a subject just coming to the fore as the non-Communist western world gets ready a security alliance to resist any Russian attack. This is in line with administration plans, and presumably Johnson agrees.

Johnson as an infantry captain saw front line service in Europe in World War I. He served in 1932 and 1933 as national commander of the American Legion.

In the anxious days of early 1942, President Roosevelt called him to go to India when that area loomed as vital for holding back Japan.

Rent Bill Delayed

fective Monday a requirement that installment purchasers must pay at least $70 a month on purchases where the balance is more than $1,000.

Continuation of both rent and economic controls have been demanded by President Truman to combat inflation.

The administration had sought, however, a rent control bill providing for much stronger ceilings for at least 24 months more. The President wants enforcement provisions which would send violators to jail and provide for heavy fines.

Indications, however, are that the housing administrator will not be given any enforcement powers and that suits against landlords who violate the act will continue to be brought only by the tenants, as provided in the present law.

After passing the House the administration measure goes to the Senate, where it faces delay due to the filibuster by southern Democrats. Unless new legislation is passed by the end of this month, rent control will lapse.

that in event of another war they would not support the "predatory war aims of American imperialism."

Senator Eastland (D-Miss) said in a separate statement he will ask that Congress require "the registration of all Communists as agents of a foreign power."

Eastland, referring to pledges by U. S. Communist leaders to oppose any war provoked by "Wall Street' 'interests, said the Communist statement appears to be part of an "international conspiracy" in view of similar statements by Red leaders in France, Italy and other countries.

Rubinoff Makes Hit With Good Turnout At Concert In City

Dave Rubinoff climaxed "one of the busiest days" of his career Thursday night with a warmly received concert in the Lubbock Senior High school auditorium, winding up a visit to the city which included eight appearances at schools in the city and one radio program during the day.

Presenting a program of widely known classics, Rubinoff and his violin completely won over the crowd of approximately 1,000 who attended last night's performance. Among the highlights of the night's program, especially for the numerous children attending, was Warsaw Concerto and a special feature, "Don't Fence Me In," played in nine different ways.

Also attracting considerable applause was Rubinoff's accompanist at the piano, David Vazquez.

As an "encore," the world famous Rubinoff introduced his four-year-old son, Rubin, to the audience, then after inviting all the children to come up on the stage played Brahm's Lullaby and the National anthem.

Joint Meet Slated

subdivisions and other parts of the city, as well as changing existing names in several parts of the city.

At last night's meeting, Planning commission members approved two zone change requests, tabled a third for further study by the zoning sub-committee, and rejected a fourth.

They also affixed their approval to two plats, after such action had been recommended by the commission's platting sub-committee.

Zone Change Approved

The group approved the request of a number of home owners that the east one-half of block 3, Roberts and McWhorter addition located between Third and Fourth streets on the west side of Ave. Q be changed from a residential "C" zone to business "G" zone.

Also approved was a request from Harris F. Underwood, vice-president of Union Compress and Warehouse Co., that a change from present "E" zone to "L" manufacturing zone be made on the following properties: All of lots 1 through 4, block 10, William Tubbs addition; all of lots 10 through 16, block 17, Acuff Heights; all of blocks 13 and 14, Acuff Heights; and all of that part of section 79, block A, lying north of lots 10 through 16, block 17, Acuff Heights.

Referred to the zoning committee of the commission for further study was a request submitted by J H. Walker, jr., for extension of present business "F" zone on the southwest corner of East Twenty-third and East Ave. F south to East Twenty-fourth.

The group rejected a request for changing lot 15, Caver subdivision of block 8, Roberts and McWhorter addition, from a residential to business zone. The property is located on the west side of Temple Ave., just north of Fourth street.

Plats Are Okayed

The request was rejected because such a change involved only a part of a block. The Planning commission has in the past opposed such "spot zoning."

Approved by the commission was a request from H. C. Lewis for approval of a plat of "Adams Avenue addition" of the north one-half of the south one-half of block 3, L. D. Kinser subdivision, located between Thirty-sixth and Thirty-seventh from Adams Ave., to Jefferson Ave.

W. L. Hester appeared before the commission seeking approval of a plat of "Westminster Heights," a subdivision of the south 360 feet of the southwest one-quarter of survey 13, block B; such property located between Thirty-third and Thirty-fourth from Monroe Ave., to Tyler Ave.

The subdivision at present is outside the Lubbock city limits, and question was raised regarding right-of-way, after it was learned that several property owners in that immediate area had refused to provide 40 feet of right of way from the center of the street.

The group voted to approve two blocks where right of way had been provided, as well as any other full blocks where this requirement has been met.

Discussion ensued concerning a meeting of the American Planning and Civic association which is to be held March 27-30 in Oklahoma City.

Representatives of the Planning commission, K. N. Clapp and W. L. Bradshaw, will attend the meeting. Clapp will appear before the City Commission to recommend and urge that a member or members of that group also attend the meeting, and that C. J. Griggs attend as a representative of the city engineering department.

Attending last night's meeting were Clapp, chairman; Homer D. Grant, J. D. Hassell, jr., Chas. A. Guy, W. L. Bradshaw, J. H. Murdough, R. L. Oldham, and Steve Matthews, new city manager, who attended a Planning commission meeting for the first time last night.

Two Negro Children Die When Fire Destroys Lamesa Home

LAMESA, March 3 (Special)—Two small negro children are dead and four other members of the family have been hospitalized as a result of burns received in a fire here Tuesday morning.

Dead are Carl Eugene Ridge, 4, and Shirley Ann, 3, children of Mrs. Virgie Ridge, whose small grocery store and residence were destroyed by fire, thought to have been caused by an explosion of a kerosene can.

The mother and three other small children were taken to Lamesa General hospital for treatment, and all but one youngster have been released. Doctors here reported tonight that their condition is satisfactory.

Meanwhile the Dawson-Borden County chapter of the American Red Cross immediately launched a relief program to aid the stricken family. All immediate needs of the family are being taken care of at once, according to Howard Maddox, chairman of the chapter's disaster committee. Other means of helping the family are under study.

The small building was located in the flat district here. The two young children who were death victims both died Tuesday afternoon.

Smith, Lubbock; civil engineering, Gene Woods, Lubbock; mechanical engineering, Lubbock; military science, Cecil Wise, Highlands; architecture, William Riley, Fort Worth; geology and petroleum, Lee McDuff, Crosbyton and Gardner Pittman, Lubbock; physics, Derwood Amonett, Petersburg; and textile engineering, Griff Neumeyer, Hallettsville.

Search Continues For Missing B-29 Tanker

MANILA, March 3 (AP)—Search for a missing B-29 flying tanker with nine men aboard was extended today to the vicinity of Baler bay, 200 miles northeast of Manila.

The plane, based at Tucson, Ariz., has been missing since Tuesday, when it turned back for Clark field after helping refuel the world circling B-50 Lady Luck II.

The 18th fighter wing headquarters at Clark field, northwest of Manila, reported reliable witnesses had seen a low-flying B-29 Tuesday near the town of Baler.

FORMER TECH STUDENT ABOARD MISSING PLANE

Capt. William G. (Bill) Fuller, Jr., 28, one of the crew members of the B-29 plane missing in northern Luzon, formerly attended Texas Tech.

Fuller, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Fuller, sr., of Fort Worth Airport, Fort Worth, entered Tech as an engineering student in the fall of 1938, after graduating from North Side Senior High school of Fort Worth. He attended Tech until the summer of 1942, when he left school to enter the Army Air Force. While at Tech, he resided at West hall.

Carlsbad Couple Are Injured In Borden County Plane Crash

LAMESA, March 3. (Special)—A Carlsbad, N. M., couple, Mr. and Mrs. Joe B. Martin, were injured Wednesday morning when their light plane crashed after striking a utility wire in Borden county near the Mesquite community.

The crash apparently followed an attempt by Martin to make a forced landing. They were brought to Lamesa General hospital for treatment. It was reported by attending physicians that Mrs. Martin suffered a fractured arm, cuts, and bruises. Martin suffered a fractured skull and numerous cuts and lacerations.

Their condition tonight was reported satisfactory. They earlier had been reported in serious but not critical condition.

The Martins were brought to Lamesa by Adolph Telchik and Hubert Walker, residents of the area where the plane crashed. They said that Martin apparently was having engine trouble and had made efforts to land the craft in a field.

The couple was enroute to Dallas from Carlsbad, but had turned back because of fog.

Two Lubbock Men Nominated To Offices In Texas Safety Group

Two Lubbock men, Jess C. Levens and George Berry, have been nominated to offices in the Texas Safety association, it was announced in Dallas Thursday by E. F. Schmidt, chairman of the nominating committee.

Levens, who is vice president and general manager of Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma Coaches, Inc., and president of the Texas Motor Bus association, was nominated to the finance committee and the board of directors.

Berry, partner in the law firm of Berry and Ball, was nominated as regional vice president.

Elections are to be conducted in Houston March 9 at the opening of the 10th annual Texas Safety conference. It was announced that this will be the first time in 10 years of operation that the safety association has had regional offices. The conference will last two days.

Wayland College 'Goodwill Mission' To Visit Mexico

PLAINVIEW, March 3. (Special)—A Wayland college goodwill "mission" headed by Dr. J. W. Marshall, president of the Plainview school, will leave by plane Friday morning for Guadalajara, Mexico.

While in the Mexican city the Wayland basketball team will play the University of Guadalajara cagers. A reception Saturday night at the university will honor the Texas visitors. A number of university and state officials are expected to attend the function.

Church Service Planned

Sunday the Wayland group will attend services at the First Baptist church in Guadalajara at which Rev. Luther Holcomb, pastor of the Lakewood Baptist church of Dallas, will be speaker.

Monday night the basketball game is scheduled, after which the party will prepare to visit Mexico City on Tuesday and Wednesday. The return trip will be made Thursday.

Dr. Marshall, who had a previous engagement in Dallas, will not accompany the group on the trip from Plainview, but will join the party later Saturday. He will be accompanied by Rev. Mr. Holcomb.

Leaving from Plainview airport will be 12 members of the basketball team, Coach and Mrs. Harley Redin, a quartette from the college, George Stokes, head of the speech department; Harvey Wolfe, head of the journalism department; Mrs. Woodward, head of the Spanish department and also head of the summer school sponsored by Wayland each summer at Guadalajara, Ellisel (Cheo) Garrido, Wayland student and native of Guadalajara, and Bill Hams, Avalanche-Journal staff writer.

The plane which is being furnished the college by Homer W. Snowden, Dallas oil man and former Wayland student, will be piloted by Fred Strine, with Homer DeHoney, co-pilot.

Molotov Charge Hit

between Russia and American officials. The Russians contend there are 116,000 Russian citizens in the American occupation zone of Germany, not counting children, and that the repatriation mission should remain to help them return home.

The American position is that whatever the number, practically all the Soviet citizens still remaining in the American zone are there by choice. Further, the United States has said it has no intention of letting the Russians force those voluntary exiles to go back to Soviet territory.

There is another angle. Today's U.S. note said that American occupation authorities had co-operated with the Soviet Repatriation mission fully "despite irregularities in the conduct of members."

The State department did not spell out these irregularities but officials say there is no doubt that the Soviet mission has engaged in activities outside its field, particularly espionage and propaganda work.

The American note rejected outright Molotov's charges that American authorities had failed to co-operate and had impeded repatriation of Soviet citizens. At the same time the United States denounced his statement that the Soviet government had completed in good time the repatriation of American citizens.

Officials said that actually about 2,000 or more persons in the Soviet Union have some sort of claim on United States citizenship and that the Russian government has refused for a long time to do anything about it.

Mass Meeting Called By Texas City Mayor

TEXAS CITY, March 3 (AP) — Texas City Mayor L. A. Robinson has called a mass meeting for 2 p. m. Sunday in an effort to settle the wage strike of 1,400 men at Carbide and Carbon Chemicals corp.

The meeting will be held in the high school football stadium to give company and union officials "an opportunity to state their side of the controversy." The strike is more than a month old.

Texas Rangers sent here to survey the situation, yesterday reported "everything pretty peaceful."

E. J. Fox, assistant plant superintendent, said the plant is being surveyed to determine what production will be profitable in the face of the changing economics in the chemical business.

No new talks were scheduled to discuss the wage situation.

Texas Tech Bands To Give Concert Sunday

The Texas Tech bands will present the first of a series of spring concerts in the Tech gym Sunday afternoon at 3 p.m.

The concert band under the direction of Prof. D. O. Wiley will offer music from the pen of Brahms, Tschaikowsky and Rimsky Korsakoff. There are 115 pieces in this organization.

Joe L. Haddon will direct the second band in a program of lighter music that will include marches by Sousa and Filmore. The second band is composed of 65 pieces.

quit defiance of the U. S. orders and began packing.

The orders to the Soviet mission members, blockaded for two days, were brought to the repatriation headquarters by Soviet military mission officials. They were accompanied by American officials. After a parley inside the building it was agreed that members of the Soviet military mission should accompany the ousted Russians to the Soviet zonal border.

American officials ordered lights turned on in the building Food supplies, electricity and water had been shut off when the American blockade began.

The Americans consider the Russian mission's usefulness in the American zone has ended.

Soviet Chief Gives Order

The order to the Soviet repatriation commission to throw in the towel in its fight against expulsion by the Americans came from Marshal Vassily D. Sokolovsky, Soviet occupation chief who had branded the U. S. ouster order "infamous."

The Russians, after being ordered by Gen. Lucius D. Clay to get out had announced their intentions of staying until they were ordered to evacuate by their superiors on the grounds that otherwise they might leave themselves open to desertion charges.

Mrs. Christensen collapsed as they walked across the lobby, and was caught by Christensen, Pollard and two other representatives of Pollard's paper who had arrived earlier in the day.

The group assisted her to the fourteenth floor of the hotel to the room of the San Francisco reporter. The door was shut to all Houston reporters, except one representative of a radio station.

Pollard said the Christensens would spend the night in the room and that the reporter would move elsewhere.

There was no interview for the local reporters.

Chambers Denied Hate Reason For Putting Finger On Hiss As Alleged Communist Agent In Capital

dues?"

"I certainly did not!" Hiss answered with some heat.

We renewed our questions about Hiss's subletting his apartment to Chambers, or Crosley, with an old Ford thrown in, and when that petered out Rep. Nixon asked Chambers if he had anything else to say for the record.

"I don't think so," he answered.

"I wouldn't think so!" Hiss snapped. "I am not surprised."

At the end, Chairman J. Parnell Thomas, who had come in late, said to Hiss, "That is all. Thank you very much."

"I don't reciprocate," Hiss said.

"Italicize that in the record," Thomas said to the stenotypist, and it was attended to in the report we eventually issued of the intense clash.

IN her executive session testimony of August 18, 1948, the day after the meeting of Hiss and Chambers, Mrs. Hiss backed up her husband's denials and testified that Crosley, as she said she knew Chambers, was a sponger." Beyond that she did not recall much about him.

In executive session two days later, John Abt and Lee Pressman, accused of being Communists, accompanied by their attorneys, refused to answer many of the questions directed at them, on the grounds that their answers might incriminate them.

Louis Budenz came to the stand to call both Abt and Pressman Communists and to say of Hiss that he had "heard his name mentioned as a Communist." Budenz, former Communist and ex-managing editor of The Daily Worker, broke with the Party shortly after the war.

Attempted To Find Clues

But Martha Pope, a domestic who had worked for the Hisses at the time Chambers claimed to have stayed with them, had no memory of the kind of guest Chambers described himself as being. We endeavored then to trace the path of the Ford (which Chambers said he never received from Hiss) without too much success. It remains something of a mystery, deepened by the awful fact that the man who notarized the papers on the car's transfer either leaped or fell to a ghastly death from the top floor of the Justice Department in Washington.

The car was transferred to a William Rosen who, when questioned, refused to answer most questions — including whether he had ever received the car — on the grounds that his answers might incriminate him. So did his wife.

The public confrontation of Hiss and Chambers took place on August 25, 1948, in the caucus room of the Old House Office Building. Hiss was accompanied now by counsel, John F. Davis.

HISS was questioned at length about his leases with Chambers, or Crosley, as he continued to call him. Restlessly, he mentioned a letter he had sent to the Committee the previous day, a copy of which he had distributed to the press.

"The Chair would like to say that the chairman was not in the office when your letter arrived." Rep. Thomas said, "but he did have an opportunity to read the letter in this morning's New York Herald Tribune."

"It was delivered to your office yesterday afternoon," Hiss said. Then he went on, "The important issues, the important charges, are not questions of leases, but questions of whether I was a Communist. It seems to be topsy-turvy to be talking only about leases. In such a serious charge as this it seems to me we should be getting after the question of my record and what did people who worked closely and intimately with me think of me."

The hostility grew by the second, while the newsreel cameras hummed.

"Mr. Hiss, I would like to say again that the Committee appreciates your suggestions as to how to conduct this hearing," Thomas replied sharply.

Rep. Nixon had something to say about that, too: "The issue in this hearing today is whether or not Mr. Hiss or Mr. Chambers has committed perjury before this Committee, as well as whether Mr. Hiss is a Communist."

THE Committee brought out, through questioning, that no one else besides Hiss had come forward to identify a George Crosley. As for the car which Hiss had once owned, he could not be certain, after a time, whether he had sold, leased or given it to Crosley. There was a year's discrepancy in the time of his stated transfer of the car, in earlier testimony, and the dates on the Washington Traffic Bureau documents we unearthed. Shown a picture taken of Chambers ten years before, holding the Chambers baby, Hiss said he could not identify it definitely, and asked that, inasmuch as two figures were shown in the picture, one be marked Exhibit A and the other Exhibit B.

Rep. Mundt, after a long time, summed up the case as he saw it. Hiss called it a "so-called summation" and entered his letter of the day before into the record. It accused the Committee of bias and listed a great number of prominent persons with whom he had worked. It asked further that the Committee ask Chambers a number of questions, and it defied Chambers to repeat his charges beyond the pale of Congressional hearing immunity.

Hiss Suggested Queries

Hiss demanded that the Committee ask Chambers if he had ever been in a mental institution, make inquiries about his life and place of residence, ask him whether he was an alcoholic and whether he had ever been convicted of a crime.

When he took the stand immediately after that, Chambers answered negatively to the questions propounded in the name of Hiss. Nixon was curious about the Chambers story that he had spent time at Hiss's home and had lived in the spare apartment which Hiss also had under lease, for nothing.

"Why would Mr. Hiss let you go in there for nothing?" he asked.

"Because Mr. Hiss and I were Communists," Chambers answered, "and that was a comradely way of treating one another. There is nothing unusual in such a procedure among Communists . . . Mr. Hiss considered it a privilege to have a superior in the Communist organization in his home."

THE Committee refused to make public Chambers's present address after he said, soberly, "To me that seems tantamount to telling the Communist Party. However, I will tell my address and get rid of this question right away."

The stocky editor later mentioned Hiss again as ". . . the closest friend I ever had in the Communist Party."

Nixon, as well as the rest of us, had continued to marvel at that.

"Mr. Chambers," he said "can you search your memory now to see what motive you can have for accusing Mr. Hiss of being a Communist at the present time? Is there any grudge you have against Mr. Hiss over anything that he has done to you?"

The suggestion of tears came into Chambers's eyes when he answered.

"I do not hate Mr. Hiss," he said. "We were close friends, but we were caught in a tragedy of history. Mr. Hiss represents the concealed enemy against which we are all fighting, and I am fighting.

"I have testified against him with remorse and pity, but in a moment of history in which this nation now stands, so help me God, I could not do otherwise."

Rep. Hebert was still curious, after Chambers testified that he had gone under a number of names: Carl, by which he said Hiss knew him; J. Vivian Chambers, his baptismal name; J. Whittaker Chambers; David Whittaker Chambers, Cantwell and Dwyer—but never Crosley. Hebert asked:

"Can you search your mind at this time and tell this Committee what possible motives you could have in jeopardizing your position with Time (he had just testified that he made $25,000 a year as one of the magazine's senior editors) by making statements that you are making? You realize that if they are false, you are finished?"

"IT IS not just my position on Time," Chambers said. "What I am jeopardizing is my position in the community."

He went again into why he had become a Communist: his concern over the state of the world and his discovery that "At that crossroads the evil thing, Communism, lies in waiting." He spoke of its iron-clad discipline. "Every Communist in the United States is a potential spy or saboteur and a permanent enemy of this system of government," he concluded.

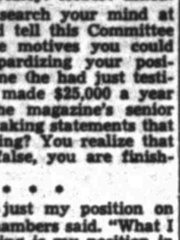

Mundt asked him, at the end, if he felt that Communist operations in Washington were continuing.

"It is unquestionable that Communists are still functioning in Government," he answered, "and will continue to function until they are rooted out. It may be that during a period like this, when a number of investigative agencies are looking into the matter, they are resting on their oars for a while.

"But they will remain in being."

16 dollars a day more PROFIT with WEBER ROLL-A-DOOR SODA FOUNTAIN

DRUG STORE OWNER, FLORIDA

"You're to be congratulated," Joe Foster wrote us, "for your exceptionally fine soda fountain. Compared to my old 'flip-flop' lid type fountain, it's as different as driving an auto after riding in a horse-drawn buggy. Noon jams and evening rushes don't worry me at all anymore. The Roll-A-Door really speeds service besides giving me more 'dips' per gallon. After only a few weeks I figure with the faster service...less cleaning time...and more dips per gallon, that I've increased profits a little better than $16 a day."

Danish Physician Heads All-Out Fight In Europe Against TB

By GABRIEL DE SABATINO
INS Staff Correspondent

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., March 3—A tall, mild-mannered Danish physician who is said to smoke more cigars than Winston Churchill, is directing history's greatest single effort to combat tuberculosis.

He is Dr. Johannes Holm, chief of the international tuberculosis campaign and one of the world's foremost authorities on anti-tuberculosis measures.

Dr. Holm, who served in the U. S. Public Health Service temporarily in 1946, considers his project as a "joint enterprise of many partners, carried out on an international scale" — irrespective of boundaries or politics.

Gigantic Tests Set

The scope of the campaign is to test more than 100 million children all over the world for tuberculosis and to vaccinate as many as can possibly be handled. About 8,700,000 European children already have been tested and more than 3,000,000 immunized.

Dr. Holm said the plan works on a "self-help" basis. Medical staffs and supplies are sent out from the Scandinavian nations to nations asking for anti-T. B. help and local doctors are shown how to administer the tests and vaccinations. Once that is accomplished, the local physicians can carry on by themselves.

The vaccine used is called BCG (baccillus calmette guerin) named after the two Frenchmen who developed it.

Can Cut Number

Dr. Holm said that experience with BCG vaccination shows it can reduce new cases of tuberculosis by about four-fifths.

"However," he said, "we have not succeeded in reducing T. B. very much as yet. It will take a little longer for the campaign to have any real results."

He declared that the campaign was given added impetus with the support of the United Nations International Childrens Emergency fund which has supplied much of the money needed for the work. He added:

"It costs only ten cents to vaccinate one person, but much money is needed to carry on the work on a mass scale.

"The international tuberculosis campaign has six million dollars now at its disposal, but it will need more."

U. S. Aids In Campaign

Although he refuses to take any credit, the anti-tuberculosis campaign was started under Dr. Holm's direction in 1946, when the Danish Red Cross initiated the program in Yugoslavia, Poland, Germany, Czechoslovakia and Hungary.

Subsequently, the Danish Red Cross was joined by other Scandinavian Red Cross societies, by the World Health Organization and the UN International Childrens Emergency Fund. The United States contributed to the campaign by supplying, free of charge, an Army DC-3 transport to fly the BCG vaccine, which spoils quickly.

Dr. Holm said that most of Europe has been covered and that children in the entire continent will have been tested before 1949 is over.

"Many countries have asked for help," he said, "more than we can work in right away.

"India has asked for help. Mexico, Ecuador and Bolivia also have asked assistance.

"It is really possible to attack tuberculosis on an international scale although, at present, the scope of the aid is limited."

Dr. Holm, who has been in Uggerby, Denmark, has been a specialist in tuberculosis since his graduation from the University of Copenhagen. He joined the state serum institute in Copenhagen in 1930 and in 1940 became head of the tuberculosis division, a post he still holds.

Dr. Holm spent several months each year studying T. B. conditions in other European countries and in 1938 received a six-month travel grant in the United States from the international health division of the Rockefeller foundation. He is also chairman of the World Health Organization's expert committee on tuberculosis.

Communist Radio Says Elections Scheduled For North Koreans

SEOUL, March 3 (AP)—The Communist radio at Pyongyang, capital of Northern Korea, announced today elections will be held in North Korea on March 30 for peoples' committees of provinces, cities, counties and wards.

The radio specified that "only in the northern half of the republic" will the elections be held. The United Nations recognized Republic of Korea, which is American occupied, governs the south half of the country.

Austria now has been almost completely denazified, Vienna reports.

Court Aids Alabama Legion Club In Efforts To Transfer Deed

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Mar. 3 (AP)—It took a court order to keep about 35,000 Alabama American Legionnaires from having to sign a deed to make the transfer of a house here legal.

When the Alabama Farm Bureau Federation bought a house and lot belonging to the American Legion department, a lawyer advised officials that since the Legion is unincorporated, it could not convey the property except with the signature of each member.

Judge Walter B. Jones of the circuit court made the sale legal with a court order.

Dallas Office Ahead Of Schedule In Handling Income Tax Forms

By CHOC HUTCHESON
Avalanche Staff Writer

The Dallas office of the collector of internal revenue this year is "well ahead of schedule" in processing income tax returns, John B. Dunlap, newly-appointed collector for the Second Texas district, said here Thursday.

Dunlap, in Lubbock for a routine inspection of the local branch, said approximately one-third more forms have been handled than were processed as of the same date in 1948.

Many Filed Returns Early

One reason, he said, was that more people filed their returns early this year. He attributed this to the reduction in federal income taxes, which entitled many workers who had had taxes withheld to a refund.

"Naturally, with a refund coming, these people filed their returns earlier than they would otherwise have done," Dunlap explained.

Tax collections for the 144-county Dallas district should total approximately $600 million for 1948, the collector estimated. He added that some 600,000 refunds, for about $30 million, probably will be made.

"By the close of the day," Dunlap said Wednesday, "we should be making refunds on forms 1040 and 1040-A which were filed on Feb. 17. We handle all returns in the order in which they are received in our office—provided, of course, that they were made out properly. We should have finished the job of making refunds on all correct forms by May 15, which is more than a month earlier than the time which we are allowed by law."

Dependent Claims Troublesome

The most frequent cause of difficulty in handling returns, Dunlap said, is the taxpayer's attempt to claim a dependent to which he is not legally entitled. In any case in which there is any question regarding such a claim, a thorough check is made, which results in a delay in processing the return.

Dunlap, who became collector for the Dallas office effective this month, has been acting collector since April 1, 1947. He said the Dallas office now has 465 employes, and that there are 182 field men in the district. Lubbock's office, which serves 19 South Plains counties, is the third largest in the district, ranking behind those of Dallas and Forth Worth in size. Louis B. Barkley is field division chief for the local office.

Dunlap was accompanied on his visit here by D. O. Lowry, jr., chief field deputy for the Dallas office. The two men arrived in Lubbock Thursday, and were to leave this morning.

Police Chief Pays Wife's Fine After Traffic Violation

FORT WORTH, March 3 (AP)—For the R. E. Dysarts today was one of those days when they should have stuck to riding the buses.

Both the chief of police and his wife figured in auto traffic investigations by Fort Worth police.

Dysart's official car collided with a pharmacy's delivery sedan at noon, with minor damage to the city-owned car.

In late afternoon, Mrs. Dysart missed stopping at a newly installed boulevard sign, an oversight which rated a traffic ticket from radio Patrolman A. B. Prine.

The chief complimented Prine for doing his duty as he prepared to pay off his wife's $5 fine.

Arkansas Chemical Plant Closes In Wage Dispute With Union

EL DORADO, Ark., March 3 (AP)—A wage dispute has brought about a shutdown at the Lion Oil company's chemical plant here and a stoppage on a $7,000,000 construction project at the plant. About 770 men are idle.

E. P. Shelton, chairman of the bargaining committee for the CIO Oil Workers Union local representing the chemical workers, said the men reported for work this morning and were admitted to the plant but weren't working.

The company shut down the chemical plant early today after the union voted to strike when wage negotiations reached an impasse. At the same time, the construction company terminated its payroll, said the El Dorado Times.

Morris Aikin, Kilgore, Texas, representing the Oil Workers union, said a strike was voted late last night.

House Passes Measure Setting Up System To Retire Judges In State On Partial Pay At 65

By MARTHA COLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, March 3—The House passed today the bill setting up a judges retirement system for the state.

After the bill had been amended nine times from the floor, Rep. Doyle Willis of Fort Worth offered one last amendment—"for one man alone, the fine old gentleman from El Paso."

He spoke of 80-year-old Rep. S. J. Isaaks, who has served eight years as a judge and 14 years in the legislature.

Willis' amendment would have made a man with those specific qualifications eligible for judge's retirement.

"I know of no other way the state can pay tribute to this fine old gentleman who has given so much unselfish service," Willis said.

However, Judge Isaacks objected.

"It's hard to tell you how much I appreciate this," Judge Isaacks remarked in his trembling voice. "But this is not a proper amendment to this bill. The state has paid me for my services and I don't want any other payment."

When he added—"please, for my sake, vote no on the amendment"—members of the House applauded. Willis then withdrew his amendment.

The House approved the bill 108-13.

As amended, it allows a judge who has served on the district bench or higher to retire when he is 65 years old and has served 10 years. Any judge with 25 years of continuous service may retire and start drawing retirement pay when he is 65 year old.

Retirement pay will be 50 per cent of salary. The judges will be required to pay in 5 per cent of their salary for the retirement fund.

Voters of Texas last November adopted a constitutional amendment allowing the legislature to set up the judges retirement plan. Author of the bill in the House is Rep. William S. Jameson of El Paso.

A companion bill has been approved by a senate committee.

Nimble Thief Escapes Police By Leaping From Moving Car

CHICAGO, March 3 (U.P.)—The thief was nimble, the thief was quick. He got away.

Policeman John Mullins and Robert Weston spotted a stolen car and gave chase until it jumped a curb and crashed into a building. No driver emerged.

Speeding at 40 miles per hour, the thief had leaped from the car. Police said he stumbled only slightly before running down an alley.

Former Radio Worker Charges Houston Oilman With Stomping

HOUSTON, March 3 (U.P.)—A 25-year-old former radio announcer sued Glenn McCarthy for $87,250 today, charging that the millionaire oilman knocked him down and stomped on him at a Christmas eve party.

Stanley D. Hemenway filed suit in 133rd district court, and claimed that the attack forced his retirement, fracturing his back and injuring his right eye and kidneys.

The petition asked $37,250 "actual damages" and $50,000 punitive damages, and said the incident took place at a party where McCarthy "was host to his employes."

Hemenway's attorney, J. Edwin Smith, said the slight, 130-pound announcer told him that McCarthy tried to stop Hemenway from leaving the party.

"'McCarthy struck me in the face with his fist. He knocked me down in the hall, and stomped me and kicked me with his feet as his guests looked on. It was very humiliating,'" Smith quoted Hemenway.

McCarthy was out of the city and not available for comment.

Treason Trial Of Clerics Recessed

SOFIA, Bulgaria, March 3 (AP)—A court recess for Bulgaria's independence day interrupted the trial of 15 Protestant pastors on treason charges today.

Prosecution and defense summations begin tomorrow after the conclusion yesterday of defense testimony highlighted by an effort of a former foreign minister to win alleviation of the possible penalty for the Rev. Vassel Ziapkov, chief defendant.

Georgi Kulishev, the former minister, testified that contrary to previous evidence Ziapkov was not an official member of the Bulgarian delegation to the Paris peace conference in 1946. The prosecution alleged that Ziapkov gave information to Western delegations at the conference.

Provides Death Penalty

Bulgarian law provides the death penalty for divulging official secret information. Should the defense claim that Ziapkov was only a private member of the delegation be upheld up the court it might lighten the sentence if he is convicted.

The court's decision in the case may be reached Monday.

The prosecution abruptly terminated its case yesterday when it announced it was not calling the remaining 42 of its 53 witnesses because the evidence already was "abundant and clear."

NINE KILLED IN PLANE CRASH

Charred Wreckage Of Missing Air Force C-47 Found In Mexico

DEL RIO, Tex., March 3 (AP) — Charred wreckage of a long overdue C-47 was reported found today in Mexico, far off its California-to-Texas course, with all nine aboard killed.

An Air Force reconnaisance plane left here to verify the report of a Mexican private flyer, who told Sheriff A. E. Steinmetz he spotted the smashed up plane yesterday from the air.

Oscar Gonzales, who lives at Villa Acuna, Mex., across the Rio Grande from here, said he saw the wrecked plane in the Tierras Coloradas, rugged mountain country, 100 miles southwest of here.

The plane was last seen in the air last Monday passing over Wink, Tex., en route from Hamilton field Calif., to Kelly field, San Antonio.

A widescale air search was started. Two private flyers, Ray Treadwell, 30, Menard, Tex., and George Vaughn, 25, Hollywood were killed yesterday when their plane crashed. They were helping the Civil Air patrol look for the missing ship.

Kelly field yesterday released the names of nine men believed aboard the lost plane.

The list included the name of Maj. Lucien N. Youngblood, 30, Houston, one of the Jimmy Doolittle flyers who bombed Tokyo.

Others were Sgt. H. B. Jones, 35, Wellington, Colo.

Capt. George N. Pennington, 26, Chicago.

Corp. Donald V. Nutt, Baker, Ore.

Capt. William R. Barnes, Jr., 29, Marshall, Tex.

First Lt. William W. McClure, 24, Venetia, Pa.

Second Lt. Glen J. Werden, 23, Warroad, Minn.

Tech Sgt. Marcus Slaton, 26, Tyron, Ga.

D. H. Stewart, a Navy man, address not listed.

Sheriff Steinmetz said Gonzales told him that the plane was found crashed on the vast R. A. Whitehead ranch. An employe rode to the scene on horseback. Gonzales said all on the plane were dead. He said the plane had burned.

Gonzales was aboard the reconnaisance plane. He said earlier he saw a clearing near the wreckage where a plane could land.

Air rescue service planes flew here from Hamilton field and Biggs field.

Strike Fails To Cut Atom Work

OAK RIDGE, Tenn., March 3 (AP)—A bus drivers' strike has not disrupted work at the government's three atomic energy pants here, but the atomic energy commission declared that "the public interest is seriously involved."

The strike of about 165 bus drivers of this atomic city's transportation system began yesterday. The drivers seek an increase from $1.25 to $1.42½ an hour.

Turn Down Offer

Members of AFL ocal 1414, Amalgamated Association of Street Electrical Railway and Motor Coach Employes, turned down the transit company's offer of an eight-cent increase.

President A. H. Gossard of the American Industrial Transit company said the offer basically amounted to more than eight cents an hour. Almost all drivers, he said, work 48 hours a week and are paid time and a half after 40 hours' work.

Still In Touch

Clyde Mills said he and two other representatives of the U. S. Mediation and Conciliation service are "still in touch with the situation and will arrange further conferences."

The AEC estimated 25,000 persons were served by the bus company's 26 routes to the townsite, schools and the three atomic plants. Oak Ridge has a population of about 36,000.

Former Actress Chooses Jail Instead Of Fine As Penalty

PASADENA, Calif., March 3 (AP) Silent film star Alberta Vaughn is in jail today, by choice instead of paying a $25 fine for intoxication.

Miss Vaughn, who claims she's 40, took the 12½ day term yesterday, explaining she may have to serve four months on a previous drunk charge.

"If I have to do those four months," she said, "a few extra days won't matter."

County parole officers will make the decision.

The ex-actress was arrested Feb. 13 after an argument in public with John R. Thomas, her husband. This was shortly after she had been released after serving nearly eight months in jail of a one-year sentence on the earlier charge.

HURLEY SCORES SECRET YALTA AGREEMENTS

Ex-Diplomat Says Surrender Of U.S. Principles Responsible For Communist Triumph In China

By JAMES LEE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 3 — Patrick J. Hurley charged tonight the sweeping Communist triumphs in China are "the result of America's surrender of principles in the secret Yalta agreements."

Hurley also asserted the United States is "now operating in a power bloc" and warned this course may lead to World War III.

The former ambassador to China and war secretary declared in a slashing address prepared for delivery at the Georgetown University Foreign Service school:

Freedom Surrendered

"The Yalta agreements surrendered the freedoms of three-fourths of the people of the world.

"The student of history and diplomacy must see in these secret agreements by the United States the blueprint which has been followed by the Communists in the conquest of China."

Hurley said the United States is "relying upon dollars and force and the atomic bomb to overcome our mistakes in foreign policy." He warned:

"We are now operating in a power bloc. There is but one thing certain about a power alliance and that is that historically speaking power blocs have always led to war."

Opposes Atlantic Pact

The veteran soldier and diplomat thus indicated his opposition to the proposed North Atlantic Security alliance.

Hurley attacked what he called the nation's "give-away" foreign policy. He said it is responsible for high prices, high national debt, high subsidies, high military preparedness, and high taxes. He observed:

"How long the American system of free enterprise can endure such a policy remains to be proven."

Hurley detailed the "surrender of principles" at Yalta.

Charter Violation Charged

He said the United States violated the Atlantic charter by agreeing to the aggrandizement of Russian territory at China's expense, violated China's territorial integrity, and sacrificed "every element of the traditional American policy in China." The ex-ambassador went on:

"President Roosevelt was a sick man at Yalta. One of his chief diplomatic assistants has proven a complete alibi for what happened at Yalta. I do not know who was responsible for the American diplomatic debacle at Yalta."

Hurley accused the United States of repeated subservience to Marshal Stalin in the Yalta agreements.

He then charged an American betrayal of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek. He added:

"Chiang Kai-Shek led our allies in China. With his aid we won the war in China. It was his purpose to build a self-government in China. We let him down.

"The Communists have won. We have lost China. We are now talking about how we can maintain a moral and military bridgehead in China that will not be inside of Russia's iron curtain."

But, Hurley asserted, prospects for such an achievement are dim. He declared:

"Instead of building a lasting world peace through the United Nations we began making treaties between nations that notoriously have never respected a treaty obligation.

"Instead of relying upon fundamental principles to which our associates in two world wars had agreed, we surrendered these principles and placed our reliance upon dollars and upon force."

'Row' Over Reburial Of Texas Latin-American GI To Be Probed

AUSTIN, March 3 (AP)—A House Investigating committee will go to Three Rivers to make an on-the-spot study of the row over the reburial of a Latin-American soldier.

"We haven't decided just when, but hope to make it next Wednesday," said Rep. Cecil Storey of Longview, committee chairman.

The investigation over the reburial of Felix Longoria was asked by Rep. J. F. Gray of Three Rivers and approved by the House.

INCREASED TRAVEL IS BLAMED

Nation's Traffic Deaths Show Sharp Boost During January

CHICAGO, March 3 (INS)—The National Safety council said today the motor vehicle death toll for January was eight per cent higher than in the same month of 1948.

The council said there were 2,330 highway deaths last January, compared with 2,160 for the same period last year.

The safety organization believed chief cause of the increase was the mild winter in the heavily populated area of the nation.

The council explained good weather boosts travel and pointed out that in the North Atlantic states the January death total was 48 per cent higher than last year. The council said the motor death rate increased also in the south and south-central regions.

Of 468 cities of 10,000 or more population reporting in January had an average death increase of six per cent.

The council said the increase was not uniform. There were 31 per cent more deaths in cities with population of 500,000 or more, 75 per cent more in the 25,000 to 50,000 group and 47 per cent more in the 10,000 to 25,000 group.

These increases were only partially offset by reductions of 17 per cent by cities of 200,000 to 500,000 poulation, 25 per cent by the 100,000 group and 32 per cent by the 50,000 to 100,000 group.

Largest city to report a perfect January record was Oklahoma City, Okla., with a population of 204,400.

Famous 'Silo Cow' Slowly Recovering With Special Diet

By JOHN RANDOLPH
Associated Press Staff Writer

YUKON, Okla., March 3—And now back to the bedside of Grady the cow.

You'll want to know how she's doing after getting out of that silo where she trapped herself on Washington's birthday.

Frankly, Grady isn't feeling so well.

She's bedded down in Bill Mach's best stall, tenderly wrapped in two warm horse blankets. It's still chilly in Oklahoma.

Although the public swarms to see her, Grady isn't able to do much receiving.

On Special Diet

She's on a special diet—ground corn and oats, alfalfa hay and cottonseed cake in cubes. It's just the food for an invalid cow on the road to convalescence—but she's only picking at it.

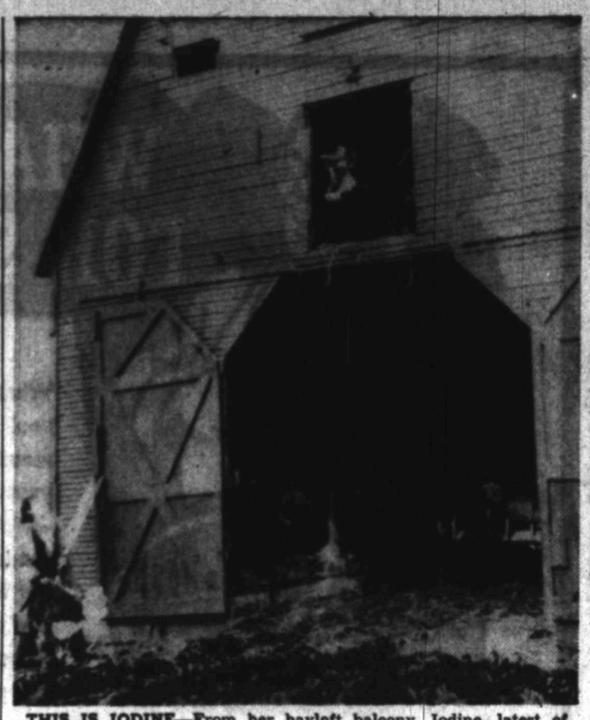

For Grady has been ill.

"We didn't think so at the time," said rancher Mach, "but in coming out of that tiny silo door she must have got hurt a bit."

The injuries didn't show up at first. They were to those little spiggots where you get the milk. They are very tender, and they were roughly bruised when the $1,000 pure bred hereford was smeared with axle grease and push-pulled through the 17 x 25½ inch steel door.

"But she was feeling better this morning, and we're not really worried about her any more. We think she's going to pull through all right," said Mach, who has been tending her with Dr. L. J. Crump, the Yukon vet.

In spite of Grady's trouble, Mach had nothing but praise for Grady's liberator who set her free five days after she hurled herself into the silo in a fit of terror.

THIS IS IODINE—From her hayloft balcony, Iodine, latest of Oklahoma's athletic cows, gazes over the barnyard—like a bovine Juliet waiting for her Romeo. An insatiable curiosity led Iodine to become adept at stair climbing. Her career as a second story operator has been cut short, however, by a hayloft door. Below, Mrs. Glen Fuqua, wife of Iowine's owner, holds L'il Abner, the cow's calf. (AP Wirephoto.)

Iodine, Second-Story Cow, Finally Decides To Come Down From High Loft In Oklahoma

LAWTON, Okla., March 3 (INS) Iodine, the second-story cow and Oklahoma's second candidate for the bovine hall of fame, has warily hoofed her way down stairs from the barn lot where she had spent nearly 24 hours.

The descent of Glen Fuqua's part Hereford, part Jersey (and apparently part mountain goat) cow was speeded by deft application of a battery equipped with a "hotshot" shocker.

Iodine, apparently envious of the publicity bestowed on Grady, the Oklahoma bovine who was trapped in a silo, tripped her way into the loft Wednesday. Once there she either forgot how to descend, or woman-like, decided she'd worry Fuqua a while.

Iodine stayed on her perch despite all the Lawton farmer's coaxings and the moos of her robust young bull calf, Lil Abner, and her foster son, Herman, a Hereford steer.

Fuqua reasoned that a dozen men couldn't get Iodine up the stairs and probably two dozen couldn't get her down. It wasn't plausible, he thought, to hoise her hungry youngsters to the loft so he decided upon the "hotshot" shocker.

The shocker had worked 10 days ago when Fuqua returned to his farm and was dismayed by the sight of Iodine peering down at him from the loft.

Talked It Over

The farmer climbed to the loft today and spoke a few emphatic words to his adventurous cow. Iodine listened. Fuqua applied his persuader. Iodine walked gingerly to the stairs and looked down. Then she took the first step.

Again Fuqua pepped her along with the "shocker." Iodine started down again, head first, and made it. A slip would have meant a 15-foot drop and Hereford heaven.

There was a grand reunion below when Iodine touched her four hooves to the ground. Lil Abner and Herman rushed over to bestow bullish kisses on their mama.

Fuqua said when all was done he thought he'd install a gate across the loft stairway.

Vermont Writer-Lecturer Gives Talk At Kiwanis Club Luncheon

Weaving New England philosophy into his talk, Dr. Burges Johnson, eastern writer-lecturer, was principal speaker at the weekly luncheon of the Kiwanis club at Hotel Lubbock Thursday noon.

The speaker, who did a lot of kidding about Texas and "boasting" about his native Vermont, in addition passed along some good advice about not investigating too far back about one's forebears.

The speaker was introduced by Dr. D. M. Wiggins, president of Texas Technological college, where Dr. Johnson is speaking to campus groups this week. Prior to Dr. Johnson's talk, Wilson Ward, Tech faculty member, sang two Irish songs. Howard Golden was program chairman.

German Scientist Claims Moon Space Ship Possible In Five Years

(EDITOR'S NOTE: An internationally-known German rocket technologist declares in the following article that a rocket-propelled space ship capable of landing on the moon can be developed within five years. Dr. Heinz Gartmann, 32-year-old rocket advisor to the American military government in Germany, says he is confident a prototype can be produced in but three years to carry only instruments to the earth's satellite. Dr. Gartmann, president and scientific director of the German Space Research society and developer of engines for the V-2, 102, 500 B and X-4 rockets, recently spent seven months as rocket adviser at Wright Field, Ohio, at the invitation of the War department. He outlines herewith how he and his colleagues believe a space ship could be built to fulfill a centuries old dream of mankind.)

STUTTGART, March 3 —I can confidently state that — given the chance — a small group of German rocket technicians could within five years develop and launch a rocket-propelled space ship capable of reaching the moon in between 40 and 100 hours.

Such a project, however, cannot be undertaken in Germany today since every type of practical research and experimenting is strictly forbidden under the provisions of Allied Control council law 25.

This means that we have no experimental station, no testing grounds, not even any funds. Most of us work in private industry.

Research Continues

Despite these restrictions, however, purely theoretical work and research continues within the framework of the recently reformed "society for Space Research," headquarters in Stuttgart. This group embraces a network of highly trained physicists and other rocket technicians, all of whom graduated through the German Air force rocket development project.

This group, as the world knows, launched the first flying bombs and V-2 rockets. Some, including myself, have also had the opportunity to work with the U. S. War department at Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio and White Sands in New Mexico.

Well over one hundred of our compatriots (headed by Prof. Wernher Von Braun) are at present still in the U. S. engaged in developing the basic V-2 and similar guided missiles such as the Navy rocket "neptune" designed by Glenn Martin.

Scientists and authors, ever since the days of Leonardo Da Vinci, have dreamed of reaching the moon in a space ship.

The basic principles of launching such a ship are closely interrelated with the principles of guided missiles. Many of the problems and research are also shared, but our planning must necessarily be of a different nature in order to combat the special tasks arising in our field.

This is where we feel we are in advance of our American colleagues whose preoccupation with guided missiles does not allow the intensive theoretical research upon which we in our restriction to this field and from our knowledge of many years, are able to concentrate.

The question may arise, why is it that German scientists are acclaimed as the "know how" boys in a field, where, since the end of the war, the United States has made tremendous strides?

Invited To Work In U. S.

Before and during the war, while other countries had concentrated on developing the more orthodox type aircraft, the German Air force branched off into the rocket field and received substantial government financial backing.

This advance was put on record when the United States embarked upon the scheme of inviting leading German scientists to that country within the framework of the then hush-hush operation "overcast" which later became known as "paperclip."

The first task of this operation was to interpret and put into effect some 1,000 tons of captured German war secrets in the rocket field.

At that time Gen. Donald L. Putt stated that Germany was 10 years ahead of the U. S. in rocket research and development.

Even today our group receives a flood of letters and visitors from abroad bringing inquiries from official and amateur sources asking for information, particularly queries concerning light metal rocket combustion chambers, cooling systems, propulsion fuels, rocket engines, etc.

Must Overcome Gravity

Among our group are specialists in the manufacture and production of light metal combustion chambers able to take temperatures exceeding 3000 degrees centigrade; additionally we have experts in cooling methods.

What then are the basic problems encountered in building a space ship?

The first and foremost is to overcome the gravity of the earth hence the question arises: What is the minimum speed essential to ensure that a space ship, when launched, does not fall back to earth?

This principal was known even before the first V-2 was launched and was published by the pioneers by rocket ships, the American Goddard, the Frenchman Ciarcu, the Russian Ziolkowski and the "grand old man of rockets" the German professor Hermann Oberth, who although now in retirement on a farm in the U. S. zone is still the moving power of our society.

High Speed Necessary

The one and only serious handicap which still blocks the building of a space ship is the problem of energy.

Taking the ready-made example of the familiar V-2 in its improved form as now used by the U. S. Army in altitude tests, the top speeds so far reached at the U. S. experimental stations — according to latest available information —are around 188 meters per second (six times the speed of sound).

The V-2 reaches a height of between 160 and 180 kilometers. (99.36 to 111.78 miles).

The Navy's ionosphere rocket "neptune" can reach a top speed of around 2500 meters per second (7250 feet) and a maximum height of 350 kilometers. (217.35 miles).

To launch a space ship would need an initial speed of 11,200 meters per second, that is nearly five times as fast as the "Neptune."

From the knowledge I have gained whilst developing the first V-2 rocket and my additional research and findings in the United States during a seven months sponsored visit, I can safely declare that we could substantially increase these initial speeds by perfecting a better propulsion fuel.

I firmly believe that our group in Germany, working on theoretical research for which we have the sanction of the U. S. military government, could — if given the chance — produce such a fuel which would immediately step up the initial speed of the V-2 to 4,000 meters per second or, even 5,500 meters, enabling it to reach the height of 2,500 kilometers.

However this would only be a start.

Our ultimate aim would be a fuel far in advance of this, enabling a journey to the moon.

As overall guidance to the layman it must be borne in mind that it takes a ten-ton rocket to lift and carry 100 lbs. of weight to the moon.

From this the size of our task can be readily guaged.

Booster System Possible

While the basic V-2 rocket is designed to take off from nil velocity, a space ship with the present use of known materials could only be launched by a system of booster rockets exploding in succession and setting off a double or treble "chain-reaction."

In other words, the space ship proper would have to be mounted on three connected "launching" or "booster" rockets.

In this way the ship could start off with a super high initial velocity and would receive two or three additional "boosts" whilst enroute through the successive stages of lighter than air strata embracing the earth's surface.

Once the gravity of the earth has been overcome, the ship could reach the necessary cosmic speeds.

I estimate that the cost of such a ship would not exceed that of the first atom bomb.

We could produce a prototype able to take test instruments to the moon within three years.

Such a project is, however, tremendous and could only be realized under government sponsorship such as the German government provided during the last war.

At the moment neither the U. S. nor any other country has given financial backing to amateur societies, pursuing such purely peaceful aims.

With the full energy of the scientific brains of the U. S. engaged on experiments with guided missiles, the scientific and purely peaceful projects of space ship building are therefore doomed to be left on the shelf.

At this moment the combined "know-how" of American and German experts could realize this centuries old project.

I make this prediction — if the project is made possible — our generation may yet see the appearance of the first "space station" manned — let us hope—by a United Nations crew dedicated to world peace.

Police Officer Swings From Tree To Save Two Children

CHICAGO, March 3 (AP) — A rookie policeman with a touch of the tree-dweller in him rescued two children who had broken through the thin ice of a park lagoon.

James F. Castellano, 23, saw the struggling children, Kdren Freese, 8, and her brother Robert, 5, on a routine check of the park. Realizing that the ice would not hold him, Castellano swung out, hand over hand, on the underside of a bridge above the children. While he held on with one hand, he lifted each child to safety.

King George Replaces Soccer Ball Ruined By Monarch's Car

BIRCHAM, Eng., March 3 (AP) — George Ward, 12-year-old schoolboy kicked for goal in a school soccer football game.

The football sailed over a wall, fell into a road and was burst by a passing sedan.

Next day, to make up for the loss, a new ball was sent to the boy by the owner of the sedan—King George VI.

1949 DeSoto Line To Make First Appearance In Lubbock Saturday

Completely new from bumper to bumper, a brilliantly - styled new line of De Soto cars will be displayed for the first time by the Hub Motor company, 901 Ave. H, Saturday.

Introduced under the slogan "the car designed with you in mind," the new De Sotos were built to take advantage of all of the beauty of modern design without sacrificing a single feature of comfort, safety, or convenience.

Longer Wheelbase

The cars have a longer wheelbase, so that passengers ride cradled between the axles, yet over-all length has been slightly reduced. Seats are much wider, yet over-all width of the car is less. No headroom has been lost, yet over-all height has been reduced. Legroom has been increased.

The result is a car that is far roomier inside, where space is needed, yet easier to park, garage and handle in traffic because of elimination of unnecessary bulkiness outside.

Clean, Flowing Lines

The De Sotos have clean, flowing lines and a long, low look, accentuated by handsome chrome trim that also protects fenders and body from scrapes and dents. Fenders can be quickly removed for economical repair and are designed so that tires may be changed and chains put on with ease.

The "cascade - type" chrome grille and massive "wrap-around" bumpers give the cars an attractive, broad-nosed look.

Visibility Increased

Visibility has been increased all around the car. There is 24 per cent more glass area in the windshield alone and improved, noiseless electric wipers sweep 44 per cent more windshield area. The V-type windshield of uncurved glass provides full vision without distortion, an added safety factor, and windshield replacement is far less costly than other types. Chair-high seats let the driver and passengers take full advantage of the increased visibility.

Other safety factors include the grouping of all instrument panel controls within instant reach of the driver; "black lighting" of control dials to eliminate glare; better hydraulic brakes; improved, easier steering; and new mounting of shock absorbers for better lateral control. Safety-Rim wheels provide safety in event of blowouts by holding tires and tubes in place.

Other Notable Feautres

The Powermaster engine has higher compression and the horsepower has been increased. The Tip-Toe hydraulic shift and gyrol Fluid Drive make De Soto "the car that lets you drive without shifting."

Other notable features are an automatic back-up light on custom models; tamper-proof locks on window vents; thermostatically controlled all - weather comfort system which uses fresh air; and a fixed position toe-rest in sedans that permits plenty of legroom for rear seat passengers no matter how the front seat is adjusted.

Mechanical Improvements

Among the many important mechanical improvements are a new ignition system which includes a splash - proof distribution; longer front coil springs; superior waterproofing of the engine compartment; dust-proof switches; thicker, softer rubber body mountings; an armored, theft - proof ignition cable and Parko - Lubrite treated cylinder walls for longer engine life. A turn of the ignition key now starts the engine.

The De Soto Custom line includes a 4-door sedan, club coupe, convertible, suburban, and 8-passenger sedan. The de luxe line comprises a 4-door sedan, club coupe, station wagon, and carryall sedan, a brand new idea in motor cars. The rear seats can be quickly and easily folded flush with the floor, providing an amazing amount of extra luggage and utility space.

Because of high potato prices, Mrs. A. E. McCallum, chairman of the Housewives League in Durban, South Africa, demanded that the Minister of Agriculture reimpose price control, and threatened a housewives' boycott of potatoes.

Air Lift 'Freshman' Asks Train Schedule To Berlin

FRANKFURT, March 3 (AP) — The U. S. Air Force told this one on itself in its publication, Task Force Times:

The pilot was fresh in from the States.

At the Great Falls, Mont., "Little Vittles" training school, they had taught him to fly a rigidly controlled course, make landings by GCA (radar) and carry out all the procedures of the air lift.

After reporting for duty with the 313th Troop Carrier Group, the Great Falls graduate stopped by the briefing room and asked:

"Is it possible to fly up to Berlin some time when I have a pass or leave?"

The briefing officer said, "No."

"Well, then," the flier asked innocently, "could you give me a copy of the Berlin train schedule?"

"Poor guy," the briefing officer said. "Great Falls forgot to tell him."

CAR 'HOBBY'

Boy Admits Theft Of 44 New Autos

HOUSTON, March 3 (AP)—A skinny, tow-headed lad of 14 sat in the Crime Prevention bureau today discussing merits of various makes of new automobiles.

The boy qualified as an expert—he said he has stolen 44 automobiles in the past three weeks. Cars, he explained, are his hobby.

Railroad Places Order For Six Diesel-Electric Locomotives

CHICAGO, March 3 (INS)—The Chicago-St. Paul Minneapolis and Omaha railroad announced today it has placed orders for six 1,500-horsepower diesel-electric freight locomotives with General Motors' electro-motive division.

The railroad, a subsidiary of the Chicago and North Western railway, estimated the cost of the six at approximately $1,102,600.

SAN DIEGO GROWING UP

SAN DIEGO (AP)—The metropolitan area of San Diego now has a population of 490,000, the Chamber of Commerce estimates. Population of San Diego proper was estimated at 392,000, a 100 per cent increase over the official government census of 1940.

CREAMY WALNUT CAKE

Sift together into a large bowl:
2 cups sifted cake flour
3 teaspoons double action baking powder (4 tsps. single action)
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup sugar

Add:
1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
½ cup Snowdrift (Emulsorized, quick blending)
¾ cup milk

Mix until flour is dampened. Beat 2 min. If you beat by hand count beating time only. (With electric mixer, use "low speed." Scrape bowl frequently. Scrape beaters after 2 min.)

Add:
2 eggs
¼ cup milk
¼ teaspoon maple flavoring
½ cup finely chopped walnuts

Beat 1 minute. Turn into 2 greased 8" layer pans lined with paper. Bake in a mod. oven (375°F.) about 25 min. When cool frost with—

CREAMY FROSTING: Cream 2 tbsp. Snowdrift and 2 tbsp. butter together. Add ⅛ tsp. salt. Beat in 1 egg yolk. Add 3½ cups confectioners' sugar and 4 to 6 tbsp. warm milk alternately to give good spreading texture. Stir in 1 tsp. vanilla. Spread on cake.

Now, wonderful cakes are so easy to make! Try the new "quick-method" recipes, but use only an emulsorized shortening! Snowdrift is emulsorized to give you special blending aid. TWO SCURRY WELLS UNDER TEST

Welch Field Extended Westward As New Prospector Completed

A one-mile west extension to the Welch field in northwest Dawson county has been proven by Cities Service Oil company No. 1-B Scanlon.

That prospector has been completed for a daily pumping potential of 116 barrels of oil, plus 4.8 barrels of acid water, from pay in the San Andres-Permian at 4,825-4,955 feet.

The producing formation had been treated with 5,000 gallons of acid.

The new well is located 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 87, block M, EL&RR survey.

Flow Is Reported

Lion Oil company No. 3 McLaughlin, second exploration to reach the Canyon lime pay in the recently opened Diamond M field in southwest Scurry county, 10 miles southwest of Snyder, and 610 feet from east and 1,999 feet from south lines of section 197, block 97, H&TC survey, flowed 65 barrels of oil in the first hour of testing of perforated section 6,573-6,620 feet, natural.

The flow as through a 24/64th inch tubing choke. Flowing casing pressure was 650 pounds and flowing tubing pressure was 750 pounds. Flowing to test and complete was continuing.

Humble Oil & Refining Company is preparing to take potential test and complete its No. 1 Richard Bishop, Canyon Lime discovery in southwest Scurry county, 13 miles southwest of Snyder, and three miles south of the opener of the Diamond M field.

This development, located 660 feet from south and west lines of section 164, bock 97, H&TC survey, had flowed an average of 17½ barrels of oil per hour, through an 11/32nd inch tubing choke, during the last six hours prior to being shutin to prepare to take the potential test.

The production is from perforated section at 6,650-79 feet, and was natural.

During the previous 12 hours the well flowed an average of 19 barrels of oil per hour through a three-eighth inch choke. Gas-oil ratio was 880-1.

Lubbock Men Buy Top Hereford Winners In Sale At Amarillo

AMARILLO, March 3 (AP)—The highest average price in the event's history was racked up yesterday in the annual Panhandle Hereford Breeders sale here.

Seventy-nine head sold for an average of $627, topping the $560 record set last year. Total receipts were $49,545.

The highest price for a single animal, $2,275, was paid for Balwin Aster 14th, grand champion of the Hereford division at the Amarillo Fat Stock show. Owned by Alfred Meeks of Dalhart, the animal sold to Len McClelland of Lubbock. The top female sale was Combs and Worley entry Cottonwood Queen 121st, bought by Dr. M. C. Overton of Lubbock.

Egyptians Find Long Lost Head From Famous Pharaoh's Statue

CAIRO, March 3 (AP)—Egyptian newspapers report that the long lost head of the ancient statue of Rameses had been found, just as it was being crated for export.

An antique dealer had sought permission to send the head to a foreign buyer, not knowing its identity. In a routine examination, experts recognized it as the missing part of the pink granite statue of the famous Bibical pharaoh which was unearthed in 1900.

Magazine Publishes Article By Lubbock Agriculture Expert

"The Rise of Combine Sorghums" is the title of an article by R. E. Karper which appears in the February issue of a professional magazine with national circulation, "What's New in Crops and Soils."

Karper, stationed in Lubbock, is agronomist in charge of sorghum investigations of the Texas Technological Experiment station. He has been a pioneer in the development of machine-harvested grain sorghums suitable for this area.

In the current magazine article, abundantly illustrated, Karper says, "Grain sorghums have long served the dual purpose of supplying both grain and forage for livestock in the Great Plains, but relatively small amounts of the grain entered the commercial markets to compete with corn and other major cereals.

Labor Is Bottleneck

"Labor requirements in harvesting have been the bottleneck in increasing acreage and production. The grain sorghums—kafir, milo, hegari—were not adapted to mechanical harvesting but were formerly harvested with a row-binder and threshed out of the bundle. Often they were hand headed from the standing stalks with a pocket knife, a head at a time, and at the rate of an acre or two a day."

Karper continues to show how in recent years combine sorghums have been developed extensively, and he relates a history of the development from the first breeding of combine types by J. B. Seiglinger, sorghum agronomist at Woodward, Oklahoma, in the 1920's.

He enumerates the industrial uses of grain sorghums, their tremendous importance during the war and in coming years.

Oil Company Reports Extension Of Welch Pool In Dawson County

BARTLESVILLE, Okla., March 3 (Special)—A one mile extension of the Welch pool of Dawson county, Texas, was indicated when Cities Service Oil company (Del.) completed its Scanlan B No. 1 for an initial potential of 116 barrels of oil daily. The outpost is located 660'N, 660'E of S/4 corner, C SW SE Sec. 87, Block M, EL RR Survey. The well is producing from the San Andres lime, at a total depth of 4,952 feet.

This important extension brings to 64, the total number of producing wells Cities Service Oil company has in the Welch pool. The company owns considerable blocked acreage in the immediate area.

Hereford Police Call System May Even Bring Help Eventually

HEREFORD, March 3 (BS) — Justice by indirection is the rule in the Texas town of Hereford.

Whenever anyone wants a policeman, he phones the telephone operator, who pulls a switch, which flashes on top of the town's grain elevator, which is seen all over town.

The first officer to see the light calls the operator, who connects him with the person who made the call in the first place.

Legislature Approves Three Major Prison Bills

Penal Officials Watch Voting

By DAVE CHEAVENS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, March 3 — Three bills in a program to give Texas a prison system to be proud of were finally passed today by the legislature and sent to Gov. Beauford H. Jester. He will sign them Monday.

It was the first major legislation—aside from emergency pay raises for state workers — to be enacted by the 51st session, a week short of its mid-way point. The prison bills go into effect immediately upon signature by the governor.

Overwhelmingly approved in the House were Senate bills appropriating $4,196,075 for buildings, machinery and equipment, and $529,398 for operating funds to be used the balance of the fiscal year. The Senate unanimously passed a House bill providing a modern system of classifying prisoners.

Appointees Studied

The $4 million appropriation was the key bill in the modernization program worked out by General Manager O. B. Ellis and prison board Chairman W. C. Windsor. They sat in the House gallery when the House voted 132 to 1 for the bill.

The Senate adjourned until Monday after working on local bills, and acting on appointees submitted by the governor in a 53-minute secret session. The House ordered an afternoon session.

The executive session confirmed appointment of Paul H. Brown of Harlingen as state fire insurance commissioner. The Senate refused to accept B. L. Autry of Dallas as a member of the state board of hairdressers and cosmetologists.

The House unanimously passed a bill appropriating $100,000 to help Attorney General Price Daniel fight for Texas' claim to the tidelands. A similar bill was introduced in the Senate.

House Has Flareup

The House had its first flare-up over the contested basic science or minimum standards bill, backed by the State Medical association and fought by chiropractors.

It had been approved by the Public Health committee by a 13 to 6 vote, and Rep. Sam Hanna of Dallas tried to have it re-referred to the committee on livestock. He lost, 72-56.

"This is an effort to evade the issue," cracked Rep. Lamar Zively of Temple, co-author of the measure that would require all who practice any healing art to take an examination in basic sciences.

"I voted against this bill two

RELIGIOUS WEEK PROGRAM SET

Noted Hollywood Pastor To Be Guest Speaker On Tech Campus

By JERRY HALL
Avalanche Staff Writer

Dr. Louis Hadley Evans, L.L.D., nationally known pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Hollywood, Calif., will be the guest speaker at Texas Tech Monday through Thursday in connection with Religious Emphasis week at the college.

Dr. Evans will deliver a talk in a student convocation each morning, Monday through Thursday, in Texas Tech gym. His subjects will be announced later. The talks will be offered at 10 a.m. Monday and Tuesday and 11 a.m. Wednesday and Thursday.

Religious Influence Proved

Dr. Evans has proven himself to be one of the most influential leaders in the Presbyterian church in the United States today. He took over the Hollywood First Presbyterian church in 1941. He has since built it into the largest membership of its denomination in the nation. It also has the largest Presbyterian Sunday school in the country. There are 3,966 children on its rolls.

When Dr. W. M. Wyburn, ex-president of Tech, invited Dr. Evans to address the student body during Religious Emphasis week, he called on a minister who really believes in making religion a working reality. Dr. Evans came from a Presbyterian family. His father was a pastor.

Chose Small Pastorate

When Dr. Evans graduated from the Chicago McCormick Theological seminary in 1922 his father had a nice pastorate picked out for him. Instead of taking the ready made position, Dr. Evans chose to go to the small town of Westhope, N. D. There were only 29 members in the Presbyterian church in the small prairie town but the young minister soon built a good sized congregation. From there he went to Wilmington, Calif., Pomona, Calif., and then to the Third Presbyterian church in Pittsburgh, Pa.

Dr. Evans has spent a great deal of time on the campus of the colleges and universities of the country. He has given lectures and held conferences at such institutions as Iowa State, Penn State, Stanford, Carnegie Tech, University of California and many others. He has also visited colleges in Japan, China, Korea and India. He gave several weeks of his time to the government addressing our armed forces and has been on preaching missions in many of the western states for the military.

Undecided About Offer

When asked to take over the first church in Hollywood, Evans at first said no. He thought it over however, and later said, "I realized that it would be a burr under my saddle and that Hollywood would be one of the finest recruiting grounds in America." He was right. His excellent work in the film colony has earned him a claim to religious fame.

Time magazine says of him, "The secret of his Hollywood success lies in the solidly Presbyterian sermons and able administration that he does." His church was

FFA Stock Show Set At Cooper

Cooper High School's annual Future Farmers of America fat stock show will open today and continue through Saturday with the naming of champions scheduled for Saturday afternoon, H. E. Owen, adviser for the chapter, said Thursday.

All beef calves, dairy heifers, lambs, ewes, poultry, crops and educational exhibits will be entered today with most of the day used for preparing the exhibits and fitting animals for showing.

Judging Schedule Given

T. L. Leach of the agricultural education department of Texas Technological college will start judging of poultry, crops and miscellaneous exhibits at 3 p. m. today.

Judging of livestock will be made Saturday with Jason Gordon, manager of the Rowland-Gordon company, Lubbock, classing the animals.

The show is entirely managed and financed by members of the chapter. This year's show will be directed by John B. Allen, general superintendent; with Clyde Greene as assistant superintendent. Assisting them will be Jimmy Sandlin, cattle; Eugene Hindman, poultry; Bobby Henderson, swine; Melba Thompson, sheep; Donald Brownfield, miscellaneous; Cecil Bradshaw, educational; Kay Coleman, crops; and Harold Hester, concessions.

Many Awards Planned

The Cooper F.H.A. girls will operate a concession stand on the showgrounds.

Awards will consist of ribbons for class placings and rosettes for champions. A point system, allowing credit for exhibiting and winning, will be the basis for awarding a sweepstakes banner and a runnerup pennant to the two high FFA boys. Judges for this contest will be Woodrow Allen, Waylon Carrol, and Donnel Clark, senior agricultural education trainees of Texas Tech.

CHICKS GET THERE FAST

PORTLAND, Ore. (U.P.)—With the inauguration of direct airline flights from the Pacific Northwest to Honolulu, day-old chicks from Oregon now are being shipped by air directly to Hawaiian poultry farmers.

Tech Engineering Banquet Set Saturday

Rail Board Chairman To Be Speaker Here

William J. Murray, chairman of the Texas Railroad commission will be the main speaker at the 23rd annual Texas Tech Engineering Society banquet to be held in the main ball room of the Lubbock Hotel Saturday at 7:30 p. m.

He will be introduced by Vernon Johnson, a senior electrical engineer from Tech. Murray's talk will highlight the banquet and the dance to follow.

Ducker To Be Toastmaster

W. L. Ducker, head of the Petroleum engineering department at Tech, will act as toastmaster for the occasion. The rest of the program will include short addresses by Tech's President, Dr. D. M. Wiggins and Dean O. V. Adams, head of the Tech Engineering division.

There will also be short talks from a member of each class at the college. Duane Fincher, architect student from Fort Worth, will represent the freshmen class. Linton Wadley, chemical engineering student from El Paso, will speak for the sophomore class. The junior representative will be Jerry McKee, a mechanical engineer from Dallas. Frank McEwin from Denison, also an M. E. major, will be the senior speaker.

To Make Awards

Robert Payne, program chairman, also said that awards to outstanding students would be made by Wendell Mays, president of Tau Deta Pi, an electrical engineering society, and Fred Ferguson, president of the Tech chapter of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers.

Honored guests will be the deans of each of the divisions at Tech, the deans of men and women, and Pres. Wiggins and Vice-president E. N. Jones. Dean R. C. Goodwin of Arts and Science will make the invocation.

Ted Crager's orchestra will play for the dance that will follow the banquet.

FOOD BILLS DON'T WAIT

BOSTON (U.P.)—When Salvatore DeMare, 24, arraigned for non-support of his family, explained that he was a tomato packer "and this is the dull season," Municpal Judge Jennie L. Barron said: "There's no reason for you to wait for the tomatoes to grow before going to work."

Reburial Rites Slated For Lt. Ben Jenkins

Reburial services for Second Lt. Ben H. Jenkins, who was killed in action July 12, 1944 near Channi, Italy, will be conducted at 2:30 p.m. Sunday in First Baptist church, with Rev. W. F. Ferguson, retired Baptist minister, officiating.

LT. JENKINS

The body of Lt. Jenkins, which was returned to this country from the U. S. Military cemetery at Fallonica, Italy, will arrive in Lubbock Saturday morning, and will remain at Sanders Funeral home until time of services. The body will arrive here from the Fort Worth distribution center of the American Graves Registration service.

Sanders Funeral home will direct burial in Tech Memorial Park cemetery.

Lt. Jenkins was born at Fluvanna, Feb. 28, 1911, and was graduated from Texas Tech in 1933. He and a brother, J. R. Jenkins, owned and operated Jenkins Brothers dairy here. They later sold their dairy interests and were associated with The Borden company. Lt. Jenkins was sales manager for that company prior to his entrance into the armed forces.

In December, 1942, he entered the Army at Fort Sill, Okla., and completed his basic training at Camp Walters, Texas. He received his commission as Second Lieutenant at Fort Benning, Ga., Aug. 4, 1943.

After serving at Camp Roberts, Calif., and Camp Adair, Ore., he was sent to North Africa, later to Italy.

In Lubbock, Lt. Jenkins was a member of First Baptist church, American Business club, Yellowhouse Masonic lodge, and Knights of Pythias.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Lois Jenkins of Austin; two brothers, J. R. Jenkins of Roswell, N. M., and Mays Jenkins of Kenna, N. M.; and three sisters, Mrs. P. C. Mitchell of Lubbock, Mrs. W. E. Stockton of Hyman, and Mrs. Bernard Longbotham of Sweetwater.

Pallbearers will be Wayne Pharr, Art Maxcy, Bill Pittman, Clayson Fuller, Milton Kirksey, and Billy Mitchell.

Lamesa Show To Open Saturday

LAMESA, March 3 (Special)—Lamesa's first annual 4-H and FFA Boys' Livestock show was all set for opening Saturday and officials are looking forward to more than 300 animals to be entered in the four divisions of the show.

Prizes will be awarded for fat steers, swine, sheep and dairy cattle. Prizes in each division will be awarded by the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce, which with agricultural interests of Dawson county is sponsoring the show.

Lee Roy Colgan is general superintendent of the show and Earl Sears and J. W. Reed, assistant superintendents. Billy Mitchell is superintendent of the calf scramble, Lynn Alford, weight; and Leroy Olsak, arena.

Stanley E. Anderson, member of the annual husbandry faculty at Texas Technological college, Lubbock, will judge the show.

The show was arranged by the agriculture and livestock committee of the chamber of commerce. The members are: Jack McLaughlin, E. J. Watkins, F. P. King, George Simpson, Dee Hull, R. A. Noret, Dr. J. M. Harrington and Dr. T. A. Bucy.

Reserve and grand champions will be selected in the four divisions.

At the close of the show, a calf scramble will be held and boys will be offered an opportunity to catch an animal to feed out for next year's show. Scramble calves have been donated by the Federal Land bank, Minimax Feed Mill, Farm Bureau, F. P. King, International Harvester Co., Lamesa Cotton Oil Mill, Piggly-Wiggly Grocery, First National bank, Lamesa Tire and Battery and Lamesa National bank.

Lubbock Students To Attend Meet

Approximately 25 Lubbock Senior High school students, who are staff-members of the "Westerner" yearbook and of the "Westerner World" newspaper, will participate in the annual convention of the Panhandle High School Press association, to be held Saturday on the campus of West Texas State Teachers college at Canyon.

The Lubbock group, accompanied by Mrs. Dick Cozby, journalism instructor at Senior High school and sponsor of student publications, will leave Saturday morning by chartered bus for Canyon, and will return that night.

Newsman To Speak

Principal speaker for the convention will be Felix McKnight, managing editor of The Dallas Morning News. Delegates from high schools over the South Plains and Panhandle areas will attend.

The all-day meeting will be broken up into a number of divisions or panel discussion groups, each division to be under the direction of delegates from some high school in the area.

Basil Wolfe, Lubbock Senior High student who does cartoon work for the "Westerner World" newspaper, will direct a panel discussion group on cartoons. Bruce Hamilton, "Westerner World" cartoonist, also will participate in the discussion.

To Take Part In Program

In addition to their work on the student newspaper, Wolfe and Hamilton also are members of the "Westerner" yearbook art staff.

Joy Pharr and Shirley Johnson, associate editors of the "Westerner World," are to take part in a discussion of newspaper makeup, which is to be directed by delegates of Pampa High school.

Other discussion divisions and schools which are to be in charge of each, are: Mimeographed papers, White Deer school; photography, Amarillo; news editing, Pampa; general columns, Plainview; feature subjects, Tahoka; feature writing, Happy; sports writing, Pampa; advertising, Amarillo; annuals, West Texas High, Canyon; news writing, Childress; editorials, Plainview; mimeographed paper makeup, Panhandle; page in town paper makeup, Canyon High; and own printed paper makeup, Amarillo.

Luncheon Is Set

Opening session of the convention will be at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, with a welcome address by Dr. James P. Cornette, president of WTSTC. A response will be followed by an introduction of officers.

At 10:30 a.m., a brief entertainment will be presented by a WTSTC group. E. B. Winkler, representative of Wallace Engraving company, Austin, will speak

PEACE NEGOTIATIONS PLANNED

Chinese Communists Agree To Open Talks Within Three Weeks

By PETER LIU
INS Staff Correspondent

NANKING, March 3 — China's Premier Sun Fo announced today that Chinese Communists have agreed to start peace negotiations within the next three weeks to end the country's civil war.

The Nationalist premeir said the peace talks will open in Nanking the latter part of this month and will be conducted "on a basis of equality."

Ten top officials of the Central government, including Sun, have been appointed by Acting President Li Tsung-Jen to draft a peace program and represent the Nationalist government at the peace table.

Reds To Send Ten

Sun reported that the Communists will send the same number of peace delegates to Nanking "to show the spirit of equality."

Sun said details of the peace program being drafted by the Nationalist peace representatives will be completed in ten days but will not be disclosed "until it becomes opportune to do so."

The premier did not reveal whether Mao Tse-Tung, China's no. 1 Communist leader, softened his previous harsh surrender terms which included a demand that Chiang Kai-Shek and other government leaders be arrested as "war criminals."

Chiang now is i nretirement in his native South China village of Fenghua.

Unofficial Delegates Return

Premier Sun said that unofficial peace delegates just returned from Peiping told him they received Communist assurances of "sincerity" toward peace negotiations.

During the past several weeks while both sides have been jockeying for positions in the opening peace talks, military operations have remained at a standstill.

In announcing the forthcoming peace conference, Premier Sun revealed that he and Acting President Li had already agreed on economic reforms regardless of the peace negotiations.

Would Abandon System

The premier, who is the son of the late Dr. Sun Yat-Sen, founder of the Chinese republic, said he favors abolition of the conscription system. He said Chinese armed forces should be reduced from 6,300,000 men to 2,500,000 to ease the burden of paying and feeding troops.

Sun declared that unless this reduction is realized there is no way to improve China's economy and the people's livelihood.

He said that the Central government has been trying its utmost to enforce land reforms and return "the land to the tillers." He added that this was not an imitation of what the Chinese Communists have done but is enforcement of Sun Yat-Sen's principal of "the people's living."

Opposes Taxation Rule

The premier also said that he favors abolition of taxation "in kind" — payment in crops — and wants to see governmental power de-centralized and distributed to local authorities.

Sun said that besides himself the following officials will draft the Nationalist peace program:

Chang Chun, cabinet minister without portfolio and commander of Chungking pacification headquarters; Chang Chih-Chung, another minister without portfolio and politico-military commissioner for the northwest; Shao Li-Tze, liberal elder statesman;

Ho Ying-Chin, former national defense minister; Wu Chung-Hsin, secretary general of the presidential office; Chu Chia-Hua, former education minister; Wu Te-Chen, vice premeir; Liu Fei, vice minister of national defense; and Chun Tien-Hsin, water conservation minister.

Victims' Pleas Prompt AFL To 'Ask Soviet 'Slave Labor' Survey

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Last week a former woman member of the German Reichstag who fled her homeland to escape Hitler persecution charged before the United Nations that Russia is keeping between eight and 14 million persons in slave labor camps. She is Toni Sender, assistant economist of the American Federation of Labor to the UN Economic and Social Council who urged an impartial investigation behind the iron curtain. The Soviets refused to permit such an investigation and attacked the charge as a "libel." In the following signed article Miss Sender tells how she learned about "de-humanization" in talks with former inmates of Soviet penal camps.)

By TONI SENDER
(Written Exclusively For INS)

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., March 3—What has brought about the American Federation of Labor's request for a comprehensive survey on the extent of forced labor?

The American Federation of Labor had received many complaints from persons who had been victims of slave labor camps, mainly in Russia and who had been asked by those still remaining in the camps:

"Tell the West!"

I personally have talked to a great number of former inmates of those places of suffering, of hunger and hard labor, who are now living in this country, men as well as women. They do not know each other, having been in different places of the vast stretches of Soviet Russia.

Individual Accounts Tally

Their accounts all tally—it is the same absence of orderly trial, absence of the right of defense, passing sentence in absentia on the person condemned, complete isolation from bonds with family and friends, hundreds of thousands dying from over-exertion, hunger and ill treatment without anyone knowing about it.

Most of the victims are political opponents — either persons known to be opposed to Communism or merely suspected of being opposed to it. A small minority are criminals. But they are the aristocracy of the camps, doing supervisory service and ill-treating the over-whelming majority of political prisoners.

Slave Laborers Estimated

Estimates—some of them having a very solid basis—range between eight and 14 million forced laborers, working in all parts of the Soviet Union, many of them in the severest cold of the Arctic, living in tents and working in weather down to 60 degrees below zero. One of the men called the result of these conditions, especially of permanent hunger, "de-humanization."

What will happen now that the accused is being aired before the highest international forum?

The response of the representatives of the Soviet Union was everything but encouraging. But it did not come as a surprise. He made it clear that they would in no way permit inspection—a clear admission that there is much they have to hide.

U. S. Presents Motion

The United States, based on the request of the American Federation of Labor, has presented a motion which invites the International Labor office to give further consideration to the problem of forced labor in the light of all possible information, including the memorandum of the AFL.

It also requests the secretary general of the United Nations to assist the ILO in carrying forward its work. The United States resolution also would refer the AFL memorandum to the commission on human rights for consideration at the moment of drafting a covenant on human rights.

In addition to this, Denmark requests that the AFL memorandum also be referred to the social commission for consideration in connection with the problems of the "prevention of crime and treatment of offenders."

Much in the further development will depend on the action which the International Labor organization will take. The AFL through its representative on the governing board of this international organization will pursue the matter further.

No doubt, the Soviet Union and the satellite states will keep the iron curtain tightly closed. However, if the International Labor organization wants to get the truth it can obtain it by sworn testimony—the same way the AFL has carefully obtained reliable proof.

In addition, the Human Rights commission may receive the matter when it will be dealing with a covenant on human rights and its implementation.

The UN will have to prove it means it when it speaks of the protection of the rights of man. The AFL and all free trade unions in the world will watch the further developments with vigilance, and do everything to obtain action.

Veterans Indicted In Sale Of Army Trucks

PHILADELPHIA, March 3 (INS) — Seventy-three men—including 70 ex-servicemen—were indicted by a federal grand jury today on charges of participating in a ring which resold surplus Army trucks at enormous profits.

Federal Judge Guy K. Bard immediately issued bench warrants for the arrest of the defendants, 60 of whom are from Philadelphia. The others are from Camden, N. J., and Oaklyn, N. J.

Assistant U. S. Attorney Leon M. Fox charged that the "kingpin of the racket" was Manuel Steinberg, a Camden used truck dealer.

Fox said the ex-GI's sold "preference" certificates for the purchase of surplus trucks to Steinberg for from $50 to $100 and that the used truck dealer realized an "enormous profit of more than $30,000" from the sale of 94 such vehicles.

Fox also asserted that one of the veterans is a former official of the War Assets administration who allegedly stole blank "priority" certificates and sold them to Steinberg for $40 each.

Tavern Owners Lose Fight To Change School Election Date

ROCKFORD, Ill., March 3 (U.P.)—Winnebago county's superintendent of schools, Paul S. Conklin, rejected a request by the county's tavern owners to change the date of a school district election set for a Saturday.

O. H. Hogan, president of the Winnebago County Tavernkeepers' association, said many of the bars depended on the Saturday trade to make a profit.

Pier 7 At Manila, Longest In Far East, Being Reconstructed

MANILA, March 3 (U.P.) — The longest pier in the Far East, badly damaged in the war, is being reconstructed.

Work has started on rebuilding Manila's Pier 13 as one of the main projects of U. S. Army engineers in the program of rehabilitating Philippines port and harbor facilities.

The pier — formerly known as Pier 7—is 1,400 feet long. Before the war it had one long cargo shed. The reconstructed pier will have four separate cargo sheds for greater efficiency.

Artificially Heated Chicago Pond Becomes Bird Sanctuary

CHICAGO, March 3 (U.P.)—An artificially heated, year-around pool here, an acre in area, may be the biggest bird bath in the world.

It opened in 1932 when Walter E. Olson started pumping heated water into a pond outside his rug plant.

Since then, no matter how hard it blows or snows, the birds have had no weather worries. When the ceiling is low or their wings ice up, they fly in for food, shelter and a warm bath. A particularly weather-beaten and bedraggled bird may receive medical attention from the gardener.

Ducks, geese, swans, turkeys, pheasants and even peacocks are now among the 400 stay-at-homes of the sanctuary but many migrants just drop for bird-service.

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of Liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back.

Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears — how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

Mrs. M. O. Brinton, 900 W. Wildwood, San Antonio, Texas, writes us as follows: "I am a faithful user of Barcentrate. I had dieted for weeks without your product and needed so badly to lose 10 pounds, so I started using Barcentrate and my worry was over for I lost the 10 pounds in 10 days. I now weigh 135 pounds.

Lonely Heart Slayers May Face Death Sentence In New York

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., March 3 (INS)—Two "lonely hearts" killers who promised love for money and paid off with death appeared headed tonight into the shadow of the electric chair in New York state.

Michigan authorities have declined to commit themselves, but the Nassau County, N. Y., district attorney said this afternoon they have agreed to surrender the slayers for trial on a charge of murdering Mrs. Janet Fay of Albany, N. Y., in Nassau county, Long Island.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 3. (INS)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey tonight signed extradition papers for the return to New York of mail-order romeo Raymond Martinez Fernandez and Martha Beck now held for murder in Michigan.

The move was initiated by Nassau county authorities who want the alleged murderers of love-starved women to stand trial in New York which, unlike Michigan, permits the death penalty.

The swarthy, Hawaiian - born Raymond Fernandez and his buxom accomplice, Mrs. Martha Beck, sat in their Grand Rapids jail cells unaware they may leave Michigan which has no death chamber, for New York in a matter of hours.

Charged In New York

The pair is held in Grand Rapids for the slaying of 26-year-old Mrs. Delphene Downing and her 3-year-old daughter, Rainell, whose bodies were retrieved from cement-covered graves in their basement on Tuesday.

Both knew Michigan's most extreme penalty for the crime of murder is life imprisonment while New York's electric chair awaits the convicted slayer.

The threat of a death penalty projected itself into their cells when Judge Albert Moore signed murder warrants in Mineola, N. Y., district court charging them with Mrs. Fay's slaying.

Investigation Unnecessary

District Attorney James N. Gehrig had the warrant rushed to New York's governor Thomas E. Dewey, who agreed to sign extradition papers.

These documents will be flown to Lansing, where Michigan's Governor G. Menne Williams — who assertedly maintains an "open mind" on the matter—will conduct an extradition hearing.

Neither Kent County Prosecutor Roger C. McMahon nor Attorney-General Stephen J. Roth would say definitely they will waive jurisdiction over Fernandez and Mrs. Beck.

But Roth had the pair's arraignment deferred for a week to permit New York authorities to develop an "air tight" case.

The confessed killers have named only the widowed Mrs. Downing, and her daughter and Mrs. Fay, another widow on Fernandez' roster of lonely women with money, as victims.

But Chicago's foremost homicide detective, Thomas Doyle, is in Grand Rapids to quiz Fernandez and Mrs. Beck concerning a series of unsolved Illinois murders.

Mrs. Beck, who startled her hometown of Pensacola, Fla., by revealing herself as a murderess, rather than the "very, very timid" girl her neighbors knew, was expected to tell more of the bizarre story of her love-to-death spree with Fernandez today.

But she was left to her jail-cell seclusion while New York authorities took action to bring her into the shadow of the electric chair with the swarthy Fernandez.

District Attorney Gehrig said that, if extradition proceedings can be accelerated, the pair might be returned to New York as early as tomorrow on the Fay murder warrant.

Prison Bills Okayed

years ago and I'm certainly not afraid to state my stand today," Hanna replied. "I'm not trying to joke this bill out of the legislature."

The big prison money bill by Senator Jimmy Phillips of Angleton was approved without amendments.

Plea Made For Bill

Rep. Bill Tippen of Abilene presented the bill to the House.

He said that "Texans are becoming increasingly aware of a black spot in our state. That black spot is our prison system." He praised the prison board and Ellis, for their work in planning the rehabilitation of the system.

"I'm convinced that every nickel in this bill was figured on actual need," Tippen said. "We should do something about our prison system and we should do it now."

Tippen said the time had come "when we should not have to blushingly refer to our prison system."

Rep. Jimmy Horany of Archer City—the only House member to vote against the bill—offered an amendment to cut $150,000 from the appropriation by taking out a provision for the prison to buy grade cattle for beef and milk production.

Other Action Taken

He contended that the breeding of good livestock by the prison would damage the livestock industry, and compete in the open market with private industry.

Opponents argued that he should present his amendment when the bill providing for the regulation of prison made products and produce comes up for action. It is another of the series of prison reorganization measures. Horany's amendment was tabled by a vote of 110-5.

Other legislative developments:

The Senate passed a House bill which limits the issuance of time warrants by county commissioners in counties of more than 300,000 population. In cases of catastrophies or dire public emergencies commissioners could issue warrants up to $50,000. The bill now goes to the governor.

A bill appropriating $350,000 for contingent expenses of the legislature was passed by the Senate. It was the second legislative expense bill presented this session.

Among new bills introduced in the Senate was one by Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo to permit junior college districts to contract with incorporated cities or towns in the district to assess and collect the college district taxes.

A bill by Warren McDonald of Tyler would detach Gregg county from the 71st judicial district and substitute Upshur county.

The Austrian government has ordered higher wages and some manufacturers say they will be forced out of business unless they get economic assistance.

also given national recognition when Life magazine ran a picture story on his pastorate showing how religion worked in Hollywood.

Quoting Life: "Dr Evans left his post in Pittsburgh eight years ago with doubts as to the wisdom of the move to Hollywood and the piety of the film colony. Now he is thoroughly impressed by the eagerness and seriousness of his congregation."

In the 10 page layout of pictures that Life carried there was also a picture showing a group of movie people who attend his church. Among them were Virginia Mayo, her husband, Michael O'Shea, Porter Hall, Rhonda Fleming, Dennis Morgan and Donald Crisp.

Dr. Evans has always been interested in young people. He always attends the youth functions of his church. While he was in college he was active in athletics and was picked on honor teams for his ability both in football and basketball. Dr. Evans has organized a basketball team from the young men in his congregation and they call themselves the Saints. Before each game the whole team kneels in prayer.

PATRIOTISM DRAWS BLANK

Scribe Condemns Treatment Of Filmland Red Probe Instigators

By BOB CONSIDINE
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, March 3—Late in the 1930's the Communist party of America began to move some of its more talented hands into Hollywood. The organizers found a fertile field of endeavor among some of the tinseled souls who had developed a guilt complex over their earnings or a lust for power growing out of an intellectual contempt for the pioneers who bossed them.

It was a move that should have been expected. Hollywood's products were being witnesses and believed by 75,000,000 Americans each week. Lenin had devoted much thought and some wordage to the need of seizing the medium.

War Brought Profits

The war brought enormous profits to the picture-makers. The Communists in their fold, obeying the then current line, played ball with democracy. When the war was over, they went back to their carefully conceived plans.

One of the men who watched them work with mingled astonishment and anger formed a group with other responsible community members to combat their advances with American thinking. It was that group which was called on for information when the House Un-American Activities committee began its investigation of the Communist infiltration in the film capital.

Information Accurate

The information provided was accurate and faithfully delivered. But the studio owners, the intended beneficiaries of the investigation, were upset by the spectacle of reluctant or truculent committee witnesses—two of whom have been convicted of contempt of Congress.

The Congressional committee, with some help from the F. B. I., found the Communist party cards of 35 prominent Hollywood writers, directors, actors and actresses, and compiled 75 thick dossiers on the "front" activities of other Hollywood figures. There were dismissals and a general re-examination of scripts produced by known subversives.

The industry was saved from a considerable danger. But the men who were courageous enough to bring the question to a head have, by and large, suffered. Two days ago a film company bought up the contract of the man who organized the community group, and pensioned him, though he has years of brilliant, intelligent pitching left in him. The company happens to treat its employees very well financially, and the man in question was no exception. Yet his troubles and those of others began when he attempted and succeeded in warning the industry against a plague which would in time have destroyed it utterly.

The most enterprising young newspaperman I've run across in several new moons is Jack Lotto, who toils in our shoppe.

A couple of years ago Lotto saved the life of a soldier who confessed the slaying of the "Black Dahlia" and who was on his way to a hangman's noose. Hard work, hard digging, and a hide thick enough to ward off the scorn of an Army prosecutor, enabled Jack to discover that the soldier was given to odd delusions—though he had concocted an almost flawless case against himself.

When Dr. Anna Louise Strong recently was bounced out of her beloved Russia, on spying charges, Lotto flew (on 10 minute notice) from La Guardia to the Gander (New Foundland) airport, hopped on Dr. Strong's TWA plane, which was enroute from Paris to New York, and secured a beat under extreme difficulties.

Story Denied

Dr. Strong spoke either grudgingly or not at all. At the New York airport, after Lotto had explained away his lack of a passport, she denied the story he had radioed from the plane, though she had not seen it. Jack produced his notes, read them back to her in front of the other reporters, and she acknowledged that she had said just those things.

Lotto found a new way to break into newspaper work. When all N.Y. papers and news services turned down his applications after he left school, he walked into Ralph Ingersoll's office one day with a bucket, rag and squeege and began to wash the windows. When he had finished he asked Ingersoll what he thought of the job, and when the publisher said it was fine, thanks, Lotto told him he was a reporter in search of work.

P.S.—He got the job.

The greatest man of magic since Houdini, an Indian named Kuda Bux, is loose i nthe land. Prepare for total eclipses, etc. I blindfolded him under many thicknesses of surgical tape and napkins the other night and the fellow rode in the 6-day bike race, on Bob Ripley's first television broadcast.

He can identify colors while blindfolded, drive a car through traffic, walk along building edges and over red hot coals, "die" for a fortnight. I have retained him to help me get a raise, the test supreme.

Texas Solons Approve Increased Confederate Widow's Pension

AUSTIN, March 3 (AP) — Rep. W. R. Chambers of May got more than he asked for in the House State Affairs committee last night.

He offered a bill to raise the pensions of the remaining 700 Confederate widows in Texas who do not live in the Confederate woman's home, from $50 to $75 a month.

"It ought to be more," several members said.

"I move to make it $100," said Rep. Joe W. Gentry of Winnsboro.

"It's unanimous," Chairman Pearace Johnson of Austin announced.

Chambers said that there are only nine Confederate soldiers left in Texas, and fewer than 800 widows, including those cared for by the state in the Confederate woman's home. Those in the home got a $25 monthly pension.

FOR U.S. TOURISTS

Invifation To Texas

THE State Highway Department's report that more than 4,000,000 tourists spent close to $200,000,000 in Texas last year naturally has revived discussion of the proposed creation of a fund to advertise the attractions of our State to the tourists of the nation.

A similar proposal in the 1947 session of the Legislature received scant consideration. It would have allowed people of Texas to vote on a constitutional amendment authorizing expenditures up to $1,000,000 a year for five years to advertise our State.

No one can guess how many visitors failed to visit Texas last year because the attractions of our State were not drawn to their attention. But it wouldn't take many tourists to pay rich dividends on a million-a-year advertising budget. And the prospects are that a good many businesses of numerous kinds could use additional revenues this year.

The competition among states for tourist trade grows keener all the time. Southern California and Florida are two of many examples of the proof that most tourist trade goes to states which seek it most vigorously.

Few tourists will force their business on any State. They will go where they will enjoy themselves most—and a cordial invitation is the first promise of enjoyment. Texas would have little to risk and a great deal to gain from extending invitations and from telling everyone who plans to go traveling this year of the attractions which would make a visit to the Lone Star State very much worth their while.

Air Safety Advancement

TO occupants of a plane running short of fuel in a fog, no message from available airfields is more chilling than "Ceiling zero." It has amounted to sentences of death times almost without number.

But hope is justified that the phrase will, within the next few years, become less an omen of disaster because of the installation of a fog dispersal system at the Los Angeles airport, one of the world's busiest.

Although tested successfully in wartime England and more recently in this country, the system still remains in an experimental stage. But sufficient progress has been made that the Civil Aeronautics administration and Los Angeles spent $842,000 to install it. It involves the use of hundreds of torches strung along the edges of runways which burn crude oil fed at sufficiently high pressure to generate intense heat. The claim has been substantiated by experience that the heat precipitates moisture out of the fog and provides a ceiling up to 400 feet—ample for any landing.

If the installation works as satisfactorily as indicated at Los Angeles, similar systems almost certainly will follow speedily in all sections of the country where fog creates frequent hazards. The expectation is entirely reasonable that the time may be near when the words "Ceiling zero," will be wholly without terror to those aloft.

A Brooklyn court has ruled that a landlord has no right to restrict the number of baths a tenant may take. That's justice coming out in the wash.

For Whom The Bells Toll?

Pop Goes The Queen

By BOB WADE and BILL MILLER
Distributed By NEA Service, Inc.

"WELCOME to Azure sir. And now if you'll please put your John Henry right here . . ." The thin desk man spun the registration card around with undertakers' fingers. Opposite him, he didn't observe that the chin of the stocky young man had eased forward stubbornly as he gripped the pen. The guest wrote, "Mr. and Mrs. John Henry." After a pause for effect, he added "Conover."

"Mr. and Mrs. Conover. San Diego." The desk man did observe this.

"That's right," said John Henry, disappointed. He'd waited years for a setup to his little joke and now it had succeeded like a brick football. "Our reservations were for this noon but we got tied up. I hope it doesn't matter?" His jaw had retreated to its usual conservative position.

Gayner, the assistant manager of the Las Dunas, looked lovingly at the registration card. "Oh, not at all, Mr. Conover. The reservation made by the company was just for Saturday not specific as to time." He nosed through a register on his side of the desk, then noted a number on the card the young man had filled out. "Your bags, Mr Conover?"

"They're in my car. I'll get them."

Gayner wouldn't think of it. Instead, he struck a chime hanging on the stucco wall behind him. A boy in a maroon field marshal uniform emerged from a junior jungle of potted palms.

"Vernon, Mr. Conover's baggage." Gayner flipped him the car keys.

"It's in the first row of your parking lot. '41 Chevy. Green sedan. Tudor," John Henry recounted, pursing the taciturn bellboy toward the great glass doors in the hotel front.

He watched him make it through to the outdoors and then looked around for St. Clair. She was where he had left her, backed against one of the ornate adobe pillars of the main lobby, nodding her burnished red head engrossedly but wearing a fixed smile as she listened to the woman who held her in conversational captivity. His wife flashed him an appealing look, so John Henry sauntered over to the pair.

"DARLING!" St. Clair said in a thank-God-you're-here tone. "I was beginning to wonder if we were in the wrong town. You took so long."

"Sorry, Sin," he said and nodded a smile to the other woman. She was past 30 and imperatively blonde.

"I'd like to present my husband —John Henry," Sin said. "This is Mrs.—oh, yes, Loomis."

"Miss Loomis," the blonde corrected heavily, almost manfully. "Thelma Loomis."

"How do you do, Miss Loomis." "Just investigating your wife, Mr. Conover. I thought I recognized her. I'm with FAN FARE, Campbell Publications." She said it as if that settled that.

Sin explained carefully to John Henry, "That's a movie magazine, darling. Miss Loomis writes for it."

"Well," said Conover, his interest undisturbed.

"Gossip stuff," Thelma Loomis said in a machine-gun voice. "Features on the stars—marriages, divorces, who's chasing who, their views on life, love and the atom bomb." Miss Loomis, it seemed, had made a mistake. "A natural one," she maintained, "considering how attractive your wife—did you call her Sin?—is."

"That's a nickname." Conover abandoned his covert looking for the bellboy and explained for the thousandth time. "Her name is really St. Clair." The British pronunciation made it Sinclair and usage made it Sin. Sin listened proudly, never minding hearing it all over again. The nickname fitted her—even in the simple beige traveling suit mussed by the San Diego-Azure ride.

The thick flow of hair to her shoulders was nearly the color of a cherry coke. The undulating cascade started by her sleek locks didn't stop there; the same curvy theme was reiterated by her slim body right down to her sandaled feet. Sin's face was piquant. Her flesh was a clear and delicate light bronze hue that contrasted disquietingly with slanting green eyes. Her happy mouth kept Sin from being completely sirenish but she still added up to a picture of light-hearted deviltry.

"I HAVE to be on the qui vive for any of the Hollywood clan." Thelma Loomis was saying brassily. The actors and actresses had a habit of slipping away without notifying their Boswells. "So I'm a lobby-haunter."

"You got the wrong people, Miss Loomis. All we did was win a quiz contest."

Miss Loomis looked blank and Sin began telling her all about it. She had been chosen as one of the contestants on the Thursday night Be Bry-Ter Quiz Show in Hollywood. "The jackpot question was to identify a quotation—and I did."

"The darn thing had been building up since Bunker Hill," chuckled John Henry. "So here we are with a free vacation. Rags to riches."

"I can't believe it. I've never heard of anyone winning on the Be Bry-Ter Quiz Show. And I've listened to it for years." She started noting down facts in a little spiral notebook. "Do you use their

THE dry cleaner's boy is coming today," says my wife, "anything of yours to go?"

"Yes, three shirts and a pair of pants."

"Let me have 'em please," she requests, "and please clean out all the stuff in 'em first."

So out come paper clips, toothpicks, a half-empty package of gum drops—and those envelopes and slips on which I make notes for this column.

BRANDEIS

The last time I told you about the dry cleaner's day, I started to philosophize on some of my notes and got so involved with just one of them that I never got any further.

Let us see what is going to happen today.

Here is one "Sophisticated New Yorkers?"

The visit from some Pennsylvania friends brought this about.

We took them to dinner and to a few night clubs.

"How on earth do the New Yorkers stand this pace?" asked one of my guests. "No wonder they are the most sophisticated people on earth!"

I didn't disillusion him right there and then.

If people believe in fairy tales their faith should not be destroyed.

But as far as the New Yorkers' sophistication and their fast pace are concerned—don't make me laugh.

I have lived in and around New York for more than twenty-five years. There are more suckers in New York to the square foot than to any other square foot in the world—you can sell a New Yorker almost anything if you make it gaudy enough, shout loudly enough and make it expensive enough.

The only people I know who are bigger suckers than the New Yorkers themselves are the people who visit New York and immediately dive into what they think is the fast pace all New Yorkers lead.

I am not much on statistics. But it is easy enough to figure out that all of New York's theaters, night clubs, restaurants, and other entertainment spots are not large enough to hold even the tourists that come to New York, let alone the New Yorkers themselves.

The average New Yorker's sophistication consists of crowding into a subway, working all day, with a soda-fountain lunch in between, crowding into the subway again, going home, eating dinner, listening to the radio, letting out a big yawn and going to bed.

I have left out some of the more sophisticated pastimes such as reading the comics in the evening paper, going to a neighborhood movie maybe once a month, and arguing with the wife about the household bills.

Fast pace, yes. Reason, I don't know. Sophistication? Where?

There I go again. Most of the space for my column is used up and only one subject talked about.

And I was all set to talk about a couple of other notes, for instance, "It isn't easy to make popovers pop." "Some people even kick about the condition of the pavement on the road to the poorhouse," and a few others.

Well, perhaps some other time.

SCOTT ON SPOT AGAIN

GOP Feud Continues

By ROGER WARREN
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Another string of fire crackers has been tossed under the chair of Congressman Hugh D. Scott, Jr., of Pennsylvania, chairman of the Republican National Committee.

GOP legislators are miffed because they think Scott has not allocated enough of the party's national war chest for use in the immediate future to re-elect Senators and Representatives. The wrangle over his proposed nationwide policy conference also has broken out again on Capitol Hill and in other parts of the country.

At official banquets the young chairman extols the importance of harmony. The next morning some GOP leader takes a poke at him and Scott punches back. Elder statesmen complain that he talks too much. But since he won at the GOP National Committee meeting in Omaha, they have no way of muzzling him.

PANACEA: He has recently returned to Washington from another swing around the country. He reports that in many of the states, whose committeemen tried to nail his hide to a barn door in Omaha, he found that the rank and file was extremely critical of these leaders.

Scott's favorite panacea for presidential victory in 1952 is a national convention of leaders representing the various elements of the party to be called the latter part of this year. Acting on a vote of the National Committee taken in Nebraska, Scott is to select an advance committee on party program and policy that will arrange the big all-group get-together.

HITCH: But the membership of this steering Committee is causing confusion and criticism. It will be composed of six members of the National Committee, two representatives each from both the Senate and House, two Republican state finance chairmen and two Republican state chairmen.

The hitch is over who is to appoint them. There is no machinery for such a selection. If Scott names the members he will be accused of setting up a rubber stamp outfit. All sorts of jealousies and fears regarding encroachments on legislative authority must be overcome to obtain four men in Congress entirely satisfactory to both the Old Guard and the Young Turks.

Moreover, if the committee plan goes through, it will affect, several members of Congress who have their eyes fixed on the White House. These hopefuls will demand representation to smooth the way in program and policy for their later candidacies.

Each state chairman is a big toad in his own puddle. He will not take kindly to some other state chairman being elevated to a Warwick position.

VIEWS: One powerful faction in the party seeks to squelch the whole idea and leave policy-making to the Congress and local governors. Another bloc wants to gain control of a possibly valuable instrument of power.

Scott, a Congressman himself, agrees that party policy can be given effect only by votes of Republicans in the Senate and House. But he thinks that legislators would be helped by an expression of nationwide party views as developed in the interim convention.

Joe Martin, House leader, has just picked a committee of colleagues to arrange for better publicizing of Republican activities on the Hill. It was rumored that this group would hire Steve Hannagan, the famous public relations man who has done more to glorify beautiful girls than anyone since Flo Ziegfeld.

This report is not true. Or as one of Joe's committee puts it, "We do not intend to hire any cheese cake, high pressure lad. We should have to pay him a fortune."

FUN: The denial will be sad tidings to the publicity staff at the Democratic National Committee headquarters. The scribes there have been having a delightful time planning jibes to be hurled at the Old Guard's bathing-beauty press agent.

They envisaged the fun they could poke if a GOP huckster pen tried to make a glamor boy out of tough-old Congressman John Taber of New York or a camera wizard attempted to cast Senator Taft as television's gift to the human eye.

Scott maintains that the Republicans already have a good guide even before his proposed national convention prepares a more up-to-date chart. This is the 1948 platform adopted at the national convention in Philadelphia. "We can start with that as a basis," he says.

Senator Irving Ives of New York has announced the same idea. He, too, thinks the 1948 platform should be dusted off and used. It was drafted by representatives from all over the country under the direction of liberal Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts and is filled with progressive planks.

Ives believes it can be used effectively as a road map to find lost popular approval. "Only by showing that as Republicans our chief interest is in the welfare of the ordinary man can we win the support of the ordinary man," he declares.

ROWS: Republican chieftains do not seem worried or ashamed of their new venture in airing family squabbles. "No more recriminations," they say for the record. But secretly they sort of like it.

They recall in Raskob's day the Democratic National Committee at its annual meeting had such a row over prohibition that prophets wailed the party was finished. In a few months Franklin Delano Roosevelt swept in on a landslide.

They remember that the early hours of the last Democratic National Convention in Philadelphia were no Valentine Day party. But Truman is back at the White House.

"These family rows are good things," admitted one of the most prominent Republicans in the Senate. "It shows people that we are very much alike."

LETTERS: "What subjects are most presented in mail received by Senators and Congressmen?" asks M.C.L. of Columbus, Ohio.

Answer: No complete poll has been taken lately. But on checking up with a great many legislators, one discovers that people this past week wrote mostly in regard to labor legislation — both sides — Russia and Communism — overwhelming against the Reds — and taxes — mainly against taxes.

This latter gripe may be prompted by the fact that so many were making out income tax returns. In another week the subjects may go up or down on the list. But in season and out the problem created by Stalin is mentioned in letters and telegrams which Congressmen and other Washington officials receive from the country.

Prospective home-builders should not worry about how their houses are going to look says an authority. Yes, there is enough worry in meeting the monthly payments.

The population of the United States is at an all-time high. You've probably noticed it while attending a bargain sale.

The fellow who doesn't go to church because the benches are too hard usually can enjoy a prize fight while occupying any kind of seat.

The baby sitting profession seems to be only in its infancy.

With a nationalized medical service the family physician will also have to study political science.

Reorganization Plan Studied

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Any broad plan for reorganizing the federal government, such as that now being submitted in installments to Congress by the Hoover commission, must be analyzed and judged in detail from the standpoint of the public interest as well as for what it does to promote efficiency and economy.

The public interest at stake is not always apparent to the average citizen, so intricate and ramifying are the operations of government. It is easy, for instance, to overlook those bureaus and agencies created by Congress through the years to protect the consumer. How they may be affected is an important consideration in assessing reorganization plans.

STOKES

Service Was Performed

One such, among many, that has performed notable service on behalf of the consumer is the Food and Drugs administration that grew out of the campaign for pure food and drugs put on by the late Dr. Harvey M. Wiley back in the Theodore Roosevelt administration early in this century. It has been battling against powerful private interests through the years, though the public learns little of this.

Originally this agency was in the Agriculture department. A few years ago it was shifted under one of the reorganization plans of the Franklin D. Roosevelt regime to the Federal Security agency, a move that has proved to be helpful.

Now the Hoover commission is recommending, in its report to Congress on reorganization of the Agriculture department, that its functions relating to food products be transferred back to that department while those relating to drugs and other products be kept in FSA under a reorganized drug bureau to be administered by the public health service.

Transfer of food regulatory functions to the Agriculture department is not only contrary to the best interests of the public, but it would promote neither efficiency nor economy. It would require a duplication of field personnel and laboratory equipment, as was pointed out in a dissent by two Hoover commission members—James K. Pollock and James H Rowe, jr. The Hoover commission's recommendation to Congress was a compromise between the recommendations of its task force on the Agriculture department for transfer of the whole Food and Drug administration back to Agriculture and the Medical services committee's proposal that it be continued as part of a reorganized public health service.

If transferred back to agriculture, food regulation would be under direction of a department which, because it deals entirely with agriculture, is much more susceptible to pressures from agricultural organizations whose interests often conflict with those of the consumer. Such pressures are not similarly persuasive with FSA. The Hoover commission itself clearly stated the difference of objective, saying:

Setup Is Explained

"Voluntary standards for grading fruits, vegetables, and other agricultural products to facilitate trade transactions are extended by the department (agriculture) through educational processes to the consumer, and yet are at variance with standards for foods developed for consumer protection by the Federal Security agency."

In short, the objective in one instance is "to facilitate trade transactions"; in the other, "consumer protection."

The report of the task force on the agriculture department also offers a clue, thus:

"While there are occasional conflicts between consumer and agricultural interests, as in the case of spray tolerance, sucrose - dextrose, and skimmed-milk controversies, and while such controversies achieved substantial political significance, such controversies are, after all, relatively infrequent."

While they may not be very frequent, they are nevertheless very important to the consumer, as experience has demonstrated. The "substantial political significance" proves they are more than trivial.

President Truman will have the final decision on such proposals for transfers of agencies and functions under the wide authority imposed in him by the reorganization bill already passed by the House and pending in the Senate. The consumer's case, in this as in other agencies involved in reorganization plans, is in his hands. The public will do well to keep that in mind.

MARKET TRADING STEADY

NEW YORK, March 3. (AP)—Supply and demand were well matched in a slow-moving stock market today.

Most prices changed only fractionally from the previous close, with final gains and losses in close balance. Many stocks swung back and forth from plus to minus during the day.

Turnover amounted to only 600,000 shares, the second smallest total for the year. This compared with 680,000 yesterday, also an amount of business not calculated to please business-starved brokers.

The news—and, by and large, it was favorable—had little effect on trading strategy. Modification of Regulation W, the measure which gives the federal reserve board certain controls over consumer credit, made a favorable impression and for a short time in the morning automobile and merchandise shares gave a mildly favorable response.

Many brokers claim that the market is maneuvering itself into a position for a sudden thrust up or down—and majority opinion is that it will be up.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks gained .1 of one point at 99.7. The component utilities slipped while industrials and utilities improved. Of the 913 issues which were traded, 317 advanced and 324 declined.

Produce

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, March 3. (AP)—Produce.

Poultry: 18 trucks. Steady. Colored hens 41 cents a pound.

Butter: 442,999 pounds. Steady. 93 score 61¼ cents a pound. 92 score 61¼; 90 score 61, 89 score 60½. Carlots: 90 score 61¼. 89 score 60½.

Eggs (browns and whites mixed) 14,174 cases. Unsettled. Extras 70 to 80 per cent A 41 to 47 cents a dozen, current receipts 41; dirties 39½, checks 38.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, March 3. (AP)—Cotton futures drifted lower following early small gains as scattered liquidation and hedging met only scale down trade support. The slow demand for cotton textiles and easing in prices on some cotton goods influenced part of the selling, with mill covering light. There were 3 March transferable notices issued which indicated some switching from March to later months.

Futures closed 10 cents a bale higher to 10 cents lower than the previous close.

AVERAGE PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, March 3. (AP)—The average price of middling 15/16ths-inch cotton today at 10 designated southern spot markets was 45 cents a bale lower at 32.62 cents a pound; average for the past 30 market days 32.37; middling 15/16ths-inch average 30.85.

Grain

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, March 3. (AP)—A slow drift into lower territory marked dealings in grains on the board of trade today. Corn lost the most territory while new crop wheat deliveries held steady most of the session. Trading was light.

Corn purchases on a to-arrive basis ran above 100,000 bushels, which was fairly large but less than on the two previous days. The Kansas City office of the Commodity Credit corporation was willing to bid a little higher than yesterday for cash wheat for export shipment.

Wheat closed 1 cent lower to ⅝ higher, May 2.17⅛-.17, corn was 1¼ lower to ⅛ higher May $1.31¼-⅜, oats were ⅛-½ lower, May 68⅝-¾, rye was ¾ lower, May $1.30½, soybeans were 1½-¾ lower, March $2.22-2.22¾, and lard was 5 to 12 cents a hundred pounds lower, March $13.05.

tooth paste, Mrs. Conover?"

"For a Bry-Ter Smile?" Sin grinned. "I guess it's only right I use the stuff, smile or no smile."

"What was the quotation, by the way?" Thelma Loomis scribbled some things that looked like pidgin shorthand. Sin looked vacant and knitted her heavy eyebrows together in concentration.

"I can't remember," she said plaintively.

John Henry came to his wife's rescue. "She can't remember now. Honest, Miss Loomis. That's the way Sin's memory works."

Baggage clattered on the red-tiled floor behind them. Vernon panted gloomily, "I'll show you to your cottage now."

Sin was ready but the blonde writer was after her. "What does your husband mean about your memory, Mrs. Conover?"

"Oh, it isn't much." The redhead was getting annoyed by the woman's persistence. "A party trick mostly. I remember nearly everything I read, that's all."

John Henry seized her elbow and started his wife toward the glass doors which opened out of the west side of the shallow lobby. He put an end to the conversation with an over-the-shoulder, "But as soon as she's said it aloud—then she forgets it. Sort of like emptying a vacuum cleaner. Glad to have met you, Miss Loomis."

Miss Loomis let them go.

GAYNER tossed a key attached to a plastic arrowhead across to the diminutive bellboy. "Cottage 15, Vernon," he said in tones as thin as his body. Vernon scowled blackly on general principles and picked up the baggage. The Conovers followed him through the glass doors and down some steps into a grassed and shrubbed sunken patio, crisscrossed with flagstone paths.

Three pairs of eyes watched them depart.

Thelma Loomis closed her little notebook and put it back into the pocket of her yellow linen dress. A quick glance across the lobby and her blue eyes sharpened.

A man in an immaculate white suit was sitting militantly in one of the armchairs. He had been reading a newspaper, but now he watched Sin sway down the steps with interested gray eyes. His hawk face was deeply tanned and in vivid disparity to his silver shock of hair. A white sun helmet perched on the arm of his chair.

And behind his shiny mahogany counter, Gayner gazed after the Conovers until they had wound out of sight along the flagged path that disappeared behind the south wing of the Las Dunas. Only then did he bring his eyes back to his wood and glass cage to stare at the registration card where it lay before him.

Mr. and Mrs. John Henry Conover. San Diego.

He reached out a thin hand and picked up the desk telephone. He spoke politely to the operator, "Give me Mr. Barselou, please."

STATE OF TEXAS
COUNTY OF LUBBOCK
NOTICE OF RE-SALE OF LAND STRUCK OFF TO THE STATE OF TEXAS FOR TAXES

WHEREAS on April 14, 1926, in Cause No. 1502 styled "The State of Texas vs. J. W. Reeves," the District Court for the 72nd Judicial District of Texas rendered judgment against the Defendant for delinquent taxes on the following described property to wit:

Lots Five (5) in Block Seventy-Six (76) of the Original Town of Lubbock, Lubbock County, Texas; and for foreclosure of the State's tax lien against said property; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to an Order of Sale issued out of said Court on June 1, 1926, the Sheriff of Lubbock County did on June 12, 1926, levy on said property and did properly advertise that a sale of said property would be made on July 6, 1926; and

WHEREAS, the sale was held as advertised, and, there being no other bidder, the property was on July 6, 1926, struck off to the State of Texas for the sum of $83.27, being the amount of the judgment, interest and costs in the above mentioned Cause; and

WHEREAS, by deed dated July 6, 1926, duly recorded in the office of the County Clerk of Lubbock County, Texas, on July 28, 1926, at 2:15 p. m. (hearing file number 23861), the Sheriff of Lubbock County did convey to the State of Texas the above described property; and

WHEREAS, the said property was never redeemed in accordance with the laws of Texas within the time provided therefor, and has never been sold by the State in the proper manner as outlined by Article 7328, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, and by the Supreme Court of Texas in the case of Little vs. Dennis, 107 SW 2nd 76;

NOW, THEREFORE, notice is hereby given in accordance with Article 7328, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, and Rule 647, Texas Rules of Civil Procedure, that the above described property will be sold at public outcry to the highest bidder for cash on the fifth day of April, 1949 (the same being the first Tuesday of the month), between the hours of ten o'clock a. m. and four o'clock p. m., at the West Door of the Court House of Lubbock County, Texas, situated in the City of Lubbock.

Dated at Lubbock, Texas, this 19th day of February, 1949.
