WOMEN

The Snyder (Texas) Daily News, Mon., Aug. 14, 1961 3

Deadline Is Drawing Near Gals

Deadline for entering the 1961 Mrs. America competition is August 27, according to Lona Star Gas Company, co-sponsors of the annual event.

Mrs. America, the nation's top homemaker, will be chosen at the contest's National Finals in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., November 27-December 9. Contestants from the 50 states will meet and vie for the coveted title and a galaxy of fabulous prizes.

Mrs. America is judged on cooking and baking, menu planning, table setting, child care, community service, church activities, poise and appearance and personality. The winner of the Mrs. America title will receive, at least $500 in personal appearance fees; an all-expense paid trip throughout the country; a free airplane trip for herself and her husband to Bermuda, Lisbon, Madrid and Rome; and $500 in cash.

She will also win a two-week Florida vacation at Ft. Lauderdale for her entire family; a complete wardrobe of Mrs. America fashions; a complete set of Tupperware plastic food storage and serving; a U. S. Savings Bond; an assortment of home beauty products from the Toni Company; Johns-Manville home building supplies valued at $1000 and a Magic Chef gas range.

Lona Star Gas Company is conducting the search for Mrs. Texas, the state's representative to the National Finals. Regional winners will be chosen in Fort Worth, Dallas, Greenville, Abilene, and Waco during the week of September 18. The five regional winners will then meet in Dallas November 2-3 to determine who is crowned Mrs. Texas.

Mrs. Texas will be awarded a major gas appliance; a wardrobe from the Puritan Dress Company; $200 in cash; an expense paid trip for herself and her husband to the National Finals; and other prizes to be announced.

Organizations successfully sponsoring a Mrs. Texas contestant will receive cash bonuses for their participation. A club sponsored entrant selected for the regional contest will win $25 for the organization. If the entrant is selected as a regional winner, the club receives an additional $75. The group sponsoring Mrs. Texas will receive a $100 bonus. However, Lona Star said, club sponsorship is not a requirement for entrance into the contest.

Official entry forms for the 27th annual Mrs. America competition may be obtained from Lona Star Gas Company. Completed forms must be returned to the company on or before August 27.

Teachers Return From Meet

Mrs. Carl Kunkel and Mrs. Forest Beavers received certificates of attendance at the three-day, ninth annual Reading Conference sponsored by West Texas State College, Canyon, Aug. 8-10.

Techniques and suggestions for the improvement of reading programs for all levels of instruction in public schools were presented to approximately 500 teachers. Dr. Mary C. Foster, lecturer on education, graduate school of education, Harvard University, spoke Tuesday and Wednesday on "Developing Critical Readers" and "Improving Reading Tastes and Interests".

Dr. Harold D. Drummond, chairman of the department of elementary education, University of New Mexico, spoke (entertainingly, humorously, forcefully, straight-forwardly, and effectively) on characteristics of a good reading program, and "The Administrator and the Reading Program".

Miss Gertrude Goliaday, English professor at Arlington State College, was exceptionally inspirational, lecturing on "Teaching Reading in Junior and Senior High School" and "Guiding Sensitivity toward Beauty Through Reading", according to those who attended.

Mrs. Kunkel and Mrs. Beavers spent one afternoon in the college library examining the special exhibits for the conference, another afternoon viewing arithmetic films, and the coronet films on reading improvement.

The Texas Association for the Improvement of Reading conducts seven conferences annually, with the next one scheduled for Nov. 3-4 in Edinburg. The ladies attended the scheduled watermelon party on the campus and enjoyed the scenic drive through Palo Duro Canyon State Park. Mrs. Beavers also visited relatives in Amarillo. They reported visiting with Mrs. Hodges, a former teacher here, now at Hereford. They picked Georgene Gallagher's sister from Happy, out of a crowd of 100 in their section, and enjoyed talking to college classmates that they hadn't seen in some 20 years.

Modern Susies In Bermuda's Wear More Make-Up Today

NEW YORK — Do today's teenage girls wear more make-up than their baby-boom counterparts of the late '40's?

Today 7 out of 10 girls wear mascara, compared to 2 out of 10 in 1948. 6 out of 10 space-age teens wear liquid foundation; in 1948, 6 out of 100 did. Nail polish is the finishing touch for 9 out of 10 girls now, while half that number used it in the '40's. Lipstick, an essential for 9 out of 10 girls in '48, has become a unanimous necessity today, used by 98 per cent of the nation's 10,250,000 young women under twenty.

These differences in make-up mores are reported by Seventeen Magazine, observing its seventeenth birthday this September. The contrasts are based on a current survey on beauty products and cosmetics and a 1948 study, one of the first ever conducted on the teen-age girl's cosmetics habits.

Here are some other cosmetic comparisons between our modern Susies in Bermuda shorts and the post-war Janes in blue jeans:

The "eyes" have it: 8 out of 10 girls today wear eyebrow pencil, 6 times as many as in 1948. In addition, to complete a big-eyed look, 48.6 per cent use eyelash curlers and 53.6 per cent wear eye shadow.

Blemishes banished: Gone are the days when a teen put up with "adolescent eruptions." More than half of today's teens wage war to remove, treat, or disguise blemishes with medicated soap, makeup, lotions; 1 out of 4 girls own complete beauty kits for coping with problem skins. In 1948, only 11.4 per cent used medicated cream, lotion or ointment.

Heyday for Hair Care: Hair styles have changed, and so have products; today's teens choose from many more "professional" items. While few (8.9 per cent) bobbers in 1948 used hair conditioner, today 45.1 per cent use a conditioning cream, rinse. 8.3 per cent use a tonic or medicated product, compared to 2.4 per cent in '48; 24.3 per cent use a hair dressing, three times more than the 8.6 per cent in '48. Today 9.1 per cent use a temporary color rinse, while 24.6 per cent lighten, brighten or darken their hair with a coloring product (other than a spray); 68.3 per cent use hair spray, and 37.0 per cent personally own their own hair dryer.

Finesse with finishing touches: Today's teens out-do their sisters of 12 years ago in the use of perfume and nail enamel as finishing touches. 32.6 per cent use perfume five days a week or more, while in '48, only 10.9 per cent used it regularly. 92.6 per cent use colorless, tinted or pearly opalescent enamel, compared to 29.7 per cent who chose from light, dark or medium polish in '48.

Systems for Sunning: 78.4 per cent of today's teens keep summer beauty problems in hand by using cream lotions, clear lotions, oils and sprays to aid a sun tan and avoid peeling and burning. In 1948, 43.1 per cent used such products.

HOW REDS STAY IN THE BLACK

Stock Market May Fulfill Its Promise

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — All the goodies that the stock market has been forecasting may yet be grasped. With the third quarter at the half-way point businessmen are taking heart from increasing signs that this fall is going to be a really good one—maybe as good as the stock market seems to think.

The economy isn't jumping. But it is a bit livelier than a few weeks back. The summer lull was just that—a time of taking it easy but not a setback.

The first signs of a fresh upturn include:

Slightly fatter steel orders and production and good prospects of still better work to come, an upturn in installment buying, that barometer of consumer confidence; firming prices in some goods, such as textiles; better sales of a major production designer; paperboard, increased machine tool orders, a measure of business thinking; expansion of regular wage and salary payrolls; and higher personal income totals.

Yet to be felt, except in the stock market, is the impact of increased government orders. These are assured by the passage of a magnified defense bill, direct result of Soviet Premier Khrushchev's threats about Berlin. Businessmen expect the new government spending to start in time to help industrial output late this year and to beef up production in the first half of 1962.

The administration is assuring business this increased deficit spending by the Treasury can be swung without either further inflation or higher taxes. The stock market has bet that either way—business pepped up enough to cancel the deficit through increased tax revenues, or inflation—will mean higher dollar earnings and therefore higher stock prices.

This doesn't mean that the late summer days aren't without their quota of problems. The auto industry offers two questions: Will wage negotiations now entering the down-to-cases phase trip up and end in a strike? If auto production gets going at a good clip this fall as expected, will consumers cooperate by taking a shine to the new models?

Unemployment—especially among the unskilled and young entrants into the ever-expanding labor force—still resists most attempts to ease it.

Retail trade has been just so-so. It's about as good as last year, but not as large as the increase in personal incomes should have sparked.

But the recent rise in the total of installment debts leads retailers to hope that a real boom in on-the-cuff buying, such as has tagged along after every business recovery, is all set again.

Business spending for inventories has started to rise moderately. This, too, could spur quickly if the present signs of a more rapid business recovery grow brighter.

Businessmen tend to change inventory policies fast.

Business plans for more capital spending could revive as production grows. Expansion has been held back by excess capacity in many industries. Some observers argue that this was given too much weight during the recession. The more cautious tending to treat over-capacity as a long-term nature rather than a temporary one peculiar to the business cycle.

If Not One Thing Or Another, It's Krush

BY INEZ ROBB
On the domestic market optimism is in short supply this summer, what with one thing and another and Khrushchev.

But I believe I have detected a ray of sunshine in the back yard. In the countryside the livin' is easier in this particular summer. There is a perceptible movement away from the outdoor grill—sometimes known as Daddy's Incinerator—to the kitchen, with the cooking left where it belongs. In the hands of the womenfolk.

Only two more calendar weeks remain 'twixt us and autumn. And whether the summer has fled, depends knoweth not. But what she does know for sure and certain is that not once this summer has she been charred beyond recognition by Daddy and his incinerator.

By this time a year ago my teeth were honed to a razor's edge on blackened sirloins, their tender, juicy goodness forever locked in by a congealed, cement-hard layer of cinders and lava ash. I had et a lifetime supply of charcoal trying with the sullen obstinacy of a poor loser—or a hungry man—to get at the heart of a backyard broiled lamb chop.

Maybe I'm just lucky. There still may be men who haven't hung up their Christmas gift chef's cap and asbestos gloves. But as I have visited around New Jersey, Westchester and Connecticut this summer, the fires have definitely been banked in the outdoor barbecue pits.

I have suffered no third-degree burns having at potatoes baked in the coals. Or suffered smoke poisoning from roasting ears, beautiful, wonderful, lovely roasting ears sacrilegiously broiled in their husks.

Nor have I had to sit on a backless bench at an outdoor dining table while mine guests impartially sprayed an insecticide to discourage chiggers, mosquitoes and flies. (Never mind how discouraging it is to the guests!)

This is the year that has seen a return to normalcy, at least in my mind. The cook has been in the kitchen, tending to her specialities, and Big Daddy has been in the bar, attending to his. This is the right and proper division of labor between the sexes or between man

Eccentric Hearing Set

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP) — Preliminary hearing for religious eccentric John R. Harrell of Louisville, Ill., originally scheduled for today, has been continued for a week.

Harrell and 15 of his followers are accused of harboring a Marine deserter, Pvt. Dion Davis, 18.

Harrell, his followers and Davis were arrested Aug. 4 when 100 police and FBI agents raided his estate.

Harrell, who says he receives direct orders from God, is the founder of the Christian Conservative Church.

He maintains a colony on the estate. Davis took sanctuary there after deserting from Camp Lejeune, N.C. He said he had left the corps to escape atheists, debauchery and immorality. He is in Marine custody.

and wife in the interests of hospitality.

Only a year ago, the Head of Clan Robb shuddered to see members of his sex, making monkey of themselves in chef's caps. But he quailed at the prospect of his Martini mixed by Mama—for what else did the poor woman have to do except apply ointment when the fire went out of control?

Now we set out confidently from our apartment to fight the week-end traffic, secure in the knowledge that our host will be manning the bar and our hostess one more in command of the kitchen. One of the happiest signs we have seen this summer, an augury of a better future for America, was an outdoor barbecue pit and grill completely overgrown with weeds and wild morning glories.

And to think that only 12 months ago I lost a decision, after a tough, 10-round fight, to a chicken immaculated on that grill!

The dining room is once more in good odor. Only last week at the country home of friends my sharp eyes detected, beneath its camouflage as a payphone, a neighborhood club for the kids, the outlines of the redwood table under the trees at which last year I alternately attacked the steak and kamikaze insects.

The great indoors is once more coming into its own. Siberian fire—once a beginning to draw an easy breath. And the lot of us—guests is no longer burnt offerings. Hallelujah!

Bengals Hit Field In Pads

Snyder's Tigers hustled through their first grid drill of the year this morning on the high school practice field, the workout being held in "full dress" regalia, complete with pads.

Another workout is slated for this afternoon, with the two-a-days sessions expected to last until the beginning of school. The coaching staff, losing no time in getting their charges toughened up to the task at hand, the coaches dug in and "bitting" during the morning workout, while the backfield men were concerned primarily with play runs - through and dummy formations.

Overseeing the early operation were head coach Horace Bostick, backfield Dutch Stehley, line mentor V. V. Shearburn, and "B" team coaches Jim Gafford and Bill Hartfield.

A total of 45 players composing both the varsity and "B" teams were given physicals Saturday in anticipation of the beginning of workouts today.

Billy Maxwell Tops Kroll In Sudden-Death

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—Billy Maxwell, who had to stand aside and watch the money winners go by last year, has taken another long stride back into professional golf's golden circle.

The 32-year-old pro from Dallas picked up $4,300 in first place money at the Insurance City Golf Tournament Sunday with a birdie on the seventh hole of a tense, sudden-death playoff with Ted Kroll of Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

The win makes Maxwell's earnings for the season $26,658. His earlier triumphs include the Palm Springs and Puerto Rico tournaments.

He turned the trick with a slick 66 around the par-7 Wetherfield Country Club course on a cool, gusty day which rocked most of the other pros of their game and sent scores soaring.

Kroll, who carded a 72, and Maxwell wound up the 72 holes of regular play with 276. Young Joe Campbell of Chattanooga, Tenn., who shared the three-quarters lead with Kroll, had trap trouble and wound up in third place, good for $2,000.

The top 10 finishers: Billy Maxwell, $4,300 69-69-68-66-271; Ted Kroll, $3,000 67-62-70-72-271; Joe Campbell, $2,000 66-67-66-73-272; Frank Boynton, $1,533 66-67-71-70-274; Doug Sanders, $1,533 67-69-70-68-274; Phil Rodgers, $1,533 67-66-68-73-274; Gene Littler, $1,250 70-68-67-70-275; John Fritzman, $1,250 66-71-66-70-275; Jim Ferree, $1,016 66-66-71-70-276; Ken Venturi, $1,016 66-66-68-71-276; Julius Boros, $1,016 67-66-68-73-276.

It's Lillard Vs. Tatum, Orms, Reed At Tiger Bowl

Bill Lillard, Brunswick Advisory Star, will make a personal appearance today at Tiger Bowl here as part of an exhibition swing.

Following completion of tournament play, which was reeled off exclusively for the right to bowl both with and against the star kiegler in the exhibition, Jim Tatum remained on top in scratch singles with his four - line total of 838, which comes out to a healthy 209-plus average for the four lines rolled.

That earned him the right to bowl against Lillard in the scratch singles exhibition which is to start at approximately 4:30 this afternoon. Confirmation as to the exact time was not available this morning.

Tatum will team up with Lillard in doubles play against John T. Orms and W. F. Reed, whose 1753 handicap total earned them the right to enter the charmed circle of competition, which will begin at approximately 7 p.m. The team of Lillard - Tatum will roll scratch in the doubles play, while Orms and Reed, who are Service Oil Company employees here, will roll handicap.

The public is invited to view the exhibitions. In addition to the competitive play, Lillard will also custom - fit balls to those desiring such a service and also will give bowling instructions.

Beau Prince In Determined Bid

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Carry Back better hurry back to the races, or he's liable to lose his dwindling hold on the 3-year-old title.

While Katherine Price's stretch running ace, winner of the Flamingo, Florida Derby, Kentucky Derby and Preakness, has been recovering from injuries suffered in last June's Belmont Stakes, a real threat for the crown has arisen. He is Calumet Farm's Beau Prince, a son of Bull Lea.

Beau Prince, highly regarded by trainer Jimmy Jones during the winter and then kept out of the rich spring stakes by illness, started his belated bid for the title with an easy victory in the American Derby at Arlington Park Aug. 5.

He proved the American Derby come-from-behind triumph was no fluke when he romped away with the $83,400 Travers at Saratoga last Saturday. Taking advantage of the slow early pace, the Calumet colt took command under Steve Brooks after three-eighths of a mile and remained on the front end for a 5 1/2 length decision over Mrs. Robert Dotter's Guadalupe.

Robert Lehman's Ambrosio was another length back in third place. Beau Prince ran the 1 1/4 miles under 126 pounds in the good time of 2:03 and earned $54,210 by his 1961 bank roll to $188,347. He paid $10.20. For Brooks, it was a very nice 40th birthday present.

The veteran jockey received 10 per cent of the winner's purse. Meantime, Carry Back is at Arlington City preparing for the United Nations Handicap on the grass Sept. 16. Trainer Jack Price originally had planned to make the Travers the come-back race for Carry Back. But then he decided to give the son of Saggy a little more time to recuperate.

"He has a long rest coming," said Price.

Riots Break Out In African Center
NAIROBI, Kenya (AP)—Police riot squads used tear gas twice in Nairobi's African centers Sunday to break up exuberant crowds celebrating the expected release of Jomo Kenyatta, convicted leader of the Mau Mau terrorist conspiracy in Kenya.

Crowds marching 10 abreast blocked streets as they paraded and sang freedom songs. Thousands of other Africans staged a Kenyatta rally near here.

Informed sources said Kenyatta probably would be released from his restricted quarters at Maralal within the next two days and taken to Gatundu, where the government has rebuilt his house and two shiny new cars await him. The cars are gifts from African supporters.

Yanks Split As Maris, Mantle Collect Homers

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
Roger Maris and Mickey Mantle already are chipping away at Babe Ruth's wild September surge of 1927. The New York Yankees' D-D boys have 48 home runs with 15 to go to tie the record.

The Babe didn't hit No. 45 until Sept. 6, the year he set the all-time mark with 60 homers. It was his second of 17 in that famous September stretch drive that always has frustrated the most determined challengers.

Maris and Mantle now are 15 games ahead of Ruth's pace. He hit his 43th in game No. 132—in cluding one tie—and they have 45 in 117 games (also including one tie).

Each homered in the first game at Washington Sunday, it didn't mean a thing. The Senators handed the Yanks a 12-2 beating on Benny Daniels' five-hitter, Maris came through again in the second game, won by the Yanks' Jim Coates 9-4.

Despite the split, New York stretched its American League lead to 3 1/2 games over the Detroit Tigers, who absorbed a 13-battering at the hands of the Minnesota Twins. Bill Tuttle hit a grand slam homer and drove in six runs for the Twins.

Baltimore, 11 games back, edged Boston 6-5 in 11 innings when relief pitcher Arnold Early threw away a sacrifice bunt for a two-run error. Steve Barber struck out 11 but walked 11 in a route-going effort.

Little Luis Aparicio had a big day for the Chicago White Sox with three hits, four runs and two stolen bases in a 9-3 victory over the Kansas City A's.

Joe Koppe's first major league grand slam homer, and bonus rookie Tom Satriano's steal of home enabled the Los Angeles Angels to post an 8-7 come-from-behind decision over Cleveland.

In the National League, Los Angeles maintained its 2 1/2-game lead over Cincinnati by blanking St. Louis 8-0, while second-place Cincinnati thumped San Francisco 8-1. Milwaukee handed Philadelphia its 18th straight defeat 11-0.

Washington sent 11 men to the plate and scored six runs in the sixth inning of the opener to break open a 1-1 tie Chuck Hinton and Jim King hit homers for the Senators, and Bob Johnson had two doubles before 27,398, largest Washington crowd of the year.

Boston and Baltimore were tied 3-3 after nine and each scored once in the 10th. The Red Sox got another in the 11th but lost when Zarek fielded Russ Snyder's sacrifice bunt and threw the ball over the head of third baseman Frank Malone, permitting two runs to score. Mike Fournieles, who put the two runners on base on singles, was the loser.

Martin Edges January In Texas PGA

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP)—Defending champion Irvon Martin of El Paso fired a 7-under-par 63 Sunday to defeat Don January of Dallas by a stroke for the Texas PGA Championship. The El Pasoan had 268 for 72 holes and won $1,000.

In the final round Martin birdied the first hole to pull even with the third round leaders, January and Gene Shields of Corpus Christi.

January birdied the last four holes for a final round of 65 and had 269 for 72 holes and earned second money of $600.

Earl Stewart of Dallas had a final round of 67 for a 72-hole total of 272 and third money of $300.

Byron Nelson of Roanoke shot his third straight 69 for a total of 274 and fourth money of $400. Jim Burke of Houston, tournament medalist and leader through the first two rounds, tied Dick Turner of San Angelo and Shields for fifth place.

BEHIND THE SCENES OF YOUR TELEPHONE SERVICE

An interview with Richard A. Goodson, Southwestern Bell Vice President and General Manager for Texas. BY DON DAVIS, TELEPHONE NEWS WRITER

Southwestern Bell expands its services to offer you full line of communications

Telephone engineers can provide communications ranging from nationwide voice-and-data systems to extension phones

It's a real eye-opening experience to hear Richard A. Goodson, Southwestern Bell vice president and general manager for Texas, tell about all the varied communications services his company offers.

Some of these services are so complex that you almost need to be an engineer to fully understand them. Others are fairly simple, such as extension telephones. There is, in other words, a Southwestern Bell service to meet a wide range of communications requirements of business and residential telephone users.

OUR BUSINESS IS MORE THAN TELEPHONES

"It's a strange thing," Mr. Goodson said during an interview, "but a number of people think of us as being only in the telephone business. Well, that's not true. We're in the communications business, which includes many different services."

Mr. Goodson then gave many examples of services. Here are just a few high lights:

- CALL DIRECTOR BUSINESS TELEPHONE... for fast, easy handling of outside and interoffice calls.
- FARM INTERPHONE... for calling from the barn or other outside buildings to the house, talking from room to room in the house, checking on farm activity at various locations through a 24-hour-a-day monitoring service.
- PRINCESS PHONE... for space-saving convenience, smart styling, with the dial that lights up.
- DATA-PHONE... for rapid transmission of information between computers and office machines in scattered locations.

Mr. Goodson points out that the telephone company has a continuing program

Junior Editors Quiz on INSECTS

QUESTION: How do bees make honey?

ANSWER: Honey is not the only thing made by the busy bees. They scrape flower pollen into tiny baskets carried on their hind legs and take this back to be used as food for baby bees. They also make the wax which is used for building honeycombs. However, the manufacture of honey is the most important job of the worker bee. For honey is the main food of the bee colony. Our picture shows four steps in honey making. In (A) a worker bee is about to plunge into a flower to obtain nectar. In (B) the worker is flying away. She has mixed the nectar with her saliva and is carrying it in her honey tank which you can see in our cross section. In (C) she is approaching the home hive. Chemicals in her honey stomach have started to change the nectar and saliva into actual honey. In (D) she has entered the hive and, putting her head deep down into one of the cells of the honey comb, she is unloading the nectar into a cell.

FOR YOU TO DO: The story of the honey bee is one of the most wonderful and inspiring in nature. Be sure to read some article on bees that will tell you more about how they run their honey business.

(Marion Brown of Opelika, Ala. wins $10 for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper. In case of duplicates we will have to pick the winner.)

Red Tape Slashed On Plane Return

By BARRY SCHWEID WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is slashing through the red tape that binds-dealing with Cuba in preparation for the return of a hijacked Eastern Airlines plane.

In an agreement between the two countries, the United States will release a Cuban patrol boat to Cuba while Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro lets an American crew fly the plane to the United States.

Although the agreement was announced only Saturday, the airliner and the patrol boat are expected to head for their homes Tuesday. This means a speed-up in clearing an Eastern Airlines crew for travel to Havana. Normally, an American has to follow an involved procedure in getting to Cuba.

The two countries no longer have diplomatic relations, and travel to Cuba for Americans generally is barred. On special occasions, the U.S. government permits such travel, but a visa has to be obtained from Cuba, and this is done through a third country which has dealings with the United States and the Castro government.

The U.S. government also is preparing to ask the Florida courts to give the patrol boat immunity. Charles B. Ashmann, an attorney for Harris & Co., a Florida advertising agency, has said this company obtained a Circuit Court order tying up the 40-foot, $50,000 craft last week. He said Sunday night the boat "isn't going to be released Tuesday," without a State Department request for its release.

Harris has been seizing Cuban property wherever he found it in Florida to satisfy a $429,000 judgment he won in prosecution of a claim against Cuba. The claim was based on an advertising bill incurred by the Cuban Tourist Commission.

In the U.S. note to Cuba, released last Saturday, the United States said its policy is "where property of a foreign government has been made subject to court process in the United States... to indicate to the court that recognizes that such property is immune from execution to satisfy a judgment against the foreign government."

Joseph W. Reap, a State Department press officer, said Sunday night he knew of no change in the arrangement to turn the vessel over to Cuban technicians and seamen at Key West Tuesday.

Three Cuban refugees seized the patrol boat SV8 into Key West July 26. The $2.2-million, four-engine Electra was on a Miami-to-Tampa, Fla., run July 24 when a gun-toting passenger forced the pilot to fly it to Havana. The Cuban government was not directly involved. Castro released the 32 passengers and 5 crewmen but kept the plane and the hijacker, a naturalized American of Cuban birth.

Agreement to return the plane and patrol boat was worked out in a series of notes through Swiss channels. A Cuban Foreign Ministry communique called Sunday for the two countries to coordinate efforts to combat future acts of air or sea piracy.

In announcing the agreement, the State Department brushed aside the Cuban proposals for common anti-hijacking measures and said the agreement is "definitely not a swap." The official U.S. position is that the SV8 is being returned through U.S. due legal process, which is only coincidental with the release of the airliner.

U.S. sources guessed Castro was returning the airliner because it has brought him little more than propaganda headaches. Its general flouting of international procedures, even though no evidence is available here that he engineered the hijacking.

Besides, the Electra appears to be of little use to him. He does not have the facilities to start the turbo-prop plane, and it is liable to seizure if flown outside Cuba.

Texas Woman Killed In Mississippi Wreck JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—A Denton woman was killed and her husband seriously injured in a traffic accident near here Sunday. Killed was Mrs. Lucretia Pulliam, 47. Her husband, Corbush Pulliam, 51, suffered severe cuts and bruises.
