MISTRIAL ORDER HALTS TEAPOT CONSPIRACY CASE

MISCONDUCT IN JURY BOX HELD SINCLAIR AID

JURORS WILL APPEAR BEFORE GRAND JURY FOR BIG PROBE

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—District Attorney Peyton Gordon said this afternoon that the defense counsel would agree to the District of Columbia supreme court would be asked tomorrow at noon to set a new date for the Fall-Sinclair trial.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—The long, winding trail of the Teapot Dome investigation took another awkward turn today when the attempt to convict former Secretary Albert B. Fall and Harry F. Sinclair of criminal conspiracy ended for the time being in a mistrial.

Charges of jury tampering, including allegations that detectives employed by Sinclair had sought to make improper contacts with jurors, led the court, the prosecution and the defense to agree that it was useless to proceed further with the original jury in the box.

New Trial Conference.
Court will confer soon on arrangements for another trial with the government favoring a date in January.

Meantime a grand jury is inquiring into the government's charges that the jury was improperly shadowed by private detectives and that one of the jurors, Edward Kidwell, a 31-year-old leather worker, had talked indiscreetly about the case and "a car as long as a block," which he hoped soon to possess.

Every member of the jury, including Kidwell, who today described the charges against him as "lies" will be asked to go before the grand jury. Justice Siddons, in closing the trial, notified Kidwell in open court of the allegations involving him, but took no further action against him for the time being.

Regrets Are Tendered.
As tension of the court room let down after court was dismissed, one of the jurors, Charles J. Herzog, tendered to Owen J. Roberts government counsel the regret of the ten men and two women on the jury that things had turned out as they did. Herzog also declared that so far as he was concerned, he had not been approached by anyone, but Roberts told him that as a matter of fact he had been shadowed day and night.

The government has not spent a plugged nickel on tactics such as these, said Roberts.

Roberts later assured a group of jurors that they should not consider the situation a reflection on their integrity.

More than a score of witnesses have been summoned for the grand jury, including A. Mason Day, vice president of the Sinclair Exploration company and Donald Woodward, wealthy Washington merchant at whose home Day is alleged to have received reports on the activities of the Burns detectives figuring in the case.

Kidwell remained around the court room with one or two other jurors. He was not placed under arrest.

Kidwell Expects Trial.
Later as Kidwell left the court, he said he expected to go to trial on some charge, but that he would deny every allegation made against him in the affidavits submitted by the government.

These affidavits were made by Donald T. King, a newspaper reporter, and J. Ray Akers, a street car conductor. They declared Kidwell had praised Sinclair in their presence and had said that he would be disappointed if he did not soon have "a car as long as a block."

"I remember talking with King, but I said none of the things which he put in the affidavits, and believe them all to be sure lies," he said. "At no time since I have been on this jury have I talked the ease over and at no time have any offers been made to me to hang the jury."

HOME RULE CHARTER IS RULED OUT IN PART BY SUPREME COURT

(By Associated Press)
AUSTIN, Nov. 2.—A section of Waco's home rule charter was held unconstitutional and the validity of its successful election ordering a $1,500,000 bond issue for a city water supply dam on the Bosque river was upheld in a supreme court decision Wednesday.

Answering certified questions from the Waco court of civil appeals, the supreme court held invalid that part of the city charter seeking to bar voters whose names had not appeared on the preceding tax roll.

W. W. Cameron and other appellants, in a suit against Mayor H. P. Connally and others attempted to knock out the bond election on the ground that many voters were unqualified under the charter provision. The election had been upheld in district court. It carried by 178 votes.

WIERD BELIEFS OF ORDER ARE BASIS OF ROW

MEDIAEVAL CREED SEEN IN GOVERNOR'S WORK CRITICS CLAIM

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 2.—"Strange Gods are now causing the latest political rumpus out in the great open spaces of Oklahoma. The red cross of Rosicrucianism has supplanted as a political issue the fiery cross which the kluxers once burned on every knoll of the state.

For, among many other charges which the enemies of Governor Henry S. Johnson of Oklahoma hurl in his teeth as just and true cause why he should be ousted is the charge that he is a Rosicrucianist, a follower of the rosy cross which had its disciples, pagan and Christian, over all the world long years ago; the cross which has witchcraft, magic and sorcery as its creed.

To be sure, even enemies know that no man in this country may be condemned with or without a trial for religious convictions or his philosophies.

The Private Secretary.
Therefore, they skirt about Mohin Hood's barn to get the desired result. Members of the legislature who are opposed to Governor Johnson charge that he is under the undue influence of his confidential secretary, Mrs. O. O. Hammond, the "Colonel House" of the administration, and as one form of proof of her "lawful influence" they point to her philosophy of religion of Rosicrucianism.

Governor Johnson denies that he is a real Rosicrucianist in the sense that he pays dues to the Rosicrucian Fellowship with headquarters at Occandine, Calif., the American center of the cult; and no record of his membership is found in the Occandine roster.

But he adds that he believes the Rosicrucianism fellowship to be a powerful and persuasive presentation. In proof thereof the governor is a complete vegetarian, which is one of the insistencies of the modern Rosicrucian creed. A plate of apples.

ONE HELD FOR JEWEL THEFTS

LOCATION OF RINGS ON COURT LAWN IS TOLD BY HIM

The court house lawn yielded $1800 worth of diamond rings. Albert Gallimore is in the county jail, charged with theft, and Mrs. L. L. Merrill, 1411 13th street, is a happy woman as the result of a series of investigations carried on by members of the sheriff's department since the reported loss of the rings. Monday of this week. The rings were returned to Mrs. Merrill this morning.

According to officers, Mrs. Merrill had ordered a stove from a local furniture company and missed the two rings soon after the men who delivered the stove had left her house. The loss was reported to the sheriff's department and investigations followed.

Confesses Today.
Gallimore was arrested later but no trace of the rings could be found. Querying by the officers resulted in a confession this morning from Gallimore of how he threw the rings on the court house lawn just before he was taken into custody. They lay there near the southwest corner of the square for two days.

Gallimore was one of the men arrested several months ago in connection with the discovery of three bullet shells of watches, rings and jewelry in a vacant house here. He was out on bond, in connection with the case, when arrested here, officers said.

SPECIAL MEET OF TAX BOARD HELD ILLEGAL

GOVERNOR WOULD CALL SESSION TO LOWER AD VALOREM RATE

AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 2.—Attorney General Claude Pollard ruled Wednesday that the state automatic tax board cannot hold a special session proposed by Governor Dan Moody to reduce the state ad valorem tax rate from the present 25 cents to around 20 cents. A formal opinion was to be delivered later in the day to the governor, who sought the opinion, claiming that improved financial conditions in the state not foreseen at the July meeting of the tax board justified a decrease.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 (AP)—With views of the administration the United States chamber of commerce and a group of national business organizations already placed in its record on the subject of tax reduction in general, the house ways and means committee today sought specific recommendations regarding prospective downward revision of the corporation levy.

Pardon Revocation Upheld On Appeal

AUSTIN, Nov. 2 (AP)—Governor Moody's revocation of conditional pardon granted by former Governor Miriam A. Ferguson to Gratton Davenport, convicted of murder and sentenced to 99 years in Tom Green county, was upheld today by the court of criminal appeals.

Moody revoked the pardon because, it originally was issued on the condition that Davenport be remanded to an insane asylum and he allegedly did not go.

The court today denied Davenport habeas corpus release.

Davenport's attorneys attacked Moody's action on the ground that Davenport having been pronounced insane by Mrs. Ferguson, was incapable of violating provisions of any sort of clemency.

French, Acquitted On Treason Count Is Dead In Paris

(By Associated Press)
PARIS, Nov. 2.—Charles Humbert, former French senator, tried and acquitted in connection with the Bolo Pasha treason case during the world war and exonerated of fraud in American war contracts in 1919, died here today.

Humbert was one of the most prominent figures in the military preparation campaign in France previous to the war. He kept up appeals both in the French senate and in the newspapers his slogan being: "More cannon, more ammunition."

Sent to Buy Equipment.
He was sent to the United States late in 1914 to purchase war materials for the French army, but was recalled after a few months activities.

In 1918 he was tried on a charge of having intelligence with the enemy, the charge growing out of his alleged relations with Bolo Pasha, the notorious leader of the "deceitful" movement in France, who was sentenced to death and shot at Vincennes April 17, 1918.

Acquitted in 1919.
Humbert, one of the leading figures in the so-called Bonnet Rouge defeatist conspiracy, went on trial in 1919, but was acquitted. He had been arrested the day after the conviction of Bolo Pasha. The specific charge against him was that he had several other men purchase a large quantity of munitions and supply money for the purpose of conducting defeatist propaganda. The court martial voted four to three in favor of Humbert.

Motor Trouble Shown.
Motor trouble soon developed and the craft was carried by current and storm farther and farther to sea while the men worked tirelessly but in vain to repair the engine. The sea rose supply dwindled as the uneventful days of drifting and waiting went by. On March 6, three months after start of the voyage, the last grain of rice was gone. Soon too, the water casks were empty.

"Our last hope is gone," the master of the boat wrote in his log. "Our food is gone. We are lost." From that time, the log of the ill fated ship, tells little save thoughts of despair and resignation to death.

Long Days of Drifting.
There apparently followed long days of drifting under the summer sun for the ship and its crew of 12 but how soon the half crazed men succumbed to starvation may never be known.

The bodies of two and the white bones of eight fill in testimony of the horror of death. The other two perhaps chose drowning as an alternative to maddening starvation.

Stanton, vice chairman; George W. Brewer, secretary; and Sam T. Davis, treasurer. W. E. Stinson was the only new member admitted to the board, there being no change in the personnel of 42 members for the coming year.

ATTENTION FARMERS!

DON'T SELL FOR LESS!

Good cotton should bring not less than 25c. We think it will bring more as soon as it is out of farmers hands.

The crop is five million bales short of the world's demand for American cotton.

The opinion of the best cotton men is that cotton will go higher.

Can advance $75.00 per bale on good cotton at 6% annual interest.

Will ship to Houston Warehouse and hold for your instruction. You can sell at any time. Settlement as soon as cotton is sold.

Why not save $25.00 per bale on your cotton. I saved farmers an average of more than $10.00 per bale on cotton handled last season. Have testimony of good men to prove this.

TWO GREAT TRAINERS DEBATE MERITS OF FOOTBALL AND BOXING

DEFORREST IS FOR BATTLING MEEHAN ISN'T

BY COACH WHO HAS GREAT RECORD, AND JIMMY ARGUE

By JIMMY POWERS
 NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Which is beneficial to a young man—a day-boxing or football? DeForrest is for boxing, Meehan is for football. DeForrest is a coach who has a record of 100 wins and 10 losses. Meehan is a boxer who has a record of 100 wins and 10 losses. DeForrest is a coach who has a record of 100 wins and 10 losses. Meehan is a boxer who has a record of 100 wins and 10 losses.

These Two Leaders In The Respective Lines Fail To Agree On Relative Merits Of Football And Ring Game

Chick Meehan—called the Knute Rockne of the east, has enjoyed national success when, as coach of Syracuse, he whipped his green-orange band army into the race for national championship grid honors. He has another contender this year at New York University.

Jimmy DeForrest—in the gray-headed, canny-old trainer of prize ring champions who trained Tom Barry for his memorable battle with Jess Willard when the Manassa Mauler, whipped into the peak of condition, stood out as a marvel. He has trained many other champions.

Debate: Football Versus Boxing
 In this day of million-dollar purses in the prize-ring and 100,000 attendances at huge football clashes, the two sports are reaching the peak of public interest. Would you prefer your son to take up football or boxing? What are the advantages of each activity? Which better fits a man for the game of life? These, and other pertinent questions of the moment, are covered in this sparkling debate between leading proponents of the two sports—Chick Meehan, coach at New York university, and Jimmy DeForrest, famous trainer of ring champions. Read what they have to say in column 1, of this page.

 CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Dave Barry, the referee who made a name for himself as he counted over Gene Tunney last September, could have counted 300 over the ancient Mike McTigue as he fought his way to a 10-round draw with the younger fighter.

ARMOUR FINDS GOING HARDER FINISHING ALL SQUARE TODAY

(By Associated Press)
 CEDAR CREST COUNTRY CLUB, DALLAS, Texas, Nov. 2.—Walter Hagen, defending champion, took a commanding eight-hole lead over Tony Manero of New York in their second round match of the Professional Golfers' association tournament. Tony Armour, reigning open champion, however, found the going rougher, and fought a give and take match with Tom Harmon, of Yonkers, to finish the first eighteen all square.

CHAMPIONSHIP HINGES ON SATURDAY GAME IN DISTRICT ONE

(Special To The Journal)
 HERSFORD, Nov. 2.—The football championship of section two of district one of the Interscholastic League will be decided Friday when the Cayton Eagles and the Hereford Whitefaces meet on the local gridiron. Neither team has been defeated in the conference this season. The game will not only decide the championship of this section, but is also the annual football classic between these two schools.

Down Three Times

Three times Mike went down before a smart, championlike attack. The first time he was up at nine, but groggy. Walker avoiding Dempsey's error, went to the far corner of the ring. When McTigue got up, Mickey walked the mid fight and a former light, heavyweight champion himself, was able to understand who threw the brick.

Joe Turnesa, New York, who started his round a favorite over Willie Klein of East Williston, N. Y., finished the morning two down after having been five noks to the head at the turn.

Gene Zarzen, New York, finished one up on Ed Dudley, of Van Nuys, Calif., and Ralph Beach, of Bethesda, Md., took a five hole lead over Francis Gallet of Wauwatosa, Wis. John Golden of Paterson, N. J., was all even with Harold Long, of Raleigh, N. C., at the half way mark.

Pairings Given For Second Round

DALLAS, Nov. 2.—(AP)—Second round pairings today in the Professional Golfers' association tournament here:
 Tommy Armour of Washington open champion and Tom Harmon, Yonkers, N. Y.
 Walter Hagen, Pasadena, Wash., and Charles Goss, Hollywood, Calif.
 Harry Cooper, Los Angeles, and the number of seconds Dempsey supporters have insisted Tunney remained on the floor in the much discussed seventh round at Soldier Field. Between each round of the preliminary this sonorous count was repeated.

Grid Grist

By James R. Dow

Coch E. Y. Freeland sees a hard battle ahead of him for the Saturday game with the Billies of Daniel Baker. Yesterday afternoon the handler of football affairs of Texas Tech remarked: "It looks like a hard game with a short handle."

Several injuries are numbered among the Matador results as a result of the Aggie tilt of last week. Walker, White, Hamilton and DeWitt have been able to do but little work this week due to injuries.

The Matadors scored a 10 to 6 victory over the Cowboys on the Tech field; the Billies counted a 20 to 7 victory over the Cowboys in the Gont pasture. So it looks like even money—even points—for the Texas Tech grid game here Saturday. The Matadors counted 12 to 7 first down over the Cowboys; the Billies counted 13 to 4 over the Simmons university eleven.

Statistics indicate that the Billies made more yardage through the Simmons line on scrimmage plays than the Matadors were able to; but passing against the Cowboys did not look so good for the Billies. They attempted six with one completion against "Fat" Cranfill's eleven.

Coaches Higginbotham and Payne are working with the passing defense of the Matadors, which was not against the Aggies. All yesterday afternoon but for a few minutes the Freelandites passed, passed and passed. The strength of the line in scrimmage plays was strong against the Aggies so but little brushing needs to be done with "Bub Un's" line.

Friday one of the Panhandle class A conference games, the Plainview-Amarillo game at Amarillo, will likely be one of the features for the week's schedule. Coach Duke Lajoie, handler of the Plainview Bulldogs, has been handicapped throughout the season as he has been in bed with typhoid fever for most of the season and has worked but very little with the Bulldogs. The Sandies should score at least two touchdowns over the Bulldogs.

Last season the Bulldogs put the Westerners back in the running by defeating the Sandies 10 to 9 on the Sandie lot—but the Bulldogs will have to be an inspired club playing over their heads should they defeat Hugh Butler's flashy offensive machine.

Henry and Del are taking matters pretty light with the Westerners this week as they have the week-end off. Armistice day in the next game for the local machines and they will meet the Bulldogs on the occasion. The high school officials are planning to make the Bulldog-Westerner game the feature of the season.

Coch Victor Payne is issuing his initial call for basketball recruits today. He wants everything in the college from the professors down to attend the first meeting this evening in the Tech assembly hall. Coach Payne plans to have three workouts a week until the close of football and then regular daily workouts will follow.

BILLIES THINK TECH GAME TO BE HARD TILT

MATADORS SHOULD GET S. W. CONFERENCE POST, CLAIM

BROWNWOOD, Texas, Nov. 2.—Texas Tech, and not Simmons university, is the logical choice for membership in the Southwestern Conference, another member is admitted; say critics who saw Daniel Baker college overwhelm the Southwestern aspirants here Friday by the score of 26 to 7. The Baker Hill Billies scored four touchdowns, one of which was not allowed, when the referees ruled the Baker man run out of bounds, and clearly outclassed the Simmons eleven in every department except passing.

Simmons university, Texas Conference champs, has not scored a conference win this season. The Cowhands have been tied by the Southwestern Pirates and St. Edwards, beaten by Texas Tech and overwhelmed by Daniel Baker. Friday's drubbing at the hands of the Daniel Baker Hill Billies was the second in the past two years. It is freely predicted here that Howard Payne which is gaining strength will also lick the Simmons Cowhands in the annual Thanksgiving affair in Abilene this year.

Daniel Baker has next on his schedule the powerful Tech. Matadors of Lubbock. The Hill Billies Tech eleven here last year and this week they meet their new rivals in the plains city. Daniel Baker has a powerful eleven with plenty of weight, and more than half of the men are veterans. The Billies have been better in rounding into shape, but are again showing the same drive and powerful defense of last year, when they swept all before them to win handily the T. E. A. A. honors. In the clash with Texas Tech the Hill Billies have been their strongest opposition of the season—except T. E. U., who defeated both the Matadors and the Goats. Against Daniel Baker the Matadors will have the advantage of defending the home goal, and that advantage may be enough to win, some critics say.

BEES IN FLUE

THIS HAS HAPPENED
 Suspicion falls on Miss St. Clair, but Vance demonstrates measurements at the scene of the shooting that the murderer must have been approximately five feet tall. Pfyfe tells Leacock that Leacock had threatened to kill Alvin Benson. Major Benson admits he heard the threat. Leacock denies that he owned a .45 and resents Markham's action about Miss St. Clair. Leacock begins to think Leacock guilty.

HOW BEGIN THE STORY
 CHAPTER XXVIII
 Here is New York's gayest dog. Vance, introducing him to Markham (I had met him before), writes and makes no appointments before tiffin-time. I knock him up and threaten with your official ire to get down town at this early hour. Only too pleased to be of any vice," the colonel assured Markham grandiloquently. "Shocking air," said I, couldn't credit it I read it in the papers. Fact though—I don't mind saying it—ve one or two ideas on the subject. Came very near calling you myself, sir."

When we had taken our seats at the table Vance began interrogating me without preliminaries. "You know all the people in Benson's set, Colonel. Tell us something about Captain Leacock. What sort of chap is he?"

"Ha! So you have your eye on the gallant captain?"

Colonel Ostrand pulled imperiously at his white mustache. He is a large pink faced man with heavy eyes and a hedonist. He is tall and makes no appointments before tiffin-time. I knock him up and threaten with your official ire to get down town at this early hour. Only too pleased to be of any vice," the colonel assured Markham grandiloquently. "Shocking air," said I, couldn't credit it I read it in the papers. Fact though—I don't mind saying it—ve one or two ideas on the subject. Came very near calling you myself, sir."

No Diphtheria In City Now; No Need For Alarm, Said

Although there is not a case of diphtheria in Lubbock at this time, various physicians of the city were busy this morning giving advice on what to do when confronted with the disease, its nature and how to combat it.

Among them was Dr. V. V. Clark, surgeon and in charge of infectious diseases of the 64th regiment of the U. S. army overseas during the World War and president of the Lubbock Clinic. Dr. Clark, who has had many years of experience with the disease, stated that there is not much need for alarm over the situation in Lubbock as he thinks that the fine precautions taken by the city commission and health officials will prevent the spread of the disease.

Not Highly Contagious
"Although diphtheria is considered a dangerous disease, it is not highly contagious," Dr. Clark said. "Infection is by the droplet method only, and seldom, if ever, is the disease carried in clothes if the proper fumigation after a case is being isolated and the squad, directly in contact with the patient, quarantined. We never had a case outside of these two places."

Comments Work Done
Dr. Clark commended highly the work of the commission in taking measures to prevent an epidemic here and pointed out that the only means of stopping the disease when started is by inoculation of anti-toxin. A wholesale inoculation of the children in the city is unwise, Dr. Clark said, as it would be too expensive to the citizens at the present time and prevent inoculations directed toward an epidemic if inoculation is used, the toxin-anti-toxin serum should be selected, he said, as it renders the child immune from five years through life.

Proper Warrant In Search Necessary

AUSTIN, Nov. 2 (AP)-A man arrested on a liquor charge based on an illegal search warrant cannot be convicted legally, even though others in his house at the time of search are arrested and convicted in the same connection, the court of criminal appeals has ruled here.

The court reversed and remanded the one-year conviction of Frank Johnson, Mitchell county, but affirmed the convictions of W. G. Jenkins and E. D. Weddle, arrested at Johnson's house. Jenkins and Weddle, the court ruled, were not entitled to actionable complaint against the search warrant, which failed to set out the facts, circumstances or detailed information about the place searched. The latter two were found in the house with liquor equipment, and Johnson came in while the search was being made, the evidence showed.

A Good Quesser

YONKERS, N. Y.-The bookies at the Empire City track realize that as a picker Jack Demsey has some wallop. Jack wagered some of the money he got for the Chicago fracas on Doctor Wilson, a horse he used to own. Doctor Wilson, 5 to 1, was like Tunney at Soldier field; he finished strong and a winner.

Nothing Too Good

NAPLES - Nothing is too good for friends of Gabriel D'Annunzio. He had his own goldsmith make a signet ring with a drive against violators of parking rules, 2,000 motorists were before seven judges in one day. Most of the men pleaded guilty. Most of the 100 women insisted upon arguing till found guilty.

Hard On Women

NEW YORK-It seems hard for women to realize that at times they can't have the last word in a drive against violators of parking rules, 2,000 motorists were before seven judges in one day. Most of the men pleaded guilty. Most of the 100 women insisted upon arguing till found guilty.

Insurance Case Is Refused By Court

AUSTIN, Nov. 2 (AP)-The state industrial accident board and state courts are without jurisdiction in a workman's insurance compensation case arising from his injury while working in a sea going vessel engaged in international commerce, the supreme court held here in dismissing E. D. Perkins' suit against the United States Fidelity and Guaranty company, and the company's cross action. Such suits should be in admiralty courts, it was held.

The case was from Orange county. Perkins, working in the hold of a British tramp steamer was injured, and the district court, upholding an award of the industrial accident board, gave him judgment for $1,886.56, less $750 already paid, and plus $20 a week for 491 weeks. The civil appeals court reversed the case, and rendered judgment for the insurance company, but the supreme court reversed both and dismissed the case.

WELL ROUNDED PROGRAM AIDS ROTARY MEET

SPEECHES AND THREE MUSICAL NUMBERS ARE FEATURES

A particularly well-rounded and interesting program created members of the Lubbock Rotary club at Hotel Lubbock at noon today when they gathered for their regular weekly luncheon meeting. Rev. Walter P. Jennings presided and J. A. "Sonny" McElvey was in charge of the program.

C. B. Qualla, professor of romance languages at Texas Tech, spoke upon his experiences while serving as interpreter at the Peace conference, in Paris, following the World War. His talk gave his hearers an inside glimpse of the late President Wilson at the session and was a particularly interesting account of the conference itself.

W. R. Washburn, Tech music professor, presented three musical numbers, all of which he accompanied at the piano. Mrs. R. L. McKnight sang "Sea Gulls"; Miss Dorothy McDonald, public school violin teacher, played "The Romance of a Violin"; and Prof. Edgar Shelton sang "A Thought of You." These numbers were part of the recital given at the Methodist church last Sunday afternoon and the music, in each instance, was written by Mr. Washburn.

Cotton Figures Quoted
Donald Mitchell, of the Blocker Cotton company, spoke upon Lubbock as a cotton center. Mr. Mitchell cited figures to show the remarkable growth of the city as a concentration point for the staple.

Warren P. Knox, new Boy Scout executive for the South Plains area, was received into the club as a member. Dr. W. A. Jackson, head of the department of government at Tech, welcomed the new member.

By a vote of the club the time of regular meetings was extended from one hour to an hour and a quarter and the entrance fee was raised from ten dollars to twenty dollars.

Twenty members of the club promised to go to Post City next Tuesday night when the club at the Garza county capital is host to the other Rotarians of the district. The Lubbock club, under the direction of M. R. Hilburn, will have charge of the program.

Morgan W. Copeland, Brownfield banker and president of the club there, thanked the Lubbock club for flowers sent Mrs. Copeland, who is a patient in the Lubbock Sanitarium. A number of visitors and members of clubs in other cities, who attended to gear the 100 mark.

Court Aspirants Answer Call For Practice Tonight
This evening at the Texas Tech assembly hall the first gathering of varsity letter men, transfers, freshmen of basketball variety will meet Coach Victor Payne's initial call for the indoor sport. The Matador basketball handler plans to carry on the eager work three times a week throughout the rest of the football season for new recruits and varsity players.

No schedule has been arranged for the 1928 season and will not be made until the meeting of the coaches of the Southwestern, Texas and T. I. A. A. conferences in Dallas in early December. Coach Payne will attend the meeting and schedule several games for the Christmas holidays while there.

This is the first season that Coach Payne will have charge of the Matador quintet and he expects a strapping five from the numerous recruits he will have to handle for the next few weeks. Coach Payne handled the Cowboy quintet for the past few years with marked success and was at one time a member of the crack Simmons club that was acclaimed the best basketball combination in Texas.

Mexico Air Mail Service Announced
EL PASO, Texas, Nov. 2 (AP)—El Continental, Spanish language newspaper, quotes Cosme Hinojosa, Mexico's general postmaster, today as announcing that air mail and passenger service will be inaugurated next January between Mexico City, Vera Cruz, Progreso and the American border.

This will be about 2654 A. D. and last 2156 years.

A Great Era to Be
This era, they claim, will be marked by original endeavors along the lines of science, religion, mystery and altruism.

The governor's enemies will charge that Mrs. Hammond maintains "an occult and baleful influence" over the governor. It seems that neither Mrs. Hammond's husband, Dr. G. O. Hammond, state health commissioner nor the governor's attractive wife take this "baleful influence" very seriously, as the two families have shared the same house for years, and are the closest friends today.

Little Mrs. Johnson only smiles off the whole rumpus with the remark that the governor is getting his taste of what she endured in the way of Oklahoma criticism for wearing a décolleté gown and dancing at the inaugural ball.

MEDIEVAL CULT

plex onions, grapes or melons is constantly upon the gubernatorial desk. In fact, the first suspicion of his Rosicrucian tendencies came from the presents of onions and apples which he was constantly showing upon reporters, urging them to "eat foods of health."

In addition he professed himself a believer in the power of the stars on certain days when he refused to sign a bill until between 11:26 and 12:36 p. m. of the next Thursday, "because," as he explained, "all the signs of the zodiac will be favorable then."

The case, was clinched when the governor admitted that he had a great interest in the occult, when he expounded the science of numerology to his Bible classes, and made constant references to the astrological signs in his sermons and public addresses.

Clears Mrs. Hammond
The governor has stated that Mrs. Hammond never heard of Rosicrucianism until the papers accused her of it.

Mrs. Hammond's uncle, Judge James H. Armstrong, is supposed to have turned the governor and his secretary toward the Rosicrucianistic cult. He took instruction from a Hindu Yogi who held classes in Oklahoma City and is said to have a great library of occult works.

Just what is Rosicrucianism anyway? This cult of the old alchemists has strong hold upon this modern world today, as is proved by the fact that libraries the country over tell of a complete denuding of their shelves which held books on this subject.

Christian Rosenkruetz, who died in 1484, is supposed to be the father of the cult. Some say that the name came from him, although a preferred explanation is that it comes from "ros," meaning "dew," and "cruix," meaning "cross." "Dew" was supposed to be the most powerful disincantment of gold, used by the alchemists of old. The cross symbolized the four elements of ancient physics—body, mind, desire and will.

Original Rosicrucianism was rife with magic and alchemy. The quest for the eternal flame and "the philosopher's stone" cluttered its ancient ritual.

Full of Strange Tales
Old manuscripts of the Rosicrucians are full of weird tales.

There are tales of peasants finding mysterious iron-ringed flat stones in a field, raising them to find steps leading deep down into the earth, following the steps until they came into a great illumined room where sat a bent figure in a blinding white light, of how they swooned as they approached the figure, and revived in blackness, climbed back up the thousands of steps into the world once more, replaced the stone, ran away to tell the story, but, returning, never found he stone again.

There are tales of opened tombs and the bodies of beautiful golden haired girls swimming in a yellow oil, the oil of gold which was supposed to be the fuel of the ever burning flame.

The stars and planets have a potency in this cult. Saturn is considered auspicious to reason and intelligence; Jupiter, controls power and action; Mars, irascibility; Venus, appetites; the sun, sensitiveness; Mercury, expression.

Rosicrucians say that "All things visible are invisibly produced by the contention of light with darkness. That—

Every object contains a certain possible deposit of the jewel of light, the basic element which the alchemists sought. That—

We humans are only living within our worlds. That—

All minerals have the possibilities of plants within themselves, just as plants have mineral attributes within themselves.

Traveling by Thought
Rosicrucianism stresses that human beings can travel by thought—can move at will wherever they choose. Man is where his consciousness is, the cult affirms, and he needs but to send his thought waves to Timbuctoo or Kalamazoo to be there. Quite an asset to a politician!

Modern Rosicrucians, however accept only so much of the original tenets of the philosophy as they care to, making symbols of the rest.

They stress vegetarianism, the power of the stars and thought migration. Their magazine, "The Rosy Cross," is filled with salubrious and egg plant recipes, warnings of the dangers from alcohol and tobacco, exhortations to wear no furs or feathers.

The stars, however play a big part in modern Rosicrucianism as in the day when a white bearded astrologist scanned the heavens.
