WASHINGTON, March 16 The Truman administration is expected to come up soon with a "compromise plan" on ways of preventing a new farm depression and vast crop surpluses.

Farm leaders in and out of Congress are divided sharply as to what the government should do. The split centers around the question of whether there should be a return to pre-war crop control methods.

Return To Pre-War Crop Control Plan Causes Sharp Split In Official Ranks

Secretary Brannan and his Agriculture department aides are working on a program aimed at bringing the conflicting views together.

Measures being studied by the administration—but not yet necessarily adopted—include: use of flexible price supports for non-perishable crops, consumer subsidies for perishable foods, and marketing programs aimed at keeping low quality and low grade fruits and vegetables off food markets.

Some farm leaders want to keep indefinitely a wartime system of rigid price supports for such storable crops as cotton, wheat, corn, tobacco, rice and peanuts. This system directs the department to support producer prices of these crops at 90 per cent of parity.

(Parity is a legal standard for measuring farm prices designed to be equally fair to farmers and non-farmers.)

This system will be replaced next year with a setup of flexible supports between 60 and 90 percent of parity until Congress directs otherwise. Under this system, supports would be highest in

Soap Advertisers Can Foam Over $1 Million Damage Suit

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, March 16—Tallulah Bankhead, irked by the use of the name "Tallulah" in a radio jingle advertising soap, is suing for $1,000,000 damages.

The fiery actress also is asking an injunction against Procter & Gamble company, makers of the soap; the National Broadcasting company, Columbia Broadcasting system and an advertising agency.

Jingle Offensive

Miss Bankhead, currently appearing on Broadway in "Private Lives," commented last night:

"I've yet to endorse a floor wax, a flea powder or a wart remover, a cigaret or a hookah-pipe. I'll unjingle both Mr. Procter and Mrs. Gamble, their aides, their allies and their echoes."

Her attorney, Donald R. Seawell, said the singing radio commercial, which refers to a tube of shampoo as "Tallulah," uses the actress' name in an "offensive and humiliating" manner.

Miss Bankhead's first name is so unusual, he said, that the use of it alone identifies her "in the public mind."

Walter Barry, attorney, who said he will represent the defendants, said there was "no intention of the agency or sponsor to capitalize on any living person's name."

Seawell said Miss Bankhead's first name is of Indian origin and was taken from the name of a waterfall in northeastern Georgia, Tallulah falls.

The state Supreme court suit, he said, is being brought under the state civil rights law which holds it illegal to use a person's name without permission.

House Bill On Rent Finds Senate Cool

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 16. — The House-passed plan for "local option" on rent control got a cool reception today from senators who are directing Senate work on a new rent law.

This "home rule" plan would allow any state, county or town to set up its own controls or drop them entirely.

Over administration objections, the House added it yesterday to its bill to continue rent controls for 15 months after March 31. Then the House passed the bill.

Senator Sparkman (D-Ala), chairman of a Senate banking committee tussling with rent controls, told reporters that local option "seems to me to pretty well gut the bill." And Chairman Maybank (D-SC) of the full banking committee said he thought it would result in "confusion and pandemonium."

The banking committee hopes to have a bill ready for Senate action by Monday. After the Senate acts, the Senate and House will have to agree on a single bill.

Compromise Probable

Whatever new law is finally pased — presuming one is enacted—probably will be a compromise of the differing Senate and House bills.

It already is obvious that any new law will be considerably short of what President Truman asker. He asked for a 24-months extension of strong federal controls plus several provisions — which the House would not approve—to strengthen the hand of Housing Expediter Tighe Woods.

Besides the "home rule" provision, the measure passed by the House on a 261 to 153 vote has some other sections not in the original administration proposal.

One of these would allow Woods to recontrol rental areas on which controls previously had been lifted. The House okayed that after Woods promised to lift controls on 100 rural areas if he got power to put them back on in case unusual rent boosts resulted.

Receives Authority

He also received authority to sue landlords for triple damages for rent overcharges—something only tenants can do now.

But Woods was refused power to (a) bring criminal action against

Texas Misses Severe Chills

(By The United Press)
A mass of cold air headed for Texas yesterday drifted almost due east, and, aided by lots of sunshine the state missed chilling temperatures which had been predicted.

Coldest point in the state this morning was a comparatively warm 29 at Amarillo. A low of 17 had been forecast for that area. Clarendon was the only other point to report below freezing to the Weather bureau. It had a minimum of 31 degrees.

Colder In Panhandle

The East Texas forecast indicates increasing cloudiness with occasional rain in the south and east and mostly cloudy in West Texas, turning colder in the Panhndle late tonight and Thursday. It will be a little colder in the Panhandle because of the overcast, the Weather bureau said.

The cold air mass which missed the state had plenty of punch behind it bringing sub-freezing weather to Arkansas and temperatures as low as 21 in Tennessee.

A southerly breeze yesterday was also a help in keeping Texas temperatures mild, the Weather bureau added.

Yesterday's temperatures ranged from a high of 87 at Presidio to 34 at Clarendon. Other early-morning temperature readings included 33 at Childress, 34 at Lubbock, 36 at Big Spring, and 37 at Wichita Falls.

The Weather

WEST TEXAS—Mostly cloudy, a little warmer this afternoon and tonight. Turning colder in Panhandle late tonight and Thursday.

EAST TEXAS—Increasing cloudiness and warmer this afternoon and tonight. Thursday mostly cloudy, occasional rain in south and east portions. Colder extreme northwest portion. Moderate to fresh southeast winds on coast.

Major Crisis With Russians Now Expected

Britain Sets Pace; Plans To Supply Troops Outlined

(By The United Press)
LONDON, March 16.—Europe got a bad case of the war jitters today.

There was a feeling here and across the continent that a diplomatic crisis with Russia was in the making. Western nations rushed their defense plans so they would have some cards in their hand if and when they have to sit down at the table with the men from the Kremlin for a showdown.

No responsible statesman was predicting that armies would be on the march in the immediate future but there was an air of grimness in official statements and actions.

Master Defense Plan

The developments:

1. The five western union countries—Britain, France, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg—set up a master defense plan. It called for all of them to rearm as fast as possible and to ask the United States to provide additional weapons. Britain will double her jet fighter strength. The plans of the western union nations even have gone so far that they have chosen a defense line—from Switzerland north along the Rhine to the sea. Air commodore Arthur Harvey, conservative member of Parliament, told Commons the hour of decision might come in July. If the world gets by that deadline, he added, there may be peace for six or seven years.

2. Two Russian satellites were accused by Britain of building up their armed forces beyond the limits imposed in their peace

Man Killed By Electric Wire

Johnny J. McGowan, 43, of Fort Worth, an employe of the Fishback-Moore Electric Co., was killed about 10 o'clock this morning at the Southwestern Public Service company's plant at Tuco, a short distance north of Abernathy, after he came in contact with a 60,000 volt electric wire.

McGowan had been employed at the Tuco plant about three months while his company was completing a new addition to the plant building. His home was in Fort Worth, where his wife and two children are living.

Working On Line

It was understood that McGowan was working on an electric line when he came in contact with the highly-charged wire. Rix Funeral home ambulance made an emergency run to the plant, but McGowan had already been pronounced dead by a physician when the ambulance arrived at the scene.

The body is to be sent to Fort Worth tonight for services and burial, Rix Funeral home reported. Definite funeral arrangements were not known here.

McGowan was a native Texan. He was a member of the Masonic lodge of Dearborn, Mich.

Survivors in addition to the wife include a daughter, Donelee, 14; and a son, Lionel, 13, both of Fort Worth.

Testimony Given In Lamesa Assault Case

LAMESA, March 16 (Special)—Ray Culp, Lamesa school principal, took the stand for the state this afternoon after a jury had been selected for trial of R. D. Taylor, about 35, on a charge that he committed aggravated assault upon Culp.

Approximately 16 witnesses, equally divided between the state and the defense, were sworn by County Judge R. W. Herndon.

Taylor allegedly beat Culp the night of Feb. 18 at the Culp home.

The incident followed Culp's punishment of Taylor's son with a rubber tube, as a disciplinary measure at school.

A companion case aginst Jack Alldredge, a truck driver, probably will be tried directly after the Taylor case. The defendants are brothers-in-law. Taylor is about 35, Alldredge slightly older. Culp is about 40, friends said.

L. D. WHITELEY IS APPOINTED

Census Supervisor For Area Selected

By CHOC HUTCHESON
Journal Staff Writer

L. D. Whiteley of Lubbock has been appointed supervisor of the Lubbock district of the Bureau of the Census.

The appointment, which calls for Whiteley to direct the district's business census this year and its population census in 1950, was made by bureau officials, and was announced today in Washington by Congressman George H. Mahon of the 19th Texas Congressional district.

To Cover 25 Counties

The population census will cover the 25 counties of the 19th Congressional district, while the business survey will include the entire Congressional district plus a few bordering counties.

Counties in the 19th district, are Andrews, Bailey, Borden, Cochran, Crosby, Dawson, Dickens, Floyd, Gaines, Garza, Hale, Haskell, Hockley, Howard, Kent, King, Lamb, Lubbock, Lynn, Martin,

UNION RESTRICTIONS FOUGHT

Texas Solons Try To Shun Labor Bill

(By The United Press)
AUSTIN, March 16. — A bill which would repeal the restrictive labor laws passed by the 50th legislature was in the hands of a subcommittee today.

A hearing of the bill by the House labor committee late last night was interrupted when Rep. Wayne Wagonseller, the committee chairman, announced the death of Rep. A. Robinson Henderson of Groesbeck, apparently of a heart attack.

The committee bottled up the measure, authored by Rep. Blake Timmons of Amarillo, by voting 12 to 4 to send it to subcommittee, with no specified date for the subgroup to report back.

Rep. Otis Lee of Port Arthur, however, served immediate notice that supporters of the bill would take the fight on the measure to the floor of the House.

The bill would make it unlawful to issue an injunction against a striking union without hearing arguments by both sides.

Water Session Is Set Monday

Representatives of 11 towns in the immediate Lubbock area were asked in invitations mailed today to send representatives to a meeting in the Lubbock city hall at 1:30 p. m. Monday for further discussions of proposed water developments on the Canadian river.

Towns on the invitation list are Plainview, Levelland, Floydada, Dimmit, Slaton, Brownfield, Tahoka, Post, Lamesa, O'Donnell and Littlefield.

Lubbock City Manager Steve Matthews is calling the meeting at the request of Harry T. Burleigh, of Austin, chief invitation for Texas of the U. S. Reclamation service.

Burleigh advised R. L. Oldham, Lubbock city engineer, that he expects to have more definite information than has been available previously as to the probable cost of supplying water to the towns on the list via pipeline from a Canadian river reservoir. The nature of the information being compiled was not disclosed.

The meeting will be held in the city hall council chamber and will not be preceded by a luncheon, Matthews said.

Portugal Asks Questions On Atlantic Pact

Nation Is Expected To Join; Granting Of Bases Problem

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 16.—Diplomatic authorities predicted today that Portugal probably will join the proposed Atlantic security pact despite Portuguese objections to Spain's "exclusion" and other matters.

A Portuguese embassy statement last night made clear that the Lisbon government has not yet reached a final decision and that questions about the treaty are still being asked of the American government.

Chief Objection Stated

Portugal's chief objection appeared to be its expressed determination not to make any treaty commitment which would compel it to grant peacetime bases to a foreign power in the Azores Islands.

The government also emphasized that it would not join any group of powers which would have the authority to decide by vote that it should grant bases.

It was learned, however, that the State department is assuring the Portuguese government that the treaty would carry no commitment to grant bases and that the other member powers in the alliance would have no authority to decide that issue for Portugal.

Positions Important

Optimism among treaty negotiators here over Portugal's eventually lining up with the other Atlantic powers rested on two things. First, there was the ready reassurance to Portugal about bases. Second, there was the declaration in the embassy statement

Brewster Dillard Is Granted New Trial

A five-year sentence assessed Sept. 25, 1948, against Brewster E. Dillard, convicted by a jury verdict of murder with malice in the Oct. 31, 1947, shooting of Garlon Weaver, was reversed and remanded by the court of criminal appeal, it was announced by the Associated Press this morning from Austin.

The action was tried in the 99th district court of Lubbock county.

Dillard, who entered into $5,000 recognizance with the court pending outcome of his appeal, was represented by Burton S. Burks and J. E. Vickers, Lubbock attorneys.

THOMAS P. GORE

Death Claims Thomas Gore

WASHINGTON, March 16. (AP)—Thomas Pryor Gore, 78, three-term senator and successful lawyer though he had been blind since childhood, died at his home here today.

An Oklahoma Democrat, Gore was the first blind man ever to serve in the United States Senate. He was one of the first two senators sent to Washington from Oklahoma after the state entered the union in 1907.

Before and between his senatorial terms he practiced law in Oklahoma and here. Since he went finally out of the Senate he had practiced in Washington.

Relied On Memory

As lawyer and lawmaker he relied heavily on a prodigious memory. He never used the raised character print provided for reading by the blind. His material for factually accurate speeches studded with literary quotations and historical allusions came from hours of reading aloud by his wife and members of his staff.

He had a reputation as a wit and philosopher and was rated as an expert on Indian affairs and rural credits.

Death at 8:50 a. m. (CST) today, followed a cerebral hemorrhage which the former senator suffered at his home here March 13. He had been unconscious most of the time since then.

Ill Since February

Relatives said he had been ill since the latter part of February when he was sent to bed with what he believed was a cold.

Men's Attempt To Enter Vault Proves Failure

Suspects Arrested While Attempting Second Burglary

By R. C. HANKINS
Journal Staff Writer

MORTON, March 16.—Two men who allegedly had burglarized the Morton State bank earlier in the night were arrested about midnight when attempting to break into Truett's Food store, it was announced this morning by the Cochran county sheriff's office.

The men, both 26 and of Levelland, failed to break into the vault of the bank, so gave up and went to the food store, one of them said.

CHARGES ARE FILED

MORTON, March 16—Charges of burglary in two cases each were filed against Otis Dwight Simpson, 26, and Otis Plack, 26, both of Levelland shortly before 3 o'clock this afternoon in the court of Justice Alvin O'Fry. The charges, sworn to by Sheriff Herman Crockett, were filed by E. G. Pharr of Lubbock, assistant district attorney. The men are charged with burglary of the Morton State bank and of Truett's Food store here. Bond had not been set.

Statement Is Signed

Sheriff H. D. Crockett of Morton said the men were arrested by City Marshal Hazel Hancock, a former Cochran county sheriff, and George Newman, Morton nightwatchman. One of the suspects was taken by Sheriff Crockett and T. A. Rowland, a state highway patrolman, to Lubbock, where he executed and signed a statement before E. G. Pharr, assistant 72nd judicial district attorney.

Pharr and state rangers then returned the suspect here so that he and the other suspect could ask bond of the court in which charges

Street Naming Plan Offered

An alphabetical plan for renaming many Lubbock streets was recommended to the city commission by the city planning commission at a luncheon in the Hilton hotel today.

Under the system outlined by K. N. Clapp, planning commission chairman, streets north of First would be named for colleges. They now are designated as "North Second," North Third," etc.

Named For Cities

Those west of College avenue, named mostly for presidents, would be renamed for cities east of the Mississippi river.

Those east of Avenue A would be named for trees.

Streets between A and College would retain their present designations of letters and the alphabet. Those south of First extending from A to College would retain number names: Second, Third, etc.

Missing Girl Might Have Joined Husband

CUSHING, Okla., March 16 (AP)—Officers said today they would not drag the Cimarron river in their search for a missing 17-year-old girl until they had checked the possibility that she has gone to Texas for a reunion with her estranged husband.

Sheriff Andy Jelsma of Logan county said Nadine Fleming, missing since Saturday from the home of a sister at Coyle, Okla., might have gone to Fort Worth, where the husband was reported to be living. Jelsma said relatives were reluctant to discuss the girl's marital status but told him she had been separated from her husband.

Congressman Mahon Charges Top Secret Military Information Being Given Away

By SARAH McCLENDON
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 16 Rep. George Mahon of Colorado City, told the House today that a billion dollars worth of top secret military information is being given away annually to potential enemies of the United States by military men and government officials. He included some colleagues in the House.

As chairman of the House appropriations sub-committee on Army, Navy and Air Force, Mahon said he had registered an emphatic protest with military officials who replied that no authorized releases of information had been made and that they, too, were highly concerned about the release of unauthorized information.

Mahon said this information was coming from meetings of the joint chiefs of staff directly to newspapers which thus speed it out to the world and our enemies.

He said the Atomic Commission had recently released to the public what might appropriately be called a bombardier's map showing all our atomic locations. He deplored the detail in which this information is being made public.

"All of this reckless disregard of our national security must stop," Mahon asserted. "I hope my colleagues will join me in calling a halt."

He referred to 70 proposed targets in Russia which have been discussed at conferences of topmost army officials and top secret maps in the Pentagon which he said have been "recklessly bandied about in the press."

"The fact that this news is garbled is no defense," Mahon said. "Release of this information enables our potential enemies to conserve expenditures and make the best possible application of their funds. A smart football quarterback does not give away the signals and strategic plans before going into the game."

Measure Calling For 70-Group Air Force Goes Before House

WASHINGTON, March 16. (AP)—The House took up a bill today calling for a 70-group Air Force—22 more than President Truman wants at this time.

The measure before the House (11 a. m. EST) also would set manpower limits of the Army and Air Force by law—as is done for the Navy. Army and Air Force strengths now are limited from year to year by payroll appropriations.

The present bill would authorize a permanent strength of 837,000 officers and men for the Army, and 502,000 officers and men for the Air Force. Both are under those figures now because of a ceiling on their manpower spending.

Began Last Year

The air power argument began last year when the House passed a resolution declaring the nation should have a 70-group Air Force. The resolution was not considered by the Senate.

However, both the House and Senate approved an appropriation bill carrying $822,000,000 for plane purchases as the first installment on a five-year 70-group program.

The Air Force now has 59 groups, not all at full strength. The 70-group plan would bring the total to 57 full-strength units this year. The President considers that too high.

Calls For 48 Groups

His budget for the year beginning July 1, which recommended $14,300,000,000 for the three services, called for an Air Force of 48 groups—a figure Mr. Truman termed consistent with the building of a balanced defense setup.

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga) of the House armed services committee—a strong-Air-Force advocate—promptly called for switching to the air arm some $800,000,000 set aside in the budget for universal military training.

Congress will not consider UMT this year, anyhow, Vinson said.

Vinson figures the President's proposal would provide 1,668 new planes during the next fiscal year, while $800,000,000 more would raise this to 2,370 planes. The authorization for the current year is 2,437 planes.

Division Listed

The Air Force has said a strength of 70 groups, which it would like to reach by 1953, would be divided this way:

Heavy bomber (B-36's), four groups; medium bomber (B-29's and B-50's), 16 groups; light bomber, five; strategic reconnaissance, six; tactical reconnaissance, four; fighter, 25; heavy troop carrier, four; medium troop carrier, six, and 22 separate squadrons for such work as air-sea rescue and other specialized missions.

Secretary of Air Symington has estimated it would cost the country about $6,500,000,000 to support an Air Force of 57 groups, and another $1,000,000,000 to maintain the full 70.

Tech Judging Team Third Place Winner

A Texas Tech livestock judging team, which competed Monday in the Inter-Collegiate Livestock Judging contest at Oklahoma City, won third place for the local college, Stanley E. Anderson, assistant professor of animal husbandry and coach of the team, announced.

Oklahoma A. and M. and Texas A. and M. colleges were in first and second places respectively, and Kansas State and Arkansas State were in fourth and fifth places in that order.

Members of the Tech team were W. J. Krueger, John Dwyer, Robert Fee, Ewing McEntire, J. H. Heath and as alternate, Paul Jones.

The Texas Tech team placed first in quarterhorse judging and hog judging, and was in second and third places respectively in judging of beef cattle and sheep.

Among high individuals in the contest were Krueger who placed third, and Dwyer and Fee who were in fifth and eighth place.

In the individual classes, Heath and Fee tied for first in judging of quarterhorses, Krueger was second in sheep judging, Dwyer placed second in beef judging and fourth in hog judging, and McEntire was in second and sixth places in hog and cattle judging.

City Of Oak Ridge Will Become Regular Part Of America In Ceremony Saturday

OAK RIDGE, Tenn., March 16. (AP)—Oak Ridge, top-secret home of the atomic bomb, Saturday will become plain "Oak Ridge, U. S. A."

But while the gates will come down and the "restricted" status dropped, the heart of the town—the atomic energy plants—will be wrapped within even tighter security.

Fences will screen the laboratory housing the uranium chain-reacting pile and the two plants producing uranium-235 for atomic bombs.

During the ceremonies the same atomic energy which gave birth to this war-born city will cut the last barrier to the outside world. While leaders in science, politics and entertainment watch an electric impulse from the massive uranium reactor will burn apart a ribbon at one of the four gates.

Logan Emlet, director of the National laboratory's operations division, says a small amount of current will be transmitted about 15 miles to "kick of a mixture of magnesium and potassium chlorate" which will burn the ribbon.

Emlet says he believes it will be the first atomic-generated electrci current ever transmitted by wire.

Vice-President Alben W. Barkley will head a group of Washington dignitaries and is scheduled to make the principal address.

Hollywood will send a host of stars headed by Alexis Smith, who will be crowned "Miss Atomic Bomb."

War Baby Grown Up

The Atomic Energy commission in opening Oak Ridge to the public says its war baby has grown up now and should be allowed to govern itself like a normal American community. The town has a population of 36,000.

With the opening of the gates will come a seam-splitting expansion program: $20,600,000 for new buildings, and announced plans for spending $70,000,000 on new plants.

The townsite and its plants, built in 1942 from scratch in about 30 months, cost an estimated $1,000,000,000. The town itself cost $96,000,000.

Films Give Hollywood Twist To New York Wiretapping Mystery

NEW YORK, March 16 (AP) — Secret motion picture films have given a new Hollywood thriller twist to New York's political wiretapping mystery.

A private investigator told newsmen yesterday that the pictures will be "very favorable" to charges made by Clendenin J. Ryan, multimillionaire foe of the mayor. He said the pictures were taken with a camera equipped with a telescopic lens from an automobile roving near the official residence of Mayor William O'Dwyer.

"This is documentary evidence," said the investigator, Charles Lester Sabisky, 33, of Newark, N. J.

Camera Technician

Sabisky said he was employed as a "camera technician" by John G. Broady, attorney for Ryan, a key figure in the widening investigation of an alleged plot to tap the telephone wires of the mayor and 75 other city officials.

The investigator, who said he had a grand jury subpoena in his pocket, claimed his films showed "three or four males" asked if they are friends of the mayor, Sabisky said "I should think they would be, in order to get the jobs they have."

Sabisky said the films were taken on East River drive "somewhere between East 60th and East 86th street." The mayor's official residence, Gracie Mansion, is on East River drive at 88th street.

Due For Questioning

Ryan, a leader of a fusion movemayor if he runs for reelection next fall, was due before a special grand jury today for a third straight day of questioning about the alleged wiretapping plot.

Ryan, who held key posts under the late Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia, and his lawyer, Broady, have denied any complicity.

O'Dwyer accused his fusion opponents of "a double-cross and a frameup" in a self-serving effort to capture the city administration. "They are not interested in the city, but in power for themselves," the mayor told newsmen. The mayor previously had said that Ryan, a grandson of Financier Thomas Fortune Ryan, is a "crackpot."

Among recent additions to electronic magic is the "pinpoint tube," which is about the size of a half-inch length of lead pencil and requires no anode, cathode, grid, glass bulb, vacuum, nor warming up time.

Preparations To Avert Danger Asked

Fire Chief Gives Warning On Use Of Trash Fires In City

By ROGER SOUTHALL
Journal Staff Writer

Control that urge!

With spring at hand and people's fancies turning to thoughts of yard and trash cleanups, a warning from the local fire department is in order.

Last year, the Lubbock fire department was called to a total of 581 fires, a great part of which occurred in the spring and fall when "cleanup fever" is in its most contagious stages.

Fire Danger Cited

These seasonal cleanups apparently are not completely fulfilled without a fire, and local residents all too frequently touch a match to their trash piles without first having taken weather conditions into consideration or made advance preparations.

Fire Chief W. E. Twitty stresses especially this matter of preliminary preparation. "We know that regardless of the ordinance prohibiting fires there are going to be trash fires," he said, and advised Lubbockites to take these precautions:

First, trash should be kept until weather conditions are favorable, and should never be burned when winds are high.

Second, choose a spot to burn trash that will not cause the fire to spread and destroy property. This spot should be free of dead weeds and grass and should be accessible by water hose in the event that the fire does get out of hand. Never should trash be burned near fences, garages, or houses.

Preparations Are Necessary

Third, adequate preparations should be made before the trash is fired. A water hose should be accessible to keep fire from spreading. Garden tools, too should be at hand to fight flames if they start to spread.

To summarize, Chief Twitty said, "Think about the fire awhile before you start it."

Choosing a quiet day is especially important for burning paper, Chief Twitty said, since paper has a tendency to catch fire and then blow away while still aflame.

Should Watch Fire

One of Chief Twitty's most important suggestions is that a person should never begin a fire if he does not have time to watch it until the trash is completely consumed. He cited several examples of costly local fires which started as small trash fires and got out of hand after persons who ignited the trash piles either grew tired of watching over the fires or were called to other duties. Better to extinguish a burning trash pile and finish it later than to neglect it and risk costly property damage, Chief Twitty said.

People residing in outlying sections of Lubbock should be especially careful in starting fires, the fire chief said, since they may be as far as three or four miles from the fire department. In case a fire should get out of hand in a suburban area, it could do extensive damage before fire fighting equipment could reach the scene.

Almost all weevils are destructive. They include the boll, acorn, hickory nut, chestnut, plum, cherry, grain, rice, corn, grape, sugar cane, palm, strawberry, potate, closer, pea, and bean-weevil.

$50,000 Sought To Restore Penn Park

HARRISBURG, Pa., March 16. (AP)—A Pennsylvania lawmaker says the misuse that has befallen the William Penn treaty monument in Philadelphia shouldn't happen to an historic shrine.

State Representative Miles W. Lederer, Philadelphia Democrat, told the legislature yesterday:

"The monument (marking the spot where Penn signed a treaty with the Indians in 1682) has become dilapidated and is rapidly falling into decay. The Penn treaty park on which the monument is situated has become extremely rundown, in that the walks have been broken, the grass completely trampled out, the drinking fountain has disappeared, the restrooms are boarded up, the benches have disappeared, the automobiles park and drive all over the park and the iron fence used to protect children from falling into the Delaware river is in a broken condition."

Lederer asked that Philadelphia be given $50,000 to restore the park.

SAILORS SURRENDER

NEWARK, N. J., March 16 (AP)—Forty sailors from Soviet dominated Poland, most of whom had jumped ship in New York and New Jersey ports, have surrendered to immigration authorities here.

Levelland To Have New Radio Station

WASHINGTON, March 16 (AP) The communications commission yesterday denied applications of Panhandle Broadcasting Corp., and of Voice of Amarillo for new 1230 kilocycle stations at Amarillo.

Station KOSA at Odessa, Tex., was authorized to change its frequency from 1450 to 1230 kilocycles. Applications by KBST of Big Spring, Tex., and KWEW, Hobbs, N. M., both seeking to change frequency from 1490 to 1230 cycles, were denied.

A final grant to Herald Broadcasting Co. for a new standard radio station at Levelland, Tex., operating on 1230 kilocycles, 250 watts, unlimited time, was made.

STOMACH AILMENTS, WEAK KIDNEYS, RHEUMATIC PAINS, ARTHRITIS, NEURITIS

and such complaints as Headaches, Nervousness, Acids Toxins, Bloating, Lack of Vitality, Energy, Poor Appetite, Underweight, Dizzy Spells.

Drugless Health!

REGARDLESS of how long you have been a sufferer, and how many medicines you have tried before, you can now hope for relief if you try GEO-MINERAL, the wonderful mineral aid. Feel and enjoy the results one week after you start taking it. GEO-MINERAL comes from the earth — Nature's laboratory. Contains NO alcohol, NO preservatives, NO oil. NO harmful drugs, NO dope — is NOT habit forming. Contains ONLY Nature's minerals, the oldest, most reliable remedy for rheumatism, arthritis, kidney and stomach ailments — highly recommended by the medical profession.

FOR THOUSANDS of years ever since Hipocrates was the father of medicine, minerals and other natural medicines were a reliable remedy for most of our common ailments. GEO-MINERAL will enrich your blood, help to make you strong, full of pep, life and energy. If you suffer from nutritional anemia, nervousness, lack of vitality and energy see what GEO-MINERAL will do for you.

Amazing Results

MEDICAL records show 65% of men and women over 35 suffer from nutritional mineral-iron anemia. When you feel nervous, dull, tired, lazy, have dizzy spells, no ambition to work or play, a poor appetite, when your eyes lack that bright spark, and your mind brilliance, when headaches get the best of you, and you feel old before your time, and life seems not worth living, with worry wearing you down—it may be simply lack of minerals in your blood. GEO-MINERAL is then what you need.

RHEUMATISM, arthritis are dreadful diseases. Acid condition in the blood is often their cause. What could be the remedy? For thousands of years, minerals have been used to relieve the pain and suffering of these ills. People, on the advice of their doctors, go to mineral springs to find cure, or relief. The late President Roosevelt used to go to Warm Springs in Georgia. He was helped or would not have gone there twice a year.

Wonder Minerals

YEAR after year, people rush to mineral springs and spas, to drink and bathe in their miraculous water. We have all heard of the wondrous springs of Lourdes, France, and famous Thronion in ancient Greece where, according to legend, Hercules, the god of eternal strength and youth, drank its waters and bathed to be forever young.

GEO-MINERAL contains minerals you get at the world's best springs. Watch your elimination from your bowels a day or two after using it. The waste, black as the color of your shoes, will start to break away, and you will SEE it! Also examine your urine. You may see impurities — poisonous waste — coming out of your kidneys, relieving you. And then realize the priceless value of GEO-MINERAL.

Read What They Say!

"We wish to state that after selling Geo-Mineral for eight months, this product has broken all sales records in the medicine line in our drug store"—reports Jack Wright, owner of Economy Drug Co., Anderson, S. C. "Users report almost miraculous results helping sufferers with rheumatism, arthritis, weak kidneys, and various stomach ailments. We believe that there exist very few items on the druggists' shelf with the merit of this natural mineral medicine. Of thousands of bottles sold on guarantee basis, there have been very few refunds."

100% Guaranteed!

WE URGE everyone to try GEO-MINERAL. Do not hesitate one moment. Go to your drug store now. Get one bottle. Use it one week. If you are not 100 per cent satisfied, we will refund your money.

REGARDLESS of how long you have been suffering, and how many medicines you have tried before, GEO-MINERAL may be the remedy you need!

TRY it today! It may do wonders for you—and be the best investment for your health. Make you feel, eat, sleep, work and enjoy life better.

Study Club Elections Are Conducted Here

Elections of officers were conducted at two study club meetings Tuesday afternoon. When Garden Study club met with Mrs. T. C. Ingram, the following were named to office:

Mrs. Roy Grimes, president; Mrs. Marshall Howard, vice president; Mrs. M. M. Ewing, secretary; and Mrs. C. J. Hollingsworth, treasurer. Mrs. L. A. Purtell was accepted as a new member.

Each member brought flowers to the meeting for the purpose of making corsages during a demonstration by Mrs. Joe Arrington. Committees were appointed to assist with the seventh district, Texas Federation of Women's clubs, convention to be held in Lubbock April 4-8.

Mrs. Reginald Rushing and Mrs. Howard were co-hostesses. Guests were Mesdames Embree Armstrong, Harold Colbert, Edwin Merriman and James T. Forbes of O'Donnell.

Sunshine Study club's Tuesday program consisted of an officer election and a review of the book, "Take A Look At Yourself," (John Homer Miller) by Mrs. Frank Haden. Mrs. W. M. Ryan was hostess.

Mrs. Clyde Tatum is the new president and other officers are: Mrs. H. D. Delaney, vice president; Mrs. Frank Bass, secretary; Mrs. W. H. Chappell, treasurer; Mrs. E. B. McNeill, parliamentarian; and Mrs. J. C. Sanders, reporter.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Ed Sims of Dallas, Mrs. O. J. Green of Pecos, and Mrs. Henry Plate and Mrs. Cecil Plate of Littlefield. Other members present were Mesdames Joe Baldridge, C. W. Bartlett, G. E. Dawson, J. D. Gammill, Lewis Kittrell, A. D. Montgomery, C. V. Sandlin and O. A. Woody.

Mrs. R. O. Bennett resigned as president of Lubbock Woman's club for the 1949-50 club year at a meeting held Tuesday afternoon in the sales room of Hub Lee Tire company. Eighteen members and one guest attended.

Roy Bass, local attorney, who was guest speaker, discussed Communism from its origin. He explained that the most lasting danger of Communism is that it crushes the initiative and ambition of the persons under its rule.

Announcement was made that the club will be in charge of this week's cake sale which is sponsored each Saturday at Walgreen's drug store by Lubbock Women's club.

Irish Motif Is Featured

Mrs. Clifford B. Jones and Mrs. Roscoe Wilson are entertaining with a dinner party in the ballroom of the Hilton tonight. Covers will be laid for one hundred guests. A St. Patrick's theme will be featured.

Tuesday afternoon Mesdames Jones and Wilson were hostesses for a luncheon in the Yaqui room of the hotel and here, too, they used decorations to commemorate the day of the Irish saint. A frothy ruffle of clover green tariton circled the white laid table, which was centered with an arrangement of white stock and a long trail of shamrocks.

St. Patrick favors, in the form of miniature clay hats and pipes attached to lapsel shamrocks, decorated the guests' placecards. The hostesses wore corsages of vivid green carnations.

Mrs. Loving Honored At Farewell Party

Mrs. Clarence Loving who is moving to Arizona soon was honored at a luncheon given by Friendly Menders club Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Joe Boothe. Joe Marie Boothe played piano numbers and Mrs. R. R. Holmes, jr., accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Bob Bryant, sang a solo.

Others present were Mesdames W. M. Gregg, W. O. Cline, J. W. Holland, S. A. Stapleton, J. S. Teasdale, G. W. Oatman, and two guests, Mrs. I. A. Shattuck of Olton, and Mrs. E. E. Boothe. Mrs. Bryant was co-hostess.

Mrs. Loving was presented an overnight case by the club.

Shallowater Club Has Program On Dreams

Mrs. L. B. Rice was in charge of a program on "Dreams" when Shallowater Study club met with Mrs. D. R. Weber Tuesday afternoon.

Reserve Officers To Hold Meet Tomorrow

Members of the South Plains chapter, Reserve Officers association, will hold their regular monthly meeting at 7:30 o'clock Thursday night on the second floor of the courthouse, President Robert L. Lively announced today.

The meeting, first of the new year, will spend its time largely on laying plans for the coming 12 months. Lively said all former commissioned officers are urged to attend, whether or not they have associated themselves with the organization.

New officers for the year, in addition to Lively, are Harold Chapman, vice-president and Hugh Dryer, secretary-treasurer.

CLASS PLANS SOCIAL

Calvary Baptist TEL class will attend a monthly social and prayer service at 7:30 o'clock Thursday night at the home of Mrs. J. H. Comer, 1640 Ave. Q.

Mary Haworth's Mail . . .

Man Identifies Himself As Sow's Ear Who Cannot Understand Language Of Column

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I am one of the sow's ears your student advisor cautioned you about, remember? He says your advice is sound; that the professor and students of psychology at his university approve it 95 percent; but can the majority of your readers digest your language? Especially if they haven't finished grade school or high school?

My education was picked up along the skid rows of America. I am one of the underprivileged. So naturally your healthy advice insults my ego. But, unfortunately, I can't find anything in it to kick about. I don't follow it but I don't blame fate any more. I just set the jug down slowly at my feet and grin, a little sadly, and try again tomorrow.

I do not discuss your column with the boys at the corner soda fountain nor burn the midnight oil trying to unravel the mystical secrets of your abstractions. I just absorb what I can of it, and if I am too unregenerate for redemption, I can settle for the enjoyment you afford, anyway.

Tell the kid to join the Army. They will teach him in words of one syllable. They might even teach his professor a little psychology. Tell him to try Market Street. You learn about human abstractions there, too. I earned one thing there—on the Baltimore waterfront: "Never judge a man until you have walked in his shoes for about two years." Amen. Signed—R.D.

PEOPLE CAN DRINK WITHOUT A NIPPLE

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: My wife and I think that too many people specializing in psychology get the idea that we "average minds" who have only a high school education or less, aren't able to grasp things in print. Do they think we can't drink without a nipple?

We fix our cars, paint and paper our houses, do our upholstering, lay brick,—name me anything the American people can't do. And we can all easily understand you. If 90 percent of us like your style, that means you're "good."

I am 43, have two daughters and, thanks to your articles, I have stored up a world of knowledge to use in answering their questions. That's all. Signed T.M.

SHE HASN'T TIME FOR EXTRA STUDY

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I think the college student is right!—at least partly. I have only a high school education and most of the time I get the thought you are trying to put across; but I think you use too many big words in one paragraph sometimes.

You may say, "Look up the words and find out their meaning,"—but with three sons to look after, a house to keep, and a husband of course, I hardly have time to study a dictionary. I don't think you appreciate constructive, well meaning criticism. Now go ahead and bawl me out too! Signed—H.B.

HOW MANY POSSESS "GIFT OF TONGUES?"

DEAR READERS: I've had enough mail on the subject of "style" to fill a month's columns; so herewith a second (and final) cross-section sampling. Those "in favor" are still in the lead; and even the critics aren't too unkind for the most part, and some indeed apologize for griping.

I don't mind pertinent criticism; but neither am I a straw in the wind of every critical blast. You know the old saying, "Try to please everybody and you won't please anybody."

Any writer worth his salt tells the truth as he sees it, in the clearest words at his command; but if he falls short of the inspired "gift of tongues" in the Biblical sense, whereby he might speak every man's language — well, that's human. And now, thanks to all for their spirited views—which have brought me much closer to the audience, I feel. M.H.

Mary Haworth counsels through her column, not by mail or personal interview. Write her in care of The Lubbock Evening Journal.

St. Patrick's Day Mint Sundae Cake
1½ cups sifted cake flour; 1¼ cups sugar; ½ cup cocoa; 1¼ teaspoons soda; ¼ teaspoon cream of tartar; 1 teaspoon salt; ½ cup Spry; 1 cup milk; 1 teaspoon vanilla; 2 eggs, unbeaten
Sift flour, sugar, cocoa, soda, cream of tartar and salt into mixing bowl . . . Drop in Spry . . . Add ¾ cup milk, then vanilla, and beat 200 strokes (2 minutes by hand or on mixer at low speed) . . . Scrape bowl and spoon or beater. Add remaining milk and eggs and beat 200 strokes (2 minutes by hand or on mixer at low speed) . . . Bake in two deep 8-inch Sprycoated layer pans in moderate oven (350°F.) 30-40 minutes. Spread Green Mint Frosting between layers and on top and sides of cake. Decorate top with little "rivers and pools" of melted, cooled chocolate (½ teaspoon Spry and ½ ounce chocolate).
Green Mint Frosting—Put 2 egg whites, unbeaten, 1½ cups sugar, 5 tablespoons cold water, 1 teaspoon light corn sirup and ⅛ teaspoon salt in top of double boiler and mix thoroughly. Place over rapidly boiling water and beat constantly with rotary egg beater until mixture will hold a peak (about 7 minutes). Remove from hot water, add ¼ teaspoon mint extract and enough green coloring to tint frosting a pale green. Beat until cool and thick enough to spread. Makes enough frosting for top and sides of two 8-inch layers.

Clinic Building Fund Boosted By S. E. Cone's $20,000 Check

Presentation of a $20,000 check by S. E. Cone to the Cerebral Palsy clinic building fund highlighted today's weekly Rotary club luncheon in the Hilton hotel.

The contribution marked the beginning of the club's campaign for funds for the clinic building.

Cone presented the check to Bob Fuller, chairman of the clinic's financial committee, in an informal ceremony immediately after the luncheon, after the gift had been announced during the program.

Drive Is Scheduled

A drive to raise additional funds for construction of the building will begin next week.

Featured speaker on the luncheon program was J. B. Lyn, ranch and farm editor for radio station KGNC of Amarillo.

Lynn warmly praised Lubbock's progressive civic and business spirit, stating, "Even those of us who root most for Amarillo appreciate the things you are doing here in Lubbock."

He remarked, "Why, you can leave Lubbock for just a few days, and get behind on what's happening here."

At the close of his address, Lynn urged future cooperation between the two Plains-Panhandle cities.

"A lot of the energy devoted to competition between Lubbock and Amarillo might best be used in active cooperation," he said.

Clothing Is Discussed

A feature of his talk was a humorous dissertation on men's clothing styles, arguing that today's men's fashions are badly outmoded and impractical. He traced the origin of several obviously impractical features of today's styles, such as the notch in coat lapels, roat sleeve buttons, and lengthy shirt tails.

Lynn was introduded by Jack Stone.

"The Plainsmen," local barber shop quartet, appeared briefly on behalf of Saturday night's "Parade of Quartets" in Lubbock Senior High school auditorium.

Visiting Rotarians at the luncheon included Fred McDonald of Ralls, Bob Mansfield of Dallas, and Tom Shelby of Austin. Shelby was given an award as the visitor from the greatest distance from Lubbock.

Courtesy Is Farewell

Mrs. T. S. Brown, who is leaving Friday to make her home in Oklahoma City, was honored at a farewell party given Tuesday night in the home of Mrs. T. C. Ingram, 2411 Twenty-fifth. Mesdames Durward Mahon and Conway Clingan were assistant hostesses.

Bridge games were played.

Jonquils, flanked by white tapers in crystal candelabra, centered the refreshment table.

Gusts were Mesdames T. S. Brown, C. W. Ratliff, Roy Grimes, W. H. Garrett, L. E. Brown, Paul Schaefer, Roy Riddell, jr., Edwin G. Young, John Cochran, W. H. Melton, L. O. Buchanan, Robert Prothro, R. R. Marquis, C. J. Quinlan, Vera Salmon and M. D. Lakey.

Schoolmates Invited To Birthday Party

Jean Carolyn Williams invited girls in her room at school to a party celebrating her birthday Monday afternoon at the home of her mother, Mrs. Marguerite Williams, 3024 Twentieth.

Games, story telling and reading were diversions.

Mrs. Max T. Davis assisted in hospitalities.

Guests were Suzanne Davis, Carolyn Abel, Johnita Taylor, Jimmie Louise Scott, Delna Jean Keller, Susan Philbrick, Elaine Adams, Myrna Browder, Dolores Robertson, Kay Lynn Walker, Suzanne Hinson, and Judy Nutt.

Gifts were sent by Dolores McKee and Gloria Stewart.

Supper Is Served For Methodist Crusaders

When Asbury Methodist Crusaders class met for a covered dish super, served Tuesday night in Fellowship hall, a St. Patrick's motif was emphasized in decorations. Juanita and Anita Reynolds sang Irish songs and George Holman talked on "The Origin of St. Patrick's Day."

Rev. Cecil R. Matthews also gave a talk.

Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Bickley were special guests and 29 class members attended.

Misses Ruby Jackson and Una Vay Street were hostesses.

P-T Convention Will Be Topic For Talk

Highlights of the approaching convention of the fourteenth district, Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers, will be discussed by Mrs. M. E. West at the Roscoe Wilson Parent-Teacher association meeting Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the school. The convention will be held in Lubbock April 27-29.

Mrs. F. C. Stanley will direct musical numbers.

An election of officers will be conducted.

Party Is For Miss Leon

Continuing a party series for Miss Barbara Leon, who is to marry Walter S. Scheef of Houston, six hostesses gave a miscellaneous shower Tuesday night. Eighty guests called.

The party was in the home of Mrs. L. D. Marshall, 2322 Twentieth. Assistant hostesses were Mesdames E. L. Lansford, Wayne Martin, Russell Denison, Sam H. Batton and L. E. Settle.

Mrs. Settle greeted guests and Miss Mary Settle presided at the register.

Assisting in hospitalities were Mesdames Charles Kelley, Tom Kelley and Miss Mary Katherine Fincher.

Mrs. L. C. Weaver of Plainview and Mrs. M. T. Leon, aunts of the honoree, presided at the refreshment table which was decorated in the honoree's favorite colors of yellow and blue.

An unbrella to which wedding bells are attached centered the table and streamers extending from the bells were caught to arrangements of daffodils, jonquils and fern.

Troop Of Brownies Is On Visit To Bakery

Methods employed at Baldridge's bakery were explained to members of Brownie Troop 63 Tuesday afternoon when the girls took the first of a series of similar trips planned to Lubbock businesses.

Mrs. Dick Beesinger and Mrs. Earl Jones, troop leaders, and Mesdames Weldon and Glynn Wallace, accompanied the girls. Attending were Carol and Jackie Beesinger, Alveda Bishop, Sandra Carter, Mary Edith Crone, Johnnie Drury, Verna Jones, Barbara Maynard, Roberta Richardson, Glenda Walker, Shirley and Patricia Whited, Tommy Kirk, Tommie Coker, Laneta Dillon, Doris Simpson, Janice Skaggs and Myrna Carter.

Talent Show Finals Scheduled Tonight

Finals in Lubbock's "Youth Talent Contest" will be staged at 8 o'clock tonight in Lubbock Senior High school auditorium.

At least 25 finalists, selected Monday night from an original field of 46, will compete for the right to advance to the contest's regional eliminations April 1 at Lamesa.

Tickets for tonight's show here, on sale only at the auditorium box office, are priced at 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for students. The event is sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Tonight's program is expected to be about two hours in length, Sydney Key, Jaycee contest committee chairman, has announced.

The two top winners here will advance to the Lamesa contest. The number one performer at Lamesa is to receive an audition for the nationally-broadcast Horace Heidt "Youth Opportunity Program" at a later date.

CLASS PLANS STUDY

First Baptist Homemakers class is to attend an executive meeting and Bible study at 9:30 o'clock Thursday morning in the Gleaners classroom.

Exchange Members Hear Two Quartets

Two popular Lubbock quartets shared top billing on the Exchange Club program today. The "Notables," Dick Richards, J. Ray Dickey, Jim Black and "Tiny" Jones, were in the scheduled spot and the "Plainsmen," on today's Rotary program dropped in to offer a couple of numbers.

Despite an unannounced change in meeting place the club had a good attendance of membership. Because of a style show at the Lubbock Hotel the Exchange group met today in the Hilton.

In addition to the musical entertainment a film, "The Soap Box Derby," was shown. The picture was taken at the national boys' event at Akron, Ohio last year and showed the results of that now famous project.

Charles Cathey, presided over the meeting and introduced one new member, Marvin McLarty, and four guests: Travis Shelton, Max Rutledge, Joe Phillips and John Wilson. Wilson made an announcement of the Lubbock Boys' club boxing program which is scheduled for Friday evening. All Exchange club members were invited to attend the show.

Former Resident Of Lubbock Is Claimed

S. A. Richmond, 93, former Lubbock resident who in later years had lived in Dallas, died about 7 o'clock this morning in the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. O. Tubbs of Dallas, with whom he made his home.

The body is to arrive in Lubbock Thursday morning. Funeral services are to be conducted at 2 p. m. Thursday in Sanders Funeral home chapel, with Dr. J. Ralph Grant, pastor of First Baptist church, officiating. Burial will follow in Lubbock cemetery under direction of Sanders Funeral home.

Mr. Richmond was born July 24, 1855, while his parents were en route with a wagon train from Virginia to Texas. The site of his birth was Richmond, Ark., which was named for his father.

The family continued on to Texas two weeks later and located in Stonewall county. He was married to the late Sarah Elizabeth Burton, who died during the 1918 influenza epidemic.

Mr. and Mrs. Richmond moved to Lubbock in 1900. He acquired 400 acres north of the city, donating the land for the railroad "Y" there.

He moved to Dallas in 1919 and made his home with Mrs. Tubbs, his daughter, during the remainder of his life.

Survivors in addition to his daughter include one niece, Mrs. Bob Crump of Shallowater.

IN NEEDLES HOME

Daleth chapter of Delphian society is to meet at 9:30 p. m. Thursday with Mrs. B. E. Needles, 2430 Thirtieth.

The United States company engaged in the construction of the Pan American Highway in Ecuador has just been awarded contracts for the building of an additional section of the route and also for the preliminary studies of the projected Quevedo-Manta road.

Civil Service Exams Are Announced Here

The U. S. Civil Service commission has announced examinations for federal positions which include radio engineer, teacher (elementary, secondary, and vocational), and teacher-advisor.

The radio engineer positions are in the Federal Communications commission and are located in Washington, D. C., and throughout the United States, its territories and possessions. Salaries are $2,974 and $3,727 a year. Appropriate college study or technical experience is required.

Starting salaries for teacher positions are $2,498 and $3,351 a year, and for teacher-advisor positions, $2,724 and $2,974 annually. These positions are in the Bureau of Indian Affairs, and are located in various states and in Alaska. No written test is required, but applicants must have had appropriate college education or education and teaching experience.

Applications for the radio engineer posts must be on file not later than April 12. No closing date has been announced for the teacher positions.

Further information on these examinations may be obtained from the commission's Lubbock secretary, Elmer Potts, room 217, Federal building.

Eight Army Reserve Officers Required

Eight Army reserve officers of company grade are desired for active duty training for periods of 60 to 90 days, Major James Samsel, unit instructor of the organized reserves, announced today.

Six field artillery officers of company grade are desired for 60 days training with ROTC summer camp at Fort Sill, Okla., beginning about June 15.

Two reserve officers, preferably in grade of captain, are desired for 90 days training to assume duties of mess officer and supply officer for the ROTC summer camp at Fort Bliss, beginning about May 15.

Interested qualified reserve officers may obtain additional information on this training at the instructor's in the basement of the Lubbock county courthouse. Final selections will be made by Fourth Army headquarters.

Premier Of China Says Peace Talks With Reds Likely Soon

NANKING, March 16. (AP)—Premier Ho Ying-Chin says he believes peace negotiations with the Communists will open "very soon."

He made his prediction to newsmen as March 15 passed without receiving any definite word from the Communists that they would talk peace. Former Premier Sun Fo previously had said the negotiations would begin in Peiping sometime after March 15.

Ho is still trying to form a cabinet. He has the problem of finding ministers acceptable to the Communists and at the same time men who will enable the government to present a united front.

Not "War Criminal"

The premier said Gen. Chang Chih-Chung, political administrator for the northwest and a member without portfolio of Sun's cabinet, had agreed to enter the new cabinet on the same basis. Chang is one of the few Chinese leaders not listed by the Communists as a war criminal.

Ho said Wu Te-Chen, former deputy premier, was considering a cabinet post. The premier may take the defense ministry himself. He has held the post several times.

The arrival of two government leaders from the south today was considered a forward step by the government of acting President Li Tsung-Jen. The military governor of Formosa, Cheng Chen, and Fukien province governor, Chu Shao-Liang, flew to Nanking. Both have been considered close to retired president Chiang Kai-Shek. They came here on invitation of Li.

U. S. Aid Acceptable

Ho expressed himself today as willing to accept aid from the United States or any friendly nation. The question of American aid has become an issue because some Nationalists think any such program would antagonize the Communists.

The legislative yuan approved a reorganization plan for the cabinet. The ministries of agriculture, forestry and industry, commerce and water conservation and the national resources commission were placed under the ministry of economic affairs. The ministries of social affairs, land administration, public health, food and auditing were merged with other agencies. The government information office was abolished.

Symphony Concert Is Well Received

Tuesday night's concert of the Lubbock Symphony orchestra, given at Lubbock High school auditorium, offered a well played program of familar works with D. O. Wiley, director of the Texas Technological college band, as guest conductor, and the regular director, William A. Harrod, in the solo spot as violinist.

The eloquence of the violinist was balanced nicely with the orchestra's own share of glory. The music had the double aspect of freshness and relaxation as it rolled over the footlights and there was no forcing and no friction.

Overture Opens Concert

The concert was opened with Overture from Rossini's opera, "La Gazza Ladra," and was followed with the orchestral suite in eight movements from Tschaikowsky's "The Nutcracker Suite." In the latter composition, the various sections of the orchestra were played against each other in the tracing of the work's structure.

Harrod, who has stirred up a South Plains-wide enthusiasm since he returned here to make his home after the war, turned in a performance of Mendelssohn's "Andante" that left little to be desired. His second offering, "Gypsy Airs" by Sarasate, was played with characteristic intensity. The orchestra's support was beautifully modeled and soloist and conductor gave the audience enchanting music.

The program after intermission was opened with "Emperor Waltz," one of the most popular of Strauss' works and Mr. Harrod returned to offer three solos, done with delicate care and understanding. There were: "Romance" by Wieniawski; "Hungarian Dance No. 1" by Brahms and "On Wings of Song" by Mendelssohn. Mrs. Newton Walton, who is a violinist in her own right, as well as a pianist, played brilliant accompaniment.

For encores, recalled insistently by wild enthusiasm, Harrod played "Schon Rosmarin" by Kreisler and ::Salut d' Amour" by Elgar.

As the concluding work, the orchestra, shining in well groomed mellowness, offered Tschaikowsky's "Capriccio Italien."

Service Slated At Asbury Methodist

A service will be conducted at 7:30 o'clock tonight and two others will be conducted this week at Asbury Methodist church in observance of Dedication week, which is being observed throughout the Methodist church.

Men of the church and young people will have charge of the service tonight. Special music will be offered by men's quartets and a quartet of young people. Brief talks will be given. The public is invited, said Dr. C. A. Bickley, pastor.

Women will have charge of "A Day Apart" service to be conducted at 10:15 o'clock Thursday morning for women. The meeting which will include lunch, will close about 2 p. m.

The Men's Fellowship will have charge of a supper and men's meeting at 7:30 o'clock Friday night at the church. Temple Morrow will be main speaker.

In the Middle Ages, almost every town had its own standards of weights and measures — and there were variations between those of one trade or guild and another.

News Briefs

Last rites were to be held at 10 o'clock this morning in Amarillo for Lawrence Knorpp, 87, father of Mrs. Ray Gares of 3004 Twenty-fifth, who died early Monday in Amarillo. Mr. Knorpp, a retired rancher, had lived in Amarillo and the Panhandle area for many years.

Miss Lois Deshotels, a representative of Humble Oil and Refining company, will be on the Texas Tech campus next Tuesday to interview young women who are graduating in June or August for secretarial administrative positions with her company. Mrs. Jean Jenkins, head of the Tech Placement service, said that all girls who are interested in talking to Miss Deshotels should come to the placement office in the Administration building and make an appointment.

Professor Ivan Little of the Philosophy department at Texas Tech spoke to a group of men students in the lounge of Men's Dorm 3 at the college last night. He chose as his subject, "Physical and Psychological Aspects of Marriage." The talk was part of a dorm program to bring a speaker to address the students each week.

Special services are to be held at 7:30 o'clock tonight at Tabernacle Baptist church, when Rev. Ben B. Johnson, pastor, will discuss "The Past, the Present, and the Future Things Concerning God, Christ, and the Holy Spirit in Earth, Hell, and Heaven." Rev. Johnson announced that he will teach from a large chart giving all scripture references for the message.

Mrs. D. R. Preston, 45, wife of an Electra rancher and oil producer, and a sister of Mrs. Lon V. Smith of Floydada, died in a Wichita Falls hospital Tuesday, according to a dispatch from the Associated Press. Funeral services are to be conducted in First Baptist church of Wichita Falls. Burial will be at Chico. Other survivors include another sister, Mrs. J. V. Booth of Beaumont; a brother, Harvey F. Hawkins of Chico; and the husband.

Funeral services for Mrs. W. R. Johnson, 65, of 1618-A Fifteenth, were to be conducted at 2 p. m. today in Rix Funeral home chapel with Dr. H. I. Robinson, pastor of First Methodist church, officiating. Burial was to be in Lubbock Memorial Park cemetery with Rix Funeral home directing. Mrs. Johnson, a resident of Lubbock since 1924, died Monday night in West Texas hospital after an illness of several weeks.

Capt. and Mrs. Clarence Poff and two daughters, Karen and Cynthia Ann, of Fort Leavenworth, Kas., are guests in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Poff, 3008 Thirty-first, and Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Campbell, 1306 Arnett. The visitors will return to their home Thursday.

Rev. H. M. Hilliard, returned missionary from Puerto Rico, will speak to the Awakened Wesley Sunday school class of Asbury Methodist church at 9:45 a. m. Sunday. All members have been urged to attend.

Couple Attends Rites For Father And Son

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Munn, of 2604 Thirty-third, earlier this week attended funeral services at Boyd for Mr. Munn's brother, Bryan Munn, 49, and their father, W. E. Munn, 72, both long-time residents at Boyd.

The father died Monday in a Fort Worth hospital, following a slight stroke and a severe heart attack. The brother died Saturday in an Electra hospital after suffering a severe stroke.

Funeral services for the brother were conducted Monday in the Methodist church at Boyd. Services for the elder Mr. Munn were held Tuesday in the Boyd Baptist church.

Burial for both was in the cemetery at Boyd, where their wife and mother was interred last August.

Survivors of the elder Mr. Munn include a daughter, Miss Ina Mae Munn of Boyd; and five sons, Harold Munn of Lubbock, Raymond Munn of New York City, Arlie Munn of Bridgeport, and Paul Munn and Silas Munn, both of Boyd.

The younger Munn, in addition to the sister and brothers, is survived by his wife and one son, Donald Munn of Boyd.

Mrs. Harold Munn returned to Lubbock Tuesday night. Mr. Munn will return here Thursday.

Effort To Halt VA Hospital Cut Urged

Disabled veterans in the Lubbock county area have been asked to participate in a national effort to prevent a reduction in the number of Veterans Administration hospital facilities, Carl M. Smith, DAV Chapter 44 commander announced today.

General Jonthan M. Wainwright, national commander of the Disabled American Veterans, has pointed out in a letter to Smith that a recent VA executive order has cancelled the building of 24 news hospitals and plans a reduction of 14 others. Wainwright says this would mean a decrease of 16,000 beds available to needy veterans.

The General also took a slap at the Hoover Commission recommendation that the VA hospitals be merged with other agencies. He sees total destruction of the VA program if such a step is undertaken.

Smith said that General Wainwright's letter was very urgent in its request for local chapters exert pressure to have the full hospital program restored. Smith said that such urgency was obvious in view of the fact that ficilities were inadequate even before the proposed cuts.

TEXAS LADY LOSES 47 POUNDS

The following remarkable story shows conclusively that Barcentrate DOES take off fat.

It contains nothing harmful. In fact, it contains ingredients that make you feel better. No starvation diet—no weakness—no hunger. Barcentrate, the original grapefruit juice recipe, takes off fat quickly, safely and you can eat plenty.

Here is proof

Here is what Mrs. H. P. Bishop, Route 2, Stamford, Texas, wrote us:

"I am very glad to endorse Barcentrate, so please accept my sincere thanks and appreciation for the great benefit I derived from its use. I not only lost weight, but also looked and felt better in every way.

"I had to have a very serious operation and was told that I must lose a lot of weight before the operation could be performed. I went on a diet and tried very hard to reduce, but wasn't losing much weight until I heard of Barcentrate. I began taking it and could soon tell the difference in the way I felt and the weight I was losing. I weighed 200 pounds when I started and I lost a total of 47 pounds and was able to undergo my operation. I can truthfully recommend it to others, since it did so much for me."

At all druggists

If you are overweight and want to take off ugly fat, just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonfuls twice a day. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, safe way to take off weight, return the empty bottle for your money back.

Soviet Science Marches On Like Tom Swiftski, While Comrades Claim Credit For Inventions

BY HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, March 16—Russian science marches steadily on.

There has been nothing like it since Tom Swift, whose real name, by the way, was Swiftski. Tom was actually born on a Siberian steppe, stolen from his peasant parents by gypsies and brought here as a boy and sold by the gypsies to the General Electric corporation.

Soviet Russia, it turns out, is even more of an inventor's heaven than a worker's paradise. Every few weeks Tass, the official government news agency, discovers a forgotten Russian scientist who really is responsible for some basic invention claimed by the capitalistic Western world.

Latest Is Schilling

The latest is Comrade Pavel Schilling, who Tass says put together a telephone 44 years before Alexander Graham Bell built his first Ameche. Comrade Schilling, who must have hid his light under a czarist bushel, is also credited with making the first submarine cable and inventing the original system for stringing telegraph wires on poles.

One thing is sure: Somebody is stringing somebody.

Other wonders previously claimed for Soviet scientist are the invention of the radio, the electric light, the airplane, the parachute, the transformer, and structural steel. They also are held to have discovered penicillin and the electrical nature of lightning.

Johnny-Come-Latelys

This theory makes Johnny-come-latelys of Marconi, Thomas Edison, Benjamin Franklin, and the Wright brothers. About all the Western world now can claim as its own are the ice cream cone, the five-cent cigar, nylon, pyramid clubs, the chocolate sundae, and the two-way stretch girdle.

But if Russia invented the machine age, why did it come to flower in the Western world? Are the Russians inventing these gadgets and exporting them to us in the secret hope we will destroy ourselves with the worries of a mechanized life?

Maybe that is the hidden aim of Soviet scientists. Perhaps they are trying to get us to fret ourselves to death with thingamajigs.

Certainly they aren't interested in building a better mousetrap so the world will beat a path to Russia's door. Ivan doesn't want to open that door.

One of the first earliest American eating places was Philadelphia's "Blue Anchor Tavern," opened as early as 1683 or 1684.

Vegetarian Assails Use Of Meat

Meat-Eating Diplomats Said Big Threat To World Peace

By LEO TURNER
United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, March 16.—The way to avoid World War III, Neil Ehmke said today is to stop serving meat to United Nations delegates.

Then make all the world's statesmen stop eating meat; then all the world's people.

"Let them eat vegetables and live out a healthful life in peace," Ehmke said.

A vegetable diet would make diplomats strong but docile, like the elephant and the horse, said Ermke, who, if you haven't guessed, is a big wheel in the American vegetarian movement.

Menu Is Given

"Russia and the United States could settle their differences if they would appoint diplomats who are not meat eaters," Ehmke said. "Meat eating is a direct cause of war."

Before these diplomats sat down to discuss world affairs, they would invite United Nations delegates to a banquet consisting of:

Celery and olives
Tropical fruit cup
Garden vegetable soup
Nut meat roast
Steamed broccoli, California carrots
Baked potato, cranberry sauce
Vegetable salad a la farmfood
Pumpkin or apple pie
Postum.

"The process of killing begins with small animals, moves on to large animals and then to man," Ehmke said.

To Hold Convention

Ehmke, who lives at Great Neck, Long Island, near the United Nations headquarters at Lake Success, is secretary of the American vegetarian conference, which hopes to turn vegetarianism from a fad to a force in America. The conference announced today that a national constitutional convention would be held August 21-27 at Lake Geneva, Wis., to organize the nation's vegetarians (Ehmke's estimate, 12 per cent of the population) into a unified movement. The conference envisions fellowship groups, clubs, excursions, schools and hospitals.

It plans to affiliate with the International Vegetarian union of London, which was making great strides after World War I, until a bunch of meat-eaters started World War II.

Deformed Child Will Get Artificial Limbs

PITTSBURGH, March 16. (AP) — Three-year-old Evelyn Stypula, born with deformed legs and hands, may soon be playing like the other children in her neighborhood.

Doctors are hoping, it was learned yesterday, to provide the little blonde child with a normal life by means of artificial limbs.

Last Feb. 15, Evelyn's right leg was amputated at Mercy hospital. On March 3, her left leg was removed also and soon the useless stump of her left arm will be amputated.

Her right hand is deformed, too. The index finger is missing and the other three fingers are grown together. Her parents hope, however, she may be able to use that hand.

"It was a heartbreaking decision to make," said her mother, Mrs. Charles Stypula, speaking of the operations. "But it was more heart-breaking to watch her crawl on the floor. The doctors said that artificial limbs were the only way to make her walk."

Movie Moguls Use "Big" And "Story" For Film Titles

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, March 16.—The movie moguls are in a title rut. They seem to be running out of new and different names for their pictures, with the result that titles are beginning to sound the story. Greatest trend seems to be the use of "story," as in "The Jolson Story." The following "story" titles have been announced.

The Western, Associated Press, Washington, Miami, Miami Beach, East Side, Far East, Broadway, Bail Bond, Denver Mint, O'Dwyer, West Point, Big Time and San Francisco.

Warners Seek Talent

Maybe someone can film the life of William Wetmore Story, U. S. poet and culptor. Call it "The Story Story," natch.

There also seems to be a trend toward "Big" (Clock, Sombrero, Gun, Steal, Brother, Kill, Time Story) and "Canyon" (Red, Dark, Black, Copper, Grand). So far no "Big Canyon."

The town is talking about the talent quest of Warner brothers, which seems to be the CBS of the movie industry. In the past two weeks, the studio has signed John Wayne, Randolph Scott, Kirk Douglas, John Garfield and Jimmy Cagney and is reportedly angling Douglas Fairbanks, jr., and Burt Lancaster.

Square Dance Crazy

Hollywood is going square dance crazy. Film famous are do-si-doing all over town. Most serious group is the Wednesday night club which includes the Dick Powells, George Murphys, Edgar Bergens, Justin Darts, Leonard Firestones and Bob Montgomerys.

Ronald Colman was a member of the bunch, but he was blackballed. He was too professional. To show you how seriously the folks take their square dancing, Colman nearly had a tiff with Jimmy Stewart because Jimmy was acting too gay and not follow-

Chick Production In February Is Largest

WASHINGTON, March 16 (AP)—There ought to be a lot of chicken to eat this spring and summer.

The Agriculture department reported that commercial hatchery production of baby chicks in February was the largest on record. The output for the January-February period is 50 per cent above a year ago. Furthermore, eggs in incubators March 1 were 27 per cent larger than a year ago, and bookings for delivery in April were 33 per cent larger than a year ago.

DDT's newest job is helping to increase the yield of peanuts. The famed insecticide, added to the traditional sulphur dust used by farmers to fight peanut leaf spot, has been found to increase the crop yield.

State Representative From Groesbeck Dies

AUSTIN, March 16. (AP) — Death has ended the career of 69-year-old Rep. A. Robinson Henderson of Groesbeck, who was in his third consecutive term as representative from Limestone county.

The former mayor of Groesbeck died late last night, apparently of a heart attack, just as he seemed to be recovering from an illness of four days.

Henderson, who also had served on the school board and city council of Groesbeck, died at his apartment in a downtown hotel, with his wife at his bedside.

Bowling Green Favored In NIT Meet

Two Tilts Are Set Thursday

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Mrch 16.—Bowling Green of Ohio, perhaps the hottest team at the moment in college basketball, will carry a 15-game winning streak into the semi-finals of the National Invitation tournament tomorrow night at Madison Square Garden.

The fighting Falcons, who haven't dropped a decision since Jan. 11 when they bowed 63-61 to Kentucky, rule a four-point favorite over San Francisco.

Taylor Meets Bradley

The other semi-final, which opens the program at 8 p. m. (EST) matches Loyola of Chicago and Bradley university on a "take-your-choice" basis.

Bowling Green has become a solid favorite to take the championship after the surprising quarter-final expulsion of top-ranked Kentucky and defending champion St. Louis.

Bradley Shows Power

Loyola, 67-56 winner over Kentucky, has gained many supporters. Jack Kerris, the Loyola center who shackled the Cats' big Alex Groza, is one of the tournament's individual standouts.

Bradley will be hard to trip if it can maintain the drive and scoring punch it showed in spending Western Kentucky, 95 to 86. San Francisco has a team of juniors and sophs, full of fight and hustle.

Tag Team Bout Tops Mat Card

The main feature on Sled Allens wrestling card tonight at the arena is an Australian tag team match with four wrestlers in the ring at the same time.

Lots of action is expected when the foursome enter the ring, and anything can happen, especially since one of the grapplers is Pat O'Dowdy, who usually goes from rough to rougher in his matches.

Fenton On Card

Matched with O'Dowdy is Rod Fenton of Edmonton, Canada, and they will go against Buck Weaver and George Overhauls. Weaver and Overhauls accepted a challenge made by Pat last week that he could whip any two wrestlers in this area at the same time, but they agreed to let O'Dowdy choose a partner.

Rowdy heard that Fenton would be in for the matches this week, and he elected to go into the ring with the Canuck as his partner. Overhauls is a favorite among fans in Lubbock and has displayed some fine wrestling for a newcomer. Last week he defeated Balk Estes.

In the first event, two out of three falls, Billy Sandow comes into town to grapple with Dory Funk. Funk was held to a draw last week in a match with Weaver, and he is anxious to score a win over somebody, and Sandow seems to be the person he has in mind.

But Sandow is a 'husky, ringwise fighter who believes that Funk is fooling himself if he considers Sandow a pushover. And he thinks he may turn the tables on Funk.

Tickets are on sale at Wylies Drug store, and the matches get started at 8 o'clock.

Westerner Cafe climbed into a third place tie with Walton's Men store in the major Bowling league last night, defeating Hub Clothiers.

Hemphill-Wells compiled the top team series of the night with 2931 pins in downing Waltons. Waltons copped single game honors with a fine 1079 score. Barney Stagner rolled 244-627, and Charley Begey scattered the wood for 203-607 for Hemphill-Wells. Two Walton keglers kept their team in the heat of the match. Marvin Struve bowled a fine 226-627 series, and 234-606 was rolled by Jim Buckner.

High individual honors were taken by Bill Nelms, ace Walton kegler, as he scattered 266 pins in his first game, having a 653 triple. High individual series went to Jay O'Keefe of Hemphill Wells with 236-659.

McFarland-Maisen, paced by E. A. Christensen with 225-638, lowered the boom on Mission Orange. High scores for Mission Orange were 211-617 by T. J. Brown, and 230-615 by Tubby Reed.

The standings: McFarland-Maisen, 67 points; Hemphill-Wells, 63 points; Waltons, 55 points; Westerner Cafe, 55 points; Mission Orange, 47 points; and Hub Clothiers, 37 points.

Joe Louis To Fight In Houston Tonight

DALLAS, March 16 (AP)—Joe Louis, former heavyweight boxing champion, fights an exhibition in Houston tonight and another here Friday night.

He stopped here yesterday en route to Houston. "I'm retired permanent," he told interviewers.

In Houston he fights Elmer (Violent) Ray and here he will go four rounds with Tex Boddie of Omaha.

Pro-Amateur Group Holds Meeting Here

Annual West Texas Open Golf Tourney Awarded To Amarillo

Amarillo landed one of the juicier golf plums yesterday at the annual spring meeting of the West Texas Pro-amateur Golf association, the Ross Rogers Municipal course submitting the high bid for the annual West Texas open tournament.

Signed contracts were in the pocket of Chuck Klein, Amarillo pro, when he left here last night following a meeting of the board of directors. The tournament will be held from Sept. 28 through Oct. 2.

Earlier in the day, professional an amateur members of the association approved dates for 12 summer tournaments, with the first set for March 31 at Lamesa. The annual open, of course, will close the list.

Lubbock Awarded Meet

Lubbock was awarded the Women's West Texas tournament to be staged here June 13. It will be a pro-ladies tourney, three women golfers playing in a foursome with one pro.

After the Lamesa tournament, the golfers will take part in tournaments successively at Big Spring on April 7; at Sweetwater April 21; at Huber Country club, Borger, May 19; at Brownwood June 8; at Abilene June 30; at Hobbs, N. M., July 19; at Plainview Aug. 3; at Odessa Aug. 10; at Wichita Falls Sept. 2; at Winkler Country club (between Wink and Kermit) Sept. 20; and the annual open tourney in Amarillo Sept. 28 through Oct. 2.

Ray Garrett of Wichita Falls, president, called the director's meeting, with Gene Mitchell of Plainview, secretary-treasurer, Red Bost of San Angelo, tournament director, and Klein, a director, present. Other directors who failed to attend the meeting include John Austin of Pampa, Shanty Hogan of Lamesa, E. B. Lovvorn of Sweetwater and Sherley Robbins of Big Spring, professionals; and C. D. Koen of Plainview and R. K. Underwood of Wichita Falls, amateurs.

In the 18-hole low ball match that followed the morning meeting of the association, Mitchell led a team composed of Amateurs Jack Williams, E. M. Carter and Mrs. Chuck Klein. They walked off with first on the basis of a low ball tally of 60.

Second in the tourney went to three amateurs captained by Pro Joe Houck of Borger, who turned in a team 61 score, and third place went to Bost and three amateurs, who shot 63. Members of Houck's team were Cecil Dees, H. J. Patterson and John Trout, while Bost's team was composed of Red Cruce, Ralph Johnson and Mrs. Bob Copeland.

A total of 14 pros and 39 amateurs turned up for the meeting and the golf match, most of the participants wearing winter underwear, pajamas or other cold-defying clothing under regular clothes. A chill wind swept the course all day and made play uncomfortable. Sweaters and windproof jackets were in style, but several of the scores turned in were better than average under conditions.

Bost and Klein tied for prosweepstake honors, each with a 67, while Mitchell took third with a 69.

The Government of Victoria, Australia, has placed a $4,000,000 order for 50 steam locomotives.

Pro All-Stars Are Revealed

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, March 16—Headed naturally by the Minneapolis Lakers' mountainous George Mikan, the Basketball Association of America's all-star team announced today offered conclusive proof of two factors in connection with covering a court for cash.

1. If you're a midget of six feet or less, your chances of being a pro basketball star are pretty slim.

2. No section of the country has a monopoly on turning out dead eye Richards when it comes to hitting the hoop.

The two teams, selected by 46 sportswriters and broadcasters in the league's 12 cities, nail these facts solidly to the backboard. The selections:

Mikan Is Honored

First team: George Mikan, Minneapolis and Depaul of Chicago; Jim Pollard, Minneapolis and Stanford; Joe Fulks, Philadelphia Warriors and Murray State Teachers of Kentucky; Max Zaslofsky, Chicago Stags and St. John's of Brooklyn, and Bob Davies, Rochester Royals and Seton Hall.

Second team: Bob Feerick, Washington Capitals and Santa Clara; Bones McKinney, Washington and North Carolina State; Ken Sailors, Providence Steamrollers and Wyoming; Arnie Risen, Rochester and Ohio State, and John Logan, St. Louis Bombers and Indiana.

From those affiliations, pro fans will notice that Boston, New York, Baltimore, Fort Wayne and Indianapolis failed to place a man on either team. But from the point of sectional development, there are three each from the west and midwest and two each from the south and east.

Most Star Tall

From a height angle, most of the stars qualify as balcony peeping toms. Kikan is 6.10; Risen 6.9; McKinney 6.6; Pollard and Fulks each 6.5; Feerick 6.3; Zaslofsky 6.2, and Davies and Logan each 6.1.

The only small man who got a nod was Sailors, an undersized lad of 5.11 who was a standout with a losing ball club because he is a playmaker and an exceptional ball handler.

All in all, there can be little complaint about the teams. Mikan is the big man of the league, explaining his unanimous selection. The former Depaul ace, with 1,586 points on 546 field goals and 494 free throws, has broken every BAA scoring mark with the exception of the single game high of 63 points held by Fulks.

Pollard, who although "only" 6.5 manages to scrape his elbows continually on the basket rim, is a fine playmaker, rebound man and scorer.

Fulks probably has the most varied assortment of shots the game ever has seen. He set the league's all-time scoring mark before Mikan moved into the loop and blotted him out. Zaslofsky, known as "The Touch" because of his shooting "feel," is a polished form player. Davies, one of the best dribblers and ball handlers in the game, is exceptionally fast and thus a standout on drive-ins.

HUGHSON TO HURL

SARASOTA, Fla. Mar. 16. (AP)—One of the questions plaguing Boston's Red Sox and their supporters in the American league flag chase may be answered partly today when Tex Hughson takes the mound against the St. Louis Cardinals.

Gridders Hold Lengthy Drill

Cool weather, making it seem more like fall rather than early spring, greeted Texas Tech football players yesterday afternoon and instilled additional spirit into the big Red Raider squad.

Yesterday's work featured additional contact work, with emphasis on the body bruising work of the line. Mistakes that showed up Saturday and natural weakness was worked on, with both offensive and defensive assignments being polished.

Next fall, when the Raiders play an 11-game schedule, there is a strong possibility that last year's freshmen will play an important role as sophomores. Several of the yearlings have shown that they are going to be hard to dislodge from positions, if not on the starting varsity, at least on the reserve line.

Jerrell Price of Brownfield, an all-state tackle in high school, has been particularly impressive. Price had two men on him last Saturday and even they didn't succeed in stopping him. He has been a horse for punishment and has dished out a generous portion.

Three other Fish who have shown to good advantage have been Don Anthony of Amarillo, a guard; Jack Davis of Littlefield, an end; and Aubrey Phillips of Fort Worth, a center. All three have shown that they must be counted among the leading contender spots along with the varsity men from last year.

Backfield strength, which is worrying Coach Dell Morgan, appears to have received some new life from a trio of freshmen, all of whom give promise of developing a great.

Outstanding on the list is John Moughan of Weatherford, a quarterback candidate. If Moughan's showing continues to be as impressive as it has been so far, he may well see action next fall. His passing has been his best asset so far, but he also has shown the ability to run a team smoothly.

Two other first-year backs have shown up well. Bobby Close of Shamrock, whose father was one of Texas' top products, and Jack Young of Andrews, a rabbit-like speedster, have both exhibited some fine running.

Transfer students also have given promise of developing into players who will see a lot of action. Dick and Hugh Jackson of Phillips may well be hard to keep off the varsity at ends, while Bill Glidewell of Asheville, Ala., shows signs of giving the tackles depth.

Cotton Center Girls Advance In Tourney

DALLAS, March 16 (AP)—Mesquite and Cotton Center led the way into the semi-finals of the Southwestern Girls AAU basketball tourney here last night, each scoring a decisive victory over a well-rated opponent.

Mesquite drubbed Milford, 39-14, and Cotton Center eliminated Quinlan, 54-30.

Yantis whipped Frisco, 25-16, and Penelope stopped Comanche, 31-24, to complete the bracket.

Play in the consolation bracket reached the quarter-final round. Campbell, a first-round loser, is in the semi-finals on two byes. Morse, Allen, Woodhouse, Gallatin, Priddy and Desdemona won Tuesday games.

A cubic mile of seawater contains about 4,500,000 tons of magnesium.

Grove Is Selected For All-Loop Team

TUCSON, Ariz., March 16. (Special)—Only one player from Texas Tech, Center Don Grove, was named to the Border Conference's All-Conference team.

For the third successive year, the towering pivot man from Monument, N. M., was named to the first team at center. Grove turned in an outstanding performance again this year, averaging 14.6 points per game, third highest in the loop, and pacing his team to second place in the final standings.

Arizona Places One

Grove thus joins Garland Head of Texas Tech as the only other player in conference history to be named to the all-conference team three consecutive years. Head, now coaching at Spearman, was named to the all-tournament team following the recent Texas Athletic Federation tournament at San Angelo. Head lettered at Tech in 1942-43, 1945-46 and 1946-47.

Arizona, which won the Border loop title for the fourth year in succession, placed only one man o nthe first team, Leon Blevins. Blevins was a Wildcat leader all year and after the recent playoffs against Baylor and Arkansas, sportswriters in Dallas called him the best ball handler to be seen on Dallas courts this year. He was a forward.

Second Team Named

The first team is rounded out by Wayne See of Flagstaff, a forward, J. M. "Slats" Stagner of Hardin-Simmons and Hubert Kitchens of West Texas State Teachers college guards. All three were sparkplugs of their teams and among the leading scorers in the conference.

The second team failed to have a single player from Texas Tech, but Arizona landed one place. Members of the second string were Ned Wallace of New Mexico and Wade Oliver of Tempe, forwards; Junior Crum of Arizona, center; and David Story of New Mexico A&M and J. W. Malone of WTSTC.

Three players were given honorable mention: Vincent Cisterna of Flagstaff, Ventura Irraball of Texas Mines and Bill Mann of Arizona.

ABRAMS DODGERS PHENOM

VERO BEACH, Fla. Mar. 16. (AP)—The hitting of rookie Outfielder Cal Abrams continue to be the talk in the camp of the Brooklyn Dodgers. Abrams, a Brooklyn native, got two singles against the Philadelphia Athletics yesterday to boost his total to eight for 13, a blistering .538 pace.

Yesterday's golf activities at the Lubbock Country club produced a good deal of banter after the 18 holes had been played. It wasn't exactly golf weather, with a keen, cutting breeze sweeping down from Amarillo, where the barbed wire fence was taking a pounding. But the 50 or more linksmen who braved the wind enjoyed themselves and the 19th hole was particularly attractive. While the golfers gradually warmed up from the effect of wind in their face for 18 holes, they discussed the course and the scores.

Raymond Marshall, who recently shot a six under par, was talking about some of the bad luck he had had and H. J. Patterson, across the room seconded him. Pat thought the greens were slow yesterday, principally because of the cold. He cited various times where putts rolled to a stop just short of the cup when originally they would have gone past. The players agreed that the course, considering the time of year, was in fine shape and that a continuation of the recent good weather would put it in top shape. All in all, yesterday's 18 holes match was a success.

The spring meeting of the West Texas Pro-Amateur Golf association also succeeded in getting several tournament dates set. And Lubbock came in for special honor with the appointment of the local club host to the Women's West Texas tournament. It will be a gala occasion for Lubbock women and an opportunity for the visiting golfers to view the fine new club we have here. The tournament will attract the best women golfers in this part of Texas and a large number of pros will be here also. We'd like to see the annual WT Pro-Amateur open here in the near future and believe that it can be secured—with proper support.

The Border Conference all-conference team, which we received by way of Texas Tech yesterday, will be a surprise to most sports followers. It doesn't agree with our calculations at all. There is room for debate about the first team, although we have no argument with the selections of Leon Beevins, Don Grove and J. M. Stagner. They were the sparkplugs of their respective teams. But for all of Wayne See's scoring ability, we would think the team stronger with the combined offensive and defensive ability of either Gene Gibson or Whistle Banks. One of them should have been on the first team and the other should have been on the second.

As it was, neither player received as much as honorable mention. So far as that goes, we'd much rather have J. W. Malone on our first team than Hubert Kitchens, a "cutie" on the floor. As for the second team, it would be hard to keep off deserving players like Wallace, Crum, Sharp and Malone, but Oliver is a surprise. As for the honorable mention list of three players, it would have been far better to have stopped with two teams, rather than to name only three players. However, second place Texas Tech, which placed only one man out of 13 chosen, was paid enormous tribute, even though we suspect that that was not the motive.

The fact that other teams could place more men, but not win, indicates that the Raiders achieved what Polk Robison strives for each year—a team that is just what the name implies. Polk would rather have every man in the linup break into the scoring column than have one man can 20 or 30 points. From the moment the season opens, Polk emphasizes the necessity for unity and teamwork. He attempts to get the players working as a group, not for the glorification of any one player. As a result, he produced a team that was a winner, even though it didn't win the crown. The Raider basketball squad was a credit to Tech all the way.

We pass on the following information because it will be of special interest to all high schools in the area that have girls basketball teams. Jeff Hooper, who was an official at the recent state tournament and who teaches accounting at Tech, brings back word that Texas girls are going to be awestruck in Iowa. The state champions have agreed to go to Iowa for two games against an Iowa championship team in April. Tickets for the game in Des Moines have been sold out since before Christmas and a crowd of 20,000 or more is anticipated. And the same is true for the second game. It will be quite an experience for the girls.

We also hear that WTSTC Coach Gus Miller had to visit the oculist after his trip to Kansas City for the NAIB tourney. Seems Gus alegedly had the inside track to Lewis Martin of Dimmitt, that fine Class B high school star, and his buddy, Carl Jowell. Both boys made all-regional and impressed fans with their play here. When Gus reached Kaycee, who should he see in Raider uniform but Martin! Seems the Dimmitt lad was a guest of the TNM & O Coaches, Inc., and they took care of his trip. After that, we couldn't be surprised if he landed at Tech—and we hope he does. He and Jowell were two of the finest players in pdTHM ARF ODW players to perform in the regional tourney.

Tennis, Golf Matches Set

Texas Tech golf and tennis teams will open the season March 24 and March 25 with invasions of Fort Worth and Dallas respectively.

The Red Raiders will meet Texas Christian university in Fort Worth on March 24 and will go to Dallas the following day for competition against Southern Methodist.

The Raider golf team is the weakest of the two squads at the present time, with no lettermen back this year. Ted Forsythe and John Trout, both Lubbock boys, competed in matches last year and have experience, giving them an inside edge.

Tryouts are scheduled this week, weather permitting, to select the four men and alternates who will compose the team. A leading candidate is Zac Henderson of Quanah, football letterman.

Jake Broyles of Lamesa and Glen Ivy of Sweetwater head the tennis candidates. Both are lettermen from last year with lots of experience behind them and are expected to be the backbone of the Raider team.

Making strong bids for the tennis team will be Eddie Scudday and David Hester of Lubbock and Carl Schmidt of Mexico City. All three played a few matches last year and all but Hester earned letters.

Gassers Open Drills Sunday

By SPEC GAMMON
News Herald Sports Editor

BORGER, March 16.—The Borger Gassers, with hopes high for a first-division berth in the West Texas-New Mexico League this season, will assemble in Paris on Sunday for the beginning of a 30-day spring training session.

Many personnel changes have been made since last year's seventh-place finish.

First Baseman Leon Mitchell has been traded to Wichita Falls for Jack Crowe, outfielder. Crowe was with Borger last year, but was the property of Wichita Falls.

Catcher Bob Krmolisch and Third Baseman Tommy Fox have been sold to Texarkana. At the same time the Gassers purchased Vallie Eaves, veteran righthand pitcher, from Texarkana.

Tony Fiarito, who hit .411 for Lamesa last season, was purchased from Midland during the winter, but two weeks ago underwent an arm operation in Chicago and is not expected to be ready for action until the latter part of April.

Eddie Carnett, in his second year as Borger manager, intends to take his regular turn on the mound. Last year he won five and lost two while dividing his time between centerfield and the pitcher's box. He hit a lusty .409 in 135 games.

Carnett is counting on Eaves and Clayton Fries, southpaw, who won 17 and lost seven for Borger last year, as starting hurlers and hopes to get improved work out of returnees Hugh King, J. L. Peterson and Jim Cain.

The other hurlers Carnett hopes will help the club are Ernie Eaccio, who was drafted from Odessa of the Longhorn League and Marion Grant, drafted from Lawton, Okla., of the Sooner League.

The club's inner defense will be weak with the loss of Mitchell, Fox and Larry Gilchrist, last year's regular shortstop, who is the club's full time business manager now. Only Verdun Gilchrist, steady second baseman, is returning from last year's infield.

Huber Park, home of the Gassers, has been given a face-lifting. A row of box seats has been added, new rest rooms have been installed, an eight-foot wire barrier has been erected on top of the shortfield walls, a dressingroom for umpires has been constructed and the press box has been doubled, with half for the newspapermen and half for the radio.

The club will start off its first full season under its new owners, D. M. Spector and Dr. Marshall Dykes, who purchased the franchise at the end of last season.

The Gassers will play an 18-game exhibition schedule during spring training.

Lockney Team Beats Olton

LOCKNEY, March 16, (Special)—A crowd estimated at 1,000 persons turned out for a two-school boxing tournament here last night which saw Lockney defeat Olton, 9-5, in team matches.

Good fighting highlighted the card, and the high school youngsters are adept at throwing the leather. Two knockouts and one TKO thrilled the crowd.

One of the best bouts of the night was an exhibition match between Calvin Pyle, middleweight, and Bill Thompson, heavyweight, both of Lockney. The lighter Pyle dropped Thompson for the count in the third round of a thrilling match.

Ray Ferguson of Lockney lost no time in stopping Benny Moore via the KO route in 0:20 of the first round. A technical knockout was scored by Bob Gollett of Olton over Charles Dippery in one minute of the third round of their match.

Next week Lockney will meet Paducah in another team match.

Baylor Slates Grid Tilt Saturday Night

WACO, March 16. (AP)—A big intra-squad game Saturday night will mark the end of the spring football training for the Baylor Bears.

The contest, sponsored by the Waco Quarterbacks club, will pit two Bear squads equally divided by the Baylor coaching staff.

MIZE IS INJURED

PHOENIX, Ariz. Mar. 16. (AP)—Johnny Mize, slugging New York Giant first baseman, is resting a stiff knee. Mize stumbled on the base paths recently.

Westerner Cagers Are Given Letters

Basketball lettermen for the recently concluded season were announced Tuesday afternoon by Westerner Coach Roy Morris.

The names of the 10 lettermen were given at a meeting of the players at Chapman fieldhouse. Those earning letters were Jim Wilson, Jimmy Sexton, Morris Turner, Neil Sikes, Charles Galey, Blair Hankins, Bob Rooker, Jack Hensley, Jessie Fullerton, and Jearl Pierce.

Only three lettermen will return next year—Wilson, Sexton, and Turner—but Coach Morris is counting on strong reinforcements from the B team to make the Westerners a threat for the district championship. He said that this year's B squad is "the best since I have been in Lubbock."

One of the positions hardest to fill next year will be the one vacated by Charles Galey, all-district and all-state candidate. He led the team throughout the year and was high-scorer in the district over the entire season.

Another all-state choice, Wilson, will probably have the team molded around his center position. Along with Sexton, the two pivot posts are in capable hands. Sexton was chosen for the all-district second team and is a capable ballhandler and good shot from the post.

A discussion of awards for the players consumed the remainder of the meeting. An effort was made to standardize awards.

Tom Adams Defeats Oklahoma Fighter

ABILENE, March 16 (AP)—Hardin-Simmons university boxers defeated a team from Cameron college of Lawton, Okla., in bouts here last night. The score was 4-3.

Tom Adams, three-time Texas light-heavyweight Golden Gloves champion, decisioned Earl Keele, former Oklahoma champion. Bill Burkhart, finalist in the Texas Golden Gloves welterweight group, outpointed Eddie Washburn, another former champ.

Heavyweight Beau Champagne of Oklahoma won by TKO over Kenny Beaver in the second round. James fowler, featherweight, decisioned D'Armand Henry of the Cameron school.

Dixiecrats, GOP Win Way In Senate Filibuster Compromise

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 16.—Its long filibuster over and an alliance of Republicans and southern Democrats in control, the Senate today moved toward a showdown on a modified talk-gagging change in its rules.

Before the chamber is a majority-backed proposal—bitterly opposed as ineffective by a minority made up of Truman Democrats—to let the "yes" votes of 64 of the 96 senators end debate on most business.

Republicans and southern Democrats who sponsored it wrote into this compromise a provision for unlimited debate whenever a motion is made to change the Senate rules.

Filibuster Is Ended

That's the kind of a motion—made Feb. 28 by Democratic Leader Lucas of Illinois—which kept the Senate knotted in a filibuster that came to a dramatic end at 10 p. m., (CST) last night.

At that hour, bipartisan circulators of the compromise announced they had the pledges of 52 members to support it, and it alone. The 52 included 30 Democrats and 22 Republicans.

At a signal, Sen. Olin Johnston (D-SC) ended a four hour and 20 minute speech. He was the fourteenth Dixie lawmaker to hold the floor since the controversy began last month.

Johnston sat down.

The filibuster was over.

Senators were summoned by a quorum call.

When they had straggled in—some of them, sleepy-eyed, from cots in nearby cloakrooms—Vice President Barkley called for a vote on the motion Lucas had made 16 days before.

The vote was 78 to 0 to take up a resolution offered by Sen. Wherry of Nebraska, the GOP floor leader, and Sen. Hayden (D-Ariz). It proposes that two-thirds of senators voting be permitted to gag debate at any time.

When Truman Democrats rejected earlier compromise efforts, Wherry and Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) took the lead in forming the new compromise with the southerners.

Lucas Said Bitter

Assured that 52 senators will vote down proposals to gag debate either by a majority of those voting or by 49 senators, the southerners joined with the Republicans to take command of the situation and move the administration out.

From the sidelines, Lucas was bitter.

He told reporters the GOP-Dixie compromise "closes the door on any civil rights legislation."

He said it will be almost impossible to get 64 senators to agree to end debate on any controversial matter. He said he will offer a proposal under which 49, a "constitutional" majority of the Senate, could accomplish that result. It seemed doomed to defeat.

Wherry retorted that the compromise "opens the door for legislation that we have not had before the Senate in years.

Costello's Denial Of Racket Connection Leaves Warren Cold

SACRAMENTO, Calif., March 16 (AP)—Frank Costello's denial in New York that he heads a nationwide slot machine racket leaves Gov. Earl Warren cold.

"My experience with rackets, and it goes back quite a few years (Warren previously was attorney general and before that a county prosecutor), is that the people in them admit nothing," he told a press conference yesterday.

Letter Made Public

Costello was named by Warren's state commission on organized crime as reputed head of slot interests doing an annual business of $2,000,000,000. Costello's attorney made public a letter which he said his client had written Warren denying any knowledge of the slot machine racket.

Saying he had not received a letter, Warren said "I am not a correspondent of Mr. Costello and if I did (receive a letter) I would never expect it to admit anything."

Would Be Fine

Warren Olney, III, the crime commission's chief counsel, advised Costello had said he was willing to come to California for a hearing, exclaimed: "Fine. There are a number of things we'd like to question him about, including 'Bugsy' Siegel."

Siegel was slain gangster style in Beverly Hills, Calif., in 1947 and the crime commission said he was a Costello associate.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, March 16. (AP)—An increase in selling pressure late in the session sent all grains lower on the board of trade today.

The selling apparently represented liquidation by bulls who had grown tired of waiting and hoping for a price rally. Wheat lost more than 3 cents and corn more than 2 cents at times.

Selling followed a statement by Rep. Kee (D-W. Va) that there may be a "tight squeeze" in getting the ECA bill through Congress before April 3, the date the ECA says its funds will be exhausted. It is these funds which are used for export grain buying.

Traders also noted wheat receipts again were running well over a year ago. The first seven markets in the Southwest to report today said they received 597 cars of wheat compared with 253 on this date a year ago.

Wheat closed 1 to 3¼ lower, May $2.14½-¼, corn was 1¾-2½ lower, May $1.27½-¾, oats were unchanged to ⅝ lower, May 67, rye was ½ lower to 1 cent higher, May $1.24, soybeans were 1¾ to 3 cents lower, March $2.37¼-2.37, and lard was 27 to 37 cents a hundred pounds lower, March $12.05.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, March 16. (AP)—Wheat No. 1 hard 2.37¾-42¾.
Oats No. 2 white 89½-90½.
Corn No. 2 white 1.68¾-71¾.

Committee On Youth Will Be Organized

A meeting for the purpose of organizing a permanent county committee under the Texas Committee for Children and Youth is to be held at 9:30 a. m. Thursday in the offices of County Judge Walter Davies, according to announcement by Mrs. H. F. Godeke, newly-appointed chairman of the county organization.

Mrs. Godeke said today that the county committee will work with the state organization in obtaining information to be used in planning for the White House Children and Youth conference which is to be held in 1950.

Data to be obtained will include child care and protection, education, health, handicapped children, housing, library service, recreation, and religion.

Mrs. Godeke's recent appointment was made by Mrs. George H. Abbott of Dallas, state chairman, and the executive committee of the Texas Committee of Children and Youth.

Among those who have been asked to attend Thursday morning's meeting are Judge Davies, County Superintendent Roy Boyd, and John W. Wilson, as well as representatives of the Salvation Army, the City-County Welfare organization, and the health department.

treaties. A high source in London said Romania had exceeded its land force quota of 120,000 men and that Bulgaria had passed its army total of 55,000 troops.

Iran Snaps Back

3. Iran snapped back at the Russians with a statement that the Soviet-Iranian treaty of 1921 should be scrapped. A foreign office official said Iran should cast its lot with the west by making a military alliance with the United States. For several days the Russians have been putting the diplomatic squeeze on Iran and today the Iranian spokesman said the Soviet press and radio attacks had exceeded "civilized standards."

4. Russia made noises like she already had developed the atomic bomb and had gone on to bigger things. A Soviet scientist, writing in the Literary Gazette, said Russian atomic energy experts now were able to solve problems beyond the grasp of anyone abroad.

Mysterious Planes

5. The Italian press carried reports that mysterious planes have been parachuting what seemed to be war material in northern Italy. The reports were printed just as the Communists called for a nationwide protest against Italy's plan to join the North Atlantic pact.

The western powers were setting a fast pace in rearming.

Doubling Jet Forces

Britain, as if trying to set the pace, announced that it was doubling its jet fighter strength. Britain also agreed to let France start manufacture of the British Vampire jet fighter. This plane has a range of 600 miles and a speed of 531 miles per hour.

An outline of the rearmament effort was approved by the foreign ministers of the five western union countries—Britain, France, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg—in the meeting that ended last night.

The plan will be submitted to other countries that join the Atlantic pact so that all members can coordinate their work in the effort to stop the spread of Communism.

Details Kept Secret

The western countries' defense program was drawn up behind closed doors under virtual wartime secrecy and many details were kept secret.

It was known, however, that the five-power conference decided to defend a line running from Switzerland along the Rhine river to the North sea.

This would require each of the five powers to keep on instant call specified land forces and, in certain cases, sea and air units. It was understood that the plan asked France to supply 24 divisions, Britain six, Belgium three, Holland two and Luxembourg one.

This was less than the strength which the five nations' defense experts originally requested. Tentative plans for the defense forces were written at Paris, where the western union countries have a defense council under Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery.

Requests Are Reduced

It was believed the original requests were reduced after the foreign ministers consulted their economic experts on just how much rearming could be done without damaging the drive for Europe's economic recovery.

Europe must be economically healthy, the economic experts argued, if it is to make the best-possible defense effort.

Harvey said he received his information from "planners in some of the services." Air Minister Arthur Henderson immediately objected to Harvey's relaying reports from men doing confidential work.

Crisis Long Predicted

American and other western diplomates long have predicted a diplomatic crisis with Russia this spring or summer. The issue may turn on Russia's reaction to signing of the Atlantic pact, now set for April 4.

Presumably, the East and West will have a chance to do some shirt sleeves bargaining if the crisis comes. The West feels that to bargain with Premier Josef Stalin, it must have the aircraft, tanks and guns to back up its words.

The West's military position in Europe right now is not good. Britain's bomber force generally is regarded as ineffective. France reportedly could not put a single squadron of first line fighter planes in the air.

Tanks on this side of the Rhine are few and could offer only token resistance to numerically superior Soviet tank forces.

Census

Mitchell, Scurry, Stonewall, Terry and Yoakum. In 1940, the total population of these counties was 275,339.

Whiteley, manager and partner of Lubbock Nursery, said that he understood his duties in connection with the business census will begin in the immediate future. He will leave active management of his business to associates until the census job is completed.

Was Cancelled In 1944

The business census, usually taken once every five years but cancelled in 1944 because of the war, includes a survey of all wholesale, retail, and service trades, according to Walter L. Kehres, assistant area supervisor for the Bureau of the Census with offices in Fort Worth.

The business census, however, does not include manufacturing concerns, Kehres said.

"The purpose of this census," Kehres explained, "is to supply general business information which businessmen can use in determining trends, employment, and volume of business. It enables each businessman to analyze his own business in comparison with averages of all business in that field."

Information Confidential

Kehres emphasized that all information gathered from any individual business is strictly confidential, and is not available to anyone outside the bureau.

He said the survey will be made in great detail, much along the lines of the better-known population census.

This year marks the first time, Kehres said, that the Census Bureau has had a field organization for taking the business census, for this reason the 1949 survey is expected to be the most complete ever taken.

It should be completed, and all its results published, before the end of the calendar year, he added.

Graduate Of Texas Tech

Whiteley, the newly-appointed supervisor for the Lubbock district, is 30 years old and an economics graduate of Texas Technological college. He currently is state vice president of the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce, and will be a candidate for national Jaycee director from Texas at the March 31 elections at the state convention in Galveston. He is a member of the board of directors of the local Jaycee organization, and has taken a prominent role in its recent activities. He also belongs to the Lubbock Exchange club, but at present is on the club's inactive list.

He was graduated from Kelton High school, Wheeler county, in 1933 at the age of 14. After attending Tech, he entered the U. S. Army Air corps in 1941, later serving as a B-17 bomber pilot in the Asiatic-Pacific theater. He made 56 combat missions, all in the Solomons islands campaign. His military awards included the Distinguished Flying cross, Air medal, Presidential Unit citation, and seven battle stars. During the latter part of the war, he was an Air Transport command pilot flying litter patients from the Okinawa-Philippines area to hospitals in the United States.

He held the rank of major when discharged from active service in 1946, and is now a member of the Officers Reserve corps.

Whiteley is married and has a two-year-old daughter. His wife is the former Doris Peavy of Slaton. The family resides at 406 N. College avenue.

British Sloop Sinks Near Puerto Rico

MIAMI, Fla., March 16 (AP)—The British sloop Alliance sank about 25 miles southwest of Puerto Rico last night but all six men aboard were rescued, the Coast Guard reported today.

The men were removed from the distressed vessel by the Pocono, a U. S. Navy cutter, and Coast Guard cutter Pandora.

The Alliance, about 60 feet long, sank but remained awash, and the Pandora is standing by. No other details were available, the Coast Guard said.

Plane Without Brakes Lands

LONDON, March 16. (AP)—An American overseas airline plane bound for New York with 43 passengers made a safe emergency landing without brakes here last night.

The passengers sipped cocktails and ate a hot dinner while the plane circled for nearly four hours to lighten its fuel load. After landing they promptly shifted to another plane and continued the trip. Among them was Rita Lynch, Irish soprano who has a date in Chicago to make a St. Patrick's night broadcast.

Feared Ocean Crossing

Their big Constellation, the flagship Sweden, landed four hours and 10 minutes after taking off from Shannon, Eire.

Pilot Walter Hostettler of Manhasset, N. Y., said the landing gear retracted only partially after the takeoff. He said he feared to risk a trans-Atlantic crossing with the fuel-consuming added air drag of the partly lowered wheels.

He finally got the gear into landing position, but the hydraulic pressure needed to operate the brakes failed.

Rain had made the Shannon runways slippery, so he chose to set down at Heathrow, where the runways are longer.

Farm Plans

periods of crop shortages and lowest in times of surpluses.

Critics contend the rigid supports would force use of rigid production and marketing quotas to prevent surpluses which, they say, could cost the government billions of dollars.

Foes of the flexible supports argue that these would permit farm income to drop to ruinously low levels. They also contend low price guarantees would be more likely to promote surpluses because growers would tend to plant more land in order to offset loss of returns which would result from lower prices.

The flexible supports were written into the Aiken long-range farm bill passed by the Republican 80th Congress.

Under it, growers of the basic crops would get price supports at 75 per cent of parity when supplies of the respective crops were normal—that is, neither too short nor too big to meet market needs and to provide a reserve. As supplies advanced above normal, price supports would drop below 75 per cent, and vice versa.

Plans under administration study would change this to provide for supports at 90 per cent of parity when supplies were normal. As supplies grew larger than normal, supports would be reduced, but not below 75 per cent of parity.

For example, suppose that the parity price of wheat is $2.20 a bushel and the supply of the grain is normal. Under the Aiken law, the price support would be 75 per cent of $2.20, or $1.65 a bushel.

But under the suggested compromise plan, the price support would be 90 per cent of $2.20, or $1.98.

Further, the minimum support under the Aiken law would be 50 per cent of $2.20, or $1.32. Under the other plan it would be $1.65.

Street Naming

Short street, now bearing various names, would be designated as "half" streets. Thus, Ellwood, which lies between Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth streets, would be named "Twenty-three and one-half" street.

Simplicity Is Sought

Clapp argued the proposed plan would simplify the finding of practically any address in the city. There would be some confusion at the start, he acknowledged. But, he contended, experiences in other cities offer proof that people quickly familiarize themselves with such systems.

Other routine matters were discussed at the luncheon.

Present, in addition to Clapp, were planning board Members J. M. Murdough, J. D. Hassell, jr., W. L. Bradshaw, Homer D. Grant and Chas. A. Guy; Mayor W. H. Rodgers; City Commissioners W. B. Price, John Spikes and Clarence Whiteside; City Manager Steve Matthews; City Engineer R. L. Oldham and assistant city engineer J. C. Griggs.

SEEK BOWLING MEET

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., March 16 (AP)—Milwaukee may get the American Bowling Congress tournament in 1952—but there are some "ifs." Mayor Frank Zeidler said Milwaukee's invitation to hold the meet was extended "with some confidence that the discrimination problem would be firmly resolved by 1952."

Bank Burglary

will be filed.

Two complaints, charging burglary of the bank and of the food store, will be filed against each man, Pharr and Cochran county officials said.

Roswell Is Interested

Chief of Police Tommie Thompson of Roswell, N. M., telephoned Sheriff Crockett that he was planning to arrive today in Morton and requested permission to question the suspects in connection with several recent safe burglaries there.

Quick reaction of Hancock probably prevented a shooting at the arrest scene, Sheriff Crockett said. One of the suspects had a .32 pistol held loosely under his armpit and made a grab for it. Hancock was faster and snatched the weapon before it could be fired.

The statement given to Pharr said the men went to Morton Monday and into the bank. One of them bought 50 pennies, allowing the other a chance to "get the layout."

Decided To Try It

Back in Levelland, they decided to try the bank vault, estimating there would be "$10,000 to $15,000 in it," the statement continued.

But there were "too many people and cars around Tuesday night to pull the job," so the two were alleged to have driven to Whiteface, where they ate dinner. It was about 10 p. m. when they returned to Morton.

They, according to the statement, got into the bank after one had used a pinch-bar in the door. The other, armed with an automatic pistol, kept watch. After opening the door the two got in their car and "drove around a while," allowing time to see whether any burglar alarm had been set off. They returned after satisfying themselves, but their tools were not sufficient to break into the vault, either through the combination or the back of the vault, the statement said.

Had Broken Window

The statement said the two then went to the food store and had broken a window when a car drove into the alley and fastened the men in the beam of a spotlight.

Officials said the man who made the statement would not admit any other offenses, either in New Mexico, Lubbock or Morton.

There had been seven burglaries in Morton Saturday night, Sheriff Crockett said, involving a monetary loss of approximately $1,000. Places entered were: Doss grocery; Willis grocery (where $700 to $800 was taken); E. L. Banks' International Harvester place (where about $200 was taken); Farmer's Supply (the Case agency); Arnn's garage, the Pontiac agency (where about $15 was taken); Green Supply company, the Massey-Harris distributor, and Forrest Lumber yard.

Safes and cash registers that were found locked were broken by the burglars, Sheriff Crockett said.

State rangers and federal officials were assisting in the investigation of the case today, as was the Lubbock sheriff's department.

Man Sentenced For Assault At Lamesa

LAMESA, March 16 (Special)—Ramsey Westmoreland early today was sentenced to a $1,000 fine and 90 days in jail, after he had been convicted of aggravated assault by a 106th District court jury.

The verdict was returned, and sentence passed, shortly after midnight Tuesday.

The defense at once gave notice of appeal and Westmoreland was released on his own recognizance.

Westmoreland was tried on charges of assaulting J. W. Howell with a knife on Nov. 3, 1948, in East Lamesa.

Judge Louis B. Reed had instructed the jury to return a verdict based on one of four counts: assault with malice, assault without malice, aggravated assault, or simple assault.

Elmo Smith was jury foreman.

Atlantic Pact

that "the Portuguese government was one of the first governments to express satisfaction on the idea of a pact of the Atlantic powers.

Portugal with the Azores, the island republic of Iceland and Denmark with Greenland all control highly strategic positions in the North Atlantic. Iceland and Denmark have both raised the question whether they would be compelled by the treaty to grant peacetime bases to the United States. They have been assured that they would not be.

Denmark To Get Report

Iceland's foreign minister, Bjarni Benediktsson, was due to make a farewell call on Secretary of State Acheson today.

After he reports at home on the information he gained here about the treaty his government will decide whether it wants to participate.

Denmark's foreign minister Gustav Rasmussen, left Washington last night after expressing satisfaction with his talks with Acheson and other State department officials.

Meanwhile, the nations which have been drafting the treaty through meetings of their ambassadors here with Acheson, concluded their work yesterday. In addition to the United States, Britain and France, the nations already in the starting lineup are Norway, Canada, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg. The other four now generally expected to join this group in time for the initial signing ceremony here Friday are Italy, Iceland, Denmark and Portugal.

Pair On Long Flight Circle Over Phoenix

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 16. (U.P.)—Endurance Fliers Bill Barris and Dick Riedel circled lazily over Phoenix today before beginning the second leg of their coast-to-coast effort to break the world record for staying aloft.

They planned to continue to El Paso, Tex., later today.

The pair took off from Fullerton, Calif., at 11:44 a. m. PST yesterday, hoping to fly non-stop to Miami, Fla., and back and stay in the air continuously for more than six weeks. It was their fourth crack at the world endurance mark of 726 hours. They were forced down after 568 hours in their best previous attempt.

minister affairs of the state's eleemosynary institutions meanwhile appeared inevitable, causing state board of control members no little concern.

Closed Shop Ban Stays

A nine-member board, proposed in a bill by Rep. Peyton McKnight of Quitman, would assume responsibility of institutions now managed by the state board of control.

Timmon's labor measure would consolidate nine bills into one labor law and set up a division of concoliation. The ban against the closed shop in Texas, however, would continue in force.

In other action, the House committee on municipal and private corporations sent to subcommittee a bill to permit citizens to bring suit against cities as well as private corporations, and the Senate committee on state affairs approved a bill to increase the state highway commission from three to five members.

The measure would give the government power to prevent the mass eviction of tenants threatened by some landlords if controls were continued. But, important to the landlords' side, it would assure a "reasonable return on fair value" of their property.

The measure also would put controls back on property decontrolled under the 1947 rent act, which permitted landlords and tenants to sign voluntary agreements raising rents up to 15 per cent.

UNION LEADER MAKES COMMENT

No Mine Stoppage Extension Is Seen

By GIB STALEY
Associated Press Staff Writer

PITTSBURGH, March 16 — A district leader of the United Mine Workers said today he sees no reason why the coal mine work stoppage won't end as scheduled on March 28.

Some operators have expressed fear the two-week shutdown ordered by John L. Lewis for miners east of the Mississippi would continue past the deadline established by the fiery UMW president.

Comments On Fears

Commenting on those fears, John P. Busarello, president of district No. 5, UMW, at Pittsburgh, said dryly:

"I can only say . . . that this two-week period of mourning, called by president Lewis as a memorial to our union's killed and injured in 1948 will conclude March 28."

Lewis, himself, didn't have any comment as the work stoppage went into its third day. He calls it a memorial period but also points out it's the miners' protest against appointment of Dr. James Boyd as director of the U. S. Bureau of Mines.

The Senate's interior committee already has approved the Boyd appointment. Now, it's up to the Senate which is expected to act at once.

Begin To Feel Pinch

Shopkeepers serving the 463,000 idle miners reported the stores are beginning to feel the pinch of the work stoppage. So are the communities where furloughed railroad workers reside.

Coal-hauling railroads have laid off several thousand men and by the end of the week, through a progressive system of furloughs, some 67,000 will be idle.

Meanwhile, other coal-dependent industries worked as usual. They're using the backlog of coal accumulated during a comparatively mild winter.

There's 70,000,000 tons above ground—the most in any spring since 1942—and no serious production effects are anticipated—if the stoppage ends as scheduled on March 28.

Deaf Mute Drops Her $50,000 Damage Suit

ATLANTA, March 16 (AP)—A deaf mute has dropped her $50,000 damage suit against the man she said won her promise to wed after a feverish, wig-wag courtship.

Miss Leile B. Campos dropped her suit against Glenson B. Grizzard, also a deaf mute. Her attorney, James H. Dodgen, said the couple reached an agreement between themselves. He did not know khat kind of settlement was made.

Miss Campos charged in her suit that Grizzard wooed her with "feverish promises and proposals." Then after she agreed to marry him, Miss Campos continued, he laughed at her and refused to go through with the wedding.

MEET THE MANAGER—Morris L. Zukav, manager of Zale Jewelry company, was born at Fort Dodge, Iowa, Feb. 5, 1914. His family moved to Amarillo when he was 5 years old and he was educated in Amarillo public schools. He worked for S and Q clothiers in Amarillo, Levithe's then for Sears, Roebuck and company. After four years, he was promoted to the Chicago buying offices of Sears. Wanting to return to the retail field, he was sent to the Kansas City, Mo., store and several other places before he entered the Army. Entering as a buck private, he served about a year at Prince Rupert, Canada, then was sent to OCS at New Orleans, La. He then served in Okinawa and Korea before being released as a first lieutenant. He joined Zale's in September, 1946, at Oklahoma City. He was then sent to San Antonio, where he remained a year and a half before coming to Lubbock in June, 1948, as manager, a post he was particularly happy to get because it enabled him to return to West Texas. When he has time, Zukav is an enthusiastic spectator sportsman, but his family is his hobby. Mr. and Mrs. Zukav have two children, Gary Stephen, 6½, and Gail Ann, 13 months. They live at 2622 Twenty-sixth, but are currently house-hunting. He is a member of B'Nai Brith and Congregation Shaareth Israel. (Staff Photo).

Permian Basin Water Users Hold Meeting

SLATON, March 16. (Special) — Ninety-one delegates representing 19 cities of the Permian basin attended the Permian Basin Water Users association convention here Tuesday night.

E. L. Killingsworth, Big Spring city engineer, and association president, was in charge of the meeting.

Mayor L. B. Wooten welcomed delegates, and introduced members of the city commission, who were hosts. Bill Hamlin of Lubbock, district supervisor for the state health department, responded for the visitors.

Dean B. Ault of Houston presented an illustrated talk on installation of large valves under high pressure.

Carl Gelin of Lubbock read the log on recent drilling of the deep test wells made at Lubbock by Lane-Texas company, and conducted an informal discussion on details of the test.

R. L. Oldham, Lubbock city engineer, reported on the Canadian River dam project, tentatively planned as a water supply for South Plains cities.

Joe A. Stanley of Lubbock, formerly with the state Health department, was program chairman. M. B. McCullough, superintendent of the Lubbock city water department, is secretary of the association. Delegates were served a chicken dinner tonight. Next association meeting will be held in Lamesa at 7:30 p.m. April 19.

Challenge Of Beer Election Is Filed

MINERAL WELLS, March 16. (AP)—Seven people of Palo Pinto county seek a court injunction to keep county commissioners from issuing beer licenses.

Sale of beverages containing alcohol not in excess of four per cent was authorized in a special election in Palo Pinto county last Saturday.

The petitioners contend the issue submitted was the same as that which lost last Nov. 2. They said the law does not permit the question to be submitted twice within 12 months.

J. E. Maddox of Gordon and six others filed the petition yesterday in district court. Judge Ernest Belcher at Stephenville received the petition.

County commissioners had ruled the four per cent proposal was not the same as the November question.

It was evident, when 30,000 spectators were startled by long, loud "moos" punctuating the speech of Administrator D. G. Shepstone, opening the Royal Agricultural Show at Pietermaritzburg, South Africa, that some cows had got too near the microphone.

President Steps Into Strike Of Wabash Railroad Employes

ST. LOUIS, March 16. (AP)—President Truman has stepped into the strike of 3,500 Wabash railroad employes.

He signed an order last night setting up a fact-finding board to consider the dispute. The order called for a 60-day postponement of a walkout which began yesterday.

A. F. Whitney, president of the Brotherhood of Railway trainmen, announced in Cleveland that "if and when official notice is received," his men would go back to work.

But C. J. Goff, assistant president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, said his union and "two or three others" would decline to go back to their jobs.

President Alvanley Johnston of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers said he would consult with the heads of other brotherhoods concerning a return to work. A fourth union, the order of railway conductors, also is involved.

Other Workers Involved

The railroad operates 2,500 miles of track in Missouri, Illinois, Iowa, Ohio, Michigan and Indiana. The walkout has stopped all passenger and freight traffic.

The railroad posted notices that jobs would be abolished for some 9,000 other workers not on strike.

Both Goff and John E. Donnelly, assistant grand chief engineer at St. Louis, said they believed the 60-day cooling off period applied only to situations where men have not already walked out.

Goff added:

"If the President has appointed an emergency board, we'll appear before it and present our case, but in the meantime the employes we represent will remain on strike."

Wages are not involved in the strike, union leaders declared. W. F. Donoghue, vice president of the trainmen, said the dispute stemmed from "long standing grievances involving time claims, discipline and other working conditions."

Former Texan New Smith College Head

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., March 16. (AP)—Dr. Benjamin Fletcher Wright, a Texas-born Harvard professor, is the new president of Smith college.

Dr. Wright, 49, taught American constitutional history and political thought at Harvard and Radcliffe for 20 years. He is a trustee of Connecticut college for women.

Dr. Wright was born in Austin, Tex., and educated at the University of Texas where he taught two years after his graduation in 1921. He holds a Ph. D. degree from Harvard.

Both he and Mrs. Wright, the former Alexa Rhea, are descendants of Texas pioneers. They have two children.

Nation Might Run More Than $1 Billion In Hole This Year

By CHARLES MOLONY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Mar. 16.—The government may be $1,200,000,000 in the hole for the year ending June 30, officials said today—unless last-minute tax returns bring in a whooping amount of money.

Only last January, President Truman estimated in his budget message that the federal deficit for fiscal 1949 would be just half that size.

Final figures will be uncertain until tax collectors have finished counting late-arriving income tax money—a job expected to take a couple of weeks or more.

Situation Explained

But pending that, they said, the situation shapes up this way:

Government spending is living up to the January estimate of $40,180,000,000. Income, however, is lagging more than had been expected in January. If this trend continues, collections will be about $600,000,000 under the $39,580,000,000 estimate — and that already was $600,000,000 below the spending figure.

The revenue estimates were based on a predicted 6.2 per cent drop below fiscal 1948 collections. But up to March 15, 1949 receipts were running eight per cent behind the same period of last year.

The March 15 returns could change that picture altogether—depending on how many big taxpayers waited until the last minute. Most early returns came from taxpayers claiming a refund for overpayment.

Besides, the treasury's cautious figure-men take a traditionally pessimistic view when estimating receipts; in recent years, final receipts totals have topped treasury estimates by huge amounts.

If the estimate this year overshoots actual receipts, making the deficit worse than anticipated, it will paint an even darker outlook for fiscal 1950, beginning next July 1. And it might:

1. Put the heat on Congress to give the President at least part of the $4,000,000,000 tax increase he asked.

2. Put a finish to proposals by House Republican Leader Martin of Massachusetts and others to lower the excise taxes on goods ranging from movie show tickets to light bulbs.

Hollywood Stars Are Greeted Here During Train Stop

By CHOC HUTCHESON
Journal Staff Writer

The movie stars — about 200 of 'em — stopped last night at the Lubbock Santa Fe station, where they were greeted by a jam-packed, wildly-shrieking mob of at least 4,000 persons.

It was the biggest crowd yet to meet the Hollywood entourage, which is en route from California to Houston for multi-millionaire Glenn McCarthy's double-barreled hotel and movie premiere St. Patrick's day.

The 16-car special streamliner was here only a quarter hour, but those were 15 thrilling minutes for many in the throng, particularly the teen-agers who dominated the scene.

Many Signed Autographs

The stars didn't leave the train during their brief stop here, but most of them did appear on the lounge car vestibules to wave and shout greetings to their ultra-enthusiastic fans.

As each star appeared and was recognized, ear-splitting yells went up from the crowd.

In the group were Dorothy Lamour, Robert Paige, Dennis O'Keefe, Joan Davis, Robert Ryan, Peggy Cummins, Pat O'Brien, Van Heflin, Ellen Drew, Ruth Warrick, Stan Laurel, Hugh Herbert, Chester Morris, Virginia Grey, Alan Hale, Andy Devine, Ward Bond, Wallace Ford, MacDonald Carey, Constance Moore, and J. Carrol Naish.

Several originally scheduled to be aboard were not there, but their absence was offset by the presence of other stars who had not been on advance passenger lists.

Altogether, I was with the group

Big Program Gets Approval

Action expected to hasten and simplify extensions of the city limits to include developed and developing suburban areas was taken at a recessed meeting of the city commission Tuesday afternoon.

It involved the approval of broad policies recommended by City Manager Steve Matthews, and based on studies of experiences in many cities, to be followed in providing water and sanitary sewage service to residence developments both inside and outside the city.

Recommendations Ordered

The city manager and City Engineer R. L. Oldham were directed to prepare recommendations in more detail for submission to the commission as soon as they can.

The broad policies, however, were given the approval of the commission members present—Mayor W. H. Rodgers and Commissioners W. B. Price, John Spikes and Clarence Whiteside. Commissioner E. K. Hufstedler, jr., was absent.

The tentatively adopted policy was somewhat complicated as to details. But it would be sufficiently flexible in its application, the city manager said, to fit requirements which will vary with individual additions and developments.

It offers the means of providing sewage and water service for additions as they actually are developed.

Policy Is Outlined

It does not make any provision for promoters who would like to obtain utilities at city expense to enhance the value of vacant lots.

Under the policy, developers would pay the cost of laying water and sewage pipe for their areas in accord with specifications pre-

Foreigners To Study In City

The newly formed committee for the aid of foreign students at Texas Technological college has announced that five students from Latin-American countries have been selected for the scholarships granted by the board of directors of the college in its last meeting.

Guillermo Bello, Venezuela; James B. Olkas, Colon, Panama; Victor O. Lolas, Arequipa, Peru; Guidos Rodriguez, Costa Rica and Carl Schmidt of Mexico City have all been chosen to receive $125 each semester to be applied to registration fees.

Requirements Set Up

Dean of Men James G. Allen, chairman of the committee, said that four things would be required of the students before they will become eligible to obtain the scholarships. They must have a "C" average in all college work; they must be a graduate of a secondary school equivalent to our high schools; they must be able to read and write the English language well enough to continue their studies and they must prove to the committee that college work is being done well enough to receive the scholarship from one semester to the next.

Dean Allen also announced that the committee would continue its work in aiding the foreign students who are now enrolled at the college. The money exchanges between many of the countries from which the students have come and the United States have been closed. The committee has contacted the State department to see if any improvement in the situation may be expected.

In the future a policy will be followed whereby all foreign students who wish to enroll in Tech will have to meet certain requirements. Among them will be the provision that a student should have sufficient funds in the United States in case such an emergency should arise. At the present time there are 23 foreign students enrolled in Tech.

The committee members are: Allen; W. P. Clement, registrar at the college; Dr. C. B. Qualia, head of the foreign language department; Dr. Agnes True, associate professor of education; and Harry Roberts, a Lubbock civil engineer.

Early American eating places were patterned after European inns, taverns and coffee houses.

THE QUESTION

THE ANSWERS

MRS. CHARLES BISHOP, Lubbock route 7, housewife and former teacher: "I think they ought to inquire thoroughly of the teacher before they object to a child being punished. The child might need it, then you're going to do the child an injustice. You must be on the teacher's side if possible."

DR. MARSHALL HARVEY, 2311 Thirty-first, chiropodist; "No, Discipline should be impressed on the child at school as well as at home. There is a world of times such discipline impresses a child more than parental discipline. The child will quote what the teacher says to parents. I don't favor spanking, but am talking about other forms of punishment."

MRS. C. M. DICKINSON, 2102 Thirty - fourth, housewife: "No, because parents at home have to correct their children. They send them to the teacher and the children are in the hands of the teacher, who has to do the best she can. The teachers are elected and we ought to cooperate with them."

PAUL SCHRECKENGAST, 1301 Twenty - sixth, owner of Paul's Loan service: "No, I don't. I don't object to the punishment, but it should be handled according to the temperament of the child. Take a child who is inclined to have an inferiority complex, punishment in the school would tend to retard the child's personality and studies."

C. E. MITCHELL, 2405 Twenty-fifth, cashier at Hester's Office Suppy Co.: "No, I don't think they should except in extreme cases. I think that should be left with the teacher."

B. A. (Jack) McCREARY, 2417 Twenty-seventh, partner in McCreary Suppy Co.: "Not ordinary punishment. It would have to be extreme before a parent should interfere. That is where a child gets that additional discipline. Sometimes love will keep a parent from disciplining a child enough. If my public schools are good enough for me to send them to, I'm not going to interfere except in extreme cases."

The earliest instance of a regency in English history was the appointment of the Earl of Pembroke as regent upon the accession of Henry III to the throne.

Inaugural Set Here May 10

Dr. D. M. Wiggins, fifth president of Texas Technological college will be formally inaugurated during an all day ceremony to be held at the college May 10. Details of the ceremony were announced at the college for the first time Tuesday.

Dean James G. Allen, chairman of the inaugural committee, has announced that two notable speakers in the field of education have been secured for the event. The main address at the inaugural ceremony in Jones stadium at 8 p. m. May 10, will be given by Dr. Doak S. Campbell, president of Florida State university.

At a luncheon to be held at the Lubbock Country club at 12:30 p. m. for the delegates and official guests, Dr. W. H. Cowley of Stamford university will be the speaker.

Reception Planned

After the luncheon a reception will be held at 3:30 p. m. in Drane hall at the college honoring Pres. and Mrs. Wiggins and Vice-President and Mrs. E. N. Jones.

The inauguration ceremony in the stadium will close the day's events. Dean Allen has expressed the hope that all faculty members will be able to take part in the academic procession.

Dr. Campbell began his career as an educator in 1911 as superintendent of public school in Columbus, O. In 1915 he became vice-president of Central college, Arkansas.

He stayed there until 1928 and was president when he left. Dr. Campbell has also been an associate editor of the "Junior College Journal." He served as secretary of the Association of Junior colleges for six years, and as secretary for the American Council on Education for two years. He is now chairman of the committee on policies for the National Education association. He became president of Florida State university in 1941.

Educator To Speak

Dr. Cowley is also a leading educator of this country. He has been associated with the Bell Telephone laboratory in New York and has also been on the administrative staff of the University of Chicago. He was president of Hamilton college, Clinton, N. Y. from 1938 until he left in 1944 to become a professor of higher education at Stamford.

The following committees have been appointed to work on plans for the event:

Inaugural committee: Dean Allen, chairman; C. V. Bullen, W. P. Clement, Dr. W. B. Gates, Dr. R. C. Goodwin, Miss Annah Joe Pendleton and D. O. Wiley.

Committee on printed forms and invitations: Dr. Gates, chairman; Mrs. Louise Allen, Robert I. Lockard and Dean Margaret Weeks.

Future Of Religious Freedom In Communist China In Doubt

By CLYDE FARNSWORTH
Special Correspondent

NANKING, March 16—There is a growing uneasiness among foreign religious missions over the future of religious freedom in Communist China.

They do not expect a blackout, but the dimout has started.

The Reds' cancellation of foreign press corespondence out of Peiping, the only place where American reporters are stationed in Communist China, has aggravated missionary fears.

The missionaries doubt that anti-religious restraints will go as far as those on press freedom in Peiping, but they believe it may mean almost anything could happen to other basic liberties.

Subtle Methods Used

One last story out of Peiping reported the end of foreign control over Fu Jen Catholic university, the largest private university in China.

Although missionaries have been cut off from mail and the telegraph in many parts of North China, there has been some contact through travelers from Communist regions.

Suppression of religious freedom has been subtle rather than outright. Restraints are different in various areas but they seem so widespread as to suggest a standard policy.

The Hua Ming news service, issued by the Catholic central bureau of China, says travelers "indicate that pressure against religion is felt over wide areas." The report continues:

Priests Are Restricted

"In one Hopeh province town, for instance, the priest is not permitted to leave his room. In another district, priests in charge of parishes are free in theory to visit their flocks but when they do so they are questioned.

"Gatherings for religious discussion in one district are discouraged because Communist authorities are suspicious of all 'meetings.'

"Communist officials, while proclaiming religious freedom, leave nobody in doubt that 'our government is atheistic,' thus dropping a plain hint to all who would be on good terms with the authorities."

Priests frequently are subjected to questioning. Their quarters are searched. Parish properties are used as billets, but the missionaries themselves are not molested.

English Use Banned

The auditorium of the Catholic middle school at Hsuchow is being used as a Communist lecture hall for the indoctrination of boys and girls. Other reports tell of a ban against teaching English or even the use of that language in some schools in Honan province.

Nevertheless, the Communists seem to have come a long way since they were arresting priests as "spies." There are no more killings.

Self-interest is the best explanation for the Communist switch. As the victorious Reds closed in on the major cities of China proper they came in contact with large missions, institutions, churches, schools and hospitals.

Establishments under their control in North China represent millions in foreign investments. It would be bad business for the Communists to liquidate missions outright. They need schools and hospitals, and probably will tolerate the religion that goes with them as part of the bargain—but tolerate it under a system of increasing restraint.

Left-Handed Check Books Aid Spending

FRAMINGHAM, Mass., March 16. (AP)—The Framingham national bank is making it easier for their left-handed deporitors to spend money.

U. S. Treasury Is Tough Competition

Money-Making Overhead Too High; Houston Man Gives Up

HOUSTON, March 16. (U.P.)—Joe Ernest Riley, who admitted he was in competition with the U. S. mints and dug up his working implements and a handful of counterfeit coins to prove it, said today he gave himself up because there was "too much overhead."

Riley, who has tangled with the law and lost six times in his 59 years, stated he couldn't market his 50-cent pieces successfully because he only made 46 cents per coin.

And with current inflationary trends, Riley added, that wasn't enough to keep him in business against the U. S. treasury, now putting out a half-dollar which he viewed as "better" than his own.

Riley, also known as Harry H. Walker, tried to surrender Saturday. He finally got in touch with understanding police Sunday, he said, after the Harris county sheriff's department and the local office of the Federal Bureau of investigation "showed disinterest."

Riley promptly led officers to a vacant lot and unearthed 21 of his own 50-cent pieces, a cracked mold and a pan containing various metals.

Apologizing for his handicraft, Riley quipped, "These aren't so good—not polished yet."

Regardless of the inaccuracy of his product, Riley claimed he had circulated 1,000 of the coins here, and most people weren't suspicious.

". . . I've passed about 1,000 of these four-bit pieces in Houston since before Christmas and they've only been questioned half a dozen times."

The 46-cent profit was really what slowed his operation, he said, and it was just "too [illegible] overhead" for all the labor involved.

The manufacturer turned in his samples and was placed in the hands of treasury agents, who said he would be charged.

Teachers who gather in Lubbock Thursday and Friday for the 14th annual convention of the West Texas Teachers association, will attend specialized section meetings from 3 until 5 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Mrs. E. S. Smith of Lorenzo, district president of the Parent-Teacher association, will be main speaker at the homemaking section meeting, to be held in room 331 of Lubbock Senior High school. Her subject will be "Home and Family Life."

Talk On Korea Slated

Mrs. Katherine H. Bullock is chairman of the section. Other speakers will include Miss Gertrude Watson and Robert A. Manire of Austin, state superintendent of vocational agriculture, whose talk, "Family Life in Korea" will be illustrated by motion pictures.

At the art section meeting, to be held in room 134 of the High school, Elsie E. Ruffini, associate professor of fine and industrial arts at Columbia university, will speak on "Stimulating Art Activity Through New Approaches to Materials and Media." Robert I. Lockard is chairman of the art group.

Mrs. Evelyn S. Thompson, associate professor of education at the University of Houston, will be featured speaker at the elementary principals' section in Asbury Methodist church, Ave. T and Twentieth. Following her address, Mrs. Thompson will answer questions of the assembled group. Chairman of the section is Dean Bennett.

Tech Educator To Speak

The college classroom teachers' section will meet in room 135 of the High school, with Dr. Reginald Rushing as chairman. Dr. E. N. Jones, vice president of Texas Tech, will speak.

The commercial section, which is to meet in room 130, is to hear a panel discussion. "Subject Grading" is to be discussed by Mrs. Pat Orren; "Projects to Make Work Interesting," by Julius Johnson; and "Commercial Clubs," by Yvonne Middleton. Hazel B. Shipp heads the section.

County school superintendents and board members, to meet in room 250 with Dean Robinson as chairman, will hear E. H. Boulter, deputy district state superintendent, discuss "Current Legislative Problems."

Miss Glenys Honey is chairman of the English section which will meet in room 256. Speakers and their subjects will be "The English Workshop Conference in Texas," by Dr. Allan M. Gunn; "Highlights of the T.S.T.A. English Section," Mrs. A. F. Rasor; "The Writer in the English Class," Dr. A. B. Cunningham; and "The Teaching of Poetry," Dr. W. B. Gates.

Language Meet Scheduled

Foreign language section meeting will be held in room 310 of the High school, with Miss Minnie Jackson as chairman. A discussion of "The Use of Audio-Visual Aids in Teaching Spanish," will take place.

Health and physical education groups are to meet in the Senior High school gymnasium, with Arah Phillips in charge. Bob Clark will speak on "Department Plan of Boys' Physical Education in Odessa High School."

A number of demonstrations also are planned for the health and physical education section meeting. A demonstration in modern dance is to be presented by girls of Odessa Senior High school; boys volleyball demonstration by Lubbock Senior High school; girls tumbling demonstrations by Lubbock Senior High school; boys and girls demonstration in square dancing by Lubbock Senior High school; and Mexican Hat dance by girls of Big Spring Senior High school.

Children's Needs Stressed

Intermediate teachers, with Mrs. David Smith as chairman, will meet at Asbury Methodist church, and, with the elementary principals section, will hear Mrs. Evelyn S. Thompson discuss "Meeting Children's Needs in the Reading Program." A question answering period will follow.

Industrial arts section, scheduled for room 183 in the High school, will feature a panel discussion. "Student Personnel Organization," will be discussed by M. Fite; "Discipline in the Shop," by Dan B. Hodges; "Safety Provisions and Regulations," by Clyde Keith; and "Requirements for Industrial Arts," by E. E. Key. Sam M. Gantt is chairman of the group.

Mrs. Evelyn Thomas is chairman of the library section, which will be held in room 254. Speakers will include Miss Lottie Brashears, librarian of North Texas State Teachers college, Denton; Miss Adelle Harrell, and Miss Cleo Price.

Local unit presidents section will feature a panel discussion to be led by Nathan Tubb in room 181. Tubb also is chairman of the section.

To Describe Trip

Mathematics section has as its chairman Mrs. J. T. Baisden, and will meet in room 244 of the Senior High school. A discussion, "How Number Sense Contest Is Carried on in Our School," by Odessie Howell, Margurite Mathis, and Olena Shillingburg. Miss Grace Davidson will speak on "Suggested Specific Facts to be Taught by Junior High and Elementary Teachers as Seen from Viewpoint of Teachers Teaching Above Us." Misses Aline McCarty and Edith Caveness will discuss their trip to the Duke university Mathematics institute.

On the program of the music session which is to meet in room 192 of the High school are discussions and demonstrations by Sara Guitar and Rena McQuary. Miss Louise Johnson is chairman.

Dr. R. E. Garlin is chairman of the Phi Delta Kappa section which will hold its meeting in room 251 at the High school.

Primary teachers section is to conduct its session in Asbury Methodist church, with Miss Trula Maud Jetton as chairman. The group will also hear Mrs. Thompson discuss "Meeting Children's Needs in the Reading Program," to be followed by a question answering period.

Science section, headed by Rogers Orr, will meet in room 301 of the High school. Dr. R. A. Studhalter will speak on "From Tropics to Tree Line — A Study of Vegetation in Color." His talk will be illustrated with Kodachromes.

Floyd Honey will preside at the meeting of secondary principals in room 182. Highlighting the session is a symposium, "What Membership in the Texas and National Associations of Secondary Principals Means to Me," with W. T. Barrett as leader, and H. S. Fitzgerald and Charles Mathews participating. Following will be a general discussion on "The Problems of a Secondary School Principal in West Texas" with R. W. Davidson as leader.

The social science section, which will convene in room 252 with Mrs. R. B. Luker as chairman, has planned a panel discussion, "Life and Conditions in Homelands of Representative Tech Students." Dean James G. Allen will be leader, and participants will be foreign students at Texas Tech.

Student demonstrations will be featured at the speech section meeting in room 186. Demonstrations will be led by Velma Harris, Mrs. Lillian Hayne, and Bill Adams, who also is group chairman.

The student council section will meet in room 184 with Mrs. Eleanor S. Griffin as chairman. A discussion will be led by students from Plainview, Lubbock, Levelland, and Hale Center High schools.

Visual education section, led by Dr. Lewis B. Cooper, will conduct its meeting in the High school auditorium. The program will include the following talks: "Classmade Films, Journey and Museum," by Dr. Cooper; "Radio in Education," by John W. Gunstream; "Opaque and Transparent Still Pictures," R. L. Davidson; and "Co-ordination of Programs—Textbook and Film," J. H. Millikin.

G. D. Taylor is chairman of the vocational agriculture section, which is to meet in room 217. Talks and discussions which are planned are: "Trends in Vocational Agriculture," by Robert A. Manire of Austin; "Activities of the Vocational Agriculture Teachers Association," by Lewis Gaylor, executive secretary of the Vocational Teachers association; and "Agriculture and Living Conditions in Korea," by Mr. Manire.

Texas Prohibition Party Plans Drive

DALLAS, March 16. (AP)—The Texas Prohibition party plans to organize "down to every precinct" throughout the state in advance of the 1950 elections.

In the elections, the party will strive principally to get its candidates for the state legislature into office.

Party activities were planned here yesterday at a meeting of the state executive committee. The committee authorized its chairman, Gerald Overholt of Houston, to name county and district chairmen for the entire state.

An administrative committee was set up with authority to act between meetings of the executive committee. Ex-officia members are Overholt and Dr. Lucille Dickson of Corsicana, executive committee secretary. Rev. Ira R. Lowe, Dallas, and Mrs. Ruth Horner Godbey, Houston, were named to the committee.

Flag-Draped Caskets Are Meeting Place

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 16 (AP) Two flag-draped caskets provided the meeting place in National cemetery here for grieving parents from Texas and North Carolina.

In one casket was the body of Lt. Herman C. Austin, 22-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde D. Austin of Hickory, N. C. The other held the body of Staff Sgt. James H. Griffin, son of Frank R. Griffin of Wichita Falls, Texas.

The men were killed in the crash of an Army bomber at Bari, Italy, on Nov. 5, 1944. Army authorities were unable to distinguish between their bodies, and the government decided on a burial in a common grave equidistant from Wichita Falls and Hickory.

The parents met to bury their war dead yesterday. Neither Mr. and Mrs. Austin nor Giffin knew which body lay in which casket.

GROUP PIGEONHOLES APPOINTMENT

Truman Undecided On Wallgren Issue

WASHINGTON, March 16. (AP) President Truman faces the alternative of withdrawing the nomination of Mon C. Wallgren or picking a Senate fight that may be hard to win.

Administration lieutenants said Mr. Truman probably will delay a decision until his return from a Key West, Fla., vacation. The Senate armed services committee yesterday pigeonholed Wallgren's appointment to head the national security resources board.

Chairman Tydings (D-Md) called the committee together today (10:30 a. m., EST) to hear testimony on the President's appointment of Louis A. Johnson to replace James V. Forrestal as Secretary of Defense.

Approval Seems Sure

Committee—and eventually Senate—approval of Johnson seemed sure.

It was another story in the case of Wallgren, a former senatorial colleague and close friend of the President.

Six Republicans and Senator Byrd (D-Va) voted to put Wallgren's nomination on ice, through adoption of a motion to table.

That procedure lays the nomination on the committee's table where it could be called up again at any time a majority of the 13 members wants to take that action.

Wallgren said in a statement that the committee had only "suspended action, for the time being."

Supporters At Work

Administration supporters went to work immediately in an effort to change the mind of at least one of the seven. But Byrd told a reporter he has taken his stand and will stick to it.

Although Senator Morse (R-Ore) was reported to have told the committee before he voted that he might approve Wallgren's appointment under some circumstances, he voted with his GOP colleagues to table.

An administration leader, who didn't want to be quoted by name, said it's highly unlikely that once having boxed the nomination up, the majority would change its mind.

If Mr. Truman persists in seeking the job for his old friend there remains the hard course of trying to get the Senate to discharge the committee from consideration of the appointment.

McDonald, Justice Accept City Posts

Acceptances by Alex McDonald, business man-farmer, and A. Doyle Justice, attorney, of appointments to vacancies on the city civil service commission were announced by Mayor W. H. Rodgers late Tuesday.

They succeed Harry Morris and George W. McCleskey, both of whom resigned recently. Marion Sanford, head of his insurance agency, is the holdover member of the commission.

McDonald has resided in Lubbock since 1914, founding and operating a meat packing plant until he sold it about three years ago. He has devoted his time since to the supervision of extensive business and farming interests. He is a director of the First National bank. He has been active in civic affairs throughout his 35 years' residence in Lubbock.

He and Mrs. McDonald have five children, Mrs. Connie Martin and Mrs. Betty Winner, of Lubbock, Fred McDonald of Ralls and Craig, 14, and Mickey, 9, of the home 2221 Eighteenth street.

Justice was born in Snyder and reared in Post, where he graduated from high school. He received his diploma from Texas A. & M. in 1938 and his law degree from the University of Texas in 1941, shortly before entering the army. He served five years in the anti-aircraft service, attaining the rank of captain.

He came to Lubbock after his severence and is a partner in the law firm, Klett, Bean, Evans and Justice. He and Mrs. Justice have two daughters, Jan, 6, and Paula, 3, residing at 2429 Twenty-ninth street.

Mass production of watches and clocks was developed in the United States, largely through the efforts of New Englanders Eli Terry, Seth Thomas and Chauncey Jerome in the 18th and 19th centuries.

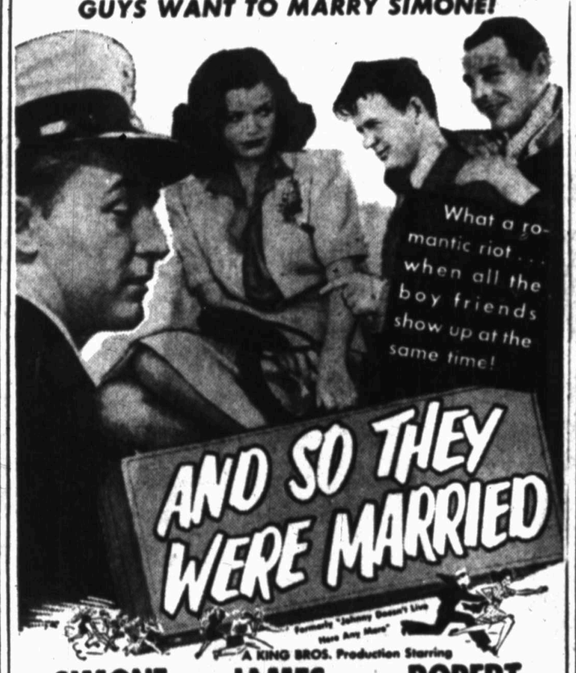

C. C. Primm Elected Mayor At Brownfield

BROWNFIELD, March 16. (Special)—C. C. Primm was elected mayor of Brownfield Tuesday by a vote of 516 to 290 over Hiram Parks, according to J. D. Miller, election judge.

The special election was called to fill the unexpired term of the late Tom May. Primm has been serving as acting mayor.

Primm, an alderman in the city government, is owner of a drug store here and a longtime resident. He is a World War II veteran. Parks owns several South Plains theaters.

THE ARMED services currently are claiming a terrific shortage of doctors. In an effort to get more medicos in uniform, they are loosing a great amount of ballyhoo; offering salary bonuses of $100 per month in addition to regular pay in grade; and even talking about seeking a law to draft physicians.

The whole situation seems to us to be typical of government insistence upon doing everything the hard way. If the Army, Navy and Air Force really need more doctors—and that is debatable—why not have Congress pass a law taking into the services those young men educated for medicine at the taxpayer's expense during the war?

The average citizen may not realize it, but hundreds and hundreds of young men went to medical school in uniform during the war. These young men now are out of school and in practice.

Why shouldn't they be put back into uniform—at regular pay in grade—for a sufficient period to repay the taxpayers for their education?

No one should fall out with the government for permitting young men in uniform to continue, through the war, medical education which they already had begun.

After all, it would have been stupid to deplete the ranks of the medical schools to make plain soldiers—especially with the nation already short of doctors and facing a still more severe shortage.

But the young men put in uniform and left in medical school got paid for going to school; they got their expensive medical education free; they didn't get shot at, or bombed—or even shipped to uncomfortable climes.

Therefore, they still owe plenty to their fellow citizens.

If the Army, Navy and Air Force need them now, Congress ought to see that their services are made available.

MRS. M. LYNCH, P. O. Box 194 in Shallowater, noted a piece in The Morning Avalanche the other day, headed "South Plains Spelling Makes Poor Showing." The story, emanating from the Texas Employment commission, noted that our folks are unusually poor spellers — and Mrs. Lynch thinks she has the answer to why they are.

Modern methods of teaching, says she—coupled with the fact that spelling and reading are eliminated too early from public schools—are to blame.

As a father of three brought up under "newfangled" teaching, and as one who daily peruses many letters from readers in and around Lubbock, we agree with Mrs. Lynch about 150 per cent.

We doubt that persons educated in South Plains schools are any worse spellers than those educated anywhere else where "newfangled" methods and early eliminating of reading and spelling courses are practiced. But we can testify, with Mrs. Lynch, that American elementary education today leaves much to be desired.

Most parents of Lubbock kids who have been exposed to the new method of learning to spell by looking at words will agree, we think, that the system is as screwy as a $2 watch. They are unmoved by claims to the contrary by the bright young educators turned out by such think-factories as Columbia University's Teachers college.

IN our book, much of the system of education from the primer through college needs a good overhauling. Whether we should go back to the school system of 25 to 50 years ago, as Mrs. Lynch indicates, or whether something better than either past or present systems is needed, is subject to question. But there is no doubt that plenty is wrong and needs improving.

Just the other day, a Lubbock banker was asked to talk to some 13-year olds undergoing, in Junior High school, a study of banking methods. Included in the study are discount rates and a lot of other mumbo-jumbo the kids have no conception of and won't remember for two weeks.

"Nuts," said the banker—or something like it. "Why should I waste my time? Those kids are too young to study that sort of thing and nine out of 10 won't need it, even when they're grown and making their own livings."

Of course, he was right.

If it's all the same to our good friend Supt. Raymond Matthews and all the teachers in town, we'd rather our 13-year old learned a little more about spelling right now. The technical banking questions can be cared for by such gentlemen as Walter Posey, George Benson and Ernest Maedgen in their banks.

The elementary and high schools are not alone in falling on their faces in the matter of practical education.

The colleges sin, too.

Just because some old graybeard of 100 years ago insisted that every college student should be made to wade through some form of higher mathematics before getting a degree is absolutely no reason for continuing to insist upon the same thing today.

How can algebra, for instance, help a journalism student. Or, for that matter, why should a person aiming at teaching English be forced to flounder through chemistry, or some other science course?

THERE'S too much pedanticism (that's a $10 word meaning "practice of ostentation in the presentation or application of knowledge") and not enough practical common sense in American education today. There is too much pulling and hauling between the extremes of yesteryear and today's modernism.

As a result, our assembly line system of education is turning out regiments of kids who can't spell; who can't punctuate; who don't have sufficient vocabulary to express themselves properly; who have a smattering of everything and a complete understanding of nothing.

The American taxpayer is getting too much quantity and not enough quality for his tax dollar spent in grade schools, high schools and colleges.

BY DREW PEARSON: NEW INTERNATIONAL PACT COVERS UNPRECEDENTED AREA

Aggressor Must Buck Combined Might Of Allies

WASHINGTON—The North Atlantic pact, most important international agreement since Phesident Monroe set forth the Monroe doctrine, will be released to the public later this week. Meanwhile, it can be revealed that the pact embraces all of Europe and the United States, plus the Atlantic ocean north of the Tropic of Cancer.

PEARSON

In this huge area, no aggressor nation, in the present instance presumably Russia, can attack any ship, airplane, or territory of the North Atlantic Allies without automatically incurring the joint opposition of all the other Allies.

Furthermore, should Russia attack U. S. forces in the American zone of Berlin, the other signatory nations would be obligated to side with the United States. Actually, the American zone of Berlin is not mentioned in the treaty, but it is included in the geographical area.

Also included in the geographical area is most of Mexico and French North Africa.

The pact does not call for an automatic declaration of war. Furthermore, it preserves the structure of the United Nations and provides for consultation under it. Nevertheless, article 5, the most important part of this historical treaty, states categorically:

"The parties agree that an armed attack upon any one of the signatories constitutes an armed attack upon all, whether the attack takes place in Europe or North America."

Article 7 also states: "If such an attack takes place, each will exercise the right of self-defense recognized by international law and each party to the agreement will act under article 51 of the United Nations charter to report the attack to the security council and go to the defense of each other."

"An armed attack," it is also stated, "means any intrusion on the territory of any nation in Europe or in North America."

Summary Of Pact

A brief summary of the historic treaty follows:

Art. 1—Lays down the principle of peaceful settlement of international differencies.

Art. 2—Specifies that the signers shall collaborate economically as well as politically and militarily.

Arts 3 and 4—Outline the elemental principles — after which the signers will mutually assist each other and consult with each other.

Art. 5—Quoted above, invites recognition of the fact that an attack directed against one among them is an attack directed against all, and asks them to take immediate action.

Art. 6—Sets forth the description of what constitutes an armed attack and gives the geographical limits in which the attack must take place—north of the Tropic of Cancer.

Art. 7—Defines the relation between the Atlantic pact and the United Nations, and recognizes the supreme authority of the security council for maintaining the peace of the world.

Art. 8—Declares that the pact recognizes the validity of existing international obligations to which the signers of the pact may already be obligated.

Art. 9—Describes plans to render the terms of the pact effective.

Art. 10 and 11—Contain the usual final clauses relative to the admission of eventual other signers and the duration and ratification of the pact.

ONLY insiders know how close the 75 cents-an-hour minimum-wage bill came to being ambushed in the House labor committee. It was finally reported out only after Chairman John Lesinski of Michigan and fellow Democrat Graham Barden of North Carolina exchanged verbal hand grenades behind closed doors.

The two Democrats who rescued the minimum-wage bill were C. M. Bailey of West Virginia and Hugo Sims of South Carolina. Three other Democrats—John Wood of Georgia, Wingate Lucas of Texas, and Barden—voted with nine Republicans agaist the 75-cent minimum wage. After it was over, Barden voted with the 13 Democrats and one Republican, Brehm of Ohio, in a 15-6 ballot to report the bill. Wood and Lucas still voted no, along with four Republicans. Other Republicans voted "present."

Before the showdown, however, Barden angrily charged Lesinski with "trying to buy Congressman Sims' vote."

"I don't know what you mean," shot back Lesinski. "We're not offering concessions to anyone to vote with us. Everyone on this committee is entitled to express and vote his views. I haven't attempted to influence the gentleman from South Carolina."

N. Carolina Vs. S. Carolina

Sims, a former combat paratrooper, didn't seem to need a spokesman. Looking squarely at Barden of North Carolina, Sims of South Carolina snapped: "I have been for a strong minimum-wage bill from the start. The record will show it. Even before we started hearings I predicted the bill would pass Congress.

"As a southerner, I would like to add that higher minimum wages for working people is one of the solutions to economic problems in the South."

Barden upbraided Lesinski for not inviting him to off-the-record caucuses on minimum-wage strategy.

"I resent your dictatorial attitude—the way you're trying to put this legislation over behind our backs," Barden challenged. "As ranking majority member of this committee, I had a right to be called in and told what is going on."

"I phoned your office and your secretary told me you were out of town," explained Lesinski.

"Yes, I know," retorted the North Carolinian, "but you didn't tell my secretary about these caucuses you've been holding. You could have invited me through him if you really wanted to have me present."

Later, Barden, an able congressman, apologized for the outburst and joined with the committee majority in finally voting out the minimum-wage bill.

TRAITOROUS French and Italian Communist leaders have declared they'd support the Red Army if it marched into their nation. Commenting on those statements, the NY Times editorialist wondered what the position of the American Scummunists would be if the Russian Army set foot on U. S. soil.

There's no need for the editorialist to wonder—because here is the nanswer in back and white: Communist leader William Z. Foster stated several years ago: "No Communist, no matter how many votes he should secure in a national election, could, even if he would, become President of the present government. When a Communist heads a government of the United States (and that day will come just as surely as the sun rises) the government will not be a capitalistic government, but a Soviet government and behind this government will stand the Red Army to enforce the dictatorship of the proletariate."

Does that make everything clear, Mr. Editorialist?

Incidentally, the N. Y. Times frowns on personal journalism—and has often attacked columnist who deal in personalities. But a Saturday Evepost piece on that gazette's Washington columnist noted some time ago: "Although Arthur Krock talks much of principles, to him the political drama has been largely an affair of personalities who are either devils or angels." Soviet Spies Have Slipped Or Writer Not Living In America

NEW YORK, March 16.—Either the quality of Soviet espionage has slipped alarmingly of late, or I have been living in some other country than America. This thought arises from a recent Soviet-proclaimed lady's day, in which the American woman was presented as "cowed," "downtrodden," and so generally depressed that she is leaping headlong into the brandy-bottle as a gesture of national despair.

RUARK

For a bit I was thinking of parachuting mama onto Moscow, as a counter-propaganda measure, but then decided that a couple of copies of the Ladies' Home Journal would weigh less—but not much less—and argue more. No louder, just more.

You can say a great many derogatory things about American womanhood, but I thought everybody knew it ain't downtrodden or cowed. At least none of it I ever met was. Not since the olden days when the men stayed home with the babies and the ladies fared forth to war has a single continent been so firmly under the distaff thumb as this one.

Rough 80 Per Cent

A rough 80 per cent of its income is spent by the women. They enjoy more luxury and less back-bruising toil than any other lassies in the world. They are broadly portrayed as demi-goddesses, and about 30 per cent of American industry is levelled right at their swan-like throats.

We have long practiced a mother-myth, a wife-myth, and a pre-marital romantic delusion which tend to enthrone the average lady as something nearly too precious for human consumption. Our newspapers, radios, magazines, music, and movies, and with their collateral advertising propaganda, are aimed directly at the female, of whom the male is popularly sketched as a bumbling by-product, subservient to her whim.

The commercial idealization of American womanhood is all-encompassing. Even when we get into the rugged business of selling shirts and cars and razor blades, the sales technique is solely to make the male animal less likely of rejection by the fair damosel.

THERE IS no such thing as a typical ugly American woman, or a mean, wicked, cruel, immoral American woman. Miss or Mrs. America is represented only as perfect, for popular scrutiny, with any minute exception serving to enforce the rule.

Millions of tons of newsprint and countless thousands of hours are devoted daily to assure that her hands are petal soft, her sheets free of tattle-tale gray, her undies immcaulate, her natural bulges restrained by the ultimate in corsetry, the color of her car complementary to her frock, and her legs alluring in the sheerest of nylon and spikiest of heels.

She smells like a spring garden or a harem orgy, according to her mood. Her dishes sparkle with rinse-oh-no, her garbage destroys itself, her children dine on predigested spinach, and nothing she owns ever fades, shrinks or rips. All her marriages are made in Heaven, and are designed to exist happily ever after unless papa stumbles out of line.

Congress Or Hollywood

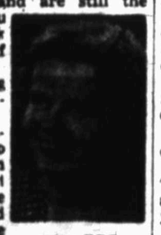

Her daughters are reared to wind up either in Congress or Hollywood, with way stops as Miss America or cover-girls or child psychiatrists or columnists or spotwelders. Her sons are universally pointed toward the presidency. She has Santa Claus, Cupid, General Motors and Revlon all in her corner, with the plastic industry toting the water-bucket and the press in the cheering section.

She can smoke cigars, wear pants or go to war, if she wishes, and no decimal point of femininity is coarsened thereby. God and Good Housekeeping watch over her home, and the entire soap industry hourly impresses her with her importance. She keeps a collar on most of the privileges and can duck a great many penalties, all by virtue of her sexual domination of the scene. If she drinks to drown her blues, it is either because she has been unable to kiss her elbow and thereby restrict all humanity to her guild, or very possibly that she likes the taste of whisky.

The Feminine Viewpoint

ANSWERING these questions honestly ought to give you a fair idea of whether or not you and your husband are still the young couple you like to think you are, or if you are gradually becoming staid, middle-aged folks.

MILLETT

Have you settled down to your own "crowd" content to see the same people over and over and not the least bit interested in enlarging your circle of friends?

Have you given up all interest in active sports, because it is easier to listen to a ball game on the radio than to get out and enjoy the out-of-doors?

Are possessions your big interest in life?

MEETING NEWCOMERS

WHEN you meet a newcomer are you critical of him if his ideas are a bit different from your own, instead of welcoming him as a stimulating influence?

Do you always plan to do things with other people, feeling that the evening is a flop if you don't have at least one other couple along?

Have you stopped caring a great deal about each other's opinions and quit trying to please each other in small ways?

Are you more interested in talking about other people than in discussing ideas?

Are you afraid to take a chance or try out new ideas?

If most of your answers are "Yes"—you may be closed to being a staid middle-aged couple than you've ever admitted you are.

"Try And Stop Me"

IN W. C. Field's early days, he often was penniless. In Philadelphia he heard of an opening for a juggler in Pittsburgh, and determined to get there despite all barriers. He boarded a local train. When the conductor found him without tickets or funds, he booted him off at the first way station with a judiciously planted kick.

Undaunted, Fields climbed on to the train that followed. Again he was discovered, and again he was ejected with a lusty kick in the rear. On his third try, a man sitting next to him asked: "How far you going, stranger?" "Pittsburgh," said Fields, "if my pants hold out!"

TERMINAL ISLAND SINKING

WEST TEXAS' ROSY FUTURE

Passing incidents frequently emphasize the futility of trying to visualize the magnitude of the future of West Texas.

Illustrative was a happenstance of a few days ago. It quoted conservative geological opinion to the effect that proved West Texas oil reserves—most of them adjacent to Lubbock—are sufficient to last at least 50 years, wholly without restrictions upon development. Geologists said, further, that other important discoveries are consiered a vital certainty.

Perhaps they were optimistic—although geologists, as a rule, are ultra conservative. But there is pretty sound reason to believe that there's a whale of lot of oil beneath the West Texas surface. And there other resources, led by agriculture, of far greater and more enduring promise.

They add up to the strongest kind of evidence that it would take an exceedingly fertile imagination to paint a picture of Future West Texas which will surpass the reality

Good Flowing Production From Well In Andrews County Shown

Good flowing production from the Devonian has shown for Frank and George Frankel No. 4-I University, slated Ellenburger exploration on the southeast side of the Fullerton field in Northwest Andrews County.

A two-hour drillstem test in the Devonian at 8,520-8,585 feet had gas to the surface in five minutes and oil in one hour and four minutes. The well flowed at an estimated rate of 122 barrels of oil per hour for the remaining 56 minutes of the test. On last report, it was still flowing out of the drillpipe.

This development, 1,321 feet from north and 330 feet from west lines of section 32, block 13, University survey, was to make a little more hole then drillstem test again.

Lease Acquired

Humble Oil & Refining company has acquired an oil and gas lease on a one-quarter interest in a 370-acre tract in Southwest Scurry county for a cash bonus of $550 per acre cash, plus $2,000 per acre to be paid out of oil, plus attorney's fees of $2,700.

The lease is in section 164, block 97, H&TC survey, and about 14 miles southwest of Snyder. It is in the same section with Humble's No. 1 Bishop, recently completed flowing wildcat discovery from the Canyon lime of the Pennsylvanian.

In the deal Humble secured a lease on the 93.25-acre interest of Lindsay A. Marchbanks, jr., 15-year-old minor son of Lindsay A. Marchbanks, sr., in section 164.

The full 370-acre Marchbanks tract in section 164, block 97, H&TC survey, is owned by Lindsay A. Marchbanks, sr., the minor son and the widowed mother of the elder Marchbanks.

The sale of the lease on the minor's interest was handled in a public auction by the county judge of Scurry county.

Lion Oil company, owner of the remaining three-quarter lease interest in the Marchbanks 370 acres, also entered a bid for the tract, but it was less than the offer made by Humble.

The Humble lease is for three years.

To Be Completed

Texas Pacific Coal & Oil company No. 2-F University, one-quarter of a mile extension to the proven limits for flowing production from the Ellenburger in the Shafter Lake area of North-Central Andrews county, and 1,923 feet from south and 1,983 feet from east lines of section 13, block 13, University survey, has shown that it will be completed as a good oil well from the deep horizon.

It took a drillstem test at 11,745-817 feet in the top of the Ellenburger. Gas showed at the surface in 11 minutes. Fluid appeared at the top in 34 minutes.

The well was flowed to pits for 15 minutes to clean, and was then turned to tanks. In the first 60 minutes of flowing to storage the well made 60 barrels of oil and in the second 60 minutes produced 53 barrels of oil.

Gravity of the petroleum was 53 degrees. Gas-oil ratio was 149-1. Operator was pulling the testing tool at last report.

The project probably will be drilled deeper into the producing formation.

Movie Stars

three hours, beginning with a rousing reception at the Clovis station.

The Clovis folks really did the welcoming business up brown. They had a platform, complete with public address system, rigged up alongside the track. As a result, the crowd of 2,500 or so had a good view of all the stars.

Dorothy Lamour, sans sarong but wearing a black outfit that the society editor undoubtedly would call "chic," stole the show at Clovis. Dorothy was given a 300-pound registered Hereford heifer, "Clovis Bell," by a group representing the city's Southwestern Cattle festival.

Stepped On Lamour

In the midst of all the hubbub on the platform, the frightened Clovis Belle — which had been given a Dreft bath and gaily bedecked in a blanket and red, white, and blue ribbon for the occasion—somehow managed to plant a fore-foot firmly atop Miss Lamour's foot. For a few seconds, Dottie gave the crowd the first-class imitation of a victim of the old hot-foot prank. She took it all in stride, however, and laughed to let spectators know she wasn't hurt painfully. The Clovis crowd went whole hog for it—or should I say "whole calf."

Present Impromptu Programs

For the two hour, 15 minute ride to Lubbock, the stars scattered through the train's two lounge cars, gathering in small groups for conversation or, occasionally, singing.

In one corner, Dennis O'Keefe collared Van Heflin and Robert Paige to tell them all about a forthcoming Western role he'd like to play, explaining that he thought a few good Westerns would help to snap Hollywood out of its current slump.

Ranger Thrills Group

Later Paige moved to another corner to join Andy Devine and J. Carrol Naish in listening to some stories being told by Frank Hamer, famed Texas Ranger captain who was a special guest aboard the train. The actors' eyes opened wide and their lower jaws dropped slightly as Hamer told how he had set the highway ambush that ended the law-breaking careers of Clyde Barrow and Bonnie Parker, notorious Southwestern desperadoes of the 1930's.

An impromptu birthday party was staged in an adjoining diner for MacDonald Carey, who was 36 years old Tuesday. Practically all the name stars were on hand for publicity pictures of the birthday gathering.

All in all, the film folk were unusually courteous and well-mannered. There was, of course, some clowning but there were no signs of rowdiness, or even rudeness, aboard the train.

I was surprised to find that most of the stars looked much as they do on the screen. One notable exception was Joan Davis, who is a blonde in real life and a brunette in reel life.

The group will appear as guests of McCarthy's at the opening of his new hotel, Shamrock in Houston Thursday. McCarthy, also an independent movie producer, also will premiere his first major film, "The Green Promise."

Problems Of Home Building Discussed

Problems in all phases of the home building industry and various plans of federal Housing administration financing were explained in a public meeting last night in the Lubbock county courthouse.

Economy of building without lowering standards may be obtained through purchase of high quality material, proper financing through FHA and the Veterans administration, insistence on proper construction, and location in zoned areas, local speakers stated.

Necessity for co-operation of all persons concerned with housing in making costs lower was stressed.

E. T. Stearns and E. M. Lavell of the FHA regional offices in Fort Worth explained various types of FHA financing.

Local speakers included Ben Cole, representing the Lubbock Lumbermen's association; W. L. Bradshaw of the Housing Authority commission of Lubbock; Jim Reed, representing the Home Builders association; City Manager Steve Matthews; J. Louis Murfee, jr., representing the Lubbock Realtors association; and C. M. Harbin, of the regional VA office.

City Limits

pared by the city engineer.

The developer would be reimbursed for their expenditure by the city in annual installments over a five-year period, without interest, as houses actually were built.

By way of illustration, the city manager cited a development which contemplated the erection of 80 residences.

The policy would allow as long as five years for completion of the 80 houses. If 20 were built the first year, reimbursements for utilities to serve those residences would start the following year and would be paid by the city in five annual installments. Houses could not be scattered promiscuously over an addition so as to put intervening lots within reach of utilities. Residences would have to be grouped nearest to available water and sewer connections. Or, if residences should be scattered, the developer would receive no reimbursement for utility extensions of more than 150 feet.

Other Cities Studied

The proposed policy, the city manager said, resulted from the studies of methods employed by several cities to extend their city limits and to provide utility services.

Of particular value in formulating his recommendations, he continued, were plans employed with success in Austin, Tyler, Fort Worth, Abilene and Midland.

The policy was outlined to two developers of projects who appeared at the meeting. Both apparently were impressed favorably.

J. C. Davis said he hopes to build approximately 150 residences in the $7,000 to $10,000 price range in nine blocks south of Thirty-fourth street an east of Avenue P.

The area is outside the city limits now. But it, and all others receiving utilities, would have to be brought inside the city limits before the policy could be applied to them.

Developers Approve Plan

G. R. Kennedy said the development of three projects in which he is interested depends upon utilities which would be necessary to obtain financing. One, contemplating more than 100 residences, adjoins the northwestern city limits. The others, both small, are within the city in the vicinity of Thirty-fourth and College avenue.

Both Davis and Kennedy said they believed the new policy would be practical for their developments.

The policy also applies to another development—the Denison Heights addition—which was started in the process of annexation to the city at the request of Guy McAfee and associates.

It is a tract comprising four long blocks bounded by Thirtieth and Thirty-second streets on the north and south, and by Taylor and Pierce avenues on the east and west.

The commission was asked to leave a half of one block, on Thirtieth cornering at Thirty-second, outside the city limits. This would have allowed the owners to build whatever they chose, regardless of zoning regulations surrounding them. The commission took the position of "all or none" of the addition for inclusion in the city.

The ordinance annexing the area was adopted on the first of three readings which will be necessary to make it binding.

The city manager said the new policy will make possible the financing of utilities for which the city itself does not have the money. The utility revenues from the new residences served, he said, should be about enough to reimburse the builders for the installations they finance.

Mayor Rodgers announced the commission will meet again this afternoon to transact other pending routine business.

Grain Inspector For Panhandle Is Urged

WASHINGTON, March 16. (AP)—Rep. Worley (D-Tex) yesterday urged a House appropriations subcommittee to ask that the pending agriculture department supply bill provide funds for a federal grain inspector at Amarillo, Tex.

He said that an inspector is needed in the Texas Panhandle, a large wheat producing area, to aid dealers and warehousemen.

Texan Sentenced To Two Years In Prison

EL PASO, March 16. (AP)—Capt. Joe Allen Mason, 30, faces two years in prison for embezzlement.

He was sentenced yesterday in the federal court of Judge R. E. Thomason. He entered a plea of guilty to embezzling $10,267 from the First National bank at Odessa. Mason, a former bank employe, was arrested last Dec. 29.
