BEFORE JUDGE MARTIN

6 Plead Guilty Monday In County Court Cases

Six persons entered pleas of guilty Monday to charges in County Court before Judge Elmer Martin.

Two of the defendants admitted drunk driving offenses, one pleaded guilty to transporting beer in a dry area and three admitted theft of watermelons.

Juan Garcia was fined $135 and court costs after he admitted transporting alcoholic beverages in the county. He was arrested Aug. 29 and charged in a complaint by City Patrolman Selma Q. Dickson.

Tommy Earl Baker, J. N. Baker and Jimmy Compton pleaded guilty to theft of a load of watermelons, valued at approximately $12, Aug. 30.

The watermelons were taken from a field farmed by Dewey Turner, who had alerted sheriff officers and city police over a period of weeks to alleged raids on his watermelons.

The three defendants, who were picked up by City Patrolmen Dave Shackelford and Truman Henderson at about 3 a. m. Aug. 30, said they had never taken melons before.

Each was assessed a one-day jail term and an equal portion of the court costs, $9.16.

Four additional defendants have pleaded guilty to charges filed recently in County Court.

Fined $100 and costs and placed in jail three days were Pete Lopez and Ben Jones, both of whom admitted to driving while intoxicated.

Travis Autry Witten, also charged with driving while intoxicated, had bond set at $500.

All three of the DWI defendants were taken into custody by state highway patrolmen.

Pleading guilty to aggravated assault were George B. Wallthall and Curtis Alexander. Both were fined $25.

Alford Bush was fined $35 and court costs after pleading guilty to swindling with a $15 worthless check passed last March 1 at Reed Oil Company. Judge Martin also recommended that he repay the company.

WOMEN, AGRICULTURE, CRAFTS

Entry Deadlines Set For Fair's Divisions

Persons planning entries in any division of the 1959 Mitchell County Fair are urged by fair officials to study rules governing the divisions.

Rules governing all departments and classes in the Women's Adult, Women's Youth, Agriculture Adult, Agriculture Youth, Arts and Crafts divisions can be obtained at Chamber of Commerce office in Civic House, County Agent and Home Demonstration offices in Courthouse.

Although the 1959 fall show of Colorado City Garden Club will be a feature incorporated into the fair, regulations for the flower competition will still be entirely under the jurisdiction of the Garden Club.

"But exhibitors in the other five divisions of competition should be fully acquainted with all fair rules so they will be assured of eligibility and so they can facilitate the fair's operation and judging," said Ernie Larmer, Chamber of Commerce manager.

Larmer emphasized 2 major regulations for the Women's Adult and Youth divisions:

1. Entry books for these divisions will be opened from 8 a. m. to 2 p. m. Thursday, Sept. 10. All articles entered for competition in this department must be delivered at this time, and under no circumstances will entries be received after 2 p. m. Thursday, Sept. 10.

2. Exhibitors are requested to get, or redeem, their exhibits in all women's divisions after 9 p. m. Saturday, Sept. 12, or between 8:30 a. m. to 12 noon Monday, Sept. 14. No articles will be delivered except on presentation of duplicate entry ticket.

All agricultural products exhibits —adult or youth—must be delivered to the National Guard Armory, the same agricultural display area as last year.

Agricultural exhibits may be entered between the hours of 8 a. m. and 2 p. m. Thursday, Sept. 10. The exhibits may be redeemed after 9 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 12, or between the hours of 8:30 a. m. to 12 noon Monday, Sept. 14.

MEMBERSHIP, BUDGET

Chamber Reports New Record Gains

New records for Chamber of Commerce investment are being made by the chamber's continuous membership committee.

Members of the committee at their monthly breakfast Tuesday at 7 a. m. in Baker Hotel's Colorado Room reported three more new members and seven additional increases in chamber investment.

The three new members added $36 to the chamber budget and the increase investments of the seven previous members provided a $150 boost.

The additions brought to 30 the total of new members added by the committee so far this year, according to committee chairman—G. D. Foster. And that's the finest record in recent years, at least, for a seven-month period.

Those 30 new members have put $543 into the budget.

Another seven-month record by Foster's committee is chalked up in the number of members so far this year who have increased their chamber investment — a total of 32. These increases have added $810 to the budget.

All total — new members and increased investments — have provided a $1,353 budget boost.

COTTON DAMAGED

Final Heat Wave Stays 100-Plus

Summer is on a final, blistering fling as far as Colorado City is concerned.

Official weather thermometer on Courthouse lawn climbed above the 100 mark again Thursday.

The 100 - plus temperature was nothing new, however. It's been just as regular as the calendar of late.

Infact, Sunday was the broiler of the year with high of 110 degrees — officially, too. The day before, Saturday, the official temperature was 104.

Monday and Tuesday as sports fans began to think of football and Colorado High's first game of the season Friday night, the weatherman continued to get his signals crossed and the temperature remained sky high at 107 degrees both days.

And by 1 p. m. Tuesday the thermometer was up to 101.5 degrees.

However, some rural areas of the county soaked up as much as half an inch of moisture Sunday night. It was mighty welcome for cotton.

The steady 100-plus temperatures were damaging to numerous cotton crops across the county.

Officers, Directors Elected

Colorado City Museum Association gave the go-ahead signal Tuesday night for preparing and opening a museum in the local American Legion Hut.

The action came at a meeting of the association's executive board following its election at a meeting of association members.

Details for operation of the museum will come later, but initial moves include:

1. Authorization to lease the Legion Hut's main floor area for one year at a net rental price of $50 per month.

2. Named two attorneys — Lewis Williams of Thompson & Williams and Austin McCloud of Ratliff & McCloud—to secure state charter for the association as a non-profit corporation.

3. Instructed the association president, R. H. (Harry) Ratliff to initiate action toward immediate collection and preparation of, museum articles.

The executive board composed of nine men—mapped the museum plans immediately after the membership meeting in Civic House.

Members, in the night's initial meeting, elected Ratliff to presidency of the museum association. He has been a leader in the association organization and served as temporary chairman during the organizational move.

Other officers elected were Garlan Green, Baker Hotel manager, first vice president; Will Berry, farmer and long time collector of West Texas historical lore, second vice president; Lewis Williams, secretary-treasurer.

Named as board members were Bert Wulfjen, farmer and member of a pioneer Mitchell County family; Char-

LENA BAUMANN'S

Personally Yours

One wouldn't know by judging from temperatures of the past few days that fall is all but here.

And of course with fall and winter comes new fashions, which have been on display in local department stores for some time now, and different types of recreation.

Swimming, skiing, boating, picnicking and other summer entertainment will soon give away to football, indoor games, dancing and maybe, later a taste of snow sleding for the kids . . . .

But that's a far cry from our 100 plus temperatures of the past few days, isn't it?

By the way, congratulations are in order for L. F. Neal, who retired from Standard Oil Company this week.

Mr. Neal, father of Mrs. Newby Pratt of 1374 Austin Street, reached the retirement age Monday after working as a Standard Oil pumper for 32 years. He was employed in the Westbrook field at the time of his retirement.

Mr. and Mrs. Neal plan to move to their new home at 715 Marshall Street in the near future.

They have one son, Frank Earl Neal of Houston.

Jimmy Wood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Wood of 1325 Walnut Street, received an associate science degree in industrial electrical engineering from Arlington State College in Arlington last week.

He is now employed by TESCO's Morgan Creek power plant at Lake Colorado City.

Give them a Faith to live by

Worship with them this week

Naturally you want them to have all the good things in life . . . a happy home . . . a good education . . . plenty of chances to meet other nice young people. But be sure to give them the most precious gift of all . . . Faith.

The wonderful part is that faith is yours to give . . . no matter who you are, what you do for a living, how much money you have in the bank.

Faith is the gift you give a little at a time. Every week you worship with the children at your church or synagogue. The youngsters see you . . . the biggest, smartest, most important people in their world . . . asking God for help, thanking Him for blessings. Then it's clear to them . . . here they can always find the strength they need, always find the happiness they want.

Then you've done the best a parent—any parent—can do.

lie C. Thompson, president of City National Bank; Otto Jones, long-time manager of Renderbrook Ranch, and Joe Bell, co-publisher of the Record.

Rental of the Legion Hut will be $85 per month, but improvements by the museum association will be deducted from the rental at rate of $35 per month until that withdrawal matches the outlay for improvements.

The association plans painting and other renovations at the Hut, so the net monthly rental for the initial year is expected to be $50.

Ratliff said initial estimates for painting inside the hut, caulking and repairing windows, plus other work amounting to about $750.

Right now the museum association has a total of 322 members with $641 cash on hand. The association has paid out $1,563.72 for recovering and moving buffalo tracks from Champion Creek, mailing and office expense. A $750 loan obtained from City National Bank as the association began its organizational move already has been repaid.

However, Ratliff said it appeared that approximately $3,200 per year will be required in the early stages of the museum's operation. This would include funds for rental, utilities and part-time curator.

Several display cases have been donated to the museum and Berry Tuesday night revealed that he was giving the museum two solid oak chairs which were in the county's original courthouse.

COLLEGE PROSPECT

McMurry to Give Compton QB Try

ABILENE — A trio of talent scouts will begin sifting through a field of approximately 60 candidates for talent — football style — when fall drills open at McMurry College Tuesday.

Head Coach Thomas Leo (Tommy) Ellis and his aides are searching specifically for proven depth at guard and quarterback. Two-a-day drills are scheduled for the first week, beginning at 6 a. m.

A list of 16 lettermen will be among returning squadmen and new candidates, including two numeral winners from 1956.

Ellis said guard and quarterback positions pose a question mark right now. Terry O'Brien, two-year letterman, is the only experienced field general on hand. Once past the 6-4, 195-pounder, there is little experience available.

A tentative shift designed to strengthen the guard slots calls for two-year tackle veteran Charles Baldwin to be moved to guard. If the move fits, Baldwin will team with one-year letterman Joe Allen Boyd, John Thomas and Gaylon Woodard at guard.

Several prospects will be given a thorough testing at quarterback, in an attempt to find help for O'Brien. Jim Sadler, halfback letterman from last season, Randy Roten, and Richard Compton of Colorado City; both squadmen, also will be tried. Roten was shifted to end in spring drills, but may return to his more familiar post.

Ellis said tackles wil be his strongest position, with four letterman on hand. These include 245-pound Bill Gorman, a two-year veteran, Robert James, Doyne McIver, Rayford (Beefy) Wilkerson, 225-pound numeral winner from 1956 and Baldwin.

Ends will be strong with Dalton Hicks and Jim Jackson, both two-year vets, back in camp. Both were top receivers in 1958.

Not too much speed is available in the backfield. Veterans George Bridges, Bobby Hartgraves, Gerald Combs, Don Howard, O'Brien and Richard Tolliver are the only letterman available. Tolliver, a good prospect, lettered in 1956 before dropping out of school.

Bridges and Tolliver will do time at fullback, with a new candidate, Joe Baxter, 190, recently was discharged from the Marine Corps. He could be the insurance ticket the Redskins need.

McMurry will have less than two weeks' preparation for their first game with Sul Ross State College in Alpine, scheduled for September 12.

Buckner Rites Conducted in Waxahachie

Funeral services for J. T. Buckner, a former Mitchell County farmer, were conducted Tuesday in Waxahachie.

Buckner died early Monday in a Waxahachie hospital following a brief illness. He had been in ill health since May 1957.

He was born Sept. 5, 1880, in Oneonta, Ala., and married Miss Carrie Martin in 1901 in Ellis County. She died in 1926.

Buckner moved to Mitchell County in 1928 and farmed in the Buford Community for several years. Until his marriage to Mrs. Mary Green in 1952 in Waxahachie, he made his home with a daughter, Mrs. H. A. Moore.

Survivors include two sons —Curtis Buckner of Waxahachie, J. B. Buckner of Colorado City; four daughters, Mrs. Alvin Mathers of Maypearl, Mrs. Jack Walraven of Cleburne, Mrs. E. V. Alsobrook and Mrs. H. A. Moore of Colorado City; 16 grandchildren and 18 great-grandchildren.

Burial was in Oak Branch Cemetery in Waxahachie.

West Texans Dominate Tech Lineup

LUBBOCK — West Texans dominate the starting lineup for Texas Tech's Red Raiders, who complete their first week of practice with a scrimmage Saturday afternoon.

Coach DeWitt Weaver's Red Raiders are just two weeks away from their opening contest, against Texas A&M in Dallas, at 8 p. m. Sept. 19.

Running first string as practice began Tuesday were ends Don Waygood of Sundown and Tommy Pace of Amarillo, tackles Jerry Selfridge of Borger and Bobby Cline of Belton, guards Fred Weaver of Cooper and Jere Mohon of Panhandle, center E. J. Holub of Lubbock, quarterback Glen Amerson of Munday, halfback Ronnie Rice of Lefors, split back Dan Gurley of Fort Worth, and fullback George Fraser of Llano or Herbert Pearce of Monahans.

Tech's list of returning letterman went to 16 with the reporting of Pampa's Ed Strickland. A letterman guard in 1957, he did not play last year. Strickland may be placed at tight end in the Raiders' new multiple offense.

AGAINST BROWNFIELD

Experience-Shy Wolves In Grid Opener Friday

The encounter will be on the road in Brownfield against District 2-AAA Brownfield Cubs.

It's the 1959 season opener for both clubs, neither of whom are counted as championship contenders in their respective districts.

Holladay, who in his last game watched his White Deer team ramble to the 1958 Texas Class A championship, will debut in AAA competition with a club short on experience — heavy with juniors and sophomores averaging 16 years in age across the entire roster.

His starting line-up will include only five returning lettermen among three seniors, six juniors and two sophomores.

Missing from the team Friday night will be four hefty lettermen previously counted upon for yoeman duty. They are Bobby (Red) Lemons, junior lineman out temporarily with an injured knee; Larry Hardcastle, senior tackle whose schoolboy grid career ended when an injury necessitated an operation to remove his spleen; Rumaldo Lujan, senior guard, and Dickie Richardson, senior tailback, both of whom quit the squad.

Coach Holladay, who is introducing an entirely new offense to Colorado High with wing-T variation and angle blocking, is seeking to rebuild the Wolves from a football slide that hit bottom last fall with only one win in 10 games.

Opponents for Wolves

Likely starter at quarterback is Jerry McKay, junior who probably will get the call over Jay Shimer, senior. Both are lettermen.

Rounding out the backfield probably will be Wayne Reed of Silver, 135-pound agile junior, or Gary Lightfoot, 140-pounder also quick on the move, at tailback; junior letterman Don Vest, 155-pounder at fullback, and Bucky Spivey, 140-pound senior who was not out for football last fall because of ineligibility, at fullback.

For the whole team — and squad, too, for that matter—Holladay emphasizes the fact of inexperience. He definitely sees potential, but it won't come until inexperience comes off.

"We'll just have to be patient," he said. "The kids have a lot of willingess and they are eager.

"They were taught one type of football, the straight or split - T formation with straightaway blocking.

"And our's is entirely a different . . . based entirely on giving a kid an angle block."

Friday night the Wolves will operate Holladay's version of the wing-T, a mixture he has formulated a good bit from a couple of college systems.

It won't be too different, though, from the Brownfield attack coached by Doug Cox, who played ball at McMurry, also Holladay's alma mater.

The Wolves have secured some pre-game experience in practice scrimmages with Hamlin. And the coaches spell it out plain that Wolves looked better warming up than they did in acual scrimmage the first time.

"But they were a different bunch of boys the second time," Holladay said, "and we could begin to see a pattern . . . with the boys beginning to do some of things we taught them."

LORAINE BULLDOGS IN OPENER FRIDAY

The Loraine Bulldogs, coached by Kenneth Ford, will play their first game of the season against Roscoe Friday night.

Of 21 boys who reported for workouts Monday morning, about six are lettermen. According to coach Ford, a large part of the team is made up of freshmen and sophomores who are not experienced in varsity football.

Coach Ford thinks the team has a "pretty good" chance, if no more players are injured. One letterman will not play with the team this year because his collar bone has been broken twice.

REBUILDING, TOO

8 Lettermen to Lead Cubs Against C-City

Special to the Record

BROWNFIELD — The Brownfield Cubs entered the final round of practice sessions this week, prepping for Friday's invasion by the Colorado City Wolves.

Kickoff time for the season opener at Cub Stadium in Brownfield is slated at 8 p. m.

Brownfield, almost as victory hungry as the visitors, will field a predominantly junior team. Coach Doug Cox, beginning his fourth year as head mentor here, has only three starters back from the 1958 squad.

Heading the list of returnees are left end Jimmy Tollett, center Larry Jackson and tailback Johnny Murphy. Cox will have only five other lettermen to field against the tough Wolves.

Other lettermen returning this season are tackle Elbert Landess, guard Glen Koch, quarterback Leon Clark, wingback Lenis Roscoe and defensive halfback Jerry Browning.

The Cub mentor shifted Roscoe from a guard slot to the wingback post to fill the gap left by Leon Hinson, who graduated. Clark, who understudied Joe Oswald at the signal calling post, also played wingback and fullback last season.

Cox has a tall order facing him this season, building a winning combination from a squad that has only eight seniors. He lost 15 lettermen seniors last season via the graduation route.

The light weight squad is not expected to overpower anyone with their size. Only two tip the scales at more than 175 pounds. The tackles, Landess and Jimmy Hackney, tip the beam at 210 and 190, respectively.

Tollett, Jackson and tackle John Clare are next in line in the weight department, weighing about 170 pounds. From that point, it trails off to 120-pound guard Johnny Rodgers.

All-in-all, it looks like the Cubs are at least a year away from title contention is District 2-AA. Of the squad, 15 are juniors and 14 are sophomores.

Brownfield finished third in the conference last year — the third straight season — with a 4-5-1 mark. Most preseason dopesters rate them no higher than fourth and probably in the cellar position.

"How we finish will depend upon how our younger boys can come around and gain experience," said Cox.

The Cubs have scrimmaged Denver City and Hereford during the past week, prepping for the Wolves, who dropped Brownfield, 7-0, in 1957. Brownfield blasted the Wolves, 27-0, in 1956.

The two teams did not meet last season because of scheduling difficulties.

You'll be giving your child real help with his homework when you see that he has proper light at his study table. For best light from a table lamp, use a 150-watt bulb. The lamp should be properly shaded to conceal the light source from the eyes and should be tall enough to spread light evenly over the work area. A diffusing bowl is recommended to soften the light and prevent glare. If the lamp has no diffusing bowl, use a 150-watt white indirect bulb. It has its own built-in diffusor. See your dealer for the bulbs you need soon.

Labor Day Safety In Hands of Driver

Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety has reported 31 persons are expected to be killed in Texas traffic accidents during the three-day Labor Day weekend. Col. Homer Garrison Jr. said the official predication — which is seldom far off — should "serve as a challenge to all Texans to make a concerted effort to stem the tide of highway tragedy next weekend."

He pointed out that during the Labor Day weekend last year there were 30 traffic deaths, one more than the department had predicted. He noted, however, that the forecast for the 1959 Fourth of July holiday — 26 fatalities — proved to be accurate.

"We would like to make a special appeal to the citizens of Texas to consider the facts about holiday driving and do their utmost to reduce the tragedy of death, suffering and economic loss next weekend," Garrison said. "Department of Public Safety patrolmen and all other law enforcement officers in our State will do everything in their power to make the streets and highways safer by removing lawless drivers —but the statistics prove the main job is up to the individual behind the wheel."

He cited the following facts and figures on last Labor Day weekend: of the 30 traffic deaths in the State, 26 occurred in rural areas as the result of 18 accidents.

Ten of the 18 rural fatal accidents involved drivers who had been drinking.

Two of the three rural fatal pedestrian accidents involved pedestrians who had been drinking.

Seven of the 10 drivers who had been drinking in rural fatal accidents were exceeding the legal speed limit.

In 12 of the 13 rural fatal accidents involving only one car, the drivers had no "other driver" to blame. In the other case, a pedestrian-victim was at fault.

Perhaps the most significant thing in the analysis of last year's Labor Day statistics is that in every rural fatal accident, at least one violation was apparently a contributing factor. So it might follow that if we can stop the violations, we can stop the death and destruction on the highway of Texas.

The Public Safety Director said some 125 additional patrolmen from the Department's other uniformed services will augment the Highway Patrol force during the three-day "Operation Holiday" beginning at 12:01 A. M. Saturday, September 5, and ending at 11:59 P. M. Monday, September 7.

Best Harvesting For Most Profit

Texas cotton growers, Mitchell County included, are producing one of the best crops in many years and should use the best harvesting methods possible for the most profit, advises Fred Elliott, extension cotton work specialist.

Good harvesting can mean as much as $25 per bale more for the grower, he pointed out. If growers will use good harvesting methods, millions of dollars can be added to Texas farm income this year.

To harvest better cotton, Elliott said that cotton should be picked only after dew or rain has dried off and that green bolls, grass, stalk parts or other trash should be kept out of seed cotton. Enough seed cotton should be taken to the gin for a 500 pound bale of lint cotton. Farmers will be docked for undersized and oversized bales. Also, he reminds, bales weighing less than 275 or more than 700 pounds cannot be sold to the Commodity Credit Corporation.

Other harvesting practices recommended include; not picking cotton in tar bottom pick sacks; seed cotton grouping for hand picked and machine picked cotton, or machine picked cotton of different quality; defoliating at the proper time; not tramping seed cotton in trailers or storage; and keeping mechanical harvesters in good condition and using only well trained operators.

When the seed cotton is delivered to the gin yard, the effects of harvesting do not end. It's easy to see that clean, dry cotton can be ginned much better than damp, trashy cotton. Producers should remember they have a sizeable investment in their crop and in numerous cases proper harvesting practices can mean the difference between profit and loss, added Elliott.

WASHINGTON REPORT

Farming 'Summit' Meeting Proposed

By CLINTON DAVIDSON
Special Correspondent

President Eisenhower is being urged to call a "summit conference" of farm leaders this fall in a dramatic effort to ease tensions between Congress and Agriculture Secretary Ezra Benson over farm legislation.

It is hoped that such a conference at the White House, with the President presiding, could result in an easing of the "cold war" that blocked all efforts this year to develop new and useful farm legislation.

There was unanimous agreement at the start of this year that new farm laws ranked just back of national defense on the list of "must" legislation for this session of Congress. Mr. Eisenhower emphasized that in his January farm message to Congress.

A farm situation that was growing steadily worse, both from the standpoint of skyrocketing costs and growing surpluses, was conclusive proof that both Congress and the Admistration had a responsibility to study the farm laws. There was no disagreement on that.

President Eisenhower told Congress, in general terms, the kind of a farm bill he wanted. Secretary Benson spelled that out in specific language a few days later in testimony before the congressional agriculture committees.

The secretary was rebuffed by hot words and his proposal was coldshouldered by both Democratic and Republican members, who have different viewpoints than those of Benson. Mr. Benson, stung by the criticism of his proposal, sat back and waited to see what Congress would come up with. Some of his harsher critics charged that he sulked, but this Mr. Benson flatly denied.

At any rate, the situation rapidly deteriorated into a cold war in which both sides issued belligerent statements. Both sides charged the other with blocking settlement of the farm program dispute.

Congress, ignoring the advice of Secretary Benson, passed three farm bills, all of which the President, acting on Benson's advice, promptly vetoed. These dealt with REA administration, tobacco price supports, and a wheat production control program.

Congress attempted to override the REA veto, but failed by only a handful of votes, and made no effort to upset the tobacco and wheat rejections. Benson emphasized that if farm laws were to be changed they would have to be changed the way he believed to be in the public interest.

The cold war became even more frigid. Congressmen issued statements denouncing Benson and blaming him for the stalemate. President Eisenhower urged Benson and Congress to get together and agree on a new farm program. Neither would budge.

Perhaps, at a summit conference, the public pressure — both from farmers and other taxpayers — would be strong enough to force some sort of an agreement that would make sense out of a situation that, at present, no one can defend.

STATE STATISTICS PROVE

Back to School Trek Pays Off In Better Living, More Cash

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

During the next few weeks young Texans by the thousands will troop back to their classrooms.

Many will be entering a brand new world. There'll be some 250,000 first graders, some 28,000 college freshmen. In cities and towns across the state, children will take their last swim in the city pools. Parents will re-set their alarm clocks and refigure their budgets.

Parents of the incoming college freshmen — most of whom got their own schooling at rock-bottom depression prices — face what most will regard as an appallingly expensive future. Average cost for a Texas college student is $1,100 a year — not including a car, clothes, dates, etc. In the larger cities it may run $1,500 a year.

For four years the average is about $5,000. But hardly any other investment can be expected to return such handsome dividends. Statistically, the college graduate can expect to earn $100,000 more in his lifetime than the non-graduate.

Aside from the students and the parents and teachers who are affected, "back to school" has a wider impact on the economy. Employment will jump as many of the jobless are absorbed into the operations of the dormitories, boarding houses, lunchrooms. Retail stores look to the briskest sales since Easter in the annual re-outfitting that ranges from blue jeans to book satchels, calicos to crayons.

Real estate, customarily, also has a flurry as families try to "get located before school starts."

* * *

WHY GO BACK? — Why go back to school when you can stay out and earn some money?

Texas Board of Pardons and Paroles has some sobering answers. Its annual report shows that of 1,186 prison inmates released during the past year, only 119 had completed high school. Only six were college graduates.

Percentage is about the same for those persons still in prison. Overall, the Board feels that people who complete their educations and are therefore able to get useful, better-paying jobs are much less likely to run afoul of the law.

* * *

ALL BUT THREE — Gov. Price Daniel signed the huge new state appropriations bill but he exercised his constitutional prerogative to scratch out some items.

Daniel vetoed appropriations for (1) a $216,000 home for old folks; (2) a $200,000 tourist advertising program by the State Highway Department; and (3) $1,033,500 for interim legislative expenses.

He vetoed the old folks home, said the governor, because "the hospital board does not have responsibility for seniles and . . . state policy should be to get these unfortunate people into private rest homes near their families rather than making them permanent patients of the state hospital system."

As to tourist advertising, the governor said that the Highway Department already is spending twice this much from other funds, and the appropriation would reduce activities.

Daniel said he saw no need for the interim legislative expense money inasmuch as $330,000 had been appropriated in a separate bill for future legislative expenses.

State Capital NEWS

Legislative leaders replied that perhaps the state isn't supposed to be responsible for housing the aged, but the fact is it has some on its hands. They're now housed in the 50-year-old Confederate Home in Austin. It has been labeled a fire trap.

Legislative expense money was to be used to put a new carpet in the House, refinish desks and provide offices for House members. Rep. Bill Heatly of Paducah said he felt it as "unprecedented for the executive branch to tell the legislative branch how to finance itself."

* * *

DIVIDING IT UP — Now that all state agencies know how much money they'll have for the next two years, governing boards have been busy deciding how to make the most of it.

State Hospital Board, with an appropriation that jumped 8.9 per cent to $83,142,340, plans to spend $4,500,000 for new buildings. This will include a new 300-bed unit at the Denton State School and a new home for older patients at Denton, a new ward building at Terrell State Hospital, a new recreation building and warehouse at the Austin State Hospital and numerous road building and renovation projects.

Texas Youth Council, with a kitty that jumped from $7,767,441 for the 1958-59 period to $10,112,450 for the new biennium, plans to add both dormitories and personnel to the two correctional institutes, Gatesville School for Boys and Gainesville School for Girls. Some new construction and personnel also are planned for the homes for orphaned children.

Texas A&M Board of Regents has allotted a substantial portion of the $1,969,666 increase in its $44,174,865 appropriation for salary increase on a merit basis. All in all, some 10 branches and services are a part of the A&M system. New student apartment buildings on the main campus are in the offing.

* * *

VET LAND SLOWS—Texas Veterans Land Program will have to be stoppered down to a trickle from now until after November, 1960.

State is running low on money for this program. It has authority to sell bonds to raise more money. But with the interest rate on the bonds limited by the law to 3 per cent nobody wants to buy the bonds. In the general election in 1960, the voters, may, if they choose, raise the interest the state can pay to 3½ per cent and make possible the sale of more bonds.

Of course, if the state has to pay more interest on its bonds, it will have to go up on the interest it charges veterans — probably to 4 per cent.

Under the plan, the state buys land and re-sells it to the veterans on a long-term, low-interest contract. It's the only "bonus" to Texas veterans. But it has resulted in the purchase by veterans of 1,997,404 acres of Texas land at an average price of $69.39 per acre.

* * *

SUIT OVER HAY — In the midst of plenteous rain, State Agriculture Commissioner John White has a problem arising from the 1953 drought-relief program.

White says the U. S. Department of Agriculture plans to sue Texas for some $162,670 which the USDA claims it overpaid for shipping hay to Texas farmers and ranchers.

PHILOSOPHER SAYS

Farmer Has Place For Price Sticker

Editor's note: The Shinnery Flats Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Bone Hollow Creek has another idea he won't get anywhere with this week.

* * *

Dear editor:

It's not that I'm in the market for a new car, I'm waiting for the new models, have been for years, though it doesn't seem to make much differences, as fast as they bring out a new model they turn around and start to work on an even newer one, never can seem to make up their minds, but what I started out to say does concern cars.

I read in a newspaper last night that a new law is now in effect requiring car manufacturers to put a sticker on every car showing the list price — what it ought to sell for, what the extras on it should cost, etc., and there's a $1,000 fine if a car dealer removes the sticker.

As I understand it, this was done to keep some sharp dealers from running the price way up, allowing you a lot more for your trade-in, and still making a satisfactory profit. What they were doing was taking a $50 cat in on a $100 dog, still getting first place for the dog, which is pretty high for a dog, but so are cars and everything else.

The new law is intended to put a stop to this.

Now there's an idea that ought to be carried over into farming, but sort of in reverse. While the car sticker law is aimed at keeping some dealers from hornswoggling the public, the farm sticker law would be aimed at keeping the farmer from hornswoggling himself.

For instance, say a farmer has a dozen eggs for sale, and the going price is 20 cents. The government ought to require the farmer to put a sticker on the eggs showing they cost him 30 cents to produce.

I'm not sure how this would keep a farmer from selling 30-cent eggs for 20 cents, but it at least would bring the thing out into the open. It just takes too many eggs these days to buy a new car or a new tractor, even one with a government-guaranteed price sticker on it.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Build Market by Creating Demand

By ROY V. FOX
Record Co-Publisher

When the contributions to a free society are listed by modern statesmen, advertising is often given a place of high rank.

Among those who have expressed respect for the value of advertising are Franklin D. Roosevelt, Dwight D. Eisenhower, and Winston Churchill.

Sir Winston Churchill, for instance, has said that one of the important influences of advertising is the establishment of goals upon which progress is built.

"Advertising sets up before a man the goal of a better home, better clothing, better food for himself and his family. It spurs individual exertion and greater productivity," Sir Winston said.

This observation of Churchill's should have meaning to every merchant who expects continuous progress in his business. A major function of advertising, as Churchill described it, is the development of new demands.

It is a mistake for the business man to regard advertising simply as a tool for meeting immediate competition and gaining a larger share of the market for existing products. Advertising does these things for the individual merchant, but it does more.

Advertising serves best when it goes beyond old competition and introduces something better and more serviceable. In this respect advertising is the root structure of economic progress. It serves the individual and the community when it initiates new business activity.

For, before new industries are created, before new markets are developed, the public must desire new products. Until our appetite is whetted for something better, most of us are willing to make-do with the old.

When advertising convinces us that our lives will be enriched by a new product, we are willing to make an extra effort to acquire that product. The result is an overall increase in productivity and wealth.

BIBLE COMMENT

Paul's Simplicity In Complex World

How many of us find it possible to give more than passing thought or observance to this virtue?

In this era of speeding autos, and a speeding economy and society, such a word seems obsolete, indeed.

Paul insists that everything, even giving, should be done with simplicity. To the Corinthians he commends "simplicity and godly sincerity" motivated by the grace of God in contrast with "fleshly wisdom."

In our lives we see "fleshly wisdom" often supplanting "simplicity and godly sincerity.

But how do we keep our balance in this atomic age of military horrors, whirling budgets and pseudo-sophistication?

Best we recall the words of Paul and judge what meaning they have for us.

If we find that we are losing sight of God's love, if our homes, jobs and thoughts are becoming too complicated, turn over well the word, "simplicity."

This single word implies a concentration on divine help and understanding. It should bring home the belief that God is with us at all times. False, vain and greedy actions can have no place in the structure of the man motivated by this one, clear and emphatic concept.

By VERN SANFORD

Are you ready for dove hunting?

In the North Zone dove season opened Tuesday and runs to Oct. 20.

In the South Zone it begins Oct. 1, and runs through Nov. 19, except in the counties where there is a special white-winged dove season. Here it closes three days earlier.

That's because you also can shoot mourning doves during the three days of the white-wing season. This season is Sept. 11-13-15, three alternate days, from 2 p.m. until sunset.

You are not likely to forget your gun when you go dove hunting, but you might forget your license. Tie a piece of string around your trigger finger right now and get your hunting license today. It will cost you $3.15.

It can be bought from the County Clerk, any game warden and from most sporting goods dealers. Some drug stores and service stations also have them. They are good for one year.

And incidentally, you'll need a new fishing license at the same time. That is, unless you are more than 65 years old, or unless you fish in your home county with a cane pole.

If you use a rod and reel anywhere, either in the fresh water or on the Gulf coast, you will need a fishing license.

Perhaps the next most important thing is to have a place to hunt. This year the law is pretty stiff on fence climbers. New legislation makes it even more important for you to have permission whenever you take your gun into anybody's pasture.

From all indications this will be one of the best seasons in years. Reports come in from every part of the state that doves are plentiful. We see them along the highways, on the utility lines, sitting on the fences and in the trees.

Of course, shooting on the highway is illegal, and so is shooting at a bird on a utility pole.

Check That Gun Now

If you haven't already checked your shotgun, do so right away. If it is a repeater, be sure it has your three-shot plug. Having a gun afield that shoots more than three shots while hunting migratory birds is a federal as well as a state offense. In fact, any violation concerning shooting doves is a federal offense.

Most hunters know these things, but it is surprising how many pay fines for violations.

Your old scatter gun should be wiped out, and a good grease job done on it. Every part should be working smoothly. Chances are if it was put away carelessly last year it may have a rust spot or two.

And be sure you don't try a rifle for doves. That's against the law, too. If this column sounds like we are trying to tell you all the things you can't do, you're right. You can buy a lot of shotgun shells for what one fine will cost.

And besides, it's poor sportsmanship.

Shells Are Cheaper

We've noticed in the newspapers that a lot of shotgun shells are being advertised a little cheaper. Some of these may be carry-overs, but most of them are fresh shells caught in the web of competition.

It's always a good idea to shoot fresh shells, unless you're sure the old ones have been stored properly. Ammunition stored under unusual heat conditions usually loses much of its power, resulting in a great many cripples. No one likes to cripple a bird.

When birds are knocked down it also is a good idea to retrieve them immediately, especially if you are shooting where weeds and grass abound.

We can't always hunt in ideal spots, like shooting over a water hole, or on plowed ground. When hunters are lucky enough to get a water hole shooting place, they usually fill their bag limits of 10 in a short time, if they can shoot at all.

I talked with a number of dove hunters last year. Most of them agree that it takes pretty close to a box of shells to get the limit of birds. Of course, some get their limits with 15 or 20 shots, but there are others who average three or four shots to a bird.

Get Out Early

Another thing I've noticed is that usually the best shooting is done on opening day.

There are several factors entering into this. Perhaps some of the doves are not quite so wild. Then, too, you are starting out fresh. Although you may not have fired a shot since last season, your nerves are in good condition and you are not pushing yourself. You just know you are going to get your limit.

As the season rolls on, the percentage of misses usually becomes greater and you wonder what the trouble it. It's difficult to become more alert and more relaxed at one and the same time, isn't it?

Doves are good eating. At first, some of them are pretty small and must be cleaned with care. After about two weeks of dodging birdshot, however, the birds attain good size and ten of them will fill the fry pan quite well.

So don't forget . . . buy your license right now. Find a place where you can hunt with permission. Be real careful where you shoot, and then have a good time.

FIRST AID — Many a fisherman has felt that a first-aid-kit that floats would be a mighty handy thing to have aboard the boat. Well, it's here. Jack Braniff, a lab technician-inventor-sportsman who works at Mercy Hospital in Jourdanton, Texas is the producer. It's the JAK-ETT Marine and Fisherman's first aid kit. Not only does it float but it's also rustproof, and mildew-proof as well as waterproof. The kits are made in two sizes and include scissors, gauze, plastic strips, tape, cotton, a 3x3 compress, a drinking cup, Unguentine and an instruction sheet. The larger kit also includes a JAK-ETT snake - bite kit, another Braniff invention that is entirely different from the ordinary.

Duck Hunting Season to Open Nov. 13

Although there is still some doubt as to the number of ducks and geese coming to Texas this year, a liberal hunting season has been authorized, according to H. D. Dodgen, executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

The duck season opens at noon Friday, Nov. 13. Shooting then is permitted from sunrise until sunset through Jan 1. The bag limit is four per day or eight in possession after the first day.

Because of an extreme shortage it will be illegal to kill more than one of either red head, canvasback or ruddy duck. This is known as a "mistake" duck.

The goose season opens at noon Oct. 26, and runs through Jan. 8. The limit is five geese per day, with a limit of two Canadas, or one speckled belly, or one Canada and one speckled belly.

There will be a 30-day season from Dec. 3-Jan. 1, on Wilson snipe, with a bag and possession limit of eight.

A $3 federal duck stamp is required of all persons hunting migratory waterfowl.

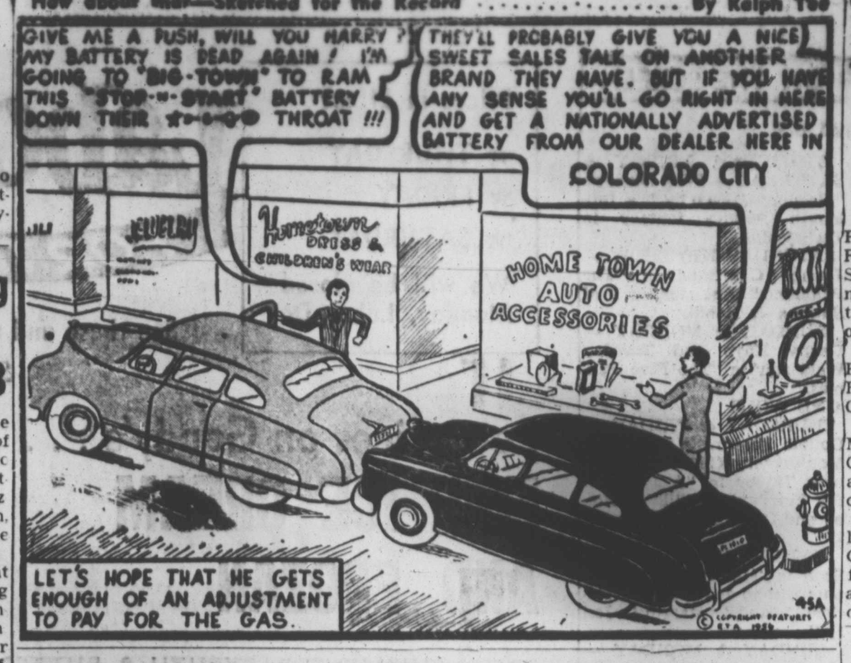

Drouth conditions in the Canadian nesting areas are blamed for a small hatch this year. Late rains, however, did materially benefit the hatch, although the quantity is still doubtful, he said.

Baumann HD Club To Meet Sept. 1

Mrs. Cullen Payne has announced date for a forthcoming meeting of the Baumann Home Demonstration Club.

The practice of pharmacy has changed greatly within the past ten years. More than 70% of the medicines now prescribed were unknown before then.

In order to keep up with this amazing progress we must be continuously studying medical and pharmacy reports. We must learn the dosage and properties of all new drugs.

We have to discard the old medicines no longer being prescribed and order in every new medicine a physician may specify. All this requires constant thought and we are glad to report that we can fill any prescription, written by any Doctor, even one from another city.

'THE FIVE PENNIES'

Musical Drama Due Sunday at Palace

Danny Kaye, as his fans love him best — singing, dancing, clowning and acting in a story filled with true life suspense, excitement and warmth —comes to the Palace Theatre Sunday and Monday in "The Five Pennies."

A Paramount production in Technicolor, "The Five Pennies" re-creates the jazz music and personal life of the famed bandleader of the 20's "Red" Nichols, whose sensational cornet playing is heard in the picture, ostensibly played by Kaye as "Red." The film also stars Barbara Bel Geddes, Louis Armstrong, Harry Guardino, Bob Crosby and jazz pianist Bobby Troup. It features 9-year-old television star Susan Gordon, believed by many to be the little Shirley Temple, and beautiful, blonde 15-year-old Tuesday Weld, who scored such a big hit in her first picture, "Rally Round the Flag, Boys." Both girls play Nichols' daughter at different stages of her life.

Family

Danny Kaye and Tuesday Weld portray father and daughter in "The Five Pennies", Paramount's Technicolor jazz-fest drama showing Sunday and Monday at the Palace Theatre.

The story told in "The Five Pennies" is based on one of the mysteries of the golden age of jazz, latter currently enjoying a tremendous revival throughout the country — namely, the sudden disappearance of "Red" from the jazz haunts of Broadway, as if a floor had opened and dropped him into oblivion. What led up to this, and the exciting circumstances surrounding his successful come-back, constitute the dramatic core of "The Five Pennies." In addition, 20 jazz favorites and 5 new songs spark the action, with Danny doing some of the zaniest routines of his career. He sings like a rooster, a cow and a sheep; he dances 8 dances at once, a step of this, a step of that; he sings duets with Louis Armstrong, initiating him in the process, and conducts The Five Pennies band at the same time that he convincingly handles the cornet.

But more that for its brilliant cavalcade of jazz, "The Five Pennies" is being hailed everywhere as the uniquely-talented Danny Kaye's best, because it brings to life one of the most poignant, all-heart, true-life stories ever told on film.
