EMMETT PASSMORE

Emmett Passmore, Theatre Manager, Dies Suddenly

Emmett Passmore, 53, manager of the Ritz and Bronco Theatres and a leader in Wellington's civic work, died suddenly at his home at 1608 Graham Street Thursday morning, November 13, about 7 a.m. His death was attributed to a heart attack, the first he had suffered as far as is known.

Mr. Passmore was a veteran of 30 years with Video Theatres, and for 10 years he had been manager of the theatres here.

He began work as an usher for Griffith Amusement Co., forerunner of Video Theatres, in its Norman theatre at the time he entered the University of Oklahoma in 1928. He received his degree in electrical engineering from that school.

At the same time he was rising in theatre work, and a few years later he became assistant manager at Norman. Later he was transferred to Ardmore as assistant manager, serving from 1942 to 1946, when he was transferred to Wink as manager. Two years later he came here.

He also worked as a relief manager, and it was in this capacity that he first knew the Wellington theatres.

Mr. Passmore was married to Miss Maurine Davis at Norman December 24, 1935.

He was a member of the Kiwanis Club, and a former president. He had handled the annual Kiwanis-Ritz Christmas shows and Easter shows for kiddies of the area each year that he had been in Wellington. Mr. Passmore also was a member of the Baptist Church, having joined in childhood.

Funeral services were held at First Baptist Church at 10 a.m. Saturday, with the Rev. Russell Pogue, pastor, officiating. Following the service here, his body was taken overland to Norman, Okla., for graveside services in the IOOF Cemetery.

Pall bearers were Joe Terry, Bobo Castleberry, Howard Riggs, Eli Wolf, Mack Saied, Jr. and Ernest Lewis. Kelso Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Theatre managers and members of the Video organization from throughout this area attended the services, including three former Wellington managers, Bill Turk, now division manager; Paul Cornwell and Kenneth Blackledge, now district managers.

Mr. Passmore is survived by his wife; one sister and two brothers, Mrs. Essie Mopus of Pocatello, Idaho; Ted R. Passmore of Elene, Kansas; and Fred Passmore of Brawley, Calif.

Quail Game Meeting Monday

The Quail Game Association will hold a meeting Monday, Nov. 24, at 7:30 p.m. in the Vocational Ag building at Quail.

The program will include a film on game conservation, and this will be followed by a discussion of controlled areas on hunting.

Hunting permit blanks will be issued.

Frank Kennedy explained that a controlled hunting district is one set up in which there will be no hunting, with or without a permit from the landowner.

A district of this type has not been set up yet in the Quail Game Association.

Kennedy also announced that fence signs are available for members, and added that whether or not a charge is made for hunting on land is left up to the individual landowner or operator.

C-C Announces Plans for Christmas Events

Plans for Wellington's Christmas civic program are being rounded out this week by Collingsworth County Chamber of Commerce committees, and the initial event, opening of the annual Christmas Trades Day, is scheduled for Saturday, November 29.

Wellington again will be one of the area's best-lighted towns for the holiday season, Henry Sullivan, chairman of the decorations committee, announced following a meeting last week.

Several changes from plans of other years were announced.

The Chamber of Commerce will work with the county in an effort to secure three evergreen trees to be set out on the court-house lawn, to be used in future years as living Christmas trees. It is possible, Sullivan added, that may be large enough to decorate this year.

Trades Day again will be featured through all of December preceding Christmas, with most of Wellington's merchants co-operating, N. M. Higdon, Chamber of Commerce manager, announced.

This program will open Saturday, November 29, and details will be announced later.

Santa Claus will arrive in Wellington at the head of a big parade on Friday, December 12, greeting kiddies from the entire trade area, and distributing candy. The Skyrocket Band already is engaged to accompany him to town.

The contest for the best decorated homes and business houses again will highlight the Christmas season.

Cash prizes will be eliminated this year, however, and the money which in the past has been used for this will go into the permanent Christmas tree fund.

Both home owners and business men are urged to decorate their places, using whatever original ideas they wish.

Both homes and businesses will be judged, and honorable mention will be given.

Churches will be asked by the Chamber of Commerce to decorate the vacant buildings, just as they have in past years, Sullivan said.

PTA Instructs Classes

Mothers Aid Teachers During Week

Teachers of the Wellington Elementary School were honored last week by the PTA during "Appreciation Week". A member of the PTA taught for a teacher one day and the teacher was free to visit another school, stay home and rest, and do what she chose to do.

The schedule and plans were the work of the PTA under the direction of Mrs. A. J. Fires, president.

First grade teachers visited in the San Jacinto Elementary School of Amarillo where Bob Birchfield, former resident and teacher in Wellington, is principal. The Wellington teachers viewed the work of the first grade teachers there whose work reflected the work of that school.

U.S. Tax Take in Texas Would Run State Two Years, with Surplus

DURING fiscal 1958, which ended last June 30, Texans paid $2,697,309,000 in taxes to the federal government. This figure becomes more impressive to Texans when they are told that this amount would run the state government for two years, wipe out the current deficit and also take care of the $150,000,000 deficit anticipated for the next biennium if additional revenues are not obtained. In addition, there would be around $500,000,000 left over with which the state could give state colleges the money they are begging for, could increase salaries of public school teachers, could step up the highway program and still would have more than enough money left over to permit abolition of the state ad valorem tax.

This situation shows dramatically how far the federal government has gone in pre-empting tax sources at the expense of the state and local governments. The National Governors Conference and other groups of state officials have for nearly 10 years been pleading with Congress to relinquish some of the federal tax sources, so the states can better take care of their responsibilities. But Congress, as shown by facts disclosed by its own investigating committees, continues to spend money with wasteful abandon.

The Federal Government collected $79,978,476,000 in taxes during fiscal 1958. But it spent around $82,000,000,000 as the federal treasury was in the red another year. The national debt has risen to an all-time high of $281,851,000,000. The federal government expects to borrow another $3,000,000,000 this month, so the national debt will jump even higher. It will be pushing close to the new $288,000,000,000 limit authorized by Congress last summer.

The federal deficit for the current fiscal year is expected to exceed $12,000,000,000.

The American dollar already has dropped to around 48 cents of its 1937-39 value. Continuing deficit spending and an increasing national debt can only stimulate inflation, lowering further the value of the dollar.

It's the average worker who is being hurt worst by the rising inflation and decreasing value of the dollar.

It is obvious that neither the administration nor Congress is going to halt the excessive spending of their own volition. The preservation of the American dollar and of the entire economic system is up to the American people. Only when the American people demand that excessive spending be stopped, and back up their demand with their votes, will Congress or the administration pay any attention to them.

The revolt against excessive spending must come from the grass roots, from the salaried workers who are being hurt worst by inflation, if it is to be effective.—The Houston Chronicle.

No Political Water

AROUND the town of Odessa and adjacent communities in West Texas, the idea of solving local problems with local money, brains and hard work has proved to be mighty good medicine—and not just for the other fellow. A recent editorial in the Odessa American tells the story and highlights the state of mind that can keep a free society.

In 1951, with the technical and promotional help of the Texas Electric Service Company, Odessa, Big Spring, and Snyder organized the Colorado River Municipal Water District, to be financed from the sale of revenue bonds and water. Contracts totalling about $12 million were signed to cover the construction of a three-mile long earthen-filled dam on the Colorado River, plus water wells in Martin County and pipelines connecting the wells to municipal water lines. The next year abundant water was flowing into homes previously on virtual rationing during summer months. By the end of 1952 the dam was nearly completed and water was being stored behind it. For the past six years it has supplied water to Snyder and Big Spring and sold hundreds of millions of gallons to oil companies.

The significant point is that at the outset the Federal government had offered to build a dam for the area which called for an expenditure of something over $20 million. Commenting on this the Odessa American said: "If it were built in the fashion and at the speed of most Federal projects it perhaps would have wound up being completed in about six years (or right now) and costing $30 million or more. And what is even more significant, the cost would have been handled by people in Wisconsin, Connecticut and Arizona—taxpayers all over the country who should not be charged for our water. History has shown time and time again that the people can best provide their basic needs themselves."

And that's something that everybuddy who values his freedom would do well to remember.—Mission (Texas) Times.

Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Pinkston were hosts to the Thursday dinner bridge club at their home last Thursday evening.

Contrary to various announcements made elsewhere in this edition of The Leader, the story of "The Wind" will not be shown at the Rialto Friday as planned, because of the fact that the print was destroyed by fire and another cannot be secured in time for showing.

The West Ward PTA met November 8. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Chester Fires.

Three copies of The Leader will be placed in the corner stone of the new Christian church, it has been announced by Jasper Bogue, Amarillo, who is making arrangements for the opening dedication service.

The Spanish club of Wellington high school met at the Methodist Church last Monday afternoon for the second time since its organization. John H. Starr, president of the club, wore full Spanish dress and conducted the business of the meeting altogether in Spanish. The minutes of the preceding meeting were also read in Spanish.

Dick Marmon, international race car driver, will be in Wellington this week making arrangements for the 125 hour non-motor-stop drive which he has previously announced.

★ REPORT

Dear Editor:

I see where it is being recommended by some that U. S. elections all be held on Sundays, so working people can make it to the polls easier.

My laboring neighbor says this is just a low trick by the employing class to keep from giving workers a vote-break on election days.

Says somebody is always trying to cut in on our best time for spirit-recharging activities like sleeping and fishing and highway roulette, and wanting us to use it up on projects of theirs, such was voting and going to church.

I see where the Internal Revenue men have decided to exempt some guitars and ukuleles from the federal tax on musical instruments.

My untuned neighbor thinks the ballad-banging cowboys on screen and TV have proved to the tax-boys that it's no fair to call these devices musical instruments, and all revenue agents being fair and square, they won't take a nickel if there is doubt that it's due them.

Which gag he hopes will get him better treatment next time one of them comes around to autopsy his income.

I note that the slim-jim parody on pants is being worn by numerous young ladies these days, and my bug-eyed neighbor says this is a very educational situation.

On account of any deep problem

Porter were dinner guests in the J. K. Porter home at Wellington Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Reeves visited in Mangum Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bulls.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Harrell are attending a buyers' convention in Dallas this week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Leach and Miss Inez Leach were guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Boorman in Altus Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Rayburn McKee and daughter Suzanne of Borger spent the week end visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. P. Robertson and family.

Jones-Watkins Clinic will hold open house Saturday from 3 to 6 p. m. in order that the public can see the new building and examine its various department and equipment.

is good exercise for the mind, and you couldn't hardly find one any deeper than trying to figure how the girls get into these garments, and why.

Says with his limited research opportunities he gives up on the "how" part of this question, but argues that the "why" is so they can wave goodbye without having to turn around.

My antique neighbor says it gets easier all the time to live a clean life, as our moral code keeps changing and what's sinful today is apt to be commendable tomorrow.

Like, he says, time was when a girl's reputation was damaged if she let an ankle peep out, but it is now proper for ladies to have legs and to let folks see about how long they are.

Says with such fast-shifting moral standards, the time may even come when the Supreme Court will figure it is socially OK to put Communist spies in jail.

My aggravated neighbor says he got a letter here the other day from a man in Washington who wants taxpayers to send him $5 or $10 each and he will lobby up some laws in their favor during the next sitting of Congress.

Which this neighbor says looks like a good racket so he is organizing the United Impeachers of America and invites one and all to send him $5 for a membership card.

Says if he could get 20 or 30 million members he could throw some weight and parties around in Washington and buy himself a string of out-of-round big wheels to take care of his interests.

I note that some school kids are saying if the grown people

THE WELLINGTON (TEXAS) LEADER
Thursday, November 20, 1958

would leave the matter up to them, there wouldn't be any integration problem.

Which my unimpressed neighbor says comes from youthful confidence uncluttered by experience, and is based on the teen-age conviction that adults are generally a mess.

But says he lacks a little of being sold on their theory, and figures that if our teen-agers are already smart enough to run the country, we're wasting money keeping them in school anyhow.

Dodson Takes Double Header from Kelton

The girls' basketball teams from Dodson and Kelton who had already played to a 49-49 tie on the Kelton court met in action again on November 11. Although this game did not end in a tie, it was just as thrilling because only one point separated the teams in the final score. Dodson finally edged out a 30-29 victory for their second victory of the season. They have now won two games and tied one.

Zenith Swift, Dodson's captain, led the scoring with 15 points. She was followed by Eldmira Hernandez with 11 points and Melva Miller who scored 4.

Gaye Ford, Mozell Lemons, Ruby Morrison and Judy Gulley all played fine defensive ball for Dodson. It was the first game of the season for both Ruby Morrison and Judy Gulley.

Four big reasons why FORD IS OUTSELLING ALL OTHER '59 CARS

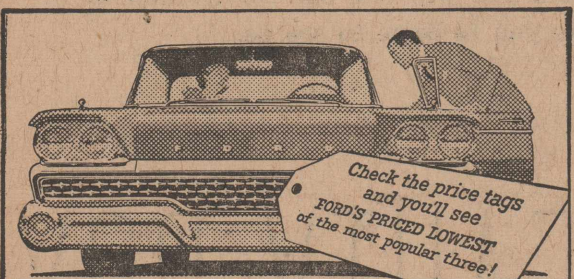

AT THE BRUSSELS WORLD'S FAIR, the 59 Fords were awarded the Gold Medal for handsome new styling elegance by the Comité Français de l'Élégance.

ANYONE CAN FIT IN A FORD: Our cars are built for people—full-size people who want space to stretch out. And all passengers ride in deep-cushion comfort.

YOU'LL BE THANKFUL EVERY TANKFUL if you buy the new Ford, for you'll save up to a dollar a tankful with new engines that run superbly on regular gas.

THE FAMOUS FORD LOW PRICES have already made a hit, because only in Fords will you find value and beauty coming together at down-to-earth prices!

The world's best-selling car is the car with Thunderbird elegance

In the greatest styling decision of the year, the American public has already shown a clear preference for the new Fords. Ford sales are way ahead of all competition. Why? One reason is the classic simplicity of their Thunderbird-inspired design—clean, crisp lines that are pure automobile! And Fords are built for people—to sit in, to drive, to ride in—with comfort.

The car in hottest demand across the land has greater roominess and comfort

Thousands of customers have bought the new Ford over all competition for another compelling reason—it's a true six-passenger car. (The only four-passenger car we recommend is the Thunderbird!) All six Ford passengers get plenty of every kind of room—from leg and head to elbow and hip. Rear seat passengers don't feel like they're riding with their feet in a bucket!

The No. 1 car in sales saves money on gas, on oil, on maintenance bills

A new Ford will save you up to 5¢ a gallon on gas. That's because both standard engines—Six or Thunderbird V-8—thrive on regular gas. And Ford saves on oil, too, with a Full-Flow Oil Filter as standard equipment. Drive 4000 miles between oil changes! And you can forget about waxing your car. Ford's Diamond Lustre Finish stays gleaming bright without waxing—ever!

The most popular American car is priced as much as $102.75 lower

Ford costs you less right down the line than the competition. Compare price tags and you'll see that the manufacturer's suggested retail price of a Ford, equipped with radio, heater and automatic transmission, is as much as $102.75 less than the major competition! And on an air-conditioned car, you can save up to $219.85. So compare and save on a 1959 Ford!

Ti-ca Presents Four New Members in Theatrical Production Saturday

Ti-ca, social club for Wellington high school girls, presented its new members Saturday evening, November 15, at the National Guard Armory.

Those attending were "First Nighters" and witnessed the presentation of the four new stars in this Ti-ca production. The entry hall resembled a theatre lobby. The guests registered and received tickets which were given to the ticket-taker. Members of Ti-ca ushered the guests to their seats. Curtain time was half past eight o'clock.

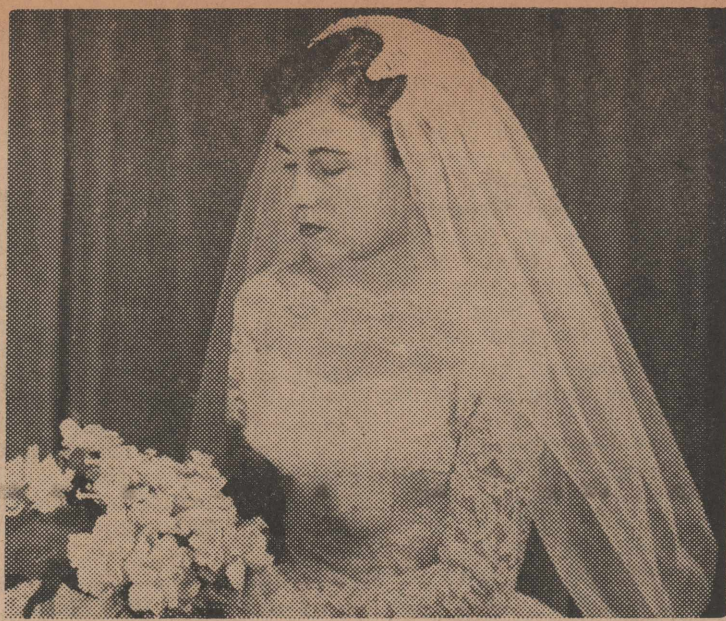

A welcome was given by Mrs. Billy Mac Sims, sponsor, and Danny Garcia, was master of ceremonies.

The celebrities for the evening and their escorts arrived in 1959 model cars, provided by Castleberry Motor Company, Clark Chevrolet Company, Kendrick Oldsmobile, and Charles Caldwell, Jr. Each couple then walked down the decorative center aisle.

Those presented were Miss Mary Gibson escorted by Leigh Carter; Miss Betty LeBlanc escorted by Dallas Talkington; Miss Ellen Stall escorted by Grover Graham; Miss Elaine Yarbrough escorted by Bruce Crosby. Miss Barbara Shanks was the doorman for each of these arrivals. Spot lights accented the guests of honor, the poster-type marquee, and floral and greenery background.

After the theatre the guests' attention was turned to another part of the auditorium which had previously been in darkness. Indirect lighting appeared and there was a supper club resemblance in that area. Guests were served at the snack-bar and seated at small tables. A blue and silver color scheme was carried out in all the decorations. Music was recorded.

Approximately one hundred-fifty guests and members attended this premiere presentation. Mr. and Mrs. Sims and Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Hurst assisted the Ti-ca members as hosts.

DON'T RUB — Name of that wicked-looking gadget under the plane's wing is the "Genie MB-1," and rubbing it the wrong way would be disastrous. It's the first of the air-to-air missiles with an atomic capability. Translation: it could carry an atomic warhead. Shown in place under the wing of a Scorpion F-89 jet at Tyndal Air Force Base, Fla., Genie currently is used in target practice against drone planes. Sans atomic warhead, of course.

EYEFUL—Sharon Clarkson, 10, of Kansas City, Mo., finds the eyes of Pablo Picasso an awesome eyeful in this photo enlargement of the Spanish modernist's piercing gaze. It's one of some 100 photos of Picasso by David Douglas Duncan which were on display at an art gallery in Kansas City.

Brothers-in-law Die in Wreck Near Tucumcari

Two Dalhart brothers-in-law, husbands of former Wellington sisters, died recently when the pickup in which they were riding overturned near Tucumcari, N. M.

They were William Churchill Perry, 53, husband of the former Ruby Vaught, and a rural mail carrier for the Dalhart post office, and Carl Lee Curry, 52, husband of the former Oleta Vaught. The Currys operate Oleta's Cafe at the east edge of Dalhart.

The two men had left Dalhart with a pickup and boat trailer to get a boat at Conches Dam and return it to Dalhart. Investigating New Mexico state police said the pickup veered off the pavement, apparently went out of control and overturned, throwing both men out. It is not known who was driving.

Funeral services were held at Dalhart and burial was in Memorial park there.

Both men were long-time Dalhart residents.

Curry is survived by his wife and five sisters and six brothers. Perry is survived by his wife and two children, Jane and Sammy Lee of Dalhart, also his mother, two sisters and three brothers. A son, Joe Perry, was drowned Feb. 15, 1957, while he was stationed at Lackland AFB.

AGENTS NECESSARY IN CONDUCT OF BUSINESS

Without the idea of agency, business as we know it would stop. Practically all business transactions of every kind depend upon the services of agents of one kind or another.

Your insurance man is an agent and so is the man who sells you real estate, or delivers your groceries, or drives your bus. These are just a few examples and each under the law of agency, are somewhat different.

But each have in common the idea that, in some way or another, they represent or act for someone else. The person or corporation for which they act is known as the principal.

Generally speaking, there are two broad classes of agents—special agents and general agents. For example, suppose you wish to sell your house and you engage a real estate man to handle it for you.

He is a special agent who represents you in this transaction alone.

On the other hand, if you were to be absent from the city for a long period of time and have business affairs to be cared for, you might grant a power of attorney to your lawyer or a close associate of yours, to act in your stead as fully as if you were present.

He would be your general agent and could use his own judgment and discretion in conducting your affairs without consulting you as to what should be done with any old or new problems that might arise.

However, the principal is responsible for the conduct of his agent, either general or special, if the agent is in the process of doing what he has been hired to do.

Thus, if the agent is acting within his "scope of authority," and someone is injured through the agent's negligence, the principal is liable.

Very often difficult legal questions arise as to whether the conduct of the agent was within the "scope of his authority," and thus binding upon the principal.

For example, suppose the grocer's delivery boy, while enroute to a customer's home and despite the grocer's instructions to stick to business while on deliveries, decides to go a mile or so out of his way to see his girl about a date that night. He drives through a stop sign and hits a pedestrian. Is the grocer responsible for this?

The law of agency is designed to regulate these relationships between principal and agent and third party and to protect the just and proper interest of each.

Cotton Growers Vote on Quotas on December 15

Collingsworth County cotton growers will join those from other cotton growing states Monday, December 15, when they vote in a referendum to decide if marketing quotas will be in effect for the 1959 upland cotton crop. Travis McGuire, chairman of the county ASC committee, reminded this week.

All farmers growing upland cotton in 1958 are eligible to vote in the referendum.

"If at least two-thirds of the growers voting approve the quotas," McGuire explains, "Marketing quotas will be in effect on all farms growing upland cotton in 1959, penalties will apply on 'excess' cotton, and growers will have an opportunity to elect a choice between complying with their 'regular'—Choice (A)—farm allotments or increasing their cotton acreage by as much as 40 percent; this second choice is called Choice (B)."

"By complying with the Choice (A) allotment, a grower will be eligible for price support at the full level available—not less than 80 percent of parity in 1959; by complying with the Choice (B) allotment, a grower will be eligible for price support at a level 15 percent of parity lower than under the Choice (A) program."

"If more than one-third of the growers disapprove quotas, there will be no marketing quotas or penalties, only 'regular'—Choice (A)—Allotments will be in effect, and price supports to eligible growers (those who comply with their 'regular' allotments) will be available at 50 percent of parity."

"In either case, acreage allotments of some kind will continue in effect for the 1959 cotton crop as a means of determining eligibility for the available price support."

The Chairman pointed out that legislation directs the Secretary of Agriculture to proclaim marketing quotas for the next upland cotton crop when the cotton supply exceeds normal. Quotas are not put into operation, however, unless they are approved by at least two-thirds of the growers voting in a referendum on the question.

Reading Meet Held Wednesday

An area workshop in reading was held at the band room of Wellington High School Wednesday, November 19.

Attending were teachers from Briscoe, Childress, Armstrong, Collingsworth, Donley and Hall counties, according to J. D. Wilson, county school supervisor.

The consultant was Dr. Ruth Lowes, of the department of education, West Texas State College.

The workshop centered its attention on the improvement of slow readers. Reading in the high school discussed by a teacher from Childress high school; reading in junior high, a teacher from Memphis public schools, and reading in the third, fourth and fifth grades, by Miss Sara Jones from Wellington Elementary School.

The emphasis was to try to get every teacher to be a reading teacher, from grades one through twelve. The objective is to improve the reading program in the curriculum of the schools of the six counties comprising the area.

LOOKING AHEAD

by Dr. George S. Benson

COMMUNIST ADVANCE

One of the four greatest dangers to the life and liberty of every American citizen, in the opinion of Senator John L. McClellan, is the continuing advance of world Communism and the failure of the United States government to adequately deal with this monstrous force. Senator McClellan is one of the hardest working men in Congress and one of the most respected, in and out of Congress. He frankly says that both the Truman and the Eisenhower foreign policies have failed to cope with the constantly growing Communist menace.

Senator McClellan says that if present trends in our nation continue— together with the apathy of our citizenry— America will go down the road to terrible tragedy. "The facts show," he says, "that Communism is winning the battle for the world." How many American citizens— how many readers of this column— realize that this is true, that the world is being gobbled up by a frightful fraternity of brutality which denies God and uses mass murder and human slavery to strengthen its dictatorship?

Full Picture Needed

The facts are all about us. Some of us have been focusing attention on them for years. Piecemeal they appear in the newspapers, on radio and TV. Seldom do we see them collected into a full picture of what's happening in the world. Shortly after Senator McClellan spoke out in warning to the American people, the United States News & World Report published an article entitled "Today's War— How the Reds are Operating in 72 Countries." The first paragraph says: "Today's war, as the Communists wage it, still is World War III, Communist style. And, in much of the world, the Communist forces are out ahead, making progress, winning battles."

Yet our foreign policy for the 13 years since the end of World War II has been spoken out of both sides of the mouth, has been working both sides of the street. Our governmental leaders have been wining and dining and toasting with Stalin and Khrushchev, constantly seeking truces, cease-fires, "understandings," and agreements with them, while telling the American people the Reds are international crooks bent on our destruction and that $40 billion a year in tax money is needed to arm against them.

Reds Making Progress

The U. S. News & World Report article reports briefly on Communist activities in each of the 72 countries— how they are gaining outright political power, controlling labor unions, infiltrating schools and colleges and particularly the thought-shaping agencies such as newspapers, radio, television. In America, their cunning and effective propaganda apparatus has been concentrating in recent days on trying again to undermine Nationalist China and persuade the American people we should not concern ourselves with helping hold Quemoy and Matsu.

The magazine article reports: "EUROPE: Communists are waging war on the U. S., in Western Europe, by every means short of shooting. On Moscow's orders, local Reds are moving swiftly into ready-made crises, encouraging Algerian terrorists in France, unemployed workers in Italy, fishermen in Iceland, disgruntled minorities everywhere. Reds are strong in labor movements in many countries, and are strong in politics too."

"SOUTH ASIA: Soviet Reds and Chinese Reds are fighting hard together for South Asia, using all means, including guerrilla wars in jungles. Local Communist parties control a major state in India, are powerful supporters of Indonesia's government. Soviet agents woo Afghanistan with loans and aid; Chinese Reds help local Communists to infiltrate Thailand, Burma, Laos, and Cambodia. Everywhere Reds encourage 'hate the U. S.' campaigns."

The article goes on to show the advances made by the Reds in Africa, Latin America, the Far East and the Middle East. When you have run down the list of these 72 countries and absorbed the shocking facts of Communist advances everywhere, you can understand Senator McClellan's grave concern for the survival of our nation. What can a citizen do? We can urge upon our representatives in government from the president down, the outlawing of Communists in our country, the recall of our recognition of Communist Russia, the gearing of our government to a state of war, and the establishment of a foreign policy founded upon morality

Norwood Takes Two from Allison, Three from Quail

Samnorwood rolled past Allison Friday night at Samnorwood with the boys winning 50-27 and the girls romping 60-29.

In the first half Norwood had trouble getting started as they held a first quarter lead of 6-4 and half time lead of 12-10. Norwood came roaring back in the third quarter to out-score Allison 28-8 and coasted in with the final scored reading 50-29.

Joel Lowry and Kenneth Martindale tied for high point honors with 12 points each, followed by Randle Murry's 10 points. Richardson was high for the visitors with 10 points.

Norwood was playing without the services of John Alexander and Guy Newkirk, both out with a virus. Alexander is the Eagles only returning starter from last year.

Norwood's girls pulled away from a close first quarter in which they led 14-9 and rolled to an impressive victory 60-29. Norwood led at the half 32-14 at the three quarter mark. Margaret Oldham who is Norwood's only senior forward led all scoring with 26 points, followed by Barbara Stembridge with 16 and freshman Linda Webb who played less than half the game with 12. The Greeks Didn't Even Have a Word For It—

Nor did the Romans. It was many centuries later that insurance, as we know it today, came into being.

Like so many good things of this day and age, we take insurance and the protection it provides, for granted.

To many, an insurance policy is just a piece of paper, to be tucked away in a desk drawer and forgotten until something happens.

If something does happen, we suddenly realize that this piece of paper may save us from ruin.

That is why it is important to buy your insurance through an experienced agent who represents strong and long established companies.

Farmer Earnings, Explained for Social Security

Many farmers are probably asking themselves or others "How long must I work to qualify for social benefits?" With social security figuring as it does in the future planning of many people, the question is a legitimate one. Actually, for the those farmers who reach their 65th birthday before April 1, 1958, they are "insured" under social security if they have as much as two and one-quarter years of credit during 1955, 1956, and 1957. Every farm operator whose net earnings amount to $400 or more in a year, must report his earnings and pay the social security tax. For this he gets a full year's social security credit. If, on the other hand his net earnings from his farm self-employment are less than $400 he neither pays the tax nor does he get credit. However, if the farm operator has earnings from any other business, these earnings may be added to his earnings from his operation.

For those farmers who will not have reached their 65th birthday before the April first date mentioned above, or for those who have not had as many as two and one-quarter years of covered earnings in 1955, 1956, and 1957, additional periods of credit would be required. The amount of time required is roughly half the time after 1950 or all but one year of the time after 1954, and before attainment of age 65. For example a farmer attaining age 65 in the first half of 1959 would require at least three and one-quarter years of credit.

The social security program for farm operators is not voluntary. Every such farm operator with net earnings of $400 or more must report to get credits. If he fails to file his returns and pay his tax, the eventual social security benefits will be lower than they should be, or may even result in no benefits being paid.

Information concerning a farmer's tax liability should be obtained from the District Director of Internal Revenue. The Amarillo Office of the Social Security Administration will have information available concerning benefits under the program to self-employed farmers.

Workers are killed more often in accidents off the job than on, according to the National Safety Council. It says 81,800 workers die annually off the job as compared with 14,200 on-the-job accidental deaths.

Newspapers are keeping modern. In 1957, over $87,000,000 was invested by newspapers to improve plants, equipment and product.

ALL PROPERTY INSURANCE IS THE SAME

....until you have to use it!

One property insurance policy is pretty much like another — at the time you buy it.

When you have to use it, however, the differences become apparent. That's when you find out how comforting it is to have the counsel and services of an independent local agent and the peace-of-mind protection of reputable Capital Stock insurance companies.

So be sure when you insure. Select an established, independent local agent to whom you're a neighbor, not a number. And make sure that he represents only Capital Stock "Standard Protection" companies. There's a big difference!
