County Officials, Ministers

Action Program Study

Commissioners Court is quietly looking toward a Community Action Program of self-help for Mitchell County's disadvantaged citizens.

There is nothing definite yet and, apparently, county officials will not take the final step until they have determined a definite backing of community support.

But the commissioners are seriously studying the CAP, under the Office of Economic Opportunity, and already members of the Mitchell County Ministerial Alliance have been called in for conference with County Judge Elmer Martin and leaders of a Community Action Program in Taylor County.

Dick Osborne of Abilene, executive director of the Taylor County program, and his assistant, Ellis Barrera, met with county commissioners to relate first hand the principles and working concepts of the CAP.

The Abilene pair was back in town Tuesday for another conference – this time with County Judge Martin and members of the ministerial alliance.

Both Osborn and Barrera, following the Tuesday parley, were invited by the ministers to return next month for additional study by the church leaders.

The Community Action Program is the administrative and mangerial arm of the Office of Economic Opportunity. It doesn't give money to any person.

Instead, the CAP is geared as a self-help plan for economic and social self-improvement, without the usual welfare handouts.

The federal government furnishes up to 90 per cent of total cost for a program and at least 10 per cent is from

Man Faces Charge on Assault

A felony complaint has been filed in Justice of Peace Leonard Henderson's Court accusing Albert R. Doss, Jr. of assualt upon Robert Walter Sickles.

Doss is charged with unlawfully carrying a pistol and willfully committing an assault with a pistol upon Sickles.

The complaint was filed Thursday by County Attorney Frank Ginzel.

In County Court Nathan Haynes Jr. has been fined $35 and $37 court costs after pleading guilty to aggravated assault.

Haynes admitted the assault on Ruby Choice Sunday, Sept. 1. He was arrested by city police.

Moisture Picture Varies In County

First eight months of 1968 brought total of 12.89 inches of rain in Colorado City.

That total, as recorded by the official weather station, is only 1.77 less than the twelve-month total precipitation for 1967.

Spade Ranch has already received a total of 17 inches of rain from Jan. 1, 1968 to Sept. 1, 1968, it has been reported here.

Moisture picture throughout the county varies, according to Bobby Lemons, county agent.

"Cotton is in fair shape," he said, "and heavy rain at this time is not desirable. Our cotton is maturing. Grain looks pretty good, too, at present."

Pastures and ranges, on the other hand, are suffering in some areas of the county from lack of moisture, the county agent noted. Landers Community, Westbrook area, and the Cuthbert area are dry and need additional moisture now.

Average rainfall for Mitchell County is about 20.61 inches per year.

Wettest year in recorded times was 1932 with a total of 38.69 inches of rain.

In 1941 the county received a total of 33.82. In 1961 precipitation reached the 32.10 mark with 26.33 in 1962. The 1965 total was 26.33 followed by 22.60 inches in 1966.

All time low on the official rain chart was the drought year of 1933 when only 9.23 inches fell in that year.

August rains in town measured .08 on August 12, .08 again on August 13, .41 on August 15, .38 August 18, .82August 25, .10 August 28, .04 August 29 and .02 August 30.

Rainfall by months, to date this year are: January, 1.67, February, 1.75, March, 1.70, April, 1.32, May, 1.74, June, 2.26, July, .52 and August, 1.93.

Prisoner's Wrists Cut

A young Snyder man who faces a hearing in 32nd District Court here this week cut his wrists while being held in Sweetwater jail Tuesday.

He is James Crosson, 23, whose 10-year prison terms for burglary and attempted burglary in the Colorado City area were probated last year.

The hearing before District Judge Austin McCloud Friday is at the request of District Attorney Weldon Kirk, who is asking that Crosson's probation be revoked.

Sheriff Ted Lambert of Sweetwater reported Crosson was hurried from the Nolan County jail at about 7:45 p. m. Tuesday to a hospital for treatment of cuts on both wrists and hands. The cuts were self-inflicted, according to the Sheriff.

He was returned to the jail after hospital treatment.

It was the second jail episode for Crosson in Sweetwater within the last few weeks. Earlier, the night of Aug. 23, Crosson escaped from the jail only to be returned almost immediately to a cell.

The Snyder man has been confined to the Sweetwater jail on a charge of receiving and concealing stolen property.

Crime Rate Increases

Colonel Wilson E. (Pat) Speir, acting director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, said recently the Texas crime rate for the first six months of 1968 is running about 15% over the rate recorded for the same period in 1967.

Speir said information provided by sheriffs and chiefs of police and compiled by the DPS indicates an increase in each of the seven major crime categories. For example, murders and homicides were up nearly 9%; rape, up nearly 14%; robbery, up about 14%; burglary, up nearly 22%; aggravated assault, up nearly 6%; theft, up about 12%; and auto theft, up nearly 24%.

"In the January through June period, major crimes occurred in Texas on the average of one every 1 1/2 minutes," Speir noted. "This generally figures out to be a murder every 7 1/2 hours, a rape every 4 3/4 hours, a robbery every 1 1/2 hours, a burglary every 5 1/2 minutes, an aggravated assault every 26 minutes, a theft every 2 1/2 minutes, and an auto theft every 18 1/4 minutes," he added.

Overall crime rate increased about 15% in the state's urban areas and almost 11% in rural areas. It was up about 17% in cities over 100,000 population, up about 7% in cities between 50,000 and 100,000, up almost 9% in cities between 25,000 and 50,000, up almost 15% in cities between 10,000 and 25,000, up 25% in cities between 5,000 and 10,000, but up only about 1% in cities between 2,500 and 5,000 population.

The largest rural increase came in counties with over 50 rural population per square mile, and was tabulated at almost 34%. The overall crime rate decreased by almost 20% in counties with from 20 to 35 rural population per square mile, and decreased about 3% in counties with under five rural population per square mile.

Larry Currie, Sharon Nuckolls Marry in California Ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Currie have been visiting here following their recent marriage in Huntington Beach, Cal.

Mrs. Currie is the former Sharon Nuckolls, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Merritt of Huntington Beach, and a former resident of Colorado City.

Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Mearl Currie of 2122 Chestnut Street.

Home of the bride's parents in Huntington Beach was scene for the Aug. 24 double ring wedding. Rev. Alex Campbell of Fillmore, Cal., brother-in-law of the bride, officiated in the 10 a.m. ceremony.

An improvised altar was set on the stairway between the dining area and living room. Railing was entwined with greenery, white gladioli and stock. An arrangement of gladioli, stock and greenery formed a background for the altar scene.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal peau de soie gown designed and made by her twin sister, Miss Karen Nuckolls. The empire bodice was styled of Chantilly lace and featured a scalloped decolletage neckline and elbow-length sleeves. Her detachable chapel train, accented by lace appliques, was fastened at the empire waistline.

Nuptial music was recorded.

Miss Karen Nuckolls was her twin's maid of honor. Mrs. Alex Campbell of Fillmore, Cal., another sister of the bride, was matron of honor.

Miss Nuckolls wore a street length dress of powderpink lace and organza over crepe. Mrs. Campbell wore a rose pink frock of organza over crepe with lace inlays accenting the long sleeves.

They carried bouquets of variegated rose and pale pink carnations.

Lance Corporal L. M. Newby of Colorado City, now serving in the US Marines stationed in Puerto Rico, was best man.

A reception in the Merritt home honored the couple after their marriage.

For travel to Texas the bride changed to a brown wool sheath dress fashioned with suede trim. Matching accessories completed her attire.

The couple will live at 5228 Carousel, Apt. 7, in El Paso where the bridegroom will attend the University of Texas on a full baseball scholarship.

Both the bride and groom are 1966 graduates of Colorado High School. The bride has completed two years of study at Southwest Texas State College in San Marcos.

Mr. Currie was graduated from Ranger Junior College in Ranger last spring.

Mr. and Mrs. James Mahon Live in Abilene after Rites

Mr. and Mrs. James Royce Mahon are residing in Abilene following their marriage last Saturday evening in Trinity Baptist Church in Sherman.

Mrs. Mahon is the former Sandra Hale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde E. Hale of Sherman.

Mr. and Mrs. Royce Mahon of Loraine are parents of the bridegroom.

Rev. James R. Swedenburg, church pastor, officiated in nuptial rites.

Mrs. Dwane Faucett of Tom Bean was organist. She accompanied Delbert Vest of Sherman who sang "Whither Thou Goest", "Because" and "Wedding Prayer".

Chancel rail, backed by an enbankment of palm trees, was topped by long white tapers entwined with lemon leaves. Altar was centered with a tall gold candle tree holding white tapers. Each side of the altar was set with pedestal urns filled with white gladioli and candelabra. White wrought iron prayer bench was covered with a white satin cushion.

Pews were marked with white gladioli and white satin bows.

The bride was gven in marriage by her father.

She wore an empire, A-line gown of lace and peau do soie. Bodice of reembroidered Alencon lace was fashioned with a round neckline edged in seed pearls and long sleeves which tapered to points at her hands.

Skirt of peau de soie was appliqued with lace motifs and the hemline was bordered with two rows of the appliques.

Her elbow-length veil of illusion was attached to a cluster of satin roses, Chantilly lace and seed pearls.

She carried a bouquet of pink and white roses, stephanotis and English ivy on a white Bible. Inside the Bible she carried a handkerchief belonging to her grandmother.

Mrs. Gerald Quimby of Fort Worth was matron of honor. Miss Janis Hale of Sherman, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Miss Marilyn Forbus of Loraine was bridesmaid.

They wore identical floor-length empire, A-line gowns with rose bodices and pink skirts. Frocks were fashioned with rose tubular panels which fell from a bow in the back. They wore large rose-colored bows with illusion in their hair.

MRS. JAMES ROYCE MAHON,
...nee Sandra Hale.

Attendants carried cascading bouquets of pink roses and pink daisies.

Miss Susan Mahon of Loraine, sister of the bridegroom, and Timothy Hale, the bride's brother, were candlelighters.

Kendall Key Jones of Sherman was flower girl. Jeffrey Ingle of Sherman was ring bearer.

Royce Mahon of Loraine was his son's best man.

Groomsmen were Harold Preston and Gary Finley, both of Loraine. Ushering guests were Ronnie Appelbee of Dallas; Charles Couk of Lubbock, brother-in-law of the bridegroom; Keith Hackfeld and Johnny Baumann, both of Loraine.

Emerald Room of Holiday Inn was setting for a reception following the wedding ceremony.

Bride's table was laid in a satin draped cloth, caught at the corners with satin roses and centered with a silver candelabra and the bridal bouquet encircled with smilax.

Miss Revonna Robertson, Mrs. Lynn Marshall and Mrs. Delbert Vest and Miss Jean Shelley, all of Sherman were in the houseparty.

Mrs. Mahon is a graduate of Sherman High School. She attended Grayson County College and will be a junior student at Hardin - Simmons University in Abilene this fall.

Mr. Mahon, a graduate of Loraine High School, attended Texas Technological College in Lubbock. He is now employed in Abilene.

For travel Mrs. Mahon wore an off-white knit suit, complimented by antique brown accessories and a corsage from her bridal bouquet.

Dinner Fetes Wedding Party

Members of the wedding party for the marriage of Miss Sandra Hale to James Royce Mahon in Sherman last Saturday were honored at a rehearsal dinner Aug. 30.

Setting for the buffet affair was Holiday Inn in Sherman.

Hosts were Mr. and Mrs. Royce Mahon of Loraine, parents of the bridegroom.

Tables were covered with white cloths. Head table was centered with an arrangement of pink spring flowers. Runners of ivy, interspersed with pink carnations and pink tapers, extended the length of additional tables.

Call Issued For Uniforms

Mrs. Corky Houston, neighborhood chairman for the local Girl Scout program, Saturday issued a call for used Girl Scout uniforms.

Mrs. Houston said that anyone having uniforms not being used are asked to contact Mrs. Leon Light at 1438 Oak Street or phone her at RA 8-4270.

'The Games', By Atkinson Reviewed By Mrs. Steakley

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is second in a series of book reviews by members of Friends of the Library. It was written by Mrs. H. Jene Steakley for publication in the Colorado City Record.

A book of particular interest and most appropriate for this particular time is a new one entitled The Games by Hugh Atkinson.

The Games is synonymous with the Olympics. Most of you are aware that in October of this year, athletes from about a hundred countries will meet in one place to challenge each other.

With each challenge will come prestige or failure for the international reputation of each country involved. This has been happening for some time but perhaps few of us know of the economic values, the political manuevering and the repercussions that occur in this supreme challenge of the athletes.

Mexico City is the place of meeting in October; in the novel a fictituous "Santa Anna" is the setting. Santa Anna is similar to Mexico in several ways but in particular to its altitude which has been the concerning problem to all athletes, trainers, and fans.

The book does not give the answer to this problem but it graphically illustrates the probable or possible results.

It is realistically written. The author has a flair for the interesting conversation. Characters become very real to the reader. In particular, again, there are three athletes from three countries who compete in the "King of the races – the Marathon".

The story takes us from the beginning of each athlete, his home-life, his training schedules, his country's involvment and interest, his own particular idiosyncrasies, his training methods (which are all quite different) and his final moments.

Other characters are well described and written about in the book but these three: the Englishman with a fanatic trainer, the American who runs at the risk of his life, the Australian Aborigine whose astounding gift of speed has placed him into a frightening world... these are the ones you will remember.

Possibly you will also remember the Chairman of the Powerful Committee, an eccentric American Millionaire, who has tried for all these years to keep the virginistic quality of the Games. His actions in the concluding chapter of the book are the only believable ones to one so dedicated and to one who finds dreams shattered.

Until reading this novel, I was unaware of the political manuevering and the economic rewards that go along with the selection of the site of the Olympics and the games themselves. All of the intrigue and manuevering is a revealing side that you may not have realized either. The story shows the business side of the Games. Athletics has become "big business" in one sense and this novel shows the results.

The Games is a strong book. I think men and women readers will equally enjoy reading it. I think coaches, parents, athletes and fans will find it particularly interesting. I only wish that each of you could read it before the Mexico City Olympics because I think it would give you a new insight into the greatest athletic competition of the times.

CONVERSATION CORNER

SOMETIMES, in the face of all the things people want, and never can have, it is consoling to count up all the things you could have, maybe, and simply do not want.

Nobody would compile the same list of "Things I Postively Do, Not Want," of course. They'd all be different as the list of "Things I Wish I Had" would be.

In most cases, however, the "Don't Want" list would be far longer than the "Wish I Had."

Just counting all the highly touted things you read and hear about – and still don't want – might be splendid therapy.

* * *

LET'S SEE – Don't want a set of false eyelashes no matter how glamorous Eva Gabor looks in hers.

Do not want contact lenses. The very idea makes tears in the eyes and kinks in the stomach.

Do not want a jeep for any reason whatsoever.

Do not want – or have the least desire to own – a canoe, row boat, motor boat, cabin cruiser, or yacht. In spite of Liz Taylor's floating palace and the bank's kind, oft-repeated offer to lend the money for boat of my choice.

* * *

DON'T want a private plane. Am strictly earth-bound... afraid to try wings.

Do not want, and would not for any consideration wear, a fur collar or coat made of leopard skins. Don't know why. Just am utterly sure about it.

Do not want a great big car. Too used to turning and parking "on a dime" in a little one.

Do not want a diamond bracelet. That is NOT sour grapes. It's just that jewelry, true or fake, makes certain people self-conscious.

Do not want a trailer house. It would just bring out the gypsy.

* * *

DON'T want an electric typewriter. One experience with one was one too many.

Do not want a horse. They give some riders the most ridiculous inferiority complex.

Do not want a pair of boots of any description. Or a crash helmet, either.

Do not want intercom, an electric razor, an outsize deep freeze, a wig, a sleeping bag, box of cigars, or a mother's ring.

Do not want a ticket to Chicago.

* * *

YOU don't have to be self-satisfied or feel smug about the status quo in order to make your own list of don't-wants or wouldn't-haves.

Anybody even halfway content can do it for fun.

How do you feel, for instance, about owning a chicken ranch? A double-barrel shotgun? A qumquat tree?

Isn't it amazing to inventory all the things you positively can do without?

* * *

THAT DOESN'T have to mean there is nothing in this world left for you to want.

You will notice, "conspicious by their absence," that not included with the don't-wants are such delights as a private pool. . .a soda fountain. . .a candy shop. . .a touch of mink. . . and color TV in every room, including the bath.

Even us don't-want characters have little hidden weaknesses, you know. Like secretly wanting an accordion. . .a miniature poodle. . .a pipe organ . . .and maybe a strawberry patch out back.

* * *

SEEN LATELYS included John and Betty Worrell at lunch with Laura Grantland and Ruth Grantland.

Saw Kack McClellan and her mama Mrs. R. P. Price. . .Mae (Mrs. Glenn) Dunn and Inez Hock together.

Clay Strange, son of Lena and Gwan, was on the downtown scene. He's student in Austin College at Sherman. . .G. D. Foster and Joe Earnest strolling back to their offices after Lions Club.

Rodney Tiller of Coahoma was over this way to see his mama Mrs. E. L. (Jewel) Tiller.

Office dropins were Weems Dykes. . .Calvin Gustin. . .Marian (Mrs. Dee) Bassham. . .Sefton Pickens. . .Pete Warren. . . George Witten.

* * *

BRIEF ENCOUNTERS brought chats with Bob Reily, GOP. . . Mary Anne McCloud, wife of District Judge Austin McCloud. She was pretty as a buttercup in yellow linen.

Talked a minute via dial system to Mattie (Mrs. Witt) Hines. . .Jon Shamburger, wife of Bob. . .Gaye Houston, wife of Corky. . .Dink Rees, Louise (Mrs. W. W.) Paul, secretary in the Chamber office. . .Mrs. Willis Taylor, secretary to Lloyd McKee, assistant superintendent of Schools.

HEAR TELL Margie and C.C. Franklin of Payne Community and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Graham of Loraine were guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Franklin, III, in New Orleans last week.

While there the party toured ante-bellum homes and gardens. . .went for a tour on the last old paddle-boat steamer on the Mississippi, drove across a 27-mile-long bridge. . . and visited the old French Quarter.

They also saw Chamlette, National Historical Park, a memorial to the stunning victory of General Andrew Jackson over the British Army during the War of 1812.

Weevil War
Spray Program Starts

Four County Boll Weevil Association got its aerial spray program off the ground Thursday.

Spraying of infested fields in Mitchell, Nolan, Fisher and Scurry Counties will be done by plane with all members of the Four County Association eligible to apply for the service.

Spraying is being done with 16 ounces of Guthion to the acre.

Cost of the chemical control is 82¢ per acre. Royce Beights of Loraine is chairman for the project in this area.

Membership in the association is necessary for signing up for the control program, a representative noted.

Infestation by boll weevils is "very heavy" in some portions of Mitchell County, said Bobby Lemons, county agent, Friday.

"We have isolated fields scattered about the county all the way from South Loraine to Cuthbert with real weevil trouble," he said, "and weevils are now feeding on the bolls with little or no new foliage growth in the last two weeks."

STUDY

Each local CAP program is administered by a locally based non-profit, private corporation chartered under the laws of the state. This corporation is governed by a board of directors – all local residents and from all levels of economic living.

County officials have been told the CAP can work in many areas of need – in child development with Operation Head Start and Day Care Centers; in education and recreation with Upward Bound, adult basic education, summer recreation and safety education; health programs with family planning, comprehensive health projects, programs for the aged; housing programs – clean up projects, housing rehabilitation, low cost mortages for certain building; man-power programs, including job training, manpower development and training, Neighborhood Youth Corps, manual skill teaching; plus neighborhood centers and community organization.

County officials here called in the Abilene experts for first-hand information about the program as it really works and faces community problems.

They wanted the actual day-to-day facts, not just the generalities.

When they learned about the Abilene program, then they invited ministers to do the same. And the ministers, wanting to get down to the heart of the matter, too, asked for the Abilene leaders to return for additional conference after the ministers have had time to study.

If the ministers like what they see and hear, you can expect Commissioners Court to move ahead with planning and if support is definite and widespread enough to put CAP into action in Mitchell County.

Federal funds already are available to Mitchell County for initial stages of the program.
