COLLIER LEAVES TO SERVE PEN SENTENCE

Coolidge Smiles On Food Trusts, Senator Charges

BENEDICTION IS PRONOUNCED BY CAL, KING SAYS

Rakes Department of Justice and U. S. Trade Commission for Lethargy

BAKE COMBINE HINTED

Ward Company Consolidation Announcement Brings Attack in Congress

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Moves looking to broad investigations of combinations and trusts were made today in both senate and house as a result of the announcement of the forasation of the huge Ward Food Products corporation to deal in bread and ancillary products.

In asking for action by the judiciary committee on his resolution proposing a sweeping inquiry, Senator King, democrat, Utah, assailed President Coolidge and the investigating agencies of the administration in a vigorous speech in the senate.

The senator declared that while combinations which "must destroy the economic and industrial life of the country" are being formed, the department of justice is "sleeping;" the federal trade commission is "impotent" and President Coolidge has "pronounced his benediction."

Trade Nomination Delayed.

Another result of the Ward announcement was to delay senate action on the renomination of Charles W. Hunt of Iowa, as a member of the federal trade commission. At the request of Senator King, the nomination went over until two days after the passage of the tax bill.

While senate discussion of the Ward corporation was in progress, Representative LaGuardia, socialist, New York offered a resolution in the house calling upon the attorney general and the federal trade commission to furnish information regarding bread and flour trusts. A report of any findings in regard to investigations authorized under a senate resolution of 1924 would be ordered with special reference to the Ward Food Products corporation.

Bread Inquiry.

Under authority of the senate resolution the trade commission has been conducting a broad investigation into the bread industry for a number of months. Members of the commission said they had no detailed information regarding the newly organized company but indicated that any inquiry into the subject would be consolidated with the present investigation.

There was no announcement from the justice department concerning the Ward organization.

Control of Necessities.

Declaring that this was only one effort at combinations "for the control" of necessities, Senator King said attention could be directed to "many conspiracies in restraint of trade which in the end must destroy the economic system in the United States."

"I do not expect the department of justice to act," he said.

"They are sleeping while these great trusts are being formed.

"The federal trade commission is impotent. I do not say that a majority are protecting the predatory interests, but a majority take a view contrary to the spirit of the trade commission act. They are derelict in the discharge of their duties.

"There are bills here proposing to abolish the federal trade commission and some of us intend to press them, not that we do not think the commission has been useful in the past, but that it has outlived its usefulness as now directed.

Administration Indifferent.

"The present administration is wholly indifferent to the growth of monopolies and trusts. Indeed, the president of the United States in his speech recently in New York seemed to pronounce a benediction on these great organizations."

Senator Norris, republican, Nebraska, suggested that the new "bread combine" might propose to buy all the wheat in the United States and sell all of the bread.

"Think what a fine condition we will have when one man purchases all of the farmers' products and sells all of the bread and other foodstuffs to the consumers," said Senator Norris.

BILL WOULD ABOLISH PRICE FIXING AGENCIES

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—(AP)—A measure to declare illegal cooperative associations which do not sustain normal competition and which attempt fixing of uniform prices through dissemination of trade information was introduced today by Senator King, democrat, Utah.

The measure would exempt producers of agricultural products and organizations in export trade.

BURKETT DENIES CONNIVANCE IN HIGHWAY CASE

Former Commissioner Is Defense Witness In Hoffman Case

SAYS CHARGES FALSE

Appearance Comes as Surprise, Following Statement of Saturday

AUSTIN, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Absolutely false are charges of the state that he "cinnived to perpetrate a fraud on the state by letting the Hoffman Construction company surfacing contract at an unscionable price," Joe Burkett, former highway commissioner, declared today. Burkett appeared for the defense in the state's $421,000 road suit against the Hofffman Construction company.

His appearance was a major surprise, as Saturday he stated unequivocally he wouuld not testify in person, though willing to give any number of oral depositions.

H. H. Henning, former highway division engineer at Alpine, admitted destroying original estimates, on which the defendant company billed the state for 40,516 more yards in Hudspeth, Reeves and Brewster counties than Henning said was actually surfaced, and for approximately 37,000 more gallons of asphalt for "patching" than actually used. He said he did not remember whether he destroyed the originals before or after Attorney General Dan Moody instituted highway litigation.

Original estimates were destroyed because he complied new and accurate estimates, and the "originals were of no use and might have cause a lot of trouble." Henning at first protested he did not know where the originals were.

GAS PRICES GO UP WITH CRUDE

Sinclair Announces Increase Of Half-cent In Tank Car Lots

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—(AP)—The pendulum of gasoline prices which swung downward from August to November of last year and then started upward again started to climb higher today, when the Sinclair Refining company announced an increase of one-half cent a gallon in railroad tank car lots at New York, Philadelphia and all Atlantic coast terminals. The new tank car price is 12 cents a gallon.

The announcement of higher gasoline prices by Sinclair Refining company came within a few hours of an advance of 25 cents a barrel in mid-continent crude by the Sinclair Crude Oil Purchasing company in which several other companies joined later in the day.

Higher crude prices were regarded as inevitable because of the premiums being paid in the mid-continent field by purchasers in need of oil, and the steady decrease in crude production during the last few months.

The American Petroleum institute reported a decrease of 16,200 barrels in the daily average of gross crude oil production in the week ended January 16, bringing the total to 1,947,600 barrels, the lowest since last April. With the exception of the week ended November 21, production had shown a decrease of 10 points. The high point was reached last May when the daily average was as high as 2,346,000 barrels.

TOM CONNALLY DEFENDS VIEW ON TAX ISSUE

Lauds Texas Delegation In Congress for Attitude On Inheritance Tax

DENIES "COMMUNISM"

Says Present Plan Is Not Nearly So Stringent as That in 1894

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Representative Tom Connally, Democrat, Texas, speaking in the house today, defended the refusal of the Texas delegation to vote for the repeal of the inheritance tax.

"A bitter and envenomed attack," he said, "an organized and well financed attack, is being made throughout Texas upon members of congress from our state for our failure to vote for the repeal of this tax.

"A so-called legislative committee, composed of State Senator R. A. Stuart of Fort Worth, John Davis of Dallas, and Representative George C. Kemble of Fort Worth, have published in the Texas press a so-called report to the Texas legislature in which it is charged that among some of the Texas members of congress this committee found a communistic and socialistic tendency, and an attack is being made upon all members in which they are denounced for violating state sovereignty because they refused to change their views upon the demand of the American Bankers League and the Texas Tax Clubs which these gentlemen brought to Washington.

"These gentlemen pretended to believe that a federal inheritance tax is a new, strange, alien doctrine. They allege it is undemocratic and indicted for high and hellish crimes, both of an economic and political character. Are these infuriated gentlemen with deranged imaginations ignorant of the Democratic income tax provision of the act of 1894, passed during Cleveland's administration? That bill levied a tax of two per cent on gifts and inheritances of personal property above a $4,000 exemption. The tax bill now pending provides an exemption of $50,000.

"Were Roger Q. Mills, Richard Coke, David B. Culberson, Joseph W. Bailey, C. K. Bell, George C. Pendleton, Joseph D. Sayers, J. C. Hutcheson, Walter Gresham, Thomas Paschal and the other honored and trusted Democrats voting for a socialistic or communistic doctrine when they voted for an inheritance tax?"

City's Largest Cash Deposit, Over $3,000,000, Received Here Monday In Continental-Texhoma Oil Deal

Texhoma Executives in New York Monday to Close Transaction; Deposit Banks Ahead of Other Large Financial Transactions of City

What is believed to be the largest cash deposit ever made in a Wichita Falls bank came to the City National Bank Monday when the initial payment was made by the Continental Oil company of Denver for the purchase of controlling interest in the Texhoma Oil and Refining company of this city. Between $3,000,000 and $4,000,000 was sent by the National City Bank of New York to the City National Bank of Wichita Falls as initial payment in the deal. W. B. Hamilton, N. H. Martin, J. J. Perkins and C. W. Snider of Wichita Falls, officials of the Texhoma company, were in New York yesterday to close the deal. The exact amount of the deposit was not made public.

Another payment in the Continental-Texhoma deal made on August 1.

Announcement of the deposit was made by J. T. Harrell, vice-president of the City National Bank.

The deposit is believed to have been the largest ever made here. In 1922 a deposit of $2,500,000 cash was made by R. O. Harvey, Frank Kell, J. J. Perkins and L. H. Cullum after they had sold an oil lease in the south Electra field to the Magnolia Petroleum company. While another deal for $4,750,000 was handled through the City National Bank in 1920 when Staley, Langford and Chenault sold oil holdings in the northwest field, the largest cash deposit made in the transaction was $1,000,000.

HOUSE TO VOTE ON FARM BILL

Record Vote to Be Demanded, However, On Texan's Amendment

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—(AP)—After spending the better part of last week in general debate on the annual agriculture appropriation bill the house in five hours today completed its consideration and will vote on it tomorrow.

Before the final vote, however, Representative Magee, republican, New York, who headed the appropriations sub-committee that drafted the bill is expected to demand a record vote on an amendment by Representative Jones, democrat, Texas, which as adopted today, placed in the bill an item of $200,000 for distribution of books on diseases of horses and cattle. Magee opposed the amendment contending that there already were 140,000 such books piled up in a government folding room accumulating dust.

The amendment was adopted, 94 to 77, with democrats voting for it virtually solidly and a number of republicans joining in. Many republicans were absent however, and for this reason a new vote is expected. The only other amendment accepted today was one brought in by the appropriations committee to increase from $1,741,000 to $1,773,723 the amount for expenses of the weather bureau in collecting and disseminating information.

The house approved without discussion $73,000,000 allotted for federal aid to state highways. This is one million dollars less than was appropriated last year.

MELLON BANKS UNDER ATTACK

Filed Consolidated Tax Returns to Cut $91,000 From Bill, Is Charge

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Charges that four Pittsburgh banking firms in which Secretary Mellon is interested filed consolidated tax returns, despite a ruling by a treasury expert that such procedure was not permissible were made in the senate today by Senator Norris, republican, Nebraska.

As a result, he said, the taxes of the institutions had been reduced by $91,000.

They were named as the Union Trust company, the Union Savings company, the Mellon National bank and the Mellon Trust company.

Senator Reed, republican, Pennsylvania, said he was a director in the companies and insisted the cases afforded a "perfect example" of a proper use of the consolidated returns provision.

Urging repeal of the consolidated returns section Senator Couzens, republican, Michigan, said he understood the Curtis Publishing company had been allowed to consolidate returns from the "highly profitable Saturday Evening Post with the Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Senator Norris insisted on the continuance of income tax publicity.

FORMER MAYOR TO BEGIN HIS 3-YEAR TERM

Is Under Conviction For Manslaughter in Boy's Death

MANDATE IS RECEIVED

Concludes Last Chapter In One of Most Notable Cases in City

Frank Collier, former mayor of Wichita Falls, left the city Monday for Huntsville to begin serving a three-year prison term on a manslaughter charge growing out of the death February 14, last, of Elsie Robertson, his 19-year-old son-in-law.

A statement to this effect was made Monday night by Charles I. Francis, one of his attorneys, who has represented Collier since the shooting of young Robertson. It is understood Collier went unattended by any officer and will report to the warden of Huntsville voluntarily. His departure was known to only a few of his intimate friends.

Mandate Received

The mandate for Collier's commitment to the penitentiary arrived in Wichita Falls early Monday from the court of criminal appeals at Austin, where the three-year sentence given in March of last year was only recently affirmed. Commitment papers were made out in the office of District Clerk A. F. Kerr.

The beginning of Collier's term in the penitentiary will mark the end of one chapter of one of the most notable criminal cases in north Texas history. It was almost a year ago, on the night of February 14, Valentine's day, that Collier, at that time, mayor of Wichita Falls, met Elsie Robertson, his 19-year-old son-in-law by a secret marriage, on the corner of Seventeenth and Bluff streets and shot and killed him.

Manslaughter Verdict

In the trial which followed the defense won a verdict of manslaughter and a sentence of three years in the penitentiary was imposed by the jury. Appeal was immediately made to the higher courts. A subsequent grand jury indicted Mrs. Collier for murder and in Haskel county last May she was found guilty and sentenced to 10 years in the penitentiary.

When Collier's case came up before the higher court his attorneys accepted sentence for him and the decision of the lower court of course was subsequently affirmed. The mandate for Collier's commitment following this affirmation reached Wichita Falls only Monday.

The higher court has not yet acted on Mrs. Collier's appeal.

FOR Acid Stomach

PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia

Instead of soda hereafter take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

BETTER THAN SODA

For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. Besides, it neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges this souring waste from the system without purging. It is far more pleasant to take than soda.

Insist upon "Phillips." Twenty-five cent and fifty cent bottles, any drugstore.

RECORD GIVES CHILDRESS BIGGEST COTTON CROP

2 TEXAS POSTMASTERS NOMINATED BY COOLIDGE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Presidential nominations today:

Postmasters—William C. Kenyon, Amarillo; Peter G. Lucas, San Antonio.

Now He's "Percy"

Charles Ray's second Thomas H. Ince feature, made for Pathe release, is entitled "Percy," based on "The Desert Fiddler," William H. Hamby's colorful romance of the Imperial Valley. James W. Horne directed from a scenario by J. G. Hawks. The new picture opens a two days' engagement at the Mission theatre today.

The story is laid in 1914, when the World war first knocked the bottom out of cotton, as well as other markets, and then sent them soaring skyward. It was just about that time that the Imperial Valley, dry bed of a long-lost sea, under the magic of irrigation, began to blossom like the rose. Agriculturists flocked there as gold miners flocked to the Klondike in 1898. One of the big situations in the story is the Fiddler's fight with the rascal who cornered the water supply and then demanded an extortionate price for service, the alternative being the withholding of the water and the ruin of the crops. The blowing up of a big dam is one of the sensational scenes in the film.

DANGER SIGNALS OF INDIGESTION

The Disease That Strikes Like Lightning

Beware of indigestion—the disease that kills more people and kills them quicker than any other. This warning, by physicians, is particularly applicable this season of the year, when your system "let-down" in tone and vigor on account of warm weather.

What are the warnings that nature gives you of the approach of indigestion? The medical books tells us: 1. Gas, which means that your food is fermenting instead of digesting. 2. A feeling of fullness or oppression in the region of the stomach after eating. This means that the gas has balooned your stomach and is pressing up against your heart and lungs. 3. A dull lazy feeling, which means that you are not getting nourishment from what you are eating. 4. Restlessness, un-refreshing sleep, which means that the poisons of indigestion are disturbing your brain and nerves. 5. Sometimes, pain and fluttering around the heart, though this symptom may come later.

Don't take chances with indigestion—you are too apt to lose. If you have had any of the symptoms mentioned above, get your digestive organs to work at once with Ferraline. Nature's great stomach treatment that has given relief to thousands. Ferraline immediately aids and assists every one of your digestive organs, including your stomach, liver and bowels. Ferraline makes your digestion "perfect and complete." You feel its helpful effect from the very first dose. Get a bottle of Ferraline today at any drug store. Ferraline is so much superior to any other remedy for indigestion that the owners have instructed every druggist to refund the purchase price. One dollar, if you do not get relief, so it costs you nothing if you are not delighted with results. Delay might be dangerous. Get Ferraline today from your druggist. ANOTHER COTTON MILL FOR TEXAS

THERE is to be another cotton mill launched in Texas. Business men and farmers of Cuero are behind the project. A twenty-five acre tract of land has been taken over, and it is said that a $25,000 block of stock has been taken by the Texas Central Power company.

There should be a cotton mill in every county seat in Texas where the cotton blossom grows. Every Texas river should be harnessed. All this will come some day.

This year Texas should not produce a huge crop of cotton. Neither should the other southern states produce huge crops of cotton. More cotton on fewer acres is a magnificent slogan.

There is a big land owner in West Texas who has instructed his renters to reduce the acreage by one-half. And to plant feed stuffs and food stuffs. He is largely interested in the livestock industry and he is telling his renters that if they plant feed stuffs he will buy the output of their acres and pay them the cash for the same.

He is telling his renters to go in for hogs and poultry and vegetables in order that their own tables may be supplied.

In Denton county a banker who is the owner of 200 acres of tillable land is giving the same advice to his renters.

It has been established that a scientific farmer can produce 15 bales of cotton on three acres in old Smith county. These scientific farmers in the oldest section of the state are alive to the necessity of protecting their own pockets as well as feeding themselves and their dependents.

AID FOR MOODY

ATTORNEY General Dan Moody of Texas, has asked for a re-hearing in the Archer County Road Bond case. John W. Davis, former solicitor for the United States and democratic presidential nominee two years ago, has been retained by bond holders to aid Moody in the petition for re-hearing.

Former United States Senator Chester I. Long of Kansas, has been retained by Kansas holders of Texas road bonds, to file a brief in support of the petition of the Attorney-General. It must be admitted that Attorney-General Dan Moody is a very busy man. It must be admitted that he is going to have able legal assistance in his fight for a rehearing in the Archer County case.

The Supreme Court of the United States has been a world institution almost since the republic was born. It is the greatest tribunal of its kind in the world. Will it revenge itself in the Archer County case?

HAVING FUN WITH HOOVER

JOHN BULL controls the pepper production of the world. Now Mr. Bull is having more fun with Herbert Hoover. Pepper has soared to 35c a pound. Mr. Bull made it soar. Following the war it sold as low as 12c.

First, Mr. Bull hit Mr. Hoover with a rubber ball. This angered Mr. Hoover.

Now Mr. Bull has hit Mr. Hoover with a pepper box. Mr. Hoover has the floor.

Pepper plantations are controlled by Mr. Bull. Cotton farmers are not controlled by Mr. Hoover. It is a nasty trick for Mr. Bull to throw pepper in the eyes of Mr. Hoover while all the people are looking on.

EMERGENCIES

There is a story of an inmate of an insane asylum who instead of sitting down at his ease like his fellows when they were allowed to amuse themselves in the yard, used to run at top speed around and around the buildings.

This irritated one of the keepers, who complained to the superintendent about it.

"Let him alone," said the superintendent, "he only works off his surplus steam, and he certainly can do no harm."

But one day the gate was left open by accident, and the sprinter departed through it. That was before the days of automobiles, and none of the guards was able to catch him because his daily exercise had made him an excellent runner.

We are not sure that there was method in this lunatic's madness, but the story is one that can be pondered with profit by people who are of perfectly sound mind.

There are many humdrum and unpleasant jobs in life. Somebody has to fill them.

But nobody of intelligence need fill them for long if he at the same time picks out some better job and learns how to perform its duties.

It is not always possible for a clerk in an office to learn the work of the man just ahead of him. All people are not fair minded enough to want others to be able to succeed them. Hence there is a great deal of secrecy maintained by half competent workers about the details of their places.

Such was the disposition of the old tradesmen, who could never bear to have young men watching them at work, lest they might "steal the trade."

But by observation and study it is always possible to fit one's self for something better than one is doing, and it is more than likely that an opportunity will come to test the acquired ability.

The young men and women who get the most promotions are those who keep their eyes open, and think about their jobs in hours out of hours.

Promotions in business are not as rapid as promotions in war, where even the private is expected to keep a marshal's baton in his knapsack against the time when his superiors may be all killed off, and somebody must lead the remnant of the army.

But there is constant movement in all organizations, due to resignations and retirements, and it stands to reason that the men who move up, will be the men who have found out what to do when they do move up.

It may be true that there is "no pay while learning" for the worker who is getting ready to fill the job ahead of him.

But the back pay will be made up if he gets the job and makes good in it.

It is easy to say that it is an unfair world, and that promotion goes by favoritism.

But the fact is that competence counts far more than favoritism, and that in business the man who can do a small job well is more likely to advance than the man who does everything indifferently.

All you need to do is to inquire how the heads of big concerns get their jobs and you will find that most of them earned them by fiting themselves for them long before any chance of promotion was open.

GREEKS ARE VERY HUMAN

GREECE owes the United States government $5,000,000,000.00, and the spokesmen of the Greek government says they will not fund the debt unless the American government extend a further loan of $35,000,000.00. There are highjackers under foreign skies just the same as there are bank robbers under American skies.

"Love Bound In Wichita Falls"

By the Author of 'The Flapper Wife'

FLOSSIE and MARY ROSE MIDDLETON are two pretty sisters, the daughters of a widowed motor. They work for the Dexter Automobile Company.

Mary Rose is secretary to the sales manager JOHN MANNERS, and is in love with him. But he's engaged to DORIS HINIG, an heiress. Because of her feeling for him, Mary Rose repeatedly refuses to marry DR. TOM FITZROY.

Flossie, a born vamp, does a very poor job of keeping the office files. Mary Rose discovers she is carrying on a flirtation with the president of the company, HILARY DEXTER, although she's going to marry his secretary, SAM JESSUP.

She accepts jewelry from Dexter, who is married, and goes joy riding with him at all hours. Her old fashioned mother can do nothing with her.

John Manners falls in love with Mary Rose, as he never has been in love before in his life, and tells her so.

That night the sisters quarrel, and to "get even" with Mary Rose, Flossie tells John that Mary Rose is "just stringing him along" and really intends to Marry Dr. Tom. Manners believes the lie, and Mary Rose is so hurt by his coldness that she decided to leave Dexter's.

One night Dexter goes too far in his love making, and Flossie learns how little respect a married man has for the girl he professes to love. She walks home from a joy ride with him, and the next day she elopes with the faithful Sam. From the very beginning of the honeymoon the pair quarrel over money, and she keeps threatening to go back to work for Dexter.

Mary Rose quiets her job and goes to work for a steel man, JIM MORRELL, whose wife is madly jealous of him and spies on him and Mary Rose constantly. She advises Morrell to get a man for a secretary.

Sam finds the jewels that Dexter had given Flossie before her marriage. He and Flossie have a battle, and he leaves the Dexter Company to go to work for Morrell.

One night Tom Fitzroy is terribly hurt in an automobile wreck and Mary Rose goes to the hospital to find him dying. He wants to marry her, and she says she will.

(Now go on with the story.)

"He's going to die—" Tom's mother began in a normal voice and then without any warning she fainted quietly away. Her husband picked her up and carried her into an empty room across the corridor. As Miss Sims followed him, she turned her neat capped head and spoke to Mary Rose:

"You go in now. Don't stay more than a minute.

Mary Rose looked at the wedding ring she held for an instant. Then she slipped it over the third finger of her left hand, and went into Tom's room.

He was lying quietly as before, but his eyes were opened just the merest slit, and they followed Mary Rose as she came up to him. Suddenly the tears that she had been holding back for an hour seemed to well up into her eyes and her throat, but she forced them down. She managed to smile—a brave, gallant, little smile.

She held up the ring for him to see. And then she leaned over and gave him the first kiss she had ever given him of her own free will in all her life.

She kissed the gauze bandages that were strapped around his jaw—kissed him so lightly that he could scarcely feel it. But he did.

The corners of his mouth moved ever so slightly, and she knew that he was smiling.

"I love you," she said. "I love you."

And if Tom guessed that she was lying he made no sign that he did. And let us hope that he believed her, as he lay there, immovable in his bandages.

"Minute's up!" Miss Sims spoke from the doorway, and Mary Rose went out to her.

"You—I hate to tell you this—but you know he's not going to live," Miss Sims told her. "You know that, don't you?"

Mary Rose shook her head. "I didn't," she whispered.

"I just thought I'd tell you—Dr. Fitzroy thought I should. You see, we thought you might want to marry him—before he goes."

"I will," said Mary Rose, and she threw up her head and blinked back the smarting tears. "I will."

CHAPTER IX

The rest of that black winter night always stood out in Mary Rose Middleton's mind like a weird and terrible dream. A hideous nightmare.

The wild howling of the wind outside was part of it, and the beating of the savage storm against the windows of the hallway where she sat. So was the sickening medical smell of the hospital.

She remembered afterward how Ito, the Fitzroy's Japanese chauffeur had come up to speak to her, grinning to hide his grief. Fifteen years before it had been he who had taught young Tom to drive.

"Bad night—very rainy," he said. "I think poor Mr. Tom—he skid into other car. Man in other car not hurt—poor Mr. Tom's neck broken! You see poor Mr. Tom's car all smashed down at corner of your street, eh?"

And it was not until then that Mary Rose realized that one of the wrecked cars she had passed on her way to Mercy hospital was the one in which she and Tom had raced with the wind so many, many times.

Slow tears rolled down her white cheeks, as she remembered how he had looked behind the driving wheel of that car. She could see him now, his red hair blown straight back, and his blue eyes narrowed as he guided the "stink-wheel" over the roads of the open country, with her at his side.

Strong and laughing and brave with youth he had been—that was so crushed and broken, now. She got up and tiptoed into the room where he lay.

"We aren't giving him any more morphine for a while," Miss Sims whispered to her. "The minister'll be here soon. Dr. Tom's father seems to think it'll make him happy to know you're married to him. I don't know—I don't believe much in these deathbed marriages, myself."

The door opened and Tom's father came in.

"Don't you want your mother here with you, Mary Rose?" he asked, putting his arm around her.

But Mary Rose shook her head.

Poor little mother—she thought—there had been enough sorrow and heartbreak in her life without adding this unhappy memory to it. This marriage of Mary Rose's to her old playfellow and friend on his death bed.

She looked down at the gray face on the pillows, and saw that Tom had opened his eyes a little, once more, and was watching her with a great peace and contentment in them. She laid her hand, with its bright ring, lightly on the bandages that bound his forehead.

And suddenly something that he had said to her, long ago, flashed across her brain, like lightning across darkness—"Sometimes I know when things are going to happen to me, and I know this—that you and I are going to be married sometime, sure as death!"

Sure as death! And they were going to be married—sure as death!

To Mary Rose it seemed as if death were waiting, somewhere out in the darkness, somewhere outside where the wind rattled the windows and doors like an impatient hand—

She shivered.

At four o'clock the minister came to marry them—Dr. Broderick, of St. Thomas' church, where Tom had gone to Sunday school, and where as a young boy, he had sung in the choir.

Tom's mother had collapsed and was in a drugged sleep across the hall. But his father and Miss Sims, in their white linen clothes, stood side by side before the dresser where two tall candles flickered.

To Mary Rose they seemed like figures in a dream—this dreadful dream that went on and on—

Nothing seemed real to her but the familiar and beautiful words of the marriage service. She had read them over so many times that she knew them by heart:

"Dearly beloved—we gathered together here in the sight of God—to join together this man and this woman—"

And at the sound of them, aMry Rose's heart seemed to swell with unbearable pain. Her throat ached with the effort to keep down the lump that rose in it, and her eyes smarted with tears that she did not dare to shed.

She knew that Tom's eyes were on her, and that she must not let him know that her heart was breaking. She must be the bride that would make him happy—a bride who was glad of her marriage.

The smile that she gave him was a radiant as the sun rising over dark stormy waters. It was such a smile as a bride of June might have sent to her lover from under a veil weighted with orange blossoms—and seeing it, Miss Sims, that hardened veteran of the wards, broke down and cried aloud.

"Like a baby," as she confessed that morning at seven o'clock breakfast to the other nurses. "I've seen many a sad sight in my seventeen years of batting around from hospital to hospital—but never anything like that marriage last night."

* * *

When it was over, old Dr. Fitzroy led Mary Rose out into the wide hall, with its rubbery smell and staring white walls.

"I'm going to send you home with Ito, now, my girl," he said to her very gently. "You've been very brave—" He stooped his gray head, and kissed the white forehead.

"No," Mary Rose answered him clearly. "I'm going to stay with Tom right to the end."

"That may not come for hours and hours," Tom's father told her, and for a moment his voice had the professional sharpness of a great doctor. "A broken neck doesn't always mean immediate death—and Tom won't know you, anyway. They're giving him some more morphine—" Then suddenly his voice choked up, and he couldn't go on.

He opened the door of the room where his wife lay, prostrated by her grief, and closed it behind him.

Mary Rose stood where he had left her for a long time—turning and twisting the ring on her finger, the ring that Tom had carried in his pocket for weeks. The ring that had made her his wife.

Outside the rain had ceased and the wind was almost stilled.

Mary Rose turned to the window and raised the shade. She could see the illumined face of a clock, high up in the tower of some distant building. It was half past five.

She found her coat and her hat and slipped out into the cold dawn, and started home, alone.

Very quietly she let herself into the little brown house, went softly out into the kitchen and made a pot of coffee. But when it was made she could not drink it. The very smell of it made her ill.

As she started up the stairs, her mother's sleepy voice from above, startled her: "Is that you, Mary Rose? What time is it? Was Tom badly hurt?"

FINISH THE TASK

Here is a great cathedral, here is a noble wall,
Here is a spire all lit with fire as the rays of the sunset fall,
Not by some mighty magic the roofs of the world were made:
Men have dreamed and tools have gleamed and hands have worked at their trade—
What if they grew discouraged, what if they ceased their song,
Counted the brick and turned heart-sick and said that the plan was wrong?—
Yes, said it would take too long?
You would master knowledge, you would capture fame,
Men have dreamed and tools have gleamed and red was the forge'n flame—
And so you must build the same.
Not by some mighty magic the splendor of life is spent
Though your fingers ache, the brick you must take and must lay them one by one—
And work till the thing is done.

PETER'S ADVENTURES in ANIMAL LAND

By MRS FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

A DRINK ON THE DESERT

Step-Lightly licked his chops.

"That Locust was only a mouthful but, sweet—just as sweet as sugar cane!" growled he. "My, but I wish I had a drink. Eating makes you thirsty, did you know it, Two-Legs? This very moment my mouth feels as dry as the desert in a sand-storm, and there's no stream near by."

Step-Lightly moistened his lips, then slowly looked over the landscape.

"I was born not far away from here," growled he, "and I remember that as a youngster I used to quench my thirst with big, juicy melons. The melon vine can't be far away. I was looking for it when I stuck my nose on a cactus needle. Things do change, though, after you've been away from aplace for a while. My home cave is many a mile off, but I thought I knew every inch of this ground. Let me see—a flat rock, then a heap of stones, then bare earth and the melon vine. There used to be some moist sand, too, unless it is all dried up. It ought to be right over there."

If Step-Lightly had been a Boy he would have pointed with his finger, but being a young Lion he only nodded his head. Then suddenly his tail began to move, slowly at first, then faster and faster, until it lashed his sides. This, in Lion language, might mean that Step-Lightly had scented game and was working himself into a fighting fever. But there was something rather merrily jerky in this partthat Step-Lightly was happy. What the Cub was so pleased about Peter soon found out.

"G-r-r-r!" growled Step-Lightly, and made for the side of the rock. Peter followed and came up just in time to catch his friend drinking from a green melon bowl, sucking in the juice with loud smacking of his lips.

Step-Lightly had never heard of company manners, but he certainly did know how to drink from a watermelon without spilling a single drop.

Hotel Man, Hit By Plane Propellor, Is Believed Dying

HOUSTON, Feb. 1.—(AP)—John Joneson was fighting a losing battle for life at the Hermann hospital today, his skull fractured.

Joneson walked into the whirling propeller of an airplane at the Main Street Flying field Sunday evening, just after he had gotten out of the machine.

According to Bert Pidcoke, pilot of the machine, the two had just completed a short flight, Joneson stepped from the cockpit of the plane, and instead of walking to the rear he turned forward and the plane's propeller struck him an upward blow, just over the right eye.

Mrs. Joneson had warned her husband against making the flight, and had stood near the hangar, visibly nervous during the time the two were up in the air. When the machine effected a safe landing, others standing nearby remarked, "Well, you see, Mr. Joneson got back all right."

It was less than 60 seconds later that the accident occurred.

Joneson is president of the Texas Hotel company.

TERRIBLY INTIMATE PORTRAITS!

Scene: In a Woman's Shop Show Room

Mrs. Henn-Peque (viewing a model parading before her): "I would look exquisite in that gown."

Hen-Peque: "No you wouldn't, honey, your legs are too fat."

Mrs. Henn-Pecque (frowning): Well, I'd rather have the fat in my legs than in my head."

Henn-Peque: "Well, you have never shown me that you are not similarly afflicted at both ends."

Mrs. Henn-Peque: "Is zat so! When I think of the millions of men I knew—influential young business men, too—to think that I should have picked you! There was Thomas Bra—"

Henn-Peque: "Here comes another gown, my dear." (Slender model parades coquettishly and temptingly before Mrs. Henn-Peque's 210 pounds avoirdupois.)

Mrs. Henn-Peque: "Now I really think, Harry, that that gown would become me."

Henn-Peque: "Be more explicit, honey. Become what part of you?"

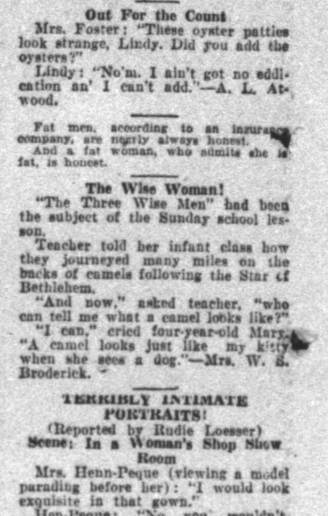

Mrs. Henn-Peque: "Do you mean to infer that I haven't the proper lines? I have more lines than any wom—I mean I have just the lines for that gown."

Henn-Peque: "You have plenty of lines, my dear, but they are not straight ones."

Mrs. Henn-Peque: "Oh, they aren't, aren't they? Well, I'll have you understand that it wasn't your money that bought the food which caused them to bend—slightly."

Henn-Peque: "Aw, shut up! Here comes the proprietor."

Mrs. Henn-Peque: "I'll not shut—oh, Monsieur Poopnoedel, it is a pleasure to see you and your gowns, Mr. Henn-Peque here just asked what time you shut up."

DEMO LEADERS PLAN TO MEET

To Make Tariff Big Issue In 1926 Race And Lay Battle Plans

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Another get-together movement has been started by democratic party leaders in Washington.

It apparently contemplates a return to the tariff question as one of the paramount issues of he 1926 congressional campaign and a revamping of the entire democratic national organization into an aggressive fighting machine.

The movement was given impetus last night at a dinner given by Senator Walsh of Montana, presiding officer of the last democratic national convention in honor of Franklin D. Roosevelt, democratic vice presidential nominee in 1920, and Governor Alfred Smith's campaign manager in 1924. Ranking democratic leaders of the senate and house were present and much of the discussion related to a closer cooperation between the democratic minorities in the two branches of congress.

Some of these attending said there was unanimity of opinion that the national committee should meet in the near future and lay plans for the congressional campaign.

There has been criticism of the failure of the committee to get together since the 1924 election, coupled with reports that National Chairman Clem L. Shaver merely was winding up his affairs preparatory to resigning. Mr. Shaver has denied he intended to quit voluntarily.

A year ago Mr. Roosevelt and some other leaders put under way a movement looking to the creation of a militant democratic natoinal organization b,ut the movement collapsed in its infancy. Several of the more influential leaders concurred in the view of Mr. Shaver that the time for creation of such an organization was not ripe.

Congressional campaign issues were discussed at the conference last night and some of those present expressed the view that the tariff probably would be the chief issue. Representative Cordell Hull of Tennessee, a former chairman of the national committee, is paving the way for that with a house resolution proposing a policy of tariff reduction.

Night Coughing Quickly Stopped

New Way Simple But Very Effective

Night coughing, with its distressing loss of sleep and dangerous sapping of strength and vitality, can now be almost instantly checked through a simple but wonderfully effective treatment that is economical, too.

This treatment is based on the famous prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. For astonishing relief make this test tonight before retiring:—Simply take one teaspoonful and hold it in the throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and heals soreness and irritation, but it quickly loosens and removes the phlegm and congestion which are the real cause of night coughing. So with the cause removed, coughing stops quickly and you sleep the whole night through.

The Dr. King's New Discovery prescription is for coughs, chest colds, sore throat, hoarseness, bronchitis, spasmodic croup, etc. Fine for children as well as grown-ups—no harmful drugs. At all good druggists. Ask for

1,000 TROOPS TO GUARD NEGRO

Black to Trial Today in Triple Slaying and Attack On Woman

LEXINGTON, Ky., Feb. 1.—(AP) With 1,000 troops of the Kentucky national guard guarding the court house, patrolling the highways leading into the city and generally policing the city to prevent mob violence, Ed Harris, a negro, who confessed a triple slaying and an attack on a white woman, will go to trial here tomorrow on the latter charge.

The troops were ordered here to prevent the recurrence of a tragedy similar to the one six years ago during the trial of William Lockett, negro.

Harris was to be brought here under military guard from the Frankfort reformatory where he was taken after being arrested at Georgetown while endeavoring to escape from the state.

Lexington was quiet today and little talk was heard on the streets regarding the trial tomorrow.

Business and professional men whose businesses and offices are located in the closed zone have announced that they wouldn permit their places to be closed Tuesday during the trial.

Harris' crime was one of the most revolting in the history of the Blue Grass country. After having killed Clarence Bryant and his two children, the negro attacked the mother and seriously wounded her.

Commonwealth's Attorney Murrey Kemper announced that Harris will be tried on the attack charge as it will permit his execution here after conviction. Kentuucky laws permit two death sentences, electrocution for murder and hanging for attacks on women. The commonwealth's attorney said that the execution here would be a deterrent to further crime.

Agents Tell of Big Glenrose Rum Raid

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Glenrose, summer and health resort nestling in the foothills of north Texas, 15 miles from a railroad and twice that far from Fort Worth, again has felt the hand of the law.

The name of this picturesque village was on every lip less than four years ago, when Texas rangers under the direction of Pat Neff, who then was governor, started a liquor clean-up, which ended with a sanguinary climax.

Federal prohibition agents working out of San Antonio under the direction of N. A. Baker, deputy prohibition administrator of Texas accomplished the latest clean-up of the town.

Capture of one 500 gallon still, one 300 gallon still, one 250 gallon still, one 150 gallon still, 100 gallons of whiskey and 4,700 gallons of mash, was reported today by the agents to their chief upon their return to this city. They also arrested three men, who have been arraigned in Waco.

With one exception this is the largest single capture recorded in the Texas-Oklahoma district, according to agents. The seizure of a 1,000 gallon still and a reservoir containing more than 10,000 gallons of mash, in April, 1925, on the Medina river takes precedence over the latest achievement.

The agents accomplished their mission without difficulty, but Glenrose's experience four years ago eventually cost two lives.

Vanderbilt Bride Married Again By Catholic Priest

BOSTON, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt announced today that her daughter, Muriel, now Mrs. Frederick Cameron Church, Jr., and her husband recently had been married by a Catholic priest following their marriage by an Episcopal clergyman in Newport last July.

Mr. and Mrs. Church were married at Newport, R. I., on July 25. The wedding was one of the most brilliant events of the Newport season. Up until the hour set for the wedding there had been much speculation as to whether the ceremony would be performed by a Catholic priest or by a Protestant clergyman. It was reported that young Church had steadfastly refused to sign an agreement to have his children reared in the Catholic faith, although he was perfectly willing that a priest should conduct the ceremony.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—(AP)—A supplemental estimate of $38,250,000 for the veterans' bureau to take care of increased disability ratings made effective January 1, was transmitted to the house today by President Coolidge.

Under the new ratings, which were not prepared when the original bureau appropriation for 1926-27 was submitted, veterans are accorded a more liberal treatment, the compensability being based as far as practicable upon the average impairment of earning capacity resulting from injuries in civil occupations similar to the occupation of the injured man at the time of enlistment.

The rates are based on the theory that there should be no reductions in ratings of compensation for individual success in overcoming the handicap of an injury.

REED PLANS FOR FIGHT ON COURT

National Organization To Be Formed to Oppose U. S. Participation

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 1,—(AP)—A national non-political organization to fight American participation in the world court will be organized, United States Senator James E. Reed of Missouri, democrat, announced here last night.

He said senate irreconcilables are preparing to conduct a war on the world court until American participation to the plan is withdrawn.

The organization would establish a goal of electing anti-court candidates to the senate, Senator Reed said.

Senator Reed, one of the leading opponents of the court in the losing battle against the plan in the senate last week, said a meeting was to have been held in Washington today to form the organization. He added that he had notified Senator Borah, another leader in the anti-court fight, that he would not return to Washing until next week, however.

The Missouri irreconcilable made it plain it was the plan to have the proposed organization ready to participate in the campaigns in states which elect United States senators this year. The first election is in Illinois where a primary will be held April 13. Kansas has an election in August.

"The primary purpose would be to create a sentiment to get us out of this thing," Senator Reed exclaimed. "Of course, it would have a bearing on campaigns. I would go to the country and show this whole mess up."

FOUND BLACK-DRAUGHT PRAISE WELL DESERVED

How a merchant of near Statham, Ga., came to adopt Black-Draught as his favorite liver medicine is told in the following statement from Mr. H. A. Hardy:

"I heard Black-Draught praised continually, so what was more natural than that, when I was feeling all down and out one day, I decided to try it. I had a headache. My eyes burned and my mouth had a bad taste. I felt tight in my chest and my back ached. When I would stoop over I felt dizzy.

"I took a couple of doses of Black-Draught and I felt like a different person.

"My head seemed to just clear up. I was hungry and felt like getting out to my work.

"For years I have kept Black-Draught, and when I feel the need of a laxative I take it at night. When I feel like my food isn't digesting just right, I take it after meals. I have recommended it to others and have been told that it helped them.

"I haven't used any other medicine for years, as I am satisfied with Black-Draught."

"Satisfied with Black-Draught"—Thousands of others speak to the same effect by their continuous use of this well-known liver medicine.

Experimental remedies come and go. Thedford's Black-Draught has been on the market for more than eighty years.

Satisfactory results obtained from its use are constantly increasing its multitude of friends.

Purely vegetable. Recommended for young and old. No harmful after-effects. Sold everywhere. Price 25 cents. JA-22.

—and now we keep the servants in the walls

HERE'S a tip to home builders. No need to plan for "servants' quarters." Nowadays there's a servant that fits within the walls, a cheaper and better servant than ever before, a servant just as helpful as you will let it be. We call this marvel, electricity.

Electricity saves space, saves time, saves labor, saves money. It serves you over wires that run under your floors and through your walls. It is on the job day and night, as much or as little of it as you want.

Put this willing servant to work—but give him a chance to do his best work. See that the outlets and switches which go into your home are conveniently placed, so that you will have plenty of light and plenty of power, too, for your hardest tasks.

Talk this over with us. Let us show you how to hire this modern servant—and how to make him 100 per cent efficient.

Tell your contractor that you want sufficient convenience plugs in the next home you build. It isn't necessary to wait until you build a new home, for your electric contractor can install these outlets in your home at a small cost. Ask him to tell you—you will be surprised at the low cost.

More Truth Than Poetry

GEORGE

Though General Washington sometimes saw red
When his army got into a jam,
And even was so indiscrete, it is said
As to use an occasional damn,
We cannot but think that a cuss word or two
Lends to language a bit of a flavor,
And the General's talk—if the story is true—
Is something to quote in his favor.

Although the old gentleman, once in a while,
When wearied with labors of state
Would step through a dance, in the popular style
Which was more or less staid and sedate,
And often, as he would be first to confess,
Indulge in a trifling flirtation
With some pretty damsel, he nevertheless
Established a pretty fair nation.

It is true he could never see any great harm,
When the harvesting season had come,
In distilling the corn that he grew on his farm
Into what pious people call rum.
And served it to guests when he'd aged it enough
But never declare it was real pre-war stuff,
For George was an honest old fellow.

He had a few faults, there is no doubt of that—
The people who haven't, we've found,
Make life seem a little bit tasteless and flat
And you don't like to have them around.
He may have been even as you or as I
But he did come out strong in a crisis.
And after these many long years have gone by
Why drag up his trivial vices?

Wiseacre scribes in banquet session characterized Babe Ruth as Yank manager about 1030 in a hotel lobby at 3 a. m. making plans to beat Cleveland, only to discover the team is scheduled to play St. Louis. The catch is, Mr. Ruth really never gets back to the hotel that early.

Mr. Slambino is like our Mr. Bodie in that respect, only Mr. Bodie is not addicted to hot dogs, and still can massage the apple whether eyes swollen from loss of sleep or not.

The great Bambino gets the tummy ache after masticating heavily and staying out most of the night, gains in weight and loses in hitting. The great and inexorable Ping fodders up voluminously, misses the shuteye, and then gets mad and goes out and wallops more home runs.

* * *

Well, do we remember one torrid morn last July in Cowtown when the colorful Mr. Pizzola had stayed awake all night reading the almanac and then mis-placed a wager that he would drive in at least two runs in the game with Jake's aggregation that afternoon.

* * *

It was mis-placed, for the bet was won but never paid. The noble Ping hadn't done anything but pile the pill for a single and a double through eight innings of hectic play, but had always come up with two down and nobody on. But in the ninth with two away again, the boisterous one strode to the platter with runners on second and third and drove a long one-baser to left center tabulating the brace.

Some day I may pay that debt.

What with Wales doing another flop and the existence of a terrible menace to the moral fibre of the nation uncovered recently by an eminent physician, drear old England seems tottering on the figurative edge of a dank cavern of dire disaster, latest cablegrammatic wails from across the large drink lead one to infer.

BELFAST, Feb. 1.—"You would weep if you knew the immorality and sin abounding through the community," said Dr. Thompson at a meeting at Hospital for Nervous Diseases here today.

"This is due to the fact that young people, especially girls, are taking tea both iced and heated too often," the great medico simpered.

"A cure for the evil is a more frequent use of plain foods. There is nothing to beat the porridge of our grandfathers' day, or that delectable dish which our friends in America obtain at Greek restaurants, ham and eggs.

"Poor people take tea three or four times a day because they can't afford proper food such as chili and beans, charlotte russe, or pineapple pie. And this incites the passions," he added.

"Leave stimulants alone."

Whereupon Dynamite, the educated office boy, immediately busts out and locates the Wichita Falls bottlegger discovered Sunday when caught in the throes of a prohi sleuth's blackmailing scheme, wraps himself around a conglomeration of fusel oil, lye, paprika, varnish and wood alcohol rendered him in a pint container on which is a label carrying in large Gothic headlines, "Canadian Club, Bonded Whiskey." Then comes back and socks the business manager on the nasal organ. Dynamite will show him, he will! Why? Because Dynamite takes everything seriously, like all office boys do, and it is known the managing person quaffs an occasional cup of the East India beverage. And besides sinning thus monstrously, he sends Dynamite on most unpleasant errands. All errands, of course, are most unpleasant for Dynamite, but do you blame the boy?

The city is crumbling. A thriving metropolis is slowly being undermined. "Sdeath! Yap! Yap! Succor! Aid! Help! It is estimated that in 13 representative cafes of the city a total of 13 pots of the iniquitous stimulant are sold on the average of every 13 seconds at 13 luncheon and 13 dinner hours during 13 days of each fortnight and twice 13 on the day following the thirteenth. Whew! Another weighty matter for the vice brigade to mobilize over.

LONDON, Feb. 1.—Typographical shrieks are on all the big London dailies today. The Prince was seen in another dirty dive yesterday. Great Britain is horror stricken, especially the clergy, who fear the royal personage has not only received bodily harm but is slowly being corrupted. The heir apparent was heard to mumble caustically some such exceedingly crude epithet as "Oh, twaddle! The blithering blighter must be drunk!" Astonishing, to say the least, if true.

A local playwright once averred the Prince would give his kingdom for a horse, but yesterday it was his horse for a kingdom. The Prince acquired most of the kingdom on his face and over his anatomy when his favorite equine suddenly expired while carrying H. R. H. over the terrain in a wild goose chase after a fox.

LONDON, Feb. 1—(Night Lead)—The Prince of Wales, royal Humpty-Dumpty, suffered a fractured collar bone when his horse, Oh, Dear, died under him and left him stranded in the air to shift for himself, yesterday, it was reported here today. All the King's horses and all the King's men, including parliament, are considering ways and means of keeping the Prince together if he is pue together again this time.

His Highness, whose high position does not always include his horsemanship, is not receiving half the sympathy that might have been expected by one whose mount quit him so treasonably. In fact, many Englishmen feel comforted because the accident probably will keep him out of hunts the remainder of the season. Parliament, perhaps, will appropriate funds to provide him with an electric horse.

Yusko Expresses Confidence As He Trains for Match

"I realize this match with Santel Thursday will be one of the toughest I ever engaged in, but I firmly believe that I can hold my own with the light heavyweight champion," said Frank Yusko, the Jugo-Slav heavy king Monday following a stiff workout, which to him, proved the most pleasing of several months, he intimated.

"I find myself in better condition today than I've been in many months. I feel better and seem to relish my workouts more than usual. It's possible the situation is caused by my becoming more and more acclimated, but anyway you take it I feel far better than usual and expect to give Santel a mighty hard fight," the Slav said in effect, although his words were not pronounced in the precise English as duplicated here.

Santel is expected in the city tonight.

Wichita Falls Wins

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Wichita Falls civilian polo team advanced to the final in the southwest mid-winter polo tournament today by defeating the Austin civilians, 10 to 6. The North Texas club carried a four goal handicap against Austin's 10-goal handicap.

Wichita Falls will play the winner of the Fort Meade-Fort Clark for the circuit cup.

TEXAS SCHEDULE SESSION FEB. 14

DALLAS, Feb. 1.—(AP)— The schedule meeting of the Texas baseball league is to be held here February 14, President Doak Roberts announced today. The meeting date previously had been announced as February 7, which Mr. Roberts said was erroneous. Schedules for games for the coming season will be arranged.

BUD'S QUINTET MEAN MENACE CURRENT RACE

Club Real Threat to Title Aspirants—Road Trips Successful

McCallum's Coyote squad following more than two weeks strenuous play including a number of road encounters which took the athletes away from the city for six days straight and several odd nights, continues to hit the ball this week in preparation for the district tournament billed the middle of this month.

The Pack plays Grandfield at Grandfield Wednesday, Frederick at Frederick Friday, and probably Electra on the home court Saturday, it was announced yesterday by the basketball mentor.

Coyotes and Indians hooked up in a light scrimmage session Monday on the college floor.

Successful Training.

The Pack has been comparatively successful in its practice encounters, losing many, however, because second stringers were used a great part of the way or perhaps two games were played at the same time with half the squad in one town and the other portion battling away in another sector.

The entire Pack was together, however, on recent jaunt through West Texas. Incidently, the teams engaged on this trip believe the Cardinal and Black machine one of the classiest court organizations in Texas high schools this season. The success of the Wichita Falls lads is sufficient to warrant such belief. The jaunt was a gruelling one, but out of five games played Wichita Falls captured four, losing the one by a close margin.

All Good Sports.

Incidently, all teams engaged displayed wonderful sportsmanship throughout, the Wichita Falls youngsters declare, praising hospitality of the West Texans.

Wichita Falls dropped the first encounter at Stamford, 21 to 18. She was an exceedingly stiffly fought affair. The Coyotes came back on the fololwing night and edged out on Eastland, 18 to 15, in another hilariously fought contest. Rangev fell the following day by a 24 to 20 score. Cisco went down next in the meanest encounter of the trip, 20 to 19, and then lost again the next day to the McCallum outfit, 16 to 12.

Total individual scores registered by each Coyote player on the trip follow:

U Gotta Wait Until Fred Comes, Folks—Alvin's Too Modest

"You can tell 'em there won't be any news until March 1, as far as I know. That's when we get to work. The batteries go into camp then.

"Brulnard may have some good news for you when he arrives this week.

"Now get out of here. You're putting my name in the paper too much, and the fans are kidding me to death, asking, 'How come you get so much publicity all the time? Do you pay those sports scribes for all that?'"

Thus did Spudder President J. Alvin Gardner eloquently deliver himself of all present local baseball news and his standing on the situation Monday to the sports editor of The Record News.

So, folks, you'll have to wait a few days, it begins to appear, for any new developments baseballically.

Fish in Diversion Won't Be Harmed

Don't get excited, Izaak Waltons and the rest of you angling brethren. Your fish out at the diversion lake will not be harmed.

At least, so assures J. S. Bridwell, vice president of the irrigation board, anent that prospective draining of the lake.

"Yes, we intend to drain the lake a little," said Bridwell when queried on announcement Monday to effect such a method would be taken to eradicate a small island which rests in front of the spillway, "but we intend to take care of the fish. We will put a netting in the gateway for protection of the fish and every effort will be made not to harm any of them.

"No, the amount of water we intend to let out will not even come close to harming the fish," he said.

And that is that.

Redskins Invade Weatherford Next

Junior college basketeers, just back from a week's travel during which five games were played, are cracking down this week in preparation for conference encounters next Monday and Tuesday at Weatherford with Weatherford college.

The club comes away none the worse for wear and tear of the hard road schedule played last week. Two games were dropped at Decatur Friday and Saturday a week ago, 37 to 15 and 27 to 18. The team was idle Sunday and Monday but stepped out and walloped Kelsey lumber company in Fort Worth Tuesday, 39 to 25. Thurman and Crites flashed in this contest. Springtown was taken into camp next by a 36-30 score. Saturday, the Tribe sloughed Meridian, 37 to 10.

The total individual scores for the trip: Crites 49, Thurman 47, Rawls 42, Deems 20, Robertson 4, Stephenson 2, Kelm 10, Timmons 10.

ROBERTS ASKS SPUD TRYOUT FOR BROTHER

J. Will Sends Contract To Young Hurler—Jim All For Lapan

The Spudders get another rookie pitcher. He may prove a whizz, according to brother Jim.

Jim Roberts wants Wichita Falls to give his younger brother a chance, he declared in missive to baseball headquarters yesterday, so J. Will Gray straightaway mailed out a contract.

From Tri-State.

The big Spudder hurler gives his bud a heavy send-off. The pitcher's letter:

"Dear Mr. Gardner:

"Am writing you in regard to what I think of a real pitching prospect. He happens to be my brother, nevertheless that doesn't have any weight on what I think about him. He has had one year on the varsity team at Mississippi A. & M. and part of last season in the Tri-State league. He is 21 and is a big strapping fellow, weighing 185.

"Mr. Gardner, I think the boy has a real future in baseball and I wouldn't be surprised if he is not ready for class A ball this year. He has a real good curve and a pretty fast ball, but will with a little teaching, develop a good change of pace.

Lapan Will Hit.

"Thought I would write you about him. As I said, he is going to make somebody a good pitcher.

"He is a free agent at present and if you want to take a chance with him, mail him a contract the same time you mail me mine.

"I am glad to see that old Pete Lapan will be with us. He will show them how to hit them over that left field fence.

"I will be kind of glad when the time comes to report. Guess you enjoyed the minor league meeting.

"Let me hear from you soon.

"I am yours truly,

"JIM N. ROBERTS, JR."

HELEN WINS OUT

CANNES, France, Feb. 1.—(AP) Helen Wills, American woman tennis champion, emerged victorious today from her second Riveria tournament by defeating Mlle Contoslavos, one of France's ranking stars, in the final round of the Gallia tourney, 6-3, 6-2.

STEERS BUY HEAVY SLUGGER

MOBILE, Ala., Feb. 1.—(AP)—James Riley, first baseman, who had a batting average last season of .320 with the Mobile club of the Southern Association, has been sold to Dallas of the Texas League. Riley was second in the Southern Association in home runs last year.

TIGER CAGERS SCHEDULE TRIO

Reese's Men in Shape And Ready for Another Coyote Tiff

ELECTRA, Feb. 1.—The Electra Tiger basketeers emerged from the Saturday go with the Coyotes in the best of condition and are preparing for a hard week, the locals being slated to clash with the Clara high five Thursday while the Iowa Park Hawks invade the Bengals lair for a match, probably Friday. The Tigers have been decisively defeated by both of these outfits this season and are seeking revenge, ready to give both of these quints a battle for blood. Reese's five probably will journey to Wichita Falls Saturday night for a return engagement with the Coyotes in what promises to be a hard fought game.

With the county tournament drawing near, the Tigers seem to be hitting their stride and promise to battle any team to the last for the county honors. With Louis Kent and Harry Preston setting a dizzy pace at forwards and Sylvan Cloninger and Lonnie Grisham showing great form at guards, as well as Willis Carnahan, who is turning in some excellent games at center of late, the locals are going to be a hard gang to stop when the tournament is staged the latter part of this month at Iowa Park. In Dennis Head, Joe Miller and Mike Brown, Reese has a trio of good subs that are able to fill in at either guard or forward while Ray B. Dickey is Willie Carnahan's understudy at center.

Molla Beats Mrs. Ed Raymond

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Mrs. Molla Mallory, former national champion, began her 1926 indoor tennis campaign today defeating Mrs. Edward Raymond of Scarsdale, N. Y., 6-2, 6-1, in the second round of the Heights Casino invitation women's tournament. Both had drawn first round byes.

JACK WALLOPS 'BAD BOY' FOR TECHNICAL K.O.

Peoples Rocks Roberts To Sleep With Sudden Gusto

Jack Matlock of Los Angeles, slipped a technical kayo to Peck Warren of Dallas in the main event of last evening's boxing program of the American Legion. The fight was all to Matlock, Peck having gone down in the second and third rounds after several short jabs to the point. They were slugging it out pretty fast in the third when the mat kissing act was put on by Peck. The bout was a slugging event during the three rounds with a small amount of infighting during the second. Peck's Bad Boy attempted to get back on his feet after the count of six but Referee Adolph Freeman stopped the bout. It was scheduled a 10-rounder.

Buckshot Peoples made short work of Curley Roberts of Dallas, putting him to sleep in the first of a scheduled six-rounder with a right to the point. Roberts had to be carried to the dressing room.

The Tuffy Bryant-Redcap Martin bout was a draw with a shade to Martin. Martin finished better than his adversary. The bout was fast and furious during the four rounds.

The Kid Norford and Benny Hunt affair is better said in ten runs, two hits by Hunt and all errors. Hunt got the decision.

Roughhouse Smith and Whirlwind Kelly, paperweights, got a draw after some fast milling. The battle royal of five colored gem'em provided a little amusement.

Electra All-Stars Play Davidson 5

ELECTRA, Feb. 1.—The Electra All-Stars are slated to tackle the Davidson, Okla., independent quintet Tuesday night on the southside school gym, according to an announcement made by Olen Smith, business manager of the Stars.

The Davidson outfit is reported as having a snappy squad and the locals are expecting no easy time disposing of them Tuesday night. Both fives appear to be evenly matched and a fast hard fought game is expected.

Rule Affects Beaumont Only

Action of the baseball rules committee in extending the home run limit from 235 feet to 250 feet will not affect the Wichita Falls park, nor will it affect Fort Worth or the rest of the league with the exception of Beaumont, says J. Will Gray.

The Exporter park has a very short right field fence. Under the 235 feet rule, balls hit over part of this short field fence went for two bases. The new rule means the white line denoting two base territory will move further towards center field.

Which will not sound so well to Jim Galloway, new Beaumont manager, who no doubt, contemplated many a home run shot with his big bat over the short right field fence. However, Jim can hit home runs anywhere. He doesn't need any short fences to help him particularly.

Spudder Manager Brainard has not arrived yet. Didn't say when he intended to other than that he drives through from Artesia, N. M., with hopes of landing in the city some time this week.

Bill Whittaker, one-time Panther ace, is returning to the Texas League burning with a desire to show the fans the old master of the curve still knows his stuff.

"I will try to justify your faith in me," he writes Bob Tarleton, business and playing manager of Shreveport, who obtained him and Dutch Hoffman in a trade with New Orleans.

In New Orleans, the fans say Hoffman will make the Sports an excellent infielder. And Whittaker? Well, Buzzer Bill turned in some fine pitching last year but it came in spots. He may strike his stride and he may not, they say. He is a gamble.

Too Bad It Isn't, Huh?

Jack Atz will manage club in New Orleans.

How's that for headlines? Don't get excited. It's just the annual city series in New Orleans between teams piloted by Jake Atz, boss of the champion Cats, and Larry Gilbert, manager of the New Orleans Pelicans.

The three-game series will start this week. Players who winter in New Orleans, most of them Southern and Cotton States Leaguers, compose the opposing nines.

A veteran of the game of baseball is returning to the Texas League in the person of Cap Leidy, who has been signed to coach the San Antonio Bears.

Leidy, who was playing ball when many of the present day players were in their cradles, is familiar with every angle of the sport in a lifetime spent in the national pastime. Player, manager, umpire, league president, magnate, he has been all of them.

Cap probably remembers when players wore long, oily whiskers and tended bar in their weaker moments.

It's time for the word "holdout" to blossom forth in big black type. Or if you are a club owner, spell it "heldup."

Workmen had started in yesterday preparing the section of the general admission territory back of the boxes and home plate at Spudder for 900 or so reserve seats J. Will is putting in for the customers this year. The seats proper won't be ready for several weeks yet, but the right elevation is being given the various rows now.

Floyd Trexler, strapping young outfielder drafted by the Spudders from Wilson of the Virginia League, sent a night letter to Spud headquarters yesterday declaring it his utmost desire and wish to play with the Brainard crew this summer. Trexler was wiring in answer to a letter sent him by President Gardner. The Gardner missive was delayed and didn't get to the ball player until several weeks after being mailed. Was misplaced in a company box.

Browns Swap Bush And Tobin for Tom Zachary and Ballou

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 1.—(AP)—The St. Louis Browns today announced the trade of "Bullet Joe" Bush, veteran pitcher, and Johnny Tobin, outfielder, to the Washington Senators for Tom Zachary, left handed pitcher, and "Win" Ballou, a young right handed pitcher. No cash was involved.

Hot-diggity-dog, how you'll go to it with P. A.! You'll make one right after another. Not a nip or a scorch in a ton . . . the Prince Albert process settled that years ago. Get you a tidy red tin or a toppy red bag of Prince Albert today. Get the joy that's due you.

While you're about it, tuck a wad of P. A. into the muzzle of that old jimmy-pipe. The tobacco that makes such wonderful cigarettes goes equally well in a pipe. Don't say you "can't smoke a pipe." Give P. A. a workout. Sure—you'll like a pipe!

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red 2oz and toppy red bags. And always with every bit of bite and parch removed by the Prince Albert process.

LOUIS BIERBAUER MOVES ON

Deceased Said to Have Been Cause Of Naming Pittsburgh Team "Pirates"

ERIE, Pa., Feb. 1.—(AP)—Louis Bierbauer, former member of the Pittsburgh baseball club and whose signing by the Pirates is said to have been the cause of the nickname being attached to that team, is dead.

Bierbauer was a member of the Brooklyn club in the last year of the brotherhood 1891. He was ordered to return to the Athletics, but that club forgot to list him on its reserve list. Ned Hanlon, then manager of the Pittsburgh club, signed Bierbauer. A court decision held the Pittsburgh club was justified in its action as Bierbauer was a free agent. The name "Pirate" was hurled at the players the following season by the fans and has stuck ever since.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 1.—(AP)—The cotton market was a dull affair today, the extreme spread of fluctuations being under ten points. The trend was downward, but after prices had declined five to nine points from Saturday's closing levels there was a sufficient rally during the afternoon to bring about the recovery of practically all the loss. The close was steady showing a net loss for the day of one to three points.

There was an absence of developments during the day of a character to influence the market. About the only developments were the larger exports, 100,629 bales, the effect of which was lost because last year's exports for the corresponding day were even larger, 131,283, and the plus correction of 21,646 bales in the Liverpool stock of American cotton.

At the start as Liverpool was lower than due, prices opened slightly lower first trades showing losses of one to three points. Prices rallied some during the call, with trading up to 19.62, May to 19.06 and October to 17.60, or one to two points above Saturday's close. There prices remained the highs of the day. The market thereafter gradually eased off despite occasional small rallies until March traded down to 19.53, May to 18.99 and October to 17.54 or six to nine points under the early highs. From these low levels the market rallied in the final trading, recovering nearly all of the small loss, closing near the top.

NEW YORK FUTURES

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Early declines in the cotton market today were followed by recoveries, May selling up from 19.57 to 19.64 and closing at 19.63, compared with 19.64 at the close Saturday. The general market closed steady, net one point higher to three points lower.

The opening was steady at a decline of four points to an advance of three points, most months being lower in sympathy with relatively easy Liverpool cables, a little selling, also may have developed the rather disappointed reports from the domestic goods trade and the market showed net losses of about six to eight points on old crop positions and of three or four on the new crop during the forenoon. Offerings were light, however and the market steadied up later on covering by old crop shorts and a little trade or investment. March rallied from 20.14 to close at 20.20 while October sold up from 18.17 to 18.24 and closed at 18.17.

The first trading in contracts for delivery in January, 19.27 was reported at discounts of from 15 to 20 points as compared with December. Trade interests were credited with buying the later deliveries.

Exports today 100,629 bales, making 5,453,489 so far this season. Port receipts 24,422. U. S. port stocks 1,514,092 against 1,387,973 last season.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—(AP)— Higher call money rates apparently inspired sufficient selling in today's stock market to check the rising tide of prices. Closing quotations disclosed considerable irregularity, both the rail and industrial averages losing ground although several specialties were marked up one to nearly 12 points. The reduction in the volume of trading was attributed in some quarters to the disposition on the part of many large traders to await the publication of the figures on broker's loans before extending their commitments.

Two of the most interesting developments of the day were the approach of sterling exchange to within 1-16 of one cent of gold parity, the highest rates since the early days of the war, and the advance of 25c a barrel in Mid-Continent crude prices but neither exerted any influence on stock prices. As a matter of fact most of the oil shares lost ground indicating that the advance had been widely discounted. Foreign bonds however, were firm. New high records being established by several issues, including United Kingdom 5½s.

Most of the standard industrials lost ground. U. S. Steel common showed a net loss of 1⅝ to 132¼. Baldwin dropped nearly a point to 126 and American Can closed ½ lower at 287½ after selling as high as 291. Net losses of a point or more were also recorded by such representative rails as New York Central, Rock Island, Reading and Union Pacific, and Chesapeake and Ohio dropped over three points to 118⅝.

Motors enjoyed a temporary outburst of strength on buying influenced by reports that January car sales had exceeded expectations. General Motors was run up to 129⅝, the highest price reached this year and then sagged to 127⅞ where it was up 1⅝ on the day. Hudson closed fractionally lower at Illinois after having touched 113¾. Nash Motors was run up from 534 to 541½ on relatively few sales.

Passing of the Pacific mills dividend for the first time since 1883 probably inspired selling of American Woolen, which was 1⅝ lower at 38½.

Call money renewed at 4½ per cent, advanced to five and thence to 5½ closing at the top. The rise was generally attributed to the heavy calling of loans by banks, estimated as high as $25,000,000 on connection with first of the month requirements.

Foreign exchanges moved within rather narrow and irregular limits. Demand sterling ruled around $4.86⅛ and cables eased to $4.86⅞ after the opening display of strength. French francs were slightly lower around 3.75 cents. Renewed heaviness developed in Polish zloty, which dropped 10 points to 13.90 cents.

CHICAGO CASH GRAIN

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Wheat: No. 1 hard 1.85; No. 2 hard 1.86.

Corn: No. 3 mixed 75@75¼; No. 3 yellow 76@80.

Oats: No. 2 white 42½@42¾; No. 3 white 41@42½.

CHICAGO GRAIN REVIEW

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Surprise that the United States visible supply of wheat showed a decrease of only 844,000 bushels in the last week gave a jolt today to friends of higher prices. Largely as a result the wheat market closed unsettled ⅝ to ⅞c net lower, May (new) $1.75⅝ to 1.75½ and July 1.52⅞ to 1.53, with corn ⅝ to ½c down, oats ⅝@⅞c to ⅝c off, and provisions varying from 10c decline to a rise of two cents.

Corn and oats were easy throughout the day influenced by liberal receipts of corn here—545 cars.

Packers' selling of lard weakened the provision market.

KANSAS CITY CASH GRAIN

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Wheat: No. 2 hard 1.76@1.83; No. 2 red 1.88@1.89½; May 1.67½@1.67⅝; July 1.44⅞@1.45.

Oats: No. 2 white 43@44; No. 3 white 42½@43½.

GRAIN EXPORTS GAIN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Grain exports last week from the United States were 2,326,000 bushels against 1,657,000 bushels the previous week.

"My Girl" One Of Season's Finest; At Palace Feb. 8

"My Girl" the peppiest of musical comedies and the real sensation of all light musical pieces in New York during the past season will be the offering at the Palace theatre Feb. 8-9. "My Girl" possesses a good score, fine lyrics and rollicking situations of farce fun; this play comes to us direct from one solid year at the Vanderbilt theatre and carries the endorsement of the brilliant metropolitan critics as a splendid and deightful entertainment.

The excellent part of "My Girl" is the fact that the comedy is bright and clean, free from the suggestiveness that is so offensive to the average theatre-goer. It has been many seasons since a musical comedy has been offered that contained so many song hits and there are seven outstanding numbers that will be whistled and sung all over town after "My Girl" has visited this city, including "You and I" "Before the Dawn," "Desert Isle," "A Fellow Like Me," "Rainbow of Jazz" "You Women" and "A Solo on the Drums" will be played by Harry Archer's own orchestra that made these melodies contagious with his syncopation during the play's long run at the Vandebilt theatre in New York—the reviewers devoted much space in praise of this particular part of this excellent entertainment.

Texas Flooded By Cheap Insurance

AUSTIN, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Texas is being flooded with cheap health and accident policies that insure a man against many things, none of which are liable to happen to the average person, while they are so carefully worded, a man can hardly ever collect, R. L. Daniels, insurance commissioner, said today.

These companies, which Commissioner Daniels described as "bootleggers of synthetic insurance," have no permit to operate in the state. Claims can't be collected by the policy holders as the companies' headquarters are in other states, and as policies are written for $1,000, for a premium of about $3.40, holders cannot seek recourse in the federal courts.

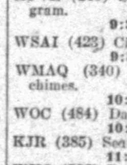

Senate Probe Of Mellon Co. Asked

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Senate investigation of the Aluminum company of America, in which Secretary Mellon is a large stockholder, is recommended in a report submitted today to the judiciary committee by Senator Walsh, democrat, of Montana.

This proposal is made, the senator said, because of "doubts aroused as to the vigor and good faith of the department of justice" in the conduct of its inquiry to establish whether the aluminum company has violated a federal court consent decree entered against in 1912.

MAIL BANDITS GET $260,000

Loot Consisted Entirely of Postage Stamps, Officials Say After Check

BOSTON, Feb. 1.—(AP)—The loot taken by armed robbers from the Pawtucket, R. I., central postoffice early today was worth $260,000 and consisted entirely of stamps, it was announced at the postoffice here after a check-up. Officials said this was the largest robbery ever suffered by the postal department in New England.

YEGGS LEISURELY ROB POSTOFFICE; 2 MEN TIED

PAWTUCKET, R. I., Feb. 1.—(AP)—Four masked and armed men early today robbed the Central postoffice of 11 sacks of mail after binding the two men on duty and burning through the steel vault with an acetylene torch.

The men were in the building from midnight until 3:35 o'clock when they fled in a car which had been kept standing outside.

George Sullivan, night clerk, was closing the doors of the lobby when he was confronted by the robbers who pushed him in and bound him. They next found and overpowered Peter Rafferty, watchman.

Leisurely they selected one vault to work on after making a tour of the building and one of the men went outside and brought in a torch with which the door was burned off.

Rafferty succeeded in freeing himself five minutes after the robbers left and after liberating Sullivan, gave the alarm.

A check has been started to ascertain if any of the pouches contained valuable mail.

Mexico Wants Her Criminals—But So Does US, He Says

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 1.—(AP)—"I'm a strong believer in reciprocity, but it seems to me to be a poor sort of reciprocity that will only work out only way," declared District Attorney C. M. Chambers today, commenting upon an Associated Press dispatch from El Paso, saying that the Mexican authorities were demanding extradition of all fugitives from justice in this country.

"I am in favor of returning any Mexican criminal who may have sought asylum in this country," Chambers continued. "We do not want that class of emmigrants; but I am just as strongly in favor of returning American refugees who might be in Mexico. I also think the Mexican government should be glad to get rid of them."

Four Suspects Under Arrest Here In Hearn Hotel Robbery

MEN CAUGHT IN VERNON, ALTUS

Thorough Investigation Will Start Today Into Daring Holdup

Four suspects whom police believe may have been connected with the recent Hearn hotel robbery and other cases of like nature here were in the city jail in Wichita Falls late Monday following their arrival in the custody of officers from Vernon and Altus, Oklahoma. The men are understood to answer descriptions furnished police, and will be held here pending a thorough investigation.

Two of the four were arrested in Vernon on word from Wichita Falls and two in Altus. Officers Saye and Robinson brought those back from Vernon and Blocker and Lay those from Altus.

Highland Heights Ladies in Meeting

Sixty ladies were present Monday afternoon when the women's council of the Highland Heights Christian church met at 2:30. Thirty-four new members were added to the rolls during the session.

Mrs. Harley Snyder was in charge of the missionary program and a paper on Wright's "The Shepherd of the Hills" was read by Mrs. W. R. Evans. Two missionary readings were given by Miss Jaunita Kinsey and Mrs. F. L. Adair gave a talk on mission work in Porto Rico. A message of flicitation was received from Mrs. Paul Henry Packard, wife of the newly named minister of the church.

Between 18,000 And 19,000 Polls Are Paid

Somewhere between 18,000 and 19,000 Wichita county residents paid poll taxes for the current year, according to an approximate estimate broached by Guy Raley, county tax collector, Monday afternoon. It will be impossible to give the exact number of those paid and exemptions issued, he says, until the end of the week when the final reports of the deputy collectors at Burkburnett, Iowa Park and Electra will be in.

With the collecting season practically over it is Mr. Raley's estimate that fully 85 percent of the rolls has been cleared off without becoming delinquent, and that another 5 percent will be marked off as paid by March 1.

Burkburnett Man Dies in Hospital

BURKBURNETT, Feb. 1.—E. L. Gebhardt, age about 50, died Monday morning in the Wichita Falls General hospital following a few days illness.

He was a prominent citizen of this community and has been operating one of the largest dairies in Burkburnett, residing about 2 miles southwest of the city on a farm said to have been in the family many years, having been formerly owned by his mother.

Mr. Gebhardt came to this immediate section from Kansas and has lived here about 15 years.

He is survived by his wife and several children.

Traction Co. Asks North Side Loop

A petition for a five-block extension of the Wichita Falls Traction company's north Wichita line from its present terminus at North Tenth and Brook to the intersection of North Fifth, Crittendon, and Brook, was read at the meeting of the city council Monday night. The extensions thus asked will complete a "loop" for the carline to north Wichita Falls, and will, so the traction company represents, make possible a considerable betterment of their service to that part of the city.

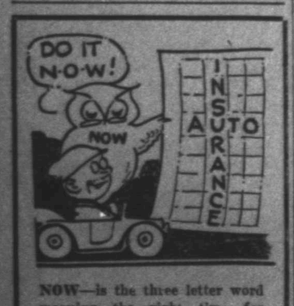

An open hearing will be held on the application.

Muny Dance to Be Held Wednesday

Weather permitting, the regular bi-weekly dance of the Municipal Golf club will be held Wednesday night at the club house. The dances for the past two weeks have been postponed because roads leading to the club house have been nearly impassable.

Unless further rains come to soak the roads again, they will be in good shape. The route to grounds lays out Holliday street to a temporary lane cutting straight across to the club house.

Shay's Blue Chasers will furnish music for the dance.

Dallas Department Of Justice Agents to be Here Tuesday For Man Jailed on Extortion Count

Police Say Now His Credentials Are Forged and That He Is Wanted in California on a Similar Charge to One Made Here

The two men arrested by city police late Sunday night following completion of an alleged extortion attempt on a negro porter at a local hotel will probably be turned over to federal officers from Dallas, it was learned Monday. An agent of the department of justice from that city was stated last night to be en route to Wichita Falls. He will probably take both of them back with him. Instructions were given from the Dallas office to keep the men in close confinement, permitting no one to see them until after the agent arrives.

Telegrams received by Chief of Police George Hodgins Monday indicated that at least one of the two might be wanted on the Pacific coast for impersonating an officer and extortion there. As a result of information received from the state prohibition headquarters at Fort Worth Monday denying any knowledge of the two arrested it is deemed probable their credentials from the department are forged.

The two men, before caught by the police had attempted to collect $300 from a hotel owner in return for immunity from prosecution on an alleged liquor law violation.

GROUND HOG TO PEEK TUESDAY

Fair and Warmer Issue To Be Settled For 1926 Today

The fate of the nation, more or less, hangs in the balance today when that peculiarly constituted little rodent commonly known as the ground hog steps out of his hole, takes an appraising slant at the weather and decides whether or not spring or winter is to be the order of things.

Everybody is familiar with the ground hog tradition. Everybody knows, or ought to know, that on each February 2, the ground hog ends his winter hibernation, peeks outside and then if he sees his shadow runs inside for another six weeks sleep. It follows then that six weeks more of storms will follow. If, however, he finds a cloudy day and sees no shadow, spring weather is destined to set in at once.

It appeared last night that he might find the cloudy day, for the sky was partially overcast at a late hour and weather predictions for Tuesday were for partly cloudy.

3 PAVING PROJECTS

Three paving projects were endorsed by the city council at its meeting Monday night following open hearings. Bids will be advertised for at once. The hearings were held on applications for paving on Sixteenth street Burnett to Holliday; Sixteenth street, Travis to Austin; Thirteenth street, Broad to Holliday. The three projects involve five blocks of paving.

Irrigation Board Extends Tax Time

February 28 will mark the time limit for payment of irrigation district taxes, it was decided Monday at a meeting of directors of districts 1 and 2.

Jan. 31 was to have been the limit, but the time has now been extended a month.

Brothers Funeral Services Are Held

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon for Mrs. W. E. Brothers, Sr., pioneer Wichita Falls woman who died early Sunday morning after a long period of ill health. Services were conducted in the family home, 1408 Eleventh street, by Rev. N. F. Grafton, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of which Mrs. Brothers had been a member for years.

The board of elders of the church attended the services in a body and acted as honorary pall bearers.

Burial was in Riverside cemetery.

TO RETURN BODY HERE

The remains of William Yokum, 53-year-old Wichita Falls man who was shot and killed Sunday while visiting at the home of a relative in Honey Grove will be brought back to this city for burial. A cousin of the dead man is now in the Fannin county jail in connection with the shooting.

BAR TO MEET TUESDAY

Important matters will be taken up Tuesday noon at the meeting of the Wichita County Bar Association to be held in the Wichita club. This will be the last monthly session before the annual banquet which will be held some time in the near future.

All members of the bar association are asked to be present.

MARTIN FINES WITNESS $50

Absentees Cause Docket To Be Passed For The Day

Delay of trial proceedings due to tardy witnesses is not to be tolerated any longer in the 89th district court, according to the declaration of Judge P. A. Martin Monday morning following the failure of witnesses to appear for the trial of W. H. Barnett, charged with theft, and the consequent necessity of passing the entire docket.

Judge Martin instructed District Clerk A. F. Kerr to enter fines of $50 each against witnesses subpoened who had not appeared for the trial Monday morning. An attachment was written out for one man as a result of these instructions, it is understood. He had not been served late Monday.

In imposing the fine Judge Martin called attention to the fact that the state had some 40 jurymen waiting and doing nothing as a result of the tardy witnesses at an approximate expense of $120 a day.

302 Arrests Made

There were 302 arrests made by the police department during January, a report of Sergeant C. B. McConnell as presented to the city council at its meeting Monday night disclosed. Of the 302 fines were imposed in 82 cases, bonds were forfeited in 123 cases, there were 75 cases dismissed, verdicts of not guilty returned in 18, turned over to the juvenile authorities one; three delivered to the county authorities, 11 appealed, and 16 served time in jail.

There was a total of $1,609 collected in fines.

NAME ELECTRIC BOARD

An electrical workers examining board is provided for by an ordinance amending the city's electrical code and passed on its first reading at a meeting of the city council Monday night. The board will compose five members who shall be, according to the terms of the ordinance, an electrical contractor, an electrician employe of the electric company, an architect, an electrical engineer, and the city electrical inspector.

NEW CEMETERY OFFER

The cemetery question came up before the city council again at its meeting Monday night with the proffer of an 80-acre tract between the fair grounds and the Rosemont cemetery to the city for $20,000. The land is at present owned by T. B. Noble and J. A. Kemp.

The city is faced with the immediate necessity of adding to its cemetery space, it is pointed out.

OKLA. TO SIGN CONTRACT TODAY

Free Bridge Over Red River To Progress Another Step

Members of the Oklahoma state highway commission will sign the contract for the new free bridge across Red river north of Burkburnett today in Oklahoma City in the presence of B. D. Sartin, county judge of Wichita county, and J. M. Isbell, county engineer. A contract embodying the features requested by the Oklahoma commission and in compliance with the wishes of the Wichita county commissioners has been drawn up by Mr. Isbell and will be presented the Oklahoma officials this morning. Both Judge Sartin and Mr. Isbell left Monday night for Oklahoma City.

With the signing of the contract by the Oklahoma commission progress toward the construction of the new bridge will probably remain at a standstill pending the outcome of litigation at Austin over the prospective appropriation of $163,000 from the state highway commission.

The third party, the Austin Brothers Bridge company of Dallas, whose bid of $239,000 for the construction of the bridge was tentatively accepted two or three weeks ago, will probably not be asked to formally sign the contract until after the litigation is settled, it is announced.

He Tells Kiwanis Of Riley's Works

The works of James Whitcomb Riley will live through the ages, thinks Arthur McArthur, intimate friend and associate of the Hoosier poet and principal speaker at a meeting of the Kiwanis club Monday noon. The element of the works that reflects the emotions and sentiments of the masses—"the millions," McArthur put it, is the best guarantee of their permanency.

Mr. McArthur spoke at length on an intimate association with Riley, an association that, as he described it, had had the hardest of beginnings—that of the usual screen door introduction of book-agent to prospective customer. "I came to stay 20 minutes, "McArthur said Monday in describing his first meeting with Riley, "but stayed three days and nights."

Following his address the club voted the speaker an honorary life membership in the Wichita Falls organization the membership thus awarded being the tenth such that he has received.

CORNERSTONE LAID

Large crowds attended services at the Church of the Nazarene when the day's program was opened with a "praise meeting" at 9:45 a. m., conducted by Superintendent J. P. Roberts of Rest Cottage, Pilot Point, the occasion being the laying of the corner stone for the new church.

District Superintendent Rev. Allie Irich spoke at the 11 o'clock service and was also in charge of the laying of the corner stone which took place at 2:30 o'clock when Mayor R. E. Shepherd gave a splendid address on "Growth," and sang two solos.

do you get up feeling rocky?

ARE you full of "pep" and vim when you get up—hungry as a bear, spreading joy throughout your home and fairly eager to get at your work?

Or, do you feel all tired-out and aching in every bone and muscle—bad taste prevailing—not wanting any breakfast—grouchy and miserable and just driving yourself to work by main force?

When you feel this way you are hopelessly beaten before you start. And it's all because your red-blood-cells are below normal. That's why you need S. S. S.

And when you build up your blood with S. S. S. that sluggish, let-down feeling, as well as rheumatism, pimples, boils and other skin troubles disappear.

Begin taking S. S. S. today. Build up your blood. Feel the quick return of health, strength and energy. And you'll get up in the morning glad you're living. S. S. S. is sold at all good druggists. Get the larger size. It's more economical.

Girls, Working All Fall Without Pay, Rescued From Farm

Two little girls 13 and 14 years of age were sent happy on their way to Henrietta, Okla., Monday afternoon by Juvenile Officer W. G. Bralley who found them at the home of a farmer away up in the northwest portion of Wichita county where they had picked cotton all fall and winter without remuneration.

The condition of the little girls was reported to the juvenile officer by neighbors of the farmer, who were in sympathy with them, because of the treatment they were receiving. They also said that the man did not furnish the girls with clothing.

Mr. Bralley's attention was called to them about four months ago, and when it was learned that the farmer was about to load the girls on a truck and leave for Oregon, Mr. Bralley immediately took legal steps to secure possession of them and sent them to their sister, who lives near Henrietta, Okla. Mr. Bralley said that from what he could learn about the case, the sister has been trying for some time to get possession of the girls, but the farmer pretended that she didn't want them.

Firemen Used As Street Cleaners

The fire department has assumed a new role for the past few nights, that of cleaning streets.

The long period in which snow and ice covered the thoroughfares in the business district left the streets in a badly congested and cluttered condition. Gutters, when the ice had melted away, were found half-full of mud and rubbish.

The quickest way to clean it up, it was decided, was through a flushing process and the fire department was accordingly appealed to. Fire hose has been used to flush out the sewers in all the down town business streets and now they have been cleared off so that the street sweepers can get back on their regular routines.

Republicans Meet

Tentative plans for the coming republican primaries were discussed at a meeting of Wichita county Republicans in the office of W. H. Sanford City National Bank building, Monday evening. Some ten or twelve representatives of the party from Iowa Park, Burkburnett, Electra and Wichita Falls were present. No definite action of any sort was taken. Another meeting has been called for Friday afternoon to further outline plans for the primary election in July.

WALLS UP ON FIRE STATION

Workmen Pushing No. 5 To Completion; To be Ready March 1

Workmen busy on the new No. 5 station now going up on Giddings street have practically completed the brick work of the building and interior finishing is to start in a short time. It is the hope of Fire Chief McClure to be able to put the station in use not later than March 1.

Equipment scheduled for the station is already here and is being used as an auxiliary unit at one of the other stations. It will be transferred to the new one, however, as soon as the latter is completed.

The city's fire department expansion program also contemplates the erection of a sixth station this summer, to be located somewhere north of the river in either Scotland addition or north Wichita. The need of a station in that territory has been felt for some time and it will be the next improvement project to be undertaken.
