Texas House Approves Beer Election For August 26

Licensing And Sale Problems Are Discussed

Regulations Passed By Lower House And Sent To Senate With Beer Bill; Tax To Be Levied On Dispensers

Discussion Slight

Sponsors Of Legalization By Legislative Vote Won Over To State-Wide Vote Method In Move For Beverage

By R. W. BARRY
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, April 14.—The house of the Texas legislature today voted to submit to the electorate an amendment to the state constitution that would legalize the sale of 3.2 per cent beer.

It also passed a bill that would regulate the sale, license breweries and retailers of beer and levy a tax against it in event its sale should be authorized.

The proposals must be passed upon by the senate before they can be sent to Governor Miriam A. Ferguson.

August Date Is Set

The constitutional amendment would be submitted in a special statewide election on August 26.

A resolution providing for the proposed alteration in the state's fundamental law to legalize beer was neatly edged in ahead of a bill that would have authorized the sale of beer by statute. After the house voted to consider the constitutional change first advocates of the other proposition decided to amend their bill to make it effective only in event the voters favored the constitutional amendment.

Sponsors of outright legalization by statute were willing to take chances with the courts in a test of constitutionality of their proposed law, although the state now has constitutional as well as statutory prohibition. But, after the constitutional amendment was given preference they decided to acquiesce, join hands with all factions and make their bill effective contingent on adoption of the constitutional amendment.

Little Discussion Heard

As a result of that arrangement both the resolution and the regulatory bill were pushed through with practically no discussion.

It was believed the senate would give quick consideration to both

Lubbock Christians Prepare To Join All World In Observance Of Easter

Wierd Rites Mark Good Friday In New Mexico As Penitentes Follow Secret Forms Of Easter Worship

(By The Associated Press)

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., April 14.—Hidden away in the mountain fastnesses of New Mexico, Los Hermanos de Penitente (The Brothers of the Penitents) today enacted with earnest realism the drama of Christ's crucifixion.

While most of the Christian world observed Good Friday with prayer, fasting and church attendance, this strange offshoot of Christianity reenacted the crucifixion in secret and under heavy guard.

In Taos and Rio Arriba counties in the northern part of the state, in small mountain villages along the Rio Grande and even in the nearby Sandia mountains the Penitente processions moved to the appointed place to worship and do penance in their own way.

Few people outside the sect have ever witnessed the actions of these religious zealots. The taking of photographs is strictly forbidden and several persons in years gone by have escaped the ire of the Penitentes after losing their cameras and equipment, to say nothing of suffering bruises and cuts for their efforts.

The Penitentes believe that by undergoing self-inflicted body torture their spirits will be cleansed.

Paeans Of Praise To Resound In Joyous Worship Sunday

BY MARGARET TURNER
Of The Avalanche Staff

FROM early dawn Easter Sunday until well after dark, people of Lubbock will join all Christendom for traditional services in adoration of the risen Christ.

Paeans of praise will resound from virtually all city churches as congregations herald anew the glory of a savior who arose 1900 years ago. Scriptures for the worship hours and sermons will relate the story of the resurrection. The baptism of infants and reception of members into the church will feature services.

Easter Parade

Scores of persons have looked forward to this occasion for several weeks. With warmer weather promised Friday evening it appeared that the Easter parade will be possible. Merchants have reported increased sales of spring apparel; florists have been busy filling orders for flowers, and druggists have had heavy sales of candy, cards and other remembrances at the Easter time.

Sunrise services which were initiated when the women came to visit the tomb on the first Easter morning will be attended by two congregations. Other townsmen will join Texas Technological college students in a traditional service in the administration building cloisters. Members of Saint Joseph's Catholic church will attend solemn high mass at 8:30 o'clock.

Bishop To Be Here

Holy Communion will be administered at Saint Paul's Episcopal church during a service that begins at 7 o'clock. This is the only time during the day that communion will be administered, said the Rev. Lyle S. Barnett, pastor. The Rt. Rev. E. Cecil Seaman of Amarillo, bishop of the Protestant Episcopal church, will preach and preside for a confirmation service.

Members of First Christian church will attend their ninth annual Easter service at that church beginning at 6:30 o'clock.

In Memoriam

The Tech program will be dedicated to the memory of the late Dr. Paul W. Horn, first president of Texas Technological college. Dr. Horn initiated these services at the institution. The program is as follows:

Concert from the east tower, Matador band; introduction, Dr. Fred W. Sparks, chairman of the Y. M. C. A. board of directors; hymn, "Christ, The Lord, is Risen Today," audience and choir; Easter scripture, Miss Inez Hensley.

Today To Tell Schools' Fate, Board Insists

President Says Closing Must Come If Sufficient Funds Are Not Raised; Climax Of Campaign Is Reached

Collections Slim

Less Than $15,000 Of Needed $100,000 Paid During Last Two Weeks; Board To Meet And Ponder Late Today

IF plans of the Lubbock school board are followed out, payment of delinquent taxes of the Lubbock Independent school district today will decide whether or not the schools will continue the remainder of this year's term.

Today is the deadline set by the board for collection of approximately $100,000 in delinquent taxes and the total collected up to last night was far from that figure.

Meet Planned Today

A meeting of the board is scheduled for late this afternoon or tonight after which an announcement on whether or not the schools will close will be made.

Reiterating the stand taken by the board two weeks ago, Dr. J. T. Hutchinson, chairman, declared last night that, "If we get enough taxes in, the schools can continue, if not we'll just have to close them, that's all."

Dr. Hutchinson said, when asked for a statement:

"There's nothing you can say except that if we don't get enough money to continue operation, the schools will close."

Students Are Worried

At high school Friday afternoon there was much apprehension among students and faculty members over the situation as the schools closed for the week and the date set for their closing if insufficient

TAX OFFICE OPEN LATE

Collections of delinquent taxes in the Lubbock Independent school district for the past two weeks had totaled less than $15,000 Friday night, Collector A. C. Jackson reported. Less than $1,000 was collected Friday to run the total only a few hundred dollars more than $14,000.

Collector Jackson's office was open until 8:30 last night and will be open tonight "as long as there is any money coming in," he said.

Delinquent taxes of the district amount to approximately $175,000.

Canyon Museum Opens With Oldtimers On Hand

J. D. Hamlin Speaks As Pioneer Hall Is Dedicated

BY HARRY MONTGOMERY
Associated Press Staff Writer

CANYON, April 14.—Pioneer Hall, a monument symbolical of the vast transition that has taken place in the Texas Plains region during the last half century, was dedicated here today as a museum for the Panhandle-Plains Historical society.

Rugged pioneers who developed the empire, and a sturdy younger generation who henceforth will guide its destinies, attended and participated in the ceremonies.

Oldtimers On Hand

Men who rode in roundups of the T-Anchor outfit 50 years ago on the very spot where the museum stands, and others who later crossed the site on the old stage route from Amarillo to Plainview, Lubbock, Sweetwater and Abilene, were present when the doors were opened to the public for the first time.

T. D. Hobard, Pampa, prominent cattleman and president of the historical society which sponsored the building, opened the doors with the statement: "This is one of the proudest moments of my life." The $50,000 structure was made possible by a $25,000 appropriation by the state legislature and an equal amount raised by public subscription.

Brands On Entrance

The entrance through which the public was admitted was decorated with the cattle brands of early-day ranches of West Texas. Inside the hall were relics of the region dating back to Coronado's visit, archeological findings several centuries old, and the bones of prehistoric animals which scientists say lived in this area 50 million years ago.

The structure is of Texas limestone.

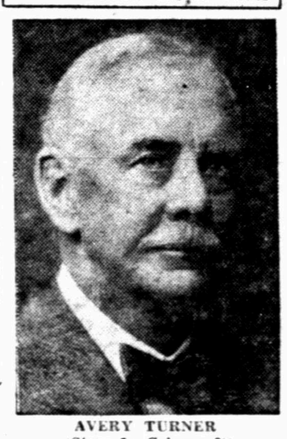

Hamlin Makes Address

J. D. Hamlin of Farwell, manager of the XIT ranch interests, made the dedicatory address tonight at a banquet attended by 350. He compared the sturdiness of the early settlers with that of the building's foundations. He said it was appropriate that the museum should be erected near the Palo Duro canyon, where much of the area's history centered.

Evetts Haley, of Austin, first field secretary of the society, said the early settlers came to the Panhandle in search of land, "lured by the soil," and that "because they were of the soil they had the stability to remain."

In the annual business session, W. H. Patrick, Clarendon; Horace M. Russell, Amarillo, and A. J. Fires of Childress were reelected to the board of directors for three years. A resolution endorsing the proposed Goodnight trail through the Palo Duro canyon was adopted.

Local Debaters Go To Finals This Morning; 18 Counties Have Youthful Delegates In Interscholastic Events

By GORDON WEBB
Of The Avalanche Staff

MORE THAN 700 public school students of 18 counties of this area engaged in friendly but spirited competition of an annual district No. 2 Interscholastic League tournament at Texas Technological college yesterday. Fully as many more patrons and teachers anxiously awaited outcome of the various events.

The youngsters "took in the town," in the time between various contests. They swarmed through the engineering show at Tech and visited the downtown section, identified by the tags fastened with safety-pins which marked them as Lubbock's guests for yesterday and today.

College Is Jammed

Tech's corridors at times were jammed with students, from grammar grade juniors to high school seniors, and their friends. When awards were posted near the office of Director A. W. Evans, they massed around the bulletin board. Girls giggled delightedly when they saw familiar names among the winners.

Preliminaries in all divisions and finals in some contests were conducted. Today, the champions will be determined in concluding matches.

More About The Speaking Contests Is On Page 3

Lubbock High school's boys and girls teams will meet speakers from Ralls and Littlefield schools, respectively, in debate finals beginning at 9 o'clock this morning.

Talkers Keep Busy

Preliminaries in debate and extemporaneous speech and opening tests and finals in declamation, Three-R and Spanish contests were conducted. Simultaneously, track and field events were being conduct-

Engineers Of Tech Display Their Talent

Throng Of 2,600 Sees Annual Engineering Show Here On Friday To Hang Up Record For Opening Day Crowd

With the usual display of engineering machinery and equipment with which the layman is unacquainted, plus a certain amount of "stunts" that provoked laughter from the crowd, Tech's fifth annual engineering show got away to a flying start Friday.

Check at 11 o'clock last night showed attendance slightly over 2,600, compared with 1,500 at last year's show.

"Biggest First Day"

"Biggest first day we have ever had," Dean O. V. Adams of the school of engineering said, echoing similar statements by J. Preston Conner, general manager, and other show officials. Sponsored by the seniors, the show was handled by students from all classes.

An exhibit of some of the recent gifts from the Carnegie foundation was an attraction on the second floor of the engineering building. A home-made loom, on which home spun cloth was being woven, proved the big attraction in the textile department. Casting of metal in the mechanical engineering shops also attracted more than the usual amount of attention.

All Departments Open

Every department was open, with students stationed at the various exhibits to explain processes. Many of the machines were operated and a model of the Hoover dam, an Olsen testing machine with 200,000 pound

France Cheers Roosevelt For World Outlook

Ex-Premier Herriot To Come To U. S. To Attend Meeting Called By FDR; Leaders Of Other Nations To Be Here

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 14—France tonight commended President Roosevelt for assuming the leadership of a world-wide movement for recovery of prosperity and added official word that former Premier Edouard Herriot would arrive in the United States on April 23 to join in the economic parleys at the President's invitation.

Federal tariff experts, meanwhile, worked away on the difficult task of preparing for President Roosevelt the bill on which he will rely for power to make reciprocal tariff agreements with various nations. He desires it particularly in order to be able to work with a comparatively free hand at the world economic conference in London about June 15, which is dedicated to a reduction of barriers to trade.

French Are Gratified

"The French government feels very gratified at the excellent initiative taken by President Roosevelt" said the French memorandum delivered today through that nation's embassy here.

"It considers these preliminary conversations between representatives of the principal interested governments a practical method to insure an efficient preparation of the world conference and a step towards its success."

The communication also said the Paris government was "particularly happy to meet the desire of the President" by sending Herriot on the mission.

The administration has indicated its determination to treat the mat-

Bandits Loot Church; Take Two Captives

Texarkana Priests Locked In Closet After Gunmen Steal Sacred Vessels And Money Valued At About $1,000

(By The Associated Press)

TEXARKANA, Ark., April 14 — Two masked robbers entered St. Edwards' Catholic church here late tonight and after menacing the Rev. T. H. Lillis, rector, and Rev. Joseph A. Murray, of St. Louis, with pistols, escaped with sacred vessels and money valued at about $1,000. The two priests were locked in a closet.

Sacred vessels, usually kept in a vault for safe keeping, had been taken to the rectory for use in Easter services. They were valued at $800.

Thugs Break In

The priests said they had been sitting in a second floor room, where Rev. Murray was playing music. They heard someone at the front door and Rev. Murray walked to the annunciator, where he called asking who it was.

Receiving no comprehensive reply, he walked downstairs and was met by the armed men. They forced him to return upstairs to where Rev. Lillis was sitting. The robbers took a watch and several dollars from Rev. Murray.

Then they marched the priests to the church safe, which they forced Rev. Lillis, under threat of death, to open. No money was found in it. Next they looted a dresser in a bedroom. They took the parish receipts for two days, amounting to $150 and Rev. Lillis' watch and contents of his purse.

After the robbers had fled, the priests summoned aid by pounding on the walls of the closet in which they were locked.

It was the second time the rectory was robbed in the past four months. Recently thieves entered while no one was there and took vessels and other property valued at $200.

Printing Of Immigrants Is Revoked By Labor Secretary

NEW YORK, April 14. (AP)—The order issued last February by William N. Doak as secretary of labor that all immigrants be fingerprinted upon their arrival here was rescinded today.

Edward Corsi, immigration commissioner at Ellis island, was advised of the revocation by Secretary Frances Perkins.

Tax Payments In County Increase

Approximately 52 per cent of the 1932 tax rolls of Lubbock county have been collected, according to W. H. Carpenter, county tax collector.

Collections since the close of the regular tax paying period have been slow, the collector added.

Tax rolls for 1932 represented $289,260.01. The amount collected was around $150,000, according to the collector.

Poll tax payments were slightly in excess of $5,500. The total payment, if all those paying in 1931 had paid for 1932, would have been a little over $14,000. Receipts issued were 3,700 this year.

Long Proposes Changes In Senate Rules; He's Target

WASHINGTON, April 14. (AP) — A proposed change in senate rules governing receipts of petitions assailing the reputation of its members was under formation tonight by Senator Long (D., La.) after he had branded on the floor as "claptrap" the charges by a group of Louisianans who petitioned the senate yesterday to remove him.

The rule amended probably will be submitted Monday to the Judiciary committee, to which the senate today referred the anti-Long petition for study as to whether it or similar ones in the future should be treated as privileged matter and thus made available for publication.

Hunter Talks At De Leon Banquet

DE LEON, April 14. (AP)—Reorganization of the Texas state government along lines recommended by the legislative Joint Committee on Economy and Reorganization was urged in an address here tonight by Tom F. Hunter of Wichita Falls, candidate for governor last year.

"The plan to reduce governmental agencies to 19 related units," he said, referring to the joint committee's recommendations, "is a constructive move and could only be improved by further reduction, with their activities coordinated for a greater central authority. Our state government cannot be administered economically or efficiently through 131 unrelated units."

Dallas And San Antonio To Lose Vet Payroll To Waco

DALLAS, April 14. (AP) — Read Johnson, regional director for the veterans' administration here, today expressed belief that the Dallas offices would be discontinued by July 1, 1934, as a result of recent economy measures reducing compensation.

The reduction of work caused by the adjustments will mean abandonment also of the regional offices in San Antonio, he said, and the centralization of the work in present government offices at Waco.

The two regional offices in Texas now employ 275 persons, 160 in Dallas, and 115 in San Antonio. When all economies have been effected, Johnson said, a force of 50 will be able to handle the work.

SINGLETON ACQUITTED

CORSICANA, Apr. 14 (AP)—George (Slough) Singleton was acquitted today for the slaying of Jack Harper at a Streetman filling station and as far as Freestone county was concerned, court procedure in connection with the killing was ended.

Abilene Accident Is Fatal For One

ABILENE, April 14. (AP)—Mrs. W. W. Reed of this city was killed, and her husband, employe of a plubing supply house, was critically injured when their automobile was struck by an incoming motor train on the Wichita Valley railroad on the edge of the city tonight.

The automobile was demolished, and the motor train disabled to such an extent it was towed in. The couple, who had left their four children ranging in age from 8 to 16 years, at home, had been visiting friends. Mr. Reed was unconscious in a hospital several hours after the accident, but doctors said he would recover.

Ponder, Flying 'Legger, To Appeal Federal Sentences

SAN ANTONIO, April 14. (AP) — William T. "Bill" Ponder of Fort Worth has appealed in the liquor smuggling case in which he was convicted and sentenced to six months in the federal detention camp at La Tuna, near El Paso, and given a year's suspended sentence in addition to a $1,000 fine.

A $1,000 appeal bond obtained Ponder's release from jail, it was said, pending a trial of the case in the fifth circuit court of appeals at New Orleans. Ponder was convicted by a jury of importing 80 gallons of alcohol to this country from Mexico by airplane November 18.

Bank Robber's Hurts Treated

Heavy Guard Takes Young Bad Man To Hospital From Cell In County Jail; Fragments Of Lead Found In Arm

Guarded by two deputy sheriffs and handcuffed to one of them, Jack Sullivan set foot outside county jail Friday afternoon, the first time in more than a month. The youthful desperado and bank bandit was taken to West Texas hospital for X-ray examination.

More than 150 lead fragments in Sullivan's right arm were revealed by X-ray pictures taken by Dr. Sam G. Dunn at the hospital. Since bullets from New Mexico peace officers at Mountainair splintered the arm last fall, Sullivan has been in danger of losing it.

Arm Broken, Too

After his escape from county jail in November, the arm was rebroken in a car accident. Treatment here Friday came after Sullivan had complained to his father about the arm. Dr. Dunn said all of the lead might not be removable. Sullivan, who faces 37 years in the penitentiary for bank robbery and hijacking, also carries peace officer's lead in his back and in a leg.

High School Students Name Pauline Phillips May Queen

Students of the school will give a May fete on April 28, at which Miss Phillips will be crowned queen and young Terrell, king. Miss Edwards will be named grand duchess and young Watson grand duke.

WASHINGTON, April 14. (AP) — Speedy action toward restoring the two-cent charge of local mail, and at the same time handing to President Roosevelt widespread power over postal rates generally, today was agreed upon at a White House conference.

Ex-Convict From Texas And Brother Sought In Murders

JOPLIN, Mo., April 14. (AP) — The hunt for two Texas gunmen, who late yesterday killed two peace officers in a gun battle at a house in a residence section here, was spurred tonight with offers of rewards totaling $600.

Authorities are looking for Ivy (Buck) Barrow, who recently was released from the Texas penitentiary after receiving a full pardon, and his brother, Clyde Barrow, as the killers of J. W. (Wes) Harryman, 41, Newton county constable, and Harry McGinnis, Joplin city detective.

Drastic Change Seen For RFC

FORT WORTH, April 14. (AP) —A drastic change in the apportionment of R. F. C. relief funds, provided in a bill now pending, would mean that the state and local communities would have to raise three dollars to obtain one dollar of federal aid, Dr. J. W. Slaughter, executive secretary of the Houston Community chest, said today at the Southwest Regional Welfare conference here.

"R. F. C. aid will stop," R. W. Granger, chairman of the Tulsa United Relief and Sevice board, predicted. "It must stop or socialism will result," he declared.

U. S. Bank Survey Shows Most Institutions Open

By ROBERT ST. JOHN
(Copyright, 1933, by The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, April 14.—Surveys of the banking situation throughout the nation tonight showed that far more than three-quarters of the federal reserve members and well over half the state banks are open and doing business on an unrestricted basis.

Before the bank holiday there were 6,736 federal reserve member institutions in operation in the 12 districts.

Today 5,443 were open without restrictions, 680 were open with restriction, and 543 had not yet been licensed.

There were 11,436 state banks doing business before the holiday in the 47 states for which figures are now available.

Today, in those 47 states, 7,654 of those banks were open without restrictions, 3,012 were open with restrictions, and the remaining were either not yet licensed, or were closed for reorganization or liquidation.

In some states and federal reserve districts comparative figures were available which showed that only a few small percentage of the deposits in banks before the holiday are not now available to the public without restriction.

New York federal reserve district, for example, 153 of the 828 member banks are either under restrictions or closed, yet the 675 member banks open without restrictions had at the first of the year about 97 per cent of the deposits in all member banks in the district.

In the Chicago federal reserve district it was estimated that of the funds now in member banks, 73 per cent are unrestricted, 24 per cent are in banks which are in the hands of conservators, and 3 per cent in banks on which no action has been taken.

He was given emergency treatment at Lubbock sanitarium last night. Frank White, who was given aid at the same time, reported his hand caught in a fan. No fingers were broken but he received painful lacerations.

PICKED up here and there for feminine readers: The newest evening coat is a voluminous duster of linen or pique cut on swagger lines. It is knee length and especially smart with cotton evening frocks.

• • •

The blouses that go with your new spring suit can make the entire outfit serve many occasions. Have a blouse of lame or other formal material and when the coat is removed the dressy blouse and skirt can well go to tea or even dinner. Pullover sweaters and cotton blouses make the suit excellent for country wear. Silk blouses of less formal varieties make it an ideal street costume.

• • •

There are certain vegetable rules to follow when serving different kinds of meat. Peas with lambs; potatoes with beef; string beans with pork. Of course, you may serve other vegetables too, but these are considered best both by dietitians and etiquette experts.

• • •

Some of the new coat dresses are most practical. They are made to wear either as a coat or as a dress. The ones with detachable capes or with extra fur pieces allow for a wider range of variety.

• • •

Now, it seems that gloves have gone gay, and one wears them to contrast with a white suit—wears them in plaid, dotted and striped material. And, if you can't buy them, you get a pattern and make them out of the material you choose.

Give your mayonnaise a zippy taste and pink color by adding tomato catsup or puree.

• • •

Have you noticed that coat revers are made to contrast? It is one of the marks of spring. Pique collars and revers, stripped or plain, are frequently used on woolen coats and there are many other effective materials and furs in numerous colors that do the trick.

• • •

Chanel has a lovely evening dress that combines—of all things—percale with lace.

For your information on oven temperatures: Crisp cookies should be baked in a hot oven. Molasses cookies, which burn easily, require a cool oven of not more than 350 degrees. Baking powder biscuits should be put into a moderate oven and the heat should not be increased until they are almost done. Pastry requires a hot oven and thorough baking to make it flaky and digestable. Reduce the heat of the oven when the pastry itself is cooked and you are ready to bake the filling.

• • •

All egg mixtures, custard, souffles and puddings, should be baked with the oven at a low temperature. If the heat rises above 350 degrees you will not have good luck with any concoction containing eggs.

• • •

To cut sponge cake easily, dip the knife in cold water or grease with a little butter and the cake will not stick to the knife.

• • •

Small women have a grand chance to look tall these spring days. Height is the outstanding characteristic of the new hats—and a tall hat is guaranteed to make a small woman look taller.

• • •

Fish fillets, baked or broiled, served on a platter with lettuce cups filled with tartare dressing, make a savory and easily prepared main dish for the housecleaning menu.

• • •

Meat and vegetable stocks should be saved and used as a base for soups and stews. Have a stock kettle and pour off the stock from the carrots, peas, celery and beans. Celery leaves can be used for flavoring soups, stews or escalloped mixtures, and mushroom peelings well washed, covered with water and simmered for half an hour makes a delicious base for a cream soup.

• • •

If your salt will not shake freely on a damp day, a little rice or corn starch mixed in the salt will eliminate this particular difficulty.

• • •

Have the meat used for meat loaf or patties ground twice.

Roman Catholics At Vatican Mourn Death Of Christ In Age-Old Rites

(By The Associated Press)

ROME, April 14—Sombre black and purple coverings hid the statutes and crucifixes in Rome's 400 churches tonight and the priceless works of art in St. Peter's. The Roman Catholic world mourned the death of Christ.

To signify the confusion of nature over the sad event of 1900 years ago priests banged with their prayerbooks on the kneeling benches of the Vatican Basilica. Cardinal Pacelli, papal secretary of state, presided over Good Friday services there.

Pope Takes Part

The Pope earlier in the day said mass in the Sistine chapel. He revived an old custom by personally carrying the blessed sacrament to its tabernacle after it had been exposed in the Pauline chapel. It was the first time in 63 years that a Pope had performed this ceremony.

Amusement places throughout Italy were closer tonight and the white and gold banner of Vatican state was at half staff during the day in commemoration of Christ's death.

Tradition Carried Out

Traditional observances were carried out in Rome and various other Italian towns and cities. Sermons on the sorrows of the Virgin Mary were delivered as part of special "Maria Desolata" services in the Roman titular churches of Cardinal Mundelein, of Chicago and Cardinal Hayes of New York—Santa Maria Del Popolo and Santa Maria In Via respectively.

A great crowd, including thousands of holy year pilgrims, journeyed to the little town of Grassina to witness Italy's equivalent of the Oberammergau Passion play, "Gesu Morto."

It began with a lengthy procession representing the tragic journey to Calvary. Bearing a figure of Christ, lying on a bier under a black canopy, the marchers slowly wound their way to the summit of a hill where three huge crosses had been erected. There they knelt in prayer.

Animals Are Blessed

Later came the traditional blessing of farm animals. Oxen, horses and sheep were led by their owners into the town's chapels and up to the altars, where priests sprinkled them with holy water.

Hundreds of large wooden crosses were borne by black-clad men marching through the streets of Merano, near the northeastern frontier. Women also participated in the march, carrying flowers.

Church bells will ring out the glad tidings of the resurrection at noon tomorrow, when Lent officially ends. Commemorative rituals will be held in St. Peter's and other churches.

Union Is Meeting At Canyon Today

Leaving here early this morning about thirty members of the local Baptist Student Union are to attend sessions of the West Texas conference of that body at West Texas State Teachers college. The conference is to continue through the day and will be concluded with a picnic in Palo Duro canyon in the late afternoon.

Robert Fling of Baylor university is to be the principal speaker for the day. The conference theme is "Together". Miss Mary Alyce Scott and Jess McIlhaney, local students, and Miss Ruby Atwood, young peoples' director, are among the Lubbock people who will participate in the program.

Camp Fire Blue Bird Group Is Entertained With Party

Mesdames M. N. Hale and W. L. Bradshaw, leaders of a Camp Fire Blue Bird group, entertained with an Easter party at the First Methodist church Thursday afternoon. An egg hunt was enjoyed.

Patine Cleveland, who found the golden egg, and Elizabeth Schmidt, who found the most eggs, were presented with favors. Others attending were Mary Jo Turner, Betty May Haynes, Mary Ann Wilson, Eleanor Jackson, Carroll Ann Krueger, Carol Ann Scott, Dolores Bizzell, Rebecca Ann Bradshaw, Joan and Barbara Hale and Beverley Giles.

W. P. Florence of Slaton, came up yesterday on business.

"There are other Spring Birds earlier than the Robin, but Mr. Redbreast advertises himself better."

There is no Substitute for WHITE KING

TRUE soap economy depends on more than the size of the box!

In the first place, you actually use less White King than fluffed soaps.

—then, the condensed granules of White King contain only fine, pure vegetable oils that will harm nothing pure water will not injure.

—and White King needs only lukewarm water, refreshing to fabrics and hands.

Ironing becomes smoother and easier. Clothes require less rubbing, no bleach, no bluing.

For soap economy, for soap satisfaction, for soap efficiency, there is no substitute for White King Granulated. Ask your grocer.

Police Chief Is Gettin' 'Em Told

The next police officer who breaks a glass on top of the sergeant's desk at police headquarters will have to hand over $4.25 for a new one. This was the edict of Chief of Police Wiley Metcalfe, Friday.

In a notice posted on the department bulletin board yesterday, the chief called attention to the new glass and announced that anyone breaking the glass would have to foot the bill. The new glass is slightly smaller than the old one.

After having been broken for a year or more, the chief ordered a new one. He also had a new glass put on his own desk.

Four Die When New Jersey Maniac Attacks His Family

SOUTH RIVER, N. J., April 14.(AP) Joseph Kensek, 50, whose wife had barred him from home since his release from the state insane hospital seven months ago, crept up to the house with a revolver before dawn today, wired the doors shut, slew his wife and two children, seriously wounded another and swallowed poison himself.

Then he crawled out the window through which he had broken in, staggered to a garbage dump 200 yards away and died.

WATERWAYS DISCUSSED

WASHINGTON, April 14. (AP) — Indication was given at the White House today that the St. Lawrence waterways pact is on the calendar for consideration at this session of the senate but that a resolution protesting New York state's interests in power will accompany it.

Ohio has had two governors by the name of Cox, General Jacob Dalson Cox, republican, and James M. Cox, democrat.

"Haunted" Piano Spells Death

The Wetherill family of Continental, O., desire to get rid of their piano which isn't of the player type. For the third time in less than 12 years, the omen death has been sounded on the piano. The other night Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wetherill and their two daughters were awakened by the piano as two keys, one of high pitch and the other of a bass key, played for several minutes—so the Wetherills say. A week later, Mrs. Wetherill's sister-in-law died. Ten years ago, a week before Wetherill's mother died, Mrs. Wetherill declared part of a hymn was played on the piano by an invisible hand. Seven years ago the family was awakened by the piano, apparently playing itself, and a week later Wetherill's sister-in-law died. Wetherill is shown beside the piano.

Texas House Recesses Until Monday With Education Appropriations Set

AUSTIN, April 14. (AP)—Although the house of representatives of the Texas legislature recessed today until Monday, Representative W. M. Harman, chairman of the appropriations committee, has said he will place the educational appropriations bill before his colleagues for consideration at that time.

Under the rules, appropriations bills are given right-of-way over all other bills.

Would Delay Vote

Placing the appropriation bill before the house would delay a vote on a bill to establish a natural resources commission to take over the oil and gas conservation duties of the Railroad commission. It also would delay a final vote on a bill to levy a graduated tax on oil production and on the graduated income tax bill.

The educational appropriation is the last of the major budget bills to come before the house. It has been passed by the senate, but the house will substitute its bill for the senate proposal and seek adjustment of the differences in conference. The house bill was materially under the appropriation allowed by the senate.

Gasoline Bill Killed

The house committee on revenue and taxation killed a bill to reapportion the gasoline tax to give the available school fund one-half the receipts from the tax. The fund now receives one-fourth of the four-cents a gallon levy.

The senate voted 21 to 4 to adopt a free conference report on a bill to remit penalties and interest on delinquent taxes. The house postponed action on the report until Monday.

The compromise bill would provide that all penalties and interest would be released if the taxes are paid by July 1. Delinquent taxes paid in July would carry a one per cent penalty, in August a two per cent penalty, in September three per cent, in October four per cent, in November five per cent and in December 6 per cent. The original penalties and interest would be reinstated if the taxes are not paid by next January 1.

The bill would apply to state and county taxes and cities and independent school districts might come under its provisions if they desire. It would affect all taxes now delinquent.

House and senate conferees on the Congressional redistricting bill were named. The house conferees are Representatives Ben Ramsey, Penrose Metcalfe, of San Angelo, Joe K. Wells of Corsicana, Albert K. Daniel of Elkhart, W. R. Poage of Waco, Will D. Pace of Tyler, Clint C. Small, of Amarillo and T. J. Holbrook of Galveston were chosen to represent the senate.

TO CHASE AWAY GLOOM

CHARLESTON, S. C. (AP)—A program of free fishing and boating trips, baseball games and checker and horseshoe pitching tournaments for the unemployed at Charleston has been projected by the relief committee.

Plans were outlined at a mass meeting attended by 500 jobless men. Each was asked to indicate his favorite sports and hobbies.

New U. S. Ambassador Enters Mexico; Broken Rail Found At Monterrey But Accident Is Laid To Weather

(By The Associated Press)

MEXICO CITY, April 14.—A half hour before the guarded train carrying Josephus Daniels, new ambassador to Mexico, was due to pass, a section hand discovered a broken rail north of Monterrey today.

It was believed the rail had been warped by a sudden change in temperature. It was replaced while the train was held up for 30 minutes.

Greeting Are Sent

Mr. Daniels sent his greetings and those of President Roosevelt to the Mexican people from Monterrey. He said he would work to continue friendly relations developed by his two predecessors.

The two neighboring countries, Mr. Daniels said, had to be either friends or enemies, and Mexico and the United States through commercial, cultural, and diplomatic relations could not be enemies.

Job In Congress Sought For Negro Who Served Gen. Stonewall Jackson

WASHINGTON, April 14. (AP)—"Uncle Joe" Ford, tall 82-year old negro, who says he was the slave servant of General Stonewall Jackson in the Civil war, was brought to town today by Representative Sadowski (D-Mich.) in an effort to get him a job in the House.

"Uncle Joe" has been in charge of the Michigan State senate cloak room for 52 years.

"Yas, suh," Ford told Speaker Rainey with a big smile. "I was General Jackson's servant, and held his horse when he mounted for the Battle of the Wilderness. I was born in slavery near Fredericksburg, Va., and was owned by the Frank Allsops family.

"I shore would like to get a job here. You shore are nice folks."

JUNEAU, Alaska. (AP) — After a year of idleness, the whaling industry was revived in Alaska in 1932 and 767,262 gallons of oil were shipped from the territory. It had a value of $115,747. Whale fertilizer produced was worth $26,808.

Distress After Meals

"After I eat a heavy meal, my food seems to sour and form gas," writes Mr. S. R. Williams, of Longview, Texas. "I find that by taking a pinch of Black-Draught after meals I do not have this trouble. I only take Black-Draught a few days at the time. I also take it for constipation which causes me to have a heavy, sluggish and tired feeling. This is followed by headache. I take a larger dose of Black-Draught for two or three nights and it stops this trouble."

Twenty-Four Schools Qualify In Track Preliminaries; Finals Today

District Meet Finals Start At 1:30 Today

Olton Leads In Qualifying As Nine Places Are Won; Lubbock High Places 6 Times In Preliminary Events

With Olton High school taking the lead in the preliminary round, the annual District 2 track and field meet of the Texas Interscholastic league got under way yesterday with qualifying attempts in eight events.

A strong wind, and a cold one, accompanied opening day, which saw more than a hundred athletes battle the elements and strong competition for places in the finals today.

Finals in all events are slated for this afternoon beginning at 1:30 o'clock. Preliminaries were not conducted in the one-mile run, 880-yard run, mile relay, javelin throw, shot put and high jump events yesterday.

Schedule Announced

J. O. (Dell) Morgan, district athletic director, announced the following schedule for today:

1:30 o'clock—high hurdles, pole vault and shot put.

1:45 o'clock—100-yard dash.

2 o'clock—880-yard run, discus throw and high jump.

2:15 o'clock—220-yard low hurdles.

2:30 o'clock—440-yard dash and javelin throw.

2:45 o'clock—220-yard dash.

3 o'clock—one-mile run and running broad jump.

3:15 o'clock—mile relay.

Twenty-four schools qualified for representation in the district meet finals, with Olton High school, led by Ledbetter, qualifying nine times to lead the list. Ledbetter was high point man yesterday, taking first place in three events and second in a fourth. He won first place in hits heats of the 100-yard dash, 220-yard low hurdles and 220-yard dash. He was second in the broad jump preliminaries.

Lubbock Ties Brownfield

Lubbock and Brownfield tied for second place yesterday with athletes qualifying for six events. Lubbock will also enter the mile relay, mile run, shot put, high jump, javelin throw and half-mile run.

Three heats were necessary in all of yesterday's track events except the 220-yard dash. Four heats were run in this.

Lubbock made its best showing in the quarter-mile dash, Robert Stone winning his heat and Rufus Ryan coming out ahead in the third heat. The first was won by Burrus of Whitharrall, whose time of 54.5 seconds bettered either of the Lubbock lads. Neither of the Westerners was pushed, however, in his race.

The following schools placed in yesterdays preliminary events:

Olton, Lubbock, Brownfield, Close City, Union, Ralls, McCarty, Floydada, Meadow, Lamesa, Dickens, Slaton, Littlefield, Whitharral, Pleasant Valley, Shallowater, Sudan, Tahoka, Crosbyton, Spade, Draw, Monroe, Dumot and Abernathy.

Several schools not listed above will enter athletes in the six events for which preliminaries were not called. Approximately fifty schools were represented on the field yesterday. It is thought that almost that number will enter today's events.

Summaries of qualifying events follow:

120-yard high hurdles: First heat—Neill of Brownfield, first; Stone of Lubbock, second; Thuett of Close City, third; time: 17.2 seconds.

Second heat—Parker of Union, first; Dennis of Olton, second; Dyess of Ralls, third; time: 17.4 seconds.

Third heat—Blackwell of Lubbock, first; Huckabee of Brownfield, second; Myers of Ralls, third; time: 18.1 seconds.

100-yard dash: First heat—Johnson of McCarty, first; Gamblin of Floydada, second; Findley of Meadow, third; time: 10.8 seconds.

Ruffing Pulls Fiction Stunt As Yanks Win

Deadlocked Mound Duel Ends When Charley Clears Sacks With Homer; Athletics Win Over Senators, 5 To 1

NEW YORK, April 14. (AP)—Charley Ruffing put a storybook finish on a five-hit mound duel with Bob Weiland today and gave the Yankees their second straight victory over the Boston Red Sox 6-2. Ruffing came up after an error and two passes had filled the bases with two out in the ninth and clouted the first pitch into right field bleachers for a home run.

Ruffing fanned nine and contributed an earlier double to his triumph. Lou Gehrig tied the score for the Yanks in the sixth with his second homer in two days.

WASHINGTON, April 14. (AP) — Shutting out the Washington Senators for eight innings, Bob Grove today led the Philadelphia Athletics to a five to one victory and their first win of the season.

The lanky portsider scattered the six hits he allowed, and aided by the slugging of Foxx and Higgins, kept Washington from making it three in a row.

LOOK OVER RULES BEFORE TEEING UP THIS YEAR

BEFORE stepping to the first tee this spring, the player should look over the rules. Playing rules are of real importance in making the game more pleasurable for yourself and others who play it.

By all means replace turf. Divots that are hacked out of soft fairways at this time of the year and not replaced will leave ugly scars.

The flagstick should be replaced carefully to avoid raising the edge of the turf around the cup.

When walking out of a bunker after smoothing the sand take the easiest way out. Don't clamber over and break down the sides of the hazard.

The sun sets early in spring and many anxious players who have waited patiently for this day may have reached the course late. Step right out between shots and avoid holding up players behind you. Players in front also want a break. Delay your shots until they are out of range.

If you have lost a ball and have signaled the players behind you to come through, then suddenly find your ball, don't change your mind and decide to keep your place and play the shot. This is an unforgivable breach.

Don't total your score on the 18th green. Players would like to approach it.

Paul Runyan, Kid Of Ryder Cup Team, Threatens Veteran Pro Golfers Again

Former Caddy Tells About Pro's Life On The Road

BY ART KRENZ
NEA Service Sports Writer

Paul Runyan, the New Yorker . . . youngest member of the Ryder Cup team . . . is the same Paul Runyan who used to caddy out at Little Rock, Ark., where he was born, July 12, 1908.

Runyan never played tournament golf as an amateur. . . . as early as 1925, when he was 17, he began teaching the methods of correcting hooks and slices. His first professional job was at the Concordia C. C., at Little Rock, in 1927. . . . He stayed on the job until 1930.

Today Runyan gives more lessons than any other traveling professional, averaging about 1000 lessons a summer at a rate of $4 an hour.

• • •

In the spring of 1930 Runyan won his first major title, the North and South Open at Pinehurst. He followed up by a win in the Jersey Open. In 1931 he won the Metropolitan P. G. A. and the Gasparilla Open in 1932.

His game rounded into top form early this spring with which he won the $10,000 Agua Caliente Open, the Miami Four Ball with Horton Smith as a partner, and the first tournament with the six-inch cups, the Florida Year-Round Open. He continued his excellent play during the spring trek north and ended his winter campaign by winning the final tournament of the season at Virginia Beach, bringing his winnings for the tour to more than $5,000.

The average player making the swing around the circuit during the winter has all he can do to break even, says Paul. The expenses of a single player comes close to $1700. A married man spends $3,000 or better.

This year will find Paul making his second attempt at a National title. He received his baptism of fire in the National Open at Fresh Meadows last year, where he finished twelfth. This makes him eligible for the open at the North Shore C. C. Glen View, Ill. June 8-10, without going through the preliminaries of qualifying.

Asked about the American team's chances to win the Ryder Cup matches, Paul said he was confident that the American team would return victorious and that one of the American contingent would cop the British Open. American golf is on a higher scale than British, says Paul. American pros regard golf as a job requiring training and good physical condition. One must keep early hours to compete in two or three tournaments a week.

Runyan is much in favor of six-inch cups. The larger cup not only affects a player's game on the putting green but speeds up the game considerably. He will try to have the greens committee at his home club adopt the cup for play over the week-ends and for days when the course is crowded.

A No. 4 iron an dthe spoon are his favorite clubs, with the nod going to the spoon. With this club he has no equal. Runyon isn't exceptional long off the tee and often must depend on his spoon to reach a green where others would use an iron.

When playing a spoon shot, Paul uses the over-lapping grip, with the "V" formed by the index finger and the thumb pointing over each shoulder. The ball is played a bit further back toward the right foot than for the drive, but the swing is much the same. When the ball has found a cuppy or close lie, the ball should be played still further back toward the right foot and the swing should be like an iron shot.

Here is the baby of the Ryder Cup team, Paul Runyan, right, showing Art Krenz, NEA Service golf writer, some fine points of spoon play.

Joe Bihl Wins Caddy Tourney

Seventeen-Year-Old Caddy At Meadowbrook Beats Fellow Caddy, Guy Minapia, 5 And 4 In Annual Event

Joe Bihl, 17-year-old Meadowbrook caddy who gave some of the veteran golfers of Lubbock plenty of trouble in minor tournaments last season, swung a wicked niblick yesterday to beat Guy Minapia, fellow caddy, in the Meadowbrook Golf club's annual caddy tournament.

Bihl won his match, 5 up and 5 to go. It was over the 18-hole route, and Bihl's score hung close to par.

Only five caddies entered the tournament, business at the club preventing a larger number from participating.

Max Schmeling Is Back In America; Likes Mr. Hitler

NEW YORK, April 14. (AP)—Max Schmeling, who fights Max Baer here on June 8, arrived from Germany today, bringing with him reports of peace in his fatherland and of the plan of Chancellor Hitler to make boxing compulsory in the nation's schools and colleges.

"Sport," said Schmeling, "is international. It has nothing to do with politics, races and creeds. I saw no cruelties against Jews in Germany. My country never was more quiet and peaceful. Many of my neighbors in Berlin are Jews and my manager, Joe Jacobs, is a Jew. There is no question between sport and national problems." Baer is part Jewish.

Chancellor Hitler, he said, is a fight fan himself and shortly will announce his program for compulsory boxing in elementary schools, high schools and colleges.

The young Teuton returned here for the first time since losing his heavyweight title to Jack Sharkey last summer, in the same fine physical condition in which he left in the midst of the controversy that raged for weeks over the decision against him.

Schmeling's return to fight under the promotional banner of Jack Dempsey, who greatly resembled him in features and inspired him to a boxing career when they met years ago in Berlin, was a gala occasion.

Dodgers Turn Back Phillies With 7-1 Win

Walter Beck Makes Good Start In Holding Phils To Seven Hits; Hack Wilson's Job Is Much In Doubt

(By The Associated Press)

PHILADELPHIA, April 14.—Walter Beck, the big right hander from Memphis, made an auspicious National League debut and Johnny Frederick made things look very tough for Hack Wilson's hopes of playing right field for Brooklyn today as the Dodgers turned back the Phillies for the second time, 7-1.

Beck kept the hard-hitting Phils subjugated, giving them only seven hits and fanning five.

Epochal Federal Job-Creation Plan Takes Wider Form At Washington

Second Stage Is Reached In Plans Of FDR

Federal Bond Issue Expected To Be Backbone Of Program Backed By Demos; Billions Planned For Public Works

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 14. — An epochal job-creating plan, carrying the administration program into its awaited second stage, began to take wider form late today while Congress strove to legislate mighty projects already before it.

Its backbone would be a federal bond issue of several billions for public works.

If investigations being conducted turn out as the President hopes, it can now be said federal protection for wage levels will be invoked.

New Message Next Week

But before this avenue is taken, Mr. Roosevelt intends to submit to Congress early next week still another special message, proposing a federal coordinator to ease the way to better days for the railroads.

With extensive rail reorganizations envisioned in that, jobs are likely to be washed out just as in the huge governmental economy adjustments in the offing.

Unmistakable evidence was given today that the President and his cabinet are actively mindful of the deflationary effects involved in these huge propositions, and are equally set on more than combatting them by spreading work where it's most needed.

Demo Leaders Waiting

In fact, the Democratic leadership at the capitol expects Mr. Roosevelt's bond-issue-for-public-works recommendation to reach there before long.

Meanwhile, a senate bi-partisan coterie undertook tonight to make the 30-hour-week bill of broader compass pending the expected announcement that the time to take the new path has arrived.

Views Are Exchanged

As the day ended, Mr. Roosevelt exchanged views on it with Senators Wagner and Costigan, Democrats, and LaFollette and Cutting, Republicans. Their talk embraced the possibility of limiting working hours and getting a minimum wage law within the constitutional limits, some members of Congress having instituted a study in the latter direction.

Judgment is being reserved at the White House until the findings can be ascertained; but the President was described in quarters that should know as favoring federal preservation of wage levels to the extent that the constitution allows.

He and his aides have practically completed the bond issue feature of the forthcoming bill. The secretary of labor, Miss Frances Perkins, believes the minimum wage aspect "feasible" and also is looking further into it.

She spoke frankly to reporters today of what's impending—revealing a conviction that public construction could be begun to put many to work within a few months. Her ideas took in not alone federal works, but also projects by state and municipal governments. Cited were water works, elimination of grade crossings and slum areas and low cost housing.

"Drain the unemployment pools," she set up as her reason for advocating governmental construction in areas where work was most needed.

Amount Not Yet Set

Various amounts have been mentioned as likely for a federal bond issue to this end, which presumably would be floated with a tremendous public campaign. It must be remembered also that the impending legislation for refinancing mortgages on farms and small homes requires bond issue financing to a possible total of four billions; which, with the public works issue, conceivably could raise the total to over twelve billions. Treasury officials have exhibited no doubt, however, that this could be done without difficulty.

COLLIER MAY GET JOB

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—John Collier, secretary of the American Indian Defense association, was understood in Senate sources today to be the choice of Secretary Ickes and President Roosevelt for Indian commissioner, but his nomination was being held up for the time being.

Johnny McFall's Popular Orchestra Playing At Hilton

Here for a thirty-day engagement at the Hilton, Johnny McFall and his orchestra, shown below, are playing for a matinee dance from 2:30 until 6:30 at the hotel this afternoon. The orchestra is direct from the Baker hotel at Dallas where its music proved popular with dance lovers of that section. The orchestra plays daily at luncheon and dinner at the hotel. Members of the orchestra are: Frank Reynolds, vocalist; Fred Worrell, Bert Veatch and E. McIntosh, reeds; Randall Blackmond and Buster Starns, trumpets; Bryan Lee, trombone; Wilson Harber, piano; Joe Brady, drums; R. B. Smith, guitar and Dorrell Kirkpatrick, bass. McFall is shown sitting in the center.

Former Wichita Falls Man Dies In Attempted Holdup

SIERRA BLANCA, April 14 (AP)—J. B. Goodell was shot and killed during an attempt to hold up a service station operated by C. J. Brooks, postmaster, at Allamore, Tex., last night.

Two men were being held here in connection with the attempted robbery. Goodell, about 30 years old, formerly was from Wichita Falls. He was shot at close range during a scuffle in which Brooks was struck with an inner tube filled with stones.

Cities Of West Texas Plan To Send Groups To WTCC Session

Special Trains And Motor Caravans Are Being Planned To Big Spring; Several Bands To Be On Hand

(Special To The Avalanche)

BIG SPRING, April 14.—Cities all over West Texas are enthusiastically beginning preparations for participating in the fifteenth annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to be held in Big Spring May 11, 12 and 13.

A special train from Fort Worth is being sponsored by the trade extension department of the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce. Charles G. Cotten, manager of the department, has advised the convention management as follows: "Our plan is to leave Ft. Worth with a special train on the morning of May 11, bringing with us the T. C. U. band and other entertainers, stopping at the larger points en route, arriving in Big Spring during the afternoon of the 11th, and remaining until late Friday night."

Angelo To Send Group

San Angelo has served notice that it is sending a delegation with a definite purpose—to secure the 1934 meeting for that city. San Angelo was a bidder for the 1933 convention at Sweetwater but withdrew in favor of Big Spring. J. C. Deal, manager of the Board of City Development says: "You bet your life we're in this race, and we think San Angelo should have it, 'thumbs down' but of course the other cities may feel the same way. We entertained the 1923 convention — ten years ago—and most of the contesting towns have entertained it since then."

Plainview, host city in 1922, will enter the contest for the 1934 convention according to Manager Grady Shipp of the Plainview Chamber of Commerce. "We feel it is our time, since it has gone the rounds since it has been up here."

Dallas To Be There

Dallas is planning to be present with a special train too according to Manager E. F. Anderson of the Wholesale Merchants association. "Just as soon as we complete our 32nd annual good will tour into another section, we are going to start our West Texas Chamber of Commerce trip," Anderson says.

Sweetwater is going to be at Big Spring strong, bringing its celebrated chuck wagon, now a familiar and interesting spectacle at gatherings of note in Texas. John Hendrix, manager of the Board of City Development points out that Sweetwater, having entertained the last convention, is sending a delegation that is not seeking anything but with a desire to help make this the biggest convention in the history of the organization, and he challenges other cities to beat them on representation.

Anton Band On Hand

Anton without doubt one of the livest towns of its size in America—a city of four hundred boasting a band of forty—has already arranged for its band's visit to Big Spring, and has entered a contestant in the My Home Town Contest. Paul Whitfield, manager of the Anton Chamber of Commerce says their only trouble is to find enough people in Anton who are willing to stay at home during the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention to carry on necessary business activities.

Breckenridge is the second city in West Texas to enter the My Home Town Contest. For years, Breckenridge has had a hard contender for first honors in this interesting convention feature.

Ballinger is the third entrant in the My Home Town Contest. J. D. Motley says they are conducting their local contest now. An advance outline of the convention program plans will go out from the convention headquarters Monday to all the two hundred cities and towns in West Texas together with an invitation to all of them to begin organizing their delegations for attending all the convention program features.

The School Tax Deadline

EVERY man, woman and half-grown child in Lubbock well knows of the financial crisis facing the Lubbock Independent School district.

All of us know, further, that today, April 15th, is the "deadline" for paying delinquent taxes to the district, according to a statement issued two weeks ago by the school board.

It is common, public knowledge the school board announced two weeks ago that were not delinquent taxes, in sufficient quantity, paid by today the schools would be closed for the balance of the year.

Today is the climax of the school tax-paying campaign which has borne some results, even if the results have not been as great as hoped for. But the fight is not yet over. We still have today.

Everyone is agreed that to close the schools now would be a calamity.

Therefore, they must not be permitted to close until the term is fully completed.

The decision is squarely up to the citizens of the Lubbock Independent School district, hundreds of whom have not yet paid their taxes so that the educational system might go on.

The Morning Avalanche declines to subscribe to the theory that the schools must or should be closed. Knowing, as we do, the citizenship of this community, we cannot believe the schools will be permitted to close—come what may.

But that does not take the burden of responsibility from the shoulders of the community, nor from the shoulders of those who can pay their taxes if they want to pay them.

If you are one who can pay, or can make arrangements to borrow the money to pay, go to the offices of the school tax collector in the City hall today and pay those taxes.

Regardless of whether or not you think the schools will close, do your part; get under your share of the weight of this problem.

It is unthinkable that the schools will be allowed to close; an early closing must not be permitted.

But let those who can pay and haven't paid realize that the problem is theirs as well as the school board's.

If you're one of them, do your part today!

EASTER AND SPRING

One cannot dissociate Easter and spring, no matter how early or late the religious festival may come nor how unseasonable the weather attending its advent. Easter is spring and life is reborn. And, tomorrow is Easter Sunday!

The dead days are past the requiem of winter is forgotten as the birds sing the resurrection of nature. The poet sighs, the sun smiles, perhaps, and the woman with a new spring hat looks anxiously at the meteorological emanations from the shrine on Olympus which the irreverent flippantly call the weather works. Enveloping and hallowing it all is the atmosphere that sends the soul journeying beside still waters, through peaceful valleys, soft grasses and awakening buds and soothing it with imaginary scents of flowers awaiting only warmth to spread their sweetness on a newly aroused world.

Besides its religious meaning, that is the spirit and significance of Easter and it is older even than the Christian religion. The display of colors and raiment in unison with the earth throwing off its old garments is as ancient as the race. Man always has wanted to sing as soon as the birds did and he has done so. Even the Bible has its beautiful poetic allusions to spring, and the vernal festivals of ancient days were a public expression of the song that was in the hearts of the people as a whole.

We do not have anything we did not inherit, so it is not strange that a woman wants a pretty hat at Easter time. As a matter of fact it would be strange if she did not. And it is not to be expected that poets will quit caroling about spring as long as nature sends winters that inspire poets to say "Oh, wind, if winter comes, can spring be far behind?".

Ignorance is a dreadful thing that does almost as much damage as the greed and envy of the smart.

How puzzling it is to learn that some fellow is slandering you when you can't remember ever doing him a favor.

Every rose has its thorn. The nation that has the most gold has the most anti-fat remedies.

Tearing off the coupon in the lower right-hand corner for a trial lesson in will development is one way of eliminating yourself as candidate for the world's largest monument.

Times Seen Improving

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

Capitol

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Times generally will be recognized as distinctly on the mend by mid-autumn or a trifle sooner.

This, at least, is the opinion of men closest to the administration.

They consider that the seeds of improvement are being planted now, but appreciate that a reasonable interval must be allowed for them to germinate and for the growth, which is expected from them, to show unmistakably above the surface.

These prophets are not sufficiently optimistic, for example, to believe that bank depositors, who are just coming to a realization of heavy losses in the financial institutions in present process of reorganization, will take a cheerful view of conditions until a lapse of some months has blunted their sense of the misfortune they have suffered.

Readjustments Needed

Moreover, they do not regard any decided business recovery as a possibility in the midst of the confusion incident to:

The reconstruction of a large part of the country's banking structure.

A complete renovation of the national security trading machinery.

The restoration of order from chaos in the whole field of transportation.

The rescue of agriculture from bankruptcy.

The relief of industrial labor by a program of public works of all sorts, over an area extending from ocean to ocean and from the northern border to the Gulf of Mexico.

A drastic cut in the length of the working day and week, in an effort to multiply jobs without reducing wages.

A world conference involving questions of tariffs, war debts and the size of armaments.

A series of elections which may or may not result in abandonment of the great American prohibition experiment; abandonment of it, anyway, up to the 3.2 per cent limits.

Such a plexus of readjustments, some actually affected, some semi-affected and some impending, will have to have time to "take", it is pointed out, before human nature can adapt itself to the new order and get into gear to take advantage of it.

Administration prognosticators incline to reckon on a lapse of about six months, during which they think folk will be struggling out of the slump, for a widespread revival to gain impetus.

Fall Trade

Fall trade, too, will be beginning to make itself felt by the end of approximately that period.

With considerable additional money in circulation and a four-year accumulation of demand for commodities of every imaginable description, it is foreseen that the season should be an exceptionally active one even for normal times—and a start, to get business off its dead center, is regarded as all that is needed for a good send-off, due to continue indefinitely.

Indeed, there are even pessimists who look for a marked increase in October or thereabouts, in buying and employment (the two acting and reacting), followed by three or four years of moderate prosperity. Whether or not it will last beyond that, they say, depends on how economically sound, or otherwise, President Roosevelt's policies prove to be in the long run.

RAMSEY MacDONALD'S VISIT

Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald of Great Britain, who will come to Washington this month to see President Roosevelt, was here almost exactly four years ago to see President Hoover.

They sat on a log spanning the Rapidan and talked international politics. No one seems to recall that anything in particular came of it.

Here before, Premier MacDonald was head of a radical Labor government in London. He is head now of an ultra-conservative government. The railroad brotherhoods' organ, Labor, refers to him as a "labor renegade".

He has the reputation of being personally a vain man.

He has courage, as he proved by his pacifistic attitude, when it was downright dangerous, during the World war times in Britain. He also has ability, somewhat detracted from by his obviously high opinion of himself. There is too much "palaver" in his manner to be pleasant.

WATCH BEER'S EFFECT

Food-producing interests generally—notably dairymen, bankers and confectioners—are keenly watching beer's effect upon the public appetite for their merchandise.

• • •

YOUNG ADVENTURERS

Officials in charge of recruiting for Uncle Sam's forestry corps say the volunteers include thousands of youths from prosperous families—not trying to deceive, but simply seeking adventure.

• • •

PRIMITIVE LIVING

Commenting on predictions that, if the depression continues, folk will be forced to return to primitive living conditions, "Why!" exclaims President Green of the American Federation of Labor, "millions are doing so already."

• • •

OIL PROBLEM

Each oil state must settle its own oil overproduction problem, President Roosevelt says; the federal government cannot do it. However, it can and will prevent the interstate transportation of illegally overproduced oil, he promises.

• • •

CENSORSHIP

A resolute attempt unmistakably is being made to sneak a censorship bill through congress. The Sumners measure, passed by the house, is blocked, but senators like Reed of Pennsylvania and Pittman of Nevada obviously are trying to salvage all they can ot it.

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

BASKING IN STRANGE GLORY:

Many books of reference still confuse the Carrier with the Homing Pigeon, although the two are entirely distinct species. The so-called Carrier Pigeon has been misnamed. It is a larger bird whose lack of homing ability is due to excessive eye ceres and wattles which interfere with its eyesight. The homing bird's head is convex, its back deep and wide, its bill sturdy and the neck feathered, its strong chest broad and full. Its abdomen is reduced to the smallest proportions, enabling it to fly long distances and to survey the world with brilliant eyes, piercing and all-seeing.

THE TINIEST STEAM ENGINE:

This ingenious contrivance is only one-half inch long and weighs 1-2925 of a pound. The flywheel is about 1-5 of an inch in diameter and its piston rod 1-8 of an inch long. It can turn over as high as15,000 r. p. m.

Jesus Transfigured

Text: Mark 9:2-8, 17, 18, 25-29

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson For April 16

By Wm. E. Gilroy, D. D., Editor Of The Congregationalist

THE story of the Transfiguration belongs to the record of what great moments and great experiences do in giving to men vision, direction and strength in the supreme affairs of life. In our emphasis upon the general process of education, and the development of mind and heart, we are wont to leave out of account these great experiences like that that came to Peter, James and John in the Mount of Transfiguration.

Yet in every life that has been touched with vital experience there has been at least one great moment when life and environment assumed a new meaning because of some great access of vision.

Some of those who listened to Jesus as he proclaimed the truth said, "We never saw it in this fashion." In the few moments of listening to him he had set certain things before them in a new light, just as if they had gone up upon some high peak and seen the surrounding country with a perspective that had never before been possible.

• • •

JUST what was the nature of this experience that the three disciples had on the mountain with Jesus is not revealed to us with any detail. The record is that he was transfigured before them; but what form did that transfiguration take? Apparently there was some physical manifestation in which they saw him in a glorified light, some outward evidence of his uniqueness and greatness that matched the uniqueness of his teaching and the great purposes to which he had called them. In this vision in which Jesus became glorified there was represented, also, the fellowship with the two great historic figures of Israel,—Moses and Elijah.

The disciples were swept off their feet. They hardly knew what to say, and fear came upon them, so tremendous was the experience. Then in the midst of their surprise and fear came a significant voice out of the cloud saying, "This is my beloved Son; hear ye him."

And suddenly they discovered that they were alone with Jesus.

After all that is where we come in the great and enriching experiences of life. They do not lift us into another world that we may remain there. They do not, if the experiences are sound and vital, abolish the life of plain everyday tasks and duties, but suddenly after the enriching experiences that have lifted us out of ourselves into a world of new emotions and transports, we discover that we are back face to face with the realities of life. Blessed are we indeed if in that moment we can discover, also, that we are alone with Jesus, that he is with us still to help us and guide us.

• • •

THE story of the Transfiguration is not a story apart from life. There is a great deal in the records of human life that corresponds to it. Records of outward manifestations and emotional experiences that have come to men and women in times of crucial need in life, that have given them a new vision and a new faith and a new stability for daily living. We may well doubt whether even with faith and heroism men and women who have accomplished great things would have had the power to go on had it not been for the inward or outward help of such revelations. The rationalism that seeks to explain away all such experiences is not true to life, nor is it sound psychology.

Peter, James and John came down from the mount, but they came down to live among men, faithful to the difficult work of discipleship, with a new strength in the vision that was inseparable from memory and experience. We may well emulate their experience on the mount and seek to see the Master transfigured in all his glory, but above all things, let us in that experience make sure that in the awakening to reality, we shall see Jesus only, and find him near to help us when the vision is not so golden nor the transfiguration so manifest.

Muscle Shoals Opponents Heard By Congress Group

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—Fertilizer and power interests today joined in a reiterated demand that congress take out of the Roosevelt Tennessee valley plan all provisions implying possible government competition with their industries.

Spokesmen for each told the House Military committee their industries were expanded far beyond present consumption levels and that only with the air of a subsidy from the treasury could the government compete at Muscle Shoals.

HOUSE PASSES OIL BILL

AUSTIN, April 14 (AP)—The House of the Texas legislature late today passed finally, 102 to 15, a bill to reduce the allowable production from marginal oil wells. The bill would allow the Railroad commission to reduce the per well production from East Texas wells to 20 barrels per day. The present top marginal well allowance is forty barrels per well per day and the bill was introduced after James V. Allred, attorney-general, had expressed doubt that the commission could limit per well production in East Texas to less than this amount.

Side Glances —By George Clark

"They don't think of nothin' but fashions! Why can't women be like us men, and all dress the same?"

Ramsay MacDonald, England's Prime Minister, To Leave For U. S. Today

LONDON, April 14 (AP)—Having completed all his preparations for departure on his notable mission to Washington Saturday, Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald spent the day quietly at Chequers after yesterday's busy activities in connection with the closing session of parliament.

This evening he returned to Downing street ready for an early start tomorrow with his daughter, Ishbel, and the accompanying experts.

Brings Good Will Here

On his far-reaching mission Mr. MacDonald is carrying, as Sir Austen Chamberlain expressed it in the House of Commons, the "good will of the men and women in the Commons and in the country in the task he has set himself of trying to reach a cordial understanding with the great American Republic."

The prime minister hopes to further three objectives:

To strengthen Anglo-American friendship by a candid discussion of everything from economic nationalism to war debts.

To arrive at a common policy on such subjects as tariffs and monetary problems in order to pave the way for a successful world economic conference in London.

To Study World Affairs

To outline the aspects of the threatened European political situations which will arouse American cooperation not in alliances or European entanglements but in a neighborly helpfulness for their solution.

On the subject of tariffs Great Britain will await the lead of the United States and will definitely support a lower world tariff policy.

So far as the European situation is concerned, Mr. MacDonald sees a danger that Europe may again be divided into two armed camps and perhaps into two conflicting camps of political philosophy, with the possibility of a threat to such democratic states as Great Britain, France and the United States.

Venezuela has a gold rush.

Texas House Approves Beer Ballot On August 26; Bill Goes To Senate

proposals. An effort was made in the senate today on two different occasions to bring up a constitutional amendment resolution such as the house adopted, but each time it fell short of the necessary two-thirds majority vote to suspend the regular order of business.

The last time the senate voted it lacked only one vote of having the two-thirds majority. The vote was 19 to 10. The first time the vote was 17 to 10.

Repeal Measure Passed

The senate yesterday passed a house bill providing for a special state-wide election to choose delegates to a state convention that would give Texas' answer to the Congress' question whether the Eighteenth amendment should be repealed. The house had fixed the election up to August 26 this year, the same date selected for the beer referendum.

Because the state constitution forbids the sale of "intoxicating" liquors many legislators were fearful that should they pass a bill to provide for statutory legalization the issue might be raised that beer of 3.2 per cent alcoholic content was in fact "intoxicating" and successfully convince the courts of that contention.

Rules Resorted To

When the house met this morning the bill to legalize sale of beer by statute was pending business, but before it could be brought out a motion that the house resolve itself into a committee of the whole to consider the constitutional amendment resolution was made and prevailed 90 to 52.

After several amendments were put on the resolution, one setting the date of the submission election back to August 26 from July 29 as originally proposed and another providing that political subdivisions that had local option when Texas went constitutionally dry could not take advantage of the beer sale authorization unless it was approved by a vote of the electors of that community, the resolution was reported favorably to the house by viva voce vote.

The house voted 134 to 6 for its final passage after the committee reported it.

Amendments Made

The house amended the beer sale regulatory bill to provide for sale of beer in kegs and by glasses. The bill originally provided only for sale of the beverage in bottles. Opponents of the sale by kegs asserted it would allow for the return of the open saloon. Sponsors of the amendment to permit sale of keg beer argued, however, that sale by bottles would make the beverage unavailable to the poorer classes.

Some floor leaders for the bill had agreed to seek removal of the keg provision when the bill comes up in the senate.

The proposed tax on the beverage was increased from one-half cent to one cent per bottle. The bill also would levy an annual tax of $500 on manufacturers; $200 on jobbers and wholesalers; $100 on persons retailing beer for consumption on the premises where sold and $25 on retailers offering it for consumption off the premises where sold.

License Taxes Win

All efforts to increase the license tax features were defeated.

The bill contained a provision whereby ten per cent of the qualified voters of any political sub-division could force a vote on the question of sale of 3.2 beer. The bill provided that in counties where manufacture and sale was prohibited prosecutions could be maintained if the beverage contained an alcoholic content in excess of one-half of one per cent. The maximum penalty for violation was set at a $500 fine and six months jail sentence. The penalties would be considerably less severe than those now provided under the "bone dry" Dean law, state prohibition statute.

An amendment was adopted which would bar persons, charged with driving a motor vehicle while intoxicated, from using as a defense the claim they had been drinking 3.2 per cent beer.

Representative P. L. Anderson of San Antonio, one of the floor leaders for the bill, accepted the amendment, stating "any man who gets drunk on this stuff ought to be made to pay for it."

Advertising Is Approved

A provision was inserted on amendment by Representative Harold Kayton of San Antonio, legalizing the advertising of beer having an alcoholic content of 3.2 per cent.

Another amendment adopted would prohibit the sale of the beverage to persons under 18 years of age.

An unsuccessful attempt was made to strike out the provision of the bill which prohibit manufacturers and jobbers from owning an interest in retail establishments where the beverage was sold.

Large Crowd At Party At Acuff

Approximately 250 persons from many sections of Lubbock county attended the monthly county farm bureau federation meeting at Acuff last night. Mrs. O. D. Pace was both director of the play and chairman of the local committee of arrangements and following the program coffee and pie was served.

"Dad Comes Across," was the play, with Earnest Railsback, Mrs. Railsback, Myrtle Bennett, Margie Pace, George Seagler and Lu Neta Seagler taking part.

Besides the play, the local program included a chorus by seven girls, a reading by Francis Pace and songs with ukelele accompaniment by Erwin Lovelace.

R. N. McClain, assistant county agent, spoke on "4-H Club Emblem from Standpoint of Citizenship Building," and Mrs. C. Z. Fine spoke on "What the Farm Home Can Mean to Our Communities in Building a 1933 Community Citizenship."

James Burroughs, federation president, opened the program and made a short talk. Among those from Lubbock were: Durwood H. Bradley, Dr. I. E. Barr, Mr. and Mrs. R. N. McClain, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Stangel, Mr. and Mrs. Garnet Reeves and Miss Claudja Ledger of Post, H. L. Gantz, Dr. J. O. Ellsworth and A. S. Meinecke.

The electrical department was another where a talking light beam, an electric organ and a Tesla coil were among the displays. Electromagnetic stunts included "ring the peg."

Women and girls, as well as the men, enjoyed the unexpected "South Plains Cyclone", while the "Fiery Dragon" amused the crowd.

The mechanical and chemical engineering departments had displays of their equipment in operation.

Textile Machinery Running

All of the departments in the textile building were open and machinery in operation. Samples of all the types of cloth turned out by the school were displayed. Looms and spindles were operating and yarn was being spun.

The "Belcher mechanical dog," gave vent to his feelings from time to time in the shops. The powerhouse, fully lighted and operating, was inspected by most of the visitors.

Today's schedule is from 1 o'clock until 10, with all departments open.

ed on Matador field.

Whether this year's competition would be as close as that last year had not been determined yesterday, although contestants were said to be evenly matched. In 1932, Brownfield and Lockney schools tied with 50 points for first place; Lubbock was third with 47 points, and Plainview fourth with 42 1-2 points. Dr. A. W. Evans, director general, estimated attendance of students, teachers, and school patrons totaled about 1,400.

Winners Acclaimed

Wilson, Lockney, Morton and Plainview won first honors in the high school division of declamation, finals in which were conducted in the administration building last night. Lubbock High school placed second in one event.

Winners in the high school division, as reported by Dr. R. E. Garlin, chairman of the committee on medals and awards, were as follows:

Senior boys, Jyles Shaw, Wilson, first; Eugene McNew, Lakeview, second.

Junior boys—Olin Huff, Lockney, first; Louie Welch, Slaton, second.

The track and field events will begin at Matador field at 2 o'clock and probably will be the drawing card for today's crowds.

Their debate for the championship with Misses Sue Brannon and Lois Lair of Littlefield, who drew a bye in the semi-finals, will be in room 302 of Tech administration building.

Semi-final boy debate results — Russell Wilkinson and Alton Hankins of Lubbock defeated R. R. Morgan and Dee Cates of Olton; Darrell Branton and Carl Hyatt of Ralls eliminated Foy Waltrip and Clay Truitt of Bula. A protest of the Ralls-Bula debate was overruled.

Wilkinson and Hankins will meet Branton and Hyatt in the engineering building auditorium this morning for the championship, J. W. Jackson said.

Taxes Form Debate

The debate question is "Resolved, that at least one-half of all state and local revenue in Texas shall be gained from sources other than taxes on tangible property."

Six boys and six girls were named finalists in the two divisions of extemporaneous speech. The contestants were not ranked in the preliminary events, Miss Ruth Pirtle, director, said.

KANSAS CITY REPORT

KANSAS CITY, April 14. (AP)—Limited supplies of fed steers and yearlings in today's trade sold at generally steady levels, a few sales being reported in a spread of 3.75@5.60 and a lead of 1222 lb. steers in Chicago at 6.15. A dependable trade at eastern dressed markets this week produced a fairly active trade in fed steers and yearlings in live weight centers. Several markets reported an increased supply of good to choice grades of all weights as compared with last week's receipts, although highly finished kinds were relatively scarce. More interest was shown in weighty steers of better grades than has been noticed recently but demand continued to center on good to choice lighter weights. As compared with the close of last week, steer and yearling values ranged unevenly steady to 25 or more higher, several points noting 15 to 25 advances on kinds with weight. Chicago scored 7.00 on best lighter weight steers and numerous loads of good to choice kinds, mostly of lighter weight, around the circuit brought 5.50@6.85. Majority of weighty beeves brought 4.75@5.50, although a part load of strictly choice 1350 lb. weights in Chicago scored up to 6.75. Stockers and feeders met a fairly dependable outlet at about steady prices, most replacement steers selling around 3.75@5.25.

Mostly steady prices prevailed on lambs under light to moderate supply at the different markets. Fed woolled and shorn lambs bulked at 4.75@5.65 with a few springers included at 6.00@6.25.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, April 14. (AP)—Hogs 1,300; packing sows 2.25@2.75 or steady.

Cattle 700; calves 300; usual short session Friday; market in slaughter cattle; all classes steady; very good steers 4.60; good fed yearlings 4.50@4.75; butcher sorts 3.50 down; good fat cows up to 2.75, butcher grades 2.00.

WOOL REPORT

BOSTON, April 14. (AP)—The wool market is showing a definitely stronger tone. Wool is moving a little more freely and prices are firmer than earlier in the week. Sales are comprised mostly of fine western grown wools. A fair weight of only average graded French combing 64s and finer territory has been sold at 42@43, scoured basis with good lots held higher. The shorter Texas wool of a year's growth are firm at 42@43, scoured basis, with fair volume moving occasionally.

Local Markets

These prices are furnished by the following Lubbock firms: Poultry—Lubbock Poultry and Egg company, delivered Lubbock; Grain—S. E. Cone Grain and Seed company, following prices being bid by Lubbock grain dealers: Cotton—Blocker Cotton company. All prices subject to change during day.

"I want my telephone put back, please"

HARDLY a day passes but that some person who gave up his telephone service in recent months orders it restored. In many cases, people feel that it is false economy to be without a telephone . . . that the small cost of the service is repaid many times each month in convenience, in time and actually in money saved.

Some miss the close and personal contact with friends that telephone service makes possible. Others mention the loss of many pleasant, impromptu social "get-togethers" when their friends are unable to reach them by telephone.

It is all true . . . what these customer friends of ours say. Telephone service costs so little and its value is so great that in most instances it really doesn't pay to try to do without it.

If you are missing your telephone . . . just get in touch with our business office. We'll send a man out with a telephone in a hurry. Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

With his new plane all ready tuned up for action, Captain Frank Hawks, famous speed flyer, is set for a new attack on existing air records. Above is shown the christening of the plane, "Sky Chief," which has a cruising speed of over 200 miles an hour. Mr. Hawks is cracking the traditional bottle while the proud hubby looks on. In lower photo the plane is shown in flight over the Curtis Airport, New York, and at right Captain Hawks is shown climbing out after a satisfactory trial flight.

Little Sister Mary Has Returned To A Jail Cell

By PAUL CONANT
Central Press Correspondent

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, April 14. —Little Sister Mary is "home" again.

You might not think it is much of a home. There's no radio. No pretty rugs. No drapes at the windows. The windows are barred, with steel bars.

But it's home to Mary—she's lived there 23 years, a voluntary prisoner in the Salt Lake City jail, a woman of mystery, a woman, like Conrad's Lord Jim, always under a cloud.

Tells Her Story

"The Strange Case of Sister Mary" might be the title of this drama of real life. Why did she choose to put herself behind bars? She talks a little about it, but recently she told the whole story, quietly and without emotion.

"When I was a young girl," she said, "I got into bad ways. I learned to like wine too well. For years my life was a nightmare.

"Then, one time, when I was 37, I was sentenced to five days in jail for drunkenness. And I asked to stay there, so I could cure myself of the drink habit.

"And that was more than 23 years ago."

Little Sister Mary was born here March 3, 1872. Few people know it, but her last name is Barker. A strange note of tragedy in her already tragic life was sounded in the world war. Her brother, Ephriam, went overseas with America's fighting forces, and that's the last Mary ever heard of him.

Life Of Sacrifice

The life she has condemned herself to is a life of service and sacrifice. She is known to hundreds of women prisoners to whom she has given little luxuries. She is the friend of lost children waiting at police headquarters for their parents. And policemen she regards as her special friends.

Not long ago Little Sister Mary disappeared. The entire police force was instructed to be on the lookout for her. But she came back by herself, mysteriously and quietly.

"Where have you been?" asked a policeman friend.

"Out," said Little Sister Mary, and that's all she ever did say about it.

Heroism Of Navy Fliers Is Heard

LAKEHURST, N. J., April 14. (AP) —Officers of the naval air station told the court of inquiry today they were ready to sacrifice the blimp J-3 if necessary to rescue 40 survivors of the Akron who, they heard, were clinging to her floating hull at sea.

The session of the inquiry today was devoted to an investigation of the blimp's loss with the death of two men during the search the day after the Akron's crash.

A false report as to the 40 survivors, the court heard, led to a decision to send out the non-rigid ship in the face of weather that was "unfavorable" but that did not make her operation "impossible."

Daughter Of Cullen Thomas Is Married In Puerto Rico

DALLAS, April 14. (AP)—Announcement has been received of the marriage of Mrs. Doyle Lee Eastland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cullen F. Thomas of Dallas, to William Allison Powe of San Juan, Puerto Rico, last Wednesday. The bride, who was formerly Miss Margaret Thomas, was visiting in San Juan. The couple will make their home in San Juan. Powe is a civil engineer and a graduate of the University of Mississippi. Mrs. Powe attended Randolph Macon college and Baylor university. She had made her home at Waco since her marriage to Eastland, who died four years ago.

Contributions To Pay Cost Of Oklahoma's Beer Ballot

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 14. (AP) —A bill providing for payment of the costs of a referendum election on legalization of 3.2 beer in Oklahoma by contribution was passed by the senate today and sent to the house.

Contributions may be made to a special fund authorized in the state treasurer's office.

Advocates of the referendum awaited Governor Murray's action on the bill calling the election, on which the governor contends his signature is not necessary and which he has only to file with the secretary of state.

ULSTER RACES IN JEOPARDY

Whether Northern Ireland will be affected by the recent ban on totalisators at dog races in England, is being seriously discussed in Belfast. Officials of tracks declare that they are uncertain as to whether the ban extends to Ulster, and they may postpone all meets until the matter is cleared.

PLAN TELESCOPE CHAIN

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — Plans for a chain of coin-operated telescopes to be placed in strategic points throughout the country are being made by a company here. Thousands have used the telescopes on the Empire State building tower in New York City, the company reports, and the instruments have paid for the cost in less than two months.

The state high school basketball tournament in Indianapolis drew a crowd of more than $30,000 for the two sessions in two days.

Bank Bandits Elude Police

Search For Muleshoe Robbers Fruitless Thus Far; Total Amount Stolen Is $1,642.27 Revised Report Shows

(Special To The Avalanche)

MULESHOE, April 14. — Having found neither a trace of two masked gunmen who Thursday afternoon held up the Muleshoe State bank nor of an automobile in which they escaped, Bailey county and other peace officers late this afternoon evidently were investigating at random.

A revised estimate of the amount taken by the bandits, who locked three bank employes in a vault and outsped two pursuers, set it at $1,642.27, the sheriff's department at Muleshoe reported today.

New Bills In Loot

Seven hundred dollars of the loot was in new $1 bills which had not been unwrapped.

The yellow-wheeled coach in which the getaway was effected was believed last seen late Thursday at Luzbuddy, 20 miles northeast of Muleshoe, officers said.

Lubbock and Crosby county sheriffs' departments this afternoon reported no results in the search.

Upswing Noted For Past Week

Dun And Bradstreet Announce Seasonal Trends Advancing As Fewer Relief Receivers Are Tabulated In U. S.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 14—Influenced by the expanding force of an upward seasonal trend, developments this week "have contributed constructively to the broader forward movement in nearly all branches of trade," Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., reported today.

"Progress has been spurred," the review stated, "by the appearance of indices to show that expansion now is resting on a solid base which will fortify it against any abrupt setbacks of recessions, other than those of brief duration.

"While trade expansion during the week was most marked in wholesale and retail distribution, there was a reflection of higher manufacturing schedules and a decrease in the number of relief beneficiaries which dropped for the first time since fall."

Arms Embargo Plan Of FDR Attacked In House By GOP

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—The House today resumed consideration of the administration's arms embargo resolution with Representative McFadden continuing the Republican attack on the measure by asserting that "it is of British origin" and will lead to war.

Representative McGugun of Kansas, another Republican, joined the Pennsylvanian in saying that the "question is whether we are going to put into the hands of the President the power to do that which will inevitably lead to war."

Marble Boards Called Game Of Skill By Federal Judge

SHERMAN, April 14 (AP)—Randolph Bryant, Federal judge, in a decree filed today ruled that marble machines "in themselves" were legal and could not be confiscated by peace officers.

The ruling was made in the injunction suit of a Tulsa amusement company against James C. Allred, attorney-general of Texas; J. B. Davis, sheriff, and Hubert Bookout, district attorney. The suit was dismissed when the defendants said none of the machines had been confiscated.

The judge ruled that the machines as described in the bill of complaint were for amusement and "games of skill."

Vidors Battle About Divorce

Motion Picture Director And Wife, Eleanor Boardman, In Court; $500 Alimony Given Former Cinema Star

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, April 14—King Vidor's lawyer gave notice in court today he would file a written motion to vacate the proceeding whereby the film director's wife, Eleanor Boardman, actress, obtained a divorce three days ago.

Pending decision on this motion, Superior Judge Dudley Valentine said he would defer signing the divorce decree.

Vidors Both In Court

Both the actress and Vidor were present as counsel for the latter attacked a court order that he pay $500 a month for support of the couple's two young children. The court ruled, however, that inasmuch as Vidor was reported to be earning $10,000 a month, the $500 a month payment was not too high.

Representing Vidor, Attorney Ralph H. Blum contended Miss Boardman had promised not to charge infidelity in her complaint and that Vidor, relying on this promise, did not contest the suit. During the recent hearing, however, she testified she and a detective surprised Vidor informally clad in the apartment of Betty Hill, a studio employe. Seeking to reopen the entire case, Vidor denied the charges and demanded the right to contest the divorce on this basis.
