

Tower Looks For Surprises From New Congress

By U. S. Sen. John Tower
Written for UPI

The first session of the 89th Congress will, I believe, reveal some surprises for political observers.

It is widely assumed that the new Congress will react somewhat as a rubber stamp for the administration, and that the net effect of this will be the enactment of a great deal of extremely liberal legislation.

These assumptions may not prove correct when the actual voting begins. In fact, I believe we may well see a surprising "conservative" coloration to much of the legislation that is finally enacted.

This may seem strange in view of the recent election, but a careful analysis will indicate at least the possibility, and, indeed, the probability, that such will be the case. For instance, during the campaign, the pollsters were quite accurate in most instances. While they did make mistakes in certain instances, we must say that on the whole the reputable pollsters were not far from the mark. The important thing for our consideration here, however, is that while the polls indicated Mr. Johnson was going to win handily, they also showed that a majority of the American people are basically conservative. The polls indicated, for instance, that the American people are concerned about the growth of central government, that they are concerned about the rising crime rate. They feel it is not unconstitutional for children to pray in public schools and that government spending ought to be watched closely. In short, the polls reflected that more Americans considered themselves conservative than liberal.

Harris Poll

For instance, the Lou Harris poll, taken shortly before the election, indicated that 35 per cent of the American voters consider themselves conservative, while only 20 per cent consider themselves liberal. The middle road claimed 44 per cent of American voters. Strangely enough, 25 per cent of the American voters thought Mr. Johnson as a conservative. Thirty-nine per cent of the voters thought of Mr. Goldwater as a conservative, while 5 per cent thought of him as a liberal.

Regardless of the confusion in the minds of the voter when he went to the polls, as to where the candidates stood in our political spectrum, one thing is certain:

The American voter identifies himself more closely with the conservative political philosophy than he does the liberal. And regardless of what may be (See TOWER, Page 3)

Injured Fliers Rout Guerrillas

SAIGON (UPI) — Four injured GI's fought off more than 40 Viet Cong guerrillas Friday after their crippled helicopter crash-landed into a "hornet's nest" of Communist troops, an American military spokesman reported Saturday.

"When we stepped out of the copter it was like stepping right on a hornet's nest — only worse," the helicopter's pilot, Chief Warrant Officer Bobby D. Scott, said.

The 30-year-old warrant officer, of Columbus, Ga., was resting comfortably in a Saigon navy hospital Saturday with a wrenched back which was described as not serious.

Suffer Minor Injuries

Scott and three other American crewmen were on board an HUH-1B helicopter which crashed due to mechanical failure some 70 miles southwest of Saigon Friday.

The crew members, treated for minor injuries, were identified as co-pilot Melvin L. Patterson, 24, of Thomasville, N.C.; and gunners Socr. S. James N. Smith, 46, of Labor City, N.C.

and Sgt. Nolan R. Eubanks, 30, of Barnwell, S. C.

"At first I thought we had ground fire. There was a loud explosion like a backfire, and then the ship began to vibrate," Scott said.

Scott said that after the first explosion raked the chopper he radioed the nearby airfield at Can Tho and with his power gone he began to auto-rotate the crippled craft to the ground.

More Explosions

"Then I heard two more loud explosions, and the helo really began to vibrate. I turned with the wind to get the maximum distance from the tree line," (the favored hiding places for Communist guerrillas in the delta flatlands) southwest of the capital.

"By this time we were descending at the rate of 1700 feet per minute. At approximately 25 feet my air speed almost stopped."

"I pulled switch," he said referring to the helicopter's pitch control, "and we landed — hard!"

"Within 30 seconds after set-down we received small arms fire from the woods, about 500 to 600 yards from the ship."

"We went into action fast. We hauled out the ship's weapons," which he said were three machine guns and a deadly Colt Armalite. He said he "exploded a location grenade" and then he and his crew "started suppressive fire."

Completely surrounded, Scott said about 40 guerrillas had the Americans "completely surrounded."

"Sure, we were scared, but even so I've never seen a crew remain so cool-headed under fire," Scott said of his fellow crewmen.

Gromyko, Rusk Talks Fizzle Out

NEW YORK (UPI) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk today held "inconclusive" talks Saturday with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko on a compromise plan to break the deadlock on Russia's $52.6 million U.N. debt.

But a U.S. spokesman said the plan, introduced by General Assembly President Alex Quaison-Sackey of Ghana: "That idea is still alive."

Rusk and Gromyko, in their fifth meeting this month, also ranged over disarmament, Southeast Asia, and other questions.

U.S. sources said the United States brought up the questions of observation posts on both sides of the Iron Curtain, mutual reduction of arms budgets, and the non-proliferation of nuclear weapons in the arms talks.

MLF Not Discussed

The question of the U.S. support of multilateral nuclear force (MLF), which Russia opposes, was not discussed.

On Viet Nam and Laos, the spokesman said, Rusk took the traditional U.S. position that the Soviet Union should use whatever influence it has to stop Communist aggression in those countries.

The spokesman said Rusk had not intended to bring up the issue of U.N. financing. The initiative, he said, apparently came from the Soviet side.

Egyptian Jet Shoots Down U.S. Oil Plane

CAIRO, U.A.R. (UPI) — Egyptian jet fighter planes reportedly shot down an Esso Oil Company plane Saturday south of Alexandria on the Mediterranean Coast. Two unidentified bodies were found in the wreckage.

Reliable sources said the plane was shot down by a Russian-made MIG fighter of the United Arab Republic air force. However, the plane was shot down, saying it was forced down. There was no explanation.

LBJ To Study Budget At Ranch

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson will leave for a Christmas-in-Texas holiday Sunday but most of his time there will be spent in an item-by-item economy review of his new federal budget, the White House announced Saturday.

He will take budget director Kenneth Gordon to his LBJ ranch near Johnson City along with a foot locker and two big cardboard boxes filled with data needed for the budget review.

White House press secretary George Reedy said Mrs. Johnson and daughter Luci also will go along but older daughter Lynda will remain here a few days.

The President will stay in Texas until after Christmas. Except for time off for the holiday itself, he will be deciding what to do in the way of fiscal 1965 budget surgery.

Reedy said Johnson was determined to cut the budget as "prudently as he possibly can." That will be a tough job. In early September and October, government agencies submitted their first money requests for the new year. The total came to $163 billion.

What Johnson is now faced with, Reedy said, is the job of cutting the requests, plus deciding what new legislative programs to recommend.

To do the job, Reedy said, the Chief Executive will go over the budget "on a line-by-line, item-by-item basis." Since substantive changes are virtually impossible after New Year's Day, he is expected to have made his final decisions on what and where to spend by the time he returns to the White House.

One White House budget expert put it this way: In prospect, he said, is a "very intensive period of budgetary surgery" — with the President taking hold as chief surgeon.

$5-Million Fire Sweeps Nieman-Marcus in Dallas

24 Lives Taken As Fires Spread Across Nation

By United Press International

Fires in seven states Saturday claimed at least 24 lives. Michigan had six fire deaths and North Carolina and Arkansas five each. Washington and Illinois three each and Pennsylvania and South Dakota each reported one.

Friday 20 persons perished in a nursing home fire at Fountain, Ind., and four died when flames swept an employees' dormitory at a Winfield, Ill., nursing home.

Six of the nine children of Elbert and Marie Cox lost their lives when flames destroyed their two-story home at the Detroit suburb of Warren, Mich. The children's mother was critically burned.

Five of the 12 children of Dwayne Lafferty perished in flames which consumed their rural home near Marked Tree, Ark. Lafferty and his wife suffered minor burns.

Five children died when flames destroyed their frame home near Kinston, N.C. Their mother, Mrs. Berda Spence, escaped without injury from the burning tenant house.

Three of the five children of Ray Kealy were killed in a fire which razed their home at Seattle, Wash. Kealy, his wife and the other two children were injured.

At Olney, Ill., farmer Frank Price died of burns received when an oil heating device exploded as he attempted to thaw a frozen livestock watering tank.

In Chicago Mrs. Isobel Conrad, almost blind and partially paralyzed, burned to death when her dressing gown caught fire.

Firemen Overcome in 5-Alarm Spectacular

DALLAS (UPI) — The children's wear section of internationally known Neiman-Marcus, where "his" and "her" balloons for adults were $6,850 Christmas specials, was hardest hit Saturday by a five-alarm fire that caused millions of dollars damage on the biggest sales day of the year.

Three snorkel units among the 30 major pieces of equipment checked the flames on upper floors of the seven-story landmark in the heart of downtown Dallas.

Five of the 400 firemen were overcome by smoke, one hit by a falling marble slab on the leg, and another cut on the hand. All recovered swiftly.

Damage was estimated between $5 million and $10 million by one of the store's owners.

For more than five hours, black, acrid smoke billowed high into the downtown Dallas sky. Flames rose 60 feet in the air.

"Today would have been the biggest day of the Christmas season," store President Stanley Marcus said.

His brother, Edward, the renowned specialty store's executive vice president, made the damage estimate.

Most heavily damaged were the store's 5th and 7th floors—the children's wear department and offices.

The fire broke out at 3:32 a.m. CST and quickly spread to five alarms as big as a fire can get in Dallas.

Snorkel trucks with their crane hoists jutting 30 and 40 feet skyward sloshed 15,000 gallons of water per minute on the fire.

The flow of water was so heavy that 40 firemen had to be temporarily removed from the 5th floor.

"We were afraid the floor might collapse," Fire Chief C. N. Penn said.

The fire caused damage on each floor. Escalators and elevator shafts served as flues drawing up the flames. The fire hit both ends of the store.

"If the fire walls had gone it would have been worse," Penn said.

Penn said the cause of the fire had not been determined. When asked about the possibility of an electrical short in an elevator he said "that sounds like a good bet."

Stanley Marcus said all Christmas packages ordered were shipped to the store's warehouse Friday for delivery, and were safe.

Neiman-Marcus is famous all over the world as the "oil millionaire's general store." Lady Bird Johnson has ordered her inaugural gown from the store. It was not believed to be in the store at the time of the fire.

Kerr to Speak To NYF Clinic

Dr. Walter Kerr, director of the National Youth Foundation, has been selected as the principal speaker for the 7th annual Career Clinic scheduled Feb. 17 at Pampa High School.

Kerr, recognized as one of the foremost youth leaders today, was a member of the Texas Training School which conducted one of the most extensive studies of juvenile delinquency ever undertaken.

He has served on the National Advisory Committee for State and Local Action of the White Conference on Children and Youth. As vice chairman of the committee, he made a personal study and investigation of the training and reform schools throughout the country.

The clinic will offer students 101 different vocational roundtables conducted by 76 consultants.

A special roundtable for parents has been added this year. This session will be conducted by representatives from various colleges and universities. They will inform parents on requirements and preparations needed for entry to college.

The clinic, sponsored by the Altrusa Club, Junior Chamber of Commerce and Pampa High School is designed to inform students on qualifications, salary, future and etc., on vocations they choose.

A consultant or expert in 101 different types of vocations will be invited to conduct workshop on that type of work. Dr. Kerr will address a general assembly of consultants, students and parents at 1:30 p.m.

Pampa's Underprivileged Children Buy Yule Presents for Their Families

Twenty-five underprivileged children of Pampa will celebrate a happy Christmas this year, thanks to Pampa merchants and civic clubs.

The kids were taken on a shopping tour Saturday and allowed to buy Christmas presents for their families.

Twenty-five volunteer families adopted one child for the afternoon.

They were first brought to the First Methodist Church where each child was given $1.50 for each person on his gift list.

They were then taken over the city on the shopping tour. Following the tour, the children were brought back to the church where they wrapped the gifts and were guests of the Jaycees for a Christmas Party.

The kids were then taken back home with their Christmas presents.

Besides the Jaycees and Jaycee-Ettes others taking part included the Builders Class of the First Christian Church, Bethany Bible Class, First Christian Church, Sundown Opt-Mrs. B&PW, Loyal Men's Class and Loyal Women's Class of First Christian, and Evening Kiwanis club.

Officials in charge of the tour said the children received "excellent treatment" in the stores. "The merchants and clerks took as much time to help a child select a 50-cent toy as they would if the child had a million dollars to spend."

IS YOUR DOG A WORRY WART?

'Vets' Discuss Pooch's Ability to Think and Reason

By RAY RODGERS

If you know a dog owner who happens to be a veterinarian, he probably is suffering.

Dogs are immune to the common cold, insomnia and appendicitis, but can and do suffer most all other human ailments.

A dog whose owner is a hypochondriac probably assumes most of his master's neuroses. These things are revealed in a visit with local veterinarians.

For instance—if a person is short tempered and nervous, if the master is quiet and bashful, chances are his pooch is much the same way.

pets to fit their temperament. The controversial question of whether dogs can think and reason prompted quick comments from local veterinarians.

One doctor said dogs can think, "sometimes almost as well as humans."

He cited a case where a dog was put into a fenced back yard. At one corner of the enclosure was a ladder. The pooch looked at the ladder, climbed on it and jumped over the fence. Without the ladder it would have been too high for the dog to scale. Did the dog think up the solution to his problem?

Another veterinarian cited a case where a dog, crippled with arthritis was brought to him for a shot. The medicine cleared up the arthritis temporarily. In several weeks when there was a recurrence, the dog hobbled back to the doctor's office scratched on the door and indicated he wanted another shot.

One vet denied the widespread belief dogs don't worry.

"They do," he said. "Not of course, about the same things humans do but they are often concerned about poor health and they experience real loneliness." This, he said, becomes evident when a dog is taken from his family and left in a kennel.

Another thing vets said they have never heard of is a dog having suicidal tendencies. "Sometimes they get killed just because they don't think," said one doctor.

The animal doctors also notice that when an outbreak of any one disease is reported in humans, the same thing occurs in the canine world.

When a hospital for instance, reports an outbreak of pneumonia, vets say they are deluged with ailing dogs suffering from the same thing.

This is explained because most diseases are transmitted from a person to a dog as easily as from a person to person.

The wide-spread belief that dogs are naturally healthy is a gross misconception, local vets say. Dogs are as much susceptible to disease as are humans.

Another wide-spread misconception is that dogs are (See VETS, Page 3)

Yule Gifts Should Be Chosen Carefully

By DAVID NYDICK
UP. Editor

A great deal of money goes into children's gifts, especially during this time of the year. These gifts should be carefully chosen so that they will be enjoyable, appropriate, and useful.

An ideal gift must be chosen in light of an individual's age, ability, interests and personality. The closer a gift meets these needs, the more likely it will become a favorite plaything.

Many people think that all toys are enjoyable to all children. This is far from true. You probably know of many cases where an expensive doll is discarded and an old rag-doll remains as a continuing favorite. Discouraging? It shouldn't be. Adults do similar things. Apparently there is security in familiar items.

Make an effort to choose a gift which is suited to the type of individual and his interests. Don't buy a quiet game for an extremely active child who spends most of his time on the ballfield. It also is wrong to buy a baseball glove for a child who dislikes the game or who may have no opportunity to play the game.

A gift is more appropriate when it is proper for the age level and reasonable for the particular home. A toy or game which is too difficult for the child will end up on the shelf. Complicated instructions are not good for the normal first grader. A 12-year-old girl may not be interested in a play stove if she participates in actual cooking. Clamp roller skates may not be appropriate for a 15-year-old who is used to shoe skates at a roller rink.

Many people feel that a gift should not be useful. They should consider that usefulness often creates interest. A pull toy can be most valuable for a child just learning to walk. A model kit which is not too difficult will develop a child's ability to follow instructions and work with small details.

Many educational toys aid in the development of academic skills. You may notice that many items are marked for particular age levels. The only caution is to consider the individual child's development which may or may not be average for his age. Books are excellent gifts for some children.

A well chosen gift will be greatly appreciated. Its value is not necessarily related to the actual cost. An inexpensive gift can bring many hours of pleasure and enjoyment. Recognize that a little investigation and thought will increase the quality and sincerity of any gift.

Spontaneous ignition of paint-soaked rags has burned many a new house before the family could move in.

LOYALTY

DENVER (UPI) — When seventh grade teacher Mrs. Ruth Jeffs was forced to take down political signs from her classroom, her students — who had made the signs in preparation for a mock political convention — rallied behind her. They forgot their partisan views and joined together in support of Mrs. Jeffs. Up came new posters at Merrill Junior High School — "Unfair to Mr. effs" and "Uren't We Suppose to Think?" Commented Mrs. Jeffs: "I don't think I've ever been so popular with the students."

Christmas Hints

CHRISTMAS SHOPPING this year can be easier and more enjoyable if you learn the layout of the store in advance. Save time by knowing in which department to look for items and make friends with good salespeople who will often let you know when something special is available.

A GOOD MEMORY goes a long way when Christmas shopping, especially while you are trying to remember what sock size Jimmy wears or what size slip Judy takes. But if you have a master list with everyone's sizes and preferences jotted down, you can let your memory relax and focus your attention on getting the best buys.

MOST STORES are stocked way in advance for Christmas, so you'll find the best and the most if you shop early. But before you start shopping, be sure you've finished planning. Know what you want to pay and how you're going to pay. A member company of the National Consumer Finance Association can help you finance those extra gifts or consolidate your bills after Christmas.

Big Three Ready For Berlin Talks

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States, Britain and France have told Russia they are ready to hold "informal" four-power meetings in Berlin on problems involving the whole of Berlin, officials here said Saturday.

The Allied statement was made Thursday to the Soviet liaison office in East Berlin in a reply to an earlier vague Soviet overture suggesting four-power meetings.

The Allies suggested that such regular talks be held alternately in East and West Berlin.

There have been no regular meetings among the four Berlin occupation powers since 1949 when the Russians walked out of the Allied Kommandatura just before they precipitated the Berlin blockade.

Extremely Vague
The recent Soviet overture was said to have been made by one or more Soviet diplomats in Berlin to Allied officials. It was extremely vague. Western officials suspected the Russians meant the talks to apply only to West Berlin.

The Russians have rejected Western claims that East Berlin also is legally under four-power control.

The Russians also indicated they felt that four-power contacts should take place only in West Berlin.

The State Department said last Monday it was studying the Soviet approach "to determine whether it offers possibilities for useful discussions among the four powers on questions relating to Berlin as a whole, since the city has four-power status."

Matters Confused
To confuse matters more, the Russians a day or so later put out a statement in effect denying they had made any approach or proposal at all.

The Allies thus were replying to a Soviet "offer" which may have no longer been in existence. And the Allied insistence on talks in both halves of Berlin and dealing with both halves of Berlin may be unacceptable to the Russians.

Diplomats here said there was nothing to do but wait and see whether anything comes of it.

Two Injured In Accidents

Pampa's injury accident total for the year was boosted a couple of notches this weekend when two separate accidents injured two persons.

The first accident occurred at 12:02 p.m. Friday at the intersection of Hobart and 17th.

Driver of one vehicle was Irene E. Minatre, 46, 913 Banks and driver of the other was Laura E. Imel, 65, of 1701 Charles.

Mrs. Imel was treated and released for minor injuries at a local doctors clinic.

Damage to both vehicles was estimated at $1,400.

The second accident occurred at 11:49 a.m. Saturday near the intersection of Russell and Foster.

Injured was Gary Dooley, 12, a passenger in a car driven by his mother, Mrs. Delores H. Dooley, 34, of 1617 N. Faulkner. Driver of the other car was Anthony Hernandez, 20, of 1213 Ripley. He was not injured.

Pampa Man Gets Suspended Term

District Judge Lewis M. Goodrich sentenced a Pampa man to a two year suspended sentence Friday afternoon during proceedings in 31st District Court.

The sentence was meted to Joe Williams after he pleaded guilty to charges of burglary.

In another case Friday, Goodrich placed Tommy Woodward of Pampa under more strict parole regulations after being accused of violating an earlier parole for car theft.

STUFFING — Members of the Pampa Key Club Saturday helped prepare 8,000 mailers which will be sent to local residents in a plea for the March of Dimes drive. The campaign literature being stuffed by Key Clubmen include a brochure, a return envelope and the outside envelope. Working on the project seated from left are John Curry, chairman, and Billy Ragsdale. Standing is David Taylor.

Rebels Regain Most of Paulis

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI)—Congolese rebels armed by other African states recaptured most of the key north-eastern Congo town of Paulis Saturday. Other rebels were reported massing for a strike on Katanga Province in the south-east.

Government authorities said new arms and ammunition apparently reaching the rebels through neighboring country had spurred the rebel resurgence. Communist China, Algeria, the United Arab Republic and Sudan have been reported aiding the Communist-led insurgents.

Premier Moise Tshombe, expected back here soon from a European tour, said in Rome only last week that the rebellion had ended and that the Congolese central government expected soon to reestablish control over all of the Congo. Reports reaching Leopoldville Saturday said only the airport, mission station and a small part of the business district of Paulis were still held by the 47 white mercenaries and 200 government troops battling the rebels. Military sources called the government position "uncertain."

said and written by politicians and political pundits, you may rest assured that the desire for re-election will moderate a good bit of the disposition toward wildness on the part of some of our more extreme liberals.

This is not say that President Johnson will not be able to push through almost any legislation he seriously wants enacted. And in all probability he will force enactment of certain key pieces of legislation that will be sought by groups which backed the President in the recent election. But it is known that he is an avid reader of the polls, and, as I said earlier, the polls do not reflect overwhelming confidence in the liberal position.

With that background, I believe I can safely predict the following in the field of major legislation:
Taxation—Congress will move in accord with long-time conservative desires to cut excise taxes. Such cuts were proposed by congressional conservatives last spring, but were beaten then by the Johnson administration. I expect the cuts to be made this year.

Education—Congress will move to make more money available for support of education at all levels. I expect the tax-credit plan for education expenses to be proposed again in much the same form as I presented it last spring. The tax-credit plan would keep in the hand of parents money to be used for education. It is the only plan thus far put forward which preserves desirable local control of education and also avoids the pitfalls of the church-state constitutional issue. The tax-credit approach was narrowly defeated in the Senate last year by last-minute vote switches.

Social Security—Congress will pass early in the session a Social Security bill granting beneficiaries a 5 per cent cost-of-living increase. Such a bill was supported by congressional Republicans last fall. It died when the administration insisted that it be coupled with the highly controversial Medicare proposal.

conception is that dog requires bones to chew on. "No," said one vet, "chewing on bones results in broken teeth, constipation and puncture of the intestinal tract among other things. Probably the most widely believed misconception about dogs is that a raw egg makes their coat shiny, according to local veterinarians.

"This simply is not true," they agreed. Actually raw eggs are indigestible and if you feed them to your pooch, for heavens sake, cook them, they said.

On the local scene the expression "lucky dog" does not hold true. There are many more dogs than there are people to befriend them.

And if there's anything to the old saying "a boy needs a dog," the vets say the reverse is just as applicable — a dog needs a boy.

Two Injured In Collision

Icy roads were blamed on a car-truck collision nine miles west of Pampa Saturday that sent two persons to the hospital.

The accident occurred about 10 a.m. on State 132 when an automobile driven by 21-year-old Pat A. Hogan of Pampa skidded into the path of an oncoming truck.

Highway Patrolman Paul Geiser said Miss Hogan lost control of her car when she hit a slick spot on an incline.

The driver of the truck, Lloyd Timms, 1304 Foster, was not injured.

Miss Hogan and a passenger in her vehicle, Sandra Meloche, 18, of Skellytown were taken to Highland General Hospital by ambulance.

Miss Hogan was admitted for treatment and was listed in good condition and Miss Meloche was treated for cuts and bruises and released.

Fire Damages Local House

Heavy damage was reported to one room of a wood frame house at 602 N. West Saturday morning when fire erupted at 10:22 a.m.

Firemen said heavy damage occurred to the kitchen and smoke damage was inflicted to the remainder of the house as a result of the blaze. The fire was blamed on a pan of grease sitting on a kitchen stove which caught fire. Owner of the house was R. L. Pugh.

At 10:39 a.m., heavy damage to the interior of a 1951 Mercury was reported from a fire of unknown origin. Owner of the vehicle was Dub Adkins.

Light damage was reported from a fire on an oil tank of a truck parked at Atlas Tank Co., 619 S. Cuyler.

Ballot Fails Again

ROME (UPI) — The Italian Parliament failed on a seventh ballot today to elect a new president for the country.

Official Christian Democratic party (CDP) candidate Giovanni Leone polled 313 votes, Communist Umberto Terracini 251, Social Democrat Giuseppe Saragat 138 and dissident CDP candidate Amintore Fanfani 132.

Obituaries

John White

Bartlesville, Okla. — Services will be held Monday at 10 a.m. in Arnold Moore Memory Chapel for John (Blackie) White, 77, former Pampa resident who died Friday.

Mr. White was born November 26, 1887 in Wyandotte, Okla., and moved to Pampa in 1924 where he worked as a teamster in the oil fields.

He returned to Oklahoma in 1948 and retired from the oil fields in 1956. He was a member of the Calvary Gospel Mission.

Survivors include his wife of the home; a son, George of Bartlesville; one step-son, Robert Barnes, Lawton, Okla.; four stepdaughters, Mrs. Ira Clapp, Mrs. Everette Bowline and Mrs. Arnold Garner, all of Bartlesville; Mrs. Walker Clay, Arkansas City, Kan.; three nieces, Mrs. Mock Taylor, Mrs. Floyd Callis and Mrs. Joe Neil, all of Pampa; two nephews, George W. and James Brothers, both of Pampa.

Howard C. VanBibber

Funeral services for Howard C. VanBibber, 72, White Deer, will be conducted at 2 p.m. tomorrow in Duenkel - Carmichael Funeral Home Chapel with Rev. Oland Butler, pastor of White Deer First Methodist Church, officiating, assisted by Father Jerome Hancox of White Deer Sacred Heart Catholic Church. Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery.

Mr. VanBibber died yesterday afternoon in a local hospital.

Mr. VanBibber was born March 14, 1892 in Greenup, Ky., and moved to White Deer with his parents in 1907. He has been a farmer in the White Deer area since that time. Mr. VanBibber was a member of White Deer First Christian Church and a veteran of World War One.

Surviving are his wife, Julia, of the home; one son, Vernon VanBibber of White Deer and one nephew, Andrew J. VanBibber of Tulsa, Okla.

Memorials may be sent to the cancer fund.

Pampa Police Hunt Burglars

Pampa police were busy this weekend probing the theft of approximately $70 of automobile parts and accessories from Gunter's Auto Salvage, 1237 Barnes.

The thieves entered the building by breaking out a window pane between 6 p.m. Friday and 11:30 a.m. Saturday.

Missing were three radiators, two wheels, set of wrenches and a timing light.

Valued on the stolen items was estimated at $80.50.

MISSILES LARGE TARGET

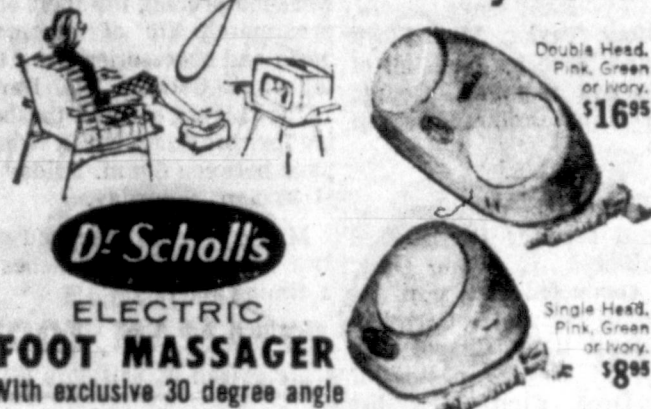

HAMILTON, Ont. (UPI)—Edward Robinson, 24, was charged with attempted murder Thursday when he took a shot from close range at a 300-pound bouncer in a tavern and missed.

Ronald Lush, the bouncer, told police he had ejected Robinson earlier because of complaints about the man's abusive language.

The American Federation of Labor was formed in 1886.

Center Wrap-Up

George Smith, Director
Pampa Youth and Community Center

With the Christmas holidays coming up for school children the Center will be open more hours for leisure time activities. On December 23, 28, 30 and 31 the Center will open from 1 p.m. to 10 p.m.

On other days we will follow our regular schedule. The swimming pool hours will be the usual schedule. Please check the daily schedule which appears in this paper.

New swim classes will be offered starting Jan. 4 in the form of polywog and the intermediates will meet at 5 p.m. Classes run for 10 meetings. Polywogs are pre-schoolers from four to five years of age not in school. Center members will be enrolled free of charge while non-members will pay an instructional fee of $3. Enrollment is now going on and until Jan. 5.

After the new year a new class will be taught at the Center on Monday nights.

On Jan. 4, 1965 a fencing class will start. This class will be under the direction of Joe Pafford. This will be something unique in that fencing has never been offered in Pampa before this date. If you are interested you can receive more information by calling Pafford at MO 4-2581. Mr. Pafford will explain the class and order any equipment for the class.

Also we are still trying to get enough people to enroll for a tumbling class which will be taught by Al Slaughter of Pampa. Mr. Slaughter is the Dolphin Swim Team Coach. Any age group may enroll for these lessons but there is a need for at least 12 persons before the class will start.

At present we have some eight persons enrolled. You need only be a Center to take these lessons. Memberships would make nice Christmas gifts. Individual membership are $5 for six months and $8 per year while family memberships are $12 and $20 respectively.

Loquat trees will not grow in salty soil.

West Berliners Pay 75 Cents To Cross Russian Wall

BERLIN (UPI)—Thousands of West Berliners, paying a 75 cent entrance fee, crossed through special gates in the Communist wall Saturday to visit relatives in the Eastern sector for the holidays.

It was the first day of a two-week period during which the Communists will allow visits to relatives in East Berlin.

TEACHER TAKES TIRES

CHICO, Calif. (UPI)—Sydney Schwartz, 45, the driver education instructor for the Chico city school district, pleaded guilty in district court Wednesday on a charge of taking four new tires from the driver education car.

PARTY PREPARATIONS—Mrs. Jake Webb, left, and Mrs. Jim Osborne were busy Saturday afternoon preparing for the annual Christmas party for underprivileged youngsters of Pampa. The party was held for the kids after they went on a shopping tour for members of their families. After the tour, the youngsters wrapped the presents and then joined in the party.

FEARED DROWNED

HAKODATE, Japan (UPI)—Nine fishermen were feared drowned Saturday in stormy, snow-swept seas off Matsumae in southern Hokkaido, the northernmost of Japan's four major islands.

An empty lifeboat and fish containers from the 75-ton fish transport vessel Kikko-Maru No. 3 were found floating in the waters off Matsumae.

BUYS MANUSCRIPT

LONDON (UPI)—Adrian Conan Doyle, 52-year-old son of the creator of Sherlock Holmes, has paid $12,600 at an auction here for the only known original manuscript of one of his father's stories.

The manuscript of "The Adventure of the Greek Interpreter" came up for sale at Christie's Auction Gallery.

President's Election Tops News Stories; Nikita's Firing Second

NEW YORK (UPI)—President Johnson's landslide election victory topped the list of "ten biggest stories of 1964" in the annual poll of editors by United Press International.

The Johnson victory was followed closely by the ouster of Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev in the vote of subscribers in the United States and Canada.

The 1964 winners were:
1. Johnson landslide.
2. Khrushchev deposed.
3. Civil Rights act becomes law.
4. War in Viet Nam; U.S. retaliates in Tonkin Bay.
5. Communist China detonates its first nuclear device.
6. Goldwater captures GOP nomination.

7. Negro rioting in northern cities.

One Way To Be Short

OSWESTRY, England (UPI)—A spunky teenage girl who grew to a height of 6 feet 7½ inches is undergoing a series of bone operations to make her a half foot shorter, it was reported Saturday.

Joking about the problems she has had because of her height, 19-year-old Ann Rowston quipped: "Small boys used to ask me 'What's the weather like up there?'"

Looking ahead to the last of four operations in which doctors are removing bones from her legs, the girl said "This will be a great Christmas."

She has undergone three operations in the last three months.

A spokesman at the Oswestry Orthopedic Hospital said she was making satisfactory progress but it was too early to tell if the operations would be successful.

The auburn-haired girl is hospitalized with both her legs in plaster casts.

After the fourth operation, for which the date has not been set, Miss Rowston will be 6 feet 1 inch tall.

"When this is all over I hope to lead the same sort of life as any other girl," she said.

Lost, strayed or stolen one grass drill belonging to the Gray County 4-H Club boys. It is missing from the County lot where the 4-H Boys keep the machine.

Anyone knowing who borrowed the drill, please report it to our office, MO 4-3441. Our grass seeding season will soon start. We would like to locate the drill soon. As a public service, the 4-H Club Boys lease this at a very nominal fee.

BIG BUSINESS

So you want to be a farmer and net $9,000.00 a year. How much money will you have to invest in land, equipment, machinery, feed and livestock? A the following figures: Cattle ranches in Southwest $183,000.00; sheep ranch in Southwest $210,000.00; wheat farm in Southern Plains $145,000.00.

This is an excellent time of the year to collect a soil sample on the land you plan to plant to irrigated Milo in 1965. About 10 years ago a group of farmers and businessmen on the South Plains decided there was a need for a soil testing laboratory for this area. They contributed over $50,000.00 for the construction and equipping of one of the most modern soil testing laboratories in the nation. It was built on the site of the present State Experiment Station and placed in the hands of the Texas Agriculture Extension Service. The extension service was asked to get the best qualified person available to head up the soils laboratory. We believe this was done when they picked Dr. James. James Valentine to do this job. He has his Doctor's degree in soils.

It costs only $1.50 for an analysis of your soil. This is pretty meager compared to the cost of some laboratories that charge up to $25.00 for a test.

I know of one laboratory that charges $25.00 for running a test and the person in charge of the laboratory has a B.S. degree in animal husbandry, not a degree in soils.

TRACE ELEMENTS

Don't be taken up the creek by soils men with animal husbandry degrees that are preaching trace elements. There is not a single experiment station (private or state owned) that recommends trace elements for this area. We have a few soil samples that show a need for phosphorus for the sandier regions. Few, if any, hard soils such as we have in the Pampa area show any need for phosphorus.

Most all samples show a need for nitrogen. Determining the amount of nitrogen to apply is a very important factor to you. We have soil sample cartons and information sheets available at our office.

THIS AND THAT

Raymond Dorsey recently attended a registered Hereford bull sale at Lawton, Okla. Raymond has bulls on performance test at Panhandle A&M, Goodwell, Okla. and Pan - Tech Farms.

The Brucellosis laboratory will be moving to Amarillo shortly. The County can be certified as a Brucellosis - free area just as soon as the last herd has been tested due to the low incidence of infection.

4-H NEWS

By JERRY HARLAND

The 4-H Livestock Judging team met Thursday, to begin their workouts. The next meeting will be next Tuesday, Dec. 22 at 4 p.m. at the Court House Annex.

Phillip Savage and Gary Richardson will leave Jan. 3 for Odessa where they will exhibit their steer in San Hill Hereford and Quarter Horse Show. Show day for the Club steers is Thursday, Jan. 7. Other boys showing steers at this show are: J. T. Winters, J. T. Rogers, Ricky Jones, and Fred Vanderburg, Jr. all of the Pampa F.F.A. Chapter.

TEXAS 4-H'ER — Billie Pat (Patty) Porter, 18, talks cattle farming during meeting with Canada's Minister of Agriculture, Harry Hays, at the recent Canadian National 4-H Conference in Ottawa. The Agriculture Minister is a large cattle breeder and former auctioneer, and Patty lives on an 850-acre grain and cattle ranch on Route 4, Terrell. The Canadian visit for eight youngsters named as U.S. delegates to the Conference was sponsored by International Minerals & Chemical Corporation.

Texas 4-H'ers Win At National Parley

Six Texas 4-H'ers lived up to the club motto — to make the best better — in winning the 1964 best-in-state placings in their favorite projects.

Five of the winners have been selected by the Cooperative Extension Service to represent the state at the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago recently. The state winner in the dairy foods category was presented a wrist watch.

Dwight Pittman, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Pittman of Stephenville, was the swine award winner. His congress trip is sponsored by the Moorman Mfg. Co.

A freshman at Tarleton State College, Pittman has been a 4-H'er for 10 years. During that time he won 66 ribbons for his 4-H dairy cattle project, won the 1964 showmanship trophy for swine at the Stephenville project show and sale, and won 10 grand champions and nine reserve grand champions with his swine.

Pittman was a member of a national champion poultry judging team and a first place state dairy judging team in 1963. He was named winner of the $2,000 Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo scholarship.

Gayla Wilkinson, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Wilkinson of Denton, was named winner in food preservation. Having carried this project for five years, Miss Wilkinson estimates that she has saved her family approximately $500 a year by canning and freezing foods.

She has won a total of 20 blue ribbons in adult competition and has won 27 blue ribbons in county and district 4-H competition. Miss Wilkinson was presented the Texas State Fair charm award in 1963 for the third highest number of awards received in the foods department.

As part of her 4-H project work, Miss Wilkinson has canned 669 containers of vegetables and fruits and frozen 265 quarts of food. Her trip is sponsored by the Kerr Glass Manufacturing Corporation.

Maurine Christenberry, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Christenberry of Springtown, will attend the congress as a guest of the Oliver Corporation for her dairy project. She has been a 4-H member for eight years.

Miss Christenberry was named Champion Holstein Girl of Texas in 1961 and has shown dairy cows at 38 shows throughout Texas. She was awarded the reserve champion prize in 1962 and 1964 at the Dalworth District Fair and the Parker County Show. In other 4-H projects such as dress revue, she has won seven blue ribbons in county competition.

An electric project captured the state prize for Eddie Platt, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Platt of Palestine. Platt's 4-H electric record book won first place in county and district competition for three years. In 1963 he received the State Fair award of honor for his project.

Platt has placed first three times in the county and district involving more than 80 individual and team demonstrations in electric projects. He has built 27 electrical appliances. His trip is sponsored by the Westinghouse Educational Foundation.

Sailor Bros. staked 80 acres for irrigation land leveling on the Joe Gordan farm south of Pampa. V. Dillger is staking 30 acres for land leveling on his farm east of Pampa. George Philpott is leveling 15 acres on his farm east of Pampa. Land leveling will more efficiently distribute irrigation water which will result in production of more uniform crops.

Evergreen and deciduous trees will serve as windbreaks for homes and feedlots. They will beautify farmsteads and protect them from severe climate conditions.

Experiments have proven that evergreen windbreaks have reduced home fuel costs 10 to 15 per cent during cold winter months. Deciduous trees provide shade during the summer.

People interested in establishing trees should plant them no later than April 1st. There are several sources for windbreak trees in this area.

Several ranchers plan to spray brush in the Gray County Soil Conservation District next spring. Competitive brush such as shinnery oak and sagebrush provide competition to our desirable native grasses. In some areas of Gray County, brush infestation is as high as 90 per cent of the vegetative cover. Brush should be reduced to at least 20 per cent and in most cases ten.

Chemical control will kill and set back the brush where the desirable grasses will have a chance to grow. There were approximately 6,000 acres of brush sprayed in Gray County this year. Billy Davis sprayed 1,200 acres on his ranch east of Lefors. Robert Richards sprayed 900 acres on the Vera Dial Dickey ranch south - east of Lefors. Billy Davis stated that brush control and deferred grazing had made him more money than any other conservation practice.

Phosphorus is Important For Beef Cattle Growth

With green grazing becoming limited, beef cattle producers need to give special consideration to supplying phosphorus for their herds. This mineral is deficient at times in all sections of Texas, with late summer, fall and winter being critical periods in all areas.

Cows fed phosphorus supplements where the deficiency occurs may average as much as 200 pounds heavier than those not receiving the supplements, says Uel D. Thompson, Extension animal husbandman, Texas A&M University. Calves may weigh 50-70 pounds more at weaning age, calf crops can be increased as much as 30 per cent and cows may conceive earlier after calving.

Practical methods of supplying phosphorus to range cattle include soluble phosphorus in drinking water and phosphorus supplements in mineral feeders.

Where the water supply of cattle can be controlled, adding phosphorus to the water may be the most satisfactory method, points out the husbandman. Monosodium phosphate may be added to water troughs by hand, while there are automatic dispensers which add the desired amount of mineral solution to a given amount of water.

Where the mineral is added by hand, recommendations generally call for one-fourth ounce of monosodium phosphate per eight gallons of water or one-fourth ounce per head daily.

A stock solution of two-and-one-half pounds of this phosphate per gallon of water or 100 pounds to 40 gallons of water is recommended when using an automatic dispenser. This machine automatically proportions the mineral to the water.

The name of the Ku Klux Klan originated from the Greek word "kuklos", meaning ring.

HELPING HAND? — David Mason (50) of Palo Duro seems to be lending a hand as he tries to stop a shot by Pampa's Davey McDaniel while sandwiched in between Roper and Mac McWilliams. The Harvesters came from behind Friday night to stay on top of the district race.

Harvester Rally Tops Palo Duro

By JEFF COHANE
News Sports Editor

AMARILLO — Down 11 points midway in the third quarter, the Pampa Harvesters rallied Friday night for a 59-53 victory over Palo Duro, their third straight district win and 10th victory against two losses.

It was a team effort both offensively and defensively, that pulled the Harvesters through after their usually red-hot shooting had fallen off, and it was again a superior margin at the free throw line that clinched it.

In the warm confines of their own gym, the Palo Durans defied the icy blasts outside in the streets, aided by their always-friendly referees, to lead through most of the game before the play of Ron Curlee, Mac McWilliams and Larry Lewis led Pampa back in the third frame and free throws by Roper and Lewis in the fourth quarter clinched the contest.

Four of the Harvesters hit in double figures, with McWilliams, playing his best game for the Big Green, canning 17 points hitting steadily throughout the contest. Pampa fired 39 per cent from the floor, and hit 19 of 31 free throws. The Dons hit only 32 per cent from the floor and 11 of 21 charities. Pampa had a slight edge in rebounding, with Roper grabbing 12 and McWilliams and Davey McDaniel eight apiece.

The first quarter went back and forth with McWilliams hitting for Pampa and former Pampa Mike Echols for PD. Roper chipping in a couple of key buckets for a 15-11 visiting lead.

Echols continued hitting outside, Tommy Cook started hitting inside and Dorman Nichols and George Coffey each found charity range to move PD back ahead again and into a 36-28 halftime lead.

With David Mason and Coffey grabbing the boards as the party began getting a little rough, Amarillo PD moved to 42-31 and apparently had the upset wrapped up.

Curlee started booting the bucket from all over the court while his mates all started chipping in free throws and Pampa steadily closed the gap. With six seconds left, Sugar Cain came in for a brief appearance, grabbed a vital rebound and fed Curlee, who hit from the corner to tie the game at 44-44.

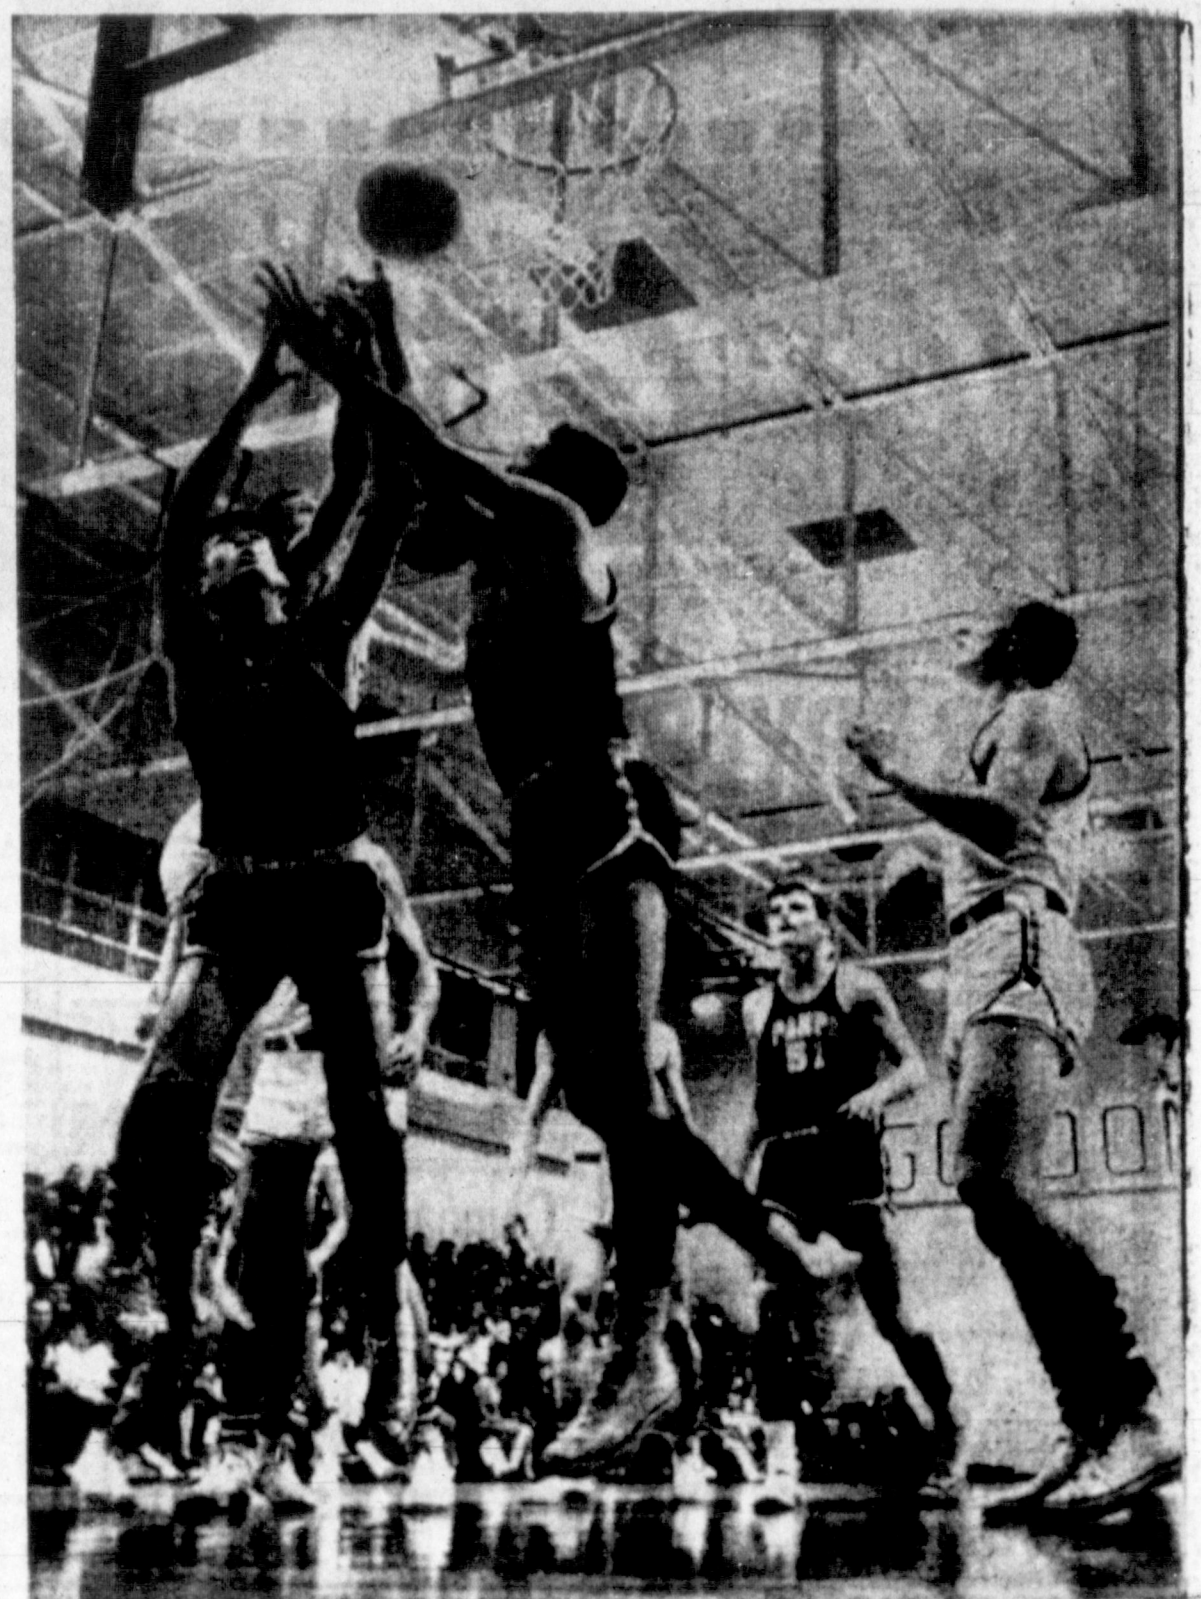

Pampa never looked back as their zone press, sparked by Lewis, choked the Dons to death while McWilliams and Curlee stole the ball and scored with it. Dons started fouling out as the officials reluctantly blew the whistle on them, and Pampa added it up at the free line.

With three minutes left and a seven-point lead, the Harvesters slowed it down, moving it up to 11 on charities before the game closed out.

The PD B team came from behind in the fourth quarter as Victor Werner scored eight points in the frame for a 66-61 win over the Shockers. Werner had 21. Gunner Matney had 19 and Roy Harper 15 for the Shockers.

LET'S BE FRIENDS — Mac McWilliams (33) looks bewildered as teammate Roper Roper (31) of Pampa bats a rebound out of his hands. The pair, and Davey McDaniel (51) were tough on the boards as Pampa scored a 59-53 win over Palo Duro Friday night.

Briscoe Wins Overtime, Warriorettes Top Girls

By MIKE MCHONE
News Sports Reporter

MIAMI — Briscoe won a double-overtime game over Miami and the boys championship of the Miami Tournament last night, 62-61 on a pair of free throws by Tommy Hays.

Miami's Warriorettes won the girls title as they defeated Briscoe's Bronettes, 44-38.

Allison's girls led by a narrow margin all the way to win third place girls honors over Canadian, 45-41. Trailing by six at halftime, the Kittens rallied to 29-37 to start the final frame, but could never tie it up. Linda Miller had 20 points, Sharon Kelly 15, Rita Powledge 10. Squeaky Petree and Dora Mae Hext each hit 10 for the Kits.

Panhandle, as expected won consolation boys honors 79-58 over McLean. The game was somewhat obstreperous with McLean garnering 29 fouls having four players sent to the bench and finishing the game with only four eligible players left. Larry Duckett had 24 and Larry Cole 14 points for Panhandle, Eddie Jay Windom 20 for McLean.

Panhandle also won girls consolation over McLean, 38-31. Janie Beddingfield had 18 points for the win.

Friday night saw the host Warriors win their way to the finals with a surprising 53-44 win over Allison as Dave Bowers continued his red-hot gunnery.

Allison grabbed an early lead as Punk Childress and George Markham double-teamed Big Ray Guerrero on the boards, but burly George got his fourth foul early in the second quarter and headed for the bench.

Down 9-8 at the quarter, Miami still trailed as Childress dominated the boards, stretching the lead to five. Guerrero started getting position however, as Bowers found the range from outside and the Warriors cut it to 23-22.

The third quarter saw Lloyd Seitz heading fast breaks while Bowers pumped in buckets and free throws and Miami went ahead in the opening minutes and spread the margin to 34-28.

The Warriors slowed it down in the fourth quarter and capitalized on fouls, making nine free throws for the difference. Bowers had 21 points, Guerrero and Seitz 11 each. Childress had 17. Markham and Mike Aderholt 10 each.

Trailing throughout the game, Miami's Warriorettes came back in the final three minutes for a 30-28 squeaker over Allison girls and the right to go to finals.

With Linda Miller hitting close-up and Rita Powledge hitting from outside, Allison took a 10-8 quarter lead and held it at halftime, 19-16 as Miami's big gal, Martha Paris, got four fouls and the bench.

The Miami guards tightened up however and allowed only nine points in the second half, two in the fourth quarter, while Patches Dodson sliced the lead to 26-25 going into the final frame.

With three minutes left, Patches drove to put Miami into a 28-

26 lead and Cheri Jackson clinched the game with a pair of free throws.

Connie had 23 points, Linda Miller 15.

Once again Tommy Hays won a thriller for Briscoe, scoring the winning bucket with 20 seconds left for Briscoe's 51-49 shocker over Hedley.

Hedley's 6-4 Pat Chesser was stopped cold, sitting out the first half with four fouls picked up in the first quarter, and getting only three points in the second half.

Hedley jumped off to a 15-8 quarter lead however, but Orville Atherton led Briscoe back to a 27-27 halftime tie. Briscoe held a 40-30 edge going into the final quarter, but Hedley took the lead back until Atherton tied the score on free throws, setting the stage for Hays.

Atherton had 19 points, Hayes 10 and Zybach 10. Danny Morgan had 18 and Butch Weatherly 15 for Hedley.

Fouls made the difference during most of the tournament, with Briscoe taking a 54-41 win over Canadian girls despite Marvella Mickie Fuls getting four fouls early in the second quarter. Lou Meadows took up the slack with her deadly outside shots, however, and pulled Briscoe from a 13-12 quarter deficit to a 10-point halftime lead.

Lou had 24 points, Mickie 21. Squeaky Petree took point honors with 26, Dora Mae Hext had 16.

Ronnie Hunt's five points in overtime were the difference as McLean took Mobette, 62-58 in Friday's opening round. The lead had gone back and forth throughout the game, with Mobette holding 8-6 and 22-19 quarter stops, only to have McLean take a 40-35 margin into the final frame.

George Green put McLean ahead, 54-52 with 36 seconds left, but Eddie Hodges tied it up in the last 10 seconds with a pair of charities, only to have hot-handed Hunt pull it out. McLean's girls led all the way in a 54-29 elimination of Mobette's girls. Sharon Goldston led the winners with 28 points, Judy Rowell had 21 for Mobette.

Larry Duckett went crazy in the second quarter as Panhandle romped to a 79-35 win over Canadian. Panhandle held a 17-13 quarter lead, but Duckett hit 16 of his 31 points in the second frame to push it to 45-19. Larry Cole added Duckett with 23 points.

Panhandle girls had beaten Hedley girls in their game, 38-31.

Owls Turn Back Galena Park, 26-21

HOUSTON (UPI) — Defending champion Garland came from behind Saturday night on the running of fullback Clifton Turner and quarterback Jimmy Adams' passed to whip Galena Park 26-21 for the state Class AAAA high school football crown.

When Galena Park held Garland's fine runner Ronnie Scoggins to short gains, Adams turned to Turner and some precision passing to defeat the host Galena Park Yellowjackets.

Blue-Gray Game Okay

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — The raging racial storm a year ago threatened the end of the Blue-Gray series, one of the nation's oldest college football all-star attractions.

Officials now say, however, the 27th annual game Dec. 26 will be one of the best yet. They predict a long future for the classic.

A big reason for optimism is the reduction of racial tension. Cramton Bowl's 27,000 seats will be racially integrated this year for the first time. Advance ticket sales are booming.

And it appears just a matter of time before the players also will be chosen without regard to race.

"Eventually it's going to be integrated. It's bound to be and in the not too distant future," said a leading backer of the game.

A near mortal blow in 1963 came a few weeks before the game when the National Broadcasting Company (NBC) announced it had cancelled a contract with two years remaining to televise the game nationally.

Segregation was the reason. NBC carried the first game in 1937 on national radio and every year since. The game had been televised across the country for 11 years.

Garland scored on two one-yard plunges, a five-yard pass from Adams to Henry Luman, and Adams' six-yard run.

Galena Park had two running scores and one in the air. Garland erased a 14-0 deficit with two second-quarter scores, and came back again when Galena Park took a 21-14 advantage. Garland scored single touchdowns in the third and fourth quarters to win from behind.

It was the third state championship for Garland coach Chuck Curtis, who won one in Jacksboro (Class AA) three years ago and guided Garland to its wins in 1963 and this year.

Turner made 178 yards Saturday night on 29 carries.

Archer City Wins Class A

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Archer City's Wildcats turned a fumble and a pass interception into two second period touchdowns Saturday night then hung on to defeat Ingleside 13-6 for the Class A state schoolboy championship.

It was the first state crown for the North Texans, who finished the season with a 13-2 record. The two losses during the regular season came from Class AA schools.

Archer City pounced on an Ingleside fumble by halfback Benny Fregia just as the first quarter ended, then on the first play of the second period quarterback Barry Morrison hurled a long pass to end Barney Oliver for a 43-yard touchdown toss. Morrison kicked the extra point, which proved to be enough for the victory.

The Wildcats gave the ball up for only two plays to their South Texas rivals then Mike Stewart grabbed off a pass by Mustang quarterback David Whitney on the Ingleside 35-yard line.

Morrison and Wildcat fullback Gary Tepfer then alternated on runs to drive to the two where Tepfer went over midway in the second period.

HOUSTON (UPI) — Tulsa's premier passer, Jerry Rhome, ran for one score and passed for the other Saturday to lead Tulsa to a 14-7 Bluebonnet Bowl defeat of a Mississippi team that bottled up his favorite receiver.

Rhyme, who rewrote many of the NCAA passing records this season, proved he could run too, helping set up Tulsa's first score with a 23-yard scamper in the midst of a 72-yard drive.

The two tough teams battled to a 7-7 halftime score as Mississippi showed some passing ability of its own. But in the second half, Tulsa wore down the Old Miss defense with a good balance of passes to Bob Daugherty, Brent Roberts and Eddie Fletcher.

Daugherty, a hard-to-bring-down runner, made good on ground running plays when the Mississippi defense loosened against the passing threat.

Rhyme made 252 yards passing, on 22 completions of 36 attempts, just three yards short of the Bowl standard set by fabulous Don Trull of Baylor. Only one of Rhome's attempts was intercepted.

A crowd of 50,000 sat in the off-again-on-again rain to watch the game.

Rhyme did whip Trull's total offense and number-of-plays bowl records, however, with 281 yards total and 58 times engineering plays.

Mississippi broke into the scoring first, in the second quarter. Taking a punt at their own 4, the Rebels got three yards on a ground play, then quarterback Jim Weatherly passed 30 yards to Frank Kinard.

Kinard and Mike Dennis chopped off short yardage, then Weatherly hit Dennis for seven to the Tulsa four. Dennis got three more on the ground and Weatherly plunged one yard for the score.

Billy Irwin's kick made it 7-0, Mississippi.

After the next kickoff, Tulsa came back with a drive of its own.

In a 72-yard drive that took only eight plays, Rhome passed and ran the bulk of the needed yardage. One run by Rhome covered 23 yards. Daugherty made four to the Mississippi one-yard line.

After two plays on which Mississippi's defense held, Rhome slipped over from the one-yard line for the score. Howard Twilley's kick made it 7-7.

Twilley, Rhome's favorite pass catcher of the season, and who helped Tulsa to four national NCAA team records this season, was watched closely by Mississippi defenders. Rhome had to use other receivers most of the time. Tulsa's winning drive in the third quarter started at the Tulsa 26-yard line, at which point Tulsa had the ball on a punt return.

Rhome ran over left guard for 14, tossed to Roberts for a 10-yard loss, then found Daugherty for 37 yards to the Mississippi 37. Then, on the fourth play of the series, Rhome found Fletcher open for a 37-yard scoring toss.

Twilley booted the point and it was 14-7, Tulsa's winning margin.

In the fourth quarter, neither team could fight off numbness enough to get a sustained drive.

Hawpes Lead W.D To Four

By ROGER SIMMONS

News Sports Correspondent

WHITE DEER — The tall and talented Hawpe family led the way as White Deer won four basketball games off Sunray Friday night. Three of the four games had a Hawpe as high scorer, with 6-2½ Monte canning 15 in a 57-39 varsity victory, 5-11 Linda belting in 21 as the girls won 50-45 and six-foot "baby brother" Mike tallying 15 as the Freshmen beat Sunray's B team, 53-25. A fourth game was won without benefit of Hawpes as the B girls downed Sunray, 22-9 with Mary Ulrich and Betty Woods each scoring six.

Despite the closeness of the final score, as Sunray rallied against the Doe bench in the last frame, WD was never headed in the game as Linda and Cindy Hubbard rattled the nets and Linda Stump stood out on defense. The Does opened a 13-4 quarter lead, had it 25-12 at the half and 37-27 as they started clearing the bench in the third frame.

Cindy followed Linda with 19 points.

Hawpe, Red Mike Reynolds and Johnny Mooney completely dominated both backboards and poured the buckets in from up front, as WD hit to an 18-10 quarter lead, 31-16 at the half and 39-29 going into the last canto.

Red Mike also hit double figures with 12 points.

White Deer goes to Panhandle Tuesday night.

Bowling

Joyce Murphy got her first 200 for the year this week and Paulette Gilbert had a 558 series for high in a women's league while Red Payne took top honors in a man's league with 496. Generally speaking, bowling scores were as cool as the weather this week, although at Amarillo a 299 was rolled. In a very short while, there have been 4 - 300's rolled. A sad touch in Amarillo last week was the death of Sam Fenberg, owner of the Western and Grand Bowls, and a former resident of Pampa.

Babe Branscum, bowling just since this summer, and in her second tournament, bowled her first 200, a 203, also her first 300, a 518, in the Burger Invitational last Sunday. Official final scores have not been received as yet on the rest of that tournament, but unofficially, Pampa bowlers did alright.

Christmas holidays are here, bowling season is nearly half over, and this year seems as the it has hardly started. Wow, how time flies. Anyone ready to sign up for Summer leagues? The kids have been having the time of their lives at their school bowling parties these past few weeks. They will be ready for league next fall, I'll bet, and maybe will be bowling as good

THIS COLUMN would like to present the qualifications of one more coach in the Pampa school system that is an outstanding candidate, in my opinion, for the position of Harvester football coach . . . Don Myers.

Don, a quiet man, has the distinction of being the winningest coach at Pampa right now. As a matter of fact, in three years here, he has never had a losing team and has a football record of 21-6-2, unmatched by anyone since coach Tom Tipps.

If anyone does, Don Myers has the respect and trust of every coach who has ever worked with him and every boy who has ever played under him. As a matter of fact, though the other coaches in the system who are eligible for the job naturally do not agree on everything, they are all unanimous in the belief that Don Myers is the man they would most like to keep.

A graduate of Lockney High, where he was an all-district tailback in football, a two-time all-district in basketball and a pole vaulter in track, Don went on to West Texas State, where he has since got both his bachelor's and master's degrees, lettering in track.

Upon graduation in 1952, he went to Miami as girls basketball coach and head junior high coach. In 1954, he went to Denver City as head junior high coach, producing, just for versatility, a state contender high school tennis team.

Coming to Pampa as head coach at Lee, he immediately produced a football team which won district with an 8-0-1 mark and a basketball team which was 15-5.

Moving up to B team coach, he produced a 7-2-1 season and second place in district. Last year he finished 6-4, the ONLY football team out of nine that represent Pampa, to have a winning season.

as good as Billy Davis, a junior, who had a 215, 586 series this week.

How about this for a team name — Don Rader and Scott Rader are the Raiders in the Junior Classic league, Florence Bittle beat all the boys in the Bantam league with both a higher game, and a higher series.

Will name a few of the big games and series that were rolled this week — Dae Haynes 589, John Snugs 589, Lon Parsley 584, Chas. Sinclair 579, Ted Erickson 568, Red Watson 561, and Rudy Taylor 555. Hi games included Gerald Vaughn 265, Harold Gasnell 243, Stan Brake 231, Marie Lander 212, 536, Ike Earp 573, Dot Osborne 564, Agnes Robbins 202, 525, Erna Beck 529 and Dee Watson 222.

Better bowling is expected next week. See ya all at the lanes.

Jerry Goodwin kept the honor in the family as he became the only Pampa Harvester to make the first team on the officials district 3-4A squad released today.

Goodwin, Pampa's hard-blocking right tackle, made the first offensive team, following his older brother Ricky, now at OU, who won the honor at tackle the previous year. Carl "Swede" Johnson, Pampa tackle, was honorable mention offense for the second year.

Keith "Big Red" Griffith, Pampa's line-smashing fullback, just missed the honor both ways as he received honorable mention both as an offensive back and a defensive linebacker. Little Joey Roden, 135-pound fireball junior, was the other Pampa to receive mention, also at linebacker. Only a first team and honorable mention was listed for each division.

District champion Tascosa put three men on the offensive team, but third-place Amarillo placed four on the defensive squad. The team was small as Amarillo generally go, only guard Danny Abbott and fullback Rusty Spradlin beating the 200-pound mark. The backfield and line both feature plenty of speed, with scatbacks Richard Ross and David Dillingham running behind versatile quarterback Tom Sawyer.

Lefors Loses Twice to Eagles

By KEITH GEISLER

News Sports Correspondent
LEFORS — Driving David Kendrick personally turned back a Lefors threat Friday night, leading the Samnorwood Eagles to a 57-46 victory, coupled with a 43-32 win for the Eagles.

Kendrick, hitting mainly on drives, led the hot-shooting Samnorwood crew to converting 25 of 45 field goal attempts. Lefors hit a respectable 21 of 45, but only eight of 21 in a cold first half. The Pirates dominated the boards behind Danny Hill, but threw the ball away time and again before they had a chance to shoot.

Kendrick jumped Samnorwood to an opening lead, 13-10 at the quarter. Driving and jumping, he sped the visitors to 29-18 at the half.

Samnorwood apparently broke the game wide open as they fired to a 15-point lead to open the third quarter, but the Pirates came swaggering back as Hill and Ace Roberts scuttled the ball, with The Ace finding the range from around the keyhole. The pair closed the gap to six points as the third quarter ended 40-34.

Kendrick then dominated the fourth quarter as he had the second, hitting five of seven field goal attempts to break it open again. He finished with 29 points, while Roberts' 27 was the Bucs' individual high for the year.

Samnorwood's girls used a hot middle period to offset ice-cold first and fourth frames for their win. Taking a 7-5 lead at the quarter, the Eagles jumped to 26-11 at the half. Vicki Stone started to find the range in the third frame, but Sandy Benley couldn't miss from outside and Jo Breeding hit up close for a 41-20 third-quarter margin.

Sandy had 17 points, Jo 16, Vicki 14.

Lefors is at Clarendon Tuesday night.

Bevo Can't Go

AUSTIN (UPI)—The University of Texas has a 2,000-pound problem.

The school's football mascot, Bevo the Longhorn, wants to see his warriors do battle in the Orange Bowl against Alabama the night of Jan. 1, but doesn't have the $3,000 needed for a plane ticket.

Bevo's trainers say a trailer ride to Florida would be too much for the beefy mascot.

So, students are trying to raise the money.

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Tackle Frank Molden of Jackson State and quarterback Doug Dusenbury of Kansas State have signed with the Pittsburgh Steelers of the National Football League.

Molden was the Steelers' 11th draft choice and Dusenbury was 16th.

Utah Storms Over West Virginia, 32-6

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UPI) — Speedy, hard-hitting Utah sprang three touchdown runs at West Virginia Saturday to beat the Mountaineers 32-6 in the sixth annual Liberty Bowl game which made studio television football practically an actuality.

Huge Convention Hall, windless, daylight-bright, and with a regulation sodded football field, housed 6,059 cash customers while the camera eye took the game to home viewers nation-wide in a nearly perfect example of the TV industry.

The TV rights contributed $95,000 to the setting, and total receipts from other sources will net each college an estimated $60,000.

The man-made temperature in the hall was 60 degrees while outside it was only 31.

In this studio-like setting, quarterback Ernest (Pokey) Allen put the Utes on the war path with an 11-yard touchdown run in the second period, speedy Ron Coleman raced 53 yards for a score two minutes later and Andy Ireland celebrated his first carry of the game with a 47-yard touchdown jaunt in the third period.

Scoring:
Utah—PG Jefferson, 30.
Utah—Allen 11 run (Jefferson kick).
Utah—Coleman 53 run (pass failed).
Utah—Ireland 47 run (run failed).
W.Va.—Clegg 6 pass from McCune (pass failed).
Utah—Morley 38 pass from Groth (Pulman kick).
Attendance: 6,006.

Roy Jefferson, a crack end both offensively and defensively, kicked 32 and 35-yard field goals. And sophomore end Bill Morley, an 18-year-old youngster from Salt Lake City, caught a touchdown pass in the final six minutes.

The Indians also had a tight defensive unit which led to an erratic passing game for Mountaineer quarterback Allen McCune. They also made a goal line stand that halted West Virginia on the two-yard line. Utah, a one-touchdown favorite, intercepted four Mountaineer passes.

The Mountaineers had only one brief, flashing moment in the first half and they were held to 23 running plays. They opened with two fast first downs but the tide turned when Tom Hawkes threw McCune for a 12-yard loss.

Houston Name Amarillo Coach

HOUSTON (UPI)—The Houston Astros announced Saturday Lou Fitzgerald has been named manager of the Astros' Amarillo farm club in the Texas League.

Houston moved its Texas veteran farm club manager League franchise to Amarillo for the 1965 season, from San Antonio.

Fitzgerald managed San Antonio the league pennant and playoff victory in 1964 and won the pennant the previous year. He managed the Durham in the Carolina League.

Sports Hall of Fame To Induct Four More

DALLAS (UPI) — Basketball greats Jack Gray and Slater Martin, Olympic gold medal winner Walter (Buddy) Davis and world famed boxing promoter Tex Rickard will be inducted into the Texas Sports Hall of Fame Dec. 31.

The quartet will be enshrined during the Texas Sports Hall of Fame luncheon, a highlight of Cotton Bowl week in Dallas.

The four new members bring the Hall of Fame roll to 45.

Gray was an all-American basketball player at the University of Texas who returned to his alma mater to coach some of its finest basketball teams. He was the leading scorer in the Southwest Conference from 1933 to 1935.

Gray took over as head coach at Texas after being out of school little more than a year. His teams won two SWC championships and tied for another. During his 12-year tenure his teams won 194 games and lost 97.

Martin was a sophomore on Gray's unbeaten 1947 team. He was all SWC in 1947 and 1948 and in the 1949 season he was named all-American.

Martin was one of the few SWC players who made it big in the pro basketball ranks. He played with the Minneapolis Lakers and the St. Louis Hawks in the National Basketball Association and became known as the finest "little man" in the league.

Davis was also an excellent basketball player, but it was in track and field as a high jumper that he gained fame.

He leaped into national recognition in 1952 at the SWC meet by apparently breaking the world record of 6 feet 11 inches that had stood for 11 years.

Officials erased the record when the bar was measured at only 6-10 1/2.

Davis went on to lead the United States high-jumping contingent to Helsinki for the 1952 Olympics and won the gold medal of 6-8 3/4.

Rickard was one of the most colorful men in boxing during sports' golden era of the 1920s. Rickard's promotion brought boxing's first million dollar gate. It was the Jack Dempsey-George Carpentier in 1921 and it drew $1,789,238.

He promoted the first Dempsey-Gene Tunney fight, of "long count" fame and he promoted the Dempsey-Tunney rematch, which drew boxing's first two million dollar gate, $2,658,660.

Astros Outdo Veeck In Fireworks Display

HOUSTON (UPI) — Pardon, when someone hits a home run in the Houston Astros' home ball park next year, you are in for the doggonest, Texas-sized, whoop-de-do you ever laid eyes on.

The Astros announced Saturday the world's largest scoreboard, a $2 million electronic marvel bigger than a football field and requiring seven men to operate, will be installed in the domed-air-conditioned stadium in which the Astros will play next year.

The scoreboard is convertible to other events as well, the Astros' announcement said.

The Astros' press report of the scoreboard beggars adequate description.

It will have the world's largest 100-line television screen, covering 1,800 square feet. A "home run spectacular" which should make any fan forget a baseball game is being played, will explode with five sequences of animated, lighted pictures when anyone hits a home run.

Other panels show the lineups and other traditional elements of the scoreboard, plus clocks and space for advertisement.

The scoreboard will be 474 feet long and taller than a four-story building.

But the dimensions do nothing to tell what happens with a home run: —A lighted reproduction of "home run spectacular," which the stadium will appear on the left of the board. The roof of the image will blow off with sound effects and flashing lights.

—A ball will appear in lights, traveling across the display, spouting fireworks.

—Two cowboys in lights will enter the display, firing guns whose ricochets will fill the area with light.

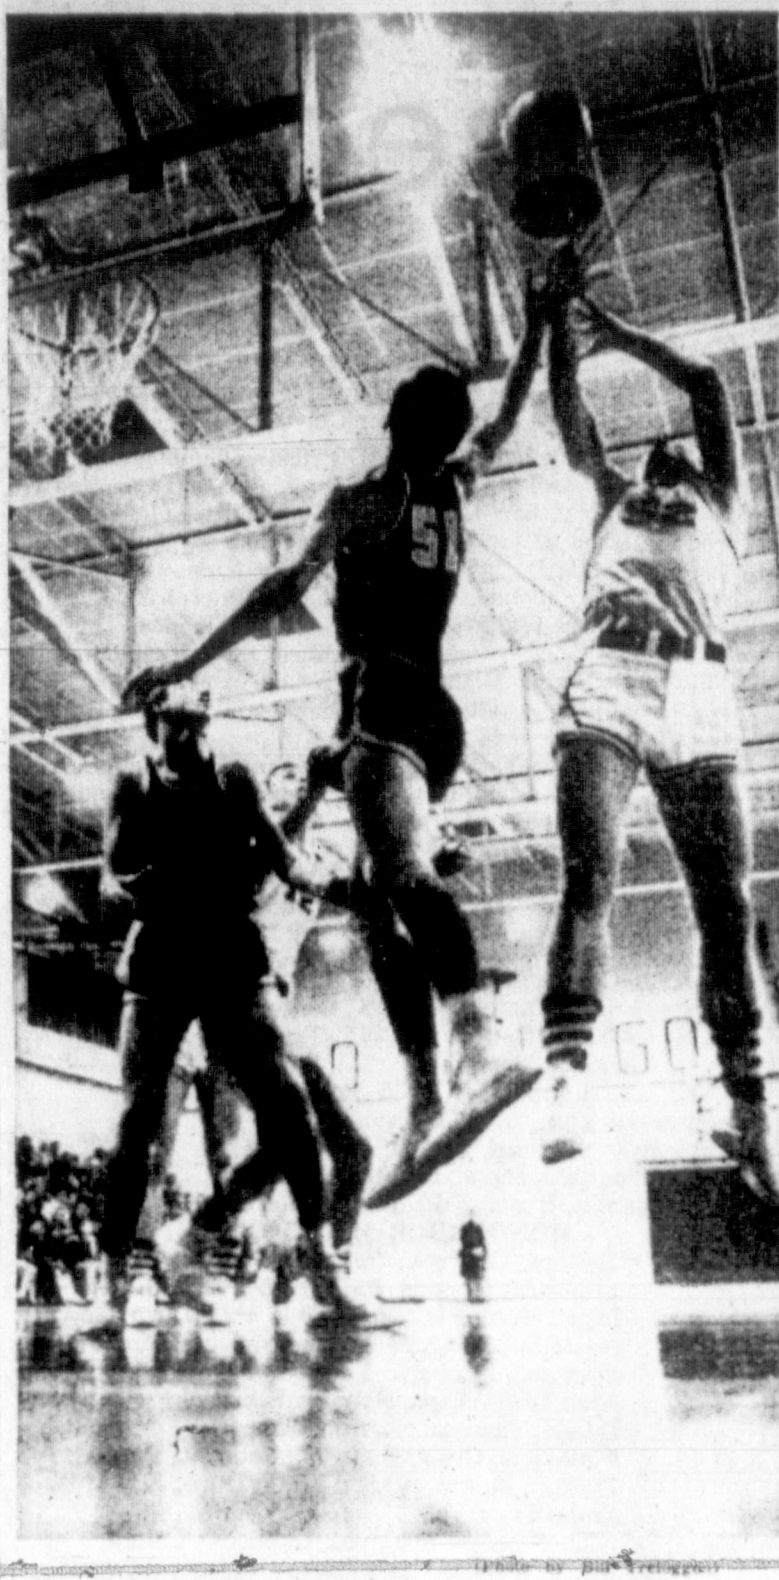

—Two gigantic steer heads will appear, snorting "fire" and spouting American and Texas flags from the horn tips.

—Images of a cowboy and horse will appear and gallop across in lights while the cowboy attempts to rope a steer. He will be dumped and the roping attempt will go awry.

—Finally, a multi-colored fireworks display in lights will cover the entire display area. The display will last 45 seconds.

The scoreboard, Houston Astro president Roy Hofheinz said, will be acquired from the Fair-Play Scoreboard Co. of Des Moines, Iowa and the Federal Sign and Signal Corp. of Dallas and Houston.

It will have 50,000 electronically activated lamps and will weigh 300 tons.

NO YOU DON'T — Davy McDaniel (51) of Pampa nips in the bud any plans George Coffey (52) of Palo Duro had for a basket with his shot blocking. Jockeying for position are Ropes Roper (31) of Pampa and "turncoat" Mike Echols, now of PD. The Harvesters stayed undefeated in district play with a 59-53 win Friday night.

12 SUNDAY, DECEMBER 20, 1964 57TH YEAR

Last Times Around For Joe Lapchick

NEW YORK (UPI)—This will be Joe Lapchick's last time around, and anyone who can imagine him without a basketball team to coach can also imagine how he feels about that prospect.

Lapchick, who has been connected with the game 50 years, is about to embark on his 20th season as coach at St. John's University.

When the basketball season is finished, he also will be finished at St. John's.

"There isn't much hat can be done about it," laughed the long lean, still youthful-looking Lapchick, a one-time member of the original Celtics. "I'm 65, and that's the mandatory retirement age."

The idea of severing all ties with a game he loves naturally isn't particularly appealing to a man who also coached the New York Knickerbockers of the National Basketball Association nine years.

"I'd like to remain in basketball in some capacity, but no one is rushing me off my feet with any offers," he grinned.

Lapchick probably will never be far from a basketball court, retirement or no retirement.

Few men in the world know as much about the game or those who play it as he does and even fewer are better liked or have more friends.

Lapchick, an intensely nervous, high-strung type who likes to move around even when he's sitting on the bench, once wrote a magazine article. The title was "Each Game I Die."

He still does because even if basketball is just a game to others, it is a way of life with him.

When Lapchick resigned as coach of the Knicks in 1956, he cited "too many sleepless nights" as the chief reason.

"I loved working with the pros," he said, "but there's a big difference when you're coaching collegians. This way, you only have 25 sleepless nights a year. With the pros, you have that many in one month."

Naming the five best players he has ever seen not only is tough, Lapchick says, it's impossible.

"I'd have to name at least six," he explains. "I couldn't possibly decide between Bill Russell and Wilt Chamberlain. Then there's Bob Pettit, of course. Elgin Baylor and Oscar Robertson also belong in there. And I couldn't possibly exclude Bob Cousy."

Lapchick claims he has "enjoyed a helluva great life" because of basketball and credits Ned Irish, Madison Square Garden president, as the man who helped him most.

"If it wasn't for him, I'd still be a machinist," Lapchick said. "That was my trade as a boy."

VENTURI HONORED

WASHINGTON, D.C. (UPI)—Ken Venturi's rags-to-riches comeback has earned him the 1964 Sports Illustrated sportsman of the year trophy.

Venturi, who had not won a tournament in four years, culminated his comeback struggle by winning the U.S. Open last June despite heat exhaustion and was feted at the Congressional Country Club Sunday.

MELBOURNE (UPI)—California's Billy Jean Moffitt of Long Beach, Calif., teamed with Australia's Robyn Ebborn, to win the women's doubles in the Victorian tennis championships Sunday by defeating the Australian combination of Margaret Smith and Judy Tegart, 9-7, 1-6, 6-4.

Roy Emerson won the men's singles with a 6-4, 6-4, 6-4 triumph over fellow Aussie Fred Stolle.

A Yank In Chunichi Faces Salary Slice

TOKYO (UPI)—A cut is a cut in any language, so any U.S. ballplayers who think they can make twice as much in Japan are advised to slow down and come to a complete stop before catching the next jet for the land of milk and honey.

This is not to say that the Japanese baseball people are particularly tight-fisted.

The Chunichi Dragons, for example, have shelled out $400,000 for bonus players alone during the past two years. But this same ball club can be as cold and businesslike as any in the U.S. when it comes down to negotiating contracts.

Take the case of first baseman Jim Marshall, who has done a fine job for the Dragons the last two seasons.

You probably remember Jim. He was never a star in the major but he did put in time with the Orioles, Cubs, Giants, Mets and Pirates before coming here to play in 1963.

"Outstanding Player"

With Chunichi, he hit 29 homers, drove in 90 runs and batted .260 his first season, and this past year he belted 31 homers, had 90 RBI's again, raised his average to .282 and became the first foreigner ever to be voted Japan's "outstanding player" during the 1964 All-Star game.

For doing all this, the Dragons now are asking the puzzled 32-year-old Marshall to accept a salary cut of nearly 20 percent. That's right, a cut!

"I just don't know what to do," says Marshall, who moved from Long Beach, Calif., two years ago and now makes his home here with his wife and three children.

"I guess I'm the first American player ever to have become involved in contract difficulties," he said. "I asked them to trade me but they said they couldn't. They gave me permission to contact another club but what good is it? I don't speak Japanese."

Marshall has two courses open to him. He can return with his family to the States (the Japanese will give him his release) or he can take a cut and play with the Dragons again next year.

"No matter how this turns out, I'd like to say I was treated wonderfully by the Japanese people," he said in all sincerity.

Cornhuskers To Bronsville

BROWNSVILLE (UPI)—The University of Nebraska football team will fly into Bronsville Sunday afternoon for four days of practice for its New Year's Day game with Arkansas in the Cotton Bowl.

Coach Bob Devaney will send his Cornhuskers through a series of two-a-day workouts at Sams Memorial Stadium. The Big Eight champs, 9-1 for the year, leave for Dallas Christmas Day for the last week of practice sessions.

The only public practice is set for the night of Dec. 22 in Bronsville.

BRADLEY SELECTED

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Bill Bradley, All-American basketball player at Princeton and member of the United States Olympic team, was chosen by Missouri as a candidate for a Rhodes scholarship.

Bradley, a native of Crystal City, Mo., would go to Oxford University in England to study if he gets the scholarship.

LIONS INK FLYNN

DETROIT (UPI) — The Detroit Lions have signed their fifth round draft choice, end John Flynn, who played this season with Toledo of the United Football League.

Flynn, an all-Big Eight end at Oklahoma in 1963, dropped out of college to play for Toledo this season.

For the well dressed man—beautiful Pima cotton white dress shirt. Requires little or no ironing. Styled with tapered body, two pockets; the cuffs convert from regular to french style. Sanforized, of course. Sizes 14 to 17. Buy now at great savings.

Decorations Add Life to Pampa's Christmas Spirit

Daily News Staff Photos by BILL TRELOGGEN

A night drive along the streets of Pampa provides an excellent example of the Christmas spirit that prevails among local residents.

Homes decorated in a variety of themes ranging from a simple manger scene to a multi-theme attraction can be found throughout the town. Adding to the Christmas feeling in the air are brightly lighted business areas and schools with decorated windows.

WINDOW SCENES — Motorists, passing the east side of the Robert E. Lee Junior High School see the colorful scenes on the main hall windows of the school. Mrs. Willetta Olds' ninth grade art class put up the window decorations which have been used for several years. The five scenes in the bottom photo are only a few of a long series of panels.

REALISM — A nativity scene on the front lawn of the Mr. and Mrs. Fred Neslage home, 2003 Charles, is tilted upward to give passerby a better view. The scene's effectiveness is aided by recorded Christmas Carols playing through a loud speaker.

ATTRACTIVE — Decorations at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gayden, 1346 N. Russell, are simple but effective as shown in the right center photo. A manger is lighted on the front porch and a Christmas tree shining through the window gives an excellent background. Flowers are illuminated around the front of the house and light line the edges of the home.

Sunday Passing Show

By PEGGY JO ORMON

THE PAST WEEK has been filled with many Pampons wishing friends and neighbors a happy holiday season with open houses, coffees and parties. Another way folks in our town have of saying "Merry Christmas" is with the many beautiful outdoor decorations to be seen in all areas of the city. The green swags and huge golden bells on the double doors at the A. J. Carrubi's home fit perfectly with the architectural design. The Elmer Wilson home is most interesting with the lighted front balcony. The L. R. Miller home could grace a Christmas card. Imagine Mrs. James A. Hopkins having time to decorate her home while busy with a church wedding for daughter, Virginia, and John Jones on Dec. 27. The green trim on the home of Virginia and Don Taylor blends just right with the porch decorations and lighted greeting candles. While touring the city to see the decorations be sure to pack up the children and drive by the gaily decorated house of the Charles McAndrews. People receiving Christmas cards from Sandra and Jack Dennis are especially privileged. Sandra, who belongs on the list of Pampa's talented people, designed and made them.

BETTY (MRS. HAROLD) Wright is bringing Christmas cheer wherever she goes by carrying a clever red felt Christmas tote bag. And Azelle Lottus in her red felt Christmas jacket with a Santa Claus pocket and cheery "Hi" gives a holiday greeting to all she meets. Seen shopping downtown this past week were Mrs. Joe Gayden, Mrs. Hardy (Betty) Pitts, Mrs. Jay (Mary Louise) Lickley, Mrs. Glenn (Mildred) Stafford dressed in gold and white, and Mrs. Bill (Chris) Campaigne attired in beige leather. They must have read the sign on the outskirts of town "Have You Shopped Pampa First?" Downtown Christmas window greetings in several of the empty store buildings. City Parks Department employees also receive an accolade for placing the Nativity scenes in City Park. Barbara and Art Dobbin are making plans for this, the first Christmas of their granddaughter, and Barbara's father and mother will arrive from Maine in time for the festive occasion. The W. H. Fullers also are planning a big "first-Christmas" as their son, Don and family of Los Angeles, Calif., will spend their first Christmas holidays in the Fullers' home. Another son, Harold, from Baltimore, Md., is expected before Christmas. The D. V. Burtons have returned from Stroud, Okla., where they were called due to the death of Mrs. Burton's sister, Mrs. Joe Evans. Mrs. Evans was a frequent Pampa visitor.

A HANDSOMELY appointed red and white table greeted guests at the holiday coffee given in the Pampa Club by Mrs. Bill (Jean) Power, Mrs. Norman (Grace) Henry and Mrs. Malcolm (Penny) Hinkle. Assisting the hostesses were Mrs. Bob Price, Mrs. Arthur Aftergut, Mrs. Floyd Watson, Mrs. E. H. Ousley and Mrs. Gene Imel. The A. J. Carrubis gave an open house before the annual Jaycee dance. All of the couples attending doubly anticipated the event as it gave them an opportunity to get a peek inside A. J. and Jo Ann's enchanting new home. Don and Sylvia Conley, Katherine and Dudley Steele and Jay Meador have returned from Oklahoma City where the men attended a health research committee meeting. Mrs. John (Lydia) Horn hosted her annual drop-in cookie party recently. Lydia always serves special home-made German cookies at this event, which was made special for all those attending by the presence of Lydia and John's new son, Ian. Several Junior Service League members went to Amarillo to observe the day nurseries of the League there. Local members hope to have a Pampa day nursery in their future program.

MISS GERALDINE Rampey and Mrs. Martin Stubbe extended season's greetings to fellow teachers and friends with a tea in the Stubbe home, which is full of interesting antiques and pieces redone by Pearl and husband Martin. Must have been nice to be a neighbor of Nancy (Mrs. Gene) Imel or Sandra (Mrs. Delmar) Watkins last week. Nancy greeted their neighbors arriving for coffee at her door in a brown and white fur hostess skirt with a Carnegie-designed silk blouse. The table carried out the red and white decorations as did the miniature gold sleigh, reindeer and Santa that ran the length of the coffee table and the white flocked tree bearing large red poinsettias and miniature poinsettia lights. Betty Jo (Mrs. Charles) McAndrew, served coffee to Ida Ruth (Mrs. W. D. Jr.) Price, Jimmie (Mrs. Marvin) Jones, Mary Edna (Mrs. Bill) Tarpley, Reid (Mrs. Robert) Echols and Evelyn (Mrs. Will) Graham just to name a few. Last Tuesday evening was a busy one socially for many Pampons. The Bob McCoy's opened their home for the El Progresso Club to entertain their husbands at a Christmas party. Civic Culture Club members also held a party for their husbands that evening and Kay and Jim Schuneman held open house for Pampa Amateur Radio Club members and wives. Kay holds a "ham" license and is the only woman member of the club. Theresa and Ralph McKinney spent a week in Dallas recently but it didn't keep them from wishing Anna Mae Tripplehorn a happy birthday. Bell Telephone served as go-between.

CORONADO DANCE Club held its annual Champagne Christmas dance last week in the Starlight Room of Coronado Inn. John Rankin serves the group as president and was seen dancing with wife, Edith, who was attractive as usual dressed in a white gown. Other couples seen dancing to the music of Bobby Burns Orchestra from Amarillo were Guy and Freda LeMond, John and Virginia Chisum, Ralph and Evelyn Sidwell, Elmer Dee and Pat Young, Demaris and Margaret Holt, Dick and Dot Stowers, Carlton and Dottie Freeman, Ted and June Alexander, Mildred and Roy Sullivan and Hart and Ava Warren. The dancers ended a gay evening with breakfast in the Terrace Room. A delightful newcomer in our midst is Jo Ann Webb whose husband, Don, is district engineer for Lane Wells. After spending five years in sunny Venezuela, it will be quite a change for the Webbs. Would like to see the lovely antique armoire sent from France to Bobbie and Joe Reid for Christmas. Bobbie's parents picked it up while they were touring Europe. Kitty and Boyd Taylor are joining the ranks of apartment dwellers. Kitty has been breathless keeping pace with all the holiday activities while involved in the chore of moving. Ruth and Bruce Riehart are building a new home on Fir. Speaking of new homes, Grace and Hank Henry will soon be neighbors of the Art Afterguts on Aspen. Coyle and Hazel Dell Ford hosted a Christmas party last week in their home for a group of long-time friends and understand all sorts of goodies were placed on the Ford's spacious table for the guests to enjoy. The A. N. Rogers, O. G. Smiths, John McFallis, Allan Weathereds, Jerry Nelsons, Hardy Boyds from Skellytown, Y. E. Turnbos, E. N. Franklins, and Kit Autrys comprised the group of friends of long-standing who attended the event. J. R. Wallace, Hazel Dell's father, also enjoyed the party.

PAMPA WILL miss Dr. Bob Syper. This young man with the boundless energy, good nature and love of community made our town a better place. Teenagers and Key Club members also will feel a deep loss. Everyone who met Bob, even briefly, felt their day brighter because of his happy outlook and pleasant personality.

Altrusa Club Has Luncheon Meeting

Thirty members of Altrusa Club of Pampa met at Coronado Inn Monday for the luncheon meeting. Emily Coston, president, called the club to order and asked for reports of committees. Lora Dunn read a Christmas greeting from Helen Hooker, district governor and reported that two new Altrusa clubs had been organized, one in Texas and one in Tennessee. Jewel Dean Lewis reported that $335 was realized from the recent chili supper. Marie Fitzgerald said that the Senior Center Christmas party was a complete success with 89 seniors present.

Miss Carolyn Barrett, Altrusa Girl for November, introduced Miss Karen Hepler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Hepler, the December Altrusa Girl. Miss Barrett thanked the club for the pleasure and knowledge of the organization that she had enjoyed as the club's choice and stated that Miss Hepler is a senior in Pampa High School and expects to attend college at Hardin - Simmons and major in elementary education.

The program co-ordinator, Libby Shotwell, was recognized by the president and presented a musical program. Mary McDaniel sang "Gesu Bambino" by Pietro A. Yon, with Fidelia Yoder as her accompanist. Mrs. Shotwell then gave a short history of six of the most loved Christmas carols and asked Mrs. McDaniel to lead the group in singing them.

Next meeting will be Monday evening, December 28.

Credit Women Hold December Meeting

Pampa Credit Women held their December meeting recently in Cibola Room of the Coronado Inn.

Welcome was given by Lydia Gilchrist, president.

The program, a Christmas reading, was given by Weynoka Yarbrough.

Virginia McDonald introduced the guests present for the breakfast.

An exchange of gifts was enjoyed by all. Table decorations were done by Ruby Crocker and Lillie Walton.

Members present were Virgie Wesner, Lillie Walton, Virginia McDonald, Edna Day, Lydia Gilchrist, Mary Elizabeth Lewis, Jerry Hodges, Sharon Johns, Ruth McQueary, Marion George, Laverne Bayless and Ruby Crocker. Guests were: Weynoka Yarbrough, Billie Douthit, Georgia Mack, Juanita Butler, Gayle McDonald, Anna Lois Carpenter, Bunny Anderson, Patti McQueary, Mrs. Margaret Snider and Mary Ellen Elliott.

Elizabeth Ollinger, Geoffrey Keating United in Rites Solemnized in Groom

(Call's Studio Photo)

Mrs. Geoffrey Keating
... nee Elizabeth Yvonne Ollinger

Dec. 5 at 4 o'clock in the afternoon Miss Elizabeth Yvonne Ollinger of Laurelton, Long Island, N.Y., became the bride of Capt. Geoffrey Keating of New York, N.Y. in vows repeated in immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic Church, Groom, Rev. Arnold Carlson performed the double - ring rites before an altar appointed with baskets of white chrysanthemums and gold candelabra holding white tapers.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ollinger of Groom and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Keating of Brighton, Mass. A white aisle cloth extended the length of the sanctuary leading to the white satin pre dieu. The bride, wearing a gown of white silk velvet which she had designed, was given in marriage by her father. The bodice of the gown featured a mandarin neckline and long sleeves ending in petal points over the hands. The sheath skirt was adorned with seed pearls and featured a crystal beaded cummerbund. A camelot cape train, attached to the shoulders, flowed into a cathedral-train. The bride's shoulder - length veil of French illusion was secured by a tier of seed pearls with diamond and pearl drops. She carried a bouquet of white roses centered with a white orchid.

ATTENDANTS

Mrs. Sue Diller, attired in a full - length gown of ruby velvet of empire design with sweep skirt, long petal - point sleeves and matching head piece, and carrying a muff adorned with rose buds, attended the bride as matron of honor. Attending as junior bridesmaids were the Misses Karen, Pamela, Gaynelle and Patricia Ollinger. (See OLLINGER, Page 23)

VFW Auxiliary Has Yule Party

Ladies Auxiliary to Veterans of Foreign Wars met Friday at 7:30 p.m. in VFW Hall for a Christmas party.

Hostesses for the party were Mrs. Earl Eckrodt, Jess Hatcher, O. F. Kreimeyer and Mack Taylor.

Refreshments of home made cookies, fruit cake, candy, hot apple cider and coffee were served from a table covered with a white Christmas cloth and centered with Santa and his sleigh arranged on a base of green cedar and pine cones flanked by red tapers.

Christmas carols were sung by the group accompanied by Mrs. Corinne Bell at the piano. Mrs. Libby Snowell's birthday was acknowledged by the group singing "Happy Birthday" and gifts presented by special friends.

During the gift exchange, secret pals were revealed and names drawn for new secret pals for the coming year. Mrs. Tony Smith, president, presented each member with a Christmas card and handkerchief and was presented a gift from Auxiliary members.

Members approved sending a fruit basket to a member confined in the hospital.

Guests attending the meeting were Mrs. Jim Clifton, Roy L. Jones and Miss Cindy Eckrodt. Members present were Mrs. Jess Beard, A. B. Beard, Corinne Bell, George Benham, C. R. Business and Professional Women's Club Observes Christmas Season With Annual Yuletide Party

CHRISTMAS PARTY SPEAKER — Mrs. E. S. Waters is pictured giving the program entitled "His Gifts" to Business and Professional Club members and guests at the club's annual Christmas party held recently in Citizens Bank Hospitality Room. Mrs. Waters told the group of the gifts God gave to mankind and described the meaning of various Christmas symbols. Some 50 women attended the party and exchanged gifts admiring a yuletide setting.

Some 50 members and guests of Business and Professional Women's Club met in Citizens Bank Hospitality Room last Sunday afternoon to attend the club's annual Christmas party. Hostesses for the event were Mmes. Wesley Lewis, chairman; G. H. Anderson, Elmer Tinnin, Ruby Harvey and Lorena Railsback.

Guests were served Christmas punch and cookies from a table covered with a white satin floor-length cloth and centered with a Christmas arrangement of red carnations in a crystal and silver epergne. Decorating each refreshment plate was a miniature yule log trimmed with evergreen boughs and holding a small lighted red taper. Pouring the punch was Mrs. Tinnin and Mrs. Mack Harmon presided at the silver coffee service.

Mrs. S. E. Waters presented the program for the day choosing as her subject the Christmas story "His Gifts." The speaker related a story of God's gifts to the world, which were Jesus Christ and eternal salvation.

Mrs. Waters concluded the program by describing the meaning of the Christmas symbols.

"The laurel wreath," the speaker said, "symbolizes a ring of love and victory over sin. The lighted candle, truth and righteousness. The Three Wise Men, people of all the ages seeking salvation. The star's five points symbolize love, faith, hope, guidance and victory. The manger, the Christ Child and the cross. The evergreen Christmas tree represents eternal life, and Christmas cards, originating in England in 1840, are spiritual greetings of the world."

B&PW PARTY HOSTESSES — Shown left to right are Mrs. Elmer Tinnin, Mrs. Wesley Lewis and Mrs. Mack Harmon, members of a group of hostesses for B&PW Club's annual Christmas party held recently. Other hostesses for the party with Mrs. Lewis serving as chairman were Mrs. G. H. Anderson, Mrs. Ruby Harvey and Mrs. Lorena Railsback. Guests were served refreshments in keeping with the Christmas season from a table covered with a white satin floor-length cloth centered with a Christmas arrangement of red carnations in a crystal and silver epergne.

those present and secret pal gifts were exchanged. A Christmas basket was prepared by club members at this time to be presented to a deserving family.

Guests at the meeting were Mmes. Ruth Sewell, Jimmy Hayes, Peggy Jo Ormon, pa.

Horace Prince, Mary Ellen Elliott, Vergie Wesner and Jody Desolotte. Mrs. Desolotte of Franklin, La., is state B&PW finance chairman of Louisiana and also a past president and past district director of the organization. She is presently employed by Cabot Corp. in Pampa.

Mrs. Prince Gives

Tops Club Program

Pampa Pound Pirates met Monday evening at 7 o'clock for a demonstration on low calorie foods by Mrs. Mildred Prince. Mrs. Gene Leigh was in charge of a short business meeting and Mrs. Ray Ramey gave the secretary's report following the pledge.

Roll call was answered by the weight loss or gain. There was a report of 39 pounds lost and a gain of three and one-half pounds.

Mrs. A. R. Strey won the weekly fruit bowl for being the best loser.

Following the business meeting the program was turned over to Mrs. Prince for the low calories foods demonstration. A complete meal was prepared and served to the 19 present.

Christmas gifts were exchanged by club members. One new member attended

Pre-Nuptial Event Fetes Bride-Elect

SKELLYTOWN (Spl) — Miss Donna Lee Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Moore of Skellytown and bride-elect of Jerry Wade Tue of Amarillo, was honored with a bridal shower recently in Fellowship Hall of Skellytown First Baptist Church.

Hostesses for the event were Mmes. J. M. Grange, C. C. Coleman, Bill Houghton, Mickey Dunivin, F. C. Horner, Ross Coleman, Irvin Brown, Lena Moore, John Banks and Gene Harlan.

Miss Joan Jarvis served at the guest register.

Miss Jarvis, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Winfred Simmons, sang "Always" and "Love Me Tender."

The meeting next week will be installation of officers.

The honoree and her mother, Mrs. Moore, were presented Christmas corsages of mint green and white, the bride-elect's chosen colors.

As the gifts were opened Miss Ann Harlan recorded them in the brides book.

The serving table, covered with a light beige lace cloth over green, was centered with a Christmas arrangement consisting of four angels standing amid white and green poinsettias with a background of taller white and silver leaves with three votive amber tapers. A white sheet cake, decorated with two large green hearts and white roses, appointed the table.

Miss Rosalie McAllister served the cake and Miss Jarvis presided at the punch bowl.

Attending were Mmes. John Simmons, Gene Harlan, Winfred Simmons, J. M. Grange, C. Coleman, Jim Franks and daughter, Mickey Dunivin, G. W. Franks, F. C. Horner, Gene Bates, W. G. Godding, Ross Coleman, Howard Moore, Irvin Brown, J. C. Jarvis, and Misses Joan Jarvis, Ann Harlan, Wanda Moore, Nancy Harlan and Rosalie McAllister.

Charles Detten of WTSU Presents Program for First Methodist WSCS

Woman's Society of Christian Service of First Methodist Church held a general meeting at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday in Fellowship Hall. President, Mrs. W. H. Nichols, conducted a short business session preceding the main program.

Mrs. E. S. Williams gave a report on the work of the Conference Daughters, and an offering was contributed by those present toward the support of this special work. Mrs. Raeburn Thompson gave a financial report from the conference treasury. Mrs. Nichols announced the sub-district WSCS meeting to be held in Miami Jan. 12.

Devotional, "Room for Christ," taken from "The Methodist Woman," was presented by Mrs. C. J. Killgo.

Mrs. Eben Warner Jr. introduced Charles Detten, who serves on the faculty of the art department at West Texas State University, speaker for the day.

Detten chose the subject "Religious Art," and gave a vivid explanation of art. Stating that the "Beautiful is what made the beautiful. Important things that should be considered before judging a painting as to whether it is excellent, good or bad are the background of the artist, process and way of doing, technique, craftsmanship, subject matter and achieved product.

Art is some form of human emotions. What takes place in history has an influence on the individual. Time is insignificant on the scale of achievement for many artists produce only one masterpiece in a lifetime.

Detten presented paintings showing how the image of Christ had been portrayed beginning in the 13th Century and also paintings of the Nativity Scene and the few figures that were used in the scene centuries ago.

"Artists learned from each other. The early pictures of Christ reflect youth, always front view and muted colors," the speaker continued.

"In the 14th Century, Christ took on a different look with the halo and symbols. During the Reformation in Europe, people were not allowed to paint Christ. Samuel Palmer portrayed Christ differently. He depicted Him as an individual driving out royalty that suppressed peasantry. There have been few paintings in the religious field since the 19th Century, Stanley Spencer being one of the latest in 1937," the speaker concluded.

Following the program Mrs. Carl Shaeffer led the group in singing Christmas carols.

Hostesses for the meeting were members of Circles One and Two.

KKI Al Conclave Has Yuletide Party

Alpha Iota Conclave of Kappa Kappa Sorority met for the annual Christmas party in the home of Mrs. Jerry Peurifoy at 514 N. Sumner at 7:30 p.m. Monday.

A short business meeting was conducted by Miss Sheila Chisholm, president. The club's Christmas donation will be used to purchase personal essentials for some needy students at Pampa Junior High School.

Mrs. Jack Parker started the program with a humorous reading concerning grade school situations at Christmas time and followed this selection with "The Beggar and the Star," a reading that sparked everyone's heart with the true meaning of Christmas.

Refreshments of Christmas cookies and candy, coffee and spiced tea were served by the hostesses, Mmes. Jerry Peurifoy, Floyd Barrett and W. L. Veale and Miss Ruth Ann Bedford. The red round table was decorated in the holiday motif with a gold Christmas tree centerpiece.

Small humorous gifts were exchanged under the Christmas tree to the tune of laughter from all.

Others attending were Mmes. Henry Gruben, Jack Williams, Paul Keim, Paul Tucker, John Raeburn, Frank Anderson, John Best and Sam Hanks and Misses Mary McFarland, Peggy Turner, Betty Boswell, Rhett Sue Durham, Stella Kiser and Deanne Smith.

WMU Group Meets in Fellowship Hall

Mrs. R. C. Brown called the meeting to order for the Central Baptist WMU Wednesday by reading the prayer calendar. Mrs. Billie Joe Chance offered the opening prayer.

Mrs. Dale Gallaher led the WMU in mission study in Fellowship Hall with Mmes. Wayne Cobb, R. O. Clements, Dan Johnson and Norma McCord taking parts and giving a portion of the book. The front of the room was decorated with flags from different countries. Place cards were displayed with what had been done and what is being done now on the foreign field.

Following the mission study the circles met to conduct a short business meeting. Love boxes were prepared to be distributed to deserving families of the community.

Next WMU meeting will be Jan. 6.

Dec. 30 was announced as a general work day for the WMU and everyone is asked to come to Fellowship Hall to help in this project.

Upsilon Chapter of BSP Holds Meeting

Mrs. James Schaffer presented a review of the Dale Carnegie Book, "How To Win Friends and Influence People" to Upsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi members when the group met recently in Citizen's Bank Hospitality Room.

During the business session, Mrs. Bill Martin, president, announced the Christmas party with gift exchange and revealing of secret pals to be held at the next meeting of the group. Mrs. Jay Leath reported on the delivery of the Thanksgiving basket.

Keep dipping scissors into hot water to cut a smooth edge on foam rubber.

Altar Society Has Regular Meeting

GROOM (Sp) — Christian Mothers and Altar Society of the Immaculate Heart of Mary Church met in the school hall Tuesday. The meeting was opened with a prayer by Mrs. Tom Britten.

Each one present brought an article of new baby clothing for the Holy Fathers Store Room. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by St. Rita Circle.

DRESS UP OLD SUIT

You can give new life to an old suit jacket by replacing the buttons with the popular brass or silver buttons in heraldic or coin designs.

Choir Presents 'Christmas in Hawaii' At William B. Travis P-TA Meeting

Travis P-TA met Thursday evening at 7:30. The meeting was conducted by Mrs. Weldon Rogers, president.

The flag ceremony was presented by the Cub Scouts from Pack 98, Den 4. Den Mother is Mrs. Reimond Linville. Invocation was by Rev. Harold Starbuck.

The door prize, which was baked by Mrs. W. R. Brown, was won by Mrs. Weldon Rogers. Mrs. Melvin Cardwell, first grade teacher, won the room count.

A film was shown for school-age children. The sixth grade girls who assisted in the nursery were Jan Truby, Ann Truby, and Pamela Williams.

The executive board recommended that Dan Johnson, Mrs. Jack Oliver, and Mrs. Reimond Linville serve on the nominating committee for officers for 1965-66. The recommendation was accepted.

Mrs. Forrest Pitts gave a report on the Fall Workshop which was held in Wheeler on Oct. 15. Mrs. Jim Terrell reported that Family Night was very successful this year with the proceeds exceeding the amount expected.

A thorough report of the State Convention which was held in Dallas Nov. 11-13 was given by Mrs. Jack Oliver.

It was announced that Mrs. W. J. Danforth, state P-TA president will speak in Borger on Jan. 14 at the Austin Junior High School Auditorium.

The Mothers' March of Dimes for the Travis School District has been set for Jan. 18.

The school choir under the direction of Mrs. Jack Parker presented "Christmas in Hawaii." The setting was Christmas Eve, 1880, in the home of a family recently emigrated from Japan. They were not yet used to American ways. Kindly neighbors and friends helped them understand an American Christmas. Carolers came to the home presenting the English custom of caroling. Neighbor women and children from Germany shared Christmas cookies with the family and presented them with a Christmas tree.

The meeting was concluded with coffee and cookies served from a gay holiday table by Mrs. Bruce Riehart, Mrs. Don Boddy and Mrs. E. L. Kindy.

Dear Abby.... Abby Needs Cheated Widow's Address

DEAR ABBY: My husband died in 1951 and he left in excess of $700,000, and I was cheated out of every dime of it. None of the lawyers in this town will touch my case with a ten-foot pole. My husband had liver trouble. He was operated on for it, and his doctor told me himself that the operation was successful, but in nine days my husband was dead! I refused to pay the bill because that doctor had lied to me. When my husband's will was read I was cut out of it except for a few dollars I was supposed to live on. When I protested, they tried to prove that I was crazy. They are still trying to prove it. His sisters got everything. They are the crazy ones. Money crazy! Can you help me get out of here?

CHEATED
DEAR CHEATED: Where are you?

DEAR ABBY: I have been going with this boy for two years and we recently became engaged. He suddenly was notified that he has an opportunity to go to West Point. I knew he always wanted a military career, but I never thought he'd get an appointment to West Point. If he goes, it means we can't get married for four years. I plan to go to college, and the thought of my sitting in the dorm for four years does not appeal to me. I love him, Abby, but I don't know whether to let him accept this appointment or not. I am 19 and he is 20. This is quite a shock to me as it wasn't in our plans. I would like some advice about what to do.

UPSET
DEAR UPSET: If you really loved him, you'd not only "let" him accept the appointment, you'd encourage him, knowing that he always wanted an Army career. Your chief concern seems to be the unhappy prospect of "sitting in the dorm for four years." A career man's man's wife needs more understanding than you appear to have. Level with him. And ask him to level with you. I think you could both probably do better in the choice of lifetime partners.

DEAR ABBY: I just found out that my girl friend kept a diary of our dates and she wrote a bunch of stuff in it that never happened. It was all out of her imagination. Her mother read it and now she refuses to let me date her. Abby, we never did anything wrong. What can I do?

NOT GUILTY
DEAR NOT GUILTY: Proclaim your innocence and hope her mother believes you. And next time you become interested in a girl who goes in for creative writing, suggest she use an outlet other than her diary for her talents.

CONFIDENTIAL TO BERNIE: The biggest problem in the world could have been solved when it was small.

Problem? Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send one dollar to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., for Abby's booklet, "How To Write Letters For All Occasions."

COX-FONDREN — Mrs. Billie B. Cox, 1912 Chestnut, announces the engagement of her daughter, Vickie, to Joel Fondren, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cody Fondren of Phillips. An early June wedding is planned by the couple.

● Ollinger
er, nieces of the bride, and another niece, Miss Michelle Diller served as flower girl. All were dressed identically in ruby red velvet costumes with full-length bell-shaped skirts, matching head pieces and carried muffs with stemmed rose buds attached.

John Keating served as best man to the bridegroom and ushers were W. H. Ollinger and George Lillis. Serving the nuptial high mass was Thomas Waller and Daniel, Tony and Kelvin Ollinger, nephews of the bride. Providing liturgical music throughout the mass and wedding ceremony was Mrs. Jerry Kotara at the organ. Nuptial selections were presented by the Church Choir.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Ollinger chose a dress of periwinkle blue chiffon accented by matching accessories. Mrs. Keating selected a dress of pink lace complemented by deep pink accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of cymbidium orchids.

RECEPTION
The home of the bride's parents was the scene for the reception which followed the wedding ceremony. The bride's table, covered with a white satin cloth, was centered with white rose buds arranged in a gold taper bowl flanked by gold tapers. A four-tiered colonial wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom, and crystal punch bowl appointed the table. Serving in the house party were Mmes. W. H. Ollinger, Herminia Ollinger, Judi Murry and Jane Kerry. Presiding at the guest register was Mrs. R. J. Ollinger.

For a wedding trip to Toronto, Canada, the bride donned a suit fashioned of cranberry wool ac-

Accreditation of Schools

Dr. James B. Conant has come forward to deliver a smashing attack on the American educational system, of which he has been a distinguished member. Dr. Conant's attack isn't what many would have suspected.

In a new book, "Shaping Educational Policy" (McGraw-Hill, $1.95, paperback), Dr. Conant has called for the elimination of our present system of accrediting schools and colleges, replacing it with a government bureau within the Department of State.

It may be that many do not know that for all these many years, the accreditation of schools has been a task undertaken exclusively in the private sector. Scholars and educators have formed six accreditation groups, established standards, and set up fairly extensive requirements for all schools wishing the stamp of approval from their organizations.

These six groups operate over various geographic areas and it is true that at times the requirements have been subject to reasonable criticism. Their rulings have sometimes been arbitrary if not autocratic. And have emerged with standards so high that they far surpass the minimums prescribed in this fashion.

Indeed, accreditation has sometimes been denied a school because of a lack of certain buildings, even when its scholastic standing was formidable.

Of course, our American educational system has been so seriously impaired by government intrusion that most imagine that accreditation has been a function of the state. But it has not. The school system, government, private and independent, has, at least so far as accreditation is concerned, been in the hands of educators, for better or for worse.

But Dr. Conant's suggestion will make mince meat out of any further pretense that education can be or will be something in the hands of those most competent to deal in the area. Instead, if his ideas are followed, the government will assume virtual police powers over all education. If this happens, it may well be that in time, a lack of accreditation will be an indication of a truly superior school.

Dr. Conant would like to see interstate compacts established with the backing of various legislatures, and sprinkling of lay people, so that the entire educational picture of the nation will conform to government standards.

If we have been suffering from an excess of conformity as things stand, one can imagine the plight we would experience were we to descend into a total governmental control of what is taught, how it is taught and where it is taught.

Further, Dr. Conant would like to see all teachers issued their certificates, not by a university, but by the government. That way, even the teachers could be compelled to conform or to get out. We view Dr. Conant's suggestion (which has been endorsed by the Council of Chief State School Officers) as an attack upon freedom of academic inquiry.

If all educational activities in the country were to come under the actual control of the federal government, through the accrediting process, who would dare come forward to challenge the idea that any particular political administration was grossly in error?

At the present time, the bulk of all our institutions of higher learning are private and relatively independent. True, many of them have fallen from virtue by accepting funds from the federal bureaucracy. But the academic area, although influenced profoundly in favor of social (governmental) amalgamation, has nonetheless retained, in the persons of some teachers, a rare and valuable independence of reason and inquiry.

If Dr. Conant has his way, this will vanish. Educational institutions, higher, secondary and primary, will fall under the gun of a massive governmental agency.

We believe we can anticipate at least a modicum of opposition to this proposal. But we suspect that the opposition will be weak since, for so long, so many have felt that the government was already doing the job.

"Rather Effective"

The President's less than spirited support of the dedicated, efficient and long-suffering FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover at the recent press conference at the LBJ Ranch should have prepared us for ensuing reports that one of the most respected and admired public servants of our time is about to walk the plank. According to one source, any delay will be due to the considerable task of finding a replacement who will not offend public sensibilities too deeply.

Asked whether he thought Mr. Hoover's usefulness "had been impaired" by his statements on the subjects of the Rev. Martin Luther King, the Warren Commission and the Supreme Court, the President narrowed his reply to the colloquy between the two individuals. In the course of his answer, he said:

"... Mr. Hoover has been called upon by the President and others on many occasions to do work in the examination and the study and the investigation in this field of civil rights.

He has been diligent and rather effective, and I would hope in the months ahead we would have further evidence of his — the outstanding capacity of his people — and that this would not degenerate into a personal battle of personalities."

Not since the days of Harry Truman, we would say, has any public servant been publicly damned by such faint praise. And the sudden shift of reference from "further evidence of his" (Mr. Hoover's), to "the outstanding capacity of his people," is hardly subtle.

Nor, despite the President's recent dedication to civil rights, and in view of the record on which Mr. Hoover based his evaluation of Dr. King's probity, does it seem likely that the President underestimates the FBI Chief's effectiveness. And it will be a sad day for all Americans, including Dr. King and his cohorts, when the direction of the Federal Bureau of Investigation passes from the hands of J. Edgar Hoover.

BERRY'S WORLD

"It makes you feel any better—my job is scheduled for elimination, too!"

Will Campus Be Hotbed Of Politics?

By RAY CROMLEY
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Two months of University of California student rallies, picketing and sit-ins aimed at expanding campus political activity bring to mind how far I've seen students go politically in some foreign countries.

The California demonstrations and the civil rights activities organized by students at some schools raise the question: Will U. S. campuses eventually become the political hotbeds universities already have become in many other countries?

I was in Mexico City a number of years ago when the authorities were moving the University of Mexico from the center of the city to the suburbs. Mexicans told me this move was in large part aimed at getting the students outside of the capital so their political effectiveness would be reduced.

In an emergency, I was told, Mexican government troops could bar the students from entering the central city. As long as the university was in the center of town, such control was practically impossible.

The students had been held responsible for a major part in precipitating a series of Mexican political crises.

At another time, I was walking down a street in Havana, Cuba (years before Castro) when a soldier with fixed bayonet forced me to make a detour. Unknowingly, I'd been about to walk on the sidewalk in front of the university. Its students had been involved in a series of demonstrations and political riots in which streetcars and automobiles had been overturned and destroyed. The Cuban government had isolated the campus with a ring of soldiers.

In Panama, it was a group of students, infiltrated by communists, who set off the rioting in the Panama Canal Zone building.

In Saigon recently, students rioting reportedly played a part in forcing Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh to give up the presidency of South Viet Nam. Some of these students told me they planned to increase their political activity.

In the years I lived in Japan before World War II, the universities and colleges were hotbeds of political opposition despite strong efforts by the police. At one time, many of the schools had Communist cells. Many schools likewise had extreme nationalist student groups.

In China in World War II, I learned from Mao Tse-tung's men that the Red leader's own political activist beginnings were on a school campus. A sizable chunk of early Red Chinese activity was among students.

None of this is to imply that student political activity in the countries I've reported from is always either left wing or right wing. I do mean to suggest that in many foreign countries, student political activity has been strong enough to help overthrow governments.

In the foreign countries I have been in, the students (right wing, left wing or whatever) usually were prepared to resort to violence in the heat of demonstrations. This was true, however moderate their leaders intended to be when the movements were organized.

Backstage Washington House Democratic Leaders Want Expulsion Of Goldwater Democrats; Johnson Prefers 'Slap on Wrist'

WASHINGTON — President Johnson is at odds with House Democratic leaders over what should be done with two Southern Democrats who supported Senator Barry Goldwater in the November election.

While the President is counseling against excommunication, his legislative chiefs, led by Speaker John McCormack, Mass., are privately advocating that Representatives John Bell Williams, Miss., and Albert Watson, S. C., be stripped of their party status and committee assignments.

To the legislators' chagrin, the President wants only to serve a "slap-on-the-wrist" warning to the two bolters that a second offense will result in their ouster from the party.

In conversations with the House leaders, the President is stressing that stronger discipline might touch off a party-shattering fight at a time he is seeking congressional unity for his "Great Society" programs.

"If the 'Great Society' is going to get off the ground in 1965, we will need all the votes you can muster to whip the legislative program through Congress in the first 90 days," explained the President. "A party fight at the opening of Congress could delay that timetable and the whole program. Once our election mandate cools off, it could take years to get the more controversial proposals on education and disarmament enacted into law."

TALKING IT OVER — Although agreeing that a party battle could seriously hinder swift passage of his legislative program, the House leader frankly told the President a clash is inevitable regardless of what stand they or the White House take.

"A showdown is coming on Representatives Williams and Watson no matter what positions we take," Majority Leader Carl Albert, Okla., reported. "Members of the House Study Group are going to see to that. Those liberal members want the two legislators purged and are planning a fight when Congress convenes."

When the President insisted a party fight be avoided for the sake of unity, Speaker McCormack replied: "While I don't plan to go around in public beating my breast for their ouster, I am not going to oppose it. If you want party discipline in the House, these legislators must be punished. Otherwise, there is no party control. I personally favor the purge."

The House leaders, ever jealous of their prerogatives in dealing with other members, wound up their talks with the President by promising only to consult with him before any disciplinary action was voted against the Southern legislators.

Meanwhile, members of the House Study Group, comprising 160 liberal Democrats, have begun setting the stage for the attempted purge of Representatives Williams and Watson. Under the signature of Representative Frank Thompson, N.J., a leader of the Study Group, a memorandum is being circulated among all House Democrats containing excerpts of letters from Democrats, including Southerners, urging expulsion of the two Southern legislators.

A copy of the Thompson memorandum also was sent to the President. So far, there has been no reaction.

Neither Williams, chairman of the House Transportation Subcommittee, nor Watson, member of the Civil Service & Post-Office Committee, is showing any concern over the coming showdown.

Friends of the lawmakers report that stripping them of their party credentials in Congress would make them leading candidates for governor in their home states should they choose to seek that office in 1966.

OTEPKA CASE — The Senate Internal Security Subcommittee is giving President Johnson what he wants for Christmas.

On urgent request from the White House, the Senate probers are delaying until after the President's inauguration publication of more than 10,000 pages of secret testimony on security risks in the State Department.

One of the most sensational disclosures in these unpublished committee hearings is a list of 163 State Department security risks, 15 with the rank of ambassador or higher.

This highly explosive testimony, which may never see the light of day, is under lock and key in the subcommittee's vault and was to be released this month.

However, Senator Thomas Dodd, D-Conn., who blocked publication of the shocking testimony during the presidential campaign, again interceded to delay its release.

Bringing the White House request to the attention of other subcommittee members, Dodd won their reluctant approval to hold up publication to avoid embarrassing the President before his inauguration.

Senator Dodd, eager for an appointment to the Supreme Court, argued the President was planning to name a new Secretary of State after the inauguration and that release of the testimony should be delayed until then.

Top Executives Speak Up Clearly on Public Issues

By SAM CAMPBELL

The type of the executive in a publicly held corporation is a smooth-suited, polished-shoe individual who is a wizard in finance, a genius in production, a civic do-gooder, a mild conservative or a mild liberal as the situation requires, and a complete mealy-mouth on public issues.

But that picture doesn't hold up, at least of all the way. An increasing number of top corporation executives are speaking up in no uncertain terms.

Genocide Scored

Just Friday of this week, A. N. Spanel, chairman and founder of International Latex Corp., took out a two-column ad in the Wall Street Journal to express an opinion. The ad was headed "They Defend Genocide and Cannibalism."

"Words cannot quite convey," Spanel wrote, "the fiendishness of the Congo blood-lust, marked by sadism and cannibalism. A few telltale episodes need to be spelled out. In Paulis, for instance, some twenty innocents, among them the American missionary Mr. Joseph Tucker, were murdered slowly, piecemeal, in forty-five minutes of systematic beatings — 'from the neck downward,' as escaped eyewitnesses described it. Natives earmarked for murder were forced to drink gasoline, then cut open and set afire. Rescued nuns relate seeing four Catholic priests butchered and eaten. Nuns were marched naked through the streets.

"Where has the United Nations been during the Congolese outbreaks of blood madness?" Spanel asked, adding "Unfortunately Secretary U Thant hasn't considered the Congo massacres worthy of sharpest condemnation."

Warner & Swasey

His outright statement came almost as an agonizing echo from a full page Warner & Swasey ad in the U.S. News & World Report of Dec. 14.

"Bowing and scraping to greedy groups abroad because it might get you votes at home can lose allies for America, and be the difference between life or death for your country some day," the advertisement stated in part. It continued:

Wit and Whimsy

Man — Officer, what's the quickest way to the hospital? Officer — Close your eyes, cross this street, and you'll be there in fifteen minutes.

May we all have the unspokeable good fortune to win a true heart, and the merit to keep it. The lawyer surveyed the tattered client as he listened, and decided that he would be lucky to obtain a ten-dollar fee. He named that amount as necessary to secure the prisoner's release. Thereupon, the client drew forth a large roll of bills, and peeled off a ten. The lawyer's greedy eyes popped.

Lawyer (craftily) — What jail is your son in? Client — In the county jail. Lawyer — In the county jail, not the city jail? That's bad — very bad. It will cost you at least fifty dollars.

Judge — Have you ever been up before me? Accused — I don't know. What time do you get up?

Love to one, friendship to a few, and good — will to all.

A doctor was called in to see a rather testy aristocrat. Doctor — Well, sir, what's the matter? Patient — That, sir, is for you to find out.

Doctor — I see. Well, if you'll excuse me for an hour or so I'll go along and fetch a friend of mine — a veterinarian. He is the only chap I know who can make a diagnosis without asking questions.

in the U. S. Senate as New York, California, Ohio, or any of the more populous states. According to survey Uncle Sam is spending $50 billion a year on defense while Soviet Russia spends about $35 billion. But they don't give much of it away. The Macon (Ga.) NEWS headlined a story: "Man Whose Heart Stopped Beating To Take It Easy." What else could he do?

Country Editor speaking: "They say the U. S. dollar moves a great comeback last year, but ours remain out of the mainstream of the current trend."

"We feed our enemies, because it's the decent thing to do." Today's tiger cub, well fed, can tear you apart tomorrow.

The same issue of U.S. News pointed out that two tiny new nations such as Gabon in Africa and the Island of Malta, containing fewer persons than Akron, Ohio, can outvote the U.S. two to one in the United Nations Assembly.

But commendation is paid here to such firms as Latex Corp. and Warner & Swasey not because the expressed views of their top executives happen to agree with comments expressed in this column, but rather because they recognize their duty to speak up and did speak.

On that basis, pro-U. N. statements by business leaders likewise are to be commended. These include forthright endorsements of the United Nations by such respected executives as George V. U. S. Rubber (which will become known as Uni-Royal) and by Xerox President George Wilson. Ruinous errors on one side or the other, can be detected best when they are exposed to view.

Question Box

(We invite questions on economic and the proper functions of government which will not feature answers.)

Question: "What makes employer - employee relations beneficial?"

Answer: Before we answer this question we want to comment that we can think of no human relations more important than employee - employer relationships other than the family relationship. Family relationship is probably the most important and then would come the employer - employee relationship.

The trouble with the employee - employer relationship is that it is not very well understood, either by the employer or the employee or the public. Beneficial employer - employee relations are those that do a great deal to promote happiness, peace, goodwill and material and spiritual well-being and present a clear, rational understanding of the responsibilities and the rights of both the employer and employee.

Many who have had little or no experience as an employer fail to see that the employer is both employer and employee. First, he is in fact employed by his employees to market what they produce on the best terms consistent to continuous employment. If he fails to do this, the employee quits his job and hires another employer to market what he produces.

The employer is also employed by his customers to give them as much satisfaction for what they buy from him as anyone else will. He, therefore, has to try to serve both the seller, his employee and his customer.

A desirable employer is one who not only tries to market what his employees produce so that the employee will have a steady job, but one who also tries to give the employee an opportunity to learn to do work that is more in demand so that he can earn more.

The employer always has to try to keep his unit cost down so that he can earn profits for his stockholders, have more customers and thus be able to grow and employ more people and offer efficient men more remuneration.

Every person ought to get all he produces or its equivalent, no more, no less. This applies both to the employer and the employee. To the degree this is in effect, every person benefits. This is true because men who receive the full value of all they produce always work harder, do more difficult and useful jobs and produce more goods to be distributed. The employer also ought to get all he produces for the work he does in buying the material, getting the capital, hiring the help, marketing the product, and seeing that it is delivered and the myriad of other decisions he has to make.

If he makes too many bad decisions, he ceases to be an employer. His profits are just the wages of efficiency. The employer and the employee are, of course, both fallible. They are both capable of error and there will never be a perfect employer or a perfect employee but both of them are perfectable; they are both capable of improvement in their understanding and their development.

Country Editor speaking: "They say the U. S. dollar moves a great comeback last year, but ours remain out of the mainstream of the current trend."

Phillips, Australian Group To Form Chemical Company

A company to be known as Phillips Imperial Chemicals Limited, is to be formed jointly by Imperial Chemical Industries of Australia and New Zealand Limited and Phillips Petroleum Company, according to Stanley Learned, President of Phillips and Mr. J. R. A. Glenn, Chairman of ICI in Melbourne. The company will manufacture synthetic rubbers and carbon black.

Phillips Imperial Chemicals Limited, which will be owned equally by the two partners, will erect plants of the most modern design at Krul in the Sydney area. The products will include various types of furnace carbon black and polybutadiene and butadiene - styrene synthetic rubbers. The plant for synthetic rubbers will use the Phillips Petroleum solution polymer process and will produce many types of rubbers not previously made in Australia.

This project, which has been under consideration for some years, will have the support of a continuing flow of technical service assistance and research and development data from Phillips Petroleum Company.

The plants, scheduled for completion in mid - 1967, will use as raw materials butadiene and aromatic oil which will be by-products from the recently announced ICI ethylene plant to be built at Botany, New South Wales.

Outlook For Oil Brightens

Petroleum demand throughout the world will increase by 8 million barrels daily by 1970, and "thanks to the U.S.A., its equipment and service companies, the world is in good position to capitalize on this demand."

This oil industry outlook was given members of the international operations committee of the Petroleum Equipment Suppliers Association Thursday, December 10, by Ted W. Mayborn of Dallas, chairman of Associated Publishers, at a meeting in Houston, Texas.

Mayborn said the increase would break down as follows: U.S.A., two to three per cent; South America, two per cent; Europe, six to seven per cent; and the Far East, 12 to 15 per cent.

"The U.S. pioneered practically every technique and economic principle and immediately turned this know-how over to the entire world, with the equipment, counsel and financing to get the job done," Mayborn said. "Half of all investment in backward countries is done by the oil industry, and the industry spends one-third of all money spent everywhere."

Other industry figures spoke before the committee on the advantages and disadvantages of license arrangements abroad, on the benefits and drawbacks of American-owned foreign operations and on export regulations.

In licensing foreign manufacturers, American companies must work with the licensee to see that product quality is maintained, according to R. A. Forsman, chairman of the PESA committee and director of marketing for Baash - Ross Division of Joy Manufacturing Co. Forsman said other considerations in granting foreign licenses are financial responsibility, manufacturing capabilities of the licensee and the licensee's "selling ethics."

R. E. White, president of Mission Manufacturing Co., told the group that the decision to manufacture abroad "must be made from the standpoint of your overall operation. You have to recognize all of the influence at work. You can end up with numerous combinations of factors, and you must consider all of them."

Discussing export regulations, B. J. Gross of Houston, director of marketing for WKM Division of ACF Industries, said "exchange controls are by far the most influential" of all forms of control.

"Under a generally used international trade well-nigh impossible," Gross said. "Because of this, financing of trade among nations becomes a task of finding a way through the myriad controls affecting payments. International financing must be a multilateral as trade if commerce is to move smoothly and economically."

The committee met at the Sheraton - Lincoln Hotel. PESA membership includes approximately 140 companies comprising about 85 per cent of the total oil field equipment and service industry. In 1964, the industry PESA represents furnished products and services worth approximately $650 million in more than 67 countries of the world.

New Driver's Film Made By Oil Group

A two-year program of development, test and evaluation will bear fruit this Fall with nationwide distribution of a driver education film series to high schools desiring the program.
Produced as a public service by American Oil Company in cooperation with the National Education Association's Commission on Safety Education, the series consists of eight, 4 1/2 minute films covering specific hard-to-teach situations. Topics include: freeway driving, sudden emergencies, the power train, and other subjects requiring moving picture interpretation as an aid to classroom instruction.
Decision to expand the program's scope to the national level comes as the result of a six-month test program in four midwestern states, according to Robert L. Utley, Supervisor, Youth and Educational Activities in the oil company's Chicago general office. Concluded last spring, the test indicated highly favorable teacher acceptance and student response.
The film set is offered in three versions... cartridge - contained 8mm., standard 8 mm., and sound 16 mm. Utley said. Direct mailing of descriptive brochures and order blanks to educators across the nation begins this week and advertisements are being placed in educator periodicals. The complete package, including teacher's guide, is available to schools at cost.

"Utley noted also that numerous requests for the films have been received from law enforcement agencies, insurance companies, and other safety-minded organizations.
Dr. Norman Key, executive secretary of the National Commission Safety Education, points out that one of the limitations of classroom presentation of driver education has been the inadequacy of words in creating a mental image of typical highway situations.
"The concept of the short instruction visual aid determined the choice of the silent, captioned film supplemented by teacher commentary as the most appropriate medium," according to Dr. Key.

Sun Promotes Bryon Wiess

BEAUMONT, Texas — Byron Wiess Jr., division superintendent, Operating Department, for Sun Oil Company's Gulf Coast Production Division, with headquarters in Beaumont, has been promoted to administrative assistant to division management, effective January 1, 1965, announces Millard Moor, division manager.
Kenneth E. Montague, assistant division superintendent, Operating Department, will succeed Wiess as division superintendent.
Also announced by Moor is the appointment of J. W. Hodges, administrative petroleum engineer, to succeed Mr. Montague as assistant division superintendent.

In his new assignment Wiess will take an active part in the management of Sun Oil's Gulf Coast Production Division. He has been with the firm nearly 19 years and Mr. Hodges for 28 years.

The 8 mm. film, long associated with the "home movies," was chosen for its low cost and flexibility, the educator explained. Though now supplemented by the 16 mm. sound - tract production, the smaller film makes it possible for schools to obtain prints for each classroom, making them "as handy to use as the desk - copy reference book."
In addition to the new film program, American Oil Company plans to continue distribution of a student booklet titled "Tips From Pro Drivers." More than a million copies of the highly popular booklet now have been used by student drivers throughout the nation.

STILL LIFE—Largest illegal liquor still to be raided in the state in three years was recently destroyed near Nashville, N.C. The still had contained nearly 20,000 gallons of mash and was capable of producing 1,950 gallons of spirits a day. Officers say this represents a daily tax loss to the government of $19,950.

Isolated Camera For LBJ Message

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) — In telecasting football games this year, the networks have been making big use of something called the "isolated camera."

For the benefit of my wife and others who abhor football, on television or otherwise, I shall attempt to explain how the isolated camera works.

While the regular cameras are covering the central action on the field — that is, following the ball — the isolated camera picks out some individual player and records his activities on video tape.

If it turns out that the player being followed by the isolated camera did something important on that particular play, like catching a pass, the tape will immediately be put on the air to show how he did it.

Double Vision
Thus the viewers get two looks at the same play, which is one more than the spectators inside the stadium get, unless they happen to be cross-eyed or have severe astigmatism. Assuming that everyone is now clear as to how the isolated camera works, I will tell you about a splendid suggestion that I am preparing to lay before the networks.

I intend to propose that they use the isolated camera technique in covering President Johnson's "State of the Union" message to Congress next month.

As you know, the President has decided to deliver the message at 9 p.m., rather than the customary "noontide." Since 9 p.m. is regarded as "prime time" on television, this presumably will insure a bigger viewing audience than he would draw at mid-day. If the networks adopted my plan, the speech would be taped by an isolated camera and when Johnson got off a particularly good line, it would immediately be repeated so that the audience could savor it twice.

Speech Analysis
The announcer would break in and say, "Let's watch that last paragraph again on the isolated camera to see how the President got so much applause. Here we see him building up to a climatic pronouncement on Viet Nam. And here's the punch line... now back to the live action."

As with football, the isolated camera could be used to pick up little details that might ordinarily be overlooked. For instance, the regular cameras would rerun his remarks with would show the President in a only his hands showing. That medium range view discussing way we could tell whether he tax reductions. had his fingers crossed when Then the isolated camera he said it.

DISCOVERING A TRAGEDY—Two British airmen stationed at the Eastleigh RAF Base near Nairobi, Kenya, conquered the 19,890-foot Mawenzi Peak, twin of Mount Kilimanjaro, and found the wreckage of a 1955 plane crash. The climbers found the wing and tail section and part of the undercarriage of the East African Airways DC-3 at the 15,000-foot level. Two on board were killed in the 1955 tragedy. Rescue attempts were abandoned years ago.

Despite Ailments Sukarno Pledges To Lead Indonesia

By United Press International
Standing on bare, swollen feet in Jakarta, Indonesian President Sukarno pledged to lead the Indonesian people "until my last hour."

Notably absent was the boast of the past of Sukarno's indestructibility.

For the life-time president of Indonesia clearly was a sick man.

The swollen feet, over which he could not put on his shoes, were the result of a kidney ailment. One kidney has been removed and he reportedly has been told he must undergo another operation to save the one remaining.

In public, he obviously tired quickly.

Speculation Mounts
There was reason then for speculation about his succession.

In Paris, where NATO ministers extended their defense discussions to include Southeast Asia, one name mentioned was that of Dr. Chaerul Saleh, who currently is Sukarno's third deputy premier and development minister.

He is described as one who could be expected to press Sukarno's campaign to "crush Malaysia."

Whether there could be such a thing as orderly succession to Sukarno is open to considerable doubt.

Sukarno's one-man rule has not permitted the rise of any other popular figure, and since his ministers are personal appointments, they also fail to provide a measure of personal appeal.

A further intangible would be the attitude of the army whose commanders generally have been considered anti-Communist.

But of the Communist party strength in Indonesia there can be no doubt.

EXTENDS SERVICE
WASHINGTON (UPI) The Association of American Railroads announced that armed services personnel traveling in uniform by rail will be able to buy reduced fare tickets for another year.

The reduced rate, which had been scheduled to expire Dec. 31, was extended by the nation's railroads. It is estimated that the lower rate for round-trip tickets could save a serviceman as much as 1.9 cents a mile.

APPLE QUESTION
LONDON (UPI) — Chancellor of the Exchequer James Callaghan—who has other problems—now must decide when an apple is an apple.

The National Farmers' Union has asked him to remove the 15 per cent purchase tax on toffee apples, currently classed as confectionery, not fruit.
