Borden County Observes National 4-H Week October 6 - 12

4-H Is On The Go

4-H is "on the go" in Borden County. With National 4-H Week this week, October 6-12, now is a good time to look at the current 4-H program, says Earnest Kiker, county agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

4-H is a youth orientated organization that the entire family can become involved in to work toward the development of boys and girls into fine young adults for the future growth of our country.

There is one 4-H Club in the county.

A total of 59 youth between the ages of 9 and 19 are presently enrolled in 4-H work, notes Kiker. The percent of the 4-Hers live on farms and ranches.

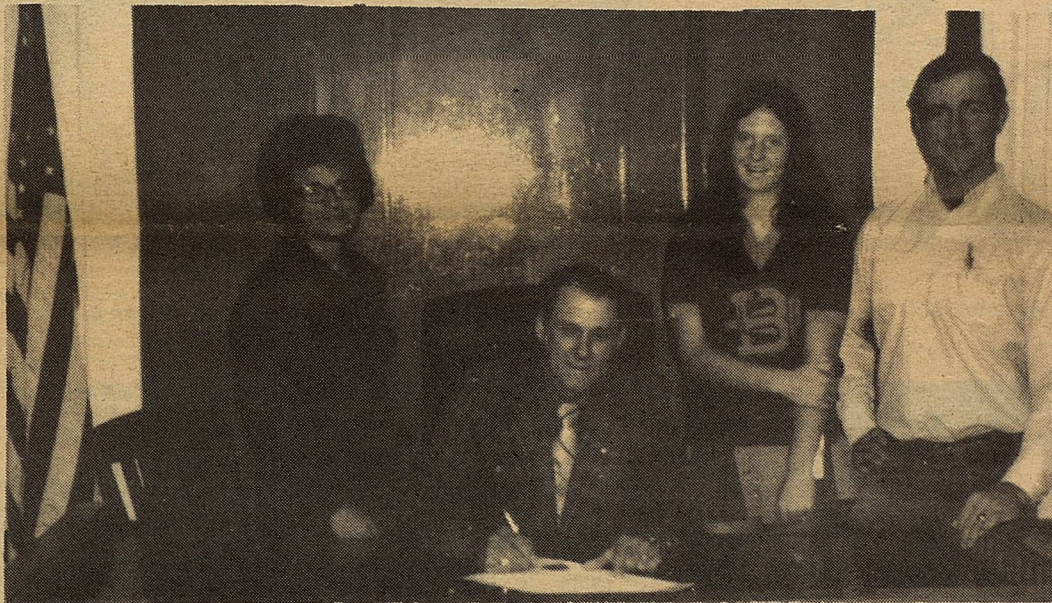

The most popular project areas among 4-H youth are sheep, beef, and horse projects.

Borden County has an active 4-H adult leaders organization, notes Mr. Kiker, with Mrs. Brent Murphy as president. There are also a number of junior and teen leaders in the county 4-H program.

Strive to go beyond the county level in 4-H by attending a District Leadership Lab in Levelland, or camps in New Mexico, or the State Round-up at A&M. If unable to attend any of these activities, plan an exchange trip with the help of Earnest Kiker.

4-H in Borden County offers a lot of exciting activities during the coming year and now is the time to join, adds Mr. Kiker. Check with a friend who is a 4-H'er, or stop by the county Extension office.

Get involved----get active---join 4-H today.

WITNESSING THE SIGNING OF THE PROCLAMATION BY JUDGE GLENN TOOMBS ARE: MRS. BRENT MURPHY, ADULT LEADER PRESIDENT; LISA LUDECKE, 4-H CLUB PRESIDENT; AND MR. EARNEST KIKER, COUNTY AGENT.

Official Memorandum

To the people of Borden County
WHEREAS, Borden County 4-H members are observing National 4-H Week October 6-12, 1974. The 1974 theme "4-H We Can Make It Happen" expresses the thrust of today's 4-H program as it helps prepare young people to become better citizen in our changing world.

WHEREAS, 4-H is a part of the educational program of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service of Texas A&M University. It is directed at the local level by County Extension Agents who work with volunteer 4-H adult and junior leaders and other local citizens interested in the development of boys and girls.

WHEREAS, Texas 4-H members working with educational learning - by- doing projects, apply the latest research and scientific information to their work, keeping records, arranging exhibits and giving demonstrations to pass the information to others.

WHEREAS, The leadership and citizenship training which 4-H members receive in this program is a valuable asset to our county and to our democratic way of life.

NOW THEREFORE, I Glenn Toombs, County Judge for the County of Borden, Texas do hereby proclaim the week beginning October 6 as NATIONAL 4-H WEEK in Borden County and urge all citizens to acquaint themselves with the activities and values of the 4-H organization, to show interest in it and to give help and encouragement to the members who are working to achieve knowledge that will make outstanding leaders in our community.

4-H RECORD ACTIVITY

"4-H is the youth development program of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and focuses on the needs, interests and concerns of boys and girls between 9 and 19 years of age," points out Yvonne Garcia, Extension 4-H and youth specialist. "Its aim is to help young people develop through practical learning experiences like preparing a nutritious meal, building bookshelves or growing a vegetable garden."

Since young people do not develop their skills and attitudes overnight, they need and seek guidance from the 4-H volunteer who helps them probe the "why" behind the "how to do it."

"Helping youth develop, however, requires different kinds of leadership," notes the Texas A&M University System specialist.

For those who prefer to work primarily with youth, 4-H offers leadership roles related to the organization, project or activity aspects of a 4-H group. While the organization leader guides the overall operation of a 4-H group, the project and activity leaders help boys and girls learn by involving them in a specific project--clothing, auto repair, bicycle safety--and related activities, such as safety clinics, exhibits and local tours. These leaders may, in turn, be assisted by junior and teen leaders who work closely with an adult or teen advisor.

Volunteers who prefer to work primarily with adults also have a wide range of choices. A 4-H project or activity chairman helps other leaders with a specific activity or project. A 4-H recruiter seeks out youth and adults interested in becoming 4-H members or leaders, then allows the 4-H organizer to help the new group get started. Volunteers are also assisted by the 4-H trainer who helps train other leaders in the area and by the 4-H resource person who secures special materials or people from the community.

Borden Wins

The Coyotes had a close battle with the Whitharrell Panthers Friday night but spoiled the Panther's Homecoming with a 16-12 win. This up the Coyotes to 3 wins against 1 loss.

Garland Williams scored the first Coyote touchdown on a 30 yard run up the middle of a tough Panther line. Monte Smith passed to Clifton Smith for the extra points to give the Coyotes a 8-0 half time lead. The Coyotes took a 14-0 lead early in the second half on a 1 yard plunge by Garland Williams. The extra points were no good to give the Coyotes a 14-0 lead.

The Panthers came back to score 12 points on an intercepted pass and a long end run. The final 2 points were credited to the Coyotes late in the game when John Anderson trapped the Quarterback in the end zone.

The Coyotes face their first zone game this Friday against Dawson at home. The Coyotes have beat Dawson the last five years. The Dawson Dragons have a good team losing to Smyer last week 20-16. Smyer gave the Coyotes their only loss 48-22. This should be a good game and the winner will take a giant step in zone play.

Jr. High

The Junior High Coyotes won their second game by a score of 28-6 over Whitharrell. Blane Dyess scored the first touchdown on a ten yard run. Dyess then passed to Travis Rinehart for the extra points. Craig Peterson scored the second touchdown on a short run.

Dyess then passed to Mark Walker for the extra points. Mark Walker scored the third touchdown on a run, the extra points failed. To round out the Borden scoring was on a pass from Dyess to Craig Peterson. Whitharrell scored in the second half as the reserves played with a few starters helping out.

JACK BROWN-EXCONVICT-PUBLIC SPEAKER

Assembly

The Student Council sponsored an assembly on October 3 featuring the ex-convict, Jack Brown. He gave some vivid examples of prison life. These examples were taken out of his own experiences inside prison walls. His message was to keep the young people of today from going through the things he did. Some young people do these things because they feel unwanted. Jack Brown found out differently, "because of a wife, a family, and a God who would not give up on him."

Jack Brown Commented Ever since he gave his life to Christ, he has been speaking to young people all over the U.S. A large, full-voiced man, who captures the attention of people immediately, Jack Brown is a big factor in keeping our youth going the right way. Helping the young people of today for tomorrow is what Jack Brown is all about!! He had talked with 5.4 00000 young people before coming to Borden Schools.

Jerre's Gottings

Putting all of your oxen in a ditch seems to be a pretty drastic way to dramatize the cowman's plight. But if that's what it will take to draw attention to the inequity between the price of beef on the hoof and the cost of beef on a parsley trimmed, cellophane wrapped tray, then I'll go along.

As I pointed out a while back, most consumers don't know from where their eats come. Living in asphalt jungles, as most do, they picture beef as being trimmed and griddle ready. Never do they see the hide bound four legged critter that consumes feed amounting to around forty cents per pound of gain. Well when the feeder sells that animal for about thirty five cents per lb. and the stocker sells it for about twenty cents per lb., that makes the beef industry a charitable institution. Those fellers in Stephenville are only a sampling of the whole industry who did not intend to go into the business for charitable reasons. The stocker is losing from $100 to $150 per animal sold-if he can find a buyer. Feeders aren't touching calves with a mile long prod-der they know they can't afford the feed, the labor, the energy, etc. It will take to place finished beef in the supermarket.

It isn't just the cost of feed which is causing this spread. Even tho we continue to be the world's patsy and are exporting grain; and grain crops were hard hit by drought in the spring and summer months; and an early frost further harmed the grain crop in the corn belt--even so we (US) are the only nation in the world which is importing beef. How do you figger it? When low prices on the supply end indicate an over supply of a product, the logical reasoning is to cut imports. Furthermore, our balance of payments figures in August were out of whack more than ever--yet we import beef (and oil). And besides all that, a Swift salesman told ME that they imported beef--which was more expensive than domestic (by the carcass)--but "good", he said. Hmph. That doesn't make any sense--nor is it patriotic.

Those Stephenville fellers are only trying to make a point. But donating their herds to old folks homes, boys' ranches,

Program

The Gail Homemakers Club met Wednesday October 2 at the Plains Community Center. The Plains ladies were hostesses.

Beverly Copeland showed some interesting and beautiful slides on Guam. We also enjoyed refreshments made from recipes that came from Guam.

A short business meeting was held in which projects for the coming year were discussed.

For those who were not there to enjoy the refreshments made from the Guam recipes, here are a few to try---

LILIKOI MERINGUE PIE (HAWAIIAN)

1 cup sugar
2 Tbsp. butter
1/4 cup lilikoi juice (passion fruit)
1 & 3/4 cup boiling water
1/4 cup cornstarch
egg yolks

Meringue:

4 egg whites
1/2 cup sugar

Blend cornstarch and sugar in saucepan. Mix in lilikoi juice, then egg yolks (beaten). Pour in boiling water (little at a time for smooth mixture) stir well and cook over moderate heat until thickened, about 5 minutes. Remove from heat. Stir in butter and cool. Make a meringue of 4 egg whites and 1/2 cup sugar. When well beaten, fold 3/4 cup of meringue into filling. Pour into baked 8 inch pie crust. Top with the remaining meringue and bake for 15 minutes at 350 degrees F. Cool. Then refrigerate before serving.

CHOP SUEY COOKIES

1 cup sugar
6 Tbsp. Milk
1 cup coconut
2 cups oatmeal

1 tsp. cinnamon
3/4 cup shortening
pinch of salt
1 cup raisins
2 cups flour
2 eggs
1 cup nuts
1/2 tsp soda dissolved in
2 tsp. milk

Cream sugar, shortening. Add eggs. Add flour and milk alternately, mixing well. Add other ingredients. Drop on greased cookie sheets. Bake in moderate oven for approximately 12 minutes. Makes 6 dozen.

PHILIPPINES LUMPIA

Wrappings: (Prepared lumpia wrappings can be used if they are available in your local stores)

Filling:

1/2 lb. lean pork, chopped fine
1/2 lb. fresh shrimp, chopped
1/2 cup mushrooms, chopped
1/4 cup water chestnuts, chopped
1 Tbsp. chives, chopped
1/2 tsp. salt
1/8 tsp pepper
1 egg yolk
1 Tbsp. soy sauce

Fry pork until white. For subdued shrimp flavor, fry shrimp. The raw shrimp gives a stronger flavor and more compact texture to filling. For variety, chopped bean sprouts, grated carrots, bamboo shoots or chopped heart of palm may be added to filling. Mix all ingredients until well blended. Place about 1 teaspoon on each wrapping. (Purchased wrappers are larger, so about 2 Tbsps. filling will be needed for them.) Fold edges in and roll. Seal with mixture of 1 Tbsp. cornstarch and 1/2 cup water. Deep fry at about 375 degrees. Makes about 50 small lumpia.

Hi to all--Enjoy the paper very much. Keeps me in touch with the most wonderful people in the world. Miss all of you.

Flea Market Report

The Flea Market and Rummage Sale held Saturday netted West Texas Boys Ranch $290.00. This, added to our previously mentioned donations, brings Borden County's total to $1000. I am especially proud of this amount as it represents at least $1 per person- and I don't believe a County other than Garza gives this ratio.

With crime on the increase all over the United States, we need to put more effort in supporting Boys Ranch and similar institutions. West Texas boys Ranch is not a correctional institution; it is a home with trained and understanding personnel and administrators who practice the motto and operational philosophy of the Ranch, "Don't Brand a Boy-Build a Man!" These boys are given a chance to grow into worthy citizens. Isn't it better to pour our money into institutions such as this rather than having to support correctional institutions later? Statistics clearly indicate that the program of Direct Boy Care at West Texas Boys Ranch with emphasis on magnifying the worth of the individual and developing his human potentials is contributing significantly to the prevention of delinquency and crime while producing responsible citizens.

I want to thank the following people who participated in the Flea Market and gave so generously of their time - and those who brought food:

W.T.C. Programs

Snyder--Western Texas College, a two-year community college, is now able to offer undergraduate and graduate students upper level college courses in cooperation with Sul Ross State University.

The program was begun in the 1974 spring semester at the request of residents in the Scurry County area who wanted to enroll for college courses not offered in the regular WTC curriculum. Some of these were teachers who wanted to begin work toward a master's degree. Others were students who had completed sophomore level work at WTC or other two-year colleges and wanted to continue working toward a bachelor's degree without having to commute long distances.

Dr. Ben Brock, vice-president of WTC, checked with the two state-supported universities nearest WTC, Texas Tech and the University of Texas in the Permian Basin. Neither of those schools could make arrangements for an extension program. Dr. Brock knew that Sul Ross State University was operating extension centers in nine West Texas towns, and when he contacted them they were quick to begin making arrangements for offering courses at WTC.

Mrs. Mavis Brumbelow was named coordinator of the Sul Ross program at WTC and Dr. William Tyndol, Sul Ross registrar, and other Sul Ross personnel visited WTC to talk to prospective students. Sul Ross representatives meet with students on the WTC campus at registration each semester to answer questions and help students choose courses.

There are presently 78 students enrolled in eight Sul Ross extension classes, several of them taking two courses. Classes meet on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights.

Instructors for the Sul Ross extension classes are selected from teachers available in the area, all well qualified to teach the subject to which they are assigned. Each instructor holds at least a master's degree and many hold the doctor's degree.

Most of the courses which been offered at WTC have been in the field of education, with special interest shown in the kindergarten program, language learning disabilities and school administration.

Students interested in the extension program are invited to contact Dr. Brock or Mrs. Brumbelow at WTC to discuss courses they would like to take or to get information on courses being scheduled.

Students in the WTC extension center pay fees totaling $70 for one three-hour course or $100 for two three-hour courses. Books are available from Mrs. Brumbelow or the course instructors.

As an added service to persons beginning work toward a master's degree, the Graduate Records Examination is scheduled periodically at WTC. Persons interested in taking this examination may contact Dr. Mary Hood, director of testing at WTC.

Courses being offered at WTC by Sul Ross in the current fall semester are Art 3326, Art 5304/5305, Ed. 5301 (School Finance), Ed. 3302 (Educational Psychology), Ed. a324 (Advanced Educational Psychology) Ed 3308/6311 (Advanced Studies in Kindergarten), Ed. 6307 (School Public Relations), Ed. 3310/6310 (Advanced Kindergarten Techniques), Ed. 4326/5303 (Remedial Instruction), and Health Education 5302 (Seminar in Safety Education).

Your Fair Share

How fair is your fair share?
-One pack of cigarettes at 35 cents a week equals $18.20 per year.

-One coke at 20 cents a week equals $10.40

-One night out for two (cheap dinners, local movie or a couple of drinks) a month equals $96.

The wife may object to giving up a night out and it is not suggested as something to give up; rather, it is offered as an example of how things which we have enough money to take for granted can be a very real and helpful contribution to our fellow man in his need.

All of the organizations under the United Way fulfill a real need in our local community. The International Service Agencies provide this nation we have sworn to protect, probably, the most effective ambassadorial representation we can get for the money.

As for the National Health Agencies, there is probably no one who can run down that list of research and assistance organizations and not think of a personal case that fits at least one.

All of the organizations under the Combined Federal Campaign to help fellow human beings. As people who have the opportunity and the wherewithal let us reach out our hand to our neighbor and give him what we can afford to put into it.

The opportunity to make your contribution through the payroll deduction plan will not outweigh that hand you reach out to.

Hunter Safety Training

Austin--Got everything packed for that out-of-state hunting trip this fall: guns, scopes, thermal underwear, camping gear, hunter safety certificates?

If you forgot the last item--hunter safety certificates--you might as well forget the whole trip in some of the states which neighbor Texas.

To date 18 states require some kind of hunter safety education before issuing a hunting license: California, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Montana, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Utah and Washington.

Of importance to Texans are the requirements of Colorado and New Mexico.

In Colorado, those born after Jan. 1, 1949, must complete an eight-hour training course to purchase a first-time hunting license. You also must be at least 14 years of age to purchase a hunting license.

All persons born after Jan. 1, 1958, who wish to hunt in New Mexico must have completed a hunter safety course unless they are immediately accompanied by a parent or guardian. After Jan. 1, 1976, all persons 18 years of age or younger must have this training prior to hunting or shooting a firearm regardless of whether they are accompanied by a parent or guardian or not.

Regardless of hunter safety requirements, such instruction is life insurance.

In Texas, a Volunteer Hunter Safety Program is administered by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department. The program is open to everyone 12 years and older for a fee of $1.

The course is a recommended eight hours of instruction and covers firearms handling, first aid and survival, conservation and hunter ethics.

Contact your local Texas Parks and Wildlife Department game warden for the name of a volunteer hunter safety instructor in your area.

The Texas National Guard has been requested to take additional steps to increase security of federal arms and ammunition.
