

Coin Flip Is 'Sudden Death' For Wolves

Luck thumbed its nose at Colorado High's 1960 football team here Saturday with the toss of a coin.

The coin flip in a deadly game of odd-man-out eliminated Colorado City from any chance of representing District 3-AAA in state championship playoffs.

Winning the toss was Snyder High, generally regarded as the least potent of the 3 co-champions of District 3-AAA.

Sweetwater, the third co-titlist, dropped out with Colorado City as the coin landed right for Snyder.

Only a few seconds in the kitchen area of Colorado High's homemaker department was required to do what the full 1960 season couldn't decide—a district representative to meet 4-AAA champion Brownwood in bi-district playoff Thanksgiving week.

It was the second time in 24 hours luck had thumbed its nose at the Colorado City team, the sentimental favorite among all 3-AAA fans for the playoff berth.

Coach Sam Christy, who in his first season as head coach led the Wolves to their first AAA championship in history, tossed a coin for Colorado City. Coaches of the other 2 co-championship teams represented their schools—Elwood Turner for Sweetwater and John Conley for Snyder.

Each coach flipped his coin against the ceiling and waited for it to hit the floor—a procedure agreed upon before the toss of coins.

Snyder's coin flashed "heads," and the other 2 showed "tails."

And that was it—the "odd man" representing the district by agreement approved just 2 minutes earlier by 3-AAA executive committee in the school board conference room.

In a way, the coin flip was the toughest blow of the season for Colorado City's coaches and players, who perfected one of the finest comebacks in 3-AAA history.

The Wolves had just missed being declared district playoff representative Friday night by the margin of a "give away" touchdown over which they had no power.

Snyder scored the important touchdown with 3:47 minutes remaining in the game, thus scoring a 14 to 6 victory against Lake View.

The score was tied 6-all with 3:50 minutes left when Lake View, with fourth down and 3 yards to go on their own 7-yard line, tried to run for first down. The play gained nothing. Snyder took over on the Lake View 7 and—1 play, 3 seconds later—scored the decisive touchdown.

A tie game would have knocked Snyder from the co-champion list, automatically sending C-City into the playoffs because the Wolves had beat the other co-titlist, Sweetwater, in regular season play.

Flip of coins in event of tri-championship has been the rule for determining 3-AAA playoff representative ever since the district was organized.

Mechanics for the coin toss were quickly ratified here at 10 a. m. Saturday at a meeting of coaches and administrators of C-City, Snyder and Sweetwater. Supt. Frank Wilson, chairman of the district executive, conducted the meeting and Principal A. T. Barrett voted for C-City.

Representing Snyder in the pre-coin session was Supt. T. E. McCollum. From Sweetwater was Supt. Olaf South.

Sitting nearby and nervously anxious were the 3 coaches—Conley, smoking a cigarette; Christy, puffing a cigar; Turner, chewing a pencil or fidgeting with a cigarette.

"Let's just toss the coin and let the losers go on back home," spoke Turner, agitated by the delay of the business session.

Sweetwater South's motion for Colorado City, Snyder and Sweetwater to be declared district co-champions was quickly approved.

"I'm ready for the coin toss," Conley granted to nobody in particular.

A motion by Snyder's McCollum for trophy awards for each co-champion also received quick approval.

Rep. Wright to Speak At Chamber's Banquet

Texas' youngest Congressman, 36-year-old Jim Wright of Fort Worth, will be principal speaker for Colorado City's annual Chamber of Commerce banquet Jan. 17.

His acceptance of the banquet invitation was announced this week by George Witten, chairman of the Chamber's banquet committee.

Wright will travel to Colorado City for the event 1 day following a similar speaking engagement at the Alice Chamber of Commerce's annual membership banquet.

Invitation was extended to Wright for the Colorado City banquet more than 2 months ago and the Congressman tentatively accepted the engagement at that time. But announcement of his acceptance was delayed until a definite date could be arranged to coincide with both the Chamber's plans and Wright's schedule.

The January 17 date (a Friday night) was decided upon early this week.

And just five days later, Saturday, Wright announced from his Washington, D. C., office that he would be a candidate for U. S. Senate when Vice-President-elect Lyndon B. Johnson vacated the U. S. Senate post.

Wright, who is a member of the important House public works committee, first was elected to Congress as Representative from the Fort Worth District in 1954. He was re-elected in 1956 and 1958 without opposition.

A native of Weatherford, he was educated at Weatherford College and University of Texas, where he majored in government and economics. He enlisted as a private in the Air Force 3 weeks after Pearl Harbor, later became a B-24 pilot with decorations including the Distinguished Flying Cross.

After the war, Wright served in the Texas Legislature. In 1952 he was elected president of League of Texas Municipalities, representing more than 600 incorporated cities and towns. At that time, he was mayor of Weatherford.

The Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce in 1953 selected Wright as one of its 5 outstanding young men. And in 1958, he was 1 of 5 members of Congress cited by a national magazine as among the 15 "Bright Young Men" in American politics.

Thanksgiving Service Set Wednesday

Annual community Thanksgiving service, an inter-faith worship, sponsored by Mitchell County Ministerial Alliance, will be Wednesday night in Oak Street Baptist Church.

The special service—which has become a tradition for the community—will begin at 7:30 p. m. Thanksgiving Eve.

Delivering the Thanksgiving message will be Rev. Daris Egger, minister of Colorado City's First Methodist Church.

Two ministers from communities outside of Colorado City will have prominent roles in the service. Rev. Jack Stewart, pastor of Plainview Baptist Church, will present the scripture and lead in opening prayer.

Rev. Merriell Abbott, pastor of Loraine's First Methodist Church, will discuss belief by the purpose of Thanksgiving, "Why Are We Here."

Benadiction also will be led by Abbott.

The service will open with the congregation singing hymns. Congregational music also will provide the offering.

Publicity Program Planned

More than 300 persons crowded Civic House Thursday night for a new business look at themselves, their business operations and their community development.

The crowd, considered exceptional for the type of meeting, heard almost half dozen speakers pin-point the good, the not-so-good and the poor in Colorado City's business-industrial potential.

And they evidenced searching concern for impetus toward new economic and cultural growth within their community.

Charles C. Thompson, president of City National Bank and president of Colorado City Industrial Team, was moderator for the 2-hour long session sponsored by the Industrial Team.

He pin-pointed these 2 fields of action:

1. The Industrial Team plans to embark on a reasonable publicity program that will give the world a knowledge of what "we have and what we are trying to do."

2. The Industrial Team and Chamber of Commerce will put in motion immediately the machinery necessary to coordinate all efforts and sift all prospects of growth that "you may offer."

"We have all the man power, foresight and resources to build a great community," Thompson told the audience.

Then he emphasized that Colorado City's problem, simply stated, is:

"To put our shoulders to the wheel and push together."

Prime purpose of the meeting, he declared, was to meet that problem by "asking that you and I join the team and make it possible that the tremendous push might be made."

Thompson warned the group that Mitchell County's economic life has changed so fast in its pace and complexion that "we fail to grasp the score."

"We in Colorado City and Mitchell County," the banker declared, "are faced with the problem of maintaining our economy or we will be pushed back."

Every speaker—Dr. Bill Rhoads, Sam L. (Buzz) Majors, Frank H. Kelley, Eldon Mahon, Gus Chesney, Harry Ruff, Bob Rely, Bill Rhoads and Roy Bates—pointed out resources valuable to economic growth and stability.

But each, also, struck at any complacency which might discourage or prevent best utilization of these resources for community development.

The "look" into current business and potential moved over various areas—trade, water, and merchant relations and cooperation, and citizenship concern for rural interests, tourist industry and individual concern for the community.

SUBSCRIPTION DRIVE TO AID BAND'S FUND

Members of Colorado City High Wolf Band will become "newsboys" Monday.

For Monday is the date the band will begin its annual subscription selling campaign.

The campaign—a regular project of the band in recent years—is in cooperation with the Colorado City Record.

Each 12-month subscription to the Record sold by the band will earn cash for the Wolf Band finance fund that buys special equipment and pays for extra educational trips for band members.

By selling Record subscriptions in previous years, the band has earned hundreds of dollars for this special fund.

Price of the Record subscriptions will be the regular price—$5 within Mitchell and surrounding counties, $6 outside of this area, $5 for persons in military service no matter where they are stationed. But in this special band project, the Wolf Band will receive a special commission on each subscription sold.

The band campaign will continue all week. Persons not contacted by the band should phone the Record, RA 83413, and band members will be notified.

IN TERRACE ROOM

Mrs. Trevor Crawford Presents Program to Zetagathians

Mrs. Trevor Crawford presented the program, "Our History as Portrayed Through Music" to the Zetagathian Study Club Nov. 17 in the Terrace Room of the Baker Hotel.

"Show me the songs that a people sing," said a wise man, "and I will tell you whether that nation is great or small," Mrs. Crawford began.

"The religious music of those early days followed the course of religious dissension. For a time, church music was so limited by the narrow theological ideas of our forebears that it was barely music at all. In place of the Latin music of the Church of England, the Puritans substituted psalms sung to tunes based on European folk music. The words, were awkward — a literal singing of the Biblical Psalms, Mrs. Crawford said.

"When the Civil War came, songwriters were concerned with one thing — the theme of bitterness and sense of guilt which involved the whole country. North and South the songs were songs of self-justification, each side defending its own cause. With the end of the war came a wave of jubilation — a transient joy — for soon a merciless revenge was to be visited upon the south. The Reconstruction period gave rise to a new type of get-rich-quick exploiter in the south and there followed a new and ruthless era for the whole country," she said.

"From the songs of the Civil War period, we come to the songs of the '90's. New York's Tin Pan Alley has its beginning in this era — the minstrel show, which had been our earlier entertainment, has been succeeded by whiteface performances — and these whiteface productions give way, in turn to vaudeville. Vaudeville gave way to musical comedy with its sweet plots and sweet songs — "Daisy Bell and Sweet Rosie O' Grady," Mrs. Crawford continued.

"America's strength as a nation lies partly in her unique political institutions, partly in the wealth of her natural resources, partly in the fusion of races that make up her population. Throughout our development has been the constant influx of new blood from other lands and other cultures — a flow which has contributed strength and vigor without diminishing the strength of our national unity. America is, as Walt Whitman has said, "A nation of many nations." It is our prayer that we may always hear America singing — songs of hope, faith and love, happiness and contentment — and of peace," Mrs. Crawford concluded.

Hostesses for the meeting was Mrs. Eldon Mahon. Opening prayer was said by Mrs. J. S. Craddock Jr.

Members answered roll call with "This Song I Cherished." Mrs. Crawford was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Bob Robinson. Meeting closed with club collect.

A dessert course was served to the following members.

Mrs. John Brand, Mrs. Craddock, Mrs. Trevor Crawford, Mrs. L. S. Gilvin Jr., Mrs. Curtis Latimer, Mrs. Henry L. Lewis, Mrs. Mahon and Mrs. Sam L. Majors Jr.

Mrs. Ray Noble, Mrs. W.S. Rhode, Mrs. Bob Robinson, Mrs. James Trammell and Mrs. O. B. Trulock Jr.

Also, Mrs. Brady Warren, Mrs. Martin Weaver, Mrs. George Witten, Mrs. Darris Egger, Mrs. Bennie Franks, Mrs. Larry Kinard, Mrs. H. B. Broadus and Mrs. Sam L. Majors.

Next meeting will be Dec. 1 and hostess will be Mrs. Sam L. Majors Jr. Leader will be Mrs. Bob Robinson. Roll call will be answered with "This is the subject I would paint." Mrs. W. S. Rhode will present the program, "Our History Portrayed Through Art."

Conduct Service

The annual Laymen's Day Service at the First Methodist Church will be observed Sunday morning, Nov. 27. Charge Lay Leader, Gwan Strange, will be in charge of the service and speaker will be Dr. W. S. Rhode. Porter Richardson will direct the men's choir for the Morning Worship Service and other laymen will participate in the service.

Mrs. Costin Leads Joint Circle Study

Mrs. Warren Costin led the discussion on the study, "In to All the World" at the joint meeting of the Joyce Hill, Susannah Wesley and Angel-Wulfen Circles of the First Methodist Church which met last Wednesday. The third session of the program will be conducted at the church.

Mrs. John Russell directed the devotion. Attending the meeting were the following members: Mrs. Dee Bassham, Mrs. Oscar Rhode, Mrs. Francis Winn and Mrs. A. T. Barker, Mrs. Lee Strain, Mrs. W. W. McElhannon, Mrs. Don Webb, Mrs. Bob Ratliff and Mrs. Darris Egger.

Miss Hartsfield, Hallmark Wed

Miss Shirley Hartsfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hartsfield of Colorado City, became the bride of Rodney C. Hallmark Nov. 11 in the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hallmark of Loraine.

Rev. H. M. Farrington, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Loraine, read the double ring ceremony.

The rites were read before an altar flanked by tall baskets of white gladioli with white ribbons and greenery.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a street length dress of rose color. She carried a bouquet of white carnations, stephanotis and love knots atop a white Bible.

Nuptial music was presented by Mrs. K. L. Taylor.

Serving the bride as bridesmaid was Miss Doris Howard of Colorado City. She wore a sheer red dress and a shoulder corsage of white carnations.

Lewis Hartsfield, brother of the bride, served the groom as best man.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was conducted in the Hallmark home. The table was laid with a lace table cloth and appointments were in crystal and silver.

Following a wedding trip to Carlsbad Caverns, N. M., the couple will reside at 544 Chestnut St. in Colorado City. The bride is a junior student at Colorado City High School.

coin toss were reviewed and superintendents named their coaches to flip the coins.

"We looked all week for a professional gambler and couldn't find one," Christy attempted to jest as he was named C-City coin tosser.

"Elwood will be ours, if he is able to do it," South remarked in an obvious reference to the Sweetwater coach's nervousness.

Then the group moved out of the carpeted conference room to the tiled floored homemaking department.

And it was quickly over.
Christy attempted a smile
as the flick coin flipped Colorado City and Sweetwater aside.

"We have the best club
... I know we do," Christy said privately to his fellow coaches, then braced himself with a new smile to congratulate the winner.

Five minutes later the room was empty, but not before that about everybody from all 3 schools—except Coach Conley—had agreed the weakest of the 3 co-champs will move against Brownwood.
