

OLTON ARTIST'S AXIOM--

Painting Sometimes Hard, Sometimes Easy

BY MIKE WALL

"I just hate to go into a house and see a nice painting hanging at the wrong height," said Mrs. Fred (Peggy) Pendergrass, as she straightened a painting on the wall of her studio.

The comment came while Mrs. Pendergrass was discussing her hobby, part trade, which is painting.

Oil was the color base used for the painting she was busy straightening up on the wall, but she also tries her hand at a number of other types of art work.

She says that her favorite is watercolor painting.

Currently she's engaged in melting colored bottles in a small kiln in the studio, which is a small building south of the ORC clubhouse.

After melting, the bottles come out as individual design ash trays or decorator pieces.

Painting and handicrafts are not her only hobbies, however, and as she says, "I do a little bit of everything."

Included in the list of a little bit of everything are refinishing furniture and arranging floral centerpieces.

Mrs. Pendergrass first became interested in painting while in high school at Comanche. She first started in the art field by working in a flower shop during her high school days, and somehow became interested in artwork of other types. Then began her painting practice.

Her skill is testified to by two of her paintings, which have been accepted by the South Plains traveling art circuit.

One of her watercolor efforts was also accepted for the traveling circuit of Region 20, which is sponsored by the Democratic Women's Clubs.

Currently, most of her paintings are on exhibit at a gallery in Muleshoe.

She also had another painting take first honorable mention at an exhibit in Dimmitt last fall.

Presently she's hoping to have a painting finished in time to exhibit at the state fine arts exhibits this spring.

In order to get a more formal art knowledge, she is also studying watercolor painting from Dr. Emilio Caballero, a professor and painter at West Texas State University in Canyon.

How hard is it to sit down and paint a picture?

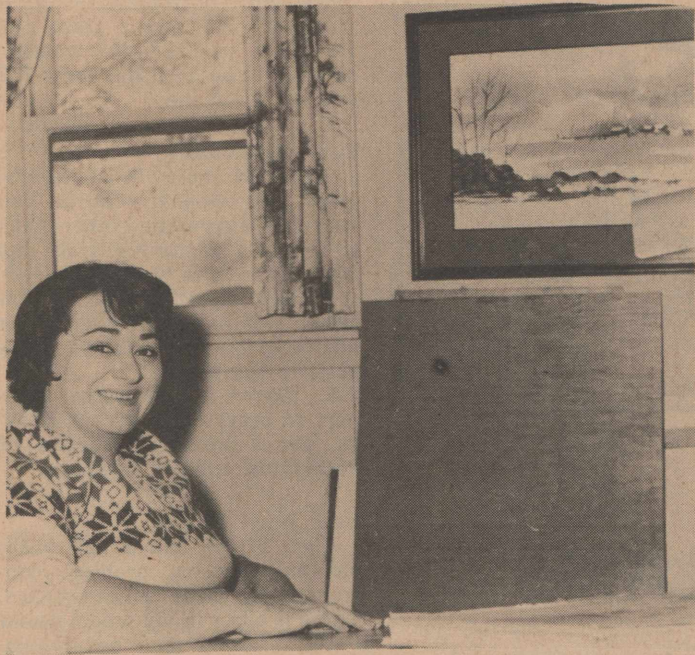

"Sometimes it's very hard, sometimes it's very easy," says Mrs. Pendergrass.

"I try to start out with a definite pattern, then fill in," she says. "But I usually wind up with something much more realistic than I want."

She has a high regard for abstract artists, especially those who began with an abstract idea, and follow it to completion through painting.

"It takes more willpower and brainpower to paint a good abstract painting than I have," she says.

Meanwhile, she sets about beginning her next painting.

ARTIST AND HER WORK--Mrs. Fred (Peggy) Pendergrass looks at one of her recent works hanging on the wall of her studio. Mrs. Pendergrass also does flower arrangements, glass artwork and watercolor painting.

Santa Asks Kiddos For Annual Letters

Since it's almost time for Santa Claus to make his yearly rounds, we thought we would share with our readers, a letter The Enterprise recently received from the jolly old fellow.

Seems he's ready to start taking orders and, once he's finished with your letters, he'll send them back to us and they'll be published in The Enterprise.

Letters need to be mailed, though, by Dec. 18 in time for Christmas delivery of the orders.

Mr. Bill Turner, Editor
Olton, Texas, 79064

Dear Bill:

Once again I'm getting anxious to see you and all my little friends in and around Olton. It's been almost a year since I have been able to visit in the area, and that's a long time to be away from the fine group of friends living in the Olton area.

There have been a lot of changes made around here during the past year, and they have made the old workshop a lot more efficient. My helpers and I have been very busy all year long, and we have the best presents in the history of the workshop this year -- and in record-breaking numbers, too.

We're just waiting for the proper time to spread happiness and good cheer all over the world this year. We're doing our best to see that everyone has the very nicest and happiest Christmas ever this year -- we wouldn't want it any other way.

Bill, please remind the children in the Olton area that I still have a Zip Code (same as last year -- 99701) and ask them to please use the zip number on all their letters to me.

Oh, yes, and ask them to include their own zip numbers on their return addresses. It would sure make things a lot easier on old Santa if every boy and girl would take just a minute or two and add a zip code number for me to use when I make the rounds this Christmas.

You see, one of the changes we've made around here was to install one of those computer gadgets to sort the mail. It really zips them through, but it goes all to pieces when it gets hold of a letter without a zip number -- and then one of our helpers has to stop making presents and go sort out the letters without any zip numbers.

And then, too, the zip numbers make it a lot easier for me to find my way around and get the proper presents to the proper children when I make my trip through Olton on Christmas Eve.

I have set up a visit to Olton Saturday Dec. 18. So I can check up on just what all my little friends have been doing during the past year.

Until I see you again, I send my love, best wishes and hopes for the merriest of merry holidays to you and all my friends in Olton.

Sincerely,
Santa Claus

Two Mishaps Investigated

Two accidents in the Olton city limits resulted in approximately $800 damage, but no one injured in the mishaps.

The first wreck occurred early Friday night, when a car driven by Delfino Ortega and one driven by Enrique Rodriguez collided on Highway 70.

Night officer Harvey Castleberry said the accident occurred when Rodriguez started to pass a pickup. Ortega, who was following both vehicles, then started to pass, and the two vehicles hit.

Damage to the Ortega car was estimated at $200, and to the Rodriguez auto at $150. Both men are from Olton.

The second accident occurred Monday morning when a car driven by Nelda Paynl of Houston and another driven by Mariano Hernandez of Olton collided at the intersection of 15th St. and Ave. B.

The Hernandez auto, headed east on 15th, struck the side of the Paynl car, going north of Ave. B.

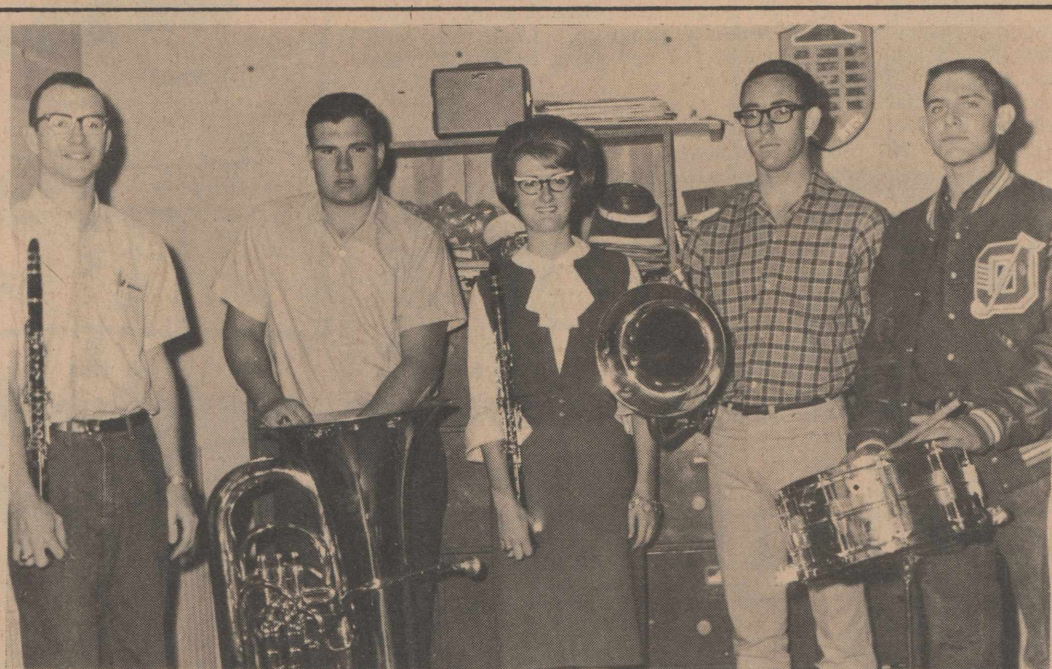

Damage to the Paynl auto was estimated at $450, while the Hernandez auto received no damage.

Fillies Win, Ponies Fall In Kress Doubleheader

Olton's Fillies ran their win record to six Tuesday night with a 44-35 win over the Kress fens.

At the same time, a tall Kress boys' team was picking up a 54-34 victory against the Mustang varsity, a loss which left the Olton crew with a zero in the win column thus far this year.

The Olton boys' "B" squad scored a 35-17 victory over the Kress reserve team preceding the varsity contests.

Karen Hipp was the leading scorer for both teams, picking up 21 points during the contest, closely followed by Sherry Caddel with 19.

Susan Norfleet had four points for the winners.

Laura Akin was the leading defensive player for the girls, making nine recoveries for the night.

For the boys, scoring was split among six different players. Charles Church led the varsity with nine, followed by Charles McClain, with seven and Joe Priest and Lanny McClain, both with six.

Jim Smith had four and Roger Thompson two for the losers. In the "B" contest, Benny Akin led the scoring with 12 points, followed by Gary Shawn, and Kenneth Moss, both of whom had seven.

Joe Schultz picked up six points in the contest, and Pat Bodkin had two and Carl Roberts one to round out the scoring.

In earlier play, the varsity girls picked up third place in the Kress Tournament by virtue of two wins and one loss, while the males lost their opening two contests to be eliminated.

In the opening game of tournament play, the Fillies downed Quitaque, 57-39. Sherry Caddel topped the scoring with 28 points, followed by Karen Hipp with 18 and Susan Norfleet with nine and Lynn McGill with two.

Laura Akin had six rebounds and Francine Struve collected five in the defensive end of the court.

In the second game, the girls narrowly lost to Nazareth, 49-45.

Miss Caddel once again led the scoring with 23 points, Miss Norfleet had 14, Miss Hipp six and Brenda Kirkpatrick two to complete the scoring.

In the game for third place, the girls snagged a 37-27 win over Lockney.

For the third game in a row,

Miss Caddel was high point individual with 16 points.

Miss Hipp connected for 13 points, Miss Norfleet for four and Miss McGill for another four in the finale.

In the boys' contests, Quitaque was the winner in the opener, 64-31, while Nazareth took the second game with a 63-50 victory.

Charles McClain led scoring in the first game with eight points, closely followed by Lanny McClain with seven.

In the second contest, Joe Priest was the high point man with 20 points. Lanny McClain collected 15 points, Charles McClain eight, Roger Thompson six and Jim Smith one for the other points.

The next game for both varsity clubs will be against Hale Center in the Abernathy Tournament beginning today.

The girls open play at 2:15 p.m.

On the same day, the B-team and freshman girls travel to Dimmitt at 5 p.m. for a pair of games, while the freshman boys take on Littlefield in Littlefield at 6 p.m.

The B-team and freshman boys then go to Abernathy for a pair of contests Dec. 13.

Weather Aids Crop

An old saying is, "Making hay while the sun shines."

Area farmers have added a slight twist to that saying by stripping cotton while the weather's cold.

And they're really been doing a job as far as the new proverb goes.

A late count Wednesday disclosed that 24,793 bales have rolled across the scales so far this year, almost two-and-a-half times the number of bales reported last week.

The area crop was predicted earlier in the season as a possible record-breaker. But one of the latest freezes in the area's history slowed the harvest, and it was only last week that cotton began to come into area gins in any significant amount.

Last year, when the final total was a new record, the mark on the same date was 31,161. But 25,000 mark had been reached some two weeks earlier, and rains had slowed the mid-season harvest considerably.

In 1963, the total was 19,031 during the same week, while in 1962 it was 23,245, and in 1961, 25,000.

So the harvest thus far appears to be just a little above average, despite the late freeze.

A slight amount of precipitation slowed stripping operations last week, but no one received enough rain to say it would slow the harvest to any great degree.

And many farmers were just beginning to start stripping operations, so the full scale of this year's harvest may not be started despite the greatly increased amount of cotton on the gin yards this week.

A few farmers south of Olton have already finished up their cotton harvesting, but others in the same area are just beginning.

Most of these were in the strip which received severe hail damage early last summer, and cotton in these areas is, for the most part, very late.

On the Merrill Brigrance farm, four miles south of Olton, the first stripping operations were started Tuesday.

Mrs. Brigrance said, "The cotton isn't too good, since we were hailed out this summer and was planted too late to make good cotton."

But other farmers who also received hail damage, or who have late cotton for other reasons, appear more optimistic about the possible yield.

E. S. Huckabee, who farms northwest of town, was still waiting for the first harvesting operations to begin.

"We've been sampling it every few days, but so far, we've only been getting about 20 per cent lint from the samples, so we're still waiting."

As far as the possible turnout, he was more optimistic. "The cotton looks a whole lot better, and I think the yield will be pretty good."

And his final statement on the cotton crop for the Olton area may well be true.

"I don't think we've made much of a dent yet."

THIRD GRADERS ARE TAUGHT RESPONSIBILITY

(( ( THIRD IN A SERIES )))

Teaching independence in working and in studying is one of the major aims of the third grade teacher.

At least that's one of the most important areas stressed by the five third grade instructors at H. P. Webb Elementary School in Olton.

Mrs. Bettie Daniel, Mrs. Ruth Ford, Mrs. Ruth Franks, Mrs. Ethel Gordon and Mrs. Barbara Tollett are the five who have the task this year of teaching students this trait.

Science, social studies, math and language all begin to move away from the very basic studies, and the pupil is taught to think more on his own.

In the words of one teacher, "He should be able to assume more responsibility as he progresses throughout the year."

Five areas of reading instructions are included. These are readiness, word recognition, comprehension, oral interpretation, and interpretation of literature.

Readiness is important at each level in the instruction of reading.

At this level the program insures that skills from the preceding grades are extended and broadened with increasing emphasis given to recognizing new words independently.

Continued strengthening of listening skills is taught through following directions, listening to stories read by teacher and classmates and by listening to reports and summaries.

The relationship between listening and reading is capitalized upon to the utmost.

In reading for meaning the child continues to extend his abilities. The same is true in true in critical thinking, vocabulary building and specific study skills.

He broadens and improves his study skills, building upon those learned in the first two grades.

He continues to build on ability and understanding. He extends his reading and broadens it to read for information from simple references in the classroom.

His areas of reading are basal readers, supplementary readers, individual level reading in Weekly Readers, library books of different levels and reference material.

In the program of new math an attempt is made to emphasize the "why" just as much as the "how," to teach mathematics as a structure, and to allow pupils to discover relationships for themselves whenever possible.

The third grade child reviews and further develops his skills in addition, subtraction, and multiplication facts, and learns simple division.

He must be able to count by ones, twos, fives and 10's or as far as needed, write four digit numerals and first and second decimals as needed, use the dollar sign and decimal point, understand the use of 10 as the base of our number system and place value through thousands and read and write Roman numerals through 30.

He must also understand that numbers may be added in any order without affecting the sum (commutative law) or the reverse in addition and multiplication and the inverse relation of subtraction and addition as well as multiplication and division.

He must also know both addition and subtraction facts through eighteen, read and write the facts in both column and equation form (number sentence) add by endings without and without bridging, understand how to check addition and subtraction, understand that multiplication is a short way to find a total when numbers combined are equal, and know multiplication facts through twos and threes.

He must be able to solve one step addition, subtraction, multiplication and division word problems.

He must know common units of measure, tell time, in minutes, hours, half hours and quarter hours, count money, and make change, find unit fractional parts of an object, a group of objects and a number and use unit fractions with measures.

He must recognize and reproduce simple geometric forms, such as the circle, square, triangle, and rectangle.

The use of quantitative and technical vocabulary is needed.

Enrichment exercises are provided for the child who can excel.

The third grade child increases and extends skills from the first two grades.

He learns to think of language not as an end in itself but as a tool for giving, and receiving ideas, information and experiences. Efforts are made to help him choose words that mean exactly what he wishes to say.

He is taught to write original sentences, descriptive paragraphs, friendly letters, correct word usage and punctuation.

He learns that the purpose of oral language is to express his ideas to others. He does this through dramatization, choral reading, memorizing poems, story telling, oral discussions and making introductions.

Spelling and handwriting are closely correlated with all subjects.

Alphabetizing, syllabication, dictionary study, and dictation of sentences are used in the spelling program.

Cursive writing is required in all written work.

The child continues to take increasing responsibility for spelling words correctly. He learns to spell words as they appear on lists in his text, class list and his individual list.

Exploring science is interesting to third graders. They discover how seeds travel, what sound is and how it travels, why fire burns, soil and plants grow, conservation, how plants grow, fire prevention, weather and seasons, magnetism and electricity, gravity, heat and light.

Personal hygiene is taught, including care of teeth, structure and care of the ear, skin care and proper diet.

Patriotism, safety rules and good manners are stressed as a part of good citizenship.

Geography at this level is a study about the community (past and present) and about other communities similar to and different from their own. They learn directions on maps and from their own location.

Appreciation for the American heritage is emphasized by hearing and reading stories of the deeds of great men and about significant events in our nation's history.

Social Security Hike

Do you earn $6,600 or more annually? If you do, on Jan. 1 you are going to get a tax hike of $103.20 a year in Social Security taxes on top of the $174 you are now paying.

Moreover, your employer will get the same tax increase because he matches your Social Security taxes dollar for dollar.

Are you self-employed? If so, your Social Security taxes will jump, at the first of the year, from today's maximum of $259.20 a year to $405.90 a year.

These tax hikes Jan. 1 add up to a decrease of nearly $2 a week in the take home pay of an employed worker earning $6,600 a year, and nearly $3 a week for the self-employed person paying the maximum.

For those earning less than $6,600 a year, the tax hike will be a little less, but it will be felt. For instance, if you earn $4,000 a year, your Social Security tax increase will be $23 a year.

The Social Security tax hikes are necessary to take care of a 7 percent benefit raise for more than 20 million Social Security beneficiaries as well as financing medicare and many other liberalizations of today's Social Security program. Uncle Sam will tell you that you are going to benefit in the long run.

But this much is certain: The big hike in Social Security taxes that is coming Jan. 1 is going to be a surprise to many workers and also to many employees, and there is going to be some complaining all around. Maximum Social Security taxes for the individual employee have risen $247.20 since 1945. They started out at $30 and will be $277.20 maximum Jan. 1.

Well, like the man says, if you want the government to give it to you, you first gotta give a wad of it to the government.

They'll sift through it and, over the years hand some of it back.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

AUSTIN--Fate of Texas' 63-year-old poll tax as a voting requirement rests in the hands of a three-judge federal court. They heard four hours of arguments here last week in an historic case to abolish the levy. Judges announced that no immediate ruling would be made. They advised Texans who want to be eligible to vote next year to pay the $1.75 fee before the Jan. 31 deadline.

In frequent questions during the arguments, the judges indicated concern over several complex legal points.

Circuit Judge John R. Brown repeatedly speculated on the court's earlier position, in assessing an apparently unsupported congressional finding in the 1965 voting rights act, that the Texas levy discriminates against Negroes.

"How do we go about reviewing the basis for a congressional finding?" Brown wondered aloud. "Or does the case come to us as though Congress had not made these findings? This is a very unusual point of law."

Texas Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr maintained that Congress had made its finding "without so much as a scintilla of evidence." He pointed out that U. S. Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach himself had testified before a Senate committee that he had no complaints of voter discrimination in this state. Katzenbach later filed the suit under terms of the voting rights act.

U.S. Justice Department Atty. Stephen J. Pollak, acknowledging that there is no overt refusal to give Texas Negroes voting rights, argued that due to basically inferior education, income of Negroes is lower and the tax, therefore, falls heavier on them.

One judge wondered, perhaps hopefully, if the U. S. Supreme Court might rule on some of the questions submitted in an earlier Virginia case before federal judges in Texas have to hand down their decision.

Hearing here was the first of four cases brought by the justice department, under congressional direction, to challenge poll tax validity head-on. Others will be held in Mississippi Dec. 10; Alabama, Dec. 20; and Virginia, Jan. 17.

POLLUTION PROGRAM

Gov. John Connally has advised John Gardner, U. S. Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare, that Texas plans to control pollution on its streams and in its coastal waters.

Such a certification is required by the new federal law aimed at stopping pollution of public waters throughout the United States. If states fail to get pollution control programs in operation by June 30, 1967, then Uncle Sam will take over and adopt its own programs and rules.

Connally's formal certification came as the Texas Water Pollution Control took its biggest step yet. It adopted rules and standards for discharges of municipal and industrial waste into the Houston Ship Channel. Industry spokesmen at the public hearing estimated Ship Channel industry will have to spend between $50,000,000 and $100,000,000 for treatment facilities to meet these standards.

Even then, Joe G. Moore Jr., chairman of the board, estimated that the new requirements would eliminate only half the pollution in the Channel. Mayor Seaborn Cravey of Baytown strongly protested against the board plan to allow more pollution in the mid-Channel area above Baytown. He fears fish kills which sometimes make living unbearable in Baytown will continue when rains wash slugs of polluted water down the Channel.

But the Board unanimously adopted its three-zone plan, effective immediately.

A seventh member was added to the Board by Connally's selection of Howard Rose of Midland, his former administrative assistant. He will represent the public.

NEWS COMMITTEE MEETS

A nine-member committee studying the role of the press in crime and court news coverage declared its opposition to the legislation that would restrict news reporters in covering stories.

Lawmakers and news executives serve on committee set up by last Legislature. Group selected Felix McKnight, Dallas Time Herald editor as chairman.

McKnight said the committee hopes to establish guidelines to protect the rights of individuals named in court charges; also to preserve freedom of the press; and to avoid a fight over legislation.

APPOINTMENTS

William A. Hazlewood Jr. of Abilene is the new assistant veterans employment representative with the Texas Employment Commission. He will work out of Dallas.

Salt Water Pollution Committee of the House of Representatives held its first meeting here. Rep. Renal Rosson of Snyder is chairman. Members include Reps. John Allen of Longview, Temple Dickson of Sweetwater, Tom Holmes of Granbury and Felix McDonald of Edinburg. Also Joe Kilgore of Austin, Harry Loftis of Tyler, Charles P. McGaha of Wichita Falls, Judge W. H. Rampey of Winters and John Ben Shepperd of Odessa.

LAND PROGRAM ENDS

State Veterans Land Program ended Nov. 30 when the last commitment for purchase of property was issued.

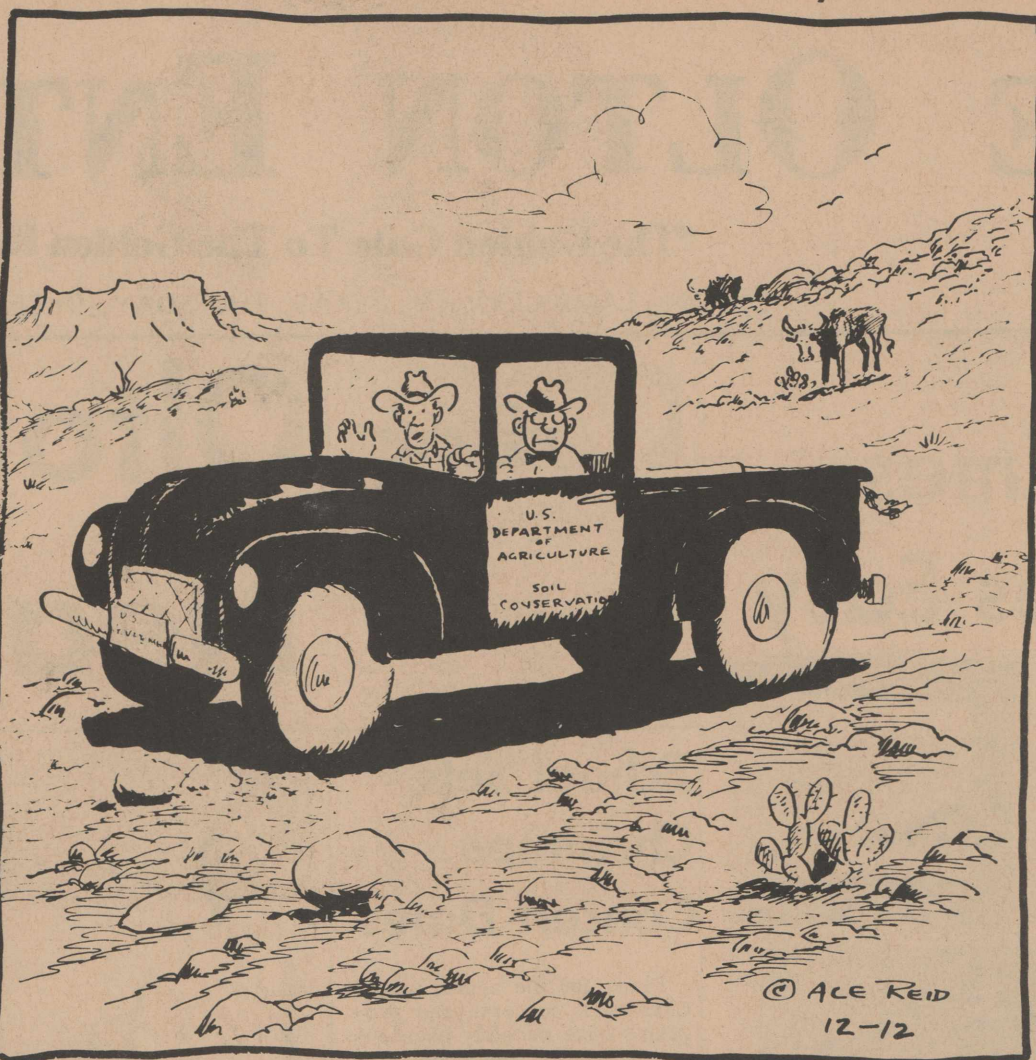

Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler said 35,500 Texas veterans bought over 3,000,000 acres of land at average price of $81 an acre. On Nov. 2 Texas voters turned down a constitutional amendment proposal designed to extend the long-term, low-interest, land purchase program.

SHORT SNORTS

Gov. Connally approved five new federal anti-poverty programs with U.S. grants of more than $1,200,000 -- in Corpus Christi, Laredo, Roma, Pharr and Rio Grande City.

DOWN MEMORY LANE

FIVE AND TEN YEARS AGO IN OLTON

FIVE YEARS AGO IN OLTON

Final official 1960 census figures show Olton gained more people in the 1950's than any other community in Lamb County. A U. S. Department of Commerce publication places Olton's official population at 1,917--a gain of 716 over the 1950 mark of 1,201. Littlefield, the county seat, picked up 696 additional persons over 1950 and shows a 1960 population of 7,236. The 1950 population was 6,540.

Despite chilling, icy weather, the Olton area's cotton crop went through gins at a fast pace this week. More than 32,000 bales had been ginned by Wednesday at 4 p.m. at the six firms serving the Olton and nearby area.

An annual Christmas concert will be presented by the Olton Schools' Music department Monday night at 7:30 p.m. at the high school auditorium.

Olton's boys' basketball team, fresh from winning the consolation championship of their own tournament last weekend, will play host the Littlefield Wildcats here Friday night.

TEN YEARS AGO IN OLTON

The Olton athletic fund netted a total of $6,178.57 from the 11 football games in which the Mustangs participated this year, according to figures in the office of R. E. Porter, school business manager.

Harvest of Olton's cotton crop stands only 176 bales short of the 30,000 bale mark. A Wednesday afternoon survey showed that local gins have weighed in a total of 29,824 bales as compared with the 26,109 bales reported a week ago. Ginners say the harvest is "at least 95 percent complete".

Olton City Commission Tuesday night pledged full cooperation with the Parent-Teacher Association safety program.

Two Olton High School students, Laquita Huckabee and Janice Ford were chosen all-State choir, which is composed of outstanding high school singers all over the state.

Brookie Johnson and Anita Sorley have been elected as co-captains of the OHS girls' basketball team; it was announced this week by Miss Louise Boyles, coach.

BY AMY ADAMS

SHE GOOFED!

Dear Amy:

I'm a spinster fifty-six years of age. I hold down a fine job with a large national corporation and have quite a bit of 'profit-sharing' credited to my name . . . so much in fact, that I'm wary at this stage of my life of all men and their romantic interest in me -- but -- I recently met a man who sets me to thinking of marriage. Since my retirement is four years off (he knows this) and I'll come into all this money, how can I be sure he wants ME and not my money?

In Doubt

Dear In Doubt:

Since you goofed in letting him know your monetary worth, you have no alternative other than to tell him what's 'cooking' and why you're in a stew.

If he's choosing you as his better half in order to get better quarters, it's time to do some positive thinking.

P.S. Money is a universal passport to everywhere except Heaven, and a universal provider of everything except happiness.

Dear Amy:

I am fifteen and a half years old and have a problem confronted by many girls my age. There is a boy in my school whom I would like to meet very much. I pass him many times in the hall, but all I get is a smile. Many times I want to say hello, but it might seem awkward, since he really doesn't know me and I'm not forward enough to introduce myself to him. I would appreciate your advice.

The Shy One

Dear Shy One:

It is a girl's prerogative to encourage the friendship of a fellow classmate if she so desires. And it is neither awkward or forward to say "Hello" when he smiles in passing.

Dear Amy:

I feel sort of strange writing to you concerning something I feel I know the answer to, but my wife opposes my viewpoint so strongly that I may be wrong . . . but I doubt it. My view is based on the following: My son is a bum, and is heading for trouble. He's 24 and not working. He had a job for $100 a week, but because it was too hard to get up in the morning (after staying up fooling around all night), he quit. He now stays home during the day and sleeps, but is up and about as soon as the sun sets and is gone.

When he is home, he never sits up; he is always lying down -- except to eat when his mother serves it to him. She keeps the refrigerator stocked with all the things he likes to eat and thinks I am wrong in objecting to his taking the family stereo into his room permanently where it MUST play while he sleeps. (You can tell when he is in during the day because you can hear the stereo out in the street.) He leaves lights on everywhere and ruined my car by running it without oil and has made no offer to fix it. He's a school drop-out, stayed four years in the army playing basketball and is not willing to take a job in any menial capacity . . . and is suited for nothing else.

I feel that by continuing housing, feeding and doing his laundry, furnishing him phone service to girls all over town and to his buddies in New York is only hastening his downfall.

If I'm wrong I'll apologize to my wife, but I don't think I am. There is much, much more but this will give you the general picture.

A Fed-up Father

Dear Fed-up:

I've got the picture . . . and of course you're right! Your wife's coddling must stop if you ever hope to get your son to stand on his own two feet. See that he gets a job immediately -- regardless of the hours or the pay, and that he pays room, board and the cost of every 'service' he enjoys at home that he would have to pay for elsewhere.

If he does not see eye-to-eye with you, offer him the alternative of packing his gear and moving out! You may think these are strong measures but after the life he's been leading, this is the only action that will make a man of your 'boy'.

Selecting A Yule Tree Made Easier With Tips

Almost 50,000,000 Christmas Trees, averaging about one to every four Americans, are nearing their ultimate rendezvous. The U. S. Navy placed its order early for 70,000 trees. More families than ever are expected this year to participate in the "Choose and cut" method of buying. Many now like to make an outing to a commercial tree farm where they can pick their own trees while they're in the ground, then get a little exercise in cutting them.

Wherever you get your tree, Changing Times, the Kiplinger magazine, offers this advice. Look for one with balanced, pyramidal form, well balanced on all sides and with strong limbs. Check to see that it is fragrant and with lustrous, smooth deep-green foliage. Try to avoid a tree with dry, yellow-tipped needles, the tell tale warning that they will soon start dropping to your floor. Store the tree in a cool, protected place away from sun and wind. Rain or snow out doors will keep it fresh and moist. When you bring it indoors, saw a fresh cut on the but end to aid absorption, then place it in a container of water.

During the holidays, the tree will look a lot better if you keep it in a large pail or jardiniere, with plenty of water.

GUEST SPEAKER

Mrs. Otis Holladay was the guest speaker at the Plainview District Methodist Ministers Christmas Party in Plainview Dec. 6 at the First Methodist Church. The party was attended by the ministers and their families.

FILLY DEFENDER--Laura Akin (No. 20) goes high to spoil the aim of a Kress player during the Kress-Olton game Tuesday night. Miss Akin was also an all-tournament selection during the Kress Tournament last weekend.

It's THAT time of year now. Even though Christmas is still two weeks away, the anticipation and excitement of the holiday season is with us. If we can manage to avoid the frenzy of last minute shopping and decisions such as, "Will he like that?" or "Can she use that?", we should find the Christmas season the most enjoyable of the year.

Never is the music more beautiful, in our churches, over the radio, television, even on the street corners and in the stores.

Never are decorations as colorful, sparkling, and festive. Never is food more bountiful, with an abundance of candies, fruitcakes, cookies, nuts, etc, making even the Thanksgiving menu seem like a meager fare.

Never are friends and family more lovable and gay.

And who knows? Even though our warm December days are breaking all temperature records, we could have a "White Christmas"!

No doubt we're prejudiced and taking a frankly biased viewpoint, but sometimes it seems that another term for sophomore could be "suffermore". Could be that every student, be he frosh, soph, junior, or a reigning senior, feels that, "Surely, THIS is the hardest year!"

Besides winning the third place trophy, the Fillies placed two girls, Sherry Caddel and Laura Akin, on the all-tournament team.

The Mustangs lost Thursday and Friday to Quitaque and Nazareth. Joe Priest was one of 10 picked on the boys' all-tournament team.

Let's go all the way, Varsity, in the Abernathy tournament!

By the way, Mrs. Hamilton, what does your pet spider want for Christmas?

For information to those who missed the assembly last Friday morning, "The Great Houdini" instructed us on the strength and weaknesses of handcuffs and legions.

The most entertaining part of the program was watching the blushes and embarrassed expressions of the participating students. Who could look at ease having to don strait-jackets in front of the entire student body? Do you agree that things can get too cozy, Valda and Jackie?

Vickie! Where did you get that pomegranate you had on the basketball bus Monday?

Going steady -- A blissful state of monotony.

Larry Neimast was being examined in preparation for taking a driver's license test. Mr. Castleberry -- And what is the white line in the middle of the road for? Larry -- Bicycles.

Many a boy who thinks he has a girl on the string, finds out that he is on the hook.

More people buy Chevrolets? Yes!

Than any other make car? Yes!

Any other? Yes!

There must be reasons. Sure!

Name ten. OK:

1. All these comforts are available: steering wheels that tilt or telescope; AM/FM Multiplex Stereo radio, first ever offered in cars; and Strato-bucket seats (to give you just a sampling).
2. Comforton automatic heating and cooling you can order—Just dial the temperature and turn it on; Comforton automatically keeps you comfortable no matter what the weather outside.
3. More engine choices—the widest horsepower range available: the 425-hp Turbo-Jet V8 in Chevrolet and Corvette to a 90-hp Four in Chevy II.
4. Body by Fisher—Craftsmanship by the world's best known coachmakers with everything from luxurious interiors to the long luster Magic-Mirror acrylic lacquer finish.
5. Self-cleaning rocker panels flush out salt and other corrosives with rainwater, dry themselves with outside air—another way Chevrolet takes extra care so you needn't bother.
6. A hushed and gentled ride with body mounts designed to isolate vibration better and shock absorbers matched to body style—coupe, sedan, convertible, wagon.
7. America's only rear-engined car, Corvair, with more weight over the driving wheels where you need it and less on the steering wheels where you don't.
8. America's only true sports car, Corvette, with fully independent suspension, four-wheel disc brakes and engines you can order up to 427 cubic inches.

What Is The Value?

After you've filled all the pages of a trading stamp book, what is the book worth?

Based on retail prices, the average value is $3.11. However, the value will depend upon what sort of merchandise you select as your premium--that is, the book will be worth more for high-markup items, such as lamps, and less for low-markup ones, such as small appliances.

These findings are reported by two faculty members at Colorado State University in the fall issue of the Journal of Retailing, published by New York University's Institute of Retail Management. Their field study was made in the Denver area, which is frequently used as a test market.

The authors, Professor of Business Harvey L. Vredenburg and Assistant Professor of Mathematics H. Howard Frisinger, note that stamp companies have made varied claims as to values. Some companies have claimed up to 2.5 per cent of spending, or above, and others have claimed lower values. At 2.5 per cent, representing $120 of spending, the completed book would be worth $3.

The study involved selection of a sample of 100 premium items offered by a leading stamp firm and representing redemptions made over the past year by savers in the Denver area. Retail prices were determined by shopping or obtaining estimates from store buyers.

The $3.11 overall average was based on prices of items in Denver stores. The average for these prices combined with buyers' estimates was $3.21.

SHORT SNORTS

Texas business activity declined five per cent in October, second drop in row since the business index reached an all-time high in August, UT's Bureau of Business Research reports.

The average value of a 1,200-stamp book in traditional stores was found to be $3.34. The comparable figure at the discount stores was $3.02.

Single items, however, resulted in book values ranging from $2 to $5.88. Merchandise values for stamps were lower on the average for items such as small appliances, linens and blankets, and sporting goods, which are traditionally retailed at relatively low mark-ups. Stamp values tended to be higher on items such as lamps, silver and glassware, which traditionally sell at high mark-ups.

The largest increase in the number of deaths in 1964 over the previous three-year average was 53 in Harris County. The largest decrease in the number of deaths in 1964 from the previous three-year average was nine in Collin County.

The 1964 death total for the state was 3,006, an increase of 277 deaths over the 1963 all time high of 2,729 deaths. The Sergeant added, "With this increase in traffic deaths, it is a challenge which every responsible citizen must accept to do his best to reduce the traffic deaths on our streets and highways."

Home Ownership On Rise In Lamb Co. Says Survey

In Lamb County, home ownership has been on the rise and is now at a comparatively high level.

A greater proportion of local families than ever before own the houses in which they live. The proportion is higher by about 6.6 percent than it was in 1950.

The findings are based on an updating of the latest Department of Commerce figures in line with more recent surveys made by the University of Michigan and others.

As an indication of the change that has been taking place, back in 1950 the official Census of Housing showed that 52.5 percent of the local dwelling units were owner-occupied.

By 1960, the ratio had reached 56.9 percent. Now, in 1965, it is at an estimated 59.1 percent.

The figures for Lamb County compare favorably with those for many sections of the United States.

Much of the progress in this direction, locally and nationally, has taken place in the last 10 years, aided by rising prosperity and by Government insurance of mortgages.

With incomes on the increase, more and more families have been achieving an economic position that has enabled them to acquire homes of their own. Their way was eased, considerably, by the availability of mortgage money at more favorable rates than were offered in earlier years.

As a result, the proportion of homes with mortgages on them rose from 44 percent in 1950 to 57 percent by 1960.

Although there has been much trading-up in recent years — people selling their homes to buy larger and fancier ones — there has also been much money spent on remodeling, expanding and repairing the older dwellings. Upwards of $11 billion per year is now being spent for such purposes, according to the University of Michigan survey.

Each year, it finds, four out of 10 families make such outlays, averaging $550. It amounts to $220 per dwelling per year when the cost is spread out on an annual basis.

Applying this average expenditure to Lamb County and to the number of dwelling units locally, approximately $1,434,000 is spent a year on such renovating.

High Fidelity! For the thousands of Cadillac buyers who faithfully trade their cars for the latest models, there is an equally faithful following that eagerly awaits the pleasurable economy of a used Cadillac. Read the reasons why.

Cadillac owners are moving up to the 1966 model in record numbers. And understandably so. They find that its distinguished new styling, its exceptional performance, its remarkable luxury, its many new options including exclusive new variable ratio power steering, and its unmatched quality are difficult indeed to resist. And so will you, once you have taken the wheel for yourself.

But if you are not quite ready for a new Cadillac, follow the practice of the thousands who choose a late model, previously-owned Cadillac. They get advanced features and lasting value that most new cars of other makes do not yet provide. Whether you buy your Cadillac new or used, see your authorized Cadillac dealer. His wonderful selection of Cadillacs is waiting for you now.
