No Decrease Is Noted In Shoes, Suits

San Francisco Not So Lucky; Survey Included 13 Cities

(By The Associated Press)

The cost of seven staple food items in 13 cities across the nation has dropped an average of 9.7 per cent from the level of a year ago, an Associated Press survey showed today.

Women's cotton house dresses are down an average of 24.5 per cent and their nylon stockings are 15.3 per cent under the retail prices of a year ago.

Suits, Shoes About Same

The men are paying about 7.5 per cent less for shirts, but men's and women's shoes and men's suits cost about the same as they did in January, 1948.

Those are overall figures for the entire list of items in all 13 cities.

The residents of San Francisco weren't quite that lucky. The price of food items checked there showed an overall increase of about one-half of one per cent.

And a quart of milk was the only one of the staple food items that was higher priced generally.

Seven Staple Items

The survey was based on the current retail price of these seven staple food items—a loaf of bread, a dozen best grade eggs, a pound of top grade butter, a quart of a milk, a pound of pork loin, a pound of leg of lamb and a pound of chopped steak (U. S. No. 1).

The comparison was the cost of the same items a year ago. The prices were the average in each of 13 cities from coast to coast.

Nationally marketed lines of well known popular brands were surveyed for the clothing price figures.

The survey showed that in San Francisco the cost of the seven staple food items is currently about one-half of one per cent higher than a year ago.

The total cost of the food items this year in San Francisco is $4.09; a year ago the total was $4.07.

Drop In Des Moines

Residents of Des Moines enjoyed the largest price drop—21.4 per cent from a year ago.

The total cost of the seven food staples in Des Moines is $3.29 and a year ago it was $4.19.

The total cost of the food staples in the other cities surveyed:

	This Year	Year Ago
Atlanta	$3.54	$3.86
Boston	3.58	3.68
Chicago	3.50	3.73
Dallas	3.81	4.01
Denver	3.74	4.00
Detroit	3.41	3.77
Kansas City	3.82	4.42
Los Angeles	3.96	4.07
New Orleans	3.88	4.32
New York	3.27	4.07
Seattle	3.87	4.13

The survey shows a definite drop in living costs generally during the past year. But there is no

Wheat Parley Opened Today

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26. (AP)—Representatives of 48 nations gathered today in a conference to draft plans for making sure the world gets plenty of wheat at prices fair to consumers and farmers alike.

Here for the first session are spokesmen for the world's five major wheat-selling nations—the United States, Canada, Argentina, Australia and Soviet Russia—and most of the wheat-buying countries.

The conference goal is the writing of a new international agreement aimed principally at (1) assuring importing nations a dependable supply at all times; (2) dividing the world market fairly among exporting countries, and (3) stabilizing prices.

Amidst Speculation

Delegates gathered amidst speculation that it may be very difficult for the conference to get together on the matter of prices. This speculation grew out of the fact that world grain supplies are improving and prices are on the downtrend from wartime peaks.

A similar agreement was negotiated last year, with 39 nations participating. But it was never put into effect because the United States—the largest wheat export-

Vets Pension Before Solons

Proposal Has Right-Of-Way In Committee

Soldiers Of World Wars Affected; To Call Legion Backer

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26. — A veterans pension proposal with a multi-billion dollar price tag had the right-of-way today in the House veterans affairs committee.

Chairman Rankin (D - Miss) made it the first order of business for tomorrow, with Gen. John Thomas Taylor, national legislative commander of the American Legion, as the first witness.

To Affect Millions

The legislation, by estimate of Rankin and the American Legion, affects some 18,000,000 veterans of World Wars I and II.

Its impact upon the national pocketbook has not yet been officially estimated, but Veterans administration figures show that there are more than 3,500,000 veterans who would reach the pension age within the next 10 years.

On the basis of the bill's pension provisions, this could mean a possible bill of $3,000,000,000 to $5,000,000,000 a year by 1959—if all those veterans lived to the age of 60.

The bill was introduced by Rankin last week at the request of the American Legion. The Mississippian said it has the approval of other veterans organizations as well.

Expects Little Opposition

"I don't think there will be a dozen votes against it in both Houses," he told a reporter.

Mrs. Edith Nourse Rogers (R-Mass), ranking minority member on the committee, said "there's been a great interest" in the measure, adding:

"I have a feeling something may be done. Certainly something should be done for veterans of pension age."

The bill provides both for non-service connected disabilities, and for old age.

On reaching 60, the veteran would receive $60 a month, whether disabled or not. At the age of 65, it would go to $90. That would be in additio nto any disability payments he may have been receiving, or would later receive.

Disability rated at 20 per cent would entitle him to $20 additional a month; 40 per cent disability,

She Killed 7-Months-Old Son Because She "Hated Boy Babies"

Expectant Mother Weeping In A Jail Cell For The Child She Will Bear But Will Never See

(By The United Press)

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 26.—Mrs. Georgette Brucks, 21, wept in her jail cell today for the child she will bear next month, and which she will never see.

The young mother, who killed her seven-month-old son because she "hated boy babies," traded her unborn child and two other children for her freedom. She also agreed to a sterilization operation that will be performed after the birth of her child.

The pudgy brunette, already the mother of four children, pleaded guilty to manslaughter yesterday and Superior Judge Thomas L. Ambrose gave her a suspended sentence and six years' probation on condition that she put her children up for adoption and submit to sterilization.

Mrs. Brucks agreed, after consulting psychiatrists and psychologists. Then she returned to her jail cell and wept.

"I didn't mean to do it," she cried. "I have an uncontrollable temper and I beat him with my fists. I knew I should have stopped but I couldn't."

The sterilization order was believed to be the first ever given to a woman in local court history.

Mrs. Brucks is awaiting the birth next month of a child by Donald Redman, 23-year-old printer with whom she had lived for three years. He fathered the dead child and another son, Donald, 18 months. A daughter is in custody of her estranged husband, Edmund Brucks, from whom she separated in Ohio in 1945. Another son, Edmund Brucks, jr., 4, is one of the children up

INVESTMENT TWO-WAY STREET

Capital Available For Foreign Areas

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26. (AP) — Secretary of State Acheson declared today that "very great" reservoirs of private capital are available to back up President Truman's proposal for raising living standards throughout the world.

But he served notice that this capital could not be brought into use unless foreign nations create conditions under which investors may "fairly" employ their money.

And he said this relationship between private capital and foreign nations needing capital "is a two-way street."

Only Broad Goal

Acheson made it clear to his first news conference since becoming Secretary to State that Mr. Truman's call for a bold new venture in international betterment stands now as only a broad goal and far from a completed plan. He said:

No blueprint exists yet for carrying out Mr. Truman's program to raise living standards in backward areas of the world:

But, under orders from the President, the State department is working on plans.

Purpose Defined

However, Acheson declared that the primary purpose of the program which Mr. Truman projected in his inauguration speech is not to get modern plumbing installed throughout the world. It is, he added, to promote conditions which increase the word and freedom and dignity of individual people everywhere.

The new secretary defined that as the purpose of the American system and of American life.

Acheson skipped over or brushed aside practically all questions having to do with details of the plan, explaining that there is in fact no plan as yet.

Red Plans Explained

On a variety of other topics, the new secretary told the more than 200 reporters who attended his conference:

1. Russia's newly announced economic union among the East-

Fox Of Nazism Gets Liberty

NUERNBERG, Germany, Jan. 26 (AP)—Franz Von Papen, the old fox of diplomacy in Hitler's Reich, was set free today by a German denazification court.

The court reversed his previous conviction as a major Nazi offender, the worst type of Nazi, under which he was serving an eight year sentence in a labor camp. It convicted him of being only an offender, the second category of Nazism.

Von Papen, Hitler's former ambassador to Austria and Turkey, has been imprisoned since the end of the war. The court, in ordering his immediate release, held this was enough punishment.

The court also reduced his fine

Minimum Price For Barbering Sought

AUSTIN, Jan. 26. (U.P.)—A minimum price for barbering in Texas would be established in Texas under terms of a bill introduced today in the Senate.

The measure, in a sense a fair-trades act for the barbering trade, was introduced by Sen. Gus J. Strauss of Hallettsville.

A bill, similar in purpose, was introduced in the Senate last week to put a floor under the price of cigarets.

"War" Policies Of U. S. Flayed

(By The Associated Press)

ROME, Jan. 26 — Communist leaders of France and Italy told their 5,000,000 followers las't night to join in a huge Russian-bossed "peace front."

Members of the two largest Red parties outside Russia were ordered to throw "all their force" against ":propaganda of hate and calumny, warlike preparations and policies of oppression."

At the same time, Western Germany's No. 1 Communist, called for "better relations" between the United States and Russia.

These moves were the latest developments in Russia's so-called "peace offensive," picturing Communists as lovers of peace and their opponents as warlike aggressors.

Follow Announcement

They followed shortly after Moscow's announcement that the Soviet and her Eastern European satellites had been linked in an "economic council of mutual assistance" to counter the European recovery program.

But there still has been nothing but talk in the new Russian propaganda line. U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson has called on the Reds to prove that they mean what they say. There has been no direct response.

The call for a "peace front" was announced by the Italian Communist party after a conference with Marcel Cachin, veteran French Communist leader.

A communique ordered French and Italian Reds to "fulfill their tasks of fighters of the international front which, under the leadership of the great Soviet Union, is checking the forces of oppression and war."

"Peace Messenger"

The communique described Cachin as a "peace messenger."

Cachin and Italian Communist Leader Palmiro Togliatti have spearheaded the recent "peace offensive." Both have made speeches, the latest last Sunday, in which they declared Russia wants peace.

But both also coupled their de-

Drastic Action Is Protest Of Rent Controls

Similar Moves In Other Cities Of Country Possible

(By The United Press)

TULSA, Jan. 26 — Six hundred families faced eviction today as members of the Tulsa Property Owners association "withdrew from the rental business" to protest against two rent control bills now in Congress.

The Rev. Wallace J. Murphy, executive secretary of the association, said similar action probably would be taken by landlords in 20 other cities, including Chicago, Houston, Kansas City, Denver, Detrait, St. Louis, Ft. Wayne and Grand Rapids.

Refuse To Operate

"We simply refused to operate under rent control," Murphy said "We're going out of the rent business as long as there are controls."

Eviction notices to the 600 tenants were in the mails today.

Murphy also is honorary president of the American Property Owners association, which has branches in Tulsa, Denver, Colorado Springs, Portland, Ore., Chicago, Kansas City, Carthage, Mo., St. Louis, Danville, O., Schenectady, N. Y., San Antonio, Dallas, Houston, Tyler, Tex., Des Moines Cedar Rapids, Janesville, Wis., Okmulgee, Okla., and Grand Rapids.

Murphy, an extensive property owner and founder of a rescue mission here, is a retired Baptist minister. He said the two rent control bills before the 81st Congress are "intolerable."

Shocked By Action

In Washington, Rent Director Tighe E. Woods said he was "shocked" by the action, but added there apparently was nothing the government could do to stop the evictions.

He said the tenants could appeal their eviction notices to local courts under the current rent control act.

"But there isn't anything we can do," he said.

Woods said that he has "never heard of the American Property Owners association."

"But I'm shocked to think that anyone who uses 'reverend' attached to his name would lend his

Education Bill Called Urgent

AUSTIN, Jan. 26. (AP)—Gov. Beauford H. Jester today asked the 51st legislature for speedy action on bills activating the Gilmer-Aiken education committee's proposals.

In his third special message to the session, he put the "urgent" tag on bills to reorganize the public school set-up. He gave them emergency status, he said, in order "that there may be no delay."

"For many months the committee and its advisory groups have made an exhaustive investigation of our entire public school system, and have come forward with what history will doubtless term the most comprehensive study of Texas public schools which has ever been made," the governor's message said.

Both Houses Adjourn

Jester made no particular reference to the first three bils, but confined his message to a general commendation of the Gilmer-Aiken committee's work.

The House adjourned until 10 a. m. tomorrow after a 45 minute session. Speaker Durwood Manford indicated it might not be possible to announce committee appointments until Monday.

The Senate also adjourned to 10:30 a. m. tomorrow after intro-

Threat Of Ice Paralysis Seen For Amarillo

Travel Continues Hazardous For Wide Section; Communication Lines Are Hit

(By The Associated Press)

Temperatures warmed slowly over most of Texas today but the northern part of the state was still locked in ice and sleet and freezing drizzle made travel dangerous in the Panhandle and South Plains.

Though much of North Texas was breaking out of its destructive, fairyland coating of ice, at least 14 Texas communities were isolated from phone communications and some ice-bound cities reported little if any thawing.

The official forecast called for slowly moderating temperatures for both East and West Texas, continued rains and occasional snow in the north.

Central, South and East Texas were blanketed today with drizzle or rain.

The ice storm hung on at Sherman. Schools were closed today, most of the heavy industries were shut down and the ice knocked out most of the city's power lines and telephone circuits. Power was out, too, at nearby Denison and the Denison Herald was being published at the plant of the Sherman Democrat.

Highways Are Open

North-south highway 75 and east-west highway 82 were open at Sherman. Highway 82, closed west to Gainesville, was opened before noon.

The Southwestern Bell Telephone company listed Gainesville as isolated from communications. Other isolated communities included Celina, Frisco, McKinney, Italy and Forreston, all served by the Bell company and Bonham, Dodge City, Whitesboro, South Maid, Savoy, Sanger, Valley View and Ben Franklin, served by independent phone companies.

Southwestern Bell reported 650 circuits out over the state and hundreds of wire breaks due to ice. Of these 650, 170 were circuits still out as a result of a previous ice storm which began Jan. 10. The company posted indefinite

Floods Threaten Six States; Glaze Spreading In Midwest

(By The United Press)

Dangerous floods rose in six states today as persistent rains forced rivers out of their banks and spread a heavy glaze over parts of the midwest.

Eastern Arkansas was threatened by a major flood along the Black and White rivers. The streams parallel each other from the Missouri border to where they converge just before the White joins the Arkansas and Mississippi rivers.

Tributaries of the Ohio in Illinois, Indiana and Ohio were forcing the big stream above flood stages as they dumped their overflow burden at points from Cincinnati to Cairo, Ill.

The Ohio was four feet above flood at Cairo and experts predicted a rest of 50 feet, 10 feet above flood.

Engineers said the situation could become critical if the rain continues.

Slippery pavements forced public schools to cancel classes during the forenoon and many small businesses closed their doors for lack of customers.

The Missouri state patrol closed arterial highways 66 and 61, the main roadways used by bus and truck traffic to the southwest. Roads were treacherous also in northern Illinois across southern Michigan as far as Detroit.

South of St. Louis, the Meramec river was expected to his five feet above flood stage at Valley Park, Union, and Pacific, Mo. Only a few homes were endangered, however.

The steady drizzle threatened more hardship for southern Illinois areas where more than 100 families were driven from their homes yesterday as streams rose to near-record January highs.

Engineers said the most dang-

SITUATION WORSE IN WYOMING

Air Force Rushes Plans For Haylift

(By The United Press)

The Air Force rushed plans to extend its haylift operations throughout the west today and promised that the mercy flights would continue as long as necessary to save starving livestock.

The 10th Air Force set up emergency relief headquarters at Lowry air base near Denver and dispatched liaison officers to work with the governors of Colorado, Wyoming, Nebraska, South Dakota and Kansas to coordinate the relief work.

The new measures were taken as Russell Thorp, head of Wyoming's emergency stockfeeding program, warned that the "situation is not improving."

"It's getting worse," he said.

He told of ranchers who were "completely wiped out" by the deep snowdrifts in Weston and Goshen counties of Wyoming.

Stockmen in the Nevada and Colorado areas where the haylift has operated for several days were enthusiastic. Rancher H. R. Ivins, who guided one of the 17 C-82 "flying boxcars" making direct drops to herds out of Ely, Nev., said the haylift "is the only thing that's saved the livestock."

Grandstanding Charged

Gov. Val Peterson of Nebraska, said he would use the Air Force aid chiefly to alleviate human suffering. He has accused the Air Force of "grandstanding" and contended that the flights were wastefully ineffective.

Peterson has appealed to Federal Works Administrator Philip Fleming and Army Secretary Kenneth Royall for government machines to open roads to the marooned animals so that feed can be trucked to them.

The Air Force promised to maintain the haylift flights as long as necessary. Most ranchers thought the "bridge of planes" over the snow must be kept in operation at least 14 days.

U. S. Aid On Way

More help from the federal government was on the way, however. The Senate interior committee unanimously approved an emergency bill authorizing $750,000 in federal aid. The money will be used to finance the haylift and cover expenses of other relief agencies. Chairman Joseph C. O'Mahoney, D., Wyo., said the bill would go to the Senate floor by tomorrow.

The bill was amended to provide aid to Indians in the snowbound areas.

The measure also sets up a coordinating agency to administer the funds. The agency has been organized in the form of a committee under Interior Secretary J. A. Krug.

President Truman has authorized expenditure of $100,000 from his personal relief funds to aid storm victims. Half was for the Bureau of Indian Affairs and half for the Bureau of Land Management.

Reclamation Commissioner Michael W. Straus ordered his regional directors to throw all available men and machines into the fight to open the west's roads and trails.

CHIANG'S SON ADDED TO LIST

Communist Demands Chinese War Criminals Be Arrested

(By The United Press)

NANKING, Jan. 26 — A Communist radio commentator demanded today that Acting President Li Tsung-Jen place in custody all Nationalist "war criminals," including Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, to demonstrate his desire for peace.

The broadcast, from the Communist North Shensi radio, also announced officially that five new names had been added to the Communist list of "war criminals," including Generalissimo Chiang's oldest son, Chiang Ching-Kuo.

If all "war criminals" are arrested, the commentator said, Li himself may be given his freedom despite the fact his name is on the original list.

"Communist observers believe that if Li Tsung-Jen does this he will get an amnesty," the commentator said. His comments followed the broadcast of the official Communist spokesman on the radio.

The Nationalist government, for its part, urged the Communists to speed up plans for a peace conference. The

Slowly Rising Temperatures Expected Over South Plains

A slow rise in temperatures this afternoon, accompanied by scattered rain, drizzle and freezing rain, was expected to begin a warm trend in South Plains weather.

From a 22-degree minimum shortly after midnight this morning the mercury was expected to climb to 32 degrees, then drop only slightly to a minimum of approximately 25 degrees tonight.

At 2 p. m. the temperature was 26 degrees.

Considerable cloudiness and rising temperatures were predicted for Thursday.

The South Plains so far had suffered little damage from the latest onslaught of subfreezing temperatures and snow and ice.

New damage to communications lines was negligible, although repair crews were delayed in their work of repairing wreckage of the last ice storm.

Highways remained open but treacherous throughout the area. Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma Coaches were running all routes today, although some schedules were

500 Chinese Officials In U. S. Jittery Over Homeland Events

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26 (AP)—Some 500 Chinese officials in this country are watching the fast-breaking events in their homeland with jittery concern.

Their own future, as well as China's fate, hangs in the balance.

Ambassador Wellington Koo and the staffs of China's embassy, consulates and special missions in the United States still are being paid by the shaky Nationalist government.

Choice Limited

While Dr. C. M. Chen, embassy counselor, told a reporter "we are carrying on as usual and no changes are anticipated," some Chinese pointed out privately that the fall of the Nationalist government would leave them this painful choice: return to uncertainty at home or accept the unhappy lot of the exile.

With Nanking seeking peace with the Communists and the Nationalist government fleeing to Canton they have no assurances for the future.

Koo's staff now numbers 32, aside from clerks and dependents. There are in addition special military, naval, air and purchasing missions, the Chinese delegation to the United Nations, and consulates in nine American cities.

Chinese and American officials said there is no exact total available, but they calculated at least 500 persons in this country are directly dependent on Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's regime for their careers.

Chinese officials are said to be sure that under a Communist regime they could not hope to keep official posts longer than a few months.

China's official representatives here were virtually stranded once before. In the late 20's, when Chiang and his Nationalists were on the march northward to take over an earlier, tottering, Nanking government, the legation's funds ra nout, leaving China's affairs in this country in the hands of only two men.

This time there appears far less chance of a critical dollar shortage for paying actual operating expenses.

The Bank of China, a Nanking government institution with branches in New York and San Francisco, is credited with substantial resources.

China also has fairly large real estate holdings in the capital, including the historic "Twin Oaks" estate occupied by Ambassador Koo, a Massachusetts avenue chancery and an annex.

Economy Affects Diplomats

The Bank of China, officials said, holds title to a handsome Parkside residence which Madame Chiang Kai-Shek lived in after her recent visit at the home of the then Secretary of State and Mrs. Marshall.

But all this gives only slight reassurance to individual officials. Some—mostly diplomats—already have been pinched by an economy wave which started last fall. The military, naval and air staffs draw their salaries and expenses from the defense ministry and were not affected.

China maintains consulates in New York, San Francisco, Chicago, New Orleans, Boston, Los Angeles, Honolulu, Houston and Seattle. The U. N. staff headed by T. T. Tsiang number about 50 including clerks, officials said.

YOU CAN ENJOY GOOD HEALTH

STOMACH AILMENTS, WEAK KIDNEYS, RHEUMATIC PAINS, ARTHRITIS, NEURITIS

and such complaints as Headaches, Nervousness, Acids, Toxins, Bloating, Lack of Vitality, Energy, Poor Appetite Underweight, Dizzy Spells.

Drugless Health!

NO MATTER how long you have been suffering from stomach, kidney and rheumatic distress, and what drugs you have tried before, you can, now, hope for relief if you take GEO-MINERAL. With your eyes SEE the results seven days after you start taking it.

DRUGGISTS, Chemists cannot make GEO-MINERAL. It comes from the earth — Nature's laboratory. Contains NO dope, NO alcohol, NO oil. ONLY Nature's minerals—the oldest, most reliable remedy for rheumatism, arthritis, kidney and stomach ailments.

Wonder Minerals

FOR THOUSANDS of years sufferers, on advice of doctors, go to mineral springs to get cure, or relief. The late President Roosevelt used to go to Mineral Springs in Georgia. He was helped or would not have gone there twice a year.

WE HAVE all heard of the miraculous springs of Lourdes, France, and famous Thronion in ancient Greece, where, according to legend, Hercules, the god of eternal strength and youth, drank its waters and bathed to be forever young.

IF YOU ARE a sufferer, and can not go to the mineral springs, try GEO-MINERAL which contains a blend of the same minerals that can be found at the world's best springs. The minerals in it may work miracles.

Amazing Results

WATCH your elimination from your bowels two or three days after you start using GEO-MINERAL. The waste, black as coal, will break away and you will SEE it! Also examine your urine. You may see impurities—poisonous waste—coming out of your kidneys, and feel the relief. Be sure to watch for all this to realize its priceless value.

MEDICAL records show 65% of men and women over 35 suffer from nutritional mineral-iron anemia. When you feel nervous, dull, tired, lazy, have dizzy spells, no ambition to work or play, a poor appetite when your eyes lack that bright spark and your mind brilliance, when headaches get the best of you, and life seems not worth living, with worry wearing you down—it may be simply lack of minerals in your blood. GEO-MINERAL is then what you need.

Read What They Say!

"We have sold Geo-Mineral for the last six months and it has been one of the best selling drug items we have ever handled"—say Porter Bros., pharmacists of Concord, N. C. "Users report amazing results in many instances, and we personally believe Geo-Mineral is a good medicine for purposes as indicated, and recommend it to sufferers who have tried other medicines with little if any results. They may discover that Geo-Mineral is what they have probably been needing and looking for — we unhesitatingly recommend it."

100% Guaranteed!

WE URGE everyone to try GEO-MINERAL. Do not hesitate one moment. Go to your drug store now. Get one bottle. Use it one week. If you are not 100 per cent satisfied, we will refund your money.

REGARDLESS of how long you have been suffering, and how many medicines you have tried before, GEO-MINERAL may be the remedy you need!

TRY it today! It may do wonders for you—and be the best investment for your health. Make you feel, eat, sleep, work and enjoy life better.

Big Detroit Newspaper Balks At Non-Communist Affidavits

DETROIT, Jan. 26. (AP)—The Detroit Free Press will issue its own identification cards to its newsmen.

It will do so as "the only judge" of the rights of its reporters and photographers to represent the paper, according to a statement of policy.

At the same time the Free Press said its newsmen could do as they liked about Police Commissioner Harry S. Toy's order that applications for police press cards must contain non-Communist affidavits.

Make No Objection

The Detroit Times and News, the other large daily papers here, have made no objection to Toy's order.

The Free Press' statement came last night from Executive Editor Basil L. Walters, who is chairman of the World Freedom of the Press committee of the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

Commissioner Toy said he ordered the non-Communist affidavits in the interest of national defense.

Publisher Would Sign

The Free Pres, Walters said, does not recognize Toy's order as a "licensing provision" and will insist on its reporters' rights to access "at all times" to public records.

Coincidentally Publisher James S. De Laurier of the Hammond (Ind) Times announced he would sign a non-Communist affidavit and would ask his workers to do likewise.

De Laurier said he was only concerned with "denying Communists or fellow travelers access to police records or confidential information in time of war."

Car Dealer Indicted In $4,000 Robbery

DALLAS, Jan. 26 (AP)—A federal grand jury yesterday indicted Ollie Otto Prince, 44, Corsicana used car dealer, on charges of robbing the First State bank of Rice, Navarro county, of more than $4,000 last Aug. 11.

Arraignment in Federal Judge T. Whitfield Davidson's court was set for Friday afternoon. Trial was tentatively scheduled for Feb. 28.

Prince has been free on bond for about two months. He also is accused, in a Waco federal court, of robbing the Malone State bank in Hill county.

Lubbock's Traffic Ordinances Will Get Strict Enforcement

Two men, who recently returned to the places where they had parked their cars in downtown Lubbock, were surprised to find them missing, but their astonishment was even greater to find the vehicles at city police headquarters, impounded for disobedience to traffic rules.

City police, in an all-out effort to "educate" residents in regard to traffic regulations, have been instructed to enforce recently passed city ordinances "to the letter," Chief of Police Lewis Kittrell said.

Co-operation of the public in enforcing the laws for the good of everyone concerned was asked by city officials.

Rules Are Given

Under provisions of Traffic Ordinance No. 890, passed by the City commission in November, 1948, vehicles may be impounded by police in any one of the following situations: (1)—Vehicles parked in a parking meter space for more than 24 hours; (2)—Parked in an alley; (3)—Parked in front of a fire hydrant or on any part of a crosswalk; (4)—Parked in any loading zone in violation of the traffic ordinance of the city; and (5)—Abandoned on any public street.

Chief Kittrell pointed out that the ordinance provides that an impounding fee of $2.50 plus a storage fee of 50 cents for each 24 hours will be assessed against any vehicle impounded by city police, and that the owner of the vehicle must pay such fees before the vehicle will be released into his custody.

Payment of the impounding fees does not constitute a defense to any charge against the driver, Kittrell stated, and the driver will find that the usual charges for his violation must be paid also.

Two other traffic rules which drivers either do not understand or deliberately disobey are the regulation against making left turns into or out of alleys and parking on paved streets of the city for more than 60 minutes between the hours of 2 a.m. and 6 a.m., Kittrell said.

The latter regulation is destined to clear such paved streets in order that city sweepers may clean along the curbings, he said. In some instances, he added, proprietors of certain hotels and all-night eating establishments have been exempt from the ruling in front of their places of business, when the proprietor has agreed to "clean up" along the curbing, Chief Kittrell said.

$10,000 Fire Sweeps Houston Flower Shop

HOUSTON, Jan. 26 (U.P.)—A 20-minute fire roared through a flower shop early today, and did damage estimated at $10,000.

Police believed the blaze at Don's Flowers, Inc., may have been caused by burglars. Firemen found the front door open, and two silver candelabra valued at $275 were missing. A safe door, which a nemploye closed but failed to lock, was open.

It was not immediately determined whether any money was missing from the cash register, but the safe held only papers.

Poll Tax Payments Lagging In County

Only 3,700 voters of Lubbock county have paid 1949 poll taxes Rolan Simpson, chairman of the Junior Chamber of Commerce Americanism committee, reported late Tuesday.

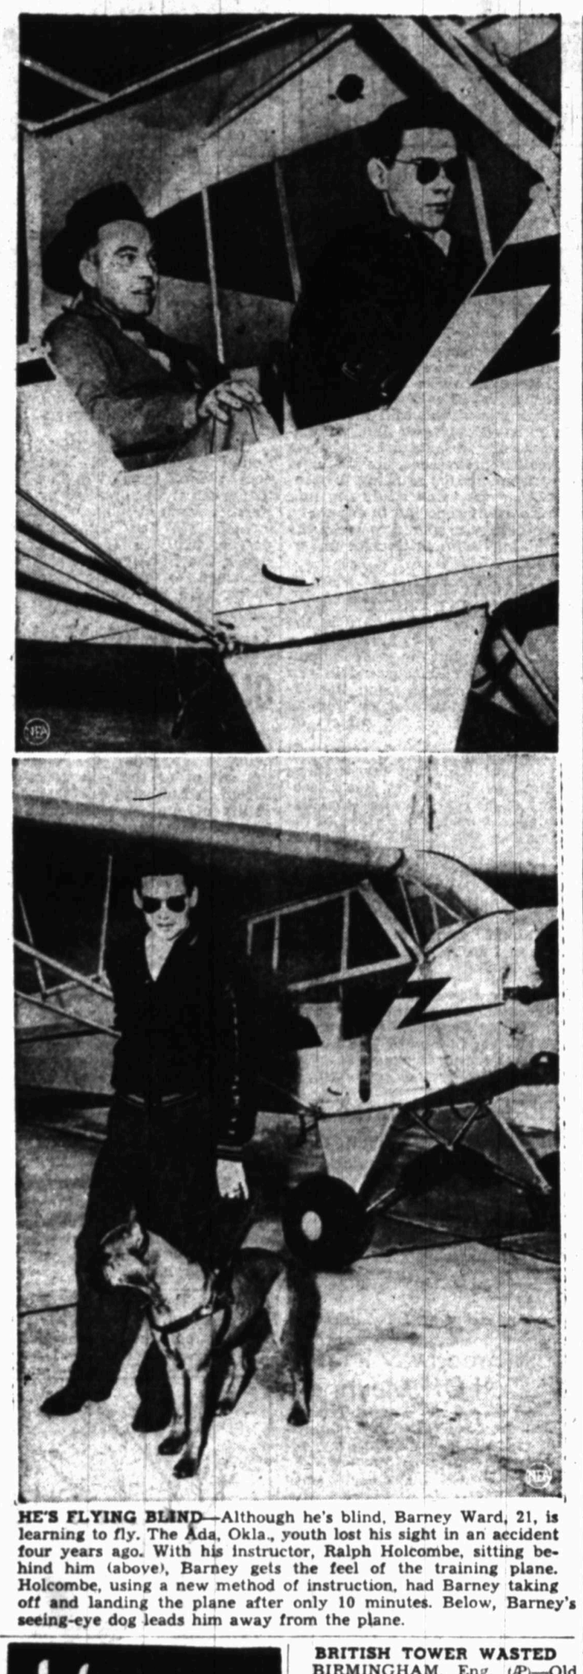

The Jaycees issued some 250 tax receipts at the Jaycee luncheon Monday and the Lions club meeting Tuesday, Simpson said but the campaign is still lagging far behind the 1949 pace. On Jan. 25 of last year, Simpson pointed out, approximately 18,000 persons had paid the poll tax.

He urged all qualified voters to pay the tax before the Jan. 31 deadline.

BRITISH TOWER WASTED

BIRMINGHAM, Eng. (AP)—Old and inefficient electrical appliances are wasting a lot of Britain's inadequate power supplies, I. A. R. Stedeford, Chairman of Tube Investments Limited, told a company meeting here.

"A tremendous amount of such equipment, including a million electric cookers, has been in service now for 10 or 15 years and by present standards is very inefficient and uneconomical, both in electricity consumption and maintenance and replacements," he said.

Fort Worth Okays Issuance Of Bonds

FORT WORTH, Jan. 26 (AP) — By a margin of about two to one, Fort Worth voters yesterday approved issuance of $18,000,000 in water and sewer improvement bonds.

The vote: for $12,400,000 water bonds, 3,062; against, 1,586; for $5,600,000 sewer bonds, 2,806 against, 1,479.

The bonds will be retired from revenue rather than taxes.

COTTON MOVES NORTH

MOSCOW. (AP)—The northern march of Soviet cotton fields has begun again. During the war German destruction undid much important work which had been done by Soviet agronomists on the growing of cotton in the Ukraine—farther north in the USSR than it had ever before been cultivated. The Armenian paper "Kommunist" now reports that many collective farms in the south Ukraine are resuming cotton growing and expect in the near future to expand acreage in the republic to a figure higher than that of the prewar period.

Mary Haworth's Mail...

Psychology Student At University Says He Thinks Column Over Head Of Common Man

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I am a student in psychology at the university, and I have been following your column with great interest for several years. Now I am writing to offer constructive criticism—not of your replies, but of your usage of language.

I repeat and emphasize that I am not questioning the substance of your replies. You have been giving some wonderful advice, but can the majority of your readers fully grasp its meaning?

You may be pleased to know that professors and students of psychology here endorse your slant about 95 percent of the time. But even so, they feel as I do, that your language is above the average level, and is keyed to a higher plane of thinking than the common man can understand.

At times our psychology group is obliged to study some of your paragraphs very carefully, to get the exact meaning; and this being so, what can the ordinary person get from your replies, if he hasn't finished grade school or high school? I believe you will agree that the common man has a very hard time thinking in abstract terms. Even persons of above - normal intelligence sometimes find it difficult.

THINKS OUR STYLE SEEMS UNINHIBITED

THUS I will wager that some of your audience, perhaps more than you realize, get halfway through your articles and then give up; or perhaps read all the way through and at the end haven't "got" what you were trying to say. Or, worse yet, a person seeking advice may misinterpret your reply and come up with the "wrong answer."

In trying to figure out why you write as you do, certain thoughts occur to me. Perhaps you have built up an extensive vocabulary, due to wide association, constant reading and long experience in your field, and use it instinctively, without inhibitions, when writing. Or perhaps you were forced to adopt your particular style, due to limited spaceallocated your column.

Of course I am aware that many psychological concepts can't be translated into simple words without "crippling" the meaning; but I hope you will consider by criticism, and I would appreciate your views in the matter.

(Signed) V. F.

WE THINK BETTER OF COMMON MAN

DEAR V. F.: First pluck the beam from thine eye, son. I've spent three hours condensing your critique to one-fourth its original length, puncing your points and keping them all. Quite a chore, but a typical sample of my daily effort to reduce ideas to simplest language.

As for the campus theory that my writings are over the heads of average readers, I've heard it before, from other sources; but the bulk of my mail refutes it. The average reader, bless his (or her) heart, seems to know very well what I'm getting at; and testifies most cordinally to a "meeting of minds" when he, or she, has had some experience with the particular problem discussed.

Life experience, not academic drilling, is the key to understanding; and watchful interest in helpful viewpoints, plus willingness to use one's head for purposes of self-improvement, are the chief requirements for learning. In general, I write to an adult audience considerably schooled in adversity, and thereby prepared to grasp my "thinking" with instinctive understanding.

SPECIALIST REBUTS OUR STUDENT CRITIC

ALWAYS my efforts are in the direction of phrasing ideas more simply; but the reader's opinion of how well I succeed in this depends, of course, upon the extent of his knowledge or "human understanding" of the subject on which I speak.

For example, you, a tenderfoot student of life, find my writings "tough going" at times. But a specialist of 35 years' professional experience, a long-time Fellow of the American Psychiatric Association, writes me as follows' "You are taking dynamic psychiatry to the public in non-technical terms, which psycho-analysts have failed to do, and are therefore performing an invaluable service to the public." And so I leave that thought with you.—M. H.

Mary Haworth counsels through he rcolumn, not by mail or personal interview. Write her in care of The Lubbock Evening Journal.

Damage To Airplane Alleged In Lawsuit

A damages judgment totaling $8,100 was asked in a suit filed in 99th district court Tuesday afternoon against Don E. Ingle and others by Tobe Foster.

Foster said his Beechcraft model D18S airplane was damaged $6,000 and that he was deprived of rental of it, at the rate of $100 a day for three weeks, as a result of its alleged damaging Sept. 26 when another plane struck it at Municipal airport.

Named as defendants were Ingle, of Hale county; Roy W. Neal, jr., and Winston Reeves, and the Wes-Tex aircraft, a partnership. The partnership was described to be between Neal and Reeves, both of Lubbock.

The petition said that Ingle rented a Piper Cub, light tandem plane, from Wes-Tex and that when it was cranked by R. S. Keeton, when in scope of employment by Wes-Tex, it made a 180-degree turn to the right and struck the Beechcraft, which was described to have been left by Foster with Wes-Tex.

Survey Being Made Of Living Conditions

A survey, endorsed by the City-County Welfare association, was being made today to determine the extent of the emergency reported in Lubbock, due to the inability of outdoor workers to obtain employment since inclement weather set in.

Volunteer workers from the American Red Cross home service department, Rev. Claude E. Canterbury, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church and representatives from the Woman's auxiliary and catechists from St. Joseph's Catholic church were in the group that called at homes in the Mexican quarter and elsewhere.

The workers were briefed at the Red Cross office by Mrs. L. B. Holly and left from there for their unannounced visits. They checked on the food situation, lists of illness, fuel scarcity and urgent needs reported to the City-County Welfare office.

Diamond Merchant Not Really Big Dope Like Trio Thought

NEW YORK, Jan(AP) 26 (U.P.)—In response to a telephone call, Jack Jucker, 24, a diamond merchant, took $3,000 worth of jewels to a hotel room for display and possible sale.

When he entered the room three men grabbed him. One held a gun on him while the others took the diamonds.

"What a dope," said one of the men. "You should have known that call was a phony."

At that moment two detectives waiting in the hall outside called for the bandits to surrender. They did.

Scores Snowbound At Resorts As Blizzard Lashes California

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 26. (AP)—A blizzard lashed Southern California's mountains and desert today, marooning scores of persons at winter resorts and intensifying the threat of starvation to thousands of range cattle.

The latest storm brought freezing temperatures to the coastal lowlands and their citrus orchards.

The weather bureau forecast another cold spell tonight, with continued snow at higher elevations.

High Winds Reported

The state highway patrol reported many people snowbound at Big Pines in the Sierra Madres and Big Bear in the San Bernardino mountains because their cars have no chains.

The major highway to Lake Arrowhead and Big Bear is closed, the patrol said, but autos with chains can reach the resorts on a minor road via Victorville on the Mojave desert.

Sixty to 70-mile-an-hour gusts accompanied the snow in the mountains, where depths ranged up to 102 inches. A snow blanket two to three feet deep lay on the Mojave desert.

Sheriff's Capt. Hal Oxnevad of San Bernardino county reported the closing of highway 95 north and south of Needles on the Colorado river. He said that in the rugged New York mountains, 50 miles north of Needles, range drifts were as high as 12 feet. He feared cattle losses would be heavy.

Tito Rosales, 50, an Indian, was found frozen to death in the Cleveland National forest east of San Diego.

Extending to Arizona, the blizzard forced the closing last night of highway 66, main east-west route, at Kingman.

In the Las Vegas, Nev., area, many tourists were stranded. All plane flights out of that city were cancelled and trains were running three to four hours late.

Las Vegas schools were closed for the duration of the storm. So were those in California's Big Bear area.

WARS CHANGE THE HOUSEKEEPERS

Women Saddle-Shooting Men, Study Of Occupations Shows

By ARTHUR EDSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26—Hang on to that job, man. The women are after it.

After it? They may already have it.

A government report, "women's occupations through seven decades," by Janet M. Hooks of the women's bureau, came out today.

It shows that the ladies—bless their bulgy muscles and baggy coveralls—have taken over almost every job conceivable.

Once women chiefly did teaching, nursing, housemaiding.

Many In Liquor Business

But by 1940 there were 217 women sailors or deckhands, 131 grade crossing watchers or bridge tenders, 272 blacksmiths, forgemen or hammermen, 1,225 managers or owners of liquor stores, 1,597 newspaper boys (or newspaper girls), 506 masons or tile setters, 96 loom fixers, 1,717 paperhangers, 128 roofers.

And so on and on.

Each of these jobs had a numerical increase over 1930.

The case of the woman veterinarian shows what has happened. In 1910—would you believe it?—we got by without any lady veterinarians. By 1920, we had one, and from then on it was Katy bar the barn door.

Eleven by 1930, and 99 by 1940. Sure, there were some decreases.

Only 4,606 women called themselves authors in 1940. In 1930, there were 5,393. Women dentists fell off, too, from 1,338 to 1,067. So did the number of telephone operators, thanks to improvements. (The improvements were in the telephone business, not in the women).

Keep Out Of War

But in general the march of the woman worker has been steady, and stuffy characters who resent it can take this advice: keep the nation out of war.

The Civil war boosted women's role in teaching and nursing.

World War I lured her into the factory. World War II reveted her there. She became a welder, a lathe operator, a blast furnace topman.

Yet, Miss Hooks says, there remain handicaps.

Most employers won't hire a woman to boss a group of men. Nor is there much demand for the traveling saleswoman, thereby preserving that great American institution, the joke about the salesman and the farmer's daughter.

Railroads have been tough, too. Miss Hooks looked and looked, but couldn't find a single female locomotive engineer or fireman.

Lubbock Physician Discusses Polio At Exchange Club Meet

The "March of Dimes" is making possible research which may some day solve the mystery now surrounding infantile paralysis, Dr. Martin H. Benson, physician at West Texas hospital, told members of the Exchange club at their weekly luncheon in Hotel Lubbock today.

At present, the exact cause of the disease is unknown, Dr. Benson said, but research into possible causes and means of prevention of polio is constantly underway, financed largely by "March of Dimes" contributions.

Typical Case Cited

Dr. Benson, commending the club on its sponsorship of the current Dimes campaign, cited a typical polio "case history," outlining the symptoms as the disease gradually seizes a victim. He also spoke briefly on methods of treating afflicted persons, pointing out the heavy expense usually involved.

"These cases do not last weeks—but usually months, and often years," he said in remarking on the inability of an average-income family to afford the necessary treatment.

Speaker Introduced

Dr. Benson was introduced by an Exchange club member, Dr. Lee Hale.

Sale of tickets for the three Lubbock President's Balls to be held Monday night was briefly discussed, and arrangements for handling crowds at the dances made.

Charles Cathey presided at the luncheon, at which two guests, Marvin McLarty and Clark Kimmel, were introduced.

Webb Expected To Be Okayed

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26 (AP) — The Senate is expected to give a thumping vote of confidence tomorrow to James E. Webb as under secretary of state.

Senator Connally (D-Texas), chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee, will place Webb's nomination before the Senate. No opposition is expected from either Republicans or Democrats.

Committee Approves

Webb will take his place alongside the new Secretary of State, Dean Acheson. Webb won approval yesterday of the foreign relations committee. The group voted 11 to 0 to recommend his appointment. The vote undoubtedly would have been 13 to 0 except that Senators Tydings (D-Md) and Fulbright (D-Ark) were absent.

Webb, a North Carolinian, disclosed to the committee that he had not sought the appointment. He formerly was director of the budget.

Connally said Webb realizes fully his duty will be to carry out policies decided upon by Mr. Truman.

"He said if he found he could not do this, then he would resign," Connally added.

Busy Days Ahead

The foreign relations committee, having disposed of the Webb nomination, still has busy days ahead.

The committee is due to open hearings February 8 on an economic Cooperation administration request for more billions to prop up Europe's economy. The European recovery funds voted by the last Congress will run out about March 31.

ECA is expected to ask about $1,250,000,000 to carry the program through April, May and June. Then about $4,347,000,000 probably will be asked for the next fiscal year beginning July 1.

Ex-Official Says In 1944 War Between Reds, Britain Feared

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26 (AP)—A former high government official reported today that before the end of World War II there were some fears in the State department that another war might develop—in a conflict between Russia and Great Britain.

Charles P. Taft, brother of Senator Taft (R-Ohio) and director of of the State department's wartime economic affairs, told the story to newsmen.

In his State department experience, he said, he never saw any evidence to justify a statement that Dean Acheson, now secretary of state, favored the "soft" policy toward Russia. Acheson in 1944 was assistant secretary.

Taft said that in 1944 A. A. Berle, then an assistant state secretary, submitted a paper to the department's policy committee saying there might be danger of a new war in the Middle East, in a possible conflict between Russia and Great Britain.

Berle said then, Taft related, that the proper position for the United States was as mediator to head off such a conflict.

Agencies Seek Old Clothing For Needy

A new appeal for donations of old clothing, quilts, blankets and the like was issued this morning by the city's welfare agencies.

Persons who can spare old clothing were asked to bring it by the City-County Welfare agency offices, 1411 Thirteenth, or the Salvation Army headquarters, 1112

Welfare agencies this morning reported heaviest demands in recent months on their resources as many persons entered their third week of weather-enforced unemployment.

Gerald E. Jarvis, director of the city health department, said the need for clothing to distribute among needy families is acute.

Request For Zoning Change Received Here

Only one request for the City Planning commission to consider a zoning change had been received Tuesday noon, said C. J. Griggs of the city engineers department, ex-officio secretary of the body.

R. C. Hopping has requested change of property on the northwest corner at Fourth and Ave. Q from C to F zone in order that he may build a gasoline station there.

Tuesday noon was the deadline for applications to be considered at the next planning commission meeting at 7:30 o'clock the night of Thursday, Feb 3.

Search For Men On Shrimp Trawler Ends

FREEPORT, Jan. 26 (AP) — The Coast Guard last night abandoned its search for two men whose small gulf shrimp trawler burned and sank six and one-half miles east of here Monday.

Aboard the craft, the Walda L, were James W. Wright of Houston, the owner, and a deckhand, William Earl Johnson, Memphis, Tenn.

The Coast Guard said they were presumably killed or blown overboard by the blast, which was followed by a fire.

Presbyterian Men's Club Names Officers

Verne Waldron was elected president of the Westminster Presbyterian church's Men's club at the initial meeting of the organization Tuesday night in the Boy Scout building at 2109 Avenue X.

Others elected to office at the same time were Dick Matthews, vice president; Jack Blankenship, secretary; and Earl Scudday, sr., treasurer. A nominating committee appointed by Rev. David L. Zacharias, pastor of the Westminster church, submitted the four names and they were approved by unanimous vote.

The meeting followed a barbecue dinner served by a committee of men from the club. Mr. Zacharias conducted a brief discussion, during which he pointed out that the nucleus of the church originally had been laymen, carpenters, mechanics, plumbers, and others.

Mr. Zacharias went on to point out that the laymen had grown away from the principal activities of the church for a while, but that there was an increasingly large move toward the men returning to positions of importance in the church. He then suggested that the Westminster church organize a club of men, to meet at stated intervals apart from Sunday services.

The club agreed to meet once a month and the consensus was that Tuesday or Thursday nights were the best for everyone. Notices of the next meeting will be mailed.

Priest Sees Many Enemies At Capital

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 26 (AP) — There are more "actual and potential" enemies in Washington, D. C., than could enter the United Staetes through Alaska, says the Rev. Father Bernard R. Hubbard, the famed "glacier priest."

"We're terribly and woefully weak in Washington," Father Hubbard said yesterday at a news conference prior to a speaking engagement. "There's too much liberalism there in a disguise for leftism."

"Alaska is in the middle, all right," he said. "It is our nearest approach to both the Soviet republics and the countries behind the iron curtain. But I look on Alaska as utterly an offensive base. It should be built up. There is a need for more housing and equipment."

Church Will Conduct Bi-Lingual Services

Services in English and Czech of the Czech-Moravian Brethren church will be conducted in the chapel of the First Methodist church, Broadway and Ave. M, Sunday at 11 a. m. and 2 p. m., Rev. Josef A. Barton, minister from Bellville, has announced.

Members of the church from Lubbock, Slaton, Levelland, Littlefield and Anton have been meeting in the vicinity of Anton for a number of years but will meet here in the future, Rev. Barton announced.

Regular order of services will be observed with English services at the 11 o'clock hour. Sunday the pastor will incorporate into his sermon a report on the biennial meeting of the Federal Council of Churches held at Cincinnati. Rev. Barton is on the executive commitee of that organization of the Protestant churches of America as a representative of the Czech-Moravian Brethren.

The Lord's Supper will be observed in Czech at 2 p. m. services. The long - established custom of all present joining in a basket lunch at the noon hour will be continued with the use of the dining room facilities at the local church, Rev. Barton said.

Fat Is Not a Nice Word When Applied to the Body

Don't say it's your thyroid while reaching for the box of chocolates. Possibly one bulgy person in 100 has some glandular disturbance and that is truly a case for a physician. Never take any treatment for a gland condition without your doctor's advice. But for the other 99 per cent who are trying to fight the "Battle of the Bulges" common sense is the watchword. It is not necessary to overeat and it is not necessary to go hungry, either. Furthermore, it just doesn't make sense to go on a strenuous diet—take off weight and then quickly put it back on again when the diet period is over. For it is obvious that one cannot continue a starvation diet over a protracted period. Within the last year or so, several diet and vitamin "plans" have appeared on the market, which means cut down on the food intake and fortify with vitamins for hunger distress. But as mentioned above, you can't keep this up very long and when you quit — back comes the fat.

An exhaustive survey recently made among Texas druggists showed one outstanding reducing aid is not based on the diet and vitamin "plan." It allows you to eat plenty. You eat all you want but you eat LESS. Sounds like double talk, but it isn't. It definitely stops you from eating more than necessary for the energy you spend. At the same time, it dehydrates and eliminates.

Nearly one and a half million bottles of this preparation, called Barcentrate has been sold in Texas in the past four years.

You can get a four-ounce bottle of Barcentrate from any Texas druggist. Mix with 12 ounces of canned grapefruit juice and take just two tablespoonsful twice a day.

If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose that ugly fat, the makers agree to refund your money.

Help For Backward Countries Is Hardly In Planning Stage

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—President Truman's "bold, new plan" for helping backward countries is still vague and shadowy.

True, there is plenty of talk here about it. And government officials have been asked about it. They're vague, too.

The reason:

The "bold, new plan" President Truman mentioned in his inaugural address doesn't exist in detail.

Now it's up to his lieutenants in the government to draw up such a plan.

Marshall Plan Example

This may seem startling: The President confidently mentions a plan which hasn't been worked out.

But, if you remember, that's just the way the Marshall plan for helping Europe started more than a year and a half ago.

Then Secretary of State Marshall made a talk at Harvard June 5, 1947.

In it he suggested vaguely that if the European countries wanted further American help they should figure out a program for getting it.

It was as simple, and loose as that. To be sure of that, I looked up a piece I wrote on Marshall's talk four days after he made it. And in it I wrote:

"Has anyone in the State department figured out exactly how this European get-together program can be set up?

"This writer inquired at the State department but could get no 'yes' answer. So at this moment Marshall's proposal seems a pretty vague thing.

Many Months Required

"It didn't spring suddenly out of his head. There's been talk here for weeks that some organized relief and reconstruction plan for Europe is needed."

And, it seems, Mr. Truman's "bold, new plan" didn't spring suddenly out of his head.

In the first place, his inaugural speech was carefully written. And there's been talk here of doing something to help develop countries that need development.

But Europe took Marshall at his word and very shortly after his speech 16 European countries met at Paris to work out the Marshall plan.

Those countries and this government labored at the problem for months and it wasn't until well into 1948 that Congress finally approved it and voted the money to give American help.

Whatever comes of Mr. Truman's "plan" is sure to take many months of work, too.

There's a chance that the "plan" may never be worked out or, if it is, that Congress won't approve.

That would put Mr. Truman on a spot: of talking to the world about a "plan" that never really became a plan at all.

If all this seems strange it's because history is the story of men trying to build a road . . . or a road-block.

Sometimes they'll try one, sometimes the other. They'll shift, and change, and improvise to fit a purpose or solve a problem.

Since this country doesn't have any long-range, world-wide plan for stopping Communism, sometimes it has to play by ear and do what it thinks necessary at any given time.

And although the Russian Communists have a long range plan —or hope—for making the world Communist, they, too, shift their strategy. They'll try this, that, or what they can to win in the end.

Joseph Stalin had made it clear that the main goal of Communism never changes but it's strategy changes to fit new problems.

And a democracy is in the same spot: improvising, changing, trying to drum up something that will work.

Ralph S. Damon New Airlines President

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 26 (AP)—The new president of Trans-World Airlines is 51-year-old Ralph S. Damon who has spent more than half his life in aviation.

The TWA board of directors named Damon yesterday. He was president of American Airlines until his resignation a few days ago.

Damon, who also was elected a TWA director, said he planned no major shakeup in personnel. The airline has been without a president since La Motte T. Cohu resigned a year ago. Howard Hughes, a major stockholder, recommended Damon.

Damon first came in contact with aviation while in the Army in the first world war.

Soap Box Society Of Chicago To Give Hero Worthy Funeral

CHICAGO, Jan. 26 (AP)—Soap box society in the Bughouse Square neighborhood scrimped and scratched to give the "cosmic kid" a worthy sendoff.

The kid, who died Saturday night, was for about 15 years a stellar open air orator in the near North Side square known for its corps of free and easy lecturers.

Little Man's Socrates

Few knew his real name, which was Hubert William Shaw, nor his age, 76. But most who have heard him learned first hand that the kid had a varied and colorful past. "I was a British soldier," he once said. 'I left my home in Sheffield (England) and saw the world at the expense of the crown. I fought in the Boer war, and I was in on the capture of Khartoum. And now I'h a philosopher —the little man's Socrates."

Shaw, who worked as a messenger, was a member of the Chicago Drudicial society. That group, headed by the kid's pal and fellow orator, Jack Sheridan, staged his wake last night.

Emory E. Hayes, another Druid was orator at the kid's wake.

Peer At Argument

Hayes said "it's easy to appreciate the kid as a philosopher and show that his life wasn't misspent. He was a peer at argument. He didn't get excited or talk a lot of nonsense. When he opened his mouth, wisdom came out.' '

Hayes said the funeral today will be a "Druidical ceremony."

"As arch Druid, Sheridan will commit the kid's body to the elements from which it came," Hayes said. "We may have a cortege through the square with burning pine torches, but that depends—the weather might be bad, or maybe we can't get a permit from the police."

Hayes said the funeral will be paid for by the kid's friends. "Everybody's kicking in. The kid didn't leave anything, and nobody's got much, but we've got about a hundred dollars collected," he said.

Ornery Camel Gives Babe Cold Shoulder

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 26 (AP) — Hal, the ornery camel of Griffith Park zoo, has made it very plain, indeed, that he is not a ladies' man.

Zoo officials, deciding that Hal was lonely and that maybe they could raise some little two-humpers to trade with other zoos, got him a camel girl friend. They paid $1,500 to an animal farm for her.

They introduced her to Hal yesterday. But would Hal give her a tumble? No sir! He not only gave her the cold shoulder, or hump, but he ran away from her.

She chased him, in fact, all over his fenced yard. And Hal, stupid fellow, cowered in a corner with a look that said "get this babe out of here!"

Zoo attendants disgustedly shook their heads, but hoped her feminine charms eventually would conquer his girl-shyness.

Cowboys End Game With Only Three Men; They Lose, 64-63

BROWNWOOD, Jan. 26 (AP)—Hardin-Simmons had only three men on the floor at the end of last night's basketball game with Howard Payne, which Howard Payne won 64-63 in an overtime period.

Hardin-Simmons was reduced to three men in the final minutes of the overtime period because so many of its players were disqualified by fouls.

Freshman Leme Jones' basket in the extra period gave the game to Howard Payne. Herman Moore, Howard Payne, reaped scoring honors with 18 points while Hardin-Simmons' Jay Cox was next wit h17.

Double Feature At Tech Gym Is Slated

A doubleheader basketball game has been arranged for Friday night in Tech gym, when townspeople will have another opportunity for a look at the Red Raiders, the Tech freshmen entertain the Fish from Hardin-Simmons university.

In addition, there will be a crucial Border Conference tilt between the Cowboys and the Red Raiders following the game between the two first-year squads. Coach Polk Robison said that the freshman game would open the night's play at 6:30 and the varsity game is expected to start about 8:15 p. m.

The public will be admitted to the game with tickets selling for $1 each. The college is officially in recess between semesters at this time and there should be plenty of seats for persons wishing to see the Raiders in action.

Tech Has Fine Quint

The Raider freshman quintet is being called one of the finest in Tech history, with several outstanding high school players in tow. The original squad of over 100 candidates for the squad has been pared down to a group of 15 and they are considered excellent replacements on next year's varsity.

Leading the group is Jack Alderson of Lubbock, former Westerner football, basketball and baseball star. Alderson didn't go out for football last fall, but could not resist the call of the court. He is a sure ball handler, a good shot and maneuvers well on the floor.

Another kingpin in the Fish attack is Irv Brown of Katonah, N. Y. The gangling freshman plays center and has shown great promise already. The Raider Fish attack is centered on his pivot work and he has been turning in a good job.

The Raider-Cowboy game is seen as a good duel between two of the better teams in the Border Conference. The Cowboys currently enjoy the high altitude of third place on four triumphs and two defeats. One of their losses came at the hands of Arizona in Tucson, but not before the Wildcats were given a stiff battle.

Martin Sparks Cowboys

Jack Martin, coach this year after completing his under-graduate work at H-SU, has put new life into the Cowboys. And Slats Stagner of Tyler has been the leading force. He is the top Cowboy scorer and has been setting a fast pace.

Assisting Stagner and always threats are such lettermen as Bill Braselton, Glen Burroughs, Pete Golson, Harry Low, Norman Pinson, Larry Wartes and Wayne Preston. New candidates this year are Mort Edelstein, John and Lou Turlo, Clifton Gardner, Jay Cox, Rives Smith and Sim Qualls.

Weather Hits 1-AA Schedule

Icy roads and dangerous driving conditions Tuesday night forced postponement of two scheduled District 1-AA basketball clashes, Amarillo at Borger and Plainview at Pampa, since the visiting teams were unable to make the journeys to the game sites.

The Sandie-Borger tussle was re-slated for Feb. 15, officials at Amarillo reported, but the new date for the Plainview-Harvester setto was not announced.

All of the 1-AA quints are scheduled to see action in conference games Friday night, however, if weather permits. Pampa's Harvesters, leading the title chase with an undefeated record, travel to Amarillo for an important clash, while Lubbock's runner-up Westerners invade Plainview.

Borger's Bulldogs will journey to Brownfield to round out the conference slate.

Saturday night the Westerners will play host to the Sandies at the Chapman field clubhouse, while Brownfield travels to Plainview.

The Lubbock cagers were sent through another stiff workout at the Chapman field gym Tuesday afternoon, with Coach Roy Morris stressing offensive play and strategy. The Westerners have lost five games in 20 starts this season, and every loss resulted from the failure of the Westerner offense — not from a defensive weakness. The Lubbock quint has allowed only 28 points per game in the 20 tilts, but the Westerner offense has failed to tally 30 points in six games.

The Lubbock schoolboys lost to Pampa by a 32-22 margin in conference play; were edged out by Lamesa, 22-20, in a non-district setto; and were defeated by Abilene in a non-conference game last weekend, 30-25. In each case it was the offense that was at fault—not the Westerner defense.

The Westerners showed improvement on play patterns in the Tuesday afternoon drill, although regular Forward Jimmy Sexton still could not take part in the workout. Sexton has suited up for the last two afternoons, doing a little shooting and conditioning work, but the tall junior will be unable to take his place in the lineup before this weekend.

Wrestle Royal Is Set Tonight

The referee may raise the arm of Milt Olsen, Monte LaDue or some other wrestler to signify the winner on the mat card at Sled Allen's arena tonight, but they won't be the real victor.

Scoring the biggest triumph will be the March of Dimes, which will benefit to the extent of 10 percent of the gross, after state and federal taxes have been deducted. Allen agreed to the proposal of the Exchange club and the two will be working toward a capacity crowd to help lick the dreaded disease.

No Advince In Price

The grapple card, which features a wrestle royal to start the progrom, should be well worth the fans going to see. There is no advance in price, but the March of Dimes will gain from a good crowd and the crowd will get its money's worth in two ways.

It should be worth the price of admission to see six wrestlers and a referee in the ring at the same time. They will meet to see who will get the choice spots on the card. The first two men out will watch the remainder of the proceedings, while the next to last pair will return to wrestle the semi-final. The two remaining gents grapple in the main go.

Olsen and Weber will be two of the principals in the ring, while the others will be Bill Parks, Monte LaDue, Karl Gray and George Bruckman of Washington, D. C. The first five men named are well known to Lubbock and South Plains fans, but Bruckman has been a stranger for many months.

Bruckman used to wrestle on this circuit, but had an opportunity to go elsewhere and has been wrestling on other circuits around the country. He also has been making a good showing and comes back with more finesse and polish than he had before.

Actually, Allen don't have to worry much about the success of this card. So long as he was able to secure Olsen and LaDue, he was certain of a successful ring show. These two have about as much love for each other as a pair of feuding rattlesnakes.

Olsen threw LaDue a couple of times soon after the Canadian made his appearance here, but the shoe has been on the other foot of late. To cap it all, LaDue snatched Olsen's twice-won Texas Junior Heavyweight wrestling crown away from him, leaving him as barren as a leafless tree in a storm.

Anything Can Happen

With these two battlers in the ring, anything can and will happen. They should make the wrestle royal a great show.

Parks, Weber and Gray all are on the clean side and will have their hands full remaining in the ring for a shot at the money. They are able grapplers, though, and will make it a good bout to open the night.

Tickets will be on sale from 9 a. m. until 5 p. m. at Wylie's Drug store and also can be obtained at the arena. The royal is slated to start at 8 p. m.

Hamline Cage Squad Takes 14th Victory

NEW YORK, Jan. 26 (AP)—Hamline's undefeated basketball team made it 14 in a row last night.

One of the country's four major unbeaten collegiate quintets, Hamline downed its arch rival, St. Thomas of St. Paul, 52-49.

The other three select teams, Western Kentucky, Minnesota and Villanova, did not play.

There was not much action throughout the nation.

Northwestern, of the Western conference, trampled Marquette, 70 to 38, as Sophomore Ray Ragelis pumped in 27 points.

The touring Texas Wesleyan team rolled over Hartwick, 74 to 44, at Oneonta, N. Y. while Southwestern of Kansas rallied in the closing minutes to nip Tulsa, 54-53.

Tyler Defeats Paris In Conference Clash

PARIS, Jan. 26. (AP)—Tyler junior college easily defeated the Paris Dragons 73-58 last night in a Southwestern Junior College conference basketball game.

Scoring honors went to Paris' Johnny Taylor, with 16 points. Richardson was high for Tyler with 13.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

by Hugh S. Fullerton, jr.

HAZLETON, Pa., Jan. 26 (AP)—George Munger, the Penn coach who was here for a high school football banquet the other night, insisted that Penn will be glad to play Penn State annually . . . The catch is that the Quakers want it to be their opening game every season while the boys from up in the mountains figure such a tussle should come in the "big game" period in November . . . Few sports fans hereabouts can get excited over an intra-state football rivalry while the local high school basketball team goes on winning . . . They're too busy figuring out how to get to Philadelphia for the playoff games and wishing they had a gym big enough to stage them here. The last time Hazleton won the state cage title thousands of fans made the long trip to Philly.

Red and Blue Blues

Munger, whose Penn team lost its last three games after a good start last season, still is wondering what sort of love potion Herman Hickman fed Yale's old blues . . . "He can lose games, yet all they talk about is his lack of material and how he gets the most out of what he has," George mused. "Sometimes I really envy the big lug."

Judge Sammy Weiss, whose sideline is pro football officiating, figures the National Football league made "a big mistake" when it failed to make peace with the All America conference . . . Sammy may be declared offside for that statement, but he thinks the current inflated salaries not only hurt the clubs but are harmful to the kids who collect them. It's an awful comedown for a boy who had a couple of $20,000 football seasons to find he has to go to work for an ordinary salary . . . Incidentally, Columbia Lou Kusserow of Glassport, Pa., not only signed with Brooklyn for $40,000 for two seasons but his contract specifies he can't be traded out of New York City . . . Fritzie Zivic, who has been making comeback gestures lately, claims he has "retired in the United States." That doesn't include Georgia, Fritzie adds.

End Of Detour

Le Handley, former Pirates infielder, is doing right well as basketball broadcaster this winter. Another basketball announcer is Stan Musial, who used to like to play the game better than baseball . . . Guys who saw Stan play claim he went down the floor like Country Slaughter running bases and anyone who got in his way was liable to be carried through the gym wall . . . A new type of golf scorecard being introduced at some Florida courses has a detailed map of each hole. It's just as easy to tear up as the old ones if you slice into that bunch of dots that indicate woods . . . Bob Williams, ho'll be Frank Tripucka's successor as Notre Dame quarterback, wants to become a sports writer. Do you suppose he thinks those Monday morning quarterbacks only have to work on Monday?

Rice Grid Coach May Take Vanderbilt Job

HOUSTON, Jan. 23 (U.P.)—Coach Jess Neely, director of Rice institute's football fortunes since 1940, was in Nashville, Tenn., today at the announced invitation of Vanderbilt university.

The purpose of Neely's visit was to talk to the school's athletic committee about a coaching job, which was left open last week when Henry (Red) Sanders left Vandy to take over the reins at UCLA.

Neely graduated from the Tennessee school in 1924, and played football under the late Dan McGugin. He came to Rice from Clemson, and formerly was an assist at Vanderbilt.

John Derry, in a jet-propelled plane, recently made a record non-stop flight from a Hetfield, England, to Rome, Italy, 916 miles, in 2 hours, 50 minutes, 40 seconds.

Gloves Entries Growing Daily

If the regional Golden Gloves tournament Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday is able to be completed in three days, it will be a miracle and each day tends to confirm the suspicion that a fourth night will have to be added.

Yesterday's mail and telephone calls brought in the names of 10 more Gloves prospects, four in the novice class and six in the open division. The continued deluge helped to swell the total number of entries to over 125 and the top has not been reached yet. In fact, Gene James, the defending heavyweight champion, hasn't sent in his entry blank yet.

Three More Added

Coach Melvin Simmons of Olton High school added three more novies to the fight card yesterday, bringing that division up to and past the open in number of entries. The three boys coming in from Olton yesterday were Joe Hall at 106 pounds, and Max LaDuke and Bob McClure, a pair of 118-pound men.

Those three boys are part of a group working out twice daily under Coach Simmons in the Olton High school gym. The other boys, who were entered last week by Coach Simmons, are James Adair, 117 pounds; Jack Lee, 127 pounds; Bob Gullett, 128 pounds; Billy Mayfield, 130 pounds; Hook Nichols, 143 pounds; Jim Lee, brother of Jack, 143 pounds; and Alton Cannon, 155 pounds.

Yesterday a brace of Lamesa fighters in the light heavyweight division entered the regional tourney. And strangely enough, they are brothers, one going into the open division and the other going into the novice. Aarod D. Beck is a 24-year old puncher with five years of fighting. During that time he fought 28 bouts and has appeared on the Big Spring Golden Gloves card.

His brother, Gene Beck, is an 18-year old fighter with no previous experience, but the 170-pounder has been working with his brother and believes he is ready.

Fighters Are Experienced

O. C. Foster of Foster's Gym, 2417 Main street, where all prospective Golden Gloves may workout without charge from 6:30 until 9 p. m. each night, called in the names of five boys who are entering. Entry slips have not yet been received yet, but Foster said that all of the fighters were experienced.

Reserved seat tickets, of course, have been sold out for a week, but plenty of general admission stubs remain available. They are on sale at the Tech gym and may be obtained during the hours of 9 a. m. and 4 p. m.

Doors probably will be opened an hour before the fights for general admission ticket holders, with seats going on a first come first served basis.

And boys wishing to enter the Golden Gloves here still have until 5 p. m. Monday to submit entry blanks.

More Than 500 Army Baseball Teams Seen

WICHITA, Kan., Jan. 26 (U.P.)—Ray Dumont, president of the National Baseball Congress, today predicted more than 500 army teams would be certified in the 48-state tournament in 1949 as a result of the draft.

"The effect of the draft," Dumont said, "has been to stimulate more baseball playing."

Yale and Columbia have met 26 times on the gridiron since their first encounter in 1872.

Hogan Licks Demaret By Two Strokes In Long Beach Play

LUBBOCK EVENING JOURNAL

PAGE EIGHT. LUBBOCK, TEX., WEDNESDAY, JAN. 26, 1949

LONG BEACH, Calif., Jan. 26 (AP)—Golfer Jimmy Demaret has his own idea about Ben Hogan's "new" putting style.

Beaten by Hogan two strokes in the playoff yesterday for $2,000 top money in the Long Beach open tournament, Demaret confided: "The only thing different about Hogan's putting is that he's getting humpbacked picking up those 10-foot putts out of the can."

It was a 20-foot putt on the thirteenth, coupled with an earlier two-footer that Jimmy missed, which had a lot to do with Hogan's four-under par 34-33—67 victory in the playoff.

Demaret shot a 35-34—69 for the par 35-36—71 Lakewood Country club course. But he hardly bothered to line up the measly two-foot putt on the tighth green and missed it.

Put Hogan In Lead

This put Hogan into a lead and Demaret never regained it.

Today the two are preparing to compete in the Phoenix, Ariz., open. Hogan will be using his "new" putting style—perhaps the same one Demaret referred to—but he says it isn't so different from the old Hogan touch.

"Matter of fact," he half joked, "I try 'em all. Just so they get down."

Observers during the tournament here, however, noted that Ben favors the weight on his left leg, with the ball off the point of his left shoe. And he holds the club relatively high on the stick and sits squarely instead of slightly under the ball.

Demaret undoubtedly gave the best description of the Hogan putt.

Gym Balcony Falls 15 Feet On Heads Of Fans, Players Below

RICHWOOD, W. Va., Jan. 26 (AP)—Part of a crowded gymnasium balcony crunched loose during a basketball game last night and dropped about 15 feet on other fans and players below.

Two high school players were injured seriously. Glen Drennen of the Summersville squad was hospitalized with a fractured vertebrae, and Jim Chapman of the Richwood team suffered chest and back injuries.

Richard Nicholson of Richwood remained at the hospital for observation. Six others were treated and released.

School officials estimated about 50 spectators were on the section of balcony which collapsed.

A complete investigation probably will be made today to ascertain cause of the accident.

Post And O'Donnell Chalk Up Loop Wins In Tuesday Battles

Cage competition in south District 4-T held the South Plains sports spotlight Tuesday night, as Post's Antelopes and the O'Donnell Eagles chalke up loop triumphs.

The Post quint drubbed Slaton, 36-23, with K. Kirkpatrick tallying eight points. Jerry Huckaby swished the net for seven points for Slaton. The Post girls also gained a victory over the Slaton team, 25-20.

O'Donnell Licks Tahoka

O'Donnell rolled to an impressive 45-30 win over Tahoka, as Buddy Brock hit the loop for 18 points. Duane Carter paced Tahoka with 16 points. The Tahoka "B" nosed out O'Donnell, 20-18.

In a District 7-B contest, Roosevelt High's quint nosed out Idalou, 39-36. Charles Dawson led Idalou with 18 points, while Durham topped the winners with 14 points. The Roosevelt "B" boys swamped Idalou, 27-9, and the Roosevelt girls clipped the Idalou representatives, 32-24.

One feature girls' clash was unreeled, with Cotton Center's highly-rated team shooting to a 54-37 win over New Deal. Ruth Cannon paced Cotton Center with 23 points and Marie Wales tallied 21 for New Deal.

The New Deal boys edged the Cotton Center quint, 34-29.

Bowling Results

Two four-point sweeps and a split decision featured play in the Major bowling club, as the league-leading McFarland-Maisen keglers stretched their lead to seven points with a win over runner-up Hemphill-Wells. The winners took a four-point triumph over the Hemphill-Wells crew.

Mission Orange's pin-topplers climed out of the cellar position in the league standings by taking a four-pointwin over the Hub Clothiers. Westerner Cafe broke even with Walton's store.

Ben Brown of the Westerner Cafe copped individual scoring honors for the night with a 244-683 series, while the Cafe team took group honors with a 1041 single game and a 2955 three-game total.

Other individual highs were recorded by Bill Nelms, 623; Tubby Reed, 613; Jim Buckner, 612; Harvel Burns, 609; and Jay O'Keefe, 606.

Peggy Kirk Leading Women's Golf Play

MIAMI, Jan. 26 (INS)—Favorite Peggy Kirk of Findlay, O., Tuesday paced the qualifying round of the annual Helen Lee Doherty Women's Golf Tournament in Miami with a 73, three under women's par 76.

Betty Mims White, of Dallas and Polly Riley of Fort Worth were tied for second place with 75's. The other ranking favorite, Dorothy Kirby, of Atlanta, was third with a score of 76.

Dot Kielty, of Long Beach, Cal., and Claire Doran, Lakewood, O., shared the next spot with a 77 each.

Other leaders were:

Mrs. Frank Fuller, Miami; Marjorie Lindsay, Decatur, Ill.; and Betty Mackinnon, Texarkana, Tex., all with 78's.

Bunched with 79's were Mrs. George Wilcox, Jr., Miami; Alice O'Neal of Indianapolis; Mary Lena Faulk of Thomasville, Ga., and Mrs. Maurice Glick of Baltimore.

Duke University's basketball team will play 22 contests during the 1948-49 cage season. Eleven are home games.

Tech Track Season Waits On Weather

Coach Maxey McKnight of Texas Tech will have to wait a few more days before he can get the track season underway.

The flaming-haired Red Raider mentor was all set to greet candidates Monday in Tech gym, but the weather played him a dirty trick. Instead of spring arriving, winter made a startling return.

As a result, McKnight postponed the opening drills a week, declaring that not even a red-blooded Red Raider track man could work out in such weather.

Lettermen from last year, squadmen, transfers and sophomores and others probably will report next Monday, weather permitting.

Posies to party-line telephone users

OUR THANKS to you and the thousands of others whose willingness to "share the line" has made it possible for so many of your friends and neighbors to enjoy the protection and convenience of a telephone.

Three of every four home telephones today are party lines.

Yes, party lines have "stretched" hard-to-get telephone equipment in a time of shortages and a big demand for service.

Our goal, of course, is service for everyone—the kind he wants, when and where he wants it. For the time being, though, in many neighborhoods we must continue to say:

"We can offer only party-line service to new customers. It's the fair way for everybody while we're still working to get telephones to hundreds of people who are waiting."

ANTON, Jan. 26. (Special) — Residents of this town will be startled by firing for the next four nights at the Anton High school, but it will be legitimate—and it won't be gunfire.

Instead, it will be 15 independent basketball teams going after first, second and third places in the Third Annual Anton American Legion Independent Basketball tournament. Teams will be shooting for the $75 up for the first place winner, the $50 award to the second place five and the $25 going to the third place quintet.

Teams Listed

The tournament will be conducted under single elimination rules and the championship will be played Saturday night. A game for third place will precede the title contest.

L. Hawkins Service, Texas Lumber Bin, Sanders Motor and Roughnecks, all of Lubbock.

Between The Lines. . .

By Joe Kelly

It will come as good news to a lot of people that softball will flourish again this summer in Lubbock, especially with fast softball in evidence. The Bluebonnet-Sunbeamer Laundry nine that won the Texas Softball League championship definitely will operate in that loop again. And Ralph Garrett is thinking of entering his Cloverlake Dairy nine in the same circuit. Ralph hasn't decided yet whether to try his hand at a semi-pro team, which would be in the Oil Belt League, or remain with softball.

We have an idea that he'll decide on the latter, Semi professional baseball is a precarious experiment in a city that already supports an organized baseball team, especially in a Class C loop. It can be done, but we don't believe that Lubbock is big enough for the two to be in competition. For say what you will about the semi-pros not being in competition, any time you run a counter attraction you're competing for the customer's dollar. And the customer generally will pay to see the better grade, or what he believes is the better one.

But to get back to softball again. The Texas Softball League held its annual winter meeting Sunday in San Angelo, at which time the status of the league was discussed at length and with frankness. When the firing was over, six towns definitely had indicated they would field teams and two of the towns, San Angelo and Lubbock, indicated that they might have two teams. That would make it an eight-team league, and there is considerable optimism that at least one more team might enter.

Hugh Welch, sports editor of the San Angelo Standard-Times, president of the TSL, conducted the meeting, which went off with more smoothness and polish than any other meeting of ball managers and sponsors we've ever attended. Compared to the WT-NM League meetings, the San Angelo session was sweetness and light personified. Which is far from ridicule. There were positive ideas, but they were led and channeled as directed by Hugh. The result was a fast meeting in which a great deal of interest was accomplished.

Of greatest importance — and interest—is the fact that this year the TSL will be on a state-wide basis. Clyde Fortune of Waco was present to represent one section of Texas and both the other sections sent word that they endorsed the plan. The TSL, then, will be composed of four zones represented by West Texas, Central Texas, South Texas and the Valley region. Each zone will play a regular league schedule and the winners will meet in Shaughnessy playoffs. The team winning the playoffs then will be a real, true state champion, the title now claimed by the Bluebonnet nine.

The four-zone league was proposed last year, but was sidetracked by a secretary in one of the leagues. Now it is reality. The only thing that remains is another meeting of the other three zones, after which the West Texas zone will meet to close membership. At that time, such towns as Lubbock, San Angelo, Monahans, Crane, Stamford and Coleman will definitely say that they will be members and possible applications may come from Big Spring, Odessa, Midland, Abilene and Brownwood.

During the meeting, the league also approved a plan to have a regular umpire's staff working on a rotating basis. Fred Russ, who worked a large number of the games last year, will organize an umpiring staff, giving examinations and making sure that only competent officials are approved. Such a staff, operating the same way they do in organized ball, will assure uniformity in umpiring, eliminate arguments to a large extent and place the league on a more firm foundation.

That was the main portion of the business meeting, which was carried off with dispatch and suavity. That night Hugh presided at a banquet in honor of the league's all-star team. There were more people from Lubbock present than San Angelo, or any other city, and Hugh opened the remarks by thanking Lubbock for allowing the rest of them to attend the dinner! Beautiful suede-tweed sport coats were given to the all-stars, who included Jim Joe Rieger, Willis James, Jackie Neel and Roy Butler from Lubbock.

The main thing that was in evidence was enthusiasm. Several of the sponsors and managers present evinced enough to say that they were ready to start practice Monday. Ralph Bumpass said that the Bluebonnet-Sunbeamers were ready to start the season right now, with only Jackie Neel definitely not back. It was a worthwhile meeting and assured softball fans here of seeing the same fast brand of ball they saw last year. Now all they have to do is wait for the weather to cooperate.

Split Grid Training Period Gets Approval

DALLAS, Jan. 26 (AP) — The Southwest conference has granted Baylor university's request to hold a "split" spring football training period rather than the 30-consecutive-day schedule demanded by conference regulations.

Conference Secretary James H. Stewart said that the split dates were sought because Baylor still operates its scholastic year on quarters rather than semesters and that late February examinations ordinarily interfere with best spring training dates.

Coach Bob Woodruff submitted Feb. 9-27 and March 9-19, inclusive, as the dates he wished to hold drills and those dates have been approved, Stewart said.

PREY COMES TO HUNTER

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Strange hunting stories are a dime a dozen but Joseph Granite had a new twist. Granite said he and a hunting companion were eating lunch in a suburban field when a frightened rabbit, being chased by a dog, leaped right into his pocket.

Sam Crawford of Detroit twice was the American league home run leader—in 1908 and 1914—and both times he recorded the lowest total—seven—ever needed to win the crown.

NO PROFIT THERE

SALEM, Ore. (AP) — Wayne L. Colby was fined $48 for overtime parking tickets he had failed to pay. Statisticians figured that Colby could have parked 960 hours within the law if his $48 had been put in parking meters.

The Baltimore Bullets, defending champions of the Basketball Association of America, are the oldest team in the league, averaging 28.3 years per man.

Price Speaks Out On Future For Rookies

Chances Better Than Ever To Crack Pro Baseball Leagues

By WILBUR MARTIN
Associated Press Staff Writer

There's a better chance to break into pro baseball now than ever before.

"A youngster has a better chance of sticking and going up, too," says Milton Price, president of the West Texas-New Mexico league.

Price's class C circuit is a haven for rookies. And some top notchers have come out of this plains league.

Get Sounder Coaching

"You get sounder coaching in formative stages now," Price said. "American Legion, organized sandlot play and high school baseball have made it easier for a fellow to get the fundamentals from men who really know the game.

"There are more leagues now than ever before. That means there is a better chance of getting into organized baseball. And it means you've got a better chance to go up."

Price thinks that baseball has come out of its "depression slump" in fine style.

Changes Are Noted

"There's been a great reawakening of interest in kids wanting to play pro ball," said Price. "Back 10 or 15 years ago it was a different story."

Addition of high school baseball to the Texas Interscholastic league program is going to be an even greater boon, Price thinks.

"A youngster who's playing high school, American Legion or sandlot baseball now needn't worry about someone finding him for pro baseball. There are 15 scouts today for every one 15 years ago."

Or as one veteran baseball observer put it:

"A guy who can play baseball now can go hide under the bed and find a scout with a contract waiting for him there."

Arizona Considers Coaching Job Bids

TUCSON, Ariz., Jan. 26 (AP)—The selection committee named to pick the new University of Arizona head football coach reported today about 15 applications are under consideration.

Although no official announcement was forthcoming from the group, the names of several grid mentors are being mentioned on the campus.

Among them were Bert Labruchierie, former UCLA head man, and Jack Curtice, coach of the Texas Mines eleven which finished second in the Border Conference this year.

HOUSE GROUP SLATES HEARINGS

Committee To Act On Wage-Hour Bill

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26—The administration will begin Thursday to push through its sweeping new wage-hour bill. It is aimed at bringing 5,000,000 more workers under the wage-hour law and boosting the minimum pay rate to 75 cents an hour.

The House labor committee has scheduled hearings at which Secretary of Labor Tobin and Wage-Hour Administrator William R. McComb probably will be the first witnesses.

The bill before the committee, by Chairman Lesinski (D-Mich), would take from McComb and give to Tobin the authority to administer the law.

The measure would take in approximately 5,000,000 more employes in laundries, hotels, stores and other chain establishments with more than four branches and doing more than a half million dollars worth of business yearly.

Seamen also would be brought under the act but they would not get overtime pay while at sea. Others covered would get overtime after 40 hours a week, as at present.

The bill would raise the present 40 cent hourly minimum wage to the 75 cents proposed by President Truman. That would be effective 120 days after enactment.

Could Raise Minimum

Industry committees could raise that minimum to as high a sone dollar an hour if business warrants it.

Provisions in the new bill would forbid any employer from using oppressive child labor practices. At present the law punishes a business using child labor only by forbidding shipment of goods from such a plant for 30 days. Manufacturers of non-perishable goods were scarcely penalized by that provision, the wage-hour administration said.

Newsboys could work before and after school without violating the child labor provision.

AIR-CONDITIONED BOOTH

NEW YORK, Jan. 26 (U.P) — The Bell Telephone company announced today that an air-conditioned phone booth has been developed and is now being placed in production. Air in the new booth will be changed several times a minute.

Texas Weather

delays on calls to Midland and Lubbock.

Trees and lines were heavily coated with ice at Denton. Schools were open but attendance was low since buses from rural areas were not running. Denton's early-morning temperature was 20 degrees.

Airlines and shipping companies took thousands of dollars in losses at Houston where fog blanketed the city. Four incoming and four outgoing vessels were tied up, unable to move. Planes were grounded.

Snow fell at El Paso, though the temperature was 34 degrees. Hailstones as big as marbles pelted El Paso last night. Salt Flat and Guadalupe Pass, also in far West Texas, had snow today.

Travel was hazardous over much of West and Northwest Texas and the Panhandle.

Highways Dangerous

"Highways are dangerous," said a report from Amarillo. "Rain freezes as fast as it hits the windshield of a car. Roads are open and bus lines are running. Temperatures are warming and if rain continues could have an ice paralysis."

Amarillo said its temperature was 19 degrees, with a low last night of 15 degrees.

And Wichita Falls said:

"Freezing rain, sleet and snow fell last night and today there is no thaw in prospect for three inches of sleet and snow on the ground. Highways and streets are heavily coated but not impassable. Long-distance telephone wires are hard hit. Buses are still moving but not on schedule. Runs to Oklahoma City, Abilene and Brownwood have been halted."

Pampa reported: "Cloudy and calm with a fine freezing mist that began at 8 a. m. today. Snow and sleet on the ground measures one and one-fourth inches. The low temperature last night was 15 degrees. Schools reopened today. Highways are open but slick. No stock loss has been reported."

Corsicana gave evidence that the thaw was at work. The temperature there rose 10 degrees during the night—to 33 degrees. Rainfall totalled .23 of an inch.

Showers deluged Palestine. The temperature was still 30 degrees but no ice was forming.

Above - freezing temperatures prevailed at Dallas, and southward. Dallas had a great deal of tree damage during its ice storm —streets were littered with branches.

Power Lines Cut

Sherman and surrounding communities were still wrapped in an ice coat. Power lines and telephone lines were out in many sections of Sherman. Some of the surrounding towns were isolated by the ice.

Showers at Fort Worth failed to put additional ice on the streets. There was heavy power line damage and some interruption in communications.

Mt. Pleasant reported about four inches of rain in the past two days but no ice.

San Antonio had drizzling rain —temperature 33 degrees.

Laredo, with a temperature of 37 degrees, reported no crop damage. Drizzling rains Monday and Tuesday were welcome and totalled .51 of an inch.

The weather bureau predicted slowly moderating temperatures for both East and West Texas.

The weather bureau explained that the thaw was due to a great low pressure area over New Mexico, Arizona and southern Colorado. Warm air from the Gulf of Mexico, Mexico and the Pacific ocean is flowing over the top of a thin, cold layer of air over Texas and this thin, cold layer will continue to get thinner.

STEELS LEAD WAY

NEW YORK, Jan. 26 (U.P) — United States Steel corporation common stock responded vigorously today to its directors' action in proposing a three-for-one split in the stock, declaring a $1 special dividend, and reporting for 1948 the best earnings since the boom year of 1929.

Steel, bellweather of the list, jumped more than 4 points. It took other steels up with it for a time and for a period in the early trading and again late in the day it stimulated strength in other sections.

But the market failed to respond as the experts had hoped it would. A long list of issues declined. Some of them lost several points. Activity failed to develop. The market was narrow.

All of which led oldtimers to conclude that this is a market of investors and not one of speculators. It takes investors longer to respond to good news like steel's, they asserted. They could find no reason in the news for the irregularity that developed except the Wall Street custom to sell when the public buys.

U. S. Steel closed at 77½ up 4⅝.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Jan. 26 (AP) — Cotton futures were irregular in slow trading today. Nearby March and May, which sold at a premium over the balance of the market, encountered profit taking and hedging. Offerings were well absorbed, however, through buying by spot firms against export sales and also for mill account. New crop deliveries were steady.

A new ECA credit of $8,000,000 was granted to Italy for cotton purchases here, according to Washington reports. This would cover an estimated 45,000 bales of cotton.

Futures closed 35 cents a bale lower to 25 cents higher than the previous close.

U. S. SOLDIER DIES

TOKYO, Jan. 26. (U.P)—An American soldier shot by military police during an enlisted men's riot at Camp Crawford Sunday night has died, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters announced today. His name was withheld pending notification of kin.

THERMOMETER BROKEN

CARLIN, Nev., Jan. 26. (U.P)—An elaborate electric thermometer, calibrated to register only to 40, was broken yesterday when the temperature dipped to 57 degrees below zero.

German Heard In U. S. Trial

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26. (U.P)—Hans Von Richter, former member of the German consular staff in Cleveland, testified today he had seen honey-voiced Mildred Gillars making her "Axis Sally" broadcasts over the Nazi radio.

Von Richter is a 38-year-old former German wartime radio official whose testimony has helped convict two former American newsmen of treason.

Testified In Other Cases

Miss Gillars, a native of Portland, Me., is on trial here for treason. She is alleged to have attempted to break down the morale of American troops with her broadcasts during the war over the Nazi radio. GI's dubbed her "Axis Sally."

Von Richter testified last year in the treason trials of Douglas Chandler and Robert H. Best who are now serving prison terms for treason.

Under the constitution, the government must offer testimony from two witnesses to the actual act of treason in order to prove treason.

Rent Protest

support to such an uncharitable move which seems to thwart the interests of the people," he said.

Woods was one of the framers of the administration's new rent control bill which was sent to Congress Monday. The other bill was introduced by Sen. Francis J. Myers, D., Pa., Democratic whip. Both measures provide long term extensions of rent control and strengthen the present law.

The administration's bill would give Woods' office power to control evictions. It also would give the rent director authority to collect triple damages from landlords who break the law. Myers' bill is even stiffer.

Edward A. Moyle, president of the Kansas City Property Owners association, said his group would meet tonight to consider the action taken by the Tulsa organization.

Cooperation Is Asked

He said Murphy sent him a telegram asking Kansas City landlords to follow suit in removing all rental housing from the market. He said it was "anybody's guess" as to what the Kansas City association would do.

James E. Renner, president of the Denver Property Owners association, said that 5,000 tenants would be evicted in his area if the proposed federal rent control law goes into effect.

"We will evict the tenants and quit business," he said.

In Chicago, S. W. Lewendowski, a national director of the American Property Owners association, said that withdrawal of apartments from the rental market because of rent controls is a common practice.

"I myself have 14 vacancies which I am not putting on the market, and I have sent letters to 20 more occupants asking them to leave," he said.

Are Not Poor People

"This might sound cruel, but all these aren't poor people. They all can afford their own homes."

Ernest J. Ansted, president of the Michigan Property Owners association, said that members in Grand Rapids would "go along with the national policy" of the American Property Owners association. Ansted declined to say how many units would be affected in Grand Rapids, and said he had "no information" about the situation in Detroit.

Murphy said that Tulsa property owners would go to court to force evictions after 60 days.

"We're doing this in good faith," he said. "The properties will not be re-rented until rent controls are off."

Murphy said he was surprised that Woods had never heard of him and the association.

"I've testified in Washington, and my point of view is in the Congressional Record," Murphy said. "I've been in almost daily correspondence with Tighe Woods."

Tenants to whom eviction notices were sent had varied reactions. Don Rickert, 21-year-old veteran, said landlords had a right to do as they please;

"But another said he would "just sit here and let them try to move me out.

"It'll all blow over before the 60 days are up anyway," he said.

government also decided on a partial evacuation of Nanking within 10 days as a precautionary measure.

Authoritative sources said the seat of the Chinese Nationalist government will be moved to Canton within the next 10 days and will begin to function there on Feb. 5.

However, Acting President Li Tsung-Jen and his cabinet ministers will stay in Nanking to direct peace talks with the Communists.

These sources said the executive yuan, highest organ of the Nationalist government, decided today to urge the Communists to set the time and place and appoint delegates immediately to the projected peace conference.

Cochran Extension Completed; Output Over 100 Barrels

An extension to the Landon-San Andres pool of extreme south-central Cochran county was completed by Texas Pacific Coal & Oil company.

That concern pumped 24 hours on its No. 1 Edwards(392 feet from west and 1,939 feet from north lines of the Edwards lease in section 13, block L, psl survey, to make an initial production of 101.95 barrels of oil per day.

Andrews Site Staked

Gravity of the petroleum was 31.6 degrees. Gas-oil ratio was 115-1. There was no water.

The San Andres, upper Permian, pay was at 5,009-5,034 feet. That zone had been acidized with 1,000 gallons.

Phillips Petroleum company staked a drillsite for its No. 18-M Texas University as a 11,100-foot, rotary tool exploration in the Fullerton-Ellenburger field of northwest Andrews county.

It will be 663 feet from south and 1,782 feet from east lines of section 31, block 13, University survey. That puts it approximately 12 miles northwest of the town of Andrews.

Operations are scheduled to begin at once.

Lynn Test Negative

Recent drillstem testing at McAlester Fuel company No. 1 Edwards, west Lynn county wildcat, 16 miles east of the town of Brownfield, has resulted in no shows.

An examination was attempted at 10,491-546 feet, but the packer failed and there was no recovery.

Another test was run at 10,376-546 feet. The tool was open one and one-half hours. Recovery was 150 feet of drilling mud, with no shows of oil, gas or water.

This prospector, 440 feet from south and west lines of section 58, GRR survey, is now shutdown on 10,546 feet for a fishing job.

Borden County Well Officially Completed

Borden County's first commercial oil well has been officially completed at the H. L. Hunt No. 1 Clayton & Johnson, wildcat six miles south of Gail, in the south-central sector of the county.

This discovery, located 660 feet from south and west lines of the north half of section 24, block 31, TP survey, T-4-N, was finished for an official 24-hour pumping potential of 129 barrels of oil, plus two barrels of water, from pay at 6,490-6,520 feet in a lower Permian lime.

Treated With Acid

The production is through casing perforations. The pay has been treated with 4,000 gallons of acid.

The development drilled to a total depth of 8,015 feet in dry Pennsylvanian lime. It plugged back to 6,598 feet and cemented 5½-inch casing at that point and completed from the only zone drilled through which showed any indication of petroleum.

Wheat Parley

er—did not ratify it.

The agreement was submitted to the Senate for approval as a treaty. But it was pigeonholed by the foreign relations committee in the Republican 80th Congress.

Brannan Head Group

Secretary of Agriculture Brannan will head a United States delegation of international trade and grain experts. He has said such an agreement is essential if this country is to hold its share of the world market.

Otherwise, he said, it would be necessary to curtail wheat production sharply from wartime and postwar levels.

The previous agreement assured this country a minimum foreign market for 185,000,000 bushels annually. This compares with an average of about 50,000,000 bushels in the thirties.

Sponsors say a successful wheat agreement could set the pattern for stabilizing world prices and supplies of other farm products moving extensively in foreign trade.

consolidated.

Light moisture which fell in Lubbock and vicinity during the night measured only a trace, said Harold Frost, chief meteorologist at the Weather bureau station at Municipal airport. Total moisture for the month remained at 3.94 inches.

Reports of heavy thundershowers were received from Amarillo and Roswell, N. M., this morning. The unusual occurrence was attributed to a warm frontal loft moving southeastward. The rain in those places froze after hitting the ground.

Visibility of one mile here during the night increased to two miles at 9 a. m. Winds were light, ranging from five to ten miles per hour.

Most South Plains schools were open, although some schools were running buses on a limited schedule. Frenship school remained closed today.

Last night's communique quoted Caghin as saying French and Italian Communists have "an essential function in Western Europe —to defend peace and assure an effective united Europe against all attempts at division and foreign interference.

The statement stressed the need for collaboration between the Red groups and added:

"It appears necessary to oppose with a peoples' accord . . . the intrigues and maneuvers of warmakers and to guarantee security and international collaboration."

German Cannon Fodder

While other Communist leaders spoke glowingly of peace, a Russian spokesman in Germany told German Reds the U. S. will use Germans for "cannon fodder" in a new war.

Col. Sergei Tulpanov, chief of the political division of the Soviet military administration in Germany, said:

"Certain circles of the American imperialists, who are the instigators of a new war, im to transform the German people into a tool of their imperialistic policies . . . and make them cannon fodder for the future."

Oilman Acquitted Of Assault And Battery

HOUSTON, Jan. 26. (U.P)—Millionaire Oilman George H. Echols, charged with assault and battery after a brawl with a cab driver on the lawn of his home here Jan. 2, was acquitted in corporation court today.

The cabbie, Sam Barwick, 50, claimed Echols started swinging after he paid the fare from a downtown hotel to his home.

"He kicked me, hit me, knocked me down, and tore my shirt with his teeth," Barwick testified. "I didn't hit him," he added. The day after the fracas Barwick exhibited a swollen nose and a black eye, claiming they were received in the fight.

Echols denied ever striking Barwick. His version was that the driver "sneered" at him when Echols handed him the fare, then shoved him aside and returned to his cab.

Corporation Judge W. E. Bell found Echols not guilty.

Second U. S. Canal Under Consideration

BOGOTA, Colombia, Jan. 26. (U.P)—The United States and Colombia are giving earnest consideration to the possibility of digging a second Atlantic-Pacific canal, Bolivian Foreign Minister Eduardo Zuleta Angel said last night.

The contemplated canal, which would supplement the Panama canal, would follow the courses of the Atrato and Truando rivers in Bolivia, he said.

He referred to an article said to have appeared in a engineering journal in the United States which said the canal project "should not be taken seriously"as mistaken.

The United States, he said, approached Columbia with a proposal for a joint survey of the Atrato-Truando route even before difficulties arose between Panama and the United States late in 1947 regarding leases of sites on Panamanian territory for defense of the Panama eanal.

Cost Of Living

common pattern.

Just as the price of a dozen eggs or a pound of butter may vary a few cents between stores in the same city, the prices of the commodities vary widely between communities.

In some areas specific food items cost more than they did a year ago. In other communities the same items cost a lot less.

Some of the price changes come as a surprise to the consumer.

For instance, in Chicago, the Nation's meat packing center, retail prices of a leg of lamb and chopped steak are above a year ago. In cities far from the packing center those items have declined.

In the coastal cities of San Francisco, Seattle and Boston and overall decline has been less noticeable.

The largest single drop in a single article is in New York, where chopped steak (the U. S. No. 1 variety) fell from an average 85 cents a pound last January to 49 cents this month—a decline of 36 cents.

But a New York butcher commented: "It was meat from better fed cattle that was being chopped up a year ago."

Scott Puts Up "No Compromise" Sign In Bout Over Leadership Of GOP National Committee

BY JACK BELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

OMAHA, Jan. 26 — Chairman Hugh D. Scott, jr., hung out a "no compromise" sign today in the fight over his leadership of the Republican national committee.

A spokesman for Scott said he remains confident that a majority of committee members will support at a session (3 p. m. EST) today his bid to remain as chairman until the next party convention is held in 1952 to nominate a presidential candidate.

This spokesman said Scott will not compromise either on his national committee chairmanship or his action in naming himself as head of a new 25-member executive committee.

Critics Come Up Early

Against Scott's determined stand, critics came up early today with a new candidate to oppose him.

Ralph F. Gates, Former Indiana governor and national committeeman from his state, apparently had been passed over as a compromise candidate.

Instead, Roy E. Dunn, Minnesota national committeeman who always was cool to the candidacy of former Gov. Harold E. Stassen of that state, was being advanced as a possible compromise.

Dunn's chief support came from Mrs. F. Peavey Heffelinger of Wayzata, Minn., who still has to be accepted officially as Minnesota's national committeewoman.

However, Rep. Clarence Brown of Ohio, a backer of Senator Robert A. Taft, was said to be lining up behind Dunn's candidacy.

Campaigning Actively

Armed with a resolution of her state committee urging the ouster of Scott, Mrs. Heffelinger was campaigning actively to displace the national chairman.

Fred Seaton, Nebraska state senator and a Stassen man, said Stassen was not taking any part in the battle. Stassen was said to regard Gates as acceptable to him.

Barak T. Mattingly, counsel for the committee, said he doesn't think Scott's opponents have a legal leg to stand on in seeking to oust him.

He cited the fact that Scott was elected for a four-year term at the Philadelphia convention. Mattingly said he knows of no way the question of Scott's ouster officially be laid before the members.

Ready To Pose Issue

The chairman's opponents, however, apparently were ready to pose the issue in a resolution stating that a chairman must be a member of the national committee.

Scott, who is a member of the Hous e of Representatives from Pennsylvania, is not actually a committee member. The members from Pennsylvania, his home state, are G. Mason Owlett and Mrs. Worthington Scranton. Senator Edward Martin said both are supporting Scott.

If that move failed, Scott's opponents seemed likely to fall back on a resolution which would bar a member of Congress from holding the national chairmanship.

There were precedents both ways.

Thus the battle resolved itself into a question of whether Scott's opponents actually had the votes to oust him.

Friends Claim Majority

The chairman's friends claimed that if all 105 committee members were present, he could marshall 68 votes.

On the other hand, opponents contended they had signed up 41 members against Scott. They said that this might represent a majority, since many committee members decided not to attend Omaha's zero weather sessions.

Scott said he isn't a Dewey man any more, despite the fact that he was named chairman at the New York governor's insistence.

Scott told a news conference that he is "entirely free of any obligation to any person, or candidate, past, present or future."

The national chairman said that in his opinion Dewey "should not, could not and will not be a candidate in 1952."

Mongrel Loses Hard Struggle For Life

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 26. (AP)—Boy, a mongrel dog that lived on borrowed breath for four hours, is dead.

The animal died last night despite a four-hour operation, a million units of penicillin and a blood transfusion.

He was struck by an automobile Monday. His master, Robert Jackson, a 22-year-old packing house employe, took him to a veterinarian who performed the four-hour operation.

Because Boy's lung was exposed, Jackson forced air through a tube into the animal's lungs all during the operation.

Later Boy was given penicillin and the blood transfusion.

The dog was a pet of Jackson's nine-year-old son.

Laborites Lead Vote In Israel

By ELIAV SIMON
United Press Staff Writer

TEL AVIV, Jan. 26.—Israeli election officials announced today that provisional Premier David Ben Gurion's moderately Socialist Mapai party received 35 per cent of the vote in yesterday's elections with half the returns counted.

The returns virtually assured the return of Ben Gurion as premier of a new coalition government, observers said. The Mapai, or Labor party, is favorable to the western powers.

Receives 15 Per Cent

The Mapam, or Leftist United Workers party which is pro-Russia, received 15 per cent of the votes vounted. The Mapam party was in a neck-and-neck race for second place with the United Religious group, a coalition of three orthodox Religious parties, which received 14 per cent of the precincts counted.

Heruth, the party of the former Irgun Zvai Leumi underground group received nine per cent. Communists trailed near the end with 2½ per cent.

A final and complete count of the vote was not expected until Friday, but observers said the returns received so far clearly indicated the trend.

Arab Votes Heavy

The voting was unexpectedly heavy, especially in Arab areas. Some Arab areas voted 100 per cent.

Officials declined to reveal what percentage of Israel's eligible voting list of more than 400,000 men and women cast their ballot, but it was understood to be higher than pre-election expectations.

Officials in Haifa said that at least 95 per cent of eligible voters in northern Palestine went to the polls.

Reports reaching here indicated there were virtually no incidents during the voting hours.

CHECK YOUR ROD, OLD MAN?—Ross Hancock, left, manager of a London theater, requires that all the rootin', tootin', two-gun shootin' London kids check their weapons before seeing American Wild West movies. WEIGH-IN EXPENSIVE

KEOKUK, Ia. (AP)—It cost William Dye $10 to get weighed on the scales in a raidroad station here. Police arrested Dye when he stripped down to his shorts before he stepped on the scales. He said he wanted to get "an honest weight." He was fined for disorderly conduct.

Lubbock Marine In Alaska Operations

Pfc. Osburn D. Davis, son of Mrs. Louise Davis of Arch, N. M., was announced as the first Marine from the Lubbock Marine area likely to go on the Leatherneck experimental operation to be made into Alaska soon.

Information from the Lubbock Marine recruiting office showed Pfc. Davis to be serving as a rifleman of the Sixth Marine regiment, a component of the First Marine division now stationed at the world's largest Marine training center, Camp Pendleton, near Oceanside, Calif. Other elements of the division are scattered from California to China, where they are protecting American lives and property.

The Pendleton-based units were announced recently as standing ready to go into Arctic wastes of Alaska for intensive training in cold weather operations.

"This operation in which Pfc. Davis is likely to participate," M/Sgt. M. L. Alles of the Lubbock Marine office explained, "is actually a test of personnel and equipment, designed to conform with the mission of the Marines —being trained for any eventuality in any place or climate."

SAHARA TRIP PLANNED

CORSHAM, England (AP)—Seven people are leaving here soon to get away from civilization on a 7,000-mile truck trip to Walvis Bay, South West Africa. They expect to take four months and spend $8,000. They will pass through the Sahara desert. Two in the party—W. Wood of Corsham and S. Green of London—were there in the war, serving in Montgomery's Eighth Army. Their wives and Wood's three-year-old son are among those going along.

THE QUESTION

THE ANSWERS

FLOYD LANE, 2118 Eighth, fountain manager at Wylie's Drug store: "I don't think so—not much. You have to live anyhow, regardless of high costs, and salaries usually adjust themselves to high costs. Now, high prices bring in more money and higher salaries. Way back there during the depression, I was doing the same thing I am doing now for about a third of the salary. You could buy back there for 35 cents what you can buy for a dollar now."

MRS. THOMAS M. LYONS, 1826 Ave. D, housewife: "I believe people are going on and living just as high now as they did before. I don't believe they are cutting down too much. I don't think anyone is doing without too much. They may be a little short on cash, but they manage to get it some way."

TOM CONDITT, 2224 Twenty-seventh, salesman at Heath Furniture Co.: "Yes. I really think people are doing without things they really need on account of prices being so high."

BOB BUCKLEY, Veterans Village, salesman at White's Auto store: "I'd give you the standard textbook answer that commodities always go up first and salaries follow, because of necessity. They will balance during the recession. As the recession starts, commodities again will drop first and salaries follow, but, because of the scarcity of the consumer dollar, salaries will drop quicker and again below the cost of living."

MRS DAPHNE WEATHERS, 1505 Ave. J, employe in invoice office at Montgomery Ward & Co.: "No. I don't think so. Income is just as high accordingly as prices. As a general rule, I believe people have had more since prices are higher and wages are higher."

MRS. M. T. HUNT, Idalou route 1, housewife: "Well, we haven't. I don't know about the Joneses. We've just gone ahead and bought what we wanted, within reason, just as we always did."

Woman, 111, Thinks Truman Good Man

HAZELTON, Pa., Jan. 26 (AP)—Mrs. Mary O'Neill the little old lady of "Stone Crusher hill," celebrated her 111th birthday today with one regret—she can't thread a needle any more.

Mrs. O'Neill, believed to be Pennsylvania's oldest woman, lives with her granddaughter, Nancy O'Neill, on a nearby mountain known as "Stone Crusher hill."

Until recent months, Mrs. O'Neill—who has never worn glasses—was able to thread her own needle for sewing. Now her eyesight isn't quite as good as it used to be.

She still bakes cakes, however, and does other household duties. And last year she made a trip down Stone Crusher hill to see a new baby at the Ralph Cragle home.

Last week, Mrs. O'Neill told a reporter that she felt President Truman is "a fine man and capable of leading us to peace."

"There's a man that fooled them," she said. "I think he's going to make good."

Mayor Offers Park For High School Plans

Trade Of Site Is Proposed

Mayor W. H. Rodgers, who appeared at the regular meeting of the board of trustees of Lubbock Independent School district Tuesday night as spokesman for the City commission, told the board that the commission was ready and willing to trade McCrummen park, located between Ave. T and Ave. U on Nineteenth street, for the present site and building of George M. Hunt school.

The proposed trade, discussed at a previous school board meeting as a possible solution to long-range plans for extending present high school facilities, would eliminate the necessity of locating another high school site in another part of town.

The city, Mayor Rodgers said, would use the Hunt school site and building for a city library, with possible addition of laboratories for use of the City Health department. Present location of the health department, he added, is unsatisfactory from the standpoints of building space as well as sufficient parking facilities around City hall.

Passageway Suggested

The school board's only objection to locating additional buildings of Senior High school on the McCrummen park site was apparently the necessity of providing a safe means for students to cross Nineteenth street, one of the city's main traffic arteries. An underpass, discussed previously as a solution to the problem, was thought to be impractical from the aspect of prohibitive construction costs.

Mayor Rodgers, as a solution to the cost problem, suggested that the passageway across Nineteenth might be constructed approximately four feet below and four feet above the ground surface, with a four-foot rise in the street at that point to allow traffic to pass over. This plan, he added, would eliminate considerable cost by relieving the necessity of disturbing storm sewers and other underground structures now located there.

He volunteered to have a plan drawn for the proposed underpass and to secure an estimate of probable building costs of the structure, both to be submitted to the school board for consideration.

Superintendent of Schools R. W. Matthews, present at the meeting, said that enrollment of Hunt school had been dropping off at the rate of about 50 students per year, and that the present school enrollment there from the immediate neighborhood was approximately 325 students. Others are carried in by bus.

Abandonment of the school would be dependent upon securing

Lubbock Child Aiding March Of Dimes

Paralysis Fund Campaign Has Special Meaning For Girl, 8

"Look, I can walk again," the exclamation on March of Dimes posters, holds special significance for eight-year-old Vernette Lynn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Lynn of 612 Ave. O.

Five years ago last Thursday, Vernette was able to walk again after having been stricken with infantile paralysis the month before.

Treated At Hospital

That night, she placed five dimes in the March of Dimes envelope she had received at school. Tuesday, she took her envelope back to school.

The girl was stricken with infantile paralysis Dec. 13, 1943. She received treatment at Amherst hospital at Amherst, Lubbock Memorial hospital and a clinic at Dallas.

She was almost completely paralyzed and was unable to use either her arms or legs. The parents were told her muscles were "completely dead." The Kenny hot pack treatment was used.

Help of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis was not sought for her treatment, but she is anxious to see other children helped through March of Dimes funds.

Heart Attack Fatal To Man At Crockett

CROCKETT, Jan. 26 (AP)—Carl Murray, 54, whose family once owned one of the largest single cotton growing enterprises in Texas, died last night of a heart attack.

He was one of the sons in the firm of G. I. Murray and Sons Farms, which controlled several thousand acres of Trinity river bottom land before it sold its holdings.

Murray retired about two years ago because of bad health. Survivors include a daughter Lucille Murray, a son, Carl, jr., Buffalo, N. Y., two brothers, W. Guy Murray, Housteon, and Lloyd Murray of Crockett, and a sister, Miss Faye Murray of Crockett.

Trio Sentenced In Stealing Of Checks

DALLAS, Jan. 26 (AP)—Three Beaumont people who admitted stealing and forging more than $12,000 worth of government checks were sentenced yesterday in federal court here.

They were blonde Mrs. Dorothy Johnson, 25; her husband, Wilson Johnson, and Herbert Broussard. All three pleaded guilty. Mrs. Johnson, mother of two small boys, was sentenced to 18 months in prison but placed on probation for two years. Johnson received a three-year prison sentence. Broussard was sentenced to 18 months in a federal correctional institution.

The three admitted they traveled over the state, posing as aluminum salesmen. When mail carriers delivered the brown envelopes containing government checks they fololwed and knocked at the door. If someone answered they gave a sales talk. If there was no answer they took the check.

Their plan worked for about three years.

Professor Is Speaker Here

Dr. Houston Peterson, of Rutgers university, New Jersey, Tuesday night warned members of the Lubbock Knife and Fork club at their monthly meeting in Hotel Lubbock that "people of other nations are not going to be grateful to us for our generosity; we are not going to make things easier if we broadcast constantly that lack of gratitude."

That matter of lack of gratitude on the part of other nations which we have aided will be a difficult problem with us in the next 10 to 20 years, Dr. Peterson said, and the people of this country, because of their repeated reference to this same lack of gratitude will not serve to ease the strain.

Emphasis On Size

Dr. Peterson, who heads the department of philosophy at Rutgers, is a descendant of the youngest sister of Texas' famous Sam Houston. His talk here last night concerned "American Character and Culture."

In line with his statements concerning other peoples' lack of gratitude for American generosity, Dr. Peterson listed a number of American traits or characteristics which, he said, become weaknesses if carried to extremes.

The first such trait is the American sense of "bigness," for he said, "we are famous for our emphasis upon our size."

"We carry it too far when we confuse bigness with goodness, and quantity with quality," the educator declared.

Always Pushing Ahead

Another trait or quality is the American capacity for action, which, he said, motivated the westward push to the Pacific, and has been a dynamic influence in the American culture.

A third trait is "know how" or ingenuity, Dr. Peterson declared, however, that "ingenuity in some respects has gotten away from us." To illustrate his statement, he rather humorously pointed out that many of our labor-saving devices have developed into time-consuming, death-dealing devices instead.

A fourth American characteristic is that of comparisons. Dr. Peterson said that Americans are too much given to comparing "our

Is there an unemployment crisis in Lubbock?

The question Tuesday brought answers ranging from a "declaration of a state of emergency" by welfare agencies to a positive "No" by employers and employment agencies.

Whether or not there is a crisis, it seems apparent that Lubbock is suffering more general unemployment at present than in any recent winter season.

And this in spite of the fact that Lubbock is in a region which has been described as enjoying a "super-boom" over and above the "boom" that the nation as a whole is experiencing.

The reason, of course, is weather.

For more than three weeks virtually all outdoor workers have been idle, in an unusually long siege of wet, freezing weather.

Activity has been curtailed in three of the area's basic industries: Farming, oil operations and construction.

B. T. O'Connell, manager of the area office of Texas Employment commission, says that his records show 1,840 persons listed as seeking employment now.

In January, 1948, only 988 persons were shown to be seeking employment.

O'Connell explains, however that a large portion of the current figure of 1,840 is due to a 30-day carryover from December, result of a policy change. On a strictly comparative basis, the figure might be closer to 1,300.

"Our information, and information from the state office," O'Connell explains, "shows no cause for alarm. It's strictly a seasonal, temporary situation."

But those workers who are employed by the hour and haven't worked for three weeks apparently are seeking work actively, and feeling the effects of prolonged unemployment.

Job Hunters Increase

Private employers report an increasing number of job seekers—many of them less particular than in the not-so-dim past.

Mrs. Nancy Green, assistant to Ben Mansker, City-Council Welfare agency executive secretary, painted a dreary picture.

"We've declared a state of emergency. At a meeting of welfare agencies we assured the mayor there is no overlapping of our services.

"Our load has become tremendous and we are asking for volunteer workers to help the City-County Welfare association to make home visits.

"Food is principally what we need because common laborers haven't worked in three weeks. We've seen as many as we could, and welfare workers are getting emergency calls at home.

"Monday," Mrs. Green said, "we received 30 applications for aid. In some months we don't receive 30 a month."

Meeting Is Held

A group of welfare workers met Tuesday to discuss the situation. Present were Mrs. Green, Mansker, Father John Moore of St. Joseph's Catholic church, Mrs. Tom Cannon, First Methodist church visiting nurse, Leo Healer, supervisor of the state welfare department here; Capt. W .T. Gregory of the Salvation Army, Dr. L. B. Woods, city health officer, Mrs. J. H. Stiles of the Red Cross, Mrs. Mary Frances Holly, Red Cross case worker, and Mayor W. H. Rodgers.

They agreed the welfare agencies currently are heavily overloaded.

O'Connell probably summed up the current situation most neatly when he said:

"We don't have a serious, permanent unemployment crisis here. But we're not bragging.

"Transients come here from as far away as Ohio and California and say they have heard Lubbock is booming and they want work.

"This naturally brings additional competition for the local persons who are looking for jobs. But there has been no indication of a letdown in employment."

O'Connell's office handles a nine-county area, comprised of Cochran, Hockley, Lubbock, Crosby, Dickens, King, Stonewall, Kent and Garza cunties.

The monthly applications for employment during 1948 ran like this:

January	988
February	1,117
March	909
April	1,004
May	1,105
June	1,071
July	868
August	741
September	594
October	587
November	652
December	1,198

The total for January, 1949, including the December carry-over: 1,840.

A break-down of that 1,840 unemployment figure is interesting. By classifications, the total includes: Professional, 27; clerical, 196; service personnel, 423; farm laborers, 247; skilled laborers, 180; semi-skilled laborers, 312; unskilled laborers, 455.

Catch Monopolies Before They Start, Attorney General Urges

NEW YORK, Jan. 26. (AP)—Attorney General Clark said today it costs are government "upward of $200,000" to fight the average anti-trust case, and he urged this solution: catch monopolies before they start.

In a speech prepared for the anti-trust section of the New York State Bar association, Clark said it takes from three to four years to get a final judgment on many such cases.

He invited attorneys dealing with mergers to bring their proposals to the Justice department's special merger unit, which supplies advice on prospective consolidations which "might result in violations of the anti-trust laws."

Trend Most Dangerous

In that field, Clark said, "the constant trend toward concentration is the most dangerous enemy we have to fear." He added:

"I am proud to say that through the cooperation we have received from the bar, our mercer unit has met with some success. Cotinued cooperation and understanding of the merger problems by the bar will be conciderable aid in the greater success of our program."

Clark described monopoly as "a tool of totalitarianism which handcuffs the individual and enchains democracy." In bringing anti-trust cases, he said, the government is trying "to reverse the trend toward concentration of economic power in favor of a trend toward free and unrestricted economic opportunity."

Pledged To Enforcement

Declaring that he is pledged to "continued vigorous enforcement of the anti-trust laws," Clark said:

"The strength of the United States depends on the maintenance of a vigorous economy free from the domination either of private greed or political dictatorship, but resting firmly on equality of opportunity in a competitive market. This is our goal."

Chief Keeps Word After 14½ Years

TEXARKANA, Jan. 26. (AP) — After reading this story there will be little doubt concerning the honesty of Chief Quartermaster A. C. Sumner who is attached to the Texarkana Navy recruiting service.

It was 14½ years ago that Sumner borrowed one dollar from Thomas Lowry, now a retired Navy chief living in Shreveport, La. Sumner was in boot camp at the time and needed the buck for a toothbrush. He had been called out and his pay had not arrived.

He promised Lowry he would pay him back. Before the pay arrived Sumner shipped out.

Then passed and Sumner's path did not cross his creditor's path.

Then last week they met in Shreveport. Immediately after greetings were exchanged, Sumner pulled out a dollar bill and handed it to Lowry.

THIEF COMPLETES JOB

ROCK ISLAND, Ill., (U.P.)—R. D. Johnston and his wife managed to salvage a few possessions after a fire in their apartment. A few weeks later, a burglar finished the fire's work. He took the Johnston's remaining property: a mattress, four pillows, two coats and a radio.

A & I May Play Last Tilt As Independent

KINGSVILLE, Jan. 26. (AP)—On the surface, the Texas A&I-Southwest Texas state contest here tonight may be just another basketball game, but in one sense it may be history-making.

If A&I accepts an invitation into the Texas conference, the game will be the final encounter between an independent A&I and an athletic team of the Lone Star conference. A&I has other games before the board of directors votes on the invitation in February, but they are with other independents.

Acceptance of the invitation would not prevent A&I's continuing competition with Lone Star conference schools, since there are only five colleges in the TAC at present. A&I's rivalry with the LSC has continued since the loop's formation. Last fall the Javelinas won two out of three football games from Lone Star teams, including the tilt with Southwest Texas, the league's champion eleven.

Phone Exchange At Maysfield Smallest

TEMPLE, Jan. 26. (AP) — The smallest telephone exchange in Texas—and there's no argument about it—is the Maysfield exchange.

Maysfield is near Cameron in Milam county.

Southwestern Bell Telephone company records indicate the exchange couldn't be any smaller—because it has just one telephone.

But the switchboard has 150 lines, 12 of them ready for service.

So if you're having trouble getting a telephone, move to Maysfield.

Claim Seen In Fields Estate

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 26. (AP)—A brief legal document indicated today that a claim on Comedian W. C. Fields' $800,000 estate will be made by a man identifying himself as Fields' son.

The document was filed in superior court yesterday in behalf of William R. F. Morris by Atty. Louis Thomsen of Los Angeles.

Identified As Son

It is a request that the court notify Morris of all proceedings connected with distribution of the estate. It identified Morris as Field's son but gave no address or occupation. It bore the name of a Boston law firm, Graham, Gargan and Sullivan.

Thomsen refused any elaboration but said further papers probably would be filed soon. The present notice is directed to the court and to Magda Michael, Fields' secretary and executrix.

If Morris is the comedian's son, he has hitherto been unrecognized publicly as such.

Only $10.000 Each

Fields, who was 67 when he died Christmas day, 1946, left his wife, Hattie, from whom he had been separated for many years, and his son, W. Claude Fields, Los Angeles attorney, only $10,000 each. Principal beneficiaries were Fields' longtime friend, Carolotta Monti, and his brother and sister, Walter Fields and Mrs. Adel Smith.

Mrs. Hattie Fields has sued for half the estate, claiming it as community property.

Greyhound Workers Granted Pay Hikes

FORT WORTH, Jan. 26 (AP) — Pay increases have been granted to employes of Southwestern Greyhound lines under terms of a proposed contract accepted by the union, spokesmen for the union said today.

Acceptance of the contract on a 73 per cent vote of the 1,300 employes in Texas and eight other southwestern states averted a threatened walkout.

Under the contract bus operators will get a top rate of 6.35 cents per mile and terminal workers will get an increase of 10 cents an hour. On June 16 terminal workers will receive another 2 cent an hour increase. The operators and the first terminal worker hike are both retroactive to Dec. 16, 1948.

Porters, red caps and maids will get a five cent an hour hike also retroactive to Dec. 16.

Sheppard Base Asked To Furnish 26 Pilots

WICHITA FALLS, Jan. 25. (AP) —Sheppard Air Force base here has been asked to provide 26 pilots for the Berlin airlift.

It's the first such call for Sheppard, Brig. Gen. John H. McCormick said. The need will be filled from a list of volunteers and a list of pilots with the least overseas duty.

A LOT of people will tell you that if you have a torn dollar bill (or any piece of U. S. currency) and lose one part, you can send the remaining part into the Treasury and get its full value in return.

That isn't right. At least, it isn't right under all conditions.

Any bill torn exactly in half can be sent in for refund—but the refund will be only half the value of the original bill. In order to get a 100 per cent refund on a mutilated piece of currency, the part sent in must be two-fifths to three-fifths, or over, of the original size.

But don't go to the trouble of testing this advice unless you already have a mutilated bill. It's against the law to mutilate U. S. currency!

AT a stag dinner party here the other night, the conversation got onto socialized medicine and the efforts likely to be made in official Washington this year toward that end.

One member of the local medical fraternity spoke as follows:

"We of the Lubbock-Crosby Medical society had a little session the other night and we agreed that whenever socialized medicine comes in, we're going to quit. We're going to stage a 'sit-down strike' that will make the CIO's sit-downs in Michigan 15 years ago look like a Sunday school party."

* * *

We have no doubt that the speaker was telling the truth, in-so-far as the discussion among the Lubbock-Crosby society doctors was concerned; and also in-so-far as their immediate reaction to the discussion was concerned.

But we do not believe the gentlemen of the Lubbock-Crosby Medical society are going to stage any strikes, sit-down or otherwise, whether socialized medicine comes in, or not.

Some may quit practice and that's their business if they do. But taken as a group, they're too responsible and too decent to strike if the public needs their attention. The average doctor here is just like the average butcher, baker, or candlestick maker. He's a pretty good guy. He has his share of the milk of human kindness, and he isn't going to stand around while people die just because he's mad about something.

THE reaction of the Lubbock-Crosby medicos—assuming that it was as described by one of them—is a natural thing.

All of us, individually and collectively, can get mad right quick and say and do things that we don't mean, at all. When our ire cools, we straighten out and are a little ashamed, or, at least, a little sorry, that we blew our tops.

We know quite a few doctors pretty well, and despite their professional regulations—which insist that they encourage people to consider them as a race apart—they are very normal guys. They have their likes and dislikes, just as the rest of us do; their joys and sorrows. Their reactions to matters social, economic, political, cultural and religious are identical with those of the rank and file of us.

All this being true, we are sure there'll be no more sit-down strikes by doctors irked over socialized medicine than there were by bankers who were irked over early New Deal interference in their business; or by lawyers who were as mad as hops over the stacking of the Supreme court by gentlemen generally considered more interested in social reform than in interpretation of the Constitution and the Statutes.

We are as much opposed to socialized medicine as any doctor in the country.

We are opposed to it, because we think it would be very bad for the people—as well as bad for the doctors.

The nation, perhaps, can afford bungling, inefficiency, waste and plain stupidity in governmental administration. It can't afford that sort of business in medicine, which deals in precious human life.

But although we agree with most doctors in decrying socialized medicine—which certainly would be more social than medical—we think the medicos here and elsewhere would make a terrible mistake to "strike" against the move, and are making only a slightly lesser mistake by threatening such action.

THE best way for the medicos to successfully fight socialized medicine is not with threats, but by building a better, saner program and "selling" it to the people.

That program should be aimed not only at delivering quicker and cheaper medical care to the public. It also should eliminate many of the old shibboleths of organized medicine which, as thinking doctors readily confess, have cost the profession much confidence and respect on the part of a large and growing segment of the public.

Much of the cry for socialized medicine will be silenced whenever the medical profession sees fit to loosen its inexorible control of competition by permitting the training of more youngsters; and whenever the profession disciplines its young graduates by requiring them to put in several years in the practice of general medicine before permitting them to set themselves up as high-priced city specialists.

Any time the profession proves itself to be seriously endeavoring to improve conditions, public opinion will force the politicians to toss socialized medicine onto the ashpile where it belongs and substitute there-for a tax-free method whereby the individual, himself, must carry medical and hospital insurance.

Voicing "strike" threats is no good—especially when the same amount of thought and energy in a constructive way will make things better for everybody.

BY DREW PEARSON: NEW 81ST CONGRESS HAS PLENTY OF PROMISING RAW MATERIAL

Representatives Range From Newsmen To Teachers

WASHINGTON — The new House of Representatives has now been shaken down, had a chance to settle in new offices, and has taken a look at each other.

PEARSON

Also outsiders have had a chance to look at them. The results have not been disappointing.

In brief, the new Congress looks good. It has more war veterans, more youngsters who take their work seriously, more promising raw material than any since before Pearl Harbor. Many never dreamed they would be elected. Many are nervous, shy, and worried about which fork to pick up in Washington. But the main thing is that they know what happened to the 80th Congress, and, if they can help it, they aren't going to let history repeat.

Obviously, most of the new congressmen are Democrats. But the new Republicans seem to have a lot on the ball, too. Anyway, here is a cross-section of the 81st freshmen, the men who hold the balance of power on capitol hill and who will shape your lives for the next few years:

Newsmen to schoolteachers: Harry Davenport, Pennsylvania Democrat—publisher of weekly newspaper; ran against G. O. P. John McDowell of the un-American affairs committee, never expecting to win. Now that he's in Congress—much to his surprise—he'll push hard for the liberal program he advocated . . . Chuck Gross, Iowa Republican—popular Midwest radio commentator of Waterloo; defeated reactionary John Gwynne in the Republican primaries by going to the voters over the heads of the political machines . . . Jerry Ford, Michigan Republican—healthy replacement for Bartel Jonkman, who was one of the most backward of the 80th Congress. Just married, with a new home and a new job, Ford will be a mighty busy congressman . . . Thurman Crook, Democrat, of South Bend, Ind.—known as the only "legalized crook" in Congress, he comes to Washington after 35 years as a high school teacher. Will work for better educational benefits.

New southern solons: Thurmond Chatham, North Carolina—wealthy manufacturer of blankets, tweeds and textiles (Chatham mills) with outstanding war record in submarine service. Open-minded on major issues . . . Charles Bennett, Jacksonville, Florida—a 38-year-old attorney who's proud the real estate lobby fought him. Led troops behind Jap lines during the Philippine invasion—until stricken with polio. Still fighting . . . Syd Herlong, Florida—great friend of the orange. Will steer middle-of-road course while squeezing last drop of political juice from his district's citrus crops . . . Carl Elliott, Jasper, Alabama—successfully bucked local political machine with 129 speeches in 35 days—all pointing up need for improved rural housing and higher educational standards . . . Hugo Sims, South Carolina—battled against real estate lobby, and will keep on battling. Among the top nominees for "young men of the nation" selected by Junior Chamber of Commerce . . . John Golden, Kentucky—one of the few new Republicans elected in the South. Careful, conscientious.

The industrial east: Foster Furcolo, Massachusetts Democrat—came up the hard way, washing dishes and waiting on table at Yale. Got a law degree, saw naval action in the Pacific, elected in a G.O.P. district by fighting high prices and bad housing . . . Harry O'Neill, Pennsylvania Democrat—son of a Scranton coal miner. Harry had 14 brothers and sisters, began life as a barber, switched to insurance, is a strong union man, will go down the line for the fair deal . . . Abraham Rubicoff, Connecticut Democrat—gave up lucrative law practice to run for Congress. Handsome, intelligent, big vote-getter, will follow liberal line . . . John McGuire, Connecticut Democrat—friendly, small-town insurance agent who's been undefeated in local and state elections. In his spare time, he'll boost Connecticut's new governor, Chester Bowles, for the White House . . . Peter Rodino, Newark, N. J., Democrat—fills the seat of Fred Hartley of Taft-Hartley act fame, and has political views exactly the opposite . . . Hugh Addonizio, Newark, N. J., Democrat—may have the makings of a new Fiorello La Guardia.

Rocky Mountain states: Wayne Aspinall, Colorado Democrat—furious campaign through one of nation's largest congressional districts. Crossed 16 mountain passes with elevations over 10,000 feet searching votes. Dyed-in-the-wool new dealer, he'll see that the West is heard in Congress—if he has to do all the talking himself . . . John Marsalis, Pueblo, Colo., Democrat—bachelor at 44, a staff sergeant in the war, he learned the G.I. side of the Army. Interested chiefly in reclamation and labor; will vote for straight repeal of the Taft-Hartley . . . Reva Beck Bosone, Utah Democrat — capable, charming amazon; keen mind, was a good judge in Utah and should make a good congresswoman . . . Walter Baring, Reno, Nev., Democrat — won Nevada's solitary congressional seat by covering 30,000 miles of mountains and sage-brush in eight weeks. A mild-mannered, easygoing young westerner, he'll support the Truman fair deal and work for development of his state's vast mineral wealth.

Southwest congressmen: Harold Patton, Arizona Democrat—41-year-old life insurance executive. Son of railroad engineer, he got help from both labor and business. Favors better treatment for stricken Navajo indians . . . John Miles of New Mexico—former Democratic governor of his state and an old hand at government. Quiet, mild-mannered, able. Should be good middle-of-road congressman . . . Dixie Gilmer, Oklahoma Democrat — came to Congress as a page boy at the age of 12. Today he's back after defeating GOP conservative George Schwabe of Tulsa. Can deliver fiery speeches . . . George Wilson of Enid, Oklahoma—former FBI agent, idealistic and deeply religious. Real possibilities. Elected to the seat of Ross Rizley, pocketbook congressman. . . . Lloyd Bentsen, McAllen, Texas—in only 27 years of life he's been lawyer, judge, bomber pilot and congressman; even has a good-looking wife. If he doesn't get spoiled early, he should be good. . . . Homer Thornberry, Austin, Texas—good replacement for Senator-Elect Lyndon Johnson. Will battle for rural electrification and public power . . . Tom Steed, Shawnee, Oklahoma, Democrat—former editor of the Shawnee Morning News and Shawnee Evening Star, has served as secretary to three former congressman, knows Washington inside out, is slated to go far.

Toni Seven Says Publicity Of Romance Is Republican Plot

IN "The Saroyan Special" (Harcourt, Brace) William bashfully informs: "Most people meeting me do not get the impression that I am a great writer, and often do not believe me when I tell them so. Very often, even after I have told them six or seven times, they do not believe me, and I beg them to read by stuff. I know they will know, while they are reading my stuff and afterwards, that everything I have said to them is true."

WINCHELL

Ho, ham.

Headline: "Truman's Message Urges 70 Group Air Force Be Cut to 48."

If that happens, his next messays may be an SOS.

Two midtown drunx had a big shindig last night at their apartment. After the guests had gone they decided to clean up.

"You empty the ash trays," said the Papa Lush, "and I'll empty the bottles."

Item: "Toni Seven said the publicity of her romance with Senator Warren G. Magnuson 'is all a Republican plot.'" Prob'ly means plotonic.

Film critic Archer Winsten's scoop: "Lena Horne, though still beautiful, doesn't look exactly like herself."

Merely beautiful.

A flash stated that Robert Stripling (of the Dies-Rankin, etc., Committee) was resigning. "I have an offer from an oil firm," he said.

John Barrymore's agent once took him to one of the biggest doctors because of his fading health. The medico prescribed a lengthy diet but specified it wouldn't work unless Barrymore stopped drinking for two years.

"Don't worry," cheered the doc, "I've never lost a patient yet!"

"Zat so?" said John, leaving. "You've just lost me!"

Mark Hellinger once sent humorous party invitations to Hollywood pals. One invited guest indignantly cornered Barrymore.

"Is that guy kidding?" he beefed. "His invitation specified particularly that I was to bring my own wife!"

"What are you squawking about?" said Barrymore. "My invitation says I must bring my own whiskey!"

Burt Lancaster, who fought his way up to the Big Time, is now at the Capitol Theatre. Richard Monti wondered if doing 5 personal appearances a day "wasn't very tough?"

"It was tougher," recalled the star, "when I wasn't doing any."

THE Two-a-Daze: The Cantor-Jessel unit played to Palace in '31 and ran 14 consecutive weeks. Closing night (as the acts came out for the finale) Cantor squirted seltzer at Jessel. Jessel tore for the wings (where Benny Meroff kept the supply of seltzer for his act) and squirted back.

Burns & Allen, Serge Flash and the other acts on the bill were squirting each other while the audience howled.

The shenanigans ended with the entire company running through the theater squirting seltzer at the cash customers.

Cantor paid $1,600 (in damage suits) to have his little joke.

An open and shut KKKase?

At a dinner Will Rogers sat next to a bigot who complained that New York was being taken over by "foreign names." He asked Will if they were invading Will's home state, Oklahoma.

"I don't know," sarcasm'd Rogers. "Where I'm from we know each other by our first names."

Wm. Allen White once heard a bigot attack foreign-born Americans and then brag that he was a 100% American. The great editor mowed him down with this reminder: "The language you use came to us from Europe. The 100% is a part of the decimal system invented by the Greeks. And the word American is taken from the name of an Italian!"

Hollywood was colder than New York this week.

What do they expect with Merle Oberon and Rita Hayworth away?

FORMER Irgun Commander Beigen (recently in town) told this.The British flogged several members of the Irgun Army, so the Irgunists whipped as many British soldiers in reprisal. They posted signs that read: "If you flog our soldiers, we must flog yours!"

To which some tommy with a sensayuma scribbled on the bottom of the posters: "If you do, don't forget my Sgt. Major!"

The most surprising romance of the year isn't Rita Hayworth and Aly Kahn.

It's Gen. Clay and the Nazis.

One Business Recession We're All For

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

SHE'S a really wonderful manager. The only trouble is she lets everybody know it.

That's flattering to her, but not so flattering to her husband. In fact, every time their friends mark up a credit for her as a 'simply wonder manager they mark he husband down notch as a goo provider.

MILLETT

But like s many wome who pride them selves on bein good manager she's never stop ped to figur that out.

She doesn't notice her husband's lack of enthusiasm when she accepts a compliment on a new dress with a story about how she picked it up on sale, the way I do all my dresses."

NOT SO PROUD

SHE doesn't see that he would be prouder of the new curtains if she didn't explain to evryone how she couldn't go down and buy the kind she wanted so she figured out a way to make some "for practically nothing."

The really clever manager is the woman who manages unobtrusively—who can make a man's money go a long way without reminding him or the world of what a good job she is doing in stretching it.

A woman like that gets her satisfaction out of what she is able to achieve—not out of the compliments and praise she gets for her cleverness.

Whenever a woman lets you know what a clever manager she is, you can be sure of one thing. She isn't clever enough to keep quiet about it.

"Try And Stop Me"

THE feud between Harold Ross, brilliant but irascible editor of the New Yorker, and Raoul Fleischman, baking magnate who put up the capital that launched the magazine, is unending and famous. The late Russell Maloney, who was on the New Yorker staff for years, swore that when Fleischman and Ross passed each other in the hall, Ross would mutter, "Yeast," Fleischman would answer "Pest" —and never the brains did meet!

A New York lady, freshly arrived at the village of Truro, on Cape Cod, for a vacation, was endeavoring vainly to engage a taciturn native in conversation. Her bright remarks about the cottages, and dunes, and the views of the sea went unananswered. In desperation she hazarded, "What quaint, quaint people one sees around here." Unexpectedly the native replied, "You're absolutely right, ma'am," he said, "but thank God, they all go home after Labor Day."

Laff-A-Day

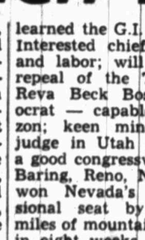

"Eat your spinach, Junior! Don't you want to grow up big and strong like your mommy?"

BY ROBERT C. RUARK

Goldbrick Artist Was Either Con-Man Or Genius In Hurry

NEW YORK, Jan. 26—The death of old Charlie Ponzi, one of the greatest short-time goldbrick artists of the century, blew me back into the clip-files the other day, just to check on the Boston Italian's crime. It was a crime that sent him to jail for three years, and exiled him later to South America, where he died.

RUARK

Old Charlie was a green goods peddler of the Jeff Peters stamp, but with certain extra inspiration. He collected 40,000 chumps, broke five banks, and kicked 15 million gold-backed dollars around Boston sidestreets. His gimmick was a 50 per cent return on invested money within 60 days.

No Agreement

Nobody ever reached a unanimous agreement on whether Charlie was a full-time crook or just a genius in a hurry, even though he went to jail. A great many of his suckers got their money back. His investment technique was sound, and is still in heavy vogue today. The technique was a simple exploitation of depressed currencies. Using the stout American dollar as a peg, he bought cheap monies abroad, and resold them at a profit in areas where government regulation stamped exchange so firmly he could make up to 300 per cent profit.

That is being done by 1949's money speculators daily, as they play ducks and drakes with the dollar abroad—buying their francs and pounds and pesetas in the free-currency zones, and swapping them back at vast profits in the controlled areas. It is done by smuggler, courier, bank draft, friendship, and export-import, where the commodity is bought cheap and sold high. It is good business.

THAT'S what Ponzi was doing, back in 1919, and he only made one big mistake. He suckered his first funds on a pure swindle basis, and paid off the early gulls with the income from the latent chumps. The theory is that you can pay off the contributions of the early subscribers with the donations of the late-in-line—and that somewhere, out of interim profit, you can catch up sufficient slack to balance your books. But Charlie never caught up the slack.

If Mr. Ponzi's enthusiasm hadn't dashed off with him, he'd probably have been operating out of Wall St. until today. But a mino rerror he committed was a trespass on banking rights. Charlie's proposition looked so fool-proof, with the big bills overflowing the tills, and stuffed carelessly in wastebaskets, that the maddened investors staged runs on banks. Some of the cribs, also overenthusiastic in their investments, couldn't get the dough up. They flopped. It set up a righteous enmity toward the upstart Ponzi.

Profit Was Bigger

Viewed over a distance of 28 years, Ponzi's fancy pitch seems little more extra legally optimistic than the jawbone operation of at least one recent member of the automotive industry, except that Ponzi guaranteed a bigger, swifter profit. It violated no more principals of sound finance, and actually offered a more logical return of the speculative dove with the dollar in its bill.

Ponzi's sin was oversimplification of aim, bad bookkeeping, and wilful poaching on preserves where the gamekeepers wear white piping on their vests. He was going to exploit a fundamental dishonesty frankly, instead of clouding it up with whereases and other financial triple-talk. A short pause, to pay off the first suckers out of his own profits, very probably would have pushed him out of the swindler league into the pastures of the big brigans.

Still, when they stowed him away, there was mixed opinion about his guilt. The line between con-man and wizard has always been overlapped by a single hair.

Today's Thought

Choosing rather to suffer affliction with the people of God, than to enjoy the pleasures of sin for a season.—Hebrews 11:25.

* * *

Life is a place of service, and in that service one has to suffer a great deal that is hard to bear, but more often to experience a great deal of joy. But that joy can be real only if people look upon their life as a service, and have a definite object in life outside themselves and their personal happiness.—Tolstoi.

HIS MASTER'S NAME

LONDON (AP)—"Ting," Premier Attlee's tiny terrier, knows who's boss. The 12-year-old dog slipped out of 10 Downing Street and got mixed up with the feet of ministers arriving for a cabinet meeting. Perspiring police vainly chased her up and down. "Call Mr. Attlee," an amused bystander suggested. "Ting" pricked up her ears—and scooted inside.

Today's Journal Editorial

THE GROWING 'HOT CHECK' PROBLEM

Bankers, merchants and law enforcement officials agree that a "hot check" problem of growing seriousness has been developing for some time. The checks include outright forgeries which are becoming increasingly difficult to detect and those given by persons with insufficient or no funds at all on deposit.

Everyone apparently agrees also that the chief reason for the problem is the failure of merchants to be more careful in their acceptance of checks in whole or part payment for merchandise. They agree further that the problem can be expected to continue and grow until merchants take steps to limit this courtesy and convenience to patrons of established identities.

It would be an inconvenience to many persons if many business establishments had to tighten up their methods of handling checks. But they'll have to do it in self defense unless recent trends make a change for the better.

Comparisons Are Hit

He spoke of the American "plumbing neurosis," and said that large numbers of Americans were too quick to compare the rather rudimentary plumbing facilities of, say, India or southern France with those of their own country without evaluating the beauty, culture, or lore of these regions.

"Nothing is quite so offensive as unnecessary comparisons," he declared.

Dr. Peterson's humor, razor-sharp, won a warm response from an audience which was somewhat diminished by inclement weather. He was introduced by Dr. Clifford B. Jones.

The invocation for the occasion was offered by Dr. J. Ralph Grant, pastor of First Baptist church. Clarence Whiteside, president of the Knife and Fork club, presided.

Employment

Month	1947 Placements	1948 Placements
January	266	367
February	469	438
March	451	640
April	533	663
May	575	713
June	619	814
July	496	650
August	679	908
September	645	910
October	680	897
November	721	908
December	502	743

In January, the current month, only 456 placements have been made although five-sixths of month has passed.

Office Visits Climb

Visits to the office have shown a remarkable increase. O'Connell explains that the figures below do not indicate a given number of individuals, since each individual is counted as a "visitor" each time he returns to the office to seek work or aid.

Months of 1948	No. of Visits
January	4,507
February	5,319
March	3,907
April	3,655
May	3,943
June	3,391
July	2,930
August	3,434
September	3,274
October	3,000
November	3,647
December	5,561

Here again, in the current month, the increase is startling. Visits to date total 6,948. At best, this indicates an unusual number of unemployed persons.

The site of Washington, D. C., was selected in 1791 in a political deal. Northern state consented to the Potomac location in exchange for southern votes to have the national government pay debts incurred by state during the Revolution.

Truck Fire Is Fatal To Child

GOLDTHWAITE, Jan. 26. (AP)—A butane gas transport truck caught fire and burned here yesterday, burning a three-year-old girl to death and critically burning the child's mother.

Mrs. Millard Teague of Brady, Tex., was pulled from the burning cab by her husband, driver of the truck, and was taken to a Brownwood hospital. The Teagues' small daguhter was trapped in the burning truck cab and perished.

Highway Blocked Off

Teague was out of the cab while the truck's 4,000 gallons of gas were being unloaded into two storage tanks. He said the trucks' cutoff valve stuck, throwing gas on the truck's hot muffler.

Officers blocked off highway travel on state route 284 several hours until assured the continuing blaze would not endanger traffic. After the truck was destroyed the flames whipped over the storage tanks, one of which contained about 1,000 gallons when the unloading began. The other was empty. There were some estimates the blaze would continue for several days.

School Plans

sufficient school facilities elsewhere to care for the students involved, the school board indicated. Tentative estimates indicate that more high school units will be needed sometime within the next six or eight years, it was said.

Contracts Renewed

Before Mayor Rodgers left the meeting, his attention was called by Clyde Tatum, president of the board, to the need for a traffic light at Twenty-sixth and Jefferson near Roscoe Wilson school. The mayor promised that the matter would be called to the attention of the City commission, and reiterated the desire of the commission to co-operate with the school board in any way possible.

A short executive session of the board was held immediately after the regular meeting, in which the contracts of Superintendent Matthews and A. C. Jackson, school business manager for the past 24 years, were extended.

Matthews' contract was extended three years beyond July 1, when his present contract expires. Ishmael Hill, present director of elementary education, was named as assistant superintendent of schools.

Jackson, who asked that the board extend his contract for only one year, was granted his request. He told the board that he had served for the past 24 years "without any outside business interests," and that he believed "the best interests of the school district and of myself" do not warrant more than a quarter of a century in the same position.

The additional year beyond the expiration of his present contract on July 1, 1949, would, he said, give him an opportunity "to investigate the possibilities for other employment."

Routine business handled during the regular meeting included the approval of the superintendent's statistical report for the fourth month of school, approval of the monthly report of expenditures, and approval of the architect's preliminary plans for the proposed East Broadway school and Cottage school additions.

Summer school tuition fees were set and approved as follows: Grades 1 through 6, $10 per thirty-day term; grades 7 and 8, $9 for one course and $18 for two or more courses; and grades 9 through 12, $12 per one-half unit of credit.

Dr. J. G. Morris was named to act as school physician from February through the end of the school term.

The board approved the retirement of Miss Beulah Starnes, and accepted the resignations of Mrs. Olive Huff Deavours of Guadalupe school, R. Lloyd Neelley of P. F. Brown school, and Mrs. Marjorie M. Brashear, school nurse.

Leaves of absence were approved for Mrs. D. M. Hopper of Sanders school for educational purposes, and for Mrs. J. Neuel Bryan of J. T. Hutchinson school at her doctor's recommendation.

The following appointments were approved: Walter F. Latta, P. F. Brown school; Mrs. Carrie Reid, Guadalupe school; E. E. Hancock, science teacher at J. T. Hutchinson school; Roy H. Hendrix, social science teacher at J. T. Hutchinson school; Mrs. Johanna W. Jones, Cottage school; and Mrs. Eliza J. Dodson, Dunbar school.

In addition to Superintendent Matthews, Jackson, and Tatum, the following board members were present at the meeting: Glenn Woody, G. C. Dowell, W. H. Evans, M. M. Ewing, C. H. Hamilton and E. J. Parsons.

England has some 8000 parish councils.

Lag In County Dime Campaign Continues

Lubbock county's March of Dimes campaign continues to lag, a Tuesday night report disclosed.

With the campaign half complete, officials in charge of the drive pointed out that less than one fourth of the minimum goal of $12,000 had been contributed. The weather was held partially to blame because of the number of persons not in town who might contribute to containers placed in stores throughout the city.

The campaign fund contributions totaled only $2,259.50 Tuesday night with only 321 letters out of more than 17,000 mailed to Lubbock county residents returned.

Containers to receive cards given school children for contributions the past two days were placed in the schools throughout the city Tuesday and this move is expected to swell the total. The cards permit school children to contribute from one to five dimes toward the campaign to furnish aid to children stricken with polio.

Co-chairmen Warlick Carr and Lester Grimes renewed their pleas for all-out aid by residents Tuesday night, pointing out that the county chapter received some $8,000 from the National Foundation in aid last year although sending little more than $3,000 to the National Foundation.

Meanwhile, ticket sales for the President's Balls to be conducted at Lubbock Supper club, Cotton Club and Hotel Lubbock next Monday night continue to be sold at $1.20 a person. Members of the Exchange club, sponsors of the Dimes campaign, the Business and Professional Women's club, and Sigma Alpha and Beta Sigma Phi sororities are selling the tickets.

Hollywood's Irene Hopes She Has Answers On What Women Will Parade In This Spring

By YVONNE WINSLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 26.—What will you wear this spring?

Irene, at her spring fashion showing today, hopes she had some of the answers.

Taffeta is dominant. It is used by itself or combined with net, wool, crepe or white embroidery.

Shirring appears repeatedly as either the main decorative emphasis or merely a lush detail. Panels of shirring over the hips, around the waist, on the bodice of an evening gown, or as a touch at the neckline are popular.

Rounded, plunging, and portrait necklines and jutting collars continue last year's fashion trend. The decollete even finds its way to the casual dresses, a black faille dinner suit, and a navy coat dress.

Suits have a rounded effect at the hemline of the jacket and skirt. Shoulders are natural but not drooping. Suit details include slit cuffs and occasionally a back slit in the jacket.

Scalloped and uneven hemlines, lower in the back than the front, also petal skirts, lend femininity to the collection. Button and bows are used for "fashion rather than function." Which is also, in part, the story of the "silhouetted" underslip.

Navy Chief Color

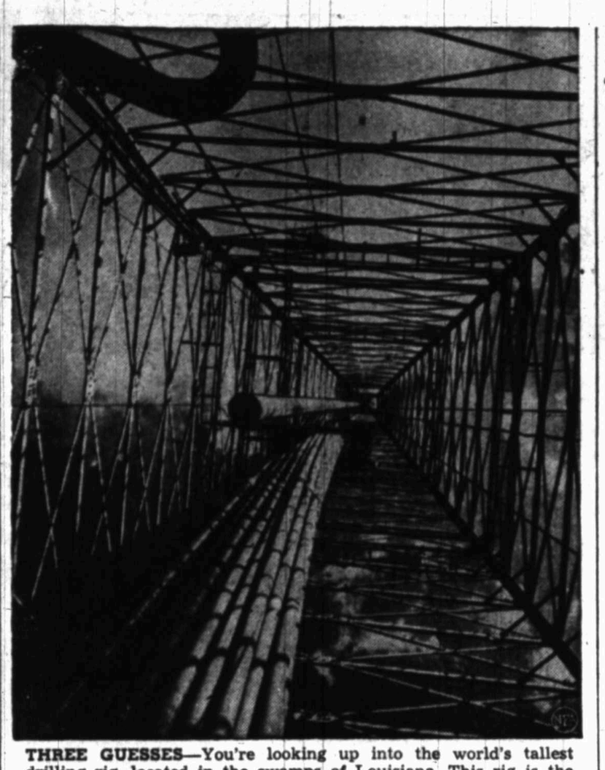

Navy heads the color lineup, with champagne (beige), and gray doing their bit. Green chimes in occasionally and crisp, white touches emphasize that it is a spring collection.

Combination interests are a shaded blue and green chiffon dinner dress and a navy blue suit with coral lapels.

Scarfs and stoles attached to the dress and fastened to the arm or hanging free are featured for evening.

An accessory of interest is the fan, one of marabou and another, more demure in size, of white net sprinkled with brilliants.

India needs "colossal quantities" of cement to repair Ganges River flood damage in Cawnpore Province.

THREE GUESSES—You're looking up into the world's tallest drilling rig, located in the swamps of Louisiana. This rig is the most powerful ever assembled, and is designed to drill 18,000 feet into the earth in a search for oil. That pipe you see suspended inside the rig is 135 feet long.

Church Group Names Officers At Meet

HOUSTON, Jan. 26. (AP)—Mrs. Starr Kealhofer of the Church of the Good Shepherd in Austin was elected president yesterday of the executive board of the associatied women of the Episcopal diocese of Texas.

Other officers named at the closing business session of the 48th annual meeting:

Mrs. Sidney Clark of St. John's church in Columbus, vice president of the Southwest convocation; Mrs. Joe N. Davis of St. Phillips church in Palestine, vice president of the Northeast convocation; Mrs. Thomas Hale of St. James church in Houston, vice president of the Central covnocation; Mrs. Benjamin Phillips of Trinity church in Galveston, treasurer.

Committee chairwomen include Miss Patty Williams of Trinity church in Marshall, parliamentarian and constitution; Mrs. Alvin T. Chalk of Christ church in Nacogdoches, devotional; Mrs. Stanley Smith of All Saints church, Austin, altar guild.

Mrs. Alice Bruce Currlin of Trinity church in Houston was named a representative of the business and professional women's group. Members at large are Mrs. Taylor B. Gerke of St. Paul's church in Kilgore and Mrs. Sam B. Lyons of St. Mark's church in Beaumont.

Hold Your Hats! Hutton Picks 10 Men With Most Sex Appeal

BY BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 26 — Hold onto your hats—here comes our first "10 best" list of the year.

The conductor is Betty Hutton and she is picking the 10 men with the most sex appeal. You'll realize it's an unusual selection when you see that Winston Churchill heads the list.

Here are Betty's selections and comments:

Winston Churchill. "I never met him, but he has great appeal in his voice. It's not exactly sexy, but he has a command that makes women stop and listen."

Bing Crosby. "He's not an actor. He does everything the way he plays golf—free and easy."

Gen. George Marshall. "His integrity appeals to me."

Jack Benny. "He's brilliant and a big-hearted guy. He always gives the other performer a break."

Montgomery Clift and John Lund. "They kill me."

Producer Buddy Desylva. "He knows more about show business than any man I know."

Gen. Ike Eisenhower. "He's a solid guy."

For her other two choices, Betty picked her doctor and her husband, "who is such a wonderful anchor for me."

"Band leaders and movie stars may be the ideal of sex appeal to kids," she declared, "but not for me anymore."

Low-Flying Student Gets Suspended Fine

DALLAS, Jan. 26 (AP)—A Denton Divinity student who flew low over the Cotton Bowl during the New Year's football game has been fined $50. But the fine was suspended.

Jack Allison Gray, 17, told Corporation Court Judge Frank C. O'Brien yesterday that he did not know there was a city ordinance prohibiting flying over Dallas lower than 2,500 feet. He said he complied with CAA regulations.

Gray was arrested by H. C. Kockos, Dallas flying policeman.

It is said that hair will stretch one-fourth of its own length.

RELIEF AT LAST For Your COUGH

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)
