

Memphis Democrat

THE VOICE OF THE UPPER RED RIVER VALLEY

YOUR HOME PAPER

WEEKLY DEMOCRAT EST. 1907
DAILY DEMOCRAT EST. 1934

Good Afternoon

Why, inquires a magazine, do wives go to Reno? We thought it was to get a permanent waiver on husbands.
—Dallas News.

MEMPHIS, HALL COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, JUNE 20, 1935. 12 PAGES PRICE 5 CENTS

No Killed, Nine Hurt by Tornado

Associated Press
OK, June 20.—Two were killed and at least nine were injured, numerous homes were demolished and property was damaged badly by a tornado that struck in the county late yesterday.

The storm was W. T. Easter, wife, living southwest of the city, who was killed. Fifty families were rendered homeless. The storm struck the city at 4:15 p.m. and lasted about 15 minutes. The storm was a cyclonic velocity of 100 miles an hour. The storm struck the city at 4:15 p.m. and lasted about 15 minutes. The storm was a cyclonic velocity of 100 miles an hour. The storm struck the city at 4:15 p.m. and lasted about 15 minutes. The storm was a cyclonic velocity of 100 miles an hour.

TESTIFIES

Ewing Y. Mitchell, assistant secretary of commerce, testified yesterday that the department had received information that a "cesspool" of wrong-doing existed in the shipping board bureau as a committee.

Services Yesterday for Eli Youth

Services were held yesterday at Lakeview for Dalton, 16-year-old son of Mr. James Seagraves, of near services were held at the Baptist Church, conducted by Rev. Ray Brister. The funeral was in the Lakeview with Hodge's Funeral home in charge.

Walter, Bob Vaughn, Vaughn, Leon Parrier in Vaughn. Those in flowers were Joan Vivian Snowden, Jeannette, Ernestine Tittle, Vaughn and Ethelyn El-

South died Wednesday at local hospital, following illness. He is survived by his wife and three brothers.

GRADUATION OF ADULT GROUP PLANNED

Exercises Will Be Held Here Next Tuesday

Adult education classes will hold their graduating exercises here next Tuesday night, Claron McMurry, supervisor of Memphis classes, announced this morning.

More than 100 adult pupils are to receive certificates, he stated. The exercises will be held at the junior high school auditorium beginning at 8:15 o'clock. The program is incomplete, but it will be announced soon, McMurry stated. It will be short.

The adult education program is scheduled to come to an end on June 27. No information concerning the extension of the program has been received here.

Hall County entered the program eight months ago, rating as one of the leading counties in the state in this work. At that time, the county secured 60 classes.

It is completing the program with 54 classes, considered a high average of classes maintained throughout the period.

LAYING OUT OF CCC CAMP STARTED

This Picket Had Real 'Drag' With Cops

Lumberjacks famed for their "nothing barred" style of warfare learned a new one in this clash between Oregon state police and pickets stationed at a Forest Grove, Ore., sawmill, in the long drawn out strike in the northwest. Police introduced the "dragout" to remove this militant picket from the scene, enroute to the patrol wagon, with the trooper bringing up the rear carrying a formidable shield for emphasis.

EXPECTS TO LET CONTRACT IN TWO WEEKS

Engineer Makes Final Decision on Location

The laying off of building locations, roads, etc., on the proposed CCC camp site at the Hall County Fair Grounds got under way here this morning.

The contract for actual construction of the camp is expected to be let "within the next two weeks."

Lieut. John W. Burgess, CCC assistant construction and utility officer, arrived in Memphis this morning from Oklahoma City and immediately started to work on details of the camp to be included in the construction contract.

Site of Camp

The camp was being laid out in the northwest corner of the fair grounds site, running along the south side of East Noel street. The camp itself will face the east, according to Burgess' plans.

All obstacles confronting actual construction apparently had been cleared away.

Lieut. Burgess expects to complete his work today and leave to make his report at headquarters in Oklahoma City. Instructions to bidding contractors will be sent out from Oklahoma City, Burgess stated, and he expected that the contract would be let "within the next two weeks."

FRANCE TO MEET NAVY CHALLENGE

By Associated Press
PARIS, June 20.—French officials said privately today that France intends to meet Germany's naval challenge by strengthening France's fleet "as much as necessary."

The French view is said to be that the new Anglo-German naval agreement, permitting Germany to build her fleet 35 per cent as large as the British, really cancelled the Washington and Versailles treaties, and that "France's hands are free."

WEALTH PLAN IS REJECTED BY COMMITTEE

Senate Finance Body Refuses To Add to Resolution

By Associated Press
WASHINGTON, June 20.—The Senate Finance Committee today refused to add any of (Continued on page 4)

SWEETWATER CHILD DIES AFTER STRUCK BY TRAIN

By Associated Press
SWEETWATER, June 20.—Little Opal Kiser, 17 months old, who toddled into the path of a Southern Pacific freight train Tuesday while her mother stood helplessly by, succumbed to her injuries late yesterday.

CLARENDON MAN DROWNS WHILE FISHING

Ed Barnes, 52, Loses Life After Boat Capsizes

By Associated Press
CLARENDON, Texas, June 20.—Ed Barnes, 52, was drowned shortly after 6 o'clock Wednesday evening when a boat in which he and I. O. Nobles, also of Clarendon, were fishing capsized in Johnson's lake four miles east of Clarendon.

Nobles, who was also thrown in the water, was dragged to the bank by a boy from Lelia Lake whose name was not learned and was revived by artificial respiration. Barnes, whose body was not recovered for more than an hour after the accident, was also given resuscitation treatment but failed to respond.

The two men were accompanied by their young sons, Joe Barnes and Billie Nobles, but the boys were not in the boat when it overturned.

Yawl Through With Ocean Voyaging

"Never again!" Twenty days on the rolling Atlantic in a 15-foot yawl cured Eric Johnson (right) and Carl Helms of maritime bravado for all time, they insisted on docking at New York, enroute from Bermuda to Toronto. They were blown into the ocean, the yawl was capsized, and they outrode a two-day storm during the perilous crossing.

NEW ATHLETIC FIELD APPROVED

Hall County relief office last night received approval project calling for the construction of a new athletic field.

At the same time, the Memphis School Board was negotiating for an 11-acre plot adjoining Highway 5 on the north side of the city.

The proposed park will be sufficiently large to provide ball field, baseball diamond, track and parking space for the grounds.

According to Superintendent W. C. Davis, the new park will provide adequate facilities for every out-door recreation of the school and entire community throughout the county.

Mr. Potts, president of the school board, announced that negotiation for the land is expected to be completed this week-end, and actual construction will be started immediately.

Child Bride Held As Woman Slayer

An unwelcome marriage into which she was forced while employed by Mrs. Dorothy D'Augustino, 26, was given by Mrs. Angelina Mangrate (above), 15, as the reason for her killing of Mrs. D'Augustino when they met on a street in Philadelphia. The child wife said Mrs. D'Augustino had again urged her to return to the unwanted husband.

Woman Shot by Negro Succumbs

By Associated Press
FORT WORTH, June 20.—Mrs. Frances Copeland, who was shot last Thursday night by one of two negroes when she ran to assist her husband, died today in a hospital.

Several suspects have been arrested but officers are unable to connect them with the shooting. The negroes robbed George Copeland of $1.50 and wounded him in the arm.

High Court Hears Hauptmann Plea

By Associated Press
TRENTON, June 20.—Attorneys for Bruno Richard Hauptmann, condemned to die for the murder of baby Charles A. Lindbergh Jr., argued in New Jersey's high court today that he was unfairly tried.

The pleas were heard by 14 judges—five of them lay members of the bench—of the Court of Errors and Appeals behind locked doors.

Hauptmann's brief charged the state wrongfully used varying theories as to how the Lindbergh baby met its death, called the trial summation of Attorney General David Wilentz "inflammatory," charged he "bulldozed the

Today's Almanac

June 20th
Congress adopts the great seal of the United States.
The French family flees from Paris.
The Savannah steamboat to Liverpool.
President Hoover's moratorium.

Relief Assistance Being Restricted

By Associated Press
AUSTIN, June 20.—Full-time employees may not receive assistance from county relief officers, regardless of the fact that in some instances the wage earned may be insufficient to provide subsistence requirements for the worker and his family, it has been announced by Mrs. Val M. Keating, director of the social service division of the Texas Relief Commission.

Case supervisors throughout the state were notified that it is contrary to the policy of the Federal Emergency Relief Administration to supplement the wages of full-time employees with relief funds. Case workers were instructed to examine their rolls and drop cases wherein the breadwinner is employed on a full-time basis.

The Weather

By Associated Press
WEST TEXAS—Generally fair tonight and Friday.
EAST TEXAS—Increasing cloudiness tonight; Friday partly cloudy to cloudy.

by Harry GRAYSON

Rogers Hornsby agrees with Dizzy Dean, who is one of his tantrums the other afternoon, further ranked his St. Louis Cardinals teammates and public by expressing the opinion that the New York Giants were a breeze.

"Five pitchers in place of the old four and Dick Bartell," elucidates Hornsby. "The Giants having Bud Parmelee for the full route this time perhaps would have clinched it, and the uncovering of Clydell Castleman makes it fairly certain."

Hornsby still believes that the Cleveland Indians are the most rugged American League individualists, but doubts that they'll win. The Rajah asserts that their only weakness is catching. He expects Detroit and New York to fight it out in the stretch, and suspects that Buck Newsom's knee injury may prevent Washington from making a very serious bid.

Hornsby definitely places the St. Louis American League club in the class of baseball hucksters in explaining the sale of Newsom. Like their National League rivals, the Cardinals, the Browns are doing very well in that line, but not nearly so well in the league standings.

"A profit of $32,500 on a pitcher of Newsom's caliber was all we could expect," says the boss of the Browns.

The Browns drafted Newsom from Los Angeles for $7500.

Coleman and Solters Worthwhile Additions

Hornsby professes to believe that the Browns are stronger for the numerous deals made since last winter. They probably are outside of the box, and in addition to the players acquired have $50,000 in the bank as the result of the barters.

Hornsby got Luke Sewell and $50,000 for Bump Hadley, who couldn't locate the plate with a receiver's equipment a good deal of the time. Sewell went to the White Sox for $6000 more.

In their exchanges the Browns landed Ed Coleman and Julius Solters, a pair of young outfielders who are built for wear and tear, pack power at the plate, and who can go get 'em and throw.

In addition to Solters, the St. Louis outfit got $10,000 from the Boston Red Sox for Oscar Melillo, a second baseman well baked under the Missouri sun.

They obtained Merritt Cain along with Coleman from the AAAA's for Harry Blaholder, a pitching veteran.

Bruce Campbell went to Cleveland for Bob Weiland and Johnny Burnett and $7500. Hornsby figures that he got $7500 the best of that one.

Hornsby calls Hemsley Best Catcher in Game.

Hornsby believes that the best deal he has made since assuming

Numerous Injuries Failed To Halt New Champion

This is the second of six articles on the phenomenal rise of James J. Braddock to the heavyweight championship of the world.

By HARRY GRAYSON

Sports Editor, NEA Service
NEW YORK, June 20.—The first heavyweight from New Jersey to win the title, and the first Irishman to wear the crown since the days of Gene Tunney, had a long, hard row to hoe before his vision born back in 1918 became reality.

That year James J. Braddock wished with all his 12-year-old heart to become a fitting successor to Jack Dempsey as throne-sitter of the big fellows' division.

His debut in the pro ring was made at 17. There was no money in boxing as an amateur, so Brother Joe, his handler, decided to put him in the money class.

Young Braddock made his pro debut against George Deschner. He scored a knockout in the second of a six-round bout at Ridgefield Park, N. J., and collected $35 as his purse.

Business being what it was, Gould sought a spar mate for his Harry Galfund.

Braddock, a big, skinny kid, shy and retiring, was working out as Joe entered the gym looking for material.

management of the Browns in August, 1933, was completed when he purchased Rolly Hemsley from Cincinnati for $7500.

Hornsby considers the fleet-footed and sharp-hitting Hemsley the best catcher in either league—a more accomplished workman than Mickey Cochrane, Bill Dickey, or Rick Ferrell.

Several clubs seek Hemsley despite the fact that Rolly lived up to his reputation as a playboy a time or two last season.

Hornsby is reported to have asked the Cleveland club $75,000 for Hemsley's contract.

"Based on the $40,000 the Red Sox paid the Browns for Ferrell, Hemsley is worth $75,000, too," insists the Rajah.

Hornsby says the Browns have lost no money since he took command, which testifies to his business acumen.

The late Phil Ball dropped more than a million in trying to put the Browns across in St. Louis. After one particularly bad season, Ball's partner, Harry Sinclair, asked him what he had lost.

"About $250,000," replied Ball. "Why don't you drop your baseball?" asked Sinclair.

"What did your horses cost you?" inquired Ball.

"Oh, about $350,000," said Sinclair. "Why don't you drop your horses?" countered Ball.

Tom Yawkey, of the Red Sox, is the only remaining example of that kind of baseball man, willing to pay high for a ride on his favorite hobby.

Jimmy Braddock was a pretty husky baby, having weighed 17 pounds at birth. Here he is decked out in all his infant finery.

"What's your name? What do you weigh?" Gould asked the youngster.

"Braddock," the kid replied, "and I think I weigh 162."

"Wanna box Galfund," Gould queried.

"Certainly," came the quick response.

Pais Through It All

"So Jimmy entered the ring against the class of Gould's stable. He speared Harry with some rights that made the latter wince. Gould sat up and took notice, and the result was that Braddock found himself under Joe's management.

These two have been together ever since—over a stretch of 10 years—suffering privations, earning nearly a quarter million dollars, squandering the fortune, and climbing back the road to success.

Gould and Braddock have made a wonderful combination. The former makes the matches and handles the business, the latter does the fighting.

Jimmy's first fight under the Gould banner was against Leo Dobson, for a $75 purse. Three years later, in 1929, he collected $28,000 for his end of the Tommy Loughran light-heavyweight titular tilt.

Braddock, in his early fights, demonstrated his ability to weather punishment under the most trying conditions.

Against Germany Heffer, he had a broken collarbone. It was not until after he knocked the skids from under Tuffy Griffith that the public learned he entered the ring with a swollen ankle, which he injured in road work a week before the scrap.

But Fate plays many funny tricks in the break-busting business, and the man who was scheduled to become practically a bum also was destined to become heavy weight champion of the world.

Travis Doc Kooz bathed it day and night to get the swelling down, but they had to place a sup- porter on it before Braddock could fight.

Sponge for Punishment

He fought with two broken ribs against Hans Birkie. He had a broken right hand in the Paul Swiderski go, which had been fractured and reset in a previous scrap with Joe Monte.

In the only knockout registered against him, the fight with Lou Scozza, the referee humanely stopped it because Braddock was bleeding like a stuck pig from one eye, and the cut required 11 stitches to close.

Such demonstrations of courage should have been the tipoff to the cocky Baer. Braddock had demonstrated he could take it, and Baer would have been a lot better off if he had realized that fact.

With his wounds healed, Braddock returned to fistic warfare, defeating Nando Tassi, and losing to Joe Sekyra. His greatest triumph came at the expense of Pete Latzo, whose jaw he broke in four places.

Between September, 1933, and the Griffin fight in June, 1934 Braddock again was forced to the sidelines because of another broken hand suffered in his fight with Abe Feldman.

Jimmy was present at the fight in which Max Baer whipped Primo Carnera for the heavyweight title. Little did he dream that he would some day face the man for whom he rooted.

Solemn-visaged was the new heavyweight champion when this picture was taken at the age of 9. He just had made his first communion.

Gould and Braddock have made a wonderful combination. The former makes the matches and handles the business, the latter does the fighting.

Jimmy's first fight under the Gould banner was against Leo Dobson, for a $75 purse. Three years later, in 1929, he collected $28,000 for his end of the Tommy Loughran light-heavyweight titular tilt.

Braddock, in his early fights, demonstrated his ability to weather punishment under the most trying conditions.

Against Germany Heffer, he had

a broken collarbone. It was not until after he knocked the skids from under Tuffy Griffith that the public learned he entered the ring with a swollen ankle, which he injured in road work a week before the scrap.

But Fate plays many funny tricks in the break-busting business, and the man who was scheduled to become practically a bum also was destined to become heavy weight champion of the world.

Travis Doc Kooz bathed it day and night to get the swelling down, but they had to place a sup- porter on it before Braddock could fight.

Sponge for Punishment

He fought with two broken ribs against Hans Birkie. He had a broken right hand in the Paul Swiderski go, which had been fractured and reset in a previous scrap with Joe Monte.

In the only knockout registered against him, the fight with Lou Scozza, the referee humanely stopped it because Braddock was bleeding like a stuck pig from one eye, and the cut required 11 stitches to close.

Such demonstrations of courage should have been the tipoff to the cocky Baer. Braddock had demonstrated he could take it, and Baer would have been a lot better off if he had realized that fact.

With his wounds healed, Braddock returned to fistic warfare, defeating Nando Tassi, and losing to Joe Sekyra. His greatest triumph came at the expense of Pete Latzo, whose jaw he broke in four places.

Between September, 1933, and the Griffin fight in June, 1934 Braddock again was forced to the sidelines because of another broken hand suffered in his fight with Abe Feldman.

Jimmy was present at the fight in which Max Baer whipped Primo Carnera for the heavyweight title. Little did he dream that he would some day face the man for whom he rooted.

At 12, Braddock was a messenger, as shown here. As such he read bulletins on the Dempsey-Willard fight, and decided to become a fighter.

Gould and Braddock have made a wonderful combination. The former makes the matches and handles the business, the latter does the fighting.

Jimmy's first fight under the Gould banner was against Leo Dobson, for a $75 purse. Three years later, in 1929, he collected $28,000 for his end of the Tommy Loughran light-heavyweight titular tilt.

Braddock, in his early fights, demonstrated his ability to weather punishment under the most trying conditions.

Against Germany Heffer, he had

a broken collarbone. It was not until after he knocked the skids from under Tuffy Griffith that the public learned he entered the ring with a swollen ankle, which he injured in road work a week before the scrap.

But Fate plays many funny tricks in the break-busting business, and the man who was scheduled to become practically a bum also was destined to become heavy weight champion of the world.

Travis Doc Kooz bathed it day and night to get the swelling down, but they had to place a sup- porter on it before Braddock could fight.

Sponge for Punishment

He fought with two broken ribs against Hans Birkie. He had a broken right hand in the Paul Swiderski go, which had been fractured and reset in a previous scrap with Joe Monte.

In the only knockout registered against him, the fight with Lou Scozza, the referee humanely stopped it because Braddock was bleeding like a stuck pig from one eye, and the cut required 11 stitches to close.

Such demonstrations of courage should have been the tipoff to the cocky Baer. Braddock had demonstrated he could take it, and Baer would have been a lot better off if he had realized that fact.

With his wounds healed, Braddock returned to fistic warfare, defeating Nando Tassi, and losing to Joe Sekyra. His greatest triumph came at the expense of Pete Latzo, whose jaw he broke in four places.

Between September, 1933, and the Griffin fight in June, 1934 Braddock again was forced to the sidelines because of another broken hand suffered in his fight with Abe Feldman.

Jimmy was present at the fight in which Max Baer whipped Primo Carnera for the heavyweight title. Little did he dream that he would some day face the man for whom he rooted.

Here is Braddock in his first climb up the ladder as a light-heavyweight. The picture was taken as he spent a vacation in Miami Beach, Fla., in 1929.

Gould and Braddock have made a wonderful combination. The former makes the matches and handles the business, the latter does the fighting.

Jimmy's first fight under the Gould banner was against Leo Dobson, for a $75 purse. Three years later, in 1929, he collected $28,000 for his end of the Tommy Loughran light-heavyweight titular tilt.

Braddock, in his early fights, demonstrated his ability to weather punishment under the most trying conditions.

Against Germany Heffer, he had

a broken collarbone. It was not until after he knocked the skids from under Tuffy Griffith that the public learned he entered the ring with a swollen ankle, which he injured in road work a week before the scrap.

But Fate plays many funny tricks in the break-busting business, and the man who was scheduled to become practically a bum also was destined to become heavy weight champion of the world.

Travis Doc Kooz bathed it day and night to get the swelling down, but they had to place a sup- porter on it before Braddock could fight.

Sponge for Punishment

He fought with two broken ribs against Hans Birkie. He had a broken right hand in the Paul Swiderski go, which had been fractured and reset in a previous scrap with Joe Monte.

In the only knockout registered against him, the fight with Lou Scozza, the referee humanely stopped it because Braddock was bleeding like a stuck pig from one eye, and the cut required 11 stitches to close.

Such demonstrations of courage should have been the tipoff to the cocky Baer. Braddock had demonstrated he could take it, and Baer would have been a lot better off if he had realized that fact.

With his wounds healed, Braddock returned to fistic warfare, defeating Nando Tassi, and losing to Joe Sekyra. His greatest triumph came at the expense of Pete Latzo, whose jaw he broke in four places.

Between September, 1933, and the Griffin fight in June, 1934 Braddock again was forced to the sidelines because of another broken hand suffered in his fight with Abe Feldman.

Jimmy was present at the fight in which Max Baer whipped Primo Carnera for the heavyweight title. Little did he dream that he would some day face the man for whom he rooted.

THE STANDING

TEXAS LEAGUE
Wednesday's Results
Tulsa 3, Galveston 1 game. Second game called third, rain.

San Antonio 1, Fort Worth 0
Beaumont 5, Dallas 3 game.

Oklahoma City 3, Houston 1
Standing

Clubs— W.
Galveston 41
Tulsa 34
Beaumont 35
Oklahoma City 37
Houston 38
San Antonio 28
Fort Worth 29
Dallas 20

Thursday's Schedule
Beaumont at Dallas.
San Antonio at Fort Worth.
Houston at Oklahoma City.
Galveston at Tulsa.

NATIONAL LEAGUE
Wednesday's Results
Boston 2-0, Chicago 1-0
Cincinnati at Brooklyn
Pittsburgh at New York
St. Louis at Philadelphia

Standing
Clubs— W.
New York 35
Pittsburgh 33
St. Louis 30
Chicago 28
Brooklyn 24
Cincinnati 21
Philadelphia 19
Boston 17

Thursday's Schedule
Pittsburgh at New York
Cincinnati at Brooklyn
Chicago at Boston
Chicago at St. Louis
St. Louis at Philadelphia

AMERICAN LEAGUE
Wednesday's Results
New York 13-7, Detroit 8-10
Washington 11-5, Boston 8-10
St. Louis 8-3, Philadelphia 4-10

Standing
Clubs— W.
New York 36
Chicago 37
Cleveland 30
Detroit 29
Boston 27
Washington 26
Philadelphia 21
St. Louis 16

Thursday's Schedule
Philadelphia at Chicago
Boston at St. Louis
New York at Detroit
Washington at Cleveland

SOUTHERN ASSOCIATION
Wednesday's Results
Atlanta 4-4, Memphis 6-4
Birmingham 4-4, Knoxville-Little Rock game.
New Orleans 6, Nashville 11

Thursday's Schedule
Atlanta at Birmingham
Memphis at Knoxville-Little Rock
New Orleans at Nashville

Hitting on High in Soccer

Harvard Well Coached

American Association

Harvard has 12 football coaches handling its various teams. Four mentors guide varsity activities; four direct the junior varsity; and a third quartet tutors the freshmen.

American Association

Wednesday's Results
St. Paul 4-1, Louisville 6-4.
Milwaukee-Toledo, wet grounds.
Kansas City 5, Columbus 7.
Minneapolis 6-6, Indianapolis 2-4.

Thursday's Schedule
St. Paul at Louisville
Milwaukee at Toledo
Kansas City at Columbus
Minneapolis at Indianapolis

BRITISH OPEN FAVORITES

Lawson Little

Henry Cotton

America's bid to win the British Open this year rests in brawny Lawson Little, left, recent winner of the British Amateur. Little will be shooting for the crown of Henry Cotton, right, winner last year. The Open will be staged on Muirfield course, Edinburgh, Scotland, June 24.

FINEST ON FAIRWAYS

JOYCE WETHERED

DEMONSTRATES HER OVERLAPPING GRIP
"BOBBY JONES CALLED THE SLENDER ENGLISH MISS NOW TOURING THIS COUNTRY AS A PROFESSIONAL THE GREATEST WOMAN GOLFER WHO EVER LIVED."

MISS WETHERED TAKES A COMFORTABLE PUTTING STANCE THAT HAS THE WEIGHT ON THE LEFT LEG. THE GRIP IS SIMILAR TO THAT EMPLOYED IN THE LONGER SHOTS.

PUBLIC LINKS GOLFERS MEET AT INDIANAPOLIS

By NEA Service
INDIANAPOLIS, June 20.—The fourteenth amateur public links golf championship will be staged here July 29-Aug. 3. The tournament will be played over the Charles E. Coffin course. A local boy—Dave Michael—will be the defending king.

THE EASE AND GRACE OF THE FOUR-TIME BRITISH CHAMPION'S STROKE IS SEEN IN HER FINISH OF HER SWING.

KRENZ

Photos by Cr. Day

This remarkable bit of soccer action is called "heading the ball" and whatever it may mean it's a spectacular sight, with these four athletic damsels off the ground, stretched in the air in an effort to reach their target. The girls are members of the University of California at Los Angeles soccer team—Marilyn Wessel, Dorothea Smithson, Margaret Martinis, and Elaine Wilkinson.

WOMAN'S CORNER

Florifying Yourself

LUCIA HART
(Staff Writer)
The flowers odors and scents that smell so good in the garden are the same scents that perfume the summer evenings. This is the time to put away the heavy scents and use more subtle varieties.

single flower types at Fort Worth, Oklahoma, Tulsa.

AL LEAGUE
day's Res... game called...

W. ... 41 ... 34 ... 35 ... 37 ... 38 ... 28 ... 29 ... 20 girls, there are small like wild summer shower or early in the morning leaves still are dew.

what perfumes never on clothing. If you skin, the odor be subtle and at the other. If on coats, it gets stale and by the morning ear, in the hol-an atomizer—and is—insist on one tight top. Otherame will evaporate whatever is left will hol. If you can't a really good at-our the liquid out- attached to a drop- at perfume on with you waste a good

BSTER

L. COCHRANE
at Chicago, L. J. Robertson, Louis, their home with a Detroit night.

at Cleveland returned home short visit. He has ASSOC in New Mexico for ay's Res months and is now emphasis in Oklahoma.

4-4, Ch Marvin King and Mrs. here Sunday. the Rob line and Beatrice Mrs here last week.

6, Nash education class on-mallow toast Friday of this communi- Missionary talks Sunday night.

Henry has returned a month visit in Exie Sweatt and Divview community the home of Mr. Sweatt here Sun-

L. B. Robertson Mrs. L. P. Alexander were Memphis visi-

Trastle, accom- George Roberts the Hugh Steenson. for Dallas, Miss wait her grandmother-atives in Fort is here visiting in Mr. and Mrs. J. B. was a visitor

Will Allen and Flannigan, ar- from Tyler and Saturday motting as Mr. and Mrs. T. M. with their daugh-

Allen and Mary Ann had been guests of Harrison, for sev- Tom Bob Harrison morning for a va-

Colorado Springs, National Park and Interest. Mr. Aled in Memphis. Lon Webster and left yesterday for Fort Worth after their parents and Mr. and Mrs. Joe

Mr. and Mrs. E. N. were accompanied Webster, who will in shorthand at ness College.

Sore Gums quick, certain, and this most dis-just get a bottle HERHEA REMEDY tested. LETO'S is

Tomorrow's Menu

BREAKFAST Halves of cantaloupe, cereal, cream, coddled eggs, toast, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON: Jellyed veal loaf, creamed new peas, fresh fruit salad, reheated rolls, milk, tea.

DINNER: Vegetable plate, toasted cheese sandwiches, peach shortcake, milk, coffee.

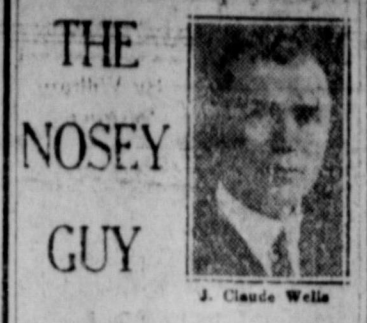

Tell Bride Is Honoree At Shower

By MRS. JIM PHILLIPS
TELL, Texas, June 18.—Mrs. Delbert Seal, a recent bride, was named honoree at a miscellaneous shower given Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. T. H. Brown, with Miss Joyce Wygal and Miss Rudine Sheld as assistant hostesses.

As the guests arrived they were asked to register in the bride's book.

A short program consisting of two vocal numbers and a reading. At the time, the bride went on a treasure hunt where she found many lovely gifts.

Punch was served to Mesdames Eddie Johnson, J. L. Cro-niache, R. D. Ratterson, C. E. Seal, W. T. Smith, L. N. John-son, Hughes, W. J. Calloway, Jim Diggs, C. F. Smith, J. D. At-kinson, D. W. Ashley, Lee Diggs, W. E. Garrison, J. L. Phillips, H. A. Smith, Audy Johnson, O. T. Rothwell, W. R. Greenroy, J. C. Tate, T. L. Garrison, W. M. Richardson, L. W. Cato, A. G. Woods, Nell Conn, J. A. Stinnett, J. D. Hudlo, J. E. Sheld, and Misses Melta Garrison, Bernia Bennett, Marian Hudlo, Lareta Woods, Lucille Garrison, Vallie McFarridge, Muri Faulkner, Lou-ise Seal, Helen Atkinson, Willie Grace Crain, Juanita Stinnett, Minnie Lee Seal, Bobbie Stinnett, Bessie Osborn, Maye Staggs, Wil-lie Myrtle Mitchell, Margie Lee Conner and the hostesses.

THE NOSEY GUY
J. Claude Wells

There is but one Boy Scout troop in Memphis, when there ought to be half a dozen troops. The boys are here—fine manly young fellows who need men as leaders. The trouble with Scouting is not lack of boys—it's lack of leaders who have the interest of boys at heart and willing to sacrifice some of their time to Scout-ing.

An editorial published recently in the Borger Herald on the sub-ject of Scouting is so timely that it is given in full below:

Practically all money raised for Boy Scouting remains in the area where it is raised. The national council receives about one per cent.

There is in the United States now one Scout executive for some-where around 1000 boys. The pay of the executives is extremely small in proportion to the work they do.

The professional Scouter han-dles no funds. Each Scout council is a laymen's organization. The funds are handled and disbursed by the best laymen in the area who have been elected to form the executive board. Laymen deter-mine the pay of the executive in each area.

Scouting has been described artly as the "wonder program of the century."

And Scouting probably operat-ed more economically than any other organization in all the coun-try, produces results. For exam-ple—

In the year before Scouting was organized in Sapulpa, Okla., 100 boys were arrested there. Eleven boys were sent to the re-form school. Twenty-three per cent of boys belonged to Sunday school. A small percentage of the boys completed high school educa-tion.

Five years later in Sapulpa there were no boys arrested. In the last

Yankee in First Test Abroad

Heeling in the stiff wind that drives them swiftly across the swelling sea, Gerard Lambert's yacht Yankee pursues T. O. M. Sopwith's En-davour toward the starting line in the American boat's first race in English waters. Though trailing here, the Yankee went on to win, the only one of four racers that escaped disaster in the heavy weather. Endeavor losing her mast four years only one boy had been sent to the reform school. Seven-ty-nine per cent of the boys be-longed to a Sunday school. Fifty per cent of the boys graduated from high school.

All of Scouting is for the boy. He gets, in service and training, all of it. If a boy is given money or equipment free of charge, no-thing has been done for him. A Scout earns his own way. He is trained to keep down the over-head.

Scouting is chartered by the

Locals and Personals

T. L. Colvin and daughter, Beatrice, of Turkey were Memphis visitors yesterday.

Miss Helen Madden, who has spent two weeks here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Mad-den, leaves today for Chicago where she will attend the North-western University for the remain-der of the summer, working on her M. A. degree. Miss Madden has been instructor in the Gen-eseo, Ill., public school for the past eight years.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. McGlocklin left yesterday for Turkey where they will remain during the sum-mer. They have lived in Memphis a number of years. On account of

Mr. McGlocklin's failing health they plan to live among their children.

Bryan Weatherby and Miss Laura Hook arrived yesterday from Amarillo, and Miss Hook, in company with Sharon Weatherby who had spent ten days here with her aunt, Mrs. Adrian Odom, re-turned to Amarillo late in the af-ternoon. Mr. Weatherby spent un-till this morning with his sister, Mrs. Odom, leaving for Wellin-gton.

Mrs. J. B. Tidwell and daughter, Mary Lile, of Waco, arrived today and will be house guests of Mrs. C. W. Broome for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Denny of Childress visited his mother, Mrs. B. F. Denny, here yesterday.

NOW is the Ideal Time for a Vacation in Florida

Climatic conditions are best at this time of the year. Smooth straight roads for motoring. Continued cool seaside breezes for comfort and restful slumber in...

MIAMI

DALLAS PARK HOTEL

Special Summer Rates

ROOMS WITH BATH FROM $2.50

DOUBLE WITH BATH FROM $4.00

CORNER BEDROOM LIVING ROOM AND BATH FROM $5.00

WRITE FOR ILLUSTRATED BOOKLET

Packed like silks...it takes patience and care to prepare Turkish tobacco for Chesterfield Cigarettes

Size, color, texture, condition... all these have something to do with aroma and flavor

Leaf by leaf, the sun-ripened Turkish tobacco is selected or re-jected to get just the right kind for Chesterfield's milder, better taste.

And just as much care is taken to pack the tobacco to preserve the delicate aroma during its 4000 mile journey to this country.

So important is the prepara-tion of Turkish tobacco in mak-ing Chesterfields, that Liggett & Myers have their own modern leaf bandling plants in seven important tobacco centers of Turkey and Greece.

"Selection station" in Turkey where Turkish tobacco leaves are weighed and classified to judge their quality.

OUT OUR WAY

By "Cowboy" Williams

Summer Sweethearts

By Mabel McElliot © 1935, NEA Service, Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY
KATHARINE STRYKHURST,
20 and beautiful, allows her emotions to rule when she marries MICHAEL HEATHEROE, young riding instructor who comes into a title and fortune. Katharine's father is rich and her stepmother snobbish.

The night following his marriage Michael is injured in a traffic accident and when he regains consciousness his memory is impaired. He forgets the marriage. Katharine, unaware of this, believes he has deserted her. She plans to leave for New Mexico and her friend, VIOLET MERSE, agrees to engage a lawyer in her absence to arrange an annulment of the marriage.

DR. JOHN KAYE, an old friend, sees Katharine off on her trip. He tells her he has always loved her.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXXV

Violet Merse was wedding her rosebud when she saw Michael ride by. It was the first time she had caught a glimpse of him since his accident and since Katharine's amazing disclosure. Katharine had been gone two days now. Stanley Merse was taking steps toward the end the girl was now so anxious to attain—the annulment of that astonishing marriage ceremony a few weeks before.

"The man must be a most horrible villain," Violet said to herself, prodding at the earth about the roots of a Dorothy Perkins. "And yet—he doesn't look like one in the least." She was rather ashamed of her earlier enthusiasm for Michael.

The whole thing was definitely queer. First the boy had engaged himself to Sally Moon. That made him appear a fortune hunter. Then he had run off with Katharine on what seemed now a most cruel impulse, only to behave as though the whole thing had never happened at all.

Violet stood up, brushing her earth-stained hands impatiently together. She ought to go to see him, ought to find out how he stood in the matter before Stan turned the affair over to Adrian, their discreet lawyer friend.

She washed her hands at the sink in the gleaming small kitchen and called to Lavinia who was on the porch, shelling peas for the children's lunch, that she was going to walk up the road a bit. Michael's horse had been headed in the direction of the riding club. And he had been alone. It would be a good time to talk to him.

As Violet Merse turned into the lane that ran beside the old shingled house she could see the tall figure of the man she sought, standing in the doorway of the stable. A blue September haze hung over everything. Yellow leaves here and there drifted down on the muddy paths. There were wild asters and golden rod blazing in the meadows. Sumach made a scarlet tapestry on the hills.

"Good morning!" Michael whirled, his eyes clouded, his muscles taut.

"Good morning," he said without smiling. These days were difficult ones to be got through. Strange people were always coming up to him and being brisk and hearty. He had to fend them off as best he could.

Great Britain's 'Man of Hour'

Helmsman of the British government, Stanley Baldwin, Conservative party leader and Great Britain's new premier, shown above in his most recent picture as, unattended, he left the House of Commons for Buckingham Palace. Baldwin succeeded James Ramsay MacDonald pending the result of the British general election.

Something in the wariness of

THE ADDRESS OF DISTINCTION

ASTOR HOTEL

TIMES SQUARE NEW YORK

ROOMS FROM $10

AND A. MUSCHENHEIM

his attitude put Violet off. All at once she was conscious that her errand lacked dignity. It was not for her to meddle in Katharine's affairs. She said rather lamely,

"About the horses—for the little girl. She hasn't been riding lately."

Michael bowed. His tone was formal, aloof.

"Do you mind seeing Jerry, my assistant, about that? I haven't been well lately..." He passed his hand over his eyes and, with another stiff little bow, went into the house.

Jerry was at her elbow. Somehow Violet managed to say something coherent to him, to walk away. But her brain was whirling.

"Good heavens!" she cried to herself. "What if that should be the explanation of it all? What if he doesn't really know what happened?"

You heard of such things. To the healthy person such a possibility seemed extremely far-fetched. But Violet knew it was not out of the bounds of reason.

He had been struck on the head, perhaps. The newspaper account had said "multiple bruises." Who could tell what damage had been done?

She walked swiftly toward her own house, eager to put through a telephone call to her husband.

"Stan, have you got in touch with Adrianson yet?"

His slow, reassuring voice answered her. "Have an appointment with him at two. Why? Anything happen?"

She dared not talk over the telephone. Everyone said the exchange operators listened. "Can you postpone it?" she asked. "I thing I've hit on something. It may be a hunch. I don't know."

"I don't understand why you want me to do it so quietly," pouted Sally Moon. "Old Ruthie down at the Inncock News has been calling up every day to see if I've any date to give her. She's anxious to run the story of the wedding, but she doesn't dare say a word about it as long as I tell her to hold off. And probably everyone's talking about me."

"I have my reasons," Mr. Moon said solemnly. If Sally weren't so wrapped up in her own affairs, he thought, she would be able to figure out the problem for herself. He wanted all the votes he could get for village trustee and the election was next week. With a big wedding going on and Sally insisted on getting all her flowers and catering things from the city instead of patronizing the local tradespeople (who were sure to be antagonized), the election would be certain to go against him. He knew Inncock. He hadn't been president of the bank for 20 years without learning a good deal about the way the minds of the villagers worked.

He had several reasons for not telling Sally this. The first was that she would not consider the argument weighty enough. She had her own way of over-riding all his objections. The second was that an air of mystery impressed her more than straightforwardness. She was inclined to be a bit mysterious herself. "Sneaky," Mr. Moon called it. Like her mother's people. None of the Moons had been sneaky—all open and aboveboard like himself. Still, a man had to protect his interests against the depredations of his womenfolk. Women had no consciences whatever when they wanted their own way.

He wouldn't be sorry to see Sally married. She'd been a bit of a problem since her mother died. Cocktails, flirtations, all kinds of craziness, her father told himself. This young fellow was good with horses. Maybe he'd hold the whip hand over Sally as well. He chuckled at the thought.

"What are you chortling about?" Sally wanted to know rather angrily. Really her father was being too stuffy about this. It made her tired. But since he held the purse strings there was no fighting him. And she wanted a trousseau that would put everyone's eye out.

"Nothing." He charged the subject hastily. "You going into town today to shop?"

That was always a good way to (Continued on Page 4)

Introducing the shirt with the collar that can't wilt!

Arrow Shirts with the new Aroset Collar—a starchless collar that stays fresh and immaculate all day!

Heat won't wilt it—water won't blister it—laundering won't wrinkle it—wear won't curl it!

The shirts, of course, have all the smart style and tailoring touches that only Arrow puts in a shirt. They're Mitoga—shaped-to-fit. And are Sanforized-Shrunk—guaranteed for permanent fit. Let us show you these shirts with the AROSET collar.

$2—$2.50

THRILLING NEW PIECE GOODS!

Batiste - Net - Lace

Exquisite new eyelet batiste in dark and pastel shades. Entirely new numbers, just unpacked. Yard

69c and 98c

Plain and tuck nets in all the new shades. 43 to 72 inches wide. Gorgeous material, just received. Yard

$1.25 and $1.49

Brand new laces in beautiful shades of yellow, pink, green, blue, rose, salmon and brown. Yard

69c and 98c

Hanna-Pope & Co.

Where Quality is Higher Than Price

See tomorrow's DAILY

DEMOCRAT

for

FOOD VALUES

offered by Memphis leading grocers for the coming week-end

SAVE MONEY...READ DEMOCRAT FOOD ADS

The READY-TO-WEAR Sensation

"Sensational" from a Quantity angle

"Sensational" from a Style and Quality angle

"Sensational" from a Price point of view

... this great Sale that starts Friday! And women who take advantage of it have the further assurance that they will get quality merchandise at a nominal cost! Summer is just beginning.

of the Year!

—sale starts

FRIDAY

Ladies' White Coats, California Light Weights, regular $16.95

$6.95

values in this sale

1 rack wash frocks, regular

$1.00 values in this sale

69c

College Campus Sport Linens, very special in this sale

$3.95

Summer is really just beginning and when you can buy wash frocks like these at this price why not stock up now. There are many styles to choose from and beautiful colors

$1.69

A full assortment of beautiful purses in white and navys—in this sale

89c

Purses of finest quality leather and workmanship. A purse that would suit any woman's taste.

$1.95

Beautiful long flowey organdies and dotted swisses in whites and all pastel shades, sizes 14 to 40. Just the thing for summer picnics and socials.

$1.69

EXTRA SPECIAL

While they last and they won't last long at this price. Come early, first come, first served. A group of silk dresses that sold up to $7.95

$2.00

to go in this sale at

NO TRY ON—NO EXCHANGE—NO REFUND

A full table of ladies' hats, straws and crepes in all colors, to clean up

39c

Flowered voile pajamas and gowns in fine quality voile—just the garment for the hot nights that are sure to come, in the sale

$1.69

LINGERIE SPECIALS

Scanty Panties

49c

Beautiful crepe slips, shadow proof, in lace trim and tailored styles. Colors: white, pink and tea rose, in this sale

$1.69

Nan Holly Gowns, a

$2.95 seller in this sale

$1.95

With a few exceptions every garment in this great stock of ladies' ready-to-wear has been reduced. You cannot afford to miss this great sale. You need the dresses and we need the money.

SYLVIA SMART SHOPPE

Exclusive But Not Expensive

North Side Square

COME TO THE QUEEN CITY OF THE
UPPER RED RIVER VALLEY

SUMMERTIME....

....or ANYTIME

It Pays To Trade In Memphis!

The hotter it gets the "hotter" the values in Memphis, trade center for 35,000 people of the Upper Red River Valley. The year around Memphis merchants offer wanted merchandise in great variety—and summertime is no exception. Come to Memphis this week-end, prepared to shop for anything you may need in stores well stocked with summer necessities, summer aids and summer luxuries. Courteous salespeople are eager to assist you; aggressive merchants will go out of their way to please you. You'll feel right at home in Memphis—and you'll be glad you came.

THESE MEMPHIS MERCHANTS SOLICIT YOUR PATRONAGE

- | | | | |
|-----------------------------------|--|----------------------------------|-----------------------|
| Acme Dry Cleaners | B. F. Davenport | Harrison Hardware Co. | Potts Chevrolet Co. |
| Baldwin-Wherry Variety | Doss Dry Cleaners | Hogland Mercantile Co. | Popular Dry Goods Co. |
| Bullard Dry Cleaners | Draper Grocery | King Furniture Co. | Replin's |
| Wm. Cameron & Co. | Durham-Jones Pharmacy | M System | Red Arrow Oil Co. |
| Christensen's Shoe Shop | Farmers Union Supply Co. | Meacham's Pharmacy | Rosenwasser's |
| City Drug Store | Frank's Dept. Store | Memphis Grocery | Stanford Pharmacy |
| City Grocery | Fields & Son Grocery | Memphis Hardware & Implement Co. | Sylvia Smart Shoppe |
| Chitwood's Market | Foxhall Motor Co. | New Deal Beer Garden | Tarver's Pharmacy |
| Club Cafe | Greene Dry Goods Co. | Norman's | Thompson Bros. Co. |
| E. B. Coe Grocery | Greenhaw's Barber Shop & Beauty Parlor | Chas. Orén | The Smart Shop |
| Crawford Grocery | Gulf Auto Supply | Perry Bros. | A. Womack |
| Cudd Bros. | Hamilton Variety | Pioneer Auto Parts | J. C. Wooldridge |
| Gene Corley Tires and Accessories | Hanna-Pope & Co. | Piggly-Wiggly | Lumber Co. |

MEMPHIS HAS WHAT YOU WANT

Summer—

(Continued from page 2)

divert her. Her black eyes sparkled at the thought of trying on clothes, or watching mannequins parade (because this time she was going to the really expensive places and have the very best), and of choosing hats and shoes and cobwebby stockings to supplement those already piled in boxes and bags in her room. Whatever you might say about Daddy Moon, Sally reflected, you couldn't accuse him of being stingy.

She had read in last night's newspaper of Katharine Strykhurst's departure for the west. And she had felt a tiny prick of relief. While Katharine had been around Sally hadn't felt entirely easy about Michael. He had been restive at times. Sally had suspected in the beginning that he was attracted to Katharine, although why anyone would prefer that cool young woman to her own rather buxom self, Sally could not imagine.

Well, Michael was more tractable since he'd been ill. He really seemed to depend on her these days. She bossed him around as she hadn't dared to do before.

Her cousin, Annabel, was coming on from Syracuse for the wedding. And Michael had been so vague about providing a best man that Sally had wired Annabel to bring her fiancé (expenses paid) to serve. Annabel's young man was a fledgling mining engineer with a brand new diploma. Sally, marrying a title, felt very superior.

Well, Annabel and Joseph would arrive on Tuesday, and they would have a rehearsal Tuesday night. Daddy Moon had agreed to that. The wedding would be on Wednesday, and invitations would go out by hand the day before. It was, Sally told herself, a pretty queer way to do things, but her father had some crazy notion in his mind. It didn't do to argue with him when he was like this.

She longed to shout the news from the housetops. But she didn't dare. Well, all the old cats who had been so nasty to her would know soon enough. Let them gnash their teeth then. See how they liked it.

She'd snub them if she ever met them on the street.

Another thing she had to do today. She had to stop at Tiffany's and choose a platinum band that Michael could pay for later. He didn't want to go into the city, he said. She was having to arrange everything. She had even sent out a tailor who was to measure him for correct morning clothes.

She'd thought of everything. There couldn't possibly be a hitch in the proceedings now. A week from Wednesday she would be Lady Carden.

(To Be Continued)

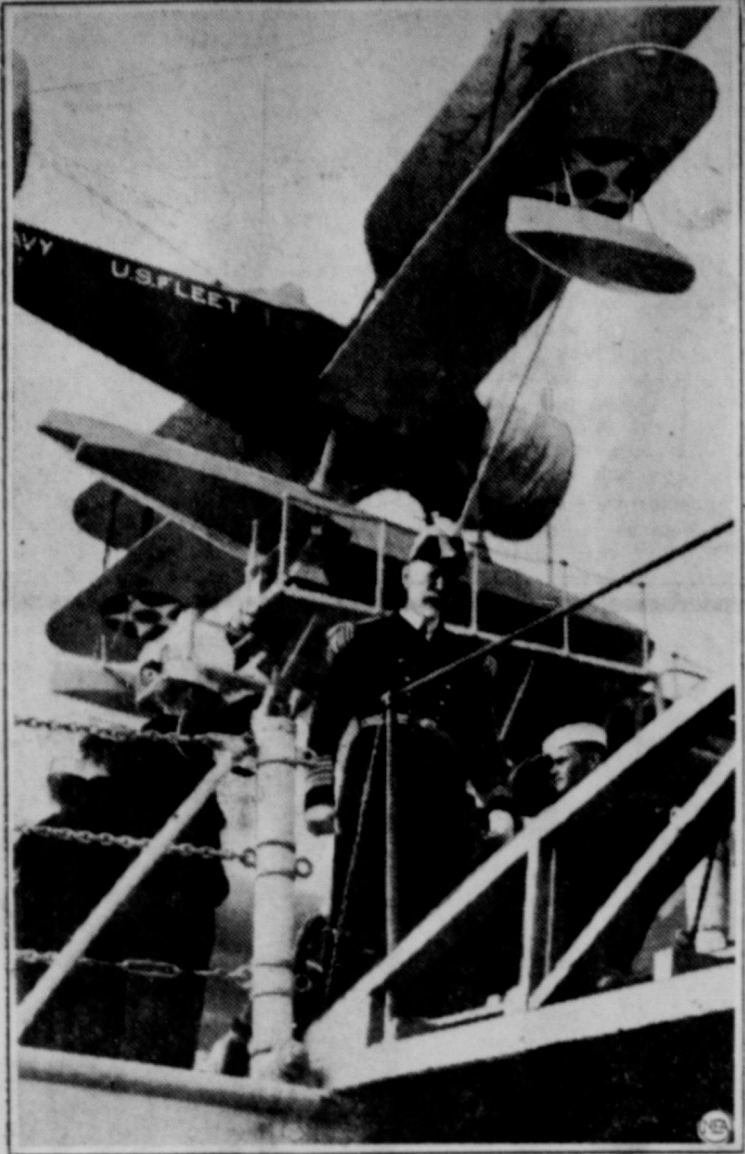

Rainbows are not semi-circles, but complete circles. If we were high enough in the air, we could see the entire circle.

LETTER 'MAN'

The first co-ed to win a regular letter at Penn State and thought to be the only one in the country, is Dorothy Anderson, above, of Butler, Pa. The lassie was the star of the Nittany Lions' varsity tennis team, having defeated her male opponents in six out of seven matches with eastern colleges.

The Fleet's In: Hail to the Chief!

America's sea might demonstrated by the greatest maneuvers in recent naval history. Admiral Joseph M. Reeves, commander-in-chief of the U. S. fleet, here steps to the gangplank from his flagship Pennsylvania at San Diego Calif. as a navy fighting plane rears above him and sailors stand at salute. Thousands of spectators lined the shores to cheer as the ships moved in proud parade to their anchorages.

PARNELL

By MRS. W. W. RICHARDS
F. C. Smith and family, of Hobbs, N. M., are visiting Bud Lotts and E. J. Wright and families.

Earl Richards, Mrs. W. W. Richards and daughter Mary Helen visited the latter part of last week at Floydada and South Plains.

A large crowd attended Sunday school here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Richburg and family of Turkey, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Stout of Memphis, Mrs. Curtis of Estelline, Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Adams of Estelline, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lee Chandler, Sissy Bell and J. L. Bell, of Hulver, were visitors in the L. D. Stout home Sunday. Sissy Bell and J. L. Bell are spending this week with the Stouts.

Estelline defeated Parnell in a hotly contested baseball game

ESTELLINE

By BESS EDMONDSON

Mrs. N. R. Carter and daughter Velma left Saturday for a month's visit with relatives in San Angelo.

D. T. Eddins made a business trip to Fort Worth last week-end.

Mrs. Buri Bell returned Saturday from a week's visit with relatives in Abilene.

Mrs. Steve Edwards was a Childress visitor Monday.

Mrs. Chester Wright and Mrs. L. Edmondson and daughter visited in Childress Monday.

Milburn Waggoner of Childress was a guest in the Richberg home the past week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Leary and Miss Gladys Leary were Childress visitors Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hewitt Edwards, Ed Clifton, Mrs. B. E. Edmondson and children, Jack and June, visited Palo Duro Canyon Sunday.

Little Misses Charlene and Wilma Bennett are spending this week with friends in Parnell.

Mrs. Catherine Bennett of Memphis visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Bennett, here Sunday.

Walter Whaley was a Childress business visitor Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe McIntyre returned last week from a month's stay in Lubbock and Fort Worth.

Miss Alyene Bennett of Memphis spent Tuesday with relatives. L. D. Pierce of Memphis was in Estelline on business Tuesday.

Miss Peggy Leary is spending this week with her sister, Mrs. Max Nail of Memphis.

Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Prewitt and daughter, Charlotte, and Daisy Holland spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Carter in Childress.

Mrs. W. L. Rigby received word Tuesday of the death of her uncle, Lonzo Eddins, 70, at Pecos, Texas.

Fire Destroys Residence

A residence, belonging to L. V. Payne and occupied by O. L. Williams, was destroyed by fire Sunday about 12:30. Origin of the fire is unknown. The house and contents were total loss.

Sunday. The score was 4 and 3.

Another heavy washing rain fell at Parnell Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. G. H. Hattenbach went to Wellington yesterday for a visit with her sister, Mrs. G. W. Hunt. Mrs. S. L. Seago and daughter, June Marie, have gone to Walters, Okla., for a visit with their mother and grandmother, Mrs. J. C. Norman.

Mrs. Bess Edmondson and daughter, June, of Estelline were Memphis visitors today.

It has been found that persons apparently killed by a low-voltage electric shock may be revived by another shock with a higher voltage of current.

The Union of South Africa, consisting of Transvaal, Orange Free State, Natal and Cape Colony, produces approximately 53 per cent of the world's annual supply of gold. Canada ranks second in world gold production, and the United States third.

More than 247,000,000 copper pennies were produced during 1934 in this country.

YOU CAN WEAR

the new Loxit (screwless) mounting even for sports. Because of its patented construction, Loxit minimizes the possibility of lens breakage and practically eliminates loose or wobbly lenses.

CHAS. OREN

Jeweler and Optometrist
619 Main

TARVER'S TIMELY TOPICS

A Few Things You Want—Brought To Your Attention

RUBBER BATHING CAP

Made by Goodrich
in several styles

10c
AND UP TO 39c

KEM Bridge Cards

GUARANTEED FOR 100 RUBBERS

Remarkable Cards—They Will Not Crease—and Are Washable

JOSEPHINE CULBERTSON, Queen of Bridge, says: "All my friends agree enthusiastically that a smart player cannot be without these wonderful Kem cards. For after months of play they are immaculate and are in respects superior to the finest new paper decks. By using Kem cards I have already saved seventy-five per cent."

SINGLE DECKS $2.50
DOUBLE DECKS $5.00

TARVER'S DELICIOUS ICE CREAM

What flavor, please? Vanilla, Toffee, Pecan Crunch, Scotch Filbert, Peach, Strawberry, Pineapple and berry Sherbet.

Pints 15c Quarts 30c

Double-Kay Nuts
Fancy mixed nuts from all over the world. Fresh butter toasted.
30c lb. and up

Arden's Perfume
"Blue Grass"—a delicate and distinctive perfume.
$1.25 a Dran

COMPLETE LINE OF RADIO TUBES FOR EVERY MAKE MACHINE—AND PRICED VERY LOW

TARVER'S PHARMACY

"ON THE CORNER"

Ownership Maps Now Available!

We now have a complete assortment of Ownership Maps of the following Counties... guaranteed accurate:

HALL, CHILDRESS
COTTLE and HARDEMAN

These maps are new issues by one of the largest blueprint houses in the state, and will be found to be accurate and satisfactory

OIL AND GAS LEASE FORMS

No. C-88-Revised Forms in any quantity may be had at our office

SPECIAL FORMS PRINTED TO ORDER

Memphis Democrat
517 Main Street
PHONE 15

You will save money on refrigeration the minute you install Electrolux in your kitchen. It costs so little to operate because its freezing principle is so utterly simple. A tiny gas flame circulates the refrigerant. Ordinary air cools it. In addition to its operating economy Electrolux saves food and food costs.

Electrolux not only gives you economy, but every worth-while convenience feature as well. It has temperature regulator: non-stop defrosting; trigger release ice trays; egg and fruit rack; tilting shelf; vegetable freshener and many more conveniences to increase the pleasure of its use and ownership.

NEW Air-Cooled
ELECTROLUX
THE SERVEL Gas REFRIGERATOR

SEE THE 1935 MODELS AT ELECTROLUX DEALERS OR THE GAS COMPANY

NORTHERN TEXAS UTILITIES COMPANY

TOPICS

To Your Attention

Forecast of Sea Gales
By Associated Press
STON, June 20.—Depart of the hurricane the U. S. Weather Bu-ly 1 will make life
Washington forecasters.
Congress provided establishing three new forecasting centers at
P. R., New Orleans, and Fla., and for the service at other

Cards RUBBERS
y Will Not ashable of Bridge, say

y that a smart ul Kem cards. Exulate and are in aper decks. By nd seventy-five

BLE $5.00
KS $5.00

'S DELICIOUS
CREAM

please? Vanilla
Pecan Crunch.
t, Peach, Chocpineapple and

Quarts

den's Perfum e Grass"—a deand distinctive d

$1.25 a Dozen
BES FOR EVERY
AND VERY LOW

ARMAC
ER"

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

By William Ferguson

'Stock Running on Highways' Law To Be Enforced Soon
By Associated Press
MINERAL WELLS, June 20.—
Maj. Gen. Jacob F. Wolters of Houston speaking on "traffic security" at a dinner here recently, recalled that "among the acts of the 44th Texas legislature was a law providing for the imposition of a fine on the owners of hogs, cattle, horses and sheep running at large on any designated highway where both sides of the road is fenced."

He stated the act which would go into effect August 10, 1935, expressly provides that, in addition to all other law enforcement officers, it is especially the duty of the State Highway Patrol to enforce same.
The bill was introduced in the senate by Senator Hopkins of Gonzales and in the House by Rep.
Fuchs of Washington county. It had the endorsement of a number of Chamber of Commerce organizations and the Federated Clubs of Texas in state convention.
In Nov. 1933, while on Highway 75, between Madisonville and Huntsville, the automobile in which Wolters was riding ran over a hog. The car went into the ditch and turned over, and Wolters suffered a fractured shoulder and other injuries.

Students Ruled By Superstition

By United Press
PHILADELPHIA, June 20.—
Dr. Reese James, director of a course in journalism at the University of Pennsylvania, finds that superstition rules many of his students just as it does savages.
He recently quizzed 100 students on their superstitious beliefs. He found that all had their pets and in great variety.
He learned that the cynical sophisticates of the younger generation still believe it is bad luck to break a mirror, permit a black cat to cross one's path, throw a knife on a bed, give a knife to a friend and write an examination paper with a new pen or pencil.

Furthermore, Dr. James said they believe that when you return to a room after having just left it that you must count nine to break an unlucky spell. Also Friday is an unlucky day and 13 is an unlucky number.
Professors like to mull over the findings of quizzes like Dr. James'.
Interesting survivals of primitive forms of magic and rudimentary religious practices are discovered.
Dr. James said the wide-spread superstition that breaking a mirror means bad luck is a survival of the savage's belief that the reflected image or picture of anyone is really that person's soul.
And, of course, it is bad luck to shatter or crack one's soul. The falling picture-early death superstition belongs to the same class.
The belief that "new things" are unlucky goes back to the same class, Dr. James said, when primitive men learned by trial and error, experiments with "new" tools or utensils were often followed by painful results.

Good luck pieces are a survival of "fetichism."
"In fact," says Dr. James, "astrology still has many followers.
People still believe in magic."
He described superstition as "the acceptance of beliefs or practices groundless in themselves and inconsistent with the degree of enlightenment reached by the community to which one belongs."
New York, London, Hamburg, Antwerp, and Rotterdam are the world's five leading ports classified, in order, according to the net registered tonnage of foreign ships entering them.

Childress' Post Office Building To Open July 15

By Associated Press
CHILDRESS, June 20.—Child-dress new post office building will be completed and ready for occupancy by July 15, postmaster J. A. Hilburn has been notified by the contractors. All exterior work has been completed and interior work is being pushed rapidly.
The new building of light gray brick, is located at the corner of Avenue C and Third Street NW, one block from the center of the business district. When completed it will have cost approximately $60,000.

IF ...

YOU BELIEVE IN GETTING THE LAST DROP OF VALUE
FROM EVERY DOLLAR ...

You'll Buy FEDERALS

If you're the type who is asking the most for his dollar these days (and who isn't?) you'll be happy to know that FEDERAL TIRES can be bought for less without sacrificing quality, performance or long life. FEDERALS are guaranteed by the factory and by us to be BETTER tires.

Liberal allowance on your old tires. Buy on our budget plan if you wish.

CUDD BROS.

Wholesale and Retail Gas, Oil, Kerosene and Greases
401 Noel Phone 157

J. J. Bice Black & White Ser Sta. Dan Harmon
Newlin 11th & Noel Sts. Lakeview

FEDERAL Extra Service TIRES

4.40x21	$4.40
4.50x20	$4.64
4.50x21	$4.84
4.75x19	$5.12
5.25x18	$6.08
5.50x17	$7.87
5.50x18	$8.10

Other Sizes Are Proportionately Low

ROSENWASSER'S

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY WE OFFER
RARE VALUES

Genuine Garza Sheeting, 81 inch, bleached pure white, per yard 27c

Garza Quality Sheets, 81x90, bleached pure white, seamless,
hemmed 79c

Bed Spreads, 80x105, scalloped, seamless, excellent quality 98c

Ladies' Wash Dresses, soft, summery, sheer batiste dresses, beautifully styled. Special each 49c

49c

49c

8c

79c

98c

25c

49c

THE VOICE OF THE UPPER RED RIVER VALLEY

FRANCE MESSING UP PLAY HOUSE

ENGLAND and Germany placed their arms around each other's shoulders the other day and agreed on the major points of a new naval treaty.

Now France comes along and messes up the play house.

France has accused England of breaking the Washington treaty in signing a new agreement with the Germans, thereby giving France a "free hand" in naval affairs.

French officials predict a new and more vigorous naval race, in which France innocently will be building up her Atlantic fleet in order to protect her coastline.

The Anglo-German agreement keeps Germany's navy to the treaty ratio of 35 per cent of that of Great Britain, but it allows for greater German submarine construction in order to keep pace with Italy, since England does not boast a large undersea fleet.

Since France sees in this action her release from the Washington treaty, Germany must either break her latest agreement to keep up with France, or else England must favor the Tutos by also entering the race with the sister nation across the channel, thereby giving Germany a chance to build and remain within the letter of the agreement.

Mussolini thus far has not entered the dispute, but Italy undoubtedly will manage to get in. The dictator probably will favor France. This combination against Germany and England gives the European situation an entirely new twist.

Had France been content to let well enough alone, the Anglo-German accord may have smoothed things out fairly well, but the European moral seems to be: "It's perfectly cricket to break any treaty so long as you can convince yourself that someone else broke it first." And it does not take strong conviction.

DEMOCRACY'S EXCHANGE OF IDEAS

IN the flow of oratory that has been loosed at the college commencement exercises throughout the country, maintenance of principles of democracy continues to ride the popular tide.

This time, however, thoughts of democracy in a supposedly democratic government seem to be even more appropriate than ever. What is lacking is a universal agreement as to the meaning of democracy.

For today, as never before, the term democracy is undergoing a strange series of interpretations, each of which merely fits in with the peculiar ideas each person or group wants to foster, all for the good of the United States, of course.

To one set of individuals, democracy is endangered while college sophomores are permitted to study the Communist Manifesto of 1848. To another group, only by means of a liberal education, including the study of Communist teachings, can the meaning of true democracy be conveyed to the growing generation.

In one camp are those who would run out of the colleges those professors who dare to hint of more radical forms of government than that we enjoy in this country. And opposed to these are the professors and their champions who defend their liberal attitudes in the colleges with the contention that to eliminate such teachings would be substituting autocracy for democracy.

The fact is that no system of education is fair to its students and its teachers if it fails to include in its scope the entire record of governments and of political thought so that a true estimate may be had of the significance of each form of government in the lives of a people.

Study of the Communist Manifesto is not a novelty in American education. Neither is that of the various monarchies and other forms of government that have existed from earliest times throughout the world.

Liberal education for many generations has included everything from the most conservative to the most radical ideas of government in its curriculum. That it should eliminate one set of ideas from its course of study, for the sake of the other, would be discarding the very purposes for which democracy has been established.

For only by being acquainted with all the ideas that have pervaded the world in the past can the student and the future American citizen realize the value and significance of the democracy under which he lives.

NAMES ON A PIECE OF PAPER

125,000 KILLED AND WOUNDED IN 3 YEARS
OF WAR BETWEEN BOLIVIA AND PARAGUAY

HEALTH

BY DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN

We human beings are peculiar in that we can actually delude ourselves into the belief that we are sick.

In other words, our minds play so significant a part in our activities that, by wrong use of our imaginations, we can actually do ourselves immense harm.

More than 50 years ago, a leading British physician said there was not a single actual disease of the body with symptoms which could not be reproduced by the mind. Medical records lend force to his contention.

These disturbances sometimes result from emotional reactions. Or they may be a "hangover" from a previous disease. Sometimes they are caused by worry and anxiety. And, in still other cases, they may result from a combination of all these factors.

When the symptoms appear, they attract so much attention that they continue to exist merely because the "patient" likes the attention.

There are some very interesting examples. A 45-year-old woman had been troubled with the feeling that there was a lump in her throat. Investigation revealed this impression had developed at a time when there was some doubt whether she had a tumor of the breast.

When she was convinced that no actual change in the throat had occurred, the woman's mental symptoms disappeared.

An unusual number of these "mental illnesses" have to do with the stomach and the gastrointestinal tract, perhaps because eating occupies such an important part in all our lives.

Many are the cases for instance, in which these self-deluded people find it impossible to keep food in their stomach. Vomiting follows promptly after every meal, sometimes reducing people to such a low state of nutrition that they fall a ready prey to any passing infectious disease, even though the cause of the vomiting is wholly mental.

In fact, many of these "sufferers" develop physical conditions which may be overlooked for a long period of time simply because of the emphasis placed on a disturbance wholly in the mind.

Most interesting of late are the so-called neuroses of the heart. In times of depression and financial strain, people suffer greatly from worry and anxiety, and are inclined to have palpitations of the heart. Many even develop a rapid heartbeat.

When the financial worries and strain disappear, however, they usually take with them these physical symptoms.

BARBS

In fall from horse, Mussolini got a black eye. The Abyssinian incident furnished it with company.

Woman writer marries publisher. That's one way to avoid rejection slips.

Illinois legislature considering anti-tipping bill. If it goes through, Illinoisans will really begin to appreciate where waiters got that title.

Side Glances

By George Clark

"Quit worrying! By the time a cop gets around to run us off we'll be rested."

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

Fight Over Holding Company Bill Provides Year's Prize Thrill in Congress . . . Race for Votes Is Spectacular . . . Senators Play Both Ends Against the Middle.

WASHINGTON, June 30. — Imagine yourself in the intimate mental boudoir of a rabid New Dealer or a highly paid "power trust" lobbyist.

Either place, you hear the same song:

The Senate vote on Dieterich amendment to the Wheeler-Rayburn - Roosevelt-Corcoran-Cohen-Frankfurter - Brandeis - Morris Llewellyn Cooke - Federal Trade Commission holding company bill was the most significant vote in Congress since President Franklin Delano ("Smiles") Roosevelt first began to tell Congress what to do.

(Nobody ever called the bill that before, on account of a journalistic tendency to abbreviate.) The vote was 45 to 44 against the amendment, which meant one of the best attendances of the season, a spotlight on each individual vote, and an accelerated pitapat in the hearts of all concerned.

The vote for the bill itself was 56 to 32, but the Dieterich amendment—which would have killed the section which breaks the huge holding companies into itay-bitay ones—was the crux.

See-saw to "Square" Selves

Senator Dieterich of Illinois, who has been an attorney for power companies and is still politically associated with pals of the celebrated Sam Insull, was out to devitalize the bill.

The several senators who voted for his amendment and then for the unamended bill left themselves in a position to tell voters they had voted against the "power trust" and to tell "power trust" lobbyists that they had switched only after the game had become a hopeless one and their best bet was to square themselves with the administration.

Lines Sharply Drawn

The reason so many folks here regard the contest as having been fundamental was that the lines between Roosevelt and Big Business-Big Finance were clearly drawn. Executives of the huge holding companies, their enormous salaries imperiled, spent money recklessly in an effort to keep the New Deal's concentrations of special power, Roosevelt self to the fray, and Charles West, was over the place with from on high.

The Dieterich fight ed that, although Deputy outnumbered Republican houses of Congress, clear "New Deal" Roosevelt's advanced.

Titular administration, although compelled favor of the bill, bitterly opposed to—and New Dealers of secretly trying to emasculate it.

Democrats who amendment were which is being prosed an anti-Roosevelt alition in 1936.

Mad Scramble for Votes

The backstage drive the vote was a thri performance which vou of the furores home town years a loon-keepers and the fought for possession and buggies to get polls for local out-

At least two se dragged from sickro time.

A night-before switched several vote Dealers thought the up. By a terrific administration forces caljed most of the line.

Joe Tumulty, warty to Woodrow Senator George M. Hampshire were am of holding comp Emil Hurja, operat the Democratic Nat mittee, was calling on behalf of the b

A Yorkshire, En cently opened a doll had been in use for could $400 in bills.

Government bas in which jobs at sent dramas through try. Farmers should new outlet for egg tables.

American Banker

HORIZONTAL

1. A well-known American banker.
12. Meadow.
13. Declares openly.
15. Lubricant.
16. To pant.
17. Minute objects.
18. Examination.
20. Hops, kiln.
21. Too late.
22. Ocean.
24. Whirlwind.
25. Either.
27. Evergreen shrub.
30. Bulb flower.
32. Made verses.
34. Clergy's hood.
35. Prickly pear.
36. Packer.
37. Northeast.
38. Doctor.
39. Knock.
42. Spanish shawls.
48. Evil.
50. Portuguese money.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

BUCKINGHAM
EN OVER WO BUCKINGHAM
NIP APICAL PALACE
TOOL SMOKE NEAR ERE CITIES OF IRON
AS DETONATED NU
RUB FORAGED RIB
DEAR PATER PALI
I NOT LID MUT
NO BAT OF FEN SE
ATE REUNION HIE
LONDON IS RULERS

VERTICAL

2. Exclamation of sorrow.
3. To sleep.
4. Knock.
5. Title.
6. Bad.
7. Lyre-like instrument.
8. Existence.
9. Folding bed.
10. Falsehoods.
11. Otherwise.

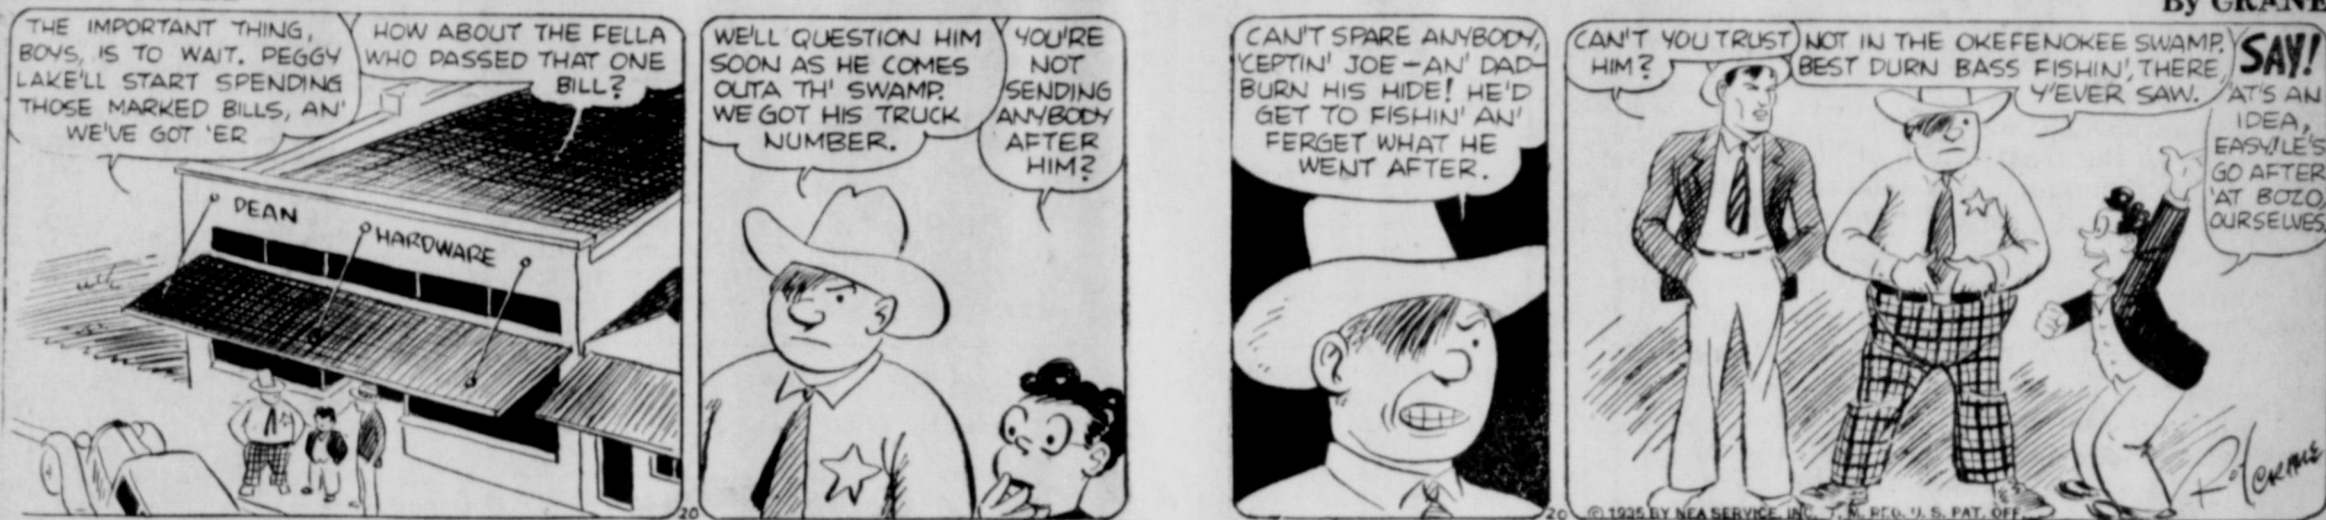

The Democrat's Daily Page of All Star Comics

SALESMAN SAM

WASH TUBBS

BOOTS AND HER BUDDIES

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

ALLEY OOP

THE NEWFANGLES (Mom 'n Pop)

E 20, 1935.

E SCENES
INGTON

DUTCHER

ey recklessly in an
the New Deal's atcentrations of cial power, Roose-self to the fray
House liaison man Charles West, was over the place with from on high.

The Dieterich fight that, although Dey outnumber Repu-houses of Congress, clear "New Deal" Roosevelt's advanced

Titular administra-
although compelled favor of the bill, pe-bitterly opposed to
-and New Dealers of secretly trying to emasculate it.

Democrats who vo-amendment were of which is being prose-an anti-Roosevelt bialition in 1936.

Mad Scramble for V
The backstage drivthe vote was a thrilperformance which you of the furores home town years loon-keepers and the fought for possession and buggies to get polls for local out-
At least two dragged from sickro-time.

A night-before switched several vote Dealers thought the
up. By a terrific ef-ministration forces cajoled most of the line.

Joe Tumulty, wa-
tary to Woodrow W.
Senator George M.
Hampanire were an-
of holding compa-Emil Hurja, opera-the Democratic Namittee, was calling on behalf of the b-

A Yorkshire, Engcently opened a doll-had been in use for could $400 in bills

Government has in which jobless sent dramas through-
try. Farmers should new outlet for egg tables.

Banker

vious Puzzle 147
BUCKINGHAM PALACE
IRON
ATED NU
RIB
DALI
DUTL
FENSE
ION HIE RULERS

VERTICAL
1 Exclamation of sorrow.
1 To sleep.
4 Knock.
5 Title.
6 Bad.
7 Lyre-like instrument.
8 Existence.
9 Folding bed.
0 Falsehoods.
1 Otherwise.

life, embittered hetic parents and
by deafness, parplexlessness, and a disease, left only to one of Italy's geniuses - Count
This unhappy overlived aristoconly 35 years, he produced mas-sual poetry which ual footing with of history. His with his father's difference, brought ages all that was disparaging. His that his work is maused a series of memoration of the society, which had promote develop-language and these stamps was Leopardi.

NEA Service, Inc.)
was the first air-

Tonight's Radio Programs

These schedules are based upon the latest available information. Networks and local station frequently change their schedules without notice. Hours in Central standard time.

NBC STATIONS
WFAA, Dallas	800
WBAP, Fort Worth	800
KDKA, Pittsburgh	980
KFI, Los Angeles	640
KOA, Denver	830
KPRC, Houston	920
KTHS, Hot Springs	1,060
KVOO, Tulsa	1,140
WEAF, New York	660
WENR, Chicago	870
WHO, Des Moines	1,008
WJZ, New York	2,760
WKY, Oklahoma City	900
WLS, Chicago	870
WLW, Cincinnati	700
WMAQ, Chicago	670
WOAI, San Antonio	1,190
WOC, Davenport	1,000
WSM, Nashville	650
WSMB, Cleveland	1,070
WTIC, Hartford	1,040
CBS STATIONS
KMOX, St. Louis	1,060
KOMA, Oklahoma City	1,840
KRLD, Dallas	1,040
KTAT, Fort Worth	1,240
KTRH, Houston	1,120
KESA, San Antonio	1,290
WBAC, New York	860
WACD, Waco	1,240
WBBM, Chicago	770
WCCO, Minneapolis	810
WHAS, Louisville	820

6:00 NBC, WFAA: Rudy Vallee's Variety Hour. NBC, WJZ: Pastoral, Concert Orch. CBS, WABC: Kate Smith.

6:30 NBC, WJZ: Hendrik Willem Van Loon, author, in talk.

6:45 NBC, WJZ: Ranch Boy's Trio.

7:00 NBC, WFAA: Captain Henry's Show Boat. NBC, WJZ: Death Valley Days, play. CBS, WABC: Walter O'Keefe and Show.

7:30 NBC, WJZ: Goldman Band Concert. CBS, WABC: Fred Waring's Orchestra.

8:00 NBC, WFAA: Paul Whiteman's Orch. NBC, WJZ: America's Town Meeting.

8:30 CBS, WABC: Heldt's Brigadiers.

9:00 NBC, WFAA: Jimmy, Jane and Jack. NBC, WJZ: Amos 'n' Andy. CBS, WABC: Frank Daley's Orch.

9:15 NBC, WFAA: Jesse, Crawford, organist. NBC, WJZ: Tony and Gus.

9:30 NBC, WFAA: National Radio Forum. NBC, WJZ: Ink Spots Quartet. CBS, WABC: Ted Fio Rito's Orchestra.

9:38 Eddie Duchin's Orchestra.

10:00 NBC, WFAA: Ben Pollack's Orchestra. NBC, WJZ: Shandor and his violin. CBS, WABC: Frankie Master's Orch.

10:08 NBC, WJZ: Don Loper's Orch.

10:30 NBC, WFAA: Billie Bissett's Orch. NBC, WJZ: Dancing in Twin Cities. CBS, WABC: Denny Thompson's Orchestra.

11:00 CBS, WABC: Dance Music.

Youth To Lead Mountain Ride

By United Press
BANFF, Alta., June 20.—A young American will lead this year's five-day trek of the Trail Riders of the Canadian Rockies, which starts from here July 26 and traverses the Red Deer River region.

President of the Trail Riders at 25, George Vaux is the youngest head the organization ever has had. He is from Bryn Mawr, Pa., is a descendant of a long line of geologists and explorers.

The Banff-Lake Louise area has been a sort of summer home for the Vaux family during the past 40 years. Many remote trails, notably that through the Ice River Valley south of Lake Louise, first was visited by pack trains engaged by the Vauxs. Young Vaux himself, likes to "recall" his first visit to Lake Louise when he was less than a year old.

Vaux made a preliminary trip through the Red Deer River area last autumn and laid out the 50-mile route to be followed. Starting from Banff, the cavalcade of riders and pack horses will proceed along the Cascade River and remain for two nights in Windy Camp, at the base of the Palliser Range.

Ascending to Snowy Creek Pass, the party will continue along the Red Deer River past Scotch Cabin to Camp No. 2 in the shelter of Mt. Prow. Then, following the Red Deer almost to its source, the riders will pitch Camp No. 3 at Baker Lake in Ptarmigan Valley.

New Mexico Young Political Club To Be Expanded Soon

By Associated Press
AMARILLO, June 20.—The Young People's Roosevelt and Garner club of New Mexico will be expanded into a national organization, John Michael of Santa Fe, N. M., president of the group, announces.

Michael, who visited here recently, said that any citizen regardless of political affiliation, was eligible for membership.

District Judge Joseph Dailey of Albuquerque, N. M., national organization manager for the Young People's Roosevelt and Garner clubs, is scheduled to confer with James A. Farley, Democratic national chairman, soon about plans for the proposed nation-wide organization.

The New Mexico club was formed in 1932, Michael said.

Approximately 80,000 bees must visit at least 3,360,000 flowers in the course of a day to produce one pound of honey, according to estimates of apiarists.

Harvard University is the oldest in continental United States, but the University of Santo Tomas, Manila, Philippine Islands, is the oldest under jurisdiction of this country. It was established in 1611.

The fifth day's ride brings them to Sun Dance Lodge near Lake Louise station for the final Pow Wow, thus concluding the twelfth annual ride of the organization which boasts of the variety of its membership. It includes Ramsay MacDonald, the ex-King and Queen of Siam, Dr. William T. Hornaday of New York, Mrs. Vaux Walcott, Washington, author of "North American Wildflowers" and the New York animal painter Carl Rungius, besides numerous guides, geologists, cowboys, engineers and Indians.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

Lovers Parted 50 Years Meet, Wed

By United Press
QUINCY, Mass., June 20.—Albert Neimeyer and Katherine Schaefer were childhood sweethearts in Pennsylvania a half-century ago.

A few years later they became separated.

Recently they were reunited, and both rediscovered their old-time love for each other. Neimeyer had married.

Not they are on their honeymoon. Neimeyer is 69, his bride, 64.

The banjo is distinctly an American instrument and is scarcely 100 years old.

ther had married.

Not they are on their honeymoon. Neimeyer is 69, his bride, 64.

The banjo is distinctly an American instrument and is scarcely 100 years old.

Treasurers Plan Organization of Panhandle Body

By Associated Press
AMARILLO, June 20.—Permanent organization of the Panhandle division of the Association of County Treasurers will be effected at a meeting here June 22.

Mrs. C. J. Tiley of Tulsa, Swisher county treasurer, was elected president of a temporary group formed here recently. I. E. Jackson of Canadian, Hemphill county treasurer, was named vice-president and Hubert G. Cole, Potter county treasurer, was selected executive secretary.

About 20 West Texas counties were represented at the first meeting, which was called by Cole because county treasurers "are most sorely in need of some kind of an organization."

"Enlightenment on duties of the county treasurer's office and discussion and plans for future objectives are the aims of the association," he said.

Hereford Plans To Convert Lands Into Small Garden Farms

By Associated Press
HEREFORD, June 20.—The Federal Rural Rehabilitation department has been asked to approve an irrigation project designed to transform thousands of acres of Deaf Smith county grass and wheat land into a garden.

Under the proposal by the Hereford Chamber of Commerce, the government would purchase shallow water land near Hereford and sell it in small developed tracts to individual farmers on long-term credit.

Legionnaires Hold Convention Amarillo

By Associated Press
AMARILLO, June 20.—Delgado of San Francisco, commander of the Legion, will be the principal speaker at an annual convention of the Legionnaires of the state of Texas here June 22.

Miller Ainsworth, commander, and Fred department adjutant, appear on the two-day convention.

About 2,000 delegates are expected and the convention will be held concurrently with the annual meeting of the congressional district Legion.

The fifth division, Dewey Richberg of Texas, includes the 16th, 18th and 21st congressional districts.

Will M. Benton, of the general convention, announced that a parade and several dances will be principal entertainments.

The tracts would be from 80 acres and would be proved so that they become self-sustaining. Proponents of the project that shallow water depth from 40 to 120 feet is limited.

A brief containing the project has been sent to the State Planning commission for their state federal relief.

The bones in cans, softened by heating cans to a high temperature, pressure. The spoilage bacteria.

DOLLAR DAY SPECIALS

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY ONLY

Summertime is bargain time at The Popular—here's proof. We've set aside Friday and Saturday as special days to be kind to your dollar. Below are 19 outstanding values (there are many more throughout the store) that you should buy this week end by all means. Check the prices and check the quality carefully—you'll agree we're offering real bargains. Remember—two days only. Come early!

LADIES' SILK AND LACE DRESSES. All colors and styles, choice of house. Buy one at regular price. Second one at only $1

Wash Frocks, sheers, piques, seersuckers, high grade. Special	$1	Choice of entire stock Ladies' Spring and Summer Hats. All colors	$1
One lot special Wash Frocks. Regular 79c values. 2 for	$1	Full fashioned Silk Hosiery. Service and chiffon. Special, 2 pair for	$1
Ladies' Silk Crepe Skirts. Special close-out at	$1	$1.95 Pure Silk Slips. Special for this sale	$1
Children's Silk Dresses. Values to $1.95. Special	$1	New shipment of fancy Corsets. 4 pair for	$1

Large selection of heavy-weight Draperies. Dress up your home while you can get this $2.95 grade at the special price of $1

Special group of Men's Dress Shirts. Values up to $1.49	$1	One group of regular $1 per yard Drapery. Special for 2 days. 2 yards for	$1
Wash Pants. All sizes, good colors. Special for Dollar Days	$1	Regular 59c value Rayon Crepe, solids and printed. 3 yards for	$1
Men's "Jockey Style" Shorts. 35c grade. Special, 4 pairs	$1	High grade Unbleached Muslin. Special Friday and Saturday. 11 yds. for	$1
Men's all-wool Swimming Trunks. Special for Friday and Saturday only	$1	Col-O-Tex Tablecloths. Regular $1.49 grade. Special	$1

Special closeout of lot of Ladies' Shoes. Whites, Pumps, ties, oxfords, sandals. 2 days only $1

POPULAR DRY GOODS CO.
THE HOUSE OF BETTER VALUES

CLOSEUP and COMEDY by DAN THOMAS — GEORGE SCARBO

HERBERT MOULTON IS THE ONLY MAN IN HOLLYWOOD WHO EVER GAVE ORDERS TO CECIL DEMILLE. MOULTON DIRECTED DEMILLE IN A SHORT.

MARLENE DIETRICH LOVES TO COOK AND OFTEN OFFICIATES IN THE KITCHEN WHEN SHE HAS A FEW CLOSE FRIENDS FOR DINNER.

NINO MARTINI, METROPOLITAN OPERA TENOR JUST SIGNED TO APPEAR IN TALKIES IS THE FIRST SINGER SINCE THE GREAT RUBINI, WHO DISAPPEARED IN 1854, TO SING CLEAR UP TO F ABOVE HIGH C.

EVELYN BRENT CUT SCHOOL ONE DAY TO WORK IN A MOVIE. THE DAY'S WORK NETTED HER FIRST SCREEN CONTRACT. ALSO A SPRINKLING WHEN SHE GOT HOME.

JOE E. BROWN RECENTLY RECEIVED A SEASON PASS GOOD FOR ADMISSION IN ANY AMERICAN OR NATIONAL LEAGUE BALL PARK DURING 1935.

OTTO KRAUER PERSONALLY MAKES ALL OF HIS OWN TROUT FLIES USING BITS OF WOOD, MOTHER OF PEARL AND NAIL POLISH.

REPLIN'S

DEPENDABLE MERCHANDISE

1/2 PRICE DRESS SALE

50 of our very best dresses by Mildred and Co. pus. Starched nets, chiffons, crepes and color and color combination. For Friday and Saturday only—

$16.98 Dresses To Close Out

60 Ramona and Movietone frocks that were best sellers at their original price. Embroidered, quissets, chiffons, crepes, laces and eyelet. Friday and Saturday only—

$12.98 Dresses To Close Out

35 lovely College Campus dresses—mostly some crepes and laces. Tailored sports dresses with attractive jackets. Sizes 14 to 48. For Saturday only—

$7.98 Dresses To Close Out

CLOSING OUT HATS

Any Straw or Fabric Hat in Our Store—

$1