FEDERAL JUDGE ESCAPES DEATH

Rum-Crazed Negro Prisoner's Note After Suicide Tells Of Plot Against Texas

(By Associated Press) HOUSTON, Jan. 6.—The life of Federal Judge J. C. Hutchison of Houston, threatened in a letter written by a negro federal prisoner, may have been saved when that prisoner, Ed Perry, committed suicide Thursday.

"There was just one guy I wanted to bring to justice in this world and that was Judge Hutchison," the note found in his purse read. "But he went to Corpus and he stayed he would have gone to hell."

Note Read at Inquest
The note was read at the inquest by W. H. Myers, chief deputy United States marshal. Perry shot himself at his rooming house here while Deputy United States Marshal Eugene Hutchison waited downstairs to take him to the federal building and then to jail—the first step in his two-year Leavenworth term of liquor charges.

"He undoubtedly came down to the federal building a few days ago to see Judge Hutchison and found he had gone to Corpus Christi," Mr. Myers said.

"And then this morning when the deputy went to get him he still had the gun and probably intended to do it today when a deputy told him the judge was back and he could talk to him about getting another extension of time. Then when the negro, drunk on corn liquor according to his wife, got upstairs he probably decided to end it all himself."

Justice of Peace Campbell Overstreet, who conducted the inquest, agreed with Mr. Myers that the negro undoubtedly had intended to kill the federal judge. This was also the view of George Andrews, investigator for the district attorney.

Mrs. Price badly burned, was found on the floor. She died 20 minutes later.

The daughter was found upstairs, apparently oblivious to the tragedy, officers said. Mr. Price was downtown at the time.

Fire department records show that it was the third fire of undetermined origin at the Price home since 1924.

Lubbock's chances to secure a Federal building, primarily for the post-office department, are viewed by Postmaster John L. Vaughan as very good, with the completion by him today of the second survey in connection with the situation requested by the department at Washington.

The first survey, which relates to comparative data on all departments of the institution as to receipts, number of employees, floor space in use, etc., was given the department by him some time ago, and at this time approximately 700 surveys showing needs of various post offices over the country were received at Washington.

Office Shows Big Gain
The office has made almost startling gains in all divisions of the survey, especially in the number of employees, the amount of floor space required to handle the mails efficiently, and total receipts for the year. It is believed by Mr. Vaughan that the authorities have been thoroughly impressed with the need of improvement here, and that aid will be forthcoming in the near future. The survey covers comparative data over a ten year period.

The Woman's Daily Editorial

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

OH, WELL, OTHER WOMEN'S SONS WILL KEEP US SAFE

Contained in President Coolidge's latest message to Congress, after describing the army and navy as distinctly a peace force, are these words:

"We are eminently peaceful but we are by no means weak. * * * While we are doing our best to eliminate all resort to war for the purpose of settling disputes, we cannot but remember that the peace we now enjoy had to be won by the sword, and that if the rights of our country are to be defended, we cannot rely for that purpose upon anyone but ourselves."

From a metropolitan daily: "Why is one European nation spending more in armament than she spent in 1913? Why is another spending five times as much on armament as her annual payment to the United States? Why are many other European countries spending millions on armament?"

"The discussion of peace and war is on. We secure in our tranquil homes a peace for which peace-makers in the world. The pacifist is an idealist who would make peace by teaching peace. The peace-maker is a realist who makes peace by being ready to meet an emergency—commonly called preparedness. Peace-makers have no love for war. But they are not pacifists."

"The peace we have today is ours because millions of mothers and millions of sons were willing to meet an emergency when it came. What is that our preparedness?"

"We cannot count on a warless world as long as we have gone only as far as civilization of the mind. Civilization of the soul is not yet. Then we lay down our arms. We are not pacifists as long as we keep locks on our doors and police forces in our cities. Suppose a foreign horde should descend without warning on our shores. Are we going to depend upon the other woman's son to keep us safe? And shall we cry, 'Oh, why did not someone see to it that we had an army and protection?' There are none as blind as those who will not see."

Former Private Gave 'Orders To Pershing'

LINCOLN, Neb., Jan. 6 (AP)—General John J. Pershing has taken "orders" from a former private. The story has just been told here. While hunting at Red Deer ranch, Cherry county, Neb. this fall, as the guest of Mark W. and George J. Woods, Lincoln capitalists, "Black Jack" Pershing saw a flock of ducks on some land nearby. The owner of the land protested against the party's trespassing. "I want those ducks for myself and there's not many of them," the old plainsman asserted. "Well, we just wanted to shoot a couple," said Mark Woods. "This is General Pershing with us and he wants to try his aim. It was pretty good in the old days and he thinks it still is."

Paris Steps Forth In Green And Yellow

PARIS, France, Dec. 21. Dear Cousin, So you have decided to be an Easter bride. That is an excellent idea, as it gives us time enough to work out your trousseau so that it will reflect credit on you and on France. I have just found an evening frock at the maison of Philippe and Gaston which I am quite sure you will have to have. It is as irresistible as a beautiful blonde. The material is silver lame cloth, lustrous and finely woven. It is cut in an extremely simple—just a long bodice—cut with an oval décolletage in front, a deep V in the back and a full skirt—but the trim—wing does the trick. On the hem is a double row of velvet roses in shades of mauve and rose. A huge flower is perched on the shoulders with ribbon ends that reach to the hemline. Aunt Louise and I both marveled at its youthfulness. Isn't it wonderful, though you needn't bother about looking like an ingenuita now, does it? If I were you I should adopt a very sophisticated style. Much black and white, clean cut and avelte. That is so much more interesting. I think than such obvious femininity. Having determined that you should have a very smartly tailored suit, I am sending you a photograph of a type of blouse you will like. Those dainty tucks are held in place with rows of beehstitching and each one is given its ruffle of real lace. With a black or navy blue suit, it would be ever so smart. I have also seen some very attractive ones with no trimming at all, but beautifully hand tailored. With the colored sequins I always have a photograph of the sleeve or pocket or some interesting point—never a large one, but a well-designed and beautifully embroidered one. This winter I have some wool wash frocks for day—we have to dress warmer, than you, you know—and all of them are ungrammared in silk.

Besides tailored blouses, I have seen marvelous ones for sport or for the country to be worn with tweed or kasha skirts—or plaited silk. One particularly smart one is of yellow jersey—very soft, with three horizontal black stripes at the waistline. The collar is a regular stock of the jersey with long ends in front, banded with black.

Another was of a grayish blue jersey with horizontal stripes of a dull green and a fairly deep orchid tint. With it was a cunning hat with a brown trim of the orchid colored felt. I saw some cunning yellow silk blouses trimmed with emerald green. Green and yellow is extremely smart here.

And I must tell you of a lovely black velvet day frock I saw that is trimmed with emerald green crepe forming the tie in front, the belt, cuffs, and a very elaborate pocket which ends in a green tassel. It had little gold buckles holding the silk at the cuffs and at the neck fastenings.

And speaking of velvet, there are the most adorable sport hats made of quilted velvet—I enclose a photograph of one of those too. This particular one is in brown, of a texture that is very yielding and supple. I am going to have several of these in bright colors to wear with my sport clothes when we go down to the Riviera in January or February.

I have been very busy assisting at charity bazaars by day and attending one or two and various balls to which I am invited in the evening. The most important event in my horizon is M. Perron's Christmas eve ball. It is to be very elegant and elaborate, and there is to be some particular surprise for me. Do tell me more about your exciting engagement. All my love, GERMAINE.

ACCUSED BALL STARS SAY RISBERG 'LIES'

BUT BLACK SOX OUTCAST STAYS WITH HIS YARN

FACES FORMER PALS AND TELLS OF 'CROOKED' BASEBALL DEALS

(By Associated Press) CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—Sweety Risberg, Minnesota cow man and baseball outcast, sat in Commissioner Landis' crowded, stuffy office yesterday and heard 26 of his former playmates give him the lie.

For hours he sat within arms reach of men who used to sit beside him on the bench as members with him of the 1917-1920 White Sox; yet he heard no word of greeting.

Once he was called a "pig." More than once he was denounced as a liar. But he stuck to his story.

For one hour he sat on the witness stand, his gaze matching that of baseball's overlord, and recited his story of a four game baseball series which he said was bought and paid for to insure an American League pennant for Chicago.

He Refuses to Quail
For four hours he stood leaning against a statue of Abraham Lincoln, waist deep in the muddy backwater from the dam which 26 players quickly constructed. Two accused players spelled their dam with an "n" so vigorous was their denial of the crookedness Risberg charged.

"They can call me a liar," he said after it was all over, after Donnie Bush, now manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, had jumped from his chair and challenged him to fight and after Eddie Collins and the baseball hosts had vigorously scouted his story. "They can attack me as an outcast of baseball, but I know that I told the truth. I'll stick to my story as long as they want to hear me."

Not even Buck Weaver, banished from baseball with Risberg, Arnold Gandil and the rest following the exposure of the "thrown" world series of 1919, gave Risberg's story substantiation.

Weaver Denies It
"I don't know any thing about it, judge," said Weaver when Commissioner Landis asked him about the 1919 series which Risberg said was sloughed to Detroit. "I was always in there to win."

Weaver said he was not with his team when the Labor day week series was played—the series Risberg says was "bought" for $1,100.

"Gandil and Risberg asked me to give $45 for the Detroit club," Weaver said. "And I refused. I told them I would give no money."

Thirteen of those who told their story to the commissioner yesterday acknowledged others contributing to or receiving part of the $1,000 which was raised among the White Sox for the Tigers. A fourteenth had knowledge of the pool, but had no part in it. This fourteenth player was Weaver.

Reward For Boston
While the thirteen players or former players (including the present and two former managers of the White Sox) told to Landis that a pool had been raised, each said the money was not in payment for the Tigers to "lay down" but rather was a reward for the three game dealing the Tigers handed Boston.

Those who told Landis they contributed to, or had knowledge of the pool, were Eddie Collins, Ray Schalk, Clarence Rowland, Red Faber, John Collins, Harry Leibold, Joe Benz, Red Russell, Ted Jordan and Buck Weaver. Members of the Tiger team of 1917 who said they got a share of the pool were George Daus, Oscar Stanton, Bernie Boland and George Cunningham.

"The Sox who contributed to the pool said it was reward money to the Detroit Tigers players for beating Boston. Daus and Cunningham each beat Boston in the series mentioned, and Stanton caught Boland, however, said he did not pitch in that series."

Boland Got $50
"I got $50 of the Sox pool," said Boland, "but I did not pitch any of those Boston games. I guess it was a present for my rooting on the bench."

Boland, however, pitched one of the games Risberg said were sloughed. Boland denied any knowledge of any sloughing. "I was taking my regular beating at the Sox park," he said. "I might not have had much on the ball, but I was trying."

Bill James, "off man" for the Tigers in the distribution of the Sox pool, is on his way here from Los Angeles to add his testimony to the gist James, then a Tiger pitcher, is the man Risberg said received the Sox pool to disburse to the Tigers.

Chick Gandil, quoted as saying that "Risberg didn't tell the half of it," also is Chicago bound, presumably to back up and possibly elaborate Risberg's story.

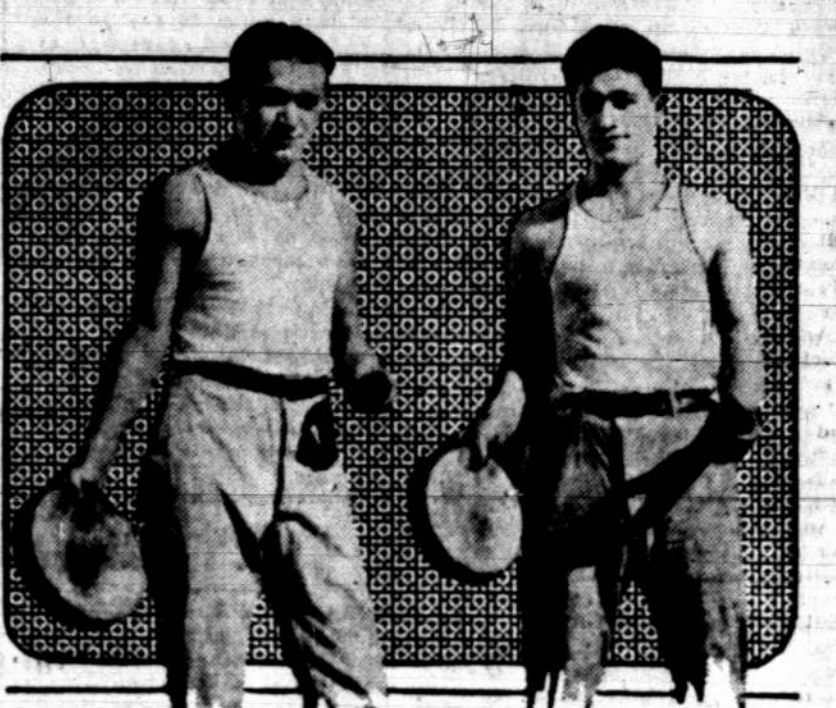

There was much verbiage at yesterday's hearing, but only one bit of tangible evidence. That was a check stub produced by Eddie Collins, which show that his share of the Sox pool was paid after the date mentioned by Risberg. This was in substantiation of his explanation that the money was a reward, and not a bribe.

Walter T. Jones Is Buried In Ft. Worth

Funeral services for Walter T. Jones, superintendent of mills at the Lubbock postoffice, who died Tuesday night at 11:20 in a Fort Worth hospital, were held Wednesday in Fort Worth, according to information reaching here today.

Mr. Jones was taken to Fort Worth Sunday night after a heart attack almost proved fatal Sunday evening. He had been connected with the postoffice here since June, 1925, coming here from Fort Worth. He is survived by one son and two daughters, 14 and 16, his wife having died nearly two years ago.

Sport Called "Tamboreen" Gets American Premier

When any new sport is inaugurated in this country, it's better than an even bet that the premier took place at Miami Beach, Fla. The latest fad in that neck of the woods is the Italian game known as "Tamboreen." It is a variation of tennis and the Spanish game of Jai Alai.

They have two noted experts, Ernest Squillari and Angelo Farnaro, putting on an exhibition for the guests of the King Cole hotel. The game promises to become very popular. It is played on a court like tennis but without a net, tamboreens being used in place of a racket. Points are scored as in tennis.

Champion Gene Tunney Signs With Tex Rickard To Defend His Crown In Yankee Stadium In The Summer

(By the Associated Press) ST. LOUIS, Jan. 6.—Gene Tunney, world's heavyweight champion today agreed to defend his title next September against any contender selected by Tex Rickard, promoter, for what was declared to be the largest guarantee ever made for a fight.

Rickard who came here last night from New York announced after a conference with Tunney this morning, that the champion would sign a contract this afternoon. Terms were not revealed, but it was understood Rickard plans to stage the fight in the Yankee stadium at New York on which he holds a lease.

"After July First"
The contract, it was learned, calls for Tunney's services any time after July 1 and provides he is not to engage in any title bout in the meantime.

Rickard has six candidates in mind to oppose the champion. They are Jack Dempsey, former title holder; Jack Sharkey, Jack Delaney, Paulino Uzcudun, Jim Maloney and Paul Berlenbach. Starting next month he plans to hold elimination tournaments, the first between Berlenbach and Paulino. The survivor of the eliminations would get a crack at Dempsey, and the winner of that bout would be awarded the privilege of fighting Tunney.

Guaranty Is Given
The agreement is reported to call for a flat guarantee of $400,000 for Tunney, and 30 per cent of the net proceeds over $1,000,000. The percentage is expected to net Tunney as much or more than Dempsey received in the Philadelphia encounter. Rickard is to post $100,000 by January 11 and another $100,000 May 1. He is to announce Tunney's opponent not later than June 15.

Billy Evans Says:

Why the Delay?
"Dutch Leonard, who apparently furnished all the evidence in the present baseball scandal, involving Ty Cobb, Tris Speaker and Joe Wood, has done several things in connection with the affair that certainly do not reflect credit upon himself."

All the time it is understood that Leonard had his price before revealing the facts in the alleged fixed game. When he finally presents these facts he confesses that he was in on the transaction, which is far from complimentary.

It is an irony that later sprang up between himself and Cobb and Speaker, a personal score, he uncovers the now-mouldy evidence. Development of Case
The story is that he first tried to peddle the facts in the case to several big newspapers.

Failing in this, he finally got an audience with Frank Navin, owner of the Detroit ball club, one of the teams that figured in the happening. Pursuing the only proper course Mr. Navin took the matter up with President Johnson of the American League.

TRACK EVENTS WILL BE NEXT

Collegians Plan To Dish Out Good Year In Field Events In Promise Now

CHICAGO, Jan. 6 (AP).—With football on the sleet, and basketball in the center of the college athletics limelight, the track stars are making ready to take an increasingly large part in the sports world, both in numbers of contestants and spectators.

Besides the dual meets and conference championships in the "Big Ten," and Missouri valley, the college stars have a chance to test their speed and strength in half a dozen different relay games in middle and south west.

Illinois Relays First
The future Olympic stars are closed to outside entries, but in the Drake relays at Des Moines, the premier track and field meet of the west, more than 2,500 participants are expected to compete representing nearly one hundred universities and colleges and more than a hundred prep and high schools.

The future Olympic stars open their season indoors at the Illinois relays at Urbana, February 25. A month later they have their first outdoor opportunity at the Texas relays at Austin, April.

Ohio State University and University of Kansas hold their relay games on the same dates, April 22-23. In the four years the Kansas meets have been held they have never had bad weather and last year they had more than 400 entries from forty colleges and universities, besides the interscholastic events.

Many States at Drake
Next on the spring program comes the Drake relays. The meet this year is set for April 29-30 and nearly every state in the west will be represented.

The National Collegiate meet at Chicago, June 11, for event winners only, crowns the track season. With the backing of most of the leading schools in the country the N. C. A. A. winners may lay claim to being American champions.

At the meeting of Missouri valley coaches at Des Moines the track squad members said they saw no foreign star in sight who might enter their spring programs.

DALLAS MOVES TO HALT CRIME

DALLAS, Texas, Jan. 6 (AP)—Energetic measures for the suppression of the worst crime of the winter were being taken by all city and county authorities Thursday, including revocation of bail rights in night arrests, wholesale arrests of the floozers and vagrants, inspection of suspects by federal narcotic men and other expedients designed to quell lawlessness.

Among numerous authentic held ups, one fake was uncovered Thursday when a man rushed into police headquarters and reported the loss of $18 and a watch. His story did not ring true, and after questioning he admitted he "lost" the money in another manner. He was locked up.

Hold up insurance amounting to $20,000 in addition to $40,000 burglary insurance on funds in various county departments is to be taken out for the protection of messengers who handle money, commissioners court decided Thursday.

'Othello' Is Produced With Jazz And Radio

LONDON, (AP)—England has gone America's evening dress "Hamlet" and better by producing "Othello" with the aid of jazz, whiskey and the radio. The Desdemona of 1926, as portrayed by the King's College Dramatic Society, wears the very latest fashion in clothes and the other actors are attired accordingly. The officers wear a sort of French uniform. "Tailor made" cigarettes are used frequently. The herald in Act II, Scene II has been done away with for "the studio of the Cyprus Broadcasting company." Although the lines were delivered in a chatty tone of voice the producers did not dare modernize the language Shakespeare put in the mouths of his characters.

MATADOR CAGER CREW IS READY

Thirty Or Forty Aspirants To Greet Higginbotham This Evening, He Says

The Matador cagers will start training tonight when Coach Grady Higginbotham, who will have charge of the recruits, issues the initial call for the recruits. Some thirty or more will heed the call tonight, according to Higginbotham. Among the number of men who will offer their services in defense of the Scarlet and White will be several of the 1926 letter men, including Percy Walker, Hemphill, Hunter, Vinzant, and Reeves. However, the captain-elect, Gilbert White, better known to the campus as "Dopie," will not be here to battle with the clubs who will invade the Matador domains from time to time; the loss of White will be greatly missed, as he is thought to be one of the strongest defense basketball players in the state.

Good Material Offered
Among the new material that will report tonight will be men who have a good record in Junior colleges, and high schools from all parts of the state. "AJ Jennings, and Buck Weaver, two former Plowboys of the John Tarleton college, of Stephenville, and for two years all-state cagers for Junior colleges are here and will work with the Matadors. Another valuable man is George Bekky, of the San Antonio Academy, who is a strong forward and has a keen eye for the hoop. Then, Stockton, the long fellow from Amarillo, has had several years of experience in high school circles.

Delay in the training has been due to the late start on construction of the huge assembly hall in which all the Matador games will be played this season. Full time will be used in getting the lads in trim for their initial contest which will be played in Lubbock on January 24 with the Sul Ross quartet.

Michael Cudahy Again MARRIAGE PLANS FOILED Tied To Apron String

(By the Associated Press) LOS ANGELES, Calif., Jan. 6.—The marriage whirl which swept Michael Cudahy, 19, scion of the wealthy meat packing family, and Marie Astaire, 19, film actress, through three counties in a vain attempt to obtain a marriage license, subsided today with the young millionaire high and dry in the home of his mother while his intended bride consoled herself at her hotel in Hollywood.

Young Cudahy was returned to the care of his mother, Mrs. J. P. Cudahy, widow of Jack Cudahy, yesterday, following a night spent in the Santa Barbara jail after she had taken drastic steps to prevent his marriage to the actress.

What happened behind the closed doors of the Cudahy mansion when the would-be benedict returned is not known.

Didn't Scold Him
"No, mother didn't scold me," Michael explained several hours later. "She just pointed out where I was wrong. I've been a fool. If I hadn't been drunk I wouldn't have asked Marie to marry me. She is a good girl, but I'm not the marrying kind, not when I'm sober anyway."

"The joke's on me," Miss Astaire told reporters, "and Mike once told me never to lose my sense of humor. I like Mike and I think we would have gotten along fine as man and wife. But he seems to have changed his mind, now that he's back at the end of the apron strings again. So it's freedom for both of us. I've given up the idea of washing dishes and I think he likes his mother's cooking best."

NEW YORK COTTON
NEW YORK, Jan. 6 (AP)—The cotton market opened steady at a decline of 1 to 2 points under selling which appeared to be inspired by rather easier Liverpool cables, and reports of continued good weather in the south.

Advices received here indicated that picking was making progress in some parts of the belt, and there was comment to the effect that if weather conditions continued favorable, picking returns to January 15, might exceed recent expectations.

Offerings were comparatively light, however, and some trade buying was reported on the decline to 12.72 for March and 13.09 for July, or about 10 points below yesterday's closing quotations.

Early offerings were absorbed by buying of the first hour and the market was steadier later on covering, March selling up to 12.84 around mid-day or three points net higher.

There was little buying and prices continued downward until March moved down to 12.84. May to 12.83 and July to 12.87 or 7 to 8 points under yesterday's close.

After trading to 12.85 for March, 12.86 for May and 12.99 for July the market ruled quiet most of the morning. There was a fair rally near mid-session which forced March up to 12.76. May to 12.94 and July to 13.09. Thus bulge attracted fresh selling and by noon prices had declined four to five points. Exports for the day 23,000 bales. The total stock of cotton here today reached 762,522 bales, the highest on record.

Stocks And Money

WALL STREET REPORT
NEW YORK, Jan. 6 (AP)—Resumption of pool operations in a number of specialties featured the opening of today's stock market. Prices generally were firm, but most of the initial gains were limited to small fractions. Rails were in slightly better demand under leadership of Frisco common, which opened a point higher. Fox Film A and Warner Pictures were active and strong on announcement of an agreement for an exchange of patent rights in talking motion pictures.

General selling pressure against the shares of companies operating in Mexico, inspired by the reported decision of President Calles to increase gasoline and tobacco taxes, turned the general course of prices downward soon after the opening. Some uneasiness also was apparent over the Chinese situation. Early losses of 1 to 2 points were recorded by the Pan-American issues and American Smelting, which are always sensitive to economic and political developments in Mexico. Case Threshing Machine broke nearly five points in the first half hour, and such recent favorites as Union Carbide, Allied Chemical, Famous Players, General Motors, Stewart-Warner Speedometer and Continental Baking A sold a point or more below yesterday's final quotations. Baldwin, with an early gain of 2 1/2 points, was one of the few strong spots. Foreign exchanges opened steady, with demand sterling quoted just under 44.85 and French francs around 27 1/2 cents.

PRISON WARDEN WILL NOT QUIT
Colorado Pen Chief Laughs At Governor's Order And Trains Guns On Gates

(By Associated Press)
DENVER, Jan. 6.—Assurance that anyone trying to break into the state penitentiary at Canon City would receive the same treatment planned for the man attempting to break out, has placed the institution in a state of legal siege with Governor Clarence J. Morley threatened with defeat in his effort to oust Warden Thomas J. Tynan.

In commenting on the governor's charge of insubordination, ill-treatment of prisoners and drunkenness and his subsequent order relieving the warden from duty for ten days, Tynan told Morley that "your order of so-called suspension has reached me and amused me very much. The governor has no more right to remove the warden of the penitentiary than the man in the moon."

Says Governor At Fault
Tynan maintains that he is employed by the civil service commission and as the governor has been unable to assemble that body to pass on the order, he will disregard it. Morley's term expires January 11. Efforts of Sheriff Clifford R. Glasgow, appointed by Morley as acting warden, to enter the prison yesterday were unsuccessful. He was told the institution was closed for the day. The ten-day fight between Tynan and Morley has been further intensified by release by the warden to Denver Post of a list of 149 paroles and pardons. He said the governor had granted. The list contained the names of 23 convicts serving life sentences, 19 of whom were convicted of murder.

Light Drinkers Ask To Lift Belgian Ban

BRUSSELS, (AP)—Two hundred and fifty thousand thirsty Belgians, annoyed with partial prohibition, have petitioned parliament to do away with it. Under the law, which has been in effect several months, it is impossible to buy a glass of beer or wine. One must buy two litres at least or go without.

Protest meetings are being held and resolutions adopted recommending some sort of regulation short of actually prohibiting the light drinker from drinking lightly.

Norway and the United States are pointed to as examples of the effects of prohibition, the wets of Belgium declaring that in those two countries fraud and a moral crisis have resulted from efforts to banish liquor.

CONGRESS PASSES HEAVY BILL

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Carrying a total of $31,201,508, the annual appropriation bill providing funds for maintenance next year of the various independent government commissions and boards was reported today to the house.

The total is $68,128 below the amount available this year and $22,523 under budget recommendations. The largest item is $47,400,000 for the veterans bureau. This is an increase of $10,435,000 above current funds but $2,000,000 below the budget figure.

Appropriation of $2,500,000 is recommended for continuing work of the American battle monuments committee, which plans to erect eight chapels and fourteen monuments in Europe during the year.

Railmen Are Taking Ballot Over Strike

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Jan. 6 (AP)—William G. Lee, president of the brotherhood of railroad trainmen today confirmed reports that conducting trainmen and yardmen of railroads in southeastern territory are taking a strike vote. He refused to make any statement other than an admission that the strike vote is being taken.

W. N. Doak, vice president of the brotherhood of trainmen, is representing that body in the strike movement in connection with officials of the other brotherhoods involved, he said. Mr. Doak is somewhere in the south. Floods affected are the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad, the Atlantic Coast Line, the Norfolk and Western, the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac, the Seaboard Air Line and others of the southeastern territory.

AUTHORS STILL USE PEN

NEW YORK, Jan. 6 (AP)—The pen still is as mighty as the typewriter in the hands of authors. W. E. Woodward, who wrote "George Washington, the Image and the Man," finds writing with a pen easier, although he asserts he can operate a typewriter. Cosmo Hamilton, the novelist, dictates to a secretary, but revises his manuscript with a pen, sometimes rewriting whole paragraphs in that manner. Several successful playwrights are said to use the pen.

'Touring Planes' In France Are Feature

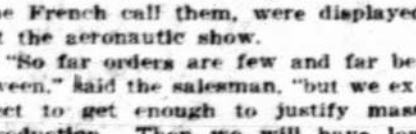

PARIS, Jan. 6 (AP)—Little two-seater airplanes, just the thing for a trip out to the golf course or to a weekend rendezvous, are on sale in France for less than $2,000, at recent exchange rates. Two of these "touring planes," as the French call them, were displayed at the aeronautic show. "So far orders are few and far between," said the salesman, "but we expect to get enough to justify mass production. Then we will have low priced air flivvers."

U. S. State Department Revives Its Hopes For Improvement In Nicaraguan Situation

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Hopes for improvement in the Nicaraguan situation, dimmed by recent victories of the Sacaca liberals in their war with the American recognized conservative government of Adolfo Diaz, has been revived at the state department.

Department officials base their belief that a change for the better will come about on the decision to restore the Mangus legation marine guard, and the action to permit President Diaz, under an embargo placed last September, to import 1,000 rifles, 100 machine guns and several million rounds of ammunition which he purchased in the United States.

The latter step was decided upon after Diaz had insisted that unless such material aid was forthcoming he would have to relinquish the reins of government to his liberal opponent, Juan B. Sacaca, former vice president, who has set up a government of his own at Puerto Cabezas and who, Diaz has repeatedly charged, is receiving arms and supplies from Mexico, which has recognized him.

Diaz Expected To Act
It was assumed here that Diaz would take immediate advantage of the American action in view of his statements that his forces were in dire need of arms and ammunition.

The destroyer Bufile and John D. Edwards were enroute to Nicaragua from Norfolk today to replace the Whippig and Tracy, now undergoing repairs, in Real Admiral Latimer's special service squadron. While neither are carrying an extra force of men, both are understood to have more than the regular supply of ammunition aboard.

Chairman Borah of the foreign relations committee, who is an advocate of American withdrawal from Nicaragua as soon as the need for protection disappears, in a statement last night, characterized the state department's action in granting Diaz a license to import arms as "intervention" on this country's part.

The foreign relations committee, which has before it a resolution by Senator Wheeler, Democrat, Montana, calling for immediate withdrawal of American naval forces, is expected next week to hear Secretary Kellogg, it having decided yesterday to invite him to appear. Mr. Kellogg said he would be glad to explain the whole Nicaraguan question.

Cyrus E. Woods, Named On Rail Board By Coolidge, Owner Of Much Stock

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Cyrus E. Woods, nominated by President Coolidge for the Interstate Commerce Commission, told a senate committee today that he has holdings of nearly $200,000 in railroad and coal companies.

Replying to Senator Wheeler, Democrat, Montana, Woods listed the following bond holdings: Pennsylvania railroad $25,000; Norfolk and Western, $25,000; Atchison $25,000; Union Pacific $25,000; North-eastern $25,000.

He said he also held 500 shares of Pennsylvania railroad stock of a par value of $50 per share, 107 shares of the Pittsburgh Coal company, and about the same number in the West-land Coal company, which has buildings in West Virginia.

"Of course, I shall divest myself of these bonds and stock holdings as required by law if I go on the commission," Woods said.

Jim Ferguson Running TO BE 'PRIVATE CITIZEN' For Brand New Honors

(By Associated Press)
TEMPLE, Tex., Jan. 6.—Former Governor James E. Ferguson is now a "candidate for the honors of a private citizen." He is not a candidate for the United States senate.

These statements are made in a statement over Ferguson's signature in this week's Ferguson Forum, distributed through the mails Thursday, and add that he is going to have much to say in the field of independent expression as to the political situation in Texas.

Ferguson declares that there are now eight avowed candidates for the United States senate. While he does not name the candidates he says the list does not include himself. He also promises to tell the people all about the six men who have already decided to run for governor in 1928.

Declaring that the University of Texas permanent fund will grow to $50,000,000 within the next ten years, Ferguson predicts that this will offer the prize plum for politicians and warm, "just watch the fur fly when this fund gets a little bigger."

TELESCOPE METER USED IN BERGUSIA PARK

VISALIA, Calif., Jan. 6 (AP)—A "dry feet" snow meter has been installed at the Alder Creek headquarters of the Squaw National park, eliminating in the future two dry journeys through snowdrifts and boggy meadows to Alta peak, to determine the depth of the snow thereabouts.

The exact depth of the Sierra mountain snow is a reckoning factor to farmers and others interested in next year's water conditions. Heretofore several trips have been made by runners to obtain this information.

Colonel John R. White, superintendent of the park, ordered a giant standard erected on Alta Peak. A six-inch telescope was installed in the Alder Creek station. The standard is marked with cross arms and the number of notches not covered by the snow is easily discernable from the station, eleven miles from the peak, through the glass.

"I've always loved you more than anyone else, Cherry," Faith said very quietly, but her voice trembled. "Bob's scowling at me for saying that, honey," she laughed shakily. Medicine's Part in War On Disease and Pain

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of a series of articles reviewing the progress of medicine since the beginning of the century.

BY DR. MORRIS FISHBAIN
Editor Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

During the last 25 years use of anesthetics, that boon for mankind, has been vastly advanced. Serious operations can be performed now while the patient is fully conscious, by "blocking off" nerves so the sensation of pain cannot be carried to the brain.

Drugs and Disease

The scientific use of drugs which will act always in the same way and with the same efficiency has become the best method of striking disease. Medicine has developed from the human body itself many active agents for the treatment of disease. Gland extracts from the thyroid, the pancreas and the adrenal have saved countless patients in the last few years.

Antitoxins are developing. A single discovery like that of the doctors who learned that scarlet fever is caused by a poison developed by a bacterial organism at once threw open the field for investigation, so that erysipelas, measles and pneumonia infection are likely to be brought under control within the next few years.

Produce Disease to Study It

Pharmacology today is studied in the medical schools in such a manner as to throw light on the fundamental phenomena of life, to permit the study of disease by producing artificial disease, and to furnish more efficient tools for the treatment of disease.

It has been learned that one disease often will drive out another. Malaria, simply controlled by the use of quinine, is driving out certain forms of paralysis, the malarial introduced into the patient artificially.

Diagnosis and treatment of nervous diseases has been greatly improved by our increasing knowledge of normal and abnormal psychology.

WHEELER ASKS GROUP TO ACT

Montana Senator Wants More Knowledge Of Conditions In Central America

(By the Associated Press)
 WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—The foreign relations committee was asked today by Senator Wheeler, democrat, Montana, to investigate whether the state department was authorized for the Associated Press dispatch of November 17, which said that "the specter of a Mexican-fostered Bolshevik hegemony intervening between the United States and the Panama canal" had thrust itself into American-Mexican relations.

Reading on the senate floor the statement of Secretary Kellogg on that subject, the Montana senator urged that the committee call representatives of the Associated Press, the International News service and the United Press for questioning as to the source of the dispatch.

Kellogg is Rapped
 "If it is true," Senator Wheeler said, "that the state department has been giving out loose propaganda for the purpose of stirring up the people of this country against a friendly nation, the people are entitled to know it, and if such is the case, Mr. Kellogg should not remain as secretary of state."

The Kellogg statement referred to was in the form of a letter to the house foreign affairs committee replying to a resolution of inquiry by Representative LaGuardia, republican, New York, in which the secretary answered negatively questions whether the state department "on or about the sixteenth day of November, 1926, sought to use the various news agencies to put out information on conclusions in regard to Mexico without responsibility therefor."

POSTOFFICE GAIN

 the most needy points, as provided for in one stipulation of the appropriation bill, which called for expenditure at points where most need could be shown. Each project, however, must be cared for under separate bills introduced in congress, and although no definite bill has been drafted in connection with the contemplated improvements here, it is understood that a plea will be made for $100,000. All information in connection with the situation has been forwarded to the department at Washington.

Receipts at the Lubbock postoffice during 1926 show considerable gain over 1925 despite the willingness of some to believe that the past year has been lean in many respects, and an increase of nearly 200 per cent during the past five years is noted in the annual report of Postmaster John L. Vaughn, just completed for the postal department at Washington.

Total receipts for 1926 are shown at $81,000.62, while in 1925 receipts were $76,788.89. Receipts in 1921 were $32,595.97, and a steady increase over the five year period is shown. In 1922 receipts were $32,161.92, in 1923 $60,319.26, and in 1924, $58,371.61.

Extensions Are Made

During the past year several extensions in mail service have been made here, and the number of employes has almost doubled. Extensions have been made, both in city delivery, and in rural free delivery, and on January 16, rural route No. 4, southwest of Slide, Foster and Barton school houses will give daily service instead of tri-weekly as heretofore. The building housing the department has been enlarged to almost double its capacity, and a general improvement program has been carried on as far as funds at hand would permit.

HANKOW TROUBLE

 Hankow have formulated demands to be presented through the Nationalist, or Cantonese government, to the British consul, including a demand for indemnity for Chinese alleged to have been killed and wounded in the disturbances of Monday, the withdrawal of gunboats and an apology to the Chinese government.

Hops for Peace

LONDON, Jan. 6 (AP)—With American and British warships racing up the Yangtze toward Hankow and all British women and children evacuated from that city and from Ichang and Kiukiang, hope was entertained here today that the crisis growing out of the violent anti-British movement among the Chinese of the Yangtze valley would pass without extensive bloodshed.

Political quarters says the government is extremely desirous of preventing bloodshed or any occurrences that would be likely to interfere with its policy of appeasement in China, as indicated in its recent memorandum to the other powers in Peking.

Government Against Fighting

The reputed aim of the government to prevent fighting is perhaps reflected in the moderate measure of force thus far announced. Except for the sending of naval reinforcements from Hongkong, it has not gone far, the public is informed, beyond ordering the destroyer, flotilla at Rosyth, Scotland, to bring to full strength the complement of its nine ships "for possible service in the Far East." It is remarked in the press, however, that this is the first active military order issued by the British government since the world war.

Hostility of the Chinese in Hankow seems to be centered almost entirely on the British and so far as known here none of the other foreign concessions there has been invaded. The white foreigners in the district number more than a thousand, and of these there are approximately 350 Americans in Hankow and Wuchang.

Few Autoists Taken On Spooning Charge

DETROIT, Jan. 6 (AP)—It may be the weather or it may be the law. Whatever the reason, there have been few arrests for violating the clause in Detroit's new traffic ordinance that prohibits driving an automobile with more than two persons in the same seat with the driver or "spooning" in the front seat.

The law specifies that a motorist "cannot drive with one arm around another person or while the other person has his or her arm around the driver."

The clause against amorous activities, sponsors say, will work its greatest good when the spring and summer months bring the youth of the city out into the highways that are main arteries for motor travel. Many of these highways are within the city limits and the ordinance will apply with full force.

The bill, weevil is estimated to cause an annual damage of more than $2,000,000 in the United States.

Women and Children Moved
 The removal of the British women and children from Hankow, Ichang and Kiukiang was merely precautionary. The women and children, numbering 300, were embarked in two steamers for Shanghai.

Indications of widespread movement is given by a Peking dispatch to the Daily Mail which says reports of anti-Christian risings in the Yangtze valley are being received there daily. All missionaries in the interior, it adds, have been ordered to quit their stations in consequence of the movement, in which the men have been mistreated, the women insulted and the mission stations looted.

Commenting on the situation, the diplomatic correspondent of the Westminster Gazette says: "Great Britain has two sides to her. China policy, political conciliation on the one hand and adequate protection of British life and property on the other. The government is ready to negotiate a revision of the treaties with a responsible Chinese government, but it cannot inaugurate negotiations in the face of a clamoring mob."

Ordinarily it would not be made acquainted with the issues presented in cases upon its docket until the cause is reached for oral argument. It now is having the docket closely watched, and criminal appeals are promptly brought to its attention upon filing. These are set for early hearings, a

Closed Door Open At Press Meeting

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 (AP).—The big clock on the wall of the outer lobby of the president's offices points its hands to 11:55. It is Tuesday, or to 3:55 if it is Friday.

Precisely there, a veteran White House police officer calls out: "Have all questions been passed in Time's up."

His inquiry is directed to some forty or more newspaper-writers, about to be received at the regular bi-weekly press conference. Under a custom inaugurated by President Harding, the questions must be submitted in writing.

The clock pushes the indicators five digits forward, to the fixed meeting hour. Automatically a door opens. The

But for all the intents and purposes of this dispatch it is closed, locked, and double-sealed. For what transpires next within the room transpires in inviolable confidence.

Who Makes Big Money?

It is the Man Who is Willing to Take

A CHANCE

On a Conservative Basis

—Some of the largest oil Company's are taking this Chance, for most every one knows the big oil companies are leasing the oil rights all over the South Plains, as can easily be substantiated by referring to the various County records.

Your Ship Won't Come In Until You Send It Out!

Today there are several test wells being drilled in different parts of the South Plains which surely does indicate that the South Plains is to have a real test for Oil during the year 1927, but today the well that is attracting the most attention is the Yellow House No. 1 located 12 miles southwest of Littlefield, and 4 mile East of PEP. This well is reaching the interesting depth, and is being watched by the big oil companies with great interest, which is evidenced by the active leasing of land surrounding this Well.

Now a small amount of money will give you a chance, with the others who are looking forward, expecting this well to be a real Oil well. Now is the time to get in if you have any idea of doing so, for should it be a producer, then you know it will be big moneyed man's game, and the little man is out. The thing is do you want to take a chance.

If you are interested in the above we would be pleased to have you call on us, as we have some very attractive offers to make you; also would appreciate a visit from any of our friends. We are now located in Ellis Bldg., room 211, Lubbock, Texas. Phone 1672.

Baron Says Mermaid Is An African Fish

LONDON, Jan. 6 (AP)—Mermaids exist, says Baron de Fernig, a Dutch nobleman now visiting England. Baron Fernig has spent most of his life in South Africa and Kenya.

Mermaids, according to the baron, are queer fish that are caught by Swahili fishermen off the coast of East Africa, north of Mombasa. They have heads with protruding eyes and a growth strangely like hair. Although they have no arms, the body down to the middle has a quite distinct likeness to the human form. They are more than five feet in length.

The flesh was very shriveled and scaly but to the touch was quite the texture of skin, Baron Fernig said. The natives are very fond of the meat. So marked is the resemblance of the fish to human beings, the natives are required to give very particular details to the officials before the fish can be sold in the market.

A small holiday supper for two at one of the less expensive Montmartre resorts cost: Couvert charge 10 francs; consommé, 25 francs; foie gras, 60 francs; two bottles champagne, 30 francs; government taxes, 150 francs; total, 275 francs. That price made about $22 in American money, of which the luxury tax totaled $4.61.

Last year, with the franc at approximately the same exchange value, the cost of the supper would have been about $12.50.

Handshaking Becomes Too Much For Royals

LONDON, Jan. 6 (AP)—One the eve of departure of the Duke and Duchess of York for their Australian tour it was calculated that the Prince of Wales had shaken the hand of more than 8,000 persons in the last five years and handshaking was a strain which no longer should be imposed upon royalty.

It is pointed out in the press that the Duchess though young and perfectly healthy, may not be able to withstand the exertions required at receptions during the six weeks the couple will be touring Australia and New Zealand. They leave here today.

Medical experts have recalled that Queen Victoria, and before her the Georges, the Stuarts, and in fact the entire company of kings and emperors, knew nothing of the practice, and that it was King Edward who instituted the custom.

BLIND PENCIL VENDOR IS RELEASED AFTER HIS ARREST

DALLAS, Jan. 6 (AP)—Washington Hunt, wealthy blind streetcar and pencil vendor who was convicted in city court on charges of begging alms and fined $25, was released from the city farm today on bond pending an appeal to county court. He said he would never pay the fine and claimed that he conducts a legitimate business. Upon being released he rode home in an automobile.
